ACTING IAGO'S PART

France Urging Italy on to War and Certain Destruction

TO GET RID OF HER INFLUENCE

In the Inevitable National Struggle For European Supremacy

EUROPEAN PRESS FULL OF IT

The Italian Press and Public Taking the Matter More Quietly.

PARIS, April 2.—Throughout France there is a general feeling of hope that the difficulty between Italy and the United States may result in war; not because of any dislike for America, but because of the national hatred for Italy. It is assumed that if Italy should go to war with the United States she would completely ruin herself, and thus enable the inevitable war between Russia and France on the one side and Germany and Austria on the other to be fought squarely and fairly for the prize of European supremacy. This feeling explains the espousal of the cause of Italy by the French press who are endeavoring to egg the home government on to a point from which it will be impossible to recede. Le Figaro declares it to be impossible for Europe to permit the government at Washington to shift the responsibility for the New Orleans outrage upon the shoulders of the authorities of the State of Louisiana, or to admit that matters of gravity may be so easily and lightly disposed of.

A similar plea of inability to act has been heard on previous, though comparatively unimportant, occasions, but such a defence will not do when men are murdered and all laws of civilization violated. Italy has got hold of the right end of the stick and will not relinquish its advantage. Though the hope of war prevails in the French centres, it is not believed that the dispute will have such a result. Premier Rudini is delighted at the opportunity afforded him of showing the firmness of his grasp of the situation, for it strengthens him at home and augments the prestige of his administration abroad. Nevertheless Mr. Blaine cannot possibly desire to bombard Naples or send a fleet to cruise off Spezia; and Rudini, mindful of the poverty of Italy, already the cause of popular murmurings against the government, will not dare to send a fleet to America at the certain cost of national bankruptcy and collapse.

RUDINI CABLES AGAIN.

ROME, April 2.—The Marquis di Rudini, the Italian premier, today sent another cable message to the United States on the subject of the New Orleans troubles. This message is addressed to the Marquis Imperiali of Francaville, the secretary of the Italian legation at Washington, into whose hands the current business of the Italian legation was placed when Baron Fava presented his letter of recall. Marquis di Rudini instructs the Marquis Imperiali to hand the said message to Mr. Blaine. The message is in reply to Mr. Blaine's note of last night, and in it Rudini says Italy has asked for nothing but the regular prompt institution of proceedings against the parties at New Orleans. It adds that it would have been absurd to claim punishment for the offenders without the guarantee afforded by a regular trial. The diplomatic incident the Marquis di Rudini says can only be considered when the federal government has declared in precise terms when the prosecutions will be commenced. In the meantime the Italian government takes cognizance of the Federal government's declaration acknowledging the fact that compensation is due to the families of the victims of the treaty existing between the two countries.

SOMETHING ROTTEN IN THE STATES.

LONDON, April 2.—The recall of Baron Fava from Washington is the reigning sensation. Every newspaper in London today devotes a leading editorial to the subject. The opinion generally expressed is that the haste of the Italian Government has made Secretary Blaine master of the situation.

CANADIAN NEWS.

The Mineral Convention Express Their Opinion—The Marquette Recount.

OTTAWA, April 2.—W. S. Stewart, staff commander of Boulton's hydrographical survey, left today for Vancouver with the nucleus of a crew of trained men to commence the survey of Burrard Inlet and the Pacific coast for the purpose of making a correct chart for the Canadian Pacific and other large steamers. The work will last all summer. He will pick up the balance of the crew there.

Bremner, the Bressaylee half-breed, has sent a memorial to the Governor-General claiming $16,000 for furs, farm stock and implements lost in the late rebellion.

The Marine Department has placed a spar buoy in Sydney Channel, and a new bell buoy in Nanaimo harbor.

Mr. Darby Bergen, M. P., is dangerously ill.

The Customs department has been notified that the combine of manufacturers of binding twine in the States is disorganized.

The long standing dispute between Canada, Quebec and Ontario, relative to old accounts, will be settled by arbitration.

MINERS IN CONVENTION.

TORONTO, April 2.—The mining convention yesterday passed resolutions pronouncing against all provincial taxation in the shape of royalties and ground rents; approving the Government's policy of opening up new districts by railways and colonization roads and urging a still more liberal policy; advocating the discontinuance of the system of selling for arrears of taxes, and instead that when lands are two years in arrears they be advertised, and if the taxes and advertising costs be not paid within one year from the date of such advertising that these lands revert to the Crown and come then under the existing regulations as if they had never been sold. Several resolutions and amendments were moved in regard to sites of prospectors and applications, and finally a resolution was carried declaring that the principle should be recognized that prospectors be allowed to take out a claim on surveyed and unsurveyed territory.

MINERS PROTEST.

MONTREAL, April 2. — The Mining Association of the Province of Quebec met yesterday and decided to petition the Dominion Government to disallow the mining tax imposed by the Quebec Government.

C. C. Shelton, who recently died, left the bulk of his fortune, amounting to $250,000, to the mission fund of the Church of England.

DESERVES A TRIUMPH.

HALIFAX, April 2.—Admiral Sir Crovo Wallis, who was Capt. Brooke's lieutenant in the famous Shannon-Chesapeake battle, will be 100 years old on the 12th inst., and his Halifax friends are preparing to present him with a piece of plate on that day.

The Provincial Legislature opened this afternoon.

ACKNOWLEDGED HIS GUILT.

HAMILTON, April 2.—Thomas H. Davis, the bigamist Toronto printer, pleaded guilty today and was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison.

A SAD AFFAIR.

ST. THOMAS, April 2.—Mrs. Sarah Highson, aged 88, for 50 years a resident in Elgin county, strayed from her home at Sparta on Monday night. A search party found her dead body in a field on Tuesday morning. She was a prominent Quaker lady.

THE CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL

Last Night Turns Out to be Successful in Every Particular.

The children's festival at St. Leonard's Hall last night was a complete success and the house was crowded to overflowing. The children, who were most effectively drilled by the ladies of Sunday school and friends, were very tastily dressed and performed their parts most admirably. The tableaux were a grand success and were most effectively arranged, as also was the Spanish dance which had a most pleasing effect, as the performers wound in and out, in the most intricate manner without fault or even hesitation. Great praise is due to those who gave recitations, this not over-easy task being performed with feeling and in the true spirit of the piece, in every case, without exception. No notice of this entertainment would be complete without saying a few words in regard to the only thing that occurred to mar the pleasure of the evening, which was the unruly behavior of a few youths near the door, who indulged in coughing, spitting and laughing or clapping at the most inopportune moments. Very few entertainments seem to escape a visitation from these pests, and it would be well if they could be brought to understand that their absence would greatly preferred to their company.

POLICE COURT.

Edward Grace, charged with being drunk and disorderly, pleaded not guilty. Constable Harper, who made the arrests, said that the prisoner was on Columbia St. annoying several people, and he after warning him, took him into custody. His honor, after remarking that there was no excuse for such conduct, and that he was determined to do all in his power to put an end to this kind of thing in the city, fined the accused $10 and costs.

Business on the Rail.

Six cars of cattle from Calgary for the B. C. Cattle Company of Victoria arrived last night. Also one car of hogs from Walkerville, Ont., consigned to Thomas Quesnelle, city, and parties in Nanaimo and Victoria; one car of hogs from Chatham, Ont., for Birchell and Howie, city; one car of crockery from Hamilton, Ont., for James Skinner and Co., city. Going out this morning there will be one car of timber for Cornwall, Ont., and one car of assorted lumber for Moosomin, Man., from the R. C. P. Mills Co.

Gone With Another Man.

The Seattle Telegraph of Wednesday evening has the following: "Thomas F. Adderton, a Nanaimo business man, is in the city searching for an erring wife who has gone with a handsomer man. He hardly knows whether he wants to find her or not. At first he was anxious but now he has sought consolation and forgetfulness in the flowing bowl. Adderton has been married to the woman, who has proved untrue to him, for a number of years and is the father of one child. They have lived in Nanaimo where Adderton has owned a half interest in a grocery store and has engaged in trading. A few days ago he sold his half to his partner, with whom he had had some trouble, and decided to come to Seattle and engage in business. He came over, and, after a few days, wired his wife to follow him. She replied that she would, and set a day for coming. Adderton was at the steamer, but she did not put in an appearance. Fearing that something had gone wrong, he immediately left for Nanaimo. With forebodings of something horrible, he landed at Nanaimo, to have his worst suspicions confirmed. He found that his wife had left town, ostensibly for Vancouver, and with her was gone the proceeds of a sale of a lot of his belongings. It may have been a coincidence, but, strange to say, a certain dashing and handsome young hotel man had also disappeared. Further, and more strange, the sire of the afflicted Adderton is now serving three years in the penitentiary for taking a shot at Mrs. Adderton for an alleged intimacy with this self same dashing hotel man not long since. Anyhow they were gone and Adderton started after them on the Canadian side and came on to the Sound. He found nothing of them here either, and then proceeded to fill up. Between drinks last night he told a Telegraph reporter his story, closing with regret that the bullet from his daddy's pistol did not end the life of his miserable wife. He now thinks that the couple are in Victoria, and he will probably go there in search of them."

BARON HIRSCH AND THE JEWS

Italian Immigrants Predominate Among Those Arriving in America.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2.—James T. Sweet of Boulder, Mont., telegraphed the acting secretary of war today as follows: "We hereby tender you 5,000 mountaineers from the county of Jefferson State on Montana in case of war with Italy."

PHILANTROPHY OF HIRSCH.

Latest advices from the Argentine Republic announce that the agents of Baron Kirsch have purchased 400,000 acres of land at Santiago del Esttero, Argentine Republic, upon which to place colonies of Jews.

Sir Charles Sees Mr. Blaine.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Among the first callers on Secretary Blaine today were the British Minister and Sir Charles Tupper, of Canada, who talked with the Secretary about an hour, presumably about the seal fisheries, reciprocity and other matters foremost in the minds of Canadians.

Immigration Statistics.

NEW YORK, April 2.—During the month of March, 42,767 immigrants arrived at this port; 13,434 more than in March, 1888. Italy heads the list with 7,869. Several Italian immigrants were detained at the barge office today because they had consumption, this disease being classed as contagious, under the new immigration laws.

Demanded Their Dead.

SCOTSDALE, Pa., April 2.—The bodies of the men killed in the conflict with the police were carried into the company's store at Moorewood. The strikers demanded the bodies of the victims, but were refused and the place was surrounded by an armed mob of over 2,000 men who said they would burn everything on the premises unless the dead bodies were given up. The feeling here is bitter among the workmen, who denounce the action of the deputies.

FROM VICTORIA.

A Budget of Interesting News Items From the Capital

VICTORIA, April 2.—The Marine Department has ordered an official enquiry into the cause of the wreck of the Sardonyx, on Queen Charlotte Island.

E. H. Fletcher, Inspector of Postoffices, leaves for Kootenay tonight on an inspection trip, and will also establish some new offices.

The steamers Velos and Burt, reported lost, arrived this morning, the latter having been on the rocks, where she lost her propeller and sustained other damage. The two vessels lost by the Velos last Saturday were insured in, minus about half their lumber. Morse & Co., are the owners.

Piper, a well-known bicyclist of this city, offers a silver cup, a gold cup, and a gold-headed walking stick for bicycle races to take place here this season.

The matter of H. M. Customs vs. Clayton is to be settled amicably by an arrangement about to be settled.

Peterson, charged with attempted rape, was given a hearing in the Police Court today. The little girl gave straightforward evidence, which makes the case worse than ever.

Important Announcement.

There will soon, no doubt, be a brisk demand for real estate on the line of the Electric Tramway between this city and Vancouver. There is now a definite prospect of the early completion of the enterprise, and already the tendency of property is strongly upwards. To meet the demand Messrs. Rand Bros., will, on the 12th inst., place on the market some 130 acres lying about half a mile from the limits of this city. This property is included in District Lot No. 95, and is known as the Harris property. It will be sold in blocks of from two to five acres each, and being traversed by the public carriage road as well as the Electric Tramway, many of the blocks will have frontage on both roads. It is therefore a particularly desirable location for residences of the best class. An advertisement of this property is crowded out of today's issue on account of the press of other matter, but will appear tomorrow when our pages will be considerably enlarged to meet the necessities of THE LEDGER'S ever-growing business.

Well Worth Attending.

The entainment to be given by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. this evening in the spacious gymnasium will be one of the most unique and amusing presented in Westminster in a long time. The tickets have had a really remarkable sale and there is every indication of a very large attendance. No one should miss the opportunity of seeing how the young ladies of Westminster can handle that gentle emblem of domesticity, the humble and unpretentious broom. This evening the broom is to be glorified and made to temporarily share the lofty dignity of the rifle and the sword. The grand march by the charming Broom Brigade will also impress the audience with the gracefulness which the lovely damsels of the Royal City can move around when they like. The vocal, instrumental and literary selections are to be of a high class order, and the Pink Tea will cap the climax most delightfully. THE MORNING LEDGER will go bail that all who attend the entertainment this evening will congratulate themselves at the conclusion for having been there.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

The Private Bills Committee Report on the Enabling Bill.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

VICTORIA, April 2.—Mr. Grant was the father of some lightning legislation in the House this afternoon. He moved for the suspension of standing orders so that a petition might be presented. This was allowed. The petition asked for permission to introduce a bill to incorporate a company to build a railway from Victoria to connect with the Northern Pacific Railway by ferry to Port Crescent. Mr. Grant then asked to be allowed to introduce the bill, did so, moved its first reading, which carried; he then asked for the reference of the bill to the railway committee, for the committee to report upon tomorrow. In each step Victoria's mayor was supported by the house.

The estimates were finally passed with very little opposition, even as to detail.

Cotton's resolution looking to increased trade with Hawaii, carrried unanimously, and the Private Bills Committee presented the following report on the Enabling Bill, which was received and ordered printed:

Your committee find that the Council of the city of Westminster during the year 1889 deliberately exceeded the powers granted to it under the act known as the "New Westminster Act, 1888," and amendments thereto. Your committee are also of the opinion that the said act (the Enabling Bill) submitted for inspection and report, should not be passed in its present form, but should be so amended that, while giving the ratepayers of Westminster an opportunity of legalizing the past large expenditure of monies, care should be taken that proper safeguards should be inserted to prevent any further illegal outlay on the works mentioned in the bill, but in no case do we report or recommend that the corporation of New Westminster should be empowered to carry on private electric lighting. We further think from the evidence adduced that this bill, No. 12, should be introduced as a private bill, with all the formalities and precautions attendant on that class of bills.

There will be a lively debate on the motion to adopt the report. The McNamee claim and the supplementary estimates held the fort during the evening session.

High Praise.

The Dayton, O., Herald says this about the company coming here next Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. in the Star course of entertainments: A large and well pleased audience enjoyed the concert of the Weber Quartette Company at Association Hall last night. Their singing was excellent. They were deservedly encored at every appearance. Master Harry Dimond's violin and mandolin playing simply astonished every one who heard him. Every number was heartily encored. His playing is delightful. He plays with infinite elegance with genuine feeling, too, and carries an audience along with him without effort. Master Glenn Hall's solos were charmingly rendered. His round, full notes fell from his lips with marvelous sweetness and purity. Listening to his voice is like the singing of birds.

Market Report.

The following is a summary of the state of the wholesale city market for articles of home production: Live stock remains steady, the current prices being: Beef on foot, 4c to 5c; hogs, 7c; calves, 7c; sheep, 5c to 6c. There is a decided tendency to a fall in the price of potatoes and hay, the latter now selling at $14 to $15 per ton, and the former at $20. Wheat at from $30 to $35; peas, $30, and oats, $35, find a ready sale, and there is every prospect of these prices holding. Flour is rising, and indications are that it will continue to do so.

On Dit.

It is reported that there is a project on foot to change the present steamboat landing from Ladner's to a point some distance further down the stream. The reason given is that the sand bar at Ladner's, which has been increasing in length and height for a considerable time past, has now become a serious impediment to navigation at that particular part of the river. It is said that the owners of the steamers plying on the river have agreed to recognize the change, and that the new landing will be somewhere this side of Gulchon's; but whether any reliance can be placed on what is so far a mere rumor, THE LEDGER is not in a position to state.

The Crescent Improvement.

Mr. Noot, city engineer, will today start the work of setting out the Crescent for the improvements that are to be made in that place. The following is a description of the way in which it will be laid out: The plot of ground known as the Crescent is almost bell shaped, as a glance at the city map will show, and along the east and south sides of this a 66 feet road will be built. At the bottom of the bell or right beside the present sidewalk on Columbia Street, will be a 33 feet road having a bell mouth at either end, to allow for turning into the main drive. Three terraces each 25 feet wide will run across the Crescent from one side to the other, these will not follow straight lines, but will be run so as make them level right through without materially altering the present Contour of the ground. They will, however, be very nearly straight. These terraces will have a nine feet walk down the middle and the two sides turfed and planted with handsome and shady shrubs. About the middle of the Crescent and midway in the centre path, will be a circle 100 feet in diameter and perfectly level having a fountain in the centre with four fan shaped flower beds round it. The space between the terraces will be cleared of stumps, etc., and with the exception of leveling mounds and filling small hollows will be left practically as it is at present, it now having a good growth of grass which it would be folly to meddle with more than can be helped. Between the lower road and the first terrace is to be a broad stairway, and between this and the middle terrace there will be two stairways. It is also probable that there will be a band stand on the upper side of the circular promenade, which will most undoubtedly add greatly to the attractiveness of this well and carefully planned recreation ground.

The Ledger.

GENERALLY APPROVED.

Enquiry made of many leading business men of the city, as reported in another column of this issue, shows that there is a general consensus of opinion in favor of the immediate establishment of a fairly large and well appointed city market. The leading agriculturists of this district being also strong approvers of the proposal which some of the more prominent among them have long quietly advocated there seems to be quite an "all round" feeling in support of the market scheme, a fact that cannot fail to strengthen the hands of the Council Committee which now has the matter under consideration. Doubtless there are amongst us those who opine that the "market will not take" and will soon be closed as a failure, but these, we believe are very few in number.

Well conducted markets, established in municipalities, are often found to be amongst the most profitable legitimate undertakings of city councils and to contribute no small sum annually after payment of all necessary disbursements in relief of local taxation. There is no reason why, conveniently situated as New Westminster is, a city market here established should not be among the number of such successful municipal ventures, and whilst beginning modestly by "paying its way well" as a comparatively small effort, develop with the growth of our town and the surrounding district, into one of the largest of such undertakings on the Pacific coast. This we trust will be the early outcome of the establishment of a new Westminster city market.

ITALY'S QUARREL WITH THE STATES.

The grave disagreement between the Governments of the United States and Italy, consequent upon the massacre of the Italian prisoners at New Orleans, has now reached a crisis, the Italian Ambassador having received his papers, and at the request of his country withdrawn, leaving the Italian embassy at Washington under control of a deputy in the person of a charge d'affaires. Such a withdrawal of an Ambassador is sometimes the prelude to a declaration of war, but is as often merely intended as an "outward and visible sign" of a nation's resentment of some act or acts on the part of another State deemed particularly offensive. Such a withdrawal of an Ambassador means the suspension, as between the two nations, of all but purely formal courtesies of state, and the interruption of all diplomatic relations that are not matters of the sternest necessity. Hence Italy is evidently most gravely displeased by the refusal of the United States Government to guarantee the conviction and punishment of the accused lynchers, though it is exceedingly unlikely that the Italians will seriously think of going to war because some two or three fellow subjects of theirs, more than suspected of heinous crime, have met their death at the hands of Judge Lynch. Such a course is insufficient to justify the resort to war of two great and enlightened nations and is, under present circumstances very unlikely thus to result, more especially as the United States Government is prepared to consider the question of a money indemnity to the relatives of the Italian subjects killed. More than this, the United States Government cannot promise to do, for as Secretary BLAINE clearly points out, the general law of his land provides that the suspected lynchers or other prisoners shall be tried by jury and condemned ere they can be lawfully punished. The United States Government could not, even were its powers in this respect sovereign and supreme over the subjects of one of its federated states, thus dangerously interfere with an American citizen's right of trial by jury; still less can the central government of the great North American Republic interfere in this instance, as each of the associated states retains under the federal constitution its own laws as to conviction and punishment for crime, by which in Louisiana, as elsewhere, trial by jury prevails. All therefore Mr. BLAINE can promise Italy on his country's behalf, he has done, viz: beyond the suggestion of a money indemnity he is powerless to travel.

There is, at the same time, no doubt that such occurrences as have of late years taken place at New Orleans and, to a less extent, in certain other cities of the United States should be sternly repressed by the state authorities, however difficult the task. The fair fame of the United States in general will otherwise be seriously tarnished, unless the whole of that land becomes known throughout the world as a community in which murder and outrage are where possible always prevented, and when happening sternly punished by judges and jurors doing their duty promptly and impartially at all risks. The State of Louisiana has thus a very evident duty of reform imposed upon it for the sake of the great nation of which it is an important self governing community. It has in a manner which has never hitherto characterized its administration, to repress by stern, speedy and certain punishment, street assassination and murderous outrages (including lynchings), which have long discredited a wealthy and growing community by being committed frequently and rarely and inadequately avenged by the state judiciary. The self redress of grave wrongs is a general characteristic of primitive and semi-savage life, and when such methods are in continual resort in a wealthy and growing city like New Orleans, in a powerful and populous American state like Louisiana, they show that the general civilization of the community leaves sadly much to be desired even at this period of the nineteenth century.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The death of Earl GRANVILLE removes from English public life a conspicuous Liberal statesman, after a long and honorable career of more than half a century, during five and thirty years of which he led the Liberal party in the House of Lords. His special official appointment during the first two GLADSTONIAN administrations, was that of Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a post which he was long regarded as especially well qualified to hold. He was, however, by the admission even of his own party, unsuccessful in his administration of this office during the stormy period between 1880 and 1885, and when Mr. GLADSTONE again became Premier in February, 1886, was appointed Colonial Secretary, Lord ROSEBERY, who was regarded as a stronger and firmer diplomatist, succeeded to the office of Foreign Secretary. Lord GRANVILLE was distinguished by a graceful courtesy of manner and elegance of diction, savouring of the "old school," qualities which ever made him a popular party leader in the upper House, where, being well liked by all, his death will long be regretted. He was perhaps, however, most conspicuous as a graceful after dinner speaker, an art in which he really excelled. He and the late Lord IDDESLEIGH were of very similar type, men of elegant accomplishments and great courtesy and amiability, though hardly taking foremost rank among the "strong statesmen of their time.

* * *

Victoria is very anxious to become another "Terminal City" of British Columbia, as is evidenced by the huge bonus which a leading alderman proposes that Victoria shall offer by by-law to any American railway "that will give the "city permanent connection with the "United States system of railways to the "South by means of a ferry capable of "transporting cars with merchandise in "bulk and to provide for such railway "terminal grounds within Victoria of "not less than ten acres." This is a large and difficult order and Alderman Renouf thinks it well worth a city payment of $1,000,000. The proposal is expected to lead to an animated discussion in and out of the city council, but so anxious are the Victorians to vie in all respects with Vancouver that it may not improbably be carried.

* * *

The C. P. R. is evidently anxious to aid the Vancouver sugar refinery project through rates on sugar brought over from Montreal having just been raised considerably. It is probably calculated that the railway will still carry a large bulk of Montreal's refined sugar as far West as Winnipeg, whilst Vancouver's refined sugar will, it is hoped, supply the cars with a considerable freight on their return journey, as far East as Winnipeg. There being as yet comparatively little return freight on this portion of the line eastward, the company is supposed to find in this a good reason for the policy thus adopted with a view to the expected mutual benefit of the two undertakings.

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT.

AMONG THE SHIPBUILDERS.

Interesting Visit to the Extensive Establishment on the North Arm.

Messrs. McPhee Bros.' shipyard will repay the trouble of a visit by anyone who is interested in the industries of the city. The first thing that attracts the eye when coming to the yard is the great size of the work that is being done, and, indeed, very few persons have any idea of the importance this industry has assumed in the last year. There are now in the yard and shops of the firm vessels three of which are being built and the fourth, Mr. Ewen's tug Lorne, is undergoing thorough repairs. The latter has been hauled up on the ways at Brickers removed preparatory to lifting the hull and putting in a number of several faulty planks have been taken out and replaced with new ones. Her seams are now being recaulked before launching the vessel will be thoroughly overhauled. Close beside this and under a shed is a tug under course of construction. The vessel which is being built for Mr. Wheatfield of Nanaimo is to be over all 84 feet 11 foot beam and 6 feet 6 inches of hold, the frame is entirely of oak, with natural crook stem and stern post, and is modelled with a fine bow and elliptic stern. She is to be driven with a screw propeller fitted with a horizontal engine of 30 horse cylinder. The cost of this vessel, like all the ship work of the firm, is beautifully modelled, will be about $5,000. In the large shed are the smaller class of vessels are built, a sloop and a launch, the latter being intended for the reception of Mr. Bowser's patent twin screw engine, of which description was given in the News-Advertiser a short time ago. The launch was modelled by the firm to suit Mr. Bowser's modifications to suit Mr. Bowser's ideas in mind of Longfellow's "Building of the Black Serpent, so called because her lines and build are long and narrow, her hull. The following are her dimensions, etc: Length over all 45 feet, beam 7 feet and 3 feet 6 inches deep, best oak frame, elliptic bottom of copper fastened throughout. The other vessel is a sloop, 32 feet over all, 9 feet beam, and 4 feet depth of hold, is framed with oak and double planked with oak from her lines as follows would make a fast sailer. The launch is a small boat intended for pleasure purposes, which is very neatly built. It is almost needless to say that all the work is done in a first class manner. There can be no doubt that the business done by this firm is one of the most important industries in the city.

Customs Returns.

Customs returns for the past month show the value of goods imported, duty collected, $7,202.35; value of exports, $108,5100.

The Bridge Dispute.

A representative of THE MORNING LEDGER called at the office of Mr. C. M. Yesterday afternoon to enquire into the grounds of the difference between the Royal City Planing Company and the city regarding the landing of the Lulu Island Bridge. Mr. Beecher stated that there was no particular trouble about the matter, the Royal City Mills Company objecting that the bridge would run through a portion of their property, which naturally enough did not suit them. An agreement had been arrived at some time ago by the city and the C. P. Mills that the bridge should land at a point somewhat further up the arm than the spot now chosen by the city. The mill company have also offered to fill in the ground near the bridge with sawdust, which would to the value of about $600. The company considered that arrangement and would build the bridge over the mill property. The mill company have since repared, Mr. Beecher said, to leave the matter to arbitration and thus avoid all trouble, if it could be done. The city had not yet decided whether it would submit to arbitration in the matter or not. Mr. Beecher was of opinion that the city and company would actually benefit by building a few yards further up than the present proposed site or than originally agreed upon.

The Value of Cypress.

Mr. Wilson, a rancher from up the river, called at the MORNING LEDGER recently with a walking stick made of cypress wood. The cane was for presentation to Mr. G. E. Corbould, M.P., who had accepted the handsome gift. Mr. Wilson drew the newspaper man's attention to the fine quality of the cypress which grows in this country, which is very desirable for a variety of purposes. Among the more notable uses to which it could be profitably put was that of boat building. The cane in question said British Columbia possessed in a remarkable degree the qualities of lightness with extraordinary pliability and elasticity. The difficulty of keeping its form when cut into planks. Its lightness was one of the finest white woods for its great strength it was very. In color the wood was a pale straw color, very attractive appearance. For boatbuilding purposes could be possibly obtained, consisted of this timber would be extreme lightness with extreme strength. The great desiderata with carriage-builders and carriage-owners. The gentleman subjected the cane to a severe test which showed him to a pretty good degree, and was almost afraid he had broken it, but the stick sprang back to its original straightness just like a piece of whalebone. Toledo. The rancher left for the reporter that great forests of this timber exist on the north coast for 100 miles up, and there are large patches of it in the lower country. It might pay the city to make an experiment with this timber for constructing racing shells; as, from all expectations the price of cypress would be considerably reduced and the boats would look quite as handsome. Spanish cedar or mahogany are used, many more of them would be built.

LIVERPOOL
LAND AND IMPROVEMENT CO.

The Property of this Company
Will be placed on the market on the 1st MARCH next, and consists of upwards of 400 Acres of the most desirable land at the New Town of Liverpool, including the whole of the deep water frontage which extends one and a half miles on the Fraser River, from the N.W.S. Railway wharf east, and is the only really desirable location for Manufacturing and Shipping Industries near New Westminster.
Liverpool is the terminus of the New Westminster Southern Railway Company, who have bought 30 acres of the Company's land. Extensive buildings have been located at this point by the Railway Company. The Yale Road has been surveyed to this point and an excellent grade secured through sections 10 and 3, and profiles prepared for the work. This road will be opened up and graded as soon as permission can be secured. Streets running through the Company's property will also be cleared and graded, which work will be well under way before any of the property is offered for sale.
Sections 2, 3, 4 and 10 have been laid out and staked on the ground. The lots are all 66 feet wide and front on streets one chain wide. Every inducement will be offered to manufacturers and investors. Whoever has money to invest will do well to consider Liverpool before investing elsewhere.
REMEMBER MARCH 1st
AND LIVERPOOL

REASONS FOR INVESTING IN LIVERPOOL
LIVERPOOL is considered by parties who are authorities on the subject to be The Best Speculative Property in sight today.
Liverpool is the terminus in B. C. of the American system of railways. In two years, if present arrangements are matured, three railways will terminate at Liverpool. In a few weeks all traffic for Sound points over the C. P. R. will go by way of Liverpool.
All material for the railway from Sedro to Seattle will be transferred in bulk by the Railway Company's Ferry at Liverpool
Passengers and Freight from Seattle and Fr[illegible]haven for the East, per Great Northern, will be booked via Liverpool, and New Westminster over the C. P. R. Seattle, in a few days, will be reached by an all-rail route in seven hours from Westminster, via Liverpool, without the inconvenience of a sea voyage.
Freight for the Sound points, over the C. P. R., can be shipped by Liverpool without breaking bulk. Lumber and all manufactures can be shipped from mills at Liverpool to all points in the Northwest at the same rates as from New Westminster.
Capitalists have a better and surer chance of making money at Liverpool than at any other point.
A Sawmill and Shingle-mill will be erected at Liverpool immediately. The Company's property at Liverpool is excellent value; their lots are large and terms easy. All particulars of

OF ONE ACCORD.

City Merchants Interviewed and Are Strongly in Favor of a City Market.

Yesterday afternoon a member of THE MORNING LEDGER staff interviewed a number of city merchants and others as to their opinion regarding the proposed city market. The reporter found that the subject had been treated to a good deal of careful study by almost all the gentlemen he called upon, and as will be seen they were nearly a unit in favor of the proposition.

Mr. H. B. Shadwell, of the Bon Marche, thought it would be one of the greatest benefits the city ever experienced. He was surprised that Westminster had got along such a length of time without a market, or even any effort to make some provision for the reception of farmers and others who wished to sell produce. The farmers now have to peddle their goods about the city, and he believed they did not like it a bit. There could be no doubt that it was time the city was moving in this matter, as Westminster was placed at a considerable disadvantage by not possessing a good city market.

Mr. A. Hamilton was of opinion that a city market would benefit the city immensely. It would of course raise the value of property and increase taxation. He believed in all public conveniences of that kind, and thought that every branch of commerce in the city would feel the benefit of the market. It would bring the farmers here, and give business a steady, even run not otherwise to be obtained.

Mr. Campbell of Campbell's Corner, Front and McKenzie Streets, could not see how anybody could object to such a public convenience as a city market. It would do the city an immense amount of good. He did not think Lytton Square a very good place for a site. The proper place, in his opinion, was the site of the present city hall. The city hall and market building could be built in one; the market downstairs and the municipal offices above. The location was the most central in the city and besides that there was plenty of room around it which would not be the case if Lytton Square were chosen, and a building set upon it. Farmers bringing there wagons, teams, horses, cattle and sheep to market would find Front Street much too limited for their wants, whereas, on City Hall square there would be plenty of room. In Mr. Campbell's opinion the market building and municipal offices ought to be all in one building. A market was exactly the thing Westminster needed and the sooner it became an established fact the better for the city's trade.

Mr. Milligan of Messrs. Mathers and Milligan, was heartily in favor of the market. He thought Lytton Square the proper place for the building; the lower hall could be utilized for heavy produce, the upper story, level with Columbia street, for a meat and general market. Nearly all the farm produce arrived by water and Lytton Square was right handy to all the wharves, and the railway was always very convenient. The less handling produce required the lower the rates would be. Mr. Milligan admitted that City Hall Square would be more central, but he doubted if it would surpass Lytton Square in meeting the requirements of the farmers, whose convenience it is at least politic to consult in matters of this kind. When farmers came to the city they wanted to drive straight off the wharf to the market without climbing hills or turning too many corners. Mr. Milligan was of opinion that a city market would move solidly than ever establish Westminster as the centre of and great depot of supply for the vast agricultural district lying all around. Vancouver has made a strong bid for this trade, but it properly belonged to Westminster, and she should as early as possible be put in condition for meeting its demands.

Mr. James Harvey, of Messrs. Ellard & Co., was enthusiastic about the market and said it was strange that Westminster had never made a move in that direction before. The benefits to be derived by the city from the market would be simply incalculable. In the the first place, it would bring the farmers here in large numbers; in the second place they would get to consider Westminster properly and naturally their town and turn here for supplies on all occasions; in the third place it would do more than anything else to give Westminster trade that steady flow that was so desirable. Mr. Harvey commented upon the enterprise displayed by Vancouver in this direction, but was of opinion that the terminal city was simply not in it when it came to opening a market for farmers to dispose of their produce. Westminster was by all odds the central town. At her very doors lay perhaps the finest stretch of agricultural land in Canada peopled with industrious and intelligent farmers, and yearly producing harvests second to none in the world. And the farmers felt that Westminster was their trading centre, and they were doubtless puzzled to understand why the good townspeople made no effort to induce them to come to the city, while Vancouver, with less than a third of the advantages, was straining every nerve to gain the much coveted prize. Lytton Square would be a good location for the market building, although there was much to be said in favor of City Hall square. He was also of opinion that a structure built over the water might prove to have advantages in several respects over one built on land. From a sanitary point of view and for facilities of cleansing frequently. A building as good as the city could afford should be erected and not a temporary affair. A good substantial building would denote confidence and naturally attract trade.

Mr. R. G. McPherson of Messrs. McPherson and Thompson, druggists, Columbia Street, was strongly in favor of the market. It would of course be an undertaking of considerable magnitude, but no one could be blind to the advantages bound to accrue to the city. Mr. McPherson quoted the the of cases towns in eastern Canada; those which possess regularly constituted and properly managed markets are the solid towns, while the same can scarcely be said of those that pay no attention to the farmers. "Hamilton, for instance," said Mr. McPherson, "has lately completely renewed her market, and a finer does not exist in Canada; and few will deny that Hamilton's prosperity is very largely due to the careful, businesslike way in which she has faithfully encouraged the farmers in the great agricultural district lying around her to consider Hamilton their central city. She has always offered solid inducements to the agriculturists to come into her bounds and sell their produce, and principally by providing for them a fine commodious market."

Mr. McPherson was glad to see that public interest in this important matter was awakening here. He for one most heartily endorsed the scheme and failed to see what grounds for objection there could be.

Mr. A. M. Herring favored the scheme most decidedly, and thought it could not come too soon. In his opinion it stood to reason that the city would reap many sterling advantages from the market. The very fact of getting the farmers here would be in itself a great thing. He would not favor the erection of any expensive edifice at present. A temporary structure should answer ever purpose perfectly well, and if the volume of traffic became so heavy as to prove beyond doubt that Westminster had secured for herself the proud position of metropolis of the Fraser River valley, then a building worthy of the city's wonderful energy and advancement would be quite in order. Mr. Herring thought Lytton Square not a bad site; it was near the steamer landings, and the ferry slip was only half a block away—great advantage and bound to weigh heavily when the question comes up for final consideration.

Mr. James Wise thought that a market built on one of the city wharves might be a good thing, but he was very dubious about the scheme altogether. If built on the wharf, as he suggests, the police could have charge of the opening and closing of it, and see that no cattle, hogs or other live stock were kept on it. Wharfage should be free. The wharf might be 66 by 50 or 60 feet and have a large covered building over it. This, Mr. Wise thought, might be of some use, but all the produce that came in now found a ready sale. There are not enough growers at present to supply the market, and eggs, potatoes and other things have to be imported. "And so," said Mr. Wise, "What's the use of having a market at all?"

Mr. F. R. Robinson a prominent Front Street commission merchant, whose opinion in this matter was obtained a few days ago, is unfavorable to the scheme as he does not see what use it would be. With Mr. Wise he thinks that the manner in which farm produce is bought and sold in the city at present is quite satisfactory, and he does not think that a market would improve matters in the least, either for the city or the farmers. Such a thing may become necessary in time, but it is not, in Mr. Robinson's opinion, required at present.

Many other valuable opinions obtained cannot be reproduced here on account of pressure of other matter on our columns this morning, but these whose opinions do not appear were all unanimously in favor of the market, and, as most of them said, "the sooner the better."

OUR CRICKET CLUB.

Interesting Review of the Past Season's Work.

The following concise and interesting little history of the past year of the Westminster Cricket Club has been most kindly compiled for THE MORNING LEDGER by Mr. H. Pooley-Clinton, secretary of the club. The organization is one of the oldest athletic clubs in the Province, and has always enjoyed a high reputation for efficiency in the field. Nearly all the prominent men in Westminster's history have shouldered a bat in the club's great matches and the interest that centres around the fine old club seems to increase as the years roll by.

SEASON, 1890—BATTING AVERAGES.

First eleven—Matches played, 7; won, 5; lost, 2. The following played more than three innings:

	Innings	Runs	Score Not out	Ave
G. Newington	7	117	30	2
H. F. Clinton	7	105	40	—
A. Mathes	7	178	45	—
F. J. Coulthard	10	264	70	—
Rev. H. Irwin	6	57	25	—
W. H. Ramsden	4	52	22	—
Rev. H. Irwin	4	52	22	—
E. A. Wyld	4	47	36	—
J. T. Power	5	35	15	1

T. G. Wood	11	71	16	1
H. T. Reed	4	10	8	1
J. Power	5	10	5	1

BOWLING AVERAGES.

The following bowled more than 30 overs:

	Overs	Runs	Wkts	Avge.
Rev. H. Irwin	38	78	14	5 4-14
H. F. Clinton	34	90	15	6
F. J. Coulthard	126	224	25	8
A. Mathes	114	225	25	9
G. Newington	54	112	11	11 1-4

At Victoria Mr. Wyld made the following average: Four overs, 4 runs, 2 wickets.

One second eleven match was played against Vancouver's second eleven, in which Westminster was victorious.

The club starts with good prospects this year, expecting to be able to average ten matches and to continue the plan which answered very well last year, of playing a second eleven match with Vancouver's second eleven on the same date as the first eleven meet.

Offer the following as good, safe investments, some of them sure to yield a big profit in a very short time:

Northeast Quarter of District Lot 329—E grove, situated on Westminster Road, about halfway between Vancouver and New Westminster, adjoining Public Park and only 10 chains of the route just selected for the Westminster and Vancouver Electric Tramway Co. This property is beautifully situated, and commands a fine view of Vancouver. Very little timber on it—$50 per acre would clear it for a garden. Price $150 per acre. Terms can be had if necessary. Adjoining land held at $200 per acre.

16 Acres in District Lot 327, on North Arm of Fraser River, 4 miles south of Vancouver, and about 6 miles from New Westminster. There is a good graded road from Vancouver, and a road is to be opened to New Westminster soon. There is a schoolhouse within a quarter of a mile. Land slopes gently from road to river, on which it has 20 chains frontage; is surrounded by market gardens. Steamers pass daily to New Westminster. Price $1,200—which is $50 per acre less than adjoining land.

North Half of District Lot 637—21 acres, for $1,050. Terms one-third cash, balance in 6 and 12 mos. Suitable for fruit ranch. Fine view of Fraser and straits of Georgia. Graded road past land.

9 Lots (including 2 corners) on New Westminster Avenue, Vancouver, for $2,250—¼ cash, balance in 6, 12 and 18 mos. Size of lots, 33x132, to lane. Vancouver Electric Railway runs to within a few blocks. This is a good buy.

Block 189, subdivision 172—C. P. R. Co.'s Fairview addition to Vancouver. Price, $1,000. Contains 24 lots, 33x132. Is cleared and commands magnificent view of English Bay, the city and Burrard Inlet.

8 Acres within the city limits of Vancouver in subdivision 36—A—on line of Westminster-Vancouver Electric Tramway. Price, $2,400; ¼ cash, balance in 6 and 12 mos. Surrounding land is subdivided into town lots. This piece can be subdivided into 72 lots, which should readily sell at $125 per lot, showing a profit of nearly $7,000 on the deal.

We have the largest list of city property in Vancouver, and a large list of acreage. Farms in every part of the Province. Houses to rent.

Our carriage is at the disposal of investors to view property in and around Vancouver.

It will pay investors to call upon us before buying.
