BRITISH EXHIBITS

THE UNITED KINGDOM AT THE WORLD'S FAIR CHICAGO.

Britain Will Take a Very Prominent Part—Pugilist Slavin Will Walk Against Champion Pedestrian Rowell—Salisbury's United Club Speech Foreshadows an Early Dissolution of the Imperial Parliament.

LONDON, July 17.—Sir Henry Wood, secretary of the Society of Arts, in an interview today said that before the council of the society was created a royal commission for the Chicago fair, the Prince of Wales, as president of the society, was consulted and approved Lord Salisbury's selection, at the same time promising to give the commission his hearty support. The prince intends to take a practical part in the consultations of the commission, and will give his advice on all important matters connected with the British section. Sir Henry Wood says he will go to Chicago early in September with Mr. James Dredge, editor of Engineering, to organize the British section of the fair. Of the council of the Society of Arts which consists of 40 members, 35 have been connected with former exhibitions, and the British section will have the full advantage of their experience. The commissioners of the Chicago fair, who recently arrived here on their way to the continent, will remain in London ten days, conferring with Robert S. McCormick and Sir Henry Wood. Minister Lincoln will introduce the commissioners to Lord Salisbury, and the Lord Mayor of London has invited them to a dinner at the Mansion House, which is to be given on the eve of their departure for the continent.

FROM FIGHTING TO WALKING.

Frank P. Slavin, the Australian pugilist, finding no one ready to fight him, has entered into an agreement for a walking match with Charles Rowell, the champion pedestrian, well known for his triumphs in the United States. According to the agreement the parties are to run or walk two hundred miles for $1,000 a side. The match is to take place on the 20th of August. There will be great curiosity to see how the prize fighter will acquit himself as a pedestrian and the singularity of the match attracts widespread attention.

FOR BREAKING THE LAWS.

Robert Opper, the publisher of the Kaiser's parade pamphlet, which contained on the cover an advertisement of Malthusian books, has been arrested. Two persons who purchased the pamphlet testified to the facts and Opper was remanded for trial. The government felt obliged to take this action owing to the fact that Conservative members were questioning the home secretary in the House of Commons as to whether the authorities proposed to let the Opper circulation of immoral matter on such a conspicuous occasion go unpunished.

HOAXED THE LONDON POLICE.

The famous theft of the Countess of Dudley's diamonds is still a mystery. The confession of the clerk, Wilkinson, upon which he was recently arrested, that he was the robber, having turned out to be a "fake." Wilkinson, who is a crank, was discharged today, as there was no reason to suppose by the examination that he had ever seen the Dudley diamonds. Upon leaving the court room he was arrested for a petty theft, with nothing romantic about it but which he undoubtedly committed, and he will probably be put where he will not be able to amuse himself by hoaxing the police for some time to come.

SALISBURY'S SIGNIFICENT SPEECH.

It is the growing opinion that the speech delivered by Lord Salisbury at the United Club, when he reviewed the entire political situation, was intended as an election address, and it is taken to foreshadow an early dissolution of parliament. It is difficult to find any other explanation for such a general expression of his views. Lord Salisbury lays down his political programme, speaking with no uncertain sound of a variety of subjects, and it would be premature and injudicious for him to make it public at this time unless it was intended for early use in an electoral campaign. His own refusal to commit himself to any date when speaking of dissolution, is an indication that he wishes to reserve to himself full liberty to dissolve at the earliest possible moment he deems it best for the interests of the government and the Conservative party.

The Fishing a Failure.

The catch of fish on the river was very small yesterday. Some of the boats had scarcely a single fish to show after the day's work. The fishermen have given up all hope of any luck this season. Reports from Alaska and along the coast show that the same state of affairs exist.

Lacrosse Assistants Council.

A meeting of the Lacrosse Club was held in A. B. Mackenzie & Co's office last night. Some important financial business was discussed besides various other matters. Arrangements were made for forthcoming schedule matches, but no team was selected. An unusually large amount of business was got through, the meeting being prolonged until after 10 o'clock.

A Second Alarm.

Yesterday, about noon, a second alarm of fire was turned in from the electric light station. It was found that some sparks had fallen on the roof of the fuelhouse, and started a blaze. The fire engine was taken down to Wilson's boat house, hose laid and the fire was quickly extinguished. Very little damage was done, as the blaze was washed out before it could get a hold on the building. Chief Ackerman was struck by the stream from the hose, and thoroughly drenched.

At the Wickets.

Today the Vancouver and Westminster first elevens will play a cricket match on Queen's Park. The second eleven leaves for Hastings on the 7:30 train this morning where they will play against the Vancouver second eleven. Play will in each case commence at 10 o'clock. The four teams are as follows: Westminster first eleven—Newington, Mallos, Sinclair (captain), Woods, Irwin, Coulthard, Wyld, Henderson, Keary, Newington, Raymond, Purves (12th man). Second eleven—Applegarth, Blaker, Powers, Brine, Gifford, Vidal, Bently, Armstrong (captain), Noot, Peebles, Read, Pittendrigh (12th man). Vancouver first eleven—Rev. H. G. F. Clinton (captain), E. B. Deane, E. Griffith, G. Coleman, E. Mahon, S. Saunders, C. Nelson, F. Yollande, R. Mackay Fripp, J. Laurenson, H. J. Walton. Second eleven—F. M. Chaldecott (captain) H. H. Mackay, C. Curtis, Rev. V. C. Lacy, F. Crickmay, E. Mutch, E. Rand, E. Prenter, C. G. Johnson, T. Atkins.

THE TORONTO EXHIBITION.

Westminster Will Be Well Taken Care of at the Show.

Yesterday afternoon an informal meeting of several of the aldermen and members of the Board of Trade was held to consider the advisability of co-operating with the Provincial Exhibit Association in sending an exhibit to Toronto, when the matter was fully discussed and a conclusion arrived at favorable to the proposition so far as expression of opinion was concerned. Mr. Gosnell, the commissioner, was present and spoke at some length explanatory of what the association had done and what it proposed to do this year. The impression that many had formed, it was hardly understood how, that the exhibit had been conducted largely in the interests of Vancouver city was thoroughly dispelled. One of the committee for his own satisfaction had telegraphed to the commissioner from Alberta last year, which had exhibited side by side with British Columbia, to find out his opinion as to whether the complaint was justifiable, and received a reply stating that the British Columbia exhibit had been conducted most impartially in every respect and complimenting the management. Mr. Gosnell explained that all exhibits were credited to the producer and to the locality to which they belonged and in no way was one locality favored over another as could be proved by any person who had visited the fair. This year the exhibit would be very much larger than ever before and larger and better space had been allotted it. Any part of the Province would be allowed to make a special exhibit, the excellence of which would depend on the people themselves, and several places had already undertaken to carry this idea into effect. Westminster deriving as it would, the greatest benefit from an influx of settlers, could not afford to be the only important section of the Province unrepresented. The city had a scheme for advertising itself but it was not possible to find better means or a more favorable opportunity for circulating information about the country than at these eastern fairs, which were visited by hundreds of thousands of the leading citizens of the east, the future of the country and the result of all our investments depended upon population. The result of last year's exhibit had been appreciably felt and in Manitoba which spent $11,000 in exhibits last year, thousands of settlers were coming in. Of course, the character of the population attracted would depend very much on the character of the representations made, which should be honest statements of facts. The intention was to exhibit an industrial trophy illustrative of the manufactures of the Province to show the people of the east that British Columbia had something more than big trees and fish; also a special exhibit in stuffed fishes and agricultural products. It was pointed out, too, that there was a considerable market in the east for our woods, fish and fruit which would be fostered thereby, and apart from that altogether it had a decidedly good political effect in impressing the people of the eastern provinces with the character of our resources and the possibilities of development. Heretofore British Columbia has been regarded rather as an incubus than an acquisition by many politicians and such exhibitions disabused the people of the east of these notions and made it much easier for our Province to obtain that recognition which it deserved. What was wanted was for the people of Westminster to take an interest in the matter and get up an exhibit fully representative of its progress and creditable to the Province. The matter will likely be taken up more fully on Monday night and by the Board of Trade.

Gold Excitement.

A passenger to Victoria from Duncan's Station by Thursday's train says the excitement there is intense, and the workmen have dropped the ordinary implements of their labor to seize the pick and shovel and search for gold. Mr. G. E. Bissett, while working on the excavation for one of the new bridge piers, where the railway is to cross the Cowichan, unearthed a couple of nuggets of pure gold, upon which rumor places a value as high as $3,000.

Amateur Sport.

Everyone fond of hunting, fishing and canoeing, and those interested in natural history, fish culture, rifle and trap shooting, and owners of dogs, who like to read interesting, instructive and practical articles on these subjects, should read the "Amateur Sportsman," a magazine published monthly at one dollar per year. Each number of the "Amateur Sportsman" contains numerous practical articles—many of them illustrated—that should be read by every lover of the gun, rod and dog. Send to P. P. Godenrath, agent, Calgary, N. W. T., for a free specimen copy.

Canadian Foresters.

Mr. Joseph Emery, who has been in this city for the past two months working up a new court of Canadian Foresters, organized the new court on Thursday evening. It is known as Court Westminster, No. 339, the charter membership being 36. Brother Emery, D. H. C. R., installed the following officers: W. C. R., R. G. Wellwood; J. C. P. R., H. Whittaker; V. C. R., Hugh Murray; Rec. Sec., G. C. Hinton; Financial Sec., D. A. Fisher; Treas., H. C. Benson; Chaplain, J. A. McKinnon; W., Wesley Mancer; J. W., J. Cameron; S. B., G. W. Nicks; J. B., John Chapple; Court Physician, Dr. Hugh M. Cooper. The next meeting of the court will be on Thursday, 23rd inst.

A Question of Durability.

The steam roller did good work on Front street last evening, along the stretch on which the macadam has been sprinkled. The road now looks smooth and solid, but whether it will stand the wheels of heavily loaded wagons and trucks and the hoofs of heavy horses for any length of time, will appear in a week or two. If the road holds out in fair condition until that time, those who thought it was a great blunder strewing such rough masses of stone over the roadway will have to acknowledge themselves mistaken. Many will be surprised if Front street is not a mass of deep ruts and hollows within a month. Imitation macadam roads are the worst kind of imitation. But our city council must learn. The lessons come high, but they have to have 'em.

The Dunsmuir Mines.

Again is the rumor current that Messrs. Dunsmuir & Sons have sold, or are about to sell the entire Wellington colliery property to an English syndicate. It is further stated that the syndicate have two experts now at Wellington taking stock of the seams of coal, the hoisting machinery, the rolling stock, the wharves and bunkers, and the real property. These gentlemen have been at Wellington for the past ten days, and certainly are making a minute and exhaustive examination of all the surroundings of the Wellington colliery property, even to measuring the heights of the coal, the length of the railways and wharves, and the capacity of the machinery. The Dunsmuirs make no secret of their willingness to dispose of the property at a suitable price.—Free Press.

AMERICA'S CYCLISTS

GREAT MEETING OF WHEELMEN AT DETROIT, MICH.

Several Important Records Broken. —Good Time the Rule — Some Hitherto Suppressed Clauses in Sir John's Will are Brought to Light—Col. Bedson, ex-Warden of Stony Mountain Penitentiary, Dead—Our Premier in Toronto.

DETROIT, Mich., July 17.—Between four and five thousand people witnessed the first day's racing of the twelfth annual meeting of the league of American wheelmen at the Driving Park this afternoon. The day was an almost perfect one save for the wind which was dead against the riders on the stretch. All the events were hotly contested. The event of the day was the riding of Banker and Brinker of the Buffalo, F. Y. Athletic Club for the half mile tandem record. They made the distance in 1 minute and 8 seconds, breaking the record, 1:13 1-5 made at Peoria, Ills., last fall. The results were as follows: First event, one mile, novice safety, L. W. Schimmel, Detroit Wheelmen, first; H. A. Cossitt, Owosso, Mich., second; time, 3:18. Second event, one mile, novice ordinary, W. L. Marks, Detroit Wheelmen, first; O. W. Slocum, Newhaven, Mich., second; C. H. Christ, Tonawanda, N. Y., third; time, 3:08 2-5. Third event, one mile, Detroit Wheelmen Club handicap, safety, J. M. Keenan, 50 yards start, first; L. A. Lafferty, scratch, second; C. H. Dickinson, 70 yards, third; time 2:53 2-5. Fourth event, half mile, L. A. W. championship, ordinary, A. A. Zimmerman, New York Athletic Club, New York, first; A. H. Githens, Hyde Park, Ills., second; W. W. Taxis, A. C. Philadelphia, third; time 1:18 3-5. Fifth event, one mile open, safety, George R. Barret, Chicago, first; H. C. Tyler, Highlandville, Mass., 2nd; E. C. Rode, Chicago, 3rd; time 2:32 1-5. Sixth event, half mile open, ordinary, A. A. Zimmerman, New York Athletic Club, New York, first; A. L. Githens, Hyde Park, Ill., 2nd; W. M. Carman, Woodstock, Ont., 3rd; time 1:20 2-5. Seventh event, one mile, L. A. W. championship, safety, W. F. Murphy, N. Y. A. C., New York, first; F. H. Tuttle, I. C. C., Chicago, 2nd; J. M. Forden, Sheringfield, Mass., 3rd; time 2:56 3-5; eighth event, mile handicap, ordinary, E. W. Ballard, Chicago, 105 yards, first; J. B. Draper, Athletic Club Schuylkill Navy, Philadelphia, 2nd; J. R. Hazleton, A. C. S. L. Philadelphia, third; time, 2:31 4-5. Ninth event, ¼ mile, L. A. W. championship, safety, W. W. Taxis, A. C. Sa. Philadelphia, first; W. S. Borne, C. C. C., Chicago, second; E. P. Burnham, Boston, Mass., third; time, 36 4-5 seconds. Tenth event, three miles, lap, ordinary (there were only three starters in this event, but it was the prettiest race of the day), tie between A. A. Zimmerman, N. Y. A. C. New York and A. H. Githen, Hyde Park, Ills.; W. L. Carman, Woodstock, Ont., 3rd; time 9:9 4-5. Githens and Zimmerman rather than go over the distance again tossed for first place and Githens won. Then Banker and Brinker of the Buffalo Athletic Club started in the half mile tandem race, with the intention of beating the record. They started from the quarter pole with the wind at their backs and finished at the three-quarter pole, breaking the half mile tandem record 5 1-5 seconds.

CANADIAN NEWS.

SIR JOHN'S WILL.

TORONTO, July 17.—The Globe this morning publishes the full text of Sir John Macdonald's will. There is a clause in it which has been suppressed in versions of the will given to the public by his friends, namely, that in which he bequeaths "any shares in capital stock of the Canadian Pacific railway whereof I may die possessed, and whether standing in my own name or in that of any other person for my benefit." Editorially the Globe says: It is obvious that his (Sir John's) Canadian Pacific cannot have formed part of the proceeds of the testimonial presented to Lady Macdonald, and invested in her name, for in that event Sir John would not be enabled to dispose of it by his will. Would it not be well for the executive to clear up the matter and explain why they have concealed the existence of this property from the knowledge of the public? If such is the case they can't be too explicit; we are not suggesting that deceased acquired the stock in question by wrongful means, but we are simply asking for light upon the subject, which his admirers must wish to see illumined to the fullest extent.

TO BE [illegible] WASHINGTON.

TORONTO, Ont., July 16.—There is every probability that the three mile double sculling race between Hanlan and O'Connor, and Gaudaur and McKay, set for August 8th, will take place on Burlington Bay.

OUR PREMIER IN THE WEST.

Hon. John Robson, Premier of British Columbia, is in the city.

THE AMERICANS WON.

Germantown, Pa., cricket club yesterday defeated Rosedale club of this city. Rosedale's total was 59, Germantown's for three wickets, 272. G. O. Patterson, of the visitors' team, scored 146 runs and was not put out.

DECIDED TO FAIL.

MONTREAL, July 17.—Thomas May & Co., one of the leading dry goods firms here, have decided to go into liquidation.

COL. BEDSON DEAD.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 17.—Col. S. I. Bedson, ex-warden of Stony Mountain penitentiary, Manitoba, was stricken down with paralysis this morning. He is in a very low condition, and his medical attendants say there is only slight hopes of his recovery.

Later—Col. Bedson died at seven o'clock tonight.

Had Fatal Results.

DULUTH, Minn., July 17.—Last night's storm at West Superior was even worse than the late reports of yesterday made it. In all five men were killed by the falling of the new hotel. About twenty-five had gathered in the building to seek refuge from the rain and wind, when it collapsed, falling level with the earth. The assistant chief of the fire department had his leg broken. So thick was the debris that it was three hours before the last body was reached. A store building on Ohio avenue was blown down and demolished. Two men who were in the building barely escaped with their lives. Another building on the corner of Susquehanna and Tenth streets was blown down and two buildings on Lackawanna were blown down. At West Duluth several small buildings were unroofed.

Off for Behring Sea.

The steamer Danube, bearing the British sealing commissioners, sailed for Behring's Sea on Thursday night, says the Colonist, Captain Meyers in command. The commissioners expect to remain north until driven out by the cold weather, which sets in about October; then they will return to Victoria and have a second conference with the Sealers' Association. During Thursday afternoon, Sir George Baden-Powell and Dr. Dawson called upon Collector Milne and were by him furnished with all particulars of the industry in the collector's possession. There is one phase of the Behring's Sea question that calls for immediate attention. It is of not so much importance to the nation as to the individual, but it means distress and suffering in many families unless prompt relief is provided. When the present season opened, half a dozen or more schooners were manned by eastern sailors and hunters, whose wives and families they left behind in the Atlantic Coast provinces. Their passage out was advanced, and the coast catch will just about repay the fares and the small sums given to the wives at home, when their bread winners signed articles. Now these men are returning from the Behring's Sea, unable to carry out the work for which they crossed the continent. Many of them will be absolutely penniless; and how they are to provide for the loved ones at home, with winter coming on, is a problem that looks dark just now.

A Victoria View.

The following statement is from the columns of the Victoria Times of Thursday: "What becomes of all the sugar that has recently been arriving from Vancouver," is a question frequently asked during the last couple of days. It is easily answered, as nearly two-thirds of it returns from whence it came. The Rithet, which left for Westminster yesterday morning, took up a considerable quantity for Fraser River and inland points, and another small lot is awaiting her next trip for shipment to Chilliwack and other places. Some also returned right past the place where it is refined, on its way up the C.P.R. The R. P. Rithet Company limited, this morning transferred a lot from one wharf to the other and marked it for Enderby and other mainland cities.

For the Eastern Exhibit.

Alderman Marshal Sinclair spent most of yesterday in working up an exhibit for the Toronto exhibition, to be sent thither in the care of Commissioner Gosnell. Mr. Sinclair was pleased with the results of his day's labor, and is hopeful of being able to send an exhibit to the east worthy of Westminster. The people seem much more interested and willing to assist in the undertaking this year than they were last. Many promises of first class samples of all kinds have been made, and Mr. Sinclair estimates that the showing this season will be twice as good as in 1890. Mr. Gosnell is also working hard securing promises of contributions to the exhibit, and expects to be able to show the eastern people something in the way of nature's produce from Westminster that will make them open their eyes.

Dentists in Conclave.

The first annual meeting of the British Columbia Dental Association was held yesterday in Vancouver. During the morning session, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, T. J. Jones; First Vice-President, C. H. Gatewood; Second Vice-President, A. J. Holmes; Secretary-Treasurer, A. C. West; Executive Committee, W. J. Quinlan, W. E. Spencer, and R. F. Verrinder. The president in opening the meeting delivered a short address. Dr. Holmes, of Westminster, then read an interesting paper upon "Caries and Necrosis." The afternoon was occupied by a clinic in Spencer and Gatewood's office, at which some very satisfactory results were obtained. During the evening some important business was discussed, and the association adjourned until today.

Mechanics' Institute.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Mechanics' Institute was held last night, at which the classes to be carried on by the institute during the coming season was discussed. It was decided to submit to the Library Board a proposal to institute classes in the following subjects: Junior—Reading, writing, arithmetic, geography. Senior—Mathematics, experimental physics; elementary inorganic chemistry, theoretical and applied mechanics, steam and mechanical engineering, machine drawing and construction, bookkeeping, phonography, principles of agriculture, geology, mineralogy and metallurgy. A committee composed of Messrs. J. Peck, John Reid and J. Shirley were appointed to meet the Library Board and discuss matters with them. The meeting then adjourned to convene again at the call of the president.

Pleasantly Spent.

The Westminster branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held a highly successful reception and entertainment in the Orange Hall last night. The hall was prettily decorated with flowers, and tables were invitingly set out in various nooks and corners. The room was crowded, and the evening was spent in pleasant social conversation, interspersed with musical selections, readings and recitations by various ladies and gentlemen, among whom were some members of the choir of Olivet Baptist church, Mrs. D. Robson, Miss Welch, Mrs. Mackenzie, Messrs. G. J. Burnett, Burpee, Geo. H. Grant and others, who all evoked well-merited applause. After an attractive musical programme had been got through, ice cream, cake, and various other light refreshments were handed round. After the good things had been enjoyed, more music and some interesting addresses followed, and were appreciated in a high degree. The pleasant gathering broke up about 10 o'clock.

"Blackberry 'Sass.'"

Something has got into the dusky Siwash this summer. Both brave and klootchman have plenty of independence with them when they climb up the front steps and want to know if you will trade some cast off clothing for a basket of blackberries. A lady living uptown was approached by a swarm of klootchies yesterday afternoon, every one of them with a big basket of blackberries at her back, suspended by a twisted cloth passed across the forehead and through the handles of the basket. The King George woman brought out some of her King George's raiment and began by offering a four-button black broadcloth cutaway, without a broken stitch in it anywhere. One aged klootch took it contemptuously, looked it over in a scornful way, smelt it, pinched and creased it and then offered a small basket containing about a pint of indifferent looking fruit. Her offer was promptly refused. The lady then proposed that the klootchmen should give her a large basket of the berries, about four quarts, in exchange for a good tweed suit. Instantly the melodious cackle of the Siwash, commenced, then, without so much as a look, a word or a sign to her, standing there looking so sweet with a big armful of last year's masculine fashions, they one and all stalked down the steps, slammed the garden gate and shuffled off along the sidewalk, converging volubly in heated Siwash.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

It is the intention of the Public Library Board, in the course of a day or two, to publish a request to citizens for gifts of books, manuscripts, etc., to the library. It has been thought desirable to do this at present, so that before an order is sent forward for new books, something in the nature of a nucleus may be obtained. Doubtless many citizens will be pleased to make contributions, and it is very probable that books will be obtained in this way that it would not be possible to purchase. The Library Board, by means of its investigations and discussions so far, has got its plans pretty well matured, and while it will be necessary to delay the opening of the library for some time yet, it is proposed that the Reading Room shall be furnished and supplied with periodical literature before very long, at least before the long evenings of autumn set in. The Mechanics' Institute is busily employed with preparations for the evening classes to be held in the library building, and this very important part part of the scheme, it is believed will be made a pronounced success. It is earnestly desired that citizens generally will interest themselves in the work and lend that species of aid without which the undertaking can never be what it should be.

An extremely interesting experiment has been proceeding at the Bon Accord Salmon Cannery during the past week, namely, the packing of salmon in glass jars. The experiments have been conducted under the supervision of Mr. S. Orell of Manchester, England, and Mr. D. J. Munn, manager of the cannery. The glass jars were manufactured in England, and are of the capacity of an ordinary one pound can. They are rendered airtight by an appliance similar to that used on fruit preserving jars, a zinc screw cap fitting over a rim of rubber in such a manner that the zinc and rubber do not come in contact with the fish. The cooking process is performed in precisely similar manner to that employed in ordinary canning, a puncture or "blow-hole" being left in the glass cap. After the cooking is finished this puncture is closed with sealing wax. The experiment is regarded as highly successful, the only drawback being the cracking of some of the jars occasioned by the sudden change of temperature upon being removed from the oven. It is believed, however, that this will be wholly obviated by the use of another description of glass. In all, some 15 or 20 cases were put up and these will be shipped to the Old Country. Mr. Orell, we understand, has at his back a company of wealthy Englishmen who are prepared to go into this class of fish preserving on a large scale as soon as the experiments now being carried on shall demonstrate the commercial utility of the new process. Fish packed in this manner would cost about 50 per cent more than the ordinary canned article to the consumer, but they would command a ready sale among a class of people to whom the extra cost would be no obstacle in purchasing. Our readers will have noticed, in a dispatch the other day from Great Britain, the excitement that was created there a short time ago by an alleged poisoning caused by eating salmon taken from cans. There has always been a more or less pronounced antipathy in England to canned goods of all kinds, and although it is perhaps felt less now than at any time heretofore, owing probably to the uniform excellence and wholesomeness of the Fraser River pack, still there is a considerable section of the more wealthy class of people who would always give the preference to fish preserved in glass. It is to be hoped that the present experiments at Bon Accord and those which are to follow will be wholly successful, and in that case a great industry in glass-preserved fish may be expected to grow up here.

A proposition has been made [illegible] while New Westminster should contribute a couple of hundred dollars towards the Provincial exhibit, she should also send down to the fairs a special representative who would be able to supply information particularly regarding this city. We give our support to the proposition, and the man who should be selected is one who understands and fully appreciates the peculiar advantages of this city as a location for manufactories of one kind and another. Many people in the east are interested in this province as a field for manufacturing enterprise, and at the fair is the place where such people are most likely to turn up. In connection with this matter, if it should be determined to adopt the proposal alluded to herein, it would be well to have prepared and printed a carefully written statement of the descriptions of manufactories that would find a favorable location here. The Board of Trade might properly take this work in hand. As things are at present situated in this district, we do not approve very much of the idea of simply making our exhibits at Toronto and elsewhere serve as an inducement for agriculturists to come here. If we had suitable vacant lands here, which might be homesteaded or acquired at reasonably low cost, more attention might be bestowed on the agricultural immigrant; but there is no use in disguising the fact that land is difficult to be got and high priced, and we distinctly object to the expenditure of the city's money in such manner that it goes mainly towards booming the business of greedy land speculators. Any effort towards the establishment of new industries in our midst will secure the approval of all, and that is the sort of effort that should be made in expenditures at the eastern fairs. Such a representative of the city's interests as we have mentioned would in no way interfere with the operations of the Provincial Exhibit Association; he would, indeed, be entirely separate from it, and the right man might be able, with very little expenditure, to do the city a genuine good.

Citizens have been watching with a good deal of interest the operations of the steam roller on Columbia and Front streets. The roadway has been greatly improved, being now hard and compact, indeed a capital surface to drive over. If it shall remain so, the results will be perfectly satisfactory, although we fancy when the work is completed it will be found to be as costly as other descriptions of pavement generally admitted to be much superior.

THE O'GORMAN MAHON.

An Irish Knight of the Nineteenth Century, Sans Peur et (Practically) Sans Reproche.

No doubt THE LEDGER'S many Irish readers will be pleased to have an opportunity of reading the life of one of Ireland's most splendid characters. A man full of Irish wit, generosity, reckless daring, noble chivalry, intellectual and physical power. Brave, tender and true. Mighty as a Samson, yet soft hearted as a blushing maiden of bashful sixteen. In reading the adventures and deeds of this Hibernian Chevalier Bayard, this Milesian Admirable Crichton, one's sympathies at once go out to him as to a hero, and one cannot help feeling that he stands up colossally noble among the meanness, the prosaic, cent-per-cent nature of the most utilitarian age, in which his wonderful career was laid. Here was a man generous to prodigality; ready to knock a man down for asking him to seal his word of honor with his signature—and be the first to pick him up again and nurse him tenderly afterwards. His death deprived Ireland of a darling son and the world of a truly glorious character.

The O'Gorman Mahon was born, according to the best authority, at Ennis in March, 1803. He matriculated at Trinity College in 1819, when the story of Emmet's rebellion was still a favorite topic amongst the undergraduates, but his father's early death forced him at once into public life.

HIS DEBUT AS A POLITICAN.

It was at the famous Clare election that O'Gorman Mahon for the first time took his stand in Irish politics, having been deputed by the Catholic Association to proceed at once to the scene of the contest. At this time he was only in his 25th year. "Before the business of the election began," writes an eye-witness of the scene, "a gentleman was observed on whom every eye was turned. He had, indeed, chosen a most singular position; for instead of sitting like the other auditors on the seats in the gallery, he leapt over it, and suspending himself above the crowd, afforded what was an object of wonderment to the great body of the spectators and indignation to the High Sheriff. The attire of the individual who was thus placed in this dangerous position was sufficiently strange. He had a coat of Irish frieze, with glossy trousers of the same national material; he wore no waistcoat; a blue shirt, lined with streaks of white, was open at the neck, in which the strength of Hercules and the symmetry of Antinous were combined; a broad green sash, with the medal of the "Order of Liberators" at the end of it, hung conspicuously over his breast, and a profusion of black curls curiously festooned above the temples shadowed a very handsome and expressive countenance, a great part of which was occupied by whiskers of bushy amplitude. The conduct of the gigantic and prepossessing young man sitting on the railings of the gallery scandalised the High Sheriff, and he shouted for the name of the offender. "My name is The O'Gorman Mahon," came the reply firmly, and, indeed, aggressively. "I tell that gentleman," roared the Sheriff, "to take off that badge." There was a moment's pause, and then the following answer was slowly and articulately pronounced:—"This, gentleman" (laying it himself on his breast) "tells that gentleman" (pointing to the High Sheriff) that if that gentleman presumes to touch this gentleman, this gentleman will defend himself against that gentleman, or any other gentleman, while he has got the arm of a gentleman to protect him." This extraordinary sentence was followed by a loud burst of applause from all parts of the court house, and the High Sheriff, after an interval of irresolution, sat down looking aghast and dejected.

QUARRELS WITH O'CONNELL.

His political career, however, was at the beginning of his life a very brief one. He quarrelled with O'Connell, and the inevitable result—banishment from public life—followed in his case, as it followed in the case of every man who came in conflict with the great demagogue. On the death of George IV. in 1830, Parliament was dissolved, and a general election ensued. O'Connell did not seek re-election at Clare, but got nominated for Waterford County, and was returned. There were two candidates for Clare—both popular, both names of the county, and both having peculiar claims on the support of O'Connell. They were The O'Gorman Mahon and Major MacNamara, who was O'Connell's second in his fatal duel with Estcrre in 1815. O'Connell proceeded to Clare in the interest of MacNamara, and just outside Ennis an encounter of extraordinary character, which was fortunately proving tragic, took place between him and The O'Gorman Mahon. The O'Gorman Mahon—the Liberator's opposition notwithstanding—persisted in going to the poll. O'Connell, seated in his triumphal car, was advancing in the centre of a multitude of Idmirers on Ennis, when the cries and clamour of a second procession, engaged in chairing The O'Gorman Mahon, were heard behind. A dreadful collision seemed likely to ensue, as the rowers of The O'Gorman Mahon were determined to push forward and take by force the van of O'Connell's adherents. It was a strange and dangerous scene of confusion, hubbub, and uproar, and in the midst of it The O'Gorman Mahon left his vehicle, and—rash and impetuous always—got into O'Connell's car. O'Connell thought a personal attack on him was meditated, and grasping The O'Gorman Mahon by the collar, exclaimed—"I'm as prepared to face death as yourself and it's now for it!" flinging him at the same time off the vehicle. O'Connell apparently repented immediately of his hasty act, for he ordered his friends to halt, and allowed The O'Gorman Mahon's party to take precedence. The quarrel between the two was never mended. Whenever O'Connell afterwards referred to the scene near Ennis he declared his conviction that The O'Gorman Mahon intended to take his life—a very far-fetched assumption indeed—and he carried his enmity to The O'Gorman Mahon to the bitterest extremity. The Clare election of 1830 resulted, however, in the return of The O'Gorman Mahon.

ENCOUNTER WITH THE LIBERATOR.

He made an attempt to re-enter public life in 1833. In that year he attended a meeting of the "Irish Volunteers"—a Repeal Association founded by O'Connell in succession to the Catholic Association—and stood up to second a series of resolutions proposed by O'Connell himself. An exciting scene followed. He had, however, to resume his seat; and when at the end of the proceedings he made another attempt to speak, O'Connell turned off the gas [illegible] left the hall he was pursued by The O'Gorman Mahon, but whether with hostile intent or not, is not very clear from the newspaper report of the meet- [illegible] replied The O'Gorman Mahon, "and I supported you, too, Mr. O'Connell." So the incident ended.

A CAREER OF ADVENTURE.

A career of peril and adventure then followed, extending over ten years, the history of which may be written some day. But in 1847 he was again in Clare, and Ennis selected him as their representative in Parliament. In 1852 he was beaten by five votes, the successful candidate being the late Lord Fitzgerald, and again he disappears from the scene for a long period of some twenty years, during which he shot bears and wolves with the Cesarewitch in Finland, was made an officer in the Czar's Imperial Body Guard, travelled literally from China to Peru, controlled the fortunes of the Republic of Uruguay in South America, and finally emulated the glories of Lynch and O'Higgins by commanding a war vessel of the Chilian people in one of their internecine conflicts. We hear of him as staff-colonial and aide-de-camp to the President of Costa Rica, and rumor has gone so far even as to whisper that in Peru he has worn the mitre of an archbishop! It was a wild and adventurous career. Subsequently he returned to Europe, where Louis Napoleon took a fancy to him, made much of him at the Tuileries, created him a colonel of Chasseurs, although the army regulations had to be altered on purpose, and was anxious that he go to the front in the Austrian campaign. The restlessness which characterized him until quite recently, however, would not allow him to remain in France, so he visited the Port Simpson has adjacent to it the largest salmon canneries on the coast, and from its nearness to the seal fisheries it must also become the headquarters of the seal fishing industry and the large fleets therein engaged. It has back of it millions of acres of rich prairie land, which in time will be peopled with ranchers and farmers, who will contribute to the building up of a large city.

PORT SIMPSON

The Coming City of the North Pacific, is Now on the Market and offers one of the Best Speculations of the Day.

Port Simpson affords the same opportunity to investors today that Vancouver did ten years ago. Ten years ago lots in Vancouver that are selling for $20,000 could have been purchased for $200 and there was not so much certainty of a railroad to Vancouver at that date as there is today of a railroad to Port Simpson.

Nature has determined Port Simpson for a Metropolis. It possesses the only harbor on the North Pacific Coast, and that harbor is pronounced by all mariners (including a British Admiral) to be the finest and safest in the world.

Port Simpson is five hundred miles nearer to Japan than are Vancouver and Victoria, and with the completion of the railway from Port Simpson to Port Churchill, on Hudson's Bay—only a question of time—it will be on the shortest route between England and the Orient, and must command a large share of the trade of the Orient.

It is the only place on the North Pacific Coast that can be reached by the railways that are pushing northwestward from Edmonton and Prince Albert, and without any doubt will be the terminus of another transcontinental railway within a few years.

The property now offered to the public must, by reason of its location—which stands to the surrounding lands just the same as the peninsula on which Vancouver stands—be the site of the future city.

On Queen Charlotte Islands—situated in the Pacific Ocean, nearly opposite Port Simpson—there is an unlimited supply of first-class coal, and it is also thought there is a good supply of coal adjacent to the Port on Work Channel, which is to Port Simpson what Barrard-Inlet is to Vancouver.

The Hudson's Bay Co. has had a trading post at Port Simpson for years, and it is the headquarters on the North Pacific Coast for the large and important trade of that rich and powerful company. The attention of the public is called to the fact that, as a rule, wherever the Hudson's Bay Co. has planted its trading posts, there have grown up important cities. Fort William, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Victoria are illustrations of this fact.

C. R. Tuttle, author of "Our Northland," published recently, concludes his interesting work as follows: "And in respect of transcontinental transport or travel from the United Kingdom to the far east, the advantages of the Hudson's Bay route, in connection with a railroad from Churchill to Port Simpson, will not only afford a safe national route, but so greatly minimize time and distance, that with its establishment Canada will become one of the most important parts of the British nation, and absolutely indispensable to the Mother Country. In view of these things, one may reasonably hope that England will eventually aid the Dominion in the construction of the Hudson's Bay railway. The importance of Canada to the parent country is so great that, in a few years at most, one may expect to see a disposition manifested on the part of the latter for closer federal relations. With this will surely come the means of a larger development of Canadian resources, the construction of railways in connection with Hudson's Bay, and the establishment of an extensive international commerce through channels on Canadian latitudes, and consequent national prosperity. Such are the prospects of Our North Land."

The members of the Gun Club will hold their usual practice shoot on Lulu Island this afternoon. A match for $25 a side has been arranged between two picked teams, and some pretty shooting is likely to be seen. Besides this, there will be one or two sweepstakes. The LEDGER is requested to state that no meeting was fixed for last night, as reported in the Columbian. The next meeting, as they are now held fortnightly, will take place next Friday night.

For rent—A store room and upper flat on Front Street, adjoining Mathers & Milligan's. Apply to F. J. Coulthard & Co.

One will take place on Queen's Park, between the Westminster and Vancouver first elevens, and the other at Hastings, between the second elevens of the same clubs. The team for Hastings will leave here on the 7:30 train in the morning.

Mr. A. C. Wilson met with a painful accident on Thursday when getting off one of the steamers at an up river landing. While crossing the gang plank, a portion of it gave way, and Mr. Wilson went through, narrowly escaping breaking his leg. As it was, the jagged edges of the timber cut his leg severely, and he also sustained a few severe bruises.

Guy W. Walker, Merchant Tailor, having dissolved with Mr. W. F. Beggs, is now at his old stand, 26 McKenzie Street. Clothes cleaned, repaired and dyed as usual. The store will be closed from 1 to 6 on Saturday.

About 100 Templars took passage yesterday morning on the train bound for the Junction. The lunch basket was to the fore in force and everybody seemed bent on making the picnic to Coquitlam's shady banks and braes as enjoyable an occasion as possible. The excursion returned on the evening train, all hands reporting a glorious time. The Coquitlam is voted the premier spot for picnics.

Yesterday afternoon, in the western part of the city, two Chinamen, one known as Ah Hing, and the other Joe Kwee got into a slight dispute, and suddenly, without any visible provocation, Joe struck Ah Hing a blow in the face with his fist, cutting his face and bruising him severely. An information was at once laid against the assailant, and the case will be heard in the police court this morning.

I have just received a nice stock of Gent's, Ladies', Misses' and Children's boots, shoes and slippers which I am prepared to furnish at prices lower than the lowest. James Rousseau, Front Street, rear Bank B. C.

Farewell Lecture.

Dr. A. S. Leslie delivered his seventh and last lecture to a very small audience last night. Those who have attended the lectures have been highly pleased and instructed, and it is a matter of regret that so few have availed themselves of this opportunity of becoming acquainted with phases and scenes in the Orient. In concluding his remarks Dr. Leslie said he had been much charmed by the appearance of Westminster; he liked the city and its people and his stay here had been a very pleasant one.

Welcome to Westminster.

Rev. Dr. Reid, the well known Reformed Episcopal minister of Victoria, arrived in the city last night per the steamer R. P. Rithet, accompanied by his son. The reverend gentleman has accepted the rectorship of St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal Church, and will officiate for the first time at the morning and evening services tomorrow. Dr. Reid is known as an eloquent and earnest preacher, and his congregation in Victoria parted from him with much regret. He will be heartily welcomed by the congregation of St. Paul's.

Centreville Street Railway.

Says the Chilliwack Progress: Work on the grading of the railway here is expected to commence next week. The street work in the vicinity of the station is about completed, and when finished the force will be placed on the railway grade. Mr. H. Abbott, who was expected here last Saturday, did not arrive, owing to a pressing call up the line, but will be here some time next week, and will be accompanied by Contractor McGillivray, who will make all arrangements on his arrival for the commencement of the work.

Davitt Goes East.

Michael Davitt left Victoria for the east on Thursday night, well pleased with the province of British Columbia. He hopes to return with his family during the late fall to visit in Victoria. The last few days of his visit to Vancouver Island were spent in the San Juan Valley, where it is intended to settle the Scottish Crofters, and where he secured many good negatives with his Kodak. He was particularly impressed with the immense forest and sea resources of the well favored valley, which he had not sufficient time to thoroughly explore, and his opinion is that lumbering and fisheries should pay immense profits if properly managed.

THE O'GORMAN MAHON.

King of Prussia, became acquainted with Bismarck, when a little-known Count, and formed a life-long friendship with the Crown Prince, the late Emperor Frederick, which indeed was testified to by their touching meeting at Buckingham Palace in 1887.

IN PARLIAMENT.

He returned to Parliament in 1880. His physique was as striking as ever, but his old loquacity had fled. He spoke once and once only in the House in the session of 1881. It was a brief but very remarkable speech. The House at the time was considering the Lords' amendments to Mr. Gladstone's Land Bill. "Are we to be bullied," exclaimed the old chieftain, "by the wretched mischief-makers at the other end of the lobby?" and he waved a contemptuous hand in the direction of the House of Lords. "If I had the misfortune to be born the son of a booby peer"—a sharp cry of "Order order," from the chair interrupted the member for Clare, and the world will never know what the O'Gorman Mahon would have done had he the misfortune to be born the son of a booby peer! "But, God bless my soul, Mr. Speaker," he went on, "are we to be at the mercy of a scratch of the pen of the irresponsibilities yonder?" He said no more. He did not seek reelection when Parliament was dissolved in 1885; but on the death of Mr. John A. Blake in 1887 he accepted the invitation of Mr. Parnell to sit for Carlow. Mr. Gladstone once declared that the most courtly and gracious gentleman he had ever met with was The O'Gorman Mahon. The charm of manner of this erstwhile swashbuckler—this fighter of countless duels, this rough and ready adventurer of the South American Republic, was certainly delightful. In his youth he was the idol of the ladies. In his old age he was loved by everybody who knew him.

THE ANNUAL CELEBRATION.

Meeting of the Programme Committee Last Night.

There was a meeting of the programme committee of the Citizens' Celebration in the city hall last night. The committee is composed as follows: W. A. Duncan, W. H. Keary, G. R. Raymond, E. H. Port, S. J. Thompson, J. Ratchelor, L. A. Lewis, James Leamy, W. Johnston, D. S. Curtis, John Reid, F. R. Glover. Mr. D. S. Curtis occupied the chair and Mr. A. R. McKenzie, secretary, read the minutes of the first meeting. After a lengthy discussion, in which the subject was viewed in every light, it was decided that there would be no trades procession. Instead there will be a first-class official and societies procession. Arrangements will be made as early as possible to have the Winnipeg and other eastern lacrosse teams come here and play exhibition games during the celebration, also to induce some good professional baseball clubs to take part. There will be bicycle, horse and foot races, a football match, aquatic sports and special contests for the blue jackets. One of the great features will be a grand torchlight procession on a large scale on the Fraser. The question of ways and means was earnestly debated and a large number of ingenious schemes talked over and weighed carefully. So far everything is going on swimmingly and shaping for the finest celebration ever held in the province. The meeting adjourned at 11 o'clock.

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 28 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street goes directly through it, and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running its cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 28) is composed of 128 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ranging in price from $4,000 to $7,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before buying.
