WILD DAY IN PARIS

DISGRACEFUL SCENES ENACTED IN THE WAGNER RIOTS.

Sensational Evidence in the Decobain Case—The Emperor Reviews the German Army—President Carnot Addresses the French Soldiers—Parnell Has Small Chance for Re-election in Cork—Providing for the Sufferers by the Floods in Spain—Summary of Cable News.

LONDON, September 17.—The Times correspondent at Paris says: Yesterday was the most agitated day I have seen in Paris for twenty years. I have never seen efforts more violent or bold of lawless agitators to render France ridiculous and odious in the sight of the world. Justice must be rendered to the admirable good sense of the real population of Paris. It has known how to resist all the malicious and inconceivable excitements for some days brought to bear upon it. The true France turned her head away in disgust from this army of disorder. The opera managers easily prevented the disturbance by raising the prices for Lohengrin. The Boulangist rioters no longer have the royalist coffers at their disposal. Along the crowds were heard cries of "A bis les juifs." The crowd was a complete collection of all social corruptions.

The Cologne Gazette says it is announced that Count Wedell will succeed Count Von Munster as German ambassador in Paris.

SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE.

The proceedings at Belfast against Allen, the crown witness in the case against Mr. Decobain, M. P., were continued today. Allen is charged with exhibiting indecent photographs, and his accusers are men employed by Decobain's solicitors. It is claimed on Allen's behalf that he is the victim of a conspiracy, the object of which is to destroy the evidence against Decobain. Dudgeon the solicitor was in court and excitedly declared that his character had been wrongfully impugned. He demanded the privilege of making an explanation, but the bench refused to listen to him. Cole, formerly a butcher, now a bookmaker, was examined. He testified that he was engaged by one Cooke of London to make enquiries in connection with Decobain's defence. On cross-examination he admitted that he himself had been thrice charged with offences similar to those of which Decobain and Allen are accused. He had sworn out an information against Allen suggesting the matter to Dudgeon, and the latter's Clerk Rodgers, simply to oblige them. He had received £50 from Cooke, but nothing from Dudgeon. The duties of the witness consisted in showing Cooke the dwellings of certain persons in Belfast. Allen had exhibited the alleged indecent pictures to nobody but himself. Jewell testified that he received £3 per week and hotel expenses while trying to discover facts in Decobain's favor. He introduced Dudgeon to the detectives as Johnson of Port Rush. He did this not to trap them, but as a joke. Dudgeon deposed that he had employed Cooke, an English detective, but discharged him because the police recognized and followed him. Dudgeon admitted treating Allen to drinks and supper. He also admitted having stated that it would take every penny of £5,000 to unravel the conspiracy, (sensation.) Other evidence of an important character was given and the result of the proceedings was that the magistrate discharged the prisoner. The outcome is regarded as a triumph for the Government and a serious blow to the hopes of Decobain's friends that he might escape from the network of evidence which is closing around him.

THE KING A PRISONER.

From Vienna comes the startling information that King Charles of Roumania, is virtually the prisoner of his own ministers and that a scheme is on foot to drive him to abdication. The king has at heart been with the queen in her desire to bring about the marriage of the crown prince and Mlle. Vacaresco, but he was overthrown by his ministers, and for fear that he may relent and give way to the wishes of his almost dying wife, a deputation of ministers follow him everywhere, and he was not even permitted to go to the chamber to see the queen without the presence of a member of the ministry. The explanation of this is that the ministry favors Russia, and believes that with King Charles off the throne they could better carry out their schemes for the Russianization of the kingdom as a tool in the hands of the czar. King Charles has a stronghold on the loyalty and devotion of the Roumanians. This cannot be said of the crown prince, who is not the king's son, but the son of his brother, introduced from Germany as heir to the throne, and therefore unconnected with the traditions and memories which make King Charles himself dear to the Roumanians. The overthrow of King Charles would therefore mean the overthrow of his dynasty and the virtual substitution of a Russian protectorate. As King Charles, however, belongs to a branch of the German imperial family, it is not likely that the German Emperor and his ally, Franz Josef, would view with indifference the dethronement of a Hohenzollern.

They Look Like Louis.

BERLIN, September 16.—The Emperor William has furnished a suite of apartments in the new palace at Potsdam in the style of the late Louis II of Bavaria.

A WARM DISCUSSION.

A number of Saxon and Bohemian workmen, who chanced to meet at the frontier town of Cott yesterday became involved in a quarrel in which knives were freely used. Several of the combatants were stabbed and two of the injured died from their wounds.

Parnell's Chances Ruined.

CORK, September 17.—The revision of the voters of Cork city begins Monday and will occupy several days. It will presumably be the last revision before the general election and the residents of this city are in a state of agitation, the rival political committees having been busy for weeks in bringing forward the name of every available voter on their respective sides. The researches which have been carried on have made it certain that the Nationalist split and the divorce proceedings have ruined Parnell's chances of re-election. The Unionists are even beginning to expect a victory in the contest.

Meeting of Troopers.

MUNICH, September 17.—A detachment of troopers of the First Bavarian regiment, returning from the manœuvers yesterday, complained in a manner threatening mutiny, against the long marches which they were forced to undergo after the fatigue of the manœuvers, and against the quality of the food dealt out to them. Lieutenant Bailland, their commander, treated their complaints with indifference and refused to alleviate the hardships which had occasioned the ill feeling. As a result they totally mutinied last evening, breaking rank and refusing to proceed until they had a resting spell and had been properly fed. The lieutenant, in his efforts to compel obedience advanced upon the rebellious troopers with a drawn sword. Instantly a dozen stalwart riders spurred their horses against his, and the officer's sword thrusts were parried by a dozen blades. The onset overthrew the lieutenant's animal and horse and rider fell into the ditch. The lieutenant was stunned by the fall. Meanwhile a sub-officer alarmed at the serious outlook of affairs, had hurried off and given the alarm, and soon a strong detachment had reached the spot. The ringleaders of the mutiny were arrested and the lieutenant released from his uncomfortable resting place in the ditch. A court-martial will be held shortly to punish the revolting men, and incidentally the complaints of overwork and improper food, made by the men, and which are not confined to this particular case, will be looked into.

Inhaled His Death.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 16.—J. H. Stethamer of San Francisco, who has been drinking heavily of late, committed suicide in his room in the Stafford House today by closing up the cracks in the door and window and turning on the gas. He was a native of Rochester, N. Y.

Awful Fatality.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., September 16.—A letter received here today from Captain Cooper of the brig Jenny Lind, who was at the port of Island of Martinique at the time of the hurricane on August 18th, says the hurricane lasted three hours, and everything in the shape of produce was destroyed. After the storm it was found that over 700 persons were either killed or missing. Nineteen vessels were wrecked and most of their crews drowned.

Courtesies Well Repaid.

RALEIGH, N. C., September 17.—A special to the Chronicle from Wilson, N. C., says: Last fall a wealthy northern gentleman visited Rocky Mount. He was very fond of hunting and Mr. C. N. Harris, ex-editor of the Rocky Mount Plaindealer, lent the stranger his dog and showed him numerous courtesies. The stranger dropped dead on Monday and when his will was opened it was found that he had bequeathed Mr. Harris $100,000 for courtesies and favors shown him, to be paid by his executors in United States currency. Mr. Harris left today to get the money.

A Brutal Sport.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 17.—Arrangements have been completed for an interesting cocking main between California and Maryland for $3,000, and $100 each battle. The contracting parties are Anthony Greene of Sacramento, and A. B. Salt of Suitland, Md., both prominent breeders of game fowls.

NOTES.

The Department of State has been officially notified that a royal commission has been appointed by the British Government to obtain and distribute full information by which the products of the manufacturing and agricultural industries, and of the fine arts of Great Britain and her dependencies may be procured and forwarded to the World's fair at Chicago.

Irvin D. Scott of the Union Iron Works of San Francisco, who is building the gunboat Monterey, said today that the vessel was being completed rapidly and would be ready for her contractors' trial next month.

Tramway Cars.

Three carloads of cars and trucks for the Westminster & Vancouver Tramway Company arrived yesterday from Philadelphia via the C. P. R., and another consignment of two carloads will arrive in a day or two. When these are received the company will then have seven cars in all, an excellent equipment to begin with. The through traffic cars will be heated by electricity.

Surrey Fall Fair.

This important district fair takes place at Surrey Centre tomorrow, and from what has been learned from the secretary it will far outstrip any similar exhibition of the enterprising Agricultural Society of that municipality. If the weather clears up sufficiently there is sure to be a large number of visitors go down from this city, and it will be well worth the trip to witness the rapid progress that Surrey is making.

To Accommodate Exhibitors.

The Canadian Pacific Navigation Company advertise in the Victoria papers that the steamer Rithet will leave Victoria for New Westminster on Sunday next, calling at all way landings, to accommodate exhibitors at the fair next week. It has also been arranged by the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company that if the steamer Islander arrives from the north in time (she is expected on Saturday), she will also be put on the route for special trips to New Westminster on the 20th and 24th, so as to allow Victorians and others the utmost facility for visiting the great fair and witnessing the sculling race and other events. These special services will be duly appreciated, and the company will accordingly receive the thanks of all concerned.

They Are in Luck.

The gang of Chinese convicted of gambling, with one exception, will put in the full term of two months at the jail. They evidently enjoy the situation. For five days they have been well fed at the city's expense, and now the decision given by the police magistrate that they shall in default of bail be imprisoned for two months without hard labor, has filled their Celestial souls with unspeakable joy. Speak not of bail to them; bail means money, which they haven't got themselves and which, if accepted, they would have to work to repay. Perish the thought. Jail, on the other hand, means two months free board and no debt to be worked off when they get out; therefore, John's heart has found peace. One only of the nineteen convicted showed any trace of heroism and self-sacrifice. A gentleman appeared at the lockup and offered to bail him out, blinded by selfishness, he refused; at last, seeing the distress of mind under which his would-be benefactor labored, he nobly allowed him to pay $25, and casting aside two months board and lodging; casting aside all thought of his personal interests and comfort, he stepped forth from the jigger clothed in the noble consciousness that he had done his duty. True, he earned the contumely and contempt of the other Johnnies, but his name shall live in the hearts of all who admire that noblest trait in humanity, self-sacrifice.

MERCIER'S PLIGHT

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR ANGERS WANTS A JUDICIAL INVESTIGATION.

Minority and Majority Reports in Langevin's Case—Hope for the Imperial Federationists—The Awful Deed of a Husband Crased by His Wife's Death—Killed by a Reaping Machine—Lucky Numbers in the Quebec Lottery—C. P. R. Amalgamation.

OTTAWA, September 17.—The governor-general has given to parliament a copy of the letter received from Lieutenant-Governor Angers of Quebec relative to the Baie des Chaleurs railway scandal. Enclosed with that of the lieutenant-governor is a letter from Premier Mercier, in which the whole question is reviewed. Governor Angers notices the revelations in the senate committee, relative to the misappropriation of provincial funds, and recites the testimony of various witnesses bearing on the matter, particularly of the bank managers, and in effect censures M. Mercier for issuing without his (Angers') consent or approval letters of credit to the amount of $175,000 to a company, which money was subsequently misapplied. The lieutenant-governor demands the appointment of a judicial commission to investigate the whole matter, and names Judges Jette, Baby and Davidson as its members. In conclusion, Mr. Angers revokes the authority given the deputy lieutenant-governor to sign money warrants, and restricts his functions to necessary acts of administration. The publication of the letter has created a great sensation and has tended to accentuate the political crisis in the province of Quebec. Mr. Mercier has been passive up to the present, but is now bound to take action.

A WORDY SCRAP.

The search-light was again turned into the printing bureau scandal this morning by the hand of Lister of Lambton. During the session a lively scrap ensued between Hon. Mr. Foster and Lister over the evidence of J. Brooks Young in the New England Paper Company vs. Berthiaume. Lister said that this was to show that Young had made statements on that occasion wholly different from that given before this committee. Mr. Foster objected on the ground that it was ruled out before the court as irrelevant and Dr. Sproule was supporting the objection when Mr. Lister sprang up and declared that this evidence was most compromising and was most relevant here. Then the words flew thick and fast, but Foster was up demanding of the chairman if there was any protection against blackguarding in this committee. He pounded the table as he said that if anyone said that he knew Lister did not have this evidence he stated what was most false. Mr. Lister repeated his charge in what seemed a paroxysm of rage and for a moment the two men leaned across the table shaking their fists at one another and threatening, while Clarke Wallace stood between and tried to secure order. A little later Mr. Lister withdrew his heated words and Mr. Foster did likewise and the debate over the admission of this evidence went on.

THE DREAMY DREAMERS.

MONTREAL, Que., September 17.—The cables from London say that colonial circles are much pleased with the proposed address to the Queen by the Dominion Parliament regarding imperial trade, and that it is hinted that other colonial parliaments will take similar action thus strengthening the hands of Lord Salisbury in terminating the obnoxious clauses in the Zollvereign and Belgian treaties. This also encourages the Imperial Federationists in their attempt to devise a plan for closer trade relations with the empire.

LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held a union meeting yesterday. Several hundred delegates from all parts of Canada and the States were present. The proceedings were private.

TALLY ONE MORE.

TORONTO, September 17.—A London cable says the Canadian-American football teams scored the second victory of their tour yesterday, defeating a strong Lincoln city team by two goals to one.

THE LUCKY NUMBERS.

The following are the winning numbers of the first capital prizes in the province of Quebec lottery drawing: 17,627, 89,469, 25,678, 59,228, 76,070, 70,951.

A HORRIBLE ACT.

WINNIPEG, Man., September 17.—A settler named Westerlund of New Stockholm, near Whitewood, chopped the head off his 3-year-old daughter yesterday with a broad-axe. He went insane after the death of his wife last Friday.

Samuel Osborne, a respected farmer living near Carrolton, south of Brandon, met with an untimely death Monday evening. He was driving a binder, when his horses took fright and he got tangled in the machine, the knife severing one leg at the knee. He only survived the accident a few hours.

The Railway Combination.

ST. PAUL, Minn., September 17.—Regarding the rumored combination of the Canadian Pacific, Soo and Great Northern railway systems, mentioned by specials from this city, Colonel Clough, vice-president of the Great Northern, enters an emphatic and sweeping denial. President Thomas Lowry of the Soo road, says there is no truth in the rumor that his road will now consolidate with the Great Northern and the Canadian Pacific.

Great Northern Schemes.

TACOMA, Septembe 17.—President Hill was interviewed on his private car, and stated emphatically that the Great Northern and the Union Pacific controlled exclusively the Puget Sound extension, originally projected by the Union Pacific, and that the extension would be built within a year or so. It is understood that the extension will be built by the end of 1892, in order to secure the Union Pacific subsidies, which expire, as far as the city is concerned, in January 1793. This Tacoma subsidy is valued at from $100,000 to $150,000 and consists of yard and terminal facilities.

Carnot and the Army.

PARIS, September 17.—At the conclusion of the review of the troops today by President Carnot, General Fredericks, the Russian military attache, received an ovation. During the luncheon at the Mairie, President Carnot toasted the army, which he said had again shown what France might expect from it. He continued: "The whole country, which had followed its movements with passionate interest, is grateful. The people will know how deeply they are indebted to that school of devotion, self denial and patriotism. They well know that calm firmness and prudence and international loyalty can bestow on the country, the gift of sincere friendship and a confidence waranted by its resources and love of peace which they now wish to see undisturbed. From the plain soldier to the leader highest in rank we have inspired the people with confidence. In the name of the government and of all France I thank the army" (cries of bravo). M. Defreycinet and General Saucer responded.

The Spanish Floods.

MADRID, September 17.—The journalists of the capital have commenced a collection for the benefit of the sufferers by the flood. The melancholy task of burying the dead continues at Consuegra. The remains of cattle and horses are got rid of by cremation. A horrible stench prevails, and disease is feared. The minister of public works, who, with his suite, is engaged in distributing relief was deeply affected by the spectacle of misery and the heartrending scenes on the streets. The trophical heat makes every moment of delay in burial dangerous. Another peril in the ruined town is the constant falling of damaged houses.

A Sham Battle.

BERLIN, September 17.—During the German army manœuvres today the eleventh army corps encountered the fourth in a sham battle at Mulhausen in the presence of the Kaiser. The fourth had artillery at the summit of Kaltkopf hill, the main body occupying Grossgralle village at the foot of the hill, with General Haenesch in command. The seventh corps under Baron Grolman made a feint against the hill and then a real attack on Grossgralle. They faced a heavy fire, but failed to dislodge Haenesch and his troops. The Kaiser galloped from point to point with activity. About 60,000 men were engaged and the firing was incessant, yet owing to the use of smokeless powder the atmosphere was perfectly clear.

Whole Towns Destroyed.

SAN SALVADOR, September 17.—A million dollars worth of property and many lives were lost in San Salvador by an earthquake last Tuesday. As far as known, whole towns were demolished and those along the coast only escaped. The volcanoes of San Miguel and Isalco had been unusually active until lately and indications of seismic disturbances had been apparent for several days past. The first shock took place at 2 a. m., the earth rising in long waves, and the panic-stricken people who had rushed from their beds were unable to keep their feet. The capital did not suffer so much as the country towns. Analguito and Cosmasagua were completely destroyed, and Cogutapaqua, Santa Tecla, San Pedro and Mashust were practically in ruins. The number of lives lost is not known.

Wants to Meet Sullivan.

NEW YORK, September 16.—Frank Slavin has written to the Police Gazette, under date of September 14th, expressing his willingness to meet John L. Sullivan for $25,000 a side, the Police Gazette belt and the championship of the world. He says he will toss for choice of battle ground, which will be either in America or England. If he secures a favorable reply to this he will forward articles at once and post a reasonable amount.

THE RAPACIOUS ENGLISH.

A Washington special to the Evening Post says: Colso Calsar Mareno, a well-known Italian-American residing here and acting as the agent in this country of the national party of Hawaii, today laid before the president a letter that he recently received from a correspondent in Honolulu, asserting in the most positive terms that England is now planning to take possession of the kingdom. The writer said that some action on the part of the United States is necessary; that the Queen is favorable to the British interests and ready to countenance the move when made. The president was interested by the letter and asked Mr. Mareno to communicate with Secretary Blaine.

The Pope's Decision.

HARTFORD, Conn., September 17.—Advices have been received here of a very important decision delivered in Rome on August 16th, in the famous matrimonial controversy which has been in the courts of the Roman Catholic church for four years. William Grant of Bridgeport separated from his wife, and a divorce was secured in the courts of this state. The couple had been married by a Methodist minister, but subsequently Grant had joined the Catholic church, to which his wife belonged. He applied for an ecclesiastical divorce, claiming that a Methodist marriage was not recognized by the church in 1867. After a careful hearing the board presided over by the very Rev. James Hughes, V. G., of this city, declared the marriage valid. Grant appealed to the arch-episcopal tribunal in Boston and there the Hartford decision was reversed, and it was declared no marriage. The question was then appealed finally to Rome and now the highest authority declares the marriage binding and the divorce is refused. The case has attracted much attention in Roman Catholic circles. Grant is and has been for some years living with a second wife.

Panic in Cable Stock.

NEW YORK, September 17.—Mackay's cable stock has been on the jump during the past ten days. Large orders from London have been in the market daily, advancing the price from 106 on September 4th, to 122, at which it sold today, closing 122 bid, and 123 asked. The stock brought out in London by Baring Bros., and before their following succeeded in distributing it, a panic ensued. Mackay, however, personally stood under the stock, taking all that was offered, so that the price of the stock never fell below the issue price. The result is that the stock stands with English investors on the same footing as their own highest class securities and their orders have absorbed all the floating stock. Mackay still personally owns a controlling interest in the company.

BRITISH MONEY MARKET.

The Evening Post's special cable from London says: "The governor of the Bank of England states that the liabilities of the Baring account are all run off except £280,000. The Bank of England is now practically only a creditor for the seven millions covered by South American and other funded assets. The syndicate will probably assume the securities later and repay the Bank of England. The bank reserve is unchanged notwithstanding an efflux of £344,000 in gold chiefly to Egypt and Germany during the week and a part of the lost gold is compensated for by the reflux of notes from circulation. The deposits in the bank, not including the public one, increased £190,000. This indicates something like two millions of unemployed money on the market which the bank would like to clear before it can impose its own charge. The public deposits decreased £765,000. Governments have been paid off to the extent of £350,000. The bank today shipped £80,000 in gold to Germany and received £23,000 from Portugal.

WELL FINANCED.

The Provincial Government and its finance minister, the Hon. Mr. TURNER, are to be congratulated on their success in obtaining our new public works loan in the English money market on very favorable terms. These terms may be considered especially good, having regard to the feeling of financial insecurity that has for some time tended to prevent the ready obtaining of English money for colonial and foreign investment, and having regard also to the recent disclosures as to the misapplication of Government funds at Ottawa and Quebec. The disclosures in the latter case might well, as affecting another provincial administration of the Dominion, have detrimentally operated on our loan, so far at least as concerns good terms of issue. These terms have nevertheless been readily obtained, a proof of the good financial credit of our province, for the £200,000 loan has been floated at the low interest of three per cent, and at the fair issue price of 86. The actual interest payable on the net amount received will, therefore, only average a little under three and a half per cent, as compared with the large loans of $727,500 borrowed by the province under the act of 1877 at the high rate of six per cent, and $996,190 borrowed under the recent act of 1887 at four and a half per cent. These comparisons will show how greatly the taxpayers of this province benefit, relatively to their past experience by the terms of the new loan, which the Financier, a leading English organ of the money market, naturally describes as "a great success."

THE EUROPEAN SITUATION.

It seems generally to be believed in England and central Europe, that the grave international difficulty involved in the weak and dangerous concession made by Turkey to Russia, of a right of passage for the latter's warships under the very walls of Constantinople, will be solved amicably, partly as a result of the resolute diplomacy of England. Russia will, it is anticipated, draw back from her intended move. Great Britain cannot in any event permit Russia practically to command the possession of Constantinople, and by so doing suffer that city to be made a point d' appui for an attack on the international highway to India, and become a place whence to achieve the subjugation to despotic rule of the rich open markets and splendid, if badly governed, possessions of the Turk in Asia Minor. Austria also is vitally concerned in preventing any Russian command of Turkey in Europe, as that would inevitably mean the early successful invasion of Austro-Hungarian territory on the Adriatic and elsewhere, and lead to the disruption of the Austrian empire. Such disruption by the Muscovite would also seriously menace both Germany and Italy, which powers are therefore bound in self defence to prevent any Russian command of Constantinople. Russia has moreover millions of her people just now threatened by death from starvation, whilst her finances are desperately embarrassed. Any immediate outbreak of a new Russian war in the east would accordingly seem very unlikely, despite all present contrary indications. The terrible Russian famine may indeed prove a potent preventative of still more horrible events in Europe, by raising an all sufficient obstacle to an even greater loss of life by widespread bloody warfare and consequent distress.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Victoria has decided upon a municipal retaking of the census, though the only effective method by which the people of that city can correct errors in their enumeration is by inducing the Dominion Government either to retake or check carefully the present returns. Any municipal census will be regarded outside the city that makes it, as likely to err by exaggeration. The Colonist has so far failed to make out any very strong case of large omissions from the census. It only as yet records 132 omissions, no very large number for a city of nearly 17,000 persons, especially as it may well be found that many of the complainants were not permanently settled in the town at the exact date of the census now long passed, or may have been counted in elsewhere under the de jure system. The most exact census of large towns ever taken would probably on recount show errors of one or two per cent, due partly to the default of others than the census taker. We do not, however, assert that no mistake has been made in Victoria, for there are evident errors in several British Columbia returns. The de jure system of counting indeed lends itself more readily to error than the de facto one, as requiring greater care and intelligence on the part of both enumerators and enumerated.

The London (Eng.) Standard recently published an interesting article on modern English house-building, in which special reference is made to our Canadian lumberwork. The writer, evidently a specialist, says that English housebuilders now use more wood than of yore and display better taste. Houses too are cheaper, "£500 worth being produced with at least twenty per cent less cost than it was but a few years ago, strange as it may seem. Carpenters earn at least twenty to twenty-five per cent more than they did. How, then, does this come about? Because, in the first place, the sashes, frames and doors, architraves and skirtings are imported. You can see this plainly. Those mouldings leaning against the wall are each stamped on the outside, following the rules of the new Act, "made in Canada." They are shipped from Quebec. The reason of the superior cheapness of these articles is easily explained. We can make big forms by machinery in England, and we have quite as good machinery as they have in Canada; but then here comes the most important fact. Presuming the wood alone was imported from Canada, there would be a great deal of waste in the way of odds and ends and remnants, but the ready-made work comes over to us practically free of all waste, though the foremen carpenters admit that the sea voyage and the rapid atmospheric changes cause the wood to become softened, and the glue undone, entailing average, is of small consequence. As to quality, the Canadian wood is very good indeed. It does not matter for interior purposes if it be somewhat soft. If it warps, it warps, at any rate in one direction, for the reason that wood grown in large forests always grows closely together. The trees run straight up to the sky and the grain goes straight up by a rule of nature. If there is a warp, then if can only occur in the whole length of the plank or piece. But English wood grown in open spaces, would grain this way and that way, according to the variations of the wind. When it warped it would do so in a crinkly fashion, with the result of spoiling the appearance of anything like wainscot. Furthermore, it would be an utter impossibility for us in our own country to supply the wood market apart from foreign importation, for our production is ridiculously small. The chief rivalry to the Canadians is the Norwegian competition in house fixtures. The Norwegian wood is not so good, taking it in a general way. It is too heavy and consequently costs more in freight—and in the cutting prices of the present day that is a very important question. Still, it has this advantage, that for outside work, such as barge boards and garden rails and so on, it is better than the Canadian, as it holds a much larger quantity of turpentine, and so is better able to resist the atmosphere."

THE OARSMEN.

How They Succeeded in Putting in a Stormy Day.

The wild winds that tossed the Fraser yesterday prevented any possibility of practice with the oar, and the heavy downpour of rain that continued all day rendered walking exercise out of the question. Hanlan, O'Connor, Dutch and Stephenson therefore stayed indoors most of the time and whiled away the hours variously. After breakfast the whole four went in couples to Thompson's and sat for photographs.

Just after breakfast O'Connor was handed a despatch to the following effect:

On Board Train, July 17.

"Will arrive on express today. Please meet me at Junction." (Signed) "JAKE GAUDAUR."

It fairly took the American champion's breath away, and he only recovered his equanimity when it was discovered that the message was a prank of Hanlan's. But it would be like the audacity of Jake to send a despatch like that to O'Connor.

When Hanlan isn't rowing a race, or practicing to row one, or venting most outrageous canards, or reviewing the glories of the past, or debating on the theory of training or the correct style of rowing, he is usually trying to get on another match. Yesterday morning he started out for McLean. He wanted an arrangement to be made with the Fraser river sculler for a three mile shell race to take place on Tuesday next for stakes of $200 upwards. He would concede McLean a start of twenty seconds in [illegible]. Twenty seconds means [illegible] Edward thought generous offer. But the [illegible] particularly captivated the ex-champion in this proposition was the condition that the race was to be straightway up stream from the lower end of Anacis Island and finishing opposite the city. Two big steamboats filled with spectators would be taken down to the point of starting and would follow the race up. "There would be money in that," laughed Hanlan, "and McLean and I could divvy up."

McLean was not seen till after lunch at the Rowing club boathouse. Hanlan broached the above proposal at once, but the Fraser river man didn't seem to take to it with any great display of enthusiasm. Hanlan then proposed that McLean should row in his skiff against Hanlan in his shell, the former to have a lead of a quarter of a mile in three. Mac put on his thinking cap, but hadn't quite got the matter thought out when the interview ended.

Messrs. Dutch and Stephenson called round at THE LEDGER office in the morning and afterwards went to Thompson's to get photographed for portraits to be printed in this paper. They regretted the bad weather that prevented practice on the water, but thought there would be plenty of time if the remaining days should prove favorable. There is much public curiosity to see the two Australians rowing. Some sort of judgment may then be formed of the chances in the race.

The Salmon Market.

The New York Commercial Bulletin speaking of the market prospects for canned salmon says: "The official report is that English buyers are in negotiation for the purchase of the entire unsold balance of this season's pack of British Columbia salmon, estimated at about 75,000 cases. It looks well for a 'combine' across the border, and should the deal be completed there may be livlier export in Columbia river and Alaska fish."

Library Reading Room.

The fitting up of the handsome reading room in the public library is nearly completed and the capacious apartment will, by the time of the exhibition, be extremely attractive. Newspaper racks are fitted on the walls down both sides of the entire room while two handsome tables capable of accommodating a large number of people traverse the main portion from one end to the other. The floor is covered with linoleum. The entire apartment is wainscotted and contains two large fireplaces, the woodwork on which is highly finished and carved. Three large windows on the north end and three on the south furnish ample light in the daytime; while at night four pendants, each carrying two pairs of sixteen candle power incandescent lamps, are utilized for illuminating. In fine, it is an institution of which the New Westminster public may well be proud and one which must be to strangers an indubitable proof that they are amongst a progressive and high minded people.

Coming to Westminster.

The celebrated scientific optician Professor F. D. Seward of New York has decided to visit this city before taking his final departure for home, and will arrive here about the 23rd inst., remaining for a short time only. Professor Seward's success in the States has been repeated in Victoria, Nanaimo and Vancouver, and all indications point to as great a success in Westminster in which is the last stop he will make in the province. The following home testimonials will be of interest to those intending to consult the professor. Postmaster N. Shakespear of Victoria writes, "I have never been able to use my left eye until fitted with proper glasses by Professor Seward." Rev. W. W. Batt of Nanaimo in speaking of his glasses, says, "They focus my vision perfectly and are a grand success in every particular. Dr. McNaughton-Jones of Victoria writes, "I have never found anyone that could properly adjust glasses to my eyes until I visited Professor Seward, the glasses he made for me are a genuine comfort and I can confidently recommend him to everyone." Dr. Ernest Hall, the Victoria oculist, says, "Professor Seward is without exception the most skillful and successful optician in America, if not in the world today." Rev. J. M. McLeod of Vancouver says, "The glasses adopted by Professor Seward have restored his vision equal to what it was when he was 30 years of age." Thousands of others equally well known endorse the work of this celebrated optician. This notice will be repeated in this paper several days so that all our citizens may learn of this unusual opportunity and be ready to call upon Professor Seward as soon as he arrives. It is expected he will have parlors at the Queen's Hotel. Professor Seward does not operate upon the treat diseased eyes and makes no charges for consultation and preliminary examination.

WAYS OF WOMEN FAIR.

FADS, FANCIES AND FASHIONS OF THE GENTLER SEX.

The Progress Women Are Making in Various Fields of Useful and Artistic Labor —What the Human Butterflies are Busy About.

A good wife must have mental attractiveness. I do not say that she must be well versed in classic lore and polite literature, but she must have that common intelligence, fit for every day use, which is absolutely essential to make her intercourse with society pleasing to herself and agreeable to others. And the girl who is ignorant in these days generally has but two excuses for her ignorance: she was either lazy or crazy after the boys. A good wife must at least know enough of physiology to appreciate the importance of cleanliness of person and in the house. A carelessly dressed, slatternly and untidy woman cannot long keep her place on the throne of her husband's life. From a lazy, slovenly woman may heaven deliver you! The devil tempts everybody, but a slovenly woman tempts the devil. Young man, look out where you are going! A lazy girl will make a lazy wife, just as sure as a crooked sapling will make a crooked tree. A good wife should know enough of arithmetic to check the accounts of merchants and marketmen, and reckon the amount saved by paying cash. The reason why so many people get along so miserably in life is because they have no knowledge of arithmetic.

Walking skirts are growing longer and tighter, and by the time the hawthorn buds are beginning to ope we shall have bolster effects on the promenade. All the ladies of elegance and wealth have silk for the foundation of their dresses, and after that comes linen or silesia lining. Print and talk to the contrary, skirts are not faced with leather, rubber or even canvas. A soft stuff instead is used as a finish to cover the cotton facing, and when this or the braid gets shabby the skirt is sent to the maid or to the shop for repairs. Elastic is still used to hold the fulness in the back. Darts are put in the lining only, and the goods proper is cut on the bias, and then pressed in shape tailor fashion. There is good in everything, even the tight trailing dress which in its present form relieves woman of the weight of cloth under which she hitherto bent and struggled.

Susan Helen Holman, a New York woman of vim and enterprise, is learning to be a locksmith. She amuses herself picking the locks of her neighbors' front doors, trunks and chests, and one of these days expects to hire an uptown basement and make a fortune at the business. She wears a suit of brown homespun copiously pocketed for the reception of her tools, and from an old Dutch girdle of wrought iron studded with green stones hangs a chatelain and keys of all sizes.

Mme. Von Teuffel, nee Blanche Willis Howard, is still living in Stuttgart, writing busily, in the hope of producing some work that will second the famous little "One Summer." Dr. Von Teuffel recently said to a friend that "it would be a blot on his escutcheon if her marriage should paralyze her literary faculties." But for all that Blanche Howard wrote for money, and woman the world over have been happy to have the yoke removed by a husband's love.

Miss Virginia Reid was the mother of American newspaper women. In 1772 she purchased and edited a weekly called the Virginia Gazette, a paper devoted to the Colonial cause. In 1774 Mrs. H. Boyle established a rival journal, which she called the Royal News, and the two ladies pulled hair, threw stones and called each other names in the most approved style of Continental journalism.

Although the severity of the tailor shop is impressed upon the cloth dress, the lightweight silks and all soft and airy materials for tea gowns, dancing dresses and reception toilets are as bouffant as Dolly Varden herself could have desired. Sleeves are gathered, puffed and caught up with ribbons, flowers and ornaments; there are butterflies on one pair of shoulders, humming birds on another and rosettes on a third.

A bold effort will be made to popularize striking jacket-cloths. Already the biscuit-colored coats are on the streets, and in preparation is the bright scarlet box-cloth, with braiding of dull silver and buttons of white silver. Another stunning coat is a pearl white, braided in silver, and a cream white, with facings of black lamb.

Mrs. Anna C. Fall, of Boston, is the third lady of that city to be admitted to the Bar. Mrs. Fall has a husband, with whom she studied, but owing to the laws of the State, which forbid legal contracts between husband and wife, there will be no partnership.

Miss Alice Fletcher, of Pittsburg, who has made a life-study of archæology among the Indians, has inherited from her friend, Mrs. Mary C. Shaw, recently deceased, an annuity of $1,500 for life to be used in the interests of her researches.

Among the odd occupations that London women are engaged in are inspection of refugees, visiting board schools, spying for private corporations, piano tuning, choir training, typesetting and serving on school boards.

Mrs. Shaw, who is whistling her way through the Russian Empire, writes to New York friends that she is making money, enjoying herself and collecting valuable material for "a simple little book of travels."

The English dinner set of a hundred years ago, with its quaint decorations, has been revived, and is in demand by the people who are furnishing over the houses after the Queen Anne and Colonial styles.

Notwithstanding the alleged helplessness of women Germany has 5,500,000 working women, England 4,000,000, France 3,750,000, Austria 2,000,000 and Austria 2,700,000, including all occupations.

Fruit saucers are the latest. The newest shape for a celery tray is a mortar board hat. The celery-boat of to-day is provided with a swan's head and neck for a handle, richly decorated.

A merchant of Pueblo, Col., has been left 50,000 by an eccentric uncle in Germany on condition that he will marry. Every mail, now brings the diffident merchant numbers of letters from women, offering to assist him in complying with his uncle's request.

Some one asserts that in nine cases out of ten, ships leaving New York, Boston or Philadelphia for distant ports are provisioned so close by their owners that if a shipwrecked crew of 10 men were picked up and fed for three days, it would put everybody on short rations. A loss of four days on sailing time would do the same thing.

From Bergen, Norway, comes the news of a practical charity contemplating relief to a deserving class, which, however, in our changing domestic conditions does not make so ready a call upon our sympathies as in older lands. Mrs. C. Soudt has given two houses and 50,000 kr. to establish a home for aged women servants no longer able to work for their own support.

Sarah Bernhardt doesn't think much of stage banquets. In conversation about theatrical accessories recently she said: "Look at Poor Cleopatra! In the famous scene in the second act, on the table where the rarest fruits, the most extraordinary dishes and the best of wines should stand in profusion, what did our Paris manager give us? Two biscuits and a bunch of grapes! If that was the kind of a feast that Cleopatra prepared for Antony, I am not surprised that he returned to Rome!"

The New Argentine Pacific railroad from Buenos Ayres to the foot of the Andes has on it what is probably the longest tangent in the world. This is 340 kilometers (211 miles) without a curve. In this distance there is not a single bridge and no opening larger than an ordinary culvert, no cut greater than one meter in depth, and no fill of a hight exceeding one meter. There is almost an entire absence of wood on the plain across which the western end of the road is located. This has led to the extensive use of metallic ties, which will be employed on nearly the entire road.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The frame maker at S. J. Thompson's studio is kept very busy these days framing pictures for the exhibition.

A vestry is being added to Christ Church, Surrey Centre.

Dr. D. McLean is building a new house on his ranch near Elgin.

The meeting of the boat club at Port & Co.'s office last night did not materialize.

The steamer Gladys arrived from up the river yesterday with a large load of farm products of all descriptions.

Victorians are congratulating themselves that the actual taxation for municipal purposes this year will be no higher than last.

Board and room wanted in private house for gentleman and wife. References exchanged. Apply to "Enquirer," LEDGER office.

The meeting of the board of library commissioners, which was to have been held last night, has been postponed till this evening at 8 o'clock.

Drug clerk, second story window, 3 a. m.—"Well, what is it?"

Night caller—"How the deuce should I know, I can't read prescriptions."

Teacher and scholars have gone into the Surrey centre school house just completed. Miss McDowall, who is in charge, is a great favorite with the children.

Mr. Thomas Shannon of Surrey, who was injured in a runaway accident the other night, is not so badly hurt as was at first reported. He is recovering satisfactorily.

Mr. Cobb who lives on the Junction road, Surrey, has got the contract of building the new public school at Brownsville. Judging from the plans and specifications, sent from Victoria, the building will be a fine one.

When you want a first-class hack call up the Crown Stables; telephone No. 45.

The high wind that prevailed yesterday blew down a tree on the southwest corner of the block on which the court-house is built. It is a handsome tree which it is a pity to lose, as there is no other on that particular corner.

The recent steady rains, it is feared, will have a disastrous effect on the grain crop, at least that portion of it which is in the shock. The standing grain will not be so much injured, though it will likely be badly laid down.

Hanlan says that if fast rowing depended on mature experience he should beat all his competitors next Thursday about a mile and a half. He was champion of the world before the other fellows knew how to sit in a shell.

The opening day of the Chilliwack fair was yesterday. They have been unlucky in their weather; it is to be hoped it will be fine today. Our reporter, who went up yesterday will give a full report of the fair in tomorrow's issue.

A magnificent wave of virtue swept with terrific violence over the city on Wednesday last, with the result that there were no cases to be disposed of at the police court yesterday. Please don't let this occur again, fines are always cheerfully accepted and the reporters of the city press yearn for copy.

All the famous oarsmen, who have arrived in town to compete in the coming regatta, yesterday fell easy victims to the wily and seductive "dry plate" in Mr. Thompson's studio. They are accustomed to this sort of thing, however, and stood the ordeal bravely. All are expected to be around again in a day or so.

At a meeting of the Victoria Art Association on Tuesday, officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, E. S. Shrapnel, R. C. A.; vice-president, R. R. Bayne, M. R. I., B. A.; secretary, T. Bamford; treasurer, G. T. Fox; executive committee, W. H. Bainbridge, T. S. Gore, Mrs. P. T. Johnstone, O. Chapman and Mrs. McMicking.

The only mine in the Kootenay lake country that is shipping ore at present is the Number One in Hot Springs district. So far about 150 tons have been shipped, the last shipment of 35 tons being sent out this week by the steamer Nelson. The ore goes to the smelter at East Helena, Montana, via Little Dalles and Spokane.

Some arrangement should be made to have the ferry boat make an extra trip tomorrow night to accommodate those who may go down to the Surrey fair, and may not find it convenient or possible to return before the last regular ferry leaves South Westminster. An extra ferry at 8 or 8:30 o'clock would be very desirable.

Articles incorporating the Windermere Mining Company were filed at the auditor's office at Spokane recently. The object of the company is to develope mining claims in British Columbia. The incorporators are George Pike, Claus Pahl, Charles G. Schrimpf, Charles Ubden and Adolph Hunter. The capital stock is $500,000.

Anyone having a horse and express for sale may find a purchaser by sending price and particulars to Box 97.

The new bridge over the Serpentine river on the Mud Bay road is now open for traffic. The bridge was built by William Murray of Langley, and is reported to be a very creditable piece of work. The bridge over the Serpentine on the McLellan road, which was recently partially destroyed by fire, has now been repaired and is open for traffic.

In order to facilitate the movement of upriver people desirous of attending the fair next week, the steamer Delaware will leave for Chilliwack at 1 p. m. on Sunday, and returning leave Chilliwack at 7 a. m. Monday. On Monday afternoon at 5 she will proceed again to Chilliwack and return thence at 7 Tuesday morning. On the following days of the week the regular daily boats will run. All the way ports will be called at.

In conversation with Mr. Douglas last night he stated that the tramway company, owing to the delays they had been put to through the lack of promptness on the part of the city council, would scarcely now be able to have the road between the two cities open for traffic during the exhibition. A resolution was passed at the last meeting of the council granting the company power to run for 90 days, but so far the company has received no notification of such a resolution having been passed.

A number of New Westminster citizens were over at the terminal city last evening to hear the famous Sol Smith Russell perform in the three-act comedy entitled "Peaceful Valley." Some went by train, and were delighted by the performance; others drove, and were also delighted, but their joy was somewhat tarnished before reaching home by the outrageous manner in which they were treated by the elements. Some new hats were spoiled, but its all good for trade.

Fifty fine art reproductions of paintings exhibited at the last Paris Exposition, framed and ready to hang on the wall. To be sold on the instalment plan. P. Peebles.

The grave of Louis Riel, the notorious rebel of Northwest fame, is no longer to remain the least conspicuous of the many graves of St. Boniface cemetery. Hitherto a simple wooden cross on which his name was painted was all that marked the resting place of his body, but in a few days the spot will be made attractive by a granite monument, which is being erected by Quebec sympathizers. The monument, which stands ten feet high, is now in the cemetery and men are engaged putting in a foundation. By Saturday the monument will have been placed in position. There will be no ceremony until November 16th, the anniversary of Riel's ignominious death, when the benediction will be pronounced. The only inscription on the monument is "Louis Riel, November 5th, 1885."

They are Passing Away.

Alexander Calder, a well-known pioneer of the province, died at Victoria on Wednesday morning, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis. The deceased came to the province in 1859 and for fourteen years was in the civil service of the colony, prior to confederation, both at New Westminster and Victoria. He was 85 years of age and a native of Edinburgh, Scotland. He leaves two sons and three daughters.

John Kurtz, another old pioneer, died at Victoria yesterday morning. He arrived at Yale in '58 and for some considerable time was in partnership there with the Hon. Hugh Nelson, the present Lieut.-Governor of the Province. At the time of his death he was a partner with W. P. Sawyard in the cigar factory at Victoria. Mr. Kurtz was just 60 years of age and during his long residence in British Columbia made very many friends.

C. P. R. Through Rates.

Tacoma Ledger: "Too much advertising has caused an increase in the passenger rates on the Canadian Pacific railroad from eastern points to San Francisco. An arrangement has been in vogue between the Canadian Pacific railroad and the Northern Pacific whereby passengers from the east to the Golden Gate have been ticketed through from this city over the Northern Pacific. This agreement is said to have been violated by the foreign company by advertising the Canadian Pacific as the shortest from Portland and the coast to the east. The Northern Pacific gave the Canadian a uniform rate of $8.12 for carrying passengers to San Francisco. By this arrangement the Canadian was enabled to sell cheaper than any competing line, as its overland rate is about $5 lower than other lines. About two weeks ago this rate granted by the Northern Pacific was raised to $6.75 from this city to San Francisco. Every passenger carried from the east to the Golden Gate via the Northern Pacific will be taxed the difference over the old rate."

Street Decorations.

Mr. Thompson the chairman of the decoration committee, says the committee intend that all the telephone and electric light poles on the principal business portion of Columbia street shall be festooned with evergreens, and Chinese lanterns will be suspended along the whole line at intervals of five feet. From the Bank of British Columbia to the postoffice there will be suspended a decorated design, which, judging from the skeleton now being made on the green below the city hall will take the shape of a large arch. The committee further intend to decorate the tramway poles along the main entrance to the Queen's Park, also the park gates. They are further desirous that the merchants and private citizens should endeavor to make their places of business and residences look attractive. It was pointed out that there were a great number of Chinese lanterns in town that could be obtained cheaply by anyone who wished to make their property look in keeping with the general aspect of the street and help to make the illumination and decoration of the town a credit and something that will be remembered by the crowds of visitors who will congregate here.

A New Enterprise.

A new enterprise, under the name of the Immigration, Investment and Improvement Company of British Columbia, Limited, has been floated at Victoria under the Companies' Act of 1890. The incorporators are Mayor Grant and Messrs. Joshua Holland, H. Munn, W. H. Bone and J. Nicholles of Victoria, with Paul Pferdner of Chicago. The capital stock of the company is to be $500,000, in $100 shares, the principal place of business being Victoria. The scheme will, however, be non sectional, and the company will have offices at Vancouver, New Westminster, Nanaimo and other places, at each of which will be one or more resident trustees. The objects of the company are to organize and manage excursions to the World's Columbia Exposition and other points of interest, to promote and secure the representation of the natural and manufactured products at Chicago and other points, and generally to aid in the development of British Columbia by attracting settlers and capital. The company will also carry on and execute all kinds of financial, commercial, trading and other operations, conduct all kinds of trust and agency business, and establish branches wherever it may be deemed advisable. In the organization and management of excursion parties to the World's Columbian Exposition and other points of interest, they intend to make contracts with railways transportation and other companies and persons, for the carrying, transportation, care, accommodation and board of such excursion parties, and for the insurance against loss by accident of the individual members. The costs of excursions are to be met by instalments, payable at the rate of $1.50 per week until $125 has been paid, for which will be provided first-class railway transportation to and from Chicago, with meals and sleeping berths en route, bedrooms in Chicago, with eighteen meals, six at the exhibition; six admission tickets, 14 street car passes, and an accident policy for $3,000 in case of death, or $15 per week in the event of disablement.

Live Stock Exhibits.

It is satisfactory to learn from Secretary Pearson that the special aggregate prize offered by THE LEDGER in the live stock classes has had the desired effect of drawing out a vastly increased list of entries. A prize of $50 is to be awarded by THE LEDGER to the exhibitor scoring the largest number aggregate points, in prizes for horses and cattle; points to score as follows: First prizes, 30 points; second prizes, 20 points; third prizes, 10 points; for largest number of separate entries, 30 points. The exhibit of horses and cattle this year will be vastly larger than any ever before got together at any fair in this province.

Supplementary Estimates.

In a batch of supplementary estimates brought down in the Dominion House the other day, British Columbia is set down for the following dole: Fraser river protection works at Garry Point, $8,500; shed on wharf at New Westminster, $800; dredging the outer harbor, Victoria, $20,000; Skeena river, $2,000; Nanaimo harbor, removal of Nicol rock, $4,000; Courtney river, protection works, $1,000; Cowichan river, $2,000; Victoria, new public buildings, $10,000; military buildings, guard room, gateways, etc., $1,700; military buildings, including Macauley Point battery, $9,000; post-office improvements, Victoria, $800. Towards Indian service in British Columbia, $1,700, included in which is the establishment of a hospital on the northwest coast of British Columbia for Indians of all denominations. Expenses of survey of Burrard Inlet, $2,500.

Two Great Performances.

Horsemen in the east are now much agitated about two notable events which occurred on the race track at Independence, Iowa, on the 5th inst., when the stallion Allerton reduced the stallion trotting record to 2:10, a performance that was immediately followed by the stallion Direct cutting the pacing record down to 2:06. A glance at the American trotting register shows Allerton to be of the much famed Wilkes-Mambrino cross, he being by Jay Bird, dam Gussie Wilkes, by Mambrino Boy; second dam Nora Wilkes, by George Wilkes; third dam by Consternation, altogether a very fashionably bred 5-year-old. His owners are sanguine that he is capable of doing better yet, and it may be reserved for him to clip the wings of Maud S., and give the trotting record to the male side of the equine family. The performance of the pacing stallion Direct is scarcely less remarkable. He comes also of fashionable trotting parentage, being 6-years-old, by Director 2:17, out of Echora 2:23½, by Echo; second dam Young Mare, by Jack Hawkins. As a 5-year-old he trotted a mile in 2:14½, but showed a desire to pace and the performance he has now accomplished in the latter gait has made him the monarch of the pacing field. He is California bred; pity he didn't find his way to British Columbia instead of to the east. By the way, this province with all its recent progress in heavy-draught importations, has done little towards enriching the finer strains. There is room here for some enterprise in that direction.

PERSONALS.

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 28 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street goes directly through it, and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running its cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 28) is composed of 128 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ranging in price from $4,000 to $7,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before buying
