ROOSEVELT LUNCHEON

Russian and Jap Envoys Received on Board Mayflower

Elaborate Introductory Ceremony is Gone Through in Formal Manner--Good Wishes by the President

Oyster Bay, Aug. 5.—During the luncheon that was given today to the peace envoys of Russia and Japan by president Roosevelt on board the Mayflower the head of the American nation expressed the "keenest hope and prayer in the interest not only of these two great powers but of all civilized mankind, that a just and lasting peace may speedily be concluded between them."

The occasion was attended by simplicity and frankness; due honor was paid to the distinguished guests of the president and of the country, and they were received with all that dignity to which their exalted rank entitled them.

The Japanese envoys and their suite, numbering baron Komura, minister Takahira, consul-general Uchida, Aimar Sato, H. W. Dennison, and other attaches, left the Waldorf Astoria this morning at 8.15 o'clock and were conveyed on board the cruiser Tacoma which gave them the ambassadorial salute of 19 guns.

About one hour later the Russian party left the St. Regis hotel, New York, and were brought on board the Chattanooga, receiving the usual salute. The party was headed by M. Witte, baron Rosen, consul general Lodygfsky, professor F. de Maartens and general Yarmaloff.

The two cruisers then started for Oyster Bay where the envoys were received on board the Mayflower by the president in the order already named, and were formally introduced the one to the other. Luncheon then followed.

The day was ideal. The handsome yacht Mayflower swung at anchor at the entrance to Oyster Bay. By its side was the despatch boat Dolphin. Two miles out the cruiser Galveston was anchored in waiting to convey the vessels bearing the envoys to Portsmouth.

In order that no embarrassing questions of precedence should arise it was determined that the luncheon should be a buffet function. Every officer on the Mayflower was attired in special full dress uniform, the jackeys were in sailor dress of snowy white, and the Chinese servants, also in white, stepped soft about the cabins.

Major general Frederick D. Grant, commander of the department of the east, and rear admiral Charles B. Coughlan, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard respectively, the representatives of the army and navy at the reception, were also aboard the Mayflower. As the launch bearing the president and flying his pennant passed under the stern of the Dolphin, the crew of that vessel dressed ship and trumpeters sounded a fanfare. As the president stepped on the gangway to ascend to the deck of the Mayflower, the first gun of the presidential salute of 21 guns boomed, and the beautiful presidential pennant of blue and gold, was broken out at the masthead. The president was greeted by commander Winslow as he reached the deck, the band playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Meantime the cruiser Tacoma with the Japanese envoys and their suit on board had arrived from New York. The ship came to anchor at 12.30 o'clock, half a mile from the Mayflower. Almost at the same time the naval yacht Sylph, with third assistant secretary of state Herbert H. D. Peirce on board, also came to anchor near the Mayflower. Mr. Peirce, who in the absence of secretary Root, was to represent the department of state, boarded the Mayflower from a launch shortly after the arrival of the president. He and Mr. Roosevelt chatted a while. Then it was reported that the Japanese were about to leave the Tacoma to board the Mayflower. Scarcely had the report been made, before the guns began to fire the salute of 19 guns for the plenipotentiaries. Bowing to the officers on deck, the president said:

"I guess I will go below, the reception will be held in the cabin."

The Japanese mission, headed by baron Komura and ambassador Takahira, came over the side, attired in black and shining silk, as the band played a rollicking march. They were escorted immediately to the cabin, where the president was awaiting them. Their reception was brief and was as devoid of formality as the nature of the occasion would permit. Baron Komura and minister Takahira shook hands cordially with the president.

As the representative of his emperor baron Komura then extended his thanks to president Rossevelt and through him to the American people for the interest they had manifested in the proceedings of peace negotiations, expressing his gratitude for the friendliness he had shown in initiating the negotiations which had resulted in the pleasure they were to have today.

The president assured baron Komura that he had found great pleasure in taking the steps toward what he hoped would be a permanent peace between the two nations. The exchanges, if they so may be termed, were entirely informal. No set addresses were delivered. baron Komura then presented to the president the twelve members of his suite. The president gave particularly cordial greetings to commander Takahira, the naval attache of the Japanese legation, addressing him as "comrade," and to Mr. Hanahara, the third secretary of the legation, with both of whom he is personally acquainted. The president then introduced the envoys to the army and naval officers present, after which, with baron Komura and minister Takahira, he retired to an inner cabin for a brief consultation prior to the arrival of the Russian mission.

The cruiser Chattanooga, with the Russian envoys on board, anchored near the Mayflower at 1.05 p.m., and 15 minutes later the Chattanooga's 19 gun salute announced the departure of the Russians. A few minutes afterwards the form of M. Witte, Russia's chief plenipotentiary, appeared at the starboard gangway of the Mayflower, followed by baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador and second peace envoy, and eight members of his suite. They were received precisely as the Japanese had been.

During the reception of the Russian mission the Japanese envoys and the members of their suite were in one of the forward cabins.

The president then brought the two sets of envoys together introducing them formally to one another. It was a notable scene as the diminutive baron Komura shook hands with the giant Witte.

The greetings of the members of the two special missions were distinctly formal, but not the slightest suggestion of enmity was shown on either side, and neither by word nor action did they indicate any but the utmost cordiality.

Before the luncheon had proceeded far the president rose from his chair, and turning to the assemblage raised his hand for silence. In an instant there was a hush. Bowing to the ministers the president said:

"Gentleman—I propose a toast to which there will be no answer and to which I have the honor to ask you to drink in silence standing. I drink to the welfare and prosperity of the sovereigns and peoples of the joint nations, of which representatives have met on this ship. It is my earnest prayer that in the interest not only of these two great powers but of all civilized mankind that a just and lasting peace may be speedily concluded between them."

The toast was drunk as the president had requested in profound silence but in the hum of conversation which followed nothing was heard but enthusiastic comment on the president's expression. M. Witte and baron Komura both thanked him cordially. At the conclusion of the luncheon, after the president had posed with the foreign envoys for an official photograph, arrangements were made for the president's departure for Sagamore Hill. He took cordial leave of the envoys and their suites, shook hands with his personal friends on board, and to the music of the band and to the roar of the Mayflower's guns went over the side and entered his launch. His flag was hauled down, and a few minutes later at 2.55 he was landed at the J. West Roosevelt pier. There he entered his carriage and was driven to his home.

The Japanese envoys and their suites were next to leave. They shook hands with the Russian plenipotentiaries, expressing to them their personal gratification at the pleasant meeting they had had. As they went over the side the Mayflower saluted them with 19 guns.

As they went aboard the Dolphin the Rising Sun flag of Japan was broken out at the peak of that vessel, and at the same moment the Russian flag was raised over the Mayflower. Shortly after 3 o'clock assistant secretary Peirce took his departure from the Mayflower, going aboard the Galveston which is the convoy of the Mayflower.

DEAL FOR BAYONNE.

Mine Closed Down Pending Negotiations —Staff in Nelson.

Superintendent Teague and his force of men from the Bayonne mine are in the city. Active work at the Bayonne was discontinued after July 30th. About 10 men were employed.

The closing down is not due to any want of confidence in the mine. On the contrary all who have been employed at it maintain that the Bayonne is inferior to no mining property in the province.

It is understood that negotiations are in progress for a transfer of the Bayonne that may result in a complete change in the plans and scale of development work. Pending negotiations orders were given to cease work.

Other properties in the neighborhood of the Bayonne are reported to be showing promise of very high values as they are developed.

BUILDING TO THE WEST

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC BEGINS FROM PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE

PLANS ARE APPROVED AND CONSTRUCTION STARTS AT ONCE

(Special to The Daily News)

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—The Grand Trunk Pacific have called for tenders for 275 miles of line from Portage La Prairie wsstward and the plans for the location of this road westward were approved of by the cabinet today.

From Portage La Prairie the line will almost parallel the line of the Canadian Pacific to a point a little west of McGregor. Then it proceeds in a straight line west to the Assinaboia river. It runs about half way between the Manitoba and North Western and the Canadian Pacific line some distance west of McGregor. It is located between 12 and 14 miles north of Brandon and a little south of Rapid City. There will be a spur line to Brandon.

The Grand Trunk Pacific will cross Arrow river about Crandell, then run west up to Assiniboine river near Crowe. From Crowe it runs due west to township 26, range 13, and crosses the second meridian a little north of Sumner.

All cabinet meetings are now over until August 22nd.

BOYCOTT IS WEAKENING

Shanghai Chinese Chamber of Commerce Desires Its End.

Washington, Aug. 5.—United States consul general Rogers at Shanghai cabled the state department today that the Chinese chamber of commerce at that place deprecates the continuance of the boycott in China against American goods, the merchants saying the boycott is attributable in a large part to the students. Business is being seriously affected.

This despatch is regarded here as very significant. The boycott was first instituted at Shanghai and singularly enough by the very chamber of commerce which is now so anxious to terbinate it. According to reports to the American state department the agitation extended as far south os the Straits Settlements, where the import business is largely controlled by Chinese merchants, and consul general Wilder stated that the Shanghai boycott as proclaimed by the chamber of commerce has been adopted by the Chinese chamber at Singapore.

RUSSO-JAP ALLIANCE

Public Opinion in Russia is Now in Favor of Peace

Thinks That President Roosevelt Has Been Satisfied That the Terms of Peace of Both Nations are Reconcilable

St. Petersburg, Aug. 5.—The tone of the press today is more hopeful of peace than it was yesterday. M. Witte's welcome, coupled with other reports from the United States tending to partially remove some of the Russian illfeeling arising from the belief prevailing here that American sympathies are with Japan. There is noticeably more press talk of a possible Russo-Japanese alliance as the outcome of peace negotiations.

The questions of indemnity and of the control of the island of Sakhalin are still considered to be stumbling blocks in the way of an understanding, though the argument is hopefully reiterated in certain peace quarters that president Roosevelt would not have risked his prestige by a second tender of good offices without having learned the minimum Japanese demands and the maximum Russian concessions, and without pretty clearly seeing his way, by his personal influence, of putting aside whatever differences might exist.

BETTS AND HESPERUS

Visit of Prominent Chicago Merchants to the Phoenix Camp.

(Special to The Daily News)

Phoenix, Aug. 5—A. B. Claney, a prominent lumber merchant of Chicago, together with his brother, H. P. Claney, have just finished an inspection of the Betts and Hesperus mine in which, with other prominent Chicago men, they are heavily interested.

The Betts and Hesperus properties are located about four miles from Phoenix, and have a large showing of low grade copper ore. The company operating, of which A. B. Claney is a director, have been prosecuting development work upon the property for upwards of a year with gratifying results. A compressor plant was installed last fall by the manager, T. H. Rea, and the long tunnel is now in about 600 feet. The property is located close to the Phoenix extension of the Great Northern railway so that shipping facilities are close at hand.

Messrs. Claney, who stopped off here on a visit to the Portland fair, were much gratified at the progress of the work and at the size of the ore bodies being developed. Manager Rea accompanied them to Phoenix where they were taken through the Granby mines and afterwards through the Granby smelter, thus being able to see for themselves what could be done with Boundary's low grade ores.

The extent of the mining operations carried on in the camp and the fullness of the smelting works was a complete revelation to the Chicago men, who are showing their faith in the Boundary by making heavy investments.

KAISER IS BUSY

Trying to Digest Several Hundredweight of State Papers

Berlin, Aug. 5—Several hundredweight of documents are forwarded daily to emperor William from the government departments while he is on vacation. What looked to observers like several tons of these were transported by steam pinnaces from the shore to the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Sasanitz Pomerina yesterday. After his majesty has worked for several hours over them and was descending the gang plank to go on board the empress Augusta Victoria's yacht Iduna, another steam launch plied with despatches came alongside and he returned to his work room to examine them.

The emperor's program for the next five weeks will be largely given up to the paying visits and to attendance on the military exercises and services ending with the autumn manoeuvres.

ROSSLAND SHIPMENTS

BOUNDARY'S THIRD SMELTER

Will Blow in Within the Next 30 Days—Preparations Made

(Special to The Daily News)

Phoenix, Aug. 5—Maurice M. Johnson, a director and the chief consulting engineer of the Dominion Copper company, which recently took over the mines and smelter of the Montreal and Boston Consolidated, left yesterday on a trip to Salt Lake City, near where he has charge also of extensive mining properties. Mr. Johnson who has entire charge of the mining operations of the Dominion Copper company here, spent on this ocasion two or three weeks in the Boundary making preparations for the resumption of active work at both the company's mines in this camp and also at the smelter at Boundary Falls.

He stated that he expected to have the smelter blown in again within 30 days—sometime early in September. In the meantime T. W. Drummond, the resident manager, has a small force of men at work on the Rawhide, Brooklyn and Stemwinder, getting things in shape generally for the resumption of steady shipping.

W. C. Thomas, the new smelter superintendent, after spending several days at Boundary Falls, has also left for Utah on a brief trip. Certain repairs and alterations were deemed necessary at the reduction works before the furnaces were blown in and these are now being made. When operations are resumed a steady run is expected at Boundary's third smelter.

FEVER NOW INCREASING

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT WILL TAKE CHARGE OF DISEASE

TENNESSEE ESTABLISHING A STRICT QUARANTINE

New Orleans, Aug. 5—There was an increase today over yesterday in the amount of fatalities, but the fact that the yellow fever situation is to pass immediately to the control of the federal government, has has such an encouraging effect locally that there is a distinct improvement in recent conditions.

Orders have been telegraphed to the officers in charge of the marine hospital service here to take charge of the situation and their number will be immediately augmented as son as the department is able to arrange for the transferance of the needed staff.

It is generally regretted that the prevalence of fever will render impossible the visit of the president.

It was announced by the city board of health today that among the new cases of fever today is archibshop Chapelle, who returned several days ago from the country. The archbishop was reported to be doing well today.

Yellow fever report to 6 p.m. today: New cases, 30; total to date, 505; deaths today, 8; total deaths 97; new sub-foci, 15; total sub-foci, 91.

Memphis, Aug. 5—Memphis has ordered its doors closed to the outside world beginning Monday by guards who will surround the city, and no person can thereafter enter Memphis unless holding a permit signed by Dr. Jones, president of the board of health, or by secretary Marcus Haase. The permits, it is announced, will be given in special cases only and when it has been shown that an applicant has not been in a fever infected district recently..

IN THE NORTH COUNTRY

Sale of Meadow Creek Claims—John Keen Leasing Sandon Mines

The Gold Bug, Hidden Treasure, and Last Chance claims on Meadow creek have been purchased by J. C. Williams of Rossland, says the Kootenaian. These three claims lie between the claims of the Great Britain group and it is understood that Mr. Williams purchased them for C. Sutherland Clute, who owns that group. A company will be formed to work both groups and development work will commence at once and continue through next winter. Although no price is stated the deal is said to be for a good figure. J. W. Power and Joeph Corton are the vendors of the property. About 150 feet of work is already done on these claims besides open cuts. There are three and one half feet of good ore in ight which will concentrate about four in five, and assays about $155, including $29 in gold. There are two ledges on the property 125 feet apart, both of which are about six feet wide and have the same characterof ore. They can be traced for a distance of two miles. The property is located about seven miles from the railroad, but going in by the present trail it takes 12 miles. As Mr. Williams has been acting as foreman of the Great Britain group for the past six years and was mainly instrumental in putting the deal through, it is supposed the company has acquired a good property.

John Keen of Kaslo was in Sandon last week arranging terms for the leasing of the silver and silver-lead properties of the London Hill at Bear lake and the Hillside in Jackson basin. The terms will be submitted to the directors of the two companies and when accepted work will be commenced at once so as to provide for continuous operation all winter.

The Slocan Star mine is producing zinc at the rate of 300 tons per month. It averages 35 per cent zinc, 45 ounces silver and 3 per cent lead. It goes to the United States Zinc company at Pueblo. In lead the average is about 250 tons per month. The mill is running double shift and about 80 men are employed at the mine. None of the low grade zinc, of which there is an enormous tonnage in sight, has been touched.

INTERVIEWED EN ROUTE.

W. A. Galliher On the Result of the Session—The Lead Duty.

W. A. Galliher, M.P., is journeying leisurely westward on his way from Ottawa He has been spending a few days in Winnipeg, and was interviewed there by a Free Press reporter, as follows:

"It was a peculiar session," said Mr. Galliher in reply to an enquiry about the work of parliament at Ottawa. "Not much legislation was considered, except the autonomy bills, but that one big matter was settled finally."

"And settled well, was it not?"

"I think so," Mr. Galliher replied. "What satisfies the people living in the new provinces themselves, should be satisfactory to the rest of the dominion. And so far as I have heard the bills are very satisfactory to the people of the Northwest."

Asked about his own constituency and any legislation of the past session affecting it, Mr. Galliher said that a very important change affecting the Kootenays was the altering of the lead tariff. 'At the time the tax was first imposed," Mr. Galliher said, "practically no lead was produced in the country and absolutely none was treated. Now conditions have changed, and Canada has risen to be a very considerable producer of lead. The mineral is smelted and refined in Canada, and now the corroding process which prepares it for use as paint, is also carried on in the dominion.

"The tariff was formerly just five per cent, and even this was subject to a 33 1-3 per cent British preference. It has now been raised to 30 per cent.

"This," continued Mr. Galliher, "is a change the lead men of the west have been agitating for for some time. It was practically the only change made in the tariff, pending the investigations of the commission, but it was made to remedy a decidedly anomalous condition."

The effect Mr. Galliher is sure, will be that the production of lead will be rapidly increased throughout the Kootenays and elsewhere in Canada.

"The dominion is now a large producer of lead, the annual output being from thirty to forty thousand tons, and most of this coming from British Columbia. Under the old tariff and at the time of the drop in the price of lead a few years ago, production practically stopped. Then a bounty was granted in 1903 to extend over five years. This had a beneficial effect on the industry. Mines were opened up and smelting plants built. One at Marysville, near Cranbrook, is now in operation. Now the duty, in addition to the bounty, which has yet three years to run, should it is felt, set the lead industry well on its feet. It will give to the Canadian output of lead the Canadian market, which is large and steadily increasing. Shot, sheet and pipe lead and the corroded product can be produced and manufactured here for the home market."

Speaking of general movements in the Kootenay, Mr. Galliher said that in many of the lead mines, as the workings get deeper a high percentage of zinc is found. This has been looked upon heretofore as a bi-product, scarcely abundant enough to make use of. Now, however, a zinc smelting plant is being built near Frank, Alta., to treat what ore is produced in the Kootenay and zinc will soon come to be one of the valuable assets of the coast province.

LIBERALLY INTENDED

Two-Thirds Majority May Overrule Will of the Czar

Deliberations of the Council are Resulting in Some Measure of Freedom to the Masses of the Russians

St. Petersburg, Aug. 6.—After months of preparation and anxious waiting, the project for a new popular representative assembly is now undergoing final revision and its completion and promulgation are thought to be a matter of days only. The emperor hopes to signalize the first birthday of the infant heir apparent by a manifesto summoning the representatives of the people and during the long meeting of the commission at Peterhof last week he has driven the work of revision as fast as it was possible in order to have it finished before August 12th.

The reactionaries at yesterday's session of the commission at Peterhof made strong efforts to secure the rejection or alteration of two important provisions of the project, but the sentiment of the commission, of the emperor and of the grand dukes prevented any step backward. As at previous sessions, the emperor's advisors continued to discuss the needs of the country with remarkable frankness.

The article over which the main conflict arose comprised paragraph 42 of the project, providing that the assembly's rejection of any bill submitted to it by a two-thirds majority is absolutely final with no recourse whatever. M. Stickinsky, a noted reactionist, assailed the paragraph and pointed out its wide limitations to the autocracy of the emperor, and general Trepoff, the assistant minister of the interior, declared that such limitations were imperatively needed by the country and the people. The paragraph was then passed unanimously.

Another debate arose over the provisions for the admission of representatives of the press at sessions of the assembly and the publication of proceeding, but this was also adopted after general Trepoff and grand duke Vladimir had spoken in favor of the fullest publicity.

V., V. & E. RAILROAD

Active Preparations Are Now in Progress —Grading on Vernon Road.

(Special to The Daily News)

Midway, Aug. 5.—It will be some days yet before actual work on the road bed of the V., V. & E. is started but contractors Welsh and Stewart have a large force of men busily employed in clearing a site for boarding houses, warehouses and stables preparatory to grading, and work on the right of way will soon be in full swing.

Grading for the Midway and Vernon has been commenced on a small scale and within a month it is expected that a big construction force will be at work.

Naturally this once peaceful village is now the scene of great activity. Hotels are crowded, new ones are being rushed up, business men are looking up convenient premises, or locating sites upon which to build. For a year or two at least Midway will be a big pay roll town and there are those who believe that this place is destined to be a permanent center of industrial importance. Prospects of a smelter and railroad shops loom in the distance.

CELEBRATE BRITISH DAY

Providence, Aug. 5—The feature of the celebration of British Day by the past and present subjects of Great Britain, was the presence of the Duke of Cornwall's Own. The festivities opened with a parade and the visiting egiment was loudly cheered along the line of march. Afterwards there was a review in which the governor and the mayor took part. There was then merry making in the park and a formal dinner in the evening.

EXHIBITION VISITORS.

Brandon visitors to the Winnipeg exhibition complain very strongly of the lack of hotel accommodation, the inadequate facilities for conveying visitors to and from the fair grounds, and many minor matters. The Nelson fair next month will probably attract the greatest crowd of visitors we have ever had within our gates at any one time, and due provision should be made in advance to comfortably house them. The Tourist association might open a temporary lodging bureau where persons unable to find accommodations at the hotels might be directed to private houses whose owners were willing to take them in. Looking forward to other exhibitions, it will pay the fair directors handsomely to provide thoroughly for the comfort of outsiders, during their short visit here on fair days.

Commenting upon the admitted shortcomings of the recent Winnipeg fair, the Free Press says: "The exhibition of 1905 is now over, and this is the time for taking up the question of how the shortcomings are to be remedied and how the exhibition is to be improved so as to maintain the place it should have as the great annual event of western Canada. It is of the first importance to Winnipeg and the west that the Winnipeg Industrial should fulfil in the best manner possible all the purposes for which it exists. If it fails to do this, it must degenerate and Winnipeg has too much at stake in its success to permit of its degenerating."

What is true of the Winnipeg fair equally applies to the Nelson exhibition, the only fair held in the Kootenays, and embracing a huge territory. Instead, however, of waiting until the fair is over to find out what is wanted, it will be a wiser policy for the fair directors here to provide in advance for the comfort and entertainment of their guests. In a smaller way, Nelson has quite as much at stake in such matters as Winnipeg, and if the fair is to be rapidly built up, and in turn to assist in building up of this city and district, all the details in connection with the exhibition, as well as the fair itself, should be carefully gone into in advance.

As the fair grounds here are situated in the heart of the city, no trouble can arise over conveying visitors to and from the exhibition, but anyone recalling the mixup that resulted last year over the issuing of the list of prize winners, will agree that there should be a prompt change this year in this respect, and a system should be adopted which will prevent the recurrence of last year's trouble.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Louis Hill, vice-president of the Great Northern Railway, made an interesting statement in Spokane last Friday, on his return from a visit to the Boundary country. In the course of an interview on the V., V. & E. route, Mr. Hill stated that the road's western terminus would be at Vancouver, and building from the west would soon be commenced. "The present objective point of the V., V. & E. in the Similkameen country is at or near Princeton," said Mr. Hill. "The grade will be completed and track laid within a year. Our survey parties are now in the field locating a line to the Hope mountains. It is difficult to say when the work will be started from the west, because it is no easy matter to find the right kind of a pass I note that the Canadian Pacific is raising a cry that we are seeking to divert trade from the Similkameen and contiguous country to the coast cities on this side of the line, but this is, of course, incorrect. We will give the country an outlet to Vancouver, where all its trade centers, that does not come to Spokane."

Hereafter it would seem that London in particular is to be known by a new name, and that new name one coined at a recent public health congress. Dr. Des Voeux lectured on the coal smoke abatement, and coined, amid applause, the new word, "smog," which is a compound of smoke and fog.

In New Zealand the Farmers' Union has passed a resolution in favor of paying the opposition leader a salary. The view taken was that the only way to enable an opposition leader to devote the whole of his time to the public work was to draw upon the public purse.

So much depends upon the point of view. To call a person a "lobster," anywhere on the American continent would hardly be taken as a friendly, complimentary, utterance, so that when baron Komura referred to admiral Togo as a "lobster" at a New York dinner party last week, the remark occasioned much surprise and comment. Later, however, Mr. Sato hastened to explain that with the Japanese the lobster is emblematical of good luck, and that in using the term, baron Komura meant that Togo was Japan's good fortune personified.

By an amendment to the Game Protection Act, passed at the last session of the local house, the provision that game lawfully obtained may be offered for sale for five days after the beginning of the close season and might be lawfully in the possession of anyone for private use at any time, was altered by extending the selling provision to 15 days, and adding a clause prohibiting the keeping of game in cold storage. As the law now stands the sportsman may get the full limit of game allowed by law, but he cannot preserve it. He must at once give it away, or allow it to rot, for unless he can store it in a cold room somewhere there is no other means of preserving it. No one wants to see the game destroyed, and all true sportsmen will frown down attempts to break the game law, but the amendment in question needs reconsideration. Private individuals should be allowed the privilege of preserving their game in cold storage if they obey the law in other respects.

The union of Canadian municipalities has closed its annual convention at Winnipeg, and the mayor of Toronto, who was present at the gathering, sums up the results attained by observing on his return home that: "The municipalities now realize that by banding together they can get their rights from Federal and provincial governments and the smaller municipalities also realize that only by union can they protect themselves. The big municipalities might be able to fight for their rights in the courts and before parliament but this is too expensive for the smaller municipalities." A municipal convention is to be held at the coast next month, as the outcome of the Winnipeg gathering, to organize a provincial association. Mayor Urquhart was very enthusiastic over the convention, which although held so far west, was the most representative yet held. Those eastern cities and towns which did not send representatives because of the distance, were represented by proxy by those who did attend. On the other hand there was such a representation from Manitoba and the Territories and such interest created clear out to the coast that the convention easily surpasses previous ones in this respect. The great feature was that apparently all the municipalities of Canada were awake to the necessity of united action if their vested rights were to be considered as well as those of private corporations.

WHAT IS WANTED

Business World Looking for Men Who Can Achieve Results

Three types of ability are in constant demand for the more important positions in the business world—the ability to organize, direct and manage; the ability to create new markets, either by advertising or personal arguments; and the ability to supervise detail work and devise labor and time saving devices. For these abilities employers are willing to pay salaries that formerly would have appeared fabulous. It is the possession or lack of one or all these types which divides men into three great classes. At one extreme are the extraordinary, capable executives, salesmen and detail men; at the other extreme men who possess none of these qualifications, but are fitted to do manual labor or automatically perform routine clerical duties. Between them comes a large class—the mediocre man, too proud to work with his hands. . . . Conscientious, faithful and hard working, but not executive, inventive or brilliant. He lives more luxuriously than ever before, but because of his limitations cannot rise to power or accumulate wealth. He supports himself and family comfortably during life, but lays aside little or nothing for old age and death. If he had lived between the 50' and 80's he could perhaps have become head of some business, a power and influence. But business has progressed so rapidly and become so strenuous that his limitations now prevent his making a place in the business world. The public does not realize the great scarcity and universal demand for men who have calibre to fill responsible positions. The mechanic or bookkeeper of today may be general superintendent or general manager tomorrow. He rises on his merits and employers are watching eagerly for others who can follow in his footsteps. The business world is watching for men who can achieve results.

WARNING TO MOTHERS

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the sumer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do do not give any substitute, but give the old fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nausates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrohea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept for an emergency, as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears This is the most succesful remedy known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. ### GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WINNING BY TELEPHONE

HOW JAPANESE CONQUERED AT BATTLE OF MUKDEN.

SCIENCE PLAYED PROMINENT PART IN STRUGGLE.

That the Japanese victory at Mukden was won by skilful use of the telephone is asserted in the Electrical Review by M. C. Sullivan. He believes that if the results had depended on mere bravery the issue might still hang in the balance, and that it has been through the superior use made by the Japanese of ordinary devices of commercial and social life that they have been so successful at every turn. He writes:

"One of the most remarkable events that has occurred in the world's history is the battle of Mukden, remarkable because it was the mightiest land battle ever fought, and startling because no victory was ever won by such scientific methods. Feats were accomplished by the Japanese never before contemplated in war, and which had been previously declared by experts to be impossible. The success of the victorious forces was almost entirely due to the skillful use of what is today considered to be one of the most ordinary and commonplace among electrical instruments—the telephone.

"Formerly a battle was to a certain extent a haphazard hit-and-miss affair, the careful foresight of the most skilful general failing to take into account the many accidents and incidents which would in almost a moment alter the entire aspect of things and change a successful movement into an utter failure. Not so now, however, as by means of the telephone it is possible for the commanding office to keep in touch with each individual unit of an enormously large army, and thus make the best use of all portions of it at all times, thereby obtaining the greatest possible effect with the least expenditure of energy."

That the battle of Mukden furnishes a particularly good example of such use of the telephone is asserted by Mr. Sullivan. It was the belief of the Russians that the Japanese would not fight in the open. Playing on this belief Oyama used a movement through the hilly country to the south and east, to mask a flanking movement through the plains west of the city. To do this, his forces were disposed in a crescent 90 miles long and divided into five sections, each of which was in telephonic communication with the general staff. The Japanese general thus had his entire army in perfect control and operated it as a huge machine, effecting his purpose and gaining a decisive victory. Says the writer:

"From the subdivisions of each portion of the army telephone lines were run to a portable switchboard, and from the various switchboards trunk lines were run to headquarters several miles to the rear. Thus the parts of each portion of the army were made to correspond with the subscribers of a telephone substation in a large city, the headquarters being analogous to the central station to which all of the subsidiary stations are connected by trunk lines. . . .

"The rapidity with which the Japanese established telephone communication was remarkable. Lines were laid well in advance of the main body of troops, even when the army was advancing by forced marches, and perfect connection was maintained at all times between the different divisions. Wherever conditions permitted, the reels of wire and the instuments were carried in wagons. The line was laid on the ground as rapidly as a horse-drawn vehicle could advance. If the line so laid was to become permanent, a detail followed the wagon at leisure and attached the wire to trees or hastily erected supports.

"For 'flying lines," or lines within the zone of action, which connected the commander's headquarters with the various divisions on the firing line, the detail following the reel wagon merely laid the wire in protected places on the ground where it was least likely to be disturbed. These lines were taken up, moved, or abandoned, as occasion demanded. Where the nature of the country or other conditions rendered the advance of a wagon impossible or inexpedient, the line was advanced by men carrying coils of wire on their shoulders.

"Although military glory has diminished considerably among enlightened people, it has by no means become obsolete, yet it is one of the most hopeful signs of the decadence of the war spirit that the more science is brought into play instead of brute force as a controlling factor on the battlefield, the greater will be the tendency to lessen popular interest in war. As a result, battles will become matters of commonplace scientific routine, for the war spirit of all time past has been born of the hope of glory to be won through personal achievement directly executed, and not through a superior knowledge of scientific methods of indirect killing."

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

New York, Aug. 5—The linen frock is more ubiquitous than ever this season, and one might easily fill columns with descriptions of linen frocks of the elaborate class, Irish lace and all the other handsome heavy laces, hand embroidery of every description, the sheer laces, such as valenciennes, usually in combination with heavy embroidery, braiding, painting—all of these are considered appropriate trimmings—ad some of the most costly frocks turned out by dressmakers this summer have belonged to the linen group.

Much has been said of the coats of broderie Anglaise on linen, the princess robes enriched in almost every square inch by lace, embroidery, stitchery, the lace frocks whose lace identity is almost lost beneath the wealth of trimming in embroidered linen, and the linen frocks whose lace trimming far exceeds in quantity the amount of the linen foundation; but after all it is the simple tub frock of linen that means the geatest good to the greatest number, and, because of its appeal to women, is the most important of linen items in the summer modes.

One hears that the shirt waist frock is out of date, but it is only the name that is past. The severe shirt waist frock has lost prestige, but the simple blouse and skirt costume of linen, pique, madras, that has been incorrectly ranked under the shirt waist head, is still with us.

Pique, in eclipse for a time, has come back to us and found a hearty welcome, for there is no denying that it keeps fresh longer than linen, the latter mussing badly, though its excellent laundry qualities offset this fault to a great extent.

The beautiful mercerized madras stuffs, especially in white, are popular, too, for the types of tub frock under discussion, the frock firm enough and heavy enough to retain some degree of freshness and trimness even after a hard day's wear—a thing impossible to the very sheer stuffs, with their tendency to bedraggled limpness under slight provocation.

These madras materials in the better qualities have a high lustre which is not lost, though toned down to ageeable softness in laundering, and, at their best, they have small effective designs of circle, dot, etc. The large damask patterns are still shown but are not popular this year.

White is always the best choice for a frock that is to undergo frequent tubbing, and despite frequent assertions to the contrary every summer is primarily a "white" summer. No other color is so universally becoming, particularly at the season of the flushed faces. Nothing else looks so cool, nothing launders so well, and appreciating all these points the sensible woman has a majority of her tub frocks in white.

The colored linens are frequently embroidered in white, broderie Anglaise being here, as elsewhere throughout fashions province, particularly favored. Sometimes the handwork is nothing more complicated than the buttonholing of scalloped edges on collar or cuffs. Sometimes it is more elaborate, and is done in the color of the linen even more often than in white bands and motifs of embroidery on white linen. Linen soutache in white, trims some of the pretty linen frocks, or rather assists in trimming them; but these focks are usually of the bolero and skirt persuasion. A costume in blue linen with triple bolero trimmed in white soutache and finished at the back with heavy lace and white cordeleres belongs to this class. Another bolero costume, without the soutache feature, is in soft green linen, with collar revers and cuff of fine white lingerie.

The bolero and linen long coat are both popular for the morning costume of linen, the latter when beautifully tailored, being considered the smarter of the two; but the appearance of the long linen coat after its wearer has been sitting for some time, or has been attempting to hold her skirt in the back, is lamentable, and the hip length coats severely tailored, keep their freshness and contour better than the five-eighths length which is so much in favor.

Princess gowns of all kinds continue to hold high place in fashion's favor and the makers grow more and more clever in the shaping of these difficult robes. One rather spectacular yet by no means loud princess gown which recently aroused the enthusiasm of fashion observers in Paris was of silk mousseline in dull gold tint. It was made of great fulness of mousseline in the skirt and full draped bodice, but absolutely without trimming save for a stole which fitted in yoke fashion around the shoulders and ran down to the hem of the frock in front, narrowing at the waist line and broadening slightly in its progress from belt to hem.

The stole, which clung closely to the lines of the figue, was in superb heavy lace, tinted to match the mousseline and embroidered in dull gold with touches of warm brown. The description sounds complicated and the stole was, of course, a costly work of art, but the long straight lines of the gown, with the concentration of its richness in the one piece of trimming gave the toilet an originality and beauty that made it a sensation.

The draped bodice shares honors with Louis coats, princess robes, empire and directoire modes, and though the blouse has lost prestige, the smooth fitting tight basque of other days with which we have been threatened, has not, so far, materialized save in isolated freakish instances. Soft drapery defining the bust curves, yet with no suggestion of stiffness, is the order of the day, so far as bodices are concerned, and it must be admitted that the idea fares better in the hands of an artist than in those of an ordinary dressmaker.

FRUIT

As a Medicine.

Fruit has been used as a medicine for thousands of years. Every one knows its value as a laxative. The pure juice of apples acts on the kidneys and makes more urinary excretion than any other remedy in the world—but the patient must take half a pint three or four times a day. Apple juice is most curative in kidney disease. The juice of four large oranges taken before each meal and on retiring at night has more curative action on the skin than any remedy ever discovered. Orange juice clears and beautifies the complexion. Again, fruit acts on the bowels and makes them move—acts on the liver and makes more bile flow, which is the natural purgative of the body—and thus cures constipation. An Ottawa physician after years of labor has discovered a process of combining and concentrating the juices of apples, oranges, prunes and figs—and by forcing into the united juices one more atom of bitter from the orange peels, a new fruit is obtained which has all the valuable medicinal qualities of fresh ripe fruit and in a more marked degree. The new and stronger fruit is condensed into powder, made into tablets, with the addition of tonics, and sold under the name of "Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Liver Tablets." It has been proven in hundreds of cases that "Fruit-a-tives" are a positive cure for constipation, biliousness, headaches, kidney and liver diseases and all blood impurities. "Fruit-a-tives" are fruit, concentrated and made stronger than ordinary fruit. For sale at Druggists 50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, or sent on receipt of price by FRUIT-A-TIVES LIMITED, Ottawa.

HINTS TO ADVERTISERS

How Good Copy Can be Made to Have the Right Ring

How can the publisher make advertising pay his advertisers? The first element needed in a solution of this question is good copy. Some convincing argument must be used, some attractive bargain offered, some definite idea conveyed. Without this all that a publisher can do would not be sufficient. He might print a model paper that everyone in his territory reads, and give the copy the most attractive display possible; he might put it in the most conspicuous place in his paper, and yet it would bring no returns were the text meaningless. The first thing to do then is to educate the merchants in the art of advertising. Help them n the preparation of their copy, get thec to study the advertisements of successful merchants in large cities that appear in your exchanges. Retail advertising has had perhaps as much to do with the development of our industries as the protective tariff, and its effect has been to expanded every line of trade and business, and to stimulate advertising where it was not dreamt of before.

Savings bank advertising should not consist of a list of the directors in the local paper, or a card in a church calendar or picnic program. Carry out rather a definite policy of publicity, manfully tell the people who you are, where you are and what you can do for them.

Advertising in the retail field brings inquiries and customers, and the dealer's consumate skill, tact and kindly consideration are the influences which must be brought to bear on the undecided purchaser. He must supply the psychological effect that the printed ad lacks.

Successful orators state that they pick out some one in their audience and address their remarks to him. That is the way to write ads. Select some customer and tell him in imagination, all about the article you have to offer, then write it down quickly—it will be a good ad and have the right ring.

There is constant demand for novel, original and striking ideas in real estate advertising, as many brokers are using the styles of publicity that have been in use for years, for lack of better material, and agents as well as his employee, should strive to be original in their methods if they would reach the front ranks of business.—Printers' Ink.

Synopsis of Regulations for Disposal of Mineral on Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory.

Coal—Coal lands may be purchased at $1 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2000 pounds shall be collected on the gross out put.

Quarts—Persons of eighteen years and over and joint stock companies holding free miner's certificates may obtain entry for a mining location.

A free miner's certificate is granted for one or more years, not exceeding five, upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company, according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet by marking out the same with two legal posts, bearing location notices, one at each end on the line of the lode or vein.

The claim shall be recorded within fifteen days if located within ten miles of a mining recorder's office, one additional day allowed for every additional ten miles or fraction. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made, and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1.00 per acre.

Permission may be granted by the Minister of the Interior to locate claims containing iron and mica, also copper in the Yukon territory, of an area not exceeding 160 acres.

The patent for a mining location shall provide for the payment of a Royalty of 2 1-2 per cent of the sales of the products of the location.

Placer Mining—Manitoba and the N.W.T. excepting the Yukon Territory—Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee, $5; renewable yearly. On the North Saskatchewan River claims are either bar or bench, the former being 100 feet long and extending between high and low water mark. The latter includes bar diggings, but extends back to the base of the hill or bank, but not exceeding 1000 feet. Where steam power is used claims 300 feet wide may be obtained.

Dredging in the rivers of Manitoba and the N.W.T., excepting the Yukon Territory—A free miner may obtain only two leases of five miles each for a term of twenty years renewable in the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged beds or bars of the river below low water mark, and subject to the rights of all persons who have, or may receive entries for bar diggings or bench claims except on the Saskatchewan River where the lessee may dredge to high water mark on each alternate leasehold.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles, but where a person or company has obtained more than one lease one dredge for each fifteen miles or fraction is sufficient. Rental $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of two and a half per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Dredging in the Yukon Territory—Six leases of five miles each may be granted to a free miner for a term of twenty years, also renewable.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the first day of August in the year of the date of the lease.

The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease, and one dredge for each five miles within six years from such date. Rental $100 per mile for the first year and $10 per mile for each subsequent year. Royalty same as placer mining.

Placer Mining in the Yukon Territory—Creek, gulch, river and hill claims shall not exceed 250 feet in length, measured on the base line or general direction of the creek or gulch, the width being from 1000 to 2000 feet. All other placer claims shall be 250 feet square.

Claims are marked by two legal posts, one at each end, bearing notices. Entry must be obtained within ten days, if the claim is within ten miles of a Mining Recorder's office. One extra day is allowed for each additional ten miles or fraction.

The person or company staking a claim must hold a free miner's certificate.

The discoverer of a new mine is entitled to a claim 1000 feet in length, and if the party consists of two, 1500 feet altogether on the output of which no royalty shall be charged, the rest of the party ordinary claims only.

Entry fee $10. Royalty at the rate of two and a half per cent on the value of the gold shipped from the Yukon Territory to be paid to the Comptroller.

No free miner shall receive a grant of more than one mining claim on each separate river, creek or gulch, but the same miner may hold any number of claims by purchase, and free miners may work their claims in partnership by filing notice and paying fee of $2. A claim may be abandoned and another obtained on the same creek, gulch or river, by giving notice and paying a fee.

Work must be done on a claim each year to the value of at least $200.

A certificate that work has been done must be obtained each year; if not, the claim shall be deemed to be abandoned, and open to occupation and entry by a free miner.

The boundaries of a claim may be defined absolutely by having a survey made and publishing notices in the Yukon Official Gazette.

Petroleum—All unappropriated Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and within the Yukon Territory are open to prospecting for petroleum, and the Minister may reserve for an individual or company having machinery on the land to be prospected, an area of 1920 acres for such period as he may decide, the length of which shall not exceed three times the breadth. Should the prospector discover oil in paying quantities, and satisfactorily establish such discovery, an area not exceeding 640 acres, including the oil well, will be sold to the prospector at the rate of $1 an acre, and the remainder of the tract reserved, namely 1280 acres, will be sold at the rate of $3 per acre, subject to royalty at such rate as may be specified by Order in Council.

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.
Dept. Interior, June 30, 1904.

Oxford Chancellor Range

One of the troubles with most wood-burning ranges is the lack of hot water. The usual reservoir is of small capacity and not placed near enough the fire to raise the water to a sufficiently high temperature, and it takes considerable time and fuel to heat the water at all.

The Oxford Chancellor wood-burning range is fitted with a large reservoir of planished copper, which is easily kept clean. This reservoir is placed next the fire-box, and therefore the water heats very quickly and to a high temperature. The reservoir may be detached or attached to the range in five minutes by anyone.

Write us for booklets about the Oxford Chancellor Range, and the address of the nearest dealer who can show it to you. A post card will do.

SPRINGS TO THE FRONT

TRANSFORMATION OF OLD TOWN OF MIDWAY

START HAS BEEN MADE ON THE LINES INTO SIMILKAMEEN

(Special to The Daily News)

Midway, Aug. 5—There is no town in the interior of British Columbia that is attracting so much attention at the present time as Midway. There is no boom here, but a rapid growth is taking place and from what a short time ago was practically a deserted village, has sprung up a lively town which threatens to outrival all neighboring burgs.

It was only a question of time until Midway would be the scene of extensive railway operations but it had been so often announced that work would start on both the V. V. & E. and Midway-Vernon railways that a deaf ear was turned when a short time ago there was a revival of the rumors that work would start on these lines in the course of the next few weeks, and it was not until work actually commenced that the public were convinced that railway construction would take place this year.

As soon as it was known that chief engineer James H. Kennedy and staff had taken offices here, the rush to Midway commenced, the first to come being hotelmen, who have followed construction for years, all looking for hotel sites, making a great rivalry for choice corners, and resulting in the sale of many lots. Later business men from all over the province awoke to the fact that there was destined to be a large town in the interior and recognized that circumstances favored Midway, and came flocking in and secured the most favorable sites to be obtained.

The Eastern Townships bank, which has the reputation of being the first to get in on the ground floor when a town warrants an institution of that kind, was the first to open in Midway and is doing a business that might be looked upon with pardonable envy by many banks in much larger and older established towns.

James Dallas has under construction and will be completed in a few day's, an hotel, and yesterday the foundation was laid for another commodious hostelry for L. A. Manly, formerly of Grand Forks. Wellwood and McPherson are fitting up a building on Seventh street for a similar purpose. The Eholt Trading company have opened a general store and several sites have been sold to outside parties who will as soon as buildings can be erected, engage in the same business.

Furniture is a line that is not being overlooked. F. Hart has a building nearly completed and already has a part of his stock here. D. M. Gully and company of Greenwood have purchased lots and will shortly build. W. H. Jones of Grand Forks, came in last night and is looking over the situation with a view of opening here. Two new restaurants are under construction. P. Burns and company will have their butcher shop completed for occupancy in a few days. McRae Bros. and Smith have announced their intention of commencing a stationery business about the middle of this month and have purchased lots for their building.

Black Bros., who recently purchased the Oakland hotel, are putting up an addition.

G. D. Cunningham has let the contract for a large store buiding on Fifth street. The Thomas Drug Co., Ltd., who have been in business for a long time here, are contemplating building a new store to accommodate their increasing business.

G. A. Evans of Grand Forks, with enterprising zeal has brought in a newspaper plant and today issued the first number of the Midway Star.

J. F. Royer, the husting stage man, is running stages between here and Phoenix and going on to the Similkameen, and will in a few days have a line between here and Curlew. He has first class stock and with a number of new covered rigs is giving good satisfaction. Judging from the way his stages are crowded his business promises to net him a small fortune.

Clearing of right of way has been commenced on the V., V. & E. and the work of erecting warehouses has been started.

Actual construction is taking place on the Midway-Vernon line and it is expected to have at least 25 miles of this line built before the end of the year.

The work of laying the steel on the grade from Curlew to Midway will be started next week. This will occupy about ten days' time.

It is generally believed that the building of the V., V. & E. and the Midway-Vernon railways, will force the C.P.R. to extend its line westward from here and if so, with three railways building and the smelter which will naturally follow, an extensive agricultural and mineral country surrounding it, Midway promises to be the best town in the interior of British Columbia.

FABIO ROMANI—

Romantic Play at Opera House Next Wednesday Evening

"Fabio Romani," that picturesque and romantic play, adapted from the world-wide read novel, "The Vendetta," the most remarkable work in the literary career of the famous authoress, Marie Corelli, will be the attraction at the opera house on Wednesday evening next, and judging from the nuusual interest our theatre goers are taking in its coming production, it will doubtless prove to be one of the mot important events of the season. The dramatization, which is most clever, is in five acts, and the interest commences at the rise of the curtain and continues throughout, such is the strength of the plot and the story which treats of a wife's unfaithfulness and duplicity, and her favor for the false suitor and friend, in which they jointly contrive to have the husband consigned to the horrible fate of being entombed alive. The tremendous eruption of Mt. Vesuvius occurs during the period of his burial, which results in his Providence wrought escape, thus giving him his freedom to execute his vow of vengeance registered during his entombment, and is followed by the shocking death of his erring wife and false friend. There is nothing suggestive of sensationalism during the progress of the play, which is rather a romance of lofty theme and purpose, conveying a most impressive story, which is not without a moral.

RICH FINDS AT FERGUSON

STRIKES BEING MADE DAILY BY NORTHERN PROSPECTORS

JAMES GRANT DESCRIBES VISIT TO THE SILVER CUP

James Grant has returned from a trip to Ferguson. While in the Lardeau he visited the Silver Cup mine, on which a very rich strike has lately been made. Of the operations Mr. Grant said:

"The tunnel is in 1800 feet. At the end of it a crosscut was run about 30 feet when the rich ore was struck. The vein is about two feet wide. A drift was run 50 feet in ore all the way; the ore varies from 18 to 30 inches in width.

"At the end of the drift a raise has been started, at the top of which are two feet of solid ore. This ore has been assayed and contains 30 ounces in silver, $19 in gold and a good percentage of lead.

"The raise is now in 28 feet and has to be continued 240 feet further before it reaches the shaft, which has been sunk 125 feet from the old workings. The company has now approximately 500 feet of stoping ground."

Asked as to the conditions of other mines and prospects generally round Ferguson, Mr. Grant said: "The Silver Cup is doing the most work at present. But rich finds are being made almost every day in the hills. I know most of the prospectors there. I was shown some specimens found on new claims. The owners are not advertising, they're working. They weren't trying to sell me anything. They were telling the truth, I have no doubt. The samples I saw indicate phenomenal richness.

"Yes, they need capital, but if they came here and reported their finds some people would say they were too rich, it couldn't be true. The owners have tried to interest local capital and failed, and they have no means of making their discoveries known outside. So they are working ahead themselves. It is a slower process but it may be just as satisfactory in the end.

"That Lardeau country is rich, the whole of it. People who laugh at the stories of rich strikes up there don't know what they are talking about."

The greatest bargains in dry goods ever offered in Nelson is at the half price sale at Kerr and Company's.

Sitting Around The Camp Fire

of the prospector, the eastern shoe man could hear many things necessary for him to learn if he would make boots to suit the work of these hardy pioneers.

The old prospector, were he to make his own boots, would incorporate into them only the best leather that money would buy. He would make them with a keen eye to service and comfort.

Here is where the "LECKIE BOOT" leads the world. They are made "out west" by a western firm, for western people—made by a firm which understands western conditions.

Look for the trade mark—an all leather boot with the letter L on it—stamped on the sole of every pair.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

W. P. Tierney leaves tomorrow morning for Lethbridge to arrange for his supply of Lethbridge-Galt coal for next winter.

The steamer Kokanee will replace the Moyie on the run to Kootenay Landing this morning and will leave at 5 a.m. instead of at 4:30.

Dr. W. A. Hendryx leaves for the Reliance mine this morning. He will spend several days in making a thorough examination of the mine and mill.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Dawson left last evening for an extended trip to the coast and the Portland exposition. They expect to return about the first of next month.

Oscar Ivey was buried yesterday morning at 7 o'clock from the undertaking parlors of D. J. Robertson and company. Several of his friends attended to pay their last respects.

Miss Creighton, milliner for Kerr and company, has gone to Vancouver on a holiday trip. Before returning home she will take in the Portland fair.

T. H. Rankin wishes to state that there is no truth in, and absolutely no foundation for, the rumor that he is, or has been an applicant for a position as guard in the provincial gaol.

G. O. Buchanan left for Kaslo last night to spend the week end, and will return on Monday. All but a few of the lead bounty claims for the last fiscal year have been forwarded to Ottawa.

John Hampson, manager, and T. G. Procter leave this morning to visit the Alice mine at Creston. Mr. Procter will also visit the chief towns of East Kootenay before returning.

Mayor Houston left last night for Victoria to represent the city at the hearing by the executive council, of the application of the West Kootenay Power and Light company for approval of its plans of construction on Kootenay river.

Baker street was thronged last night, people preferring to do their purchasing in the cool of the evening. The city band gave an enjoyable concert from the bandstand on Ward street, which pleasantly ended an unusually warm day.

Only five members turned out for the R.M.R. shoot at the ranges yesterday afternoon. The heat made good shooting impossible. Seven shots were fired at each range, 200, 500 and 600 yards. The scores were as follows: Sergt. A Carrie, 84; Dr. Hall, 79; G. Gunn, 75; Capt. Forin, 72; E. G. Smyth, 62.

The crew that will represent the Nelson boat club in the annual regatta of the N.P.A.A.O. at Victoria next Friday, Aug. 11, left last night for the coast, via Revelstoke. The crew is composed of D. Manhart, bow; W. H. Smyth, 2nd; N. McIntosh, 3rd; I. G. Robertson, stroke. They will reach Victoria Monday night, and have three days for practice before the regatta. The crew is considered a strong one and will not discredit Nelson. The crews of the coast clubs are unknown quantities.

In St. Paul's Presbyterian church today Mrs Norman McInnes will sing "He Giveth His Beloved Sleep" at the morning service and Mascagni's "Ave Maria" in the evening.

FRUIT FOR BRANDON

W. H. Carter, of Campion and Carter, shipping agents for the Kootenay Fruit Growers' association, is collecting an exhibit of fruit to be sent to the Regina exhibition which wil be held this week. The exhibit will consist of raspberries, cherries, currants, gooseberries, peaches and early apples. While the two latter varieties are not very plentiful yet, enough ripe fruit can be gathered to make an excellent display.

R. M. Palmer, secretary of the provincial bureau of information, and W. J. Brandrith, secretary of the Provincial Fruit Growers' association, are in charge of the exhibits at the Manitoba and territorial fairs. Both have reported very favorably on the fruit from the Nelson district, which is easily the favorite among Northwest purchasers.

The next, and last, mid-summer fair will be held in Indian Head during the following week. Whether or not an exhibit will be sent to it from Nelson will depend upon the amount of ripe fruit available at the time.

TWO NELSONS

Accidental Correspondence Between British Columbia and New Zealand

A mistake, due to the geographical ignorance of the manager of an American hardware firm has resulted in an exchange of tourist association literature between Nelson, B.C. and Nelson, New Zealand.

A firm in Boston received an inquiry from Nelson, New Zealand for a certain article. Not having the article in question the manager meant to return the inquiry with a brief note. But he was in a hurry. He knew of Nelson, B. C., but of no other. The letter found its way on May 25th to the Nelson branch of the Ashdown Hardware company.

The manager, J. Drewe, at once recognized the mistake and resolved to make what amends he could. He wrote a courteous note of explanation, playfully offered the quotations asked for and also sent all the literature on Nelson that he could find, enclosing with it the best views of the city and its surroundings available.

Yesterday he received a letter of acknowledgement, accompanied by two large illustrated pamphlets on Nelson, New Zealand, which greatly resembles its British Columbia namesake except that it is located on the ocean coast instead of an inland lake.
