V. W. & Y. BLOCKED

Railway Commission Will Not Allow Extension to Water Front

Contention of C. P. R. That Time For Building Spur to Connect With Burrard Inlet Had Lapsed Sustained

(Special to The Daily News)

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The Railway Commission has dismissed the V., W. & Y. railway application for approval of a proposed spur crossing the C. P. R. to Burrard Inlet, and B. C. Electric tracks in Vancouver.

The board finds that the company's right to carry through the line expired last month, which means that if the railway is still determined to effect the crossing in question at rail level, it will have to make application under another section of the Railway Act, when it will be for the board to say what protection is required at the streets the line would have to cross within the city limits, if, indeed, the board thinks the road should be built over this route at all.

The V., W. & Y. railway's application to cross the C. P. R.'s tracks at Millside and Brunette spur, at New Westminster, were referred to the board's engineer, who has reported favorably thereon, subject to the installation of semaphore protection at crossings.

The Grand Trunk Pacific, since the approval of its route map from Edmonton to Prince Rupert, has submitted detailed plans to the Railway Commission of the route the line will take through the Yellowhead Pass. This shows that the line over the Rocky mountains at this point can be accomplished on a maximum grade of four tenths of one per cent, which will be far and away the easiest grade on any road leading to the Pacific.

The Grand Trunk Pacific confidently believes that it will be able to carry its line through to Prince Rupert without having to tackle anything heavier than the grade provided for in the pass. The profile accompanying the location plans shows that in order to accomplish this feat, the company has undertaken some heavy cuts and deep fillings to make the magnificent route, Hays has in contemplation.

Replying to Ralph Smith in the house today, Oliver said 2195 Hindus had arrived in British Columbia from the first of the year to the end of October. One hundred had been deported on account of disease and 25 returned to India later.

NOT INTERESTED IN BEEF TRADE.

Premier McBride Turns Down Albertan Government Proposal.

(Special to The Daily News)

Victoria, Nov. 28.—A conference was held today between Hon. W. T. Findlay, minister of agriculture for the province of Alberta, and members of the provincial government in reference to the beef commission, which was organized by the territorial provinces some months ago.

Mr. Findlay endeavored to induce the local authorities to participate in the proceedings of the commission upon the same basis as Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Premier McBride, and other members of the cabinet, could not see their way clear to accept the proposal of the visiting minister. They pointed out that this province was not as deeply interested in the beef trade as the prairie section.

POET WOLLEY'S PHILANTHROPY.

(Special to The Daily News)

Victoria, Nov. 28.—Captain Clive Phillips Wolley, the well known British Columbia litterateur, has just made a unique and remarkably generous offer to the Woman's Auxiliary of the provincial Royal Jubilee hospital. In a letter, accompanying all unsold copies of his poetical works and a considerable cash donation, he says that hereafter he will turn over to the funds of the institution all the money he may earn with his pen by writing poetry. Captain Wolley's offerings of the character are seized upon with avidity by the London publishers and it is believed the hospital will thus reap great pecuniary benefit.

He emptied the loaded car, and then, forgetting what he was doing, went to put the car he had just emptied on the cage, which was, of course, 135 feet below. When the car started to go down he tried to hold it back, and went down with it, being killed instantly. His skull was fractured, and one of his legs was broken.

JUDGESHIP FOR SALE

Victoria, Nov. 28.—(Special)—The Victoria Times tonight editorially says: "Mr. Rufus Pope, ex-M.P., an eastern political derelict, who is apparently striving to enter a western harbor of refuge, has made a serious charge against the dominion government in connection with the appointment to the bench of the supreme court of Canada of a British Columbia judge. The allegation of Mr. Pope, notwithstanding its source and notwithstanding any disposition to regard it with derision, cannot be ignored. We therefore draw the attention of the federal government to it."

BUCKINGHAM RIOT CASE

ALEX. MACLAREN ARRAIGNED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

EIGHT POLICEMEN ON TRIAL ON THE SAME CHARGE.

Buckingham, Que., Nov. 28.—Alexander MacLaren was arraigned this morning on the charge of manslaughter for killing Belanger and Theriault, and with him eight policemen, Frank Kiernan, John Cummings, Roy Ingram, T. J. Thompson, Albert Liot, Peter Ricard, Joseph Delorne and William McManus. All pleaded not guilty.

Mayor Vallies was also arraigned because he failed to read the Riot Act, but the evidence failed to show that he was at the scene of the riot and the crown moved for his discharge, which was granted this afternoon.

The preliminary inquiry into the Buckingham riot came to a sudden end today, the hearing being postponed for a week, when the court will sit at Hull, owing to the non-appearance of witnesses summoned by the crown. Evidence was heard today on the charge of manslaughter against the police At the end of today's hearing judge Choquette remarked that there did not appear to be much of a case against members of the regular police force, who appeared merely to have done their duty. With regard to others it was different.

CARUSO WELL RECEIVED

First Stage Appearance Since Conviction in Police Court.

New York, Nov. 28.—At the Metropolitan opera house tonight Enrico Caruso, the noted Italian tenor, made his first public appearance since his recent conviction in a police court on the charge of annoying women in Central Park. The opera was "La Boheme" and Caruso sang "Rodolphe" to madame Sembrich's "Mimi." The audience which was a brilliant one, gave the tenor a cordial reception, which was accepted by his friends as a public vindication.

There had been much speculation as to how the singer would be received, and some fear of a hostile demonstration. To quell the latter, it developed, the house had been picketed with police, the intervention of whom, however, was not required.

(Special to The Daily News)

Toronto, Nov. 28.—Magistrate Denison's statement in the case against S. M. Hays, for not providing third class carriages at the penny mile rate, to be taken to the court of appeal, was read in court today. The magistrate found him guilty and left it to the court to say whether he had jurisdiction to try the case, as defendant objected, or whether he took an erroneous view of it. As Mr. Curry, for the crown, objected to one clause, saying that the company never provided third class carriages on their trains, this being denied by the company, the case was left over till tomorrow.

GILLETTE ON THE STAND

TELLS HOW GRACE BROWN CAME TO HER END.

CLOSING SCENE IN NOTORIOUS MURDER TRIAL.

Herkimer, N.Y., Nov. 28.—With heavy head and unsteady gait and with eyes that were bleared and weary, Chester E. Gillette presented a spectacle of physical and mental exhaustion when he stepped from the witness stand at 6 o'clock tonight. Gillette today went through one of the most trying ordeals that a witness ever experienced. Surrounded by an almost inexhaustible mass of circumstantial evidence that seemed to point to his guilt, he took the stand in his own behalf, and for nearly seven hours, strove to bear up under the strain of cross examination and tell the jury how Grace Brown died. Having assured his lawyers that he was equal to the strain, Gillette was called as the first witness in his own behalf. His step was steady, his nerves were firm and his answers quick as in response to questions from his own senior counsel, A. M. Mills, he declared that Grace Brown stood up in the boat and threw herself into the lake. But his brief direct examination was followed by a searching cross-questioning that was not completed, when at 6 o'clock, judge Davendorf adjourned court until Friday.

District attorney Ward spent the afternoon in trying to establish by Gillette's own words, that there was a motive in the crime alleged. Gillette swore positively that he and Miss Brown had never spoken of marriage and declared that in none of the letters she had written him, did he see evidence that the girl wanted to marry him. Then he testified that he left Cortland to marry her. He let himself into several embarrassing tangles by answers he gave but responded with emphasis, "No," when the district attorney, just before the session closed, leaped from the scenes of his love-making in Cortland to Big Moose lake, and asked:

"Didn't you kill that girl."

TITLE STILL IN DISPUTE

Heavyweight Championship Contest Last Night Resulted in Draw

Tommy Burns Made the Fighting all the Way—Referee Jeffries Kept Busy Breaking Clinches

Los Angeles, Nov. 28.—"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien and Tommy Burns, of Los Angeles, tonight fought 20 terrific rounds before the Pacific Athletic club to a draw. When the end came it found the two men in the centre of the ring engaged in a terrible struggle.

The whole upper part of their bodies was covered with blood. When Jeffries held up the gloves of both fighters, a should of disapproval went up from the Burns' admirers, who believed their man had won. Burns, who fought like a bulldog from beginning to end, was always on the aggressive, crowding his opponent to the ropes and frequently rushing him about the ring almost in flight. The fighting practically from the first round to the last was terrific. Burns undoubtedly landed many more blows than his opponent and they seemed to show greater force. O'Brien's footwork, however, was fast and clever and his ducking saved him time and again from severe punishment.

Round 1—O'Brien clinched after a left lead and protested when Burns kept both hands working during the clinch. O'Brien staggered Burns with a left hook and they clinched; O'Brien rushed with a left hook which was blocked. Burns was bleeding from the nose when the round closed with little advantage to either man.

Round 2—Burns landed a left to the ribs and then clinched, O'Brien protesting as Jeffries separated them. Jeff separated another clinch with difficulty. O'Brien put two lefts to the jaw and Burns was hissed for attempting to hit in a clinch. Jack put a hard left to the stomach, and landed two stiff uppercuts and a left and right to the head. Burns holding on fast; Burns seems to have lost his head and went into a clinch. The round was O'Brien's.

Round 4—Burns was hissed for hitting in a clinch. He attempted to reach Jack's ear. O'Brien put right to shoulder. Burns ducked straight left and clinched; when separated Burns put a hook to the jaw. O'Brien cleverly escaped from a corner. They exchange right and left hooks. Jack missed a stiff uppercut as the gong sounds.

Round 5—Burns put right to body; Burns took a left in stomach. O'Brien missed a right swing but clinched. He danced away, but returned to put a straight right to the jaw. O'Brien took a stiff left to the mouth that brought the blood. Burns chased O'Brien around the ring and they clinch. Burns puts right and left to the face. Burns puts three straight right to the jaw, and O'Brien again landed as the gong sounded.

Round 6—Burns, with head down and eyes eager, continued to follow his man round the ring. O'Brien missed a straight left and clinched. Burns taunted O'Brien, asking him to stand and fight. O'Brien trotted circles around his opponent, occasionally leading. The crowd displayed dissatisfaction and urged O'Brien to fight. Burns planted his left three times to the head as the gong sounded.

Round 7—Burns attacked savagely, landing futile rights and lefts and using his hands in clinches. O'Brien landed hard left and right hooks. Burns again invited O'Brien to fight. He landed a straight left to the chest and right to the neck and then clinched. Burns landed several light kidney blows, but they were hissed. Jack landed left hook to jaw. O'Brien appeared to be worried.

Round 8—Burns put left to head and right to jaw; it almost swept O'Brien off his feet. Burns chased him round the ring, attempting to win in a rush. O'Brien put a short right jab to the chest; they clinch amid prolonged hisses. O'Brien put right uppercut to chin. O'Brien spat blood during this round and kept away as long as he could. Burns finally stood still and waited for him to come into range. Burns was always the aggressor, and O'Brien is making a poor showing.

Round 9—Burns met O'Brien in the latter's corner with savage rights to the jaw and they clinched; O'Brien kept away. They rush into another clinch and Jeffries broke them with difficulty. Burns, with a right for the ribs, was short, but immediately afterwards landed a stiff left to the head. He landed a stiff right on O'Brien's face which was covered with blood. Burns was trying to land a knockout. O'Brien put a right hook to the chin and Burns, after blocking a right uppercut, received two light hooks on the left side of head. The round was his. O'Brien seemed somewhat distressed when the bell rang, and his eye was badly cut.

Round 10—Burns continued his rushing tactics and O'Brien slipped in vicious swings. Burns hit hard in a clinch. They exchange straight lefts to the fact. O'Brien held in a clinch, with Burns landing on his back. O'Brien seemed to be leaning groggily on Burns' shoulder; he straightened Burns with a right uppercut, and took a hard right on the kidneys. O'Brien shook Burns with two straight lefts at long range, using his well known lead. He repeated the blow as the gong sounded.

Round 11—Burns met O'Brien in a clinch, using his hands. Burns took a straight left to face. Burns continued to rush, O'Brien Klanding two straight lefts and a stiff left to the stomach. O'Brien failed to escape two left swings. They clinched, and then O'Brien danced away, but closed in again after Burns had landed a left hook to the face. O'Brien landed a stiff upper cut as they clinched and put a straight left to the face as they separate. Burns ducked a left lead and O'Brien's visage was ghastly to see. Jeffries' white shirt was blood-stained owing to his interference in the clinches.

Round 12.—Burns pursued O'Brien and landed on he face. He requested O'Brien to break after a clinch. O'Brien stuck his elbow in Burns' face as they clinched. Burns' glove was locked under O'Brien's arm and again he protested. Buns landed a left to ribs and a right to the face. Burns hooked a light left to the heart. Burn's ducked a left and chased his man around the ring. O'Brien rallied, landing two upper cuts to chin. Burns did most of the landing, as they separated Burns swung O'Brien from him with apparent disgust.

Round 13.—O'Brien evaded Burns and suffered punishment in a clinch. Jeffries used all his strength to break them. Then they closed again after exchanging ineffectual lefts. O'Brien took two damaging lefts that drew blood from mouth and eyes. He appeared unwilling to come to close quarters and used his right to uppercut with advantage in rapid succession. Burns put a right to the ear and O'Brien countered as they clinched. Burns slipped over a straight left and the round ended with little advantage to either man.

Round 14.—Burns began with a rush and when released bored in, landing hard right hook to head and then several body blows. Burns slipped under lead and assaulted O'Brien's kidneys. O'Brien took a clean left to the chin before they clinched. Burns led with left hook to stomach. They exchanged right overhand hooks. Burns landed a left hook. Burns slipped going almost to the floor while pursuing O'Brien. O'Brien put a straight left to the mouth and followed with a tap to head. O'Brien sent left to Burns' face. Burns' left eye was closing. The crowd hissed as the men hugged in a clinch.

Round 16.—They met in a clinch into which O'Brien was pushed by his seconds. O'Brien landed a straight left to the face. Burns' seconds protested against O'Brien's holding Burns' right glove. O'Brien put a stiff right to the ear as the going rang. The round was in O'Brien's favor.

PEASANTS ARE STARVING

THOUSANDS LIVING ON PIG WEED AND HAY IN RUSSIA.

DISBURSEMENT OF RELIEF ACCOMPANIED BY FRAUDS.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 28.—Famine continues in the government of Kazan, Simbirsk, Samara, Saratov, and in other Volga government conditions are declared, by those who have visited the sections, to be little, if at all less severe than those of the great famine of 1891, which enlisted the sympathy of the entire world. Thousands of peasants are starving, living on pig weed and hay. Four peasants were killed yesterday while attempting to carry off part of a public store of grain.

Gross irregularities in the disbursement of the government measures of relief have been disclosed, and assistant secretary of the interior Gurke has become involved in the resultant scandal.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 26.—Announcement was made today that the wheat crop, especially in the Black Sea and southeastern districts is the smallest for the past thirty-four years. Seventy-one provinces show the yield to be 250,983,333 bushels, and rye 638,250,000 bushels below the average. Great destitution prevails in the Balkan states and in several of the interior provinces the peasants have taken to their beds for days at a time to weaken the pangs of hunger and are mixing their scanty supply of grain with pigweed to make it more filling for bread. Odessa, always a busy grain port, is deserted as no wheat or crops of any kind were sown in the region of the Dneiper this season owing to the disturbed state of the country. There is no shipping from the ports in the Sea of Azov and thousands of persons are leaving Tanganrog and Bostov for the Crimea and south as death from starvation stares them in the face in their own provinces.

THREE HUNDRED KILLED

DISASTROUS RESULT OF ROBURIT FACTORY EXPLOSION.

WORK OF RESCUING INJURED CARRIED ON IN GREAT DANGER.

Dortmund, Germany, Nov. 29.—The Roburit factory situated close to the town of Annen, south of here, blew up yesterday and was wiped from the face of the earth. It is estimated that 300 persons were killed or wounded. Up to half past one this morning eight bodies had been recovered and eighty of the severely wounded persons had been conveyed to hospitals. The work of rescue now going on is attended with greatest danger from the possibility of another explosion. The accident occurred at about half after eight o'clock. There were two tremendous detonations, heard throughout the entire surrounding industrial region, which is thickly settled. The inhabitants of the neighborhood fled in panic fearing further explosions. The town of Annen is nothing more than a heap of ruins. Houses were shattered right and left and no house escaped injury.

Roburit is an explosive of high powder, ammonia, sulphur and other ingredients. It is not easily exploded by a blow and it can be burned with safety in the open air. Its powers are second to dynamite.

STEAL HIGH GRADE ORE

SYSTEMATIC THIEVING FROM THE GOLDFIELD MINES

OPERATORS PRACTICALLY UNABLE TO DO ANYTHING

Goldfield, Nevada, Nov. 28.—A system of thieving at present exists at the Goldfield mines unparalleled in the history of mining. The sufferers are the mine owners and the men who are growing rich at their expense are their employees who are stealing the highest grade ore in enormous quantities. Recently a whole wagon load of ore was stolen from a storehouse at the top of a mine shaft. In Goldfield men known as "highgraders" buy the ore but though the mine owners know them no attempt is made at their apprehension. They see the employees trafficking with them and know that when a big streak is found the miners load their pockets with the best ore in sight and it is estimated that $150,000 a week is made by the miners through these stealings. The owners are practically helpless in the mater as if one man is discharged all will quit and under present existing circumstances this would mean a calamity. All the Goldfield mines are at present worked by men who have them leased until the first of January next, giving the owners a percentage of the gold taken out, consequently each and everyone of them is working wildly to get out all the gold possible. As millions of dollars worth of ore is being weekly removed, the lessees of the mines cannot afford to have their men quit under such conditions, as a week's lay-off would mean large fortunes. Far better, they say to let the miners loot part of this fortune than to lose all of it—for after January 1st the owners step in and take what is left. So when the miners come out of the shaft with bulgy clothing looks are cast at them but nothing is said.

NEARING A SETTLEMENT

Likely Greenwood Strike Will be Called Off Tomorrow

Friendly Conferences Have Taken Place and Union Now Considering Company's Proposed Agreement

(Special to The Daily News)

Greenwood, Nov 28.—The conference between the B. C. Copper Co. and the committee representing their employees closed at 4 p.m. today, after over two hours' deliberations.

The company placed before the committee full details of an agreement they were willing to enter into. These details are being considered at a special meeting of the union tonight.

The company decline to make public the proposed agreement until after it is accepted by the men. The conference was in every respect favorable to an early settlement and the result of tonight's meeting is eagerly awaited.

Later.—The union did not come to a decision tonight as to whether or not the terms of settlement offered by the company should be accepted. There was a long discussion and, it is understood, the sentiment of the union, on the whole, was distinctly favorable to most of the details of the proposed agreement.

Tomorrow the representatives of the employees will meet the company's officials again to discuss certain features of the agreement and in the evening a further meeting of the union will be held at which it is fully anticipated that final action will be taken looking to the immediate settlement of the strike and the resumption of operations at the smelter and mines now idle.

BRAKEMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Thrown From Moving Train by Hoboes and Picked up Unconscious

Medicine Hat, Nov. 28—Joe Miller, rear brakeman for conductor Hollinhead, nearly lost his life down the line near Piapot on Sunday night, when he was thrown from the moving train by a couple of hoboes, whom he had discovered stealing a ride. One of the tramps struck him a violent blow in the face and he fell from the car. Fortunately he reeled clear of the track. He was not missed at the time by the rest of the crew, but luckily engineer J. G. Miller coming west on No 97 about 4 o'clock in the morning, discovered him lying in the ditch in an unconscious condition. He was brought to the Medicine Hat hospital and word sent down the line appraising conductor Hollinhead of the circumstances. Miller was suffering from a slight concussion of the brain, but is now on the mend and was able to tell his story yesterday. It was thought all along that his fall was the result of an accident. A fatality would undoubtedly have occurred had the rescue been delayed for a few hours longer. Officers east of here are keeping a sharp lookout for the hoboes, but it is not known where they left the train.

The Salvation army brought out no less than 15,000, for whom they have secured positions and homes in advance, and next year the immigration branch of this institution expects to bring to Canada 25,000 settlers and get them positions and homes which will be secured for them by its officers during the coming winter.

CONFLICTING ARGUMENTS

Commenting upon the Vancouver News-Advertiser's standing argument in favor of the continuance in office of the McBride-Socialist government, that the province was enjoying a period of prosperity, we pointed out that this paper did not see in the prosperity so general throughout the dominion any argument in favor of the Laurier administration. But a more striking conflict in the arguments of McBride-Socialist apologists is to be found in their attitude on expenditures.

A constant whine goes up from premier McBride and his apologists that the development of the province necessitates increased expenditures and that if the federal government will not largely increase the subsidies paid to this province taxation must be enormously increased or the province remain undeveloped. At the same time as these confessions of incapacity are being made we find the press apologists for the McBride-Socialist government denouncing the dominion government for its expenditures. It is a favorite argument of these organs to point to the expenditures prior to 1896 and to those of today and to declare that the liberal government is extravagant. Apparently the British Columbia conservatives, so far as they are supporters of the McBride-Socialist government, would have the federal expenditures maintained at the total that sufficed prior to 1896, when the liberals took office, although they are quite prepared to denounce the liberal government for not increasing its expenditures in British Columbia. But these purblind critics do not see, or, perhaps will not see, that under liberal administration whilst expenditures have increased, revenues have increased to an even greater extent, and that in comparison to the expenditures of the late conservative government the liberal government's expenditures are really less, that is to say that the cost of government per capita has been decereased under liberal administration. For years before the liberals took office a deficit was an annual event and had come to be regarded as chronic, in fact, one very prominent conservative statesman declared that it would be impossible to properly administer the affairs of a growing country like Canada and show a surplus of revenue over expenditures. Yet after the liberal government had been in office a full year we find a most remarkable change taking place, the era of deficits is ended, vastly more money is spent upon the development of the country and concurrently the per capita taxation is reduced. That is to say the liberal government has accomplished what the tories at Ottawa in years prior to 1896 said was impossible and what tories in British Columbia, or rather a certain element of them, today are loudly proclaiming to be impossible in this province. And yet it is the experience of every live business man that under judicious management an enterprise that has been losing money can be made to pay even with large increased expenditures for improvements and a reduction in the selling price of the goods produced, providing that there is a really legitimate field for the enterprise. Roughly speaking, this is the position of affairs in British Columbia. We have splendid raw material to work upon, resources of the most varied and valuable nature. With intelligent direction and enterprise based upon confidence in the potentialities of the province, no man who knows anything of British Columbia will seriously question the statement that development can be made to pay handsomely and that a strong, businesslike administration would quickly place this province in such a position as to make it independent of all outside assistance for its expenses of operation and that without increasing taxation but rather decreasing it gradually as the revenues run ahead of expenditures.

EDITORIAL NOTES

We are very pleased to note that the Victoria Times has taken up the charge made by Rufus Pope, ex-M.P., at the meeting he addressed here last Monday evening. It will be remembered that Mr. Pope stated that he had been credibly informed that the vacant supreme court judgeship in this province was being offered for sale for $7000. The charge is such a monstrous one that it should be carefully investigated, no matter how little confidence should be placed in any statement emanating from such a source. The charge was made and emphasized in the presence of two members of the legal fraternity who, doubtless, will be only too anxious to assist the department of justice in any investigation that may be held. The local lawyers present on the platform at the time the charge was made allowed it to pass unchallenged and to that extent may be said to have endorsed it, but we hesitate to believe that either Mr. R. S. Lennie or Mr. W. A. Macdonald, K. C., would endorse such a charge unless they had positive evidence that it was well founded and if they are in possession of this evidence they are in duty bound to acquaint the minister of justice with the facts.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson, minister of railways and canals, has already effected many important reforms in the operation of the Intercolonial railway, chief among which, or rather as a result of them, is the establishment of something like equilibrium between revenues and operating expenses. He is now about to introduce a pension system, which should prove very acceptable to the employees of the road and at the same time enable the government to still further improve the efficiency of the operating staff. Mr. Emmerson will introduce a pension bill this session of parliament. By this plan he will be able to dispense with the services of quite a number of the older employees, who can be replaced by a smaller number of young men. Many of the old employes have been on the Intercolonial since it started, and out of the small salaries they received have never been able to make any adequate provision for old age.

The Toronto News welcomes the idea of Clifford Sifton's return to the federal cabinet and hopes to see him placed at the head of the department of trade and commerce, a position at present occupied by Sir Richard Cartwright, who is now almost too advanced in years to give that active attention to the department its importance demands. The Toronto News says the need is for a man thoroughly alive to the astonishing progress of the country, a man unhampered by ideals which time has shown to be impossible, a man of enthusiasm and administrative genius "There is no reason why the department of trade and commerce should not do as much for the development of the country as the department of the interior did under Mr. Sifton. We do not think that Sir Richard should leave the cabinet, but we do think that he might be given duties less onerous, and that such a lightening of responsibility might be grateful to him. Certainly a new, wide-awake, progressive policy in the department of trade and commerce would be advantageous to the country."

CONTEST IN OKANAGAN.

Dr. K. C. Macdonald Recognized as a Powerful Opponent to Cope With

The Okanagan, commenting upon the nomination of Dr. K. C. Macdonald, as the liberal candidate in the Okanagan electoral district, says:

Doubtless the doctor's opponent will be the present member, Price Ellison. Mr. Ellison has a large number of personal friends throughout the Okanagan who have also supported him politically in the past. But even among his personal friends there are many who cannot see their way clear to vote for him this time. For this, Mr. Ellison cannot blame them. It is a hard pill for most self respecting conservatives to lend their support, directly or indirectly, to the McBride-Socialist government. No one knows this better than Mr. Ellison does in his own heart. He has not been backward in saying that it was a matter of great humiliation to him that a conservative government was maintained in power by the socialists and that he would prefer to see them (the government) resign. But when it comes right down to it, Mr. Ellison shows pitiable weakness, bends his back to the McBride whip (we would not call it conservative) and practically makes himself responsible for the government's many sins of commission and omission.

Doubtless Mr. Ellison had to swallow a very big lump of pride to bring himself to it, but he has succeeded nevertheless in the distasteful task, as is abundantly proven by his paper, the Vernon News this week. The leading article in that paper yesterday shows that Mr. Ellison has once more made his peace with the McBride-Socialist-Anderson despoilers; has forgotten apparently all about the way the government robbed the Okanagan country of the Midway & Vernon railway; has overlooked the slights heaped upon him by Mr. McBride and even other members of the government and is now ready to sing their praise.

Mr. Ellison has been looked upon by some as a man of much independence and firmness of character but whatever reason there might have been in the past for this belief is completely dispelled now. It is a great disappointment to many conservatives as well as to men of no party who have thought that Mr. Ellison would not be a candidate in support of the government, and if he stood again it would be as an independent. All the means Mr. McBride has taken to bring Mr. Ellison to his knees are not known, but this much is known that premier McBride has proved himself the master and Mr. Ellison had to submit or step aside. But the electors will avenge Mr. Ellison, though they slay him (politically) to do it!

COUNTY COURT.

Judgment Reserved in Damage Cases Against the C. P. R.

At the county court sittings yesterday before his honor judge Forin, the trial of the consolidated damage cases of McDaniel vs. C. P. R. was concluded from the previous day and judgment was reserved.

Jacob Gasanici vs. C. P. R. was then taken up. The plaintiff claimed damages for the killing of a cow by the defendant's train. S. S. Taylor, K. C., appeared for the plaintiff and W. A. Macdonald, K. C., for the company. After hearing the evidence for both parties the learned judge reserved judgment and the court adjourned for lunch.

All the afternoon was taken up in hearing the case of William Stubbs, rancher, of this city, against the Yale-Kootenay Ice, Fruit, Feed & Poultry Co. The plaintiff claims some $300 for remuneration for expert work and a report on the company's property at Mirror lake near Kaslo, and for damages for failure to employ, and in the alternative $160 commission on the purchase of 10,000 fruit trees. The defendants deny all liability. S. S. Taylor, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff, and W. A. Macdonald, K.C., for the company. The plaintiff's case had just got well started when the court adjourned at 5.10 p.m. until 10 a.m. today.

HOW GRACE BROWN DIED

GILLETTE SAYS SHE JUMPED OUT OF THE BOAT

WANTED TO SAVE JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER'S SOUL.

Herkimer, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Chester Gillette testified this afternoon that Grace Brown jumped overboard. He was sitting in the stern of the boat and when he got up the boat upset. This was his explanation of the girl's death.

London, Nov. 28.—While performing a delicate operation at Cheltenham last night, Dr. C. B. Ferguson, expert of the British Medical association dropped dead.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 28.—Rev. William Howe, the oldest Baptist clergyman in America, died at his home here today. Dr. Howe had not been ill. He was found lifeless in his bed by a relative. Dr. Howe had long been a unique figure in the Baptist denomination.

Madrid, Nov. 28.—The cabinet has resigned. The retiring cabinet was formed by field marshall Topez Dominguez July 4, 1906, succeeding the cabinet of senor Moret y Pendergast.

The principal legislation to which the cabinet was committed was the law of association and the chamber of deputies yesterday, by a vote of 161 to 4 votes, decided to devote half the session to the discussion of the law of associations and the other half to the budget. The conservatives abstained from voting.

King Alfonso on November 16 was hastily called to Madrid from a hunting expedition and it was announced at the time it was believed that a cabinet crisis was impending. It was explained as owing to war minister de Luque resisting the prtences of generals Weyler and Polivieja to the field marshalship made vacant by the death of count de Chester. Weyler and Polivieja, it was added, based their claims on their "victories in Cuba and the Philippine islands."

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—The Lighthouse hotel, three-story structure at the corner of Mark street, utilized at a Salvation Army barracks, was damaged by fire today, when probably 500 homeless men were lodged in it. Six lost their lives and probably 35 were injured, about half that number being seriously hurt, some other not being expected to live. Four were burned to death and two died from injuries received in jumping from the upper windows. Six cases of those who jumped are lying unconscious at the hospital and are not expected to recover.

The fire broke out on the third floor and swept through the building rapidly. Men fought so wildly at the windows to secure the lifelines that the ropes were lost. Many of them were caught in nets, but some who had jumped before the nets were stretched were badly hurt. The cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

Wiarton, Ont., Nov. 28.—It is now believed that the coasting steamer J. H. Jones, owner by the Crawford Tug company of this town, foundered off Cape Crocker last Thursday and that all hands, 12 men, perished. Part of a cabin, lifeboat and two bodies were found by Indians on the north shore of Christian island. In addition to a crew of 12 men the boat is known to have carried 13 passengers as follows:

T. J. Donaldson, Owen Sound; Alex. Lyons and mother; — Fox, George and Frank Felton, Mr. W. Viatesson, Lewis Allen, J. M. Wagg, of Tenby Bay; D. McIver of Providence Bay and three unknown men.

The crew consisted of captain J. W. Crawford, mate E. Leonard, Welman W. Ross and George McEwen, engineers Chas. W. Shaw and W. S. Dale, firemen T. L. Simmonds and L. Wackittie, deckhands James Tilley, George Smith, and cooks Frank Jackson and W. Clark, who all belonged to Wiarton. The steamer ran from Owen Sound to Manatoulin island ports and was a staunch vessel.

New York, Nov. 28.—Charged with threatening to kill John D. Rockefeller unless he paid her $1,000,000, Mrs. Rose Delina Beavois Handfield, 40 years old, was arrested today on a warrant issued by a police magistrate. At the district attorney's office Mrs. Handfield said her husband had been in the oil business but that he had been ruined by the Standard Oil company.

Mrs. Handfield is charged with having made the demand on Mr. Rockefeller's secretary Jast Friday. It is stated that she forced her way into his office on Broadway and declared she wanted $1,000,000, and avowed if she did not get it forthwith she would kill Mr. Rockefgeller and burn down the building where the company's offices were located. It is charged that she displayed a revolver.

Some one in the Standard Oil company's office made out a check for $1,000,000 drawn to Mrs. Handfield's order and payable at a trust company. She accepted it but was followed to the offices of the trust company. Alfred M. Barrett, the cashier of the trust company had been notified not to pay the check, and when Mrs. Handfield presented the check said that the trust company did not have that amount of money handy at the time. He asked her to return on Wednesday and she agreed to do so.

The district attorney's office was notified and a warrant for her arrest was issued by a magistrate. Today when she appeared at the Guardian Trust company's offices she was taken before the district attorney and questioned.

Alfred M. Barrett, cashier of the trust company, was present. The district attorney would not permit Mrs. Handfield to talk to anyone until after her examination had been completed.

When arraigned in Holly police court Mrs. Handfield said she had gone to Mrs. Rockefeller's office with the purpose of saving his sould, or if he refused to have his soul saved, to save it for him by blood atonement. She said she was a "saint of the sun, moon and water," and that she controlled them all.

Herman Handfield, foreman of a trunk factory, the woman's husband, said his wife had been acting in a peculiar manner for some time. He declared that he had not been ruined by the Standard Oil company nor had he ever dealt in their securities. Mrs. Handfield was sent to Bellevue hospital for examination as to her mental condition.

HINTS TO RETAILERS

This is the fattest season of all the glad year 1906. You are coming into the holiday season with a rush and there will be much good money spent in buying presents for mother, father and the children, for the sweetheart and the beaux. If you are in the grocery line, wouldn't it be well to start out early and make arrangements for the Christmas trade. If in dry goods, push linens, napery and table cloths, sell knives and forks. Get busy with your pencils planning for the things you are going to do.

The nights are getting mighty frosty and the coming of that chilly feeling in the midnight hour suggests to mother something in the nature of warmer blankets, more of them, warmer clothing for father and the boys, and heavy winter shoes. Push these things. When you do you are doing timely advertising and timely advertising is like a three-bagger hot off the bat. It counts.

These are not small space days. The retailer should do more advertising from now until the Christmas' toll has been garnered than at any time this year. It is the big money-spending and the live ones will win the trade.

There is just one thing that you cannot afford to neglect. Of course this is not especial for this season's advertising but for all times. It is the cardinal principle that we want to rap home to you once again.

The priceless ad. is wasted money.

Therefore you must use prices freely to bring the people who know the value of goods and the value of money to your store.

Your stocks should be the most appetizing if you are in the food line, and complete and nicely assorted if in the clothing or dry goods lines.

Talk about these things. Talk about the fine opportunity for selections. Advance the purity of your groceries. Dwell on the excellence of your shoes, the foot-form and the ability to fit. Speak of the excellent opportunities for securing the winter's supply of clothing.

And if you advertise generously, properly and with plenty of prices your harvest will be fat.

THE PRINGLE CO.

Will Re-open at the Opera House Tonight in "A Fatal Wedding."

The Pringle company, which is much stronger than when last seen here, will reopen tonight in a five-act comedy-drama entitled "A Fatal Wedding." This is one of the strongest plays of its kind in the company's repertoire. It is full of stong situations. Pathos and comedy are so evenly balanced in the unfolding of the plot that the attention of the audience is held throughout. On Friday evening the four-act comedy "Frenzied Finance" will be the offering. This play is founded on the exposures made by the eminent Bostonian, Thos. W. Lawson, and is similar in many respects to "The Pit," as played by Wilton Lackaye, except that the comedy element runs much higher in "Frenzied Finance." This play has never before been seen in the west and the right to play it is owned exclusively by the Pringle company. Mr. Pringle was recently quite fortunate in securing the services of the clever child-actress Little Hazel Winn. On Saturday evening she will be seen in her best part, that of Little Lord Fauntleroy in the play of the same name. This play has not been seen in the west for 15 years, consequently it will be something new to theater goers of Nelson.

The bill for the Saturday Matinee will be announced later.

IN TIME OF PEACE

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation ond the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared for a successful combat with the first cold you take? A cold can be cured more quicky when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by all druggists and dealers

Help for the Kidneys Through Gin Pills.

A GUARANTEED CURE.

Read this letter. Read it twice. You have never heard such good news before—if your kidneys are sick. It tells how to be free of pain—how to have all your old-time health and vigor.

"I have been for years a sufferer with pain in the back and across the kidneys. There was scarcely a minute, day or night, that I was free of pain, and when I attempted to pass urine, the pain was almost unbearable. A friend of mine in Portage la Prairie, who was similarly afflicted, strongly advised me to try Gin Pills, as they had cured him. I bought a box of Gin Pills, and in less than a week, to my great delight, found myself without pain. I have had to go as often as every 20 minutes to urinate and several times during the night. Since taking Gin Pills, I sleep through the entire night and am not more than ordinarily inconvenienced during the day. I can earnestly recommend Gin Pills to anyone suffering from pain in the back, kidneys or bladder.

Mr. G. O. C. GOWLER, Portage la Prairie."

Your druggist has Gin Pills, or will get them for you. 50c box—6 for $2.50.

If you will send us your name and address and tell us the paper in which you have read this we send you a trial box of Gin Pills absolutely free. You will get such relief that you will gladly continue the treatment until cured. Do it to-day—now—and start to cure yourself.

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivaled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. TALK ON BETTER TERMS

SUMMARY OF LIBERAL LEADER'S VANCOUVER SPEECH.

ATTITUDE OF LIBERAL PARTY IS CLEARLY DEFINED.

Last week J. A. Macdonald, M. P. P., leader of the opposition, addressed two important public meeting in the cities of Vancouver and New Westminster. These meetings were briefly covered at the time in special despatches, but in view of the prominence being given to the "Better Terms" question, which our esteemed fellow citizen, W. A. Macdonald, K. C., says is to be the chief plank in the McBride-Socialist government's campaign platform, it may be timely to give a more extended summary of liberal leader Macdonald's remarks on this question at Vancouver. Mr. J. A. Macdonald discussed the question at great length, going into the entire history of British Columbia's relations with the dominion government and analyzing the provincial case from many points of view. The following excerpts from his speech indicate clearly enough his general position and will serve to clear away some of the erroneous impressions that recent statements on this subject by an ill-informed section of the McBride-Socialist government press, more concerned to raise an issue that will divert attention from matters of very great interest to taxpayers than to promote a proper understanding of the case, may possibly have occasioned:

One of the proposals made at Ottawa was that the subject should be submitted to arbitration, and some people thought that scheme was all right. The answer was obvious, and was made by premier Whitney when he said that arbitrators were for settling disputes, not for the purpose of negotiations. There had been nothing to arbitrate, but there was something to negotiate, and premier McBride should have made use of the material which it had taken three years to gather together. If an arbitration board was appointed, all it could do would be to come to British Columbia and ascertain the cost of education, the geographical outlines of the country, etc. It was a question of statistics, and premier McBride and his government were the ones who knew it. If it was a question of finding out the customs duties then it must be a quesion of statistics. The matters discussed at Ottawa were not such matters as the taking of evidence, but of compiling of statistics in support of what the people of British Columbia were asking from the dominion government. That was a phase which he did not believe was presented at the conference, and which was one of the strongest arguments which the people could advance for the reason why they should get those additional subsidies.

At the conference it had been decided that British Columbia was entitled to an increased subsidy, just the same as the other provinces, and the amount of that increase was fixed at $115,000. There had been no controversy then. Then came the question of what special recognition was coming to British Columbia. It was admitted that something additional was due, and if the proper facts had been pressed it would have been easily seen that the extra $100,000 a year would not meet the needs of the province. If it had been pointed out that by reason of the change of the fiscal policy of the government of 1871 the people were paying twice as much as they had been then any reasonable men would have seen that British Columbia was entitled to a great deal more than $100,000 a year for ten years.

At the time when the Alaska boundary was fixed in 1893 at Paris, the conservative government was very particular to get the case for Canada prepared by the ablest lawyers and the same when the boundary dispute arose a few years ago. Instead of doing that or taking his own attorney-general or Mr. Cowan, who had made a special study of the subject, the premier went to Ottawa alone and attempted to show by glittering generalities that British Columbia was entitled to a special amount. Without having the case properly prepared, even if Mr. McBride was a man of the most splendid ability he could not make the impression he should on a body of such men as sat at the conference.

It had been claimed that all the other eight members had been against Mr. McBride, but was it not reasonable, asked Mr. Macdonald, that premier McBride should have stayed with the fight until he had been beaten, and then he could have gone and said he had not had justice and asked the dominion parliament to give him what he was entitled to ? He did not go to the dominion government and never got past the conference. As a matter of fact he did not stay to the end of the conference and went to Victoria and said the dominion government must be condemned because the people of British Columbia did not get better terms. Mr. Mr. McBride quit the conference long before it got to the question of the rights of British Columbia. If Mr. McBride had gone to the dominion government he would have got some reasonable assurance that the dominion government would not turn him down, but would have offered to join him as Mr. Fielding had done, and he would have got better terms. He had refused to return to the conference with Mr. Fielding and the result was that unless the people of this province accepted $100,000 a year for ten years they would have to commence all over again, and how could that be done?

The proposition of taking the matter to the imperial government, continued Mr. Macdonald, was absurd. The act of union was an imperial act and had been passed by an imperial parliament and what would the imperial parliament say if such a question was taken before it? It would simply say that the act was one agreeing to union and as there had been no breach of the terms of the act, British Columbia would have to get one of the other provinces to go and say "We want you to make them give us more than we have received," and it would not be done without the other's consent. Mr. McBride knew that. No matter what view was taken the people would find that the imperial government would not pass any legislation unless the other provinces agreed to it.

"We will regard it as a calamity," said Mr. Macdonald, "should this matter be thrust into party politics. We have the best of it on either side, as Mr. McBride did not go to the dominion parliament with his demands and in that issue we have the best of the argument and have nothing to fear for making it an issue in the coming elections, but the position of the people must be paramount and they must be of one mind and must place the interests of this province before that of a party or any action will be out of the question. Let us be united as a province not as a party, and demand what we asked for, and if we get together we will be much stronger than being half for and half against. It is well known that Mr. McBride wishes to make this a party question, and if so it will be made a question by the liberal party, a question which he himself has dragged into the mire of party politics. Mr. McBride will probably say that he did not introduce the question into party politics, but just read his speech and see how cunningly he points out that the liberal premiers of the convention used the matter for the purpose of defeating the aims of British Columbia and you will understand that he had no other idea in his mind than to make this a party cry. The two men who opposed him the strongest were Mr. Whitney and Mr. Roblin, both of whom are conservative premiers."

Continuing, Mr. Macdonald stated that he wished to make it clear the position the liberals took on the question of keeping better terms clear of party politics. They should take a proper course for some general measure for relief, and if they did so and stood together he knew that British Columbia would get its due whether in increased subsidies or in some other way. The government should be able to assist industries in the provinces. If the government could not grant subsidies it might grant increased subsidies to industries, railroads and mines and could forego the 3,500,000 acres of land near the Peace river country, which was granted by British Columbia to the dominion at the time of confederation. There was no reason why the dominion should not give over this land, and if they did sell it at five or even two and a half dollars an acre, it would be an asset that would pay off the entire provincial debt and place British Columbia in a position which would be much more advantageous. The dominion was anxious to help, but Mr. McBride had insinuated that the dominion government was standing in the way. If the question was to be made a political issue the people would soon see that it was only intended to get the legislature out of discussing its own record for the past three years. The socialist-conservative government was only trying to work a scheme and if the question was broached the people would soon see what the scheme was.

"I believe," concluded Mr. Macdonald, "that the premier intends this question of better terms to cloud this issue which ought to be before the minds of the people when they come to vote at the next election."

Mr. Macdonald's remarks were greeted with prolonged applause.

In reply to the vote of thanks and confidence Mr. Macdonald stated that with regard to his going to Ottawa, he had neither directly or indirectly made the suggestion. He had seen it mentioned in the conservative papers that his attitude had been influenced by the feeling that Mr. McBride should have taken him to Ottawa. Months and months of time should have been spent in preparing the case, time which the government could not expect its leader to put on it, and they should have had counsel and the attorney general should have gone to Ottawa to present the case on behalf of the province.

CANADIAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

The Case of Ellen Walby Is One of Thousands of Cures Made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that it is not the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely?

Ellen Walby

Thousands of Canadian Women, however, have found relief from all monthly suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and robs these periods of their terrors.

Ellen Walby, of Wellington Hotel, Ottawa, Ont. writes:

"Your Vegetable Compound was recommended to me to take for the intense suffering which I endured every month and with which I had been a sufferer for many years getting no relief from the many prescriptions which were prescribed, until, finally becoming discouraged with doctors and their medicines I determined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am glad that I did, for within a short time I began to mend and in an incredible short time the flow was regular, natural and without pain. This seems too good to be true and I am indeed a grateful and happy woman."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating, (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising women free of charge. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

IN TROUT LAKE DISTRICT

Representatives of Eastern Capitalists are Greatly Taken With Prospects

Eastern capital is evidently taking a hand in the development of the lower end of Trout Lake division. While at Gold Hill the early part of the week a representative of the Lardeau Mining Review, met Mr. Robert Buschner, who, in company with George W. Stead are interesting themselves in some properties at that point. In conversation with Mr. Buschner, who represents mining men of Philadelphia, he expressed himself as highly pleased with what he had seen in the Lardeau.

"The great drawback to the Lardeau," he said, "is the past operations of companies who lacked practical and conservative management and as a natural consequence, failed." The country as far as he had seen of it was very rich and ventures gone into with good conservative men at the head should prove, beyond a doubt, a success.

Another matter which Mr. Buschner was sure would be of benefit to the district was a thorough examination and report by some well known geologist, giving in detail the formations, classes of ore, sizes of leads, costs of transportation and treatment, and any other matter which would be of interest to the investing public.

He suggested along this line that it would be a paying proposition for business men and property owners to take it up, and secure the services of a man whose name would carry weight with the public.

Another matter he said he had noticed was the failure of prospectors and property owners to open up bodies of low grade ore. It seemingly was only the small veins of high grade stuff that had been at all developed whereas it was the large bodies of low grade ore that made the mines and paid the large profits, created the large demand for labor and built up our towns and cities.

Mr. Buschner will return about the 1st of March next.

SMELTING ZINC ORE.

Processes Now Being Experimented With in Europe and Australia.

The experiments in smelting zinc ore in shaft furnaces by the Lungwitz process, reports Paul Speier of Breslau, Germany, have not given satisfactory results. Another trial, however, will be made. The Armstrong shaft furnace, which is also being experimented with, consists of one or more vertical reduction rooms, surrounded by heating chambers. The reduction rooms are provided on top and bottom with air tight closing apparatuses, which, nevertheless, are said to allow a continuous feeding with ore under the outlet of the burnt out product. At the sides large condensation chambers are connected with the reduction chambers, which are lined with coal. The air is shut off, it is said, by the long and high reduction chambers which can be kept filled to the top. This description would suggest but little prospect of success, says the Chicago Mining World. The Schmieder shaft distillation furnace started working about two months ago, and in the upper zones—as far as the charge had gone down in the shaft, which on heating the furnace had been filled with coke—liquid zinc has already been recovered. Further tests will be made early next year. Muffles will have to be renewed and made of more serviceable material. The Broken Hill Proprietary company in New South Wales has erected nex zinc works to treat concentrates. The quantity of zinc concentrates recovered by the use of the Delprat process during the last six months was 28,276 tons. The Zinc corporation, too, is busily engaged in constructing works near the South Block mine, Broken Hill, for the treatment of the large mass of tailings on the dump there. The Potter process, which will be employed, has been subjected to a few alterations, and it is now expected that the 42 per cent zinc concentrates will be brought up to 46 per cent. The corporation has not definitely decided to exercise its option on 520,000 tons of tailing on the dump at Broken Hill block 10 to 5c ($1.25) per ton. The average metallic content of the tailing is said to be 9.5 ounces silver per ton, 6 per cent lead, and 22 per cent zinc.

TOO MANY UNIVERSITIES

(Educational Journal)

Nova Scotia and New Brunswick with a united population of under 800,000 at the last census, boast of no less than five distinct and separate universities between them. All give degrees and all are struggling against each other in a field which one could amply fill. Out of five there are three demnominational. King's in Windsor, N.S., is Anglican; Acadia, 20 miles away at Wolfville, is Baptist; Sackville, N.B., is Methodist. Sackville serves all the Methodists of both provinces, as Acadia does all the Baptists. Both are energetically and intelligently conducted, and are the provincial glories of the respective denominations. The consequence is that in neither province is the provincial university able to secure a sufficiently liberal revenue from the government to make it a really valuable institution as the members of these denominations, the most numerous and powerful sects in the provinces, are opposed to more generous treatment in the interests of their own establishments.

The multiplication of small, weak, struggling universities is a detriment rather than an aid to higher education. The denominational university is an anachronism and a nuisance. One central university with denominational colleges is the solution of the problem between the interests of education and the instincts of sectarianism.

But the main point to begin with, is to get one university as strong, as influential and as attractive at possible. No small religious prejudices, or mean local patriotisms should be allowed for one instant to stand in the way of this paramount consideration.

SMELTER FOR GOLDEN

It is stated on good authority, says the Wilmer Outcrop, that experts representing some of the foremost capitalists interested in smelting in America, have made an offer to purchase the old Alexander smelter and site at Golden. It being the intention to modernize the old plant and to add several additions to it, providing it can be purchased at a reasonable figure. These representatives have been quietly at work for some weeks and have now decided to build a smelter some where along the C. P. R. line in that vicinity, but the question of location is yet to be settled upon.

OUT IN IDAHO.

A rare treat will be given on Monday night at Sherman's opera house, when the beautiful melo-dramatic comedy-drama "Out in Idaho," will be presented. "Out in Idaho" is a play that ranks above the average. It contains the quintessence of the best portions of those stories that made Bret Harte so famous. It combines rich and sparkling comedy with pathos of the highest order in such a way that pleases the most fastidious. "Out in Idaho" is a play true to western life of those days that Bret Harte knew so well. Don't forget the date.

TO AVERT COAL FAMINE

SIR THOMAS SHAUGHNESSY SAYS THE WEST CAN BE PROTECTED

CONFIRMS REPORT OF BIG LAND CLEARING SCHEME

Winnipeg, Nov. 28—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, arrived in the city this morning. Sir Thomas stated that he had come west to discuss a few matters with Mr. Whyte, but that none of these matters were of public interest. He will remain in the city for several days, that period being essential to the discussion of the matters in hand.

Being asked regarding the development of Vancouver island, sir Thomas stated that the negotiations with the development company were still being carried on. The plan before the company involved the clearing of 150,000 acres of land on the island, the average cost of the clearing of the land being estimated at $100 an acre.

The coal situation in Alberta and Saskatchewan had occupied the attention of the president and it was stated by him that he and Mr. Whyte had been criticized for taking the cars which would have been otherwise used for handling the wheat crop, for the transportation of coal. Sir Thomas believed that it would be possible to avert any great suffering from a lack of coal in the west.

Montreal, Nov. 28—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy wires his congratulations to the operating department of the C.P.R. on the record made by the last Overseas Mail train, which he regards as the most remarkable run ever made, considering the long distance. The 3385 miles between St. John, N.B., and Vancouver, B.C. were covered by the Oversea Mail in 86 hours and 6 minutes, and in this great distance there were four ranges of mountains crossed and countless work trains met and passed in sections which were being double tracked and the ordinary traffic of the road was not in the slightest degree interrupted.

KASLO'S PROTEST

Proposition That will be Made at General Meeting This Afternoon

At the adjourned annual meeting of the Nelson Agricultural and Industrial association in the board of trade rooms this afternoon a motion will be made "That the directors present at the meeting on Sept. 22, 1906, at which was considered the protest of the Kaslo district in regard to the award of the C.P.R. prize, erred in failing to hear evidence as to the breach of rules alleged. That the directors for the present year be and are hereby instructed to tender to T. F. Adams, representing the Kaslo district, the sum of $100 in compensation for any injury that resulted to his district from said error."

In support of this resolution it will be alleged that the representatives of No. 3 district were not necessarily, and unavoidably late, but that they were purposely and intentionally late. That they left their display unfinished over night, more than that, that they broke it up after it was once completed, because they saw that they were beaten by another district, and that from 11 o'clock at night, when the time was up, until at least half past two, the next day, viz., 15 1-2 hours, they some times furtively and sometimes openly smuggled in additions to their collection until they had enough to win by a narrow margin and in doing this they broke the rules flagrantly and forfeited all right to any prize in this show.

That the rules which provide for an appeal to the directors make it obligatory upon the board to hear and decide the matter appealed to them.

That while a board may refuse to hear evidence in the case of a complaint that is prima facie frivolous and vexatious, they have no such right of refusal in a case such as this where substantial injury to an exhibitor is alleged as having arisen from the wilful and deliberate wrong doing of another exhibitor.

That from the records it appears that the meeting of Sept. 22 dismissed the complaint of district No. 2, without hearing evidence or argument.

That through lapse of time and absence of witnesses it has now become impossible to have a fair rehearing of the case even if it were legal or expedient to reopen it.

The ground of contention briefly is that while the directors heard evidence against the written charges preferred, they did not hear any evidence in support of the charges.

THE WOMAN IN THE CASE

Baseball Player's Wife Cause of Caruso's Appearance in Police Court

New York, Nov. 28—The Evening World says that the woman who gave her name as Hannah Graham, and who failed to appear in the police court to press the charge she made against Caruso, the Italian tenor, has been found. She is Mrs. Stanhope, the wife of Adam Stanhope, a baseball player, the newspaper says. It quotes her as saying that there is no question but that the insult offered by Caruso was an intentional one. She said she did not know at the time that the man was Caruso. She did not desire to make any complaint against him, but finally did so because policeman Cain said the man had insulted other women that day and he wanted to lock him up.

Are you a Chilly Subject?

BILEANS WILL BENEFIT YOU

Do you shiver when the slightest breeze blows? Are your feet always cold? Do you find your hands clammy? Do you catch cold if you sit for even a few minutes in a draught?

If so you have liver chill and need Bileans to put your liver and blood in condition and through your blood your whole system right again. Liver chill often brings on very serious symptoms. Mrs. Kelly of Garbaly, says: "I had liver chill and became very weak. I had violent headaches, indigestion, nausea and was subject to retching and frequent vomiting. The doctor attended me for three months. I was much affected with dizziness and often fainted away. At times I have fainted nearly a dozen times a day. One night my daughter, Mary, read about Bileans, and of a woman who had been cured of ailments similar to mine, so I decided to take a course of this medicine. The result is that I am now healthy and strong and able to do all the housework as well as ever. I never have fainting fits, my appetite has returned and I eat my food with keen relish. In fact I am quite cured of all my ailments."

Bileans are also a sure cure for indigestion, debility, liver and kidney ailments, constipation, piles, female ailments, head ache, loss of ambition, blood impurities, etc. All druggists sell at 50 cents a box, or postpaid from the Bilean Co., Toronto, 6 boxes for 2.50.

A MUSICAL EVENT

Good Concert Last Night Given under the Auspices of St. Saviour's Choir

There was a large audience to greet Miss Alys Bateman, the coming English soprano assisted by Miss Grace Merry of Toronto, and Eduard Parlovitz, the pianist, in the concert given last evening under the auspices of the St. Saviour's church choir. The house was warmly in favor of the company from the outset and more than satisfied with the rendition of rather an ambitious program. Encore after encore was accorded to each of the entertainers, who formed good contrasts the one to the other, throwing up the individual numbers in good relief. Miss Bateman was suffering from a cold which somewhat affected both her upper register and also her piano passages. From a musical standpoint her best piece was Il Bacio, but her ballad singing was perhaps the better appreciated. Her enunciation and phrasing was all but faultless, her notes were clear and true, while the quality of her voice was such as amply explain the praise she has received from the best muiscal circles in the old country.

Eduard Parlovitz showed a wonderful mastery of his instrument, his touch being light and equal and yet bold and masterful. Whether the number was one of more than ordinary difficulty in its technique or merely a jeu d'esprit, evoked by some encore, the pianist was equally at home. In his accompanying his subordination to the voice showed his artistic taste to be greater than the amateur desire to shine in the wrong place.

Miss Grace Merry got quite her share of the applause that was freely given through the evening. Her humorous recitals, capital dialect talks, in the pure English as spoken in Dublin, Edinburgh, Massachussetts, or Quebec, stamped her as a finished mimic while the graver rendering of Drummond's exquisite poem "The Little Red Canoe" showed a dramatic talent which may yet lead this clever Toronto girl into a wider arena.

TRANSVAAL GOLD OUTPUT

High records in the gold output of the Transvaal mines are losing their novelty and now the public seems to expect an increase every month. In October the production was 540,609 fine ounces, which compares with 505,111 ounces in September and 415,527 ounces in October, 1905. For the ten months ending October the output totalled 6,095,077 ounces, which compared with 4,040,780 ounces in the corresponding period last year shows an increase of 50.8 per cent.
