CARIBOO TO WORK AGAIN

Phoenix Men Secure Lease of Well Known Cariboo-McKinney Mine

Once an Important Gold Producer and Believed to be Good for Further Dividends--Early History of Property

Phoenix, Nov. 9.—A deal has just been made in Phoenix which, it is believed, is one of the most important that has taken place in the Boundary for some time past. This is nothing less than the acquirement by lease of the properties, machinery and stamp mill of the Cariboo-McKinney Mining & Milling Co., of Toronto, by a syndicate of Phoenix men. The property is the well known Cariboo free gold mine, located in Camp McKinney, which is situated some thirty miles west of the town of Midway.

Negotiations for the lease have been carried on for some months with the officers of the company in Toronto, of which senator Robert Jaffray is president, and have only just been successfully completed. A force of men has already been sent to the property, to put the machinery in order and to begin pumping out the mine, preparatory to active operations.

The lease was secured by Dr. R. B. Boucher, W. S. Macy, L. Y. Birnie and A B. Hood, and associates, well known residents of Phoenix. A practical mining man will be secured to take charge of the Cariboo, and active mining will be undertaken as soon as possible.

Probably no mine in the Boundary has had a more checkered career than the old Cariboo, with ups and downs, the story of which would fill many columns. It is one of the oldest locations in the Boundary, has produced, according to official reports, more than $1,000,000 of gold bullion, and under its various ownerships has paid $546,837 in dividends. Work was stopped at the end of 1903, on recommendation of the superintendent, and the extensive underground workings were allowed to fill with water, having remained that way for something like three years, or up to the present time, the property being in charge of a caretaker. Old timers in Camp McKinney have always had great faith in the Cariboo, up to the time of closing the most successfully conducted property in that camp, and the only one which ever paid anything back to its owners. Notwithstanding the closing of the mine, on the advice of those in charge, they believed that the property still had great possibilities as a gold producer. It is hardly necessary to state that the few old timers who have stayed with the camp, with their great faith, are not a little gratified to see operations onec more being started on the most important property of them all.

Camp McKinney's discovery dates back to 1884, when two placer miners, Goericks and Runnels, came across the cappings on the Victoria and Old England mines. The camp, however, takes its name from a prospector, Al. McKinney, who three years later discovered and located the croppings of the now famous Cariboo vein, which stood out boldly to view, with the free gold plainly visible therein. The property was worked more or less in the early nineties, the Butte and Boston company having an option on it in 1894-5. George B. McAuley and J. F. Keene, of Spokane, who had been operating in the Coeur d'Alenes, but were discouraged with men prevailing low price of silver, became interested in the Cariboo, and it was worked more steadily, and, it is understood, with no little profit. James Monoghan, of Spokane, was a large owner of the Cariboo at one time, realizing large profits.

The first unit of the stamp mail was brought from the Rainbow mine, in Washington, and it is stated that the owners of the mine had difficulty in raising money enough to pay the duty on the machinery. This was soon arranged, however, as soon as the stamp mill was started in operation. From that time on the mine produced no small amount of gold, for a time losing the vein, and then finding it again after spending thousands of dollars in the search. Once it cost $35,000 to find the faulted vein, but gold worth $200,000 was the result.

The owning company has title to seven claims in Camp McKinney, being the Cariboo, Amelia, Okanagan, Alice, Emma, Maple Leaf and Sawtooth fraction, all adjoining. The property is fully equipped with all needed machinery, including a ten drill Rand air compressor, hoist, pumps, 20-stamp-mill, consisting of four batteries of five stamps each, boilers, settlers, concentrating tables, etc. A maximum depth of 500 feet was attained in the shafts, with several thousand feet of workings at the several levels. Official reports covering the last 4 years of operations by the Cariboo company gave the following details:

Ore stamped and milled, 60,376 tons.
Bullion produced, 38,878 ozs.
Concentrates produced, 2077 tons.
Total values realised, $875,589.
The average ore output of the Cariboo was in the neighborhood of 15,000 tons per year, values running from $5.50 to $10 per ton. From 40 to 50 men were employed at the property.

HINDU IMMIGRATION.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—(Special to The Daily News.)—The dominion government has made representations to the Indian government through the imperial authorities, which, it is hoped, will result in putting a stop to the wholesale immigration of Hindus to this country. The memorial in question lays particular stress on the misrepresentation which has brought these people to our shores and the actual conditions facing them on arrival. Being British subjects, it is thought this is the only manner in which British Columbia's protest can be attended to. Eight hundred Hindus are expected on the next liners.

McGILL'S SPECULATIONS

EX-MANAGER OF ONTARIO BANK ON TRIAL.

BROKER AMES TELLS OF SOME OF HIS DEALINGS.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—Charles McGill, ex-general manager of the wrecked Ontario bank, was again before magistrate Denison today on the original charge of making false returns to the government.

A. E. Ames, of the banking and brokerage firm of A. E. Ames & Co., was on the witness stand and explained the transactions between McGill and his firm as shown in a "C McGill special account." Crown attorney Corley filed cheques amounting in all to $65,000, which went to the credit of McGill with the Ames firm.

Witness said his firm did not know these amounts were the bank's money. The magistrate asked if the recovery of some of McGill's paper in New York and Montreal would have the effect of covering things in Toronto. Ames would not say so.

"Then," said the magistrate, "the entry on the bank's books indicating that you owe the bank $136,000 is a false entry."

"We do not owe the bank that money," said Ames.

Robert McKay, counsel for McGill, got Ames to say that assuming McGill was acting for the bank the account might appear as against the broker.

"As a broker, you can tell me whether it is customary for a bank to speculate in stocks, buying and selling on margin," said the magistrate.

"There are margins and margins," was the answer, "difference in kind. A bank may buy securities and make only a part payment. Canadian banks sometimes undertake large underwritings on only part payments."

Ames said he knew of the case of stock buying by a bank, but would not say it was frequent or ordinary.

Ames swore that when the July report was made to the government, showing an apparent debt of $136,000 by the Ames firm to the bank, McGill must have known the statement was incorrect. He also said that McGill in his stock dealings sometimes sold short, which was a pure gamble.

ANGLO-AMERICAN RELATIONS.

Ambassador Durand Says "All is Well" Between the Kindred People.

New York, Nov. 9.—"I especially regret leaving America as ever since I entered the diplomatic service I have wanted to come here. I expressed the desire to come here as I consider it the most important post in the world," said sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador to the United States, tonight at the dinner given by the British Schools and Universities' club in honor of the 65th birthday anniversary of kind Edward.

"I feel that the old era of misunderstanding has passed away and all of us ought to recognize the fact and rejoice in it," continued sir Henry. "I am stating it as a fact, I say this while leaving America with deep regret and with sorrow, I leave it with the feeling that between the kindred people all is well."

INSURANCE COMMISSION.

Work About Completed—Only One More Public Session to be Held.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The report of the insurance commission will be in the hands of members of parliament within a week after the opening of the session.

This will mean that if any legislation is required as a result of the report it can be framed and introduced before the holidays.

This morning there were no witnesses and the commissioners sat in private summing up the evidence. The next public meeting will be held some time next week and will probably be the last. The only thing of any importance that remains to be done is to hear the evidence of the life insurance managers' association.

LOGS FOR KASLO MILL

(Special to The Daily News)

Kaslo, Nov. 9.—The tug Hercules has arrived with a raft of 1,000,000 feet of logs from Cooke's camp at Lardo for the mill here.

BIERLING GOLD FIELD

Latest Reports Received at Battleford Add to the Excitement

Another Rich Strike Reported Six Miles West o Bierling--New Field is Quite Extensive

North Battleford, Nov. 9.—Reports from prospectors who started early for Bierling after the gold find, tend to verify and even magnify former reports. The town, which received the news skeptically, is in a fever of expectancy. Many have already left for Bierling and Saturday will see a great rush for there from here.

"Gold, gold," is the sole topic of every tongue from clergymen to school children. The wildest reports of rich finds are coming in hourly.

E. D. McLay, a railroad man and former prospector, left Wednesday night, scoffing at the story. He sent word into town tonight that the dirt was very rich and that he had staked out forty claims for himself and friends here. As a result a syndicate was at once formed, headed by town councillor J. Simpson. Money was hurriedly raised to buy up claims. A complete boring and chemical testing equipment was gotten together and by Saturday most of the company members with experts will go to Bierling. Blacksmith shops here are overwhelmed trying to keep up with the demand for mining tools.

Hughes, the railway pump house man at Bierling, made the find by accident. The three-inch supply pipe from the slough stopped up. Hughes dug down to a joint, opened and found it choked with a mixture of black sand and virgin gold in nearly equal proportions. The pipe had panned the flowing dirt with the pump's action.

It is reported here tonight that a rich strike of gold was made today at Maidstone six miles west of Bierling. The gold vein at Bierling extends over 26 square miles.

RECORD OF SIX MONTHS

REPORT OF DIRECTORS OF CONSOLIDATED M. & S. CO LTD.

OPERATING PROFITS OF OVER $300,000.

The Daily News is in receipt of a copy of the report of the directors of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company of Canada, Ltd., for the six months ended June 30, 1906.

Managing director Aldridge's report, in part, says:

After writing off expenses of incorporation and $45,905 as depreciation upon plant and equipment, the operating profit shown is $325,845.93. From this profit a special reserve of $20,000 has been provided, and two dividends amounting to $234,940 have been paid, leaving a balance at credit of profit and loss account of $70,914.93. In determining the values of the metals and products on hand, quotations considerably lower than the market prices of June 30th, 1906, have been used, to provide against a possible decline in the metal market.

The productions of the different properties controlled by the company for the first six months of the year 1906 are given as follows: Centre Star and War Eagle, tons of ore mined, 81,267; values extracted, 30,669 ounces gold, 976,528 pounds of copper, of total value, $823,790. St. Eugene, ore mined, 84,966 tons (concentrates 15,497 tons); values extracted, silver, 418,084 ounces; lead, 17,288,649 pounds, of total value, $798,660.

Trail smelter, ore smelted, 157,640 tons, vaules extracted, gold, 64,590 ounces; silver, 1,074,255 ounces; lead, 15,133,683 pounds; copper, 2,399,161 pounds, of total value, $2,994,927.

During the six months 3573 feet have been driven on the Centre Star and War Eagle and 6688 feet in the St. Eugene.

In the Centre Star most encouraging results have been obtained on the 11th or lowest level, 1388 feet below the collar of the shaft, and measured on the dip of vein 70 degrees.

In the War Eagle fair tonnages of ore have been found on the 4th, 5th and 6th levels, while good ore is being developed on the bottom of the 11th level, 1582 feet below the collar of the shaft, and measured on the dip of the vein 64 degrees.

On the St. Eugene the discovery of a new cross shoot, known as Fourth Avenue, connecting the main and south veins, will probably prove to be the most valuable find made during the six months at that property.

A small shoot of high grade ore has been found in the Richmond-Eureka group at Sandon, formerly owned by the War Eagle company, and a few carloads will be shipped as soon as rawhiding starts.

The ore reserves have been increased in the War Eagle and Centre Star. Owing to a lack of compresor capacity, and drills development in the St. Eugene has fallen behind somewhat, but the sinking of the main shaft and other important work is now well under way.

Due to lack of skillel labor the new construction and improvements have not been completed. During the six months $13, 979.28 have been expended upon these accounts, which expenditure will not only reduce the cost but will increase the tonnage which can be economically handled at the mines, smelter and refinery. The main enlargements and improvements are as follows: On increase in the electrolytic lead refinery from a capacity of 50 tons pig lead per day to 75 tons per day; the installation of an electric crane and the introduction of a new process for the treatment of silver slimes.

The addition of a new copper furnace, 22 feet long by 42 inches at the tuyeres having a capacity of over 400 tons of Rossland ore daily.

The patent rights and installation of the Huntington-Heberlein process for the treatment of lead sulphides, which process is reducing the costs of treating the St. Eugene lead product, copper matte and other sulphides.

The building of additional large flues for catching dust from the copper furnaces.

Additional transformers and other electrical machinery incidental to the increasing of the capacity at the smelter and refinery.

The principal installation at the mines consists of a new Nordberg hoist at the Centre Star, of a capacity of 1350 tons per ten hours from a depth of 3000 (cylinders 28 in. x 60 in., drums 10 feet, skips 1-2 tons) which fill permit of the handling of all the Centre Star, War Eagle and Iron Mask ore through the one shaft, in place of operating three separate shafts. In this connection the head works of the War Eagle will be abandoned, the War Eagle compressor removed to the Centre Star compressor house, where both will be electrically driven. In the Centre Star hoist house a complete sorting and sampling plant is being installed.

In order to secure a regular supply of desirable ore, an agreement has been made with the Snowshoe Gold Copper Mines, Limited, by which the Consolidated company will operate that property under a lease. Reports by professor Brock of the Canadian geological survey, indicate that there are about 100,000 tons of ore which can be profitably mined, and it is believed that development work may materially increase that tonnage. In consideration of this lease the Consolidated company has guaranteed an overdraft of the Snowshoe of $78,000. The proceeds from ore shipments will be applied by the Snowhsoe Gold and Copper Mines, Ltd., to this overdraft so that it should be entirely repaid in about one year.

Negotiations for the purchase of the Iron Mask mine, Rossland, have been concluded since the close of the fiscal year. The property adjoins the War Eagle on the east and the Centre Star on the north. The Iron Mask mine shipped 19,405 tons of ore at a gross assay value of $25 per ton, nearly $500,000, and has 11,850 tons of probable ore containing $20.46 gross assay value, $242,451. The War Eagle east drift will be connected with the Iron Mask workings. There was considerable expensive litigation between the Centre Star and Iron Mask which was concluded in 1901 by a somewhat indefinite agreement. The purchase of the Iron Mask removes all chance of further difficulties between the properties.

One or two engineers are kept in the field looking up new properies, and it is hoped that other promising properties in ther districts will be secured.

HOTEL BUILDING COLLAPSES.

Nine Men Killed in Wreckage and Nine Others Seriously Injured.

Long Beach, Calif., Nov. 9.—Five stories of the central wing of the new $750,000 Bixby hotel collapsed today, carrying nine workmen to death in the tons of tangled wreckage. About 150 artisans and laborers were scattered through the structure when it fell, and of these 100 were carried down in the ruins, nine being severely hurt. Thirteen men on the contractors' rolls are unaccounted for, but probably are safe. None of the injured will die.

Immediately after the collapse of the structure, hundreds of bystanders lent aid in the rescue. A company of national guards were called out and lines were thrown about the building. Pitiful scenes were witnessed by the throngs who were standing near. An aged mother stood all day long on the bluff overlooking the hotel weeping and watching for the body of her son.

"DOCTOR" DAY LOCATED.

"Rev. Dr." Day, alias Peter Ellow, the alleged spurious Persian missionary, who cleaned up thousands of dollars in British Columbia eighteen months ago, with a fake Armenian orphanage scheme has been located. A letter to chief of police McIntosh, of New Westminster, from A. C. Wartislaw, British counsul at Tabriz, Persia, states that he is in that district. The consul asks for affidavits from those who claim to know Day and Ellow as one and the same person. He hopes to cause the alleged fakir some trouble, though a conviction could hardly be secured against him in Persia.

PERIOD OF BARBARISM

Speech of War Minister Haldane at Annual Guildhall Banquet

Deplores Expenditures on Armaments But Says it is Great Britain's Duty to Maintain Fighting Efficiency

London, Nov. 9.—At the customary lord mayor's banquet tonight in the Guildhall, responding to the toast, "The imperial services," war secretary Haldane said that he and the first lord of the admiralty, lord Tweedmouth, realized it was a solemn duty on their part not to diminish the country's fighting force by one whit.

It was the duty of a Christian people, the speaker continued, to set an example by reducing the expenditures for armament, but unless they had a response from other nations, this was impossible.

The speaker hoped the time would come when nations would look back upon these days as a period of barbarism and wonder why they had spent millions in this manner, but until that time arrived it was in the interest of peace itself that no nation should cut down its war strength and it was the duty of Great Britain to maintain its fighting efficiency.

The marquis of Ripon, who was almost inaudible throughout his speech, replied to the toast, "His majesty's ministers." He expressed the government's satisfaction that it had been able to continue the foreign policy of lord Lansdowne and said he was glad to be able to declare, after consultation with sir Edward Grey that at present all indications pointed toward peace.

"We wish to be, and we believe we are," said the marquis of Ripon, "on friendly terms with all nations."

DEATH OF HUGH MADDEN

HIS END CAME SUDDENLY AT MANHATTAN, NEVADA.

YOUNGER BROTHER OF THOMAS MADDEN OF THIS CITY.

Thomas Madden, the well known proprietor of the Madden house in this city, yesterday received a wire from Manhattan, Nevada, via Tonapah, announcing the very sudden death of his younger brother, Hugh Madden, a man well known all over the Kootenays and the west generally.

The telegram was signed by J. R. Mackay and merely stated that Hugh "died suddenly last night," and asked for instructions with reference to the remains. Tom Madden immediately wired the deceased's widow in Quebec city, and a reply is expected today.

Mr. Madden said that his brother was about 48 years old, was born in old Quebec, where the widow and two children have long resided. When just a lad the deceased came west and went into railroading, following up the work on the Northern Pacific and later on the C. P. R. He was of a very roving disposition and was always ready to jump into any boom centre. He came to Nelson from the Coeur d'Alene country in 1889 and for three years was part owner of the Madden house here. Then he went to Nakusp and built and operated the first hotel at that point. Two years later he ran a hotel at Burton City on the Columbia river and subsequently ran a hotel at Trail. When the mining excitement in the far north first commenced he went to Dawson and later to Nome, making good money in both places. Then he paid a visit to his old home in Quebec and came west later to Seattle, where he owned a hotel. He was naturally attracted by the Nevada rush and went to Tonapah and Manhattan among the first. He was running a hotel at the latter place when the end came. His death was quite unexpected by his brother.

The deceased was widely known as a man of very kindly, generous disposition.

NOT GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Judge Henderson Acquits Captain Griffin of Gross Negligence.

(Special to The Daily News)

Vancouver, Nov. 9.—With tears streaming down his cheeks and amid applause from spectators, captain Griffin, former master of the steamer Princess Victoria, left the court room late this afternoon freed of the charge of manslaughter in connection with the Chehalis disaster.

Judge Henderson's judgment took about fifteen minutes to deliver and as he came to the critical point he said: "I have come to the conclusion that no matter what civil actions may be entered in regard to negligence on either side, I cannot find that there has been any reckless or gross negligence on the part of captain Griffin and I do not think the evidence would warrant me in placing on him the stigma of crime. Therefore I must discharge him."

The chief testimony of the day was given by Griffin, who swore that the Chehalis swerved suddenly from her course.

CUT DOWN TO SIX.

Official Count Necessary to Decide Between Chanler and Bruce.

New York, Nov. 9.—The latest returns from all sections of the state indicate that the official count will be necessary to determine whether John Bruce, republican, or Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, democrat and independence league, was elected lieutenant-governor in last Tuesday's election. With incomplete and partially estimated returns from every county in the state, Chanler's possible plurality has been cut down to six.

THE PROPER COURSE.

Ottawa, Nov. 9. —(Special to The Daily News.)—Although the report of Hon. Charles Hyman's resignation is officially denied, it is generally believed he will resign his seat at the conclusion of the investigation almost completed in Toronto.

BEFORE THE FULL COURT

APPEAL OF JACKSON MINES, LTD., DISMISSED

DECISION IN ROLFE VS. CANADIAN LUMBER CO. REVERSED

(Special to The Daily News)

Vancouver, Nov. 9—Before the full court today in the case of L. Gabrielle and 21 other lien holders, workmen of Basil Cortiana vs. the Jackson Mines, Limited, the appeal of the Jackson Mines, Limited from the order made by judge Forin was dismissed with costs and the liens held to be good, sustaining the judgment of Judge Forin.

L. Gabrielle and 21 other miners sued the Jackson Mines, Ltd, claiming wages totaling $3670.40, and claiming mechanic liens for the amount. The case was tried in Nelson on January 10 of the present year and judge Forin held that the 22 plaintiffs had and were entitled to have mechanics' liens under the Mechanics Lien act, chap. 132 of the revised statutes of B.C., 1897, and amending acts, for the amount of claimed, viz., $3670.40, upon the property of he company as set out in the judgment. The company was directed to pay the amount into court and in default arrangements were to be made for a sale of the property. Subsequently an issue was directed as between the lien holders and the judgment creditors of Cortiana, but this was set aside on appeal to the supreme court. The Jackson Mines appealed against the original judgment of judge Forin, giving the lien holders preference and this appeal has now been dismissed with costs and judges Forin's order sustained. W. A. Macdonald, K.C. appeared for the appellants, and S. S. Taylor, K.C., for the victorious respondents.

In Frank Burr vs. the Arrowhead Lumber company, the appeal of the plaintiff against the order made in Nelson by Morrison, J., on May 23 and 25 last, dismissing the action with costs, was heard in the Full court lasting three days. Judgment was reserved. S. S. Taylor, K.C. for the appellant Burr, and E. P. Davis, K.C., for the respondent company. Frank Burr and a partner named H J. Bush made an agreement with the Arrowhead Lumber Co. on Oct. 31, 1904, to do logging work on the company's limits on Salmon river. Subsequently Burr and Bush gave the company a chattel mortgage to secure $1054 due for the men's wages. Later on the company claimed default of the mortgage and took possession of the firm's belongings and cancelled the contract. Burr then brought an action for wrongful seizure and damages for breach of contract, claiming heavy damages. At the trial in Nelson on May 23 and 25 Mr. justice Morrison held that Burr had failed to make out a case and dismissed the action with costs. The defendants were allowed to withdraw their counter claim with costs to the plaintiff. The plaintiff then appealed to the full court and judgment has now been reversed.

In the case of W. N. Rolfe vs. the Canadian Lumber company, the full court allowed the appeal of the company with costs and dismissed the plaintiff's action with costs. E. P. Davis, K.C. appeared for the appellants and S. S. Taylor for the respondent Rolfe. Rolfe sued the company for $500 salary under an agreement for employment. The case was heard by judge Forin at Trout Lake last summer. Judgment was then given in favor of Rolfe for the amount claimed. This judgment has now been reversed by the full court.

INTERNATIONAL WATERWAYS.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The international waterways commissiou meets in Buffalo November 13 to endeavor to secure an understanding as to several outstanding questions, including the export of power to the states from the Canadian side of Niagara Falls, the diversion of water from lake Michigan to Chicago drainage canal and the diversion of the waters of Birch river and Birch lake to the American channel, which is going to lower the level of Rainy lake and Rainy river.

FITZPATRICK'S NEXT MOVE.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—It is announced on excellent authority that Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of the supreme court of Canada, is shortly to resign to become general counsel for the Grand Trunk Pacific, at a salary of $35,000.

DISGRACE TO BOTH SIDES

London Spectator's View of New York State Election

London Weekly Reviews All Regard Hearst as Still Being an Important Factor in American Politics

London, Nov. 10.—The leading weekly reviews make the recent elections in New York state a feature of their comment.

The Saturday Review describes William R. Hearst as the Cataline of American politics and president Roosevelt as the Cicero and "Father of his country, who saved it by coming from Oyster Bay to vote in New York."

Continuing, the paper says Mr. Hearst did not altogether fail in doing what he set out to do. He is defeated but not crushed as a presidential candidate. "Who should be Mr. Bryan and Mr. Hearst rolled into one."

The Outlook says: "The election from first to last is among the most dramatic episodes in American politics. President Roosevelt, in his tremendous indictment of Mr. Hearst, imperilled his own credit. Nothing but the overwhelming response of the people would have justified this extraordinary appeal and this was not forthcoming."

The Spectator believes that defeat by so narrow a margin shows, "Both the reality of Mr. Hearst's power and the depth of the grievances which he proposed to remedy," and adds: "Mr. Hearst remains a victorious and dangerous force in American politics."

Then speaking pessimistically, the paper says: "The conduct of the election was a disgrace to both parties. The whole business from beginning to end was a painful proof of the degradation of public life in the United States."

C. P. R. EXTENSIONS.

Branching Out Into Rich Country North and South of Moosejaw.

Moosejaw, Sask., Nov. 9.—The C. P. R will next session of parliament apply for authority to build a new line from Weyburn westward one hundred miles. The new line will pass through a fine agricultural country, a large part of which was surveyed this year. The district is not yet open for homesteaders but a large number of squatters are flocking in from Moosejaw, Montana and Soo line points. One week fifty-three teams left Moosejaw for one township fifty miles south of the city. The new railway will run about fifty miles south of Moosejaw. The C. P. R. will also make application to parliament to build a line from a point on the Mosejaw branch somewhere near the Elbow to the present terminus of the Lacombe branch line. This indicates that Moosejaw will have direct connection with Edmonton via Lacombe, also that the Moosejaw branch will be extended into other new territory, possibly paralleling the Prince Albert branch of the C. P. R. into Saskatoon.

TEXAS RANGERS AMBUSHED.

Brownsville, Texas, Nov. 9—A detachment of Texas rangers, an route to Rio Grande city to investigate the assassination of judge Welch, which occurred Monday night, were attacked by a body of armed Mexicans, and a bloody fight resulted. One Mexican was killed and many wounded. Governor Lanham is rushing troops to the scene, and the situation is regarded as critical More fighting is expected before the troops arrive. The Mexicans are said to be aroused over the opposition to their voting in the recent election.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 9—A dispatch from Laredo, Texas, says: "Texas rangers were ambushed last night by armed Mexicans between Fordyce and Rio Grande city. Four Mexicans were killed in the fight that followed. One was wounded and two captured The rangers suffered no casualties. A special train is taking troops to the scene."

FISHERIES DISPUTE

Halifax, Nov. 9—A new phaes of the fisheries dispute between American fishermen and the Newfoundland government has developed. Three masters of Gloucester, Mass., fishing schooners have arrived hree for the purpose of securing crews made up of Nova Scotia sailors and to proceed to Newfoundland fishing grounds for herring. It is thought if this plan is successful other Gloucester captains may adopt it. This will offset the effects of the Newfoundland government's contemplated action to prevent Newfoundland fishermen manning American vessels.

HAMILTON STREET CAR STRIKE

Hamilton, Nov. 9—The street railway company announced tonight that it would star trunning cars on Monday morning. These, the company say, it has secured. The strikers say they will only ask employes of the Cataract company, from which the street railway secures its power, to go out in sympathy as a last resort, as it would tie up all the city's many manufacturing concerns, dependent upon it for power.

THE LIBERAL LEADER'S VIEWS

"This question of better terms is a matter of plain and honest business dealing and diplomacy. To drag such a question into the arena of party politics is a crime against the people of this province."

"For my part I believe in the future of British Columbia too sincerely to be wedded to the idea that our prosperity depends upon a per capita grant of $1 sliding down to 25 cents. What we need is present help to enable us to develop and reasonably conserve what we have and we need have little fear of future generations."

"We have a good case The government must see to it that it is not thrown away, either by childish pique or to obtain an election cry."

The foregoing excerpts from liberal leader Macdonald's interview on the "Better Terms" question, published elsewhere in this issue, indicate clearly his attitude and there is no doubt that the earnestness and sobriety of his utterances will appeal to the intelligence and good sense of the great mass of the electorate. Mr. Macdonald's interview is a very timely utterance upon a subject of great importance to the whole province and it should be read carefully by every elector.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Our Fernie correspondent has forwarded us a very long transcript of the minutes of the recent negotiations between the general manager of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company and the national board members of the U M. W. of A. Unfortunately the transcript is far too lengthy for publication in full in these columns and any abbreviation might give an impression of the proceedings unfair to one or other of the parties thereto. It may be said, however, that the whole negotiations turned upon the question of the the "closed shop." That was the one point really at issue. The correspondence and all the arguments, pro and con set forth at great length, simply resolve themselves into a demand on the part of the union officials for the "closed shop" and on the part of the general manager to a refusal to accede to this demand. Our correspondent also forwards us a copy of the minority report in the matter of the investigation into the alleged impropriety of the conduct of W M. Dicken, ex-president of Fernie local, in writing a letter to the public press, stating his views on the strike, together with a full report of the evidence taken before the investigating committee. This interesting story is also far too lengthy for publication in these columns and, as in the former instance, it would be inadvisable to publish extracts therefrom, which, in the nature of things, might not do full justice to all concerned. We published some time ago the findings of the majority of this investigating committee and it is only fair to Mr. Dicken that we should give the final summing up of the minority, which reads as follows: "In our opinion brother W. M Dicken cannot be convicted of violating the principles of this organization, as all matters referred to in his letter to the Fernie Free Press were already public property and the evidence received would not in our opinion convict him of any breach."

The extracts we publish this morning from the report of the directors of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting company will make very pleasant reading. There is evidence of profits earned and of determination to still further expand the already extensive operations of the company. President Matthews says: "A number of additions and improvements are now being made to your property, which when completed will involve, including the purchase of the 'Iron Mask' mine, an expenditure of about $322,000; and to provide for this expenditure and for the general purposes of the company, including the further enlargement and improvement of the plant and the acquisition of new properties, your directors have under consideration the issue of capital stock, out of the $801,200 still remaining of the authorized capital, as they may deem it to be necessary." It will be noted that the operating profits for the six months covered in the report exceed $300,000, and that after placing $20,000 to special reserve and leaving a balance of $70,914.93 at credit of profit and loss, two dividends amounting to $234,940 have been paid

HERE ARE 2 BARGAINS

That should interest you now that the long evenings are here, and amusement must be sought indoors. We have 2 parlor billiard boards. They have been much coveted by many, but although we have offered them at less than cost, we find they are too expensive to sell. We have therefore decided to put them down to a figure at which we think they will sell, utterly regardless of cost.

The smallest one is 2 ft. 7 in. by 5 ft.— worth $22.50, will sell for $10.

The other one is 3 ft. by 6ft.—worth $45, will sell for $20.

You can play practically as good a game on these tables as you can on a regular billiard table, and as a parlor amusement it has the advantage over most parlor games that you never tire of it. The more you play it the more fascinating it becomes.

THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

Suggestions for the Protection of the Long Suffering Public.

Editor The Daily News: Now that the gentlemen from New York have failed to settle the coal miners' strike it might be well for the general public of Kootenay and Yale to consider means of preservation

The dominion government hold on the south side of Morrissey creek, coal lands estimated to contain a supply for North America for 6,000 years. The objection to the working of it has been the consideration of good faith with the coal companies now operating. The asset is of enormous value and a few millions can be readily borrowed upon its security.

Suppose we memoralize the federal government:

1. That strikes occur in the coal fields at an average rate of one strike in two years

2. That the average duration of a strike is six months.

3. That for a corresponding period derangement of business, inconvenience and financial loss result to communities dependant upon the mines and coke oven for fuel.

4 That it is desirable to provide an alternative supply of coal and coke.

5. That the finance minister be authorized to borrow upon the security of 50,000 acres of coal lands a sum of $5,000,000.

6. That a coal mine be opened and equipped and that a stock of 1,000,000 tons of coal be stored

7. That ovens of the capacity of 1,000 tons per day of coke be established.

8. That no coke be made nor coal sold except when the other coal mines and coke ovens are idle and then only to consumers in Canada.

9. As a measure of benevolence and to give the scheme a popular aspect; that restaurants be established at the coal mining towns and that during the continuance of a strike all women and children be made thereat the guests of the dominion.

10. That an effort be made to provide for the time of the next presidential campaign in the United States, July to December, 1908, at which time a strike is to be expected. ASTROLOGER.

COSTELLO IS PROMOTED

POPULAR AGENT TRANSFERRED TO MOLSON

DOUGLAS LAY INSPECTING FLYNN'S MINING PROPERTIES

(Special to The Daily News)

Ymir, Nov. 9—Maurice Costello, one of the best known railroad agents in the northwest, and who for the past nine years has been agent for Corbin and the Great Northern at Ymir, left this morning for Molson, Wash., where he will open the station for the Great Northern.

Mr. Costello has had a wide and varied experience in the railway business. Commencing 24 years ago with the Northern Pacific at their then head of line, and what is now Bismarck, N.D., spending eight years in the Coeur d'Alene country and going through both the mining and labor excitements that prevailed in that country and leaving with the good will or both the mine owners and miners, has been the experience of the Ymir agent.

It is with sincere regret that the citizens of Ymir part with him. He was always the same, ready to do a favor and accommodate one and all who had business with him. Mr Costello is receiving a decided promotion in leaving Ymir, as he will have Oroville agency just as soon as a station is built there This will be a divisional point, as the line to Wenatchee will leave the V. V. and E. at that point. Before accepting his new position the Spokane-International offered him a good position.

It is a coincidence that Mr. Costello is leaving Ymir on the king's birthday, as he came to Ymir on the queen's birthday, May 24, 1897.

Wednesday evening the ladies' aid of the Presbyterian church gave an At Home, games and music being enjoyed during the evening. There was an attendance of some 60 persons.

Douglas Lay is at Hall inspecting some properties owned by Thomas Flynn and known as the Monarch group. The inspection is being made for the Hall Mines smelter mandgement.

H. Gilman Brown left this morning for San Francisco. This gentleman has been here on his semi-annual tour of inspection of the Ymir mine, he being the consulting engineer for the proprty.

Mrs. A. H. Tuttle has joined Mr. Tuttle, liquidator of the Broken Hill Mining Co. Mrs. Tuttle was here a year ago but left for their home in Detroit. She is welcomed by her many Ymir friends.

KINGSTON MAN'S SUICIDE

Blames Drink for His Downfall—Leaves Warning to Young Men

Kingston, Nov. 9—George Zeigler, an insurance agent, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself. He took his life, evidently fearful of arrest for forgery. He had tried to pass a note on Monday, which had the endoresment of two leading citizens, but the latter denied signing it, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Deceased was 35 years of age.

Coroner Mundell found a message on Zeigler's body entitled "A word to young men," in which he calls drink a curse; it had ruined him and was ruining more young men than any other thing. He asked young men to shun bar rooms and calls on temperance workers and ministers of all churches in the dominion, be they Protestant or Catholic, to take active steps in suppressing the sale and manufacture of liquor. He besought young men for God's sake to take heed, "lest you fall as I have. May my fall be a lesson to you which you shall never forget." He also left a pathetic letter to his wife and five year old daughter.

QUEBEC LIBERAL NOMINATIONS

Montreal, Nov. 9—Alderman Medric Martin was nominated last night by the liberals of St. Mary's division, for the vacancy in the commons caused by the elevation of Camille Piche, former member, to a judgeship.

A liberal convention in St. Anne's division of Montreal to choose a candidate for the bye election to the house of commons, tonight nominated J. J. Walsh, advocate. Five names went before the convention, but of these only three had any following. J. C. Walsh, alderman, M. J. Walsh and Dr. Guerin. On the fifth ballot M. J. Walsh's delegates flopped to J. C. Walsh and he won out, 85 to 50. Dr. Guerin has stated that he will run no matter what the choice of the convention may be.

IN TIME OF PEACE

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation ond the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared for a successful combat with the first cold you take? A cold can be cured more quicky when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

CANADIAN TRADE REVIEW.

Montreal, Nov 9.—Canadian trade is very satisfactory in all lines. Collections are better, but labor scarcity is complained of. Retail trade is better in Quebec, both city and country, and Montreal reports wholesale trade in holiday goods and for spring account very large. Cheese is less active and easier, but a big increase is made over last year

Toronto reports a large business in holiday and spring goods and most cotton goods have been withdrawn.

Most manufacturers are filled up with orders. Business in hardware is of good volume. Collections are good. Winnipeg reports the biggest fall business ever recorded. Along the Pacific coast trade is active, but labor is scarce at high wages and the outlook is of the best. Failures for the week number 28 as against 21 last week and 30 in this week a year ago

LEADER OF OPPOSITION

REVIEWS AT LENGTH "BETTER TERMS" SITUATION.

IMPORTANT STATEMENT ISSUED BY J. A. MACDONALD.

J. A. Macdonald, M. P. P., leader of the liberal party in British Columbia, is in Vancouver just now attending the full court. Last week he gave an interview to the Vancouver World on the "Better Terms" question, which appeared in last Saturday's issue of that paper. The Daily News, for some reason or other, did not receive last Saturday's issue of the World and it was only when the semi-weekly World of Nvember 5 came to hand yesterday that the full text of the interview became available for reproduction in these columns.

Mr. Macdonald's review of the situation created by premier McBride's handling of the case will be read with very great interest throughout southern British Columbia and follows in full hereunder:

"Why did'nt the premier take Mr. Geo. H. Cowan with him to the conference?" asked Mr. J. A. Macdonald, liberal leader in the provincial house, in an interview with the World this morning Mr. Macdonald was prepared to talk, and did so forcibly:

"I think it is a matter much more to be regretted that Mr. McBride should give to the question of "better terms" a partizan cast," he said. "I am aware, of course, that it is claimed as an excuse for this that some liberal newspapers have criticized his conduct at Ottawa; but, even so, the premier of the province should realize that the question is a large provincial one, and should be kept out of party politics."

"I have followed the discussion of premier McBride's course at Ottawa with keen interest, and a desire to arrive at the facts, and to come to a fair conclusion with regard to his presentation of British Columbia's claim for a rearrangement of the financial terms of union. It cannot be truthfully said either of the liberal party in the province or of myself that we have failed to keep the question of better terms on the high plane of non-partizanship. It is admitted that the resolution which contains the legislative assembly's declaration, that the province is entitled to special recognition, was proposed by me and was accepted by Mr. McBride in the house two years ago. This resolution embodies in a few words the sentiments of British Columbia on this subject and with this non-partizan and unanimous statement of British Columbia's claims Mr. McBride went to Ottawa to join in a conference with the premiers of the other provinces in an endeavor to come to a common agreement regarding better terms. Such a conference was the obvious, if indeed, not the necessary preliminary step, where it was proposed, as here, to alter the financial terms upon which each of the self-governing provinces entered the union.

"The propriety of such a conference will appeal to every reasonable man, and while it was known, for the past two years at least, that such a conference would be called, no objection, I believe, has ever been made against it, either by Mr. McBride or by his party press. Nor is such a conference without precedent. One was held in 1887, when a conservative government was in power at Ottawa, and another in 1902.

Mr. McBride distinctly recognized that the recent conference ought to take the whole question of better terms, including the special recognition claimed—and properly claimed—by British Columbia into consideration and formulate a general and comprehensive scheme of readjustment of the existing financial arrangements between the provinces and the dominion. He recognized this when he asked the conference to affirm the claim of British Columbia to special increases over and above those which we could claim in common with the other provinces.

"This being the situation we had a right to expect that our representative at the conference would be fully prepared to support his demands with the facts and arguments upon which British Columbia relies. Had he been so prepared he would not have had to resort to the weak expedient of asking for arbitration. The government of British Columbia had the means of collecting and placing before the conference all matters and facts showing our exceptional conditions and the contributions of this province to the dominion exchequer, and should have been prepared to submit an overwhelming case to the conference in favor of exceptional treatment.

"Mr. McBride says that he went alone. He did not take his attorney general with him, nor did he invoke—as he might have done—the assistance of Mr. George H. Cowan, of your city, who was engaged prior to the session of 1905 in collecting and tabulating facts and figures upon this subject and who made a very careful study of the question.

"Mr. McBride now claims that the conference had no right to deal with British Columbia's claims for special recognition—that this is a matter between the province and the dominion alone. If this be so, Mr. McBride failed in his duty by not taking the objection in the first place. He placed his province in a false position. He raised no objection to the tribunal until he had got an adverse decision from it. It was after his claim for arbitration had been rejected by all the other members, including his conservative friends from Ontario and Manitoba and after he himself had voted upon it that he filed his protest, claiming that the conference had not authority to deal with the matter.

"There is a controversy as to whether or not Mr. Whitney said that Mr. McBride was neither frank nor candid; but there can be little room for controversy about the candor of a gentleman who votes upon a resolution and then takes the position that neither he nor his fellow members had any right to vote upon it at all.

"The premier has placed himself in this unhappy position. On the one hand, if as he now claims the conference had no business with British Columbia's special demands, he should have taken that stand at the outset, and so eliminated that question from the deliberation of the conference altogether. On the other hand, if by reason of the terms of union constituting in effect a partnership, it was necessary that all the provinces should join in any change in their contractual relations, Mr. McBride should have stayed at his post and gone down fighting if need be, for the rights of his province. It is absurd to say, as he said in Victoria, that there was nothing he could do but withdraw.

"This question of better terms is a matter of plain and honest business dealing and diplomacy. To drag such a question into the arena of party politics is a crime against the people of this province.

"I venture to think that Mr. McBride's own friends regret the partizan tone of his speech at Victoria the other day, and the extreme partizanship displayed in the address presented to him by some of his political supporters there. He and they lost sight of the fact that British Columbia's case is a provincial not a party one.

"It is no less to be regretted that sister provinces should be belittled and ridiculed for no apparent reason unless to excite sectional prejudices. The question can be dealt with without resort to petty recriminations. If any one doubts that Mr. McBride attempted to give the whole question a political and sectional cast let him read the premier's speech as reported, apparently verbatim, in the Victoria Colonist. From beginning to end it is a labored attempt to make it appear that his failure was due to the Ottawa government, whereas it is an undisputed fact that the premier failed in the preliminary conference with the other provincial premiers, and that upon the two points pressed upon the conference by him, viz., arbitration and additional subsidies on a sliding scale every one of his fellow members, conservative as well as liberal, were opposed to the particular form of relief which Mr. McBride advocated for British Columbia. Does Mr. McBride suggest that the conservative premiers of Ontario and Manitoba desired to injure a fellow-conservative?

"In the face of these unquestioned facts, I fear Mr. McBride is a little weak in his insinuation of partnership. To sneer at the size of Prince Edward Island is equally weak. British Columbia is undoubtedly a big, broad and progressive province. We never tire of saying so, and we believe what we say. I hope we are big in ideas as well as in extent of territory. We are big enough to realise our responsibilities as one of the members of a united British North America, and I trust we are big enough to hold our own in any conference, and big enough to take defeat, should it come. But are we defeated? I do not think so. Mr. McBride's retreat was ill-advised, to use no stronger word. In his Victoria speech, Mr. McBride asks, "What would a liberal prime minister have done?" The answer is, he would have stood to his guns. He would have at least gone down fighting. Arbitration and a sliding scale would not have been the only strings to his bow. If the terms of union can only be altered with the unanimous consent of all the provinces, then we must get that consent or fail. Mr. McBride, who ought to know his case, leaves us in the dark on that point; but this I do know, that the dominion has the power to assist our province in other ways, if not by subsidies such as Mr. McBride claimed at the conference, then by still more liberal treatment than we have been receiving in the past, and by assisting us in the development of those resources which nature has so freely lavished upon us.

We find no indication, however, in Mr. McBride's speech of any attempt to negotiate upon lines other than that of cash subsidies upon a sliding scale. For my part, I beleive in the future of British Columbia too sincerely to be wedded to the idea that our prosperity depends upon a per capita grant of $1 sliding down to 25 cents. What we need is present help to enable us to develop and reasonably conserve what we have and we need have little fear of future generations.

"I hope the premier will reconsider his determination to throw himself at the feet of the king," said Mr. Macdonald, smiling. "Considering that it is admitted that no obligation binding on the dominion or other provinces has been broken, the sacrifice would be both undignified and futile."

"What is the present position of the question?" asked The World's representative.

"The most important phase of the question now is, where are we at?" replied Mr. Macdonald. "Our champion came away before the business was finished. I hope he will at once outline a policy which will enable British Columbia to recover her equilibrium. We have a good case. The government must see to it that it is not thrown away, either by reason of childish pique or to obtain an election cry."

Precepts and Warnings for Those Who Would

Dye Well

Let thy faith be fixed in the wonderful transforming powers of DIAMOND DYES; the results they give will cheer thine heart.

Never allow any interested or wily dealer to recommend for thy use some inferior or imitation make of dye. If thou wilt hearken to his words, he will rejoice at thy simplicity of character and will delight himself over thy wrath and bitter disappointment.

If thou wouldst avoid handling poisonous ingredients, use only the DIAMOND DYES for thy home dyeing work; they are the only harmless and pure dyes.

When times are hard and money scarce, thine heart often craves for new and stylish colors and garments. By the use of the magic DIAMOND DYES thy wishes can be fully realized, because DIAMOND DYES recreate old dresses and make them to look like new.

If thou wouldst have a smiling face, a happy heart and an easy mind, do thy coloring with the DIAMOND DYES; they never cause worry or grief to those who make use of them.

Send to Wells and Richardson Co., Ltd., 200 Mountain street, Montreal, P.Q., for valuable Dye Book and Card of Dyed Samples; free to any address.

Your Doctor

Can cure your Cough or Cold, no question about that, but—why go to all the trouble and inconvenience of looking him up, and then of having his prescription filled, when you can step into any drug store in Canada and obtain a bottle of SHILOH'S CURE for a quarter.

Why pay two to five dollars when a twenty-five cent bottle of SHILOH will cure you as quickly?

Why not do as hundreds of thousands of Canadians have done for the past thirty-four years: let SHILOH be your doctor whenever a Cough or Cold appears.

SHILOH will cure you, and all druggists back up this statement with a positive guarantee.

The next time you have a Cough or Cold cure it with

Synopsis of Canadian Homestead Regulations

ANY available Dominion Lands within the Railway belt in British Columbia, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Coal lands may be purchased at $10 an acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2000 pounds shall be collected on the gross out-of Orange Meat simply grows on you. The crisp, toasted flakes---with the unique blending of spicy malt and wheat sugars---take an added deliciousness every time you eat them.

If you want to get all your old-time pleasure out of breakfast and supper, eat Orange Meat.

A lady in Victoria, B.C., writes: "You will see from the coupons I am sending, that we are still using Orange Meat, which the children like very much. They won't eat oatmeal since we started with Orange Meat."

Many new premiums have been added to the already large list of useful and beautiful articles given to users of Orange Meat. Every 15c package contains a coupon good for premiums.

Write for premium list to "Orange Meat, Kingston."

ADVANCE IN PLATED WARE

New York, Nov. 9—Following the recent advance in sterling silver knives, forks and spoons, the manufacturers of plated silverware announced new price lists on these articles yesterday. The International company, which comprises several affiliated concerns, put up its prices, one of the officers said, from five to ten per cent on all plated ware. Hollow ware, which includes, pitchers, bowls, etc., remain at the old prices.

RUSSIAN TRAIN ROBBERY

TERRORISTS' SUCCESSFUL RAID ON MAIL CAR

SECURED BOOTY NOW ESTIMATED AT $650,000

Rogow, Russian Poland, Nov. 9—The Cossacks have thus far been unsuccessful in their pursuit of the revolutionist train robbers, numbering 100 well armed men, who surrounded this station last night, threw a bomb at the mail car, derailed it, killing or wounding several soldiers of the escort, and fled with a sum of money said to amount to $650,000. The robbery was well planned; it occurred at 9 o'clock, while the train was changing engines. The station master declares the revolutionists hid in the neighboring forest, and were excellently disciplined, their commander giving orders through bugle signals. When the robbery was completed the revolutionists transported their booty to two wagons and marched away in fine military order, singing socialistic songs. Rogow is now occupied by troops.

Eye witnesses confirm the statement that the revolutionists were hid in the neighboring woods. When the train stopped the men, armed with rifles, sprang upon all sides, quickly executing the orders conveyed by the bugle. They shot and killed the gendarmes standing in front of the station. Sentinels were placed at all approaches and the telegraph wires were cut. While some of the robbers overpowered the trainmen, others attacked the escort of the mail car. Three bombs, not one, it appears were thrown. Two of them exploded with terrific force, blowing the cars into match wood, killing five soldiers and wounding 11 others. The robbers then ransacked the mail cars, transferring the bank notes, gold and silver to their own bags, and, unfolding the red flag, formed up in military order, marched out of the station, entered wagons which were in waiting in the forest, and drove away.

It was not until three hours later that a detachment of Cossacks, hurriedly sent for appeared on the scene and started in pursuit.

The walls of the railway station were riddled with hundreds of bullets fired by the revolutionists. One of the mail clerks endeavored to catch the first bomb thrown at the car, but it exploded and cut off both his hands.

The authorities admit the loss of only $1400 in cash, besides the unknown contents of the registered letters.

WHOLESALERS ASSOCIATION

Monthly Meeting Adjourned a Week For Eelection of Officers.

President Fred Starkey occupied the chair last night at the monthly meeting of the local Wholesalers' Association. There was only a bare quorum present and it was finally decided to adjourn the main business of the meeting until next Friday evening and all the members will be duly notified and particularly requested ot attend.

After reading the minutes of the last regular monthly meeting H Goodeve moved that the question of confirmation of the minutes be laid over until next meeting owing to the small attendance present. George Nunn seconded the motion which carried.

E. K. Beeston to whom had been referred the question of existing freight rates and alleged discrimination against Nelson by the railways, stated that he had applied to the C P. R. for all existing freight tariffs, had been kindly received and given all the information asked for. He had since been busy going over the information given in detail but at present was not in a position to give a full report on the situation, as more information from merchants and others must be had before a formal report could be laid before the association.

Mr. Starkey—We will want the tonnage in and out of Nelson.

Mr Beeston—Yes, I have that in view and can get the figures from the railways

Mr. Goodeve suggested adjourning the meeting for a week, when a larger attendance could be obtained. Mr. Nunn seconded the motion and the meeting adjourned until next Friday evening when officers for the year will be elected and otehr business transacted.

SIRDAR SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS

Petition Forwarded to Superintendent Robinson by Heads of Families.

The people of Sirdar have petitioned the superintendent of education in the matter of their school requirements. A copy of the petition forwarded follows and it will be seen that there are fifteen children of school age waiting the necessary action on the part of the council of education before they can secure the educational facilities guaranteed to the children of this province.

The petition of Sirdar parents reads as follows:

Alexander Robinson, Esq., Superintendent of Education, Victoria, B. C.

Dear Sir: We, the undersigned, residents and parents of children in Sirdar, respectfully draw your attention to the fact that there is no school nearer than twelve miles from Sirdar; that we have fifteen children of school age in this place; that we are in a position to supply building with its appurtenances for school use as a school house and to bear all expenses in connection with running of same and we therefore respectfully petition the council of public instruction through you to make the necessary investigation prior to the establishment of a school district in this place at the opening of winter school term, if such investigation show reason therefore.

Signed by seventeen residents and parents.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

Born, in this city on Friday, Nov. 9, to the wife of Donald Morrison, Hall street, a daughter.

Born in this city on Saturday, Nov. 10, to the wife of P. O'Malley, Hall street, a daughter.

Paul S. Couldrey, manager of the Le Roi No. 2 mine at Rossland, came over yesterday and is a guest at the Strathcona.

James A. Gilker's handsome new residence on Victoria street west is rapidly nearing completion and Mr. Gilker expects to move in about December 15.

As showing the progress made by Vancouver it is worthy of note that the bank clearings for the week, published today, show an increase of 74.5 per cent over the same period last year.

The local curlers have organized for the season, but so far the hockey players have not been heard from. The Rossland miner is urging players of that camp to get into line and local supporters of the game should get busy.

The anniversary of the Methodist church will be observed on Sunday, morning and evening. The evening service will be distinctly musical. In addition to several selections by the choir and a solo by Mrs. Christmas, a list of well known hymns has been chosen for congregational singing.

Martin Burrell came back last night from a visit to Creston on fruit business. He says that the industry is making great progress in and around Creston, over 13,000 trees having been planted in the various ranches. The soil is excellent but land clearing is somewhat difficult and expensive.

The Consolidated M. and S. company has commemnced the payment of damages to the Rossland claimants for losses sustained through the powder explosion at the War Eagle-Centre Star mine in December last. Fifty claimants have received $4242, and the work of paying the balance is progressing daily.

The Nelson Coke and Gas company yesterday completed the alterations to their plant that have been under way for some time past. In July one furnace was taken down and rebuilt and yesterday the rebuilding of the second furnace was completed satisfactorily. Manager Shipley states that the company has plenty of coal on hand and that due provision has been made for a further supply as needed. The plant now has a daily capacity of between 40,000 and 50,000 feet.

Robert Mitchell, the Rossland boy, with the weakness for making contradictory affidavits, has been taken to Vancouver to be cross-examined before the full court in the Great Northern railway's appeal against Blue and Deschamp's $20,000 judgment obtained by the lumber company for damages by fire alleged to have been caused by the railway.

Kwong Wing Chong intended opening up his Christmas stock of Chinese goods in the ground floor of the Hall block n Baker street, but the recent sale of the property by Dr. Hall to A. S. Malmstrom, prevented the plan from being carried out and instead Kwong is enlarging his store on Front street and will make his Christmas display there.

Manager E. M. Hand of the Ymir mine, is at the Strathcona on one of his buisness trips. He says that the Fernie strike is causing him some trouble with the mine concentrates which are being stored at the mine, but that otherwise everything at the Ymir is progressing satisfactorily with about the same number of stamps dropping as in the past. There are no new developments of note at the mine.

The L.O.T.M. held a most enjoyable and wholly successful social and dance in the K. of P. hall last evening when a large number of the order and their friends assembled and went through a long program of dances. Irwin's orchestra supplied excellent dance music, and shortly after midnight a tasty supper was served. The party broke up at an early hour this morning. The fish pond afforded excellent amusement and the drill given by a number of children was one of the features of the evening.
