FAILS IN FOG

Electric Signalling on Underground Railway

A REAR END COLLISION

THREE PERSONS KILLED AND A DOZEN INJURED ON METROPOLITAN UNDERGROUND RAILWAY AT WEST HAMPSTEAD—FIRST FATALITY RECORDED.

London, Oct. 26—Three persons were killed and a dozen others were injured this morning in a rear end collision at the West Hampstead station of the Metropolitan underground railroad.

The rear train, it apears, ran by the signals in a fog and crashed into a train which was standing at the station.

This is the first accident of this kind since the London lines were electrified, when a systme of electric signalling was installed, which the company claimed would absolutely preclude the possibility of such an accident.

The Metropolitan has had a remarkable record of immunity from fatalities. This is said to be the first accident resulting in the death of a passenger although 300 million people have been carried since the opening of the road.

MINING COMING AHEAD

Recent Development in the Mines of the Lardeau District

F. R. Blochberger passed through Nelson yesterday on his way back to Rossland and Spokane from the Lardeau district where he has been interesting D. Suksdorf and H. Suksdorf of Spangle, Wash., in the Mount Angel, a property lying near the Eva and Oyster-Criterion. Messrs. Suksdorf are satisfied with what they have seen and heard and are now sending up a mining engineer to report upon the property and if that report is favorable will proceed to develop it on a large scale, erecting a mill and putting in a compressor plant. There are several veins on the property, that of the Eca and Oyster-Criterion both running through it, but the vein to be developed is one of quartz, 14 feet wide, assays from which run all the way from $10.83 to $574 to the ton.

Speaking of some of the nearby properties, Mr. Blochberger says that while the Eva is working well the Oyster-Criterion is closed down because of litigation. This is also the case with regard to the Kingston, a property which Mr. Blochberger nearly succeeded in floating a couple of years ago, but was stopped, he claims, because of an action brought to establish a claim to a small fraction, very much smaller than an acre, and which was successful although the claim has since been abandoned. The Lucky Jack is putting up a new stamp mill. On the Silver Dollar there has been a lot of work done, the proprietors having spent over $200,000 in development. This includes a stamp mill and a compressor plant. No shipments have as yet been made, although the mill has been running for the past five months and about 500 tons of concentrates are ready. With the coming of the snow this will be rawhided down by the manager, L. E. Beck of Camborne.

BIG CROWD CHEERED ON THE CONTESTANTS

(Special to The Daily News)

Winnipeg, Oct. 26—Before a crowd of over 2000 enthusiasts Marsh beat Shrubb in a 15 mile contest last night at the Arena. Shrubb was within one lap of his 13th mile when his left ankle gave out completely and he was compelled to retire. It was a grand race throughout up to this point and it was most unfortunate for Shrubb that this accident befell him as he looked a sure winner, having made good the four laps which Marsh had gained by his allowance of two minutes and also having gained an additional lap on Marsh.

Joe Fahey introduced the two runners in a few well chosen remarks and gave the crowd a good idea of the several performances of the two contestants. Shrubb's best time for the same distance was 1 hour and 20 minutes, which he made at Stamford Bridge, London, England, and Marsh's best was 1 hour and 26 minutes in the Hamilton road race last year. The record for the world is 1 hour and 20 minutes created by F. Appleby, also at Stamford Bridge

It was 8:45 when a pistol shot sent Marsh on his journey of 15 miles, ten laps to a mile. Shrubb followed two minutes afterwards and went off in great style. It was evident from the start that Shrubb as after records and bent on winning. He covered his first mile in 4 minutes 36 seconds as against 5 minutes 6 seconds of Marsh. He gained steadily on Marsh after the first laps and at the 46th lap had gained three laps on his opponent. Both were running a good race but it was plainly evident that barring accidents Shrubb had the race well in hand. At the 60th lap Shrub was only half a lap behind Marsh and at the 70th he was practically level. He passed Marsh at the 71st lap, amid huge enthusiasm and from thence onward gained steadily and at ten miles he was fully three-quarters of a lap ahead of Marsh. Having done that distance in the magnificent time of 51 minutes 18 seconds and also having beaten his time at River Park on Saturday by 1 minute 2 seconds. Marsh's time for ten miles was 53 minutes 38 1-2 seconds. At the 12th mile Shrubb had gained exactly a lap on his opponent and was going very strong and looked an easy winner, but it was shortly after this that the unexpected happened. Both runners were running neck and neck except that Shrubb was a lap ahead, when of a sudden Shrubb was seen to go very white and within ten seconds he had given up, his left leg having completely given way.

It was apparent to all that he had badly strained his leg and the crowd showed fitting sympathy to the great runner in his misfortune. It was a very disappointing ending to what promised to be a really grand and exicting race. However, Marsh put up a very fine performance and is to be heartily congratulated on his doing so. He finished the course in the time of 1 hour 22 minutes and 58 4-5 seconds.

At the finish of the race Shrubb came out and made a short speech. He greatly regretted that this unfortunate accident had occurred and was afraid of running any more races this year However, if he could "nurse" his leg sufficiently well to e able to run again in a fortnight he would do so, to prove to Winnipeg sportsmen what he could do He was enthusiastically cheered, as was also Marsh, who came in for a great ovation His time for the 15 miles was exceedingly good and compares favorably with the world's record

LARDO'S NEW DREDGE

Powerful Machine is Now Nearing Completion

(Special to The Daily News)

Poplar, Oct. 26—The completion of the first dredge in the Lardo, located at Gold Hill, is being delayed owing to the non-arrival of the last shipment of machinery now more than seven weeks overdue. C. R. Busohner, the general manager and G. W. Stead, the engineer, who represent the other interested Philadelphia capitalists, says they will be able to make the necessary tests before work closes down for the winter months. The dredge is capable of moving 2000 cubic yards of sand daily and a boulder of five tons can be taken away in the scraper. The intention is to go to bed rock, but it is not thought they will go lower than 60 feet, although there is power and cable to go 100 feet If things turn out successfully, two more dredges will be built in the spring. The dredging lease extending over five miles of ground, is expected to take ten years to work out.

A Philadelphia engineer is experimenting with a separator designed to save the by-products which if successful will be placed in operation on the dredge.

SUSPECTED BANDITS.

Arrest of Supposed Train Robbers at Spokane.

Spokane, Oct. 26.—With $14,000 in national bank notes concealed on their persons, at the point of drawn revolvers and surrounded by a squad of stern-faced detectives, two rough-looking, shabbily dressed men, believed to be the bandits who held up the Great Northern Oriental Limited train near Rondo siding, Mont., in the early morn of September 12, 1907, and secured $40,000 in greenbacks, threw up their hands amid the luxurious surroundings of the diner attached to a Great Northern westbound train just within the city limits last evening.

When searched at the police station $14,100 in bills was taken from their clothing. The descriptions given of highwaymen exactly fit the pair taken last night. On the paper wrappers about the packages of greenbacks was the stamp of the Commercial National bank of Chicago, with the date Sept. 7, 1907, the date on which the money is thought to have been expressed by the Chicago bank. The suspects gave their names as C. E. McDonald, 43 years old, and E. Smith, 33 years old. They said they were miners.

SUNDAY AMUSEMENT

Montreal, Oct. 26—As a result of a deputation of theatre managers, who called to see chief of police Campeau yesterday, and furthermore acting on the advise of the city law office, no attempt will be made by the police to close Sunday amusement resorts wherein moving pictures are exhibited. The change of view was due largely to the theatre managers convincing the authorities that they were not giving a theatrical performance. They admit they are giving amusement.,

CHINESE CONCESSIONS

Pekin, Oct. 26—The Pekin Syndicate, a British corporation, holding the largest concessions China has ever granted, proposes to sell back to the Chinese government all its holdings in the province of Shansi, where it is claimed to have the sole rights over the immense mineral fields. This has so incensed the inhabitants that it nearly precipitated a rebellion there last year. In the campaign of the Chinese government against foreign concession it has been successful in recovering something at least from all the principal concessions given to foreigners since 1893.

MADE DIVISIONAL POINT

(Special to The Daily News)

Grand Forks, Oct. 26—Following many reports in this connection, comes the statement today from official circles that the establishment of Grand Forks as a divisional point on the C.P.R. will be started this fall. The work of building a mammoth round house and machine shop is to be commenced during November instead of next spring as was formerly stated.

The Great Northern railway has appointed W. W. Palmer of Bossburg to the position of roadmaster for the Grand Forks division to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. LeBlanc.

DEFRAUDED CHILDREN.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—Nearly nine thousand children have claims against the defunct York County Loan and Savings company, which amounts in all to over $56,000, according to the report filed with official referee Kappelle by W. H. Hunter today.

RUN IS OVER

New York Gets Loan of Ten Million Dollars

WANT GOLD FROM LONDON

SITUATION SAID TO HAVE BEEN SAVED BY ACTION OF THE TREASURY—THE NINETY DAY WITHDRAWAL RULE HAS BEEN PUT INTO EFFECT.

New York, Oct. 26.—The members of the clearing house committee went into session at 10 o'clock this morning.

The sub-treasury received $10,000,000 in small bills from Washington.

The Trust Company of America opened its doors as usual at 10 o'clock.

There were less than 100 depositors in line and the company's officials declared that the crisis was over.

Money on call nominal, no loans, time loans nominal, sixty days, 6½ to 7 per cent bid, and 90 days 7 per cent, for six months, 6 per cent bid.

The strain on the National banks was considerably relieved today by the decision of the Savings banks to require advance notices of large withdrawals. This put a stop to heavy disbursements by the Savings banks which would have been compelled to draw this money from the National banks. A few of the smaller savings banks applied this rule rigorously when any considerable number of the creditors lined up at the paying teller's window. These banks told their depositors they would pay out only in small amounts and to satisfy urgent needs. The National City bank today announced the engagement of $3,650,000 of gold in London. This engagement was made on the bank's own resources and without government aid. It has no connection with the South African gold which will arrive in London on Monday.

Leading bankers declared today that conditions are such that they would probably be able to import gold from London on Monday to the extent of about ten million dollars. The bankers' pool, which has been supporting the stock exchange houses, gave them further assurances today that money would be provided for call loans when needed. Early conditions in the stock market were quiet. Opening prices showed a good advance over last night but there was little activity. There was a sprinkling of losses and some reactions after the strong opening, but the tone generally held steady in the scondary dealings.

The Terminal Bank of Brooklyn, a small state institution, with a capital stock of one hundred thousand dollars and deposits of about $240,000, suspended payment today.

The clearing house committee adjourned after being in session more than half an hour. No decision was reached as to whether the clearing house certificates should be issued. It was understood that such a plan was opposed by some of the most influential bankers.

State superintendent of banking Williams said this morning: "Things look a little better. There is a general tone of encouragement all along the line." The directors of the Lincoln Trust company announced that the bank is in a position to meet every demand, that it is stronger than any previous this week. And that the withdrawal of funds is decreasing.

The announcement was made today that negotiations have practically been completed for the importation of a large amount of gold from Europe. Money on call was loaned in the stock exchange at fifty per cent. The closing of the Terminal Bank of Brooklyn was due to the fact that it's repository, the Williamsburg Trust company suspended payment yesterday. The vice president of the Williamsburg Trust company, William T. Reid, was president of the Terminal bank.

James Stillman said this morning after the conference at the clearing house: "The situation here was saved by the heroic action of the secretary of the treasury, who has been so ably assisted by the whole-hearted co-operation of Mr. Morgan."

Soon after arriving at the sub-treasury this morning secretary Cortelyou had a conference with George W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Co. Mr. Perkins subsequently said: "The atmosphere is clearing up as anyone can see." Mr. Perkins was asked if he thought this would be the last day of financial difficulties. He replied: "I think it will."

The First National bank today notified stock exchange houses to which it had made loans on Friday at 50 per cent, that the loans would be continued over till Monday at 30 per cent.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 26.—The Industrial Trust company posted notices in the savings and participation departments just before the opening hour today, stating that the rule requiring ninety days' notice for withdrawals of deposits had been put into operation. Checking accounts will not be affected by the action.

Only a few persons were in line before the doors of the Industrial Trust company early today and it was generally believed that the worst of the financial panic had passed. A committee from the Providence clearing *house had charge of the financial situ*ation today. The Trust company opened at the usual hous and the announcement of the ninety days' notice enforcement was received quietly. The various branches of the company reported similar conditions.

London, Oct. 26.—All the leading weeklies today discussed the American financial situation and generally take their customary attitude that it is due to the unsoundness of commercial methods.

The Statist says: "The lesson of the crisis is not that American honesty is less than that of other countries, but that the opportunities for successful dishonesty are more abundant and more tempting." The Statist asserts also that it is the outcome of the fact that with a few distinguished exceptions, the more respectable classes do not participate in politics, which now is the career for men of low character for the most part, many of whom have failed in other careers.

The Outlook, like the Statist, views the situation from the political viewpoint, declaring that America is in a radical mood, with an appetite for confiscatory legislation. All the papers praise secretary Cortelyou's prompt action in affording relief, and president Roosevelt's attitude toward what they call frenzied finance.

TERRIBLE PRAIRIE FIRE.

(Special to The Daily News)

Swift Current, Oct. 26.—A terrible prairie fire has been raging northwest of the town all day and tonight the police are turning out in gangs to go and fight it, it being apparently within five or six miles of the town. The whole western sky is in a lurid glare which lights up the country for miles around the town tonight. It is thought by many there will be some stacks of hay or buildings on fire, there being many settlers in that direction. A heavy wind all forenoon brought the fire down for many miles from the west. It will be a big loss as lots of stock ranges in that country and they will be without any feed whatever.

CHINESE GOING HOME

TRAIN LOAD AT WINNIPEG CAUSED MUCH INTEREST

JOHN AND HIS TITLED WIFE THE CHIEF ATTRACTION

Winnipeg, Oct. 26—A special train of eight couches, loaded with Chinese men, women and children, attracted considerable attention in the train shed of the C.P.R. today.

There were 244 in the party, including 15 women and about 30 youngsters and the majority had come all the way from Spain, South America and the Sandwich Islands.

Although possessed of sufficient money to pay all expenses to the other side of the world and to practically "live happily ever afterwards," among the flowers in the land of their birth, almost all the outfit were slovenly attired and a most sickly looking lot. There was one section of a car, however, that presented a Christian like appearance and this was taken up by a wealthy celestial and his dusky skinned wife, who is a native Cuban and said to be a member of the nobility in that country. The young wife resembled somewhat the appearance of a reservation squaw, but her person was adorned with a wealth of diamonds and she wore a necklace and rings of fine gold and precous stones.

John was infatuated with his young wife and his eyes never wandered far from the vision of his affections. He, too, wore diamonds, pins and rings and informed the reporter in pidgin English that one of the latter was valued at $1000. It was a magnificent stone. The Chinese magnate confided to the scribe that he had made his pile by investing in Cuban plantations and that he was trying to get home in time for Christmas which comes early in December. When he gets back among the natives he will set himself up as a lord in their midst and let his finger nails grow to unheard of lengths.

Seven of the Chinamen were confined in a special car. They are being deported to China on account of being unable to produce proper certificates. The entire train is thoroughly guarded against escape but the officials say there is little danger when the Chinaman is homeward bound.

DIVINE SPARK OF HEROISM.

Twenty-eight survivors of the charge of the Light Brigade, immortalized by Tennyson's poem, joined on Friday last in celebrating the anniversary of that famous encounter. The event was rendered notable by the collection of a fund for the benefit of the survivors, nearly all of whom are poor.

It was on October 25, 1854, just fifty-three years ago, that lord Lucan, commanding the British cavalry at Balaklava, through a misconception of the orders of the commander-in-chief, lord Raglan, directed lord Cardigan to make the historic charge. With a battery in front and one on each side, 670 horsemen hewed their way past the guns and routed the Russian cavalry. Of the 670 only 198 "all that was left of them"—rode back to the British lines. Twenty-eight of these 198 are still living, and the British public has been called upon to express at this late day their appreciation of the heroic action of the aged veterans by providing for their last days.

According to a New York despatch last week, Lieut. Cronan, on the American battleship Connecticut, averted a terrible disaster by his heroism. According to the story, Lieut. Cronan was in command of one of the eight-inch guns on the Connecticut during recent target practice off New England. As the powder charge was thrust into the gun the lieutenant noticed that from a small hole in the bag a quantity of powder had escaped and fallen into the threads into which the breech-block of the gun screws. Realizing that the action of screwing the breech-lock home would ignite the powder before the block could be firmly screwed home, causing the entire charge to explode back into the turret, Lieut. Cronan shouted an order which stopped every man in the turret as he stood, except the man who was closing the breech of the gun. He did not hear the shout, and continued to swing the block home. Lieut. Cronan sprang forward and thrust his hand into the breech of the gun. The breech closed on his hand, badly mangling it, and cleanly cutting off the first finger, which fell into the grooves and caused the closing mechanism to clog. The sailor at the breech of the gun fainted when he discovered what he had done and what he had narrowly escaped doing. If the breech had been closed it is likely that every man in the turret would have been killed.

Just eight years ago this month Jim Harmsworth, a Rossland miner, demonstrated the spirit of true heroism, not infrequently found amongst the miners in the Kootenays. Harmsworth's two partners were working away on a Rossland property at the bottom of a shaft some 80 or 100 feet down, loading up the ore bucket, while Jim was running the windlass at the surface. Just as a loaded bucket reached the top the handle of the windlass broke and the bucket started down at lightning speed. If the falling bucket was not stopped it meant the death of the two men below. Without a moment's hesitation Harmsworth thrust his right shoulder in between the rapidly revolving cog wheels and the iron eat and eat into the yielding flesh, and finally the wheels stopped when the loaded bucket was within a few feet of the men below. Harmsworth fainted and was found shortly afterwards by some passing miners, with his arm and shoulder tide up in the cog wheels of the windlass. Later the Rossland people gave him a gold medal and a public reception. Three years ago he died in Spokane.

The spirit of self-sacrifice, of unselfishness, of true heroism, never dies.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Next Wednesday will be the last day on which properly qualified men and women residents of this city can register at the city hall so as to be on the voters' list for the approaching municipal election. The registration to date has been unusually heavy, but any one not already on the list should not fail to attend to the matter tomorrow.

During the last week alderman Harold Selous' name has been very prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for the mayoralty election. Mr. Selous' long residence here, his services as alderman, and his own personality, appear to catch the fancy of many ratepayers. The alderman has as yet made no definite announcement of his candidature.

The adjourned meeting of the city council will be held tomorrow evening. The question of appointing an electrical engineer will come up and there should be no great difficulty in obtaining a straight vote of the council on the matter so that the ratepayers many clearly understand how the aldermen stand. The circumstances surrounding the resignation of electrician Smith, a month ago, and that official's reinstatement by the mayor, are fresh in the public mind and it is not necessary to recall them. The ratepayers, remembering what has occurred, will note with keen interest what is done by the council in the matter tomorrow night. As has already been pointed out, there is little or no likelihood of a competent man being got to take the position at the salary offered, viz $135 a month, but that fact will certainly not justify the council in permanently reinstating Mr. Smith to the vacancy. If a competent man is to be got a sufficiently generous salary must be offered. There are other pressing municipal matters upon which the ratepayers would very much like to learn the views of the aldermen and it is to be hoped the members of the council will make their respective positions clear beyond question in view of the approaching elections.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

New York, Oct. 26.—Ruffles and frills! No other words are expressive of the billowy white heaps of lingerie displayed in the stores and exchanges. There seems to be no limit to the ingenuity of the designers, and one wonders if these dainty articles are really intended for wear, their delicacy appears too frail for service, but the desire for elaborate trimmings, daintiness and fineness is not yet gratified in the heart of the American woman. Both French and American makers vie with each other. Each has its clientels; the former has been up to the present time, much more expensive than the American garments; but now that handwork is so in demand, the French influence is leaving its mark even upon American goods, and the price is accordingly increasing.

A very attractive type of lingerie petticoat had a flounce, the upper part of which has lingerie material cut in deep points on its lower edge. In each point was an inset of lace. Between the points was an inset of alternate up and down rows of valenciennes and lingerie bands set together with a tiny feather stitching. A lace frill decorated the bottom of the flounce.

Another mode has a flounce of fine batiste laid on the upper skirt, in clusters of tiny tucks under a veining. A ribbon was drawn through embroidered eyelets set between the clusters of tucks and tied in bow-knots at every third eyelet.

The simplest form of the handsome lingerie petticoat is a fitted top of soft sheer lingerie stuff finished at the bottom by a deep flounce of handsomee embroidery set on by a wide band of beading. Wide liberty satin ribbon is run through the beading and tied in long loops and ends on both sides. The body of the skirt usually extends beneath the flounce and is finished with a narrow lace trimmed ruffle. Many of the lingerie petticoats have deep flounces, but there is no bulkiness where they are set on. The flounce is carefully shaped and set on smoothly by the means of tiny tucks narrowing toward the bottom so as to obtain a good flare. Ribbon plays no unimportant part in the trimming of the fine skirt, drawn through a beading it may head a skirt flounce, which buttons under the heading to the foundation skirt, or it may be drawn through a blind tuck just below the veining which covers the place of joining, or it may be drawn through eyelets and fastened in great bows on each side. During the summer a good many colored wash skirts were in fashion, those of colored pongee with deep scalloped flounces embroidered in self-color were perhaps most favored, and there came others none the less attractive in linen and linen embroidered in a contrasting color.

The lawn skirt in color is also shown and when joined with the colored underskirt to match is exceedingly attractive under a muslin dress or those of thin silk. Changeable taffetas are serviceable for this purpose as well as the striped, checked or plaid silks. For more elaborate purposes still there are the chiffon taffetas trimmed with tucking, quilling, lace, while satins are much liked for skirts bearing whole laces, flounces or flounces of lingerie material lace trimmed.

Whole flounces are made of alterating bands of valenciennes lace and embroidery. Lace frills edge such a flounce, a three-inch width of lace edging being the ordinary choice.

Some nightgowns of the simplest character were recently seen, everyone of these garments were made of fine French nainsook most carefully cut and made. A hem, dainty feather-stitched by hand, through which ribbon could be drawn and edged with narrow lace, was the only neck finish of some of these garments. Others had merely a valenciennes frill and one of the lovely fine headings now so much used, set on by hand. On many of the season's models the X yokes are deep enough to give an empire suggestion. It is called a yoke, but is made deep enough and looks more like a little body. Thi sbody may be original in shape and elaborately trimmed with embroidery, lace, tuckings, insets of lace, indeed every kind of ornamentation may be used. The lower edge is often finished with a broad beading through which a broad ribbon is drawn to sinulate the girdle, and many use the true girdle of liberty satin. To obtain plenty of fullness the skirt of the gown is laid on the yokes with tucks. A genuine high necked gown is rare, but compromise is often made by giving a model a high back and a demi-decollete front. Of these the square cut model is decidedly the most becoming and is shown in the most attractive designs, the very slight V cut being almost universally becoming.

As the cooler weather comes on, the underskirt for wear beneath the lingerie blouse will be in order. The simplest of these under sils are of light-weight linen, batiste or China silk in a solid color and absolutely plain. Such a waist will go with nearly any blouse and is far preferable to those having more ornamentation. If the outer waist is plain, thin or of solid color, the waist beneath may have a front, or the sides of the front opening decorated with insertion, lace insets, etc., but one must closely study the effect from under the outer waist. The checked silks are pretty when made up in these underwaists.

Two other articles are usually included among lingerie effects the matinee and tea-gown. To the former a wide range is given both in material and make as it is a garment worn not only in the dressing room, but at many informal affairs, restricted to the family circle or when receiving informally an intimate friend.

A matinee, or more properly a dressing sack in this instance, of simple cut, was made from pink challis covered with trailing vines and flowers in dull greens and browns, finished with a band of brown embroidery. The V shaped neck was finished with a band which also rand down the front and was used for the belt. Tucks on each side of the front ran from the neck to just above the bust, this giving sufficient fullness in the front. The sleeves were full and gathered just below the elbow into a band of the embroidery and the waist is becomingly gathered into the waist under the belt. A more decorative matinee could be developed from cream rajah and embroidered the scalloped edges with robin's blue silk. The yoke, stole-fronts were strips and sleeves are cut in one piece all edges being embroidered and slit shirred to the yoke and the neck is low above which peeps a collar of the tucked chiffon. The closing is made with tiny hooks and silk eyes, and blue bows decorate the fronts.—Catherine Mann-Payzant.

STOCKS FOR THE WEEK

MARKET WAS ERRATIC OWING TO NEW YORK PANIC

AN EASIER FEELING PREVAILED AT THE CLOSE

(Reported by B. B. Mighton & Co.)

At the opening of the week's trading fresh declines were witnessed, with the market very erratic, due to the panic in New York and other eastern financial centers. Towards the close more strength was manifested and an easier feeling prevailed, and tradings became more active.

B. C. Copper sold down to $4 but advanced slightly during the last few days and is now holding firm at about $4.25, with a large volume of business recorded.

Dominion Copper fluctuated between $1.87 1-2 and $2.12 1-2, and showed but little demand for this vicinity.

Snowstorm sold down to 80c. but rallied again and no offerings were noticeable at the close under $1.10 Other copper stocks of the Coeur d'Alene also showed advances at the close with a little more interest manifested.

Alberta Coal and Coke sold up 2c. per share and closed stronger than for several weeks. International Coal held its price of 90c and showed almost no change Galbraith Coal continued firm and active. Diamond Vale Coal sold off about 2c per share and closed weak, with no demand. Consolidated Smelters, Canadian Goldfields and Cariboo-McKinnep remained almost unchanged Canadian Marconi had another advance, selling to $3.50 per share, but with very little offering even at this price. Rambler-Cariboo and Sullivan continued unchanged, with no business offered

MR. KIPLING, STATESMAN

(New York World)

Mr. Kipling has solved the Asiatic problem for Canada. It took him the best part of a week. "Pump in immigrants from the old country," he says. "Pump them in. England has five million people to spare."

Having disposed of this troublesome question he can now turn to other pressing matters of imperial concern.

Running the British empire keeps Mr. Kipling pretty busy. Life for him has become a steady grind of great affairs of state. During the Boer war he financed the hospital service with a music hall ballad. Then he adopted the Morris tube for village marksmen to shoot through and created a nation in arms by organizing a rifle club. He wiped Russia off the map with "Truce of the Bear." He smashed the alliance with the Goth and the shameless Hun when the European fleets blew up the mud fort in Venezuela. He commanded the United States to take up the white man's burden in the Philippines. He is the guardian of the British navy. He saved the British empire from collapse by reviling in verse the Transvaal constitution. On his way home perhaps he will stop off long enough in Newfoundland to adjust the fisheries dispute, and if he can find time between now and spring he may have a look in on the Australian high protectionists and ask for better terms for British imports.

There's no telling. When duty calls, Mr. Kipling packs his grip or writes a poem. He recognizes that he is a British institution and he makes it his special affair to think imperially. The government may maunder along over the business of governing, but Mr. Kipling has stationed himself on the watch tower to keep the nation awake and alarmed. You never catch him taking two weeks off to hunt bears in the cane-brakes.

It's an awful responsibility for one man to shoulder and it takes a lot of valuable time. The results we get no more "Jungle Books" and no more "Plain Tales from the Hills." If only Rudyard Kipling would write stories.

MINING COMING AHEAD

Recent Development in the Mines of the Lardeau District

F. R. Blochberger passed through Nelson yesterday on his way back to Rossland and Spokane from the Lardeau district where he has been interesting D. Suksdorf and H. Suksdorf of Spangle, Wash., in the Mount Angel, a property lying near the Eva and Oyster-Criterion. Messrs. Suksdorf are satisfied with what they have seen and heard and are now sending up a mining engineer to report upon the property and if that report is favorable will proceed to develop it on a large scale, erecting a mill and putting in a compressor plant. There are several veins on the property, that of the Eca and Oyster-Criterion both running through it, but the vein to be developed is one of quartz, 14 feet wide, assays from which run all the way from $10.83 to $574 to the ton.

Speaking of some of the nearby properties, Mr. Blochberger says that while the Eva is working well the Oyster-Criterion is closed down because of litigation. This is also the case with regard to the Kingston, a property which Mr. Blochberger nearly succeeded in floating a couple of years ago, but was stopped, he claims, because of an action brought to establish a claim to a small fraction, very much smaller than an acre, and which was successful although the claim has since been abandoned. The Lucky Jack is putting up a new stamp mill. On the Silver Dollar there has been a lot of work done, the proprietors having spent over $200,000 in development. This includes a stamp mill and a compressor plant. No shipments have as yet been made, although the mill has been running for the past five months and about 500 tons of concentrates are ready. With the coming of the snow this will be rawhided down by the manager, L. E. Beck of Camborne.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. LACK OF CURRENCY

Tremendous Strain in New York Financial Circles

New York, Oct 26—The captains of finance who with the secretary of the United States treasury, have been battling night and day to preserve order in the banking world held no conference last night, but went to bed early confident in the belief that the threatening situation will be successfully combatted from now on, and the restoration of public confidence and tranquility would be speedily accomplished. The difficulty throughout the week's experiences had been lack of currency. There was enough actual money in the city to stand the tremendous strain without cutting down loans. Small banking concerns that closed this week have good supples of gilt edged securities in their vaults and they could neither sell them nor borrow money on them this week, simply because of the scarcity of actual paper, gold, and silver money. No apprehension was felt as to the result of today's financial operations. The stock exchange and the banks will be open for only two hours and the stock exchange will not be troubled by the money situation, as all loans made yesterday carry over until Monday under the ordinary rules of the exchange. There were some small lines on deposits from the Trust company of American and the Lincoln Trust company but their number was not so great as at the same hour yesterday. The direction which the remedial efforts will take has been the subject of earnest discussion and some difference of opinion among the most important bankers of the city. The situation at Pittsburg is expected to right itself under these conditions. It was suggested that an effort be made to relieve the situation in New York by gold imports, and something in that direction is being done.

Stanfields Underwear for Women fits perfectly because each garment is made to fit an individual type of figure.

After it is finished and goes to the laundry for its final washing, each garment is tested on models ranging from 22 to 50 inch bust measurement. Thus the size is determined accurately. And the size as marked is exact, and stays so, because Stanfield's Underwear can't shrink nor stretch.

Your dealer will likely have all sizes and weights. If not, he can get them for you. 135

STANFIELDS LIMITED - TRURO, N.S.

Whether the rate of exportation and the prices of American securities will reach a level to enable gold imports on a sufficiently large scale to be effective remains to be seen. It is felt, as Jacob Schiff put it yesterday, that any effort to press the matter is likely to meet with obstructive measures in London.

QUINSY, SPRAINS AND SWELLINGS CURED.

"In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quinsy. My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was all right," says Mrs. L. Cousins, Otterburn, Mich. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valuable for sprains and swellings. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

A Few Press Comments and Managers' Opinions

THE HOWARD COMPANY.

Splendid Production of the "Gold Mine" at the Lyric Last Night.

The large and enthusiastic audience which greeted the return of the Howard company at the Lyric last evening, goes to prove Calgary theatregoers appreciate to the full, the exceptional ability of each member of the company. Such a treat as afforded in "A Gold Mine" last night is of a rare occurrence.

The magnificent stage settings were a revelation to theatregoers. The color and harmony appealing to the eye. Those who were not fortunate in seeing "A Gold Mine" should not miss the opportunity of doing so tonight.

As a repertoire company, presenting society dramas and comedies at popular prices, the HOWARD COMPANY has yet THEIR EQUAL TO BE SEEN IN CALGARY.

"Manager Willis deserves the thanks of theatregoers of Calgary for bringing to the Lyric such a tip-top, way-up, bang-up, first-class company as the Geo. B. Howard Players."—Calgary Eye-Opener.

"This company deserves the highest praise and is very much better than many who have shown in this city at higher prices."—Tacoma City Ledger.

"As a repertoire company, presenting society dramas and comedies, the Howard Company has yet their equal to be seen in Calgary."—Herald, Oct. 3, 1907.

Everett, Wash.

"The best ever played in my house, it's a pleasure to recommend them."—H. R. Willis.
