AT ALL SPORTS

United Kingdom Is Leading Every Competitor

HAS AMASSED BIG SCORE

OBTAINS A BIG LEAD IN FIELD SPORTS, TAKING THE UNITED STATES METHOD OF SCORING IN TOTAL WINS HAS A TREMENDOUS PERCENTAGE.

LONDON, July 18—It every day on which the Olympic games are held were only Saturday there would be some chance of their proving a success from the point of view of attendance. Londoners showed today that, given the opportunity, they will support good sport no matter what are the weather conditions, although every person who journeyed to the stadium this afternoon might have made the excuse that it was too wet to go anywhere.

The two great grandstands at either end of the stadium, the admission to which is fixed at a shilling, were completely filled with a crowd similar to that which attends football matches on half holidays. The covered stands where the seats are reserved also held a much larger number of persons than on any other previous day while the royal box too, was occupied by a large party, including the queen, who took a keen interest in the Danish athletes, princess Victoria and the crown prince of Sweden, who, by the way, have been present every day since the opening, and the children of the prince of Wales, who were interested followers of the sports.

The weather, however, was no respector of persons. It was cloudy and dull all morning for the archery and fencing contests, but towards noon the sky had cleared and it looked as though the afternoon would be fine. Instead it was one of the worst days experienced this week and there have been bad ones. Rain came down in torrents with but few intervals and the officials frequently had to stop the sports going on in the arena. The cyclists and runners were the only ones who ignored the wetting they all received, even the fancy divers being forced to call a halt to their contest for half an hour as the judges were unable to do their work properly.

The officials of the cyclists union today allowed Young, one of the Canadian riders to start in the 100 kilometer race, for which they declared he had not qualified. It was proved beyond dispute that this disqualification was the result of a mistake in an official who placed the Canadian one lap behind where he belonged. Young's protest in the cycling event was added to by another today, Schiller protesting Jones, the winner of the 5000 metre event. Schiller claimed a foul, but the protest was not allowed.

In the matter of scoring the United Kingdom completely outclassed the other countries, her athletes adding seven wins to their already good score. These included the archery contest, the 5000 metre cycling, the 100 kilometer cycling, the tug of war and the five mile flat race.

The only two other events decided, the discus throwing, Greek style, and the fancy diving went to the United States and Germany respectively. Martin J. Sheridan of the Irish-American A.C., broke all previous records with the discus, at this style of throwing, making a distance of 128 feet 8 inches, while M. F. Horr of the same club was second, also with a record breaking throw of 122 feet 5 14 inches;

J. L. Fiselе of the N.Y.A.C., secured third place in the 3200 metre steeplechase. He was the only American that compared with the Englishmen in the event. There were four of the United Kingdom teams, Russell, Robertson, Holloway and Sewell in the 3200 metre steeplechase, in addition to Eisele and Galbraith, the latter representing Canada. The Englishmen took turns in trying to wear down the two others and succeeded in doing so with Galbraith, but Eisele held on, despite a nasty fall at the water jump in the first lap and managed to annex third place well up. During the progress of the race, the final of the 200 metre breast stroke swim was pulled off and again the United Kingdom triumphed, taking both first and second places, third going to Germany.

Germany took first and second in the fancy diving event, Gaids, American, tieing for third place with another German. All the other finals went to the United Kingdom, Jones doing the trick in the 5000 metre cycling event, with France in both second and third places, while in the tug of war the three police teams of London, Liverpool and Metropolitan forces respectively, gathered in the gold, silver and bronze medals.

Canada's objection to the decision by which Young was declared not to have qualified for the final in the 100 metre cycling event has been upheld and late this afternoon, after the most persistent representations from the Canadian committee, his name was added to the list of starters for the final. This is the first protest since the opening of the games that has been allowed but the Canadians pressed their objections so strongly that the officials were forced to take cognizance of them. The protest was entered on the ground that Young, who crossed the tape first in his heat in the semi-finals, was declared by the judge to have lost a lap. This the Canadians proved to be untrue.

The weather brightened up somewhat in the afternoon and the lower priced stands were filled up with the usual Saturday sporting enthusiasts.

The Saturday afternoon crowds filling the lower priced sections of the grand stand of the stadium had an opportunity of venting their enthusiasm over the outcome of the three finals with which today's sports in the Olympic games was opened. All these three races were won by the United Kingdom. Russell, United Kingdom, took the 3200 metre steeplechase with his team mate, Robertson, United Kingdom, second.

Somewhat to the surprise of the experts the United Kingdom also took first and second place in the final of the 200 metre breast stroke swimming race. In this event Holman was the winner with Robinson second.

It had been expected that today Hungary would walk away with this event, but he did not even get a place; Hanson beat him for third.

The United Kingdom got another start in its lead with a total number of wins, making the score up to date 26, to the United States' 9. Germany put one win to its credit. The United Kingdom also overtook the American score for field events, the day's result bringing this up to 54, while the United States increased her score to 40.

Martin J. Sheridan, Irish-American A.C., this afternoon beat all previous records, throwing the discuss, Greek style or "as at Athens," with a throw of 128 feet 8 inches. M. F. Horr, Irish-American AC.., was a good second, and Jarvine, Newfoundland, who held the Olympic record, was third.

In the final tug of war the city of London police was first while the team made up from the Liverpool policemen, was second. The metropolitan police team was third.

The final in the fancy diving was won by Zurner, Germany, with 85.5 points; Berhrens, Germany was second with 83.3; George Gaidzik, Chicago A.C., tied with Walsh, Germany, for third, with 80.8.

D. R. Robins Yale, one of the American hurdlers, will have to return home on account of the death of his father. He leaves on the Lucania.

The finals in the ladies' archery contest, was won by Miss Newell, United Kingdom, with Miss Dodd, second and Miss Hillowe third, all United Kingdom.

In the finals for the gentlemen's archery contest, Dodd, United Kingdom, was first with 185, and Brookings, United Kingdom second.

The final in the 320 metre steeplechase was won by Russell United Kingdom in 10 minutes 24 4-5 seconds. Robertson, United Kingdom, was second and Eisele, N. Y. A. C., third. Eisele fell at the first jump and lost six yards which took hi msome time to make up. He succeeded, however in getting third place at the end of the second lap. At this time Russell was leading and Meadows, Canada, was second. Robertson then came up and for a time there was a fight for second place. Eisele led Robertson for a time but he lost his place in the final lap. The final in the 150 kilometre cycle race was won by Bartlett, United Kingdom, Cadenny, United Kingdom, second and Laspiz, France, third. Time, 2 hours 45 minutes and 48 3-8 seconds.

The final in the 200 metre breast stroke swimming match was won by Helman United Kingdom; Robinson, United Kingdom second and Hanson, Sweden, third; time 3 minutes 9 15 seconds.

The 500 metre cycling event was won by Jones United Kingdom, in 8 minutes 34 1-5 seconds; Achiles, France, second, Aeffray France, was third. Achiles protested against the victory of Jones, alleging a foul, but the protest was not allowed.

The final in the five mile flat race was won by Voight, United Kingdom; Owen, United Kingdom, second, and Svanberg, Sweden, third; time 25 minutes 11 1-5 seconds.

Nearly Ready

It was announced last night that the machinery of the Canada Zinc company had been turned over and that after a few minor adjustments the plant would be ready for operation in the near future.

LAST CHANCE TO OPERATE

UNDER NEW COMPANY FORMED HERE YESTERDAY

STRONG DIRECTORATE HAS BEEN APPOINTED

Another good omen of the reviving time in mining is the imminent operation of the Last Chance mine at Sandon. As is well known the litigaton with regard to this property has been stopping its operation for some time past. Yesterday a meeting was held in this city at the offices of Messrs. Lennie and Wragge and the opening of the mine and its operation was determined upon. The operating company is to be known as the Silver Cord. At yesterday's meeting it took over the property of the Last Chance and other allied claims, which will now be worked by the new company, which has completed the taking over of the assets of the old company.

The officers appointed for the new company are as follows: W. H. Stimson, of Los Angeles, president; Bickerstaff Wilson, of Victoria, vice president; L. Pratt, of Sandon and Nelson, secretary; W. J. Wilson, of Nelson, treasurer, and M. S. Davys, now of London; T. L. Greenough, of Spokane, and R. S. Lennie, of this city, directors. A plan of operations was formulated and will be immediately acted upon.

MAKE RECORD

Heaviest Shipments for the Year

BIGGER OUTPUT EXPECTED

MINES GENERALLY ARE PREPARING FOR A RISE IN COPPER AND IN OTHER METALS WHICH IS EXPECT[redacted] THE YEAR

The shipments for the week are the record for the year and within a few thousand tons of the record of the past year. This in spite of the fact that the mines are not as yet all shipping to their capacity and that the Granby is restricting its shipments while alterations are being made to its furnaces by way of enlargement. After the next couple of weeks the Granby will have all its furnaces enlarged and during August it may be expected that a record shipment will be made from the districts reported. There will be a slight falling off in the fall months as the Granby will then enter upon a new series of enlargements. This is also the case with the Dominion Copper company, which up to the present, however, has not shipped to its full capacity, the start up being too recent. All the mines and smelters are preparing for the rise in copper and in metals generally which may be expected to be seen towards the end of the year.

Following are the receipts from the various mines and receipts at the smelters for the past week and year to date:

MARATHON AT CHICAGO

ONE CONTESTANT WAS DROWNED AND OTHERS RESCUED

WATER PROVED FAR TOO COLD FOR SWIMMERS

CHICAGO, July 18.—One contestant was drowned and half a dozen others were seized with cramps and rescued with difficulty during the first annual "Marathon swim" of the new Illinois Athletic club, in the Chicago sives today. The water proved far too cold for the swimmers, and only seventeen of a field of sixty managed to finish the two mile course.

A. G. Freese, 55 years old was seized with cramps and was drowned near the Madison street bridge, in view of thousands of spectators. The race was won by S. C. Jackson of the New Athletic club. His official time was 44:41:2-5. None of the out of town contestants finished.

When Freese sank he had covered about two-thirds of the course. He was the oldest contestant in the event, and for years had been noted as a distance swimmer at the local beaches. Fully 100,000 persons watched the race, lining the banks and crowding the bridies from the start at the life saving station at the mouth of the river to the 12th street viaduct on the south branch of the stream, where the course ended. The greatest crowd was near the Madison street bridge, and although several men plunged to aid Freese, he sank before any of the rescuers could reach him. The body was recovered later.

GRANBY'S NEW HOLDING

PURCHASE OF GOLDEN EAGLE IN PHOENIX CAMP

FURTHER DETAILS OF FIND IN BROOKLYN MINE

(Special to The Daily News.)

PHOENIX, July 18—When asked as to the new ledge of ore struck last week at the Brooklyn mine of the Dominion Copper company, superintendent Rundberg said: "The Brooklyn has the best gold values of any mine in the Phoenix camp. The assays on the new lead are $4.40 to $4.60 gold, 40 to 60 cents silver and 2.2 per cent copper. The ore looks first class and there is an extensive body of it."

The new lead has been located on the 250, 150 and 80 foot levels, and runs north and south paralle with the Brooklyn-Idaho underground workings. Some 150 feet of drifting has already been dones and the ledge is widening in fine shape. Crosscutting is now being done to discover the width. The lead is thought to extend northward to the company's Montezuma claim and drifting will be pushed along. Raising on the ledge has been commenced from the 350 foot level and 200 tons daily will be sent out from the new strike next week, for which the force at the mine has been increased. The entire ore body is all virgin ground and the mine officials are most enthusiastic as to the results of the exploratory work which is being actively prosecuted.

Considerab e developmen t is being done at the Rawhide. "It looks better than ever," said Mr. Rundberg. "Every shot put in indicates better prospects. The Rawhide will be in shape to ship 1000 tons d'y when the copper market improves."

There is at present some 500 tons of ore at the Athelstan mine of the company ready for shipment. It will be teamed two miles to the Winnipeg for shipment by the C.P.R., for which the contract will be let today. Athelstan ore runs about $8 per ton.

The Granby Consolidated this week added another mineral claim to their already large holdings in this camp, in the purchase of the Golden Eagle from a syndicate represented by W. R. Williams. The Golden Eagle is a fractional claim and adjoins the Granby property, also adjoining the Stemwinder and Montezuma, at the northern part of the camp. No development work has been done on the claim but it is considered to be a valuable acquisition to the Granby properties. The C.P.R. spur from the Brooklyn runs through the fraction. The consideration is not given out by the company, but it is understood to be in the neighborhood of $12,000.

NEW YORK, July 18.—A despatch from Chicago says: "Whenu Joe Tinker smashed out a home run yesterday, winning the game from the Giants, William Hudson, of West Madison, who was witnessing the play from the top of a four-story flat just outside the park, became so enthusiastic that he fell off the building and his neck was broken."

ANCIENT DAYS

Historic Drama of Quebec Is Unfolded

FULL WEEK OF PAGEANTRY

PANTOMIME COMMENCES TOMORROW AND WITH EVERY DAY WILL INCREASE IN INTEREST—NO LABOR SPARED TO MAKE A GREAT SUCCESS.

QUEBEC, July 18.—With a future monarch of the British people as a spectator of the mighty spectacle, a panorama of historical events made famous in poetry and literature will be unrolled next week on the Plains of Abraham. It will be a pageant without parallel in the new world, and one in which the peoples of Canada, England, France and the United States will join as friends and brethren. In addition to the prince of Wales, there will be scores of nobles and high dignitaries of state from the mother country and many men of renown from the republic of France. Vice president Fairbanks will officially represent the United States.

The great festival will commemorate the 300th anniversary of the founding of Quebec, and will deal with phases of a history the most romantic in the early settlement of the North American continent. Already the ancient city is filling with visitors from all over Canada and the United States. The first event of the program will take place tomorrow, when L'Associadiene Francaise will do honor to the memory of Champlain at the foot of his statue.

On Monday the mounted heralds-at-arms and men-of-the-watch will appear in the streets, costumed as in the times of Champlain. The heralds will proceed through the length and breadth of the city, stopping at all important places and calling out official announcements as to the celebration. In the evening a congress of the French speaking physicians of North America will be opened.

Tuesday's program includes the arrival and reception of official guests, and of the French and American fleets, a performance of the pageant on the Plains of Abraham, and a musical concert.

Wednesday will be the great day, when the prince of Wales will arrive, escorted by a naval squadron, and will be given a glorious greeting by the assembled thousands. On Thursday will be shown the arrival of Champlain on his ship Don de Dieu, a replica of his actual craft, which conveyed the founder of Quebec. Throughout the balance of the week there will be other great pageants and celebrations, and the festivities will come to a close on July 29, when the prince of Wales will leave on the return trip to England.

The pageant is planned to trace by procession and dramatic action all that has been notable in the quaint old city, which, although loyal to the rBitish crown, still remains strongly French in both its tongue and its religion.

A mimic Jacques Cartier will plant his cross and read to the Indians the exact words that the real Jacques read to the Indians on the banks of the Laigret. Then down the river he will go, taking with him the Algonquin chief, and the Indians will paddle along in their canoes, acting as his escort while he starts upon the initial stage of his long journey back to France. The pantimime will take the observers back to that France of long ago, where Cartier will be seen facing his royal master, king Francis First, to tell him of his discovery of the great western country.

Some years elapse before this heroic drama of history produces another scene. Once more it is a royal court. This time Henri IV. is on the throne, and the spectators will see Champlain in the act of receiving his commission from the king to set out to the new world on a voyage of exploration. Shifting again the drama is laid in the new world. Champlain is in the new world. So are the other characters made famous in the history of the Canadian city. The Jesuits arrive, so does Mother Marie, founder of the Ursulines. That battle is shown in which Dollard, the hero of Montreal, backed only by a band of 16 heroes, makes his stand against hordes of redskins and thus saves Canada.

Then comes another change in the scene. The saintly Mgr. de Laval, surrounded by all the state and color of an ecclasiastical prince, is receiving the representatives of the king, who, led by the marquis de Tracy, pay their homage to the church. Then Daumont de St. Lusson takes possession, in the name of the king of France, of the new world of the west. Frontenac receives at the Chateau St. Louis the envoy of sir William Phipps. Then will come the final great scene of this historical drama, the immortal battle on the Plains of Abraham, that contest between French and British which changed the destiny of a whole continent, that clash in which the heroism was equally divided, where there was nothing to choose between the valor of Wolfe and that of Montcalm.

Once more the spectator will see the British troops, under the leadership of Wolfe toil up a hill, which was from a military standpoint believed to be impregnable. Once more will sound the war cry of the Highlanders as they take the height, and chase the beaten French backward and into the town, or helter-skelter to their camp in the valley of the St. Charles.

The grandeur of the natural scenery of Quebec furnishes the ideal settings for such a pretentious reproduction of a canvas famed in history. The city is built on a great bluff, overlooking the St. Lawrence, which at this point narrows down to a width no greater than a mile. To the north of the promontory, which Wolfe scaled, the land slopes down to the broad, sunlit valley of the St. Charles, where one wing of the army of Montcalm was stationed to defend the city. At the junction of the St. Charles and the Lairet is where Jacques Cartier spent the winter of 1535-6, and where the first Jesuit mission was erected in 1635.

Almost every foot of this ground was the scene of some historic event. From the Dufferin terrace the city looks across at the Forts of St. Levis, which in the hands of the British formed the point from which a terrible bombardment of the city by the British took place in 1759. Of especial interest to Americans is the narrow board walk around the cliff which connects with the terrace. Here it was that gallant American general, Montgomery, met his death while trying to make connection with Benedict Arnold at the foot of Mountain Hill for the capture of Quebec, a victory that if won would have changed the whole map of the new world.

The city has been besieged no less than five times, and soldiers of a dozen nations have fought about it. Many monuments will attract the attention of those who visit the city for the anniversary celebration. Wolfe, Montcalm, Levis, Murray, Montgomery, have all their tributes of honor. The present citadel was built on lines laid out by the duke of Wellington, Napoleon's conqueror.

A DELIBERATE SUICIDE

MADE EVERY ARRANGEMENT FOR HIS FUNERAL

WROTE APOLOGY AND THEN BLEW HIS BRAINS OUT

NEW YORK, July 18—After making complete arrangements for his own funeral and writing a polite note of apology to the coroner for the trouble he was about to cause him, Joseph Michaelowsky went into a clump of bushes in Central park today and blew out his brains.

He told the coroner in his note that he was unable longer to endure the suffering which had accompanied a long and painful illness. Investigation disclosed that Michaelowsky who had visited an undertaker yesterday, made careful arrangements for his funeral. He selected a casket, had a flower urn set aside, specified the number of carriages he desired to have at the funeral and ordered that his body be cremated, then upon a slip of paper containing the estimated cost made by the undertaker, he wrote his name and requested that the undertaker present the paper to Mrs. Michaelowsky after his death.

The widow approved the contract today and the arrangement will be carrid out to the letter.

MURDER AND VIOLENCE

THE MOB LOOTED RICH MEN'S HOUSES AT TABRIZ

SHAH'S AUTHORITY GONE AND THE FUTURE A RIDDLE

LONDON, July 18—A special dispatch from Tabrix says: "A sudden and unexpected change took place in the barometer last night The elders in all quarters of the town, except one which is devoted to the shah's cause, agreed on concerted action against the government forces and this morning amid the greatest excitement a great crowd surged toward Rachin Khan's headquarters without waiting for parley, Khan withdrawing his forces to the suburban plantations which he occupied prior to entering the town five days ago. The crowd immediately rushed for the house of the shah's richest supporters and completely looted them, including the residences of th minister of finance Many of Rachin Khan's horsemen were isolated in the town and killed, and the majority of the shah's infantry vanished into civilians. Unless Rachin Khan's move has some ulterior motive, it would appear that the shah's authority is completely at a discount and the future a riddle

ST. PETERSBURG, July 18—The Novoe Vremya this afternoon published a dispatch from Tabriz, Persia, declaring that the revolutionists there have been overcome by the government troops and that the horsemen of Rachin Khan are now pillaging the town with murder and violence

TO BE SETTLED

Power Plant Trouble Is Now All Over

CITY TAKES POSSESSION

FREES COMPANY FROM ANY FURTHER RESPONSIBILITY AND WILL INSTALL ITS OWN GOVERNOR — MAYOR TAYLOR MAKES ARRANGEMENT.

After two years and a half of work on Tuesday morning next the city will take over the municipal power pant at Bonnington from the constructing company, Messrs. Allis-Chalmers-Bullock. The final arrangements have been amicably completed between mayor Taylor for the city, and R. S. Lennie representing the installing company.

The terms of the agreement are that the city takes over (and entirely frees from responsibility the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock company) the whole plant including the governor which is faulty. But the city does not propose to operate with that governor. It will install another under its own initiative, taking the advice of its consultng engineer, Cecil B. Smith. The latter has advised the city to take this course saying that the plant was completely up to date in every respect, excepting the governor. This, argued Mr. Lennie, is only a small part of the whole plant. Mr. Smith advised that the city retain $2500 from the balance of the company's money due to them on completion of the plant, and install a governor for themselves. This advice has been taken mayor Taylor, however, retaining $3000. To this Mr. Lennie has agreed merey stipulating that the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock company shall not be prevented from supplying the governor if Mr. Smith thinks fit. To this a ready acquiesence was given. There are other stipulations made but they are along the same lines as the resolution passed by the city council on Monday night last.

The city will now be in a position to handle its own plant and it is the intention of the mayor to safeguard it and at the same time to extend its capacity by adding a second unit at as early a date as possible.

TO TAKE PRECAUTIONS

GRAND FORKS WILL ESTABLISH FIRE LIMITS

SUMMER RESORT WILL OPEN AT CHRISTIANA LAKE

(Special to The Daily News.)

GRAND FORKS, July 18—H. Spalding is making arrangements to open a summer resort at Christina lake, about 12 miles east of this city. He will erect a hote and store on Engish point. This will be a good thing for tourists as Christina lake is a fine body of water, and good hunting and fishing prevails there.

F. B. McKeehan, for some time past U.S. immigration officer at this point nas been transferred to Marcus, Wash. Mr. McKeehan is erecting a residence at Marcus and will in future make that place his headquarters, although still being the head of the department for this district. His place here is being filled by Wm. Alexander of Ellis Island, N.Y.

The Ladies of the Maccabees entertained Mrs. N. Tayor and Miss Queenie Horst last evening and presented each of them with a piece of silverware. Both ladies are members of the local order and are leaving the city.

A special meeting of the city council was held last night at which it was decided to establish a fire limit in the city but definte action could not be taken until the next regular meeting, when a by-law will be introduced establishing the said limit. After a short session of the council the meeting was thrown open for discussion as to the advisability of the organization of a board of trade for this city. It was decided to form such an organization which will be perfected at a meeting to be held next Thursday night. The idea of purchasing a block which was destroyed by the fire and turning it into a park was turned down, it being thought to be too expensive. The question of raising the street grade in the fire affected section also came in for consideration, and resulted in a committee being appointed to interview the property owners in that district and if possible obtain their consent to the raising of the grade, such consent being necessary before the city could undertake to raise the grade which had already been established.

SYDNEY, July 18—Alfred Deakin, the Australian prime minister, in commenting on the alleged Australian sentiment towards the American fleet as expressed in some quarters, said: "Our looking for support to the United States instead of to the empire, is too silly for words."

LOADED DICE

Duncan Ross is being roundly slated in many quarters for insisting on a later date than the general federal elections for the contest in Yale-Cariboo, and Mr. Ross deserves all that he is getting and more besides. Mr. Macpherson, M.P., for Vancouver city, came to Mr. Ross' assistance in the house the other day and protested that there was not sufficient time in Yale-Cariboo between the proclamation and the nomination to cover the ground, whereupon the Vancouver Province remarks:

Mr. Macpherson in this matter is helping out Mr. Duncan Ross, who cannot be elected in Yale-Cariboo unless the election is postponed and who will likely not be elected even if the government is returned. Mr. Macpherson wants to give Mr. Ross another chance, especially as that gentleman will not now be allowed to tamper with the voters' lists, and he, therefore, represents the situation in Yale-Cariboo to be what every resident of the constituency knows it is not. In matters political Mr. Macpherson does not stick at trifles; and respect for fair play or principle is a trifle when indulgence in it would defeat the government candidate. One could almost forgive Mr. Macpherson for thus displaying himself, on behalf of his friend, in the light of one who boldy proclaims himself an enemy of the fair goddess of Truth, were Mr. Ross worthy of that sacrifice. But he is not, and it will be among the complaints, the minor complaints, perhaps, which will be made to Mr. Macpherson, regarding his career at Ottawa, when he shall return to plead for votes, that he did not associate with members who were elected after a fair and honest contest, but preferred the companionship of those who owed their elections to the fact that their competitors were handicapped in the race.

All that the Province states is strictly correct and it is up to the electors of Yale-Cariboo to punish this brazen attempt to play the game with loaded dice.

EDITORIAL NOTES

At 1 o'clock this morning, in accordance with the resolution passed at the last meeting of the city council, all the clocks in Nelson were put on just an hour. In future there will be city and C.P.R. time here, the former being one hour faster than the latter. The churches have taken the first step in the matter and commencing this morning all services will in future be held on city time, or one hour earlier than heretofore. The change was not brought about without due notice and full discussion. At benefit societies' meetings, in the board of trade and at the city council board the question has been brought up during the past eight weeks and there has been little or no objection raised. Naturally, there will be some inconvenience at the start but with a little patience the change should be worked out easily.

It is a matter of genuine regret that a protest, with apparently good reason, should have been made by the American tug of war team at the Olympic games and, as claimed, arbitrarily turned down by the games committee. The Americans claimed that the boots worn by the Liverpool tug of war team gave the Englishmen undue advantage, to such an extent, in fact, that a team wearing the ordinary running shoe could not hope to successfully compete with them. The Americans appear to have thought that the boots worn by the Liverpool police team were specially made for the occasion and they declared that the Britishers could hardly lift their feet when they walked owing to their heavy boots. This particular fact seems to have been incorrect, as the Americans were promptly told that the boots in question were the ones ordinarily worn by Liverpool policemen on duty, but aside from this there seems to have been no doubt that the protest made was perfectly justified and it seems almost incredible that the objection should have been overruled as stated in the despatch. Like almost every cable received, the one containing the protest comes through American hands, and there may be some explanation other than the one given, but on its face the story appears to be true, and if it is, it will be a blot on British fairness in sporting matters.

PRINCE RUPERT

Nelson Prospector Lost—Supposed to Have Been Drowned—Personals

(The Empire.)

Angus Beaton and A. C. Garde returned on the Amur from a trip to Skidgate, Graham island. They say that Frank Edwards, a well known prospector and miner, is reported missing and it is feared by those who know the east coast of Moresby island that he has been drowned. Along with a man named Krouse he left Skidgate on June 15 for Tasso harbor, on the west coast of the island, on which a big strike was recently made. They had a small boat and were taking over provisions for a party on Tasso harbor. From Skidgate they intended to go to Gold harbor at the head of Selwyn inlet, about 50 miles, and the route is dangerous in rough weather. From Gold harbor to Tasso harbor is a portage of less than four miles over a low divide. Although absent two weeks when Messrs. Beaton and Garde left, nothing had been heard of them. Mr. Edwards came to Prince Rupert from Nelson in April and remained for two or three weeks. He went over to Skidgate about six weeks ago, returning to Prince Rupert after making a trip across Graham island. He went back to Skidgate on the same steamer on which he came over, intending to go to Tasso harbor as soon as he got back. He is well known at Nelson and in the mining towns of Kootenay and the Boundary. If he is lost, the country has lost a good square man.

John Dean, an ex-mayor of Rossland and now a real estate dealer of Victoria, was in Prince Rupert two days this week, returning south on the Princess Beatrice. Mr. Dean is one of the owners of a company chartered by the provincial legislature to build and operate electric and gas works on Kaien island, and his trip north was in the interests of his company.

Phil Hickey, one of the best known mining men on the coast, was a passenger on the Cottage City on Friday, en route from Whitehorse, Yukon, to Seattle, where he makes his home. He was manager of the Ivanhoe mine at Sandon for many years.

G. B. White, who came here from Nelson, where he was a speculator in fruit land, is negotiating to take over Archie Sherratt's steam laundry plant.

TIME IS CHANGED TODAY

GENERAL ADHERENCE TO THE NEW SCHEME

VERY LITTLE DIFFERENCE WILL BE NOTICED

The change of time which takes effect today is in reality a very simple matter and one that will cause not a tithe of the trouble that is expected in some quarters. At midnight last night the clocks were to be put ahead one hour The consequence is that at 6 o'clock this morning, reckoning by the standard time, the Pacific, which prevailed in Nelson yesterday, the fire bell will ring, notifying the public that according to the new standard, the Mountain, it is 7 o'clock Two strokes of the bell will be given thus at 7 a.m., at noon and at 6 p.m., Mountain time, and this will be kept up throughout the week to give full notification to the citizens. The municipal offices, the banks and the stores will keep the new time and will close and open accordingly. The post office, until such time as the C.P.R. falls into line, will keep the C.P.R. time.

This, however, will be rather an advantage to the public for although the postoffice will not be open as early in the morning, yet it will be open until a later hour at night and give that much extra time to post letters and examine the mail boxes. The C.P.R., according to an understanding with the railway officials, is likely to drop into the new method, but as this involves a change of the printed time tables, the period for the changing over may be delayed for a little while. This need not cause any inconvenience, the general public merely having to remember that they have an hour extra time in which to catch or meet the trains or boats.

The hotels and saloons are of course bound by the city time. No hotel, for instance may open its bar tomorrow morning until 1 o'clock by the new time, that is at midnight on the old reckoning. The closing of bars last night at 11 o'clock was not affected, the change not taking place until after midnight.

All church services today are upon the new time and if only householders were wise enough to put their clocks one hour ahead before going to bed last night they would be none the wiser this morning as to any change having taken place.

CHURCHES OF NELSON

FIRST OF A SERIES OF BRIEF SKETCHES, ILLUSTRATED

ST. SAVIOUR'S ANGLICAN PLACE OF WORSHIP

St. Saviour's church, which has been undergoing some alterations and which is soon to be considerably enlarged to meet the growing needs of its congregation, is only ten years old, but the congregation which worships in it, was organized as a unit of the Church of England in Canada nearly sixteen years ago. No other religious entity in Nelson has been more closely identified with the change and growth of Nelson during the years that have intervened.

It was in the summer of 1892 that the late bishop Sillitoe, of New Westminster, whose diocese included the whole mainland of British Columbia with the exception of a little strip of the northern coast which comprised the missionary diocese of Caledonia, called the English churchmen of Nelson to a conference in the parlor of the Phair hotel to consider what provision should be made for the holding of divine service according to the Anglican rite in the capital of Kootenay.

The minutes of that first meeting, still in the possession of the vestry clerk, contain the names of many men prominent in the life of Nelson at that time, whose connection with the city ended so long ago that even the old timers scarcely recall them. A few are still identified with other cities or towns of Kootenay but many have passed beyond the eyes of their former associates.

Among the names are those of E. Robson, then manager of the local branch of the Hudson's Bay Company, R. Stickney, a contracting carpenter, Frank Valleau, a surveyor, Neville Townsend, now of Rossland, George Grisdale, Frank Fletcher, Fred Irvine, Grange V. Holt, for many years manager of the Nelson branch of the Bank of British Columbia, since absorbed by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, E. F. Whalley, W. A. Jowett, H. E. Croasdaile and George Johnstone. The proposition of these who are still citizens of Nelson is very small.

At that meeting it was resolved to purchase two lots on the southeast corner of Ward and Silica streets. It was not until six years later that the congregation petitioned the city council for a sidewalk in front of their place of worship. The lots were accordingly purchased from the provincial government, and in the autumn of that year the mission room which still stands was built and opened.

The first rector of the English church in Nelson was Rev. A. J. Reid, an English clergyman, who had been for some time curate of the cathedral church of Fredericton. His incumbency lasted for one year when he was succeeded by Rev. H. S. Akehurst, now rector of the church at Kamloops.

The first minister's warden was Mr. Robson, the first people's warden, Frank Fletcher, and the first vestry clerk, Frank Valleau. Those who have succeeded them are, as rector's warden, G. V. Holt and Fred Irvine, as people's warden, W. J. Goepel, G. V. Holt, H. E. Croasdaile, and George Johnstone. The successive vestry clerks have been, since Mr. Valleau, A. M. Johnson, who filled the office for three successive years, H. B. Tait, H. N. Simms and Harry Bird. Messrs. Irvine, Johnstone and Bird have been respectively rector's warden, people's warden and vestry clerk continuously for the last seven years.

In 1897, after nearly five years of worship in the mission room, the congregation determined to erect a more substantial and fitting structure. After many meetings and careful consideration of ways and means, plans for a stone church, submitted by G. D. Curtis, architect, were approved and accepted. On August 12th, 1898, the corner stone was laid under Masonic auspices by David Wilson, provincial grand master. In the autumn of the same year, the church was completed, consecrated and opened, and has ever since been the religious home of the Anglican community in Nelson.

In the summer of 1901 Rev. H. S. Akehurst, after eight years of faithful service, resigned the rectorship to accept a similar position at Kamloops. The vacancy was filled for a time by Rev. E. P. Flewelling, who was relieved by the lord bishop of the diocese until Rev. F. H. Graham, who had accepted the office, arrived from Montreal in January, 1902.

In 1900 the growth of Kootenay and the difficulty of securing adequate representation for its many congregations at synods held in New Westminster or Vancouver, led to a sub-division of the territory under the jurisdiction of the venerable bishop Dart and the creation of the diocese of Kootenay. Nelson was recognized at once as the natural head and centre of the new diocese, and St. Saviour's has been acknowledged as the pro-cathedral. With two exceptions every synod of Kootenay has convened in Nelson.

The incumbency of Rev. F. H. Graham has been marked by growth and prosperity. The congregation is one of the strongest in the city, numerically and in every way, and has now outgrown the capacity of the church built ten years ago. Those who directed the policy of the church at that time, however, exercised a wise forethought. The design of the building permits of very considerable addition to the present structure without change of plans and already there is a considerable fund for the building of a new chancel which will have all the present space for the nave, and the addition of transepts. The completion of this work which is now contemplated will increase the capacity of the church by at least fifty per cent. It is doubtful, however, if even this gain will prove sufficient for more than a few years' increase.

RISE OF CONSERVATISM

TO SWEEP THE LIBERAL PARTY FROM POWER

HON. W. J. HANNA IS CONFIDENT OF GREAT VICTORY

"The rising tide of conservatism so apparent from one end of the dominion to the other, will sweep the liberal party out of power at the next federal elections," decared Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary in the Ontario government, in conversation with the Province at the hotel Vancouver. There was something in his tone and assurance that indicated that he spoke with absolute confidence in his forecast.

Hon. Mr. Hanna, accompanied by his young son, Neill, and a relative Mrs. Bert McAdams of Calgary, have been spending a holiday in Victoria. He will go east this afternoon, making a detour via the Crow's Nest railway. He is regarded as one of the heavyweights in the Whitney cabinet, not only as an administrator, but as a debater.

"The sweeping victories in New Brunswick and Ontario, apart from local considerations, are an index of the sentiment of the people and so it shall soon be proven in the other provinces. For some time before June 8—the date of the voting—I recognized the unsatisfactory condition of affairs at Ottawa was driving many liberals into the conservative camp. Again and again during the contest liberals who have never been with us before, said they would give us their support. Pressed for their reasons they replied that they could no longer afford to be identified with liberalism as expounded by the Ottawa administration, and that they did not intend to return to the fold until the party had been taught the lesson experienced by the Ross government in 1905. That lesson has so far gone unheeded at Ottawa.

"I have a message from conservatives of British Columbia. It is the promise that Ontario will pile up for Hon. Mr. Borden a larger majority than the large one it gave him in 1904. Those who are acquainted with the situation in the maritime provinces and Quebec, assert we will make very substantial gains in both.

"From personal observation I am confident that the west will also give a good account of itself. When out here a year ago I was forcibly impresssed with the wonderful appreciation the people entertained for the McBride government. Now on this trip I find that this feeling rather than abating, has shown a wonderful increase. This in itself speaks volumes in favor of his clean administration of public affairs."

CANADIAN CHURCHMAN

Rev. A. H. Baldwin, One of Toronto's Best Known Clergymen Is Dead

TORONTO, July 18.—Canon Arthur Baldwin, rector of All Saints' church, is dead.

Rev. Arthur Henry Baldwin was one of the best known of Canadian churchmen and a brother of the late Bishop of Huron. He was the sixth son of the late John Spread Baldwin, of Toronto. Born in Toronto in 1840, he was educated at Upper Canada college and Trinity university. In 1866 he was ordained deacon and priest a year later. In 1867 he was appointed curate of Luton, Bedfordshire, by the Bishop of Ely. Later he returned to Canada and became curate of Belleville until 1872, when he was appointed rector of All Saints', Sherbourne street, Toronto, which charge he had at the time of his death.

Canon Baldwin was a member of the U. E. Loyalist association, and honorary chaplain of the 10th Royal Grenadiers. He married in 1879, Anne Henrietta Octavia, the daughter of the late Hon. E. Murphy, of Belleville, who died in 1892.

CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT

AMERICA'S PROTEST DECIDED ARTRARILY

ENORMOUS SHOES WORN BY THE LIVERPOOL POLICE

LONDON, July 18.—America's chief cause of complaint in the tug-of-war competition was the arbitrary manner in which their protest against the flagrantly unfair methods of conducting the tug-of-war was dismissed. Every unprejudiced spectator present at yesterday's meeting was convinced that America would be justified in refusing to go on with the event. The United Kingdom had three teams entered in the tug-of-war match, police of the city of London, Liverpool, and the metropolitan forces. The drawings brought the United States and the Liverpool teams into the arena first. When the United States athletes made their appearance they all wore the ordinary street shoes, complying with the rule, which says: "No competitor shall wear spiked boots or shoes or boots or shoes with any projecting nails, tips, springs, horrellows, projections, of any kind. Competitors shall make no hole in the ground with his feet, or in any other way before the start."

The Americans in wearing ordinary shoes, naturally believed the teams representing the United Kingdom would do the same, particularly as the rule under which the contest was being conducted was made by the British association. Their disappointment therefore was all the greater when, upon the Liverpool police appearing, it was noticed that they were wearing enormous shoes, so heavy, in fact, that it was with great effort that they could lift their feet from the ground. Heavy boots are worn in the British navy, but these were greatly exceeded in weight by the foot gear of the Liverpool athletes and who, in addition, had steel rims around the heels.

Matthew Halpin, the manager of the United States team, who was watching things in behalf of his men, when he saw the shoes, immediately entered a protest to the game officials, but he was told that their shoes were those ordinarily worn by Liverpool policemen. At first Mr. Halpin made up his mind to take the team off the field without attempting to pull, but finally decided to go on with the first pull. The decision was a wise one for the spectators in the stand nearby could see that as soon as the United Kingdom team put their weight down, the heels of their shoes cut through the turf and gave them a hold that was almost impossible to break. The Americans made no effort, rose, the anchorman not even winding the rope around his body, and were promptly pulled across the line.

Manager Halpin then announced that the team would not continue unless the rule was adhered to and his protest being ignored the men marched off the grounds, an official proclaiming through the megaphone that the Americans retired because they had enough of it. The facts in the case were reported to the American committee and J. E. Sullivan, the American commissioner preferred a formal protest to the British Olympic Association who turned it over to the officials of the amateur athletic association. As the officials already had decided in favor of their own team the protest, of course, was not allowed?

"The whole trouble," said an English sportsman tonight, "arises through the Olympic associations not having assigned the management of the various sports to the officials of the local associations. The associations naturally are prejudiced in favor of the members of the United Kingdom with whom they have been associated for years. It would have been better had the officials of the Olympic association at least managed the stadium sports themselves, for, with a few men such as lord Desborough in charge there never would have been any question of fairness in the final decision."

The members of most of the foreign committees are largely of the same opinion. The French and Canadians objection have reference to matters of smaller importance and while the atheletes and representatives of their countries complain and they decline to discuss the affair for the present They may perhaps have something to say after the conclusion of the sports.

YOUNG TURKEY

CONSTANTINOPLE, Juy 18 — The "young" Turkey propaganda in the Turkish army in favor of granting autonomy to Macedonia appeared today when more widespread dissatisfaction than heretofore has been admitted and some forebodings are being expressed in official circles, of a general revolt of the officers of the second and third army corps, at present stationed in the Monaster district.

There already has been some mutinies in individual battalions and the rebellious officers are endeavoring to enlist the support of the Greek population in south Monaster as well as that of the Greek bands now more numerous than usual, which are at present raiding in this district. The young Turks are also seeking the support of Bulgarian bands but these latter are distrustful.

In some circles there is considerable apprehension that Bulgaria will take advantage of the present rebellious disputes with the porte, or that Turkey will *seize the opportunity to create a diver*sion against Bulgaria in order to escape from her internal difficulties. Large number of reserves have arrived at Salonika. These will be speedily drafted to the various garrisons in Macedonia to replace the time expired men whose fruitless demands to be returned home are one of the primary causes of the recent mutinous outbreaks.

VERY SATISFACTORY

Crops Along Line of C.P.R. Are in Splendid Condition

WINNIPEG, July 18.—W. A. Black, general manager of the Ogilvie flour mills at Winnipeg, who has just returned from a trip of 1700 miles along the lines of the Canadian Pacific railway, reports the crops generally in a very forward condition and the prospects good for something better than an average yield. The rains during the present week have very materially improved the outlook. While it is rather early to figure on the total yield of wheat, Mr. Black expressed the opinion that with a continuance of the present favorable conditions the stand would warrant an estimate of 120,000,000 bushels, and harvesting would start in some districts as early as the end of the first week in August.

HOMEWARD BOUND

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Nineteen survivors of several hundred South Sea islanders, kidnapped eighteen years ago from their native strand and sold into slavery among the coffee plantations of Guatemala, arrived here yesterday on the steamer City of Para. They are free and homeward bound, and in addition to this they are travelling as tourists with their government paying expenses. The natives were kidnapped by captain Blackburn, now dead, who visited the islands in his steamer, and enticing them aboard, sailed away. They were supposed to be contract laborers bound to the Guatemalan employers for three years. Ignorant of the language and in a land where law is sometimes the dictator's will, it was easy to keep them on the plantations where they slaved until their plight was made known to the British government, which, however, was not until eighteen years had passed.

A STEADY IMPROVEMENT

LATEST REPORT ON AMERICAN COMMERCIAL ACTIVITY

MANY MEN STILL OUT OF THEIR REGULAR EMPLOYMENT

NEW YORK, July 18.—Telegraphic reports received tonight from all of the business, industrial and agricultural centers indicate a slow but steady improvement in all lines, unless it be in the building trades. Crops everywhere are reported as being more than usually bountiful. There is a marked decrease in the number of unemployed men in nearly all parts of the United States. Freight traffic, while only in a few instances normal, is shown to be nearing that desired point. The number of empty cars in storage is fast decreasing.

In the south the improvement is not great, but it is steady. In the east conditions could be much better, so far as the laboring class is concerned.

In the west the outlook is most hopeful. In the northwest there are few, if any idle, comparatively speaking.

CHICAGO, July 18.—It is estimated that 10,000 railway men are out of employment in the Chicago territory. Another 10,000 are out in the manufacturing business. Three thousand clerks in the wholesale and retail districts are without employment. In the building trades a total of 8,000 men are out of work. Structural iron workers and bricklayers and carpenters form the majority. Even with this showing conditions have greatly improved within six months. Fully 10,000 railroad men have gone back to work in that time. The packers laid off 5,000 men last winter of whom half have returned. The total of 90,000 unemployed last winter has been reduced to about 40,000.

The idle cars in the Chicago district has been reduced one-half since the high number reached in May. Illinois will have a winter wheat crop of 40,000,000 bushels, which is a little less than last year. The oats crop will be 125,000,000 bushels, which is 20,000,000 more than last year. The corn crop condition and acreage suggests a crop of 325,000,000 bushels, about the same as last year.

CINCINNATI, July 18.—A leading industrial agency reports at least 25,000 men out of employment now, with comparatively few finding re-employment hereabouts.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 18.—There are probably 12,000 to 15,000 men still unemployed in the industrial centre of this state. Conditions in this regard are slowly improving. Factories generally are showing a gradual improvement, especially in agricultural implements. Railroad traffic is improving rapidly. Grain cars are in good demand, but the coal roads have many cars standing idle, many hundreds in some quarters.

OTTAWA, July 18 — Canada's total trade for the first quarter of the present fiscal year was $114,870,967, a decrease of $35,269,622 as compared with the corresponding period of last year. Imports amounted to $68,921,107, a decrease of $29,325,005. Exports totalled $45,949,960, a decrease of $5944 617. The customs revenue for three months was $10,638,298, a decrease of $4,231,968.

WINNIPEG, July 17—As the result of an altercation on Selkirk avenue, last night between an expressman named Moses Friedman and W. A. Morden, a real estate agent, the former is dead at the general hospital and his assailant is held by the police on a serious charge. The matter over which the trouble arose was very trivial and blows were struck only with naked fists so that the tragic ending of the affair came as a surprise. The deceased did not appear to be very badly injured when picked up by the police and afterward seemed to recover but he had evidently received injuries more serious than at first supposed and he died about four hours after being removed to the hospital.

WINNIPEG, July 18—Wm. Whyte, second vice-president, G J Bury, general manager of western lines of the C.P.R., lieutenant governor Macmillan, W. A. Black, manager of the Ogilvie Milling company, Geo. The parties are most enthusiastic over the glowing crop prospects and estimate the yield of wheat at 120,000,000 bushels. Harvesting will begin in some localities by the first of August and will be general by the 15th. Twentyfive thousand farm hands will be required from the east to garner the crop.

HOW DOUBLE DROWNING ACCIDENT WAS PREVENTED

A SPLENDID STRAWBERRY SEASON OVER AT HARROP

(Special to The Daily News.)

HARROP, July 18.—An incident which might have made two additions to the list of the Kootenay river's victims but for the prompt assistance rendered by two ranchers took place here on Tuesday, when W. Busk and M. F. Shaw, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Nelson, were upset from their sailboat in a squall. The boat was overturned, but the two managed to hang onto it until two nearby ranchers, G. Hallett and A. Ker, came to their aid. Another few minutes would have necessitated the recording of another boating fatality.

Two ranches have been sold here recently, A. D. B. Millar having disposed of his property to D. A. McKenzie and P. Southworth his to a Creston man, who will greatly improve the property before settling on it.

The strawberry season here has been the best known and is expected to hold out for at last ten days yet.

Considerable destruction of property but not loss of life is reported. The cable between Larita and Lima has been broken, and the telegraph line to Bolivia damaged.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

NEW YORK, July 18 — Are white gowns popular this summer? This is a question that has been brought to my attention and investigation shows that while white is still a favorite, the gowns worn at the fashionable summer resorts near New York show a greater percentage of color this season than last.

One sees this summer many beautiful combinations of dainty pastel stripes and fine checks of white, over some pale tinted ground. A cream lace stripe gives a silken effect to some of the new cotton voiles, but lace stripes are seen in many fabrics. The deeper tones, such as Copenhagen blue, raspberry pink and the dark colors of linen are largely worn.

Time was when to speak of Swiss was to refer to a white gown but this summer some of the smartest effects have been attained in colored Swisses dotted with the same color or a contrasting shade.

Lace is a pronounced trimming effect of the Swiss gown. Much cluny lace is seen, and the idea of a bit of black in the shape of an inset, a collar edge, or a band or piping on the waist gives quite a distinguished air such as only black can give an ordinary dress.

After all ordinary is hardly the word to use about these gowns, perhaps, for though strictly cotton they are woven, mercerized and patterned so beautifully and receive such care under the dressmaker's hands that with their silk underclips, they give the effect of a silk muslin. Moreover, after completion they are apt to be found one of the most expensive gowns of the wardrobe. Cotton today does not always spell economy

In the more sheer cotton fabrics there is a tendency towards pongee shades in straw, champagne and all the yellow tones. Browns are frequently seen also. Laces and fine embroideries in white or matching in color are the usual combination—in the guimpe at least

A dainty cool looking dress of Swiss was straw colored, dotted with white. The model used was the very fashionable baby princess mode and white cluny lace was its trimming, while its distinctive touch lay in a girdle of black liberty satin. With such a dress should be worn black gloves shoes stockings and the hat should have a bow a bunch of poppies or other flower or an aigrette of black This touch of black in the hat is preferrable to an all black hat

A combination of colors that is always cool and crisp looking is green and white or green dotted checked or striped in cream If green is not becoming, white or black may come nearest the face

Voile is one of the favorite cotton fabrics for summer gowns. They are well printed when in colors and wash well and for a serviceable wash dress are deserving of their popularity.

In nearly every instance the dressier cotton costume has a guimpe. Upon this guimpe depends often the whole good effect of the dress. The French models give us the best idea of its development. It should be sheer and fine decorated with fine tucks, dainty, preferrably real Valenciennes lace. It should fit well, without wrinkles or any hitching up on the shoulders or fullness about the waist proper. They are better made upon a lining which fits like an underwaist. Pretty guimpes are made of Valenciennes, cluny, batiste and for wool dresses, net and lace and beautiful embroidery. Tucks schould be hand tucked always and for the net guimpes there comes a silk mousseline or chiffon for lining.

For several seasons back the linen suit has been extremely popular and as a jumper suit it is more in evidence than ever. The one-piece frock is usually chosen with a panel front extending from yoke to hem, and stitched bands are frequently seen outlining the top of the yoke, the slashed or Japanese sleeves, each side of the panel. Many buttons are also used. While the white linen is still greatly favored, a large number of these frocks are made of colored linens and worn over guimpes of heavy eyelet embroidery.

As embroidery is not a warm covering for the arms, chest and throat these suits demand some extra wrap for cool days or evening wear. Thus has been developed the three piece costume, one piece being a little coatee, which may be modelled after the eton, the bolero or loose half long coat. With heavier materials the sleeveless coat will be used.

The shore skirt is still more popular for the street and when one considers the color and texture of the materials now in vogue for summer skirts and dresses the fashion is a sensible one.

Long skirts that extend above the waist line are used as house gowns or for outside dressy wear and it is becoming quite the proper thing to have a coat for dress gowns as well as with the strictly tailored short skirted suit.

An idea that carries out the full dress design is seen in having tailored waists that match any skirt to be worn. A blue skirt may have several blue waists one in Copenhagen, Alice or one in blue grey.

CATHERINE MANN-PAYZANT.

AN ECONOMICAL TEA

Blue Ribbon

Tea selling at 25c or 30c a pound is not really cheap, but is extravagantly dear.

Because so much of it is usually required that the cost per cup is actually more than if a good tea like Blue Ribbon were used.

A pound of Blue Ribbon Tea will make 250 cups of good rich tea, so, even at 50c a pound you would get four or five cups for one cent.

Not a very dear drink, is it?

And as for flavor, there is simply no comparison between Blue Ribbon and the "cheap" teas.

Just try a pound, and see.

My little boy, four years old had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. Goodall, president of the chamber of commerce, who is also manager of a dry goods house, will present a directoire with all the frills and slashes to each of the first four women who will wear one of the freak Parisian gowns in Riverside avenue the last day this month. Other stores will also have big stocks of the French and American models. There are some who believe that the services of Ren H. Rice, chief of the police department and the blue coats, as well as the fire brigade will be required when the quartet makes its appearance in the principal thoroughfare.

The Perfect Woman Is Not a Fat One

Artists say the ideal proportion of weight in a woman is 26 pounds for every foot of her height. This would make a woman of 58 feet 4 inches weigh 136 pounds 8 ounces.

If you weigh more than this in proportion you are on the danger line and are likely to get too fat in a few years. Check it by taking a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime of this receipe: One-half ounce marmola, three-quarters ounce fluid extract cascara aromatic and four and three-quarters ounces syrup simplex. Get the marmola sealed and mix it with the other ingredients at home. This mixture is harmless, will not cause wrinkles, and has been known to take off seven pounds of fat a week without any help from exercise or dieting. It is inexpensive.

Over Thirty-Five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, disentery and cholery infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Chlorea and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the Unitdd States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

BIG GRIP ON ONTARIO

TREMENOUS VOTE GIVEN THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY

POPULAR TORY MAJORITY OVER NINETY-FIVE THOUSAND

Total vote polled	470,208
Polled by conservatives	277,914
Polled by liberals	182,280
Polled by independents, laborites and socialists	10,0148
Majority of government over opposition	95,634
Majority of government over opposition and independents	85,620

The official figures of the general elections in Ontario on June 8th last, as shown by the returns to the clerk of the house, place the conservative majority of 95,634, with two constituencies yet to hear from, namely Stormont where the figures have been delayed owing to proceedings in the courts, and Kenora, where, for some unaccountable reason, the returning officer has so far failed to forward his figures. Stormont went with the opposition and Kenora with the government. According to the figures of these constituencies in the press despatches their combined addition will net the government a majority of 487. If these be correct the Whitney government's total majority will be 96,121 over the opposition and independents, laborites and socialists combined.

Approximately the government secured 60 per cent of the total vote cast; the opposition 38 per cent and miscellaneous elements 2 per cent.

Such a popular majority is without precedent in the history of the province. The nearest approach to it was in 105 when the popular majority of the conservatives was 31,48. This has now been tripld.

Notwithstanding the fact that for 33 years Ontario had been liberal, the province has for 25 years past given a conservative popular majority. In 1883 when sir Oliver Mowat had a majority of ten in the house, the conservatives had a popular majority of 3137. In the election of 1886 the conservative majority of votes cast was 9869 and in 1902 the same party had 7333 of a majority. In 1905 when the change of government took place Mr. Whitney's majority by the popular vote was 31,948.

The total vote polled ast June was considerably in excess of that recorded at any former general election in Ontario. Even allowing for the natural growth of population, the size of the vote disproves the contention in some quarters that many liberals refrained from voting. It is evident that the electors generally turned out and the fact that Ontario has not anything like a 95,000 normal conservative majority goes to show that party lines were to a material extent obliterated.

This would seem to show a growing spirit of independence within the parties. The comparatively infinitesimal vote cast for the various independent candidates does not indicate any immediate possibility of a third party. Labor elected one candidate and made a fair showing in two other constituencies. The socialists were practically nowhere, an indication that in Ontario there is really little economic unrest.

In the general election of 1905 when the government of Hon. Mr. Whitney was first returned with a membership majority of 44, the total vote polled was 443,136. The conservatives polled 235,514 and the liberals 203,566, a popular majority for the former of 31,948. The independents' total vote on that occasion was 4056, making the government majority 27,892.

The official records of individual constituencies emphasizes the strength of the government. Six of its supporters were elected by acclamation while the opposition secured none. In five cases the ridings were contested by rival conservatives, while in one case two liberals battled for supremacy. Fifteen government supporters secured a majority of four figures while not a single member of the opposition reached the 1000 marks.

Hon. Mr. Whitney's majority in Dundas was 914, and that of Hon. Mr. McKay in North Grey 71. The largest ratio of votes polled was secured by R. R. Gamey in Manitoulin, who secured nearly 82 per cent of the total vote polled in his riding.

Outside of Mr. Racine in Russell and Mr. Elliott in West Middesex, where no conservative entered the lists, no liberal had 500 majority. In East Ottawa Mr. McDougal had 466 and was the next highest; then came Mr. Kohler in Haldimand with 347, the majority of the opposition members having less than 200.

In several cases there were more than on conservative in the field and in such cases the vote polled for both has been totalled. Likewise in West Middlesex where two liberals were running the total vote polled has been credited to the liberal column. In constituencies where an acclamation occurred the vote polled at the last contested election has been taken.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

RETAILERS' AFFAIRS CONTINUE TO IMPROVE

OUTLOOK FAVORS LARGE FALL TRADE IN CANADA

MONTREAL, July 18.—Bradstreet's statement of trade tomorrow will say: In Canada, Canadian trade returns indicate that the position of retailers continues to improve and that stocks are being reduced. Collections in some sections show improvement but substantial betterment is not looked for until crops are marketed.

Business failures for the week ending July 16, number 29, which compares with 39 last week and 26 this week last year.

Owing to the maintenance of excellent crop conditions the outlook favors a large fall trade in Canada. Yet some buyers are displaying conservatism in making purchases. In the meantime filling-in orders are expanding and sales of summer goods having increased in the older sections in consequence of warm weather. Country trade is fairly good. Building is more active. The break in the Cornwall canal may have some effect on wheat shipments via Montreal. Considerable rolling stock is being prepared for crop-moving purposes, and the new Grand Trunk Pacific will assist in the crop movement on the line from Edmonton to Winnipeg, as this branch will be opened on Sept. 1. The yield of fruits, wheat and hay will be exceptionally heavy, and Manitoba advices indicate a wheat yield of 115,000,000 busels. Dairy interests are especially pleased with the prospects for hay, and it is estimated that the farmers in Canada will receive over $100,000,000 more for their season's crops than they did last year.

Bradstreet's weekly bank clearings are as follows:

		Inc.	Dec.
Montreal	$28,379,000	....	13.2
Toronto	21,634,000	....	12.0

FERNIE POLICE COURT

SENSATIONAL SCENE IN TRIAL OF BLACK HANDS

CASE IS ATTRACTING A GREAT DEAL OF ATTENTION

(Special to The Daily News.)

FERNIE, July 18.—There was a most sensational scene in the police court yesterday morning during the preliminary hearing in the Black Hand cases. In giving his evidence a witness made some very damaging statements against the prisoners, going so far as to testify that arrangements had been perfected by the society to endeavor to obtain money from a well known Italian merchant by intimidation and gave the name of the man who had been chosen to execute the dire vengeance of the society should the victim refuse to satisfy their demands. The witness was unable to proceed further, as the prisoners made a sudden rush at him in an endeavor to throttle him and prevent further disclosures. There was a scene of wild excitement in the court room for a few minutes until the police seized the prisoners and removed them to jail, the court adjourning till tomorrow. It is altogether probable that the indictment will be changed to "conspiracy to murder" instead of "conspiracy to obtain money by threats." The case is attracting a great deal of attention, and the local Italian colony is greatly exercised over the outcome.

The fat men's baseball team won another game on the recreation grounds this evening, when they defeated a team composed of the printers of the town by a score of 9-5. The victorious nine is improving in form with every match and are looking for new fields to conquer.

The ratepayers of the city will vote on the 29th inst on a bylaw to raise by way of debentures the sum of $10,000 to improve the existing streets and open up new ones.

The following candidates have successfully passed the examination for mining certificates which was recently held here under the Coal Mines Regulation Act:

Third Class—Geo. Rankin, Michel; J. H. Brownrigg, Michel; T. H. Manson, Coal Creek; Vincent Frodsham, Michel; H. Winstanley, Michel; D. Evans, Michel; J. McKelvie, Hosmer; Wm. Almond, Michel; D. Evans, Michel; J. McKelvie, Hosmer; Thos. Mather, Michel; Henry Scott, Coal Creek; J. Worthington, Michel; J. Mason, Michel; E. Blewitt, Coal Creek; T. Moreland, Fernie; J. Baggaly, Fernie; E. Rutledge, Fernie; Wm. Clifford, Fernie; T. Reilly, Coal Creek; Wm. Commons, Hosmer; E. McNay, Coal Creek; J. Halsall, Michel; F. Briscoe, Michel, and Ben Cheetham, Fernie.

Mrs. H. W. Herchmer entertained at afternoon tea this afternoon at her residence, which was much enjoyed by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

AT THE THEATRE

The engagement of the Grace Cameron opera company in Nelson ended last night with the presentation of "The Hindu." Both matinee and evening performances yesterday, espcially the latter, were very well attended.

"The Hindu,' like 'The Beauty Doctor," which was presented Friday night and yesterday afternoon, is practically without plot, and the performance depends for its success entirely on the episodes introduced which have really no bearing on the subject matter of the play. The songs and the dancing again caught the fancy of the audience and there was some really clever character work. The parody of president Roosevelt's speeches by the Dutch sergeant and the imitation of a juvenile elocutionist, were very broad comedy but they pleased.

Probably the verdict of the average Nelson playgoer on the company and its performances is that they are capable of the highest class comic opera, that several of the ladies, especially Miss Cameron herself, have voices that should not be wasted on vaudeville and that the company as a whole is probably the strongest that has ever visited Nelson. But it would be gross exaggeration to say that there is a gleam of intelligence in any of the plays presented, "Dolly Dimples," "The Beauty Doctor," or "The Hindoo."

SILVERTON IS BUSY

Is Now a Hive of Industry—Mining and Fruit Culture

(Special to The Daily News.)

SILVERTON, July 18.—Silverton has been a beehive of industry for the week ending today. Five four-horse teams have been kept busy hauling supplies to the mines, and bringing down ore.

The Standard mine shipped two cars of ore and the Alpha one during the week and about 100 tons are now on the wharf awaiting shipment.

P. Couldrey, manager of the Vancouver mine, spent several days inspecting that property during the week.

He reports work progressing favorably both at the mine and at the compressor plant, which is being newly erected.

The last car of lumber for completon of the new sidewalks is now on the ground and the Silverton Progressive Association has a force of men at work putting it in place. When finished the town will be greatly improved in appearance.

Numerous enquiries are now coming in regarding the choice fruit lands adjoining Silverton, and those who carefully examine the land, are invariably highly pleased with it. As a result several projects are now under way to clear up choice tracts, the soil being exceptionally good for fruit culture.

LYDIA E.
PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine for Woman's ills in the world has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

No other medicine has such a record of success for woman's diseases, or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, Inflammation, Ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness.

It has relieved more cases of Backache and Local Weaknesses than any other one remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregularities and periodic pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly yield to it; also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system.

It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues." These are indications of Feminine disorders, which this medicine overcomes as well as slight derangement of the Kidneys of either sex.

Women who are sick and want to get well should refuse to accept any substitute for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

UNCLAIMED BALANCE

LARGE SUM IN BANKS WITHOUT ANY OWNERS

NELSON AND OTHER KOOTENAY POINTS REPRESENTED

The Canadian blue book containing the report of dividends remaining unclaimed and unclaimed balances in Canadian banks has just been issued.

The report shows that the large sum of nearly $600,000 has been left in the various banks.

Looking over the list a number of Kootenay names, including Nelson, Rossland and Kaslo, are found and it seems strange that the owners can not be found.

From the opposition benches of the British parliament comes a complaint about the unclaimed balances in English banks, allied to the demand that such balances should be taken from the capitalistic institutions which hold them, and be transferred to the control of parliament. Almost before Canadian minds could form a question, Mr. Fielding's report gives the amount of unclaimed balances in our banks.

According to his statistics, the unclaimed accounts in Canadian banks amounted to $554,574 in 1906, and to $596,346 in 1907, showing an increase of $31,672 in one year. A question of ownership immediately arises: To whom do these funds legally belong? The depositors are dead. Do the banks inherit in default of a claimant? Or should the government, as representative of the nation take over the money?

In Canada there are three similar but distinct institutions which receive money or estates in trust. First, the banks, for whose note issue the government is liable. Therefore banks annually send to the government a statement of all accounts unclaimed for five years. Secondly and thirdly, trust and loan companies, which make no such return. In the case of the former, an unclaimed estate goes into court.

Laying aside for a moment the normal question, the practical difficulties in the way of government appropriation of unclaimed balances require serious attention.

"We are so rigidly limited by law that we cannot take more than dollar for dollar of our paid-up capital," said the manager of a loan company to the Star. "A bank with half our capital can take ten times our deposits."

"But although you make no report to the government, you have unclaimed balances."

"Undoubtedly. Sometimes a farmer comes in and leaves a deposit for ten years without disturbing it. How do we know whether it is still a liability or not?"

In the above case it will be noted that if the transaction had taken place in a bank the amount would have gone in as an unclaimed balance, since it was undisturbed for a period exceeding five years.

Will the proposed government legislation include the appropriation of unclaimed balances in loan companies, and of heirless estates in trust, as well as of amounts for which the banks cannot find owners?

Again, would such action be the thin end of the wedge? Annually the express companies sell unclaimed goods which have been duly advertised. Have the express companies any more right to the proceeds of such sales than the banks to a forgotten deposit? Might it not be urged that the express lottery should be conducted by the government and the proceeds devoted to the public welfare?

"How long does an account lie untouched before a bank marks the balance off its list of liabilities?" was asked of a local bank manager.

"Never," he replied. "The account is always considered a liability, and interest accumulates, although, of course, the funds are used in common with the other amounts deposited in the bank."

While the above may be true, it must be evident that there are some accounts which, the bank knows will never be drawn. For example, a foreign sailor enters a port and deposits a small amount. He dies shortly afterward, and his home address is incorrect. The chances that his heirs will discover a small account deposited in a local bank in a remote part of the world are so small as to be considered practically hopeless. From such cases a fairly reliable theory of probability might be worked out and used similarly to those compiled by insurance companies. It is stated on good authority that the bank buildings of Scotland are built largely by the unclaimed accounts. The cases are only partly analogous, however, as Scotch banks are older than ours by one hundred and fifty years.

The case of lost street car tickets is a good illustration of the above. Street car companies find by careful records that a certain percentage of tickets are lost annually. Provided the traffic remains constant, this percentage is the same for equal periods of time, and the resulting gain is considered an annual asset. In the same way, the amount of unclaimed balances could be approximately estimated by the use of statistics. Briefly, then, the retention of unclaimed balances assures to the banks a certain percentage of that amount for their permanent use. Evidently this is a premium to the banking business. Whether it is expedient or not is a question depending on the industrial conditions of the country. Canada is a new country, greatly in need of capital to develop her raw material.

"What would the government do with the funds which we refuse to do?" is the question that bank managers ask. Assuming that the government appropriate the funds in question they would be in the same position as the banks so far as liability is concerned. But, as in the case of the banks, they would be reasonably certain of a permanent amount in the end. Here the difficulty of deciding what accounts are claimable and non-claimable arises.

"A great many of the so-called unclaimed balances are known to exist by the people entitled to draw them, but they are lying dormant for some specific purpose," said a prominent manager. "But we have to return them as 'unclaimed' after five years, although the depositor may live across the street."

The balances in question originate in various ways. Sometimes a small and forgotten account might represent interest which had accumulated without being taken into consideration by the depositor. In a Scotch bank the sum of one hundred dollars has lain for fifty years, and has tripled in the interval of awaiting its owner. A unique case was that of the manager of a Toronto bank. He was looking over the government blue book and noticed his father's name opposite an "unclaimed account."

No mention of its existence had been made in the paternal will. It was only a matter of hours until an heir for that particular account appeared. Foreigners furnish the greatest number of cases. The Galician fresh from the old land enters a bank and makes a deposit. Shortly afterward he is killed or forgets which bank he has influence with, and the bank clerk cannot spell the name of his family, so his heirs are not notified. When we consider the innumerable illiterate and careless persons with whom the banks deal, the number of unclaimed accounts is surprisingly small.

"It would take six months to get an account refunded from the government," said one banker. "With us it is a matter of signing a check."

"The government have no right to these funds," said another.

It is reasonably certain that there are no heirs to a deceased depositor, the banks have no legal right to his account, either. When the bankers argue the point, morally they are on dangerous ground. Banks are capitalistic organizations, representing a large section of the business interest. The government presumably represents the nation. Without going into the murky depths of the debates on government interference, if the depositor's claim is for all practical purposes withdrawn, and the contest for ownership left between the government and the banks, there is no doubt that the former has priority of right.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

The thermometer yesterday varied between 84 and 52 degrees.

A. H. Sanderson, of Sandon, has been Gazetted as a justice of the peace.

A meeting of the cricket club will be held this week, probably on Wednesday evening in the publicity bureau.

J. Harry Hamilton, M. D., of Revelstoke, son of ex-mayor John Hamilton of Nelson, has been appointed a provincial coroner.

A Gazette notice proclaims that Fernie has passed into the list of cities of the second class according to the education department's classification.

The regular monthly meeting of the liberal association will be held in Miners' Union hall, Monday evening, at 8:30 o'clock. Business of importance calls for a large attendance.

Rev. Dr. Campbell of Boston will occupy the pulpit today at the Baptist church at both the morning and evening services. There will be special music at the latter service.

Rose growers are complaining that the roses are going much more raidly than is usual this year and ascribe this condition to the two heavy thunderstorms of last week.

There will be a meeting of the city council tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the city hall at which the final arrangements for the taking over of the power plant will be made by the city council.

The children of St. Saviour's Sunday school are now anxiously awaiting the caprices of St. Swithin as to whether is shall or shall not rain on Wednesday next which is the occasion of their annual picnic.

Tomorrow is the day fixed for the end of the first call on the subscriptions for the new Eagle hall and by Tuesday the committee in charge of the new building will be in a position to start the erection.

Delegates for the conservative convention of Tuesday next are already coming into the city and there is a confident expectation that the gathering in question will be one of the most largely attended of any hitherto held in the interior.

Sheriff and Miss Tuck are registered at the Strathcona. The sheriff of south Kootenay has been enjoying a very pleasant fortnight's holiday. He met his daughter at Sicamous two weeks ago and with her has been travelling through the Okanagan and the Boundary.

The Cranbrook Herald says: Miss Tannhauser has returned from her visit to the Calgary fair as the most popular young lady in this district as shown by the Nelson Daily News competition. Miss Tannhauser had a very pleasant time and wishes the Herald to thank her many friends for their kindness and also the Daily News for the courtesies extended.

The practice shoot of the Nelson gun club yesterday afternoon developed some good scores. Ink and Wells and Blackwood sustained their reputation and Bishop is coming to the front fast. Shooting at 50 birds the following scores were made: Bishop, 46; Ink, 45; Wells, 45; Blackwood, 39; Johnson, 39; Devitt, 38; Ward, 36; Macleod, 35 and Larsen 32. At 25 birds Patrick scored 20 and Inglis 9.

R. W. Hannington, after 11 years residence in Nelson, will move into Vancouver on September 1st and practice his profession there with the well-known legal firm of Russell & Russell of the coast city. About the first of September Mrs. Hannington will leave for an extended visit to her old home in the east, until her husband has got a new residence in order at Vancouver. The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Hannington will cause very general regret here particularly in musical and Anglican church circles where Mrs. Hannington has always taken a leading part.

Arrangements are now complete for the holding of the smoker in honor of Nelson's three oarsmen, Del DesBrisay, Frank Nott and Alec Pool, who so successfully represented this city in the regatta held by the North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen on lake Washington on July 3rd and 4th. Several obstacles arising have delayed the holding of this social function but now that it has been finally decided to hold the same on Tuesday evening next no feature should be left lacking that would in any way tend to add to its success as everyone realizes that the boys are deserving of especial credit, which fact should be emphasized on this occasion. The city band will be in attendance to furnish selections that will add to the attractiveness of the affair and citizens in general should turn out in big numbers, thus signifying their appreciation of the good work accomplished by the boys.

A NEW LEASE OF LIFE

ELECTRIFICATION OF THE SILVER KING

LARGE NUMBER OF MEN TO BE PUT TO WORK

The Kootenay Development company, it is definitely announced, has taken lease upon the Silver King and the Hall Mines smelter. While the operations of the new company with reference to the smelter at present are incomplete yet the plan for the working of the Silver King mine is by no means in the same condition. The former method, which has prevailed during the last few years, that of working on the upper levels alone, will not be followed any longer. It has served its purpose, which was to recover the old lead, which was thought to have been lost. But to get the greatest benefit possible out of the mine, it is necessary, as announced more than a year ago by The Daily News, that the lower levels be also operated and that work be carried on something like the old scale when the Hall Mines smelter was built for the purpose of accommodating the mine.

The new company has planned the erection of a pole line and will immediately proceed to its erection. This will be used for the electrifying of the property in order to unwater and properly work the lower levels, which extend some 800 feet and more below the surface outcrop. Just as soon as this work has been completed a large force of men will be placed at work. Lorne Campbell, of the West Kootenay Power and Light company, has been in negotiation with the new company and it is probable that an arrangement will be made with him early this week.

TUESDAY'S GATHERING

Large Attendance for Convention and Subsequent Mass Meeting

Martin Burrell, the conservative candidate in Yale-Cariboo, is at the Strathcona. He will address the conservative mass meeting on next Tuesday night in the opera house.

Neil F. Mackay, M.L.A., Kaslo, will also be here for Tuesday's meeting and R. S. Lennie, president of the Nelson conservative association, says that all the provincial representatives in Kootenay will be in attendance.

It is expected that delegates from every part of Kootenay will be here for the convention and for the mass meeting afterwards. As already stated elsewhere today, Hon. W. J. Hanna, M.P.P., Ontario, will address the evening mass meeting.
