WARM WORDS

Mayor Taylor on City Power Plant

TRUSTEES AND COUNCIL

LENGTHY DISCUSSION TERMINATES WITH PRACTICAL COMPROMISE IN SIGHT—NEW GOVERNOR FOR MUNICIPAL POWER WORKS.

There was an old time protracted meeting of the city council last night, the aldermanic body not rising until after 11 o'clock. The principal features of the meeting were the discussion between the council and the representatives of the installing company of the city power plant in which, after some plain words had been uttered by the mayor, the company was given five days to say what they would do and a friendly talk between the council and the school board in which the latter apparently receded from their position as to the marble facings, the council agreeing to try and furnish them with the other extra money requested. Several minor details took up the attention of the board till the end of the session.

There were present mayor Taylor, and aldermen, McMorris, Stead, Patenaude, Hale and Procter.

After the reading of the minutes the first business staken up was the question of the power plant E. W. Breed of Vancouver and R. S. Lennie being present as representatives of the installing company, the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock Co.

Mayor Taylor said the object of the council in asking for the presence of the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock company was the receipt of a report from Cecil B. Smith, which while complimentary to the plant stated that the governor was not up to specifications. He asked what proposals the company was desirous of making.

R. S. Lennie pointed out the generally favorable character of the report. He was not prepared to say on such short notice, only getting a copy of the report that afternoon, what the company would do. He understood that the governor was a perfectly good one, but under the peculiar conditions prevailing it was not satisfactory under certain conditions. He would say, however, that the company, for its own sake, would make good. The company would supply a governor which would meet these conditions, if possible. If the city chose to take over the plant and pay the company the balance of the money, deducting a reasonable sum for a new governor, some such arrangement might be made. In the meantime the company could be communicated with.

Mayor Taylor said the handing of the report to E. W. Breed was not to be taken as an acceptance of the plant. He would like to have some definite proposal with a view of taking over the plant. There had been an expert from the company at the plant for many weeks, who must have known the condition of the governor. Furthermore, a contract was entered into by the company with the city last March undertaking to deliver over the plant in 30 days.

R. S. Lennie maintained that the contract referred to applied to the plant as then existing. Nothing could be done as to the new governor without reference to the company.

W. A. Macdonald said the city had all along maintained that the governor was not satisfactory and the conseqences of the contract must therefore be taken by the company.

Mayor Taylor said he was not willing to wait any longer. He was willing to give the company reasonable time to instal a new governor but if they delayed then the city ought to put in its own governor and charge to the account of the company. The company ought to have known all along that the governor was insufficient and yet the company had been trying to cram it down the citys' throat.

R. S. Lennie protested against any aspersions being cast upon his company; the governor was a perfect one except at three-quarter gate opening, which meant that it was capable of taking any load the city might feel inclined to impose. Yet the company would give the city another governor which would prove more advantageous to the city.

Mayor Taylor said the governor had never yet worked 24 hours without help. It had been declared to be satisfactory by the company's engineers more than once. It was all buncombe and the city did not propose to be humbugged for another year and a half.

E. W. Breed said on the test that the governor failed when a quarter of the load was suddenly thrown off or on. But for the last 20 or 25 days the governor had governed the machine perfectly, and in proof thereof he exhibited several sheets of the recording tachometer which showed apparent straight lines.

On examination there were found to be variations of several revolutions. This on a baby load, variations in some cases which would not be justified with an overload of 50 per cent.

E. W. Breed proposed the taking over of the plant by the city on the guarantee that the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock would put in an efficient governor.

Mayor Taylor said he believed the temper of the council to be such that it would neither pay over another dollar nor take over the plant until a new governor were installed.

E. W. Breed said it was not a question of money.

Mayor Taylor proposed taking the opinion of the council but R. S. Lennie objected to its being done before he could lay the proposals of the company before the aldermen.

The council agreed to give the company five days to make these proposals, without prejudice to the city's interest.

Mayor Taylor stated that the forebay wall at the power plant was found at high water to be six inches under that level and on the surge of water was 12 inches. Thus if the wall had not been raised the water would have been into the plant causing many thousands of dollars of damage, although high water mark was five feet below the mark of 1903.

The question of the new school was then gone into, there being present of the school trustees R. G. Joy, R. J. Steel, A. D. Emory and W. Irvine.

Mayor Taylor said the purpose of the conference was not to interfere with the undoubted right of the school trustees to spend the money but for each body to take each other into their confidence.

R. G. Joy said that there was $57,000 at the disposal of the trustees. The school board knew that they could not spend more money than they had. If the marble facings were used neither the heating, nor the janitor's quarters nor the assembly room could be finished. If cement were used these things could be done. In any case there would be no money for equipping the new building nor for grading the grounds.

Mayor Taylor pointed out that the terms under which the money was granted called both for the equipping of the school and for the grading of the ground.

R. J. Steel said that the furniture on hand was sufficient for 11 rooms and the remainder could be let alone for the present.

Mayor Taylor pointed out the disadvantages of the cement facings were far less than the disadvantages of not furnishing the school.

R. G. Joy said the trustees were open to a suggestion.

At this juncture Dr. Arthur, the secretary of the school trustees, came in and joined in the discussion, saying that in any case the trustees would have to go to the people for more money.

W. Irvine said if the equipping were cut out, the grading of the ground and of the marble facings, the school could be built for $57,899. But while last year it was estimated that the grading would cost $1200, the lowest tender was $3700. Again, while the heating estimate was $7000 the lowest tender was $10,000. The building itself was within $1500 of the estimate furnished. As to the marble facings there was to be considered the two marble industries of the town which should be supported. Yet if there were not money for marble and it were the speaker's private building, as a business proposition, he would use cement not marble. As the council had to provide the money the school trustees felt that they ought to go slow.

Mayor Taylor pointed out that if marble were used there would be an additional cost of $5339 over and above the sum at the dispo al of the trustees. With out the marble, but plus the grading and the supplementing of the old furniture by the new, figuring the grading on Dr. Arthur's figures at $2000 and furniture at $2000 to $2500, the building could be completed throughout for $5000 extra. If marble were used the cost would be nearly $10,000. Now the citizens would certainly grant $5000 but might hesitate considerably at the larger amount.

Dr. Arthur compared the nigh school to a jail and said that no building was as much criticized as a school and therefore he wanted marble, even taking into consideration the city's finances.

Ald. Procter said he thought economy in the present state of the finances was essential.

Mayor Taylor said the arrrangements of the school, its ventilation and heating had provoked much favorable comment at the coast and school experts had there said that in many respects the building would be te best equipped in the province.

Dr. Arthur—Why spoil it for $4500, then?

The doctor then went on to say that the fire chief wanted fire proof staircases which would be extra.

Mayor Taylor said parents were careful of the lives of their children and there would be no trouble in getting the money for such a purpose.

The following resolution was then read: "In the opinion of the council the trustees would be justified in incurring extra liabilities as follows: In providing non-inflammable staircases, grading the grounds on new levels to be taken, providing extra furniture and signing the present contracts which are $889 in excess of the amount at the disposal of the trustees, the council undertaking to put a bylaw before the people for that sum.

Dr. Arthur wanted to knew whether the city would finance it in the meantime.

Mayor Taylor said he would place before the citizens a money bylaw for a second unit at the power plant within the next two months, and the extra sum could then be voted upon.

Dr. Arthur said he could not be ready but was overruled, retiring from his position by saying he would ask for enough next time. He said he would be satisfied if the council passed the resolution now read to them.

This was moved by Ald. Patenaude and seconded by Ald. Stead and passed unanimously.

City engineer Dufresne condemned the old Miner building as unsafe. The city clerk was instructed to write to the owner of the building to either repair or tear down the building.

Dr. Arthur presented a report on the milk supply, which was favorable.

The Methodist church extended an invitation to the mayor and council to be present at the laying of the corner stone of the Methodist church on Wednesday next.

The invitation was accepted.

The provincial government presented a bill for water records against the city for over $3000, against which the city had claims for water and light supplied. The balance was $242 against the city, which was voted to be paid.

The city clerk reported that the cost of the plant John Burns wished to rent from the city to have been $2400.

Mayor Tay[illegible] the city should [illegible] plant at the installation of the second unit. The request was refused on the motion of Ald. Patenaude, seconded by Ald. McMorris.

A letter was read from W. A. Macdonald that R. J. Howley was appointed a representative of the Tramway company with full powers to treat with the council. It was agreed to call a special meeting of the council upon Mr. Howley's arrival.

A letter was read from Smith, Carey & Chase recommending Joshua Sangster for the position of superintendent of the power plant. The mayor said that Mr. Stubbs wanted to know whether he was to have the position. This could not be ascertained just now in the position of affairs. Mr. Stubbs had not had great experience on hydro-electric plants. He was a man, however, of high standing and reliable in every respect. On the other hand Mr. Sangster was highly recommended.

As the appointment is still open, the matter was left in abeyance, enquiries being made as to the new applicant.

A. Clayton was appointed pound-keeper without salary. He will look after unlicensed dogs, stray cattle and poultry.

Chief Young reported that 15 shop awnings were below seven feet in height. Aldermen McMorris, Steed and Patenaude were appointed a committee of enquiry.

With regard to electric signs the mayor suggested that the fire, water and light committee report on the minimum light per lineal foot, also to fix a rate for the light.

Ald. Hale said the matter was under consideration of the committee.

Ald. McMorris pointed out that W. G. Gillett had been instructed to return the city boiler in his possesssion within 30 days from May 11.

Mayor Taylor said that legal proceedings were being taken to enforce the return.

The road tax bylaw was read a first and second time and was then read in committee of the whole and then a third time.

City engineer Dufresne said that Mrs. Patterson wanted the land opened between Innis and Gore streets on Kootenay. The request was referred to the standing committee.

Ald. McMorris reported that the provincial government had completed the new road to the cemetery.

The council then adjourned until July 6th.

GREENWOOD CASES

County Court Sittings Before Judge Brown—Decision Given

(Special to The Daily News.)

GREENWOOD, June 27.—At the county court, which resumes here tomorrow, cases against the Sudbury Mining company, owning some claims in Deadwood camp, and the Providence Mining company will be heard.

His honor judge Brown has given out his decision in the appeal case brought by David McBride of Bridesville against a conviction for trespass, given by Henry Nicholson, J. P. McBride had fenced off a piece of road that the assistant land commissioner had taken possession of and incorporated into a road connecting the Rock Creek Osoyoos and the Rock mountain roads. The piece of road fenced off had been built by one Schiveers with McBride's permission and made connections with the Rock mountain road, which was a public highway. The judge held that the land commissioners must gazette such roads before they can resume possession of property held under grant from the crown and incorporate it in such roads. The case is very important, as the practice is a very general one over the province and one on which, it is understood, no decision has been given before.

A London cable says that Longboat's entry has been received in proper form and that there is absolutely no doubt as to the legibility of the Canadian for the Olympic games. CIVIL SERVICE

British Better Than American Example

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSIONERS TO BE ON SAME STANDING AS JUDGES AS TO PARTY—THE HOUSE ADJOURNS OVER DOMINION DAY.

(Special to The Daily News.)

OTTAWA, June 29.—At the opening of the house this morning sir Wilfrid Laurier moved that the house adjourn over Dominion Day, and that hencefore the house sit on Saturdays. Carried.

On the dominion lands bill being taken up, Dr. McIntyre, Strathcona, put in a plea for settling a part of the lands to provide a fund for the higher education in the two new provinces. He did not see in the bill any provision for university education and the bill would dispose of all the lands of the provinces. A reservation had been made for the University of Manitoba, and he thought the same should be done in Alberta and Saskatchewan. He accordingly moved an amendment that the government should have power to set apart lands for this purpose.

Hon. Frank Oliver negatived the proposal, taking the ground that the occasion was inopportune, this being a bill to provide for the settlement of the land only. A separate bill should be brought in to make a university reserve.

Messrs. Herron, Foster and Lake supported Dr. McIntyre's suggestion, but the minister maintained his position.

At this afternoon's session, on the continuation of the debate on the dominion lands bill, a discussion arose as to what should be done with squatters, no provision being made for their ejection.

Dr. Schaffner, Souris, claimed it would be a great hardship to turn out squatters who have put extensive improvements on the land and wanted to know if such lands were made homesteads, would the homesteaders or the government get the improvements.

Hon. Frank Oliver did not anticipate such a contingency, as it was unlikely that squatters' lands or lands from which squatters were ejected, would be opened to homesteaders. While he admitted being in favor of dealing leniently with all squatters, it must be remembered that the squatters are on the land in defiance of the government, and it would not do to legalize that defiance.

After final clause 103 was passed, at 4 o'clock, half a dozen clauses that were allowed to stand over were taken up, and Hon. Mr. Oliver moved his clause 27 amendment, extending the pre-emption area westward to the line of the Edmonton-Calgary railway.

In reply to M. S. McCarthy, Calgary, Mr. Oliver admitted that the extension of the boundary really only included half a dozen townships northeast of Calgary, as the odd-numbered sections had been mostly taken up by the railways, but the railway boundary would make the blocks more uniform.

At the request of R. L. Borden, clauses 27 and 28, were allowed to stand over till Thursday.

Some heat marked the discussion of the amendments moved by Hon. Mr. Oliver with the object of protecting the owners of timber limits from trespassers or illegal cutting.

W. D. Staples, Macdonald, said that during last year's fuel famine it was stated that J. T. Burrows, Dauphin, had refused to allow settlers to cut wood on his limits.

The member for Dauphin indignantly denied this.

Clause 77, one of the administrative clauses, was held for further consideration, leaving three clauses yet to be dealt with.

The house then went into committee on the civil service bill.

F. D. Monk, Jacques Cartier, expressed regret that the outside service was not included. That part of the public service, he said, was filled with halt, lame and blind incompetents who had reached their positions through political pull.

Hon. G. S. Foster suggested an amendment requiring that two of the commissioners should be selected out of each party; that was the American practice, he said.

Hon. Sydney Fisher replied that the American practice was not always a good example. It made partisan lines much more prominent than did the British system. There would be no politics in these appointments, just as there was none in the case of judges, he added, amid general applause.

Highly Enjoyable Picnic at McKinnon's Landing—Bad Weather

(Special to The Daily News.)

BURTON, June 29.—The Arrow Parkites were unfortunate in their choice of a day for their picnic promoted by them and their nighbors last week at McKinnon's Landing. The next picnic, it is honed, will be favored with better weather.

PUBLIC MEN

Rev. Dr. Shearer, secretary of the board of moral and social reform of the Presbyterian church, has come to the rescue of the politicians in matters of graft and corruption. The reverend gentleman in preaching before a Toronto congregation the other day declared that the average public man, in Canada was above the average citizen in calibre and character.

Dr. Shearer, it will be remembered, was the head and front of the lobby for the promotion of legislation touching the better observance of the Lord's day. He has had the advantage of seeing politicians at close range and his expressed opinion is entitled to careful consideration in consequence.

He testified that, after extensive and close range dealing with the large majority of the politicians of both parties, not only in the dominion parliament but in the provincial legislatures, his deliberate judgment is that the typical Canadian politician is above the average of our citizenship alike in calibre and in character. There are exceptions, he said, men in both political parties, who in all respects are a disgrace to themselves, a burden to their party and a dishonor to their country. But they are the exceptions, not the rule. "This opinion," said Mr. Shearer, "is based on extensive personal knowledge and is the very opposite to what I held prior to a personal acquaintance with the rank and file of our public men."

In concluding his sermon at Toronto Dr. Shearer warned his hearers against the common notion that graft was an offence peculiar to politicians. The general wholesale charges of corruption that are hurled at public men—on the other side—make it easy for the real grafter when he is shown up, to plead more or less successfully that he, like the rest, is merely a deeply maligned man. That graft exists today at Ottawa and elsewhere, no thoughtful man who at all closely follows events, can seriously deny but in order to get at the grafters and their friends, it is quite unnecessary to attack the morals of all politicians, of all public men, as if they and they alone were the guilty ones.

Dr. Shearer, by the way, is himself the subject of a strong attack just now from a large section of the Canadian press, on his stand taken in connection with the charges of immorality and graft in the Yukon, preferred by the Rev. Mr. Pringle, against the liberal administration at Ottawa. Possibly Dr. Shearer is now able to speak from personal experience as to how a public man feels when charged with questionable acts. The doctor is openly and broadly charged with doing his best to belittle the Pringle charges and to help the liberal government out of a very awkward position. It is comforting to know, however, that the reverend gentleman has given the average Canadian politician of today a very fairly good charcter. If he hs not cleared the average Canadian public man from all charges of corruption and political wrong doing, he makes it clear that in his opinion, at all events, the politician stands above his fellow men from a moral standpoint.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It is a matter of congratulation that the telegraph and telephone companies are to be brought under the jurisdiction of the railway commission, acccording to the terms of the bill now before parliament. The many complicated issues arising as to the performance of duties and the charges to be made for the services rendered will hereafter be decided by a tribunal in which the public has the greatest confidence and in future the many important questions involved, will it is hoped, be speedily and satisfactorily settled.

Sometimes complaints are made that summaries of local meetings and happenings are not correctly reported in the daily papers. As a rule the newspaper accounts are generally correct. An amusing instance in point, was the account published in these columns of a public meeting held here over a year ago. The reporter who wrote up the meeting was met on the street next day by a citizen who complained that the report published was incorrect in several material points. While the two were discussing the matter along came half a dozen men, all of whom had participated in the previous night's meeting and an appeal was made to them as to the correctness of the newspaper's account. It is worthy of note that not one of the seven men could agree on what actually had taken place at the meeting. It is a fact to which all newspaper men can testify that things look very differently in print to what they seem to the person speaking them. Only very recently the Colonist had an illustration of this where a speaker said that a verbatim report of a part of a speech was not what the speaker meant to say. This sort of thing happens over and over again. In publishing summary accounts of meetings very much depends upon the viewpoint of the reporter, who tries to bring out the salient features. Sometimes he may make a mistake, but as a general proposition he endeavors honestly to relate things as he sees them. Newspaper reporters are just as honorable and just as trustworthy as any other men in the world. They are trained to habits of accuracy and sometimes when people complain that they have published what is not true, the reporters have in point of fact told the truth but it has not proved exactly palatable to those to whom it related.

Probably no man has derived from his practice at the bar a fee in any way approaching that which Rufus Isaac, K.C., earned recently. In the Jamaica earthquake case in the king's bench division, Mr. Isaacs was the leading counsel for the defendants, the London and Lancashire Fire Insurance company, in whose favor the verdict was given. He received a retaining fee of $15,000 and a "refresher" of $1000 a day. The case lasted for 21 days.

This has been a distracting session for the Ottawa government. The evidence shows that a deplorable looseness characterizes the administration of some of the departments. There has been gross carelessness in the expenditure of the public money and serious waste of the public patrimony. The government has gone on the assumption that the revenue belongs to the liberal party and that it should be disbursed through liberal agencies. The slavish devotion of ministers to the patronage list has enriched a multitude of party favorites and swollen expenditure in many directions. Ministers have come very close to positive corruption. The whole power of the government and its parliamentary majority has been exterted to protect spendthrifts and rascals. On a few great issues of public policy the government has been progressive and courageous. In its general administration it has been feeble, wasteful, tortuous and corrupt.—Toronto News.

RESPECTED PIONEER

As already announced in these columns, while visiting some old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Sansom, in Spokane, Mrs. Dowding after a short illness passed away on June the 20th. The deceased lady was one of the pioneers of British Columbia, having arrived with her father captain Pittendrich in New Westminster early in 1874, in 1875 she married the late judge Haynes, removing to Osoyoos lake where the judge had his extensive stock ranch, here in an ideal home in this lovely spot, she aided her husband till his death in 1888 indespensing a lavish hospitality and to those who can look back over past years comes the memory of an old English home with its kindly host and hostess, surrounded by a group of happy children.

The suddenness of her death came as a great shock to her family and friends, her immediate relations being Mr. Val, Williams and Sherman Haynes sons, and Mrs. R. B. White, Mrs. R. H. Parkinson and Mrs. R. Gardom daughters, owing to being out of the Province some of the members of the family were unable to attend the funeral, which took place at Osoyoos on the 24th. The body being brought from Spokane the day previous.

The funeral services was held at the Old Kruger House, the wreath covered casket being placed on the poarch over*looking the beautiful lake and residence* which had been for so many years the happy home of the deceased.

Though the notice of the funeral was unavoidably short a large number of the old friends from both sides of the line gathered to pay a last tribute of respect to one whose goodness of heart and kindly disposition had endeared her to those who knew her.

A touching evidence of sympathy was give by the Indians of the village of In-Ka-Mip who held an impromptu religious service as a tribute of gratitude to one who in past years had always extended a helping hand to them in their need.

The Rev. Mr. Cameron conducted a most impressive service, commencng with the singing of "Nearer My God to Thee" followed by the Indians, who sang several hymns in their native language. Mr. Cameron concluded with a touching and eloquent address to the assembled mourners.

A move was then made to the head of the lake, where, on a small knoll, the re*mains were deposited in their final rest*ing place, and so we have to requiescat-in-pace over another of the fast diminishing band of the real pioneers.

Badly Sprained Ankle Cured.

Three years ago our daughter sprained her ankle and has been suffering terribly for two days and nights—had not slept a minute. Mr. Stallings, of Butler, Tenn., told us of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. We went to the store that night and got a bottle of it and bathed her ankle two or three times and she went to sleep and had a good night's rest. The next morning she was much better and in a short time could walk around and had no more trouble with her ankle.—E. M. Popularity Spells Success

There must be a reason why the Kilties band has been able to toot successfully and continuously for eight years, and there is:

It is a record achieved by no other band in the worrld's history. Even the March King Sousa has only toured at intervals.

It proves that band music only—even of the best— will not suffice for continuous success under all conditions, and in the picturesque tartans—the stalwart, bare-kneed Scots, headed by two giant drum majors, and inspired by the irresistible bag pipes, and the wild slogons of the clans, is found the spell.

Add to that one of the greatest concert features of the world, the unsurpassed dancers of all nations, the champion piper of the world, soloist of renown and a male choir of twenty trained voices, and the result is clear as to why the Kilties continue their tours, year in and year out, and are greeted by unbounded enthusiasm everywhere.

NEW ARMORED CRUISER

BRITAIN'S LATEST MYSTERY IS THE INDOMITABLE

WILL BRING PRINCE OF WALES TO CANADA

LONDON, June 29.—That monstrous, formidable warship, Britain's new armored cruiser Indomitable, will convey the prince of Wales and his suite to Canada for the approaching celebration of the Quebec tercentenary.

So the loyal Canadians and perhaps their neighbors to the south will have opportunity to see the newest floating proof that Great Britain yearns to preserve the world's peace.

With the same earnest desire, other powers will try, unquestionably, to build a cruiser that in a naval duel can sink the Indomitable. Well knowing this, the admiralty's engineers have kept profoundly secret every important details of the huge cruiser's construction. So she has come to be known as "the mystery ship." As far as she and her sister ships, the Invincible and the Inflexible, are concerned, the dove of peace is blind.

The great war vessel is the fastest, the longest, the largest and the most heavily armored cruiser afloat. She displaces 17,250 tons and is 530 feet long; she is to all cruisers, save her sisters, what the Dreadnought is to all battleships.

The power of her artillery is immense. She carries eight huge 12-inch guns, each 45 feet long and capable of firing an 850-pound shell twice a minute. These guns are mounted on four turrets and the turrets are arranged so that all the eight big guns can fire on either broadside and six of them ahead or astern.

Some notion of the force and blast of these guns can be gained from these facts:

During the Indomitable's trials two of the amidship turret guns were trained right ahead and fired simultaneously. A boat was hanging on the davits, well out of the actual path of the projectiles, but in the track of the blast of gas which accompanied them. After the shots had been fired the boat was left a mass of matchwood lying on the deck.

The projectiles from the mammoth guns will pierce four feet three inches of solid iron placed close to the muzzle. At 5000 yards they will penetrate with ease 14 inches of the best and strongest steel armor made.

Besides her eight big guns, the Indomitable carries 16 4-inch guns for the purpose of meeting torpedo boat attack; eight of these are mounted, two on the top of each turret, and the other eight on the upper works.

This superb fighting machine has turbine engines of the Parsons type, developing 41,000 horse power, the most powerful ever put in a British warship. Her four screws have carried her at a rate faster than 25 knots. She can give the Mauretania or the Lusitania good chase.

The Indomitable's boilers are fitted with appliances for burning oil, but coal is her chief fuel. With the oil added as fuel she makes long-continued speed.

It is known that all her equipment, her long distance wireless telegraph, her signalling apparatus, is of very newest design. Still she remains the "mystery ship," but one worthy of carrying the heir to the British throne.

Friends of universal peace will loudly rejoice to learn, too, that a deadlier battleship than the Dreadnought will "rule the seas" in about two years. As soon as the battleship St. Vincent is launched at Portsmouth, Sept. 10, next, preparations will immediately be made to commence another vessel embodying the all-big-gun principle, and the same general method of protection as were introduced in the Dreadnought. This new vessel will be an improvement on the St. Vincent in every respect, carrying heavier armament, being of greater displacement, and costing $11,250,000. It is reported that this monster battleship will be completed for sea in 18 months from the date when the keel is laid. She will displace probably about 21,000 tons.

And this new monster will be a greater sea mystery than the Indomitable; she will be, in effect, the "Flying Dutchman," or rather the "Fighting Dutchman of the world's navies. No smoky signal athwart the sky will announce her coming to the enemy she would pacify, for she will make no smoke and so will have no need of funnels.

Messrs. Vickers, Sons & Maxims announce that they have developed the gas-power engine to a stage which, they feel, will justify the new type of engine being fitted in a man-of-war, with every promise of triumphant success. This statement has aroused widespread interest and it is no secret that the matter has been under the consideration of the engineering staff at the admiralty.

So naval engineers advance toward the outer edge of the boat, a boat filled by the depth of water in British harbors. Twenty years ago the two largest ships in the British fleet where the battleships Nile and Trafalgar, which displaced only 11,940 tons of water, or about half of the amount which will be displaced by the latest ship designed at the admiralty. The Nile and her sister were regarded as monsters, since 10 years before the biggest vessels under the White Ensign were the Ajax and Agamemnon, of 8660 tons. Since then, with hardly a pause, the size and the cost of men-of-war have advanced rapidly.

A Rollicking Summer Song

Up at Procter's Fifth Avenue Theatre, Rosie Lloyd, the popular young English comedienne, is receiving rounds of applause. She is singing "When Its Moonlight on the prairie," "It Always Comes With the Summer," &c. The demand will probably exceed the supply, so order from newsdealer in advance. This song is reproduced by arrangement with J. W. Stern & Co., the wellknown music publishers.

NO MORE RHEUMATISM

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HIM

Christopher D. Graham is a well known citizen of Ottawa—formerly in the City Hall and largely instrumental in forming the Ottawa Hunt Club. Mr. Graham's voluntary testimonial as to the great benefit he received from taking "Fruit-a-tives" will carry conviction.

Ottawa, Ont. Nov. 26th, 1907.

Dear Sirs:—

I have been a sufferer from Rheumatism for a long time — pains in my shoulder and joints practically all the time. I tried various treatments without benefit and then I was recommended by a friend to try "Fruit-a-tives." I took several boxes of the tablets and now, for a long time, I have been entirely free from all rheumatism and rheumatic pains.

I wish to state, also, that I suffered from haemorrhoids, or piles, for years, I used all kinds of ointments and treatment and nothing did me any good, but after taking "Fruit-a-tives" for my rheumatism I am entirely cured of these dreadful piles. (Sgd) C. D. GRAHAM.

commonwealth; earlier than the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers. Who would not rejoice in the ancient lineage of this sacred spot, sacred to the first throbbings of a new nation—sacred to the memory of the old regime—of Frontenac and Laval—and sacred alike to those of later days, to Dorchester and Durham and the Fathers of Confederation. Fill up its history as you may, with all modern innovations in architecture and transportation so familiar in other cities, yet Quebec still stands with the tracery of the olden days on every feature and the legends of the old regime on every page of her history. Quaint old city, the dearest link in our conection with the past as well as the historical center of all that modern civilization has done for British America.

And we celebrate the battle of the Plains of Abraham not because of the sovereignty which it transferred, but because of the sovereignty which it founded and developed. What was the triumphant march of Wolfe to the triumphant march of liberty, and toleration and statesmanship which followed in its wake? In the ordeal of battle many of the noblest qualities of the human race are called into exercise, but it is only by the arts of peace that a nation can reach its highest altitude and the progress of humanity its greatest development. Who, in the light of history, regrets the battle of the Plains of Abraham, and who, that loves free speech in every tongue, a free conscience under every creed and liberty under every social condition, would have it otherwise?

But hark! There is booming of cannon. The celebration has already begun. You look eastward and on the shimmering waters of the St. Lawrence you behold a long procession of moving forms shrouded in smoke and pulsating as though stirred by some terrible passion. Look! What flag is that which flutters from the foretop of the great monster now leading the procession? I see it! Huzza! Who would not cheer the meteor flag of a thousand years. One hundred and fifty years ago it was seen where it now floats but with different feelings. And are the sailors whom you see on deck the same breed of men who fought at Trafalgar and the Baltic and the coast of Spain and are they looking for some enemy to encounter? Peace, there is no enemy today, and it is well. These monsters of the sea on which you are gazing are not seeking for prey; they bear no message of death; on the contrary, their guns ring out as joy bells ring at Christmas time. But stop. Is that the fleur-de-lis of France that I see moving so gracefully to take its place abreast of the royal flag of England? Well done. That flag fluttered in these waters 300 years ago when this proud city of Qubeec was born. Welcome, dear old fleur-de-lis, welcome the flag of France! But what is that new flag that looms upon the horizon, spangled with stars and fluttering in all the vigor of its young life? Unknown to Wolfe, unknown to Montcalm, what is it doing here? Ah! We know it well, it is the flag of the United States. Why should it not be here? To the day we celebrate it owes its origin.

Young scion of the northern zone, in whose veins are intermingled Saxon and Norman blood, these salutations are for you. France under whose lovely eyes you first saw the light, England who folded you in her strong arms and lavished upon you her choicest gifts, America who claims with you a common birthplace rejoice today in the vigor of your early manhood and the gilded sky of your rising expectations. And their prayer to the God of nations is that the heroism which has made the names of Montcalm and Wolfe so dear to the whole world may characterize your sons to remotest generations and that the partnership of two races first made on the Plains of Abraham and since confirmed by treaties and acts of parliament may contribute to the stability of your institutions and the prosperity of your people "while circling time moves round in an eternal sphere.

QUEBEC BATTLEFIELDS

SENATOR GEO. W. ROSS GIVES A CONTRIBUTION

PARTNERSHIP MADE ON PLAINS OF ABRAHAM

The following special article sent out by the Quebec Battlefields' association, is from the pen of Hon. G. W. Ross, ex-premier of Ontario.

I propose, as a small contribution to the interest which his excellency's suggestion for the preservation of the Plains of Abraham evinced a desire to conduct the partnership on friendly and equal terms and where friction occurred as to methods of business—and that was not infrequent in its early history—to vary such methods where possible, without prejudice to the ultimate success of the partnership.

The articles of partnership were formally signed on the Plains of Abraham outside the city of Quebec on the 18th September, 1759 and went into immediate effect.

It is a far cry from the treaty of capitulation which was made on the Plains of Abraham in 1759 to the present year of grace, 1908 but it is remarkable how the stipulations of that treaty have influenced the course of Canadian history Ramexay's demand that the French garrison should be permitted to march out of the city which he so honorably surrendered was significant of the resolute manner in which the French race has ever since insisted upon fair recognition in the administration of the country. A race who, in the hour of their direst adversity was able to snatch from the iron grip of the conqueror the honors of war, could not fail to be an important factor in the future history of any country. And then, whether we approve of disapprove of the religion they professed a race who claimed as a condition of laying down their arms that they should be allowed the free exercise of their religious convictions, is not a race likely to encourage anarchy or flount the authority of constitutional government. A race, too, that has preserved its individuality, its social habits, and its language amid all the changes of the centuries, has a steadying power which in this democratic age of change and unrest must prove of incalculable value in promoting the stability of government and suppressing the vapid agitator and the turbulent demagogue. To quote sir Chas. Dilke in his recent book on the British empire: "The French Canadians are now under the admirable institutions which in our late born wisdom we have conferred upon them, perhaps the most loyal of all the peoples under the British crown and they are so in spite of the fact that they have remained intensely French, proud of their race and its history and deeply attached to their tongue and its literature * * * * The double allegiance of the French Canadians of the present day on the one hand to the British crown and to the liberty which they enjoy under it, and on the other hand not to a foreign power which they regard as foreign, but to their own race and literature, is one of the lapses of human nature and it may be of hereditary antipathies, Canada is today stronger in her national cohesion and more inevitably committed to pursue her own distinctive destiny, whatever it may be, than she would have been were it not for the partnership so happily formed 150 years ago on the Plains of Abraham.

And here let me submit two other considerations bearing upon the relations of the French occupation of Canada to the history of North America. First, if the French had not taken possession of Canada when they did and colonized the valley of the St. Lawrence, Canada, would, no doubt, like other parts of North America, have been occupied by the British. Then would it not naturally follow that when the other British colonies revolted in 1776 that Canada as the fourteenth colony, would have also joined them? By a similar process of reasoning, had not Canada become a British possession in 1759 it is more than probable when Napoleon Bonaparte sold his French possessions in America to the United States in 1803 that Canada as part of these French possessions would also have been bargained away. Are these two circumstances contingent parts of that "divinity which shapes our ends" or merely an hypothesis incapable of proof? At all events the logic of the situation leads to but one conclusion.

Let us next consider the significance of the Plains of Abraham to America. Although it is generally assumed that the passing of the Stamp act was the cause of the revolt of the thirteen colonies, a closer reading of history shows that the right of self government conceded to them in their charters from the crown was the secret spring of that spirit of independence in the fullest sense of the word, although they had in fact all the liberty up to that time which it was possible to obtain under any circumstance. But so long as France was in control of Canada to the north and west they felt that to attempt a separation, would be to place themselves between two fires. On the Atlantic side British troops could be easily landed, to which resistance would be futile. To the north and west they would be subject to the attack of the French, aided no doubt by the Canadians. But by the conquest of Canada the position was materially changed. They argued that now in the event of a revolution, France, instead of aiding Great Britain, would be disposed to revenge the loss of Canada and could be depended upon openly or secretly at least, for assistance.

It is possible that to general James Wolfe rather than to general George Washington the American republic owes its origin and it is possible that the victory which won for Great Britain her vast Canadian possessions occupying half a continent, lost to her the other half of the continent, and that the true shrine for Americans is, not Independence hall where the declaration of independence was signed, not Mount Vernon, where the remains of general Washington are entombed, but the heights behind cape Diamond, beneath which the St. Lawrence flows in silent and majestic grandeur? This seems to be the judgment of the historians.

If so, how significant to the whole world as well as to America, was the event of Sept. 18, 1759.

Then what about the significance of the contest on the Plains of Abraham to Great Britain. First, it revealed to her in a most conclusive manner the advantage of naval supremacy. When admiral Saunders with 277 ships of the line and 60,000 soldiers set sail for America for the conquest of Canada it was evident to the whole world that without the command of the sea no nation need aspire to universal sovereignty.

Second, the taking of Quebec practically laid the foundation of her colonial empire. Except a slender foothold in India, the British possessions elsewhere were comparatively insignificant. Australia and New Zealand, although discovered, had no apreciable value except as a shelter from offended justice. She owned a few of the West Indies islands and Prince Rupert's Land in North America, and seemed to be satisfied. But with the possession of Quebec the idea of a colonial empire fastened itself upon British statesmen and from that date forward, whenever new territory could be obtained or minor possessions enlarged, she pushed her conquests as well as her commerce, until now she occupies one-quarter of the habitable globe. Had she failed in the conquest of Canada who can tell what would have been the effect upon her aspirations and her territorial expansion.

Third, it was vital for Great Britain that in the councils of Europe her prestige should be maintained. Prussia was asserting herself under Frederick the Great, Austria had undoubted influence as one of the greatest powers of central Europe, Russia was emerging from the obscurity of centuries and Spain was still a force to be reckoned with. Outside the continent of Europe she had little to fear because of her power at sea, but to maintain her rank among her sister nations, she could not afford to be baffled either in diplomacy or in war. What were the many millions which Pitt spent in the conquest of Canada, compared to the prestige and the distinction which it conferred upon British statesmen and the dread with which it invested her army and navy?

And lastly, the acquisition of French Canada gave to Great Britain a frontal entrance to her western possessions in North America. What would the great Northwest be worth to Canada today if a foreign country intervened between it and the Atlantic ocean? Accessible directly only by the Hudson Bay, it would be isolated from the world except for a few months of the year. The great waterways reaching half across the continent would be under foreign control, and the prairies of the west would be as isolated as central Africa. To acquire Canada was to connect the east and west and to lay the foundations for that Canadian empire which so happily responds to the impulses of nationhood and is already so rich in promise and so commanding in its possibilities.

And now, having endeavored to interpret the significance of the events to which I have called your attention, let me ask you if it is not fitting that we should rejoice in the memories they awaken and the national consequences to which they gave birth. The founding of Quebec brings us back three centuries —back to the days of the earliest explorations of North America—to the days when European civilization first laid its hand upon the new world. What a plunge into the past. Earlier than the

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

The roofing of the new court house has already started.

Work has already started in getting together a good mineral exhibit for the Nelson fair of this year.

A meeting of the I. W. W. is called for this evening at 7:30 o'clock, when the election of officers for the ensuing term will be held.

If the provincial taxes are paid before the end of the month at the government offices here there will be a rebate of 10 per cent on the total amount forthcoming.

The following were naturalized as British subjects yesterday: A. Johnson, F. Dalbom, Swedes; F. Rindler, Austrian; L. Warnacke, German; R. Strom, Norwegian; J. Portugal, O. Bronson and C. Fass, Americans.

A meeting of the special committee of the Canadian Mining Institute will be held this morning at the publicity bureau to settle upon some plan of action for the reception of the mining men who are coming to this city and district in September next.

B. Isaac sent in some fine strawberries for show purposes to the publicity bureau yesterday. The secretary asks that owners of any specially fine specimens of fruit will send them to him as he would like to make as fine a collection as possible.

Application was made for bail yesterday morning by W. A. Macdonald on behalf of his client George Coleman in the case of Rex vs. Coleman. The hearing was deferred until this morning at 10 o'clock in order to give time to get a report from the doctors as to the condition of Sann.

A branch of the Bank of Montreal was opened yesterday at Hosmer by J. S. G. Fraser, manager of the Rossland branch. This is the first bank opened at Hosmer although others may go there later, as the importance of Hosmer as a coal centre, although no shipments will take place until December next, is already growing rapidly.

F. J. Sammons, who is in charge of the Nelson exhibit at the Calgary fair, writes saying that the exhibit is now nearly finished and that he is further dependent upon the good will and energy of the people of Nelson to keep that exhibit looking as attractive as possible by the daily sending of flowers. When he first arrived on the scene the Nelson exhibit had been relegated to the side of the fair but he was able to secure a central position. There is neither a lumber nor a mineral exhibit at the fair. Mr. Sammons says that the little prairie towns, with little to boast of, are spreading themselves most energetically to do the best they can to boost their centres whereas Nelson, with by far greater advantages, is comparatively supine.

Citizens are again reminded of the necessity of fresh cut flowers being sent daily to Calgary. The secretary of the board of trade will be in his office daily between 1 and 5 o'clock to receive consignments.

W. J. Astley reports that he has met but few people in Nelson up to the present who have not been ready and willing to sign the petition for the putting back of the clock one hour. He points out that there are other cities in the dominion which are in the same position as Nelson in this regard and that they have adopted the same remedy successfully.

The cutting of grass in the park, now that the water has started to recede, will be started today. The park looks in a somewhat forlorn condition and it has been suggested that possibly a good way to get it improved would be to lease it under favorable terms for improvement purposes to the Tramway company should they decide to resume operation of the service.

A party of Confederation Life officials are touring the province just now on business connected with the company and were in Nelson yesterday. They expressed themselves pleased and surprised with the progress made recently. The party includes J. K. McDonald, the general western manager, A. M. Campbell, who is at the head of the real estate business of the company, and E. N. Jory, the inspector.

A sojourner in Nelson from Fernie said yesterday that the fear of the Black Hand society in that city is a very real apprehension. The Italian laborers will not go out at night except in gangs of ten to a dozen. Already there are ten men languishing in the lockup charged with being members of this fell organization, and it is hoped that the authorities will do their utmost to stamp out the society in this province.

There were several chamber applications before judge Wilson yesterday morning after the session of the county court, including Western Pole and Lumber company vs. Kinney, in which W. A. Macdonald appeared for the plaintiffs and obtained an injunction continued until the next court; in re Slocan city assessment vs. C. P. R. in which the costs were fixed at $45; Campbell vs. Cook, in which R. M. Macdonald obtained an order for service ex juris; Bohman vs. Daly, in which H. C. Hall obtained an order for service ex juris.

Our family were all born and raised in Iowa, and have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy (made at Des Moines) for years. We know how good it is from long experience in the use of it. In fact, when in El Paso, Texas, the writer's life was saved by the prompt use of this remedy. We are now engaged in the mercantile business at Narcoossee, Fla., and have introduced the remedy here. It has proven very successful and is constantly growing in favor.— Ennis Bros. LONG DAYS UP NORTH

TWENTY BUSINESS PLACES NOW AT PRINCE RUPERT

(Special Correspondence.)

PRINCE RUPERT, June 21—C. C. Van Arsdol, chief engineer of the G. T. P., left here this week for Edmonton where he will meet F. W. Morse, the general manager of the company, who is now on his way from Montreal. The party will then start on an overland trip fom Edmonton to Prince Rupert following the proposed route of the railway. They will leave Edmonton on July 1, on their 900 mile trip, which will be accomplished by horse and canoe. It is said that pack trains will be used from Edmonton to a point on the Fraser river about 200 miles above Fort George. From Fort George the journey will be over the old Hudson Bay trail. From Fraser lake the party will follow the telegraph line until they reach Hazelton. From this point the party will be brought to Prince Rupert by river boat and will arrive at Prince Rupert about August 15.

Many reports are continually reaching here regarding the wholesale gambling that is said to be carried on now at Port Essington. It is said that in some of the hotels this crime is carried on openly and that the town is now "wide open." The residents of Prince Rupert are denied even one liquor license, but although Port Essington has several provincial police stationed there if the present reports are correct gambling is carried on in open defiance of these guardians of the law.

Will the heavy blasting on the railway grade near Prince Rupert interfere with the fishing industry in this vicinity. It is stated that most of the marketable fish have a holy horror of loud blasting and that even now signs have appeared to indicate that they are considering the changing of their quarters. With the prospects of over two years of blasting ahead it is difficult to say where the fish will finally be located.

Passengers at the rate of 300 a week are now arriving in Prince Rupert and while many of them are leaving, the northern metropolis is growing at the rate of about 200 per week.

The novelty of seeing the city transfer companies in Prince Rupert doing business with wheel barrows, highly decorated with paint instead of horses is daily witnessed here. It is said that these wheel barrow transfer companies are all doing a good business and that a transfer using horses could not begin to compete with them owing to the fact that there are no graded streets and when one steps off the plank walk you immediately get mired. It is said that Prince Rupert is the only place in America where the usual transfer business is carried on in this manner.

During the month of June darkness in Prince Rupert is at a premium, as it is very good daylight at 2 a.m. and one can easily read a newspaper at 10:30 p.m. These long days are a great benefit to railway contractors, who are now working night shifts.

There are at present over 1000 people in Prince Rupert, including railway laborers, and there are over 20 places of business which are all making money. A most noticeable feature about this northern port is the fact that all the people are sober, the only beverage obtainable being milk which is sold in great qauntities in many of the stores.

A prominent mining man arrived from Queen Charlotte Islands yesterday and is authority for the statement that the future coal supply for Prince Rupert will undoubtedly come from that quarter Camp Robinson and Camp Wilson are among the very best coal camps in those parts. The coal there is very similar to the coal of Cumberland and is found in large quantities. It is stated that coal from these camps can be delivered at Prince Rupert at $5 per ton. In addition to this it is stated that along the line of the G.T.P. between Prince Rupert and Edmonton an abundance of coal is just waiting to be mined, so that the future metropolis of northern British Columbia will have an ample supply of coal from these two quarters.

FOR CAMPERS

Don'ts That May Save Many Thousand Dollars This Summer

(1.) Don't, when in the woods, throw down a lighted match, cigar-stub or other flaming object; make sure that the flame has been thoroughly extinguished before throwing it away.

(2.) Don't build your camp fire larger than is necessary.

(3.) Don't under any circumstances, leave your fire unguarded, even for a comparatively short time; see that it is dead out before you go away.

(4.) Don't build your fire in leaves, rotten wood or other inflammable material.

(5.) Don't build your fire against a large or hollow log, where it is hard to be sure when it has been thoroughly put out.

To those "don'ts" it may be added that in windy weather, or in a dangerous place, it is well to confine the fire in a hole dug clean down to the mineral soil, a fire may smolder in the humus, or "duff" for many days, only waiting for a strong breeze to fan it into a flame that may burn over miles of timber.

Summer tourists and campers unfortunately have a bad reputation among the owners of timber limits as being a frequent cause of fires. Such fires could be prevented, almost without exception, by a little extra care on the part of the campers, who have been the unintentional cause of much forest distruction, and who have just as real an interest in the preservation of the forests as the owners of the timber themselves. The rules given above are the result of long experience and observation on the part of many woodsmen and lumbermen as to the origin of fires from this cause, and are earnestly commended to the attention of campers, sportsmen and others.

The need for observing them is emphasized by the occurrance a few days ago of the serious in the Lake St. John district in Quebec, one village being wiped out; the fires are thought to have originated from the fires left by fishermen.

PHOENIX MINES

Work in Progress on Dominion Copper Company Properties

(Special to The Daily News.)

PHOENIX, June 29.—The Dominion Copper Co.'s mines and smelters are all in operation today, the first furnace at the smelter being blown in Saturday morning. At the Rawhide mine, superintendent Charles Rundberg said there were 65 men employed, and the force would be increased to 100 early this week; shipping commenced on Monday. Three machines are operating and 30 men are at work at the Brooklyn, where the first ore train is being loaded today. The Sunset shipped today; 25 men are employed and the number will be trebled in the course of a week. The mining of ore at the Mountain Rose mine will be done by contract, and operaations have commenced already.

W. S. Thomas, who has been manager for the Dominion Copper Co. here, has resigned, and P. F. Rossa has been appointed his successor.

Work was started last week on a tunnel at the Lucky Shot, the property of the recently formed Lucky Shot Development company.

A shift of eight men are now at work on the Woodburn claim of the Phoenix Mining and Development company. The force will be increased next week.

C. Martin, N. W. Sweetzer, J. Darr and W. Lindsley, all students in mining engineering at Pullman college, have taken positions in local mines, and will spend their vacation gaining practical mining knowledge.

Word has been received from W. B. Willcox, the former editor of the Pioneer, that he has purchased a fruit ranch near North Yakima, Wash.

A wire was received today from J. L. Martin, president of the Carney Copper company, at present in Wallace, Idaho, that decision has been given in favor of the company in the suit for damages brought against them by the former owner of the Carney mine. This suit has excited considerable interest in the Boundary, where a large percentage of the shareholders reside.

INSULTING THE FLAG

Used Stars and Stripes to Wash Dishes With at Panama

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The Americans in Panama have had cause for heated protests recently, not only account of the Panama elections but because of an incident which called into action a portion of the Panamaian army. A foreign commercial house in Colon insulted the United States flag, using it to wash the windows of the establishment. Wayne Adams, of the canal zone, as the story goes, witnessed the desecration of the stars and stripes and engaged in a hard-fought battle for the possession of one of the flags which were being used to clean windows. He was pursued, according to reports, by a section of the army of Panama, consisting of two policemen and a full lieutenant general in full regalia. As a result of the disrespect shown the flag by the commercial house, the canal zone, from one end to the other, is hung with boycott signs, and the offenders have found less expensive washrags.

DECORATING THE GRAVES

SPECIAL SUNDAY SERVICES AT THE CEMETERY

LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE IN ATTENDANCE

Decoration Sunday at the cemetery the day before yesterday will be long remembered by those taking part. The day was specially that of the orders of the Odd Fellows, the Knights of Pythias, the Rebekahs and the Pythian Sisters, but was also taken advantage of by many other citizens to see that the graves of their departed were not neglected.

The procession startesd from K.P. and Fraternity halls, in the order named, wound its way up Stanley street at a little after two o'clock, there being fully 200 people in line on the streets with a number of carriages following the procession along the sidewalks and by the time the cemetery was reached there must have been collected quite 500 people. All went down to the plots belonging to the two first orders named, which lie alongside each other and waited reverently until the simple services were concluded before scattering around the cemetery to look after their own graves, those who were at rest under ground, too often, not nearly as well kept as those of the visiting brethren.

The services were simple enough, the chaplains of the respective orders reading a short prayer, then a simple hymn or two being sung, the placing of flowers on each grave of the departed brethren, the reading of a short address appropriate to the occasion by the masters of the lodges and with the singing of another hymn the societies went away. During the services and on the line of march the city band played appropriate music.

The idea of decoration day is to teach the brethren that those who have gone before are deserving of care and honor by those left behind and while the state of the grounds belonging to the societies show that honor and respect is thus accorded by them the state of too much of the remaining portion of the cemetery shows that the lesson inculcated is necessary for those outside of the societies. But the visit of so many people to God's acre, as the English villagers term the grave yard, will undoubtedly stir up that feeling which has to be created before the prettily situated Nelson cemetery can be that place of beauty which its surroundings would naturally make it with a little conjoint and personal effort.

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery" was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical experts, teachers and writers on Materia Medica who recommend them as the very best remedies for the diseases for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompained with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

No Need of Suffering From Rheumatism.

It is a mistake to allow rheumatism to become chronic, as the pain can always be relieved, and in most cases a cure effected by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Work started yesterday on the stringing of the wires upon the Canada Zinc pole line and also upon the finishing up of the few remaining things that have been left to the last before completing the plant itself. As soon as the line is completed it is expected that operations will begin.

At the last meeting of the building committee of the Queen Victoria Hospital Society, Revelstoke, final arrangements were made for the erection of a new east wing to the present building and a resolution was passed that tenders be called at once for this work. Elsewhere in this issue will be seen the advertisement calling the attention of contractors to the tenders, and calling for same which must be received by the secretary not later that noon on Wednesday, July 15th.

The following is the line up for the Michel-Nelson game of association football which is to be played on the first day of the celebration. Nelson, Nute, goal; Boyes, Kissack, backs; Hooper, captain; Williamson, Fear, half backs; Cameron, Gill, King, Taylor, White, forwards. The kickoff will be at 1:30 o'clock prompt. Word was received yesterday from the board of railway commissioners stating that they received the Nelson case and would give it their careful consideration. As to holding a sitting in Nelson they were not prepared to answer that petition in the affirmative, but pointed out that they would be holding a sitting in Winnipeg on September 10 next. A reply was sent pointing out that the same objections applied to Nelson witnesses going to Winnipeg at to Ottawa. It would be cheaper for the commissioners to sit in Nelson than to take a host of Nelson witnesses to the east to say nothing of the greater efficiency resulting from an enquiry if that enquiry were held upon the ground.

During the past ten days judge Wilson has travelled 1220 miles and besides the ordinary court work at Nelson, Revelstoke, Golden, Fernie and Cranbrook has heard 14 speedy trials. Three of these men were acquitted, one let off on suspended sentence, one is on his way to Kamloops, four are in the Nelson gaol and five men are either at New Westminster or are upon their way thither. An affecting appeal was made to the judge during his recent visit to Fernie, the first woman he has ever been called upon to try was charged before him for theft. The woman pleaded that if his honor were a married man he would feel her position, she had to steal to support her husband. Another thief on being asked for his defence confidentially remarked "Well' you see, your honor, desire overcame discretion."

The chief of police has been instructed to see that all projecting signs will be raised ten feet above the sidewilk and all signs on the sidewalks be removed.

W. B. Steed, the only son of alderman Steed of this city, yesterday passed at Victoria his final examination in dentistry. He will practice within the province.

E. D. Farmin of Spokane is a noted shot of that city and is entering the trap shooting competition which opens here tomorrow morning.

Miss Rossie Coutts, the successful Phoenix candidate, with a coterie of friends, passed through Nelson last night on her way to Calgary where she will enjoy the fruits of her work in The Daily News popularity contest.

The publicity bureau will have a flag pole for their new 18 foot flag tomorrow. This has been loaned by W. G. Gillett and is the flag staff for the new court house and was rustled by the city engineer who will have it put up today.

According to the returns coming in last night by the Crow boat Miss Tanhauser of Cranbrook is easily first for The Daily News popularity contest for the Calgary fair, getting a total of 19,208 votes as against 3005 for Miss Brown of Fernie. Tickets and money for the successful candidate were forwarded last night to Cranbrook.

(Special to The Daily News.)

SPOKANE, June 29 — One thousand dollars in gold is offered as a reward in Spokane for the recovery of 18 black diamonds and 60 chip diamonds, valued at $12,000, stolen from the Diamond Drill company at the Centre Star mine in Rossland, the morning of June 21. The diamonds were owned by Fred Stone and E. H. Knight of Spokane, who used them in drilling. While there is no clue, the police believe that some one familiar with the office is responsible for the loss of the gems. The workmen fastened the door when they quit work the night of June 20, but failed to place the diamonds in the safe. On their return the following morning they found the door unlocked and the stones gone. Thomas Connor, manager of the company at the mine and the night watchman, say they did not notice anyone in the office after the workmen left the building. The police at Rossland are of the opinion that an attempt will be made to bring the diamonds into the United States where they can be disposed of easily for the reason that they are not registered.
