BEAUTIFY CITY

Mayor Taylor Proclaims a Half Holiday

WORK AT POWER PLANT

LONG DISCUSSION OF WAYS AND MEANS IN RELATION TO MUCH NEEDED IMPROVEMENTS IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE CITY—THE PARK.

Thursday, April 16, has been set by the mayor in council last night as a general cleaning up and arbor day, a public half holiday being proclaimed for the occasion. Trees for planting will be obtained for any citizens desirous of setting them out on the boulevards.

The meeting of the council last night, which was fully attended, was chiefly taken up by a discussion of ways and means. There have been many petitions for sewers, for water and for other improvements and the question before the council was how the money could be raised for the execution of the work desired. Within the city a local improvement loan might be raised but this could not be done if the work lay outside the city limits.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting the special committee on the new cement work reported that they had authorized the doing of the work at the power plant at a net cost of $1100. The work costs $1200 but its performance saves $100 on the floors. The new work is that backing the cliff against which the power plant is built. The report was adopted.

The chief of the fire department reported three fires last month, with a total loss of $165. An inspection had been made of the public buildings and necessary changes ordered. A new fire alarm system had been installed with satisfactory results.

H. Hill of the Occidental hotel asked for the sole right of selling refreshments at the park pavilion. Also permission was asked to put up bathing boxes. The matter was referred to the works committee with permission to advertise asking for tenders.

D. Maglio petitioned for a new sewer. The city engineer reported the cost would be $495.

The mayor pointed out that this year it would be impossible to take up work of this nature; there was a heavy burden to be carried with the completion of the power plant.

A petition was read from ten householders on Anderson street, Fairview, asking for a water service.

City engineer Lawrence said the cost, outside of the pipe in hand, would be approximately $467.

Ald. Procter urged that the work be done.

Mayor Taylor said to do the work would be burdening the revenue of the city for the benefit of people who stayed outside, paying no taxes yet doing business in the city.

Ald. Hale thought the city should sell its water.

Mayor Taylor said that already $12,000 had been added to the estimates and every additional item simply added to the taxation. There was not the revenue to do this thing. Sewer construction should be covered by payments over 10 to 20 years and not paid out of the revenue of any one year. Either there should be a frontage tax or there should be a separate loan. The revenue should only be expected to pay for maintenajnce. The works committee should find out just about what sewers were wanted and then report on some scheme for providing for their construction. A local improvement loan would not affect the credit of the municipality. Water connections within the city could come under the same head.

Ald. Procter thought that people should be encouraged to build but they would not build if they could not get sewers.

The petition of D. Maglio was then turned over to the works committee to report on it and on the general question. The Fairview petition was next considered. It was pointed out that a main had been laid out to the shipyard with which the C.P.R. was to connect and pay $50 a month. This they had not done. There were 60 or 65 people connected along the line, bringing in a revenue of $100 a month. The cost of the line was $5778. The work was done last year. The mayor stigmatized the spending of the money last year as reckless and foolish. If the new pipe were laid it could not be paid for by any local improvement loan, being outside of the city and would have to be met by revenue. Now there was not the revenue available.

Ald. Procter said the fact had better be advertised that the city was not in the position to supply sewers and water and so "tie her up tight."

"Better do that," said the mayor, "than to tie her up with debt."

The petition was filed.

The mayor asked what about a cleaning up day.

The general opinion of the council was that a half day be taken, the rubbish taken to the back lanes and thence hauled away at a later date with teams.

Mayor Taylor set Thursday week for a half holiday for cleaning up and as an arbor day. Persons wanting trees must apply before Saturday next at noon. Applications must be accompanied by the cost. The trees will be supplied at cost price Maples and mountain ash will be got for this purpose from Grand Forks.

Mayor Taylor said that a general inspection of the city by W. Payne of the electrical department discloses that citizens generally are robbing the municipality. Drastic rules would be made dealing with the matter and no second inspection would be allowed in future. People who refused admission to the inspector would be forthwith charged an additional 25 per cent.

Mayor Taylor said that when the power dam was built it had been figured upon the basis that the river was not narrowed. But the river had been narrowed by the Bonnington plant. Consequently the dam would have to be raised.

W. Shackleton said the low water level this year was on March 1. Now the river had risen one foot six inches. The top of the dam was 15 feet 6 inches above low water level. The rise in 1907 was 12 feet 8 inches. In 1903 the rise was 15 feet. With the narrowing of the river there was danger of the high water coming over the dam intot the building. To add four feet to the height of the dam would cost $800.

There ensued a discussion as to how high the wall should be carried and it was finally decided that the fire, water and light committee be given power to raise the dam to whatever height should be found necessary. The council then adjourned

TO DINE IN NEW YORK

FOURTH ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE CANADIAN CLUB

PROMINENT MEN TO REPRESENT THE DOMINION

New York, April 6.—The fourth annual banquet of the Canadian club of New York will be held in the large ball room of the Hotel Astor on Thursday, May 14. An imposing array of speakers is announced, the list including Hon. Adolphe Lemieux, Hon. R. L. Borden, Mr. justice Longley, Hon. Charles Marcil, representing the dominion; the British ambassador, Hon. James Bryce; the French ambassador, M. Jusserand; the secretary of state, Hon. Elihu Root will also be present. The indications are that the coming banquet will surpass in international importance and general interest all previous affairs of the kind held by the New York Canadian club.

SETTLERS COMING

Two Thousand will be Brought to Edmonton by Salvation Army

Edmonton, April 6—It is announced here that the Salvation army will bring in 2000 immigrants this year to settle in and near this city. These settlers will all be experienced farmers or mechanics with considerable money to tide them over a reasonable period until they are in a position to earn enough money to support themselves.

INCREASES ITS CAPITAL

Montreal, April 6.—At a meeting of the shareholders of the Ogilvie Milling company held here today it was decided to increase the capitalization of the company by $750,000 in 6 per cent bonds, to furnish capital for the operation of the new mill at Fort William, and also by the addition of $1,250,000 to the common stock of the company. Of this latter amount the preferred shareholders are to get one share for each share of preferred stock held by them, the price to be par.

CHEAPER POSTAGE

Montreal, April 6.—Postmaster general Lemieux, at a meeting in the board of trade today, told the merchants that he was hopeful that a one cent drop letter rate would be put through at the present session of parliament.

PROSECUTE ANARCHIST

EMMA GOLDMAN'S LECTURE WAS NOT FREE

WELL KNOWN POLICE OFFICIAL IS DYING

Winnipeg, April 6.—A police officer was watching the proceedings at the Emma Goldman lecture in the trades hall last night and it is stated today that the attorney general will be asked to issue a fiat for the prosecution of the lecturer for violating the provisions of the Lord's Day Act. Reports are to the effect that the police found that persons were not allowed to enter the hall unless they paid 10 cents for admission.

Inspector William Munro of the Winnipeg police force, one of the best known officials in Canada, is dying.

"I have had many reports from the country," said premier Roblin today, "and everything is in fine shape. I expect that with a few days more of fine weather the farmers will begin seeding."

OTTAWA NOTES

Ottawa, April 6—The recommendations of the civil service commisison in favor of increased salaries will be presented at this parliament for approval. The government may also bring down legislation on the subject of civil service reform.

The term of lieutenant governor Jette of Quebec has expired but it is understood he will continue in office until after the tercentenary celebration at Quebec.

The term of lieutenant governor Clark of Ontario also expires April 21, and it is possible he will be succeeded by sir Richard Cartwright but not until next fall.

SIR HENRY'S HEALTH

London, April 6—The bulletin issued this morning regarding the health of sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman says that the patient had a good night and that his condition remains unchanged.

MORE RIOTING

Portugal Again on Verge of Revolution

ELECTIONS ARE STORMY

REPUBLICANS MAKE HEAVY GAINS BUT THE MONARCHICAL PARTIES ARE SATISFIED WITH THEIR MAJORITY—MANY VOTERS SHOT.

Lisbon, April 6—Five persons were shot to death and fifty others wounded by the soldiers last evening, after the voting in the elections in this city had ended. The rioting was widespread and such was the confusion arising in the violent conflict between the populace and the municipal guard that the guard, mistaking some infantry men, who had been called out, for members of the mob fired a volley into their ranks, seriously wounding three of the soldiers. The night was one of terror for Lisbon, which seemed suddenly aflame with seething revolution. Bands of men ran widly through the streets brandishing weapons while the sharp crack of rifles was heard in various sections of the city. Thousands of the most peacable citizens fled to their homes, just as they did the night after the assassination of king Carlos and the crown prince.

The cavalry and a large force of police continue to patrol the streets. There were further disorders today when voting was resumed in the St. Dominique section where it was suspended yesterday by reason of the rioters. Great crowds again gathered in the section and republicans bearing flags and attempting a noisy manifestation. The rioters finally dispersed. It now appears that five republicans have been elected in Lisbon, Braga, Alemida, Manezes and Alphonse de Costa. A government note issued today states that "the government gave instructions to ensure liberty of voting and took precautions to prevent disorder." The election passed off regularly in almost all districts of Lisbon but at St. Dominique the republicans tried to rush the ballot boxes and were dispersed after stoning the troops who guarded the voting precincts. One hundred and ten arrests have been made.

The city is in a state of intense excitement over the riots of last night, brought about by the indignant protests of the republican element that it was being defrauded at the polls.

One observer says the streets were literally red with blood. No official statement of the number of killed and wounded has yet been issued and pending authority from the government sources no official press statement is permitted to be telegraphd. Following the bloody street affray three newspapers, the organs of the Francoists, the regenerators and the nationalists were mobbed.

With the exception of minor disorders at Anjos and Alcantara the elections passed off quietly through the country, so far as the present dispatches indicate. Slight disturbances occurred during the day in certain sections, owing to the number of electors who suspected unfair methods were being adopted. There was much deriding of the police but the latter did not hesitate to scatter the crowds with a strong arm.

No untoward circumstance is reported from Oporto. The ballot boxes, according to the traditional custom, were installed in churches and the voting, due to the agitation throughout the country and the active campaign of the republicans possibly was the heaviest in Portugal's history. The large vote cast and the great number of candidates made the count slow, and, because of bad communications in the provinces it is unlikely that the full returns will be in before Tuesday.

Nevertheless a large monarchist coalition majority composed of the two old "rotative" parties, the national clerical and the tranquilist groups is assured. Ninety-nine out of 146 deputies reported elected, are monarchists.

In a general way the elections turned out as planned by the parties in control. The republicans who had but two seats in the dissolved parliament, increased their representation to possibly 20. In Lisbon they swept the populous sections of the city but gerrymanders, including the outside districts, offset in a measure this advantage.

The opposition leaders are raising the cry of fraud. They claim that while the government pressure seemingly was relaxed the old electoral machinery was in full operation because of the fear on the part of the government of a great republican movement and that therefore the elections do not represent in any way the sentiment of the country.

As the suffrage is limited to those who can read and write or who pay certain direct taxes, the republicans contend that it was an easy matter for the authorities to manipulate the regular list against the republican partizans among the masses, 80 per cent of whom are illiterate. Nevertheless leaders like Machado, Almeida and Cunha say that the seats they won will give them sufficient strength to wage open war against the old regime as soon as parliament reassembles.

The monarchists apparently are satisfied with the results, saying that the extravagant claims of the republicans are utterly disproved.

ON CHARGE OF FRAUD

Accountant Under Arrest—Local Option in Alberta—Official Promoted

Calgary, April 6—J. Morrice, who for some time was accountant of the Alberta Biscuit company and was dismissed a few weeks ago, was arrested in Winnipeg on Saturday and will be brought back here to face a charge of fraud. The company claims that he made a false entry in the books. Affairs at the factory got into a bad shape and it went into liquidation, the closing down of the plant being caused by poor management. Morrice and Johnstone, the manager, were dismissed at the same time.

The first municipalities in Alberta to take advantage of the clause of the liquor license ordinance providing for local option by a three-fifths vote, will be the towns of Olds and Claresholm. This decision was reached at a meeting of the Alberta temperance and moral reform league held at Red Dere Friday, to consider questions of interest to the league. Application will be made at once to the attorney general's department for the necessary legal steps to have this local option vote arranged.

A. S. Craig, who for the past five years has filled the responsible position of superintendent of the Calgary Milling company's plant, left last night for Duluth, where he will take charge of the large plant of the Duluth Superior Milling company, which has a daily capacity of 500 barrels of flour.

FOR BATTLESHIP FUND

(Special to The Daily News.)

Toronto, April 6.—The provincial supplementary estimates include $100,000 for the Quebec battlefield fund.

The provincial treasurer, Col. Matheson, sails for England about June 15 to float a loan. It is expected that the provincial elections will be over by this date.

WITH THE LEGISLATORS

BUSINESS OF PARLIAMENT TO BE RUSHED ALONG

CIVIL SERVICE RESOLUTION IS DROPPED

(Special to The Daily News)

Ottawa, April 6.—Frow now on all that private members will have in the house will be Mondays, until question time, and the hour on Friday evenings which is given to private bills.

Today Fisher's bills, to amend the Canned Goods Act, to amend the Inspection and Sale Act and to repeal the Canned Goods Act, already explained, were introduced and given first readings, as was also Oliver's bill to amend the Yukon Placer Mining Act.

Dr. Roche inquired when the government intended to introduce a bill providing for the extension of the boundaries of Manitoba.

Fielding replied that the matter is at present receiving the attention of the government. In the absence of the premier from the house, however, he did not care to make a definite statement.

The house then went into the question of an act respecting the Fort William terminal railway and bridge, but which stands in the name of R. G. Macpherson of Vancouver.

Macpherson explained away some objections, and the bill was reported after a few moments' discussion, and subsequently given a third reading.

An act respecting the Pacific Coast Fire Insurance company also got a third reading.

Barker (Hamilton) was told that there is no matter in dispute between the government and the Transcontinental railway commission, in respect to the route and construction of the eastern division.

When the notices of motion were reached, Foster's resolutions, in respect to the civil service and Knowles', calling for the early construction of the Hudson's Bay railway, were dropped from the order paper. It was announced that the latter project would be brought up tomorrow as an amendment to the motion to go into supply.

Several non-contentious motions, calling for returns, passed.

Hughes (King's, P. E. I.) had a resolution to merge the names of the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island railways into the Interprovincial railway and that the accounts of the government railways be considered one entity. The motion was strongly supported by the Island members, but was opposed by Hon. Wm. Patterson, Graham and others. It was finally withdrawn.

The house rose at 10:30.

BAD OUTLOOK

St. John School Children in Great Danger—No Fire Escapes

St. John, April 6—The committee on safety of buildings has submitted their report to the city council that there is not a workable fire escape on any school building in St. John.

QUAKER CITY UNEMPLOYED

Philadelphia, April 6—The city council will be asked to appropriate not less than $50,000 to relieve the distress among the unemployed and their families, according to action taken yesterday at a meeting of the unemployed. A committee was appointed to go before the council and impress them with the fact that more than 25,000 persons are out of employment. Mayor Reyburn has issued a call for a meeting of the citizens' permanent relief committee tomorrow to consider relieving the distress.

DEAD AT VICCTORIA

Victoria, April 6.—Capt. J. B. Mitchell, aged 74, a veteran of the Crimean war, died here today at the residence of Mrs. Spain. Captain Mitchell was severely wounded at the storming of the Redan and was awarded a life pension. Commander Spain of Ottawa, of the marine and fisheries department, is a nephew of the late captain Mitchell.

C.-B. RESIGNS

H. H. Asquith Is Sent for by the King

WILL BE THE NEW PREMIER

RESIGNATION OF THE LATE PREMIER IS REGARDED AS A BLOW BY THE HOME RULE PARTY—MANY CHANGES LIKELY IN THE MINISTRY.

Biarritz, April 6.—Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the British prime minister, has resigned. Herbert Henry Asquith, chancellor of the exchequer, has been summoned here for a conference with king Edward.

London, April 6.—Herbert Henry Asquith, the chancellor of the exchequer, who has been summoned by the king to Biarritz, crossed by the night boat from Dover to Calais tonight, enroute to that place to see the king, whose absence at a time when it was seen that sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's illness must lead almost inevitably to a cabinet crisis, provokes criticism in the English papers.

There has been a rumor that the king would return to London on Saturday next, but it is very doubtful. In his letter of resignation to the king, sir Henry advised his majesty to summon Mr. Asquith. The latter, in fact, has not a rival for the leadership of his party and the government. His accession to the premiership undoubtedly will sooner or later lead to sweeping changes in the constitution of the late ministry, but under the unprecedented circumstances of the British premier resigning during an important session of parliament, it is possible the new premier will content himself with only absolutely necessary changes, leaving further reconstruction until the weighty measures now before parliament are disposed of, and this the more especially, in view of the desirability of avoiding, as far as possible, bye-elections, which would be necessitated by appointing new men to office.

The friends of Winston Spencer Churchill, who figures as a likely cabinet candidate, contend that he would be able to carry his seat in Manchester, but taking into consideration the result of all previous bye-elections, particularly at Peckham, no liberal seats are regarded too safe at the present time. In any event, whether Mr. Asquith declares to complete the reconstruction of the cabinet now, or postpone it, any difficulty that he is likely to experience will arise rather from the redundancy, than paucity of talent among the young members of the party awaiting recognition. It will be almost impossible to find portfolios for all deserving aspirants, while further embarrassment is not unlikely, through the reluctance of older members of the cabinet to make room for fresh blood.

It is an open secret that the party expects the retirement of earl Elgin, the colonial secretary; the marquis of Ripon, lord privy seal; lord Tweedmouth, first lord of the admiralty; H. J. Gladstone, secretary of state for the home department; John Sinclair, secre ary for Scotland, and sir H. H. Fowler, chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, but it is doubtful if they can be persuaded to yield their places.

Another development which is regarded as not impossible is that Mr. Asquith will make overtures to lord Rosebery to join the cabinet at some future time. Mr. Asquith is supposed to be nearer in sympathy with lord Rosebery in the political world than with the radicals, but speculation in this direction need hardly enter into the present calculation.

Beyond the fact that David Lloyd George, Winston Spencer Churchill, and Walter Runciman, the financial secretary of the treasury, will be included in the new cabinet, all is conjecture. Among the most brilliant are the two former. Of the young men, Churchill, with all his historical name and fine record as a writer and parliamentarian, is the better known abroad. During his tenancy in the colonial office he has displayed industry and ability fully warranting the confidence of his leaders. David Lloyd George is a brilliant parliamentary debater and platform speaker. With the retirement of sir eHnry Campbell-Bannerman he is left the undisputed leader of the radical wing. He earned golden opinions for the capacity he showed in dealing with great trade interests and he is accredited with having engineered through the house of commons, measures involving the most delicate negotiations, without having made a single mistake of importance. He has been such a success that Churchill is said to be reluctant to succeed him as president of the board of trade, and unless the earl of Elgin resigns, there will be difficulty in finding an approximate place for Mr. Churchill.

It is admitted on all sides that the retirement of sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is a death blow for the home rule movement and the nationalists do not attempt to hide their disappointment the only bright spot for them being the fact that Mr. Asquith will have to leave Mr. Birrell in charge of the Irish office.

John F. Redmond, the national leader, said to the Associated Press: "It is undeniable that the resignation of Mr. Campbell-Bannerman is a great loss to Ireland. As to Mr. Asquith there is nothing to say as yet. I do not intend to attack until I see what he does, or fails to do."

Parliament has been adjourned until April 14 to enable the issue of writs for the re-election of ministers, so as to have the elections during the Easter recess. A meeting of the liberal party is expected to be called at any early hour at which Mr. Asquith will make a declaration of his policy, and invite the party to ratify it. The meeting will give formal confirmation and recognition of Mr. Asquith as the new leader of the party.

Mr. Asquith is in his 56th year. He was born at Morley, Yorkshire and was educated at the city of London school and Balliol college, Oxford. He was a scholar and afterwards a fellow of his college, and took a first class in classics and the Craven scholarship. He was returned for East Fife in 1886 and in 1892 moved the amendment to the queen's speech which led to the fall of lord Salisbury's government. On the formation of Mr. Gladstone's ministry Mr. Asquith became home secretary.

Thus at the age of 40 he sprang into the first rank of statesmen and in the debate on the home rule bill he rose to a prominent position even in that rank. The next year he was nominated for the lord rectorship of Glasgow. In 1894 he acted as arbitrator in the London cab strike and his award gave general satisfaction; and in the same year introduced the disestablishment of the church of Wales bill. Like many other distinguished men, Mr. Asquith plays golf.

As a speaker Mr. Asquith is terse, epigrammatic and sarcastic. He is unrivalled in getting up a political case.

His political manner is not ingratiating. It is even a little stilted. There is about him a warning air that fools will not be suffered gladly. Men accuse him of the superiority which is commonly associated with Oxford. They suspect that his inclination is to treat stupidity as a sort of crime. His alert and energetic bearing is the expression, it is said, of a disposition that is fundamentally self-centered and not without its spice of intellectual arrogance.

The spoken word betrays the man even more than the written one. Mr. Asquith's speeches have many admirable qualities. They are pungent, vigorous, clear-cut, concise. The defect is their lack of tone and color. A certain bloodless rigidity of excellence runs through them. The speaker, you feel, knows almost too well what he is going to say and just how he is going to say it. He will not for a moment be carried out of himself. "The magic hand of chance" had no share in the composition of these ordered resonant periods. The vibrant voice so confident and full, the abrupt, dramatic gesture, just fail to convince one that the speaker fully feels the passion he is declaiming.

It is announced the king has conferred the Order of the Garter on lord Crewe, lord president of the council, and the Order of the Thistle upon lord Tweedmouth. These are regarded as premier Campbell-Bannerman's last recommendations to his majesty, and may also mean a change in the portfolios of these ministers.

The Daily Chronicle in an editorial this morning on the awarkwardness of the king's absence, says sir Henry's resignation was postponed for a time in the belief that the king would find it convenient to return to London. "His absence at such a critical time," says the paper, "may be due to a reason of which we know nothing, but it looks as though the king had made the first mistake of a reign so uninterruptedly successful and popular."

VOTERS LISTS

(Special to The Daily News.)

Toronto, April 6.—It is rumored that the local printers today received requests from the king's printer at Ottawa to tender within 48 hours for printing the voters lists.

CLOSE FISHING SEASON

PROVINCIAL REGULATIONS HELD ULTRA VIRES

DOMINION LEGISLATION SAID TO BE PARAMOUNT

(Special to The Daily News.)

Vancouver, April 6.—Chief justice Hunter this afternoon declared the provincial order in council regulating the closed season for trout, ultra vires, and dismissed the case against a man having a trout in his possession on January 29th.

The chief justice held that the dominion, having declared a closed season from October 1 to January 1, citizens had a right to catch and possess trout at all other times.

The privy council has decided that the dominion alone had the power in this regard.

On account of the far-reaching effect of the judgment, it is understood that the province will appeal the decision.

YOUNG PEOPLE FOR B. C.

Halifax, April 6.—The steamer Kensington landed a party of 1083 Salvation Army immigrants at Halifax this afternoon. The newcomers are all young people and the majority intend to take up farming. About 200 are for points in the northwest and 150 are for British Columbia.

VETERAN DEAD.

Ottawa, April 6.—News was received in Ottawa today of the death in Buffalo of R. R. Thompson, one of the Ottawa members of the First Canadian contingent to South Africa. Thompson distinguished himself for bravery at Paardeberg and was awarded one of the queen's scarfs.

DRINK CRAZED

Montreal Book Agent Shoots to Avoid Arrest

ONE POLICEMAN IS KILLED

MURDERER CAPTURED AFTER HAVING BEEN SHOT DOWN—NOVEL SCENE IN A CANADIAN CITY—PRISONER COMES FROM SOUTHERN STATES.

Montreal, April 6—For five hours this afternoon and evening John Smith, book agent, kept a large posse of the Montreal police and a detachment of the fire brigade at bay, killing one constable, wounding another and chief detective Carpenter, before he was finally shot during a fusillade which a large number of police poured in on the house. All the while the crowd, numbering thousands surrounded the house and witnessed the most strenuous effort to make an arrest in the history of Montreal police.

The trouble began late this afternoon when constables Focoult and Shea were sent to 334 Mance street, with a warrant for the arrest of Smith, obtained by his landlady, Mrs. Prichard. Focoult attempted to enter the house and was met by Smith armed with a rifle. Without a word of warning Smith fired at Focoult, the bullet striking his forehead and glancing off. Shea was immediately beyond and when Focoult fell, he bravely rushed in. Once more Smith fired, the bullet piercing Shea's heart.

Assistance was then summoned and by the time it arrived, Smith had barricaded the windows of the house, appearing every now and then at one of them armed with a rifle. Orders were given to capture him alive, and this the police at first attempted to do, by smoking him out. This means proving ineffectual, a couple of hose wagons were summoned from a nearby fire station. Streams of water were turned in from both front and rear and a volume of water poured into the place. When this was done Smith once more appeared at a window and levelled his rifle at those standing in front. Again he fired and this time chief detective Carpenter fell, shot through the hand and hip. When Carpenter fell, the police, urged by the demands of the crowd, disregarded the order to take Smith alive and the revolvers of 50 men began blazing. After a few moments the firing was stopped. Smith gave no sign of life and the police finally decided to rush the place, meeting with no opposition. Smith was found lying on his bed and submitted to arrest without further protest.

During the fusillade of the police he had been hit in three places, the chin, the breast and the arm. None of his wounds appear to be mortal. He was conscious and appeared sane. He was taken to the hospital and a guard placed over him.

Smith is a well known figure about town having been engaged in selling books for years. About himself he was most reticent. It is believed that he comes from the southern states and that Smith is not his right name. His habits were generally good, but recently he has been drinking heavily and it was a threat to kill his landlady that led to her taking out the warrant.

SCOTT DEFENDS POLICY

HAULTAIN CRITICIZES THE SCHOOL BOOK CONTRACT

SAYS IT IS BOTH IMPROVIDENT AND PROFLIGATE

Regina, April 6—The debate on the address in reply was started in the legislature this afternoon, J. F. Bole, Regina City and T. H. Narry, Yorkton, moving and seconding the address in formal speeches. The latter made a slight departure from the usual procedure in that he condemned the report of the municipal commissioners, characterizing it as a rich man's system and one which threatens to be too costly for the country.

Mr. Haultain criticized the government for its inactivity and on the new school book contract made with Morang of Toronto. This, he said, permitted of great profits to the manufacturer and was made in face of a better from another publishing house. He characterized the contract as improvident and profligate.

Mr. Scott replied for the government and was speaking when the adjournment took place. He defended the work of last session when he was absent, and said more was done than had been done in any provincial legislature in Canada in one session.

UNUSUAL SPECTACLE

New York, April 6.—A fleet of tugboats pursuing a drove of wild Texas steers swimming in East river, was the exciting and unusual spectacle witnessed by hundreds of persons today.

A Lehigh Valley railroad float carrying a carload of 30 steers and several cars loaded with coal sprung a leak in the East river near the foot of North Ninth street, Brooklyn, and sank. Before it went down the deckhands opened the doors and the steers made a dash for liberty, about 15 of them getting clear of the float before it went down, the others drowning. A lively chase ensued. A passing tug joined in the chase and several unsuccessful attempts were made to lasso the swimming steers. Those which were captured were towned ashore, where difficulty was experienced in getting them onto the dock. Several steers swam a long distance up the river before they were captured and others were drowned.

THE PASSING OF BANNERMAN

The expected has happened. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, on account of continued ill-health, has resigned the office of prime-minister of Great Britain and has been succeeded by Mr. Herbert Henry Asquith.

Of the late prime-minister's public career there is very little to be said, save that it was eminently respectable. His name is connected with no great legislative enactment or reform. He was, in a literal sense, a stop-gap premier. His personal qualities fitted him to take over the leadership of the party after the retirement of sir William Harcourt in 1899, and for that reason and not because of any special gifts of statesmanship he in due course became prime-minister of Great Britain on December 5, 1905, after the overwhelming defeat of the Balfour ministry.

Upon assuming office sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman formed an exceptionally strong ministry, but despite this fact and the further fact that he was supported in the commons by an enormous majority, his administration had accomplished very little up to the time of his virtual retirement by reason of sickness and it must be confessed that his successor Mr. Asquith, falls heir to a very doubtful kingdom. Apart from the dissensions that will inevitably arise in the reorganization of the cabinet, Mr. Asquith has in hand legislative measures that threaten the early defeat of the liberal government, notably the new licensing bill, the second reading of which was to have been moved yesterday, but which was postponed on account of Mr. Asquith's call to Biarrits, where king Edward is at present recuperating. Mr. Asquith, the new prime-minister, is a man of unquestioned ability, by grace of which he has forced himself to the very pinnacle of British political glory. He does not owe his preferment to family influences or to any suavity of manner, but to sheer native ability.

SETTLING UP THE WEST

The most illuminating comparison that can be made between the policies of the two great federal parties is with regard to their respective efforts to fill up the west. The settling up of the prairies of the west very directly concerns British Columbians. Our future prosperity largely depends upon the settlement of these prairie provinces. It is there that we shall find markets for the products of our forests, our fruit farms and to some extent for the products of our coal and silver-lead mines. It is therefore a matter of very vital concern to British Columbians that there should be a government in office at Ottawa that will vigorously push the settlement of the west.

Figures can be gleaned from the official records that tell in plain, unbiassed language the record of the two parties in this regard.

The number of homestead entries recorded under conservative administration 1887-1896 was 31,952, an average of 3195 entries a year for the ten year period, but as the number of entries in 1895 was only 2394 and in 1896 only 1857 it will be seen that under conservative policy the taking up of homesteads was rapidly declining. Comparing these figures with results under liberal government it is found that instead of a steady decrease there is a very rapid increase. Entries which number 2834 in 1897 more than doubled the following year. By 1902 they had risen to 14,673 and in 1903 to 31,383. In 1906 the entries numbered 41,869, or 10,000 more in one year than during the ten years of conservative government. These 41,869 entries represented no less than 105,420 souls added to the permanent population of the country. As against 31,952 entries during the conservative period 1887-1896 there were 174,331 entries during the liberal period 1897-1906. Of these 174,331 entries 52,771 were made by persons coming from the United States and 27,779 by persons from the British Isles, or in other words over one-half of all the entries recorded were made by persons from these two English-speaking countries.

The administration of timber lands—a subject on which much has been heard of late—resulted in the collection by the conservatives of timber dues totalling $867,531. Under the liberals they amounted to $2,315,100. Under the conservatives the dues decreased from $65,111 in 1887 to $61,923 in 1896. Under the liberals they increased from $68,992 in 1897 to $292,684 in 1906.

Under conservative government in 1896 railways and land and colonization companies sold 108,016 acres of land for $361,388, an average of about $3.00 an acre. Under the liberals in 1906 they sold 1,642, 684 acres for $9,871,241, an average of $6.00 an acre.

During the conservative decade 1887-1896 the amount realized from the sale of school lands was $584,692. During the liberal decade the amount realized was was $2,148,140. In this connection it is well to remember that the proceeds of school lands sales go into a special trust fund for the benefit of the provinces in which the lands are located.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Nelson will be cleaned up. Thursday afternoon, April 16, will see every loyal citizen out in his back yard raking up the rubbish and doing his part to make this a "City Beautiful."

Kootenay street above Hall Mines road and the road thence on to the cemetery need immediate attendance. Persons who have to travel over them, to and from the cemetery, and teamsters in particular, complain of their condition.

The Daily News has reason to believe that finance minister Fielding has assented to the proposals of the silver-lead mine owners with regard to the extension of the period in which the lead bounty shall be paid and that under the new regulations provisions will be made to raise the bounty limit from £16 to £18. The details of the settlement have not as yet been definitely arranged, but in the course of a few days an authoritative announcement may be expected. Our understanding of the settlement arrived at is that the whole of the unexpected balance of the sum originally set aside for lead bounty purposes, amounting to some $1,750,000, will be made available upon conditions entirely in accord with the requests of the silver-lead mine owners.

PERSONAL LIABILITY

Halifax, April 6—The supreme court of Nova Scotia has given a unanimous decision that the directors of the defunct bank of Yarmouth are personally liable to the shareholders for a portion at least of the losses by the failure of the bank. An order was made that they make restitution. It is probable that the sum payable by the directors will be $30,000.

UNDER THE BAN

Quebec, April 6—Archbishop Begin has put the ban on certain theatrical performances recently given in this city. Exception is taken to a recent drama which is said to ridicule religion and pander to lower passions and was a degradation of public morals. In one of the Roman Catholic churches moving pictures were also put under ban.

When You Buy Fruit Land

It is well to remember that what is important is NOT the first cost of your fruit farm, but the amount of profit which your farm will yield year by year.

DON'T be attracted by cheaper, inferior or inaccessible lands which exist in the Kootenay, as elsewhere—but get the best. Take advantage of a double selection.

1. Our selection was made with the utmost care at a time when we had the whole district to pick from.

2. Your selection—made from ours—thus you get the benefit of a double and cumulative selection.

FURTHERMORE, remember that to be successful the following five qualities are absolutely essential:

(1). Title; (2). Soil; (3). Water; (4). Accessibility; (5). Transportation.

WE SELL OUR OWN LANDS. We own over 20,000 acres, title perfect.

THE SOIL is deep loam with clay subsoil, free from stone.

THE WATER on these lands is pure and abundant both in running streams and numerous springs.

THE MARKET for your product is right at your door on existing lines of transportation.

BUT when you buy an orchard tract you want more than soil; more than pure water; more than transportation; you want A HOME—A place to live in—THAT IS WHAT WE HAVE FOR SALE.

Postoffice with daily mail service; express trains, stores; schools—A home every few steps. You get the comforts of civilization combined with the pleasure of a profitable, healthful and beautiful rural home.

Terms $10 cash and $10 per month for 10 acres, with liberal discount for larger payments.

THE CARE OF ORCHARDS

A SUCCESSFUL FRUIT GROWER MUST BE A SPECIALIST

SECRETARY BROCK ADDS HIS ENDORSEMENT

Professor Ernest Walker of the Arkansas experimental station has issued Bulleting No. 91, "Suggestions upon the care of apple orchards." Extracts from this bulletin are appended.

Roy C. Brock, secretary of the Kootenay Fruit Growers' association, commenting on the bulletin, said yesterday:

"The outlines for growing fruit upon a scientific basis by Prof. Walker are highly commendable and should suggest much to Kootenay Fruit growers. The same reasons for scientfic and studied care given by Prof Walker for the old orchards, will undoubtedly apply to our young orchards. I wish to call particular attention to the statement made under 'Fifth,' i. e. the call for specializing. Don't forget that business methods must be used in the growing of fruits and that the association will require its members to come up to the standard in every transaction this coming season. I hope ranchers will come to the association's office and ascertain what is expected of them and then follow the instructions given. All will be done with the best interests of the fruit growers at heart."

Just as the season is opening a few paragraphs are appended from this bulletin, in which Prof Walker tells of the changed conditions which have been brought about in the apple business, and which explain why one cannot grow fruit with the same treatment which formerly yielded splendid results. After referring to the beginning of the orchard industry in northwest Arkansas, Prof. Walker says:

"Insects and fungous diseases caused comparatively little trouble at first, but with the increase of the orchard areas fungous and insect enemies multiplied with the increased facilities afforded. Conditions have changed greatly since the beginning of the commercial apple industry here, and the grower must recognize this fact or he may as well abandon apple-growing:

"First, the Soil in bearing orchards is not as productive as it was when the orchards were first planted.

"Second, Insects and fungi are more abundant than at first. Indeed, they are so abundant that the grower must give more attention to spraying and the various means of control if he would produce marketable apples.

"Third, Competition has increased—not merely local competition—but national competition; made possible by the improved system of refrigerator cars.

"Fourth, Buyers and markets are more critical—it is not enough to grow apples—they must be good apples.

"Fifth, To meet the changed conditions the fruit grower must be more than ever before, a specialist. Fruit-growing, although farming, to a limited extent, may well be a side line of fruit growing. Nor is it sufficient to be a specialist and skilled simply in the production of apples. The development of commercial horticulture requires that this ability be supplemented with business methods.

"A few of our growers realize these things, and are giving their orchards intelligent care, but the majority still follow neglectful methods. The business has in many cases outgrown the founder. Our orchards present, on the whole, a neglected appearance. They suggest fed herds of good milk cows still giving milk, but at the expense of their very life blood.

"In season's when there are good apple crops bugs and fungi get a good share of the fruit, but the grower has apples anyhow, and seldom realizes his loss. The past season there was a short crop. The bugs and fungi came in for their usual share of the fruit, and in consequence the grower, as a rule, had practically nothing left. The crop was light and small the two preceding years. Three light crops in succession, and those shared with bugs and fungi, have been hard on apple enthusiasm. The experience, however, is not wholly a misfortune. It has demonstrated beyond question that the failure of the neglectful methods so prevalent among growers, and how much we commonly share unresentfully with orchard pests.

"While most orchards yielded very poor crops, poor apples and poor returns, the past season, orchards here and there in Arkansas, and elsewhere, where the crop was light and poor, yielded fair crops of fine apples, and because of this and the general scarcity of good apples, brought their owners handsome returns. All the reading, wide-awake horticulturists have heard of or seen such examples the past season. The contrast in returns between the two types of orchards has been most sensational. Were the difference merely accidental or a matter of soil or locality or 'luck,' little would the experience profit any outside of those who were 'lucky.' As it is, however, this kind of success, or a measure of it, is within the reach of every apple grower, and for this reason these scattering successes in an 'off year' are of the greatest interest to all. Chance had nothing to do with the difference. The cause of the contrast in results was simply this: The majority of the orchards received only indifferent or no care. The trees are left to struggle with weeds, poor soil, bugs and fungi. Consequently yield only indifferent results. A few orchards receive intelligent care in the way of cultivation, fertilization or spraying, and yield satisfactory returns when the others fail.

"It is, in the main, simply a matter of choice with the grower as to what returns he will have from an apple orchard. There is nothing surprising to the intelligent grower in the outcome of good care applied to the orchard. The surprise is that improvident orchard owners do as well as they do, and that Nature is so long-suffering.

"The splendid results in orchards receiving intelligent and generous treatment during the past season, when almost universally it was considered an 'off year,' has aroused in growers a fresh and and much greater interest than usual in the proper care of bearing orchard. This is indeed a most encouraging outlook. If the experience of the past season shall result in apple-growers abandoning their neglectful methods and substituting for them intelligent and reasonable care of orchards, this season's failure will be worth more to the state than a 10-bushel crop on every apple tree, large and small, in Arkansas."

That's pretty strong talk, but is it not justified? We believe Prof. Walker's experience with the orchard under his care proves the truth of this statement.

We have not room here to tell the treatment which was given this old orchard. It was turned over to Prof. Walker in August, 1904, and was pruned somewhat at that time and a cover crop planted; further pruning was done during the winter, barnyard manure was

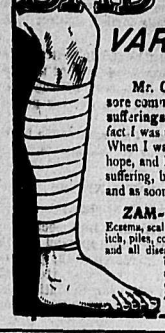
BAD LEG CAUSED 9 YEARS TORTURE

VARICOSE ULCER HEALED BY ZAM-BUK



Mr. C. Johnston of Poplar Hill Creek, Athabasca Landing, Alta., writes: "Nine years ago a running sore commenced on my right leg, caused by a ruptured blood vessel. As time went on it got worse and my sufferings were intense. I had a very sore leg indeed, and had very small hope of ever seeing it healed, in fact I was told by several who had known such sores that I should suffer with it for life. This was very discouraging. When I was almost in despair I heard of Zam-Buk and wrote to the Company stating my case. They inspired me with hope, and I commenced with Zam-Buk, using it according to instructions. Other salves I had used caused me much suffering, but Zam-Buk soothed the pain, and although it appeared for some time to be doing little good, I persevered, and as soon as the wound became clean, it was only a matter of three or four days before my leg was healed."

Let us show you our contracts as compared with others in the same line of work.

Let us tell you what we have accomplished, despite the hard times, for the money and time expended. If the Company was not well founded it would have gone under during the hard times.

Let us show you oil taken from our first well.

Eminent geologists sent out by the Government at big expense, report this district to be the best defined, undeveloped oil field in the world, (certainly the quality of the oil is unsurpassed) lying as it does between the famous gas wells of Medicine Hat and the huge deposits of Crow's Nest coal.

Canadian North-West Oil Company

Capitalization - - - - $500,000

The Canadian N. W. Oil Company, which is incorporated under "The Companies Ordinance," North West Territory, has secured Sections 6, 7 and 18, Township 4, Range 3W. 5th Meridian, directinly in the center of the oil belt as laid out by the Government, and this Company is so well satisfied with the developments of the last couple months that a site has been laid out, timbers cut for more derricks and intend prosecuting developments continued until at least half a dozen wells are put onto the market. Shareholders will then be given a vote as to further work and election of officers.

The Company is offering only a very few more shares, in fact, just enough to carry out the work above mentioned. Owning as it does a first class plant and having supplies ahead, expenses from now on will be very light.

The officers are all competent men with established reputations, which insures to the shareholders a wise and careful management of the affairs of the company.

The Basis of this Enterprise Is Sound

Namely; to deal in oil lands, lay out townsites, bore for oil and other minerals, to lay pipe lines, to build oil refineries and to enegage in the production of oil and its by-products.

Two railroads are coming across our land, one surveyed and charter granted. We have a beautiful townsite, abundant water power for factores and oil refineries and natural gas for lighting.

One share means one share in everything that the Company owns: three sections of valuable land, machinery, camps, tools, horses, etc., and when that share is paid for, you can hold it until ready to sell. There is no such thing as freezing out, as our stock is not assessible and it becomes personal property.

COMMUNICATIONS

Letters to The Daily News on current topics are cordially invited, subject to the following terms:

The letters must be plainly written (typewritten preferred) on one side of the writing paper only, of reasonable length and must be signed by the writer for publication.

The Daily News is not responsible for the views expressed by correspondents.

EDITOR THE DAILY NEWS:

(Christian Science.)

The Rev. F. H. Graham's lecture on Christian Science as reported in the Nelson papers on March 19th, presents that subject in a very distorted light and it is due to Christian Scientists that correction of these misrepresentations be published.

When John sent to Jesus the enquiry "Art Thou He that should come or do we look for another?" Jesus instead of entering upon a doctrinal discussion, referred John directly to His works in these words, "Go and show John again these things which ye do hear and see; the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them." This is how Christian Scientists prefer to make answer in support of their belief. Christian Science is a matter of demonstration, not a form of words and the "signs following" the demonstrations are to found in the rejoicing and gratitude of the thousands upon thousands of followers who testify to the healing of every form of disease through its merciful ministrations. The evidence that Christian Scientists are obeying Jesus' command "Go ye into all the world, preach the gospel and heal the sick" is too overwhelming to be any longer disputed. Only within the past month or so a case of healing of Asiatic leprosy (credited to Christian Science treatment some years ago) was substantiated before the United States health committee.

For forty years Christian Science has withstood the maledictions of pulpit and press but this has in no way deterred its merciful mission. Most of our friend's points of argument have appeared in the press from time to time and have been answered. It would be impossible in the space of a letter to deal with them all, I will therefore reply generally.

Faith-cure, will-power, hypnotism and spiritualism are not concomitant with Christian Science practice. Christian Science is based on the Bible teaching that God, Spirit, Love is all in all. God being omnipotence, all power, there is no opposite power. Who would say that God who is omnipotence is unable to destroy sickness, or that He requires any man made systems to help Him in relieving man from his distresses? Christiance Science does not teach dependence on the supposed subtle power of an individual to cure sickness but it does instruct the student to obey the command, literally and absolutely, "Thou shalt have none other Gods before me" (spirit), and emphatically condemns the practice of "mind upon mind" or the worshipping of personality in any degree.

Rev. Mr. Graham is reported to have said that "The issue is not as Christian Scientists would have it, 'What does the Bible say about Divine healing?' but what does the Bible say in reference to remedies and physicians?"

Jesus instructed the disciples "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received freely give." Is it more reasonable to interpret the latter part of the text as meaning "freely ye have received of the understanding of God and His creation, or freely ye have received of material remedies?" In telling His followers what to provide for the journey, no mention is made of medicine, nor can any record be found that Jesus relied on aught but God to perform His miracles. "Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?" (Acts 20-8.)

In conclusion I desire to say that it is a gross injustice to Mrs. Eddy to infer that she made use of the Bible to gain a hold upon her followers. Mrs. Eddy's writings agree with the Bible teachings and it is possible for anyone to prove the principle taught therein and thus avoid placing dependence on personal oponion on the matter. In refutation of the various assertions to the effect that this lady's writings are *nonsensical, etc., it is rather interest*ing to remember that within a few months the government of France conferred upon Mrs. Eddy the honorary decoration of Officier d'Academic, Officer of the French academy, in recognition of distinguished services. Mrs. Eddy is the first woman to receive this distinction. The Christian Publ*ishing Society had an exhibit of Mrs.* Eddy's works at the recent exposition at Paris, for which Mrs. Eddy was awarded the Grand Prize, and received also a diploma of honor as the founder of the Christian Science movement. Furthermore many of the leading writers of the day publicly proclaim Mrs. Eddy to be not only a great benefactress to mankind but an author whose works are appreciated by the most in*tellectual people in the land.*

Christian Scientists are learning to "love one another" and have no desire to think wrongly of anyone who differs from their belief but rather wish to "live in peace with all men" and as far as in them lies to carry out the spirit of Abraham to Lot, "Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen; for we be brethren."

Thanking you for your space and courtesy, yours sincerely,

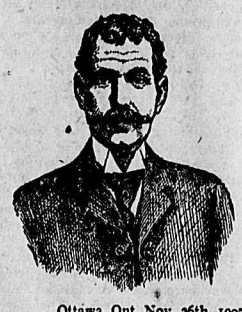
ARTHUR W. HIGGS,
Publication committee on Christian Science for the province of British Columbia.

Vancouver, April 2, 1908.

NO MORE RHEUMATISM

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HIM

Christopher D. Graham is a well known citizen of Ottawa—formerly in the City Hall and largely instrumental in forming the Ottawa Hunt Club. Mr. Graham's voluntary testimonial as to the great benefit he received from taking "Fruit-a-tives" will carry conviction.



Ottawa, Ont. Nov. 26th, 1907.

Dear Sirs:—

I have been a sufferer from Rheum*atism for a long time — pains in my* shoulder and joints practically all the time. I tried various treatments without benefit and then I was recommended by a friend to try "Fruit-a-tives." I took several boxes of the tablets and now, for a long time, I have been entirely free from all rheumatism and rheumatic pains.

I wish to state, also, that I suffered from haemorrhoids, or piles, for years, I used all kinds of ointments and treatment and nothing did me any good, but after taking "Fruit-a-tives" for my rheumatism I am entirely cured of these dreadful piles. (Sgd) C. D. GRAHAM.

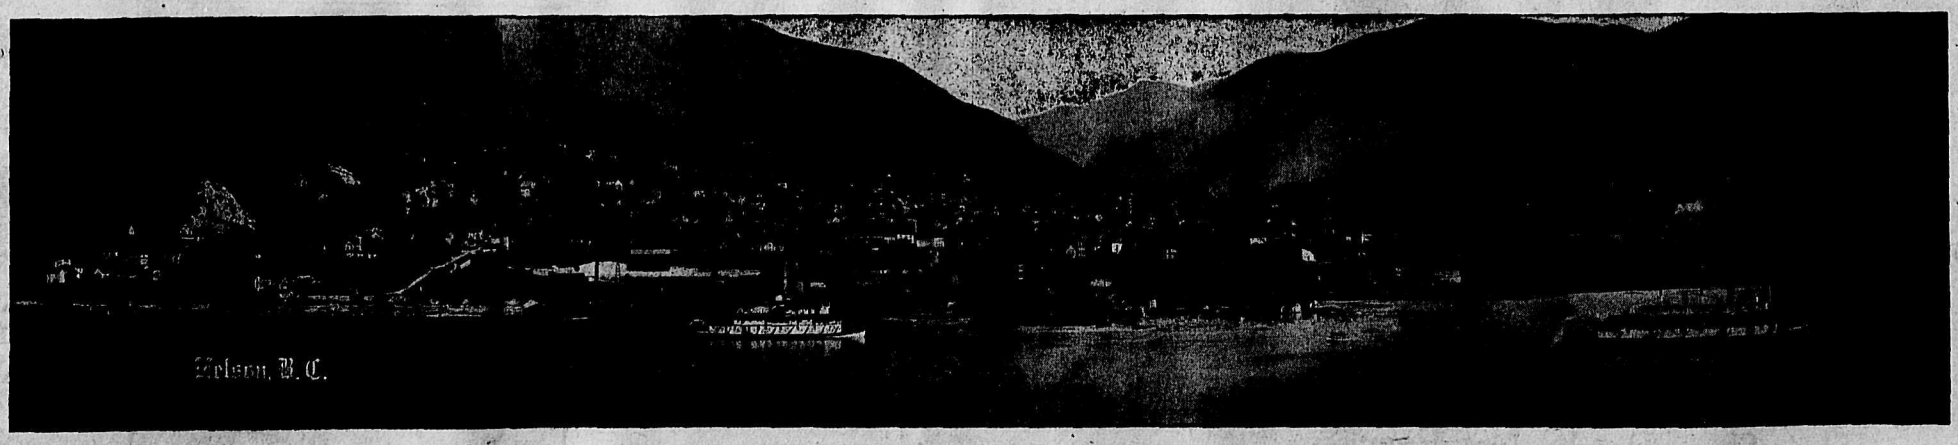
THE HOME CITY OF THE DAILY NEWS



NICE PLACE, ISN'T IT? ALWAYS ROOM FOR MORE ENTERPRISING CITIZENS

SOME FACTS ABOUT NELSON, B. C.

NELSON, the capital city of the Kootenays, situated on the West Arm of Kootenay Lake, is the commercial and judicial center of Southeastern British Columbia, and is a clean, prosperous, healthy city with a population of between six and seven thousand people.

Nelson is the trading center of one of the finest fruit growing districts in British Columbia.

The mining and smelting industries of the Kootenays are equal to the best, and Nelson gets a large share of the business connected therewith.

Nelson is the most important manufacturing and industrial center in the Kootenays.

Nelson has lacrosse and hockey, tennis, cricket, football, baseball, rowing, launching and shooting clubs, and the citizens go in for all outdoor sports, while the fishing is superb, and second to none in British Columbia.

Nelson has six churches, a Salvation Army citadel; public and high schools private schools and kindergartens.

Nelson is the wholesale center of Southeastern British Columbia.

Nelson has four chartered banks; and the best general stores between Calgary and Vancouver.

The postal revenue of the Nelson post office is over $31,000 annually, making Nelson rank as the third city in British Columbia.

Nelson has the best hotels in the interior of British Columbia.

Nelson owns and operates its own electric light and power plant, having, during the past year, completed at a cost of about $250,000 a hydro-electric plant on Kootenay river, nine miles below Nelson, and at present have installed one unit with a capacity of 1250 horse power, but have made provision for the developing 6000 h. p. when needed. Incidentally, Nelson is the best lighted city in British Columbia.

Nelson has leased and operates two decimal five miles of street railway.

Nelson owns and operates its waterworks system, and has fifteen miles of water mains.

Nelson has eighteen miles of sidewalks.

Nelson has ten miles of sewers and on account of the gradual slope the drainage is perfect.

Nelson has a paid fire department, with a central hall and three sub-stations, with the Gamewell fire alarm system installed.

And with these Nelson has scenic attractions which make it the best residential city in British Columbia today.

The Daily News has a telegraph service equal, if not better, than any paper published in British Columbia. Maintains special correspondents at all important points in Canada and contains the announcements of representative city manufacturing firms, merchants and real estate firms of the city.

"ONE TOUCH OF NATURE MAKES THE WHOLE WORLD KIN."

When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly ailing may also use it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm hearted wish of the writer to be of use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by all druggists and dealers.

JOHN TORRANCE DEAD

Serious Accident to Son of H. M. Price of Quebec—Raid on Gambling Resort

Montreal, April 6—John Torrance who for many years was head of the Dominion line of steamships for Canada, with headquarters in this city, died at noon today. Death was due to pneumonia. He was born in 1835.

Twelve men were arrested last night in the American club, an alleged gambling resort. Each man was fined $40 and costs by Judge Lafontaine this morning.

Word has been received here from Sudbury of a serious accident to Lawrence Price, C.E., son of H. M. Price, a well known lumber prince of Quebec. The son was engaged in mining and fell down a shaft and was rendered unconscious.

Synopsis of Canadian Homestead Regulation

ANY available Dominion Lands within the Railway Belt of British Columbia may be homesteaded by any persons who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

1. At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

2. If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3. If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

COAL—Coal mining rights may be leased for a period of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2560 acres shall be leased to one individual or company. A royalty at the rate of five cents per ton shall be collected on the merchantable coal mined.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

An Improved Kootenay Fruit Farm

ONE OF THE OLDEST AND MOST HIGHLY IMPROVED TO BE FOUND IN THIS DISTRICT

We have just had placed under our control for immediate sale the well known "Manhart Farm," situated on Kootenay River at Riverview, 18 miles west of the city of Nelson. This farm consists of 73 1-3 acres, the larger percentage of which is fruit land of the finest quality, capable of producing fine, heavy crops of all kinds of fruits and vegetables. The farm has numerous natural advantages, which make it a very desirable property. It has one mile of stylish frontage on Kootenay River; and one mile of frontage on the C. P. R. right-of-way; the station and post office at Riverview are only 100 yards distant from the dwelling house. Daily mail, passenger and freight connection with Nelson and all other points. The river frontage on this place controls to a certain extent some of the best Rainbow trout pools to be found in Kootenay River.

Eighteen acres of land cleared and planted as follows: 300 nine-year-old apple trees comprising good standard varieties, and all bearing well now; 250 younger trees just beginning to bear and comprising different standard varieties of plums' cherries, pears and apples. These younger trees ought to produce a good crop of fruit the coming season; 1 1-2 acres of strawberry plants; this is the second season for these plants and with proper attention their crop this summer should be a heavy one. Frame dwelling house, almost new, with lean-to-kitchen; new frame barn, built last fall; chicken-house and runs.

PRICE $6000.00. Terms $2000.00 cash, the balance arranged.

Our firm knows this farm thoroughly, having been over it on several occasion: we consider it excellent value at the price here quoted. It has long been considered one of the best farms in this district and its location is all that could be desired.

With its daily passenger, freight and mail service, its close proximity to the station, its owner can ship promptly to all outside markets any products at a minimum expense.

We consider the place is being offered for at least $2500.00 under its real value.

Thorough inspection given to all prospective purchasers. Any further information required will be promptly furnished.

THE CARE OF ORCHARDS

liberally used, and cultivation began early the following season. The trees were all under-size, many of them were full of dead limbs, and therefore heroic treatment was demanded. Early next spring the cultivators were started and the orchard was well sprayed. The part of the bulletin which refers to the spraying is particularly timely at this time, just as the season for spraying is at hand. Prof. Walker does not attribute all the good results to the spraying—not by any means. The cultivation, fertilizing, pruning, etc., were all important—but it is likely they would have been without results without the spraying. Concerning this part of the work Prof. Walker says:

"The fungous diseases and insects of the apple (not tree) very prevalent and serious in Arkansas orchards are apple scab, bitter rot, rust, fly-speck fungous, sooty blotch, the apple worm, or codling moth, the plum curculio, a narrow-winged katydid, and the apple maggot.

"Scab the past season was very abundant, affecting from 50 to 90 per cent of the fruit in unsprayed orchards. Late in the season scab-infested fruit cracked open badly. The conditions were not favorable to bitter rot late in the season, being too dry. There was slight injury from it, however, in the form of black-specked apples, developing also to some extent after barreling. Traces of it were very prevalent.

"The spring conditions were favorable to apple or cedar rust, and more of it was seen than the previous year, though less than I should have expected to find. Fly-speck fungus is not uncommon in unsprayed orchards. The apple worm, or codling moth, was very abundant. Without spraying it has frequently been found to affect from 25 to 75 per cent of the fruit. In some instances as high as 85 per cent of the apples were wormy.

"The curculio, which causes the 'sting' so often complained of by growers, was on hand and did much damage. The green, narrow-winged katydid (Scudderia texensis) was plentiful and did considerable damage by eating large holes in the sides of the apples. Commonly the finest specimens seem to be the ones selected for the fine taste of this depredator. The injury was done during August and September. For some time I was in doubt as to what caused the injury. Those who were asked about it attributed it to wasps and yellow-jackets, etc, the latter of which had nests under many apples trees among weeds and grass. The eaten places were commonly finished and empty when found. Later, however, I found in several instances the katydid at work on a freshly gnawed cavity. This insect's depredations injured 3 to 5 per cent on many trees. The injury is principally a disfigurement of the fruit, as the eaten surface dries, and decay seldom occurs from the injury, even in storage.

"Spraying of the orchard with liquid costs 3 3-4 cents a tree. The efficiency varied in different parts of the orchard, owing to several factors. Frequent rains and continued rains interfered much. The best results were found in that part of the orchard were each time the spraying was begun. It seems the men did the most thorough spraying while fresh. The spraying was also more timely. Here the proportion of sound apples was 60 bushels to four bushels of culls, which equals 93 1-2 per cent. In other parts of the orchard sprayed the percentage of sound apples dropped back to 89 and 84 per cent respectively. On the whole, spraying gave an average of about 90 per cent sound apples.

"We did the spraying with a barrel pump mounted on a 150 gallon half round tank. The rig was too small for the number of trees and it was impossible to get over the entire 27 acres as promptly as was necessary for the best results. The weather interfered also. Part of the orchard was therefore only imperfectly sprayed and the percentage of No. 2 apples and culls in this part of the orchard ranged at 30 per cent. An ordinary barrel pump is sufficient for only about ten acres if the spraying is properly done. Most of our orchards should have a power rig. While expensive at the start it is cheaper by far in the long run in a large orchard. The increased efficiency, not to mention the saving of time at a season when time is valuable, will, in a 30-acre orchard of bearing trees pay for a $200 rig three to five times over in a single crop year.

"A row of trees were dust sprayed during the season. The Maxwell formula was used—six sprayings. The foliage and fruit of these trees was not as perfect as was that on trees sprayed with the liquid. There was some benefit. The dust spray gave better results against codling moth than it did against scab. It was very efficient for tent caterpillars and was rapid."

Balfour Rejoices Over Change—Personal Mention

(Special to The Daily News)

Balfour, April 6—This district will have a daily mail service after tomorrow. Mrs. Jack Peachy, the new postmistress, will also assume her duties tomorrow. This new service will be a great boon to local residents as heretofore only a tri-weekly service was in force.

Mrs. Pearcy of Livingstone, Montana, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gallup.

T. G. Procter's windmill for irrigation purposes is now nearing completion ans is a fine piece of construction and workmanship

Mrs. Ross of Queen's bay who recently visited Winnipeg, has now returned with his bride and is settling down on his ranch which formerly was known as West's.

Alex. Mackay who has a ranch here, has now a fine team and is doing much work amongst the neighboring farmers with his lately imported stump puller.

Harry Oliver is spending a few days in Nelson.

GENEROUS SUPPORT

Calgary, April 6—Calgary has decided to make an annual grant of $15.0 to the board of trade and $500 to the 100,000 club. Several of the city officials have received handsome increases in their salaries.

MAY STRIKE

Winnipeg, April 6—The street railway employees were in session from midnight last night until 4:30 this morning. The contract wth the company expires April 7, and they have several grievances. Among the demands which are formulated are an eight hour day without a decrease in wages, seats for motormen and pea jackets in winter. The meeting was not harmonious. It is understood that a majority favored an immediate strike if the demands are not favorably considered.

IS GOOD YEAR TO BUILD

OPINION OF A WELL KNOWN LOCAL CONTRACTOR

MANY ORDERS FOR NEW HOUSES NOW IN HAND

There is likely to be a good deal of building going on here during the summer according to the different contractors around the city. Just now there are several new houses being run up in various residential streets. D. Maglio is having his house on Robson street remodelled and the same is being done by W. W. Beer at his house on Silica street. W G. Gillett is busy getting out marble at the Kaslo quarry for the new Methodist church. He is of the opinion that as there are very few houses available in the city that new houses are bound to be built and states he has already figured on several with different people.

Mr. Gillett thinks that this year will be a better year to build than any to come inasmuch as that while wakes are no higher than they were the price of lumber has a tendency to fall. Carpenters are getting higher wages here than in either Spokane or Vancouver where the rate is from $2.75 to 3.50 a day. Here the carpenter's wage is $4 a day. There was a meeting earlier in the year in which the question of a reduction of wage was taken up by the men but the union finally held that the price of living was too high to permit of this being done. In the same relation it may be stated that the stone cutters were going to raise their wages to $5.60 a day, but eventually determined to allow the old figure of $5 to remain unaltered.

Mr. Gillett says that he has already 50 men at work and is likely to increase the number.

NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company (as Lessee and exercising the franchise of the Columbia and Kootenay Railway and Navigation Company) has this day deposited in the District Land Registry Office at Nelson, in the Province of British Columbia, a plan, profile, and book of reference, showing a proposed branch line from the Slocan Lake Branch of the said Columbia and Kootenay Railway and Navigation Company to W. C. E. Koch's Sawmill, situate nine decimal two hundred and twenty seven miles north of Slocan Junction in the District of West Kootenay, in the province of British Columbia aforesaid; and that the said Canadian Pacific Railway Company will, as soon after the expiration of four weeks from the first publication of this notice as the application can be heard, apply to the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada for approval of the said branch line in accordance with the provisions of the Railway Act.

Dated this fifteenth day of January, A.D., 1908.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in rounded comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

"LIQUID ASSETS"

The recent financial panic in the United States and the tightness of money in Canada, have brought out some very important information. At one time only shrewd bankers understood the meaning of "Liquid Assets." Today every business man knows or should know, what is meant by it. When trading is optimistic, any piece of paper with "I promise to pay" written on it is considered a fair exchange for commodities; any hole in the ground becomes a gold mine; farms are laid out in town lots; cloth is turned into garments and these find ready buyers who do not stop to investigate their intrinsic value. The buyers of all these only look at the possible profits.

But one day the awakening comes. And why? Confidence abused. The banker must have legal tender, gold. The mine must show a pay streak. The town lots must have a reality. The clothing in the store must have value—intrinsic value. Canadian bankers have saved the situation by having legal tender on hand. All reliable clothiers use the same precaution by having in stock liquid assets, that is a known and reliable make of clothing. At a time when public confidence is shaken, indifferent merchandise (bought because it looked as well as currency, or because the maker marked it high in price and sold it at 20 per cent discount) will not be accepted by the public for legal tender. It is at such times that the prestige of reliable goods gets full justice.

The buying public will not accept for their legal tender clothing that somebody chooses to say is worth so much. They will have nothing but what they know to be standard of intrinsic value. That is "liquid assets" in a clothing store.

"Progress Brand" clothing represents intrinsic value. Retailers who buy Progress Brand Clothing have a "liquid asset" which will be accepted by the public anywhere in return for their legal tender.

TORONTO CARPENTERS

Sign Wage Agreement for a Year—Death of Well Known Lake Captain

Toronto, April 6—Local carpenters have signed a renewal of a year of the old agreement, giving them a minimum of 33 cents an hour.

The board of trade has decided to tender a banquet to sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C.P.R., on the occasion of the opening of the short route to the west via Sudbury. The event will take place on June 15.

Customs officials here have held up for investigation four carloads of Passover biscuits which had been shipped from the United States and were said to be under valued. The consignment is valued at $3000.

Captain James Richardson, one of the best known marine men on the lakes, died this morning. He had been in the employ of the Niagara Navigation company.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT

The standing of the different captains in the bowling tournament at the Alice rink up to last night is as follows. The total number of games to be played by each is 3, therefore the team in the best standing is that captained by Boyer, the second being that of Thomas:

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

R. H. Zavitz left yesterday for the east.

There are many daily arrivals from the prairie of home seekers.

The melodrama "No Mother to Guide Her" is booked at the opera house for a return date tomorrow evening.

A dance will be given at the Alice roller rink this evening. Special attention is beig paid to the music for this occasion.

F. F. Busteed and party of C.P.R. officials spent Sunday and yesterday in Nelson leaving for the coast last night

A special meetig of the Nelson United football will be held in the court house at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening for the purpose of organizing for the season.

The Young People's society of St. Paul's church will meet this evening at 8 o'clock. Topic for discussion "Signs of our Times—Are we Watching Them."

The bowling games for this evening are Brown v. Sharp at 7:30 and Thomas v. Sharp at 9 o'clock. Two big scores were made yesterday afternoon when H. Bush made 228 and H. Martin 233. The playing all round has been much better of late.

C. L. Fisher of the firm of Fisher-Hamilton company, and R. G. Thompson, came in from Winnipeg last night. Mr. Thompson has purchased from the Fisher-Hamilton company the Bjerkness property in the vicinity of Kaslo which he will have cut up into lots and placed upon the market.

At the quarterly meeting of the new movement bible class held at the Baptist church last evening the following officers were elected: F. Hopkins, president; D. Small, vice-president; E. Chave, secretary; T. Waters, treasurer; G. Chave, teacher. After the election a social time was had which was much enjoyed.

J. C. Dufresne accompanied yesterday some relatives from the old country to Fruitvale where they are about to settle. On his return last evening he expressed his astonishment at what he had seen and says that Fruitvale has a soil and climate which will be hard to beat. Every acre of land has been sold and though he walked over a considerable part of the new settlement, he did not see a bad bit in his wanderings.

The Nelson city directory which has been in the hands of the printer for some time, was completed yesterday and today the distribution of copies to subscribers will commence. In the alphabetical list there are over 2700 names, and while allowance has to be made for corporations and duplications, the list shows a population of well over 7000. In addition to the alphabetical list there is a street directory which will be found useful. It is worthy of note that the directory is the first one of this city only, ever published. A quick test last night showed the publication very fairly accurate. The book will supply a greatly needed local want, is a good city advertisement and marks a distinct era in the history of Nelson.

Remember the Tennessee Jubilee Singers at the Methodist church on Thursday evening. 298-2

The concert to be given by the Tennessee Jubilee Singers at the Methodist church on Thursday evening will be a treat. The singers have a continental reputation as darky melodists. 289-2

Reserved seat tickets for the Tennessee Jubilee Singers concert at the Method st church Thursday evening can be secured at Rutherfords. 298-2

Better reserve a seat for the Tennessee Jubilee Singers at the Methodist church on Thursday evening. There will be a crowd. Tickets at Rutherford's. 298-2

CHAMBERLAIN'S HAS THE PREFERENCE

Mr. Fred C. Hanrahan, a prominent druggist of Portsmouth, Va., says: "For the past six years I have sold and recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is a great remedy and one of the greatest patent medicines on the market. I handle some others for the same purposes that pay me a larger profit, but this remedy is so sure to effect a cure, and my customers so certain to appreciate my recommending it, that I give it the preferences." For sale by all druggists and dealers.

The Secret of Secrets

In Store Advertising

One of the wisest men wrote:

"Suffer any person to tell us his story, morning and evening, for but a twelve-month, and he will become our master!"

In the above sentence we have, in a nutshell, the innermost secret of successful advertising—frequency, and persistency, and unvarying continuity in the telling of the store or enterprise. There are other things to be said of successful advertising, but in the above quotation is found the real philosophy, the real secret,—

The Heart of the Whole Matter

MATTER OF CONSCIENCE

METHODIST CHURCH DISCIPLINE IS ALTERED

MORE FREEDOM IN THE WAY OF AMUSEMENTS

New York, April 6—The New York conference of the Methodist Episcopal church had an important session today at which several matters of moment to the church were debated and acted upon. One subject which created much comment was the resolution commending to the general conference that paragraph 248 of the church discipline which advises against dancing, card playing and theatre going, be eliminated, was adopted by an almost unanimous vote.

To great general surprise there was no debate on this important question. It was simply taken up and a vote called. It was found that only seven delegates recorded their votes against it. If the general conference approves the step, it was explained, it will not mean that Methodism goes back on its historic position in regard to these amusements, but simply puts them on the "matter of conscience."

A proposition that induced much speech making, but was adopted by a substantial majority, was the resolution appealing to the general conference to restore the time limit upon pastorates, a custom which was abolished eight years ago.

The conference also favored the election of negro bishops, adopting a memorial to the general conference to this effect and also entered a protest against the elimination of the name "Jesus Christ" in the public schools in New York. This last named subject also produced a spirited debate in which vigorous language was indulged in, regarding the action of the New York board of education.

Letters of Queen Victoria

In 3 Volumes $16.50

We have a few sets of this really great work still on hand. No more interesting and valuable collection of letters has ever been compiled. They are simply invaluable to the student of modern history. The work is essentially one for British citizens and British subjects and should find an honored place in the library of every lover of the great British Empire, over which Queen Victoria reigned so long and so worthily.

A complete set will be forwarded to any address, post free, on receipt of the price stated above, $16.50.

STRIKE IS OVER

Team Owners and Teamsters Come to Terms at Fernie

(Special to The Daily News)

Fernie, April 6 — The teamsters' strike which threatened to disorganize busiess for a time, has been fortunately brought to close, an amicable agreement having been arrived at at a meeting which the parties directly interested held in Union hall. At the meeting an agreement was drawn up covering the question of wages, hours of labor and other matters which might cause friction between the team owners and the members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, the agreement to remain in force for one year, and was siged by the following owners: Fernie Cartage Co., W. J. J. Morrison, Fernie Steam Laundry, P. Burns and Co., Dominion Meat Market, George Cody, Thomas M. Brooks, Thomas Letcher, Trites-Wood Co., Western Canadian Wholesale Co., Crow's Nest Trading Co., W. J. Blundell, and the Fernie Livery, Dray and Transfer Co. On behalf of the union it was signed by J. E. Gravett, chairman, James McNicholas, R. Clark, Wm. Long and Wm. Mason.

The choir of Christ church went up to Coal Creek and gave a most successful and enjoyable sacred concert which was well patronized. About 50 people went by special train from here, returning by the regular midnight train.

Chief of police McMullin left on the westbound C.P.R. express this morning for New Westminster in charge of two Italians who were sentenced last week to two years in the provincial penitentiary for being mixed up in a stabbing affray.

LABOR RIOTS IN PARIS

FIFTY THOUSAND MEN MAY GO ON STRIKE TODAY

POLICE RESERVES DISPERSED THE WRECKERS

Paris, April 6—The first incipient rioting in connection with the lockout which began April 4, affecting a great number of masons, bricklayers and allied workers, occurred today in the Place la Bastille. A crowd of workmen attempted to force an entrance into the building with the intention of wrecking the working materials there, but were prevented by the police reserves, who dispersed the crowd, after having made a few arrests and cracking a few heads. It is estimated that 50,000 workmen will join their comrades unless a speedy settlement of the affair is reached.

DEADLOCK EXISTS

Differences Between Canada and the States Still Exist

London, April 6—The foreign office recently received drafts of treaties having as their object the settlement of questions pending between the United States and Canada. These treaties were considered satisfactory with the exception of a few minor details which were referred back to Ottawa and it was fully expected that a complete agreement was about to result. The news from the United States however, of which the foreign office has been unofficially advised by cablegram, states that a deadlock exists over the disposition of power from Niagara Falls, came as a surprise to the officials.

Negotiations for the submission of the Atlantic fisheries disputes to arbitration have not advanced to any great extent. Newfoundland has been slow in preparing the points which have been referred to the government and in addition Great Britain does not find it easy to reconcile the views of Newfoundland and the dominion of Canada in preparing the case. Already there is talk of the necessity of renewing the modus vivendi.
