ONLY TROUBLE

Libation Given by Quebec to the Gods

WATER SUPPLY'S FAILURE

SENDS AWAY MANY HUNGRY PEOPLE—PREMIER OF CANADA ARRIVES YESTERDAY TO RECEIVE PRINCE OF WALES AND STAFF TODAY.

QUEBEC, July 21.—Owing to the breaking of a water main a number of restaurants had to close their doors and several thousand people went without breakfast this morning. Most of the big hotels, however, have their own tanks and so avoided inconvenience.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived in the city this morning and was given a great reception. It was announced today that there will be a military procession through the streets on Thursday of 12,000 mounted troops.

H.M.S. Indomitable, with H.R.H., the prince of Wales on board, was sighted at Fame Point this morning. She will arrive here tomorrow.

IT WAS AMERICAS DAY

RESULTS OF RACES AT OLYMPIA YESTERDAY

CANADIANS SHOW UP WELL IN THREE EVENTS

LONDON, July 21.—Better weather, a much larger attendance and exciting finishes made today's Olympic sports at the stadium far and away more interesting than any that have preceded them.

Melvin W. Sheppard, of the Irish-American Athletic club, who took the measure of the world's best distance men in the 1500 metre run at the Olympic games last week, added another victory to his long list today when he won the 800 metre event, establishing a new Olympic record of 1:52 4-5 for the distance.

Another gold medal went to America when Harry F. Porter, of the Irish-American Athletic club, captured the high jump by clearing the bar at 6 feet 3 inches and beating the Olympic record made by J. K. Baxter in Paris in 1900, of 6 feet 2 4-5 inches.

It was largely America's day, for besides winning the only two events finally decided, the American sprinters won the great majority of the heats in the other events. While not so spectacular as the races, the running high jump was the most keenly contested of the day.

In the first section of this event, H. A. Gidney, Boston Athletic association, was defeated by Monson, Norway, and Leader, England, but on the ground that the spot where the other sections contested was more favorable to the jumpers than that of the first section, the protest was allowed and Gidney in the second attempt did 6 feet 1 inch, thus qualifying for the finals.

There he soon found more than his match in Leahy, the Irish champion; Porter, Somody, Hungary, and several others. Leahy, Somody, and Andre, of France, are tied for second place, each having topped the bar at 6 feet 2 inches. It was decided to give each a silver medal and award the points for second and third places equally among the three countries.

In the heats of the 200 metre flat race, Lawson Robertson, Irish-American A.C., was defeated by Roche, the Irish champion, and W. W. May, University of Illinois, was compelled to take the dust off the fleet Canadian, Kerr. In the heats of the 400 metres flat, the Americans took seven out of nine in which they started. J. B. Taylor, Irish-American A.C., the colored champion of the University of Pennsylvania, made his first appearance in this event and won his heat. In the 100 metre sprint, the Americans, May and Stevens, lost their heart to Walker, South Africa, and Kerr, Canada. Just beat Sherman, Dartmouth university, but the other two heats were gathered in for America by Rector and Robertson. There were four heats in the semi-finals of the 400 metre hurdle race, ni two of which Americans contested, and they took both of them, the other two going to Great Britain.

Kerr, Canada, who was more feared by the United Kingdom sprinters than any other foreign competitor carried off his heat in the 200 metre flat race by defeating W. W. May, University of Illinois, one of the best men on the American team. It was a good race, May pushing Kerr right up to the tape.

George, United Kingdom, won the first heat of the 200 metre dash in the Olympic games today beating Senny, Holland, the only other competitor, time 23 2-5 seconds.

Hiff, United States, won the second heat from Duffy, South Africa, time 22 4-5 seconds.

Roche, United Kingdom, won the third heat from Robertson, United States, time 22 4-5 seconds.

Cartmell, America, won the fourth heat in 23 seconds.

The fifth heat went to Malfaita, France, who defeated R. C. Duncan, United Kingdom, time 22 3-5 seconds.

Leaftman, Sweden, won the sixth heat in 22 4-5 seconds.

Radoscy, Hungary, had a walk over in the seventh heat.

Cloughen, America, captured the eighth heat easily from Barrozzi, Italy.

The ninth heat was won by Hurdefield, United Kingdom, time 22 3-5.

Hamilton, United States, won the tenth heat, defeating Sebert, Canada, time 22 2-5 seconds.

Kerr, Canada, won the 11th heat, beating May, United States, by 2 1-2 yards, time 22 1-5 cesonds.

The 12th round was won by Dr. Sherman, United States, who beat Morton, former champion of the United Kingdom, time 22 2-5 seconds.

Reed, United Kingdom, won the 13th heat, time 23 1-5 seconds.

Guttormsen, Norway, won the 14th heat, there being no other entry.

The 15th heat was won by Hawkins, United Kingdom, time 22 4-5 seconds.

The first heat of the semi-finals in the 100 metre flat run was won by Walker, South Africa, in 10 4-5 seconds, equalling the Olympic record, W. W. May, University of Illinois, was second and L. B. Stevens, of Yale, was third.

The second heat of this event was won by Kerr, Canada, in 11 seconds, D. A. Sherman, Dartmouth University, was second.

The third heat was won by J. A. Rector, University of Virginia, in 10 1-5 seconds, H. J. Huff, Chicago A. A., was second.

The fourth heat was won by N. J. Cartmell, University of Pennsylvania, 11 1-5 seconds, Lawson Roertson, Irish-American A. C., was second.

A protest by the first section of the running high jump, on the ground that the spot selected for their performance was not as good as that on which the other sections jumped, was allowed. All the competitors jumped over.

In the fourth section of this event only Barber, Canada, with 5 feet 9 and 3-4 inches, and Wilson, United Kingdom, with 5 feet 8 and 3-4 inches, competed.

The final in the running high jump was won by Harry F. Porter, Irish-American, A. C. He cleared 6 feet 3 inches; Leahy, United Kingdom; Somary, Hungary, and Andre, France, tied for second place with 6 feet 2 inches.

In the first section of the running high jump, Monson, Norway, and Leader,, United Kingdom, each cleared the bar at 5 feet 10 7-8 inches. Gidney, United States, was third, with 5 feet 3-4 inches.

In the second section of the running high jump, C. Leahy, United Kingdom, made 6 feet 2 inches; Ree, France, 6 feet 2 inches, and John N. Patterson, Chicago A. A., cleare 6 feet.

In the third section of the running high jump, Harry F. Porter, Irish-American A. C., cleared 6 feet 3 inches, beating Leahy's jump by 1 inch. T. Moffat, University of Chicago, was second with 6 feet 1 inch.

In the third heat of the high diving, Loftberg, Sweden, got 67.9 points, and Freyschmidt, Germany, 67.3. oin

The first semi-final in the 400 metre hurdles was won by Hillman, N.Y.A.C., in 56 2-5 seconds; H. L. Coe, University of Michigan, was second. The second heat was won by C. J. Bacon, Irish-American A.C., in 58 4-5 seconds.

The third was won by Burton, United Kingdom, in 59 3-5 seconds.

The fourth and last semi-final was won by Tremmer, United Kingdom.

Matswell, United Kingdom, won the fifth heat in 49 2-5 seconds. Matswell is the English champion.

The sixth and last heat was won by G. W. Young, United Kingdom, in 52 and 2-5 seconds.

No eighth heat was run in the 800 metre flat. The ninth heat was won by H. P. Ramey, Chicago A.A., in 49 3-5 seconds, and the tenth heat by Sebert, Canada, in 50 1-5 seconds.

J. C. Attlee, Princeton university, won the eleventh in 50 2-5 seconds, and Davies, United Kingdom, the twelfth in 50 2-5 seconds.

The thirteenth heat was won by T. A. Merriam, University of Chicago, in 52 1-5 seconds, and the fourteenth was won by J. C. Carptenter, Cornell university.

The final in the 800 metre (874.4 yards) flat race was won by Melvin W. Sheppard, Irish-American A.C.; Lughi, Italy, was second, and Braun, Germany, third. Sheppard's time was 1 minute 53 4-5 seconds. He won by 10 yards and broke the record.

Fairburn Crawford made the pace at the start, sprinting speedily for 300 yards, when Sheppard passed him, followed by Lughi, Italy, and Just, the English champion, in the order named. Sheppard raced around the back stretch. The three men formed the first division, for the other runners soon fell considerably to the rear. Sheppard established a decisive lead at the last turn and never again was in danger. Just dropped back on the stretch, thoroughly beaten, and Halstead, N.Y.A.C., passed him on the last stretch. Neither Crawford nor Baird, Ames university, finished. In the expectation of a record, a second finishing line had been established at the half mile post, 100 feet beyond the 800 metre mark. Sheppard finished the race full of vigor and kept on to the half. When the announcer called through his megaphone: "Sheppard continued to the half mile and made the record 1 minte and 54 seconds for this distance," every body cheered.

In the first heat of the 400 metre run, Montague, United Kingdom, beat Pilgrim, N.Y.A.C.; time 50 1-5 seconds.

The second heat was taken by Ryle, United States, who ran alone.

In the third heat, J. B. Taylor, Irish-American A.C., won; time 50 3-5 seconds. He won an easy victory over his two competitors, a Canadian and a Swede.

The fourth heat of this event was won by Nicol, United Kingdom, in 50 4-5 seconds, the fifth by Malfail, France, in 50 seconds.

W. C. Robbins, Cambridge, Mass., won the sixth in 50 3-5 seconds, and W. C. Prout, Boston A.C., captured the seventh in the same time.

Jarvis, United Kingdom, was the win-

TORY CONVENTION

Characterized by a Unanimity and Enthusiam, An Adherence to First Principles, a Platform of Appealing Merit to All, Entitling It to a Premier Rank in Interior Party Assemblages in All Provincial History— Goodeve of Rossland Chosen

PROVINCIAL LIBRARY

If the choice of [PROVINCIAL LIBRARY] acterized as the most brilliant speaker in a province full of orators, a man whose devotion to and belief in the principles of conservatism is almost a byword, together with the drawing up of a set of resolutions embodying a platform of sterling merit, whose endorsations, whose criticisms, whose principles cannot be gainsaid and whose truths are axiomatic in the hearts of the newer Canada of a springing generation, backed by the absolute loyalty and faith of a convention, which for thorough representativeness of all classes and all districts has never before been equalled, let alone excelled in the Kootenay, can lead the conservative party to victory in this federal riding then, assuredly, whensoever the dominion election is called, be it in the fall of this or in the spring time of next year, A. S. Goodeve of Rossland, formerly the choice of premier McBride as a cabinet minister, will be the choice of the people of Kootenay as their spokesman in the next house of commons.

For Mr. Goodeve is one who deserves well of the Kootenay. It is here that he has come into prominence in politics, it is here that he has developed that remarkable talent for public speaking which distinguishes him, it is for the conservatives of the province that he has spent much time, much money and devoted much care. It speaks well of him that from the earliest days of Rossland he has ever been taken into its councils. Three years he served on the council board, once in the responsible position of chairman of the board of works and twice as mayor, being re-elected after serving one term during the most trying time of Rossland's short career, and so well did he perform his duties that he was petitioned by a very large number of his fellow citizens, nearly 2000 in number, to serve a third term. Such was Rossland's verdict on A. S. Goodeve. And if Rossland can speak so well of its distinguished citizen the recommendation must carry weight all through the big constituency of Kootenay.

GOODEVE'S CAREER

Mr. Goodeve was born in Guelph, Ont., in 1860 and was educated in the public and high schools like the ordinary Canadian boy, supplementing his scholastic career by a special course in pharmacy in the Ontario College of Pharmacy, where he had the further honor of being gold medalist for his year in general proficiency. Young as he was, Mr. Goodeve had begun to show his exceptional ability. After a sojourn of a year of two in the great republic to the south Mr. Goodeve returned to his native town and was in business there in his profession for a dozen years. Finally thinking that the west had a call for men of his stamp—and in this he evidently judged rightly—Mr. Goodeve came to Rossland in 1896. In the following year the town was incorporated, and in 1898 he was easily elected as alderman and served on the board for the next three years, through, indeed, the most troubled part of its history and then retired from municipal life although strongly urged not to lay down the burden of office. For the next two years Mr. Goodeve confined himself to the development of his private business and then at the urgent request of his party again entered politics and was selected by the premier of the province, Hon. R. McBride, as his provincial secretary. Here he suffered his first and only set back, but it took as strong a man as the liberal leader, J. A. Macdonald, K.C., to defeat him. Mr. Goodeve contentedly went back to his business and in 1906 found that he was enabled to enter into the real estate business and surrender to his brother and partner his old avocation. Sent yesterday a delegate to the convention by his party in Rossland, acknowledging thus his eminent services, Mr. Goodeve was selected as the standard bearer for the constituency of Kootenay. Such is the standard bearer of the party here.

UNDERLYING PRINCIPLES

The conservatives of the convention had no hesitation in choosing such a man in embodying in a series of resolutions covering the underlying issues of the campaign, which is to be hotly waged in the near future. The endorsation of R. L. Borden, whose masterly conduct of the session as leader of the opposition came in for many an eulogium at the convention and the subsequent meeting of the evening, the warm approval of the policy of premier McBride, which has brought this province out of its slough of despondent debt, the thanks for the services of its old leader in the last campaign, ex-governor Mackintosh, showed that the party has no stint in its loyalty to its leaders, especially when those leaders are men whose services have established their merit. Its resolutions condemning the cowardly and unfair policy of deferred elections and the systematic graft of the present holders of the treasury benches at Ottawa, their treatment of British Columbia in the matter of "better terms," showed that the conservative party was wholly justified in its attack upon the liberal government while at the same time its hearty approval of the system by which this country is to be made a country for white men and so worthy of the best traditions of a great empire, its demand for a tariff which would really protect the Canadian artisan and manufacturer and its particular protest for a special tariff regarding lumber, evinced that there are issues which are alive and which find a ready response in the hearts of liberal and of conservative alike.

THE MEN OF THE DAY

Such a choice of candidate and of platfor establishes that the convention which did these things was a convention which not idly had been again and again declared "Kootenay's best." It was representative inasmuch as that out of 108 possible delegates there were 105 present in person or in proxy, and of these 85 were sitting in the hall when the credential committee reported. And it is a remarkable fact that of the nine provincial constituencies of which the federal riding is made up, six were represented in the convention by the six conservative provincial members, Kootenay only returning three liberals to Victoria. Nor was it a question of thoroughly covering the riding from the point of view of population. It was also covered, as a glance would have shown any Kootenay man, from the point of view of cars and mass. Almost every calling was represented in that assemblage. It is from these circumstances that the conservatives of yesterday, the men of the hour, are so confident of victory, so sure of snatching this important constituency from the liberal ranks.

THE MORNING

The morning was taken up in the organizing of the convention and the appointing of committees. Already at that hour the heat of the day, the hottest yet experienced in the season, was beginning to make itself felt and the neglige attire of the men of the west might have caused a mild commotion in the stricter frock coated and tall hatted parts of the empire. Everybody was good humored; if they could not get the man of their choice, then the man of the convention would be their man. Between his hands they would place their own and fight and work for him until such time as the close of the polls announced a liberal defeat.

THE CHOICE

There was no lack of timber, as well might be supposed, in such a house. But unfortunately the exigencies of private business in a country where all are as yet pioneers often prevent this man or that from accepting the dictum of his fellow citizens. It was with regret that the convention saw the withdrawal of such men as R. F. Green, J. Schofield, W. A. Macdonald and R. S. Lennie from their nominations, and the determination of W. R. Ross and A. S. Goodeve to run was greeted with hearty cheers. Each candidate was heard from, a recess taken and the ballot proceeded with, with the result that the man of Rossland was chosen ,whereat his good humored and loyal rival leaped instantly to his feet and in well known accents proclaimed the vote unanimous; and unanimous it accordingly was.

Striking while the iron was hot, a local organization was instantly perfected and adjourning the convention the executive immediately proceeded to business and began without further delay to discuss the plans of the newly inaugurated campaign.

THE EVENING

Then came a needed interval for dinner and then the evening meeting in the opera house. There at 9 o'clock, despite the intense heat still prevailing, assembled an audience of between 300 and 400 people, of both sexes, of both parties, to listen to the conservatives voice from the platform the reasons for the faith that was in them. The chair was taken by James Schofield of Trail and there were present A. S. Goodeve, Martin Burrell, Hon. W. J. Hanna, L. Hanna of Kaslo, T. Taylor, Hon. R. F. Green, N. F. McKay, H. Parsons and W. Ross.

The speeches of the evening were excellent and elicited warm and frequent applause. On rising the candidate was heartily cheered and the speeches of the old members of the party, men who have proved their services, such as Hon. R. F. Green, W. R. Ross and J. Schofield, were warmly and audibly appreciated. The logical points of Martin Burrell were appreciatively taken and the eloquence of A. S. Goodeve, the force and wit of Ontario's provincial secretary, were welcomed with a warmth that evinced no lassitude engendered by the heat.

TAKES THE CHAIR

James Schofield took the chair shortly after 9 o'clock and premising that he was prouder of the honor done him that evening, especially as following such a convention as that of the afternoon, a convention the very best of any held in the province, said that the conservative party was opening in the Kootenay a campaign against graft and corruption such as had no parallel in the history of the dominion. In opening such a campaign, everything lay in the standard bearer and in choosing A. S. Goodeve the party had a man of clean record and who was possibly the most brilliant speaker in British Columbia.

ROSS OF FERNIE

W. R. Ross of Fernie spoke very briefly. He said he was glad that he had been defeated today in favor of A. S. Goodeve who, he was confident, would easily come out victor in the contest at the finish.

ENDORSES GOODEVE

Hon. R. F. Green, disclaiming all pretensions as a speaker, spoke enthusiastically of the convention of the day, saying that it was the most representative and the best of any ever held in the province. It was no wonder that so good a convention had selected as its candidate a man who had so clean a record, was so distinguished a speaker, who had been chosen by premier McBride as a cabinet minister, as A. S. Goodeve. Mr. Green appealed to the electorate to endorse the action of the convention by returning Mr. Goodeve at the head of the poll.

Th chairman in introducing the next speaker, Martin Burrell, the candidate for Yale-Cariboo, spoke highly of him, of his sacrifices for the party, of his sterling worth and merits in both a public and private character.

PARTY ISSUES

Martin Burrell, after a few preliminary remarks, plunged at once into a discussion of the issues between the two great parties between whom the people of the dominion were divided. The first of these was the government ownership of railroads.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

Frankly admitting that the voice of the electorate in 1904 had endorsed the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, the conservatives took the line of a government line from ocean to ocean. The liberals declared that the scheme was a government ownership scheme. It might be of the great-great-great-grand-children of the present generation. The liberals had no mandate from the people. Yet they had forced a contract through the house against the interests of Canada, strongly in favor of the Grand Trunk. Then a second contract, even more one-sided, was pushed through with a cruel use of the party whip and then, and not till then was an appeal to the electorate taken. There was a good harvest and much money to be spent, to reject the contract perhaps amounted to repudiation. Hence the appeal was successful. The liberals assured the people at that time that the total cost to the country would be under $13,000,000; yet today it had transpired that the cost of the eastern sections alone would be somewhat about $175,000,000. The liberals were bound up to the Grand Trunk Pacific in such a manner that when the conservatives lately insisted that 50 years hence, when the time for the country to take over the railway had arrived, the people shou'd have the choice of selecting which portions of the line, for which they had paid so great a price, they should operate, those liberals objected and voted down the proposal.

CRITICIZES LIBERALS

Turning to another point Mr. Burrell criticized the liberal government for not working for the uplifting of the people. That policy had worked the other way. The speaker would not say that the people were wrong in dismissing from office a conservative government rent by discord. But what was the condition of the present government. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a man of high principle. So were others of his cabinet. Yet minister after minister had been discredited. Sir Wilfrid had evidently lost control of the baser elements of his party. He must take his share of the blame.

The speaker went on to quote the organ of Goldwin Smith, the Toronto Sun, which called upon the liberals of Canada to dismiss from office the recreant liberals and to free themselves from the welter of corruption in which the country had been plunged.

THREE COUNTS

Mr. Burrell brought three counts against the liberals, any of which would justify any conservative in taking the field against the liberals.

The first of these was the practice of the liberals in taking up points, such as the Grand Trunk, such as the Autonomy bill, without a reference to the people. The conservatives had protested but the protest had been of no avail.

The second count was a graceless, almost brutal trampling over provincial rights, the very thing for which the liberals were supposed to stand. An instance was that of Better Terms. A second instance was that of the Aylesworth bill.

The third count was the establishment or at least the toleration of an organized system of corruption, of balking by a party vote any attempt at investigation.

DELAYED ELECTIONS

In speaking of the Aylesworth bill, Mr. Burrell pointed out that while Duncan Ross maintained there was not time to distribute ballot boxes between nomination and election, at the same time he supported the clause of that bill which declared that there was time for making up of new voting lists.

The speaker said he was of the opinion that Smith Curtis would hold to his word and not defer the Kootenay election. He was not of the same opinion with regard to Yale-Cariboo. There, Duncan Ross had openly stated that he would defer the election.

Mr. Burrell then made an eloquent personal tribute to Mr. Goodeve which was warmly welcomed by the audience and ended his speech by a brilliant recital of the claims of R. L. Borden upon the people of Canada. He had made a great record, especially this last year, and would make a greater record when called to rule Canada.

COULD NOT FAIL

A. S. Goodeve, after waiting for a few minutes until the storm of applause which greeted him had subsided, entered into the causes which had led to his unexpected selection when most had come to the convention ready to choose a Nelson man. He never could have consented to run had not he felt that with so strong a convention, so representative an assemblage behind him, he could not fail.

PROGRESS AND PURITY

It was merely as a standard bearer that he stood before the audience, that he was in the forefront of the fight, that he would ask the electors for their vote. He was justified in the history of the conservative party, he was justified by the misdeeds of liberals. Going into the history of the origin of the liberal-conservative party at the time of confederation at the period of the building of Canada, the speaker insisted that the conservatives must work and vote for "Progress and Purity."

Mr. Goodeve then went into the claims of the liberal party to such a watchword which should be the watchword of all parties and which was the slogan of all true conservatives. He showed that the liberal record was that of extravagance, shown on the Grand Trunk railway and in numberless other ways, many of which Mr. Goodeve cited, going into particular figures.

One instance cited was that of the fisheries department, where $42,000 had been spent in making the audit of books which cost $118,000 a year to keep.

LAND ROBBERY

In the Indian, in the Land and in other departments there were equal or worse exravagances. The Land department was giving away land wholesale to the government supporters in such a manner as to give rise to the well-founded fear that if this carnival continued there would remain in Canada but two classes, the extravagantly rich and the hopelessly poor.

Mr. Goodeve finished his speech in referring in eloquent words to the native worth of Martin Burrell, who would be the next member for Yale.

GERRYMANDERING

Hon. W. F. Hanna, provincial secretary of Ontario, being next called upon, gave a rousing speech, beginning with one of the wittiest stories for many a month told from a Nelson public platform, congratulating the Kootenay in selecting a candidate who could without any preparation deliver so brilliant a speech as he had given that even. Mr. Hanna went on directly to the gerrymandering practiced in Ontario. He claimed that although Ontario had sent conservative members to Ottawa and liberal members to Toronto, yet the vote was the same and had been the same since 1896. But provincial liberals had controlled the conservative majority till it had grown so large that it burst all restraints. Now the liberal vote in Ontario was only 38 per cent. That would show at the general election.

TEN COMMANDMENTS

Mr. Hanna declared that the whole of the rank and file of the liberal party, like the rank and file of the conservative party, was for decent government. But it was the leaders who were at fault. It was maintained that these liberals had broken every plank in the platform of 1893. That was not true. It was only partly true. They had also broken each and every one of the ten commandments and had indeed leaped through those tablets of stone as a circus goat leaps through paper.

Concluding, Mr. Hanna said that at all events British Columbia, like Nova Scotia, could not do worse than it did at the last general elections.

Dissolution

REGINA, July 21—The first legislative assembly of the province of Saskatchewan was dissolved yesterday and the writs issued for a new election. Nomination day has been fixed for Friday, August 7, and polling one week later, on Aug. 14. The reason for dissolution at this time is to give the earliest possible effect to the new redistribution, increasing the membership in the legislature from 25 to 41.

Negro Miners

BIRMINGHAM, July 21—A clash between the negro miners in the Blue Creek region, 20 miles south of Birmingham on the L. & N. railway, today resulted in the death of one miner and serious injury to two deputies, Knewsome and Whatley. The deputies were guarding the hill overlooking the mining town until they saw armed negroes coming along the road. The deputies called to the negroes to stop, when fight was offered. Two of the negroes raised their guns. The deputies appeared to pick out one man and he was literally filled with lead. The shooting created much excitement.

BIG INCREASES

Canadian Output of Minerals Last Year

R. HEDLEY MAKES REPORT

SHOWS CONDITIONS IN THE KOOTENAY TO HAVE BEEN AFFECTED SOMEWHAT BY THE FINANCIAL CRISES OCCURRING IN NOVEMBER LAST.

(Special to The Daily News.)

OTTAWA, July 21—A summary of the report covering the mines branch for the first year of its incorporation under the reorganization carried into effect in May, 1907, has just been issued by Hon. W. Templeman, minister of the department. The report covers the results of investigations made by officials of the department into the mineral deposits and processes in every part of the dominion.

Officials of the department were sent to each of the provinces with a view of gathering full statistics and information regarding the mining and metallurgical industries of Canada.

B. B. Cairnes in his report on the Yukon territory states that although the days of the individual placer mines are practically over, at least on the older creeks, the country is by no means nearly worked out, and continued large gold production may be gotten for many years to come. New systems of working are being invented and new fields are being found. Stewart river and its tributaries will, judging by the two years of prospecting, yield much more than heretofore.

The report of R. R. Hedley for British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, shows that in 1907 there was much activity in mining and metallurgical industries of the western provinces until November, when the prevailing financial depression caused a serious check to new enterprises. In British Columbia the individual placer industry is being superceded by companies working low grade areas of gold bearing gravels on a large scale and with more modern appliances, all having a promise of an increasing profitable industry.

The statistical report covering the dominion as a whole, shows that the whole value of Canada's mineral output was about $86,182,000 for the last year, the largest output the Canadian mining industry has attained, being an increase of over secen millions as compared with 1906. There was an increase of $2 669,000 in silver; $4,828,000 in coal; $758,000 in copper; $585,000 in nickel; 248,000 in pig iron and Canadian ore, and $265,000 from petroleum. There were decreases of $2,405,000 in Yukon gold production and $556,000 in lead production.

NEW WESTMINSTER WON

DEFEATED SHAMROCKS IN FIRST GAME OF SERIES

SHAMROCKS EXPECT TO WIN THE NEXT MATCH

MONTREAL, July 21.—By a score of 6 to 5 the New Westminsters today won the first game of the series for the Minto cup.

Despite the defeat the Shamrock supporters are not in the least downcast, figuring out that next Tuesday, when the Irishmen will once more have Howard and Hoobin in the lineup that New Westminster will be defeated.

In the field the British Columbia team was faster than the Shamrocks but this advantage was not fully utilized and more than once the Shamrocks made use of the opportunity thus afforded to take the ball down the field. The New Westminster team also showed inferiority in stick handling. The defeat of the Shamrocks was largely due to the presence of a junior in the nets. O'Kane did the best he could, but it was noticeable that when, in the third quarter, he was taken off to even up for W. Turnbull, who twisted his knee, and Kavanaugh replaced him, that the Irishmen played with much more confidence. It was only towards the end that the Shamrocks played with their old time vim, and in the final quarter they had the British Columbia men entirely on the defensive. It was only by blocking their goal that they were finally able to stave off defeat.

The star of the New Westminster team was Alex Turnbull. He gave no evidence of his 44 years but kept up a fast pace from beginning to end. Kavanaugh was unable to hold him but in the latter part of the game Rochford was more successful. Galbraith and the Giffords played a fine game, being fully the equal of the men covering them. Their checking was much admired.

In the net Grey played a nice game. Either Galbraith or Tom Gifford always went to his assistance in time of stress and it looked from the stand as if the visitors had two men in goal.

Are All Doing Well But Are Not Feared by English Critics

HENLEY, July 21.—The Argonaut eight of Toronto yesterday rowed half the course in 3:52. Scholes rowed the full course this morning in 10:10 and the water was very dead. All are well and are getting used to new boats, but none of the Canadians are thought to be dangerous by English critics.

THE CONVENTION

Nothing could have been more satisfactory than the general tone of the conservative convention for Kootenay held in this city yesterday. In striking contrast to the liberal convention, held here last month, the proceedings yesterday were thrown open, alike to the public and the press, whereas at the recent gathering of the liberals to choose a successor to W. A. Galliher, the press was excluded after a vote on the subject had been formally taken.

In at least one other particular yesterday's meetings can be happily contrasted with the liberal round up. Not a single note of discord was heard in the large and thoroughly representative gathering but on the contrary, not only was the meeting entirely hearty and harmonious, but there was evidence of a degree of enthusiasm never before shown to the same extent in previous campaigns here. The note of expectant victory plainly predominated and the delegates exhibited a fine degree of enthusiasm when the coming struggle was referred to by the different speakers.

That a candidate was eventually selected who will rally to the conservative ranks not only all the old time tories, but the many in Kootenay riding who compose the great "silent" vote, recently referred to so plainly by premier McBride in his speech here, cannot be for a moment doubted by all who are at all familiar with Mr. Goodeve, Mr. Curtis and the general political situation in this big constituency.

Not less happy than the convention proper was the enthusiastic mass meeting in the opera house last evening, when Hon. Mr. Hanna, provincial secretary of Ontario, explained the meaning of the tremendous victory of the conservative party in his own province last month, and assured his hearers that the honest desire for a change in the administration of dominion affairs was becoming universal and that by election day the wave of conservatism which had already swept over New Brunswick and Ontario, would sweep clear from ocean to ocean.

The convention has done its work nobly and has entirely lived up to the best traditions of the great conservative party in such matters. Mr. Goodeve was chosen openly and above board as the standard bearer of the party and we firmly believe that the selection made by the convention will be warmly endorsed by conservatives and independents all over the big district of Kootenay.

What is needed now is untiring and systematic work until election day is over and if the work is fairly carried out there is every reason for believing that many messages of hearty congratulation will be despatched when the battle is over to A. S. Goodeve, M.P.

THE CANDIDATE

No better man in the whole of Kootenay could have been selected to look after Smith Curtis in a dominion election campaign than Arthur Samuel Goodeve, real estate agent of Rossland.

No man in Kootenay knows Mr. Smith Curtis and his little ways half as well and as thoroughly as does Mr. Goodeve, and beyond question, with the loyal support of the conservative party in this constituency, as firmly promised yesterday, Mr. Goodeve will satisfactorily account for his former townsman on election day.

Unlike his liberal opponent Mr. Goodeve has shown undying faith in the Golden City in particular and in the great west generally. While other Rosslanders, including Mr. Curtis, have fled to pastures new, Mr. Goodeve has never for a moment wavered in his sturdy belief in the permanency of Rossland, and he has stuck to his guns and deserves well of the residents of Rossland, irrespective of party, for so doing.

Mr. Goodeve has already made an excellent municipal record in Rossland, first as an alderman and then for two terms as mayor. It was when he was asked to run for a second time as mayor of the Golden City and when a small clique of disappointed office seekers sought to prevent Mr. Goodeve's election that he displayed, not only great courage, but most excellent diplomacy. Miners' union hall had been packed largely by those who would like to have seen Mr. Goodeve defeated and it was hoped he would be discouraged from continuing his campaign any further. Mr. Goodeve, in a brief speech, first reviewed his course as mayor during the year just over and then in simple but very effective language he told his audience the history of his life in Old Ontario up to the present time. Told them how hard he had worked. How many troubles and anxieties he had successfully met, and how bit by bit, he had climbed up to his present standing by sheer industry.

The audience cheered the speaker until they could cheer no longer and the election which followed ended with Mr. Goodeve at the head of the poll and his opponent out of sight.

Mr. Goodeve is a man in the prime of life, Canadian born, and now a true westerner after his sojourn in Rossland for some 12 years. He is a good and eloquent platform speaker and can very truthfully be said to be a cabinet possibility in due course. He thoroughly understands the situation in Kootenay,

WHYTE'S TOUR

Second Vice President C.P.R. Off on a Trip to Skagway

WINNIPEG, July 21.—Wm. Whyte, second vice president of the C.P.R., is leaving for Skagway, probably tonight, and will be away nearly three weeks. He will be accompanied by three or four other gentlemen, and the party will sail on the Princess Beatrice from Vancouver, July 27, arriving in Skagway on the 31st. They will probably return on the same ship. Skagway is the most northerly point reached by the C.P.R. system, either by boat or rail, being 1000 miles north of Vancouver.

At the C.P.R. offices this afternoon it was impossible to ascertain whether this will be merely a routine inspection trip or whether there is some special significance attached to the visit. Prince Rupert is about half way between Vancouver and Skagway and it is stated that the party of C.P.R. officials may stop off there and communicate with officials of the G.T.P.

A despatch from Portland, Ore., states that the Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific have formed a holding corporation and taken over the property of the Bellingham Bay and British Columbia railway company, with the twofold object of giving the Harriman lines an entrance in Vancouver, and secondly, providing an arrangement by which the C.P.R. may gain access to Seattle; and it may be some connection with this which is taking the second vice president west.

FIRE AT FORT WILLIAM

TOWN HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM DESTRUCTION

LOSS WILL PROBABLY EXCEED $150.000.00

FORT WILLIAM, July 21.—Fort William had a narrow escape from destruction by a fire which broke out shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the rear of the establishment of the John King Co., on Victoria avenue and which, before it was finally got under control two hours later, caused enormous property loss. The blaze was one of the worst this city has ever experienced and for a while it was feared that a large section of the city was doomed. The wind was blowing almost a gale, and the warm weather of the last week or two had rendered everything inflammable and as dry as tinder and it was not more than a very few minutes before the frame buildings at the back of the big store were like a raging furnace.

The fine block occupied by the John King Co. was completely destroyed, as were several other frame buildings at the back and the area extending from Victoria avenue to George street, about an acre in extent, was swept clean by the flames. The buildings immediately adjoining the brick block on Victoria avenue were also badly damaged and the loss there will be considerable.

The losses are: John King Co., loss $153,000, insurance, $75,000; Robert Strachan, loss $10,000, insurance on part; Kirkup & Wilkie, $15,000, insurance, $10,000; Snelgorve & Waddington, loss $20,000, insurance $12,000; Rutledge & Jackson loss $5,0089, insurance $3,000.

ner of the fifth heat of the 1500 metres swimming race today. He beat J. B. Green, Brookline A.C., the only American competing in the event.

The City of London police, who won the tug of war, have issued a challenge to the American team for a match, the members of both teams to be in their stocking feet.

In the first round of the catch-as-catch-can wrestling, middleweight to 161 pounds, Craig and Largens, United States, drew by ties.

In the second, Beck, United Kingdom, threw Largens, and Anderson, Sweden, beat Craig on points after the two men had struggled on the mat fully 15 minutes without either securing a fall.

Bobby Kerr, the Hamilton sprinter, will run in the final of the 200 metre and also in the final of the 100 metre, Olympic events, having won his heats in the semi-finals today. In the 200 metre Kerr won easily in 22 1-5 seconds, doing best time of the day. Sebert and Lukeman ran second and theird in their heats. Lukeman is not in condition, suffering from an injury to his foot. In the 100 metre semi-final, Keer won from Sherman, United States, beating him by two yards in 11 seconds. Manager Crocker afterwards said that this was a splendid win.

The final of this event should be a grand race, including, as it does, Walker, South Africa; Rector and Cartnell, United States, all strong runners, who will be opposed to the Canadian.

Another Canadian victory was recorded in the 400 metre, when Sebert won his heat easily in 50 1-5 seconds. Buddo, the Montreal runner, was second by eight yards.

Arthur Samuel Goodeve of Rossland, ex-provincial secretary of British Columbia, is the choice of the most representative party convention ever held in the Kootenay, as conservative candidate for the house of commons. Of a total membership of 108, there were 85 actually present and 18 more represented by proxy.

Six names were placed in nomination, R. F. Green, W. R. Ross, M.L.A., R. S. Lennie, W. A. Macdonald, A. S. Goodeve, J. H. Schofield, M.L.A. All the names were received with very hearty applause, most enthusiastic for Mr. Schofield, but unreserved and sincere for all. Messrs. Green, Lennie, Macdonald and Schofield declined the nomination, and the ballot resulted in the choice of Mr. Goodeve, which was then at once and not at all informally made unanimous.

CALLED TO ORDER

The convention was called to order at 11:30 by R .S. Lennie, president of the Liberal-Conservative association of Nelson. The convention organized at once, electing R. S. Lennie, president, and D. C. McMorris, secretary.

The chairman briefly welcomed the visiting delegates to Nelson.

On motion of R. F. Green, seconded by F. A. Starkey, the chairman was authorized to appoint committees on resolutions and credentials.

COMMITTEES

The chairman appointed A. S. Goodeve, E. Home, J. A. Broley, F. Elliott, A. G. Lang, W. Irvine, D. St. Denis and A. B. Clark a committee on credentials; and W. R. Ross, T. Taylor, J. H. Schofield, N. F. McKay, W. Hunter, H. Parsons, M's. L. A., L. A. Campbell, G. H. Thompson and F. A. Starkey, a committee on resolutions.

On motion of W. R. Ross, M.L.A., seconded by W. A. Macdonald, the convention then adjourned to 2:30 p.m.

On resuming the report of the committee on credentials, signed by chairman A. S. Goodeve, and the secretary, D. C. McMorris, was presented as follows:

Gentlemen—Your credential committee in presenting this report would respectfully submit:

That in our opinion much credit is due the different organizations throughout the district for the manifest interest shown in this convention, as evidenced by the large number of delegates present representing the remotest parts, as well as the nearer and more populous centres. Having a total representation of 108 delegates, we find there are actually 85 in attendance, with a voting list (by proxy) bringing the representation at this meeting to 103, only five short of a full vote. This surely augurs well for the causes and principles to which our party stands committed, and if the same interest is maintained throughout the approaching campaign, we feel assured our standard bearer, whoever he may be, will lead us on to victory.

Herewith we present the result of our deliberations as a credential committee; showing the districts as named, with the number of representations from each, as well as the number of proxies.

Your committee would call your attention to the fact that Columbia riding has been allowed the full representation, there being but three delegates present, but these holding proxies for nine other regularly appointed delegates, which we recommend for your approval.

In the case of other ridings not having the full number of delegates present, your committee has limited the proxies to five, which we also recommend for your approval.

Following is the representation by ridings: Nelson city, 12 delegates, no proxies; Rossland, 12 delegates, no proxies; Ymir riding, 12 delegates, no proxies; Kaslo riding, 12 delegates, no proxies; Slocan riding, 10 delegates, no proxies; Columbia riding, 3 delegates, 9 proxies; Cranbrook riding, 12 delegates, no proxies; Fernie riding, 6 delegates, 4 proxies; Revelstoke riding, 6 delegates, 5 proxies; making a total of 85 delegates, and 18 proxies.

The report of the attendance was received with applause, which was renewed at the expression of confidence of victory. The report of the committee was received and adopted.

NOTHING SECRET

The chairman asked the pleasure of the convention as to the attendance of other than delegates and alternates. There was already a large attendance in the gallery. On motion of F. A. Starkey, seconded by W. Hunter, M.L.A., the gallery was declared open to all irrespective of party.

*The chairman then suggested that af*ter nominations were made the nominees, in reverse order should be heard; then, if desired, a brief recess should be taken before proceeding to the vote. *He urged that no sectional conside*rations be entertained.

The procedure was approved. The chairman then called for nominations.

NOMINATIONS

After a brief pause, J. D. Anderson of Kaslo, presented the name of R. F. Green, which was seconded by J. W. Power. Mr. Anderson said that the Kaslo delegation and, he thought, the people of Kootenay had confidence in Mr. Green's ability and integrity, and his eminent fitness for membership in the dominion parliament.

Mr. Green warmly thanked his supporters and the convention which had received his name with wild applause, saying that to be offered the nomination by so representative a body of conservatives was really equivalent to election, especially in the present instance where everything pointed to the easy return of the conservative nominee to the dominion house. There was at the present time an undercurrent of feeling in every *riding in the province of British Co*lumbia, which augured well for the party, and with the enthusiastic support of the conservatives of Kootenay who were behind this representative gathering, the most "Doubting Thomas" must admit that success was sure and certain. However ,circumstances would not permit him to make the run, and he closed by expressing the hope that his supporters would understand that he appreciated the fact that in declining the nomination he was turning away from certain victory at the polls.

W. R. Ross, M.L.A., was nominated by G. F. Roo and J. Broley and his name was loudly acclaimed.

R. S. Lennie was placed in nomination by F. A. Starkey and W. Irvine. His name was received with loud and long applause.

Mr. Lennie thanked Messrs. Starkey and Irvine and the convention in general for the very kindly way in which his name was received. He yielded to no one in desire for the success of the conservative party, but for personal reasons which he felt to be insurmountable, he was compelled to decline the honor.

A. S. Goodeve, whose name was also warmly received, was nominated by T. Taylor, M.L.A., who eloquently extolled Mr. Goodeve's ability and his long and splendid record of party service. As provincial whip, he hoped Mr. Ross would not be lost to the legislature of which he was an esteemed and useful member.

The nomination was seconded by A. B. Clark of Field, and by C. R. Hamilton of Rossland. The latter dwelt upon Mr. Goodeve's thorough grasp of political issues and his eminent abilities as an administrator, orator and debater. He referred to the question of "better terms" for British Columbia and of the necessity for purging the dominion service of graft.

F. A. Starkey also endorsed the nomination of Mr. Goodeve, while speaking very warmly of Mr. Ross' services and ability.

W. A. Macdonald was nominated by W. Irvine. After some minutes of applause, Mr. Irvine declared his confidence in Mr. Macdonald's merits and in his ability to carry the constituency. The nomination was seconded by C. H. Sewell.

In declining, Mr. Macdonald declared that only private considerations compelled him reluctantly to decline. He was very sensible of the honor paid him. He esteemed membership in the dominion parliament a very high honor, although of late it had become almost a disgrace. Mr. Macdonald was frequently interrupted with applause.

The name of James H. Schofield, presented by G. F. Weir and P. R. McDonald, was received with loud cheers from every member of the convention, including the supporters of other nominees. Mr. McDonald, in seconding the nomination, declared that Mr. Schofield had "made good" in every respect and that he commanded in a degree unequalled by any other conservative in the riding, the confidence of the labor party.

Mr. Schofield expressed his warm and deep appreciation of the honor paid him, and of the evident confidence reposed in him by the convention, but he could not accept. Very earnestly he said:

"I have never had 'cold feet' in my life. I have never fought a fight that I have not won. But, gentlemen, I cannot accept this. I have other duties more immediately binding. I must decline."

The nominations then closing, A. S. Goodeve was called upon to speak.

GOODEVE SPEAKS.

He thanked his friends for their kindness. It was with a feeling of great responsibility that he allowed his name to be submitted. He thought that the history of the last ten years of liberal rule was sufficient in a free and intelligent country like Canada to guarantee the defeat of that party. Wholesale extravagance and dishonesty could not and would not go on unchecked. The foundations of Canadian nationality within the British empire had been laid by the conservative party, and only that party could be trusted to complete and perfect it.

He had not sought the nomination but if the choice of the party fell upon him he would accept, do his best to win, and, if elected, would represent to the best of his ability the district of Kootenay, a district he believed the best, the richest and grandest in Canada or in the world.

He was hardly in a financial position to undertake so great a task, but if the party called he would not refuse.

He held very strongly that Canada must remain a white man's country as contended by R. L. Borden, the party's able and tursted leader.

He asked for support not for himself, but for the conservative party as Canada's one hope of purification and regeneration.

Mr. Goodeve's eloquent address evoked frequent and enthusiastic cheering.

ROSS OF FERNIE.

W. R. Ross remarked that he could not hope to rival the eloquence of Mr. Goodeve. He had hoped for a unanimous nomination for either W. A. Macdonald of J. H. Schofield, M. L. A. He had neither sought nor desired a nomination for himself. Like Mr. Goodeve, he would allow the convention to choose. If Mr. Goodeve were chosen, he promised him undivided, loyal and energetic support from all the conservatives of East Kootenay.

A short recess was then taken before the voting.

THE BALLOT.

After a brief explanation by the chairman that the vote would be taken by individual ballot, H. R. Jorand and V. A. Rollins were appointed scrutineers and distributed the ballots.

The result was soon announced by the chairman to be the choice of A. S. Goodeve.

W. R. Ross declared, amid enthusiastic applause, that he had himself voted for Mr. Goodeve, and entirely approved the result. He moved that the unanimous nomination of the convention be tendered to Mr. Goodeve.

This was carried by acclamation and followed at once, at the call of the chair by "Three cheers for Billy Ross."

Mr. Goodeve, who was again received with an outburst of cheering, declared that he was now in the hands of the party. He appealed for support not for himself per*sonally but as a follower of R. L. Borden* and a humble and faithful representative of the conservative party.

After announcing the program of the evening meeting, the chairman called for resolutions, which were presented and adopted, as follows:

McBRIDE ENDORSED.

Moved by G. H. Thomson, seconded by W. Hunter, that this meeting heartily endorses the policy of the honorable Richard McBride and his government, and as conservatives we express our satisfaction that our local government can in contradistinction to the Dominion government, receive a meed of praise from both conservatives and liberals.

DELAYED ELECTIONS.

Moved by Fred Starkey, seconded by H. Parsons, that this meeting heartily condemns the practice which has been in vogue of delaying the Dominion elections in Kootenay, Yale-Cariboo and Comox-Atlin until after the results in the general elections are known, for the purpose of unfairly influencing electors in favor of the party in power.

CONDEMNING GRAFT.

Moved by W. A. Macdonald, seconded by George B. Campbell that this convention strongly condemns the systematic "graft" that is being pursued by the existing government at Ottawa in the administration of public monies. This wasteful and corrupt expenditure is seriously injuring our national credit.

ENDORSE BORDEN.

Moved by Dr. Bonnell, seconded by Mr. Watts that this convention expresses its confidence in R. L. Borden, leader of the conservative party and conveys to him its appreciation of his efforts to organize and strengthen the party in western Canada; its approval of and confidence in the platform of the party, and especially its warmest praise for his recent noble work in *exposing the graft and corruption at Ot*tawa and successfully resisting the efforts of the liberal government to improperly interfere with the franchise by controlling our voters' lists.

EXCLUDE CHINESE.

Moved by F. J. Smyth, seconded by George P. Motion that this convention heartily endorses the efforts of the government of British Columbia, tending to the exclusion of Chinese, Japanese, and other Asiatics.

PROTECTIVE TARIFF.

Moved by Neil McKay, seconded by F. C. Elliott that this meeting of conservatives of Kootenay once again expresses its belief that the benefits of the protective tariff should be extended so as to further protect lead and lead products coming into Canada and thus encourage our silver-lead industry.

LUMBER INDUSTRY.

Moved by D. J. Johnson, seconded by Mr. Henderson, and resolved, that the lumber industry of this province should be assisted by the proper adjustment of the tariff so that the lumber of the United States will not receive better treatment coming into Canada than a similar grade of our lumber bears on entering that country.

BETTER TERMS.

Moved by H. R. Jorand, seconded by Mr. Schofield that the members of this convention desire to place themselves on record as emphatically endorsing the course of the government of British Columbia in connection with the advocacy of better terms for this province.

They extend congratulations to the local government upon the conspicuous success of its efforts, and express their appreciation of the promise made by our leader, R. L. Borden, to give our demands fair consideration and treatment upon the advent of the conservative party to power.

They hereby pledge themselves to strongly support the continuation of the struggle for better terms until brought to a successful issue, and the rights of the province fully secured.

ENDORSE MACKINTOSH.

Moved by Thomas Taylor, seconded by Lorne Campbell that this meeting of conservatives of Kootenay expresses its praise and appreciation at the self-sacrificing efforts put forth by ex-lieutenant-governor Mackintosh in the last Dominion election for Kootenay. We regret that change of residence will prevent Mr. Mackintosh from taking such an active interest in teh coming contest as he would beyond doubt desire.

On the suggestion of R. F. Green a protest was added against the delay of the election in Comox-Atlin.

LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS.

The organization of the district association was ten taken up. Elections resulted as follows:

Hon. presidents, R. L. Borden, Hon. R. McBride.

President, R. S. Lennie.

Vice-presidents, N. F. McKay, Thomas Taylor, J. H. Schofield, W. R. Ross and W. Hunter.

Secretary, Capt. D. C McMorris.

Treasurer, Lorne A. Campbell.

Executive committee, P. R. McDonald, Rossland; Dr. Bonnell, Fernie; F. Elliott, Kaslo; H. G. Parsons, Columbia; T. Cowan, Cranbrook; W. A. Macdonald, Nelson; T. McNeish, Slocan; H. Anderson, Ymir; W. W. Foster, Revelstoke.

On motion of the Fernie delegation a vote of thanks was tendered chairman R. S. Lennie, followed by three cheers.

After further cheers for the candidate the convention adjourned.

SHARP REFUSES TO LISTEN TO ANY ARGUMENT

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS WILL TAKE ACTION

BINSCARTH, Man., July 21.—C. W. Speers, the colonization agent of the dominion government, is still here looking after the Adamites who are encamped near the town. Mr. Speers had a long interview with Sharp and other members of the party yesterday afternoon and discussed the situation anew. Mr. Speers represented to Sharp the certainty that action would evidently be taken by officials of the government to deport him and all the members of the party, and sought to lead the party to a reasonable frame of mind.

Sharp, however, proved to be completely set in his opinion and refused to consider any argument. Sharp has been too long in the country to admit of his being rejected by the Canadian government without the formal process of deportation. He still persists in the declaration that he will live or die in Canada. The struggle cannot long be deferred, as the government officials state that action will be taken as soon as the party crosses into Saskatchewan. The provincial police still refuse to take action beyond seeing that no offense is committed by Sharp or his followers. Tomorrow will probably see the members of the company in Saskatchewan, when the mounted police will be free to act. Sharp expects to cross the boundary line in the vicinity of Harrowsby. The police will no doubt act with caution and it is probable that the party will be placed under arrest without bloodshed.

FLEETS OF THREE NATIONS IN OPENING SALUTES

THUNDER OF CANNON FROM FORT AND VESSEL

QUEBEC, July 21.—Fleets of three nations joined in salutations on the opening yesterday of the three hundredth birthday of the Dominion of Canada and during the whole afternoon the banks of the St. Lawrence have been reverberating with the thunder of cannon as ship saluted fort and navy paid honor to navy under the walls of the citadel.

There was a touch of historic poetry in the scene when the United States battleship New Hampshire arrived. The three nations most immediately concerned with the wars of the continent were represented, France, which founded Canada; Great Britain, which won it on the Plains of Abraham, and the United States, which tried in vain to win it from the British. Yet today the ships of these three nations met on the scene of their former fierce combats and where in times past they had fired powder for the stern purposes of war, today they used a far more terrific armament for the purpose of peaceful courtesy. After the official ceremones were over the sailors of the various ships were to be seen fraternizing in the city, not only with each other, but with the land forces, in picturesque goodfellowship.

It was nearly 1 o'clock when the U.S. battleship swung around the curve in the river below the city, and long before then the news that she was coming had spread through the city, to Dufferin terrace, the ramparts and the citadel were thronged with spectators as the New Hampshire forged her way up stream. All afternoon and evening around the warships was a busy scene as the little launches came and went. Throughout the centre of the city almost every large building was a blaze of light while Duffering terrace was illuminated from end to end, the Chateau Frontenac being decked out with electric lights, while everywhere were colored pictures in electric light that added freely to the charm of the scene. Among other buildings, the Laval university attracted enormous crowds, being decorated on an ambitious scale, that eclipsed the celebrated decorations in honor of the late Mgr. Tashereau.

This afternoon's magnificent performance on the Plains, the first of the series, was witnessed by thousands of spectators from the big grand stand and every other point of vantage. This evening was given the first performance of Felicien David's symphonic ode, "Christophe Colomb."

His royal highness, the prince of Wales, will arrive tomorrow on board the British cruiser Indomitable and will make his official landing at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The prince is accompanied by a brilliant staff and the reception will be the most noteworthy event of the kind in the dominion's history. This will be the prince's second visit to Canada. The first was n 1901, when the prince was accompanied by the princess, the royal couple travelling as the duke and duchess of Cornwall and York.

The original intention of the royal party was to visit Australia for the purpose of participating in the inauguaration of the new Commonwealth, as the federation of the various states of the country was called, but the idea of having the party return to England via Canada was enthusiastically taken up and a formal invitation having been extended it was accepted.

Travelling in the steamship Ophir and accompanied by a flotilla of warships, the duke and duchess reached Quebec on September 16, 1901, and were received amidst evidence of great rejoicing by leading Canadian, military and civilian.

After vsiting Montreal and Ottawa, the journey across the continent to Victoria, B. C., was ommenced. During the long trip across the country many novel and entertaining events were participated in, the Indian encampments furnishing no little of the interest to the occasion.

Victoria was reached on October 1, and the return trip was commenced after a short stop there.

Perhaps the most notable of royal visits to Canada was that of king Edward, then the prince of Wales, in 1860.

In 1859 the parliament of Canada invited queen Victoria to come to Canada to lay the cornerstone of the parliament buildings at Ottawa, and officially open the Victoria Bridge. She could not come but the following year sent the prince of Wales, then a young man, in her stead. This was one of the greatest historical events, as regards the participation of royalty in Canadian affairs, that has ever taken place.

One hundred thousand dollars was appropriated by parliament for the entertainment of the prince and his party. On the 21st of August he was received at Quebec by the governor general and both houses of parliament, headed by their speakers, Messrs. Narcisse F. Belleau and Henry Smith, both of whom were knighted by his royal highness.

After two days' festivities at Quebec the royal party left for Montreal. After the opening of the new Industrial exhibition building the ceremony at the Victoria Bridge took place and the future king not only laid a block of granite but drove a silver spike at the central span of the bridge, and was presented with a gold medal in commemoration of the event. A grand ball, a torchlight procession and a grand military review on Logan's Farms brought the festivities to a close. On September 1 he laid the cornerstone of the parliament buildings at Ottawa, which was attended by notable festivities and afterwards the prince visited different points in the country.

In 1878, her royal highness, princess Louise Caroline Alberta, duchess of Saxony, the fourth daughter of queen Victoria, came to Canada with her husband, the marquis of Lorne, now duke of Argyll, when he was appointed governor general of the dominion by lord Beaconsfield's government. Many Canadians of middle life will remember the warmth of the reception given the princess and her husband by the people of Canada. They landed at Halifax in the summer of 1878 and there was a scene of great rejoicing. Prince Alfred, a brother of the present king, was at that time captain of the warship Black Prince, and accompanied the royal party across the Atlantic. He had previously visited Halifax as a midshipman, as many of the younger members of the royal family family had done previously and since. During her stay in Canada the princess endeared herself to the people and many were the regrets at her departure.

FORGOTTEN FEATURES

WHEN THE GREEKS FIRST MET AT OLYMPIA

LORD DESBOROUGH WRITES AN INTERESTING ACCOUNT

In the National Review an interesting account of some of the forgotten features of the Olympic games is given by lord Desborough. He calls attention to the fact that sports were not the original objective of the quadrennial gatherings on little plains of Olympia, in Elis. The pilgrimage was primarily a religious one and it was not until 776 B.C. that there was a contest. Previous to that time, as far back as we have record, the Hellenes were wont to gather at the spot to celebrate their racial triumphs and invoke the favorable omens of their deities.

In 776, however, a foot race, corresponding to our 200 yard dash, was instituted and for 50 years or more it comprised the whole athletic program. The 14th Olympic games saw a 400 yard dash and thenceforth the races and other contests gradually crowded religious ceremonies to the wall and became the feature of the gatherings. Boxing, wrestling and horse racing took their places, but it was not until hundreds of years later that the Marathon race was founded. It is rather curious that it is the last event added to the old Olympic program that retains any power to interest us today, whereas the religious faith that inspired the festival has disappeared from the face of the earth, or has been so transformed as to be unrecognizable.

Another important aspect of the Olympic games that lord Desborough recalls is that the gatherings were the expressions of the Hellenic pride of race. National solidarity, as we understand the term, was not possible to the ancient Greeks from the fact that the Hellenic peoples spread along the Mediterranean shores of three continents on hundreds of islands and in scores of settlements, all in a ferment of political combinations that was continually dissolving but withal there was an intense pride of race which every four years flowered on the plains of Olympia. One of the conditions of the contests then was that every competitor should be of pure Hellenic blood. Competitors, moreover, were required to be of good repute and unless they could prove that they had never been guilty of any disgraceful act they were forbidden to compete. Thus the sacred traditions of the sport were maintained.

Competitors were obliged to be not only Greeks, and more or less devout Greeks, but patriotic Greeks as well. Boeotians might war with Spartans and think none the worse of each other when they met at Olympia, but when Hieron of Syracuse, failed to take part with his countrymen in repulsing the Persian danger, the entry of his horses at the games was refused at the instance of Themistocles. As all readers of history know the Hellenes were often at war with each other, but no war was considered so important as the Olympic festival and every fourth year, some weeks before the opening day, heralds would go forth, first through Elis and afterwards through Greece, to proclaim a truce. For one month thereafter, all fighting between city and city and between state and state would cease and from the farthest Hellenic settlements, from Marseilles or the Crimea, the Hellenic youth could travel unhindered to participate in the games and ceremonies.

The plain of Olympia was hallowed ground, and although the original religious character of the meetings became overshadowed by the athletic contests, some of the old forms were preserved and to the last the greatest prize a successful athlete could gain was a garland of wild olive cut by a boy with a golden sickle from the sacred grove near the altar of Aphrodite. Always at the conclusion of the sports there was a religious service in which sacrifices to Zeus were made. One peculiarity of the festival was its dedication to the manhood of the race. No woman might cross the river Alpheus, which bounded the plain on the south, under penalty of being thrown from the Typaean rock, the exception to the rule being the priestess of Demeter, who sat at a marble altar all through the festival. Tradition tells of one woman who braved the penalties of detection and in disguise attended the games. She was discovered, but was pardoned on the ground that her father, her brothers and her son had all been victors at the games.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

The Arcade threatre continues to draw good houses, both at its matinee and evening performances.

The temperature yesterday varied between 89 and 53 degrees, the highest as yet recorded this summer.

According to Astley's water gauge the water in the lake now registers 12 feet 4 inches above low water level.

Good progress is being made with the building of the new brick store for Fleming & Son, the Fairview grocers.

When completed the alterations that are being made at the corner of Front and Hall streets will make a decided improvement.

Thistles are becoming very numerous on the outskirts of the city and something should be done in the way of destroying them.

The contract for the addition to the Hume school has not been let as yet, but the trustees expect to award the same in the course of a few days.

It is expected that the barge which the C. P. R. has under construction at Rosebery for service on Slocan lake will be in commission in about a month's time.

A male quartette has been arranged for at the garden party given by the Altar Guild of the Anglican church at the home of Mrs. F. Fletcher of Stanley street next week.

Owing to political business the meeting of the hotel proprietors with regard to making the necessary arrangements because of the recent change of time was not held. F. Starkey is giving the matter his attention today.

The cricket meeting which was to have been held this evening at the publicity bureau at 8 o'clock has been postponed until tomorrow evening at the same hour and place in order not to interfere with the reception at the boat club.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will meet in their lodge room tonight at 8 o'clock sharp, C. P. R. time. There will be a large class of candidates for initiation, there being at least 50 applications now in the hands of the president.

A great deal of interest is being manifested throughout the Kootenay in regard to the fruit fair this year. Enquiries from prospective exhibitors are being received every day and yesterday an enquiry come in from Anaconda, B. C., relative to space for a mineral exhibit for that camp.

There should be a large turn out to the reception given tonight at the boat club to the local winners at the late N. P. A. A. O. regatta at Seattle. There can be no better advertisement of this city than its lake and the Nelson oarsmen who carried the green and white to victory upon the coast and so brought Nelson into prominence when competing with the largest cities on the coast are deserving of the thanks and the warm support of their fellow citizens. The chair will be taken at 8:30 by F. Starkey and a program is being arranged by the boat club committee for the entertainment of the visitors. The city band will be in attendance and the club will be illuminated.

The annual picnic of St. Saviour's Sunday school takes place to Procter today. The steamer "Moyie" has been chartered for the occasion and will leave the city wharf at 9 a. m. and again at 2 p. m., city time. The scholars will meet in the parish hall at 8:15 a. m., city time, whence, after receiving their tickets, they will march in procession to the steamer. It is expected that a good number of adults will go up on the afternoon boat. On the return journey the Moyie will leave Procter at 7:30 p. m.

Strange bellowings were heard, according to a rancher settled near Groham creek, yesterday morning from Kootenay river. There was a rush to the river side and an unknown fisherman was seen descending the stream drifting into the rapids and yelling for help. Luckily for him before the broken water was reached the boat caught an eddy which turned the bow around and brought the unlucky angler into the backwater just above the creek, and he got ashore with no worse mishap than a severe fright.

Dow's Ale has a continental reputation and the Hotel Hume are the exclusive agents in Nelson. 30-tf

Uneeda picnic. Come with the Baptist Sunday school to Procter, Wednesday, July 29. Fare for round trip and a solid day's fun. Adults, $1; children, 50 cents.

Boy's Life Saved

My little boy, four years old had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy which cured him and believe saved his life.—Willing H. Strolling, Carbon, Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

A very handsome series of local view post cards have just been issued by W. G. Thomson, the Baker street stationer and bookseller. They are in what is known as glace finish and are distinctly different from anything that has hitherto been shown in local view cards. Although a much more handsome and expensive card than any previously shown by this firm they are being sold at the same price, viz., 3 for 10 cents. 76-2t

Over Thirty-Five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, disentery and cholery infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Chlorea and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

LIBERALS IN THE WEST

ARE UNFRIENDLY CRITICS OF LAURIER GOVERNMENT

THE GRITS MUST NOW FIGHT A DEFENSIVE BATTLE

A correspondent of the Winnipeg Free Press, writing from Saskatoon, says: "The political sentiment out through the new districts is decidedly liberal, but not always favorable to the government. Many of the people are not too well informed as to the wide difference between the policies of the two parties. The true conservative leaven in the country works insidiously to convey the impression that there is no difference between the objectives of the two political forces. The fact that most of the grievances which press heaviest are of a nature that conservatism would intensify rather than remove is not made clear to the elector. It seems that an active campaign is necessary through the new provinces to awaken the people to a knowledge of the truth as to the aims of the two great parties in the country. When a general election comes on, it will be fought out here among an almost totally new electorate and it will be well to make sure that no strength is lost through misconceptions.

Surely it is not surprising that men who are liberal in sentiment should be critical of the Ottawa government. In many respects it is illiberal and reactionary. It has tramped on many of the best traditions of liberalism. It has been false to many of the high professions by which it gained the confidence of the country. The federal principle is the bedrock of liberalism in Canada. It is the principle for which Brown and Dorion contended at Confederation. It was the chief article of faith of the old Rogue party. It was the principle for which Blake and Laurier fought at Ottawa, and by which Mowat triumphed in Ontario. It is to be expected that liberals with whom office holding is not the chief concern, can have any genuine enthusiasm for a government which so ruthlessly violates the basic principle of the party in settling the constitutions of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

There are thousands of American settlers in the western provinces. Generally they are keen politicians and no doubt in many cases sympathetic towards the radicalism of Roosevelt. They will know that he has been eager and resolute to convict and punish dishonest speculators in western lands and timber, that he has exerted his whole influence to conserve and protect the public domain and that he has been merciless in dealing with official malfeasance in the departments at Washington, and with all forms of irregularity in the outside service. With this they will contrast the reckless dealing of the Ottawa politicians with the timber lands of the Canadian west and will give an attentive ear to the arraignment of the ministers who have permitted this improvident handling of the public heritage. They may or may not believe that there was dis*honest dealing with western timber* as charged by the conservative press and politicians. They are bound to believe that there was want of foresight and grave neglect of the public interest. They cannot fail to perceive that the timber which is of such enormous value to a prairie country, has been passed over into private hands, and that a league of timber barons, *created by the unfortu*nate policy of the liberal ministers, will have vast power to tax this and future generations for one of the very necessities of existence.

If these new western settlers should read of the liberal platform of 1893, adopted at a great national convention of the party and should contrast its promises with the actual results they would find it easy to determine whether the document was designed to be tragedy or comedy. It may be that some enterprising conservative politician will think it worth while to have the famous document reprinted and circulated for the edification of the new generation of electors. The danger is, however, that such of these western settlers as are inclined to support the government would distrust its genuineness, treat it as the product of a disordered conservative imagination and resent the suspected attempt to trifle with their intelligence. If they should read the history of the Manitoba school controversy and examine all the charges by which conservative politicians were condemned and driven from office and turn to the legislation creating the new western provinces, and examine into the methods of administration which now prevail at Ottawa, the character and the *vast sum of the expenditures, the rela*tions between the spending departments and the government's partizans in the constituencies, they would probably feel that a huge imposition had been practised upon the country or that some grievous epidemic had swept away the reforming politicians of that time and brought their work to confusion and destruction.

It can well be believed that the "fact that most of the grievances which press heaviest are of a nature that conservatives would intensify rather than remove is not made clear to the average elector." It is doubtful if the fact can be established by any amount of discussion. The danger is that discussion will lead the western people to a very different conclusion and that nothing would prove of less service to the government. The liberal politicians for the first time since 1896 must fight a defensive battle, with many departmental scandals on their heads, with the country committed to enormous expenditures, with only one or two ministers who have exceptional strength in their own provinces, with the skill and distinction of the prime minister as their chief asset, and against an opposition which, during the session at least, has more than matched the government in parliamentary strategy, and whose leader's devotion to public duty and solidity of character are steadily winning the good will and confidence of the people.

ENGLISH NOTES

Oil Tar as a Dust Layer—Future of Victoria League

LONDON, July 21.—The West Ham Guardians have agreed to pay their late clerk, Dr. F. E. Hilleary, who held many local offices, a pension of £1164 6s. 9d. per annum.

The general council of the Victoria league has decided to amalgamate with the league of the empire. Lady Jersey said there was a general feeling in favo of amalgamation as being in the public interest.

John Dunville, in the balloon Mascot, has been declared the winner of the hare and hounds' ballon race which started from Hurlingham Grounds. Mr. Dunville landed at Fittleworth, only three and a half miles from the spot at Amberley where Mr. Rolls' balloon Imp, which acted as the hare, came down. None of the other competitors are officially placed.

The borough surveyor of Fulham, Mr. Francis Wood, has recently been treating several macadam roads in the borough with oil tar, with the result that it has proved highly satisfactory in laying the dust. The cost to date has been £150 and if all the macadam roads in the borough were treated in this manner it is estimated the cost would be £400. The council will be recommended to authorize the expenditure of the balance in order that all the macadam roads may be treated with oil tar.

BEST LAND IN PROVINCE

CLAIM MADE FOR THE VALLEY OF KEREMEOS

ESTABLISHING BUSINESS RELATIONS WITH NELSON

D. F. Jelly, a rancher of Keremeos, was in the city yesterday on a brief visit relative to the disposal of the produce of his valley through the Kootenay Fruit Growers' Association. Mr. Jelly has new potatoes from 1½ to 2 cents a pound at Keremeos. He has tomatoes just ripening and also apples. The Keremeos has an earlier season than Kootenay and Mr. Jelly is doing his best to take advantage of the situation.

Speaking of the Keremeos Mr. Jelly was enthusiastic. He had only been there two years but was more than satisfied with the prospects of the country. The Keremeos valley was sage brush, about 20 miles long by an average width of a mile and a half. In other words there was available about 18,000 acres of land which, Mr. Jelly claimed, was the most easily cleared and the most highly productive of any in a highly fertile province.

The land could be cleared for $6 an acre and plowed for another $4. It had to be irrigated but the water supply was plentiful. Besides the Similkameen river running through the valley there were also the Keremeos and Ashnola creks.

The land would grow anything but was especially good for grapes and for peaches. There were growing the Black Hamburg and Tokay varieties, two of the best varieties known to grape growers.

There were several old ranchers in the valley one of them, Frank Richter, having been there for 45 years. He had, indeed, made his money in cattle but had grown an orchard which was highly productive. A few years ago W. H. Armstrong of Vancouver, acting with his brothers, located in Winnipeg had taken up 1,980 acres and putting water on the land had proceeded to subdivide it in 10 acre lots selling at $200 an acre. Nearly all this land had been sold and there were from forty to fifty families already settled. Now the valley is awaiting subdivision of other farms.

The only matter troubling the people of Keremeos was the building of the railway through to the coast. The line had been completed as far as Keremeos and trains had been running for the past year. The line had been graded 20 miles further, as far as Hedley. Before the Hope mountains were reached another 50 miles would have to be graded beyond Hedley.

But there was through connection with Nelson via Marcus, yet now was the time, maintained Mr. Jelly, to come into the valley. Land was far cheaper today than it would be at other times. The interests of the valley, its season being earlier than that of Nelson, were not inimical to this district. On the contrary the one country was complemental to the other and that was the reason why he was trying to establish business relations which would be of mutual benefit to both places.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00

"In 1903 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March, 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1903 I believe it would have me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by all druggists and dealers.

THE LUSITANIA

Breaks Her Own Record But Is Behind Her Sister Ship

LIVERPOOL, July 21.—The Cunard line steamer Lusitania, which arrived here today, has broken her eastern record to Queenstown over the long distance course. She left Sandy Hook lightship July 15, at 5:56 p.m., and arrived off Daunt's Rock July 20 at 11:33 p.m., her time in transit being 5 days and 23 minutes, and her average speed for the entire distance 24.32 knots an hour.

Her best previous run, 5 days 3 hours and 21 minutes, was made at an average of 23.77. The Lusitania is still 32 minutes behind the record made by the Mauretania on this course, namely, 5 day and 5 minutes, at an average speed of 24.42.

HE MAKES AN ESTIMATE

OGILVIE MANAGER PUTS CROP AT 120,000,000 BUSHELS

ESTIMATE IS FOR WHEAT AND NO OTHER PRODUCT

WINNIPEG, July 21.—In an interview this morning W. A. Black, manager of the Ogilvie Milling Co., said: "Reports received in respect to the crops from our buyers and inspectors throughout Manitoba and the northwest territories fully confirm the opinion I formed during my trip which extended over 1,700 miles through Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

"My estimate is," Mr. Black continued, "that we shall have a crop of wheat this year aggregating 120,000,000 bushels, providing the conditions continue favorable. This, as I said, is of wheat and does not include barley, oats, flax or any other agricultural products, which I believe will show results quite as good compared with the acreage under crop.

"The cattle and other animals on the farm everywhere, too, were thriving and this promises to be one of the most successful years in the history of the Canadian west, and should have a marked effect on the country's prosperity."

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

There was a well attended meeting of the Knights of Pythias last evening.

The First Thought mine is now sending nearly the whole of its output to the Trail smelter.

A letter was received in Nelson last night from a brother of the late James L. Meighan.

The Queen mine is now shipping about 150 tons of concentrates monthly to the smelter at Northport.

Hon. R. F. Green, left on the morning boat for Kaslo, and will pass through Nelson Friday on his way to Victoria.

Prof. T. L. Walker leaves for Ymir this morning to spend some time in the mining fields there and round Salmo.

Thomas Taylor, M. L. A., Revelstoke, a delegate to the nominating convention, is spending today in the city, leaving for home tonight.

Frank Teetzel left this morning on the Crow boat for Creston on business connected with the sale of government land to take place there shortly.

There was an informal meeting yesterday of the Kootenay Fruit Growers Association at which some matters of business were discussed.

It is understood that the well known vocalist "We're here because—" was a bad voice yesterday but hopes to to be in trim for the boat club reception of tonight.

Yesterday the steamer Kaslo brought down the first load of zinc ore for the Canada Zinc company's new plant, some 40 tons being unloaded from the Lucky Jim mine.

The regular review of Aberdeen Hive No. 6, L. O. T. M. will be held this evening in the K. P. hall at 9 o'clock. City time. Refreshments will be served and a full attendance is requested.

A benefit ball will be given Tuesday evening, July 28, in the Queen's hotel, to raise a sum of money for the purpose of helping a deserving widow, the mother of six children, who has suffered from ill health for several months. It is a most deserving cause and should be generously supported.

The southbound Spokane train was delayed a few hours at Salmo yesterday morning, owing to a refrigerator car of a freight train having left the track, just before the arrival of the passenger. It was necessary that a wrecking crew be brought from Erie, hence the lengthy delay.

Sam J. Gorman, senior partner of the firm of Gorman, Clancy & Grindley, agents for electrical machinery, arrived from Calgary last night and is at the Hume hotel. Mr. Gorman proposes to remain in Nelson and make the local branch one of the most important of the firm's enterprises. The staff of the local office includes Roy A. Cook, travelling representative, and George Fisher, office manager, both of whom were formerly connected with the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock company.

H. G. Parsons, of Golden, member of the provincial legislature for Columbia riding, said last night: "I want to congratulate the people of Nelson on their courage and enterprise in putting their time forward by an hour. We at Golden, took that step some time ago and have found no cause for regret. The people of Revelstoke have been talking of it for some time but so far have done nothing. What is required to make it really successful is that the C. P. R. should move its division line to a parallel west of Nelson and Revelstoke."

This afternoon launch races promise to be better, in point of the numbers competing and in attendance than either of the preceding half holiday contests. There will be prizes as usual. The method of awarding points in the grand aggregate announced last week will be adhered to, that is, 5 for first, 4 for second, 3 for third, and one for each starter. The standing at present is: Rutherford, 68 points; Gilker and Travis, 4 each; Brown, Traves and Elford, 2 each; Wolverton, Sr., Wolverton, Jr., Clayton, Roberts, Dangerfield Hunter, Seatle, Christie, DeVeber, Buchan, Kelly, Astley, Herb, Anderson and Patrick one each.

Provincial constable J. T. Black came down from New Denver yesterday with Fred Fern alias Harry Tracy, who has been committed for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction. The preliminary hearing took place on Monday before J. B. Smith and Angus McInnes, justices of the peace. All that is known of Fern is that he worked for a while in the Sunset mine, that he obtained clothing and other things by promises which are alleged to amount to false pretences, and left the town. As the result of communications among the provincial police he was located at Ymir under the name of Harry Tracy and taken back to New Denver. He is now in the local provincial gaol where he will remain until he elects for trial.

TOOK OVER THE PLANT

CITY NOW OWNS AND OPERATES POWER PLANT

TRANSFER WAS MADE AT NOON YESTERDAY

Very quietly and without any fuss or feathers, the city authorities took over the civic power plant at Bonnington yesterday, and from this time on Nelson will own and fully operate its own power and light plant, that has taken some three years or better to construct.

At noon yesterday, R. A. Brown, the city's general electrical power and light superintendent, under instructions from the mayor and city council, accompanied by Mr. Runchey and Wm. Stewart, drove down to the power plant at Bonnington, where the party was met by Mr. Read, representing the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock company, the machinery contractors.

With Mr. Read, Supt. Brown and Runchey went over the entire plant and carefully examined all the apparatus, and this resulting satisfactorily, Mr. Brown, on behalf of the city, took over the plant and placed Mr. Runchey in charge as superintendent of the plant and Mr. Stewart as operator.

Upon his return to the city last evening, Mr. Brown, who had stayed at the plant for some time after formally taking it over, expressed himself as very well satisfied with the way in which Mr. Runchey had taken hold, adding that he believed Mr. Runchey would be found to be a first class superintendent in every respect. Mr. Brown added that he had instructed Mr. Runchey to keep on using the governor but to use the auxiliary cylinder in connection with it so as to prevent the governor from sticking, in case of short circuits or any other trouble.

As has already been announced, the city has deducted the sum of $3000 from the contract price for a new governor through engineer Cecil B. Smith and and another governor will be purchased placed in the plant; otherwise the plant is now complete.
