ROOSEVELT AND PARKER

Presidential Campaign is Closed--Now Electors Have Their Say

Managers of Both Parties Claim to Have Victory in Sight--Roosevelt's Return Practically Foregone Conclusion

New York, Nov. 5.—With a general personal and dramatic exchange of charges and replies between the candidates one of the most remarkable presidential campaigns of recent times was practically brought to a close tonight. The whirlwind finish predicted two months ago has been realized. The unusual features of a candidate attacking his opponent in office and forcing him into making a direct reply, followed by a rejoinder from the candidate, is a novel and a general topic of conversation where politics are discussed today.

The appearance of judge Parker on the public platform marked an epoch in the political campaign of 1904, for up to that time it had been apathetic and uninteresting. From his first speech to the last he has been growing more and more vigorous and more direct in his assertions to the elation of the democrats who have clamored for more life and "ginger" in the canvass.

The republican canvass lacked interest until cabinet officers, senators and friends of the president, began making replies to judge Parker's attacks, but their part was nothing compared to the bomb exploded by Mr. Roosevelt in his statement, printed today, in which he asserts that the changes made by Mr. Parker are "unqualifiedly and atrociously false."

Mr. Parker's charges are in effect that the president of the United States and Mr. Cortelyou, formerly Mr. Cleveland's executive clerk, then Mr. McKinley's and Mr. Roosevelt's secretary, then secretary of commerce and labor, and now chairman of the Republican national committee, have been in a conspiracy to blackmail corporations, Mr. Cortelyou using his knowledge, gained while he was secretary of the department of commerce and labor, to extort money from the corporations and president Roosevelt, having appointed him for this especial purpose.

Silence has marked the management of the republican campaign. But one pronouncement or claim has been made by any official of the republican national committee, and in that nearly every debatable state was placed in the republican column. This was promptly answered by the democratic managers with a claim of the same debatable states and a fair majority in the electoral college. There is the promise of a summing up by the two committees and a final estimate as to the result.

Up to within three weeks of the election, the campaign was remarkable for its apathy and the seeming lack of interest which the voters were taking in the canvass. There were many meetings but as a rule they were not largely attended nor did the people show the intense interest that has marked other campaigns. There has been also an absence of monster meetings, the display, noise and red fire that have characterized the closing days of former campaigns. The campaign started late. It was weeks after the national conventions had made their choice of candidates before the committees charged with the conduct of the political campaign began active work. More than this, the early work of the committees consisted largely in distributing literature and efforts to ascertain the drift of public sentiment. The fact that neither candidate, one because he was president, and the other because his judicial temperament was antagonistic, made a great speech making tour of the country, is accountable to some extent for the apathy which was apparent in the earlier stages of the campaign.

Interwoven closely with the presidential campaign has been the campaign in New York state. For many years the total state, the arbitrator of presidential elections, the empire state, this year has been regarded as absolutely essential to the successful party and has been believed to be necessary to the success of either party because of the impression that a public sentiment that will carry New York state will carry the entire country. On this account the eyes of the country have been turned towards New York.

The issues upon which the campaign has been fought have changed. The personality of the president, and his public acts, the policy of the republican party on the several questions before the people, formed the basis of the democratic attack and republican defence. The money issue of 1896 and 1900 did not appear, the tariff has figured to some extent, but the all-absorbing question, and the one which made a whirlwind finish possible, was the attitude of the democratic candidate regarding the trusts and corporations, and his continued assaults upon the chairman of the national republican committee.

Judge Parker made his issue the issue of this party and forced the letter of defence from his opponent. Issues raised in platforms, in speeches of notification and replies, in letters of acceptance and in literature of the national committees were swept away in a day and upon the brink of the election, the parties confront each other with the assertion and the denial of the two candidates the leading features.

What others have said or may say and what managers may claim or deny, all goes for nothing in the face of the remarkable spectacle of the two presidential candidates closing a contest with public utterances of such vigor and directness that no one can mistake their meaning.

Ending in excitement and feverish interest, in violent contrast to the tameness of its earlier stages, the campaign in New York state for presidential electors and state officers closed tonight with speeches for the democracy by Alton B. Parker, in Brooklyn; by W. Bourke Cochran and mayor George B. McClellan in New York, by D. Cady Herrick, nominee for governor in Schenectady; and by David B. Hill, in Elmira, and for the republicans by governor Odell in Brooklyn and Frank W. Higgins, nominee for governor in Middletown and Port Jervis.

The last two days of the contest have been marked by intense public interest owing to the personal nature of the speeches made.

Not since the election of Grover Cleveland in 1892 has the New York democracy made such an elaborate organization throughout the state with a view to getting out the vote as it did this year.

The party machinery, which during the Bryan campaigns was in the hands of the Nebraskan's friends, was once more under the control of the old time leaders and David B. Hill, former governor and senator, and Wm. F. Sheehan, former lieutenant-governor, were most prominent in the party council. Speeches were made by Mr. Hill, Richard Olney, Mr. Cochran and others and as a climax, Mr. Cleveland spoke at a notable meeting at Carnegie hall in this city.

Tonight when the last word had been said and all the work done, both sides claimed the state for both the national and state tickets.

The republicans, while admitting that Higgins' vote might be lower than Roosevelt's, declared that their gubernatorial candidate surely would be elected. In reply the democrats say they not only would elect Herrick, but will carry the state for Parker.

Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, said today that the majorities for both state and national tickets in Greater New York would be unprecedentedly large.

Governor Odell, who also is chairman of the state republican committee, expressed complete confidence that Roosevelt's majority in the state would be large and that Higgins would win by a large vote.

New York, Nov. 5.—Chairman Cortelyou of the republican national committee, tonight issued the following statement:

"The presidential campaign has reached its final stage, and the reports to the republican national committee from all parts of the country seem to be as complete as it is possible for ante-election reports to be. Upon these and upon all information which the committee has been able to obtain, I am satisfied that the republican candidates for president and vice-president will carry every northern state with the possible exception of Maryland and Nevada, and will have not less than 314 out of the 476 votes in the electoral college."

Chicago, Ills., Nov. 5.—The campaign closed tonight with innumerable meetings all over the state of Illinois. In Chicago there was a political meeting in every ward and in a large number of the voting precincts. The democrats ended their campaign with an overflow gathering at the Coliseum, and the distribution of ham sandwiches to all who got near the tables. The attendance equalled the harvest home festival held in the same place a week or so ago. The work of both parties was confined entirely to speech making. According to the republicans the electoral vote of the state will be cast for Roosevelt.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 5.—That the Roosevelt and Fairbanks electors will carry Wisconsin on Tuesday next, there seems no question. The main struggle is over the gubernatorial and congressional tickets. There are six state tickets in the field, but only two, the republican ticket, headed by governor Robert La Follette, and the democratic, headed by George W. Peck, are expected to furnish a contest. La Follette officials claim a plurality of from 50,000 to 75,000 for their candidate. The democrats figure that Peck will carry the state by from 25,000 to 40,000. They figure that the dissension in republican ranks will cost La Follette 50,000 votes and they add to this about 15,000 votes which they claim were formerly for La Follette but will now be cast for the social-democratic ticket. The democrats will also lose heavily by the social-democratic vote. In the congressional fight the republicans are practically sure of carrying six of the eleven districts and the democrats one.

Washington, Nov. 5—Nearly all the prominent officials of the executive department are absent from Washington. Tonight only two members of the cabinet are in the city and both of them will be at their homes on election day to cast their votes. The exodus from the departments has been large. President Roosevelt will leave here Monday night for Oyster Bay. He will be accompanied by secretary Loeb and several White House attaches who, with the president will vote at Oyster Bay. The presidential party will arrive there at 10:15 a.m., and is scheduled to leave for Washington again at 11 o'clock, being due to arrive here about 6:30 Tuesday evening. The president will receive returns of the election at the executive offices Tuesday night.

Today the democratic congressional committee headquarters was practically closed, the work of the committee having been completed. Chairman Howard has gone to his Kansas City home. Tonight secretary Edwards expressed confidence as to the result, not only of the national campaign, but of the congressional contest. He said he was certain of judge Parker's election and added: "It is possible, but not probable that we shall carry the house. We are against a hard formation, but we shall make substantial gains without a doubt."

The state central committee, as a body, has given out no figures but individual members claim a plurality of 100,000. The democrats make no estimate, but say the republican plurality of 1900 will be reduced. As in Chicago, however, the democrats seem confident that they will carry the city and county by at least 25,000. The republicans, on the other hand, look for a plurality of from 25,000 to 40,000. The republican candidate for governor, Charles S. Deneen, has made speeches in every county in the state and his campaign managers believe he will run ahead of the national ticket. A state legislature is to be elected Tuesday, but it will not vote for a United States senator. The presidential political division of the congressional delegation, seventeen republicans and eight democrats, will perhaps not be changed.

Denver, Nov. 5—Interest in the election of governor is more intense than in the presidential election. Governor Peabody in his speeches has defended his course in expelling the members of the Western Federation of Miners from Cripple Creek and Telluride by military force, and has pledged himself to the same line of action in the future if re-elected.

Alta Adams, the democratic candidate, has promised not to take sides in labor disputes and to hold the troops subordinate to the civil authorities. Both the republican and democrat managers profess to expect large pluralities for all their candidates, but impartial observers regard the result to be in doubt as to state officers and congressmen, with a probability that Roosevelt will carry Colorado.

St. Louis, Nov. 5—The campaign in Missouri has been attended by extraordinary interest because of the bribery crusade. Republicans declare they will be victorious in both state and national tickets. Chairman Niedringhaus says his campaign is based on the belief that the democrats will not poll their full strength owing to the disaffection over state issues. The democratic committee asserts that reports from the state indicate that their state and national tickets will be elected by from 50,000 to 75,000 plurality.

LAURIER'S THANKS

Warmly Appreciates Work of B. C. Liberals.

"British Columbia has already done nobly, even if she were not in a position to do as well as Nova Scotia did, but I highly appreciately any efforts to do as well."

The foregoing is sir Wilfrid Laurier's message to British Columbia liberals, telegraphed today from Montreal to senator Templeman at Victoria.

TERMS OF THE ENQUIRY

RUSSIA HAS AGREED TO PLANS PREPARED BY BRITAIN.

COURT TO PLACE RESPONSIBILITY FOR NORTH SEA INCIDENT.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 5.—Russia has accepted the telegraphic draft of the Anglo-Russian convention for the commission of inquiry into the North sea incident submitted to Russia Wednesday, and the final exchanges will be effected in London. The convention covers six articles. Broad outlines for the inquiry are laid down by the convention, but the commission will have wide latitude in determining all the relevent facts. Although the convention is agreed to, it is believed that some minor matters connected with the subject, the exact nature of which cannot be ascertained are still undecided.

The terms of the Anglo-Russian agreement on the constitution of the commission, as described by articles 9 to 14 of The Hague peace convention, to investigate the North sea incident are as follows:

First—The commission is to consist of five members, namely—officers of Great Britain, Russia, the United States and France, these to select a fifth, if they cannot agree upon a choice the selection is to be entrusted to the sovereign of some country to be chosen by Great Britain and Russia.

Second—The commission to report on all the circumstances relating to the disaster and to establish responsibility.

Third—The commission to have the power to settle all questions of procedure.

Fourth—The parties to bind themselves to supply the commission with all the necessary information, facilities, etc.

Fifth—The commission to meet in Paris as soon as possible after the signature.

Sixth—The report of the commission to be officially communicated to the respective governments.

Provisions are to be added regarding the assessor and agents' expense, decision to be reached by a majority, etc.

It is expected that the commission will assemble in about a fortnight.

Great satisfaction prevails at the foreign office at the complete agreement reached and a firm hope is expressed that the American admiral to be selected by the United States to sit on the commission will prove an impartial judge of the facts, as submitted.

London, Nov. 5.—The British foreign office has received through ambassador Hardinge, Russia's acceptance of the telegraph summary of the Anglo-Russian convention, but it states that as several details remain to be settled, it is not in a position to make any statement today.

SPEECH BY GOLDWIN SMITH

[Special to The Daily News]

Ottawa, Nov. 5—Goldwin Smith has consented to address the Canadian club in this city at its next meeting.

PRESS SEIGE VIGOROUSLY

Russian Defences of Port Arthur Being Steadily Battered Down

Harbor and Dockyard Bombarded and Gunboat Giliak Hit Several Times and Two Others Sunk

Tokio, Nov. 5.—There was published tonight a series of reports of the besieging forces at Port Arthur, covering the operations from October 30 to November 3, inclusive. These reports show that the Japanese continue to vigorously press the attack, and that they are using heavy artillery to batter down the Russian defences, following the artillery fire with valorous infantry rushes. The five days' fighting covered in the reports give the Japanese a number of distinct gains, materially shortening the defensive powers of the garrison. On October 30th, after a heavy bombardment, the Japanese advanced against Sungchow and Rihlung mountains and against the north fort of the east group on Keekwan mountain and by sundown took possession of their counter carps. The "P" fort also was taken after a hard fight, but was abandoned at 1.35 p.m., after repeated assaults by the Russians.

General Yohinche led an attack half an hour later and the position was retaken and another fort northwest of the east Keekwan mountain group also was taken.

On the following day another assault was made on the north fort of the eastern group on Keekwan mountain and the eastern counter carp was taken. The harbor and dockyard were bombarded on the same day. The Russian gunboat Giliak was hit several times and two others were sunk. Moreover the Japanese repulsed a determined Russian assault.

BLOCKING PORT ARTHUR.

Three Steamers Sunk by the Japanese in the West Harbor.

Tokio, Nov. 5.—Advices forwarded from Port Arthur between November 2 and 4, say that two steamers of about 3,500 tons each, anchored in the west harbor, were sunk by Japanese heavy guns on November 1st and the following day another steamer of 3,000 tons, was also sunk.

A Russian recently came in and surrendered at a place near Shuisun. Two great explosions were heard on the night of November 3rd. The Japanese have occupied a fort since, called Ichinobe, owing to the fact that it have been bravely captured by that general. Three field guns, two machine guns, three torpedoes, and many other trophies were captured. The Russians left 40 dead. A vigorous bombardment with naval guns was delivered at noon on November 3rd against the east harbor, dockyard and other points, as a result of which a fierce conflagration occurred in the east harbor. The fire raged from 12 to 4 o'clock. The same day the fire of large calibre guns was directed against "H" fort, at a height of 200 yards, and the northwest tower. Heavy damage was caused by the bombarment on both fort and tower. A Russian field gun placed at a point east of Keekwan mountain was struck by a Japanese shell and destroyed.

It is reported that the Japanese have occupied Wantai hill, sunk several transports and have set fire to a battleship at Port Arthur. There is no confirmation of the report. Wantai hill is one of the extensive semicircle of forts defending Port Arthur. It is situated in about the centre of the semicircle between the Antz mountain forts and Sung Chow fort, which is situated on an adjoining hill. The capture of Wantai hill it is pointed out in despatches from Port Arthur, means the dividing of the eastern fortified ridge.

CAN'T HOLD OUT MUCH LONGER

Rome, Nov. 5.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of Giornale di Roma, asserts that general Stoessel has wired the czar that he has made his last attempt to defend the forts to the northwest of Port Arthur and is now preparing to retire to Lima Tishan and Tiger's Tail with 10,000 soldiers and seamen. Even the Golden Hill fortress is to be abandoned. Of the warships only the Pobieda is afloat. The Sebastopol and Peresviet decks are only two feet above water, but the others have been sunk. The Retvizan was burned with several wounded who were aboard.

SNOW FALLING AT MUKDEN.

Armies Very Close Together But Nothing Doing of Importance.

Mukden, Nov. 5.—The Russian and Japanese armies are now so close together that manoeuvering is almost impossible. The Japanese are confining themselves to occasional night attacks and during these attacks they have wounded several Russian officers. In return parties of Russians have penetrated Japanese villages at night causing temporary panics. On one occasion the Russians succeeded in throwing two bombs into the Japanese officers' headquarters.

It had been reported here that the Japanese would attack Port Arthur on November 3rd, the Japanese emperor's birthday, and it is believed that field marshal Oyama is awaiting news of the result of the attack before advancing against Kouropatkin. The Japanese have already received large reinforcements.

After a week of spring-like weather, the thermometer fell 20 degrees last night and the first snow of the season is falling today.

RIDICULED BY HAYASHI.

Report That Japanese Minister Organized Attack on Russian Squadron

St. Petersburg, Nov. 5.—A sensational report is current here, attributed to a high authority, that Russia will undertake before the international commission to prove the Japanese minister at The Hague actually organized an attack on the Russian squadron, and will produce a message sent by the minister, containing complete evidence that such was the case.

London, Nov. 5.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to Great Britain, asked by a representative of the Associated Press for a statement regarding reports current at St. Petersburg that the Japanese minister at The Hague had organized an attack on the Russian squadron, emphatically denied that any action had been taken at The Hague. He said: "In their different explanations the Russians alternately credit us with supernatural cleverness and foolishness. If people would only stop to think they would see that it would be almost suicidal for us to risk the friendship of any power by an attempt to destroy the Russian squadron from a neutral point, when it is to our utmost advantage that the squadron should arrive in our waters under its present admiral."

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—(1.10 a.m.)—The Associated Press has not obtained official confirmation of the sensational report that a despatch from the Japanese minister at The Hague would be produced in the court of inquiry into the recent North sea incident to prove the existence of a plot to destroy the Russian Baltic sea fleet. There is, however, said to be good ground for believing the report to be true. It develops that emperor Nicholas, during an audience with British ambassador Hardinge, last Sunday declared positively that there were Japanese torpedo boats in the North sea. Apparently Denmark was impressed by the same belief.

BY ACCLAMATION

Three Seats to Swell Laurier's Majority.

Victoria, Nov. 5.—Walter Sloan's election by acclamation for Comox-Atlin has been officially announced, William Manson, the tory candidate, withdrawing.

Winnipeg, Nov. 5—Glen Campbell, the conservative candidate, has withdrawn, electing J. A. Burrows, liberal, for Dauphin, by default.

Montreal, Nov. 5.—Beaudry, conservative candidate in Gaspe county, has withdrawn, and solicitor general Lemieux has been declared elected by acclamation. Lemieux now represents Gaspe and Nicolet.

PUTTING OUT MORE ORE

MARKED INCREASE MADE BY BOUNDARY MINES.

SHIPMENTS FOR PAST WEEK EXCEED 17,000 TONS.

[Special to The Daily News]

Phoenix, Nov. 5.—This week's ore shipments from the Boundary mines have taken a distinctive leap forward, the total for seven days being almost 2000 tons more than for last week, nearly all the properties on the shipping list increasing their output somewhat.

With ten furnaces in operation in Boundary's three smelters, by December 1st, the output is expected to reach near 20,000 tons weekly by that time.

The eight low grade shippers sent out the following amounts of ore this week.

Granby mines to Granby smelter.	9,600
Brooklyn-Stemwinder to Boundary Falls smelter	1,173
Mother Lode to Greenwood	4,032
Emma to Boundary Falls and Greenwood smelters	1,122
Mountain Rose to Boundary Falls and Greenwood smelters	132
Athelstan-Jackpot to Boundary Falls smelter	210
Oro Denoro to Granby smelter....	66
Senator to Granby smelter	240
Total output for week 17,112

Granby smelter this week treated 10,800 tons, or 494,281 tons this year.

Boundary Falls smelter treated 2,160 tons, or 12,290 tons since starting.

AUSTRIA'S COMING RULER.

Vienna, Nov. 5.—The most talked of person throughout the dual empire at the present time is archduke Francis Ferdinand, nephew of emperor Francis Joseph and heir presumptive to the throne. Attempts are no longer made to conceal the fact that the venerable emperor is fast sinking, and that it is only a question of months and perhaps weeks before the archduke will be called upon to ascend the throne of the Hapsburgs and take up the difficult task of maintaining order in the conglomerate empire and preventing it from falling it asunder.

The archduke, though still far from being popular, has succeeded in rising in the public regard, especially since his morganatic marriage four years ago to the countess Chotek. From a rather wild and profligate bachelor he has been transformed into a model husband. The only fear expressed as to his prospective accession to the throne is that he will be a reactionary ruler. He lacks individuality and is known to be under the clerical influence of his wife. He is especially unpopular with the Hungarians and on more than one occasion he has shown great want of tact by wounding their national pride. He may be said to be popular only with the Bohemians, who look to gaining their autonomy under his rule, thanks to the autonomy under his rule, thanks to the Czech.

NATIONAL TRANSCONTINENTAL.

Surveys of G. T. P. Will Likely be Adopted for Eastern Section

Winnipeg, Nov. 7—Interviewed as to the route of the Transcontinental railway, commissioner chairman Wade said:

"It is about decided that the surveys made by the Grand Trunk Pacific will be taken over from Winnipeg east by the commission, in which case the location of surveys will be pushed ahead with all possible speed. Major Hodgins has been appointed district engineer for the district of Winnipeg, which will cover about 250 or 300 miles from the city. He is here and will secure offices and organize a staff at once. One of our chief objects in coming to Winnipeg is to look over the terminal facilities in order that we may be in a position to decide on the same.

"It is the determination of the commission to commence construction eastward from Winnipeg as soon as we can, and to press the construction with the utmost vigor in order to keep apace with the proposed work of the Grand Trunk Pacific company west, and also to meet their like branch. This work will also be rushed with a view to giving the earliest relief to the output of the west by way of the great lakes, pending the completion of the through line. At the same time as required by the statute, the work from Moncton west and from Quebec east and west will be prosecuted with equal vigor."

ROSSLAND ORE SHIPMENTS

Continued Scarcity of Water Delays Milling Operations

Rossland, Nov. 5—Steady progress may be reported in mining circles except for the continued shortage in the supply of water for milling at the Le Roi No. 2 and White Bear. From an industrial view point it is annoying to see this delay week after week, but it is of course impossible that the dry spell can be continued much longer. Once the rains come, which may happen any day, all will be well. It is gratifying in spite of all this delay, to see the output steadily maintained. For several weeks it has been considerably over the 500 ton mark, and may be expected to amount to 8,000 tons weekly before the close of the year. The tonnage of ore shipped and crushed at the Rossland mines for the week ending Nov. 5, is as follows:

Le Roi	2,700
Centre Star	780
Centre Star, milled	540
War Eagle	1,140
War Eagle, milled	210
Le Roi No. 2	150
Le Roi No. 2	540
Jumbo	60
White Bear, milled	20
Rossland View	20

Total for the week, 6180 tons; for the year, 290,855 tons.

REGULATING FREIGHT RATES

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The Railway Commission has given judgment in the complaint of the British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers' association against the C. P. R. company for discriminating in its freight rates on its line, a rate of 10 cents per hundred pounds having been imposed upon cedar lumber in excess of the rates charged upon the lumber, namely pine, fir, spruce and other kinds of lumber. The commission holds this to be an excessive charge upon cedar as compared with the rates upon other lumber, and therefore, issues an order that the company and all other companies desist from charging a higher rate upon cedar than is charged upon pine, fir, spruce and other lumber.

COLONIES NOT READY.

London, Nov. 5.—Lord Avebury, lecturing at the London institution on the fiscal policy, said that Canada, New Zealand, and South Africa, though giving Great Britain a preference by raising duties against foreigners, showed no disposition to place the Mother Country manufacturers on an equality with their own. Unless they were prepared to do sa he feared the conference would be useless, and even injurious.

CANNOT BE DEPORTED

New York, Nov. 5—A man born in an European country of a Chinese father and an English mother may not be deported from the United States under the Chinese Exclusion Act, according to an opinion handed down today by judge Holt in the United States district court. The case in which the decision was made was that of Sam Yuen, whom the federal authorities sought to deport. He is 40 years old and has been in this country 24 years.

NEXT WORLD'S FAIR.

Washington, Nov. 5.—San Francisco people are planning to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal upon the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific ocean by Vasco Nunez de Balboa on the 25th of September, 1512.

THEIR AIM WAS FAULTY

Reading, Mich., Nov. 5—The state bank of this place was entered by burglars early today who blew open the safe and secured $1000 in silver. Several citizens exchanged shots with the robbers but without effect on either side and the robbers escaped.

PARKER AND THE TRUSTS

Democratic Candidate Hits Out at Roosevelt and Cortelyou

Roosevelt Should Have Joined Him in Effort to protect Ballot of Honest Citizen From Being Overridden

New York, Nov. 5.—Judge Parker, in a speech made at a reception given to him by the King's county democratic club, in Brooklyn, tonight, asserted that the issue "whether the trust can purchase the election" has not been met by president Roosevelt in his reply to his (Parker's) speech made 12 days ago. After stating what his position had been in that speech, judge Parker said that he had made no criticism of the president, but that he had simply called attention to a "notorious and offensive situation."

The judge said further that the president, after his attention had been called to the relations which might exist between chairman Cortelyou, and the trusts, by reason of Mr. Cortelyou's former position as secretary of the department of commerce and labor, should have said:

"I will join Parker in an effort to protect the ballot of the honest citizen from being overridden by merchandise ballots."

The assertion was made by judge Parker that the contributions he charged chairman Cortelyou to have received from the trusts are not denied by the president's statement.

The democratic candidate followed this declaration with a statement, directed to the president personally to the effect that he (Parker) had issued a request that no money for campaign purposes should be received directly or indirectly from any trust, that he would rather be defeated in an effort to accomplish reforms that are sorely needed. He charged the president with refusal to co-operate in the checking of the "monstrous evil."

Judge Parker closed that part of his address directed to the president with this sentence:

"I regret to say to you that it then seems apparent to me, Mr. President, that you regard the election of more importance than the checking of this evil."

Judge Parker never had a more enthusiastic audience than that in Brooklyn tonight. He had not intended to make a speech tonight until the president issued his statement defending the administration from judge Parker's charges.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 5.—President Roosevelt tonight was shown a copy of judge Parker's reply to his statement published this morning. It was announced by secretary Loeb that the president had no statement to make.

PRESIDENTIAL BETTING

Five to One on Wall Street in Favor of Roosevelt

New York, Nov. 5—It is a trite saying that "things are never what they seem" on Wall street, and well posted men downtown men declare that this is just as applicable to the election betting in the financial district as it is to the manipulation of securities. Wall street makes the price of odds for wagers on presidential contests as it marks up and down the quotations for securities. There is a difference of opinion as to the effect on public sentiment of the betting on an election, but some of the party managers on both sides have an abiding faith in the influence that the proportionate of money wagered on a certain candidate is supposed to exert. When the odds favor one side, as they do the republican candidate at the close of the national campaign now, it is customary for the "outsider" in the betting to charge that the betting is being manipulated. Democratic bettors and partisans who do not bet, declare that the same methods have been used to force down the odds on Parker, or force them up on Roosevelt, which amounts to the same thing, as have been used to "wash" sales on the stock market. The brokers on Wall street have ever an eye on the main chance, and it was not long after the betting opened on the curb that they saw the possibilities. When the betting opened it was on the ratio of from 10 to 9 and 10 to 7 on Roosevelt. This was soon hammered down to 2 to 1, and the hammering process has continued until a 5 to 1 ratio has been established. A majority of the 5 to 1 bets being made, are being laid. It is said, by those who are hedging on the former bets made, and there is another class which by the same methods endeavo to force the odds back again, enabling them to hedge and make a book that cannot loose. Whether one side or the other wins the bookmaker, or in this case, the broker, has a good profit.

CHINA PREPARIN FOR WAR

London, Nov. 5—A Manchester man finding that he could not get some goods delivered the other day for home trade on account of the pressure of Chinese orders, took steps to discover the nature of this increase in far east activity. He had good reason to believe that no boom in general Chinese trade had set in, and his inquiries showed that the new orders were of a very special character indeed, including one placed by the Chinese government for half a million yards of cotton duck for tents. This is taken to mean that either China has made up her mind to take part in the struggle between Russia and Japan, or that it is supplying Japan with war material. Well informed Britons are inclined to accept the first theory.

LARGE OFFERING TO POPE.

Montreal, Nov. 5.—The largest offering every made by the diocese of Montreal to any pope will be carried to Rome by archbishop Bruchesi. It amounts to $10,000, made by special collections in every Canadian church.

UNITY OF EMPIRE.

Be the outcome of the Chamberlain fiscal campaign in Great Britain what it may, and whether a liberal or a conservative government be returned to office at the coming general elections in the United Kingdom, we may be sure of one thing, that the home government in co-operation with the colonial governments will take early steps to mould into some more definite shape the widespread sentiment throughout Greater Britain in favor of some form of imperial federation.

We referred yesterday to the proposal put forward by sir Frederick Pollock, professor of jurisprudence at Oxford, and favorably commented upon by the London Times. This proposal, whether it meets with general approval or not, serves to indicate the trend of thought among men who realize that the time is at hand when action of some kind will have to be taken to solidify imperial interests.

Great Britain's prime minister, Mr. A. J. Balfour, has already announced his intention, if opportunity permits, to call another colonial conference to discuss matters relating to the trade concerns of the empire.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Canada's prime minister, some few weeks ago, speaking in Montreal, signified his willingness to participate in such a conference. Upon that occasion sir Wilfrid laid down a principle which will have to prevail in any negotiations looking to the federation of the empire.

He said: If the British empire is to be maintained it can only be by the most absolute freedom, political and commercial. In building up this great empire to deviate from the principles of freedom would be by so much to weaken the ties, the bands, which now hold it together.

How closely in touch sir Wilfrid is with the best thought in Great Britain, is shown by reference to a recent speech on the same subject by premier Balfour at Edinburgh.

Mr. Balfour said:

"I do not believe that this question can be solved by anything but a high and disinterested patriotism. I think that we must look at the empire as a trust committed to us, not for ourselves only but for our children, not to be dealt with by double entry, not as a mere question of count, of profit and loss, to be stated in pounds, shillings and pence. The economic question, indeed, cannot be absent from our minds; but unless we regard it from the highest standpoint, unless we follow what I belive to be the example set us by our own colonies, of having regard for the whole and merging in that regard the separate interests of particulars—unless we do that, I do not think that the difficult problems which inevitably face this world-wide empire can be satisfactorily solved. Let no man come to this fiscal problem or to the problem of colonial union—let no man come to it with an eye on the Treasury ledger. Let us come to it as statesmen, and as patriots. There are, no doubt, national sacrifices which cannot be made, national breaches with traditions which it would be impossible to face. But do not let us come to it each thinking what we are to get out of it ourselves for our particular industry or for the particular section of the community to which we belong. There are interests—more permanent interests—greater interests are involved—and if such interchange of ideas between us and our great colonies, as I have endeavored to foreshadow, could indeed be carried into effect, I firmly believe that we might do much. How much I know not, but would that the result of their labors and their deliberations might be to make the scattered fragments of this vast imperial community more and more members of one family, more and more bound up in each other's interests, more and more cognizant of each other's wants, and that the sundering ocean which makes so difficult the personal interchange of ideas between us and those great communities which have issued from us might be bridged over, morally bridged over, and that we might find ourselves, as the years went on, not slowly developing into different communities with different interests, each looking forward to a moment when the final and inevitable separation must come, but rather on the other hand that we should look forward to a development which should bring us closer and closer together, each member of the great whole retaining its individuality, each retaining its liberty, and its self-government, but feeling in all the great matters which concern the empire, questions of commerce and questions of defence, we were more becoming one whole in truth as well as in name, one great and all-embracing empire."

The purport of Mr. Balfour's remarks is that the business of imperial federation cannot be approached in any huckstering spirit.

That this is the view held by sir Wilfrid Laurier we know well, both by his words and his acts, and now that he has renewed expression of public confidence in his policy of British preference, we may expect that he will follow up the excellent work already accomplished, and, continuing in the lead, materially assist by prompt action and sound counsel, the achievement of a working basis of imperial federation, in which those essential elements of political and commercial freedom will be carefully safeguarded.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier may well make this the crowning glory of a long, useful and honorable public career.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A prominent mining man assures the Fort Steele Prospector that within two years after the construction of the Kootenay Central railway there will be in southeast Kootenay more producing mines than in any other section of British Columbia. He bases his opinion upon present development now being carried on in both quartz and placer mines. Let us hope this prediction will prove correct. The more producing mines the merrier.

The existence of large quantities of native hematite and magnetic iron in the Nicola and Similkameen districts is well known but little appreciated, sorrowfully remarks the Similkameen Star. The necessity for handling iron ore on a large scale with cheap transportation has concentrated attention and effort on the more precious metals here. But the day is not far distant when crude iron ore will be manufactured on the spot into steel, for the coal is at hand and limestone in sufficient quantity for fluxing the ore is also at hand.

SUCCESS CLUB LECTURE.

Monday night at the Success club Rev. W. W. Baer will deliver the first lecture of the season. It has been arranged that one Monday of the month is to be given for the course of lectures under the auspices of the Women's Council, two Mondays will be taken for the sessions of the Mock parliament and the remaining one to lectures and debates, alternately.

Mr. Baer has chosen as his subject: "Municipalization of the Liquor Traffic." The second lecture will be given in either December or January by A. L. McKillop.

Before the lecture Monday evening there will be a meeting of the program committee at 7.45, in the committee room upstairs.

CASE AGAINST ATKINSON

YMIR DRUGGIST CHARGED WITH ARSON ON NIGHT NOV. 1

HEARING STILL IN PROGRESS AN LIKELY TO CONTINUE SOME TIME

[Special to The Daily News]

Ymir, Nov. 5—For the past two days the preliminary hearing, before magistrate E. A. Crease, into the charge of arson against T. H. Atkinson has been going on, the *evidence so far taken being that of pro*vincial constable Fraser and Harry Kearns. The prosecution is being conducted by W. A. Macdonald, who is assisted by R. W. Hannington. While S. S. *Taylor is car*ing for the defence.

Constable Fraser deposed that the first intimation of the fire was at 1:10 a.m. on *the morning of the 1st; that when he reach*ed the fire he found the back of Atkinson's drug store and the postoffice on fire, both these buildings being under one roof. The hose was connected to the hydrant but was useless owing to the nozzles being missing. He went on to state how he obtained a search warrant for T. H. Atkinson's house, issued by P. J. Gleazer, upon an information sworn out by S. H. Seaney and of his finding certain goods in the cellar of the accused, and of Atkinson's subsequent arrest. The goods found in the cellar consisted of drugs in bottles, herbs in packages, toilet articles, combs and brushes, purses, books, stationery, etc., some being exposed while others were hidden under refuse in places between the joists and sills of Mr. Atkinson's cellar. He also found a caribou head dressed, with the horns sawed off close to the head, a stuffed coyote and a barrel of goods buried some seven or eight inches under the ground, also watches, jeweler's outfit, lathe, and many other articles, including Atkinson's certificates qualifying him to practise as a druggist.

The list of articles found occupied 20 sheets of foolscap and were stored in Dr. Doherty's old residence and the jail. The stock found would fit out a good sized drug store.

The court at this point adjourned to the two above mentioned places so that the different articles could be identified. In all five caches were unearthed in the cellar of the accused.

Harry Kearns' evidence was to the effect that he slept over the drug store, in the attic, and of his awakening and finding a sheet of flame shooting up from the back of the building and of his narrow escape, of his running to the fire hall, which is within 150 feet of the back of the store and of his being unable to find the nozzles.

Following is the assurance on the property as admitted by counsel:

Union Company, on building, $350; on stock, $1650.

London Mutual, $1500 on stock.

Western, $1540 on stock, $460 on fixtures.

Canadian Fire Assurance company, on building, $400; stock, $1310; fixtures, $290.

Equity, on stock, $500; a total of $8000.

At the rate the hearing is proceeding it is expected the court will not get through till Monday or Tuesday, as there are still a number of witnesses to be examined.

Mr. Atkinson is out on bail, his sureties being Sidney Ross of Salmo, and George Harrison of Nelson.

YMIR NEWS NOTES

Ymir, Nov. 5—Messrs Lye and Johnson of Vancouver, have been adjusting the losses occasioned by the recent fire, and are leaving for the coast in the morning, having got through their labors.

J. D. McMahon and A. Skinner of Spokane, have taken a lease and bond on the Fern mine at Hall for $20,000 and have a crew of men at work developing the propertp.

Work *is still going ahead on the Fog*horn. The ore that is being taken out is very fine, and it is believed by manager Wolfe that he has really struck the big chute of ore that he has been expecting for a long time.

To The Electors of Yale-Cariboo:

As the Liberal candidate in this electoral district, I respectfully solicit your votes and influence.

No attempt will be made to discuss the general issues of the campaign in this address. Since receiving the liberal nomination in January last, I have visited many parts of the riding, and made myself thoroughly acquainted with its requirements. This work will be continued until election day but owing to the large extent of territory to be covered it is a physical impossibility to visit all sections or personally interview all the electors. I therefore avail myself of this opportunity to ask for your suffrage.

Permit me to direct your attention to some matters of local importance. Yale-Cariboo fully warrants the expenditure of public money in its development. The government has already done much in this direction. It has granted aid to several lines of railroad; government owned telegraph and telephone lines have been constructed; the necessary money has been voted to secure telephonic communication through the rich Nicola and Similkameen districts, and telegraphic communication between Vernon and Kelowna. In order that the practically inexhaustible mineral, timber and agricultural resources of this district may be fully developed, this policy of government aid must be continued. It is important that Yale-Cariboo shall return as its member one who can direct the attention of the government to matters of vital importance to the district and who will support the government in its progressive policy of development. It is particularly important that the electors of this riding should show their appreciation of the government's broad, statesmanlike plan of constructing another transcontinental railway which will be the chief factor in opening up the northern portion of the riding. Branch lines to connect with the southern transcontinental lines will surely follow and the whole interior of the province will be opened up.

Briefly, my policy, so far as Yale-Cariboo is concerned, is a policy of development of all its important sections. With a people of this country irrespective of party affiliations; supporting a government whose record fills with pride all the people of this country irrespective of party affiliations; supporting a government who eight years of wise, progressive administration has placed Canada in a proud position among the other nations of the world, and at the same time has more closely connected the ties that bind us to the mother country, and fully endorsing a policy which means so much to the western portion of the Dominion, and more particularly to the district of Yale-Cariboo I await with confidence your verdict.

Yours very sincerely,

DUNCAN ROSS

LY GIBSON RESUMES

IS ONCE MORE STARTED ER LONG CLOSE DOWN

NTRATOR TO BE INSTALLED IN THE SPRING.

e close down of nearly two e Molly Gibson mine is once ng worked, and although only atively small force is now en- mining, as quickly as the workings are extended and arrangements perfected the staff will be extended until between 60 and 70 men are engaged. The resumption of work on the Molly Gibson is of particular importance locally as the mine is practically a Nelson one, the supplies of all kinds coming from this city and the employees being almost residents of the city, so frequently are they in here from time to time.

The fatal snowslide which swept down the mountain on Christmas night, 1902, carrying everything before it and wiping out the bunkhouses and all the mine buildings, and blocking up the entrances to the mine will be readily recalled, as will be the reorganization of the company owning the property.

Bruce White, who is in charge of the company's affairs here returned to the city yesterday after seeing work once more resumed, the day before, for the first time after the long closedown.

"The bunk and boarding houses have been completed," said Mr. White last evening, "and so have the blacksmith shop, and other mining buildings and everything has been made snug for the winter. The lower terminal of the 7000 foot tram, is also completed, and the mine road is now in good shape. We have started to mine once more for the first time since the snowslide disaster on Christmas 1902. Captain Tretheway, the mine superintendent, now has a staff of 17 men at work on tunnels Nos. 4 and 5 driving in both, and making an upraise from No. 4 to No. 5, of 250 feet. We expect to spend the winter in developing and will ship little, if any ore. Zinc is showing up in the mine and we will have to put in a concentrator in the spring and arrange for zinc separation. Entirely new sheds have been erected at the mine entrance and the property is in good shape now to prosecute work in all winter and that is what we propose doing.

"As rapidly as possible we will increase our staff and I hope before long we will have nearly 70 men engaged."

DEMOCRATS ARE CONFIDENT.

Place Parker's Electoral College Vote at 264—Tone of New York.

New York, Nov. 5.—On the eve of the election a feeling of confidence appears to permeate the democratic national headquarters in east 34th street. Thos who have been responsible for the conduct of the campaign are primed with facts and figures which seem to assure beyond question the success of the Parker and Davis ticket next Tuesday.

The claims of the democratic managers embrace the southern and Rocky mountain states for judge Parker, as well as New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and Indiana. Two states are placed in the doubtful column, Wisconsin and Illinois 27 electoral votes, and should both of these states be carried for Roosevelt there would still be a majority for Parker of 52 votes, or 25 more than the necessary 239 to elect.

The signed statement given out at the democratic national headquarters embraces the following claims:

"Our canvass shows that we shall certainly carry by good majorities the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and Indiana, and that in addition to these electoral votes we shall have the majority if not all of the electoral votes of the Rocky Mountain states. It is impossible to predict accurately the result in Wisconsin, but the very best information indicates that governor Peck will surely be elected, and that the national ticket is in doubt.

"Illinois must also be classed in the doubtful column, although there are indications of republican defection. If any one entertains any doubt concerning the electoral vote in the state of New York it ought to be dissolved by the unprecedented registration of 868,400 votes in New York city, and by the reflection that this is first and foremost a democratic city."

GREAT LEGAL BATTLE.

New York, Nov. 5.—Immediately after the election next Tuesday, ex-governor Frank S. Black, is to leave for Frankfort, Ky., where he is to enter into the greatest legal battle of his career, with the hope of saving the life of Caleb Powers, the young man who is awaiting execution in that state for the assassination of senator Goebel, who was shot down while a contestant for the office of governor at the state house in the Kentucky capital. Ex-governor Black offered his services to the condemned man free of charge. He believes young Powers is an innocent man, and he declares that he will clear him even if he has to take the case to the United States supreme court. Those who are acquainted with the ex-governor's work and success in the case of Roland B. Molineux of this city, are of the opinion that young Powers is to be heartily congratulated on his good luck in securing the services of the eminent lawyer.

If It Shrinks.

There's only one guarantee worth considering when it comes to Underwear. That's the guarantee that goes with every garment bearing the Stanfield label—"money back if it shrinks." That is the way we prove our faith in

Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear

Your money is yours until the washtub and wear prove that Stanfield's can't and won't shrink. If you are dissatisfied with any garment, you have only to say so to your dealer, to get your money. Buy Stanfield's with that understanding. And we know, right now, that you will be better pleased with Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear than any other you ever wore.

"The Sign of the Slate"

FOLKS believed in signs in Dickens' day. "The Marquis of Granby"—"The Magpie and Stump"—"Blue Boar"—Great White Horse"—meant foaming ale, the best of wines, a jolly good meal, and a "bed that was a bed." In fact, the sign in front of an inn, was its most valuable asset.

What the old inn signs meant to travelers years ago, "The Sign of the Slate" means to shoe-buyers of to-day. It swings in front of every "Slater" Shoe Store or Agency, and is a landmark as well as a trademark.

Lots of people—who are not a bit superstitious—believe in "The Sign of the Slate."

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

New York, Nov. 5—The American woman of today makes fun of the aboriginal American woman who decked herself in fringed leather and gaudy beads. And then this somewhat inconsistent but fair creature proceeds to fasten into her coat a vest of embroidered leather, and drape about her throat beaded or jeweled chains that would make the aboriginal woman open here eyes in amazement. The chain of the hour, whether it be of finest gold or cheapest plate, suggests savage garrishness in its treatment. In the matter of beads, coral leads all comers. A four foot string of coral chips can be bought for fifty cents and they are just now in great demand in the department stores. A real coral chain has in the centre the largest bead, measuring half an inch in diameter, and the beads become smaller towards the back. In the correct rose tint a coral necklace costs $500.

Both the very deep and the very pale coral are cheap; the highest priced is the medium tint. The coral appears also as a slide, used to connect groups of links in gold, silver or gun metal. The long chains of imitation coral are finished with tassels and are knotted instead of being connected with a chain.

Another thing which it is well to look carefully to nowadays is your girdle and the fit thereof. Wrinkles in the girdle are to be avoided as much as possible. The belt may be shirred or bunched, but the new high girdles fit as snugly as the up to date basque. If it is built from folds or pleats, these are laid very flat and smooth, and some of them are even stitched *on each fold. Quite frequently the gir*dle fits smooth and tight in the back and front, and is shirred just a trifle above the hip on either side. With silk gowns and girdles are generally finished with great oblong medallions or buckle effects, built from the various bits of trimming and handiwork which spears on the rest of the gown.

For instance, the bodice of a cafe au lait messalaine frock has cuffs of Alencon lace, picked out with orange colored threads, and finished with tiny bows of orange colored velvet. Its high, smooth fitting girdle is finished back and front with a large buckle shaped medallion, which from point to point is fully seven inches in width. The centre is an oval of lace and the heart of each flower shows French knots in shades of yellow and orange. Around these are set four tiny ruchings, alternating panne velvet and lace. The velvet is in two shades of orange, to match the French knots.

This is the year of woman's emancipation in manners and colors. It takes a daring woman to wear a simple becoming gown, for the custom de style which, being interpreted means an entire makeup from shoe to hat of some distinct period, has set the feminine world mad. The straight lines of the directoire period, the coated effects of the Louis reign, even the bouffant fashions of 1830-60, are all to be seen in the dressing of the hour. In the matter of fabrics there is practically no limit. Cloth ornately trimmed, velvet, velveteen and fabrics that closely resemble the short nap plush, are used for street wear, and are mingled in the most amazing combinations.

For evening wear, skirts, satins, brocades, tulles, allover laces, nets and spangled robes are similarly combined, and there is absolutely no limit to the amount of trimming used on these gowns. Frocks of lace are inset with spangled medallions, and overhung with spangled flounces. Spangled nets, in turn, are inset in hand-painted lace and outlined with tiny flowers made of chiffo or ribbons. Hand embroidery of the most vivid patterns and colorings are used on an otherwise subdued gown, and the sleeve is a thing of combinations too numerous to mention.

Both the directoire and the Louis coats are employed with dinner and evening frocks. A notable example is a dinner gown for a matron done in a peculiarly dainty shade of grey silk, which seems to flutter uncertainly between a pearl grey and blue, in combination with embroidered chiffon. A skirt of the pale chiffon over one of equally delicate silk was finished at the bottom with two three inch folds of grep silk edged with simulated hems of chenille. Above this was a fourth band of roses in self-tone, shading to pink. The square, low necked bodice and puffed elbow sleeves were of the embroidered chiffon. A striking touch on the vest consisted of two ornaments, one at the bust line and one at the waist line—flat roses delicately embroidered in black. The effect of the Louis coat with the low necked bodice and vest is striking, and the very uncertainty of the coloring gives it a charm quite its own.

The most gorgeous effects are attained in wraps and millinery. The white evening cloaks, which enjoyed such a vogue last season, seem to be suffering a total eclipse. The most brilliant evening cloaks are shown in the American Beauty Red with embroidery of seltone or of bold bullion. Some of these are so heavy in ornamentation as to remind one of Japanese hangings, and they can be worn only by a woman of distinguished carriage.

Furs have not escaped the general rage for trimming, and the handsomer the furs the more extravagant must be the lace with which it is set forth.

The fancy or artificial flowers, which in other years accompanied the use of lace, has not been revived, but in the case of ermine, magnificently embroidered ornaments in white and in gold are used in combination with the lace. Exquisite ruffles of Brussels, rose and Irish point lace are used with ermine, which is, after all, the smartest of furs for evening wear. Moleskin and ermine form a smart combination for wear with reception gowns, both velvet and cloth, and fur hats to match the wraps and stoles are effective on women whose faces are not too small for the rather heavy fur effects. Feathers and flowers as well as the most ornate of laces, are used in combination with fur on hats.

ESTELLE CLAIREMONT.

INSPECTOR WILSON OFFERS BANNER

Inspector Wilson has offered a handsome silk banner for the division of Nelson public school making the highest percentage of attendance each month. The banner will be the property each month of the class making the highest average for the preceding month. The purpose of the gift is, of course, to encourage regularity and punctuality. It is not only that the city will gain financially by having the children keep no time unnecessarily. The gain to the pupils themselves is a far more important matter. Learning is progressive and coherent, the loss of one half day by a boy or girl may involve a loss of connection in lessons that cannot easily be repaired.

To the teachers irregularity means the necessity of extra work in the attempt to help children to make up for lost lessons and prevent the irregular ones from retarding the progress of the class as a whole. If the presentation of a banner for competition by classes attains the object for which it is intended, inspector Wilson will have earned the gratitude of pupils, teachers, parents and trustees.

Synopsis of Regulations for Disposal of Mineral on Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory.

Coal—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz—Persons of eighteen years and over and joint stock companies holding free miner's certificates may obtain entry for a mining location.

A free miner's certificate is granted for one or more years, not exceeding five, upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company, according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet by marking out the same with two legal posts, bearing location notices, one at each end on the line of the lode or vein.

The claim shall be recorded within fifteen days if located within ten miles of a mining recorder's office, one additional day allowed for every additional ten miles or fraction. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made, and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1.00 per acre.

Permission may be granted by the Minister of the Interior to locate claims containing iron and mica, also copper in the Yukon territory, of an area not exceeding 160 acres.

The patent for a mining location shall provide for the payment of a Royalty of 2 1-2 per cent of the sales of the products of the location.

Placer Mining—Manitoba and the N.W.T. excepting the Yukon Territory—Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee, $5; renewable yearly. On the North Saskatchewan River claims are either bar or bench, the former being 100 feet long and extending between high and low water mark. The latter includes bar diggings, but extends back to the base of the hill or bank, but not exceeding 1000 feet. Where steam power is used claims 200 feet wide may be obtained.

Dredging in the rivers of Manitoba and the N.W.T., excepting the Yukon Territory—A free miner may obtain only two leases of five miles each for a term of twenty years renewable in the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged beds or bars of the river below low water mark, and subject to the rights of all persons who have, or may receive entries for bar diggings or bench claims except on the Saskatchewan River where the lessee may dredge to high water mark on each alternate leasehold.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles, but where a person or company has obtained more than one lease one dredge for each fifteen miles or fraction is sufficient. Rental $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of two and a half per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Dredging in the Yukon Territory—Six leases of five miles each may be granted to a free miner for a term of twenty years, also renewable.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the first day of August in the year of the date of the lease.

The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease, and one dredge for each five miles within six years from such date. Rental $100 per mile for the first year and $10 per mile for each subsequent year. Royalty same as placer mining.

Placer Mining in the Yukon Territory—Creek, gulch, river and hill claims shall not exceed 250 feet in length, measured on the base line or general direction of the creek or gulch, the width being from 1000 to 2000 feet. All other placer claims shall be 250 feet square.

Claims are marked by two legal posts, one at each end, bearing notices. Entry must be obtained within ten days, if the claim is within ten miles of a Mining Recorder's office. One extra day is allowed for each additional ten miles or fraction.

The person or company staking a claim must hold a free miner's certificate.

The discoverer of a new mine is entitled to a claim 1000 feet in length, and if the party consists of two, 1500 feet altogether, on the output of which no royalty shall be charged, the rest of the party ordinary claims only.

Entry fee $10. Royalty at the rate of two and a half per cent on the value of the gold shipped from the Yukon Territory to be paid to the Comptroller.

No free miner shall receive a grant of more than one mining claim on each separate river, creek or gulch, but the same miner may hold any number of claims by purchase, and free miners may work their claims in partnership by filing notice and paying fee of $2. A claim may be abandoned and another obtained on the same creek, gulch or river, by giving notice and paying a fee.

Work must be done on a claim each year to the value of at least $200.

A certificate that work has been done must be obtained each year; if not, the claim shall be deemed to be abandoned, and open to occupation and entry by a free miner.

The boundaries of a claim may be defined absolutely by having a survey made and publishing notices in the Yukon Official Gazette.

Petroleum—All unappropriated Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and within the Yukon Territory are open to prospecting for petroleum, and the Minister may reserve for an individual or company having machinery on the land to be prospected, an area of 1920 acres for such period as he may decide, the length of which shall not exceed three times the breadth. Should the prospector discover oil in paying quantities, and satisfactorily establish such discovery, an area not exceeding 640 acres, including the oil well, will be sold to the prospector at the rate of $1 an acre, and the remainder of the tract reserved, namely 1280 acres, will be sold at the rate of $3 per acre, subject to royalty at such rate as may be specified by Order in Council.

What Fruit-a-tives are

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in tablet form. They are the laxative, tonic and curative principles of fruit—combined into pleasant tasting pellets. They contain all the virtues of fruit—but by the secret process of making them, their action on the human system is many times intensified.

What "Fruit-a-tives" are for "Fruit-a-tives" are the natural and logical cure for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Their action is that of fresh fruit, only very much surer and more effective. Then too, they are free of fruit acids, sugar and woody fibre which often prevent fresh fruit being beneficial.

Try "Fruit-a-tives" and see how quickly they cure you of Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bilious Headache, Loss of Appetite and Kidney troubles.

At all Druggists. In 50c. boxes.

CONDITIONS IN SIBERIA

WHERE LONG DISTANCE HAULAGE IS RIDICULOUSLY CHEAP.

THE HABITS AND CUSTOMS OF THE NATIVES.

George M. Holt forwards The Daily News for publication the following extracts from a letter he recently received from a friend now resident in Siberia. The extracts contain much that will be of interest to the general public. The writer says:

Let me tell you something of our position here. Akmolinsk, our nearest town is about 600 versts (a verst is 2-3 of a mile) from the railroad at Petropaolosk and by the winter road the mine is about 400 verst S.E. of Akmolinsk. The smelter is between the mine and Akmolinsk, about 100 versts from the mine, and the coal mine is 40 versts from the smelter in another direction. These distances may sound impossible but the cost of transportation is so ridiculously low that it is quite possible to work at a big profit. You may have 20 pords, or about 800 pounds of stuff hauled from Akmolinsk, a distance of 200 miles for a dollar and twenty cents. And all haulage is on that scale and is all done by contract by the Kirghese.

In the winter they use the great snow camel and in summer big fine oxen or many horses. The camels all pull a sleigh singly and string out in long files over the steppes. The oxen work in double teams and the horses singly. At present the Rusian company owning the property employ by contract about 600 camels, all great shaggy haired beauties, who pull about 3-4 of a ton day in and day out. This place is full of them and Barnum's isn't in it. Why you may buy a full sized camel for 40 roubles or $20. They grow here like peas.

Labor among the Kirghese and the Russians is also very cheap indeed. The rough work is done by the Kirghese at from 20 to 25 cents per day, while 50 cents is big pay for a Russian carpenter or mason. Russian office men are glad to get from $20 to $25 a month. The Kirghese are big strong workers and quick to learn. They do not drink alcohol as it is against their religion, and they are not up-to-date Baptists or Methodists, and drink on the sly. No! They stand up to their religion squarely. They drink not and smoke not. The Russian drinks all he can get and he gets it all the time. Vodka is his curse, and his delight. Then again the Russian has a holiday about every other day, counting in Sundays there are about 125 in the year, and he knocks off work on all of them and washes away his sins religiously in vodka. The Kirghese have about three or four holidays in the year and no Sundays at all. But they make up for Sundays by praying every day at sunrise and sunset, and whenever they feel that way between times. They spread a coat or a rug, they must spread something always, and turn towards Mecca in the S.W., and then they mutter and roll their eyes and bow and scrape and touch the ground with their foreheads. Up and down everlastingly. And the old people have a weary time of it during these gymnastic performances. The truth is the Kirghese area fine people and the Siberian Russian is a no-account, shiftless cuss. We have spent nearly a year here and our work has meant much riding and driving, and all among the native Kirghese so that we know their ways of life now, winter and summer pretty well. In winter they live in their stationary home, a big, low, flat-roofed, thick-walled sod affair, with two rooms to live in themselves and the rest (often 200x50 ft.) divided into sheltered and roofed yards for their sheep and stock of bigger kinds. For fuel they burn chiefly dried manure made into big flat cakes and a kind of shrub brush for there is no timber except on the highest ranges of hills which run to 3000 feet in height, and are very scarce. The rooms they live in are usually full of lambs, kids and baby camels as protection against the cold, and it seems quite natural now to sleep up against a baby camel. The less said about the crawling things the better. Any scientific old gentleman desiring to make a collection needs only to go to an "aul" as they call these homes, and sleep one night there.

In spring as early as weather will allow they take to the open steppe with their herds and flocks, living in great felt tents—the finest tents I ever saw, which they can put up in an hour, and is a house for strength. The women too, do all the work. The men sit on their horses and watch the stock eat. As the pasture wears out they move on placidly somewhere else. Anyone who thinks this country to be a desert is badly "off" It is the finest pasturage I have ever seen, the grass being more nutritious, and keeping its qualities all winter. The stock lives on it by pawing for it all winter under the snow. Miles and miles of rolling grass in all directions. The country is full of stock, sheep first in number and thousands on thousands of them, then horses next, and a Kirghese reckons his wealth always in horses. Bunches of several hundred to a thousand are common. They are all of a pony stamp and are fine, hardy animals, with good eyes and feet and short-legged. All are sensible and inclined to be gentle. You see no "buck jumpers" anywhere. As the Kirghese much prefer horse meat to beef, they look upon a herd of horses from two distinct points of view. A good pony is worth about $20, the best among them. The cattle are splendid—low, broad and heavy stock and the beef is great. The sheep are Roman nosed, long legged "critters," but they are hardy and the mutton is the finest. There are many goats kept for their milk and wool. Great, big goats. Camels are bred in large numbers all around for their power of hauling and for their wool also, for in the spring they shed and the wool is all pulled off them to the accompaniment of awful language from the camel and in the end this stately animal looks like a plucked buzzard and feels like one too.

De Miracle

It is better than electricity, because it does not scar or produce a new growth. Better than X-ray, because it does not burn, scar or paralyze the tissues under the skin. Better than depilatories, because it is not poisonous; therefore, it will not cause blood poisoning, or produce eczema, which is so common with depilatories, and does not break off the hair, thereby increasing its growth.

Electrolysis, X-ray or depilatories are offered you on the bare word of the operators and manufacturers. De MIRACLE is not. It is the only method which is indorsed by physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and prominent magazines.

De MIRACLE will be mailed to any address, sealed, in plain wrapper, on receipt of $1.00. Your money back without question (no red tape) if it fails to do all that is claimed for it.

Our booklet—the most complete treatise on Superfluous Hair ever published—containing the testimonials of numerous physicians and surgeons and those of hundreds of others—will be sent free, in plain, sealed envelope, upon request. Enquire for it at your local druggist or write for it to day to

The Kirghese wastes nothing, so he milks everything in sight, horses, sheep and goats, and mixes it all in a great skin of horse hide. Then he pounds and shakes this up for about three days off and on, and then comes what they call "shaimpansky," and it is "koumiss" one of the finest drinks I ever tried. A powerful drink, not alcoholic, but distinctly stimulating. They are not vegetarians at all, live almost entirely upon meat. They do mix up meal and water and bake it if they have no meat, but for no other reason, and they have finer teeth than the negro, and it breeds a big strapping race of men and women. They are a quiet, peaceable people with the kindest ways to all, both human and animal, being very nice to their children and to their old folks. You may travel among them with no harm. As riders they are magnificent and they do nothing else for a Kirghese will not walk even a hundred yards if there is a horse or a bull or cow in reach. They ride bulls and oxen a great deal and you often see a man on a bull herding horses, which seems to be reversing things a little. They ride little bits of wooden saddles covered with felt, with very short stirrups and they alway carry a "quirt" whip (a mixture of both), dangling from the wrist, using no spurs of any kind. They know nothing of a lariat, using instead a long light pole with a noose on it which they use very skilfully at full speed. To wind up with they are the happiest race of people and the most independent I ever saw.

The weather is much like that of the western prairie states, Dakota for instance. The summer is very fine from July to October inclusive and last summer enough rain fell to keep pastures fresh all the time. The winters are worse than Dakota I think. A little more wind as a rule and last winter blizzards (or "boorakus" out here), were very frequent. This winter we have had much milder. The cold is no worse in temperature than in the prairie northwest of America and is no better. Two or three feet of snow will fall on the level and in spring the country is almost impossible to travel, for soft clay flats and swimming rivers. There is much alkali and salt in places. For game there is nothing big and four-footed, but all summer ducks and geese swarm, and there are also many kinds of grouse, big and small, jack rabbits are everywhere, and quite a few wolves, who worry the small stock very much but are never seen by travelers.

There is one big game bird called the "steppe hen" who will weigh up to 40 pounds. These need to be stalked with a rifle and are the owners of a beautiful yellow, black and white plumage. If young they taste most excellently.

On the Chinese border only a few hundred versts away, are bears, panther, goat, sheep and all kinds of big game, but the people are more dangerous than the game.

MICHEL COAL MINES

Superintendent Wilson Says Good Progress is Being Made With Shipments

A. R. Wilson, mine superintendent of the Crows Nest Pass Coal company's collieries at Michel, has been spending a few days in the city, taking his first holidays since joined the company's service five years ago last July. He returns to the mines on the Moyie this morning.

"Michel is all right," said Mr. Wilson yesterdap, "there are over 600 men working in the mines and the town has a population of about 2000 at the present time. The company's hotel is a fine, up to date affair and visitors can find every comfort and convenience. We have a steam fire engine handy in case of fires as well as the pumping service, and the town generally is coming along nicely."

"What's our output? Well about 1800 tons of coal daily. About 700 tons of this is shipped away and the balance goes to the coke ovens, of which we have 464, though all of them aren not at the moment in daily use. I look for a prosperous and busy winter in Michel, certainly from our standpoint, and our monthly pay roll should be a satisfactory one for all concerned. We have no troubles ahead so far as I know. Everything in connection with the mines and the town is running along smoothly now and I think will continue so. General manager G. G. S. Lindsey has not returned to Fernie from Toronto as yet, but I understand he will come West with his wife and family shortly. I return to Michel tomorrow morning very well pleased with my brief holiday in your city."

Engineer of Public Works Department Has Great Territory to Look After

Hon. Frederic W. Aylmer, civil engineer of Golden, resident engineer under G. A. Keefer of New Westminster, of the dominion public works department paid a flying visit here yesterday to meet foreman Jardine, who is clearing out the channel of the Kootenay river between the landing and the international boundary line. Having met and conferred with Mr. Jardine Mr. Aylmer left for Kamloops last evening.

Mr. Aylmer's jurisdiction is a very extensive one, extending from the eastern boundary of the province as far west as Kamloops. At present there are 13 different parties at work at various widely separated points under Mr. Aylmer's superintendence, necessitating frequent long trips from point to point. Speaking of the lowness of the water this year, Mr. Aylmer said on the Columbia river from Golden south all navigation had ceased and the river is now two and a half feet lower than at any previous season at this time.

Mr. Aylmer is one of the old timers in this province, being known as the founder of Golden. He is a brother of the Rt. Hon. Matthew Lord Aylmer of Ottawa, formerly adjutant general but now in command of the Canadian militia since lord Dundonald's retirement.

IGNORANCE OF CANADA

Benighted Condition of Prominent British Merchants

Toronto, Nov. 5—Arthur G. Scot a member of the Manchester board of commerce, is visiting Toronto.

"In spite of the efforts of your press, the efficient Canadian officials in England, such as Mr. Andrew Jury, who is stationed in Manchester, and the spread of education," says Mr. Scott, "it is astonishing how little is known in the old country about Canada. You would hardly believe me when I assure you that when the news of the great fire in Toronto was received in Manchester several prominent members of our board solicited subscriptions for the sufferers on the grounds that the shops of Toronto were burned and the inhabitants had sought shelter in the neighboring woods exposed to the dangers from the attacks of wild beasts."

IN GALLIHER'S INTERESTS

Smith Curtis and S. S. Taylor Address the Electors of Ymir

[Special to The Daily News]

Ymir, Nov. 5—In the Ymir Miners' union hall last evening Ymirites listened to a political treat when Smith Curtis of Rossland addressed a large and representative audience.

Mr. Curtis went fully into the Grand Trunk Pacific contract and what it meant to Canada. He urged every elector to vote on the 22nd for W. A. Galliher, who is thoroughly in accord with the present government. He expressed regret that Mr. Borden had gone down to defeat, paying a high tribute to his unblemished character.

Mr. Curtis took up over two hours and was attentively listened to.

S. S. Taylor, K.C., addressed the meeting next, remarking that some seven years ago the people of the Northwest were falling over one another to get out of the country and that the total number of homesteads had fallen down to the small number of 150. He had just come through the same part of the country and found prosperity everywhere, this prosperity being a result of the wise liberal rule.

Mr. Daly also addressed the meeting.

The Keeley Cure for the liquor habit and drug using is a scientific treatment that has successfully stood the test for 25 years. For particulars write the Keeley Institute, Seattle, Wash.

A LUCKY STRIKE

is a rare thing in a miner's life. There are various opinions as to whether a rabbit's foot or an old coin has any influence or not, but experience teaches that a plug of Pay Roll chewing tobacco keeps a man cheerful, and that is one step towards good luck. All stores sell Pay Roll and the tags are valuable for premiums.

LECTURE MONDAY EVENING

Ensign George Shanley of the Salvation Army, travelling financial special agent for the province, arrived yesterday morning from Rossland, where his stereopticon lecture was a brilliant success.

Monday night at the Victoria street barracks Mr. Shanley will give his famous lecture entitled "Biddy." All are cordially welcome.

BOND'S BIG MAJORITY.

GALLIHER'S ITINERARY

W. A. Galliher's itinerary for this week will be as follows:

Monday, Nov. 7, meeting at Beaton.
Monday, Nov. 7, meeting at Camaplix.
Tuesday, Nov. 8, meeting at Cambourne.
Wednesday, Nov. 9, meeting at Trout Lake City.
Thursday, Nov. 10, meeting at Ferguson.
Friday, Nov. 11, meeting at Ainsworth.

Mr. Galliher will reach Nelson next Saturday and arrangements have been made to hold a mass meeting in the opera house on the evening of Nov. 21.

SOFT COAL from these collieries, according to the Government tests, is superior to the best Pennsylvania bituminous coal, having more thermal units and greater evaporating power. It is an ideal coking domestic fuel.

A SEMI-ANTHRACITE coal from one of the collieries is strongly recommended for furnaces and base burners.

A first class smithing coal is also mined. These coals are all high in carbon and low in ash and will be found very economical at the prices charged.

J. J. WALKER, The Leading Jeweler

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

H. P. Macleod and W. Martin left last night for a week's hunting along the Arrow lakes.

At the Emmanuel Congregational church this evening the pastor will preach on "Peter and John."

A meeting of the directors of the Kootenay Lake General hospital has been called for Tuesday afternoon.

The adjourned meeting of the Hume Addition residents re new school site, will be held in Heywood's hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

A full parade of No. 2 Company R.M.R. at the drill hall is called—for tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock sharp. Dress drill order with great vigor.

Mrs. Rutherford of the W.C.T.U. council of the dominion, will give an address on temperance this evening at the Baptist church after the close of the regular service.

Tomorrow night judge Leamy, P. E. Wilson and E. C. Wragge will leave for Trout Lake City for the county court sessions to be held there this week beginning on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. L. Parker wife of the former manager of the North Star mine, arrived on the Crow boat last night and took the evening train for the west, intending to spend some months in the coast cities.

Hunters' stories and exhibits should come to hand soon now. Parties from Nelson are scattered in twos and threes from Five Mile Point to Kaslo. Some are looking for ducks and geese. Others, more ambitious, are after deer.

A force of 11 men is working on the Queen mine. Work is going on steadily night and day. Prospects continue to be as good as at present, the management declare their intention of having the work proceeded with through the winter.

The resignation of F. J. Finucane, manager of the bank of Montreal's Spokane branch, as announced, Mr. Finucane will sever his connection as soon as a successor is appointed to take his place. His future plans are not given out.

At St. Paul's Presbyterian church today Rev. J. Ross of Grand Forks, will preach at both services. Rev. Mr. Herdman has exchanged for the day with Rev. J. T. Ferguson of Nelson. In the evening the choir will render the anthem "Seek Ye the Lord."

Police magistrate Crease, W. A. Macdonald, S. S. Taylor and R. W. Hanington, all of whom are engaged in the Ymir arson case, returned to the city last night and with the exception of Mr. Macdonald will return to Ymir tomorrow morning to go on with the inquiry.

During the past week admiring crowds have gazed on the handsome hand drawn lodgebrad exhibited in the store window of Kerr & Co. It was displayed by the Sisters of St. Joseph and will be raffled off their fair particulars of which will be announced later.

The regular weekly meeting of the local socialist party, will be held in Miners' hall this afternoon at 3:30. Addresses will be delivered but no regular program has been prepared. Candidate Baker has been electioneering in Slocan this past week and will now go on to East Kootenay.

Mrs. Marion B. Baxter, deputy commander of the Ladies of the Maccabees, arrived in Nelson last night from Grand Forks and will lecture in the K. of P. hall on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All ladies interested are cordially invited to attend. At the close of the lecture refreshments will be served.

T. G. Blackstock, vice-president of the War Eagle-Centre Star Mining companies was due in Rossland at the close of last month, his visit being in connection with the proposed amalgamation with the Le Roi. Ill health prevented Mr. Blackstock coming west last month but he has since left Toronto and was expected at Moyie last night on his way to Rossland.

F. W. Teetzel will shortly leave this city for good and will take up his residence in Winnipeg. He has finally disposed of his business interests here and leaves tomorrow morning for the Similkameen country. After spending a couple of weeks west he will return to this city, when he will be joined by David Bogle, a one time resident of Nelson and later editor of the Victoria Colonist. Both men will at once leave for Winnipeg. Their new business plans are not yet thoroughly arranged.

A special review of Aberdeen hive Ladies of the Maccabees will be held on Monday evening at 7:30. All members are requested to attend as Mrs. Baxter will address the meeting.

William Hume of the Hume hotel staff, so well and favorably known to the many guests who come and go at the house, as "William," returned to his post last night after a pleasant holiday spent in Victoria.

The Spokane chamber of commerce have announced their intention of visiting the Kootenays on their annual excursion next year. They will come to Northport, and after inspecting the smelter, will visit this city subsequently going to Rossland and the Boundary country, returning home via the Great Northern.

The Nelson Iron Works is kept busy with push repair work. Part of the hoisting engine at the St. Eugene mine was hurriedly put to rights and will go east on the Moyie this morning, while some portions of the mine machinery at the Queen mine near Salmo, which has been quickly repaired, will be sent down on this morning's train. Manager Honeyman has been forced to keep his men working double time to rush the work along.

Mrs. A. G. Rutherford arrived from the east last evening and is the guest of the Rev. W. W. Baer at the Queens hotel. In addition to speaking at the Baptist church this evening, Mrs. Rutherford will take the morning service at the Methodist church today, the pastor recognizing the importance of the work. This is the lady's second visit to the city, and her former visit will be recalled with pleasure, as she is an eloquent speaker and her whole heart is in the work.

W. A. Macdonald, K.C. leaves this morning via Spokane, for Vancouver to attend the sittings of the full court which open at the coast city next Tuesday morning. Mr. Macdonald appears in Tanghe vs. Morgan and Rutherford vs. Morgan, recently tried here involving Poplar mining rights, Bremner vs. Nichols and Scott vs. Ferne. Judgment is expected in the well known case of Dockstader vs. Clark. Mr. Macdonald will also make an application for new trial in the Aho case tried at the spring assizes here and in which the prisoner was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for aggravated assault committed at Fernie.

COURT OF REVISION

Tomorrow at 11 o'clock in the forenoon at the court house in this city mining recorder C. D. Blackwood in his capacity as registrar of voters, will hold a court of revision for the purpose of hearing any and all objections against the retention of any name or names on the register of voters for the Nelson City electoral district. The proceedings are usually of a purely formal character.

RAWHIDE WILL SOON SHIP

Spur About Completed—Ore Can be Cheaply Quarried and Transported

[Special to The Daily News]

Phoenix, Nov. 5—The extensive preparations being made at the Rawhide mine, adjoining the Snowshoe, are pretty good evidence that that property of the Montreal & Boston Consolidated, which has never shipped a ton of ore, will before another month be one of the largest shippers of the Boundary. Already the work of laying the iron on the new spur is being started by the C.P.R. extra gang, although contractor Tierney, who is grading the spur, will not be done for a few days yet. The building of the ore bins is nearly completed and 100,000 feet of lumber has been ordered for the surface tramway, which is to be built to connect the mine with the ore bins. The ore bins themselves will hold about 700 tons of ore. Engineer Waddell is now laying out the tramway. A bunkhouse to accommodate 50 or 60 men is to be built at once, as when shipments are started, in the course of two or three weeks, the force will be considerably increased.

Foreman Bresnahan, under superintendent Collins, has stripped the Rawhide ore body for a distance of 500 feet up the hill and the ore can be cheaply quarried and placed on board the cars.
