MAGNATE DIES

Edward H. Harriman Passed to Rest Yesterday

HIS COLOSSAL TRIUMPHS

STORY OF FAMOUS CORNER IN NORTHERN PACIFIC—WAS ONE OF HALF DOZEN FINANCIAL GIANTS OF THIS AGE—HIS BATTLES ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—E. H. Harriman died at 3:35 today.

Mr. Harriman had been in ill-health for a long time. He was born at Hempstead, Long Island, Feb. 25, 1848.

Mr. Harriman's death had been expected for several days. On last Sunday he suffered a relapse due to an attack of acute indigestion and was unable to rally from the critical condition which then threatened his life. With him at the time of his death were all the members of his family.

Mr. Harriman is survived by a widow, two sons and three daughters..

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—The announcement of Mr. Harriman's death caused an immense sensation throughout New York particularly in the financial circles where Harriman had been a dominating personality. The stock exchange had closed and the throngs of bankers and brokers were moving homeward as the first word of the financiers death spread with lightning rapidity among them. At first it was received with incredulity as a repetition of sinster reports in circulation recently but verification quickly came and soon the cry of "extra," along Wall street carried the news of the financier's end.

Everywhere the news was received with evidence of deep feeling and the common recognition that the career of one of the world's greatest financial powers had come to a close. The same profound impression was reflected in business quarters and the expressions of sympathy and regret were universal. It is believed that the sinking spell which ended in Mr. Harrimans dissolution began shortly after 1 o'clock. The denial of the rumor of his death, which was telephoned to the newspapers at 1:55 p.m. contained no mention of his condition at that time, and it is believed that whether in answer to the telephone enquiry it was feared to send out the report that Mr. Harriman was dying because there was still some slight hope that the doctors would again revive their patient.

The impenetrable seclusion of Arden persisted even at the moment of Harriman's death and by no outward sign did the great estate give evidence that the masters' end had come. The first word known outside the guarded gates was flashed from New York. Immediate efforts to break through the barriers of silence were unavailing and Tower Hill preserved its wonted air of absolute calm. When telegraph connection was established with the Harriman mansion the response was immediate, confirming the news already received from New York that the financier died at 3:35 p.m. this afternoon.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 — From early manhood a commanding figure in a widening circle of Wall Street activity, it was in 1897 that Edward Henry Harriman gained a foothold by which he lifted himself to a place among the half dozen financial giants of the age. Union Pacific was going begging and Harriman, backed by Kuhn, Loeb and company and Standard Oil interests, undertook its rehabilitation. He secured a controlling interest, reorganized the management and through his transcendant genius converted the bankrupt company into one of the best dividend payers.

In this rehabilation and later when he took hold of the Southern Pacific, Hariman's policy was for lavish expenditure which made properties as nearly physically perfect as possible. The matter of dividends was allowed to wait upon their perfection. This policy has been continued on all the Harriman lines and to it has been added a close study of the territory adjacent to the properties and which contributed or could be made to contribute to their welfare.

Mr. Harriman's great performance was in May, 1901 when he struggled with the Morgan-Hill interests for the control of the Northern Pacific. On May 9 of that year, the historic Northern Pacific corner resulted in the stock of that company going to $1000. At the show-down Harriman produced $78,000,000 in stock out of a total of $155,000,000. However, the Hill-Morgan people held the whip hand through a bylaw of the company which permitted the retirement of preferred stock at any time. Of his holdings $41,000,000 was preferred but Mr. Harriman secured a compromise and he and some of his associates were elected to the Northern Pacific directorate.

Mr. Harriman's success was not without struggles. He made his debut as a railroad man in 1883 when he was made a director of the Illinois Central. He was then worth a million dollars. He established close relations with Jas. Stillman and became a member of the banking firm of Loeb, Harriman and company.

He also formed a business alliance with Jacob H. Schiff and his influence in Wall street grew rapidly. In 1894 he attempted a reorganization of the Erie railroad and became involved in a fight with J. P. Morgan's interests. In this struggle Mr. Harriman was soundly defeated. Undaunted he set about to learn the railroad business in a way to make him master and so equipped himself for the successful undertaking with the Union Pacific three years later.

He was born in Hempstead, Long Island on Feb. 25, 1848, the third son of Rev. Orlando Harriman, rector of St. George's Episcopal church at Hempstead. The family were in humble circumstances and the youth worked hard for the little education he received. At the age of 15 he found employment as an errand boy in a broker's office and before he was 23 years old he had bought a seat on the New York stock exchange for $20,000. He earned his elementary lessons in finance in the school of James Fisk, Jay Gould and old commodore Vanderbilt and became a broker on his own account

Devoid of sentiment in business as was shown later when he fought Fisk, a man who had done probably much to helping young Harriman in his career, who years before had made him vice-president of the road. When the insurance scandals of 1905 broke out Harriman was a director of the Equitable Life Insurance society of which his friend James H. Hyde, owned a control of the stock. Harriman was Hyde's closest adviser in the fight which was made to displace his control and many have said that result might have had a different color at least had not Hyde at the last moment turned upon Harriman and charged him with being an enemy in the guise of a friend, seeking to take Hyde's place in the Equitable. When Thomas F. Ryan turned up a few months later as the owner of the Equitable Harriman said he was disappointed and admitted before the Armstrong investigation committee that he expected to buy it himself.

Mr. Harriman's wife was Miss Mary Averill of Rochester, N.Y., whose father, W. J. Averill, a banker, was largely interested in the Amsterdam & Ogdensburg railroad. Five children were born to the union, three girls and two boys. The eldest daughter is the wife of R. L. Gerry, son of commodore Gerry. The second daughter is Mary and the third Carrol. The eldest son, Walter Averill, is just out of college and is now learning the railroad business. The youngest son, Roland, is 14 years of age and is still at school.

Saskatchewan Municipalities

REGINA, Sept. 9—The session of the Saskatchewan municipalities' convention was continued today. A very interesting and eloquent address on the disposal of sewerage was delivered by T. Aird Murray, provincial consulting civil engineer. A long discussion took place on municipal accounting. Delegates from the Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Saskatchewan, who were present, gave their views, which went to show that considerable improvement was being made in the matter of accounting in the province. It also seemed to be the opinion that the government had taken a good step in appointing a municipal inspector.

DEDICATION THIS EVENING

New Presbyterian Church at Creston to be Opened

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRESTON, Sept. 9—C. Moore, P.L.S. has just returned from a trip to the famous Sheep creek district where he has been doing some surveying for the past ten days and gives some valuable information regarding the camp. He says that at present there are over 300 men engaged in the camp and the mines are working double shifts. The Nugget, Bayonne and Queen properties are at present shipping and the greatest mining activity prevails. The famous Bayonne mine lies about 11 miles from Salmo and is looking well. The values of the camp average $100 in gold per ton and there is a good wagon road with a 2 per cent grade to the camp. According to Mr. Moore this camp has a great future before it.

The dedication of the new Presbyterian church will take place tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. George Wilson of Vancouver, superintendent of home missions for British Columbia, and Rev. C. O. Main of Cranbrook will be present on this occasion. The Methodist congregation will join the Presbyterians in these services. The new church has an ideal location on the brow of the mountain overlooking the famous Kootenay Flats and has a seating capacity of about 400.

W. P. Stark of Bassingstoke, England, has just made the second payment on the ranch formerly owned by Frank Bask. In all there are 41 acres and it is one of Creston's most advanced ranches. Mr. Stark is sending an expert gardener from England and he and his family along with his brother Robert, who was with him here a few weeks ago at the time of the purchase of the land, will leave England in the early spring. It is also stated that Mr. Stark is inducing other capitalists to come to Creston and invest in land. The purchase price of the property above referred to was in the neighborhood of $8000.

Charged With Theft

FREDRICKTON, Sept. 9—George Beach, C. P. R. ticket agent here, is under arrest charged with the theft of $835 of the company's money. A week ago Beach reported that the money, which was done up in packages, had disappeared while he was temporarily absent. An audit of his books is said to have revealed a shortage. Beach bears a good reputation, is married and has one child.

Winnipeg Grain Exchange

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 9—At the annual meeting of the grain exchange yesterday George Fisher, Canadian manager of the Scottish Cooperative association, was elected president by acclamation. A. D. Chisholm of the Union Grain company was elected vice president.

MEETING HELD

CITY AS TOURIST RESORT

PHOTOGRAPHS OF PROPOSED SITE WILL ALSO BE FORWARDED TO RAILWAY—MAIL SERVICE ON ARROW LAKES—PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

The committee appointed by the board of trade to prepare a draft of a brief for presentation to the C.P.R., showing the advantages of Nelson as a tourist resort with a view to inducing the company to locate the proposed tourist hotel at or near Nelson, made their report at last night's meeting. The report went very fully into the attractions of Nelson and the immediately surrounding district and presented the city's case strongly.

Amongst the many other matters up before the meeting last night was the decision of the publicity committee to shortly commence a publicity campaign in the press, the proposed visit of the Calgary business men to the annual fair, the mail service on the Arrow lakes and to Comaplix and similar points, and the question of lighting of buoys on the lake..

The brief for presentation to the C.P.R. was as follows:

"Your committee appointed to deal with the question of making representations to the Canadian Pacific Railway company with a view of inducing them to build the proposed tourist hotel in or near Nelson, beg to suggest that a communication something on the following lines be forwarded to Mr. Whyte:

"The citizens of Nelson, in mass meeting assembled, being convinced that the best interests both of the city and the C.P.R. company require the building of the proposed tourist hotel either in or closely adjoining the city of Nelson now urge upon the mayor and council and the board of trade of the city the necessity of making all proper representations to the Canadian Pacific Railway company with a view to bringing about this end.

"This resolution passed unanimously at a public meeting held in the opera house at the call of the mayor on the 25th of August, and unanimously endorsed at a special meeting of the board of trade called by its president, shows the unanimous sentiment of the citizens of Nelson.

"It is now the duty of the committee appointed to make proper representation to the railway company, to point out to the company some of the many advantages Nelson possesses as a location for the hotel both to the railway company and to the tourists patronizing it.

"Some of the reasons why Nelson is the best point in Kootenay for the location of the tourist hotel:

"Nelson is as the center of the district the best radiating point for trips and excursions of all kinds by reason of its superior transportation facilities;

"There are more and better roads and trails starting from Nelson than from any other point.

"These roads and trails give endless opportunity for one day excursions in leaving the hotel after breakfast and returning the same night.

"More and better excursions can be made from Nelson as a center than from any other point.

"All the more distant points of interest can be reached from Nelson as well, and most of them better, than from any other point.

"Nelson is the best center for the angler. The fishing in the home waters is good and the extra good locations all the way from the Columbia river to Kootenay lake easily reached.

"For boating of all kinds, especially for small boats, Nelson is most favorably situated, there being no dangerous water as there is towards Kootenay lake.

"Nelson is absolutely free of insect pests of any kind.

"Nelson, as the largest town in the district naturally offers the best advantages to the tourist in the way of banking, shopping and amusement and the social advantages to the tourist would be enhanced by the proximity of the hotel to the town.

"The city of Nelson is in a position to supply electric light, water and sewerage at reasonable rates within or adjoining its limits,

"The installation of these utilities would entail a large outlay in any other location.

"Nelson can at least claim equal advantages in any given requirement with any other point; superior advantages to most, and combined advantages that cannot be obtained elsewhere in Kootenay.

"For these reasons a C.P.R. tourist hotel is much more likely to be a profitable and satisfactory investment for the company and its patrons if situated in or adjoining Nelson than at any other point in the district.

"With regard to the question of sites.

"Apart from any possible site already owned by the railway company, or *any they could acquire from private par*ties, the city owns the bluff at the east end of Vernon street. This is undoubtedly the finest scenic site on the whole outlet, easily accessible and desirable in every way. There is no doubt that arrrangements could be made by which the company could acquire a few acres at little or no cost. Then again, if a fine sand beach is considered advisable for an hotel close to the water, the city park at Fairview or 1-Mile point is only separated by the railway right of way from a two acre block that could be acquired.

The city park, easily the best and most beautiful sand beach on the whole outlet would be equally free for tourists as the Nelson public and any improvements the hotel management might wish to make would be welcome."

H. Selous said as chairman of the committee, the committee had got together and prepared the brief. Any suggestions on the subject would be welcomed. Mr. Selous then moved, seconded by Harry Wright, that a communication on the lines of the above draft should be forwarded to William Whyte, second vice-president of the C.P.R.

W. H. Jones said regarding the presentation to the railway of the bluff, that the site in question was public property and that he was rather doubtful on the matter. It did not require a great stretch of imagination to see the city extend so far that the bluff would be required as the only open space between the end of Fairview and the cemetery. The suggestion, said Mr. Jones was purely tentative.

Mr. Selous said only four or five acres were suggested as a free site. In any circumstance the matter would be voted upon by the people as a bylaw.

C. G. Broadwood suggested that the hunting advantages of Nelson should be emphasized.

Mr. Selous' motion was then carried unanimously.

Mr. Selous mentioned that he had obtained some photographs taken of and from the bluff and the board decided that these should be forwarded with the brief.

The minutes of the two previous meetings of the board having been adopted the secretary stated that while in Calgary he had seen Mr. Webster and several members of the board of trade in regard to their visiting the Nelson fair. They had stated that they all wished very much to come but doubted if the C.P.R. would be in a position to provide a car and he also wished to know if the hotels would be able to provide accommodation for 30 to 40 people. The party would, in the event of coming to Nelson, return via Revelstoke.

The secretary stated that he had written the railway regarding the case of Mr. Godsall against the C.P.R. regarding freight rates on Kootenay lake. He then read a letter from Mr. Godsall saying that the board had given permission to him to reopen the case. Mr. Beeston said that while in Winnipeg he had seen C. E. Macpherson who had stated that as soon as the promised district passenger agent arrived in Nelson the question of rates would be gone into.

J. M. Lay moved that the letter from Mr. Godsall be filed. He thought it would be unwise to take any steps in the matter at present. The motion was seconded by H. Selous and carried.

In regard to the steamboat service to Crawford bay, a letter was read from Capt. Gore saying that it would be inadvisable to put on a service at present in addition to the Grey's creek schedule but if at any time any rancher at Crawford bay had five tons or more of freight either inward or outward, a boat would call. He hoped that would be satisfactory. Mr. Houghton wrote regretting Capt. Gore's decision.

W. W. Beer thought the board had done the best they could and suggested the letters be filed.

J. A. Irving asked how far a boat had to go out of its way to call at Crawford bay. He thought that Nelson was losing much trade through the boat not calling there more frequently. He did not think the letter should be filed.

After some discussion the secretary was instructed to write Mr. Houghton asking if any other suggestion could be made with a view to improving the service.

Arising out of the minutes of the last meeting with regard to the shortage of single-jack miners, spoken of by T. G. Procter, the secretary read a letter from Frank Phillips, saying that the shortage of miners had only lasted a few days and that there were plenty of cooks wanting employment. The letter was filed.

The secretary reported that he had written to thank G. O. Buchanan for his letter read at the previous meeting referring to the Grey's Pass route from Kootenay lake.

Hon. R. G. Tatlow wrote enclosing photographs of beauty spots near Grey's pass.

The secretary mentioned that the pictures were very beautiful but that all of them with one exception had been taken from the east of earl Grey's camp and so did not affect Mr. Buchanan's suggestion.

It was suggested that pictures should be taken of this side of the pass and W. G. McMorris mentioned that a Kaslo photographer would probably have the views in question.

On motion of W. W. Beer, seconded by C. W. Busk, it was decided that Hon. Mr. Tatlow should be thanked for the photographs and asked if it would be possible to have the set completed by the addition of some views from the Kootenay lake side.

It was suggested by Harry Wright that the secretary in writing to Hon. Mr. Tatlow should say that if it were not convenient for A. Bryan Williams to take the pictures it might be done by a local man.

*A communication from lord Strath*cona expressing his regret at being unable to accept an invitation from the board and mayor to visit Nelson, was received.

A letter from F. W. Peters was read. Mr. Peters, in reference to rates on setters' effects to Kootenay, said that a new tariff was being prepared which would be satisfactory to the board.

The secretary mentioned that he had met some members of the British Association, who had expressed their regret at being unable to pass through Nelson on their way to the coast. In this con-

STILL WAITING

Robert E. Peary's Arrival is Further Delayed

DISPUTE AS TO PRIORITY

FRIENDS OF RIVAL DISCOVERERS MAINTAIN ATTITUDE OF EXPECTANCY—COOK IS HONORED IN DENMARK—WILL SAIL ON SUNDAY FOR STATES

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—The two explorers upon whom the world's eyes have been fixed during the past few days, spent the day busily preparing for their advance to the United States. Cook, in Copenhagen, announced that he had definitely arranged to sail next Saturday on the Oscar II for New York city.

Peary, according to wireless reports, was detained at Battle harbor, Labrador, probably either awaiting the completion of repairs to the Roosevelt or the arrival of coal.

Dr. Cook appeared today at a high official function. The University of Copenhagen conferred upon him the degree of S. C. D., there by recognizing, it was pointed out by his friends, in an important official manner his claim to the discovery of the pole.

Dr. Cook has cancelled his engagement to lecture before the Geographical society of Brussels and will reach New York about Sept. 20 or 21. Capt. Amundson will probably accompany him. Dr. Cook's plan to send a ship from Copenhagen to Greenland to bring to civilization his two Eskimos, companions in his exploration trip, cannot be carried out till next year, as Danish officials have informed him that it is now too late in the season for a trip to Etah. The expedition, it is stated, will be made early next year. In scientific circles, both at home and abroad, the prevailing inclinations seem to be to await direct word from both explorers before arriving at a conclusion as to their respective achievements and, although a belligerent attitude was still preserved in the two camps, open hostilities were suspended.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 9—The degree of doctoris honoris causa was conferred upon Dr. F. Cook by the University of Copenhagen this afternoon in the presence of the crown prince of Denmark and a distinguished gathering.

Prof. Torp, rector of the university, in presenting the diploma to Dr. Cook spoke of the admiration his achievement had aroused in the university, and declared that the news that another famous explorer had solved the same problem could in no way detract from the honor due Dr. Cook.

In expressing his thanks Dr. Cook said he accepted the honor as testimony of the genuineness of his journey. He promised to send the university his complete records and he repeated that it was his intention to dispatch a ship to Greenland at his own expense to bring down the two Eskimos who accompanied him on his expedition. In conclusion the doctor said:

"I can say no more; I can do no more. I show you my hand."

DRESDEN, Sept. 9—Prof. Helm of the Technical university of Dresden, is understood to have received a telegram from Herbert L. Bridgman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club, to the effect that Commander Peary is bringing home enough proof to refute Dr. Cook's narrative. Peary also has with him an eyewitness who will testify that Cook did not make the long journey he described, and that his scientific equipment did not contain an artificial horizon with which to take bearings. Prof. Helm is at present away from Dresden and cannot be reached for a verification of this report.

POINT TUPPER, N. S., Sept. 9—Herbert L. Bridgman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club, denied today that he wired Prof. Helm of the Technical university concerning witnesses and evidence to refute the claims of Dr. Cook. He said that he had sent no dispatch to Prof. Helm. He added that all his dispatches from Peary had been published as received.

ROME, Sept. 9—Commander Cagni, who was with the duke of Abruzzi on his polar expedition, said yesterday with reference to the respective claims of Cook and Peary, that he knew that Peary would reach the pole one day. "I never doubted, nor have I doubted the sincerity of the affirmation of Dr. Cook, but of Peary's success I am more than convinced."

Commander Cagni added that for years Peary had been in the first rank of explorers, and his long studies in the polar regions, the vast experience he gained in former expeditions, and the wise and complete preparations for the epedition just ended account for the greater credit accorded the announcement of Peary's success.

"The doubts with regard to Dr. Cook," he continued, "arise from the vagueness of his first statements, the misunderstandings regarding the polar temperature, the position of the newly discovered land and the apparent lack of preparation for the expedition. On judging the two explorers the fact that geographical and astronomical observations have been taken from floating ice must be considered. However, if both have reached the pole, much divergence in their observations is impossible, but final judgment cannot be handed down till we have exhaustively compared their notes and reports of the results obtained by both travellers."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 9—The Coast and Geodetic Survey association will undertake to arbitrate the Peary-Cook north pole controversy, providing Dr. Cook requests it should do so.

In view of the fact that Peary has been operating under the directions of the survey it will become the duty of that constitution to check up his notes without request from anyone and the acting superintendent said today that if Cook should so desire the survey would go over his papers also.

PORTLAND Me., Sept. 9—The wife and two children of Commander Robert E. Peary started today on their long railroad journey to Sydney, N. S., to meet Commander Peary on his way *to the United States. They have ar*ranged to take the Provincial express, due at Sydney Friday night.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 9—Owing to the uncertainties of the wireless service *from Labrador points no infor*mation regarding the movements of Commander Peary with his ship, the Roosevelt, reached here during this forenoon. The governor of Newfoundland, Sir Ralph Williams, on behalf of the colony, has invited Peary to visit this city, and a formal welcome will be organized for the explorer and the crew of the Roosevelt, all of whom are natives of Newfoundland.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 9—A joint invitation from the citizens of Portland and South Portland to Commander Peary to visit Portland and participate in a public reception was telegraphed to the explorer today.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Sept. 9—Realizing the grief that it would cause Ross Marvin's mother, Commander Peary went to much trouble to break as gently as possible the sad news of the death of Ross Marvin *of this city, who accom*panied him into the far north and who lost his life in the polar regions. Last night L. C. Bement, a member of the Peary relief expedition of 1901, received the following: "Break news of *Marvin's death to his mother immedi*ately before she sees it in the paper. Drowned April 10th, 45 miles north of Cape Columbia. Great loss to me and to the expedition. Every member sends deepest sympathy. (Signed) Peary."

Yesterday a movement was started to give Mr. Marvin a great welcome on his return from the north and the members of the family were planning a celebration on the occasion of his homecoming.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 9—Belmore Brown, who was one of the members of Dr. Cook's party when the latter, with one companion, ascended Mount McKinley, in an interview yesterday said: "After making an attempt from the southern slopes of the mountain and failing our party went to pieces. We all started down the Susiana river, some of us on hunting trips, others striking for the outside.

*"Cook went back with two compan*ions, and going up another branch of the river, made a dash on the southwest slope and he and one of the men who accompanied him reached the top. I notice that the men who dispute he reached the summit were persons who were not with him and consequently what they have to say should not carry great weight."

POINT AMOUR, Labrador, Sept. 9—*The steamer Roosevelt, with Comman*der Peary on board, is supposed to be still at Battle harbor, Labrador. The weather here is fine.

FOREST FIRES

More Break Out in the Fort Steele District

(Special to The Daily News.)

FORT STEELE, Sept. 9—The long continued drought together with high winds, have started into fierce activity again the smouldering forest fires and the air is dense with smoke which at times obscures the mountains both east and west of town. Whether any of the towns in the district will suffer this year as Fernie did last year, is still an unsettled question and cannot be settled until after two or three days of heavy rain. But whether or not the towns suffer the loss to the province will be very serious.

The problem of how to prevent these annually destructive fires has been prominently before the provincial government since 1894 when the question was for the first time discussed in the legislature by the then member for Cariboo, but without any effective action until the McBride government took the matter up last year.

By the way, too much praise cannot be given premier McBride for the appointment of the forestry commission.

Buys Pipe in Scotland

VICTORIA, Sept. 9—Over ten million pounds of steel pipe, costing over a million dollars has been ordered by the Esquimalt Waterworks company from the Vulcan works, Motherwell, Scotland, to bring the Goldstream water to the city of Victoria. Delivery by the Blue Funnel line is to commence on March 1and 55,000 feet of steel pipe is to be landed before June 30.

WHO OWNS IT

Dominion Official and Canada's Claim to Pole

SIR J. G. WARD ON DEFENCE

MAKES STIRRING SPEECH AT VANCOUVER—EMPHASIZES NECESSITY FOR RETAINING THREE POWER NAVAL STANDARD—ALL RED LINE

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9—James White, chief geographer of the dominion, was here today with a party of British scientists. He made a statement intimating that Canada had a claim to the lands in the vicinity of the north pole, claimed by Cook and Peary as belonging to the United States by right of discovery.

He said: "All islands of the Arctic ocean east of the 141st meridian form part of the dominion even though they are for all practical purposes uninhabited and inaccessible. Title by discovery is a low form of title, especially when made by a subject of a country not specifically commissioned to annex the new lands on a voyage of discovery."

Mr. White says that in 1882 the imperial government transferred to Canada all the lands and islands in British North America not previously included in the dominion or Newfoundland. The order was intentionally made sweeping and included Booths, Baffin, Elsmere, and Victoria islands.

Interviewed regarding the rival claim of Cook and Peary concerning the finding of the pole, he replied that he accepted Pearys' statements as they appeared to him to be founded on possibility because of his probable route. Cook's claim Mr. White did not seem inclined to accept.

Sir Joseph Ward, premier of New Zealand, gave a stirring imperial address before the Canadian club this afternoon. He said that true imperial consolidation could not be obtained in a short time and that Britishers in all part of the world must be brought to understand that, despite the peace prevailing for so long, that once a match had kindled the flame in one part of the empire every other part would be drawn into the blaze.

Concerning the navy he claimed that the British fleet must be equal to any three other powers. New Zealand had made her offer for imperial defence and he doubted not but that Canada would loyally do her portion towards sustaining the empire on the sea. In 50 years the Dominion would have as full strength and power as England and it was specially incumbent on the Ottawa authorities to aid according to Canada's present position. The greater danger to England in time of war would be the cutting off of her supplies and for this purpose a strong fleet was demanded to preserve connections.

President Ward closed with an eloquent appeal for the institution of the All Red steamship route and cable service. He specially emphasized the latter as a means of banding the colonies together and said that while the vested interests of the present concerns in the field should not be jeopardized minimum rates should be obtained in some way.

KOOTENAY CENTRAL SURVEY

Line is Now Located Twelve Miles North of Fort Steele

(Special to The Daily News.)

FORT STEELE, Sept. 9—What might have been a serious automobile accident occurred on Monday near Bull river falls to a party travelling from Cranbrook in James McBride's White steamer. In climbing a short but rather steep hill near the new townsite the motion of the engine in some manner became reversed and the car backed down the grade at a considerable speed toppling over the grade and falling upside down, fortunately against a fallen tree. All the occupants of the car were more or less hurt, A. E. Watts, millman, being so severely injured that he had to be left at Bull river over night, while the others were able to reach Wardner by team, and got home the same night.

The K.C.R. surveyors have now arrived at Hanson's 12 miles north of Fort Steele. The question of a site for the station here is beginning to cause some discussion. There are two sites possible, the river flat northeast of the town, and the Wild Horse flat south of town. The latter being on the line of the present principal business street, if produced southward, occupies at this date apparently the favorite position. It is hoped that the wishes of the people will receive due consideration but no doubt the question of cost and convenience to the railway company will be the deciding factor.

The recent visit of Hon. Thomas Taylor through the Columbia-Kootenay valley will no doubt be productive of great public good.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE—Left side down between two figures.

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club

(Copyright 1909 by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

September 12th, 1909.

Close of Paul's Third Missionary Journey.—Acts 21:1-17.

Golden Text—The will of the Lord be done. Acts 21:14.

Verses 1-3—Where was Paul bound for?

Had Paul clearly received Divine instructions to go to Jerusalem or was he simply gratifying his own desires? (See Acts 20:16, 22-23.)

If a devoted man has a longing to go to a place, or to do a thing, is it safe for him to conclude that the longing is of God?

Because there is danger involved in a journey, or an enterprise, in connection with our religion, should we allow our chivalry alone to be the incentive for us to undertake it?

Is there any ground for the opinion that good men have sometimes rushed unnecessarily into danger?

Verse 4—If Christians have to tarry in a town should they hunt up the followers of Jesus?

If these disciples were told "through the Spirit" that Paul should not go up to Jerusalem why did he not heed them?

If there is no record that Paul had a direct call from God to go up to Jerusalem; would that, taken in connection with what these disciples said, indicate that Paul was doing wrong in going?

Is there danger that good men may be led by pious impulses, to do unwise things, which they could be saved from if they waited to cool off, and to get the mind of God? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

If it should prove that Paul was wrong in going to Jerusalem, which finally led to his martyrdom, would that in any way lessen our respect for him, or lessen his influence upon the world?

Verses 5-7—Should the children always be taken to church and to all religious gatherings?

Should a company of Christians, when bidding goodbye to one another on the wharf, or at the railway station, feel as free to get down on their knees and pray, as they are to stand and shake hands?

Why is it that Christians are not as willing to be seen talking to God, or praying, on the street, as they are to be seen talking to their fellows?

Verses 8-9—Who was Philip, and for what one thing is he distinguished in this gospel story?

Should Christian parents train their children from infancy to know God, to be skilful in prayer, in faith, and in good works?

Is there not a way for parents to train their children, so that the promise can be realized with absolute certainty in Joel 2:28, "Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy?"

Which is the more desirable, to have a son, or a daughter, noted for spirituality and soul saving, or for money making?

Verses 11-12—Did this noted prophet Agabus (see Acts 11:27-28) join with the rest of the saints in saying, that the Holy Spirit told them, that Paul ought not to go to Jerusalem?

Is there any way to consistently suppose that both parties to this loving controversy were right?

Suppose Agabus and the others were right in persuading Paul not to go to Jerusalem, but that Paul still thought he ought to go, what would be Paul's duty in the circumstances?

If a good man says he has a message from God for us, are we under obligation to obey whether our judgment may concur or not?

Verses 13-17—Can you recall in all history a greater example of fortitude and bravery than here displayed by Paul?

AVIATION IN ITALY

Curtiss Makes Successful Flight in Machine at Brescia

BRESCIA, Italy, Sept. 9—There was further aeroplane flying at Brescia today in the various contests arranged by the committee, including the Grand Prix, the 21.05-mile race and the "quick starting" race. Glenn H. Curtiss crossed the line for the Grand Prix to avoid penalization. He also took part in the quick starting event and succeeded in leaving the ground 50 yards from his starting point and covering the distance in the prescribed time. This was to be given to the one starting at 60 yards. The distance will be extended to 100 yards.

Bleriot, the French aviator, today announced that he regretted he could not accept the invitation to go to America as he had engagements up to the last day of December.

PURIFY AMERICAN STAGE

JEWS HAVE IT IN THEIR POWER TO DO SO

WHAT ONE OF THEIR LEADING RABBIS HAS TO SAY

Whether the dramatic season of last winter actually surpassed its predecessors in the number of unsavory or grossly suggestive presentations, or whether certain press agents in their excessive zeal merely overshot the mark and aroused a section of the public conscience which they did not aim at, the fact remains that the press was plunged into a spirited discussion of ways and means of purifying the American stage, says the Literary Digest, New York, which in the theatrical sense is the producing center of the country, was naturally the storm center of this agitation, reverberations of which are still in the air. It might be supposed that by this time the various allotments of responsibility for the alleged conditions, as well as the list of possible remedies, would have been exhausted. We find, nevertheless, an apparently new suggestion emanating from the pen of Rabbi Alexander Lyons and promulgated in the pages of a Jewish paper, The Federation Review (New York). According to Dr. Lyons it is the Jews of America who have it in their power to cleanse our stage for us. To quote his own words:

"The rampancy of the immoral on the stage at the present time and especially in New York, presents rare opportunity for the Jews. We could settle the problem of the purification of the stage if we chose to be true to our principles and traditions. We are chargeable with a large measure of responsibility for the continuance of dramatic conditions which insidiously debase, and are permitted because they entertain. We Jews can alter this. We are large patrons of the theatre. As theatrical managers, playwrights, actors and impresarios we wield a power difficult to resist in the theatrical world. Let us but agree to be a power for dramatic purity and the things which now disgust will give way to such as dignify while they delight. There is so much that is good and beautiful and beneficial that pays; why go after the bad, the ugly, the harmful?

"So I call upon the Jewish citizenship of the country, but especially of New York, which is a pace setter, to awaken to the present opportunity to do a thing for the uplifting of the drama; and let that be our patriotic contribution to the moral assets of the community. Let us Jews be true to ourselves, and there will be a theatre to work hand in hand with the school and church."

The Temple, a Jewish paper, published in Louisville, Ky., records its hearty agreement with the view of the matter as set forth by Rabbi Lyons, and adds the following comment of its own:

"Being friendly to the theatre, and recognizing it as one of the most influential agencies of entertainment and education, we should like to see it freed from the pollution that has engulfed it. The home of the drama ought to be the abode of art and not a picture gallery of vice, crime and degeneracy. The theatrical managers have been asserting that they are simply producing what the people demand—which is hardly the whole truth. But, be that as it may, good people ought to withdraw their patronage from playhouses and plays of a questionable character, and as Jews are known to be liberal patrons of the theatre, their influence in the right direction would not only bring credit to them as a religious and ethical community, but also mean a boom to dramatic art."

DIAZ WOULD CONTROL

MEXICO IN THROES OF VICE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

PRESIDENT THROWS WHOLE INFLUENCE FOR ONE CANDIDATE

Europe has followed with far more interest than has the United States the rise and progress of the presidential crisis in Mexico, says The Literary Digest. The situation, as European dailies expound it, is more clarified by the light of their comment than it is over here. Porfirio Diaz is to be re-elected as president. Who shall be vice president? There are two candidates—Ramon Corral, now vice president, and Gen. Bernardo Reyes, at present governor of one of the important states, and next to Diaz the best known soldier in the republic. The Diaz administration is understood to be a unit in support of Corral. The supporters of Reyes insist that their favorite is at a disadvantage owing to this pressure of the administration. The excitement in recent weeks has risen to fever heat. Diaz has been accused in some political pamphlets of usurping functions not his in order to help Corral. The importance of the situation arises from the conviction that Diaz will not survive his next term and that the vice president elected next year may rule the republic very soon thereafter. These circumstances have excited, as has been noted, keen interest in Europe, which is heavily interested in Mexican securities.

Be the effect of the crisis in Mexico upon public opinion here what it may, those European dailies which in the past have pronounced Porfirio Diaz the regenerator of his country continue to see in him the patriot and statesman. It will require much more, as the Independance Belge of Brussels observes, than the partial and partisan statements of the embittered office-seeker to persuade Europe that Mexico is a land of peonage and slavery. Moreover, as the Berlin Post adds, it is inconceivable that the whole world could be imposed upon by a system of deception so elaborate as to screen one vast nation from observation. In the words of the Paris Debats:

"There is in every land today an element of proletarian discontent. In fairness, to the rule of modern Mexico we must recollect what the extreme socialist says of the present government of Germany, of the present government of this country, and of the present government of even the United States. It is but a normal condition when popular discontent finds expression in denunciation of the official system. Perhaps there have been miscarriages of justice, but they can be corrected. It is not evident that the Diaz system has been a tyranny.

"Naturally, the sympathies of Europeans will incline toward Diaz. He has made the nation solvent. He has met the obligations of the treasury."

This is the point of view from which all comment is made. French dailies agree that if Castro had been like Diaz, inclined to meet his financial obligations, there need never have been any revolution in Venezuela. As for English dailies, they seem as yet inclined to reiterate those glowing eulogies of Diaz which they have been repeating for years. The London Times notes that one of the greatest of the evils by which the Mexico of former days was afflicted was the claim of large classes to be exempt from the jurisdiction of the ordinary tribunals and to extend this exemption not only to the members of their families, but even to their servants and other dependents:

"The first attempt to remedy the abuses hence arising was, indeed, made by President Juarez; but it was not until Gen. Porfirio Diaz became firmly seated that anything like equality before the law, and the security which such equality alone affords, could be said to be really established in the country. He has worked steadily for the repression of disorder, for the encouragement of industry, and for the establishment of the national finances upon a firm and orderly basis; and in these endeavors he is said to have been seconded, in a surprising and unexpected degree, by the awakening energies of a people newly released from misgovernment and oppression."

El Imparcial of Mexico City, which invariably reflects the opinion of those official elements to which law and orderly administration are more important than popular opinion, speaks of Gen. Reyes and his followers as revolutionaries. It remarks:

"In opposition to the program of the Reyist agitators are the interests of society which cannot exist if forever in the throes of action and reaction.

"Such sudden transitions from one conditions of things to another are not only in open conflict with the interest of society but are destructive of it. Such transitions were the characteristics of the revolutionary past, any they brought us to within an ace of losing our nationality. For this reason we have called the Reyists revolutionists, and they really are.

"What else but a revolutionary formula is a promise of the violent elimination of persons who have most made their mark in the administration during the last 30 years? What but preachers of revolution are the men who work on the multitude by promising them that their turn shall come, who hold out to them as a bait the recovery of the gold 'filched from the many,' according to the expression of an orator in a speech made at Torreon, a speech which sufficiently depicts his moral physiognomy?

"It has been often said that if the policy of Gen. Diaz saved society, it was because it attracted all national elements to the realization of a grand national work. It did not address its invitation to one or two parties, but to all Mexicans regardless of opinions and affiliations. The great triumph of the liberal party is due to the fact that it disassociated itself from the Jacobin persecutor to become a liberalism of concord which has united all Mexicans in the accomplishment of that fundamental necessity of a nation—existence.

NAVAL QUESTION

Sir William White at Vancouver—Sir J. Ward's Arrival

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9—Sir William White addressed a huge audience in the city hall last night on the naval question. In effect he said that it was unnecessary to discuss what Germany or other nations were doing, except in so far as it moved the empire to keep one ahead, and assure her naval supremacy. He regretted the abolition of the naval bases at Halifax and Esquimalt.

Sir Joseph Ward arrives here tomorrow and will be given a luncheon by the Canadian club.

Deposed Shah Leaves Persia

TEHERAN, Sept. 9 — The deposed shah of Persia left the confines of the Russian legation this afternoon and started on his journey to Russia. He is to live in practical exile, probably at Odessa.

UPHEAVAL IN HOCKEY

MAY BE SEVERAL CHANGES IN THE EASTERN LEAGUE

FRENCH-CANADIAN TEAM MAY BE INTRODUCED

The Star on Saturday announced that since the Wanderer franchise (said to have been sold for a considerable sum to Mr. Doran of the Jubilee rink) is to go east, a new team and a new club, to be formed of some of the principal men of the old Wanderers, were being created to take the place of the Wanderers in the Eastern Canada hockey league, says last Tuesday's Montreal Star.

The Star is in a position to go a little further and to announce that a serious upheaval in hockey circles is imminent.

In the serious talk about the immediate future and next season, two things stand out prominently, and these are a French Canadian team and a Montreal team.

For some years now, ever since the failure of the Federal league almost compelled them to drop out of hockey, the French Canadian lovers of the game have been trying to get into the big senior league.

For that time there was considerable objection of one sort or another, but it looks now as if time and circumstances had swept most of these objections away and that a place would be found for a French Canadian team if one were to apply. And that one will apply is almost certain, for there are a sufficient number of good French Canadian hockey players in Canada now to make up a first class team.

The matter has been more or less formally discussed as has the possibility of Montreal putting in another professional team, which, if properly managed will be a good revenue producer.

The objection has been made that the league would be too big, but this is met by the advocates of the extension with the statement that before the present league existed it consisted of Montreal, Shamrocks, Wanderers, Victorias as far as the local contingent was concerned.

The situation, therefore, would be exactly this: Montreal would take its former place, the French Canadian team would take the Victoria's place and the new team in the course of formation, and referred to in Saturday's Star will take the Wanderers' place.

There was a rumor to the effect that the Arena people intended to bar out all amateur hockey teams this coming season, but this is absolutely denied.

Naturally, if Montreal should have a professional team again, it looks very much as if Vics would be rather lonesome.

FEELING GROWS TENSE

ALL MEXICO IS OBSESSED BY POLITICAL SITUATION

GENERAL REYES RETURNS FROM MOUNTAIN RETREAT

MONTEREY, Sept. 9—General Bernardo Reyes arrived in this city last night, coming direct from El Podvenir on horse back, accompanied by six persons, including his aides, and the mayor of Monterey, who rode out to meet him. With his arrival the political situation grows more serious. He went directly to his home here and denied himself to all callers. No reception was given the general on his arrival after an absence of two months from the city and only a few people knew that in the small party which passed up the street was the governor of the state of Nuevoleon. On good authority it is stated that the general has resigned his post as governor and the meeting of the legislature is awaited for action on this.

An undercurrent of excitement prevails in the city which has not been suppressed by the terrible flood of two weeks ago and the question of politics it is declared, has even entered the ranks of the relief committee.

Flies Before Royalty

BERLIN, Sept. 9—Crown prince Frederick and the crown princess visited the Templehof parade grounds at an early hour this morning to see Orville Wright fly. The workings of the machine were explained to the royal visitors after which Mr. Wright made a flight of 20 minutes in a strong wind. He then descended and went up with a passenger, Capt. Englehardt, his German pupil, and remained in the air for 15 minutes.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL NELSON, B.C.

THE LATE E. H. HARRIMAN

Mr. Edward Henry Harriman, perhaps the most striking figure the railway world has ever known, died yesterday, to a large extent, it is said, a victim of the treachery of some of those with whom he was associated in the handling of the enterprises in which he was interested. If stories be true, it was to prevent the manipulation of the stock of the Southern Pacific railway by some of his associates that Mr. Harriman left Europe, where he was undergoing medical treatment, and hurried back to take the helm. His hurried journey home, and the excitement and worry following undoubtedly hastened, if it did not actually cause, his end.

Whatever may be said of Mr. Harriman's ideas of railway operation and the relations of corporations to governments the fact remains that his was a mighty brain. It took a man of tremendous ability to accomplish what he did, not only in the way of securing control of railways, but also of changing them from bankrupt undertakings to paying concerns. This is what he did with the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railways, as well as with other roads. It was what he did in this direction that distinguished him from the ordinary Wall street stock jobber. He realised that dividends could not be secured from poor roads and was therefore prepared to spend any amount of money on improvements so long as these would bring in returns.

Mr. Harriman's age at the time of his death was 63 years, of which 45 had been spent in close association with Wall street. As a result of his operations during these years he had amassed a fortune variously estimated at anywhere between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000. Probably the most pleasure he got out of this money was the power it gave him to carry out further schemes. He never took time from his duties to enjoy his money in the way that most people do. Now, however, he is gone and his money is left, and it is quite likely that his beneficiaries will take out of it the pleasure which he denied himself to secure it. This is neither here or there, however. The real fact is that a great man has departed and in doing so leaves behind him a marvellous record of accomplishment.

HOTEL SITE QUESTION

The first definite step toward placing the advantages of Nelson as a site for the proposed C. P. R. tourist hotel before the officials of the railway company was taken last evening when the secretary was instructed to write Mr. William Whyte, second vice president, placing the city's claims in this respect before him. This is all right as a first move, but the matter must not be allowed to rest there.

There is no question but that Mr. Whyte will give this letter every consideration, but it may be pointed out that he is only one, although a most important one, of the officials who will have to deal with the matter of selecting a site for the proposed hotel before it is finally settled. The board of trade must be prepared to back up the action taken last night in any and every way that may be found necessary. In this connection it may be mentioned that Sir Thomas Shaughnessy is likely to be in Nelson shortly. He is the head of the C. P. R. and the man before whom eventually the selection of the site for the hotel is more than likely to come before being decided. It would, therefore, be an excellent move were Sir Thomas shown the sites for such a building that are available in and close to Nelson. To acquaint Sir Thomas with the sites available could not be taken as in any way interfering with the negotiations being opened with Mr. Wnyte. It is merely placing Sir Thomas in the possession of information that may prove of service not only to the company of which he is the head, but also to the city of Nelson. There is, therefore, every reason why action along these lines should be taken, if opportunity presents.

A DISAPPOINTING NUMBER

The News is in receipt of the seventy-fifth anniversary number of the Mining Journal of London, England, which thus describes itself: "The oldest mining paper and the pioneer of the technical and trade press of the world. Circulates all over the world." The number contains a lot of excellent reading for anyone interested in mining, but Canadians will perhaps be surprised and certainly disappointed to learn that the only mention of mining in Canada consists of a page writeup of a Quebec asbestos company. Neither the coal, iron and gold mines of the maritime provinces, the famous Cobalt camp, or other Ontario mineral deposits, the coal mines of Alberta and Saskatchewan, nor the almost illimitable mineral deposits of British Columbia are mentioned. An uninformed reader of the big anniversary number would not know that there was any mining going on in Canada beyond the development of some asbestos properties in the province of Quebec which the Mining Journal did not think of sufficient importance to mention outside the page on which appeared the company's advertisement. The omission of any mention of mining in Canada is all the more marked in view of the fact that the old country, Africa, Australia, Tasmania, the United States, Russia, and even the South American republic of Colombia, as well as other countries, all come in for their share of attention. Canada has, of course, no claim on the space of the Mining Journal, but at the same time it is rather singular that there was no mention of the mining industry of this country in this particular issue. However, Canada is big enough and its mining industry is on a sufficiently stable basis not to be seriously affected by the omission, whether intentional or otherwise.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The week after next Nelson's annual fruit fair takes place. The time left in which to prepare for it is not long, but it is long enough to make it a success if everyone will lend a hand.

The board of trade acted in the interests of Nelson last evening in taking up the question of the mail service to Comaplix and adjacent points. There is no reason why the mail from Nelson for these points should be carried through to Revelstoke and lay there for 24 hours before being forwarded to its destination.

NO DECISION IS GIVEN

JOHNSON AND KAUFMAN BATTLE TO THE LIMIT

CHAMPION HAD THE BETTER OF THE CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9—Referee Smith refused to give a decision after Jack Johnson and Al Kaufman had battled 10 rounds in the much-heralded contest here tonight. Johnson, however, had a clear lead in every round and easily earned the unofficial decision of the newspapermen.

Round 1—Johnson opened with left hook to stomach; they mixed at close quarters. Johnson landed right and left short arm punches to jaw and left to face. Kaufman looked worried. Johnson closed in, landing short arm right and left to the head. There was little sting in them, however. Just before the round ended Kaufman shot a right and left to jaw, but the champion only smiled. Kaufman seemed slow in comparison with the fast work of Johnson.

Round 3—Johnson drove a wicked left to jaw and a hard one to the stomach and uppercut twice with his right to the mouth, and blood spurted from Kaufman's mouth. Johnson planted an awful right on his opponent's bleeding face and forced him to stall. Johnson taunted Kaufman good-naturedly and varied this with two fearful jabs to the jaw. The bell rang and Kaufman tumbled into his chair with blood flowing in a stream from his mouth and eye. It was apparent that Johnson was clearly master and could finish him at such time as he was ready to cut loose.

COLUMBIA GARDEN NEWS

Ranchers Are Shipping Products—Station and Platform Needed

Paull Bros. shipped eight cars of ripe tomatoes to Rossland and large quantities of cucumbers, tomatoes and citrons to Ymir. They have a large quantity of the last named vegetable as well as of watermelons ready for the market. They also shipped 1000 pounds of potatoes to the Salmo Trading company. The potato crop has been an exceptionally good one.

Mr. Brown ships weekly a half ton of potatoes to R. G. Joy of Nelson.

Mr. Kinsley left this week for Seattle to take in the fair and the coast cities generally.

E. S. F. McKay shipped a carload of first class lumber to the Trail smelter from his sawmill. He has several car*loads yet to ship and at least 150,000 feet* in logs which will keep him busy for some time.

George Sanders caught a 10-pound fish in the Columbia river the other day. Experts says it is a rainbow trout.

James Quail also landed an 8-pounder. This is an excellent locality for tourists and hunters, while the scenery is of the finest and the accommodation of the best.

James Hunter of Spokane, president of the Sayward syndicate and of the Colum*bia Gardens Flume company,* paid a visit last week. He had a 20-acre orchard doing well.

The S. F. & N. Railway company has not as yet provided a station house or even a platform. Accommodation of this kind is very badly needed both for the convenience of passengers and the shipment of goods in and out.

Mr. Paull, the local merchant, has delivered steel and powder required for work on the government road, which is rapidly progressing under the able management of C. B. Archibald. People will shortly be able to ride bicycles into Fruitvale.

M. S. Middleton, a representative of the provincial department of agriculture who was to have lectured here on fruit growing, failed to appear, much to the disappointment of many. It is hoped, however, to have the pleasure of listening to him at no very distant date.

Mrs. Miller has returned home after a six weeks' visit to her daughter at Creney, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Husband are the happy possessors of another little daughter.

Mrs. Summers, a skillful and accomplished trained nurse, has given up nursing (except in emergency cases) and intends residing here permanently, taking up chicken and fruit growing.

CRESTON BUSH FIRES

Outbreaks Are Being Fought With Success—Fruit Exhibits

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRESTON, Sept. 9.—All last night and this morning a fierce timber fire has been raging at Canyon City, eight miles from Creston. This fire is by far the worst that has visited the Creston district this year. It is stated that about 40 men are making a heroic effort to prevent the fire from spreading and the latest word this morning is that they are succeeding in their work C. O. Rodgers owns over 800 acres of choice fruit land at Canyon City and he is making a strong fight against the fire fiend.

Up to the present time no serious damage has been done in the immediate vicinity of Creston by timber fires and if the fire fighters at Canyon City are successful in preventing this present fire from spreading any further a great feat will have been accomplished.

Arrangements have been made whereby the local fruit growers will send displays of fruit and vegetables to the Cranbrook exhibition next week. It is also likely that contributions of fruit and vegetables will be sent to the fair at Nelson, as well as to Kaslo.

nection Mr. Beeston stated that he had written unofficially to A. O. Whelan, president of the Alpine club of Canada, pointing out the attractions of the Ainsworth caves and suggesting that Mr. Whelan, who is an official of the dominion government, should take up the matter with a view to arranging that the caves should be advertised. A letter from C. J. Kiralfy, manager of the Great White City, London, Eng., suggested that Nelson should exhibit at the British-Japan exhibition next year. The letter was referred to the publicity committee.

Frank J. Clark of Victoria wrote asking the board to supply Hon. J. H. Turner, agent general for British Columbia in London, with advertising matter.

A. E. Watts asked for the loan of a copy of the contract between the dominion government and the C.P.R. The president had written in the secretary's absence that the matter would be attended to on Mr. Beeston's return. Mr. Watts' letter was filed.

A letter from J. W. Ford on the hotel question was produced by the secretary and at the request of a member of the board was read. The letter will probably be kept by the board as a curiosity.

A letter asking for the latest portrait of the president of the board of trade and a sketch of his career was received from the Canadian Courier. A motion to forward the required information and photograph was carried.

W. W. Beer, for the insurance committee, reported that while at Vancouver he had seen the president of the Underwriters' association. As the third member of the committee was not present he did not think it advisable to present any report. Another reason for not presenting a report was that he did not think the business men of Nelson had shown sufficient interest in the matter. He was convinced however, that lower rates could be obtained if the matter were gone about in the right way. In conclusion Mr. Beer again mentioned the lack of interest by business men in the matter.

A report from J. L. Buchan, for the advertising committee, was read by the secretary. Mr. Buchan stated that the Nelson exhibit had arrived at Toronto in excellent condition. The committee wished to express their thanks to the C.P.R. and to the local officers of the Dominion Express company for the assistance rendered by them in the matter. Mr. Buchan also stated that it was the intention of the committee to shortly commence a campaign of newspaper publicity. A vote of thanks to the C.P.R. and Express company was then passed.

W. G. McMorris brought up the question of bad mail service to Comaplix and adjacent points. It was suggested by residents of these places that a special mail bag should be made up at Nelson. It would, he thought, considerably increase the trade of Nelson. He suggested that the board should take the mater up and the meeting decided to do so.

W. H. Jones spoke of the mail service on the Arrow lakes and Messrs McMorris and Jones were appointed a committee to prepare information for submission to the postoffice department.

W. J. Astley asked if the board would take any action as to the buoys on the lake which were a source of danger to navigation. He referred particularly to a buoy just above Harrop.

It was pointed out that the matter was under the jurisdiction of the dominion government.

Mr. Selous thought that any unlighted buoy was a source of danger to launches at night. He thought that the time had come when these buoys should be lighted. The secretary should write to the proper authorities and ask that the buoys should be kept in place and, if possible, illuminated.

Mr. Wright thought that the local authority, whoever it might be, should be communicated with first, and the board decided this should be done.

Those present at the meeting were: F. A. Starkey, E. K. Beeston, W. J. Astley, I. G. Nelson, Hugh W. Robertson, J. A. Irving, W. G. McMorris, W. H. Jones, E. W. Widdowson, J. M. Lay, C. G. Broadwood, W. W. Beer, C. W. Busk, J. L. Buchan, S. A. Kelly, W. F. Roberts, W. B. Farris, H. Selous, Harry Wright, J. W. Holmes, Sr., H. E. Douglas, Allan Lean.

SMOKER TONIGHT

Great Program Has Been Arranged for Concert in Eagle Hall

A splendid program has been arranged for the Eagles' smoking concert in the Eagle hall tonight. In addition to songs and dances by the best local talent there will be three boxing matches, a wrestling match, a sword dance, and selections from the latest light music by the band and orchestra of the order.

The last smoker held under the auspices of the Eagles in the Alice roller rink early in the year proved a huge success and was very largely attended. It is anticipated from the number of tickets already sold and the interest aroused that the concert this evening will prove an even more emphatic success.

The program in itself should insure a very large attendance, while the audience will find the hall an unusually comfortable one and with excellent acoustic properties.

The Eagles band will give an open air concert in front of the hall commencing at 7.30. The program will be as follows: Irish intermezzo, "Dublin Daisies," Percy Wenrich; overture, "The Calif of Bagdad," A. Boildeau; waltzes, "Under the Rose," B. B. Blake; intermezzo, "The Troubadour," W. C. Powell; medley, "Remick's Hits No. 5," introducing the following songs: "Shine on Harvest Moon," "When I Marry You," "I Want Someone to Call Me Dearie," "I Used to Be Afraid to Go Home in the Dark," "Golden Arrow," "Dear Heart," "Dreamland," and "Big Night Tonight"; March, "Apple Jack," C. Johnson.

HON. CHARLES MURPHY SAYS SUPPORT INSUFFICIENT

MAKES COMPARISON WITH CONSERVATIVE PAPERS

TORONTO, Sept. 9.—In a heart to heart talk with Liberal members yesterday at the annual dinner of the General Reform association of Ontario, Hon. Charles Murphy, secretary of state, expressed the opinion that the Liberal press did not give the same support to its party as did that of the opposition press to the Conservative party. The Liberal newspapers admitted that, he said, and the only explanation he could get was the claim of independence.

"I have never heard," said Mr. Murphy, "any member of the Liberal party ask for support from any but the independent press, and I would not like to be supported by any but independent papers, but that *is not an explanation why the press sup*porting the Liberals party cannot give the party the necessary support."

Hon. G. P. Graham also addressed the meeting. "We hope," said the minister of railways, "that during the approaching session parliament will prepare a program to be placed before the people of Canada with reference to imperial questions which will be popular not only with the people of this province and of the Dominion, but with the entire empire."

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Dear Sirs,—While in the country last summer I was badly bitten by mosquitoes, so badly that I thought I would be disfigured for a counle of weeks. I was advised to try your liniment to allay the irritation, and did so. The effect was more than I expected, a few applications completely curing the irritation, and preventing the bites from becoming sore. MINARD'S LINIMENT is also a good article to keep off the mosquitoes.
Yours truly,

RESTORING OF TRAMWAY

NELSON BUSINESS MEN EXPRESS THEIR OPINIONS

W. RUTHERFORD THINKS FAIRVIEW SHOULD ASSIST

The prospect of the resumption of the street railway service has occasioned a lot of discussion around the city. The following are some of the expressions of opinion heard in the course of the reporter's rounds:

A. B. Netherby—I shall be very glad indeed to see the line in operation again. It is certainly something for which Nelson and its citizens have a very real need. It will be the best thing for the city which could possibly happen and the proposal could not have come at a more opportune time.

Dr. Hartin—It is undoubtedly a good scheme, and in addition to subscribing to it I shall be perfectly willing to buy a season ticket at whatever price the company may decide to charge for them. The restarting of the system will be an excellent thing for everyone in the city. I think that the people generally will be strongly in favor of it—they could not be otherwise. It will, of course, appeal particularly to merchants and residents in the outlying parts of the city to whom it will be an enormous advantage and whose property cannot but rise in value rapidly. As for myself it will save me many a a hard tramp to see patients.

Bell Trading company—We consider that every good citizen of Nelson should do everything in his power to assist the new company and the restarting of the tramway. The sooner it gets going again the better for everyone. It will give Nelson a busy appearance and in that way will be a great advertisement and attract the attention of many persons who would otherwise pass through thinking that business was dull. It will be one of the best advertisements Nelson could possibly have and from an investor's point of view should be a paying proposition. It must, of course, be run on business lines and with economy, and if this is done it will certainly be a profitable venture. When the people of Nelson once get educated to riding on the cars the receipts will increase by leaps and bounds. When the line starts running again we will all get the tramway riding habit. That will not be difficult when one considers the numbers of hills which many residents of Nelson have to climb.

G. W. McBride—I think it an excellent proposition and a good thing for the city.

Fred A. Starkey—It has certainly everything to recommend it. It will be the cheapest and best advertisement Nelson could obtain, besides the fact that it will assist very materially and, I believe, rapidly in building up the outlying parts of the city. With the restarting of the tramway I can safely predict a great increase in building and in population. When the line is once more running people will erect residences some distance from the centre of the city, and thus spend money which would otherwise be lying idle and unproductive. The building activity will, of course, also mean the employment of a large amount of labor. I hope that the tramway will result in Nelson streets once more resuming their old state of bustling activity.

W. Douche—I am heartily in favor of the project and have little doubt but that the street railway will again be in operation by Jan. 1, 1909. The city is steadily growing and I am confident that Nelson will have a population of 10,000 in the very near future. It is difficult to get around with a horse and buggy or a wheel in Nelson, and for this reason I claim that a street railway here would carry as many passengers as a similar undertaking in most other cities of twice the size. Then, although the project must be looked upon as a business proposition, we are most anxious to restart the tramcar for the sake of the women and children who find it most difficult to get around at any season of the year. The city is extending its proportions and Fairview has grown rapidly of late. This growth, I am sure, would greatly increase with a street car in operation. With a good manager and a local board of directors I fail to see why the tramway would not be a profitable enterprise.

A. S. Horswill—I am confident that the restarting of the street car service would materially uplift Nelson. I consider that the growth of this city has been retarded by the system being out of commission for the past 16 months. I am most anxious to see the cars running again as early as possible and am sure that every resident of the city would be greatly benefitted. My candid opinion, however, is that too good a proposition has been made to the city.

W. N. Poole—The proposal to restart the tram cars is one of the most progressive ideas mooted in Nelson for some time. A street railway would not only be of great convenience to residents of the city and create a favorable impression amongst visitors, but would greatly enhance the value of real estate throughout the city and suburbs. Not only would the residents of Fairview be greatly benefitted by the operation of a street railway but those citizens resident up the hill would find it most convenient, especially if the line was extended.

Harry Houston—The building of a railway into British Columbia was the means of bringing about confederation with the Dominion of Canada. The operation of the street railway may have a tendency along the same lines of uniting the two municipalities of Nelson and Fairview. Considerable benefit would accrue to residents of this city and suburbs as a result of the restarting of the street railway.

J. P. Evans—By subscribing to the new street railway company I think I have sufficiently expressed my sentiments on the matter. Had I not been heartily in favor of the project and recognized its importance I would not have considered the matter.

Thomas D. Stark—I live on Robson street and consequently realize the necessity of a street railway in Nelson, not only as a means of advertising the city and of creating a most favorable impression among visitors, but for use of the citizens of Nelson. I hope to see the street railway in operation again as early as possible.

George Horstead—I think the old street railway was the best advertising medium the city ever had and I am confident that the putting into operation of the system would greatly benefit every resident of Nelson. With the great improvements at present being made to the streets of the city and the tramway being restarted Nelson would be even more attractive to tourists. The operation of the street railway in the past has been somewhat curtailed and I would be greatly in favor of extending the system so that every resident of the city would be benefitted by it. In past years, however, the cars have been out of commission for periods through the winter. This is a mistake. It should be in operation throughout the year or not at all.

J. A. McDermid—The business men of Nelson subscribed the sum necessary to build the new skating rink inside a week. I can, therefore, see no reason why enough additional capital to restart the tramway should not be subscribed in a very short space of time. My proposal would be to give three or four influential citizens sole control and to hold them responsible for the successful operation of the system. In this manner I am sure there would be no difficulty in making the undertaking a lucrative one.

R. Andrews—It is an excellent scheme and I am strongly in favor of it. It will show people that Nelson is still very much alive.

W. Rutherford—The tramway is a thing we should have. I think, however, in this connection that the city council and the tramway company should appoint a committee to wait on some of the residents of Fairview in order to point out to them the advantages the tramway will be to that part of Nelson and suggest that the question of incorporation with the city should be again brought up. It will be remembered that this was before a meeting of Fairview citizens early in this year, and after some consideration it was decided that the time had not then arrived for the change. It is true that incorporation with Nelson might slightly increase the taxation in Fairview, but the advantages which would be gained by that suburb should fully repay them for the extra expenditure. It does not seem to me to be a fair deal that Fairview should obtain the advantage of the tramway, for instance, absolutely free of cost.

A child's blue coat, left at Proctor on Labor day, is now at the store of C. A. Benedict, Silica street, where it can be procured by the owner.

"The Legend of Sterling Keep" is a feature film that will be shown at the Empire theatre this evening and one that will prove of great interest. The balance of the program is well balanced and includes "Theodore Yearns to Be a Touch," "A Convict's Revenge," "The Advantages of Aviation" (good comic), "The Governor's Daughter" and "The Crazy Barber." Mrs. Roth will sing "Papa Buy Me an Airship."

Commencing next Monday evening the Empire theatre will use the Kleine service, which is recognized as the best procurable in Canada. Tonight the Arcade is showing a film of exceptional interest entitled "The Grand Canyon of Arizona." This is a magnificent picture of what is considered one of the grandest canyons in the United States. The other subjects are up to the usual high standard of excellence and comprise "Mystery of a Diamond Necklace," a fine dramatic film; "Where is My Head?" vaudeville; "Buying a Dog," and "Book Worm" are screamingly funny pictures. Our ever popular soprano, Miss Mackenzie, will render "Dear Heart," illustrated. Tomorrow there will be a matinee at 2.30.

FERNIE'S ELECTRIC SYSTEM

Power House Is Nearing Completion and Will Soon Be in Operation

(Special to The Daily News.)

FERNIE, Sept. 9.—The new power house for the electric light plant is rapidly nearing completion and will be ready for the installation of the machinery in a few days. The special boilers have not yet arrived, however, and it will probably be a month or more before the system is in working order. The town has been without a lighting plant ever since the fire and the operation of the new system will be heartily welcomed.

Judge Wilson will hold a sitting of the county court for the next few days. Several important cases are on the docket.

A movement is on foot to induce the city council to establish a park at the source of the new water supply at Fairy creek. No prettier or more suitable spot could be selected for such a purpose, and should the effort to secure it be successful, it will become one of the most attractive places in the district.

Chief Young of Comaplix is in the city on a business trip. He reports that the mining situation in the Lardeau country is very much improved and shows signs of rapid development. Lumbering is good and the business outlook is better than it has been for years. Chief Young says that the residents of Beaton, Comaplix, Camborne, Ferguson and Trout Lake City have good grounds for complaint over the way the postal authorities are handling the mail from Nelson into those towns. The mail leaves Nelson at 5.45 p. m. and arrives at Arrowhead at 12.30 the following day. A steamer makes close connection with the boat from West Robson at Arrowhead for Comaplix and Beaton and arrives at those points about 4 p. m. with passengers from Nelson, but the mail matter is carried on to Revelstoke instead of being transferred at Arrowhead. It is reported at Revelstoke and sent back to Arrowhead the following day, arriving at Comaplix and Beaton same 24 hours later than the passenger that left Nelson on the same train.

Mr. Young explains that as the matter stands now mail matter arrives from Vancouver in less time than it does from Nelson and that on this account much trade that would otherwise come to Nelson is going to the coast city. Mr. Young suggests that the difficulty could easily be overcome by making up a mail sack in the Nelson post office for the Lardeau points mentioned above and transferring it from the steamers running between West Robson and Arrowhead to the boat plying between Arrowhead and Beaton.

TO PUSH DEVELOPMENT

J. S. AIRHEART RETURNS FROM NEW YORK AND SALT LAKE

PURCHASES ADDITIONAL MACHINERY FOR AINSWORTH MINES

J. S. Airheart, president and manager of the Highland-Buckeye Mines, Limited, the company operating the Highland-Buckeye and United mines at Ainsworth, returned last evening from a business visit to Salt Lake City and New York and leaves this afternoon for Ainsworth.

While in the east Mr. Airheart purchased a large amount of new machinery for the mines, including a compressor plant from the Ingersoll-Rand company, and a car of other machinery which will be installed on the properties as soon as it arrives, so that development work may be continued upon the two properties on a much more extensive scale than heretofore.

Speaking to a representative of The Daily News at the Hume Mr. Airheart said that it was the company's intention to push development as much as possible and to work the properties extensively. He stated that some 75 men were at present employed at the two mines and that the force on the United would be considerably increased as early as the pumps were put in a state of repair. The Highland-Buckeye was shipping but it was the intention of his company to do considerable development work on the United before commencing to take out ore. This development work would be rushed along without delay.

Mr. Airheart said that the Highland mill was running practically continuously and was crushing about 100 tons of ore daily. He thought that the shipments from the Highland would assume considerable proportions in the near future and that it may yet again be the second largest shipper of silver-lead ore in the province.

"The Highland-Buckeye Mines, Limited," said Mr. Airheart, "has all the capital necessary to follow a system of legitimate mining and is no stock-jobbing proposition. We consider our properties are amongst the best in the Kootenay and my company is confident of yielding big returns from the output of the mines in the near future."

WIN HANDSOME TROPHIES

TWO CUPS ARE CAPTURED BY 102ND REGIMENT

CAPT. C. T. PARTINGTON SECURES RURAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Two very handsome shooting trophies arrived in the city last evening from Ottawa, having been won in the Canadian Rifle league series of matches. The Canadian Rifle league hold a series of competitions annually and donate cups for the highest individual and team scores, which are contested for very keenly by every rifle team in Canada.

Capt. C. T. Partington, of the 102nd regiment, R. M. R., this year captured the individual cup with the high average of 97.25 out of a possible 105 in a series of four shoots, his score in each consecutive shoot being 97, 95, 99 and 98, thus giving him the championship of Canada in the rural corps.

The team of ten men from B. company 102nd, R. M. R., won third place in the second series thus winning a very handsome cup with the arms of the Canadian Rifle league and suitably engraved. The team made the high score of 8704 points out of a possible 4200, or an average of 92.60 out of a possible 105 per man.

The splendid results made by the members of the local corps will undoubtedly have a good effect in encouraging rifle shooting generally throughout the district.

KOOTENAY PRESBYTERY

MEETING HERE CONCLUDES AFTER TWO-DAY SITTING

LARGE VARIETY OF MATTERS ARE DEALT WITH

The Presbytery of Kootenay closed its meetings in St. Paul's church shortly before midnight on Wednesday. The morning session was devoted to the consideration of the shares to be taken by the different congregations in raising the allocated amounts for the home mission and augmentation funds. The failure of some congregations to do anything in this direction was regretfully animadverted on, and it was resolved to press upon all the consideration of their duty.

The afternoon was devoted to reports from the sixteen mission fields within the district, most of which had been supplied during the summer and efficiently worked. The evidences of substantial progress were gratifying and the demand to be made upon the home mission fund was less than had been anticipated. Satisfaction was expressed with the regular settlements of ministers in the pastoral charges of New Denver and Trail which are on the list of augmented churches.

In the evening consideration was given to remits from the recent general assembly, including a recommendation that in October the attention of congregations should be called to the proposals for church union.

In connection with moral and social reforms the formation of local branches of the General Reform Council of Canada was welcomed, and the hope was expressed that efforts would be made towards the curbing of the abuses of the liquor traffic, the suppression of houses of ill fame, public gambling and Sabbath desecration.

The attention of the attorney general was called to alleged recent breaches of the Lord's Day act in connection with Sunday launch races at Christina lake. Full consideration was given to the interests of the students for the university within the district. It was resolved to hold the next half-yearly meeting in February at Nelson. Mrs. Walker, Toronto, addressed a meeting of the women in the afternoon in the interests of home mission work. She left in the evening by the coast train for Kamloops.
