George Bradbury, M. P. on Arrow Lake Scenery

VIEWS ON NAVAL DEFENCE

FAVORS DIRECT CONTRIBUTION TO IMPERIAL NAVY AS FIRST STEP, WITH ESTABLISHMENT OF CANADIAN NAVY AS SECONDARY MEASURE

"I have travelled a good deal, but never have I seen anything to equal the trip down the Arrow lakes from Arrowhead to Robson. It really was a revelation to me and I am sure would be to thousands upon thousands of others were the tide of tourist travel directed this way. All that is required is the proper advertising and additional facilities for traffic to make this one of the most popular summer routes on the continent, or, as a matter of fact, anywhere in the world. One of the chief needs, if I may be permitted to make a suggestion, is a first-class tourist hotel such as the C.P.R. maintains at other points, and I think Nelson is the place for it."

The above is the statement made to The Daily News yesterday by George H. Bradbury, M. P. for Selkirk, Man., who is now making a trip through this country in company with his two sisters, the Misses Bradbury. Mr. Bradbury spent yesterday meeting many old friends resident in Nelson and in seeing the city, with which he expressed himself delighted, remarking on the improvement he noted in comparison with its appearance when he was here some five or six years ago. At present Mr. Bradbury and his sisters are returning from the coast where, besides spending some time at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific fair at Seattle, they visited Victoria and Vancouver.

Mr. Bradbury is an enthusiast on the question of naval defence and takes the position that Canada's first duty is to contribute direct to the imperial navy in the way of Dreadnoughts or equally effective fighting vessels, suggesting, if necessary, the giving of a vessel for every province in the Dominion. In addition to this he favors the establishment of a local Canadian navy.

When seen at the Hume yesterday Mr. Bradbury said that the only disappointment he had had so far on his trip was with the Seattle fair. The location and the buildings were all that could be desired but the exhibits and the attractions were in many cases below what he had been led to expect. Naturally he had been much interested in Canada's showing. The Canadian building was one of the best and the exhibits likewise were good. The only fault to be found was that the Canadian exhibit was not given the prominence in the official guide book to which is was entitled. He thought that the Canadian representatives should have seen to it that Canada got as much prominence in this respect as other foreign countries. One thing that had particularly struck him in regard to the exhibition was the complete absence of any sign of the Union Jack except in and around the Canadian building. This example of the loyalty to their own flag on the part of Americans was one that could well be taken to heart when planning decorations in this country. The Union Jack should be good enough for all such purposes.

Mr. Bradbury said he was delighted with his visit to the coast Canadian cities. Both Vancouver and Victoria were making great progress and the former was destined in the not far distant future to be a great city. He had the pleasure of attending the recent picnic at Sidney, Vancouver island, of the Victoria conservatives and had listened with interest to the addresses, but particularly to that of Premier McBride. As a result he realized to some extent the reason for Mr. McBride's great strength throughout this province. He had a most magnetic personality and his evident sincerity in speaking could not but draw to him the affections of the people as a whole. His strength of character also was well shown in the magnificent fight he put up for British Columbia at the provincial conference held at Ottawa a few years ago, where he had arrayed against him practically all the other provincial premiers, as well as the whole force of the Dominion government. Mr. McBride, however, refused to be cajoled or coerced into sacrificing the interests of his province. The fight he put up on that occasion gave him a high standing throughout the whole of Canada and should win for him the support of the people of his own province. In recent years British Columbia had made wonderful progress as a result of Premier McBride's wise and far-seeing administration, but what had been accomplished up to the present was small compared with what the next few years will show if Mr. McBride is permitted to work out his policy.

While at the coast he had the opportunity of meeting two of his fellow members at Ottawa, G. H. Barnard, member for Victoria, and G. H. Cowan, member for Vancouver, both of whom had already made their mark at Ottawa. In saying this he did not want to be taken as saying anything disparaging to the other conservative members from British Columbia. A finer body of men than the present conservative members at Ottawa from British Columbia it would be hard to find. Martin Burrell was one of the most polished speakers in politics today, while Mr. Goodeve's debating ability attracted to him the attention of both sides of the house. Outside of this his personality enabled him to make quite as many friends among the liberal members as among the conservatives. The combativeness of Mr. Taylor, member for New Westminster, and his knowledge of the rules of the house made him a strong acquisition to the opposition ranks. Certainly British Columbia made no mistake last fall when it sent these five members to Ottawa.

The action of the people of British Columbia on that occasion may be taken to a certain extent at least as an indication that the far west has awakened to the fact that the present liberal government is the most profligate and wasteful combination that has ever held power in Canada. Take, for example, the Grand Trunk Pacific, which the people were assured by no less an authority than the premier himself would cost Canada not one dollar more than $13,000,000. Notwithstanding the premier's word, thanks to the methods followed in the construction of the government section, this line would cost the country not much less than $250,000,000 before it was completed. In addition the public heritage, consisting of timber, coal and other lands, had been given to government heelers at a loss to the country of tens of millions of dollars.

Regarding the question of Canadian contribution to the imperial navy Mr. Bradbury was quite pronounced. He said: "The attitude of the present government is anything but satisfactory to well wishers of the British empire. The idea of a Canadian navy under control of the department of marine and fisheries would be a howling farce. Anyone who is familiar with Mr. Brodeur's record as head of that department cannot but know this. But even if there were no danger of this kind the establishment of a Canadian navy as a first step in the direction of Canadian contribution to the imperial is a wrong policy. The British fleet should first be placed in a position to meet all comers and in this work Canada should do her part. Then, after this has been done, Canada could think of putting a number of small defence vessels on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Apart from the providing of ships there is also much that Canada can do in the way of defence by keeping Esquimalt, Quebec, Halifax and other forts in shape for the work for which they were intended. At present these are rapidly falling into disrepair.

"Canada during the past 25 years has done wonders in the way of developing railways and other means of transportation and her work in this direction has added greatly to the strength of the whole empire. But it should not be forgotten, nor overlooked for a moment, that while we have been doing this our accomplishments were made possible only by the fact that Canadian interests, commercial and otherwise, were fully protected and their safety guaranteed by the British navy, which at present commands the seas. Just so long as this navy maintains its present position on the seas, and not a day longer, are Canadian interests and prosperity assured. If this is a fact, and I am satisfied it is, then from a selfish standpoint, if from no other, it is imperative, in the interests of Canada, that the supremacy of the imperial navy be maintained. We, therefore, should do all that lies in our power to make that navy an imperial one, in fact as well as in name, by contributing to its strength where the highest efficiency is required, and that is beyond any doubt in the home waters. When the test comes, if come it ever does, and the supremacy of the British navy is threatened it will not be on Canadian shores that this will occur, but in the North sea, or perhaps the Mediterranean. What strength would it be to the imperial navy in a crisis of this kind to know that Canada had a few gunboats on the Pacific or even on the Atlantic? What the British Canadians demand is that we be represented in the fighting line when our vessels can be of service if the necessity arises, and that can only be done by our having ships constructed with Canadian money under the direction and control of the imperial admiralty. Canada cannot afford to look on any longer. This tommyrot talked by the minister of marine and men of his school about a Canadian navy on the Pacific at this time is almost as insult to the intelligence of self-respecting Canadians. In the name of common sense what strength would such a scheme as outlined by Mr. Brodeur be in case, for example, of Germany declaring war against Great Britain.

"We, as Canadians, are proud of our position as part of the empire, but how would we feel to be standing idly by at a time when the integrity of the empire, which is synonymous with that of the British navy, was at stake? I misjudge the pulse of the people of this country if they will be satisfied to occupy any such humiliating position as that in which the policy of the present government, if persisted in, will place us. I feel that Canada will demand of its rulers that we be properly represented in the imperial navy by our

LAST SESSION

Imperial Defence Conference Sittings Over

GATHERING WAS SUCCESS

PARTICULARS OF PLANS DECIDED UPON ARE NOT YET ISSUED—BROAD PRINCIPLES OF THE SCHEME—SIR THEODORE MARTIN DIES

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 19—At the closing meeting of the imperial defence conference, which was of short duration, addresses were delivered by prominent ministers and representatives of the colonies upon the successful character of the conference.

No decision has been arrived at regarding the issue of papers setting forth the results of the deliberations.

Prior to this meeting the colonial delegates held a meeting lasting two hours.

LONDON, Aug. 19—The delegates to the conference on the naval and military defence of the empire concluded their labors at a plenary session held at the foreign office today and the result of the conference must now be submitted for ratification to the various colonial governments. The broad principle agreed upon is that all the forces of the empire, both naval and military, shall be so organized as to be in a position to render efficient service in an emergency in any part of the empire, fully conserving at the same time the local autonomy of the overseas dominions.

LONDON, Aug. 19—The Standard today says that Australia and it hopes, Canada, in providing for the defence of and keeping open of their trade routes are satisfying not only their own needs but also the needs of the empire. It is on this aspect of defence that great imperialists should regard the building of local navies.

LONDON, Aug. 19—Sir Theodore Martin, K.C.B., author and parliamentary agent is dead. He was born in 1816.

The late sir Theodore Martin was the author of a five volume "Life of the Prince Consort," "Queen Victoria as I Knew Her," and translations of well known works as Goethe, Schiller, Henrik, Heritz, Dante, Virgil and other German, Greek and Italian authors.

LONDON, Aug. 19—The debt incurred by Lieut. E. H. Shackleton and the members of his family over his south pole expedition is to be liquidated by the government. Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons this afternoon that he would ask the house to vote $10,000 for that purpose.

SHEERNESS, Eng., Aug. 19—The British first-class battleship Agamemnon, which stranded yesterday on the Long Sands range while engaged in target practice, was refloated at 2:30 this afternoon with the assistance of tugs and proceeded to Margate for an examination of her hull.

DOMINION MINISTERS AND BRITISH ASSOCIATION

QUEBEC, Aug. 19 — With another splendid voyage added to her bulky list of noteworthy performances the Empress of Ireland, the flyer of the Canadian Pacific fleet, swung into her berth at the Quebec breakwater at 7:45 tonight. This voyage of the Empress of Ireland was marked not only by the fast time made, but by the distinguished list of passengers on board, there being 40 members of the British association on their way to the coming meeting in Winnipeg, Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways and canals; Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary of Ontario, Dr. Schwegel, representative of the Australian government in Montreal and many other well known people in Canada and the British Isles.

The Ireland brought 255 first class passengers, 237 second class and 735 third class, in all 1627 passengers. The British party contains some distinguished men and women, there being quite a number of the latter. Sir J. J. Thompson of Cambridge, president of the association, who since the death of lord Kelvin has taken place in the front rank of English scientists, spoke of the great good accomplished by the holding of meeting of the association elsewhere than in England. He recalled the pleasure it gave him to renew his acquaintance with Canada, he having attended the meetings of the association in Montreal and Toronto.

Another distinguished member of the association is Hon. John W. Moore of Dublin, who is accompanied by lady Moore. Sir John is an ex-president of the Royal College of Physicians. Other well known British scientists on board board were Prof. Marchant of Liverpool; Prof. R. J. McWeeney of Dublin; Dr. W. C. Khumins of London; Miss G. T. Mills, Dublin; Miss F. M. Gladstone, London; Dr. Otto Kahn, Berlin and Prof. Hermann, Liverpool, secre-

PROPERTY VALUES RISE

ANOTHER BAKER STREEET LOT SOLD YESTERDAY

DEMAND AND PRICES IN NELSON INCREASING

It was only a few days ago that the announcement was made that one of the best business blocks in Nelson, the store occupied by J. O. Patenaude, had passed from the hands of A. L. McKillop to J. O. Patenaude. At that time it was mentioned that there had recently been a greatly increased demand for desirable property in Nelson. Nelson lots and residences have always commanded good prices but just lately both the prices paid and the number of persons seeking investments have increased very noticeably.

This was again illustrated yesterday when the lot on Baker street occupied by the offices of D. Small and M. R. McQuarrie was sold by C. F. McHardy to W. H. Jones. The deal was put through by E. B. McDermid who also negotiated the sale of the Patenaude block on west Baker street. It is interesting to note that this property has changed hands no less than three times during the last year and each time the price paid has increased.

Mr. McDermid had also two sales of house property to report. The first was lots number 11 and 12, block 41 on Mill street which were bought from Mrs. A. Poupore by G. Lawrence. Both in this case and that of the business property bought by Mr. Jones the purchase was made for investment. The other house property which changed hands yesterday was lot 21, block 25, on Carbonate street, which was purchased by J. Clarke. The seller preferred not to have his identity disclosed.

GOLDEN FAWN IS SOLD

VANCOUVER PEOPLE BUY SHEEP CREEK PROPERTY

PURCHASERS' INTENTION IS TO OPERATE IT AT ONCE

A mining deal was consummated yesterday by which the Golden Fawn mine at Sheep creek was transferred to a Vancouver syndicate for a consideration of $75,000, the vendors being T. Gallon, W. Davidson, F. P. Drummond and C. E. Bennett.

The mine, which is a free milling gold property, is situated in the Sheep creek valley about 20 miles from Salmo and adjoins the Nugget. A considerable amount of work has already been done on the property with excellent results. Two tunnels have been driven for a distance of 174 feet while many opencuts have been made. The mine is fully equipped for operation, among the buildings on the property being blacksmith shops, assay office and a bunk house capable of housing 20 men.

It is the intention of the purchasers to put a staff of men to work on the property immediately.

SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES

WM. DONOVAN, C. P. R. BRAKEMAN, DIES IN HOSPITAL

INJURIES SUSTAINED BY BEING RUN OVER PROVE FATAL

William Donovan died at the Hume hospital at 1.25 yesterday afternoon as a result of injuries he sustained while working in the C. P. R. yards on Wednesday evening when he fell between the cars of a train on which he was working as a switchman. A pair of wheels passed over both his legs above the thighs badly cutting and breaking the right one. While the deceased was conscious to the end his condition was at no stage such as to allow of the broken leg being amputated.

The late Mr. Donovan, who was unmarried, was 26 years of age and a native of Iowa. He had worked with the C. P. R. here for three weeks, coming here from Pincher, Alta., where his father and mother, four brothers and two sisters reside. A brother, named Jerry, resides in Nelson and he is well known in railway circles here, while his sister, Mrs. C. W. Longman, lives at Bagnall, Minnesota. The deceased was a member of Spokane lodge No. 305, Brotherhood of Railway trainmen and during his comparatively short residence here has made a number of friends among members of the railway fraternity.

His relatives were advised of the fatality by wire yesterday and the body was placed on the Crow Nicomen last evening to be taken in charge of Jerry Donovan, to Pincher, where the interment will take place.

Railway Commission to Sit in Nelson in October

TRIP TO PACIFIC COAST

GOVERNMENT ISSUES BULLETIN DEALING WITH NUMBER OF FOREST FIRES AND LOSS—BRITISH COLUMBIA HEADS LIST—SIR WILFRID LAURIER'S SEAT

(Western Associated Press.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 19—It is the intention of the railway commission to make a trip to the Pacific coast. Sittings will be held as follows: Winnipeg, Oct. 11; Brandon, Oct. 13; Regina, Oct. 14; Saskatoon, Oct. 15; Prince Albert, Oct. 16; Edmonton, Oct. 20; Calgary, Oct. 22, Vancouver, Oct. 27; Victoria, Oct. 29, and at Nelson and Lethbridge at later dates. Assistant chairman Scott will preside at the sittings.

(Western Associated Press.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 19 — The forestry branch of the interior department has issued an interesting booklet dealing with the damage caused by forest fires in Canada in 1908. The bulletin, which was prepared by H. R. McMillan, assistant inspector of forest reserves, shows that during the year 825 forest fires of serious proportions occurred in the dominion. Upwards of 188,000 acres were burned causing the destruction of over 50,000,000 feet, valued at including mills and improvements, $25,500,000. Twenty-one lives were lost as a result of forest fires; all of these were in British Columbia. The number of men thrown out of employment was 1404. The cost of the fires to the public was nearly $200,000. Quebec province headed the list with 250 fires and British Columbia came second with 235. In Quebec, however, the value of the timber destroyed was very slight. In British Columbia 40,000,000 feet were destroyed at a cost of $25,000,000, or 30 per cent of the total loss by fire in Canada. Destruction by fire in Manitoba and Alberta was very light but in Saskatchewan timber valued at $20,000 was destroyed. The heavy loss in British Columbia was due of course to the great fire in the Crows Nest Pass country which destroyed Fernie and entailed a heavy loss of life. A fire on Vancouver island, it is estimated caused the destruction of 24,000,000 feet of timber.

OTTAWA, Aug. 19—There will be no federal election for Ottawa in October and there will be none until the house opens. It is understood that sir Wilfrid Laurier will resign his Ottawa seat and sit for Quebec East, which he has represented so long.

OTTAWA, Aug. 19—The bank statement for July as compared with the statement for June indicates continued growth and expansion throughout the country. The deposits increased by $7,328,621. Current loans in Canada increased by $4,048,772 and call loans by nearly $2,000,000. Loans outside Canada decreased by $1,219,115 thus indicating the continual withdrawal of funds from the United States to meet the business demands of the dominion. An astonishing improvement is to be noted between the current statement and the statement for July, 1908, the aggregated deposit having increased during these 12 months by $122,000,000.

GUGGENHEIM'S TAKE OPTION ON PROPERTY NEAR NAKUSP

RIVER OF RED OXIDE MAKES FAMOUS PAINT LAKE

(Special to The Daily News.)

NAKUSP, Aug. 19—W. H. Aldridge, managing director of the Consolidated company, the War Eagle and Centre Star and the St. Eugene mines, with the Snowshoe, Richmond-Eureka and kindred properties, stayed over here with R. H. Stewart, manager of the War Eagle and Centre Star—both were examining the Richmond-Eureka, and stated that they were well pleased with the showing of the property; a great deal of work had been done and more was contemplated. Mr. Aldridge stated that there was a great revival of mining throughout the province and capital was seeking this country as a field for investment. These gentlemen were greatly pleased with the signs of prosperity and increased business activity around Nakusp and stated that in their opinion Nakusp has one of the nicest townsites in Kootenay.

W. J. Greenstreet, who is connected with the large Guggenheim syndicate, has been in the district for some time examining the now famous Big Ledge and has taken an option from A. M. Symons for six claims. This wonderful zinc, galena and lead proposition has an exposed area of seven miles. A slip from the steep mountain side shows the vein or ledge to be 200 feet wide and a river of red oxide runs out at the base of the lode into Paint Lake, a large red lake where the Indians obtained their paint in the early days. A large underground river leaves the base of the mountain and after running on the surface for a mile again enters the earth. high as 40 per cent zinc, while galena silver and lead are strong in the surface assays. A fine wagon roads runs from Pingston creek for eight miles to the ledge and as deer, caribou and mountain goat are plentiful and a vast glacier crowns the highest plateau, an effort is being made to have his excellency earl Grey include this among his Kootenay camping grounds, it being the equal, if not superior to the Toby creek vicerogal reservation.

GREEK NOTE EXPLAINS

COMMUNICATION TO PORTE IS ENTIRELY CONCILIATORY

BUT GIVES TURKEY SOME RAPS REGARDING MACEDONIA

LONDON, Aug. 19—Greece's reply to the last Turkish note regarding Crete has been communicated to the powers. Its terms are conciliatory and diplomats here consider that it should be satisfactory to the porte to which it was routed today.

The note regrets that after Greeces previous assurances the Turkish government still complained of the attitude of Greece in Roumania and Crete and it goes on to state that the Greek government deplores equally with the other governments, the anarchy and agitation which have ruined and decimated the population of Macedonia, irrespective of race and religion, and it points out that as soon as the new Turkish regime gave grounds for hope that the situation was to be improved, the Greek government did all in its power to assist in the reestablishment of order in Macedonia and intends to continue that policy.

Regarding Crete the note reiterates that the Greek government will conform with the decision of the four protecting powers and will abstain from encouraging any eventual agitation.

WINNIPEG'S BIG WEEK

MEETINGS OF BRITISH ASSOCIATION AND CANADIAN MEDICOS

LATTER WILL DISCUSS QUESTION OF GRADUATE DOCTORS

WINNIPEG, Aug. 19—Next week Winnipeg will entertain one of the most distinguished bodies of visitors that have ever been here since the city first sprang into being. It will be in many ways the banner week of 1909 for the city and will have no little bearing in giving Winnipeg an added prestige with the outside world. Commencing on Monday morning two great conventions will follow each other without a single day's intermission, and men of the first rank in science and medicine will be present from many parts of the globe to present new discoveries and ideas, and to participate in the discussion which will take place.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Medical association will convene at 8:30 Monday morning and will be in session until Wednesday afternoon and the British Association for the Advancement of Science will commence Wednesday morning and be in session until the following Wednesday. During this period the city will be astir with visitors and the many social features to be carried out will create a summer festive season. There will be six evening lectures, many of them illustrated by experiments delivered by eminent scientific and medical men, and to these the public will be invited.

One of the most important papers to be discussed will be with regard to proposed legislation to permit graduate doctors to practice anywhere in the Dominion. At the present time a special examination in the case of a physician removing from one province to another is necessary. Such legislation has been the ideal of the association for years, and within the last year there has been an understanding in regard to the matter between groups of the provinces. The question is a live one and will be of exceptional interest.

GROWS CRITICAL

Much Shooting Between Police, Troops and Strikers

PITTSBURG, Aug. 19 — It is estimated that 500 shots were fired last night and early today by strikers and sympathizers who had gathered on the bridge near the works at McKee's Rocks. During the firing the troopers and other police remained inside the mill, orders having been issued to take no action unless the strikers attempted an entrance to the plant. The constabulary was out on the streets this afternoon, however, compelling the strikers to move on. Troopers took possession of the bridge and the efforts of the strikers to congregate at any one point were met with galloping horses and riot sticks.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 19—Shortly after noon alleged strike sympathizers opened fire upon the steamer P. M. Prell, which was bringing 50 imported men across the Ohio river to the mill. Several thousand strikers were lined up along the river bank and a volley was discharged at the command of an unknown foreign woman who carried a baby. Over 100 shots were directed at the steamer. No one was injured although several bullets struck the boat. By the time the steamer reached the shore near the plant a squad of state constabulary had ridden into the crowd, scattering men, women and children in all directions. A number of persons were slightly injured. Under a heavy guard the imported men were taken to the works, some of them in a highly

BIG FIRE LOSS

Silver King Mine Put Out of Commission

EQUIPMENT IS DESTROYED

COMPRESSOR HOUSE, TRAMWAY TERMINALS, ORE BINS AND THE BLACKSMITH SHOP GO—ORIGIN IS MYSTERY—LOSS PARTIALLY COVERED

As a result of a fire which started in the compressor house from some unknown cause the Silver King mine on Toad mountain was yesterday morning put temporarily out of commission. The damage will amount to several thousand dollars, not only the compressor house, but also the tramway terminals, the ore bins and blacksmith shop being destroyed. It will be impossible to ship ore until the tramway terminals and the ore bins have been replaced, although it might be possible with the portion of the plant remaining to continue mining, but whether or not this will be done is not as yet known.

How the fire started is a mystery. The man in charge of the compressor had gone into the mine where a gang of men were at work, about 4 o'clock yesterday morning to attend to the pumps, leaving everything all right around the plant. When he returned to the surface shortly afterwards the compressor house was in a blaze, the fire rapidly spreading to the tramway terminals, the ore bins and the blacksmith shop. The office, the transformer building, the mess and bunk houses as well as the plant at the upper workings escaped destruction but these with the facilities destroyed, are useless so far as shipping ore is concerned and to a large extent also so far as mining is concerned. From the buildings the fire spread to the adjoining bush where it raged all day yesterday, and last night the flames were visible from the city. A party of men under the direction of the provincial police are now engaged in getting it under control.

Just as soon as the extent of the damage to the mine was ascertained, E. W. Rudd, the superintendent, sent most of the men down to the city until such time as their services are required again and also sent a full report to R. S. Lennie, local representative of the Kootenay Development syndicate, which is operating the property and in which M. S. Davys is interested. Mr. Lennie immediately cabled the facts to Mr. Davys, who returned to England recently after spending several weeks here, and is now awaiting instructions from the London board as to what is to be done to replace the portion of the plant destroyed.

It was impossible to ascertain the exact loss yesterday, but it will run into a good many thousand dollars and is partially covered by insurance.

MOUNTAINEERING TRAGEDY

Bodies of Two Men Believed Below 500 Foot Ice Cliff

TACOMA, Aug. 19—The search for the bodies of Joseph Stevens of Trenton, N.J. and T. F. Callaghan of Seattle, lost on Mount Rainier, has been temporarily abandoned. Guide Jules Tampfire and his party have returned and are of the opinion that the bodies will never be found. They discovered tracks leading towards a 50 foot ice cliff at the head of the White glacier and it is possible the men lie below. The search cannot be made from above and it is doubtful whether there is a trail to the foot of the cliff.

How Many People?

There are in Nelson who have not enjoyed the grand and impressive views described in the following extract, as published in the papers over a year ago and written by an able journalist, R. T. Lowery.

AN IDEAL RANCH

What Lowery Has to Say of a Pioneer Nelson Property

With possibly the exception of Charles Olson of Ainsworth, N. Hoover is the oldest pioneer of Kootenay lake. Nelson was not even a dot upon the face of nature when he first came over the trail to the shores of the lake where the metropolis of the Kootenay now counts inhabitants in the thousands. There was not a ranch or a fruit tree in the country for some years after this, so when he decided in 1892 to take up some land he had a vast territory to choose from and located right across the lake from Nelson, at a place now called Hoover's point.

The ranch contains 130 acres and is most admirably located, lying as it does within five minutes travel by rowboat of the beautiful mountain city of Nelson. The scenery spread about the vision would charm the dullest intellect and cause an artist to vibrate the ozone with a song of joy. To live and ranch amid such soil, scenery and climate must be a delightful existence to anyone who loves nature bathed in smiles and adjacent to the luxuries of modern civilization. Many a world weary millionaire would consider himself lucky to own such a location. Here amid flowers and blossoms life would be like a pleasant dream either in a cabin upon the beach or a castle high up on the hills.

When under thorough cultivation Hoover's ranch will be a great revenue producer. It is capable of growing vast quantities of luscious fruits and succulent vegetables in addition to the raising of poultry. It is also a place that would make a delightful park and some day the city of Nelson may want it for this purpose. It is a breathing place that any city might be proud of, its accessibility being one of its most prominent features. Just a minute or two and you can pass from city life into a paradise of sweet flowers, singing birds and tall timber. It is quite likely that some company will obtain possession of it and turn it into a vast summer resort. A scenic railway could be built that would run from the lake shore to the top of the mountain in the distance, making one of the grandest rides on the American continent. Nelson is indeed fortunate to have within its touch such a poem of nature as Hoover's ranch, and the day is not far distant when the citizens will become alive to the fact.

Any parties wishing to purchase property of the above description will do well to apply to my residence, Hoover's Ranch, where growing fruits, flowers and poultry can be seen. Price and terms on application.

COMMUNICATIONS

C. P. R. Land Policy

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir, I would like through your columns to draw attention to the manner in which the C. P. R. is conducting its land business in this district. Some few weeks ago I arrived in Nelson from Regina in search of agricultural land and was attracted by the C. P. R. advertisements of its lands. I accordingly wrote Mr. J. R. Dennis of Calgary, who is in charge of this department of the company's business in this province, and received from him a long letter in which he referred to "our proposition to sell wonderfully productive agricultural land for $5 per acre, payable 62½ cents per acre down and 62½ cents per acre each year until paid." Mr. Dennis added: "I am sending you under separate cover—

"1.—Two books of very complete information regarding southern British Columbia, and British Columbia generally—its history, climate, resources, industries, etc.

"2.—Maps on which are shown in pink the lands for sale by this department, and

"3.—Copies of the regulations governing the sale of land in the Columbia and Western and Columbia and Kootenay land grant with application forms—agricultural and timber—for these railways and the B. C. Southern."

In the next paragraph the price of $5 per acre is again referred to and later it is pointed out that the company's object in selling at this low price is to induce settlement, and in this connection the letter says: "The railway is in a position to sell land at a nominal price for the reason that it is primarily a transportation company and relies for profit from the sale of land mainly on the transportation of the products raised on the land."

The letter concludes with a request that I should call upon Messrs. H. & M. Bird, the company's Nelson agents.

I got the literature all right and was surprised to find that, according to the regulations which were enclosed, the price of first class land such as I wanted was "five dollars ($5.00) and upwards per acre." On looking at the map which I received from Mr. Dennis I found a block colored pink, close to Nelson, lot No. 294, which, according to his letter, should have been for sale at the price mentioned in the regulations, $5 per acre. I and a friend of mine examined the land and it suited us perfectly and my friend wrote Mr. Dennis asking him the price of it. The reply he received was that the company's local agents were "feeling the pulse of the market to see if it was advisable to put this on."

I went to see Mr. Bird about the matter and he told me that no price had yet been fixed for this land. I asked him what land was for sale and what would be the price of it. He told me to go out and find the land I wanted and he would then give me a price on it. I picked on a spot near Shields and was told that the lots, Nos. 5205, 5207 and 5206, although marked pink on the map, were not on the market, as there was still a dispute whether the land would ultimately belong to the C. P. R. or the owners of another railway company which the C. P. R. took over.

As life is far too short for the ordinary man to spend weeks looking over land and perhaps learning for the third time that I cannot get the land picked out, for some reason or another, I am negotiating with someone else for land which that party showed me and for which I had not to hunt.

Now I want you to understand that I am not kicking because I could not get C. P. R. first class agricultural land in this district for $5 per acre, although I was assured by Mr. Dennis in his letter that I could, but because I was put to a lot of unnecessary inconvenience as a result of the character of the information supplied me. Under the system being followed by the company at present it is possible that a man would have to spend anywhere from a few hundred to several thousand dollars before he could find land that was suitable and that at the same time was for sale at $5 per acre. For the life of me I cannot see how the C. P. R. expects to get rid of its land under its present policy.

Before closing I think it only fair to say that I was treated with every courtesy by Messrs. Bird, and they appear to be in an unfortunate position regarding C. P. R. land.

M. FISENHAVER.

A Proctor Man's Opinion

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir,—I learn from your columns that a certain faction of the city of Nelson are desirous of an opportunity to put themselves on record before the officials of the C. P. R. in regard to the proposed new tourist hotel. Our board of trade, to whose efforts the promised publicity and advertising campaign by the railway company is very largely due, quite properly declined to take any action in the matter of a public meeting, but perhaps it is as well that Mayor Selous has now decided to have the question thoroughly aired before an open gathering, when it is to be hoped that, after full discussion, a definite and truthful decision may be taken and argument forthwith cease.

After ten short years spent in and around the city of Nelson, I am able to speak with conviction of its many beauties and attractions and class it as almost an ideal residential city. Indeed I am free to admit that the Queen city holds for me many a fond recollection and the happiest years of my life, thus far, have been spent in its environs. It is, in fact, doubtful if any one of the many thousands of transient voyagers who have passed before our eyes these many years will ever forget her charms.

But let us not, in our enthusiasm, be narrow and small and forget that even greater scenic grandeurs lie immediately adjacent, where the great architect has been still more lavish in His gifts. Rather let us see and admit what the C. P. R. have long since decided and what all fair and sound minds have known for some time—that Proctor Outlet offers more attractions and inducements to tourist traffic than probably any other point in Kootenay.

Let us distinguish between the highly desirable residential point and a great tourist resort and we will then quite clearly see that a tourist hotel, to be world-renowned, highly patronized and successful must be erected where the tourists want it and not at a point to meet the convenience and pockets of any special community.

By virtue of the fact that Nelson is the largest city in the interior of the province—ipso facto it is the most undesirable spot for the location of a tourist hotel; for if there is one place more than another where the best class of tourist does not want to be, it is in or anywhere near a city.

In view of the work of our local board of trade, and that of the associated boards, in the matter of the proper recognition of the rights of Kootenay, I think I am correct in assuming that their motto has been "Pro bono publico." Such being the case, it strikes one as being somewhat in bad taste for individual community to endeavor to turn the efforts of these boards to its own private ends and in a selfish endeavor to "get rich quick," effectually kill the proverbial goose, for it is a sure and certain thing that, if the surroundings and attractions offered to the tourist are not such as he seeks, and is prepared to go half way round the world to find, the traffic through these parts and the consequent benefits arising from the tourist tide, will not, in any way, reach the flood which it should.

Upon the basis that a satisfied customer is the best advertisement, let us all help in giving our visitors the best we have.

Now, working upon the fundamental principle that the C. P. R. are going to build their own hotel where they see fit, we may as well accustom ourselves at once to the point which they have selected as being the most attractive in the district.

The Proctor outlet offers almost every possible charm, all of surpassing interest and beauty. There is the wide and grand expanse of Kootenay lake, with its ever-changing lights and shadows, and many well known peaks towering high to form a rugged margin—Mount Loki, Mount Lever and Sinix fountain, all as yet unconquered heights. There is the Kokanee glacier, within easy reach; Psyche's pool, within half an hour's climb on the mountain; the Bridal Veil falls, in Queen's bay, Ainsworth, close by, with its sulphur springs and wonderful Aladdin's cave—one of the marvels of the lake, running as it does, 1,100 or 1,000 feet into the mountain, and its many crystal-lined passages yet wholly unexplored; several of the best mines, too, can be reached by row boat; the beautiful cities of Nelson and Kaslo are both within a day's journey; and Lardo, showing the foot of the Selkirks, where Rocky mountain sheep and goat abound. Toby creek, too, the gateway to the now famous Windermere country—the happy hunting grounds of the governor-general. Crawford Bay affords hunting of all kinds, and the fishing in the adjacent waters is the best obtainable.

Then there are roads on each side of the Outlet, running for several miles through a flat country, amidst the pick of the ranches of the West Arm. A reserve of 250 acres has been made there, on which it is expected the big company will lay out a golf links.

Those residents of Nelson who have not seen beyond the Outlet can know nothing of the grandeur of all these things and it would take a better pen than mine to do justice to all these grandeurs. The great majority of our leading citizens, however, have long appreciated the beauties of the Outlet, as is evidenced by the many picnics, social, educational and political, which have been held there for years past. Let the doubters go and see for themselves before advocating any other short-sighted policy which can, at most, have only one effect, viz., the indefinite delaying of the commencement of operations by the C. P. R. till such time as we have finished fighting amongst ourselves; a position which, we may consider, would suit the great corporation better than it would us.

The C. P. R. are not seeking advice in this matter; let us cease our kickings, put petty feelings on one side and all pull together for Kootenay.

J. W. FORD.

Proctor, B. C., Aug. 19, 1909.

Who Is to Enforce It?

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir,—I was very glad to see that the law re lamps and signals on Kootenay lake has been published, but may I ask if the makers of the law or the responsible persons for seeing that the law is carried out are still alive. The law, as a rule, is not respected because it is right, but because of fear of punishment to pocket or person makes it advisable.

O. J. SANDERMAN.

MOYIE PLAY HERE TODAY

FAST AND EXCITING BASEBALL GAME IS PROMISED

CHAMPION OF CROW'S NEST AGAINST NELSON

The first of the eagerly anticipated baseball games between Nelson and Moyie will take place at the recreation grounds this afternoon, commencing at 3:15. The Moyie team are the present champions of the Crow's Nest district and the match today cannot fail to be of unusual interest, as the Nelson club have proved themselves to be by no means suckling babes when playing in a ball game.

The team which went from Nelson to Cranbrook a few weeks ago was beaten after a close game. Moyie and Cranbrook have this season had many exciting battles which have ended sometimes one way and sometimes the other. Therefore, taking into consideration the fact that the Nelson team which played at Cranbrook was not entirely representative, the prophesy may be made that even if Nelson does not carry off the honors of victory—and the home team is quite confident that they will—the game will be so closely fought that the spectators at least will have nothing to kick at. There will be a second game on Saturday afternoon at the same time, and on Sunday the Moyie boys will play Rossland at the Golden city.

The lineup of the two teams will be as follows: Nelson—H. Bishop, c.; F. Loring, p.; M. McKee, 1b.; L. Patrick, 2b.; W. Sturgeon, ss.; C. Starr, 3b.; H. Houston, lf.; W. Pompore, cf.; R. Sharp, rf.; G. Mason, spare.

The Moyie team will be selected from: C. Kelly, G. Battell, E. R. Seaton, J. Ward, H. Grady, R. Crisler, E. O. Kamm, G. Merrow, P. Dashback and V. Berleske.

Bob Bishop will act as umpire. The entrance to the grounds this afternoon will be through the exhibition building.

Attell Fights to Draw

SARATOGA, Aug. 18—Abe Attell, the featherweight champion, and Harry Stone of New York fought ten rounds to a draw tonight before the Saratoga Athletic club. Until the last two rounds Stone carried the fight to the champion from bell to bell. It was a tame exhibition. Two thousand racing men, owners and trainers, witnessed the bout.

Johnson Charges Discrimination

NAKUSP HOT SPRINGS

Many Are Taking the Waters at New Summer Resort

(Special to The Daily News.)

NAKUSP, Aug. 19—A large number of ladies and many of the sterner sex have folded their tents like the Arab, and tramped the eight miles from town to the Nakusp hot springs, where the bath thermometer shows 103 degrees of heat. A number of good cabins have already been erected by Mrs. Macdougall and others, and as a beautiful mountain river runs within a few feet of the hot springs where there is an abundance of trout, this bids fair to become a favorite summer resort. The Nakusp hot springs are the hottest and contain more medicinal virtue than any other mineral springs on this continent—this is the optimistic opinion of those who have visited them.

The government has opened a good pack trail to the springs which is well travelled over lately and it is the intention of the board of trade to request the government to reserve the land for the purpose of making it a public park, the land now being covered by timber limits. A public movement will be started to erect large public bath houses near the springs, for the accommodation of the public, without other charge than the cost of keeping the resort open and clean.

FEARFUL HAVOC

Overflowing Arkansas River Wrecks Homes and Railway Tracks

DENVER, Col., Aug. 19—Trains blocked in Rocky mountain passes, tracks washed away, in some instances pitched into canyons hundreds of feet deep, families driven from their homes to a shelter in higher places, were some of the scenes revealed at daybreak today along the overflowed Arkansas river. Not only the Arkansas river, but almost all of its tributaries are overflowing. The rainfall in the last two days has been unusual.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL NELSON, B.C.

TONIGHT'S MEETING

This evening the people of Nelson are asked to attend a public meeting to be held in the opera house for the purpose of declaring their position on the question as to where the proposed C.P.R. tourist hotel shall be located. Those who think that it would be to the interests of Nelson that the hotel should be located in or reasonably near to the city should turn out and lend their support to the movement towards securing it and those who think that it would be of more benefit to Nelson that the hotel should be erected at a point some distance away have the same duty to their city to perform. Whatever the result of the meeting may be it will be laid before the proper officials of the C.P.R. and there can be no question but that the company will at least give due consideration to the presentations made.

So far as The Daily News is concerned it believes the hotel should, in the interests of the business people of this city, be located at least reasonably close to Nelson, that is within a few miles, at most. It has already stated its position on the matter and there is no necessity for again going into details on the question. The News is quite aware that a number of people, for various reasons, do not agree with it on the question, but it feels that the majority of the people of Nelson do. This evening's meeting, if there is a representative turnout, and there should be, will tell whether it is right in regard to this matter.

In addition to what The News has said on the question there has been more or less general discussion of the matter and some letters to the paper, among them one from Mr. J. W. Ford of Procter, published in this morning's issue. In other portions of today's paper will also be found statements from disinterested visitors, Mr. George H. Bradbury, M.P. of Selkirk and Mr. G. M. Annable of Moose Jaw, both of whom think Nelson is the proper place for such an hotel, the latter being most emphatic on the question.

Just where the great bulk of the people of Nelson stand on the matter will be decided tonight. It is, therefore, important that every person who can possibly do so should attend.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Wouldn't the location of that hotel at Procter advance the "private ends" of Mr. J. W. Ford and others who own land at and near Procter?

Mr. Ford of Procter objects to the results of the work of the Nelson board of trade being taken advantage of by the people of Nelson but he has no objection whatever to Procter getting the benefit.

Mr. J. W. Ford of Procter thinks the proposed C.P.R. tourist hotel should be at Procter; he also says that the hotel should not be located at a point to meet the convenience and pockets of any special community. It may be mentioned that Mr. Ford is a land owner at Procter and that his property would be increased in value by the location of the proposed hotel near it, but of course that is not the reason why he is so anxious that the hotel should not be at Nelson but at Procter.

Mr. J. W. Ford of Procter says that the C.P.R. has already decided to erect its proposed tourist hotel at Procter. If this is so why on earth did Mr. Ford spend time writing the letter which appears in another column of todays' issue?

Mr. J. W. Ford of Procter asks the people of Nelson to quit discussing the question of the location of the proposed C.P.R. hotel and all pull together for Kootenay. If Mr. Ford had used the word Procter instead of Kootenay his meaning would have been perhaps a little clearer.

Unfortunately in one instance at least the arrangements for the handling of the fine new ambulance presented to the people of Nelson as a result of the efforts of Mrs. J. M. Lay have not proved satisfactory. The case in point arose in connection with the accident on Wednesday to Mr. Thomas Palmer, an employee of the C.P.R. shops. It appears that at the time of the accident Mr. Palmer's fellow employees did not know where to call up to secure the services of the ambulance and delay resulted, but a call was eventually sent to the Kootenay Lake General hospital, from where it was forwarded in due course to the Nelson transfer barns, where the ambulance is housed. Altogether there was half an hour's delay in the arrival of the ambulance. The result was that when the second accident of the day occurred in the yards the C.P.R. employees did not bother sending for the ambulance, but took the victim, the late William Donovan, down to the hospital on a flat car. The News ventures the suggestion that some less circuitous method of calling the ambulance should be arranged for by the hospital directors and that some means be taken to acquaint the public with the method to be followed in such cases. Arrangements might perhaps be made to send in all calls direct to the Nelson transfer barn, those in charge there reporting all trips made to hospital officials, or arrangements might be made with the telephone company to forward calls to the proper place, either the transfer people or the telephone office reporting to the hospital. In this way the hospital's control over the ambulance would remain as effective as at present.

No Assets

(Western Associated Press.)

WINNIPEG, Aug. 19—In an action for damages arising out of a strike two years ago, the master plumbers secured a judgment against the Plumbers' union for $5000 and costs amounting to another $1500. The union appealed but no stay of proceedings being allowed by the judge, the plaintiffs instructed sheriff Inwater to collect judgment. The sheriff reported that he could find no assets or property belonging to the union. The master plumbers' association therefore today applied to judge Metcalfe for the appointment of a receiver to collect union plumbers' fees in order to satisfy the judgment and the application was granted. It is not conceivable that the men will pay the dues and the dissolution of the union, at least as a corporate body, will be a matter of course.

TAKES PLACE TO-NIGHT

BIG CROWD EXPECTED AT OPERA HOUSE MEETING

QUESTION OF TOURIST HOTEL SITE WILL BE TAKEN UP

What promises to be one of the most interesting public public meetings held in Nelson for some months will take place at the opera house this evening. This meeting has been called in order that the citizens of Nelson may have an opportunity of expressing their opinions, both pro and con, regarding the most advantageous site for the proposed C. P. R. hotel and will commence at 8 p. m. sharp.

The matter has been discussed with more than usual interest in Nelson ever since the conference between the board of trade and F. W. Peters of the C.P.R. It is felt that the question of this site is one of vital importance and it was learned yesterday that a very large number of prominent business men had expressed their intention of being on the platform tonight.

These men will represent not only the board of trade and the city council but practically every branch of business in Nelson and the audience can therefore be certain beforehand of spending an extremely interesting and valuable evening.

Yesterday a number of men were around the streets putting up the notices on the telegraph poles calling the meeting, to replace others which had been torn down the previous night, presumably by some person or persons who object to the holding of this meeting, and thrown into Mayor Selous' garden. They were all replaced yesterday.

A cordial invitation has been extended to ladies to be present at this evening's meeting and in order to ensure their comfort it has been arranged that the front seats shall be reserved for ladies and for gentlemen accompanied by ladies.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., Limited,

Gentlemen,—In June, '98, I had my hands and wrist bitten and badly mangled by a vicious horse. I suffered greatly for several days and the tooth brain refused to heal until your agent gave me a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT, which I began using. The effect was magical; in five hours the pain had ceased and in two weeks the wounds had completely healed and my hands and arm were as well as ever.

Yours truly,

A. E. ROY,

IS DELIGHTED

own Dreadnoughts, say one for each province of the Dominion. What an inspiring sight it would be to see the Ontario, the Quebec, the British Columbia and other Dreadnoughts named after as many provinces of Canada swinging into line in a truly imperial navy. Such a sight would make the world take off its hat to Canada as part of the British empire, and Canadians could look friend and foe in the face feeling that we were worthy of our great heritage as part of the British empire.

"It might be said that such a policy would be a costly one. My answer is that the present government has squandered enough money to build the number of Dreadnoughts I have referred to, one for each province. But even as matters stand now, what does it matter to Canada if it will cost $100,000,000 to enable her to take her proper place in the empire by contributing to the imperial navy? If the British naval power were broken tomorrow where would Canada be? She would then have to build a navy of her own at a very much greater cost and in the meantime Canadians would be hewers of wood and drawers of water for our neighbors to the south, on whom we would have to depend for protection.

"As to the question of a Canadian navy I want to make myself clear. After Canada has discharged her duty to the empire, but not until then, should she set about building her own navy. Of course a number of small defence vessels in the meantime would be useful on both oceans and would also be highly desirable, for, in addition to their being in readiness for any eventuality which might arise, they could also be used in the fishery protection service and with better result than is being secured from the vessels now engaged in that work. As for as the maintenance of a Canadian navy on the Pacific is concerned it should be remembered that Great Britain is at present allied with Japan and that, if that alliance is worth anything, it means that Canada's western coast is safe from attack, for, I think I am correct in saying that we have nothing to fear from the United States in that or any other direction.

"The sooner the people of Canada impress upon the powers that be at Ottawa that they are determined that this country in its own interests, apart from those of the empire, must do its share in the way of imperial defence, the sooner will they be able to escape the humiliating position which they now occupy and which is being made still more unbearable every day by the policy that is being forced upon them by the present government."

BARGES BREAK LOOSE

Feared Are Wrecked and Several Lives Lost

SAUNDERSTOWN, R. I., Aug. 19—The barge Shawmont, with a crew of five men, bound from Philadelphia for Portsmouth, N. H., broke away from the tug Valley Forge off Shinnecock, L. I., early Tuesday morning and it is feared that she went to the bottom with all hands. Five other barges bound for Providence, Boston and Newbury port broke away and floated helplessly for ten hours before they were picked up. One man was injured badly and was carried ashore for treatment when the Valley Forge arrived here today with the first news of the disaster.

The barges left Philadelphia on Sunday in tow of the tugs Valley Forge and Monocacy. When off Shinnecock they run into the heavy northeast gale that prevailed along the coast Monday night and Tuesday. The Shawmont, the first barge in tow of the Valley Forge, broke loose Tuesday morning. At almost the same instant the tow line of the Monocacy broke away, and so thick was the weather that the barges disappeared before the Valley Forge could pick up the barges Moline, Saucon, Wissahicon and Meshannang. Soon after the Monocacy picked up the Moline. There was no trace of the Shawmont, except some wreckage that was floating around, and the captains finally decided that she had gone to the bottom.

They accordingly proceeded and reached Saundertown early today. The missing barge was commanded by Capt. Gould of Cape Cod. The Shawmont was a schooner rigged barge of 845 tons net and was owned by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal company.

How to Buy Real Estate

Buy Near a Growing City. Buy from an Old Established Real Estate Firm

Buy when they are putting on a new addition. They have in this case invested thousands of dollars before you are invited to invest hundreds. They have used their very best judgment in selecting on their own account as well as yours. They are just as anxious to give you a square deal as the merchant, the doctor or firm in any other business. They know if they do not invest for you so that you will make money they have lost your business. When you buy in a new addition you get in at the bottom, by the time there are buildings on it and car lines, streets, etc., it has probably changed hands several times and the cream is gone. By that time it has generally doubled in value several times.

A little over a year ago we sold to over fifty young men two lots. Price $100 each, $20 down and $10 per month. The lots are now worth $300 each, an advance of about $1.25 per day for every day since they bought. That beats working for it. They are still going up and will be for years.

The lots we are now offering will do better than that as they are closer to where the great railway lines, manufacturing plants, etc. are going in. They are right in the course of the fastest growth of both Vancouver and New Westminster and they must go towards them. You are not buying away out on the fringe, but in between two cities which inside of five years will be one.

You can hardly believe that five years ago 300 lots were offered in Grandview at $8 each, but Grandview was at that time a howling wilderness, away out in the woods, now it has a business street, car lines, all the conveniences of a city and the lots run from $1000 to $5000.

Less than four years ago we are told that the Bank of Montreal offered nearly 600 lots in district lot 301, Mount Pleasant, for $25 each. The cheapest of these are worth today from $600 to $1000.

Three years ago 1100 acres away out in Hastings and Burnaby was sold for $20,000. Today it is worth 300 times that amount.

Those are a few instances out of thousands, and the city has hardly began to grow. If it has grown like that with one railway to the east, what will it do with three, with the great tide of wheat rolling west, with the Panama canal finished and with over five hundred millions being expended in building railroads alone.

There never was a time like the present for the young men, for any man who has money to invest. Do not hesitate. While you are afraid of losing a dollar or two you are losing hundreds by being too cautious.

Send for our monthly report, or better still, come in and see us.

NEW FRENCH CABINET

MINISTRY AS RECENTLY COMPLETED BY PREMIER BRIAND

SOMETHING ABOUT THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY AND MEMBERS

The following, says The London Weekly Times of July 30, is a complete list of the members of the new cabinet:

M. Briand, president of the council, minister of the interior and of public worship.

M. Pichon, minister for foreign affairs.

M. Barthou, minister of justice.

M. Cochery, minister of finance.

General Brun, minister of war.

Admiral Boue de Lapeyrere, minister of marine.

M. Doumergue, minister of public instruction and of fine arts.

M. Millerand, minister of public works, posts and telegraphs.

M. Ruau, minister of agriculture.

M. Jean Dupuy, minister of commerce.

M. Trouillot, minister for the colonies.

M. Viviani, minister of labor.

The new cabinet contains six members of M. Clemenceau's ministry—M. Briand, M. Pichon, M. Barthou, M. Doumergue, M. Ruau and M. Viviani.

The New Prime Minister

M. Briand is the socialist deputy for one of the most important workingmen constituencies in France, that of the St. Etienne coal fields. In private life, our Paris correspondent says, he is characterized by his undemonstrative personality. He is a man of quiet demeanor, who carries his 47 years lightly. He is endowed with no ordinary ability and tact. Notwithstanding M. Briand's "socialist" past and the constant attacks to which he has been subjected as minister of justice and of public worship, neither his political adversaries nor his political friends have at the present juncture ventured to suggest that there could be any other candidate who was nearly so fit as he to succeed M. Clemenceau.

In matters of foreign policy M. Briand is reticent, but he is a wholehearted advocate of the triple entente and a devoted friend of peace. The retention of M. Pichon at the Quai d'Orsay is the best pledge of the continuity of French foreign policy.

M. Millerand—who, by the way, will personally control the postoffice department instead of leaving it to an undersecretary— is a socialist but no longer a collectivist. He was a member of the Waldeck-Rousseau ministry. In France to be a socialist generally means to be peculiarly devoted to what is known as social policy. The German emperor himself once expressly contrasted the practical views of M. Millerand with the Utopian schemes of his own parliamentary socialists. In all questions affecting property the conservatism of the masses in France is proverbial, and French "socialist" ministers, whether they would admit it or not, are indubitably influenced and restrained by the predominant tendencies of the nation.

The new minister of commerce, M. Jean Dupuy, is a senator who was minister of agriculture in the Waldeck-Rousseau cabinet. He is president of the Union of the Paris Press—a position which he has won owing not merely to the importance of the republican organ, the Petit Parisien, which he owns, but also to his own personal popularity.

M. Trouillot, the new minister for the colonies, is a senator who held the same portfolio in the Brisson ministry in 1898. He has since then been twice minister of commerce.

The high professional qualities and the entirely non-political record of the new ministers of war and marine place the selection of General Brun and Admiral Boue de Lapeyrere for the present beyond criticism. General Brun, who has acted as chief of the general staff of the army for the last three and a half years, has given proof of capacity for organization.

Admiral Boue de Lapeyrere's professional reputation stands at least as high as that of his colleague at the war office. A keen and fearless sailor, he has given proof of considerable administrative talent as naval prefect of Brest during the last two years, and during the eighties he saw considerable active service in Chinese waters, including the bombardment of Fuchau in 1884. Upon one occasion at the head of his men he boarded and captured a Chinese gunboat, and in repeated engagements with the Min river pirates showed coolness and resource. He is known as a strict disciplinarian, but his high sense of duty has only served to increase his popularity.

Admiral Boue de Lapeyrere's selection is chiefly interesting because his appointment re-establishes the long and almost unbroken line of sailor administrators, like Admirals Pothuau, Jauregulberry and Aub, who until ten years ago, successively held office as ministers of marine. In the opinion of many Frenchmen, it is more than an unfortunate coincidence that the decline of the French navy during the last decade should have synchronized with a continuous period of civilian administration in the rue Royale.

The ministry is described as one of "republican conciliation."

A Vote of Confidence

The two chambers reassembled on Tuesday, when the declaration of policy of the new ministry was read. The ministers proclaimed their adherence to a policy of peace, reform and progress. The cabinet would remain unswervingly faithful to the alliance and the friendships contracted by the republican government. Among the measures which it is hoped to further are the reorganization of the navy, the scheme of workmen's pensions, the income tax bill, the statute dealing with toms. M. Briand, the new premier, spoke at some length in amplification of the declaration, and replied to interpelations by two radical deputies in a manner which gave them complete satisfaction. A vote of confidence in the ministry was carried by 306 votes to 46.

After the speech of M. Briand, the chamber adopted by 410 votes to 71 the supplementary credit of £325,400 which M. Picard, ex-minister of marine, had demanded for the navy. Parliament thereupon adjourned for the summer recess.

The Official Gazette publishes a decree abolishing the office of undersecretary for posts and telegraphs. The last holder of the under-secretaryship, M. Simyan, rendered himself so unpopular that two successive strikes broke out this spring in the postoffice service.

Blue Ribbon

If You've Been Using "Cheap" Tea

The rich, full flavor of Blue Ribbon Tea will be a delightful surprise to you.

No 25c or 30c tea has a flavor to compare with it. The choice leaf used in blending Blue Ribbon Tea costs too much to sell at any such price.

And as so much less is required to the cup, BLUE RIBBON TEA is REALLY THE MOST ECONOMICAL, as well as the best.

A pound of Blue Ribbon will make over 200 cups, rich and strong, so it costs less than 1-4c per cup.

Just try a pound of Blue Ribbon and judge it for yourself.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

L. O. L. meets this evening in the K. of P. hall.

The road at the foot of Cedar street is being repaired.

W. J. Farmer of Castlegar spent yesterday in the city.

The Socialist Party of Canada held their regular meeting this evening.

A program of unusual strength and interest is offered at the Empire theatre tonight, the subjects being "Home at Last," "An Interesting Play," "Saul and David" (biblical), "The Test" (colored), "Sammy Celebrates," and "Washington Under the American Flag," which is a companion film to "Washington Under the British Flag," and is well worth seeing.

One of the most remarkable inquiries the information bureau of the board of trade has received of late came in yesterday afternoon, when a tall young man asked for a directory of the United States. It was explained to him that there was no such work published and that a collection of all the directories published in the United States would more than fill the board of trade offices. In answer to a question the visitor said he wanted the addresses of some lunatic asylums in the states, explaining that he desired a position as attendant.

The need of a street car service in the city is almost daily demonstrated at the information bureau at the board of trade offices. Yesterday afternoon, for example, a party of Americans tourists called and inquired for the city park and for a point from which the lake could be viewed at close quarters. It was found necessary to explain that as the street cars were not running a long walk on a hot afternoon would be necessary to reach what the visitors wanted. The car service is certainly missed by visitors, perhaps as much as by residents of the city.

"Swimming" is the title of a very clear and practical work on the art of swimming, including instructions in rescuing the drowning, and restoring the apparently drowned, and liberally illustrated with special photographs. It is by T. W. Sheffield, winner of King Edward's trophy in world's competition, 1905, and Hon. member Royal Life Saving society. For sale by W. G. Thomson, bookseller. Price $1.00. 393-2

AT NAKUSP

Great Activity and Quick Settlement Around Arrow Lake City

(Special to The Daily News.)

NAKUSP, Aug. 19.—The prettiest wedding of the season took place at Arrowhead Tuesday when Richard Carsten Bush of the C.P.R. steamship service was united to Miss Isabel Peck of Fruitvale. The wedding was quiet, only a few intimate friends of the bride and groom being present. The happy couple took a gasoline launch and left on an extended trip among the beautiful bays and offings that abound on the Arrow lakes.

W. Shaw, who is representing the Nakusp Land company of Winnipeg, visited here last week and stated that it was the intention of his company to develop their large areas, to clear stump and burn, and sub-divide the land into small blocks to suite prospective purchasers, and ultimately take out the waters of Kuskonaux creek, so that in the event of a dry season abundance of water might be available for irrigation. He was greatly surprised at the great settlement that is going on, the vast amount of acreage that can be brought under cultivation in the immediate vicinity of Nakusp, and the fine type of settler that is coming in, not only from the United States, but from the older provinces and the mother country.

William Hunter, M. P. P., E. E. Chipman, gold commissioner, and Murdock Maclean, road superintendent, visited here and engaged to men whom they put to work on the trunk road from here to Burton. It is the intention of the government to expend $50,000 on this road, which will open up an immense area of land, much of which is already settled upon. The government have taken up the establishment of a large fruit depot near the C.P.R. wharf here for the storing of fruit. Plans are being prepared for a very large government office with a lockup in the stone basement, mining record's offices and a court room on the top story. The cost of the building will be approximately $3,000.

Hon. F. Aylmer, the inspector of dredges, and a party of artizans are at work repairing the Dominion dredge here. It is the intention to put the boat again on the shallows near the narrows, where varying currents change navigation's channel.

The manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce reports that business is very good in the savings bank and current account line, and he predicts a great future for this district. H. La Rothwell has made a great number of friends among the settlers and merchants in the town and vicinity. New accounts are coming in along the waterway from Needles, Burton, Arrow Park, and from Brouse and Summit on the Nakusp and Slocan branch, and other points.

Forest fires have done damage spreading from the big German settlement at Brouse, where 500 acres are being cleared by Hess & Guyet, to timber owned by Morrison & Cameron. The provincial fire warden has been on the ground and the fire is said to be under control.

A forest fire is raging in and around Mosquito creek, and it is feared that much damage will result.

Starving Strikers in Sweden Want to Resume Work

STOCKHOLM, Aug 19 — The end of the labor troubles which became acute in Stockholm in the early part of the month is in sight. The leaders of the various unions have opened negotiations with the employers with the object of having the men resume work. The street railway company, however has refused to reinstate its old men, being satisfied with its present staff. There is today much distress among the families of the strikers, some of whom are on the point of starvation.

Kootenay's exhibit for the Toronto fair which opens on Wednesday next will go forward by the Crow steamer tomorrow morning. The display is most complete, containing specimens of all the various products of Kootenay, and from an advertising standpoint will undoubtedly greatly benefit the district. TALKS OF TOURIST HOTEL

MOOSEJAW MAN DISCUSSES ITS VALUE TO DISTRICT

MAKES STATEMENT CONCERNING SITE QUESTION

G. M. Annable of Moosejaw, a brother of J. E. Annable of Nelson, accompanied by H. Thomson, also of Moosejaw, are spending a few days here on their way home after a tour through British Columbia and a visit to the Seattle exposition.

Seen by a representative of The Daily News last night Mr. Annable said that the crops in the three prairie provinces were this year by far the largest which even that fertile country has ever produced. "I have," said Mr. Annable, "never seen a better crop during all my 27 years' experience as a farmer and rancher in the west. It is true that the hail has in some places done a little damage, but the average grain crops will be far and away ahead of the average year.

"Moosejaw," he continued, "is growing at a great pace, and I may say the same about the majority of the other prairie cities, of Edmonton, of Calgary, of Regina, of Saskatoon, or of Lethbridge.

"It may be unnecessary for me to say so, but this rapid and substantial growth and the great crops in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba will mean a great thing for British Columbia. The amount of capital from the middle west which every year is invested in this province is always a source of wonder to me. During my trip to Vancouver I learnt that a very large proportion of its growth was due to wealth brought in from my own province and the territory adjacent, and I may say the same thing of Victoria, which is also in its own quiet way growing more rapidly than I have ever known it.

"This brings me to a very important subject. The growth of Victoria is due in no small measure to the vast tide of tourist traffic which passes through there every year, every month and every week. Victoria and Vancouver island generally has many natural beauties and this has to some degree been responsible for the size and prosperity of the capital city. The great and foremost reason, however, for Victoria's wealth—for its size it is the wealthiest city in the Dominion—is the advertising which it has gained through the location of that great hotel, the Empress. Since the C.P.R built this tourist hotel they have strenuously advertised the city in which it is situated just as they have in the case of the main line tourist hotels at Banff, Field, and at other points in that district. Victoria, as are Banff and Field, is very largely supported by the flood of tourists which is brought there directly and indirectly by the C.P.R.

"My reason for speaking of this matter is that I understand that the railway has promised to build a tourist hotel somewhere between Nelson and Proctor. This will be a tremendous thing for the whole district, but there is one thing I cannot understand and that is why the board of trade, as business men, do not get up and say that that hotel must be either at Nelson or close to it, say at a point a mile or half a mile away. As a business man I really cannot understand that there can be any two questions to the matter as far as the best interests of Nelson are concerned. I myself own property in various parts of the Kootenays and I therefore speak not only as an ordinary man of business, but as one who is directly interested. It seems to me that the interests of the residents throughout the surrounding country are going to be best served if this hotel is placed at a point in or close to Nelson. It is no good for people to argue that the tourists staying at a hotel situated, say 20 or 25 miles away, their money. They would spend a little, perhaps, but it would be as nothing to the amount which they would spend if they were actually located here. If the hotel is outside Nelson the greater part of the tourist money would be spent there.

"I was both surprised and delighted," continued Mr. Annable, "to find that the apple crop in the Nelson district is this year so remarkably good. I have been both through the Okanagan and the coast districts but as far as apples are concerned Kootenay has both them beaten this year. Some fruit I saw at James Johnstone's ranch today and at a place at 6-Mile point, is some of the finest I have ever come across. This must be especially encouraging to Kootenay ranchers where it is considered that the present year is a remarkably dry one. I have never seen the country so short of water."

Messrs. Annable and Thomson will spend the day in Nelson and will then leave for Moose Jaw.

CAPTURES GRIP THIEF

SLICK POLE LANDED IN GAOL AFTER HARD RUN

STOLE VALISE FROM SIDEWALK OUTSIDE HUME HOTEL

A smart arrest was made shortly after midnight yesterday when acting chief of police Ellis arrested Nekata Ihlyiatut, a Pole, near the Allen roller rink, at the west end of Baker street, after an exciting chase.

Shortly before midnight on Wednesday, Constable Ellis was standing near the Nelson Transfer company's barn. He was off duty and was awaiting the bus leaving the transfer for the depot, being en route to the station to meet friends who were to arrive on the train. The officer was talking with members of the staff of the livery when he saw Ihlyiatut pick up one of the grips which were laid near the door at the Hume hotel waiting to be transferred to the Crow steamer. The latter immediately concealed himself in the bushes behind the hotel carrying the valise in his hand. Ellis walked across Vernon street in the direction in which he had seen Ihlyiatut go and the thief then commenced to run. The officer immediately took pursuit. Constable Ellis followed his man around the rear of the C.P.R. ticket office and did not see him again until he dashed out of the bushes in the alley between Baker and Vernon streets, near Kootenay, and ran down the centre of the alley to Falls street from where he rushed across Baker street and crashed himself in the bushes near the Alice rink. Here he was caught by Ellis who found the grip to be still in his possession. The stolen property was a commercial traveller's suit case and was of considerable value.

The prisoner was lodged in the city lock-up at 12.30, or within 40 minutes of having seized his booty.

In the city police court yesterday morning Ihlyiatut, who was en route from Greenwood to Coleman, Alta., was arraigned before Police Magistrate Bullock-Webster and was ordered to spend six months in the provincial gaol here with hard labor.
