FIVE HUNDRED MILE TRAMP TO CIVILIZATION

Schooner to Investigate Feasibility of Hudson's Bay Route—Watch the Movement of Ice

HALIFAX, June 22—The Dominion government schooner Criscie G. Thomey leaves on Saturday for Hudson's Bay to report on the feasibility of the Hudson's Bay route for wheat shipments from the west in connection with the proposed Hudson's Bay railway from Winnipeg. The Thomey will survey the approaches to Nelson river in order to ascertain the depth of water and locate if possible the best channel. This will necessitate the schooner working as far out as 40 miles from land and over 30 miles up the river to the proposed terminus. The steamer will return to Halifax late in the autumn, but the engineering staff will locate for a time on the shores of the bay in order to watch the ice, its forming and its movement and they will not leave for civilization until the winter has fully set in. Then they will start on a tramp of 500 miles across an almost unknown and uninhabited country, which they expect to do in 20 days. They go equipped to wrestle with the biting cold of the far north. They will come out at Winnipeg.

Goes Under Sail

The Thomey will go under sail, the idea of putting in an auxiliary engine having been abandoned. The government steamer Stanley will operate for a similar purpose about Fort Churchill. The engineers in charge of both parties will report to the government and on their reports will depend largely the future action of the government concerning their route and the selection of the deep water docks.

INSPECT KOOTENAY TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Manager Halse and Superintendent Bollschweiler Will Meet Nelson Board of Trade Tomorrow.

George H. Halse of Vancouver, secretary and general manager of the British Columbia Telephone company, limited, arrived from the coast on Tuesday night, accompanied by C. F. Bollschweiler, the company's superintendent of plant. Their mission is to make an inspection of the company's system in the Kootenays.

Yesterday morning, Mr. Halse, after a conference with G. H. Ward, local manager of the Nelson exchange, made arrangements to meet the board of trade in a conference tomorrow on the telephone question.

In the afternoon Messrs. Halse and Bollschweiler left on the steamer Kokanee, for Kaslo.

So far as the desired extension along the West Arm, between Nelson and Balfour, is concerned, the terms offered by the company were, to construct the line this summer, provided 35 contracts were signed by June 20. The service will require 20 miles of line, and the lake will have to be crossed by cable three times.

GENERAL COTTON OBJECTS TO INDIANS

Suggestions to Twenty-sixth Middlesex Taken in Bad Part by Officers.

LONDON, June 22—The inspection of London camp by Brigadier General Cotton today was the occasion of a heart to heart talk with the officers of each regiment. The general invited suggestions as to why recruiting for camps of instruction meets with increasing difficulty. Some of them told him that the new regulations concerning efficiency pay were too strict, and the rule by which men are required to use the Ross rifle although their corps issued Lee-Enfield was also criticised. The general also got himself in "bad" with the officers of the 26th Middlesex, one of the most efficient battalions in the district by suggesting that giving "our fellows a chance," would be better than enlisting Indians, of which the corps happens to be largely composed.

WRECKED STEAMER LIKELY TO BECOME TOTAL WRECK

ST. John's, Nfld., June 22—The Hamburg-American line steamship Prinz Oskar, Montreal for Rotterdam, which was reported ashore yesterday on the western entrance of the strait of Belle Isle, is in a dangerous position, and it is feared she will become a total wreck, according to a message received tonight by the Newfoundland government officials. The Prinz Oskar's passengers were taken off yesterday by the Allan liner Sicilian, which proceeded later on her way to England. A revenue cruiser was despatched this evening to the Prinz Oskar's assistance. She lies aground at Flower cove on the northwest coast of Newfoundland, nearly opposite Point Aurora.

STOLEN JEWELS DISCOVERED IN OLD LARD PAIL

WASHINGTON, June 22—In an old dust covered lard pail hanging from a rafter in the hay loft of a livery stable here, $11,000 worth of jewelry were discovered today by detectives. For nearly four months, while the police of every city in the country have been endeavoring to trace them, the jewels had hung undisturbed in the barn where they had been hidden by Scott Windblen, a negro, who had stolen them from the home of Mrs. Rebecca S. Hornaby, in this city.

EXPECT DECISION ON SPOKANE RATES

To be Announced in a Few Days—Substantial Reductions May be Made.

A dispatch from Washington published in Spokane says:

"WASHINGTON, June 21—Following talks with officials of the interstate commerce commission, Senator Jones and Representative Miles Poindexter of Washington say they expect big rate reductions in the Spokane case decision, which is scheduled to be announced in a few days. Senator Jones says he has learned that the decision was prepared last week, but that the commission desired to submit it to rate statistical experts before promulgation.

"According to a member of the commission, that body felt justified in devoting much time to the case, which was instituted four years ago. A great territory is concerned.

"The decision will, it is understood, deal with rates from the Pacific coast to many cities and towns in eastern Washington, Oregon and California, that question having been raised by the railroads in connection with the determination of the reasonableness of rates from the east to Spokane and other points in the intermountain country."

It is probable that this will have some effect on Nelson rates.

MOYIE SERVING AS THE BERRY STEAMER

Leaves Nelson Every Evening for Round Trip—Calls at Crawford Bay and Grey's Creek.

The steamer Moyie, with Capt. D. C. McMorris in temporary command, on Monday entered service as the berry steamer, leaving Nelson that evening for the round trip over the lake, and returning to the city the following morning, having handled 100 crates of strawberries. On her second trip she reported 140 crates. When the daily shipments reach several hundred crates she will take on a barge.

The Moyie will leave Nelson every evening at 7 o'clock for points on the arm and on the upper lake. The following morning she will deliver all the crated fruit at Kootenay Landing, in advance of the arrival of the steamer Kuskanook. She will pick up both the pailed and crated fruit, delivering the pailed fruit at Nelson, for the Kootenay Jam company. No other steamer will pick up berries.

In addition to this service, Capt J. C. Gore, superintendent of the C. P. R. lake and river service, has decided to have the Moyie call for passengers and freight at Crawford Bay and Grey's Creek, relieving the Kuskanook from calling at the first named point, and the Kokanee from calling at the second. The Moyie will handle traffic from those points both outward and inward.

NOT ACCEPT

Wage Dispute With Canadian Railways

Trainmen Will Not Accept Board's Award

Have Notified Management of Companies

MONTREAL, June 22—The committee of the Brotherhoods of Railway Trainmen and Railway Conductors has refused to accept the award of the board of conciliation in regard to the wage dispute with the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways. Their decision was made known this afternoon, when the following telegram was sent by them to the minister of labor at Ottawa:

Men's Statement

The general committees representing the men employed in the train and yard service of the Canadian Pacific unanimously request us to advise you that they have thoroughly considered the award handed down by the board of arbitration in the recent investigation. While thanking the board for its earnest efforts, honest consideration and intentions in preparing the award referred to, the committee are compelled to advise you that it is unsatisfactory, being impracticable of adoption and that it cannot be accepted. For reasons best known to the gentlemen composing the board, standards and comparative differentials existing in the territory and on the Canadian Pacific railway have been entirely ignored, or worse still reversed, thereby making the award as handed down impossible of acceptance. We are this date writing Mr. McNicoll enclosing this telegram and asking if his company are still indisposed to recognize past and recently received standards in the territory.

This is signed by James Murdock, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and S. H. Berry, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors.

What They Ask

The committee expects an answer from Mr. McNicholl tomorrow morning. The standards referred to in the telegram to the minister of labor are those paid by United States railways entering Canada, so that practically the demand of the men is that wages on Canadian railways be placed on the same basis as those in the United States in territory contiguous to the Canadian border, that is upon the New York Central and its affiliated lines, which are closely in touch with the Canadian frontier.

ATTEMPTS TO CUT COMPANION'S THROAT

Murderous Assault by Italian at Princeton—Assailant is Captured—Construction Brisk

(Special to The Daily News.)

HEDLEY, June 22—Italian navies on the V., V. & E. grade spoiled their reputation for good behavior which they made for themselves when they were working in this vicinity. On Saturday night one of them Carmen Dominick, made a murderous assault with a razor on Jim Volpe in which he attempted to behead him. The affray took place in Princeton on the platform in front of the Tulameen hotel. The men had been working out on the line at station work and came into Princeton that afternoon. There was no quarreling or altercation between them at the time and the affair was altogether treacherous and cold blooded, for the assailant went over to Thomas' store after they had been drinking for some time and bought a razor with which he returned. Suddenly, and without any warning, he slashed at Volpe catching him first at the back of the neck and drawing the razor around to the windpipe he narrowly escaped the jugular vein. The long wound, while deep in places is not regarded by the doctors as serious. Volpe was brought to the railway hospital at Hedley. When first cut he sat down on a bench and made no outcry for several minutes until finally he called for a doctor and by this time Dominick had time to escape. Constable Hewatt, however, on learning of the affair took prompt steps for his apprehension and the telephone was used to head him off. He kept off the wagon road and a couple of days later was caught about half way between Princeton and Nicola, presumably on the One Mile train. The only reason Volpe can assign for the assault was that in his capacity as foreman of the gang he had occasion at times to collect from the men to send out members who were injured and on these occasions Dominick would not contribute and was disagreeable and a little friction was caused, which terminated as above.

Construction work is going on as brisk as ever and the rumor that the railways are retrenching by laying off men does not apply in the case of this particular piece of work.

EMPLOYEES PARTNERS IN WATTSBURG MILLS

Stock Not for Sale But Will be Given to Capable Employees—Workmen's Homes.

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRESTON, June 22.—A. K. Watts, president of the Wattsburg Lumber company, which owns mills at Proctor and Wattsburg, upon being interved at Creston today in reference to his co-operative plan of employing workmen at his mills, said in part:

"My proposal of making employees partners is to give them a real business interest in the business in which they are engaged, and I do not propose asking men to purchase shares, they are not for sale, but will each year distribute a certain proportion of shares to the employees who exhibit a real interest in the business in a practical way. These shares will be fully paid up and will carry no liability with them, and will be given according to the worth of the men and their ability and the measure of success they make. My idea is to attract good men, who wish to make permanent homes, and for that purpose we have reserved lands near our mills which will be either sold on easy terms or leased to workmen under perpetual lease. Lumber and all necessary articles for construction of permanent residences will be supplied on time and at wholesale prices. My article recently published in the Nelson Daily News on the new and practical Socialism has attracted widespread attention. I am in receipt of many letters asking for further particulars and making favorable comments on the idea, notably from the editor of the American Lumberman, the minister of labor and others.

No Use for Drones.

"With the high wages men can now earn at our works in logging camps, in the sawmill, and in the sash and door factory, if they own their own home with an acre or two of land, if attended to in their spare time, they can save at least half their wages, and it is a well known fact that an acre of the productive land of the Kootenays can produce from $150 to $300 worth of produce annually. Therefore, if he chooses he can be practically independent in the course of a few years, besides becoming a partner in a lucrative business. But it is distinctly understood that we have no use for drones or men who are looking for easy snaps, and also that when we are giving our shares as an inducement to attract good men, they are not getting shares in a bogus concern, but in a concern whose assets are worth over half a million. Neither is a sawmill of this kind a temporary business, as we contract over three million feet of timber tributary to the Proctor sawmill alone."

POSTAL SAVINGS BILL IS REPORTED

Postal Bank System for United States—Five Hundred Dollars Limit of Deposit

WASHINGTON, June 22—By a vote of 44 to 25 the United States senate today concurred in the house postal savings bank bill, thus sending it to President Taft without a conference.

WASHINGTON, June 22—After voting down several amendments the United States senate decided by 44 to 25 to concur in the house amendments to the postal savings bank bill and thus took the last legislative step necessary to the establishment of a postal bank savings system in the United States. The measure was included in the administration schedule and its passage marks another triumph for President Taft. Most of the insurgents voted for the measure but Senators Bristow, Cummings and Lafollette refused to yield and cast their votes in the negative with the Democrats. Senator Chamberlain cast the only Democratic vote for this bill.

The bill, as it goes to the president, provides for the designation of postoffices as postal savings depositories. The opening of such depositories is left to the discretion of a board of three trustees, the postmaster general, the secretary of the treasury and the attorney general. This board is given complete control of the depositories and their funds. As it will require considerable time for the board to prepare its regulations, it is impossible at this time to predict when the postal banking system will be in operation. In these depositories any person over ten years of age may deposit one dollar or multiples of that amount. Pass books will be issued and interest allowed at the rate of 2 per cent per annum.

Five Hundred Limit

No person may deposit more than $100 in any one month nor have an account exceeding $500 to his credit at any one time. The withdrawal of funds is to be permitted at any time. The postal savings funds thus accumulated are to be placed in state and national banks in communities in which the deposits are made and the banks are to be required to pay 2 1-4 per cent interest.

Five per cent of the total deposits is to be held by the treasurer of the United States as a reserve to guarantee the payment of depositors. Banks must deposit security in the shape of public bonds to insure the safety of deposits. There is a provision authorizing the withdrawal of 20 per cent of the deposits for investment in government bonds and depositors are permitted to transmute their deposits into bonds when they so desire. There is also a special provision authorizing the investment of the remaining 65 per cent of the savings fund but this step is to be taken only when directed by the president in the interests of general welfare.

Postmasters in the fourth class are to be given additional compensation for their services in connection with the depositories and postal savings accounts. It is expressly declared of the bill, itself that the "faith of the United States is solemnly pledged to the payment of the deposits made by postal savings depositors.

APPLE SHOW

Two Million Apples for Vancouver

Kootenay's Co-operation is Desired

Manager Maxwell Smith Tours Interior

"There is no doubt whatever that the first Canadian National Apple Show which will be held at Vancouver on Oct. 31-Nov. 5, will outstrip everything in that line ever held. That is to say, it will be the greatest apple show ever held in the world. A fund of $25,000 will be distributed in prizes. This, it may be pointed out, is $5000 more than the Spokane show will have to distribute, though perhaps it is hardly generous to make this point. The show will be distinctly national in character and we have every assurance that there will be representative exhibits from every province in the Dominion and from the neighboring states. The support given by the press, both of British Columbia and the east, is heartily appreciated."

Mr. Smith Meets Board

So spoke Maxwell Smith, editor of the Fruit Magazine, and manager of the first Canadian National Apple Show, who arrived in Nelson last night from the coast on a ten day tour of the interior, when he will come into contact with the fruit growers associations and boards of trade in an endeavor to secure a concerted effort from this part of the province and when he will also endeavor to estimate, as closely as possible, what displays may be expected from the various districts. Mr. Smith met representatives of the Nelson board of trade and the Nelson fair board last night and this morning leaves for Creston. After visiting Cranbrook he will return and go to Grand Forks. Before the tour is completed he will have also covered points as far apart as Revelstoke and Penticton, in fact he counts on covering the fruit districts of the province.

Ample Space

"The arrangements for the show," explained Mr. Smith, "are on an ample scale. The exhibits are expected to take up a floor space of 100,000 square feet, or about two and a half acres. It will be held in two of the largest buildings of the Vancouver Exhibition association, in Hastings park. These two buildings will be joined by a temporary covering, bringing the whole show practically under one roof. The effect of this will be to make a magnificent impression instead of dissipating the attractions by scattering the departments. One of the advantages of the location is that exhibitors can ship their exhibits directly to the grounds without breaking bulk.

"The management of the show has selected for the carload and box classes the best known commercial varieties of apples. In addition to the carload, box and district displays there are classes for over 200 varieties in the plate display. In the carload display alone there are 10 classes.

"The management has selected a staff of judges, the best to be found on the continent, with Prof VanDenan of Washington, D.C., whose reputation is continental, as chief.

"There will be somewhere between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 apples on display altogether. Buyers in the principal fruit markets of the world will be on hand and upwards of 10,000 visitors from outside.

Province's Opportunity

"This is British Columbia's first opportunity to make a demonstration in force, that will convince the world of its capabilities as a fruit growing province. What I want to see is the whole of the Kootenay district unite in one grand display representing the Kootenays. That does not in the least interfere with all the districts taking part in the competitions and retaining their individuality."

The officers of the first Canadian National Apple Show are as follows: Honorary president, his excellency Earl Grey; president, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy; honorary first vice-president, Hon. Richard McBride; honorary second vice-president, Mayor L. D. Taylor; vice-president, J. N. Ellis; treasurer, G. F. Baldwin; manager, Maxwell Smith; secretary, L. G. Monroe. Secretary Monroe, who is ex-secretary of the Spokane chamber of commerce, is already installed in the offices of the show in the Winch building.

KAISER WILLIAM STILL LIMPS.

POTSDAM, June 22—Emperor William left at 8 a. m. by train for Hamburg on his way to attend the yachting regatta at Kiel. He will board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Altona. At Hamburg he will dine with Albert Ballin, director general of the Hamburg American steamship line. As his majesty stepped out of the new palace he appeared somewhat pale, but walked without limping. It is understood that the inflamation of the right knee joint is nearly healed.

TALE OF KASLO'S PIONEER TIMES

Now the One Restaurant Was Financially Ruined—Lucy Cashes His "String."

Last week I told the story of the practical joke played upon Jack Davis by his partner, Jack Lucy, in the strenuous boom days of Kaslo, B. C., when the inhabitants of that little mining town on Kootenay lake were awaiting the spring thaw that would permit them to hie to the mountains and fortune; this week I will tell another true story of which the same Jack Lucy was the hero, or, more properly speaking, the evil genius.

Lucy's Financial Operations.

Lucy had been one of the early arrivals on the scene immediately following the report of Eli Carpenter's great discovery at what subsequently became known as the Payne mine—the greatest dividend payer in the Slocan district for several years—and had secured property of some promise in the vicinity of the Big Bertha, in Jackson basin. At that time George Kane, one of the locators of the townsite of Kaslo and then mayor of the burg, I believe, had aspirations as a promoter and mine owner and with that purpose in view had bought up all the available claims that could be handled for a small modicum of cash and on long time option. In his quest for further wealth he approached Lucy and, as the latter needed ready spending money for the use of the saloon keepers on Front street, he was readily induced to part with his holdings for a few hundred dollars in cash, with the second payment due in the spring of the following year—in 1893. Having received the money he proceeded to get rid of it in the most approved western style and for a few days succeeded in making Kaslo howl. There is an end to everything, however, and so it was with Jack's money. By the time 1893 had started well upon its way Lucy was a victim of a financial stringency and for some months held on merely by the aid of an elastic credit, secured by promise of liquidation when George Kane's second payment became due.

No Tie Passes.

When that time came, however, it will be remembered by all, and with the most poignant memories by those who dwelt in Kaslo, the bottom had dropped clear out of silver and the quotation went down by parachute drops to a price which effectually dashed all hopes of wealth and left one and all in such financial condition that their entire time was taken up in efforts to secure sufficient food to keep the hungry wolf from the door. It must be remembered that walking was at no time good in the vicinity of Kaslo and that the only means of reaching the outside world lay in passage on the boats, owned by a hard-hearted company and plying between that point and Nelson, or by swimming the sixty odd miles that lay between the little mining town and the northern terminus of the Nelson and Fort Sheppard railroad, which has since become part of the Spokane and Northern branch of the Great Northern system. Under these conditions it was up to the wayfarer to make his peace with the steamboat company or remain in town and hustle for his scanty meals. That was the condition of Lucy, and after a few weeks of lean picking he resolved to take the bull by the horns and insist upon some settlement from Kane, who still held on to his optimistic hopes and had so far propitiated Lucy with rosy promises.

Digging Up.

Meeting the mayoral promoter on the street Jack approached him with evident sincerity of speech and said, "See here, Kane, you must make some payment on that option. Part of the matter is I am not eating regularly and besides I want to get away from this damned hole as soon as the Lord will let me. So dig up, and dig up at once." Kane was used to these frequent duns by that time, however, and resayed further temporizing with his creditor. But Jack would not be denied and I remember the conversation became quite torrid in its tone. Finally Kane said: "Jack, I'm as broke as you are and probably a damned sight broker. I have all sorts of town property here and as many buildings, but this panic has cut off my rents and it's impossible to collect a cent. But there's a fellow down here at the Bon Ton restaurant owes me several months' rent and I think I could get a bunch of meal tickets from him on account if you would take them over and credit the amount on the second payment on your claims."

Rolling in Meal Tickets.

"Done," said Lucy without a moment's hesitation, and within an hour he was the possessor of a bunch of meal tickets as large as the proverbial roll that was supposed in some mythical age to have choked a cow. It was about supper time and so Jack, in full possession of all his optimistic good humor once more, sallied forth to the Bon Ton, picking up two or three of his boon companions on the way and inviting them to share his good luck. Bear in mind that none but the near-millionaire had indulged in a really square meal for several weeks and you will have some idea of what those fellows did to the bill of fare.

Blow to Proprietor.

Lucy ordered everything in sight, washed down with beer by the half-dozen bottles, and, after everything had been dispatched, made a raid on the little cigar counter in front and filled his own pockets and those of his friends. The face of the proprietor, when confronted with the meal tickets in payment for the feast, was a sight to behold, but he was a game little man and wielded his punch without a murmur, at the same time making a mental resolve that he would be on the lookout when Lucy came around again. But Lucy was not quite through; his inner man having been appeased he was on the outlook for some diversion and so he stood within a few doors of the restaurant and interrogated everyone who came down the street, especially the gaunt and hollow-eyed, upon the condition of their appetites. If a man admitted hunger he was told to "go in and eat," and within half an hour the restaurant was doing the business of its career. The proprietor was almost speechless with astonishment after the lean days of the preceding weeks, but he said nothing and sawed wood, evidently in the belief that silver had taken an upward turn of which he had received no previous intimation. Beef steaks, mutton chops, calves' liver and bacon, pork chops, sausage, tripe and all the toothsome delicacies of mining camp fare, disappeared with rapidity that took his breath away, but after awhile the demand was satisfied, and, at about the same moment, all his guests arose and sauntered over to the cashier's counter.

Not Speechless Long.

The proprietor was almost speechless when the first customer presented another of the Lucy meal tickets, but when the second and the third and the fourth and the fifth presented similar currency I regret to say that he lost his temper and startled the quiet surroundings with a torrent of the most villainous language ever heard, even in that neighborhood. It was so with them all: as Lucy invited them to eat he had pushed a meal ticket into each outstretched hand and was waiting around the corner to witness the fun which he felt confident was scheduled to occur in the little sizzling eating-house.

Only Restaurant Closed.

That was the end of the restaurant; facing an appalling deficit for the day and in the knowledge that a stack of similar tickets lay on the adverse side of the ledger, the proprietor discharged his help without salaries, carried off all the edibles left and pulled down the blinds. And what was more to the point so far as the rest of us were concerned, it was practically the only restaurant in town. For the few subsequent weeks I remained, while funds were reaching me from the outside I ate at a little hole-in-the-wall that did all the business of the town for many a day after the Bon Ton went out of commission as a result of too much business.

ACROSS ATLANTIC IN A DIRIGIBLE

Following Trade Winds From Spain to West Indies Like Columbus—Balloon to Carry Boat.

Projects of transatlantic flight have not been lacking in the past, but so long as the only available vehicle was the spherically drifting balloon, they were hardly to be considered seriously. The advance of the large dirigible balloon to a stage of development where it can be called an "airship" without evoking smiles of derision has given new impetus to such schemes. One of the latest, proposed by an American journalist, Mr. Joseph Brucker, is taken with sufficient seriousness by Engineering to warrant an extended article discussing the features of the plan and the route to be selected. Says this paper:

To Carry a Boat.

"A committee has been formed, which, on both technical and financial grounds, is capable of starting this project on the road to fulfilment. The scheme has advanced to the point of placing contracts with German firms of recognized standing, who are prepared to provide the necessary equipment, which will include, in addition to the dirigible balloon of large dimensions, a stout, seaworthy boat, to be attached to the airship, and to be used in case of accident to the aerial apparatus. The plan involves, therefore, not only the carriage of a certain number of passengers across the Atlantic, but also of a vessel, in which the journey might have been made. While we commend the caution thus exhibited, it is evident that transoceanic flight, handicapped in this manner, will make little progress.

Smaller Than a Zeppelin.

"The balloon itself is necessarily a serious affair, but far less capacious than a Zeppelin. It will be of elliptic form, about 160 feet long, and nearly 70 feet in diameter in the center. To obviate the difficulties arising from solar radiation, the gas bag will be enclosed in an outer covering of some non-heat-conducting material, leaving an air space of 4 or 6 inches between this covering and the gas bag proper. At the same time a ballonet of peculiar construction, which is still a matter for experiment, will be provided. In this way it is assumed that the loss of gas will be reduced to a minimum, and no untoward circumstances arise from the inevitable heating of the balloon covering. Immediately under the balloon there is to be a platform capable of accommodating a crew, who will have to attend to the steering, balancing, gas control, etc.; and below this, again, in the place the car usually occupies, will be a substantial boat, 30 feet long and about 9 feet beam. In the hold of this boat will be carried a motor of some 40 horse power, capable of revolving the air propeller, or, if adverse circumstances supervene, the screw of the boat when lowered into the water. This boat also carries a large tank of petrol, provisions, kitchen galley, etc.

Might Encounter Hurricane.

"Numerous ingenious devices have been introduced and that the scheme is practicable for a certain distance may possibly be admitted. But the step from covering a few hundred miles on land to one of some thousands over sea is a formidable one. It may not be too much to say that the risks increase with the square of the distance traversed. One would like to have more assurance on the question of navigation, or the accurate determination of position. Ocean currents of a slow-moving and well-recognized type, and of whose position the navigator is perfectly aware, can work very disastrously on ships, and it seems not impossible but that in the swifter and unknown aerial currents there may lurk a source of danger which has been very inadequately apprehended. One can imagine circumstances in which the compass would become useless and sextant observations more uncertain than on the unstable deck of a ship."

Route.

What course should an airship follow across the Atlantic? The shortest course, the writer asserts, would be far from preferable here. The one factor to be considered is the prevailing direction of the wind. Owing to the direction and characteristics of the trade winds the attempt will be made in the spring, and the aeronauts will sail from Europe to America. Not only will the force and direction of this current prove of great assistance, but in the zone in which it obtains there is small variation in the daily temperature. Since it is desirable to keep the gas at a constant temperature, this fact is also in favor of the route, etc., of the scheme. To quote again:

"The greatest chance of success, therefore, points to a course which, starting from Cadiz, will pass by Madeira and Teneriffe, and maintaining a generally west-southwest direction, will endeavor to make Porto Rico. Thence along the chain of islands leading to Havana, this course is easy. On leaving Cuba, New Orleans will be the goal and, finally, to New York."

The whole passage involves a journey of more than 7000 miles, which it is estimated can be covered in five or six days, although the airship will be provided with gasoline and equipment for much longer.

SHE'S PROUD OF THE JOB

North Bay Italian Stabbed Daughter's Admirer

North Bay's Italian colony had another sensation recently, in which the usual knife play figured.

Alfredo Orsatti, an Italian, 30 years of age, became enamored of Rosina Pelangia, the handsome 18 year-old daughter of James Pelangio, a wealthy Italian leader of this section of Little Italy. Orsatti's suit was distasteful to Rosina's parents, but no serious attention was paid to letters received breathing of deathless devotion. Of late Orsatti has been hanging about Rosina's residence of nights, and today her mother intercepted a letter urging the girl to run away with him and suggesting that she get a sum of money.

Mrs. Pelangio, a lady of about 30, on reading the letter, grabbed a butcher knife and went in quest of Orsatti. She found him and Orsatti is now in a hospital carved up so that even his own mother would not recognize him, and Mrs. Pelangio is openly proud of her job. Orsatti will recover and police proceedings will follow.

HIS DAUGHTER KNEW THE RIGHT REMEDY

To Cure Kidney Trouble

The United States is all right, you know, but Uncle Sam's doctors have not found a cure for serious Kidney Trouble. When sick folks down there want to get well, they send to Canada for Gin Pills.

At least, that is the way Mr. H. S. Ball, of Oxford, Ohio, was cured of a bad case of Kidney Disease.

Mr. Ball took the usual remedies prescribed by the doctors, and wore plasters, and was rubbed with liniments—but steadily grew worse. In a letter to his daughter, who lived in Canada, Mr. Ball wrote of his serious condition. His daughter immediately sent him two boxes of Gin Pills, which did him so much good that he knew he had found the right remedy at last.

July 25th, 1900.

"Find enclosed one dollar for which please send me two boxes of Gin Pills. My daughter sent me two boxes and I had a bad case and am getting well fast. I find lots of men down here in the same fix that I was in, and I shall surely recommend Gin Pills to everybody."

H. S. BALL.

Gin Pills are a product that every Canadian may take pride in, and one that thousands endorse. They are made by the largest wholesale drug house in Canada, who fully guarantee every box. In fact, Gin Pills are sold with a positive guarantee. If, after taking Gin Pills according to directions, you can honestly say that they have not done you any good, simply return the empty boxes to your dealer and your money will be promptly refunded.

PASSENGER AIRSHIP BEGINS SERVICE

Count Zeppelin at the Helm Makes Thirty-Three Miles Per Hour—City Decorated

DUSSELDORF, Germany, June 22—The first regular airship passenger service was inaugurated today when Count Zeppelin's great craft, the Deutschland carrying 20 passengers, successfully made the first scheduled trip from Friedrichshaven to this city, a distance of 300 miles in nine hours. The weather was perfect and the motors worked splendidly. The average time made over the course was approximately 33 miles per hour, but between Friedrichshaven and Stuttgart, the 124 miles were covered at an average rate of 41 miles per hour. The best speed for a single hour was 43 1-2 miles.

Zeppelin at the Helm

Count Zeppelin was at the helm as the Deutschland rose at Friedrichshaven at 3 o'clock this morning and sailed away on a trip that was to mark an epoch in aviation. The passengers were some of the directors of the Hamburg-American Steamship company and the German Airship Stock company, joint owners of the dirigible and guests. They occupied the mahogany walled and carpeted cabin, situated between the gondolas and from the windows viewed the country as the aerial car swept along. Count Zeppelin steered for the greatest part of the distance.

Gaily Decorated

The city had been gaily decorated in honor of the event. The promoters of the enterprise and their guests were entertained at a public dinner. Regular trips will be made and many tickets have already been sold for the first few days at from $250 to $50 each. The airship is equipped with a restaurant which will supply the passengers with a service which is afforded on parlor car railroad trains.

The dimensions of the Deutschland are: Length 435 feet; width 46 feet. The gas capacity is 24,852 cubic yards and carries three motors having a total of 330 horse power. It was designed to maintain a speed of 35 miles per hour. Its lifting capacity is 44,000 pounds, of which 21,000 cover the crew, passengers and express. It is expected to be able to accomplish a continuous trip of 700 miles.

IMPROVED TELHARMONIUM HAS NOW BEEN CONSTRUCTED

Improvements have recently been made in the "telharmonium" which make it possible for that instrument to reproduce the tones of all the principal orchestral instruments instead of being limited, as before, to organ-tones. The beauty of this instrument, however, is that it is capable of producing all sorts of entirely new tones of its own, and it is to be hoped that it will not be used simply as an imitator. Our readers will remember that this device does not transmit music; it produces musical tones directly by means of alternating electrical currents, and by combining these currents in different ways, which may be done by the operator at his keyboard, different qualities of tone may be produced. Evidently if the operator seeks to deliberately make a tone like that of a violin, he is simply producing an imitation. We have already, to be sure, organ pipes purporting to imitate trumpets, horns, viola, etc., but their use deceives no one, whereas the imitation by means of the telharmonium might be made so perfect that it would actually deceive the hearer. Says Engineering News, describing the improved instrument:

"The inventor, Dr. Th addeus Cahill, of Holyoke, Mass., has now completed his third arrangement which is the largest 'telharmonium' yet assembled. . . . In the older system the mere notes sounded on any one keyboard, the less loud each single note became. This 'rolling' has been prevented by a rearrangement of the electrical circuits to eliminate the effects of the reactions of the many circuits acting together on the receiver. A new receiver has been designed, having a diaphragm some 10 times the diameter of a telephone receiver, but only three times as thick. Due to the arrangement of the energizing magnets and of the air passages, a single receiver responds satisfactorily, it is claimed, from deepest bass to highest treble, to a single note of a pure tone or to a full chord of composite tones. The many generators are built of greatly increased capacity, especially in the high-frequency machines for producing the higher pitched notes. It was noted in the earlier article in Engineering News that the 'voices' of various orchestral instruments could be reproduced. In the latest 'telharmonium,' with a number of switchboard and keyboards for several musicians, there has been possible an approach to orchestral tones and a departure from the limitations to organ or single-instrument tones alone."

SIR THOMAS BARCLAY ON CANADIAN CREDIT

After United Kingdom is Safest Place for Investment—Capital Has Confidence.

The London Canadian Mail publishes an interview with Sir Thomas Barclay, which is, in part, as follows:

Preliminary Philosophy.

"What, in your opinion," I asked Sir Thomas Barclay, 'is contributing more than anything else to the new era of development that has begun in Canada?"

"I will tell you one or two things," he replied. "First of all, Canada has the French intellect as a basis, which is full of ingenuity, and at the same time is practical and cautious. Then the Dominion has also the Scotch intellect, which I need not dwell upon, as I am a Scotchman myself, and I might be accused of patriotism carried to excess if I said that the Scotch carry on the game of success everywhere on about the same scale, as do the sterling men from the North of England, especially Lancashire, for whose hard-working and honest clean lives I have the greatest admiration. The third thing is that the Canadian mind on the whole gets a rest in winter. The long silence and the snow clad plains seem to me to result in a sort of enforced rest which is highly conducive to strenuous effort at the times when it is wanted.

"Of course, the basis of Canada's new era of development is the wonderful natural resources, the fertility of the plains, the richness in minerals of the mountains and the extraordinary fruit growing powers of the soil, especially in British Columbia, which I regard as the coming El Dorado."

Safe Place to Invest.

"Then," continued Sir Thomas, "it might be most reasonably inferred from what I have already said, that Canada is a remarkably safe place for English investors to place their money. But there are other additional reasons.

"I should say that Canada, after the United Kingdom, is perhaps the safest place for investment in the world. The Canadian nature, Canadian traditions and Canadian manners are hostile to exaggeration or misrepresentation of any kind. The social and business life of Canada does not lend itself to the whitewashing of rascals. There is only one thing a man can do who has led his fellowmen in the Dominion into disastrous speculations, and that is to quit the country, and to quit it quick. The Canadian people would have no further use for him.

"In view of the fact that Canada is the safest place in the world, next to the United Kingdom, for the investment of funds, I think it is proving more attractive to careful investors than any other country in the world, and largely for the very reason that the safety is just about the same as in the United Kingdom."

NO ADVANCE IN RATES.

NEW YORK, June 22—The American's financial article says:

With the Canadian Pacific maintaining its present rates, or perhaps reducing them, American railroads cannot advance theirs, even if the Inter-State Commerce commission, should be willing. Therefore, shippers need not worry much over high freights.

The Canadian railways are very prosperous with the present rates. They pay the same wages, or even better to their workmen as American railroads do, but they pay no graft to express trusts nor to private car trusts. Canadian railroad managers seem highly pleased at the prospects of the cessation of railroad building in the United States. Laying off of thousands of men on the American roads will give the Canadian roads the laborers they need.

CRASH ON SCENIC RAILWAY.

STRANGE DELUSIONS OF OLD BRIDEGROOM

Wed Only Six Months, Cannot Recall Bride's Name—Pledged Husband's Credit

That a Frenchman named Cartier is prime minister of Canada, that the governor general's name is Monk, and that Queen Victoria still reigns over the British empire are part of the ideas as to existent political conditions entertained by Mr. Michael Fraser of Midland according to affidavits filed at Osgoode hall recently. The affidavits were made by medical men who examined Mr. Fraser in accordance with an order of the divisional court in an action by one of Mr. Fraser's next of kin, as next friend, to have his marriage to Miss Hannah M. O. Robertson of Dundas declared null and void. The alleged marriage was performed last January by Rev. W. Robertson, the father of the bride.

Miss Robertson sought to have the action dismissed as frivolous and an abuse of the process of the court, but an order was made that the question of sanity raised in the pleadings should be disposed of, and if the medical examination did not support the obligation made by Miss McCormick, who sued as next friend, then the suit would not be proceeded with.

Mr. Fraser was therefore examined by Dr. Edward Ryan, medical superintendent of the Rockwood asylum for the insane at Kingston, Dr. Arthur Jukes Johnson, Dr. C. W. Clark, Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith and Dr. R. Ralfes. According to Dr. Ryan's statement Mr. Fraser has been insane for a year at least. His memory of remote events is fair, but anything recent very bad. At first he appeared to have no recollection of his marriage which actually took place last January, then presently he corrected himself but could not recall his wife's maiden name, or the date of his marriage, nor the name of the minister who performed the ceremony. Mr. Fraser is the sole survivor of seven brothers yet he told Dr. Ryan he did not know if his brothers were living or dead. Of his wealth, estimated at $100,000 he had no conception whatever.

"From my examination of the said Michael Fraser," says Dr. Ryan, "I am satisfied that he is suffering from senile dementia and properly of unsound mind. I verily believe that from the indications that I have observed during my examination that the said Michael Fraser has been in a similar condition for at least one year back, and I have no hesitation in making such statement and I most positively say in my judgment and belief that he is now in a state of mental infirmity and incapable of managing himself or his affairs, and I believe he has been similarly incapable for one year back."

Dr. Jukes Johnson, in his affidavit, says that Mr. Fraser, who is about 84 years old, is infirm even for his age and has such hallucinations as to consider he is still living in the woods and that conditions are what they were many years ago. With regard to his marriage his recollection is that it took place in the summer, when actually it was in January last—no summer like season in Midland, Dr. Johnson shares the opinion of Dr. Ryan as to the period during which he has been mentally incapable.

According to the order of the court the next friend must institute lunacy proceedings to have a committee appointed within four weeks.

COLLISION KILLS TWO.

JOHNSTON, Pa., June 22—Meeting headon at a sharp curve between Pelat Creek and Foutsville stations on the Somerset and Cambria branch of the B. and O. railway, two freight trains crashed together early today killing two men and injuring ten others.

CROP REPORT IS GENERALLY OPTIMISTIC

Weather Has Been Beneficial to Advancement of Crops—What Districts Report.

WINNIPEG, June 22—That the weather has been beneficial to the advancement of the crops in the western Canada country is the pith of the information contained in the C. P. R. weekly report issued today.

At Emerson the wheat is ten inches high and the weather is warm and favorable. No damage reported on account of heat.

At Larivere the weather has been very warm and rain is needed.

Broadview says that the growth is good while Rapid City is forging ahead in fine style, the wheat being sixteen inches high in this district.

At Medicine Hat and Moose Jaw the crops are reported to be in excellent condition, while at Calgary, where there has been no rain for the past week or so, no damage is reported.

Arcola writes: "Three to four hours good rain, weather hot with local showers. Grain growing fast."

Antler and Redvers report slight hail but no damage.

Wheat in Arcola is fifteen to twenty two inches high, while oats and barley are seven to ten inches high.

Last Mountain says: About six hours good rain. Weather warm and some light showers. Wheat ten inches to a foot high.

Nokomis reports wheat fifteen inches high. Conditions favorable.

Saskatoon says: About three hours medium rain. Weather very warm.

Wheat is in shot blade in Asquith. Good growth.

Edmonton also reports satisfactory progress. A similar remark applying to Lacombe, Macleod and Crow's Nest.

C. P. R. EMPLOYEES AT GATE KEPT BY ST. PETER

W. R. Lawson, writing in the London Financial News, says:

The Canadian Pacific railway is becoming a world wide institution. In the words of proud Canadians it sails in all the seas and buys up all the railways it can lay hold of. The latest capture has a spice of romance about it. In acquiring the Dominion Atlantic it invades the oldest and most poetic of our British colonies. It stretches its long arm across the Land of Evangeline. The ambition of its rulers appears to be as boundless as that of Julius Caesar or Alexander the Great. There is a legend in Montreal that it aspires even higher. It is said that St. Peter has lately been struck by the number of people arriving at his gate with the Canadian Pacific railway brand on them. His curiosity was excited and he began to ask them what it meant. But the answers he received instead of enlightening him puzzled him more than ever.

One man said he had been a division superintendent on the Canadian Pacific railway in Ontario; another that he had been a brakeman on the Rocky mountain section; another that he had lobbied for the Canadian Pacific railway at Ottawa; another that he had been head waiter in the Canadian Pacific hotel at Quebec; another that he had been steward on a Canadian Pacific steamer on the Atlantic; another that he had been a foreman on the Canadian Pacific docks at St. John's. St. Peter wondered more and more what this amphibious, commopolitan octopus could be that sprawled over a whole continent and owned railways, steamers, docks, hotels, churches and cinematographs, to say nothing of millions of acres of prairie land. He was completely knocked over when a Chinaman arrived with a badge on his arm labelled "C.P.R." "And what part of the Canadian Pacific railway were you?" he demanded. John replied with a celestial smile, "Me washee her Empless boatee Vancouver to Hong Kong."

The only thing St. Peter could say was: "Well, I never heard of such an international crowd. I am afraid I must make a special paradise for you which you can have all to yourselves. If I let you in here you would soon buy up the whole place and I should be out of a job." While he was thus meditating a Nova Scotian presented himself at the gate. St. Peter who was getting nettled by this time, remarked sarcastically: "You are C.P.R. too, I suppose" "Yes," said the Nova Scotian cheerfully, "we have just been taken over at 60 for preference and 30 for the ordinary."

The apostle hadn't the slightest idea what preference and ordinary stock meant, but he hoped it was all right. Then a sudden thought struck him and he said: "By the way, who is it that runs this C.P.R. business? Are there any managers or directors? I would like to see some of them. None of them has come my way yet."

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Till Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Theeman, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes:

"For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always present, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried medicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy."

Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as too painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifying the blood. 25c a box at your druggist's. 10

WIMBLEDON, England, June 22—Beals C. Wright of Boston, won another victory in the all-English championship tennis tournament today defeating G. F. Love in the third round of the singles in three straight sets.

Looks Like Joke

RENO, June 22—Tex Rickard today received from Toronto promoters what he claimed to be the most sensational offer for the fight yet made him. The telegram reads: "Hundred and fifty thousand dollars guarantee if you hold the big fight here July 4. Freedom from police and other interference guaranteed. Rates can be arranged with all railways. Travelling expenses of $2000 for fighters. Wire reply rush.

(Signed) DOWNEY & HOSHALL

After reading the Toronto bid Rickard passed the telegram to newspaper men standing by. "What are the laws in Canada regarding prize fighting?" he queried, "I'll just hold on to this," and he received the message and placed it in his pocket.

Rickard positively asserted today that there was no possibility of Promoter Sid Hester staging the Langford-Ketchell match in the Jeffries-Johnson arena on the morning of July 4 or at any time previous to the big mill.

Will Fight Sure

RENO, June 22—J. J. Jeffries accompanied by his training staff, arrived in Reno from the coast today. Promoter Rickard took him in an automobile to the training quarters at Moana Springs.

Rickard announced today that the big fight would surely take place on July 4 at 1:30 p.m.

Building the Arena

RENO, June 22—The Reno sporting fraternity prepared this morning to give Jeffries a royal welcome. Jeffries has a host of friends in this city and his supporters are anxious to extend him a hearty greeting on his arrival from California. Preparations were made at Moana Springs yesterday for the retired champion's advent to his new training camp. Excellent quarters have been provided. It is hardly likely that Jeffries will do any training work today other than light exercise to rid himself of stiffness he may have contracted as a result of the trip from the coast.

Work on the arena for the big fight began with a rush this morning. The structure is planned to accommodate up wards of 15,000 spectators and its cost is estimated at about $17,000. The arena and the $1000 fight license are Reno's contribution to Promoter Rickard for bringing the battle to this city.

Promoter Hester said last night that he is still up in the air concerning the Ketchel-Langford bout. Rickard holds out no hope to him of allowing the contest to be staged as a morning preliminary to the Jeffries-Johnson go.

Substitutes Are Dangerous

Facsimile 1-3 regular size

Unscrupulous dealers, mindful only of their own profit and caring nothing for the health of their patrons, are offering for sale low grade mixtures which they tell you are "as good as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey."

Some go so far as to try to make you believe it is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. These cheap concoctions are foisted on the people with the intent to deceive.

When a remedy has been before the public for more than half a century, has been prescribed and used by the best physicians and in prominent hospitals and has carried the blessing of health into so many thousands of homes as Duffy Pure Malt Whiskey has, imitations are bound to arise. They may imitate the bottle and label only—no one can imitate the contents.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

has been used with remarkable results in the treatment and cure of all throat, lung and stomach troubles and all wasting and diseased conditions.

It is sold in Sealed Bottles only. The Old Chemist's head is on the label and over the cork is an engraved seal. Be certain this seal is unbroken. Sold by druggists, grocers, dealers or direct, $1.50 a large bottle.

KOREA WILL SHORTLY BE ANNEXED BY JAPAN

According to information reaching political circles in Berlin, the annexation of Korea by Japan will become a fact shortly, if not immediately. The Japanese government will only proclaim the annexation after the commercial treaties expiring on July 1, and of which notice must be given a year previously, have been renewed.

The new treaties will contain the words "Japan, including the province of Korea." Negotiations connected with this change have already been begun with the powers. The importance of this event is seen in authoritative quarters from the circumstance that it is accomplished without Russian opposition, and even, apparently, in agreement with that government, as at the same time an understanding upon the difference between the two powers will be reached.

The friendly relations of Britain with Russia, and her alliance with Japan, have doubtless assisted the Russo-Japanese rapprochement. The British cabinet had a great interest in mediating between its friend and the Japanese treaty was negotiated, a bond which unites the four powers and is now in existence.

CANADIAN MARRIED WIDOW NOW IS A MURDERER

PONTIAC, Mich, June 22—Alexander Wiley, 40 years of age, who came here from Canada a short time ago and married a widow, became angry at her last night because she would not untie a string from about her neck which held a bag containing her savings of $75, that he might buy liquor. He shot her in the head three times and then fired a bullet into his own heart after he had slashed her throat with a knife. She will die and he may recover.

THURSDAY, JUNE 23.

THE NATIONAL APPLE SHOW.

Mr. Maxwell Smith, who is now in the Kootenay in the interests of the National Apple show, will undoubtedly meet with the support from the fruit growers of the Kootenay that his mission deserves.

What the Spokane show has done to advertise the fruit lands of the adjoining states is well known. British Columbia has now reached the stage in the development of her fruit industry when she can present an annual apple show that will do similar good work for this province.

The mere fact that such a show is in existence is an evidence of the fruit growing capabilities of British Columbia, and will attract attention from thousands of fruitgrowers in Ontario and Great Britain, many of whom will find good openings on our lands.

The quality of the exhibits will do similar good work. The leading fruit men from the other provinces who will be present and will see these exhibits, will carry home with them to all parts of the country the knowledge they have gained.

The show will be no small affair. The prize list will be greater than that of Spokane, it will be advertised everywhere and every advertisement that is published of the great apple show to be held in British Columbia will be an advertisement of the fact that British Columbia has ample fruit lands and is able to produce fruit of a quality that may challenge the world.

At such an exhibition the Kootenay should be represented in a manner worthy of the area of its available lands and the suitability of its soil and climate to the most remunerative forms of fruit growing.

RECENT "INEXACTITUDES."

Knowledge of Western Canada is widespread nowadays, but it is sometimes a little hazy. A Buffalo express agent was recently quoted as being under the impression that there was no express office in Calgary. A Calgary paper which commented upon this with grief referred to the fruit lands of the "coast" as if they were all the fruit lands of this province. A Spokane paper says, "Nelson is British Columbia's centre of population." And now the Edmonton Journal says:

> If that gold find in Northern British Columbia proves to be half as good as the first reports, then the Klondike rush of 1898 should be repeated. That rush brought Seattle from a city of 50,000 to over 300,000. The British Columbia rush of 1910 should do similarly for Vancouver, or possibly Prince Rupert.

Seattle is a city which attracts a great deal of attention but her population is still a long way short of 300,000. The population of Vancouver is two or three times 50,000. The rich strikes in northern British Columbia are not of the same nature as the placer diggings which attracted so many thousands to Dawson. They are ores which require money and machinery to develop They are probably better for the country and will be more permanent than the Klondike finds, but they are not likely to be developed quite so rapidly or to lead to such a worldwide rush.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE NEXT YEAR.

It is sometimes said that there is no organization of the British empire, and that the crown is the only visible link of union. Yet the imperial conferences held from time to time provide a kind of informal imperial council. The decisions of the conference have not the force of law, a majority in the conference cannot enforce any decision upon the minority; yet the conference does result in the introduction of legislation and in the taking of joint action.

The next regular meeting is in 1911. Then for the first time a premier from South Africa will sit with the premiers of Canada and Australia. What the chief subjects of discussion will be cannot yet be known but some guess may be made.

The last conference dealt with the question of contributions to imperial defence and one of the results was the Canadian Naval Act. The same question may be discussed again. Trade marks, postal facilities and uniformity of commercial law on various points, may also again be heard of. The All Red route seems to be if not dead yet sleeping very soundly. Fast steamship lines are being established on the routes to Canada without the proposed subsidy; though with such a subsidy still more might be done, and the existing lines may be regarded as proving the commercial feasibility of the plan.

Control of ocean rates by government or by a commission representing several governments is likely to come up. There are complaints that combinations have been formed among the companies controlling the chief lines of freight vessels and that competition in ocean freights between this continent and Great Britain is disappearing. Proposals have been made by no less a body than the railway commission looking to the formation of a similar body controlling transportation upon the Atlantic between British countries.

ADDITIONAL SPORT

Jeffries in Camp

RENO, June 23—James J. Jeffries is tonight installed in the training camp prepared for him at Moana Springs, three miles out of Reno and work on the arena for the fight is under way. Tex Rickard says he is satisfied that the state officials will make no attempt to interfere with the fight.

Another Arena

Sid Hester announced tonight that having failed to get the use of the Jeffries-Johnson arena he will take out a license and build an arena of his own to stage the Langford-Ketchell fight on the morning of July 4.

Jeff Crowded

Jeffries and his trainers and sparring partners are safely housed but the new quarters are so crowded that only those actually connected with the fighter's preparations can be with him there. Notwithstanding lack of room, however, Jeff says he is thoroughly satisfied and will remain at the place until the day of the fight. He and his party have a rose covered one story cottage, similar in style but not in size to that occupied by him at Ben Lomond. By noon tomorrow most of the apparatus for gymnasium practice will be ready for use. No reply to the telegram sent to Governor Dickerson yesterday has been received by Rickard. The promoter believes that no matter what pressure is brought to bear on Nevada's chief executive, the governor will not interfere with the fight. Rickard says that if the fight were stopped in Nevada he would not try to stage it anywhere.

Business Men Disapprove

It is said that many business men of Reno are opposed to Hester's plan for a double fight bill on Independence day. They fear the visiting crowds will spend their time watching the two ring attractions and will have no opportunity to patronize Reno's stores and amusements.

Jeffries' Statement

Everybody tonight wanted to know just what Jeffries thought of Reno as compared with Ben Lomond. If his replies to questions were placed together the composite statement would be as follows:

"I wish to tell the people of Nevada and of Reno in particular that I am glad the fight is going to be held in Reno. I can now go ahead, knowing that there is to be no further change in the plans. I am in just as good condition as I ever was in my life or better and I promise the people of Nevada that the white man's end of the battle of the century will be taken care of on July 4. There has been some talk about the high altitude affecting me. I am not worrying about that. I have always been able to stand the altitude wherever I have been."

According to Tom Flanagan, Billy Delaney will not accompany Johnson to Reno and may not come till some time next week. "I don't think anything is wrong," said Flanagan when asked for an explanation. "Delaney knows his business and he probably figures that Jack will not need him for a few days."

Eastern Games Outlawed.

NEW YORK, June 23—Four eastern league baseball games were declared illegal today by President Powers, president of the league, who thus sustains the protest of the Toronto club that Shortstop McMillan, formerly of the Brooklyn National league club and now with Cincinnati, had no right to play with them.

The games must not be played off on the same grounds on which they were first played. They are Montreal at Rochester, June 4, and Rochester at Toronto, June 6, 7 and 8. Montreal won and in the series played at Toronto, Rochester took two and Toronto one. President Powers finds that McMillan was still a member of the Brooklyn team when Cincinnati made application for his services on publication of Brooklyn's intention to release him and therefore held no right to sign with Rochester. On assurance from President Ebetts of the Brooklyn club, however, of waivers from all other national teams he paid $500 for him and signed him. McMillan played four games for Rochester and was promptly protested by Toronto. On receipt of the protest, President Powers inquired of President Lynch of the National league for the facts and will be informed by him that Cincinnati still claimed McMillan. The official standing of the eastern league clubs with the protested games cancelled is given by President Powers as follows:

	Won	Lost.
Newark	32	21
Toronto	28	22
Rochester	27	20
Providence	25	21
Baltimore	26	25
Buffalo	21	28
Jersey City	20	28
Montreal	16	28

Johnson Again in Police Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22—For a time today it appeared that one of the principals in the July 4 battle at Reno would be missing because Jack Johnson refused to be arrested for exceeding the speed limit in his racing automobile. Patrolman Lewis says Johnson told him that he could arrest only his dead body, but when Lewis and two other patrolmen battered down the door of the room in which the champion had locked himself the fighter surrendered as meekly as any ordinary violator of the speed regulations.

Produceing $50 cash bail, Johnson was released and instructed to appear for a hearing in the police court tomorrow morning. If the champion escapes with a fine, he will be able to start for Reno tomorrow night, according to schedule.

Speed Records Broken.

ST. PAUL, June 22—Barney Oldfield lowered the world's record for one mile and two mile for a circular track and Ben Kerscher set a new world's record for three miles at the twin city meet today. Oldfield in his 200 horse power Benz, made a mile in 49 4-5 seconds and two miles in 1:40. The former records were 50 4-5 and 1:44 4-5. Kerscher made the three miles in a hundred horse power Darracq in 2:36 1-5 The former record was 2:38 4-5 made on the same track last year.

A great cheer went up as Promoter Rickard shook hands with Jeffries. Jeffries and his manager, Sam Berger, were taken to Rickard's room in a nearby hotel the Jeffries party included, besides Corbett and Choynski, Jack Jeffries and his wife and Manager Berger, Bob Armstrong, Trainer Cornell, Farmer Burns and a number of newspaper men. Jeffries, Berger and Rickard motored out to Mona Springs to inspect the new training quarters. Jeffries was in splendid spirits all during the trip.

AT THE THEARES

The program at the Empire theatre this evening is a good one, including several fine subjects, the feature picture being, "The Evil Paltire," a splendidly colored Pathe film. Other subjects are, "Two Chums Looking for Wives," "Mr. Buttinski," "The Call Boy's Vengeance," and "Sporting Blood."

The subjects shown last night at the Arcade were good in the extreme. This program will, without any doubt, speak for itself. The feature film, "The Son of the Wild," is an exceptionally beautifully and well photographed subject, the acting also being of the best. "Beneath the Gas" is a comic quite out of the ordinary. Other subjects are, "A Serious Error," "Haunted Castle." Here is a ghost story, if you like them, on the funny side, finishing with, "Hair Restorer." The above will be repeated at tonight's performance.

At the organ recital Friday night, in Trinity Methodist church, the choir will sing "The Bridal Chorus," from "The Rosemaiden," and Sullivan's part song, "Oh Hush Thee My Baby."

The street parade that will be given here today at 10 a.m. by the Campbell Brothers Consolidated Shows will be a brilliant spectacle, consisting as it does of hundreds of high-spirited horses with costly trappings; South American Gauchos and Australian boomerang throwers; bright-eyed senoritas from Mexico; desert-born Bedouin Arabs; Japanese athletes and Hindu fakirs; detachments of cavalry troopers of many flags; master horsemen of the universe; Mexican, Indian and American bands and strange Oriental music, of many nations, funny clowns with their fanny mules and ponies and the magnificent cages containing the wild beasts of the desert and trained animals. In fact it is a parade that is in itself a grand and beautiful show. Everyone be sure and see it at 10 a.m.

The following is the program of the annual concert of St. Joseph's school, which takes place tomorrow evening:

INTERNATIONAL PEACE CONGRESS

Meets July 30—Record of Previous Congresses—Men of Victorian Era Who Took Part.

The eighteenth annual peace congress will meet at Stockholm from July 30 to August 5. Though primarily a convention of delegates of the 900 and more peace societies now in existence, it will attract representatives from trade and labor associations, churches, philanthropic societies, civic clubs, educational and other institutions.

The peace congresses go back to 1843, when an international convention of the friends of peace, prompted by the American Peace society, was held in London. This was three years after the publication of William Ladd's essay on "A Congress of Nations," a work that anticipated The Hague conferences which the peace congresses of today support. Other congresses followed at Brussels, 1848; Paris, 1849; Frankfort, 1850; and London, 1851. Elihu Burritt, their inspiring genius, pleaded for a court and congress of nations, together with a code of international laws.

Federation of the World.

In these congresses, Richard Cobden and many British publicists took part. Victor Hugo, who championed them, electrified the convention at Paris by prophesying a federated world governed by ballots instead of bullets and placed under the arbitrament of a great sovereign senate. "A day will come," he said, "when a cannon will be exhibited in public museums, just as an instrument of torture is now, and people will be astonished how such a thing could have been." Filled with the eloquent speaker's enthusiasm for humanity, men in his audience embraced each other, waved their hats and handkerchiefs to him, and led by Cobden, gave him rounds of hurrahs.

Organized peace work was seriously interfered with for a whole generation by the period of wars beginning with the Crimean war in Europe and the civil war in America. Sentiment for it, revived, however, partly as a reaction from these wars, and under the leadership of Hodgson Pratt of England, and Frederic Passy of France, the latter of whom has received the Nobel prize, the universal peace congresses were resumed in Paris in 1889. They have since been held nearly every year in some old world centre, but two of them have met in the United States, one in Chicago in 1893, and the other in Boston in 1904. The peace movement, leaving the realm of theory and entering upon its practical constructive stage, witnessed in 15 years the first of The Hague conferences, the establishment of an international court of arbitration and the beginning of the ninety or more arbitration treaties that bind together the nations under a regime of law.

The congress at London in 1908, the most memorable of the modern series, was notable for receiving public recognition by King Edward at Buckingham palace and for a banquet given it by the British cabinet with an address by Prime Minister Asquith.

TREATMENT OF HAMILTON MAN

New York Immigration Officials Inflict Indignities on His Arrival From Trip to England.

There have been many stories told of the hardships and indignities to which Canadians have been subjected by American immigration officers, but the experience of William Halliley, ex-constable, upon arriving in New York a week ago from Ireland, is one of the most glaring evidences of incivility and injustice on record. He was seized by immigration officers, who gave no reason whatever for their action, was subjected to a crude medical examination, placarded and herded on Ellis' island with a lot of immigrants and was kept for about six hours without anything to eat. Letters of reference from Mayor McLaren and Chief Smith were waived aside, accompanied by blasphemous expletives, and it was only after the ex-policeman succeeded in getting in touch with a representative of the Canadian government that he was released from his extraordinary position.

Last Time on U. S. Soil.

Mr. Halliay got off of American soil by the fastest train, and as soon as he crossed the Ningara river he vowed that if he ever went to Ireland again he would go around the world rather than put his foot upon American soil again. He intends taking the matter up with the local members of parliament, and if there is any way of getting redress or even satisfaction from the United States government, he is going to try and get it.

One Bright Spot.

One of the most interesting and the only pleasing feature of Mr. Halliay's experience in New York was his rescue from his very trying position by the Canadian immigration agent, who turned out to be an old Oakville boy. He was William Klein and he told Mr. Halliay that he was in Hamilton five years ago.

Mr. Halliay made the homeward trip on the California of the Anchor line, and was in the company of half a dozen Scotchmen and Irishmen who were residents of the United States. The weather was so bad that they were not allowed on deck from the time they struck the briny deep until they had almost reached New York. Shortly after that a doctor took Mr. Halliay from his companions, escorted him to a room and there subjected him to a medical examination. He rubbed some stuff around his forehead and eyes as if to make a test and then placed around his neck a cord, attached to which was a big placard with "No. 27" on it.

Indignities Heaped Upon Him.

Mr. Halliay naturally asked what all this procedure meant and he was told that he would soon find out, and in no polite terms informed him that he had better do as he was told or he would suffer for it. Some time later he was paraded in front of several corpulent and important looking individuals, who eyed him up as though he was a prize horse.

"What does all this mean?" enquired the ex-policeman as one of the men in the group signed to another to take him away.

"Oh, you'll find out. Just do as you are told," was the surly reply.

Accordingly the disconsolate ex-policeman was marched back and placed in line with the other placarded individuals. The boat was stopped a short distance from the harbor and Mr. Halliay and the others who were in line were put off into small boats, which the bewildered son of Erin said could be more closely compared to stone boats than anything else he knew of and were taken to Ellis island.

Placed in Iron Cage.

They were not allowed to land, however, for three hours, and these he sat, tossed about in the small boat in the choppy waters of the Hudson without a bite to eat and as dry as a wayside brook in the middle of August. At last the boat was docked and he was taken on the island and placed in a large iron cage with the rest of the herd.

An hour or so more passed during which he appealed to several officers for an explanation of the treatment. He could obtain no satisfaction, and each officer seemed to have the same lingo about the wisdom of him behaving himself under pain of some terrible consequences. By this time the pensioner-policeman and soldier had about concluded that they were going to hang and quarter him. Several times he produced his credentials, but each time they were scoffed at in the same manner as on board ship. Finally, in desperation, Mr. Halliay asked one of the men if he could be put in touch with a representative of the British or Canadian governments, and he was told that there were a couple of representatives of the latter around some place and if one of them could be found he would be sent to him. After another long wait, to his great relief, Mr. Halliay was confronted by Mr. Klein, to whom he told his story of distress and showed his letters. Mr. Klein was very much annoyed when he heard the narrative and he assured the former officer of the law that he would get him out of there all right. He accordingly informed the American officials that Mr. Halliay was a British subject and that he was going to take him out of the line. Despite their protests, he took Mr. Halliay by the arm and like a brother led the way out of the pen. Several of the United States immigration agents made a grab for the local man as if he was a thief for whom a big reward was offered, but throwing up his arm Mr. Klein warned them to keep off.

Stepped Forth Free.

"Stand aside, this man is a British subject, and has no reason to be in here," commanded Klein, and Mr. Halliay stepped forth to freedom.

The ex-policeman said he could have thrown his arms around Klein and hugged him, but he had reason to be even more grateful to him before he left New York. Mr. Klein became very much interested in him when he heard he was from Hamilton and informed him that his home used to be in Oakville and that he was there five years ago. He secured Mr. Halliay's trunks, got him his railway ticket on the first train leaving New York and promised to call on him when he came to Hamilton, which he expected would be soon. Mr. Halliay did not intend leaving on the train for which his ticket was secured, but he was so glad to get away from the United States, that he would have taken an airship if necessary. He told Mr. Klein that if he got safely into Canada he would never set foot on American soil again.

Astonishes Everybody.

Everyone to whom Mr. Halliay has told his story has been astonished to know that such treatment should be accorded a man of his standing, and especially in view of the credentials he carried. Mr. Halliay says he would give $100 to be able to bring the American immigration officers to time, and he is going to try and interest some of the local members of parliament with a view to having the matter investigated.

COMMUNICATIONS

SAYS WEEK'S STATEMENTS ARE UNTRUE AND UNWARRANTED.

Nelson, B. C., June 22, 1910.
To the Editor The Daily News,

Sir,—The clipping from the last issue of the Victoria Week inserted in your paper of yesterday's date concerning the American & B. C. Hydraulic Placer Company, Limited, has been brought to my attention as superintendent of that company.

The untrue and unwarranted statements made therein will be taken up at a meeting of the board of directors which has now been called.

I may add that it comes as a great surprise to me that a newspaper such as The Daily News should publish such statements concerning residents of Nelson, particularly upon such authority as the Victoria Week, without taking the trouble to first ascertain the actual state of affairs.

Yours very truly,
JOHN W. FALLS.
Superintendent the American & B. C. Hydraulic Placer Co., Ltd.

[Ed. note—The fact that the Week had published the article in question was published as news of importance to the mining interests of the district, without comment or endorsation. The Daily News will be only too glad if, as a result of drawing the immediate attention of all who are interested to the fact that such an article has appeared, it may be able to present conclusive evidence that the statements made by the Week are unfounded.]

SURVEYS ROADS THROUGH TIMBER LIMITS

Will Tap Fifty Million Feet of Choice Timber—Vast Extent of Kootenay River.

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRESTON, June 22—A. E. Watts, president of the Wattsburg Lumber company, the well known lumberman arrived here on Saturday last and proceeded the same day to Port Hill, Idaho. He was accompanied by A. L. McCuloch, P.L.S., of Nelson. Near Port Hill on the Canadian side they surveyed a logging road which will extend from three to four miles through vast timber limits owned by the Watts Lumber company. This new logging road will tap over fifty million feet of choice timber consisting of yellow pine, larch, fir and cedar. Mr. Watts has been logging in the vicinity of Port Hill for years.

It is the intention to haul the logs over this new road to Port Hill on the boundary line when they will be dumped into the main Kootenay river. Then they will be floated down to Kootenay Landing, from Kootenay Landing the logs will be taken by steam tug to Proctor. During the month of May the Proctor saw mill cut one and a quarter million feet of lumber, and it is estimated that the timber that will be tapped by this new logging road near Port Hill will run the Proctor saw mill for the next five years.

Mr. Watts who has been in the country since 1897 says that the general public have really no idea of the great magnitude of the Kootenay river. He says that the Kootenay river from Bonners Ferry, Idaho, to Kootenay Landing is about 800 feet in width and about 60 feet deep, and it drains a larger area of country than any other river in B. C. Another interesting feature is that it is possible to float logs from the border of Alberta all the way to Nelson by the Kootenay river and its tributaries by way of the sources of the Michel creeks via Elk river, then by the Kootenay river south of Wardner, B. C., then via the Kootenay river through Montana and Idaho entering Canada again at Port Hill, Idaho and from there to Kootenay Landing and Nelson.

Millions of Logs.

Mr. Watts also states that at present over fifteen million logs are lying around Kootenay lake that have escaped from the various mills. The Bonners Ferry saw mill alone last season lost several million logs. Mr. Watts says that when all the timber on the main line of the C. P. R. and the Crow's Nest Pass line is exhausted, the Kootenay lake will still be the center of the lumber industry, for the reason that the rivers and creeks tributary to Kootenay lake contain many hundreds of billions of feet of the finest merchantable timber. When Mr. Watts was at Port Hill on his present trip he saw a sturgeon caught in the river that weighed 86 pounds. These large fish are caught in the Kootenay river by means of stringing a line right across the river from bank to bank on which are attached many smaller lines which are equipped with strong hooks on which are squaw fish used for bait. Mr. Watts says that it is no uncommon thing to catch sturgeon in Kootenay river weighing 100 pounds.

Mr. Watts says that the Kootenay lakes will eventually be the largest center for the lumbering industry in B. C. The lumber industry now being only in its infancy.

HAY GROWERS ORGANIZE.

(Special to The Daily News.)

PINCHER CREEK, June 22—A company of hay growers has been organized in Pincher Creek, Alberta, for the purpose of handling their own hay and farm produce and placing it on the market in better shape than heretofore. The company propose to make strict grading rules and guarantee all their products and this will no doubt be an advantage both to the consumer and the company and do away with a great deal of dissatisfaction that has been experienced in the past, especially regarding hay. They have styled themselves the South Alberta Hay Growers, Limited, with head office in Pincher Creek and have elected John Kenning president; A. Pelletier, vice president, and E. G. Ambrose, secretary treasurer.

C. N. R. TRANSCONTINENTAL TO OPEN ON DOMINION DAY

President Mackenzie Makes Fast Run From Edmonton—Contracts for Construction in B. C.

WINNIPEG, June 22.—President William Mackenzie of the Canadian Northern Railway company, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, the journey from Edmonton being made in 25 hours and 30 minutes over the main line. This is the fastest time ever made on this trip and establishes a new record. The average speed made included all stops. Mr. Mackenzie is quite elated over this journey, but stated that he hopes when the betterments now in progress have been completed that the Canadian Northern railway passenger trains will accomplish the run in the same time.

Mr. Mackenzie is returning from Victoria, where he consummated the purchase of the Dunsmuir coal mines, and took possession of the properties.

"It is our intention," said Mr. Mackenzie, in speaking of this matter, "to extend the workings and double the present output, which is approximately 2500 tons daily. The coal from our mines is consumed all along the Pacific coast as far south as San Francisco, and the demand is increasing yearly."

Speaking of the construction of the British Columbia section of the Canadian Northern railway, Mr. Mackenzie stated that tenders are now being invited for the construction of 60 miles eastward from opposite New Westminster, and it is hoped that this section will be completed this year. This will carry the line through the famous Chilliwack farming district to Hope.

Construction is also to be started at once from Edmonton westward, a contract for 70 miles to the McLeod river, having been awarded to McMillan Bros.. Next year construction will be in progress for the entire distance between McLeod river and Hope.

Dominion Day 1914.

Being asked when he expected to have the C.N.R. completed as a transcontinental line, Mr. Mackenzie replied that July 2, 1914, had been fixed as the date of opening a through line from Montreal to the Pacific ocean, and he added that he had every confidence that his company would be able to carry out the program to the letter.

Respecting the works now under way in the prairie provinces the president referred the newspaper man to the local officials of the road, who, he said, were in a better position to furnish information than he. However, he volunteered the information that already this year 200 miles of new road in the west had been laid with steel, and work was being pushed in every quarter.

Western Canada.

Speaking of the future of western Canada, Mr. Mackenzie grew most enthusiastic.

"Having in view what has occurred in the past quarter of a century, who can foretell what great things are in store for us," he said. "The possibilities seem overwhelming. In this rich agricultural country, the best in the world, with wheat at prices which all experts declare will never be lower, the wealth that our lands will produce is almost inestimable."

Mr. Mackenzie left for Toronto today.

BAD STOMACH.

Many in Nelson are Being Thoroughly Purified by Miona, the Guaranteed Cure for Indigestion.

People of Nelson who suffer from dyspepsia and other stomach troubles are getting tired of taking preparations containing pepsin, because pepsin simply digests the food artificially. Pepsin relieves, it never cures.

And remember, pepsin only digests animal food; it has no effect on starchy food, such as potatoes, rice, bread, etc.

Mi-o-na cleanses and purifies the stomach and bowels, and tones up and puts energy into the stomach walls, so that they properly mix the food with the natural digestive juices of the stomach.

Mi-o-na tablets quickly arouse the stomach from its inaction, and in a few days it is able to do its work easily and without exertion. There will be no more sour stomach, fermentation of food, dizziness, sick headache, belching of gas, or foul breath.

Mi-o-na costs only 50 cents a large box, and is guaranteed by the Poole Drug company to cure dyspepsia, sea or car sickness, vomiting or pregnancy, and stomach sickness resulting from over-indulgence of the right before, or money back.

Price in Itself Means Absolutely Nothing

It may be that you place a limit on the price of every Suit and Overcoat you buy. Yet this does not mean that you must wear medium grade garments because you pay only a medium price for them.

If it meets your purpose to pay $15, $18 or $20, you can easily buy garments of distinction at those prices. It all depends on where you buy.

The Fit-Reform standard for style, fit and finish holds good for the moderately priced Suits and Overcoats as well as for the best we make.

SAVED HIS BROTHER'S LIFE.

CHATHAM, Ont., June 22.—The residence of W. Bell of Tupperville was burned to the ground last night, and Mr. Bell's two sons, who were sleeping in the house at the time, had a very narrow escape from death.

They had retired for the night, leaving a bright fire burning for their father, who had gone to the lake to fish. The elder boy awoke to find the place in flames. He rushed to the room where his brother was sleeping and found the room was already burning. He returned to his own room and, wrapping himself in blankets, he again tried to enter his brother's room, rushing through the flames to where he was sleeping. He then succeeded in dragging him uninjured from the building. Unfortunately he received such severe burns himself that it is feared he may lose his eyesight.

SAW SUN AFTER IT HAD SET FOR EARTH

At Indianapolis, on June 15, Orville Wright made two flights, giving a spectacular exhibition of of fancy diving. No other aviators entered would risk the unfavorable weather.

Wright ascended more than two thousand feet after dark. On reaching that altitude a light appeared far below the western horizon, and going still further up he was able to see the sun. The earth below was in darkness, yet he could look upon the light of day.

In telling of the flight, Wright said the sight was one of the most thrilling and awe-inspiring he had ever witnessed. He says that aviators soaring to high altitudes may often see the sun after it has gone down to the people below.

I was in a house last week where they had three nickel alarm clocks. One had lost its bell, the other its legs, the third was so clogged with dust it could not tell the truth.

There should be one more alarm clock in that house and that an IRONCLAD. It's knock-proof, it's dust-proof it rings to beat the band.

CANADA'S IMMIGRATION LAWS.

Monetary Times—Mr. Dooley once remarked that the colonial hand across the seas was sometimes extended to give the Mother Country "a nasty one under the chin." That was Dooley deep in pessimism. Besides, the word colony is no longer used when referring to the dominions overseas. The Dooley saying has been revived and made the text and sting of articles in the British press respecting the new Canadian immigration regulations. Criticisms have been singularly unanimous. This leads to a suspicion that certain institutions, whose revenue largely depends on shipping emigrants, are supplying ample material to news editors. Two regulations almost exclusively are the butt of special notice. The first requires immigrants coming to employment other than farm work, or, in the case of females, to domestic service, to have in their possession at time of landing the sum of $25, in addition to railway transportation to the ultimate destination. The second provides that the consent to emigrate to Canada (required by law to be granted by the assistant superintendent of emigration for Canada in London, England, to charity-aided emigrants as he considers suited to this country) shall be given only to such as are suited for, willing to accept, and have assured employment at, farm work.

Superficially even, these regulations appear to be reasonable. Upon examination, they are obviously as imperative necessity. That any opposition to the Canadian government's requirements should arise must surely be due to ignorance of actual conditions here, to a well-meaning desire to solve partially the British unemployment and pauper problems, and to the hugging of a supposed grievance, of which the Londoner particularly is fond.
