CRAZED AT FEAR OF DEPORTATION

Young Russian Nihilist Here in Jail

HELPED ESCAPE OF PRISONERS

Was Telegraph Operator in St. Petersburg and Changed Word in Telegram

Going completely out of his mind through fear of deportation and consequent imprisonment and possibly death or worse in Russia, a young Russian who is known in this country under the name of John Smith and who is in the provincial jail serving a sentence of 18 months for theft, will this evening be conveyed to the asylum at New Westminster.

Smith is the man who while employed as porter at the Tremont hotel became infatuated with a Russian woman in this city and then early in April decamped with her and her two children. He took with him some silver, jewelry and other valuables belonging to the hotel and to Mrs. F. E. Ransome, wife of one of the proprietors.

Information was given to the city police who immediately gave chase in company with the husband of the eloping woman. The pair with the two children and the stolen goods in their possession were caught as they were going aboard the northbound boat at Castlegar on their way to Revelstoke and brought back to the city.

Deportation Agitates Him

The following morning Smith pleaded guilty to the charge of theft and was sent down by William Irvine, police magistrate, for 18 months and ordered to be deported to Russia at the end of that term. Smith was unmoved when the jail sentence was inflicted but seemed to be strangely agitated when deportation was mentioned.

He was taken to the provincial jail and after exhibiting all the signs of fear of some unknown horror for some weeks on May 15 he became quite intractable, absolutely refusing to eat. For over a fortnight he was fed through a tube but gradually became more insane, still showing signs of fear and behaving in a very queer manner. He was examined by Dr. W. O. Rose and Dr. L. E. Borden and declared insane some two weeks ago.

Since that time he has become more insane though lately he has consented to eat on occasions showing a voracious appetite for bread. Almost continually he has walled the word "Momma" in heartrending manner.

And the cause of this mental breakdown is said to be, by other Russians in the city who know Smith and his history well, the fear that at the end of his period of detention in the jail he would be deported to Russia.

He Meets Nihilist

They say that about two years ago Smith—they refuse to give his correct name—was a telegraph operator in St. Petersburg. He was a young man of the lower middle class, quick-brained but hot-headed. He was employed as a telegraph operator and met, in the course of his occupation, a very varied class of people. One day he met a man to whom he was very much attracted. The man was a fluent talker, well dressed and always seemed to have a ready supply of money. His conversation usually dealt with the wrongs of the lower classes and the evils of monarchy, say Smith's fellow countrymen, and one night he took the telegraph operator to a meeting.

It was a gathering of Nihilists and was held in a room above a small cafe in an alley off one of the main streets, the Prospekt Nevskiy, not a stone's throw from the cathedral of the Virgin of Kazan. Smith often told his Nelson countrymen that he remembered this meeting vividly. The room he told them, was dark save for a small lamp in one corner while all the "brethren" sat with their backs towards its rays so that he could not see their faces clearly. He was taken to the scene of the gathering in a droski or cab but was able to locate the place because as he entered a glance to one side of the building showed him the turgid waters of the Moika canal.

The conversation at the meeting was conducted in low tones, most of the talking being carried on by a tall, dark man who never gave Smith an opportunity to get a comprehensive look at his features.

The result was that Smith became enthused in the "cause" and was initiated as a member of the secret order. He was not, however, fully admitted to the secrets of his fellow members, being apparently in the position of a novice.

Causes Release of Prisoners

He had only been a member for about three weeks when the friend who took him to the first gathering called at the telegraph office one evening and pretended to dispatch a wire. His real object of the visit, however, was to persuade young Smith to alter a telegram that was to be sent the next day by the government authorities to a prison some 200 miles from St. Petersburg. Smith consented.

Next day a government messenger brought the dispatch. It was addressed to the governor of the jail and ordered that seven political prisoners who were there incarcerated should be executed without delay. Smith, according to instructions, changed the word "executed" to "release," the prisoners were allowed to go free, made their escape out of the country and a few days later the plot was discovered and Smith was arrested.

Escapes in Officer's Uniform

He was confined in the very jail from which he had succeeded in causing the release of the prisoners. For four weary months, his countrymen say, he was kept in close confinement. Then his friends came to his aid and succeeded in smuggling in the uniform of a high officer of the jail. Smith put it on and one evening just as the sun was setting and the light was beginning to lessen he walked out of the jail.

A swiftly driven droski conveyed him to a place of safety whence he made his way to England. In London he worked for a few months, according to the story he told in the police court here, and then worked his passage around Cape Horn in a freighter. He came to Nelson from Vancouver last October.

FIRST WOMAN TO CROSS BITTER CREEK GLACIER

PRINCE RUPERT, June 12.—The honor of being the first woman to cross the 20-mile Bitter Creek glacier falls to Mrs. H. Von Graevenitz of Vancouver, who with her husband and brother, Lieut. Von Tumpling of the German army, returned here today. The party were accompanied by Lawrence and Foran, experienced guides, and two dog teams. They made the trip from Stewart to the Naas valley and return, 100 miles, in eight days, visiting the placer camps en route.

TITLED CIGAR TRAVELLER.

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 12.—Sir Edward R. Murray Bart is a visitor to the city today. He is busy restoring shattered family fortunes as a cigar salesman for a Montreal house. He is 13th baronet of his line and a second cousin of the Duke of Athol, head of the Murray clan.

SYDNEY SITE OF NAVAL DOCKYARD

Warships of Canadian Navy to be Built There—Engineers and Equipment From England

OTTAWA, June 12—The bulk, if not all of the first batch of ships for the Canadian navy, will be constructed at Sydney. This may be taken as authentic. Such was the rather interesting statement made today by the gentleman who interested Sir Henry M. Pellatt in the matter and who is in close touch with the situation. The company of which Sir Henry is chairman, will get the contract for the bulk of the ships at least. This had practically been decided on by the naval department as the company's tender was the lowest of the lot. British concerns affiliated with Sir Henry in the enterprise, the Fairfield Shipbuilding Co., and the Clydebank Shipbuilding Co., are now preparing to send engineers and equipment to Sydney and it was expected that construction of a shipbuilding yard would be commenced before fall. A definite announcement regarding contracts will likely be made on the reassembling of parliament.

BARRIERS CLOSE EARLY IN DAY

Stringent Police Regulations for Coronation Day—Heavy Penalties for Disobedient Aviators.

LONDON, June 12.—Acting under the powers conferred by the act recently passed by parliament, Home Secretary Churchill has issued an order prohibiting navigation of air craft of any description over the county of London on the three days of the coronation processions, and also over Windsor and London on the three days devoted to events connected with the coronation. The penalty for violation is imprisonment for six months or a fine of $1,000. The police regulations to insure public safety on Coronation day are becoming so rigorous as almost to keep the public from any attempt to witness the procession. All the barriers and gates will be closed not later than 8 o'clock in the morning, possibly much earlier, and all seat holders must be in their places by 9 o'clock. Coronation day will be observed by the navy by celebrating the ancient custom known as splicing the main brace, which means the grant of an extra allowance of grog to the men.

GERMAN AVIATION

MAGDEBURG, Germany, June 12.—The competitors in the National Aviator Circuit race today faced high and gusty winds. Nevertheless Reeno Koenig and Bruno Bouchener, each with a passenger, reached this city, which marks the end of the first leg, and is 76 miles from Berlin, the starting point.

CELEBRATION TO COVER TWO DAYS

Nelson Will Keep Dominion Day on Big Scale

FETE-DE-NUIT TO BE ONE FEATURE

Nelsonites Will Visit Proctor on Coronation Day Excursion

At one of the best attended and most businesslike public meetings ever held in Nelson, at the board of trade rooms last night, arrangements were outlined for a two day celebration of Dominion day, on a larger scale than any of Nelson's long line of similar celebrations in the past. The dates observed will be June 30 and July 1—Friday and Saturday—and the first day will in all probability be given up to land sports, of which a most ambitious program is outlined, while the present intention is to give up the Saturday exclusively to water sports, which will include launch club regatta and boat club regatta, culminating in the evening with a fete de nuit, or illuminated parade of all the craft on the lake. While the meeting was in progress W. S. Pearcy, captain of the boat club, received a wire stating that the crews the Vancouver boat club is sending up for the Dominion day celebration—the junior four, junior double and junior single—would arrive for Saturday.

Great enthusiasm characterized the meeting, and every action recorded was unanimous. Mayor Selous was in the chair, George Horstead was elected secretary and those present were Capt. J. C. Gore, C. D. Blackwood, George Steele, Ald. G. Ferguson, C. F. Walmsley, A. Bishop, Alex. Cheyne, Roy Sharp, W. S. Pearcy, J. E. Annable, Dr. Steed, F. Ladd, M. F. Shaw, W. G. Foster, J. J. Walker R. M. Balmer, E. E. Robinson, W. R. McLean, W. Irvine, W. R. Jarvis, James Thompson, Capt. Allan Lean James Gow and others.

Committees

Organization was effected as follows: General chairman, W. Irvine; general secretary, George Horstead; treasurer, Ald. Gilker.

Executive committee—Chairmen of the various subordinate committees.

Finance committee—M. R. McQuarrie, W. Gosnell, W. R. Pearcy, J. E. Annable.

Baseball committee—W. R. McLean, C. F. Walmsley, A. Bishop.

Lacrosse committee—C. D. Blackwood, Alf. Jeffs, A. A. Perrier, Roy Sharp.

Horse racing committee—Ald. Ferguson, W. R. Jarvis, George Steele, W. Brodie.

Boat club committee—W. S. Pearcy, R. M. Balmer, Dr. W. B. Steed, Alex. Cheyne.

Launch club committee—C. W. Busk, L. B. DeVeber, M. R. McQuarrie.

Fete de nuit committee—J. O. Patenaude, C. W. Busk, S. M. Brydges.

Gun club committee—George Steele, W. A. Ward, A. Bishop, H. R. Cramer.

Caledonian and children's sports committee—J. E. Annable R. Smillie, J. A. Irving.

In accordance with these arrangements, Mayor Selous will declare June 30 a public holiday.

It was decided that the various committees should meet at once, organize, and submit estimates to the executive committee, which will meet on Friday night. The finance committee will then take in hand the raising of the funds. The allocation of the individual events to the different days will be in the hands of the executive committee, but at present the idea is to have the land sports mainly on one day, and the water sports on the other.

It was announced that J. O. Patenaude had ordered 1,200 coronation medals for presentation to the children.

Coronation Day at Proctor

Mayor Selous invited an expression of opinion from the meeting on the subject of observing Coronation day, June 22. It was the unanimous opinion that, in view of the nearness of the date to Dominion day and in view of the great celebration to be put on a Proctor, jointly by the citizens of Proctor and the Nelson Retail Merchant's association, no celebration should be held at Nelson on that day, but that the citizens of Nelson should take in, in more or less force, the celebration of the sister town, at which Kaslo and Ainsworth will also be represented by excursions.

NOT WORTH THE MONEY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 12.—Dr. W. J. Leckyear and F. K. McLean, sent by the British government to the Friendly islands to observe the eclipse of the sun on April 29, arrived in Los Angeles today on their way home. "Our expedition was not worth the money the government expended," said Dr. Leckyear. "Unfortunately clouds came up just at the time of the eclipse and remained until the eclipse was ended." Another expedition, that of the Royal society and the Royal Astronomical society, also was on the stand, but obtained no better results.

Operators Object to Divulge Cost of Coal Production

(Special to The Daily News.)

FRANK, Alta., June 12.—Today's session of the conciliation board at Coleman was interesting owing to the fact that the operators put up a stubborn fight against the examination by the miners' committee of evidence tending to show the cost of production of coal at the Coleman camp. They also objected strenuously to the publication of such statements upon the ground that it would be betraying trade secrets.

To these objections Mr. Stubbs, on behalf of the mine workers, put up a strong argument in favor of these facts being placed before the board and that his side of the controversy should have the benefit of such facts as would tend to show the cost of production in camps where it was generally supposed that the companies were making large profits notwithstanding the fact that the miners were shown to have been paid high wages in some instances. It had tended to prejudice the cause of the mine workers when the operators voluntarily produced these figures at Fernie, where they went to show that the mining of coal had been carried on at a loss, but now that the reverse might be proven by the production of the same kind of statements, the operators were resorting to technical objections in order not only to keep such information from the public but to prevent the mine workers' committee from examining such statements as were filed with the board. Mr. Stubbs fought stubbornly upon this point and the chairman stated that his point had been well taken, but it was decided to withhold a final decision upon the publicity point. While he adhered to the position that all statements made to the board were subject to its own disposition, he was rather inclined to the position that the representative of the mine workers at least should have access to such documents for examination.

Weighing of Slack.

Some evidence was taken upon the weighing of coal slack at the coke ovens. The practice pursued at Fernie of placing marks upon the sides of the hoppers in which the coal was conveyed to the ovens is also the method at the Coleman plant.

The board adjourned to meet in Frank in the morning, from which place the evidence relating to conditions at the Hillcrest, Bellevue, Lille, Blairmore and Frank mines can be taken. From here the board will go either to Fernie or Michel and make its last move to Bankhead and Canmore.

Dumping Surplus Lumber on British Columbia Market

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 12.—The lumber mills of Washington state are shipping 20,000,000 feet of rough lumber into British Columbia each month, according to Tacoma lumbermen. Of this amount 2,000,000 feet are shipped from Tacoma. Lumber is comparatively high in Canada at present and Washington men are able to compete with British Columbia mills because of the condition of over-production in Washington, they declare.

Lumber shipped from Washington is sold at almost cost. One of the heaviest orders ever placed in Washington by Canadians was received recently by Port Blakely mills from the Grand Trunk Pacific railway. The order was for 5,000,000 feet of ties and stringers. Canada has no duty on rough lumber.

FRANKLIN, SLOCAN AND BOUNDARY

Geologists Will Investigate Wealth of Interior—To Visit Steamboat

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 12.—Several parties representing the Dominion geological survey will devote the summer to field work in British Columbia. R. G. McConnell is here today from Ottawa on his way to the Portland Canal district, where he spent last season. He will also report on the new camp on Observatory inlet, where the Granby and Pacific Metals company are doing important development work. Mr. McConnell, nearly 10 years ago, made an official report on the geology of the Yukon.

Mr. Malloch, of the same department, is now on his way into the Hazelton district, where he will resume the work undertaken by Mr. Leach, and later in the season will cross the divide into the Naas valley to report on coal, copper and gold.

Mr. Clapp will devote the season to field work on Vancouver island, continuing the work he started last season. The task will occupy several years.

Charles Camsell will spend the season in the interior and will likely visit Steamboat mountain.

O. H. Leroy will report on the geology of the Franklin camp and Boundary district and on several camps in the Slocan.

GOOD PROGRESS ON TRUNK ROAD

Minister of Public Works Making Inspection—Road Passable Cranbrook to Provincial Boundary

(Special to The Daily News.)

FERNIE, B.C., June 12—Hon. Thomas Taylor, minister of public works, more familiarly known as Good Roads Taylor, arrived in Fernie last night, accompanied by Harry Wright, M.P.P. for Nelson.

Mr. Taylor is inspecting the work being done on the big trunk line road which is destined to be one of the most important links in the transcontinental road which is to extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific, making an automobile road unequalled in the world. Mr. Taylor is well pleased with the progress being made in this district and will spend the remainder of today and tomorrow going over the road from here to the summit. With some finishing work at certain points the road is passable for automobile travel from Cranbrook to the connection with the Alberta road beyond the boundary at Crow's Nest.

HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND

Vancouver's Population Increased Over Twenty-seven Thousand During the Past Year

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 12—Vancouver city, not including North Vancouver's 6,000, has been given a population of 147,500 by the Henderson Publishing company's new directory out today. City figures include 10,000 Japanese, Chinese and Hindus. The increase in the city's population during the past 12 months was 27,400. As most of North Vancouver's population work in this city Vancouver is safely declared to have passed the 150,000 mark.

New Westminster's population is given at 15,600.

FOUR THOUSAND INVITATIONS FOR PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The reception which the president and Mrs. Taft will give on June 19, on the 25th anniversary of their marriage, probably will be the most largely attended function ever given in the White House. More than 3,000 invitations have already been sent out, and each day the president is suggesting more names, so that the lowest estimate is that 4,000 will be invited and of these at least three-fourths will attend.

TEXAS TOWN DESTROYED

DALLAS, Texas, June 12.—The greater portion of the town of White Wright, in Grayson county, is reported to have been destroyed by fire today. Forty business houses and 75 residences, it is said, were burned. Wire communication is in trouble and authentic details are not as yet available.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST MORMONISM

Doctrine Is Detestable, Says Presbyterian Assembly.

POLITICAL AMBITIONS ARE ALSO MENACE

Religion Propounds Abominable Principles—Insidious Methods.

OTTAWA, June 12.—The menace of the Mormon community to Canada was emphasized at the Presbyterian general assembly today, which went on record in favor of an active campaign against it. The matter came up on the report of a special committee, which was presented by Rev. W. J. Clark of Montreal. That the Mormons were as a rule a sober and industrious people was the opinion of Rev. Dr. MacLaren of Vancouver, but their religion propounded some abominable principles and morals that were a positive danger to Canada. The number of marriages and progeny appealed to a Mormon but was distasteful to a Canadian. They had attained great power in the United States and talked of getting the balance of political power in Alberta, if not in all Canada. The Mormons voted together, and a co-operative vote was always dangerous and not desired in Canada. Mormonism was more of a menace than Roman Catholicism, because the Mormon priest had a greater hold on the people. "We don't want this sort of thing in Canada," said Dr. McLaren, "and the main remedy is to preach the gospel in the very centers where Mormonism is making a stand."

Mormonism was really under the protection of the politician and therefore difficult to get at, stated Rev. Dr. Pringle of Sydney. Their morals were low and should not be allowed in Canada.

Dangerous People.

That the Mormons were the most dangerous people in the west because of their activities was the statement of Rev. W. D. Reid of Calgary. He referred to their bringing 500 girls from Great Britain to Utah and said there were many objectionable features of their worship. They had a male and a female God and taught that the more marriages and the more children a man had the higher would be his position in heaven. They claim to have 3,000 missionaries to propagate their principles, and one little town is said to have sent out 30. Their strength in southern Alberta is claimed to be 2,000, and two members are in the legislature. The following motion was moved by Rev. Dr. Clark and carried by the assembly:

"The assembly deems it advisable to call attention to the danger that necessarily attaches to the existence of Mormonism in any country and to issue a warning against the insidious methods employed by Mormon missionaries. While frankly acknowledging all that can fairly be urged in behalf of Mormons and Mormonism the assembly regards with deep regret and grave anxiety the detestable doctrine held and preached by the Mormon church, the extravagant political ambitions cherished by the Mormons and the absolute obedience to their religious leaders required of the members of the organization not only in their religious but also in their material and political relationships. The assembly very cordially endorses the important work that is being carried on by the home missions committee in the Mormon district, commends it most heartily to the sympathetic and prayerful interests of the whole church and requests the committee to give special attention to this department of work during the present year and bring in such recommendations to the next general assembly as they may deem wise."

Ne Temere Decree.

The Ne Temere decree will come before the assembly tomorrow night and there is every indication that this question will receive a great deal of attention. Already the matter has been touched upon by the board of social and moral reform and was referred to a special committee by the assembly. Rev. Dr. Duval of Winnipeg and F. H. Larkin of Seaforth have also presented a motion on the question. This motion was read at the assembly and was referred to the committee without any vote being taken. Dr. Duval stated that it was put in merely as a basis for the committee to work on.

Builds Business

The business that does not advertise, like the sail boat without any wind, will never break any speed record

—Rusty Mike's Diary

The Antediluvian Doubter

Around every city and town there is at least one business oracle, who will smoke tobacco, spit and tell you that advertising does not pay. It seems that "The way it used to be done" germ gets into this man's system and creates such havoc with his ideas of business methods that he simply won't listen to a heart to heart talk about this, the greatest of all business building forces.

Recently there was celebrated the first trip of the first successful steamboat in the history of the world. One can, in fancy, almost hear the comments of the doubters and the gossips of that time, and yet Fulton did run that steamboat, and today its improvement is the recognized method of transportation of the world. It is a fact that Fulton's achievement was the basis of argument for every promoter of a perpetual motion machine for years to come, and those who picked the steamboat and rejected the perpetual motion machine merely showed the same kind of good business judgment that the man of today displays when he picks the genuine advertising and scorns the spurious article.

The Women's Trade

The women folks have learned to watch the papers. Funny magazines, liceurers, would-be humorists have belittled the woman in her effort to make the weekly allowance go as far as it will, but the fact is constantly before the student that the woman is the real economizer.

When once you start your advertisment in the paper, the women of the community become your best friends or your worst enemies. Your first announcement, if it contains prices, brings them to inspect quality, and if your advertisement is truthful, to buy—but woe unto him who insinuates through his newspaper advertisements that women are fools.

A Lesson in Proportion

The merchant who sells an article at a profit of 10 cents and sells 20 of them makes more money than the merchant who sells four articles at a profit of 25 cents. Certainly it is easier for a merchant to sell 20 articles at a profit of 10 cents than it is for a merchant to sell four at a profit of 25 cents if the first merchant lets the whole town know of the bargain.

The Right Medium

There is a time, certainly when a man must decide for himself whether he is merely a sheep following a bell, or keeping to a well defined, successful business career. The bill board, the program, etc., are condemned and frowned upon by successful advertisers of today. Yet there are men who use these forms of advertising occasionally and because of failure to get profitable returns, decry advertising, advertising men and those who use it to build up their business.

More and more is the wonderful value of newspaper advertising becoming known and the almost unbelievable successes due to its use are being brought to light. Think, if you can, of a dozen of the world's greatest mercantile successes, and in that number you will find twelve users of newspaper advertising—a remarkable record, when you stop to think about it, regarded from two standpoints; one, that the public should be hoodwinked at times by the wailing of the non-advertiser, that owing to the fact that he did not advertise, he could sell his goods cheaper; and the other that any merchant should attempt to do business without taking up one of the most essential helps in business building, newspaper advertising.

IN VIEW of these facts, which are very apparent, what argument can be made in favor of any advertising medium that it even distantly competes with the daily newspaper? The storekeeper who has enough business ability to buy goods right, and keep store profitably, must see the light, and realize that the telling of these facts to people through the daily newspaper must bring success

PREDICTS RECORD WHEAT CROP

Freight Agent Is Enthusiastic Over Good Prospect In Prairies—Plenty of Moisture.

"If the farmers are successful in their harvesting the prairies, from present crop indications, will produce the greatest wheat crop on record this year," said R. W. Drew, division freight and passenger agent, who returned Saturday night from a visit to Saskatoon.

"While I was there a splendid rainfall occurred," remarked Mr. Drew, "and as a result of the previous rains the crop has a splendid start and the ground has a sufficient supply of moisture to put the crops right through the season. Already in some places the wheat is showing signs of heading out."

EDGEWOOD NOTES

(Special to The Daily News.)

EDGEWOOD, B.C., June 12.—Seven men and five teams, under W. Williams, are working on the government road Edgewood to Vernon, about four miles up the Fire Valley, making a cutaway and gravelling same. Residents are wondering when Valley road, the main approach to the town and wharf, will be finished. Work on it is suspended, pending instructions from the road superintendent, and it is not calculated to impress the casual visitor very favorably in its present condition.

Rev. S. H. Phillimore, vicar of Nakusp, stopped the night here Wednesday, on his way home from Deer Park, where he baptised several children, and visited his parishioners.

Dr. Heaton left on Monday for Nakusp where he is acting as locum tenens for a week or ten days for Dr. Mossman. The latter is taking a hunting trip, making Van Houten creek his headquarters.

R. H. Baird, secretary of the Farmers' Institute, Nakusp, and fire warden for the east side of the Arrow lakes, stopped over Wednesday night on his way north.

It is rumored that F. W. Jordan intends building a residence on his ranch in Fire Valley. Mr. Crowle, Nakusp, has the contract.

F. B. Lucas, Needles, has been in several times this week, scaling for the Edgewood Lumber company, Castlegar, and transacting business in his official capacity as fire warden. His wife and family accompanied him one day in their natty little launch.

A new arrival received a gushing letter from a London girl recently in which she thanked him for his eloquent description of ranch life in the Kootenays, and concluded by saying "how interesting pine apple culture must be in British Columbia."

Mrs. Grant Davis, wife of the proprietor of the Edgewood hotel, left Saturday for a well earned holiday in Spokane. Her step-daughter, Miss Agnes Dreier, returned this week from Nelson.

A GREAT VIOLINIST.

A recent issue of the Vancouver News-Advertiser contains an appreciation of Miss Margaret McCraney, for some years a resident of Rossland and well known to many in the Kootenays. Miss McCraney has been acclaimed by the critics of Paris as a great Canadian addition to the role of master violinists. Says Le Temps :

"A charming and very interesting Canadian violinist has just revealed herself to the Parisian public with the most lively and legitimate success in the concertos of Nardini, Max Bush and Saint Saens, which she interpreted with the assistance of the Colonne orchestra, directed by Pierre Monteux. The beautiful tone and musicianship of this violinist, Miss McCraney, and her remarkable technic are deserving of a brilliant success.

Continues The News-Advertiser.

"Since the days of the great fire, when Mr. McCraney was busy laying out the city as a principal contractor, the family have been in Rossland. In the lake town Miss McCraney has almost as many friends and admirers as she certainly has in Vancouver, Paris and Berlin. Here it was that she encountered an old professor of the violin who found her worthy of his skill, so that when the young aspirant gave a farewell school-girl concert in Vancouver in 1906 in aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, the church members were roused to such enthusiasm that her many friends presented her then and there with a beautiful pearl cross shaped after the St. Andrew's X, which she wears to this day.

"She was not 18 when the great Sevcik presented her with the coveted certificate. In the new home which her parents are building on Shaughnessy heights the returning traveller will doubtlessly be delighted to find that the house has been, so to speak, built round a spacious music room, which is the central motive of its architectural plan. During their travels in Europe Mrs. McCraney, true to the traditions of her Ohio home and Scottish descent, and her daughter, the young violin-player, have been devoted students of modern and medieval history, of architecture and the fine arts, to all of which an apprenticeship to music is at once an introduction and a passport. Miss Margaret McCraney will not interest herself in teaching the violin, but will specialize upon concert work and chamber music, when she returns to Vancouver, where, as an enthusiastic lover of her instrument, she will be welcomed by many old and new friends."

TWO THOUSAND A YEAR FOR SCOUT COMMISSIONER

SPOKANE, Wash., June 12.—The Spokane council of the Boy Scouts of America, of which Carl Ultes, Jr., is chairman, requires the services of a first-class scout commissioner and is ready to pay $2,000 a year and quarters to a competent man, who will devote all his time and efforts to the boys. It was expected that Rev. David W. Ferry, pastor of Emmanual Presbyterian church of Spokane, who founded the Girl Guides of America in this city, would take up the work, but he is now in the east in the interest of the latter movement and probably will be out of the city for several months. Invitations have been extended to Mrs. Russell Sage to become honorary leader of the Girl Guides of Spokane, and Andrew Carnegie is being urged to accept the office of honorary scoutmaster of the Spokane troops. The local council which has 339 boy scouts enlisted, recently pledged its members to raise a fund of $2,500 to extend its work this year, and it is planned to have not less than 1,000 boys enrolled as scouts before the close of the present season.

HOLSTEIN-FRIESIAN COW WINS WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

SPOKANE, Wash., June 12.—Jessie Fobes Bessie Homestead, a four-year-old pasture-bred Holstein-Friesian cow, owned by David Munroe of Spokane, is the new world's champion, having produced 34.95 pounds of butter in a test of seven days under the supervision of two experts from the state college of Washington. The former record was 34.75 pounds. Jessie, whose milk average was 85 pounds a day during the test, now is making 100 pounds daily, and her owner and the experts predict she will hang up a new mark for 30 days. The cow's pedigree shows many famous animals, including Grace Fayne Second Homestead, the former world's champion. Stella Canary, an eight-year-old Holstein, also owned by Munroe, recently showed a record of 6¼ per cent average of butter fat in a seven days' preformance, which is declared to be the highest mark yet reached by any cow of that breed. These tests were witnessed by prominent cattlemen from various parts of the Pacific slope country, in which dairying now is being developed as one of the important industries.

YOUNG PEASANT IN TRANCE FOR FORTY-NINE DAYS

A young pheasant who has been in a trance for 49 days, is attracting the attention of the medical world. The story of this protracted lethargy comes from Ekaterinoslay, where the subject, aged 21, is under arrest on the charge of having participated in an armed attack made on a passenger train in 1906.

So far back as March 19 the young peasant fell into a comatose state, his eyes and mouth being closed. All efforts to restore animation proved unsuccessful. After the laspe of a fortnight, during which the prisoner had no food or drink of any discription, he got up said a prayer, and lay down again. The prison authorities believed that he was simulating lethargy, and were convinced to the contrary until his apparently lifeless body was driven in a cart to the court of justice and examined by a special commission, including medical experts.

He was then taken back to prison where he remained until April 14, still receiving no food and showing no signs of consciousness. Eventually he was removed to the Zemstvo hospital, where he is now lying. Artifical feeding was resorted to with satisfactory results, and the emaciated appearance of the patient has now changed for the better. The lower part of his body is quite non-sentient.

There are signs that the prisoner is recovering control of his faculties, and the hospital doctors are of the opinion that, although he can neither move nor speak, he hears everything that is said to him. One of the experts watching the case goes so far as to maintain that the auditory sense has been active during the whole 49 days that the lethargy has already lasted.

CLASS DAY AT PRINCETON.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 12.—Many visitors attended the class day exercises at Princeton university today. The customary program of exercises was carried out, the leading features being the planting of the class ivy, and the ivy oration in front of Nassau hall, followed by the cannon exercises later in the afternoon.

CALGARY HORSE MAKES CLEAN-UP AT WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, June 12—The seventh annual show of the Winnipeg Horse Show association closed Saturday and was easily the most successful on record, although the plum of championships was taken by a visitor in the person of C. Lowes of Calgary, whose Lady Tuck won the grand championship. Mr. Lowes' stable took 13 prizes during the week, the grand champion, Lady Tuck being assisted greatly by Calgary Lass in annexing so many.

The last named in an extra jumping competition after Saturday night's program had been completed showed her superiority over the best that Winnipeg had. It was a deal between the Cameron and the Lowes stables. Calgary Lass cleared six feet nicely. Tarras and Leo were against her and Paddy. The match was the outcome of the jumping event of Friday when Mr. Cameron was dissatisfied with some of the conditions imposed in the contest. These were removed Saturday night. Several of the cups offered have been won outright and will have to be replaced for next years show.

FRED CAMERON BEATS HOLDER OF WORLD'S RECORD

HALIFAX, N.S., June 12—Six hundred people yesterday afternoon at Amherst saw Fred Cameron run his first professional race in Nova Scotia. His competitor was Gustaf Jungstrom, the Swede runner, and the holder of the world's professional record. When the pistol snapped Cameron at once took the lead and gradually drew away from his opponent until he had gained nearly a lap. The first five miles was run in 26:50. When Cameron gained a lap he settled down to a comfortable jog and continued to follow at the Swede's heels. In the last two miles Jungstrom made a great effort to regain the lost ground but Cameron won handily by three quarters of a lap in 1:07:36.

REPORT ON JULY CROP PROSPECTS

Good Prices Expected for Raspberries —Buying Power of Prairies Large This Year.

(Special to The Daily News.)

VICTORIA, June 12.—The British Columbia Fruit Growers association, of which R. H. Agur, of Summerland, is president and Provincial Horticulturist R. M. Winslow the active secretary, has just prepared a comprehensive report on the June fruit crop prospect, upon the foundation of detail and district reports received from members and correspondents in all parts of the province. This summary report is now ready for issuance to the association's members, and reads as follows:

Raspberries.

The lower mainland is the principal shipping district. The full crop will be about the 15th to 20th of July—the acreage, about the same as last year with a yield of 200 crates per acre predicted at Hammond and Haney, and excellent prospects reported at Mission for over 300 crates. A few raspberries are grown all over the fruit districts but mostly for local supply and jam factories. Raspberries will be on the whole an average crop, and prices should be good. Canneries and jam factories are creating a good demand at fair prices. Shipments will be later than usual by several days.

Cherries.

Olivets are reported a good crop around Victoria. Some 1,500 crates in total. Sour cherries are not heavy owing to spring frosts. Sweet cherries are dropping heavily after a heavy bloom.

Early Plums.

Reported fair to good crop, not at all heavy.

Italian Prunes.

Lower mainland, fair crop, and fair in Vancouver Island, but good in Grand Forks, Vernon and Kelowna, the principal interior shipping points.

Peaches.

Perhaps one carload will be shipped from Summerland, and several cars Penticton. In our last report we ommitted to except Penticton from the general off-crop in this line. Latest reports indicate several carloads of the earliest varieties there.

Pears.

Most varieties bloomed heavily, and very few fruits have set as a rule. Salmon Arn, Kelowna and Grand Forks report good crops.

Early Apples.

On Vancouver Island, the early apples will be from one-half to two-thirds of last years crop. The late apples are reported from poor to excellent. Thompson river orchards and the Okanagan generally report that early apples are a good crop, from 90 per cent to 100 per cent of last year, and late apples will run perhaps 75 per cent of last year's shipments. In the Kootenays early apples are reported from fair to good. Grand Forks expects a crop many times that of last year. In winter apples the Kootenay generally expects 60 to 70 per cent of last year's crop. Generally speaking, Grand Forks will have a uniformily large crop of all varieties of fruit produced there, but all other districts will average up below last year.

On the whole, the Pacific coast crops will run 60 to 75 per cent of last year. Colorado will be nearly double last year. Ontario and Nova Scotia report excellent prospects in all lines except strawberries and raspberries, and the great apple districts of the east and middle west report full crops. All European apple sections are reported good to very good crops. It will be remembered that last year the Pacific coast compared very favorably with all other American districts in an average yield. This year the Pacific coast on the whole will run much lighter, and the east and middle west generally much heavier. This means that the general market situation this year will be very different from last year, and will have to be watched closely by our shippers, and must be met by a strong and complete organization if the best results are to be obtained against the competition of heavy eastern shipments. It must be remembered that it is at present still too early to predict the crops with any degree of accuracy. This is particularly so with late crops, which are always difficult to forecast.

On the whole the shipments from British Columbia will not equal those of last year, though with proper organization to market them aggressively, good prices should rule.

As to the strawberry crop prospect more particularly, the season for this popular and delicious small fruit being close at hand, conditions to date are reported as follows by reliable correspondents in all the British Columbia producing and shipping districts:

	Acreage 1911	Acreage 1910.	Date main crop.	Estimated yield.
Gordon Head	75	70	June 20	200 cr.
Keating	20	20	June 25	Fair
Victoria	12	12	June 24	Fair to good
Outlying Vancouver Island points	15	15	June 20-30	Low to fair
Hammond and Haney	40	60	June 24	Light
Burnaby Lake	12½	14	June 25	Very good
Mission	46	40	June 16	Medium to good
Chilliwack	Decrease		June 24	Good
Salmon Arm			June 30	170
Kelowna	5	5	June 24	Medium
Grand Forks	5	5	July 10	200
Creston	17	20	July 10	Light.
Nelson district	50	60	June 30	Medium.

Generally speaking the island and lower mainland crop is 10 to 14 days later than last year; the upper country not so much. The prospects have improved somewhat in the last two weeks but still the total yield will be much below that of 1910.

It is the stated intention of the Keating growers to market their crop very largely through the Oscar Brown company. Vancouver, Gordon Head and Victoria shippers generally will use the Victoria market and the new management of the Victoria Fruit Growers' exchange expect to handle the great bulk of their crop in coast markets. The crop in outlying Vancouver Island points will be consumed largely locally also. The Burnaby Lake crop, which promises a very large yield, will go as usual to Vancouver and, as is customary, Hammond, Haney and Mission will use the Vancouver market for their soft stuff. On the whole it will be seen that coast markets are liable to receive a larger quantity than last year, though the crop generally will be in much stronger hands.

Prairie Market.

As for the prospects in the markets of the neighboring northwest provinces of Canada, general conditions in the prairies are shown to be excellent save in southwestern Alberta, where the local miners' strike still continues. The buying power of the prairie consumers this season will be large and prices start off well, $4.67 being received in Calgary for the first strawberries from Mission on June 3. The fight put up by the association to retain the present advantage in express rates to the prairies having been successful, it is likely that the American shipments there will be light, except to Winnipeg. The association's special investigator, sent to the American side, reports from Hood River that the crop there is only two-thirds of last year, totalling 40,000 crates, and they are receiving $3.50 f. o. b. cars at present. Full crop coming about June 14. Vashon Island willl be very late this year, probably the full crop about June 24. The crop of Ontario strawberries is reported as being only fair, which will relieve the market for our late berries in Manitoba and Winnipeg. From general indications one can say that the prairie market will therefore be fairly free of berries at the time of shipments from the coast and lower mainland points, and in view of conditions in Vancouver shippers are advised to distribute to the prairies more than seems the intention at present.

Rival jam factories at Nelson and a new jam factory at Mission will serve to keep soft stuff off the market, and so will aid in securing high prices for good shipping fruit.

The change in management of the Victoria fruit exchange is expected to strengthen the hands of this association. At Mission the formation of a new association with excellent support is reported. In the Kootenay, the Kootenay Fruit Union, Ltd., has been organized and at every point old associations are stronger than last year. The crops will generally be in strong hands, which should permit of a more active canvass of prairie markets. The British Columbia Fruit Growers' association is sending out a circular to all retailers of fruit in the prairies west of Brandon, advising them of the crop of strawberries in British Columbia and referring them to shippers.

To sum up the strawberry situation, the yield will be somewhat lighter in total than last year's. The main crops will be picked about 10 days later. The coast markets are likely to be well supplied. The prairie markets are quite liable to be under-supplied and there will be a big demand from jam factories and canneries for soft fruit. On the whole the stronger organization of this year should enable growers to get generally high prices. These are especially indicated by the fact that the high prices have ruled continuously on the American side, with the exception of one or two slumps in coast markets. The association in the matter of express rates has already performed a considerable service for strawberry shippers this year, and hopes by this crop report and this circular to prairie markets to make the handling of this crop very satisfactory for provincial growers.

TUESDAY, JUNE 13

DOMINION DAY

Now that it has been definitely decided to celebrate Dominion Day this year, as in the past, it devolves upon everyone to do their best to make the event the most successful celebration of its kind in the history of the city. Good committees have been appointed to arrange the various details, and if the general public support is forthcoming, and there is no doubt but that it will be, there need be no question of the result.

The decision to combine a general program of sports with a water carnival, or fete de nuit, was a wise one. While undoubtedly all will enjoy the water spectacle, especially if all launch and boat owners do their share toward making it a success, there are nevertheless many who are anxious to see a program of field sports. Under the proposed arrangement these will have their wishes gratified, while at the same time advantage will be taken of Nelson's ideal situation for the presentation of a water pageant.

In connection with the whole celebration, it may be added that it should not in any way be looked at from a narrow monetary standpoint. The idea should be to give not only the people of Nelson but also all who may visit the city for the occasion two days of full and complete enjoyment. Pleasure should be the first and only object aimed at. The idea should be to show that the people of Nelson know how to have a good time and also how to entertain their visitors.

SITUATION IN THE CROW

The sittings of the Board of Conciliation appointed to inquire into the differences between the coal miners and coal mine owners of the Crow's Nest Pass and Southern Alberta are again under way but so far there is little evidence of any real progress toward a settlement and with it the resumption of work. The season is wearing on apace and nothing is being done to provide a fuel supply for the moving of the prairie crop this fall or for the people of this country for the coming winter. It is sincerely to be hoped that it may be possible to make some arrangement whereby work may be resumed in the near future. This is in the public interests as well as in those of mine owners and mine operators.

There is one bright spot in connection with the situation, however, and that is the fact that the Granby smelter is soon to resume, a supply of coke for this purpose having been secured from Pennsylvania. This will pretty well relieve the situation so far as the metalliferous mining industry goes, for the British Columbia Copper company has not had to shut down at all, having secured a coke supply in advance from the same source as the Granby since has, and the Consolidated Mining and Smelting company has also been able to continue operations without cessation up to the present. There therefore, has never before been a cessation of operations in the coal fields of the Crow's Nest which has had less effect on the metalliferous mining industry, and consequently on the interests generally of this section of the province. Nevertheless it would improve conditions all around were the coal mines again in operation.

For this reason and looking forward to a probable fuel shortage in the coming fall, and possibly also in the coming winter, The Daily News, as well as the people of the Kootenay, would like to see a settlement of the differences between the coal miners and the mine owners.

LAST NIGHT'S APPOINTMENT

The publicity committee are to be congratulated on their choice of a secretary last night. In Mr. Herbert H. Currie they have secured a man who will undoubtedly give Nelson excellent service. As a newspaperman of some years' experience he has seen much in the way of publicity work and will be able to bring new ideas regarding the carrying on of this work into play. In saying this no disparagement is meant of the manner in which the work has been carried on in the past, but it is only fair to point out that the training of a newspaperman fits him particularly for work along this line.

Mr. Currie will need no introduction to the people of Nelson, nor to the people of various sections of the Kootenay for he has been for the past two years a member of the editorial staff of The Daily News, and it is with regret that the paper loses his services. With this regret is coupled, however, the conviction that in his new position Mr. Currie will render the city of Nelson equally as faithful and as satisfactory service as he has rendered The Daily News.

In extending congratulations to the committee on its choice The News also desires to congratulate Mr. Currie on the fact that his was the name selected out of a total of eleven applications received and to wish him every possible success in his new position.

COMMUNICATIONS

TO PRESERVE FORESTS.

The following letter has been received by The Daily News for publication:

To the Editor of the Cranbrook Herald.

Sir: I note in your issue of last week, there appeared published a copy of my recent letter to the Hon. W. R. Ross, chief commissioner of lands at Victoria, dealing with bush fires.

In this connection I now wish to explain that while we expect a great deal from our government and our department of lands, in the way of properly protecting and safeguarding our many natural resources from destruction and improper exploitation, we are apt to forget, that without the cheerful and hearty co-operation of the people throughout this province, their government and the heads of the different departments will be powerless in adequately enforcing the laws and maintaining the regulations that have been or may be in the future established, no matter how strong, efficient or well-meaning the members of our government may be.

The people of British Columbia have recently demonstrated, by their votes, an unbounded confidence in our premier and his colleagues, in properly safeguarding the interests of this province and its people.

Do we all realize the stupendous task and responsibility which have been placed upon the shoulders of our public officials? In this organization we are all shareholders. Are we going to support the men whom we have almost unanimously delegated the task of directing the affairs of this great enterprize, in which we, our children, and children's children, are and must continue to be vitally interested.

Shall we then, as citizens of this great province, collectively and individually become guardians, in fact, of our cherished province, in preventing further loss and destruction by fire of the greatest natural resource we possess—our forests; the perpetuation of which means beautiful scenery, adequate and uniform water supply for all purposes, plenty of rainfall, bounteous crops, game and fish in abundance, healthy and exhilarating climate conditions, but, most important of all—a strong, vigorous, prosperous, happy and contented people.

We must demonstrate, during the next few months, by the individual effort of every man, woman and child in the province of British Coulmbia, whether we shall, in a comparatively few years be the means of making out of our heritage the garden of Canada—or a barren and depleted wilderness.

P. LUND.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES

Small side dishes, once so numerous, are now used for nothing save perhaps a thin apple or rhubarb sauce. Rarely more than two vegetables are served with a meat course.

Court plaster should never be allowed to completely cover a deep cut. It should be cut into strips and fastened across the wound so that the secretions from it can freely escape.

Emery powder and oil made into a paste is an excellent mixture to clean steel. Rub on well and polish, after which rub with an oiled rag and then polish up again with a clean duster.

When the saucepan in which oatmeal or any other cereal is cooked is emptied, fill it immediately with cold water. By the time the pan is to be used again it will be easy to clean.

To prevent raisins or currants from dropping to the bottom of the pan, first put in a layer of dough without them, and then add the dough to which the raisins, well floured, have been mixed.

The bluish cast which comes on finely polished furniture in damp weather may be removed by wiping with lukewarm water in which there is a tablespoonful of ammonia to a gallon of water.

To improve liver, cut slashes in it and thread with thin strips of fat bacon. Season somewhat lightly and bake for an hour or more. This is the usual manner of its preperation in France.

Ammonia is an excellent cleanser for porcelain, but when dirt and grease demand an extra agent use kerosene. It will do the work thoroughly. Apply with a rag and wash off with warm soapsuds.

If the edge of a lines turnover collar is moistened with glycerine and water after ironing and before folding it over there will be little danger of its cracking. The solution will make the fabric pliable.

For a quickly prepared and dainty dessert put halves of canned pears with some of the syrup into individual dishes, cover the tops with whipped cream and sprinkle with grated coconut or dot with cherries.

If the entire woodwork of a house is washed over two or three months with ammonia water, and corners and shelves of drawers are sprinkled with powdered borax, insects and bugs of all descriptions will seek a home elsewhere.

When a carpet is to be cleaned it is well to remove all grease spots first. This is best done by scrubbing them well with a clean brush dipped in warm, strong soapsuds. When the scrubbing process is finished wash the spots well with a cloth dipped in ammonia water.

To clean white marble put a lump of soda about the size of an egg into a pot containing half a pint of water and a teaspoonful of soft soap. Heat it almost to boiling and paint it on the marble while hot. Leave it on a day or two and then wash off with warm water and a clean flannel.

A splendid filling for sofa cushions may be made by taking a dime's worth of cotton bunting, cutting it into small squares and heating it in a baking pan in the oven for half an hour, care being taken not to let it scorch. Each little square will puff up to twice its size and will be light and fluffy as a feather.

Cracked porcelain can be admirably mended if it can be tightly tied or clamped together, with edges perfectly dry, and is then boiled for at least an hour in skim milk. Remove the milk from the stove and let the porcelain stay in it until the milk is cold. If this is properly done the pieces will stick firmly together and the crack will be hard to find.

Nuts are very nutritious and if eaten at proper times prove a good substitute for meat. At this season, however ,they are not generally of good quality and should only be served salted or in cooked dishes. Olive oil, cream and butter are all nourishing and should be indulged in freely. Macaroni, spaghetti and the various noodles are not only healthy, but easily digested by the weakest stomach.

GREATEST BLOT ON RECORD OF DIAZ

Yielded to Peonage System Under Pressure of Foreign Capital—Revolution Was Justified.

Nothing the future has in store for Ex-President Diaz can rob him of his right to be considered the great developer of Mexico. He found the country in a barbarous state; he leaves it a modern nation, and its presidents for a thousand years to come must build on the deep foundations he has laid. Diaz's greatest service to Mexico was the bringing in of foreign capital to fertilize the land; and the greatest blot on his memory, the peonage system, is due to the demands of this foreign capital to earn handsome dividends on the money invested. Had Diaz been a greater man he would have yielded to these demands when they were just, and would have refused to yield to them when they affected the liberty of hapless Mexican laborers, who were converted into veritable slaves by the exorbitant requirements of foreign concessionaries.

Portfiro Diaz believes that "peace hath her victories not less renowned than war," and he believes also that peace must have her sacrifilial victims. No doubt he could earnestly argue that true patriotism in Mexico demanded the lives of tens of thousands of Mexican people every year, and that for them to perish on the great tobacco and henequen plantations was as necessary to the commercial prosperity of the nation as was the death of soldiers on the field of battle. President Diaz's great courtesy and kindliness to English-speaking and other foreigners saved him from the pen of the muckraker until the last year or so. Adventuring authors who penetrated Mexico have been deftly steered round in a circle of civility from one aspect of the benevolent despot to another. Their eyes have been fixed on Mexico's wonderful material development, and they have been blind to the underlying horror of slavery, upon which so much of it rests.

Not so John Kenneth Turner, as the title of his recently issued book, "Barbarous Mexico," suggests. Mr. Turner went to Mexico on a muckraking expedition, representing himself as a capitalist desirous of investing money. He was thus enabled to approach government officials in a way impossible for an avowed journalist, and to gather material for a powerful indictment of the peonage system. The first victims of the demand for dividends were the Yuqui and Maya Indians, who had the illluck to live near the rich henequen *plantations of Yucatan, and the to*bacco plantations of Oaxaco. These Indians had no particular desire to earn a living as laborers, much preferring to support themselves in their own primitive fashion by hunting but as their labor was desired by the plantation owners the Indians were forced into rebellion. They were declared outlaws, their lands were forfeited, and as many of them as were not killed were sentenced to labor on the plantations.

But the supply of Indians was not great enough to meet the demand for cheap labor, because in some districts, notably the Vally Nicional in Oaxaco, which is properly called Death valley, the mortality is greater, probably, than in any other area of equal size on the face of the earth, Mr. Turner declares that 95 per cent of the laborers perish within a year, and since 15,000 are recruited every 12 months, the drain on the labor market may be imagined. It is far too great to be supplied by the Indian population, and so the concessionaries were obliged to turn to the Mexicans themselves. They found a few thousand laborers among the criminals lodged in jails throughout the country, but their numbers were a mere drop in the bucket. The great bulk of laborers, Mr. Turner says, are Mexicans, whose only crimes are poverty and friendliness. Many of them are lured away by no other medium than an extravagantly worded newspaper advertisement, promising high wages to laborers. A man applies for a job to an agent of one of the concessionaries in the city of Mexico or some other large center of population. He is given $5 of advance money, and becomes instantly indebted to the corporation. Until he can refund the money he is virtually a slave, and the whole armed force of the state can be turned against him if necessary.

He is carted off to a plantation and set to work, he is obliged to buy all his supplies from his employers at such exorbitant prices that he is never out of debt, and remains a prisoner until death cancels the bond. Those who are not entrapped through a newspaper are secured through the connivance of local justices of the peace, who are paid so much a head for every laborer they can supply. A man is arrested on a nom*inal charge of vagrancy, and is spirited* away to the plantations without trial, or any other formality. If for no other reason than the peonage system the revolt against Diaz would seem to have been justified.

GIGANTIC JOKE ON LONDON POLICE

Bobbies to Suck Acid Drops While Patrolling on Coronation Day—Chocolate Also.

Coronation day is not to be allowed to pass without at least one gigantic joke—and the victims are to be no less stern personages than the London bobbies. Unconsciously these men in blue will set the spectators laughing all along the processional route, for the spectacle of miles of stalwart policemen sucking the acid drops beloved of the street nippers and nibbling the more aristocratic chocolate of the nursery will not be without its comical side.

On the great day when the king drives through the cheering crowds to his crowning, the constables who are to line the route will set out from their stations with the following equipment

One truncheon.
One stick of chocolate.
One sultana sandwich.
One bag of acid drops.

Sultana sandwiches are great favorites with schoolboys who know them best by the name of "squashed flies."

The chief commissioner of police gives the following reason for the re*gulation:*

"Our surgeon has recommended this to us," he says, "In warm weather nothing can beat chocolate and currants to carry a man through an arduous day's work."

Mr. Eustace Miles who is a great advocater of the health diet, hailed the news with delight.

"Strange but true," was his comment, "a man can carry all he wants for 48 hours in his waistcoat pocket, if he only knows what to get. And the police force will be none the less genial and rotund after their coronation experience."

ELECTRICAL STORMS STILL RAGING IN UNITED STATES

NEW YORK, June 12.—Electrical storms such as raged intermittently over New York and vicinity during the past 48 hours with great damage from lightning and wind and flood were reported to the immediate west and north of here tonight. A terrific storm struck Baltimore at 6:30 o'clock and half an hour later both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies reported the loss of all wires between Philadelphia and Baltimore. The exchange of news between eastern and western points had to be made by round about routes and then was carried on only with the greatest difficulty.

NEXT RECIPROCITY TREATY WITH WEST INDIES

OTTAWA, June 12—The next reciprocity agreement Canada will make will be with the West Indies said Dr. C. E. Gooding, a member of the Barbadoes legislature, who arrived in the city this morning. Dr. Gooding stated that negotiations between Canada and the West Indies aiming at reciprocity were now well under way and there was every indication that an agreement would be reached.

NOW BUILDING GEORGIAN BAY CANAL

Postmaster General Urges Owners to Hold Their Properties—Reciprocity Means Prosperity

MONTREAL, June 12.—St. Vincent de Paul, the construction of the Georgian Bay canal, and what good it would be to the land owners along the shores of Des Prairies river, especially to those of the county of Laval, was the novel topic in the speech delivered by Hon. Rodolph Lemieux here yesterday.

The postmaster general spoke at length of the canal, saying the government would not let any independent firm carry out the enterprise. It will be the work of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Discussing the result of the construction of the canal Mr. Lemieux said that one of the first effects would be a great real estate boom, and he advised the owners not to sell too soon. Keep your properties, he said, and do not be the victim of the real estate speculators. You know that only a few days ago, on the other side of the river, a tract of land bought for $5,000 a few years ago was sold for $125,000. The fancy price was paid in anticipation of the Georgian Bay canal. Now there is no doubt that it will come, and the dredging that has been done in the Des Prairies is a part of the canal. We have a right to say that the canal is actually being built, though it is not very apparent.

French Immigration

Regarding immigration, the postmaster general disposed of the Nationalist claim that the government did not encourage French immigration. Mr. Lemieux declared that everything had been done to secure a good percentage of French immigrants, but as the French people did not emigrate it was very hard to secure this.

Reciprocity was discussed in detail. Mr. Lemieux compared the tariff wall between Canada and the United States to the toll gates and bridges between St. Vincent de Paul and Montreal. Such toll gates were to disappear because of the administration of Sir L. Gouin, and the big toll gate over the 45th meridian would also disappear. Mr. Lemieux recalled that the greatest prosperity ever seen in Canada had been from 1854 to 1866 when there was reciprocity with the United States. "Reciprocity means prosperity," said the speaker. "The Conservatives who are opposing the treaty know that as well as we do, but they do not wish it to be carried out by the Liberals because it will be too great a credit to our party. They know very well that if Sir Wilfrid Laurier is allowed to carry that proposition through he will be re-elected and will remain at the head of our country's destinies so long as he lives, and they do not want that. This is why we propose reciprocity. It is said," he continued, "that with the prosperity we now have, no change is necessary. But such is not the view of the Liberals, who think with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, that if we have prosperity we must think of keeping it forever and increasing it for the future. We need a change for the future and we need to capture that American market with its 92,000,000 inhabitants; we want to capture that market for our farmers."

He talked of annexation very lightly and said that the loyalty of the Canadians was above all suspicion, and that it was not possible when the country was enjoying such prosperity that any change of allegiance would be considered.

C. A. Wilson, M.P. for Laval, spoke of the navy, saying that since 1763 England had assumed the whole defence and protection of Canada. Ridiculing the obligatory service scare, which was so widely used during the Drummond election and which is used in every Nationalist meeting, Mr. Wilson asked if there was in the county of Laval one man who could say that his son had been dragged on board of men of war.

SWIMS FOR HELP—IS DROWNED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 12—When their canoe swamped midway between Tonka Bay and Crown Point, off Big Island at 2 p.m. today, John Trott, 27, instructor in the architecture department of the engineering school at the university and Miss Eva Kay, a student at the university, hung to the sides of the boat vainly waiting for help. Trott in desperation struck out for Tonka Bay to summon help. He sank shortly afterwards. Miss Kay was rescued by a launch.

PROSECUTE TOBACCO OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, June 12—Following the refusal of Attorney General Wickersham today to furnish the house information as to whether criminal actions are being prepared against the officials of the American Tobacco company Representative Byrnes of Tennessee introduced a concurrent resolution directing Mr. Wickersham to proceed at once against these officials under the criminal section of the anti-trust laws.

Laces of every variety are used extensively, especially on gowns of chiffon, gauze and voile union. They are sometimes dyed to match the color of the gown.

On new gowns of plain black silk or satin the corsage turns back in front into wide revers faced with any strong color—emerald green, bright red or flame color.

A nice skirt for a tailor costume has two lines of buttons, closing with real buttonholes. One is on the left side of the front, the other on the right side of the back.

Fancy scarfs in net and chiffon with printed borders in color remain in style. One new idea is a chiffon scarf in flat, artificial flowers applied in an irregular border.

The newest ostrich plume is long, uncurled and wired to stand out at any angle wanted of it. Next in novelty is the camels back plume with a double curvature of its stem that reminds one of the traditional hump.

A Warning Word

From the Herpicide Girl

You are becoming bald. The hair is getting thin on the top of your head and unless you take my advice you will, before long, be as hairless as a croquet ball. Remember too that chronic baldness is incurable.

It is all due to dandruff. I can tell, because you always have dandruff flakes on your coat collar. Besides being an indication of impending baldness, it also suggests untidiness.

Newbro's Herpicide will kill the germ that causes dandruff, checks further accumulation of scarf skin and stops falling hair.

You are not taking any chances when you purchase Herpicide and you are tempting fate when you use anything else. Herpicide has thousands upon thousands of satisfied users who testify to its germ destroying and hair preserving qualities.

CIRCLING THE GLOBE
(By Gerald S. Rees)

Letter No. 6—"The Garden of the World."

While Japan is perhaps more characteristic and queerer than Ceylon, the latter has the advantage in color, and the glorious reds of the tiled roofs and the vivid greens of broad plantain leaves create a lasting impression on eye and brain of the sea-weary traveler. Its yellow sands are fringed by groves of noble palms and its hills rise grandly above vales of wonderful fertility until they culminate in the central range of mountains whose summits are ever hidden in the misty clouds. The story that the winds blowing over this enchanting land are laden with perfume is true; the traveller approaching the shores can often perceive the fragrance of its spice groves and myriads of odorous blossoms while yet some distance away. The forests teem with life; brilliant birds, gorgeous butterflies and troops of chattering monkeys all assist in realizing the long cherished vision of our boyhood days as to the composition of a tropical scene. In the interior of the island are many ruined cities, once the scene of oriental splendor and luxury, now wildernesses of wonderful ruins, truly magnificent even in decay.

City of the Cingalese

The streets of Colombo exhibit a wonderful variety of races, clothed in brilliant hued costumes—where any is worn—and the European residences are very attractive, the low red roofs of the bungalows hidden in flowery gardens, and shaded by cocoanut palms, banana trees and other peculiar trees and plants. There are Buddhist temples, where one may see the mystic rites of the most interesting religion in Asia. As we skirt the outward edge of the breakwater, behind which the white-crested waves of the southwest monsoon are racing up the seaward slope to fall in a long murmurous cascade into the sheltered inner calm, and prepare for the long trip across the Indian ocean, we cherish a memory of perfumed groves, slanting furtive eyes, of golden pagodas and wonderful sunlit forests of palms.

Song of the Sea

But now
"There aren't a wave for miles and miles
"Except the jiggle from the screw."

Occasionally a tramp steamer, paint hanging in scrape from her shabby funnel, blusters past the mail liner, her engines loudly lamenting their many infirmities at every crazy stroke. She salutes with a jaunty toot from her whistle. The liner cuts her dead and ignores her very existence, but the unembarrassed tramp, kicking flounces of foam from her propellors, swaggers cheerfully on her way to the other side of the world. The trail of the tramp steamer in her migrations around the world keeps up the romance of the sea as did the white-winged carriers of commerce in the days of the sailing craft, which has now become a decaying figure in ocean transportation. Occasionally also on the horizon we glimpse the passing of the mail steamer bound for "down under." These, in common courtesy and as between equals, we greet with the dipping house flag by day and the rocket's trail by night.

The Southern Cross lies low on the horizon and voyagers old and new eagerly welcome the appearance of the lovely constellation; to many it means the near approach of home, and to others the entrance into the new and interesting half of the globe that lies furthest away from the old and known and outworn countries of the ancient world. The Southern Cross is not a geometrical figure of many gorgeous stars dominating the sky, but it is beautiful and distinctive enough to satisfy any reasonable person. The five stars composing it are irregularly placed and the cross does not usually stand up but hangs slanting in the sky. Such as it is the globe trotter will remember it on many a night to come, under the colder heavens of his own northern land and in the very words, "Southern Cross" the music of the "long, long road, the call of bush and plain and far-off coral island, and lonely wide-rolling seas, will echo across the years and across the world forever.

NO TRACE OF BODY OF MISSING CHILD

(Special to The Daily News.)

KASLO, B.C., June 12—Rev. William Beamish, with his wife and family have moved into town and are living in the Methodist parsonage, Mr. Beamish having assumed the pastorate of that congregation.

The brick work has started on the court house and several courses are laid making an attractive contrast with the marble corners and window jambs. All the pressed brick are being dipped in order to give them uniformity in color.

A large number who went out on the lake Sunday in boats were stormstayed until 10 o'clock when the wind abated and a few did not get home until Monday morning.

Body Still Missing

A thorough and systematic search for the body of Harry Loff believed to have been drowned in the vicinity of the C.P.R. wharf and Goodenough's boat-house on Wednesday between 5 and 7 o'clock in the evening has not succeeded as yet. It was at this point that a slide occurred some years since, carrying away piling driven by the C.P.R. and the lake bottom is very steep thus lessening the chances of finding the body of the child. A large area has been dragged in every direction and dynamite will be used if necessary.

The local lodge of Oddfellows has selected A. B. Fleener and Robert Hendricks to be its representatives at the meeting of the grand lodge at Cranbrook on June 14. It is believed by members of the order that the selection of Cranbrook as the place of meeting will result in giving the interior a larger representation in the grand lodge when the new officers are elected than would be likely if the meeting were held at one of the coast cities.

A. C. S. Sheppard and W. H. Lasee of the geological survey, Ottawa, are registered at the Kaslo hotel.

W. W. Bradley of Nelson provincial assessor was a visitor to Kaslo last week.

H. Cornwell of Hartford, Conn., and J. Cairns of Colfax, Wash., arrived here on Friday.

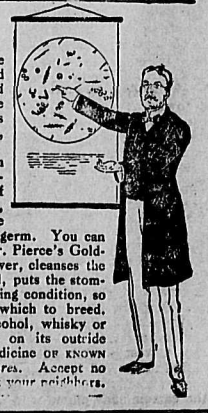
BUFFALO, N. Y., June 12.—About 100 delegates are attending the annual convention of the New York state organization of the United Master Butchers' association, which began in this city today. The sessions will last until Thursday.

Afraid of Ghosts



Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outride wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

A Shoreacres Beauty

A snug 10 acre fruit farm situated close to the Shoreacres station, school and postoffice—with the added advantage of government graded wagon roads. This little farm is level, free from stone, and we submit is as good a 10 acre fruit farm as we ever have offered for sale. It contains some very fine timber which could be cut and marketed at a figure which should pay for the clearing. The soil is positively of the very best quality and every foot of the farm can be plowed and cultivated with no waste. This farm is situated in the centre of a well settled district and is very close to the Kootenay and Slocan rivers.

On May 29th we offered for sale in this paper a choice ten acre Shoreacres fruit farm on easy terms and same was sold within 48 hours. We again wish to make a prompt sale of the above described farm and we offer same for $1000 on the terms $50 cash and $25 per month at 7 per cent interest.

We should like to emphasize to intending purchasers the fact that as regards location and quality we guarantee this little farm to be second to none in the West Kootenay district and would advise you to act quickly.

MARKETS

SUDDEN CHANGE IN TONE OF MARKET

NEW YORK, June 12.—For a time following the opening of the stock market today trading was active and stocks advanced, but the forenoon selling was resumed on a heavy scale and the tone of the market changed suddenly. United States Steel and the Gould shares exhibited marked weakness and nearly all the important railroad and industrial issues shared in a reaction which cancelled gains and in some cases resulted in net losses. During the remainder of the day the market was dull and trading was largely professional in character. Toward the close, trading became more active and prices were bid up sharply. The conflicting movement in the market today represented continuance of the hesitation and the alternate periods of strength and weakness which were prevalent through last week. The expected improvement apparently having been discounted to some extent by the recent rise in stocks, the market in the opinion of some observes is waiting more definite signs of better business collections, and in the meantime is reflecting the same symptoms of hesitation which are manifested in the various lines of commerce and industry. General business in the west, so far as traffic returns of the roads in that section indicate, is holding steady in most directions with no move toward extensive expansion. Grain receipts at Chicago last week fell off heavily. The annual report of the Westinghouse Electric showing a new high record for both gross and net earnings had little effect on the stock, which declined sharply after a rise. The stock shared in the recent improvement of electrical shares, and the announcement that no dividend would be paid at present prevented a further gain. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,490,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

JULY WHEAT HAS SENSATIONAL FALL

WINNIPEG, June 12.—"Hit it again, it has no friends," seemed to be the attitude toward the wheat market today. Last Monday Winnipeg July was at 102¼; today it sold at 96⅝, a break of 5⅝c for the week. Minneapolis broke 6c and Chicago 5c for the week. The bears, who got cold feet last Monday, are kicking themselves today and then taking another turn at the bulls. The range of July wheat for the day was 2c, and the close 1⅜c under Saturday. The break made it possible to work some export and both Nos. 3 and 4 were disposed of, also some oats. The cash demand was fair. July closed 4¼ over Minneapolis, while our cash No. 1 Northern was ⅝c over theirs. No. 2 was the same price and No. 3 Northern ⅝c lower than Minneapolis. The break for the day in Minneapolis July was 1½c, Chicago 2¼c, distant futures closing lower all around. Weather conditions everywhere were good, and though world shipments were under those of last week, they were much in excess of last year. France was offering to resell Australian cargoes at less than she paid for them, and Britain got the bulk of the week's shipments, showing the continental demand satisfied for the time.

ECHO OF WARRINER CASE

CINCINNATI, O., June 12—An echo of the famous Warriner case, in which Charles L. Warriner, treasurer of the Big Four railroad, was sent to prison about a year ago for the embezzlement of $643,000 of the company's funds was heard in court here today when the case of Edgar Street Cooke of Chicago was called for trial. Following the disclosures of the Warriner embezzlement a similar charge of embezzlement was brought against Cooke, who formerly was a Big Four employee under Warriner. Warriner is to be brought from the penitentiary at Columbus to testify at the trial of Cooke and it is also expected that Mrs. Jeannette S. Ford, the "woman in the case" will be placed on the stand.

JAM SIREN SALUTES MORN

Kootenay-Columbia Preserving Works Has Started Operations on Rhubarb Shipment.

With five carloads of comodities safely housed, the machinery, boiling and canning plant installed, a strong man as president, an expert manufacturer on the grounds, a beehive of helpers, and a wideawake secretary-treasurer, the siren whistle of the Kootenay-Columbia Preserving works yesterday morning intimated to the citizens of Nelson that all was in readiness and in great shape, for buisness at the jam factory.

Since taking possession of their property, the Kootenay-Columbia management have worked with a determination to grapple their opportunities, and it was a great satisfaction to them to be in a position to turn on steam on Saturday morning and to find that everything was under perfect control. Not content with the anticipation of an early strawberry crop, the company concluded a contract for the immediate delivery of a large consignment of rhubarb, to be handled pending the arrival of the berries, and the first shipment of three tons was switched to the factory on Saturday night, to be manufactured right away into jam specialty, and also into pie and table products.

The company will manufacture jams and jellies, and bottled and canned fruits in great variety, and from time to time new lines will be added. The question of pickles is also under consideration, and the company hope to handle some in the fall. Regarding small fruits generally, the company have already given a great stimulus to the fruit-growing industry by having written contracts already signed covering over 40 acres which will approximate over 150,000 pounds of small fruits, and these contracts represent a very large number of growers over a wide area, and many of the contractors are amongst the oldest-timers in the Kootenays, some individual growers have contracted for as much as eight acres of fruits in variety, and the contracts cover periods ranging from three to five years duration. The managment of the works are now engaged in figuring out contracts for tree fruits, and anticipate a great future both for the growers and the manufacturer.

The company has also been approached by some of the leading wholesale houses in British Columbia asking for agencies to cover several provinces. This fact is taken as a proof of the fame and quality of the Kootenay fruit.

AT THE THEATRES.

The real musical comedy, "A Winning Miss," by Boyle Woolfolk, Atteridge & Peters, is the attraction at the opera house this evening, boasts of a cast second to none in musical comedy. The cast is headed by Max Bloom, late star of "The Sunny Side of Broadway," and one of the funniest men on the stage today. Others in the cast are Lorraine Lester, the original Mary Jane in "Buster Brown," Hattie De Von, the eccentric comedienne who has created a sensation with the role of Anastatia May; Thomas J. Grady, late feature of "A County Chairman," and other successes; Percy Chapman, late feature of G. Edward's "Blonde Typewriters," and considered one of the greatest dancers in vaudeville; Clarence Backous, the phenomenal baritone; J. E. Coglan, who made such a hit in one of the Irish roles in "The Sunny Side of Broadway" last season; Grace Manlove, Alice Sher, Johnnie Gilmore and Jessie Maker, all with the original company. The music is rendered by artists that make it one of the big features of this great success. One song, "Eve," which is the piece de resistance of the show, is breaking all records for popularity among the buyers of popular music, and the royalties on this song alone, it is said, will net Mr. Woolfolk, the author, this season, enough to buy himself a summer home. Those who like beautiful stage pictures, novel electrical effects and the most beautiful music of recent years, should not miss the opportunity of witnessing "A Winning Miss" and Max Bloom this evening.

How like the strains of an old familiar song, or the voice of an old friend from far away come the lines of an old nursery rhyme,

Hey Diddle Diddle, the cat and the fiddle,
The cow jumped over the moon;
The little dog laughed to see the fun,
And the dish ran away with the spoon!

Those whose weary, way-bruised feet have trodden the gray, old road of daily life, beaten down and trampled by a myriad of hurrying people, at the magic sound of that old lullaby are wooed by its spell back to the fairyland of childhood. The old wonder story of long ago, "The Cat and the Fiddle," with its sweet music will enhance the beauties of the scenes, and beautiful maidens in dazzling costumes will flit through the magic gates. A company of over 40 people, selected with the care and skill of long experience, will be seen in the musical extravaganza. The principals are all well known as popular favorites, and the performance promises one of the rarest musical treats offered this season.

"The Cat and the Fiddle" will be seen at the opera house Monday and Tuesday, June 19 and 20.

RAFFLED LAUNCH CASE IN COURT

E. V. Morrell Sues A. E. Watts, Jr., for Damages to Boiler of Idler, Boat of Many Owners.

The boiler of the steam launch Idler, the transfer of that craft first by a raffle and second and third by purchase, and the responsibility for the "bursting" of its boiler were some of the matters that are concerned in the suit Morrell vs. Watts, which came up for hearing in county court before his honor, Judge Wilson, yesterday and will be continued at 10 o'clock this morning. W. B. Farris appeared for the plaintiff, E. V. Morrell of Queen's Bay, who is asking for $650 damages for the bursting of the boiler of the launch while it was being used by A. E. Watts, Jr., who is represented in the case by E. C. Wragge.

Mr. Morrell's story was that in July, 1910, he let the defendant have the launch on trial. The Idler was then, he claimed, in perfect running order, but when it was returned to him the boiler had been "burnt out." He saw defendant and obtained an agreement promising to repair the damage or to pay for such repairs as might be necessary. Afterward Mr. Morrell said that he brought the boat down to Nelson and spent $50 upon repairs with the Nelson Ironworks. The balance of the $650 claimed was for loss of time and loss of revenue from the boat. At this point one of the heaviest exhibits which have been seen in the local court of law for some time was produced in the form of a damaged boiler. The metal weighs about 100 pounds and is the lower of the three drums forming the tubular boiler.

Agreement to Repair Made.

To Mr. Wragge witness admitted that he had only used the launch four or five times in 1910 previous to letting defendant try it. He said that he obtained $903 from the proceeds of the raffle, which was won by George W. Lindgard of Ainsworth.

Mr. Lindgard said that Mr. Watts had promised to see that the damage to the boat was repaired and that he would make good the $50 paid by Mr. Morrell to the Nelson Ironworks. On this undertaking witness said that he sold the boat to Captain Cogle, the Idler thus once again changing hands, with the question as to the legal responsibility for the damage to the boiler still unsettled. This closed the case for the plaintiff.

A. E. Watts, Sr., said that on the first occasion after the damage to the launch when he met the plaintiff he had given a written undertaking to repair the boat or pay for the repairs. He explained that he intended to have the boiler mended by one of his own men and thus save a good deal of expense, but that at the request of Mr. Morrell he had added the words "or pay for the repairs." He had next heard of the matter when he saw the Nelson Ironworks people and had told them that he would not be responsible for payment for the repairs as he had not authorized them. He continued that he was now having the boiler repaired by his own engineer at Proctor, having bought the boat from Captain Cogle. He expressed the opinion that he could have the repairs made himself much more economically than it could be done by the ironworks.

Impaired Gauge Cause, He Says.

Mr. Watts claimed that the damage to the boiler had resulted not through the lack of water so much as the carelessness of Mr. Morrell, who, he asserted, had allowed the lower part of the boiler to become covered with sand and mud, which had resulted in corrosion, which made the tubes unable to stand the pressure when they became heated when the engine was fired up without sufficient water.

He stated that it was the fault of the water gauge of the boiler that it had become overheated. This gauge, he said, was set about half an inch lower than it should have been, consequently although there was half an inch of water in this gauge when his man fired the boiler there was none in the boiler itself. The trouble was discovered when some packing around the boiler commenced to smoke.

R. W. Hinton, works manager of the Nelson Ironworks, expressed the opinion, and demonstrated his reasons on the big exhibit, that the chief damage to the boiler had been caused by corrosion. Apart from the burning the boiler was not in a safe condition and was liable to have given trouble at any time.

DAY IS SPENT IN CONFERENCE

"General Otter Is Diplomat," Say Officers of 102nd Regiment—Will Report to Ottawa.

After a day spent in conference with the officers of the 102nd regiment Major-General Otter, inspector-general of the Canadian militia, left on the coast train last night for Kamloops.

No announcement was made as to the result of the interivew, during which the affairs of the regiment were thoroughly gone into, but the remark dropped by one of the officers in the evening—"The general is a diplomat and dealt with the various questions in a most satisfactory manner"—may be taken as an indication that the conference resulted in no particularly exciting developments.

In any event no movement with regard to the annual inspection or the distribution of the pay or other questions is likely to be made until the general makes his report to headquarters.
