THOUSANDS SING FUNERAL SONG

Salvation Army Services Are Solemn and Impressive

CRIMSON FLAG ABOVE COFFIN

Soldiers Pledge Themselves to Faithful Service at Booth Obsequies

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Funeral services for the founder of the Salvation Army, General William Booth, were held at the Olympia tonight in accordance with the traditions of that organization, without pomp or symbols of mourning, but with a most moving fervor and impressiveness. Thirty-four thousand people participated in the service. Nearly half of them wore blue coats and red jerseys or the bonnets with red ribbons so familiar on the streets of cities in several nations.

The body of the late general in a plain pine coffin rested high upon a white catafalque in front of the big platform across the end of the hall where all the chief officers of the army were seated and where 40 bands were massed. The crimson flag of the army "of fire and blood," which the general unfurled on Mount Calvary, was planted above the coffin. A bank of flowers, composed of the tributes sent by the members of royalty and many societies, was behind it. Flags of various nations in which the general had waged campaigns and the standard of the older divisions of the army were arrayed in front of the platform. These and more Salvation Army flags in the galleries, each tipped with white ribbons, and twenty portraits of the evangelist, surmounted with green laurel, with a broad orange ribbon connecting them, were the only decorative effects.

While the front rows of chairs before the coffin were filled with representatives of various bodies with the equerry to the King, several mayors in their robes and chains of office, a delegation from the stock exchange, ministers and clergymen of all the Protestant churches and Jewish rabbis and while other notable personages were seated in the house, the rank and file of the great gathering was composed of the plain people for whom the army works and by whom it is composed. The service itself was not only a memorial but was a mammoth meeting of prayer and praise. No other congregation comparable with it ever occurred in London, if in the world save at the funeral of the general's wife which was held in the same hall 22 years ago this coming October.

Solemn Cortege.

The most solemn events of the long meeting were when the coffin was borne along the centre of the hall to the sonorous music of the Dead March in Saul.

A small procession, representing many branches of the army's activity including men and women and a detachment of officers from foreign branches, carrying the flags of their respective countries, preceded it. Immediately before the body a brigadier bore aloft the crimson flag, which the general raised at Jerusalem and under which he died at Hadley Wood. Following it marched the officers from Canada, Sweden, Germany, America, Switzerland, France, Denmark, Norway, India and Australia.

Then came the new general, Bramwell Booth, with his wife, each wearing the uniform of a commissioner; Mrs. Booth-Helberg and the grandchildren of the late Salvationist, Adjutant Catherine Booth, Captain Mary Booth, Captain Miriam Booth, Cadet Sergt. Bernard Booth and Cadet Booth Tucker.

Stand at Salute.

The coffin was covered with a flag and on it rested the general's bible and cap. The slow progress along the centre aisle occupied more than 10 minutes, during which time the immense audience remained standing, and all the Salvation soldiers were at the salute. The vastness of the Olympia made it impossible to conduct the service by word of mouth. More than half of its 33 numbers, however, were familiar Salvation songs which the many thousand voiced chorus sang with a mighty volume of song and with militant earnestness.

Every seat on the floor and in the galleries was taken. Several thousand of persons were banked around the outskirts of the hall, half of whom could not see over the shoulders of those in front but who could hear and take part in the services.

The revival service was concluded with the singing of the refrain heard at every meeting at which General Booth conducted, "His Blood Can Make the Evil Clean; His Blood Avails for Me."

Receive Covenant of Fidelity.

The most impressive feature of the solemnities followed. All the soldiers of the army rose and received the covenant of fidelity, pledging themselves to be faithful soldiers of the Lord.

The catafalque was then taken slowly down the aisles while the great gathering sang "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There." The coffin was placed in a hearse and conveyed to the Salvation Army headquarters where it will rest until taken to Abney Park cemetery tomorrow.

As the doors closed behind the casket Commissioner McKie pronounced the benediction and immediately afterward Olympia became a babel with the foreign delegates seeking comrades with whom they are stopping.

The police struggled to produce order from chaos as the great crowd mingled with the others who had waited outside the hall listening to the singing more than two hours while the service lasted.

GRAND FORKS PASSES BYLAW

Boundary Capital Votes Five Thousand Dollars Toward Construction of Addition to School.

(Special to The Daily News.)

GRAND FORKS, B. C., Aug. 28.—By a vote of 93-8 the ratepayers of Grand Forks endorsed the bylaw granting issuance of $5,000 worth of debentures to apply on the building of an addition to the public school of this city.

Twelve thousand dollars had been granted the school board by the provincial government toward the construction of the addition but $5,000 more was necessary to complete the proposed structure. Bids have been received by the trustees for the addition and will be opened at an adjourned meeting to be held tomorrow evening, when the contract for the building will be awarded.

BRITISH WRITERS TO MEET IN CANADA

Institute of Journalists Selects Montreal for Next Gathering—Not Empire Missionaries, Says Editor.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The proposal to hold the next annual conference of the Institute of Journalists at Montreal was discussed at yesterday's meeting, a resolution being ultimately carried to that effect by a substantial majority. Robert Donald, president-elect and editor of the London Chronicle, considered the proposal neither practical nor expedient on the grounds of the expenditure of time and money. The members of the institute were not empire missionaries nor commercial travelers, he said, but working journalists. Again, it would be below the dignity of the institute to accept the hospitality of Canadian railroad corporations against whom the Canadian journalists themselves were generally fighting. Israel Zangwill supported the resolution, remarking that he saw no reason why they should object to going to Canada and helping the empire.

SAYS GOVERNMENT SHOULD PAY TAXES

Burden of Exemption on Property Too Heavy

CITIES SHOULD NOT BEAR ALL EXPENSE

Halifax Aldermen at Canadian Muncipalities Meeting Opens Subject

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 28.—The delegates to the 12th annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities held two sessions today and listened to a number of interesting papers on technical subjects. In the afternoon an early adjournment was taken so that a boat ride on the river and luncheon provided by the entertainment committee of the Windsor City council might be enjoyed.

A variety of subjects were treated at this morning's and tonight's sessions, among them being "Electric Franchises," by L. A. Cannon, K. C., of Quebec. "The Operation of Public Utilities in Sherbrooke," by Mayor Herbert of Sherbrooke and "Good Roads and Their Effect on Rural Life and Transportation," by Mayor Spencer of Medicine Hat.

Ald. Reginald V. Harris of Halifax read an important paper at tonight's session on "Exempted Property in Capital Cities," in the course of which he said:

Extraordinary Burdens on Tax Payers

"I am not aware what action the executives here have taken nor am I restricting my remarks to the capital cities, but rather to those cities and towns all over Canada where extraordinary burdens are placed on the shoulders of the ratepayers. In some cases the exemption consists mostly of property used for charitable and religious or educational purposes. To a very large extent the community exempting land for such purposes receives local compensations.

"There is, however, another class of exemption to which reference must be made. This is property of the government, both Dominion and provincial. Nor do I make any complaint in respect of postoffice and custom house property. They are as necessary as town halls and fire engine houses to a community. When a government puts up a postoffice or a custom house the burden of exemption from taxation is cast upon the town. The community must furnish fire protection, often expensive equipment, sometimes a permanent force of water service, adequate for fire protection as well as for domestic service, police protection, street cleaning, street watering, street lighting, sewer maintenance, but while in this case the exemption of the property is not a voluntary one, it is a case where all municipalities are on the same footing."

Taking the cities of Ottawa and Halifax as examples of localities wherein public and other governmental buildings are exempt, Ald. Harris emphasized the fact that while this valuable property pays no taxes whatever to the community, it receives the fullest measure of both fire and police protection, the streets are kept clean and watered and at night are lighted, but for none of these services is a single dollar paid by the government.

In the opinion of the speaker it was manifestly unfair that the ratepayers should bear the entire burden, the whole cost of municipal government and get nothing in return.

Favors Board of Control.

The address was followed by a spirited discussion in which nearly every delegate took part. Another able address tonight was that of F. S. Spence, of Toronto, harbor commissioner and former controller of that city. He spoke on the commission form of government and in the course of his speech expressed an opinion to the effect that the board of control system such as is used in Toronto was much more satisfactory. He had visited several cities during the year where the commission form of government was in vogue and found many instances of inefficiency.

EXHAUSTED BY PRIMARIES; GRAFT CASES ADJOURNED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—The councilmanic cases that were scheduled for hearing in police court this afternoon were postponed until next week after the court officials, the prosecutor and the accused aldermen had all expressed themselves worn out as the result of the strain attendant upon the primary election yesterday. The examination of Ald. Walsh will be taken up first when the cases are resumed next Tuesday. Justice Jeffreys also adjourned his grand jury investigation into the alleged enrollment frauds in connection with the primary election.

CHILD DROWNED.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—Simeous Hambroug, 10 years old, was drowned while bathing this afternoon in one of the north end quarries. The youngster was unable to swim and got beyond his depth. Three companions were with him but they were unable to swim and by the time aid came the victim had gone down.

GOVERNMENT REDUCES ITS OWN MAJORITY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

London, Aug. 28.—The Sydney N. S. W., correspondent of the Standard says the appointment of Hon. Neill Nelson to be trade commissioner in Canada has brought about a curious situation as the opposition has refused to find a "pair" for Nelson. As a result, the majority of the government in the legislature has been reduced to one.

Help Still Needed For Murray Family

Thirty dollars was added yesterday to The Daily News fund for the relief of the widow and family of the late David Murray of Columbia Gardens by nine subscribers, among whom several were again from points outside of Nelson.

The case of Mrs. Murray and her three young children is arousing sympathy wherever it is told. As she is in a delicate condition of health it will be some months before the woman can possibly take up any work to sustain her three children, all of whom are under 12 years of age. Five hundred dollars is the sum needed to place the family beyond want.

When the late Mr. Murray, who was a South African war veteran, died he had been incapacitated for work for some time owing to an accident on a railway and he left his family practically starving.

The subscription now stands: Previously acknowledged, $111.50; A Friend, $1; A Friend, $2; A Friend, $1; A Friend, $10; A Friend, $1; G. B., $1; Dawes, $1; D. A. Boyd, $10; P. J. L., $2.

Donations may be sent to The Daily News office and will be forwarded to Rev. Father MacIntyre of Rossland, who is treasurer of the Murray relief fund.

CHARGE UNION MEN WITH CONSPIRACY

American Federation of Labor "Unfair List" is Introduced Into Case at Hartford.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 28.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor arrived today to testify in the suit against members of the United Hatters of North America, brought by D. E. Loew and others for damages of $80,000 because of an alleged conspiracy by labor unions to injure the business of the plaintiffs. Thus far all the witnesses in the cases have been summoned by the plaintiff.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor was on the stand the greater part of the afternoon. He identified a number of volumes of the American Federationist. He said that while the latter publication was officially recognized by the federation many of the articles of a news nature were not necessarily official. He stated, however, that he regarded as official the printed lists of "unfair" shops.

Mr. Morrison said that at the convention of the American Federation of Labor in 1901 a resolution was offered that members should not patronize hat makers that did not use the union label. He did not consider this as a boycott for the reason that the resolution was not adopted by the federation but was referred to the executive committee. The action of that body was not stated today.

Mr. Morrison will go on the stand again tomorrow morning and it was expected tonight that he will be followed by President Gompers. Attorneys tonight agreed to let Mr. Gompers and Mr. Morrison go on the stand tomorrow as witnesses for the defendants although they have been subpeonaed by the plaintiffs. This is to allow them to return to Washington at once instead of waiting to be called in rebuttal.

TO BE TRAINED IN PRACTICAL ARTS

Winnipeg's Future Women to be Skilled in Household Science—Men to be Generally Useful.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Aug. 28.—"We are going to teach the future mothers of this city how to cook, make their own dresses and trim their own hats and we are going to teach the future bread winners to shoe a horse, build a house, make a dynamo, furniture and do all the other necessary and practical things that are in demand."

This is in effect the edict of the Winnipeg school board in its announcement to the Winnipeg public today of the technical work outlined for the new school year, which starts on Tuesday next. All of this technical work will be taught in Winnipeg's two new magnificent high schools.

POSSIBILITIES OF BLOCKADE REMOTE

Ninety Percent of Elevators Empty And Railway Equipment Increased to Handle Alberta Crop.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, Alta., Aug. 28.—With the crop maturing two weeks earlier than last year and with 90 per cent of the elevators empty, and increased equipment to move the Alberta grain crop to market, the possibilities of a blockade this year are very remote, according to a report submitted by the grain committee of the board of trade to that body.

Figures or the equipment of the C. P. R. show that there will be 25 per cent increase in available cars over those in use last year, or a total of 57,680 as compared with 45,190.

WELL DIGGER KILLED.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—Timothy Murphy, aged 45, a well digger, was killed this afternoon while digging a well on Barrett brothers' farm near Bowesville, five miles from the city. He was caught under the revolving crank of the drill, which fractured his skull.

IS MATTER FOR CANADIAN WOMEN

Premier Borden Meets English Suffragettes

NOT INFLUENCED BY THREAT OF VIOLENCE

Only Argument and Reason Have Any Weight--Provinces Control Franchise

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—For nearly an hour this morning Premier Borden listened courteously and patiently to the speeches of the five ladies forming the deputation of the Women's Social and Political union, the organization which gained notoriety through militant suffragist methods.

The meeting was in the Savoy hotel, the Canadian premier receiving the quintette in his private sitting room. The deputation comprised: Rachel Barrett, Barbara Wylie, Mrs. Tuckwell, Winifred Mayo and Evelyn Sharp. Three of these ladies had been in prison, a fact mentioned by one of the speakers.

Premier Borden remarked to a later deputation who waited on him a few minutes after the first had withdrawn that he had little to complain of in their manner of putting their case before him. The meeting, as a matter of fact, was perfectly pleasant. Only once, when Miss Barrett gave something more than a suggestion that militant methods might be urged upon their adherents in Canada, was there any tendency to break the cordiality of the gathering.

The premier quietly but frankly answered this point by the plain intimation that no sort of procedure outside of argument and reason would have the slightest weight with him. Miss Barrett took this intimation quietly and the farewells between the premier and his interviewers were very friendly, the latter expressing well pleased with the reception tendered them, although it cannot be said they took away anything very definite.

Miss Barrett, in opening the speech making, said they took it almost for granted Mr. Borden was favorable to women's suffrage.

Practical Politicians, She Says.

Premier Borden—You must not take anything for granted. I have not had much time to consider the matter. I do not know whether you have studied the Canadian constitution.

Miss Barrett—We are practical politicians; we want to talk to you as such. We want to know whether you will announce on your return to Canada that you intend to introduce and carry a measure giving votes to women on the same terms as men. That is the real object of this deputation. We have an organization in Canada and the women there have asked us what they are to do to bring about enfranchisement.

Says Dower Law Unjust.

Miss Barrett, continuing, said she did not want to go into the reason why women should have votes, but in any country where women had votes its laws were likely to give justice to women. She admitted she was not expert in Canadian affairs but had heard from Canada of the injustice of the Dower law.

Premier Borden—That is a matter in which I have no great power; it rests with the different provinces.

Miss Barrett—We have had letters referring to this matter in which Canadian women realized the injustice of the homestead law. We have women trained in agricultural colleges, yet the law of Canada makes it that they cannot hold land except under special conditions.

Suggests Militant Methods in Canada.

She argued that men would be inclined to emigrate to those countries where their women folk would find themselves in a state of political freedom. "We have been definitely considering," she went on, "whether we are to hold a great propaganda, advising women not to emigrate to Canada, but to those colonies where they have the vote. Every Canadian statesman ought to think that an important question. Then regarding the state of affairs in this country—"

Premier Borden—If you will pardon me, I really have been too occupied to follow this question closely here. I regard the matter here as one for the British people alone to attend to themselves, and for the same reason I hold the people of Canada must settle their affairs themselves.

Miss Barrett—Nevertheless the agitation here has been inconvenient to the present government and has added materially to their difficulties. I think it is a real menace to their existence.

Premier Barden—What have I to do with that?

Miss Barrett—I am coming to that. I suggest it will be a very great mistake for any government to ignore such an agitation and should like to impress on you that this agitation is going to stay. No government can afford to ignore it. Your reply this morning will regulate very much the kind of advice we give our friends in Canada. We shall definitely consider whether we shall not send some one out to conduct an agitation there.

"Is It a Threat?"

At this point Mr. Borden looked at his watch and remarked: "Am I to take that as a threat?"

Miss Barrett—We do not want to threaten.

Alluding to the great public reception awaiting Premier Borden on his return, she said she hoped he would declare himself as representing not only the men but the women of Canada.

Mrs. Tuckwell, who followed, thought Canada wanted more women overseers to frustrate agents of the white slave traffic. She went on to say that her experience traveling in Canada as an agent of the British Women's Emigration association was that the men there were quite favorable to women having votes.

Miss Sharp remarked that her own brother who was in Canada was always wanting her to go out and join him, but she preferred staying in the frying pan instead of falling into what might be the fire.

Franchise Provincial Matter.

Premier Borden in reply alluded first to the white slave traffic and asked the ladies to send him, in confidence, details as to how the traffic in Canada was carried on. Continuing, he explained how the provinces absolutely controlled the franchise so far as the election of members of the provincial legislatures was concerned. For the last 15 years the Dominion parliament had maintained a law under which the provincial franchise applied to the election of members of parliament. If therefore he were to go to Canada and announce what the deputation suggested, he was announcing a departure from the policy of 15 years. It was obvious that such a departure would require more consideration than he could give it in a few minutes at that meeting.

"Whether," he went on, "we shall enact a general franchise law for federal affairs is a matter not yet taken into consideration by the present administration and until it is suggested that we revert to the old practice it would be manifestly impossible for me to make any announcement on the situation. Therefore, it resolves itself to this; you must go to the nine provincial legislatures or we shall have

MEASURE AIMS TO DESTROY PATRONAGE

New Zealand Has Bill for Appointment of Commissioner in Charge of Chief Departments.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—A Wellington, N. Z., correspondent says the measure aiming at the destruction of political patronage has been introduced. It provides for the appointment of a commissioner having whole control of all the chief departments except the railways. This official may be suspended on the ground of incompetence or misbehavior by the governor, but can be dismissed only by the house. His decision will be subject to review by an appeal board and applicants soliciting support of members of parliament for appointment or promotion in the public service will be disqualified.

DETROIT COUNCIL MEMBERS NAMED

Seven of Those Charged With Grafting Are Successful in Primaries —Present Mayor Chosen

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—Scattered returns that are still coming in from yesterday's primary election, show clearly that the few contests that existed on the state tickets were all bitterly fought. Results from 49 counties give Amos S. Musselman of Grand Rapids, 3488 majority over his opponent, Secretary of State Martindale. Alfred Lucking, democrat of Detroit, is generally thought to have won the only contest in the United States senatorial race, having shown a majority of 1751 over his opponent, George Hummer of Holland.

The race for the democratic nomination for mayor of Detroit was the closest contest of its kind locally in years. An unofficial count of 133 out of the city's 177 precincts gave Mayor William Thompson a majority of 551 over Police Justice E. J. Jeffreys. A feature of the local primaries was the victory of seven of the aldermen recently arrested on bribery charges in their contests for renomination. It was reported during the day that Ald. Thomas Glinnan, charged by the prosecutor with having received the largest bribe of any of the accused officials, was one of the victorious candidates. Later returns, however, indicated that he had been defeated by a very close vote.

ENGLAND GAVE PREMIER BORDEN GREAT RECEPTION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

QUEBEC, Aug. 28.—"Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden was given the greatest reception that a public man from overseas ever received in England," said Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, on arrival of the Royal Edward this evening. "In every case he carried himself with dignified bearing and he commanded the respect of everyone he met in England, and I may add, France."

RAIN HAVOC IN UNITED KINGDOM

People of Norwich Driven From Homes by Flood

QUEEN ALEXANDRA IS STORMBOUND

Fear Famine of Drinking Water--Boat Missing. Viaduct Destroyed

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Rain, which has been falling in the United Kingdom since the beginning of the month, ceased in most parts of the country today and the outlook is generally fairer. The plight of Norwich, however, has become worse, the rapid rise of the Wensum having compelled hundreds of inhabitants to forsake their dwellings and seek refuge in the higher parts of the city, where they temporarily are being accommodated in the schools. Many streets are under eight feet of water. Two bridges and several cottages have been swept away. The electric works are inundated and the city is in darkness, both the gas and electric lighting systems having failed. The train and telegraph services are still suspended and the only communication with the outside world is by telephone.

Queen Mother Alexandra and Princess Victoria, on board a royal yacht, are stormbound in Southwold bay, on the Suffolk coast. The yacht, which is attended by the cruiser Liverpool, does not dare to venture across the North sea. Winston Spencer Churchill, en route to the river Tyne, is similarly weatherbound on board an admiralty yacht at Grimsby. Many travellers are stranded in various parts of Norfolk and Suffolk and holiday makers are unable to reach their homes.

Fear Vessel Lost.

A steam herring dredger returning to Lowestoft was caught in Monday's hurricane and has not been seen since. It is feared the vessel foundered with all hands.

A telephone message received from Norwich late last night said it was estimated that 7,000 people have been driven from their homes by the floods. The water has risen in some parts of the city to 13 feet.

Police boats, provided with ladders, are constantly patroling the flooded districts for rescue work.

The authorities are trying their best to provide mattresses and food for the homeless people. The streets tonight present a weird appearance, the only lights being those of torches and candles. Fire brigades are busy pumping the water from the electric and other works.

Fears of a famine of drinking water are held, as the machinery in the water works is flooded and useless.

Water Floods Cathedral.

Even the precincts of the cathedral are under water. Trowse church has three feet of water in the nave and some of the gravestones have been swept away. The viaduct carrying the railway between Flordu and Froncett, a few miles outside of Norwich, has been destroyed and the railroad has been swept away for a distance of five miles from Norwich to Brindall.

During Monday's hurricane a train from Yarmouth to Norwich took seven hours to make the journey of 25 miles.

To Raise Animals For Fur On Nelson Ranch

To raise mink and martin for their furs is the new industry in Kootenay which G. A. Soal of Sudbury, Ont., proposes to establish on a ranch which he has purchased from G. A. Nocks at Shirley, the new name for the Granite Road district.

Mr. Soal has had considerable experience in raising foxes for the same purpose and is convinced that, as both mink and martin are native to Kootenay, he can make a success of the business here. The market for furs, he declares, is insatiable.

The ranch is of 15 acres with 5 acres cleared. In addition to the fur raising industry he will go in for poultry and fruit raising. The deal was put through by McQuarrie & Robertson who report also the following sales:

To Open Provincial Prison Farm Monday

(Special to The Daily News.)

VICTORIA, Aug. 28.—The prison farm at Burnaby is to be opened on Monday, a temporary building to accomodate 200 prisoners having been erected. W. G. McMynn, late of Greenwood and present government agent at Golden, has been appointed warden of the new institution. Twenty-five short term men from the provincial jail at Kamloops will be transferred at first and the number will be increased as the farm gets into working order.

The appointment of Warden McMynn is looked upon as an excellent one as he is at once a disciplinarian and a man of kindly heart who will assist the inmates of the prison to help themselves toward a better life.

TRAIL POULTRYMEN CONTROL MARKET

Association Has Made Arrangement for Selling by P. Burns of Local Eggs Exclusively.

How the Trail Poultry association is keeping control of the local market is told by W. N. Scott, president of the association, in the following letter to the Successful Poultryman:

Having solved the problem of buying feed and poultry accessories, such as coal oil, wire netting, lumber, zenoleum, etc., at cost, the Trail Poultry association has now turned its attention to the control of the local market in disposing of our products. In most communities the local price of new laid eggs is gauged almost entirely by the local supply. Glut the market and down goes the price. To strengthen our market by shipping out couldn't be done, as our market is so good anyway that we would be shipping at a loss.

The P. Burns company has been handling a class of select guaranteed eggs in cartons, known as the Shamrock brand.

On taking the matter up with their manager and then with the district manager, I found them willing to enter into an agreement with our association to handle our eggs exclusively. We would buy our own cartons, select and grade carefully and deliver to their store here for 5c a dozen above the price being paid the local merchants for eggs marketable in the open market. The cartons are printed as follows:

Guaranteed Strictly New Laid
By Member No.....
R. H. DAY, Sec.-Treas. W. N. SCOTT, Pres.

The association purchases the boxes by the thousand. They are sold by the secretary only to members in good standing when they sign the agreement and rules regarding, etc. Each member on taking boxes is given a number, known only to himself and secretary, which he is to fill in on the box before marketing. This is to fix the responsibility if improper eggs have been so marketed by any member, who will be dealt with by the association.

As the district manager of the Burns company has arranged for the local manager to ship out to their stores in the neighboring cities in case of a local surplus, we have provided the local manager with gummed seals, printed "O. K." This is put on the box after inspection by the local manager, and relieves us of any further responsibility for breakage, cracks, etc., while in delivery or shipment to outside points.

The extra price of 5c a dozen, or about 3½c net, may not appear much, but the effect of taking a few thousand dozen out of the local stores is bound to put up the price, and then we realize over and above this also,

We are also endeavoring to work out an arrangement whereby we will set the price of our dressed poultry. We have several members in Waneta, Fruitvale, Rossland, Robson and Nelson who take advantage of our cooperative buying, as we can reship 25 or 30 miles and still save money to the poultryman. Any poultryman in the west or south Kootenay district may join our association on payment of $2, $1 of which will be sent as his membership fee in the provincial association. If he is already a member of that association, a fee of $1 will entitle him to the full privileges, both of buying and selling, in our association. Our members are all good sports and we want no sore heads or kickers, or their money. Mistakes will occur and accidents happen, so unless you are willing to be a booster, please join elsewhere. Owing to pressure of other work, our hustling secretary, J. Kallmar, has resigned, but another hustler, R. H. Day, has taken his place.

TIE SCORE IN SPLENDID GAME

Rossland and Nelson Lacrosse Teams End Fast Match With Three Fouls Each.

The lacrosse game between Rossland and Nelson yesterday was the feature event of the day. The game was interesting and hard fought throughout the four periods. The result was a tie, 3-3. At times the local boys would attack the Golden City aggregation and the play would look as if Rossland were not in the game at all, then Rossland would come back with a rally that would rush the ball right up to the green and white goal, but the splendid work of Curran who was guarding the net saved Nelson time and time again. Tom Nute acted as referee.

Rossland started off with their usual rush and kept the local defense busy, and in fact too busy for, with the players around the Nelson goal thick as bees, Hamilton, who for an instant was unwatched got the ball and landed it neatly in the net, drawing first blood for the visitors.

Nelson, however, was not to be on the defensive the whole period, and soon began to break up the continued rushes of the Crimson and do offensive work on her own behalf. After several pretty pieces of combination play, W. Ferguson and Cummins by skilfull passing and dodging, gave the latter an opportunity for a clear shot which landed the sphere in the net and tied the score. Little more was done in this quarter.

The ball was played up and down the field in the second quarter without any scoring principally due to the excellent defense of both sides, until near the end of the time when Cummins and Grant by a pretty combination play and a splendid shot by Grant scored again for the home team. Nelson continued to play hard, but owing to the fine defense of the Rossland boys were unable to score, and Ehlers taking the ball out of a mixup took a long shot and caged it, tying the score again just as the whistle for half time blew.

The third period was the most exciting of the game. Time and again the ball was shot at the Rossland net and during much of the time the play was around the visitors' goal, but the magnificent stop made by Morrish, Rossland's star goal, held the locals down to one score and that was only made after one stop had been made and Cummins catching the rebound, shot it in before Morrish could get back in position again. Rossland also scored in this period, taking advantage of a fine rush up the field and caging the ball.

The last period showed some fine combination on the part of Grant, Williams, Steel and Grizzelle for Nelson and Sanders, Braden and Ehlers for the visitors. But the strong play of both defenses kept the score down. Grant was the star of the field, and seemed to be always in the right place, while Ehlers of Rossland ran him a close second for the stellar position by his hard checking. Both team were playing one man short. The line-up:

Rossland—Morrish, goal; Valentine, point; F. Grifieth, c. point; Weisenthal, 1st def.; Twaddle, 2nd def.; Jewel, 3rd def.; Berg, center; Ehlers, 2nd home; Sanders, 1st home; Hamilton outside home; Braden, inside home.

Nelson—W. Curran, goal; Williamson, point; J. Ferguson, c. point; Manhart, 1st def.; Grizelle, 2nd def.; Pearce, 3rd def.; F. Grant, center; S. Steele, 2nd home; H. Ferguson, 1st home; W. Ferguson, outside home; Cummins, inside home.

CONNEFF MADE RECORD THAT STOOD FIFTEEN YEARS

It was 17 years ago today, on August 28, 1895, that Tommy Conneff, the speedy son of Erin, set up a new record for amateurs in covering a mile, a record that stood for over 15 years before it was lowered by the merest fraction of a second. It was at Travers island, the home of the New York Athletic club, that the little Irish-American performed his memorable feat. A week before Conneff had covered 1,320 yards in 3 minutes 2 4-5 seconds, which constituted a record. Then he determined to do a mile in such time as could never be bettered. The test of speed was carefully planned, and on the day set the track conditions were perfect and the weather of that ideal kind that Jupe Pluvius sometimes gives to New York in the latter part of August. Handicaps assuring perfect pacing added to Conneff's opportunity, and he realized that it was a case of "now or never." The little Irishman fairly split the air, and it required a good vision to follow him. At the finish of the mile the watch showed that 4 minutes 15 3-5 seconds had elapsed. Experts declared that the mark could never be lowered, in which they were mistaken, but for 15 years it seemed that their prediction was correct. Nearly seven years passed after that memorable day in 1895 before any amateur threatened to reach the Conneff mark. J. Binks, the English runner, came within one and one-fifth seconds of the record, but that was the best he could do. Several years passed, with the Conneff record still on the shelf, gathering dust, until three years ago, at the Harvard stadium, Wilton Paull of the University of Pennsylvania, gave the Conneff mark a close shave by doing a mile in 4 minutes 17 4-5 seconds. It was not until May 27 of last year, at Cambridge, that J. P. Jones, the great Connell runner, actually beat the Conneff mark by one-fifth of a second. Tommy Conneff long ago took off his spiked shoes for good and all and joined the United States army. He served in the Philippines, where more in sorrow than in anger he used his wonderful speed to chase the Tagalogs over the plains and through the jungles of Thingumbob, or some such locality. Later he served at Uncle Sam's farthest north army post at St. Michael's, Alaska. When last I heard of him he was in southern California and had risen to the rank of sergeant.

POFF'S HOMER TIES BALL GAME

Nelson and Rossland Match Called in Fifth With Score Even on Account of Rain.

In a game marked by many errors, principally on the part of the Nelson players, and numerous scattered hits, the local nine and Rossland yesterday played five innings ending in a tie. The condition of the field was the cause of most of the poor playing and several times it looked as if the game would have to be called sooner than it did.

Nelson went in with a practically new lineup, all the men playing in new positions. The Rossland team was the duplicate of the one which played here a week ago. Nelson lost what might have been their game, in the very first inning when a number of timely hits by the visitors and a continual round of errors by the local players resulted in three runs for the visitors, Gosgriffe, Kennedy and Mace scoring. The best that Nelson could get was one run scored by Bishop who came in on a sacrifice hit made by Keene. Nelson bucked up in the next inning and the men from the mountain city went out one, two, three. Nelson did better and managed to get two men to first but no farther in their batting. In the third both teams were disposed of without any trouble to the pitchers, and Chapman who had been a little wild seemed to settle down, and the result was a marked decrease in the hitting abilities of the visitors. In the next inning both teams added another score to their list, Rossland on a two bagger by Keinholtz and Nelson on a fine triple bagger by Keene which he stretched into a home run.

Chapman soon disposed of the visitors in the fifth. Nelson came to bat two runs behind and after getting a man on first Poff knocked a clean homer over the fence in centre field and tied the score amidst great cheering by the home supporters.

At this period the rain which had been threatening for some time came down in torrents and the game had to be called, with neither victorious. The lineup.:

Nelson—Sellers, c.; Chapman, p.; Keene first; Sturgeon, second; Poff, short; Bishop, third; Curan, left field; Wilkinson, center; Owen, right field.

Rossland—Applequist, c.; Moss, p.; J. Foran, first; Keinholtz, second; Isaacson, short; Kennedy, third; Mace, left field; Cosgriffe, center; W. Foran, right field.

Pitts replaced Owen in the third.

BEESTON WINNER IN GRUELLING RACE

With Hartin Beats Ball and Clark in Splendid Tussel—Allen's Four Victorious.

The last regatta of the Nelson boat club for this season was held yesterday afternoon. Although the weather and conditions were anything but favorable, the races that were pulled off were very closely contested with the outcome in doubt until the line had been crossed. The first race was the feature of the day, being a senior double match, R. Ball and I. Clark against C. Beeston and D. Hartin. Beeston's boat took the lead at first but was overtaken by Ball's crew, only after a continual spurt and not before the half mile mark was reached. The crew stroked by Ball continued to forge ahead and it looked as if he were going to win. But Beeston after taking one glance at the other boat settled down and called on his partner, Hartin, for spurt after spurt. Ball's crew, however, came back 10 for 10 with their opponents. At the city wharf both boats were nose and nose, and it was here that the strength of Beeston's crew began to show itself. He started in for the final spurt at this point and pulled away from Ball and Clark, on whom the terrific grind had begun to tell, and finished in the lead by two good lengths.

The next and last race was between the fours stroked by Beeston and Allen. Allen's crew got the jump on Beeston and kept ahead until Johnston, No. 2 in this boat, caught a bad crab and lost several strokes before recovering his oar. This accident allowed Beeston's crew to get up on even terms again, and the result was a hard gruelling race, neck and neck until within a hundred yards from the finish, when Allen's boys, showing more powerr of endurance and better oarsmanship, inch by inch took the lead and crossed the finish line the winners by a length.

Owing to rough water and darkness coming on, no more of the races in what promised to be the best regatta of the year, were pulled off. The junior singles and senior singles were postponed until Saturday.

Beeston's crew consisted of Elliot, McGregor and Hartin; and Allen's, Clark, Johnston and Grant.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—The visiting Germantown cricket players were defeated today by an all-Montreal eleven, the score being 161 to 86. The bowling of Tripp of the Philadelphias was the feature, he taking all 10 wickets, clean bowling five of the local batsmen while doing so. Only 55 of the locals' total was scored off him. The other visiting bowlers made a sorry showing in comparison. Malone's batting was another feature, he leading the locals with 51. Parson was the top scorer for the visitors with 25.

Nelson Rifleman, F. E. Weir, Among Prize Winners at Dominion Rifle Association Meet.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—Good scoring in spite of a high fish-tail wind which marred an otherwise ideal day was done by the competing marksmen in today's shooting in the Dominion Rifle association matches at the Rockliffe ranges. The best scores of the meet, in fact, were made this afternoon, Capt. John Hutchinson of the Queens Own of Toronto, putting on two possibles at 800 and 900 yards and carrying off the City of Ottawa gold medal and $30 as a result, with his record score of 70. The City of Ottawa trophy itself was won by the 90th rifles of Winnipeg with a score of 474, the Guelph Rifle association being second.

The Walker match was also shot during the afternoon. It was a 500 and 600 yards affair, seven shots, with a possible of 70 and teams consisting of six officers, noncommissioned officers or men. WOULD MAKE CZAR OF BUILDING INSPECTOR THEY SAY

CALGARY, Alta., Aug. 28.—A fight is promised at the next council meeting over the incorporation of a clause in the new building code by Building Inspector Sylvester which gives the inspector power to vary the operation of any building bylaw. It is claimed that the proposed clause makes a czar of the building inspector and leaves the way open for corruption of the office.

IS MATTER FOR CANADIAN WOMEN

to be convinced that it is expedient to abolish a law which has been in force 15 years, to disregard provincial enactments and establish a general franchise.

Not Concerned With British Situation.

"So far as the British situation is concerned, it's a question for the British people alone. I do not interfere; for the same reason I would not expect to find anyone coming to Canada to interfere. As your action at the present time is concerned, may I be permitted to make one remark? I think the women of Canada are sufficiently capable and intelligent to judge these matters for themselves. I would like to add, I shall be most happy to receive any deputation of women in Canada made for the bona fide purpose of laying before me their views. I do not want you to be led into likening too closely conditions in Canada with those here. I am not aware that the law of Canada is at present unjust to any body of women. So far as the Dominion legislation is concerned we should be most eager to remove injustice if any exists. If you have any real representations regarding the homestead laws we shall be happy to consider them. Regarding the position of Australia and New Zealand I am not prepared to discuss that now. The responsibility for any action you may take will be yours and not ours.

Militancy Would Have No Effect.

"Something has been said," went on the Canadian premier, "about militant methods. I do not know if that is intended to be a threat."

Miss Barrett—It is a mere statement of fact.

Premier Borden. "Very well. My action in public life in the past, as I hope it will be in the future, is dictated by what I think to be in the interests of the people as a whole and humanity generally. Any suggestion as to methods will not have the slightest effect on me. I am perfectly ready to listen to reason and argument and weigh them with the utmost possible care, but if I am to be subjected to methods which make my life unpleasant or inconvenient, or even shorten it, I frankly tell you these latter considerations will not govern my action in the matter in the least." These last few sentences were spoken with some warmth.

Miss Barrett—I hope you will really consider the reasons we have given you today.

Canadian Women Can Judge.

Premier Borden—I am ready to consider them most carefully. I think that the women of Canada will form their own judgment and will not be actuated by arguments of any kind addressed to them from elsewhere, knowing what I do of them.

Miss Barrett—I was referring to the women of Canada belonging to our own body.

Premier Borden—I was referring to the women of Canada as a whole. I am prepared to give the utmost consideration to any arguments and suggestions. I was only led to say what I did by what you added, namely that militant methods might be employed in Canada.

The deputation then shook hands with Mr. Borden and withdrew.

Anti-Suffragettes Appear.

Five minutes after he received the anti-suffragettes consisting of Col. Leroy Lewis, Mrs. Moberly Bell and Mrs. Harry Wilson. This only occupied 10 minutes. The gallant colonel who acted as spokesman, laughingly remarked that they were glad to find the windows unbroken after the visit of previous callers. Having read yesterday that a suffragist deputation was waiting on the premier they thought it advisable to call also just to let him know the suffragists did not comprise the whole body of women in Britain. The league which the present speaker represented comprised several hundred branches.

Mrs. Moberly Bell remarked that the feature of suffragist propaganda which most distressed her was the pernicious literature they were distributing among young women upon the sex question. It was their first and only cry, really.

Mr. Borden, in answering, traversed the same ground as with the previous deputation and remarked that the previous callers were certainly very much in earnest and, except the suggestion that they might employ militant methods, he had nothing to complain of. He was sure Canadian women were sufficiently intelligent to take care of this matter for themselves. Any representations made to him would have his utmost consideration.

OSTRICH FARMS IN PLENTY

Queensland Is Admirably Suited to This Industry.

And her ostrich farm has been started in Queensland. The progress of this industry has not been rapid, for it has not been easy to get a supply of ostriches, and generally there is no eagerness to engage in novel enterprises, however large the profits are likely to be. The first ostrich farm established by Mr. Behan at Garfield, in the central district, however, has been a success, and he has overcome the initial difficulties, and is working it with satisfactory results. His has been an object lesson which might have been more fully followed.

The great extent of country suitable for ostrich ranches in this state, and the climate in many districts being so well adapted for the propagation and rearing of the birds, ought to have led to a more rapid development of the ostrich feather industry. But another farm has started on the Eton Vale road on the Darling Downs. Fourteen ostriches imported from the south have been placed on the farm under careful management and with due preparations for their preservation and productiveness. The investment is about $10,000, and there is no reason to suppose that the returns will be anything but sure and ample. A pair of mature birds will generally produce feathers annually worth $29 to $34, and from the pair can be raised on an average about 10 young birds during the year. These at one year old begin to produce feathers, and when three or four years old they will produce as many as the parent birds. —Dalgety's Review, Sydney, Australia.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 29

THE PRAIRIE CROP.

While as usual crop reports from the prairies are conflicting, the general opinion appears to be that the harvest, if it is safely garnered, will be by all odds the largest on record, estimates of the wheat production alone running as high as 250,000,000 bushels. Such a production bears eloquent tribute to the development of the prairies in the past quarter of a century, but particularly in the past decade. Forty years ago the country that is producing this grain today was known as The Great Lone Land. Twenty-five years ago some attempt at settlement had been made, but the possibilities of the country were not generally recognized for another fifteen years. Ten years ago even anyone who would have predicted a 250,000,000 bushel crop of wheat in 1912 would have been laughed to scorn.

Coincident with the development of the agricultural resources of the prairies has been the development of the rest of Canada. The settlement of the vacant lands of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba has opened new markets for the manufacturers of eastern Canada, for the lumber of British Columbia and for an endless variety of goods. It has introduced new life into Canadian commercial and industrial enterprises and the beneficial result is felt from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

And what is of special significance is the fact that the extent of this year's crop is not the limit of productivity of the prairie provinces. The crop of today will appear exceedingly small in comparison with that of ten years hence. The development of the prairies is as yet but in its infancy. Thousands of bushels of grain will be produced where hundreds are today and when this has come to pass Canada will be a richer, more populous, and in every way a greater country.

NEW YORK POLICE SITUATION.

What will be the result of the Rosenthal murder in New York and the police revelations in connection therewith is a question which is agitating the minds of New Yorkers at the present time. It is generally recognized that the punishment of the murderers will not suffice. The police force must be thoroughly reformed in such a way as to prevent a recurrence of such unblushing criminality on the part of those entrusted to maintain law and order as has been recently revealed.

Among those who take this view is the Evening Post, one of the most reputable daily papers published in New York, which in discussing the dangers of the situation and the difficulty of reform says:

The present commissioner, every one knows, is hampered at many points as Gen. Greene, Mr. McAdoo, Gen. Bingham, and others have so often testified by the courts, in reinstating on technicalities, rascals who ought to be in jail; by the laws, particularly those relating to pensions, which established a vested right that makes for anything but efficiency . . . .

The trouble is simply that we have not gone at things scientifically; we have not studied the problem on its merits, and apart from politics. For decades, while the "system" was being developed, we had a bi-partizan police board of four men, which was cleverly designed to fasten politics upon the force. Since then we have made progress—in outward appearance the men have gained a great deal, and certain branches of the work, such as the traffic squad, the mounted police, and the detective service, have been vastly improved in efficiency; yet the old evils remain. The honesty of the entire force remains in doubt and the Rosenthal case holds the city up to shame the world over as a place where policemen may order murder—or connive at it—done for their private purposes.

Proceeding, the Evening Post takes the ground that the most practical remedy for the situation would be the placing of the administration of the police in the hands of an independent commissioner who could be removed from office only after charges had been made against him and there had been a public hearing of these charges. In this connection the Post expresses itself as follows:

It should not be difficult to put an end to those vested rights which prevent justice and hamper the commissioner. The truth is, as Mr. Meloney pointed out in the World, there "has never been a genuine, persistent effort to excise the cause of the disease. Crooked politicians have so manipulated things that treatment has never followed diagnosis." He, too, feels that the remedy is plain enough—the complete divorce of the police from politics.

It surely is no impossible task. We have divorced our aldermen from their opportunities to graft save along petty lines. We have wonderfully purified most of the departments of our city and, thanks to the civil service laws, put an end to fearful abuses and inefficiency within them. It will be time enough to despair of our police when we have really tried to solve that problem in a scientific way, after having made the head semi-permanent, so as to be independent of the fads and fancies of our mayors, and of any political control.

The suggestion of the Post that the administration be taken out of politics is a good one in many respects, but it has one great weakness that whether or not the New York police force is taken out of politics will rest largely with the politicians who benefit under the present system. It will indeed be interesting to see what measure of reform will be adopted to end a situation so remarkable that it seems almost incredible should ever have existed in these modern days.

COMMUNICATION

THE CADET MOVEMENT.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir,—The intelligent citizens of Nelson should be obliged for the information contained in an interview which appeared in this morning's issue in which is set forth the description of the lack of progress and degeneracy in which the people of this city are living. The illuminating story commences with the following: "At present there is no thoroughly organized body in Nelson in which the future citizen of the Dominion can be taught the elementary principles that go to make a man out of him, namely, cleanliness, obedience and punctuality." Surely if anything will arouse the people of this city, so fair and beautiful in every other respect, to some slight conception of the awful depravity in which they are existing it will be such faithful and fearless utterances as this, moved no doubt by a vision of the de*plorable plight of any community* which has no fostering institution for these virtues in its midst.

The person interviewed not only sounds the note of warning with faithfulness, but also points out the means of redemption. Lacking these virtues named before, the question is—how shall we overcome this lack? The answer is given in detail and with completeness so that no element may be overlooked. Let it be carefully noted by every person who claims to be concerned about the welfare of the youth for time and eternity. "It is essential that every boy should know how to handle a gun and become accustomed to one, that he should know how to swim, to give first aid to the injured, and above all to have confidence in himself. It is for this pur*pose that the cadet corps are being* organized. . . . . .Each corps must consist of not less than 30 members, will be armed and equipped by the government with the regulation Ross rifle, and each boy supplied with a certain number of rounds of ammunition each season. . . . and once a year will go into camp, where everything possible to give each cadet confidence in himself and self-reliance will be done." Here is the fountain of virtue and citizenship set forth in detail. Let the minds of the people be composed. Conditions have have been bad, negligence and shortsightedness have prevailed, but the remedy has at last been found. Cadet corps, guns, ammunition, military camps (for two weeks every year) under the direction of politicians and professional mili*tarists will accomplish* what the home, the church, and the school have failed so lamentably to secure, namely, "cleanliness, obedience and punctuality."

This proposition, the person interviewed tells us, should be supported with enthusiasm." There is no question about it. If such marvels can be wrought by this agency in such a manner as described it should be compulsory not only for the youth, but for most of the male population as well, to place themselves under its magic spell. Let all men be caused to drink at this fountain of virtue and drink deeply.

It would seem that the militarist propaganda, which the article in question declares is being carried forward throughout the Dominion, by claiming it to do so much as to outclass every other agency for good is really making itself ridiculous in the eyes of thoughtful people and still further strengthens a suspicion that the people after all are not taking very kindly to the idea.

He pleaded guilty and was allowed to go on suspended sentence. It is understood that relatives of the young man have made good the loss to the bank.

DISAPPOINTED MINER COMMITS SUICIDE IN HOTEL

COBALT, Ont., Aug. 28.—Apparently discouraged by failure to secure a likely looking claim in the late Gillies rush, Harry Millions of West Brooke, Maine, a well-known prospector, committed suicide in Bass lake, four miles below here. His body was found floating in the lake this morning. He was last seen on the morning of Aug. 20 and a new claim in Gillies is recorded on his license.

Glorious Hair for Women

Your Money Back says Poole Drug Co. if PARISIAN SAGE isn't the Most Delightful Hair Dressing, Grower, Beautifier and Dandruff Remover You Ever Saw.

Try it ladies, on that fair and square basis. Surely you don't want to experiment with common, commercial tonics, when a large bottle of PARISIAN SAGE costs but 50 cents.

There is a reason for the phenome*nal sale of* PARISIAN SAGE since it was first introduced into America and the sales this year are breaking all records.

And the reason is plain to all: PARISIAN SAGE does just what it is advertised to do.

There is no reason whatever why any man or woman should fail to take advantage of the above generous offer.

But one thing that has made PARISIAN SAGE so famous is its peculiar power to turn the harsh, unattractive hair that many women possess into luxuriant and radiant hair in a short time. Women of refinement the country over are using it and it never disappoints.

Sold by leading dealers everywhere and in Nelson by the Poole Drug Co. for 50 cents a large bottle. The girl with auburn hair is on every carton.

EYES

CROSS EYES

They are convergent, divergent and hypervergent. That is, they turn in, out, up and down. The causes are tonic spasm of the nervous system, exhaustion thereof, and local interference with the nervous currents, all of which exhibit through the third nerves. Eyes turning out are often due to operations for eyes turning in.

Prisms, drugs, and operations are, for the treatment of cross eyes, the heights of folly. Operation is dangerous, is very seldom successful even so far as appearances go, never removes the cause, which is left to do the same thing over, or other injury, or both, is absolutely unnecessary, therefore is morally criminal on the part of all voluntarily concerned.

I remove the cause as well as the symptoms, thereby insuring permenancy and often doing much good in other ways for the general health.

CONSULTATION FREE.

My examinations are too expensive to give away and are seldom necessary till treatment is to begin unless you are curious to have an exact analysis of your case and know your physical standing whether you have eye trouble or not.

LETHBRIDGE SEEKS TO BE INSPECTION POINT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Aug. 28.—The grain commission began its sittings here today. Prof. Magill, chairman of the commission, is presiding. With him are Commissioner Staples and the chief inspector, G. Serles. The purpose of the meeting is to hear the arguments of the board of trade on the requirements of this city, which were announced as follows: Lethbridge, the centre of a grain inspection subdivision; Lethbridge, an order point, all cars being routed from here.

If Lethbridge is created an inspection point there is every possibility that it will also be created an order point. That means that all grain inspected here will be held in the cars awaiting the instructions of the shipper who may route it to any destination east or west as he may wish, secure in the fact that he has been given a government certificate as to the grade at which the car of grain will have to be accepted when it arrives at its destination.

The commissioners, after hearing lengthy arguments by W. C. Ives, representing the board of trade, announced that they would take the matter under careful consideration.

MONTREAL SCHOOL CASE VICTORY FOR COMMISSIONERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—The sale of the high school on Peel street at public auction tomorrow will take place as a result of a judgment given this morning by Justice Charbonneau dismissing the motion made on behalf of James McGreevy for an injunction to stop the sale. Counsel for Mr. McGreevy put up a vigorous argument in support of their client but his lordship held that Mr. McGreevy should have come forward and deposited the first payment on the property, $349,000, in court. Granting an injunction to stop the sale would tie up the property, he said, and therefore, the money should also be tied up in court.

Mr. McGreevy and the school commissioners have been at odds for over a year. He obtained an option to purchase at $15 a foot, or about $1,500,000 in all, but refused to take it up when the time for payment came due, claiming that there were small mortages on the property which prevented the commissioners from giving him a clear title. Finally, the commissioners broke off negotiations and he took action for some $2,000,000, the property having greatly increased in value since he secured his first option. He also asked for an injunction to prevent the sale of the property while his suit was pending but this injunction was today refused and the sale will go on tomorrow.

WOULD GIVE KAISER NOBEL PEACE PRIZE

For Quarter Century Has Failed to Use Mighty Good War Machine, Says Professor.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VICTORIA, Aug. 28.—In an address before the Canadian club here today Prof. Benjamin Wheeler of the University of California made the novel suggestion that the next Nobel peace prize should be given to the German emperor.

"For 25 years," he said, "he has had a mighty good war machine under his hand and has never used it." After regretting the strained Anglo-German relations, he said that it was not territorial ambitions but protection against arbitrary interference with the progress of German development which had caused the growth of the kaiser's navy.

THREATEN TO OPEN FIRE ON REBELS

American Gunboat Force Marches to Town When Nicaraguan Insurgents Massacred Garrison.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CORINTO, Nicaragua, Aug. 28.—Commander Warren J. Terhuns and a force of 200 American sailors and marines from the gunboat Annapolis and the collier Justin Low lying in Corinto harbor, today succeeded in forcing their way through the territory controlled by the revolutionaries to Leon, the town midway between the Pacific coast and Lake Managua where the Liberals rose in arms on Aug. 19 and in the dead of night massacred the sleeping soldiers of the garrison. The American force found the Liberals hostile to their advance and it became necessary for Commander Terhune to threaten to attack Leon before the insurgents would allow the train bearing the American detachment to enter the town. Rioting has subsided and the Americans found the city resuming its normal appearance.

After conferring with the Liberal leaders Commander Terhune withdrew his force from the city, 100 marines proceeding to Managua, the capital, and the remainder of the detachment returning to Corinto.

Corinto has been designated as a place of refuge for foreigners residing in the surrounding country. An armed force landed from the gunboat Anapolis is constantly patroling the streets and a number of six pounder guns have been taken from the warships and mounted on flat cars for the defense of the city.

SPECIAL TRAINS BRING HARVESTERS

Railways Run Additional Excursions in Endeavor to Meet Demand of West for Laborers.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—A large number of harvesters were sent west today by both the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk on the regular service, the Canadian Pacific running a special in addition. Since the last excursion many belated harvesters have left nightly on the regular trains. Today 1,500 or 2,000 left for the fields. On account of the urgent appeal from the west for additional farm laborers, Grand Trunk railway officials have decided to run two more farm laborer excursions, on Sept. 4 and 6, from all its stations in eastern Canada.

THINKS BRITAIN'S POSITION SECURE

Italian Admiral Declares England Arbiter of Situation—Margin Over Triple Alliance Small.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, Aug. 28.—In the course of an article published in the Giornale d'Italia on the subject of the fresh naval construction necessary for Italy, Vice Admiral Viotto deals with the anticipated naval strength of the European powers in 1920. After giving in detail the number of battleships, etc., which should then be in the possession of each power, he proceeds to take the German fleet as the unit of strength and to work out the relative value of the other fleets in proportion to it. These values are as follows:

Britain, 1.60; France, .60; Russia, .46; Italy, .40; Austria, .20.

He then goes on to point out that "In a naval conflict between Great Britain and the triple alliance the fleets would be equal in size, with a slight preponderance on the side of Great Britain due to the consideration that a homogeneous fleet is superior to one belonging to different nations united together. The fleet of the entente (Great Britain and France) would be 60 per cent superior to that of the triple alliance, and this would be sufficient to insure victory for the entente."

"France and Russia," he continues later, "would hold Germany in check, having a slight preponderance of power, but they could not face Great Britain, which, thanks to her superiority at sea against any possible coalition, and to her policy of peace, is and will be the arbiter of the situation."

RAILWAY WILL HELP GREAT IRISH COAL FIELDS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

DUBLIN, Aug. 28.—When the construction of a light railway between athy and the Gracefield collieries in Queens county was discussed by the privy council some interesting information was given concerning the coal fields which would be served by it. About 100 tons a day, it was said, is now the average output, but it is anticipated that this would be increased to at least 1,000 when the cost of transportation was reduced. It now costs $1.08 a ton for cartage to the nearest railway, 10 miles away. Mining experts are of the opinion that 66,000,000 tons exist in this particular seam of coal, which has been found to be of good quality, suitable for household use and for suction gas. It is said to be a marine coal of an earlier geological date than the Kilkenny, which is a fresh water coal. It is planned to build houses at the mine for the men employed.

There are also valuable limestone quarries in the same neighborhood which would be benefitted. Experts report that they contain stone suitable for making calcium carbide, nitrate of lime and hydraulic cement.

RAILWAY MAN ARRESTED.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—Wanted in Ottawa on a charge of forgery, Geo. Radbourne, a Canadian Pacific employe, was arrested on Geneva avenue *this morning. It is alleged that Rad*bourne stole some identification checks from the railway and by forging the names of two other workmen, succeeded in getting over $100.

INSTANCE OF LURE OF ART DEALER

Purchase and Sale of Globe Room in England Experience for Connoisseurs.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—It is possible, no doubt, to be a music seller without being a musician. But can any one be a successful art dealer without being himself something of an artist? He *may not be skilled in painting or sculp*ture, but he must at any rate be an expert in that most delicate of the fine arts, the art of advertisement. He must know how to excite and how to allay the eagerness of his customers. He must understand when to be silent about his wares and when to boom them. He must have an unerring instinct for the precise moment when his bait will be most attractive to the collector, as the accomplished angler realizes just when and how he may tickle and land his fish.

An interesting and edifying story has lately been made public in some letters to the Times. About 20 miles from Oxford is a small market town called Banbury. Its cakes and its ale have made it famous, and, as the Shakespearean student knows, it enjoys a peculiar reputation on account of its cheese. Banbury has also been able to point with pride to an artistic treasure. As befitted a town distinguished for its victuals, this was to be found not in its church or in its school, or in its town hall, but in one of its taverns. Its Reindeer inn has contained a so-called globe room, recognized as an excellent specimen of Jacobean work. The most notable features of this room were its dark panelled walls, its fine mullioned window and its exquisite plastered ceiling. For some *time the whole inn has been the prop*erty of the Hook Norton Brewing company, which originally gave about $15,000 for it, and had subsequently spent a sum not exceeding $2,500 on the repair and alteration of the building, leaving the antique beauties of the globe room untouched and unspoiled.

Art Dealers Saw Chance.

Three years ago a firm of London art dealers, Messrs. Lenygon, became aware of the opportunity at Banbury. The head of the firm, H. Lenygon, suggested to the authorities of the South Kensington museum, that they should purchase the globe room, but they decided that they could devote their funds to better purposes. Unsuccessful attempts were then made to induce certain wealthy Englishmen to buy it and present it to South Kensington. Mr. Lenygon next approached the late Sir Purdon Clarke, at that time director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York. "We thought," said the dealer, "possibly you might know of some American gentleman who would like to purchase it, either to exhibit the interior in a museum or to erect the complete room in some park or garden." Mr. Lenygon stated that the room had been offered to him for $7,500, but he would like to make "some small profit" on the transaction, and there would, of course, be some additional expenses in taking it down, etc.

Sir Purdon Clarke naturally ignored the suggestion of Messrs. Lenygon that he should act as their agent in securing American customers. But he thought the matter worth looking into in the interests of the Metropolitan museum. So he went down to Banbury and carefully inspected the room. He found everything in better condition than he had anticipated. Unfortunately, it was not quite the thing he wanted. For some time he had been looking for a good example of a Tudor wainscoted room. This, however, was of a later period, which was already represented in the New York museum. "If," he replied, "I had unlimited money and space in the museum at New York I would endeavor to secure it; but, as it does not illustrate the period required, and I do not think we could afford room for two with so little difference in style between them, I must still look out for a Tudor example, taking the chance of finding the Banbury room still for sale should I fail."

By this time—the spring of 1910—it became known locally that the town was in danger of losing her jewel. At this stage there appeared on the scene a good fairy, in the person of Lady Algernon Lennox of Broughton castle Banbury. She began to negotiate with the Hook Norton Brewery company in the hope of purchasing the entire premises, that the globe room might remain intact. The negotiations came to nothing, but she was promised that she should be informed if the brewery definitely decided to sell.

Room Bought and Dismantled.

The next she heard was in June last, when she learned, to her surprise, that the room had already been sold for about $5,000 to Messrs. Lenygon, who were actually engaged in dismantling it. Lady A. Lennox at once saw the art dealer. According to her story, he professed himself anxious that the room should be restored to Banbury. He assured her that, although the panelling had already arrived in London, he would defer the removal of the ceiling, and promised to let her know the next day what would be the moderate profit that he would be prepared to accept as his own share of the transaction. H. Lenygon, on the other hand, disputes her ladyship's version of the interview.

In any case, the demolition of the room was pushed forward with all speed. The spoils were re-erected in Messrs. Lenygon's London premises, cards of invitation were issued to view the treasure, and the usual newspaper reclame was set on foot, with rumors of the inevitable American millionaire who was on the point of purchasing it. On inquiring the price of the trophy, Lady Algernon Lennox was told that she could have it for $22,500.

Thereupon, the public-spirited lady thought it desirable to enlist the sympathy of some influential friend. She induced Lord Curzon to intervene. She communicated with him on July 23. The next day he saw the dealer, who "appeared to be amenable to the arguments that were placed before him, resting as they did on grounds of self-interest as well as of public advantage, and promised a personal reply within 36 hours." Mr. Lenygon's own version is that this interview was a "lecture," at which he was "alternately flattered and bullied." On July 26 Lord Curzon was informed that the room had been disposed of. Mr. Lenygon declined to give the name of the purchaser.

Ultimate Fate in Doubt.

As to the ultimate fate of the Globe room Lord Curzon and Lady Algernon Lennox are as much in the dark as anybody else. They have no means, they tell us, of ascertaining "whether it has passed into the hands of some unknown but public-spirited benefactor or whether it has been made the subject of an arrangement designed to extricate those who are involved from an uncomfortable position, or whether it has entered upon one more phase of its career of unabashed profit-hunting, or whether it is fated to disappear from our shores and to turn up in a trans-*Atlantic mansion or a continental mu*seum."

Meanwhile, the incident has been used to point various morals. Professor Selwyn Image makes it the text for a lamentation over the "indifference or criminal folly" with which the nation suffers art and its interests to be treated. Lord Curzon demands from parliament "such legislation as will render these outrages impossible." Mr. Lenygon recommends the formation of some "serious body" of persons who would actively interest themselves in purchasing historic works of art other than pictures. The conclusion that will probably receive the most general endorsement is that of the Times —that, if anybody has really been found to pay $22,500 for the globe room he has paid more than it is worth.

TRADING MORE ACTIVE.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Aug. 28.—On the wheat market today trading was more active in futures, the principal buyers being the exporters, and prices were steady. Minneapolis was unchanged for September and December, with May ⅛c higher, the fluctuation for the day being 5⅞@74. Chicago showed a fluctuation of 1¼@1⅝c but closed unchanged to ¼@⅝c higher.

The cash demand was more active today for all grades and offerings were nil. Oats were also in good demand, October bids being firmer generally and December was sold today for the first time this season at 33⅞. New barley was quoted also at 45c for No. 3. Flax was unchanged at opening and with little or nothing doing closed ⅛c down. Receipts today were only 45 cars, being the lowest of the season.

UNDERLYING STRENGTH IN SPITE OF HEAVY SELLING

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The most comprehensive feature of today's stock market for the greater part of the session was its underlying strength in the face of persistent and heavy selling. Pressure centered largely around Reading and United States Steel but that did not prevent the latter from establishing its best price of the year. Dealings in the stocks named overshadowed all others in volume, the Harriman and Hill issues as well as coppers and other speculative favorites showing relative neglect. In the late trading business fell away with periods of utter stagnation, but another selling movement ensued shortly before the close which sent many leading issues a point or more under the preceding day's final prices, greatest weakness being displayed by Union Pacific, Lehigh Valley and Amalgamated Copper. Gossip attributed much of the selling to out of town interests on revival of reports that the interstate commerce commission is soon to render an important decision affecting these properties.

The roads embraced in the Canadian group were under restraint as a result of advices from Canada indicating increased governmental opposition to the C.P.R. proposed capital increase. Louisville & Nashville and Atlantic Coast Line were strong on light dealings in connection with the approaching directors' meeting of the first road named, at which developments favorable to shareholders are expected. Erie, first preferred, Great Northern ore and other stocks of a more miscellaneous character shared in the early rise, only to fall back toward the close. London was a purchaser here on balance, taking moderate amounts of Steel, Amalgamated and Union Pacific. Firmness marked the day in Paris with activity and strength in Berlin. Local banks suffered another decline in cash with a $1,200,000 gold shipment to Canada. A slight stiffening of long maturities were reported.

EXPECT ADVANCE IN LONDON BANK RATE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Money was plentiful today. Discount rates were strong on an increasing supply of American bills and in anticipation of an advance in the bank rate tomorrow. While rubber shares and the rest of the market were generally cheerful, shipping stocks were buoyant under the lead of Royal Mails which jumped 12 points. Peruvian securities were featureless in the foreign section and speculation broadened in Kaffirs. Eastern railway snares eased off on flood reports and Great Pacific rails were weak on fears of competition. American securities opened steady and a fraction higher. During the forenoon prices advanced from ¼@1¼ under the lead of Canadian Pacific. The market reacted in the afternoon and prices eased off with Amalgamated Copper and United States Steel leading. The closing was quiet.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Canadian Pacific eased off from 276@276¼ on broken lots changing hands at the former figure. Montreal Power held firm while Steel eased off a fraction, selling at 45¾. There was a little activity in Quebec Railway bonds in the afternoon, $9,000 changing hands at 66; the stock sold off at 65.

CANADIAN BANKS IN GOOD POSITION

No Fear of Financial Stringency But Money May be Dearer, Says Eastern Paper.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—Under the caption "Will Money Be Dearer?" the Mail and Empire financial page will say tomorrow:

"There is a possibility that money in Canada may be dearer the coming autumn but there should be no stringency. The call rate is 5½ per cent, which rate has ruled here for several months. The banks will be in a better condition this year than ever before to meet needed requirements for crop movements. Note circulation for 1911 expanded from $89,000,000 in July to $105,000,000 in October, the height of circulation. This is an increase of $16,000,000. With the same increase this year during a similar period, the note circulation would expand from $93,000,000 to $112,000,000. Still the latter amount is $1,5000,000 less than the present paid up capital of Canadian banks, the capital of which has increased $11,000,000 within 12 months.

"The issue of 'emergency' currency allows our banks a much larger privilege and the time of such issue is extended until the end of February. The total wheat crop of all provinces last year was 250,000,00 bushels and the yield this year, according to conservative people, will be much more."

RESOLUTION

Whereas, there are now employed at the Cinderella and Silverite mines, near Three Forks, Chinese cooks, and

Whereas, through the loyalty of its friends and the fidelity of its membership, this union has hitherto been successful in maintaining a "White B.C." in so far as its local jurisdiction extends, and

Whereas, every friendly overture to secure a continuance of this state of affairs has been unsuccessful in persuading the management of the properties in question to dismiss the Chinamen, therefore be it

Resolved, that this, Sandon Union No. 81, of the Western Federation of Miners, vigorously condemns the employment of Asiatic help, in any capacity, and calls upon its friends and members to use every lawful and honorable effort to secure the banishment of the present Orientals, and prevent the future introduction of a class of labor that can only result in lowering our present standard of living, and injury to the moral, social and civic tone of the community, and be it further

Resolved, that the sense of this resolution, and a history of the reasons responsible for its adoption, be circulated as widely as possible amongst the membership and friends of organized labor, in this portion of the province of British Columbia.

GERMANS GLEEFUL OVER PANAMA BILL

Newspaper Thinks Rift in Anglo-American Lute Redounds to Interests of Fatherland.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—President Taft's signing of the Panama canal bill has released a flood of German comment, still, however, more or less restrained, on America's disregard of her treaty obligations. There is no doubt whatever that if the Kaiser's government were not itself sitting on the lid, the people and government of the United States would be treated to some expressions of German opinion which would make British comment poor in comparison. A point on which stress will be laid is the ludicrous light in which the affair places America's vaunted enthusiasm for the arbitration of international disputes. The Vossische Zeitung strikes a new note in its editorial article, commenting almost glowingly on the disruption of Anglo-American friendship.

It asks ironically what has become of Joseph Chamberlain's once cherished dream of an "Anglo-Saxon alliance between Great Britain, Germany and the United States?"

The Vossische Zeitung thinks the rift in the Anglo-American lute redounds to the benefit of the fatherland, as the unity between the English-speaking countries has recently on more than one occasion been exploited against the German empire.

WILL SHOW SILK WORMS AT TRAIL

Excellent Prize List for Second Annual Exhibition is Out—To Show in New Building.

Trail's second annual fruit fair will be held this year on Sept. 25 and 26, and an attractive prize list has just been issued.

The silk worm exhibit this year, it is promised, will be better than ever, and a novel feature will be a tree bearing last year's cocoons and another bearing this year's cocoons from Trail seed.

Another interesting attraction will be the large display of ores and minerals which the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. will exhibit.

Perhaps the prize which has attracted most widespread interest is the handsome district cup which was carried off by the Pend d'Oreille exhibit last year.

The directors of the fair have not overlooked amusement features, having secured several high class vaudeville performers. Demonstrations in the art of glass blowing will also be given.

The exhibits will be displayed this year in the new fair building which is being built at a cost of $15,000.

Excellent prizes are offered for the following exhibits: Poultry, fruit, district displays, vegetables, field produce, dairy products, apiary produce, home baking, preserved fruits, jams, etc., for domestic use, flowers, photography, painting, pyrography, pierced brass work, ladies' fancy work, and other produce of the field, garden and home.

Those responsible for the management are the following committees:

Poultry—W. N. Scott, chairman, Summerville; R. R. S. Day, T. Kollmar.

Fruit—George W. Wharf, chairman; S. F. Peterson, George Henry, William Neilson, F. W. Brown.

CHINESE WANT TO RUN POST OFFICE

Think It Is Time Foreign Control, Which Has Been Success, Is Ended.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 28.—It is possible a bill may be passed in the national council in Peking providing for Chinese control of the postal administration. This is the outcome of the pique of three Chinese who recently returned to Peking from Austria and were disappointed because the officials did not at once offer them good positions in the postal service. Should the bill pass, and it very probably will, foreigners in the service will be dismissed and the Chinese will attempt to administer the service themselves.

The service was founded by Sir Robert Hart, and has steadily grown until it has cut out the competition of the Chinese hongs and is giving a satisfactory service from northern Mongoldia to Hainan and from the coast of the China sea to the extreme west and even to Lhasa. It is stated that foreign control is absolutely essential for the success of the Chinese postal administration, but the Chinese have some cause for complaint in that only a few assistantships have been given to them and that most of them have been given under pressure.

AT THE THEATRES.

"Are You a Mason?" as produced at the opera house last evening by the Ethel Tucker company was an exceedingly funny three-act farce comedy that caused continuous mirth and laughter from start to finish. As a fact the production was a most creditable one all through without a weak spot in it. Miss Ethel Tucker's appearance in farce comedy for the first time on the local stage showed the talented leading lady in a most pleasing light, her sympathetic voice, graceful gestures and pleasing presence united in making a pretty picture to set off the clever fun of the play. The company supporting this new star is a very well balanced one and particularly well adapted to produce with metropolitan exactness such a comedy as "Are You a Mason?" This evening "Are You a Mason?" will be reproduced again and should attract local theatre goers who want to see a very amusing farce will put on by an excellent combination. There will be a change of play tomorrow night.

PEACE CENTURY ON THIS CONTINENT

Incidents of War of Nearly Hundred Years Ago Are Recalled—Astoria's History Romantic.

Now that many are looking forward to a happy commemoration of 100 years of peace between the British empire and the great American republic, says the Montreal Gazette, it may be a surprise to some of us that the pension office at Washington is still paying pensions to the widows of soldiers of the war of 1812. It must be some decades of years since the Dominion government defrayed the last of such patriotic obligations. It is hardly likely that there are any widows of men who fought in 1812-15 on the British side still alive in Canada. Perhaps a few of the readers of the Gazette may be able to recall the figure of a Chateauguay veteran, a little old man of pleasant aspect, who occasionally frequented our streets in the later fifties or early sixties and who liked nothing better than to be questioned as to his battle honors. He had been a Voltigeur, and whether he had a pension or not, lived largely on his fame. At that time there must have been many survivors of the warriors of 1812 who fought on our side. But that in the year 1910 there should have been 338 widows of soldiers who had served in that same war on the American side seems to us somewhat remarkable. Yet such is the official record. According to the rolls of the pension office, the total number of men who served in the war was 527,654. Most of these enlisted for periods of less than six months; more than half of them for less than three months. According to records in the war office at Washington, the sum total of pensions spent in the war of 1812 amounted to $46,000,000.

Hailed Peace With Delight.

The fact that after the treaty of Ghent was signed, the new world combatants still continued to meet as enemies, however anomalous it may appear today, was not without precedent a century ago. There was no ocean cable in those days to announce without delay the conclusion of the conflict. The battle of New Orleans can hardly, therefore, be considered an interruption of the peace of the ensuing century. It was fought on January 8, 1815—peace having been signed on December 24, 1814. "The war," writes an American historian, "had caused a great deal of suffering and misery in this country by the derangement of business, the destruction of property, and the loss of life. The news of the peace was hailed with delight." But, however pleased a nation may be at the return of peace after a cruel and harrassing war, there arises in the course of time a generation that has no experience of war's horrors, and is disposed to dwell with excessive optimism on its glories and its gains. It is hardly necessary, perhaps, to recall the hostile passages between the two powers that marked the outbreak of the rebellion in Upper and Lower Canada in 1837 and 1838. In this case, the blame lay with the malcontents on this side of the line, who, as Goldwin Smith says, stretched out their arms for aid to the democracy of the continent. "But," he comments, "national ambition was not roused. Sympathy was confined to fillbustering along the border. A bubble of war which the burning of the Caroline, an American armed vessel, by Canadians had blown, burst after an international altercation without harm."

Oregon Comes to Front.

It was in connection with the Oregon question that the crisis at last supervened which aroused the successors of the war hawks of 1812 to the repetition of what Dr. E. E. Sparks calls "boasting speeches." It was the trouble with Mexico that brought Oregon to the front. In 1818 the 49th parallel had been recognized as the international boundary from the Lake of the Woods to the Stony or Rocky mountains. Between the Rocky mountains and the Pacific there was to be in the meantime a joint occupation. In the year 1787, a certain Captain Gray of Boston sailed to the Pacific coast with the intention of carrying on the fur trade. The furs that he obtained from the coast Indians in exchange for other goods he carried to China, whence he returned in 1790 to the United States with a cargo of tea. In 1791 Gray again set out from Boston and in 1792 was at the mouth of a large river to which he gave the name of his vessel, the Columbia. The purchase of the vast Louisiana country drew the attention of American statesmen to the Missouri. Captains Lewis and Clark were commissioned by President Jefferson to ascend that river and to cross the mountains into the coast region. These distinguished explorers discharged their task with ability and discretion, and their report is still read with advantage. They returned to the east in 1806 and in 1808 the American Fur company was founded at St. Louis. In 1810 J. J. Astor, the fur trader, started his overland expedition from St. Louis to Oregon. The story of Astoria is best known from Washington Irving's monograph, which was not without its influence in the formation of public opinion in the challenge: "Fifty-four forty or fight."

The story of Fort Vancouver, the Hudson Bay company capital of Oregon, is as romantic as that of Astoria. It was sorrowfully evacuated when the boundary question was finally settled, happily without recourse to war. The "treaty affair" is not yet forgotten either in the United States or in Canada. The St. Albans raid, the Fenian raids of 1866 and 1870, and the Venezuela controversy of 1895 may be recalled as occasions on which wise diplomacy set a guard on its speech. The Alabama claims, which were adjusted in 1872, developed from sympathies with the southern cause which gave offense to the victorious north. If, therefore, the century (1814-1914) has had no Anglo-American wars, history shows that war scares were not wanting. General Vinton Greene, U. S. A., an expert military historian, is led, however, by the experience of that century, to infer that war between the United States and England is "improbable even under extreme provocation." He is not so confident with regard to other nations and the teachings of history prove, he thinks, that "war comes to the nation that is not prepared for it."

TO OUST BRITISH COAL STEAMERS

This Will Be Effect of Panama Bill, Say Ship Owners—Russian Criticism Strong

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—English ship owners are of the opinion that the time has not yet come for any concerted protest against the Panama canal bill and that individual protests are useless. They regard the matter as one for government protest and rely on Sir Edward Grey to handle the matter to the best of their interests. The general manager of the Harriman line said yesterday:

"We regret the president's step, of course, but we hardly see what we can do. The situation will probably adjust itself, but I think that any protest must be a matter for the government and not for individual ship owners."

A member of the firm of Andrew Weir & Co. said: "Speaking purely from the ship owners' point of view, the effect of American discrimination in the matter of coastwise steamers will not be at the moment extensive, but will help American ship owners to oust British steamers from the business of carrying coal from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific and the Philippines. America already sends a good deal of coal from the Atlantic seaboard to San Francisco. For the present the bill must be regarded as the thin end of the wedge and for this reason the president's action cannot be looked upon with anything but disfavor."

Russian Paper Voices Criticism.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 28.—Commenting editorially on the Panama canal question the Novoe Vremya concludes its article as follows: "Such is the value of the word passed by the great American republic. Russia is not directly interested and it does not lie with us to protest, but we have the right, and regard it as an obligation to point out how Americans deal with international treaties."

DUCHESS WILL BE ABLE TO MAKE WESTERN VISIT

(Canadian Associated Press.)

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 28.—A visit to her dentist and the advice of her physician that, in view of her recent illness, it would be unwise to keep too many social engagments for a while, combined to prevent the Duchess of Connaught's presence at the exhibition this morning with the governor general and the princess. The duchess will, however, accompany the duke on the trip west.

SUEZ CANAL RATES ARE AGAIN REDUCED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The directors of the Suez canal have formally announced their intention to reduce from January 1 next the transit dues of the canal by 50 centimes, thus making the tariff for loaded ships 6.25 francs and for ships in ballast 3.75 francs per ton.

For three successive years the company has made reductions of 50 centimes, or a total reduction in the tariff for the period mentioned of about 20 per cent.

FINED FOR PRACTICING MEDICINE ILLEGALLY

(Canadian Associated Press.)

NORTH BAY, Ont., Aug. 28.—J. Berube, M. D., graduate of Laval university, Montreal, was sentenced to five months in the Central prison by Magistrate Woegar in default of fines and costs aggregating $162.61 on five charges of practicing medicine illegally in Bonfield, not having passed the Ontario Medical council examination.

AMERICAN SLANG FUTURE ENGLISH

Danish Professor Reported as Making Wierd Statements—States to Absorb Canada.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 28.—Declaring that the American slang of today is retiring the old English tongue into the background and burying it and that the people of this country, because of their genius for originality and brevity, will become the Romans of tomorrow, Dr. G. Hanorf, professor of language at the University of Copenhagen, who is on a tour of the United States, is endeavoring to absorb and translate it into his own language for the future use of his countrymen.

"This country has gripped me as no other land in my travels," he said. "I realize, after months of investigation, that the Americans are the Romans of the future. They are the authors of a new tongue which will take the place of Britain's English. Americans have relegated the old English language into the background, buried it and substituted a language of their own—unique in its brevity and its slang. The so-called slang of the present American tongue is far more poetical, picturesque and serviceable than the English of Shakespeare's time. The new American tongue, like the new American music—rag-time—has the classics beaten to a finish and down and out. Your authors of today will give Shakespeare and his fellows the count tomorrow.

"A few years from now they will be speaking American over in England instead of English. The Americans of the future, like the Romans of the past, will branch out and by conquest absorb many other lands.

"Canada and Mexico in a few hundred years will be a part of the United States. I firmly believe that Ireland of her own accord will also come under the wing of this country on the breaking up of the British empire.

"England may become a state of this country in time to save herself from rule by Germany. The great war of the future will be between Germany and the United States. The victor will have to combat China."

ELECTION PETITIONS ARE LIKELY TO BE DROPPED

(Canadian Associated Press.)

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 28.—The election petition filed in East Middlesex by the Conservatives when Robert Sutherland, the Liberal candidate, was elected and the cross petition of the Liberals in reply to the attempt to unseat their member will likely be disposed of next month. As the man is dead whose election the Conservatives protested, it is likely that the proceedings will be dropped. This means also that the Liberal protests against the election of Hon. Dr. Reaume in North Essex and against Duncan McArthur in North Middlesex will be dropped.

CHINA WILL SEND ULTIMATUM TO REBELS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Chinese government will send an ultimatum to the Kutuktu (Khan) of Urga, the correspondent at Peking of the Daily Telegraph understands, calling upon him to either withdraw his declaration of Mongolian independence or take the consequences. The situation at Taonanfu, Manchuria, the correspondent declares, is grave. The troops, who are outnumbered by the insurgents, have been compelled to retreat, though fighting continues. The town of Chinga Hsien has been occupied by the rebels.

Mongolians Capture City.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 28.—Mongolians have captured the city of Kobdo, in western Mongolia. The Chinese soldiers composing the garrison begged the Russian consulate to provide them with a safe conduct to China.

SALE OF TICKETS FOR STAMPEDE HEAVY

CALGARY, Alta., Aug. 28.—The advance sale of tickets for the Stampede, Calgary's frontier celebration, and back of which are a number of the cattle barons of the province, totals in excess of $18,000 tonight.

When Larry and Harry, and Molly and May
Jumped out of their beds at the peep of the day,
They invaded the kitchen and held up the cook,
And from that poor lady her Toasties all took;
And then the wee bandits—of course it's no wonder—
Sat down and ate up every speck of their plunder.

DOUKHOBOR PROBE BEGINS HERE TODAY

William Blakemore Will Open Investigation at Court House—Public Invited to Testify.

William Blakemore, who has been appointed commissioner to look into the Doukhobor question in this province, came in to the city last night. Mr. Blakemore stated that it was his intention to hold sittings in the courthouse here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings at 10 o'clock and the object will be to let anyone give his opinions on the matter, whether he be for or against the settlement of these people in this province.

Mr. Blakemore comes here with full power to enquire into the organizations, habits, customs and practices of the Doukhobors at Grand Forks, Brilliant and elsewhere in the province, and his investigation will include inquiry into the nature, source and scope of authority which the different leaders exercise over these people. He will also inquire into the tenure and ownership of the property, the registration of births, marriages and deaths, the domestic relations, naturalization and general observance of the laws of the Dominion by these people.

He is given special powers in his commission to summon witnesses and to require them to give evidence either orally or written under oath.

The sittings which are to be held here are to be open to the public and begin each morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Blakemore also stated that he intended holding like sittings at Trail, beginning next Tuesday, Brilliant, Grand Forks, Vancouver and Victoria, and that he would personally visit each settlement in the province and investigate the conditions prevalent there.

(Special to The Daily News.)

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 28.—The programs are in the hands of the printers for the big Conservative picnic on Labor day and will be distributed as soon as possible. Already the association has had donations and promises which would indicate that there will be no shortage of funds for the big day.

The ladies of the Macabees met last night and a committee was formed to make arrangements for the ice cream social and dance to be given by them at the Odd Fellows' hall on Sept. 12. Schorlemmer's orchestra will provide the music. The grounds at the hall will be illuminated and the ice cream will be served outside. The committee will meet next Thursday to make the final arrangements.

J. T. Horwell commenced shipping raspberries to the Nelson jam factory yesterday.

F. E. Armstrong has a fine display of apples in his window grown by D. B. Stevens at his home on Columbia avenue. They are Wealthys and Yellow Transparents and would be hard to beat anywhere. Mr. Armstrong has also a display of potatoes grown on the Deschamps sub-division which proves that the soil in that neighborhood is excellent.

A tea will be given in honor of Miss Margaret Goodeve on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Martin by Miss Jean Ross, Miss MacAloney and Miss Martin.

The Trail Football club is giving a dance in Trail tomorrow night when a large crowd is expected from Rossland.

J. A. Mackinnon is in town from Trail.

BOURASSA THINKS CANADA WILL LOSE

Nationalist Leader Writes on Panama Canal Situation—States Indifferent to International Honor.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—In today's Le Devoir, Henri Bourassa, leader of the French Nationalists, deals with the attitude of the English and Canadian press with regard to President Taft's message on the Panama canal legislation. He says:

"It may be taken for granted that this turmoil will end as all previous Anglo-American imbroglios, at Canada's expense—for it is Canadian sea traffic that will suffer most from the discrimination made in favor of American coastwise trading. It will be settled as the Maine and Ohio boundary dispute, the Atlantic fisheries, the Alaskan boundary, the Clayton-Bulwer treaty were all settled.

"From my first stay in London in 1901, and from personal conversations with various British statesmen and publicists, I have come to the definite conclusion that the imperial government, with any party in power, will stand anything rather than risk a conflict with the United States.

"I am not, however, to be counted among those Canadians who charge their statesmen with criminal negligence or cowardice, because of their passive and even, at times, submissive attitude toward the arrogance of the Yankees. They believe, and rightly, that even if victorious Great Britain would gain nothing by a war with the States, whilst she would make tremendous financial losses and run the risk of famine and social revolution at home. This is known in Washington better than in Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto, where we lie deep in the narrow quietness and childish pretentions of our colonial irresponsibility. No wonder, therefore, that American rulers, indifferent as they are to all precepts of international honor and integrity, should laugh at Britain's protests. As to Canadian wailings, they mind them no more than the complaints of the remnants of Indian tribes."

The writer then says that England has encouraged the United States in its cynical attitude by giving it its moral support in the war with Spain and by its spoliation of the Boer republics in the Boer war, and concludes: "Then, if international compacts are important to preserve peace and good order in the world, engagements between provinces and races of a confederacy are equally essential to social order and national honor.

"The Canadian confederation rests on the terms of agreement accepted by the former provinces and especially on the compact between the Anglo-Protestant majority and the French-Catholic minority.

"How has the plighted faith been kept? The words of honor respected? The laws of national integrity observed? A country in which the notion of moral rights and good faith to minorities is weakened, soon loses the secret of necessary strength to have its material rights respected by others. An old French proverb says that treachery always pays back its master. Let the frantic denunciators of Taft in Canada meditate over the maxim."

FOUR HUNDRED GO TO UNION PICNIC

Dull Weather Did Not Keep Sunday School Pupils and Their Friends At Home Yesterday.

Although the elements were not entirely propitious yesterday the union picnic of Trinity Methodist and St. Pauls Presbyterian Sunday school was successful and enjoyable for the large number who journeyed to Proctor on the C. P. R. steamer Moyie. About 400 in all made the trip and a long program of sports was run off without a hitch and prizes were awarded to the successful contestants. A great many returned on the Kuskanook from Proctor, this privilege being accorded them in order to relieve the excursion boat.

One of the most interesting items on the program was the nail driving contest for the ladies who surprised their audience with the accuracy and quickness of their efforts. The winner of this contest was awarded one of the hammers as a prize. The magic basket competition for the children provoked merriment.

Those responsible for the arrangement of the picnic desire to thank all who assisted in the entertainment of the children or in other ways rendered services to make the occasion one of enjoyment.

There was more than a usual number of small children at the picnic.

BRITISH COLUMBIA INDUSTRIES ACTIVE

Coal and Metalliferous Mines Worked Steadily and Lumber Mills Fairly Active in July, Says Report.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—That with a few exceptions satisfactory and prosperous conditions prevailed throughout Canada during the midsummer is the general summary of the Canadian industrial and labor situation for the month of July just issued.

In regard to the western grain crop the prediction is made that the call for men will not be adequately answered, the eastern provinces falling short in their own supply and therefore being unable to furnish the workers. This prediction has since been fulfilled.

According to the report for fishing, a dull month was experienced. No special activity was recorded in the maritime provinces, while the run of salmon in several of the British Columbia rivers decreased considerably during the month.

Lumbering operations were brisk in the east though influenced adversely by lack of transportation facilities. The western mills were fairly active. Considerable activity was shown in the Nova Scotia coal mines, the western coal and metalliferous mines also working steadily. Railway traffic was brisk as evidenced by increased earnings on all sides. Transportation by water did not compare favorably with that of the preceding month. The favorable prospects for the crop yield had a stimulating effect on manufacturing establishments and the various plants in all parts were working with exceptional activity. Building operations were extensively carried on, though a shortage of men and materials held up matters in this line. The other trades were active. Unskilled labor was in good demand.

HOMESTEAD ENTRIES IN BRITISH COLUMBIA GROW

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—During the first six months of 1912 homestead entries for the four western provinces recorded by the officials of the interior department numbered 19,591 as against 18,509 for the same period in 1911, an increase of 1082. For Manitoba the entries totaled 1710 as against 1459 in 1911 and for British Columbia they increased from 124 to 138. Both Saskatchewan and Alberta show decreases. The entries for Saskatchewan and Alberta show decreases. The entries for Saskatchewan for the six months stood at 9340 as against 10,409 for the first half of 1911 while the Alberta entries fell from 7585 to 7386. The nationality table shows that the Americans headed the list with 1087 entries. English homesteaders numbered 540; Scotch, 101; Irish, 122; Russians, 126; Norwegians, 146, while 142 Canadians from Ontario and 95 from Quebec took up land in the west.

GO ON RESERVE LIST.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—A militia order states that Captains H. R. Page and G. M. Thompson of the 90th Winnipeg Rifles have been transferred to the reserve list. Major A. F. C. Williams of the Indian army has resigned from the Canadian militia, his period of employment under the Canadian government having expired.
