Smillie Supervisory Principal of Both Schools

TWO NEW TEACHERS TO BE APPOINTED

Miss Pettit Resigns--Refuse Thompson High School Position

Resignations of the nine teachers of the Nelson public school who made the charges against the ex-principal which resulted in his dismissal, were withdrawn in a letter received at last night's meeting of the school board.

R. Smillie, principal of the high school, was appointed supervisory principal in charge of both schools until next midsummer. It is proposed to secure two new teachers, one for the public school and one for the high school

A motion to offer the ex-principal a position at the high school was made by Dr. Annie Verth Jones and W. J. Labadie but was negatived by the votes of Dr. E. C. Arthur and William Irvine and the casting vote of the chairman, A. D. Emory.

The resignation of Miss Muriel H. Pettit, teacher of domestic science in the public school, was accepted, to be effective at the end of the present term.

Mr. Emory during the reading of the minutes called attention to a resolution passed at the last meeting authorizing the appointment of the secretary and Mr. Irvine as a special committee to conduct the affairs of the school. That portion of the resolution in the minutes emphasized by the chairman was that stating that the committee was appointed to make arrangements for the conduct of the school until the regular meeting last night. Dr. Jones and Mr. Labadie contended that the resolution as passed was that the committee should act until the end of the year. Mr. Emory replied that the resolution as originally moved had read to the end of the year, but that at his suggestion had been changed before being passed. Dr. Arthur and Mr. Irvine agreed that the resolution in the minutes was correct. The memory of Mr. Jones and Mr. Labadie on this point differed from that of the other members of the board, Dr. Jones voting against the passage of the minutes.

Suggests Lawsuit.

Regarding the legal aspect of the dismissal of R. Thompson, Dr. Jones reminded the board that he had been dismissed forthwith and given six weeks' salary. The school act, she declared, provided that a teacher could not be summarily dismissed except in case of gross misconduct, which has not been proved against Mr. Thompson. Section 56 of the act, she continued, stated that if a school were closed summarily for any cause not more than 30 days' salary could be paid. Last year the board had stood for a great big lawsuit; could it afford to put the people to the expense of another this year?

Mr. Emory said that he could not see that there was anything in the act contrary to the action which has been taken by the board.

The action had been taken under legal advice, said Dr. Arthur. In reply to a question from Mr. Labadie as to whether the advice had been given in writing the chairman said that it had been given verbally.

Wanted Use of School.

Mr. Irvine, as convenor of the committee appointed with power to act in regard to the request from the Young Woman's club for the use of the assembly hall and the domestic science room on certain evenings each week, stated that a committee of ladies had waited on himself and Dr. Arthur and he and the secretary had told them that they could have the use of the building on condition that they secured the consent of the mayor and council to the use of the electric power. He had not heard definitely if anything had been done.

The members of the committee are Messrs. Irvine and Labadie and Dr. Arthur.

Dr. Jones asked if Mr. Labadie had been called to the conference with the committee of ladies, Mr. Irvine's reply being "He was not."

A. D. Emory, addressing Mr. Irvine, asked: "There was nothing definite done?"

Mr. Irvine replied that as far as he knew no definite action had been taken; the committee had never been called together. He understood that the ladies had called on the other members of the board.

Smillie in Charge.

For the committee appointed in connection with the conduct of the school, Dr. Arthur reported that R. Smillie, principal of the high school, had been placed in charge of both institutions. The services of W. C. Sandercock had been secured to relieve Mr. Smillie at the high school, probably for this week or until such time as the board could get someone to take charge of the class.

Dr. Jones was informed that the secretary had notified the educational department by telegraph of the situation and stated that she believed the department had the power to reverse the decision of the board. Mr. Emory repeated that he believed the secretary had wired, Dr. Jones expressing the hope that "he wired a truthful report."

Urges Thompson for High School.

Dr. Arthur moved the adoption of his report regarding the appointment of Mr. Smillie as head of both schools. Dr. Jones said that in other cities teachers were often transferred and suggested that it might be possible for Mr. Thompson to be placed "in some other class where he would not have so many against him." She moved as a substitute motion that a vacancy be found for him.

Mr. Labadie—That would be at the high school?

Dr. Jones—Yes.

Mr. Labadie seconded the motion. Dr. Arthur questioned whether the ex-principal had the necessary qualifications as a university graduate was needed. Mr. Irvine remarked that Mr. Thompson had had high school experience but agreed that it was provided that high school teachers should be graduates. Dr. Jones declared that in mathematics, history and other respects he was quite capable of high school work.

The secretary read Dr. Jones' motion: "That Mr. Thompson be given a position in the high school," and asked if that were satisfactory.

Dr. Jones—Well, we'll let it go at that. I think you'll save yourselves a whole lot of trouble if you pass it.

Dr. Jones and Mr. Labadie voted for

FOUR HUNDRED QUIT AT MONTREAL

Strike of Railway Employes Progresses—Freight Service is Suffering is Statement.

Four hundred men, all members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employes, have gone out at Montreal according to advices which have reached Nelson and the strike is on at about 30 divisional points on the Canadian Pacific railway system, it is said.

It is declared that strikebreakers are being imported from the United States but that the railway is meeting with considerable difficulty in the handling of freight on account of the lack of trained men to do the clerical work at the various points where members of the brotherhood have gone out. Over 100 cars were tied up in the freight yards at Ottawa a few days ago, it is said, while some eastern merchants were finding that their shipments were so delayed when sent over the Canadian Pacific lines that they were using competing railways.

Already the effects of the strike at such important points as Fort William, Ottawa and Montreal are being felt, it is asserted, shipments frequently arriving in the wrong cars with the bills of lading and other documents hopelessly muddled and incorrect.

Confidence in the success of the strike is expressed by headquarters officials and members of the organization.

Bryan has not been invited to Bermuda and it is said he is not expected here during Mr. Wilson's stay.

DUKE WILL OPEN SESSION

Legislation Is Outlined In Speech From Throne

NAVAL POLICY NEXT BUSINESS

Liberal Attitude Not Yet Decided—Demands From Yukon

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—The speech from the throne which will be read by his royal highness the Duke of Connaught at the formal opening of parliament on Thursday afternoon will refer to the triumphal tour of the Duke of Connaught and to the many evidences of loyalty to the crown. The sustained prosperity of the country will be alluded to and the new naval policy foreshadowed but not with any details of what it will consist. The ratification of the West Indies agreement, revision of the Bank act, legislation for aiding highway improvement, amendments to the Railway act and certain other proposed enactments will be touched on and the buoyant revenues of the country noted.

The proceedings in the house tomorrow will be brief. Five new members will be introduced. Messrs. Boys of Simcoe, Green of Kootenay, Carman of Carleton, Morrison of Macdonald and Cardin of Richelieu. Hon. Louis Coderre will not be able to take his seat for some days, the law prescribing certain delays before the official return can be made and gazetted. After certain papers are asked for the house will adjourn until Friday and possibly until Monday.

Naval Policy.

Soon after the debate on the address has been concluded there is reason to believe that the naval policy of the government will be announced and it is hoped that the debate will be concluded and the matter, so far as the government's temporary policy is concerned, disposed of before Christmas. This depends of course, on the attitude of the opposition and in regard to that there is much speculation in the capital. Referring to the Liberal policy today one of the leading men of the party said:

"Our policy will not be determined until the government's program is known. Then we will have a caucus and talk it over. Until that happens no one has the right or the authority to say what our attitude will be."

The general expectation is that the session will be a long one and the members do not expect to get away from the capital before May. Both Mr. Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier go into what promises to be a strenuous session in splendid health. Today the opposition leader celebrated his seventy-first birthday and he was the recipient of many congratulatory messages. During the afternoon he had many callers and C. R. Devlin, M. P., on behalf of his constituents of Wright county, Quebec, presented him with an address.

Yukon's Demands.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—The Yukon territory through its representative, Dr. Alfred Thompson, will make a great many demands upon the government this session, including a request that a minister of mines with a separate portfolio be named from the Yukon. A request for a grant for the placing in the Yukon of reindeer herds will also be made in order that they may be substituted for dogs. Reindeer have been imported into Alaska with success and the people of the Yukon are anxious to establish self sustaining herds in the Canadian territory. The Yukon will also seek wireless communication with the outer world and a grant for an overland trunk road from White Horse to Dawson City so that the Yukon can have an automobile communication with the outer world.

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE TO STOP SUNDAY SHOWS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—The Lord's Day Alliance of Montreal and the province of Quebec decided yesterday that in view of the recent decision of the superior court that the Quebec Lord's Day act was ultra vires they would proceed against the lawbreakers under the federal law which is a much more restrictive measure. Those immediately concerned in this discussion on the part of the guardians of Sabbath observance will be 49 moving picture houses who throw their doors open on the first day of the week as well as the other six.

SITUATION TENSE AT DOME LAKE MINE

Revolvers Drawn When Strikers March to Interview Carpenters at Work at Mine.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SOUTH PORCUPINE, Ont., Nov. 20.—In a dispute this afternoon at the Dome Lake mine revolvers were drawn on both sides and if any man had lost his head for a second there would have been an armed fight.

The Dome Lake has managed to keep its carpenters working on the mill property throughout the strike and the miners resented this. Today about 200 strikers marched out by a devious trail through the bush and caught the men off their guard. Five of the men on the property had been sworn in as special constables. They pulled their revolvers and told the strikers to come no further, but the procession proceeded along the road to the mill, where the carpenters were working.

R. W. Richardson, a millwright, saw a striker named Monovitch with a revolver pointed at one of the deputies. Richardson knocked the weapon out of his hands. The carpenters refused to leave their jobs. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Monovitch, but he has not been found.

The union officials claim that none of their men had revolvers, that they molested no one, and destroyed no property.

BOY WHO GAVE PILLS ONLY SEVEN

Tells Detectives of Giving Boy Poison Tablets Obtained at Home—Resembled Chocolates.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—Detective Twigg this morning discovered that the boy who gave poisoned tablets to young Archie Duncan, 57 Melville avenue, which resulted in the latter's death yesterday, was seven-year-old Wilfrid Macintyre, 372 Ossington avenue.

He questioned the little fellow, who said he had obtained the tablets from his home and had proffered them to young Duncan. They belonged to his mother who was not aware that he had removed them. It is stated that the tablets contained a percentage of belladona and the directions regarding their use stipulated that not more than two should be taken at a time. Young Duncan swallowed five and died 18 hours later in agony. In shape and color the pills resembled small sized chocolate drops.

"I will let the case stand," said his lordship, "as it is a serious matter. If the note has been changed it is forgery, and an investigation might be made by the attorney general's department."

The resignation was handed in today at the close of the proceedings and Mr. Tellier has as yet had no opportunity to reply. "I have nothing to say," said Mr. Lavergne, "until Mr. Tellier has formally replied to my resignation."

Mr. Lavergne declined to comment upon the Coderre-Doyon contest in Hochelaga, or to say whether the result of the by-election had influenced him in resigning as opposition whip in the provincial parliament.

DIPLOMATS TAKE UP STRUGGLE

Plenipotentiaries to Discuss Armistice Today

FAMOUS MOSQUE NOW PEST HOUSE

Bulgarians Hampered by Difficulties of Transport--Cholera Aids Turks

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 0.—The war has shifted for a time from the field of arms to that of diplomacy. It may be that the war is near to an end. Plenipotentiaries for the belligerent powers will meet tomorrow at the village of Hademkeui, a few miles outside the capital, for a preliminary discussion of the terms of an armistice.

In the meantime the Turkish and Bulgarian commanders have ordered a cessation of hostilities, although cannonading, which Nazim Pasha reports as unimportant, occurred this morning.

The sweeping terms which the allies were said to have demanded yesterday as a basis for an armistice appear not to have been official, but it is almost certain that it will be on the basis of the Balkan states holding all the conquered country until a permanent treaty of peace is signed. How many vestiges of their former power they are prepared to concede the Turks depends largely upon two factors—the strength and supplies of the allied army threatening the gates of Constantinople and the extent to which the cholera epidemic has embarrassed their plans.

It is certain that great transport difficulties hamper the Bulgarian army on account of the distance from its base and the rough roads.

The cholera is counted on by the Turks to weaken the Bulgarian ambition for a triumphal march into the capital and the celebration of mass in St. Sophia. But to make assurance doubly sure the Turk has resorted to the amazing plan of transforming the mosque into a pest house and has crowded 2,000 patients within its walls.

Plenipotentiaries Appointed.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 20.—Nazim Pasha, commander in chief of the Turkish army; Izet Pasha, chief of the general staff of the war office and later commander in chief in Yeman, and Chadan Bey, councillor of states, have been appointed as Ottoman plenipotentiaries for the negotiation of an armistice with the Bulgarian representatives. The question of peace bulks large in the foreground. The fact that the official communications with regard to the Bulgarian reply, issued at both Constantinople and Sofia, make no mention of preliminary conditions, has given rise to comment, as it was generally expected that Bulgaria would insist upon fixing a basis before consenting to enter upon negotiations. Indeed, the belief was very general that Bulgaria would demand the capitulation of Adrianople and other fortified places, and the foreign minister recently stated to the ambassadors that Turkey would refuse to entertain any such stipulation.

Apparently Bulgaria has found good reasons for refraining from such an attitude, especially as the entering upon pour parlers will not compel the suspension of the hostilities until the armistice has been actually signed.

As has already been pointed out, the question of cholera complicates the issue at Tchatalja and today it is rumored that the Bulgarians are retiring to more sanitary positions near Tchorlu. A violent cannonading, audible this afternoon in the direction of Derkos, however, would idicate that the engagement is in progress in that quarter.

This morning all was quiet in the neighborhood of the Tchatalja, but fresh troops are arriving daily by steamer and train from Asia Minor. The porte has applied to the embassies and legations for the withdrawal of the naval contingents landed on Monday on the ground that their presence is not necessary, while it is added that should dager arise there will always be time enough to take measures of precaution.

The ambassadors and ministers, at a meeting today discussing the request, decided to leave the matter in abeyance for the present.

A telegram from Nazim Pasha reads:

"There was serious fighting today. A slight cannonade and fusilade were exchanged at the right and left wings. We have collected the arms and other effects abandoned yesterday by the enemy."

It is generally believed that the object of the authorities in quartering nearly 2,000 cholera patients in the mosque of St. Sophia is to deter any enemies from setting foot within the building. The talk in the Sofia papers regarding the celebration of Te Deums in that historic pile undoubtedly produced an impression on the Turkish government, which resorted to this truly oriental expedient of thwarting such a design.

A letter from Drama says that long before the Bulgarians approached the town the authorities were seized with panic and besought the foreign consuls to arrange a peaceful surrender. Next day the government, the military commander and the commander of the gendarmes, attired in mufti, abandoned the place, while soldiers and gendarmes imitated their example.

Circle Narrows Round Adrianople.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Bennett Burleigh, the noted war correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, wiring on Monday says:

"I witnessed the bombardment of the Adrianople forts to the east and north of the city. The firing was not heavy, but accurate, the besiegers are not attempting to break or destroy the city, but are devoting their attention solely to the demolition of the Turkish forts. The works in the eastern and southern section of Adrianople are easily within reach of the Bulgarian gun position from Hademekelu to the south. The artillery might level Fort Minarits and the mosque of Silimli, but thus far no corner of that or other well-known landmarks have been struck.

"The Bulgarians are addressing themselves to the Turkish works, of which many interlines of trenches and bastions have been constructed. The bomb-proofs are legion. The Turks have artfully concealed their gun positions and most of their fire is delivered from batteries securely hidden far behind the front.

"They must have worked very hard and skillfully to construct such a honeycombing of the terrain around Adrianople, but irresistibly the Bulgarians are advancing. The Turks again attempted a sortie to the eastward. Fighting desperately, they strove to harrass them, but the Bulgarian gunners and infantry fought them back into Adrianople.

"They left rows of dead. The Bulgarians were able to follow the enemy up and move their lines of attack still closer to the ponderous mass of ramparts, bastions and trenches.

"I thought that the Russians at Port Arthur and Liao Yang were great and tireless, but I have seen the desperate Turk go better and pile work upon and behind work with an unweariness that is devilish."

ONLY WANTED TO SHOW INVENTION

Maniac With Infernal Machine Tells Strange Tale—Begs to Be Shot.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 20.—Strapped to a cot in the receiving hospital Carl Marr, or Carl Reidelbach, as he now admits his name to be, the German pattern maker who took possession of the Central police station yesterday by threatening to destroy the building with an infernal machine unless Paul Shoup, Jr., of the Southern Pacific Railway company, was brought to him, told a wierd tale today.

"I did not want to hurt any one about the police station," he declared. "All I was after was the head of the Pacific Electric company. I did not even know his name was Paul Shoup until after I was arrested. I did not even want to hurt him. I was merely going to show him my machine and tell him I was going to blow him up unless he raised the wages of his working men and otherwise changed their condition.

"The machine is my own invention. I never heard of one like it. I don't want a description of the thing to get into the newspapers for fear others will steal my idea. One of the finest features of the machine is that instead of pulling the trigger to set the machine off, one has to hold the three triggers to keep it from going off."

Marr ended his story by begging to be shot. He is believed to have received a fracture of the skull from the blows dealt him by Detective James Hosick.

DEVELOPMENT OF DOMINIONS

Hon. G. E. Foster Advocates Imperial Trade and Industry

SHOULD ORGANIZE UNITED EMPIRE

In Truest Sense an Empire Missionary, Says Austen Chamberlain

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Hon. George E. Foster, speaking yesterday at a city luncheon, appealed for a well arranged system amongst the British people for the exploitation and development of the natural resources of the dominions, keeping them as far as possible for imperial trade and industry. They should organize a united empire.

Austen Chamberlain, in thanking Hon. George E. Foster, said that he was in the deepest and truest sense an empire missionary.

Sails for Home.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Hon. G. E. Foster sailed for home on the steamer St. Louis yesterday in order to be present during the debate on the Canadian naval policy. He expressed his satisfaction with the return of Hon. L. Coderre in Hochelaga, saying that his election had been triumphant.

"This gives a striking indication of the sentiment of the province of Quebec," he said, "in reference to the government's new policy. The electors have evidently approved of the idea that something should be done for naval defence of the empire, although they are not in possession of the details they voted overwhelmingly in favor of the present."

Five Days And Nights Adrift Without Sleep

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 20.—Five days and nights without sleep, three days without water to drink, wet to the skin during the whole of that period on a helpless, water logged, disabled schooner and then, when hope had been abandoned and the men crowded into the only remaining small boat with huge seas carrying them into the rugged shores of Vancouver island, the Canadian Fisheries cutter William Jeff hove in sight and nine sailors were snatched from the jaws of death.

This was the experience of the crew of the American schooner E. K. Wood, whose members arrived here this morning. The schooner was abandoned a wreck on the Vancouver island coast. She had a cargo of lumber out of Bellingham bound for San Pedro, Calif., and had sailed Nov. 9.

Wants Central Medium For Fruit Marketing

Resolutions urging the provincial government to take immediate steps to encourage and further the immediate formation of a central distributing medium for the fruits of all districts, that the provincial and federal governments co-operate in the inspection of fruit and that a dumping clause be made effective against fruit from foreign countries were passed at a meeting of the Nelson Farmers' institute yesterday and will be sent for consideration at the annual meeting next January of the central institute at Victoria. In connection with the suggestion regarding the central distributing medium it was stated by James Johnstone that the present production of fruit in British Columbia could only supply 25 per cent of the market of the prairie provinces.

The resolution regarding the distributing medium was:

"Whereas, market conditions for British Columbia fruit in the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan have been most unsatisfactory during this season;

"And, whereas, the condition has been brought about largely owing to the want of a proper system of distribution, some towns being flooded with perishable fruit while other small places with a considerable capacity for consumption received none.

"And, whereas, this condition will become worse as the different local shipping associations become better organized.

Ask Government to Aid.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that in the interest of the prosperity of the fruit growing industry of this province our government be asked to take steps to encourage and further the immediate formation of a central distributing medium for the fruits of all districts."

Co-operative Inspection.

The resolution on inspection is:

"That we urge the Dominion and provincial governments to co-operate in regard to the inspection of fruit and that the provincial government fruit inspectors be also appointed by the Dominion government to look after the enforcement of the fruit marks act and that the Dominion government inspectors be also appointed by the provincial government to look after the enforcement of the provincial act."

Want Effective Dumping Clause.

Regarding the dumping clause the resolution is:

"Whereas, during this season the markets of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba have been used as a dumping ground for the surplus fruits of the United States.

"And, whereas, the present dumping clause is not applicable to fruits, thereby causing great injury and injustice to the fruit growers of the Dominion.

"Therefore, be is resolved, that the Dominion government be requested to take immediate steps to have the dumping clause made operative in respect to fruit shipped into Canada from foreign countries."

The annual meeting of the Nelson institute will be held next month. Those present yesterday were James Johnstone, president; G. G. McLaren, secretary; J. A. Irving, Mayor Annable and J. J. Campbell.

RESTRICTION ON LOADING GRAIN

Capacity for Unloading at Fort William Elevators Unequal to Rush of Wheat.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 20.—That a general grain embargo has not been placed by the Canadian Pacific railway in the west was the statement this morning by D. C. Coleman, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific railway in Manitoba, and R. A. Morgan, superintendent at Fort William. They admit, however, that a restriction in loading has been placed equal to the capacity for unloading at the elevators at Fort William.

At present the Canadian Pacific railway has 8,000 cars en route here and can unload between 600 and 700 cars a day. The company is loading in the west about 500 cars daily, with the intention of increasing the number as soon as the situation is relieved.

The elevator men state that about 1,250,000 bushels will have to be shipped daily in order to have the elevators in good shape by the close of the navigation. It is claimed that with the boats now in sight this will be possible. The situation at Buffalo and the Georgian ports, however, will be a factor in deciding this. If they cannot handle the boats as fast as they arrive, delay in the boats returning will eventually rise.

The capacity of the elevators at the head of the lakes is estimated at 28,000,000 bushels, but with the multiplicity of grades the elevators cannot handle this quantity. Today it is estimated there is in store 10,000,000 bushels of wheat, 2,000,000 bushels of oats, 1,200,000 bushels barley and 1,300,000 bushels flax. With this quantity in store the elevators are not in a position to handle very much more.

As an illustration of the number of grades, it might be noted that there are six standard grades and about five grades of each standard, making in all 30 grades of wheat, without taking the other grains into consideration.

Situation Relieved.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 20.—That the situation at the head of the lakes will be relieved today was the emphatic statement of a Canadian Pacific railway official on his return from Fort William this morning.

"Several ships will arrive today at the head of the lakes, and relief will naturally follow," said he. "There is certainly no embargo on the wheat and that on flax was imposed as a precautionary measure. The only effect of the strike was to embarrass the position.

NEW SOUTH WALES TO HAVE NEWSPAPER FOR CONVICTS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
SYDNEY, N. S. W., Nov. 20.—A newspaper is about to be started for the benefit of prisoners to be called the Compendium, under the supervision of comptroller general of prisons, Mr. McFarlane, who says:

"The new sheet should not be in the nature of a tract, but should contain the news of the day, cut from the leading newspapers, no leading articles, no reference to political or sectarian matters, and anything of a controversal nature, to be excluded. Articles written by those competent to write them might be accepted, as well as suitable standard poetry."

He proposes to call the paper the Compendium and the proposed contents of the first issue are:

A summary of notable events, 1900 to 1900; a review of the year 1910; news of the day from Australia, Asia and the United Kingdom; general articles on the republics of China and Portugal; rulers of the principal countries of the world and service notes; poetry, extracts from national and other recognized poets.

FOUR KILLED WHEN BUILDING FALLS

SASKATOON, Sask., Nov. 20.—Forty men narrowly escaped death this morning when four panels out of each of the six floors of the big new Angus McMillan block, on Third avenue, crashed to the basement, carrying with them nearly 1,000,000 pounds of concrete, steel and iron. The accident took place at 6:50, just 10 minutes before 40 men would have been at work on the very four panels which came down. It is supposed that some of the supports were burnt away as a result of the contact with the salamanders, which have been used for the past month to heat the building.

OFFERED JOB BY M'NAMARA

Witness Was Asked to Blow Up Bridge in Kansas City—Hotel Register Mutilated.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 20.—Labor conditions in Kansas City, Mo., in which W. Burt Brown, business agent of a local iron Workers' union, is alleged to have conspired with James B. McNamara to have a bridge across the Missouri river blown up and to induce a barber to do dynamiting at Los Angeles were described at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial yesterday.

Charles Brown, who had been referred to by the government as a "citizen with important evidence," testified that he became acquainted with McNamara in a barber shop, and later, having met the dynamiter on the Pacific coast, McNamara loaned him $50 with which to return to Kansas City.

"McNamara told me he could fix it so I might easily earn lots of money," said the witness. "He said a lot of non-union jobs were to be blown up and there would be work in Kansas City. He introduced me to Burt Brown," he continued, "and he said he would pay me $200 to blow up the bridge. Brown said it was an open shop job and they wanted to make the contractor put on union men. I asked Brown why he did not do it and he replied they wanted to get some one outside the union, because union men would be suspected. McNamara said he would see that I got the $200 from Brown, then I was to go to Los Angeles, where there would be a lot of cleaning up. I was interested in an amusement enterprise at the time, and, after putting them off, I finally told them that I would not do it."

The witness said the last conversation occurred in August, 1910, shortly before Ortie McManigal, according to his own confession, blew up the bridge. "After the explosion I met Brown on the street and told him that I read in the newspapers that he and John Mc Cain, another union man, had been arrested. Brown replied that they could not prove anything, and added that I had made a mistake in refusing to do the job, as I might have made a barrel of money at Los Angeles."

Edward Smythe and James E. Ray, of Peoria, Ill., among the 45 defendants, were taken to jail tonight because their bondsmen had surrendered them. It was said the men would procure new bonds tomorrow.

Testimony was given that Smythe attempted to conceal evidence in connection with an explosion at Peoria on Sept. 4, 1910. McManigal had been notified that Smythe had assisted him in carrying nitro-glycerine to the job. When the government examined the hotel register where McManigal had stopped nuder the name of "J. W. Mc Gray," the page containing the registration was torn out. J. W. Murphy, the hotel keeper, testified that shortly after the explosion Smythe called at the hotel and asked to see the register, explaining that McGraw had been an ad*ministrator of an estate and absconded* with money. The hotel man said he permitted Smythe to have the register, and later he found that the page was torn out.

Darrow Trial Adjourned.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 20.—The second trial of Clarence S. Darrow, former counsel for the McNamaras, on the charge of having bribed a juror in the dynamite trial, was again postponed today by agreement of counsel. The case is now deferred from Nov. 25 to Jan. 6.

Stenographer Gives Evidence.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 20.—Miss Mary C. Dye, a stenographer whom witnesses had said was marked for murder by James B. McNamara, the Los Angeles Times dynamiter, because she worked for the Iron Workers' union and knew too much, testified at the dynamite conspiracy trial today. She asserted she had been fol*lowed by detectives and on one occa*sion the McNamara brothers had forced an entrance to her room at the hotel to search for papers which he desired to destroy.

Miss Dye identified hundreds of letters introduced by the government to sustain its contention that Frank M. Ryan, president of the union and the 44 other defendants conspired to transport explosives illegally in furtherance of dynamite plots against non-union firms. The letters were written by John J. McNamara, secretary of the union.

The witness testified she had quit the employ of the Iron Workers' union before the Los Angeles explosion, but she had written many letters, which the government charges were in furtherance of the early explosions.

"Soon after I left, a boy at the door of my room at midnight, called out that he had a telegram," said Miss Dye, "but when I opened the door, John J. McNamara, much excited, forced himself in. He demanded certain papers of which I knew nothing. Then he searched my baggage and departed. In going over letters at the office, I had seen a letter in which it was stated that somebody was going to 'snitch' or give away information unless money was forthcoming."

The government contends that the informant referred to was Herbert S. Hockin, who is now on trial, and that Hockin had told already of the hiding of the nitro-glycerine at Rochester, Penn., and at Muncie, Ind.

As to the way explosives were carried, the government introduced the testimony of Albert Von Spreckelsen, a contractor, who employed non-union men. Von Spickelsen said shortly before he suffered a loss of $17,000 in explosions, Ernest G. W. Bassey, John J. McNamara and Spurgeon P. Meadows, of the carpenters' union, also a defendant, called on him and said: "We will get you," after he refused to employ only non-union men. On Oct. 25, 1909, he said, the Central Union Exchange, the public library building, a planing mill and his barn, in different parts of Indianapolis, were dynamited, all at about the same hour.

CRIME SEWER GIVES UP DEAD

Four Bodies Are Discovered When Canal Is Drained—Two Were Murdered.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 20.—Four bodies have been discovered, three of them yesterday evening, by the receding waters of a canal, known to the police as the "crime sewer," which is being drained. The first body dug up was that of an unidentified baby, only a few days old. A brick fastened about its neck with a ribbon was murder proof to Coroner Durham.

Blanche Kimple, a negress, 17 years old, of Peoria, Ill., was another victim. She had been missing from the home of a relative only a few days. The police believe that the woman was attacked on a bridge near where her body was found. A hole in her forehead seems to indicate that she was murdered.

William Phebus, another victim, is believed to have fallen into the canal accidentally. Another body of a man, showing no marks of violence, has not been identified.

The canal is 12 miles long and three miles of it passed through a settlement. Many bodies are taken from the water each year.

PAPER INDUSTRY IN MEXICO

Established More Than Sixty Years Ago by Englishman.

The following particulars regarding the paper industry in Mexico from the British legation at Mexico City have been published by the official Board of Trade Journal in London:

The paper industry was established in Mexico over 60 years ago by an Englishman, who formed a company which worked mills at Pena Pobre, Loreto, Santa Teresa and Belen, where various kinds and qualities of paper were successfully produced. The company, however, failed, and the factories were bought by different people who continued to work them. The sons of the original founder took over the Belen mill, and owing to the extent of their output they were able to control the industry until 1898. In that year the Compania de las Fabricas de Papel de San Rafael Anexas was formed, with a capital of $7,000,000, by well known business men in Mexico City, and competition began. The chief mill of this company is at San Rafael, about 37 miles east of Mexico City, worked by abundant water power estimated at nearly 10,000 horsepower, and also by steam and electricity, the latter brought from Puebla across the company's extensive timber property of Santa Catarina. The El Progreso Industrial mill, some 22 miles northeast of Mexico City, was acquired later by the company. The total output of these two mills in 1908 was said to be about 20,000 metric tons of paper of all kinds. The company owns a plant at Zavaleta, near San Rafael, for the preparation of mechanical wood pulp.

The paper used by the Mexican newspapers and periodicals is nearly all supplied from the San Rafael mill, while the Progreso Industrial mill produces wrapping and other papers of good quality. Within the last two years many improvements have been made in the plant of the San Rafael mill, so that not only has the output been increased, but the quality has been improved.

The three other factories of the original company, i. e., those at Loreto, Santa Teresa and Pena Pobre, are now working independently, producing low-grade paper suitable for wrapping, and also a very cheap kind of writing paper and envelopes. It is said, however, that the Loreto mill has entered into an agreement with the San Rafael company to supply it with writing paper of all kinds.

Another paper mill is reported to be in course of erection at Madera, in the state of Chihuahua.

TRAIL LANDS TWO CRANBROOK STARS

Ellis and Williams to Play Hockey for Smelter Boys—Grand Forks After Championship.

That Trail is to make a bid for championship honors on the ice is now certain, according to Charles Taylor, secretary of the Moose hockey team of this city. Trail is now scouting for players and has already landed Ellis and Williams, formerly of Cranbrook, and these well known players are now living at the smelter city.

Reports are current from the Boundary district that the Grand Forks team is out to curb Nelson's championship aspirations, but the members of the Moose hockey team, which will this year fly Nelson's colors, are already in active training under the watchful eye of Dr. Vigneux.

A meeting of the proposed new league is called for Monday next in the Hume hotel and representatives are expected from the Boundary cities, Rossland and Trail. To date everything points to the success of the venture.

VANCOUVER RUGBY TEAM BEATS AUSTRALIANS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 20.—By a score of two ties, six point to one try, three points, the Vancouver Rugby team, champions of the coast, today defeated the travelling Warratahs of Australia at Brockton point. A heavy ball and a sodden field made combination plays impossible and the Vancouver players excelled in dribbling and all round forward work, which brought victory to them. The match was played in a downpour of rain and from the start it was evident that it would be a battle between the opposing forward lines, and in open dribbling and rushing the Pacific coast champions had their heavier opponents beaten. The Australians at the start appeared to be depending on their backs to score and the forwards got the ball back several times from scrums, but faulty passing, a heavy ball being responsible, lost them several chances to cross the Vancouver line.

CHARGE OF ABDUCTION AGAINST JOHNSON DROPPED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Jack Johnson's heart was considerably lightened today when the charge of abduction of his sweetheart, Lucille Cameron, was dropped by the prosecution, because it was impossible to prove it.

The girl and her mother were not in court. They are federal witnesses against the dusky champion of the world, and at the present time are at Rockford, Ill.

Miss Cameron, however, will not be released until after Johnson has been tried for a violation of the Mann white slave act. It is feared that should the girl be released, she might again fall into the hands of the prize fighter.

ANNIVERSARY OF ONE OF THE GREATEST BOUTS

Tomorrow will be the 123rd anniversary of one of the greatest bouts in the history of the pugilistic arena. Tom Johnson, the champion fighter of England, defended his title against Isaac Perrins. The former was a Londoner, while Perrins hailed from Birmingham, and a good-natured rivalry between the sporting men of the two cities added interest to the bout. Several thousand spectators, from all over the island, assembled at Banbury in Oxfordshire, to witness the memorable encounter, and a great deal of money was wagered on the result. The ring was pitched on the turf in a field. The Birmingham followers of Perrins were so confident that they offered two to one. Although the champion was a big fellow, standing five feet ten inches and weighing about 190 pounds, he seemed almost a dwarf beside the giant Perrins, six feet three inches and weighing 240 pounds. Brawn alone cannot win battles, however, as the Birmingham sports found to their sorrow. Even in the old bare fist, rough and tumble days, science was important and experience, agility, generalship and cleverness were all on the side of Johnson, although he was outmatched in every other way. After a rattling interchange of blows, Johnson landed on Perrins' ear and the latter went down, ending the first round. The end of the second inning again found the Birmingham giant stretched on the turf, although far from being hors du combat, as the French say. Twice more Johnson sent his opponent down, and the spirits of the Birmingham men began to go down. They revived a bit in the following round, when Perrins put over a terrible blow to the jaw that sent the champion sprawling. Johnson was groggy and bloody of nose when he came up for the sixth. He soon recovered, however, and in the eighth landed a blow that gave Perrins a black eye for many days to come. In the ninth the champion also acquired a bloody optic, and honors were even. The thirteenth round was ended by a clever, stiff right that laid open the Birmingham's cheek almost to the bone. Round after round passed and found the battle now favoring one, now the other of the combatants. In the fifty-sixth round Johnson went down before a smash that nearly put him out of commission. It was a battered and weary champion that toed the mark for the next round, but Perrins was also badly damaged and so tired that he could barely stagger from his corner. In the sixty-second both men were so worn that it was evident that which ever man succeeded in landing any sort of blow would be the victor. Johnson was the lucky man, and although his final punch lacked steam, it served the purpose of putting Perrins down and out. Few heavyweights before or since have been so closely matched as these two men, and even his science might not have saved the champion had he not had more than his share of the "lucky breaks" of the contest.

RESIGNATIONS ARE WITHDRAWN

the substitute motion and Dr. Arthur and Mr. Irvine against it.

Chairman Explains His Position.

In giving his casting vote against the motion the chairman remarked that he had been in favor of the proposal to give Mr. Thompson a position at the high school and would have liked to have done so, but he agreed with Mr. Irvine that circumstances had arisen which made it impossible. There was a lawsuit in sight and it was better to get it cleared up, said Mr. Irvine.

Dr. Jones asked if the board had any information of the lawsuit spoken of, Mr. Emory replying in the negative. Mr. Irvine declared that Dr. Jones had said so at the meeting and that Mr. Thompson had declared at the mass meeting of union men on Tuesday that the board might have to pay his salary until July. Let him go ahead and get it, he said.

Dr. Jones retorted that if these things made Mr. Irvine angry and lose his temper because he had not done his duty then he was keeping up his anger against a man who had done no wrong.

Withdrawal "Clever, Smooth, Nice."

In their letter to the board the nine teachers stated that they begged to withdraw their resignations as the cause for them had been removed.

"That's clever," chuckled Dr. Jones. "A pupil in the primary grade of the public school could be as clever as that. You don't need to be 21 years on the school board to be as clever as that."

Dr. Arthur—There is no danger of you being on this or any other school board for 21 years.

Mr. Irvine moved that the application of the teachers to withdraw their resignations be granted.

Dr. Jones—How clever, how smooth, how nice.

Dr. Arthur seconded the resolution and the chairman asked if the meeting were ready for the question.

Dr. Jones—I'll never be ready for that resolution.

The resolution was reread at the request of the chairman, Dr. Jones observing "Withdraw the bluff."

Mr. Labadie voted against the motion, but Dr. Jones said, apparently to the astonishment of the chairman "I'll agree." "You'll agree?" queried Mr. Emory. "Yes, I'll agree to that; it's so smooth, so nice."

J. Grant McLean, a teacher, wrote from Calgary, applying for a position. His letters of recommendation showed that he was a graduate of Dalhousie and had taught for about three years.

Dr. Jones declared that experience of Nova Scotia high school teachers and B. A.'s had shown that they did not compare with graduates of Toronto.

Another man who might be secured, said Dr. Arthur, was teaching at Alice siding, near Creston.

Smillie Named Supervisory Pincipal.

Dr. Arthur moved that Mr. Smillie be principal of the high and public schools until midsummer.

Mr. Irvine—Why not until the first of the year?

Mr. Labadie asked if the board did not think that in taking Mr. Smillie from the high school it was liable to break up the work of the pupils who were preparing for examinations.

The chairman replied that Mr. Smillie thought not. The board had to face some difficulties, he said. Mr. Labadie suggested that the board advertise for a teacher. Dr. Jones could not see how Mr. Smillie could possibly be principal of both schools to advantage.

Mr. Emory pointed out that it would be as supervisory principal, Dr. Jones expressing the opinion that with the present school attendance Nelson was not in a position to pay a supervisory principal who did not take a class. By taking Mr. Smillie from the high school to fill the breach at the public school the trustees were practically taking his manhood from him in the eyes of the people, she said.

Mr. Irvine seconded Dr. Arthur's motion, "to bring it to a head."

Two New Men.

Mr. Emory explained that the idea was to place a good man in the principal's room and a good science man at the high school.

Dr. Jones said that Mr. Smillie was being paid $2,100 and would have nothing to do. To appoint a supervisory principal would be to put on the airs of a city of 100,000 population.

To a statement that she had been in favor of having a man to help Mr Thompson, Dr. Jones said that he had wanted a man, or a monitor. He had wanted neither a teacher nor a monitor to help him, asserted Dr. Arthur.

With an attendance of only about 700, Dr. Jones declared, she did not believe that the superintendent of education would sanction the appointment of a supervisory principal.

Dr. Arthur—Then you had better read up the last s[illegible]

A supervisory principal should have been appointed some years ago, said the chairman, if the city had been in a position to do so. Mr. Labadie declared that Nelson was not in a position to pay the extra money now.

Dr. Arthur explained that the intention was that Mr. Smillie should take what class in the high school that he felt that he should take or had time to take and he would have supervision of the public school.

Dr. Jones—Then you'll insult the man you put in charge of the entrance class.

There was the usual tie vote on the resolution, the chairman remarking, "it is thrown on me again," giving his casting vote in favor of the resolution. Dr. Jones asked to have the votes recorded, Dr. Arthur replying that when she came on to the board it was the first time in 21 years that he had had to record a "nay" to a resolution.

Dr. Arthur moved that Mr. McLean be offered a position at the public school at a salary of $100 per month until midsummer.

Chairman Urges Longer Consideration

Dr. Jones—That's a nice salary to offer a man teaching the entrance class with Miss Scanlan getting $130.

Dr. Arthur retorted that Mr. McLean could refuse if he liked.

"He hasn't got the pull," observed Mr. Labadie.

Mr. Irvine seconded Dr. Arthur's motion. It would be an insult to offer the man $100 with a lady teacher getting more, if he had a first class certificate, declared Mr. Labadie. Dr. Arthur replied that he was "not tied to the salary."

The chairman thought the board should know more about the man before offering him such a responsible position. Mr. Sandercock had only consented to teach at the high school to help out for a few days, said Dr. Arthur, who urged that there was not much time to be lost.

"And because he consented to write a letter to The Daily News," suggested Dr. Jones.

Mr. Emory continued that he thought the board should get in touch with more teachers, surely some more were available. He suggested that the matter should be postponed for a short time and a special meeting called to deal with further applications. The matter dropped with this understanding.

Miss Pettit Resigns.

It was on motion of Dr. Jones, seconded by Mr. Irvine, that Miss Pettit's resignation was accepted. Mr. Labadie thought that an advertisement should be inserted in the papers in the east "where they know something," Mr. Irvine agreeing on this course.

Dr. Arthur stated that he was opposed to advertising and suggested that the Lillian Massey and Macdonald schools should be asked to recommend a suitable domestic science teacher and said that he thought a difficulty suggested by Dr. Jones in that these schools did not teach both domestic science and household art, as was required at the Nelson school, was removed by the new manual which provided a curriculum which has previously been lacking in this province. Mr. Emory suggested advertising and taking all possible means to secure a good teacher.

The meeting adjourned—"without any broken heads," as one of the trustees put it—to the call of the chair.

The hall is wide and central and opens with wide columned arch into the living room on the right and the dining room on the left. The main stairs leading up from the rear of the main hall. The living room is a beautiful large room, 13 ft. by 26 ft. and in addition a wide projected square bay, with two windows and seats and a wide fire place in the centre, making an attractive feaure in the room. The dining room has a projected Dutch window with shelf for flowers or space for sideboard, the kitchen and pantry arrangements are convenient and in the rear is a fine large screened porch, and overhead in the second storey is a sleeping porch.

The second storey chambers are large and well arranged, with ample closets, bath room, etc. The attic is finished with servants' room and amusement room. The finish throughout is plain in "Craftsman" style with Washington fir, stained dark brown. The floors are of oak left natural. The basement is full and complete, foundation of concrete and the cementing on the outside carried down to the grade line. The cornices are plain and carried over with wide projection.

NO SENTIMENT IN CANADA FOR ANNEXATION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—"There is absolutely no sentiment on our side of the line for annexation to the United States," said Hon. G. P. Graham, former minister of railways of the Dominion of Canada, to the members of the Canadian club of Boston, at the club's dinner tonight. Mr. Graham discussed the relations between his country and the United States at some length.

Among other speakers were Captain Cartwright, military aide to the governor general of Canada; George M. Hall, industrial commissioner for Edmonton; T. Kennard Thompson, president of the Canadian club of New York, and Thomas H. Bullock, president of the Canadian club of St. John, N. B.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION AS TO LARGE LEASES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 20.—Closed lease and the regulation of tract areas will be the principal subjects under discussion before the Dominion ranching and grazing commission, which meets in Calgary tomorrow. Prominent ranchers from nearby points are in the city to attend the sessions and a determined effort will be made to have the lease term fixed at 15 years instead of permitting the government to exercise a cancellation power by a formal two-year notice. The question of lease areas will provoke considerable discussion. Many ranchers insist that large grants encourage monopolistic conditions, while the large holders insist that great areas are essential to the proper development of the ranching industry.

ARE SERVANTS—BUT NOT OF THE PEOPLE.

The nine teachers who recently resigned have shown themselves gifted with rare powers of discernment. They solved the problem for their supporters on the school board of what to do with their resignations. They withdrew them and their supporters endorsed their action in doing so.

By their action in connection with this whole unfortunate affair, the majority of the school board proclaimed themselves the servants of the nine teachers who resigned, rather than of the people who elected them. The teachers who resigned are now masters, or mistresses of the situation, as the case may be, so far as school affairs in Nelson go. All they have to do the first time anything about the school does not suit them is to resign again and the school board will again come to them and eat out of their hands. They have the school board well trained. If their pupils are as well trained in the matter of obedience there is hope for the rising generation.

One of the peculiar things in connection with the action of the board is that while it takes the stand that a principal may not use language toward a teacher that that teacher might regard as objectionable, whether it was or not, it admits the right of teachers to come before it and insult its members. This, of course, is in line with the position which has been taken by the majority of the board, that they are the servants of the teachers. If these members of the board were only logical they would now resign their positions and leave the whole direction of the school's affairs to the teachers.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Now that diplomacy has taken the place of force of arms in the Balkans, Turkey has some chance of success.

Negotiations for peace are now in progress between the Balkan allies and the Turks, so that the prospects are that one of the shortest, but most decisive, wars in history will soon be at an end.

A correspondent writes complaining of the condition of Chatham street, Fairview. The Daily News does not know what is the condition of Chatham street, but if it is as bad as Baker street, Nelson, it must be pretty bad.

Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways in the late government, told a Boston audience yesterday that there was no sentiment in Canada for annexation to the United States. That fact was clearly demonstrated a year ago last September.

Police Chief Chamberlain of Vancouver has resigned without any charges having been brought against him or any suggestions of the need of an investigation into his conduct. It is most unusual for a police chief to resign under such happy circumstances.

President-elect Wilson of the United States announces that he will select his own cabinet in his own good time. This, however, will in no wise deter the wiseacres from selecting a new cabinet for him every day in the meantime.

It is satisfactory to know that the government intends to proceed this session with the revision of the Bank act. The measure as it stands will, in the public interest, stand considerable revision, but at the same time care must be taken to preserve the stability of the banks, which has on more than one occasion in recent years stood the people of Canada in good stead. Anything, however, which will tend to prevent the development of a money trust in Canada should be welcomed by every right-thinking Canadian.

What the Press Is Saying

An Enemy of His Kind.

Some disreputable cuss came into the Sentinel office the other day at noon—when we were at dinner—and helped himself to about a half a box of cigars off the office desk. -But the moon-eyed pilferer had better come back and cancel the stamp on the box and take a belt over the eye with a stove leg, which he will get on sight.—Marengo, Ia., Sentinel.

Lord Roberts No Mere Alarmist.

If Germany is ready for war Europe will have it. Sensible Englishmen may be over-imaginative at times, but so patent a fact as Germany's determination to submit her hegemony to the trial of battle when the ripe opportunity comes needs no imagination for its interpretation. Men like Lord Roberts in England are not likely to feed their countrymen with sensations for the pleasure they find in handing out the food.—Chicago Tribune.

Counting the Cost.

It is a debatable question whether a municipality is gaining anything by furnishing free sites, free water, free light, free power and granting exemption from taxation for 20 years in return for a pay roll of $1,200 or $1,500 a month, and a few families added to the population. Sometimes there is too much paid for the whistle.—Lethbridge Herald.

Away With the Courts.

A newspaper that recently urged that Canadian appeals to the privy council should be abolished, because the judges of the highest court in the empire were out of touch with conditions in this country, now says: "Canada's supreme court is nothing short of a danger to the state in the narrow, arid liberalism of a recent decision." Why not abolish the courts altogether?—Ottawa Free Press.

Mrs. Verivane—"But, my dear, it's so easy to make you look attractive."

"Well, Edward, one learns from them such good manners, don't you know!"

The Weather

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—A pronounced area of high pressure has moved in from the Pacific over the western states, and a trough of low pressure extends from Lake Superior to Mexico. Rain is falling tonight on the British Columbia coast, but the weather has been generally fair today throughout the Dominion with mild conditions everywhere.

COMMUNICATION

WANT REVENUE TAX REMOVED

To the Editor of The Daily News

Sir: At a largely attended meeting of the Trail, Mill & Smeltermen's union, the matter of the $3 revenue tax was brought up by the members and discussed at some length; it was unanimously decided to forward the following resolution to the provincial government:

Resolved: Whereas the commission inquiring into the taxation system of this province has recommended the total abolition of the $3 revenue tax and, whereas, we much regret that the government of the province has not seen the advisability of adopting the said recommendation. Knowing the burden of this iniquitous tax comes heavier on the working class than on any other part of the population, be it therefore resolved

That we members of Trail M. & S. Union, W. F. M., 105, urgently request the repeal of the act imposing the said tax so that it may no longer besmirch the fair name of our great province, and to some extent relieve the burden the workers of the province have to bear.

And be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent for publication in the Nelson Daily News and other papers, and that a copy be mailed to our local representative and to Premier Sir Richard McBride.

PICK POCKET GIVES POLICE HARD RUN

Escapes from Officer and Makes Off—Severely Wounded in Arm Before Caught.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SASKATOON, Sask., Nov. 20.—Two of the men sent up yesterday by Magistrate Brown, for picking pockets, Pullman and Burke, got into a serious mix-up at Prince Albert last night just after their arrival on their way to the jail, as a result of which Pullman is today being treated for a revolver shot wound.

The two men tried to get away from their guards. Just after arrival, Pullman slipped his handcuffs and made off down the street on the run. Constable O'Connor of the Saskatoon detachment of Royal Northwest Mounted Police, who was at Prince Albert with the prisoners, gave chase, leaving Burke with Sergeant Major Wilcox of Prince Albert, who met them at the station. Pullman proved himself to be a sprinter, so much so that O'Connor fired over his head to frighten him, but the fugitive kept on. A second shot failed to halt him, so the constable fired to hit. Pullman went down this time, but was up again and off before the constable caught up. Another shot was fired this time intentionally wide, but it was sufficient for Pullman who collapsed. He was found to have been hit in the arm.

In the meantime Burke was entertaining Sergeant Major Wilcox of Prince Albert. He fought viciously with the officer for a while, but was overcome without getting free. Both men were rushed to the jail.

DUTCH AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

THE HAGUE, Holland, Nov. 20.—There will be an international agricultural exhibition of the Royal Netherlands Agricultural society at The Hague from Sept. 3 to 15, 1913, on grounds situated near Scheveningen, the well known Dutch watering place. This exhibition is of exceptional interest to the agriculturalists of the world owing to the advanced condition of farming in Holland.

The objects of the Royal Netherlands Agricultural society in holding this exhibition are many. It will give a good illustration of the state of agriculture as it exists in Holland today. It will show the results of the government and private experimental stations and agricultural colleges working in the interest of Dutch agriculture. It will exhibit the product of the soil, tended according to the recent intensified manner, and implements of tillage.

CHINA CLAIMS CONTROL OF MONGOLIAN FOREIGN AFFAIRS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PEKING, Nov. 20.—The Chinese government has opened negotiations with the Russian legation in respect to Russia's recent recognition of the autonomy of Mongolia, which has created an anti-Russian agitation throughout the province. The minister of foreign affairs today visited the legation and voiced China's claim to the control of Mongolia's foreign relations. He suggested that no foreign power should send troops to Mongolia, and that China's representative should have guards there, as in Tibet.

Recent dispatches indicated that many of the Mongolian princes were strongly opposed to the convention between Russia and Mongolia by which Russia guarantees the independence of Mongolia. They urged Yuan Shi Kai to afford military protection to those Mongolians ready to join the Chinese republic. Troops to the number of 45,000 attached to the northern army are already under orders to proceed to the Mongolian frontier, if necessary.

SNEAD SHOT BOYCE WHILE RUNNING AWAY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 20.—That John B. Snead, continued to fire on Capt. A. G. Boyce, after the latter turned and attempted to run away, was testified to yesterday by Ireland Hampton, an eye-witness to the killing in the lobby of a local hotel last January, at the second trial of Snead on a charge of murder. At the first trial the jury could not agree. The prosecution closed its case today.

Capt. W. S. Snyder, father of Mrs. Sneed, whose elopement with A. G Boyce, Jr., preceded the killing of the latter's father, was called as the first witness by the defence. He related that at a family conference, it was decided that his daughter was mentally deficient and she was placed in a Fort Worth sanitorium. It was while a patient at this institution that she left with the younger Boyce. Capt Snyder had not concluded his testimony when court adjourned for the day.

TWO MONTHS IMPRISONMENT FOR ATTEMPTED MURDER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SASKATOON, Sask., Nov. 20.—The attempted murder case, north of the town of Colonsay, Sask., has resulted in the imprisonment of a man named Wesolaski for two months. The case is the sequel of a family feud between two Galician families living near Colonsay. Last August Baczyriski shot Mrs. Wesoloski, wife of the man who was sentenced to two months in jail by Justice of the Peace Robson at that place, convicted of threatening to kill his wife's assailant.

RADICAL WING IS DEFEATED

American Federation of Labor Opposed to Industrial Unionism—Trade Autonomy Approved.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 20.—After a debate that lasted all day members of the radical wing of the American Federation of Labor were defeated by a vote of nearly two to one in their attempt to have the federation adopt the principle of industrial unionism in place of its policy of trade autonomy. Two hundred and forty-nine delegates voted against the minority report of the committee on education, which favored the principle of industrial unionism, and 142 voted in its favor. The voting strength of the committee, based on the membership it represented, went 10,983 against the minority report and 5,929 for it. After the minority report had been defeated the majority report in favor of the continuance of trade autonomy was adopted by acclamation.

The first test of strength between the radical and conservative wings and the number of votes polled by the radicals was slightly under their advance estimates. The vote of the United Mine Workers (2,670) and the Western Federation of Miners (506) was cast entirely for the minority report. Among groups that lined up with the radical wing were the bakers and confectioners, iron, steel and tin workers, printing pressmen, railway carmen and journeymen tailors. The debate preceding the vote is said to have been one of the most spirited that ever took place in a federation convention.

LONDON MANAGER OF DOMINION BANK RESIGNS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Eric W. Hamber, London manager of the Dominion Bank of Canada, is resigning from his position. He has been in the service of the bank 15 years, and was appointed to London two years ago. He is one of the youngest men who ever held such a responsible position.

His control of the metropolitan branch has been conspicuously successful and the news of his departure has been received in financial circles here with considerable regret.

Mr. Hamber, however, is finding greater scope in Vancouver, where he will be associated in many business interests with the John Hamber company. He will leave London after Christmas.

PLOT HATCHED IN CUBA

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 20.—The secret service in Havana has information tending to confirm the report from Madrid that the plot to assassinate the Spanish premier, Senor Canalejas, was hatched here by a coterie of Spanish anarchists.

The secret service officials decline, however, to give out the particulars for fear of interfering with the investigation which is now progressing here.

HOPES NAVAL POLICY IS PREMIER'S OWN IDEA

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Manchester Guardian, the most influential Liberal paper in all England, in discussing the probability of Premier Borden offering £6,000,000 for naval purposes, hopes that since it involves a principle which many Canadians will certainly dislike, it will prove to be Premier Borden's own idea and not the result of suggestions from the home authorities.

"We ought to make it clear," says the Guardian, "that the idea of benevolence is as repugnant to us as it can be to them. 'More discussion of the Canadian naval program,' says Premier Borden, 'ought to insure a policy which is not liable to be reversed by future governments.' The view should also be enforced that a Canadian contribution is in addition to, not in substitution of, a British contribution. The question of preserving a Dominion naval unit should be left an open question."

STEAMER PROVES UNSEAWORTHY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 20.—The British steamship Strathdene, bound from Portland and Tacoma for Calcutta, returned from sea yesterday in distress. When the vessel passed the marine observatory at Tatoosh island it was seen that part of her deck load of lumber was gone and that apparently she was leaking.

A controversy over the seaworthiness of the Strathdene occurred before the vessel left Portland, where she was loaded with 3,648,000 feet of lumber. The agent of the San Francisco board of underwriters delayed issuing a certificate nearly a week while the question of the vessel's seaworthiness was investigated. She finally was allowed to go and left Portland November 8, going to Tacoma to coal, sailing for Calcutta November 12.

FAVOR SEPARATION FROM AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—The first meeting since its formation at Winnipeg last June of the National Council of Young Men's Christian associations of Canada opened today, with delegates from the Maritime provinces in the east and from as far west as Calgary, present. W. M. Birks of Montreal, acting chairman of the council, was permanently appointed to the position. The major portion of the time was devoted to completing the organization of the council to properly carry on the work of the organization, one of the chief matters to be discussed at tomorrow morning's session will be the relationship of the council to the national committee of New York.

Some of the members favor absolute separation from the American body, while others would have the entire work of the Young Men's Christian associations in Canada under the direction of the council, maintained by a sort of reciprocity agreement with the international committee.

KASLO TO HAVE BIG NEW SCHOOL

Bylaws for Twenty Thousand Dollars Will Be Submitted—To Cost Thirty Five Thousand.

(Special to The Daily News.)

KASLO, B. C., Nov. 20.—The mayor and council are busily engaged in drafting a pair of bylaws for the purpose of raising $20,000. The money will go into a school building if the voters ratify the loan. One of the bylaws will be to authorize the city to borrow $15,000 to erect a school building on the understanding that another $15,000 will be provided by the provincial government. The other by-law will be for the purpose of raising $5,000 with which to purchase and improve the site for the building.

It is proposed to erect a modern school building of part brick and part local marble at a cost of $35,000.

About 4 p. m. a blizzard struck town and lasted barely 10 minutes, during which the rain fell in sheets. It came from up the valley of Kaslo creek and passed as quickly as it came.

Some consternation is aroused in the hearts of the mothers of Kaslo in consequence of part of the instruction given their children in the school today. The children were informed that the expression "I don't give a dam" was not a profane expression; that the objectionable word meant a small and not very valuable Dutch coin and the expression was all right.

H. Treby Heale and his choral society are doing good practical work lately and are making splendid progress. The interest in the work is growing and the numbers who attend the practice are on the increase. The music has arrived and a performance by local singers is proposed. The dramatic end of the society's work is also flourishing and the first play to be staged is "What Happened to Jones" with A. W. Anderson as the leading man. This is a very laughable number and the choice falling on Mr. Anderson for the role of a hymn-book vendor and idol of the ladies is fortunate.

Alexander Goldsmith has excavated his cellar, put in a first class concrete foundation and got the frame of his house up and boarded in, in a very substantial, neat and workmanlike manner.

John M. Allen's new house is nearing completion.

Great Demand for British Columbia Apples in Lethbridge—Brains Needed in Marketing.

(Special to The Daily News.)

PENTICTON, B.C., Nov. 20.—That a quarantine be put on all fruit coming from states and provinces which are known to be shipping infected fruit, was the method advanced by Thomas Cunningham, inspector of fruit pests in British Columbia, for keeping British Columbia orchards clean and free from pests, at a large gathering of fruit growers and orchardists held here.

He contended that at the present time there is no San Jose scale in British Columbia and practically no codling moth. But cases of infection through the importation of American fruit were being discovered from time to time by his department, and the only way to safeguard the fruit growers' interest wholly was to get the Dominion government to issue an order quarantining all fruit grown in districts known to be infected. This might be considered drastic, but there was ample precedent. Great Britain had quarantined American cattle when they had foot and mouth disease. Utah was quarantined from exporting alfalfa hay. Hawaii was quarantined from exporting any fruits or vegetables into California.

The reason he gave was that British Columbia was spending a great deal of money in trying to keep the orchards clean. As a matter of fact, they had done so. There was no San Jose scale in the province. There was practically no coddling moth. But such a condition had only been brought about through great expense for inspection on the part of the government, and great care in watching their orchards on the part of the growers. But the only safe way to keep the orchards clean in future was to refuse to allow importation of fruit from infected districts.

In one instance infection had broken out at Kamloops through some Canadian Pacific railway employees having imported a few barrels of Ontario apples for Christmas. It was not discovered for two years, and for three years afterwards they had sprayed with paris green and arsenate of lead without completely eradicating the infection. At last they found there was nothing to do but to purchase and destroy the entire crop of several orchards, although this cost in the neighborhood of $8,000.

Large Market Available.

Referring to fruit market conditions he expressed the opinion that the remedy lay in co-operation and in interesting men of energy and brains in the selling end of the business. At the Dry Farming congress at Lethbridge he had not been able to find a single box of British Columbia apples in the Lethbridge stores, although British Columbia fruit had taken first place at the congress, and visitors were continually enquiring where they could purchase the splendid fruit they saw on exhibit. He felt satisfied that he could have sold 15 cars of British Columbia apples if he had them there. All classes of apples—even Ben Davis—were bringing $2.15 per box.

There were now about 10,000,000 trees planted in British Columbia, and in a few years the production would be very large. In order to make the business profitable the growers must capture their own market. Up to November the importations at port of Vancouver alone for the previous 10 months had reached the startling total of 124,900 boxes of apples. In addition there had been large quantities of other fruits. As the importations in November and December were generally quite large he was of the opinion that the total for the year at all the Customs ports of the province would reach 300,000 boxes of fruit. This was business that the British Columbia grower should control.

He knew that Vancouver wholesalers had said that the Okanagan peach growers could not compete with the Americans on the Vancouver market, and had advised them to cut out their peach trees and plant apples. It was one of the most cold-blooded, presumptuous propositions that he had ever heard. Had they no consideration of the six or seven years of labor expended by the grower in bringing his peach orchard to a state of productivity?

In conclusion he urged the building of cold storage warehouses everywhere to house the crop in case marketing conditions did not happen to be favorable at the time of the harvesting season in the autumn.

NAKUSP WILL HOLD ANNUAL HOSPITAL BALL

(Special to The Daily News.)

NAKUSP, B. C., Nov. 20.—The third annual ball of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the hospital will be held at the opera house on the 29. This affair has been the event of the season, under the able management of Mrs. Bulger, president, and her board of executives. Special music will be furnished and the reputation of the event promises to excel itself.

A meeting of the Nakusp council of the boy scouts was held at the Episcopal parsonage on Saturday evening to consider the future of the movement, and especially in view of the proposed visit of the provincial secretary of the scouts here on the twenty-ninth inst. It was decided to invite him to stay over here and if possible to address a public meeting of parents of the Nakusp youths. The secretary was instructed to write him to this effect.

The local telephone system has been extended from the town to Crescent bay, connecting with the residence of Mr. Bothwell, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce en route. It is possible that the local system will be renovated and an exchange installed with switchboard and turned over to a local company complying with the Rural Telephone bill, the present system of party line being taxed to its limit of 15 phones.

The steamer Minto has replaced the Kossland for the winter service on the through run, Arrowhead to Robson. Capt. Forsland is in charge.

The concert and dance in connection with St. Mark's church last week was a huge success, there being a good audience, while the artists carried through their parts excellently. Quite a marked addition to the talent of Nakusp is the recent arrival of Miss Dursk from England, who is at present staying with Mrs. Mossman.

Pansies are still to be seen blooming in the open.

The regular weekly meeting of the woman's auxiliary will be held on Friday afternoon, when the final arrangements will be made regarding the sale of work which will be held in the school house on Saturday afternoon and evening. ABDUL HAMID HAS LEARNED TO SPEAK FRENCH

Has Accurate Knowledge of Events—Thinks Conan Doyle Would Make Good Policeman.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Nov. 20.—M. Lauzanne, in an article in the Matin, gives details of the difficulties encountered in inducing ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid to leave Saloniki aboard the German guard ship Lorelei.

At first he flatly refused, but when the commander of the Lorelei, in the uniform of the German navy was ushered into his presence, the Sultan's tone of defiance fagged.

"I have every confidence," he said, "in the loyalty and friendship of the Kaiser. Under such auspices I will follow you all over the world."

The ex-sultan provided a surprise to those on board ship. It was generally supposed he had fallen into a condition bordering on idiocy, but he displayed instead a remarkably accurate knowledge of affairs.

Moreover, although Abdul Hamid, all through life was never able to speak more than 20 words of French, he began to speak French not only with accuracy, but with an extraordinary accent. He was very curious to know whether Sir Conan Doyle was still amusing the world with the exploits of Sherlock Holmes. These stories were the only ones that ever appealed to him. "Conan Doyle," he said, "would have made a magnificent chief of police." He begged the commander of the Lorelei to convey his personal remembrances and thanks to Emperor William, for the consideration and attention shown him on the voyage and gave each officer a diamond pin or a gold cigarette case, studded with diamonds.

"When the voyage was ended at Beyler Bey, Abdul refused to occupy the palace itself, the place in which days gone by had sheltered an empress of France, but decided to be installed in the small pavilion adjoining it.

Then once again relapsing into silence and appearing entirely indifferent to all those around, he became absent in thought. This spell did not last long, for soon he began to talk and take interest in the fowls and turkeys in the courtyard below, and called for some corn to feed them.

On learning that one of the officers of the guard for whom he had a certain liking, had been called away to his sick wife, he remarked on hearing of the man's distress: "Ah, well, the poor fellow has only one wife. What would he do if he had 10 as I have."

WAS BULGARIAN VICTORY

Ashmead Bartlett Gives Graphic Description of Tchatalja Battle.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Ashmead Bartlett, the war correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, in a despatch dated Nov. 18 and sent from the front by way of Constanza, claims that the battle before Tchatalja on Sunday and Monday resulted in a great Bulgarian success. Early on Monday morning no sound of firing came from the front, but an ominous silence lasting several hours. A gendame brought orders from Barta to leave at once for Constantinople saying that any hour the Turkish army might be in full flight as they had suffered a disaster near there. Instead of obeying, the correspondent squared the four guards and returned toward the battlefield. He could only see through the mist the red flashes of an artillery duel, which had been resumed. But on the lifting of the mist he could observe a change in the positions.

At once it became evident that all the outlying work had fallen into the hands of the Bulgarians, who were no longer concentrating against the outlying lines and had actually brought up guns and were shelling the main lines of worke in front of Hademkeui as well as the left wing of the Turkish lines from the captured positions. From an officer he learned the following details:

At 8 o'clock in the morning the Bulgarians concentrated their infantry against the advanced lines and delivered a night attack with decisive effect, the whole works falling into their hands as the result of 45 minutes' fighting at the point of the bayonet.

This was the disaster to which the gendarmes referred. The Bulgarians were now established in a arc made made by the receding circles of hills forming the main line of defences, which enabled them to attack at will the main line around Hademkeui itself.

Still more serious was the fact that they could enfilade the Turkish left wing, and if they pierced the centre of the Hademkeui both wings would be cut off and would be compelled to retire in confusion if it were possible to escape at all.

Tremendous Bombardment.

Having captured the outer works, the Bulgarians devoted the entire day to a tremendous bombardment of the remaining works. They also demoralized the reserves by concentrating a section of their fire on the opposed camps. The early morning mist made the fire on the camps ineffective, but later, when the day cleared, shooting was resumed with the old time accuracy and effect became painfully apparent among the troops of the first army. A steady dribble of men began to leave the lines, making for shelter in the rear, and apparently no effort was made to stop them. Soon whole battalions began to clear off in masses and the whole army corps showed signs of breaking up and retreating in confusion.

Throughout the morning the Turkish artillery hardly replied to the enemy's fire. It was evident that the bombardment of the first army corps was only intended to demoralize the troops and to keep in check any counter attack against the main Bulgarian advance on Hademkuei. During the morning and afternoon no infantry attack was delivered against the main position, which was subjected to the same concentrated bombardment as the outer works had suffered the previous day. When the correspondent left, the position of the commandants was as follows:

The Bulgarians occupy all the advanced works where their artillery is established and is engaged in bombarding the centre of the main line of defence around Hademkuei, evidently with the intention of delivering an infantry attack late in the evening, during the night or perhaps at dawn. Should this attack succeed the famous lines are won.

The Turkish army has no alternative but to retire to Constantinople. If the army retreats, it will break up altogether. There will be merely a repetition of the scenes after the battle of Lule Burgas, with the army arriving at Stamboul instead of the Tchalatja lines.

Bartlett was unable to stay until nightfall as he was placed under arrest, escorted to the rear and ordered under guard to Constantinople. He planned, however to break away from the guards in the morning and proceed across the country to witness the end of the battle.

WHEAT MARKET QUIET

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 20.—On the wheat market trading was quiet and prices weak and on the down trend during the earlier hours. Later there was a decidedly firmer undertone and nearing the close there was a sharp reaction in prices caused by shorts covering, closing unchanged to ⅛c higher. Liverpool's closing cables were ⅝d lower. Americans were generally weaker on opening but stiffened considerably nearing the close. Minneapolis closed ⅜c higher for both months. Chicago closed ¼@⅜c higher.

The demand for cash wheat was poor and little export inquiry with offerings heavy and prices unchanged for Nos. 1, 2 and 3 northern while red winter declined 1½c for Nos. 1, 2 and 3.

Oats prices were fairly steady and inquiry slow, while flax was sold at 2⅛@3c decline and closed 1c to ¼c bid lower.

Inspections on Tuesday were 1,603 cars, making a record for a single day, of which 1,093 were wheat of no grades or under. In sight for inspection today were 800 cars. Deliveries through the clearing house today were 1,000 bushels of flax.

MOVEMENTS NARROW ON NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A further disposition to await the outcome of events at home and abroad was manifested by today's market. Trading for the greater part of the session was of the familiar professional character and movements were extremely narrow. The tendency was mildly reactionary in the early hours with persistent heaviness in United States Steel, Reading and a few other speculative favorites. In the final hour to the accompaniment of some active buying, pressure relaxed slightly and recoveries slightly above yesterday's closing quotations were recorded, despite a sudden advance in the call money to 6 per cent.

London's markets were depressed at the outset but recovered later and some buying for that account was reported here. Demand was chiefly for coppers and Union Pacific. Paris prices indicated firmness and Berlin was observing a religious holiday. The money exchange displayed further difficulties, but as yet negotiations of metal buyers have not proceeded beyond the tentative stage. Time money, while nominally unchanged, was actually inclined to ease for the longer dates.

Some important financing was announced in the course of tte day. The New York, New Haven & Hartford sold $40,000,000 one-year notes to a banking syndicate, a considerable part of which, it is understood, will be used for refunding purposes, that is, for the payment of some obligations soon maturing. Directors or the Vanderbilt lines authorized the issuance of $24,000,000 notes, a large share to be applied to the payment of construction material and rolling stock, none of which has already been purchased. The one important railway return for October was that of the Baltimore & Ohio road, showing a net gain of $415,000. In some of the most important issues bonds followed the course of the stocks, shading a trifle.

Total sales, par value, $1,000,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

LONDON MARKET DEPRESSED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The stock market opened depressed today, but recovered sharply on the better Austro-Servian news and the cessation of hostilities pending peace negotiations in the Balkans. Buying became general and prices closed higher on the day, especially mining shares, which were supported by Paris. Central of London and city and south London shares declined despite their absorption by the Speyer group. American securities were quiet and featureless. Canadian Pacific advanced 1½ points, but trading was limited in the rest of the list and after narrow fluctuations either side of parity the market closed quiet. Money was scarcer and discount rates hardened.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RALLIES ON MONTREAL EXCHANGE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—A rally by Canadian Pacific railway, in which the decline of the previous day was recovered and a more active demand for Dominion Steel than has been in evidence for some time, were among today's features on the local exchange. The rest of the list was quiet and while the close showed some irregularity the undertone of the market as a whole was firm. The principal feature on the reactionary side was Laurentide, which sold at 218 in the afternoon, as compared with 225 in the last sale prior to yesterday, and closed at 219 with 217 bid.

Canadian Pacific opened nearly 1 point up at 266 on the better feeling in London and sold between 265 and 266 in the morning trading when a little over 200 shares changed hands. The stock was inactive in the afternoon but on the advance in New York in the latter part of the day was quoted at 266¾ bid, 268 asked at the close, or just about level with the closing price on Monday.

Dominion Steel opened fractionally higher at 60⅝, advanced to 60¾ and sold firm at that price in dealings aggregating over 100,000 shares. At the close 60⅝ was bid with 60¾ asked.

Total business was somewhat larger than for some days back, 3,892 shares, 500 mining shares and $11,400 bonds.

COAST FIRE COMPANIES FORM CONSOLIDATION

A dispatch from Seattle says:

Consolidation of two of the most important fire insurance companies of the Pacific Northwest, with a paid-up capital stock of $1,000,000 and officered by local bankers and eastern Canadian and Vancouver, B.C., insurance men, was completed on Saturday, when details of the organization of the Western Union Fire Insurance company was made public by filings at Olympia and in Seattle.

J. E. Chilberg, president of the Scandinavian-American bank, is president of the new corporation, which will have its headquarters here. Back of the big deal, the largest in many years in insurance financing, is the merger of the Western Union Fire Insurance Company, Limited, of Vancouver, B.C., and the North Coast Fire Insurance company of Seattle, both old established corporations. The combined annual premium income of these two companies is now close to $500,000.

Having its headquarters here and writing business all over the Pacific northwest, the new corporation will be added to those insurance companies whose premiums, net and gross, are retained here instead of being sent to eastern banks. In the organization committee of the Western Union Fire Insurance company appears the following names of prominent Seattle bankers, insurance men and financiers:

J. E. Chilberg and J. F. Lane, respectively vice-president and cashier of the Scandinavian-American bank; James W. McBurney, president of the North Coast Insurance company; J. W. Maxwell, president of the National City bank; James D. Hodge and N. B. Soiner, vice-president and president of the Union Savings & Trust company; D. R. Moss, vice-president of the First National bank; R. V. Ankeny, cashier of the Seattle National bank; J. A. Stalwell, vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce; S. H. Hedges, president of the Puget Sound Bridge & Dredging company; Alphus Byers, director of the North Coast Fire Insurance company, and F. E. Brightman.

In addition these are also members of the organization:

M. Desbrisay, president of the Western Union Fire Insurance company of Vancouver, B.C.; C. H. Clodius, president of the German-American bank of Ritzville, Wash.; C. G. McLean, secretary and treasurer of the Western Union Fire Insurance company of Vancouver, B.C.; Hon. A. A. McLean, M.P., and formerly attorney-general of Canada, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., and W. B. Bierce, vice-president of the Bankers Trust corporation of Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. Bierce will be secretary and insurance manager of the new company, and will remove his headquarters from Vancouver to this city. Desbrisay, McBurney and McLean are vice-presidents of the company, and Mr. Lane, of the Scandinavian-American bank of Seattle, is its treasurer.

James Welborn, president of the Bankers Trust Corporation, which is building new offices at Yates and Langley street, was responsible for putting through the amalgamation, and is now arranging the further amalgamation between the new company and two other fire companies on the coast. The amalgamation of the four companies will be brought about inside three weeks, when a prominent business man of Victoria will have a place on the directorate.

The new company will have offices in the Bankers Trust Corporation building at Yates and Langley streets.—Victoria Times.

GREATER POWER FOR PROVINCIAL HEALTH OFFICERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—The recent epidemic of small pox in Montreal and its environments, which became a serious menace by reason of the negligence of those who should have arrested its progress, led provincial health officers to make representations before the provincial legislature which, if acted upon will give them greater power over the various municipalities in their district. Under the present regulations the provincial authorities can interefere in any given municipality only after 48 hours' notice has been given, but the proposed amendment will allow them to take immediate steps and full charge of the situation in the affected district.

Following along this line it is proposed to give the right to a municipality to refuse admittance to a resident of a neighboring municipality affected by a contagious disease.

ARRANGE TO FIGHT FOR DOMINION CHAMPIONSHIP

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, Nov. 20.—After a heated controversy over terms, Joe Bayley and Fighting Dick Hyland have agreed on terms and will fight for the lightweight championship of the Dominion in Calgary on December 20. Hyland has agreed to accept 60 per cent of the gross gate receipts and out of this will pay Bayley $1,700. Bayley and Hyland got a draw at their last meeting, but Hyland was given the newspaper decision.

STUDENT AND INDIAN EXPLORE IN CANOE

Make Remarkable Trip to Unknown Section of Hudson Bay District.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—The story of a remarkable canoe trip in an unknown section of the Hudson's Bay hinterland by a Harvard graduate and a single Indian, was brought to Ottawa today by stories from Ernest Oberholtzer, who is at his home in Davenport, Ia.

Mr. Oberholtzer, who has spent a couple of seasons exploring the extraordinary water routes in the Rainy River valley of fur traders since La Verandrye's time, left Le Pas on the Canadian Northern railway with Billy McGee, his Indian, from Fort Frances, at the end of June and followed the route via Reindeer lake, that was taken by J. B. Tyrrell in 1894 on his second trip through the barren lands for the geological survey to Dubrochel the last mission station. No Indians were procurable and Oberholtzer rejected advice to turn back.

Finding Tyrrell's maps without a flaw, he went north to Sandy lake, where he left Tyrrell's route to follow the Thlewiaza river to the bay. For 400 miles the route was where no white man had ever been, including the traverse of Nuthlhin, or Sleeping Island lake, which Samuel Hern crossed on the way to the Coppermine on Dec. 30 1770. Part of this lake is in the treeless regions and on the way down the river, which is full of rapids, Oberholtzer saw innumerable cariboo.

Hudson's Bay was reached about 125 miles north of Churchill on Sept. 14. An Eskimo happened to be at the mouth of the Thlewiaza with a whale boat, in which the trip to Churchill was concluded. Thence to York the trip was continued in the canoe. York was left on Oct. 1, very late in the season. They arrived at Norway House a week after the last boat for Selkirk had left and the journey up Lake Winnipeg to Gimli, occupied 16 days. Gimli was reached Nov. 5 after a journey of 2,000 miles lasting 130 days.

No such trip has been known to have been accomplished by two men and a single canoe, and many escapes from disaster were experienced. Mr. Oberholtzer is making a sketch map of Thlewiaza and Nuthlenin lake and on reporting the news to Dr. Roche the minister of the interior, the man was invited to place Mr. Chalifour, the Dominion geographer in communication with Mr. Oberholtzer.

CAMPAIGN OF PROTEST AGAINST NE TEMERE DEGREE

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Great enthusiasm attended the meeting in the campaign of protest against the ne temere degree by the world's evangelical alliance this evening in the vast new central hall at Westminster. The hall was taxed to its utmost capacity. The chair was occupied by Right Hon Lord Kinnaird and he was supported by Dr. Hincks of Toronto, Dr. Montgomery, Presbyterian moderator in Ireland, Rev. Chancellor O'Connor, Christchurch cathedral, Dublin, Rev. Webb Peploe, Sir Robart Perks, Sir Robert Anderson and Rev. Fuller Gouch. Dr Hincks in his address moved a resolution which expressed sympathy with the Protestants of the Dominion in their determination to resist the papal decree and prevent its legal enforcement. Dr. Hincks said the Canadian Protestants were absolutely unanimous against the decree. After citing several instances where the decree's operation caused hardship under the marriage laws in Manitoba, Quebec and Ontario, the speaker went on to say that Canada was at the present moment passing through her critical period in the unification of races creeds and people. The people of Canada were determined to have ultimately one uniform marriage law. No government could refuse the united request and no political party could survive six months which openly endorsed this infamous decree, yet today Romanism on the banks of the St. Lawrence was stronger than on the banks of the Tiber in Italy.

Dr. Hincks afterwards showed that the main reason of the objection of the German emperor to the papal decree was that he had the same problem for Germany which the Dominion had, namely, the unification of differing sects, and, to a certain extent, different races. His appeal to the audience was received with the greatest enthusiasm, the resolution being carried unanimously.

Sir Robert Perks, who followed Dr Hincks, proposed the following resolution which was adopted: "That as his majesty's government takes no action to protect their religious rights of his majesty's subjects who contract legal marriages, this meeting calls upon the imperial parliament to take steps to give the necessary relief to those who, while lawfully married, are subjected to suffering in consequence of the terms of ne temere decree.

Two deputies will be manacled to him. Two others will walk by his side and the sheriff himself will accompany him.

Whereas, through the loyalty of its friends and the fidelity of its membership, this union has hitherto been successful in maintaining a "White B.C." in so far as its local jurisdiction extends, and

Whereas, every friendly overture to secure a continuance of this state of affairs has been unsuccessful in persuading the management of the properties in question to dismiss the Chinamen, therefore be it

Resolved, that this, Sandon Union No. 81, of the Western Federation of Miners, vigorously condemns the employment of Asiatic help, in any capacity, and calls upon its friends and members to use every lawful and honorable effort to secure the banishment of the present Orientals, and prevent the future introduction of a class of labor that can only result in lowering our present standard of living, and injury to the moral, social and civic tone of the community, and be it further

Resolved, that the sense of this resolution, and a history of the reasons responsible for its adoption, be circulated as widely as possible amongst the membership and friends of organized labor, in this portion of the province of British Columbia.

ANDERSON GETS FOURTEEN DAYS

Goes Free on Theft Charge But Pleads Guilty to Assaulting W. H. McHenry.

Harry Anderson, alias Reynolds, a one-legged man, charged before Ald. P. J. Gleazer and W. E. Wasson, justices of the peace, in the provincial police court yesterday with having robbed W. H. McHenry on the Slocan train on Nov. 11 of about $85, was discharged, the circumstantial evidence adduced being insufficient to justify a conviction. Accused was immediately rearrested and pleaded guilty to assaulting McHenry. He was given 14 days on this charge. To the theft charge he pleaded not guilty and said that he did not know anything about the money. John T. Black, chief provincial constable, conducted the prosecution. Anderson was not defended.

Mr. McHenry, who lives at Crescent valley, said that he met accused at Slocan City and they had a drink together. On the train they had another drink out of accused's bottle and also out of witness' bottle. When the conductor came round for tickets witness found that his pocketbook, containing about $85, was gone. Accused could have taken it. He asked accused if he had it and received a reply in the negative, accused leaving the car but coming back in a few minutes. He accused Anderson of the theft and told him he would have him arrested. "And he hit me and a passenger across the aisle pointed to the pocketbook on the floor." He picked it up and found it empty. There had been papers in the pocketbook as well as the money.

G. D. Ferris of Appledale who was a passenger on the train said that accused was sober and that McHenry was capable of looking after himself. When McHenry reched for his pocketbook he said, "I am broke," and asked accused if he had it. Accused went out and on coming back offered to pay McHenry's fare, but the offer was refused. McHenry went out into the vestibule and the conductor took a bottle and a flask of liquor from him. He told Anderson that he would be arrested and accused got up and was out about five minutes. Just as he sat down, two people pointed out the pocketbook in the aisle; if it had been there when accused went out, witness would have most likely seen it. Accused hit McHenry and witness helped separate them. He did not see either of them take a drink on the train.

Henry Nixon of Perry Siding said that some one had told him that a brakeman had seen accused throw some papers out of the window. On the way back witness found some cards on which was printed a request for funds: "Having had the misfortune of losing a limb I am raising fund. to secure an artificial limb."

Accused on the stand declared that McHenry had threatened to kill him after asking him if he knew anything about the money. He admitted throwing the cards out of a window of the train.

DETAINED BY INSPECTORS SAY ARREST IS OUTRAGE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 20.—Two handsomely dressed women registered at the Hotel St. Francis as Mrs. J. Ward Carter of London and Mrs. J. W. Chard of New York, were arrested today by federal inspectors and taken to the federal detention station on Angel island.

Mrs. Carter arrived here yesterday from Hong Kong on board the liner Mongolia. Mrs. Chard said she had come to meet her daughter from New York. Both protested that the arrest, which was made under the law respecting undesirable aliens, was an outrage. Mrs. Chard showed through transportation to London.

"You have no right," she said, "to humiliate in this way a British subject who is only stopping in your city for a day."

NOT JUSTIFED IN MAKING ARRESTS

Evidence is Insufficient to Sustain Charges Against Three Standard Oil Officials.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Attorney General Wickersham has directed that warrants be not served upon John D. Archbold, H. C. Fogles, Jr., and W. C. Teagle, of the Standard Oil company, as a result of their indictment at Dallas, Texas, last August in connection with the case against the Magnolia Petroleum company. The attorney general states that the evidence in the possession of the government at the present time is insufficient to sustain the indictment of these people and jusify removal proceedings. Mr. Wickersham has summoned the United States attorney of Dallas to Washington for a conference about the case.

These facts developed after a call upon the attorney general by W. H. Gray, an attorney of Houston, Texas, who was a witness before the grand jury that returned the indictments. Mr. Gray issued a statement crushing the attorney general for not arresting Messrs. Archbold, Fogles and Teagle, pointing out that the other men indicted at the same time had been served with warrants.

Mr. Gray quoted the attorney general as expressing the belief that on a hearing before a United States commissioner subsequent to the arrest there would not be sufficient evidence for the removal of the New York men to Dallas for trial.

"I stated to Mr Wickersham," continued Mr. Gray, "that I did not believe it was within the province of the United States commissioner at New York, to try the case on its merits, to ascertain whether he, in his judgment, thought the evidence sufficient to convict them of the crime charged in the indictment, but such was the province of the federal court at Dallas, and for that reason, I thought the warrant for the arrest ought to be served. Were these ordinary men, that is the way the matter would undoubtedly be disposed of and therein does the code of it lie—are they ordinary men?

"Fortunate indeed, if one who can have his case, after indictment and before arrest, ried in the department of justice and every detail of it examined with a view to determining the extent of guilt before the trial. This is a privilege not extended to ordinary men and not invoked in ordinary cases."

FIND MAN WHO USED AXE HANDLE

Suspected of Inflicting Terrible Wounds on Woman Now in Hospital—Prisoner Is Cool.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20.—With the arrest of Percy Kemp, a carpenter, of 270 Avenue road, by four detectives in a small boarding house, the five-day search for the assailant of Mrs. Schreck, 20 Ransford road, ended this morning. Since Friday morning, when the woman staggered into a neighboring house, bleeding from terrible wounds inflicted by a broken axe handle, the police have been working to locate her assailant, and it was feared that he had managed to escape from the city.

Kemp took his arrest coolly and finished his breakfast he was eating when the officers entered. He was taken to headquarters, where he resolutely refused to make any statement except to his counsel. When arraigned he neither elected nor pleaded and was remanded until November 27.

A report from the hospital states that Mrs. Schreck is progressing favorably toward recovery, but it is scarcely thought that she will be well enough to give evidence next week.

GOVERNMENT MAJORITY ON HOME RULE RESOLUTION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
LONDON, Nov. 20.—The new financial resolution of the home rule bill was discussed in committee of the house. Austen Chamberlain remarked that if Ireland demanded separation she must bear the burden of her own financial responsibilities.

Lloyd George declared that it would pay Britain as well to have a prosperous Ireland as a prosperous West Indies or South Africa.

Bonar Law pointed out that Britain did not pay any old age pensions in the colonies and there was no sound reason why she should pay them indefinitely with home rule for Ireland.

Sir F. Banbury moved to amend the resolution providing that payments for Irish services should not involve any charge on the British taxpayers. This was defeated by a majority of 115. The resolution was passed by a majority of 111.

CINCINNATI POLICE FIND CLUE TO CHICAGO MYSTERY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 20.—That Mrs. Emma Kraft of this city was the woman who was killed in a Chicago hotel last Thursday, that the police know the name of a man who was formerly engaged to marry Mrs. Kraft and who is known to have borrowed $800 from her, and whom they suspect of having killed her, and that every policeman and detective in this city has been ordered to watch for this man, were today's developments in the mystery that for six days has puzzled the police of Chicago. Mrs. Kraft, who was 60 years old, was known to have recently sold property in this city amounting to $4,870, and the police are convinced that she had a large part of this sum in her possession shortly previous to her death. This leads to the theory of robbery as a motive, according to the police, although they claim that it is possible that the man got rid of Mrs. Kraft because she had threatened to prosecute him for the money she claimed to have loaned him when the two were engaged.

WILLIAM WALKER WEDS MISS MILLER

Pretty Ceremony at St. Saviour's—Reception at Miller Residence Is Largely Attended.

A very delightful wedding took place yesterday afternoon at St. Saviour's church, when Elmah Gladys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Miller of Nelson, was married to William Milne Walker, recently of Calgary, eldest son of Mrs. P. Walker of Guelph, Ont.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a largely attended reception was held. The happy couple received under a canopy of evergreens and white chrysanthemums, from which hung a beautiful bell composed of white chrysanthemums.

The church was tastefully decorated with white chrysanthemums and white ribbon, and the ceremony was performed under a bridal arch of evergreen and a bell of white chrysanthemums and smilax. A full choral service was celebrated, Rev. Fred H. Graham officiating. During the ceremony the choir rendered several appropriate hymns.

The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the church to the tune of Lohengrin's Wedding March, which was played by Mrs. W. J. Astley. She looked exquisitely charming in a gown of white satin trimmed with pearls and shadow lace and a tulle veil with orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book with a marker of lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaid, Miss Gladys Bailey of Vernon, wore a dress of white satin with an overdress of shadow lace and a lavender hat, and carried a marabou muff.

The flower girls, the Misses Frances and Olive Miller, sisters of the bride, wore dainty dresses of white crepe de chene and Dutch caps of lace, and carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

The bride's mother wore a becoming gown of black velvet trimmed with white shadow lace and a black hat, and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Laidlaw of Spokane wore a dress of white embroidered chiffon and ermine furs and toque, and bore an exquisite bouquet of violets.

The groom was supported by his brother, J. Alexander Walker, of Fort George. The ushers were Herbert D. Young and Fred Irvine.

The presents were numerous and beautiful. The following out-of-town guests were present: S. W. Miller of Vancouver, J. H. Wilson of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stevens, A. E. Rand and Miss Helen Rand of New Westminster, Captain and Mrs. C. W. Milne of Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. Montague S. Davys of New Denver.

The happy couple left on the coast train for Portland, Ore., and coast cities via Spokane and after two weeks' honeymoon trip will return and make their home in Nelson.

After the departure of the bride and groom an informal dance was attended by a large number of friends of the family. Myers' Starland orchestra was in attendance.

FIRE INSURANCE
At this season of the year fires are particularly apt to occur. Additional stoves are being put up, more fire is required owing to the colder weather, and unused chimneys, possibly defective, and more than likely, not cleaned, are brought into service. Then, too, our police may or may not have caught the firebug. In any event at this time of the year it is a wise man who protects himself with insurance.
Now as to the cost. I might just state here that recently the residential rates for insurance have been reduced. Following is a table by which you will be able to ascertain for yourself what it will cost to insure your home or furniture, if you live in a frame house, lathed and plastered and with a brick chimney, situated within the corporate limits of Nelson.
The basis rate for $100 insurance is 65 cents.
For a dwelling within 10 feet add to this 25 cents.
For a dwelling within from 10 to 25 feet add 20 cents.
For a dwelling within from 25 to 40 feet add 15 cents.
For a dwelling within from 40 to 60 feet add 5 cents.
A "Range" is two or more dwellings (excluding risk) exposed to each other within less than 10 feet. Charge for risk, 65 cents. Add for each dwelling in range, excluding risk itself, 25 cents. Deduct 10 cents if risk is over 5 feet on one side and 20 cents if over 15 feet on two sides, in ranges of three and over.
Add for all risks as follows:
Stove pipe .....50 cents
Terra Cotta Chimneys.....10 cents
Cloth Lining .....25 cents
From the above table you will be able to ascertain your rate fully as well as an agent could tell you.
Take an example. Your house is thirty-five feet from your neighbor.
Basis Rate .....65 cents per $100
Exposure 25 feet to 40 feet.....15 cents per $100
Total .....80 cents per $100
Or $8.00 per $1,000 insurance per year.
Now dwellings, churches, academies, etc., have an advantage over business risks in that for double the premium you can get three years' insurance, so in the case of our example at a premium of $8.00 per $1,000 per year, $16.00 would insure this risk for THREE YEARS for $1,000.
I would be pleased to have you place your insurance with me and will promise that it will be placed in a first-class company.
I represent British, United States and Canadian companies.
