ADVOCATES LOANS BY GOVERNMENT TO FARMERS

(Special to The Daily News.)

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 19.—That the government should lend money direct to the farmers was the suggestion of J. J. Shallcross before the agricultural commission here today. He did not believe that it would be possible for farmers to get cheaper money than merchants, but if the government assisted them it could get money cheaper than any other body. In the matter of farmers' co-operative societies he believed all such bodies should be under the control of a central association which itself would be under the supervision of the government. The co-operative bodies could subscribe capital to be deposited in the hands of the government and lent out at the discretion of the latter. Mr. Shallcross laid great stress on co-operation in both buying and distributing and commented upon the enormous markets awaiting the products of British Columbia in the northwest. The commission adjourned until tomorrow.

EMOTIONAL INSANITY WILL BE MURDERER'S DEFENCE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 19.—"I do not want people to think that I did not know what I was doing when I did that, because I did," was a statement made by Walter A. Eaves from his bed at the general hospital and one of the first indications given to the outside world of the condition of the man accused of taking the life of Mrs. Hancock. The hospital authorities will not state positively that Eaves will recover sufficiently to stand trial, but the opinion is that such will be the case. The prisoner is kept in a quiet cell in the lower part of the institution in order that his recovery may not be interferred with by outsiders. Counsel for the defence claim that a plea of not guilty will be entered, and it is believed the defence will bring up the theory of emotional insanity.

WILL NOT YIELD ADRIANOPLE

Offer of Further Concessions Expected from Turkey

ALLIES WILL APPEAL TO POWERS

War Will Be Recommenced if Turks not Forced to Yield

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The porte's decision to call a national assembly on Tuesday to consider the Balkan situation probably heralds further concessions on the part of Turkey, concessions which could not be yielded by the cabinet without risking its fall In any case, the Balkan delegates in London do not believe that the porte's reply to the joint note of the powers will be such a flat refusal as foreshadowed from Constantinople.

Yesterday's dispatches reported that the Turkish government had reached a decision not to cede Adrianople or the Aegean islands, but was willing to enter into negotiations respecting those islands some distance removed from the Dardanelles. If Turkey's answer is unsatisfactory the allies, in deference to Europe, will ask the powers whether they have means to compel Turkey to comply with their wishes. If not, the allies will carry out the plan already announced leading to the resumption of the war.

In such event the allies will regard all concessions heretofore made for the sake of peace either to Turkey or to the powers, as void. Thus they will not recognize the undertaking consenting to an autonomous Albania, or the promise to retire from the Adriatic Questioned as to the possibility in this case of Austria employing force, the head of one of the delegations said today: "We shall see whether the triple entente, and especially Russia, will permit such action by Austria. If we are forced to fight another war, the cost of which is nearly $1,000,000 daily we will not abandon territories already occupied unless driven out by force That would mean a European war. If Austria were permitted to march on Belgrade and to bombard our troops on the Adriatic and we were crushed we should prefer to become Austrian rather than belong to the Slav race when our mother Russia lacks the force or the will to protect us."

Will Not Yield Adrianople.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Ottoman government's reply to the European powers which was presented to the porte by the ambassadors at Constantinople will be a refusal to yield the fortress of Adrianople and the adjoining territory to the Balkan allies, according to a private despatch received in London from the Turkish capital. The reply, it is understood from the same source, will be conciliatory on the other points in dispute and will intimate Turkey's readiness to resume the peace negotiations in London on this basis. The delegates in London of the Balkan allied nations say that if this forecast is confirmed by events it means a resumption of the war.

Turkey's Reply.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 18.—The Turkish foreign minister, Noradunghian Effendi tonight submitted to the council of ministers a draft of his reply to the note of the powers. It is understood that it insists upon the retention of Adrianople for the following reasons: Because the Bulgarian inhabitants are in the minority in Adrianople, not only in comparison with the Moslems, but as compared with other Christians; second, because of the splendid defence of the garrison; third the loss of Adrianople containing the temples of the Caliphs would ruin the prestige of Islam; fourth, the loss of Adrianople, which is the gate of Constantinople, would endanger the existence of the empire.

"The porte, therefore, prays," continues the reply, "that the powers take consideration of the vital necessities of the empire and make representations to the Balkan states with a view to peace. Turkey sincerely desires to find a common ground of understanding and will even consent to fresh sacrifices."

Regarding the Aegean islands, the reply says that Turkey refuses to abandon the islands near her coasts, but is ready to continue pour parlers respecting the distant islands.

Nordunghain Effendi has instructed the Ottoman ambassador abroad again to sound the powers with regard to Adrianople. The superior council of war has handed the council of ministers a report on the military situation.

Naval Engagement.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ATHENS, Jan. 19.—The Greek fleet attacked the Turkish squadron outside the Dardenelles this afternoon and a sharp engagement which is believed to have resulted in heavy losses to the Turks followed. The Turkish squadron withdrew in the face of the Greek attack and returned to the Dardanelles in disorder.

The engagement lasted three hours. Only one Greek was wounded, while the Greek warships were not damaged, according to a long despatch sent by Admiral Countecuriotis to the government. The admiral wires:

"All last night the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh accompanied by a destroyer, carried out a reconnaissance between Tenedos and Avori islands. In the morning the Turks left the straits, steaming towards Imbros, then turned towards the southeast of Lemnos and arrived within 20 miles of the northwest of Tenedos.

"The Greek fleet immediately steamed to meet the nemy, consisting of the battleships Kheyr-ed-Din-Barbarossa, Torgue Reis, Messudieh and Assar-i-Tefik, the cruiser Hamidieh and 13 destroyers and torpedo boats.

"The Greek fleet consisted of the battleships Averof, Hydra, Spetsai and Psara and eight gunboats and destroyers. The following order was sent by wireless by the admiral to the fleet: 'I remind you of the order of Dec. 3. The future of Greece depends on the events of today. Fight like lions.'"

Admiral Countouriotis' despatch to the government ended at this point but the government sent the following: "The naval fight began at 11:25 o'clock in the morning. Both sides fought desperately. The Turks at 12:50 began slowly to retreat. At 1:10 the Turkish battleships were fleeing in disorder towards the straits, firing at long intervals against the Averof which was pursuing at a distance of 5,000 metres and rapidly overhauling the enemy. The Hamidieh led the flight. One Turkish battleship ceased firing and was apparently disabled by the deadly fire of the Averof. The fight ended at 2:30 p. m. when the enemy re-entered the Dardanelles.

One Man Wounded.

A later despatch from the admiral says: "Have beaten the enemy's fleet which was steaming towards Lemnos, and pursued it almost into the straits, where it took refuge in disorder. The engagement lasted three hours.. We had only one man slightly wounded. The damage to the Averof is insignificant and the fighting power of the fleet has not been affected."

WATER PRESSURE SERIOUS HANDICAP

Wood Working Plant at Calgary Destroyed—Fixtures for Hudson's Bay Store Burned.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 19.—Ninety minutes from the time the J. M. Bateson Wood Working plant was discovered to be on fire this morning the building and its contents were reduced to ashes. The fire was discovered at 10 o'clock, and, as in the case of the Burns fire, the water pressure was low and availed the firemen but little. The structure was of wood and was filled from top to bottom with inflammable material and quickly burned. The loss is placed at about $60,000 fully insured. The concern had just about completed $30,000 worth of fixtures for the Hudson's Bay store, and this stock went with the rest. The plant was located in East Calgary, and will be rebuilt. It furnished employment to 75 men. The origin of the fire is unknown.

POSSE DEFIED BY ARMED INDIANS

CHARGED WITH SHOOTING HERDER

Indian Killed in Affray With Sheep Men--Rising Follows

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CERIEZ, Colo., Jan. 19.—Fifty Ute Indians determined not to deliver "Big Rabbit," one of their tribesmen, to the county officials to answer to a charge of shooting Joseph Vichel, a sheep herder, are entrenched in the mountains 18 miles from here and defy a posse of 100 men today. The Indians yesterday took up their position in the mountains after they had left the reservation in southwestern Colorado and declared today that they would fight to the death rather than to give up "Big Rabbit." They are said to be armed with repeating rifles and to have plenty of ammunition.

Two weeks ago Big Rabbit and another Indian attempted to camp near the spot where a group of sheep herders had pitched a tent. The sheep herders, it is said, ordered them away. A fight ensued in which one of the Indians was killed and Vichel was wounded. Big Rabbit carried his companion to the reservation and aroused the anger of the Utes. It is believed Vichel will recover.

NOT GRAND SUCCESS, SAYS PRESIDENT

Negotiated Arbitration Treaties and Then Awoke—Arbitral Court Coming Surely.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—President Taft tonight began his address at the B'Nai B'Rith celebration of its seventieth anniversay, with a reference to the medal recently presented to him by B'Nai B'Rith, he thought undeservedly, saying: "But honors do not come very often."

From the Jews the president said, the American people should profit of their love of liberty and love of guaranty of rights and equality of their intensity of spirit.

"I don't like to drop into politics," he continued, "I don't seem to have been a grand success. But the American people will have to be educated over again in lessons of liberty and will have to be taught again the real value of the rights we now have."

"Something has been said of the intolerance of the other countries," Mr. Taft went on. "Tolerance does not exist in other countries as in our own but we must know that tolerance in this country will have its beneficent effects all over the world. The attitude of the American people on that subject cannot but bring about a better education. I do not need to preach patience to your race. I don't need to preach persistence to you. I don't believe in progress over night."

Turning to the topic of progress toward world peace, the president said: "I had a dream that we are going to take a long step forward to universal peace but after negotiating a treaty with England and a treaty with France I awoke."

He explained that through treaties between this country and European nations and interlocking treaties to follow he had hoped a great arbitral court could be established.

"That was my dream," he said. "We negotiated the first two treaties with England and France and then I awoke. It is bound to come, however, because progress in this direction can not be defeated. I hope not, in spite of this nightmare that the senate gave power"

Mr. Taft concluded his address with an eulogy of the Jewish character and Jewish philanthropies which, he said, were the most nearly perfect because the people and race stand together, that the race may live.

This opposition of the doctors to the scheme of state insurance was based on the amount to be paid for their services which they declare is too small.

LIBERAL LEADER SPEAKS ON TAX REFORM

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BRIGHT, Ont., Jan. 19.—At a well-attended meeting here last night Mr. Rowell spoke on the question of tax reform from the standpoint of the farmer and from the standpoint of the settler in New Ontario. The basic feature of the speech was to give municipalities a measure of discretion in the non-taxation of the products of industry. The present assessment law was a detriment to the improvement of the farm. The province was today spending hundreds of thousands of dollars a year to encourage people to make farm conditions more attractive and more remunerative in order to keep down the decline of rural population, and when improvements were made penalized a man by raising his assessment. "A lower rate on improvements than on land offers some encouragement or removes some of the discouragement upon industry," said Mr. Rowell.

MINE ON FIRE TRAIN IN RAVINE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Jan. 19.—One man was injured, three killed and between $80,000 and $100,000 worth of property destroyed by a fire at Cotton Coal mine at Stockett, owned by the Great Northern railway. The fire started on Saturday and was still raging at an early hour this morning. The man killed and three men who were injured were members of a wrecking crew which hurried from this city by train to the fire to try to save part of the railway property. The trestle over which the speeding train was passing, gave way and the cars were precipitated into the ravine below. One hundred and twenty tons of coal in the bunkers caught fire from spontaneous combustion and it will put many men out of employment.

DEATHS WERE ACCIDENTAL

PROVINCIAL LIBRARY 1-1-13

Jury's Finding in Edgewood Fire Tragedy

RIFLE LAY UNDER CORPSE OF MAN

Coal Oil Can Found Nearby. Woman Was Bride of Five Months Only

"The bodies we have viewed and on which we have heard the evidence were those of Angus Macintosh and Beatrice Macintosh, and their deaths were due to accidental causes, namely, the house in which they were living did catch fire and they were smothered by the smoke and fumes and the flames, originating accidentally did contribute to the cause of death."

Above was the verdict of the coroner's jury which on Saturday held an inquisition into the death of Mr. and Mrs. Macintosh who lost their lives in a fire which destroyed their house at Edgewood early on Friday morning. Dr. Mossman of Nakusp was the coroner and the jurymen were: H. York, B. W. Bull, W. S. Johnson, Joe De Gans, H. Hopp and H. Freset. Witnesses called were: Miss C. De Gans, Miss H. De Gans, J. Rollins, C. Rollins, S. Simcock, W. J. Banting and J. McLeod. John T. Black, chief provincial constable for this district, was present at the proceedings.

It was shown by the evidence that Mr. Macintosh was last seen at 8.15 o'clock on Thursday evening and Mrs. Macintosh at 5 o'clock. The fire occurred between 2.30 and 3.30 on Friday morning.

The house was a small one-story building containing a kitchen and two bedrooms. Mrs. Macintosh's body was found in the southwest corner of a bedroom and was badly burned. She was lying on the springs of the bed with part of a heavy floor mat covering the body. Mr. Macintosh's body was found in the kitchen between the cooking stove and the heating stove, and was also badly burned. Apparently he had been fully dressed. There was a large empty coal oil can within easy reach. Under his body was a 22 calibre rifle, containing an empty shell, distinctly marked by the firing pin.

Two men who first saw the fire looked carefully round the house for fresh tracks, but found none. Their object at the time was to see if the occupants of the house had left the building.

Mr. Macintosh is supposed to have come from Nova Scotia. He was about 40 years of age. Mrs. Macintosh was a daughter of Mr. Berry of West Robson, and was about 18 years of age.

The couple had been married only five months.

TAFT WANTS TO HOLD PHILIPPINES

Denounces Bill Proposing to Grant Independence in Eight Years—Mess and Muss.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—President Taft in a speech at the Ohio dinner tonight came out strongly against the bill before congress providing for independence for the Philippines in eight years.

He said: "The passage of this bill would make a mess and muss that would return to plague the men responsible for it in 25 years."

"Is it possible?" the president asks, " that little as this democratic administration knows about the Philippines they are going to let them go and defeat our efforts to raise and educate the Philipine people? Is it possible that it is going to do that with no foundation whatever and without the approval of somebody who knows the islands? I hope not. Possibly I am interested in the case but I am interested chiefly in the Philippines."

With the exception of $3,000,000 that has been appropriated to relieve famine, said the president, not a cent has been given by the United States for the civil government of the islands in the whole period of American administration. In two or three generations the islands would be in such shape that they would be given independence, but why do it now, he asked.

Information was received by Superintendent Walker late yesterday and in company with the other officials he went down to Count de l' Isle where the main was being held in a motor boat factory. Upon the appearance of the officials there was a stampede for the exits and the eight low windows in the building were used as means of escape. Outside the building there were four rigs and two large touring cars and as many as could scramble into these drove off while the others made themselves scarce in the open country but not before some 20 names of local residents were taken. These men were ordered to appear at the office of the society tomorrow when action will be taken against them.

Curtis, H. L. Fife, Malcolm Cameron, J. Tipping and D. S. McVannel a rather lively meeting closed with cheers for A. Madden and the council.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. H. L. Stevinson gave her first at home in the Presbyterian manse. A charming tea was served, among those entertained being Mesdames J. A. Anderson, George B. Garrett, J. Rae, J. Law, P. Swan, E. J. Grant and Walter Clough.

On Friday evening a very successful at home was held in the lodge room of the I. O. O. F. The guests assembled at 8 o'clock, among those present being Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderosn, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stevinson, Mr. and Mrs. P. Swan, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pinchbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clough, Mr. and Mrs. H. Nye, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cottrill, Mr. and Mrs. R. Graham The feature of the evening was progressive whist and an exceedingly well managed series of games was played till 11:30, when the prizes were awarded. Miss Katie Binish won the ladies' first prize, a handsome gold brooch, and P. Swan carried off the gentlemen's prize, a very good fountain pen. The booby prizes were won by Mrs. Binish and Frank Binish. A guessing competition was also held, Mrs. Walter Clough obtaining the prize. Lunch was then served, music also being supplied under the management of J. Buckholz. After the final selection, a special lodge number, the guests dispersed, many of them, however, reassembling in the Odd Fellow's hall, where dancing was indulged in for some hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McNeish of Slocan City, left Slocan for Nelson by the train on Wednesday.

ENJOYABLE EVENING SPENT AT SLOCAN JUNCTION DANCE

(Special to The Daily News.)

SLOCAN JUNCTION, Jan. 19.—The dance given on Thursday evening in aid of the hall funds was a decided success, the number present was not as large as anticipated owing to the bad state of the roads. Upwards of 50 people were present and had a splendid time. The music was provided by Mr. Rylet, while R. I. M. Power made a very able floor manager. A puzzling and amusing contest took place during the evening, the prize being won by Miss Dorothy Bealby. A stall of home-made candy in charge of Mrs. O. W. Humphrey and Miss N. Paterson, assisted by Miss Janet Patey, occupied a corner of the hall and was generously patronized. A coffee supper was served at 11:30, after which dancing was continued till the early hours.

Mrs. Muench returned from Spokane on Tuesday.

Miss Dorothy Bealby of Welland Ranch, was a guest of Mrs. R. I. M. Power for the dance.

Mrs. J. Tarry of Tarrys, spent Thursday at the junction on a visit to Mrs. Power.

Miss K. Horner of Nelson, was a guest of Mrs. O. W. Humphrey for the dance.

Great progress is now being made by P. Gallagher with his pole contract. At one time it looked as though he would have to shut down owing to the deep snow in the hills, but he now has 10 men and two teams at work, which, together with the good condition of the roads, is enabling him to get large quantities accumulated at the siding ready for shipment.

It has been decided to re-organize the Minuet club of this settlement and a meeting will be held on Tuesday evening at 7:30, at the home of Mrs. O. W. Humphrey, to arrange details. All interested are invited to be present.

EDGEWOOD NOTES

(Special to The Daily News.)

EDGEWOOD, B. C., Jan. 19.—The usual fortnightly dance in connection with the Social club was held in the Banting hall. It was well patronized and an enjoyable evening took place.

Preparations are being made for a Sunday school social in Fire Valley. A meeting of the ladies has been called to meet at the Dairy ranch to discuss and arrange matters.

Miss Betty Timaeus has been sick with a bad touch of the grippe for the past three days and has been unable to carry her school duties.

Messrs. Boothly and Schepmaker are both busy getting out logs on the Nash ranch along the lake shore.

In addition to the usual steamers the steamer Rossland, under Capt. Wright, is making daily calls here, bringing passengers and freight. This is a decided advance on last year's winter steamer schedule.

On Sunday last Miss McLennen entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lanyon and family and Rev. Mr. Donaldson at dinner.

Rev. M. Montgomery is at present in Nelson attending a church conference.

After the usual choir practice next Friday evening a vestry meeting is called, at which all male members of the Church of England are expected.

YMIR MINERS UNION HALL OPENED WITH BALL

(Special to The Daily News.)

YMIR, B. C., Jan. 19.—The Miners' union gave a ball in their hall, the occasion being the opening of their new hall after the enlargement and improvement of the structure generally. A Nelson orchestra supplied the music, and it was the best Ymir has listened to for some time. With the enlarged floor space, the best of ballroom music and a large attendance, everybody had a splendid time; the only regrets appeared to be that there came a time when they had to stop. Supper was furnished by J. M. Gille, of the Vancouver.

The many friends of Percy Gleazer, formerly a pioneer of Ymir, but later a citizen of Nelson, learn with sincere sorrow and regret of his passing away. Mr. Gleazer was formerly a member of the Masonic lodge here, and many of the fraternity of Ymir, Salmo and Erie were in attendance at the funeral, which was held at Nelson, under the auspices of the A.F. and A.M. lodge at that place.

The Knights of Pythias will install their officers for the ensuing term next Monday night; all members in good standing are earnestly requested to be in attendance, as there will be much other work demanding attention.

Alfred Clark, who has been out of commission during the past month with an injured foot, is again able to resume his duties.

D. MacEachern is getting out a number of cars of piling which, is being shipped to Montana for the Great Northern railway, who are using it for construction purposes.

Mrs. William Clark is suffering from a severe cold, being confined to the house.

Ivan DeLashmutt spent a few days in Spokane this week on business in connection with the Hobson Silver Lead company, of which he is superintendent.

A. A. Strong and family of Northport have taken up their residence in town, occupying the Winslow cottage. Mr. Strong is acting as foreman of section No. 12.

NAME OF STATION CHANGED TO COLUMBIA GARDENS

(Special to The Daily News.)

COLUMBIA GARDENS, Jan. 19.—Through the influence of the local Farmers' institute and a petition signed by the residents of the community the officials of the Great Northern railway have considerately changed the name of our station from Sayward to Columbia Gardens. The change was put into effect on Tuesday, Jan. 14, and express as well as mail will henceforth be addressed to Columbia Gardens. Many annoying disappointments will be avoided now, for in the past much of the mail has gone to Sayward, near Victoria.

Miss Helen Terry of Boundary, who arrived here on Monday to see her friend Miss Dunton, left on Tuesday for Spokane, where she expects to make her future home.

E. Paule left for Victoria as a delegate from the local Farmers' institute.

The Farmers' institute met at the Sayward hotel for the purpose of choosing their delate to be sent to Victoria.

BANQUE INTERNATIONALE CASE WILL BE RE-OPENED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.—In a judgment handed down his honor Judge Leet decided that the case with regard to the application of certain Paris shareholders of the Banque Internationale du Canada against the officials of the bank for making alleged false returns to the government should be reopened and evidence heard on behalf of the bank officials.

"Recently I have been waited upon by eminent counsel representing the bank who have asked me to reopen the enquete," said Judge Leet, after briefly reviewing the case and declaring that a delay, so far as he could see, would not prejudice either party in the public interest.

In reviewing the case Judge Leet said: "I came to the conclusion that the facts disclosed were quite sufficient to justify the laying of the information that a warrant should issue at once, not only against Mr. Bird, but all the others who had signed the returns. That would not have meant that a commitment would have resulted, much less a conviction, but it would no doubt have been the easiest and simplest thing for me to have done, and thus have disembarrassed myself of the matter."

REVELATIONS OF ARSON TRUST

Self-Confessed Firebug Says Thousand Persons Asked Him to Set Fires.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Additions to the striking revelations of the extent to which arson for profit is carried on in this city furnished by Izzy the Painter, the convicted firebug informer, were made by him to the district attorney, whose office spent a busy Sunday preparing for the examination of witnesses in "the arson trust" investigation tomorrow, when more indictments may be returned.

Izzy, who is formally known as Izador Stein, continues to tell of fires that he made throughout the city, giving facts and circumstances with the greatest detail and accuracy, says a statement from Attorney Wellert tonight. The accuracy of so many of Stein's statements as shown by comparison with the official records, is gratifying to the prosecution, as making easier the task of securing the necessary corroborative evidence against men "higher up" in the trust.

"Stein says that more than 1000 people have asked him to make fires for them," the statement adds. "Stein says that while standing on the street corner two or three people each day would ask him to make a fire for them. In one case a man told Stein that he wanted to have a fire, but that he could not have it until the following week because he wanted to move out his new piano. Accordingly, the piano was moved out and Stein went ahead on the job."

ARSON TRADE WELL ORGANIZED

Detectives Find Basements Filled With Excelsior and Floors Drenched in Oil

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—With the indictment of Joseph Clark, for an alleged attempt to bribe an assistant state's attorney not to prosecute an arson case, as a test, A. A. Batch, chief deputy fire marshal told a remarkable story of organized insendiarism. Ten per cent of Chicago's fires are incendiaries, Batch said.

"There are three men in Chicago known as insurance adjusters who often get to fires before the firemen. They sleep with their clothes on, have automobiles in readiness and, receiving tips that a fire is about to be started, are on their way almost before an alarm comes in. The adjusters do not actually start fires themselves; they employ men to do that—men who actually solicit the business. The adjusters make their money by adjusting the losses. They offer bribes to detectives frequently, but never when there is a witness present thus leaving it one man's word against another. Often we are informed days in advance of when fires are to be started. In that way we are able to prevent many blazes. In many instances we have had detectives watching buildings that have been marked for the torch. We have had tips that have led up to buildings with the basement filled with excelsior, the floor saturated with oil and the stock packed in combustible material.

All that we could do was to notify the insurance companies and have the insurance cancelled. In such cases the fires were not started. It is possible for anyone to get a building fired in Chicago. Charges vary, according to the magnitude of the fire. For large fires the charge is one per cent. I do not know of a single conviction for arson in Chicago in the last 18 months.

FORBES ROBERTSON'S FAREWELL TOUR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Forbes Robertson celebrated his 60th birthday yesterday and will now begin what will practically be his last year on the stage. After a farewell American tour which begins next September, he intends leading a quiet life and "will go back to my painting and playing with my children," as he told a friend recently.

Disappointment among playgoers and the public generally was pronounced when the famous actor's name failed to appear among the New Year's list of honors for knighthood, which public opinion had generally slated for him. Mr. Robertson spent his birthday rehearsing "Hamlet" for a coming Drury Lane production.

Forestry Column

J. B. Knapp of the United States forest service, has been investigating fire killed Douglas fir, with a view to ascertaining to what extent the trees which are left standing on a burned-over tract may be used. He finds that insects get into the wood and render it valueless after a time, but in general within a short period after the fire, the wood is slightly weaker, but may safely be used for general construction purposes and that its merits are nearly, if not quite, equal to those of material from green, growing trees. It should be emphasized, however, that these results apply only to sound wood. Pieces showing indications of decay, whether cut from green or from dead trees, should be rigidly excluded where strength or durability is important.

Logging and milling, owing to the uncertainty of defective fire killed trees, is more uncertain and expensive and there is the danger to the saw of stones which become embedded in the soft wood exposed to the rocky ground over which logs are skidded.

Bridge stringers of fire-killed wood are somewhat less strong than green stringers; while the floor joints (of both kinds of wood) are about equal in strength. In stiffness, the fire-killed wood is fully equal to green wood for all sizes tested.

* * *

The Western Canada Irrigation association, meeting in Victoria last week, took up the matter of protection of forests around the headwaters of streams. There was a strong feeling among the members that the maintenance of a woodland cover on the mountains was the only real solution of the problem of constant water supply, on which the growing fruit industry depends. Where water is high in the spring and low in the hot summer months, it was urged, there is no real chance given to the land to yield the crops of which it is capable. It has been proven time and again that with the forest there is a steadiness in run-off, and a general increase in the amount of water. The forest protects snow from the rays of the sun, holds moisture in the soft mulch cover, and through old roots and the loosened ground, transfers water from surface to sub-surface drainage and prevents evaporation.

In the case of the Tennessee River in the United States, whose headwater forests have been devastated, has been found that in twenty-four years the increase in floods in proportion to the flood-producing rains is about 10 p cent.

The damage wrought by this crease is greatly out of proportion the excessive waterflow. Losses many millions are wrought annua by floods, destroying the works many years, and the utility of s which has been carefully preserv through irrigation.

European countries are spendi millions annually in an effort to ma fertile many valleys which are present being subject alternately deluge and drought, and consequen utterly unfit for agriculture.

If the province of British Columb is to maintain the lead which she h already attained in fruit producing, is essential that no fires be allow to lick the one retentative influen the forest, off the mauntain slopes.

As a result of many urgent deman from fruit growers in the Okanag valley, the firest branch has determ ed that a very strict patrol shall maintained during the dry month and the fire protection branch of t Dominion railway commission has sued an order for more efficient trols along the lines of railways.

VANDERERS HAVE EASY VICTORY

Torontos Defeated in Poor Exhibition —Ice Covered With Water and Slush.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.—Wanderers, Toronto, 1. On ice that was covered with water and slush the Wanderers had little difficulty in proving themselves a better band of hockey players than those brought from Toronto by Manager Hidpath. The locals assumed the lead early in the game and held their opponents well in hand at all stages. At times Torontos made display of bursts of speed in end-to-end rushes, only to terminate in unsuccessful efforts to land one past Boyes. The visiting line was always kept well outside the local defence, which prevented their chance of getting clear shots. The game was a poor exhibition of hockey, due largely to the condition of the ice. It was next to impossible either to control the puck or to make the usual rushes which are the feature of the six-man game. Combination play was out of the question almost at all times and the locals excelled at individual rushes. Line up:

Wanderers.	Position.	Torontos.
Boyes		Marchand.
	Goal.
Ross		Marshall.
	Point.
J. Cleghorn		Cameron.
	Cover.
Hyland		Davidson.
	Wing.
Russell		Foystem.

O. Cleghorn		Neighbors.

Changes—First period: Wilson for Foysten. Second period: Foysten for Wilson; Currie for Russell; S. Russell for Hyland; Wilson for Foysten. Third period: Hyland for Currie; Currie for Hyland; Ross for Miller; Foysten for Wilson.

Penalties—Wanderers: Russell, one minor, 1 major $25; Hyland, 2 minors; O. Cleghorn, 2 minors; Currie, 1 minor; Ross, 1 minor. Torontos: Davidson, 1 major; Cameron, 1 minor; Marshall, 1 minor; Wilson, 1 major. The summary—First period: 1, Wanderers, Hyland, 7:00; 2, Wanderers, Hyland, 12:30. Second period: 3, Wanderers, S. Cleghorn, 5:45. Third period: 4, Toronto, Gunn, 19:43.

BREAKS FROM EASTERN UNION

Western Canada Rugby Union Severs Connection With East—Will Formulate New Rules.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

REGINA, Sask., Jan. 19.—As a protest against the attitude of the Eastern Rugby authorities the Western Canada Rugby union, at its session here on Saturday night, decided to break away from the Canadian Rugby union, formulate playing rules of its own and altogether ignore the self-appointed eastern Rugby authorities. A western Canada Rugby union rule book will be published containing the playing rules and other data, including the constitution and by-laws of the three unions. This radical action came as a result of the attitude of the east toward western Rugby men during the past two years. The refusal of the Canadian union to consider the suggestions made by the Alberta union being the immediate cause of the drastic action. The rules under which the Western Canada union will play will be but slightly changed this year from those of the Canadian union. They will be merely a revision of the present rules with the redundancies and contradictions removed. However, this does not signify that the Western Canada union is unwilling to break from the beaten track as far as rules are concerned, but it was thought advisable for the first year to devote the energies to the perfection of the organization of the union rather than to the details of the game. It was decided to adopt the following schedule, which would cover three years and would assure all provinces of at least one game, 1913 Alberta at Saskatchewan, Manitoba at winner; 1914 Manitoba at Alberta, Saskatchewan at winner, 1915 Saskatchewan at Manitoba, Alberta at winner. The setting of dates and the places of playing next year's games caused a very warm discussion. Alberta thought that at least one of the games should be assured for Edmonton. H. Hellinger was chosen president of the Western Canada union for 1913 and the place of the next annual meeting was fixed for Calgary. Murray Thomson was elected secretary-treasurer. Another action which is of considerable importance was the decision to have a fixed sum guaranteed to each team for transportation.

PHOENIX WINNER OF STRENUOUS GAME

Fast and Clean Match Arouses Enthusiasm of Spectators—Score Eleven to Five.

(Special to The Daily News.)

PHOENIX, B. C., Jan. 19.—Phoenix's big rink was again well packed with spectators to witness the second senior game of the Boundary series here on Friday and they goth their money's worth.

The ice was keen and fast, being suitable for both teams, but Greenwood's supporters, about 30, were fewer than expected.

The game was free from dirty work, only two men being penalized during the entire match.

Play started at 9.40, Phoenix winning the toss and defended the east goal. After four minutes of play, McKilvey notched the first score for Phoenix and the big crowd went wild.

Both teams were checking back hard and the puck traveled from end to end several times when McKilvey once more penetrated the nets with a neat pass from Davidson. The score stood 4-2 at the end of the first 20 minute period, with Phoenix pressing them hard and fairly bombarding McDonald who was net guardian for the visitors.

The second period opened fast with clean hard checking but Phoenix had the edge, running the score up to seven, the best Greenwood could do was to score once.

The last period lagged considerably, both teams showing the effect of the strenuous play in the earlier stages of the game, but Phoenix landed home four more scores while the Smeltar burg beat Taylor with two close shots.

Lang, the usual net watcher, was indisposed but Taylor played a sensational game, turning away many a likely looking one.

Neal and Davidson on the defence played their usual strong game, both making some splendid individual rushes which resulted in tallies.

McKilvey, in centre, played a strong game, always on the puck and getting away invariably with the face-off. Sayres and Stamway, on the wings, both played hard clean games and Bassett shone at rover.

Neither side played much combination, relying too much on individual rushes, but the Greenwood team is hardly fast enough and far from being in condition.

Russell and McDonald played excellently for Greenwood but could not stand the pace. The lineup:

Referee—T. S. McQuance.

Penalties—McDonald, 3 minutes; Neil, 3 minutes.

Intermediate Game.

The intermediate game between Phoenix and Greenwood in the latter town on Jan. 16, resulted in favor of Phoenix by 11-4.

LARGE CROWD TO GO TO TRAIL

Nelson Team Will Be Supported by Many Rooters at Smelter City Wednesday—Practice Tonight.

Nelson senior hockey team will have a bigger bunch of rooters at the game at Trail on Wednesday than at any other match on foreign ice this season, the reservations for the special train which is to take the supporters of the local seven to the smelter city having been heavy.

Much of the interest in this match is due to the fact that if the Nelson team wins it will have cinched the championship of the West Kootenay division of the West Kootenay-Boundary league.

SLOCAN, B. C., Jan. 19.—The annual meeting of the Slocan hockey club was held on Tuesday evening in the parlor of the Slocan hotel, Slocan City. The meeting was very well attended, the president, D. Garrett was chosen for president. The new secretary is Adolph Beck, and William Hicks was chosen to be captain and manager of the team. QUEBEC BEATS TECUMSEHS IN WHIRLWIND GAME

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Jan. 19.—Saturday night's game at the arena in which Quebec won from Tecumseh by 4-2, suited the fans better than any other national association game seen here this season. There was a perfect playing surface for the teams and the pace was terrific all the way. The score at the end of the first period was one all, while the Indians were in front at the expiration of the second period, 2-1. Quebec ran away from the Tecumsehs in the last 10 minutes of the final period, scoring three goals and blanking the Indians. As in many of their former defeats it was speed that beat the locals, the ancient capitals had speed all over the ice. Vair and Throop were the only members of Nicholson's team who had "foot" enough to check back effectively with the easterners. The Stanley cup champions opened a barrel of speed right at the beginning and kept on handing it to the Tecumsehs steadily until the latter wilted on end and Quebec apparently a beaten team, emerged with a two goal lead. The lineup:

Referee—Dr. W. G. Wood, Toronto.

Judge of play—Johnny Brennan, Montreal.

Summary: First period—1, Tecumseh, H. McNamara, 1:00. Second period—2, T. Smith, Quebec, 2:45; 3, Tecumseh, H. Smith, 16.00. Third period—4, Quebec, Malone, 12:00; 5, Quebec, Malone, 3:00; 6, Quebec, Crawford, 2:00. Substitutes—First period, none; second period, Fifiton for Vair; Strike for Smith; third period, Vair for Strike, Throop for Vair.

OTTAWAS BADLY BEATEN

(By Daily News Leased Wir.

OTTAWA, Jan. 19.—George Kennedy's Canadiens gave the Ottawas the worst beating they have ever sustained on their own ice in last night's match at the arena. The playing surface was slushy and the condition it was calculated would suit Ottawa but the Canadiens won by 6-0. Summary: First period—1, Canadiens, Smith, 17:00. Second period—2, Canadiens, Payan, 5:30; 3, Canadiens, Pitre, 5:30. Third period—5, Canadiens, Pitre, 5:30; 6, Canadiens, Pitre, 6:30.

Poultry Keeping in the Kootenays

Co-Operative Marketing of Eggs

(By W. N. Scott, Trail, B. C.)

The following was prepared specifically as an address to the West Kootenay Poultry association, but as the problem under discussion touches many poultry men not identified with this association I have been requested to put it in permanent form. The subject is surely one of vital interest to every producer of eggs. Your local conditions are peculiar. Nelson, as the largest and most central city of the Kootenays, surrounded on all sides by a ranching community, naturally becomes the central market for ranch products. We use the term "market" in a general sense as the "market quotations of Nelson are not formulated on the exchange or the curb, but are based solely upon the local supply and demand in which the producer has practically no voice or part. I see no logical reason why a body of intelligent men, producing a staple household necessity should be compelled to ask any merchant "What are you giving for eggs?" any more than you would expect a wholesaler to ask a merchant "What are you paying for sugar today."

The problem of advantageously marketing eggs is a large one and is becoming more so every year, as the number of hens kept in the district is increasing probably five times as fast as the egg consuming population.

Co-operation—magic word. Its in the air just now. It is the slogan of the board of trade.

"Get together"—That's easy.

"Stick together"—Sure, we will, if there are not too many* stuck on themselves."

"Work together"—Aye, there's the rub. We may rapturously sing "Work for the Night is Coming," but night throws her mantle of repose over workers, shirkers and jerkers alike.

Co-operation—An ideal social state where everybody gets the benefit and the secretary does the work, gratis—on Sunday afternoons. I refer, of course, to co-operative buying of foods and poultrymen's supplies as already carried on by our local poultry association.

Co-operative marketing is a vastly larger and more complex proposition. In buying feed, it is sold to the rancher before it is ordered from the milling companies. It is graded, bagged and delivered for a specified sum, with no loss in shipment or commissions to pay. In co-operative marketing our problems are manifold. We have to meet a four-fold competition, viz: Eastern eggs, cold storage, imported fresh. Local product of unassociated producers. Several poultrymen have suggested that we cater to the coast markets of Vancouver and Victoria. Under present conditions such a proposition is absolutely out of the question. The Cowichan creamery on Vancouver Island have a very thorough and extensive egg collecting and marketing association. The eggs are collected daily, dated, graded, packed in attractive cartons and placed direct without commission in the best markets of Vancouver and Victoria by the association's paid manager. In spite of this, while it has vastly improved prices, still the average price received last year was only 39c a dozen, from which was deducted 4½c a dozen for operating expenses.

The express on eggs from here will cost 6½c a dozen to Vancouver and 7½c to Victoria, plus 1½c a dozen for crates. When loss through breakage and commission is paid it will be readily seen that it is utterly unworkable for the Kootenay producer.

The only solution apparent at present seems to be a better grip of the home market. Can we get it? How far will the board of trade stand by their slogan of "Co-operation" and "Get together"?

If the Kootenay egg producers will guarantee to deliver the goods all the year round, will the merchant guarant to cut out importing cold storage eastern and Washington eggs?

It would be only fair to the merchant if this were done that the egg producers should cut out private custom and contract delivery, and market only through the regular association channels. The poultrymen and fruit growers of this district are very closely identified in their interests, in fact both interests are generally represented in each rancher. The Kootenay Fruit Growers union is struggling to get on its feet. It will get there eventually, but I am satisfied that a widening of its name and scope and an amalgamation with the poultry interests would work out to the best interests of all. The question is too large a one to be handled by any local poultry association, as in order to be effective it must be wide enough to include in its ramifications all the individual and unassociated egg producers who ship eggs in any quantity to Nelson, whether from Robson, Slocan Valley, Fruitvale or Kootenay Lake district. There would be enough work to do to keep an efficient manager busy all the year round and income enough to pay a decent salary. The sources of income would be:

1 Commission on buying feed and rancher's supplies. In our association at Trail we save easily 50c per hen per year by co-operative buying of feed. This amounts to $50 a year to a man with a flock of only 100 hens. Would it be difficult to sell $10 shares of stock in Kootenay Fruit Growers union with such a benefit in sight? Not to mention oats chop, etc., for horse and stock feeding. The Trail association laid down a carload of chemical fertilizer last spring from Victoria and saved $12 to $20 a ton over local prices. Berry crates, apple boxes, etc., would all be bought in large quantities.

2. Commission on handling eggs. The Cowichan association made a considerable margin over former conditions after paying 4½c a dozen for operating expenses. If a flock will average 10 dozen eggs a year, it would mean 45c per hen or $45 per hundred. I am satisfied here that it wouldn't cost over half that amount by amalgamating the fruit and poultry interests, so that 5000 hens in the district would pay over $1000 a year towards a manager's salary.

3. Commission on fruit. This would run somewhat as at present only we could probably reduce the commission paid for handling the fruit. The eggs would be shipped into the headquarters of the union, inspected, graded and sold to the merchants, while small and cracked ones would sell to the bakers at a reduced price.

I heartily endorse A. T. Davis' suggestion in last Thursday's issue, re calling a representative gathering from all the districts and discussing the whole matter. The local poultry association would still find a very much needed place to fill in fostering the fancy and exhibition phase of the industry.

The whole crux of the situation, however, is this: Can we find a man big enough to handle it? We could afford a decent salary to the right man. Such a man must know three things.

First—He must know fruit and market conditions.

Second—He must know poultry and its bye-products.

Third—He must know when to hold his tongue.

Poultry men are not supersensitive and are game to take their medicine, but we would warmly resent the first time we ran into a competitive snag to be told, "That Washington hens laid earlier than those in British Columbia.

"That Washington eggs were superior in pack and grade to the British Columbia product, and

"That the poor British Columbia poultry man was being crushed by the ruthless competition of American (hen) fruit."

GET TOGETHER AND ACHIEVE SUCCESS.

Some time ago The Daily News introduced a series of weekly articles on poultry keeping as one of its regular features, the writer being Mr. W. N. Scott of Trail, one of the best authorities on this subject in British Columbia. Since doing so ample evidence has been furnished that the articles have been appreciated. The articles have dealt with problems of direct and special interest to poultry-keepers in Kootenay and the Boundary.

But interesting and valuable as has been the series up to the present, the article contained in to-day's issue deals with a matter which deserves special consideration at the hands of those engaged in poultry raising. It is the application of the principle of co-operation to the business in which they are engaged. The benefits of this in marketing are clearly pointed out by Mr. Scott.

Not only this, but he points out the manner in which the principle should be applied through an organization which would also handle the fruit crop of the district. All that is necessary is that the fruit growers and the poultry raisers get together and perfect an organization that will not represent any one section, but that will embrace all parts of Kootenay and the Boundary. There should be no difficulty in this, for practically all those engaged in poultry raising are also fruit growers, although by no means all fruit growers are engaged in poultry raising as however, they might well be.

Following the suggestion of Mr. A. T. Davis of Mirror Lake in a recent letter published in The Daily News, and in keeping with Mr. Scott's ideas, why should not a meeting of the representative fruit growers and poultry raisers of Kootenay and the Boundary be held at some central point to form a marketing organization that would serve the interests of the whole district? Only by those engaged therein getting together can these two branches of agriculture be made the success which they should be.

M. MILLERAND'S PART.

M. Millerand's part in the latest turn of French politics lends itself to hostile interpretation, says an exchange. Having ordered the reinstatement of Paty de Clam in the territorial forces as an alleged act of justice, he is said to have become suddenly aware that his action might prove embarrassing to the presidential candidacy of his ministerial chief, M. Poincare, and so he hastened to resign. But it is rather difficult to imagine that the astute M. Millerand awoke to the consequences of his course only after the harm was done. Certainly, the reinstatement of Paty de Clam, after waiting for so many years, might have waited five days more until the presidential election was out of the way. Whatever may be the inner meaning of the incident, it is a coincidence that the minister who has finally been impelled to do a kindness to the enemy of Captain Dreyfus, is the man who as a Socialist entered the cabinet of "republican concentration" organized in 1899 by Waldeck-Rousseau in the full storm of the Dreyfus controversy. Since then M. Millerand has gravitated steadily from Socialism towards Conservatism, until, in the office of minister of war, which he has just laid down, he has shown himself as drastic a supporter of the military ideal as any opponent of Socialism could desire. Plotting the trajectory of a politician is more difficult in France than in any other country under the parliamentary system.

This Day in Canadian History

Fourteen years ago today, after a long and stormy voyage, the Transatlantic liner Lake Huron steamed into Halifax harbor with what was said to be "the largest number of immigrants (2,073 all told) ever brought at one time to an American port." The new arrivals—a picturesque company of men in sheepskin coats, and women and children with gay skirts and bright-colored shawls shawls about their heads—belonged to that Quaker-like, war-hating Russian sect, the Doukhobors. Originally drawn together in the eighteenth century "by the conviction that it is unlawful for Christians to shed blood," they had suffered persecution for their resistance to conscription. After a period of comparative laxity, they had been aroused to fresh fervour about 1895, and had endured flogging and imprisonment rather than perform military service. In 1898, however, through an appeal to the dowager empress, they had obtained permission to emigrate. Tolstoi and others had interested themselves in their case, the famous writer contributing towards expenses a sum of $17,000 from the sale of his books, and so, early in 1899, the first large company of these simple, earnest people greeted our shores with songs of hope and praise, and journeyed westward to build on the prairies their strange community villages, and (sometimes) to perplex the authorities with their strange ways.

COMMUNICATION

THE NAVAL QUESTION

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir,—I see the supporters of the Laurier amendment to the government naval proposal are making a strong appeal to the more selfish side of Canadian manhood—a Canadian navy built and manned, as far as possible, in Canada, and stationed on Canadian coasts. Nothing else would be befitting to Canadian manhood, etc.

The whole argument against the Borden policy of immediate financial aid hangs upon a bold denial of any emergency. Sir Wilfrid, in his speech introducing the amendment to the government proposal, was very careful to deny the existence of anything like an emergency. His language is very strong. He said: "There is no immediate danger; there is no prospective danger. If there was an emergency; if England were in danger—no, I will not use that expression. I will not say, if England were in danger, but simply, if England were on trial withone or two, or more of the great powers of Europe, my right honorable friend might come down and ask, not $35,000,000, but twice, three times, four times $35,000,000. We would put at the disposal of England all the resources of Canada; there would not be a single dissentient voice."

How Laurierish that sounds.

That an emergency exists some of the greatest men of the day believe. Captain Mahan of the American navy, a man of wide repute as an authority on naval strategy, says: "War may break out at any moment between Germany and England by an attack from Germany." (Literary Digest, March 2, 1912). Lord Roberts if os the same opinion. Surely the opinion of so independent and capable an observer as Captain Mahan should carry more weight than that of Sir Wilfrid, who is so personally interested in taking an opposite view. I have watched for years with growing interest, the development of Germany on the sea. Years ago, I remember reading with surprise in the "Review of Reviews" of the very successful efforts of Germany to build up her merchant service and of how she wrested from England the record for speed upon the Atlantic. This was the base for her debut as a naval power, and what rapid strides she has made since then. Her present program calls for 60 dreadnoughts on the north sea.

Four years ago Sir Wilfrid said he believed the intentions of Germany were peaceful. But would you like to risk the empire upon such a belief?

The Germans are human, intensely human and of the noblest attribute of humanity is ambition they are a preeminently noble race. Their ambition has built up the greatest military organization in the world. It is a wonderful pacifier. It has certainly helped to keep the peace of Europe. But how? By shaking the "mailed fist" in the face of any power that stood in the way.

Britain has in some cases stood a little in the way owing to her supremacy on the sea. Germany would now challenge that supremacy, and she is now straining every resource of a well-organized and compact empire, backed by two powerful allies, to wrest from England her naval supremacy. When she gets her 60 dreadnoughts on the north sea it will indeed be the German ocean. By that time England with the help of her colonies, may have more of these vessels, many more, but if the Laurier strategy prevails they will be scattered on all the coasts of the vast British Empire. Surely the heart of the empire is the key to the whole. Let any rival become supreme on the North sea and the heart of our empire would be at her mercy. One deadly thrust there and the empire would fall into many third or fourth rate powers, each with its fleet unit or two. If Canada wants to maintain her boasted autonomy she is very vitally interested in what is taking place in the North sea, much more so than in anything that is likely to take place on our own coasts. I think all will give Mr. Borden credit for honesty. He went to England to confer with the admiralty who are surely the best informed on this question. If he is honest he is now acting upon their advice and with their backing and he now seeks the backing of parliament and the Canadian people. Can we not trust him?

Now, what objection should we make to borrowing the money in the money market from which most of the funds come for the development of our resources and handing it over to the British admiralty who are by long odds the most capable agent to lay it out so that it will go furthest in the defence of the empire. This would be but a fair and long-delayed help to the British taxpayer in bearing the burden not only of his own but of our defence. A burden that is ever growing heavier owing to the ambition of Germany. Actual warfare does not yet exist, but a war of endurance does exist and grows keener every day. Did not Sir Wilfrid say that if England were put to the test by one, two or three of the powers of Europe. Mr. Borden would come down with four times $35,000,000, and there would be no dissenting voice.

England is being put to the test by the greatest military power of Europe backed by two allies, and Sir Wilfrid shuts his eyes to the fact and repudiates his loyalty from the house top. How like Sir Wilfrid.

I never before realized to what an extent party prejudice can blind the eyes and sear the conscience. They make their appeal to Canadian manhood. Shame on the Canadian manhood that would deny effective aid under the excuse of autonomy. Shame on the Canadian manhood that would tie a string to its aid, saying the money must be spent in Canada and on vessels placed on our shores where no danger threatens.

Shame on the Canadian manhood that would let the British taxpayer continue to bear the whole burden of the Imperial navy which is the greatest security of our autonomy.

Turkish Officers Fight.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 19.—The government has decided to convene the national assembly on Tuesday in order to take the Balkan situation under consideration. A serious quarrel occurred recently on the Turkish warships in the Dardanelles between some of the officers who were anxious to fight the Greeks and others who considered that the Turkish fleet was no match for the Greek fleet. Blows were exchanged and before the quarrel was settled 15 officers were wounded.

The trouble arose through the circulation of a manifesto signed "The Women of Turkey," suggesting that the forts should sink the Turkish warships whose poor spirited officers always fled at the approach of the Greeks.

Turkish Fleet Intact.

*LONDON, Jan. 19.—Although the re*port came from Constantinople that another engagement between the Greek and Turkish fleets had occurred on Sunday no confirmation of this has been received, and presumably the dispatch referred to the engagement of Saturday. Some discrepancies are noticeable also in the names of the vessels engaged as another despatch announces the arrival of the cruiser Hamadieh at two o'clock on Saturday morning, and adds that after bombarding Syra she encountered two Greek cruisers off Port Said.

A Dardanelles dispatch to the Daily Mail describing Saturday's fight, says the Greek armored cruiser Gorgia Averoff first appeared and was attacked by the battleships Kheyhr-Ed-Din-Barbarossa, Torguet-Reis and Messudieh and the cruiser Medjidieh, which remained in single file with the smaller ships behind them. The Averoff twice passed in front, trying to outflank them, but was kept off by a terrific fire from the Barbarossa and Torgue-Reis. The Averoff then attacked the Barbarossa alone and one of two flagships exchanged shots, the shells falling all around them.

Seven other Greek warships were behind the Averoff, but took no part in the firing. The Turkish vessels slowly retreated toward Sedil Bahr. They continued to fire, but the Greek flagship ceased firing and rejoined the other Greek ships. More than 800 shots were exchanged, but only a few hits scored. The Turkish fleet, according to the correspondent, appears to be intact.

FERNIE MAN SENTENCED FOR ASSAULTING WIFE

(Special to The Daily News.)

FERNIE, B. C., Jan. 19.—William Charles Minton, of Fernie Annex, was sentenced by Magistrate Whimster on Monday to one month's imprisonment for an assault on his wife, who was up to a few weeks ago a resident of Calgary. Minton visited Calgary a short time since as a real estate agent, and while there became acquainted with Mrs. Ada Scott. A marriage was arranged, and Minton and his newly-made wife came to Fernie. A quarrel seems to have arisen over the presence of a son of Mrs. Minton who had come here from Calgary for a short vacation. Minton used violent tactics to support his arguments, and at the advice of friends, his wife laid a charge of assault against her husband. He was arrested by Constable Amberman on a warrant and brought before the judge, who sentenced him to one month's imprisonment with hard labor.

The special services which have been held in the Methodist church during the past week by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Dimmick, assisted by Rev. J. P. Westman of Calgary, who is the Methodist field secretary for Alberta and British Columbia under the department of Sunday school and Young Peoples' society work, have been largely attended and on the whole considered very satisfactory by those particularly interested. On Monday night, in spite of the fact that there was a municipal public meeting in the Grand theatre, as well as a hockey match in the rink, the church was crowded and a great deal of interest was manifested in the 100 or more lantern slides on Canada which Mr. Westman displayed before the audience. On Friday Mr. Westman gave a lantern lecture on "The Making of a Canadian." Some 125 slides were shown and the short address which followed was listened to with rapt attention. Mr. Westman left on Saturday's train for Cranbrook, where he will remain over Sunday, and then proceed to Nelson, where he was formerly a pastor.

Isadore J. Barsky, alias Irving J. Barsky, who left Fernie a few days ago after, it is alleged, raising a check given him by Thomas Uphill, secretary of the U.M.W. of A., from $5.00 to $305, is wanted by a bonding company of Winnipeg. It is believed that he crossed the line on the Spokane flyer, and then went east to his home in New York.

QUEEN VICTORIA OUTPUT HEAVY

Sheep Creek Lead Producers Ship Steadily—Le Roi Ships Over Thousand Tons.

The Queen Victoria mine, near Nelson, which was recently purchased by the British Columbia Copper company from John P. Swedberg, last week made its heaviest shipment since the big Boundary company commenced operations and sent 500 tons ot Greenwood smelter.

In the Nelson district one of the features of the new year mining operations is the steady output from the Emerald and H. B. mines in the Sheep creek district. Last week the H. B. shipped 105 tons of lead carbonate ore to Trail smelter and the Emerald sent out 66 tons of silver-lead ore.

The Le Roi at Rossland again shipped over 1,000 tons.

Ore production for the week was 46,066 tons and for the year to date 117,171 tons; smelter receipts were 39,266 tons for the week and 102,654 tons for the year. Ore output and smelter receipts in detail:

The board of conciliation and investigation appointed to report upon the demand of the miners for an increase in wages has completed its work and forwarded its report to the minister of labor.

GRANBY COMPANY DECLARES DIVIDEND

Nearly Quarter Million Dollars to be Distributed—Million and Half in Treasury.

SPOKANE, Jan. 19.—The most important event in local mining circles in recent months is the resumption of dividend payments by the Granby Smelting company, announcement having been received in Spokane that the directors had declared a disbursement of 1½ per cent on the issued capitalization of 1,500,000 shares at $100 a share, which makes the amount of the dividend $225,000, to be distributed at once among the stockholders of record on January 17.

The last dividend payment prior to this was December 30, 1910, to which time the total amount distributed was $4,048,630, and the distribution of the new dividend will make the aggregate payments to date $4,273,630. It is believed by local stockholders in the company that the payments will be continued permanently, with promising possibilities of a material increase in the dividend rate in a short time.

Plan New Bond Issue.

It is believed also that the resumption of distribution of a part of the earnings of Granby will not necessitate outside assistance in financing the completion of the smelter at Granby bay and the further development of the mines at Hidden creek, but to guard against the possibility of conditions arising that will compel the enlistment of additonal capital the directors have called a meeting early in February to arrange for a bond issue and to insure its flotation in an emergency.

Granby's treasury is said to contain at present approximately $1,500,000, and the monthly earnings are averaging about $150,000. Construction of the Granby bay smelter is nearing completion rapidly and the plant will be ready to commence operations between May 15 and June 1, provided there are no unforeseen delays. Development at Hidden creek has already progressed to a point that insures ore for a number of months in advance of the smelter's needs and apparently the possibilities are remote for the need arising for more capital than the company now has available.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 19.—John P. White was re-elected president of the United Mine Workers of America over A. Bradley, by 95,668 votes. The committee which has been canvassing the vote since Dec. 13 completed its work today and made the announcement. Frank J. Hayes, of Illinois, had no opposition to re-election as vice-president. Edwin Perry of Iowa was re-elected secretary-treasurer over his two opponents, Former State Senator William Green of Ohio, and Joseph Richards, also of Ohio. Perry received 75,534 votes, Green 68,871 and Richards 20,851.

In his annual report of the activities of the United Mine Workers last year, President White criticised the West Virginia authorities for their action during the strike there. The report which will be presented at the annual convention, says: "The United Mine Workers organization is engaged in one of the bitterest struggles in the Cabin creek regions of West Virginia that probably has ever characterized our history. For brutal and inhuman treatment no industrial conflict has excelled it. Twice has martial law been established and is now in effect; shocking, indeed, are the insults to which our people are subject by the inhuman acts of the guards employed by the coal companies, the liberties guaranteed the citizens of a sovereign commonwealth under the constitution are denied. Yet, behold a great state, now second in its coal production, lending its entire military force to the coal companies to aid them in crushing the hopes and aspirations of the subterranean toilers."

MEN WHO GOVERN THE KING'S NAVY

Surprising Facts About the "Rulers of the Fleet"

Stick close to your desks and never go to sea,
And you all may be rulers of the Queen's Navee.

The merry lines of the late Sir W. S. Gilbert in "The Yeoman of the Guard" are not without point; for the First Lord of the Admiralty, the man who has practically supreme control of naval affairs, is always a cabinet minister, who has achieved his position with pen and speech, and who probably doesn't know the difference between a cruiser and a battleship.

Of course, he is assisted in his work by experts. He may be termed the figurehead of the board of admiralty, which consists of what are known as six lord commissioners—two civil or political lords and four naval or sea lords. It is the latter, of course, who form practically the advisory board to the first lord. The first naval lord, for instance, who is always an admiral of high rank and general experience, practically fills the position of commander-in-chief of the navy. He is the chief naval adviser of the first lord, and is especially responsible for the organization and distribution of the fleet for war. The second naval lord is responsible for matters appertaining to the personnel of the fleet.

Lord High Admiral

The comptroller of the navy is the naval lord charged with the supervision of the whole of the material of the navy, including the construction, repair, armament, general equipment, and upkeep of every ship in the service. He is also responsible for the administration of the dockyards and for the construction of ships and machinery by contractors and in these matters he has the assistance and advice of the director of naval construction, the engineer-in-chief of the navy, and the director of dockyards. The junior naval lord deals with transport, coaling, matters relating to pay, pensions and medals, naval prisons and collisions.

At one time the control of the navy was vested in a single person known as the lord high admiral but in 1632 an act was passed by which a navy board was formed to take over the duties of the lord high admiral. Since that time the office of the lord high admiral has only been revived on two occasions—namely, at the beginning of the eighteenth century, when Prince Consort George of Denmark held the office, and from 1827-8, when the Duke of Clarence was lord high admiral.

The arrangement of the departments of the navy board appointed to take up the duties of the lord high admiral was somewhat different from that which exists at the present time in connection with the board of admiralty, but the system of administration was practically the same. The board of admiralty as it works today was really established in 1832 by Sir James Graham.

The first lord of the admiralty receives a salary of $22,500 a year, together with a house, while the first sea lord receives in addition to naval half pay, $7,500 a year with a house. Similar salaries are paid to the second sea lord and junior sea lord, while the comptroller of the navy receives $8,750 a year.

Apart from the first sea lord, the first naval lord is the most important officer of the board of admiralty. It seems to be unquestioned that Sir James Graham was right in describing the senior naval lord as "the first naval adviser." It might be mentioned that, in addition to general direction and supervision in connection with the efficiency of the navy, the first lord of the admiralty has special charge of promotions and removals from the servivce and all matters relating to honors and rewards, as well as the appointment of further officers, captains, and other officers of the higher ranks.

Under the naval lords and other members of the board, the several branches of administration are conducted by perdmanent officers.

UPWARD MOVEMENT ON MONTREAL STOCK MARKET

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.—The general tone of the local market on Saturday was strong, prices showing an upward trend pretty well through the list and dealings for the two hours approximated those for a full day in the latter part of the week. A few specialties scored sharp advances. Lake of the Woods, the most active stock in the market, rose 4½ points to 145½, its highest price since October, 1911, and closed with a net gain of four. Tramway common advanced five points to a new high record of 170, and closed at 169½ bid, with no stock offering. Laurentide was up two points to 230, and closed at that price bid. Among the market leaders Montreal Power was in good demand and strong between 238 and 238¾ on transactions of about 1,000 shares, with the close at 240 to 238½, as compared with 238 asked and 237⅞ bid on Friday. Shawinigan, at the same time, was strong around 148. Canadian Pacific railway was quiet but higher, with the range of quotations at the close up about ½ point. There was fairly active market for the rights, with the price between 18¾ and 18. Steel was quiet and steadier and showed a gain of ¼ point for the day. Woods common, which furnished the chief trading feature of the day, moved rather erratically, rising to its highest price, 145¼, in the first 15 minutes, and then relapsing abruptly to 143 on light offerings. On light buying again the price recovered ot 145 and a fair amount of stock was met at that level. The close, however, was firm at the day's advance, with sellers asking 146 and buyers offering 145. The rest of the market was without feature of note. Total business 3,356 shares, 837 rights, 400 mining shares and $17,000 bonds and debentures. In unlisted securities 1,516 shares and $700 bonds.

TONE IS STRONGER ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Although the movement of stocks yesterday was uncertain the tone was better and there was no recurrence of the periods of weakness which depressed prices during the week to the lowest level since the fall of 1911. The improvement was largely negative, and while the market offered better resistance to pressure it gave no sign of sustained strength. Prices moved upward after the opening, but the advance was interrupted by a renewal of bear selling. The attack was less successful than similar tactics earlier in the week and before the close the list advanced sharply. The general movement was narrow. Some of the specialties which have been depressed recently made substantial gains. Further shifting of the loans from out of town banks to local institutions, which were chiefly responsible for the increase of more than $60,000,000 loans last week, was reflected on the day's bank statement. The actual table showed a loan increase of $33,000,000. The cash gain of $15,000,000 was in line with expectations. Although satisfactory gains or business over the corresponding period last year were reported by the mercantile agencies, it was noted that the coming revision of the tariff was responsible for a feeling of conservatism. Bonds were quiet. Total sales, par value, $930,000. United States bonds threes declined ¼ and the fours ⅛ on call on the week. Panama threes advanced ¼.

LETTER TO ROOSEVELT DISCLOSED NO WEAKNESS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 19.—Count Witte, in an interview at Odessa, casts serious doubt on the story extensively printed in the United States to the effect that Theodore Roosevelt, while president, got a letter from the emperor of Japan, begging for American intervention to end the war with Russia. Count Witte headed the Russian plenipotentiaries who negotiated with Japan the peace of Portsmouth and he knows the secret history of the conference. The count says he believes that the mikado's letter to President Roosevelt was merely in the nature of a regular commuication from the Japanese government accepting the principle of mediation. The letter was preceded, the count suggests, by regular diplomatic conversations with the United States as with Russia.

Count Witte is positive in the statement that he does not believe the letter to President Roosevelt disclosed any confession of military weakness.

The count is emphatic in maintaining that the Japanese made no sign at Portsmouth of a realization of any military weakness on the part of their nation. Witte recalls the fact that whereas he was welcomed back to Russia immediately the treaty was concluded, Count Katsura (now prince) head of the Japanese negotiators deemed it best to delay for a considerable time his return to Japan because of popular anger there over the treaty.

According to Count Witte, the letter from the mikado to President Roosevelt is being used as a weapon in an attempt to malign Prince Katsura. There is at present a bitter political situation in Japan, in which most of the high statesmen of that empire are involved. The mikado-Roosevelt missive is being exploited in St. Petersburg to inflame the Russian war fever in connection with the Balkan situation. The purpose apparently is to make the Russians believe they are invincible.

GAIETY GIRL MARRIES HEIR TO MARQUISATE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Marquis of Anglesey was present at the marriage of his brother, Lord Victor Pagt, to Olive May, the American Gaiety girl, whose engagement to the young nobleman had been a matter of common knowledge for over a year. The marquis' wedding gift, it is understood, was a settlement of $5000 a year each on the bride and groom. The wedding was a quiet affair. The party lunched at the Carlton hotel, then the couple started for Paris and the Riviera. Miss May, who signed the register as Olive May Meatyard, describing her father as a jeweler, bade good-bye last Saturday night to the Gaiety stage, where she had been playing in "Sunshine Girl." Lord Victor is now the heir to the Anglesey marquisate.

WILL INVESTIGATE DREDGING CONTRACTS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 19.—Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works, has decided to make an investigation into the dredging contracts of the former government.

Hugh Stewart of Brockville has been appointed to make a most exhaustive probe before the public accounts committee, and in view of the fact that no less than $30,000,000 was paid out for dredging during the past 10 years, some developments are anticipated by the government supporters, according to gossip here.

POLICE MAKE DISCOVERIES OF BURGLARS' LOOT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 19.—Sensational as have been the discoveries of loot stored in several houses belonging to Galicians in the north, south and west of the city, they pale beside the latest day's house was located in Fort Rouge with private property stored in it to the value of hundreds of dollars.

The house was looted in broad daylight, for the thieves entered in the afternoon and secured a valuable bag. If the perpetrators of these robberies are members of the Galician gang, some of whom are now in jail, having already appeared in court and been remanded, the existence of a gang of second story men has been discovered.

DRAGGED INTO COMPANY; EXPECTED SOME SYMPATHY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Canon Hensley Henson's attack from the pulpit of Westminster abbey on the British directors of the Peruvian Amazon company for their responsibility in the Putumayo rubber atrocities was mentioned yesterday during the continued examination of Sir John Lister Kaye, before the house of commons committee. Sir John, who broke down during Wednesday's proceedings, was pressed as to Canon Henson's charges, and being reminded that the famous cleric never apologized for, or withdrew his statement, replied: "Canon Henson thought fit to use the privilege of Westminster abbey to make his attack and we replied through our solicitors in a way we considered justified."

Later Sir John said he was dragged into the company through sheer ignorance and he consequently expected some little sympathy. If asked again to join such a company he would first make very careful inquiries. The committee adjourned until next Tuesday.

THREE MONTHS TO GIVE JUDGMENT

Will At Last Give Decision on Application For Warrants For Arrest of Bankers.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.—After nearly three months of delay Police Magistrate Leet will give judgment on the application for warrants for the arrest of certain officials of the International bank. The applications were made on behalf of French shareholders of the bank and came after civil proceedings started by the same men immediately after the bank's first annual meeting. At this meeting proxies representing a little more than half the capital stock were presented by representatives of the Frenchmen, but were ruled out by the directors on the ground of irregularity.

At the meeting the five French directors were removed and replaced by local men. A superior court action not yet concluded was then set in motion and a few days later the criminal proceedings started. Much comment was caused, especially in French-Canadian papers over the delay in deciding whether the warrants were to be issued. The delay is explained by Judge Leet. After hearing evidence of Messrs. Knight and Muir, two expert banking accountants, Judge Leet announced that he will give formal judgment tomorrow. He did not think it would interest the parties concerned that it go farther.

To the Electors of the City of Nelson,

Ladies and gentlemen: I beg to offer myself as a Canadidate for Alderman in the East Ward. I am independent of all parties, but if elected will not oppose any policy which the electors indorse at the polls on January the 16th.

My platform as I announced in The Daily News of December 14th, 1912, is the permanent improvement of the main business streets including Baker street, Vernon street and the cross streets, and Front and Water streets. My policy, if elected, will be a progressive one, and I will carry out every promise that I make and I propose to put at least half my time to seeing that the work is done and will promise also, that the affairs of the city will be managed only by the mayor and city council.

Your vote and influence solicited.

Your Respectful Servant,
PAUL NIPOU.

Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

LONE BANDIT RIFLES RAILWAY MAIL CAR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ANNISTON, Ala., Jan. 19.—A lone bandit rifled the mail car of Southern Railway passenger train No. 12, near Riverside, Ala., early today, and escaped with what is said to be valuable registered packages. Only one mail clerk was in the car, E. L. Cragmen, and he was cowed by the robber with a revolver. It is believed that the bandit boarded the train at Lincoln, when a stop was made for water. Soon after he gained entrance to the mail car through an end door and quickly covered Cragmen with a revolver. Detectives, aided by residents of the Riverside section, are searching for the bandit.

He is in the military hospital. Fraser's comrade was Private George Shandley of the Royal Canadian regiment, who died suddenly of pneumonia. When the unexpected news was told him Fraser became crazed with grief and before anyone could anticipate his purpose, seized his rifle and slipping a cartridge into it, pulled the trigger. He will probably recover.

The management of the skating rink request that skaters will leave the ice when the bell is rung at half time this evening so that an opportunity will be given for cleaning the ice. There will be a band tonight.

Having cleared its track on the uptown loop by the shovel method the street railway was yesterday able to resume service over that portion of the system. The difficulties with which the system has had to contend this year have been exceptionally great on account of the unusually heavy snow and the fact that the snow is so dry that it does not pack and consequently falls back on the track after the sweeper has passed.

NELSON CITY DIRECTORY

Work is progressing very rapidly on the Nelson City Directory, now being compiled by W. A. Jeffries.

The city directory should not be confounded with the state gazetteer or business directories. A gazetteer or business directory is presumed to contain the names of business or professional institutions only, no names of individuals appearing except where engaged in business.

Mr. Jeffries is now making a house to house canvass of the residence districts, and this will include all of Fairview as well as all outlying additions tributary to the city of Nelson.

The directory will contain the usual information as to city and government officials, secret and benevolent societies, clubs and other organizations, with the names of officers and places of meeting of each; a complete street guide of the city, showing the location of all streets; duplex or street directory, showing the tenant at each number on a given street; alphabetical list of all firms, corporations and private citizens; a complete classified directory of all professional and business institutions.

The classified list will be a feature which is of the utmost value as a buyer's or shopper's guide.

The directory will be given wide circulation not only in Nelson, but throughout Canada and the United States, and a publication as near perfection as experience and conscientious effort can produce is assured.

AT THE THEATRES.

A program of five reels will be shown at the Gem theatre this evening. Included is the wonderful presentation by Pathe, four reels, of "The Blighted Son," a story of a prodigal son whose life is dramatically told in wonderful pictures. Two comedies by the Edison players are "Bobby's Dream," a child pirate dream that will entertain children in one way and grown-up people in another, and "For Professional Services," a truly funny offering deserving credit if only for showing the picture-making possibilities of the Edison studio.

FIGHT POLICE WITH HAT-PINS AND UMBRELLAS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—With hatpins and umbrellas several hundred women fought the police in one of the fiercest riots since the beginning of the garment workers' strike. A policeman who tried to protect male strike breakers was severely beaten. The officer arrested one woman, but had to summon 13 more policemen before he could get his prisoner to the station. The police accomplished this by forming a hollow square, which was besieged on all sides by the battling garment workers. Five women were arrested in another riot, which started when the women assaulted a truck driver delivering mattresses for the use of strike breakers.

MINIMUM WAGE BILL FOR WOMEN WORKERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Toronto, Jan. 19.—That there is to be a minimum wage bill for women introduced into the provincial house in the near future is a matter which has occasioned a buzz of talk among members of that section of the women's council, which has been collecting data on the subject for nearly a year. Yesterday at the local council Dr. Helen Macmurchy made the formal announcement and it is understood that the university women's clubs, the management of the Central Neighborhood house, and others of the federated organizations particularly interested in the wage question will redouble their information getting activity. The opinion of the council appears to be that $9 is the least sum on which a girl can live.

MILITANT SUFFRAGETTES PLAN RAID ON COMMONS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—A new source of excitement has been provided in the commons by the discovery of a militant suffragettes, plot to raid the chamber next Monday, the day on which the government hopes to take up the committee stage of the franchise bill. Mrs. General Drummond, chief of staff to Mrs. Pankhurst, is the organizer of the affair and so serious a view is taken of the matter that special warnings have been issued to have a large reserve of police at Westminster. The deputation to the house of parliament will include all classes of working women, professional as well as industrial and Scotland, Wales and the industrial centres of the north are sending up strong contingents. Throughout the debates on the franchise bill leading actresses, members of the actresses, franchise league, propose peacefully to picket the house of commons and the women's freedom league is organizing daily afternoon parades around the house. The National Union of the Women's Suffrage societies, a body which is adopting a strictly constitutional propaganda, will be lobbying with personal letters bringing to bear on the politicians, the influence of its greatly increased membership.

Everywhere the opinion is expressed that the most crucial moment in the history of women's agitation will begin next Monday and the policies of many of the societies may undergo a significant revision as a result of the unexpected developments.

REPRIEVE FOR MURDERER DAY BEFORE EXECUTION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.—Sylvio Yaloloff, who has been condemned to die on the scaffold at the jail here tomorrow morning was brought before Mr. Justice Gervais shortly after six o'clock tonight, and for the fourth time sentence of death was pronounced, Friday, January 31, being set as the date for the execution. The 15 day reprieve was granted through the direct intervention of the minister of justice who explained over the telephone to Justice Gervais that at the last moment added representations had been made in support of a commutation of sentence and requested that the formality of a reprieve be carried out by him. The prisoner was hurriedly taken from the death cell to Mr. Justice Gervais' court room where he was re-sentenced.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

STRIKERS REFUSE TO ACCEPT PEACE

Terms Arranged Between Employers and Labor Leaders Angrily Condemned by Garment Workers.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—An announced settlement today of the strike in the dress and shirt waist branch of the garment making industry, promising to send 27,000 operatives back to work on Monday, was followed almost at once by rebellion among employes affected against the terms their leaders had agreed upon with the manufacturers. Tonight double doubt exists whether the dress and shirt waist makers will accept the provisions named in the peace protocol. In the other trades the strike is still on, affecting more than 100,000 workers. The settlement agreement described as the outcome of "the constructive work of many weeks" was received with cheers when it was announced at 27 mass meetings of the workers. When the details were read, however, showing that the maximum increase was only 10 per cent the strikers at many meetings rushed angrily from the halls, uttering protests that they would not abide by the agreement. At one meeting the reader of the terms was driven from the stage. Some of the strikers denounced the protocol as a "frame-up" in favor of the employers. Several leaders, who were active in urging peace, conceded tonight that there was no certainty that the strikers will resume work on Monday.

Impatient strikers held an impromptu meeting late today and appointed leaders to organize a new union, which they said would seek affiliation with the Industrial Workers of the World.

ALASKA SEALSKINS FETCH GOOD PRICE IN LONDON

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The annual sale of Alaska sealskins, the property of the United States government, occurred on Friday and higher prices than ever before were obtained. The 3764 skins realized £29,985 ($140,000), or 152 shillings and nine-pence (nearly $40), as an average price per skin, being 11 shillings, (nearly $40) per skin, higher than any previous sale. George M. Bowers, United States commissioner of fisheries, hatched the sale in the interest of the United States. In a talk with a reporter of the American, Mr. Bowers said: "I am much pleased with the sale and prices realized. The increased price fetched is mainly due to the skins being a little larger than usual. Last year's catch was 23,000 skins; this year's output is very much smaller, owing to the agreement between Great Britain, Japan, Russia and America, to abolish pelagic sealing and also to the policy of the United States to take only pelts of three years old males and not allow the females to be killed.

Dealers from all parts of the world were present. It is the concensus of opinion that price of sealskins will not be enhanced.

PANAMA CANAL OPEN IN TWO YEAR'S TIME

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. — Col. George Goethals, chairman of the Isthmian Canal committee, told the house of the progress of the Panama canal, over which he expects to send a ship or two experimentally in the autumn. He and half a dozen bureau chiefs of the war department spent the day at the capital explaining the official estimates of $6,700,000 that the government wants provided for in the coming sundry civil bill to cover fortifications, batteries, camps and the like during the next fiscal year. Ultimately the fortifications expense is estimated at $15,000,000. The date set for the opening of the canal is January 1, 1915.

FULL INDIVIDUAL LIBERTY TO CONCENTRATE MONEY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Liberty of individuals to concentrate money and power to the limit of their ability was advocated today before the house money trust committee by Jacob H Schiff of the New York banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Mr. Schiff declared that individuals should be allowed to exert their powers to accumulate fortunes and power until the "laws of nature cause the attempted monopoly to fall of its own weight." He was opposed, however, to concentrating through corporations and holding companies. Mr. Schiff could not say whether concentration had as yet reached a point where it was dangerous. The New York bond financier followed George Reynolds of New York on the stand. Mr. Reynolds told the committee that he had studied the concentration of money and credit and that he believed the point it had now reached was a "menace to the country."

He said that competition in banking should be revived. The committee adjourned until next Wednesday. When the committee meets again, plans for taking the testimony of William Rockefeller will be made.

TROOPS SEIZE COAL TRESTLE FOR GOVERNMENT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 19.—A company of the Twenty-ninth infantry marched from Fort Porter to the foot of Erie street and seized that part of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western coal trestle which the government alleges encroaches on federal property. The land is 15 feet in depth extending along about 1,000 feet of the harbor entrance, and is worth several hundred thousand dollars. It has been the subject of litigation for 20 years. Yesterday's warlike demonstration was made upon the recommendation of John L. O'Brien, United States attorney. He recently submitted a report to Attorney General Wickersham covering the status of the fight for the property, and today R. C. Strickland, assistant attorney general, came here with sealed orders from the secretary of war to the commandant at Fort Porter. These orders, issued on the ecommendation of the department of justice, directed Col. Truitt, the commandant, to place his whole force under the direction of Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Strickland. The soldiers marched on the dock equipped for an indefinite stay. The next move, Mr. O'Brien said, rests with the railroad and unless they move quickly, he added, the trestle will be torn down.

CHICAGO GARMENT WORKERS MAY STRIKE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Forty thousand Chicago garment workers may be called out on strike next week in sympathy with New York workers. Officials of the United Garment Workers are said to have discovered that eastern manufacturers are sending orders to be filled. They assert that unless shipment of goods is stopped at once a general strike will be called in all the shops controlled by the employers association.

JONES STILL IN JAIL

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 19.—During a thick fog yesterday William Jones, serving a life term in Sing Sing prison for murder, climbed on a trestle that extended from inside the prison over the Hudson river and dropped into the water, only to find that a guard had been stationed near the spot in anticipation of just such an attempt. The prison authorities had realized as well as Jones that the fog conditions afforded a good chance for escapes. When the guard opened fire with his rifle, Jones quickly swam back and surrendered.

DID GENERAL WOLFE RECITE GRAY'S ELEGY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—A famous literary controversy has been revived by the announcement of the bound copy of Gray's Elegy which is said to have belonged to General Wolfe. The story of Wolfe's recitation of the elegy in the small hours before the battle of Quebec and his remarking: "I would rather be the author of that piece than take Quebec tomorrow," has been the subject of numerous investigations. A great deal of doubt has been cast on the report of the incident though on the whole literary opinion is on the side of Augustine Birrel, who declared that its truth was proved as conclusively as human testimony could prove anything. One of Wolfe's biographers cites the late Marquis of Winchester a descendant of the Duke of Bolton, as saying that Gen. Wolfe received a copy of the elegy from Miss Lowther afterwards Duchess of Bolton. Miss Lowther was Wolfe's fiancee and if she gave him the elegy the poem was probably often in his mind and he may have had the volume on him when he fell at Quebec.

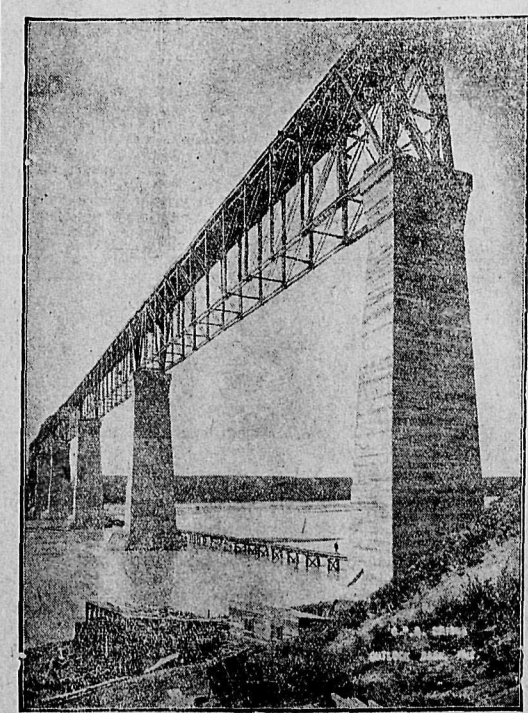
STEEL AND CONCRETE BRIDGE ACROSS THE SOUTH SASKATCHEWAN RIVER, NEAR OUTLOOK, SASK., BUILT BY THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY.



The bridge proper is 3004 feet long, carrying a single track. It is constructed entirely of steel, and concrete being 147 feet from the base of the rail to the water level and resting on concrete piers having a base of 20 feet square. This bridge is one of the three the Canadian Pacific Railway company has built on western lines that are giants among structures of that kind, the others being the great viaduct at Lethbridge and the high level bridge now under construction at Edmonton.

The placing of this bridge in operation opens a new direct line of railway between Moose Jaw and Edmonton, and is also a direct line from Minneapolis and at St. Paul to Edmonton.

Man's Misery Promptly Banished

(From "Man's Maladies.")

A certain sort of misery which causes a man to become abject in manner, timid, suspicious and jealous without real warrant, can be readily banished by a systematic nerve treatment which can be followed out in the privacy of home and restoration of a normal or natural condition speedily ensues.

A man feels and knows when he is not getting out of life all that it holds, and this knowledge makes the misery which occurs with such symptoms as unsteady gait, weak voice, downcast eyes, cold extremities, loss of flesh, loss of self control, lack of self esteem, pains in the back and back part of head, shooting pains, heart palpitation, nervousness, sleeplessness, hollow eyes, sunken cheeks, colorless lips, dizziness and trembling.

The requirement to overcome these dreadful symptoms is a restoration of power and strength to the nervous system, which has been poorly nourished or abused by thoughtless eating, drinking or social duties, perhaps superinduced by overwork. Keen, strong, sensitive nerves, which carry every sensation or emotion to the brain centres of consciousness can and should be the possession of every living individual. Let this prescription be used and the results will surely reward the efforts. Obtain of any good druggist three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla compound, in a six ounce bottle. Add one ounce of compound fluid balmwort, shake and let stand for two hours, then add one ounce of tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom) and one ounce of compound essence cardiol. Mix. Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring. The three last named ingredients are specially prepared and powerful concentrations, much used in various prescriptions, but contain no opiates to harm the system.

He was accompanied to the city by J. R. Jackson, M. P. P., of Greenwood—Victoria Colonist.

The musical in the Knights of Columbus hall on Thursday evening, given under the direction of Mrs. T. J. O'Reilly, was a great success in every way. Each number was much applauded but no encores were given so as to allow plenty of time for the dance which was to follow. The floor was excellent and the music left nothing to be desired. Considering the excellent talent Rossland has at present it is a pity that there are not more opportunities of enjoying such musical evenings.
