...VANT GREEN AS MINISTER

...ritish Columbia Mining Industry Needs Attention

...OSSLAND SMOKER HUGE SUCCESS

...omplete Geological Survey Needed, Says Kootenay Member

(Special to The Daily News.)

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 16.—The ...moker in honor of R. F. Green, M. P., ...st night was a most unqualified suc...ss. The hall was crowded and a ...reat many prominent Conservatives ...ere present as well as several promi...ent Liberals. The platform was ...eautifully decorated with flags, white ...hrysanthemums, greenery and white ...erries, illuminated with colored lights ...nd Chinese lights. The hall was dec...rated with hundreds of flags. L. A. ...ampbell, M. P. P., was chairman. R. ...Green was accompanied on the plat...orm by G. H. Barnard, M. P., for Vic...oria, W. R. Maclean, M.P.P. for Nelson ...H. Schofield, M.P.P. for Ymir.

Lorne A. Campbell in a most happy ...ein welcomed Mr. Green in the fol...owing words: "We are here this ...vening to welcome to our city Mr. ...reen, to my right, our Dominion mem...er; on my left, Mr. Barnard, mem...er for Victoria, who has kindly ac...ompanied Mr. Green; also Mr. Sche...eld, member for Ymir, and Mr. Mac...an, member for Nelson. I regret very ...uch that Mr. Miller, member for ...rand Forks, found it impossible to be ...ere, as well as Mr. Hunter, member ...or Slocan. We have a very lengthy ...rogram this evening, so my remarks ...ust be short. You are no doubt ...ware, however, that the mining in...ustry in this country has been neg...ected, in my opinion through the ...ate minister of mines holding two ...ortfolios. We started off in the ear...y days here with a sort of geological ...urvey, and I think you all know what ...brought. In the early days there ...as considerable feeling between the ...ines operating in this camp, the re...lt being that it was impossible to ...ollow one particular lead of ore ...hrough another. Mr. Brock was ...rought here to complete the survey, ...nd from that day to this, Rossland ...as been gradually forging ahead. Ore ...odies were at that time opened up ...nto paying stopes. I think it is up to ...ur town to support Mr. Green. I ...ight say that we have already pet...oned Hon. R. L. Borden to see as to ...hether or not we cannot have our ...ember Mr. Green, appointed minister ... mines (Applause).

"I think, gentlemen, you are well ...quainted, if you are not personally ...quainted with our member, Mr. ...reen. He has been in the Kootenay ...ountry for many years and is thor...ughly conversant with mining con...itions as they exist in the Slocan ...ountry, and also in the Rossland ...amp, in which we are particularly in...erested. We know that to make lead ...melting a success, it is necessary to ...roduce a certain tonnage of dry ore ...nd I feel that if the same attention ...ere given to the Slocan country that ...as been given to Rossland that it ...ould be but a short time until that ...rticular tonnage of dry ore was pro...uced there. I have to thank our ...ember, Mr. Green, for paying us this ...isit, and I know that as long as he ... in the city you will all do your best ... make him enjoy himself. I will now ...ll upon my old friend Ed. Stevens to ...ive us a band selection, as he has so ...ften done for us when we were less ...ortunate than we are tonight in hav...ng things all our own way."

After the band selection by the ...ossland Miners' Union band the audi...nce then sang "For He's a Jolly Good ...ellow."

Mr. Campbell read telegrams of re...et from W. O. Miller of Nelson, Er...est Levy, manager of the Le Roi ...o. 2, Ltd., and James Fisher.

Song, T. Cadwell, "Over the Ocean ...lue."

Rodda quartette, Messrs. Rodda, ...ones, Glower and Cadwell, "Comrades ... Arms."

Encore, "Killarney."

Robert F. Green.

Piper Stewart was then called upon to give a selection on the pipes. Mr. Campbell then called upon Mr. Green, the Dominion member, who gave a most interesting speech in which he said in part:

"Mr. Chairman and gentlemen: I am delighted tonight to have this opportunity of addressing my constituents in Rossland under such splendid conditions as we have them here. Your member, Mr. Campbell, informed me that your smokers were always well patronized, and I can readily see the reason, in the splendid local talent that is here tonight, and I think that the sooner myself and the others who are to speak are through, the better you will be pleased. I have not had an opportunity before to thank you for electing me as your representative to the Dominion house, an honor that any man should be proud of, when you consider that I did not at that time live within this district and that I not only received the nomination at the convenion but was elected by acclamation.

"I wish to tender my sincerest thanks to the citizens of Rossland and take this opportunity of doing so, and I wish to say that anything I can do for you in reason at Ottawa will be done. I speak not only to Conservatives, but to Liberals as well. When a man is a candidate he works for his party, but when he is elected he works for the good of both parties. I am not a stranger to this constituency, but was here in the early days when there were only two or three cabins where Rossland now stands. I was also here in the days of its prosperity, and hope to be often here again. I am not a miner, but have spent both time and money in mining. I was a member of the first miners' union in the country, which used to meet in a small hall in the little town of Ainsworth many years ago. I am not saying this for any reason except that I want you to know that I know something at least of mining conditions here. Nor am I saying it because my name has been mentioned for the portfolio of minister of mines. I believe that your member stated well when he stated that the geological survey should be carried on much further than it has been. We should have a complete geological survey of the Dominion of Canada, because a geological survey demonstrates the course of the different veins and the different strata and thereby gives an opportunity of going on and on and working to better advantage in the way of mining. I believe that the mining industry has never received the attention at the hands of the Dominion government that it is entitled to."

The minister of mines then went on to speak of the different questions of great interest to this district in mining matters, saying that what was

SHOOTS HUSBAND IN FAMILY QUARREL

Wife Feared Death At Hands of Drink Crazed Spouse—Both In Hospital.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 17.—William E. Gardner, formerly of Portland, Ore., was shot and seriously wounded last night by his wife during a family quarrel. Gardner and his wife are at different hospitals in this city, the latter suffering from shock, hysteria and bruises inflicted by her husband. Gardner came home on Saturday evening under the influence of liquor, according to neighbors, and a fight followed. Furniture was broken and the woman was badly bruised about the head and body.

Breaking away from her husband Mrs. Gardner seized a 38-calibre revolver and fired three times, two bullets taking effect. One of the missiles entered Gardner's left shoulder and another pierced his left forearm.

"I was afraid he would kill me, so I shot him," said the woman.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner came here two months ago from Portland. Gardner was engaged in the retail liquor business. Mrs. Gardner is under guard at the Holy Cross hospital and a charge of attempted murder will be lodged against her.

DRILL HALLS SOLELY FOR MILITARY FUNCTIONS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—The transfer of Captain F. H. Carlisle from B company to A company, Ninety-ninth regiment, Manitoba Rangers, is authorized.

New regulations in regard to the use of the drill halls throughout the Dominion provide that the use of the drill halls will not be authorized "unless the proceeds of the entertainment for which the use of the hall is desired are to be devoted solely to military purposes."

It is also provided that the use of the drill halls will be permitted only when no other suitable hall is available.

FERRY LIKELY THIS WINTER

Plans for Gasoline and Electric Craft Received

HIGHWAY SURVEYS NEAR COMPLETION

Preliminary Work on Trunk Highway--Alternate Routes ---Wealth from Tourists

Plans for two styles of ferry designed for use on the lake at Nelson to give communication between the city and the north shore have been received by the provincial department of public works and there is every probability that the construction of the craft will be commenced in time for it to be completed this winter.

W. W. Foster, deputy minister of public works, made this announcement on his arrival at the Stratheona from Revelstoke on Saturday night.

Both of the ferries proposed are of the power type. One is operated by electricity and the other by gasoline. If the former is decided upon it will be necessary to string a power wire across the lake. The gasoline ferry is a heavy barge-like affair operated by a powerful engine and would be connected to a cable. Either type would be fully capable of cutting through ice as thick as it ever becomes on the lake at Nelson. If the gasoline ferry is decided upon it can be built, said Mr. Foster, in five weeks. The department is at present securing some details as to cost.

Surveys Nearly Complete.

Mr. Foster announced that the preliminary surveys which have been made this year of the various routes suggested for the trans-provincial highway between Creston and Trail, under the direction of the department, would be completed and available for consideration by the end of this month.

When the route has been definitely decided upon the department will be in a position to make arrangements for the construction of new links and spurs in connection with the main highway. It has been felt that until the route of the trunk road had been settled it was not advisable to proceed in the matter of some other roads, as work might have been done which would not coincide with what will become a definite plan of roads and bridges based upon and connecting to the best advantage with the main highway.

It is the intention, explained Mr. Foster, that the transprovincial road shall be the main artery of the highways of the province.

Tourists Bring Great Wealth.

In connection with the bridge at Brilliant the deputy minister stated that it had been arranged that the Duokhobors were to build the structure according to plans approved by the government and that the society is to receive assistance to the extent of $20,000.

Speaking of the enormous potentialities of British Columbia as a tourist resort Mr. Foster mentioned that he had recently secured figures which showed that $400,000,000 was annually expended by persons travelling through the scenic parks in France. In Switzerland tourists spent £200,000,000 or $1,000,000,000 annually.

He spent yesterday at Deer park and this week will visit the Slocan riding, where he will confer with William Hunter, M.P.P.

WHOLE CAMP IS OUT ON STRIKE

Porcupine Miners Ask Eight-Hour Day and Increase in Wages—Mines May Close.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PORCUPINE, Ont., Nov. 17.—As a result of the Western Federation's action yesterday the whole camp is on strike, with the exception of the men in the Dome and Hollinger, which had enough men to keep the stopes full at the Dome and to keep the mine running. About 150 men will go to work tomorrow on five or six of the smaller properties where necessity has driven the companies to accede to the men's requests. In the larger mines there is a determination to close the properties down until spring, rather than grant the demands of the union. The original intention was to hold five mines to the schedule paid before the railroads were running into the camp. The union's present demand is for an eight-hour day or an hour less than at most of the mines and from 25 to 50 cents per day increase. It is now learned that of about 1,000 miners on the books of the Western Federation here, only 190 voted for a strike, 12 against a strike and there were 15 spoiled ballots. The secretary of the union declared that it was not possible at the time to get a more representative ballot.

ASKS EXTENSION OF TIME LIMIT

Cariboo Barkerville and Willow River Railway Makes Application to Parliament.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—The Cariboo, Barkerville & Willow River Railway company will apply to parliament for an act extending the time within which it may construct its line of railway from a point on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company's projected line of railway at Eagle Lake, thence following as nearly as may be the watershed of the Willow river to a point on the Cariboo road, at or near the town of Barkerville, B. C., and also authorizing the construction of the following extension and branch lines:

(a) From a point at the southern end of the company's line near Barkerville by the most feasible route following the general direction of the valley of William creek and Pleasant valley to a point near Cunningham creek, thence following the general direction or valleys of Cunningham creek, Swamp river, Cariboo lake and the north fork of the Quesnel river to a point near Quesnel Forks; thence following to the general direction or valley of the south fork of the Quesnel river and the west shore of Quesnel lake to a point at or near the mouth of Horse Fly river; thence to a point near its source, thence to Clearwater river; thence following the general direction of valley of the Clearwater river to a point at or near its junction with the North Thompson river and;

(b) From a point on the main line of the company's railway about 17 miles or thereabouts from its northern terminus and thence in an easterly direction by the most feasible route to a point at or near Bear river, a distance not exceeding 20 miles.

REPORT ON ROOT AND FODDER CROPS

Decrease in Value Compared With Last Year—Persistent Rains Hinder Plowing Operations.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—A bulletin, issued on Saturday by the census and statistics office, contains estimates of the yield, quality and value of the root and fodder crops of Canada during the past season, based upon returns from agricultural correspondents at the end of October. Upon total areas for potatoes, turnips, mangels, etc., hay, clover, corn and sugar beets amounting to 8,732,000 acres as compared with 9,150,000 acres last year, the total value of the products is $192,500 compared with $223,780,000, a decrease on value of $31,280,000. This decrease is caused by the diminution both in area and yield by 418,000 acres; the yield by 2,000,000 tons and in value by $28,280,000.

All the other crops show increases except alfalfa, the area of which in Canada is relatively small.

The yield of potatoes is 81,313,000 bushels of the value of $22,175,000; of turnips and other roots 87,795,000 bushels, of the value of $20,713,000; of fodder corn 2,858,500 tons, value of $12,529,000; of sugar beets 201,000 tons, value of $1,620,000, and of alfalfa 300,000 tons, value of $3,810,000. The quality of all these crops is marked high.

The area estimated to be sown to fall wheat in five provinces in Canada this season aggregates 1,064,000 acres as compared with 1,156,000 acres, the area sown last year. In Ontario the acreage sown is 620,000 acres compared with 977,200 acres, a decrease of 101,200 acres, or 12.6 per cent; In Alberta the figures are 312 acres as against 300,700 acres, a decrease of 11,300 acres, or 3½ per cent, and in Saskatchewan the area sown is 72,000 acres against 52,000 acres, an increase of 19,000 acres, or 36 per cent. Small areas in Manitoba and British Columbia complete the totals.

The decrease in area is due to the persistent rains which have hindered plowing and sowing operations.

The percentage of fall plowing for next year's crop ranges from 45 in Manitoba to 77 in Prince Edward Island in the east, and from 27 in Alberta to 78 in British Columbia for the west. It is remarkable that both this year and last year the seasons in the three northwesterly provinces have been adverse to fall plowing and less than about 25 per cent of such plowing has been possible in both years as compared with a more normal percentage at the same date of from 50 to 75. In the three northwestern provinces the area summer fallowed this season is estimated as being from 2 to 5 per cent more than last year.

PETITION TO UNSEAT NEW MEMBER

Protest Against Election of Conservative in Macdonald—Usual Charges Are Made.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 17.—On Saturday afternoon a protest was filed against the election of Alexander Morrison as member of parliament for Macdonald. The petitioners are Mr. Myles of Treherne and John E. Woods of Somerset, electors in the constituency. The petition charges that Mr. Morrison himself and through his agents was guilty of bribery, treating, personation and undue influence. Charges of bribery and corruption are set forth in the petition and charges are also made of providing liquor illegally, conveying the voters to the polls and undue influence and intimidation. The charge is also made of the misuse of the police of the province. It is alleged that Hon. Robert Rogers, Sir Rodmond Roblin, Hon. C. H. Campbell employed and set to work and gave instructions to justices of the police, police officials, detectives, agents and other persons to arrest and put in jail and keep confined persons whom they discovered to be acting in the opposition candidate, R. L. Richardson's interests.

BRITISH COLUMBIA WOMAN AT TORONTO CONVENTION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—One of the most interested visitors to the convention of women's institutes in Toronto last week was Mrs. A. T. Watt of Victoria, an officer of the British Columbia department of agriculture.

Mrs. Watt represents the women's institute of the Pacific province, having on her way attended the international congress of farm women at Lethbridge. The women's institutes in British Columbia were organized only a year ago, but they have already a membership of 1,200, divided among some 30 institutes.

CONSTANTINOPLE HEARS GUNS BOOM

Heavy Artillery Duel Is In Progress

NEGOTIATIONS FOR ARMISTICE FAIL

Terrible Havoc of Cholera Epidemic---Thousand Cases Daily

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The negotiations for an armstice have failed and the Bulgarians today opened the attack against the Turks all along the Tchatalja lines. The heavy artillery duel continued throughout the day.

No news of the battle has been received as yet from Sofia and no information as to the strength of the forces engaged on either side.

Nazim Pasha's headquarters are near the Hademkeui railway. The resumption of hostilities is not regarded as indicating the collapse of peace negotiations, but rather as a means to hasten Turkey's acceptance of the allies' terms by proving her complete helplessness, or as one correspondent puts it, "to establish an accomplished fact before making further communications."

The Bulgarian government organ, Mir, reverts to the subject of peace and plainly intimates that the allies are prepared to consider the question of an alliance with Turkey, provided the latter promptly accepts the terms which would give Turkey the opportunity of welding her territories into a modern state and making friends of her conquerors.

The Balkan states clearly have in mind the formation of such an alliance as would be able to defy European interference in the disposition of the spoils of war.

Every day brings fresh despatches recording the terrible spread of the cholera. It is now stated that there are 1,000 cases daily with a mortality of 50 percent, while the Turkish authorities are impotent to take any measure to prevent its further spread. This being the case it is still doubted whether the Bulgarians will risk the danger of a march on Constantinople. It is therefore, believed that hostilities have been resumed in order to hurry the porte's acceptance of whatever terms the allies dictate.

The sanitary board at Constantinople has adopted a resolution expressing grave concern at the prospect of either the Turkish or the Bulgarian army coming into the capital. The ambassadors of the powers have taken prompt measures and will land detachments tomorrow from the foreign ships for the protection of foreign residents and property.

The war continues at other points. The Montenegrins have captured San Giovanni di Medua and the battle for the possession of Monastir is now going on. All the approaches to that town are reported to be in Servian hands.

The political situation in Constantinople is serious. Arrests of Young Turks continue and there are still rumors of the possibility of the restoration of the ex-sultan.

It is reported in the Italian papers that Austria has greatly modified her demands on Servia. Demonstrations of sympathy within the Balkan aspirations are causing trouble in the Bosnian diet which has publicly protested against the Austrian government's attitude in favoring the Albanians and opposing the Servians.

Hear Booming of Guns.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 17.—The great battle between the Bulgarians and Turks is on along the line of the Tchatalja fortifications. Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander in chief, sends the following tonight: "The battle which commenced this morning with an attack by the Bulgarian's infantry, lasted until an hour after sunset. The enemy who advanced chiefly facing our right wing and our centre, was repulsed by our infantry and artillery fire. Three Bulgarian batteries were destroyed."

All through the day the sound of heavy guns booming distantly was heard in Constantinople. It ceased only with darkness. The firing along the entire line was evidently preparatory to an infantry attack.

The Turkish batteries replied vigorously. The Turkish ships in the Sea of Marmora shelled the Bulgarian positions. Undoubtedly the fleet in the Black sea also took part in the engagement, though details from that point are lacking.

In the afternoon the wind shifted and it seemed for a time as if the battle ended, but after a while the booming could be again heard and the troops could be observed not far from the very gates of the capital. A detachment of several thousand from the Tchatalja lines were replaced by fresh troops who had been held in reserve near the city.

The refugees behind the lines moved back toward Constantinople early in the day. The Greek villagers who heretofore had remained admirably indifferent to events, prepared to desert their homes.

While calm prevailed there was a deadly knowledge that the fate of the capital ,the Turkish army and those who waited anxiously in Constantinople was at stake.

Several members of the legations and other foreign residents witnessed the artillery duel which they describe as magnificent on the Sea of Marmora and the shelling from height to height across Buyuk Chekmedye lake and over the plains toward the north. The flashes of the guns on both sides were visible to the observers over miles of low country.

Within the city every military precaution was taken. Pickets were posted at various points and patrols guarded the streets. The ambassadors held a meeting at the foreign ministry with the commanders of the Ottoman gendarmes and devised means for the safety of foreigners.

It was decided that detachments for the protection of the foreign institutions will be landed at dawn tomorrow. They remain concealed in buildings and will only co-operate with the local Turkish forces should assistance be required. The Austrian ambassador Marquis de Pallavicini, notified the porte of this determination but emphasized the friendly character of the measures undertaken, explaining that they were in the interests of the foreign institutions. The sanitary board tonight urged that steps be taken to prevent the armies now facing each other at Tchatalja from entering the capital owing to the cholera epidemic. The resolution to that effect was proposed by the Constantinople delegate.

Royal Steamer Target.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

RIEKA, Montenegro, Nov. 16.—King Nicholas, accompanied by his son-in-law, the Russian Grand Duke Peter Nicholaevitch, and the grand duchess, embarked Friday on a lake steamer to view the operations in front of Scutari. The steamer immediately became a target for the Turkish shells which fell unpleasantly close to the boat.

His majesty on the steamer followed the work of the Montenegro centre column on the plain near Scutari. At noon a heavy bombardment opened on all sides. Montenegrin shells several times struck the highest point of Mount Tarabosch, dense clouds of smoke arising. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a Turkish battery occupying an exceedingly strong position at Gelez, was silenced. The Turks evacuated the position amid the cheers of the Montenegrins. Subsequently, shells struck a magazine in the town and flames were seen to shoot up.

After this successful bombardment 14 battalions of infantry crossed the Karic river to the northwest and joining hands with the troops on that side made a united assault on the Turkish positions, to the east of the town driving the enemy out.

Meanwhile, a division under com...

PUBLIC SHOWS MUCH INTEREST

Record Crowd Will Witness Opening of Session at Ottawa—Every Seat Already Allotted.

(Special to The Daily News.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—"When parliament assembles on Thursday afternoon next there will be on hand the largest crowd that has ever witnessed the opening of the house since confederation."

This statement was made today by an official directly connected with the issuing of the tickets for the opening ceremonies. Already notices are posted in the corridors of the house to the effect that every gallery seat is taken and that applications for tickets are useless. Requests for the gallery tickets have been pouring in from all parts of the Dominion for weeks past and Capt. Chambers, gentleman usher of the senate, is fairly overwhelmed with mail. Scores of applications are coming from the west. Quite apart from the opening ceremonies, there is apparently great interest throughout the country in Premier Borden's promised naval announcement and it is expected that all records for attendance in the galleries will be broken. The mover and seconder of the speech from the throne will likely be Mr. Rainville of Chambly Vercheres and R. F. Green of Kootenay, B. C., respectively. The debates will probably be very brief and soon after it is expected Mr. Borden will submit his naval program. Upon this will likely hinge a long drawn out debate.

HAS MANIA FOR KILLING BOYS

Mysterious Postcards Lead to Gruesome Discovery

SHALL KILL SOME KID BEFORE I LEAVE

Maniac Haunted by Ghosts of Dead—Fast Going to Pieces

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Confession of three murders and admission that there are still more, is the startling disclosure contained in postal cards from a modern Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde in the person of the murderer of six-year-old Joseph Josephs, received by the police and made public here tonight. The murder of the Josephs boy, whose entire body in a badly decomposed state was found today in a cesspool near his home in Lackawanna, comes after a long series of similar crimes committed throughout the country by the man, who, according to his own confession has an irresistible mania for killing boys. Today's gruesome discovery was made by following the minute instructions contained in the cards.

Young Josephs disappeared about 6 o'clock on the afternoon of Oct. 12, 1911. His father, George Josephs, a prominent merchant, of Lackawanna, insisted from the start that the boy had been kidnaped and a countrywide search was instituted. The case at the time attracted widespread attention, as the father from time to time received anonymous letters warning him to discontinue the search on pain of having his son murdered. Today's developments indicate that the murderer took this means of creating the belief that the boy was still alive.

In one postal card mailed from Boston, the unknown writer speaks of murdering a boy in Central Park, New York city. It reads: "I enticed Michael Ricaskruck, a newsboy, at Eighty-sixth street and Central Park west, New York, into the park opposite the entrance to the Arsenal police station. I strangled him and just escaped the officers who found him as I came back (few words here were illegible.) Three times have I taken life, 12 times have I tried and can not help it."

Another card, dated Boston, Mass., Nov. 3, 1912, and written apparently by the same person and also unsigned, states that the writer "unfortunately had too much money;" that he was a prominent fraternity man of a high degree, "honored and respected."

"My son," it continues, "is married and happy. Can I under the circumstances give myself up? I can, of course, but there are still more murders I have not told you. Shall I come?"

Homicidal Mania.

The first postcard received was postmarked Boston, Sept. 11, 1912, and was addressed to Michael Regan of the Buffalo police department. It read: "I am sick of trying to fool myself. I am a homicidal maniac. I killed Joseph Josephs of Lackawanna, N. Y. I strangled him as I did others. Please advertise the fact. Post it or write for the information. Come to . . . (Ink smudges made the balance of the card illegible.)

The second postcard was addressed to Chief Roy Gilson of the Lackawanna police, as follows: "Boston, Mass., Sept. 1, 1912. If you only knew the remorse in my heart on account of the murders I have committed as the result of my homicidal mania, even you and George Josephs would pity me. I am writing this just getting over another drunk to try to forget the ones I killed, but like Banquo's ghost, it will not down. I am fast going to pieces mentally and spiritually."

The next card was also received from Boston, postmarked Oct. 19, 1912, and was as follows: "Boston, Mass., Am so sick of this business that I shall go to Buffalo next Sunday and will call you on the phone. My brain is worse and all I think of is murder and I love to kill. Shall kill some kid before I leave here Sunday."

The next card dated Oct. 20, 1912, and apparently written as a follow to

Says Province Should Make Inspection Of Meat

A sitting of the royal commission for the investigation of the milk supply of the province was held in the board of trade rooms on Saturday morning. Dr. W. O. Rose, provincial health officer, was the only witness.

Dr. Rose criticized the lack of systematic and compulsory examination of dairy stock by the government and advocated that immediate provision should be made for the inspection of meat by the provincial authorities.

It was a suggestion made by the commission that compensation to stock and dairy men for the loss of stock should be increased in order to assist more readily in stamping out tuberculosis among the stock, and it was also suggested that the government might import cattle to replace those destroyed as the result of the government inspection.

Dr. A. P. Procter, one of the commissioners, expressed the opinion that the consumers as well as the dealers and railway companies should be educated as to the keeping of milk. He was certain that in this way a great deal of infantile sickness, so prevalent in summer, would be stamped out.

On Saturday afternoon the commissioners inspected the dairies in and around Nelson and reported conditions to be satisfactory. The commissioners were: Dr. A. P. Procter, Dr. Angus Knight and F. G. Coulthard.

Calls Charge Against Peter Veregin Spiteful

Described by C. R. Hamilton, K. C., counsel for defendant, as "a spiteful proceeding," the information laid by Jacob Piroshco, charging Peter Veregin with assaulting him at Shoreacres on November 9, was on Saturday morning dismissed by Alderman P. J. Gleazer, J. P., and Denis St. Denis, J. P. Because the justices considered that the charge should not have been made costs were given against the informant, who had to pay about $14 for witness fees and expenses. Mrs. Kennedy acted as interpreter for the informant and John Sherbinin filled that office for the defence.

Piroshco's case fell to pieces when two of his own witnesses who saw him after the meeting with Veregin told the court that they noticed no blood nor signs of a struggle about his person when he first met them, and told his story of the alleged assault, but that when they saw him again, a few minutes later, his nose was bleeding.

With regard to the I. O. U. for $800 signed by Veregin in favor of Piroshco it developed that Veregin had assumed this liability in connection with a land deal and that he had promised to pay the money when Constantine Popoff paid it over to him. Previous to November 9 he had given Sherbinin, the Doukhobor society's business agent, a

Asks For Order To Restore Steamer Landing

The following letter has been addressed to the secretary of the board of railway commissioners by A. E. Watts of Wattsburg:

A. D. Cartwright, Esq., Secretary of the Board of Railway Commissioners, Ottawa, Ontario.

Dear Sir: In addition to the application already submitted I beg to give notice that I shall ask your board for an order to compel the Canadian Pacific Railway company to restore the steamer landing known as "Watts landing," Kootenay lake, which they have destroyed.

The landing in question was built for the use of the ranchers, fruit growers, preserve works, sawmill, planing mill and wood pipe factory, all being situated near the said landing, which was constructed with roads and approaches in 1907 at a cost exceeding $2,000. Buildings were erected on the floating portion of this landing for the storage of fruit and other products ready for shipment, and the whole cost was borne by the applicant, and free use of the same was granted to the people. The Canadian Pacific railway steamers knocked down the piles and dolphins, smashed the buildings and turned loose a large boat house which was attached to the landing. And although the landing was recognized on the official time tables and maps of the Canadian Pacific railway, and used by them for over four years, after they had destroyed the same a peremptory order was issued that the landing be cut out as a stopping place without even consulting any person or persons interested or affected.

During the past year, owing to the destruction of the landing in question, great losses have been sustained by the fact that the principal users have had to send teams to deliver produce and bring supplies back a distance of over one and a half miles from the mills to and from another landing.

The landing was constructed at the point in question after due consultation with the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, and the said company having recognized and used the said landing free of charge for a period of over four years, established the right to have it restored and maintained as a station or stopping place.

I also give notice that I shall ask the board of railway commissioners whether their jurisdiction extends over the steamboat traffic of transportation companies operating on inland waters, as the general public impression seems to be that the water traffic is beyond the jurisdiction of your board.

Loss of Logs.

As destructive agents railway companies appear to consider that they are entitled to the right to be supreme, and to render no recompense for the damage and loss they may cause either to individuals or the general public. It would be interesting to know whether the board has any jurisdiction in a matter of the following kind:

My firm engaged the services of one of the most powerful tug boats owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway company to tow over 1,000,000 feet of logs from Kootenay landing to the Proctor mill. The logs were safely brought to the mill, which is near the Canadian Pacific railway loading station or wharf. The captain of the steam tug on arrival tied up at the Canadian Pacific railway wharf, claiming that he was short of coal. The ship's tow rope was still attached to the stanchions when the captain made fast his steamer to the wharf. The boom of logs was nearly 2,000 feet long and the tail end of the boom reached to mid-stream, where the current was strong. Without any warning the captain gave orders to throw loose the tow rope from the tug. In consequence the boom began to move with the current down the river. My son, who was on board one of our small steamers, sounded the distress call, seeing that the boom was rapidly going with the current. The captain, who had turned the boom loose, paid no attention whatever to the call. Several Canadian Pacific railway steamers were lying near by and had finished their day's work; consequently, steam was low on all the boats except one which brought the boom to the landing. Captain Orr, the commander of one of the boats, rapidly got up steam and answered the distress signal, but was too late to save the boom from partial destruction, although his gallant efforts in catching up with the boom held it back so as to avoid total destruction on the rocks which lie on both sides of the swift running narrows near Proctor; and had it not been for the efforts of Captain Orr the loss would have been much greater. As it was the forward part of the boom caught on the rocks, smashed the chains and boom sticks, and a great portion of the logs escaped and went with the rapid current towards Nelson. Some were swept across the boundary line into the United States. Captain Orr stood by and rendered all possible assistance, but in spite of all he could do the loss was very great, and the Proctor mill had to close down, owing to shortage of logs, which cost my firm a loss of several thousand dollars. Furthermore, the logs could not be towed back again to the mill for several months, owing to the high water and the mighty current in the narrows. Meanwhile everything was at a standstill at the mill, workmen with large families not earning their usual wages, urgent orders awaiting fulfillment, consequently loss of trade and loss of income to all concerned, including merchants and everyone dependent upon the industry carried on at that point.

Admiration for Captain Gore.

Whilst I criticize the autocratic and cruel policy generally adopted by these powerful corporations in their treatment of sufferers, I wish to express my admiration of the character of many of the subordinate officials, prominent amongst whom is Captain Gore, general superintendent of the lake and river service, who at once informed me that he would place all the Canadian Pacific railway steamers at my disposal to save what logs we could. At the same time he had no power to recompense us for the loss sustained by the more than cruel neglect of some of his officers, who deliberately turned that boom of logs referred to loose at the mercy of the mighty current of the Kootenay outlet, which flows through the Narrows.

During the construction of the Crows Nest Pass line between Goatfell and Creston the railway company destroyed the old public road which traversed a portion of the country exceedingly precipitous and densely covered with timber and underbrush, consequently it was impossible for teams with vehicles, or even pack horses, to make the journey from Creston to Goatfell without using a part of the Canadian Pacific railway roadbed. It has been the custom to use this roadbed for some years past. Last year a young man, while transferring some teams from one logging camp to another, passed over a portion of the Canadian Pacific railway roadbed and was arrested for trespass and fined by a magistrate in Creston. I advised the boy not to pay the fine; he was then threatened with imprisonment for contempt of court and I was notified that the same would be enforced against him if the fine was not paid forthwith. I notified the solicitor of the Canadian Pacific railway that if the company dared to persecute the boy any further for trespass that I would lay an information against the chiefs of the Canadian Pacific Railway company for trespass, the said company being the original trespassers, having stolen the public roads, converted them to their own use, and provided no other roads for the use of the people. After that notification the persecution of the boy ceased.

Expenditure Nullified.

Although the government has expended huge sums of money in constructing a wagon road which parallels the Canadian Pacific railway track from Creston to the boundary of Alberta, the most difficult part of the road is still unfinished for a distance of several miles at the point alluded to, consequently the vast expenditure made by the government has been practically nullified and made almost useless as a through road by the destruction of the old public road referred to. I shall ask the board to issue an order for the restoration of this portion of the road forthwith. The company did not comply with the order of the board in the matter of properly fencing their line of railway in the settled districts through which the railway passes. In many places where crossings should be put in for the convenience of the public, gates are simply erected which are continually being left open by the users; hence large numbers of cattle get on the right of way through these gates, which they could not do if a proper crossing and cattle guards were put at these crossings. I have repeatedly called the attention of the Canadian Pacific railway officials to some exceedingly dangerous points where many cattle get upon the track and where large numbers have been killed. On one occasion the Spokane flyer had a narrow escape of being wrecked, and on another occasion the engine of a passenger train was thrown off the track by coming in contact with a bull. The stretch of railway track referred to reaches from the summit between Cranbrook and Moyie lake, a part of the track being of a very steep gradient, and if the company is not compelled to take the precaution as advised, some day a very serious accident is likely to happen. I shall ask the board to issue an order compelling the railway company to attend to this matter.

A few years since the Canadian Pacific Railway company started a series of fires along their railway at points where they had not complied with the law in clearing the inflammable rubbish off the right of way. On one occasion I issued a writ for $56,000 damages for loss sustained by fires started by the railway company's locomotives. To conclusively prove the case, it was necessary to obtain evidence from a group of Italians working as section men. I summoned these men to give evidence, but they suddenly disappeared and I was informed that the Canadian Pacific Railway company had kindly given these Italians free transportation to Italy. I shall ask the board's opinion and advice on this matter and whether it is possible for the board to issue an order compelling the railway company to produce the witnesses referred to.

Rulers of Canada.

It would be very interesting information for the public if they could be informed what its chances are to obtain redress and protection from the overbearing and autocratic actions of these mighty corporations who are generally believed to be the real rulers of the Dominion of Canada, having the power to obtain untold millions of capital from investors in all parts of the world, owing principally to the fact that they enjoy the prestige of being the real and only rulers of Canada by virtue of the filthy lucre they control.

Whilst we flatter ourselves that we are far superior to our cousins in the south in the matter of protecting the interests of the people against sharks and manipulators controlling monopolies, trusts, corporations, combines and other parasitical concerns, it is about time that we paused to consider whether we are entitled to assume with arrogance our right to claim superiority over our cousins. Our judicial system has so far proved its inferiority even to the one condemned by us as practiced in the United States. The sooner the true facts are indelibly impressed upon the minds of the people in this great Dominion the sooner will we obtain redress for the gross wrongs perpetrated upon the toilers and the producers solely for the benefit of the huge corporations who today appear to rule in every department.

The people of Canada have to pay huge sums to provide the interest and dividends on the terrible amount of watered stocks which are appropriated by the manipulators of the stocks and shares with which they gull the European public. There will have to be an end to this kind of deception, which has so far placed some men of mediocre ability in a position of eminence to which they are not entitled by their work nor their ability, they having simply obtained that extraordinary eminence by virtue of the wonderful amount of gall they possess.

I am forwarding copies of the foregoing to the railway company and to the press so that the railway company cannot plead that they have not had due notice, which they did on the last occasion when I presented matters of great importance to your board for consideration.

Yours truly,
A. E. WATTS.

WILLOUGHBY DE BROKE WOULD OSTRACIZE RADICALS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The Unionists are planning another attempt to break the parliamentary machine. Their condition of mind is shown in outbursts of extraordinary rancor, such as Lord Willoughby de Broke's threat of social ostracism and personal violence to "the radical sneaks." Addressing a great Unionist meeting he said: "There is no figure so contemptible as a rich radical, who has derived place, power, pay, office, title honors—anything you like, from the vilest of calumnies upon the class of people whom he is only anxious to sneak up to and suck up to when he meets them in Bond street or the royal inclosure at Ascot. The time has arrived when diplomatic relations will have to be broken off. We can no longer have those social amenities with those who differ politically from us, as we used to do in the old days when politics was a game in which only gentlemen indulged."

This exponent of gentlemanliness is the nineteenth baron of his name. His reference to rich radicals is directed especially at Baron de Forest, the heir to Baron Hirsch's millions and one of Lloyd George's chief supporters in the land reform campaign.

FOREIGN MOTORS SUPERIOR FOR AEROPLANES

(Special to The Daily News.)

LONDON, Nov. 17.—British airmen were impressed by the superiority of foreign motors for aeroplanes during the military competitions held at Salisbury Plain in July.

All of the aeroplanes which passed the test and others recommended for awards were equipped with foreign engines. Two of the foreign engines were failures and spoiled the chances of two aeroplanes of British construction, but on the whole the foreign engines were trustworthy and efficient.

The British engines in the competition showed improvement but are not yet capable of equalling the performances of the foreign motors.

The judges' report asserts that the importance of establishing first class British air craft engine works cannot be over rater. It also points out that while there is natural reluctance to flying in winds of 20 or 30 miles an hour when there is no object to be gained, such flights can safely be made by most machines of a good type.

JOURNALIST SUES UNCLE FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT

ST. CATHERINES, Ont., Nov. 17.—Maud Winnifred Rogers of Niagara Falls, N. Y., journalist, has entered action against her uncle, James A. Rogers of Virgil, Man., for $10,000 damages for breach of contract. The case will be heard next Monday by Mr. Justice Britton. Miss Rogers alleges that through an offer made by her uncle of a position as manager of a western branch of his cement block industry which he intended opening, she resigned her journalistic position, which was yielding her $150 a week. She worked for her uncle a short time and received but two payments.

WOMEN CAN BE CURED OF CANCER

Surgeons Will Inaugurate Campaign of Education—Many Delay Treatment Too Long.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—With the statement that practically 25 per cent of woman afflicted with a form of cancer peculiar to the sex can be cured permanently if the disease is treated in its early stages, the clinical congress of surgeons at its meeting last night in the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, took steps to start a crusade of publicity throughout the country which, it is believed, will help largely to check the ravages of the usually fatal malady.

A committee of five of the leading gynecologists of the United States was appointed to begin the fight at once and to report at the next congress. The committee was instructed to write or have written articles to be published in the daily press, the weekly or monthly magazines, as may prove most expedient in disseminating the information.

The committee appointed is: Dr Thomas Cullen, chairman, as the professor of gynecology at Johns Hopkins Baltimore; Dr. Howard C. Taylor of Columbia; Dr. C. J. Miller of Tulare university, New Orleans; Dr. F. F. Simpson, one of the leading abdominal surgeons of Pittsburg, and Dr. E. C. Dudley of Chicago.

Dr. Cullen, who read a paper on "Radical Operations for Cancer of the Cervix," had explained previously the necessity for such an operation. "The reason why so many women died of cancer," said he, "is because they conceal their symptoms too long. When they finally go to the physician for a diagnosis they are too late for any cure. From 20 to 25 per cent cures could be effected by the radical Wertheim operation if it were done in time. Ten or 15 years ago, when we had patients with appendicitis, it was with the utmost difficulty that we persuaded them to undergo an operation. Now, when we tell a patient that he or she has appendicitis, almost the first question asked is: "Well, Doc, what is the best hospital for me to go to?" The disease is taken nowadays almost as a matter of course."

SHAKEUP IN POLICE FORCE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 17.—The second shakeup in the police department within a year occurred last night when a meeting of the police commissioners at the instigation of Mayor Keller asked for the resignation of J. C. Fielding, chief of the detective department; James Murnane, captain of the department, and two other plain clothes men The only reason given was that the resignations were asked "in an effort to improve the efficiency of the department."

WANT GREEN AS MINISTER

needed was a portfolio for minister of mines whose sole duty it was to look after the mining industry.

"I would say again that I am not making this statement because my name has been mentioned in connection with the portfolio but because of the great need and benefit that would be derived from it. The mining industry should have every attention. If the minister of mines were chosen from Ontario I would as heartily support the government in that particular feature of their policy as if that portfolio were to come to British Columbia. I would support it just the same if it came to British Columbia and not to the Kootenays, and I would support it just the same if it did come to the Kootenays.

Met Executive.

"I am pleased to say that I had the pleasure of meeting the Rossland executive, and I never met an executive who wanted less, and I say that the questions put to me by your executive were questions that can be easily answered and their wants easily satisfied and I hope to get them all for you. I have an added pleasure in addressing this audience tonight in the fact that my good friend Mr. Campbell is your local representative. I may say that from my knowledge of Mr. Campbell, Rossland has made no mistake, and the legislative chamber will always ring with his voice when there is anything that in his opinion the people of Rossland are entitled to and if he talks as forcibly at Victoria as he has done tonight there will be no doubt of them getting it. Mr Campbell has a reputation in any event of always getting what he wants. I also wish to say what a pleasure it is to me tonight to be accompanied by my old friend Mr Barnard. Mr. Barnard sometimes calls me his 'political godfather,' because I have been of some slight assistance to him in the past. Mr. Barnard has preceded me to Ottawa and I am delighted to know that he is there as the wisdom that he has gathered there will be of some assistance to me, and I have always felt that my constituency would have a warm friend in Mr. Barnard. It is a pleasure to me at all times to say a few words at a Conservative gathering. I am glad that I have had some experience in the local house as I feel sure that that experience will be of assistance to me in the federal house, in so far as the Conservative party and the Conservative policy is concerned. If you can today show me a measure in the statute books of a constructive nature of any moment, I will point out to you in that same measure the work of the Conservative government. It always has been the party for construction. It always has been the party that stood by the old flag. It always has been the party that looked to the prosperity, not only of one particular class or community but to the whole of this Dominion of ours. It was that party under the leadership of Sir John A. Macdonald that established a protective policy. This policy was inaugurated I say by the Conservative government, and the Liberals, although they say otherwise, had to carry it on just as it was, and I say that the people of Canada will carry on that grand old policy until the time will come when practically everything that we use and eat and wear will be grown, mined or manufactured within our own province (applause.) When that time comes and we are in a position to compete with the world it will be time enough then to drop the barriers.

Naval Policy.

"I am not going to talk much on the ordinary questions that are up before the Dominion house, but I wish to say a few words in connection with that grand old empire to which we are all so proud to belong. We have before us a condition of affairs that in the opinion of those who are best able to judge, is serious. We may at any time find the motherland in trouble, and when she is in trouble to whom should she apply for aid more readily than to her greatest possession, this Dominion of ours, and I say that Canada cannot go too far in granting an immediate contribution to the navy and getting down to some policy that will tend to generally assist under proper conditions as time goes on, and I believe in that connection that when the policy of the Right Hon. R. L. Borden is laid before the house, every Canadian who is proud to belong to the British race will find a policy which he can support with both hands up and in fighting attitude. He will find a policy that we need not be ashamed of. He will find a policy that will make for the consolidation of the empire, for one King, one country and one flag. In conclusion I would like to say that when I see the different representatives here on the platform tonight that the people of this community knew their own minds, when they sent these gentlemen down there.

Wants British Columbia Minister.

The chairman, in introducing Mr. Barnard, remarked: "I am afraid that Mr. Green is a little modest. In so far as this part of the constituency is concerned, I don't think we want a minister of mines from Ontario. Ontario is too far away from British Columbia. We want a minister of mines who is familiar with conditions in this part of the country. A minister of mines who will assist us in developing southern British Columbia, and I think Mr. Green is the man for us. I know that my friend Mr. Schofield, member from Ymir, and Mr. Maclean, from Nelson, will get in and do the very best they can in order to secure the portfolio for Mr. Green. The last time I was in Ottawa I saw the minister of mines, who was holding two portfolios, either one of which demanded such an immense amount of work that he was unable to do one justice, let alone two, and therefore the mining branch has been entirely overlooked. Rossland first started British Columbia. It was the mines in Rossland that brought the first rush to British Columbia, when Vancouver was a little dinky town of 14,000. The rush came here first, and as things flattened out a little they went on to the coast, but when the fulrry is over there they will come back to Rossland.

Song, A. M. Betts, in lady's costume, "My Time of Life"; encore, "I'm Walking Out With Such a Nice Young Man"; band selection; song, Mr. Sherman, "Thora"; duet, Jones and Rodda, "Sailors."

Member for Victoria.

Mr. Barnard then said: "I am very glad indeed to be here in the city of Rossland tonight for two reasons. First, the only dividend I ever received from mining investment came out of the city of Rossland the other day. I have had a long and close connection with Mr. Green, socially and politically, and am glad to be here tonight if only to bear witness to the fact that he is thoroughly and highly appreciated in other parts of British Columbia outside of his own constituency. Mr. Green, I may say, during all the years that I have known him, has been a true friend, and therefore when he asked me to accompany him here and go with him through the Crows Nest pass on our way to Ottawa, I was only too glad to do so. Our two constituencies are distant, but we have one interest in common, and that is the welfare of British Columbia. We in Victoria felt when you saw fit to elect Mr. Green by acclamation that we were the gainers, and I want you to feel that so far as Kootenay is concerned you will certainly not lose anything of support on my part. I wish to say, too, that my associations with your late member, Mr. Goodeve, were always of the pleasantest. We saw a great deal of each other at Ottawa and were able to help each other considerably. We have a hurry-up call to go down to Ottawa to discuss affairs of very great importance; affairs that after all is said and done, are of greater importance than the welfare of British Columbia, that is to say, the welfare of the empire as a whole, for I believe that the sentiment of the people of British Columbia is that the welfare of this province is inextricably bound up with that of the empire. You particularly in this city of Rossland are interested or engaged in a business which requires a lot of money to run. We on the coast are interested in the work of municipal development. The money which has developed the Dominion of Canada and particularly the western part of Canada has come from Britain. Did you ever reflect what a sudden declaration of war between Britain and another great power would mean. It means that the inflow of money would stop. Work would stop, and our workers would be out of employment. If the Dominion of Canada gave $50,000,000 tomorrow towards naval defence I would say that it was good business on the part of the Dominion of Canada. We have a surplus of $30,000,000. That would mean about two years of our surplus. We have in this country about 8,000,000 people. If each inhabitant in Canada gave in one year or two years $10 apiece, would it be a very heavy contribution? and yet it would mean $80,000,000, and mark you, gentlemen, you would see this ruinous competition of building of warships cease at once. Is the Dominion of Canada going to stand by and do nothing when the little Malay State has donated a cruiser. I think not, gentlemen, and I am sure, absolutely and positively certain that no member of parliament from this good old province of British Columbia need ever be afraid of voting too much. His only danger is that he may be called upon to vote too little. Mr. Green from what he has told you tonight and from conversations I have had with him, holds exactly the same views on this question as I do."

The Chairman—"I think, gentlemen, I am safe in saying that when the question of naval defence comes up these is no doubt as to what Mr. Green and Mr. Barnard will say

James H. Schofield and W. R. Maclean, in short, strong speeches, spoke of the pleasure it gave them to be present at such a large gathering to welcome Mr. R. F. Green and were unanimous in saying that their interests were all for Canada, British Columbia, and especially the Kootenays.

The musical program was then gone on with, the following being the performers: Messrs Ralph, Webb, Bostock, Forteath, Glover, Morris, Stewart. Mr. Reese told some funny stories and it then being about midnight the chairman thanked all who had contributed to make the concert the splendid success it was and the audience standing, the band played "God Save the King," while all joined in the singing and one of the most successful smokers ever held in Rossland was at an end.

ROSSLAND FOOTBALL CLUB GIVES SUCCESSFUL SMOKER

ROSSLAND, B.C., Nov. 16.—Tonight in Miners' Union hall, kindly lent by the Rossland Miners' union for the occasion, the Rossland city football club gave a most striking concert to its members and friends. There were nearly 200 present when the concert began. E. Campbell-MacIntyre, the club secretary, was in the chair. The chairman in his opening remarks [illegible] a great pleasure to possess at such a large gathering of members and friends of the Football club who had come that year to celebrate the end of a most successful season in which they won nearly every game they played. He thanked the Rossland Miners' union for the use of the hall, and the committee in charge of the musical program and also those friends who had taken part in the program. A special word of thanks was given to the refreshment committee who had made such a success of their department, and also to the club members who had borne the whole expense of the evening's entertainment. The following contributed their services to the evening's entertainment: Mr. Morris sang Thora with great effect. Hiram Stewart gave a reading which brought down the house, delighting the crowd. George Waltho sang "Just Some One." Messrs. Webb and Blythe gave a very graceful exhibition of club swinging. Teddy Glover sang beautifully, "Under the Old Cherry Tree." Willie Lawson gave a mandolin solo accompanied by Mr. Eaves on piano that met with a great reception, and they were encored time after time. Mr. Caldwell sang twice and received great applause. Teddy Lee sang his song well, the audience joining in the chorus. John Casey sang "All the Nice Girls." John Sherman sang splendidly. Messrs Rodda and Jones sang a duet which was much appreciated. Messrs. Waltho and Lee sang a duet, also meeting with great applause. Billy Turner sang "Love Me and the World Is Mine" in a sweet clear voice and was encored to the echo. Stanley Bostock gave some good step dancing, and Arthur Evans excelled himself singing "The Farmer's Boy." Mr. Richards made an ideal accompanist.

No Poisonous Lead or Sulphur In Parisian Sage Hair Tonic

The girl with the auburn hair is on every carton and bottle of Parisian Sage, which is manufactured in Canada by the R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. Price only 50 cents at drug and department stores and all counters where toilet goods are sold. Here's more proof:

"It is indeed with pleasure that I wish to advise you of the great benefit received from the use of your Parisian Sage. I suffered from dandruff and falling hair; in fact was almost bald in spots. Parisian Sage was recommended to me, so I purchased three bottles, having finished the last about ten days ago. My head is now free from dandruff and my hair is certainly much thicker than before I began using your wonderful tonic. Might state, too, that all other so-called remedies for dandruff which I tried were of no benefit. I cannot speak too highly of the merits of Parisian Sage, and gladly endorse its use where the above mentioned conditions exist."—G. Knight, Underwood, Ontario. Poole Drug Co., Ltd., guarantees it.

Poultry Keeping in the Kootenays

(By W. N. Scott, Trail, B. C.)

We will assume that in starting poultry keeping the beginner decides on keeping only pure bred stock. There is no longer any excuse among intelligent men for keeping a motley aggregation of mongrels or, to use their less artistic name, "dung hills." Pure bred stock is so plentiful and so reasonable in price that the slight increase in first cost is more than counterbalanced by the satisfaction of having a good thing.

There seems to be an idea among some people that "crossbreds" are better layers than pure breds. By "crossbred" is meant a first cross between two different varieties of pure breds. Assuming this may be true, where the pure breds have degenerated by inbreeding, but the same result may be accomplished by introducing a new made bird from a vigorous heavy egg producing strain of the same variety as the females and thus keep the blood lines pure.

I use the term "pure bred" rather than the more common term of "thoroughbred" as the latter term is a misnomer when applied to poultry and may mean absolutely nothing so far as quality is concerned. In stock, the term thoroughbred implies not only pure blood lines, but that the animal designated is from registered stock and is itself eligible for registration in the club herd book of the class to which it belongs. It carries with it a certain guarantee of equality. This is not true regarding poultry and poultry is judged by appearance alone that is to conformity to the standard of perfection of the country where it is bred or exhibited. I have seen birds entered as Silver Laced Wyandottes win at Ottawa that were cross bred, imported from England, but whose plumage type and shape were those of high class Wyandottes. There is no objection to the term thoroughbred if it is understood to mean simply a bird of pure blood lines with no implication of quality. The cheapest method of getting a start is to buy eggs from good stock of the variety you have decided to keep. This is not a safe method for the beginner unless he will call in some one in the fall who is a good judge of the variety and mate up the birds he ought to keep. Chances are the novice will pick out the largest, huskiest male or the one most matured. This bird may be defective in wing, tail, undercolor, eye, comb, etc., and the next year's breeding be ruined.

Some will make the equally foolish mistake of buying up pullets here there and yonder and a male bird somewhere else without regard to the first principles of breeding of making one the complement of the other. If females are weak on leg color, see to it that your made bird is especially strong on shanks. The problems of breeding are so diverse in their different breeds that I will reserve their discussion for a future issue.

By far the safest method is to buy a small but choice breeding pen from a reliable breeder and have him mate them up for you to produce the best results. You may not get what you expected but if he be a reliable dealer you can surely trust his judgment. Lay this down as the rock bottom principle of all poultry breeding and you will get my point. "The production of females of standard color and type is the essential thing." You will want ten of them to every male bird and as a flock will generally average half and half, your chances of getting three good male birds out of a hundred are good. Many breeders run on the double mating principle and have their pens so mated as to get exhibition females from one pen and males from another, but this is too involved for any beginner to attempt.

The production of high grade females bring the first essential, the selection of your male bird. Should these be made on the basis of a show room prize ribbon. Only a few days ago I received a letter from a friend with a tale of woe about a first prize male bird he bought last year. The bird was all right but too light a red for a good breeder and the result is a lot of poor colored pullets. A male bird to breed proper colored females would in many cases be unplaced in the show room. I bought a bunch of prize winning R. I. Red pullets recently and also their sire. I was not surprised on arrival to find the sire so dark that he would not have a look-in at any good exhibition, but so rich in color as to be invaluable as a breeder. I merely mention this as illustrative of the fact that if you buy a mated breeding pen in any particolored variety, you may find the male bird will get results, not ribbons. I used the expression "buy from a reliable breeder." What constitutes "reliability?" This is a difficult question to answer unless one is personally acquainted with the breeders. A few suggestions however to the unitiated may not be amiss. Being a practical breeder myself I hate to speak on this phase of the subject lest poultrymen, like lawyers, should all be classed alike.

A breeder may be reliable so far as his bona fides is concerned and yet be incompetent. Not every breeder is a good judge of birds; in fact a very small percentage are. What may be a grand bird to him may be only fair to a more critical eye. This is more apt to be true of the man who keeps 20 or more varieties, to catch all classes of trade. It is much safer to trust the judgment of a specialty breeder who keeps but one breed and closely studies its points and variations. A breeder may be reliable but ignorant of real poultry valuations. A man sends away his hard earned simoleons and buys a cock bird or a breeding pen from a breeder of repute. He enters them in his local show of 300 or 400 birds and possibly clears up the prize list. Values now inflate like hydrogen gas and he has the nerve to ask perhaps $10 a setting for his eggs when the eggs from prize winners at New York, Chicago and Boston are offered for half that.

A breeder may be reliable but the victim of circumstances. A long winter with steady snow and the enforced confinement of birds, tends to weaken fertility and vitality. Some valuable male birds have proved very uncertain breeders where more than one breed is kept. A bird may get into another pen and lay on the eggs, get missed or mis-marked in gathering. The purchaser gets an odd chick in the batch and instantly cries "fraud," not realizing that no sane breeder would wilfully risk his reputation by such an act so easily and surely detected On the other hand a breeder may be an extensive advertiser but not reliable. True, advertising space costs money but money may be honestly spent but dishonorably made. It is a well known fact that many of the largest advertisers are very small breeders and some don't keep a bird. When you see breeders in one poultry journal offering thousands of birds for sale and in another journal wanting to buy up from all over to fill those orders the inference is clear. Advertising pays and I know of no daily paper in the country that carries the quantity of poultry ads and turns over more poultry sales than the Nelson News.

Generally one pays two prices for a bird from a breeder of prize winning repute, the value of the bird plus the reputation of the breeder. There is no objection to this as a good reputation is only built up by hard work careful breeding, expressive advertising and square dealing, but if one is a good judge of birds one can often pick up one from an obscure breeder for one-third the price.

The reliability of a breeder is sometimes indicated by the way he answers your letter of enquiry. I had a reply from one man regarding a cock bird I wanted in which he gave no description of the bird itself but stated "The brother of this bird's father won so and so at the Crystal Palace show in England." This was doubtless true and might appeal to a novice but I wrote him I was too old a breeder to be caught on this "uncle," "brother" or "first cousin" business. I have sold sons of first Chicago, Boston, Ontario and Toronto cocks mated with prize hens for 15c a pound. While a high class parentage is a big factor in the quality of the offspring, it is very unwise to buy any bird on the recommendation that its "grandmother" or "uncle" were blue ribbons. Probably the surest test of the reliability of a breeder is his behavior if eggs or stock do not measure up to his guarantee. I got stung myself last season. I bought three settings of eggs from Kentucky at $1 each. They were dis gracefully packed and some were broken. On testing only three proved fertile in the lot and from these only one bird hatched and it died next day The circular read "fertility guaranteed." I wrote at once asking for an adjustment and pointed out the fact of only three being fertile. His reply was very brief, expressing regret at my ill luck but that "the eggs are all tested fertile before shipment." I then wrote him giving him ten days to make good or I would report him to the American Poultry association as he knew as well as I did that the egg tester did not exist that would pick out a fertile egg before incubation. He wilted and compromised.

GEORGE CRADDOCK DEAD

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 17.—George Craddock, for 50 years an architect, died yesterday, aged 82 years. Born in England, he came to London in the early sixties.

The death of Charles A. Barnes on Friday night removed another old resident, Mr. Barnes having lived here for 25 years. He was born in Lambton county 67 years ago and from 1877 to 1887 was public school inspector of East Lambton.

SCHOOL OF INSTUCTION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—Militia orders issued today announce that a provisional school of instruction for infantry will be established at Calgary for a period of six weeks commencing January 20. Capt. A. P. Birchall of the Royal Fusiliers is posted as instructional officer in Western Canada, and is allotted for duty in military districts 10, 11 and 13. He will commence his duties on December 1.

High-Speed Eating and Wrong Food Lead to Indigestion

A little thought should convince anyone that right habits of eating are of first importance.

Five important points should guide the wise selection of food:

Must be nourishing,
Must be easily digested,
Must taste good,
Must make work for the teeth,
Must be economical—

Grape-Nuts

meets every requirement

After all the arguments for and against any particular food, the question can best be solved for the individual by personal test---then you'll know.

HAS A SAY

The School Principal Talks About Food.

The principal of High School in a flourishing Western city says:

"For 23 years I worked in the school with only short summer vacations. I formed the habit of eating rapidly, masticating poorly, which coupled with my sedentary work led to indigestion, liver trouble, lame back and rheumatism.

"For 12 years I struggled along with this handicap to my work, seldom laid up but often a burden to myself with lameness and rheumatic pains.

"Two years ago I met an old friend, a physician who noticed at once my out-of health condition and who prescribed for me an exclusive diet of Grape-Nuts, milk and fruit.

"I followed his instructions and in two months I felt like a new man with no more headaches, rheumatism or liver trouble and from that time to this Grape-Nuts has been my main food for morning and evening meals. I am stronger and healthier than I have been for years, without a trace of the old troubles.

"To all this remarkable change in health I am indebted to my wise friend and Grape-Nuts and I hope the Postum Co. will continue to manufacture this life and health giving food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ask any physician. Those who have tried Grape-Nuts know things.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 18

GERMANY CONTINUES BIG NAVAL EXPENDITURE.

Whatever else may be said of Germany's naval policy, it is apparent that there is to be no lessening of that country's activities in that direction. This is shown by the naval estimates for the current year just presented.

Not only is there to be no decrease in the expenditure this year as compared with last, but there is to be a substantial increase. Last year will be remembered as the high-water mark in German naval expenditure. That these high-water figures are to be exceeded this year can mean only one thing, that Germany is determined to continue its attempt to secure naval supremacy.

There is one country, and practically one country alone, against which Germany's naval policy is directed. That is Great Britain. Germany's continued activity means that Great Britain must continue hers.

It is this fact that renders doubly important any action which may be taken by the over-seas Dominions toward co-operation with the mother country in the matter of naval defence and which attracts particular interest to the forthcoming announcement by Premier Borden of Canada's policy in this respect. The only hope throughout Canada, among those who recognise a duty in the matter, is that the measure of assistance to be given shall be adequate.

ROSSLAND SHOULD BE PROUD.

The reputation of the people of Rossland as entertainers was more than maintained by the Conservatives of that city in the excellent program which they provided for Friday evening's smoker in honor of Mr. R. F. Green, successor to Mr. Goodeve as member for Kootenay, on the eve of his departure for Ottawa to take up his new duties there.

The affair throughout showed evidence of the thoroughness with which the people of Rossland go about the preparations for an entertainment, as they do about other matters. No pains had been spared by the committee in the decoration of the hall and the result of the co-operation of everyone to make the event a success constituted a striking tribute to the truth of the Miner's union motto, which appeared above the stage "In union there is strength," the scene of the event being the hall of that organization.

The people of Rossland are to be congratulated upon having talent for a program such as was presented. There is perhaps no other city in Canada of Rossland's size which could provide such an interesting and enjoyable musical offering. And the pleasing feature was the fact that these who took part were not professionals, but were drawn from various walks of life of the city's population, men to whom music and entertainment was a pastime, not a business. No higher tribute perhaps could be paid to Rossland's population than this.

Rossland is certainly to be congratulated not only on the success of Friday night's entertainment, but also on the fact that the city possesses the talent to provide such an entertainment.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Germany's continued naval activity makes decisive action on Canada's part doubly necessary.

The members of St. Paul's church are to be congratulated on the completion of their new church and the success which attended the opening exercises yesterday.

The plight of the Turkish soldiery engaged in the Balkan campaign is pitiable in the extreme. To the danger from the shot and shell of the opposing forces have been added plague, pestilence and famine which are proving even more deadly.

Toronto leads Canadian cities by a large margin in the number of divorces. What is the explanation?

What the Press Is Saying

A Welcome Judgment.

The award of $1,500 made by Mr. Justice Riddell to a passenger who had caught cold while waiting for a train *at a railway station, suggests to rail*way companies the necessity either of having their trains run on schedule time or else of providing safe and comfortable waiting rooms. Judge Riddell will be sustained in his conviction that where a railway company fails to do either of these things it ought to pay the doctor's bill.—London Free Press.

New Gorm of Missionary.

Dr. Friedmann of Berlin Germany, forms by injecting living tubercle professes to cure tuberculosis in all its bacilli which have been rendered "benevolent." Presumably the converted bacilli act as missionaries to the bad bacilli in the blood and convert them. This is a branch of missionary work which is worthy of encouragement.—Hamilton Herald.

The Weather

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—Pressure is lowest in the Canadian west. A few falls of snow have occurred today in Quebec and a few light showers in the maritime provinces. Otherwise the weather has been fair and in the western provinces quite mild.

This Date in History.

The first opera house in North America, built exclusively for operatic performances, was opened in New York 79 years ago today. It occupied a site at the corner of Church and Leonard streets. It was a failure, the public refusing to support grand opera, and after one financially disastrous season the building was turned into a theatre. It was destroyed by fire in 1841. Later the Academy of Music was the scene of a number of important operatic productions, but it was not until 1883 that the Metropolitan opera house was opened as the permanent home of grand opera of the first grade.

St. Peters, in Rome, was first opened for worship on this date in 1626, when dedicatory services were held by Pope Urban VIII. The magnificent edific was nearly two centuries in the building.

COMMUNICATION

AN EX-TEACHER'S VIEW.

To the Editor of The Daily News.

Sir: It is due to one of the most perverse streaks in the human make-up that the one who comes out second best in any contest is very liable to become, whether deservedly or otherwise, the object of a flush of public sympathy. This conceivably might be all right were not sympathy one of the most blinding of sentiments, leading on to a dangerous suspension of good judgment, and often to acts as subversive of the public good. No community has ever yet learned to distrust its own capacity to estimate any public matter, particularly the findings of its own authorized deputies. If individual opinions were formed in private the aggregate opinion of the community would be a saner, safer thing. As it is, the old proverb, vox populi, vox dei, is either the most exalted inspiration or the most graceless irony entirely according to the circumstances of the pronouncement. But since, to put it in English, the public is always right it is often more dangerous for the majority in a council of commissioners to carry its point than to lose. France or South America is the proper home of such perversities. I for one hope to see in the public discussion of the present school situation a cooler, solider sentiment and judgment, more worthy of this western city of ours.

There is grave danger in the present moment that the public mind may be diverted from the crux of the problem by certain contingent matters. There is the danger that indignation on account of the internal dissensions of the board should precipitately brand their findings as necessarily wrong. Let us not get the matters confused. No doubt there are dissensions. We will try to solve them as soon as we can at the hustings. No doubt there are wheels within wheels. There always are, and it is dangerous to get caught in their cogs. Let them whirr. The matter in hand is simple enough. Was the findings of the board right? Let us briefly review and comment.

To begin, that was a fine little touch of professional spirit on the part of Inspector May in asking to have the affair probed in camera. But the board decided rightly to make the proceedings public. A public school is a public institution and teachers and principal are public servants. Nine of these had brought charges against a tenth. Regarding these charges two questions had to be considered: Were they true? And if true, were they serious?

As touching the first of these, on the face of it, it seems hardly probable that nine morally responsible persons gifted with ordinary intelligence are going to be wrong and one right. Nine such individuals are not going to jeopardize their situations by any fake resignations if they are wrong, nor conspire to tender genuine resignations for nothing. Nine members of so noble a profession which they have chosen more or less as a congenial life work, are not likely to be nine consummate slanderers. They are well known socially. If they are known to be honorable in society, they are not likely to be so brutally dishonorable in business. "Out of the mouths of many witnesses,"—and in this case there is a sorrowfully close agreement in their testimonies. From the standpoint of the plaintiffs every inference supports the probability that the charges were true.

Next from the standpoint of the principal. He is relatively a stranger to us. His antecedents, excepting such as can under certain circumstances be reduced to documentary form, are unknown to us. Possibly then the charges may be true, the point is no more than a negative one. But positive evidence is to hand him capable of what is charged against him. In such of his "messages to congress" as I have seen he does not waste any time in diplomatic circumlocutions. Thus to Miss Olding, with an initial "Please observe the following," he tabulates:

1. Secure order in your room, then maintain it.

3. Continue dictation on the board, but see that pupils' writing is improved rather than impaired.

In another note even the initial please is lacking.

Nothing much in that? Maybe not, maybe only formal brevity. How about this?

When the charges were filed with the secretary, a hearing, of course, became necessary, a date was set for the meeting and notice sent to Mr. Thompson. It was a colorless letter, merely stating the nature of the meeting and asking him to attend. We quote his reply:

Nelson, Oct. 25, 1912.

Board of Education, Nelson.

Members of the Board: Notice of meeting to be held Saturday, 11 a. m., received. I beg to say that assistants may make charges and counter-charges against me to you, collectively or individually, and if your ear is open to such then by all means listen, but what concerns me and my assistants in the organization, discipline and to a certain extent the curriculum is mine and I shall not be compelled to walk the carpet before you as a board on any charge over which I have complete jurisdiction. Yours respectfully,

R. THOMPSON.

Did he design to prejudice his own case? Might not the board at once infer that probably there was just ground for the complaints laid? And to you and me, after hearing the evidence, and taking into consideration the characters of the plaintiffs and their numbers and the testimony of students, there cannot seem to be any reasonable doubt that the charges were true.

Now the second point: Were the charges serious?

In preface let me quote a sentence or two from Tompkins' "School Management," one of the best short books on the subject ever written:

"A school is quite a complex object, for it includes teachers, pupils, parents, officers, tax-payers, funds, houses and apparatus.—School management is the process by which all the acts of all the agents constituting the organism are brought into unity.—School administration should be entirely democratic. The law of unity forbids the superintendent to stand over against the teacher making professional criticisms that only wound and embarrass those he should help. It requires the closest sympathetic co-operation between them."

Here is the touchstone by which the administration of the late principal should be tried. Did he violate the law of the school, the law of its organic unity?

"Pig-headed," "Tattled to the board," "Misfit," "Satanic laugh," "Suave veneer." These are not expressions of sympathy.

Accusations of defiance, charges of untruthfulness, declarations of authority—there is nothing of that democratic spirit demanded by the law. Does it need a course in the principles of pedagogy to understand that the school could not under these conditions perform its proper function?

I speak as one who has no personal acquaintance with either Mr. Thompson or any of his assistants. I speak as one who has spent long years in the school room, both as assistant and as principal. I have studied the present trouble as thoroughly as possible, and I offer it as my careful conclusion that the board could not have decided otherwise than as they did. That the decision was not unanimous does not to me impair its justice. I only marvel at the dissension.

REGISTERED PACKAGE OF MONEY DISAPPEARS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ABERDEEN, S. D., Nov. 17.—Postal authorities are investigating the mysterious disappearance of a registered package containing $3,000, addressed to a bank at Morristown, S. D., and mailed at the Aberdeen postoffice. The package was accepted by Ralph Dennison, register clerk, and transferred to George Mead, transfer clerk, who took it to the Milwaukee station and left it in the strong box, where registered mail is kept. Later when William Clemons, railway mail clerk, opened the strong box he found the package missing.

CALLS CHARGE SPITEFUL

note for this amount payable to informant next month, but Piroshco, being unable to read English, in which the note was written, refused to accept it. On Saturday morning Piroshco, when matters were explained to him, accepted the note.

The charge against Veregin was made by the informant personally and not by the provincial police.

Informant Tells His Story.

Piroshco on the stand said that he went to the Doukhobor place at Shoreacres at about 9 o'clock on the morning of November 9. The Doukhobors were building a new house. Wasil Maloff and some other Doukhobors were inside the house with Veregin. He went there because he had an I. O. U. from Veregin for $800. "Why didn't you get the note from Mr. Sherbinin?" Veregin asked him, continued witness. He went to Veregin for the purpose of talking the matter over and making some arrangement for the payment of the money. "After that he gave me a punch in the chest and after that he said to the men in the house, 'Take him out of the house and kick him out,'" said informant. After he had been taken out Veregin followed to the veranda and "called to the men to take him to the woods." Maloff took hold of him by the arm, Veregin saying, "Give it him in the neck." Maloff punched him in the neck as instructed, declared informant.

Piroshco said that he went, after the alleged assault, to the Dill ranch, where he gave A. B. Dill an account of what happened. He also told an independent Doukhobor named Silicin.

Cross-examined, he said that he recognized Kuplikoff, who was in court, as one of the men he met outside the house at Shoreacres. Kupilkoff did not tell him that Veregin did not wish to see him in the house, as he had to catch a train. He did not call Veregin a swindler, nor an extortioner. He did not say anything till Veregin told him that he was "dirty, no good," and then he told the Doukhobor leader: "If I am dirty, so are you."

Informant told Alderman Gleazer that he felt pain afterwards and that he found two scratches on his fingers, but could not say how they happened.

Mr. Dill on the stand told of meeting the informant twice on the morning of the alleged assault. On the first occasion the informant went through motions indicating that he had been punched on the neck.

No Blood at First Meeting.

Cross-examined, witness said that there was blood on Piroshco's nose on the second occasion, but none when he met him first.

Peter Silicin also said that when he saw Piroshco first there was no blood on his nose; he saw him later and it was bleeding.

Defence Denies Assault.

John Kuplikoff, called for the defence, said that Veregin told him to tell Piroshco that he had not time to see him then, but would talk to him afterwards. Informant then used a disgusting expression and went into the house. Veregin asked informant if he had not been told that he had no time to see him then. Piroshco called Veregin a swindler and said that he wanted his money. When he said that Maloff went to him quietly and "led him to the door." Veregin was never closer than 10 feet to Piroshco. Veregin did not go on the veranda and tell Maloff to strike Piroshco on the neck.

Cross-examined by Chief Black, witness said Maloff told Piroshco not to make a noise in the house and led him gently to the door.

Wasil Maloff also declared that Veregin did not get within 10 feet of Piroshco, who spoke loudly and used bad words. Witness led him to the door, after saying: "For the sake of God, don't make any noise here." Piroshco tried to resist and continued to speak loudly; witness had to use force to push him out. Informant walked away and witness went back into the house. Veregin had not told him to hit Maloff in the neck.

Cross-examined, witness said that Piroshco was standing quite near the door when he commenced to lead him out. Veregin was to one side and was never within about 10 feet of the informant. To Mr. St. Denis, witness declared that he was not told to take Piroshco out, and explained: "He was using bad words in our house." Witness said that he was the senior occupant or "master" of the house.

Cuzan Astaforoff corroborated the testimony of the former witnesses for the defence.

Veregin Goes on Stand.

On the stand Veregin said that Piroshco had told him on an occasion previous to November 9 that he had made a mistake in coming to Canada and as a result he, Veregin, made the arrangements about the payment of the $800. "An agreement was made that I was to pay him $800 as soon as Popoff gave it to me."

On November 9 Veregin said that he told Kuplikoff to tell informant that he had no time to see him then. When "the old man," Piroshco, entered the room he, Veregin, was standing about the centre of the room and informant was between him and the door. As soon as he saw him he said to Piroshco, "I can't see you today." After some words witness said, "You had better get out." Then Piroshco said, "My son, you are a swindler." Witness said that Piroshco had "50 times had dinner with me and gone about with me." When informant swore Maloff went quietly to him and told him not to swear. Veregin said that he could not possibly have got past the other men in the room to strike him. It made him feel angry to have it said that he had "struck an old man like that," if he had been a man of Chief Black's husky proportions he said that it would have been a different thing. Veregin also denied that he had gone out to the veranda and shouted, as declared by informant. Veregin said that he was not angry at the time, that he had no occasion to be angry, that he was never closer than 10 or 12 feet from informant. Only one man had led him to the door and put him out and witness had not seen him after he went out.

HAS MANIA FOR KILLING BOYS

the one mailed Oct. 23, although not mailed at the same time, was as follows: "Joseph Josephs will be found in the bottom of an outhouse back of a saloon near Doyle's on Ridge road. A drunk-crazed brain done the deed and remorse and sorrow for the parents is bringing the results which will soon come to the end. The demon whisky will then have one more victim, making four in all. The next morning I tried to kill a little newsy, an Italian, who always stands in the morning at Seneca street at the hotel called —— I forget, but about 121 Seneca street. The boy knows me well. Ask him. I wish to pay the price, but will not let the Boston police get me for my family's sake."

The last postcard was dated New York, Nov. 12, 1912, and stated that the writer expected to be in Buffalo Wednesday, the 13th, and that he would call at the police station at 11 a. m., "so shall expect you to be in your office."

It was signed "R. Denunison" and was the only card of the series to bear a signature. The writer did not keep the appointment.

The police in Boston and New York have been asked to assist the local officers in the attempt to locate the murderer.

DON'T BE BALD

Nearly Anyone May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

We have a remedy that has a record of retarding baldness and promoting hair growth in 93 out of every 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so certain Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will eradicate dandruff, act to prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, arrest premature loss of hair and promote hair growth, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for it in every instance where it does not give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or gum the hair. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. With our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. Sold only at our store—The Rexall store. Poole Drug Company, Ltd.

Pressing and Repairing Department

We are rather proud of our repair department. Yet when it was a tender young thing it was as much of a burden as infants are popularly supposed to be. We were told that that we were making a mistake, that by doing repairing we would injure our reputation as merchant tailors. The success of both departments is sufficient refutation of this opinion. We employ workmen in our repair department who are as skilled in making as in repairing good clothes, and for this reason we tell you there is no one more competent to care for your garments than ourselves. Phone 349 and your order will be promptly answered by our call for and delivery system.

It's a Good Buy

Ten acres at Harrop, close to wharf, railway, store and post office; all good soil, with six acres under cultivation; 750 apple trees of standard varieties, such as Cox's Orange and Wageners. A number of raspberries, blackberries and gooseberries; three-quarters of an acre in strawberries.

Splendid supply of running water, ample for all purposes. Buildings consist of 5-roomed bungalow, store shed, wood shed, chicken houses with runs wired in. The whole farm under good wire fence. Everything in first-class shape ready for immediate possession.

We personally recommend this splendid farm. It's a good buy at $5,600, and can be purchased on any reasonable terms.

M'GILL WINNER FOR SEMI-FINAL GAME

Varsity's Forwards Smothered—McGill Tackling Phenomenal—Show Great Speed.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—McGill defeated Varsity by 14-3 at Lansdowne park on Saturday afternoon after one of the greatest struggles in the history of football union, qualifying incidentally to meet the Toronto Argonauts in the semi-final for the Canadian title and the Grey cup.

Billy Billington and a powerful line, that smothered Varsity's front guard, were the chief factors in the success of the McGill team. Billington played a grand game from beginning to end, often booting the ball from his own line to midfield. He fumbled on only two occasions, but always recovered and repeatedly had the Varsity backs retreating to recover after he had lifted the pigskin over their heads. He scored four points on kicks to the deadline and was a tower of strength to McGill. Paisley and Draper Wollatt backed him up without a mistake and McEvenue at quarter was an extra halfback and wing all in one. Lee also played a sensational game and on the line McGill had much the better of the argument. They smothered Varsity, at times tearing the defence of the Torontonians down, often when scores loomed imminent, and showing much speed in getting up under Billington's punts that the Toronto backs were never able to do a thing. Lewis and Laing distinguished themselves by brilliant tackling throughout, while Watrous, Matheson and even the scrimmage men were far too fast and strong for their checks.

It was in trick plays that McGill showed the way. In the first, second and third quarters they invariably worked their way out of tight corners with end runs after making kicks and in the fourth with a strong wind blowing against them they abandoned their kicking and inaugurated a running game that caught the Varsity students off their guard and kept play almost constantly in the territory of the champions. Even Billington held the ball whenever it reached him. Lee and Laing both pulled off long runs. With five minutes to play Varsity again looked dangerous but the McGill men gave Billington good support and he was able to run nearly all of their kicks.

The Varsity team looked about like a sadly demoralized aggregation after the first five minutes. Their backs were never able to break away as in their other games, because of the phenomenal tackling of Lewis, Laing and Lee and the only runs all afternoon by Griffiths, rear guard were by Gontet and Cuzener. Campbell never had a chance to get going and Maynard was repeatedly pulled down in his tracks for losses. Nothing to beat the McGill tackling had ever been seen before in Ottawa. The Varsity line was completely outplayed. The Red Sox broke up their trick plays, blocked their iron side kicks and oftentimes broke through in time to intercept passes.

HAMILTON WINS ROUGH GAME

Beat Torontos by Nine to Seven—Now in Running for Canadian Championship.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—Rough work free fights and police interference were features of the game in which the Alerts of Hamilton defeated the Torontos by 9 to 7 yesterday at Varsity stadium thereby winning the O. R. F. U. senior championship and allowing the Alerts to go into the finals for the Canadian championship.

Both teams were confident of victory, but the Alerts had the money to back their opinions. The field was wet and slippery in spots. There was a wind from the southwest. There was not a very large attendance notwithstanding fine weather.

HORSE SHOW OPENS IN NEW YORK

Promises to Excel All Previous Shows—Increased Competition in Harness Classes.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The horse show is open and the social season is on. Society flocked tonight to the twenty-eighth annual recurrence of the event in Madison Square garden and with scenes as brilliant as could be supplied, by combination of elaborate decoration, society in the boxes and the public out on the promenade, the seven days' display was successfully inaugurated. Alfred G. Vanderbilt superintended the final arrangements for the start of the show. The trumpets sounded first at the first exhibit of judging, in the presence of hundreds of orphan children from the various asylums throughout the city. This has been a feature for years.

A luncheon to the show officials and army officers from the various foreign countries that will be represented in the events was given by Mr. Vanderbilt previous to the opening. As a horse show this year's exhibit promised to excel in interest any previous exhibition by the National Horse Show association. The entries slightly exceeded in number last year's record and the total more than tripled the 622 entries for the first show in 1883. The feature this year is the increased competition in the harness classes.

Judge William H. Moore won the first blue ribbon of the show with his brown gelding Rykon. The event was the class for horses over 14 hands, two inches and not exceeding 15 hands one inch. Second prize went to Raveurn, also owned by Judge Moore, and third prize to Satire, owned by Judge Sumner Draper, while Pandora Queen took fourth. All four horses placed were bred in England. In the class for women's saddle horses, Miss Mona Dunn, who, though her horses are bred in England, is a Canadian, took three of the four blue ribbons. The first prize, however, went to Panama, last year's heavyweight winner.

HURRICANE DAMAGES JAMAICA BANANA CROP

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 17.—The banana cultivation here was considered damaged during last night by strong gales, accompanied by heavy rains. In the eastern and northern sections of the island bridges and the approaches on several of the main roads suffered greatly. A report just received from the west end of the island says the tail end of the hurricane struck that district. It is not known whether any great injury was done as telegraph communication is cut off.

JOE MANDOT LOOKS LIKE NEXT LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION

Joe Mandot, the little French-American who is the fistic pride of the New Orleans fans, has made a record in the last year that gives a sound basis of fact for the claims of his admirers that he is the coming lightweight champion of the world. His showing in his bout this month with Ad Wolgast was such that four newspaper experts gave him the decision over the champion, while the others gave Wolgast nothing better than a draw. Under the terms required by the foxy Wolgast, the New Orleans boy was compelled to score a knockout in order to win the title, and having failed to do this he has no legitimate claim to the championship. It was just a year ago, lacking two days, on November 20, 1911, that Mandot first came to the attention of the fans of America at large, by fighting eight rounds to a draw with Matty Baldwin at Memphis. This was really Mandot's first bout with a first-class fighter of the lightweight division, although he had previously defeated a number of second raters, including Jack White, Yankee Schwartz and Tommy Kilbane. During the 12 months that have passed since the Baldwin battle Mandot has shown constant improvement. He is about two years and a half younger than Wolgast, and has been fighting only about three years, while Wolgast has been exchanging punches pretty frequently for over six years. Mandot was born in New Orleans, and was 21 years old last August. He is five feet six inches in height, an advantage of an inch and a half over Wolgast. The only defeat he has ever suffered was at the hands of Frankie Conley in 1910. Now that Packey McFarland is permanently eliminated from the lightweight division, the New Orleans boy certainly looks to have more than an even chance at the title. Wolgast has admittedly been going back in the last year or so, and the conditions he imposed for his meeting with Mandot indicated that he was afraid of the Crescent City boxer. The result justified any fears he might have entertained. Mandot was easily the cleverest and showed the better ring generalship, while his punches seemed to have quite as much steam as those delivered by the champion. If Mandot should win the title, he would be the first southerner to become lightweight champion of the world, but not the first man of French descent to have that honor, as Kid Lavigne, the second lightweight title holder, was a French-Canadian.

PRINCETON AND YALE TIE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PRINCETON, Nov. 16.—Princeton and Yale in their annual football game on University field today played each other to a six to six tie. So evenly were the teams matched that neither had the power to rush the ball to a touchdown. Each team put up a stone-wall defense, and all the scoring was done on goals from the field and a goal grom placement. The result of the struggle was unsatisfactory to both sides and especially to the thousands of Princeton rooters who saw the game slip from their hands in the last few minutes of play.

CHICAGO AND MINNESOTA IN RACE FOR SECOND PLACE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 16.—Second place honors in the "Big Nine" football race will be fought out between Chicago and Minnesota at Chicago next Saturday. Chicago's 10 to 0 victory over the University of Illinois today put them in the running for second place and relegated the local eleven to fourth place in the final standing.

HARVARD DEFEATS DARTMOUTH

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 16.—Harvard, using only a part of its offensive tactics defeated Dartmouth today by a score of 3-0. Harvard played a conservative game, its principal batteries of attack being kept to be used against Yale in the annual game at New Haven next Saturday.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16—Playing a fast game from the beginning the University of Pennsylvania football team gained a victory over the Carlisle Indians this afternoon by the score of 34-26.

mand of General Martinouich had great success on the opposite side of the Boyana river, in the direction of San Giovanni di Medua. The division encountered 3,000 Turks who occupied the slopes of Mount Barabalusche, overlooking the Drin river. The Turks defended the positions heroically, but were unable to withstand the stronger Montenegrin artillery fire and gradually withdrew.

The Montenegrins followed this up by attacking the whole front and driving the Turks in headlong flight toward Alessio. The enemy left many dead and wounded on the battlefield. The Montenegria losses all were heavy.

Servians Win Skirmishes.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BELGRADE, Nov. 16.—The Servian troops were engaged all Friday in outpost skirmishes in front of Monastir. The Turks held strong positions 4,000 feet high, which the Servians had to capture at all hazards. This they succeeded in doing before sundown and they now hold all positions leading to the town.

Arrest Young Turks.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 16.—Several leading young turks were arrested today including Suleman Nazif, ex-vali of Bagdad and Muhi Eddin, editor of the newspaper Tanin, for complicity in an alleged plot to upset the government. Other arrests are impending in connection with the propaganda to restore the ex-sultan, Abdul Hamid, to the throne. Refugees say that a portion of Rodosto has been destroyed by fire. The cholera epidemic has increased greatly of late.

Allies Arranging Terms.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 16.—The porte has received an acknowledgment of its communication respecting direct negotiations with the Balkan states. The allies at present are arranging terms, which will be made known to the porte in due course. Thus the services of the powers will be dispensed with and official circles in Constantinople are not sorry that they have succeeded in forestalling them, because they consider the powers' declaration that they would assume no responsibility for the terms which the four states might lay down as an encouragement to the Balkan states to persist in the war. Owing to the serious increase in the cholera epidemic the foreign minister has convoked an extraordinary meeting tomorrow of the international sanitary board at which he will personally preside, for the purpose of adopting serious measures for combating the scourge.

Explosion Kills Turks.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ATHENS, Nov. 17.—The explosion of a Turkish powder magazine at Saloniki several days ago, did much damage. The magazine was close to the cavalry barracks, where many Turkish prisoners were confined. Three hundred and twelve of the Turks were killed and 430 wounded. The Greek authorities have made a careful investigation and according to despatches reaching Athens the explosion is believed to have been the work of a Bulgarian band as revenge upon the Turks for the destruction of their men in the town of Krinia, which the Turks surrounded and bombarded while the Bulgarians were occupying it. A fuse was laid to the magazine and ignited. The Turkish prisoners at Saloniki will be transported to Greece on account of the difficulty of feeding them in that town. Three transports with prisoners have already left.

Report of Turkish Victory.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 17.—A Daily Mail despatch from Constantinople says: "Unofficial reports say that the Turks have gained a great success. The battle opened at 5 o'clock in the morning. The Turks succeeded after some hours of violent fighting in defeating the right Bulgarian wing and in repulsing the left wing. They captured 12 guns and 8,000 prisoners. The Turkish warships contributed largely to this success."

MARKETS

WINNIPEG WHEAT MARKET

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 16.—Wheat prices on the local market were steady on options although Liverpool's closing cables were ⅜@¾d lower. Continental cables and Americans were weaker. The sentiment prevails that prices have reached their level meantime and a reaction is expected after the severe breaks recently. So far there was no disturbing news from Europe in the political situation to affect the market and conditions continue favorable in the wheat growing centre.

Winnipeg opened unchanged for November and May while December was 80@80¼c. Closing figures were ¼c lower for all months. Minneapolis closed ⅞c lower. Chicago closed ⅜@¾c lower.

The cash demand was fair for contract grades while others were not in request. Offerings were scarce for those wanted and heavy for the others. Export traders were buying freely.

Oats prices were practically unchanged and flax was in demand and fluctuations narrow. The increase in flax receipts for the week was phenomenal, a total of 1,009 cars being inspected against 250 last year.

Total inspections for Friday were 1,148 cars and in sight were 800, showing that the heavy movement continues.

HEAVY TONE ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A heavy tone prevailed during most of today's trading in stocks, and prices ranged well below yesterday's close. In the last half hour there was a sharp rebound which brought full recovery and in some cases resulted in net gains. The early heaviness was attributed to the announcement by President-elect Wilson that he would call a special session of congress in the spring, at which time revision of the tariff is to be undertaken. The announcement was seized upon by bear traders as an incentive for strong selling and during the first hour the list was raided effectively and a decline of 3 points followed. There was a sympathetic decline during the last half of the session by the rest of the list, some railroad shares losing a point or more.

In spite of the comparatively heavy pressure of the first hour there were no indications that Governor Wilson's announcement had caused any deep-seated uneasiness in Wall street where such action had been expected for some time. That the movement was merely a speculative one was indicated by the ease with which prices recovered before the close. Trading in the last hour was more vigorous than it has been for several days and the number of the shares handled during the two hours' session considerably exceeded the total in the five hours of trading yesterday.

The commercial agencies in their weekly summaries reported that trade activity was unabated, the post-election period apparently witnessing an increased rather than a decreased volume of business. Continuation of the scarcity of railroad equipment was shown in the fortnightly report of surplus cars.

The bond market was steady. There was continued liquidation in Colorado Midland 4's. Total sales, par value, $875,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call for the week.

STOCK MARKET NERVOUS ON BALKAN SITUATION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—The stock market refused today to believe that the Balkan trouble is likely to be wound up without a danger of a larger war in the troublesome quarter of Europe. Consols declined a full quarter, though there was a good deal of support to the market in the early trading. Berlin and to some extent, Paris also, are blamed for the ordinary volume of trading, for strong orders could be traced with a certainty.

Discount favored dealers, and money though fairly in the demand, was generally available. United States securities were attacked on the ground of an extra session of congress which was certain to change the customs tariff, but stood up well under the onslaught which was not serious. Canadian Pacific was stronger and gave a good lead to the foreign market.

CANADIAN PACIFIC STRONGER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—Strength and some activity in Canadian Pacific relieved the Saturday session of the local stock exchange from absolute dullness. For the fifth day in succession leading cables were at a substantial advance, locally the price rising steadily from 266⅞ at the opening, an overnight gain of ⅞, to 268, closing at the top, with a net gain of 2 points for the day. Canadian Pacific with a turnover of about 1,100 shares contributed more than half the total business of the Montreal exchange. Other leaders were practically inactive. For the first time in a long period not a share of Montreal Power and not a share of Dominion Textile changed hands. Both stocks were unchanged. Dominion Steel was represented in the morning trading by one lot, with the price ⅛ lower, but closed practically unchanged. Cement, common, was stronger at 291, an advance of ¾, but only 38 shares changed hands. Apart from Canadian Pacific the largest turnover was in Shawinigan which reached one point to 137½, and in Quebec Railway which was up ½ to 15. Canadian Car was firm at its recovery of Friday to 80. Montreal Cottons were easier at 63. Total business, 1,904 shares; 1,000 mining shares and $29,000 bonds and debentures; unlisted securities, 850 shares and $4,000 bonds.

SENDS KOOTENAY ORES TO CHICAGO

Government Appoints Magistrate Ryan of Cranbrook to Take Charge of Display.

Under instructions from Hon. Price Ellison, provincial minister of finance and agriculture, Joseph Ryan of Cranbrook will take to the great Chicago land show, which will open in the Windy City on November 23, an exhibit of ores from the Cranbrook district and from West Kootenay and Boundary.

Mr. Ryan and W. F. Gurd, president of the Cranbrook board of trade, assembled a splendid exhibit of ore which was displayed under the supervision of the former at the dry farming congress at Lethbridge. While on display at that city the exhibit attracted the attention of the minister, said Mr. Ryan at the Hume on Saturday night, who thought so highly of it that he asked that the government be allowed to take it as it stood at the province's expense to the exhibition at Chicago, where British Columbia is making a magnificent showing of fruit and other natural products.

Mr. Ryan, who is magistrate at Cranbrook, stated that included in the collection were specimens of gold-nickel ore from claims owned by McNair, Johnson & Nelson, on Skookumchuck creek. This ore assays, he declared, as high as $700 in gold, 23 to 24 per cent nickel, 4 to 5 per cent cobalt and about 4 per cent tungsten. Other ores in the exhibit are mineralized diorites from the Evans claim on Whitefish creek, running 3 per cent copper and from two to eight ounces silver, crystalized native silver, which miners in the old days called "silver frost," from the North Star mine at Kimberly; copper ores from the Mystery group on Alki creek, in St. Mary's valley, assaying 23 per cent native copper and masses of ore, weighing upwards of a ton, from the St. Eugene mine at Moyie.

The minister instructed Mr. Ryan to take charge of the exhibit at Chicago and he directed that West Kootenay ores should also be shown. To that end Mr. Ryan on Saturday telegraphed to M. J. Morgan, with whom he made arrangements to have a representative collection of the rarer and best ores of the district to be sent on to Cranbrook, whence they will be shipped to Chicago. Yesterday Mr. Morgan secured the ores required from the publicity bureau and from local mining men.

"I consider that the people of Kootenay owe a very considerable debt of gratitude to Mr. Morgan for the hearty manner in which he has co-operated with me in this very important matter. Mr. Morgan and I were together in the thrilling days of the Popular creek excitement and I knew that, although I had to give him very short notice, that he would get into touch with the right parties and secure for me a representative collection of ores from this district."

Mr. Ryan returned to Cranbrook on yesterday morning's boat.

Hundred Homes to Be Erected Immediately on Victoria Heights

Negotiations were completed yesterday for the purchase of one hundred lots from M. & A. Primeau. This property is situate in Victoria Heights, and the deal was consummated by C. F. Stryker, who is associated with M. & A. Primeau. The price for the lots could not be ascertained, but it is understood that the figure is a good one.

This afternoon deeds of transfer will be signed, and Louis M. Epstein, manager of the home department of the Northwest Land Co., Regina, states that tenders for the construction of the houses will be started immediately and that by the middle of January they will be occupied, for he has already received a number of applications for homes.

Victoria Heights is a subdivision on the west side of First Avenue. It has electric light and water connections, and according to promises of the Street Railway Company, cars will be running there by the time the houses are ready for occupancy. The building of these hundred homes will mean a great deal for Moose Jaw, for they will populate a district now sparsely settled, but one which is growing rapidly. No two houses will be built from the same design on any one street, and each one will cost from $3,000 up to the price the purchaser is willing to pay in twenty annual instalments, which decrease yearly.

Estimating the value of the lots at $400 each, and taking the average cost of the houses to be erected at $4,500 apiece, the deal arranged last evening and which will be completed today, involves an outlay of over half a million dollars, with another deal involving a like amount of capital to be completed in the spring for another hundred homes.—"The Morning News," Moose Jaw, Sask., November 7th, 1912.

We are offering first-class lots in this high-class inside Moose Jaw city property and strongly recommend Victoria Heights as a safe investment.

Values are increasing rapidly. Buy now while prices are low.

Price $300 per Lot

MINES AGAIN ON SHIPPING LIST

Many Return After Temporary Absence—Week's Output Is Nearly Fifty Thousand Tons.

A feature of last week's ore production returns for the Kootenay and Boundary districts was the number of properties which returned to the list of producers after having been absent for periods ranging from a week to two months. Among these was the Standard, the Rambler-Cariboo, the Whitewater, the Nickle Plate in the Rossland district, the Jewel, the Molly Gibson, the St. Eugene and the Hudson Bay. For the week the production was 49,476 tons and for the year to date, 2,209,042 tons. Smelter receipts for the week were 43,561 tons and for the year to date, 1,984,376 tons.

OTHER REPUBLICS REFUSE RECOGNITION TO CHINA

British Memorandum Regarding Thibet Still Unanswered—Outcry Raised Against Government.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The Peking correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Russia's action in recognizing the independence of Mongolia is having far-reaching effects in China. Telegrams from the interior demand the impeachment of the government. Already the foreign minister, Liang Men Ting, has resigned, to the general regret of the diplomatic corps, on whom he had created a favorable impression. He had unusual qualifications, speaking English perfectly, besides being gifted in Chinese scholarship.

"While proclaiming her adherence to the policy of the maintenance of the integrity of China, America has witnessed without a word of protest Mongolia being separated from China and brought under Russian suzerainty, and her delay in the recognition of the republic has materially assisted Russian policy and shaken the Chinese government.

"The clamor that has arisen is against a government which failed even to obtain recognition from the other republics after whose governments the Chinese is modeled, America and France, for example, while Mongolia has received recognition from Russia.

"The British memorandum, which the British minister handed to the Chinese government, threatening that unless China gave a written undertaking not to interfere in Thibet, England would not recognize the republic, is still unanswered. This is regarded as one of the many unfortunate blunders made by the present British government. Its policy has consisted of resolute support of the India opium dealers and is in defence of the universal sentiment of the better classes of China."

WILL APPLY FOR EXTENSION OF CANAL COMPANY'S CHARTER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—Application will again be made this session for the extension of the charter to the Montreal, Ottawa Georgian Bay Canal company. In support of the bill it will be argued on behalf of Sir Robert Perks and his associates that more time shall be allowed to commence the work. Authority will also be sought to increase the bond issue of the company to $175,000,000. So far as can be learned at present there will be no substantial vote in this year's estimates for the construction of the canal.

NOTICE

In The Supreme Court of British Columbia In Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of Thomas Thomas, Late of the Town of Sandon, in the County of Kootenay, and Province of British Columbia, Deceased, Intestate.

Take notice that on the 26th day of September, A.D. 1912, an order was made by his honor J. A. Forin, local judge of this honorable court, at Nelson, British Columbia, appointing Elon Ezra Chipman official administrator for the Kaslo & Slocan electoral districts, administrator of all and singular the estate of Thomas Thomas, deceased.

And further take notice that all creditors and other having claims against the estate of the said Thomas Thomas, who died at or near Sandon, in the county of Kootenay, and province of British Columbia, on or about the 23rd day of December, A.D. 1911, are required on or before the 17th day of December, 1912, to send by post prepaid or deliver to Fred C. Moffatt of the city of Nelson, solicitor for the official administrator herein, their Christian names, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars of their claims, the statement of their accounts, and the nature of securities, if any, held by them, said accounts to be duly proved by statutory declaration.

And further take notice that after said last mentioned date the said official administrator will proceed to distribute the assets of the deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which he shall then have notice, and that the said official administrator will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof, to any person or persons of whose claims notice shall not have been received by him at the time of such distribution.

Dated November, 13th A.D. 1912.

FRED C. MOFFATT,
Solicitor for the Official Administrator.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories, and in a portion of the province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district of which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

JUDGE THOMPSON WILL PRESIDE

County Court Tomorrow—Judge Forin is Detained in Vancouver by Wife's Sickness.

Because Judge Forin has been detained in Vancouver on account of the illness of Mrs. Forin, Judge Thompson of East Kootenay will preside at the county court session tomorrow.

Eight cases have been set down for hearing. They are: Johnston vs. MacAulay, McDougall vs. Parke, Tomlinson vs. Wilkinson, Grutchfield vs. Nelson & Fort Sheppard railway, Salmo Trading company vs. Sheek Creek Summit Gold Mines et al, Silverstein vs. Medcalf, Bunce vs. Hurry and Elford Boat company vs. Leece.

PROSPERITY NOW ON SOUND BASIS

Conditions in Rossland Were Never More Substantially Flourishing, Declares Kootenay Member.

With a pay roll which is steadily increasing, a growing ore production and with new ore bodies being struck from time to time in the older mines and in the promising properties of the south belt, Rossland's prosperity was never on a sounder basis, remarked Robert F. Green, member for Kootenay, on his arrival at the Strathcona on Saturday evening from the Golden City, where he was a guest of honor at a great Conservative banquet on Friday evening.

Mr. Green said that he was delighted with the reception which George H. Barnard, M. P. of Victoria, and himself were accorded by the people of Rossland and other parts of Kootenay and the Boundary, who were present at the banquet.

He left for Ottawa on the Crow boat yesterday morning and will arrive at the capital on Thursday morning next, when the session will open.

STARKEY LOOKS FOR BIG CROWD

Urges Board of Trade to Send Full Delegations to Associated Boards Convention.

On account of the important business which will come up for discussion and because the sessions will be held at "the oldest town in Kootenay," Fred A. Starkey, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia, declares that there should be a record attendance at the annual meeting which will be held next January at Fort Steele.

"Fort Steele after long years of waiting is coming into its own now that the Kootenay Central railway has been built through the town," said Mr Starkey. "The board of trade in that city has always been loyal to the country and to the associated board, and I hope that other boards will make an effort to send a full delegation to the annual meeting."

It is expected that the new Slocan district board of trade will be welcomed as a new member of the associated boards at the convention.

REALTY ACTIVE IN GRAND FORKS

Canadian Pacific Railway Doubles Price of Its Lots in Boundary City, Says M. J. Morgan.

Prices of Canadian Pacific railway lots in Grand Forks were doubled last week on instructions from the natural resources department of the company at Calgary, declared M. J. Morgan on his return on Saturday from the Boundary capital.

"Real estate activity in Nelson is more than equalled by that in Grand Forks. There both business blocks and outside property are being purchased for cash by outside parties, who have become aware of the great developments which are to take place in this section of British Columbia in the near future," said Mr. Morgan, who, as president of the Grand Forks Development company, has been selling property in that city in the prairies.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

The city council will meet this evening.

G. A. Staples will leave this morning for a visit to Crow's Nest points.

Born, on Nov. 14, to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Davidson, Jr., Observatory street, a son.

F. J. Deane of Cranbrook passed through Nelson on Saturday evening on his way to Victoria.

Stephen H. Hoskins, mining recorder, returned on Saturday evening from a visit to Proctor.

Members of the school board are expected to address a mass meeting in union headquarters on Stanley street which has been called for tomorrow evening by the Trades and Labor council.

Mrs. James Staples, who has been visiting her son, G. A. Staples, will leave this morning for her home in Toronto. She is accompanied by her daughter, Miss Anna Staples.

B. Baker of Binghampton, N.Y., a brother of Mrs. T. M. Rixen of this city, was elected at the recent United States elections by a substantial majority judge for Broome county, New York state.

H. H. Currie, of the publicity bureau, on Saturday received a beautiful silver mounted shield which was won by the fruit display of the Nelson district at the Dry Farming congress at Lethbridge, Alta.

The usual weekly drill parade of the First Nelson company Boys' Brigade will be held this evening in the armory at 7:15 o'clock. Uniforms are to be worn and signallers should bring their flags. The orderly non-commissioned officer will be H. Neelands and the orderly sentry will be Pte D. Peters.

Fred A. Starkey, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia, has received an acknowledgment from Premier Borden of the resolutions urging upon the government the creation of a separate portfolio of mines and the appointment of A. F. Green, M.P., as minister, which were passed at the recent convention in Nelson, and promising that the matter will be given serious attention.

The traffic report of the Nelson street railway for the week ending Nov. 14 shows a total of 6,170 passengers carried and receipts amounting to $255.50. This is an increase of 1,820 passengers carried and $41 in receipts over the corresponding week of last year. The earning capacity of the street railway for the week ending Nov. 14 was $69.88 per mile per week, an increase of $12.17 per mile per week over the corresponding week of last year.

TO WANT AD USERS

Have your Want Ads contain all the essential facts. Wants that are most resultful are the ones that are most explicit.

If you advertise for workers, either in business or for household, state what qualifications they must have and what you expect of them.

If you advertise a room for rent or realty for sale, tell all the important facts about it.

Explicit Wants contain the essential facts so that every reader may gain full knowledge of just what is desired.

Explicit facts exclude the idly curious and appeal only to those who are seriously interested.

AT THE THEATRES.

The three features included in the program at the Gem theatre this evening are: "His Country Before All," a good Pathe drama, which introduces many effective scenes of more than average merit; "A Listener's Lesson," a unique and laughable bucolic comedy of two old spinsters, portrayed with that snap and vim that characterizes all Essanay productions; "A message to Kearney," Selig, is a thrilling story of the tumultuous days of Fremont's California expedition.

HOSPITAL WARD MEMORIAL TO TITANIC VICTIMS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 17.—Members of the Winnipeg real estate exchange formally presented the memorial ward to the Children's hospital yesterday and witnessed the unveiling of the tablet commemorating the deaths of their fellow members. Mark Fortune, Hugo Ross and Thomson Beattie, who perished as heroes with the ill-fated Titanic. Lieutenant Governor Cameron officiated at the unveiling and James Scott presented the ward. Inspiring addresses were delivered by Hon. Colin Campbell, acting premier for the province, Mayor Waugh and Sir Daniel McMillan, K. C. M. G.

COMPETITION FOR OCEAN TONNAGE

Grain Moving to Head of Lakes Faster Than it Can Be Taken Away.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 17.—What is going to happen in the shipment of the grain through the lake and ocean outlets yet this fall is hard to predict, according to a statement by James Carruthers, one of the most prominent grain men in Canada. Mr. Carruthers says: "It is a fact that the terminals at Buffalo are already so badly congested that it takes 10 days to get a vessel unloaded. The bulk of the wheat consumed all through the New England and eastern states and practically all the export wheat of the United States goes through the port of Buffalo. In addation to this 35 per cent of the export grain from the Canadian west goes through that port. The American railways east of Buffalo are already so congested that they have recently increased the rate on grain. I was over in England only a short time ago and asked prominent vessel owners why more vessels are not available for ocean freight and especially grain as the rate on the latter is so good. They replied that rates are good everywhere and it is impossible to get vessels to carry all the ocean tonnage offered. This is in spite of the fact that every shipyard is filled with orders.

"If farmers would only consider that every fall when they rush their grain on the market and expect the railways to move such vast quantities in such a short time they are simply taking the most direct course to force down the market they would see they should have granaries and keep the grain until the market absorbs it. The vast quantities of grain moved by the railways in the Canadian west this fall has had the effect of reducing prices as has been predicted for some years past. Today the grain is moving to the head of the lakes faster than it can be taken from there to its destination."

MOVING PICTURES FOR GERMAN SCHOOLS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The Prussian ministry for education and culture has signified its entire approbation of the use of the cinematograph in all higher schools throughout the country. Geographical, historical and natural science subjects are considered the best for the educational films, which are soon to be introduced into the curriculum. The expenses are to be met by a combination of sources, including government grants, appropriation of some of the school funds and private donations. One world famous firm of manufacturers on the Rhine has presented Berlin with several complete apparatuses, including films for the use of the metropolitan schools.

COMPANIES CASE WILL BE POSTPONED

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—When the companies case comes before the Supreme court on the 26th inst., a formal motion will be made in behalf of the provinces to postpone the hearing with the view of re-constructing the questions submittted in the reference. It is understood the government will not object and consequently the case will likely go over.

CALGARY MEMBER LEAVES FOR ENGLAND

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—R. B. Bennett, M. P. for Calgary, has been in the capital for a few days and leaves for England today. Mr. Bennett is not expected in his capacity as a member of the parliament at the capitol until after Christmas. Mr. Bennett has gone primarily for the purpose of taking part in the hearing of the Alberta & Great Waterways appeal before the privy council. It is considered here that there is a probability of Mr. Bennett's forsaking Canadian politics entirely and of realizing the ambition he has had for some time of entering British politics as a Unionist candidate, following the example of Sir Max Aiken.

ARE POLICE STOPPING THRESHING ON SUNDAY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—A press report from Alberta to the effect that at the instigation of the Lord's Day alliance the Royal Mounted police had stopped threshing in various parts of Alberta on the Sabbath has been investigated by Comptroller Fortesque. Commissioner Perry of Regina and Acting Commissioner Dean of Calgary were communicated with by wire and both replied that they were not aware that any such action had been taken and that if it had it had not been taken under orders from headquarters.

THREE THOUSAND MILE RAILWAY THROUGH AFRICA

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The plan of constructing a 3,000-mile railroad through central Africa has been revived by the conclusion of peace in Tripoli. The plan was originally made 30 years ago by a firm of London contractors and engineers, but had to be abandoned because of differences between the Bey of Tripoli and the Sultan of Turkey. At that time the project was favored by the late King Humbert of Italy.

The success of the undertaking is conditional on the raising of a capital of $50,000,000 and the consent of Italy, France and Belgium, through the territories of which the proposed railway will run.

A London capitalist who was interested in the original scheme declares that both the capital and the consent will be forthcoming, as the line would provide for the great commercial interests of Europe a ready access to the most fertile regions of Central Africa.

Starting from the city of Tripoli the line will go through Fezze to Tibesti and thence through the French territory of Darfur. From there it will take a southeastern route to the Stanley Falls near Lake Tanganyika, where it will join the cape to Cairo railway. It will act as a very important feeder to the latter line. The journey from Europe to Central Africa will take one week and the traffic over such a line would be enormous.

VICTORIA COMPANY WINS COAST DEFENCE COMPETITION

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—The result of the general efficiency competition of the coast defence companies of Canadian artillery has been announced. The first company of the fifth regiment, Victoria, won first place with a total score of 608, with the second company of the sixth regiment, Quebec, second with a score of 575, and the fourth company of the first regiment, Halifax, third with a total of 510. The second company of the fifth regiment, Victoria, B.C., finished in fifth place with a score of 492. The movable armament artillery competition was won by the sixth battery third division, third regiment, St. John, N.B., with a grand total of 391 points. The fifth and third companies of the same regiment won second and third places respectively with scores of 355 and 197.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gage of Castlegar were in Nelson on Saturday.

C. A. Waterman left on the Crow boat for East Kootenay yesterday morning.

P. M. Schomberk, the Slocan valley rancher, came in on Saturday and registered at the Madden.

J. S. Deschamps of Rossland was in Nelson on Saturday on business and registered at the Hume.

T. S. Palmer, of the provincial forest protection service, will leave this morning for the Crow's Nest district.

Mrs. R. W. Drew yesterday received the news of the death of her mother, Mrs. Charles Millar, at Renfrew, Ont., and will leave for the east on this morning's boat.

The semi-annual court of revision of the provincial voters' list will be held in the courthouse this morning at 10 o'clock. Stephen H. Hoskins, registrar of voters, will preside.

A. E. Rand of New Westminster arrived on the coast train last night and registered at the Strathcona. He will leave this morning for Ymir where he will make an inspection of the Dundee mine.

J. P. Forde, resident provincial public works engineer, came in from Revelstoke on Saturday and registered at the Strathcona. With W. W. Foster, deputy minister of public works, he went to Deer Park yesterday, returning last night.

Effective today there will be a change in the schedule of the street railway. A car will leave the shipyards at 11.55 and will reach the corner of Baker and Stanley streets at 12.05, instead of 12.15, and the down car will meet it at this point, leaving for Fairview at the same time.

Today's classes at the Y.M.C.A. are as follows: Senior school, 4 to 5 o'clock; professional, 5:15 to 6 o'clock; business men, 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock. The boxing classes, which have been previously announced for Monday and Saturday, are changed to Wednesday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 o'clock.

There will be a musical and literary entertainment in the new St. Paul's Presbyterian church this evening at 8 o'clock at which the choir, assisted by some of the leading musicians of the city, will render a musical program. There will be a number of vocal and instrumental solos. The clergy of other denominations have been invited and will bring greetings from their churches. Rev. A. L. Bursch of Westminster Hall, Vancouver, will give a 20-minute address on "Ghosts."

All members of the Boys' Brigade wan, if in uniform, be admitted free of charge to the entertainment at the new Presbyterian church this evening. They must, however, attend the parade in the armery at 7:15 o'clock. These members who were advised yesterday afternoon, and as many others as can come, are requested to call at the manse this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock.

W. G. Robb, L. Hanna and C. C. McNaughton of Kaslo are guests at the Strathcona. A gang of men is at work constructing the "Y" which is being built by W. P. Tierney, the Vancouver contractor, for the Canadian Pacific railway at Sproules, said Mr. Robb last night. This improvement will permit the locomotive used on the narrow gage to be turned at Sproules.

SETTLEMENT IS IMPORTANT ONE

Member for Victoria Refers to Success of Provincial Authorities at Ottawa

The 200 acres of land, forming part of the naval reserve, which has been unreservedly handed over to the provincial authorities according to an announcement made on Friday by Hon. W. J. Bowser at Ottawa, are located at Point Grey, near the university site and the settlement of this question with the Dominion government is of great importance to the residents of that section of Vancouver, and to the province as a whole, said G. H. Barnard, M. P., of Victoria, who was at the Strathcona on Saturday night on his arrival from Rossland where he was present at the Conservative banquet.

Mr. Barnard explained that the land in question was set aside as a naval reserve by the imperial government prior to confederation and that later after the provincial government had sold, he believed, a portion of it by auction, the late Liberal government at Ottawa laid claim to the land with the result that a very difficult situation was created. Negotiations between the provincial government and the Conservatives at Ottawa were commenced with regard to the property last year and have been brought to a successful conclusion.

Mr. Barnard left for Ottawa on the Crow boat yesterday morning.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH DEDICATED

Impressive Sermons Are Preached by Rev. A. L. Bursch—Large Congregations Attend Services.

Presbyterian's on in Nelson received a forward impetus yesterday when the new St. Paul's church at the corner of Silica and Stanley streets was dedicated by Rev. C. S. Logie, the pastor. Special sermons were preached in the morning and evening by Rev. A. L. Bursch, of Westminster Hall, Vancouver who, in the afternoon, addressed the Sunday school classes and young people of the church. It is estimated that the congregations at the three services numbered 1,500. There was an excellent attendance at the service in the morning and in the evening the church, which has a seating capacity of 600, the largest in the city, was crowded.

The dedicatory service consisted of the reading of "King Solomon's Prayer," a dedicatory prayer by Mr. Logie and a hymn led by the choir. Mr. Bursch preached a very impressive sermon on Luke, 7-40, "Simon, I Have Somewhat to Say Unto Thee." The sermon was an eloquent exposition of the way the man of the world patronizes things religious.

In the afternoon at the young people's rally, Mr. Bursch gave an interesting address and in the evening he preached on "Have Nothing to Do With the Just Man for I Have Suffered Many Things This Day in a Dream Because of Him," Matthew, chapter 27. Profound and logical, the sermon dealt with the characters involved in the trial and judgment of Christ and showed how the men were bound by their own past actions and irresistibly carried to their decisions, not on the merits of the case involved, but by the environments of their own lives.

Mr. Logie referred to the fact that yesterday was the anniversary of his induction as pastor of St. Paul's church in the old building and declared that he and others connected with the building of the church had received wholehearted support from the members and friends of the congregation. With such a splendid equipment as is now available, the work, he asserted, should go forward as never before in the history of the Presbyterian church in Nelson.

A feature of the services yesterday was the singing of the well trained choir of 30 voices under the direction and leadership of F. Warner Smith, the new organist. The anthem in the morning was "The Radiant Morn" and in the evening "Send Out Thy Light." Mrs. Logie sang a solo, "Come Unto Him" in the evening. The music was a surprise to many who had not before heard the choir.

Complimentary remarks regarding both the services and the preachers were heard on all sides last night. The finances, as represented by the results of the work which became apparent yesterday, were regarded as most satisfactory.

FIRE INSURANCE

At this season of the year fires are particularly apt to occur. Additional stoves are being put up, more fire is required owing to the colder weather, and unused chimneys, possibly defective, and more than likely, not cleaned, are brought into service. Then, too, our police may or may not have caught the firebug. In any event at this time of the year it is a wise man who protects himself with insurance.

Now as to the cost. I might just state here that recently the residential rates for insurance have been reduced. Following is a table by which you will be able to ascertain for yourself what it will cost to insure your home or furniture, if you live in a frame house, lathed and plastered and with a brick chimney, situated within the corporate limits of Nelson.

The basis rate for $100 insurance is 65 cents.
For a dwelling within 10 feet add to this 25 cents.
For a dwelling within from 10 to 25 feet add 20 cents.
For a dwelling within from 25 to 40 feet add 15 cents.
For a dwelling within from 40 to 60 feet add 5 cents.

A "Range" is two or more dwellings (excluding risk) exposed to each other within less than 10 feet. Charge for risk, 65 cents. Add for each dwelling in range, excluding risk itself, 25 cents. Deduct 10 cents if risk is over 5 feet on one side and 20 cents if over 15 feet on two sides, in ranges of three and over.

Add for all risks as follows:

Stove pipe	.50 cents
Terra Cotta Chimneys	.10 cents
Cloth Lining	.25 cents

From the above table you will be able to ascertain your rate fully as well as an agent could tell you.

Take an example. Your house is thirty-five feet from your neighbor.

Basis Rate	.65 cents per $100
Exposure 25 feet to 40 feet	.15 cents per $100
Total	.80 cents per $100

Or $8.00 per $1,000 insurance per year.

Now dwellings, churches, academies, etc., have an advantage over business risks in that for double the premium you can get three years' insurance, so in the case of our example at a premium of $8.00 per $1,000 per year, $16.00 would insure this risk for THREE YEARS for $1,000.

I would be pleased to have you place your insurance with me and will promise that it will be placed in a first-class company.

I represent British, United States and Canadian companies.
