SETTLEMENT NOT THOUGHT LIKELY

Home Rule Conference Has Not Yet Closed

CHIEF DIFFICULTY IS TYRONE COUNTY

Concensus of Opinion Is That King's Effort Toward Peace Has Failed

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 24.—The outstanding fact in the Irish situation last night was that the home rule conference was still in being, the prediction of the whole Liberal and Unionist press yesterday that the conference was on the eve of collapse having proved false. After a protracted meeting the conference adjourned until today.

Meetings and discussions of the various party leaders proceeded in the lobbies of parliament last night with unabated activity and moderate men like Lord Courtney are working indefatigably in the direction of compromise. Hope and fear fluctuate from hour to hour.

One of the valuable signs is found in the fact that further consideration in the commons of the amending bill, which was postponed until Monday on account of the conference, has been still further postponed.

Unionist Peers Confer.

This justifies the belief that the conference will extend into next week. Another hopeful indication was a meeting of the Unionist leaders, which was attended by the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Earl of Selborne, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Earl of Halsbury, Lord Curzon of Kedleston and the Duke of Devonshire. Such a gathering of Unionist peers would hardly have assembled unless some weighty matter was to be discussed. The Liberals are working tooth and nail to find a solution to the Ulster problem which will meet the views of the Ulsterites and Nationalists. Should the conference fail they hope to reach the goal by other means.

Their most persuasive followers have been busy in the lobbies trying to induce the Irish Protestants to reconcile their difficulties. Baron Courtney, a lifelong home ruler and an insistent advocate of peace at home and abroad, was busy all afternoon interviewing John Redmond and other leading members of the Nationalist party in behalf of the Liberals. The Irishmen listened courteously and smilingly to the blandishments of the white-haired peer, but outwardly at least they declined to give way an inch.

Clash on Tyrone.

The Carsonites apparently are just as adamant. They are standing out for the exclusion of the four Protestant counties and Tyrone. The Nationalists are ready to grant them the former, but will not budge with regard to Tyrone.

The English Unionists are interested spectators of the fight. They believe that no matter how it terminates it must benefit them, at least to the extent of hastening a general election. They argue that whichever party in Ireland thinks it has received the worst deal will turn against the Liberals. If it is the Nationalists they will defeat the government on the floor of the house; if it is the Carsonites they will set up a provisional government and threaten civil war, before which the Unionists believe Premier Asquith will surrender.

The Liberals say that threats of civil war do not frighten them and point to the incident of the Irish guards cheering Redmond on Wednesday as evidence that the whole army will not refuse service against the Ulsterites should they attempt to take over the government of the province.

Rumor Exclusion Conceded.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 24.—After the conference adjourned yesterday Mr. Asquith was granted an audience by the King. A number of reports as to the success of the meetings are rife but the opinions of all parties are pessimistic and failure is feared.

It is reported from one source that what is tantamount to an agreement has been attained and it is said that after the ministers have concluded the conferences they cannot ask the King to sign the home rule bill. This decision enables them to concede the exclusion of Protestant Ulster with a monetary compensation to Nationalist Ireland.

The public interest in the members' conference is keen, more than ever so, and the crowds at the palace are increasing in size. Continued applause greeted Mr. Asquith when he was brought to the great gates by Violet Asquith in a motor.

Woman Hurls Lead Pipe.

During the last conference a suffragette had broken through the guard of police before the entrance, she eluded the officers and ran almost to the doors of the visitors' entrance. She hurled a length of lead pipe wrapped about with tissue paper at the window but her aim proved bad. She was arrested shouting, "If rebels are

Presbyterian Committee Prepares for Battle With Those Favoring Amalgamation With Methodists

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, July 23.—Church union was today discussed by the committee for the continuation of the Presbyterian church in Canada, which met in Toronto.

Rev. Dr. Scott, Montreal; Rev. W. G. Macbeth, and other anti-unionists were present. There is a quiet but active campaign on foot for counteracting the efforts of the unionists. It is understood that the committee today completed its organization.

CANADIAN PULP INDUSTRY GROWS

Consumption of Raw Material by Mills Has Increased Twenty-eight Per Cent in Year.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 23.—According to the annual bulletin on pulp wood consumption, issued by the forestry branch at Ottawa, the consumption of pulp wood by Canadian pulp mills has increased by 28.1 in the past year. The manufacture of pulp has increased and the exports to the United States and Great Britain and China have decreased. While the imports have also increased these form but a small part of the total consumption of pulp.

Canada still exports almost half of the pulp wood it produces in the raw state, although these exports are being checked by regulations enacted in the different provinces which forbid the export of raw or unmanufactured timber cut on crown lands.

The recent legislation in the province of Quebec, which also forbids the export of raw timber from lands granted to railway companies, will tend to further decrease this export.

Altogether 48 firms operate 65 pulp mills in Canada. Quebec has 34 of these mills, Ontario 17, Nova Scotia 4, New Brunswick 4, and British Columbia 3. In addition to these active mills, reports were received at the forestry branch from 10 firms whose mills were idle and five firms with mills under construction.

NOVA SCOTIA BANK AMALGAMATES

Absorbs Metropolitan, One of Strongest Younger Institutions—Basis of Deal Announced

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, July 23.—The amalgamation of the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Metropolitan bank, two of the leading chartered banks in Canada, was announced this afternoon. The merger has progressed so far that circulars embodying the basis of the amalgamation have been prepared and approved by the directors of both institutions and are being mailed to the shareholders of each.

Under the present arrangement the Bank of Nova Scotia, which since its absorption of the Bank of New Brunswick has been making numerous extensions in western Canada, will secure at one stroke the business of the most important and strongest of the younger banking institutions and an organization which is recognized among the banking fraternity as an important asset.

Under the agreement as outlined the shareholders of the Metropolitan bank will receive $100 in cash and one-half share of the Bank of Nova Scotia stock for each share held. The negotiations which led to the adoption of a practicable basis of amalgamation have been in progress for a considerable period. It is understood that during the past few years several tentative proposals have been made to the Metropolitan bank looking toward the absorption of this institution by some of the larger banks, but in each case the directors of the Metropolitan have declined to consider any offers. Although the Metropolitan bank was merged into the older business, the shareholders of the Metropolitan will be represented on the board of the Bank of Nova Scotia by the president, S. J. Moore, and the general manager, W. D. Ross.

The market value of Nova Scotia stock, fixed by recent trading on the Toronto and Montreal stock exchanges, is in the neighborhood of $264 which gives a value to the Metropolitan stock of $232 per share. The last transaction in Metropolitan stock recorded on the Toronto market was $205. The Metropolitan bank as a whole receives $1,000,000 and 5,000 shares of Bank of Nova Scotia stock. As the result of the merger the Bank of Nova Scotia will take its place as the fourth largest bank in Canada, with a paid up capital of $6,500,000 and a reserve of $11,750,000. The total deposits will aggregate $67,043,789 and total assets $94,142,284. The net profits of the combined institutions in 1913 were $1,392,662.

The staff of the Metropolitan upon the confirmation of the agreement will enter the service of the Bank of Nova Scotia and in the event of any rearrangement by branches, which may be necessary in a few isolated cases, there will be no change in the personnel of either staff.

HURRICANE KILLS MANY AT BUDAPEST

BUDAPEST, July 24.—A great hurricane swept over this place yesterday. Many persons were killed and great damage was done to property. Hardly a single boat on the Danube escaped the effects of the storm.

CAVALRY RIDES DOWN RIOTERS

Charges Thousands in Streets of St. John

STONES AND BOTTLES FLY; SABRES USED

Detective Uses Gun on Mob--Strike Breakers Cause Many Rows.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 23.—The dispute between the street railway employes and the company, which developed into a strike and riot as the result of the company refusing to reinstate President Ramsay of the employes' union, as advised by a conciliation board, reached serious proportions this evening.

Mayor Frink read the Riot act to a dense crowd of citizens. Cavalrymen charged and used the flats of their swords on the people. Detective Lucas shot a dredgeworker in the thigh. He and the wounded man are in a hospital, the detective with a cut in his head.

Read Riot Act.

Mayor Frink read the riot act at 8:30 o'clock and at 9 o'clock cavalrymen from the Royal Canadian dragoons, under Lieut. Stettin, charged through a mob of thousands of persons in Market square, riding down rioters and striking them with the flat of their sabres, while stones and bottles flew.

Lieut. Stettin was cut about the head and was removed to the hospital, not seriously hurt.

William Bennett, dredgeworker, was shot in the thigh by Detective Lucas, who was defending himself from members of the mob.

Drive Away Power House Staff.

Windows of the power house of the street railway were smashed and fixtures broken. The city lights were off at 11:30, the mob having stoned the firemen of the power house and driven them from their work.

Two cars were overturned in Market square by the mob and burned, after two hours of uninterrupted disorder, and finally the fire brigade put out the blaze at midnight.

This was the most serious disorder in this city in 40 years.

The trouble is mostly due to the hoodlums rather than strikers, though the introduction of strikebreakers precipitated many rows.

Troops to Patrol Streets.

About midnight an attack was made by a small mob on the car barns but the attack was warded off by men stationed there by the company, armed with rifles and shotguns. Most of the shots were fired in the air, though several volleys of buckshot were fired among the crowd without causing any serious injuries. At 2 o'clock troops were assembling in the armory to go on immediate patrol of the streets.

Canadian Government Will Erect Improved New Radio Equipment at Cape Race

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 23.—The government is erecting a new wireless station at Cape Race, which will double the radius of the station and make Cape Race the first point of land communication for all vessels sailing from or to North Atlantic points. The new equipment will have a radius of at least 500 miles instead of the present normal radius of about 250 miles.

MAKE ANOTHER EFFORT FOR LOWER MAGAZINE RATES

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, July 23.—Further representations are being made to Postmaster-General Hobhouse on the subject of the Canadian magazine postage rate, but there is little hope that Mr. Hobhouse will accept the proposed terms. Mr. Hobhouse still believes that the proposed scale, while relieving the community as a while from the expense in transmission of this class of mail matter, will not press unduly on senders of packets by magazine post and will in no way hamper the spread of imperial sentiment in the Dominion, for which the post was instituted. The Empire Press union will issue a reply to the postmaster-general in a day or two.

LOURDES, France, July 24.—A general assembly of the Eucharistic congress was held yesterday. The speakers included Right Rev. George Gauthier, auxiliary Bishop of Montreal, and Henri Bourassa of Montreal. Their addresses were received with great applause.

"Donations to Charity," "The Reign of Christ and the Virgin," "The Communion of Infants" and the "Eucharist Tribune" were included in the program.

The town of Lourdes is filled with the odor of flowers, quantities of them having been sent from Paris by young girl workers and spread about the streets. Hundreds of visitors are here.

DOMINIONS FAVOR PENNY POSTAGE

Other Overseas Portions of Empire Propose to Follow Canada's Example in Cable Routes

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 23.—At the conference of postmasters shortly to be held in Madrid it is stated that the governments of all the British overseas dominions have signified their intention of sending delegates who will support a proposal for universal penny postage rather than the rate of 1½ pence recently suggested here.

Some of the dominions, Australia in particular, are prepared to enter into reciprocal arrangements with any country that would agree to establish penny postage. The American trade commissioners who recently visited Australia discussed the question of penny postage with the commonwealth authorities and have since advised their government to accept the Australian proposition. A movement is also on foot to bring the whole of the English-speaking world into line in the matter of exchanging cable messages at reduced rates and already most of the countries concerned have agreed, in addition, to exchange with the United Kingdom. The self governing dominions are arranging for the exchange of such cables between themselves and also between themselves and India on the lines of the system adopted by Canada.

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS QUIET, SAYS LABOR REPORT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 23.—The report of the labor department for June states that on the whole industrial operations were comparatively quiet.

In fishing conditions were fair. Serious storms at the beginning of the month along the Atlantic coast seriously interrupted operations and destroyed a large amount of fishing gear. Large catches of mackerel were reported, but cod was below the average, with prices consequently ruling higher.

Sawmills were generally busy with a short season expected in some quarters due to quantities of logs being hung up along the streams owing to low water.

Coal mining in Nova Scotia was, on the whole, fairly active, but quiet in Alberta and British Columbia.

Manufacturing was quiet in a great many branches and in some locations a number of plants were shut down indefinitely and large bodies of men laid off.

Railway construction continued fairly active. Wholesale and retail business was only fair.

The month closed with a great deal of unemployment in evidence, not only in unskilled trades but in the mechanics and artisans as well.

PLAN IRRIGATION EXPERIMENT

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 23.—The city has received announcement that the interior department will install an irrigated farm in miniature in Henderson park. This is for the purpose of determining the proper amount of water to be applied to the various hay and cereal crops.

SUMMER ADVERTISING

Sales naturally go down in summer time because cheaper things are used and there are fewer wants to be satisfied.

But wise storekeepers realize they can utilize the warm weather to build business.

A customer who has a small summer need well satisfied is apt to remember it and return later when desires are more important.

Up-to-date merchants go after business in a definite, aggressive way in the "dull months."

Evidence of this progressive spirit will be found in the advertising in today's Daily News.

The men whose names are printed there want business and they intend to make their advertising pay by supplementing it with good service.

TWO JAPANESE JUMP OVERBOARD

Members of Crew Attempt to Swim Ashore--Watch for Second Shipload.

(Special to The Daily News)

VICTORIA, B. C., July 23.—Before bidding a final farewell to British Columbia waters the Komagata maru added yet another dramatic incident to the many which have followed its arrival two months ago. While on the way between Vancouver and Victoria two members of the Japanese crew jumped overboard at Plumpers pass in an effort to escape ashore.

The cruiser Rainbow was convoying the Japanese vessel and immediately the signal of "Man overboard" was seen it lowered a cutter and succeeded in rescuing the two half drowned men, who were exhausted in an effort to breast a swift current. It was found they were dressed in bathing suits with their clothing strapped on their backs. The men were revived on the Rainbow and transshipped to the Komagata at a point near Victoria.

The Japanese vessel was then ordered outside the three-mile limit and, escorted by the Rainbow, she passed out to sea. The cruiser kept her in view until she was hull down on the Pacific. She is bound to Yokohama

TO MAKE SEARCH FOR EXPLORERS

United States and Russian Patrol Boats Carry Parties Seeking Members of Karluk Crew.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 23.—The naval department has been advised that the United States patrol boat Bear, with Capt. Bartlett of the Stefansson expedition steamer Karluk on board, left Nome today en route to Herald island, north of Siberia, where search will be made for the marooned men of the exploration party. A Russian patrol cruiser has also started for Wrangel island, where the main body of survivors of the lost Karluk were left by Capt. Bartlett last February. No word is expected from either of the searching parties until they get into touch with civilization again about the end of August.

Capt. Bartlett, in his last communication to the naval department, denied the reports published on the Pacific coast quoting him as despairing of the safety of the eight members of the expedition who had not been heard from since they set out in advance of the party for Herald island. Capt. Bartlett hopes these eight men will be found alive and well, but it is recognized there is grave reason to fear that they have been lost. No fears are entertained as to the safety of the main body.

From Stefansson himself no further word is expected until September, when a boat is expected from Hirschel island. Stefansson is believed to be now exploring St. Patrick's island and other unexplored parts of the Arctic to the north of the furthermost outposts of civilization on Hirschel island. A supply ship for his party left Victoria this morning for Hirschel.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 23.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia left on their western tour today. A considerable crowd had gathered at the Broad street station to see them off and the duke acknowledged the interest shown in their departure by gently waving an "au revoir" as the special train drew out. The duchess appeared well and Princess Patricia was in good spirits. They were both presented with handsome bouquets by officials of the Canadian Pacific railway.

This will be the farewell tour of the west by the royal party as they leave Canada this fall. The first stops will be made at Port Arthur and Fort William. Besides visiting all the important centres in the west, the party will spend a fortnight at Banff.

Tour of Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Said to Be Beginning of Campaign

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 23.—The Free Press says: "It is a coast to coast tour which Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the opposition, proposes for the coming autumn months. It is generally conceded that the tours of the two leaders are the commencement of a year's campaign which will culminate in an election some time next year.

"Tentative dates have been fixed which, however, are subject to change. Sir Wilfrid, it is stated here, will make a tour of the maritime provinces first, speaking at St. John either on Aug. 17 or 24. He will speak at Halifax and Charlottetown also and will be accompanied by Hon. Dr. Pugsley, Frank Carvell, A. K. Maclean and others.

"Sir Wilfrid will then go to Quebec province and will address a mass meeting under the auspices of Alphonse Verville, Labor member for Maisonneuve at Montreal. He will also speak at Quebec and in the constituency of Jacques-Cartier, where a byelection is pending.

"The Liberal chief will go to Vancouver, reaching that point on Sept. 11. He will hold his first western meeting either there or at Victoria.

"Sir Wilfrid will then work eastward and will speak at the most important points in the prairie provinces, his tour lasting until the end of September. He will be accompanied by Hon. George P. Graham, Hugh Guthrie, Frank Carvell and his western lieutenants.

"It is said that meetings will be continued in Ontario and other provinces throughout the coming season. It is possible that Sir Wilfrid will speak in Ontario during October."

During the last week quite a large number of the unemployed have taken work with farmers in this district. Many of them are receiving from $25 to $30 a month and their board.

AUSTRIA DEMANDS END OF INTRIGUES

Sends Strongly Worded Note to Belgrade.

TOLERANCE HAS BROUGHT HATRED

Can No Longer Pursue Attitude of Forbearance, Servia Is Told.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BELGRADE, July 24.—The Servian government received last night a note from the Austro-Hungarian government bearing on the relations between the two countries and dealing directly with the assassination on June 28 of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne.

The note reviewed the relations with Servia since 1909 and complained that although the Servian government promised loyalty to the Austro-Hungarian government it had failed to suppress subversive movements and that this tolerance had incited the Servian people to hatred of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy and contempt for its institutions.

Criminal Perverse Propaganda.

This, said the note, culminated in the Sarayevo assassinations, which are proved by depositions and confessions of the perpetrators to have been hatched at Belgrade, the arms and explosives having been supplied with the connivance of Servian officers and functionaries.

"The Austro-Hungarian government," continued the note, "is unable longer to pursue an attitude of forbearance and sees the duty imposed upon it to put an end to the intrigues which form a perpetual menace to the monarchy's tranquility. It, therefore, demands from the Servian government formal assurance that it condemns the dangerous propaganda whose aim is to detach from the monarchy a portion of its territory and also that the Servian government shall no longer permit these machinations and this criminal, perverse propaganda."

Demands Early Reply.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VIENNA, July 24.—An Austro-Hungarian note to Servia containing demands for the suppression of the pan-Servian movement and the punishment of those concerned in the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, was presented to the government at Belgrade at 6 o'clock last night. The note requests a reply by 6 o'clock this evening.

CALIFORNIA OIL EXPERT SPEAKS OF FLATHEAD

Financial News of Los Angeles Publishes Report by Expert Who Visits Field.

In view of the oil excitement in Alberta and of the stampede to the region about Calgary several Los Angeles men interested in the oil industry have sent experts into that country to look over the field. Others have gone there on their own account, among whom are Julius Fried, original owner of the Lakeview property in the Midway district, and Ralph Arnold, well known geologist of California, says the Los Angeles Financial News.

Sutherland Hutton, a well known oil expert of this state, was sent to the Flathead oil country in British Columbia province by Laurence Macomber of Macomber & Pendleton, and Blankenhorn & Rath of Los Angeles, they having taken up two sections of land near Sage Creek in southeastern British Columbia six miles over the boundary line of the United States and north and west from Glacier park. Mr. Hutton went into the country from Belton, Mont., the western entrance to Glacier National park. At this point he had to remain one week, unable to get a team of horses to take him into the Flathead country, Sage Creek being 63 miles from Belton and over an alleged highway which Mr. Hutton declares is the worst excuse for a road that he ever traveled over.

All the way from Portland to Belton the principal topic among travelers was the oil discoveries in the western Canadian provinces. In most of the newspapers appeared big display advertisements showing how easily fortunes might be made in the purchase of stock in oil companies at a nominal figure, five cents per share as an illustration, which would be advanced rapidly.

The road over which he traveled from Belton was cut through a dense forest, and all the stumps were left to drive over. There were bogs to cross, rotten corduroy to go over, and long steep hills to surmount, some of them in places being at an angle of over 30 degrees. Three days were required to make the 63 miles to Sage Creek. All the discomforts of the journey, however, says Mr. Hutton, were compensated for by sudden surprises in landscapes and small mirlike lakes.

At Sage Creek Mr. Hutton met the field manager of the British Columbia Coal and Petroleum company, Arthur Lockwood; the only company that has thus far done any development work in the section, and from him obtained much valuable information regarding the country. In his exploration of the region Mr. Hutton made slow progress as the brush consists of small jack pine and tamarack, that had been burned over and fallen criss-cross, so that making one mile per hour, which is as fast as one can travel, is very exhausting. Mr. Hutton has traversed tropical jungles in Central and South America, but the jungle in British Columbia, he says, is more difficult to travel than those in the tropics. In his report to Messrs. Macomber and Pendleton and Blankenhorn and Rath Mr. Hutton says:

"Starting from the oil spring known as the Big Seepage, which comes through loose debris fallen from the cliff above and directly over the apex of the Anticlinal Fold, which has been ordered eroded and cut across by Sage Creek close to 1,000 feet deep, I followed the Fold with no great difficulty for several miles in a northwest direction and found the contact where the cretatious formation butts up against the Cambrian; and to me the mystery of the oil coming out of the rocks of the Cambrian period seems to be explained. I believe that it was forced there through the fractured rocks of the Cambrian period by petroleum, as that originated in the Cretatious, portions of the gas being condensed by coming in contact with cold water producing the oil found in the 130-foot well and the Big Seepage. The oil from the Big Seepage is 44 degrees Beaume, amber color, comes out with the water and collects several inches deep in the hole that has been dug to retain it. The oil from the well comes up through a six-inch casing, with water and gas and stands in the casing about four feet above the creek and is as clear as refined distillate, which it is, 51 degrees Beaume, produces no gasoline and only a small amount of residuum, made up in part of paraffin series, I understand.

"In the Flathead valley on the west side the carbonniferous and cretatious is exposed, the east side being covered with glacial wash from 500 to possibly 1500 hundred feet thick. This glacial deposit is cut through by a number of streams that empty into the Flathead river, forming ridges at right angles to the Anticlinal Fold that are going to be troublesome to the drillers in search of the oil pool which in my opinion undoubtedly exists; and I believe the geologists now studying conditions in that country will find the bed of the Flathead valley is of an oil producing formation deposited there after the disturbance which created the anticlinal fold.

"I understand that Prof. King, who wrote the geology of the boundary line of the northwest, claims that it is possible that petroleum could have been formed in the Cambrian rocks, stating that even in that age sufficient animal life existed to produce it and there are other theories as to the origin of the petroleum, such as the action of hot water on carbon substances. These theories might be worked out by the chemist. This is the first instance where oil has been found coming out of the Cambrian formation.

"At present the pioneers in this field are confronted with almost an impossible transportation condition, making the cost of drilling very expensive and exceedingly slow. In a great body of glacial wash that may or may not be easily, penetrated, I think not easily, water will undoubtedly cut a figure and may prove a serious obstacle, but California drillers had all these troubles and overcame them.

"The people of Columbia Falls, Mont., have to construct a road as far as the boundary and an auto truck can operate over it this year. The Flathead Petroleum Oil company have their machinery on the ground, including a 40 horsepower boiler, a sawmill and quite a lot of casing. They expect to begin drilling about the first of August. Their site is located about 1200 feet south of the Seepages and oil well on the British Columbia Oil company's property. Should they strike oil in this well a great oil excitement will occur and a tremendous advance in land values. Pipe lines can be easily constructed to the railroad and tidewater, via the Columbia river. The Milwaukee & St. Paul are building into this country to reach their coal properties, owning, I learn, some thirty or forty thousand acres of coal locations. So the outlook for the development of this section at an early date looks promising.

"To those who are interested in sport the Flathead country should be a paradise. I saw deer in numbers in every direction feeding just across a beaver pond from my tent, paying no attention to me and a little further on, on a side hill, a big brown bear moved back and forth during the day. Grouse with their chicks came right up to the tent to feed off scraps and a fretful porcupine got mixed up among the horses and left a large number of his quills in their legs. I am told there are a large number of moose there but beyond seeing their tracks and parts of their horns, I did not get a view of them. Trout in every stream, big ones and lots of them, ready to jump at anything that looks like a bug, and last but not least, the mosquito, and the 'no-see-em,' as the Indians call the black gnat."

Mr. Hutton was six days in making the trip from Los Angeles to Belton, going by steamship to Portland, thence by rail to Belton, where he said he had to wait a week to secure transportation to the oil fields, so that 15 days were necessary to reach Sage Creek.

Oil men who have studied the formations in the United States and the Canadian provinces are confident that the dip of the formation in British Columbia is the same as in the Lander and Douglas regions in Wyoming, which extends on over into Colorado and that a line drawn as the crow flies would extend and cover the Wyoming and Colorado oil fields.

The territory which Mr. Hutton visited has been known as an oil country for a number of years, as seepages were found there years ago. This region is about 250 miles almost due south of the Calgary field where the excitement over the oil discoveries in the Dingman well has caused a great influx. In his travels over the British Columbia territory Mr. Hutton convinced the oil men in that section that the only outfits in the way of rigs, oil machinery, as well as in drillers would have to come from California. And they will. It costs 3 cents per pound to get casing from Belton to Sage Creek. This means 63 cents per foot for eight-inch casing, added to the freight from shipping point to Belton. However, as soon as the highway is improved the cost will be greatly reduced. Mr. Hutton is enthusiastic over this new field.

PRIZE FOOD
Palatable, Economical, Nourishing.

A Western woman has outlined the prize food in a few words, and that from personal experience. She writes: "After our long experience with Grape-Nuts, I cannot say enough in its favor. We have used this food almost continually for seven years.

"We sometimes tried other advertised breakfast foods but we invariably returned to Grape-Nuts as the most palatable, economical and nourishing of all.

"When I quit tea and coffee and began to use Postum and Grape-Nuts, I was almost a nervous wreck. I was so irritable I could not sleep nights, had no interest in life.

"After using Grape-Nuts a short time I began to improve and all these ailments have disappeared and now I am a well woman. My two children have been almost raised on Grape-Nuts, which they eat three times a day.

"They are pictures of health and have never had the least symptoms of stomach trouble, even through the most severe siege of whooping cough they could retain Grape-Nuts when all else failed.

"Grape-Nuts food has saved doctor bills, and has been, therefore, a most economical food for us."

(Special to The Daily News.)

ROSSLAND, B. C., July 23.—At the meeting of the council last evening Mayor Wilson was in the chair and Aldermen Armstrong, Pitt, Robertson, Stephens and Dunn were present. The school trustees were present and E. S. H. Winn, chairman of the board, as spokesman, informed the council that the board had been unable to secure a grant from the government for the furnishing of two extra rooms in the Cook avenue school and repairs to the school building. Mr. Winn read a telegram from Hon. H. E. Young, minister of education, wherein it was stated that the government would make a grant of $7,000 providing the city would spend $4,000 on repairs before drawing on the government grant. Mr. Winn stated that it was imperative that two new rooms be opened in the Cook avenue school to accommodate children who had signified their intention of beginning school.

L. A. Campbell, M. P. P., stated that he had put forth every effort to get a grant for the school. He also stated that he had a standing offer from the government of 60 per cent. of the total cost of a new school building. CANADIAN TENNIS PLAYERS BEATEN

Australians Score One-Sided Victory in Davis Cup Elimination Matches at Chicago

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, July 23.—Australia today scored a one-sided victory over Canada in the first of the Davis cup elimination matches. In straight sets Wilding defeated R. F. Powell, 6—1, 6—2, 6—2, and in the same manner Norman Brookes won from B. P. Schwengers 6—1, 6—2, 6—2. The Canadians played desperately and made a game fight for every point, but were outclassed. Schwengers comes from Victoria, B. C.

The result gives the Australians a big advantage, since to win the series the Canadians now must take the doubles tomorrow and both the singles matches on Saturday. After the play today critics were unwilling to concede the Canadians anything but an outside chance.

The first match, that of Brookes and Schwengers, was hardly completed before a terrific storm began. These showers, which lasted more than an hour, drove to shelter the spectators and threatened to cause a postponement of the second match, but canvas covers kept the courts nearly dry and Wilding refused to consent to having the match set back.

Wilding played a wonderful game, much better than his practice matches early this week had indicated. His passing was marvelous, all shots just inside the side lines and just short of the base lines, leaving Powell helpless at times. His drives just topped the nets and his lobbing kept the Canadian playing far back of the base line.

Powell occasionally showed great placing, but his service was not to be compared with his opponent's and evidently had no terrors for him.

Lack of confidence probably hastened Schwengers' defeat at the hands of Brookes. The latter, though scarcely the brilliant master of the game that Wilding is, easily had the better of Schwengers. In the doubles tomorrow Powell and Schwengers meet Brookes and Wilding.

KRAFT WILL NOT BE BOUGHT BY HIGHLANDERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, July 23.—Another baseball deal, in which the principal figure is Clarence C. Kraft, first baseman of the Newark Internationals, over whose disposition the baseball players fraternity threatened to strike last Monday, is off. The deal is the one announced yesterday by President Farrell of the New York Americans, in which he said that Kraft had been purchased by his club. Kraft had a talk with Mr. Farrell today, at the conclusion of which Farrell announced that the deal was off and that Kraft would return to Newark. The reason, it was reported, was that Kraft wished embodied in his contract a clause which did not appeal to Mr. Farrell.

EATING—MORE OR LESS.

To him who loves his lobster a la Newburg or his beefsteak and onions, the dictum of the physician who appeared before the meeting of an Homeopathic association will cause consternation, according to the Montreal Evening News.

"Eat less and live longer," says the doctor.

But who wishes to live longer under those conditions. Like many generalities, this one contains only half a truth. There are some, possibly a fairly large number, who do eat more than is good for them. But that part of the population is not great.

The trouble with thousands is that they not only do not eat enough, but much of what they do eat does not return value for the money paid. It is not the quantity that is eaten that restores our power so much as the quality.

What is needed is instruction as to the value of foods. It would be a happier, and possibly a less alcoholic world, were the high school graduates more familiar with food roots than cube roots.

Fortunately that instruction is being obtained. But it is not as yet widespread.

The advice to eat less may be of value, if we are most careful as to what we do eat.

But The Daily News would respectfully ask what choice in the matter have the people of many a British Columbia home in which an almond-eyed oriental serves up for each meal what he chooses and how he chooses? Fewer Chinamen in the kitchens of British Columbia homes and more personal direction on the part of housewives over intelligent white help would do much to improve the digestion of this province.

BEWARE THE OIL.

The forest of oil derricks in Alberta will not yield riches to all investors whose money has gone into their construction, says the Toronto News. The savings exchanged by a great number of the uninitiated for stock certificates will not even find their way into derricks. Some of the enterprises which have floated stocks have neither wells nor leases nor prospects of engaging genuinely in the production of oil.

The despatches speak of drills which have got below the 1,500 and even the 2,000-foot level. If the operating companies are over-capitalized or if they do not strike oil they may go still deeper into their shareholders' pockets. It is well, however, that depth is being attained. Different sections of the Alberta field are thus being thoroughly tested and before long the world should know something definite about the territory. It is sincerely to be hoped that the promise indicated by the earlier discoveries may be fully realized.

If the Calgary region becomes one of the world's most prolific producers of liquid fuel there will be all the more reason why the public should be warned against losing its head. A few successful wells will increase the gullibility of the small investor ten-fold.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

The Record for Laziness.

The laziest man in the world has been discovered in this town. He stood on Bay street yesterday and held a match out in his hand until a street car brushed by and struck it for him.—Florida Times-Union.

Frenzied Fans.

A Chicago judge attributes the increase in insanity cases to the moving picture craze and baseball. A glance at the bleachers when the home team wins out in the last half of the ninth would give an alienist the impression that some of the fans were a little "batty."—Vancouver Province.

Margaret Is the Hull Show.

Mr. Hull of New York admitted in court that his wife, Miss Anglin, the actress, paid all his bills, gave him his clothes, spending money and car fare. Mr. Hull, as a man, is worse than that—he's a mere shell.—Ottawa Citizen.

Most Inconsiderate.

The lady householder was stealing water. She was stealing it with much circumspection from a low-lying sprinkler which was turned on just sufficiently to nicely sprinkle a dry place upon the lawn, but not enough to be conspicuous from the street. A policeman comes along with his weather eye open for just such infringements of the city ordinances. The lady householder realizes that it is too late to shut off the water without attracting the attention of the policeman, so—the day being warm—she calmly sits down upon the tell-tale sprinkler and hides it from view. The policeman walks slowly to the fence and engages the lady householder in conversation. He talks about the heat, the necessity of keeping lawns well sprinkled, the weather generally, the picture shows, the supervised play at the city park, and many other topics which came into his mind upon the spur of the moment. At the end of 20 minutes the policeman walks quietly on with a smile upon the side of his face which is turned away from the lady householder.—Laramie Boomerang.

JEB SAYS

CONSIDER THE ANT

I'm not what ye'd call much of a naturalist. I like birds, animals and insects all right, but when it comes to studyin' them I'm a leetle bit off color. Maybe I lack patience. Thar was a time when I thought I'd specialize on the study of ants, but after watchin' an ant carry a dead grasshopper over a fence and back again six times without any apparent reason, I got ter thinkin' the study of thet particular insect would prove too intricate fer me. Maybe I've larned, though, thet the reason an ant works so dinged hard is that he doesn't know any better. On thing I know is, when I've carried a side of pork from the smokehouse to the kitchen, I'm satisfied to let it go at that. I'm not repeatin' the stunt jest to keep on workin', I should say not.

THE WEATHER

The weather was fine and quite warm yesterday in Manitoba and Saskatchewan while in Alberta it was only moderately warm with showers in the northern sections.

THINKS EFFECT BAD ON LIBERAL PARTY

British Labor Member Thinks Asquith's Action Ill-Advised—Has Views on Hindu Question.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, July 23.—Philip Snowden, Labor M.P. for Blackburn in the British house of commons, tonight gave an interesting discussion of the political situation in Great Britain. Mr. Snowden showed himself to be an uncompromising opponent to any interference by the King in parliamentary affairs and considered that the action of the premier in accepting responsibility for the King's speech would have a bad effect on the fortunes of the Liberal party. The member for Blackburn does not consider it likely that there will be an immediate general election as the Liberals would have to sacrifice the work of the last four years and throw overboard the Welsh disestablishment bill and the plural voters' bill. Speaking on the Hindu question and troubles at Vancouver Mr. Snowden said:

"There is a funny side to that business, but from an imperial point of view it is a serious question. If the British Empire means anything at all it means equal rights for all within the Empire. I do not think that you will ever be able to keep the Empire together if you are going to erect an impassable barrier against the people of one part coming into another section of the Empire. The Hindus are not savages, but have been a civilized nation older than that of your own."

Summing up his views on this question he said:

"I do not want to be thought dogmatic on a subject so closely Canadian, but I think that the Hindus would be as tosy to assimilate as some people from eastern Europe that are freely admitted to the Dominion. And with respect to these people there is no question of imperial interests such as refusal to allow entry to the Hindus provides us with."

Mr. Snowden leaves on Saturday for the west, calling at western cities on his way to Vancouver.

SELECT MEDIUM TO TRANSFER POWER

Intimate Friend of Carranza Named As Intermediary by Provisional President of Mexico

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, July 23.—R. Sepado, senator from the state of Coahuila and an intimate friend of Gen. Carranza has been selected by Provisional President Carbajal to negotiate the transfer of the government to the constitutionalists. Sepado was in hiding in Mexico City during the Huerta dictatorship and left Vera Cruz today for Tampico to meet Gen. Carranza. He has full instructions and authority to arrange for the transfer of the government. Jose Castelo, personal representative of Mr. Carbajal, conveyed this information to Secretary Bryan.

Huerta May Send for Refugees

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PUERTO MEXICO, Mexico, July 23.—Gen. Huerta sent a wireless message today from the German cruiser Dresden, on board which he is proceeding to Kingston, Jamaica, stating that if the Mexican refugees who fled with him from the city of Mexico and whom he had left behind here were not able to charter a boat to take them away he would send one to them from Kingston.

All efforts to obtain a vessel here so far have failed and the refugee colony on board the British cruiser Bristol already is showing signs of disintegrating.

Some of the fugitives secured passage today as ordinary passengers by way of Vera Cruz.

REGINA DECIDES TO HAVE MUNICIPAL STOCKYARDS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

REGINA, Sask., July 23.—At a meeting of the city council tonight it was decided to go ahead with the municipal stockyards scheme. The abattoir will come later. A temporary yard will be constructed at the exhibition grounds to show the farmers that Regina is in earnest. It is hoped to handle the fall business. Since the project was mooted agents have been busy securing options on a site. It was decided to advertise for tenders for a permanent site.

COLD STORAGE

Creditor—You couldn't go around in your fine automobile if you paid your debts.

Debtor—That's so! I'm glad you look at it in the same light that I do.

Mrs. Flatbush—And you think your little boy steals your pies?

Mrs. Bensonhurt—Somebody does, and I suspect Tommie.

"Well, there's a way you can tell.'

"How?"

"By the thumb prints."

"Oh, no, I can't. When Tommie gets through with a pie there aren't any thumb prints."

It was at a reception, and the lady, who had been reading upon health culture, mistook Lawyer Williams for his brother, the doctor.

"Is it better," she asked confidentially, "to lie on the right side or the left?"

"Madame," replied the lawyer, "if one is on the right side it often isn't necessary to lie at all."

FIRST WIFE LAYS BARE HER TRAGEDY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, July 23.—Mme. Berthe Guyeden, Joseph Caillaux' first wife, a slender woman with wasted cheeks, came into court today and faced her former husband, the ex-premier of France, and put as though upon a rack the woman who had won him from her—Mme. Henriette Caillaux, now on trial for the killing of M. Calmette.

Mme. Guyeden told her part in the publication of the "Thy Joe" letters but she declared she knew nothing about it and affirmed she had told Gaston Calmette nothing. The summit of the trial was reached when other private letters were handed over by Mme. Guyeden to M. Labori, counsel for Mme. Caillaux. It was one of the most dramatic moments in the annals of the French courts. A deep and impressive silence fell upon the courtroom.

Mme. Guyeden then left the box after having completely dominated by her remarkable personality the whole procedure. For three hours she spoke and her voice gained strength and carried to the remotest corner of the room.

Hoped He Would Follow Her

In that time she laid bare many a secret of her life with M. Caillaux. She told of his liason and of his throwing himself at her knees and asking her pardon. She testified that he even threatened her life. Then she left him and hoped he would follow her, but he did not and, she added, with a flash of her eyes and a tightening of her lips: "You know why."

Pointing with a dramatic gesture to the dock where Mme. Caillaux sat quivering with emotion, M. Caillaux, returning to the bar, said:

"With all my strength I will defend her. I ought to be beside her; nothing shall separate us."

Mme. Caillaux wept as her husband finished.

M. Caillaux then went on with wild gestures to depict the years which had preceded his marriage to his former wife.

FOURTEENTH BIRTHDAY OF AUSTRALIAN COMMONWEALTH

Australia, the home of political and economic "issues," and the happy hunting ground of sociologists, has just celebrated the 14th anniversary of the creation of the Commonwealth It was on July 9, 1900, that the imperial parliament passed the Australian federation act and thus created a new nation under the British flag.

Happy is that country which has no history, says the proverb, and Australia approaches that condition of bliss. The island continent has been described as "a land with a great future and almost no past." Since the Commonwealth of Australia was constituted, however, the lawmakers of the country have been busily engaged in manufacturing a history. Like most new countries, Australia has the enthusiasm and the rashness of youth and it has made many experiments in government from which older nations would shrink aghast. Some of the innovations have been very successful, others of more doubtful utility, but on the whole Australians are very well satisfied with the results of their political experiments, and eager to try others.

In the Australian Commonwealth the great political divisions are between radicals and—radicals. The two dominant parties differ only in the direction of their radicalism. One party provides one set of sociologic, economic and governmental "isms," the other party is equally wedded to another set of "isms" quite as radical Australia is a poor place for conservatives and stand-patters and middle-of-the-roaders.

Activities that are considered as within the legitimate scope of government in Australia include the building, ownership and operation of railway lines, street and telegraph systems, operated as in England as a part of the postoffice department; the building and maintenance of highways and roads; government savings and state banks; water supply and irrigation; promoting agriculture by granting reduced rates on agricultural implements and seeds, and the extermination of rabbits and other pests; the advancing of government loans to farmers and dairymen; the assistance and promotion of all useful industries; pensions for the aged, and an allowance of $25 to the mother of every white child born; conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes, and government employment bureaus.

In the governments of the various states, as in the federal governments, the influence of the laboring men is dominant, and many of the measures adopted have been decidedly socialistic.

Australia was described by the Dutchmen who first explored it as "a foul and barren country." This is no longer true, of course, but vast tracts in the interior are still uninhabited deserts. It was not so very long ago, however, that the western portions of the United States and Canada were dismissed as worthless, and it is likely that the development of the Australian continent will, in the course of time, be as complete as that of North America.

JOSIE COMPANY WORKS GIANT-CALIFORNIA MINE

The Le Roi No. 2, Limited, has been granted an option by the Giant-California company on two claims, the California and Giant. The agreement covers several years and necessitates, for its maintenance, practically continuous work by the optionees. The Le Roi No. 2, Limited, administration will direct operations, which probably will be accomplished chiefly through the workings of the Josie mine, since three of the levels therein abutt on California ground, the California claim adjoining the Annie claim, says the Rossland Miner.

The lines of strike of three of the productive veins, viz., Annie, North Annie and Hamilton, of the Le Roi No. 2, Limited, lie in the California ground, and these directions will be among the first to be investigated. Work is already being prosecuted.

BURN MANSION.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BIRMINGHAM, England, July 23.—An arson squad of militant suffragettes set fire to and destroyed a large unoccupied mansion near here today.

LIGHT.

Twilight over the river,
The hilltops coldly bright,
Where the last of the spring's snows burn,
In the last of the light.
Young willows lean from the brink
All white.

Silence over the river,
But a robin high in the hill,
Telling the sky and valley
Love is master still—
Love and summer come,
Whatever will.

Moving flood on the river,
Moveless calm on the height,
Summer drawing nearer,
Summer and love and night—
You moved behind the willows
Like light.

Twilight over the river,
Twilight over the hill,
The snows have burned to ashes,
The robin sung his fill,
But I am yearning and singing
Still.

(Special to The Daily News)

GREENWOOD, B. C., July 23.—Alex Robinson has gone to Vancouver to form a company, to be known as the Interior Mining & Development company, for the purpose of developing the Sally, Rob Roy, Carmi, Butcher Boy and 14 other mineral claims near Carmi and Beaverdell. At present 20 men are employed on these claims and ore is being teamed from the Sally to Beaverdell for shipment to Granby smelter.

The experiments at the Carmi mill upon the ores have proved highly satisfactory.

There are 55 men working at the Jewel mine.

Prospecting is active around Carmi and Beaverdell.

COPPER COMPANY ERECTS BUILDINGS AT PRINCESS

(Special to The Daily News)

PRINCETON, B. C., July 23.—The activities of the British Columbia Copper company at Princess camp, Copper mountain, are in line with the reports published some months ago regarding this company's proposed smelter or concentrator for the treatment of ore. Buildings of a permanent type are being erected and the movements of the company denote ore production on a large scale. Eight million tons of ore have been already blocked out and the diamond drilling continues.

Negotiations for some 700 or 800 acres of land in the vicinity of Voight camp are in progress. This land is presumed to be for extensive works in the treatment of ore.

received at Buckingham palace, why not women?"

The concensus of opinion of the London press this morning is that the conference has failed. It is believed that an announcement that another meeting will be held today does not justify the hope that progress has been made toward settlement. The further sitting is regarded as a matter of form and it is understood that Nationalists decline the terms laid down at the last meeting. A new development might convert failure into success. This evening hurried consultations were held behind the speaker's chair. The speaker saw Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Lord Lansdowne and Bonar Law.

It is feared, however, that today's meeting will be the last.

Carson Says Policy Drift.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 24.—The only hopeful sign in connection with the Buckingham palace conference is that, contrary to universal opinion, it is still alive. That is all that can be said with absolute confidence. A news agency has given currency to the report that the conference has attained what amounts to an agreement.

As against this statement may be mentioned the letter from Sir Edward Carson which was read at the Unionist gathering yesterday afternoon. Sir Edward says the government still appears to be blind to the critical position it has itself created by its impossible home rule bill and is apparently content to allow matters to drift until civil war breaks out. He urged every member to do his utmost to prevent "this monstrous betrayal from being realized."

There are great influences at work behind the scenes to secure a settlement which may at the last moment completely change the whole situation. The wishes of the King must continue to be in the minds of all in the conference so long as it remains in existence.

The fact that it has involved another sitting, despite Wednesday's pessimism, is in itself a good omen. Moderate men on both sides of politics continue to hope that its labors may not in the end prove fruitless, however unfavorable the outlook was last night.

Threatens to Punish Army.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 24.—The Telegraph's Dublin correspondent sends a startling message to the effect that infantry is being despatched to Ulster and that that which is engaged in field operations in that province is being mobilized with a view to coping with any contingency.

An order issued from the war office prohibits the militia from associating with or participating in any way with the Ulster or Nationalist Volunteers.

The government order says that court martial will be the punishment to follow in case of any violation by giving aid or instructions to any or either of the volunteer forces now known to exist in Ireland whose intentions or objects are partially or wholly known to interfere with peace and good order. All pensioners from the service have been warned that their action in giving help to either of the volunteer forces will be looked upon as the imparting of military secrets to another force which differs in essentials from that in which they were employed and will be strictly investigated.

REPORT ON CANADIAN FRUIT CROP CONDITIONS

Department of Agriculture at Ottawa Receives Telegraphic Advices From Provinces and Districts.

Following are telegraphic reports to the federal department of agriculture regarding fruit crop conditions in the Dominion:

New Brunswick.—Province has splendid young orchards, but not yet producing sufficient fruit for home consumption. Apple crop promises 70 per cent crop only; a few orchards injured by frost. Scab showing very little. Summer and fall varieties heavier than winters. Size and quality good. Raspberries promising well.

Nova Scotia.—Weather conditions favorable. Very little spot showing. General estimate of apple crop too large. The crop will be, at most, 1,000,000 barrels. Spy, King, Russet, Wagener, Bellifleur, Baldwin and Ribston leading. Nonpareil, Blenheim, Fallwater, Stark Gravenstein and Ben Davis light. Crop last year 650,000 barrels; 1912, 1,000,000 barrels, and in 1911 a record crop of 1,750,000 barrels.

Quebec.—Most sections looking well. Fameuse and McIntosh dropped heavily, but sufficient left on trees for good crop. Cherries heavy crop. Bush fruits good.

Ontario, Lambton.—Apple crop 40 per cent above 1913, and 15 per cent below 1912. Weather has been hot and dry for six weeks with sufficient drop to prevent thinning. Favorable showers this week and well sprayed orchards will have a good commercial crop of clean fruit. Plums and pears fair to good, but much lighter than last year. Grapes promise a good crop.

Norfolk.—Crop one-third heavier than 1913, and one-third lighter than 1912. Fungous prevalent, but quality is good in orchards that have been well sprayed.

Huron.—Crop about 25 per cent heavier than 1913, in spite of heavy drop. Quality will be good. Plums light.

Counties North of Lake Ontario.—Prospects not so good as expected. Drop has been heavy. Crop will run about same as last year, or about 25 per cent less than 1912. Fruit well distributed and all trees bearing. Weather conditions fair.

Okanagan Valley.—Long dry spell was broken by rain. Quality of apple crop excellent. Total crop will approximate 1,000 cars, which is equal to the crop of 1912 and 25 per cent greater than 1913, with Wealthy, Jonathan, Wagener, and McIntosh heaviest. Pears 20 per cent increase over 1913. Tomato acreage increased 25 per cent. Peaches a fair crop, totalling 50,000 20-pound boxes.

United States.—Western New York crop is slightly less than 1912 and double that of 1913. States of Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho average 81 per cent, as compared with 84 per cent in 1913 and 91 per cent in 1912.

London, England.—Latter half of June very dry, but rain general during early part of July. Present conditions favorable. Plums about average. Kent and neighboring counties show fair apple crop. Midland counties very uneven.

N. B.—Special attention should be given by shippers to the hour at which tender fruits will reach their destination. Practically 75 per cent of the fruit is sold in Canadian markets before noon, and where fruit is sold by auction after noon, prices are frequently 30 per cent less than morning prices.

VALLEY RAILWAY ACCOUNTS PUZZLE COMMISSIONERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 23.—Ralph D. Hoban, accountant for the St. John & Quebec Construction company, was on the stand all day in the valley railway inquiry. The session was devoted to tracing and locating payments made by the company. One of the most puzzling entries was a charge of $45,000 for interest which was shown as part of the cost of construction. The only voucher for this was an order-in-council freeing a surety company of its responsibility for $45,000 of a $60,000 guarantee of interest on the bonds. The connection was not shown.

Further payments of interest indicated that the interest on the loans totaling about $44,000 negotiated with the Prudential Trust company of Montreal, by Gould, Lisman, McDonald & Thompson, was paid by the construction company and charged to the cost of the road. That the money borrowed was used for construction purposes has not yet been shown. The deeper the council and commissioners dug into the matter the more difficult it seemed to bring order out of the chaos. At every turn they were met with the obstacle that transactions which they wished to trace had been handled through the New York office and the explanations, if any, would be found only there.

The evening session was a little more productive. It showed that along in July, 1913, A. R. Gould considered that he was entitled to a salary of $5,000 a year from the construction company. It was not shown that Gould held any office in this company or any order to provide him with a salary had been passed by the company. But Gould got it, and gathered in $10,000 for the two preceding years during which, apparently, he had been working so hard that he had no time even to think of such a detail as salary.

The amounts paid to Gould reached a total up to March of $19,366.67, but the accountant was unable to explain what value the railway had to show for the balance of the payments.

Another matter which cropped up today was the claim of J. D. Seeley for $16,000. The full amount was charged up to general expenses, although only $4,000 was actually paid. The entry was classified as "organization expenses."

Some people keep corns year after year, merely paring them once in a while.

Some people use old-time treatments, and think corns can't be ended.

They wrong themselves. A famous chemist has solved the whole corn problem. And his invention—Blue-jay—now removes a million corns a month.

Go try it. Note how the pain stops instantly. Note how gently Blue-jay undermines the corn. Note how soon the whole corn comes out, without any pain or soreness.

Next Sunday you can be as free from corns as a barefoot boy. And, so long as you live, you will never again let corns bother you.

CANADIAN PACIFIC LOWEST IN YEARS

Demoralization of Continental Markets Cause of Selling of Standards From London.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, July 23.—Resumption of gold exports to Paris and the filing of the government's suit to dissolve the New Haven road were the outstanding features of today's heavy and dull stock market. The gold movement was regarded as of more than ordinary importance because of the increasing financial tension shown at all the leading foreign centres.

Paris, Berlin and Vienna were reported as showing signs of demoralization, a condition which found partial reflection in further liquidation here. London sold about 15,000 shares, mostly high grade stocks, in this market and the decline in Canadian Pacific railway to its lowest figure in four years resulted in part from the direct Berlin selling.

The New Haven suit, which had the effect of causing the stock to move in feverish fashion, aroused considerable interest from the fact that the attorney-general's brief suggested the appointment of a receiver to take over the property.

Many of the better known stocks fell from 1 to over 2 points, with weakness in Lehigh Valley and Reading. Baltimore & Ohio added another fraction to its low record and Erie, Denver & Rio Grande preferred and Rock Island preferred and a few more inconspicuous stocks and bonds sold at prices seldom if ever before quoted.

The movement was broader than recently, embracing more features of potential value. A reactional rally in the final hour was effected in United States Steel.

The general bond list continued to show a declining tendency in low priced issues. Total sales, par value, $2,829,000.

INTERNATIONALS ARE WEAK IN MONTREAL

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, July 23.—The weakness of London and the heavy trading were reflected by a sagging market in local issues today.

The internationals, Canadian Pacific railway and Brazilian, were especially weak and led the day in losses and activity. The first sale of Canadian Pacific railway at 184¾ showed an overnight loss of 1¼ and after increasing the decline for the day to 2 points at 184 it closed weak, offered at that price with 183¾ bid, incidentally making a new low record on this market. The overnight loss of Brazilian, which opened at 73, was 1 point. It hung around that level during the morning session. It also opened at 72 in the afternoon but quickly sold ½ lower at 71½ or a net loss for the day of 1½.

Steamship preferred was another weak feature. One sale of 50 shares carried the price 2⅜ lower to 65⅛ and it closed at that price bid as against 66⅜ on the previous day. Toronto rails continued heavy, selling ¼ lower at 123½.

A broken lot of Montreal Power sold 1 point lower to 229 but the closing quotation was shaded only ¼ to 229½. Laurentide was inactive and quoted 1 point lower at 178 and Shawinigan, after selling unchanged at 132, closed ½ easier at 131½.

The opening sale of Nova Scotia was 1 point lower at 51, but later in the day it rallied ¼ to 51¼.

BERLIN SOLD ON RUMORS OF WAR

Denial That Austria Was Mobilizing Army Halts Sales—Canadian Pacific Depressed.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 23.—Heaviness was manifest here today. The stock market was gloomy throughout the day, closing dull everywhere. Despite herculean efforts to settle the Irish deadlock home issues were off in expectation of the failure of the conference, while Americans were weak on the attitude assumed by the United States government in regard to the New Haven matter. Consols closed at 75 1-16 for money and 1-16 higher for the settlement. They lost heavily during the day and at the prices named were 7-16 lower.

Canadian Pacific railway was depressed both in New York and London, which were sellers today. German sales were checked when denials were issued that the Austrian army corps was mobilizing but there was no easing up in the liquidation from home and American sources. The stock closed at 183¾, a decline of 1⅝ since yesterday's close. Grand Trunk railway was active but easier.

The Canadian Northern railway bond issue appears to be going slowly. The list, however, does not close until Monday next, leaving ample time for the receipt of subscriptions.

The bank rate remained at 3 per cent., A small advance on the proportion of reserve to liabilities was shown by the weekly statement of the Bank of England.

HUGE DEFICIENCY IN WHEAT IS ESTIMATED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, July 23.—Although there was no rain over the western provinces since last report, temperatures were lower and conditions are considered more favorable. Wheat prices opened at an advance of ½ to ⅝c on strong Liverpool cables but longs started profittaking, causing prices to decline. Nearing the close they were stronger than ever and closed ⅝ to ⅞c higher.

Flax advanced fractionally and holds fairly steady.

The cash demand for wheat was active and offerings light. Oats, barley and flax were also in good demand but offerings are light all around. Exporters were the buyers.

A. O. Slaught of Chicago estimates a deficiency in the wheat crop this year as compared with last in the principal wheat producing countries of 269,000,000 bushels. European markets were all higher except Antwerp, which was unchanged.

Cash wheat closed ¾c higher for No. 1 and No. 2 northern. Cash oats closed ¼ to ⅜c higher. Cash flax closed 1⅜c firmer for all grades. Cash barley closed unchanged to 1c higher.

Winnipeg close: Wheat—July 91⅞; Oct. 86¼; Dec. 85¾.

THOUGHT LOST IN EMPRESS IS HOME IN ENGLAND

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., July 23.—Joseph Kinslow, formerly of Charlottetown, who was previously reported to have gone down in the Empress of Ireland, is safe at his home in Liverpool, England, with his family. His mother, Mrs. De Young of Charlottetown, has received a letter to this effect.

Kinslow was a fireman on the Empress and was in the watch below when the disaster occurred. He was one of those asleep in their bunks when the collision came. Awakened by the crash, he secured a life belt and with this he jumped overboard and was floating about for some time before being picked up.

What Your Dollar Will Do Where to Spend Your Dollar

To the men or women who know st what they want, you can't offer substitute and persuade them to ke it.

Your substitute may be and probly is all right, but the customers not know it, and you can't blame em for insisting on having the kind ey know about and believe in.

This is a day of advertising readers. Men and women take their newsper home with them and keep poston the things they buy.

You need have no fear of pushing e articles of general distribution at are advertised in The Nelson ily News.

You need have no fear of pushing ur business, your name and your cation, telephone number, etc., in e Nelson Daily News.

Meet the public half way in creatg a demand for your particular line a concise, honest advertisement in is paper; it will bring you more business and greater profits.

The public fully knows in this day and age exactly what it wants and that as a rule quality comes first. Then comes the desire to have people know about you. If you have a brighter store or sell better merchandise than your neighbor you ought to tell the public so.

No matter what your dealings with the public are, if you depend upon public patronage you should proclaim the superior points in what you have to sell.

This is true whether you sell merchandise, or real esate, or your services as a mechanic or professional man, or what not.

People used to spend their money without much thought of what they were getting in return. But it is different now. The public is educated, the public is informed, the public chooses, picks and specifies.

TELLS HOW TO GET RID OF NOXIOUS WEEDS

Provincial Department Issues Circular in Which Methods of Eradication Are Described.

Instructions as to destroying noxious weeds have been issued by the provincial department of agriculture. The following table shows that weeds may be divided into three classes: Annuals, biennials and perenials, says the circular.

Annuals complete their growth in a year. The prevention of the formation of seed for one year, followed by careful cultivation to kill all young plants, will soon eradicate annuals. In addition to this all seed in soil should be encouraged to germinate in order to complete control.

Biennials require two seasons to complete their growth, the flowers and seeds being produced during the second year. Due notice should be taken of this fact when fighting weeds of this class.

Perennials are plants which continue to grow for many years, being propagated by underground root-stalks, stems, etc., as well as by seeds. The aim in fighting perennials should be to prevent any growth from being made, hence starve the root systems. There is no known weed which cannot be eradicated if proper measures are taken. Never allow seeds to ripen, and if they do, encourage them to grow so the plants may be killed by cultivation.

Methods of eradiation given are:

Annuals.

Russian Thistle—Harrow grain crops as late as possible; hand pull weeds from waste places. Prevent any seed from ripening.

Wild Mustard or Charlock—Plant clean seed; rotate crops; induce dormant seeds in soil to germinate by giving good cultivation. Hand pull.

Tumbling Mustard—Same treatment as for wild mustard.

Ball Mustard Stink Weed—Destroy plants before seeds ripen. Encourage seed in soil to germinate and then kill young plants with harrow.

Ragweed—Hand pull from grain fields and mow from roadsides before seed ripens.

Blue Bur or Stick Seed—Sow clean seed; hand pull from waste place and mow young plants to prevent formation of seed.

Dodder—Sow clean seed, hand pull when it appears; if in small patches cover with straw and burn.

Wild Oats—Rotation of crops with clean cultivation of the hoed crop. Induce seed to germinate in spring and then kill young plants.

Biennials.

Bull Thistle—Plow or cut down before flowers open. In pastures cut below crown of plant. Prevent formation of any seed for two years.

Perennials.

Canada Thistle—Plow deeply just as flowers open or mow then and plow as soon as new growth appears. Use short crop rotations.

Perennial Sow Thistle—Prevent leaf growth by plowing field frequently or by digging plants. Use cultivated crops.

Couch or Quick Grass—Plow sallow in June, remove root-stalks, use cultivated crops.

TRIBUTE PAID TO RETIRING MANAGER

Butchers' Association and Staff of P. Burns & Co. Make Presentations to A. J. Howe.

The Nelson Butchers' association and the staff of P. Burns & Co.'s branch in Nelson on Wednesday afternoon paid a tribute to the popularity of A. J. Howe, manager of the retail department of P. Burns & Co., who has been promoted and will leave Nelson.

The butchers' association held a picnic on Wednesday afternoon at Nine Mile, over 25 members of the association being present, and Mr. Howe was presented with a pair of gold cuff links, on which were engraved the insignia of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias orders. From the staff of P. Burns & Co. Mr. Howe was the recipient of a handsome 21 jeweled Waltham watch.

During their picnic the butchers carried out a program of sports, returning to the city about 8:30 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Howe has been promoted to a higher position with P. Burns & Co., with headquarters at Calgary, for which city he expects to leave at the end of the week. He entered the employ of the company some 16 years ago at Revelstoke, where he was located for 10 years, and for the past six years he has been connected with various branches of the company in the west, coming to Nelson three years ago from Lethbridge as manager of the retail department. Prior to taking up his new duties he will pay a visit to his old home in Kingsville, Ont.

WOULD RESTRICT CREDIT ON FARM MACHINERY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WEYBURN, Sask., July 23.—There were about 40 farmers present at the sitting of the royal commission investigating conditions under which sales of machinery have been made to farmers and to report any grievances made to them.

J. J. Lamb from Key West and W. S. Wetheral of Weyburn suggested that credit should be restricted and agents prohibited from canvassing the farmers. Their reasons for this were that often farmers yielded to the solicitations of agents and bought when they did not need the machinery and then agents had to be paid and their commissions added to the cost of the machinery.

FIRE LOSS HEAVY.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TRENTON, Ont., July 24.—Fire at an early hour this morning destroyed a large quantity of stock in the yards of the Trenton Cooperage company. Six box cars, some of them loaded, were totally destroyed.

By strenuous efforts on the part of the firemen the mill was saved. The loss is heavy but is probably fully covered by insurance.

PRAISES EXHIBIT FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA

The British Columbia building is this year better worth a visit, if possible, than ever, says the Winnipeg Free Press in an article on the features of the annual exhibition in the prairie city. There is a notable show of small fruits, mostly from the Okanagan, Kootenay, Salmon Arm and other fruit raising sections of eastern British Columbia, where their crop is still being harvested, when the season further west is over. A feature of the fruit exhibit is a collection of British Columbia apples, put in cold storage last fall and still in first-class shape and flavor and a handsome pyramid of bottled fruits of all kinds, large and small, retained by a special process in the exact color and shape of nature.

At the opposite side of the room is arranged a striking display of the finished products of British Columbia's immense forest areas. Moulding, siding, three ply veneer panels, doors have been worked to show the exquisite beauty of the grain, while a section of the roof gives an excellent idea of the odd 2,000,000,000 shingles annually produced in the province. Photographs arranged under the roof give the life history of the shingle from its inception in the tangled forest of a coast range limit to its complete state, covering the roof of a millionaire residence in Vancouver. Beautifully finished models of the food fishes, which abound, alike in the numerous lakes and streams of the interior and in the seas, which wash the shores of the province, are arranged along the sides of the building, while a large block of ice in one corner contains a fresh specimen of the famous British Columbia salmon as he appears before being gathered to his fathers in the can of commerce.

Specimens of Mineral Wealth.

In the centre of the room is displayed a very representative collection of specimens of the mineral wealth of the province, the gold-copper ores of Rossland, the silver-lead ores of the Slocan, asbestos from the Tulameen river, copper from the Boundary country and Vancouver island, gypsum from Spatsum, zinc ore and iron ore, all selected from actual working properties and giving an excellent notion of the resources of the province in this respect, which though really quite in the infancy of actual production, yet make up the very respectable annual output of $30,000,000. One end of the building has this year been devoted to the purpose of a lecture room, in which W. A. Lang, the commissioner of the British Columbia exhibit, proposes to entertain his visitors daily with moving pictures and colored views of British Columbia, its fruit farms, fisheries, logging camps, canneries, its cities and countrysides, and aspects of various activities and industries of the province generally. Mr. Lang will describe the scenes as they come before the audience, and everybody is cordially welcome to come in and listen and see the show.

THE JUNGLE KING'S DEATH

There was a vicious report as he fired, but too late—a shout, a coughing grount; the man was down. No; he was up somewhere. There was another report close beside; a crash of splintered, parted reeds; a whirling, yellow, black-tuft-tipped tail, and—silence.

The lion went on through the high reeds, smashing his way without seeking a path, galloping a wonderful, long leaping gallop, in which all four feet nearly touched when in the middle of each bound.

He had certainly intended to kill the man who fired at him—had, in fact, got him over, knocked him down like a nine-pin; but the other man had fired in his face and—missed. And the beast would revile him for missing.

Far, far better had he not bungled the job, and let the heavy 476 Express bullet finish the work the first man's 275 bullet had begun.

As it was, he hung on his stride, and dropped to a trot—a heavy, loose, dog-like trot. But this trot fell to a walk, and the walk stopped.

He looked round, growling horribly to himself in hollow rumblings. He stared back at the bent and broken reeds, and for a moment it looked as if he was going back to finish the fight he had not commenced. Then he moved on again, and a host of flies swarmed, buzzing, on to the pool of blood that had collected where he stood.

The heat was intense, and the air thick with a thousand swarming insect plagues. A single vulture thing hung as if suspended by a string from the brazen copper dome of the heavens, and some antelope leaped, crashed away unseen to one side of him.

The lion took no notice of anything. He was limping now and the flies followed him like a halo.

He stopped by the river and drank in the shallows feverishly, till the water reddened about him, and his quick eyes detected a swirl made by a crocodile following up the blood scent. Thereafter he retired into the bushes and lay down. He was still growling a little, and his eyes, burning deep in the great head of him, were awful to look upon.

Night came down swiftly, as it does on those sinister lands, the flies gave way to the steady song of mosquitoes, and the beasts came to drink—zebra, antelope, gazelle, jackal, hyena, giraffe, elephant, rhinocerous—and the lion, with his burning eyes, watched them.

Sometimes they, the nervous ones—the zebra, antelope, gazelle and giraffe—"winded" him, and fled, stampeding in a confused thunder of hoofs and clouds of dust, but the king of beasts never moved.

His wound was stiffening. A great pool of blood marked where he lay. His coat was sopping.

Just before dawn he went down to drink again. He was very thirsty, even for a lion. A single hyena was at the edge when he appeared, and, though well out of reach, it bolted, as the hyena always does, at nothing. But it came back; it hung around; it sniffed, and the lion saw it and knew.

The long, stifling day, with its maddening, black swarm of flies around the wounded beast, dragged brazenly on, and, except for his snaps at the tormenting winged fiends, one might have thought the lion was dead there in his bush.

Then a tiny, graceful gazelle came by, and the lion sprang out, but he fell short, and nearly pitched over on to his nose. Things had got so bad as that.

Night again came striding westward over the trees, and the vultures that sat on them all around croaked their disappointment. The guinea fowls called one to the other as they flew up to roost, and a jackal howled somewhere.

Then the hyena appeared, with glowing eyes, lurking in the shadows. But he was not alone now; there were dozens of other cruel eyes glowing, too, and suddenly a most infernal chorus of cackling laughter burst from them.

The lion was still now, lying on his side, groaning a little.

Then, about three hours before dawn, the hyenas rushed him from all sides, and he died, fighting feebly, the death of nearly all lions—a prey to the loathsome hyenas.—Answers.

PICKED UP LEAD BY MERE ACCIDENT

After a whole lot of hard work extending over two or three years, the lead has been picked up on the Big Six group on the south side of Nine-Mile mountain. The group is owned by Roy McDonald, Fred Brewer, D. McGibbon, John Johnson and Bill Sweeney. Last Sunday morning Roy McDonald went up to the property to see how the assessment work was progressing under the superintendency of Johnston, and they looked around again for the lead, but found nothing. While sitting around the camp fire at noon Roy suddenly got an inspiration. He was going to fool the boys with a piece of float, and while looking for the float he came upon some quartz. Into this he picked and immediately found the lead. It was covered up by a slide and it was only by accident that he encountered it.—Omineca Herald.

OARSMEN TENDER THANKS TO RAILWAY

Vancouver, Portland and Victoria Crews Pleased With Treatment Accorded by Officials.

J. A. Macdonald of Vancouver, who was manager of the crews of the Vancouver Rowing club on the occasion of their visit to Nelson during Chahko Mika week, when they took part in the regatta, has communicated with J. V. Murphy, district passenger agent for the Canadian Pacific railway, stating that the members of the Vancouver, Victoria and Portland crews were highly pleased with the treatment that had been accorded them by the Canadian Pacific railway during their tour on its line from Vancouver to Portland and Nelson and return. The letter pays tribute to the Canadian Pacific railway for the condition of its trains and to the officials and employes of the company en route for the courteous treatment that was extended them.

To the employes of the railroad on the company's branch line from Kingsgate north, the oarsmen paid a particular tribute for the manner in which they had been treated.

Mr. Macdonald states that Messrs. Patton and Simpson, who were in charge of the Portland and Victoria crews also wished to tender their thanks to the company, its officials and employes.

STATION AND TELEPHONE EXCHANGE WIPED OUT

Northport Scene of Large Conflagration—Short Interruption of Communication.

A big conflagration at Northport, Wash., on Wednesday afternoon wiped out a large section of the business portion of that city, destroying among a large number of other buildings, the station of the Great Northern railway and the telephone exchange. Nelson's long distance telephone communication with Spokane is made through Northport, but the operators in the exchange at Northport succeeded in saving the switchboard and temporary quarters were set after the fire, the service between Nelson and points south of Northport being only out of commission for about 40 minutes. A. B. Godfrey, district superintendent for the British Columbia Telephone company will leave this morning for Northport.

John Miller and S. H. Hobson will leave on the Great Northern this morning for New York, whence they will sail on the Cunard liner Aurania on July 29.
