MERRY SCENES CLOSE CARNIVAL

Battle of Confetti Delights Gay Crowds

NELSON OARSMEN WIN TWO RACES

Cranbrook Loses Lacrosse Game--Coeur d' Alene Crew Victorious.

Extremely gay and full of frivolity were the closing hours of Nelson's big Chahko Mika carnival week, the largest and most successful affair of its kind ever held in the interior of the province. The big week of fete concluded with a battle of confetti and riot of fun on the extensive midway on Vernon street. Crowds in numbers that would be hard to estimate, including men, women and children, gathered early on Saturday evening for the closing festivities and the merry scenes lasted until midnight.

The many shows that during the week went to make up a round of pleasure for the visitors and residents of the city were nearly all crowded during the closing evening of the celebration and the street was a blaze of light and color and the venue of thousands of merrymakers. With all formalities cast aside for the evening those who were present entered into the sport in a manner that has not been seen in Nelson for a long time, if ever before in the history of the city. Busy as were the showmen with their attractions the busiest men at the scene of the fun were the vendors of confetti and before the festivities had closed Vernon street was literally paved with the bright-hued ammunition of the battle.

Immediately at the close of the festivities work on the demolition of the attraction colony that had provided entertainment for thousands of citizens and visitors during the week commenced and yesterday all day work was being conducted by the showmen and others gathering their wares and preparing for their next move.

The program for the closing day included a wild west show on the recreation grounds, followed by a lacrosse match in which Cranbrook was beaten by Nelson, and a motorcycle race for the handsome Jamieson Coffee company's cup, while on the waterfront the program of aquatic sports, which had commenced on Thursday afternoon, was concluded.

The lacrosse game was easily won by Nelson over the Crows Nest boys, neither team after the two gruelling contests of the previous days fielding anything like its regular team. The Pendleton wild west troupe bade farewell to the crowd amid the plaudits of the gathering.

Johnstone Wins Senior Singles.

On the waterfront Nelson carried off the honors of the day, Lewis Johnstone carrying off the honors in the senior singles for the carnival championship against W. N. Kennedy, N.P. A.A.O. champion, and Frank Nott of Vancouver, and George Gore and Eddie Murphy taking the senior doubles easily from the Victoria crew, composed of W. N. Kennedy and H. Sinclair. The results of the two races on Saturday give to Nelson the honors of the regatta with four first and two seconds to its credit in six races. The Portland representation carried off second honors and Victoria third.

During the afternoon a special double shell race over a half mile course was pulled off with Coeur d'Alene, Victoria and Vancouver entered. Coeur d'Alene won out by a length from Victoria.

Launch races were also run off at the waterfront, the majority of prizes being carried off by A. H. Green in his new speed craft Molly G.

Aeroplane Flight Good

There was a large attendance at the water sports in the afternoon, when, besides the program of aquatic sports and shell races, the spectators were treated to two pretty launch races between the speed craft of Nelson's flotilla and the final hydroaeroplane flight of Wendon B. Cooke of Oakland, Cal., who made the most graceful and successful flight of his series in the city. The big bird-like machine rose from the water with ease and grace and rose to the highest point of the week. Mr. Cooke continued his journey east to about Four Mile, returning and swooping down over the grand stand on the waterfront. He repeated the flight up the arm and returned and maneuvered his machine with grace over the heads of the spectators. Stopping his engine while at a great height he volplaned to the water amid the greetings of the crowd.

The feature event of the regatta in the afternoon was the senior single race for the championship of the carnival to which added interest was given by the entries of two young Nelson scullers, Lewis Johnstone, stroke of Nelson's big four, and Eddie Murphy, junior single champion of the Pacific northwest, who were both pitted against W. N. Kennedy of Victoria, senior single champion of the Pacific northwest, and Frank Knott of Vancouver. About half a mile along the course Kennedy struck a pile and Murphy pulled up on him, which position he held until within half a mile

DAMAGE HEAVY IN CLOUDBURST

Million Feet of Logs Swept Away in New Brunswick—Roads and Bridges Taken Out.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

APOHAQUI, N. B., July 19.—A cloudburst Saturday morning during the most disastrous storm in the memory of residents of Apohaqui caused damage estimated at $300,000 and will result in the closing of the Jones Brothers mill, owing to the loss of 1,000,000 feet of logs and the wrecking of the structure by the mighty flood in the mill stream.

Roads and bridges were swept away by the torrential rainfalls and flood and crops are ruined in the millstream valley. Barns owned by A. E. Calpets and James O'Neill were struck by lightning and burned and four dwelling houses were damaged by bolts.

VESSELS WRECKED IN ATLANTIC GALE

Two Steamers, Two Schooners Lost When Storm Sweeps Coast—Barque on Rocks

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HALIFAX, N. S., July 19.—Two steamers and two schooners were wrecked during the past 24 hours as the result of a heavy storm that swept over the coast. There was no loss of life, all the crews reaching shore in safety, but some of them had a trying experience as a thick fog prevailed. The vessels were the Norwegian steamer Ragna, 1,052 tons, from Chester, Pa., to St. Anns, C. B., and it ran ashore at Ballens, and the Cuban steamer Cienfuegos, 1,139 tons, struck at Scattarick, C. B., bound from Mobile, Ala., with a cargo of pine for Montreal.

The American schooner Harold C. Behr also struck on Scattarick. It sailed for New York from Sydney. The four-masted schooner Clarence Venner struck off Cape Sable, N. S. It was bound from New York to Halifax with 1,200 tons of hard coal.

All the vessels are in bad positions and the prospect of floating them are slight.

Barque Total Loss

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

YARMOUTH, N. S., July 19.—The Italian barque King Malcolm, Capt. Mortola, bound from Portland, Me., to Richibucto, N. B., in ballast, is a total loss at Short Beach, about seven miles from here. It left Portland about noon Friday and struck at 6 o'clock Saturday morning. She was lightered. A strong flood tide and southerly gale, in connection with the treacherous bay of Fundy currents, carried her off her course. At low tide she is high and dry. Her bottom is punctured in several places and she is partially full of water. An effort will be made to salvage her.

Next to the bier, in military uniform, knelt the official representatives of Austria, the consul, Herman von Hann, accompanied by Prince Hohenlohe, who is connected with the embassy. Kneeling next to Austria's representatives were Hon. Louis Coderre, secretary of state, and Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, who came from Ottawa to attend the services. They afterward exchanged greetings with the consul.

KING TAKES PART OF PEACEMAKER

Calls Conference of Leaders in Irish Problem

MEETING WILL BE AT PALACE

Members of Cabinet Are Now Prepared to Oppose Redmond's Views.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 20.—The King has called a conference of the leaders of all the parties to seek a solution of the Irish problem.

This is the momentous announcement which Premier Asquith is expected to make today when the bill amending the home rule bill comes up again for consideration in the house of commons. The premier's speech on this occasion, indicating how the government proposes to deal with the lords' amendments to the amending bill, is awaited with the deepest anxiety and it is probable that the house will immediately adjourn the debate on the amending bill to allow the negotiations for a settlement to proceed outside parliament. Premier Asquith has been with the King at Portsmouth during the week-end and the King is anxious to get the matter settled.

It is said that the various leaders invited have accepted the invitation and that the conference will meet at an early date, probably on Tuesday, in London. The King will receive the delegates, but will not himself preside over the conference which, it is confidently thought, under such exalted auspices will prove successful.

Lloyd George to Smooth Way.

At the same time the ministers are placing great reliance in the persuasive powers of the chancellor of the exchequer, Lloyd George, who has been temporarily shunted from his field duties to assist the premier in finding a solution for the Irish difficulty.

Chancellor Lloyd George's practical business is to smooth the path between the Nationalists and Liberals. It is understood that the government is willing to go a considerable way in the direction of meeting the Carsonite demands, but is hampered by the unyielding attitude of the Nationalists.

The chancellor of the exchequer has had several conferences with John Redmond, Nationalist leader, in an endeavor to find points of common agreement.

Mr. Redmond has called a conference of his party for today to hear a report from J. Devlin, M.P. for Belfast, who has returned from a mission in the north of Ireland, and this conference may have an important bearing on the negotiations.

Labor Against Exclusion.

For the moment Tyrone is the crux is the situation on which neither the Nationalists nor the Carsonites are willing to yield. At a meeting of the National executive of the Irish trades unions conference in Dublin resolutions were passed urging union workers throughout Ireland, including Ulster, to oppose the exclusion of Ulster from the home rule bill, and if a provisional government is set up to resist it with all available means.

It is understood that the conference is to assemble in Buckingham palace tomorrow and that the conferes will consist of Premier Asquith, Chancellor Lloyd George, Lord Lansdowne, leader of the opposition in the lords; Andrew Bonar Law and John Redmond and John Dillon, the Irish leaders, and Sir Edward Carson and Capt. Craig, the leaders of the Ulsterites.

Cabinet Members Revolt.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 20.—"Premier Asquith's present difficulty is that four members of the cabinet, two of whom are particularly aggressive, have at the last moment flunked the situation and are prepared to go in the teeth of the Nationalists," says Reynolds Newspaper, which is usually well informed on the happenings of the inner ministerialist council.

"Happily," adds the paper, "a majority of the party supports Mr. Asquith in his refusal to betray the Nationalist cause and there is, therefore, some hope that the ministerial party will not be shattered despite the threatened revolt of a section of the cabinet."

NINE HURT WHEN CARS JUMP TRACK, OVERTURN

BRANDON, Man., July 19.—Three men were badly injured internally and about six less seriously hurt when one passenger and three baggage cars of a Canadian Northern railway special jumped the track and were turned completely over. About six cars and all but four wheels of the engine left the track. There were over 400 excursionists on the train. The accident occurred 40 miles east of Brandon.

OFFERS MARKET FOR LUMBER

Panama Canal Will Enable British Columbia to Compete With West Indies, Says Report

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 19.—E. S. S. Flood, trade commissioner for Barbadoes, in his report to the department of trade and commerce this week, states that the opening of the Panama canal will enable shippers of lumber from British Columbia to compete with the West Indies.

To satisfy inquiries a request has been made to the government of British Columbia to furnish samples of the different varieties of lumber that are commercially important and suitable for export.

These samples will be shown to the traders and afterward sent to Trinidad, Jamaica, British Guiana and the northern islands. In this way an opportunity will be afforded for a comparison of British Columbia lumber with that now imported.

The requirements of the British West Indies for lumber, shingles, shooks, staves and puncheons have an average value of about $2,225,000. These colonies, with the exception of Jamaica, give a preference to Canadian lumber.

A steamship service between British Columbia and these colonies that would give an outlet for lumber and other products of western Canada would depend to a large extent on the availability of return cargoes. The products of the West Indies that now reach the preference market of Canada and that could make the voyage to British Columbia without deterioration are sugar and molasses, cocoanuts and copra, coffee, rice, ginger and spices, lime juice, molasses and green heart timber. The examination into the character of the trade between the eastern provinces and the West Indies forces the conclusion that an identical trade could be created for the western provinces and one that would in no way be an interference with the lumber now handled in the east.

The distance from British Columbia through the Panama canal is roundly about 4,000 miles and from the canal to the Indies about 1,000 miles.

GARLAND HAS MAJORITY OF TWELVE—RECOUNT MADE

The majority formerly declared by the returning officer for the constituency was 13 for Garland.

WOMEN THRASH EDITOR

STUTTGART, Germany, July 20.—Two Social-Democrat women yesterday invaded the office of the Schwadische Zeitung and for five minutes mercilessly thrashed the editor because in an article in the paper he had maligned women.

THE PULL OF ADVERTISING

Advertising does not jerk—"IT PULLS," says John Wanamaker.

Illustrating this remark the observations of a large roofing manufacturer are interesting. He makes a branded article and advertises it exclusively in the newspapers the world over.

"If it is an advertisement of our company the reader encounters it gradually, and subconsciously the thought filters through his mind that this roofing is the best purchaseable roofing.

"A year or so later when the occasion demands that he buy roofing, he thinks of this kind of roofing and asks for it.

"If he talks about the contemplated purchase of roofing with the members of the family, they too, have read the daily papers, and say, 'Why don't you buy ——— roofing?' They do this because they believe they know something about this kind of roofing, and they DO know about it."

ARRANGE BASIS OF REDISTRIBUTION

Judicial Royal Commission Named in This Province

BRITAIN, ONTARIO ARE PRECEDENTS

Standing of Parties in Legislature Makes Usual Method Impossible.

(Special to The Daily News)

VICTORIA, B. C., July 19.—The government has appointed Mr. Justice Macdonald and Mr. Justice Morrison of the supreme court bench a royal commission to report on a basis of redistribution from which a measure will be framed for presentation to the legislature at its next session.

The scope of the commission is wide. It will study the whole province in respect to areas of population and new settlements and work out a basis of equitable representation.

Speaking of redistribution Sir Richard McBride says it has been the custom of most legislative bodies in Canada to place the matter of arranging a redistribution measure in the hands of a committee of the house on which would sit members representative of the different parties. The composition of the legislature in British Columbia precludes an arrangement of this kind. The government has therefore decided to follow a policy which has largely obtained in England and in several instances in Ontario.

The last occasion when a redistribution measure was passed in the province was in 1907, when the membership was increased from 38 to 42.

SEEKS DIVORCE TO SHOW WIFELY LOVE

Madame Caillaux, Slayer of Editor, May Leave Husband Unfettered —Prepare for Trial.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, July 20.—Mme. Caillaux, wife of former Prime Minister Caillaux, was taken yesterday from the St. Lazare prison to the Conciergerie adjoining the palace of justice, to await her trial, beginning today, for killing on March 16 Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro.

The prisoner was lodged in the cell occupied in 1902 by Mme. Terez Humbert when undergoing trial on charges of swindling the French public out of several million dollars.

Mme. Caillaux' health appeared to be much better thas it was when she was first arrested in March. It is reported that she intends to apply for a divorce after the trial, whatever its outcome, as she is said to consider that by separating from her husband she will show the greatest mark of her love for him, because by remaining with him she would be an obstacle to his political career.

The trial is expected to last at least five days and probably until Saturday. The space in court usually occupied by spectators is to be given up almost entirely to newspaper men, 140 of whom, from all parts of the world, have been allotted places in the press box. Women are not to be allowed in the public section of the court, but a few places are to be reserved near the jury box.

The government intends to place municipal guards both inside and outside the palace of justice to prevent the possibility of demonstrations, as it has been stated a demonstration has been planned.

Politicians to Figure as Witnesses.

As the hour approaches for the trial the newspapers again recite the series of political and judicial scandals which attended the killing of Calmette, while many columns are filled with discussions of the case and rumors that some of the most prominent figures in the political world are to be examined in court. The testimony of President Poincare will be read.

The vital legal question in the case is that of premeditation. The prosecution, directed by Procurator-General Jules Herbaux, declares that the crime was deliberately planned in order to rid her husband of a formidable opponent. The defence, on the other hand, will seek to show that Mme. Caillaux intended only to teach Calmette a lesson and that his death was an accident. Her council is Ferdinand Labori, who became famous as the defender of Capt. Dreyfus.

The questions to be put to the jury are:

1. Is the accused guilty of wilful homicide?

2. Was the homicide premeditated?

If the jury replies in the affirmative to both questions, the sentence must be death. If the reply is "yes" to the first and "no" to the second question without extenuating circumstances, the sentence must be hard labor for life. If extenuating circumstances are admitted, the term must be hard labor for a period fixed by the judges, ranging from five to 20 years.

HINDUS GAIN VICTORY OVER VANCOUVER POLICE

Attempt to Tow Ship Out of Port Fails

BEAT OFF TUG BY HURLING MISSILES

Cruiser Will Enforce Law--Many of Attacking Force Seriously Hurt.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 19.—A large body of Vancouver police and a contingent of special immigration constables, numbering altogether nearly 200 men, descended early this morning in the tug Sea Lion upon the Komagata maru and after grappling her and playing a hose on the infuriated Hindu passengers, were beaten back by showers of coal and other missiles. Many of the attackers were injured, some seriously.

Such was the result of an unsuccessful attempt in the midnight hours to rid the harbor of the Japanese steamer and her unwelcome passengers, whose application for entry into British Columbia has been refused by the court of appeals.

A day or two ago the Canadian government decided, as an act of mercy, to provision the Komagata maru for her voyage back to the orient at a cost of $6,000. Plans were carefully matured by Malcolm Reid, superintendent of the immigration department here, H. H. Stevens, M. P., and W. H. B. Ladner, with the result that at 1:15 o'clock this morning everything was in readiness.

Armed Hindus Hold Ship

A large quantity of provisions was on the tug, together with 125 city policemen, under Chief McLennan, and upward of 50 special constables, under Capt. Warden. The scene as the Sea Lion pulled away from the pier was full of confidence and even hilarity, but the policemen had revolvers and the special men carried rifles. The Sea Lion slowly steamed out to the Japanese steamer, which lies a quarter of a mile off shore, opposite the immigration headquarters. Upon arriving within hailing distance of the vessel it was seen that every inch of space along the rail and on the deck and bridge was occupied by a Hindu armed with a club or other weapon.

In the bow of the steamer a solid mass surrounded a man, who shouted for Mr. Hopkinson, the immigration department official interpreter, and called forth a long harangue of Hindustani, the only distinguishable words of which were, "Shall not come on board."

As the Sea Lion drew level and gradually closed up alongside, her searchlight throwing every swarthy face into strong relief, the Hindus became wildly excited, shouting at the top of their voices and brandishing their clubs.

Hacks at Rope

At first an attempt was made to attach a grappling iron to the steamer's rail. The Komagata maru's side towered above the tug's deck and the Hindus leaned over the side and endeavored to prevent the iron from taking hold.

Finally, however, the grappling hook was successfully placed, whereupon a Hindu, bolder than the rest, took an axe and hacked at the rope attached to the iron with such good will that it seemed as if he would succeed in cutting it.

Just at this juncture an officer of the police force appeared in front of the serried ranks of the city police on the lower deck of the tug with a hose pipe and at once the scene underwent a wonderful change. Back and forth and along the picturesquely attired masses of Hindus he played the hose with at first astonishing results. Beaten back by the water, they retreated in every direction and for the moment it seemed as though the civic forces had commenced a victorious action.

Throw Coal—Break Police Ranks

Only for a moment, however. The next moment a most startling change occurred. Rallying with what must be admitted was considerable pluck, a number of Hindus faced the stream and dashed in a shower of missiles upon the attacking party. This was followed by a tremendous storm of lumps of coal which in a couple of minutes had completely upset the order which had reigned aboard the Sea Lion.

The cowed mass of men upon the decks of the tug were absolutely at the mercy of the Hindus above them and the latter were now the attacking party. For a few minutes the air seemed black with coal, pieces of wood, firebricks and pieces of iron from what is believed to be wreckage of the engineroom.

All that the police and special constables could do was to bend down with their faces away from the onslaught and endure the punishment without attempting reprisal.

Number of Police Injured

A number of men fell, stretched out by blows on the head, and in crowding to the side of the tug farthermost away from the Japanese steamer, Detective McArthur was forced over-

EXPECT FREIGHT WAR ON PACIFIC

Interesting Situation Has Developed as Result of Withdrawal From Combine of Big Line.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 19.—That the recent withdrawal of the Blue Funnel line from the Pacific conference, which is in existence for the purpose of fixing eastbound rates on freight from the Pacific coast of Japan to ports in Canada and the United States, has developed an interesting situation which may have far-reaching results and in which are elements that may possibly lead to a rate war on eastbound traffic, is the opinion of Gordon B. Johnson, Canadian trade commissioner at Yokohama. There were nine companies in the conference, including the Blue Funnel.

The withdrawal of the Blue Funnel is said to be due to the alleged secret rebates by Japanese lines to certain other lines. The Blue Funnel since its withdrawal has cut the rates on silk and tea. To meet this cut the conference lines have decided to pay a deferred rebate of 20 per cent to all shippers of silk and tea, the payment to be made on Nov. 30 next.

Instead of causing a complete breakup of the conference, the withdrawal of the Blue Funnel line has had the effect of consolidating the remaining lines and a freight rate war between the two seems not unlikely which, while reducing freight rates, will keep exporters in a continual state of uncertainty.

Starvation In the Midst of Plenty

Many are actually starving, even though eating heartily three times a day. They are starving because the usual diet lacks certain essential elements.

In making white flour, the outer coat of the wheat, containing the phosphate of potash and other vital mineral salts, is discarded. These mineral salts are absolutely necessary to nerve health and therefore to body health.

Grape-Nuts

contains the whole nutriment of wheat and barley, including the mineral salts. The malting of the barley starts digestive processes, and the 20-hour baking breaks down the starch cells. Grape-Nuts food digests in about one-third of the time required by white bread.

Ready to serve—convenient, healthful and appetizing.

Daily News Want Ads Get Good Results

"It's Always Fair Weather"

"Summer is here—I'll save money by cutting out my advertising." Thus a few merchants still delude themselves. They thereby confess themselves beaten by the weather.

But most merchants, in these times of keen business, would scorn to make such a move. The more obstacles—whether in the form of weather conditions or other handicaps—the more earnestly they strive for our patronage.

For a merchant to cease advertising as soon as the weather is a little warm is to take his "bark of trade" out of the channel of good business and beach it on the sands of business dullness to await "fair weather."

But with the modern type of merchant it is always fair weather. His is an "all-year-round" store—a store ever ready to serve you, and serve you well.

He is a believer in all-the-year-round advertising. He does not take his advertisement out of the newspaper the first day of warm weather. He knows you may be in the market for something he can sell you—in July as well as in January.

He invests his money in newspaper space—every week in the year—to let you know he can serve you—and it's safe to assume that he "has the goods" in the fullest sense of the phrase.

You can obtain helpful advice on advertising free of cost and without obligation by consulting the business department of The Daily News.

ROUGH PLAY MARS LACROSSE MATCH

National Team Beats Irish-Canadians in Tough Contest at Montreal—Three Laid Up.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

MONTREAL, July 19.—The National team won a rough game of lacrosse last evening when it took the measure of the Irish-Canadian aggregation by a score of 11 to 9. Both teams took a hand in the rough stuff, but at the close the Irish-Canadians had three men in the clubhouse, laid up with injuries. Roberts was hit over the knee in the initial period by Gauthier, while in the third period Gauthier again asserted himself by taking a crack at Fred Scott.

The latter, however, immediately retaliated and engaged in a fistic battle. The officials and players finally separated them and they were both ruled off for 10 minutes. On arriving at the bench Scott made a remark which aroused the Frenchman's ire and he struck the Irish-Canadian over the face. Scott kept cool, but the police were forced into the fight. They threatened Scott with arrest, while Gauthier once attempted to seize a policeman's baton in order to strike Scott. This fight had hardly terminated when another Irish-Canadian was laid out by a National. As the referee did not notice it no one was laid off.

ROSEDALE TEAMS PLEASED WITH CLEVER STICKWORK

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, July 19.—The Rosedale lacrosse team had an excellent workout with the Montreal twelve at the Westmount grounds yesterday and had little trouble winning its sixth straight game in the National Lacrosse union by 11 to 3. A crowd of about 1,500 attended the game and while they were disappointed at the showing of the local players, the clever stickwork of the queen city aggregation was a treat to watch. The contest was cleanly played all through.

CONSIDER CANADIAN DAVIS CUP TENNIS TEAM STRONG

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, July 19.—Local tennis experts, after watching the practice of the Canadian team which will play the Australian team in the doubles in the Davis cup tournament at Lake Forest next week, rate it as a strong combination.

R. R. Powell and B. P. Schwengers, Canada's representatives, play entirely different games, but their tactics are well suited to the doubles combination.

Powell, trained in the English system, relies on placing and accuracy in his strokes rather than upon smashing, and plays from the back court most of the time. Playing what he calls American tennis and what has become familiar in the east as the Pacific coast style, made famous by McLoughlin, Schwengers' game is the antithesis of Powell's. He specializes in playing close to the net, where his smashing style makes him a terror.

The plan of the Canadians is to have Powell play the doubles in the back court with Schwengers at the net.

NOTTS, MIDDLESEX AND HAMPSHIRE WIN GAMES

(Canadian Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 19.—At Tunbridge Wells the home team, Kent, was defeated by Notts yesterday by 37 runs. The feature of the match was the splendid bowling of Iremonger for Notts, who took six of the hop pickers' wickets for 39 runs. For the winners Gunn made 51 and for the losers Nott made 46.

Playing at Lords, Middlesex won from Essex by 9 wickets. For Middlesex, Hearn 88 and Murrel 40 not out were the principal scorers. For Essex Douglas made 52 and Perrin 55.

Hampshire, playing on its own grounds at Southampton, defeated Worcestershire by eight wickets.

MONDAY, JULY 20

A SUCCESS.

Chahko Mika is now over and that it was a complete success so far as the entertainment was concerned is beyond question. Every feature was up to expectations and most of them were even better than what was looked for. From the standpoint of an old-timers' reunion the event was also a success, the list of those who registered at the log cabin day by day attesting to the number of Kootenay and Boundary pioneers who came into the city for the occasion.

The holding of Chahko Mika has been in more ways than one a good thing for Nelson. The visitors to the city during the week left for their homes satisfied with the program which had been prepared for them and which many a much larger city might well have hesitated to attempt. Chahko Mika was advertised, however, as a big event and Nelson kept faith with those who came to the city looking for a week of pleasure relying on this advertising.

From an advertising standpoint the successful carrying out of the celebration was in itself a good advertisement for Nelson and the enterprise of its citizens. But even of more benefit from this standpoint was the fact that moving pictures of the various events were taken and will be produced in the leading picture show houses of the country. This itself is worth much of the work and expense in connection with the celebration.

In these and other ways Chahko Mika has proven a success from Nelson's standpoint. The result has more than justified the attempt. Nelson can well congratulate itself on the success which, from an entertainment and publicity standpoint, has attended Chahko Mika.

THE CHAHKO MIKA PRINCESSES

In connection with the Chahko Mika celebration it would hardly be right to allow the event to pass without mentioning the interest and assistance of the people of Kootenay and Boundary generally which did so much toward its success. Particularly should the people of Nelson be appreciative of the spirit of the people of Kootenay and the Boundary which made possible the success of the princess competition.

And to the young ladies, successful and otherwise, who took part in the competitions especially do the people of Nelson owe a deep debt of gratitude. These young ladies gave their time and their energy to the competitions in which they were respectively engaged and it is to be hoped that their visit to Nelson has been thoroughly enjoyable and that they may in the years to come carry with them pleasant memories of Chahko Mika.

MUST BE GOT RID OF.

Judging by Saturday night's events in Vancouver harbor the Hindus on board the Komagata maru are not ready to start for home nor, if they can help it, are they going to be forced to return to the land of their birth. Defeated in their efforts to force an entrance into Canada they have adopted a policy of masterful inactivity.

Saturday night's episode shows, at least, that the authorities are determined that the Hindus on board the Komagata maru must be got rid of at any cost. One method having failed, it will be interesting to learn what will be the next step in the same direction. Any reasonable means which the authorities may take to get rid of these undesirables will meet with general approval.

THE REDISTRIBUTION COMMISSION.

The provincial government is to be congratulated on the steps which it has taken to provide a redistribution of the seats in the legislature in a manner which will be satisfactory to all and arranged without any question of party advantage. Mr. Justice Macdonald and Mr. Justice Morrison can be relied upon to so re-arrange the seats in the house that justice will be done to all parts of the province.

Just how Kootenay and the Boundary will be affected will, of course, not be known until the judges make their report, but it will not be surprising if several important changes are made, with a view to more evenly distributing the membership in this part of the province.

The dispatch telling of the appointment of Mr. Justice Macdonald and Mr. Justice Morrison does not intimate the procedure which will be followed by the commission, whether it will merely take population and other such figures as they stand or whether it will tour the province taking evidence where necessary and making personal investigation of the conditions. But whatever procedure may be followed it can be taken for granted that the aim will be to give a redistribution which will be fair to all.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

Coming Slump in Armor Plate.

Mr. Norman Angell, in a thesis to which no convincing reply has yet been offered, argued that war between two powers was equally unprofitable to the conqueror and the conquered, owing largely to the growing interdependence of interests and commerce. Sir Percy Scott shows us that battleships, large or small, are useless for naval purposes. The moralist has proved that war is an ugly relic of barbarism, serving no high or noble aim. Is it not time, then, that the whole ghastly business were abandoned, that nations began to turn their faces to the light? Happily there has been in recent years a great growth of the international conscience, and people are learning that disputes can be settled in a better and juster way. —London Citizen.

Wall Street View of War.

War may mean activity, and prosperity for the few, but it never meant anything but loss to the many. The ammunition manufacturer, the tent maker, and the armorer rejoice when the big headlines flare in the papers, but the nation at large foots the bills. Peace means the construction of wealth, war means the destruction of it.—Wall Street Journal.

Legal Aid for the Poor.

Under a law recently brought into force in England free legal aid is provided for litigants whose worldly possessions do not exceed £50 in value. In the first two days 1,500 applications were received. Between 500 and 600 applicants were asking for divorce. Anyone claiming to have a good case may, under this law, claim the aid of state lawyers and put in motion the machinery of the high court. It is an old reproach that there is no real equality before the law, so long as superior wealth may purchase superior legal aid. Under an ideal system there would be, as nearly as possible, equal legal aid for both parties. The new law is one step in that direction.—Toronto Star.

FAMOUS PAINTING SOLD AT AUCTION

In New York an institution second only in its popularity to the matinee is the auction room, where paintings, antiques, jewelry, diamonds and a hundred and one things collected from the debris of a great city are offered for sale to the highest bidder, says a writer in National Magazine. Many times paintings of real worth and with historical association turn up this way to be rattled off the same as junk beside it. The other day when passing along Fourth avenue, I chanced to see an auction sale of paintings, and, attracted by one large canvas, I recognized it as the famous painting of "Sheridan's Ride" by the poet-painter, Buchanan Read, who not only painted the picture, but wrote the famous poem:

"Hurrah, hurrah for Sheridan,
Hurrah, hurrah for horse and man,
And when their statues are placed on high
Under the dome of the Union sky,
The American soldier's temple of fame,
There with the glorious general's name
Be it said in letters both bold and bright:
'Here is the steed that saved the day
By carrying Sheridan into the fight
From Winchester—20 miles away."

It is a wonderful picture of both horse and man, and the body of the "steed as black as the steeds of night" is still preserved in the Governor's Island museum, New York city, having been presented to the government at the time of its death by General Sheridan. The painting was presented by the artist to President Grant, and so highly did he prize it that when he surrendered all his property after losing his fortune, he kept "Sheridan's Ride."

How it comes later to be offered in an auction room with second-hand furniture only illustrates the changing sentiments of the times. The picture was finally purchased for $500 by a patriotic American who appreciated its historic value, and "Sheridan's Ride" is again restored to its own. After witnessing this incident in an obscure New York auction room, it is easy to understand the fascination that attends the sale of "what people don't want"—for it may be something valuable to the man who knows.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PROTECTS WILD BIRDS

Arthur S. Barton, president of the Natural History society, writes as follows in the Agricultural Gazette of Canada:

The necessity for the protection of birds in British Columbia has been recognized by the department of agriculture in common with the general measures of progressive policy and today I can safely say that the legislation on this subject leaves little to be desired.

The protection of the sea birds has for a long time engaged the attention of the authorities, and until quite recently has proved a knotty problem, but owing largely to the untiring efforts of the vice president of the Natural History society, Frank Kermode who is the energetic and capable curator of the Provincial Museum and with the full sympathy and help of the heads of his department, a solution appears to be now nearly in sight and the acquisition of one or more islands as bird sanctuaries will soon, we have every reason to hope, be an accomplished fact.

With a few exceptions all the other wild birds that live wholly or during part of the year within the province are protected by law. And the question of the value of those exempted, frequently, as in the case of the recent "crow" controversy, constitutes a live issue between the friends of the birds and those who consider their presence in our midst in numbers, a nuisance to certain portions of the community.

Under the auspices of the Natural History society a second consignment of English song birds of carefully selected species was delivered here a little over a year ago, but the consent of the department of agriculture was only obtained after very mature consideration as to their value—or possible harmfulness—to the agricultural interests of the province. I am happy to say that, so far, the experiment seems likely to prove a success, and today we have evidence of a sufficient number of the birds being alive and breeding, to ensure a successful termination to our venture. These birds I may remark, are added to the list of those already under the protection of the law. In addition to this importation of birds a considerable number of different kinds of game birds have also been brought to the province, special legislative protection being accorded to them according to the recognized necessity in each case. Several of these varieties of birds have become fully acclimatised and are now living in most congenial conditions, proving not only a welcome addition to the game birds of the province, but also of very considerable interest to bird lovers in general.

I may close this brief and very incomplete sketch by remarking that the Natural History society of British Columbia of which I have this year the honor to be president, in their endeavors to increase and protect the bird life of this beautiful province, have been favored to a very large degree by the sympathy and assistance of the gentlemen who are responsible amongst other things, for the protection of the birds of British Columbia.

BIG MARKET FOR HOGS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Writing of the hog industry in British Columbia W. T. McDonald, provincial live stock commissioner, says, in an article in the Agricultural Gazette of Canada:

Although grains are as a rule more expensive here than in the prairie provinces, British Columbia affords excellent opportunities for hog raising, particularly in conjunction with dairy farming. As very extensive importers of pork and pork products are made, the local market is always good and the fact that British Columbia has such enormous resources for the development of the lumbering and mining industries, assures a splendid local market for the future. The very mild winters in the dairy sections enable the farmer to produce pork more cheaply than could be done under similar conditions, but with a more severe winter. It is well known that the hog is very susceptible to cold, and low temperature means expensive gains.

Alfalfa and clover can be grown successfully over large areas of British Columbia, and these crops, when used as pasture, materially reduce the cost of pork production. Other forage crops also give excellent yields, and in many districts the season for pasturing extends over a large part of the year. Thus it will be seen that, while grain feeds may be at times somewhat higher priced than in the exclusive grain growing districts, there are advantages which, in all probability, would offset the additional cost caused thereby.

For the purpose of encouraging pork production the department of agriculture has made arrangements to sell to farmers' institutes pure-bred boars on easy terms of payment. In these cases the animals are sold to the institute for the original cost at the point of purchase, the department paying all transportation charges. The terms of payment are one half of purchase price at time of delivery and the balance at the end of one year, without interest. Not only has this scheme provided a means of securing pure-bred sires on easy terms of purchase, but has also aroused an interest in swine-breeding generally. At the present time there is a shortage in the supply of brood sows.

In order to determine the value of various pasture crops, such as clover and alfalfa, the department has undertaken to carry on a number of experiments during the present year. As has been pointed out, owing to the price of grain feeds it is especially desirable that our farmers should utilize pasture crops to a considerable extent.

The work which is being done to eradicate bovine tuberculosis will be of great value to the swine-breeding industry. Over a large area of the province this disease has practically been eradicated, and we feel confident that it will largely, if not entirely, disappear from among the hogs where the source of bovine contagion has been removed.

BIRDS DESTROY WEEDS

Not only do birds destroy insect pests, but they contribute to the destruction of weeds. Certain species of our native sparrows are large consumers of such weed seeds as bindweed, lamb's quarters, ragweed, amaranth, pigeon grass, etc. Judd records the result of the examination of over 4,000 stomachs of 20 species of sparrows. It was found that for the entire year weed seeds form more than half their food, and during the colder months of the year these seeds constitute about four-fifths of the food of many species. A single bird will often be found to have eaten 300 seeds of pigeon grass or 500 seeds of lamb's quarters or pigweed. Beal estimated that the tree sparrow may consume one-quarter ounce of weed seed per day, and on that basis, in a state the size of Iowa, this species would consume about 800 tons of seeds annually—"The Protection of Birds," by C. Gordon Hewitt, D. Sc.

W. C. RICARDO RETIRES

W. C. Ricardo has been so long associated with the Coldstream ranch that the announcement of his retirement comes as a great surprise to all familiar with the man and the institution with which he has been closely identified for almost a score of years, says Fruit and Farm.

The Coldstream ranch, of which he has so long been the executive head, comprises over 900 acres, and in addition he has had charge of such subsidiary organizations as the White Valley Irrigation company, builders of the famous Grey canal, from which the growers of the valley derive their water supply. His connection with the Okanagan covers practically the entire period during which the Okanagan valley developed from an experiment to a great horticultural community.

SPRING PRUNING

A great many questions have come to the experiment station lately relative to how late apple, peach and pear trees could be pruned in the spring. The pruning can be done with entire success at any time during the spring months. It is usually a little more successful and satisfactory to do the work before growth starts in the spring, but the pruning should not be delayed a year on account of the inability of the manager to do the work at an early season. The later the pruning is done in the spring the stronger is the tendency toward the checking of growth, or, if it does not do this, it will be less stimulative on wood growth and result in accomplishing no more than simply the removal of the wood that has been cut away. In some cases the latter may be highly desirable.

Wounds made on large branches sometimes "bleed" when made in the middle of the rapid-growing season. It seems, however, that there are other conditions more influential in causing the bleeding of wounds than the mere date of cutting. If pruning is done after growth starts more care should be exercised to paint the wounds. If bleeding takes place so that paint will not cover the wound well, then the wound should be scraped and well painted and soaked with a disinfectant like bordeaux mixture or the corrosive sublimate. If this is done these bleeding wounds will not serve as sources of infection or spread of pear blight and other diseases.—O. M. Morris, horticulturist, Washington state experiment station.

ADVOCATES GRADING OF EGGS BY QUALITY

Dominion Livestock Branch Issues Bulletin—Farmers Lose Money by Marketing Inferior Eggs.

"The Payment for Eggs by Quality," is the subject of pamphlet No. 6 of the poultry division of the Dominion live stock branch, prepared by W. A. Brown, J. H. Hare and W. H. Ault. This pamphlet points out that as a result of the "flat rate" or "case count" system of purchasing, Canadian farmers, during the past 10 years have lost annually large sums of money through marketing many bad and inferior eggs.

Investigation into this phase of the poultry industry evinced the fact that while the wholesalers were not themselves directly responsible for the losses and shrinkage, they had at their disposal the most effective means for improvement, viz: The making of a difference, not only between the prices paid for good and bad eggs but also between the prices paid for the various grades of good eggs. The objects of this pamphlet are to encourage the grading of eggs, which can only be done by the use of an egg tester; the payment of eggs according to quality, thus placing a premium on first class eggs, and the adoption of a uniform system of marketing which would protect not only the producer and the consumer but also the merchant. Copies of this pamphlet may be obtained free upon application to the publications branch, department of agriculture, Ottawa.

UDO, NEW JAPANESE VEGETABLE

The United States department of agriculture has recently issued a new bulletin, No. 84, entitled "Experiment With Udo, the New Japanese Vegetable." This vegetable has been grown very successfully in Maryland by David Fairchild and is now considered a very worthy vegetable for production in the United States. However, it must be remembered, on account of it being entirely new, naturally it has no commercial demand, but if the people who have vegetable gardens will begin to plant Udo it would quickly become known, as it is a very excellent vegetable. It has a very distinct flavor and people are beginning to like it just the same as they have learned to like celery, asparagus and egg plant. It is stated in the bulletin that Udo has been successfully served at large dinner parties in Washington and on private tables of those who have grown it and it has met with a very favorable reception.

WHAT OF THE NIGHT?

Say not, the struggle naught availeth,
The labor and the wounds are vain,
The enemy faints not nor faileth,
And as things have been they remain.

If hopes were dupes, fears may be liars,
It may be in yon smoke concealed,
Your comrades chase e'en now the fliers,
And, but for you possess the field.

For while the tired waves, vainly breaking,
Seem here no painful inch to gain,
Far back, through creeks and inlets making,
Comes silent flooding in, the main.

And not by eastern windows only,
When daylight comes, comes in the light;
In front, the sun climbs slow, how slowly—
But westward, look, the land is bright.

GOING MAD FROM THE TERRIFIC PAIN

Prominent Merchant Thinks His Life Was Saved By "Fruit-a-tives".

DRYSDALE, ONT., JUNE 15th. 1913.

"I am a general storekeeper at the above address, and on account of the great good I have experienced from using "Fruit-a-tives", I recommend them to my customers. They were a great boon to me, I can tell you, for about two years ago, I was laid up in bed with vomiting and a terrific pain at the base of my skull. The pain nearly drove me mad. Doctors feared it would turn to Inflammation of the Brain, but I took "Fruit-a-tives" steadily until I was cured. I have gained fifteen pounds since taking "Fruit-a-tives", and I verily believe they saved me from a disastrous illness". J. A. CORRIVEAU.

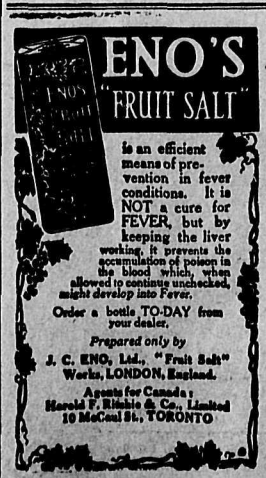
HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Soft, Fluffy, Abundant—Use Parisian Sage. It Stops Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

If your hair is not as soft and heavy as that of some friend, do not despair—do as she does—give it daily attention. Beautiful hair is largely a matter of care. If it is too thin, make it grow. If it is harsh and brittle, soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp with Parisian Sage and all dandruff disappears.

Parisian Sage, sold in fifty cent bottles at drug and toilet counters, is just what you need. It quickly stops itching head, cleanses the hair of dust and excessive oil; takes away the dryness and brittleness, makes it seem twice as abundant, and beautifies it until it is soft, fluffy and lustrous.

You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage. Always sold by the Poole Drug Co., Ltd., on money-back if not satisfied plan.



is an efficient means of prevention in fever conditions. It is NOT a cure for FEVER, but by keeping the liver working, it prevents the accumulation of poison in the blood which, when allowed to continue unchecked, might develop into Fever.

CHALLENGER SHAMROCK READY FOR VOYAGE

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 19.—Shamrock IV., Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger for the America's cup, under convoy of the steam yacht Erin, sailed yesterday afternoon for Falmouth, whence she will start for the United States.

The Shamrock IV. has been rigged as a ketch for her voyage across the Atlantic and will carry only half her racing crew of 30 men. Charles E. Nicholson, the designer, and William P. Burton, who is to be the racing skipper, during the voyage will be on board the yacht.

The remainder of the crew is on Sir Thomas' yacht Erin, which will act as convoy and will, in case of necessity, tow the Shamrock IV.

The challenger, painted pea green with her stumpy rig, temporary high rails for the protection of her crew and lifeboats on her decks, presented by no means the smart appearance she displayed while racing.

CANADA FAILS TO WIN SAILING CANOE TITLE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, July 19.—For the second time in two years Canada today failed to win the trophy emblematic of the international sailing canoe title. Leo Friede of the Manhattan Boat club of this city defended the cup, twice defeating the challenger, Ralph Britton of the Gananoque Canoe and Motor Boat club of Gananoque, Ont. Britton was the challenger last year and Friede the defender.

The racing on Gravesend bay today was a run, a reach and a beat for five miles in each race, morning and afternoon. The wind was fairly steady, about 10 miles an hour from the northwest. In the morning's race Friede's margin was five minutes. In the afternoon he covered the course in the elapsed time of 2:47:46, finishing nearly seven minutes ahead of Britton. Two out of three races were to decide the winner.

BRAMPTON WELCOMES ITS DEFEATED CHALLENGERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BRAMPTON, Ont., July 19.—The home-coming of the Excelsior senior lacrosse club from its trip to the Pacific coast in quest of the Mann cup was celebrated last night by a monster parade and demonstration in the town park. The procession was a mile long and traversed the principal street, ending at the town park, after which Mayor Mara publicly welcomed the team.

ROYALS HAVE BIG LEAD FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., July 19.—In a regular Mann cup fixture yesterday the New Westminster team defeated Victoria by a score of 14 to 2. This victory gives New Westminster a commanding lead in the Pacific coast championship series.

RESOLUTE BEATS VANITIE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEWPORT, R. I., July 19.—The cup defenders sailed their tightest race yesterday, the Resolute again winning, but only by seconds, over the Vanitie and by less than two minutes over the Defiance. In exact figures Resolute defeated Vanitie by 53 seconds in corrected time, while the Cochrane yacht outsailed the flag officer's boat by 46 seconds in elapsed time. The Resolute defeated the Defiance by 2:56 in corrected time.

WHAT BECOMES OF PINS

An official of the Baltimore & Ohio, in a circular in which he points out to the employes the opportunities for economy, gives some interesting figures on the cost of stationery and printing. In 1913 these two items cost the road about $500,000.

The Baltimore & Ohio has 2,000 offices. Last year these offices used 700,000 lead pencils, 1,000,000 pens, 23,000,000 pins, 18,000,000 envelopes, 14,000,000 sheets of carbon paper, 23,000,000 second sheets, 11,000,000 rubber bands, 570,000 blotters, 2,500,000 letter fasteners, 2,000,000 file backs, 10,000 sponges, 8,300 rulers and other office articles in proportion. These supplies alone cost $60,000.—New York Sun.

FIRST AID BOOK

"First Aid Instructions to Miners" is the title of the most elaborate circular yet issued by the United States bureau of mines, and will prove a valuable textbook in the hands of all interested in mining. The book takes up the study of anatomy in the essentials necessary for the first aid treatment of various injuries, in a way clearly intelligible to the layman. A large number of illustrations show how to apply bandages, splints and other first aid measures.

LESSONS

Are you not sad for sorrows past?
No! I'm glad they did not last.

Do you not hate the false you knew?
No! I love more the good and true.

Do you not mourn for work undone?
No! I rejoice for triumphs won.

Have not life's struggles wearied you?
No! They revealed new work to do.

CANADIAN PACIFIC FRACTIONALLY EASIER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, July 19. — Business continued dull in the short session on Saturday on the Montreal stock exchange. Canadian Pacific was fractionally easier, but Brazilian held around the high price of Friday's rally. The steel stocks were firmer, Scotia being in some demand at 52 to 53. Dominion Steel Corporation rose ½ to 123. Power eased off ½ to 230¼, but firmed up to 230¼ bid, the closing level of Friday. Laurentide finished unchanged. There was some demand for Cement common, which resulted in an advance of ¾ to 30 in that issue.

STANDARD STOCKS MAKE NET GAINS

Bearish Movement is Followed by Short Covering and Trend Becomes Upward

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, July 19.—Selling of the non-dividend railway issues was resumed at the outset of yesterday's short session, with a few more new low records. Features of special weakness included Toledo, St. Louis & Western, common and preferred; Missouri, Kansas & Texas issues. Texas & Pacific, and New York, Chicago & St. Louis; Erie, and Baltimore & Ohio equaled their recent low prices.

Standard stocks were steady for the first half hour, prior to which some material recessions were recorded. Union Pacific preferred was depressed a point at that juncture, and New York Central was under bearish influence. Short covering in the later trading changed the entire course of the market, net gains being the ruling feature.

News of the day bore mainly upon trade conditions, which in the judgment of the prominent agencies point toward betterment in the general situation.

WHEAT DECLINES ON WEATHER AND PROFIT TAKING

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, July 18.—The wheat market opened easier and declined further fractionally, caused by considerable week-end profit-taking following the advances of the last few days and more favorable weather in the spring wheat areas of the states. The temperatures there are reported about normal, which it is expected will tend to check the spread of black rust blight. In the Canadian west rain has occurred in Yorkton district, the other points reporting rain being all in Manitoba. Opening prices were ¼c lower to ⅜c lower and closed unchanged to :c lower.

The cash demand for 1, 2 and 3 Northern was fair and offerings about equal to the demand. The inquiry for oats and barley was indifferent, while flax was strong and prices in sympathy with Duluth.

CONTINENT SELLS CANADIAN PACIFIC

Hammer at Stock, But Price Falls Only One Point—Grand Trunk Dull

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 19.—The stock market was idle yesterday. Without special feature declines were registered in all markets. The fall continued throughout the morning and at the close prices were at the lowest points of the day.

Following the overnight break in New York, Canadian Pacific prices opened lower. Pressure again was evident from the American side. The continent followed suit and unloaded a lot of stock. The selling on continental account was chiefly from Berlin, Brussels and Amsterdam, where liquidation had been in evidence for the last few days, especially in Canadian Pacific at 190⅝, which was the closing figure, a fall of a full point being registered. Grand Trunk was in no better favor. Its tone was dull all day and prices were lower at the end.

MEXICO PRODUCES ONE-THIRD OF WORLD'S SILVER

Humboldt once pronounced Mexico "the treasure house of the world." It produces one-third of the world's silver, a considerable percentage of its gold, one-ninth of its lead and one-twelfth of its copper. The country's mineral production, exclusive of iron, coal and petroleum, amounted to $158,000,000 in 1910. With the exception of Campeche, Tabasco and Yucatan, every state in the Mexican republic possesses mines of which there are 21,000, covering 633,000 acres of mineral lands, and giving employment to half a million men. Yet probably less than one-fourth of the mineral possibilities of the republic have been exploited. Prior to the outbreak of the Mexican revolution upward of 5,000 mining claims were registered each year.

Wonderful Iron Deposits.

The famous iron mountain at Durango is estimated to contain 600,000,000 tons of iron ore, which is worth seven times the value of all the gold and silver mined in Mexico in two centuries. It is believed that this deposit was formed by the same process that made the Hudson river palisades near New York city. A big opening was made in the earth's crust, through which this enormous mass of iron was thrust up, and piled high above the surrounding territory. No one knows how deep this iron mass penetrates. It is nearly a mile long, more than a third of a mile wide at the base, and some 700 feet high. An American smelter company has erected works to utilize this iron.

The Santa Maria graphite mines are the largest and most important in the western world. There are seven beds of graphite deposits varying in thickness from nine to 10 feet. They were formed from coal beds by the metamorphic action of intrusive granite. The granite is transported to Saginaw, Mich., where it is ground up and sold to the pencil and lubricant factories of the world.

The region around the Gulf of Mexico is very rich in petroleum. Some years ago an oil company was engaged in sinking a well near Tampico. At a depth of 1,824 feet a gas explosion blew out the entire installation of machinery and the well took fire. It burned unchecked for three months, during which time 10,000,000 barrels of oil were consumed. Hot salt water gradually replaced the oil.

The Mexican Eagle Oil company, at Potero del Llano, struck a gusher which flowed 100,000 barrels of oil a day. A huge storage reservoir, with a capacity of 3,000,000 barrels, was established to take care of the oil pending its going to market.

It is believed that the oil fields of Yucatan, Vera Cruz and Tampico, when once peace is established, will go a long way toward meeting the unprecedented demand for gasoline that the automobile has created.—National Geographical Magazine.

WRITTEN UNDER TOM MOORE'S TREE

The following lines were written under Moore's favorite tree in County Wicklow by a Vancouver resident, recently returned from a visit to Ireland:

Sweet Vale of Avoca, though great be thy charms
As thy waters glide onward amid scattered farms,
And glisten and smile as they dance
in the sun,
On that journey to ocean yet scarcely begun.

Though green be thy pastures, and fair be thy flowers,
Where bees gather honey throughout the bright hours,
Though pleasant and gentle howe'er
be the breeze
That sweeps o'er the meadows and kisses the trees.

I think of a country, a land that I know,
With spots of great beauty and fair
e'en as thou,
Where the bear has its lair; the eagle
its nest;
My land of adoption; the far away
west.

And this is the land where thy people
have gone,
Sweet Vale of Avoca: Bright waters
flow on,
Chant sweetly its praises, as thine,
which before
Like sweet music fell from the lips of Tom Moore.

CALIFORNIA MINE SHIPS TO TRAIL

Silver Cup in Lardeau and United Mines Also Ship for First Time This Year

Seventeen mines in Kootenay and Boundary shipped 6,120 tons of ore to the smelter of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company at Trail during the past week. The California mine near Nelson shipped to the smelter during the week for the first time this year, as did the Silver Cup in Lardeau district. The United Mines made a shipment of 16 tons to the Trail smelter during the week.

The tonnage of the week was considerably lessened by the closing of Rossland properties for two days during the festivities of the annual celebration of the Rossland Miners' union. Nearly 200,000 tons of ore have been treated at the Trail smelter during the year to date. Mines shipping during the past week with the amounts of their shipments for the week and year to date were:

VANCOUVER FAIR TO HAVE MINERAL SECTION

The management of the Vancouver exhibition, September 3 to 12, has secured the services of F. J. Crossland, an experienced mining engineer, who will see that all exhibits are attractively arranged and demonstrated to the best advantage, and the awards will be judged by practical men chosen from the officers of the chamber of mines.

It is the intention of the directors of the exhibition to have the mining industry well represented at this year's fair.

"It is well to have in mind that one or several large mineral specimens have a better exhibiting value than a lot of small pieces, though no one sample should exceed 100 lbs. in weight. The exhibition association will arrange free transportation, by freight only, if sufficient notice is given to procure from the transportation company the necessary permit," says Mr. Crossland.

OLDEST COPPER MINE ADOPTS FLOTATION PROCESS

It is rather striking that the oldest copper mine should be practically the first in North America to adopt the flotation process. We are referring to the El Cobre mine, near Santiago de Cuba, opened by the Spaniards in the sixteenth century, says the editor of the Engineering and Mining Journal. It is now using the Minerals Separation process and obtaining a recovery of about 85 per cent, instead of 67 per cent extraction obtained in its gravity concentration mill built only a few years ago. This modern mill was abandoned when it was found that the flotation process would give a better recovery; the difficulty with respect to the handling of the flotation concentrates has been overcome by the installation of an Oliver filter which reduces the moisture content of the concentrates to about 10 per cent. Several other North American copper companies have installed the Minerals Separation process, but only two or three of these plants are on a commercial basis. El Cobre mine was opened by the Spaniards in the year 1532, and was worked intermittently for several centuries, but repeatedly abandoned on account of the heavy flow of water. A number of attempts have been made to unwater the mine, but these were unsuccessful until the Cuba Copper company undertook the operation of the property. After several years of heavy pumping, the old workings have been unwatered and a new shaft sunk to the bottom of the old workings, 1,100 feet, at which depth exploration work will now be undertaken.

GOOD PROGRESS AT FRANKLIN CAMP

Encouraging word has been received by J. B. Fee of North Vancouver from his brother, who is in Franklin camp mining district, as to the prospects of the camp.

This camp is situated some 40 miles north of Grand Forks, and assays show the ore taken from the mines now in operation to be very rich in copper. Recent samples taken from the stores of the Union, the largest mine in operation at the present time, ran from $300 per ton for the lowest and $500 for the richest sample. The Union is working full blast and has over 100 horses constantly hauling from the dump, while 15 wagons are in use to transport the ore to the railway, which is some 20 miles away.

A mining engineer from Butte was in the district recently looking after the interests of his clients, who have control of the McKinley mine, and he was very enthusiastic over the Union. The McKinley mine is expected to start operations shortly.

Mr. Fee, who with his brother and several other prominent men, is interested in the Maple Leaf group, which adjoins the Union property, is enthusiastic over the prospects of the district and states that the owners hope to develop the mine in the near future.

The report that the Kettle Valley railroad may be extended to Franklin camp has given an added impetus to activity in the district. Credence is given to the report by the fact that several railroad officials visited the camp a short time ago and have made arrangements for another visit. The right of way was cleared to within 10 miles of the camp several years ago, but no further development work has been done since then.

NICKLE PLATE MINE DECLARES DIVIDEND

The Hedley Gold Mining company has declared the second quarterly dividend of 3 per cent for the year, amounting to $60,000. This makes a total of $120,000 distributed in dividends so far this year and $1,272,000 distributed in dividends since the mine was taken over by the present company in July, 1909, and is equivalent to 106 per cent on the capitalization.

board. A special constable, named D. Collins, and one of the Hindu interpreters, leaned over the side of the tug and dragged the officer aboard again.

Inspector McLeod received a blow upon the arm which rendered him helpless. Inspector Wilshire was hit on the head, inflicting a bad wound and causing a stream of blood to flow over his garments. Chief of Police McLennon was badly bruised. Inspector Scott was knocked unconscious by a blow from a brick. Police Constable McCall had two ribs broken and Capt. Robertson of the Sea Lion was cut over the eye by flying glass, caused by the breaking of the pilot house windows.

Detective Tisdale was badly cut about the head. L. H. Taylor and G. L. Minnett were both seriously hurt about the head, the former being particularly badly hurt. Detectives Ricci and Scott were both badly hurt and there was hardly a man upon the Komagata maru side of the tug which did not receive an injury of a more or less serious nature.

Pandemonium Reigns

At one period it looked as though a serious catastrophe was about to overtake the Sea Lion and her forces, for, naturally enough, every one on the vessel sought to get away from the missiles and so crowded to the other side with the result that the tug commenced to list in a pronounced manner, continual cries of "Keep to the left or we shall sink" filling the air.

The shouts, mingled with the smash of breaking glass and torn woodwork caused nothing short of pandemonium.

As the minutes passed and there was no cessation in the hurricane of objects that came hurling from the decks of the Japanese steamer, one angry shout predominated all over the rest, "Get her away from the ship. Why in h—— doesn't the captain move her?"

Triumphant Hindus Deride Them

Eventually, the grappling iron having been loosened by some venturesome police constables, the Sea Lion, with her injured and angry crowd slowly and sullenly moved away from the big vessel's side, while a yell of derision and prolonged tomtom playing, shouting and laughter from the triumphant Hindus followed in their wake.

Slowly the Sea Lion made her way back to the dock. Doctors Monroe and Kennedy attended to the wounded as she went and many men of the police force showed the benefits of their knowledge of first aid as taught in the St. John Ambulance association by their dexterity in binding up the hurts of their fellows.

Sunday afternoon passed peacefully although many Hindus in one party near the docks this morning were beaten by white men before help arrived. Chief of Police McLennan is watching the situation closely for fear of riots on shore.

Have New Plans

H. H. Stevens, M. P., said this afternoon that measures had been taken effectively to bring the Hindus into subjection.

"Do you intend calling out the militia?" he was asked.

"I cannot say what we intend doing but we have a complete program marked out."

In another quarter it was reported that the cruiser Rainbow would be brought to the rescue of the immigration department.

It was learned that four Hindus were seriously cut and bruised in the fight. Capt. Yamamoto is at his wits' end to know what to do, for every time he goes near his vessel his life is threatened.

Probably Damaged Engines

Many of the missiles used by the Hindus to repel the night attack were apparently parts of engineroom machinery. How much damage the Hindus have done there no one knows, but it looks as if the steamer could not with safety sail until repairs have been effected.

A serious fight occurred late Saturday night among the Hindus themselves in the Sikh temple on Second avenue, Fairview. One Hindu objected to certain seditious doctrines being promulgated by a speaker and guns were drawn but no shots were fired in the mix-up which followed.

Mr. Stevens announced that he had received a telegram from Sir Robert Borden, expressing his thanks to the police for refraining from shooting in reply to the shots from the Komagata maru and pledging the full support of the government forces to bring the Hindus into a position where their legal deportation could be accomplished.

Government Takes Strong Stand

(By Daily News Leased Wire)
VANCOUVER, B. C., July 19.—Orders have been received by the captain of the tug Sea Lion and other small craft to have steam at full head though the object of the order has not been revealed, it is announced tonight. That there is some big move contemplated on the part of the government is clear and it is well known that urgent despatches have been received from Ottawa.

It is believed that all the resources of the Dominion government have been placed at the disposal of the immigration authorities to take immediate steps for the restoration of order at the port of Vancouver and to assume legal control of the Komagata maru.

H. H. Stevens, M. P., now admits that he has heard from Ottawa and that the gist of the message is that order must be restored at all costs, of course avoiding drastic measures. The latest message from the capital, received tonight, is that the law must be observed.

May Use Rainbow

Efforts have been made to get in touch with Admiral Kingsmill and the officers of the Dominion cruiser Rainbow with a view to bringing over that vessel to convey the Komagata maru out of the harbor and beyond the three-mile limit, but so far no reply has been received.

It is uncertain what the next step will be, though the statement was made tonight that no definite action would be taken until tomorrow morning, when the Komagata would be removed from the inlet and that the task of doing so would be left in the hands of Admiral Kingsmill and his crew.

Meanwhile the situation is a critical one. The wharves are crowded with thousands of persons. Four launches are patrolling round and round the Komagata maru, thus cutting off all means of communication with the shore. It now transpires that Capt. Yamamoto and his crew have offered to leave the ship, but Japanese Consul Hori will not hear of this. The report gained currency that the Komagata maru's engines had been wrecked, but the captain states that they are in good order.

Maru Captain Asks for Aid.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
OTTAWA, July 19.—The following statement concerning the Hindus at Vancouver was handed out by E. Blake Robertson, acting superintendent of immigration, this afternoon:

"The captain of the Komagata maru was given until 6 o'clock last night to state whether or not he intended to obey the deportation orders which had been served upon him covering the 350 rejected Hindus. Shortly after that hour he reported that the passengers prevented him from getting up steam and asked for help. About 160 policemen and immigration officers went out to the vessel in the largest tug available, but were unable to gain the decks of the Komagata maru in the face of the stubborn resistance offered by the Hindus on board, who, from all parts of the ship, hurled down on the officers coal, iron bars, pieces of machinery, hatchets and clubs, injuring many and smashing the windows of the tug.

Wounded Number Twenty.

"Some shots were fired by the Hindus, but the officers in their anxiety to prevent bloodshed, if possible, did not return the fire, and at 2 a.m., realizing the difficulty in reaching the decks from the tug, retired and returned to the shore, taking with them their 20 injured, among whom was the captain of the tug, suffering two broken ribs. Fortunately, none of the injuries received are likely to prove fatal.

"Self-restraint of the police and immigration officials under great provocation is appreciated and highly commended by the acting prime minister, Hon. C. J. Doherty.

"While desirous that no unnecessary violence shall be used, the government is determined that the law shall be, without fail, effectively and rigorously enforced and with this end in view has authorized the use of the cruiser Rainbow to effect a boarding of the vessel, when, if necessary to secure control and maintain it, the full number of Hindus will be handcuffed, which, in view of their violent actions, is fully justifiable.

"The government has announced that its agents are authorized to deport the Hindus on the Empress of Japan next Thursday if it appears that the deportation on the Komagata maru cannot be promptly and effectively accomplished. The government is also taking legal proceedings against the masters and charterers of the Komagata maru."

of the finish, when under instructions he ceased rowing. Johnstone passed Murphy, following Kennedy, who was rowing easily, but when Kennedy was called upon to put weight on his outrigger it broke and from that point to the finish Johnstone pulled steadily away and easily won the race.

The senior doubles race proved a walkaway for Gore and Murphy of Nelson, who taking the lead from the start held it and crossed the line fully four lengths ahead of the Victoria crew, which was the only other crew entered. The special half mile double shell race was won easily by the Coeur d'Alene crew. The results of the other aquatic sports were:

Nelson Beats Cranbrook.

The Nelson lacrosse team came back in the afternoon and defeated Cranbrook team 9 to 0. The game was very slow, the slowest of the series, and both teams showed the strain of the two preceding games, lacking pepper and fielding in a very loose manner.

Nelson started out with a rush and got two tallies in the first three minutes, Waldo Ferguson and Curran doing the trick. Cranbrook braced themselves and held the locals down for the remainder of this period and the greater part of the second period, Nelson only being able to negotiate once, when Ferguson scored in about three minutes.

The third period brought two more for Nelson, with Ferguson and McMillan on deck, the scores, as usual, coming early in the quarter. In the last quarter Cranbrook went to pieces entirely and the locals got away time after time only to miss the net. Curran got two, Ferguson one and McMillan one in this period and ended the most uninteresting game of the Chahko Mika series.

A. A. Perrier acted as referee. The lineup:

Nelson—McDonough, Ronan, Williamson, Steel, Manhart, Roe, McMillan, Curran, W. Ferguson, Fraser.

Cranbrook—Black, Scott, McPhee, Kirkpatrick, McMillan, Chambers, Burland, Clode, Manahan, Matthews.

High School Beats Valley.

The high school took the baseball game from Crescent Valley in the morning, 9 to 6. The visitors got all their tallies in the fifth and seventh frames by a couple of opportune hits and several errors by the locals, but were otherwise blanked. The high school runs came in the first two and last two frames. Pitts was on the mound for the high school and Allen, a southpaw, hurled for Crescent Valley. Pitts having somewhat the better of the argument. Although Allen was not backed up as well as Pitts, the high school boys playing good ball right through, with the exception of in the seventh when they booted several plays. Pitts got 13 strikeouts, allowed six hits and gave no bases on balls. Allen walked three, struck out five and allowed 10 hits. The lineup:

High school—Brasch, H. Pitts, G. Roe, J. H. Gibbs, R. Maurer, C. Bradshaw, H. Nagle, A. Williamson, V. Mastberg.

Crescent Valley—Stice, Allen, Fredricks, Nelson, Grizzelle, Wells, Oliver, Wardrop, Sharp.

Entertain Princesses

Over the week-end the queen of the carnival, Miss Dora Jordan, and her princesses, Miss D. Drummond, Cranbrook; Miss Irene Nash, Fernie; Miss Ellen Sloan, Grand Forks; Miss Clara Stanton, Rossland; and Miss Clara Leinss, Trail, were entertained by R. A. Alford, manager of the Kootenay Lake tourist hotel of the Canadian Pacific railway at Balfour, thus bringing to a conclusion the week during which they have been the guests of honor in Nelson. On Saturday an informal dance was given at the Balfour hotel in honor of the carnival royalty and yesterday morning the last of the princesses left for their homes.

To the leaders and members of the city band and the male voice choir who had taken part in the program during the week and given their every assistance toward the success of the carnival the management last evening extended its thanks.

EASTERN STATES PRODUCE LESS METALS THAN WEST

The value of the mine output of gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc in the eastern or Apalachian states in 1913, according to H. D. McCaskey of the United States geological survey, was $13,753,557, against $13,470,276 in 1912 and $11,787,942 in 1911. The figures for 1913 represent the production of 90 mines, of which 48 were gold placer mines (many of them small), 9 zinc mines and 7 copper mines. The total recovery of gold was less, but the yields of silver, lead, copper and zinc were larger in 1913 than in 1912.

The gold output from all mines was 8,017.33 fine ounces, valued at $165,733, a decrease of 2,745.91 ounces in quantity and of $56,763 in value from the production of 1912. The silver output, recovered entirely as a by-product in refining the gold and copper produced, was 111,214 fine ounces, valued at $67,173, an increase of 14,691 ounces in quality and of $7,812 in value. Of the gold output in 1913 the placers yielded 733.65 ounces, against 774.83 ounces in 1912, and the quartz or deep mines produced 6,892.09 ounces, against 9,302.99 ounces in 1912. The copper mines produced 443.50 ounces in 1912 and 39,159 ounces in 1913. Nineteen hundred and thirteen there were 27 in Georgia, 17 in North Carolina and four in South Carolina. There were 18,883 short tons of siliceous ores sold or treated from Appalachian gold mines in 1913, of which 11,186 tons were from North Carolina, 4,068 tons from Alabama, 2,614 tons from Georgia and 1,010 tons from South Carolina.

The output of siliceous gold ore in 1913 was about 15,000 tons less than in 1912, and the gold from deep mines decreased about 2,400 ounces.

If you would go through the advertising columns of this newspaper and carefully compile a list of all the various activities touched upon it would astonish you, especially if you never have given the subject much thought.

Nothing much that is worth while goes on that is not benefited by newspaper advertising.

Merchants use it because they have demonstrated more than any other class of advertisers that it pays; also it is a part of the merchants' service to his patrons to keep them informed of his doings and his wares.

The newspaper is indeed a veritable index of all that is going on in this community in the way of business and professional activity. The field is so completely covered that the advertising news is as important as the regular news.

A Perpetual World's Fair.

Each day The Nelson Daily News goes into all of the leading homes in this community goes into all the hotels, rooming houses, places of business of all kinds, carrying with it a message of interest to every member of those places.

Interesting information from the four corners of the world is to be found in its advertisements.

Rare products from overseas, the latest modes from the fashion centres of the world, wearing apparel for every one, new inventions and ideas, a wonderful assortment of foods and household necessaries, all are described in endless variety from day to day.

Every human activity is touched upon. Every want is answered. And many a reader receives helpful suggestions that mean much in this busy world of activity.

A few minutes a day spent in reading advertisements will help every one in solving the problem of how to save, how to spend, where to spend their dollars.

It is like looking in upon a great exposition of an ever-changing array of all that the world has to offer for the benefit of mankind; rich or poor, old or young, there is something of interest for everyone.

C. J. GARLAND.

The average recovery of gold (including nominal recovery of silver) per ton of siliceous ores treated in the eastern states in 1913 was $7.66. The average in Alabama was $2.74, in Georgia $2.51 and in North Carolina $10.83.

The copper production in 1913 was 19,964,299 pounds, valued at $3,094,533—increase of 698,784 pounds in quantity, but a decrease of $84,349 in value. Of the total output 19,390,750 pounds came from the Ducktown district of eastern Tennessee, from 652,253 short tons of pyrite copper ore treated. The remainder was chiefly from Pennsylvania, where, at the Cornwall iron mines, magnetic separation of large tonnages of magnetite ores results in the recovery of copper-bearing pyrite. Vermont and Virginia also contributed to the copper output, while Maryland and North Carolina, which were producers of copper in 1912, reported no output of copper in 1913.

The production of lead was 1,632,000 pounds, valued at $71,808, an increase of 1,070,974 pounds in quantity and of $46,562 in value. The production was derived from the lead zinc mines of Wythe county, Virginia.

The zinc output, figured as spelter, was 184,898,400 pounds, valued at $10,354,310, an increase of 40,198,537 pounds in quantity and $370,019 in value. Of the total production, 168,244,000 pounds, valued at $9,421,664, came from the zinc mines at Franklin Furnace, N. J., and over 11,000,000 pounds came from eastern Tennessee. About 5,400,000 pounds was produced in Virginia, and smaller quantities in North Carolina and New Hampshire.

MANY ATTEND BARTON FUNERAL

Well-Known Teamster Passed Away Suddenly—Stricken With Apoplexy —Brothers and Sisters Survive.

The funeral of the late Johnson Barton, who died on Thursday morning, took place yesterday and was largely attended by the many friends he had made during his 10 years' residence in Nelson. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. W. Corey of the Baptist church.

The late Mr. Barton was one of the best known teamsters in Nelson, having during his first five or six years' residence in the city been in the employ of George F. Motion of the West Transfer company. He was latterly employed by the Nelson Transfer company, for which firm he had for a long time been in charge of the Silver King supply team. The funeral was under the auspices of the teamsters' union.

Mr. Barton was stricken with apoplexy on Thursday morning while still in bed and died without being able to summon assistance. He is survived by a brother, T. J. Barton of Cumberland, N. B., and by three sisters, Mrs. M. Branscombe of Cheeham, N. B.; Mrs. R. C. Miner of North Middlesboro, N. B., and Mrs. Carmichael of Marcello, Me. The pallbearers, all members of the teamsters' union, were: A. Allen, J. Elliott, Ollie Harris, Peter McNaughton and Robert McBeth.

VISITOR SAYS CARNIVAL WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Walter Fanning of Chicago Particularly Struck With Excellent Program—Splendid Publicity

Walter Fanning of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hughes of Cranbrook, who have been visiting in the city during Chahko Mika week, left yesterday morning for Cranbrook. Prior to leaving the city Mr. Fanning paid a tribute to the ambition of the citizens of Nelson in holding the Chahko Mika carnival, which he believed had been one of the most successful affairs of its kind he had ever had the pleasure of attending. It was in the opinion of Mr. Fanning a big undertaking, most successfully managed, and he laid particular stress on the excellence of the aquatic and horse racing programs that had been arranged and carried out. The carnival, he believed, would be of inestimable value to Nelson from a publicity point of vitw.

R. F. GREEN SPEAKS OF KOOTENAY FRUIT QUALITY

On the night of his arrival in Nelson R. F. Green, M.P., found in his room at the Strathcona hotel several beautiful branches of cherries, which had been provided by some kind friend. Speaking of the gift Mr. Green expressed his appreciation of the act of the unknown donor to whom he desired to express his thanks. He said the branches showed wonderful production, while the fruit was delicious in the extreme and was another evidence of Kootenay's wonderful adaptability for fruit growing, which was further emphasized by the exhibit of small fruits at the rose show.

LUMBERMEN WILL SEEK PROTECTION

Committees Appointed to Consider Betterment—Market Conditions Are Discussed.

That lack of protection of what was termed the only unprotected industry in Canada was the cause of the great depression in the lumber business at the present time was the concensus of opinion at the semi-annual meeting of the Mountain Lumber Manufacturers' association, which was held in the board of trade rooms on Saturday afternoon. A lengthy discussion of the causes of the depression took place at the meeting and several committees were appointed for the purpose of fully investigating the possibility of finding some means of betterment for this industry and to formulate suggestions for the consideration of the authorities with that end in view.

In the discussion of market conditions reports came to the meeting from all parts of the interior of the province which stated that owing to the unsatisfactory state of the trade many mills had already closed down and that others were preparing to do so. Only those which had logs in stock would continue operating until the logs were cut. Some mills that had not operated for 10 months past were finding that they would soon be forced to commence sawing in order to save the logs that had been cut prior to the cessation of work despite the fact that there was no demand for the lumber.

"That this convention of lumber manufacturers of the interior of British Columbia in general assembly do hereby confirm the action of the lumbermen's committee of East Kootenay and also that of the Central Conservative association of the electoral district in endorsing the candidature of A. E. Watts of Wattsburg, B. C., for the Dominion parliament to represent the new federal district of East Kootenay," was the wording of a resolution that was passed at the meeting.

The meeting was largely attended, according to the report of the acting secretary.

MAGAZINE ARTICLE DEALS WITH GRAND FORKS DISTRICT

That continuous advancement is being made in every part of the province is shown by the statement of development published monthly in Telephone Talk, the magazine issued by the British Columbia Telephone company. Thirty-nine telephone exchanges are operated and gains are recorded in nearly every instance, with very perceptible progress in the larger cities. Another article details extensions of outside plant which are in hand as well as additions to equipment in several of the offices. These are all on account of new business.

On of the feature articles in Telephone Talk this month is descriptive of Grand Forks and district. This city is fortunately situated, having fine prairie-like farm lands in its immediate vicinity, and the illustrations show that it is up-to-date and progressive, says the article.

A GLADNESS KEEPS THE WORLD IN VIEW

The first green comes on willow trees
And like a falling of slow rain,
In hazel holts along the land,
The pendant catkins cross the sun
The light lies very still on these,
And is most fair to look upon.

I watch, and lo! the light this way
Is as a mirror 'neath the hills,
That with the young spring's breathing fills,
With song and woodland water's noise.

From heaven to earth, from earth to heaven,
A gladness keeps the world in view—
A promise of the spring come true,
Through all the chance of light and dark
To which the spheral light is given—
One with the sunrise and the lark.
—John Helston, in the Nation, London.
