FRENCH AND BRITISH COMPEL FOE TO GIVE GROUND IN BIG BATTLE

German Losses So Heavy That They Plead for Time to Bury Dead--Struggle Is Regarded as Favorable to Allies--Violent Counter Attacks Fail

HEAVIEST FIGHTING TAKES PLACE NEAR RIVER MARNE--REPULSE ATTACK ON NANCY

Advance Against Enemy Is Resolutely Pushed Home and His Right Seems to Have Been Turned--Many Prisoners Taken, Estimates Go As High As Thirty Thousand--Severe Engagement in Centre

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Sept. 9, 12:45 a.m.—The battle which is proceeding to the east of Paris appears to be the most important and stubbornly fought combat of the campaign. The military authorities decline to give any indication of the number of men engaged, but hundreds of thousands are participating on both sides. According to those who are in position to obtain authentic information the casualties have been so great that the Germans have requested an armistice of 24 hours. The armistice was refused with the response: "We grant you that time to get out of France."

An official communication issued by the war office shows that the Germans, while retreating, have delivered several unsuccessful counter attacks. The fighting today extended along both the Ourcq and Marne rivers. In the latter region the allied forces have engaged in a strong offensive. The progress of the allies has been exceedingly difficult. In the centre of the allied line several encounters have occurred, the two opposing forces ending the day with varying fortunes, which, however, are regarded as more favorable to the allies than to their adversaries.

British Gain Ten Miles.

Official reports from both Paris and London indicate successful movements, at least for the time being, by the allied armies against the Germans. London reports that the British have pushed the opposing forces back 10 miles and that the allies are gaining ground along the line of the Ourcy and Petit Morin rivers.

Wounded soldiers who have reached Paris tell of the severity of the fighting in the champagne country and report heavy losses.

Slay Retreating Germans.

A sergeant of infantry wounded in the engagement near La Ferte Gaucher, says:

"I heard cannonading from Friday evening. Saturday night we received an order to retire but during the night advanced again and took a position on the hillside. Early Sunday morning the enemy tried to turn our left. We were ordered to hold them until the troops around Meaux had pushed back the Germans there.

"At noon the enemy commenced to retire in disorder toward the east. They rallied, however, to the north of La Ferte Gaucher, where the engagement continued all night. Monday morning the enemy weakened and fled. We pursued it 20 miles, keeping up a steady fire that worked havoc in the German ranks, while not a shot was fired at us.

Were Short of Ammunition.

"We succeeded in cutting off a detachment and captured seven cannon, two machine guns and many prisoners. One sergeant of infantry admitted that his men had scarcely any ammunition and had been ordered to economize it to the utmost limit possible."

An infantry officer, wounded north of Meaux, said that the Germans seemed to be tired out. He counted 600 dead in a single trench. The French infantry charged, as at Charlerol, against machine guns and in spite of strong positions, broke the enemy's line. The retreat of the Germans was precipitate. They seemed to lack ammunition.

There have been many rumors of reinforcements having been sent this army of the allies. Some of the rumors are to the effect that Russian troops actually have joined it and others that the Indian troops took part in the fighting. These reports, however, are without confirmation and more thoughtful observers consider that the increased strength of the allies' left wing is due to the arrival of the fresh troops from England and to the fact that the advance defensive army of Paris is taking part in the operation.

Repulse Foe Near Nancy.

The French are still sticking below the Lorraine frontier and here, according to the war office, they have replsed an attack made by the Germans on the line between Nancy and Chateau Salins. In Alsace, where the French advanced so quickly at the beginning of the war, there has been a long respite from serious fighting.

This is due, in the opinion of military experts, to the withdrawal of the Germans, who were needed to the west, and probably the return of Austrian troops sent to the assistance of the Germans last month.

Allies Continue Successes.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The following official communication bearing on the fighting now in progress to the east of the capital was made public today:

"The left wing of the allied army, comprising certain portions of the forces now defending Paris, continues to make progress against the enemy.

"The French advance reaches from the bank of the river Ourcq into the Montmirail region. (Montmirail is 40 miles east of Paris.)

"The enemy is retiring in the direction of the river Marne, between Meaux (20 miles east of Paris) and Sezanne (42 miles east of Meaux.)

Take Numerous Prisoners.

"The French and English armies have taken numerous prisoners, including a battalion of infantry and a company serving a detachment of rapid fire guns; they captured also many gun carriages.

"There have been violent encounters with the enemy on the centre between Fere Champenoise (12 miles east of Sezanne) and Vitry le Francois (the southern point of the forest of Argonne. Vitry-le-Francois is 27 miles east of Fere Champenoise.)

"At no place have we fallen back. The enemy has lost ground.

"The reported retiring of the enemy near Vitry-le-Francois has been confirmed.

"On our right a division of German troops delivered an attack on an axis of Chateau Salins and Nancy, but they were repulsed to the northward, passing the forest of Champenoux.

"Far to the east our troops reoccupied the crest of Mandry and the peak of Fourneaux.

"There has been no change in the situation in the province of Alsace."

British Drive Foe Back.

Allies Gain Further Successes.

LONDON, Sept. 8, 10:35 p.m.—The British and French forces north and east of Paris have had further successes against the German invaders, according to the official bulletins issued today.

For the moment, at least, interest centres in the campaign in France, for it is felt that the battle proceeding there is the first real crisis of the war and will have a most vital effect on the outcome.

The allies, according to a bulletin issued by the French war office, have repulsed an attempt by the Germans to penetrate their left centre between La Fere Champenoise and Vitry le Francois, where the roads and railways are more suited to the French movements than they would have been further north.

In fact, it is believed that Gen. Joffre purposely fell back from Chalons so that he could choose ground more suitable for his army. In this he seems to have been justified, for not only was the German attack repulsed but at Vitry le Francois the Germans actually lost ground.

This has been the scene of the heaviest fighting of the present battle, for on the German right, which the allies seem to have gotten around, Gen. Kluk is falling back before the forward movement of the French and British forces toward the Marne between Meaux and Sezanne. There must have been some fighting here, however, as the French report that some prisoners were taken from the enemy.

William the Greatest Tells His Soldiers That He Is Weapon of Almighty.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PETROGRAD, Sept. 9.—German prisoners say the speech delivered by Emperor William to the troops on their departure for the front was of a character which the press is forbidden to produce. Its text appears to have been as follows:

"Remember that the German people are the chosen of God. On me as German emperor the spirit of God has descended. I am His weapon, His sword and His vice-regent. Woe to the disobedient. Death to cowards and unbelievers."

Russian newspapers remark that his speech goes far to prove that the German emperor is suffering from a familiar form of insanity.

RECRUITING IN LONDON REACHES NEW RECORD

Twenty-five Million Dollars Worth of German Shipping Put Out of Business.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The recruiting for Lord Kitchener's army is growing as the days pass. The record was reached in London today when 5,000 men joined the colors. The stubborn British fighting in France has had much to do with this boom to join the army, although the bitterness aroused by the strewing of German mines which have destroyed many fishing boats and merchant steamers, has helped.

Statistics published today show that German ships of a value of about $25,000,000, either have been captured or sunk by the British, while British ships valued at $5,000,000 are locked up in German ports.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—An effective recruiting bill is being shown in black and red, with these words undercrossed:

"We have got to beat Germany because her arrogant brutality is a menace to civilization; because she breaks treaties; because she murders noncombatants; because she destroys beautiful cities; because she sows mines in the open sea; because she fired on the sacred Red Cross; because her avowed object is to crush Great Britain.

"Men of England, remember Louvain. The fight is democracy versus tyranny.

Battle Rages for Three Days --Forts in Galicia Captured

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—In Galicia the Russians continue with considerable success their attempt to envelop the Austrian army of 400,000 men under Gen. Auffenburg.

Gen. Ruszcky, who won such a signal victory over the Austrians at Lemberg, is continuing his attempt to engage the army of Gen. Auffenberg. Moving southeastward from Lemberg he has worked his way around, if he has not captured the stronghold of Przemysl, whence he can get in the rear of the Austrians, who are drawn up on a line approximately from Kielce to Jarosla, and are being threatened by the Russian advance southward from Radom and Zamor. The Austrians seem to be in an extremely dangerous position and if they are defeated by the Russians it will be a second Lemberg for them.

They appear to have other troubles, too. Reports persist that Emperor Francis Joseph is dangerously ill and that there are internal dissensions in the dual monarchy and that Italy, Bulgaria and Roumania are waiting Austria's defeat by Russia to appropriate some of her vast territories on her southern frontier.

FRENCH ARMY CHIEF THANKS BRITISH

General Joffre Expresses Appreciation of Effective Support of Tommy AtkinsKitchener Replies.

(Special to The Daily News)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The official press bureau announces that M. Millerand, the French war minister, has sent to Lord Kitchener the following telegram, dated Bordeaux, Sept. 7.

"I am pleased to transmit to you the following telegram which Gen. Joffre requested me to send to you:

"The commander-in-chief of the French armies expresses to Lord Kitchener his warm thanks for the constant support given to our armies by the British forces during the whole course of the operations. At the present moment that support is most valuable and is manifest in an energetic manner in the action now engaged against the German right wing.

"I am expressing my gratitude to Field Marshal French who has always lent to our armies the most effective collaboration. Allow me in the name of the governmen to join the expression of my gratitude to that of the general-in-chief."

To this Lord Kitchener has replied:

"Please accept and transmit to Gen. Joffre my most sincere thanks for the telegram you have had the kindness to address me. I ask you to believe and cause Gen. Joffre to be told how content the British army is to find itself collaborating with the French army and how proud we are of the noble task of bringing to them the support of which you speak so generously and on which you can always rely with the greatest confidence."

URGES CANADA TO GIVE THIRTY-FIVE MILLION TO NAVY

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Telegraph today urges on Canada immediate action for the appropriation of $35,000,000 for the navy.

"It is a melancholy reflection," says the paper, "that but for the unfortunate course of party politics in Canada three more dreadnoughts would now be nearing completion. The opportunity passed may never recur. It is too late to start battleships for use in the present war but the fleet needs cruisers, destroyers and other vessels which can be built with greater rapidity.

"If Canada immediately places $35,000,000 at its disposal, the admiralty could quickly prepare plans which would completely neutralize the reichstag's action in giving its admiralty a blank check for the pushing of naval construction to the utmost."

Retirement May Be Ruse But Looks Like Genuine Retreat --Attempt to Join Forces and Cut Off French Army in Lorraine Suggested--Paris Press Says Joffre Has Performed Miracle of Strategy

(Special Cable to The Daily News and New York Times.)

ON THE RIGHT FLANK OF THE GERMAN ARMY, Sept. 6.—By Martin H. Donohue.—The right wing of the German army, considerably battered by the heavy fighting of the last few days is continuing retrograde movements, falling back with the British army fast on its flanks. Everything points to the movement being a definite retirement rather than a temporary retreat. Leaving the neighborhood of Pontoise at the moment when the retirement of the Germans had assumed definite proportions by making a considerable detour, I crossed the Somme and gains a point which brought me parallel with the flank of the retreating Germans. Far in the rear of the oncoming German force a driving movement exercised by the allies was making itself felt. At points like Amiens and Adronnes, previously held by the invaders, an altered state of conditions began to make themselves felt. Early today the German patrols posted on the left bank of the Somme, in particular around Amiens, which harrassed the peaceful population daily, were suddenly withdrawn.

French residents evading the watchfulness of the now perturbed Germans reported to the small French force in observation below Amiens that hurried preparations are being made for the evacuation of the city itself. The greater part of the force holding Amiens withdrew in some disorder early this morning. Since yesterday large contingents of wounded coming from the southwest had flowed into Amiens. Ambulances were frequently overcrowded and all kinds of conveyances commandeered along the road from their peasant owners were pressed into service.

French to Reoccupy Amiens.

I reached a point about 10 miles to the northwest of Amiens early this morning and then learned of the proportions of the German rear. Large numbers of wounded were subsequently removed from Amiens itself and sent northeast to Arras. Other wounded, including those too seriously hurt to permit removal, had been abandoned in Amiens. When I left on my way to Abbeville a small French force was in the vicinity of Amiens waiting to reoccupy it the moment the last of the German soldiers had withdrawn. Unless there had been a complete change in German plans it is probable that by tomorrow morning Amiens will once more be in the possession of the French.

The French left wing is giving the retiring enemy little respite and the British cavalry is particularly active. So far, today's retirement was orderly enough. It is clear that the allies are making every effort to detach the harried and sorely pressed German right wing from the main body and to annihilate it, and the enemy is using every effort to prevent the successful carrying out of this maneuver and to prevent its envelopment.

May Retire in Belgium.

In the hope of baffling the three pursuers and maintain close touch with the centre, the commander of the retiring right wing swung more to the north and seems to be directing his rearward march upon Carbrai and Tournai, evidently with the intention, if still hard pressed, of attempting to repass the Belgian frontier to the east of Lille. Throughout today the German right wing has been fighting a stubborn rear guard action. It made repeated but futile efforts to hold its own, but the pressure brought to bear on it by the English has been too great and slowly but surely it is being forced back. While the German mass is in motion its pace is slowing up, but each instant the rearward weight of progress is gaining momentum. Will it run and so bring upon itself inevitable disaster? Is it the beginning of the end of Germany in France? The answer will be forthcoming within the next few days. The retreating right wing is now experiencing some of the suffering so nobly borne by the allies in their retirement from Belgium almost to the walls of Paris.

A report reached me today that the German centre, too, had been forced back and was being hotly pursued, but this I am unable to confirm. A wounded French officer whom I encountered on the road today said the German right had entirely spent itself in its rapid advance toward Paris. The invaders had paused physically exhausted and short of ammunition and supplies. It was the moment chosen for delivering the counter attack by the allies. Struck at their weakest moment and with a full concentration of force the German right reeled beneath the blow. From the effect of this telling offensive it had never been able to recover. For three days, so my informant said, the British left wing of the allied army fought with that valor and heroism which marked its supreme efforts in the trenches around Mons and in the subsequent engagement it drove back its ponderous enemy, which, to do it justice, disputed every inch of the ground, but the British were not to be denied.

Counter Attacks Lack Vigor.

Yesterday and again today the retreating Germans halted and delivered fierce counter attacks upon their pursuers, who hung so relentlessly in their wake, but now seemed to have little heart left for the fighting and their onslaught lacked that vigor and determination which characterized their earlier efforts when they came pouring down from the north through Belgium. In other words, the German army has become stale and indifferent by reason of the superhuman task it has been called upon to force.

Yesterday the right wing in its attempt to avoid the pursuing English abandoned wagons, stores and 40 guns, besides wounded. The tide of the German invasion, which reached the high-water mark before the walls of Paris, is receding. In the country through which I passed today the glad tidings of German reverses was already known and there was no concealing the exultant look on the faces of the peasants, who for many days have fled before the brutal insolence of the invaders.

Retreat All Along Line

(Special Cable to The Daily News and New York Times.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—In the great battle, perhaps the most decisive of modern history, that has been raging along 160 miles of front between Paris and Verdun since Sunday last, the first round has been won by the allied armies. Nearly all along the line the Germans are in retreat, for the first time since the opening of hostilities.

The enemy has received a distinct check in the western theatre of war. The French seventh army, which is attacking the German right wing in the flank, has advanced something like 30 miles since the movement began. Eastward along the curved front which stretches to Verdun there was fierce fighting, but the Germans did not break through at Vitry le Francois, that is at the apex of their front, and they were driven back in Lorraine and in Alsace the results were likewise favorable.

The German attempt to strike southward between the Nancy and Verdun and Toul line was repulsed and the French gained some of the positions in northern Vosges.

Is It German Strategy

All prospects, therefore, so far as the public is allowed to know, seem hopeful, but one must not overrate the advantage. The Germans were driven back after obstinate resistance and in consequence the allies should have found a great many German dead, which they have not done. They would also capture some German artillery, whereas they can boast of nothing more in that line than a machine gun company and some ammunition carts. Inference is that the

CIVIC RECEIPTS EXCEED THOSE OF PAST YEARS

That the financial report of the city was most gratifying in that the receipts showed a decided increase over the past two years with a reduction in the expenditures in many departments, was the opinion expressed at the city council meeting last evening. The receipts to date for this year from all sources have been $90,170.05. For the same period in 1913 the receipts amounted to $86,984.07 and in 1912 to $84,610.09. This is an increase of nearly $3,200 over last year and of over $5,500 over 1912.

The financial report of the street railway showed a debit balance of $216.66, but it was considered that as $2,442.04 was spent on track repairs during the year the financial state of that department was very good, as the item was of a capital account nature.

The recommendation by the public works committee that a foot bridge be constructed over Cottonwood creek on West Carbonate street at a cost of $50 was adopted. The fire, water and light committee recommended that an application for light and water from J. Summers be granted upon the condition that the applicant put in the necessary pipe and connect with the water main on the cemetery road. The committee reported that it had ordered necessary water supplies from the Wood-Vallance Hardware company.

The city engineer recommended that the corner of Stanley and Vernon streets, where a new concrete crossing had recently been completed, be crowned and two catch basins be constructed, so that water could be drained across Vernon street into an open ditch running down Stanley at an estimated cost of $150. He also suggested that a small amount of grading work be done on Hendryx street between Hoover and Observatory, and on Robson street between Hall and Hendryx, to prevent surface water from running over private property. An application from S. Archibald on Carbonate street, asking that the sewer main be extended to his lot was referred to the board of works.

Ald. John Bell's plumbing bylaw was discussed and referred to the public works committee after some discussion.

Ald. Horswill gave notice of the introduction of a tax notice bylaw at the next meeting of the council.

Ald. Stark asked Mayor Malone if there was any recommendation from the police commission in regard to the investigation of the conduct of Chief of Police Devitt. The mayor answered that there was no evidence of misconduct of the chief. Ald. Stark

BRITISH WEALTH WILL BE BIG FACTOR IN WAR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—"We want every penny we can raise to help fight the enemy," said David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, replying today to a deputation from the municipalities which wanted the aid of the treasury in securing loans at cheap rates.

"We must come out triumphant in this struggle," continued the chancellor, "and as finance is going to play an important part in it, we must husband our resources. We do not want a penny spent which is not absolutely essential to relieve distress. In my judgment the last few hundred millions may win this war.

"The first hundred millions our enemies can stand as well as we can but last they cannot, thank God, and therefore I think cash is going to count much more than we imagine. At the present moment we are only at the beginning; we are fighting a tough enemy who is well prepared for the fight and will probably fight to the end before he will accept the only conditions upon which we can possibly make peace.

"If we are wise, that is where our resources will come in, not merely in men but in cash. We have won with a silver bullet before. We financed Europe in the greatest war ever fought and that is what won. Of course, British tenacity and British courage always come in and they always will. But let us remember that British cash tells, too."

LADY BORDEN AND SOCIETY WOMEN TO RUN STORE

Red Cross Fund Will Benefit When Ottawa Department Emporium Is Handed Over for Day.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—The announcement was made that on Friday the departmental stores of E. A. Rae company will be turned over to the women of the Red Cross society to sell goods and commodities for the benefit of the Red Cross fund.

A percentage of the sale of all merchandise sold on that day will be handed over to the fund.

The work will be under the direct patronage of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia. In addition, a large band of Ottawa women will act as floorwalkers, department managers and in other capacities under the general managership of Lady Borden. Over 40 of the capital's foremost women have offered their services and have been alloted positions in every department of the store.

giving of ground by the Germans, like that of the allies last week, is strategic and the end of their strategy is not known. It is possible that certain features of it, particularly the contraction of their front, have been due to the insufficiency of men, whether on account of transference of troops to Lorraine, for fighting infantry in that region, while the character and equipment of some of the landstrum men employed in Belgium suggests that Germany's supply of soldiers and munitions may be running short.

Defeat Would be German Disaster

At any rate, the fact remains that the allies have now for several days enjoyed the advantage of the offensive and there is nothing to show that they are on the point of having it wrested from them.

Unless the Germans are able not merely to recover the ground they have lost but to defeat and scatter the allied army in front of them, the war for them is lost. Time is their most formidable enemy and every week that passes without a decisive victory in France brings them nearer to inevitable destruction. A decisive defeat in France would bring the whole German military edifice down like a pack of cards. It would completely disillusion the German people regarding their prophets and leaders and might easily result in a real democratic nation, perhaps a republic.

Germans Appear Exhausted

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 8, 11:12 p.m.—A despatch to Reuter's from Paris says that Municipal Councillor Danzet has just returned from a visit to several villages in the department of Seine-et-Marne, some of which the Germans had evacuated shortly before. According to the councillor the people said the Germans appeared to be completely exhausted, evidently having marched continuously for several days.

The general opinion here is that even if the allies lose the great battle now being waged they may still make the siege of Paris difficult, while if the Germans lose the situation of their entire army in France would be critical.

Paris Press Discusses Strategy

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Sept. 8.—There is considerable divergence of opinion in what remains of the Paris press regarding the position of the French armies in the great battle now raging, according to the official bulletins, from near Paris to Verdun-sur-Meuse, on the frontier. The general view seems to be that expressed by the Excelsior in a map of the district mentioned with a dotted line showing the French forces facing north in a concave semi-circle from Nanteuil le Haudouin, just north of Meaux, through Sezanne and Vitry le Francois, both south of Chalons, to Verdun.

The Germans thus pushed away from Paris are occupying the Champagne country along the river Marne, which forms a barrier to the French advance if the Germans are defeated, with the strong French fortress of Reims in their rear centre and their left stretching out toward a junction with the German forces from Longwy and Luxemburg, defending the line of the Argonne between Reims and Verdun. Such a view of the situation presumes that the German eastern movement is due to recognition that a direct attack on Paris is impossible for the present and that the Germans wish to effect a union on their left, as stated, with the northeastern army.

Calls It Miracle of Strategy

A minority of the press, however, notably the usually well-informed Echo de Paris, seems to hold a more favorable opinion. The Echo today says:

"It is no longer the entrenched camp of Paris that the Germans see before them but our northeastern army, the mass of Gen. Joffre's forces.

"By a happy miracle of strategy Gen. Joffre has rescued and covered Paris.

"The attempted movement of the enemy's left to envelop the French right has failed. We present an immense and solid front from the Paris forts to Verdun, thence to Belfort along the Vosges.

"It is for Paris a respite; for France a pledge of final success."

Gen. Cherfelz, the Echo's military critic, develops this opinion, saying:

"By his withdrawal south of the Marne, Gen. Joffre placed Paris with its mobile army on the western flank of the Germans, who were obliged to move in the direction toward which he dragged them so it is possible to hope that the mobile Paris army will attack the German screen north of the city. This screen once broken, the Paris army will be free to fall upon the German rear, seriously threatening its communications and retreat."

This more optimistic outlook does not reckon with a possible junction with the eastern force descending from the north and takes it for granted the German eastern movement is rather an enforced retreat than a deliberate strategic movement.

Tries to Establish Junction

The Intransigeant, commenting upon the situation, says:

"We begin to perceive the truth. The German northern army no longer wishes to act against Paris alone and is now trying to establish a junction with the army from Luxemburg. These three forces seem likely to unite in the plains of the Madeline, where they will probably seek battle with the main wing of our troops."

The Liberte says:

"The coup d'force against Paris having failed the Germans, exhausted by incessant fighting, were forced to execute a great flank movement eastward to seek the enemy. The Germans have pursued a break-neck strategy, the only result of which has been to put themselves in a dangerous position from which they are now compelled to endeavor to retreat."

The Journal des Debats says:

"The object of the German movement east was evidently to reach our principal army, which has withdrawn in good order on new positions."

Active in Belgium Again.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Germans have been busy in Belgium again. They have taken possession of Ghent without a fight and in the north they are trying to drive the whole Belgian army, the sorties of which have been annoying, if not threatening, back into Antwerp.

Persons arriving in Ostend today report having seen German scouts near Bruges.

Allies Have Gained Strength.

(Special Cable to The Daily News and New York Times.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—British hopes in the final result of the great battle now being waged along a front of some 160 miles from, roughly speaking, Paris to Verdun, run extremely high. From excellent authority it is understood that the numerical superiority which hitherto has been so great a factor in the German calculations no longer exists and that, in fact, the allied forces are equal to, if not somewhat superior to the German armies.

Transformation Is Amazing.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. PIERRE DU VAUVRAY, Sept. 8.—By Philip Gibbs.—England received a hint yesterday as to a change in the German campaign, but only those who have been, as I have, into the heat of this monstrous horror of war, seeing the flight of hundreds of thousands of people before an overwhelming enemy and following the lines of the allied armies in steady retirement before a superior force, may realize even dimly the amazing transformation that has happened during the last few days.

For when I wrote my last despatch from Arcueil after my adventures along the French and English lines, it seemed inevitable as the happenings of the next day that the Germans would enter Paris. Still not a single shot has been sent on the French fortifications. At least 1,000,000 men—this is no exaggeration of a light pen but the sober and actual truth—were advancing steadily upon the capital last Tuesday. They were close to Auvers when I escaped from what was then a death trap. They were fighting our British troops at Creil when I came to that town. Upon the following day they were holding our men in the forest of Compiegne. They had been as near Paris as Senlis, almost within gunshot of the outer forts.

"Nothing seems to stop them," said many soldiers with whom I spoke. "We kill them and kill them, but still they come on."

Way to Paris Was Open.

The situation seemed to me almost ready for the supreme tragedy, the

GERMANS STILL ARE SOWING MINES

Mail Boat Held Up—Sweeping Only Successful Method of Dealing With Menace to Shipping

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—German fishing boats decked with Belgian colors, according to a Reuter despatch from Ostend, have been sowing mines near the Sandottie lightship. In consequence of this the mail boat was unable to leave this morning.

The destruction of the British cruiser Pathfinder and other vessels by mines has provoked much discussion regarding protection against mines.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and other prominent men have written letters to the papers inquiring why devices were not used to save ship from mines.

The British admiralty has long been investigating equipment for the explosion of mines before ships strike them.

Mine Sweepers Only Practical Way

More than 1,000 devices for this purpose have been offered in England, but, like the naval experts in other nations, the British have found all effective equipment so heavy as to retard the speed of vessels. Nets strong enough to resist the pressure of the water and discharge mines offer such resistance that their use is impossible.

As a consequence it is explained the British, like other nations, have found mine sweepers the only satisfactory way to clear the seas of explosives. Two small boats dragging a heavy wire rope between them are used for the purpose of clearing the steamer routes. Scores of these are at work in the north sea.

Germany is not a signatory to The Hague convention forbidding the use of mines; therefore England, which is at war with Germany, could use mines without violation of The Hague convention. The British admiralty, however, announces that it refuses to resort to mines.

More Trawlers Are Sunk

GRIMSBY, via London, Sept. 8, 6:07 p.m.—Wreckage of the trawler Nelson has been picked up in the North sea and news has reached here of the sinking by a German cruiser of the trawler Capricornus.

WAR MAY IMPROVE LUMBER MARKET

Canadian Trade Commissioner Reports Many Enquiries for Foodstuffs From Dominion.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—J. E. Ray, Canadian trade commissioner at Birmingham, reports to the department of trade and commerce that during the war there will be a record demand for Canadian foodstuffs. He states that he has received numerous inquiries for cereals, flour, cheese, ham, bacon, canned meats and fruits.

Mr Ray says that the effect of the war upon the timber trade is not yet fully apparent, but the cessation of shipments from Great Britain's chief source of supply in Europe will register itself unmistakably during the next few weeks as stocks become depleted.

NURNBERG IS BEING PURSUED BY CRUISERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—The fleet-footed German cruiser Nurnberg has evidently eluded pursuit. It is conceded here that the Germans have cut the Pacific cable at Fanning island and probably have destroyed the relay station on this mid-Pacific island. It is possible the Nurnberg took on what coal had been stored on the island.

Though the cable has been cut, communication with Australia has by no means been made impossible. There is still the company line direct to Asia.

The cable at Fanning island will be spliced and damage to the cable station will be repaired at once.

The pursuit of the Nurnberg will be carried on by Australian and Japanese cruisers. The German boat's gun power is small and should either the Australian or Japanese boats catch her she would be easily sunk or captured.

WOULD SURROUND THE AUSTRIAN ARMY

Bosnia from the north, while little Montenegro, after a couple of preliminary successes, is about to invade Herzegovina from the south.

The Russian troops are still engaged in fierce combats with the Austrian forces in the Rawa district, Russian Poland. Fighting is almost continuous and the outcome in this region has not been determined.

Austrian Airmen Active.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, Sept. 9, 2:15 a.m.—Austrian aeroplanes have been observed in the neighborhood of Antivari and along the Adriatic coast. They are probably engaged in watching maneuvers of the French fleet.

Austrians in General Retreat?

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 8, 9:10 p.m.—A News despatch from Petrograd says the Russian newspapers publish a report from a highly authoritative source to the effect that there are signs of a general retreat of the Austrians on the whole front between the rivers Bug and Vistula. The fortresses of Przemsyl and Jaroslau, on the river San, and Cracow on the Vistula are the only obstacles the Austrians now have to prevent the Russian advance.

Przemsyl is a strongly fortified military camp 51 miles west of Lemberg, with 42 forts and 40,000 men who have been reinforced by the soldiers who escaped from Lemberg and Poland.

Germany Makes Statement.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—A German official statement received by Marconi wireless from Berlin says:

"The Austrian general staff reports that the Russian bombardment of the earthworks around Lemberg on Sept. 3 was directed against unoccupied and undefended positions, the Austrians having previously withdrawn in order to spare the bombardment of an open town.

"The army commanded by Gen. Dank was recently engaged in heavy fighting. The Russians brought up by rail large reinforcements and a severe attack followed but the troops commanded by Field Marshal Kestranck repulsed this attack inflicting heavy loss on the Russians and taking 600 prisoners.

"Elsewhere along the front there is comparative quiet."

Russians Make Rapid March.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Gen. Ruzsky, who has made terrific marches through Galicia, is now engaged in a desperate attempt to annihilate the Austrians under Gen. Auffenberg. The battle has gone on for three days. The Russians marched 30 miles daily, sleeping three hours a night.

The Russians have captured the Austrian forts at Nicolaieff and Mikolajow, southwest of Lemberg.

Austria Fears Revolt.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—A Petrograd despatch to the Havas agency says that according to information received at the Russian capital the Austrians fear that a revolution will break out in Bukowina, a crown land of Austria-Hungary in the region of the Carpathian mountains, where Hungarian sentiment is reported to be growing in favor of Russia.

said he understood that several members of the commission had satisfied themselves that such a thing had taken place and that they had received promises from the chief that such a thing would not happen again.

The mayor said that there was no doubt the chief had been drinking but the board did not consider there was sufficient cause for an investigation.

In answer to a question from Ald. Stark the mayor said that he did not know of any case where license holders had broken the regulations. He said he had had no proof that any licenses had done so. Ald. Stark said that he was willing to prove that licensed places were open after hours during Chahko Mika week.

Ald. Stark asked if the mayor would take steps if such a violation had taken place. The mayor said he would not. Ald. Stark said that he could not see that he was treating all classes right in allowing one set of citizens to transgress rules and not allowing others. Ald. Horswill said that he had had no knowledge of the matter.

rivers. The British have driven the enemy back 10 miles.

"Fighting has been in progress further to the right along the line which includes Montmirail and Somme Sous, neither side gaining advantage.

"Further to the right again, from Vitry le Francois to Sermaize Les Bains, the enemy has been pressed back in the direction of Reims.

"At Luneville an attempt by the Germans to advance has been repulsed."

German Losses Enormous.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Sept. 8—Accounts of wounded soldiers who reached Paris this afternoon indicate that the result of three days' fighting in the champagne country has been more favorable for the allies than at first supposed. They say the Germans loss in killed was enormous and that a great number of prisoners were taken. One French officer estimates the prisoners at 30,000.

The champagne districts include parts of the departments of Marne, Aube and Haute Marne.

Foe Suffers All Along Line.

"Pressure against the enemy continues all along the allied fronts. The British force has been engaged all day, but the enemy opposed to it, after a stubborn resistance, retired and is now crossing to the north of the Marne.

"The fifth French army has advanced with equal success and reports many captures.

"The sixth French army, on the Ourcq, has been heavily engaged, but here also the enemy has been driven back.

"The German army has suffered severely along the whole line, the advance having been resolutely pushed home.

"The British force has again sustained some casualties, but the number is small in relation to the nature of the fighting.

"The result of the two days' operations up to the present is satisfactory."

Violent German Attacks Fail.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Sept. 8, 11:25 p.m.—A further official communication issued tonight by the war office says:

"The left wing of the German forces in its movement of retreat, having crossed the Petit Morin river with a view to protecting its communications, has made silent but unsuccessful attacks against that part of our troops occupying the right bank of the river Ourcq.

"Our English allies are continuing their offensive tactics in the direction of the Marne on the heights of the north of Sezanne.

"Our troops are progressing favorably, though laboriously.

"On our right wing the situation is good before Nancy and in the Vosges.

"A severe engagement has been fought in the centre with alternative advancing and falling back."

Drive Them Back, Says Joffre

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 9, 1 a.m.—A Reuter despatch from Antwerp says an official communication issued there refers to an order by Gen. Joffre on Sept. 7 in which he alludes to the impatience of his troops and says:

"This is no longer the moment to look behind, but the time has come to attack and drive back the enemy and to defend the ground gained at any cost.

"Under pressure of the allied army on the left, the first German army has been obliged to retire toward the northeast, both on the front and on the flank."

"No serious engagement," the communication continues, "has occurred before the second, third and fourth German armies, but before the fifth German, which is held by the French right, a fierce engagement is in progress. On Sunday evening the garrison at Verdun made a sortie and captured a number of supply convoys destined for the fifth German army."

GUARD AGAINST HOSTILE ACTION AGAINST CANADA

(Special Cable to The Daily News and New York Times.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—It is reported here tonight that the attention of the government has been called to the alleged gathering of groups of men, supposed to be German and Austrian reservists, on the American side of the Canadian boundary. While the reports could not be confirmed officially, there is reason to believe that some inquiry on the subject has been made with a view to having the government take measures to prevent any violation of the neutral soil of the United States through the assembling of hostile forces in American territory.

The suggestion that the withdrawal of troops from Canada for service with the British army on the continent of Europe may be a temptation to the enemies of Great Britain to make a demonstration on the Canadian side of the border is supposed to be behind the uneasiness said to be felt in connection with the alleged gatherings.

NEWFOUNDLAND UNITED IN FACE OF CRISIS

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Sept. 8.—The special session of the colonial legislature called to consider measures made necessary by the European war was prorogued tonight by Governor Davidson, with its program fulfilled. The opposition joined the government in the support of every measure and action was unanimous.

KAISER SAID TO HAVE QUARRELED

ROME, Sept. 8.—According to a Berlin despatch Emperor William has quarreled with Chancellor Von Bethman Hollweig and Minister of Foreign Affairs Von Jagos, the ministers being held responsible for the unreadiness of German diplomacy which led to the coalition of the allies against her. The resignations of the two are said to be demanded.

SAYS KAISER OWNS VANCOUVER REALTY

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Today's Financial News in an article upon the kaiser's ultimate movements, suggests either death at his own or somebody else's hands or flight to non-Teutonic soil. He is one of the largest land owners in the western states, says the News, not in his own name, of course, and owns a considerable amount of property in western Canada. So notorious is the fact that it was once a standing joke in Vancouver that, although the kaiser was a large owner of property in certain districts he declined to join the local ratepayers' association.

KAISER SAID TO HAVE SENT MESSAGE TO WILSON

LONDON, Sept. 9.—News has reached here that the North German Gazette of Berlin, the official organ of the government of Germany, publishes a statement that Emperor William has sent an important message to President Wilson.

CATCH VICTORIA HINDU WITH DEADLY BOMB

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 8.—Detectives yesterday tracked Hindus to a Government street house and, surprising a dozen of them, found a cleverly made bomb which the Hindus allege was made for a plumbing fixture. Their explanation, however, did not satisfy the detectives, who arrested Gurdit Singh and Dralif Singh, later handing them over to the military authorities.

The cylinder was confiscated and laid before several experts, who pronounced it to be a bomb of the most dangerous type which when filled might, if thrown into a crowd, kill several hundred persons.

GALICIA—WHERE FIGHTING IS IN PROGRESS.

Galicia, where the Russians and Austrians are now engaged—at Przemysl, Jaroslau, according to today's despatches, and recently at Lemberg—is a country with a history. Now a part of Austria, it was at one time part of Poland. Within its bounds are embraced the old kingdoms of Galicia and Lodomeria, the duchies of Auschwitz and Zator and the grand duchy of Cracow. The area of Galici is about 30,000 square miles and its population about 7,000,000, of whom over half are Poles and most of the rest Ruthenians.

Galicia is what is known as crown land of Austria, but enjoys a greater measure of self-government than any other part of the empire. This is due to two reasons, one that Polish is the official language in Galicia and the other that the country is separated from the rest of the empire by the Carpathian mountains, toward which the Austrian forces are now being driven back by the Russians.

Particular interest attaches to Galicia at the present, apart from its being just now one of the chief centres of fighting, by the fact that the czar of Russia has announced his intention of restoring the old kingdom of Poland and giving it self-government under the Russian empire. This would mean the loss of Galicia to Austria and its practical acquisition by Russia.

The thousands upon thousands of Galicians now residing in western Canada, in view of the issue involved, will watch the progress of the war with special interest.

A SCRAP OF PAPER.

In the last issue of the London Times received to hand there is an article on an extract from the address to the German reichstag of the chancellor which is a revelation of the attitude of official Germany to all international agreements, and in particular to that guaranteeing the autonomy of Belgium. The following is its vital passage. After dealing with the diplomatic and military issues, he thus proceeds:

Gentlemen, we are now in a state of necessity, and necessity knows no law. Our troops have occupied Luxemburg, and perhaps are already on Belgian soil. Gentlemen, that is contrary to the dictates of international law. It is true that the French government has declared at Brussels that France is willing to respect the neutrality of Belgium as long as her opponent respects it. We know, however, that France stood ready for the invasion. France could wait, but we could not wait. A French movement upon our flank upon the lower Rhine might have been disastrous. So we were compelled to override the just protest of the Luxemburg and Belgian governments. The wrong—I speak plainly—that we are committing we will endeavor to make good as soon as our military goal has been reached. Anybody who is threatened, as we are threatened, and is fighting for his highest possessions can have only one thought—how he is to hack his way through.

The speech, of which this is an extract, was delivered August 4. On the same day or the day previous there occurred an interview between the chancellor and the British ambassador to Berlin, of which the following is an extract from the white paper tabled in the house of commons on August 6 by the minister of foreign affairs, Sir Edward Grey:

I said that in the same way as he and Herr von Jagow wished me to understand that for strategic reasons it was a matter of life or death to Germany to advance through Belgium and violate the latter's neutrality, so I would wish him to understand that it was, so to speak, a matter of life or death for the honor of Great Britain that she should keep her solemn engagement to do her utmost to defend Belgium's neutrality if attacked. A solemn compact simply had to be kept, or what confidence could any one have in engagements given by Britain in the future.

The chancellor said: But at what price will that compact have been kept? Has the British government thought of that?

I hinted to his excellency as plainly as I could that fear of consequences could hardly be regarded as an excuse for breaking a solemn engagement.

This is from the report of Sir William Goschen, then British ambassador at Berlin. The conversation thus reported was between him and the German chancellor. The chancellor, it is said, not in the report of the ambassador, but in other quarters, flew into a passion and harangued for some twenty minutes on the enormity and the absurdity of Great Britain taking so seriously the "scrap of paper" guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium. "Going to war over a scrap of paper," he said, in astonishment at the thought.

Only "a scrap of paper." The Magna Charta is "only a scrap of paper" signed nearly 700 years ago—the written evidence of the first uprising of the British democracy against absolutism, yet it is today in full force and effect. The Hay-Pauncefote treaty is only "a scrap of paper," yet the congress of the United States honored its provisions recently. The treaty guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium is only "a scrap of paper," yet Britain is today recognizing her obligations thereunder at an enormous expenditure of men and money, while Germany, another of the guarantors, deliberately dishonored her obligations, and in doing so has incurred the contempt for all time of the civilized nations of the world.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

No Doubt of the End

Everything is not always happy in war. Day follows day and no day is like the other. Only the final result counts and of that end no one has any doubt. Almost all Europe and Japan are in arms against Germany. She must succumb, no matter what favors fortune may reserve for her in the course of the struggle.—La Presse.

How Long Will It Last?

Inquiries in England by persons here interested in risks of insurance and the like bring the reply from well informed sources that the war will last at least a year. But an earlier termination may surely result from the moral influence of a suffering world, the strain of which is already apparent in the kaiser's efforts to publicly justify his course.—Toronto Weekly Sun.

The Kaiser's War.

Evidence that it is a kaiser's war and not a people's war, is afforded by the naturalization of Germans going on in British possessions. Wilhelm's move lacks moral force.—Montreal Mail.

The W. C. T. U. will hold an at home at the residence of Mrs. Overend, corner of Stanley and Observatory streets, Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 16, from 3:30 to 6 o'clock.

GERMAN RIGHT HARASSED BY ALLIES

capture and destruction of Paris. The northwest of France lay open to the enemy, abandoned as far south as Abbeville and Amiens and was too lightly held by mixed army corps of French and Algerian troops, with their headquarters at Dumale.

Here was an easy way to Paris.

Always obsessed with the idea that the Germans must come from the east, the almost fatal error of this war, the French had girdled Paris with almost impregnable forts on the east side, from those of Ecouen and Montmorency and the far-flung forts of Chelles and Champigny to those of Susy and Villeneuve, on the outer lines of the triple cordons, but on the west side between PUontoise and Versailles the lines were weak, for during the last three days thousands of men have been making trenches and throwing up ramparts. Only the snake-like Seine, twining into a loop, forms a natural defense to the western approach to the city, none too secure against men who have crossed many rivers in their desperate assault.

But let me describe the new significance of the main German advance. Their right army has struck down to the southeast of Paris through Chateau Thierry to La Ferteous Jouarre and beyond. Their centre army is coming hard down from Troyes, in the department of Aube, and the army on the left has forced the French to evacuate.

Army of Lorraine in Danger.

It would not be right for me to indicate the British or describe the great scenes which are now removed to a position enabling our forces to hold the eastern approach to Paris. It is a wonderful sight to pass the commissariat camp, where among the munitions of war is a park of British aeroplanes which are of valuable importance to the work of reconnaissance.

Looking, therefore, at the extraordinary transformation throughout the field of war in France one thing stands out clearcut. Having been thwarted in their plan to walk into Paris by the enormous forces massed on their flanks, the Germans have adopted an entirely new plan of campaign and have thrust their armies down into the centre of France in order to divide the western armies of the allies from the army on the eastern frontier.

It is a menacing maneuver and it cannot be hidden that the army of Lorraine is in danger of being cut off by the enemy's armies on the left.

Refugees Hurry to Southwest

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BORDEAUX, Sept. 8.—Refugees from Belgium and northern France are flocking to southwest France. The populations of many cities in that section have been almost doubled. The population of Poitiers, ordinarily 20,000 is now 75,000.

KAISER WILHELM WAS SUNK IN NEUTRAL WATERS

(Special Cable to The Daily News and New York Times.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Capt. McPeace of the British steamer Kaipara, which was sunk by the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, admits in an interview today that the British cruiser Highflyer sank the Kaiser Wilhelm in neutral waters, namely, within the coastal limit of Rio Oro, Spanish territory on the west coast of Africa. He added:

"Remember, the Kaiser Wilhelm had been ordered by the Spanish consul out of Las Palmas and had refused to budge for nine days. This in itself is an international offense. Therefore, I contend, we are right to sink her.

This is the first news of the Kaipara. It was one of the several merchantmen captured and sunk by the German liner.

RED CROSS SHIP COULD NOT CARRY TEUTON CREW

Britain and France Said Sailors on American Ship of Mercy Must Not Be of Foe.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Red Cross, the American ship of mercy to carry relief to wounded on European battlefields, will sail from this port Thursday morning. The crew will be made up of Americans or Spaniards—men of neutral nations.

The Red Cross, formerly the Hamburg-American liner Hamburg, was to have begun her voyage today, but those employed on board included a number of Germans and her departure was delayed after the British and French governments had protested against persons of that nationality being among her crew.

Sir Cecil Spring Rice informed the state department late today of the reasons for holding up the vessel. He stated that when the British and French governments notified the United States two weeks ago of their attitude on the sending of a Red Cross ship to their ports it was specifically understood that the crew would be American.

The incident attracted general attention because it foreshadowed similar action on the part of Great Britain and France toward ships which may be purchased by the United States for its merchant marine.

Both governments in expressing their attitude on the neutralization of ships formerly owned by belligerents suggested that the crews of such vessels ought to be Americans; they could not permit sailors of hostile countries to enter their ports under neutral flags.

ENEMIES LAND UNDER GUISE OF AMERICANS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 8, 7:45 p.m.—The British government is adopting stringent regulations in order to keep out of England alien enemies who have heretofore been permitted to land under the guise of Americans whose citizenship was attested by consular certificates granted on the continent.

After Sept. 14 consular certificates will not be accepted as proof of the American citizenship of those arriving from the continent. These persons will not be permitted to land unless they are provided with passports.

This measure has been urged by the American relief committee which has been frequently victimized by fraudulent claimants of American citizenship. The committee says, however, that it is desirous both of protecting its own funds from imposters and of preventing suspicion that the United States is assisting the enemies of Great Britain.

These consular certificates, it is alleged, have been issued wholesale in some of the continental cities without anything approaching an adequate investigation to determine the applicant's right to them.

TEUTONIC BANKER SAYS SOME OF LOUVAIN STANDS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 8, 8:10 p.m.—The following German official statement was received here this evening by the Marconi company:

"Dr. Karl Helfferich, a director of the Deutsche bank, who has returned to Berlin from Belgium, denies the reports of the total destruction of Louvain. He says the entire southern part and some of the western portion of the town are practically undamaged and that the hotel Seville was saved by German soldiers extinguishing flames of surrounding houses.

"Professors of leading German universities declare their intention to renounce all distinction bestowed on them by British universities or learned societies on account of Great Britain's attitude in the war."

GERMAN PRINCE KILLED SCHOOL BOYS JOIN ARMY

(Special Cable to The Daily News and New York Times.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Berliner Tageblatt of Sept. 1 says Prince Wilhelm of Schonaich-Carolath, first lieutenant of the Prussian uhlans, was killed in battle in East Prussia on Aug. 26.

That mere boys are being allowed to enlist is indicated by the following from that paper:

"Younger still than the Konigsberg recruit, Cheyler, aged 14 years 11 months, who enrolled as a volunteer in Konigsberg reserve battalion, is the sophomore, Billert, who until now belonged to the third company of the main military academy. This youthful recruit is 14 years 9 months old."

NATIONAL PATRIOTIC FUND CONTINUES GROWTH

Woolen Company Gives—Hundred and Seventy Thousand Given in Night at Ottawa.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—Contributions to the Canadian patriotic fund acknowledged today include a gift of $10,000 from the Rosamond Woolen company, Almonte, Ont.

At a meeting of Ottawa citizens held tonight to organize a local branch of the National Patriotic Fund association the sum of $177,000 was subscribed as a starter.

The contributions announced included $50,000 from Ottawa city, $20,000 from J. R. Booth, $25,000 from the Bank of Ottawa, $12,500 from E. C. Whitney of Ottawa, a brother of the premier of Ontario; $10,000 from Ahern & Soper and $10,000 from Sir Henry Egan.

The naval service department this morning received an offer from the Gillett Yeast company, Toronto, of 100 cases of yeast for use by the naval defense service. As the practice of the bakers on British vessels is to make their own yeast it is possible that the offer may not be accepted.

SAYS ITALIANS FROM LOST PROVINCE DIED

ROME, Sept. 8.—(Via Paris.)—Despatches received here from Trieste, an Austrian seaport on the Adriatic coast, say that mourning there is general as the 97th and 27th Austrian infantry regiments which lost 40,000 men in Galicia, were composed of Italians from the Istria peninsula in Austria.

PEASANT LED GERMANS INTO TRAP

PARIS, Sept. 8.—Twenty-eight German prisoners, the first seen here, arrived at St. Lazare station today. They had become separated from their regiment and lost their way. They asked a peasant near Meaux if the Germans had taken Paris and how to get there. The peasant replied that he thought Paris had fallen and would conduct them to the right road. When it was reached the Prussians found he was leading them into the British lines.

BANKERS DISPLAY MORE CONFIDENCE

Improved Conditions in London Affect New York—Million in Gold to Ottawa.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—More confidence in the financial situation was expressed by bankers today. This feeling was regarded as a natural reflection of the better conditions reported from London, resulting largely from the success which attended recent negotiations for the payment of New York city's foreign indebtedness.

Direct connection with Paris was made difficult today, but bankers with French connections were completing arrangements for drawing bills on Bordeaux, the temporary seat of the French government.

It was said heavy remittances to that point would be made in the near future. Foreign exchange was slightly easier, rates for cables and demand on London declining about 1¼ per cent but advancing a trifle later in the day. The transfer of $1,000,000 gold to Canada was made by the local agent of a Canadian bank, who declined to disclose the character of the transaction.

There is reason to believe that shipments of the metal from this and other home reserve centres to Ottawa for account of maturing obligations will soon be under way.

Local money conditions were unchanged as to rates, but supply was more limited, last Saturday's bank statement, which was not up to popular expectations, causing some leaders to withdraw from the market.

It is not improbable that New York banks may increase their supply of emergency currency because of the increasing disinclination of interior banks to make loans in this market.

Western railway officials report little change in traffic conditions from a year ago. The volume of general business is said to be even with that period, but miscellaneous tonnage is lighter. An increase of almost $2,000,000 in local exports of general merchandise last week denotes further readjustment of that situation.

CALLS CONTROLLER OF CITY ROUGHNECK

Mayor Martin of Montreal Called Kaiser and Challenged to Duel.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 8.—"All I can say is that he is a roughneck and a person unfit to bear the title of controller," said Mayor Martin this morning, after he had read a personal letter from Controller McDonald. "That individual, McDonald," he said, "will be put in his right place."

McDonald's letter referred to a meeting of the board last Friday when exception was taken to the mayor "ruling the whole roost."

Angry words were passed and afterward the mayor said he would not sit at a meeting until Mr. McDonald apologized for calling him a "schemer."

The following challenge was contained in McDonald's letter to the mayor: "If his honor, the mayor, persists in spinning, on my account, ridiculous yarns, generated by the rapidity of a high speed imagination, I desire to advise him politely and amiably that I will shortly send him my seconds, with special mission to procure for our municipal kaiser the occasion to use his sword at any hour or place he may prefer, against a fearless adversary who will salute him on the field of honor without any weapon whatever."

No Admission Before Hours.

When City Attorney Laurendeau arrived at the city hall this morning at 8:20 o'clock he was stopped at the door by a policeman, who refused to allow him to enter the building until 9 o'clock. This was in conformance with orders recently issued by the mayor forbidding any civic employe admission earlier than 9 a. m.

When Mayor Martin was informed of the incident, he said:

"If any official can properly convince me that he really has important work to do before 9 o'clock, I shall furnish him with a special pass, but I do not think employes should be admitted before that hour, as all they do is to gossip and laugh and smoke cigarettes."

The water will be diverted from the stream at a point about 80 feet from the beginning of the stream and will be used for domestic and irrigation purposes upon the land described as a sub-division of lot 889, group I.

Two candidates were yesterday nominated for the position on the school board made vacant by the death of the late John Hamilton. They were George H. Fraser, carpenter, nominated by Fred Chapman and Ald. I. A. Austin; James H. Wallace, retail merchant, nominated by W. A. Thurman and W. H. Houston and endorsed by H. G. Neelands, A. T. Walley, D. G. Kurtz, Alfred Jeffs, W. J. Toye and George Benwell.

Mr. Fraser has been for several years a resident of Nelson, is president of the trades and labor council, and a member of the carpenters' union. He enters the field as the representative of the trades and labor council.

Mr. Wallace came to Nelson in 1896 and until three years ago was in the men's furnishing business.

The election will take place on Friday.

At a meeting of the hospital board last evening a letter was received from Drs. Rose & Hartin recommending that the maternity hospital be enlarged as it was becoming wholly inadequate. E. H. Smith and A. T. Walley were appointed visiting directors for the month.

CANADIAN FORCE TO LEAVE SECRETLY

Date of Departure of Volunteers Will Not Be Made Known—Will March to Quebec.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VALCARTIER CAMP, Que., Sept. 8.—Everything possible will be done by the authorities to keep the date of the departure of the Canadian expeditionary force a secret. When the troops will leave the mobilization camp is not known officially and when it is known nothing will be said.

The Canadian force will be conveyed across the Atlantic in the same manner as were the British soldiers to France.

Col. Williams, camp commandant, when asked tonight when it was likely that the division would leave for the front, stated that he had received no word.

"It would be inadvisable to make any mention of the date," he said. "Every precautionary measure will be taken in moving the men. We want no word to go across the Atlantic."

Ever since the opening of the camp rumors have spread like wildfire about the day upon which the troops would sail. It was generally understood this would be Sept. 15, or a few days later, but Col. Williams put to rest any of these reports tonight.

Valcartier is about 16 miles from Quebec and instead of carrying the soldiers on special trains over the railway there is no doubt that the division will cover the distance on foot. This will be the last severe march for the men until they reach England or France.

It has also been said that the contingent would be given some training in England before joining the allies on the continent but this is only conjecture. It will be difficult to move such a large body of troops without the matter becoming public property, but it is altogether likely that the press of Canada will be requested to act as did the newspapers of England a few weeks ago, when several British army divisions were taken to France.

The men in training here, many of them without any military knowledge a short time ago, are being rapidly whipped into shape. The review on Sunday showed that they had made vast strides in marching and the shooting, which is far more important, has been excellent, considering conditions during the past few days.

This has been especially true in rapid firing, five rounds in 45 seconds, which is something new to most of the Canadian militiamen. The scores on an average have been particularly fine, said Col. Williams. Great progress has been made.

There are 700 targets in use every day, and today, despite the rain, was no exception.

Artillery in Good Shape.

As the engineers have built three pontoon bridges across the Jacques Cartier river the artillery will be able to begin actual practice in a day or two on the mountainous territory recently purchased by the government. Targets have been erected and everything is in readiness. Col. Morrison of Ottawa, director of artillery, stated today that the artillery, which comprises many of the latest 12, 16 and 18-pound guns is on a war basis and ready to leave at any time.

The batteries have just come from their annual camps at Petawawa and other points and the men are well trained. The horses are of excellent calibre.

"I believe the Canadian artillery is just as well trained as any of the continental batteries," said Col. Morrison. "I have every confidence in this section of the force."

Three field companies of the army medical corps will be taken, one to go with each brigade. The following telegram was received by Col. Hughes from Sir R. L. Borden:

"We return greatly pleased with conditions at camp, wonderful progress made in its organization and splendid appearance of the men paraded yesterday. Please accept our warm congratulations."

The following additional appointments of battalion commanders have been made: Lieut.-Col. W. D. Watson, 8th regiment, Royal rifles, will relieve Lieut.-Col. E. B. Worthington, 3rd.

Rifles Best in World.

Lieut.-Col. R. W. Patterson, 34th Fort Garry horse, will relieve Lieut.-Col. J. G. Rattley, 28th border horse, in the command of No. 6 infantry battalion.

Lieut.-Col. E. G. Hainon, 52nd regiment P. A. V., will assume command of No. 7 infantry battalion.

Major S. S. Sharpe, 34th Ontario regiment, is provisionally appointed second in command of No. 2 infantry battalion.

Hon. Col. Sir Charles Ross, consulting officer, small arms, ammunition, etc., temporarily employed at camp headquarters.

It was officially stated tonight that all the rifles had been issued. They are of the latest type and according to experts, "the finest in the world."

Great haste is being made in issuing clothes and within a few days every battalion will be fully equipped.

Practically every man is now equipped with the regulation tan boots.

Word has been received that a drill squad has been formed in Fruitvale in order to qualify for the next contingent from Nelson, if there should be one.

NURSES WILL GO WITH CONTINGENT

Four Hospitals Are to Be Fitted Up for Canadian Force—Two Will Be in England.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—It is expected that the Canadian force will see fighting in Europe and that it will have casualties.

Arrangements are being made to take care of sick and wounded men who go with the force. Nurses are being selected and hospital equipment gathered. There have been 1,000 applications from young women to be taken as nurses. Only 100 are to go and of these preference will be given to 40 among the applicants who have taken the army medical service training.

It is proposed to establish for the Canadian force either in England or at some safe place on the continent two general hospitals each having 200 beds. These will be at the base. There will also be two stationary hospitals nearer the front, each containing 200 beds, and there will be a clearing house in addition. There will be 32 nurses at the general hospital
