ITALIAN TROOPS FIRMLY ESTABLISHED IN GRADISCA

Progress Is Made at Other Points on Front

HOLD PASS AFTER BLOODY BATTLE

The Austrian Forces Along Isonzo Are Receiving Reinforcements

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, June 11.—An official statement issued tonight says that the Italians are now solidly established in the Austrian city of Gradisca, which is stated has been held by the Italian advanced troops for some days. The full statement, which is signed by Lieut.-Gen. Count Cadorna, chief of staff of the Italian army, follows:

"Some progress was made today at different points along the front. A reconnaisance party beyond Monte Nero found in the gorges recently explored by our forces the wreckage of rifles and machine guns abandoned by the enemy and the bodies of 40 Austrians.

"Enemy forces comprising six battalions coming from Plezzo, in Austria, 9 miles northwest of Gorizia, attempted, according to statements made by prisoners, to take our troops in the region of Monte Nero in the rear. The attempt was frustrated by the energetic resistance and rapid maneuvering of the Bersagllieri and Alpine troops.

"We are now solidly established in Gradisca, which place has been held by our advanced troops for some days."

Italians Win Bloody Fight

The Italians after a bloody struggle have repulsed the new Austrian attempt to recapture Preikopel pass. A tremendous night and day bombardment of the Austrian forts of Santa Lucia and Santa Maria, defending Colmino, is being carried on by the Italians with their heavy guns.

Austrian forces along the Isonzo are receiving more reinforcements from the eastern theatre of war.

Archduke Eugene has arrived at the Austrian front on the Isonzo from Salbach.

The Austrians are reported to have evacuated Pozzacchio after blowing up the fortress. Pozzacchio is east of the Adagia river, east by south of Trent. The Italians already hold Vallarsa, a mile from Pozzacchio.

VIENNA, June 11.—The war office says:

"In the Italian war theatre the day before yesterday the Italian attacks on all fronts were repulsed. A renewed attack against part of the bridgehead at Gorz collapsed under the fire of the Dalmatian landwehr. An enemy attack north of Ronchi was also successful. An artillery combat on the Isonzo front is proceeding.

"On the Carinthian frontier yesterday a strong hostile attack against Predokfel and a minor attack near Volay lake were repulsed.

"In the Tyrol an attack on our positions near Pentelstein by an Italian brigade, which entered near Cortina di Ampizzi, failed. Recent attacks in this district and night engagements near Landro concluded in the retreat of the enemy. Otherwise continual artillery combats and minor skirmishes in which we were successful, took place on the Tyrolean frontier."

A further charge of sedition was laid against him for saying that "in a year the King would be washing dishes for the kaiser." This was dismissed as accused pleaded he was joking and treasonous intent could not be proved.

SOLDIERS ON WAY TO CAMP

Troops Leave Depot Mid Cheers of Crowd

CITIZENS OF NELSON THRONG THE STREETS

Men from Cranbrook and Fernie Join Volunteers Here

What was perhaps the largest crowd that has ever gathered in the history of Nelson witnessed the departure of the 54th battalion for the camp at Vernon yesterday.

When the regiment paraded at the armory, a large number of friends and relatives took advantage of the opportunity afforded to spend a few intimate moments with the boys before they marched away to where the train of 12 cars awaited to take them on the first stage of their journey. Almost all day the doorway of the armory had been blocked by citizens who wished to see as much of their friends as possible on their last day in the city.

Long before the time set for the parade to the station, the sidewalks were lined with citizens waiting to see the soldiers march through the streets of Nelson.

At last they came, swinging down the road, escorted by the Boy Scouts, carrying flags and banners, and accompanied by the bugle band and pipers. Each man carried his bag, and in spite of the lavish provision made by the womenfolk of the city for food for them on the train, many of them had large boxes of provisions, prepared by the hands of personal friends.

Crowd Swarms on Station

The station had been roped off to prevent the crowd blocking the platforms and risking possible injury from the trains, but it was not to be denied the opportunity of getting as near to its friends as possible, and as the troops entered the waiting coaches, the crowd swarmed past the barriers and closed in around the cars.

From the windows, all down the long line of cars the men leaned out, exchanging last messages and hand shakes with their friends below. Old and young, boys and girls, the people surged up and down the platform, endeavoring to get within reaching distance of the outstretched hands. Jokes and chaff mingled with low spoken good-byes; and here and there groups broke into cheers and singing.

Military discipline relaxed somewhat, and in spite of the order that no one was to be allowed to stand on the platforms and steps of the cars, these places of vantage became filled with singing, laughing men. The scene resembled a picnic party off for the day more than a body of men bound on the serious business of soldiering. One laughing fellow assured the crowd that if he could not make Berlin in time to eat his Thanksgiving turkey there, he had it all fixed to have his Christmas plum-pudding, English style, in the German capital.

OPTIMISM REIGNS AT WASHINGTON

Officials Expect That Germany Will Make Favorable Reply—Note to Be Sent to Britain.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Optimism—more pronounced than it has been since the diplomatic correspondence with Germany over the sea zones of war began—was manifest today in official quarters here over the prospect for a peaceful outcome of the pending controversy between Germany and the United States.

The American note to Berlin was interpreted on all sides as decidedly friendly and leaving the way open to a satisfactory solution with honor to both sides.

It was officially stated today that a note soon will be sent to Great Britain and its allies insisting on a change in the operation of the blockade conducted by them so as to conform with the principles of international law forbidding interference with trade in non-contraband articles passing to and from a belligerent country through to a contignous neutral country. This it was generally believed, would be a factor in convincing the German government that the United States would maintain the same vigorous position on the fundamentals in international law in respect to the allies as has been the case in American correspondence with Germany.

Close reading in diplomatic quarters of the American note brought a variety of predictions and views as to the manner in which Germany would reply. There was a general feeling of confidence, however, that Germany would accept some of the several avenues of approach purposely included in the note by the American government so as to make possible a friendly settlement.

FRENCH HAVE BENT THE GERMAN LINE

Counter-attacks Are Repulsed and Allies Have Time to Count Their Booty.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, June 11.—The following official communication was issued this evening:

"Friday we fortified our positions in front of Neuville.

"We continue to inventory the war material captured by us. We have found thus far in the ruins three 77-millimetre field guns, three bomb-throwers and 15 mitrailleuses, which were buried in the ground or damaged; thousands of grenades, 1000 rifles, 800,000 cartridges, incendiary implements, a number of 100-millimetre shells, a large number of engineers' implements and tools, cases containing explosives, and victuals and articles of equipment.

"In the region of the Toutvent farm to the southwest of Hebuterne, we have organized the positions captured by us yesterday. This morning we captured a further 150 prisoners, among them a major. In addition many German wounded have been admitted to our ambulances. The bodies of dead Germans can be counted by the hundreds. We have captured thre more mitrailleuses. We have bent the German line on a length of more than two kilometres and on a depth of one kilometre.

In Close Contact with Foe.

"This morning we completely repulsed a counter-attack by the enemy.

"To the east of Tracy le Mont, in the neighborhood of Quenneveres farm our trenches, which are strongly established, are in immediate contact with those of the enemy. The Germans have not yet counter-attacked. They confine themselves to using their artillery.

"In Champagne, in the region of Beausjour, the enemy has not renewed its attempt against the trenches, the scene of the latest engagements here, which are completely in our hands."

CANADIAN WHEAT ACREAGE IS RECORD

Crop Occupies Total Area of 12,896,000 Acres—Most of It Was Sown This Spring.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, June 11.—"The largest area shown to wheat in Canada," is how the census and statistics branch of the Canadian government describes the present crop in an official bulletin issued today. The bulletin says:

"Wheat is estimated to occupy this year a total of 12,896,000 acres, which is more by 806,000 acres, or 16 per cent than the area sown for 1914 and more by 2,602,100 acres or 25 per cent than the area harvested in 1914, the area sown last year having been reduced by 936,600 acres. As previously reported the area to be harvested to fall sown wheat in Canada is 1,208,700 acres, the balance of 11,687,300 acres having been sown this spring.

"While every province shows an increase in the wheat area it is the three northwestern provinces which preponderate in the national effort to produce more wheat. The total area sown to wheat in these provinces is 15,659,700, an increase of 2,324,300 acres or 25 per cent."

NERLICH NOT GUILTY OF TREASON; VERDICT

Judge Emphasizes Need for Absolutely Fair Consideration of Evidence — Must Have Corroboration.

TORONTO, June 11.—Emil Nerlich, charged with treason, was late this afternoon pronounced not guilty by a jury after nearly six hours' deliberation. An attempted demonstration in the courtroom was quickly squashed. Nerlich was charged with assisting alien enemies to leave Canada.

Mr. Justice Sutherland in his address to the jury said that no one should be found guilty unless it could be shown that he had a guilty mind. The motive must be considered. No extraneous matter must influence the mind of the jurors.

"You are not here representing the sentiment of the community as one of the counsel stated yesterday. That sentiment is not based on evidence you have heard here. You will decide the case on the facts set before you."

The fact that accused was a member of a German relief commission should not lead them to infer that he was aiding enemies in a general way, the judge said.

"What the crown charges is that Emil Nerlich assisted the enemy by giving money to a German soldier to start him for Germany—that a trained officer might be given to the enemy."

The judge added that if the design was to assist Zirgow to reach the Germany army when the money was paid for him the act would be a violation of the law. The mere giving of money to Zirgow to go to New York to get work, if that was the honest and real object of the accused would not be within the scope of the section of the law concerning treason.

"No man shall be convicted on treason on the evidence of one witness," he said, "unless it is corroborated in some material particular by evidence implicating the accused. Any evidence to convict of treason must be perfectly plain and direct.

"I instruct you that Zirzow is to be treated in this case practically as an accompilce of the accused and his evidence is to be scrutinized with like care and consideration."

RUSSIAN COUNTER STROKE IN GALICIA SUCCESSFUL

Germans Expected to Suffer Terrific Losses

FEW OF TEUTONS WHO CROSS RIVER ESCAPE

Germanic Allies Pressed Back Directly South of Lemberg

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, June 11.—The success of the Russian counter-thrust in Galicia naturally has caused gratification and relief and now military experts expect that there will be a repetition in Galicia of that which occurred before Warsaw last winter when the Germans suffered enormous losses in their efforts to break the Russian front on the Bzura and Rawka rivers. As on that occasion, Russian reinforcements are endeavoring to force back a portion of Gen. Linsingen's command which had crossed the Dniester river near Zuarawana before it could be strengthened and entrenched.

The German and the Austrian official reports make no mention of the fighting in this region, but judging from an account issued in Petrograd the Austro-Germans must have suffered heavy losses to have lost 17 guns and 7000 prisoners. In fact, military men express the belief that few of those who crossed the river could have escaped.

The Russians also claim that further up the Dniester, directly south of Lemberg, they have pressed their opponents back and have taken another 2000 prisoners, while near Mosciska, to the east of Przemysl they say the Germans suffered severely when they attacked the Russian position.

In eastern Galicia and in Bukowina the Russians continue to fall back to the Dniester under the Austrian pressure.

Teutons Still Attack

VIENNA, June 11.—The following official statement was issued tonight:

"In southeast Galicia and in Bukowina the Teutonic allies' armies prosecuted successfully an attack against the Russian forces which still are standing south of the Dniester river. The troops of Gen. Pflanzer's army drove the enemy from positions north of Otynia near Obertyn and Horodenka and are now advancing toward the Dniester on the left bank of which the Russians are offering resistance. East of Czernowitz at points where the Russians are still standing on the river Pruth our troops after a short engagement repulsed an enemy attack.

"Otherwise the situation here is unchanged."

CONSIDER NOTE FIRM BUT PACIFIC

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, June 11. — The American note to Germany, which is considered "firm but pacific" divided the interest of the British public today with the successful Russian counter thrust against the Austro-German lines in Galicia. When placards of the evening newspapers announced the receipt of the note there was a general rush for copies, as the text had been anxiously awaited. It arrived too late, however, for comment in the evening editions.

MEN OF GLASGOW REFUSE TO ENLIST

John Burns, Recently Returned from Scotland, Says Conscription Sure in British Isles.

After a 13-months visit to Scotland, John Burns of the firm of John Burns & Sons, contractors, has returned to Nelson, accompanied by rMs. Burns.

The greater part of the time was spent by Mr. and Mrs. Burns in Glasgow, where, according to Mr. Burns, manufacturers were never so busy. Every factory is working day and night, Sundays included, and the merchants are reaping a harvest, as a high rate of wage prevails. The reason for this condition is that vast quantities of war materials must be turned out at high speed.

Although Glasgow has sent a large number of soldiers to the front, Mr. Burns states that there are a great many able bodied men there who absolutely refuse to enlist. These are mostly shop keepers and men who are benefiting financially by the money which is being freely spent in the city.

Mr. Burns claims that it is men of this stamp who are forcing conscription on the British Isles. In his opinion and as one who has had an opportunity of studying conditions, conscription will surely be resorted to in Great Britain.

SERVIANS MARCH ACROSS ALBANIA

Hope to Seize Port—Montenegrins Also Have Seaport in View—Follow Italy's Example.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, June 11—Following the example of the Italians who occupied Aubona, an Albanian port on the straits of Otranto, the Servians are marching across northern Albania toward the port of Durazzo while the Montenegrins are making for the port of Alessio, still further south For some time Albania has been overrun by bands which it is alleged were organized by Austrians and Turks to harrass the Servians, and in fact these bands have more than once invaded the Servians' territory. The opinion is generally expressed here that these occupations probably will spell the end of Albanian integrity.

GERMAN PRISONERS TAKEN TO VERNON

Soldiers of 54th Battalion Supply Guard for Aliens Who Will be Interned.

On the same train which carried the 54th battalion on their way to Vernon, was a party of enemy aliens from Grand Forks, Rossland and Trail. They are being taken under guard to the camp where they will be interned.

$8000 REGISTERED LETTER STOLEN

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., June 11—The sudden disappearance of an envelope containing $8000 which was sent by registered mail Wednesday by the local branch of the Royal bank to the Thessalon Lumber company and which has not yet reached its destination is giving the local postal authorities much concern.

It is said that the mailbag containing the money had been tampered with. Other mail arrived at the postoffice safely but the envelope containing the money did not. No trace of the thief or thieves has yet been found.

HUGE GERMAN FORCES ARE ATTACKING RUSS TROOPS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, June 11.—The Mail's correspondent at Petrograd telegraphs that in addition to 1,000,000 German troops pressing toward Lemberg from the west there are 300,000 moving against the Dniester line in the hope of attacking the city simultaneously from the south.

He calls attention to the greatness of Germany's forces on all fronts and says that nowhere upon the Galician front or in Poland do the Germans appear to be short of men or munitions. In the Shavli district, where the Russians have been gradually driving the Germans back, the forces have been increased to about 180,000 men. The hope cherished by optimistic observers that the German government already has drawn upon all its resources is illusory, says the correspondent., Out of 9,000,000 available Germans and 6,000,000 available Austrians, he says, not more than 3,000,000 as yet have been put even temporarily out of action.

It is true, he adds, that their losses have been heavy and that even the best troops show signs of occasional exhaustion, but the gaps are filled immediately and the line presses on. The correspondent does not regard Russia's position as serious. When the pressure ceases the Russians will quickly recover Galicia, but at present it is difficult to maintain a stand in the face of the heavy German guns.

CANADIAN SECOND DIVISION NOW ALL IN FRANCE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, June 11.—The infantry regiments of the second Canadian overseas division are now all in France, according to an announcement of Major-Gen. Hughes tonight. The division is under the command of Major-Gen. Sam Steele of Winnipeg.

It is thought that some of these troops will be some little time at the base before being moved forward to the firing line.

TRAIL POLICE DISCOVER CONSPIRACY OF AUSTRIANS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROSSLAND, B. C., June 11.—With the arrest of John Tomich, an Austrian resident of this city, yesterday afternoon, following the detention of another Austrian from Trail, the authorities have discovered an organized plot hatched by alien enemies to secure access to the United States and from American ports to sail to the old country. While Tomich has been under surveillance by the police for a considerable time the evidence against him was secured by chance when Mike Andrews was tried on Wednesday night at Trail charged with stealing fuse. In his possession was a letter from Pilenda, 5405 North Forty-Ninth street, Tacoma, which directed him to Tomich as a man capable of directing him to evade the authorities in crossing the border. The letter, written in Austrian, was perused by the Trail police, who quickly detected familiar names, such as Northport, Marcus, Rossland, etc. In addition the name of the man Matesic appeared, being the name of an Austrian who made a getaway from Trail some time ago, since the outbreak of the war.

Suspicion was aroused and a translation of the letter obtained.

The police for some time have been aware of aliens getting across the border, and from explicit directions contained in the letter regarding the whereabouts of immigration officers and diagrams showing bridges guarded by soldiers, it is evident the plans have been worked many times previously. The route followed by escaping aliens is by trail to Newport, Wash., thence to Marcus and Meyers Falls, where agents meet them, the object being the recruiting of Austrians. Lists of numbers of men who were circularized and canvassed to return to fight for Austria are understood to be in the hands of the police and the internment of many is likely. At the present time many Austrians are working in Rossland mines. Trouble was feared when war was declared by Italy, as the Italian element is strong. The sentiment against enemy aliens is growing more bitter daily, many men protesting against working side by side with them.

SOLDIERS ON WAY TO CAMP

with the cars on the far side of the platform, and joined in the songs of the men in the coaches. The Boy Scout troops, drawn up in a body near the first car, with the bugles and brass band, helped to swell the songs with which the crowd encouraged the departing soldiers.

Presently the train bearing the men from Cranbrook and Fernie appeared round the curve. Under the command of Major C. P. Pollen, 265 soldiers arrived by boat from these two points, entraining at the dock, and bringing with them their mascot, a huge St. Bernard dog named Bruce, who stood in the door of the baggage car and barked in unison with the cheers of the men. The appearance of the train was the signal for a burst of cheering from the Nelson crowd, which was answered by the men from the east.

The two trains were linked together and welcomes and farewells were exchanged in the same breaths. Men who had never seen one another before wished each other luck and girls exchanged greetings with boys in the cars quite unknown to them, but what matter, were they not all soldiers going out to fight in the same great cause? The spirit of unity dominated the people and the great crowd joined in making the occasion one long to be remembered in the history of Nelson.

As the time drew near for the train to pull out, the band broke into the strains of the National Anthem, and with bared heads the men in the crowd as well as the women and children sang the words, while the soldiers raised their hands to the salute and kept them there until the last notes had died away. Then of course "Tipperary" was sung and followed by "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," lead by the bands. Then came more cheering, and with a warning blast from the engine the train began to move. Hands were stretched out for a last clasp, last moment messages were shouted and numbers ran beside the moving cars, trying to keep near their friends for one more word.

PRINCE FALLS AT HEAD OF SQUADRON

Grand Duke Constantine of Russia Is Again Bereaved—Poison Gases Employed.

LONDON.—"During the recent fighting in Galicia," says the Morning Post's Petrograd correspondent, "Prince Bagratio Mouchransky, who a couple of years ago married the Princess Tatiana, eldest daughter of Grand Duke Constantine, fell at the head of his squadron of the Cavalier Guards. This was the Grand Duke's second bereavement, his fourth son, Prince Oleg, having been killed on the Niemen in October."

Smoke and Poison Gases.

"In the fighting on the Bzura-Rawka sector on Sunday evening," the correspondent says, "the Germans along a twenty-mile front piled the straw linings of their trenches and timbers and all kinds of debris, which had been well watered with Mose. These piles were all lighted simultaneously, giving forth incredible volumes of dense smoke. Thereupon a tremendous artillery fire began from the German positions, and following up on the rolling clouds of smoke came a German attacking column, with muffled faces, toward the Russian position. At many points where the trenches were too close together for the effective use of the bonfires, bombs like biscuit boxes were thrown into the Russian lines. These emitted dense poisonous fumes."

SETTLERS ASKED TO AID IN FOREST PROTECTION

VICTORIA, B.C.—It has been said that as a community, the settlers of British Columbia co-operate in forest protection work to a greater degree than in any other part of Canada or the States.

In view of this, the minister of lands has instructed the district foresters to distribute a circular letter embodying the regulations concerning fire permits, giving rules for guidance when burning slash or brush in land clearing operations and information as to what should be done if fire breaks out.

The importance of care with fire is clearly set out, together with an appeal for the help of every citizen. The letter gives facts showing the necessity for adequate fire protection to the timber industry and the importance to the province of that industry, an industry which in ordinary times contains half the capital, employs half the labor and pays half the wages distributed in British Columbia.

BONEHEADS ALIKE

Shaefer Says Most Ivory-Tipped Moves Due to Trying New Stunts

Germany Schaefer has advanced an idea worth some comment, says an eastern exchange. According to Schaefer, most bonehead plays, so called, were made by ball players who were trying to pull something off the beaten path.

"A ball player who goes out and tries to make some play out of the ordinary frequently falls down," says the game's leading comedian, talking seriously. "He may have had a legitimate chance to make good; the attempt may have been one to be commended. But if he fails he is promptly labeled a bonehead because he failed to work along old-established lines. The spectators, through force of habit under certain situations, expect to see a certain play made, and when something else is tried and this something else fails, they immediately decide that the player's dome is composed of concrete or marble. The player who does not think much will make few bonehead plays, because he will only try the routine. And if it doesn't work out it is merely an error."

ANXIOUSLY AWAITING SEPARATION MOVEMENT

"Everything in the Philippines depends on the future of the Jones bill for self-government of the group," according to Mrs. V. L. Welch, wife of a lawyer at Manila, who formerly held an important position with the government and was one of those affected by the displacement of Republican appointees when the Democratic administration came into power .

"It is surprising in Manila how the stores are showing the effect of the uncertainty in the political situation. The storekeepers appear to be unwilling to replenish their stocks and fear that if the Filipino government is set up the Americans will leave the country, with the exception of a few who have extensive commercial interests."

Mrs. Welch stated that the method adopted to get rid of officials appointed by the Taft and Roosevelt administrations was to make their position so uncomfortable by appointing Filipinos over them, that resignation was the only course open and in that way the governor had carried out the wishes of Washington without incurring the odium of wholesale dismissals.

She said it was due to the uncertainty rather than to the European war that financial conditions in the islands were so bad at this time, the crops on the whole having been good and as a matter of fact the group was feeling less the pressure of economical conditions than the United States itself, but this political question outweighed everything else.

She wished, however, to state that on the whole the Filipinos in the assembly had behaved fairly well with their extended powers but it was freely stated that once self-government was conceded, conditions would be made unbearable for the bulk of the American residents who had made their homes in the country since the annexation.

OARS MEN ARE NOT HURT BY ROWING

Expert Says That With Proper Training No Heart Enlargement Can Be Found

The result of research regarding the effects of rowing upon the hearts of college oarsmen has been made public by Roger I. Lee, professor of hygiene at Harvard university, says an exchange. The outcome of experiments conducted by Professor Lee would appear to indicate that the danger of "athletic heart" from rowing has been exaggerated. With the assistance of other members of the Harvard staff, Professor selected three squads of oarsmen, consisting of 16 freshmen crew candidates and 10 graduates who rowed during their undergraduate days and following graduation. After several months of tests, examinations, X-ray heart protographing and other experiments, Professor Lee sums up his preliminary report as follows:

"The hearts in the varsity and graduate groups are very slightly larger than the average figures of different classes of individuals and slightly larger than the hearts of a group of freshmen of nearly the name general build, height and weight. In view of the increase in the diameter of the chest and in view of the increased muscular development it seems reasonable to assume that the slight difference in the size of the heart is purely a difference of development; and it seems unfair, at least on the present evidence, to attribute to rowin gany permanent enlargement of the heart.

"In other words, no evidence has been discovered in the study of this group of 42 cases that would tend to show that the present system of inter-collegiate rowing, with a four-mile race and with a long preliminary training period, causes any permanent damage to the heart, particularly, as has been the case at Harvard, where only organically sound students are permitted to participate and are kept under medical supervision. Futhermore, rowing persisted in by college oarsmen for an average of over five years after graduation fails to show that the size of the heart is affected."

WORLD'S GREATEST KIDNEY REMEDY

"Fruit-a-tives" Have Proved Their Value In Thousands of Cases

WONDERFUL RECORD OF A WONDERFUL CURE

Only Remedy That Acts On All Three Of The Organs Responsible For The Formation Of Uric Acid In The Blood.

Many people do not realize that the Skin is one of the three great eliminators of waste matter from the body. As a matter of fact, the Skin rids the system of more Urea (or waste matter) than the Kidneys. When there is Kidney Trouble, Pain In The Back and Acrid Urine, it may not be the fault of the kidneys at all, but be due to faulty Skin Action, or Constipation of the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" cures weak, sore, aching Kidneys, not only because it strengthens these organs but also because "Fruit-a-tives" opens the bowels, sweetens the stomach and stimulates the action of the skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Joshua Kingham, president of the Victoria baseball club, states that after July 4 he will cut his squad down to 13 men.

Ty Cobb, the heavy hitting outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, leads the American league in drawing bases on balls. Cobb has drawn 37 complimentaries this season.

Sunday baseball is proving a great success in Calgary. Last Sunday one of the largest crowds ever attending a ball game in Calgary turned out to witness a city league contest.

Hans Wagner and Larry Lajoie are fielding as well this season as many of the younger players in baseball. The veterans have not forgotten how to use the bat, either, as Lajoie is hitting .316 and Wagner a little below the .300 mark.

Red Donihee and George Roberts, two eastern professional lacrosse players, more than made good in the first game they played at the coast. Each of Con Jones' new recruits made four goals and materially helped Vancouver to win the game.

SPORTING NOTES.

Harry Lord, formerly of the Chicago Americans, has been appointed manager of the Buffalo Federals in place of Larry Schafly, who was released.

There is a full sized feud on between Manager McGraw of the New York Giants and Manager Herzog of the Cincinnati Reds. McGraw states that the Reds will finish farther down in league standing than ever before and Herzog comes back with the statement that it will be impossible to finish up lower than the Giants.

TRAIL DEFEATS ROSSLAND

(Special to The Daily News.)

TRAIL, B. C., June 11.—The Trail football team defeated the Rossland team Wednesday 3 to 1 after a well contested game.

"That was a splendid paper you read at the club yesterday afternoon."

"Did you like it?"

"Very much. I wish my husband could write one as good for me."

NORTHWESTERN MEN ARE SLATED FOR THE MAJORS

Several Players Will Break into Fast Company at close of Present Season.

VANCOUVER—Several players will go up to faster company at the close of the present season. With a shrinkage in the gate receipts, managers in the league are more or less dependent upon the sale of players to bring the books to a right balance. Many a poor season from the gate standpoint has been made a profitable one by deals with the big leaguers, and more than ever Northwestern managers are clearing out seasoned timber to make room for the young blood which may be developed into saleable material.

When Bob Brown of the Vancouver club had to cut down his outfield, the axe was balanced between Mike Wottell and Jules Pappa. It fell on Wottell because Pappa is younger and a deal is now pending between Brown and one of the big league clubs for his purchase at the end of the season. Wottell who has passed from the majors to the minors is no longer a negotiable prospect.

Other youngsters with the Vancouver team are being trained for passages to the big noise and three at least of them will blossom forth at the end of the season with tags for the great show.

What is true of Vancouver is also true of other clubs in the circuit. Realizing the monetary value of youngsters with the punch, managers are going to almost any length to help the prospects. The Northwestern league this season should develop the biggest crop of youngsters for the big league in the history of the game.

Mr. Jackson—De doctor dun tell me, Chloe, dat if Ah ain't careful Ah'll have to be spendin' twenty-four hours a day in bed.

Mrs. Jackson—Huh! Dat would jest be addin' a couple ob hours a day to yo' regular occupation!

"Mamma, I'm afraid papa was pretty slow when we was a young man."

"Perhaps he was. He always paid his debts and used good English and knew nothing about cigarettes and never saw a taxicab and hadn't any clubs, and was able to support a wife before he married. I guess he was pretty slow."

GALLANT CAPTAIN'S DEATH

How Capt. Brotherhood of Montreal died is told in a letter received by two of his sisters in Stratford from the chaplain of the 14th battalion. It says:

"Capt. Brotherhood was in the trenches in that terrible attack which began on April 22. A shell burst near him, wounding him very severely in the back and I think, giving him other wounds as well.

FOUGHT HUNS WITH FISTS

15,000 Canadians Battled Against 150,000 Germans at Langemarck

Private H. J. Murney, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Murney of Toronto, and grandson of the late Capt. Murney, who is commemorated by a military owner at the entrance of the harbor at Kingston, gives a graphic description of the battle at Langemarck.

Writing of the charge and how the men fought, he says: By this time the Germans were quite close and their rifle-fire swept the ground and the fellows kept dropping here and there as they advanced. We helped to carry them in and equipped ourselves with bayonets, etc. (as we had left the billet). The fellows in the trenches had to extend out and fill in the trenches the French had vacated, and although our line was thin and they poured showers of shrapnel on us, while our own batteries were out of action (it was an awful one-sided fight), we immediately took the offensive along the line were the Germans had advanced and in spite of the fact that they had used hot oil, gas, bombs and every dirty means of fighting, we managed to push them back a hundred yards. It was that night Capt. Drummond and Major Nosworthy sacrificed their lives trying to rally the French and the same night the Tenth and Sixteenth made such a gallant bayonet charge over 200 yards of open ground which was swept by machine-gun and rifle-fire and succeeded in retaking the guns (that were not easily lost.

He declares that the German advance was a big surprise. The men closed in. The shells burst almost as soon as they left the guns. Following this they closed in more, and finally fought with their fists.

He with others were sitting in a brick oven when it was blown partly to pieces. A barn near was set on fire, and later the stores and ammunition were going. The Canadians in action would not number 15,000 against 150,000 Germans, and the rifles were by no means a success. Most of the fellows worked the butt with the assistance of an entrenching tool, or the heel of their boot. We have nearly all got Lee-Enfield's now. All the regiments did good work and got an equal share of fighting.

EVERY FIRST BALL WAS CALLED STRIKE

SEATTLE.—Besides chalking up his sixth straight win, Pat Eastley, former Portland and Salt Lake pitcher, in Sunday's game against Victoria established what is believed to be a record unique in baseball annals. Eastley served up a strike with the first ball pitched to every batter that faced him and each of the Victoria batters let the umpire call it without an effort to connect with the ball.

WALTER JOHNSON HAS SIGN ON TYRUS COBB

DETROIT—Walter Johnson has faced Cobb in the capacity of pitcher just 133 times, and of that many times at bat the champion batsman of the American league has been sent back to the bench 109 times hitless, the gentleman from Georgia failing to swat the ball in his usual consistent manner when facing the consistent Mr. Johnson. So Walter Johnson has the honor of being about the only hurler to hold the fiery Cobb, the champion batsman of the Tigers and the world, in subjugation. In the 133 times that Cobb has faced the Washington star he made 31 base hits, 9 runs; just six of the hits were better than singles, consisting of three doubles and three triples. These figures give Cobb a batting average for the eight seasons he has maintained a calling acquaintance with Mr. Johnson of .233.

"Now's the time to spring that new gown on pa."

"Why? Is he in a good mood?"

"The best. I just heard him bragging that he played the best golf of his life yesterday afternoon."

NURSE'S KIDNEY COMPLAINT

Cured by Dr. Cassell's Tablets After Operations Failed.

She was too weak to walk alone.

In frightful pain for hours at a time.

Had undergone two operations.

Faced with a third operation she took

DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS

And was Cured.

Two years ago Nurse Dowdeswell, of 37, Alfred-street, Gloucester, England, wrote to say that Dr. Cassell's Tablets had cured her of acute kidney trouble, and saved her from operation, and she now tells her story for the benefit of fellow sufferers in the Dominion. She says:

"I am pleased to say that I have had the best of health since I told you of my cure by Dr. Cassell's Tablets some two years ago. People remark on how well I look. When I think of what I suffered before I knew of Dr. Cassell's Tablets, I feel I can never sufficiently praise your splendid medicine. Kidney trouble had reduced me to such a state of helplessness that I could not walk alone. I had undergone two operations, and taken endless medicine; but nothing helped me. Often I was in frightful pain, pain that lasted for hours at a time. I was also a martyr to dyspepsia, and so weak and spiritless that I used to wish I could die and be done with suffering. Although, as Nurse Dowdeswell.

I have said, I was twice operated on for kidney trouble I got no relief at all. I was urged to undergo a third operation on my left kidney, but by that time I was taking Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and the benefit was so apparent that I refused the operation, and persevered with the Tablets. Then I mended rapidly. I had no more pain; the dyspepsia, too, was cured and I began to gain flesh. In a remarkably short time I was thoroughly well and strong. Now, if ever I feel a little run down—and my work as a nurse is sometimes very trying—I just take a dose or two of Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and they never fail to set me up again. They are just splendid."

That is the testimony of a trained nurse. That such a lady should praise Dr. Cassell's Tablets is sure evidence of their curative value.

Dr. Cassell's Tablets put new life and vigour into the kidneys by strengthening the nerves that control kidney action. That is why Dr. Cassell's Tablets cure even very severe cases. Here is another instance which further emphasises the extraordinary healing and vitalising powers of the great British remedy, Dr. Cassell's Tablets.

ACUTE KIDNEY PAINS

Made Her Life a Torture.

Mrs. Ada Elliott, 6, Russell Grove, Regent Park-road, Coventry-road, Birmingham, England, says: "I first of all noticed that something was wrong with me when I wanted to stay in bed beyond my usual time. When I got up I trembled from head to foot, and cruel pains caught me in the small of my back. My head ached fit to split, and I had no heart or energy for anything. I had the best advice, and was told that my kidneys were affected. Medicine after medicine was tried, but no matter what I took or did the grinding pain went on. All food disagreed with me until I got to dread meal-times coming round.

"My skin was of a sickly, unhealthy colour, and puffy rims formed round my eyes, and I dragged out the miserable days as best I could. All I wanted was rest, and to be free from the constant pain which was tearing the life out of me.

"The headaches and backaches became worse and worse, until there were days and days when I could hardly stir. I got very little sleep at nights, and this added to my sufferings. I was completely worn out, for my nerves went all to pieces. A few months ago I read a report of Dr. Cassell's Tablets having cured a long-standing case of kidney trouble and nervous prostration. I started taking the tablets at once, and am delighted to tell you that I am now cured. The wretched headaches and grinding backaches left me, and my health is now splendid."

LARGEST SALE IN BRITAIN.
Popularity Now World-Wide.

These cures are real cures, complete and lasting, and the accounts related, true beyond all question, are given out of sheer gratitude for new health, strength, and vitality brought about by Dr. Cassell's Tablets. This genuine and thoroughly tested remedy is now in world-wide repute for Nervous Breakdown, Nerve Failure, Infantile Weakness, Neurasthenia, Sleeplessness, Anæmia, Kidney Trouble, Dyspepsia, Stomach Disorder, Wasting, Palpitation, and they are specially valuable for nursing mothers and girls approaching womanhood. All druggists and storekeepers throughout the Dominion sell Dr. Cassell's Tablets at 50 cents. People in outlying districts should keep Dr. Cassell's Tablets by them in case of emergency. A free sample will be sent on receipt of 5 cents for mailing and packing, by the sole agents for Canada, H. F. Ritchie and Co., Ltd., 10, M'Caul-street, Toronto, Ont.

GODSPEED TO 54th HEARTFELT WISH OF DISTRICT

It was with feelings of pride colored by regret at their departure that the people of Kootenay and Boundary yesterday wished Godspeed to the 1,000 splendid fellows of the 54th battalion who left on the first stage of their journey toward the field of honor.

The people of Kootenay and Boundary give place to none in the depth of their appreciation of the unselfish patriotism of the soldiers who have volunteered as free men to help fight the battle of the Empire.

The people of Kootenay and Boundary glory in the splendid spirit of cheerfulness and manly courage with which the 54th battalion goes forth to take part in the sternest war that the world has ever seen. They know that the "boys" will never falter in the hour of trial, that on the field of battle they will bear themselves with the gallantry and firm endurance by which the Canadian troops have proved themselves worthy of the magnificent traditions of the British Empire.

To every one of the members of the 54th the people of Kootenay and Boundary wish good luck and a safe return.

ITALIAN OFFENSIVE BEGINS TO BENEFIT ALLIES

Already the activity of the Italian armies along a wide front is beginning to tell in favor of that country's allies.

The capture of Gradisca and Monfalcone, cities within a short distance of Triest, has drawn Austrian troops to that region from the Russian arena and the vigorous offensive which is being conducted by the Italians against Trent and in other quarters can hardly fail soon to have a similar effect.

If Austria's southern provinces are overrun by hostile forces it will weaken the morale of the Austrian people to a much greater extent than did the occupancy of most of Galicia by the Russians. For that reason the Teutonic general staff will make a great effort to keep the Italians on their own soil.

CONDITIONS IN GERMANY ARE WORSE THAN CITIES SHOW

A Swiss who has returned from a lengthy tour through the country districts of Germany declares that appearances in the big cities, such as Berlin and Frankfort, give an entirely false impression as to the real situation.

He found that the working classes, the farmers and business men had lost their enthusiasm for the war, that they believed Germany had no longer any possibility of gaining anything by it and that they desired only that it should end. Women who had taken the places of men workers were being paid starvation wages, food had increased greatly in cost, many poor people consumed their allowance of bread too quickly and had to go hungry for days while the complaint was frequently heard from the people that they were being lied to and deceived. Distrust of the government he found to be growing.

The end of the war may yet be hastened by internal troubles in Germany although most competent observers seem to believe that the smouldering fires of discontent will not break into open revolt until after the war.

RIDICULOUS GERMAN-AMERICAN PEACE PLOT

When Hon. Frank O. Smith, member of congress for Maryland, proposed in the house of representatives some months ago that the United States should offer an example of good international feeling to the world by ceding the Alaska panhandle to Canada some suspected that there was an Ethiopian in the woodpile.

The Ethiopian shows himself in a further contribution from Mr. Smith—should it be Schmidt?—which is being sent broadcast over the continent.

Mr. Smith has a plan for peace and declares that America can set it in motion by ceding the panhandle to Canada and by offering to conclude an alliance with Britain, France and Germany.

He contends that Canada, eager to acquire the panhandle, would "put forth a plea for peace which Britain could not disregard, for fear of disgruntling her most important colony." These terms of peace which Mr. Smith expects Canadians to clamor for include the partition of Belgium between France and a German-controlled Holland, the formation under German rule of a Polish province, the retention by Germany of part of Alsace-Lorraine, the German acquisition of Luxemburg, the retention by Austria-Hungary of Trieste, Istria and Dalmatia, a union of Servia and Austria-Hungary and the giving of control of the Dardanelles to Turkey and Greece.

Canada would not favor peace on such terms if the United States offered it all the territory north of the Mason and Dixon line. Mr. Smith, or Schmidt, further shows his hand by the declaration that the German-Americans could "assure the permanent greatness of the Fatherland" by supporting the gift of the panhandle and the proposed alliance.

Good luck, 54th battalion.

By planting a record acreage of wheat this year the Canadian farmers have carried out a patriotic duty. It is gratifying that crop prospects promise that they will be well recompensed for their enterprise.

Hon. Frank O. Smith, or Schmidt, of Maryland who thinks he might be able to weaken Canada's support of the British Empire in its fight for life by dangling before her the offer of the gift of the Alaskan panhandle should guess again.

Some day Canada may negotiate with the United States for the acquirement of the Alaskan panhandle, which would be of great value to this province, but it will not do so in furtherance of any pro-German peace schemes.

The leaving of the men of the 54th battalion will be sincerely regretted at every point in Kootenay and Boundary where recruits have been stationed. The boys have proved themselves good fellows in every sense of the word.

When the time comes for Great Britain to sit in judgment on the kaiser, Will Irwin, American author, hopes that she will grant him "not the sword, which is a king's death, nor the bullet, which is a soldier's death, but that she will hang him by the neck until he is dead for the vulgar crime of murder."

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING.

Italy.

Sentimentalists are not directing Europe's forces and Italy was in the hard position of choosing (1) to join with her allies against the enemies and be reconciled to Austrian aggrandizement at her expense; or, (2) to stand aloof and at the conclusion of the war, whatever the result, find herself again isolated and without gain; or, (3) to follow simply the direction of her own interests and gain what she might. Any one of these three courses was full of peril. One had to be chosen.—Chicago Daily Tribune.

Training Soldiers.

Mr. Edison is reported as expressing the opinion that we ought not to keep and train a large army but to have the equipments for one always on hand. He points to the excellent work of the British volunteers and declares that training does not amount to much in these days. The famous inventor is labor under a misapprehension of which he could quickly rid himself by a glance through the infantry drill book of our army, and the "field service regulations." Training of right kind is highly necessary to the making of the modern soldier, but is not the old kind which aimed chiefly at clock work precision in ceremonial evolutions.—New York Sun.

High Explosives Necessary.

Experience has taught us many things—experience gained in the hardest of all schools in the district of continuous and exhausting fighting, protracted now through many arduous months. One thing certainly we learnt, that in the existing form of trench warfare shrapnel, though in certain cases effective enough, is not half so damaging to the enemy as high explosive shells. The reason is plain. We can search fields and plains, and even woods and forests with shrapnel of a low trajectory which does a vast amount of execution. But if we have to deal with a series of trenches, shelters, and dug-outs high explosives are absolutely necessary to destroy the advance trenches, with all their panoply of wire entanglements, and prevent the second and third trenches from pouring a deadly fire on the assailants.—London Daily Telegraph.

RED CROSS NOTES.

GERMAN NEWSPAPER REBUKES GERMANY

"Why Did She Not Protest Before Lusitania Sailed?" It Asks.

Referring to Germany's reply to the American note, the New Yorker Volkzeitung says:

"Germany appears to take the stand that two cannon were under the decks of the Lusitania. We have heard that affidavits are being prepared in New York to support this contention. But on the American side the claim is made that only mounted cannon place a ship in the class of an auxiliary cruiser. If the German government knew that the Lusitania was a converted cruiser why did it not protest to the United States government on the ground of a violation of the laws?"

GERMANS MISLED BY PUBLICITY BUREAU

How far the extraordinary confidence of the German nation is buoyed up by the false reports that are given out to it may be gathered from the following extract from a London newspaper:

The confidence of the German nation is something colossal and, whatever may happen, whether the allies push them back as far as the Rhine, or even over it, the press is so well organized, the publicity bureau of the general staff as are all other departments, such a perfect machine, that there is no question of the general public waking up to the real state of affairs.

The difference between the reading public of England and Germany is that however much you tell a Britisher about the war, he always thinks that many things are kept back—whether rightly or wrongly is not my province to express. He will always shout for more. The German system is different.

The press department of the general staff meets three or four times a week the representatives of the press. Apparently all the cards are laid on the table (I know because I attended one of these meetings, though unbeknown to the powers that be.) Reverses are explained sucesses are described at length. The general policy is as every journalist will be able to confirm, "We have nothing to hide, only tell the truth."

So those journalists leave the reichstag building, 99 out of every 100 convinced that the general staff members have been absolutely frank and open with them; that they have learned the true state of affairs and that what they were not told they have no business to know. That spirit enters into and influences their articles and the average German reader is satisfied. He has such respect for those above him, such confidence in his leaders, that he is absolutely certain that they are telling him (or his paper) all that is safe to be published without hurting the interests of the vaterland.

Those last words the German understands and their power is unlimited.

The authorities know that, I believe too, that in the majority of cases the German readers do get some truth, but—there is a little nigger in the woodpile, the old saying that half a truth is often worse than a lie.

THE SUPER-AMBASSADOR.

Of all the great men upon whom Turkey has relied for guidance none ever equalled that amazing Englishman, Stratford Canning. Over a century ago he went to Constantinople, at the age of 23, as the British ambassador. The power which he then exercised over Turkish affairs, internal and external, he retained and increased. He seems to have bewitched successive sultans and grand viziers by always speaking the truth. They took his advice even when territory had to be yielded up to placate a foe. Canning was more than the master of Turkey. At one time he was master of the civilized world.

"The admiral of the Mediterranean squadron," writes the historian of the Crimean war, "was ordered to obey the behests of the ambassador and the united fleets of France and England moved to the Dardanelles." The Turks followed the bidding of this English wizard even to the extent of abolishing many a time-honored social abuse that had nothing to do with British rights or privileges. And they called him the Great Elchi, or, as we should say, the super-ambassador.—London Chronicle.

THE GUNS.

You know the spot—'twas Langemarck
Where our Canadians fought;
They fanned the flame of Empire
And won what others sought.

The halo of their martial deeds
Will hover in the sky
And cover with its glowing spell
The hard won victory.

Upon their brawny shoulders was
The fate of Empire cast,
And dauntless, brave, most fearless, they
Stood firm until the last.

Till Wisdom showed the danger lights
Deep set in every eye;
Like lions roused, they slowly moved
With sullen bravery.

They crouched like lions' whelps to spring
Themselves to life again;
When visions waved the Maple Leaf,
To strike and strike again.

They saw the guns abandoned by
Their brothers in distress;
They saw what brave men 'lone could see,
They saw what brave men 'lone could

Right through the serried ranks of fiends,
With conquering spirits blessed,
They thought of what the Empire thought
And left to God the rest.

Their courage and their bravery
Did more than save the guns—
They saved the Empire from the blast
Of fume-besprinkled Huns.

So till life's dying embers glow
For them, our valiant sons,
We'll tell the story of the day
And how they saved the guns.

THE BULGARIANS.

Considerable confusion exists regarding the origin of the Bulgarians, who now seem to be on the verge of entering the war on the side of the allies. Bulgaria was originally inhabited by Thracians. Later it was overrun by Slavonic tribes. The Bulgars, originally an Ural-Altraic people, crossed the Danube in the sixth century, overcame the Slavs, but adopted their language and customs and thus virtually became a Slavonic people. Thus the Bulgarians have some of the characteristics of the Slavs, but possess other racial tendencies that are not found in the Slavonic tribes. The ordinary Slav is an easygoing, improvident, openhanded individual, but lacks efficiency and stick-to-it-iveness. The Bulgarian, on the other hand, is of a more sober, restrained temperament, is intensely practical and hardheaded, and is devoid of the mysticism which characterizes the Slavs. He is frugal and even avaricious.

There is undoubtedly a small trace of Turkish influence in the language, literature and habits of the people, but to say that the Bulgarian is a Turk or in any material way related to the Turk is erroneous. There is far more of the Grecian and Russian in the Bulgarian make-up than there is of the Turk. Bulgaria occupies an area about two-thirds that of Great Britain but has only a population of 3,750,000. It is not overly prosperous and at the present time is only recovering from the effects of the two Balkan wars. There is no doubt but that Bulgaria could put at least half a million men into the field, and prove an important factor in the campaign against Turkey, whom she regards as her traditional enemy.—Montreal Journal of Commerce.

INTERNED ALIENS AT FERNIE CHEERFUL

Play Games and Mouth Organs—"Tipperary" Frequently Heard—124 Recruits.

FERNIE, B.C., June 11.—On Thursday work was resumed in the Coal Creek mines and matters at the colliery returned to normal, for the time being at least. The disposition of the interns quartered at the skating rink assumed more definite proportions and the organization of a commissariat and other departments was effected under the direction of G. Welsby, chief provincial constable. The work of caring for those interned was made easier for the authorities by the good natured attitude of those confined and of the 200 odd there was only a single instigator of dissention and because of his persistent efforts to promote discord he was removed to the city jail. Various methods of enjoyment were followed by the internes such as reading, playing cards and other games while many had mouth organs and whistles, and national airs and "Tipperary" were frequently heard. The additional number arriving yesterday were 64 from Natal, B.C., seven from Cranbrook and 30 odd from this city who voluntarily submitted, while over 100 arrived from old Michel and Corbin today.

The quota supplied from here for the 54th battalion numbers 124, the last one taken on being Cliva Wolliford Hanson, who for a number of years has been assistant to J. P. Lowe, agent for the Dominion Express company.

J. W. Quinney, who for seven years has acted as accountant and latterly as chief accountant for the Trites-Wood company here, has resigned to accept the general managership of the Crow's Nest Trading company here.

Aunt Sally's Advice to Beauty Seekers

K. C. F. asks: "Will you tell me how to get my hands white and soft? They have become rough and are so dark in contrast to my arms." The method mentioned in reply to Eloise should bring the desired results; wear gloves to prevent soiling the bed linen.

D. N. A. writes: "How can I reduce a double chin? Also how get rid of crow's feet?" Use a wash lotion prepared by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel. This tightens the skin, tending to disperse wrinkles as well as flabbiness about the chin or elsewhere.

Eloise says: "My freckles are worse than ever this year, made doubly conspicuous by a pallid complexion. Is there any cure?" Ask your druggist for an ounce of mercolized wax, apply nightly like cold cream, removing in the morning with warm water. As the wax gradually absorbs the lifeless cuticle, not only will the freckles vanish, but the new and younger skin which appears will have a healthy color. Probably you will need to continue treatment a couple weeks or so. —Woman's Realm.

NAKUSP NOTES

(Special to The Daily News.)

NAKUSP, B. C., June 11.—A representative of the militia department will attend for an hour at Nakusp on the morning of July 1 to inspect and purchase horses offered for the front.

Capt. Bullock-Webster has written a letter of appreciation of the send-off given the first contingent at Nakusp.

Rev. H. M. Henderson, rector of Chresholm, spent a day in Nakusp on his way to Vancouver, for his health. Mr. Henderson is one of Kootenay's old-timers, having lived at Revelstoke in 1887. He was the guest of L. J. Edwards.

The monthly meeting of the Women's institute was held Wednesday with the president, Mrs. W. J. Wagstaff, in the chair and some 18 members present. Among other items of business it was decided that a miscellaneous shower of comforts for the soldiers from Kootenay be held in connection with the next meeting of the institute, July 14, lists of the articles needed to be posted up in local stores. Daughters of the members will entertain and tea will be served.

It was decided that the president be delegate to attend the conference of Kootenay district women's institutes to be held in Nelson later in the summer.

Arrangements were made whereby the invitation extended by the members of the Arrow Park institute to a picnic to be held June 16 might be accepted, members to be conveyed thence in the launch Victory.

The program consisted of a talk on Shakespearian drama by Rev. W. H. Bridge, with readings from "Hamlet," after which solos were given by Miss Roberts.

"CASEY JONES," STAND-OFFISH BULLDOG GOES TO VERNON

"Casey Jones," white, fat, nationality unknown, and of uncertain age, accompanied the Nelson detachment to Vernon yesterday. Casey passes as a bulldog and adopted the regiment as his own some time ago. He has daily supervised the movements of the men and attended them on their hikes. In his relations with the personnel of the *regiment he has been decidedly stand-*offish, and although apparently friendly and willing to go into camp, he scorns any overtures, and maintains a dignified aloofness.

LAW OF INTERNMENT.

A writer in the London Times discusses the apparent laxity of the American authorities in the internment of the Eitel Friedrich and the Kronprinz Wilhelm, and compares the treatment these ships have received with the measures adopted in other places. He says:

People are also puzzling over the different interpretations which the Dutch, Spanish and American authorities appear to make of the law of internment. When a portion of our naval division, retreating from Antwerp, unwillingly trespassed on Dutch territory, they were required to give up their arms and be confined as prisoners until the end of the war. At the Canaries, however, the Macedonia and at San Juan, the Odenwald, were able to get away, although in the latter case the ship was stopped before the attempt succeeded. When, too, the crews of the Eitel Friedrich and Kronprinz Wilhelm became interned in an American port, they seem to be escaping all confinement, and there is apparently no obstacle placed by the United States government in the way of their returning to Germany by any passengers ships to resume warlike proceedings. The reason given by the captain of the Kronprinz Wilhelm for suffering internment will disappear when his men regain their health, and then he may seek to escape with his vessel so long as his crew are at liberty. Dr. Oppenheimer (International Law, II., page 422), says:

Asylum can be abused by repairing a belligerent man-of-war which has become unseaworthy. Although small repairs are allowed, a neutral would violate this duty of impartiality by allowing such repairs as would make good the unseaworthiness of a belligerent man of war. During the Russo-Japanese war this was generally recognized, and the Russian men-of-war Askold and Grossovoi in Shanghai, the Diana in Saigon, and the Lena in San Francisco and, therefore to be disarmed and detained. The crews of these vessels had likewise to be detained for the time of the war.

It might be politely suggested that the most effective way of making temporarily harmless an interned ship is to remove the rudder and keep it safely during the war. Parts of the machinery may be replaced, but no rudder can be substituted without very public efforts, which would naturally excite attention.

"When do you expect to see Green again?"

"I don't know."

"But don't you usually see him once or twice a week?"

"Yes; but yesterday I loaned him five that he was surely to pay back tomorrow and it is doubtful now that I shall see him for a month or two."

WALL STREET THINKS NOTE CONCILIATORY

Draws Favorable Inferences from American Communication—Steel Leads in Volume of Dealings.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, June 11.—Stocks rose today on the largest and broadest demand witnessed since last Friday, when the market became buoyant on the decision in favor of United States Steel corporation. The financial community plainly was disposed to draw the most favorable influences from Washington's latest note to Berlin, its tone being considered as conciliatory and decidedly at variance with unofficial forecasts.

Motors and Petroleum shared to a considerable extent in the rises. United States Steel led all issues in volume of dealings, contributing 20 per cent to the whole.

All divisions of the railway list moved forward, the strongest features being Reading and Baltimore & Ohio, with advances of three points or better. Demand for these issues emanated from the most substantial interests and suggested investment inquiry. Final prices were fractionally higher under the best but the closing was active and strong.

Rates of exchange was easier, though in no case falling to recent low quotations. There was a striking exception, however, in remittances to northern Europe, namely, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, exchange to those centres being on a parity with established rates. This was ascribed to purchases of bills in return for sales of American securities here by German interests. Canada sent an additional $5,000,000 gold to this market and an additional importation of $500,000 from Japan was received.

Bonds were strong with general gains in the copper convertibles. Total sales, par value, $2,670,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

MONTREAL PRICE MOVEMENT NARROW AND IRREGULAR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, June 11.—The strength of the New York market stimulated no great activity in local securities today and prices moved within comparatively narrow margins and with some show of irregularity. The feature was Tram Power. After opening at 43 the stock sold off to 42 and then closed at 42.

A continued demand for Carriage Factories common, on the other hand, found little stock in the market.

Iron, a strong feature in recent weeks sold off ¼ to 31¼. Car on the other hand sold as high as 66 and finished at that price. Scotia was firm around 66. Bridge, comparatively dull after its spurt the previous day, showed a net loss of ½. Steel of Canada lost ⅜ to 55⅝, but Canadian Locomotive rose 2 to 42.

AGRICULTURAL PROSPECTS ARE STIMULATING BUSINESS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, June 11.—Despatches to Dun's Review from branch offices of R. G. Dun & Co., in leading trade centres of Canada indicate that confidence is becoming quite pronounced at most centres, owing to the fine agricultural prospects in most sections.

In the far west and northwest there seems to be a moderate and steadily increasing movement in most staple lines.

Gross earnings of all railroads reporting for May show a decrease of 20 per cent, as compared with the same month a year ago.

Commercial failures in the Dominion this week numbered 61 as against 54 last week and 22 the same week last year.

HARD CAMPAIGN IN CAMEROONS REGION

Soldiers Engaged in Battling for German Colony Receive Little Attention From Public.

"I wonder if it is known," writes a member of the British expeditionary force in the Cameroons, "that we are fighting day and night out here, as we got no Princess Mary's gift, only a card from the public. The rainy season is just commencing again—and the rain doesn't forget to come down in these parts! There have been narrow escapes, and numerous casualties, but we must carry out this to a finish. We were glad to hear about the naval victory. The natives here have evidently been hearing some yarns lately, as they have been very insolent and we have had to put them in their place. We could do with our share of gifts. Not a 'Woodbine' comes our way. . . . Rain, rain, rain! There was a thunderbolt one day last week, and at first it seemed as if a German dreadnought had come along.

"There has been an important change in the ships here. We have our spies here, too, and a dangerous lot they are. Three were caught this morning and die at sunset. The enemy are putting up a stiff fight. They are making us go all the way in capturing this colony. A German officer whom we captured said: 'You English have got the capital of the colony, but you will have to fight hard for the colony.' We're worrying them a lot, and never stop shaking them up. In fact it looks as if we would not need to dig them out of the interior at all, if we keep them as busy as we are doing here."

BULLETS FILL KILTS WITH BUTTONHOLES

Sergt. Adam White, of the 79th, a veteran of the Zulu war, since wounded, wrote to his brother, Jack White, of Winnipeg, on May 11:

"Say, Jack, in all my travels I never saw such a hell as the town of Ypres. I don't mind men being killed (I have seen hundreds), but kiddies and women, it is horrible. I was in Ypres one day when I saw a 17-inch shell burst and civilians running away from it. Another came ahead and then they ran back and again another burst. The next finished all of them. They will never be buried. I can assure you, even amidst death there is sometimes a laugh. There were about 15 wounded Turcos lying on stretchers in the shelter of a big building. A big shell burst nearby and it was certainly comical to see all the Turcos get up and run.

"I suppose you will have heard all about our little charge at Langemarck. It was a hard earned clasp and a bloody fight and I thanked God for being able to use the bayonet, otherwise it would have been all up with your Uncle Willie. These Prussian guards are not what I expected them to be. They don't like the crazy Canucks to get after them. You know I never talked much about any tough corners in Nutuland though there were two or three, but after facing these machine guns and scrapping in the wood around our guns, a man should be considered a veteran. I never saw the end of Capt. Geddes, but Capt. Merritt of No. 3 company, was touching my elbow when he was killed, shot through the head. He was wounded twice in the left thigh and when I saw the Germans lay their arms over the trench I told the captain that I thought they were going to charge us. He stood up on one leg, cocked his revolver and was shot. I got one through the top of my Glengarry. In fact my kilt and clothes were all buttonholes and my valise was blown to bits. Jimmy Kaye and I were 10 yards from a great pile of ammunition when it exploded. It covered us up and the covering was made of bits of dead Boches and our own men. I don't want to get into a trench again at this angle (plan in letter.) It was untenable, as you can see the fire was all from our left flank. We tried to sap a way into the wood next day, but the shell fire was hellish and we just had to sit tight in our trench. I was the only one left out of 14 in the first 20 yards of our trench. I am getting tired and will stop. Maybe you think I am buming, but God knows I can't put on paper some of the sights I saw in that horrible and hellish corner of the wood and trench. I'll tell you of it bye and bye D. V."

Tea Is a War Munition.

Tea is being used as the most portable beverage ration in the trenches in Europe. The belligerent governments are buying immense quantities and the troops are acquiring a taste for tea that will greatly increase the future consumption. Cheap tea is a thing of the past now that the new demand has arisen, and rising prices may be expected for some time.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

St. Raphael Ont., Jan. 5th.

"Four years ago I had such pains in my back that I could not work. The pains extended to my arms, sides and shoulders. I used many kinds of medicine for over a year, none of which did me very much good. I read about Gin Pills and sent for a sample and used them and found the pains were leaving me and I was feeling better. So I bought one box and before I had used them all, the pains were almost gone and I could keep at work. After I had taken six other boxes, I was entirely cured and I feel as strong as at the age of 30. I am a farmer, now 61 years old." FRANK LEALAND

ADMITS RECEIPT OF KELLY LETTER

Counsel for Contractor Admits Winnipeg Caissons Job Was Done Under Contract.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 11.—V. W. Horwood, late Manitoba provincial architect, was again on the stand today before the royal commission. The commission expects to complete its work tomorrow, returning to Winnipeg in the evening. A. J. Andrews, K.C., counsel for members of the late cabinet, returned to Winnipeg tonight and W. T. Sweatman will cross-examine Horwood tomorrow. Salt will probably be on the stand again.

Horwood gave evidence today about the famous Kelly letter bearing date of September 20, 1913, offering to put in the caissons for $844,000, on which letter Kelly's counsel, ex-Judge Phippen, of Toronto, based the contention that the job was under contract. Horwood said he did receive the letter but he could not say when. Certainly he did not acknowledge it at the time he received it. But one night after announcement of the royal commission had been made Kelly phoned witness and asked him to come to his house. Horwood planned to go next day to Rochester, Minn., for an operation. He went to Kelly and Kelly asked him to sign a receipt acknowledging a letter on September 20.

Kelly argued with him that he was about to undergo an operation and might die on the operating table. He might therefore just as well sign a letter that would enable his friends to sustain their contention that there was a contract covering the caissons. Horwood signed it.

Chief Justice Mathers endeavored to get the witness to fix the time at which he first knew $844,000 was to be paid for the caissons. Horwood could not do it. His own estimate of what they ought to cost was $500,000 and this was allowing $100,000 for the campaign fund. Witness said the matter of how much might be taken out of the caissons was discussed between Dr. Simpson, late president of the Winnipeg Conservative association, but now at the front, Kelly and himself. Kelly and he both thought $100,000 was too much, but his final understanding of it was that the sum would be around that figure.

Horwood said he never made up on his own initiative the estimates preparatory to the letting of contracts, but figures were supplied him with which his figures had to conform. This was true of the estimates covering the wings and also of the $802,000 estimate for the caissons.

Horwood told in detail how he destroyed, at request of Hon. Dr. Montague, the file of correspondence connected with the parliament buildings. Dr. Montague told him he had better get rid of it. He had one sheet of records in a loose leaf register rewritten, omiting all reference to the parliament buildings. Hunter, of his office, said witness, had actually rewritten the sheet, but Hunter simply did as he was told. Asked why he destroyed some of the documents and handed some to Dr. Montague, witness said the minister had demanded the originals, looked over them and told him which to destroy. Dr. Montague also instructed him to destroy his copies.

During the sessions of the public accounts committee when Horwood was suffering severely from his face and was anxious to tell the truth, Dr. Montague and Dr. Simpson called him up every morning. They were solicitous about the state of his health and whether he was in shape to go before the committee. Witness said he had approached the ministers about getting reimbursement for the money he had spent to keep Salt away from Winnipeg. Dr. Montague was to have given him $10,000 to settle this account, but he did not do so. Finally Horwood got the sum from Dr. Simpson and next day went south.

Horwood denied that Thomas Kelly ever said anything to him about paying campaign money to the Liberals. Elliott had stated in his evidence before the royal commission that Kelly had given the Liberals $12,000 as an insurance fund. Witness stated he never had said anything like that.

GERMANY EXACTS REVENGE ON DINANT

Citizens Driven From Homes by Brutal Soldiers—Refugees Sought Safety in Grottoes.

The following excerpt is taken from the diary of a Belgian woman who was residing at Dinant at the time of its occupation by the German forces. She was one of the many refugees and as one she met death with many others. She writes:

"For the past five days things have been pretty bad, but at night a terrible cannonade began and we dared not go out. There was a fierce fight until 12:30 a.m., then it stopped. We went to bed without undressing, and about 5 in the morning we heard unusual sounds in the street and hurried out to hear that the German soldiers had assaulted the Rue St. Jacques; most of them were drunk, and they had shot the peaceable inhabitants, set about pillaging shamefully, then set fire to the houses with bombs and destroyed everything.

"That night the bombardment began again. We made up our minds to take refuge in the cellar. The bombardment went on at intervals all night, and about 4 in the morning it became more dreadful than can be imagined. We prayed and commended our souls to God. We heard explosions all round us, and looking out we saw the whole street on fire. We came up stairs as we saw we must try to escape while there was still a chance.

"When we got into the street we hardly knew what to do. We reached the end of the street leading to the quay and there we stopped, terrified. The sight was a moving one—women, children, wretchedly clothed, nuns holding up their hands to heaven, were standing along the river side watching the town blazing—hundreds of people worn out with terror and fatigue, old men lying on mattresses, babies in cradles, whose parents had gone—none knew where. Every one was crying and sobbing—men, women and children. They had all been driven out of their homes by the brutal soldiers, who smashed the doors and windows with the butts of their rifles, seized the unarmed men, and ill-treated the women and children, then ranged them in two rows and shot the men before the eyes of their wives and children. We saw among these unfortunates a woman who was soon to have a baby, with bare feet and clad only in her chemise and petticoat.

A Living Tomb.

"One idea possessed us—to escape from the town we loved so much. What could we do. There was no means of crossing the river. Suddenly some one remembered the grottoes on the hill. No more hesitation—we started on our way back through the burning streets. At last we got through about 15 or 16 of us altogether—through the wood lighted up by the burning town—and arrived at the grotto of Montfat. The door was shut, but an energetic blow opened it and we entered this living tomb. We went through I don't know how many dark passages. After wandering about in this way for a quarter of an hour, we reached a hall where we found between 70 and 80 persons all in tears. We were dying with fatigue; our limbs were benumbed, bruised; but we had to make up our minds to lie down on the damp earth, and so the night passed.

"With the day all our terrors returned. Shouts rose from the town below; cannon thundered above us. In the afternoon I made a little reconnaissance at the entrance of the grotto, and looked down on the smoking ruins of what had been Dinant. An intense heat hose up from it. At last we prepared again for the night—but what a night! Mon Dieu! Ten times I was on the point of leaving the grotto imagining I heard noises, but they were hallucinations produced by hunger and thirst. I thought day would never come; at least about 6 o'clock I risked going out. As I returned into the grotto a lady came up to me and begged me to bring a light, for she thought every one had lost their wits. I found to my horror that many of them had really lost their reason. It is hard to stand such mental suffering. I went up to Mons. P. and asked him to reconnoitre outside, and see if the army was away. He soon returned and said it would be more prudent to stay another night there, and try to escape in the morning. It is impossible to conceive how terrible this third night was, and how we suffered. I thought it would never end. About 5 o'clock I looked out, and heard the sound of cannonading, the shouts of these brutes and miserable cries and wails of distress, mingled with crashes as half destroyed buildings fell into ruins. It was a pitiful sight."

FAIRVIEW PEOPLE TO FORM ORGANIZATION

Improvement Association Will Be Discussed at Meeting at Hume School Monday Evening.

With the purpose of forming a Fairview Improvement association a public meeting of residents of that suburb will be held at the Hume public school Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Those who are behind the movement believe that much good work could be accomplished by such an organization in the improvement of gardens in Fairview, in stimulating a progressive civic spirit and in encouraging Arbor day and clean-up movements.

The organization of an association will also, it is pointed out, make it possible for the district to secure the benefit of the special prizes which the provincial government is offering for farm gardens.

He is suffering from a gunshot wound in the head.

Ample provision was made for the men of the 54th battalion, in the way of supplying them with lunches for their journey. In response to the appeal made by Mrs. W. W. Bradley and Mrs. J. H. Taylor, through the columns of The Daily News on Wednesday, lunches for nearly 1,000 men were prepared by the women of Nelson and sent to the armory yesterday afternoon. The officers and men expressed thanks to the donors for their generosity and labor and to Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Bradley.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS PRESENTED WITH RINGS

Students of the Nelson high school held a social afternoon yesterday at the high school in honor of E. Peters, Jr., George Roe and W. Mohr, former pupils of the school who left last night with the 54th battalion. Each of the boys received a signet ring with his name engraved on the outside and the letters "N. H. S." on the inside. Miss Gertie Annable, Miss Frances Wolverton and Miss R. Olson presented the rings. B. P. Steeves, principal, gave a short address. Refreshments were served.

SAYS UNION LABOR BENEFITS MANY

George K. Wark, Prominent Canadian Labor Man, Addresses Canadian Club Luncheon on Labor.

Keen interest was evidenced by the members of the Canadian club who met yesterday for luncheon at the Strathcona, in the address of George K. Wark, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen who was present as the guest of honor.

In introducing the speaker Capt. F. P. Armstrong quoted Right Hon David Lloyd George, as saying that the present war would have to be won with silver bullets, "But," he said, "it is equally true that the bullets must be made, and that labor also plays a great part in the winning of battles. Not only is it a money war, it is also a workman's war, and the presence of Mr. Wark, who represents an organization comprising over 90,000 working men, is of particular interest at the present time."

Before going on to the substance of his address on organized labor, Mr. Wark stated that he was a Canadian, born in Canada of British parents and was therefore heart and soul with all things Canadian. He then remarked upon the personnel of his auditors. I have before me," he said, "men in uniform, who are ready to strike a blow at the enemies of our empire, professional men, ready to strike a blow at the enemies of business, men representing the religion of the land, ready to strike a blow at the enemies of the soul, as well as men trained and equipped to strike a blow at the enemies of the body. All of these men are directly or indirectly associated with labor, and are interested in any project that is for their betterment."

The speaker stated that he had heard it said by ignorant persons that organized labor and union men were not to be relied upon, that they were not true to their country or their community, and that they were organized for the purpose of causing trouble and dissatisfaction.

Says Unions Prove Beneficial.

This he strongly denied. "I speak for the organization I represent. The members are respectable, law abiding citizens. The reasons for their having organized are manifold. Not all employers are unfair, but there are and have been some who have imposed upon labor until it has been forced to place its back to the wall and defend itself.

"In times past," he continued, "many employers have kept their men in a state of ignorance and poverty by the low wages they have paid. Low wages mean ignorance every time, and you all know what ignorance means to a community. The laboring man does not ask for higher wages in order to become wealthy. What the labor man wants is to secure favorable working conditions in the place where his duties lie, and an adequate rate of compensation to enable him to live in decency, procure suitable food and educate his children. Organized labor by bringing these conditions to the laboring classes has conferred great benefits upon the communities in which it operates."

Order Insures Its Members.

Mr. Wark spoke of the work done by the organization with which he is connected. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen was established in 1873. For some time no benefits were paid, but within the last few years, the speaker was unable to give the exact date, the vast sum of $17,240,000 has been paid out to widows and orphans, for disabilities and death claims. This fund is supported by small salaried men and keeps the members and their families from becoming burdens on the community. In addition to this sum, $606,000 has been paid out in charity claims, to persons who were not members of the body, but who were in need of help.

Mr. Wark pointed out that the members of the order were engaged in a hazardous occupation and that the regular insurance companies were very reluctant to take them as risks, and then only at a very high premium rate. Therefore the order had established its own insuance fund which provides for a long list of ailments and accidents. The rate of premium is $1.10 per month, per thousands. "Can you beat it?" he said.

Americans With the Allies.

Mr. Wark has received many inquiries as to how the labor men stand on the war question. "This is very difficult to answer," he said. "Our body comprises members from every nationality under the sun, with the exception of the black man and the Indian, and it is therefore hard to express an opinion covering the case. But, although I am not in a position to give an official statement, I have been informed that in some districts there have been as many as 10 to 35 per cent of the lodge members who have taken up arms and gone to the front. My business requires that I spend a great deal of time in the United States, and as a British subject I have been overjoyed to find that wherever I have gone—and particularly in Pittsburg and throughout the state of Pennsylvania, where the inhabitants are many of them of German origin—the expressed sympathies of the people are with the allies."

In concluding his address, Mr. Wark touched upon the leaving of the Nelson soldiers, and said, "I hope that the people of Nelson may not only have the privilege of honoring them in memory, but also have the great joy of grasping their hands and welcoming them back as victors."

MANY Y.M.C.A. MEN HAVE JOINED ARMY

Over One-Fifth of Senior Membership List Has Enlisted—Honor Roll Made.

Over 50 active members of the local Y. M. C. A. and a large number of ex-members of the association have enlisted in the army for active service and are now either at the front or on the way there. This does not include 20 soldiers who became members of the "Y" since they were mobilized in the city. The numbers who have left composed over one-fifth of the senior active membership.

The Y. M. C. A. feels that this is a record to be proud of. Besides sending many of its members to the front the local association has helped several men to enlist, who were at first unable to pass the physical examination by providing free physical exercises, and bringing the men up to the standard required by the military officials.

An honor roll bearing the names of those who have left has been prepared by D. B. Pawley, and now hangs in the association parlors. Following are the names:

G. S. Rees, F. L. Uaddon, B. Crowthers, W. Livingstone, W. R. Williamson, A F. Graves, L. C. Smith, D. McQuarrie, A. E. Graham, W. Curran, H. Anderson, L. Bealby, G. Wallace, C. McInnis, R.
