ITALIANS VICTORIOUS IN BATTLES AMONG MOUNTAINS

One Struggle Is on Peak 10,174 Ft. Above Sea

SKILFUL ADVANCE IS MADE IN CARSO

Austrian Artillery and Infantry Assault Is Repulsed

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, Sept. 10.—An official statement received from the main headquarters of the Italian army tonight says:

"Along the entire front small but important actions continue, due to the activity in offensive by our detachments in reconnoitering or attempted surprise attack, notably at night, notably against our advanced positions. The dash and energy of our troops in the offensive, their active and tenacious surveillance and their resistance in defensive, have everywhere turned these encounetrs in our favor. Among the combats thus favorably reported are: On Nagerslitz, 10,174 feet high, in the upper Val Tellina; at Mount Piona, in Calamento valley; Val Suagano; at Passo Della Sentinella, in Sexton valley, where we captured enemy emplacements and destroyed an armored refuge; in the pass of Monte Croce and at Carnico and to the northeast of Ravaza, in the upper Chizzo.

Drive Foe Back in Carso.

"The most important was an action when the enemy attempted Thursday morning to occupy Krastrino Spitzen, to the north of Monte Gregnedul, in the valley of Zobach-Gallitz. After an intense artillery preparation enemy detachments, aided by numerous quick-firers, resolutely attacked our positions, but they were repulsed.

"On the Carso a skilful advance resulted in the retreat of the enemy, which abandoned guns, munitions and material. Yesterday, also, on the slopes of Monte San Michele we captured several hundred Austrian rifles, telephone material and equipment.

"Enemy aeroplanes bombarded Saint Giorgio, Batrie di Sella in the valley of Torrent Maggio and Grado. No damage was done."

Austrian Warship Torpedoed.

VIENNA, Sept. 10.—An official report says:

"Yesterday afternoon and evening the Italians attacked the bridgehead of Tolmino repeatedly. They were repulsed every time with heavy losses near our entanglements. In the Doberdo sector our troops repulsed hostile approaches. The general position is unchanged.

"At sea yesterday our torpedo boat No. 51, while reconnoitering, was torpedoed by a hostile torpedo boat and damaged as the bow. It reached port."

DOCTOR DISCUSSES DEATH THAT IS NEAR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 10.—With the days and almost the hours of life remaining to him calculated with scientific accuracy, Dr. W. W. Kenny slept soundly last night at the hospital where he is awaiting death. Today he was resting easily, calmly studying the symptoms which to his trained mind showed the ebb and flow of his slight chance of life. Eminent specialists carefully compared their observations with those of the physician-patient and very gravely discussed with him the scientific questions connected with his case.

Dr. Kenny early yesterday took a hypodermic injection of what he thought was a sleeping potion. Instead he used a slow, deadly poison which ordinarily kills its victim in a few days through its action on the kidneys.

PROMPT RESPONSE TO CALL FOR RECRUITS

Before noon yesterday the 15 recruits asked for by Col. Arnold Kemball, commander of the 54th battalion, had all reported at the office of Capt. L. E. Borden at Nelson and a number of others had to be turned away. Capt. Borden states that the men taken were almost all of them men who were on the list when the order to stop enlisting was received.

KELLY INCORPORATES.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—Notice appears in the Canada Gazette today of the incorporation by federal letters patent of the firm of Thomas Kelly & Sons of Winnipeg, with a capitalization of $1,000,000. The incorporation bears date of Sept. 7, 1915, and the incorporators are Thomas Kelly, Charles Bernard Kelly, Lawrence Corbett Kelly, Roy John Worthing and William Lyon Smith, all of Winnipeg.

The firm will carry on the business of general contractors.

The firm of Thomas Kelly of Winnipeg was that which had the contract on the parliament buildings here.

ROSSLAND SOLDIER DIES OF WOUNDS

Pte. A. Lindsay of 7th Battalion Reported as Dead From Injuries in Yesterday's Casualty Lists.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—Pte. A. Lindsay of Rossland, 7th battalion, formerly of the 23rd battalion, is reported in the casualty list issued last night as having died of wounds. The list contains 13 names, reporting nine dead, two missing, one wounded and another who was posted as missing, but is now safe.

The death of a nurse in the Toronto hospital at the Dardanelles region is reported. Sister Mary Frances Munro, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont. is stated to have died Sept. 7 of dysentery. She was buried at Mudros, where she died. Sapper George Hifle is reported dead of wounds. Three are officially named and three unofficially killed in action. The list follows:

Died Sept. 7.—Sister Mary Frances Munro (at Mudros and buried there), Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont.

S. S. TAYLOR TO EXAMINE SUBMARINE WITNESSES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 10.—That the Liberals will not allow the submarine inquiry by Sir Charles Davidson at Victoria this month to go by default is indicated by an appointment made this evening by the Liberal executive. It has named S. S. Taylor an eminent Liberal lawyer, to be present to cross-examine Sir Richard McBride and anyone who is called to give evidence.

QUEBEC TO GIVE PUBLIC RECEPTION TO HUGHES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

QUEBEC, Sept. 10—It has been practically decided that the city of Quebec will offer Sir Sam Hughes a civic reception and present him with an address of welcome next Tuesday night. Mayor Drouin and the council are in sympathy with the movement and a citizens' meeting will be held tomorrow to arrange details of organization.

Sir Sam will make an official visit to Valcartier during the day.

TRADES UNIONS RESTRICT OUTPUT

Munitions Workers Asked to Abandon Regulations—Machines Work at Only 15 Per Cent Capacity.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 10.—(By F. A. McKenzie)—Lloyd George's dramatic and unconventional appearance at the trades union congress was a great success. His statements, particularly the one that they have lacked suitable operators, only 15 per cent of the available machines for munitions being actually in use day and night, has caused an unpleasant surprise.

"We pictured every munitions establishment going at full power through every hour of the 24," said the Manchester Guardian. "Then we learn that in five cases out of six the machines are, in fact, standing idle half the time."

"Lloyd George has never lacked courage," says the Times, "but we doubt whether his courage has even been more usefully employed."

The country generally strongly supports Lloyd George's demand upon the trades unions to abandon their regulations restricting the output of munitions.

Proceedings are on before the munitions court in various district against men who are still fighting against non-union labor, or boycotting or threatening it. Unrest is now growing again among the railway men, who are pressing their executive to demand an increase in wages. They consider the present war bonus of 75 cents inadequate, demanding a minimum immediate advancement of $1.25 a week, basing their claims upon the increase in the cost of living. Undoubtedly a campaign is being engineered to stampede the railway men into a strike. Their officials are aware of the danger and are strenuously fighting it.

QUEBEC LEGISLATOR DIES AT GREAT AGE

Sir Charles Boucher de Boucherville Was Born in 1822—Was Former Provincial Premier

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—Sir Charles Eugene Boucher de Boucherville, M.D., K.C.M.G., senator and member of the legislative council of the province of Quebec, died tonight at the Deaf and Dumb institute in St. Denis street, Montreal. He was in his ninety-fourth year, having been born in this city May 4, 1822. Sir Charles had been in good health, considering his age, until about a week ago, and 24 hours before his death he was able to sit up in his chair for several hours. One son, Joseph Boucher de Boucherville, K.C., survives him.

The late senator had the distinction of being the only man in Canada holding membership in both the senate and the legislative council. He also was the eldest living graduate of McGill university, Montreal.

The deceased, then Charles de Boucherville, was elected to the Canadian assembly for Chambly in 1861 and sat in the assembly until confederation, when he was called to the legislative council. He entered the Chauveau government in 1873, became premier of the province of Quebec in 1874 and resigned with his colleagues, after a disagreement with the lieutenant-governor in March, 1878. He was called to the senate of Canada in 1879. In May, 1894, he was made a C.M.G. and was created a K.C.M.G. in June, 1914.

Sir Charles was twice married, first to Susanna, daughter of the late R. M. Morrough, Montreal, and secondly to a daughter of the late Felix Lussier, seigneur of Varennes. His daughter, the wife of L. T. Marechal, K.C., Montreal, died in 1902. The deceased had resided for several years in the Deaf and Dumb institute.

FINANCIAL CREAM FOR UNITED STATES

Britain Will Get Milk, Others Skimmed Milk After War, British Association Told.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 10.—"The United States will have the cream after the war, Great Britain will have to be content with milk and the other belligerents with skimmed milk."

This sums up the report presented today to the British association by a special committee appointed to study the effects of the war on credit and finance.

The committee expressed the opinion that Great Britain would emerge from the war in a better position than the other belligerents as the latter apparently are not meeting with any part of the cost of the war or interest on war loans outside of current revenues. Nevertheless the war will certainly place this country to a disadvantageous position, the committee, finds, as compared with the United States.

TEUTONS MARCH TOWARD ROVNO

Battle Rages for Brest-Vilna Railways

INITIATIVE IS WITH RUSSIANS ON SERETH

Another Victory With 5000 Prisoners Won on This Front

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 10.—In the east there is little change in the situation. The Russian successes on the Sereth river, while they made a big capture of men and guns, have not interfered with the Austro-German advance.

Further north the Austrians, after taking Dubno, the second of the triangle of fortresses to fall into their hands, with the help of the Germans are advancing on Rovno, the third of these fortified places. Meanwhile the Germans from the south of the Pripet marshes to the regions southwest of Vilna are fighting hard for the strategic railway system of the Brest-Vilna area.

Most of this railway system is already in the possession of the invaders but they are now aiming particularly at the main trunk line which, starting at Riga, runs through Dvinsk, Vilna, Lida and the east Pripet marshes to Rovno and onward to Lemberg, Galicia.

Teutons to Dig In

Military observers express the opinion that once this line is in the hands of the Austro-German forces they will go into winter quarters, for the more important military purpose of bringing any large part of the Russian forces to a decisive battle would be disadvantageous now.

The three main Russian armies under Generals Ruszky, Everett and Ivanoff, although reduced and outnumbered still are full of fight, as is shown by their offensive on the Sereth river and the Austro-Germans must look to their own defense before reinforcements reach their opponents.

Russians Win Victory

PETROGRAD, Sept. 10.—The official communication issued by the war office today says:

"On the Sereth river our troops, having last night repulsed a series of enemy attacks, delivered counter-attacks in the sector above Trembowla and in the district of Tchorkoff. The Austrians were forced to beat a hasty retreat. According to an estimate we took 5000 prisoners, among them 16 officers.

"Generally the situation of our armies is one of calm confidence in themselves. The initiative in these isolated engagements is gradually passing into our hands."

Repulse Teuton Offensive.

"On the left bank of the Dvina, southeast of Riga we are fighting and are progressing in the region between the Missa positions and the Ekau-Neusat railway. West of Jacobstadt the fighting continues with undiminished intensity. In the direction of Dvinsk there have been advance guard engagements north of Abele.

"On the road from Vilkomir the enemy with strong forces has taken an

GIVES THE TEUTONS MUCH NEEDED LESSON

London Paper Comments on Demand for Recale of Austro-Hungarian Ambassador.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The request for the recall of Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador to the United States, and Germany's note to the American government concerning the sinking of the Arabic are the principal topics of comment in the London morning papers.

President Wilson's action with regard to Dr. Dumba is approved by the newspapers as a "much-needed lesson in behavior."

The Graphic declared that no power has been more rigid in dealing with the ambassadors of other countries than Austria.

The Chronicle says:

"President Wilson has been patient, but when he strikes he strikes hard. America would have been the laughing stock of nations if he had tolerated the continued presence of Dr. Dumba. His dismissal may modify the exuberant activities of Count von Bernstorff."

The Standarr expresses the belief that President Wilson's prompt action will show the Germans that he is not to be trifled with, however long suffering he may be.

Referring to the German note concerning the Arabic, the Telegraph says:

"The upshot of it all is that the lives of non-combatants depend upon the turn which the excited imagination of a German officer may take. We still have to learn what fancies visited the mind of the commander who sank the Hesperian.

"Germany appealing to The Hague is a touch which beggars comment. We shall see what Washington will have to say to this insult."

BELIEVES NICKEL CAN BE REFINED IN ONTARIO

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—Speaking of the Ontario nickel commission, which today started out by paying a visit to the smelters at Kelor, Ont., Hon. Howard Ferguson, minister of mines, said:

"I firmly believe that there is some way that nickel can be refined in Ontario. We have the ore and we have the power and surely we can secure the other things necessary in the refining process."

SAYS GRAND DUKE LACKED ENERGY

Failed to Profit From Victories, But Retreat Was One of Greatest in History.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, Sept. 9, via Paris, Sept. 10.—"Grand Duke Nicholas lacked sufficient energy to profit from his triumphs when the Russian armies were victorious," writes Gen. Corsi, in the Tribuna. "He also lacked influence to impress upon the emperor the fact that the bureaucracy was responsible for the insufficiency of the military preparations. During the retreat, however, Grand Duke Nicholas showed a clear mind, capable of formulating precise views and reaching prompt decisions.

"Thus is was that the retreat, which might have been turned into a rout, became through the leadership of Grand Duke Nicholas one of the greatest military successes of history from a strategic standpoint. It is without comparison except for the famous retreat narrated by Xenophon."

BRITISH SHIP SUNK.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Sept. 11.—The British steamer Alexandra owned by the Cunard Steamship company, was torpedoed on Thursday, 70 miles from Cape Palos, near Murcia, Spain, according to the Madrid correspondent of the Havas agency. Twenty-eight of the crew have been landed in Spain.

GEN. CURRIE OF VICTORIA GETS LEGION OF HONOR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON Sept.10.—Brig.-Gen. Currie of Victoria, formerly commanding officer of the 50th regiment in the British Columiba capital, has been made a commander of the Legion of Honor.

EXCHANGE BOARD ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

Anglo-French Commission Welcomed by J. P. Morgan—Meets Many Leading Financiers.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The Anglo-French commission seeking a way to meet the huge bills of Great Britain and France for American munitions and other supplies¼ reached here today and was welcomed by J. P. Morgan and met approximately 100 prominent bankers, insurance heads and leaders in other lines of finance late this afternoon at a reception in Mr. Morgan's library. Tonight the commissioners were dinner guests of a party of New York financiers.

Actual negotiations as to the credit they hope to establish here were not begun and will not be for several days. During this period the commission expects to meet many other bankers and exporters and to become familiar with the situation.

With these preliminaries disposed of, the commission will start on the actual details of the proposed loan.

TO REORGANIZE MANITOBA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 10.—A reorganization of the staff of the Manitoba agricultural college, involving the resignation of Principal W. J. Black, was indicated today by the publication of a letter from Hon. Valentine Winkler, minister of agriculture, to Mr. Black. The letter referred to a demand from leading farmers and the agricultural press for a reorganization and said that the only possible way of doing this was to have a new president appointed. Mr. Winkler's letter pointed out that as Mr. Black was leaving for a vacation the nearness of the opening of the college made it necessary to act at once and the minister intended to have the necessary directors appointed at once. This letter was sent to Mr. Black on Sept. 3 but no answer has yet been received by the minister of agriculture. Commenting on the matter Mr. Winkler said:

"A prominent educationalist has been invited to Winnipeg to confer with the board as to the principalship of the college."

The promotion of Prof. Belford, deputy minister of agriculture to a new position created for him was also announced. Prof. Belford will have charge of all the province's farms and the special campaign against weeds.

Prof. Belford has been engaged on agricultural work for the province for a great number of years.

The new deputy minister of agriculture will be A. J. McMillan, of the Northwest Farmer, an honor graduate of the Manitoba agricultural college.

FIVE MILLION DOLLAR MILLING COMPANY FORMED

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—Notice appears today in the Canada Gazette of the incorporation of the Alberta Flour Mills, Limited, with headquarters at Calgary, and with a capital stock of $5,000,000. The provisional directors are all from Calgary.

The company takes wide power in the business of handling foodstuffs, preparing them and selling them.

GERMANS WIN FOOTHOLD ON VOSGES HEIGHT, BUT LOSE IT

Battles Rage Around Hartsmannsweilerkopf

FOE USES GAS IN MAKING ASSAULT

Belgians Gain Successes in Artillery Combats Along Yzer

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Germans have repeated in the Vosges mountains and in Artois the efforts which they made to break through the French lines in the Argonne forest, which seemingly indicates that the long expected offensive in the west will not much longer be delayed.

In the attacks the Germans claim that they were enabled to occupy some French trenches. The French report, issued later, admits this, but says the German progress was accomplished by the use of gas and that in counter-attacks the French regained the greater part of their lost ground at Hartmannsweilerkopf and later repulsed another violent attack against that position. Hartmannsweilerkopf which was taken by the French during their spring and summer operations, probably has been the scene of as much hard fighting as any place on the whole front. It has changed hands a dozen times. Yesterday the Germans by assault again got a footing upon the heights, according to the French report, but were driven down again during the night. Outside these events the armies in the west have been engaged in almost continuous artillery duels, bomb throwing and air raids.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—The following official statement was issued tonight:

"A violent cannonade is reported in Belgium in the region of Nieuport and Steenstraete, around Arras, in front of Roye and in Champagne from Auberive and Souain.

"In the Argonne the enemy bombarded with heavy shells the gully of the Fontaine aux Charmes and directed on the road from La Harazee to St. Hubert a tentative attack which was stopped promptly.

"To the south of Flirey and in the region of St. Die some artillery actions are reported.

Violent Attack Repulsed.

"The Germans launched a violent attack against Hartmannsweilerkopf but were repulsed. Two German aeroplanes have dropped a few bombs on Compiegne, especially on the hospitals. Only some unimportant material damage is reported to have been done.

"A German biplane has been forced to land within our lines at Hangest en Santerre. The aviators are prisoners.

"Six German aeroplanes attempted this morning to fly over St. Mene Hould. They were obliged to turn owing to the firm from our batteries."

Belgians Disperse Enemy.

HAVRE, France, Sept. 10.—The following statement of operations on the Belgian front was issued today by the Belgian military authorities:

"German artillery showed some slight activity today, directing fire on Ramsacapelle, Pervise, Oudstuyvenkenskerk, Oudecapelle, Renninghe, Pygate and also upon several other of our advanced positions. Our artillery replied with a heavy bombardment of the enemy's trenches along the bank of the Yzer canal, where several detachments of the enemy were dispersed."

GERMAN REPORT ON ARABIC INVENTED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The News this morning, dealing with Germany's note to the United States concerning the sinking of the Arabic says:

"We have good reason for believing that no report has as a matter of fact, been received by the German government from the submarine which sank the Arabic. The whole story almost certainly is an invention and can probably be proven to be such."

The paper has always contended that the submarine which torpedoed the Arabic never returned.

SHOOTS WIFE, THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

COPPER CLIFF, Ont., Sept. 10.—After twice attempting to kill his wife and succeeding in only sending a bullet into her leg, Otto Heinonen, a Finninsh farmer residing near Whitefish, took styrchnine tonight in front of the Copper Cliff jail, where he was being taken and died an hour later.

FEAR VAN HORNE WILL NOT SURVIVE

Little Hope Is Entertained for Recovery of Great Railway Man—Takes Serious Turn.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—The condition of Sir William VanHorne, former president of the Canadian Pacific railway, has taken a serious turn and little hope is now entertained for his recovery. A bulletin was issued from the hospital tonight at 11:45 o'clock, signed by his physicians, reading as follows:

"Sir William's condition has taken a much more serious turn in the past 48 hours and grave fears for his recovery are entertained."

Sir William was taken to the hospital Aug. 23 and an operation for abdominal abscess was performed. For the first week following the operation steady improvement was reported and the daily bulletins were discontinued until two days ago when one was issued stating that his condition was not so favorable. Since then no change was reported until tonight.

TURKS CLAIM MINOR ARTILLERY SUCCESSES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 11.—A Turkish official statement received here claimed some minor artillery successes for the Turks at the Dardanelles between Sept. 2 and 7 and says that in a night attack on the Irak front they killed four enemy officers and 100 men while the Turkish loss was four killed and nine wounded.

BRITISH LABOR MEN REJECT PEACE PROPOSAL

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BRISTOL, England, Sept. 10.—The trades union congress, representing more than 3,000,000 organized English workmen, rejected by an overwhelming vote today a resolution calling upon the parliamentary committee of the Labor party to formulate and advocate terms of peace satisfactory to the working classes.

WANTS ALL MACEDONIA.

SOFIA, Sept. 10.—Several days ago the Servian minister here declared officially to the Bulgarian government that Servia is ready to cede territory as far as the Vardar river in Macedonia and that Servia refuses to maintain a common border with Greece.

It is assumed here that the attitude of Greece is similar to this. Bulgaria meanwhile wants all of Macedonia, it has been declared by competent authorities.

1502 BRITISH OFFICERS ON TWO-WEEK CASUALTY LIST

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Fifteen hundred and two British officers have been killed, wounded and are missing for the two weeks dated Aug. 30 on the Gallipoli peninsula, according to official announcement here today.

$500,000 FROM PROVINCE FOR PATRIOTIC FUND

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 10.—British Columbia has contributed just over $500,000 to the Canadian Patriotic fund according to a statement just issued. This is exclusive of almost innumerable contributions for machine guns, British Columbia base hospital in France, etc.

BERNSTORFF MAY ALSO BE GIVEN WALKING PAPERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—President Wilson's request to Austria to recall its ambassador has brought about a situation which contains possibilities of extending to other diplomats of the Germanic allies.

It is known that the activities of Consul General von Nuber of Austria as well as those of Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, are again being reviewed by the state department.

VIENNA, Sept. 10.—Consternation reigned in Vienna when President Wilson's message demanding the recall of Ambassador Dumba was received, according to despatches here today from the Austrian capital.

As soon as Ambassador Penfield delivered the communication of his government Baron Burian, Austrian foreign minister, conferred at length with Emperor Francis Josef. No statement was given out as the result of the conference.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Dr. Dumba made his first appearance outside his hotel late today. To all questions asked him he waved his hands and said: "Nothing, nothing, nothing."

Entering his automobile with his secretary, he drove to Centray Park. It was considered quite certain that the ambassador would remain in New York until some time tomorrow.

ALLIED PLANE BOMBARDS HUN AERODROME, KILLS 103

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 10.—One hundred and three persons were killed by an allied aeroplane which recently bombarded an aerodrome at Gondrade, near Ghent, according to a Central News despatch received here today from Amsterdam.

A zeppelin also was destroyed. Roulers also was bombarded from the air and 10 persons killed.

A portion of the London press today demands that the allies make retaliatory raids upon the larger cities of Germany, naming Strassburg and Cologne as within striking distance of the French lines.

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—The following German official statement was issued last night:

"One of our naval airships on Thursday night threw a number of bombs with good success on a Russian naval base at a Baltic port, and its railway works. The airship returned unhurt, although it was fired at."

PRESIDENT POINCARE HONORS CANADIAN OFFICER

(By Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 10.—President Poincare has conferred upon Lieut.-Col. James Henry Mitchell, 3rd field artillery brigade, the Croix d'Officer (officer's cross) of the Legion of Honor.

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

Women returning from the seaside with browned, reddened or freckled complexions will be wise in immediately taking up the mercolized wax treatment. Weather-beaten skin had best come off, for not amount of "beautifying" will ever make such skin pretty to look at. The surest, safest, easiest way to shed the despoiled cuticle is with the treatment suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream and rinse it off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of scarf skin will peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored or spotted complexion clear, white and satiny soft. Its action is so gentle no injury is caused and the face shows no trace of its use.

Burning heat, irritating winds and dirt are such wrinkle-makers that the daily use of the following astringent-tonic lotion at this season is highly advisable: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pt. Used as a face bath this is a splendid wrinkle remover and preventive.

SAYS WORKINGMEN BEING EXPLOITED

George Lounsberry Gives Opinion—Look for Better Civilization as Result of War.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 10.The British workingmen know "that Germany is not going to be crushed; they know that England is not going to be crushed. They believe that a new and better civilization, with more liberty for the lower classes of all the countries concerned is going to grow out of this war."

This positive opinion was expressed today by George Lansbury, an English labor leader, in an interview.

Mr. Lansburry answered the question: "What is the matter with the laboring men of Great Britain?"

"The working men of Great Britain are striking because they believe their patriotism is being exploited," he said. "I was recently in a little town in Wales, where the people were paying $1.25 more a ton for coal than they had paid before the war and the wages for the miners in that town had not been advanced a cent.

"Bread in England has risen 100 per cent in price, but the farmer is getting no more for his wheat, nor the baker for his labor. It is the greed of the employing classes that the British unions are fighting."

"Are the unions against the war?"

Misunderstand Situation.

"No, they are not. They have shown that by their attitude at the Bristol trades union congress this week. The British unions would welcome an honorable peace. But, on the other hand, if the Germans ever put a foot on British soil there would be such an uprising in England as the world has never seen before. Women and children would rise and fight."

"Are the British unionists in favor of helping France?"

"They do not understand the French situation. You know this is the first war in the history of the world in which the working men of Europe have been able to read and write. At the time of the Fashoda incident the English newspapers and statesmen attacked the French viciously and union men read these attacks and remember them.

"A few years ago the kaiser came to England and the newspapers lauded him to the skies. The laboring men of England read this prase and they have not forgotten. They misconstrue much they read now, but they have memories."

"Are the union men joining the army?"

Rely Upon Fleet.

"Certainly they are. I heard the other day of one regiment that was made up almost entirely of union men. They got their unioism and their soldiering mixed and the captain had to make a speech to them. He said: 'This regiment is no union.' The whole regiment had been passing resolutions about thhis and that and union style. As soon as it was pointed out to them, they saw the joke, and became good soldiers. We have not any recent figures, but there are scores of thousands of union men in the British army."

"Are the union men worried about the possibility of a German invasion?"

"Not a bit of it. They say the fleet will take care of that part of it, but they are ready to fight to the last man, woman and child if invasion comes."

"Why is he enlistment of working men not larger?"

"The British working man says that England is doing enough as it is. They say that the world cannot expect England to do the fourth thing on top of all the rest it has done and is doing."

"What do you mean by the 'fourth thing?'"

"The first thing England had to do was to clear the seas. England did this. The second was to supply money. England did this. The third thing was to supply ammunition and it is doing that. With the fleet going and to keep money coming in and ammunition on hand, the British working men have got to do the work. The 'fourth thing' as the workingmen have come to call it, is to supply the men."

"The British workingman is being cursed because he does not enlist but he cannot work and fight too. England has supplied 10 times more fighting men than it bargained for and the British workingman knows it. How can Britain supply all the things that are demanded of it and then supply more men in addition?

"The British union man knows that a new England is going to be born out of this war. The old England is passing away.

"There are certain classes in England that are trying, amid the excitement of war, to take from the working men the rights they have gained during years of struggle. But the workingmen are determined to hold the rights at the greatest cost.

"British union men know that Germany is not going to be crushed; they know that England is not going to be crushed. They believe that a better civilization, with more liberty for the lower classes of all the countries concerned is going to grow out of this war. If we did not believe that we would cease our efforts.

"British union men in all lines have made this offer to their employers: 'We will work for pre-war wages if you will sell what we produce at pre-war prices.'

"The British manufacturers have not accepted this offer. They have challenged the British workingmen by raising all prices and by refusing to raise wages. Then they resorted to the trick of questioning the patriotism of all workers who objected to this arrangement.

"British union men are determined that they will not endure the situation. They must have more money in order to live. That is why they are striking."

REPATRIATION OF GERMAN COURT PIANIST

Mlle. Janotha Allowed to Live in England Long After War Broke Out—Finally Deported.

Mlle. Janotha, the court pianist to the kaiser, was arersted in London, and has been deported.

The famous artist, who lived at 20 Grosvenor street W., is well known to concert audiences in Europe and the United States. A Pole, she was born in Warsaw in 1856. Her friendship with the German emperor and empress was well known, and it has come as a great surprise to the public that she has been living at large in this country since the outbreak of the war. Some years ago she stated in an autobiographical sketch that she had a brother who entered the Prussian army as a major and was appointed by the kaiser a Knight of the Red Eagle.

Mlle. Maria Cecilie Natalie Janotha has for many years made England her home. At one time she had apartments at Kensington Palace and a house near Osborne House in the Isle of Wight. She was decorated by the German empress, who gave her a brooch bearing the imperial monogram —a very unusual honor. The kaiser was very fond of hearing her play a "carillon," and, beating time with his hand, he used to exclaim when she had finished: "Zweltf! richtig!" (Twelve, right").

She received the Victoria Badge from Queen Victoria and the Diamond Jubilee medal. She frequently played before Queen Victoria at Balmoral, Osborne, and Windsor, and greatly admired Queen Alexandra's musical gifts. She knew Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone and Lord Tennyson well. The poet sometimes read his verses to her. During the South African war she organized a charity concert at Stafford House.

As a child she displayed all the signs of a prodigy, and she used to tell how on her first appearance in Berlin she wase handed on to the playform by von Moltke himself. She was a pupil of Weber, Mme. Schumann, and Joachim.

Mlle. Janotha was always accompanied by a black cat, "Prince White Heather." It wore a gold collar, and its death has been reported several times, only to be indignantly denied by its owner.

"Few enemy aliens in this country have not been interned," said an official at the home office, "but there are still a number of women remaining who are to be repatriated."

Duncan's wife had the reputation of being a first-class shrew. When Duncan died his neighbors put a tombstone over his grave with the epitaph, "Asleep in Peace."

Widow Duncan was wild. It was meant as a slam at her, and she knew it was. It meant that she did not let him sleep in peace while alive.

The neighbors assured her that it was not meant that way.

"Then it ought to say so."

To please her they got a stonecutter to add: "We all believe that he did have peace here—when he slept."

BRITISH BOMBERS CATCH GERMANS IN BIG DUGOUT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Sept. 10.—Today the correspondents visited a regiment which took part in the battle at Hooge, in which the British won 1200 yards of trenches. One officer kept on speaking of the guns, and so did the other officers and men, with a depth of feeling expressive of realization that the guns might mean life or death and succes sor failure for them.

Singularly enough, the British loss in taking the trench was less than in losing it. They got about 1000 yards with the first rush. Mostly they met the Germans coming from their dugouts and it was hand-to-hand fighting when the Germans did not yield. As soon as they had yielded they were started back toward the British rear, for in the maze of traverses where rifles and bombs are lying about loose, prisoners may soon renew the fray. The next day a faint rumble like that of a human voice came from a pile of earth and it was found that one of the high explosive shells had closed the door of a dugout. The occupants were rescued alive.

When an officer and some men came to the edge of a mine crater they found nearly 100 Germans in the bottom of it, where they had taken cover from the bombardment. The British looked down at the Germans and the Germans looked up at the British. As one of the men said, the surprise was mutual but the Germans were a little the more surprised of the two. The British had bombs in their hands. All they had to do was to stand back and toss the bombs into the crater.

Chucking bombs into a dugout when the occupants will not surender is one of the commonest proceedings in the course of taking a trench.

"We shall give ourselves up," said the German officer, starting up the side of the crater. "You've got us."

As the Germans came up some of the British shook hands with them, and soon they were marching along a road in the midst of a German shell fire, smoking cigarettes given them by their captors. Meanwhile it was stab and thrust in other places, till the Briton or Teuton was down. Rushing up the traverses the British drove the Germans before them with bombs, gaining more ground. In addition to their own bombs they used the Germans'. "One German showed us how to use them," said a British bomb thrower. "He did it instinctively. I was fumbling with it. That was helpful of him. You had to pull a string on top before you made the throw. They seemed to be first rate bombs."

Once over the demoralization caused by the crash of the bursting shells from the British artillery concentration in their ears the Germans came out of their dugouts, resisting with bombs and the British, running short, had to fall back pursued by the Germans, thus losing some of their ground gained before more bombs were brought up from the rear. This had to be done under gusts of shrapnel bullets, for now the German guns were giving the British supports all they had to give as fast as they could. The struggle proceeded in the midst of the scream and burst of projectiles. Twice one of the sergeants crossed the zone back to the support trenches bringing supplies of bombs before he was killed. Others were at the same work and others were killed and wounded, but they got enough to hold 1200 yards of trenches.

INSPECTIONS MANY ON BRITISH FRONT

New Army Is Being Prepared in France for Real Operations—Field Marshal Busy

THE BRITISH HEADQUARTERS, France, Sept. 10.—The only man of the hundreds of thousands at the British front who wears the crossed batons of a field marshal on his shoulders appeared in an opening in the shrubbery which bordered the field where a machine gun battery of the new army was waiting for orders to move.

None of the men in the battery had any idea that he was coming. They were lounging and chatting as they waited. In a glance every one identified that sturdy figure with its square chin and the white drooping moustache with the pictures that they had seen in the papers. There was no need for a call to attention. The effect was like an electric shock which sent every man to his place and made his backbone a steel rod.

"Does Sir John French often slip up on you that way?" gasped one of the battery lieutenants, who was all of 19 years of age. Nineteen is the limit of youth for officers in the new army, and there are scores no older. From the one chocolate drop on that boy lieutenant's sleeve to the crossed batons represented a dizzy altitude.

The battery had just come out from England. It took the commander-in-chief about five minutes to form judgment of the results of their nine months' preparatory drill. He asked a few questions as he looked over each gun and its crew.

Always on the Go

"Very good," he said, and returned to his car, which was to take him on to inspect some other formation.

"Any idea that the commander-in-chief spends all his time over a map with a telephone at his elbow," as the staff officer explained, "is quite erroneous. He always is on the go."

The automobile enables him to get over a lot of ground in a day. Sometimes the inspections are quite formal. Different battalions of a brigade drawn up in fields await his coming. Commanding officers know of his approach when they see the flag of his car fluttering along the road. On these occasions he usually makes a little speech. Once when a platform had been arranged for him to address a battalion he passed it by and went closer to the men, standing in the field with their rigid columns around him. After that platforms went out of fashion.

"One might think that he could learn very little by a brief inspection or watching troops march past on parade," said the staff officer, "but a soldier's eye takes in more than a civilian can guess. He not only sees that uniform and equipment are in good condition but he is able to judge both the spirit and the physical condition of the men. If they have been having a hard time of it in the trenches he can tell how much fight is left in them. He may judge the character of the reserves who have filled the vacant places. And the men see him. He is no longer a distant figure. They feel the effect of his personality."

The new army contingents as they arrive receive particular attention.

Are There to Fight

"Every general in the army seems to be taking his turn at inspecting us," said one of the new army officers. "We had plenty of inspections at home. We came out here to fight."

When this was repeated to a staff officer who belonged to the "G. H. Q.," as they call the general headquarters, he said: "They need not worry about that. They will be getting fighting enough when the time comes. But they have the right spirit. All the armies in this war have found that the men who have been in the trenches know from experience how to hold the trenches. They can dig and they can stick, no matter how heavy the shell fire. But fresh troops when properly drilled are the best for the offensive. England has a far larger army which has never heard the crack of a bullet than has ever been under fire. The new army men learned a good deal in England; they are to be taught more at the front."

A battalion of new army men drawn up on the pavement of a French village in front of their billets with their transports and their packs on their back awaiting for a general to inspect them is a common sight. The subordinate inspectors have more time to spare for the task than the commander-in-chief. Down the front of the line of each company and then along the rear they move slowly as they take in every detail.

They say that when an army of millions has to be made by a country that had only a small regular army to start with and there is a year's experience of warfare, revolutionary in its methods, to inculcate along with the old principles, too much pains cannot be taken in any direction. New army men may be digging reserve trenches or at morning muster and an automobile stops and here is another officer with a red cap which shows that he belongs to the staff, or another general to inspect them. Everybody at the British front not in the trenches seems either occupied in making inspections or looking out for an inspection.

"If it isn't somebody bent on inspections," said one of the new army men, "it is some army medical corp shaking engaged in disinfection."

MIKE GIBBONS TO FIGHT M'FARLAND

Boxers to Meet for Championship Today—Both Men Are Down to Weight.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BRIGHTON BEACH, N.Y., Sept. 10.—Mike Gibbons and Packey McFarland yesterday practically ended their training for their 10-round fight Saturday to determined which is to have the right to label himself the greatest boxer of his day.

Both men are down to weight. Gibbons was thought to be 4 or 5 pounds under the required notch when he knocked off work yesterday. Packey weighed exactly 147 when he came in from his road work yesterday morning. A little of the painful process is necessary just before a fight but the ordeal will not be long drawn out in this case. They will weigh 147 at 3 p.m. Saturday and apparently neither will have the least trouble in making the figure. Packey said this afternoon that he expects to enter the ring at about 149 pounds. He hopes to make it 150.

Mike did no boxing yesterday. He ran off his usual allotment of road work in the morning but after lunch he was inclined to loaf.

Ken McNab, another of Orilla's famous hockey champions, has enlisted. He is joining Col. Southam's Sportsmen's battery at Hamilton. Ken has played coverpoint for Orillia for five seasons.

MODERN TWIRLING MOST MARVELOUS

Times Have Changed Since Specialists in Hurling Had Their Day in the Limelight.

Breaking the ball in pitching. That is the most marvelous feat in baseball.

To hurl a ball in the neighborhood of 60 feet and have it break over a space which is 17 inches wide by 8 feet deep and sometimes 8 feet in height is a wonderful thing.

How wonderful is indicated by several things. One was the length of time that it took to discover that it could be done at all. Games in which a ball is used are ancient, yet it took American inventiveness to discover that a baseball could be curved, and even then the knowledge was years in coming. Curve pitching is a comparatively modern accomplishment.

Scientists at first denied that curve pitching was possible. Tests convinced them that it was. Today the breaks obtained by pitchers are so pronounced that baseball fans would laugh at anyone who asserted that they existed only in imagination.

But even today the British and others not accustomed to baseball find the art of pitching too subtle for them. They can see and applaud fine feats of fielding and the hard hitting of balls, but their education has been lacking when it comes to the pitching of curves. They can understand the coarser break obtained in cricket by the ball taking tortion from the ground, but ability to make the ball break by only the friction of the air is too much for them. They fail to understand why the American batter fail to hit what looks to them light straight ball pitching.

Formerly a hurler who had control of one style of pitching was a star. Old-time stars, in fact, stars of less than two dozen years ago, were famed for one style of delivery. That was enough to fool the batters of those days and gain fame.

Pitchers of the present day to be successful must have more than one style of delivery. Furthermore, they must have control to get their "stuff" across the plate. Old-time pitchers had but to throw a curve ball to fool both the batter and the umpire. In fact, the only way of pitching outside of the ball straight over the plate was sure to curve it. Now there are many ways of fooling the batter. Curve ball pitching was the first deviation from a straight delivery and it is still one. But the variety of curves has increased and also has the combination with which they are used. There are the usual in and out curve, or curves which break toward and away from the batter, but these may be high or low, and the combination of the drop and a curve is used effectively.

"Break" ball pitching is dintinguished from "curve" ball pitching by the fact that the former is sharp, while the latter is gradual. The most puzzling delivery to a batsman, when it is worked effectively, is the "jump" ball, a delivery still doubted by some good baseball fans but by few players.

It takes a pitcher with a powerful arm to get enough twist on the ball to cause it to rise slightly owing to the rotation given it, but such men as Bill Dineen and Rube Waddell had this so effectively that they were practically unhittable when going at their best, and the ball invariably pooped up in the air from being struck underneath.

Good drop pitching and spitball pitching are to some extent alike, but the drop ball has a slant before it gets to the batter and falls away slower, while the spitball comes up straight as a string and breaks as much as a couple of inches with great suddenness. Good spitball pitching is almost if not quite as hard to hit as jumpball twirling, but it differs in the fact that the ball is hit on top and goes to the ground instead of into the air. Such men as Ed Walsh are practicaly unhittable when at their best with the spitball, but the greatest fault of this delivery is that it is hard to control and but few pitchers ever master is sufficiently to overcome the batter with a good eye and the patience to wait. Gene Krapp was probably the best spitball pitcher who ever worked here, but he was also as wild as a March hare.—Butte Miner.

DATES FOR CHAMPIONSHIP LACROSSE DECIDED UPON

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—Dates for deciding the championship for lacrosse in eastern Canada have been agreed upon. President Caron of the National A. A. A. champions of the N. L. U. stated tonight that arrangements have been made to play the Rosedales of Toronto here Sunday, Sept. 19 and in Toronto the following Saturday, Sept. 25. Total goals in the two games will decide the championship.

The club winning the forthcoming series will hold the right to travel to the Pacific coast.

BOSTON BRAVES GET A HEAVY SET-BACK

Bill James, Premier Pitcher, Suspended in Order to Rest Arm—Pennant Hopes Shattered.

Pitcher Bill James, of the Boston Braves, who was the main factor in the winning of the world's series by the Boston club last year, has been suspended at his own request in order that he might go to his home in Seattle to rest up his salary wing. Experts say that this is the only way that James will be able to return to form, as his arm has gone completely to the bad. An exhibition game played at the coast last winter is said to be the cause of his failure to pitch the brand of ball that he did last year. In that game he strained several ligaments in his shoulder and has been unable ever since to use his right arm effectively. The dropping of James from the roster of the Stallings crew will be a real set back to the pennant hopes of the Braves, who are now in a position to battle effectively for the lead, being in the top division with Brooklyn, Chicago and Philadelphia.

WOULD ABOLISH CLINCH IN BOXING

Is Said That Fight Game Would Be More Exciting with Holding Eliminated.

That boxing would be a 100-fould more exciting if the clinch could be eliminated goes without saying. In that case practically every bout would be decisive either ending in a knockout or a disqualification. However, the idea obviously is impracticable for many reasons. Clinching is illegal under the present rules, but the full penalty is never imposed, because to do so would make the sport a little too strenuous for safety. The most practical interpretation of the code, as followed by the best referees, is to penalize the man who forces the clinch one point. Under this system the boxer who jabs and grabs gets no credit for his work, as the point he scores for landing the blow is offset by the penalty for clinching.

If this style of judging bouts were followed more closely men of Welshs type would be forced to box cleanly in order to gain credit for a victory on points. The really great boxers have been those who never clinched except as a last resort, when to dazed and weakened to block accurately or to use footwork. Under these conditions the clinch is highly necessary, but as a general thing it should be discouraged as much as possible by imposing the penalty.

While it may be impossible to dispense with the clinch it would be highly interesting to try the experiment. Perhaps two boxers can be found willing to put the matter to a test in a trial bout. Such a contest certainly would prove a great drawing card.

Johnny O'Leary, Canadian lightweight champion, is in Calgary. He will met the champion of the encampment there shortly in a 10-round go.

Willie Ritchie, American lightweight champion, will meet Joe Shugrue, considered one of the best lightweights in the game until his eyes went bad after a bout with Charlie White last winter.

A Suggestion for Efficient Economy

Throughout the Empire has gone the call for personal economy to meet the extraordinary demands of the war. Here is a timely suggestion to men who have been spending from $25.00 to $75.00 a year on barber shop shaves:

Invest five dollars in a

GILLETTE Safety Razor

and shave yourself at home.

The saving will not be limited to money—the time you'll gain will be even more important, for the morning shave with the Gillette need not take more than five minutes.

And the comfort rivals the economy. Though you never shaved yourself before, you'll have no trouble in getting a clean, cool, safe shave with the Gillette Safety Razor. No more waiting your turn in the chair—no more breaks in the morning's work—no more dependence on unknown barbers when travelling, for the Gillette works anywhere.

Truly, the man with a Gillette is an efficient economist. Get one yourself to-day. "Bulldog", "Aristocrat" or Standard Sets cost $5. —Pocket Editions $5. to $6.—Combination Sets $6.50 up. Your Hardware Dealer or Jeweler will show you an assortment. 62

WEAK AND WASTED BABIES

More Striking Cures by Dr. Cassell's Tablets.

A British Medicine of World-wide Popularity.

Baby's Cure Just Wonderful!

Was Wasting Away for Want of Nourishment.

Just Seemed Like Skin and Bone.

Months of Treatment of No Avail.

Afterwards Completely Cured by DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS.

That Dr. Cassell's Tablets are as suitable for the youngest child as for adults will be evident to all Canadian mothers when they read the following true testimony.

"I am so delighted with Dr. Cassell's Tablets that I don't know how to praise them enough. I am quite sure they saved the life of my little baby." So says Mrs. Emma Martin, a happy young mother, residing at 26, Edward-street, Hessle, Hull, England. And she goes on: "Baby was only a few weeks old, poor little girl, when she fell ill, and nothing that we could do for her was of the slightest use. For months she was under treatment, and had ever so many bottles of medicine, but she only got worse. Nothing would remain on her stomach, she was just wasting away for want of nourishment. We had all sorts of infants' foods for her, but it was always the same; poor little Marjory could do nothing with them. Whatever we gave returned almost at once."

"We were told it was very severe dyspepsia, and that there was nothing to do but persevere. We did persevere. I am sure I did everything I could, but all the time my child was getting thinner and thinner till she seemed just skin and bone. She looked like a little shrivelled-up old woman. At last we lost hope altogether, and quite made up our minds that baby could never recover. Everybody who saw her thought the same. She was positively dying of starvation, poor little mite, for no food at all agreed with her.

Baby Martin.

"That was the position when my sister sent me one of Dr. Cassell's books, and in it was the story of a baby cure when cure seemed hopeless. I got Dr. Cassell's Tablets at once, and after a dose or two my child could retain food. Oh! how glad I was! From that time it was just wonderful how she improved. She grew bigger and bonnier every day, till now, at thirteen months old, she is just a little picture of health, as well as any baby could possibly be. I know it is all due to Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and I shall never cease to praise that health-giving preparation."

What wonder that mothers are so enthusiastic in their praise of Dr. Cassell's Tablets? To watch a little wasted infant rapidly growing into a big, fat, jolly baby by help of this wonderful remedy—surely that is enough to gladden any mother's heart.

STOMACH TROUBLE

So bad they thought it was hopeless.

"I am sure I can never sufficiently praise Dr. Cassell's Tablets; they were the means of saving my baby's life." So says Mrs. Bate, of 8, Queen-street, Quarry Bank, Brierley Hill, England, and her praise will be echoed by every Canadian mother who has ever used Dr. Cassell's Tablets.

Baby Bate.

Mrs. Bate continued: "Baby had not been strong from birth, and when he began cutting his teeth he got ever so weak and ill. First, there was a breaking out on his little body, and then he just seemed to waste away before our eyes. We were told it was severe bowel trouble; but though everything possible was done to save him, poor baby appeared to be beyond hope of recovery. He was always in pain, with severe diarrhœa, and he got so thin that you could have almost blown him away, as the saying is. Whatever kind of food we gave him returned. He was very restless, and hardly got any sleep. We were constantly in fear that baby would die when we were not watching. We had sat up with him all one night, when next day, by a lucky chance, we read about Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and at once sent for some. Very soon there was improvement, the sickness stopped and the diarrhœa, and from that time baby got better and better, till now he is as well as any child could be."

LARGEST SALE IN BRITAIN.

Popularity Now World-Wide.

Surely the honest truth, as set out in the above authentic testimony, is sufficient to prove that Dr. Cassell's Tablets will do all that is claimed for them and effect cures even in severe cases. Guaranteed perfectly safe for even the youngest babe, Dr. Cassell's Tablets are a reliable remedy for Nervous Breakdown, Nerve Failure, Infantile Weakness, Neurasthenia, Sleeplessness, Anæmia, Kidney Trouble, Dyspepsia, Stomach Disorder, Wasting, Palpitation; and they are specially valuable for nursing mothers and girls approaching womanhood. All druggists and storekeepers throughout the Dominion sell Dr. Cassell's Tablets at 50 cents. People in outlying districts should keep Dr. Cassell's Tablets by them in case of emergency. A Free Sample will be sent on receipt of 5 cents for mailing and packing, by the Sole Agents for Canada, H. F. Ritchie and Co., Ltd., 10, M'Caul-street, Toronto, Ont.

TAX COLLECTIONS SPEAK OF SOUND CONDITIONS

The success of the city of Nelson in collecting taxes in arrears is indisputable evidence of the soundness in conditions in this part of British Columbia. To have succeeded in reducing in two months the amount of taxes due for 1912 and 1913 to the small sum of $2500 is a record in which Nelson has every reason for feeling satisfaction.

There are two chief reasons for the favorable commercial and financial situation of this part of the province—the richness of its basic resources and the fact that it is not now suffering from the "morning-after" effects of a boom. Kootenay and Boundary, during the period when many other districts were in the midst of a wild debauch of speculation, continued steadily along the path of sound development.

The consequence has been that it has suffered no acute reaction and from the general depression it has been able to make a much more rapid recovery than many other less fortunately situated districts.

GEORGE LANSBURY REPRESENTS SMALL MINORITY

A resolution passed by the British trades and labor congress at Bristol answers the contention of George Lansbury, a leader of one section of the Labor party, that the British working man believes that "England is doing enough as it is" and that it should not be asked to supply men for service in the field in addition to controlling the seas and supplying money and munitions to its allies. On Thursday the congress, which is the largest and most representative labor body in Great Britain, passed almost without opposition the following resolution:

That this congress, being convinced that the issues involved in the present European war are of transcendant importance to the democracies of this and other countries, hereby records its entire approval of the action of the parliamentary Labor party in co-operating with the other political parties in the national recruiting campaign.

While it is the policy of the British government to refrain from recruiting expert workers from the war supply industries no such exception has been made in the case of unskilled labor which can readily be replaced by the physically unfit or by women. Workers whose places can easily be filled are needed at the front—and they are going there in their scores of thousands. There is no "England is doing enough" or limited liability sentiment, such as Mr. Lansbury voiced, about the British recruiting policy which the great majority of British working men, through the Bristol congress, has endorsed.

THE PATRIOTIC FUND NEEDS LARGER INCOME

Reports upon the Canadian Patriotic fund show that since the heavy increase in enlistments during the past three months the revenue is no longer equal to the expenditures. Steps must be taken to provide for the great increase in the number of dependents of soldiers which has taken place.

The people of the Dominion have willingly accepted it as their duty to make provision which will ensure that the wives, children and other dependents of the men who volunteer for the front will receive a sufficient monthly income to secure them against want. That duty must be performed.

A campaign is to be carried out throughout Canada this fall to increase the flow of donations to the fund. Thousands of Canadians who are not at present subscribing will do so when they appreciate the need for money and many more will increase the donations to which they are already pledged.

SAVING SOME OF THE WOUNDED HORSES

One of the saddest features of warfare has always been the sufferings undergone by wounded cavalry, artillery and transport horses. Little attempt has been made in the past to save any but slightly wounded animals. Horses which were wounded sufficiently seriously to prevent them being almost immediately of use sometimes met a merciful death from a revolver fired by a friendly soldier but often had to linger in agony until the end came.

To a great extent this condition still prevails. Difficulties which surround the removal of wounded soldiers are generally too great to permit of much attention being paid to the horses. But a letter from a Calgary soldier at the front indicates that, when circumstances will permit, the veterinaries of the allies in the west have performed some wonderful operations upon horses which, although no longer of value for military purposes, may still be employed in less strenuous work. In one case a Saskatchewan veterinary operated on a horse whose windpipe had been partially shot away. An artificial pipe was inserted and the animal is recovering.

There is a campaign against waste at the front as well as at home and if the veterinary corps can save a larger proportion of wounded horses it will be carrying out a work which is both humane and of economic importance.

Germany has called out the physically unfit for war service. It called out the mentally unfit years ago—and gave them jobs in the foreign office.

Ranchers should lose no time in securing from the fair manager the information regarding the prize list which will enable them to decide upon exhibits for the exhibition this month.

Dr. Dumba must leave the United States. Count von Bernstorff must be worrying as to how much President Wilson has learned of his activities along the same lines as those which have brought about the downfall of the Austrian ambassador.

The Boston Transcript thinks that hereafter the descriptive term "Machiavellian" will give place to "kultur." The Florentine statesman would turn in his grave if he knew that any such comparison were suggested. Machiavelli would never have committed the diplomatic blunders which have characterized Germany's bid for world dominance.

"Again, where was there ever a more powerful navy than England had at the beginning of the war? Did it prevent war?" asks Prof. Henry Olerich of Omaha, Neb., is a pamphlet written in the usual German-American strain upon "Evils, Causes and Cure of War." For the benefit of the herr professor it may be stated that the British navy did not prevent war but that it saved Europe from German domination and the British Empire from destruction. No pacificist argument, from Nebraska or elsewhere, can alter that fact.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING:

One Solution

It is quite possible that the situation may be partially met by American acceptance of British treasury bills. This would have a beneficial effect all around. Best of all it would make clear to the central powers the confidence of the United States in the outcome of the war, as it would be virtually an acceptance of British I.O.U.'s such as have been offered the British people themselves by the treasury department and urged on patriotic grounds.—Ottawa Citizen.

When It Storms in Texas

The hurricane came in the night, and on our left and on our right chimneys were sent through roofs, and high, uprooted trees went hurling by; our chicken stepped outdoors to see what all of the strange noise could be and ere she'd made her second track her feathers were blown off her back! And the wind caught our poodle up and right now a Chihuahua pup has a whole lot more hair than what our little poodle dog has got. The wind picked up our high-board fence and we've not seen a splinter since. It took our shade tree bough by bough, and it ran down and milked our cow, and it tore down electric wires and it blew up a set of tires, and blew the whiskers off our face, and left the mortgage on our place. We can be thankful always, some. We're thankful that our house is plum.—Houston Post.

THE JOY OF LIFE.

What again was the main purpose of an Englishman in the time of Elizabeth? Was it not in the fullest and freest sense to live, to develop his life and that of others in the largest manner, to travel and see the world, to depict human life in the drama, to enjoy fresh air and open country and scenes of joyousness? Prof. Bradley has told us how men's minds were filled with the sense of largeness and beauty in the world, which new discoveries and the opening of ancient literatures had almost created anew to them. Life was a thing to be rejoiced in and made much of: even the life of the common people seemed joyous and its development a worthy theme for poetry and romance. And the result was a patriotism capable of repelling an Armada, and a literature which in some respects surpasses everything that has been done in the world, before or since.—Sir Oliver Lodge.

THE WAR ONE YEAR AGO.

On Sept. 11, 1914, the Russian battle that has been in progress in Galicia for the past 17 days has ended in a great victory for the Russian army.

It is reported in Rome that Great Britain has made a secret agreement with Greece for the use of the island of Lemnos as a naval base.

The battle of the Marne has ended in an undeniable victory. The first, second and third German armies have been hastening in retreat before the allied left and centre in turn.

Enver Pasha, the Turkish war minister, has forbidden all newspaper attacks against the triple entente and especially against Russia.

A German aeroplane flew over Troyes, dropping several bombs. One fell at the station the moment the Belfort train was arriving. The bombs exploded but no casualties resulted. A French aviator went after the Germans and while pursuing them shot and killed both occupants.

SAYS JUDGE USED LITIGANTS' HORSES

Case Against Judge itch in Ontario Near Conclusion—Arguments of Counsel Begin.

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—G. F. Henderson, K.C., prosecuting counsel, this morning concluded his argument on the evidence taken by Justice Hodgins, royal commissioner, in the charges against Judge Fitch of the Rainy River district. Following the noon adjournment Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., began his argument for the defense. Shortly afterward adjournment for the day was taken. One of the charges touched upon by Mr. Henderson was that while there was a judgment against Judge Fitch for debt and while an execution was in the bailiff's hands, he illegally stayed execution.

Another charge which Mr. Henderson asserted to be on Judge Fitch's own story absolutely true, was an allegation that the judge had ordered some horses which were the subject of litigation and in the sheriff's custody to be taken to his (Judge Fitch's) lumber camp and worked without compensation to the owners. It was claimed that when one of the horses died at the camp neither litigant received any compensation.

The last charge taken up was the allegation that Judge Fitch had interfered in municipal affairs to such an extent that he had created discord. Complaint of this had been made by Mr. Aylesworth, minister of justice.

Mr. Nesbitt will continue his argument Monday.

"THE RED, WHITE AND BLUE"

O Columbia, the synthetic gem of part of the ocean,
The home of the alleged brave and the constitutionally free,
The shrine of each patriot's qualified devotion,
A world, excepting always the belligerent nations, offers mild homage to thee.
Thy mandates make foreign cabinets assemble,
When liberty's form stands in view (of something they want to see),
Thy banners ought to make tyranny, in the form of inhuman tactics, tremble, but tyranny, somehow, remains strangely unfluttering,
When borne by the red, white and blue.

WHEN PLUMS ARE IN SEASON—SOME RECIPES

The plum is always sure of a warm welcome from the housewife, as it is useful in so many ways, not only in its seasonable state, but for the preserves, jams and jellies to be made from it and stored away with other winter dainties. The misty big blue plums are best spiced, while the greengages are good both preserved and in jam.

The plum par excellence for jams, jellies and pies is the small damson, which comes late in the season but has the most delicious flavor of the entire plum family when cooked. Plums, having so decided a flavor of their own, do not combine well with other fruits, so they are generally used alone. The plums for pies are washed and if large are stoned, but if the damsons are used, they are not stoned. Fill the pie with the fruit, then add a cup and a half of sugar and a quarter cup of cold water, this makes a sweet, rich pie of fine flavor. Whipped cream may be served with the pie, but must be well chilled.

The small plums are good to use also in a boiled Roly Poly pudding, and a hard sauce made of butter, sugar, stiffly beaten white of an egg, a tablespoon of vanilla and a grating of nutmeg is good to use with it.

The usual plum recipes are so well known that perhaps one or two favored by English housewives may be of interest enough to tempt the cooks of other countries to try them.

Damson Cheese—Wash and pick the stalks from six pounds of damsons, then put them in the preserving pan, barely covering them with water. Simmer them gently over the fire until they are quite soft, stirring them occasionally; when soft, beat them through a coarse sieve, put the pulp and juice into the preserving pan or kettle, adding their weight in sugar weighed before cooking, and simmer well for two hours, skimming carefully; then draw to a better part of the stove and boil for half an hour more, briskly stirring and watching carefully until it cooks firm enough to jelly down when cold, and it seems hard on the spoon. Turn the cheese at once into porcelain jam pots or earthenware molds. When cold, cover down with an oiled paper, then a tissue paper that has been brushed on either side with white of egg, label and store away. This is particularly good, as it combines the texture of both jam and jelly without seeds, making delicious sandwiches or filling for layer cakes.

Compote of Damsons—Take a quart of ripe damsons, wash and prick them with a needle, make a syrup of two cups of sugar, one pint of water and add a spice bag to it, as it boils. Simmer for five minutes, and boil five minutes, then put in the plums and simmer them gently until tender but not falling to pieces, remove them with a skimmer when done and boil the syrup down to a one half; when slightly cool, pour over the fruit, after removing the spice bag. Turn into a glass dish and chill. When ready to serve, heap with whipped cream, decorating the top with egg kisses dotted with cherries. Make the kisses of the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, four tablespoons of powdered sugar and a teaspoon of vanilla, drop by spoonfuls on to a slightly buttered baking plate and cook one or two minutes in the oven until a delicate brown, then remove with a sharp hot knife, slipping them on the top of the compote and set away to chill.

Greengage Sweetmeats—To every pound of fresh greengages allow one pound of sugar and a quarter pint of water. Select perfect fruit and fully ripe and leave the stalks on. Make a syrup of the water and sugar and when ready put in the fruit and boil 10 minutes. Then remove fruit with a skimmer and set aside; next day heat the syrup and when hot put in the fruit and simmer three minutes, then drain it. Repeat this process for six days; on the last day put the plums on a fine sieve and place them in a cooling oven to dry; when dry enough pack them in a box with wax paper between each layer. These sweetmeats are good to serve at afternoon functions with ice cream or for decorating cakes or puddings.

Plum Paste.—Wash and weigh two pounds of plums and the same amount of sugar, put a cup of water on them and let them simmer and melt; cook until all are soft, then put through a sieve, all the sugar, boil 20 minutes, watching the paste carefully, then spread on a tin to dry. When dry cut in squares and dust with powdered sugar, then pack in a tin box.

"Hallo, Bibber, so you got home last night without being torpedoed?"

"Whadymean torpedoed?"

"Why, you were taking a zigzag course when I saw you."

ECONOMY IN PATRIOTIC EFFORT

The value of patriotic effort is not always in proportion to the expenditure of energy and enthusiasm. More confusion and distinct detriment are likely to result from misguided zeal than from absolute apathy. England at the present time is suffering from such a plague of hastily organized disconnected patriotic relief societies that government intervention may be necessary.

In Canada, it may be said fairly, the question of patriotic relief and medical assistance has been handled in a businesslike way with a minimum of cross purposes and friction. At the outset of the war a Cehtral Patriotic Relief committee was organized by parliamentary decree. The providing of medical supplies for the wounded was turned over exclusively to the Canadian Red Cross society and the Army Medical Corps and so far there has been no interference by authorized organizations. The Red Cross has been the official channel for civilian generosity to the Canadian sick, wounded and prisoners, an arrangement that has proved in the highest degree economical.

At a joint meeting of the executive of the Red Cross society and the Central Relief committee at Ottawa at the outbreak of the war, the Canadian War Contingent association, of which Sir Perley, the Canadian high commissioner, is president, was recognized as the official agency for the distribution of comforts to the troops in the field. The Canadian Red Cross commissioner, Col. Hogetts, distributes Red Cross supplies to the sick and wounded in the Canadian military hospitals, but turns all field comforts over to the Canadian War Contingent association, the national committee of patriotic service.

STARS AT THE EDGE OF THE SAHARA

The effect of the stars in the pure atmosphere at the edge of the desert of Sahara has been noted by more than one wondering traveller. George E. Woodberry, describing a drive to Toufourt, says:

"The whole sky was powdered with stars; I have never seen such a myriad glimmer and glow, thickening, filling the heavenly spaces, innumerable; and all at once they seemed to interlink, great and small, with rays passing between them, and while they shone in their places, light fell from them in long lines, like falling rain, down the whole concave of night from the zenith to the horizon on every side. It was a Niagara of stars. The celestial dome without a break was sheeted with the starry rain, pouring down the hollow sphere of darkness, from the apex to the desert rims. No words can describe that sight, as a mere vision; still less can they tell its mystical effect at the moment."

"And it was not momentary; for half an hour, as we drove over the dark level, obscure, silent, lonely, I was arched in and shadowed by that ceaseless starry rain on all sides round; and as we passed the great twin lights of the gates, and entered Tougourt, and drew up in the dim and solitary square, it was still falling."

"Pa, what is the capital of the state of Matrimony?"

"Money, my son."

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories, and in a portion of the province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district of which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of sections and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-agent of Dominion lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

CRANBROOK GIRL WEDS CALGARY MAN

Miss Isabel Taylor Becomes Bride of C. C. Snowdon—Fall Fair Is Successful.

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRANBROOK, B. C., Sept. 10.—Campbell C. Snowdon and Miss Isabel Catherine Taylor were married Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents, Kimberley, by Rev. W. K. Thomson, of Cranbrook. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Taylor. Miss Jessie Kennedy of Cranbrook was bridesmaid, and G. P. Snowdon of Calgary, brother of the groom, was best man. The couple left on the noon train for the Panama exposition on their honeymoon trip. On their return they will reside in Calgary.

The Cranbrook fall fair opened yesterday under very favorable conditions. The exhibits were up to the standard of former years in spite of the fact that the decision to hold the fair was arrived at several months later than was the case in former years.

After a short shut down to make repairs, the Staples mill at Wycliffe will resume operations on Monday. It is expected that the mill will continue operations throughout the winter.

M. Normandin of Montreal is spending a few days in town visiting Jack and Jim Martin. While in the west he will visit Vancouver and the Panama exposition.

Dr. J. H. King has left for St. John, N. B., where he will visit his home.

Mrs. E. T. Dell will leave Cranbrook in a few days to join her husband in Red Deer. They will make their future home there.

J. F. Bridges of the Bridges Lumber company was in town yesterday looking for men to help operate his mill north of Fort Steele. He is running very short handed, but was unable to get men.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen held an enjoyable dance in the auditorium last night, over 100 couples being present.

FELL OVER PRECIPICE ACCIDENTALLY, SAYS JURY

(Special to The Daily News.)

FERNIE, B.C., Sept. 10.—The particulars of the fatal accident to J. Wisniweceski which occurred on Labor day were brought out at the coroner's inquest Thursday. Joe Gorasky stated with Wisniweceski he left Fernie on Sunday morning, going to the top of Mount Trinity in search of mountain goat. They left the mountain top about 7 a.m. Monday and it was 1 o'clock before they got to the point where the accident happened. The exact cause of Wisniweceski's fall was not known to his companion, who was a short distance ahead. The first intimation he had was when he heard a shout and turning saw Wisniwsecki rolling down a steep cliff, and then over a precipice, falling on his face on bare rocks 30 feet below. The jury found deceased came to his death accidentally and exonerated his companion, Joe Gorasky from all blame.

On Wednesday Mary, daughter of Charles Waldie of this city was married to Fritz Clockner, foreman at the plant of the Fernie-Fort Steel Brewing company here. The couple left for a trip to Nelson and the coast cities, and upon returning will take up their residence here.

CUT DOWN ON DIET.

The diseases playing so prominent a part in the mortality of men over 40, namely, heart disease, arterio-sclerosis and Bright's disease, begin insidiously. It is important to remember, however, that a competent physician is able to recognize the signs long before your own attention may be aroused by the symptoms.

The lesson is plain. If you are nearing or past 40, and are wise, you will consult your physician once a year, submit yourself to a thorough examination and carefully follow the advice he gives you. Don't wait until you notice suspicious symptoms; that is usually too late.

Most of us eat too much. We would do well to follow the advice of the great English physician, George Cheyne: "Every wise man, after 50, ought to begin to lessen at least the quantity of his aliment, and if he would continue free of great and dangerous distempers and preserve his senses and faculties clear to the last, he ought every seven years to go on abating gradually and sensibly, and at last descend out of life as he ascended into it, even into the child's diet." In short, why do men over 40 break down? Indulging their appetites.—C. F. Boldman, M. D., in the Scientific American.

Millinery Opening

Success Greets Our Superb Display of New Fall Millinery

What a splendid crowd of appreciative women filled our store yesterday. The reception accorded our Millinery Opening the first day was as impressive as any we've ever seen.

Our Selections of Fall Millinery Have Been Adjudged Satisfactory to the Smallest Detail

From various remarks overheard yesterday, we are led to believe that ours is the most complete and most instructive presentation of Millinery ever given at the beginning of a new season.

We're certain that you'll find it so and strongly urge you to carefully inspect every model in the store. Should you wish to have the distinction of being the first to wear the new Fall Hats you will find our prices surprisingly reasonable.

250 YARDS UNDER FIRE WINS CROSS

It is no easy task to travel 250 yards without taking to cover in the face of a deadly rifle fire, and when heavy cases of bombs have to be dragged along it can be understood how only two men of a party of 10 reached the goal. How such a terrible journey came to be made and why the men who made it were all awarded medals i vin tiaono were all awarded medals is vividly told in a recent issue of the London Times.

"On this day," says the newspaper, "a company of the 15th Sikhs under Capt. K. Hyde-Cates relieved a portion of the 1st battalion Highland Light infantry in a section of a trench known as the 'Glory Hole,' near the Ferme du Bois on the right of the Indian army corps' front. Furious fighting had been in progress here for some time. The situation at the moment of reliefe was that we had taken and occupied a section of the German trench, a portion of the same trench on our left being still held by the barrier between themselves and our men.

"In the early morning, Capt. Cates observed that attempts were being made to reinforce the enemy in the trench. A short time afterwards the attack began by heavy bombarding to which the 15th replied vigorously and succeeded in holding their own until noon, when the position became critical as our dry bombs had been expended and those that had become wet from rain were useless.

"It was then resolved to attempt to remove the situation by sending up a bombing party from the reserve trenches. Two previous attempts had been made by the Highland Light infantry, but both had failed. Lieut. Symth, a young officer of 21, was ordered to take command of the party. Lieut. Smyth and his party of 10 men started at 2 o'clock in the afternoon to cover the 250 yards which intervened between them and our trench, taking with them two boxes of 96 bombs.

"The ground to be covered was absolutely open, devoid of all natural cover. The only possible shelter from the frightful fire which met the party as soon as they were over our parapet was an old brown down trench, which at the best of times was hardly knee deep, but now in places it was filled almost to the top with the dead bodies of the Highland Light infantry, Worcesters, Indians and Germans.

"Dropping over our parapet, they wriggled their way through the mud, pulling and pushing the boxes with them until they reached the scanty shelter of the old trench. Pagris had been attached to the front of the boxes. By means of these the men in front pulled the boxes along over the trench through the dead bodies, while those in the rear pushed with all their might. After they had accomplished 100 yards of their journey only Liet. Smyth and six men were left to get the boxes along.

"In ordinary circumstances four men are required to handle a box of bombs. However, the survivors crawled on and on until before they reached the end of the trench they had dwinled to two, Lieut. Smyth and Sepoy Lal Singh. The second box of bombs had therefore to be abandoned, and to haul even one box of bombs along in the face of such difficulties appeared an impossible task. Lieut. Smyth and Lal Singh emerged, wriggling painfully along in the open, where they were met with an increased blast of fire. Surviving this, they crawled on, only to be confronted with a small stream which was too deep to wade.

"Still they crawled on and on in full view of the enemy, now at close quarters, until they came to a point in the stream which was just fordable. Across this they struggled with their valuable burden, and in a few yards they were among friends in our trench, both untouched, although their clothes were perforated with bullet holes. Sad to relate, shortly after reaching the trench the gallant Sepoy Lal Singh was killed.

"It can therefore be readily understood how our men rejoiced that Lieut. Smyth's gallantry had been rewarded with a V. C. Each of the brave men with him was awarded the Indian Distinguished Service medal. The men in the regiment believe that Lieut. Smyth bears a charmed life. He has had his cap blown off by shells five times, has had bullets through his clothes, and lately while he was lighting a cigarette the match was taken out of his fingers by a bullet."

energetic offensive since the morning of Sept. 9 in the region of Kourki on both sides of the road. Our machine gun and automobile detachment contributed actively toward repulsing the enemy. The engagement continues.

"Between the Sventa and Vilna the enemy's artillery and cavalry made a local attack on our troops in the region of Shriviarty. On the other roads toward Vilna there has been no change.

"East of Grodno, supported by a strong artillery fire, the enemy has undertaken a series of attacks against our positions since the morning of Sep. 10 in the direction of Skidel and also on the lower courses of the Melwianka river. These attacks have been repulsed.

Used Civilians as Shield.

"A German offensive at 4 o'clock in the morning along the road toward Skidel, accompanied by a strong fire from heavy artillery was arrested by the fire of our batteries. After 7 o'clock in the evening the German fire increasted and they resumed the offensive, making desperate efforts to break our front, but this attempt also was repulsed by the concentrated fire of our artillery and machine guns. We also repulsed a German attack near the village of Leady, south of the bridges on the Niemen.

"On the remainder of the front as far as the Pripet the enemy made attacks only on the region of Rosany and continued its offensive along the left bank of the Dvina. The attacks near Rosany were repulsed by our fire at close range followed by a bayonet charge.

"The Germany drove from Rosany a great crowd of inhabitants whom they used as a cover in approaching our positions. In the direction of Kremenetz the enemy bombarded our troops with gas projectiles and engaged in a combat in the region of the upper Goryni river."

Claim Repulse Russians

VIENNA, Sept. 10.—The following Austrian official war statement was issued here today:

"The Russian forces fighting in the region west of Rovno have been repulsed across the Studel lowlands. Our troops advancing from Zalosce repelled the enemy in the direction of Sbarasse.

"Near Tarnopol Austro-German battalions repulsed several Russian attacks. The Germans captured the village of Buoniow, west of the middle Sereth. Hostile reinforcements took part in the fighting, which was violent there. East of the mouth of the Sereth and on the Bessarabian frontier calm prevails.

"The Austro-Hungarian forces in Lithuania have crossed the broad, swampy region of the Jasiolda and Orla and have advanced in the region southeast of Rozany."

H. H. STEVENS SAYS GETS ABUSE FROM MANUFACTURERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 10.—H. H. Stevens, M.P., is having a fiery word war with officials of the British Columbia Manufacturers' association. At a gathering today Mr. Stevens declared that he had had nothing but abuse and insult from the manufacturers of this city and province. The manufacturers were complaining that they were being overlooked in a number of government contracts, notably in the manufacture of munitions.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME THIN

(By Elizabeth Thomas.)

Perhaps you are suddenly becoming stout, or it may be that you have been putting on weight for years. In either case the cause is the same—lack of oxygen-carrying power of the blood. This trouble occurs in adults of both sexes and all ages, but it may be overcome very easily and without any of the privations that most people imagine necessary to reduce their weight.

Simply go to your druggist and get some oil of orilene capsules. Take one after each meal and one before going to bed. Weigh yourself so as to know just how fast you are losing weight. Wonderful results have been accomplished by this inexpensive recipe, but be sure to get the genuine oil of orilene in capsule form. It is sold only in original sealed packages. Any large druggist can supply you or a large size box will be sent on receipt of $1.00. Address D. J. Little Drug Co., box 1240, Montreal, Can.

FOREIGN SITUATION SLACKENS BUYING

German Attitude on Arabic Sinking and Washington's Demand on Austria Deter Speculators.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Latest aspects of the international situation, as suggested by Germanys attitude in relation to the sinking of the Arabic and Washingtons demand for the recall of the Austrian ambassador, acted as the main deterrents to speculative sentiment today. Stocks opened moderate declines but recovered almost immediately, only to fall back again at midday. There they dangled listlessly until the final hour, when bearish activities and renewal of foreign selling became effective to the extent of causing net losses of 1 to 2 points in investment issues with greater losses in the volatile specialties.

Pursuing their usual course war shares were inclined to new high flights. Bethlehem Steel made a maximum advance of 10 to the new record of 335 and General Motors rose 8 to 271, also a new high record, while Crucible Steel and Studebaker came within fractional proximity of their best quotations.

Gains in the group were materially reduced or altogether lost before the close.

As a whole, railways denoted intermittent pressure and further selling of the same substantial characted which followed the issuance of excellent crop reports. Southern and southwestern issues fared rather better than other shares, although Missouri, Kansas & Texas common and preferred and Rock sland were distinctly heavy, with total sales amounting to 540,000 shares.

Foreign exchange was again stimulated by the arrival of the Anglo-French financial delegation, demand sterling rising to 4.69.

Bonds were irregular with reduced European offerings. Total sales, par value, $3,150,000.

United States coupon and registered 3s declined ¼ per cent on call.

STOCKS EXHAUSTED WHEAT ADVANCES

Market Closes Strong—Higher Premiums Paid for Immediate Delivery.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 10.—Wheat made a sharp advance today influenced by the virtual exhaustion of contract stocks here and at some other leading centres. The market closed strong, 1⅝ at 4¼ net higher with September at 99¼ and December at 94. Oats showed a gain of ¼ at ½. In provisions the outcome varied from 5c decline to a rise of 12½c.

Higher premiums for immediate delivery of wheat caused general covering by shorts, especially in the September option. The extreme scarcity of No. 2 red winter here was shown by the payment of 18½c a bushel premium for that grade on the spot as compared with ordinary September contracts. St. Louis and Kansas City reported similar changes as the result of what a well known authority referred to as the most extraordinary delay ever recorded as to the movement of winter wheat. Heavy rains which have interfered with threshink and shipping and which were again prevalent today led to assertions that not for several months, if at all this season would there ben any big accumulation of winter wheat at the principal markets.

Notwithstanding further talk of the slowness of export demand belief was expressed in some quarters that more business with foreigners was being done than has been announced from day to day. The weekly statement of exports was mentioned as evidence in this respect. No actual sales to Europt were disclosed today except 400,000 bushels of Manitoba wheat at the seaboard.

Oats were firm throughout the day. Offerings of the country proved small.

Hogs at the highest prices for years tended to life provisions. Packers, though, turned sellers and gave a check to any decided upturn in lards and meats.

MONTREAL LIST GOES OFF, FOLLOWING NEW YORK

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—After a firm to strong opening local stocks weakened today, in sympathy with the New York reaction and most of the active members of the list finished about ½ to 1 point lower than on Thursday. Business became abnormally dull in the afternoon when New York was selling off, the output for the hour's trading amounting to less than 400 shares. Pressure was light and not urgent at any point in the list, but offerings, however small, as a rule, were taken only at concessions. This was particularly the case of Scotia, which was strong and active during the morning session when the price rose 1⅛ to a new high record for the current movement of 87½.

Two lots of 25 shares changed hands at 87 and 86, so the early advance of 1⅛ was converted into a net decline of ⅜ under a negligible volume of selling. Business was generally featureless except for the early strength of Scotia.

RUSSELL MOTORS AND NOVA SCOTIA STEEL IN DEMAND

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—The demand for Russell Motor shares was a feature of the local stock market today. The common stock rose 4 points to 34 and preferred 2¾ to 59¾, both being new high records for the movement. The biggest market was in Scotia Steel which was in active request. Scotia advanced to 87 during the morning. During the afternoon it declined to 86½ on sales of 25 shares. The closing bid was 85 with 86 asked.

Steel of Canada preferred was watched for evidences of disappointment at the failure of the directors to declare any of the back dividends, owing with the regular quarterly declaration, which they have just made, but the stock did not indicate any disappointment, advancing, as a matter of fact, instead of declining.

Crow's Nest Coal is meeting with some inquiry and sold up to 58 for a small lot this morning, though 55 was the best bid for board lots. Consolidated Smelters sold at 110 and 111.

In banks Dominion sold at 227. Province of Ontario bonds were traded in at 88⅞ and interest for $1000.

AGED FIREMAN WANTS OLD DAYS

CLEVELAND—Safer Benesch's suggestion that hereafter all new fire stations in residence districts be built in harmony with the prevailing style of architecture in the neighborhood has brought no cheer to Ed. Grady, veteran fire fighter of No. 1 house.

"If the nearby houses are bungalows our fire station would be disguised as a bungalow—grass lawn and pansy beds in front and neat lace curtains on the windows. Some class, eh?" said Lieut. James Flynn after the morning clean-up.

"Bah," grunted veteran Ed. "When they took away the horses and gave up gasoline engines they stripped most of the glamor from the fire fighting game. If they put us into one story bungalows, where there are no poles to slide down all the romance will be gone. The new things are progressive and all right. But I'm glad I joined the department 27 years ago."

"One reason," said Uncle Eben, "why more advice doesn't git took, is dat de man givin' it don't seem so anxious to help as he is to pat his own self on de back an' show off how much he knows."

HUMOR AND WIT IN THE TRENCHES

An amusing story of an experience of the Canadian contingent when they first arrived at the front was related by a Canadian staff officer now at Shorncliffe. The story has been told before how the Germans reveiled their knowledge of the supposed secret arrival of the Canadians by calling out, "Hello, Canadians!" across the zone of fire as the Dominion troops took their places in the trenches.

"The amusing part of the incident occurred two days later," said the officer, "when our Mounted Rifles came to the firing lines. The Germans were perfectly aware of what was happening, for they at once began shouting out, Hello, Canadian Rifles! Where are your horses?" Shortly afterwards they hung a toy horse over the top of their trenches with the inscription, in big lettering, 'Here are your horses. Come and fetch them.' Our men naturally began to fire at the thing, whereupon the Germans promptly took it down, only to replace it a few minutes later with bandages round its neck and one of its legs, where it had been 'wounded.'

"But our fellows had the last laugh, after all, for they got a lot of socks, filled them out with sand to the required shape, and then hung them over the trenches with the inscription, 'Here are your sausages. Come and fetch them.' a retort which seemed to roil the Germans immensely."—London Chronicle.

CENTRAL AMERICAN CHIEF MADE THREATS TO GOD

An old number of the San Francisco Argonaut contains the following extraordinary decree of a Central American alcalde (magistrate) of the province of Santiago de Papasquiero:

"The principal alcalde of the town and department of Sanitago de Papasquiero:

"Whereas, the Supreme Creator has not behaved well in this province, as in the past two years only one shower of rain has fallen and this winter it has not rained at all, and consequently the crops of Sanitago de Papasquiero, on which depends the prosperity of the whole department, are entirely ruined, and therefore also the admirably directed mines of San Andres are on the point of closing down;

"The alcalde decrees:

"Article 1—If within the preemptory period of eight days rain does not fall abundantly, no one shall go to mass or say prayers.

"Artilce 2—If the drought continues eight days more, the churches and chapels shall be burned and all rosaries, missals and other articles of devotion shall be destroyed.

"Article 3—If, finally, in a third period of eight days it does not rain, all the priests, friars, nuns and saints, male and female, shall be beheaded. And for the meantime permission is given for the commission of all sorts of sins, in order that the Supreme Creator may understand with whom he has to deal.

"(Signed) Sebastian Villareal."

GREAT AIR FLEET OUT FOR EXCURSION

Eighty-Four Start Out From Nancy in Four Squadrons—Classed as Halfbreeds and Hawks.

A staff correspondent of the New York Times has sent the following account of his visit to the great French aeroplane field at Nancy:

"The ground was covered with aeroplanes. I had never seen so many before. I don't know how many there were out in the center and packed about the sides of the great field. There seemed to be hundreds of them. The captain pointed to the center. 'They are lined up for squad drill,' he said.

"There were lines of machines stretched horizontally across the field. I counted. The number was 20 in a line, and one directly behind each line in the center. There were four such squadrons, or 84 machines, lined up as if for inspection. A pilot and observer stood rigidly at attention beside each machine.

"'These lines of 20 machines are our little old reliable halfbreeds,' he said. 'They all have mitrailleuses aboard, with half a dozen bombs beneath. They can go along very nicely in almost any kind of weather at about 100 to 110 kilometers an hour.'

"'And the big machine behind each line?' I asked.

"'Oh, those are the new double-engine machines. They can work up to 130 kilometers, but require delicate handling.'

"'What do you call them?' I asked

"'Oh, some of the boys call them the hawks because they are so big and imposing.'

"There was a sudden crack of a revolver, the mechanics and helpers at the front line ducked away, there was a sudden rushing of mighty wings, and the first line of 20 machines leaped across the field and rose simultaneously in the air, followed by the hawk. They arose right in the path of the sun, which made their wings glisten as they turned to the right, hovered a moment, then started east. I gazed, fascinated.

"Crack! I jumped at the second shot of the revolver. Then again came the sudden rustling of giant wings, and a second twenty machines, in a perfect line, followed by the great hawk, sped across the field and lifted themselves into the sky. Again I gazed fascinated as the sun shot its glittering rays among their wings.

"On the sixtieth second came a third shot and in just four minutes after the first squad of mechanics darted for the side lines I saw 84 aeroplanes in the sky. Looking at certain angles I could see each squadron sharply defined from the others, followed by its hawk, which was always slightly higher in the air. At other angles of vision they all converged into a giant flock.

"At the end of the fifth minute they were just tiny dots in the sky, all flying at full speed due east in the direction of the German lines. At the end of the sixth minute I came out of my trance for they were all gone.

"After an hour the colonel began turning his glasses skyward into the east. The captain and I did likewise. Finally a faint speck appeared away off in the mist, then another, then another, clearer and clearer, until they evolved into aeroplanes They were coming back single file, so that the observers left behind might count them as they came to earth. 'Sometimes one or two do not come back,' said the colonel. 'We always count them carefully.'

"They came on at terrific speed, the great hawks flying higher, preparing for a volplane into the centre of the field, but the little half-breeds flew low, all heading for one end of the field.

"The colonel then pointed to a giant target fixed there in a clump of trees. 'They always shot at that on landing,' he said.

"The first machine arrived on the field, so close to the earth it seemed scarcely to clear the hangars. Then came the sharp report of a mitrailleuse and the flash of flame toward the target, and the wheels gently slid down to earth. Others followed rapidly, going through the same performance, until lost count, but the observers near by indicated with satisfactory and expressive shrugs of shoulders that all of the 84 were safely home again.

FREE PUBLICITY EVIL IS STRONGLY CONDEMNED

The American Newspaper Publishers' association at its recent annual meeting adopted the following resolution regarding the free publicity evil:

"Whereas, newspapers have but two commodities for sale, namely circulation and advertising space, and whereas press agents and some few advertising agents continue the practise of importuning newspapers to print certain advertising matter prepared in news style for the ostensible purpose of increasing the news of the day, while the real purpose of the copy is to secure the use of the news columns to convey inspired messages to the public, the American Newspaper Publishers association in convention assembled;

"Resolved that the practise of seeking free news space for the furtherance of business publicity is unethical and tends to lessen the friendly relations existing between the newspaper management and those who seek to secure publicity by such means, and be it further

"Resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to those who continue such practise.'

STORY OF "DEAD" SOLDIER'S DOUBLE

French Wife Mourns German as Husband—Captain No Longer Has Any Official Existence.

PARIS.—The following is a true st ry of one of the German methods of spying: Captain Belmont had been dangerously wounded in an action in the Champagne country, and was carried to a hospital in a little neighboring town, where he shortly died without regaining consciousness. On searching his pockets when he was admitted the authorities had found a letter addressed to his wife, with the note: "Please forward in case of dangerous wounding." The letter was sent, and Mme. Belmont was able to reach the hospital from Paris before her husband was placed in his coffin. The nursing sister who had attended the captain received her and tried to break the news as gently as possible, but at the first words the widow understood and fell fainting into her arms. The sister, who knew that the dead man's face was fearfully mutilated, managed to persuade the wife not to insist on seeing her husband's features again, so as "to keep in her memory the face as she had last seen it."

Letter From Husband.

Mme. Belmont returned to Paris and shut herself up with her grief, declining the offer of her mother to go and stay with her. Three months passed and then one morning the post brought a letter, dated on the envelope from the hospital, with the address in the writing of her husband. As if turned to stone she held the letter in her hand, gazing at it with fixed eyes and not daring to open it and scarcely breathing in the mad conflict of feelings that overwhelmed her. Finally she drew out the letter and as she read it line by line she fancied her reason was leaving her. There were only a few words in a trembling hand, to say that her husband had been wounded in Champagne and sent to a hospital on the Normandy coast. He had hung on the edge of death for months and it was only now that he was saved and had the strength to send her these few lines.

Truth Came Out.

The dates he gave of his wound and admission to the hospital corresponded with those given by the nursing sister and the wife was left in a haze of doubt and mystery until she went to Normandy and then the truth came out. There the captain told her that he had been left for dead on the field and when he came to himself after many hours he found himself stripped of his uniform and cap and a man dressed in his clothes was standing looking at him. Snatching his revolver that had fallen by his side the captain fired point blank at the face of the man who had robbed him and remembeded no more. It was while still unconscious that the ambulance men had found him, as well as the other man and had sent them to different hospitals.

No Longer Exists.

The natural comment on the strange but veracious story would be that all was well that ended well, but, temporarily, the consequences are serious. Capt. Belmont having been officially returned dead has no longer any civil state of existence. He has been wiped out of the book of living Frenchmen and can no longer give or receive or sign or buy or sell. He is excluded from society, and though he is alive and well, his wife is a widow, and if a child were born it would be a posthumous one. It will probably take months and cost no small sum for him to regain his place in the sun.

ELECTRIC COMPRESSOR PLANT FOR EUREKA MINE

Frank E. Pearce of the Eureka mine on Eagle creek states that development work is being carried on at the mine with promising results, a crew of 10 men being employed. The company, he says, is making arrangements for the installation of electric power with which to operate its compressor plant. This it is hoped will greatly hasten the work of driving the new tunnel which is being driven on the property at a lower level than any other on the property.

INTERIOR LUMBER TO BENEFIT BY POOL

Overseas Shipments of Coast Lumber to Create Wider Market on Prairies for Mountain Producers.

It is felt by the lumbermen of the interior of the province that the formation of a pool of coast lumber mills having a capacity of 1,000,000 feet per day and the completion of arrangements for shipping to Great Britain will greatly improve conditions in the interior as it will have the effect of relieving the pressure on the prairie markets.

H. R. Macmillan, special trade commissioner for the Dominion government, has been actively engaged in pushing the interests of the British Columbia lumbermen in Great Britain and as the result of his work has succeeded in securing orders for 30,000,000 feet for immediate shipment. The association which has been formed at the coast has engaged the services of one of the largest lumber brokers in the world with offices in London as its European agents.

It is expected that before long a guaranteed rate of freight and delivered price to any part of the world without the necessity of negotiating with San Francisco charter brokers, will be arranged for. E. J. Palmer, of the Victoria Lumber company, of Chemainus, states that in his opinion none of these large orders for lumber would have reached British Columbia had it not been for the efforts of the provincial and Dominion governments to secure an export market for the lumber of the province.

It is stated in the agreement between the producers and the selling agents *that the agents will advertise the lum*ber as British Columbia lumber and it is the intention of the mills to adopt a brand and stamp all lumber shipped by them so that wherever the lumber goes British Columbia will be advertised.

It is pointed out that the effect of this new development in the lumber industry of the province will have the effect of profiting both the coast lumbermen, who have now secured to them an export market but also the mills in the mountain districts, as a larger field for the interior mills will be found on the prairies on account of the great volume of lumber which formerly was shipped in from the coast going overseas.

TAX SALE CANCELLED FOR PRESENT YEAR

With all the city's notes issued for loans against the taxes of 1912 and 1913 paid up it was decided at a special meeting of the city council held last night to instruct the collector to cancel the tax sale for this year.

I was reported at the meeting that since the orders for a tax sale were issued the following collections on arrears were made up until Aug. 31: For 1912, $921.91; for 1913, $6809.65, and for 1914, $4537.32. Collections since Sept. 1. it was stated, further reduced the indebtedness of the city on unpaid taxes. The amounts collected were as follows: For 1912, $247.74; for 1913, $5841.60, and for 1914 $499.56. At the time the city applied to the banks for a loan against the anticipated taxation of 1915, it is stated that it was the intention of the city to hold a tax sale and clear up the notes of 1912 and 1913 held by the bank for taxes in arrears for those years.

It was further stated that since Sept. 1 sufficient arrears of taxes had been collected to pay off entirely the notes for 1912 and 1913. The balance of taxes stil lowing to the city for 1912 amounts to $1370.10 and for 1913, $3638.79. Of these amounts, it was stated, arrangements have been made for the early payment of $2518.93, which will leave an ultimate balance of $2500 owing to the city for these two years.

The council therefore decided that in view of the fact that the indebtedness for these two years had been practically wiped out there would be no object in putting up for sale a number of small properties with the possibility of being compelled to buy them in and thus render them untaxable, whereas by canceling the sale these properties remain a growing asset to the city at a scale of 8 per cent interest on their assessment for arrears of taxes. Instructions were then issued to the collector to cancel the sale.

SAFETY PIN REMOVED FROM BOY'S THROAT

Nelson Physicians Use X-Rays to Locate Open Pin Swallowed by Three-Year-Old Child.

By means of the X-rays and a pair of long-handled cock-nosed forceps, Doctors W. O. Rose and Gilbert Hartin removed an open safety-pin, an inch long, from the throat of the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Weld of Renata last evening.

On Thursday evening the child was suddenly taken with a fit of choking, but the parents were unable to discover the cause. The fits recurred sev*eral times during the night and yester*day. The parents, becoming alarmed, brought the child to the physicians' office in Nelson, where an examination was made with the X-ray, which disclosed the trouble to be caused by an open safety pin which the child had swallowed with playing and which had lodged in the throat. An anesthetic was administered and the pin removed.

The physicians state that had the pin been closed it would in all probability have lodged further down the throat, necessitating an operation from without and the opening of the throat, which might have proved fatal in so young a cild. At a late hour last night it was announced that the child was all right again and no ill effects are expected to result from the accident.

MAYOR OF KASLO DIES SUDDENLY

D. C. McGregor Succumbs to Cerebral Hemorrhage at His Home on Thursday Night.

Stricken, it is believed, with cerebral hemorrhage, D. C. McGregor, for several years mayor of Kaslo, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning.

Mr. McGregor was a Kootenay oldtimer, having lived in the district for about 30 years. He was for some time engaged in the business of carpenter and contractor at Trail and later became customs officer there. He moved to Kaslo in 1890 and resided there until his death. In the flood of 1894 his wife was drowned when the house in which they lived was washed away. He leaves no children.

A. H. Higginbotham has returned to the city from a trip to the east.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Rowe and baby of Winnipeg are guests at the Strathcona.

C. Rodgers of Silverton visited the city yesterday and is registered at the Strathcona.

Mr. and Mrs. O. U. Smith of Regina arrived in the city last night and are guests at the Strathcona.

A. McRae of McRae & Kirkpatrick, Revelstoke, spent yesterday in the city and was registered at the Hume.

Mrs. G. M. Pope of Crawford Bay will return to Boston this morning, leaving the city by the Crow boat.

A. L. Seymour, general tourist agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, is spending the weekend at Balfour.

James Anderson of Kaslo spent yesterday in the city and was registered at the Hume. He returned to Kaslo by the afternoon boat.

Ernest Levy, manager of the Le Roi No. 2 mine, Rossland, arrived in the city last night from Halcyon and is staying at the Hume.

Miss Amy Thomas and Miss Christobel Newman leave for the east this morning on their way to England, sailing on the steamship Corinthian on Sept. 19.

A party consisting of Joseph Weir, Arthur Gilker, Harry Stoll and B. S. McGregor will leave today by automobile for Spokane where they will spend a few days, returning the latter part of next week.

The wedding of John Cunningham and Miss Annie Macdonald of Sandon was celebrated at St. Paul's manse on Thursday evening. Alexander Macdonald acted as best man and Miss B. Campbell as bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Van Munster. Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham left on the coast train.

JUDGING COMPLETED IN GARDEN CONTEST

M. S. Middleton, provincial horticulturist has announced that he has completed his judging of the gardens in Fairview and Nelson which were entered in the government contest. The results of his examination will be announced at the fall fair on Sept. 23 and 24.

*He states that he found the com*peting gardens in these two districts, for the most part, of a very high order and that the display this year has set a high average. More or less successful attempts have been made in a few cases to raise plants not generally seen in Nelson, such as pepper, musk melon and egg-plant. The judging was done from several standpoints and points registered for general care, neatness, freedom from weeds, class of produce grown and the general quality. The best average total of points will decide the winners.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT SULLIVAN MINE

Work on New Tunnel Accelerated by Instalation orf Electrically Driven Mucking Machine.

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRANBROOK, B. C., Sept. 10.—The work on the big tunnel at the Sullivan mine at Kimberley is progressing rapidly, the tunnel having been driven a distance of 275 feet. The big new electrically driven mucking machine is now in operations, making the progress much more rapid than by the old hand method. This tunnel will require about two years' work to complete and will be used to bring the ore out to the railroad on the lower level instead of by the aerial tramway now in use.

MINSTREL SHOW FOR FALL FAIR

One of the attractions which are being prepared for the patrons of the Nelson fall fair on Sept. 23 and 24 is the minstrel show which will be given on both nights of the exhibition without extra charge by some of the best artists that Nelson and district can produce.

The first part will consist of the regulation minstrel show, with the full equipment of end men and soloists, presided over by the genial and dignified interlocutor. Following the first part of a splendid second of first class specialties is promised by the sponsors of the entertainment. For this portion of the show the services of a number of local entertainers have been secured and some special acts are being arranged which will be a distinct departure from the ordinary.

Reports from outside points in the neighborhood say that considerable interest is being taken by the ranchers and produce growers in this year's fair owing to the fact that it is to be purely an exhibition of the products of the country and it is expected that this year will see a series of exhibits that will set a high standard among the contestants for a place in the prize lists.

On Thursday night what might have been a serious panic but for the presence of mind of some of the audience and the proprietor, was caused in the Starland theatre when two young hoodlums started the cry of fire during the performance and when the building was filled with women and children. There was no fire nor was there any danger. It is stated that the exits were all in working order and all appliances were in perfect shape. The cry of fire in a crowded theatre was the young men's idea of a joke. They were caught by the proprietor, who warned them that the offense was criminal.

DIDEROT, VOLTAIRE AND ROUSSEAU

In his book on the Encyclopedaedists, Lord Morley contrasts the three great eighteenth century French philosophers as follows:

"Whether we accept or question Comte's strong description of Diderot as the greatest genius of the eighteenth century, it is at least undeniable that he was the one member of the great party of illumination with a real title to the name of thinker. Voltaire and Rousseau were the heads of two important schools, and each of them set deep and unmistakable marks both on the opinion and the events of the century. It would not be difficult to show that their influence was wider than that of the philoso-opher who discerned the inadequate ness of bot. But Rousseau wa moved by passion and sentiment; Vol taire was only the master of a bril liant and penetrating rationalism. Did erot alone of this famous trio had i his mind the idea of scientific method alone showed any feeling for a doctrin and for large organic and constructiv conceptions. He had the rare facult of true philoshophic meditation. Al though immeasurably inferior both o Voltaire and Rousseau in literary ex pression, he was as far their superio in breadth and reality of artistic prin ciple. He was the originator of a nat ural, realistic, and sympathetic schoo of literary criticism. He aspired t impose new forms upon the drama Both in imaginative creation and i criticism, his work was a constant ap peal from the artificial conventions o the classic schools to the actualities o common life. The same spirit unite with the tendency of his philosophy t place him among the very few men wh have been great and genuine observer of human nature and human existence So singular and widely active a genius may well interest us, even apart fro the important place that he hold in th history of literature and opinion."
