SMASHING BLOW IS DEALT BY ITALIANS ON ISONZO FRONT

Bridgehead Won and Guns Turned on Gorizia

20,000 PRISONERS TAKEN IN TWO DAYS

London Rejoices Over News of Great Victory of Gen. Cadorna

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 8—Before the echoes have died of the mutual congratulations of the allied rulers, statesmen and generals on the auspicious opening of the third year of the war, comes news of Russian successes and of a splendid victory for the Italians on the Isonzo front. The surprising success of the Italians, who in two days have captured 10,000 prisoners, suggests that in addition to transferring Gen. Brusilov, an able Austrian general, from the Trentino front to Galicia, the Austrians also ventured to transfer troops from the Isonzo to the Russian front in an endeavor to stem the Russian advance.

Gen. Cadorna's victory has caused great rejoicing in London, as one of the most promising successes in the new allied operations and a demonstration of the constantly growing power of the allied offensive on all fronts.

The Italian offensive along the Isonzo and on the Carso plateau is being continued and, according to a wireless despatch from Rome, a number of additional positions have been occupied.

The Austrians hold little ground on the right bank of the Isonzo.

The despatch reports that the number of prisoners taken by the Italians has been increased considerably and that the Austrians are now destroying villages in the vicinity of Gorizia.

Victory Announced.

ROME, Aug. 8.—The war office announced today the capture of Gorizia bridgehead by the Italians.

It is said the city is being shelled to drive out the Austrians.

More than 8000 prisoners were taken Aug. 6.

Rome Statement.

The following official statement was issued last night:

"Intense artillery activity continues in the Lagarenette valley and on the Lemiago plateau. A heavy enemy attack in the Montezebio area was repulsed. In the upper Cordevole valley the enemy, after intense bombardment renewed its efforts against our positions on Monte Sief, but each time was repulsed with heavy loss.

"On the lower Isonzo in front of Gorizia hot fighting continues. Monte Sabotina and Monte San Michele, strongholds of the enemy defense, are completely in our possession. The bridgehead of Gorizia is therefore in our hands. The artillery is shelling the town to drive out the enemy from the houses.

"During the fighting of Aug. 6 and 7 we captured more than 8000 prisoners, including more than 200 officers, of whom were senior officers. Prisoners are still coming in. We also captured 11 guns, about 100 machine guns and much material.

"Last night one of our airships bombarded the railway junction of Opcina, northeast of Trieste, dropping a ton of high explosives. Good results were observed. In spite of the fire of numerous anti-aircraft batteries and the attack of two hostile naval aeroplanes our airship returned safely to our bases."

Vienna Admits Loss.

VIENNA, Aug. 8.—The loss of the Gorizia bridgehead to the Italians is admitted in the Austrian official statement issued today. A withdrawal to the eastern Isonzo, the statement says, was necessary to avoid severe losses to the defenders of the bridgehead because of the desperate attacks made by the Italians.

The following official statement was issued:

"The fighting in the Gorizia region continues with unabated stubbornness. We repulsed several enemy attacks with superior forces. Since the afternoon of Aug. 6 we have captured 2993 prisoners, including 72 officers.

"In order to avoid severe losses to the defenders of the bridgehead against which repeated desperate attacks have been made by the Italians they were last night withdrawn to the eastern Isonzo."

ITALIANS ARE TAKING PRISONERS BY THOUSANDS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Prisoners are still surrendering by the thousands as the result of the Italian operations, says a Central News despatch from Rome. More than 100,000 prisoners have been captured in two days, the despatch adds.

GOWGANDA IS PARTLY DESTROYED BY FIRE

Reports to Rail Officials State Rains Are Extinguishing Flames in Ontario Woods.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NORTH BAY, Ont., Aug. 8.—Temiskaming & Northern Ontario railway officials report that the heavy downpour of rain during the last 24 hours has partly extinguished the fires in the northern country.

Word has been received that a good portion of the town of Gowganda has been wiped out by fire.

The loss by fire at Gowganda included the principal business section. No lives were lost, the lake being handy to the town. The telephone exchange was burned, hence communication was cut off temporarily. Among those suffering loss were the Dr. Crain private hospital; the postoffice and a number of the principal stores.

With the exception of the Miller lake mines, Gowganda has practically been at a standstill for the last two years.

LLOYD GEORGE LAUDS CANADIAN TROOPS

Speech Following Review One of Most Remarkable Ever Made by British War Minister

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 8.—"I have no words to adequately express my admiration for the splendid appearance of your men," said Lloyd George to Gen. Hughes after the war minister had finished his review. It was Lloyd George's first public military ceremony since his new appointment. He spoke with reason, for the division surprised even those who know it well. Its equipment and perfection in detail were worthy of comparison with the older regular armies. The men's physique surprised every one, some battalions, particularly the Highlanders and Grenadiers, seemed like long lines of giants.

Lloyd George's speech at the close of the review, delivered before the officers, was one of the most remarkable orations ever uttered by a British war minister. It was profoundly religious, deeply moving his hearers. The speech was instinct with the sense of victory.

STRIKE OF ASBESTOS MINERS MAY SPREAD

Workers at Black Lake Have Agreed to Go Out If Trouble at Thetford Is Not Adjusted

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

THETFORD, Que., Aug. 8.—The strike of asbestos miners at this point may spread to the properties at Black Lake. It is stated that the men there have agreed that if the strike here is not settled this week they will go out Monday next. It is also stated that the companies have notified the strikers that they will not give an advance of 50 cents a day and that the union will not be recognized.

Seventy-five per cent of the men are said to be satisfied with the advance of 25 cents offered by the companies and would return to work on this basis were the union recognized. Representatives from the international union arrived here today and will take charge of the strikers' affairs.

BATTLE NEAR SUEZ REPORTED BY TURKS

Statement from Ottoman Army Headquarters Includes Revised Story of Kut-el-Amara Surrender

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The operations with which the Turkish forces advancing toward the Suez canal began their attack on Romani last week are described in an official statement by the Turkish army headquarters under date of Aug. 5, received here as follows:

"On Aug. 3 our advanced troops occupied the line of El Rahib Katia-Abutelle and pushed forward their reconnaissances to Romani, eight kilometres north of Katia.

"East of the town of Suez an encounter took place between one of our advanced detachments and an enemy detachment. El Rahib is situated one kilametre north of Katia and about 5½ kilometres southwest of Katia.

"It is stated that the number of prisoners taken at Kut-el-Amara was 12,597, including 615 officers."

The British force at Kut under Gen. Townshend surrendered to the Turkish Mesopotamian armies April 29, 1916. The Turkish announcement at that time gave the number of prisoners captured as 13,300. The British admitted the surrender of 9859 men.

STUDYING PROBLEMS OF RETAIL DEALERS

Lists of Resolutions to Be Adopted by Dominion Board of Merchants' Association in Winnipeg

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8.—A start upon 35 resolutions of country-wide importance was made at tonight's session of the annual meeting of the Dominion board of the Retail Merchants' association of Canada. This is the first convention of this body at which representatives from all provinces are present and each delegate is sponsoring a number of resolutions dealing with conditions relating to problems confronting retail merchants as they arise in their particular localities.

The two resolutions disposed of tonight were:

"That in the event of a municipality entering into any commercial enterprise in competition with merchants, that the latter be exempted from business tax."

"That the federal government be asked to appoint an inspector for the purpose of prosecuting persons who violate the criminal code with reference to any matters that affect the public, such as false advertising, and deceiving the public in regard to the sale of merchandise."

At this afternoon's session the annual reports of the secretary, E. M. Trowern of Toronto, and the treasurer, J. A. Beaudry of Montreal, were received and adopted. These reports showed that the standing of the association today is a healthy one, there being a credit balance in the bank, while all western branches have increased their memberships.

A resolution endorsing the mission upon which M. P. Fennell of Montreal is engaged upon at present in Winnipeg, namely, the establishment of a relief fund to aid the sailors and dependents of the British navy and mercantile marine was adopted.

The delegates will hold three sessions daily until Thursday and will devote the whole of tomorrow to considering the resolutions.

The British Columbia delegate is T. A. Corley, Vancouver.

GUILLEMONT NOW SCENE OF BATTLE

New Combined Offensive is Begun By Allies

BRITISH MAKE GAIN NEAR TRONES WOOD

Enemy Attacks Northwest of Pozieres Are Repulsed

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A new combined offensive by the allies has begun on the western front, which is expected to lead to the hardest fighting. Guillemont, around which heavy fighting is now in progress, is one of the strong positions in the German second system of defense and will doubtless be defended by the Germans, as was Pozieres, with the utmost stubbornness.

The British pushed forward their lines at places east of Trones wood on the Somme front last night, the war office announced today.

British Statement.

The following official statement was issued today:

"Southwest of Guillemont we advanced our line about 400 yards. Fighting continues near Guillemont station.

"Northwest of Pozieres the enemy made four attacks on our trenches, again using flammenwerfer. Three attacks failed completely but in one the enemy managed to occupy about 50 yards of our trenches.

"The enemy shelled Longueval, Pozieres and Highwood heavily and also the vicinity of Mametz.

"Elsewhere along the front it was a quiet day, except for artillery activity in the Loos salient and near Givenchy."

Paris Statement.

PARIS, Aug. 8.—The following official statement was issued tonight:

"North of the Somme we increased our gains of yesterday, capturing a small wood and a trench strongly organized by the enemy north of Hem wood, which we hold in its entirety.

"In fact in these two days we have conquered north of the Somme the whole of a line of German trenches on a front of four miles to a depth of from 300 to 500 metres.

"In Champagne yesterday, after a spirited bombardment, strong enemy detachments, which attacked with the guards, our positions northwest of Tahure and small posts on Hill 195 were taken under our fire and dispersed.

"On the right bank of the Meuse the battle continued violently on the entire Thiaumont-Fleury front. With remarkable tenacity our troops have held back and repulsed the enemy, which sought by counter-attacks to drive us from the ground conquered by us these last few days northwest and south of the Thiaumont work; then, passing to the offensive in their turn, they reoccupied all the elements of a trench where the enemy had taken a footing in the course of a struggle and penetrated again the Thiaumont work.

"On the Vaux-Chapitre-Henois front we took a line of trenches and at certain points two lines of enemy trenches. One of these contained about 100 German dead and wounded.

"In these different actions we took prisoners about 200 unwounded men, of whom six were officers, and captured six machine guns.

"One of our pilots brought down a German machine which fell in flames in the enemy lines north of Auberive. Yesterday a German aeroplane dropped four bombs on Nancy. Five civilians were wounded, three of them seriously."

Belgian Statement.

The Belgian statement follows:

"In the region of Dixmude the artillery duel lost its intensity. At Boesinghe and Hesta bomb fighting was spirited.

LABOR PARTY MAKES SIGNIFICANT MOVE

Adopts Resolution Sympathizing With Nationalists in Repeated Postponements.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The parliamentary labor party, at a meeting today, adopted a significant resolution in connection with the Irish home rule.

"The labor party," said the resolution, "deplores the failure to give legislative effect to the temporary settlement of the home rule controversy recently arranged by, the secretary for war between the two chief Irish parties and desires to express its entire sympathy with the Irish Nationalist party in the repeated postponement of the plan intended to realize their national aims."

AUSTRIANS ARE LEAVING LEMBERG; SURRENDER OF CITY IS IMMINENT

Capture of Galician Capital by Advancing Russians Foreshadowed in Proclamation--Report Says Evacuation Began August 4.

ENEMY FORCES ARE DRIVEN BACK OVER 15-MILE FRONT TO SOUTH OF DNIESTER

Official Berlin Statement Admitting Retirement of Austro-German Forces Indicates Slav Victory Is Greater Than At First Announced

LONDON, Aug. 8—Russia's new victories south of the Dniester and southwest of the Stanislau-Kolomea railway afford much satisfaction here and the prompt admission in the Berlin official statement of the retirement of the Austro-Germans south of the Dniester is taken to indicate that the Russian victory in this quarter is weightier than yet announced by the Russian official despatches. According to an unofficial report the evacuation of Lemberg, capital of Galicia, already has been ordered.

A proclamation foreshadowing the surrender of Lemberg, capital of Galicia, was issued by the governor of the city Aug. 4, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Bucharest. On the same date the despatch adds, the evacuation of the city by the civilian population was begun.

The proclamation declared the Austrians would return shortly to wrest Lemberg from the Russians.

Scores New Victory.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 9.—Gen. Letchitsky, who a week ago despite flooded rivers and heavy roads began anew his hammering of the right flank of Gen. Count von Bothmer's army, and by a cavalry attack took Ezerzany, has scored a new victory by the capture of Tlumach, 10 miles farther to the northwest. There has been little news from that section, but it is apparent that Gen. Letchitsky has been following up his success along a front of 10 miles south of the Dniester in the face of German reinforcements sent to strengthen von Bothmer's right wing.

The taking of Tlumach cuts the railway between Stanislau, Tysmienica and Buczacz, which has been utilized by the Austrians for supplying the southern end of von Bothmer's front and gives the Russians another direct avenue of attack on Stanislau.

The Austrians tried to offset the force of Letchitsky's assault by fierce counter-attacks along the Koropice river northward, but without avail. They were repulsed with severe losses. At the same time a Russian offensive is being pushed against von Bothmer's left flank, south of Brody. A group of villages centering about Zalocze on the headwaters of the Sereth, have been captured and each day's developments show a further advance westward, the evident intention being to tap the railway between Tarnopol and Lemberg, which offers an easier line of advance with fewer rivers and natural barriers to the Galician capital.

Gain on 15-Mile Front.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 8.—South of the Dniester river in the direction of Tyszienca the Russians have driven the Austro-German forces back along the whole line for a breadth of 15 miles, it was officially announced by the Russian war department.

Petrograd Statement.

The following official statement was issued tonight:

"The success achieved by our troops south of the Dniester continues to develop. Pursuing the enemy, we have fought our way into the town of Niznioy, about 15 miles northeast of Stanislau, which was captured as were the villages of Bratyszow, Palakhiche, Nadworns, Charloz, Krivoluta, Nova, and the small town of Ottynia.

"During the pursuit parts of our troops are on the left flank of the occupied region, approaching the river Vorone, on which is situated the town of Tysmienitca.

"Previous to the retreat of the enemy a number of explosions were heard at some points. It is probable that the enemy blew up bridges and

ARTHUR HENDERSON RESIGNS PORTFOLIO

President of Board of Education in British Cabinet Has Been Target of Much Criticism

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Arthur Henderson, president of the board of education in the cabinet, has resigned his portfolio. Mr. Henderson recently had been strongly criticized both in parliament and by the newspapers, much dissatisfaction being expressed over his administration of the educational department, in which he was declared to have failed to meet the present demand for a reform of the nation's educational system.

According to the Daily News, Mr. Henderson's resignation applies only to his office as minister of education, but not to his membership in the cabinet. The paper adds that he will be retained in the cabinet as labor adviser, without specific portfolio for the present. The Marquis of Crewe, it is said, will combine the presidency of the board of education with his present duties as lord president of the council.

LISBON, Aug. 9.—Dr. Alfonso Costa, minister of finance, upon the reassembling of the Portuguese congress yesterday, announced that the British government would lend Portugal such sums as should be mutually agreed upon between the two countries to cover the expense of Portugal's participation in the war.

A note from the British government acknowledging Portugal's loyalty and inviting it to participate in the war was read. The British general staff is being consulted regarding the preparations.

PAPER CRITICIZES RECRUITING METHODS

Country Must Bestir Itself, Says Ottawa Journal—July Enlistments Less Than 4000

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—The Journal expresses dissatisfaction because of the fact that during July the number of new enlistments in Canada totaled fewer than 4000 men. The Journal says:

"Canada has still to provide 146,000 men in order to fulfill Sir Robert Borden's New Year pledge of a half-million men. At the July rate of enlistment they would not be secured a year and a half from now, and many of them would not be trained for service until 1918.

"There seems to be something wrong somewhere. It is not enough to say that the July falling off in recruiting was due to the harvesting; the figures for June were not much better. If the country is going to keep its pledge it had better bestir itself. Letting things go in the haphazard fashion of the present is certainly far from being creditable."

FLOUR PRICE RISES 80 CENTS IN WEEK

Fourth Increase Within Seven Days Brings Figure Up to $3.70 for Hundred-Pound Bag

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—The fourth raise within a week in the price of flour went into effect yesterday, when 20 cents more was asked by the wholesalers for barrels of first patents. Each increase has been of 20 cents, making the increase 80 cents in the week. The price is now $3.70 a hundred-pound bag, compared with $3.30 a week ago, a 20-cent increase on the barrel meaning a 10-cent increase on the bag.

This rise will not affect the price of bread, it is said, bakers and others believing that the price is only temporary, as is often the case while the current year's crop returns are indefinite.

ATTACKS CITY'S EMBARGO ON MUNITIONS SHIPMENTS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 8.—Jersey City's embargo on shipment and storage of high explosives was attacked before the federal court today by the agents of the Canadian Car & Foundry company in a suit to restrain the Jersey City commission from interfering with the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad accepting munitions at its piers. Argument on the application for a preliminary injunction will be heard next Thursday. Action of Jersey City authorities in coming the railroad to unload a car of explosives shipped from Kingsland, N. J., is the basis for the court action today.

Under a contract with the Russian government, the munitions factory is obliged to deliver daily 750,000 partly loaded shrapnel and high-explosive shells at Gravesend bay during August. The contract is for $13,000,000 and provides a penalty of 1 per cent for every week's delay in delivery. More than $7,000,000 of the contract has been completed and the company has been held up in shipments by the Jersey City officials as the outcome of the recent explosion at Black Tom island.

Specimens of unfinished shrapnel and high-explosive shells will be exhibited to the court Thursday to demonstrate the alleged impossibility of a premature explosion. The munitions company says it has been shipping for months a daily average of no fewer than 10 carloads of munitions without the slightest sign of accident or injury to life or property.

WAY TO BAPAUME IS NOW CLEARED OF OBSTACLES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 8—The exploit of the Anzacs in storming the ridge before and north of Pozieres calls to the attention of the war readers again the most interesting detail in the country over which the British are advancing—that is, the ridge of Albert.

Without being in any sense an obstacle comparable with hills before Verdun, such as Hill 304 and Dead Man's hill, which on the general staff may is Hill 295, this Albert ridge contributes materially to making military operations difficult, and, now that it is mainly in British hands, gives the English the exceedingly valuable advantage of direct vision north across the sloping country to Bapaume, miles from their front trenches.

Actually the villages which have been taken along the southern slope of this Albert ridge have been a far more serious obstacle, for the ridge itself is not steep and the day is passed when artillery can be placed on or just behind the crest of a hill in line of direct fire. But the villages can be and have been garrisoned, mainly underground; they have been transformed into nests of machine guns, their cellars have been made into bomb proofs and there has been repeated the sort of resistance which made the French advance in Artois so expensive a year ago about the Lorette hill and the towns of Carency, Souchez, Neuville, St. Vaast and Ablain.

Still this Albert ridge deserves more

CANADIANS ARRIVE AT LONDON HOSPITAL

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Among the arrivals at Cliveden hospital were the following Canadians:

59827 Blann of the 21st battalion; 446324 Elliott of the 31st, sick; 43854 Charette of the heavy C. G. A.; 31307 Markey of the dragoons, wounded.

Summer-Spoiled Skin Removed by Absorption

As undue summer exposure usually leaves an undesirable surface of tan, redness or roughness, often freckles, too, the sensible thing to do is to remove such surface. There's nothing better for this than ordinary mercolized wax, which actually absorbs an unwholesome complexion. The thin layer of surface skin is itself absorbed, gently, gradually, so there's no inconvenience, no detention indoors. Spread the wax lightly over the entire face at bedtime and take it off in the morning with warm water. If you will get one ounce of mercolized wax at the drug store, use it for a week or so, you may expect marked improvement daily. When the underlying skin is wholly in view your complexion will be a marvel of spotless purity and beautiful whiteness.

Don't let summer wrinkles worry you; worry breeds more wrinkles. Banish them by bathing the face in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pt witch hazel. Used daily for a while this will be found wonderfully effective.

WAY TO BAPAUME IS NOW CLEARED

than passing attention for it constitutes the one natural obstacle to the British advance and having passed it, Gen. Haig's troops are now on the downhill slope for the most part, striking straight for Bapaume. This ridge begins near Thiepval, on the edge of the valley of the Ancre brook and extends in rather broken outline almost due east and west through Pozieres and Combles. The hills are named after the elevation in metres given on French general staffs' maps.

The highest point in the ridge is Hill 160, which is just north of Pozieres and is included in the latest success of the Anzacs.

Hill 160 is just over 500 feet high. At this point the British are about 130 feet higher than they were when they started from their old line trenches northeast of Albert, where the ground is marked off the French staff maps by the figures 121.

West of Pozieres and north of Thiepval the ridge is 152 metres high, or about 27 feet lower than near Pozieres. East of Pozieres and north of Bazentin, where is situated the now famous "Highwood," the elevation is 155 metres, fully 60 feet lower than north of Pozieres, but it recedes again farther west to 154 metres just north of Combles.

Describes Country.

As usual, Hilare Bellor supplies the best description of the actual appearance of the country. He says:

"When I say ridges I do not, of course, mean anything sharp and steep. It is only a succession of swells of land and the actual summits are so rounded and slight they can with difficulty be described. But from below and as one comes up from Albert and from the Somme the whole of these flattish lumps in series form a skyline. The highest point of all the countryside is, I think, just beyond Pozieres on the Albert-Bapaume road (Hill 160). At any rate, walking along the road in the old days of peace one saw all the countryside to the north and east from that hilltop. But the ridge as you go eastward is only a few feet less high. The wood of Foreaux which the British have christened Highwood, for instance, is only 15 or 16 feet lower than the point upon the highroad."

Up this ridge the British have now climbed. Only at one point have they been checked and that is at the western end, near Thiepval, where the Liepsic redoubt holds out, but the advance to the east has brought the British far in the rear of this redoubt and its fall would seem to be impending if, as yesterday's despatches suggested, it has not already begun to be evacuated.

Are Clear of Obstacles.

Without exaggerating the importance of the Albert ridge as a military obstacle, and bearing in mind the real difficulty has been the villages along the front and at the edge of the ridge, it is important to note that the British have flowed over the only natural barrier and are fairly on the downhill slope toward Bapaume. They have before them no such cluster of little villages as faced them at the outset. Courcelette, Martinpuich and Flers, which are in their front, are widely separated, and to the north as far as Bapaume there are only two or three small and scattered settlements.

So far as one can judge by the map, and reckon from the character of the country, the British have passed the worst of their obstacles and there is good reason to believe that their advance toward Bapaume will materially increase its pace. All this is a long way from the fatal checks following promptly upon the opening success at Neuve Chappelle and Loos and demonstrates the progress the British army has made in the last 10 months. And it is worth recalling now that the failure of the French to get over the Vimy ridge north of Arras in June, 1915 finally terminated their advance toward Lens. This Vimy ridge was much lower than that of Albert, its highest hill being about 130 metres.

AWARD TO LIVERPOOL DOCKERS ANNOUNCED

LIVERPOOL, England—The award given by the dock labor joint committee under Part I. of the munitions of war act, in connection with the Liverpool dock dispute over the question of wages, has now been issued. The award, which is signed by Sir Alfred Booth, representing the employers, and James Sexton on behalf of the men, contains the terms which were recently offered by the ship owners and accepted by the men after a ballot. It is as follows:

"The existing agreement between the Employers' Association of the Port of Liverpool and the National Union of Dock Laborers and Riverside Workers, and the existing conditions of employment covering dockers, coal heavers, shore gang men, steam crane men, hydraulic crane men, winch drivers, coopers and tackers, as amended by the agreement of 19th February, 1915, and the award of the committee of production of 28th March, 1916, are confirmed for the period of the war with the application thereto of Part I. of the munitions of war act, 1915, and with the following amendments:

1. A further increase of 1s. all round on present day rates, present night rates, and present Sunday rates; hour rates to be increased proportionately, to take effect as from 5 p. m. July 14, 1916.

This means that the rates printed in the white book of 1st May, 1914, must be increased by 2s. in the "per day" and "per night" columns, and by 2d. in the "per hour" column, but the rate of pay for dockers on Sunday is to be double the rates printed in clauses 2 and 3 of the white book, plus 1s. per half day.

Dockers and coal heavers working on piece will receive twice the special allowances which they are receiving now in addition to piece rates.

2. Clauses V, L, X, of the agreement dated Feb. 10, 1915, to be struck out.

3. All questions of the interpretation of this award to be referred to the dock labor joint committee, subject to a right of appeal to the board of trade if the joint committee fail to come to a decision within 14 days of that date when the matter was referred to them in writing.

Any decision of the dock labor joint committee or of the board of trade under this paragraph, shall become part of this award.

4. Either party to have the right to ask the board of trade to reopen this award on the ground that new conditions have arisen.

PARIS GREEKS AND KING CONSTANTINE

PARIS.—The Greeks in Paris have formed a new "legion sacree" to unite all Greeks who are opposed to the present attitude of King Constantine with the remainder of the Hellenic legion of 1914, fighting under the French flag. A congress representing the 34 colonies of Greeks who are scattered over the face of the globe, met in Paris in January last and decided unanimously: 1, That the constitutional liberties of Greece must be respected; 2, that in the interests of the country neutrality should be abandoned and Greece should range herself on the side of the allies; 3, that the congress would dissolve only when its task was finished. At that time an address was sent to King Constantine, and also an appeal to the citizens of Greece to condemn the policy which was being followed with regard to Serbia, to demand the strict application of the constitution, and the recall to power—instead of the councillors then in office, who had been denounced by the great majority of the Greek people—of the Liberal party, whose program, it had been adequately proven, had contributed to the aggrandizement of Greece and had given her the rank to which she was entitled amongst European nations.

On the first of June the permanent committee of the congress of Hellenic colonies sent a telegram to King Constantine expressing the indignation of all patriotic Greeks at the invasion of the sacred soil of their country by t hereditary enemy of Greece, and in ploring his majesty to drive the Ge man-Bulgarians out of Macedon Further declarations have recent been made to Le Journal by the pres dent of the congress, M. Gregoi Triantaphyllides, advocate of the cou of appeals, as follows:

"The situation is very clear. The a lies have a right to be in Greece. T treaty of 1830 gives to the three pr tecting powers, France, England ar Russia, the right to occupy any part Greece for its protection. But Kin Constantine, hampered by the influ ence of his chief of staff, Gen. Rou manis, and of Col. Metaxas, who the tool of the queen, does not wis to remember this treaty. They hav taught him to hate Venizelos, and h now allows himself to be actuated b this feeling. This is the more vexa tious because even in Greece, even Athens, the majority is absolutely op posed to his views. In going again public opinion, which is undoubted favorable to the cause of the allie the king runs the risk of bringin about a revolution, of which he w have to bear the responsibility. Th is the opinion of 5,000,000 Greeks wh live beyond the bounds of their nativ land, and more than half of the in habitants of the country itself are the same opinion. All the Greeks hav not forgotten Navarino."

The Perfect Corn Flakes

NEW POST TOASTIES are not only inexpensive but they have a new deliciousness, produced by a new process of cookery—the first to produce corn flakes with the self-developed true corn flavor.

So fine is this flavor that NEW POST TOASTIES are wonderfully good eaten dry. Try some that way—you'll appreciate the point, though they're even better when served with cream or good milk.

These NEW POST TOASTIES don't mush down in milk or cream, and they are not "chaffy" in the package, like common flakes. They're new in form, new in flavor, and new in appearance. Note the tiny "bubbles" on each flake—an identifying feature.

Put up in wax-sealed packages, NEW POST TOASTIES retain their oven-crispness and flavor until served at your table.

Have your grocer deliver a package for tomorrow's breakfast.

USE DIAMOND DRILL TO FIND VEIN AT A DEPTH

COBALT, Ont.—A program of diamond drilling has been planned for the Devanney-Morrison claims at Tashota in the Kowkask district, for the purpose of proving the property at depth.

It is understood that surface development has been very satisfactory to date and the diamond drilling will be watched with a great deal of interest.

The same interests that purchased the Devanney-Morrison group has recently acquired the Wells property south of the track and have started a shaft and doing considerable surface work, trenching and stripping. Free gold has been found on the Wells property as well as on the Devanney-Morrison.

PRICES OF NEW YORK STOCKS ARE HIGHER

Shipping Shares Are Active Features of Session—United States Steel Rises to 87.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The stock market gave every indication today of a disposition to shake off its recent dulness and rise to higher levels. Settlement of the local labor troubles, easier money and other favorable signs contributed to the sudden accession of bullish sentiment. Prices were at their best in the final hour, but reacted here and there on publication of the government crop report.

Shipping shares were the active features, Mercantile Marine preferred recording an extreme gain of 5⅝ on large dealings, with 1½ for the common and 2 for United Fruit. There were the usual reports of an approaching reorganization of the Mercantile Marine company on terms satisfactory to the contending interests. Pacific Mail whose fortunes are interwoven with Marine, also made a gain of 1¼ points.

There were moments of strength in Reading, Union Pacific and a few other important rails, together with minor shares like Denver & Rio Grande common and preferred and Lake Erie & Western, but grangers were slightly affected by crop conditions.

United States Steel rose to 87 and closed only a fraction under that figure, the stock showing signs of steady accumulation in the morning, when it led all others. There were additional gains in the paper stocks on highly prosperous trade conditions and petroleums were better, despite further price reductions. Miscellaneous stocks, including some coming within the category of war issues, were 1 to 2 higher but munitions and motors were relatively backward. Gas stocks supplemented recent advances, part of which was later surrendered. Total sales amounted to 225,000 shares.

Bonds were irregular except Marine 4½s, which duplicated their recent high record of 107. Total sales, par value, $2,920,000.

EUROPEAN BUYING LIFTS WHEAT PRICES

Bearish Misgivings Over Government Crop Report Rules Market for Most of Session.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 8—Although the government crop report turned out to be more bullish as to wheat than even the radicals had expected, bearish misgivings concerning what would be shown ruled the market most of the time today and were only overcome late in the session by word of liberal European buying and advices that black rust in Canada was becoming worse. The market closed firm ⅛ to ⅜c net higher, with September at $1.35⅝ and December at $1.37.

Oats lost ¼ to ⅜ and provisions were 5 to 13½c higher.

As the government crop report is based upon conditions no later, for the most part, than July 28 and much of the damage to spring wheat had not developed until after that date, the trade as a rule was disposed at first today to be extremely cautious about accepting estimates that the total yield to be predicted by Washington would be as low as 675,000,000 bushels, few if any traders were prepared for the total announced after the close—654,000,000 bushels.

The fact that Liverpool quotations were lower and that cable advices said buyers seemed to be holding off until after the issuance of the Washington report was a further discouragement to the bulls. Later, however, it became apparent that Europeans were buying on a big scale, especially at Winnipeg.

Total purchases of wheat by Europe as finally given out, aggregated 2,000,000 bushels, mostly Manitoba. Besides, despatches from a leading expert said that more than 50 per cent of the crop in Saskatchewan was likely to be badly injured by black rust. Winnipeg authorities said Manitoba was yielding only 8 to 10 bushels an acre where cutting was going on and that many of the fields would not be cut at all.

Oats were bullish owing to Washington reports of the visible supply. The market was depressed by hedging sales.

Provisions rose owing to the higher quotations on hogs. Lard was under much selling pressure for a while but later showed evidence of good demand.

OVERSEAS TRADE FINANCE COMMITTEE

LONDON.—The composition of the committee appointed by the board of trade to consider the best means of meeting needs of British firms after the war as regards financial facilities for trade, particularly with reference to the financing of large overseas contracts, is as follows:

Lord Faringdon, chairman; B. P. Blackett, C.B.; Sir W. H. Clark, K.C., SI., C.M.G.; F. Dudley Docker, CB.; Gaspard Farrer, W. H. N. Goschen, Right Hon. F. Huth Jackson, Walter Leaf, Hon. Algernon Mills, J. H. Simpson and R. Vassar-Smith. Hartley Withers will act as secretary to the committee.

Lord Faringdon, formerly Sir Alexander Henderson, is chairman of the Great Central railway and member of Lord Curzon's shipping control committee; Mr. Blackett is a treasury official; Sir W. H. PRICES STEADY IN LOCAL STORES

Apricots Sell at $1.75 Per Crate for Preserving—Pork Shows Slight Rise in Price.

Apricots were quoted as low as 45 cents per basket or $1.75 the crate in the city stores yesterday. This fruit was in good demend, the preserving season now being in full swing.

Few changes in prices were to be noted on the local market. Eggs remain firm at 45 cents per dozen for local new laid, and prairie eggs are still selling at 35 cents per dozen and $9 per crate.

Pork shows a slight advance in price. This is likely to continue until after harvest.

Lamb was quoted at 35 cents and mutton from 20 to 35 cents per pound.

TORONTO MARKET HAS FAIRLY ACTIVE SESSION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—Quite a number of small orders accumulated with local brokers over the double holiday, with the result that there was fairly active market for small lots this morning. Spanish River was strong, the common rising ¾ and the preferred to 34¼. Cement common was firmer, making a 2-point gain to 58. Maple Leaf was steady, the common selling at 88¾ to 89½ and the preferred at 94½. Smelters opened down a fraction but closed at 34. Canadian Pacific railway was unchanged. The prospect of an early Canadian war loan seemed to be the only helping feature today, considerable speculation being indulged in on the part of the brokers.

Today the war loan bonds opened slightly higher and maintained their advance during the day.

INTERNATIONAL COALING NEWS

The first train of coal from the newly discovered Udi coalfields has arrived at Port Harcourt, the west terminus of the Nigeria railway. Although railway construction in Nigeria generally has been in abeyance during the war, every effort has been made to complete the line from Port Harcourt to Udi, a distance of 150 miles.

The new coalfields are of great extent, and so far, the quality of the coal promises to be better than was at first anticipated. Owing to the immense importance of coal in this part of West Africa, the government is itself retaining control of all the working. At the new coast port of Port Harcourt there is sufficient depth of water for ocean steamers to go alongside.

The Victoria, B. C., Red Cross has in the last six months collected $27,083 and shipped 205,583 articles.

THE WEAKNESS OF LIBERAL LEADER BREWSTER

The control the notorious Vancouver clique have of the provincial Liberal machine is in itself sufficient reason why the affairs of British Columbia should not be entrusted to the Liberal party.

Against H. C. Brewster's personal integrity no attack is made.

But the Liberal leader showed during the plugging inquiry that he did not dare disown the Vancouver Liberal machine. He had his opportunity. Two roads lay open—one beckoned to the weak man, the other to the strong man. Mr. Brewster chose the easy road. He assisted in the defense of the Liberal plugging. He is still assisting in it.

A stronger man would have fought the pluggers and gone after the higher-ups instead of threatening witnesses on the stand and trying to intimidate other witnesses into refusing to lay bare what they knew.

Possibly he would not be the Liberal leader today if he had taken the other course. But he would not have been in as weak a position before the electorate.

DEWDNEY CROSSES THE LAST DIVIDE

Hon. Edgar Dewdney's death marks the passing of another of the few surviving members of the hardy band of pioneers who during the three decades around 1860 carried out the preliminary exploration work in the interior of British Columbia, which proved the forerunner of the coming of the railroads and a new generation of pioneers.

The history of the early days of the interior of British Columbia is inseparable from the history of Edgar Dewdney. The Dewdney trail from the coast through the southern interior to Fort Steele and beyond will stand as a monument to Dewdney long after the work of many of his contemporaries has passed from memory. As a trail little of it survives today but long stretches of it have become part of the transprovincial trunk road and its part in the early development of British Columbia is not likely to be forgotten. It stood to Kootenay in very much the same relation as the Cariboo road stood to the placer and cattle country of the north.

There are pioneers in Kootenay and Boundary today who can realize the hardships and difficulties under which Dewdney built the trail which bears his name. Those of a later generation can easily imagine them.

MAKING GERMANY PAY FOR ATROCITIES.

Sir Henry Dalziel's proposal that Great Britain should seize German money held in the United Kingdom as a reprisal for such atrocities as the cold-blooded murder of Capt. Fryatt will be received with pretty general approval. Reprisals as such are often open to serious objections, but in this case the only point to be considered is that of expediency. No question of humanity is involved in the seizure of German property.

The question that would have to be thrashed out before Great Britain took the proposed action would be whether Germany could seize more British property than the British could find in the United Kingdom. Probably it could not. In addition to money Great Britain might confiscate German ships which lie in British ports but which were not captured as prizes. They are certainly more numerous than the British ships lying under similar conditions in German ports.

The great advantage of the Dalziel proposal is that it would hit the pockets of Germany's financial magnates. They would not care to pay a few million dollars for every atrocity their country commits.

PUBLIC HAS NO PATIENCE WITH SUCH METHODS.

S. S. Taylor, K.C., counsel for H. C. Brewster, has told a Vancouver newspaper that it is the intention of the Liberal leader to proceed with his writ "to the fullest extent." If Mr. Brewster understood the temper of the people with regard to his attempts on a legal technicality to tie up the affairs of the province he would know that he was committing political suicide "to the fullest extent." The people understand their interests too well to have any sympathy or patience with those who play partizan politics at the expense of the province.

The public wants policies for the advancement of the province to be put into effect and not held up by useless litigation.

Home rule by compulsion does not seem to come within the bounds of practical policy.

"Lemon prices are soaring," says a headline in an eastern paper. Who wants to be handed a lemon, anyway?

The Brewster writ means more to the people of this province than a mere dispute between lawyers. It is a menace to the prosperity of British Columbia.

The Gorizia bridgehead on the Isonzo front, whose loss to the Italians the Austrians admit, has been the object of fierce fighting for months. The victory opens the way to the storming of Gorizia.

Italy's splendid victory on the Isonzo front is a matter for congratulation in the entente countries. The Italian troops were punished severely in the recent offensive of the Austrians, which collapsed when the Russians, strengthened by the receipt of 1,000,000 new rifles from Italy, began their drive in the east. Italy now is hitting back.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING.

More Publicity Needed.

Hitherto the case of the allies has been badly stated to neutrals in general and to the United States in particular. The allies need a first-rate publicity bureau. The Germans are hundreds of miles ahead of them in publicity. Publicity experts here and in America could have managed the business far more efficiently than our old-fashioned officials. There has been no publicity organization worth the name. Truth is mighty, but will not prevail without a publisher.—London Star.

"Kitchener's Own."

None was more appreciative than Lord Kitchener of the part Canada is playing in the war and we note with sympathy that suggestion made in the Canadian press that one of the best battalions which Canada is now raising should bear the name of "Kitchener's Own." That would be Canada's best answer to an enemy who hoped the loss of the maker of new armies would paralyze the Empire's fighting arm.—Canadian Gazette.

The Duke of Connaught.

The retirement of the Duke of Connaught from his post as governor-general of Canada is an event which, even in these days, cannot be passed over in silence. The value of the work he has done in Canada is uncontested. His simplicity, his self-devotion, his quiet but efficient performance of duty, have won for him a memorable place in the history of the Dominion. It will not easily be forgotten how, when war broke out, he stood to the post that he had been about to leave, setting, without protestation or display of any kind, his duty above what was known to be his private inclinations. — London Times.

NEWSPAPER MEN TO DISCUSS INCREASED COST PROBLEMS

Problems arising out of the increased cost of producing newspapers will be discussed at meetings of publishers to be held in Calgary and Vancouver this month.

The Alberta and Eastern British Columbia Press association will meet at Calgary on Aug. 24.

Thursday, July 17, a meeting of British Columbia newspaper publishers will be held in Vancouver to organize a provincial branch of the Canadian Press association.

THE LUMBERMAN IN ACTION.

War has revealed to the British people many strange things. The charcoal burners have revived their industry after generations of gradual decay; the British woman has definitely stepped out of her sheltered environment and cast away for all time the badges of an archaic age; the "nation of shopkeepers" has not, as many suspected, weakened in its faith or power since the days when it humbled the first Napoleon; the freedom on which the Empire has been built up has proved to be not its undoing, but its strength in this time of testing. And above all, this war has shown the people in the homeland that they cannot know England well "who only England know."

The soldiers of Great Britain have revealed the Empire in all its glory and strength of unity on the battlefield. But it is not only for its brave soldiers that the dominions beyond the seas are known to the British people. In the heart of Windsor Forest, where the huntsman's horn was wont to proclaim the sport of kings, there is heard today the ring of the axe. Over 150 men of the 224th Canadian Forestry battalion are at work converting into railway ties giant trees that have lived for centuries, silent witnesses of the rise of empire on the ever-broadening foundations of democracy. These Canadian lumbermen are taking from the great park three million board feet of timber. Men, machinery and organization—all are Canadaian. Clak in khaki and overalls—for these men are also soldiers—the bronzed lumbermen from the Dominion are turning out about 20,000 board feet a day. War has brought these woodsmen to weild their ancient craft in the English Royal borough. They are playing their part in the greatest war drama ever staged. The day will come when the victory for which they are preparing will be won, when,

"The woodsman's axe lies free,
And the reaper's work is done."
—Toronto Globe.

THE FLIGHT OVER BERLIN

To an aviator of France there is now credited the longest straightaway aeroplane flight of the war. Even before the Deutschland had accomplished its feat underseas, Lieutenant Marchal had given Germany his remarkable witness of French commandership of the air. The news, however, followed more slowly. America has today its first opportunity to imagine the impression made on Berlin in the night of June 20-21 when Lieutenant Marchal dropped a proclamation in the streets of the imperial capital from the Nieuport monoplane in which he had sailed all the way from Nancy in France, and in which he continued almost to the Russian lines in Poland. Certainly he could have hurled bombs into the city if he had wished. His proclamation need scarcely have called attention to this patent fact. All Prussia has been given to see that the might to do deeds of frightfulness is not always used by governments other than German, as an equivalent of the right to kill defenseless women and children. None the less, Lieutenant Marchal's flight should be a warning to Berlin and Potsdam that they are not beyond the reach of French aviation, and that their own planes and zeppelins have a worthy match in the ships and pilots of France.

Apparently Lieutenant Marchal cannot claim the longest distance flight made in an aeroplane, but only the greatest ever made under any and all conditions which chanced to present themselves. In July, 1914, a fortnight before the outbreak of hostilities, a German airman, Reinhold Boehm, completed a flight of many hours, during which he estimated that he traveled 1350 miles without stopping. This distance, however, was not made in a straight, measurable line, and was accomplished by often running the machine at the levels and in the directions easiest for navigation and the saving of fuel. Lieutenant Marchal, on the other hand, had a definite objective in view—distant by fully 565 miles over the shortest possible straight-line course—from the point where he ascended. By the route which he hit upon, the distance became 807 miles. When it is considered that this mileage was covered mostly during hours of darkness, over territory which the French lieutenant could not have known very well, the skill, courage and control of the pilot stand out as far more worthy of praise even than the endurance and quality of the engine which he drove. Captive or no captive, Lieutenant Marchal is one of this war's heroes and his feat a victory for the French—Boston Transcript.

THE DEATH OF A MONSTROUS LIE

It is for the further and complete liberation of the German mind that we must wait. Some months more of the present agony and it is fair to assume that the "super" madness will vanish. The measure of this war is not alone or mainly on the battlefield. It has been fought for spiritual values chiefly. It has been fought to preserve our civilization and our humanity. It has been fought to save all that we in America love and cherish—all that democracies have cherished from the beginning. It has been fought against a lie as complete as the Spanish Inquisition, as mortal as the ancient regime that the French Revolution destroyed. And the lie is dying. Millions and millions of German men and women are approaching the light. The military force that was to make them masters of the world, for the sacrifice of their individual will, now comes on its knees to ask for a measure of confidence. It has not paid; it cannot now or ever pay. A million Germans have died; thousands are dying daily, east and west. Millions more are hungry. Paris, Calais, Moscow, Suez, Verdun, these are the fictions of yesterday—false and proven false. The facts are written otherwise.—New York Tribune.

A CHINESE TYPEWRITER

It is reported that a Chinaman has just invented a Chinese typewriter which uses as many as 4000 characters. The average Chinese printing office needs about 6000 characters, and some Chinese dictionaries contain as many as 50,000.

CANADA, AN IMPERIAL PIONEER

Canada may reflect today that the example which she set in 1867 is now the inspiration of a great imperial tendency. Nothing has been more remarkable in British history than the rapid advance, in the midst of war, of the belief that the form of the imperial commonwealth must be altered. Sir Robert Borden, as prime minister of Canada, was the first among Dominion statesmen to say plainly that his people could not continue to have no responsibility for the greater issues of imperial policy and to escape from bearing their share in the obligations of imperial defense. That was before the war, and at that time it seemed that years must pass before the realization of true union and strength. But war has bared to all of us the face of enemy nations, has showed us that peril has long stalked our unheeding steps, and has spurred us to the resolve that in the future we will provide for our own security. The warning of Sir Robert Borden in 1912, which then seemed a prophecy of remote events, is now the commonplace of our statesmen. —The Times, London.

THE CHARGE OF THE PRINCESS PATS

(By John H. Carter in the Boston Transcript.)

"Hill number sixty,
Trench number ten,
Commence the bombardment,
Charge four a.m."
Major McPharcey called up again:
"Send us some hand grenades; we don't need men."

"Br-r-oom!" went the shrapnel;
Down in the glen
Waited the Boches,
Two thousand men.
The booming, the rumble, the rattle and roar
Told that the battle was on once more.

Back at headquarters:
"Trench number ten?
Hill number sixty?
charge all your men.
Open the way for the Sixth Lancashire:
They're on the way now, half a mile to the rear."

Over the parapet,
Into the glen,
Poured the nine hundred
Picked fighting men.
On the left poison gas; machine guns before:
On the right was the shrapnel, over all was a roar.

Down o'er the hillside,
Down toward the glen,
Swept the nine hundred
Picked fighting men,
And no charging Tommy could ever hang back;
It was forward or stop, 'mid the ruin and wrack.

Over entanglements,
forming a pen
Of slaughter and death
For two hundred men—
Forty yards, thirty yards, twenty yards more,
Swarmed the Canadians, hardly six score.

At last on the parapet,
Into the den,
Of screaming and struggling
And perishing men.
Fury and madness, raging despair
To the doomed, hopeless wretches struggling there.

Back on the hillside,
Down in the glen,
The moan and the murmur
Of agonized men;
While back at headquarters, the 'phone rings once more:
"Sixth Lancashire captures trench L-Y-4!"

ANGER AND DESPAIR.

Deep grief and indignation pervade the report from Cranbrook to the Liberal organ. A recent issue was glorious with the story that Mr. Watts and Mr. Caven were both in the field as government candidates in that riding, wherefore the Liberal nominee would be returned. Anger and tears come from the fact that Mr. Watts has announced his withdrawal. All the way from Cranbrook is wired to the Sun the startling news that the statement of Mr. Watts "should forever condemn him" and also "that when a man stoops to this he should be locked up for safe keeping," with the further special wired intelligence that "there is only one place for men of his calibre, and that place is in jail."

This does not read like news, but has flavor of a "Sun" leader. Yet it is found in a despatch to the Sun from Cranbrook under the curious head, "Split in the Conservative Ranks." It is clear that the Liberals of Cranbrook have left hope and joy and comfort far behind, and are wholly given over to cursing and bitterness.—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

ROYAL INSPECTION OF CANADIAN TROOPS

BRAMSHOTT, England.—The King inspected the fourth division of Canadian troops at Hankley Common, Bramshott, on Dominion day, an honor highly appreciated by the comrades of those who have maintained the honor of Canada so well in the trenches of Flanders.

The inspection was marked by great enthusiasm, and on his arrival his majesty was accorded a fine reception. Field-Marshal Viscount French, commander-in-chief of home forces, and General Sir Archibald Hunter, commander-in-chief Aldershot command, were in attendance on the King. Among others present were Sir George H. Perley, acting high commissioner for Canada; Sir George Foster, Dominion minister for trade and commerce; Major-General Carson, representing the minister of militia; and Hon. L. P. Pelletier, agent-general for Quebec.

The division, under the command of Major-Gen. D. Watson, was first inspected in lines. On the return of the King to the saluting base the whole division, infantry and artillery, marched past in review order. The King was obviously pleased with the display of the troops and conveyed his congratulations to Major-Gen. Watson.

His majesty afterwards dismounted and walked to the front of the review ground, where Major-Gen. Watson presented his brigade and battalion commanders, the members of his staff and the official representatives of the Dominion. There was another enthusiastic demonstration from the troops when their majesties drove away.

Bread Lines Lengthening in Suffering Belgium

Hungry Women are Grateful for Scanty Fare Provided by Belgian Relief Fund

So long as their heroic husbands and fathers are fighting with the Allies, Germany will not raise a finger to save from starvation those Belgian women and children in the territory she has overrun. She permits the Belgian Relief Commission to feed them, but her heartless attitude is indicated by the recent torpedoing of two relief ships. Their cargoes were fully insured, of course, as are all shipments made by the Commission, so no contributions were lost. But much anxiety is felt lest even the delay in getting food over may cost precious lives.

For all Belgium is dangerously short of food. Nearly three millions are penniless as well—and the number of these is growing fast as accumulated savings are exhausted.

This means continually growing demands on the Belgian Relief Fund. To meet them more Canadians must contribute, and those who have been giving must be even more liberal. The only alternative is to let our devoted Allies perish!

This is a plain statement of perhaps the most appealing cause in history—a cause that has stirred the hearts and opened the purses of thousands. Has it opened yours? Have you in your security done your share for those sufferers who, but for an accident of geography, might have included your own wife and children, or yourself?

A BELATED REALIZATION

Although signs of the Russian offensive had been noted, it was hardly expected that the new forces would be able to launch a general offensive on a 250-mile front. It is obvious that the Russians are showing an uncommon amount of energy. Their advance is no slight achievement. If we are optimistic, we can say that Russia is staking her last great force. If we judge more carefully, we must bear in mind that populous Russia produces at least two million young men annually whom Russia has so far been able to turn into soldiers.—Berliner Tageblatt.

No more than 2560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns shall be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acres.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion lands.

TRAIL CUSTOMS RECEIPTS BREAK RECORD IN JULY

July broke all records this year for the amount of customs collections in the Trail customs house—and in many places July has the reputation of being a dull month generally in business. Collector Archie E. Campbell states that his office took in for dutiable goods $9643. In July, 1915—a year ago—the office collected just $2072, so that the total this year is more than 400 per cent of an increase over the same time last year.

Free goods were also imported to Trail to a value of $38,331 in July, which is also a large increase over the amount of free goods brought to Trail in July last year. This year in July the value of goods on which duty was collected in July was $58,870, also a big increase over the same period of last year. Inland revenue collections for last month were $1200.

The totals for each month of 1915 and 1916 are given, showing that the increase for this year thus far over the same period of time last year is 350 per cent:

	1915	1916
January	$1382	$7195
February	1510	9,585
March	2507	6807
April	3103	7720
May	2532	7029
June	2916	8219
July	2072	9643
Totals	$16,022	$56,198

How Magnesia Helps Dyspeptics

Patent Foods, Dieting and Medicines No Longer Necessary.

Many dyspeptics have now discontinued the use of expensive patent foods, are eating what they please in reason yet no longer take harmful drugs, medicines and artificial digestents to relieve their stomach trouble. Instead they just take a teaspoonful or pure bisurated magnesia in a little water after meals, with the result that they not only save money but enjoy much better health and the stomach no longer gives them trouble.

Those who have once tried bisurated magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know that this wonderful antacid and food corrective which absolutely does not injure the stomach and which can be obtained at little cost at almost any drug store will instantly neutralize all their excessive stomach acidity and prevent all possibility of their food souring or fermenting in the stomach. Try this plan yourself, but be sure to get bisurated magnesia as magnesia in other forms often have a strong laxative effect which is not desirable.

HORWOOD ADMITS ALL KINDS OF OFFENSES

Says He Is Guilty of Eight Crimes—Is Questioned About Absence of William Salt

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8.—The suggestion that it was V. W. Horwood who was principally benefited by the absence of William Salt from the jurisdiction of Manitoba courts was made to Horwood this afternoon by defense counsel, continuing cross-examination in the ex-ministers' trial. Horwood admitted to A. J. Andrews that he was guilty of eight crimes—perjury, subornation of perjury, false pretenses, theft, forgery, uttering of forged documents, falsifying public documents and conspiracy to defraud—as he had admitted in the preliminary hearings.

"I want to see really whose interests were being most served by sending and keeping Salt away," said Mr. Andrews. "If Salt came back and told the truth what would be the effect?"

"It would give the whole thing away."

"And you would have gone to jail?"

"I suppose so," said the witness, who agreed that he had been greatly interested in keeping Salt away and that he had spent the first money spent for that purpose. Horwood said that at that time he and his wife had about $3500 in the bank and he owned some property.

Horwood said the ministers were always kind to him. He said that when he was before the public accounts committee he wished to make a statement but he was dissuaded.

Much of the afternoon session was taken up with the reading of documents and the cross-examination was not concluded. Horwood swore that Contractor Kelly on one occasion offered him an electric motor car, which he refused.

ONE FIRM BUILDS TEN SHIPS AS RESULT OF NEW LEGISLATION

James Carruthers, head of the $30,000,000 corporation known as the Canada Steamship Lines Limited, leading grain exporter and financier, with offices at Montreal, Winnipeg and New York, reached Vancouver last week from Prince Rupert. He is spending two weeks on the coast, during which time he will discuss with colleagues business in connection with investments made in the shipbuilding industry under the shipping act passed at the last session of the legislature.

"What the west needs more than anything else at the present time," said Mr. Carruthers, "is people for the vast stretches of open farm country at present untenanted and uncultivated. What British Columbia in particular needs is tonnage. The form of aid to ship-building brought down by the government recently," continued Mr. Carruthers, "we consider in the east to be very intelligent legislation. Our people have invested in the industry here about $1,500,000 on the strength of that legislation."

Mr. Carruthers and his associates, among whom are J. W. Norcross, Montreal, M. J. Haney, of Toronto, and Sir Trevor Dawson of the Vickers Yards of London, have entered into contracts with the Wallace yards in North Vancouver and at present have large crews of men at work on vessels now upon the ways.

R. M. Wolvin, a Great Lakes transportation man, and H. W. Brown, formerly of the United States Steel Corporation, with headquarters at Duluth, are associated with Mr. Carruthers and have charge of the actual construction of the vessels.

Discussing the question of financing the work he and his associates have undertaken, Mr. Carruthers said:

Safe Now to Invest

"The legislation brought down by the government has made it safe for us to undertake this industry at the present time. So far as that legislation goes, though it provides for the borrowing of money from the government, it will not be necessary in our case to ask one cent from them or to accept any guarantee at present, such as are provided for in the shipping bill. We will be able to finance our work without any assistance from any quarter save the assistance promised by the government when the vessels are completed—a bonus up to 15 per cent of the cost, or what amounts to a guarantee that our earnings will be 15 per cent per annum on our investment.

"When the ships are built," continued Mr. Carruthers, " we will find little difficulty in raising all the money necessary to successfully carry us along. On a recent vessel built at Duluth at a cost of $600,000, it was an easy matter to bond her at 75 per cent of her value, the bonds being so attractive as to bring 97 when offered for sale.

"What this coast needs," continued Mr. Carruthers, "is a merchant marine and the 10 boats which we hope to have completed within the next few months will, I trust, only be a start upon what we intend to do. And so long as the government lends their endorsement in the way of a bonus when the boats are completed, it will be an easy matter for us to find funds from private sources to carry on this industry forward."

Will Change After War

Discussing trade conditions, Mr. Carruthers stated that the end of the war is likely to see a great change in the trade routes of the world. Companies which he and his associates control own lines of vessels plying on the Atlantic from New York and Montreal to Bermuda and the West Indies and he is looking for a development of South American trade which will make the north and south coast shipping a more important factor than ever before.

WILL TAKE SOLDIERS' VOTES AT BRAMSHOTT

Early Departure of the Troops Renders it Necessary to Take Ballots at Once.

Owing, it is understood, to part of the troops being ordered across the channel sooner than expected, the first of the soldier vote will be taken next week Premier Bowser received a cable from Sir Richard McBride, agent-general, announcing that the voting would commence at Bramshott camp at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon and at Shorncliffe at 5 Wednesday afternoon. The Liberal authorities at Victoria have been notified of the date when balloting will commence and they will act accordingly.

Joshua N. Nolland, a merchant of London, will be the Conservative scrutineer. The Liberals have notified the provincial secretary of their choice. The changed conditions necessitating earlier voting will make it impossible for the returning officer to give both parties seven days' notice of the date of balloting. This notice is only to be given when practicable. The agent-general also reported having received a copy of the order-in-council regulating the taking of the vote and providing for the appointment of scrutineers at voting places as well as at places where the votes are to be counted.

SWISS AUTO EXPORTS MAKE BIG GAIN

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In a report to department of commerce from Berne, Switzerland, United States Consul Schulz says that Swiss manufacturers of automobiles exported during 1915 cars vaued at $5,790,000, exceeding value of exports of preceding year by 100 per cent and making a greater proportional gain than United States. Exports were chiefly to France.

About 750 cars and trucks are imported annually. Small 10 to 20-horsepower five-passenger cars are in greatest demand.

Swiss automobile dealers declare absence of supply stations for American cars is principal drawback to sale of such automobiles. Repairs under the circumstances are expensive.

At least two high-class cars are manufactured in the country, and in normal times these cars sell, even in France, in competition with famous French machines. Price of these Swiss cars usually is from $1660 to $2190, but 15 per cent increase has been exacted by manufacturers since the war. The Swiss tariff on chassis is $4.82 per 220 pounds, and on completed cars $7.72 per 220 pounds.

RESEARCH WORK IN SILK INDUSTRY

LONDON, England—The advisory council dealing with research in connection with natural science and industries, has favorably considered an application for a grant in connection with the silk industry, made by the Silk association of Great Britain and Ireland. The grant now made will cover half the period of a two years' course of research at the Imperial College of Science, at a cost not exceeding £400.

The research will be entered upon Oct. 1, and is to take the form of investigations into certain variations of a chemical and physical nature observed in natural silks, and the effect of these on the processes of degumming, dyeing and finishing, as judged by their influence on the results obtained in the finished materials.

It is anticipated that the investigation will influence in one way or another all branches of the silk industry, and that it may lead to the production in Great Britain of various classes of goods which are at present imported. Research work on the silk industry has for a long time been carried forward in France, Germany, Italy and Japan, but in Great Britain little or nothing has been done in that direction.

WILL HEAR REPORTS ON PARLIAMENT WORK

Committee Superintending Reconstruction to Hold Another Session Next Week.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—The Citizen says:

"The committee superintending the reconstruction of the parliament buildings is to assemble again next week, when there will be detailed reports of the work done so far and explanations of the plans adopted.

"The main point at issue relates to the complete removal of the walls. When members of the committee met here in June, a large part of the walls was standing and it was pretty generally understood that this was to be utilized. Last week when they came there was nothing but the sky line.

"The explanation of Architect Pearson is that his plans, which were tentatively approved by the committee, provided for an extra story and the location of the chambers outside the wing. These changes together with alleged defects in the old walls, necessitated the pulling down of the whole structure.

"Outside contractors are still demanding for competitive contracts instead of the Lyall company doing the work on a percentage basis.

ITALY AND GERMANY

ROME, Italy—The Stampa has published an account of an interview granted its Paris correspondent by Count Sabini, commercial adviser to the Italian embassy in Paris, in the course of which the latter said that the results of the economic conference between the allies were of such importance as to throw into the shade all other recent events, even the Russian offensive and the ministerial crisis in Italy.

Everything had not been completed, Count Sabini is reported to have said, but the way had been prepared for a hundred years' economic alliance. For Italy, he continued, the most important result was that from now onwards all economic connection with Germany would cease. He would, he said, be betraying no diplomatic secret in stating that the Salandra cabinet had already decided to disavow the commercial treaty with Germany.

After the Paris conference that treaty had ceased to exist. Italy was free from all obligations towards the central powers, and could enter into no others with them. There is nothing for her now, said Count Sabini, but to link up her economic policy with that of her allies. The fact is irrevocable.

INDUSTRIES USE WOOD WASTE EXCHANGE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Extensive use by lumbermen and woodworking factories of the wood waste exchange conducted by the forestry service is reported. Makers of wooden novelties have been particularly successful in finding supplies of material near their plants. Other woodworking industries have been able to dispose of their waste at higher prices than could otherwise have obtained. Many of the firms were within short distances of each other, but until recently had no way of getting together.

The wood waste exchange, established in 1914, consists of two lists of manufacturers, sent out quarterly to persons desiring them. One of these is of "Opportunities to Sell Waste," and contains the names of firms which use sawdust and small pieces of wood. This list is sent to plants having waste for sale. The other is of "Opportunities to Buy Waste" and gives the names of concerns having waste to dispose of. This list is sent to firms who wish to buy material. There is no charge for the service.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Coburg, has collected $618 for the Red Cross by a "weekly mites" system.

EDGAR DEWDNEY WAS FAMOUS PIONEER

Former Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia Dies in Victoria at Age of 81.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 8.—Right Hon. Edgar Dewdney, a former lieutenant governor of British Columbia, died this afternoon. He was a famous old timer and in the early days built the Dewdney trail, named after him. He was 81 years of age. During late years he had been identified with the Britannic mine at Howe Sound. He was a resident director.

He was born in Devonshire, England in 1835 and came to British Columbia in 1859, when he was employed by Sir James Douglas, who was then governor of the colony, to take charge of the survey party that laid out the town of New Westminster. For many years subsequent to the completion of the work, he was employed in a professional capacity, devoting much of his time to exploration of portions of the province, which were then comparatively little known.

In 1865 he built the Dewdney trail, which penetrates British Columbia to its eastern boundary. He was identified with a large number of mining enterprises at Caribou and elsewhere. He served as member for Kootenay in the British Columbia legislature 1868-69 and in the house of commons, 1872-1879. From 1879 to 1888 he was Indian commissioner in the Northwest Territories and was member of the house of commons for East Assiniboia 1888-1892.

He was lieutenant governor of the Northwest Territories 1881-88 and was member of the privy council, minister of interior and ex-officio superintendent general of Indian affairs 1888-1892. He was lieutenant governor of British Columbia from 1892 to 1897.

In 1864 he was married to his first wife, who was Miss Jane Shaw Moir, who was a daughter of Stratton Moir, a tea planter at Colombo, Ceylon. She died in 1906. In 1909 he married Miss Blanche Kemeys-Tynte, daughter of Col. C. T. Kemeys-Tynte of Halswell, Brigenater, Somersetshire, England.

EDINBURGH WOMEN'S HOSTELS

EDINBURGH, Scotland—Miss Ethel T. M'Knight, secretary of council, Bedford College for Women, London, has been appointed principal lady warden by the board of management for the provision of hostels for women students. Miss M'Knight is an M.A. of Victoria university. Besides her experience at Bedford college, where she took up her duties in 1906, she has had residential experience at Newnham college, Cambridge; Women's University Settlement, Southwark, and Queen Margaret hall, Glasgow.

She was also organizing secretary for the Glasgow Charity Organization society. Three new hostels, forming part of a larger scheme, will shortly be opened in Edinburgh, at a cost of £60,000. These hostels are simply planned, and consist of a series of studies and public rooms, with up-to-date labor-saving devices. In order further to reduce labor, no brass or plated metal is employed.

Your Store Advertising

"Every good store, even though it be a small one, should be advertised."

Small beginnings, wisely made and persistently followed up, will mean assured growth and larger opportunities for the little merchant—just in the degree that his store merits and earns wider patronage and approval.

A small advertising space costs a small amount of money. Yet it affords a chance to the small merchant to tell why he seeks a wider patronage—what he has to offer that is unusual.

And whether he is located on the beaten pathway of trade or upon an unfrequented by-way, his ad. will lead people to seek him out. And, in due time, he will be able to decide the matter of store location according to his liking rather than according to his necessities.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN TRADE OF FUTURE

LONDON, England—The executive committee of the Anglo-Russian trade bureau recently held its first meeting at the Mansion house, under the presi- dency of the lord mayor. The com- mittee includes the Earl of Plymouth, Lord Aberconway, Sir Vincent Caillard, Sir Alfred Booth, F. Barker and others; the chairman is Archibald Grove.

The lord mayor said they must all recognize the necessity of such an edu- cational movement in commercial trav- eling, as this bureau contemplated. There was no need for their concealing the fact that the Germans had been a long way ahead of them in the effi- ciency of their commercial traveling.

This had been especially the case in regard to trade relations with Russia, and he was told the same might be said in regard to Italy. The result had been that not only was British trade seriously hampered but when war broke out German influence, fed by German money, had been farreaching and difficult to overtake, much less to eradicate.

In the future—especially when they were in warm and friendly cooperation with Russia in commercial and eco- nomic matters—they must so bring their traveling methods up to date that enemy rivalry might be satisfactorily coped with and beaten. The import trade of Russia before the war was £145,000,000, of which Germany did £70,000,000 and England only £17,- 000,000. Another point to be noted was that such a bureau as this would in no way conflict with, but rather assist, any larger commercial schemes to be developed between Russia and Eng- land. The sympathy of the govern- ment in the matter might be judged from extracts from letters addressed to Mr. Grove. Mr. Asquith wrote: "I am much interested in what you tell me of your scheme for securing for this country the trade with Russia hitherto in German hands, and I am glad you have enlisted the sympathy of the president of the board of trade." Mr. Runciman (president of the board of trade) sent the following message: "I fully sympathize with the object you have in view, and think it important that manufacturers in this country should realize the necessity of making early preparations for extending Brit- ish commercial relations with Russia when the war is over."

The lord mayor added that a letter had been received from Mr. Harcourt, who was meantime acting president of the board of trade, in which he as- sured the committee that on all occa- sions they might reckon on the sym- pathy of the board of trade.

Archibald Grove, chairman of the committee, said the movement for drawing together the traders of Russia and Great Britain would be deeply ap- preciated by those interested, and the fact that the prime minister, the lord mayor, and the president of the board of trade had given it their hearty ap- proval would act as a tremendous im- petus. The object of the bureau was to provide a means by which the trad- ers of England and Russia would be put on foot. Its work would be mainly of an educational nature, and fur- ther details would be published as the scheme developed.

RESIGNATION OF BRUCE ISMAY

LIVERPOOL, England—Bruce Ismay has resigned his position as a director of the International Mercantile Marine company, and as a member of its Brit- ish committee. The International Mer- cantile Marine company holds all the ordinary shares of the White Star Line, which is thus under its control. Mr. Ismay is a director of many business concerns, including the London & North Western Railway, the Asiatic Steam Navigation company, and more than one insurance company.

COMPLICATIONS IN QUEENSLAND FARMING

BRISBANE, Queensland—There is a growing complaint in Queensland against the imposition of taxes levied by the Labor government in that state and in New South Wales, and princi- pally affecting the primary industries of dairy farming, stock raising and so on. A tax of 10s. per head on cattle and 6d. per head on sheep is levied on any leaving the state, in addition to which the price of beef has been re- duced to 3¼d. per pound on 12,000 tons for local consumption, and 4⅞d. per pound for meat intended for the im- perial government. To complete the specially heavy burden put upon farm- ers their freehold properties are being heavily taxed, and this after several years' duration of drought.

This penalizing of the producer by the Labor government is having its effect upon the farmer. They are be- ginning to feel that there may be some design in the sacrifice of their interests to that of other sections of the com- munity; that this penalizing of a par- ticular section is becoming a class persecution in fact. What is a very laudable endeavor to provide the gen- eral population with cheaper food, be- comes an injustice when it implies an undue burden upon the shoulders of a class who are by no means in the best position to bear it. The policy is short sighted too, for to make production impossible to the producer of such es- sential commodities as meat, dairy pro- duce and so forth, will not in any way benefit the rest of the community.

Queensland has suffered most in this respect, as she is affected by two state governments; her own and that of New South Wales. An example of the new stone-wall regulations erected against her unfortunate stock-raisers, was given recently by a Queensland land- owner in a public speech. He said that in the dry season of November last year, before the hay harvest, stock raisers were obliged to look to New South Wlaes for lucerne chaff. This was denied them, a government block being put immediately upon the lucerne grown in that state, owing to an alleg- ed shortage in Sydney. According to the speaker, there would have been no shortage in the market if trade had been allowed to take a normal course. The result was that stock diminished in Queensland, while the lucerne grow- ers in New South Wales suffered on account of their being compelled to sell their produce below the proper price. Later, when chaff was availa- ble, the government would make no ar- rangement for its transport in either state, and to aggravate matters in this connection, the charges for freights on the country lines were increased, while those on city lines remained as they were; another apparent "class persecution," or so the farmers regard it.

The prices fixed by government for the various articles of food produce are such that it costs in lieu of paying the producer to sell. Butter, which costs him something like 2s. 6d. per pound to produce, has to be sold at 1s. 6. per pound. It would seem that unless the state governments wish the workers of other industries to suffer from the op- pression—what looks almost like an- nihilation—of these primary industries which are their mainstay, they will have to ease, or at any rate to distri- bute better the burden of taxation.

NEWSPAPER STOCK EXHIBIT SHOWN

MADISON, Wis.—That the trees from 3800 acres of land are daily con- verted into paper and that more than 1,300,000 tons of newspaper stock, or groundwood, are produced in the Unit- ed States each year are interesting facts brought out in an exhibit of the paper industry which has just been installed in the forest products labor- atory here.

Specimen copies of newspapers printed on paper made from woods other than spruce, which were tested by the forest service and found suitable for news stock, are also shown in the exhibit to illustrate uses of pine, hem- lock, tamarack and balsam for the manufacture of groundwood pulp.

FILM CONTROL IN FRANCE

PARIS, France—The minister of the interior, M. Malvy, has appointed a commission for the purpose of control- ling all cinematographic films shown in France. M. Malvy has also sent a cir- cular to all the prefects stating that cinematographic entertainments come under the jurisdiction of the mayors and that they have therefore the power to forbid a film being shown. No film will in future be shown unless the pro- prietors can prove that it has been passed by the police. The minister's circular further announces the forma- tion of the controlling commission, since it would be impossible for the preventive control to be entirely in the hands of the local authorities. This, however, will not prevent vetoing the production of a film, if, for reasons of a local order, they consider its pro- duction inadvisable.

PARCELS FOR GERMAN TROOPS

BERLIN, Germany.—The German military authorities have issued a statement to the effect that economy must be practised in the matter of sending parcels to the front as in other things. It is no longer permissible, it is declared, to send parcels merely as tokens of remembrance, and in future all such packages are not to be sent to individuals, but to official collecting centres whence they will be distributed according to official instructions to those troops most in need of them. Meanwhile the sending of woolen goods is prohibited altogether, unless the necessity for providing some particular article can be proved. The troops, it is stated, are adequately clothed and fed by the authorities, and the pro- vision of additional comforts is unnec- essary and extravagant as such a time as the present.

WALTER PATER ON STYLE

In his essay on "Style," Walter Pater writes of the importance of the choice of the correct term to express an idea, and says that it must be remembered that each phrase forms a structural part in the unity of the whole com- position. "The term is right, and has its essential beauty, when it becomes, in a manner, what it signifies, as with the names of simple sensations. To give the phrase, the sentence, the struc- tural member, the entire composition, song or essay, a similar unity with its subject and with itself; style is in the right way when it tends towards that."

Speaking of the writing of Flaubert, he says, "The one word for the one thing, the one thought, amid a multi- tude of words, terms that might just do; the problem of style was there! the unique word, phrase, sentence, paragraph, essay, or song, absolutely proper to the single mental presenta- tion or vision within. All language involves translation from inward to outward. In literature, as in all forms of art, there are the absolute and the merely relative or accessory beauties; and precisely in that exact proportion of the term to its purpose is the abso- lute beauty of style, prose or verse. All the good qualities, the beauties, of verse also, are such, only as precise expression.

"In the highest as in the lowliest lit- erature, then, the one indispensable beauty is, after all, truth."

Helen Ware in "Cross Currents," the Fine Arts Triangle drama at the Gem theatre Friday and Saturday, has a difficult role to handle. She is particularly clever in all the little touches which make up the society belle and her costumes are stunning.

The burning of a big pleasure yacht while on a cruise of the southern seas, leaves the heroine, Miss Ware, stranded on a tropic island with her former lover, now her sister's husband. The subsequent action gives a most touching scene of her second sacrifice, in which she jumps into the sea that her sister may have her husband restored to her.

"The Worst of Friends" is another appearance of those old stage favorites Weber and Fields, who once more delight the spectators with their absurd antics. It is a triangle-Keystone play.

The Vancouver Red Cross shipped in May 278 cases of supplies, amounting to $1737.

Nelson News of the Day

NELSON CITIZENS RALLY TO SUPPORT OF DR. ROSE

"I am very pleased at the number of enthusiastic workers who are rallying to my support. That is about half the battle. I've got the workers, I've got the friends and I am going to be elected," said Dr. W. O. Rose amid the cheers of a meeting of committees and other supporters which gave the candidate an enthusiastic reception in the Conservative committee rooms last night.

"I notice that the Vancouver World admits that Mr. A. M. Johnson has made a number of serious breaks," continued Dr. Rose. "The Liberal candidate said that as a lawyer he should be sent to the legislature to make the laws and the World remarks that it can be imagined how such a statement appeals to the working men of Nelson. The World also remarks, I notice, that 'No doubt, Rose is a very strong man.'"

Dr. Rose went on that he had seen a very large number of voters and that he was delighted with the offers of support which he had received. "I am, in fact, receiving support in places where I did not expect it. Men who have been of the opposition parties are promising me their support.

"I will be elected, said the Conservative candidate. "Mr. Johnson knows it, Mr. Bloomer knows it and I know it. If you will look at the ballot paper you will see that Bloomer comes first, Johnson second and Rose third. That is the alphabetical order but when the votes are counted it will be found that the result will fulfil the scriptural prediction: 'The first shall be last and the last shall be first.'"

Good progress was made with organization work as the supporters of Dr. Rose are expressing the determination, while they consider his victory assured, to get out every possible vote in his favor. One member of the committee last night pointed out that it was necessary to get out the vote and that this could not be accomplished unless the supporters of Dr. Rose built up a first class organization of active workers for the campaign. "We have nothing to fear if we do our share of the work," he remarked.

HOSPITAL PLANS ARE DISCUSSED

Shape of New Building Subject of Difference of Opinion Among Members of Board

Considerable discussion regarding the advisability of finally adopting the present plans for the new Kootenay Lake General hospital in their present form, took place at the meeting of the directors last night, the matter being brought up by the building committee which reported in favor of the present plans but suggested that any changes should be made immediately before the excavation work was carried any further.

The plans as first outlined called for a rectangular building, but were later developed into a structure composed of a central block, facing in a westerly direction and two wings set back from it at angles. William Haldane, the architect, it was said, declared that a building constructed in this form would receive more daylight in the rooms than one built on the rectangular plan, or with a right angle wing. John Toye maintained that the cost of the building as laid out by the architect would be greater than first planned and that owing to the number of angles in the walls the rooms would be of an awkward shape and also that there would be less opportunity of securing good ventilation than in a rectangular building. George Johnstone held that the plans as they now stood had many advantages over those originally considered, as, he stated, more bed space was obtainable and the building would have one less floor.

As the plans have been sent to the provincial architect at Victoria for his report, it was decided to await their return, which it is expected will be within several days, when a special meeting will be called and the matter finally adjusted and settled. Mr. Toye reported that he would be ready to begin construction work in a few days.

JULY HOSPITAL COLLECTIONS WERE LARGEST ON RECORD

Collections totaling about $3400 of accounts due the Kootenay Lake General hospital were made during the month of July, according to the treasurer's statement at the directors' meeting last night. This, it was said, is the largest amount collected in one month during the history of the institution.

HOSPITAL TO INSURE ITS WORKMEN ON NEW BUILDING

Board Takes Precautionary Action Pending the Enforcement of Compensation Act, Jan. 1, 1917.

Accident insurance will be taken out covering the payroll for the excavation and construction work on the new hospital building, as the result of action taken at the meeting of the hospital board last night.

This course is necessary as the new Workmen's Compensation act does not become effective until Jan. 1, 1917, when liability for accidents occurring to workmen will be taken care of under the provisions of the act and procedure similar to that decided upon by the board will become unnecessary.

16 SOLDIERS REACH CITY ON LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Members of C Company, 225th Battalion Arrive from Camp at Vernon —More Are Expected

Sixteen members of C company of the 225th battalion arrived in the city last night on leave of absence from the camp at Vernon. It is expected that another detachment will arrive in the city within a few days and that the members of the band will also be granted leave at an early date. Those who arrived last night were:

Sergt. William Ramsden, Ptes. D. Danielson, D. Price, J. O'Mally, John Grant, G. Routh, J. Halliday, C. Hilliard, F. J. Goldsmith, C. Sharpe, A. Thompson, M. Jesty, C. S. Bourne, F. Seaman, J. L. Cooper and Bugler M. Thompson. Pte. J. Snow left the train at Shoreacres, where he will spend his leave on his ranch.

FOREST FIRES CAUSE BUT LITTLE DAMAGE

District Forester Declares Danger Period Now Past—63 Fires Reported This Season

Two small fires have been reported to the forest branch, both of which took place last Friday and were extinguished without aid from the fire guards. One was on the road from Trail to Rossland and it is believed was caused by a lighted match thrown from a passing vehicle. The other was on the Great Northern line near Hall. This was caused by burning refuse.

Acting District Forester E. B. Prowd states that he believes that there is now nothing to fear from forest fires. He declared every precaution is still being taken, however, and there will be no relaxation of vigilance on the part of the guards. The district, he said, has been remarkably fortunate this season in the matter of fires, only 63 having been reported to date. The damage from these, he said, was practically negligible.

FRENCH TRAVELER VIEWS ARAB RISING

PARIS.—In a letter to Le Journal, M. Gervais Courtellemont reviews some of the results consequent on the insurrection of the tribes in western and central Arabia. M. Courtellemont has spent 20 years in Muhammadan countries and is one of the very few Europeans who has succeeded in penetrating within Mecca and El-Medinah, the "holy cities" of Islam. In his opinion this revolt throws light upon the question of the possession of "holy places"; for it is by a subtle derogation from Islamic institutions that the sultan of Constantinople has appropriated religious power. Should the movement develop and the Sherif of Mecca be able to proclaim himself Caliph, the defection would be a very serious matter for the Ottoman government.

This religious question, therefore, is a highly important one. For the moment, however, the writer considers the importance of the insurrection may easily be exaggerated. He points out that at the beginning of the war the Arabs made common cause with the Turks, fearing that the allies designed conquest. Alliance with the Ottoman empire was prompted by their conservatism. It is from Arabia that Turkey obtains her best contingents, and should these be withdrawn, it would be a great blow to the Ottoman empire.

"But it is not easy to say," continues M. Courtellemon ,"if this day is near at hand. The idea of patriotism is nonexistent in Arabia; it is replaced by a sentiment which can only be compared to feudalism; thus, the natives of central Arabia and of the 'holy places' are not united by ties of kindred and of sympathy with the other Muhammadans of the peninsula, although they take a lively interest in all that concerns those of Bagdad and Damascus. It is in the province of Hejaz that the desire for freedom is particularly manifested, for the Arabs there have suffered more than the others from the Turkish power, which in one way or another, carries off the greater part of the profits derived from pilgrimages."

M. Courtellemont's conclusions are that although the present movement may have arisen from a purely local desire for deliverance, it may easily assume greater proportions since the whole Arabian population has submitted only under constraint to the Ottoman yoke, which has weighed heavily upon it for four centuries. He feels assured that the rising contains no threat to France, a country regarded by the Arabs as their friend.

BRITISH CONTROL OF HAY AND STRAW

LONDON, England.—The army council has given notice that all hay or oats or wheat straw of the 1916 crop in England, Wales and Ireland, now standing in bulk or harvested, is taken possession of by the army council and must be held at the disposal of the duly authorized officers of the war department.

Applications (applying to hay or wheat or oat straw of the 1916 crop) for the sale or purchase or removal for the needs of private consumers will, as a rule, only be entertained for such amounts as appear to the person to whom the application is made, from a declaration to be furnished by the applicant, to be necessary either for consumption by the stock in the applicant's possession or control or to be equal to the average quantity dealt in, sold or consumed by the applicant during the 12 calendar months preceding the date of this order, and if it appears from the declaration accompanying application to purchase that the applicant has not purchased or removed or applied for the purchase or removal of hay or straw from any other source covering the same service.

Applications to enable hay or wheat or oat straw to be sold to private consumers or dealers will only be granted in respect of qualities and quantities of hay or straw which, after inspection by an officer of the forage department or authorized member of a county or central committee are found not to be required for army use.

Farmers and stock breeders are authorized to use the normal quantity of hay or oat or wheat straw in their possession for consumption by stock in their possession or control.

One hundred and thirty-two dollars was raised for the Red Cross in Aylmer by the sale of Kitchener badges.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.
