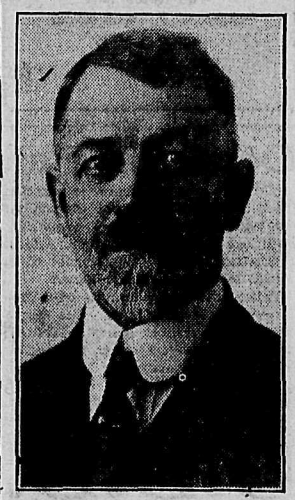
GREEN UNANIMOUS CHOICE FOR UNION GOVERNMENT CANDIDATE

No One Else Is Placed Before Meeting Attended by Delegates from Win-the-War Leagues, War Veterans and Unionist Meetings

REV. FRED H. GRAHAM, WIN-THE-WAR LEAGUE, PLEDGES FULL SUPPORT TO "OUR" CANDIDATE

Tells of Efforts to Get Two Organizations Together and of Necessity for Taking Off Coats to Assist in Return of Unionist Government to Carry Out Canada's War Policy



R. F. GREEN,
Unionist candidate for West Kootenay

R. F. Green, for the past five years member in the Dominion house for Kootenay, was last night nominated as Unionist candidate for West Kootenay in the approaching general elections.

The nomination was unanimous. It was marked by loud applause which greeted the placing of Mr. Green's name in nomination, by renewed applause which rocked the opera house when he entered it, which broke out frequently during his speech of thanks, in which he dwelt upon the necessity for vigorous prosecution of the war and the enforcement of the selective draft act and which again reached heights when Rev. Fred H. Graham, speaking as a Win-the-War leaguer, pledged his support to Mr. Green as the candidate in West Kootenay of the Unionist government which had to be backed by every ounce of energy which could be put forth to assure its return to carry out its war policy.

No other name was placed before the convention for nomination. Unionist-Conservatives, Unionist-Liberals, Unionist-Independents and War Veterans all agreed in making it unanimous and loud applause greeted the action of the convention and Mr. Graham's speech as a Win-the-War leaguer who had taken a leading part in the discussions which had preceded the convention during the efforts to get the two old parties together. "Deadly suspicion" he gave as the chief difficulty which had confronted the endeavors of the Win-the-War leaguers.

Signed Win-War Pledge Before

It was a condition of nomination that the candidate should sign the Win-the-War pledge. This pledge calls for Union government, enforcement of the selective draft bill, taxation of wealth, abolition of profiteering and mobilization of the country's resources for the effective prosecution of the war. Mr. Green read through the pledge, signed it amid applause and was again cheered when he remarked that he had previously signed the same pledge and had as a member of the house at Ottawa taken part in carrying out those pledges.

He was nominated by J. H. Schofield, M.P.P., of Trail, and Mrs. C. B. Hume, a Win-the-War league delegate from Revelstoke. Mr. Schofield referred to Mr. Green's unswerving record on war policy and to the unremitting attention which he had given the smallest as well as the largest and most important matters affecting his constituents. Mr. Green had always, he said, given the same attention to the request of the humblest as the request of the highest of his constituents.

Delegates From All Parts.

The convention was attended by nearly 90 delegates from all parts of West Kootenay. Revelstoke, the most distant point, sent 13 delegates, of whom six were elected by the Win-the-War league and seven by meetings open to all Unionsts. Most of the provincial ridings were represented by full delegations of 15. Among the delegates were former Conservatives, former Liberals, Independents and War Veterans who were all united on the question of war policy and the necessity for electing from West Kootenay a candidate who will give wholeheartedly support to the Unionist nonpartizan war government.

Mayor Welcomes Delegates.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor J. E. Annable. In his opening remarks Mr. Annable stated that it was an honor to him to welcome to the city of Nelson the first Unionist convention. He said that they had heard so much of party politics that they were literally sick of parties. And now that the party had lost its place to Unionism there was no reason why everyone should not have a good show. In explanation of the reason why the convention had been called by the chairman of the District Conservative association, Mr. Annable said that the Liberal party had unfortunately already held a convention and had elected a candidate to run in the constituency. This candidate was in the field. This placed the Liberal organization in a position where it was impossible for them to consider the calling of a Unionist convention. The Win-the-War association had only four branches in the Kootenay constituency and that made it impossible for it to call the gathering. There was nothing left to be done but for the Conservative association to call the meeting.

In this way the meeting had been called and the plan decided upon had been that 15 delegates should be elected from each district to represent the people of that district. Of this number eight were to be chosen from the Win-the-War association and the Great War Veterans' association where such an association had branches and seven were to be chosen by all other societies. Consideration had first been given to the iden of having the Liberal association call half of the six districts and the Conservatives the other half. But again this had been given up on remembrance that the Liberal association already had a candidate. True, there had been some criticism, but this had been the only way to be attempted.

Britain Needs All Help.

"And now," the speaker continued, "we are here tonight to select a candidate to represent this constituency in the federal house. Some of us have not yet realized there is a war because we haven't been deprived of any of the necessities or comforts of life. Britain is in the war and we are a part of the Empire. Great Britain is in the war to win and in doing so she needs all the help that can be given her."

In conclusion, Mr. Annable stated that as president of the West Kootenay ex-Conservative association, he had taken the chair, but as that association was henceforth nonexistent, it was necessary, now that he had fulfilled his duty in the calling of the meeting, to elect a c..airman for the Unionist convention.

Upon taking his seat it was moved and seconded that Mr. Annable act as chairman for the meeting. Amid applause, the mayor again took the chair and the appointment of a secretary was called for. Duncan A. McFarland was appointed to act in this capacity. The order of business was then proceeded with and the credential and nomination committees appointed. In the report of the resolution committee which followed, it was shown that the full number of delegates were present. A few had sent substitutes, but these BUENOS AYRES, Nov. 2.—A German uprising is in progress in southern Brazil, completely paralyzing railway traffic, according to private reports received in railway circles here. The strikes inaugurated in this district are said to be spreading to other parts of Brazil. It is reported that only the strictest military measures are making the movement of trains possible.

The despatches continue to report 'the severest military measures against Germans" in southern Brazil where there are large German colonies. Details as to these measures and general conditions are withheld by the censor.

WILL NOT AFFECT RESULT OF WAR

Lord Robert Cecil Speaks on Italian Reverses

ECONOMIC ELEMENT IS GREAT FACTOR

Resources of Allies Much Greater, but Increased Efforts Needed

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Lord Robert Cecil, minister of blockade, in his weekly talk with the Associated Press, declared today that there is not the least reason to suppose that the Italian reverses will affect the result of the war.

"What has happened may affect the duration of the conflict or it may not," said Sir Robert.

"Sooner or later the economic side of the war is as likely as anything else to produce the desired effect, according to the extent of the resources of the allied powers and the enemy to carry on an economic offensive."

Allies' Resources Greater.

In this connection Lord Robert Cecil pointed out the great preponderance of the entente allied resources. He added: "The central powers already are in a very precarious condition. I see nothing but greater economic ruin for them after the war, the longer it lasts."

He declared that the allies were doing and will do all possible for Italy and would regard the battle fronts in all the war tneatres as one comprehensive front.

"What has happened only means that we other governments must make stronger efforts," he said. "We cannot afford to neglect any chance. Our information is that the spirit of Italy is untouched and that there is no sign of disagreement or panic at the reverse but only a strengthened determination to finish the fight."

ITALIANS CLAMOR TO GO TO FRONT

Nation Undergoing Rebirth of Patriotism—Garibaldi Veterans Offer to Fight.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, Nov. 1.—Delayed.—Italy is undergoing a rebirth of patriotism. Everywhere men are clamoring to go to the front Even the Garibaldi veterans have marched in a body to offer their lives on their country's altar. Thousands of younger veterans of the present war interned in hospitals or invalided home, are insisting on returning to their commands. The troublemakers who two weeks ago said they were tired of the war and who were willing to listen to German agents, now either are hiding or are hastening to admit that they were mistaken.

The new ministry is busy organizing the country on a better war basis and seeing that the army's war needs are met. The fact that King Victor Emmanuel has returned to the army shows how confident he is in the spirit of the country since he always remains in Rome during critical periods.

The entire country today is placarded with announcements from the ministry calling upon citizens for their aid and asking the women to help to support the morale of the soldiers.

EMBARGO PLACED ON FLOUR BY U. S.

Trading With Europe by Millers Forbidden—Board Will Handle Export Business

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The milling division of the United States food administration announced here today that, effective at once, all direct trading by American millers, exporters blenders of flour with European countries is prohibited. This business will be handled hereafter by the food administration.

The new regulations were made, it was stated, "to effect proper control and to centralize the handling of exports of flour to European neutrals" and in order to protect the interest of consumers who have necessarily had to pay a high price for flour prepared in very small packages.

It also was announced that, effective Dec. 1, all flour millers operating under agreement with the federal administration "will not be permitted to sell flour in packages of other than one-eighth, one-quarter and one-half barrels or larger, and from Jan. 1, 1918, no miller will be permitted to ship flour in packages other than these described."

HUNS, TIRED OF PUNISHMENT BY FRENCH, RETREAT TOWARD LAON

Withdraw from Points Along Historic Chemin des Dames on Aisne Front, Where They Have Suffered Heavily

RETIREMENT MAY CAUSE EVACUATION OF POSITIONS AS FAR NORTH AS ARRAS

Berlin Reports Movement Was Carried Out Systematically During Night--British Troops Make Further Gains West of Passchendaele--Airdrome Bombed by British Airman

(By Associated Press.)

The Germans have retreated from points along this historic Chemin des Dames sector on the Aisne front in France, where for several months the French troops of Gen. Petain had been keeping them sharply to task.

Just where the retrograde movement occurred and how far it extends cannot yet be told, as the German official statement announcing it merely says that the Teutons "unnoticed and undisturbed by the enemy" systematically withdrew their lines from the hilly front of this region. The entire line to the north of Aisne, where the Germans were last reported as facing the French is undulating in character from the Soissons sector eastward to the vicinity of Craonne, and, therefore, it is impossible to delimit from the rather terse acknowledgement of withdrawal the terrain which has been given up.

Nevertheless it seems apparent that the Germans, tired of the terrible ordeal they had been forced to undergo for some time from the French artillery and infantry have decided to fall back upon Laon, the capital of the department of the Aisne, which with its network of railways has been the quest of the French. It is possible that the withdrawal of the Germans will compel also the falling back of the German forces in the turn of the battle line in this region running northward to St. Quentin, if indeed it does not affect the German positions as far north as Arras.

The British have carried out minor operations for gains west of Passchendaele, in which prisoners were captured. To the east of Ypres the German guns have been violently shelling the British line.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—An official report issued today states:

"As the result of minor operations carried out last night and Thursday south of Passchendaele and southeast of Poelcappelle, we improved our position slightly in the location and captured a number of prisoners. Lincolnshire and Lancashire troops carried out successful raids east of Shrewsbury forest. A number of the enemy were killed and prisoners were taken by us.

"The hostile artillery showed great activity during the night east of Ypres."

German Aidrome Bombed.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Artillery activity continues in the Ypres sector, but otherwise there is nothing special to report from the Flanders front, the war office announced tonight. The text follows:

"The hostile artillery was more active than usual in the Ypres-Staden vicinity

"Our artillery activity on the battle front has continued, but otherwise there is nothing special to report.

"Aviation: Thursday little flying was possible owing to the low lying clouds and rain. One of our pilots flew through the clouds, which were at the height of 200 feet, to Gontrode airdrome, and dropped two heavy bombs. The drizzle and the fire of the anti-aircraft guns prevented his observation of the result. Wednesday our aircraft guns shot down one of the enemy's bombing machines. This was in addition to seven hostile machines already recorded as having been downed that day."

Berlin Reports on Retreat.

BERLIN, Nov. 2—The Germans have retreated from points along the Chemin des Dames in the Aisne sector of the front in France, according to the German official communication issued this evening. The communication gives no reason for the move, but says that it was made during Thursday night systematically and without interference by the French troops. The text follows:

"In Flanders there has been lively artillery activity on the Yser.

"Unnoticed and undisturbed by the enemy, we systematically withdrew our lines from the hilly front of the Chemin des Dames Thursday night.

"Our airmen successfully attacked London and English coast towns Wednesday night.

BRITAIN NOT ASKED TO GIVE ASSISTANCE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—James Ian Macpherson, parliamentary secretary to the war office, in a written reply to certain newspapers, today declared that no doubt had been expressed by General Cadorna or the Italian government to the British general staff of the Italians' ability to meet the Austro-German attack which they knew was about to be made against them. No request was received from Italy for help before the attack took place, the secretary added.

ITALIAN TROOPS HOLD NEW LINE

Hold Back Foe from Carnia Alps to Adriatic—Country Seethes with Patriotic Fervor.

(By Associated Press.)

On the Italian front the Austro-Germans and Italians are in combat along the middle and lower regions of the Tagliamento river with the Teutonic forces on the east and Gen. Cadorna's army on the western side of the stream. As far as known, the enemy has not yet been able to cross the river, which is in a freshet, but it seems apparent that from the Carnia Alps south along the battle line to the head of the Adriatic, the Italians now are holding their new line of defense securely. Meantime, with the Italians waiting for eventualities, sentiment in Italy among all classes is seething with patriotic fervor, with even the old Garibaldi veterans and men invalided home as a result of injuries received in the present war desiring to rush to the scene of hostilities and lend their aid in repelling a further invasion of the enemy.

Berlin Report

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 2.—(Via British Admiralty, per Wireless Press.)—The eastern bank of the Tagliamento river from the Fella valley to the Adriatic sea has been cleared of Italians, according to the German official communication issued today. On the middle and lower sectors of the Tagliamento the Austro-German armies are in fighting contact with the Italians. The communication says that the Italians who had been holding out along the eastern bank of the Tagliamento either were compelled to retire or were made prisoners.

The text of the statement reads:

"Italian front: Along the middle and lower Tagliamento our army is in fighting contact with the enemy. Italian brigades still are holding out on the eastern bank of the river.

"From the Fella valley to the Adriatic sea the left bank of the Tagliamento is free of the enemy."

PLAN TO SELECT UNION CANDIDATES

Arrangements Made for Convention at Coast Cities—Tupper Not to Accept Nomination.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 2.—Comittees of five each, representing repectively, the Liberals, Conservatives, the win-the-war organization and the War Veterans will meet here on Tuesday night in an effort to agree on a Unionist candidate to run in Victoria in the coming election. Following the visit here of Hon. Martin Burrell and Hon. J. A. Calder, it was tentatively agreed in the constituencies of Victoria and Nanaimo there should be a saw-off, one Conservative and one Liberal getting the Unionist nomination. Saturday, at Duncan, in the Nanaimo electoral district, a Liberal convention for the riding will be held and decide upon holding a joint convention with the Conservatives for the purpose of nominating a candidate.

ONTARIO LIBERALS STRONG FOR UNION

Enthusiastic Win-War Feeling at Convention Addressed by Mewburn, Carvell and Rowell

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 2.— The keynote was given the evening meeting of the Ontario Liberal convention in the brief introductory words of Lieut.-Col. John McLaren of Hamilton, who commanded the original 19th battalion of Canadians at the front. He was followed by the three ministers, Hon. Frank B. Carvell, Gen. Mewburn and Hon. Newton Rowell. Each made a gripping appeal.

"Fighting Frank" Carvell slashed out with characteristic vigor and earnestness against the evils in public administration with which he and his colleagues propose to cope. He impeached the "dirty business" of party patronage by which "Canada had been placed in a position of shame before the world" and announced that so far as his department was concerned "no jobs will be given and no contracts awarded except after public tender." He declared for general retrenchment on public expenditures, denying the

CANADIANS CAPTURE ADDITIONAL GROUND

Meetcheel Falls to Dominion's Oldest Battalion—Attack Will Be Historic for Daring.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, via London, Nov. 2.—By the Overseas Correspondent.—The Canadians have closed in further toward Passchendaele. Following the great battle on the left wing when our troops on the extreme left proved their marked superiority over the enemy while our right outpost ventured into Passchendaele itself, the fighting has been intermittent all along the line. Opposite Meetcheel, where the front lines are near together the Canadians and the Bosches, under the Red Cross flag, buried their dead and evacuated their wounded on Wednesday afternoon. Stretcher bearers of both forces passed and repassed one another in the mud and slime.

When our left moved forward on Oct. 30, this battalion faced Meetcheel. One thousand yards of rising country, one succession of shell holes, filled with stagnant water, lay before them and to their right was a marsh. They skirted that marsh and struggled forward up the heights, paying for every yard of the advance. Raked by machine gunfire, shelled constantly, with comrades falling around them and but a dip of occasional hollows to shelter them, they went forward to their objective—Meetcheel had to be taken. It was to our advantake and advance what Bellevue farm was in our last attack.

Meetcheel was protected and was strong with machine guns. Seventy-five yards beyond was another point equally powerful. Canada's oldest battalion captured Meetcheel. That capture will live in Canadian history for daring of the battalion which made it, just as the capture of Bellevue spur, when the full story can be written, will live, because of the gallantry of the men who took it and the splendid individual record of one man upon whose judgment, in a critical moment, much of the success of the whole attack depended. Bellevue farm was to our attack of Oct. 15, what Meetcheel was to our left on Oct. 30. Our barrage had passed with it our forces to the right and left. Upon the decision of the moment depended the success of the battle. This decision was left to a man on the spot. That man commanded the support of the battalion. It was a time to test his soldierly qualities to the utmost. There was no hesitation. To call for further artillery support meant the bringing of the barrage back. No such call was made.

157,000 REGISTER UNDER WAR SERVICE MEASURE

About 18,000 Report for Service While 144,628 Submit Claims for Exemption.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—One hundred and fifty-seven thousand men have registered under the terms of the Military Service act. They are divided in this manner:

Exemption claims, 144,628; reports for service, 12,975; total registrations, 157,603.

The totals have been completed from returns received by the military service council from the various registration offices throughout the country. They cover the period since the proclamation was published calling out the first class of men, up to and including yesterday. How the various districts compare is shown in the following table:

District.	Exemptions.	Reports.
London	15,051	327
Toronto	28,073	2,673
Kingston	13,143	401
Hull	1,447	45
Montreal	10,491	564
Quebec	6,923	53
Halifax	8,117	1,059
St. John	5,500	750
Kenora	933	245
Winnipeg	12,583	1,488
Vancouver	6,016	1,961
Regina	19,050	1,245
Calgary	14,958	1,956
Total	144,628	12,975

The percentage of Quebec city registrations in respect of available population has hitherto been low. Recent returns have increased Quebec's showing so much that the city now stands well up in the list. The percentage of increase in Quebec yesterday was more than in any district excepting one. Eight days still remain in which to register.

Had Bronchitis

FOR THREE YEARS.
COULD GET NO RELIEF.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in breathing and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs. There is also a raising of phlegm from the lungs, especially in the morning. This is at first white but later becomes a greenish or yellowish color, and is occasionally streaked with blood.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and thereby prevent it becoming chronic and perhaps turning into some more serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Theodore P. Beers, Upper Main River, N.B., writes: "I was troubled with bronchitis for three years and could get no relief. I was always worse when I got wet. I tried lots of different medicines, but none did me good until a friend told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I got three bottles and before I had them half used I was better.

"My mother is now using it for asthma. It is a great medicine and we never want to be without it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 2.—At a special meeting of the Victoria Liberal association, a committee of five members was appointed to meet with a similar number of representatives from Conservative win-the-war and Great Veterans' associations for the purposes of discussing the choice of a union candidate for the city of Victoria.

The committee will, in common with other representatives, discuss the whole situation without in any way committing the association to any plan of procedure.

It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

ITALIAN TROOPS HOLD NEW LINE

Germans Rushing Troops

GENEVA, Nov. 2.—Swiss soldiers stationed in Alpine heights on the frontier in the Canton of Grisons, report that since the Germans captured Udine, the number of troop trains going to the Italian frontier has been doubled. The Swiss troops says that when heavy artillery trains are passing the Germans make smoke curtains at exposed points to prevent the number of guns being ascertained by onlookers. The Swiss soldiers said there is every evidence that the Germans were surprised by their success against the Italians, but intend to take every advantage of the situation and are preparing to entrench on the Tagliamento river, as they did on the Marne, in the event of a failure in their forward movement.

report that it was his intention to stop public works in Canada, but pointed out that all unnecessary work would be stopped until the end of the year. "I don't care how we retrench in other public services," he exclaimed, "we cannot retrench on the soldiers."

Mewburn Tells of Plans.

Gen. Mewburn, clear, forceful, businesslike, told bluntly and in a few words some of his immediate plans for improvement in Canada's military administration. He made no bones about admitting that the condition of the department as he found it was far from satisfactory and declared his intention of placing it upon a plane of military efficiency and of giving premier recognition in every possible case to gallant Canadians who had done their bit.

Mr. Rowell made one of the most eloquent and impressive speeches of his career. He vividly portrayed the purpose and the procedure which directed the new war administration.

"Liberals," he said, "who have entered the government are confident that they did right and they believe that history will justify their course just as history has justified the course of George Brown. Just as Quebec accepted confederation when it became an accomplished fact and new and better relations under confederation were established than had existed before, so I believe that if this Union government triumphs, as I believe it will, if compulsory military service is enforced and our gallant men at the front are backed up, Quebec will accept the law and the men of Quebec in the future will realize that the right thing was done at this period of our history, just as the men of Quebec today realize that the right thing was done by George Brown and Oliver Mowat in the days of confederation."

Stands for Winning War.

Ontario Liberalism, as was represented in the remarkable convention of men and women held here today stands positively for Canadian cooperation in the supreme national obligation of placing all the resources of the Dominion behind a patriotic determination to fight for humanity till the war is won. It demands the consecration of manpower, of money power and of the entire energies, abilities and resources of the nation. Four hundred delegates from all parts of the province were in attendance and enthusiasm at times ran high, but the tone of the convention was serious and business-like. Women and men faced the facts. They realized the responsibilities they assumed. They recognized the necessities of the war, and they sought to direct their course with a purpose single to the great end to be achieved.

"Our country first," read the flag and canvas screen which occupied the platform under the folds of the Union Jack. Liberalism acclaimed leadership toward this end.

When, in turn, Gen. S. C. Mewburn, minister of militia, Hon. Frank Carvell, minister of public works, and Hon N. W. Rowell, president of the privy council, were escorted to the platform during the afternoon session, the convention cheered again and again. When Alexander Stewart of Guelph, the permanent secretary of the new Liberal organization, read to the gathering a telegram from Fred F. Pardee, late Liberal whip, in the house of commons, and quoted characteristic paragraphs from his recent inspiring speech at the Sarnia convention, the gathering was again upon its feet. The scene was repeated a few minutes later when a message was received from Hon. George P. Graham, which the secretary likewise accompanied by the reading of Mr. Graham's declaration of war policy. It was an impressive convention.

Action Wanted, Says Mewburn.

Gen. Mewburn made his maiden political speech, but it was not politics, it was straight, plain talking. He confessed that he found the "military condition in a deplorable and delicate state."

"Let's face conditions as they are," declared Gen. Mewburn. "I am not supporting either Borden or Laurier What we want today is action and we are going to have it. Public opinion is what you make it."

Gen. Mewburn objected to the limitation of the draft under the Military Service act to 100,000 men. He preferred that "Canada should be in it to the extent of her ability and the utmost of her effort."

The fifth division overseas was now being broken up to supply reinforcements. He proposed to send the first draft of 25,000 men under the new act overseas right away and to follow them up at the rate of 10,000 a month, letting them get their training very largely in England. The minister announced that Canada's total casualties since the outbreak of the war until Oct. 24 last were 125,886.

Carvell to Carry Out Doctrines.

Hon. Frank Carvell followed Gen. Mewburn.

"I never went after a man unless he deserved some attention," was his answer to the enthusiast who acclaimed him as the man "who gets after the grafter."

Mr. Carvell served notice upon wealth and upon war profteers. Another year of war would mean a large addition to the war debt and payment of pensions to soldiers and their dependents.

"We must pay the interest because we cannot repudiate our country's debts.

"We must pay the pensions because we cannot repudiate the debt we owe our soldiers," he declared.

There must be stern and rigid national and individual economy and wealth must understand that it will be required to contribute much more generously "than the poor man," said the minister of public works, "who has been paying ten times as much as the rich man according to his means."

Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped in the anxious time of whooping cough.

You will see me often, for I have much to tell you of what can be done in the home with.

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition Which Produces Many Well Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" — The Wonderful Fruit Medicine — will Protect You

Autointoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufficient action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the Kidneys and Skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Disturbed Stomach. It may produce Headaches and Sleeplessness. It may irritate the Kidneys and bring on Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Gout, and Rheumatic Pains. It is the chief cause of Eczema — and keeps the whole system unhealthy by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Autointoxication or self-poisoning — as "Fruit-a-tives" acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system.

AINSWORTH MILL RESUMES WORK

Silver Hoard Milling Company Reopens Plant with Crew of 25 Men Thursday.

AINSWORTH, B.C., Nov. 2.—Milling was resumed at the Silver Hoard plant Thursday and, according to statements made, operations will be continued throughout the winter. Twenty-five men have started work and as business demands, others will be added to the crew.

The flotation plant has been completed and the new slime tables have been added to the mill. A new bunkhouse with accommodation for 50 men has been built on the premises, and six cottages are now about ready for occupancy. New assay offices are also ready to accommodate that department of the company's business.

The ore will be handled over the No. 1 company's tramway and when all is completed the company expects to handle about 100 tons a day.

The recent discovery of the new vein on the company's property has received considerable attention in the work of making alterations and it has been opened under the shaft from the big cave which discloses a new ore shoot 10 feet wide, carrying, it is said 15 per cent zinc, 7 per cent lead and 25 ounces silver. The vein will be opened on the 200 foot level by a crosscut from the shaft. A new skit will be installed and the ore will be carried by gravity into a new bin.

RECOVERY MADE ON STOCK MARKET

Measures Adopted to Restrict Speculative Operations Result in Substantial Gains.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—An extraordinary change came over the stock market today as a result of the measures adopted by the authorities of that institution to restrict speculative operations as far as possible. Instead of the hysterical selling and acute depression of the previous session, prices opened at gain of 2 to 5 points among leaders on trading of the most ordinary character. These gains were substantially reduced in the final hour on the weakness of coppers and some of the inactive rails, but for the most part the advances prevailed.

Rails displayed less strength than the seasoned industrials, their recovery being retarded by the publication of additional September statements of earnings. These were disappointing as a whole. Sales amounted to 950,000 shares.

Russian bonds on the curb and Italian exchange recorded their greatest depression since the war, but both rallied sharply later. Sensational advances in exchange on the Scandinavian capitals was associated with sales of the ⅛s at 99.75 to 99.82. Total bond sales aggregated $5,625,000.

TRADING AT MONTREAL WELL UP TO AVERAGE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—Despite the new restrictions on trading the volume of business transacted on the stock exchange today approximated the daily average in the weeks immediately preceding the institution of minimum prices. The turnover for the day was about 3000 shares, more than half of which was contributed by the steel stocks, in which buying was stimulated by two influences, the prospect of an increased dividend for Dominion Steel corporation common and the sharp rally in United States Steel at New York. About 1100 shares of Dominion Steel changed hands. Steel of Canada attracted buying concurrently but failed to rise from its 49½ minimum. About 6000 shares were absorbed at that price.

A fair amount of investment buying is mingled with the present shifting about of speculative stock and is contributing to a gradual clearing up of the market position.

The second war loan at a recession of ⅛ to 95½, was the most active bond. Total business for the day was 2712 shares, $75,000 bonds and 155 unlisted bonds.

DOMINION STEEL IS LEADER AT TORONTO

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Dominion Steel singled itself out for attention in today's extremely quiet market, rising 1¼ points above the minimum and retaining three-quarters of a point of the gain at the close. The stock's improved tone was in sympathy with the fair recovery of United States Steel in New York. Transactions at the afternoon session came close to establishing a record for smallness, only 59 shares changing hands. War bonds were firm throughout. Total dealings for the day amounted to 626 shares and $25,000 in war bonds.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 2.—Corn prices underwent a decided setback today, influenced to a large extent by the generally unsettled trade situation and by receipts of new grain. The market closed heavy, 1⅞ to 3⅝ cents down, with December at $1.15¼ to $1.15⅝ and May at $1.10½.

Oats fell ½ to ¾ to ⅞ cent.

Women Know More Than the Scientific Men

PACIFIC MILK is the cheapest milk there is to be used in cooking. It's been proved.

First scientists tested it. You know how they do things. They proved it to be unusually rich and absolutely pure.

Scientific cooks took it in hand and tried it in their ways and sent in the results in glowing but scientific terms. They proved that if measured correctly and everything else weighed it was very inexpensive as compared with fresh milk or with all the other samples submitted.

But it remained for our young lady "investigator" to find out that the women themselves had put all the scientific demonstrations in the shade as far as knowing how to use it in cooking so as to make good cakes and things for very little money.

Have you tried PACIFIC MILK in your cooking?

Who Should Buy Canada's Victory Bonds, and Why

WHO wants to help win the war?

Who wants to give our soldiers all the support which their bravery and self-sacrifice and imperative needs demand of our gratitude and our patriotism?

Who wants Canada to do her full part in producing food, metals, ships, munitions and clothing for our fighting men; her full part in winning the war?

Who wants to help Britain to buy in Canada all she wants to buy of the products of Canada's fields and industries and labor?

From the mighty heart of Canada hear the full-throated answer roll from the Atlantic to the Pacific, echo back and up from the southern frontier, far and away into the frosty wastes of the Arctic circle:

"Every Canadian Loves His Country and will do His Full Duty"

AND every woman whose son or husband, or brother or father is fighting in France, because it means support and comfort and victory to him, sends up a prayer that Canada will provide the money to help him win the war for home and freedom.

Every boy and girl, because they want to have a part in winning the war, and in writing Canada's name into a glorious chapter of the world's history, will help Canada to raise the money by buying Victory Bonds.

THEN from the business point of view: The farmer will buy Victory Bonds because it will enable him to continue to supply the armies and the people of Great Britain with live stock, grain and the other products of his fields. The farmer must have a market for his produce and it is essential to Canada that Britain shall be enabled to pay cash for that produce with money provided by Canada's Victory Bonds.

Canada's Victory Bonds make it possible for Canada and her farmers to continue doing business with Great Britain and our allies and it is supremely necessary that the farmer shall continue to produce, and that Britain shall continue to buy his products.

Every man in Canada who works for his living or operates a business of any kind can help himself and help Canada to win the war by buying Victory Bonds. When he buys Victory Bonds he helps to maintain that general prosperity which is essential to his own.

And the prosperity of each individual is indispensable to the nation, because it is from individuals that the nation must get the money to win the war.

It is both Good Business and True Patriotism for every Canadian to buy Canada's Victory Bonds to the utmost of his or her ability

THE UNIONIST CANDIDATE IN WEST KOOTENAY

In R. F. Green, the unanimous choice of last night's representative, largely attended and enthusiastic Unionist convention, the Unionists of West Kootenay have a candidate whom they can depend upon to give sincere and wholehearted support to the Unionist government and its policy of vigorous prosecution of the war.

Mr. Green was one of those whose votes in the house of commons made selective draft possible. He is one of those men of both the former parties whose support of the plan for a union non-partizan cabinet resulted in the present Unionist government being formed. Mr. Green's votes in parliament and his action in the councils of the party which has given place to the present Unionist administration are matters of record.

The choice of last night's convention of former Conservatives, former Liberals, Independents, Win-the-War and War Veterans' delegates marks the selection not only of a candidate who is sound on war policy, but also of a candidate who will carry the Unionist standard to victory in West Kootenay.

A CANDIDATE WHO ATTENDS TO BUSINESS.

It was pointed out at last night's Unionist convention that during the five years he has represented this riding in the Dominion house Mr. Green has given unceasing attention to the needs of his constituents. Requests from any resident, no matter who he might be, received prompt and effective attention.

While Mr. Green's record on war policy is the chief consideration at this time, the characteristic of unfailing courtesy and attention to communications and requests from the people of the riding is one of no small importance.

Anyone who knows Mr. Green knows that he can always be depended upon to represent to the governm nt the needs of his constituents individually and as a body. They know also that their member, and now their Unionist candidate, has a faculty of getting results. And of getting results in cases where it sometimes appears that the difficulties which face him are insuperable. During the past five years Mr. Green has accomplished much, in both large and small matters, which has seemed almost impossible.

THE FOE RETREATS FROM CHEMIN DES DAMES.

The retreat of the Germans from the Chemin des Dames is the result of the success of the entente strategy which has been carried out during the past summer.

It marks the attainment of the victory for which the French have fought with such gallantry and determination. It marks another failure of the Germans to stem the allied troops on the western front.

Now, altogether behind the Unionist candidate in West Kootenay.

The war loan will be offered in a few days. How much of it will you take?

Discussions at the Unionist convention last night served the excellent purpose of clearing up many of the misconceptions which have unfortunately existed. No plan can suit everyone, it is seldom that human endeavor reaches perfection, but the discussions at the convention have removed much of the misunderstanding.

GREEN IS UNANIMOUS CHOICE FOR CANDIDATE

were found in order. The report was moved and adopted.

Green Addresses Convention.

In his opening remarks Mr. Green said that he had already signed the pledge which was one of the demands of the convention to its candidate. That part of the platform had been one of the principles he had stood for in the house of commons and in accepting the nomination of the gathering as their candidate it was gratifying for him to be in that position. To receive the endorsation he had received had spelt to him the feeling that he had done something of the duty that was expected of him as the representative of the people of the Kootenay constituency in the house of commons.

In his acceptance he said he wished to point out what the gathering stood for. The old questions of the people had passed away. Today there was one party and that one stood for the winning of the war. From this time on, he said, matters must be dealt with from the viewpoint of the Unionist with the end in view of winning the war. Canada could do only one of two things. She must either go forward and keep the estimation the boys had already won for her in the eyes of the world or go backward. Therefore, the Union government had been set on the rock of compulsory service with the object of winning the war and of taking the best methods of doing so.

He referred to an address given a few days ago by Dr. Gordon (Ralph Connor) who, Mr. Green stated, was not of the same political faith as his had been. Ralph Connor had said that now was the time to bar party politics and get together and that to do so was the duty of every citizen.

With this in view, a great many Liberals had joined Sir Robert Borden. They were not responsible for the action of the Borden government in the past. When stating that he would not touch on that platform the speaker pointed to the action of many of the influential newspapers of the country which had announced that they had thrown up party politics and had given their support to the Union government.

When bitter partizans such as Carvell, Sifton, Calder and Rowell could stand with Conservatives who had been just as bitter on their side and unite in an effort for production and service to the country and in arranging the necessary reinforcements for the boys at the front, then, Mr. Green stated, he would say that he had seen men who had suna differences of party opinion and would carry on the work of winning the great war. And when the people saw an action of this kind surely there was nothing else to do than fall in behind them.

Why They Joined Borden.

The question would be asked, he continued, why these men had left their leader and joined Sir Robert Borden. The reason, he said, had been given by Mr. Calder at a banquet which the speaker had attended at Vancouver a few days before. Mr. Calder had said that he had parted friends with his old leader when he had told him that he, Laurier, still held the view that he had announced in the parliament which was that he would not support conscription, and that, if he had the opportunity, before enforcing the measure, he would refer the matter to the people by referendum.

Statistics showed the number of voluntary enlistments from Jan. 1 to April of the present year to be 52,576. During the same period the number of casualties and discharges had been 102,000. The figures made it evident that reinforcements were urgently needed because to continue at this ratio would mean ultimate disaster. All the provinces in Canada, with the exception of Quebec, had done very well under the voluntary system until a few months ago. British Columbia had enlisted men to the number of 44,000 to her credit.

British Columbia had held the banner place in the Dominion for the number of voluntary enlistments in proportion to her population. The men who had gone to the front had gone because of the outrages of the Huns. Now the time had come for these men to be given a rest and for reinforcements to be sent them. "And this," Mr. Green stated emphatically, "the present government proposed to carry out to the last drop of the hat." (Applause.)

Warns Against Over-Confidence.

In speaking of the contest the speaker stated that he did not know what it was going to be like. He did not know what forces might be arrayed against the Unionists. He did not know whether the Laurier forces had a candidate at the present time or not. They had one in the field until a short time ago. But insofar as elections were concerned he had learned that many had been lost through overconfidence, but a body of men as those who had come to attend the convention could, by organization, remove mountains in the way of opposition. He urged that every delegate should leave the convention with the thought that it was in their hands to work for the cause until the ballot was cast—if a ballot had to be cast.

There was a new element, Mr. Green continued. There were the women of Canada. Again the speaker's voice was drowned in applause.

Robson Explains Rossland's Stand

J. C. Robson of Rossland, representing the Win-tne-War league of that city, explained to the convention that he had been asked by his executive to appear before the convention and explain the stand which had been taken. He explained that the Rossland league had taken the stand that a new convention should be called. But he found that the situation was different to that which had been supposed. In Rossland Thursday, he stated, he had been informed by about as high an authority as could be secured in the Liberal executive that W. A. Anstie, the Liberal candidate had resigned. He had since coming to Nelson found that Mr. Anstie had not resigned and that in all probability he would be in the field. "This puts me in a false position and it puts the Rossland Win-the-War league in a false position," said Mr. Robson.

Action Due to Misunderstanding.

The action of the Rossland league Tuesday night when it decided not to nominate delegates but to suggest a new convention had been taken under a false apprehension of the situation. It was believed that Liberals had not been invited to take part in the convention. "It was on these grounds that this action of ours was taken," he explained. Mr. Robson continued that he believed, in view of the real situation, that he would be doing his duty in stating the position of the league if he stated that it had taken the position that it believed that an honest effort should be made to unite on a Union candidate. The approaching issuance of the Victory war loan was one potent reason why a contest should if possible be avoided, he said. He thought that if necessary the Liberal executive should be approached although perhaps the task was not an easy one.

Schofield Nominates Green

J. H. Schofield, M.P.P., in nominating Mr. Green, stated that the honor of placing before the meeting the name of the man who had represented Kootenay for five years at Ottawa was as high as any which had been conferred upon him in his experience in public life. "I have known Mr. Green for 20 years. I have known him in private life; I have known him in public life. While he is a vigorous fighter in campaigns he always has fought honorably, he has always fought cleanly, always he has fought as a Canadian should fight."

During the five years that Mr. Green had represented the constituency at Ottawa, continued Mr. Schofield, the humblest resident of the riding had received the same attention as the highest. No trouble had been too great for Mr. Green to go to, in order to serve his constituents individually or as a whole.

Always Looked After Soldiers

Mr. Green had always looked after the soldiers. There were many little things in which he had aided the boys who had gone to France from this riding. He had taken up cases in which the authorities had been negligent. No one pretended that the government had been perfect. And not in a single case had Mr. Green fallen down. There were cases of delayed pensions, of back pay to which soldiers were entitled, of leave of absence to which men had been entitled and of discharges which it had been essential that invalided soldiers should obtain. In all of these Mr. Green had taken interest and achieved success.

Strong for Winning War

"He has always been and always will be a loyal British subject," continued Mr. Schofield. "He is a man who has stood fairly and squarely for selective draft, union government and vigorous prosecution of the war. Already he has taken part in the carrying out of two of the planks of the Win-the-War platform and I am confident that when you ask him to sign it, if he has not already done so, that he will have no hesitation in giving it his support."

The nomination was received with loud and sustained applause.

Mrs. C. B. Hume, a Win-the-War league delegate from Revelstoke, seconded the nomination. "Mr. Green's past record of service to his constituency and his record on war policy makes me feel assured that he will receive the support of the electors," she stated and again the convention responded with loud applause.

After waiting for some time and no other nominations being offered, Chairman Annable repeated the question: "Any other nominations?" and on motion of J. W. Ford, seconded by F. G. Fauquier, nominations were declared closed and the convention voted unanimously for Mr. Green.

Got Sick of Meetings

Rev. Fred H. Graham, vice-president of the Nelson Win-the-War league, when Mr. Green entered the convention hall, was about to answer a question by Mr. McGuire of Trail with regard to efforts that had been made by the Nelson Win-the-War league to get the two parties together. He, therefore, postponed his reply until after Mr. Green had thanked the audience for the honor it had conferred upon him.

The question which Mr. McGuire had asked, he said, concerned a question of momentous importance. It was that of getting the Liberals and Conservatives to come together. He spoke entirely, he said, of conditions locally. The Win-the-War league, with the object of getting the two parties together had held meetings until it was sick of meetings. The method of calling the convention had, rightly or wrongly, been the subject of criticisms. The members of the Win-the-War league had worked unremittingly to attain its purpose of bringing the two parties together "but the great underlying difficulty was the deadly suspicion that each of the two parties held of the other," he said. A condition existed, he said, which if it were not true would be amusing. But it was true that it was a shame. It was a shame that civilized intelligent men, he would not say "Christian" men, should be so deadly suspicious of each other. But this was the condition which had existed.

Party Buried During War

"Our candidate—I say our candidate because he is my candidate now—has said that until the end of the war the Conservative party is buried. That is a good thing because if the war were not over soon the Conservative party would have decomposed and the Liberal party also," he said. He hoped that as a consequence of the formation of the Unionist government the country would get out of this unfortunate position of partyism and its attendant evils.

The whole trouble was with what was called this "political game." "This political game," he continued, "is the only game the clergy are not supposed to play. They may play any other game, including poker, that we know in the west and no one thinks much of it, except perhaps a few of the very, very good people, but they may not play this game of politics.

"And the reason," he continued, amid the applause and laughter of the audience, "is that in this political game they don't play with the cards on the table. They don't play it as men but as a lot of burglars and they know it is no place for a clergyman."

Pledges Support for Green.

When the applause had subsided, Mr. Graham continued that while dissatisfaction had been expressed because the Conservatives had called the convention the condition now was that the Unionist government candidate had been nominated. The candidate might not be the man everyone wanted, but he was nominated to represent the Unionist people of the riding as the Unionist candidate, and as such he should be supported.

"No one is going to work with more enthusiasm, or take a more enthusiastic part in electing him as the Unionist government candidate than I am," said Mr. Graham and the audience rocked the building with its applause.

"That is what the Win-the-War league stands for," he continued. "The Win-the-War league supports the Unionist government and it will support that government with every ounce of its strength that can be exerted."

Roberts Makes Appeal.

Fred Roberts, one of the delegates from the War Veterans' associaton, urged every man and woman in the audience to do everything possible to assist the enumerators in getting all the women eligible as relatives of soldiers on the list so that a full vote might be polled. "That is where this election is going to be won," said Mr. Roberts. "We have got to get the women out to vote and first of all we must see that they are on the lists. No one feels the need for the vigorous prosecution of the war more strongly than the women relatives of the boys at the front and those who have suffered or made the supreme sacrifice."

The meeting concluded with the singing of "God Save the King" and with three cheers and a tiger for Mr. Green, the Unionist candidate.

RELIGION SIMPLER WHEN WAR IS OVER

"Ralph Connor" Says He Never Understood What God Meant Till He Went to Trenches

Speaking at Vancouver, Rev. Major C. W. Gordon, "Ralph Connor," said he never really understood what God meant till he had walked up to the front line trenches and saw the star shells. When these went up and burst, making the night as light as day, a man felt very big and wanted to find a hole. Then, in the long distance, could be heard the whine of a shell that rushed at one, getting louder till it passed like ten thousand trains.

"Nothing," he said, "makes a man so humble as a good, big shell."

Major Gordon said at first he wanted to get away to some place, but the trouble was where to go. A shell would burst just behind, the next one to the right or left or in front.

The Nearness of God

To his mind came the thought that it was great that God could be nearer than a shell. He forgot all about religion and prayer, but seemed to have a grip on God.

"I never in my experience met so much real religion as in the hearts of the boys as they moved up to the front line trenches," he said. He was not sure that the folks at home looked on the boys at the front as saints, but he considered them so and so, he was sure, did God. After the war, said the speaker, religion would be a much simpler thing. War, he said, was the loneliest thing that ever struck a man. Every step of the long, long trail to the front get round a man's heart like the chill of a fog. In the hour of loneliness the man with religion in his heart got great comfort.

VOICE NEAR AND CONSTANT

When the Lord speaks to us in an occasional earthquake our awe is awakened, and we turn to Him in trembling fear. But He speaks to us every day in the gentle voice that would "check each fault, and calm each fear," and the voice is so near and constant that we do not hear it. Our Lord is near us in the secret, mystic impulsion which would constrain us to change our way; but the gentle knocking is so persistent that we do not hear it. And again He would make known to us the nearness of His presence in inward promptings of dissatisfaction, in movements of disquietude, in disturbing shadows which He throws upon the soul. Yes, there is many a shadow falls upon our secret life, and we interpret it to mean that we are overworked, or that we are in need of a change, when all the time it is "the shadow of the Almighty and we do not recognize His presence.

RECOGNITION

How often we crave for the recognition which is denied us. We deny recognition of talent, love, beauty. Often jealousy prevents us from giving it; we are afraid that if we own another's superiority we shall be belittled in other's eyes.

Ah! if we only knew that that very tardiness in recognizing other's good points lowers us in our loved one's eyes and keeps back our own deeper soul growth, we should hasten to rectify our mistake, our smallness of nature, and give recognition wherever it is needed and wherever we find it due. If we only realize how a word of recognition, of praise, sets another's heart rejoicing and sends him joyfully forward on his life's journey, we should give it ungrudgingly.

Recognition causes the heart life, the soul life, to expand, to bloom, to beautify. Coldness causes it to wither, to grow repressed. When we refuse to give words of praise where they are due, we destroy our own soul life. That which was meant to be a help forward to us and others drags us backward.

Recognize and frankly admire another's merit, power, joy, beauty. By so doing you gain the full glory of it yourself, and help unfold other lives into beauty. It will round your own life into all good and speed others on their upward way.—Mary Yeates.

WITH THE SAGES

O, fine and delicate and manifold and much entangled are the tissues of life which surround us—he who walks through life with an even temper and a gentle patience, patient with others, patient with difficulties and crosses, he has an every-day greatness beyond that which is won in battles or chanted in cathedrals.—Dr. Dewey.

FASHIONS NEVER SO BECOMING

Top Coats Have Come Into Their Own—Day of Narrow Skirt Is Here Again

NEW YORK.—Despite the predictions of the pessimists, the unusual condition of the weather, and the shortage of labor there has never been so wonderful a crop of wheat, of corn or of fashions. The matter has been so carefully systematized, that the grade of efficiency reached in these patriotic endeavors is almost unbelievable. Speaking from the fashion standpoint, one can safely say that there never has been a time when the styles were so universally becoming and satisfactory. The Paris openings have brought out charming things. One hears of the marvelous materials and one sees the models brought over by the intrepid buyers, and they are so interesting and wonderful that they seem too good to be true—almost!

The Narrow Way of the Skirt

Yes, indeed, skirts are narrow and there is a very good reason for their being so. The government has asked that wool be conserved and the patriotic designer and the fashionable woman alike cry, "Well, we can help by wearing skirts that are not too wide; let them be narrow." And narrow they are, too, and short, though perhaps not quite so short as last year. It is not comfortable to walk in a tight skirt that is long, and so once more we find commonsense aiding fashions. One must, however, not go to the other extreme and have the skirt too narrow for beauty.

The Fall Coat

One of the big Paris houses has decided that the fall would not be fall without the coat suit and so they are declaring with all their might and main that the smart thing is the suit, wrist-length coat and short tight skirt. Another equally famous house forswears all allegiance to this old standby and designs nothing but coats and dresses for street wear. So, there in a nutshell you have it, and the advantage is with you, for you are American and can decide for yourself this all important question. There can be no doubt that the top coat has a place of its own in the wardrobe of the smart woman. If the coat be stylish and becoming of line and color the dress of last year can be worn with perfect confidence. (That is, if you don't take off your coat.)

The Coming-Out of Tucks

There is nothing more attractive than the tiny tucks you find on everything. They are taking the place to a great extent of the hemstitching so much used for the past three or four seasons. Georgette crepe dresses have clusters of these tiny hand-run tucks, in the waists, sleeves and skirts. They group themselves on satin collars, near the edges on crepe-de-chine and satin frocks, sometimes completely routing all other trimming. They must be hand-run and they must be very tiny; otherwise they may be used at discretion, whenever and wherever you please, and the more the merrier. Wider tucks can be found on dresses of serge and satin, running around the skirts, one, two, three and even four and five of them, placed several inches apart. They are usually from one to four inches wide.

Braid is a close second this year, and it is used in all widths. Black is preferred or the color of the suit. One does not often see braid of a contrasting shade on the really distinctive costume. You see, everything is so simple this year and all the more attractive on account of this simplicity.

Dated Autumn, 1917

News from the suit front declares that coats vary in length from the very short Eton jacket to the long three-quarter length coat. This coat-suit has all the earmarks of the last word in smartness. The long coat, 39 inches in length, has a straight front in one with the shoulder yoke and deep hip pockets. The skirt is two-piece, comparatively narrow (measuring only two yards at the lower edge) and it has a high waistline. Warm in color, it is a real joy, and will appeal to women of taste all over the country.

WOMEN HAVE BECOME NATION'S BUILDERS

Civilization Is the Power of Good Women, Said Emerson—Men Must Reshape Their Ideas.

We are being constantly reminded these days of the heroic part that women are playing in the great drama of the nations. Watching through the long hours beside the torn and broken men of the nation's armies, bending day after day above tireless machines in the nation's factories, standing before great ledgers in the nation's counting houses, mingling with the traffic in the crowded highways of the nation's cities, garnering in the fall harvests from the nation's fields and yet mothering a nation's children and tending a nation's home fires—wherever there is a nation's task to be done and well done, stands a woman ready to do it. The women of the nation have become the nation's builders.

It is high time for self respecting and intelligent men to reshape their ideas concerning woman's sphere. Where instincts are national, where sympathies are national, where there is a national passion, where the capacity for self-sacrifice and devotion is as wide as humanity itself, there is no question of "sphere." It is as large as the nation itself, as broad as humanity. Emerson defined civilization as the power of good women. If the ruins of yesterday's civilization are to be cleared away to make room for that of tomorrow we shall need all the help that good women can give us to make up for the destruction that has been brought upon us by vicious men. The man who has much to say about "tea-cup politics" should think for a while on the kind of politics that has been worked out over bumpers of beer.

The laws and the precepts of the home are fundamentally those of the state. If national life is at a low ebb, if political life is deplorably base, it is because men have forgotten those laws and precepts. If the future is going to be made secure it will be on the basis of principles and ideals that are inherent in the institution of the family.

Women's special contribution will probably be along the lines of social reform. When she has completed her task in social reforms, political organization will have to adjust itself to the new society.

It would be a tragedy if women should ever again be called upon to bear the burden of war without first having been consulted on the conditions that made war inevitable. T the nation's women we are turnin now in our days of trial.—Winnipe Free Press.

Five-dollar five-year war saving certificates will soon be obtainab across the border at the price of $4.1

SERVICE TO THE NATION DEMANDS GOOD HEALTH

War is bringing home to every man, woman and child the fact that service to the nation is not a matter alone for the soldier and sailor and munition worker.

There is work, necessary work, for everyone to do, in the way of thrift and production and to do this work, health is the first essential. Even the most willing will find progress is slow if the health is bad.

Probably the most common complaint among those doing unaccustomed tasks is backache. Work may cause a tired feeling that will easily pass off but this backache that almost doubles one up is an indication of a condition of the system that needs treatment. The Kidneys are giving evidence of their weakness and the sufferer should be thankful for the timely warning given by this pain.

The quickest and surest relief from backache is a treatment with Gin Pills. Gin Pills are the tested specific for the healing of the Kidneys. Anyone who wishes to perform his or her full duty to the Nation in these strenuous times will find relief from backache in Gin Pills.

To Help Nature Shed a Bad Complexion

Beauty devotees are enthusiastic over the beautifying qualities of mercolized wax. Nothing discovered within recent years accomplishes so much, so quickly, without harm, at such small expense. The principal reason for its wonderful merit is that it works in harmony with physiological laws. Instead of hiding complexion defects, it removes them. It actually takes off the aged, faded, sallow, freckled or blotchy surface skin—gently, gradually, causing no inconvenience. It is nature's way of renewing complexions.

When the natural process is retarded because of deficient circulation or nerve tone, mercolized wax comes to the rescue and hastens the skin shedding. The new complexion which appears is a natural one, youthful, healthy, exquisitely beautiful. If you've never tried mercolized wax, get an ounce of it at the drug store, use at night like cold cream, washing it off in the morning.

AT THE THEATRES.

"Clover's Rebellion" at Gem.

The Gem announces the appearance of Anita Stewart on its screen today, in "Clover's Rebellion," a merry comedy drama without a single tear, freighted with a cargo of wholesome fun, the carefree rollicking humor of youth and the more staid and dignified brand of middle age. In "Clover's Rebellion" Miss Stewart has a role, that of a fresh, unaffected American girl, which suits her well. The rebellion is against her uncle's choice of a husband for her; with the able assistance of a rusty old automobile, indeed the Tin Lizzy takes a part in the production second only to that of Miss Stewart, she emerges victorious, defeating her hard-hearted uncle and gaining the husband she really desires.

Starland Today.

Mollie King, who is fast becoming one of the most popular stars on the screen, will appear at the Starland theatre in her latest Pathe Gold Rooster play, called "The On-the-Square Girl." This is an Astra production under the direction of George Fitzmaurice, with a splendid cast, composed of L. Rogers Lytton, Aimee Dalmores, Donald Hall and Ernest Lawford, who support beautiful Mollie King. "The On-the-Square Girl" is a fast moving, interest-holding feature dealing with a little known phase of New York life, the speedy suburban club town and country seat.

Ten thousand standardized motor dorries will be ready for the United States army by June next.

DON'T SCOLD, MOTHER! THE CROSS CHILD IS BILIOUS, FEVERISH

Look at tongue! If coated, clean little stomach, liver, bowels

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative" and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

ELKO NOTES BY FRED ROO

The skeleton in the closet, says Jim Thistlebeak, is not half so dangerous to the peace and harmony of the family as the skeleton in the pantry.

Paddy McIntyre, the Waldo cattle king, shipped a car of fat cattle to Calgary last week.

The Ed-Clay-Waterman Comedy Co. was working the pass towns last week.

Mrs. Morley of Fernie was visiting with Mrs. J. P. Stocks, Clear Springs farm, Roosville, during October.

Mrs. Eli Cooper of Lethbridge, Alta. arrived in Elko Sunday to spend the winter.

M. Gorman, "the human ferret," has returned from a big game hunt in the Cranbrook district, and we understand got the bacon. Sure, Micky, when you're at home and asleep, you're an angel of peace, so you are.

Mrs. J. A. Braley and daughter Betty, of Victoria, who have been visiting the Sunkist orchards, Roosville valley for several weeks, left for Fernie, where they will visit with Mrs. George B. Thompson for a few days before returning to the coast. Several smart events were given in Mrs. Braley's honor by the residents of the valley, that were greatly enjoyed by all the participants.

The big game hunters from Coal Creek are arriving on the Canadian Pacific late trains every day and hiking out to the south fork and Lodge Pole creeks. Jim Thistlebeak says it's really dangerous to be safe in the immediate vicinity.

You may be all right to look on, young man, but a girl's got to have something more than music records to feed on these days.

Francis Downs, "the man that put Flagstone on the map," is building a new mill on Red Canyon creek, Roosville valley, south of the Harry Blakey mineral claims, and expects to have the chips flying early in November and the sawdust by the first of the year.

Mrs. George Ingham of Innisfail, Alta., and two children, are visiting with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ingham, at the Sheep Mountain ranch, also the Ellwoods of Flagstone.

The Indians from Tobacco Plains are arriving for their fall hunt on the bench lands around the old historic burg. White Bear, the champion bowarrow shot of the Kootenay valley, is with the party.

Ten years' imprisonment with hard labor was the sentence meted out to two United States deserters.

$100 in Christmas Prizes

WHAT PRESENTS ARE IN THE CARS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

$100 IN CASH PRIZES FOR THE BEST REPLIES

So that we may become acquainted with more young people this Christmas, we are giving you this train loaded down with Christmas presents. Each car contains one kind of present and the name is on each car but the man who painted the name got the letters all jumbled. Worse still, the man who coupled the cars got them in the wrong order. Now, can you straighten things out and re-arrange the letters in the names of the presents in each car and put the cars in their right order behind the locomotive?

Car No. 6, DOES ILL, contains "Dollies." The other cars may contain gloves, candy, baseballs, animals, bicycles, building blocks, skipping ropes, nine pins, engines, skates, Noah's Ark, perfume, lanterns, tools, footballs, games, or something else. It is for you to find out.

Should you get the cars behind the locomotive in their right order, you will find that the first letter of the correct name of each Christmas present in each car when these first letters are all put together will spell out the name of a great Nation in Europe, one of the Allies—a Nation whose Navy controls the Oceans.

On Christmas Day, Uncle Peter, who edits the Bunny Page in EVERYWOMAN'S WORLD, will judge the answers and award the following big cash prizes to young people under seventeen years of age complying with the conditions of the contest, whose answers are all correct or nearest correct, neatest and best written. So get busy and send in an answer to-day, and this Christmas Season may be the happiest you have ever had.

The Big Cash Prizes

$25.00 Cash to the Boy or Girl who sends us the best reply. $15.00 Cash to the Boy or Girl sending the second best reply. $10.00 Cash to the Boy or Girl sending the third best reply. DOLLAR BILLS. Fifty bright, new, crisp $1.00 bills to the fifty next Boys and Girls with the 50 next best replies.

If you are bright and quick you will also have the opportunity of winning a Shetland Pony and Cart or Bicycle and many other fine prizes in a pleasant contest even more interesting that this one.

Write your answers in pen and ink, using only one side of the paper. Put your name, address and age, in the upper right hand corner of each sheet.

Send Your Answer This Very Evening!

The Unionist convention last night adopted the following platform:

That any candidate presenting himself to this convention for nomination do first sign the attached platform of the Win-the-War league and pledge himself to support the said platform.

Whereas, Canada, in the discharge of her duty to the British Empire, has been taking part in the great war, which has been waging in Europe since August, 1914, and has contributed in a large measure to the success of Great Britain and her allies;

And whereas, on account of the tense situation which exists in Europe, it is imperative that our Dominion should continue in her participation in the war, and should give every assistance, as far as is possible, by reinforcement of troops and otherwise as may be necessary from time to time, to the end that the world may be made safe for democracy;

And whereas, by virtue of the Military Service act, conscription of manpower has been enacted and is now being enforced, and it is desirable that there should also be conscription of wealth of all kinds, in order that our Dominion may be able the more effectually to do her share in bringing the war to a successful termination;

And whereas, it is recognized that, at least until after peace shall have been declared, the people of Canada should unite, irrespective of previous political affiliations, in the support of a national government which will devote itself primarily to upholding Canadian and British arms in the field, and in protecting and caring for the rights and interests of Canadian soldiers, both at home and abroad;

And whereas, steps have already been taken to form a strong Canadian national government (known as the Union government) which is and will be representative of all political parties of Canada, and which will strive to accomplish the purposes aforesaid;

And whereas, writs for a general election in Canada now having been issued, in which the paramount issue will be the support of the Union government, and this convention has been called by and on behalf of all political parties in the federal constituency of West Kootenay, to ascertain and declare the voice of the people concerning the question of a Union government as mentioned;

Therefore, be it resolved, that, in the opinion of this convention, it is highly desirable and necessary that all political differences which have existed heretofore should be forgotten and that there should be hearty, active and harmonious cooperation between the various political parties in this constituency in the cause of the new Union government.

Further, be it resolved, that this convention records its unalterable conviction that the safety of the country demands that the Union government should prosecute vigorously and with all diligence the purpose for which it has been created, and that the people of this constituency pledge their support.

Whereas, in respect of the Canadian Pacific Railway inland water transportation service—the facilities provided herein on the Arrow Lakes for the period extending from 1897 to 1914 were such as to induce many hundreds of settlers to take up lands tributary to this waterway, and

Whereas by such inducements the Canadian Pacific railway have succeeded in disposing of the majority of their lands as contained in the Kootenay Columbia subsidy, and

Whereas, in 1914 such service was summarily reduced from a daily to a tri-weekly service, and

Whereas such serious reduction in transportation facilities is having a most disastrous effect on mixed farming—particularly in reference to the small fruit industry, to the extent of the utter ruination of the farmer—and

Whereas, primarily due to the above conditions, there are today hundreds of abandoned homes throughout the district affected, representing the useless outlay of hundreds of thousands of dollars and years of profitless toil, and

Whereas, to this reason and to the absence of any assurance whatsoever as to the betterment of such service, the tonnage of farm products is steadily declining at a time when it should be increasing, and

Whereas no relief or redress can be secured at the hands of the railway company—the matter of lake and river transportation service being outside the jurisdiction of the board of railway commissioners, and

Whereas no recovery in agriculture—let alone further development—is possible so long as these conditions obtain, therefore be it

Resolved, that the urgencies of this case be brought forcibly to the attention of our nominee by this convention, and to the government of the province of British Columbia, in order that early means may be found and acted upon for the betterment of this deplorable and wasteful leakage affecting the interests of our province.

SUFFERED WITH NERVES
COULD NOT KEEP QUIET

Diseases of the nervous system are very common.

All the organs of the body may be sound while the nerve centres may be affected.

Many women become run down and worn out by household duties never ending, and sooner or later find themselves with their nerves shattered and the heart action weakened.

On the first signs of any weakness of either the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdown, do not wait until your case becomes hopeless.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will at once quieten the shaking nerves, strengthen the weak heart and build up the entire system.

Mrs. F. Bailey, 221 Earl street, Kingston, Ont., writes: "I was suffering very much with nerves, so much so that I could not keep myself quiet at all. I was recommended to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills so I bought three boxes and I must say I have derived much benefit from them, so much so that my friends have all noticed the change in me."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
