75 ARE KILLED IN RACE RIOTS AT EAST ST. LOUIS

Big Majority of Victims Are Negroes

NEGRO DWELLINGS ARE SET ON FIRE

Crowd is Roused to Fury by Shooting of White Man

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., July 2.—Race riots tonight have resulted in great loss of life, estimated at midnight at probably 250, virtually all negroes. The torch was applied to the negro settlement and the district is in flames.

About 75 Dead.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Despatches to the Associated Press at midnight indicate that the estimates of loss of life in the race riots in East St. Louis, Ill., were somewhat exaggerated. The death list, however, may reach 75, according to the latest estimates and the property loss, it is believed, will reach $3,000,000. The torch has been applied to four negro settlements in the city and the glare of the flames illuminates the city and surrounding districts.

The rioting is a recrudescence of race troubles that occurred a month ago following the importation of large numbers of negroes from the south to work in the East St. Louis packing houses.

Tonight's rioting began after a white man had been shot by a band of negroes. A mob which quickly gathered applied the torch to rows of negro dwellings, the flames quickly spreading to the edge of the business district of the city. Attacks on negroes quickly followed and fatalities began rapidly to multiply. At 11 o'clock State Attorney Schaumloeffel estimated that the dead negroes would number 250, but reliable reports reaching the Associated Press just after midnight seem to indicate that the number of dead up to that hour would not exceed 75.

White Women Participate

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., July 2.—Two negroes taken from a street car here this afternoon were shot and instantly killed and a white man standing in front of his store was killed by a stray bullet.

The turbulence of the mobs increased during the afternoon. Rioters took rifles away from 16 national guardsmen. White women and white girls are participating in the violence.

Detective Sergt. Samuel Coppedge was killed; three other officers were wounded, one of them so seriously that he may die, and two citizens were shot here early this morning.

POTATO RIOTS OCCUR IN CAPITAL OF HOLLAND

AMSTERDAM, July 2.—The Handelsblad prints a report of disturbances over the supply of potatoes in Amsterdam. Thousands of persons, the newspaper says, besieged a pier where a small barge with potatoes for hospitals had been tied up. The crowd was driven off by mounted police, but they vented their feelings on the police building, where all the windows were broken. Several mounted police officers were severely injured.

MANY ARRESTED IN RIOTS IN GERMAN CITY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

AMSTERDAM, July 2.—The Dusseldorff Anzeiger says that riots occurred in Dusseldorff Thursday wherein workmen of enemy nationality participated. Shops were plundered, and citizens allowed the enemy aliens to share in the booty. The police, reinofrced by troops, made many arrests.

BELGIANS ARE JAILED FOR ALLEGED TREASON

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

AMSTERDAM, July 2.—News received here from Germany says that an extraordinary war tribunal has been instituted and began by sentencing two Belgian laborers to five and three years penal servitude for alleged treason. Another workman was sentenced to six years, asd several male and female workers were imprisoned for from two to eight months.

GERMANY KEEPS SUB. LOSSES DARK

Papers Stop Publishing U-Boat Death Notices—Recent Figures Shown to Be Untrue.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

COPENHAGEN, July 2.—For many weeks, obviously in compliance with orders of the censor, German newspapers have published no death notices from the submarine service from which conclusions regarding the number of submarines destroyed might be drawn. The monthly obituary tribute of the Hamburg-American company to its employees who have been lost appears, however, with 12 names ascribed to the navy. Nearly all are from the mechanical personnel of the company, and it is a fair presumption that they were lost in the submarine campaign, because trained mechanics are not assigned to the forces in Flanders and surface ships are little exposed to casualties.

Recently the same proportion of casualties from other sources from which the submarine personnel is drawn, with five submarine losses, are inconsistent with the admiralty assertion that the monthly loss in boats is below 10. Among the dead is Lieut. Brinkbaeumer, who was decorated with the Iron Cross of the first and second classes, the usual tribute to a submarine commander.

PLOT TO DESTROY SHIPPING EXPOSED

Huns Planned to Delay Organization of U. S. Armies and Check Food and Munition Supplies

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Secret investigation by government agents has disclosed the existence of a great conspiracy to destroy or hinder shipping on the Great Lakes and thereby delay organization of the war armies of the United States and check the flow of food and munitions material from the western states to the Atlantic coast. No conspirators have been captured and the identity of none has been made public, but it was learned today that the state, navy and justice departments are cooperating to bring the offenders to punishment and that the Canadian government probably will be called upon to help.

This plot, engineered by Germans, assisted by sympathizers, is believed to have been responsible for the succession of "accidents" to lake shipping, especially in the neighborhood of the Soo canal, which began about a month ago. The steamer Saxonia and Pentecost Mitchell were sunk at the mouth of the Soo river, with the evident intention of blocking the channel. Then there was the sinking of the steamer Venetian Maid in the Detroit river, with the loss of one life. Later came an attempt to dynamite the steamer Mackinac. The Casga Second was blown up and burned and the Jay Dee and the Niagara had their machinery wrecked.

All of these ships had been or were about to be taken over by the navy department and the investigations of the department of justice and the navy department have tended to the conclusion that what were believed to have been accidents were the acts of conspirators seeking to hamper the government in the prosecution of the war.

CANADIANS MAKE STEADY ADVANCE

Go Forward 1000 Yards On Half-Mile Front

WEST OF LENS LULL OCCURS IN FIGHTING

Troops Mark Dominion Day by Enjoying Sports

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, July 2.—By the Canadian Overseas Correspondent.—On the sector of the front to the west and south of Mericourt during the last two nights our outposts have been advanced almost 1000 yards along a front of over a mile and one-half, practically without opposition from the enemy. There has been on this part of the plain a wide stretch of No Man's Land between the trench systems of the opposing armies. Encounters between patrols ocacsionally have occurred out there but the territory was not effectively occupied by either side.

To the west of Lens in the sector north of the Souchez river, where there had been almost continuous artillery duels since Thursday last, varied by infantry thrusts and counter-thrusts, affairs have quieted down this afternoon. The cannonading has been less violent. In a former despatch the correspondent spoke of the splendid valor of the troops engaged in these operations. Later information indicates that in the fierce house to house fighting which has been the chief feature of the advance they enhanced their already high reputation.

The Dominion day sports were most successful. The weather was that of a cloudless July day. There were baseball and football championship games, tugs of war and foot races between teams representing the various divisions.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE IS HELD IN ABBEY

King and Queen Take Part in Commemoration of Canadian Confederation Jubilee

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 2.—"O Eternal Father: We draw nigh to Thee in this church, where our kings and queens are crowned, amidst memorials of Great Britain's most illustrious dead. We humbly commemorate before Thee the fiftieth anniversary of the Dominion of Canada and allied by many mercies multiplied upon its people. We dedicate to Thy great glory the memory of our dear brothers departed. Crown, we beseech Thee, with Thy loving mercy the offerings of their brave lives. Grant unto them Thy eternal peace and unto all that mourn the blessing of Thy comfort."

No words could more fitly describe the purport of today's great assembly in Westminster Abbey than those of the above prayer, recited by the dean in the course of the service.

From the windows of the building overlooking the abbey's great west door, the building where 50 years ago confederation came into being, 200 widows and mothers of Canadian soldiers who now lie buried in the field of honor beheld the arrival of the King and Queen. The Canadian flag hung limp from the abbey's towers. In the space beneath the bayonets of the guard of honr, chosen from several Canadian battalions, gleamed in the morning sunshine.

"It might be a Dominion day celebration in Canada," remarked one of the little crowd that lingered in the cloisters.

The celebration, indeed, in its entirety was in the best sense representative. Queen Alexandria, Princess Victoria and Princess Patricia arrived early. Presently distant cheering came to the waiting throng. His majesty with the queen on his right side, preceded by the abbey dignitaries, arrived. Sir George Perley, with Gen. Sir

VENICE RAIDED BY AUSTRIAN AIRPLANES

No Casualties Caused—As Reprisal Italian Airmen Bomb Industrial Section of Triest.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, July 2—Venice has been again attacked by Austrian airplanes, the war office announces today. The Italians raided Triest in reprisal. The statement reads:

"A group of enemy airplanes raided Venice, Murino and Chioggia, the last two being towns near Venice, on Friday night. Bombs were thrown on houses. There were no victims. Anti-aircraft batteries bombarded the airplanes vigorously, and there is reason to believe two raiders were struck.

"By way of immediate reprisal, Italian airplanes bombed the industrial quarters of Triest.

ADVANCED POSTS AT ONE POINT RETIRE

French Eject Enemy from Trenches Taken At Cerny

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 2.—The Times correspondent at British headquarters in France, telegraphing Sunday, reported that the weather had been bad during the last 48 hours. A heavy rain fell without cessation and on Sunday the air was very thick. The conditions prevented observation and made movement difficult, necessarily hampering operations, the correspondent said, and adds:

"But we continue to make a methodical advance south and southwest of Lens. We now have worked our way almost through Avion. There are flooded areas everywhere south of the river."

LONDON, July 2.—Tonight's official statement reads:

"As the result of hard fighting west of Lens Sunday and Monday our advanced posts have been driven back a short distance.

"There is nothing further to report except artillery activity by both sides at numerous points along the front."

British Raid Enemy

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 2.—Today's official statement reads:

"We made a successful raid Sunday night east of Hargicourt and captured seven prisoners. A number of Germans were killed. East of Loos a raiding party of the enemy reached our trenches, but was driven out quickly."

French Win Back Ground.

PARIS, July 2.—This afternoon's statement reads:

"South of St. Quentin we repulsed an enemy attack on small posts near Guichy.

"In the sector between Cerny and Ailles, particularly heavy artillery actions continue. Late in the day our forces made a counter-attack on both sides of the Ailles-Paissy road. This action, conducted in a spirited manner, enabled us to eject the Germans from the line of trenches which they had occupied. The recaptured ground was covered with bodies, bearing witness to the importance of the losses suffered by the enemy in its offensive.

"Violent artillery fighting occurred along the road between Laon and Reims. In the Woevre a strong German reconnoitering party which attempted to approach our lines near Flirey was dispersed by our fire."

Belgians Repulse Attack

PARIS, July 2.—Tonight's official statement reads:

"During the day both artilleries maintained very great activity in the sectors to the west and east of Cerny. No infantry action occurred.

"Intermittent cannonading north of St. Quentin occurred during the day. Everywhere else the day has been quiet.

"Belgian communication: An enemy detachment attempted to reach our trenches south of Hetsas, but was repulsed with losses."

Berlin Claims Successes.

BERLIN, July 2.—The German official report today reported on the operations in France and Belgium as follows:

"In only a few sectors between the sea and the Somme did the artillery battle increase. While reconnoitering advances of the British to the east of

CANADA DESTINED TO PLAY BIG PART

British Premier Emphasizes Benefits That Confederation Has Conferred on Nation.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 2.—Among the many congratulatory messages received was the following from Premier Lloyd George:

"Fifty years ago the statesmen of all provinces of Canada gathered in convention in Ottawa to work out the basis of a federal union, and from that act of statesmanship the Dominion of Canada was born. Confederation has done much for Canada. It has enabled the Canadian people to attain the internal unity and self-government and to achieve the beneficient development of the resources of their country. It has not done less for the Empire. It has made Canada the pioneer of that autonomous nationhood which is the unique characteristic of our commonwealth of nations, and it has its logical outcome in the imperishable record which the army of Canada has made on the battlefields of Flanders in the cause of human freedom. The history of the past 50 years is, indeed, a certain proof of the part which Canada is destined to play in concert with her sister nations in promoting the peace and unity of the world after victory has been won."

RUSS TROOPS TAKE OVER 10,000 PRISONERS IN NEW OFFENSIVE

BRITISH CHEERED BY NEWS OF VICTORIES

Town Taken by Russians in Direction of Lemberg—Maneuver Interrupted by Revolution Resumed

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 2.—The resumption of the Russian offensive, with the capture of the town of Koniuchy and more than 10,000 prisoners is the most cheerful news the British have had for some weeks. References in recent German official communications to the activity of the Russians had given hope that something really serious was about to occur, but the public was hardly prepared for such immediate and successful results, as it was thought it would take a few days for the artillery to destroy the Austro-German defenses, which were under construction for so many months.

The scene of the Russian success between the Stripa and Zlota Lipa rivers was the battle ground of much heavy fighting after Gen. Brusiloff's offensive of a year ago, Koniuchy being on the latter river.

This, like the other demonstrations, is in the direction of Lemberg, the capture of which would be of strategic and political significance.

Gen. Brusiloff apparently has resumed his concentric maneuver which was interrupted by the advent of winter and then by the revolution.

War Minister Issues Appeal

PETROGRAD, July 2.—War Minister Kerensky has issued an appeal to the Russian armies to take the offensive. He says that Austria and Germany have replied to Russia's appeal to all democracies in favor of peace by the dishonorable proposal that Russia should conclude a separate peace, which would enable them to crush Russia's western allies. On Russia's rejection of the proposal the enemy, says the war minister, threatened an offensive against Russia, and the freedom of the country and the revolution itself were in danger. The appeal concludes:

"Every day's delay strengthens the enemy. That is why we appeal to our armies to take the offensive. Let all the world know that it was not from weakness that we talked of peace. Let it be known that liberty increases our military strength. All Russia will bless your exploits in behalf of liberty, your country's future and an honorable and lasting peace."

ITALIAN OUTPOSTS MAINTAIN GROUND

Austrian Detachments Make Futile Attack—Enemy Post Destroyed in Albania

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, July 2.—Tonight's official statement reads:

"During the night the enemy was active between Lake Garda and the Ledro valley. After violent artillery preparation an enemy detachment, numbering not less than two companies, attacked the line of our outposts between San Giovanni and Biacesa, but was stopped and driven back with considerable loss. At the same time, other hostile parties attacked our outposts in the same sector north of Malga Giumella and northeast of Mezzolago, but they were stopped by the vigilance of our troops before reaching our lines.

"The artillery struggle continued active yesterday in the area between Lake Garda and the Adige.

"At several other points on the front and particularly at the head of the Zebach and in the neighborhood of San Lucia Tolmino, we repeatedly and successfully shelled enemy troops assembled and in movement.

"On the Mrzli a big enemy mine was exploded without altering our positions and causing only slight damage.

"Albania: A well executed attack by one of our armed Albanian bands on June 30 destroyed a small enemy post near Panaret, on the upper Osum river. Some Austrian regulars were captured and the attack caused great alarm within the enemy lines."

MOVE TO GET DUTY ON TEA CUT FAILS

Is Voted Down by British House After Statement on Taxation by Chancellor

LONDON, July 2.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The house of commons committee on the finance bill brought in an amendment in favor of the reduction of the duty on tea from a shilling to eightpence. This was negatived on division after a statement by Chancellor Bonar Law indicating the extent to which the additional revenue came from indirect forms of taxation. He stated the indirect taxation in the year before the war was £69,000,000; now it was £100,000,000. The corresponding figures for direct taxation were £93,000,000 and £46,000,000.

In view of the premier's statement of the government's intention to keep the prices of some necessities to a reasonable level, if the treasury were to make good in one direction for the higher prices of food, it was only right that it should get what it could from other sources in compensation.

ARTILLERY, NOW WELL SUPPLIED WITH SHELLS, DOES DEADLY WORK

Capture Village and Strongly Fortified Positions In Eastern Galicia--Are Following Up Successes--Great Battles In Progress

For Two Days Threw Rain of Iron on Enemy Positions, Turning Them Into Crater Fields--Russians, Eager to Make Up for Lost Time, Win Brilliant Victories Over Germans, Austrians and Turks

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PETROGRAD, July 2.—The brilliant Russian advance, the news of which has sent a wave of rejoicing through the entire country, was led by War Minister Kerensky in person.

For the last four days the war minister has been at the front, spending every effort to urge the troops to advance. He finally rode to the front line trenches, and placing himself at the head of the troops gave the order to advance.

The spectacle of the popular war minister on the firing line accomplished what oratory had failed to do, and the Russian line swept forward into the German trenches.

(By Associated Press.)

Prisoners exceeding 10,000 and the capture of the village of Koniuchy and strongly fortified positions southwest of Brezezany are the first fruits of the new offensive movement of the Russian forces in eastern Galicia. North of Kouichy the Russians have attacked and fresh battles are in progress. The Russian artillery, long inactive from lack of shells, played an important part in the defeat of the Austro-Germans at Koniuchy. For two days a rain of iron was thrown into the German positions and Berlin says officially that they were turned into a crater field.

The Russians not only carried three lines of German trenches and Koniuchy, which was strongly fortified, but also advanced to the Koniuchy stearm south of the village, which is on the Zlota Lipa river. Around Brzezany the fighting was most bitter and Berlin claims that 16 Russian divisions were thrown forward. The Russians carried the fortified Teuton positions at several points in the face of a desperate resistance by Austrian, German and Turkish troops.

Says Decisive Battle Begun

PETROGRAD, July 2.—The commander of the armies on the western (Russian) front has issued an order of the day reading:

"Our army on the southwestern front has vanquished the enemy and broken its lines. A decisive battle has begun on which depends the fate of the liberty of the Russian people. Our brothers on the southwestern front are advancing victoriously. They expect assistance from us. We shall not be traitors; the enemy shall hear the thunder of our guns."

PETROGRAD, July 2.—An official announcement reads:

"Western front: In the direction of Kovel, in the region of Rudkasitovichskaya, our scouts, under commands of four officers, after destroying the wire entanglements by mines, penetrated the enemy's trenches, killed some of their occupants and captured a number of prisoners. According to the testimony of prisoners, the Austrians knew of our attacks from two deserters. An investigation is being made by the authorities of the governments to which the soldiers belonged.

"In the direction of Zbchof, after two days' artillery preparation, our forces attacked the Austro-German positions on the Koniuchy-Byshki front. After a severe engagement they occupied three lines of trenches and the fortified villages of Koniuchy and advanced to the Koniuchy stream to the south of the village of the same name.

"As a result of the engagement on Sunday, 164 officers and 8400 soldiers have been counted so far as prisoners. We took also seven guns and seven machine guns. Prisoners continue to come in.

"Southwest of Brzezany, after artillery preparation our troops attacked the strongly fortified positions of the enemy and after stubborn fighting, occupied them at places. Germans and Turks made counter-attacks and formidable positions changed hands constantly.

"On Sunday we captured on this front nine officers and 1700 Germans, Austrians and Turks. Some of our detachments suffered severe losses, especially of officers.

"Altogether on Sunday we took 173 officers and more than 10,000 men.

Capture Turkish Positions.

PETROGRAD, July 2.—Russian forces Sunday continued their offensive against the Turks in the Caucasus. Russian cavalry pursued the fleeing Turks and occupied Engidja, north of Lake Deribar and also ocupied the Turkish stronghold of Kalamirivan, southeast of the lake.

The statement reporting operations on the Rumanian and Caucasian fronts reads:

"Rumanian front: There were fusilades.

"Caucasian front: Under pressure of our troops the Turks retreated toward Panjewin. Our cavalry, continuing its pursuit, occupied Engidja, north of Lake Deribar. Our troops occupied the villages of Abahen and Derchue, and also the stronghold of Kalamirivan, southeast of Lake Deribar."

Fierce Air Battles Fought.

PETROGRAD, July 2.—The section on aviation in today's Russian official statement reads:

"The airship Ila Murometz dropped about 650 pounds of bombs on the rear positions of the enemy today. There were five airplane engagements, and in one of these fights, while battling with eight enemy airplanes, the commander of the aircraft was seriously wounded. The ship was brought back safely to our lines.

"North of Postavy a Germain airplane was brought down by a Russian aviator behind the enemy lines and was destroyed by our artilery. As a result of one of the engagements between our own and the German machines our gallant aviator, Lieut. Orloff, attacked by two enemy airplanes met his death. Near the town of Geneva, a German airplane was brought down by our aviator, Lieut. Ivanoff."

NEW PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS DEDICATED

Ceremony Is Feature of Confederation Jubilee Commemoration at Canadian Capital

(By Daily News Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 2.—Half a century of progress, growth and development under the aegis of Canadian confederation was commemorated with simple ceremony on Parliament Hill today. Simultaneously and as befitting such a moment, the new buildings of parliament, now under construction, were formally dedicated.

Ideal weather favored the event. Midsummer sunshine was tempered with refreshing breezes. Thousands of people turned out. The occasion was graced by the attendance of the governor-general and staff, members of the government, senators and members of parliament, the foreign consuls, the judiciary, military headquarters staffs, representatives of the clergy and leading officials in the civil government.

The specially constructed dais and the building was festooned gaily with British, French, American and other allied flags. There were speeches by the Duke of Devonshire, Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The speeches breathed sentiments of patriotism with eulogies of the Canadian people, the achievements of the past and the glory of the future prospect.

Reference was made to the country's splendidly effective part in the war. The ceremony was simple and impressive.

When the Duke of Devonshire concluded his speech, he touched a button and a Union Jack rose, uncovering the memorial tablet of the occasion in what is to be the hall of fame.

His excellency, who arrived promptly at noon, was received with military honors. The band played the National Anthem and the chorus sang "Rule Britannia."

The following is the inscription executed in English on one side and in French on the other:

"July, 1917. On the fiftieth anniversary of the confederation of British colonies in North America as the Dominion of Canada, the parliament and people dedicate this building, in process of reconstruction after damage by fire, as a memorial of the deeds of their forefathers and the valor of those Canadians, who in the great war fought for the liberties of Canada, of the Empire and of humanity."

REASON FOR GERMAN OFFENSIVE EXPLAINED

Want Local Success Over French Which Can Be Magnified to Offset Heavy Defeats.

(By Daily News Wire.)

LONDON, July 2.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency. — Telegraphing today from French headquarters, Reuter's correspondent says that the sudden return of the enemy to the offensive on the Chemin des Dames and on the left bank of the Meuse is probably to be explained by the German government's need of victories, or rather local successes, which can be magnified into victories to offset the substantial gains of the Anglo-French offensives. At the moment when the inspired press in the fatherland is trying to explain away the latest British successes in Flanders and knowing that more must come, requiring further explanation and also knowing the fact that the vanguard of the American army is already on French soil—comprehension of these things is spreading among the German army and the people—the high command feels that something must be done to counter-balance the effect of all this. In any event there is not yet any indication that behind the sudden resumption of activity lies any more serious intention,

Both in Lemort Momme and the Cerny sector, the enemy, in the event of success, stands to win important local advantages, notably in the latter, where he would regain at least a portion of the observatory line on the Chemin des Dames crest, to retain which he fought so hard.

By the operations of Sunday and Monday the enemy regained a very insecure footing on the crest about a mile west of the Dragon's Den, from which he was expelled last Monday.

Small gains the enemy hitherto secured were obtained by means which either side can employ at will and which, of course, result in temporary advantage to the side which secures them.

It is a case of heavy concentration of artillery against a narrow front, followed by an infantry attack. The value of such acquisitions lies in the power to retain them solely, and the enemy has not yet been shown to possess this power. Hitherto it has been able only to annex narrow belts of front without depth.

If it is counting in the slightest degree on the decline of the fighting spirit in the French army to exploit these gains, it is counting without its host.

In the heart of the city three negroes were killed within 15 minutes. Sixteen militiamen were disarmed by the mob and hooted. Two negroes were taken from a street car and killed. All saloons were closed by order of Mayor Mollman.

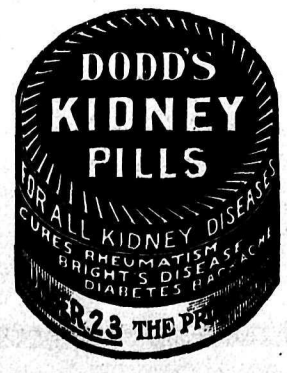
NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 2.—The death list from the trolley accident on the Gorge Route tonight was practically unchanged. Meanwhile the cash register of the car has not been produced.



RUSS TROOPS TAKE 10,000 PRISONERS

day's official war office statement reads:

"Army group of Prince Leopold: The Russian attack Sunday between the upper Stripa and the eastern bank of the Narayuvka led to heavy fighting. The pressure of the Russians was directed chiefly against the Koniuchy sector and the lines east and south of Brzezany.

"An exceedingly strong artillery preparation which lasted two days turned our positions into a craterfield against which enemy regiments stormed throughout the day.

"Koniuchy was lost.

"The Russian mass attack was caught up in a prepared barring position and a fresh attack against this barring position was frustrated. The fighting was especially bitter on both sides of Brzezany.

"Sixteen Russian divisions, constantly employing fresh troops, assaulted our positions, but they were completely maintained or recaptured by counter-attacks by Saxon, Rhineland and Ottoman divisions. The Russian losses surpassed any measure hitherto known. Some units have been entirely dispersed.

"Along the Stokhod and on the Dniester the lively artillery activity of the Russians continues.

"North of the Kovel-Lutsk railway line an attack of the enemy broke down before the front of an Austro-Hungarian division."

Conferences will be held at Vienna later.

DEMONSTRATION IN PETROGRAD ORDERLY

Revolutionary Outbreak Threatened if Soldiers' Delegates Gathered Does Not Occur.

PETROGRAD, July 2.—The great demonstration by workmen's and soldiers' delegates and the revolutionary democracy, which had been discussed for some days with considerable anxiety owing to the declared intention of anarchists to make a counter-revolutionary outbreak and to carry arms, passed off without disorder. Unarmed processions of many thousands marched through Petrograd to the Mars-ovie, the military parade grounds where victims of the revolution are buried, headed by bands and carrying banners.

None of the latter bore martial or patriotic inscriptions, only declarations of hostility against the wealthy and bourgeois class: "Down with the duma and the council of the empire," "Down with the cabinet ministers," "The people's fight for peace," were among the mottoes displayed. "We want an armistice to discuss peace," was another.

A few banner inscriptions denounced a separate peace and secret treaties of Russia with Great Britain and France.

U. S. SENATE COMMITTEE AMENDS WAR TAX BILL

Vancouver Has Patriotic Parade.

VANCOUVER, July 2.—Confederation day was fittingly celebrated here today by a big patriotic parade in which the local military units, war veterans, firemen and policemen participated. After marching throughout the city the procession assembled on the Cambie street grounds, where addresses were delivered by a number of prominent citizens, the prevailing themes being the significance of the day to Canadians, the part Canada is taking in the great war, and the part Canada can still play and the lessons for the future arising from the war.

Big Celebration at Toronto.

TORONTO, July 2.—This city celebrated the 50th anniversary of confederation today by a great parade in which the Toronto garrison, troops from Camp Borden, the sailors of the Niobe, the Great War Veterans and veterans of other wars, public school cadets and boy scouts took part. Several patriotic addresses were delivered by prominent men at the exhibition grounds, whither the parade proceeded.

Troops Reviewed at Montreal.

MONTREAL, July 2.—In commemoration of the jubilee of confederation, the lieutenant governor of the province of Quebec, Sir Evariste Leblanc, today reviewed 4000 officers and men of the various branches of the Canadian, British and allied military and naval services, gathered together in the most impressive demonstration the commercial metropolis of Canada has ever seen. The ceremonies took place on Fletcher's field, at the foot of Mount Royal. Among the participants were their sailors and marines, a detachment of Italian sailors and marines, a detachment of returned soldiers, veterans of the present war; a small band of army and navy veterans, heroes of the earlier wars, and representatives of the expeditionary and militia forces from this district. Patriotic addresses were made.

BRITISH TROOPS RAID GERMANS

Nieuport, at Gavrelle and to the northwest of St. Quentin failed, some of our shock troops succeeded in the Yser lowlands, north of Dixmude, in inflicting considerable losses on the enemy by a surprise attack and captured a large number of Belgian prisoners.

"Early this morning and again in the afternoon the British attacked to the west of Lens. At a few points they penetrated our lines, but were repulsed everywhere by our Silesian regiments in hand to hand engagements in which over 175 prisoners and 17 machine guns were captured by us.

"Army group of the German crown prince: After strong artillery preparation, the French delivered fresh attacks on the Chemin des Dames against the trenches they had lost south of Bovelle farm. All the assaults of the enemy were defeated in engagements, which were especially bitter on the eastern slope of the plateau."

German Success Worthless

FRENCH FRONT IN FRANCE, Sunday, July 1.—The Germans succeeded in occupying today French front line trenches a third of a mile in length to the east of Cerny, north of the Chemin des Dames. This local success, worthless from a military viewpoint, followed a terrific pile-driving artillery bombardment, at the beginning of which the French abandoned the line, the trenches of which were flattened out. This forward step leaves the Germans still without their coveted observation posts. Apparently there was little backbone in the attack, as the success was not followed up.

The same lack of push has characterized all the German attacks recently along the line stretching from the eastward of Soissons to Verdun. Evidently the enemy, after his recent defeat in the Champagne, feels the need of local successes in order to encourage the men, who, according to prisoners, are greatly depressed. It is comparatively easy for them to concentrate many heavy guns at any given point and thus drive the French out of small sectors. Hitherto, however, whenever the Germans attacked with their specially selected troops, they did not penetrate to any depth, all their attempts to do so meeting with energetic resistance and usually being followed by French counter-attacks, costing the German occupants of the demolished positions great losses.

QUEBEC LABOR MEN VOTE FOR STRIKE

Support Proposal of Calgary Unions in Event of Conscription Being Enforced.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

QUEBEC, July 2.—At a monster meeting of local labor men the proposals of the Calgary unions to call a general strike should conscription be enforced was gone into at length. The result was the unanimous voting of a resolution of full sympathy with the Calgary union leaders on the subject. The resolution adds an especial warning to the Borden government that if conscription is enforced, the local unionists will join in a general strike throughout the entire Dominion.

Michael Walsh, president of the Federated Council of Trades and Labor of Quebec and Levis districts (an international organization) stated before the meeting that he is in a position to authoritatively state that in the city of Toronto alone 30,000 labor men without any noise or trouble, are closely bound together to go out on strike with the rest of the country's labor men if conscription is enforced in Canada.

BORDEN AND BALFOUR SUPPORT JEWS' PLEA

Express Goodwill for Zion's Desire for Redemption of Jerusalem—Traitors to Judaism Scored.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, July 2.—The sincere sympathy of two statesmen—Arthur J. Balfour and Sir Robert Borden—with the Zionist movement has now been announced since the 15th annual convention of the Canadian Zionist Federation opened its sessions Sunday morning.

Sir Robert Borden sent a telegram to the convention today expressing his regret at being unable to attend because of pressing state business and extending to the convention "sincerest good wishes of myself and colleagues."

Hope that Great Britain will make Palestine a protectorate so as to ensure just government is expressed in a resolution passed unanimously this morning amid wild outbursts of applause.

"Let every stigma rest upon those men who are traitors to Judaism," said President DeSola in moving a resolution protesting against a letter to the London Times sent by members of an Anglo-Jewish organization which opposed Zionism. The letter declared that the Jews do not want Palestine restored to them.

FALL OF SPANISH MONARCHY PROBABLE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 2—Spain appears to be in the throes of a revolution. In well-informed quarters here it is believed that the fall of the Spanish monarchy and the rise of a republic in its stead, is only a matter of days, perhaps hours.

This view is justified by the latest development in Spanish politics, the leading parties in the nation having formed a republic bloc. The radicals and the Socialists decided to issue a revolutionary and anti-monarchistic manifesto, after having constituted themselves into a "bloc." In addition to these parties, the monarchist reformist party of Senor Alvarez, one of the most powerful of Spanish leaders, changed its traditional position and came out in favor of a republic. So strong is the republican tide in Spain that King Alfonso's abdication is speculation of a distinct probability.

CHINESE FACTION WOULD REPLACE MANCHUS ON THRONE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The restoration of the Manchu dynasty in China has been demanded of President Li by Gen. Chang Hsuan and other military leaders, according to state department advices from Minister Reinsch today. Civil war in China is feared if the militarists have the power behind them that they seem to have.

ENTHUSIASM MARKS ZIONIST CONVENTION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, July 2.—Twenty-two hundred Jewish people tonight attended a mass meeting in Walker theater at which wild enthusiasm was shown in the cause of the Zionistic movement. Within three-quarters of an hour $25,000 was given toward an emergency fund for the movement. The chief speakers of the evening were Dr. Ben Mossinson of Palestine and Judge Shultz of Vancouver, the first Jewish judge in Canada. Judge Shultz, in a stirring address, sounded the call to support the British arms.

"Mothers of Israel," he said, "will you hold back your sons? If you do you must pay the price and the price will be eternal shame."

The official announcement of the loss of the Doxa says that the destroyer sank as the result of a double explosion on June 28. The Doxa was then within 100 yards of a merchant ship which she was convoying.

EDUCATION POLICY IN FIJI IS ON BOLD LINES

SUVA, Fiji.—The government of Fiji is to be congratulated upon the boldness with which it has undertaken the first stage of its education policy, says an editorial in the Western Pacific Herald, Suva. The expenditure involved in providing for the salaries and allowances of the superintendent of education, the maintenance of his department, salaries of the trained staffs of the grammar schools together with the £7000 proposed to be spent on the erection and equipment of the boarding school, goes to show that the government is in earnest.

The board of education, the article continues, is soon to take initial steps with non-European education. This is a vaster and much more intricate problem. The problem is vast because of the numbers involved. White children in the group number a few hundreds; those of Indian and Fijian races number scores of thousands. The situation is difficult because of neglect. The government's policy in the past has been one of masterly inactivity. The solution would have been simpler had it been attempted earlier. Then the work might have grown along with the need.

Education on sound lines, education that will make for the individual and national character, is essential for these people and, moreover, is their right. Let there be no delusion as to this. From every aspect, social, industrial, economic, moral, the well-being of the colony is bound up with the education of its non-European peoples, the paper asserts. An assurance to the government of India that we are making an honest effort upon an adequate scale to provide for Indian education would be one of the greatest factors to facilitate future immigration.

There are many technical difficulties upon which we do not propose to enlarge at present the place of industrial education and the means of accomplishing it, the meeting of the needs of the rural Fijian who, as a child of the soil cannot be fitted into ready made systems imported from other lands, the relation of the vernaculars to English in the type of race that we shall produce for the next and succeeding generations—these, we repeat, will not be solved in a day, even by expert minds. A word is necessary, however, with regard to the means and instruments of education.

It is probable that the government will not be able to carry out the work of non-European education without inviting the cooperations of other agencies. We have now before us the total cost of the government schools for Fijians at Nasinu and Lau. We are under the impression that the outlay per head of pupils is such that an extension of this method of education to the whole non-European population of the colony would involve such an expenditure as could not be seriously considered.

Nationalist bodies, both Fijian and Indian and even private individuals, will doubtless be found willing to organize schools if the government will assist by subsidies, the writer believes, but warns that while such means of education may perhaps be utilized, the danger that influences subversive of loyalty may creep into schools of this nature, makes it necessary that caution be exercised.

The greatest part of non-European education has been carried on hitherto by the missions and the service rendered by them through their schools is much greater, possibly than the community generally understands.

The government may benefit much by inviting the fullest cooperation of the missions, whose understanding of the minds of the peoples among whom they work may enable them to avoid serious blunders.

Mining and Markets

SILVER MINES ARE GOOD INVESTMENT

Mining Record Doubts if Anyone Living Today Will See Metal Go Below 70 Cents.

World conditions are such that a strong market for silver seems assured for many years to come, and perhaps for all time, says the Mining Record. Indeed, it is doubtful if any one living today will ever see silver sell under 70 cents and it is more likely to go over a dollar, and remain at around that figure. Prophecy, this may be, but it is backed by logic and reflects the opinions of acknowledged authorities on finance.

Very evidently there should be no hesitancy on the part of capitalists to invest in silver properties; and this is trebly true of those old mines where remunerative ore is positively known to exist, ready to be manufactured into dividends. Surely they will not remain idle when the labor situation is remedied; and then Colorado may again achieve the distinction of being known as the silver state, with its rejuvenated camps working at capacity to supply the demands of Christendom for practically unlimited quantities of the white metal.

RAILWAY STOCKS GO STILL LOWER

St. Paul Dropped to Lowest quotation in 20 Years—Trading in Other Issues Erratic.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, July 2.—Trading in today's desultory market was governed almost entirely by the caprices of professional operators. Sentiment was overwhelmingly bearish, for which the recent freight rate decision was held chiefly accountable.

Rails experienced additional price depreciation, standard shares losing 1 to 3 points, while St. Paul recorded an extreme decline of 5⅝ points to 67¾, its minimum quotation for about 20 years. Elsewhere the list displayed highly erratic tendencies, a few leading industrials rising briskly when others of equal prominence were irregular and weak.

This was especially true of equipments and recognized war shares. Baldwin and American Locomotives, Pressed Steel Car, Steel Foundry and Republic Iron scored gains of 1 to 3 points, while United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Colorado Fuel and a few associated issues reacted 1 to 2 points.

Shippings, oils, American Sugar and minor specialties were intermittently active at 1 to 2 points advances, but these movements were overshadowed by the heaviness of automobiles and accessories, Ohio Gas and Industrial Alcohol, the latter making a decline of 7 points. Metals were quiet, dealings in that group being restricted by labor troubles. With scarcely an exception, lowest prices were made in the broader selling of the last hour, rails at that period lacking support, even at concessions. Few gains remained, the market closing with a heavy tone. Sales of stock, 635,000 shares.

Call and time loans were increasingly easy, six-day accommodations shading ½ cent.

American Paper evinced a lower trend. Foreign exchange held around last week's finish rates.

Other small import of British gold was offset by moderate exports to Japan and South America.

Bonds were irregular and nominal as to dealings. Total sales, par value, $1,980,000. United States coupons and registered 2s gained ½ per cent on call.

PRICE RECORDS ARE SMASHED BY CORN

No. 2 Grade Sold at $1.78½ per Bushel —Wheat Closes at Cent Lower.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 2.—For the second time in today's market corn soared above all previous high price records. No. 2 grade reached $1.78⅛ a bushel today as against a new high of $1.76 on Saturday.

Wheat had an unsettled finish, closing 1 cent lower to 2¾ cents higher, with July quoted at $2.01 and September at $1.88½.

Oats gained ¼ cent, while provisions closed 30 cents higher.

Wheat and oats reflected the strength of corn. Trading in wheat, however, was not much above zero in volume, the general assumption being that complete control of the market would soon be taken over by the government. On the other hand business in oats was large and the value of the grain was lifted, especially by a good export demand.

Strong hands took control of all the provisions delivered on July contracts. The amounts were heavy, contrasting notably with the scarity of grain, but new sellers were not to be found.

TELLS OF COAL FIELDS IN THE ARCTIC REGION

NEW YORK, N. Y.—While coal resources in the remote and difficult localities are of very slight value at the present time, owing to the availability of much greater resources near large centers of population, the coal fields of the Arctic may have great potential value for the future should the present stock of available coal become exhausted. This statement was made by Dr. Isaiah Bowman, director of the American Geographical society, in discussing the significance of the discoveries made in the north by Donald B. McMillan, as reported in McMillan's recent report.

"Mr. McMillan speaks," said Dr. Bowman, "of the large game resources in the several localities he visited, and particularly on Elesmere island. While this undoubtedly has a high importance for future explorers, or for preliminary survey of the resources of the region, such game is a poor reliance *in the case of general industrial de*velopment. The most important possible resource is the coal which he mentioned as occurring all through Elesmere island. But this coal has less interest to industry than it has to geological science, for the matter of the deposition of the coal and the light it throws upon the climate of the past are of great interest to geographers and geologists. These facts are also in line of what has been known of Greenland for many years, that it at one time had a mild climate quite different from the rigorous Arctic conditions which are found there today.

"McMillan's determination of latitude and longtitude are especially important. On Captain Bernier's map of 1909 North Cornwall and Finlayland are represented in only their southern portions. On the map of the Arctic regions published by the American Museum of Natural History and the American Geographical society in 1912 still later explorations are shown, but they represent only meagre reports and distant sights and the geographical position of a number of important land masses must now be corrected.

"For example, McMillan speaks of a large island to the east of Amund Ringes Land in latitude 78 degrees 18 minutes. If this observation is correctly reported, Ringes land is either incorrectly shown on previous maps or extends much farther south than has previously been supposed. In any future exploration of the region, or should there be any economic development of it, the exact position of important islands and capes must be represented on our maps.

"The war has practically stopped all the more expensive explorations that had been planned before its beginning. Shackelton has just recently returned and there is no exploring expedition in the Antarctic at the present time. With the return of the Crocker Land expedition there will be but one exploring party in the north at the present time, that of Stefannson, and it is expected at Ottawa that he will return during the early autumn months. With his return there will be no exploring party in the north.

"There are several projected expeditions, one of which has been noted in the press a number of times during the past year, that of Captain Roald Amundsen, who had planned to go north from Behring straits and remain in the Arctic for at least five years with a staunch, well equipped ship, which might be expected to survive, and directed for portions of the Arctic not hitherto explored. He hoped by this means and through drifting with the ice, to make known the extent of the large blank between Alaska and the pole, the borders of which were reached by Steffansson in 1915 and which the McMillan expedition searched for as the supposed Crocker Land."

Tom Moore, the poet, was the son of a Dublin grocer. Without any pushing on his part his genius and his unaffected manner made him a welcome guest everywhere. All London went mad over him. On one occasion at a banquet he had made some brilliant witticisms. A snob, thinking to humiliate him, leaned over the table to the poet and quite audibly said in a drawling tone:

"Pway, sir, wasn't your father a grossah?"

Moore smilingly replied that he was.

"Then, pway," continued the snob, "why didn't he make a grossah of you?"

Moore quite affably retorted, "Wasn't your father a gentleman?"

"Of course he was," was the rejoinder.

"Then why," queried Moore, "didn't he make a gentleman of you."

RECENT OPERATIONS ARE REVIEWED BY GEN. HAIG

LONDON, England—Field Marshal Haig has forwarded to the war office a dispatch covering operations from Dec. 18 to the present offensive. It affords a connected story and a valuable historical record, elucidating much that has hitherto been obscure, and revealing the strategic plans behind the apparently isolated attacks and raids which continued throughout the winter, and showing all as fitting into a comprehensive and systematic scheme in order to prepare a favorable situation for the spring advance. The report says:

"Owing to the Somme battle the enemy in the region of the Ancre valley has been forced into a pronounced salient between the Ancre and Scarpe valleys, therefore a further short advance would give us command of the Beaumont-Hamel spur. Accordingly, an attack was delivered against the defences overlooking the villages of Pys and Grandcourt on Nov. 18.

Won Valuable Positions

The object was to advance within assaulting distance of Le Transloy-Loupart line. Five thousand yards of valuable positions were acquired. The weathe then held up operations until January, when the whole spur was captured, and we advanced a thousand yards up the Beaucourt valley with exceedingly light casualties owing to skilful cooperation between the infantry and artillrey and fine aircraft work. Possession of the high ground opened up an extensive artillery field, and further successes on the third and fourth of February gave us an important section of the German second line north of the Ancre, making the evacuation of Grandcourt inevitable.

The Serre Salient

The next task was to drive the enemy from Beaucourt valley, which was begun on February 10. The capture of 1500 yards of trenches lying at the southern foot of Serre hill made the village of Serre a pronounced enemy salient, and further progress in the Ancre valley would make it untenable. Therefore, a larger operation was begun with the view of acquiring the northern extremity of the Morval-Thiepval ridge, which commanded the southern approaches to Pys and Miraumont and the observation of the upper Ancre valley. Simultaneously a smaller attack was designed to capture Miraumont.

Weather Favored Enemy

During the night of Feb. 17 the assaults were delivered. Despite the heavy ground, a thick mist, and an alert enemy, who barraged, the troops assaulted with great gallantry. We succeeded completely, and gained the desired observations, also command of the enemy artillery positions in the upper Ancre valley and defenses of Pys and Miraumont. Our subsequent bombardment, as anticipated, forced the evacuation of Pys on Feb. 24. On the following day positions from the north of Guedecourt to the west of Serre were captured.

The weather favored the enemy retirement. The thaw broke up the roads, the sides of trenches collapsed and the acquired ground became the worst quagmire. Contrarywise, the roads behind the enemy improved the further he withdrew, and a succession of misty days prevented rapid pursuit. Consequently it is greatly to the credit of all ranks that constant touch with the enemy was maintained.

Systematic Advance

Continuous and systematic advance drove the enemy out from successive positions until March 2, when we reached Le Transloy-Loupart line, except at Irles, which formed a salient. Seven days were then devoted to improving communications and bringing up guns, and on March 10 Irles was captured. Our casualties were less than the number of prisoners taken, who numbered 289. The way was thus opened for attacking Le Transloy-Loupart line, which was shelled so effectively on March 11-12 that the enemy fell back to parallel lines, and whereupon Loupart wood was occupied and methodical operations begun for attacking the next line.

The Hindenburg Line

Prior to this there were indications that the German withdrawal would be further extended. It had been ascertained that he had been preparing a new defensive system, known as the Hindenburg line, running from Arras southeastward to Queant, thence west of Cambrai towards St. Quentin. Various switches, branching off from this line, were also being constructed. The enemy's immediate concern appeared to be to escape from the salient between Arras and Le Transloy, which became increasingly difficult to hold. It was also evident, however, that the enemy contemplated eventually the evacuation of the greater salient between Arras and the Aisne valley.

Obstacles Encountered

The dispatch then deals in detail with the operations between April 14-19, in which the allies took possession of Chaulnes, Bapaume, Peronne and numerous villages from which the enemy retired. On April 19 the advance reached the stage at which the increasing difficulty of maintaining communications compelled slackening the pace of the pursuit. South of Peronne, the lack of bridges, which the enemy had destroyed, presented a formidable obstacle, while north of Peronne the wide belt of devastated ground over which the Somme battle had been fought offered even greater difficulties to the passage of guns and transport.

Had to Be Cautious

We were advancing therefore, continues the dispatch, over a country in which all means of communication had been destroyed, and against an enemy whose army was still intact and capable of launching a vigorous offensive should a favorable opportunity offer. Strong detachments of his infantry and cavalry occupied points of vantage along the line of our advance, keeping the enemy informed of our progress and screening his arm movements. His guns had already been withdrawn to previously prepared positions, available at any moment to cover and support counter strokes, while the conditions of the country across which we were moving made the progress of our artillery slow. But the enemy's forces were known to be holding a formidable defensive system, upon which he could fall back should his counter stroke miss its aim. On the other hand, as our troops moved forward, they left all prepared defenses farther behind. In such circumstances the necessity for caution was obvious.

Repair Work Quickly Done.

Meanwhile, despite the enormous difficulties which the condition of the ground and the ingenuity of the enemy placed in our way, the work of repairing and constructing bridges, roads and railways was carried on with the most commendable rapidity.

The despatch proceeds to describe how the enemy's resistance increased as the British neared the Hindenburg line, emphasizing the great costliness of his many counter attacks, particularly in attempts to recover Beaumetz-Las-Cambrai.

Winter Campaign

Speaking of the outstanding features of the five months' fighting from Nov. 18, Field Marshal Haig says: Despite the unusual severity of the weather, the winter campaign was conducted to a successful issue under the most trying and arduous conditions. The activity of our battlefront was maintained without a break from the conclusion of last year's offensive to the commencement of the present operations. The successful accomplishment of this part of our general plan had already enabled us to realize no inconsiderable instalment of the fruits of the Somme battle and has gone far to open the road to their full achievement. The courage and endurance of our troops have carried them triumphantly through periods of particularly trying fighting, in which they were subjected to the maximum of personal hardship and physical strain

Praise for Troops.

I cannot speak too highly of the quality of all ranks. The ability with which the troops in the Ancre were handled by Gen. Gough and further south by Gen. Rawlinson, was in all respects admirable. The retreat to which the enemy was driven by our continued success reintroduced conditions approximating open fighting, in which cavalry was given an opportunity to perform its special duties. Although deliberate, the enemy's withdrawal enabled him to choose new ground for resistance and to employ every device to inflict losses. Our casualties which were exceedingly moderate throughout all our operation in the Ancre, became exceptionally light during the period of retreat.

Tribute to Engineers

The prospect of a more general resumption of open fighting can be regarded with great confidence. The systematic destruction of roads, railways and bridges made unprecedented demands in the royal engineers, who were already heavily burdened by the work entailed in the preparations for the spring offensive. Our steady progress in the face of great difficulties is the best testimony to the energy and thoroughness with which those demands were met. The bridging of the Somme at Brie is an example of the nature of the obstacles which we encountered, and the rapidity of their removal. In this instance six gaps had to be bridged across the river, where it is of considerable width and where the current flows swiftly. The work was commenced on the morning of March 18 and by 10 p.m. the infantry bridges were completed; by 5 a.m. March 20, a medium type bridge for horse transport and cavalry was completed, and by 2 p.m. of the 28th, heavy bridges, capable of taking all forms of traffic had replaced the lighter type.

Transportation Problems

Throughout the winter the transport problems were most serious, both in the battle area and behind the lines, and on the rapid solution of these success necessarily largely depended. At the close of last year's campaign the steady growth of our armies and the rapid expansion of our material resources had already taxed the roads and railways to the utmost. The existing broad and narrow gauge railways were insufficient to deal with the increasing traffic, an undue proportion of which was thrown upon the roads. With winter conditions deteriorating

When You Market Consider Your Less Fortunate Neighbor.

"Every citizen who uses more in his household than his household actually needs is increasing the cost of living for those less fortunate, and he is hindering the prosecution of the war."

Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance.

THE well-to-do woman who sits at her phone and orders provisions lavishly, regardless of price, is abusing the power of money as a bully abuses brute strength!

No longer can we help ourselves as we see fit from an unlimited food supply—we are either limiting our buying to our own real needs or "hogging" someone else's share.

Extravagant buying by those who can afford it, with waste in some kitchens, and excess at some tables, will inevitably bring still greater hardships to those who cannot afford the prices, and hunger to those who must live on less.

Buy for your household as carerully and economically as your husband buys for his factory, store or office. Study food values as well as prices—make it a point to know just what you are getting—eliminate waste—and you'll find that you can feed your family well on far less than you spend now.

Invest the saving in Canadian War Savings Certificates and you will be doubling your service to the nation.

War Savings Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, to be repaid in three years at full face value. They cost $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively, at all Money Order Post Offices and Banks, thus yielding over 5% Interest.

TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1917.

TREAT BELGIUM AS BEING PART OF GERMANY.

While junker annexationists and moderate anti-annexationists in Germany dispute as to whether Belgium shall be annexed or not, the kaiser's government calmly proceeds on the theory that Belgium is already annexed. It is treated as belonging already to the German empire, but as being subject to special penalties because it has not properly appreciated the delights of German kultur and of being the country that Bethmann-Hollweg told the reichstag the German troops had to hack their way through as a necessity of war in August three years ago.

That Belgium is being treated as part of Germany is proved by the fact that some Belgian workmen have just been sentenced to jail terms on the charge of treason. Treason cannot be committed against a foreign country. But Belgium is being treated as if it were Germany.

Of course, Germany intends to hold it, if it can. Is not Belgium the pistol that is to be used to blow off the head of hated England in the second great war that is to follow the present struggle? The question as to whether Belgium is to be annexed will be settled not in Germany, but by the issue of the struggle between the entente and Teuton armies.

REPUBLICAN RUSSIA WINS ITS FIRST VICTORY

The initial offensive of revolutionary Russia's army was more successful than early reports indicated. To have captured 10,000 Germans is no small achievement for an army which has been, in a sense, dry-rotting through inaction, rent by internal disputes and weakened by lack of discipline. An army which has just ceased occupying itself with the business of arresting its officers and trying them on various charges, or engaging in arguments as to whether under a strict democracy officers have any place or not, is doing pretty well when it achieves such a success as that recorded in yesterday's despatches from Petrograd and virtually admitted in the Berlin communique.

But too much must not be hoped for from the Russian army in the immediate future. From now on there is little danger of any further fraternizing, but the Russian army cannot reach its full fighting effectiveness until the country behind it has been reorganized and order fully restored. When that has been accomplished the Russian army will be stronger than at any time since the war began. It will no longer be hampered by the intrigues of pro-German czarism and a pro-German bureaucracy.

A FEAR OF CONSCRIPTION THAT IS UNFOUNDED.

A Regina man, passing through Nelson on his way to the coast, says the farmers in the prairies fear that conscription will deplete the supply of men necessary for agricultural production.

That is exactly what conscription will not do. It is just what the voluntary system of enlistment has been doing from the commencement of the war.

Men engaged in the essential industries—farming, mining, smelting, transportation, and so on—have enlisted in great numbers. Directly the selective draft system is made effective no men actually engaged in the necessary industries will be taken. The effect of selective draft will certainly not lessen the number of men engaged in the essential industries.

MORE THAN MATERIAL SAFETY AT STAKE.

To offer as an argument against conscription the statement that Canada is in no danger of actual physical invasion is to assume that Canadians are dying in this war for material reasons, which is not true. Neither is it true that Canada is in no danger of invasion. It will not be free of the danger of invasion until Germany has been defeated, but there is something else that is impelling the men of Canada to give their blood for the great cause and which is impelling the women and children of Canada to bear the sacrifices which they are bearing with such nobility of spirit and such splendid patriotism.

The material stake at issue in this struggle is great enough, but there is a moral stake. Canada is fighting for the maintenance of the hardwon liberties of mankind. Canadians are dying that freedom may live, that the small nations and the large nations may be preserved from the destruction by a military despotism of all that they hold most dear. They are dying that their children and grandchildren may not be exposed to the danger of being murdered or suffering worse than death in another great struggle by Prussianism for world power. They are dying to save the laboriously constructed edifice of civilization that the arch enemy of humanity is determined to destroy and to replace by the bloody idol of militaristic ruthlessness.

And Canada will see that those who have fallen shall not have died in vain. It will not desert the men who are now in the trenches.

The Russian bear has again begun to walk like a man.

King Alfonso of Spain seems destined for quiet retirement beside his former neighbor, Manuel of Portugal.

War Minister Kerensky has his own methods of persuading the Russian troops to inaugurate an offensive. It is hoped that he will not ride into the firing line very often. He is too valuable a man to lose.

The Chinese are reversing the Russian and Spanish order of things. They are endeavoring to reestablish an absolute monarchy. If they succeed they will find that the Manchu divine-right dynasty cannot survive. It is too far behind the times.

OTTAWA GIVES RULING ON STRAWBERRY BOX

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir.—Regarding fruit boxes and a letter from James Black of Trail in your issue of June 26. We took up the matter of the deep or full pint hallock with the fruit commissioner at Ottawa and I enclose copy of his letas same may be of interest to both fruit growers and consumers.

B. W. HOLIDAY SMITH,
Secretary-treasurer Boswell Fruitgrowers.

June 28.

Fruit Commissoner's Office,
Ottawa, May 5, '17.

Dear Sir—Your letter of April 30 to hand. I note you will be using a full pint box for berries this year. Some two years ago I gave a ruling that the pint box was to be considered within the meaning of the Fruit Marks act and it is therefore unnecessary to have these marked "Short," the interpretation being that a pint box is slightly larger than the legal twofifths standard rather than below the four-fifths.

FRED H. GRINDLEY,
For Commissioner.

There Are Jay Drivers, Too.

A jay walker, we are informed, is a reckless bird who disobeys all rules of order and right procession and steers himself out on the street when the impulse seizes him, and without looking behind perambulates across the busy thoroughfare. Many of the jay walkers are cut down in their youth, but the motor car gets a few of them after they get up in years. The motor men suggest that jay walking be made an offense against the bylaw. But no rules will be of very great value to a jay walker.—Calgary Albertan.

Not Exactly Enthusiastic.

HIS SAVINGS WERE SAFE.

In a small Ontario town one day recently a farmer walked into the branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and demanded the balance of his savings account—a few thousand dollars. The reason? He had read in the newspapers of "Conscription of Wealth." This is just an instance of how the public mind may be inflamed in an unsettled time like the present by reckless newspaper talk. Also it is a sample of the reckless methods by which many editors seek to cater to popular public opinion. The idea of confiscating wealth will always be popular with the non-thinking masses, especially so long as popularity-seeking newspapers continue to encourage the idea rather than to educate the people to a common sense view of the relations of capital and labor.

If individuals buried their treasure in their cellars there would be an excuse for such an agitation as that which is being aroused. But they do not. Every dollar is either invested or deposited in a bank and is therefore financing production or commercial business. In fact all monies invested within the nation are employed in the service of the nation and in the last analysis are in control of the nation. It is for the nation to organize financial and national resources to best perform the required service. But it must be remembered that Canada is a young country. She has illimitable natural resources, but has only since the war been producing sufficient to pay her way. The more capital she takes for the war the less she will have to finance production. The policy of deferring war debts is sound business if in the conservation of capital such capital can be made to produce more than the interest on borrowings.

It is for the government to consider our national war debt and what should be raised against it annually and then distribute the burden in the manner it can best be borne without hindering productive development. — Financial Post.

A KNIFE IN THE BACK

Some western newspapers that have been floundering about in the attempt to keep in the good graces of the conscriptionists and yet to do what lies in their power to defeat the conscription bill are trying to make it appear that Quebec will be let off too easily under it, as compared with the other provinces. The answer to this is simply that under the bill every province will be treated on the same principle. The various classes will be called up in their order and exemptions will be granted according to the same rules everywhere throughout the Dominion. The number drafted from each province will be determined from the conditions of industry in each and by the proportions of young married to young unmarried men among those still available for military service.—Edmonton Journal.

A PETITION

The London Times publishes the following poem from Lieut. R. E. Vermede, who was killed in action a few weeks ago:

All that a man might ask, thou hast given me, England,
Birthright and happy childhood's long hearts-ease.
And love whose range is deep beyond all sounding
And wilder than all seas;
A heart to front the world and find God in it,
Eyes blind enow, but not too blind to see
The lovely things behind the dross and darkness,
And lovelier things to be;
And friends whose loyalty time nor death shall weaken,
And quenchless hope, and laughter's golden store—
All that a man might ask, thou hast given me, England,
Yet grant thou one thing more:
That now, when envious foes would spoil thy splendor,
Unversed in arms, a dreamer such as I,
May in thy ranks be deemed not all unworthy,
England, for thee to die.

LIBERAL NEWSPAPERS

The Brantford Expositor says: "The fact that there is not a Liberal newspaper in Ontario or any note which is not supporting conscription is not likely to reduce the government majority on the second reading of the bill. It is also a hint to some of the Liberal M. P.'s from this province that they have been giving the party a false lead in this matter." In fact the two parties in Ontario are as nearly as possible of the same mind on the subject of conscription as two political parties could be. The same is true, though perhaps in less degree, in the west. The only organized opposition to the measure is to be found in the maritime provinces and Quebec and even in the maritime provinces most of the opposition seems to spring from ingrained party habit. Some of the strongest Liberals from the seaboard are warm supporters of conscription. The lead given to the nation has been responded to, and if the motion had originated in a people's movement. Liberal newspapers in Ontario and the west deserve praise for casting off party ties in this connection.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

SHOULD LEAVEN THE NATIONAL LIFE.

Three soldiers walked together along Portage avenue the other afternoon. Each had but one arm; the other was left "somewhere in France." The scene brought up to those who looked with something in their hearts more than curiosity the greatness of the sacrifice the men are making in Europe. They go through life maimed and incapacitated in the daily task because they believed an ideal was worth the fighting for.

The soldiers' daily heroism should drive out of the lives of each of us all things that are mean, petty, carping, censorious.—Winnipeg Free Press.

WILL ROWELL ENTER CABINET?

Whatever the machine may succeed in doing for official Liberalism in the Dominion, the split between the Liberal party and the Liberals of Toronto and Ontario is widening every day. The Ottawa plan of uniting all elements, irrespective of their war attitude, on a common platform, is directly opposed to the spirit which brought so many thousands to the Massey hall meeting to declare for conscription and victory.

The temper of that audience was grave and stern. Partisan politics and measures of political expediency were bitterly denounced. The unquestioned spirit of the meeting was to support the men at the front immediately and to sacrifice mere party considerations to national unity and "win the war." It is now becoming evident that no such spirit animates the official Liberal party at Ottawa. Thoughtful Liberals here are suspicious of the desperate straining to conciliate all elements. They recognize that there can be no true affiliation between the rioters of Quebec and conscriptionists of Ontario. They know that no sincere platform can accommodate both sections. They know that in pronouncing against conscription Sir Wilfred Laurier has given authority to the activities of every lukewarm and disloyal element in the Dominion. They know that the men at the front must have support, and have it soon. Because of these facts they look with regret and suspicion upon the obvious political manoeuvring that is going on among the official Liberal leaders at Ottawa.

A percentage of Liberals all over the province will refuse to follow Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The number is increasing every day and with the official jockeying at Ottawa among the other leaders of the party, the break with Sir Wilfred is extending to a break with the whole organization. The machine is being repudiated in the cities and throughout the constituencies. The rank and file in Ontario wants union government. In Toronto there is earnest hope that coalition will still be possible, that N. W. Rowell will enter the cabinet as the leader of Ontario and the patriotic Liberals of the Dominion, and that the English-speaking Liberals of the house of commons will not refuse the generous and patriotic appeal of the prime minister. If they do refuse it—if as a consequence Mr. Rowell also declines to enter a union cabinet—the party in this province will be split from top to bottom.

The anger among Liberals in Ontario against temporizing with antiwar elements while the men at the front are sacrificing their lives for the Dominion, is increasing every day. Pressure is being brought to bear on Mr. Rowell to declare outright against such indifference to the critical war situation. It is believed that he will pronounce unequivocally for conscription and against the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier he will carry the party in Ontario solidly behind him and win such support from the west that he will eventually assume the leadership of the federal party and win for it the national respect and goodwill that it is losing every day from the actions of present leaders at Ottawa.—Toronto News.

BERLIN REJOICES.

A great day in Berlin! A day of fervent rejoicing in palace and in hovel that did much to dispel the gloom of the unfortunates who had been unable to get anything to eat with their food tickets!

Attended by his gorgeously uniformed staff the kaiser went in state to his favorite place of worship to give devout thanks to his divine junior partner and to hear Herr Pastor Stumpf preach a sermon on patriotism from a text taken from the gospel of Nietzche. He spoke of the German peasant and the privilege he enjoyed of giving his life for his emperor. Not since Herr Pastor Baempf delivered his memorable discourse on the good fortune enjoyed by the Belgian women who became "lady companions" of highly placed German officers has such eloquence issued from a Berlin pulpit.

It was meet and fitting that the pious Huns should give thanks to their kaiser's partner for the glorious triumph of their arms. No wonder their hearts were filled with a solemn and holy joy. Never before since the beginning of the war had 26 little children ben massacred and 94 wounded in a single airplane bombardment of London.—New York Herald.

'WARE THE HIDDEN HAND.

It is unfashionable to suggest that German agents are to be found in Canada. The wise and the scribes are frankly contemptuous of one who wonders if any of the kaiser's money is in circulation here. Incredulity has marked the attitude of the majority of Canadians since the war began. The minority, which includes Sir Percy Sherwood, and a number of police officials in every city, knows better.

Of the activities of German spies in the United States during its time of neutrality, we have heard in full measure. Amsterdam today is a nest of spies. France has been so troubled that only the native-born can get work of any kind. Everywhere else in the world Germany has been served, and is being served today by men and women in all ranks of life. Some of them are Germans. Some are money lovers of other nationality, but they are all laboring to paralyze the arms of the kaiser's enemies.

Why should Canada be ignored by the central powers? If no spies and no German money are to be found here it is the most astonishing fact of the war. Let us understand that while many of the government's opponents are incorruptible and entirely conscientious, many are also likely to believe stories and rumors set on foot by less immaculate people. It must be understood that the chief object of any German agents in Canada today is to turn our attention away from the war and its requirements and to lead us into internecine quarrels. The man who pours oil on the fires of domestic discord is either a conscious or unconscious German agent. Let him make sure, if he be honest, that he is not being used as a willing tool by the Hohenzollern dynasty and the hegemony of barbarism.—Toronto News.

TOO MUCH LOVE FOR LAURIER, TOO LITTLE LOVE FOR CONSCRIPTION.

Is not Hon. G. P. Graham a rather pitiful spectacle in Mr. Graham's con*tention that parliament should give* Sir Robert Borden a majority to put conscription on the statute book; also that the country should give Sir Wilfrid Laurier a majority to take conscription off the statute book?

If Hon. G. P. Graham is a friend to conscription Mr. Graham must be a foe to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Is Hon. G. P. Graham seeking to recruit voters for the Laurier party or striving to recruit soldiers for the Canadian amy?—Toronto Telegram.

THE DOUBLED TAX ON FARMS.

The following open letter to Premier Brewster and which deals with the 100 per cent increase in taxation that has been inflicted on farmers, while the increase on wild land is 25 per cent, appears in the Victoria Colonist of June 27:

Sir,—To the Hon. H. C. Bwrester, Premier, Victoria, B. C.:

Respected Sir—A few days ago, when at the assessor's office paying my taxes for the present year, I was informed that the government had authorized the imposition of a surtax due and payable on July 31, and equal in extent to the amount of the land tax for the current year.

Now, sir, if you will be good enough to indulge me, I should like to give you a few private details in regard to my income and the effect the taxes have on same.

I am (and have been for the past nine years) engaged in the noble profession of chicken farming, and appeared after six years of strenuous endeavor, in a fair way of making a success of it'and, I may mention incidentally, realize a lifetime ambition, but, unfortunately, the world war broke out, which had the effect of placing a very detrimental and serious handicap on my business, and after striking a balance sheet for the year 1914-15 it showed that I had been able with the help of God to make a net profit on my operations for the year of $359 which, less taxes amounting to $119, left me with $241 on which to support myself and wife, and the labor involved in achieving this handsome recompense including the pulling of my ox out of the ditch every Sunday.

I had, however, a little better success I am glad to relate, during 1915-16, when, on account of a much improved market for my produce, and a relaxed tension of the price of feed, I was able to show a net profit of $802; but in regard to the present year I have not had the courage, so far, to look the situation straight in the face; I will say, however, for your information, that I shall consider myself lucky if I am able to break even, due to feed prices being approximately 90 per cent over those of last year.

Now, sir, you will readily see that this increase in taxation hits me below the belt and is in effect a knockout, inasmuch as the total will amount to $200, or equal to one-quarter of my entire income for last year.

What would have been my position if, instead of putting my little cash into land, I had invested it in 7 per cent dividend bearing stocks and shares? I should have derived an income from same of something like $950 and this amount being below the minimum subject to income tax would have placed me on the footing of a man liable to the government under the new arrangement for a $5 head tax and a $2 road tax, total of $7; and I now ask you with all deference why should I be held up to the extent of $200 just because I am endeavoring to farm, when if I lay back and loafed I would only have to dig up $7?

Now, sir, I do not wish to write unkindly in the matter, but it just amounts to this: if I am expected to contribute 25 per cent of my hard earned income in order to help pay some of your $5000 a year men, while the other fellow gets off scot free, I shall at the first opportunity seek a country where the administration expenses are a little more moderate, and where those in authority have the ability to arrange a more equitable adjustment of the burdens placed on the shoulders of its citizens.

ROBERT WATERHOUSE.

NELSON TIGERS WIN HOLIDAY BALL GAME

Defeat Trail Midgets by 14-11 Score—J. Scanlan Effective in Box and With Stick

Due in no small measure to the pitching of C. Scanlan the Nelson Tigers won the odd game of a series of three from the Trail Midgets at Trail yesterday, winning by a score of 14-11. Scanlan pitched nine innings, holding Trail hitless in three of them. He was also more effective with the stick than any player on the field, swatting the leather for five safeties in as many times at bat and scoring three runs. The teams hit heavily. The pitchers were given poor support, many errors being chalked up against both nines.

The game was anybody's right up to the last innings. At the end of the sixth the Midgets lead by 7-5. Trail used three twirlers. G. Dunkerly started and was relieved in the sixth by J. Larson. H. Hardington went into the box in the ninth in Larson's place.

Nelson's good start was largely responsible for the locals winning, the team scoring five runs in the first innings. The teams:

Trail Midgets—Catcher, C. McAtee; pitcher, G. Dunkerly; 1b., H. Hardington; 2b., J. Larson; s.s., J. Sparrow; 3b., B .Hamilton; c.f., C. Morgan; l.f., W. Howard; spare, Fred Bell.

Nelson Tigers—Catcher, R. Gallagher; pitcher, C. Scanlan; 1b., C. Cryderman; 2b., L. Choquette; s.s., J. Curran; 3b., F. Ingram; r.f., D. Hinton; c.f., R. Smith; l.f., M. Walley; spares, D. Douglas, R. Richardson.

In the other games of the season Nelson lost at Trail 7-4 and won here 9-6.

TECUMSEHS PASS UP GAME WITH CORNWALL

CORNWALL, Ont., July 2.—The Tecumsehs of Toronto failed to fulfil their schedule N.L.U. engagement with the local team here today. A telegram was received this morning advising the Cornwall club that at the time of entraining at Toronto last night only seven players had turned up and that the game would have to go by default. This was surprising news for the local fans.

Secretary Says He's Through.

TORONTO, July 2.—In a letter to the Toronto press, Charley Querrie, secretary of the Tecumseh lacrosse club, explains that the Tecumsehs defaulted the game to Cornwall because only six men had attended practise regularly and were ready to go to Cornwall. He concludes:

"It will be many years before the players ever again will have a chance to figure in big league lacrosse. I am absolutely through."

ARROW PARK CITIZENS WANT ROAD REPAIRED

Petition Sent to Minister of Works—A. Bourne Gets Leg Injured When Lopping Trees.

(Special to The Daily News.)

ARROW PARK, July 2.—The urgent necessity of immediate action to repair the main road was discussed at a citizens' meeting held here. The Edgewood Lumber company, which has a camp in the Park, has a great deal of heavy hauling to do and finds great difficulty in getting along the road, as do the settlers. A petition, signed by the taxpayers, was forwarded to the provincial minister of public works.

While engaged in logging Alfred Bourne got a leg badly injured. He was busy on a pile of logs when he heard the cry of "Timber!" and when he was hurrying to get clear, some heavy logs rolled on him. The fallen tree splintered to pieces where he had been standing a second before.

Mrs. and Miss Bennet of Nakusp were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie last week.

PRETTY WEDDING AT ROSSLAND

Miss Velma Smith Married to J. Irving Trembath—Many Guests at Ceremony.

(Special to The Daily News.)

ROSSLAND, B.C., July 2.—A very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents today when Velma Roberta Smith, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude B. Smith, was united in marriage to J. Irving Trembath, Rev. Mr. Chester officiating. The house was beautifully decorated with greenery, snowballs and bridal wreath. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the drawing room to the strains of the Wedding March, which was played by Miss Edith Peters, who wore a pretty white frock, trimmed with ribbon, and passed through an aisle formed of white ribbons held by four little girls. These little girls were Josephine Deschamps, Pauline McDonald, Helen McDonald and Catharine Urquart, and were dressed in white, with pink hair ribbons. The bride looked charming in a gown of ivory Duchess satin, with a Grecian tunic of Georgetta crepe and Irish point lace trimmings. With this she wore a veil of white tulle and a wreath of lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, maidenhair fern, and white sweet peas. She was attended by two bridesmaids, maid of honor and flower girl. The maid of honor, Miss Gertrude Annable of Nelson, wore a dainty dress of pink taffeta silk with gold lace trimmings and touches of blue. With this she wore a large white picture hat. The bridesmaids, Miss Hazel Trembath and Miss Martha Smith, were dressed alike in frocks of white Brussels net with bands of pink ribbon and castle caps. Their bouquets were of pink sweet peas. The little flower girl, Miss Marjory Trembath, also was dressed in Brussels net with touches of pink, and carried a basket of pink sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The wedding ring was concealed in the blossoms. The groom was supported by W. Evans. The ceremony was performed under an arch made of greenery and white snow balls, with a large bell hanging from the center. After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to about 50 guests from a table decorated prettily, having for its centre a three tier wedding cake which was cut by the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Trembath left on the evening train for Nelson and Spokane. The bride's going away dress was of French blue taffeta, with a waist of Georgetta crepe. Her hat was old rose, with French blue trimmings. The young couple received many valuable and useful gifts.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 2—Nationals showed real class in the N. L. U. game at Lansdowne park this afternoon when they defeated the Ottawas by a score of 16 to 7. In the first quarter Ottawas caught the Nationals off their guard, playing them to a standstill. Ottawas ran in four goals before the Frenchmen came to life. In the second, however, the Nationals cut loose with a brilliant display of lacrosse and ran in goal after goal, leading at the half by 8 to 2. Play continued lighting fast at all stages thereafter, and the Nationals played whirlwind lacrosse. Lalonde, Pitre and Lamoureaux were the shining lights.

TADANAC C. P. R. NAME FOR THE TRAIL SMELTER

With the placing in effect of the Canadian Pacific summer time table the station Trail smelter is changed into Tadanac—Canada spelled backward with the T prefixed. In the past Trail and Trail smelter stations have been the source of annoyance. They were constantly confused in many way bills and in other ways.

Tadanac is the trade mark of the Consolidated company, which appears on metal bars and ingots.

If Food Disagrees Drink Hot Water

When food lies like lead in the stomach and you have that uncomfortable, distended feeling, it is because of insufficient blood supply to the stomach, combined with acid and food fermentation. In such cases try the plan now followed in many hospitals and advised by many eminent physicians of taking a teaspoonful of pure bisurated magnesia in half a glass of water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water draws the blood to the stomach and the bisurated magnesia, as any physician can tell you, instantly neutralizes the acid and stops the food fermentation. Try this simple plan and you will be astonished at the immediate feeling of relief and comfort that always follows the restoration of the normal process of digestion. People who find it inconvenient at times to secure hot water and travelers, who are frequently obliged to take hasty meals poorly prepared, should always take two or three five-grain tablets of Bisurated Magnesia after meals to prevent fermentation and neutralize the acid in their stomach.

The Hudson's Bay Company
HERBERT E. BURBIDGE STORES COMMISSIONER

THE BAY'S SALES are known as the genuine article. The prices stated are accurate. If there is only 50c or a dollar reduction we tell you so. Or if there is five or ten dollars it is plainly marked for you to see.

We intend to "DRIVE OUT" this week all summer goods, including Millinery, Frocks, Dresses and Waists.

Watch The Daily News tomorrow morning for "Out-of-Town Specials" but better still come to Nelson and see the goods. We know the values will please you. We never knowingly misrepresent an article and any damaged goods are clearly pointed out.

The sale that starts this morning is different in many ways to others that have gone before. We hold piles of goods at less money than they can be replaced today. And when you consider that these old prices will be reduced you will easily see that the advantage is yours.

Our advice is: Buy today--NOW.

THOMPSON OR KEEN MAY ENTER CABINET

Move Is On at Capital to Get Rid of Brewster and Put in Weart as Premier.

VICTORIA, July 2.—Rumors that Hon. William Sloan and Hon. J. H. King will soon leave the Brewster cabinet are coupled with statements that John Keen, M. P. P. for Kaslo, may get the portfolio of mines and that Premier Brewster may go to England as agent-general, and be succeeded here by J. W. Weart of South Vancouver, who recently resigned the speakership. J. E. W. Thompson of Grand Forks is also mentioned for a cabinet position, but there are several coast men who will put hard fights for any vacancies that may occur. They consider that the allocation of cabinet positions by Premier Brewster has definitely established the interior representation at two members, instead of the four given it under the Bowser administration, and that the coast and island districts should get all the rest.

It is said that Mr. Sloan has his eye on the agent-generalship if he resigns and he would probably get a lot of support for the position, as he is regarded as a "good mixer." Those who support Mr. Brewster for the position, if it should become necessary for him to resign the premiership, declare that Mr. Sloan has not sufficient business ability to handle the work to the advantage of the province. Mr. Sloan's supporters retort in somewhat similar terms.

The Victoria byelection, in which the final count shows that Hon. John Hart, minister of finance, only beat Dr. Hall by 144 votes, has been the cause of much of the revival of talk of changes in the cabinet as it is a bad blow to the government, but the possibility of further investigations into campaign funds being forced by the Vancouver Independent Liberal element is another factor.

There are many rumors of a "round robin" to ask Premier Brewster to resign. Those who favor Weart for premier have picked out Jerry McGeer of Richmond for attorney-general and claim that they have a strength of 19 members on the government side of the house.

The Victoria byelection was morally a defeat, as a great many Conservatives stood aside and did not vote, the big vote polled by Dr. Hall coming in a large measure from dissatisfied Liberals.

To Pass Prohibition.

Prohibition is an element of uncertainty insofar as the probable action to be taken by the government is concerned. It is stated, however, that part of the cabinet has decided to jam through a bill at the August session. This expectation is based largely on the fact that at the byelection promises were made to the prohibitionists in Victoria in order to get their support for Mr. Hart.

Finances are giving the government some trouble. It is reported that the best offer the government has been able to secure is $1,000,000 loan at 6½ per cent interest with $125,000 more discount than the late government had to pay. Last session's lesislation has had the effect, bankers say, of frightening capital and making it hard to induce the financial interests to loan money to the province at the old rates, although money generally is cheaper since the United States decided to pay only 3½ per cent on its big war loan.

EASTERN CANADA CONDITIONS GOOD

Industry Flourishing, Says Judge Forin—Selective Service Will Save People

Judge Forin, who has just returned from a trip to Montreal and Toronto, which included a week at Belleville, his native city, where he sat as alderman before coming west, says that the cities and country in Ontario and western Quebec are in a most flourishing condition. The manufacturing industries and the crops are flourishing.

The judge said: "Times are so good that the east is enjoying unprecedented prosperity, but the fly in the ointment is a danger that as wealth increases men decay, the comforts and luxuries which easy money provides are not always an unmixed blessing. I am not prepared to be uncharitable or hypercritical but the fact remains that there are thousands of young men who must be evading the call to serve, avoiding the glory of military service for meaner duties. Whether the spirit of sacrifice has decayed in this abounding prosperity is not for me to judge but certainly the time has come to change the question of 'will you come' to 'you shall go.'

Time to Save the People

"This is not a time to consult the people, it is a time to save them. Our men at the front are calling for help and we must send it. I am not unprejudiced in my attitude to extending the terms of the Militia act to the present critical conditions. I have from the outbreak of the war advocated in public and private the justice and necessity of selected service as provided in our Militia act, sections 10 to 15, which divides those liable to serve into four classes.

"We have conscription everywhere, in our system of taxation, federal, provincial and municipal, in our criminal laws, in education and in every page of our statutes, and now when our national life is at stake we hold academic discussions about our constitution. I cannot enter into any controversial questions. I know good men differ on this question, but I think an equal responsibility rests on men in Canada, whether taken individually, by families or by provinces, and let me say I am prouder of the spirit of the west, our splendid west, which certainly is not unduly blessed with wealth, but has sent great numbers to fight for the Empire and something even greater than the Empire."

WARM JUNE RAINS HELP GRAIN CROPS

Outlook for Another Heavy Yield in Saskatchewan Is Excellent Says C. M. Learmonth.

While the cold spring held the Saskatchewan crops back copious rains in June brought them along splendidly and they are now in the shot blade and looking extremely well, stated C. M. Learmonth, B.S.A., of the extension department staff of the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, at the Hume last night.

"All that is needed now to round out a bumper crop is more rain, followed by warm weather for ripening the grain," he stated.

Mr. Learmonth stated that the acreage sown in grain is about the same this year as it was last. There is some decrease in wheat owing to the shortage of labor last fall, the high price of seed wheat and to some extent to the tendency of farmers to go into mixed farming. He said that there is an increase in oats and barley and the coarser grains generally.

"Following the harvesting of two good crops the farmers in Saskatchewan are optimistic regarding the outlook for this year's crops," said Mr. Learmonth.

He said that his department was doing its utmost to encourage agriculturists to go into mixed farming and said that the province was being gradually transformed from a cattle and wheat country into a flourishing mixed farming area.

GETS TWO MONTHS FOR GIVING INDIANS LIQUOR

Sentenced to two months in jail for having supplied liquor to Indians, William Elgie was brought to the provincial jail at Nelson last night by Provincial Constable W. C. Forrester of Creston. Elgie, who served a month in the Nelson jail about six months ago for vagrancy, was convicted at Creston before Justices of the Peace Watson and Craigie. Provincial Constable Forrester will return to Creston this morning.

NELSON GETS FIRST BLUE GOOSE CONGRESS

Fire Insurance Men Assemble Here at Initial Western Convention—Local Club's Guests.

The first western convention of the ancient and honorable order of the Blue Goose, an organization of fire insurance managers and field men, was held yesterday at the Hume. Twenty-three delegates attended from Montreal, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver, Seattle and Spokane.

The objective of the convention, stated Harry Thomas, Calgary, one of the officers, was to bring in closer touch the members from the United States with those in Canada, particularly with reference to the western part of the continent. He said that the convention was probably the forerunner of many other annual events of the kind. Business bearing on the development of the fire underwriting field was transacted at yesterday's session. The delegates held a dinner at the Hume at 6:30.

The majority of the visitors reached Nelson Saturday and Sunday. They were the guests of the Kootenay launch club in trips on the lake and were entertained also at the Nelson club.

The delegates were much impressed with Nelson, Mr. Thomas stated and were gratified by the hearty welcome extended them by local fire insurance agents.

The next convention will be held at some point in the western United States.

The principal officials of the convention were Frank E. Partridge, Spokane; Henry Hall, Spokane; Harry Thomas, Calgary; F. T. Byers, Winnipeg and A. W. Ross, Vancouver.

PUNCHBOARD THING OF PAST IN NELSON

Dispensed with by Local Merchants on Instructions from the City Police.

Acting on instructions received from the city police merchants, cigar store proprietors and hoteimen have had removed from their premises 30 punch boards used in connection with the punching for merchandise and special prizes. The boards have been in use here for about two years.

Some of the merchants gave their own merchandise to lucky 'punchers.' In other business places premiums were donated by Vancouver and Calgary firms and special premiums of coins, watches, razors and other articles were given, a third of the proceeds of the boards being retained by the local business men who had installed the boards and two thirds going to the premium men.

The last big prize to be won through the punch board fell to W. C. E. Koch on Saturday when he secured an automobile, J. Barraclough doing the punching. Mr. Koch disposed of the car for $275. It cost him 50 cents.

Started Yesterday Morning—Repairs Made to Substation Following Lightning Damage

The municipal street car service was resumed yesterday morning at 6:30 and is running normally again. The city had been without cars since about nine days ago, when the power system at the municipal plant was put out of commission by lightning. A large number of coils were burned out. These have all been replaced, H. P. Thomas, city electrician, stated yesterday.

PASTOR SAYS HE CANNOT RECONSIDER RESIGNATION

Strong representations urging him to reconsider his decision to resign the pastorate of St. Paul's Presbyterian church were made to Rev. C. M. Wright. Mr. Wright stated, however, that he had felt advised that the step he had decided upon was one that he felt compelled to take, and said that he regretted that he could not see his way clear to reconsider the matter.

Members of the congregation say that Mr. Wright's pastorate during the 15 months he has occupied the pulpit at St. Paul's has been most acceptable and effective.

SASKATCHEWAN FARMERS SAID TO FEAR CONSCRIPTION

That the farmers of Saskatchewan fear conscription because they think it will bring about a farm labor shortage was the opinion expressed last night at the Strathcona by James McFarlane of Regina, who is here on his way to the coast.

"Most of the agriculturists of Saskatchewan are opposed to the proposed selective draft measure," stated Mr. McFarlane. "They did not have enough men to do seeding on as large a scale as they wished to last fall and see even a greater shortage if conscription is enacted."

LLOYD GEORGE PRAISES FORESTERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

DUNDEE, July 2.(—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Prior to leaving this city Sunday morning, Premier Lloyd George specially visited the timber-cutting operations which are now of such great importance to the nation.

Mr. Lloyd George inspected the Canadian forestry company, 250 strong. In a short speech he said:

"It gives me great pleasure to have the chance of meeting this company of our gallant kinsmen from the great Dominion of Canada. I have seen something of the work which is being done and can assure you you are doing a work of greatest national importance. You bring us from Canada a skill in this work which we here had almost lost. We in the past have paid too little attention to reafforestration. You come and teach us one part of the work, namely, the cutting down of timber. We very often left the bringing down of trees to the action of winds and storm.

"I remember when Sir Robert Borden was at the first imperial conference, he told us how he could help. I will tell you what it means. We are going to save 6,000,000 tons of exports in timber, ore and food by utilizing our resources. That is a factor of first importance in countering the efforts of the submarines. That is where you can specially help.

"You all know this is the great anniversary day in the history of Canada, one of the brilliant members of the British Empire. Canada is a bulwark of freedom. Her sons have fought with magnificent courage in this great war. Their deeds of valor at Vimy ridge and on many another battlefield are now a matter of history. They have shown Canada's might and the British Empire's strength. When the old country was assailed in its defense of freedom, the great dominions were the first to make common cause with the old country. Together they have shown there is more in the might and muster of the British Empire than ever our enemies reckoned."
