U. S. ALLY OF FRANCE, WILSON PROMISES

ALTHOUGH PEACE IS DEATH FOR GERMANY, TERMS TO BE DISCUSSED: SCHEIDEMANN

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

LONDON, May 9.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Berlin says that after a five-hour session of the German capinet, Thursday, Philip Scheidemann, the chancellor, delivered a speech to the committee appointed to consider the treaty. After comparing the most important conditions laid down by the allies in connection with President Wilson's 14 points, Scheidemann is reported to have said:

"These conditions are nothing else than death for Germany, but the government must discuss this document of hatred and madness with sobriety."

The chancellor intimated that the German delegation at Versailles had been instructed to hand a note to the allies, showing the difference between the treaty terms and President Wilson's 14 points, and submit counter-proposals and endeavor to start an oral discussion. He expressed the hope that the peace conditions would be considered with good will by both parties, and that a satisfactory settlement would be reached.

Trading in Streets.

BERLIN, May 8.—Members of the bourse reached the exchange today without knowing that the exchange committee had resolved to cease trading for three days as a result of the excitement due to the delivery of the peace terms to the German delegates at Versailles. The members at first expressed indignation over the terms and then began trading in the streets. The war loan securities sold away below previous figures and trading in local loans was feeble. German shipping securities were down in price, while foreign shares, notably Canadian Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio and the English pound notes rose noticeably.

The financial writers commented exhaustively on economic problems, which, they say, will be rendered impossible by the peace terms, which will mean the destruction of Fermany.

BERLIN, May 8.—Reports from the Versailles correspondents comment on the feeling of amazement and excitement which prevailed on reading of the terms of the peace treaty, all the correspondents agree in that no hasty decision will be reached.

A fortnight is allowed the German for the return of an answer, and this time will be used for careful consideration of the demands and preparation of counter-suggestions, the correspondents say.

There is much speculation in Berlin as to whether the terms represent maximum demands, which may be reduced, or whether they are minimum and irreducible.

According to the Berlin Zeitung Am Mittag, the delegation at Versailles will carefully avoid any bargaining, but will present definite, clean-cut counter-propositions, which have already been prepared.

"These counter-propositions," the newspapers declare editorially, "will be based on the 14 points so disgracefully abandoned by President Wilson. If the German people had a vote on these terms as a whole there would not be in the whole empire a single 'Yes.' 'Force without measure or limit'—used to be a Wilson phrase; and the Wilson peace offered us yesterday falls in this category, instead of on his 14 points."

Message to Free States

BERLIN (via Copenhagen), May 9.—The president of the imperial ministry has sent the following telegram to the governments of the free states.

"In deep distress and weighed down by cares, the German people have waited through the months of the armistice for the peace conditions. Their publication has brought the bitterest disappointment and unspeakable grief to the entire people. A public expression ought to be given these feelings by all Germans.

"The imperial government requests that the free states having public amusements, suspend them for a week and allow in the theatres only such productions as correspond to the seriousness of these grievous days."

DR. ROBERTSON TO DIRECT FOOD SUPPLIES

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

OTTAWA, May 9.—(Associated Press)—The appointment of Dr. W. J. Robertson as Canadian director of food supplies, a position which has been created at the request of the supreme economic council of the allied governments, was announced tonight by T. A. Crerar, minister of agriculture.

Dr. Robertson's duties will relate only to the sale of Canadian agricultural products in Europe.

SAYS LIVING COSTS TOO HIGH

No Chance for Workers to Get Even, Say Witnesses to Commission in Moose Jaw.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

MOOSE JAW, Sask., May 9.—The industrial unrest in the west was placed at the door of the federal government by several witnesses at the afternoon session of the Mathers' commission here today. Inactivity was charged and also failure to fulfil promises made to the people at the last election and since. There was also complaint that the cost of living had always led wages with the result that there was no chance for the worker to get even or to put anything away for the lean years. The commission finished its investigations and left for the east on the afternoon train.

The first witness of the afternoon was James Somerville, representing the machinists union, and he stated that one of the principal causes of unrest lay in the want of confidence by the workers. There was also a feeling among the workers in his trade that they had never received a fair deal and that there had been too much profiteering by those higher up during the war. He thought that the control of industry would be changed from private to public administration. He was in favor of social control of all industries and the joint council proposed might help, he thought.

Civil Servants Wages.

Thomas J. Oliver, of the western Canada interior association, stated that one cause of unrest that he had found was the wages which were paid by the government to civil service employes; the low wages had brought about the postal employees' strike. Investigation of the salaries paid civil servants in the Dominion lands branch would have to come because men could not live on what was being paid. He declared that the civil service commission was as slow as the government and in his opinion it was saying something.

George C. Ingram, eneral manager of the Security Lumber company, said that the complaint which he had encountered from labor was insufficient remunerntion. He thought that the shorter day demanded by labor was curtailing industry. He was adverse to the introduction of cheap labor to help in production. Business in the community, he said, was above, rather than below normal.

E. H. Cook, brotherhood of railway trainmen, said that he found there was unrest because of lack of employment. The cost of the necessaries of life was too great. Wages must be high enough that a man can live comfortably and be able to put something away. He thought the high cost of living was contributed to largely by the fact that there were too many middlemen. Unrest in the railway organizations was due to unemployment, poor train service and the "spare board."

Farm Lagor.

Hugh McKellar also gave short testimony in which he pointed out that the question of labor for the farms must be taken into consideration. He thought the government was showing inefficiency in supplying labor to the farms.

F. A. Hughes, representng the Canadian Pacific railway federated trades, now in the government labor bureau, said that there were 500 applications for farm help that cannot be filled. He thought labor would be willing to meet employers provided they were met openly. He considered that only organized labor should have representation on industrial councils.

At this juncture the commissioners announced that those who wished to give further evidence could put it in writing and send it by mail to the secretary of the commission and it would be placed in the records.

Alderman W. A. Watson then thanked the commission for coming to the city and giving the local labor organizations a nopportunity to present their case.

LONDON, May 9 (Canadian Associated Press). — The One Thousand Guineas, for 3-year-old fillies, run today at Newmarket over the mile course, was won by Roseway, a 6 to 1 shot. Brittania, 6 to 1, was second and Glaciale, 20 to 1, third.

WILSON REMAINS OBDURATE ON ITALIAN SUBJECT

FRENCH PRESS SAYS SETTLEMENT IS AS FAR AWAY AS EVER, ALTHOUGH NATION ABANDONS TEMPORARILY ITS CLAIM TO FIUME.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, May 9.—(Associated Press)—The Italian difficulty is as far from settlement as ever, according to the French press, which asserts that President Wilson maintains his position and it is not beleved he will depart from t in the slightest. He has not adhered to the proposed compromise by which Italy would administer Fiume as mandatory of the league of nations until 1923, after which Fiume would revert to Italian sovereignty, the Jugo-Slavs being given a port a few miles lower down the Adriatic coast, it is stated.

The impression in French conference circles is that Italy is temporarily abandonng her claim to Fiume and will not exact full execution of the pact of London, which, as it involves not only Dalmatia, but Dodecanez Islands, will raise the whole Greek problem and singularly complicate the situation.

ACQUITTED GIRL SLAYER LAUGHS

Kisses Her Mother and Walks Out of Court Room Laughing—Declared Insane.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

SEATTLE, May 9.—Ruth Garrison, 18 years old, who confessed ot the poisoning of Mrs. Grace G. Storrs, her rival for the love of D. M. Storrs, on March 18 last, late today was found not guilty, because of mental irresponsibility at the time of the crime.

Under the state law the court is compelled, as a result of the verdict, to sentence Miss Garrison to the state penitentiary at Walla Walla for treatment for the criminally insane, but as there are no accommodations at the penitentiary for women of this type, she will be transferred to the state hospital for feeble minded at Medical Lake. For the present she will remain in custody of the King county sheriff.

Smiling, Miss Garrison received the verdict, then with a laugh she kissed her mother. Of the two women jurors, one sobbed as the verdict was read and several of the male jurors cried. Many spectators were moved to tears. Miss Garrison, as she was led from the court room, was laughing gaily.

SIBERIANS ADVANCING AT RATE OF 7 MILES DAILY

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

LONDON, May 9.—A dispatch from Omsk, under date of May 1, says that since the capture of Christopol, on the Kama, by the forces of Admiral Kolchak, the Siberians have been advancing at an average rate of seven miles a day and have reached the Shenala river.

The enemy's resistance has been broken in the Bugulma-Bogoroslan area (Samara district) and a similar rate of advance is being maintained in that region. Five rifle regiments of the Reds have capitulated on the Samara front, and it is reported that there is a great lack of discipline among the enemy.

CLONIE TAIT MAKES LITTLE OUT OF BOUT

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

WINNIPEG, May 9.—Clonie Tait, holder of the Canadian lightweight title, figured in a sad fiasco in which he had been advertised to meet Johnny Noye, of Minneapolis, for the championship, in 12 three-minute rounds. Noye was held up by the Canadian immigration authorities as he is an Austrian and his naturalization as a citizen of the United States is not complete. Quite a few of the disappointed fans compelled the refund of their admission money.

Kid Whitey, a local lad, went through 8 rounds with Tait. The preliminaries were all better than the substitute bout.

The rates charged by the new company will be $25 for a 15-minute "flip."

IMMIGRATION BILL REPORTED

Cronyn's Amendment Withdrawn—Headway Is Made on New Bankruptcy Act

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

OTTAWA, May 9.—Hon. J. A. Calder's immigration bill was reported from committee in the commons tonight. Hume Cronyn's amendment, which would have shut out immigrants from southeastern portions of Europe for a period of five years, after some further discussion was withdrawn, the minister explaining that the officials of the immigration department had reported that the plan would be difficult to work out. Some new amendments proposed by the minister were adopted in committee before the bill was reported. One prevents the bringing into Canada of concealed weapons.

During the earlier part of the sitting good headway was made in committee with the new Bankruptcy act, but several of the more contentious clauses were left over for consideration at a later date.

After headway had been made on a couple of minor government bills the house adjourned.

Importance of Shipbuilding.

Capt. B. J. Manion, Fort William and Rainy River, urged the importance of shipbuilding in connection with the disposal of the western wheat crop. He pointed out that the United States government was guaranteeing the price of wheat in the United States for the coming year and that it was expected the United States crop would be the biggest in its history. There was no doubt that the United States would make a great effort to unload in European markets and unless Canada had shipping facilities there might be difficulty in disposing of the 65 per cent of the Canadian exportable surplus, which usually went through United States ports.

After some further discussion, the item—one of $30,000,000 for the government shipbuilding program—was passed.

The house then went into committee on the bankruptcy bill, beginning with clause 43, which was under discussion when last the act was considered. Good progress was made. Hugh Guthrie moved an amendment to make it clear that the bankruptcy court will be a federal court. The objection had been raised, he said, that this was not perfectly clear.

ALLIED MISSION FAILS; PRISONERS ARE HELD

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

ARCHANGEL, May 6.—(Associated Press)—The commission of allied officers which went to Vologda to negotiate for an exchange of prisoners, has returned to Archangel, the mission having failed, owing to the attempt of the Bolsheviki to turn the meeting into a political one and their evasion of the question of prisoners.

The commission found the prisoners at Vologda well treated and well fed, but objected to the constant Bolsheviki propaganda. There are 50 allied prisoners at Moscow. Through the efforts of the commission, these men, who were formerly in prison, have been given liberty of the streets.

GERMAN ATTACK ON FRANCE TO MEAN CALL FOR U.S. ARMY IF CONGRESS IS AGREEABLE

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, May 9.—In response to an inquiry from Secretary Tumulty, President Wilson cabled today that he had promised France to propose to the senate in connection with the peace treaty, "a supplement in which we shall agree, subject to the approval of the council of the league of nations, to come immediately to the assistance of France in case of unprovoked attack by Germany.

"Happily, there is no mystery or privacy about what I have promised the government here," the president cabled. "I have promised to propose to the senate a supplement, in which we shall agree, subject to the approval of the council of the league of nations, to come immediately to the assistance of France in case of unprovoked attack by Germany, thus merely hastening the action to which we should be bound by the covenant of the league of nations."

Not for Belgium's Benefit.

BRUSSELS, May 9.—Some of the Belgian newspapers point out that Germany, by admitting defeat, must submit to the consequences. Etoile Belge is of the opinion that the hard terms do not even indemnify the allies for their losses. The newspaper expresses surprise that the proposed stipulation regarding British and United States support of France in case of attack was not also made for the benefit of Belgium.

Milner Called For.

PARIS, May 9.—(Havas.)—After Paul Hymans, head of the Belgian delegation, had discussed the rights of Belgium in German East Africa today, David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, telegraphed Viscount Milner, secretary for the colonies, to come to Paris. On his arrival here questions concerning the East African mandate will be considered again.

Swiss Neutrality.

BERNE, Thursday, May 8.—The Swiss political (foreign affairs department, announces that as a result of an exchange of notes and conversations between the Swiss and French governments, agreement has been reached on the text of an article to be inserted in the peace treaty, whereby the guarantees of Swiss neutrality are recognized as constituting international obligations for the maintenance of peace. The guarantees to be recognized are stipulated in the treaties of 1815, especially of November 20, which assures perpetual neutrality and inviolability of Swiss territory.

'WE WILL NOT SIGN TREATY' POPULAR GERMAN CRY NOW AS STING OF BLOW IS FELT

BERLIN, Thursday, May 8.—(Associated Press)—The people, though fairly stricken dumb by the peace terms, are now recovering sufficiently to declare that Germany cannot and will not sign the compact, no matter what comes.

More Strikers.

Strikes are increasing and Bolshevism and the Spartacan uprinig of the past two months have, if anything, made Germany immune to the possible horrors which are to be anticipated if they are again plunged into war, according to the best opinion here.

Some Against Reds.

There exists a small group of Germans who prefer to see the entente occupy the whole country rather than to have it Bolsheviki, but they are in the dwindling minority.

Hamburg Mart Closed.

HAMBURG, May 8.—(Delayed)—The stock exchange has decided to close for two days, as a result of the situation created by the publication of the peace treaty.

Suggests Revolution.

BERLIN, Thursday, May 8.—(Associated Press)—The parliamentary leaders, who are in Berlin to attend committee meetings, admit that they were stunned by the proposed peace terms. Beyond casual comment, however, they decline to discuss the entente's conditions or details, or to farecast the assembly's probable attitude.

A number of the Independent Socialists declared the peace offered was wholly dictatorial and that its revision was possible only through a world revolution.

C., May 9.—The city council will be informed next Monday morning that a rough estimate shows that $450,000 more than last year's requirements will be needed to carry on during the present year. ELECTRICAL GOODS HAD REAL 'KICK'

Eight Cases Found by Coast Police to Contain "G. & W." of High Voltage.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 9.—Eight cases of "electrical goods" consigned from the Shippers' Standard Electrical company of Montreal to the Hughes Electrical company of Vancouver caused some commotion this afternoon when they were teamed from the C. P. R. freight sheds to the provincial police headquarters. One of the chandeliers or rheostats had cracked in transit and amperes of "G. & W." of unquestioned voltage floated on the summer breeze.

When unpacked the eight boxes of "electrical goods" turned out to be 40 cases of Gooderham & Worts rye whiskey, which some parties unknown had made an unsuccessful attempt to smuggle into the province.

Chief of Police Dunwoody and his men are now trying to locate the Hughes Electrical company, which at one time is said to have had on office address in a Granville street building.

The "electrical goods" will in due course adorn the shelves of Colonel Sclater's emporium. The 40 cases have cost the government a freight bill of $136 to the C. P. R. and a cartage bill, which has made it a very cheap purchase.

CLOUDS CLEARING OFF EAST COAST

Aviators Hope to Get Away This Moon—Col. Porto's Flying Boat Arrives Today.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., May 9.—With unfavorable weather still preventing the trans-Atlantic flight of the British aviators here, tomorrow is expected to heighten local interest with the arrival of the steamer Degby from Liverpool, bringing Colonel John C. Porte's flying boat for entry in the air race for the London Daily Mail's $50,000 prize.

This giant plane, a Handley-Page designed for the flight by Colonel Porte and named by him the "Felixstowe Fury," will attempt the big hop-off from Harbor Grace, 50 miles down the coast. She will be unloaded here and shipped to her airdrome as soon after the vessel's arrival as possible.

Major Arthur Partridge Raffas, advance agent for Porte, returned from Cape Boyle today after inspecting the site of Porte's base there, and reported the beach in invariably smooth condition as before the storms during the winter. With very little preparation it can be made ready for an airdrome.

Conflicting reports of winds and weather in mid-ocean were received today. The British air ministry's meteorological service sent in favorable accounts, while wireless reports from ships at sea showed an easterly gale with storm indications sweeping far out. Low pressure, though, was reported off Azores, which should move away in a day or two, according to calculations.

Harry Hawker, the Australian aviator, predicted again that the full moon scheduled for May 14 would see the start of his flight, with Captain Raynham, his British rival, probably hopping off at the same time.

"We will be away this moon surely," Hawker said.

PUPILS BOUGHT $587 IN STAMPS

Eight Weeks' Sale Results in Big Total—Prize Suggested for Class Standing Highest.

During the eight weeks in which thrift stamps have been on sale at the public school the pupils have bought and stuck on their cards $587.91 worth. The fourth week's turnover was the largest, when stamps to the value of $100 were bought by the pupils. The sale of the stamps has dropped considerably since that time and in order to stimulate interest among the children, steps are being taken to provide a banner or some other prize which could be competed for by the classes each week, the winning division to hold it until the end of the ensuing week. It has been suggested that a permanent prize might be given at the end of the year to the class buying the most stamps throughout the period.

CONCERT SCORES IN OPERA HOUSE

Many Take Part in Entertainment, Gross Proceeds of Which Amount to More Than $238.

As the curtain went slowly up at the opera house last night, revealing the first tableaux on the concert program arranged by the Ladies' aid of St. Pauls church, the orchestra struck up "O Canada" and the entire audience rose to their feet and sang the song. The gross proceeds amounted to $238.65.

The tableau consisted of two scenes, the first entitled "Miss Canada and Her Provinces," guarded by a soldier and sailor in uniform. The parts were taken by a number of girls, dressed in white with red banners marked with the names of the provinces, grouped about the central figure of "Miss Canada." In the second tableau a local touch was added, showing "Miss Kootenay," represented by Miss Kitty Johnstone, and "Kootenay the home of the 54th," represented by Miss Katie Wallach.

During the second scene the audience sang "Rule Britannia." Those taking part in the tableau were Miss Katie Wallach, Miss Martin, Miss Garde, Miss McEachern, Miss McGinnis, Miss McKenzie and Miss Johnstone. J. Robinson and Griffith Morris were the soldier and sailor guards.

Capt. Shaw Sings.

Capt. G. E. Shaw opened the musical portion of the program with a song entitled "Matinata," and as an encore gave "Dear Old Pal of Mine." A song from "The Toreador," sung by Mrs. Holmwood of Balfour, won long applause, to which she replied with an encore.

When Leslie Craufurd walked on to the stage in kilts the crowd got ready for some fun. His first song, "The Wiggle-Waggle of the Kilt," brought down te house, and he responded to prolonged encores by singing "Jeanie McNeil." Even this did not satisfy the crowd and he was called before the footlights again to sing "Just as His Feyther Before Him."

"Angus Macdonold," sung by Miss Agnes Lawson, was another winner, and she gave as a second number "The Little Irish Girl."

Miss Phyllis Whitebread's violin solo, "Romance," by Ludor Thomas, was one of the popular numbers on the program. As a response to hearty applause she played the dainty "Minuet," by Beethoven.

J. Hall of Balfour sang "I'll Sing Thee Songs of Araby." He responded to encores, concluding the first half of the program. During the intermission lively music was rendered by the orchestra.

The second half of the program began with a humorous sketch by C. E. S. Neill, another of the Balfour boys. He made his appearance on the stage cane, buttonhole, wrist watct, a "all dressed up," with kid gloves, cane, buttonhole, wrist watch, etc., and told, in the words of his song, that he "Hade no place to go." Although he related a sad tale of how "He was all dressed up and no place to go, unless he went back to bed," the song proved a real mirth provoker. Repeated encores brought him back to sing "When Maud Put Her New Bathing Costume On," this proving even funnier than the first number.

T. C. Atkinson of Balfour gave two monologues and in addition sang "Just a'Wearyin' for You."

A. W. (Gunner) Graham pleased everyone with his sigorous singing of the Toreador song from "Carmen." In complete contrast to this number he gave as an encore "Mother Machree."

Ten minutes of merriment was supplied by Miss Madge Godfrey, Willie Wallach and Jack Morris, when they put on a short sketch entitled "On the Instalment Plan." "Wifey," otherwise named Madge, started off with a woeful tale of how she had spent all the money "Hubby," in the person of Willie Wallach, had given her to pay for the furniture. She spent it this way—in joining the Nelson Country club, whose fees, she wailed, were so exclusive, hence her lack of funds to pay the furniture man. But, she hopefully said, she had persuaded the dealer, Jack Morris, to let them have the furniture on the installment plan. She also possessed two thrift stamps which would help some, she said. Several ludicrous complications ensued, with the result that she had to "fess up" to hubby, who, after some scolding, dug up the necessary cash, and "they lived happy ever after."

The playing of "God Save the King" brought the program to a close.

Accompanists for the evening were P. G. Morey, Mrs. W. J. Astley and F. arner Smith.

At the conclusion of the concert the Balfour sanitarium boys went to the parlors of the Presbyterian church, where they were guests of the local artists at a supper.

NEED BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

TORONTO, May 9.—M. A. Brown, mayor of Medicine Hat and president of the Alberta Industrial Development association, addressed a gathering of manufacturers and business men at the National club here today, and urged a national campaign of education with view to reconciling the divergent fiscal views of the east and west in Canada.

"One of the greatest needs of our country," said Mr. Brown, "is a greater understanding of our economic problems."

Mr. Brown said many statements not based on facts were being made in the east and west, and he urged getting together in order that the people of the east and west might understand each other better.

"Never will the fiscal policy of Canada be stabilized so long as we have an unbalanced country," said Mayor Brown. "Manufacturers and protectionists predominate in the east, and farmers and free traders predominate in the west. Never will the farmers and consumers in the west be satisfied to have such a large percentage of their necessities of life manufactured in eastern Canada when they know that many of the lines they require can be successfully made in western Canada."

NEW REGULATIONS FOR STOCK YARDS

Order-in-Council Aims to Provide Better Means of Handling Stock.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)
OTTAWA, May 9.—On the recommendation of T. A. Crerar, new regulations relative to the operation of stock yards in Canada have been authorized by order-in-council. The regulations cover construction and equipment, operation and maintenance of stockyards, and their chief purpose is to provide improved conditions in connecton with the handling of stock.

The regulations governing construction and equipment provide that every stock yard must be so equipped as to afford adequate accommodations for the transaction of business with safety and dispatch.

No substantial alteration or addition shall be made to any stock yard until the approval of the minister has been obtained.

Ample provision for the proper handling and feeding of live stock must be made, including a supply of running water.

In the case of live stock to be fed for maintenance only, the proprietor shall supply the amount of feed prescribed by the livestock commissioner.

Charges for feed and supplies for each calendar month shall be determined by adding to the wholesale market price for the preceding month a percentage plus a fixed charge for handling. The proprietor shall file with the minister not later than the tenth day of each month a statement of the average wholesale market price of feed and supplies during the preceding calendar month and a statement of the charges in force during the current months, supported by documentary evidence. It is provided that accommodations shall always be given to stock for sale, or in transit, in preference to stock for storage. There shall be kept a register of all sales of livestock in such form as the minister may prescribe, and this shall be available for inspection by the public.

MUCH SELLING AT NEW YORK

Gains Are Shaded Later on During Session— Steel Prices Hold Firm.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, May 9.—Exceeding in activity any previous session of the year, selling for profits on today's stock market was more insistent, many gains being materially shaded or altogether cancelled later.

The most important development of the day, abandonment of the stabilization of steel prices, was somewhat balanced by the fluctuations in oils, shippings and other favorites.

United States Steel rose 1⅝ to 101¼, its maximum since the passing of the extra common dividend, but lost half its gain. Independent steels and affiliated issues reflected greater firmness and many equipments dependent upon the steel market were higher.

One branch of the stock list, which made no direct response to new conditions in the steel trade, was rails, changes in that division tending downward, so far as they manifested any material change.

Secondary rails were heavy, presumably on profit-taking.

Texas Company again featured the oils at a further advance of 22½ points to 292, a total of 64 points since last week, only a small part of its gain being lost at the end. Royal Dutch, Mexican Petroleum, Pan-American Petroleum, American Woolen, United Fruit and Atlantic Gulf were 5 to 10 points higher at one time, but the latter closed unchanged.

Sales amounted to 1,800,000 shares.

Bonds, notably secondary rails and foreigns, were strong, with an easier tendency for Liberty issues. Total sales, par value, $12,400,000.

Old U. S. bonds unchanged on call.

A Clergyman's Wife Wants Women to Know Advantages of Internal Bathing

If women could only see the thousands of letters Dr. Tyrrell has received from grateful women in all parts of the world, thanking him for his wonderful invention for Internal Bathing, they would soon discard the medicine bottle and look to the cause of their trouble. 95 per cent of all human ills are due to accumulated waste in the Colon or Large Intestine. Warm water, properly used with the "J. B. L. Cascade," will relieve the cause of your troubles and perfect health will follow.

A Winnipeg clergyman writes:

"My wife is naturally sensitive about having her name appear in public print, yet is anxious that others should know what the 'J. B. L. Cascade' has done for her. It has really given her a new lease of life. For years she had been doctoring for Constipation, which became worse each year. Since using the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' first about four years ago, she has not ben sick a day, and has become robust and strong again. Should any person wish this letter confirmed you are at liberty to give my name in private."

The "J. B. L. Cascade" is an invention, perfected by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, and has done more during the past few years to restore health and lessen disease than all other means combined.

The "J. B. L. Cascade" is shown and explained at Canada Drug & Book Co., Nelson. Ask for Booklet explaining all about Internal Bathing and what it has done for others. It is free.

MAKING 200 FEET MONTHLY AT THE NUGGET

Seventeen Men are Employed on the Development Work at Sheep Creek Property.

About 200 feet a month is being made on the new crosscut tunnel which is being driven on the Consolidated, Motherlode and Nugget mines at Sheep Creek, states Harold Lakes, superintendent of the property. Seventeen men are employed.

It is estimated that the tunnel will have to go between 2700 and 2800 feet before it hits the vein, although it may strike ore before the main known body is reached. The tunnel is now in about 250 feet.

About a week's time was lost owing to the destruction of the Motherlode bunkhouse by fire, but a building has now been fixed up for the accomodation of the men.

KINGSTON, Ont., May 9.—Seven hundred metal workers employed at the Canadian Locomotive company went on strike this morning when their demands for an 8-hour day and an increase in wages was refused.

DEVELOP SILVER MINES IN THE SLOCAN DISTRICT

There is apparently going to be much demand for silver properties if the last few weeks indications can be taken as a criterion, which has been very notable in so far as the purchasing of mining properties in the Slocan, says Fred A. Starkey. The important deal which resulted in the ownership of the J. M. Harris and associated properties changing to that of the James Dunsmuir interests. This will give to the Dunsmuir holdings an immense acreage of mineral wealth. The Noble five is one of the best developed mining properties in the Sandon section, and with the addition of the Harrises interests, which consists of the Reco and many other claims which have already demonstrated their value, through the development which has been done by the former owners for many years. During the last few years the properties have been worked under leases, and it is well known that the lessors have received in return after paying a stiff royalty charge to the owners, considerable profit.

Cunningham Gets Elkhorn

It also known, Mr. Starkey says, that Clarence Cunningham has taken over the Elkhorn property, which ore will be treated at his mill, newly erected at Alamo, there is estimated to be a large tonnage of milling ore at the Elkhorn, which will be a great tid in adding to the supply much needed tonnage which will be required at the Cunningham large mill if it is to be kept running steadily.

Outside of these actual sales of properties and the change of ownship, we have to record the preparations for a more vigorously conducted policy of development of several properties, all of which are located in the Slocan district.

The Franz Brothers, Wallace, Idaho, have just arrived to instal a full equipment of machinery for the development of their property on Ten-mile Creek, Slocan Lake. This property is situated some five miles above the enterprise mine, and is known as the Richmond group, which is a dry silver property running into high figures.

Blackburn Activity

James Melley, Spokane, who with his brother Edward, owns the Blackburn group, situated on the head of Ten-mile and the South Fork of Kaslo Creek, has left for the Slocan

SATURDAY, MAY 10, 1919.

THE FRANCO-AMERICAN DEFENSIVE ALLIANCE.

President Wilson's declaration of intention to propose to congress that the United States shall bind itself to support France with military and naval aid if it should without provocation be attacked by Germany, is the logical consequence of the events of the past two years, but it will nevertheless come as somewhat of a shock to a large number of American people.

To defend American interests against the German menace was one thing, but to completely depart from the time-honored doctrine of avoiding European entanglements to the extent of making a defensive military alliance with France is an entirely different matter.

Yet the United States can no more take any other course consistently than can the British empire. The allies and the associated powers fought through the war in order to preserve their liberty. To leave an opening for Germany in the future to attack and destroy them individually would be criminal.

STAGE-PLAY.

The German delegates are described as having been amazed, horror-stricken, and to have undergone various other more or less spectacular emotions when the peace terms were handed to them. In fact, they evidently "registered" just the emotions that a bunch of hypocrites who were pretending to believe that Germany had done little wrong and should not be punished severely would be expected to register in our best theatrical circles.

Of course the Hun delegates knew the peace terms almost to a comma and a semi-colon before they were presented to them. Pretty nearly the whole world knew in a general way what the terms would be and even the overtrained German intelligence service could hardly have failed to secure the details long before the meeting between the allies and the German delegates at Paris.

The horror and amazement and so on is nothing but stage play. Its purpose is to open the way for a "kamerad" appeal to the allied nations.

THE BANKRUPTCY BILL SHOULD PASS THE HOUSE.

A bankruptcy bill is again before parliament this session, standing in the name of Hon. Mr. Guthrie, solicitor-general. It has had first reading. In view of the slow progress made so far and the volume of important legislation to be dealt with some matters probably will have to go by the board if parliament is not to sit all summer. The bankruptcy bill should not be among those left over.

It is based on the British Bankruptcy act, embodying its good features, in some cases with improvements. Its provisions have been approved by the organizations which are pressing for the passage of the bill—among them the boards of trade, the Canadian Manufacturers' association, the Retail Merchants' association, the Canadian Credit Men's association and the Wholesale Grocers' association. And, much as the lack of a federal bankruptcy law has handicapped Canadian business in the past—Canada is the only civilized country with the exception of China that has not a uniform bankruptcy law—the need is more urgent now than ever.

The principal purpose of the legislation is to provide that the honest debtor may have a discharge of his obligations in the event of his failure and that the dishonest debtor may be compelled to make an assignment. The present insolvency laws are provincial, varying in each of the provinces. It is not possible now for an honorable debtor to obtain a discharge and, except in the province of Quebec, the dishonest debtor cannot be compelled under the local laws to assign, and in consequence creditors suffer serious losses—and naturally these losses act as a deterrent to the advancement of credit and thus hamper enterprise.

SAYS MONTREAL UGLY AND DINGY

Canadian Metropolis Makes Good Showing Compared to European Cities, Soldiers' Views.

(By H. M. Moore.)

PARIS—Several thousand Canadians have been seeing London, Paris, Brussels, Cologne and other cities of the old world.

Now they are returning to Canada.

A great many of them are returning to Montreal.

Writing from Paris, where I have met hndreds of Canadians during the past three months, I want to tell you what they think of Paris and London and Brussels and Nice and Cologne, and what they think of Montreal.

But I can't. I can tell you what they think of these European centres, but when they begin to talk about Montreal, I must draw the line.

They really feel that they have been cheated. They feel that someone—they do not know whom—was responsible for the ugliness and dinginess of Montreal. They know now what a city—a great city—should be like. They have seen lovely parks and broad boulevards, and splendid buildings.

I overheard a conversation this afternoon. It was this conversation which caused this article, which has been simmering for weeks, to boil over.

Three Canadians were sitting at a table on the sidewalk in front of a cafe on the Champs Elysees. I was close by. Evidently they had been for a stroll through the Bois de Boulogne.

"She sure is one bear of a town," said the first.

"Some village," said the second.

"A regular burg!" said the third.

Could anything be more expressive? There you have the type of men, and a wonderful example of the limitations of our educational system of training youth to know how to say what it feels. Translated, with, I admit, the aid of what followed, that all meant that Paris is a beautiful city.

"And I guess Montreal would run it close if they would throw a regular boulevard around the mountain, with another all around the island, and more of them running out like spokes of a wheel in between."

"Streets that just run two ways get kind of tiresome after you've seen how pretty a town can be cut up like a jig-saw puzzle."

"With lots of trees and flower beds and parks and good-looking solid buildings all over the place."

"With the mountain in the centre'."

These are just a few sentences clipped from the texture of their talk. It would not take a great deal during the next few years to weld such reflections and half-formed wishes into action. Those who realize the possibilities Montreal possesses, the potential beauty of her situation, should not neglect the returning soldier.

He has seen great and beautiful cities. And he has liked them.

EVEN MINE HOST IS MET WITH SURPRISE

NEW YORK.—The New York hotelkeeper is supposed to be blase about thrills. He has had guests who came leading pet leopards on silver leashes and guests who come with chameleons and marmosettes—but not until yesterday was something new introduced.

"Have you a space on roof for airplane landing, or have you a storehouse for taking care of machine? Expect to fly to New York from Dayton about May 31. Reserve three rooms and bath.

"D. Gill Mitchel, Dayton, Ohio."

PLOWS OF WOOD USED BY FRENCH

Returning Industrial Leader Speaks of Demand for Canadian Goods in Europe.

TORONTO.—M. L. Davies, vice-president of the Standard Chemical, Iron and Lumber company of Canada, an eight-million-dollar Ontario corporation, speaking of the possibilities of the shipment of Canadian goods to France, from which country he has just returned, says that the French peasants for the lack of better instruments of production, are using plenty of wood plows and other similar crude implements. For all commodities needed for the growth of foodstuffs, there will be a great demand in many parts of Europe.

Prior to the war the Standard Chemical had a plant near Lille. This was entirely destroyed either by shell fire or by the ruthlessness of the enemy, and will have to be rebuilt from the foundations. The company also had a plant at the German city of Worms, which is still intact.

Transportation Poor.

Regarding industrial recovery in France Mr. Davies said that it would be slower than had been expected. The rolling stock of the railways, freight cars, tank cars and other equipment has disappeared, and only a small part of the rolling stock to be turned over by the enemy is in evidence. Even if the cars were available, the road bed, rails and ties are in very bad condition. The lock gates of the canals were taken away and the walls blown up with explosive. Normal transportation conditions will therefore return slowly.

Textiles, leather, building materials and other staple commodities are urgently required. The Standard Chemical is engaged in the production of wood alcohol, acetate of lime, formaldehyde, and many similar goods, for which there will be a keen market in France. Mr. Davies indicated that in the neighborhood of Worms, where the company's plant was located, all industrial conditions were about the same as before the war.

3,000,000 BREEDING HENS

A French poultry expert, according to advices received by the Canadian trade commission, states that there is an urgent need in France for 3,000,000 breeding hens at present. It is estimated that egg and poultry production there in the last four years has decreased 50%. Over 6,000 hens haye been given by British traders to help the restoration work in northern France.

Conditions in Poland are said to be such that hundreds of thousands of fowls are wanted, and British experts are advocating that the newer breeds be at once introduced into the devastated areas.

The trade commission suggests to poultry men and farmers a continuance of the greater production campaign of last year. The cheapening of feedstuffs is in their favor.

Canadian exports of eggs in 1918 roundly totalled 4,000,000 dozen, one-half the quantity exported sixteen years ago. Great Britain alone before the war imported 190,000,000 dozen annually.

One broad idea which the trade commission is trying to impress on the agricultural and manufacturing interests is that the present emergency demand in Europe should be regarded as the stepping stone to permanent trade. The field in the poultry trade will be ample for some years to come.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS FIRES AT COAL MINES

PRINCETON, B. C.—The Star says: The Princeton Coal & Land company, through Ernest Waterman, the general manager, is offering a reward of $500 for information which will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who set fire to the store room and destroyed the hoist at the mines on the morning of April 25. Mr. Waterman has wired the superintendent of insurance for the province asking for a public investigation. In the past year there have been three fires at the mine, and all of aparent incendiary origin. On at least two occasions some of the fire hose was found to be cut and the hydrants tampered with. There seems to be no way of accounting for these fires. The company has the reputation of getting along well with its employees, and it is not known that anyone has a grudge against the concern. Then again there is a question as to whether or not all of the fires were set by the same person.

Foster, minister of trade and commerce, will be again asked by the Vancouver board of trade to endeavor to secure preferential trade for the export of this country to Australia, and especially in respect to newsprint, it being intimated at a meeting of the council of the board that a revision of the Australian tariff soon would be undertaken by the commonwealth.

SURPLUS OF CHEESE WILL NOT BE PURCHASED

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

OTTAWA, May 9.—The minister of agriculture announces that a cable has been received by the dairy produce commission from the British minister of food stating that it has been finally decided that the ministry will not purchase the exportable surplus of Canadian cheese for the season of 1919, and that producers and dealers should be notified accordingly. This means that the exportation of cheese will be left to private trading as in pre-war days.

The dairy produce commission, through which the cheese and other product been handled for the past two years, will now go out of business.

ith the intention of opening their operty, which they have owned for me 18 years, although they have hat may be termed a partially deloped mine, yet they believe they ve a most promising silver-lead operty, and with the usual foreght and faith of the old prospector ey see with the present price of lver the wisdom of further develment so that their property may come a producer. No. 1 tunnel on e main vein has ben driven over 0 feet. Besides the No. 1 tunnel ey have run a second tunnel some stance on the main vein with a ew to striking the ore body at pth. Other veins on the property ve received attention, through pen-cuts and general surface work. ssays taken from a stringer in the ain tunnel gave values as follows: lver 763 ozs.—lead 62%. Other ssays taken from different points the main vein and from surface penings have given 100 to 200 ozs. in silver, lead 40 to 55%, zince 8%.

Will Work Mines

On account of the price of silver it is most probable that the present season will see all of the properties lying between the Slocan Lake and Kaslo, especially such properties as those located on Ten-mile Creek and through to the territory covered by the South Fork of Kaslo Creek worked during the present season owing to these several properties which may be mentioned as carrying high silver values, viz.—Enterprise, Bondholder, Neepawa, Smuggler, Chief, Richmond, Blackburn, Index, Gibson, Silver Bell, and such other properties as the Utica, Arlington, Mountain Con. All of which makes it possible for these sections to be developed. Adding to these silver properties such others as carry 100 ounces of silver with a 50% lead, making for the most favored portion in the world to mine for the simple fact that there is no silver-lead mining territory in the whole world that is so favorably blessed with similar values in silver as the great Slocan.

TRAIL CHURCH HAS GOOD YEAR

Satisfaction Generally Expressed at Methodist Annual Meeting— $560 of Indebtedness Wiped Out.

(Special to The Daily News.)

TRAIL, B. C., May 9.—General satisfaction with the result of the year's work was the prevailing spirit at the annual meeting of the Methodist church. A deficiency of $300, the depression resulting from the strike, frequent removals of supporters, and the long-sustained influenza epidemic, have been some of the drawbacks. Despite these, every department of the work is in flourishing condition, membership, attendance and finances in advance of last year. The deficit wiped out, $560 of indebtedness wiped out, $129 raised for missions, $91 by young people's organization, $105 for convention funds, $344 by Ladies' Aid, $223 for Sunday school purposes, are some of the interesting items of $2446 raised for all purposes.

The following were elected:

Stewards: W. J. Wagstaff, D. W. Forteath, A. A. Robertson, J. Young, W. E. Paull, R. J. Henderson, E. Twells.

Sunday School Superintendent: W. C. Mackenzie.

President of Bible Class: Mrs. J. Pike.

President of Epworth League: Chas. Jeannes.

Envelope Steward: D. W. Forteath.

Delegates to District Meeting: W. E. Paull, D. W. Forteath.

K. B. Celebrates Anniversary

Twelfth Year of Organization Commemorated by Affair Held Thursday Afternoon.

Nelson temple of Pythian sisters celebrated the twelfth anniversary of its organization on Thursday evening. After the regular lodge meeting a whist drive was held. Mrs. Wade and Mr. Cookson were the winners of the first prizes and the consolation prizes fell to the lot of Mrs. Bishop and Mr. Gosnell. Refreshments were served during the evening. The good wishes of the organization were extended in a vote to Mrs. D. Laughton, past grand chief; Mrs. Hardy, past chief, and Mrs. A. L. Wilson, most excellent chief, who leave for the coast Sunday morning to represent the society at the Grand temple convention in Vancouver.

Reports as to the work done by the society were given, showing that besides caring for the sick, etc., the members, numbering 66, have given $325 to patriotic work during the war, and $300 for sending parcels to soldiers and work in different charitable causes.

The sewing club branch, numbering about 15, presented five Red Cross life memberships to past officers of the order and gave $187 to other patriotic causes.

During the evening past chief's pins were presented to Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. Mickelson, in recognition of their work while in office.

Farmers of Woodstock have bought the "Gospel hall" in that city and will make it the headquarters of their "Egg circle."

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take and there is nothing of the griping, weakening and sickening effects of the old fashioned purgatives.

Mrs. John Kadey, Chipman, N.B., writes: "I have been using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for some time and can recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried other remedies but they only relieved me for a short time. I always recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to all sufferers, as I think they are a valuable remedy."

FLU RETURNS TO CRESTON

Is of Mild Type—Nearly All Children in Italian Quarter Affected.

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRESTON, B. C., May 9.—Stone fruit trees, such as peaches, apricots, cherries, etc., are now in full bloom, and if the show of blossoms is a true index of the crop to follow, the valley is certainly in for a bumper yield in these lines, as well as in strawberries and raspberries, both of which never looked more promising than at present. Splendid growing weather prevails, with an auundance of moisture. The valley had a cold dip early Monday morning, but so far there are no reports of any damage.

Four more names have been added to the soldiers' memorial tablet that stands opposite the Bank of Commerce, which now shows a total of 25 "gone west." The names just added are Robert Smith, a former Canyon City resident; Harry Bothwell of Erickson, and J. S. McHugh and Ed Forcier, who joined up here with the Forestry draft.

The "flu" is paying the valley a return call at present, and has already claimed numerous victims. In most cases, fortunately, it is of a mild type, although Mrs. E. Payne is rather seriously indisposed. In the Italian section nearly all the children are laid up with it.

Rev. T. McCord is at New Westminster attending the 1919 session of British Columbia Presbytery. Rev. J. F. Shaw leaves today for the same city to attend the annual Methodist conference. He is not expecting to be returned to the Creston pastorate.

Miss I. E. Ross has been forced to give up teaching the primary room at the Creston school, owing to continued poor health, following recovery from the influenza in January, which she contracted after five weeks of nursing at the emergency hospital and in privact homes while the epidemic was prevalent last fall. Miss Vida Gobbett is substituting for her pending the arrival of a successor.

The vital seatistics for April show three births, no marriages and one death.

There was a rainfall of 1½ inches, but no snow during April, according to weather reports.

Mrs. Gibbs of Nelson and Miss Nesbitt of Lethbridge, Alta., were visitors here this week with Mrs. Boyd.

Miss Bertha Pease, who has been with friends at Los Angeles, Cal., the past six months, returned home on Sunday.

Bridge Superintendent Kilpatrick and Engineer Wm. Ramsay of Nelson have been here a couple of days selecting the site for the new high level bridge over Goat river at Canyan City. They have chosen a location about a hundred feet further up stream than the wrecked structure, and by so doing will be able to utilize part of the approach built for the old bridge. The new structire will ee of steel, and is to be open for trafic this fall.

A. E. Shackland of Cranbrook, district deputy grand master, will pay Creston Casonic lodge an official visit on Wednesday evening next, and will be accompanied by a number of the Cranbrook brethren.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowden and J. H. Annable of Taber, Alta., were looking the valley over on Monday, in quest of an improved ranch adapted to tomato growing. Mr. and Mrs. Fox of Macleod were also here in quest of ranch property, and are the first outsiders to make the trip in by auto this year.

Mrs. R. W. Chalmers of Thrums, the Kootenay representative on the provincial advisory board of the Women's Institutes, was here yesterday and delivered two addresses at Women's institute meetings. The evening gathering was an illustrated talk, and attracted a good turnout of members and others. The local institute is asking the school board to establish manual training and domestic science teaching next term.

The Erickson school made quite an unique showing last month. With 25 pupils enrolled, the average attendance was 24, and there wasn't a scholar late the whole month. A union Sunday school is being established at the school here, meeting each Sunday morning at 10:30.

The influx of new settlers, most of whom have large families, will shortly necessitate the enlarging of some of th rural schools. At Canyon City there are now almost 40 pupils in one room, and severa new families have just lately moved into that section.

R. Sinclair Smith left on Tuesday for the Lardeau country, where he is investigating a number of mineral claims in that section. W. B. Embree and Jack Boydell were Cranbrook visitors on Tuesday.

Pte. Jos. Heath, who has been in a military hospital at Vancouver the past few wooks, returned on Tuesday, feeling his old-time self and having obtained his discharge.

From now on the Creston Red Cross society will be open but once a month to receive and give out work. They have considerable material on hand, and will continue operations until it is all made up. A bale of miscellaneous supplies was shipped to Siberia last week.

A woman's auxiliary to the Creston branch of the G. W. V. A. is now in process of formation. At a meeting on Monday of the women, at which Capt. Crompton spoke, a committee composed of Mrs. Hayden and Mrs. Jean were named to proceed with organization.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY WANTS RULE OF ROAD AS IT IS

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

VICTORIA, B.C., May 9.—Asst. General Manager W. G. Murrin and Local Manager A. T. Goward, of the British Columbia Electric railway, waited upon Premier Oliver this morning and expressed official complaint at the prospect of a change in the rule of the road.

The company declares that a very large sum of money will have to be expended in the alteration of existing rolling stock in order to conform to the requirements of a change from the present rule of turning to the left.

Premier Oliver promised to take the company's representations into consideration, the deputation agreeing to place written data on the subject before the government at an early date.

Lemons Beautify! Make Quarter Pint of Lotion, Cheap

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way: Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

CHEVROLET, M'LAUCHLIN, CARS SOLD

Nelson Transfer Company Reports Purchases by Local People of New and Used Cars.

Sales of a McLaughlin "Six" roadster, the first in the district; two Chevrolet "490" models and a Chevrolet auto truck, together with a number of second-hand cars are reported by the Nelson Transfer company. The McLaughlin "Six" is to be delivered shortly. New 1919 Chevrolets have been sold to L. D. Kerr and F. F. Payné.

A Chevrolet truck has been purchased by the Nelson Jobbers.

J. A. Nault has purchased a second hand Chevrolet. A. J. Blaney has sold his McLaughlin to Joshua Marsden, who will use it for bringing ranch produce to the city, and Mr. Blaney has purchased a second-hand Ford from the Transfer company. A second-hand Ford has been purchased by Green Bros. and Burden.

Adam Cruickshank has bought a used Ford truck, and will use it for the delivery of milk. Mr. Cruickshank found that his business necessitated either the use of a second horse and rig or the purchase of a truck which would do the work of two rigs.

The Transfer company has on order a carload of Chevrolets, including some Baby Grands, and also a carload of McLaughlins. Both cars have been shipped and are expected to arrive shortly.

Use of Auto Trucks Grows

Speed, Economy and Service Are Factors in Increasing Their Use in This District.

Use of auto trucks is rapidly increasing in the Nelson district.

Concerns which are operating them state that they find that a big saving in time and money is effected by their use, while the auto truck enables much better service to be given than would be possible with the use of horses.

"The high price of feed and the fact that much more work can be accomplished with a truck than with a horse and rig are two big factors in the growth of the use of auto trucks," it was stated yesterday.

In this connection it was pointed out that a round trip to the Granite-Poorman mine with a load of supplies could be made with a truck in about an hour and a half. With horses it would eat up the best part of a day.

Several lumber concerns are considering the purchase of auto trucks, it is stated, for the hauling of logs, poles and supplies.

He Tells How to Shift Gears

Expert Explains Methods and Reasons—Don't be in Too Much of a Hurry, He Says.

Gear shifting, the bugaboo of the novice, illustrates the truth of the old saying, "Haste makes waste," better than any other phase of car operation that I recall, writes H. Clifford Brokaw, principal New York Y.M.C.A. Auto School. The fact is that when you want to speed up the car it is no time to speed up the process of speeding up. Of course, you may go at it slap-dash, slam-bang, but the warlike noise which issues from beneath the floor boards, the grind and staccato of explosive sounds, bode only evil for the life of the transmission gears, to say nothing of the unpleasant effect upon the occupants of the car and everybody else within a wide radius.

Now it is not necessary to avoid shifting gears because of the difficulty, and to allow the engine to labor in high rather than shift to second or first speed when stopping, rather than risk alarming the neighborhood when starting up again. The wiser plan is to learn how to change gears noiselessly.

In shifting gears 'tis always wise
To take no gear in swift surprise,
But gently gaging speed and diction
Avoid the crash and smash the friction.
For on the hills or on the level
A noisy shift sounds like the devil.

It is necessary to understand that there are several sets of wheels within the gear-case running on parallel shafts, and that the meshing together of the several sets makes the difference in the speeds. Now, if the several gears which are to be engaged were of the same number of teeth and revolved at the same rate of speed always, there would be no trouble to mesh them noiselessly.

REPORT SALE OF THREE 1919 DODGES

W. H. Smedley, Local Agent, Brings in Carload—Three Buy Second-Hand Cars.

The Dodge car, of which J. A. Gilker's was the pioneer in the Nelson district, was introduced this year on an agency basis by W. H. Smedley, who brought in a carload.

He reports the sale of three. Purchasers are Dr. Gilbert Hartin, Thos. Roberts and R. Kilbey.

Mr. Smedley also reports the sale of a second-hand Ford to W. J. McKim; a second-hand Chevrolet to Mrs. Marcus Martin, and another second-hand Chevrolet to J. Kenney.

A five-passenger closed automobile in North China will usually be seen carrying 13 persons. Reason: The closed cars are much favored by officials who believe it adds to their distinction to be invisible. Furthermore, each car bearing perhaps three officials also bears two drivers and eight soldiers.

Newspaper Advertising in War and Peace

The Victory Loan drives, the Red Cross drives, the various war charities were made successful with the aid of newspaper advertising.

Nothing else would have aroused the people so quickly. No means of communication ith the mass of the people would have been so prompt and so low in cost.

Today newspaper advertising is helping bring the world back to balance.

It is opening the natural channels of commerce, starting the mines and mills and opening jobs for the returning soldiers.

DESCRIBING ONE OF THE FIRST LESSONS IN GOLF

(By O'N., in Saturday Night.)

It may seem to the non-golfing reader—"non-golfing" is good, it sounds so scientific—it may seem we repeat, that golf lessons are unnecessary and a joke. No doubt, the non-golfer above-mentioned has seen fat gentlemen in mussy flannels herding docile little white balls about with an assortment of deadly-looking weapons, and has wondered why anyone with the mentality of a Brazilian parrot should waste time over an operation so obviously easy and futile. And as for taking lessons in the matter—well, the non-golfer would about as soon take lessons in making mud-pies or rolling peanuts or drinking water, though the last is something that quite a number of gentlemen are finding it pretty hard to learn. The ability to drink water, however, is not a question of technique, and they are certainly not taking any lessons in it—none that they can avoid.

All we can say to the non-golfer who talks this way is that he has the surprise of his life coming to him once he is driven to golf by the doctor's orders or the desire to get away from his business or his wife. Then he will find out—but perhaps it would be best simply to tell him what happened to ourself. It is not a thing we are proud of But if the recital of what occurred just outside the city limits the other afternoon should prove a useful warning to any other sojourner in this vale of tears—well, what are our personal feelings that they should be permitted to stand in the way?

Having reached that time of life when a man takes up golf seriously—just as he takes up health-belts, nerve foods, and mineral water in the morning—we decided to go at the game in the properly scientific spirit. In our previous experiences of golf we had just strolled out casually with a friend, and in a playful mood had beaten the balls around with the first club that came handy. If we didn't have a club within reach we used the crook in the top of our walking stick.

Extraordinary Results

Naturally we accomplished some very extraordinary results—and quite a few that were not nearly so extraordinary. But one thing we did notice about such shots as we made, and that was the beautiful curve we got on them—an in-shoot that would have made Christy Matthewson go back to marbles. Every time we hit a ball that rose high enough off the ground to make it safe for a grasshopper to sit up in bed that ball would start bending away to the right in a very beautiful but somewhat erratic manner. Several times we had an uneasy suspicion that it was trying to sneak around back of us and kick us in in the stance for what we had been doing to it.

At first we thought that curve rather a notable achievement in its way. In fact, our friends remarked on it. One of them asked us if we were sure we had never played golf before. Blushingly we said we had not.

"Well, then, all I can say, old man, is that in five minutes you have developed the most marvellous slice I have ever seen; and for twenty years or more I have watched the finest slicers in the world at work."

Naturally we were gratified—anyone would be until they discovered that a "slice" is about as desirable as a chronic leak in the gas-pipes, or Wilhelm as a given name, or a pet skunk. But we didn't know this at the time. We felt that we had a natural genius for golf, and that when we finally turned our talents seriously to the game, they could call in all the old records for the various courses and tear them up. These would be even less useful than a 1913 map of Europe, except for purposes of comparison, of course.

Had the Idea

So confident were we of the sureness of our stance and the correctness of our grip and the smoothness of our follow-through—we had been glancing hurriedly through the fifty or sixty of the new spring books on golf—that we had no idea of seeking professional coaching whatever. In fact, we were afraid it might cramp our style. Our golfing friends, however, to whom we casually mentioned our intention, were horrified.

"But if you don't take lessons, you'll develop all sorts of bad habits," they warned us.

We didn't know just what bad habits we could possibly develop. It is true we might lose our temper and admonish a caddy with a cleek, or we might yell "Fore!" at the president of the club, or we might bounce a particularly long drive off some poor fellow holing out on the green; but we would soon get over these little faults once our attention was called to the matter—consideration, that's us all over, Mabel!

However, if it was customary to take the Pro out and astonish him before getting right into the game—well, darn the expense! Besides, we felt that it would be nice to have a little expert praise. There might also be some slight detail where he could help us—some little finishing touch, as it were. But as for the foundation of our game, we didn't intend to have that affected. We wished to preserve our individual style.

As we intimated above, it was a bright and bouncing afternoon of spring—one of those days when you feel that if you were to hit a ball as hard as you could, it would sail off and kill a cow in the next county. So we hustled up our new golf club, and blew breezily in, and picked out a nice shiny locker for ourself, and proceeded to climb into a brand new golf outfit. Oh no, not knickers!—we prefer trousers that we can get into and out of without calfing in all the servants to help. But a nice pair of dove-grey long pants with a crease so sharp you could hardly see our legs at all unless you caught them sideways. A pale blue shirt went with this and a slightly darker blue tie, and—well, if anyone noticed a high-light on the landscape that afternoon, the high-light was us, indubitably.

Not that our costume was universally admired—candor impels us to admit that it was not. Two elderly gentlemen, who came in from the course looking as if they had been out in their old pyjamas digging a drain, glanced at us in cold disapproval. Then they went off to one side and held a fairly audible conversation about "all sorts of people" who were "breaking into" golf clubs days, and one of them asked the other what in the world the board of directors could be thinking about. Later we saw them driving away in a big limousine, so it can't be poverty that makes them dress that way on the links. We begin to suspect that it may be the fashion.

We hurried out to the caddy-house—(no, Gertrude, they keep the tees on the grounds)—and there we found the Pro (short for Professor) waiting for us with four golfing weapons under his arm and a somewhat rebellious looking little boy. He handed the little boy two of the things for us.

"Are these all the golf-sticks you are bringing?" we asked in consternation, for naturally we had expected to employ all the resources of the golfing artillery.

The Pro winced a little at the word "sticks," as if an old wound had just given him a twinge; but he answered in a mild and even pensive tone.

"Probably you will find sir, that these two clubs will be enough for today," he said, with just a slight pause on the word "clubs" to let it filter through our intelligence.

We got it all right, and we blushed, for we suddenly remembered a friend of ours once telling us that a man who would talk of a golf-club as a "stick" in Scotland could be sentenced to solitary confinement in the dungeons of Edinburgh Castle. It was a worse demeanor, he said, than trying to borrow tobacco.

The Pro led us down a winding mountain trail to a secluded spot in the valley. We would have preferred to give our exhibition right out in front of the club-house; but it occurred to us that perhaps he did not want our skill to be too great a discouragement to any other new members who might be about. We went willingly enough, but we did not altogether like the idea of having to climb up again in a few minutes to begin our triumphant round of the course.

Place to Exclaim

There was a tee on the far side of a steep hill, where none but the ear of the Recording Angel could hear the remarks one might make in one's anguish of mind. It was a very badly battered tee, with the ground torn and gouged in all directions, as though the Germans had been removing a village church. Evidently there had been a terrible struggle there at one time.

The Pro said it was the practice ground, and then he handed us one of the sticks—no, no, clubs—and made us grip it near the end with our left hand and then with our right in the stiffest and most awkward fashion ever known to man. Next he made us swing it up over our shoulder keeping both arms almost straight. It sounds easy, but try it, dear reader, try it—that's all we have to say. If it doesn't make you feel and look like one of those dwarf pines the Japanese torture into strange shapes, we will eat a couple of golf-balls.

"That's fine," said the Pro in his most soothing tone, "but you mustn't be so rigid, you must relax while doing it."

Relax!—Good Lord, that was the crowning insult. Relax, while your left shoulder is gouging your Adam's Apple, while your left knee is dislocated, and you can feel both your kidneys working loose from their moorings! We smiled a wintry smile and promised to wag an ear from time to time—it was the only part of us that didn't feel paralyzed.

"Now bring the club down with a full swing," said the Pro, "and hit the ground a smart slap."

The thing seemed almost childish, but we decided to humor him. So we swung. It was so good to get some action that we swung ourselves right off our feet. But we didn't hit the ground—it must have dodged when it saw the club coming. We tried again, and still it eluded us.

"Club seems a little short, doesn't it?" we asked.

Pro's, Nice Fellows

He said it was probably rather short for us, and we would do much better when we had our own clubs—nice fellows, Pro's!—but would we please try again? We did, and at about the sixth try we really connected. We connected with a vengeance. Burying the head of the club in the ground, we nearly jarred the whole tee loose—also our teeth. If there had been a golf-ball there it would have come out on the fairway of one of the golf-courses near Melbourne, Australia.

"Very good, very good, indeed," said the Professor, "and now I'll give you a tee to hit."

He stuck a little triangular gob of wet sand, and the second stage of our humiliation began. We tore up the ground all around that thing. We dug out a complete system of approach and firing trenches. We filled the air with turf and clay. And through it all that infernal tee stood serene and unshaken. Heaven only knows how far the work of excavation would have gone—we were sunk to the knees when the Pro stopped us.

"Perhaps we had better try a ball," he said gently, putting one on the tee.

Our self-confidence returned to us. We heaved a sigh of relief. At last we were to be given a chance. Taking a new grip of the club, we glanced over to see if the little boy was standing far enough away—it occurred to us that it might have been well to equip him with binoculars. Slowly and resolutely we raised the lethal weapon, and—but perhaps we had better tell about that some other day when we feel stronger.

Rheumatism

Rheumatism has become so common nowadays that hundreds of people make no effort to rid themselves of its fatal grip, believing it to be incurable save in exceptional cases.

No greater fallacy exists. Sufferers from rheumatism can be relieved if the cause is remedied and removed.

Let us examine the facts. The direct cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is poisoning of the blood stream, through failure of the kidneys to filter and remove the impurities that are constantly collecting in the system.

Once the kidneys are out of order, the trouble starts. The poison-ladened blood circulating through the system deposits its impurities in the muscles and joints, setting up infection, and Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, etc., follow.

The first step necessary is to bring the kidneys to perform their natural function once again, and relief will be the immediate result. Gin Pills will do it, and will save weeks of fearful suffering if taken at the first indications of rheumatism.

Gin Pills have been recognized as an assured relief to sufferers from rheumatism, backache, painful urination, brick dust deposits, and gravel. Thousands of testimonials bear witness to the fact that they relieve kidney or bladder troubles instantly. Try them. For sale everywhere at 50c a box. Gin Pills cost little, but are worth a lot. FACE PEELING HABIT BECOMING FASHIONABLE

Women of fashion and refinement seem to have been acquiring the mercolized wax habit, depending less and less upon cosmetics for their complexion difficulties. It does seem a lot saner to just peel off the wornout skin when it loses its youthful color and appearance—now that this can be done so easily, safely, painlessly and economically.

There's no trouble getting mercolized wax at any drug store (an ounce will do), since its virtues have become generally known here, and there's no trouble using it—just as you use cold cream, applying at night, washing it off next morning. The wax takes off the old scarf skin, in tiny flakes, a little each day. The new under-skin, which gradually appears, is velvety soft and beautifully white, radiant with girlish loveliness. Any surface trouble like pimples, red or yellow patches, freckles, etc., vanishes of course with the discarded cuticle.

LETTER OF A GIRL FROM THE PRAIRIE TO HER CHUM

Dear Edith:—

You will know by the postmark that I arrived in Nelson. I have so much to say about the trip that I really don't know where to begin. The first part was, of course, not so interesting to me, for while I like the prairie and its expanse, it cannot compare to the beauty of this wonderland. From the time I left McLeod it seemed that it was just one wonder after another, and each one was a little more beautiful than the other. The mountains, lakes, river and falls are indescribable—it is a varied picture; there seems to be everything here.

On the train I received my introduction, and from the time I left Kootenay Landing on the boat until I reached Nelson I felt as if I was in a dream.

It was getting late in the afternoon and heavy clouds were draped round the mountains, which semed to be within hand's reach on either side of the lake. The water was as smooth as glass and the boat seemed to glide along, just as if it was afraid it would disturb the peacefulness of the scene.

First I went inside and found a comfortable place to rest for I was tired of the ride on the train; but I couldn't stay.

I went out on deck and found a corner where I could even breathe that atmosphere.

Kootenay Wonderland

Edith, I wish that you could just have even a glimpse of that ride to Nelson. As it got later the clouds disappeared and the stars twinkled just like they do on the prairie, but below there was so much more The mountains stood up in a sort of defiant way, making a broken, irregular outline on the sky. The tops were covered with snow and the white cap was such a contrast to the blue of the sky and the black of night. The only thing I could think of to compare it with anything I had ever seen on the prairie was the dandelions going to seed out behind our house; and then I thought the comparison was so ridiculous that I laughed.

The boat has a big searchlight and as we came up to each landing place the light would play on the wharf and the half dozen or so who were there in each instance. There are no big towns along the route; in fact all I could see could hardly have been called a village, although I have since learned that there are stores in these places and anyway they don't need much—they have something better than man can build.

Along about 8 o'clock I was told that we were nearing Nelson. I was downright sorry to hear it. I wanted to sit right there in my cosy corner and just ride on and on to the end. I think I would have been content. But I did not spend any time worrying about it, I just kept on drinking in the spirit of the Kootenays at night.

Wanted to Stay

Finally the boat whistled or "blew" I guess would better describe it—for I nearly jumped overboard, I was so startled. I reluctantly went in and got my grip. I consoled myself with the thought that I had enough surprises for one girl in a day anyway, and so sauntered out on deck again.

And another surprise awaited me. When I looked up as I closed the door out on the deck I saw thousands of little lights on the mountainside.

Nestling there was the place they called Nelson. It seemed to me to be twice as big as what I had expected. As we swung up to the wharf there were a hundred there waiting for the boat to come in. A train was there, a dozen autos and hacks and busses; it seemed so much like a big town in the wrong place that I hesitated long enough in front of a jitney man for him to grab my grip and I was helped into the car and taken to a hotel.

Nature is Here

And while this is not nearly all I have to say I must not write any more now, for I have to go to work. What little I have seen only makes me want to see more. I cannot understand how it is that the Nelson people themselves do not 'just sit around and stare at what they have in the way of pretty surroundings. I don't want to work at all. There is a waterfall, a river, a lake, boating, fishing, autoing, city life, country life, everything within a stone's throw of the postoffice—and I said postoffice, Edith, because I want you to be sure and write me often for pretty as it is I am lonely for my little friend on the prairie.

Heaps of love,

MABEL.

COALMONT MINE TO INCREASE ITS OUTPUT

PRINCETON, B. C.—J. D. Pendergast, who was down from Coalmont this week, says that the Mountain Lumber company has 300,000 feet of standing timber on its limits. There is a good demand for lumber, and there will be no trouble in finding a ready market for the season's output.

More men are being put to work at the coal mine and three trucks are hauling coal from the mine to the railway. The Coalmont coal is in big demand for use on the locomotives of the C. P. R. and G. N. and these roads are taking the entire output of the mine.

A. D. Wargon, the new postmaster at Coalmont, has had a new building erected for his office.

RECORD YEAR FOR JAM FACTORY

McDonald Company Calls for Ten Times More Berries for Season—Addition Ready Soon.

Within a few weeks the big addition to the McDonald Jam factory will be completed and everything will soon be ready for the biggest year in the history of the company, Mr. McDonald said yesterday. The company is already advertising for 800 acres of berries, which is 10 times the acreage required last year. Machinery valued at $10,000 will be installed for candy-making just as soon as business warrants it. "The plant will, when running to full capacity, necessitate the employing of 100 persons," Mr. McDonald said.

Already large part of the walls, which are of Kootenay marble, have been built. The rock used is of unusual large size.

When finished the local plant will have a total floor space of some 21,000 square feet, which is more than double the present floor area.

Veteran Tells of a Terrible Experience

Before He Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Postmaster of Hereford Points the Way to Health to Other Sufferers From Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Hereford, Que., May 9.—(Special.)—Mr. A. Peabody, the veteran postmaster here, is one of the many old people who claim to have received a new lease of life through the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Peabody is in his 84th year, but wonderfuly strong and active for one of his age. But he was not always thus. "For six years," he says, in telling his story, "I suffered from kidney and bladder trouble. I had those sharp, streaky, lightning pains through my muscles, even to my finger tips.

"In March, 1917, I was taken with a shaking chill and deathly pains through my abdomen, groins, and the small of my back. I was confined to my bed for three weeks, during which time I often had to get up as often as twenty or thirty times a day.

"I tried many remedies, but got little benefit till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. In three days I got relief, and three boxes cleared all the pains out of my system. I also rest much better at nights.

"I am always glad to tell other sufferers from kidney and bladder trouble what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me."

Ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

WANTED INVENTIONS

AN interesting and encouraging thing about these fortune producing inventions is that most of them are of ordinary or minor value in themselves. If you have a notion that you must invent a big thing to make money, get rid of it at once. Many of the Patents that have made their inventors millionaires are those which contained very few entirely new ideas. The simplest ideas have earned fortunes for their patentees. The safety razor, the sanitary drinking cup, the hump hairpin, the demountable tire rim—any of these could have been invented by a man of average ability. In your every day life, at home, at your office, in your shop you handle any number of articles that are subject to improvement. If you can think of a way of improving some article or process already in use, or if you can invent a new useful device or process or article of manufacture, you are on the road to fortune. Dennison made a fortune from a single shipping-tag. Prepare now to meet the demands of Industry in All Fields for New Ideas and New Inventions. News of the Churches

NEW YORK CHURCH WILL OMIT MENTION OF CHRIST

NEW YORK, N.Y.—The Chuch of the Messiah, Park avenue and Thirty Fourth street, by a vote of its members, has adopted a new statement of purpose, from which mention of Christ and Christianity is omitted.

The Rev. John Haynes Holmes, the pastor, announced that henceforth the church will not recognize sect, class, nation or race."

"We are taking a step that will put our church abreast of the times," said Dr. Holmes. "A spirit of progress is awakening in all religions although it has not yet manifested itself in most churches. We believe the day of denominationalism is gone. I, myself, am a Christian, and I believe the best in Christianity and the best in Judaism are identical. We already have about fifty Jews and some Hindus in our membership. Chinese will be welcome regardless of their faith You will notice that Christianity is not mentioned in our new statement of purpose." c

The statement of purpose as adopted by the members read:

"This church is an institution of religion dedicated to the service of humanity. Seeking truth in freedom it strives to apply it in love and cultivation of the character, the fostering of fellowship, in work and worship, and the establishment of a righteous social order, which shall bring abundant life to man. Knowing not sect, class, nation nor race, it welcomes each to the service of all.

CHURCH BRIEFS

An Anglican church at Bridgeburg has acquired a former motion picture theatre, which the rector uses in illustrating sermons at special services.

Rev. Mr. Lindsay, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Kirkfield, was presented with a purse of gold and a Masonic emblem (a gold locket) previous to his departure for British Columbia, where he will take up mission work.

Lindsay's campaign for $5,000 to the India Relief fund was headed by $150 from the Hands Across club.

BIBLICAL NAMES

Biblical names are not now so common as formerly. In Nova Scotia, however, ther are still prime favorites. A journalist in that province says that in Canso, Nova Scotia, are six brothers whose given names are respectively: Cyrus, Elias, Silas, Ananias, Zacharias and Cornelius. "Strange to say," the journalist adds, "some years ago these brothers were working on one of the fish wharves when a heavy thunderstorm came up and Ananias was struck by lightning."

SOME NEW SANDWICHES

Almost the most appetizing sandwich fillings are the fish pastes which can be bought at the grocers. These pastes spread sparingly on the bread with a little shredded lettuce produce a delightful result.

Among other fillings that are always acceptable, though exceedingly usual, are those made from combinations of cream cheese. Cream cheese and green peppers, cream cheese and pimntos, cream cheese and olives, cream cheese and celery and a dozen other tasteful combinations of cream cheese.

Among newer sandwich combinations, however are:

Minced celery and mayonnaise dressing with one slice of white bread and one slice of brown bread.

Apple sauce with lemon juice and grated lemon peel and whipped cream. These ingredients should be mixed thoroughly and spread on thin slices of whole wheat bread.

Dry broiled bacon and cooked chicken liver put through the meat chopper and mixed with mayonnaise dressing.

Minced celery, canned salmon and mayonnaise with shredded lettuce.

Raisins chopped and mixed with mayonnaise dressing with or without the addition of chopped nuts.

For a reception or any occasion refreshments are taken standing, sandwiches are eaten without the aid of a fork and often with the gloves on. The fact that they are to be thus eaten should be borne in mind in making them. The filling should never be put on so lavishly that it soaks through the bread or comes out at the edges, and the bread, although it should be cut very thin, should never break or crumble.

ASIA CARRIES BRIDE-TO-BE TO CHINA FOR WEDDING

VICTORIA.—Last August Ho Te Hui came to Victoria as the secretary of Tang Hua Lung, Chinese statesman, ex-minister of education and ex-minister of the interior. Here he met Mr. Lee Mong, a prominent local Chinaman, and his daughter, Miss Lee Yut Wah, society belle. The secretary and the young lady became enamored with one another, but the romance was broken suddenly when Tang Hua Lung was shot and killed by an assassin in Chinatown on September 1. For several days the remainder of the statesman's party remained in hiding, guarded by local detectives. They took the first boat back to China. The affair was forgotten.

When the Empress of Asia left here yesterday morning she had as a passenger on board Miss Lee Yut Wah, bound for China. She is on her way to join Ho Te Hui, and the couple will be married in Peking. Mrs. Lee Mong Kow has gone with her daughter, and has taken her son, Lee Yock Choy, with her. The boy will go to college in Peking, and Mrs. Lee Mong Kow will return home very soon.

Says Harem Women Ugly

American Girl, Just Returned From 16 Years Abroad, Tells of Belles of Seraglio.

New York.—Judged by American standards, the belles of the harem at Tangier are quite ugly, declared Miss Agnes Kennedy, 17, of Burmont, Delaware County, who visited a handsomely appointed seraglio.

Miss Kennedy and her sister, Miss Mary Kennedy, 18, and their mother, returned to the United States after spending 16 years abroad.

The liner stopped at Gibraltar and Miss Mary climbed to the top of the fortified rock. Miss Agnes Kennedy and two other girls went to Tangier to see what a harem looked like.

They found one with six girls and one husband, an Arab who spoke French and told of his other harem in the mountains, in which he had eight more wives. The American girls told the wives they were very beautiful, at which the Arab looked much pleased.

"They were rather ugly," Miss Kennedy confessed.

Miss Mary Kennedy became a worker in a Red Cross canteen in Rome, where she became so popular with American ambulance drivers that she was known as "the Daughter of the American Ambulance." She wears the insignia of the American ambulance.

The American soldiers convinced Mrs. Kennedy that the United States was a better place for her family than Europe. The girls never liked the restraint imposed by European customs, particularly the necessity for taking a chaperone along when they went from their school to their home. Italian girls marvelled at what they called the bravery of the sisters.

ORIGIN OF THE JAZZ

Twenty years ago when I was in Florida, parties of negroes used to come around with their banjos and sing, says a writer in the London Daily Mail. Very often, as they played and sang, they would do a swaying step, first to one side and then to the other—very similar to the American roll, as it is now danced.

And sometimes, when these men had partaken of drinks, not wisely but too well, the roll was very pronounced. Then we used to say, in the American slang of the day, that they "had a jazz on," and we nicknamed them the jazz band.

There is no doubt that the jazz as danced today was originated years ago by those darkies 'way out in Florida.

"ALLEGRO"

Oh, everyone's a little mad,
And riotous and gay,
For Spring, all decked with daffodils,
Is dancing down the way!

The birds are singing roundelays
Atop of every tree,
From feathered throats a million notes
Burst forth in ecstacy.

New life is springing from the earth,
New hopes within us rise,
Our clouds so black at last have fled
And left but laughing skies.

So everyone's a little mad,
And riotous and gay,
And all join hands with Spring who comes
A-dancing down the way!

Chintz Charms in Living Room

Canadian Housewives Adopting English Way of Covering Furniture With Cool Looking Fabric

The living room in summer is a delightful place, with its fresh chintz coverings and its many bowls and vases of flowers. Housewives on this side of the Atlantic are borrowing the English idea of chintz covers for summer time, but the custom is not as prevalent as it ought to be in this country, where summers are long and torrid and cretonnes are plentiful, says a writer in the Farm and Home Magazine.

Prints and chintzes—that is one's happy recollection of a certain cheery living room in England; a long, low room with windows opening to the floor upon a terrace. The carpet was worn, the wallpaper was by no means modern, but that room was full of homelikeness, freshness and charm. It was partly the good looking, good quality chintzes which showed a pattern of mulberry, maroon and faint pink chrysanthemums on a background of blurred green leaves; partly the well-chosen prints, simply framed, in black, that had been substituted for heavier oil paintings during the summer months, and partly the fresh flowers which were always to be found in profusion in this room.

It always pays to put a summer dress on the winter living room, but one of the changes that many housewives do not think of is the pictures. Much better to take down and put away the oil and water paintings and replace them with cool looking prints, framed photographs or etchings than to swathe the paintings in forlorn looking fly netting. And fresh chintzes over davenport and upholstered chairs will give just as attractive and summery a suggesaion as the expensive wicker furnishings that many women long for but cannot afford.

Cretonnes are finding their way into even the library, where linen crash used to be the only acceptable material for summer covers. One woman who has a genius for discovering inexpensive ways to do things has put covers of striped green and tan gingham over her library furniture, and the effect is very good, indeed.

AMATEUR MILLINER CAN MAKE MIRRORED VELVET

Mirrored velvet is so much in vogue that a word of explanation as to the home process may be helpful. Any ordinary piece of velvet may be mirrored with the proper care. All that is necessary is a hot iron and a steady hand, for the velvet must be stroked with the iron, on the right side, at regular intervals. The iron must be kept moving quickly and in the same direction, in order to insure a smooth and mirror-like surface. The amateur would do well to practice for a few moments with an old piece of velvet before attempting to work with her actual materials. The process is not difficult and, if carefully done, will save the extra expense charged for the finished product. Mirrored velvet hats are pretty when trimmed with chenille or ostrich feather trimming, and a fancy braid of crocheted chenille is another attractive finish in the mirrored hat.

Jellied Rice and Orange With Currant Sauce.

One-half cup rice, one-half teaspoon salt, two oranges (one cup orange juice), one-half cup sugar, one level teaspoon granulated gelatine.

Wash and boil the rice, dust with salt as usual; save two cups of the rice stock and put it back to boil. Soak the gelatine in one tablespoon cold water ten minutes, dissolve in hot rice stock; when dissolved add the sugar and orange juice and a very little grated orange rind. Pour over the cold boiled rice, mix well. Put in mold or bowl which has been rinsed with cold water, turn out in glass bowl and pour the sauce around. The juice of one-half leman will add to the jellied rice.

Escalloped Raisins With Apples.

One cup seeded raisins, one and one-quarter cups brown sugar or syrup, one quart apples, pared and quartered, one quarter teaspoon salt, one-quarter cup bread, cracker or cake crumbs, one teaspoon butter substitute.

Brush bake dish or casserole with butter, put in half the raisins, cover with half the apples, dust with salt. Add the balance of raisins, then apples; sprinkle with a little salt; cover with sugar, the water and the crumbs over the top and cover. SAVES MONEY FOR WORKERS egions Who Ride Bicycles Have $80,000,000 More Than They Would Have Without Them.

Largely used by workingmen for the aily trips between the home and fac-ry, the bicycle represents a saving approximately $80,000,000 annually the legions of skilled mechanics. According to an estimate made b an pert, there are now 2,900,000 bicycles North America. Eighty-six per cent these owners, or 2,494,000 cyclists, e their wheels for riding to and from eir places of employment.

It is not unreasonable to suppose at each of these 2,494,000 owners, ing their bicycles in their work save least 10 cents a day, $2.60 a month, $31.20 a year in street car fares, hich means an annual saving to the rkingmen awheel of $77,712,800.

To these 2,494,000 workingmen the bicycle affords the most efficient, dependable and economical means of transport possible. The saving in daily street car fare alone, pays for the $50 wheel in less than two years.

Unlike the automobile, which has proven itself to be a national necessity in war times as well as in days of peace, the initial cost and expense of upkeep of the bicycle is anything but prohibitive to the man earning $15 to $35 a week.

Bicycle riding, in fact, is cheaper than walking, with shoes selling at their present prices.

In Wilmington, N. C., a city of 25,000 people, there are six public schools, with about 5,500 pupils, and half of these pupils now ride bicycles to and from school.

Many of the Boy scouts also ride bicycles, and they, too, are arranging for a cycling club. The physical director of the Y. M. C. A. is also forming a bicycle club.

Bicycle clubs in the public schools are a recent development in several cities.

FRIEND AND COMPANION FOUND IN THE BICYCLE

IN TIME NOT LONG AGO IT WAS ONE OF THE WONDERS OF THE DAY WHICH CAUSED OLD INDIAN CHIEF TO SAY, "HUH! HEAP LAZY MAN! SITS DOWN TO WALK"—BUT NOW IT'S A NECESSITY IN A PLACE NO OTHER VEHICLE FILLS.

Within the memory of men still living, some of them not very old men either, the bicycle was one of the wonders of the age. Farm boys would run to the front gate merely to see one passing. Anyone riding a bicycle down a city street, not only looked like a dare-devil adventurer, but was an object of more curious attention than if he had worn a diving suit or had ventured out with a straw hat on in February. Horses "shied" at the wheeled wonder, just as they afterwards "shied" at the first autos; and newspapers chronicled a few "incidents" then—bicycle burglaries, bicycle elopements, and other things—just as they do now. Away off in some western wilderness, Chief What-His-Name of the Seven Smoking tribes voiced the sentiments of the red men in these words: "Huh! Heap lazy man! Sits down to walk!"

Development of Bicycle.

Looking backward from the vantage point of present day excellence in every line of mechanical invention, there were good reasons why people should stop and stare at a bicycle in those days. The very idea that a machine which wouldn't stand up alone unless propped, would run without upsetting and carry a full sized man, was fascinating in itself. And then the size and make-up of these first bicycles—those old "Ordinaries" as they were called, with a front wheel as high as the moon, a rear wheel as small as a mushroom, and a man seated astride a steel pole between the two, whirling his feet around in circles—it was really something extraordinary. Balloons, flying machines and bloomers had nothing on them. The only man who couldn't really appreciate the situation was the rider, who "took a tumble" when that front wheel struck a stone—he was usually unconscious for an hour afterwards.

Then came the first "safety" bicycle—that modified, dainty little creature (by comparison only), with the front and rear wheels both the same size, a crank and chain wheel slung between, and a saddle within vaulting distance of mother earth. It was indeed a vast improvement. A few slow movements of the feet sent the creature spinning; a pressure of the hand on a brake stopped it again—sometimes with uncomfortable suddenness; and always there was the comfortable feeling that, if the worst came to the worst—if there was an indifferent and slow moving cow on the road, or a ditch to keep out of, or a steep hill to climb—it wasn't far down to terra firma, and a man could always make it by a jump—if his legs didn't get tangled up in the mechanism.

What It Means to Boyhood.

As the writer remembers it, a boy who owned a bicycle in those days was some considerable personage in his neighborhood. Not only was he recognized as a capitalist—for a wheel then cost as much as a good horse and buggy, unless you bought it from the junk dealer—but on purely personal grounds, people from far and near courted his acquaintanceship; the reeve would stop and speak to him on the highway; the village doctor, probably anticipating new business, always approached with a smile on his face and a twinkle in his eye. In one particular respect that boy with a bicycle was favored above all men; he could go courting when other and less fortunate fellows had to stay at home. Distance was no hindrance; time counted not; storms never stayed him. It was a cruel advantage to take, but he always took it. When some chivalrous inventor built a bicycle for girls the millenium had surely come.

A Great Health-Giver.

For the sake of those advantages and some others bicyclists were willing to endure a few discomforts. And there were a few. For instance, pneumatic tires hadn't then been invented. The first bicycle tires were of solid rubber, about three-quarters of an inch in diameter. To say that they made comfortable riding would be something of an exaggeration. Subsequently the tires were made much larger in diameter, with a sort of vacancy or layer of spongy rubber in the centre. What they gained in comfort then they also gained in weight. The whole machine was, indeed, a somewhat weighty proposition; the minimum was about 40 pounds and the maximum would tire out a good strong team of oxen. And the saddles weren't exactly like arm chairs, except in the matter of size. It is on record that a person riding a few miles on one of them preferred to stand up for the remainder of the day—if his legs would carry him!

But gradually, as in all things else in this world, improvements and developments occurred. The solid tires became pneumatic, the old-time triangular frames became the modern "drop" or "diamond" frames, the straight spokes became tangent, the steel rims became wood, the weight was lessened, the strength increased, the saddles made comfortable, and the price of the outfit brought within reach of everyone. In a word, the modern "safety," the wheel of the present year of grace in the nineteenth century, had "arrived." The bicycle, a more wonderful piece of mechanism, had ceased to be wondered at and had become popular. Nay, more; it had become the friend and companion of man. It was found to be a means to health, wealth and human contentment. It suited all ages and both sexes alike. It had a quietness, a dignity, a mission, and a place all its own. Those qualities will always remain with it. From the position which it holds it will never be displaced.

RIDE A BICYCLE
Ten Reasons Why

1. CONVENIENT—Always ready, always steady. No horse to feed, no gasoline to buy.
2. HEALTHFUL—Develops boys and girls physically and mentally. Keeps everybody young.
3. ECONOMICAL—Saves time and money. And remember—time is money if rightly treasured.
4. FULL OF FUN—Whisks you to the golf links or tennis courts and keeps you in fit form for work or play.
5. ENCOURAGES THRIFT — Insures maximum mileage at minimum expense to money-earner.
6. KEYED TO EMERGENCIES—The modern bicycle is as valuable as the telephone in making time yield to necessity.
7. OUT-OF-DOORS—Takes you out to the pleasure of lake, woods and valley without discomfort or fatigue.
8. BICYCLES AND SPORT—It's great sport to sprint and coast—exciting, exiliarating and restful.
9. LAUGH AT TROLLEYS—Start later, get there sooner; escape crowds and uncertain schedules.
10. SUITS EVERYBODY—Whether man or woman, boy or girl, business or pleasure—it spells UTILITY.

There's a great big WHY for every bicycle you buy.

WHEN GRANDPA WAS A BOY—AND NOW

When grandpa was a young man, a bicycle he rode, stood 5 feet high with backbone, say, it was just a-la-mode. Foot on step he hopped along, into the seat he slid. Oh, life was just one grand sweet song as he fell on his head.

But nowadays, his grandson John a highgrade "safety" rides. It's nifty, light; he just swings on, goes twice as fast besides. Now, all you folks who carfare p just list to my advice. Buy a first class wheel this very day; in one year save the price.

No excuse in these days of expensive living for emphasizing the low cost of bicycling.

GOING TO RIDE ON LONDON RACE TRACK

LONDON, Ont.—Arrangements have been made with the City of London and the Western Fair directors for the use of the half-mile track at Exhibition park for bicycle racing and training three nights each week from April to October. The track is to be reserved for the exclusive use of the bicycle racers on these nights, providing the cyclists show evidence that the track is required.

The non-cyclist has no conception of what a time-saver the bicycle is, to say nothing of the tram and train fares saved by the use of the most economical machine yet made—the bicycle.

A good bicycle will travel for thousands of miles without costing more than a trifle for replacements. The running expenses are infinitesimal—a trifle here for oil, a trifle there for tire repairing material, and the cost of a pair of tires about every 18 months.

MILITARY MEDAL FOR CAPTAIN R. J. GILL

BROCKVILLE.Capt. R. J. Gill, son of J. M. Gill, who went overseas with the 156th battalion, has been awarded the military cross, making the seventh officer of the original battalion to be similarly honored. He conducted a fruit farm near Bowmanville. The military medal has been awarded to Ford King of North Augusta, a private of the same battalion. The same decoration goes to Pte. J. A. Wilson of this town, who went to France with the 38th of Ottawa.

What You Get for the Last $10

WHAT is it worth to you that your C.C.M. will be running more smoothly after long use than many ordinary wheels do when new—that it will still be giving sturdy service years after an inferior wheel is played out—that fewer repairs are needed owing to C.C.M. sincerity of workmanship in every part—that in case of accident, you can get C.C.M. service almost everywhere in Canada?

Imagine getting all this extra service for the last ten dollars you pay! Spread over the much longer life of your C.C.M., the cost to you is but a trifle!

C·C·M· Bicycles

Every running part of a C.C.M. bicycle is made true as a watch. And it keeps true. Every rider of an ordinary wheel has felt the hard pedalling caused by inaccuracies in the crank-hanger—the power plant of a bicycle. He feels an alternate looseness and tightness, indicating friction and loss of driving power. In C.C.M. bicycles the parts subject to wear are not stamped out but are accurately machine ground. Not a whit of driving power is lost.

And the "Hercules" Coaster Brake! All C.C.M. bicycles have it. It is the only brake without a side arm. Lightest and simplest of all brakes, the Hercules is sensitive, sure and powerful. The clutch engages with utmost smoothness. We back this brake with a hard and fast guarantee.

Look at a C.C.M.! After years of hard use its graceful lines are still enhanced by the sparkle of its brilliant enamel. The handle bars, and all bright parts, defy the rain—these are nickelled over a heavy coat of copper—and copper can't rust.

There's a C.C.M. dealer not far away.

BEATTY TO ATTEND BANQUET OF THE ASSOCIATED BOARDS

E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, has replied to the wire which was sent by the Nelson and associated boards of trade of Eastern British Columbia, inviting him to be the guest of honor at a banquet to be held in Nelson on his arrival here on his western tour.

It was proposed that all of the boards of trade of the eastern part of the province take part and that mining, lumbering, agricultural and commercial interests as well be represented at the gathering.

A committee of the Nelson board, J. R. Hunter and E. F. Gigot, with Commissioner Fred A. Starkey, representing the associated boards, are making arrangements to send out invitations to the different towns throughout the whole of the district.

In connection with the sending out of invitations, the committee asks that any representative interest desiring to attend would confer a favor by so notifying the executive.

CONSTRUCTION MEN ARE LEAVING PRINCETON

PRINCETON, B. C.—Of the 400 men who quit work at W. P. Tierney's construction camps a month ago, probably not more than 150 are now in Princeton. In one day no less than 75 took the trains for the coast and for eastern points. The men here are very orderly. The Associated Press reports sent out from Victoria were greatly exaggerated, for it is safe to say that at no time were the local police unable to cope with the situation. The citizens' committee acted in good faith in calling the attention of the attorney general to the situation, and it must be borne in mind that the sensational reports published in the Vancouver papers were not sent from Princeton. Wm. Owen, of Fernie, deputy inspector of police, has been here for a week giving his counsel and assistance to the local constables. The strikers have appointed 20 men within their ranks to act as peace officers, and any members of the union committing depredations will be at once turned over to the government police. There is a general feeling here that matters will be adjusted soon and that work will be resumed on the opper Mountain railway construction before many days.

Chas. Fishbach, 35, proprietor of a New York foreign exchange ticket office, was held up in his store and robbed of $20,000 in valuables and money.

HE TELLS HOW TO SHIFT GEARS

and instantly. But they are of diverse sizes, and have varying numbers of teeth, necessarily an adjustment of speed must be made if there is to be elimination of noise.

Of course, if you have a car which uses a planetary gear-set, or a magnetic transmission, the problem is entirely eliminated, but the majority of gears are of the three-speed sliding-gear order, thus far considered the best system devised because of cheapness, ease of repair and amount of care required. It requires some study and practise to manipulate it noiselessly. You need not expect to step into a strange car and shift the gears satisfactorily. on the other hand, you should learn the car's whims quickly and have no lack of confidence in handling the levers.

Since when the car is standing, the transmission shaft is at rest, while the gear shaft is revolving at approximately a half the speed of the engine shaft, it follows that to throw in the first-speed gear with the clutch engaged would stir up things considerably. Therefore, the clutch should be released and the gear shaft stopped before the meshing is attempted. Then the clutch is engaged slowly until the car is under way.

When it is desired to increase the speed the engine should be throttled to bring gear shaft and transmission shaft to about the same speed, hesitating in neutral for a few seconds to permit this. I shall not tell you how you can know when the speeds are the same. You must find out for yourself in experiment, so many things enter into the operation that no two cars are exactly alike.

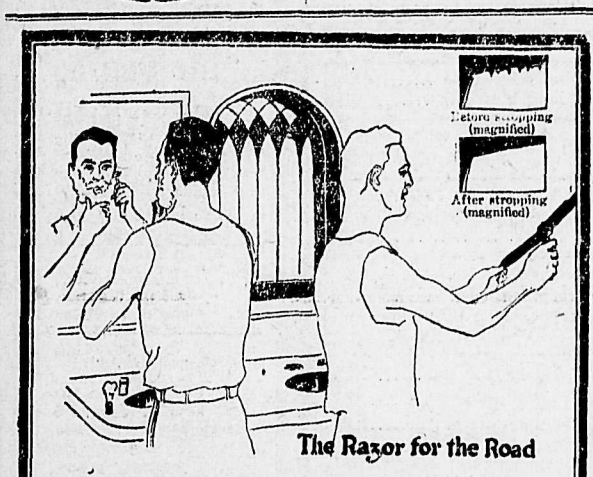
Shifting to the highest speed gear requires a closed throttle and a longer hesitation in neutral. No gears are to be engaged here but teeth must be meshed to connect engine and transmission shafts and must approximate in speed. The teeth will stand pretty tough usage, but noise and jump result when they are not approximate in speed at the moment of engaging.

In slowing down the car, the operation is reversed. Instead of throttling the engine, the accelerator is pressed with the clutch released, so that the gear shaft will speed up to equal the revolutions of the transmission shaft, and in shifting to low speed you must speed up the engine again or check the car. To reverse the car there must be a complete stop with clutch released and lever in neutral. Reverse gears cannot be engaged successfully except when they are motionless.

In case gears do not mesh in engaging for first speed or reverse, with lever in neutral engage clutch gently to change the position of the gears and try again. Sometimes several tries must be made to get the gear teeth in line.

In stopping in traffic, shift to first speed gear always should be made to prevent stalling and exposing you to the policeman's scorn and others' ridicule. True, some of the multi-cylinder engines will pick up the load on second or even on high; but the average car will not, and a little practise will make the shifts so easy that one will not mind the necessity.

If you have the opportunity of looking inside the transmission gear-case and watching the operation of shifting, either in a school, service station or at the show, it will make simple the reasons for extreme care, and give a better idea of the operation than can be had otherwise; but after all, it is practise which will make perfect, and with the foregoing rules in mind and a disposition to learn, any woman ought to master her car in a few lessons.

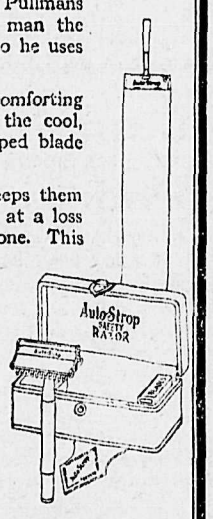


The Razor for the Road

SHAVING in swaying, jerking Pullmans has taught the travelling man the value of "safety first" and so he uses an AutoStrop Razor.

Wherever he goes he enjoys the comforting sense of cleanliness that follows the cool, satiny shave such as only a stropped blade can give.

Stropping saves his blades and keeps them in perfect condition. He is never at a loss for a keen blade for he always has one. This and the fact that the AutoStrop Razor sharpens its own blades and doesn't need to be taken apart for cleaning has lead thousands of travelling men everywhere to speak highly of the AutoStrop Razor to their friends.



Any dealer will sell you an AutoStrop Razor, strop and 12 blades complete for $5.00, on a come-back money-back basis.

HIGHWAYS AS A MEMORIAL

One of the members of the State Legislature of Missouri has prepared a bill for introduction at the session to be held this month which provides for the construction of a great system of highways as a memorial to the 135,000 boys from that state who entered the military service of the United States in the great war.

The bill provides that there shall be at least four cross-state highways running north to south, east to west, northwest to southeast and northeast to southwest—all intersecting at the state capital.
