FRESH HUN FORCES FAIL TO STOP SWEEPING ADVANCE OF ALLIES

FOCH'S TROOPS ARE ADVANCING EVERYWHERE

WEST COAST BOATS IDLE

Engineers Join Captains and Mates

LAKE SERVICE NOT AFFECTED

Canadian Pacific Employees Do Not Support Action

A general tieup of coast shipping, caused by the resignation if captains, mates and engineers, has not affected Kootenay and Arrow lake service and according to information received in the city last evening lake boats will run as usual. All of the Canadian Pacific railway employees are standing out and will not quit work, a Vancouver report says.

Coast Ships Idle

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 23.—Marine engineers have cast their lot with the Canadian Merchant Service Guild, otherwise the captains and mates of the various Canadian coastwise vessels, and the tieup of water transportation in and out of Vancouver tonight is almost complete.

There were no sailings from Vancouver to Seattle tonight. The Union Steamship company, plying between Vancouver and the spruce camps of the north have given official notice of intention to cancel all sailings. The Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Charlotte will leave here tomorrow for Victoria and will tie up there. The Princess Alice, of the same line, will sail for Nanaimo and tie up there. The Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince Albert, with supplies loaded for spruce camps, is tied up.

A number of northern businessmen are marooned in Vancouver, Victoria and other points of British Columbia.

Victoria Will Sail

The guild tonight consented to the sailing of the Princess Victoria for Seattle with a large party of returned soldiers who are anxious to take part in Veterans Day at Camp Lewis. When the vessel returns it will tie up at Victoria.

One of the most serious results of the tie up on coastwise shipping, it was pointed out, is the cutting off of the only channels of supply for the spruce camps of the north engaged in government work, particularly those camps situated on Queen Charlotte Islands. Great importance is attached to keeping a steady stream of supplies going into the camps for the loggers engaged in a war essential work and the constant transport of the product of the camps.

Major Austin C. Taylor, director of the department of aeronautical supplies, said that any extended cutting off of supplies at this time would have a serious result. He made an appeal to both the guild and the steamship companies not to interfere with or interrupt essential activities in the national service.

A number of small companies have signed up with the guild. Those standing out are the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Union Steamship company and the British Columbia Towboat Owners' Association.

GOVERNMENT TO BUY SALMON PACK

Sir Thomas White Announces Purchase Which Will Involve Eight or Nine Million Dollars.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Sir Thomas White, minister of finance, announced that he has arranged with the British authorities to purchase this year's salmon pack of British Columbia. The amount of money required will be eight or nine million dollars, which will be furnished by the Dominion government out of the proceeds of the Victory loan.

The fact that salmon, owing to its high price, is in the second class of foods, has made it impracticable to obtain shipping for private foreign buying. The arrangement will insure the purchase of the pack and give stability to its financing by Canadian banks.

U. S. NAVY ANNOUNCES THREE SHIPS SUNK

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The sinking of three American vessels in foreign waters by German submarines was announced today by the navy department. The steamship Lake Edon, an army chartered cargo transport, was sunk on Aug. 21; the U.S.S. Westbridge, of 8800 tons, on Aug. 16; and the U.S.S. Cubere, of 7300 tons, on Aug. 15. Sixteen of the crew of the Lake Edon are missing, 39 having been accounted for. Three men are reported lost in the sinking of the Westbridge. There was no less of life among the crew of the Cubere.

GERMANS CLAIM SUCCESS IN RUSSIA, REPORT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 23.—German forces were victorious over a force of 1200 insurgents well equipped with artillery and commanded by Gen. Rebenkoff, near Krementchug, according to a Kiev despatch to the Vossische ciung, of Berlin. In a second encounter which occurred near Poltav, 64 miles northeast of Krementchug, the revolutionaries lost 800 men killed and the Germans took six machine guns and other equipment. The survivors of the revolutionary band fled, but their retreat was cut off by the pursuing Germans.

BAVARIANS QUIT BATTLE AND RAN

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 23.—Several prisoners from a Prussian battalion declare that Bavarians fled during the fighting of Aug. 13 before Lassigny, after having declared the evening before in the presence of Bavarian officers that they had become tired of getting themselves killed for others and would let the Prussians pull themselves out of the difficulties as well as they could alone. Recriminations between the Prussians and the Bavarians have been followed by disputes between the different arms of the Teutonic allied service, the prisoners say, the infantry accusing the artillery of inefficiency. Many prisoners assert their regiments suffered from the short fire of their own guns.

SAYS NEWSPAPERS MUST RAISE RATES

Publishers Meet in Vancouver—Decide Question of Higher Charges Only Solution to Situation.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 23.—Discussions of particular interest to newspaper publishers in the province developed at today's session of the second annual meeting of the British Columbia and Yukon division of the Canadian Press association. Further sessions will be held tomorrow when resolutions will be presented and officers elected. Twenty or more representative publishers are in attendance and the visitors were entertained to luncheon at the Hotel Vancouver, where the meeting is being held, by the Vancouver publishers Friday noon.

The newsprint situation was thoroughly reviewed in the course of the afternoon session on Friday. F. J. Burd of Vancouver, who led the discussion, presented facts and figures showing the seriousness of the situation. He mentioned that if newsprint manufacturers were to cease operation immediately there would be no daily newspapers in America within five days. He advocated exercise of care in the use of newsprint and drew attention to the fact that already governmental action had been taken in the United States with a view to cutting down the size of newspapers.

"The labor situation in British Columbia, from the standpoint of the publishers" was the next topic introduced by John Nelson.

An interesting discussion developed on the question of increasing advertising and subscription rates. It was the feeling of the meeting that substantial advances would have to be made shortly if newspapers were to continue in business. The question of free publicity was discussed at some length and the practise of some newspapers of giving free notices of meetings was criticized.

At the evening session the question of publishing the many bulletins sent out to the press by the government was discussed and the matter referred to a committee. Cost systems, commissions to advertising agencies and cooperative buying of supplies were matters also discussed tonight.

At the opening of the meeting Robb Sutherland, in his presidential address, stated that 41 British Columbia newspapers have gone to the journalistic graveyard since war broke out.

'We Shall Continue Action' Avers Marshall

NECESSARY TO HOLD YANKS BACK

British Tell Their Own Story by Changing Map Each Day

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 23.—"Everything is going well. We have begun our action and we shall continue," said Marshal Foch to the war correspondents today.

The marshal received the correspondents in the spacious saloon of an old chateau, where there is more business than luxury today. The most conspicuous objects in the room were the military maps on the walls. Advancing to meet his visitors with simple cordiality, the marshal said:

"I am glad to see you, but I do not know just what I can say to you, other than everything is going well. We have begun our action and we shall continue."

Realities Are Best.

Asked concerning prospects for the future, the marshal said:

"Realities are far better than any sort of promise. It is easy to make promises that may give rise to exaggerated hopes. Nothing but realities count."

Reminded of a previous occasion when he said that the German wave had been broken, Marshal Foch replied:

"Well, now, it is retiring, see for yourself."

Walking to a map on the wall, he pointed out the progress made by the allies since the offensive began in July.

One correspondent having referred to the French soldiers, the marshal said:

"You may say anything you like about them. Whatever you say will never be too much. They are going on without respite, without relief and without rest. We can ask anything of them, they are always ready to go on.

Go Ahead Too Fast.

"You may tell the American people that their soldiers are admirable," said Marshal Foch to the correspondents of the Associated Press. "They ask nothing better than go to their death. They can be reproached only with rushing ahead too fast, it is necessary to hold them back."

Referring to the British troops, Marshal Foch turned again to the map, pointed out the recent gains of Field Marshal Haig's men and said:

"You see they are fighting well, just now, in this burning heat. Their ardor is unfailing. They ask nothing better than to march ahead as you may see from those black marks on the map, which show where they are today."

HUNS MUST NOT HAVE COLONIES

Lord Robert Cecil Says Great Britain Will Soon Publish Evidence of German Brutality.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Lord Robert Cecil, under secretary for foreign affairs, in his weekly interview given today replied to the speech made before the German society on Aug. 21 by Dr. W. S. Wolff, the German secretary of state for the colonies. Lord Robert said the British government has been collecting and will soon publish evidence of Germany's brutality and callousness in governing her colonies, after which the world will agree that the colonies cannot be restored to Germany.

MOVIES ARE ESSENTIAL, RULES UNCLE SAM

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The motion picture industry in all its branches has been recognized as an essential industry by the war industries board. Chairman Baruch announced today that this action had been taken in line with Provost Marshal-Gen. Crowder's ruling under the work or fight regulation, that the industry afforded useful occupation.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MANY GERMANS WERE KILLED

Thousands of Prisoners Are Caged in Victorious Advance of Allied Forces in Picardy

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The following official communication, dealing with the operations on the western front, supplementing Field Marshal Haig's communication, was issued tonight:

"During the day our troops have pressed their attacks vigorously and successfully on a front of more than 30 miles from, Lihons to Mercatel. South of the Somme, English, Scottish and Australian troops, attacking at 4:45 p.m., carried the villages of Herleville, Chuignes and Chuignolles, together with the woods lying between these villages and between Chuignolles and the river.

"In the course of the advance of more than two miles into the German positions, great numbers of the enemy were concentrated and many prisoners were captured by our troops.

"Ten minutes later, English, Scottish and Guards battalions attacked on the left of the battle front and stormed the villages of Gomicourt, Ervillers, Hamelincourt, Bovelles and Boiry-Becquierelle. Here also many prisoners were taken by us and during the remainder of the day our troops have made progress to the east of these villages.

"Meanwhile in the right centre of the battle front, English and Welsh divisions advanced on the German positions on the east bank of the Ancre from southeast of Albert to the neighborhood of Grandcourt and gained ground after heavy fighting. South of Grandcourt a hostile counterattack was successfully beaten off. Later in the morning, about 11 a.m., English troops attacked on the left centre of the battle front, along the line of the railway north of Grandcourt and took Aichiet-le-Grand and Bihucourt and the ridge overlooking Iries. Our troops have continued their attacks during the afternoon. Several thousands of prisoners have been captured by us during the day and heavy casualties inflicted on the enemy."

HON. BOYLE TAKES PLACE OF CROSS

Premier Stewart of Alberta Names New Attorney-General—No Word on Cabinet Vacancy.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

EDMONTON, Aug. 23.—Hon. J. R. Boyle is attorney-general of Alberta in place of Hon. C. W. Cross, retired. This is the information given to the Canadian Press tonight by Premier Stewart. The premier had no announcement to make as regards to filling the cabinet vacancy caused by the retirement of Mr. Cross, but would make such announcement within a few days.

Stewart Says Nothing.

"There is nothing yet to announce," was the terse statement of Premier Stewart this evening, when asked whether Hon. C. W. Cross had tendered his resignation as attorney-general.

The news that the premier had asked Mr. Cross to retire as announced in the morning was the big topic of conversation among officials at the government buildings today. There was considerable speculation among officials as to who would be his successor and what rearrangement there would be of portfolios in view of Hon. Mr. Stewart's statement that none of the other ministers would retire.

The premier lunched at the Macdonald with Hon. Duncan Marshall and Hon. C. R. Mitchell, together with a number of political supporters. It is understood that there was no discussion of the political situation, however. In the meantime it is understood that no reply has bees received from Mr. Cross to the request from the premier than he resign.

General rumors around the parliament buildings had it this morning that the position of attorney-general is to be filled by Hon. J. R. Boyle and Hon. G., P. Smith will succeed Mr. Boyle as minister of education, while Hon. A. G. Mackay will be the new provincial secretary, the position now held by Mr. Smith. Rumor also states that the other members of the cabinet will continue in the positions they occupy at present.

TELEGRAPHERS VOTE ON ACCEPTANCE OF REPORT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—Votes are being taken on the Canadian Pacific system of telegraphs, John Alexander, secretary-treasurer on the Ontario division of the Canadian Pacific railway branch of the Commercial Telegraphers Union of America, said tonight, upon the acceptance of rejection of the majority report of the board, which has just presented its findings in connection with the arbitration proceedings between the Canadian Pacific and its telegraph operators. The Toronto, Hamilton and London locals of the union tonight voted to refuse the majority report.

GERMANS TRIED TO AVOID BATTLE; 35,000 RISONERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Gen. Byng's attacks of the past two days are regarded here as of having been a great success, although the enemy tried tactics of withdrawal in order to avoid battle. But the Germans lost more than 35,000 prisoners besides numbers in killed and wounded and the total British casualties, according to latest reports, have been well below the number of German prisoners.

BRITISH NEVER HIT HUNS HARDER

Villages and Fields Are Being Taken from Teutons Piece by Piece

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Aug. 23.—(Reuter's.)—The newspaper correspondents at the front lay stress on the magnificent enthusiasm with which the British are attacking and overcoming the enemy. They point out that the British offered stout resistance when the Germans counterattacked and when they saw that the enemy was staggering under the shower of blows, increased the punishment without giving him time to look around.

The British are striking as never before, the correspondents say, and are wresting from the enemy, piece by piece, the villages and fields taken by him since March 21. Each of the British partial attacks has finished the victory for them. The Germans will see many more such victories, the correspondents declared, when the British have thrown themselves into a real offensive with constantly accumulated reserves, which their prudence declines to use up in small parcels.

HUNTINGDON, Ind., Aug. 23.—The town of Bippus, 10 miles north of here, of approximately 1800 persons, is in grave danger of being wiped out by fire, which started at 9 o'clock this evening in a 100,000 bushel grain elevator, loaded to capacity with oats. The fire has partially consumed the business district and threatens to spread further. Huntingdon fire apparatus is on the scene, but is impeded in its work by low water pressure. The fire is said to have been started by a man who escaped pursuit.

(By the Associated Press.)

Over a 50-mile battle front, from the region of Arras to the north of Soissons, the German armies are meeting with defeats which apparently spell disaster. Everywhere the British and French forces have continued on the attack and the enemy has been sanguinarily worsted. And the end of his trials is not yet in sight.

Numerous Towns Fall

To the British, over the 30-mile fighting zone from the Cojeul river, southeast of Arras, to Lihons, south of the Somme, numerous towns have fallen and enemy territory has been penetrated to a depth of several miles. Where the French are fighting between the Matz river and the territory north of Soissons, additional goodly gains have been made in the envelopment of Noyon, and the general maneuver which seeks to crush or drive out the Germans from the salient between the Somme and the Ailette and to put into jeopardy the entire German line running to Reims. Notwithstanding the fact that the Germans brought up large numbers of fresh reinforcements, in an endeavor to stay the progress of Field Marshal Haig's armies, their efforts were without avail. Where they were able momentarily to hold back their oncoming foes, the Germans finally were forced to cede the ground demanded. And they paid a terrible price in men killed, wounded or made prisoner for their temerity.

British Cross Road

The entire Arras-Albert road has been crossed by the British. The strongly held positions where the Germans saw disaster facing them if they fell were stormed and captured and the British passed them going eastward. Notable among these places were Aichiet-le-Grand, where bitter fighting has been in progress for several days, Boyelles and Gomicourt, northeast of Albert. The taking of Aichiet-le-Grand and, farther east, the town of Bihucourt, gives Gen. Haig a dominating position over Bapaume, from which the railway and highway run eastward to Cambrai. Farther south the old fortress of Thiepval is surrounded on three sides and its capitulation must follow.

Friday night saw the British standing well to the east of Albert and south of the Somme they were holding Chuignolles and Chuignes and had thrown out forces eastward to outflank Bray on the south and Chaulnes on the north.

Midway of the battle line south of the Somme around Roye there has been little fighting, the allied commander evidently reasoning that with both wings of his offensive—near Arras and Soissons—working smoothly in the movement which is likely to compel the Germans to seek refuge behind the old Hindenburg line, ground soon will have to be given here automatically in order to save large numbers of men, guns and supplies from capture.

French Smashing On

With the continuation of the French drive from the Matz river around the bend in the line to the north of Soissons, however, particularly north of Soissons ,the Germans still within the lower portion of the old salient apparently are on dangerous ground. The French are still busily engaged in their drive in this region. They have crossed the Divette river near Evericourt and at several other points have forded the Ailette and the Oise and north of Soissons are standing east of Bagneux and to the west of Crecy-au-Mont. A swift turning movement across the Oise from the latter region would be likely to work havoc with the Germans in this sector.

Although the Americans at the commencement of the Somme offensive were brigaded with the British along the northern bank of the Somme no mention of their having taken part in the fighting has been made. It is probable that they have been moved to some other portion of the battle front from which Marshal Foch contemplates another smash at the enemy.

Advance in Rain of Fire.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—On a front of about six miles from the southeast of Albert to the neighborhood of Grandcourt, east of the Ancre river, the British have pushed forward and gained ground after heavy fighting, says Field Marshal Haig's communication from headquarters tonight. South of Grandcourt a German counterattack was repulsed.

The advance of the British was to a dept of two miles and large numbers of Germans were killed or made prisoner. Five villages to the north of Aichiet-le-Grand were captured and the British pressed on eastward from them, says Gen. Haig's statement.

The town of Aichiet-le-Grand has been captured by the British.

The text of the communication follows:

"We pressed our attacks vigorously and successfully today on a front of 30 miles from Lihon to Mercatel. South of the Somme we carried the villages of Herleville, Chuignolles with the woods lying between the villages and the river.

"In the course of an advance of over two miles into German positions great numbers of Germans have been killed and prisoners taken.

Take Five Villages.

"On the left of the battle front we stormed the villages on Gomicourt, Ervillers, Hamelincourt, Boyelles and Boiry-Bacquirelles and made progress east of these villages.

"On our right centre we advanced against German positions on the east bank of the Ancre from southeast of Albert to the neighborhood of Grandcourt and gained ground after heavy fighting. A counterattack was repulsed south of Grandcourt.

"We have captured Aichiet-le-Grand and the ridge overlooking Iries. We continued our attacks this afternoon. Several thousand prisoners were taken and heavy casualties inflicted on the enemy."

Fighting Goes on.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 23.—British armies this evening are vigorously following up their success today, which apparently has been one of the most disastrous ever experienced by the Germans.

The Germans have lost wide stretches of ground and numerous towns and the British have taken thousands of prisoners and large quantities of guns and material.

To the south of Miraumont, the British have crossed the Ancre river and have started back in the general direction of Courcellete. Already Field Marshall Haig's forces are reported southeast of Grandcourt.

The British troops seem to be progressing well up the road from Albert to Bapaume. South of the Somme 33 officers and 1500 of her ranks have been taken prisoner by the British.

Front of 23 Miles.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 23.—3.40 p.m.—Victorious on a front of 23 miles, extending from the Cojeul river on the north across the Ancre and Somme rivers, almost to Lihons, the third and fourth British armies under Gen. Byng and Gen. Rawlinson, at midafternoon were vigorously following up their successes of the day, which apparently has been one of the most disastrous days ever experienced by the Germans.

The enemy has lost wide stretches of ground, numerous towns, thousands of men made prisoner and large quantities of materials and guns. He also again has had heavy casualties.

Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, the German commander, has thrown his men in before the advancing British armies in an effort to stave off the inevitable, but only to have them mowed down again and again by the storms of metal which are hurled from the British guns.

Cut up Battalion.

One enemy battalion was annihilated during the first hour. Dead Germans in great numbers are scattered everywhere on the battlefield. As an example, 400 enemy dead were observed this morning on one small piece of ground over which the battle has swept.

With all this fierce fighting and notwithstanding the fact that the British at many places have fought over open ground, with the enemy protected in "potholes" and strong points of other kinds, the British losses every-

CAPTURED GERMAN TROPHY

The German officer who had a handsome belt made out of insignia from the uniforms of captured or slain British officers did not realize, of course, that that same belt would raise thousands of dollars for the Liberty Loan in the United States. But the enemy belt, with its dozen trophies, did so in the recent campaign, where it brought the curious in range of the bond salesmen.

The belt was brought to this country recently by a steel man of Pittsburgh, who went to Europe on business. It was obtained by his brother, who went over with an hospital unit, but later was enlisted in the United States army ambulance service.

The basis of the belt is a leather strap with the regulation German army buckle bearing the words, Gott Mit Uns. Its original owner neatly fastened to the leather British army insignia of nearly every branch of the British and colonial armies—a brilliant motley of gold and silver wrought in lions, stars and regimental inscriptions.

ENTENTE ARMIES STILL ADVNCING

where seem to have been extraordinarily light. This probably is due to the confusion the Germans find reigning behind their lines, as they are now fighting a losing battle, which for them hourly grows more disastrous.

Crown Prince Rupprecht today had strengthened his line at many places, but this, instead of stopping the British, simply meant that the Germans suffered bigger losses.

During the night and this morning the front upon which the battle was being fought yesterday was widened appreciably both to the north and the south, while the Germans on the middle between Albert and Beaucourt-sur-Ancre, which heretofore has been fairly quiet, suddenly was drawn into the whirl.

Summary of Situation.

From the northern edge of the battlefield to the south the situation, at last reports, seems to be as follows:

New attacks from the river Cojuil and south, carried the British across the Albert-Arras railway embankments. The British apparently held Boiry, Becquierelle and Boyelles and have passed beyond the Arras-Bapaume road.

The troops just to the south, who for two days had been fighting for and afterward from the embankment, stormed forward and reached Hamelincourt and are pushing on toward Ervillers, St. Leger and Croissiles.

Airplanes report that British tanks had crossed the road between Ervillers and St. Leger while some infantry was reported to be less than 1000 yards west of Ervillers some hours after. At about that time an airplane reported that the Germans had disappeared from their positions northwest of St. Leger and between that town and Hamelincourt and that the fighting British found time in the midst of their task to cheer heartily.

Apparently the hard pressed Germans, rather than suffer more here, where they have met with some of their heaviest losses, decided to get out. This locality was one of the places where the Germans had doubled their strength.

British Attack First.

The fighting to the south of this region began in the night, when strong British forces assailed Gomicourt, just a few minutes before the Germans had anticipated launching an attack at the same place. Bomicourt was British at daylight. As happened, the British upset all the enemy plans and after killing many Germans and capturing 500 in the town of Gomicourt alone Field Marshal Haig's men continued their forward movement and at last reports, were pushing steadily onward.

Gomicourt, by reason of its terrain, apparently was considered the pivot of a turning movement for, once having taken it, the British sent troops swinging down south in the direction of Bapaume. The Germans on this portion of the front were badly disorganized. There were Germans all over the place, but they seemed to have no idea of counterattacking. Some apparently did not even know exactly where they were.

Fierce at Gomicourt.

The fighting south of Gomicourt today was especially severe. Incidentally, this movement cut in around the rear of Achiet-le-Grand. At the same time the British here, having launched another frontal attack on the enemy's stronghold, were again in hard fighting. While the battle was raging here, British planes were helping the fighters on the ground by heavily bombing or using machine guns against the enemy. Among other things obtained were several direct hits on a building at the rear of which were a number of touring cars. The building apparently was a German headquarters.

South of Aichiet-le-Grand the British did not start today's operations so early as farther north. The New Zealanders here stopped work to let a German counterattack develop. They "played dead" until the advancing enemy infantry was almost on top of them. Then they put down a heavy machine gun barrage just at the rear of the Germans who surrendered in a body rather than be killed in their tracks. This happened just north of Miraumont. Many of th prisoners were noncommissioned officers and all of them appeared to be glad that they had been captured. When asked about the Austrians, the prisoners expressed the greatest contempt for their allies as soldiers, saying they were no good whatever.

Slightly to the south the British have crossed the Ancre river and started back in the general direction of Courcellette. Already they are reported to be south of Grandcourt. This move menaces from the rear the German stronghold at Thiepval, which is an old fortress.

British at Tarahill.

At Albert the British pushed forward toward Tarahill, at the back of that town. An airplane report about noon said the British troops held the entire position. About the same time German shells started breaking on Tara, while British shrapnel could be seen bursting some distance on the other side of it, showing where the enemy had been driven. Considerable numbers of prisoners were take nin this locality.

The British troops seem to be progressing well up the road from Albert to Bapaume. Welsh troops are participating in the fighting in this neighborhood.

South of Albert, Meaulte appears to be in British hands, having been captured early in the day. Thence the line extends southeasterly, with a break where the Germans last evening managed to take Happy Valley, just north of Bray, by throwing in fresh troops of the 25th division, which apparently were brought up for this special purpose.

The Germans suffered severely here during the first attack. The fighting was very heavy. Since then the Germans have been constantly heavily fired on. Happy Valley truly is a shambles. Its name belies it.

South of the Somme the Australians were most successful in the part they played in today's battle. They easily attained all their objectives and apparently hold Chuignolles, Chuignes and Herleville and are pushing eastward of these villages a little distance to make sure of holding them.

1500 Men Made Prisoner.

In this region 33 German officers and 1500 men of other rankswere made prisoner. Eleven of the captured officers were from one regiment.

The Germans offered heavy resistance at Chuignolles, but, with the assistance of tanks, the Australians hammered through the enemy and swept on, leaving the town and its environs filled with dead Germans.

On the ridge south of this town there alsowas fierce fighting, which almost reached the hand to hand stage before the Australians made it clear to the Germans that they were not to be stopped and shoved over the ridge and onward.

Just now large numbers of guns are roaring away all along the line. At some places they are steadily hammering; at others it is rolling up into intense drumfire, telling where the fighting is going on. The German shells seem to be coming in from long distances. Evidently their guns have been moved back for safety. The German artillerymen apparently have not the greatest confidence in the ability of their comrades in the infantry to word off the blows delivered against them.

All day long streams of wounded, principally Germans, as well as great numbers of enemy prisoners, were flowing toward the rear. The day was cooler than yesterday and the British soldiers were refreshed by it. It was slightly cloudy, but the air was full of British planes. A number of German airplanes were shot down over the battle front during the day, each fall being cheered by the British.

Paris Official.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—The French troops in their fighting Friday crossed the Divette river in the region of Evericourt and made progress to the east of Bagenux and to the west of Crecy-au-Mont, lying north of Soissons, according to the official communication issued this evening.

The text of the communication is as follows:

"Between the Matz and the Oise rivers there have been violent artillery actions.

"We have crossed the Divette river in the region of Evericourt. Between the Ailette and the Aisne we have made progress to the east of Bagneux, west of Crecy-au-Mont.

"On the 22nd our observers carried out numerous reconnoitering excursions very deeply inot the enemy line, particularly photography missions, and brought back more than 1000 photographs.

"Our chasing squardons have brought down or put out of action 14 enemy machines and set on fire nine captive balloons.

"Our day bombing aviators dropped 18 tons of explosives and fired thou*sands of rounds* of cartridges on enemy assemblages and convoys in the Margival ravine, on the roads to Soissons and Chauny and on Vauzaillon and Lafaux.

Airmen Drop Bombs.

"During the night 25 tons of bombs were dropped on the stations of Ham, Laon and Guiscard. We blew up an ammunition depot at Sommettes Faucourt. The railway stations at Mezieres, Mason Bleue, Mauchault and Pontavert also were bombarded.

"A strong attack was carried out on the very important airdrome at Marsla Tour. From the effects of the first bombs dropped, a fire of considerable proportions broke out in the hangars and the barracks of the aviators. An efficacious bombardment also was carried out on other hangars and sheds on the aviation field and on the aviators themselves.

"Numerous machines on the ground were seen to be burning.

"A total of 43 tons of explosives were dropped on the 22nd, day and night.

Crossed River in Darkness.

The troops detailed to attack Albert took some tanks across the Ancre river in the darkness and they themselves began their advance under cover of the early morning mist. The resistance from the direction of Bray was very strong, but the enemy's artillery retaliation consisted almost of heavy howitzer fire. These guns were stationed far back from the front. The bulk of the German field guns had apparently been withdrawn.

Meaulte was cleared with little difficulty, but sharp fighting took place upon the long slopes beyond that town. The street fighting in Albert was desperate while it lasted, but was comparatively short lived. The British captured 1400 prisoners in the town, including a battalion commander and his staff. A few guns and many machine guns were taken, but most of the stores had been removed.

Berlin Statement.

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—"Attacks by the English have been renewed northwest of Baupame," says the official German communication issued this evening.

"Near Albert and the Somme our counterattacks are in progress.

"The artillery engagements between the Ailette and the Aisne have been lively."

The official communication issued by general headquarters today reads as follows:

"Partial attacks by the enemy northwest of Bailleul and on both sides of the Lys were repulsed. We captured prisoners in a counterattack.

"Yesterday the British continued in full force the attack commenced on Wednesday north of the Ancre and by crossing the Ancre extended their front to the north of Albert and as far as the Albert-Somme sector. The extensively planned attempt to break through completely collapsed at its first development. The British suffered a severe defeat yesterday.

"On the battle field northwest of Bapaume Prussian divisions, with Saxons and Bavarian regiments, forestalling a hostile assault, attacked the enemy between Moyenneville and Miraumont. The enemy was everywhere surprised in the development of the assault which had been planned and also in his strongly prepared positions. At places he was thrown back to a depth of two kilometres. This crushed the British attack prepared for the morning.

Attacked Several Times.

"In the course of the day the enemy attacked several times, especially from the direction of Puisieux and Beaumont Hemel. He was repulsed everywhere with heavy losses. Strong attacks launched by the enemy from Albert broke down under our fire.

"Between Albert and the Somme the enemy attacked after the strongest artillery preparation and pressed forward temporarily over the Albert-Bray road in an easterly direction. A powerful counterattack by Hessian troops, with portions of Prussian and Wurtemburg regiments, threw the enemy back across the road into his positions of departure. Batteries driving forward in the open shot to pieces many of the enemy's tanks.

"'North of Bray the enemy brought up cavalry for attack. It was almost entirely destroyed. On the battle field partial engagements continued into the night. Between the Somme and the Oise the day on the whole was quieter. The strong artillery duels south of the Somme died down in the forenoon. South of the Avre, owing to our fire, French attacks near Fresnieres were able to develop at times and were repulsed.

"There have been infantry engagements in the Divette region. Between the Oise and the Aisne during Wednesday night, following upon the shifting of our lines behind the Oise on Tuesday, we withdrew our troops behind the Ailette undisturbed by the enemy. Our companies which had been left on the west bank of the Ailette returned before strong enemy attacks launched between Manicamp and Pons-St. Mard, partial attacks by the enemy between the Ailette and the Aisne broke down under our fire and counterattack.

"In local attacks we pressed back an American line of posts between Bazoches and Fismes and repulsed enemy counterattacks."

SUFFERED TWO YEARS WITH PIMPLES

Child Could Not Sleep Till Cuticura Healed.

"My little brother suffered for about two years from tiny red pimples. They appeared constantly on his body but he had the greatest trouble under his ears. The skin was red and very sore and at the least touch he would give a howl of pain. After a few seconds he would have to scratch, and he was not able to sleep.

"A friend advised me to send for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I noticed a change, and I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and four boxes of Ointment when he was healed." (Signed) Louis Frank, 746 City Hall Ave., Montreal, Que., February 2, 1918.

Keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for everyday toilet purposes.

SHOE MAKING AND REPAIRING

Removes Wrinkles and Refreshes Tired Faces

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a god astringent-tonic lotion should be used these days. Dissolve an ounce of pure powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. Bathe the face in this and see how quickly the wrinkles and furrows will disappear—and how much younger you will look! There's nothing better for sagging cheeks or double shin, or for enlarged pores.

Use this simple lotion during the heat of the day and you will find it wonderfully refreshing. You will lose that wilty, tired look. The ingredients, of course, are perfectly harmless. Be sure to ask the druggist for powdered saxolite.

TONE OF TRADING IS FIRM AT TORONTO

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—A firm tone prevailed in the Toronto market today with demonstrations of decided strength in some issues. Maple Leaf was less active, but the stock rose to the highest point of the year, 117½, and closed 117½ bid and 118 asked. Canadian Locomotive common also sold at the year's high of 63½ and closed at 64¾, for a net gain of 1⅝. Locomotive preferred was strong, 10 shares coming out at 90. Steel of Canada opened unchanged at 71½ but was carried up to 72⅝ at which price it closed and 25 shares of Dominion Iron sold ½ higher at 63.

Consolidated Smelters in volume of dealing overshadowed other issues, but the outpouring of stock after a firm opening at 25 prevented any further advance and the closing was at 24⅝, ⅛ lower. Cement firmed up ⅛ to 64 and Brazilian held at 39. Steamships preferred was offered at 77.

An interesting incident was a transaction in five shares of C.P.R. at 164, or 2 above the price locally on Thursday, establishing a new high for the year. At the close today 165½ was bid without offerings. Trading in the war loans was of negligible proportions.

Rails Feature Wall Street Market—Encouraging War News is Dominating Factor.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Assurances of a probable relaxation of money conditions in the near future and highly encouraging war advices were the dominating factors in today's stronger and broader stock market. The movement focused around rails, mainly of the higher grade, Canadian Pacific, for example, registering an extreme advance of 5 points to the discomfiture of the short interest. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, New York Central, Reading and secondary coalers were carried along in the advance of transportation at average gains of 1 point, some of the southern lines improving similarly.

United States Steel was more active than at any recent session, retaining the greater part of its 1¼ point advance.

Hide and Leather common and preferred supplemented yesterday's material gains at the new maximums of 21¾ and 94¾ respectively, and Fertilizers had occasional periods of prominence at 2 point gains.

Marine preferred strengthened in the later dealings and moderate advances were made by motor subsidiaries, General Electric, New York Air Brake, Texas company, Industrial Alcohol and some of the tobaccos. There was a marked increase of demand for foreign bonds, especially French issues at fractional gains. United States bonds, old issues, unchanged on call.

The prices are effective until Oct. 1 and thereafter, pending compilation of further data and are slightly less than the public prices of July 31.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Trading on the stock exchange was firm today with a meagre supply of high class securities. Foreign stocks were steady, but foreign railroads were irregular. Cuayaquill securities were 2 points lower. Shipping stocks were in good demand and industrials were firm. Cement securities active and the feature of the market. African Land stocks were in good demand. Money was quiet.

WHEAT WILL BE $2.20 AT VANCOUVER THIS YEAR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 23.—Chairman Kingham of the provincial committee of the Canada food board announces that according to a despatch received yesterday from the board of grain supervisors for Canada the price for this year's crop of British Columbia wheat had been fixed on Vancouver basis at $2.20 for No. 1, $2.17 for No. 2 and $2.13 for No. 3, and also that arrangements are being made for grading the wheat at Vancouver.

THE RULE OF THE ROAD.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—With reference to the movement on foot to change the rule keep to the left to keep to the right, I trust this will not be done without very careful consideration.

In the old country the rule "keep to left" has been universal for many generations. Why? Simply because it makes for greater safety. It is surely obvious that in case of a collision or similar accident the driver who keeps to the left has his right hand—which is practically his only efficient hand—nearest the point of disaster—the only side where it can be of use.

ONE WAY TO TEACH THEM WAR DOESN'T PAY

Lord Robert Cecil has made the definite declaration that the allies do not intend that Germany shall have her colonies restored after the war.

And they should not be restored. In the first place Germany has shown herself wholly and miserably unfitted to possess colonies. She has sought and held colonies never for the purpose of developing them and bettering the condition of their natives, but always for the purpose of milking them or using them for bases of military or naval aggression against peaceful nations.

Further than this, Germany must remain bereft of her colonies as a punishment for having started this war. To retain Germany's colonies would be one way of forcibly illustrating to the German people that it is bad business as well as bad morals to throw the world into war. It will be one of the ways of showing them that war doesn't pay. That is the only sure way, until they have been educated out of the savage state, which will take generations, of directing their minds into peaceable instead of warlike channels.

SHOULD HAVE GALVANIC EFFECT.

The address at the luncheon at the Hume yesterday of J. C. Herbsman, accredited United States representative on the Chautauqua circuit, was another impressive community-building inspiration for the people of Nelson and the surrounding district.

Nothing is more true, nor more capable of being demonstrated by practical and far-reaching results, than his declaration that if the people of this community and the surrounding district can bring about a remarkable development of natural resources and increase in population through immigration if they work together in a wholehearted community spirit.

No district in the world presents greater opportunities than Kootenay and Boundary. It has the natural resources from which a great variety of raw products can be produced, it has the water power, it has the fuel, it has the metals, the iron ores, the agricultural land, the timber. It has also the most inspiring opportunities for the development of the "play" features of civic and rural life and it is capable of being made into the greatest tourist resort of Canada. Before the war Canada had a tourist travel valued at $50,000,000 per annum. There is no reason why in the next decade Kooteay and Boundary alone should not develop a tourist travel to equal this amount in value.

Such addresses as those of Mr. Trefz the other day and of Mr. Herbsman yesterday should galvanize into activity all the latent or dormant ability of the people of this district to get out and make the most of the tremendous opportunities which lie before us.

WHAT THE VICTORY LOAN CAN ACCOMPLISH.

The arrangement under which the whole of the British Columbia salmon pack, amounting to around nine million dollars, has been purchased by the British government calls attention to the economic as well as the direct military importance of subscriptions to Canada's war loans.

Canada is to lend to Great Britain the nine millions needed to buy this province's salmon pack. But for the Victory loan Canada could not provide this credit for the mother country. And without Canadian credits, Great Britain cannot buy in Canada. The exchange situation will not permit it. The same conditions apply to the United States. To sell goods to the allies, the United States has to provide them with the money, or more correctly, the credit.

Thus, through the Victory loan, the allies secure a great quantity of the most valuable fish,and British Columbia disposes of nine million dollars' worth of the products of one of its great basic industries.

Chautauqua is to return to Nelson next year. That is good news. It is a program the district cannot afford to miss.

The ruling of the United States government that the moving picture industry is essential was expected. The same action was taken in Great Britain. Amusement is an essential to maintaining the morale of the people.

The British Tommy is again giving the world a demonstration of his unsurpassed fighting qualities. He is showing that he can take the offensive as forcefully and effectively as he has in the past four years held to the defensive against unparalleled odds.

The committee of public-spirited citizens which is responsible for having brought Chautauqua to Nelson deserve the sincere and hearty thanks of the people of the district. The committee has every reason to feel gratification at the daily attendance and particularly at the many warm appreciations of the excellence of the program which have been expressed.

Lieut.-Col. Harvey is to be placed in command of the British Columbia company which is to go to Siberia as part of the Canadian expeditionary force. The choice is likely to be a popular one in military circles. Col. Harvey saw service on the western front with the first Canadian contingent and he has a splendid record as an administrative officer since he returned to British Columbia and became attached to the district headquarters staff.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

The Bolsheviki Described.

"In the Bolshevik movement there is not the vestige of a constructive or social idea. Even the western admirers of Trotsky and Lenine cannot discover any. Genuine socialism means the organic ordering of the social whole, and of this in the Bolshevik process there is no trace. Far from that, a part is treated as the whole, and the remainder is no better off than were the serfs under Alexander I. and Nicholas I., for Bolshevism is Czarism upside down. To capitalists it metes out treatment as bad as that which the czars dealt to serfs. It suppresses newspapers, forbids the liberty of the press, arrests or banishes the elected of the nation, and connives at or encourages crimes of diabolical ferocity."—From Dr. Dillon's "The Eclipse of Russia." (Doran.)

The Mud of Flanders.

There is not in all the world mud like that in France. It weighs more than concrete and sticks like a porous plaster. If it dries on legs and arms it has to be broken off with a hammer before the clothing will come off. If well dried it is shell-proof and turns a bayonet like a duck's back turns water. Outside of armor-plate and the hide of a cheap politician, I have never seen anything quite so invulnerable as the French mud. It rains every day at the front, so a plentiful supply of mud is never lacking. Some say that the concussion of the heavy shelling makes the naturally rainy climate even worse, but be that as it may, it's wet enough and then some.—From letter of American Soldier.

COLD STORAGE

Sunday School Teacher—Now that I've explained to you children what it means to be honest, perhaps Erastus Mokeby will tell the class what the best policy is?

Erastus—Ah nevah play dat swindlin' game, Miss Brown; it's honest ol' craps er nuthin' fo' dis chile.

The country boarder from Boston had risen early and taken a stroll. Returning an hour later he met the farmer.

"Well, young man," remarked the latter, "been out to hear the haycock crow, I suppose." And the sly old farmer winked at the hired man.

The Boston man smiled. "No," he said suavely, "I've merely been out tying a knot in a cord of wood."

She—Some people don't know what's good for them in this world.

He—And some people do know, but haven't the price to get it.

"You know there are spots on the sun," he remarked as they lounged on the beach.

"Well," replied the summer girl, "I'm glad the old thing has a few freckles himself and can see how he likes it."

TOLD IN RYHME

TO FRANCE.

(From "Why Don't They Cheer?" a new volume of verse by a Canadian poet, Robert J. C. Stead.)

We little knew thee, France; we thought—
And God forgive us that our thought was sin—
We thought thee fair without and false within;
And did not seek to know thee as we ought.

We knew the face thou turnest touristward;
The painted face, the sensuous design;
We held thy virtue subtle as thy wine,
As cheap and subtle; neighbor, we have erred.

For thou hadst poured thy life in every mould
And we had found the mould of our desire;
We warmed our marrows at thy Latin fire
And found it hot, for we were Saxon-cold.

Forgive us, France, we passed the lie along;
"A thoughtless people, frivolous and gay;"
And now we know thee, we can only say
Forgive us, France; we sinned; we did thee wrong.

How well they sons have risen to thy need
No art can picture on the printed page;
But hoary Time shall beckon, age to age,
The deeds of France—for France is great indeed.

And thou hast suffered; who shall count the toll?
Thy cup of grief shall silently endure;
But thy great spirit riseth white and pure,
For France is still a nation and a soul.

INVENTS PAPER HORSESHOES

A European inventor proposes to make a paper horseshoe that for general purposes shall be the equal of the steel horseshoe in the following way: Parchment paper is cut out in thickness by the use of a mixture of turpentine, Spanish white shellac and linseed oil treated with litharge, and the whole is placed under the hydraulic press. This produces very light and uniform pieces, and it is an easy matter to stamp out the nail holes and grooves. Instead of nailing to the horse's hoof they can be applied with an adhesive composition whose principal part is a solution of rubber in bisulphide of carbon. Paper paste could also be moulded into the shape of a horseshoe by the use of the press, but the result is not as good as with the above. In actual use it has been found that the shoe does not hold well on the ground, its surface being too even.

Capt. Bulkeley-Johnson, who has been A.D.C. to his excellency the Duke of Devonshire, during his regime in Canada, expects to leave in the near future to return to England.

Ohio Man Is Modern Wizard

Discovers magic ether compound which loosens a corn so it lifts right out

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

CHAUTAUQUA CONTINUES TO DRAW RECORD CROWDS

LEILA M. BLOMFIELD, J. C. HERBSMAN AND THE GLENN WELLS GIVE PROGRAM ON FIFTH DAY OF ENTERTAINMENT AT RECREATION GROUNDS—FEW SEATS ARE VACANT AS LARGE NUMBERS GATHER AT TENT.

Chautauqua yesterday maintained its record attendance feature and the tent was filled at both performances. The Glenn Wells entertainers was heard in two programs. Miss Leila M. Blomfield gove a costume lecture in the afternoon entitled "New Zealand, the South Sea Utopia." J. C. Herbsman, accredited representative of the United States government, gave a lecture in the evening entitled "Carry On" Miss Webber reported that the work of the Junior Chautauqua was nearly completed for th grand pageant to be presented by local boys and girls this afternoon.

Leila Blomfield Speaks.

In the afternoon, following the musical entertainment of the Warwick quartet, Miss Leila Blomfield, in a native New Zealand costume, gave her lecture. With marked talent she carried her audience to the far-off island of the southern seas. She told of the discovery of New Zealand and the habits and costumes of the natives and their thatched huts. They did their cooking and washing in the natural hot water found these. The people of New Zealand were wonderfully loyal, musical and brave and they lived in a mild climate unequalled for scenery.

New Zealand's Government.

She spoke of the ideal government of New Zealand which tried to settle on an equal basis the modern problems of industrial life. Miss Blomfield gave some examples of the laws of New Zealand. The Old Age Pension law gave a pension to all over 65 years of age who had lived in the country for 25 years. Compulsory arbitration dealt with industrial rights. The government encouraged the union of all employers and laborers and disputes were heard before a court of the district and if not settled there were carried into the court of arbitration whose chairman was the judge of the supreme court, and whos decision was final. Miss Blomfield said that this saved 99 per cent of strikes and lockouts and did not stop industry or ruin progress.

By the Land Repurchase act the government compelled owners of idle and empty tracts of land to sell at a reasonable figure if they would not improve it. This gave the land to the man who would work it and prevented speculation.

Laws on Immigration.

Miss Blomfield said there was also a law against undesirable citizens entering New Zealand. It provided for a $500 poll tax and severe educational tests for others. The country was "dry" and large trusts and corporations were not allowed.

Miss Blomfield told of the part played by New Zealand in the war and of the sacrifices made at Gallipoli. To New Zealand belonged the honor of sending the highest percentage of any of the British colonies to the war. The women also were doing a noble part.

The message sent to Canada by New Zealand was, "Canada, with all the strength of your wonderful resistance, your manhood and your womanhood, stay with us to the end."

Herbsman Speaks

J. C. Herbsman opened his address by saying that he was out with Mayor McQuarrie for a car ride to the power plant and that he visited several ranches between the city and the plant. "I believe you have the most beautiful spot on the American continent right here," he said. "When I return to the States I'll give you $10,000 worth of free advertising whether you want it or not."

"The United States did not enter the war because Britain was whipped," the speaker said. "The kaiser never would have whipped Britain. History proves that in every war in which Britain was engaged, she has always won the last battle.

Mr Herbsman said the United States would have to put an army of 7,000,000 men in the field to equal the record of Canada. The United States was holding the deeds of Canadians at the Somme, Vimy Ridge and other engagements before her army as a standard. If the boys in the United States did as well as the Canadians had done they would do wonderfully well. He believed they could do it as they were a similar type of men.

The speaker emphasized the sacrifices of the returned soldiers and said there was nothing in Nelson, Canada or the American continent which was too good for them. They had risked their lives for those at home and they should get the best as a slight appreciation.

He said that the United States now had 3,500,000 men in training and that these would be in France by next spring if the war lasted until then. There were 10,000 or 15,000 going across every day. The United States would not stop even when they had 10,000,000 men on the firing line. A new conscription law was to be passed soon to include men from 18 to 45 years of age. Their resolve was not to quit until the allied armies had removed Prussian militarism from the face of the earth. He had come to Canada to assure Canadians that this was the ambition of the United States.

British Navy

Mr. Herbsman lauded the British navy and said that the United States was thankful to the navy for her devotion during the present war and for what she had done in past wars when she had saved the United States and made it possible for her to maintain her liberty. Britain deserved the largest and most powerful navy, not only because she had the most extensive dominions but because she had always used her navy to preserve civilization. If it had not been for the British navy the Germans might have been in America today instead of in Europe and Britain would have been starved by the submarine warfare.

U. S. Navy Building

The speaker gave figures showing the increase in the United States navy, both in ships and complement, since she had entered the war. They were now fighting side by side with the British navy. The United States had 500 shipyards and 1,500,000 men employed in turning out ships. On July 4 there had been more United States ships launched than American boats destroyed by submarines since the start of the war. He announced that on Sept. 1 there would be even a greater number launched.

Mr. Herbsman told of the United States secret service and of their task on account of the foreign population. A movement was on foot now to make a law permitting that spies be shot. The speaker became fluent in his description of the difference between the aims of the allies and those of the central powers, and urged the thought that the war could only be settled by an unconditional surrender from Germany, a treaty which would ensure that in future nations would settle all difficulties by arbitration and thus ensure universal justice and peace.

Sketches, solos, duets and readings were given by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wells at both afternoon and evening performances. Rounds of applause followed all the items given and the closing sketch, "The Queen's Messenger," received interested attention from the audience.

CHAUTAUQUA WILL COME AGAIN NEXT YEAR

At a meeting of local business men held in the city hall yesterday afternoon it was unanimously decided to sign contracts to bring the Chautauqua to the city again next year. Mr. Stevenson, president of the committee, did not hesitate to say that the entertainment had been a success and plans were completed to bring the Chautauqua with an entirely new program to Nelson sometime next summer.

UNCLE SAM WILL SHARE HIS FOOD

Hoover Says "We Have to Make Good" Immense Stores Will Go Overseas.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The United States will share with the allies their sacrifice of food as well as blood in the cause of world democracy, declared Herbert C. Hoover, federal food administrator, on his arrival here today en route to Washington, after a brief visit to England and France.

Asserting that "we have to make good," a pledge to this effect which he had given to the allied food administration while sitting "at a common table in a common cause." Mr. Hoover said that to do so America will next year hav to supply the allies 4,000,000,000 pounds of fats, 900,000,000 pounds of beef products, 500,000,000 bushels of cereals and 1,500,000 tons of sugar. However, Mr. Hoover said, beginning Sept. 1 there will be no need of drastic food rationing in the allied countries, except in the case of sugar and beef. In a statement dealing with his food observations abroad, Mr. Hoover said in part:

"The harvests in France, England and Italy are better than one could expect in the tremendous drain on the manpower to the front. This is due to the women. There is no sight in the world that would appeal to the American heart as that of the literally millions of women doing all the work of getting in the harvest, while their men are working in the shops or driving back the Germans."

Of the foodstuffs which America must export, Mr. Hoover said:

"Upon North America falls the burden of food supply. While Canada can export 100,000,000 bushels of grain this year, the major part of the allied program for next year falls upon us. We also have to feed our own enormous army. We can do it if we simply have the will to live with every economy and to waste nothing."

PERMIT SUNDAY BAND CONCERTS

Those of a Patriotic Nature Do Not Come Under Lord's Day Act.

LONDON, Ont.—As the result of a recent conference of the representatives of the various local chapters of the I. O. D. E., the Sunday evening patriotic band concerts will be resumed in this city, commencing next week, in spite of the opposition of the Lord's Day Alliance. Three weeks ago a committee from the latter organization met the Daughters of the Empire and pointed out that the concerts were an infringement of the Lord's Day act, and on that account they were cancelled.

Since that time Chief of Police Williams has informed the ladies' committee that a clause in the act respecting "works of charity" would place them within the law, and, acting on this authority, it was decided at the conference to resume the concerts.

WALKING WITH THE KING.

O Master let me walk with Thee
In lowly paths of service free;
Tell me Thy secret; help me bear
The strain of toil, the fret of care.

Help me the slow heart to move
By some clear winning word of love;
Teach me the wayward feet to stay
And guide them in the homeward way.

Teach me Thy patience; still with Thee
In closer, dearer company.
In work that keeps faith sweet and strong,
In trust that triumphs over wrong.

In hope that sends a shining ray
Far down the future broadening way;
In peace that only Thou canst give,
With Thee, O Master, let me live.

WILL HOLD CONFERENCE OVER PRESENT MEDICINE ACT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VICTORIA, B.C., Aug. 23.—Consumation of plans formulated by W. C. Findlay, British Columbia prohibition commissioner, will result in the holding of an official conference at Ottawa on Sept. 5 next between representatives of the attorneys general of the provinces for the purpose of drafting and agreeing upon certain amendments to the Patent Medicine act for submission to the Dominion government. The main object is to bring the federal law into closer harmony with the prohibition acts of various provinces and to remedy certain phases of the present situation which will be directed to prohibit the manufacture and sale of certain patent medicines which now come more or less under the heading of medicated wines.

GIRL DESIGNS AIR ENGINE

Is Only 19, and Studying for B. Sc.—Wants to Do Mechanical Engineering.

LONDON—Miss Nona Milne, 19, of Elgin, has invented ingenious devices for airplanes, and is a designer in the drawing office at the air ministry where she has charge of a special section of men designers.

"It makes me feel awfully staid and responsible," Miss Milne told the Daily Sketch laughingly, "but I just love the work. I am the only girl doing engine designs and I find it so fascinating that I intend to adopt mechanical engineering as a profession after the war. I think there is going to be a big scope for airplane work, and I mean to make myself a specialist in it.

"I was always enthusiastic about mechanics, and when, after starting as a viewer in the Aeronautical inspection department, I was promoted draughtsman and then designer, I decided that this was the work I liked best.

"So now, in the rather brief leisure that I have, I'm studying hard for my B.Sc., so that I can take up mechanical engineering."

MEMORIES.

My theme is old enough to sing, God knows,
Yet always when the seasons come again,
Someone will wince when apple blossom blows,
Remembering in unimagined pain.
Or when the goose grass drops its tiny burrs,
On summer highway where the dust drifts deep,
Someone will smother memory that stirs,
Chattering bravely, that she may not weep.
And though she find a wonder in the dawn,
Or pleasure as the golden evening dies,
When daisies lift their heads above the lawn
She draws a quickened breath and shuts here eyes.
While I—I think my heart has missed a beat;
Someone is selling lilac in the street.
—Muriel Isaac.

When present contracts are completed the Australian government will own a fleet of 77 vessels of a gross tonnage of 302,506 tons.

DON'T WASTE MEAT ASKS FOOD BOARD

Many Parts of Animal Which Could Be Eaten Are Disregarded by Housewives.

The average Canadian housekeeper is very discriminating in the kind of meat she buys. Indeed, she is so discriminating that she has hedged herself around with a barrier which excludes some of the most palatable parts of the meat animals because, in the trade classification, they come under the opprobrious and misleading term, "offals."

In this she is different from the European woman who has made it part of her culinary duty to use every possible scrap of meat to the best advantage, with the result that hearts, livers, heads and so on, figure extensively on her menu and are liked by her family because they are attractively prepared.

We cannot have steaks without having a certain proportion of offal, too. What happens to all this now? It certainly is not used as much as it might be by Canadians. The habit in the past has been to ship it to European countries where there is a ready market for all such commodities. This trade ceased, of course, at the outbreak of the war.

With the spreading of food conservation tenets, and the high cost of food in general, a study of this phase of domestic economy will be found worth while. The following table may give some women a surprise as to the varieties of offals obtainable at attractive prices. That all of them can be made into wholesome and attractive dishes is an unquestioned fact.

They are available in large quantities but, despite comparatively low prices, there is little sale at present for them in this country. Their common use in Canada would mean the release of more beef and bacon for shipment overseas.

Following are some varieties and recipes for cooking them which can be used to great advantage:

Hearts, livers, kidneys, sweet breads, tripe, ox tails, tongues, brains.

Lamb or Veal Kidneys.

One pair kidneys, two level tablespoons shortening, two level tablespoons corn flour, one cup stock or water, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon kitchen bouquet, one tablespoon mushroom catsup, two tablespoons orange juice, one teaspoon lemon juice and cayenne pepper. Split fresh kidneys in halves. Remove the white fat and sinew from the centre. Cover with cold water and let them heat over a moderate fire. Just before the boiling point is reached, drain off the water and heat again. Do not let the water reach the boiling point as this will toughen the kidneys and they will then have to be boiled a long time to make them tender again. Make a sauce by browning the fat in a pan, adding the corn flour, liquid and other ingredients.

Liver Bourgeois.

Take a casserole and place a slice of pork in bottom. Put liver on top of salt pork. Then salt and pepper. Slice one onion, add one cup of water or stock and cook in oven. The casserole must be covered. When cooked, remove the liver from the casserole and strain liquid. Reduce it by boiling and pour it over the liver before serving.

Braised Tongue.

Boil long enough to remove the ing and pour it over the liver before vegetables. It must be basted often and well covered.

Jellied Ox Tongue.

Boil from three to four hours in sufficient water to cover the tongue. When cooked, remove from the pan and cool. Remove the skin, then put the tongue back in the same stock and allow to jelly.

Tripe—All Kinds.

Blanch in two or three waters. Cook in salt water, cool, cut in square pieces, bread, fry and serve with tomato sauce.

YANKEE FIGHTERS MISS THE DOUGHNUT GIRLS

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE—There is gloom in a certain regiment of Yankees and it is not because they haven't had opportunity to whip the Boches.

The regiment is going to lose what the men consider their most valuable asset, the McIntyre sisters, also known as the Salvation Army girls. The McIntyre sisters, Gladys and Irene, who have made chocolate doughnuts, pies and sandwiches for the boys of this regiment, sent letters for them, banked money and who have been "good sisters to every fellow in the regiment" have been transferred to a new post.

The troops holding this part of the line want to adopt the McIntyre sisters permanently—and who wouldn't? When they came in the "goulash kitchens," those wheeled smoking affairs that look so good when a Yank is hungry, were nowhere in sight. The sisters served coffee in no time and kept it up for three days. They had just 20 minutes notice that a certain large number of cups of coffee was wanted. Being efficient American girls, that was all the time they needed.

"They're good pals, not dolls," is the way the doughboys compare the rugged, lively American sisters with French girls out near the front. When the doughboy comes around he usually is eager to work, and he's happiest who is given the job dipping doughnuts, cutting wood or doing anything to help the McIntyre sisters.

These American soldier girls have a dugout handy to sleep in. While they were absent at work one day a shrapnel shell came through the roof and punctured the bed full of holes. There is plenty of excitement in this work, but very little time to get excited.

Women
AT HOME AND ABROAD.

A Vancouver, Wash., shipyard has a woman calker.

The United States has over 1500 women dentists.

Over 8000 women act as postmistresses in the United States.

The Womens Trade Union league of England now has a membership of over 200,000.

Of the 112 testers connected with Wisconsin cow testing associations six are women.

War experience in the employment of women as bank clerks has convinced British bankers that women are able to keep business secrets quite as well as men.

The first woman in the United States to work as an inspector of wireless apparatus is Miss Abbey Morrison, who is an expert in her line.

One-fifth of the working force in the Grant automobile factory in Cleveland are women.

The women outnumber the men by nearly two to one in the prohibition party in New York state.

Miss Geraldine M. De Courcy of Mississippi, who is now employed in the passport department of the United States legation in Berne, Switzerland, is to be honored by the British government for her untiring efforts in the behalf of British civilians interned in Berlin.

HUN NOT ONLY FOE

In stormy weather great hardships have to be borne. "The seamen got very little sleep owing to cold." With these words a captain of a submarine concludes his report on a cruise in the North Sea. It is characteristic of the service that he should make no reference to the fact that while the crew had very little sleep he had infinitely less himself. The weather had not been good, and throughout the six days the cold had been intense. At times ice formed on the periscope very quickly and obscured vision, so that it had to be dipped every five minutes. On the surface the thermometer gave no reading, although it had a minimum of 18 degrees of frost. To receive messages by wireless was impossible, for the spray froze on the aerial, forming a coating of ice two inches thick. From time to time it was necessary to dive to remove the icicles which, over a foot long, depended from portions of the superstructure. The bridge screen froze like a board, and only with difficulty could be folded, and the ice on the coats of the officers and crews did not thaw until some hours after the garments had been hung up below.—London Daily Telegraph.

June Air in January

Most any furnace will produce a dry heat—the kind used to dry lumber in a kiln.

But that kind of heat will ruin the health of your family and destroy your furniture.

What month is the balmiest, healthiest, sweetest, most delightful of all the year?

June, of course.

The Sunshine Furnace has been designed, developed and perfected to give to your home in January the same quality of air that you breathe out of doors in June.

The Sunshine Furnace by warming fresh air and charging it with the necessary exact degree of moisture, not only warms but ventilates your home with pure, soft, healthful air every moment of the day.

Above the fuel door of the Sunshine Furnace is a water pan designed with scientific exactness to vaporize into the warm air the precise quantity of moisture necessary to the health and comfort of your family.

In the Sunshine heated home there are no dry, hacking throats, no burning or wrinkling skins, no dust or gas—only pure, humid, balmy, healthful warm air.

Engineering Service Free McClary's own heating engineers are at your service when you buy a Sunshine Furnace, to give you free expert advice on your home-heating requirements. Write to the nearest McClary Branch and ask for particulars about this service. A booklet, "Comfort in the Home," makes clear all the things you want to know about furnaces, and it is sent free on request.

DELAY FIGHT ORDER FOR BALL

Professionals Look for World's Series as Usual—Chicago Leads Nationals Now.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Professional baseball players were made happy today when Secretary of War Baker instructed Gen. Crowder to delay until Sept. 15 the enforcement of the "work or fight" order as it affects these men. Incidentally, President Johnson of the American league said tonight that details for the world's series arranged at the special meeting of the national baseball commission in Cincinnati probably would be announced tomorrow. The games, according to the tentative plan, will begin Sept. 4.

Chicago has practically won the National league pennant, as today's victory gave the Cubs a lead of 10½ games over New York, the runner up. The curtailing of the season has resulted in an uncertainty as to the number of games the clubs in both leagues play. There is a possibility that Chicago could be nosed out, as 14 games remain on its schedule.

192,000 HUNS HAVE BEEN BEATEN SAYS DEBENNY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Aug. 23.—Gen. Debenny, commanding the French army north and west of the Oise, issued the following order of the day:

"The battle has won ground to the depth of 25 kilometres (15½ miles) and has liberated scores of villages. Sixteen German divisions (192,000 men) have been beaten. More than 10,000 prisoners and 220 guns have been captured. We will win."

German submarines, as you may notice, would rather tackle fishing boats, hospital ships and tugs than any warship flying the American flag.

TWO ACCIDENTS MAR THE RACES

Poughkeepsie Track Is Scene of Smashes, But None Is Seriously Hurt—Fast Time Made

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Two accidents occurred today—the get-away day at the Poughkeepsie Grand Circuit meeting. In the first heat of the 2:08 trot, Gentry C., driven by Geers, caught his hoof in a boot coming down the home stretch, throwing Geers out. The sulky wheel of Opera Express ran over the fallen driver, and Fleming was also thrown out, while Bell Stanton collided with Fleming's sulky and Halstead was thrown. However, all the drivers and horses escaped injury.

Kelly De Forest won the heat, but Opera Express took the next two and the race, beating Lord Stout by a head in the final heat. The second accident of the day occurred in the final heat of the 2:20 trot, when Anna Maloney caught her foot in a boot in the home stretch. Daveson, her driver, was thrown out. He also escaped injury.

The surprise of the day occurred in the free-for-all trot, when Lu Princeton defeated St. Frisco.

The 2:20 trot was easy for David Guy, driven by Tommy Murphy, while the 2:11 pace went to Baron Wood, Budlight winning the first heat.

SUMMER COMPLAINT
CAUSES MANY DEATHS AMONG INFANTS.

If every mother would keep on hand, during the hot season, a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, she would be saved a great deal of anxiety and her baby a great deal of pain.

Hundreds of infants are carried off annually through neglect of this simple precaution. There is no remedy so safe and effectual for the cramps and pains in the stomach, cholera infantum, the diarrhoe of teething children, and none which has saved so many babies' lives during the past seventy-two years it has been on the market.

Mrs. C. W. Cooper, Collingwood, Ont., writes: "When my little boy was four months old he had a very bad attack of summer complaint. Nothing seemed to do him any good that was prescribed by the doctor. He got steadily worse until we thought we would lose him. One day, a friend with children of his own, asked me if I had ever used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I at once got a bottle but with no hopes of it doing any good, as so much else had failed, but to my surprise and wonder I soon saw a change in baby, much to my relief, and we soon had him well again.

"I now keep it in the house all the time and when the children show any signs of diarrhoea it never fails to check the attack."

There are many substitutes for Dr. Fowler's on the market. Don't accept any of them. Get the genuine put up by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price 35c.

HERBSMAN IS HEARD AT HUME

Chautuaqua Speaker Addresses Business Men on Questions Relating to Nelson's Welfare.

"Dry Bones" was the subject chosen by J C. Herbsman for an address given to about 60 business men in the Hume dining room yesterday. G. F. Stevenson introduced Mr. Hersbman and stated that having heard him last year he could say that the speaker had given him ideas which had materially helped him in his business.

In opening his remarks, Mr. Herbsman said that it was unecessary for him to urge Canadians to cooperate for war purposes, because they were already doing so. He explained the biblical connection which prompted him to choose for his address the subject, "Dry Bones."

He emphasized the need for cooperation and unselfishness in order to promote a community. The first set of dry bones in the community were the "stand stillers."

They were satisfied with the present condition of their city. "Why should Nelson advance?" they asked themselves. "We have lived here for 20 years with our wives and families and we get along."

Other "dry bones" were those who had lost faith in the city. When asked about Nelson they replied that it was a good town to live in, but it had had its day.

"You must have faith in your community before you can make a success of it," Mr. Herbsman said.

Another "dry bone" was the man who said he was too old to take any part in building up the city. "It is impossilbe to retire from life unless you take to the grave," he said. "Lots of men get into a rut instead of a grave. The only difference is that the rut is deeper and longer and harder to get out of. Individuals who believe that the community and the whole world are rotten are at fault within themselves.

"Men who lose faith in themselves, in their community and in their fellow man are no good to any one. You must have faith in your fellow man and cooperate with him in order to make a success of your community.

"Community life is like a game of football or baseball. The men who work for the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. and other institutions are like the players and the rest ahe like the men in the grandstand who criticize.

"If you can't get in and help build up your community, keep your mouth shut and let those who are doing the work carry on with it," he said.

Another "dry bone" was the community slacker. He told the audience to look at the service resulting from the task and not the size of the task. It was hard to work with a slacker.

"Don't wait for community conscription. Look at the unsurpassed record of Canada with her 500,000 volunteers for service at the front. Will the boys be satisfied when they come back with what you men at home have done to make life more happy and prosperous. Don't be a slacker; be a volunteer worker for the success of Nelson."

"Tightwads" were the next "dry bones" referred to by the speaker. It was the willingness of its citizens to give to Nelson which boosted the city. It was the spirit of service which counted.

"You men here are selfish," he said. "You pay $8 a year for your tennis court and you haven't a playground for your children. Where do the boys and girls play tennis or where do they have their recreation? If they get it in the streets you can't expect them to have good characters. You people of Nelson are selfish."

Mr. Herbsman told of other cities where the children had been given playgrounds; where the community had payed for the summer holiday of the poor residents. The philosophy of the life of many citizens was: "What can I get out of my fellow man; not what can I give to him."

Another "dry bone" was the knocker. He said a knocker was a man who was a parasite on other men. "It can't be done" was the only phrase in his vocabulary. He was different from a kicker. Kicking was all right if done at the proper time and at the proper place.

"Don't kick about your city on the street corner. Go to the city council and kick. If the board of trade is not doing what you believe to be right, don't kick outside; join up and get on the inside and make your kick."

The lesson of cooperation in the great war had been a good one. For three years the German army under Ludendorff had been more or less successful. The allied individual armies had not had a chance until Lord Northcliffe and Lloyd George had been instrumental in having them cooperate under one head and Gen. Foch had been given the supreme command. Already the difference could be seen. He attributed the recent successes to cooperation as brought about by having one head. "The allied armies always could lick Germany but didn't have a chance until they cooperated."

"The same thing applies to your community," he said, "God has blessed your city but He won't make a success of it without the cooperation of the citizens. Harmony and cooperation are the first essentials to a successful community. The reason America is making her present record in the war is because we are all cooperating. The success of California has been achieved because everybody there is boosting. Here in Nelson you have a finer climate, better scenery and more opportunities than are found anywhere in California. The future of your city and of Canada lies before you. The men who will build Canada to what she should be will come out of this war. It needs men of vision. The war will produce such men. If you men are sincere in your belief in Canada you can make it what it should be, the greatest nation in the world.

"What a vision there is for the city of Nelson with its mining district. You have the most unique smelter in the world. Your fruit industry should prove a great attraction for immigration. I mean imimgrants who will make good citizens and not immigrants like we have in the states, men who are causing so much trouble today.

"Nelson is a distributing centre. You should organize booster trips to the surrounding district to show the men there that you are cooperating with them and that their troubles are your troubles. Cooperation with them is necessary for your success as you are dependent on them."

He congratulated the city on its municipal government. He said that in Canada the city government was more democratic than in the United States.

The speaker went on to tell what kind of industries should be promoted. He spoke of the marble production of this district and quoted the court house as an example showing what could be turned out in this district. He advised Nelson to promote her home industries and to build what she had on hand. Advertise but have a spirit of loyalty behind the advertising. Don't tell anything but the truth. He mentioned the power plant and said that a factory could not be built on hot air. It was necessary to have power, transportation and above all things a market.

Mr. Herbsman advised the men of the city to get one essential to work for at a time and boost it until it was obtained. The procuring of $40,000 worth of bonds for the Ymir road was the most essential project to be boosted just now, He told the men to cooperate in a resolution to get this highway to make it possible for motoring tourists to get to the city. He urged that they make the appeal so strong that the provincial government would be unable to refuse. He vouched the opinion that in one year the Ymir road would return the $40,000 in value to the city. Every business man who invested a dollar in the city did so for the small profit to be made on it. The tourist gave 100 cents value for every dollar brought into the city.

Mr. Herbsman advised the citizens of Nelson to prepare now for the immigration which was certain to come after the war. As he came down the lake he concluded that there was not a prettier place in the world. Tourists to the district would make Nelson their headquarters and would visit the surrounding country from here.

He concluded by urging the business men not to give up the fight but to continue to success no matter how much devotion it took.

SHOULD HAVE JOINED BEFORE

Leslie Surrendered to Military Police—Bertie Still in Court Tried to Enlist Before.

"I should have been there long ago," said Alex. Leslie, when he approached Sub-Inspector W. C. Forrester and Corp. Sheads and offered his surrender under the general amnesty to deserters and draft evaders which is in effect until midnight tonight. Leslie had been living at Sheep Creek and came to the city to surrender. He was medically examined and ordered to report some time ago, but had not kept in touch with the military authorities.

Bertie Still, recently of Spokane, but a Canadian, was before Police Magistrate Crease for having failed to report that he had arrived in Canada, but was let go on suspended sentence. The law says that men of the draft age who are British subjects must report their arrival to the registrar within 10 days. Still left British Columbia three years ago and went to Spokane. While there he tried to enlist with the British recruiting mission but was turned down on account of physical disability. He had a rejection certificate and stated that he believed this was all he required. He was examined in Nelson and found to be in medical category "E." In view of the circumstances the magistrate let him out on suspended sentence. He formerly came from Vernon.

FATHER NOT PRESENT IN COURT; CASE REMANDED

Because the father of one of the two boys alleged to have broken into a boathoue and stolen a pair of oars, did not appear at the police court yesterday morning, the hearing was remanded until Monday morning at 11 o'clock. The police stated last evening that it was Dr. Morrison's boathouse from which the oars were taken and not Dr. Steed's, as thought yesterday.

AT THE THEATRES

Enid Bennet Monday.

Enid Bennett, the pretty and popular Australian screen star, makes her Paramount debut under the auspices of Thomas H. Ince at the Starland theatre on Monday in "The Keys of the Righteous." This is a story of the life and adventures of Mary Manning in the woods of Wisconsin with her invalid mother, her grim old grandfather and an uncle. Her mother has been waiting each day for 18 years for the return of her father, a derelict now and a drunkard in a nearby town. When he does come, it is only in time to be present at his wife's funeral, for the shock of the reunion proves too much for her slender strength.

Without even Tom Gale, the strong young woodsman who had come to take so large a place in her life, and who had recently gone away on a trip, Mary is left to struggle on alone. H efforts to guard her father from i ther 'backsliding" and the great s rifice she makes for him later, ea for her, not only happiness and great love of Tom Gale, but also affection of her crusty old gra father.

Miss Mace, Sir Arthur Pearso private secretary, is shortly to ma Capt. Ian Fraser, a blind officer, wh she taught to cycle while he was St Dunstan's.
