JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE IS THE VERDICT

Jury Acquits Spracklin in Prohibition Raid Shooting Case.

WINDSOR, Nov. 8.—Justifiable homocide was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury investigating the death of Beverley Trumble, who was shot by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, pastor license inspector, at the Chappell house at 3:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Crowds who packed the court room in the Sandwich town hall, awaited the jury's finding and when the verdict was announced, dispersed without making any demonstration, which every effort had been made by the heavy police guard to anticipate.

The inquest opened on Saturday and was adjourned until tonight, owing to the absence of E. Smith, one of the material witnesses in the case, who was present at the shooting and in whose arms Trumble died.

Five witnesses were heard. They were Mrs. Ernest Deslippe, E. Smith and Harold Lark, all of whom were at the Chappell house on the night of the shooting, and Doctors Beasley and Mills, who were called to the injured man.

The most startling feature of the evidence was the statement of the two doctors that Smith had told them on the morning of the death of Trumble that the dead man had a gun and that he had flourished it in the face of the inspector.

This was in direct contradiction of Smith's testimony that he did not see Trumble with a gun, and that, so far as he knew, he did not have a gun.

Mrs. Deslippe, Windsor, wife of Ernest Deslippe, the man who was found in a battered condition outside the Chappell house on the morning of the shooting, stated that she had been in the hotel when Trumble was shot. She said she did not see Trumble with a gun.

Mr. Spracklin was questioned on the evidence he gave Saturday night. He was asked if he saw what became of the gun which Trumble was alleged to have after the fatal shooting. He replied that he felt the gun pressing against the pit of his stomach and heard Trumble say: "God damn you Spracklin, I'm going to shoot you" after which he fired and Trumble reeled backwards toward the door of the private living room.

PERIPATETIC POLITICIAN PERORATES

Liberal Leader Reviews Western Tour in Final Speech at Yorkton.

URGES ALIEN MARRIED WOMEN'S RIGHT TO VOTE

Says Latest Franchise Legislation Defies Both God and Man.

YORKTON, Sask., Nov. 8—(Can. Press)—Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King completed his tour of the west with a public meeting in the town hall here this afternoon. The tour lasted exactly seven weeks during which time Mr. King has addressed 27 public meetings, has attended innumerable public receptions, addressed school children in the schools and colleges of four provines, started road races, opened buildings and experienced the many other duties and pleasures that await the peripatetic politician.

This afternoon he made a speech which showed no signs of the long and arduous trip. He was in good voice and introduced a fighting into his speech which was well received by his packed audience. He had the support on the platform of the attorney general for Saskatchewan, and five members of the provincial legislature, including the lady member. Mr. King's speech, which was prefaced by a short address from Hon. Dr. Beland, was in the nature of a resume of the results during his trip and the experiences met with.

Says People Indignant

Reviewing some of the outstanding impressions of his tour, through the four provinces of the west, Mr. King said that "first and foremost was the evident and manifest feeling of indignation on the part of the people against Premier Meighen and his colleagues for presuming to carry on the government of Canada without any mandate from the people and in complete violation of the spirit of the British constitution, in accordance with which the people are recognized as constituting the final authority in matters of government."

"Long before Sir Robert Borden had resigned and with him all members of the Unionist administration, there had been a universal demand for a general election.

The press of the country, irrespective of party, had pointed out that the Unionist government had been returned only for the purpose of the war and that its mandate had expired with the return of the soldiers from overseas. Canada was today the only country within the

TARIFF QUESTION DIVIDES OPINION

Farmers Ask Reduction; Manufacturers Want Retention in Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, Nov. 8.—Nova Scotian farmers, represented by D. L. McTaggart, president of the United Farmers of the province, expressed themselves before the federal tariff commission hre this afternoon as being in favor of a substantial reduction in tariff on articles necessary to agriculturalists. Manufacturers of the province, on the other hand, urged the necessity of the retention of the present tariff system with possible revision in some respects downward and upward.

Halifax and Nova Scotia generally embraced the opportunity of expressing themselves on federal fiscal policies by presenting a variety of briefs for the perusal of Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, and Hon. Gideon Robertson, minister of labor.

Agriculture Languishes

Mr. Taggart attributed the "languishing" of the agricultural industry and the depopulation of farms in part, indirectly to a protective tariff which favored certain industries, enabling them to offer better wages and shorter hours than did the farmers.

In conclusion, Mr. Taggart expressed some fear as to the possible policy of the Republican party just returned to power in the United States.

"The farmers of Nova Scotia think that the tariff agreement between the United States and Canada," he said, "should be such that they could depend upon a continuation of the present trade conditions in the United States in respect to food products. We fear, however, that if Canada persists in keeping up the bars between the two countries in respect to tariff matters, there is every danger of the new administration re-enacting the old MacKinley legislation."

Land Tax Alternative

Questioned by Sir Henry, Mr. Taggart admitted the association of farmers generally favored a land tax as an alternative scheme for raising revenues.

J. F. Fraser, appearing on behalf of the pork packers of Halifax, said they favored retention of the tariff on hogs and meat products.

ENDURANCE PUZZLES THE AUTHORITIES

Cork Hunger Strikers Enter Upon Ninetieth Day of Fasting.

DUBLIN, Nov. 8—So far as the authorities here know, the nine hunger strikers in Cork jail, who today began their 90th day of fasting, are taking no food, according to the chairman of the pensions board. The chairman said today that suitable food was constantly being offered them.

The latest reports from the prison doctors testify to weakness of all the prisoners and say that their condition is puzzling the authorities.

Railway Situation is Serious

DUBLIN, Nov. 8—The railway situation is represented here as being serious owing to the refusal of the railway men to transport troops and munitions. A complete collapse at Christmas time of the profitable food traffic is being feared. Although the general public is desirous of a compromise on the munitions question, the attitude of the railway men remains unchanged, and they are being supported by the Sinn Feiners. The newspapers are printing very little concerning the protests of the public on the controversy.

CONSERVATIVE WINS TORONTO BY ELECTION

Issue Fought on Hydro-Electric Power Without Reserve Question.

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—Major A. C. Lewis, Conservative, was elected to the Ontario legislature today in the bye-election in Northeast Toronto. His plurality over his nearest opponent, Major Kippen, D.S.O., M.C., (with bar), Liberal candidate, was 3622, and his majority over the field of three opponents was 1694. There was little surprise at the result, although Major Kippen put up a stiff battle. Major Lewis is secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Deep Waterways and Power association.

Following was the vote:

The chief essure in the bye-election was the hydro-electric question, Major Lewis advocating hydro without reserve, and Major Kippen supporting hydro with reservations pending the report of the commission, which is investigating the hydro-radial projects. James Higgins, Soldier-Labor candidate, was with the government on the hydro question. John Galbraith ran as an independent, but held no public meetings.

The vacancy in Northeast Toronto Seat "A" was caused by the retirement of Hon. D. J. Cody, minister of education in the late Hearst government.

SPEECH OF THRONE BORES OPPOSITION

Leader Only Takes Part in Debate Because It Is Customary.

REGINA, Nov. 8.—In the legislature here today notice was given by the government of the introduction of a resolution urging the Dominion government to re-appoint the wheat board at once "with the chairman and assistant chairman of last year, to take charge of and market the balance of the year's wheat crop."

Hon. George Langley, minister of municipal affairs, will read the resolution in the house Wednesday.

Three speakers were heard in the debate on the speech from the throne in today's session.

Donald MacLean, leader of the opposition, created a mild flutter when he declared there was nothing new in the speech from the throne, and that he only took part in the debate because it was customary.

Premier Martin in reply declared the leader of the opposition would find that before the present session was over a not inconsiderable number of important matters would come before the assembly for action.

Big British Freighter Transfers to States

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—The 17,221 ton British steamship Minnekahda, which since her construction in 1917 has been running in the Atlantic Transport service, is to be transferred to the United States flag. The ship, now a freighter, will be equipped to carry 3000 third class passengers and will be put in the American Line New York-Hamburg service.

It will be the first time a British ship of more than 10,000 tons has been transferred to American registry since 1893 when by a special act of congress the Steamers New Lork and Paris, the latter now the Philadelphia, were transferred.

LACK OF PROTECTION DRIVES CANADIAN FACTORIES OUT OF BUSINESS DECLARES PREMIER

Cites Laurier's Removal of Twine Duty; Nineteen Factories Killed; Only Three Running; Farmers Should Undertake Manufacture if Sincerely Believing Unfair Prices Are Charged; Calder Claims Rates Below Liberal Tariff.

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 8— "This country never was further from the free trade theory than it is today," said Premier Meighen here tonight. "There never was much less inclination to tie ourselves up with tariff obligations to the United States. We are making our own tariff in this country and we intend to continue doing so."

The prime minister and Hon. J. A. Calder talked tariff at some length to an audience which filled a local theatre, and explained why the were backing a "middle course" tariff. There were few interruptions and the speakers were given a good reception.

Mr. Meighen declared that Canadian industry could not stand free trade and he pointed out alleged discrepancies in tariff views of Hon. T. A. Crerar and of the Canadian Council of Agriculture. Mr. Crerar, he said, being free trade and the council favoring protection where necessary to save an industry.

The prime minister and Mr. Calder spend tomorrow in Calgary, addressing a party luncheon at noon and a public meeting in the evening.

Address Frist Alberta Audience

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, premier of Canada, and Hon. J. A. Calder, minister of immigration, tonight addressed their first Alberta audience. The Majestic theatre was crowded and held one thousand or more men and women of the city and district. W. S. Bail, of Lethbridge, was chairman.

"The west has given Canada an aggressive prime minister" read a banner at the side of the stage.

Compares Calder to Saul

Mr. Calder was the first speaker. The chairman compared him to Saul of Tarsus, in that he "had seen a great light." Mr. Calder said the old political parties in Canada had met with a process of disintegration new parties were springing up; a political evolution was taking place. The old political die-hards who hoped for re-establishbent of old conditions were due to be disappointed. There was a spirit of independence abroad— a very good thing for Canada he believeed.

Mr. Calder declared that women were due to play a much larger part in publi affair in Canada, a good thing, he considered. The minister proceeded to review briefly the record of Union government in Canada in war and after problems, and defended its course. He held that the government had done valuable practical work in the re-establishment of returned men and stated that the Canadian pension scale was the highest in the world. The speaker devoted some attention to the government's financial administration and its railway policy. He had great faith in the future of the government's roads.

Sugar Brings a Laugh

Mr. Calder stated that in the past three years, no charge of graft or corruption had been made against the government or any member of parliamnt. He invited contradiction of this statement.

"Sugar" came from the back of the gallery, after ap pause. There was a laugh.

"What about the war purchasing commission?" some one asked.

Mr. Calder said this commission had saved the country millions of dollars.

Another inquired about shell contracts. Mr. Calder said these had been matters dealt with before the Union government was formed.

Patronage was practically gone, said Mr. Calder, and he gave the union government credit for its extinction.

Mr. Calder said he was a theoretical free trader—if all the world were free traders, he would be also. The people had been "befuddled and bemuddled and fooled" for twenty years on the tariff question.

"The tariff we have today" he said "is the Liberal tariff—a protective tariff. We wanted the tariff to take the middle road."

Premier Deals With Tariff

The prime minister dealt first with the tariff, saying he stood for a "moderately protective tariff," as an essential for Canada, so essential that no body of men responsible for their acts could abandon it. There was, said Mr. Meighen, a section of public opinion in Western Canada which favored free trade. Mr. Crerar was for free trade, but the Canadian Council of Agriculture was for protection. Mr. Crerar paid

BOLSHEVIKI ADOPT ELABORATE PLANS TO SMUGGLE AGITATORS TO STATES

ROTTERDAM, Nov. 8.—Determined efforts are being made by agents of the Russian Bolsheviki government to send "missionaries" and agitators to the United States, according to evidence collected by United States diplomatic officials in Europe. The spy and courier system of the Moscow government is said to have been developed to an efficiency and extent superior to that of the German general staff before the outbreak of the war, and on the lists of Soviet agents are said to be the names of many men who, before 1914 acted as spies for the central powers of Russia.

Against this campaign the United States has arrayed its agents and officials at foreign ports. Associated with them in Holland are the Dutch police, who have in their possession documents showing that Lenine, the Soviet leader, looks to Rotterdam as a "world clearing house" for Soviet finance and propaganda.

Huge index files have been filled with the names and records of upwards of 25,000 Bolsheviki "missionaries." New passports regulations have been adopted and difficulties await the Bolsheviki agitator who attempts to secure a vise from a United States representative.

Come Over as Seamen

Despite these regulations and constant vigilance, it is believed some Bolsheviki agents have, in the recent past, succeeded in finding means to cross the ocean. Scores are thought to have shipped as seamen on board trans-Atlantic liners. It is said a brisk trade is carried on in stolen or counterfeited certificates, as well as fake passports.

An attache of a United States consulate recently was offered a bribe, the equivalent of $250 a day, if he would assist in getting through to the United States six Soviet agitators daily. Stewards on liners are declared to have sometimes yielded to alluring offers for hiding Bolshevik agents on their vessel during trips across the Atlantic. Failiig to get passage to a port in the United States, the Bolsheviki try to reach Canada, where they can easily get across the border.

United States authorities abroad are said to have advised Washington that many couriers are believed to have sailed from here to Canadian ports recently.

Men of virtually every nationality and of every profession are engaged in the work of spreading Bolsheviki propaganda, it is announced.

There are also many women enlisted in the cause.

METHODISTS SUPPORTING SPRACKLIN

Conference Secretary Sees No Reason for Prisoner Leaving Pulpit.

TORONTO, Nov. 8—Officials of the Methodist church here are standing strongly behind Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin. This morning the Toronto Methodist Ministerial association appointed a committee with Rev. Speers as convenor, to go into temperance matters. Rev. Dr. Moore, secretary of the general conference, said there were two ways in which Spracklin might leave the pulpit. If charges were brought against him and he were proven guilty, he could be asked to resign. Or he could give up his pulpit as a result of his own violition. The doctor could see no reason why Mr. Spracklin should resign. He thought he could be a more powerful preacher in the future. The Methodist church stands for the enforcement of the law.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Getchell, St. Dorothy, five-year-old daughter of Stephen, N. B., was burned to death in her home when her clothing caught fire.

PERIPATETIC POLITICIAN PERORATES

British Empire, and indeed, the only country among the free nations of the world, in which the people had been denied the right since the war of electing a new parliament to deal with post war conditions. Great Britain had had a general election, so had Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa; so also had France, Belgium, Italy and the United States. It was a complete defiance of freedom and popular rights for the Right Hon. Mr. Meighen to presume to carry on for another couple of years, as he evidently purposed doing.

"The truth is," said Mr. King, "that Mr. Meighen and his colleagues have wholly forgotten or were prepared to defy the maximum that government existed for the sake of the people and not the people for the sake of the government. Ever since the war ended, the people had been made to serve the exigencies of the ministry.

Is Familiar With Western Problems

"The same attitude was apparent as regards all questions of public policy. Having spent some seven or eight years in Western Canada he had naturally become more familiar than ever with the problems confronting the western provinces, and the need for their immediate and satisfactory solution. Of all the problems, those related to railway services and railway rates and to the tariff were the greatest. The governments attitude towards the matters involved in these questions was identical with its attitude toward the people as respects the continuation of itself in office.

"As regards the railways, their view apparently was that the people existed for the railways and not the railways for the people. The interests of capital investors, both in the old world and in Canada, had been not only carefully conserved, but materially advanced, through government guarantee and in other ways. This, however, had been at the expense of the people, not only in the matter of rates, but also on the national roads as regards service. What was needed at Ottawa, was a government that would be representative of the people and careful of their interest, not a government created and maintained by special interests, whose ends they were seeking to serve.

"As regards the tariff, it was perfectly plain from Mr. Meighen's utterances, that here again he felt as between the people and the tariff, it was that the people existed that the interests of the tariff might be served, rather than that the tariff, insofar as it was necessary, was for the interests of the people. Mr. Meighen was emphasizing the need of protection to special interests. It was the protection of consumers and producers which was required today in order that some relief might be effected in the high cost of living, and greater production furthered as the only means of solving the problems of taxation and living, as they had developed out of the war."

Votes for Alien Married Women

Referring to the Franchise act, Mr. King spoke of "the feelings of bitter resentment" which he had found throughout the whole of Western Canada at thee enactment of last session which took away from the wives of naturalized British subjects in Canada the rights of naturalization, in virtue of marriage, as had hitherto been accorded, whereas in former years, and at the time admission to Canadian citizenship, women of foreign extraction had been regarded as naturalized British subjects, if married to naturalized British subjects. Today the wives of hundreds of thousands of naturalized British subjects would now be deprived of the rights of the franchise, unless they obtained through the judiciary certificates in their own right entitling them to the franchise. There was a passage in the marriage ceremony which was to the effect that whom God had joined together, no man should put asunder. The present government, in their legislation, were prepared to defy both God and man to separate husbands and wives as respects these sacred rights of citizenship which in the name of the British flag they had been led to believe was theirs at the time of taking up their citizenship in our Dominion.

Mr. King urged upon the women and young men who had been deprived of the electorate rights under these enactments to make it a point of appearing at the earliest possible date before some judge and obtain the certificates required.

In conclusion, Mr. King dwelt on the receptions which had been accorded himself and his colleagues by the people of western Canada throughout the whole of their western tour.

Meetings Uninterrupted

They had, he said, in the course of the past seven weeks addressed over 100,000 people in all parts of the four western provinces. "In not a single instance of the whole of the trip had we met a single unfriendly interruption, while on the other hand, our message had been everywhere received with the heartist of response and enthusiasm."

He said: "I am returning to eastern Canada with the feeling that the whole of the west was liberal in its sentiment, outlook and purposes. I entertain no fears as regards the new movements which had found such strong expression in their farming communities. All that was needed to secure the triumph and vindication of Liberal principles was co-ordination and unification of effort on the part of all progressive groups. This work had been immensely furthered by the meetings held in the western provinces. The next parliament of Canada would see the east and the west united in a parliament representative of Liberal thought and feeling, names were secondary to principles. It was the long awaited triumph of Liberal principles which the Canadian public would witness at the general elections whenever they were held.

SENATOR SHATFORD DIES OF PARALYSIS

Seized With Stroke Sunday, Prominent Legislator Passes Away Next Day.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 8.— Senator L. W. Shatford, who suffered a paralytic stroke Sunday, died this morning in the hospital without having regained consciousness. He was 47 years old and was appointed to the senate in 1917. He was a native of Nova Scotia. For four years he represented Similkameen in the provincial legislature as a Conservative, being elected by acclamation in 1912. He was prominently connected with many British Columbia enterprises.

The late Senator Shatford was a resident of British Columbia for 30 years, and was one of the best-known figures in business circles, as well as being widely known in connection with the political life of the province. For 14 years he sat as a member of the legislature, representing Similkameen. On his retirement from the legislature he was appointed senator in 1917.

He was born at Hubbard, Halifax county, Nova Scotia, in 1873. In company with his brothers he entered from the general store business in the interior shortly after his arrival in the province. Though operations were quite extensive, stores being established at Vernon, Hedley, Fairview and Camp McKinney. Although he sat so many years for Similkameen, Senator Shatford was unable to spend certain seasons in the interior on account of asthmetic trouble and made Vancouver his home.

Senator Shatford had been associated with many business enterprises in the province, including many large mining and land transactions. He was a heavy shareholder in the Bank of Vancouver and when the bank got into difficulty, he was called in as general manager in an effort to avoid disaster. He was married in Augus., 1897, to Miss Lavina Bartlett, whose death three years ago was a great blow to him.

He leaves four children. Miss Vera, who is now taking an art course in New York; Reginald, who is in attendance at McGill University; Fred, a student at the University school, Victoria, and Gerald, a pupil at the Vancouver public schools.

Eight Vacancies in Upper House

OTTAWA, Nov. 8 (Canadian Press) —The death of Senator Shatford, of British Columbia, makes the eighth vacancy in the upper house. There are now two vacancies in the senate for British Columbia, two for Saskatchewan and Ontario, and one each for Alberta and Nova Scotia.

The question of filling the vacancies in the upper house is likely to be taken up in a short time after the return to the capital of the prime minister. It is thought that a majority of the vacancies will be filled before parliament opens in January.

BACKUS INTERESTS HAVE COMPETITORS

MONTREAL, Nov. 8—The Star says today.—

"It was learned from a reliable source that the Backus interests will have two powerful lumber companies as opponents in the bidding for the English river timber limits north of Kenora. This contradicts a story from Fort Franis that, by virtue of the agreement between Mr. Backus and the Drury government, the Backus interests would acquire the limits without opposition.

Both premier Drury and Attorney general Raney ridiculed the statement in the Fort Francis story that the Ontario government would lose $25,000,000 as a result of the agreement made for the disposal of the English river limits, and both intimated that the report was misleading from beginning to end.

no attention to the needs of any industry. The council of agriculture said they would give an industry the exact protection it required and no more.

Of Mr. Crerar the premier said he believed him a man of honor and of sincere opinions.

"It is only common sense that free trade would drive industries out of Canada," declared the premier.

Free Trade Killed Twice

Mr. Meighen declared that Canadian factories were making binder twine when the duty on twine was removed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. At this date, nineteen factories had gone out of business, three others had burned, and only three were making a little twine. He held this was no argument for free trade, which was "just the thing for the country which is ahead."

A man in the gallery wanted to know why so many lawyers were in the government. Mr. Meighen said he counted six, and a lawyer had a training which was of great value in public service.

Farmers Should Manufacture

Mr. Meighen suggested that the farmers and grain organizations should undertake the manufacture of agricultural implements instead of diverting their funds for political propaganda and newspapers, if they really believed that manufacturers of these goods were charging unfair prices.

A complete reorganization of the Canadian government's commercial representations in Great Britain is now under discussion by the authorities at Ottawa.

FAIR BOARD ASKS FOR CIVIC GRANT

City May Get Representation; Electrical Bylaw Referred Back; Pulp Views.

A proposal that the city council should have a representative on the fair board grew out of the application of the fair board last night for a civic grant toward the expenses of the fair recently held, which had a financial deficit.

Fred A. Starkey, president of the Nelson Agricultural & Industrial association, and George Horstead, secretary-manager, appeared before the council to urge the board's request, stating that the board gave $600 more in prizes than usual, that the government grant was smaller than formerly, that the board made a special grant of $200 toward the international trapshoot, and that after yielding revenue for seven years at the rate of $253.07 per year the merry-go-round was unproductive for the first time. It was suggested that the city make a grant approximately equal to what would have been obtained from the merry-go-round had been in a condition to be operated. They stated that, in the various district features had given the fair a special standing in the territory.

It was stated that the board had collected a considerable sum in subscriptions from the citizens, toward meeting the deficit, and that more was to be collected.

Divergent Views.

Ald. C. F. McHardy favored a grant of $200 to the fair board, with no strings attached.

Ald. Mrs. W. G. Foster suggested putting the fair premises in sanitary shape, letting the donation take that form. Later, when it was suggested that the wiring and lighting of the building this year cost the city $250, she favored sending the fair board a receipted bill for that amount, as the city's contribution.

G. T. MacGuire, city electrician, later explained that this sum was not lost, as the globes were stored, and the wiring would last for 10 years. The reason the globes had to be replaced was that those put in storage last year had since been used for street decoration.

Ald. C. H. Bean drew attention to the report that the prize money had not yet been paid, and suggested that the proposed grant be made specifically toward that object.

Mayor J. A. McDonald agreed with Ald. Foster that it would be a good thing to have representation on the fair board.

In the end, the suggestion of Ald. Foster was adopted, to ask for a statement of the board's receipts and expenditures for the present fair, before taking action.

A letter from Secretary A. Walch, for the West Kootenay Poultry Pet Stock association, suggested that the city put up a special prize for the coming district show, which comes to Nelson every third year. It was decided to make a grant of $10 for the purpose named, and to grant the association free light and water for the three-day show, as usual.

Operate Quarry in Winter.

Robert Alves, street superintendent, in his fortnightly report, recommended operating the quarry throughout the winter. He reported having treated the upper of the two forks of Park street that swing around the hospital, with clinkers.

Whether to temporarily close the treated road, or permit it to be used under present conditions, was debated with much spirit. It was eventually resolved to close the road, on Ald. McHardy's motion, Ald. Foster casting the only vote in the negative.

In regard to the operating of the quarry in the winter, the members of the council wanted to know if the crusher could not also be operated. Mr. Alves replied that the question of storage would make winter operation inadvisable, and the crushed rock would have to be handled too many times. He advised operating the quarry, and breaking down all the rock possible, but leaving the crushing till spring.

Tax Sale Offers.

A number of offers were received from persons wishing to purchase from the city property which the city had acquired through tax sales.

Offers were accepted from Dee Jim Wo and Mar Yow for their former properties, sold during their absence, the city accepting the amounts for which the properties were offered at tax sale.

An offer was accepted from A. J. Park for a lot adjoining the Park property, at $50, the going price with real estate agents for lots in that locality.

E. Doucette wrote offering $1,025 for the Royal hotel and three lots, this being the amount the city was out on this property.

It was stated that this building was worth a good deal for its lumber alone.

The council decided to have this property advertised for sale by competitive bids.

A letter from A. L. McCulloch, the city's consulting engineer, stated that if it was required that he take levels in the various parts of the city area at present without fixed street grades, his bill for all his work in connection with the maps for the town planning expert would be between $500 and $700. It was pointed out that all these levels would have to be taken some time, and that taking them now would serve the two purposes.

On motion of Ald. Foster and Ald. J. O. Patenaude, it was resolved to instruct Mr. McCulloch to proceed with the taking of the levels, several miles of which remain to be done.

From the board of trade came a copy of the report of H. Helin, the pulp and paper mill expert, and a statement regarding the canvass for funds.

The council authorized the sending of the city's check to the board of trade for the subscription promised toward the expense of this report.

C. J. Carlson and E. G. Matthew appeared as a deputation in connection with water from Cedar street which is stated to damage Mr. Carlson's property on Victoria street in times of freshet.

This case, and that of Mr. Maglio, who suffers from the same cause, was referred to the board of works for examination and report.

Alderman Patenaude's Rate By-Law

A long and animated discussion took place on Ald. Patenaude's by-law to amend the power rates for power used in residences, establishing a new low rate on the higher reaches of consumption(this being designed to encorage the use of electricity in residences for heating purposes.

Ald. Foster questioned the advisability of endeavoring to extend the use of electrical appliances at a time when the city was considering offers for its surplus power.

Ald. McHardy wanted the rate considered also for commercial establishments.

According to Mayor McDonald, the question turned on whether the city would receive more revenue under the new scale than under the old one.

A large number of interchanges between Ald. Foster and Ald. Patenaude enlivened the proceedings. Ald. Patenaude said his present idea was to put the rate in force in residences, and see how the plan worked. If it was successful, it might be extended to commercial establishments.

Mayor McDonald pleaded for a greater spirit of co-operation in connection with the work of the council.

Ald. Foster moved that the bylaw be referred back to the fire, water and light committee, and that "no action be taken on it until good sufficient reasons are given why there should be a change." Later she made her motion one of simple reference back for further examination, and with Ald. McHardy as seconder, the motion was adopted.

Ald. Foster and Pulp Matter

As the council was about to adjourn, Ald. Foster asked what progress had been made in the pulp matter.

The mayor said the water, fire and light committee, which had been instructed to meet Mr. Haslam, the promoter, had had a preliminary interview with him, but that nothing had been worked out yet.

Ald. McHardy supplemented this by stating that the committee was still getting Mr. Haslam's views.

Ald. Foster said the report was going around that she was opposing this pulp proposition, without good reason, and with the permission of the council she would give the public her reasons for opposing it.

Ald. McHardy said that when the committee made its report, Ald. Foster, with the full facts before her, might be perfectly satisfied. He advised her to wait until the report of the committee was before the council before proceeding.

Ald. Foster gave her colleagues the choice of hearing her views then, or seeing them set forth in the Daily News.

Mayor McDonald and other aldermen expressed willingness to hear her, the mayor assuring her the council was ready to hear her views at all times, and that all members of the council were conscientious, and wanted the public business above board.

Ald. Foster took the view that Ald. McHardy did not want to hear her views.

She was assured by Ald. McHardy to the contrary.

She did not proceed with her proposed statement, and the council adjourned.

Those present were Mayor J. A. McDonald, and Aldermen C. H. Bean, J. O. Patenaude, C. F. McHardy, John Bell, A. A. Perrier, and Mrs. W. G. Foster.

Driven from home by snakes was the curious experience of a Welsh family living at Pwlheli. Mrs. Jones found two snakes in the afternoon under the doormat and three others crawling under the dresser. She killed them all. Two more were found later under the baby's radle and these were also dispatched. Then matters became so distracting that the parents decided to leave the house.

ESCAPED HOLD-UP MEN RECAPTURED

Skipped Train at Grand Forks; Are Now Held by Wenatchee Sheriff.

Pete Lazuk and Dan Urick, the two hold-up artists that escaped from a moving train near Grand Forks on Oct. 15, while being taken under escort from Fernie to the provincial penitentiary at New Westminster, were arrested at Wenatchee, Wash., by the sheriff, on Saturday, and are being held for the provincial police, according to word received by W. R. Jarvis, warden of the provincial jail.

The two gun-men held up the Chase Lumber company's store at Skookumchuck, near Cranbrook, two days prior to the hold-up of the Cranbrook-Lethbridge train by the Alberta bandits under Basoff. After a lapse of a few days they were arrested, sent up for trial at a preliminary hearing, and brought to the provincial jail in Nelson to await the fall assizes. They were given sentences of five years each when tried at Fernie, and were being taken by the Fernie provincial police to serve their terms in the penitentiary when they made their get-away across the border.

SYMPHONY GIVES A MUSICAL TREAT

Symphonic music, of the best, piano and 'cello solos, as well as vocal solos, filled two hours brimful of solid enjoyment for a good audience at the Opera house last night, when the Lieurance Little Symphony of talented players played sketches from representative symphonies and a wide selection of the best compositions ever written.

The company of artists patently in love with their art, was made up of four violinists, the Misses Helen Chase, Lora Sheffield, Grace Morley, and Faye Stephens; two 'cellists, the Misses Lora Teshner and Helen Mueller, a soprano singer of exceptional ability, Miss Margaret Perry, and a pianist and director, Harold Lewis.

With their program divided into symphonic sketches, selections from master composers, American Indian music, a number of popular negro melodies and a few jazz tunes, the Symphony commenced its offering with the sketches "In a Garden," "Goldmark," "Valse Bluette," "Drigo," "Canzonetta," Schuett, and the "Ballet from Faust No. 1," Gounod. Their rendition at once established their identity as artists of exceptional ability and speedily evoked emphatic expressions of pleasure from their hearers.

Miss Perry, who is possessed of a soprano voice of exquisite mellowness and charm that showed the results of careful training, contributed several vocal numbers, including "Aria from Madame Butterfly," "The Winds of the South," "By the Waters of Minnetonka" and "Canoe Song," the last two being Indian songs.

Miss Teschner in two 'cello solos, "Dreaming" and "La Fileuse," found a ready response to the rich deep notes of her instrumnt in the hearts of the audience.

Several piano solos were also contributed by Harold Lewis, the director and pianist of the party.

Capture Millionaire's Son Wanted Two Years for Abduction

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—A two-year search for James H. Mitchell, of San Francisco, wanted for the alleged abduction of Miss Helen Dasson, daughter of the head of the English colony at Saigon, China, ended today, when federal agents arrested him at a downtown hotel. He was held in $5,000 bond for violation of the Mann White Slave act. Mitchell is said to be the son of a millionaire hotel owner in China.

Romantic War Veteran Takes Elopement "Steps"

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 8—J. C. Lembley, former member of the A. E. F., is a romantic person. He was charged recently with eloping with his stepfathers stepdaughter. The stepfather asserted Lembley had previously run away with his stepmother.

Lembley first eloped with his stepfather's second wife, Mrs. W. H. Miller, according to Miller. Deserting her, the police say, the veteran returned to the Miller home and then eloped with Mrs. Ruby Hill, a daughter of Mrs. Miller by previous marriage.

TO BE DYSPEPTIC
IS TO BE MISERABLE

The poor dyspeptic suffers untold agony after every meal, and any one who has dyspepsia knows what joy it would give to eat three square meals a day and not be punished for it after. Nearly everything that enters the weak stomach acts as an irritant, and even the little that is eaten causes such torture and is digested so imperfectly that it does little good.

Before you can eat heartily, and not pick and choose your food, you must put your stomach into such a condition that it will manufacture its own digestive ferments.

For over forty years Burdock Blood Bitters has been toning up and restoring weak stomachs to a normal healthy condition so that the food no longer causes distress, but is thoroughly digested and assimilated, and enables one to partake of all the wholesome food required without fear of any unpleasant after effects.

Mrs. Alice Beckworth, Fesserton, Ont., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from indigestion and dyspepsia for several years. I could not eat anything without almost dying from the pain in the pit of my stomach. Seeing Burdock Blood Bitters highly recommended I tried a bottle, and can gladly say it relieved me. I can eat anything now, and am in perfect health."

Why do People Wake up only Half Rested

© Simmons Limited, 1920

ALL day long you are drawing on nervous force stored up during sleep.

Then you go to bed, and Nature begins storing up fresh energy for tomorrow.

When you wake up only half-rested, you haven't had the right kind of sleep.

If you have any trouble in sleeping soundly—probably your sleeping equipment is at fault.

Wooden beds are apt to creak. Ordinary metal beds often rattle slightly—just enough to set your sleeping nerves on edge.

Or perhaps your bedspring sags or humps—keeps your muscles tense instead of relaxed.

It may be your mattress is lumpy or uneven, or your pillow does not conform to your head and neck.

The Simmons Metal Bed is noiseless. Just as the sleep-inducing Spring is a Simmons "Waldorf," of specially tempered spring coils. Fine Springs that fit the contour of the body and support the spine in a straight line, insuring perfect circulation and restoring the energy used up in the fatigue of the day.

Simmons Felt Mattresses are the result of twenty-five years' study of equipment for sound, natural sleep. Made of pure, new cotton in clean, sun-lit factories. Used in thousands of fastidious Canadian homes.

And Simmons Pillows, which rest the head and neck exactly as they need to be rested.

Simmons Limited is specializing in Twin Beds. One sleeper does not disturb the other or communicate colds and other infections.

Simmons Metal Beds, Brass Beds, Springs, Day Beds and Children's Cribs are the most popular sleeping equipment in Canada today—in the stores of leading merchants right here in town—at prices little if any higher than the ordinary.

Canada Paying Off Its War Debt.

The strength of Canada's financial position is shown by the revenue and expenditure statement for last month.

Expanding revenues brought a reduction in the net national debt of $2,634,356. At the end of September the net debt (no credit being taken for non-active assets) stood at $2,276,516,163. During October it was reduced to $2,273,881,807, at which figure it now stands.

The bounding revenue coupled with a heavy reduction in capital expenditure, due to the practical closing up of war accounts, is cause for keen satisfaction. During the seven months of the fiscal year ended October 31 last the ordinary revenue was $256,576,967, as compared with $186,408,795 in the preceding year, an increase of $70,168,172.

Total revenues collected in October alone were $36,671,056, compared with $27,323,334, or an increase of over $9,000,000.

The taxes imposed on sales and luxuries last session apparently are the money getters. They are included in Finance Department returns under the head of inland revenue and inland revenue last month was nine times what it was in October, 1919, the figures being: October, 1919, $1,045,708; October, 1920, $9,435,138. Income tax collections during the month were $712,093, in comparison with $272,691 in October, 1919, also a heavy increase.

The budget is working out well and is justifying the expectations of Sir Henry Drayton.

Election-eve Pledges to Build Roads.

Now that an election is about to take place, the Oliver government announces that it proposes to raise $5,000,000 for constructing roads in British Columbia. The people are inclined to be suspicious of such programs, sprung on the eve of an election. Many a government has learned this to its cost in the past.

The road building and road maintenance record of the present government is a poor one. What little has been done has been accomplished at an overhead expense out of all proportion to the few miles of new roads built.

British Columbia needs more roads. The interior, especially, requires roads which will link up the existing system and provide a thorough provincial highway and such essential connecting roads as the Ymir road, the Queen's Bay-Ainsworth road and the Slocan road—to mention a few of the highways required in this district.

The public works record of the present administration does not justify public confidence that the Oliver government would, if returned to power, either carry out an energetic public works program or carry it out with economy and efficiency. In the four years it has been in office it has accomplished altogether too little at altogether too great an expense to the taxpayers to justify favorable expectations.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

ANSWERED LETTERS

C.Orchard—We are moving from the city to the country and our little country home has a cellar floor which is half dirt and half cement. We want to lay in our vegetables for the winter and I am writing you to ask how we shall store them—in crates on the dirt floor? We shall store onions, carrots, beets, potatoes and have a barrel of apples.

Answer—If onions are put on a dirt floor they will sprout—even if put in a crate on a dirt floor. So put those in a crate on the cement floor—or better yet, if you have one window which opens out under a porch put them in a box facing the window, on its side, so that they will get plenty of air and you can get them by opening the cellar window (that is how partly buried to keep them from shriveling). I keep my own winter supply of onions). Beets and carrots should be piled on; put them in a crate on the dirt floor in a corner and sprinkle gravel or coarse, nobbly dirt over each layer of the vegetable. Potatoes keep well anywhere; I would put these in crates next to the box containing the carrots and beets. You should stand the barrel of apples at the foot of the cellar stens, right under the sloping outside cellar door, as they need all the cold air they can get to keep them from decaying.

Bride-elect.—"A cousin has given me the choice of an electric percolator or a porcelain-topped table as a wedding present. Either gift, she says, will cost her about $18.00.) Which do you think will give me the greater service?. I know it is weak not to be able to decide this for myself, but I know almost nothing about housekeeping. I rather want the percolator, but I think it would be such a comfort to have a table near the stove, on which [illegible] table."

Government Refusal of Water Rights Rouses Kitchener's Indignation

KITCHENER, Nov. 8.—Indignation is felt over the action of the comptroller of water rights in refusing the application of C. P. Hill, the Montreal mining magnate, for water rights on the Goat river, to develop the famous iron range adjacent to Kitchener.

There is an abundance of water in the river, and at present no water is being taken by any person, which makes it all the harder to understand why the government should retard the development of the country.

MORMONS BUILD A TEMPLE IN CANADA

Imposing Structure Nearly Ready Was Started Six Years Ago in Alberta

LETHBRIDGE, ALta., Nov. 8 — (Can. Press)—Set upon a hill, the highest point in the town of Cardston in the extreme southwest of Alberta, stands, like the Acropolis of ancient Athens, a Mormon temple, the first such structure to be erected on British soil.

Typical Grecian in architecture, it symbolizes to the members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in the Dominion the permanence of the church in Canada. The Mormons have come to stay.

Six years ago last August the first sod was turned. Year by year the imposing $1,250,000 structure has risen until today it stands almost completed, ready for the final dedication by the highest officials of the church, a ceremony which will likely take place in May or June of next year. Interior decoration, which has already made the temple famous throughout the length and breadth of the continent, is still progressing and it will be spring before the final touches are made.

Build at Leisure

There has been nothing of hurry to get the job finished; modern contracting methods for beating the time limit didn't enter into the undertaking, the result has been accomplished somewhat as the ancients must have constructed the pyramids.

Once the temple is completed, dedicated, and turned over to the corps of temple officials for the special rites and ceremonies for which it was constructed, it will be sacred ground No gentile will be allowed to set foot within its portals, and only members of the church who can carry a certificate from their bishop showing themselves to be in good standing in every particular, will be allowed to take part in the ceremonies within its walls.

Surrounding the temple and lifting it up, is a great square within a retaining wall 250 feet square. Within are being developed beautiful artificial gardens in the centre of which the temple stands, rearing its topmost point 110 feet in the air. It is not so much, however, on the exterior of the structure, which is constructed of Nelson granite bearing eight dollars in gold to the ton, that expenditure has been lavished, as on the interior where the finest of woods, paintings and rugs vie with each other to lend a tone of quiet magnificence absorbing the interest of the visitor.

Everything within the temple symbolizes something. In the very centre on the ground floor there is the great baptistry with its great baptismal font supported on the backs of twelve life sized oxen done by the famous sculptor, Torlen Knaphus. Ascending by easy stages as one circles the building come the Creation Room, indicating the beginning of the world, its walls beautifully panelled by vague pictures portraying the first seven days. From this one passes into the room representing the Garden of Eden, the world before sin, where an atmosphere of peace and plenty pervades. Next comes the world after the serpent of sin had done its work, There magnificent paintings portray the struggles of the world—the wolf stalks its pray, the lamb. The cougar tears down the antelope, while the viper fascinates the tropical bird. A splendid painting of Chief Mountain forms the main background in this room. Passing from this one comes to the celestial room at the very top of the temple. For this an enormous rug is now being woven in Brussels, Belgium, at a cost of $8,000, while a heavy veil costing $2,5000 will form the entrance. Off the celestial room are smaller rooms done in the finest wood procurable. These are used for marriages and for the typical Mormon ceremony of "sealing the dead."

Throughout all these rooms special woods are used in decorating. The Garden of Eden is done in what is claimed to be the finest bird's eye maple on the continent. There is African and American walnut, redwood from South America, ebony and rosewood, while in every room are splendid borders of inlaid work which took months of life on the part of several cabinet makers to complete.

What is the purpose of the temple?

The Latter Day Saints claim to be a branch of the House of Israel, and, as such, are temple builders, and eight temples, including the one at Cardston and one at Laie, Hawaiian, islands, have been built The ninth has been decided upon, and will be built at Mesa, Arizona.

Baptise the Dead

In these temples official members of the priesthood, specially called and set apart by high officials of the church at Salt Lake City, for the highest ordinances of the gospel as believed and practiced by the Mormon people. First among these ceremonies is the baptism for the dead, Mormonism holding that those who have died without knowledge of the supreme being may be given an opportunity to exercise faith and to repent through the baptism of a living relative in his name. Thus each Mormon family sets great store by its genealogy, and great efforts are made to trace it in order that ancestors, even four or or five centuries back, may receive the benefit through being represented in baptism by a present day member of the family. Celestial marriage is the other important ordinance for which the temple stands. The Latter Day Saints assert that God's design regarding the union of the sexes in holy wedlock is an eternal one, never intended to have its termination at death. Thus marriages for life and eternity are made in the temple. Marriages of Mormon couple made in the usual way outside the temple are for life only and almost every young couple makes an effort at some time early in their married life to visit the temple and be sealed to each other for the next world.

Heretofore members of the church in Canada have been compelled to visit Salt Lake or some other point where a temple had been erected, to have these ceremonies and several other minor ordinances performed. Ever since 1888 when Charles Ora Card, with a few families, came overland from Utah at the command of the president of the church to establish a colony in Canada, settling on Lees creek and founding the town of Cardston, the people of the church in Canada have been forced to go back to the United States for these ceremonies. But now the church is 10,000 strong in Alberta. The people have prospered, and several fine towns have been built up by them of which Cardston, Raymond, and Magrath are the chief. The highest department of the church in Canada as yet is the "stake" a district presided over by a president and his two councillors. There are now two stakes in Alberta, the original Alberta stake, with president E. J. Wood at its head, centering on Cardston, and the Taylor stake, named after Apostle John W. Taylor, said to be the father of the Mormon colonies in Canada, centering on Raymond, with President H. S. Allen as head. The church, however, is spreading in this province, and a third stake is likely to be created shortly, centering on Lethbridge.

Bishops, chosen from among the elder men, take the part of ministers and pastors in other churches. Bishops, however, do not give all their time to the church; generally they are prosperous business men or farmers. The Mormons are essentially an agricultural people, and most of their members in Alberta depend on farming and ranching. They were the first irrigationists to come to Canada, the establishment of the Lethbridge irrigation project in 1900 bing the signal for a big treck from Utah to Southern Alberta.

Not all the million and a quarter dollars spent in the erection of the Temple to the Most High in Cardston is being contributed by the Mormons of Alberta.

Indeed the greater part of the money was furnished by the central council, of which President Heber J. Grant is now head. This money came from Mormons in every part of the continent through tithing, which is a matter on which all Mormons lay great stress. However, many thousand dollars were contributed by the members of the church in Canada, while much of the rough labor on the temple was contributed by members without pay. Even now, members of the church in Alberta, are contributing funds for the erection of the ninth temple at Mesa, Arizona.

Cardston, the temple city, it is now known. The contruction there of the first temple on British soil, marks it as the centre of Mormonism in the Dominion. It promises to show very considerable growth in the few years following dedication next spring for it is the history of the temple towns in Mormon communities that the older people, when they quit active business, flock to the temple where they can carry out the various ordinances of the church which they probably neglected in their busier years.

JESSIE MAC WINS AGAINST SEA LION

Exchequer Court Finds Negligence and Want of Seamanship.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8—(Can. Press)—Judgment has been rendered in the exchequer court today by Mr. Justice Audette in the matter of the appeal of "Jessie Mac" aginst the "Sea Lion." The cause of action arose in Trail bay, off the coast of British Columbia. On March 30, 1918, the Jessie Mac sought shelter from western winds under the lee of Trail island. On the following day, the captain of the Sea Lion, which had also sought shelter from the winds, with a tow of logs, attempted to shift his tow, and in doing so, the boom parted and the raft drove the Jessie Mac on the rocks where she sank.

Thereupon, the Jessie Mac instituted action in the admiralty court of British Columbia and the case was tried gefore Judge Martin who dismissed the plaintiffs action holding that the accident was inevitable.

From this judgment the Jessie Mac appealed to the exchequer court where Justice Audette reversed the order of the trial judge finding that the accident was due to the negligence and the want of seamanship on the part of the Sea Lion in anchoring in an unsafe position.

It is an enormous task today for manufacturers of telephone equipment to maintain an adequate output. They are away behind in their orders, owing to shortage of workers, raw materials, inefficient transportation and other causes. In the meantime, Central is supplying service with the means at her disposal. She is working harder than ever, realizing that the telephone is a great factor in social and business life. To her belongs the credit of assuming greater burdens because of shortage of equipment. When you telephone, think of her and what she is doing.

Are you rushing on to disaster?

TRAIN, marine, street car—in fact, all disasters are on the decrease, largely due to educational propaganda preventing carelessness. The toll of human life through ill health and disease is also on the decrease. People of the 20th century are realising more and more the necessity of keeping themselves fit and well, for without health they can never attain their ambitions.

There are still some, however, who ignore a vital factor in preserving their health and strength. They ignore medical scientists who tell us the necessity of repairing the ravishes on the heart and nerve centres. These are the people who fail to wake up one morning; the people who drop dead in the street, in the car or train, and just at a critical time when they are specially needed by friends and dependents.

ARE YOU IN THESE RANKS, inviting disaster? Do you ever feel that your work is proving a slight strain upon you? Would you be able to fill a bigger position to-morrow, make the rapid, clever decisions which bring success? Would your employer choose YOU? You can rest assured he won't if you're not in robust health. He can't take chances with ailing people. But you can obtain the health that will MAKE him choose you by restoring the heart and nerve centres, the vital organs of the entire system. Thousands of people have accomplished this by the use of Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills.

One simple step. Go to your nearest druggist. He sells and recommends Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills, and will be pleased to hand you a box; or send 50c. and they will be mailed direct by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ontario.

MACDONALD'S CUT BRIER

¶ MACDONALD'S "BRIER" has become a Canadian institution. Smoked by the men who made history. In the bush, on the trail, in mining camps, prospectors' huts, factory yards, on trains, steamships, in the luxurious homes and downtown clubs of our Canadian cities—Macdonald's has always been recognized as the smoke.

FRANCE TO HONOR UNKNOWN SOLDIER

Arc de Triomphe Chosen as Last Resting Place for French Warrior.

PARIS, Nov. 8.—The Arc De Triomphe will be the last resting place of "an unknown French soldier." The chamber of deputies so decided this today by an unanimous vote.

The vote came after an acrimonious discussion of the government bill providing for the transfer of the body of an unknown soldier from the Verdun battle field to a last resting place, either in the Pantheon or the Arc De Triomphe. So violent was the demonstration that the president of the chamber was obliged to end the sitting for a time. The Socialist advocated the Pantheon while the other members advocated the Arc De Triomphe.

November 11 combining the second anniversary of the armistice with the fiftieth anniversary of the third French republic, will be celebrated in Paris as was "Victory day," July 14, 1919, with the exception that all Canadian troops will be missing from the parade.

OWNERS AGREE TO MEET MINERS

French Government Endeavors to Avert Threatened Strike.

PARIS, Nov. 8—The government has obtained an agreement from mine employers to meet representatives of the National Federation of miners in an effort to avert the threatened strike for enforcing the men's demands for higher wages and nationalization of the mines, it is learned.

The men are demanding that the maximum pre-war scale be multiplied by five, as the cost of living, they represent, has been increased more than sixfold. The federation represents all the underground workers in the coal and other mines and in the quarries.

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Read the Letters of These Two Women.

North East, Md.—"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irregular and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month. I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial."—ELIZABETH WEAVER, R. R. 2, North East, Md.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."—MRS. A. L. MILLER, 2633 E. 24th St., Minneapolis, Minn.

CARNATION MILK WEEK

Sealed in the dairy counties, it reaches you sweet, pure and wholesome

Contrast Carnation methods of delivering milk with any others you know.

The spotless Carnation condenseries are located in Canada's dairy centres.

The pure "whole" milk comes in from the dairy farms—every day.

Immediately part of the water is taken away by evaporation. The rich milk then goes into clean, new containers and is sealed.

Then sterilized to insure absolute purity.

In this safe form Carnation Milk is delivered by grocers in every community.

It is protected against contamination.

It is not exposed to taint.

You can keep it safely on your pantry shelves—ready to use whenever you need fresh, sweet, pure milk.

Carnation Milk is the only milk supply your home needs.

It is really more, for it serves as both cream and milk.

Fresh from the can, it has a creamy consistency (due to the evaporation process). It is used as cream for coffee and tea, for cereals, for fruit, etc.

By adding an equal part of water to Carnation Milk you restore its natural consistency. You get "whole" milk—not separated or skimmed milk—but rich, wholesome milk, like they use on the farm.

Not a particle of preservative, sugar or other substance is added to Carnation Milk.

It is simply milk, for table use, for children to drink, for cooking, for Baby's bottle.

Phone your grocer for a supply. He is the Carnation Milkman.

SHORTS HAMMER MART SEVERELY

Tone Is Pessimistic; Every Branch Yields to Liquidation Pressure.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—The stock market was the centre of another drastic settling movement today, every branch of the list yielding to the increasing weight of liquidation at extreme recessions of two to seven points. There were occasional halts and feeble rallies, but these were succeeded by fresh offering in which new low levels were recorded. The tone of the market at the close was weak on total sales of 1,200,000 shares.

Among the stocks that suffered the greatest impairements was those comprising the shipping, steel, equipment, oil and motor groups, but even the filt edged railway issues did not escape the general reversal, all save a few of the transcontinentals forfeiting one to three points.

Developments over the week-end played into the hands of the shorts, the operations of that faction adding substantially to the day's unsettlement.

Increased pessimism was engendered by another deficit in clearing house reserves, the lower ratio of reserves reported by the Federal Reserve bank, and tightness of local funds call loans again rising to 10 per cent. The break in foreign exchange carried sterling down to within 15 cents of its minimum quotation in this market, while French, Italian, Dutch, Spanish and Scandinavian rates were at lowest levels ever recorded here. Liberty bonds and victory notes reacted moderately and the bond market was affected by the weakness of stocks, rails, industrials and internationals closing at variable reactions.

Total sales, par value, aggregated $13,450,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

MART CRASHES AT MONTREAL

Bottom Drops Out of Atlantic Sugar; Shorts Do as They Please.

MONTREAL, Nov. 8—The local stock exchange market crashed today in a culminating shake out after weeks of dullness yaired with occasional days of heavy liquidation. The bottom dropped out of Atlantic Sugar, which fell 19 points to a net low of 45, closing with a slight rally at 46½. It was claimed there was no support for the stock and the shorts did pretty well what they pleased. The whole market was adversely affected. The paper stocks were particularly heavy sufferers, sustaining lossees of from 5 to 10 points, and showing new low levels for the year in many cases.

The flour stocks, but little traded in as a rule, took a severe tumble, registering losses of over 40 points each in Ogilvie and Maple Leaf.

Breweries and sugar were revivals in activity and both were under severe pressure. Breweries had, however, more support, and finished the day at a decline of 3 points to 54. Notable among papers were Abitibi, down 8½ points, Brompton 6½, Laurentide 5¼, the Spanish River stocks 7, and 8 points respectively and Waxagamack 10.

The utilities put up a good showing. Bell Telephone advancing a fraction; Brazilian easing a small fraction; Detroit holding steady; Power losing a point, Quebec Railway losing 2½ points and Shawinigan 1⅛ points, while Illinois preferred, not usually active, gained a point. The heaviest losers of the day were Ogilvie Flour, and Maple Leaf, the latter not traded since February, today's price being down 47½ points. Ogilvie was down 42 points.

Other large losses took in one of 10 points for Canadian Cottons, four for Penman's at 106; 4½ for Asbestos; 5 for Ottawa Power, and 5 for St. Lawrence Flour.

Among the firm issues were the Steamship stocks, converters, Fishing, Cement and Lake of the Woods.

Total sales, listed, 24,672; bonds, $22,700.

SENSATIONAL DROP FEATURES TORONTO

Paper and Sugar Tumble Down; Bears Revel in the Panicky Sales.

TORONTO, Nov. 8—Prices again went tumbling on the Canadian stock exchanges today, causing sensational declines in Sugar and paper issues. It was another big liquidating movement, apparently hastened by uneasineess in the minds of shareholders, and augmented by tightness of money and by the calling of margins which stock holders were unable to meet. A loss of 20 points by Atlantic Sugar was said to have created a record for many years in Canadian markets. Much local selling in sugar is thought to have taken place in the past few days for the heavy decline in the price of the commodity leed to pople holding Atlantic Sugar on margin to seek realization at almost any price. Since Sept. 20, when the stock was ex-dividend, there has been a decline of 98 points, or $6,000,000, accepting the report that ehe preferred has been nearly all converted into ommon of late, owing o the favorable dividend position the common was supposed to have, paying 10 per cent.

So far as the paper stocks were concerned most interest centered in Spanish River and Brompton, but few escaped the general slump. Brompton has stood up well under previous market breaks, but today it lost nearly seven points on the Toronto market. Spanish River issues went down 10 points on common and 10½ on preferred, the latter the reckless nature of the selling, Abtibi's loss was 8 points, closing at 58. Textile stocks gave further evidence of joining in the downward movement. A sale of Penman's at 105 was 35½ points below the last previous sale here early in September.

If you are overfat; opposed to physical exertion; fond of the table and its good things, and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, go to your druggist (or write to the Marmola Co., 96 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich.) and give him, (or send them) one dollar, thus satisfying your ambition for a trim, slim figure, by receiving a good size box of Marmola Prescription Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription); take one of these pleasant candy tablets after each meal and at bedtime, and you will lose your fat at the rate of two, three or four pounds a week.

Then continue the treatment until your weight is what you desire. Marmola Prescription Tablets are not only harmless but really beneficial to the general health. EGG MARKET

OTTAWA, Nov. 8—In the egg market the demand for fresh specials is greater than the supply, and this grade is firmer and likely to continue so. Ontario dealers are offering 70 cents delivered for specials. Other grades are steady and unchanged. There is no change in the export situation.

CALGARY FRUIT MARKET

The weekly bulletin from Calgary of the British Columbia markets comission says:

Owing to exceptionally fine weather the car arrivals of apples have been heavier than usual. Nineteen cars of apples arrived from B. C. on Thursday, many of them being reshipped to country points without breaking bulk. Most of these contain apples of excellent grade and color, although occasionally we hear of one that is deficient in both and the grade challenged. Onions are also moving rapidly, some of them on consignment. They are usually well ripened and in good keeping condition, but run small. We examined a car lot this week from Vernon which were uniform in size and very well cured; these were sold as No. 1 and complained of beause they were undersized, the sizes running from 1¼ to 2¼ inches, if any reached 2½ inches they were placed across the mouth of the sack. The word No. 1 should not be used when offering onions as small as the above described. The price of onions and apples has come down this week, onions retailing at $1.95 per per sack delivered. Even with the low prices ruling, complaints are general that trade is quiet.

A car of Ontario apples in 60 lb. sacks, sugar sacks, arrived here this week, the sacks on top of the car were in good condition. They were placed in about a foot of straw in bottom of car. There are 700 sacks in the car and they were sold to a string of Groceterias at approximately $3.00 per sack.

A car of boxed apples arrived from Ontario; these were of good size, but rather dull in color. There is a good comparison possible between apples from Ontario, Washington and British Columbia and it is safe to say that all fancy window exhibits in Calgary are from British Columbia.

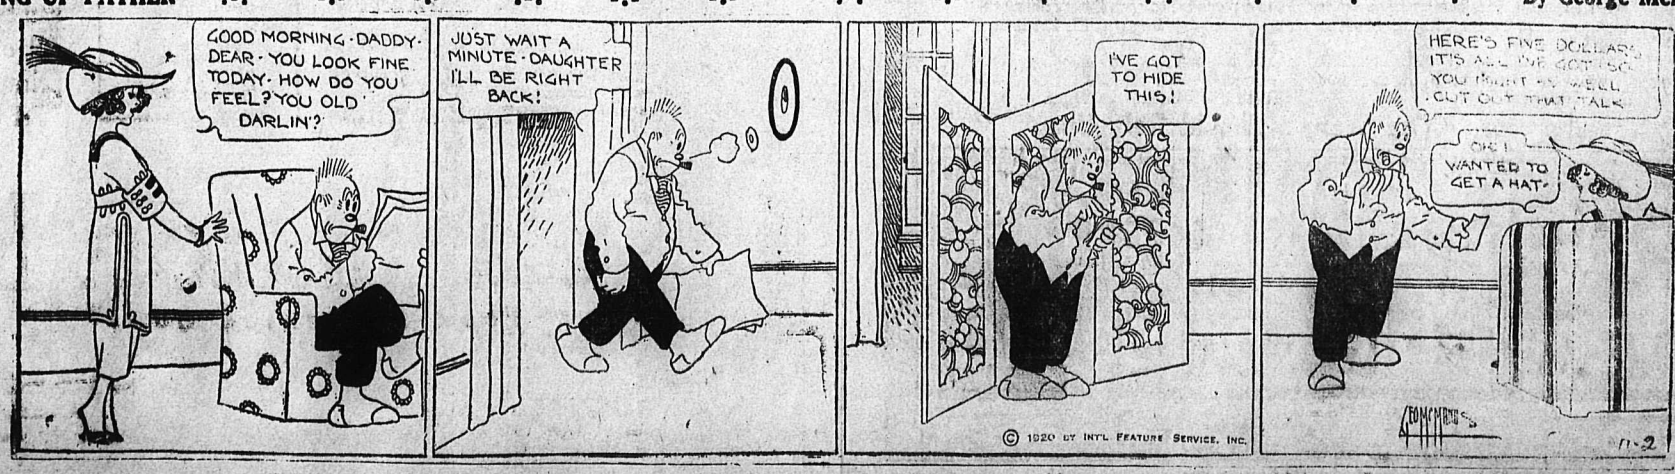
BRINGING UP FATHER



By George McManus

Western Farmers Building Silos

It is to be anticipated that before many years have elapsed almost every farm in the Canadian prairie provinces will have its silo. The growth of the dairy industry would naturally bring this condition about in course of time, but the movement is being expedited by the success farmers are having in growing sunflowers. Small fields of from three to thirty acres have been planted in various parts of the three prairie provinces of Canada. The yields are proving more satisfactory than the farmers generally dared to hope, and each acre yields on an average from fifteen to thirty tons of ensilage.

Many farmers have erected silos on their farms during the summer to take care of this crop, but most of them have under-estimated their requirements and will have more crop than they can put in their silos.

Sunflower silage is due for a more extensive trial this winter than it has had before. The results in previous years have been very satisfactory but only comparatively few farmers have grown the crop for silage previous to this year. If in its more extensive use the crop proves to be as satisfactory as it has already proved in the few cases where it has been tried, it is safe to say that in a few years the farm without a silo will be an exception in Western Canada.

Since last year's results have become known, considerable interest has been shown in silos and ensilage in Western Canada and several hundred silos have been erected during the past summer. Typical of this movement is the Cardston district in Southern Alberta, where eight silos have been erected this year and where about fifty acres of sunflowers were planted. The crop has proved so successful that it is predicted that one hundred silos will be built in the district next year and more than a thousand acres of sunflowers planted.

Similar plans are being made in other parts of Western Canada, and the already rapidly growing dairy industry promises to grow much faster with the general acceptance of the sunflower as a silage crop. Another evidence of the value of sunflowers as a forage crop will be the big gain in finished steers. Many of the larger livestock raisers are growing sunflowers and erecting silos for this purpose. Thus will be considerably increased the finishing areas of Canada, which, hitherto, have been somewhat restricted, compared with the large feeding areas throughout the country, and the livestock industry in the West will be placed on a sound basis.

UNLIMBER THE POLITICAL GUNS

East Elgin Three-Cornered Fight Promises to Be a Lively Campaign.

AYLMER, Ont., Nov. 8.—Today was nomination day in East Elgin and the political guns were unlimbered in a manner that indicates an intensely interesting campaign. The town hall was packed to its utmost capacity and time and again the speakers were asked pertinent questions by farmers who had gathered from all parts of the riding. The fight is a three-cornered one and this fact alone makes the result decidedly uncertain. The first candidate nominated was S. S. McDermainer, Farmer, of Port Burwell, and representative of the United Farmers. William G. Charlton, of Welland, was the second nomination, and is running as a Liberal. John L. Stansell qualified as the National Liberal and Conservative candidate.

WILL CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY

Toronto Will Erect Cenotaph at City Hall; Hold Special Service.

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—For the celebration of Armistice Day here, a temporary cenotaph will be erected in front of the city hall, and a large electric sign will be put up bearing the words:

"Their names live evermore."

In addition to the two-minutes' "silence" on Armistice day, there will be a special 20-minute service in front of the city hall.

Allies Establish Fifty Million Sterling Credit for Austria

GENEVA, Nov. 8.—An allied credit of £50,000,000 to Austria has virtually been approved, according to reports received here, and Sir William Goode, head of the Austrian section of the reparations commission, is on the way to London to consult the British government officials concerning it. The money will be used to buy wood, raw materials and machinery for Austria in the allied countries.

GERMAN PRISONERS ARE REPATRIATED

Many Rendered Insane by Sufferings in Russian Captivity.

STETTIN, Germany Nov. 8 (Assoc. Press).—Every contingent of German war prisoners arriving here from Russia contains a number of ragged, unshaven, haggard men who have been made insane by sufferings during many months in Russian prison camps.

In three weeks the German government sent 200 of these men to insane asylums and sanitariums for treatment. A few have spells of violence and during these periods must be kept under guard, but the majority present a listless, woe-begone aspect. They look about with dull, unseeing eyes, or sit quietly weeping, unconscious of the fact that they are home again.

The families and friends of the insane soldiers are allowed to greet them and to give them food and clothes before they are sent away for treatment.

Nearly all the prisoners exhibit the most intense bitterness not only toward Russia but toward the German government as well. One of them, who had lost an arm and a leg and who, it was learned, had been taken prisoner early in the war and had been confined in many Russian prison camps, shook his fist at a German flag when he arrived, and cursed his country, his people, and all other countries and peoples.

"To —— with Germany!" he shouted. "That is not my flag and Germany is not my fatherland."

He then turned to the other prisoners and pointing to his wounds, said:

"This is what Germany has done for me. This is what a kindly fatherland has permitted. Why didn't they exchange me? Because I have only one leg and one arm? I lost them fighting for Germany and all the thanks I've had for it were the rotten years in a Russian prison."

The prisoners generally agreed they had been unable to procure proper medical treatment in the Russian camps, and that their food had been very bad.

At the close of the war there were 250,000 war and civil prisoners in Russia, and 255,000 Russians in Germany. The German government estimates that not more than 5,000 Germans will remain in Russian camps this winter.

Before the Russo-Polish hostilities began the Russians were being returned rapidly but it is now estimated at least 200,000 Russians are still in German camps, 60,000 of whom are the troops interned when they crossed the East Prussian frontier during the Polish offensive.

The German government has expended 30,000,000 marks for transportation of Russians home, and 90,000,000 marks to bring German prisoners out of Russia.

Now scientists claim to have discovered a volcanic cavern near Retournac, France, human bones 15,000 years old.

MONTREAL, Nov. 8. — Nokaloia Angelo, found guilty of rape on the person of Daby M. Gross, 14 years old, who implicated him in an ante mortem statement which also charged Royal Canadian Mounted Police a doctor with malpractice, was sentenced to penal servitude for life this morning.

HAS FRANK TALK WITH VETERANS

Premier Meighen Receives Deputation; Discusses Pensions and Insurance.

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 8.—Addressing a luncheon gathering here this afternoon, Premier Meighen repeated his belief that the federal government should not undertake the construction of irrigation projects in Southern Alberta. The Dominion government, he said, had made surveys which had been approved by engineers of the provincial government, and the rest was for the people of the district. Brig. General J. S. Stewart was chairman of the function.

Hon. J. A. Calder predicted heavy immigration to Canada when world conditions were more settled, but declared that settlers shoud not be admitted beyond the capacity of the country to absorb them.

W. A. Buchanan, M. P., who spoke briefly, advocated co-operation between federal and provincial governments in carrying out the southern district's irrigation projects. Mr. Buchanan made it plan that while he might not agree with all the policies of the Meighen government, he had a great personal admiration for the premier. He intimated that he intended to pursue an independent course in the house of commons.

In the afternoon the premier received a deputation of returned soldiers and there was a frank discussion of pensions, soldiers' insurance and other matters.

SING OR BE SHOT WAS OPERA SINGER'S CHOICE

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—When the Bolsheviki nationalize an operatic voice they pay for it merely in food and drink, taking away the gate receipts for other purposes. That is what Mme. Nina Korshetz-Shubert, who has just arrived from Mediterranean ports, says. She was a soprano in the Russian Royal opera at Petrograd when the Bolsheviki came into power, and they allowed her to choose between singing for the general benefit or, standing before a firing squad.

Mme. Kershetz-Shubert choose the former. She was sent all over the country and sang at public concerts while the Bolshevik box office did a rushing business in which she did not participate—even cummunistically. They praised her execution, which was not extended to the elimination of her voice.

Several months ago Mme. Kershetz-Shubert became weary of her treatment and disguised as a nurse escaped to Kiev and later joined her husband and little daughter, who came here with her.

EXCHANGE AMENITIES; HELP DUTCH TRAVELER

VENICE, Nov. 8—(Can. Press).. A Dutchman, who has been making a tour of Europe, visiting Venice among other places, gives the following curious account of his travelling expenses.

He left his home in Maestricht to go to Paris with 20 florins. Those he changed into French money, getting for them 126 francs. His ticket cost him 24, so he arrived in the capital with 102. He then left for Turin, the journey costing him 44 francs.

At Turin he changed the remaining 58 francs into Italian money getting for them 84 lire. Of those he spent 21 getting to Venice, and other 18 going to Munich. There he changed the balance of 45 Italian lire into Austrian marks, of which he got 225. A ticket to Berlin cost him 100 marks and another to Aix-la-Chapelle 110.

He was now within a dozen miles or so of his starting point, Maestricht, and had still remaining of his 20 florins, 15 Austrian marks. Those he had changed into Dutch money getting for them only 65 centimos. (13 cents). The fare was 78 centimes. So his 20 Florins, plus 13 centimes, (less than five cents) thanks to the amenities of the exchange, carried him round a lot of Europe.

Monday, July 11, 1921, has been set as the day on which polling will take place in the Yukon territory, under the Canada Temperance Act provisions on the question of importation of liquor.

Jack Frost, a farmer three miles north of Moose Jaw, Sask., has disposed of his section and three-quarters to a man from Iowa at $100 per acre, including implements, stock and buildings.

BOND MEN KEEN FOR B. C. ISSUES

Man Who Paid Above Par for Last Issue, Says Credit Here Is of Best.

Bond houses all along the coast are keen for more British Columbia Government bonds, as a result of the way investors have rushed for the last couple of issues.

G. A. Maskell, of the Carston, Earle Syndicate, Seattle and San Francisco, who came over here two weeks ago and took away the last issue of $1,000,000 six per cent. British Columbia Government P. G. E. bonds by bidding 100.78 for them, returned to Victoria today on the hunt for more.

"We sold the whole $1,000,000 worth of the last lot in an hour," Mr. Haskell said to The Times today. "British Columbia securities are now regarded favorably by investors from Seattle to San Francisco. They realize that the Hon. John Hart, your Minister of Finance, has put the province back into a sound financial position. This province, as far as outsiders who have money to invest can see it, is now in quite a different financial position from what it was in the past. Careful management has brought back its credit."

Mr. Haskell said that British Columbia bonds now have greater popularity with investors south of the line than even Ontario bonds.

Other bond men are here today trying to get more British Columbia bonds, although they now have to pay the Government more than par for them, because they are in such demand from the public.

—Victoria Times, Oct. 14, 1920.

When the Oliver Government assumed office four years ago, the credit of British Columbia was so low that it was impossible to sell the British Columbia bonds except at a sacrifice which no business administration would possibly consider.

The Last Million Dollar Bond Issue of the Oliver Government which was put on the market in October, 1920, brought a premium of over $33,000, making the low net rate of interest 4 3-4 per cent. per annum, a better price than that received by other provinces for a similar loan.

BAKER STREET . . . . NELSON, B. C.

MACADAM LAID FOR CROSSINGS

City Replaces Stone With Material of Same Composition as the Street.

An even dozen of macadam crossings are being put in by the street department, under Superintendent Robert Alves, in some cases replacing the old stone crossing, as on Baker street, and in other places wooden crossings.

In the case of Baker street, the crushed stone is being put down to the same depth as the original stone blocks, is surfaced with grit, and finally rolled. After carrying the traffic through the balance of the fall, the winter, and the spring, it is expected the crossings will be hardened, and indistinguishable from the surrounding roadway, and will be in condition to take the new hard surface that will probably be given the balance of Baker street next year.

One or two of the crossings on residential streets have been constructed of crushed stone, and grit, with tar as a binder.

In connection with the use of tar as a binder in paving, Superintendent Alves states that the material with which he filled a number of holes on Baker street made a perfect pavement. In this case the crushed rock and tar was combined several weeks before it was used, in accordance with practice in the Old Country, a procedure that seems to increase the adhesive quality of the mixture. Facilities for doing this on a large scale are usually provided where this class of pavement is being used.
