FORECASTS ELECTION THIS YEAR

Ottawa Journal Anticipates Premier's Announcement of Policy.

CONSIDERS IMMEDIATE ELECTION IS SOLUTION

Redistribution First Impracticable Without Delay or Disfranchisement.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31. — (Canadian Press).—The Ottawa Journal, which is generally recognized as being close to the government, will tomorrow print the following editorial forecasting Premier Meighen's speech at London tomorrow night.

"A general election before the end of the present year—this, the Jounral believes, will be the momentous announcement that Mr. Meighen will make to the country in his speech at London tomorrow night. It will be a decision, not popular perhaps in many quarters—a decision which probably fails to take account of party strategic considerations and which some may question on other grounds, but one in respect of which there can be said:

"That it will be a conclusion reached after the most conscientious consideration and based completely on patriotic regard for the best interests of the nation.

"Since returning from London, Mr. Meighen has concentrated the best of his mind upon the national position. He has had conference with men of representative thought in nearly every branch of the national life, has weighed every possible consideration for and against an early election, has canvassed and re-canvassed every bit of available opinion of value in assisting toward a wise conclusion. Before him there were three courses:

Considers Three Courses.

"1. The Calling of the usual winter session, with an election in the natural course of events, sometime next August.

"2. A fall session for the passage of a re-distribution bill, to be followed by an election in the early spring, and

"3. An immediate appeal to the country and without re-distribution.

"The first course, everything considered, was undesirable. It was undesirable, whether regarded from a purely national or an extremely political viewpoint. There is unrest and chaotic political thinking in the country; another long session would add to both. The government, with a majority behind it, could pass a tariff measure, but it would be a measure that could not allay unrest or stabilize conditions, because its continuation would depend upon the approaching election; the possibility of a Farmer or Liberal victory would render it undependable on the part of the protected industry. Moreover, the certain knowledge on the opposition's part that an election was within sight would turn the house of commons into a political shambles.

Issue Lost in Abuse

"Every device that ingenuity could think of to injure and discredit the ministry, would be resorted to; legislation would be delayed; there would be a presentation of petty charges and accusations and the result would be that the one clear issue before the country—the tariff—would be lost in a cloud of abuse.

"From a course so promising in evil, Mr. Meighen naturally recoiled. Another session, with an election a year distant, was clearly out of the question.

"A full session for the purpose of redistribution, with an election immediately thereafter had next to be considered. It was a course urged by powerful considerations and patriotic advocations; but there was a condition which made it impossible. That condition was, and is, that the census figures are not and cannot be available in time. The prime minister, who, the Journal understands, was loath to abandon redistribution, and who explored every possibility of its being brought about, was informed that the necessary figures upon which to base such a measure could not be secured until early in December. The condition therefore created was this: That a session for redistribution purposes could not be called until after the New Year; that it could not be concluded within 30 days and that, therefore, an election, if one were to be held at once, and the evils of delay avoided, would have to be fought in the heart of winter, this, needless to say would be impossible. In western and northern Canada, with their far-flung populations, a winter campaign would spell disfranchisement for tens of thousands of electors.

"And so the prime minister, in taking account of all the conditions, was irresistably bent on the course of an immediate election.

"In the Journal's opinion it is a course both sane and sensible. We should have preferred, perhaps, to have had the coming parliament upon a new basis of representation, to have had a re-distribution measure by a brief autumn session, but that having been demonstrated as impossible, any other course than the one to be taken by the premier would be unwise and dangerous. There will be those, of coure, who will point to a pledge which Mr. Meighen is alleged to have given

Bank of England Manager Sails for Canada; Will Not Discuss Object

OFFICIAL END OF WAR BRINGS MANY CHANGES

Government Salaries Fall 500,000 Pounds Weekly; War Restrictions Lapse.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—(Candian Press Cable)—The official end of the war tonight brings cuts in wages and salaries of employees of the government approximating £500,000 weekly. Civil servants' bonuses based on the cost of living, have been reduced considerably. The higher grades of workers lose 10 to 60 per cent of their recent pay. Salaries under £500 yearly are reduced from five to 21 shillings weekly and agricultural wages fall six shillings weekly.

The Defense of the Realm act embodying a variety of wartime restrictions, lapses tonight. Its provisions have long been virtually inoperative. Extended licensing hours which come into effect tomorrow, were heralded today in the great brewing town of Burton by bands, singing and other outbursts of rejoicing.

JAPAN DETAILS SETTLEMENT OF ISLAND OF YAP

United States to Recognize Japanese Mandate; Excludes Conference Points.

TOKIO, Aug. 31.—The Japanese foreign office has received advices, according to Tokio newspapers today, indicating points at issue between Japan and the United States over control of the island of Yap, would soon be settled upon the following basis:

First, the United States would recognize the Japanese mandate over that island.

Second, that the United States would control the cable between the islands of Yap and Guam.

Third, the cable connecting Japan, Yap and Menado, Holland, would be settled on a basis of recognition of Holland's rights therein.

The cabinet has decided on an outline of Japan's policy at Washington, the Nichi Nichi says, whereby Japan will insist "to the last" upon the exclusion from the agenda of the following accomplished facts:

First, the Khwang-Tutm leased territory.

Second, the operation of the South Manchurian railway.

Third, Kiao-Chau, which will be returned to China, according to previous declarations.

Fourth, the question of Yap.

This outline will be submitted to the triple alliance advisory council.

FOREST FIRES RAGE IN CROW'S NEST PASS

CALGARY, Aug. 31.—The forest fire raging through the Crows Nest pass into Alberta and endangering the safety of Coleman and other hamlets on this side of the range was still unchecked this evening, and the drizzle of rain that had commenced to fall this afternoon was having about as much effect as would a bucket of water.

However, special dispatches received by the Albertan from Coleman tonight indicated that, though the fire was now raging on the Alberta side of the range and dangerously close to the McGillivray mines and to the town of Coleman, it had changed its course somewht and was racing away northeast along the mountainside.

The residents of Coleman and McGillivray were not alarmed tonight, although the fire is fierce and apparently traveling unchecked.

LAUNCH NEW VESSEL.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 31.—The Canadian Transporter, the latest addition to the Canadani government merchant marine, slid down the ways at Coughlan's yards this afternoon. It is notable for the fact that it was practically completed before it was launched. The boilers are being installed this evening and it is expected that the Transporter will be ready for sea before midnight.

Mrs. A. Hiefield, wife of one of the officials of the line, acted as sponsor, and a large gathering attended the ceremony. The conventional bottle of champagne was used.

The Canadian Transporter, a vessel of 8300 tons, is the last but one sister ship on the ways at Coughlan's of the series.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Aug. 31.—Allan Morrison, 70, an employee of Hayes company's factory, was killed this morning when a piece of board he was sawing flew up and struck him a heavy blow on the forehead, fracturing the skull.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 31.—Greek troops in Asia Minor have broken through the extreme left of the Turkish Nationalist army, which has lost its initiative of the last few days, and the Greek army has crossed the Sakaria river. Certain contingents of the Greeks also have crossed the Ilija river and are storming the second Turkish defense line. The Turks, who are giving way at this point, are expected to make a stand on the high ground around Angora.

The Greek advance in the Salt desert temporarily held up recently, due to lack of water, has been resumed. The Turks have rushed two cavalry divisions from the desert to the defense of Angora. Violent fighting is still in progress.

The Angora government has issued a call to arms to all able-bodied men between the ages of 30 and 45.

BELFAST RIOTS BECOME SEVERE

Call Out Troops to Protect City; Suspend Tramway Service.

BELFAST, Aug. 31.—Although the truce between the discordant factions is being completely observed throughout the remainder of Ireland, Belfast again today experienced another period of terror from gunmen and snipers. As a result the death list was augmented by six, while 30 persons were injured, many of them seriously.

Today's casualties bring the total death roll for the three days of rioting to 15. There probably have been 100 persons more or less injured, of whom numbers were noncombatants who had ventured into the streets which were being swept by rifle and revolver fire.

The Ulster cabinet met today to consider the serious conditions prevailing here. Military officials and police authorities joined in the discussions.

Troops Protect City.

Arrangements were made to draft additional troops for the protection of the city and other steps were taken to restore and maintain order.

Gunmen were again active this evening in the Old Lodge district. They opened a heavy fire in the direction of Shankill road, a thickly populated Protestant quarter. A young man was killed and four were serious wounded in this fighting.

Workmen were attacked this evening on the way home in Belfast. The police were obliged to fire on the attacking forces, which were dispersed.

The present trouble originated in the Warren and side streets lying between West street and North Queen street. The residents of these streets and Old Lodge road, another storm center, are of mixed political views and constant bickering is the result. This boiled up Monday. A fortunate circumstance is that Falls road, the stronghold of the Nationalists and Sinn Feiners, and Sandy Row, Shankill and Ballymacarrett, where Orangeism predominates, are standing aloof.

Shooting Persists All Day.

With some quiet intervals, resulting from the police putting snipers to flight, shooting persisted at various sections of the city from early morning until late this evening. Sometimes it became so dangerous as to necessitate the suspension of the tramway service. Many workers were unable to reach their places of employment and returned to their homes, while shopkeepers did not dare to open their stores. In some of the disturbed districts manufacturies were compelled to close down for the day, while, owing to the failure to open the shops the streets presented a deserted appearance.

As the day progressed the police patrols increased their effectiveness and succeeded in getting better control of the warring elements.

Attack Catholics.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—(By Associated Press.)—The Belfast correspondent of the Westminster Gazette, in describing Tuesday night's riot there, says:

"It may be stated that with the approach of dusk Royal avenue and other parts of the center of the city were the scene of disgraceful attacks on Catholic pedestrians who were seen moving along. During the night any Catholic who chanced to be passing on Royal avenue was pounced upon and savagely maltreated."

The correspondent describes how "spotting" of Catholic pedestrians proceeded with the firing by the mobs in the streets. Unionist snipers also were busy, he said, in the York street area, where many pedestrians were endangered and five wounded.

Appreciates Some Response.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—King George, in reply to an address from the convocation of Canterbury, says:

"Let us thank God that some measure of response has been vouchsafed to my appeal to my Irish people. With full heart I pray that their reconciliation may be consummated by the deliberations now proceeding and that they may be united in making a new era for their native land."

OWNERS CLING TO FORLORN HOPE OF SALVING VANISHED DERELICT

VANCOUVER, Aug. 31.—While several ships continue to search the Pacific for the derelict freighter Canadian Importer, which was reported leaking and helpless 500 miles from shore since 18 days ago, the opinion of the average mariner is that there is little hope of finding her above the surface. A perfunctory search goes on for possible survivors. There were 44 men aboard.

Officials of the Canadian merchant marine here, their owners, have not given up hope of finding the ship. This hope is based on two factors in the case. Captain Westerlund, of the steamer Cordova, insists that the Importer was in no immediate danger when he left her last Thursday, Cautain Bissette having refused a tow and declared that he could hold out until a ship of his own line claimed the salvage. It is also pointed out by some authorities that the Importer's location when she was found by the Cordova, was slightly out of the shipping lane, and the gales and high seas which have prevailed during the past few days may have carried the derelict still farther out of her course. Her wireless was out of commission as well as her engines.

Nine men of the Importer's crew put out in a lifeboat nearly two weeks ago to seek help for the vessel. Any hope which remains of their being found alive lies in the possibility that they have been picked up by a tramp ship outside the regular shipping lanes. Nothing had been heard from them tonight.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS FOLLOW CALCUTTA MUNITIONS CASE AFFAIR

LONDON, Aug. 31.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Extraordinary interest has been aroused in India by what has become known as the "Calcutta munitions case" and the startling developments therefrom.

In this case four persons, including Hukhlal Karnial, managing director of the industrial bank, which financed a number of Indian industrial concerns were charged with conspiring to cheat. The case was dealt with by Sir Thomas Holland, member of the India council, in Chicago for the department of industries. Sir Thomas, after investigation, decided to withdraw these cases from prosecution, one of the reasons given being that harm must be done to Indian industrial development if the prosecution succeeded.

Two ministerial colleagues whom Holland consulted, agreed to withdrawal of the charges, though not on wholly identical grounds.

The government of India has now issued an official communique stating that the withdrawal cannot be treated as the decision of the governor general in council who desires to make it clear that it is impossible to justify the withdrawal on the specific grounds given in the case.

Sir Thomas Holland has admitted that he committed an error in judgment in failing to submit the matter to the governor general in council. He has accepted full responsibility in the matter and has tendered his resignation.

LUMBER PRODUCERS INCORPORATE.

VICTORIA, Aug. 31.—The Canadian Producers' Corporation, Ltd., capitalized at $1,000,000, has been incorporated to equip a plant on the coast of British Columbia to cater to the offshore lumber trade. The incorporators are:

C. C. Young of the Empire Lumber company, Cowichan Lake; Brigadier General Victor A. Odlum, Vancouver; Robert Phillips of the Robin Hood Flour mills; Henry C. McAuley, C. E. Coughlan of Coughlan & Sons; J. E. Sears and Frank J. Merrick, Vancouver.

For some time past the British Manufacturing Co., Ltd., has been laying the foundations for such a corporation as is now brought into existence and the new company will take over the old concern.

LOWERS SWIMMING RECORD

REGINA, Aug. 31.—By clipping four seconds off the previous best record, Dick Conrad, Regina, wone the 100-yard swimming championship of Saskatchewan at Wascana lake tonight from a field of five competitors.

Conrad's time was 65 seconds. The previous best time was 69 seconds, made by Charley Smith one year ago.

DEMAND TROOPS.

LOGAN, W. V., Aug. 31.—Logan authorities tonight announced that a telegram had been sent to Washington stating that unless troops were sent at once the country would be attacked by between 4000 and 6000 men.

Sheriff Chafin, at the same time issued the following statement to newspaper men:

"There has been more or less continuous firing on four points of the line today. The points are Beech Creek, Blair, Crooked Creek and Mill Creek."

RAIN ALONE CAN END FOREST FIRE

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 31.—At 4:30 this afternoon a report from Crows Nest stated that a light drizzle of rain had commenced to fall. This contained the only hope that the forest fire which is roging through Deadman's pass on a two-mile front might be brought under control. Attempts of fire fighters to hold the fire from spreading have all proved unavailing, and hope of saving timber in the McLaren Lumber company's limits with the aid of rains has been given up. A belt of timber two miles wide and eight miles in depth has already been burned, while the fire is now raging all about the foot of Crows Nest mountain, sweeping in an easterly direction at a rapid rate. Though traveling easterly toward the mining camps in the Crows Nest pass on the Alberta side of the line, none of the camps are threatened except that surrounding the McGillivray mine, which is in the direct path of the fire, but still a considerable distance off.

ON HUNGER STRIKE

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 31.—Captain Janney, who is being held in Lethbridge jail without bail, pending trial on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense as a result of forts to float an aircraft company in Alberta, is staging a hunger strike. For 25 days Janney has refused to go to the mess table with the other prisoners. Food is therefore carried to him, but the guards have been unable to detect him availing himself of any of it.

Dr Wray, the jail physician is inclined to believe that he is camouflaging" by surreptitiously taking enough food to keep himself alive, as his physique shows no signs of malnutrition

AUTO SMASH KILLS TWO

VANCOUVER, Aug. 31.—George Dobson of this city, a traveling salesman, and Hugh McLaren, 9 years old, were killed in an automobile accident yesterday afternoon south of Westbank on the Okanagan lake, according to word reaching Vancouver today. H. McLaren, father of the dead boy, and Harry Godley, also of Vancouver, were injured. The breaking of a steering gear is said to have caused the fatal accident.

SAYS BIG BOSS BEHIND CHINESE IMPORTING RING

Asserts Huge Business Done in Getting Young Orientals on Pacific Coast.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—(By Canadian Press cable.)—That a capitalist boss was behind the importation of Chines into Canada and the United Kingdon, was the opinion expressed by the magistrate at Pontypridd, Wales, today, when three Chinamen, charged with landing without permission of the immigration officer at Liverpool, were expected to be detained with a view to arranging for their deportation.

The evidence given was that the defendants possessed French passports issued at Marseilles, which were not indorsed authorizing them to enter the United Kingdom. Apparently the French authorities were anxious to get rid of them. They were placed on a boat to Liverpool, where they were sent ashore and placed on another boat to Cardiff. At Cardiff they were met by a Chinese laundry proprietor.

The magistrate decided that a great amount of money was being given to secure the service of these Chinese on the Pacific coast and along the coast of England. The court, he said, wanted to get at this boss. A huge business was being done in this way in British Columbia and certain Chinese were making fortunes by getting young Chinese to England. The police inspector, dealing with the methods employed in reference to the importation of Chinamen into England, stated that 300 Chinese dollars was paid for each man put aboard.

Passenger Jumps Overboard.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(Canadian Associated Press)—Family troubles in England and the fear of being detained and sent to Ellis Island were believed to be the cause of Thomas Brassington, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, jumping overboard from the second class deck of the White Star liner Olympic Tuesday night, when she was at anchor at Quarantine here, leaving his fiance, Miss Anne Louise Thompson of Alameda, Cal., lying unconscious on the deck.

Abandon Search for Steamer.

PORTLAND, Aug. 31.—Radio despatches received tonight from the steamer Snohomish, which has been searching for the disabled steamer Canadian Importer, were to the effect that the Snohomish had given up the search for the missing steamer and that those aboard had perished, in the belief that she had foundered.

The tug Algerine also sent a wireless that she would abandon the search Saturday.

CATTLE PRICES FALL.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The ministry of agriculture and agricultural products states that an improvement in the cattle trade shown for the last week of July and the first fortnight of August has not been maintained. RACE EQUALITY ACUTE PROBLEM IN EAST AFRICA

CANADA IS TOO COLD AUSTRALIA TOO FAR

Not Affected by the Probability of Large Asiatic Influx.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Reuters has been officially informed that there is no foundation for the report that the secretary of state for the colonies has made important decisions affecting the enfranchisement and other institutions connected with the policy regarding the natives of India who are inhabitants of the Kenya colony of East Africa. It is now understood that the general question of the Indian policy will remain open till Major General Sir Edward Northey, the governor general of the Kenya colony, has returned from Kenya.

The status of the Indians in the Kenya colony, as well as that of their fellow countrymen in British Columbia and other parts of the British dominions, was one of the thorniest problems discussed at the recent conference of premiers of the Empire.

It has now reached a stage which seriously affects imperial politics. A deputation of leading white settlers from Kenya has arrived at Beira, in Portuguese East Africa, on the way to Pretoria to confer with Premier Smuts on the subject. This deputation is most emphatic in its views that the settlers of Kenya are prepared to do their utmost in opposition to the application of the principle of equality for the white and brown races in their colony, and it is not improbable that the conference with Premier Smuts will embrace the whole question of Indian immigration and the supposed impossibility of granting equal rights to Asiatics in any part of Africa.

The Kenya settlers maintain that if a decision is made by the colonial office and the secretary of state for India in favor of the Indians this decision will mark the beginning of a great Asiatic invasion of south, central and eastern central Africa. This would lead, they say, to the enforced solution of a new grave imperial question, namely, whether Europeans, Asiatics or native Africans would rule.

The Kenya settlers interviewed at Beira felt that the acquiescence of the Canadian and Australian prime ministers in the resolution adopted by the imperial conference in favor of conferring citizenship upon the Asiatics in the dominions, is only understandable from the fact that Canada is too cold to attract large bodies of immigrants from India, while Australia is too far away to suggest trouble on that score.

General Smuts, who arrived in Capetown yesterday, will, therefore, be plunged into a new field for his abilities as a conciliator.

EXHIBITION GAME WON BY PIRATES

Trim Fairview Ball Nine in Interesting and Humorous Match

Taking the lead in the fifth, the Nelson Pirates hauled down a victory over the Fairview ball nine with a final score of 12 to 8 in yesterday's exhibition game staged by the Nelson Junior ball league in aid of their uniform fund. About 100 fans watched the tussle which promised many exciting moments as well as many humorous ones.

In the fifth the Pirates made a clean up, gathering in three runs, and making the score 9 to 7 in their favor. In the sixth, Young, the Fairview pitcher, disposed of the batters in one, two, three order. With Fairview up, Roynon fanned, Marquis was thrown out by Bradshaw; Young got a base on Burgess' error; O. St. Denis was thrown out by Bradshaw.

The Pirates added three in the seventh. Pesacreta hit a two bagger to left and got to third on the throw. Annable got first on C. St. Denis' error, and scored Pesecreta. Bradshaw lined over center for two. Waldie did similarly, scaring Annable and Bradshaw. Burgess flied to Marquis. Carlson fanned. Long got a base on Marquis' error. Pengelly was thrown out by Marquis.

Fairview made a good try to come from behind in the last half. Chapman was put out by Bradshaw. C. St. Denis got around to third on Roynon's error. With Fawcett up, St. Denis scored on a passed ball. Fawcett got a base on a fielder's choice. Smyth flied to the pitcher. Houston flied to the left field.

ADDRESSES PRESBYTERY ON NEW CANADIAN WORK

Addressing the fall meeting of Kootenay Presbytery at St. Paul's church yesterday, Dr. Collin G. Young, secretary for New Canadian work of the Presbyterian church in Canada, pointed out the dangers of permitting hundreds of thousands of non-English speaking residents in Canada to imbibe educational training along Canadian lines without at the same time being brought into contact with religious influences.

He pointed out that within the last 22 years, 1,800,000 non-English different nations had come to Canada, bringing wth them their own customs and traditions. Here they had settled in communities by themse'ves and for 15 years had not been interfered with as they were law abiding, and industrious.

The largest number had come from the province of Galicia, in Ukraine, where for 150 years they had been unwilling adherents of the Greek Catholic church. There people were intensely religious, and their first public buildings in this country were not schools, or business buildings, but churches. Their superficial allegiance to the Greek churches however, coupled with a lack of priests, and the total change in environment, had resulted in those people losing religious influence, and hundreds of their churches closed. This state of affairs had left the door open to the protestant church in Canada.

Today there are 400,000 Ukrainians in Canada, 60 to 70 per cent of whom have been alienated from their traditional church, continued Dr. Young. Among them there are many graduates of Canadian universities with a powerful influence in the intellectual life of the non-English speaking. In the pub'ic schools of Canada, also, many young Ukrainians were being educated. But throughout Canada the whole body of Ukrainians was not, in any large measure being brought under religious influence. Therein lay the problem stated Dr. Young.

The Women's Missionary Society, of the Presbyterian church has been working among these people, and has in part broken down the prejudice against the protestant church. It has established hospitals, and school homes where Ukrain children are given an opportunity to receive an education in a Canadian Christian environment. Dr. Young went on to illustrate how this work is appreciated by the Ukrainians.

He then went on to sketch the need for more missionaries, told of the striking success obtained by the only two missionaries in the field, and finished by urging that the non-English speaking people be taught Canadian Christian citizenship.

CRAMPS IN STOMACH

Mr. Fred Funston, Craik, Sask., writes:—"A year ago last harvest I was taken with a sudden attack of diarrhoea which completely laid me out, and in a few hours I had to quit work. The cramps in my stomach were dreadful, the beads of perspiration would stand out on my face at times I was in such great distress. At last I got a chance to send to town for a couple of bottles of Dr Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I used it according to the way I felt and soon obtained a great change for the better, for which I was very thankful. I don't know what the cause of my sickness was except the extremely hot weather and the active work of shocking the wheat.

Several of my neighbors were taken the same as myself and had the doctor attend them, but they didn't get any great relief until I advised them to use "Dr. Fowler's," when they soon experienced a great change."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 76 years and many cheap imitations are being offered to the public.

TWENTY QUALIFY IN FIRST AID WORK

Every Nelson Candidate Passes St. Johns Ambulance Test.

Every student that sat for the examination in St. John's ambulance work held here recently has passed to the St. John's ambulance certificate of proficiency and the privilege of wearing the society's badge, according to E. H. Evans, the secretary of the Nelson branch of the society. Mr. Evans received word to that effect from the society's provincial secretary, Miss Elizabeth Whitehead of Vancouver, yesterday.

There were twenty candidates in all, seven ladies and 13 men. The ladies were the Misses Constance Winifred Orchard, Mary Pickford, Jean Turner, Charlotte Notman and Mesdames Harriet Ann Johnson, Georgina Orchard and Ellen Fern Hawthorne. The men were James Kinahan, Stanley Allibone, Henry Orchard, Leonard Oswald Campbell, Mark Campbell, Arthur Charles Dee Henry Procter, William Romain Charles Morrison Young, Ernest Henry Evans, John Robert Hunter Griffith, John Morris and Thomas Henry Long.

The candidates were members of a class of about 40 that was organized by Griffith Morris, the city sports and recreations supervisor. They were given additional instruction in bandaging by other tutors. Dr. L. E. Porden conducted the examination.

MOUNTAINEERING PARTY NOW NUMBERS THIRTY

Arrangements for this year's climbing trip to the Kokanee park are about completed by the Kokanee Mountaineering club, according to President Howard Bush. Six additional climbers gave in their names for the trip yesterday and brought the total to 30. The additional members are George Palethorpe, Captain W. T. Tait, Captain C. W. Busk, J. A. Gilker, C. D. Risk and Gordon Irving. It has been decided to hold the list open until tonight for any stragglers to register with Mr. Bush.

It is stated that this year's climb will be by no means severe, and no more difficult nor dangerous than climbing Mount Nelson, and ample time is to be taken on the climbs.

Motion pictures to be taken by the provincial photographer, A. D. Kean, will be a feature this year in boosting this coming scenic playground of the Kootenays. Efforts also will be made to call attention to the beauties of Kokanee park through mounted photographs placed in tourist centers.

The atmosphere at these higher altitudes promises to be very favorable to good photography, the haze keeping to the lower levels and there being no fires in the vicinity.

Pipe Major McLeary, in full dress, will lend a most appropriate and inspiring touch to the Kootenay highlands and his music will be a gay feature of the affair.

that there would be no election before a redistribution, and who will charge a breach of faith. No such pledge, however, was ever given. Mr. Meighen made it perfectly plain—and this can be clearly seen by a careful reading of his words—that he did not bind himself to redistribution, but argued only for its desirability. In any event, criticism on this score does not lie in the mouths of those who, for the past two years, have been clamoring for an election. Still less can it come from those who, in recent months, have been shouting that an election without delay offered the only salvation for the country."

MRS. PANKHURST CAPTIVATES ASSEMBLY AT CRAWFORD BAY

Famous Englishwoman Wins Women's Institute Delegates and Residents of District by Inspiring Address; Would Build Up Canada With Immigrants of British Race; Women War Workers Capable; British Columbia Should Find Places for Them.

CRAWFORD BAY, Aug. 31.—Before an audience of Women's institute delegates and Crawford Bay residents that packed the Crawford Bay public hall to the walls and extended in a queue outdoors, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English woman suffragist and war worker, who is now a resident of Oak Bay, B. C., last night captivated her hearers with an address that is the outstanding feature of the present district institute gathering.

Mrs. R. W. Chalmers, presiding officer of the conference, introduced Mrs. Pankhurst, and during the evening Rev. J. S. Mahood o fQueens Bay and Mrs. J. Milroy of Nelson rendered vocal solos.

The subject of Mrs. Pankhurst's address was "Immigration From Europe."

Institute on Imperial Lines.

Mrs. Pankhurst, who was received with rounds of applause, first spoke of the great support she had received in her work from members of Women's institutes, mentioning Mrs. Nellie McClung and Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, the British Columbia secretary. On her recent Vancouver Island tour the Women's institutes had been the principal factor in its success. When traveling Canada back and forth, after deciding to become a Canadian, but before she had decided to settle in the beautiful province of British Columbia, she had received innumerable kindnesses from the institutes.

The morning's discussion on provincial federation, she said, had referred to a step which would certainly bring the institutes into a wider touch with large problems. One of the things made possible in the Old Country by the war was the establishment of women's institutes there, and in time to come she felt that organization of the women's institutes might yet be on an even greater than national basis.

Those of Limited Vision.

Onlookers being proverbially in a position to see most of the game, Mrs. Pankhurst referred to a fact in the growth of the Dominion which she had observed, that many Canadians were content to stay in one spot without ever traveling elsewhere, and yet entertained very definite views as to how the country should be built up. Even a stranger like herself really knew more about Canada than these people who stayed at home and did not become acquainted with their own magnificent country. Had she stayed in the east, Mrs. Pankhurst said, she would have felt wonder and admiration undoubtedly, but not the enthusiasm and delight that the western half of the country had given her.

Coming to her announced topic, she referred first to the United States, which of old freely invited all peoples to its shores, and now had many problems, which Canada would also have to face in some degree.

Racial Unity Desirable.

The first quality in a nation necessary to a satisfactory solution of national problems, in the speaker's estimation, was unity of race. Of all countries now striving with post-war problems, France was making the most rapid progress because its people were of one race. The United States, she felt free to predict, would have the hardest time with its problems because its population was a great mixture.

Coming to Canada's problems, she noted a resolution mentioned in the morning, on the subject of educating people of an alien nationality, the Doukhobors. It was naturally felt that a young country like Canada should be busy about developing its resources and, in the haste to get population, mistakes were sometimes made.

When at the coast she was in contact with the oriental problem. Say what one would, if all orientals were withdrawn from British Columbia, a lot of work would have to be accomplished by other means than at present. She had talked with Premier Hughes of Australia, and he had told her that he knew the failings of white men, and one of them was that white men would shoulder work on a race they considered inferior if it was available. However, he considered Australia a white man's country, and Australians must be content to do their own work. From her own experience, she said, the southern states suffered by having an inferior race to work for the whites. What Australia and Canada needed, she said, was men who would think imperiously and work industriously.

Immigrants of British Stock.

Canada's highest development, in so far as it turned on immigration, she suggested, would best be secured by bringing in men and women of the British race. Canada was in the happy position of containing two kindred races, both of high and sound ideals. France had less unemployment than any other country on earth. Its people however, were not colonizers, and it was not to be expected that much of a contribution to the solution of Canada's problem of how to develop would come in the shape of immigrants from France.

Mrs. Pankhurst, turning to immigration from Great Britain, said she understood at one time there was some hostility to Old Country immigrants. This was doubtless due, in part, to the movement ni the British Isles many years ago to get rid of the unfit and the slack by sending them to other parts of the Empire. A part was also due to the feeling with which the remittance man was viewed, though some of these eventually steadied down and became useful citizens.

A Surplus of Men.

Britain's increase in population was giving that country a great problem, she said. She would take the man-surplus first.

During the war there was a great shortage of many useful things, from hooks and eyes to motor cars, and it was expected that the factories making was supplies would have to work for a long time in making up the shortages. However, there was a lack of getting together, and there was no much unemployment. When the factories did get going, however, there would be a great deal to do, and there would not be many men to spare for Canada.

There were several "don'ts" to be observed in immigration. The first to be excluded should be those who "left their country for their country's good." (Laughter.) Some authorities claimed that Great Britain could spare 1,000,000 good people. How many would be men she did not know. She observed that a recent labor congress had objected to the importation of any other labor than agricultural. Had agricultural labor been represented she supposed the congress would have objected to that. (Laughter.)

Women by Shipload.

At the time Great Britain was in process of shipping to Canada and elsewhere its submerged tenth, there was a proposal to ship out shiploads of women, to be married, or to be domestic servants. While both these ambitions were necessary and useful, it was an insult to both the Englishwomen concerned and the Canadian men concerned, to suggest this transfer of women for the purpose of marriage.

While that particular form of immigration might at that time have been fantastic, the war had wrought a great difference in the work that women could do. One great shipbuilder not long ago offered to build a ship entirely by women. They went into every kind of work. The Canadian forestry battalion taught Englishwomen how to fell trees, and they did that. Even the obstinate British farmer was conquered at last and let women work on the farms, starting with the cleaning of pig sties. In the end, they did everything but coal mining, which the law did not permit women to engage in.

The recent census showed that there were 2,000,000 more women than men in the British Isles, partly caused by the war, and confirming the claim of the men that there would be danger of their being outvoted if they allowed women equal suffrage with men.

Women War Workers Specially Qualified.

In the speaker's estimation, these war-trained women were exceptionally qualified to come to Canada and engage in usetul work here. It should not be a case of coming in order to get married. Marriage should be a free choice, coming about naturally through acquaintance. A woman could not find a better husband than the kind of self-sacrificing man who would win her affections here, and what better wife could a man find than one who was capable and independent?

Domestic service was necessary, but it would never be popular until it was put on a better plane. It would be only a small part in a general solution.

Mrs. Pankhurst ventured the opinion that British Columbia was the ideal province for these British women immigrants to come to. It was desirable to develop this wonderful province. There should be a way that competent women workers could help in this.

Province Should Study Plan.

There was such an opportunity here, Mrs. Pankhurst said, that the government, the Women's institutes and other interested bodies should consult and try to work out a plan.

She had written these views to her eldest daughter in England, who had had considerable experience in women's work. Her daughter had replied to the effect that there were lots of women who could come, but surely she would not advocate bringing them out without having the positions for them beforehand. Her daughter's caution was proper, it was regrettable to state. Unfortunately Christianity had not progressed to the state where a young girl was entirely safe among strangers and out of employment. This was due partly to the unequal moral standard.

She referred to the work opening up before organizations such as the Women's institutes, to prepare for taking care of young women coming over.

It was agreed that Canada needed immigrants in order to grow, and while getting them they might as well be of the British race. (Hear, hear!)

A High Task.

How to build up Canada, make the people worthy of the country in which they lived, and develop a great imperial race, was a problem and a task requiring the brightest intellects and the highest energies of Canadians. To carry on the traditions of a race the first and the most splendid ever seen, was the task now committed to the Canadian people.

Mrs. Pankhurst's address was followed by prolonged applause.

Mrs. W. Garland Foster and Mrs. J. H. Howe, both of Nelson, proposed and seconded a vote of thanks to the evening's orator, which was duly presented by Mrs. Chalmers. Mrs. Pankhurst, in replying, said the war had taught the men and women of the Old Country that they needed each other, and she affirmed that the men no longer held the post of "lords of creation." (Laughter.)

"O Canada" opened the function, and the national anthem closed it.

Photography is indeed an art when it succeeds in making a woman look like she thinks she looks.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES DISCUSS PROVINCIAL FEDERATION ISSUE

Weight of Opinion Is Favorable, But No Vote Is Taken; Question Is Remitted Directly to Local Organizations; Mrs. Chalmers Announces Coming Retirement From Presidency.

CRAWFORD BAY, Aug. 31.—Federation of British Columbia Women's institutes on a provincial basis was the exclusive theme of deliberation of the Kootenay and Boundary district institute at its opening session in the Crawford Bay public hall yesterday morning, when 16 local institutes of this territory were represented. Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, provincial secretary, and Mrs. R. W. Chalmers, district president, led the forces favoring federation, while Mrs. W. Garland Foster of Nelson was the rallying figure for the opposition. The weight of the discussion was of a favorable tenor, and in the end Mrs. Chalmers, as presiding officer, passed the question on to the local institutes, without the assembly expressing its views in the definite form of a vote.

Plan Is Outlined.

As explained by Mrs. MacLachlan, the proposal is to have the institutes in a provincial organization, with an annual conference, while still retaining the existing machinery of the four districts. There would also be smaller groups within the districts. The government, which now bears the expense of the district conferences, would exchange this burden for the provincial conference. There would be a provincial board of directors in place of the advisory board, and the various branches of the work would be in the hands of permanent committees.

Among the activities that would be benefited by the wider scheme of organization Mrs. MacLachlan mentioned the proposal for home experiment stations, and district nursing and child welfare. The campaign for eradication of social disease, she suggested, could be successful in five years if the existing act, secured by the institutes, was rigidly enforced.

Mrs. Foster, acting at the request of Nelson's executive, marshaled the objections of the federation, criticizing it on the ground that it would be expensive, that it would violate tradition and result in a breaking away from the status of a government institution; that it would introduce the thin edge of the wedge of politics; that the province was made of districts of widely different character that had problems peculiar and local, and that the time was not ripe for an affiliation. She contended that the Women's institutes should not touch the realm of legislation, leaving that to other women's organizations, but should concentrate on matters affecting the home and woman's work.

Mrs. Chalmers stated that Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, had given his approval, so the institutes would not be less under the government's wing than they were at present. Institutes that did not come in would not be affected in their relations with the government.

Some Nelson members excused Nelson's "precipitate action" in taking a stand against federation, and professed an open mind on the issue.

A keen debate seemed to show the delegates to be favorably impressed with the federation idea, the chief doubt expressed being as to whether there would be a political phase to it.

President Gives Notable Address.

The other feature of the session was the address of Mrs. Chalmers, who announced that, following the advice of her physician, she would retire from active institute work for a period.

Mrs. Chalmers, in her notable valedictory, declared the Women's institutes of the province were at the parting of the ways, where the type of organization under which they would seek to develop their great work must be decided. The plan of provincial federation, she said, was fully approved by the advisory board, and was in all essential particulars just as Mrs. MacLachlan had conceived it and worked it out. She heartily commended it to the institutes of the Kootenay and Boundary. If the Women's institutes of the Dominion should see in the larger and closer form of organization a plan for being of greater service, they would be heard of from coast to coast. One of its most valuable results of the new plan would be to allot to every member work and responsibility.

She urged giving the most loyal support to the new advisory board member whom they would elect. She thanked the institutes, which, for the most part, had loyally held up her hands. Of those who had failed to see eye to eye with her, she asked pardon for her faults.

Mrs. Chalmers recounted many of the achievements of the institutes, particularly in connection with securing consolidation of schools, and painted an inspiring picture of their use and value in the rural ocmmunities. If they held to their high ideals and were unrelaxing in their efforts, she said, there would be hardly any limit to their usefulness and influence.

The president's address was warmly applauded.

Proposed Health Tax.

Mrs. MacLachlan presented a report on the fate of resolutions from the last convention, particularly that relating to the establishment of health centers, Hon. J. D. McLean, head of the health department, having asked just how far the various districts were favorable to the health tax proposed by the institutes.

The president argued that the small districts would be entirely shut out from the nursing scheme unless the health tax were instituted.

A resolutions committee was appointed by the chair, to act for a year, consisting of Mrs. H. H. Pitts, Nelson; Mrs. Thomas Dodds, Thrums; Mrs Frances Ashby, Bonnington; Mrs. F. L. Constantine, Cranbrook; Mrs. C. D. Ogilvie, Harrop.

The convention was opened by prayer by Rev. J. S. Mahood, after which Mrs. M. J. Fraser, president of the Crawford Bay institute, welcomed the delegates, Mrs. Lyne of Creston replying for the visitors.

DEFAULTS PRINCIPAL, BUT RAISES INTEREST

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—The Toronto Railway company has temporarily defaulted principal, but not interest, on its $2,000,000 of bonds due today, owing to the small amount of money which the courts awarded it as a first payment from the city. Bondholders, however, will receive 6 per cent interest instead of 4½, on their bonds for the period which will elapse before the arbitrators' awards enable the company to make payments.

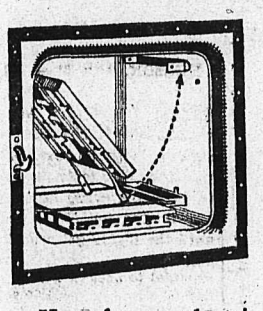
A Seamless Oven



SEVENTY years' experience in stove and range building infallibly guided McClary's to correct principles in constructing their Electric Range oven.

Heat for the oven of a coal or wood range is generated in the fire pot and conducted to the oven.

Heat for the oven of a gas range is generated from an open, oxygen-consuming flame.

Heat for an electric range oven is generated from an element inside the oven.

That means you can economize in electric current, can turn it down to "low" or "medium" and still maintain the temperature of the oven, as the heat is held in the oven until the door is opened.

McClary's Electric Range

Heated air exerts pressure. This air pressure will force vapors and odors through any kind of joint or seam, and lodge them in the insulating packing between the outer and inner walls of the oven.

So McClary's make the inside of their Electric ovens in one piece, without a joint or seam. No vapor can be forced into the lining, and no heat is lost.

McClary's Electric Range,—the range of reliability and durability.

Don't Bet Too Much on This Prophesy.

Sir William Pope, president of the Society of Chemical Energy, declares that chemical agencies will be the decisive factor in future wars. In a sense, powder is a chemical agency, but he means, of course, chemicals of the poison gas nature.

It is to be hoped, though perhaps hardly to be expected, that Sir William Pope's theory will never be tested. But, if it is, it is not improbable that it will be confounded.

There is room for doubt even as to whether chemicals of the gas type would dominate in a war today, but in a war fifty years from now an entirely new agency may have been developed.

Electricity, for example, has possibilities infinitely greater as an agency of destruction, than gas.

The Troubles of Heligoland.

After all the trouble which Heligoland has been to itself and Europe and after all its buffeting from one power to another it is still doubtful if the status of the little island is yet definitely determined. The work of dismantling the great fortifications built by the Germans goes steadily on and Heligoland in time will be restored, so far as appearances go, to its original character of a North Sea fishing island. But this is not enough; the people have appealed, first to Great Britain, then to Prussia, the allied councils, and finally the League of Nations, to be relieved of the German control under which they were left after the war.

But back of this appeal lies an interesting chapter of international history. In the '70s and '80s of the last century the island was unfortified; the people were mostly fisherfolk who were contented under British rule.

Then British diplomats swapped the island for concessions on the east coast of Africa and Heligoland passed to Germany, to become eventually one of the most strongly fortified positions in the world. The people did not like the Prussian military rule, and the treatment which they received during the world war greatly increased this dislike. They were all, about 2000 of them, taken from their homes and interned in Germany, mostly at Ruhleben, because the Germans, knowing their strong British sympathy, feared that they would furnish to the allies intelligence regarding the island's strength and its approaches. When in 1918 they were permitted to return they found that many of their homes had been destroyed on the plea of military necessity and that those left standing had been stripped of all their portable possessions.

The Prussians endeavored to overcome the control which the inhabitants had always exercised over their local affairs by making voters of the men whom they sent to the island to dismantle the fortifications. A boat load of the old fishermen, most of whom were born under British rule, went to Berlin to lay their case before the government. They were curtly dismissed and told to go home. They appealed to Premier Lloyd George, who said he was powerless to help them. They got no more satisfaction from the allied councils, and then they went to the league asking to be made a separate state. There is little likelihood, however, that this will be done.

One solution just offered is to incorporate Heligoland in the Free State of Hamburg, which has promised to develop it and to protect the rights of the people. This is far from being what the little island wishes, but it seems to be the one means of escape from its present unhappy situation.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

WHAT KITCHEN EQUIPMENT HAVE YOU?

It is a fact that only half the kitchens in this country are well equipped. Perhaps this is because the average bride goes to housekeeping with only a few tools of work, intending to "add to them later on"—and then does not add to them; other expenses of housekeeping come up, or perhaps she prefers to put any extra money into living-room improvements or other things not actually essential.

I don't believe many women realize how really necessary it is to have a perfectly-equipped kitchen. When I go into such a place I always want to roll up my sleeves and go to work! But when I enter a poorly-equipped kitchen I have a discouraged feeling right away. And so co you, Reader Friend, though you may not realize it. When our work is made easier by having the proper utensils, we are naturally more cheerful and happy and ready to work.

Have you the followings things in your kitchen? You should have.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. HAM CROUTONS.

Cut stale bread into quarter-inch slices and trim off the crust. Spread each slice with butter mixed with one teaspoon of made mustard, sprinkle lightly with finely chopped olives or pickles, cover with chopped ham, then with grated cheese mixed with an equal quantity of buttered crumbs and put in a hot oven until the cheese melts, then serve at once.

A mock chill con carne combines small quantities of leftover bits into a palatable dish. Brown one-half pound of hamburger steak or ony kind of leftover meat chopped fine in a skillet with butter and one small onion chopped into bits. When brown add one cup of red kidney beans, two medium sized tomatoes, a few pieces of celery cut in small pieces, one section of garlic and one-half pepper, chopped. Cook until tender and thicken with flour. Serve with triangles of toast or toasted crackers.

Bee Keeping Notes

(By W. J. Sheppard, Chief Bee Inspector.)

NELSON, Aug. 31.—All hives short of sufficient stores to carry the bees through the winter, viz, about 30 pounds, should be fed with syrup sugar as early as possible. While the warm weather lasts the bees are able to store the syrup in the combs and seal it over, but if the feeding is left until the nights get cold they are unable to do this. Unsealed food is detrimental to bees in winter. The quantity of stores in the alve can be easily estimated, as each frame when full contains about five pounds net weight. A quicker way is to lift up the back of the hive and a very good idea of the weight of stores within can be obtained by this means.

The syrup should be made of white granulated sugar in the proportion of two parts of sugar to one of water. It is not really necessary to boil it, as the sugar will dissolve if boiling water is poured on it and well stirred until clear. A lever lid can, with a tight fitting lid, in which about a dozen small holes have been made with the point of a single nail, makes a good feeder. This is inverted over a feed hole that has been cut in the quilt. The feeder should be refilled each evening until sufficient syrup has been given. A strong colony will empty a five-pound feeder in 24 hours or less. The syrup should be given warm and the feeder should be covered with several thicknesses of sacking or other warm material to retail the heat as long as possible. Bees can only take cold syrup very slowly.

The season of 1921, which promised so well in the spring, has, owing to the long continued dry weather, been a poor one for honey production throughout the province. Some colonies, especially, have not been able to gather sufficient honey to winter on. Combs containing honey dew of fruit juice should be removed before feeding up for the winter.

CHEAP BRITISH CLOTHES WORRY VIENNA TAILORS

VIENNA, Aug. 31.—The offer of a British concern to sell in Vienna 400,000 ready-made suits of men's clothes at £1 and 10 shillings each, has been occupying more space in the newspapers than the disturbed political situation.

Master tailors and ready made clothing merchants are fighting it and thus far successfully, as the ministry of trade has refused the import license.

The entire Vienna press, backed by the countless civil servants and workmen's cooperative socities, is demanding the deal be permitted, pointing out that native tailors charge 10,000 crowns for a suit of equal quality, while the British offer equals about 4600 crowns.

Styles

BY LENORE

If it is twill then it is sure to be fashionable, and if the color is blue, its smartness is unquestionable. In the sketch below is a model full of interesting suggestions for the frock to meet the first flutter of golden autumn leaves. The panels, there are four of them, are caught under the hem, and narrow black braid is used for the belt, which is passed through slashes in the side panels and fastened in front with bead clasps.

BLIND GIRL COLOR EXPERT

New York has a color expert who is sightless, Agnes Stafford, a wever, who devises beautifully harmonious color combinations. Agnes was stricken blind when she was 5 years old. She herself cannot explain her gift. She seldom picks the wrong color. In her work, of course, she is guarded by her teacher, but aside from giving the girl the color skeins she asks for and keeping her from unavoidable mistakes she offers her no other assistance. Agnes' masterwork is her "finger patterns." These are the delicate designs worked into material with the fingers while it is still on the loom. And when it comes to devising these patterns and shading them from the deepest to the most delicate of pastel tints the wonder of the sightless weaver's skill increases. An odd phase of Agnes's color tuition became apparent recently when, following a physical collapse, she suddenly seemed to lose her ability to visualize color. As she explains it, she lost confidence in her power. The colors became confused in her mind. It was a long time before she was able to set in order the conflicting color values. Last year the Metropolitan Museum of Art adjudged two specimens of her weaving the best submitted in a large textile exhibition in their respective classes. She was the only blind exhibitor.

Carnation Home Cooking Lessons

Conducted by Mrs. Mary Blake

These lessons on milk cookery will appear weekly. Mrs. Blake's counsel will be helpful and stimulating, because of her practical experience in home cooking. She will answer any question of her readers. Address: Mrs. Mary Blake, care Carnation Milk Products Co., Ltd., 134 Abbott St., Vancouver.

LESSON THREE

Milk in Camp Cooking

I HAVE chosen for this week's lesson to talk about the convenience of Carnation in camp, for it is in the great outdoors that many friends of Carnation first become acquainted with its wonderful usefulness and carry this knowledge back home with them. A can or two in the lunch kit for the short trip, a case or two in the car for the permanent camp furnish the basis for most of the favorite home dishes; and a supply of pure, doubly rich milk for daily use in the most remote camp.

Many useful pointers on camp cookery have come to me from men who have spent much time in the open; forest rangers, engineers, etc. These hints have a man-like utility that will make camp cooking easier for women, as well. For instance, this useful suggestion: When leaving camp for an all-day hike, before putting the can in your lunch kit, put two plugs in the holes. If it has been opened, and you will not have to worry about it spilling and your coffee will not go creamless, either. I will be glad to hear about any camping hint a reader may suggest.

Camp Chocolate

This quick method of making camp chocolate was a mining engineer's discovery. Mix in individual cups 1 teaspoonful chocolate, ⅔ cup of boiling water, and sugar to taste. Then fill the cup with Carnation and stir well.

What would camp coffee be without Carnation? And how satisfying it tastes made in a tin can and flavored with creamy Carnation.

Brown Bread

Rainy days will descend upon the most optimistic camp at times. Such days are a good time to treat the crowd to Brown Bread with their beans. Here's the recipe for it: One cup of white flour, 2 cups graham flour, 2 cups Indian meal, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful baking powder, 1 cup molasses, ¾ cup Carnation Milk diluted with ¾ cup water. Sift white flour, graham and Indian meal, salt and baking powder together; add the molasses and the Carnation Milk mixed with the water. Beat well and steam in a buttered mould for three or four hours.

Questions and Answers

Q. Can I use Carnation for thinning mayonnaise? Mrs. J. C. K.

A. Yes, indeed. Carnation is very good for this purpose. It thins the dressing—mayonnaise or cream salad dressing—to the desired consistency and at the same time adds richness and flavor. Carnation, you know, is the milk of double richness.

Crippled toes caused through incorrect shoes worn in childhood

THE natural foot is not ungraceful—it is a perfect piece of mechanism. The toes are straight and strong, the instep high and pronounced, the sole tough but resilient. That is how your child's foot should grow.

Ill-fitting shoes—shoes that pinch and distort the toes—shoes that harden and callouse the sole will give your child an awkward, graceless carriage. Fit HURLBUTS and insure the free graceful walk nature intended.

HURLBUTS are made with soft cushion insoles, nature shape toes, and are welted. They insure the lowest cost per day of wear.

Write for booklet about Hurlbut "Re-built Service" and we will tell you the name of the Hurlbut dealer nearest to you.

HOW BLACK BASS GOT TO KOOTENAY

INVERMERE, Aug. 30.—The statement in the Nelson Daily News to the effect that black bass have invaded the waters of the Kootenay River in the neighborhood of Kootenay lake and the possibility of them spreading into other parts harks back into ancient history in regard to the introduction of game fish of their character into the interior waters of this province.

Back about twenty some odd years ago a movement was set on foot by some of the local people for the introduction of black bass into Windermere Lake. There not being any commercial salmon spawning in these parts and not any trout in the lake proper by reason of its being too warm for their liking it was thought that the introduction of small mouthed bass would be a benefit and afford a good line of sport. Apparently in connection with other inland fishermen the question was taken up with the federal department of fisheries at Ottawa. At that time it was still a mooted question as to whether the inland fishing waters we controlled by the Dominion or the Provincial governments and it was not a question that either was willing to open for discussion.

Ship Spawn to Lakes

In view of the requests which were forwarded the Hon. James Sutherland who was then minister of marine and fisheries at Ottawa undertook to act and arrangements were made for the shipment of black bass spawn to stock lakes Windermere, Moyie, Long and Christina, all of which lie in the interior and towards the south of the main line of the C. P. R. Before the shipping of the spawn was carried through, however, the matter got into the press and the provincial government, through its attorney-general, Hon. D. M. Eberts, asked that all shipments of black bass spawn to provincial waters should be stopped.

This request was granted in part and amongst others the Windermere lake of this district was cut out but the spawn was placed in Moyie lake and apparently in Christina lake. Moyie lake is directly drained into the Kootenay river by Moyie river, and Christina lake is connected with the Columbia river by the Kettle river.

Windermere lake was left off, and the spawn which was intended for it was taken back to Banff and put into lakes in and about that place and through the Northern Territories. Without any particular knowledge of how the introduction of black bass would militate against the propogation of other commercial fish and game fish the people of the Windermere lake district carried on a campaign for many years in the hope of having bass spawn introduced into the waters of this lake, for which, on account of it being warm it is specially good for producing and progating. Finally they bent to the more experienced judgement of fishery experts and gave up the request to have the bass spawn introduced. Full particulars as to the introduction of these predatory fish into the inland waters of British Columbia is reviewed in the report for year 1917 of John Pease Babcock, the deputy commissioner of fisheries.

Explains Presence of Bass

With this information in print, it is not necessary to look very far as to how these fish are now present in the Kootenay river near to Kootenay Landing and to the West Arm of that rive, for it is only folowing out the natural sequence as set out in Mr. Babcock's report that they would follow up the streams, or down them, from the place where the spawn was originally deposited, and with their fighting instinct hold the ground against all comers. It is not necessary for us to look to the state of Idaho as being the persons responsible for them coming into the Kootenay. It is more than probable that now they are moving along that before many years more have passed the pioneers will work up through the rough waters of the rapids of the Columbia River and still pushing on till eventually reach the headwaters and enjoy the warmth and comfort afforded by Windermere lake and thus without any effort further fulfil one of the longings and realize one of the fish dreams of the earlier sportsman of the Windermere Mining division.

THEOSOPHIST TO COMBAT GHANDI

Mrs. Besant Plans Returning to India to Counteract Revolutionary Trend.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Annie Besant, the English woman who has devoted the latter years of her life to the cause of India, and who, as president of the International Theosophical society presided over the first world congress of the society, which has just closed here, is hastening back to India to counteract the activities of Gandhi, the radical agitator.

Mrs. Besant said she had received several disquieting cablegrams from Madras since she had been in Europe, as to the activities of Gandhi.

"Gandhi is getting desperate, and likewise losing his head," said Mrs. Besant, "and I must get back to my people as quickly as possible. They have great confidence in me, and I am sure I can, in a large measure, lead them away from the radical, vicious teachings of Gandhi."

Indians Want Home Rule.

The Indians, Mrs. Besant said, want home rule under the Empire, and want to attain their freedom through peaceable means rather than by violence. While this may not be as far off as some think, India must be able to defend herself against aggression with native force rather than English before she is ready to take the reins of dominion government into her own hands.

Great Britain, Mrs. Besant believes, is at last awakening to the needs of India, is more sympathetic, and through the newly formed National Native council, is granting many of the demanded reforms.

Mrs. Besant expressed great admiration for Lord Reading, the viceroy, whom she said had shown since his arrival in India a profoundly sympathetic understanding of the Indian character, and she felt, would gradually further the cause of "home rule."

Gandhi as Indian Tolstoi.

Gandhi, whom she described as the Tolstoi of India, is losing his following, she said. He had preached boycott of schools, legal machinery, even hospitals, gaining for a time a tremendous following, but, in all cases where the boycott was effective, many of the agitator's disciples returned to the schools, and utilized the legal machinery and medical aid.

Revolution will never gain headway in India, Mrs. Besant believes, first because the people are unarmed; secondly, because they do not want to gain political liberty that way.

Mrs. Besant frankly talked of her internment during the war for her teachings and, with pride, said a large number of the reforms she has been striving for, are gradually being granted.

"During my recent suit for libel," she said, "the presiding judge remarked that most of the reforms for which I was agitating, thus causing my internment, have since been granted by the mother country. I look upon that statement by the judge as being my justification."

In Pars the Renee silhouette for fall is of the same straight, long-waisted tpye scarcely longer than heretofore, showing the bateau neckline and sleeves frequently short.

BEARS RESUME MARKET ATTACK

List Forfeits Considerable Portion of Recent Gains; Transportations Dull.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The stock market today forfeited a considerable part of its recent recovery. This was attributed to the absence of new constructive forces, which provoked a renewal of bearish aggression.

Contrary to promises held out yesterday the money market developed greater firmness, the official rate for call loans opening at 5 per cent and this was increased to 5½ per cent in the final hour.

Additional July statements of railroad earnings were mainly favorable, but investment transportations were unresponsive, epecially the Hill group and leading coalers.

Early stock market prices were irregular, the list becoming more reactionary at midday.

Later dealings were characterized by the erratic fluctuations of Mexican Petroleum, which finally closed at a slight recesion, and the strength of Studebaker.

U. S. Steel and independent shares of that class, as well as equipments, secondary stores, shippings, coppers, and many speculative issues of indefinite description, registered irregular net declines.

Sales were 535,000 shares.

Buying of British and French bills to cover September maturities, as well as speculative accounts, imparted variable strength to foreign exchange. Demand sterling was 4½ above its recent low.

Liberty bonds were firmer and trading in bonds as a whole widened.

Total sales, $9,700,000.

'OUR VISITORS, AND NO HEEL TAPS!' TOAST OF GOLF AND TENNIS MEN

Determined to do the visitors "proud," members of the Nelson Tenins club and the Nelson Golf and Country club have joined forces to provide for their entertainment.

Both clubs are running a three days' tournament on Sept. 3, 4 and 5, and a huge influx of visitors is anticipated. "The more the merrier," says Harold A. Lowe, the Tennis club secretary.

That being so, the Blue Diamond pavilion hall and orchestra has been engaged, and on Saturday night, Sept. 3, a dance will be held at which all visiting competitors and ladies will be the guests of the two clubs.

Today, if you are a man who swings a clug or wields a racquet, ten to one you will be tapped on the shoulder and given the privilege of buying a ticket or two to help along the estimable work of proving that Nelson sportsmen are built in a hospitable mould. In other words, if you have to choose between taking one or two tickets, take two for the luck and honor of the Queen city.

Big entries have been received by both clubs, big events are to be contested. Nelson's very best will try conclusions with all comers in two most fascinating branches of sport.

Jitneys will be run by the clubs to the pavillion and a specially late tramway service has been arranged, everything, in fact, is fixed the best way both clubs can to give "our visitors" good sport and a week-end to remember.

FERNIE NOSES OUT CLOSE FOUGHT GAME

FERNIE, Aug. 30.—In a friendly baseball game here Sunday afternoon Fernie defeated a team from the Crows Nest League picked from Coleman, Hillcrest and Blairmore teams by a score of eleven runs to ten.

Callihan started for Fernie and worked well for the first three innings but the visitors got to him in the fourth when they pounded five hits scoring as many runs. In this frame with three men on bases Brown hit out a three bagger scoring all three men. Bishop replaced Callihan with one man out in the fourth and held the visitors well in hand to the finish.

Pendergast started well for the visitors but weakened up and seemed to lose much of his control, walking no less than ten batters. In the sixth innings he gave Noel a walk to first, who ambled down to second, then to third on a wild pitch and home on a passed ball.

With the score standing ten all in the last half of the ninth Bishop on third took a big lead, Brown attempted to catch him off third, but third baseman could not see the ball on account of the runner and it went to the outfield. Bishop coming home, winning the game.

HYDROPLANE MAKES NEW WORLD'S RECORD

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—The one mile speed boat championship of North America, will be decided immediately after the British international, (Harmsworth trophy) race, to be completed Monday or Tuesday next week. The change in plans was made today to permit Gar Wood, of Detroit to enter his new Miss America II in the mile tests. The world's record for single engine hydroplanes was raised to 70.951 miles an hour by Miss Chicago in her six one mile dashes. The old mark was 63.498 miles an hour.

BIRTH AND DEATH FORBIDDEN.

In the Inland Sea of Japan is an island with 3000 inhabitants of both sexes; but on that island births and deaths practically never happen. For ages this island, known as Miyajima, has been given over to religious ceremonies, and most of its inhabitants are priests, image carvers and fishermen. Miyajima is, in the eyes of the Japanese, one of the three sights of the country. Some of it is cultivated, but mostly consists of wooded heights and rocky valleys, with streams of crystal water. Wild animals, including large herds of deer, abound, and are never touched by the people. Birds and all kinds of creatures become so tame that they do not fear man in the least, and crime of any sort is practically unknown. One of the most rigorous rules on Miyajima is that there must be no deaths or births. When a child is likely to be born the woman is rowed across to the mainland, and any one who is very ill is removed in a like manner. In the old days very severe penalties were inflicted on the relatives of any one who chanced to die on the island. Even today the relatives are banished for a month. Another curious rule is that no one is allowed to keep a dog. Although this strange island is venerated so much by the Japanese, they do not object to white men visiting the place.

OUTLINES CAUSES OF UNREST IN INDIA

Speaking before the fall meeting of Kootenay Presbytery at St. Paul's church, Dr. Fraser Campbell, moderator of the Presbyterian church in India, gave some glimpses of what he believed were the causes of unrest in India. Dr. Campbell is in Canada on furlough.

While Dr. Campbell was of the opinion that the British administration in India was in general, excellent, he stated there were three factors causing unrest among the native population.

The educational system, so far as it went, was admirable, but in effect it mainly encouraged higher education for the few. His first point was that religous instruction has largely been omitted from the school curriculum.

A second factor was that the English people had an all too evident sense of superiority, which is resented by the Hindoos. The new type of British official with his modern brusqueness antagonized the courtesy loving Hindoo, and was in striking contrast to the old type of courteous official.

His third point was that the Hindoos were insensed over the treatment of Sihks' in British Columbia. Originally these Sihks were the best type of Hindoo, both physically and mentally. They were an electric people and by nature were predisposed to accept Christian principles and practise.

These three causes had resulted in a deep seated bitterness against the English as was manifested in the uprising in which General Dyer was compelled to fire on the people. It was found that a large number of participants in that uprising were relatives of British Columbia Sihks. Formerly those people were loyal, but they are now disloyal and will not receive the Prince of Wales.

Dr. Campbell then pictured the phenominal progress of Japan during the last 50 years, or since Japan opened her doors to western ideas, and questioned what would happen in India with her 320,000,000 souls when she awakes. The Hindoos are men of intelligence he stated and now have a sense of power and a desire to exercise it.

Already Indian thought is permeated with the teachings of Christ, he went on. Gandi, the great Hindoo leader, frankly admits he received his greatest inspiration from the New Testament. Similiarly, the writings of Sir Rabintrantath Tagore, the Hindoo poet, display markedly, the same influence. But India is changing rapidly he said in conclusion, and must get western civilization and religion right down to the masses of the people.
