Motor Boats Laden With Gunwhales Awash Pass Unhindered Across Border

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 14.—Hundreds of fast motor boats so heavily laden with beer and whisky that their gunwales were awash, pushed away from Canadian shores at nightfall Saturday and headed for the American side. Not a state trooper awaited the runners on the other side. Their landing was made without interference. At Ecrose, on the United States shore, the shipments were received by bands of men who efficiently, but without haste, carted them to their destinations. Ecrose officials took no steps to get possession of the cargoes.

On the Canadian side it was estimated at least 200 boats made the trip at dusk to the United States. This figure might have been largely increased, it was estimated, had count been taken of others which embarked from Amhertsburg, Upriver points, Windsor, Walkerville and the like provided the whisky shipments.

Reported Troopers Merely Bluff.

DETROIT, Aug. 14.—Plans of prohibition enforcement officers for dealing with smuggling of Canadian beer and whisky across the border here, as a result of a recent Windsor court ruling that the Ontario law does not prohibit export of intoxicants, remains unannounced. Plans for a big week-end trade by the downriver resorts were more or less affected by the reputed presence in the vicinity of a contingent of state troopers. The troopers, however, failed to appear in the suspected wet spots and the remark was frequently heard there that the announcement of their presence on border patrol duty was merely a bluff.

ENACTS LEGISLATION FOR NEW JUDGSHIPS

CALGARY, Aug. 14.—The Calgary Albertan's special correspondent at Edmonton wires as follows:

"An extra edition of the Alberta Gazette, published on Thursday, just before the Stewart government went out of office, puts into effect the recent legislation providing for two new supreme court judges in the province. It is believed that the two men who will be appointed by the Dominion government, which has the appointing of them, will be Hon. J. R. Boyle, late attorney-general of the province, and T. M. Tweedie, M.P., of West Calgary.

"An order put through before the government resigned appoints J. Hodgkins, former chief of the liquor detective squad of the provincial police, as police magistrate in the city of Lethbridge."

PRINCESS ENA RUNS AGROUND

Refloated at Gordon Head, Grounds Again at Alert Bay Anchorage.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 14.—(By Canadian Press.)—The British Columbia coast service steamer Princess Ena put into Alert bay, B. C., today, after having run aground at Gordon Head, on the north of Vancouver island. She reported by wireless to Point Grey station that she was "not leaking," and it is understood she is not seriously damaged. She carries no passengers as far as is known here.

The Princess Ena anchored in Alert Bay after having refloated at high tide and proceeding under her own steam from Gordon Head. At low tide today she was aground at her anchorage, but not in any danger.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 14.—Late messages from the Princess Ena, which went aground today in northern British Columbia waters, state that the ship is not seriously damaged and will proceed on her journey as soon as the fog lifts. Heavy fogs have prevailed over northern waters today.

The Princess Ena carries a crew of 16. She left Nanaimo on Friday afternoon en route to Skagway, Alasko, with a cargo of freight.

Caruso's Daughter Inherits Half

NAPLES, Aug. 14.—Enrico Caruso's little daughter, Gloria, is given one-half of the estate of the tenor, under the terms of an agreement signed by Caruso's heirs here Saturday. The agreement provides for division of the rest between Mrs. Caruso, her daughter and a son.

Labor Conference Urges Starting Up Idle Plants Before Winter Commences

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—At a conference of Labor members of the Ontario legislature and the executive of the Independent Labor party on Saturday afternoon a decision was reached to urge the government to aid manufacturers with loans where needed in order to get any plants now idle operating again before winter. This course, they believed, would go far toward solving the unemployment situation. It was assumed that one of the big difficulties was the lack of funds which banks would not supply. A commission to pass on all applications for loans was also suggested. A committee was appointed to put the loan proposition into form for presentation to the Ontario cabinet.

TO CONSIDER STABILIZING OF EXCHANGE

Financiers Propose International Assembly to Revive Commerce.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Assembly of international congress of financiers at Washington, possibly coincident with the disarmament conference in November, to discuss stabilization of foreign exchange, is under consideration at the treasury department, officials said tonight.

The idea behind the proposed conference is to bring together the leading financiers of the world in hopes of evolving a program which, by removing the uncertainties now resulting from exchange fluctuations, would pave the way for a revival of commerce between the nations.

WILL ENFORCE LIQUOR LAWS

Alberta's New Attorney General Declares Intention to Follow Policy.

CALGARY, Aug. 14.—"It will be the duty of the new government to frame a policy with respect to the administration of the liquor law, and it will be my intention to enforce that policy to the utmost of my ability," said Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Alberta's new attorney-general, this evening.

Mr. Brownless stated that he favored a consultation with the durggists and the doctors of the province to obtain their views with respect to the liquor prescription business. "Concerning the general laws of the province," said Mr. Brownlee, "my belief is that there should be a tendency toward safe, sound legislation."

CALL MEETINGS ON MINE RESCUE WORK

VICTORIA, Aug. 13.—Robert Strachan, senior mines inspector of the provincial department of mines, has been appointed to represent British Columbia at international meetings to be held in St. Louis September 1 and 2, to consider standardization and improvement of mine rescue methods, it was announced at the mines department here Saturday.

The St. Louis conference, called by the United States bureau of mines, will be the result of a request which Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines for British Columbia, made to the American bureau last year. The gathering will be attended by delegates from coal mining centers throughout Canada, the United States and European countries.

While Mr. Sloan has been unable to make arrangements to attend the conference in person, the conference program calls for an address by him on the need for standardization in mine rescue work. Mr. Sloan has prepared a paper on this subject and it will be read by Mr. Strachan, who will leave for St. Louis during the next few days.

WHEAT CUTTING STARTS IN SASKATOON DISTRICT

SASKATOON, Aug. 14.—Wheat cutting has started on 25 per cent of the farms in the Saskatoon district, according to reports received last night. Fears of frost have hastened operations on half of these, but it seems likely that this danger is now past, due to the warm weather of the past two days.

Serious oat blight is reported in the northern part of the district and a potato blight which puzzles experts is spreading rapidly in the neighborhood of Saskatoon. Labor is plentiful.

ORDERS DEPORTATION OF HINDU WITNESS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The final chapter in the famous San Francisco Hindu conspiracy to foment revolution against British rule in India, was written here yesterday when United States District Judge Van Fleet signed an order for the removal of John Singh from the Ukiah state hospital for the insane to his home in India.

German officers in the country were involved in the case, tried in 1918, and John Singh was adjudged insane following his refusal to testify against the 30 Hindus, Franz Bopp, German consul-general here, and others, alleged principals in the plot. He had been brought from India to testify in the case, but told the court "I will not testify against my brothers."

MONOPOLY BETTER THAN BANKRUPTCY

Lemieux Endorses Shaughnessy's Railway Proposals; Attacks Farmers.

JOLIETTE, Que., Aug. 14.—Hon. R. Lemieux, Senator Casgrain, J. J. Dennis, M. P. for Joliette; J. E. Prevots, M. P. for Terre Bonne, and Ferdinand Rinfret, M. P. for St. James, Montreal, came to Joliette today to launch what promises to be an energetic Liberal campaign in anticipation of a general federal election. The meeting was well attended.

Mr. Lemieux predicted a crushing defeat for the present government. In referring to the situation brought about by the new United States tariff he said that the Canadian farmer found himself in the position of having lost the American market and as paying dearly for the attacks of high finance against the United States.

Of the railway policy, Mr. Lemieux said:

"I am disposed to accept the general lines of the project of Lord Shaughnessy. If it is said in criticism that a monopoly would thereby be created, I reply that I would prefer a monopoly to bankruptcy."

The Farmers' party, the speaker said, had risen in the west as a popular reaction against the government, but, he asked, in its desire for revenge on the Tory party did not the Farmers' party go too far?

TEACHERS DEBATE SALARY QUESTION

Opinions Divided; Can't Have Rolls Royce Education at Ford Car Cost.

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—Would higher salaries improve the standard of the teaching profession, or would better teachers bring about a higher level of salaries?

The Imperial teachers' conference threshed out this matter at their concluding session on Saturday afternoon, and the weight of opinion was in favor of higher salaries as a first requisite, especially in rural districts.

Harry Charlesworth, president of the Canadian Teachers' federation, argued that there must be an improvement in the training and qualifications of teachers and this would bring about better recognition from the public. Among several who took the opposite view was Lieut.-Col. Mitchell, who said:

"The general public must be taught that it can't have a Rolls-Royce education at the cost of a Ford one."

Sir Harry Reichel supported Mr. Charlesworth. He declared the only possible way to improve the rural school was to pay the teachers the same salary as the city teachers. This plan, he said, had been tried in the Austrian-Tyrol and was proving successful.

BURY SACRED BOOKS

UNIQUE JEWISH RITE PERFORMED IN EDINBURGH

A quaint Jewish rite was performed by the Rabbi Dr. Salis Daiches, the spiritual head of the Jewish community in Edinburgh, when a large quantity of holy books and religious appurtenances that had been used in the synagogue were buried in sacred ground in accordance with Jewish custom. The community in Edinburgh dates back about 100 years and the cause of the ceremony was the amalgamation of the three synagogues into one congregation. Photo shows the canvas bags being lower into the graves.

SIX CARDINAL POINTS IN GOVERNMENT'S OFFER TO IRELAND; PREMIER ABSOLUTELY REFUSES TO ENTERTAIN ANY SEPARATION

Proposal Demands Recognition of Joint Interests on Land and Sea; No Hampering of Armament Limitation; No Tariff Restrictions; Share Financial Liabilities; De Valera Renews Insistence on Independence; Craig Determined to Stand on Ulster's Rights; Deadlock Creates Keenest Political Sensation Since Close of War.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Eamonn De Valera, leader of the Irish Republicans, has refused to accept the proposals of the British government constituting dominion government and having as their basis the bringing about of peace in Ireland, declaring conditions sought to be imposed constitute interference in Irish affairs and control which cannot be permitted. On the other hand Lloyd George has informed De Valera there can be no compromise on the question of the right of Ireland to secede from her allegiance to the King. The premier tells De Valera that the conditions of the proposed settlement contain no desire on the part of Great Britain for ascendance over Ireland or the impairment of Ireland's national ideals.

Apparently at Deadlock.

Simultaneously with the making public of correspondence between Lloyd George and De Valera, a note to the premier, signed by Sir James Craig, the Ulster leader, also was published. The official records in the Irish peace negotiations were made public unexpectedly today. They show seemingly a deadlock, based on two vital differences between De Valera and the British premier—De Valera's renewed insistence on independence and that Ulster shall be regarded merely as a minority faction of an Irish nation.

Still Hope to Bridge Difficulty.

The disclosures constitute the keenest political sensation since the close of the war. The politicians of both England and Ireland tonight were discussing the question whether the door had been closed on further negotiations. They seemed to find in the conciliatory tone of the correspondence, however, ground for hope that some bridge might yet be built across the chasm of differences over the question of independence. It was the consensus of opinion that all depends upon the temper of the Dail Eireann when it meets in Dublin on Tuesday, but that altogether Ireland stands at present at the most critical point of her history.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The correspondence between the British prime minister, Lloyd George, and Eamonn De Valera, the Irish Republican leader, made public by the British government this evening, shows that while there is a deadlock on the question of independence for Ireland, the negotiations are still open.

Great Britain offered Ireland complete autonomy in finance and taxation, military for home defense, her own police, and, among other things, control of the Irish postal service.

In his reply to Lloyd George, De Valera argued for independence and offered to submit the Ulster questions to arbitration.

In his final letter Lloyd George denied Ireland's right to secession, refused foreign arbitration for Irish questions and expressed the hope that Ireland would accept the British terms, which he declared were the best that could be offered.

Terms of Proposals.

The British proposals, which are dated July 20, said:

"The British government is actuated by an earnest desire to end the unhappy division between Great Britain and Ireland which have produced so many conflicts in the past and which have once more shattered the peace and well being of Ireland. At the present time they long, with his majesty, the King,—in words of his speech in Ireland last month—for a satisfactory solution of these age-long Irish problems, which for generations embarrassed our forefathers as they now weigh heavily upon us, and they wish to do their utmost to secure that 'every man of Irish birth should work in loyal cooperation with the free communities on which the British Empire is based.' They are convinced that the Irish people may find as worthy and complete an expression of their political and spiritual ideals within the Empire as many of the numerous and various nations in allegiance to his majesty's throne, and they desire such consummation, not only for the welfare of Great Britain and Ireland and the Empire as a whole, but also for the cause of peace and harmony throughout the world.

"There is not a part of the world where Irishmen have made their home but suffers from our ancient feuds. No part of it but looks to this meeting between the British government and the Irish leaders to resolve these feuds into a new understanding, honorable and satisfactory to all the people involved.

Cites Canada and Africa.

"The free nations which compose the British Empire are drawn from races with different histories and traditions. In the Dominion of Canada, the British and French have long forgotten the bitter conflicts which divided their ancestors. In South Africa, the Transvaal Republic and the Orange Free State have joined with two British colonies to make a great self-governing union, under his majesty's sway.

"The British people cannot believe that where Canada and South Africa, with equal or even greater difficulties, have so signally succeeded, Ireland will fail, and they are determined that, so far as they themselves can assure it, nothing shall hinder Irish statesmen from joining together to build up an Irish state of free and willing peoples of the Empire.

"Moved by these considerations. The British government desires Ireland to take her place in the great association of free nations over which his majesty reigns. As an indication of their desire to obliterate old quarrels and to enable Ireland to face the future with her own strength and hope, they propose that Ireland shall assume forthwith the status of a dominion with all the powers and privileges set forth in this document.

Defines Dominion Status.

"By the adoption of dominion status, it is understood that Ireland shall enjoy complete autonomy in taxation and finance; that she shall maintain her own military forces for home defense, her own constabulary and her own police; that she shall take over the Irish postal service and all matters relating thereto; education, land agriculture, mines and minerals, forestry, housing labor, employment, transportation, trade, public health, health insurance and liquor traffic, and, in substance, that she shall exercise all those powers and privileges upon which the autonomy of self governing dominions is based, subject to the considerations set forth in the ensuing paragraphs.

Considerations Involved.

"Guaranteed in these liberties, which no foreign people can challenge without challenging the Empire as a whole the dominions hold, each and severally, by virtue of their British fellowship, a standing among the nations equivalent not merely to their individual strength, but to the combined power and influence of all the nations of the commonwealth. That guarantee, that fellowship, that freedom, the whole Empire looks to Ireland to accept."

Six Stipulations.

Then follow six stipulations.

The first says that the common concern of both countries in the defense of their interests on land and sea shall be recognized.

"Great Britain," it adds, "lives by the sea; her food and her commerce depend upon the freedom of the sea routes; Ireland lies at Britain's side, north and south, that links her with the sister nations of the Empire, the Allies Will Cancel Rhineland Restriction if Germany Pays Promptly.

CONFESSES TO ARSON

VANCOUVER, Aug. 14.—Nick Kogas, proprietor of the Broadway cafe here, and W. J. Brewitt, a waiter, are under arrest charged with conspiracy to commit arson and a Chinese cook known as "Duck," is in custody charged with causing a fire in the Golden Gate cafe here last New Year's night. It is alleged that "Duck" has made a confession asserting that Kogas paid him $150 to set fire to the Golden Gate cafe, in which a fire occurred during a New Year's celebration at 1 o'clock on the morning of January 1. The fire warden's report led to a special investigation by city police, in the course of which a Chinese known as "Jimmie" said that Kogas had asked him to start a fire in the Golden Gate. Kogas' restaurant is next door to the Golden Gate, and Jimmie is said to have quoted Kogas as saying that business was not good enough to support the two cafes. Jimmie declined the job, but nominated "Duck" as a likely man for it.

Detectives who had sought "Duck" high and low for months, walked into him on a street in Chinatown last night. Taken to the police station, Duck is said to have made a full confession.

OFFICIALLY DROPS RAILWAY CONTROL

After Seven Years British Lines Revert to Pre-War Conditions.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—(Canadian Press)—Government control of British railways, instituted at the opening of the war, will cease at midnight tonight. Stockholders in the last seven years have been in the sheltered position of having their dividends on the pre-war basis guaranteed.

The new act governing the future of railway administration becomes operative almost immediately under rates and fares which will be fixed by a tribunal.

The eventual position has been so uncertain that for a long time railway stocks have been the Cinderella of the markets. Competent critics, however, believe that great efficiency is now evident among the workers with wages tending toward an economic earning basis and, with a revival of trade, the railways should see a return of prosperous times before long, notwithstanding that the competition of motor traction is already proving formidable.

No Change in Sam Hughes.

LINDSAY, Ont., Aug. 14.—The condition of Sir Sam Hughes, former minister of militia, was unchanged tonight, according to his physicians.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 14.—Charles Boutillier, aged 10, of Vancouver, was drowned while bathing in English Bay Saturday.

SIX CARDINAL POINTS IN OFFER

markets of the world and the vital sources of her food supply.

"In recognition of this fact, it is essential that the royal navy alone should control the seas around Ireland and Great Britain and that such rights and liberties should be accorded it by the Irish state as are essential for naval purposes in Irish harbors and on Irish coasts."

The second stipulation says in order that the movement toward limitation of armaments, which is making progress in the world, should not be hampered in any way, the Irish force shall, within reasonable limits, conform in numbers to the military establishments in other parts of the islands.

In the third stipulation it is declared that Great Britain shall have all the necessary facilities for the development of air defense and communications. The fourth expresses the hope that Ireland will, of her own free will, contribute in proportion to her wealth to the naval and military forces of the Empire, and assumes that volnntary recruiting will be permitted, "particularly for those famous Irish regiments which so long and so gallantly have served his majesty in all parts of the world."

Complete autonomy in finance and taxation with agreement that there shall be no traffics and other trade restrictions between the two islands, is provided in the fifth stipulation.

The sixth declares that Ireland is to assume responsibility for a share of the United Kingdom's present debt and pensions. In default of an agreement, the share would be determined by an arbitrator appointed from within the dominion.

The document proposes that the conditions of settlement be embodied in the form of a treaty, to which effect shall be given by the British and Irish parliaments.

"The form in which the settlement is to take," it adds, "will depend upon Ireland herself. It must allow for full recognition of the existing powers and privileges of the parliament and government of northern Ireland."

Welcomes Cooperation.

"The British government entertains the earnest hope that the necessity of cooperation among Irishmen of all classes and creeds will be recognized throughout Ireland, and will welcome the day when by these means unity is achieved. But no common action can be secured by force."

Declaring that union in other dominions came by consent, the document continues:

"In no condition can they consent to any proposals which would kindle civil war in Ireland. Such a war would not touch Ireland alone, for partisans would flock to each side from Great Britain, the Empire and elsewhere, with consequences more devastating to the welfare, both of Ireland and the Empire, than the conflict to which a truce has been called this month."

"The British government will, therefore, leave Irishmen themselves to determine by negotiations between them whether the new powers which the pact defines shall be taken over by Ireland as a whole and administered by a single body, or taken over separately by southern and northern Ireland, with or without a joint authority to harmonize their common interests.

"They will willingly assist in negotiating such a settlement, if the Irishmen should so desire.

"By these proposals, the British government sincerely believes they will have shattered the foundations of that ancient hatred and distrust which have disfigured our common history for centuries.

"The future of Ireland within the commonwealth is for the Irish people to shape. In the foregoing proposals, the British government has attempted no more than a broad outline of settlement, the details of which they leave for discussion when the Irish people have signified their acceptance of the principle of this pact."

The document is signed by David Lloyd George.

DUBLIN, Aug. 14.—The reply of the British prime minister, Lloyd George, to the recent communication regarding the British government's peace proposals from Eamonn De Valera, the Irish Republican leader, was presented to Mr. De Valera this morning, the Dail Eireann announced this afternoon.

The proposed reply of the Irish Republican ministry to the latest communication from the British government and correspondence between the British government and the Irish leaders will be submitted to the Dail Eireann at its forthcoming meeting.

Decline Proposals.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—On August 10, Eamonn De Valera addressed the following communication to Mr. Lloyd George:

"Sir—On the occasion of our last interview, I gave it as my judgment that the Dail Eireann could not, and the Irish people would not accept the proposals of your government, set forth in draft, July 20. Having consulted my colleagues, and with them given these proposals most earnest consideration, I now confirm that judgment.

"The outline given in the draft is self contradictory and 'the principles of the pact' not easy to determine. To the extent that it implies recognition of Ireland's separate nationhood and her right to self-determination, we appreciate and accept it.

"But in the stipulations and expressed conditions concerning vital matters, the principle is strangely set aside and a claim advanced by your government to an interference in our affairs and to a control which we cannot admit.

Claims Right to Choose.

"Ireland's right to choose for herself the path she shall take to realize her own destiny must be accepted as ineffeasible. It is a right that has been maintained through centuries of oppression and the cost of unparelled sacrifices and untold suffering. We cannot propose to abrogate or impair it; nor can Great Britain or any other foreign state or group of states claim to interfere with its exercise in order to serve their own special interests."

Declaring that it is Ireland's desire to be free of imperialistic entanglements which will prove destructive of Irish ideals and be fruitful only of ruinous wars and crushing taxation, De Valera says:

"Like the small states of Europe, the Irish people are prepared to hazard their independence on the basis of moral right, confident that as they would threaten no nation or people, they would, in turn, be free from aggression themselves."

Asserting that this is the policy that Irishmen have declared for in plebiscite after plebiscite, De Valera continues:

"As for myself and my colleagues, our deep conviction is that true friendship with England, which military coercion has frustrated for centures, can be obtained most readily now through amicable, but absolute separation. The fear, which we believe groundless, that Irish territory may be used as the basis for attacks upon England's liberties can be met by reasonable guarantees not inconsistent with Irish sovereignty."

De Valera declares that a dominion status for Ireland is illusory. He says the freedom the British dominions enjoy is less the result of legal enactments or treaties than of the immense distances which separate them from Great Britain and make interference by Great Britain impracticable.

Asserts Right to Secede.

"The most explicit guarantees, including the dominions' acknowledged right to secede," De Valera continues, "would be necessary to secure for Ireland an equal degree of freedom. There is no suggestion, however, in the proposals of any such guarantee.

"Instead the natural position is reversed. Our geographical situation with respect to Great Britain is made the basis of denials and restrictions unheard of in the case of the dominions. The smaller island must give military safeguards and guarantees to the larger, and suffer itself to be reduced to a position of helpless dependency.

"Obviously we are unable to urge acceptance of such proposals upon our people. A certain treaty of free association with the British commonwealth group, as with a partial league of nations, we would have been ready to recommend, and as a government to negotiate and take responsibility for, had we an assurance that the entry of the nation as a whole into such an association would secure for it the allegiance of the present dissenting minority. To meet those sentiments alone, this step could be contemplated.

"Treaties dealing with proposals for free inter-trade and mutual limitation of armaments, we are ready at any time to negotiate. Also mutual agreements concerning air, railway and other communications, and generally for the smooth commercial intercourse essential to both nations. But all such treaties and agreements we would require submitted for ratification, first, to the national legislature and afterwards to the Irish people in a manner showing that their decision was a free decision and without any element of military compulsion."

Leave Debt to Arbitration.

De Valera offers to leave the question of Ireland's share of the national debt to arbitrators, one each to be appointed by Ireland and Great Britain and the third chosen by agreement or nominated, say, by the president of the United States. He declares that the question between the political minority and the great majority of the Irish people must be left for the Irish people themselves to settle.

"We cannot admit the right of the British government to multilate our country, either in its own interest or at the call of any section of our population," the letter continues.

"We cannot contemplate the employment of force. If your government stands aside we cannot accept the responsibility. We agree with you that no common action can be secured by force. Our regret is that this wise and true principle which your government prescribes to us for the settlement of our local problems it seems unwilling to apply consistently to the fundamental problem of the relations between our island and yours.

"The principle we rely on in one case we are ready to apply in the other, but should this principle not yield to immediate settlement, we are willing that this question, too, should be submitted to external arbitration.

"Thus we are ready to meet you in all that is reasonable and just. The responsibility for initiating and affecting an honorable peace rests primarily not with our government, but with yours. We have no conditions to impose, no claims to advance, but the one that we be freed from aggression.

"We reciprocate with a sincerity to be measured only by the terrible sufferings our people have undergone, the desire you express for a mutual and lasting friendship. The sole cause of the ancient feuds you deplore, as history proves, were the attacks of the English rulers upon Irish liberties. These attacks can cease forthwith if your government has the will.

"The road to peace and understanding lies open."

Lloyd George's Direct Reply.

Lloyd George's reply, which was dated August 13, was as follows:

"The earlier part of your letter is so much opposed to our fundamental position that we feel bound to leave you in no doubt of our meaning. You state that, after consulting your colleagues, you confirm your declaration that our proposals are such as the Dail Eireann could not, and the Irish people would not accept. You add that the outline given by our draft is self-contradictory and the principle of the pact offered you is not easy to determine. We desire, therefore, to make our position absolutely clear.

"In our opinion, nothing is to be gained by prolonging the theoretical discussion of the national status which you may be willing to accept, as compared with that of the self-governing dominions of the British commonwealth, but we must direct our attention to one point on which to lay some emphasis and on which no British government can compromise, namely, the claim that we should acknowledge the right of Ireland to secede from her allegiance to the King.

Can Never Acknowledge Secession.

"No such right can ever be acknowledged by us. The geographical propinquity of Ireland to the British isles is the fundamental fact.

"Ireland has sent members to the British parliament for more than 100 years. Many of her people during all that time have enlisted freely and served gallantly in the forces of the crown. Great numbers in all the Irish provinces are profoundly attached to the throne.

"These facts permit of one answer and one only, to the claim that Great Britain should negotiate with Ireland as a separate and foreign power.

"When you, as the chosen representatives of Irish national ideals came here, to speak with me I made one condition only of which our proposal plainly stated the effect—that Ireland should recognize the force of the geographical and historical facts.

"It is those facts which govern the problems of British-Irish relations. If they did not exist there would be no problems to discuss. I pass, therefore, to the conditions which are imposed by these facts.

Refuses Foreign Arbitration.

"We set them out clearly in six clauses in our former proposals, and need not restate them here, except to say that the British government can not consent to the reference of any such questions which concern Great Britain and Ireland alone to the arbitration of foreign power. We are profoundly glad to have your agreement that northern Ireland can not be coerced. This point is of great importance, because the resolve of our people to resist with full power any attempt at secession by one part of Ireland carries with it, of necessity, an equal resolve to resist any effort to coerce another part of Ireland to abandon its allegiance to the crown.

"We gladly give you the assurance that we will concur in any settlement with southern and northern Ireland alike; but we can not agree to refer the question of your relations with northern Ireland to foreign arbitration. The conditions of the proposed settlement do not arise from any desire to force our will upon the people of another race, but from facts which are as vital to Ireland's status as a dominion; nor from any desire for British ascendancy over Ireland or impairment of Ireland's ideals.

"Our proposals present to the Irish people an opportunity such as has never dawned in their history before. We have made them in a sincere desire to achieve peace, but beyond them we can not go.

"We trust you will be able to accept them in principle. I shall discuss their application in detail whenever your acceptance in principle is communicated to me."

Craig Speaks for North.

BELFAST, Aug. 14.—The text of the Ulster cabinet observations on the British government's proposal for peace in Ireland, signed by Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, was made public here this evening. The statement says that the acceptance by the Ulster leaders of the original invitation of the British government to meet in conference with it in London still holds good and that they will be available at any time their assistance is again desired.

The statement reads:

"My dear prime minister: Your proposal for an Irish settlement has been exhaustively examined by my cabinet and myself. We realize the preamble is especially addressed to Mr. De Valera and his followers and observe it implies that difficulties have long existed throughout the Empire and the United States attributable to persons of Irish extraction.

SANCTUARIES FOR BIRDS ARE SEVEN

Nelson Water Is Still Protected; Game Regulations Are Promulgated.

Seven bird sanctuaries, or areas perpetually closed to shooting of game birds are enumerated in the game regulations just promulgated by the provincial government, one of these being the West Arm in front of Nelson, between the slaughterhouse and the ferry. The other areas enumerated are Kaien island, the Colony farm in Dewdney riding, part of Nanaimo harbor, and three areas in the municipality of Burnaby, two of them being Central park and the Oakalla prison farm.

For the Kootenay, which is situated within the eastern district, the open seasons for the various game birds are defined as follows:

Ducks—Not including wood and elder ducks, Wilson or jack snipe, black-breasted or golden plover, and the greater and lesser yellowlegs—Sept. 3-Dec. 18.

Geese and brant—Sept. 3-Dec. 18.

Grouse and ptarmigan—Not including prairie chickens—Sept. 17-Oct. 1.

Pheasants and quail may not be shot in the eastern district except in the ridings of South Okanagan and Similkameen.

Bag limits are as follows: Ducks, daily 20, total 150; geese, daily 10, total 50; brant, daily 10, total 50; grouse, daily six of one variety or 12 of all varieties, total 50.

The open seasons for big game in this territory are set as follows:

Moose—Male, Columbia riding only, Oct. 1-Nov. 15.

Caribou—Male, close season till after 1922.

Mountain sheep—Male, Columbia, Cranbrook and Fernie ridings only, Oct. 1-Nov. 15.

Mountain goat—Sept. 1-Dec. 15.

Bear—Sept. 1, 1921-June 30, 1922.

Deer—Mule and coast bucks only, Sept. 17-Dec. 15; white-tail, bucks only, except in North and South Okanagan, Similkameen and Greenwood, Sept. 17-Dec. 15.

The season's bag of game consists of three male members of the deer family, two grizzlies, three other bear, and one male mountain sheep. The goat bag is not stated, but doubtless is the same as for sheep.

In the regulations covering the trapping of fur-bearing animals, the open season for otter, mink and musk rat is given as Jan. 1-March 31, 1922, and that for all other fur-bearers except beaver is Nov. 1, 1921-March 31, 1922. There is no open season for beaver.

BOYS' CLUB NOW ASSURED FOR PENTICTON YOUTHS

Last Wednesday evening the boys' movement in Penticton received an impetus when the organization was permanently officered and a name chosen for the association. The Maple Leaf club, Young Citizens' club and the Junior Welfare club were the only three names proposed, and after some discussion the Maple Leaf club, suggested by J. C. Hanley, was adopted as the name of the organization. This name, of course, gives a club design right away that is hard to improve upon and leaves the club open to any who wish to join. The officers for the year are as follows:

Honorary president—W. A. McKenzie.

President—J. A. Greenhill.

Vice president—Mrs. R. B. White

Secretary-treasurer—J. Hope.

Executive committee—Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. Mould, A. A. Swift and Rev. J. Fergusson Millar.

The offices of honorary president, vice president and secretary-treasurer were made unanimous, but the others required a ballot.

It is probable that a canvass among citizens will be started as a means toward securing sufficient funds to erect a clubhouse. A site has already been set aside by the council on Martin street near the market, and it now only remains to raise the desired sum to put up the building.

This is certainly a pleasing start and it is to be hoped the enthusiasm will not be allowed to die out.

VALIANT YOUTH.

BALFOUR SENDS CALL FOR PUMP

Bush Fire Extinguished Saturday Morning; Pend d'Oreille Blaze Is Out.

Originating, it is thought, from some careless traveler, a bush fire at Balfour Friday night resulted in a call for one of the forestry pumps at Nelson. The pump left Nelson Saturday morning at 3:30 o'clock, and in three hours drowned out the blaze, on which practically all of the men of the locality had been working. About a quarter of an acre was burned.

The forestry department reports the fire on the further side of the Salmon river, toward the Pend d'Oreille, as out. At one time 40 men were employed in fighting this.

A new trail was cut to the scene of the Boulder fire, at altitude, back firing was employed, and the burning area is now near the fork of two creeks and can be attacked with water. A forestry pump, it is expected, will have this fire out by tonight if conditions remain stable.

Holding Fire Line.

The Columbia Gardens fire, the one that has covered the largest favorable position, and none of the fire line has been lost in the past 48 hours, notwithstanding that it is on a ridge and catches every breeze. This fire is being worked back within its own lines. On the windward side it is out.

There is a fire on Campbell creek, which is under control.

According to reports, the C. P. R. fire in the vicinity of Tunnel and Porcupine is being handled well and is in good shape.

The Christina lake fire covers a great area and is a very difficult one to deal with. This is one of the numerous fires credited to criminally careless campers. A large force of men is being employed on it.

That the fire reported on Summit creek is in reality that on the headwaters of Sheep creek is officially stated. This is burning partly in open country and partly among the snags of an old burn along the summit. It would be a matter of great difficulty to master this fire where it is burning at present, but measures have been taken to prevent it getting into the only valuable timber in its sphere of influence, that on Hidden creek, over the divide.

CENSOR'S LANGUAGE LURID, SAYS IVENS

Red Leader Claims He Was Railroaded to Prison; Attacks the Government.

"To hell with truth! The government has a campaign and a policy that must be followed by every newspaper."

"Do you mean to say the government cares nothing about the truth?"

"Certainly. We have a policy, and we intend to drive the people along for it like cattle, for they are cattle."

"Do you assert the Canadian people are cattle?"

"I say they are damned cattle."

Rev. William Ivens, who served a term of imprisonment for seditious utterances during the Winnipeg strike, and was elected to the Manitoba legislature during his imprisonment, for a Winnipeg seat, in an address at the Gem theater last night asserted that this conversation took place between the Winnipeg censor and himself, during a heated argument over his re-publication in the Western Labor News, of an article published in London during the war, and which had not been submitted the censor for his approval. This was the point, Mr. Ivens declared, at which he parted company with the government in its endeavors to win the war.

He asserted that if those who believed the cause of the allies was just had been born in Germany, they would have believed with equal earnestness that Germay was right, and the only way to determine the justice of the Allies cause was to go behind the governments.

The lecturer accused the Royal Canadian mounted police of such harshness toward his wife as wrecked her health.

Alleges Trial Unfair.

In connection with his trial for sedition, Mr. Ivens declared that after four weeks of the strike, the federal government decided that it must be broken. After the amended Immigration act had become law, it was brought again before parliament and a new section was added, taking away the right of jury trial from an accused person, who could be tried in his absence, or in secret, or even without being informed or even without be ing informed of the charge against him. Eventually he and his associates were granted a jury trial. Then the criminal code was alter for their special benefit, and the penalty was raised from two years' imprisonment to 20 years. At first the judge was going to allow this amendment to apply, but eventually tried the case as it stood at the time the alleged offences were committed. The star witness on red literature was an agent of the government and did the work himself. Mr. Ivens said he and his associates did not offer defenses because the charges were too ridiculous. While 12 men were found guilty, thousands knew they were not.

The lecturer challenged the right of Rt. Hon. "Artful" Meighen to hold office with a government three of whose members had not been before the people for election since their elevation. His reference proved to be Senators Lougheed, Blondin and Robertson.

Every innovator in the world's history had had a hard struggle, the lecturer declared, and Christ's experience was only a type of what every reformer had to expect. He expressed a wish for men and women of vision who could take unrelated facts and combine them for the advantage of mandkind, and also for people of independence of thought, who would cast aside the education that was built on memorizing. Three years ago the Socialist creed, that each man should have the full benefit arising from his own work, was good enough for him, but now he went one step further and desired that all men contribute according to their ability to a common fund, from which each should draw according to his needs.

Social systems, he said, were built by man. As democracy had come about in politics and in religion, so it would have to come about in industry. If those now living measured up to their opportunities, this era would go into history as the greatest in the history of mankind.

I. A. Austin presided at the meeting, introducing the "Rev." speaker. The auditorium, at one stage, was nearly half full.

HAS ARM BROKEN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. A. Moore, matron of the Home hospital of this city, is suffering from a broken arm, the result of an automobile accident on Granite road late Friday night. Mrs. Moore, with a man and woman passenger, was being driven to her ranch at 49-Mile creek by H. Lightfoot, when the front axle of the car broke about three miles from the city. Dr. H. Mackenzie was phoned for immediately and arrived, piloted by E. Ferguson, within seven minutes.

Read the Advertisements

The publishers of this paper draw your attention to the advertising columns, and particularly to the advertisements of the local merchants.

These merchants have invested their money in goods to satisfy the needs and desires of us all.

Their enterprise is a distinct service to our community. For this reason we should buy from them to the best of our ability and in so far as our needs and judgment of value dictates.

Then, too, the general commodities advertised in our columns are worthy of consideration. It is desirable that readers should ask merchants to supply advertised goods wherever possible. By doing so the cycle of trade is kept alive and inter-community commerce stimulated. We repeat—read the advertisements.

MONDAY, AUGUST 15, 1921.

Population of Australia.

The preliminary count of the census taken throughout Australia on April 1, 1921, has been completed. The Toronto Globe states that exclusive of full-blooded aborigines and residents of the territories, the total population is announced as 5,419,702, which is an increase of 969,721 over the figures of the census taken in 1911. About 60,000 Australian lives were lost in the war, so that it may be estimated that normally the increase would have been about a million.

While this is fairly satisfactory, it would be reassuring if progress were more rapid. Australia and New Zealand are more anxious about naval defense than Canada, and with good reason. They are islands far from Great Britain and from the United States and Canada, and close to Japan, which is regarded with some uneasiness. A very large proportion of the population of Australia is massed on the southeast coast; it is more distinctively a maritime country than Canada. Efforts are being made to colonize the southwest more extensively, but the interior and north are very sparsely populated, and not attractive to white settlers. If Australia had a population of twenty millions, with the industrial development which would accompany the increase, it would feel much safer than it does today. Population and industry are very important elements of defense. If, as Lord Northcliffe says, British emigrants are showing a preference for Australia and South Africa over Canada, our regret may be tempered by the reflection that the need of Australia is more urgent than ours.

Outdoor Sports.

The Los Angeles Times finds it interesting to observe that few of the Bolshevik and revolutionary counries play games.

Your average Red radical is no sportsman. Russia has never cut any ice in sport, neither has Italy, which is even now passing through insidious radical travail.

True, Australia has gone in for sampling a good deal of political radicalism, but the reason she has been able to stand up against and escape is largely due to the Australian's prevailing love of sport.

But those Central American republics that go in for annual uprisings, Mexico, too, are very shy on sports of any kind, hence they put their pent-up energy into little revolutions.

In Canada, also, it is largely the pasty-faced indoor fanatic who goes in for Bolshevik propaganda and stirs up trouble—but it isn't among the healthy, outdoor sportsmen that he makes his unwholesome convert.

Keeping Pace With the Fashions.

Some New York women of fashion declare that $5000 a year is the minimum sum on which a woman can dress well and follows the styles. Chicago women seem more conservative. They assert that $200 a month will turn the trick, if the fair purchaser takes the short cuts and does not attempt to follow all the doublings and twistings of fashion's trail.

Mere man, inspecting the fashion magazines to find what takes the money, immediately flounders in unfathomable complexities. Out of the welter emerges one clear impression—that the woman who rides, swims, plays golf, shops, saunters, teas, dines and sups in hot pursuit of fashion must pass through a series of protean changes which would have made old Proteus dizzy. The Latin poet, who first wrote that woman was a changeable creature, did not contemplate a time when every hour and every action would demand a change of its own. It is the small change that makes the big bills.

The canny fashion chaser avoids certain hurdles, and yet is there at the finish. Woman, of course, cannot dine as she breakfasts, nor golf as she swims, but to man, at least, it seems that many of the minor metamorphoses might be omitted without disaster.

However, the average man does not see with the fine eye of a fashion expert as does nearly every woman. In a large degree, therefore, compelling combinations, deft treatments, supreme achievements and unutterable smartness are wasted on him. When he is bowled over, it is as if by lightning. He never knows what strikes him.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

TWO GOOD DINNERS FROM LEFT-OVERS

It is hardly necessary to tell my readers that left-overs of food should never be thrown away; I believe that during the recent world war even the flightiest housekeeper learned the lesson of thrift. The following dinner menus contain some good dishes of left-overs:

Lindy's Fish Cakes
Boiled New Potatoes
Cheese-Stuffed Tomatoes

Lindy's Fish Cakes: Free 1½ cups of left over cooked fish (fresh cod, halibut, or any kind of fresh fish may be used) from bones and skin, chop it finely, and put it in a mixing bowl with the following ingredients: 1 tablespoon of butter, 2 tablespoons bread crumbs, a pinch of salt, pepper to suit liking, a pinch of nutmeg, the juice of 1 lemon and 2 well beaten eggs. Mix until well blended and smooth. Then form this into round cakes the size of ordinary fish cakes, dip each cake in beaten egg then in bread crumbs, and fry in drippings until brown on both sides. Serve hot.

Cheese-Stuffed Tomatoes: Put into the mixing bowl 1 cup of stale bread crumbs and moisten them with 1 tablespoon of melted butter; mix well then add 1-3 teaspoon of salt ⅛ teaspoon of pepper, and 3 tablespoons of either grated Parmesan cheese or very finely chopped mild American cheese. Cut the tops from six large ripe tomatoes, scoop out the interiors, and mix the solid part of the bowl. Now stuff the hollowed-out interiors with the mixture in the tomatoes with this forcemeat, rounding it up well on top; place a slice of bacon over top of each, and arrange them in a baking pan. Pour a little water and melted butter into the pan and slip it into a hot oven, to bake for about 20 minutes. Serve very hot.

Mandy's Beef Hash
Maryland Left-Over Potatoes
Green Peas

Mandy's Beef Hash: Cook 1 tablespoon of finely minced onion in 1 tablespoon of butter slowly, until light brown, then add 1 cup of cooked rice left-overs, 2 cups of cold cooked beef finely chopped, 1 teaspoon of salt, a pinch of white pepper and enough strained tomato juice (from stewed tomatoes) to moisten. Now cover the frying pan, and let cook over moderate heat for about twenty minutes—or until a golden brown on the under side. Double one half over the other just before turning out onto a platter, and serve at once.

Maryland Left-Over Potatoes: Cut cold boiled potatoes into small pieces (about one inch square when possible) and roll these cubes in beaten egg which has been seasoned with salt and pepper to suit individual taste. Put the egg-dipped cubes on a buttered tin in the oven, and when hot and brown serve them at once. They are delicious.

Green Gooseberry Pudding: Boil 1 pint of green gooseberries till soft, in water to cover, then sweeten them to taste; let the berries and their liquid cool, then mix into them 3 well beaten eggs and 1 tablespoon of melted butter. Butter a baking dish, sprinkle its bottom and sides with equal quantities of sugar and fine bread crumbs mixed, then pour in the gooseberry puree gently, so as not to dislodge the crumb coating of the dish. Sprinkle on top, to the depth of ½ inch, more of the fine bread crumbs mixed with an equal amount of sugar. Set this dish in a pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven until firm (which may be determined by pressing top with finger). The baking dish should be only ¾ full, as the pudding will rise. Serve hot with a lemon sauce.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

POPE'S GUARD NOT ON A WAR FOOTING

Colonel Repond Tried to Protect Vatican With Ordnance, But Failed.

ROME, Aug. 14.—Colonel Repond who was called to be commander of the Swiss guards at the Vatican during the pontificate of Pius X. and who gained considerable distinction because of his efforts to place the 70 soldiers who compose the guard on a "war footing," has resigned. Pope Benedict has appointed Colonel Hirschbuhl, the next senior officer for the corps, to succeed him.

Colonel Repond was an officer of the Swiss regular army and came to the Vatican under the impression that he could give the Pope's bodyguard a more martial spirit. They were put on strict military discipline, aroused at 4:30 o'clock in the morning and put through drills in the most rigid fashion. The 70 men were taken out on the Belvedere court, inside the Vatican gardens, and given maneuvers.

One day Colonel Repond had an audience with Pius X. and laid before him plans for the fortifying of the Vatican. These included the placing of cannon on the roof of St. Peter's. The holy father looked upon the colonel, smiling one of his benign smiles, and said:

"Cannon? What for? Not to shoot?"

"No, your holiness," replied the colonel.

"Well, then?" interrogated the venerable pontiff.

The colonel did not answer and he was excused.

Colonel Repond had also issued to the Swiss guards a certain amount of ammunition. One day a guard began shooting near the barracks. The reports stirred the whole Vatican. The issue of cartridges was ordered prohibited and the guards deprived of those they still had.

This was the last attempt of the colonel to instigate war tactics. The guards continue to use the fifteenth century halberd when on duty.

DANTE'S CENTURY.

In a fascinating discussion in the latest Harper's of the now celebrated Roger Bacon cipher, Prof. John Manly of Chicago gives at least one reason why the scientific discoveries attributed to Friar Bacon, apparently so many centuries in advance of his time, are in themselves not incredible. The fact is that whatever may be the case with scholars, popular opinion has not yet done justice to the thirteenth century, which Prof. James J. Walsh has not hesitated to call the greatest of the centuries. Prof. Manly writes:

"In science both the twelfth and thirteenth centuries saw an amount of progress fairly comparable to that of our own time; the cause of error and the principles of experimental investigation were as clearly recognized by the leaders of science then as they are now; and if the scholars of that time were not always able to free themselves from the influence of traditional untruths, neither are we. * * * The fact is that in 1300 scientific thinking had advanced practically as far as it had 300 years later and that Roger Bacon was one of the most learned, clearest and most remarkable thinkers of that remarkable epoch."

Dante, the greater part of whose life fell in the thirteenth century, was therefore, not a single illuminated peak rising above a dead level. His century was the age of an earlier Renaissance in which the human mind made a great leap forward. It was the age of the great cathedral builders; the age in which the Greek philosphy was finally synthesized with mediaeval reforms.

Styles

BY LENORE

One need not hesitate a moment to choose, for one's earliest fall frock, this distinctive model in navy blue tricotine, with silver gray duvetyn gilet, and skirt that is considerably wider than those we have been accustomed to in the heavier materials. The length was about ten inches from the ground.

Self-material ball buttons with loops fasten the gilet, which is made with tuxedo revers at each side and may be worn closed as indicated in the sketch, or thrown open to form a "V" neck. The length below the waist should be carefully proportioned to the height, as this is one of those models suited to a variety of types. On a petite figure, for example, the vest should not extend more than about five inches below the waistline.

PATTERN NO. 232

A pattern for the above model (No. 232) can be obtained in sizes 34, 36 38 by sending to The Daily News, Nelson, B. C., your name, address, and 50 cents in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper clipping of the sketch and description of the garment to use as a working model when the pattern reaches you—which will be within two weeks' time.—The Editor.

TAKING MOTORS TO HEAVEN.

Replicas of a certain make of a small motor car are now burned on the graves of well to do natives in China to provide a means of getting about rapidly in the spirit world, says Melsom S. Tuttle, Y. M. C. A. worker in Peking. Since the time of Confucius the Chinese have deposited food on the graves of the dead so that the spirit will not go hungry, but the addition of a "flivver" shows the trend of modernity in the Celestial republic. The car used in the burial ceremonies is made of paper and isinglass held together by wire. The representation is complete to the most minute details. Even the license tags are imitated, while on the radiator is attached the trademark. Brass mountings are reproduced in gilt paper, while the tires are done in gray paper. Previous to the burial the car is displayed for several days in front of the dead man's residence, so that everybody can see that the spirit will have plenty of joy rides in the Great Beyond.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS JOIN IN PICNIC

Have Happy Day Except Boy Breaks Arm; Extinguish Fires; Personal.

FERNIE, Aug. 12.—The combined Sunday schools of the churches of this city held the annual picnic on the golf links on Wednesday, when a most enjoyable outing was had by the children. Unfortunately, one accident marred the events of the day, when 12-year-old John McGladrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGladrey, sustained a broken arm when he fell off a contrivance used in connection with a modernized out-door "pillow-fight" game.

The bush fire along the Eastern British Columbia railway near McGillivray, which gained considerable headway this week, has been completely extinguished. Forest Ranger Schupe immediately the blaze was reported to him placed a large corps of men at work on it, with the result that it was soon confined to an area where little damage could be caused. The cause of the fire is presumed to have been due to fishermen or campers.

Rev. W. S. Burns, inspector of Fernie United church, left on Thursday for a short vacation to Spokane, Wash. He was accompanied by his brother and wife. The trip is being made by auto.

The city council have decided to amend vehicle traffic regulations so that any driver who collides with the "silent policemen" or Keep to the Right signs now installed at all the principal street intersections in the city will be punishable with a minimum fine of $25.

Arthur J. Moffatt, city clerk and treasurer, is absent on vacation, which is being spent at Lethbridge and Alberta points.

FIRE FIGHTERS HAVE BUSY TIME

Just Squash Kitchener Outbreak in Time to Avert Disaster.

KITCHENER, Aug. 12.—A serious bush fire has been raging since last Thursday on the mountains south of the Cranbrook Sash and Door company's mill and about three miles from town. A force of 23 men went out when the fire was discovered, but owing to topographical conditions and high winds this force was found to be totally inadequate to cope with the situation and a call was sent to Lister and 15 men immediately responded. These, with another contingent from Kitchener, made a total of over 50 men on the job.

The first contingent from Kitchener fought the fire continuously for 48 hours and by a supreme effort the combined force succeeded in cutting a fire guard to the top of the mountain south of town, only beating the flames by a few minutes, and by their efforts saving a valuable strip of timber, the property of the Kitchener Timber company.

The last half hour the men fought under great difficulties owing to the heat and falling timber George Begg was struck on the shoulder and back by a falling tree and seriously injured, also one of the soldier boys from Lister was struck and rendered unconscious for a few minutes by falling timber. The crew working on the east side of the mountain had a narrow escape from being surrounded, and for a time it was thought that six men had perished, but after strenuous effort they succeeded in making their escape. Forest Ranger Long is doing all that is possible to check the confragration, but the situation cannot yet be called safe.

Mrs. H. S. McCreath and daughter of Creston spent Sunday in town with friends.

Mrs. G. A. M. Young of Creston is spending the week in town, the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. Driffel.

SALMONBELLIES PROTEST GAME

Terminals Win Rough and Ragged Game; Accuse Referee of Partiality.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 13.—Vancouver Terminals, Minto cup holders, again defeated the New Westminster Salmonbellies this afternoon in a rough and ragged game of lacrosse. The score was 14 to 12. The game has been protested by the visitors. The visitors' lead in the series is cut to two games, with four more to play. Strict penalizing by Referee Ion kept the game fairly clean.

New Westminster protested the game on the ground that McDonald and Stoddart, having been ruled off, with seven minutes to play, Vancouver was allowed to send Watson as a substitute for McDonald, while New Westminster was not allowed to substitute Storme for Stoddart. Manager Tommy Gifford, accused Referee Ion of partiality.

TRAIL, Aug. 14.—Nelson baseball team pushed trail another notch into the cellar for the West Kootenay league this afternoon, when they defeated the local nine by a score of 6 to 5. The game was very close, no team being in the lead for long, and each team taking a turn at leading.

The game was very well attended, a large number of fans coming down from Rossland.

Trail was forced to rely on V. Scanlan of the younger class to occupy the mound and he performed very well, never becoming rattled at any time.

Nelson started out in the first, Curran out at first. Maurer connected safely. Edwards based on an error, Maurer at second; Lindstrum fanned. Moddrell first on error; bases full. Desireau hit up a pitched ball, forcing on a run. Notman flied out.

Trail evened up in the first. Howard got safe on an error. Vannater flied out. Butorac hit for two bases, scoring Howard. Maze went out at first. Tallackson fanned.

Nelson gathered in two more in the second. Langill got to first on an error. Richardson got safe on a fielder's choice, Langill being first out at second. Curran flied out. Maurer hit for three bags, scoring Rishardson. Maurer came home on Edward's hit. Lindstrum out at first.

In third inning Richardson hit to deep right, Laurente making a fine running catch.

Trail took the lead in the fourth by getting three more across. Butorac hit safe, likewise Maze. Tillockson hit for two bags, scoring Butorac and Maze. Tillockson stole third. McDoland hit to right field when Richardson muffed, allowing Tillockson to score. Next three men were out.

Tillockson pulled a double play in the fifth, Vannater to Howard, Howard to Tillockson.

Nelson took the lead again in the eighth. Lindstrum got first on error. Moddrell flied out. Lindstrum safe on second. Derireau singled, Notman fanned. Langill hit safe, scoring Lindstrum. Richardson hit safe, scoring Desireau. Curran grounded, forcing Richardson out.

Nelson's lead was short lived, as Trail tied the score in the same inning. Butorac hit safe, stole second. Maze sacrificed, Butorac going to third. Tillockson hit to deep right, Richardson making a good catch. Butorac beat a throw and scored. McDonald walked. Laurente fanned.

Excitement amongst the fans was at fever heat in the last frame, with the score tied. Maurer, up for Nelson, went out at first. Edwards walked, stole second. Lindstrum hit a Texas leaguer, Edwards coming across with the winning run. Lindstrum was caught out at second trying to stretch his hit for two bags. Moddrell hit safe. Desireau flied out.

Tillockson tried hard in the last to get the necessary, but failed, although hopes were high when Morgan reached third with one out, but Langill retired the next two men.

TWILIGHT DIRECTORS COMPOSE DIFFERENCES

SASKATOON, Aug. 14.—An amicable and early settlement was made of the differences existing at the meeting of the directors of the Western Canada Baseball league here Saturday. Contrary to expectations, the meeting only lasted a little over two hours, and as soon as the schedule was revised matters of busines took up the remainder of the time.

The revision of the schedule calls for Calgary to play in Saskatoon the first three days of the week and Edmonton to play in Winnipeg. The season will be closed in Winnipeg and Calgary, with Saskatoon and Edmonton playing at those places, respectively. All delegates to the meeting expressed themselves well pleased at the result of the conference.

Release Umpire.

SASKATOON, Aug. 14.—Announcement was made Saturday night by President Robert Pearson of the release of Umpire Baerwald, as the circuit is now only in need of two arbiters to finish out the season.

NELSON CAPTURES TENNIS LAURELS

Trail City Visitors Lose Majority of Events; Put Up Keen Contest.

Winning seven events out of nine, Nelson Tennis club again defeated Trail City club in the return match played at Nelson on Saturday. All the visitors put up a sterling fight, three of the events running to three sets, and in one of the men's doubles the second set ran to 12-10. However, Mr. de Veber's difficult snake service and Mr. Appleyard's play at the net proved too strong for Mr. Wade and Mr. Hazlewood.

Mrs. Thom, for Trail, played beautiful tennis and in association with Mr. McArthur gave Mrs. J. H. D. Benson and C. W. Appleyard a hard fight for it. In the ladies' doubles, also, Mrs. Thom, partnered by Mrs. Hazlewood, won the first set 6—3 and took four games in the second set against Mrs. J. H. D. Benson and Mrs. B. G. R. Townshend, who rallied wonderfully and carried the winning set 6—2.

Following are the results:

Men's Singles.

B. G. R. Townshend (Nelson) beat W. S. Beattie 3—4, 6—2.

H. E. Wade (Trail) beat F. C. Irvine 6—1, 6—4.

Mr. McArthur (Trail) beat H. Meston 6—1, 6—0.

G. Redpath (Nelson) beat Mr. Hazlewood 5—7, 7—5, 6—1.

Men's Doubles.

L. B. de Veber and C. W. Appleyard (Nelson) beat Messrs. Wade and Hazlewood 6—3, 12—10.

B. G. R. Townshend and F. C. Irvine (Nelson) beat Messrs. Beattie and McArthur 6—4, 3—6, 6—2.

Mixed Doubles

Mrs. J. H. D. Benson and C. W. Appleyard (Nelson) beat Mrs. Thom and Mr. McArthur 6—1, 6—4.

Mr. and Mrs. Townshend (Nelson) beat Mrs. Hazlewood and Mr. Beattie 6—1, 6—3.

Ladies' Doubles.

Mrs. J. H. D. Benson and Mrs. Townshend (Nelson) beat Mrs. Thom and Mrs. Hazlewood 3—6, 6—4, 6—2.

A good turnout of enthusiasts watched the games, including, besides players, Mrs. McArthur, Mrs. Beattie and Mrs. Wade, from Trail. Mrs. C. Brawn and Miss T. Irvine were hostesses at tea, assisted by Mrs. C. W. Appleyard, and every one enjoyed the dainties provided, with special reference to Miss Irvine's chocolate cake.

Play closed as the light was failing and the visitors were carried off by some of the Nelson players to the Strathcona and entertained to a merry dinner party, with cordial invitations to come again soon.

After dinner the party dispersed, some by auto and others by train for the smelter city.

TWO CUPS OPEN TO EAST KOOTENAY TEAMS

A query put by the Sullivan Sports club and other east Kootenay sport and athletic associations regarding what cups an east Kootenay hockey league team would be eligible to compete for at the Rossland winter carnival is answered by George Hunter, manager of the Rossland Hockey club. Mr. Hunter states such a team would be eligible for the British Columbia and the International cups.

SHORT COVERING DECEIVES MARKET

Renewed Bear Pressure Soon Sends Prices Down Again; Find Weak Spots.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Covering of short contracts gave the stock market an appearance of strength for a time today, but the movement was of short duration and in the last hour operations by the bears were renewed. Such gains as reached material proportions at the outset were chiefly among stocks which have been under pressure of late, such as General Electric, Mexican Petroleum and Utah Copper. Advancing quotations of these issues failed to stimulate buying to an extent which the shorts regarded as threatening, and in consequence their operations were renewed. No serious opposition was encountered in bringing this about, but the selling movement was not pressed and net changes were narrow. Sales were 145,000 shares.

On the decline a few weak spots were uncovered, for the most part among industrials, which were soft on the recessions earlier in the week. United States Rubber preferred broke 6½ to 88½; Continental Can 2½, Central Leather 2⅝ and Manito 2¾ points, all making new low prices for the year. American Can preferred, Central Leather preferred and Colorado Fuel also were heavy.

Movements of rails were small. Recent steadiness of these issues, even at times of pronounced heaviness among industrials, served to prevent bearish demonstrations in this section of the list.

In the exchange market the feature was a decline of 6 points in marks to a new low price for the movement of 1.15c. This heaviness was ascribed to the statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany, revealing a large increase in paper circulation.

Other exchanges were narrow and irregular.

Great stability was shown in the bond market. Dealings centered largely in the speculative lines. Representative railroad issues returned in some instances to higher prices earlier in the week, and there was a cessation of the recent selling of reorganization mortgages. Total sales, par value, $3,450,000.

"In fairness to the Ulster people, I must point out that they have always aimed at retention of their citizenship in the United Kingdom and the Empire of which they are proud to form a part, and there are not to be found in any quarter of the world more loyal citizens than those of Ulster descent. They hold fast to cherished traditions and deeply resent any infringement of the rights and privileges which belong equally to them and to other citizens within the Empire."

Recalls Sacrifices.

The text then recalls the sacrifices made in agreeing to self government and in consenting to the establishment of a parliament in northern Ireland.

"Against our wish, but in the further interest of peace we, therefore, respectfully decline. We are determined not to interfere with the terms of settlement between us, but to safeguard the ties of the two countries. We are busily engaged in ratifying our part of this solemn bargain while the Irishmen outside the northern area, who in the past have struggled for home rule, have chosen to repudiate the government of Ireland and press Great Britain for wider powers. To join in such pressure is repugnant to the people of northern Ireland.

In the further interest of peace we therefore respectfully decline. We are determined not to interfere with the terms of settlement between us, but to safeguard the ties that bind us to Great Britain and the Empire, to insure that we are not prejudiced by any terms entered into between them and Mr. De Valera, and to maintain the just equality exhibited throughout the government of Ireland act.

PRODIGIES MIX

MAY THE BEST "MAN" WIN

Little Jackie Coogan—celebrated 6-year-old film star and Sammy Rzeszewski, 9-year-old Polish chess prodigy, mixing it. Evidently the little American hero is having the best of it, for he is just landing a clever punch on Sammy's jaw. Henceforth Jackie will be known as "Battling Coogan," and will take on any one of his size and weight.

Will Only Meet De Valera on Conditions.

"Our acceptance of your original invitations to meet in conference in London holds good, and if at any time our assistance again is desired we are available. But I feel bound to acquaint you that no meeting is possible between Mr. De Valera and myself until he recognizes that northern Ireland will not submit to any other authority than that of his majesty, the King, and the parliament of the United Kingdom, and admits the sanctity of the existing powers and privileges of the parliament and government of northern Ireland.

"In conclusion let me assure that peace is as earnestly desired by my government and myself as by you and yours, and although we have nothing left to give away, we are prepared when you and Mr. De Valera arrive at a satisfactory settlement to cooperate with southern Ireland on equal terms for the future welfare of our common country. In order to avoid any misunderstanding of misrepresentation of our views I intend to publish this letter when your proposals are made public."

POISON GAS PISTOLS.

This little instrument of protection for the law abiding citizen has been inspired by the war. It has the advantage of putting an adversary hors de combat immediately, but without evil effects of any kind. The gun contains liquid poisonous gas which, if it strikes the bandit, puts him to sleep at once. Again, if it strikes the bandit in the eyes it blinds him for several days. The handle of the gun contains the liquid poison, which is compressed with the aid of a bicycle pump at the lower end of the handle. All one has to do is to put the gun at the target at a distance of not more than ten feet and press the trigger, which releases a thin stream which is accurate at that range. The liquid, emitting poisonous gases, disarms the bandit.

SAYS EVERY BONE IN HER BODY HURT

After Suffering From Rheumatism for Years Regina Woman Finds Complete Relief.

"If I talked from now to the end of my days I couldn't say half the good things I think Tanlac deserves," said Mrs. Albert Barton, 1939 Osler St., Regina, Sask.

"I had stomach trouble in a bad form and nobody knows how I suffered for years. Nothing I ate agreed with me, and then, to make matters worse, I was taken down with rheumatic fever and lay in a hospital for eight weeks. Even after I was able to get up every bone in my body ached and my limps were so swollen I had to wear bandages.

"This was the co..dition I was in when I began taking Tanlac. It was the biggest surprise of my life the way this medicine built me up, improved by digestion and completely rid me of the rheumatism. I feel like a different person now and as long as I live I will never forget what Tanlac did for me."

AUSTRALIANS DEFEAT DANISH TENNIS TEAM

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14.—The Australian team defeated the Danish team in the Davis cup preliminaries here Saturday afternoon in straight sets, 6—3, 6—3, 6—2.

This eliminates the Danish team and gives the Australians the right to meet the winners of the India-Japanese matches.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14.—Australia made it five in a row in its meeting with Denmark in the final Davis cup play here this afternoon. J. O. Anderson encountered little opposition from E. Tegner, winning 6-2, 6-0, 6-1, while Captain Peach was forced to go five sets to win from Ingerslav, Danish national champion. The score in this match was 3-6, 6-2, 6-0, 3-6, 6-2.

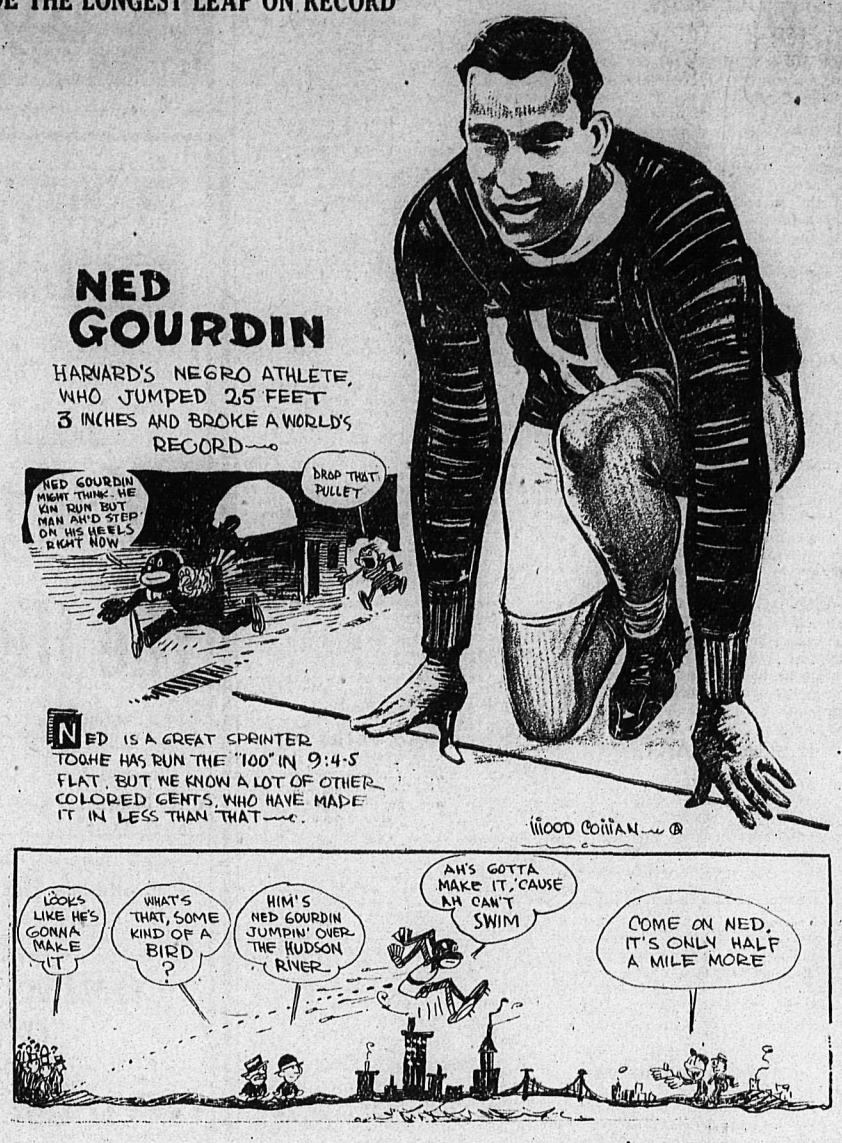
MADE THE LONGEST LEAP ON RECORD



By Wood Cowan

If the Sambos and Rastuses have been holding their heads just a little higher and expanding their chests just a little bit more than usual the past two weeks, you can bet your hat they've been reading about Ned Gourdin, of Harvord. For Ned is a negro. But that isn't all—he's the greatest athlete that Harvard ever turned out in all its history.

By leaping 25 feet 3 inches in the recent international track meet at Harvard stadium, he broke, by 3¼ inches, a world's record of 20 years' standing that had been set by Pat O'Conner of Ireland n 1901. When this bronzed star toed the line, it was apparent that he would attempt to leap his way into the athletic hall of fame. Off slowly, he increased his speed as he flashed across the narrow lane—a perfect take-off and at a slightly higher elevation than usual, which indicated great distance. As Gourdin's legs made the plunge forward the crowd seemed to sense an unusual effort. When the result was announced, the 15,000 spectators went into a frenzy of excitement. Gourdin had done the seemingly impossible. He bore his honors modestly, although besieged by admirers who rushed up to congratulate him.

Ned's record breaking jump closes his college athletic career with the greatest all-around record of any man who ever wore the Crimson. His ability is shown in a list of the marks he has made in actual competition, as follows:

100-Yard dask, 0.09 4-5; 220-yard dash, 0.22 1-5; 440-yard run, 0.52 1-5; broad jump, 25 feet 3 inches; high jump, 5 feet 9 inches; running hop step and jump, 45 feet 3 inches; javelin throw, 1740 feet; discus throw, 110 feet.

Jacksonville, Florida, is Gourdin's native city.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—(By Canadian Press cable.)—The start of the fifth and last test cricket match between Australia and England at Kensington yeserday was delayed until 12:15, owing to the rain that fell during the morning. A large crowd was on hand to witness the match.

JOY RIDERS FACE CHARGE OF THEFT

Steal an Auto; Collide With Stump; Are Lodged in City Jail.

Three young men of this city, George Walker, John Robuck and Dick Rothwell, whose joy ride in a purloined automobile on Saturday night came to an adrupt end as the car left Granite road and collided with a stump, are due to appear before Police Magistrate William Brown this morning on a charge of theft. They were arrested by the city police yesterday and spent the night in the city jail.

The automobile, which is the property of John Waldie, Jr., of this city, was standing at the corner of Vernon and Cedar streets at 1 o'clock on Saturday night. It was missing when Mr. Waldie sought it a few minutes later. It was discovered in a damaged condition yesterday morning just off the Granite road about two miles from the city. The windshield was badly broken and the front axle was bent.

When arrested the joy riders admitted their guilt to the police, stating they had intended to return the car. While the car was traveling at a high speed the lights suddenly went out. Before the driver could find the brakes the car had left the road and struck a stump.

Several auto owners in the city last night complained that annexing a car for a joy ride has of late become a frequent occurrence. On two occasions John Burns' car has been taken without permission. Once, Mr. Burns' car was driven around the city for a considerable time and finally left on the steamboat wharf, where the unused gasoline was allowed to run to waste. On the second occasion it was left in the country some miles from the city. E. W. Widdowson's car has also been the submissive agent in illegal nocturnal joy riding trips.

SUDDEN DEATH OR THREE GAMES?

Rossland and Nelson Divided on Thousand Dollar Ball Match Challenge.

Telephone wires between Nelson and Rossland were kept hot over the week-end over the Rossland baseball challenge to Nelson. The challenge is to play the local nine for a purse of $1000, the supporters of either side to put in $500 and the winning team to take the purse.

There was no difficulty in regard to the negotiations for the purse, the supporters of each team declaring themselves willing to chip in the desired amount.

The condition on which the game hinges is the number of games that shall be played for the purse. Nelson, according to Alex Stewart, stands pat on the sudden death decision, one game, to be played in Nelson. The Rosslanders, according to George Hunter of Rossland, want the conditions to be that the winners shall be the winners of two out of three games, one game to be played at Nelson, one at Rossland and, if a third is necessary, to be played on neutral ground, preferably Trail.

Up to a late hour Saturday night no agreement on this point had been reached. It was originally the intention to play one game in Nelson on Wednesday for the purse. It is now stated that unless a satisfactory agreement can be reached today, or at least tomorrow morning, the one decisive game can not be played here on Wednesday, and there will be prospect of a three-game series stretching over two or three weeks.

OBITUARY

SCAIA.

Louis Scaia, an old timer of this district, died in Kootenay Lake General hospital yesterday morning after one month's illness. Mr. Scaia was 56 years old, and a bachelor. He had lived in this district for the last 40 years and was a miner by profession. Of late he had resided at New Denver. Three brothers survive him, Bartholomew, of Silverton; Adam, who lives at Edgewood, and another brother now in Alaska. The funeral will be held from the Church of Mary Immaculate tomorrow morning.

CITRUS BY-PRODUCTS

In cooperation with the citrus fruit growers of California, the United States bureau of chemistry has been trying for some years past to develop methods whereby profitable uses might be found for the enormous quantities of oranges and lemons which now go to waste because unfit for shipment. It does not pay to ship to market any fruit that is not first class and in prime condition. Of waste oranges, called "culls," there are fourteen thousand tons a year. What shall be done with them? A partial answer to the question is furnished by a score of factories which have already been put in operation for the production of marmalade and jellies. Also, a profitable market has been found for orange oil and lemon oil, orange vinegar, citric acid and dried orange peel. Fresh orange pulp is used for the marmalade, while the oil is extracted by pressure from the skins. Up to the present time all of our orange oil and lemon has come from Italy and Sicily.

"HE'S A BRICK"

The origin of the expression, "He's a brick" is given by Plutarch, who says: An ambassador from Epirus was shown by the king over his capital. This ambassador knew of the fame of King Agesilaus, that, although nominally only the king of Sparta, he was really the ruler of all Greece. So he looked for great fortifications. He saw none. He asked the king why this was thus. "Indeed, Sir Ambassador," replied King Agesilaus, "thou canst not have looked carefully. Come tomorrow and I will show you the walls of Sparata." And on the next day the king led the ambassador out on the plains where his army was on parade. Plucking the ambassador's sleeve King Agesilaus said: "There thou beholdst the walls of Sparta—10,000 men, and every man a brick."

In countries with dry laws, will a storm be allowed to brew. Will the moon be allowed to get full? Will hops be allowed in dance halls? Will a ship be allowed to anchor over a bar? Will a captain be allowed to put in some port? Will it be lawful to name children Tom and Jerry? Will cocktails we allowed on the farmers' roosters? Will a man be punished for getting half-shot in battle? Will a person be allowed to become drunk with success or intoxicated with joy?

Business Announcement

To the Citizens of Nelson and Kootenay

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

THE NELSON CASH AND CARRY GROCERY will open an up-to-date Grocery store on the corner of Josephine and Silica streets opposite the Methodist Church, on Wednesday, August 17th, 1921. The management of the store will be vested in Mr. Stanley Horswill, who is well known in Nelson and District, and who, after serving for over four years with the Canadian forces at the front, has now severed other connections and decided to enter the above named business of his own.

Mr. Horswill is fully qualified and prepared to render the utmost in prompt, courteous and efficient service. He will sell the best goods obtainable, based on prices heretofore unknown in the city of Nelson, and will guarantee all goods sold to please, or gladly refund the purchase price.

We especially solicit country mail orders, which will be securely packed and promptly shipped. Send us a trial order.

To our Nelson citizens we hope to render prompt and courteous service and to merit your appreciation and patronage.

We invite you to call and let us show how we can save you many dollars in your month's purchases.

Respectfully yours for better prices,

A. STANLEY HORSWILL, Manager.
