POLICE FOLLOW FRESH CLUE IN SMALL MYSTERY

Woman Claims to Have Been in Auto When Theatrical Magnate Was Drugged

MONTREAL, June 23.—George H. Chenier, president of the Place Viger Hotel company of this city, states that he has a letter from a woman who has been arrested in New Brunswick declaring that she was in the automobile driven by her husband and that they with another person drugged Ambrose J. Small, the missing Toronto theater magnate, and conveyed him to Montreal where he was placed in the cellar of a large house, the number and street of which she cannot recall.

According to Mr. Chenire, a man and a woman giving the names of Dr. and Mrs. Gray, registered at the Place Viger hotel here on October 6, 1921, saying that they had come from the United States, but their automobile bore an Ontario license number. Dr. Gray left in the vault of the hotel what he described as an important document, on the back of which was legible the name of S. B. Coon, architect, 36 Toronto street, Toronto. This and other belongings of the couple were held by the hotel proprietor when the couple left the next day without paying their bill. They were handed over to the police. In the trunks there was found a letter written by the woman to a friend in the United States in which she stated that Dr. Gray was again in trouble and was involved in the Small affair.

An arrest is expected shortly.

Amendment Delays Embargo on Liquor Export Till October

OTTAWA, June 23.—In the senate today an amendment to the Canada Temperance act was adopted whereby the right of provinces to forbid the export of liquor will not go into effect until October 1, 1922. This is to meet the situation in Saskatchewan, where large stocks of liquor have been stored and three months' grace will permit the owners to make legitimate plans for its removal to other provinces where liquor is permitted to be stored.

House Passes Bill to Amend Returned Men's Insurance Act

OTTAWA, June 23.—The bill to amend the Returned Soldiers' Insurance act was passed in the house this afternoon, being given a third reading. The amendment adds a schedule containing regulations to guide the minister of finance in the exercise of his discretionary powers to refuse insurance. There was attached to the clause inserted in the subject a proviso that provided that applicants with or without pensionable disability who are so seriously ill that they have no expectancy of life and who have dependents who are entitled to become beneficiaries, under the contract as provided under the act, shall be insurable under the Returned Soldiers' Insurance act, up to and including the first day of January, 1923.

The schedule cointains a careful classified list of the cases in which insurance is to be refused or accepted, as the case may be. In the first class those not seriously ill, the application is to be accepted in all cases.

In the second class, those seriously ill, the application is to be accepted if the applicant has dependents and is suffering from a pensionable disability; otherwise it is to be refused.

In the third class, those with no reasonable expectancy of life, the application is to be accepted if the applicant has dependents and is suffering from a pensionable disability, provided that death does not occur before the application is approved.

In the fourth class it is provided that the application is to be refused where the applicant, with or without dependents has had his health impaired as a result of immoral conduct prior to enlistment ,during service or after discharge.

Deserted Wives Rank as Widowed Mothers Under Amendment Passed Yesterday on Soldiers' Pensions

OTTAWA, June 23.—Widowed mothers, in the discretion of the pension board, will include a mother deserted by her husband, provided that during such separation she was not aware of her husband's whereabouts and was not supported by him, according to an amendment to the Pensions act, moved by H. S. Beland, minister of soldiers' civil reestablishment, and passed in the house today.

Another clause adopted provides for the granting of a pension to a woman who married a soldier after he became disabled.

Section 11 of the act was amended to provide that any soldier who was discharged with a disability would be considered to be suffering from a disability attributable to, or aggravated by war service, unless the board could show otherwise. This amendment was drawn by law officers of the crown to cover the point raised in committee. A clause providing that a pension may be refused to one "who is immoral" was dropped, the objection being that people's views on morality differ.

NO SECESSION IS WATCHWORD OF THE NORTH

Field Marshal's Death Hardens Hearts, Widens Breach, Says Craig

BELFAST, June 23.—The effect of the assassination of Field Marshal Wilson will not assist in reconciling north and south Ireland, but rather will serve to harden hearts and to widen the breach, declared Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier in a statement today. The premier declared Ulster's policy would remain unchanged. In two words it was "no secession."

The premier desired it to be known that Field Marshal Wilson had nothing whatever to do with the policy of the northern government; he never tendered advice regarding its policy, nor was he ever asked to do so. His sole duty was to tell the cabinet exactly what precautions he considered necessary to save Ulster from the south.

The premier declared that the result of the recent elections in southern Ireland would not affect his cabinet's policy on the boundary question.

NO GAS ON SUNDAYS

EDMONTON, June 23.—Gasoline in Edmonton is in the same category as beef, according to the city police, and none may be sold on Sunday. The filling stations were ordered to be kept closed on the Sabbath and they appeal to the Lord's Day alliance, with the result that garages must obey the strict letter of the law also. So if an Edmonton autoist runs out of gasoline Sunday, he may stay where he is or pay for a tow or a taxi to home and garage.

SENATE HOISTS BILL TO AMEND CRIMINAL CODE

Lougheed Protests Against Attacks on Meighen and Himself

OTTAWA, June 23.—A bill to remove from the criminal code a clause passed by the Meighen government last session which limited the period in which prosecutions could be entered, was given a six months' hoist in the senate today on the suggestion of Sir James Lougheed, who protested against attacks on Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and himself, which he claimed were unfounded.

The clause limiting the prosecuting period was passed about the same time as Richard Secord, a prominent Edmonton resident, was being prosecuted for alleged wrong doing in connection with the registration of half breed script, 20 years ago.

During the election Mr. Meighen and Sir James were charged with protecting from punishment a political supporter.

Sir Lomer Gouin recently gave his opinion that the clause did not secure immunity to Secord. Senator Dandurand, government leader, today declared that Sir James was free from any suspicion of an attempt to prevent the trial of Secord.

SAVAGE STORM CENTERS UPON PRAIRIE TOWNS

Death and Destruction in Wake of Cyclone; Tropical Rains

WINNIPEG, June 23.—(By Canadian Press.)—Manitoba tonight is recovering from the effects of the most destructive wind storm of years, which, between 3 and 4 o'clock, swept down from eastern Saskatchewan by way of Brandon, Portage La Prairie, Winnipeg and Lydiatt and the Ontario boundary, leaving a toll of three dead, many injured, some of them seriously, and of property loss which will run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The home of W. Spencer collapsed under the impact of the wind and the infant daughter was killed. Mrs. Spencer was severely injured, receiving broken ribs.

At Brandon the storm was comparatively mild and caused no serious losses. Portage was hit by the full force of the blast, which is said to have been of the hurricane variety rather than a cyclone or a tornado, and public buildings and residences suffered severely.

Unroofs Churches.

The Methodist, Anglican and Presbyterian churches were unroofed and badly damaged. The city's hotels and garages fared badly and in the collapse of a residence an infant girl was crushed to death.

The breaking of high tension wires started a fire which destroyed three grain elevators, those of the Metcalfe, Forsyth and Premium companies. No estimate of the damage is available.

Tornado Creates Damage But Does Not Claim Lives

REGINA, June 23.—News regarding the sweep of the tornado which apparently was first manifest at Bredenbury, Sask., last night, is still meager, due to the complete disruption of telegraph and telephone service. No reports of loss of life in the province have been received.

The Round Lake Indian boarding school in the Qu'Appelle valley, north of Broadview, was badly wrecked by a terrific wind storm that swept the district last night.

The roof was torn off and windows on three sides were blown in and the interior badly damaged by wind and water. The stable, located near the school, was also damaged.

Sixty children were in the building when the storm broke and all escaped injury. They have been sent to their homes on Indian reserves. The school was built last year by the Presbyterian church and the federal government, operating through the Indian department, pays a per capita grant for each student.

Heavy Hail Falls

Hail as large as hen's eggs fell 18 miles north of Wolseley during the storm last evening, according to reports. The hail continued to fall for half an hour.

Many windows were broken and much damage was done to crops. The storm seemed to follow the Qu'Appelle river. Although it rained heavily and there was some hail around Broadview, the worst of the storm followed the river.

Storms occurred last night practically all over southern Saskatchewan and came just in time to save thousands of acres of grain.

Telegraphic and long distance telephone calls today to the statistics branch of the department of agriculture, reported rain in heavy quantity all over the southern country.

According to the reports, rain fell at Odessa, Weyburn, Pense, Admiral, Cabri, Cadillac, Mortlach, Montmartre, Swift Current and Gull Lake.

Manufacturers Expect States' Tariff Bill to Become Law Shortly

ST. ANDREWS BY THE SEA, N. B., June 23.—J. R. Shaw of Woodstock, Ont., was elected president of the Canadian Manufacturers' association for the forthcoming year here today.

Other officers elected were: C. Howard Smith, Montreal and Quebec, first vice-president; Henry Bertram, Dundas, Ont., second vice-president; Thomas Boden, Toronto, treasurer, reelected.

The reports of the tariff and transportation committees were read.

Referring to the United States tariff, the report of the tariff committee said their information was that the revised United States tariff bill would become law, with but few important changes, in the not distant future.

The transportation committee referred to 1921 as the worst year the railways have had to face.

Thomas Roden, treasurer of the association, referred to general charges that the manufacturers of Canada took advantage of the tariff to increase their prices. He wished to deny these charges and to express the opinion that the association was not in sympathy with any manufacturers to whom the accusation might apply.

Cities Will Meet on Unemployment

CALGARY, June 23.—All cities of western Canada and towns having a population of 5000 or more, will be invited to send representatives to a conference of unemployment, which will be held here July 20 and 21, it was decided by the city unemployment committee this afternoon at a meeting over which Mayor S. H. Adams presided.

Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, will be asked to attend. It was stated at the meeting that he intimated in letters to various cities that he was in doubt as to whether unemployment was not becoming more of a local than a national question, and suggested that federal relief may not be forthcoming next year.

Weather Suits Edmonton.

EDMONTON, June 23.—In poker terms, Edmonton has the joker in the hole. The district enjoyed intermittent and copious showers at intervals. The precipitation was not great, but cool weather and showers, mixed with a couple of downpours within the last two weeks, have made the farmers practically certain of a splendid crop this year.

Portage La Parairie Is Center of Violent Devastating Storm

TRAVEL IN CIRCLES AND IS IRRESISTIBLE

Fire Breaks Out in Milling Company's Building; Ruin General

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, June 23.—With the infant girl crushed to death under the family roof and her mother severely injured, with many buildings wrecked and trees uprooted and littering the streets of the city, Portage la Prairie tonight began the task of counting the loss from the wind storm which swept through the Portage plains district shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, leaving desolation in its wake. It is certain so far that the loss will aggregate in the neighborhood of two million dollars in the city and surrounding district.

The greatest force of the tempest raged during the first 20 minutes. During the succeeding two hours the wind continued with the velocity of a gale, but did not augment the damage caused during the first few minutes.

Hail Crashes Through Windows

During the storm large hail stones were driven against walls and roofs of buildings with the force of axe blows; windows were crashed in and the hand of destruction seemed suddenly to reach forth in the whirl of the storm, tearing roofs from buildings, flinging sings about like tin tops, snapping telephone poles and trees and playing havoc in every direction. The wind, traveling in circles, could not be withstood wherever it exerted its full fury.

The Forsyth grain elevator, a short distance north of the town, was either struck by lightning or blew up from internal combustion and broke in flames. The fire which, despite the rain, mounted high above the building, casting a lurid reflection into the sullen mass of clouds and lent a more terrifying aspect to the indescribable chaos which was raging.

Fire Destroys Grain.

Shortly after the storm subsided, a second fire broke out in the Premier Grain Milling company, one of the largest concerns in the city, and reduced it to a smouldering mass of torn and twisted wreckage. It is estimated that 30,000 bushels of grain was destroyed in the building. The total damage approximates $125,000.

Farmers report ruin throughout the countryside. More than seventy applications for relief under policies have been received by one insurance firm. It is generally believed that the crops in the district have been practically ruined. The hail cut the grain off level with the ground and fields close to the city present a battered appearance. Considerable hail insurance was carried by the farmers. The damage to farm houses was not very severe, but damage to barns is reported at 100 per cent. A heavy loss of stock is also reported.

Storm Isolates City

Sufficient claims have been filed tonight to indicate that the damage around the city would exceed $750,000, with only small section heard from. The storm completely isolated the

De Valera Disavows Knowledge of Murderers' Motives But Does Not Pretend to Misunderstand

DUBLIN, June 23.—"I do not approve, but I must not pretent to misunderstand," said Eamonn de Valera in a statement tonight regarding the assassination of Field Marshal Wilson. He disavowed any knowledge of the assassins or their motives. Latest press reports led him to believe they were British soldiers, he said. After alleging that cynical imperialism had been responsible for the outraging of Nationalist women in Belfast, the murder of men and women and the wiping out of whole families, de Valera said:

"I can imagine, therefore, a brother of an outraged wife or a relative of a murdered kinsman taking the law into his hands and resolving to give his own life for that of the supposed designer of the campaign of which his dear ones were victims. I do not approve but I must not pretend to misunderstand."

Farewell chorus by the graduating class.

At the conclusion of this very enjoyable entertainment the formal exercises opened, the graduating class of 13 students being seated in a semicircle at the rear of the platform, wearing their class colors, while a table in the center was piled high with diplomas and prizes. There were also on the platform Father Althoff, Mayor McHardy, Alderman L. H. Choquette and T. J. Scanlan and P. J. Gallagher of the Knights of Columbus, and H. H. Currie, president of the G. W. V. A.

Father Althoff Gives Address.

Father Althoff, in a conversational but pointed address to the graduates, replete with rich philosophy, and illustrated with incidents of his visit to his early home in Holland, drove home the truth that those who work get ahead, and those who do not work become failures. When in Holland, after an absence of nearly half a century, he said he traced the careers of all his early classmates, and the most brilliant one of the lot accomplished absolutely nothing because he was lazy, while the plodders made good. There was no royal road to either learning or success, he told those about to embark on their high school course.

President Currie presented to Miss Noel A. M. Smith a copy of Capt. Harwood Steele's book, "The Canadians in France," won by her as senior essayist in the recent Empire day essay contest, on the subject of the battle of Vimy Ridge.

Mayor McHardy told the youthful but earnest audience that its members went to school, not to learn things, but to learn how to learn. The whole lesson of life, he said, was that earnest effort had its reward. He made a plea to the young folks to study how to make Nelson beautiful and a better place to live in, and in this connection paid a tribute to the Sisters for their cooperation annually on Arbor day, and to the pupils for their excellent essays on making their city attractive.

The all-important ceremony of the presentation of honors was then proceeded with, Mayor McHardy handing the diplomas and prizes to the winners as they came forward individually in response to their names as read by Father Althoff, the audience warmly and impartially applauding the successful contestants.

After the conclusion of this lengthy ceremony, the program was brought to a close by the singing of the national anthem.

Why Buy an "If"?

—If you don't touch the open coil in an exposed element of your Electric Range with a fork or spoon,

—If you don't spill grease or let syrup boil over on the open coil of an exposed element,

—If you don't clean the open coil of an exposed element with a wet cloth or don't let dirt into it—it may work all right and it may not burn out or short-circuit.

But if you have a McClary's Electric Range with Protected Elements there will be no "ifs"—

First Cars Roll From Creston and Local Berries Are on Nelson Market

With the shipping of two or three cars of strawberries from Creston to the prairies, and with local strawberries on the Nelson market, the Kootenay strawberry season is definitely opened. The jam factories are also receiving consignments.

E. Norman, manager of the Kootenay Fruit Growers' union, stated that the increase in the strawberry acreage this year is over 200 per cent, and a 20 per cent increase is estimated in the cherry acreage, which is increasing yearly. The prospcets for a good crop this year are evident, especially the Bing and Lambert variety.

RECLAMATION IS OBJECT OF TRIP

Two Provincial and Two State Engineers Spend a Week on Kootenay Flats

W. J. Biker, district water engineer, has returned from an inspection trip to Bonners Ferry and the the Kootenay flats reclamation, upon E. A. Cleveland, provincial controller of water rights, and W. G. Swendsen, state commissioner of reclamation and Chief Assistant G. Darlington, of Boise, Idaho.

The trip was made for the purpose of collaboration with the United States engineers in the matter of the Kootenay flats reclamation, upon which information is still actively being secured by the provincial government.

At Bonners Ferry the party made an inspection of the reclamation scheme that had just been completed at that point, and very interesting data was secured from the project, regarding the problem in hand.

Proceeding from Bonners Ferry by launch, down the Kootenay river on Tuesday morning, the party made a close examination of conditions of the water on the flots, and the velocity of the river itself.

The British Columbia engineers, and those of the United States, are working together for the solution of the reclamation of the Kootenay flats.

Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Darlington, accompanied Mr. Biker to Nelson, and made an inspection of the Grohman control and Granite rapids, and then proceeded to East Kootenay to make inspection of the Canal flat area.

ROAD WORK NOW IN FULL SWING

Gangs Prepare Streets for Macadam; Install Hopper to Receive Crushed Rock

Work on the new highway through Nelson is now going on rapidly from Vernon street to the ferry landing.

A stone wall is being built to reinforce the cut through the property recently acquired from W. R. McLean at the corner of Edgewood avenue. Grading, leveling and clearing is in progress on all blocks right to the ferry landing.

On Nelson avenue the road will be on the opposite side to the present road, and this fact necessitates a lot of clearing and leveling.

Rock for the new macadam is being acquired below Anderson creek on Elwyn street in Fairview, a gang of eight or 10 men being steadily employed breaking the rock to a size suitable for use in the rock crusher, which will be installed within a few days.

Build Big Hopper.

A hopper for loading crushed rock into trucks is now under construction. It will have four chutes, and will be fed by an endless crain of carriers from the crusher. The structure is quite an affair, being about 14 feet square, and having a height of about 30 feet.

Poles have been erected from Third street, up to the rock pile to carry wires for power to the crusher, and work is going on filling in bad spots in the road from the crusher to Nelson avenue.

It is expected that by the first of the week the contractor will have the work going on at full blast, with all gangs up to full strength.

MINISTERS PAY FLYING VISITS

Hart and Pattullo Pass Through From Cranbrook; Sutherland Views Road

Three members of the provincial cabinet made stops of varying duration in Nelson in the last 36 hours, with all of whom Kenneth Campbell, M. P. P., had interviews to the extent that the time afforded.

Thursday night Hon. John Hart, minister of finance, and Hon. T. D. Pattullo, passed through for the coast from Cranbrook, where they had that day driven over St. Mary's prairie, and where the previous night they had held a meeting chiefly devoted to the subject of irrigating that rich tract of land that spreads away from Cranbrook.

On their way to the Kootenay the two ministers made a stop at Grand Forks, where they inspected the irrigation system for which the provincial government has thus far granted $175,000, with two or three more units in prospect. The sum named is to cover 2200 acres. They also held a public meeting at Grand Forks on the irrigation question.

Still earlier in their tour they visited Penticton, and motored to the townsite and irrigation project of Oliver.

Yesterday Hon. W. H. Sutherland, minister of public works, was in the city, leaving last night for Revelstoke, after inspecting the work so far done on the Ymir road.

GIRL GRADUATES AT 18.

BRYN MAWR, Pa., June 22.—When Miss Gertrude Prokosch is graduated from Bryn Mawr college this month she will establish a record as the youngest girl to receive a diploma here. She will not be 19 until August. She is a daughter of Dr. Wedward Prokosch, professor of German at Bryn Mawr. Furthermore, she will be fourth in her class. Her major subjects are French and German.

Disillusionment awaits those who think Miss Prokosch is a prodigy or a "grind." While completing the regular four-year course in two years she has made the highest strength test record in the history of the college, although she is of very modest physical proportions. Her record is 573, breaking the old one of 565. The regular college strength system includes bar chinning and other gymnastic stunts.

Miss Prokosch is a swimmer of ability and has done some notable track work. But her real love in the way of exercising is interpretative dancing. She expects to take this art up more seriously with post-graduate work in the University of Berlin. Another of her hobbies is music.

She was born in Chicago and received much of her early education in Austin, Texas, where her father was a member of the faculty of the University of Texas.

VANCOUVER, June 23.—Edward Cannell, aged 60, died here today. He had been assistant secretary of the Rotary club for the last five years, a resident of Vancouver for eight years, and previous to that lived in Penticton, where he was secretary of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Okanagan valley. Besides his widow he leaves nine children.

BOSTON, June 23.—Marty Killyle, manager of Johnny Wilson, when informed tonight that the New York state athletic commission had revoked the middleweight's license because he had failed to box Harry Greb, said he was willing to have Wilson meet Greb or any other middleweight. It was merely a matter of arranging terms, he said, adding that he considered a purse of $100,000 with 60 per cent for Wilson, a fair amount for a match with Greb.

SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1922.

Shrinkage in Value Rather Than Balance

The exports of Canadian produce during the fiscal year that ended on March 31, 1922, were valued at $740,240,680, a decrease of almost four hundred and fifty millions as compared with the preceding 12 months, and a fall from the higher total of $1,540,027,799 in 1918, of close upon 50 per cent.

The figures, standing by themselves, indicate serious business depression and a great slackening of industrial activity. As a matter of fact, the Canadian people worked as effectively during the last fiscal year as in 1920-21, and produced in some departments of industry a greater exportable surplus than ever before.

The shrinkage was in value rather than in volume. The producers did as much work for considerably less return as measured by dollars, and perhaps also for less as measured by the purchasing power of the dollar, for it is the outstanding complaint of those engaged in the primary industries that the price of things they must buy, such as clothes, implements and supplies, has not fallen to the same extent as the price of the articles they must sell.

Enemy Alien Property in Canada

A. B. Copp, secretary of state, announces that he holds about $20,000,000 worth of alien property, including 140,000 shares of C. P. R. stock, seized during the war. It is thought the bulk of this money represents investments by the kaiser and the war lords, and it is understood that the former owners of the property are very active in their efforts to get back what they have forfeited. It is said that a good deal of this enemy-owned property was prevented from falling into the hands of the Canadian government by being transferred to Canadian citizens; but a considerable amount still remains in the possession of the government, and it is to be sincerely hoped that it will hang on to it. Germany owes this country a big indemnity, and to some extent it is possible to recoup ourselves from this source.

The Ottawa Citizen speaks of rumors that experienced legal advisers "as near to parliament hill as possible," have been engaged to dispossess Canada of the money in question, and adds: "It cost Canada over 50,000 lives and $2,000,000,000 to hold a place in the line against Germany's bid for world power. The destruction in Halifax alone amounted to as much as the property seized from alien enemy agencies of Canada. The public would, perhaps be interested to know more about the holding of this property by the secretary of state."

What the Press Is Saying

Lord Northcliffe's Breakdown.

Lord Northcliffe wields such a great influence that any pronounced change in his attitude upon public affairs or any complete breakdown in his mental powers is a matter of wide public interest. With the exception of Mr. Lloyd George himself, probably no man during the war influenced public opinion or was instrumental in bringing about more drastic changes in administration and—to some extent—in military administration than the head of the Northcliffe press.

Since the war he has gradually deteriorated, both in influence and the manner in which that influence has been used, culminating in his recent partially successful attempt to wreck the Genoa conference for the purpose of ruining Premier Lloyd George politically. Dspite this falling away, however, his influence through the medium of his many newspapers is still great.

Those who have followed his remarkable series of articles, graphically written and full of acute judgments, which Lord Northcliffe contributed to his press during his recent world tour, have been able to see no falling away in mental vigor there. But several old personal friends who chatted with Lord Northcliffe when he was in Vancouver recently, expressed the opinion at the time that, though still a comparatively young man, he showed evidences of a coming breakdown.—Vancouver World.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

DOES YOUR HOME-INTERIOR EXPRESS YOUR INDIVIDUALITY?

Every week brings me its quota of letters asking advice on interior decoration. "Please describe a tasteful living room," say some of these letters. "I do so want my living room to be restful and beautiful."

In reply to such letters, I am always glad to make suggestions regarding pieces of furniture which are universally accepted as having "good lines" and being "in good taste" (the gate-legged table, for instance, or the "wing-backed" fireside chair, willow furniture with harmoniously colored textiles used for seat and back-pads, almost any furniture in the Sheraton or Chippendale periods, etc.). But I am always at a loss to know how to explain, to these letter friends, that there is a third principle of interior decoration which they have evidently overlooked.

They realize that their home-interiors should be beautiful and restful; but they do not grasp the fact that the home should also reflect the individuality of its occupants.

So, not knowing the talents or preferences of a home-maker, how can I plan a living room for her that is appropriate?

Mrs. A., for instance, may be a musician. Then the most natural thing in the world for one to find in her living room is a picture of a great musician, or a row of "Lives of Famous Musicians," on the table held together, perhaps, by bronze book-ends of some great musician in bas-relief.

Mrs. B. is fond of traveling and has been to the orient. What, then, is more appropriate than Chinese or Japanese tapestries, pottery or jade in her living room?

Mrs. C. is the wife of a writer. In her living room one expects to find some evidence of the interest in things literary which her husband's talent would naturally awaken—pictures of great writers, their books, book-ends bearing the face of an author, and mementoes picked up at the birthplace of some great author.

Mrs. D. is studying arts and crafts, and samples of her handiwork would naturally be everywhere; on the table lies a hand-woven runner of silk, on the mantel stands a piece of her own basketry, and the shade on the droplight is perhaps one of parchment or pierced-metal which she has made.

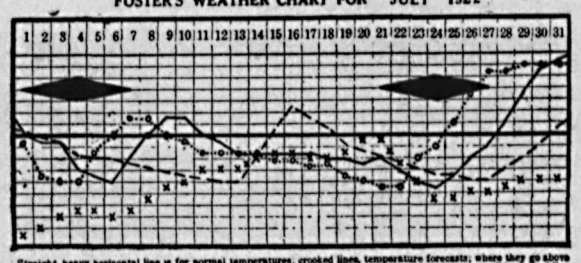
As I said above, our home-interiors shoud reflect ourselves. Let us live among things that interest us! Let us not buy a certain piece of furniture or a certain ornament because the clerk in some store recommended it, or because "everybody else has one." Let us buy it because we like it! Otherwise we are all like sheep, following some other person's tastes, not our own.

As I once heard a professional interior decorator exclaim, "For goodness sake, if a woman has any individuality, why doesn't she let her home-interior proclaim the fact!"

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Foster's Weekly Weather Bulletin

FOSTER'S WEATHER CHART FOR JULY 1922



Straight, heavy horizontal line is for normal temperatures, crooked lines, temperature forecasts; where they go above normal line means warmer, below means cooler; diamonds are for severe storms and rain increase; solid, crooked line for all north of latitude 36 between meridian 90 and Rockies crest; broken line for south of 36, between meridian 90 and Rockies crest, also Louisiana and Mississippi; X line, east of meridian 90, south of 36. O line, north of 36 and west of Rockies crest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—Two principal severe storm periods are expected for July for the weeks centering on 3rd and 26th. To locate these storms as they cross the continent in about five days read the division forecast for your section. Rainfall for the states and provinces east of Rockies crests will be near the average of past 10 years. But for your immediate vicinity the general long slopes will modify the amount of moisture which will come from the vicintiy of a line drawn from northern point of South America to the Rock of Gibraltar. On all long southeastern slopes more than average rain may be expected and on all northeast slopes less moisture than the 10-year average. The severe storms of the week centering on July 3 will be most severe of the month and very severe storms are expected near July 1. Heavy rains are expected on southern slopes from both storms. Best crop weather of the month is expected during the 11 days centering on 13th. That good weather will come during harvest time near latitude 40. Not much rain during July west of Rockies crests and less than usual rain in Arizona and New Mexico. Rain shortage expected in all the West India islands and northern South America.

Northwest division—High temperatures near 1st and 9th; cool near 6th; severe storms and most rain near 3rd, but most of this rain will fall on long southern slopes; much less on northern slopes; crop weather will average fair. This paragraph is for north of 36 between Rockies crest and meridian 90.

Southwest division—High temperatures near July 1; long, slow average drop in temperatures; severe storms near 4th; most rain on south side of ridges extending near east and west and on long southern slopes; most rain near th. This paragraph for south of 36 and west of Alabama.

Northeast division—Low temperatures near July 1, followed by a long, slow, upward trend. Severe storms and most rain near 5th; most rain on southern and western slopes. Crop wetaher average good with a few exceptions. This paragraph for all north of 36 and east of 90.

Pacific slope—Not much rain; low temperatures near 5th; warmer than usual near 1st and 7th; most severe storms near 1st; coolest weather near 4th; crop weather about normal.

World Crop weather—Rain shortage will continue in Australia, injurious to their winter wheat. That country will get four months' rain shortage, followed by a long, destructive drouth. Its condition will be much worse than that of Europe. Drouth in Europe did not start till some of their crops were far advanced, but all late maturing crops in southern Europe will be very short.

Moose Jaw Barrister Drawn to Nelson by Folder on Convention

Moose Jaw, June 20, 1922.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—I am in receipt of your four-page folder issued for the fourth International Mining convention, and it looks very much after perusing it as though I will be absent from my office for the first 10 days or so in the month of July.

As an advertising medium this folder, in my opinion, is the best ever, and the party or parties responsible for the compiling and editing of it are deserving great credit. I am looking forward with pleasure to personally meeting the gentlemen capable of compiling this work of art, and sincerely trust that no unforeseen obstacle will hinder my being present for the convention.

BY LENORE

The great vogue for all-white frocks this summer brings about pretty conceits in accessories. For example, one of the smartest things you might do is to wear a white frock, shoes and hat, and carry a bright green parasol, the color repeated in your stockings. Or you might fall in love with one of those hat and parasol sets, which has been thought of by a clever little French modiste.

The one in the sketch above is made of straw, trimmed with ribbons and rosebuds. With a straw parasol you may enjoy the sensation of feeling like a South Sea Islander. That is, if you are at all an imaginative person.

There is also a fad for matching the color of the parasol to that of the frock, while some of the smart shops feature gayly colored Japanese sun shades and vivid cubist patterns.

Setting a High Mark

The Canadian government sets a standard for evaporated milk, which is 7.8 butter fat test. You will find these figures printed on the label of each Pacific Milk can. It is the law. But please remember that this is only the minimum so far as Pacific Milk is concerned. As an actual matter of fact, every 100 pounds of Pacific Milk contains 43 pounds of cream. The richness of this good milk has made it the most popular brand in the whole of Western Canada.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William Cutler were married in Binfield, Berkshire, England, 50 years ago yesterday. Since October, 1902, they have resided in Nelson.

violence, the storm struck Winnipeg and blew with an extreme velocity of 84 miles an hour, to an alarming accompaniment of electrical disturbances. Terrific gusts of wind shook the city to its foundations. Roofs were carried away from many structures, big and little alike, and ice warehouses toppled in a heap; hundreds of fine trees were uprooted and deprived of branches which fell to clutter the roadway.

Child Grasps Live Wire.

Windows were driven in like paper; telegraph and telephone wires were broken down to add an element of danger which later in the morning cost the life of Garfield Price, aged 8, who grasped a live wire and was instantly killed. In half an hour the storm had passed on.

Farther east damage of great severity was done at Lydiatt, where the home of Mrs. Pauline Kormrie was dismantled. Baby Kormrie, 9 months, was killed, and Mrs. Kormrie and an older child were brought to Winnipeg seriously injured. The Canadian Pacific railway station was shifted from its foundations, a railway sleeping car was overturned and several employees injured and damage was done to farm buildings and crops.

Winnipeg All Right

Train services in and out of Winnipeg have been maintained unbroken, but all other lines of communication were crippled. Hundreds of telegraph poles in the vicinity of Portage went down and it was the middle of the afternoon before the C. P. R. telegraphs had restored direct communication with eastern Canada, while at that hour their western lines remained broken, although it was expected that the early evening would see a resumption of service. The Canadian National telegraphs were not so hard hit and maintained a limited service during the day.

Telephone lines to Portage had not been reestablished at 4 p. m. although a line was working with Brandon most of the day.

Limited Hydro Service

The city hydro system lost one mile of towers and will provide a limited service tonight. The Winnipeg Electric had to discontinue its Selkirk trains owing to the poles across the lines, but its Winnipeg service is being maintained and its lighting customers supplied by an emergency plant. Full repairs to both plants are expected on Saturday.

The rain which fell will be of much benefit to crops in the storm belt but in some areas the added presence of hail was a cause of damage and loss.

Lack Detailed Information

It is thought that many farm buildings must have been destroyed or damaged, but the disorganization of telephones and telegraphs has made it impossible to secure detailed information. Further reports of casualties may come in from isolated districts.

A $10,000 seaplane, resting quietly at anchor in Winnipeg was overturned and wrecked. Cases of minor damage were numerous; of chimneys toppled; garages carried away and automobile tops ripped off, of overturned chicken coops and missing poultry.

Many Hairbreadth Escapes From Storm

city. All telegraph and telephone poles are down and the hydro power line is badly damaged. It is impossible tonight to estimate the complete damage with any accuracy and it is probable the total figures will greatly exceed two million dollars. The miraculous manner in which the citizens escaped death and injury is inexplicable. Hairbreadth escapes were innumerable.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Dissatisfied with the result of the judges' decision in favor of Sammy Seiger, New York, over Tommy Noble, English featherweight champion, after 12 rounds of fast fighting at Coney Island club tonight, spectators joined in a free for all and police reserves had to be called.

Assassination Excites Horror in All Quarters

LONDON, June 23.—The two men arrested as assassins of Field Marshal Wilson were arraigned on a charge of murder today and remanded for a week in order to enable further investigation. Little has been added tot he identity or motives of the assassins, except that they proved to be former soldiers and one of them was employed as a doorkeeper in a government office.

The expressions of horror and indignation over the assassination were not confined to England. Today they extended virtually over the whole of the world. Large numbers of messages of condolence reached Lady Wilson from sovereigns, great soldiers and cabinet ministers in various countries.

No Policy Change Indicated.

Regret was expressed in government circles today that the murder might be calculatedd to delay an Irish settlement. Hardly anywhere, however, outside the ranks of the "diehards" and of Ulster, has there come any suggestion that the government should modify its policy toward the Irish Free State or be in any way influenced in a reactionary direction.

The government has given over Monday for the Irish debate. In political quarters tonight it was said the government evidently was apprehensive, as the special whip has issued orders requiring the attendance of all government supporters.

Restore Special Protection.

Special police protection for prominent statesment has row been restored. Today's critics of the government demanded that the police should be armed. It never has been the custom in England for the police to carry arms except on very rare occasions. England's comparative freedom from political crimes has made the employment of firearms by the police appear to be needless.

Trails Waits Decision as to Action by Zone

Trail Branch.

An urgent case of relief was brought up before the Trail branch a few days ago, and the patient in question was sent on his way to Vancouver for specialists' treatment under the department of soldiers civil re-establishment, less than eight hours after the circumstances had been brought to light.

The recent letters received from the provincial command in regard to the report of the parliamentary committee on reestablishment evoked considerable discussion at our meeting, and it was decided to leave the matter on the table for one week to see whether arrangements could be made for a mass meeting of all branches in the zone in the near future with the object of working collectively on the problem being handled by our Dominion command in Ottawa.

An effort is being made by the Trail Vets to field a tug-o-war team for the G. W. V. A. sports at Nelson on Dominion day, but a final decision will not be made till a later date as to who will uphold the honor of Trail.

Lieut.-Col. Graham Cruikshank of Trail was married last week in Vancouver, and congratulations have been sent him from the Trail veterans.

Past-President H. G. Lewis of Trail local has gone to Kimberley to assist in the construction work at the new concentrator.

Fernie Branch Wires Reestablishment Views

Fernie Branch.

To aid those in parliament fighting veterans' battles, the Fernie G. W. V. A. sent the following night letter to Premier King, Herbert Marler, chairman of the parliamentary committee on pensions and reestablishment, and L. W. Humphrey, M. P. for West Kootenay, with the request to Mr. Humphrey to communicate the message to his British Columbia colleagues:

"We, the Fernie branch, G. W. V. A., in the strongest terms urge the government to make no retrenchment from the present pension scale, and make provision in reestablishment legislation for our comrades now breaking down who were discharged class "A," also reasonable measure of housing for ex-service men, immediate legislation looking toward the solution of unemployment. Public opinion strongly behind us."

H. A. Bryant, past president of Fernie Branch, is seeking fame and fortune in fields and pastures new around Rock Creek.

Comrade John Brown is the parent of a son and heir.

Make Dominion Day a Nelson Week-end

Nelson Branch.

Negotiations are in progress for a special train from Castlegar to Trail on Sunday night following Dominion Day, so as to permit the good people of Trail who come over to Nelson for our big Dominion Day doings, to take in the full Saturday night program, and then have Sunday in which to admire the scenic beauties from the lake, or in picnic fashion if they choose.

Only malignity of the weather man can prevent the greatest day of sports ever held in Nelson's history, for the delectation of the home populace, and of the citizens of sister communities.

If the plans outlined by the G. W. V. A. are fully carried out, Nelson will present a gala appearance, for it is expected that the decorations for the week of the Fourth International Mining convention will be in place for July 1.

MONTREAL, June 23.—Owing to the indisposition of Judge Monet, the trial of Adelard Delorme, charged with the murder of his half brtoner, Raoul, has been suspended until Monday.

POWER PLANT IS SPICK AND SPAN

City Fathers Make Annual Inspection of Nelson's Most Substantial Asset

A spick and span power plant, that has not interrupted service for a second since March, 1911, and that in the first five months of 1922 has generated 1,812,750 kilowatt hours of current, against 1,382,625 generated in the first five months of 1921, was visited by the city fathers of Nelson Thursday on the annual civic inspection. The ironwork coverings of the generataors gleamed glossy black, the interior walls, newly decorated, presented a pleasing effect, and the floors, protected with strips of linoleum, along the main pathways, were spotless. "It is up to us to keep the city's best asset in first class shape," was the comment of several of the aldermen as they viewed for the first time the results of the little outlay recently authorized for renovation.

The party included Mayor C. F. McHardy, Alderman W. M. Cunliffe, chairman of the fire, water and light committee, Alderman L. H. Choquette, Alderman Kenneth Campbell, Alderman C. D. Shaw, City Clerk W. E. Wasson, Electrical Engineer G. T. MacGuire, Engineer W. M. Myers, and two visitors to the city, A. E. Alloway of Calgary, and Frank McHardy Smith of London, Ont.

Leaving Nelson in cars at 5 o'clock, the inspection party arrived at Bonnington Falls in time to admire the wonderful cataract from the veranda of the city boarding house for a few minutes, before falling to on the spread arranged by Superintendant Thomas Needham.

From Roof to Sub-Basement

Then for the better part of an hour the visitors inspected the big power house, from the top gallery under the roof, where the lightning arresters protect the city's investment by conducting to the ground through aluminum plates any vagrant lightning that comes in on the transmission lines, down to the lowest subbasement at the water level below the falls, where the 19-bladed turbines in their cases, fed each by 18 little gates, whirl ceaselessly by pressure of the weight of water from the penstocks at the foot of the forebay, to drive the spinning generators on the generator floor of the power house.

Naturally the generator room was the center of interest, with its two big generators, one with a rated capacity of 1000 kilowatts, and the other and older one with a rated capacity of 750 kilowatts. Each of these big machines has its own exciter. The exciters continually, through their copper comutators, convert the alternating current generated in their armatures into a direct current, collecting it on their brushes, and supplying it to the generators, whose great revolving magnetic fields it energizes. Each generator also has its own governor, which controls the gates of the turbine below, so as to admit the exact quantity of water required from moment to moment to generate the exact amount of power required by the load, which is constantly varying. The governors also have to combat the surge or recoil of the water that has been discharged from the turbines into the seething caldron below the pulsating falls.

Automatic Switches

Another point of interest was the switchboard gallery, a middle story between the generator floor and the gallery containing the lightning arresters with their dread sign of "Danger—15,000 Volts." Besides the numerous hand switches, for controlling various lines, each board has an automatic switch, which throws itself when anything goes wrong on its line. One very interesting exhibit is a machine which automatically adjusts from minute fraction of a section to minute fraction of a second the amount of current fed to the transmission lines, so that the lights are steady.

Altogether the plant has three pits for generators, three in the building and one beyond it, each with its accompanying penstock or pipe from the forebay, to permit of additional units.

There are two transmission lines from the power plant to Nelson, one the power line, and the other the lighting line. The power line is tapped by the A. G. Lambert sawmill at Taghum, the Granite-Poorman mill at Granite, and the Baskin-Steadman sawmill at Eagle creek, en route to Nelson, and an extension of it will soon, it is expected, serve the West arm north shore as far as Willow Point. Its main load is the street railway, and commercial power users in the city. The lighting line provides for Nelson, and en route is tapped for the Granite road ranchers.

After the inspection, the party returned to the city while it was still daylight.

Pineapple Second Only to Sugar in Hawaii Now

The pineapple industry now ranks second only to sugar production in the Hawiian Islands, according to a survey by the American department of agriculture, which attributes part of this development at least to the work of the experiment station established at Honolulu in 1901. Due to various causes, among them the lack of facilities for the shipment of fresh fruit, most of the pineapple crop is canned. The shipments of canned fruit in 1920 were 5,500,000 cases, valued at $29,000,000. This is a large increase over the shipment of 2000 cases in 1901. Comparative data of acreage and production are not available, but the census of 1920 showed an increase of more than 1000 per cent in the farm value of the crop between 1909 and 1919.

"In pursuance of its policy to promote diversification of agriculture in the islands so that they will become more nearly self-sustaining, the experiment station took up and gave particular attention to some of the problems of the pineapple growers," says the department. "Fertilizer experiments made by the station have shown how the fertility of the soil can be maintained for successful pineapple culture. On the black soil lying at elevations between 1000 and 1500 feet pineapple plants turn yellow and become unprofitable.

"These lands lie above the area devoted to sugar cane and they are usually very productive. It was soon found that the trouble was due to the presence of excessive amounts of manganese and that spraying with approximately an 8 per cent solution of iron sulphate would restore the green color and promote normal growth. As a result of this discovery pineapple yellows can be controlled in Hawaii at a cost of less than $2 an acre and commercial crops produced on lands where otherwise there is total failure. This has made possible the replanting of more than 10,000 acres that had been abandoned for pineapple cuture on account of this disease.

"Some other features of the station's work are more closely associated with canning problems. A study was made of the effect of the degree of ripeness on the sugar content of the Smooth Cayenne pineapple, the variety commonly grown in Hawaii. It was found that the pineapple, unlike many other kinds of fruit, does not materially increase in sugar after it is cut, although the fruit may become well colored and the flesh soften and become edible. Green fruit was found to contain an average of 5.01 per cent of total sugars, one-fourth ripe, 7.16 per cent; half ripe, 9.70 per cent, and field ripe, 12.06 per cent.

"In the canning of pineapples there is a large amount of waste juice for which no satisfactory use has been found. The station chemist has discovered that this juice can be turned into a very satisfactory vinegar by sterilizing it and then introducing the proper bacteria. There does not appear to be any reason why the method may not be adopted on a commercial scale.

"With the development of the pineapple industry a number of strong companies have undertaken scientific studies similar to those inaugurated by the experiment station. As a consequence, the station is now able to turn its attention to other crops which it hopes to assist in developing to importance in the islands."

Bands of Mercy Are Nearly Half Century Old

Describing the origin of the Bands of Mercy, designed to further the cause of kindness to animals, Guy Richardson, secretary of the American Humane Education society, recently told of the founding of the first of these bands in England in 1875. George T. Angell of Boston was responsible for this move, he said.

"Having thus been the means of starting humane education in Great Britain, it was but natural that Mr. Angell should see the opportunity of a juvenile society in America similar to that started in England," said Mr. Richardson. "In 1862, the Rev. Thomas Timmins, an Episcopal clergyman who had been engaged with Mrs. Smithies in this work in England, came to Boston and joined Mr. Angell in his efforts to establish similar bands here. They were highly successful.

"Not quite forty years have passed since a minister of God baptized by his earnest words the first attempt in the western world to band young people in the cause of justice to animals, yet today more than 136,000 branches of the American Band of Mercy have been organized in answer to that prayer. They are in every state of the Union and in nearly every island of the seas and in almost every foreign country where civilization and the English language have gone.

"These local bands are expected to contain thirty members (as a fair average for a single school room), but sometimes they are in remote country schools where perhaps the membership is as small as twelve, though more often a single band serves an entire community, and a registration as high as 2000 has been reported. A conservative estimate of the total membership of the bands, formed during the last forty years, is 4,000,000. Think what it means to have organized in little more than a single generation such a large number of Bands of Mercy, with their great membership representing every corner of the United States and nearly every civilized country in the world."

This is the pledge of these Bands of Mercy: "I will try to be kind to all living creatures, and try to protect them from cruel usage." It is not strictly necessary for every member to have a pledge card, although it may be desirable as a constant reminder to the signer of his obligation.

Many Sunday school classes and young people's religious societies become Bands of Mercy, simply by assenting to the pledge and introducing the subject in the meetings as opportunity offers. The W. C. T. U., the Women's Relief Corps, and other national organizations have been instrumental in introducing the Band of Mercy.

Although actually started by the Massachusetts society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in 1882, the American Band of Mercy later became a part of the American Humane Education society, when that national organization, the first of its kind in the world, was founded by George T. Angell in 1889.

CANNOT FIND TOMAHAWKS

Although the United States papers this week are carrying vivid stories of the invasion of Point Pelee, Ontario, by Indians with flashing tomahawks and fearsome-looking hatchets, the Canadian authorities have so far failed to come in contact with the enemy. The snapshots are of Forest H. Conover, on the left, superintendent of the government park, which the redskins are said to claim as their very own, and of Constable Raymond Nelson, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, astride the motor cycle, with Sergt. A. Birtwhistle of the "Mounties" in the sidecar. The redcoats are patrolling the roads along which the Indians, according to the American press, were supposed to be advancing.

Newspaper Advertising to Further the Spread of the Gospel Advocated

NEW YORK, June 23.—Newspaper advertising to further the spread of the gospel is strongly advocated by the publicity department of the Episcopal church, which has brought out it is recommendations, after a thorough study of the question of advertising, in a pamphlet entitled "A Handbook of Church Publicity," issued under the authorization of the National Council of the Church.

"No one can look at the newspapers and magazines and doubt that it pays to advertise," said the Rev. Robert F. Gibson, executive secretary of the publicity department, and author of the text book. "Why should not this method of such proven efficiency be used for the propagation of the gospel? Advertising is not necessarily sensational. It merely seems to be so because we are not accustomed to it for church purposes."

One of the striking features of the book is Mr. Gibson's strong advocacy of the fullest use by the churches of the advertising columns of the daily press not only for mere church notices, but for spreading the gospel among the masses.

"We have thought of publicity in the newspapers as merely a method of giving public notice of a service or a meeting, or of making public the account of something that has taken place," says Mr. Gibson. "We have thought too much of building up the attendance at a service or of exploiting persons or organizations. We are only beginning to think of church publicity in the public press as evangelistic in purpose. The newspapers themselves are really far ahead of the churches in their recognition of this evangelistic opportunity. Many editors are convinced that the problems of the world will never be solved rightly until Christian principles are applied and that therefore it is one of the functions of the public press to present and apply Christian principles.

"Advertising with an evangelistic purpose," says Mr. Gibson, "where the aim is to reach the unchurched, must be in the newspapers."

Mr. Gibson suggests a form of advertising to churches which will take the shape of a minature sermon, "briefly interpreting some passage of scripture or briefly applying some Christian principle." Sermonettes, of a hundred words in length, with the name of the preacher and his church annexed are also recommended.

Mr. Gibson's conclusions and recommendations are the outcome of a resolution adopted by the National Council at its Washington meeting last July.

Church promotion by raido, moving pictures, posters, etc., is also considered in the handbook.

Declare Guessing Contest Illegal

WINNIPEG, June 23.—Baseball guessing competitions, as conducted by a half dozen weekly papers here, have been declared illegal, according to a judgment delivered today by the Manitoba court of appeal, Mr. Justice Cameron dissenting. The judgment was delivered in connection with the appeal lodged by the crown against a decision by Magistrate Sir Hugh J. McDonald, who dismissed a charge against proprietors of the One Big Union Bulletin, on the ground that they did not come within the provision of the criminal code of Canada.

The dissenting judgment delivered by Mr. Justice Cameron gives the defendants the right to carry the appeal to the supreme court of Canada, which action they are contemplating. Also they are considering changing the nature of money receipts by charging 25 cents for the paper, which form of conducting a competition has been declared within the law by the English and Scottish courts.

Another Step Taken in Equality for Wives

LONDON, June 22.—Another step has been taken in the direction of securing for wives equality of treatment with husbands so far as the law is concerned. The house of commons has given a second reading to the "Separation and Maintenance Order bill," to give it its cumbersome official title. It is designed to straighten some matrimonial tangles and remove various matrimonial infelicities which are largely atiributed to the fact that in many ways the law does not trea he sexes alike.

As the law now stands, according to the sponsor for the bill, Sir Robert Newman, a wife who wishes to prove cruelty against her husband has to leave home first, and she is torn between fear of him andf ear of abandoning her children in his charge.

Under the provisions of the bill a wife, while still living with her husband would be able to take him to the police court for a maintenance order, produce a letter from his employer, stating his earnings, obtain a ruling from the magistrate laying down the proportion of the wages to which she is entitled, and then take the husband home again.

GOD SAVE IRELAND!

Must Solve Problem in Playing Poker to Get Job With Wizard Edison

NEW YORK.—In looking for a right-hand man, Thomas A. Edison tested several hundred college graduates at the Edison plant with a new and improved questionnaire, but so far, it is reported, he has not found a young man of sufficient attainment and promise to be his first lieutenant. The new Edison brain-meter has questions devised to show how fast and how well the candidate can think.

One of the most profound questions concerns the management of a poker hand described by Mr. Edison—an idea which may have been appropriated from Manager John McGraw, who used a poker game, it was said, during the spring training season as a psychological laboratory in which he measured the speed and accuracy of the thought processes of "bushers," by their conduct in poker emergencies. Mr. Edison's brain-measuring poker hypothesis follows:

"You have only $10 in the world and are playing poker with a man you have never seen before. On the first deal he holds a pat hand. You have three eights before the draw. There is 50 cents in the pot. He bets a quarter. What are you going to do and why?"

Foolish Questions.

Other parts of the questionnaire indicate that Mr. Edison has learned the ship news reporters' secret, which is that foolish questions often succeed in drawing out distinguished visitors when sagacious ones fail.

One of the questions on which the admirable Crichton sought by Mr. Edison must show intelligence is the following:

"You are a salesman making every effort to get an order from a big manufacturer who is married to an unusually jealous wife. One evening you see this prospective customer dining in a restaurant with a chorus girl. What would you do?"

As in his first questionnaire, the literary questions are elementary, calling for only the thinnest smattering of knowledge, while the scientific questions could be answered only from an extraordinary range of scientific reading. The classical culture of the candidate is briefly canvassed by the following question:

"What is the meaning of the following expressions:

"'Sic semper tyrannis.'

"'Et tu Brute.'"

Literature is also represented here and there in the examination by asking the candidate to name the author of "The Merchant of Venice," "Vanity Fair," "Pickwick Papers," "Huckleberry Finn," "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," and the "Aeneid," who Samuel Johnson was and where the scene of Evangeline is laid, which are the only other strains put on the candidate's nonutilitarian culture. Mr. Edison calls for the names of six great composers. The nearest approach to a question on other fine arts is "What is the peculiar property which linseed oil has that makes it so valuable in paints?"

The season for activity in the sale and purchase of poultry and eggs is beginning. Now is the time to advertise what you have for sale or what you want to buy.

Poultry pays well. The industry is growing in magnitude in this district every year.

But to make the biggest profits it is necessary to get the best market for high grade birds and settings. That can be done by advertising in which are read day by day by practically everyone in Kootenay and Boundary who is interested in poultry.

How Many Miles per Dollar Do Your Tires Give You?

If the miles per dollar on cheap tires were computed against the miles per dollar on good tires, good tires would show the least cost. Here's an actual instance: Two friends had summer cottages at the same lakeside resort, some hundred and fifty miles away. They used to motor up week ends. On one occasion, "A" put a cheap, new tire on his Overland Touring and a cheap new spare. At the end of 50 miles the new tire blew out, and at the end of 80 miles the second new tire blew out. He had no repair kit or blow-out patches and, it was so far to the nearest garage, he had to stay all night at a farm house. "B," who travelled the same roads, had two "Gutta Percha" Tires on his Dodge car, which lasted two seasons, without even minor mishaps. One blew out at 10,000 miles and the other is still going and looks good, with a record of over 12,000 miles. Which Tire Cost the Most? The Cheap Price Tire, of course. Which Tire would you buy? "Gutta Percha," of course.

"Gutta Percha" Tires do not demand a higher price than other standard tires, so why not have the best when they cost no more?

Trading Languishes On Stock Exchange After Mexican Rise

NEW YORK, June 23.—Trading in the stock market today languished perceptibly, probably as a result of the proposed official inquiry into the recent remarkable maneuvers of Mexican Petroleum. Sales of 700,000 shares represented the smallest full session in many weeks.

Additional restraints were imposed upon speculative operations by the firmer tone of money rates. Call loans opened and renewed into next week at 5 per cent.

Foreign and domestic oils, especially General Asphalt, Royal Dutch and California Petroleum, trailed along. These were materially impaired by the more intensive realizing sales of the afternoon with motors, shippings and prominent specialties. Among the latter especial strength was displayed by Coco Cola and Sears-Roebuck. Rails were the sustaining features of the day, although advances in the investment division were confined to one or two points, with New York Central, Atlantic Coast Line, several of the transcontinentals and coalers as the most conspicuous issues.

No explanation accompanied the further recessions in leading foreign exchanges, with sterling bills off another cent to $4.41 for demand bills. French and Italian remittances were affected to the same extent, losing 7 points each, and marks shaded to within the smallest fraction of 30. Dutch exchange reacted another 10 points and more acute weakness was shown by the Greek rate, also the new "nationals," notably Poland and Czecho-Slovakia.

Western Wire Breaks Down; Interferes With Winnipeg Grain Mart

WINNIPEG, June 23.—Lack of wire news was responsible for a dull market here today. Early in the session strength was displayed after opening at 1c higher, but later the market slumped and closed around the low points of the day. The close was ½c to ⅝c lower.

There was no urgency and offerings were ligh.t.

Inspections totaled 34 cars, of which 183 were wheat.

Weather Clears; Rains Fall, Please Farmers

SASKATOON, June 23.—No high winds are reported from any part of the district surrounding Saskatoon. During today heavy rains have been falling intermittently, easing at about 5 o'clock. The land has been thoroughly drenched, which, according to farmers, is a consummation sorely needed. The weather has now cleared and is warm and bright. Nothing approaching a hurricane is reoprted from anywhere in the vicinity.

Dominion Trade Steadily Better

WINNIPEG, June 23.—(By Canadian Press.)—Indications continue to show a steady improvement in trade throughout the Dominion, states the weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust association, issued here today.

With crop prospects very bright, Montreal, Toronto and other parts of the east report wholesale trade steadily improving, with increased business also in manufacturing circles, fall orders showing a welcome increase. Retail trade is also reported on the upgrade, but collections are still slow.

All three prairie provinces are looking for better results in consequence of the good crop outlook. Retail trade in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, while not up to the 1921 trade at this time, is reported to be well on the increase and collections from farmers show an improvement. Alberta, with crop conditions better than for some years, is looking forward to a better summer and fall trade.

Livelier Beer and Loganberry Wine to Be On Sale Shortly

VICTORIA, June 23.—Livelier beer is being tested out here preparatory to it being introduced throughout the province by the liquor control board.

This new beer is 11 per cent alcohol, which is getting up near ale strength.

Loganberry wine, declared to be of as fine a quality as any of the famous wines produced in Europe, may be sold in this province soon by government vendors, according to negotiations now being carried on by loganberry growers with the liquor board.

BRINGING UP FATHER

UNABLE TO WALK FOR A YEAR

Paralysis Entirely Relieved by "Fruit-a-tives"

The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

Paralysis is a break-down of the Nervous System and affects the victim in various ways. Sometimes, nervousness makes itself known by hysteria, insomnia, constant headaches, or it may be so bad that one is partially or completely helpless in some part of the body, just as MRS. HEACOCK WAS. SAULT STE MARIE, ONT.

"When I was twenty-eight years of age, my doctor advised me to have an operation, which I did and it proved very serious, leaving me weak and unable to walk for a year. Seeing your "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in the papers, I decided to try them. I continued to use them regularly, and today I am able to go about my home duties and care for my family".

MRS. J. W. HEACOCK.

Bronks Go Ahead in Series With Eskimos; Player Swats Umpire

CALGARY, June 23.—Calgary assumed the lead in the post-series, by defeating Edmonton here tonight six to one, in a game that was featured by a fist fight between Left Fielder Andrews and Umpire Jake Croter. Andrews became peeved when a third strike was called, and he threw his bat up against the grand stand. He was immediately ordered out of the the park, but after a brief argument, he squared off and took a poke at the umpire. Croter, however, dodged and planted a right uppercut to the jaw. The players parted the two, but Andrews refused to leave the park and Croter chased him as far as shortstop, where he received a handful of dust in the face. Andrews then went to the dugout and eventually out of the park.

Calgary indulged in a swatfest, while Connell was holding the Eskimos in check.

Set Time Limit for Dempsey to Arrange Bout

NEW YORK, June 23.—The New York state athletic commission today revoked the license of Johnny *Wilson of Boston, middleweight cham*pion, on the ground that he had failed to meet Harry Greb of Pittsburgh in a match scheduled for Madison Square Gardens last January.

At the same time the commission set July 1, as a time limit for Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, to accept or decline the challenge of Harry Wills, New Orleans negro.

Dempsey must accept Wills' challenge by that date or his title will be thrown open to competition in this state, an official of the commission explained. Should Dempsey accept, it would not prevent him from carrying through other fights already planned, this official added.

Warning To Drivers!

It is an established fact that most automobile accidents are the result of fatigued eyes, caused by continuous strain on the eyes. Especially so, when they are handicapped by defects.

Just think of the tremendous amount of work the eyes are subjected to when driving. There are times when the eyes will close against the will of the driver. It is then the accidents happen.

Come in and let us tell you more on this subject.
