UDGET UNDER IRE OF BOTH THER PARTIES

servative Amendment harges Breach of Faith; Drayton Leads Debate

ELVIE STATES CASE FOR FRUIT GROWERS

oval of Dumping Clause Inflicts Injury on Industry

TAWA, May 26.—The first iside in the budget debate was ered today and with it came an dment from the Conservative es charging the government breaking faith with the electors with disregarding its preelection es.

Henry Drayton, who last year ered the budget speech, this year es in the role of chief opposition cial critic and he led off the de- from the Conservative benches the debate was resumed today. n. J. A. Robb, minister of trade commerce, said Sir Henry was ing the government for making reductions and then complain- that the reductions were not suf- nt. Mr. Robb maintained that government was carrying out the es of its leader. The govern- would go as far toward tariff ms as the people would let it go.

lf a Loaf Better Than None.

J. Woods, Progressive, Dufferin, gh "half a loaf was better than read." The downward revision e tariff, however, would make difference to the working man.

Turgeon, Liberal member for ester, N. B., declared the tariff ctions, though small, were a step e right direction.

A. MacKelvie, Conservative, , protested against the injury to fruit growers of Canada by removal of the dumping clause h had really been effective. The rts of fruit from British Colum- last year were valued at $8,000,- and the investment in the fruit stry in the Okanagan totaled 000,000.

scussing the budget proposals rally, Mr. MacKelvie said that of the Progressive members feel that they had asked the rnment for bread and had been ed a stone. If the budget of the nce minister indicated the extent h the present government was ared to go in implementing its ises to the country, what was to xpected in regard to other prom- which had been, or would be by the government.

Objects to Spilling Market.

r. MacKelvie made a strong ap- to the finance minister to recon- the abolition of the valuation se under which imports were to alued at cost of production plus its. The American growers pro- more fruit than they could dis- of in their own market and sent fruit into Canada, where it set price for the Canadian article. did not object to having to meet competition of American fruit, he did object to having the mar- spoiled.

ealing with the general aspects of budget, he declared that it did contain even a remote indication tendency to cut down taxation. re had been a cut of about 00,000 in duties and an increase $30,000,000 in sales tax or $20,- 000 more to be borne by the es. Where had there been any ency to reduce extravagence ex- in the Conservative party?

r. MacKelvie protested against repeal of the German exchange diation of last session, on senti- tal as well as on business nds. Why should our workmen to meet competition of Ger- s who worked for $3 a month? not the blood of countless sol- s and nurses cry out for remem- nce?"

r. MacKelvie concluded by stat- that he would support the Dray- amendment.

Disappoints Progressive.

I am bitterly disappointed in the get," said D. W. Warner, Pro- sive, Strathcona. "We in Alberta e not been asking for free trade at once. We have known that it not advisable and not possible to r at once on a free trade policy. we have had, and we still have, the back of our heads the idea t we want a whole lot taken off tariff as soon as possible. Our ppointment is over the small ount of the reduction in the tariff. will make little difference in the t of living or in the cost of operat- our farms. In fact, in my judg- nt, the expense will be greater in- ad of less, when the sales tax is en into account."

Mr. Warner argued that the gov- ment should have made more re- ctions in the tariff on woolen ds. He added that the govern- nt must have money, but suggest- that this might have been ob- ned by a further increase in the come tax. It might be said that farmers were not paying the in- me tax, but the truth was that the sterners would be glad to reach class which was required to pay h a tax.

Debate on the budget was ad- rned by Hon. Charles Stewart,

BULGARIAN DIPLOMAT IS SLAIN

Alexandria Gregoff Murdered at Sofia; Believe Motive Political

SOFIA, aMy 26.—Alexandria Gregoff, former Bulgarian charge d'affaires at Paris, Stockholm and Berne, was assinated here last night. Some mystery attaches to the circumtances of the crime and the motive for it, but the evidence is thought to point to a political basis.

The political situation is not very settled, but there is no communist revolution as had been reported from Vienna and Belgrade recently. The reports may have arisen from the fact that on Thursday, May 18, a large meeting of communists was held here, demanding the immediate expulsion from Bulgaria of the soldiers of General Wrangel, former anti-Bolshevik leader in south Russia, who took refuge in Bulgaria, and asking the establishment of friendly reltaions with the Russian Soviet government.

There is some apprehension regarding future developments, however, notably in connection with the assembling of 50,000 peasants in Sofia next Monday, attending the yearly congress of the national peasant party. The meeting plans to protest against the bourgeoisie and possible developments in this connection are causing grave fears of trouble.

Derby Favorite's Price Lengthens to 5 to 1 on Rumors of Bad Foot

LONDON, May 26.—Sol Joel, owner of Pondoland, said tonight that the horse did a trotting exercise today and his trainer was quite satisfied with his condition. The horse will be given a full work tomorrow in preparation for the Derby on Wednesday next.

The rumors about Pondoland having a bad foot affected the Derby betting today. The offer was five to one against Pondoland. For some time the odds have been seven to two against.

Mr. Joel said tonight:

"Pondoland's prospects in the Derby are good."

DECLINE LOAN TO GERMANY UNTIL CONDITIONS ACCEPTED

International Bankers Discuss Matter in Paris; Reparations Commission's Ultimatum Must Be Complied With and Currency Inflation Cease

PARIS, May 26.—The committee of international bankers, in session this evening, served notice on Germany that further consideration of a billion-dollar loan to the German government is virtually out of the question until Germany accepts in full the conditions of the ultimatum of the reparations commission, which expires on May 31, and also gives adequate guarantees that the inflation of Germany's currency will be stopped immediately.

The committee then decided to adjourn until May 31 to await the decision of Germany. Karl Bergmann, representative of Germany, immediately telephoned the decision to Berlin.

In reparation circles tonight the view was advanced that the action of the financiers probably would result in complete acceptance by Germany of all their conditions. It was further stated that acquiescence by Germany in the reparations commission's conditions would be productive of a loan of more than $1,000,000,000, since the bankers have determined that a large loan could be arranged under these circumstances.

The proposed tax is to be levied at the rate of 2 cents for every $50.

COLLINS AND PARTY LEAVE FOR LONDON

Text of Free State Constitution Main Subject of Dail Debate

I NOT CONTEMPLATE BREACH WITH BRITISH

Will Raise Ulster Question; Complain of Support Accorded North

DUBLIN, May 26.—Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, left for London tonight. He was accompanied by William Cosgrove, minister of local government in the Dail Eireann cabinet, and Dermot O'Hegarty, secretary of state.

It is supposed here that the main subject of today's discussion was the text of the Free State constitution which Arthur Griffith, the Dail president, took with him. This constitution must conform strictly to the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty and has been drafted with that object. If the British ministers are satisfied with it and learn that it will be submitted to the Irish people it is considered unlikely they will enter into a quarrel with the Irish representatives because they made a pact with Eamonn de Valera.

Pact Primarily Domestic.

The view here among Sinn Feiners of both wings is that the pact reccently arrived at between Collins and De Valera is primarily a domestic matter designed to keep solid for the longest possible time all comrades of the Sinn Fein party lest control pass to other sections of Irish opinion identified in the past wtih a moderate policy.

The pact expressly admits the right of all other sections to contest the election and joint action was welcomed as effective against the possible swamping of all Sinn Feiners, but in some quarters the probability is expressed that it may prove too effective, and that other parties may learn the elections will be largely uncontested.

It is pointed out that the objections of the British cabinet to the complexity of a new body growing out of the eletcions will be met by the statement that it will not be a treaty parliament, which must come later, but merely a reconstruction of the Dail, no worse than the body which has been operating ever since the treaty was signed and better able by reason of the pact to preserve public order.

Object to Support for Ulster.

In provisional government circles no breach with the British government is contemplated. Besides the Collins-De Valera agreement, the Irish delegates at London are expected to raise the Ulster question.

In these circles it is said that the delegates will complain that British support of Ulster in men and

COMMUNISTS HECKLE PREMIER; SHOUT 'POINCARE MEANS WAR'

Will Say Next Week Exactly Where France Stands and Intions if Germany Defaults; Scorns Insults Directed at Himself

PARIS, May 26.—Parliament will be informed next week by Premier Poincare exactly where France stands with regard to the German reparations and what France is prepared to do in the event of Germany defaulting the reparations payments of May 31.

The premier announced this intention at today's session of the chamber, the stormiest in years, when he interrupted Albert Favre, who was a minister in the Clemenceau cabinet, while he was in the midst of a speech advocating the acceptance of a minimum amount from Germany immediately rather than insist on larger payments in the future. "It is not in the course of an interruption such as this," declared the premier, "that I can state our position, but I will do so from the tribunal."

"I have adequate knowledge," he continued, "that it would not be sufficient to make an appeal to Germany's good will, but we must be in a position to coerce her to fulfill her obligations should she show an inclination to postpone such good will."

Expect Pronouncement Tuesday

The premier's remarks were received with applause, unanimous except for the Socialists and Communists. The general opinion among the deputies is that M. Poincare's pronouncement will be made on Tuesday.

Leon Daudet previously called upon the premier to occupy the Ruhr district in the event of Germany defaulting the May 31 payment. The Socialists shouted "Poincare means war," which has been the slogan of the Socialist and Communist papers since M. Poincare assumed the premiership.

"I have scorned such attacks in the newspapers, but any one repeating them here will be brought to account for them,' 'the premier exclaimed, glaring at the Communists, while the majority of the house gave him an ovation.

Takes Hennessy to Task.

In a combative mood he then took Deputy Jean Hennessy to task for having used the words "Poincare means war," in the newspaper L'Ouvre, and for quoting President Fallierries as having said upon hearing of Poincare's election to the presidency of the republic:

"Poincare is elected; well, that means war."

Andre Fallieries, son of the ex-president, who is a member of parliament, ascended the tribuntal, saying he was commanded by his venerable father to deny with utmost vigor these words.

"You know my father never uttered such words," he pleaded with M. Poincare, who assured him of the full confidence and respect he had for the former president.

The Communist deputies again shouted, "Poincare means war."

With considerable emotion the premier announced that so long as the insults were directed at him personally he scorned them, but when they attempted to slander France's young soldiers, the slanderers would be brought to justice.

Alsace Deputy Approves Occupation

Deputy Oberkirch of Alsace, while the question of action against Germany for failure to meet her reparations payments was under consideration, argued that even should occupation of the Ruhr be a failure financially and economically, the great results it would bring from a national point of view made it advisable that it be done.

BUDGET UNDER FIRE OF BOTH OTHER PARTES

minister of the interior, and the house rose at 11 o'clock.

The present budget, Sir Henry Drayton said, might well be referred to as one which gave 2 1-2 per cent British preference and German free trade. Canadians have a right to know from what country they were buying goods.

There had been no reference to the income tax in the budget speech, but Sir Henry wished to call the attention of the finance minister to two classes of cases which needed sympathetic treatment. The first of these was the widow, whose exemption was reduced just at the time that she lost the bread winner. The second was the commercial traveler, who did not get a proper allowance for expenses.

Reductions Endanger Employment.

The tariff changes were hardly important enough to delay the house long. Whatever qualms Sir Charles Gordon had at the time of his departure for Genoa they seemed to have been unnecessary. The agricultural industry should be able to carry on. The policy of the Conservative party was that reductions in duty should be made where protection could be carried out on a proper basis, but they should not be made where it endangered the employment of working men. As Mr. Fielding had left the agricultural duties in 1911, the average rate was 20.2. Under reciprocity the average rate would have been 17.3. Under the Conservative regime it was reduced to 14.6. The reductions now proposed was 2 1-2 per cent. That was all right if the industry was able to stand it. It would be wrong if, as the result of it, many Canadians were thrown out of work.

Sir Henry described the drawback regulations to point out their great moment to the steel industry. On a 16-marker western drill, allowing for drawbacks, the net duty on the steel contained was $1.81, compared with a freight duty from Hamilton to Moose Jaw of $16.80 on a machine that was valued at $135.

The ex-minister congratulated Mr. Fielding on reducing the excise duty the druggist had to pay on alcohol. The late government had been willing to make the reduction, provided regulations could be drafted to guard the revenue.

Hardships Not All Removed.

The regulations which had now been accepted by the present government had been under consideration by the late administration. The finance minister, however, had not removed all the hardships that arise under the heavy duty on alcohol. The case of the country doctor deserved sympathetic consideration by the minister.

Sir Henry reminded the Liberals of their objections to the luxury tax, especially the tax on automobiles. At that time they had declared that automobiles valued at $1000 and under were not luxuries and should not be taxed. Yet they had placed a tax on automobiles. No one could forget the moving appeal of the present solicitor-general, Hon. D. D. McKenzie, against a tax on candy. Yet, today, and as a result of the change of position, taxes were an outrage formerly, but are now reasonable and proper.

Why Pick on Telegrams?

Sir Henry asked why telegrams were particularly picked out for taxation and the long distance telephone overlooked. The chief thing about the budget was that it "takes us nowhere, leads nowhere, and settles nothing, but, on the other hand, adds doubt and uncertainty."

The finance minister had pointed out business as being bad, but the budget had not helped in relieving the situation with regard to Canada's one-sided trade with the United States. The budget could be searched in vain for measures which would relieve unemployment. On the other hand, the government had cancelled the depreciated currency regulations. This would further expose Canadians to unemployment and was an astonishing thing to find in the budget.

Challenges Political Honesty.

Then there was the question of ordinary political honesty.

Nothing had been done to implement the pledges of the Liberal party. There was not one word in it connected with the platform of the Liberal party. Sir Henry read from the Liberal platform of 1919 resolutions to the effect that the greatest economy was necessary and that increases in revenue should be obtained from busines profit taxes and incomes, and taxes on luxuries. How much regard for this larger liberty and freedom was found in the budget unless by taxes on automobiles and candy? The government had merely increased the sales tax. Sir Henry then moved the Conservative amendment, which was seconded by Mr. Meighen.

Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of trade and commerce, said that Sir Henry Drayton seemed to be blaming the government for making reductions in the tariff and then criticizing it because it had not made more reductions. He had cherished the hope that the Conservatives, who had promised so many reforms and then delayed them, would be willing to assist the government in measures calculated to bring stability.

The government was carrying out the pledges made by the prime minister when chosen as Liberal leader at the 1919 convention. On that occasion Mr. King had stated that the tariff resolution passed at the convention would serve as a chart to direct his policy by, and that he would be guided by the wisest counsel which he could obtain. The government was prepared to go as far as the people of Canada would let it go along the line of tariff reform.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, Progressive leader, asked Mr. Robb if he would indicate the direction in which Great Britain could give Canada concessions.

Refers to Cattle Embargo.

Mr. Robb replied that he had in mind the embargo against Canadian cattle. This government did not believe in using the "big stick," but indications were that there would shortly be a market in Great Britain for Canadian cattle.

If, Mr. Robb continued, the country was going to be prosperous, it was necessary for the farmers to be in a position to purchase the products of the city worker and the city worker to purchase the products of the farms.

Mr. Robb was not afraid to trade with any man, but was not willing to reduce the Canadian tariff to a minimum when other nations were keeping their tariffs up.

Sir Henry Drayton had questioned the wisdom of cancelling the depreciated currency regulations, but forgot that the government still possessed the Dumping act and other control measures. If there was one country in the world whose export depended on buying from other nations it was Germany.

R. J. Woods, Progressive, Dufferin, said it was true there had been a downward revision of the tariff for which they had been looking, but it made very little difference to the load being borne by the working man. It might be called something of a handout and they probably ought to be thankful for small mercies.

Auto No Longer Luxuries.

Automobiles, Mr. Woods thought, had got past the luxury stage; they were now a convenience, if not a necessity. Mr. Woods contrasted the price paid in Detroit ($348) for a Ford car with that paid at Ford, Ont., ($535). The difference was not entirely made up of duty, which was only $121.80, but if an American car was purchased, the amount of the duty went into the government treasury, while if a Canadian car were purchased it went into Henry Ford's pocket.

O. Turgeon, Liberal, Gloucester, said that Mr. Fielding's visit to Washington would probably have a beneficial effect in bringing the people of Canada and the United States closer together.

Turgeon Defends Budget.

Mr. Turgeon said that 2 1-2 per cent reduction might not seem much at first sight, but when it was realized that this reduction applied to all the agricultural implements used by the farmers as well as the articles worn by members of his family, the value of the change was apparent. He complimented the minister on looking after the fishing industry, remarking that this was an occupation which did not receive too much attention from governments.

Mr. Turgeon suggested to the minister of finance the advisability of placing a tax on land values. He declared that charges that the Liberals were not living up to the 1919 convention resolutions failed to take into consideration present day conditions. The minister of finance had made a start in the right direction and, if given time, would probably succeed in progressing far along the lines laid down in 1919.

LANDS BIG FELLOW WITH GUT LEADER

True fisherman's luck attended the fishing trip on the main lake of Mr. and Mrs. A. Craft of Water street, and Miss E. Anderson, yesterday. Miss Anderson, fishing for trout with a small gut leader, hooked a salmon. He was uncomfortably large and she passed the rod over to Mr. Craft in a hurry. The big fellow was game and put up such a fight that he broke a brand new rod and had the ladies wishing he would leave their canoe alone right side up in the water long before he was hauled in by Mr. Craft. He weighed 18 pounds. The party had 13 strikes.

DEMONSTRATE FOWL BREEDS

Poultry Association Members See Points Illustrated; Library Formed

Demonstrations of Black Minorcas and Columbian Plymouth Rocks featured last night's monthly meeting of the West Kootenay Poultry and Pet Stock association, in Labor hall.

A Black Minorca cockerel owned by A. Wallach, was used to show the effect on a bird of appearance at successive shows. This cockerel was still being shown as late as January, and is now in a partial molt in consquence. Mr. Wallach also showed how to fix a guard on a fallen comb.

W. E. Jones of Fairview, illustrated Plymouth Rock type with one of his Columbian Plymouth Rock hens. He showed some rough-shelled eggs and the members advanced various theories to account for them, such as defficiency or excess of lime, too much handling, or malformation of the organs.

It was reported that the library had received a donation of some dozen volumes and about 50 magazines and was housed at the Canada Drug & Book company by the courtesy of Manager F. J. Boles.

Secretary Wallach was instructed to secure more information about egg circles and for this purpose will write to W. H. Fairly of Vancouver, and C. W. Traves of Grand Forks, poultry inspectors, immediately.

In the absence of President S. H. Smythe, A. F. Atkinson occupied the chair.

CONFERENCE IS THE BEST YET

Rev. Mr. Westman Says All Departments of Church Show Growth

Returning last night on the Kettle Valley train from Vancouver, Rev. J. P. Westman, after attending the Methodist conference of British Columbia, reports the most successful conference yet held. The conference lasted eight days and was attended by over 200 delegates. An increased membership of 5000 individuals was reported, missionary givings were largely improved, and the general finances were much advanced. All other reports were of a similarly satisfactory tenor.

Kootenay changes in the stationing were at a minimum. J. Clinton Johnson will in future be associated with Mr. Westman in Nelson and community. In Rossland Rev. W. M. Scott is to be replaced by Rev. H. G. Arnett, and in New Denver Dr. Ralph Steadman replaces Rev. D. W. Scott.

This year's conference precedes the quadrennial general conference, to be held in Toronto, from September 27 next.

OLD OFFICIALS ARE PRESENTED

Bar Gives Address and Pipe to Registrar Bowman; Gold Stick to Stokes

Two presentations to departing Nelson officials with whom the legal fraternity in this city has had the most pleasant relations were made yesterday afternoon in the offices of Hamilton & Wragge, on behalf of the Nelson Bar association. The officials thus recognized were T. M. Bowman, who retires next Wednesday from the post of registrar of the supreme and county courts, through superannuation, and E. S. Stokes, registrar of land titles, who has been transferred to the Kamloops office, a much larger office, and the transfer being in the way of promotion.

C. R. Hamilton, K. C., president of the association, presented Mr. Bowman with an address from the association, and a handsome silver-mounted pipe, bearing the engraved device, "T. M. B., May, 1922," in a happy speech in which he expressed the sense of personal loss felt by the members of the association in this removal of this old public servant.

Mr. Bowman, in accepting the address and pipe, made a brief and appropriate reply.

Text of Address.

The address was as follows:

"To Thomas M. Bowman, registrar of the supreme court, Nelson, B. C.: The Nelson Bar association learns with great regret and much sorrow that our harmonious and pleasant relations are about to be severed by your superannuation and retirement from the important office which you have held for 17 years as an officer of the supreme court of British Columbia.

"The memory of your friendly and unfailing courtesy and readiness to oblige practitioners in expediting their work in your office and in the courts will endure until we are supplanted by a new generation who have not had the good fortune to practice in your time.

"That you may have many years of happiness, health and prosperity is our hope and wish for you.

Mr. Stokes Is Farewelled.

Mr. Hamilton, on behalf of the association, also spoke most happily of the relations between the members of the bar, and Mr. Stokes, both in his official position and in private contact.

He then presented him with a golf stick.

Mr. Stokes accepted the memento with a suitable reply.

SUSPECTS ORE BODY IS LARGE

James Tiyo Locates Promising Viens Dipping Toward Ark Group at Duck Creek

The neighborhood of Duck creek is destined to become an important mining camp, according to James A. Tiyo, the well-known prospector, who recorded the location of his eleventh claim there yesterday, named the Sarah. He brought in with him samples from the Sarah, being surface showings carrying good values in silver, lead and zinc.

The general layout and the dip of three veins on which he has recorded claims leads him to suspect the presence of a large body of ore. Many years ago he staked the Ark group of nine claims, on the central vein which carries good values in grap copper, and is 50 feet with good free walls. A short time ago he staked the Phyllis on a four-foot vein of copper, gold and silver ore to the east, and dipping westward toward the Ark group. The Sarah claim he staked on a 30-foot vein west of and dipping eastward to the Ark group.

The whole property is between two and three miles west of Duck creek, and has been the prospecting grounds of Mr. Tiyo for the last 30 years. Two shafts have been sunk on the Ark group, on the two highest claims, to a distance of 60 and 40 feet, respectively. In each case the values were higher at depth.

KUSKANOOK IS AGAIN AFLOAT

Tugs Hosmer and Ymir Pull Her Off Ways; Resumes Run Next Week

Spick and span in her new outfit of paint, and with a refitted hull, the steamer Kuskanook, which has just been renovated at the shipyards, was launched yesterday morning at about 11 o'clock.

The official launching was to have taken place Thursday afternoon, but owing to the cradles sticking to the ways in such a manner that the jacks used to star her were not sufficient, it was postponed until yesterday, when the tugs Hosmer and Ymir were used to give it the required start down the ways to the water.

The Kuskanook will resume its former run to Kaslo and Lardeau early next week.

The Naval Issue

Under the heading "Decency in Defense," the Montreal Star deals with Canada's naval obligations.

It will be a pity if the battle of the navy has to be fought over again in Canada. No one can desire that the old prewar issues should be revived. Nor, one believes, is there any element in Canada which thinks we should now assume heavy obligations for land or sea defence. But surely we are not ready for complete disarmament nor willing to deny all obligation to defend ourselves or assist in the defense of the common Empire, says the Star.

Many public men in this country are demanding "equal status" in the British Commonwealth and independent representation at international conferences and in the League of Nations. Is this consistent with utter national weakness and dependence upon the British navy or the Monroe Doctrine? The world is still unsettled. The teachings of the pacifists are not accepted at Washington. We would think Great Britain had gone mad if she practically disbanded her army and navy. The Australasian dominions are not convinced that they can wholly neglect their defenses. If we have a huge war debt, so has Great Britain and the other British nations, and in proportion as we reject our fair share of the burden we increase the burden of the rest of the Empire.

It is not conceivable that we would be content to have neither army nor navy if we were an independent country. Who that looks over the world can believe that an undefended British Empire would be secure? Now, then, as a self-respecting people can we take the position that we will not carry the obligation which would fall upon us as an independent country nor that share of the obligation which we should bear as a portion of the British Empire?

We have a right to scale down war expenditures as they have been scaled down in Great Britain and in other countries, continues the Star. But we have no right to break almost absolutely the Imperial unit of defense in the fatuous confidence that we alone among the nations need no defense or in the craven assurance that the other British nations will guarantee our security. No body of politicians should be allowed to shame us out of the honor and glory which, if we are faithful to their memories, will be held for us forever by the silent graves in France and Flanders.

So long as we are an Empire our forces by land and sea should be available for its defense, when they are needed. If we get what we call "equal status" we shall have to take a greater, not a lesser, share in the common obligations of an Imperial Commonwealth, or expose our weakness and littleness to the world. The autonomists, most of all, should insist upon reasonable provision for defense.

Of this parliament may be certain; the people of Canada respect themselves, are determined to remain within the Empire, are not anxious about "equal status," are not willing to take refuge under the Monroe Doctrine, and will call to account any party or combination of parties which singles them out from the other peoples of the Empire and sets them apart as a nation of dependents and shirkers, the Star concludes.

News of Other Worlds

There is nothing more inspiring than when puny man, his eye roving the universe, dares to look undaunted at its wonders and speculate on what goes on in worlds other than his own. From Galileo to Herschel and Flammarion there have been earnest astronomers, little concerned with the poltrior happenings close at hand, who have kept up this lookout in the heavens for the rest of mankind and have, from time to time, given tidings that startled and allured our imaginations.

The most recent of these devoted searchers to report something of great moment is Birkeland, the eminent physicist of Norway. It is in the laboratory, not through the telescope, that he has made his great discovery. It appears to bear out his theory of the universe; it seems to have drawn us a little nearer to the solution of the unfathomed mystery of existence.

Birkeland believes that the universe is a vacuum, and that the planets, constantly besieged by a shower of electrons shot out from the sun, give out their various, puzzling lights when those electrons come in contact with the planetary gases. What is an electron? We only know it is a form of energy, the smallest expressible.

In his laboratory Birkeland has set little metallic balls revolving in a vacuum chamber. He has bombarded them with electrons, and then has introduced a variety of gases. He reproduced the rings of Saturn, the canals of Mars, the Aurora Borealis of the earth. If he has found the gasses that envelop our sister planets, and has proven the universe a vast vacuum dotted with little revolving balls, this is a help to future generations of our scientists. It enables them to calculate what needs to be overcome when man, no longer puny, but the master, shall set his foot in other worlds and wrest its secrets from the universe.

It is a tiny step, perhaps, but it is a step.

Efficient Housekeeping

By Laura A. Kirkman

PLANNING THE INVALID'S MEALS.

Several of my column readers have written to ask me to publish an occasional article on invalid cookery. "There are so many, many sick people around, that I am sure your other readers would appreciate such a series of articles," says one of these letters.

I am only too glad to comply with these requests. For naturally I want to publish what my readers really want to read. I am going to begin today to take up this subject:

In hospitals there are four kinds of diet given patients—fluid diet, soft or semi-solid diet, light or convalescent diet, and "full trays"—that is, ordinary simple meals. When the home woman is called upon to act as nurse to a sick member of her family, she must follow one of these four types of diet. Her doctor decides which one is best suited to the patient, and he should also be consulted in regard to the exact dishes offered. But, in general, the following tables may be used as a guide by the home nurse:

Fluid diet—Broths, clear soups, beef tea and beef juice, eggs in eggnog form or with fruit juices or gruels; milk; cereals gruels; coco; albumin milk; albumin water.

Soft or semi-solid diet: Toast softened with either milk, cream, water or beef juice; custards, whips, junket, gelatines and soft puddings; soft-cooked eggs; well-cooked and strained cereals; coco with egg; sifted apple-sauce; and all the foods in the fluid diet.

Light and convalescent diet—Fruits, fruit juices and cooked fruit; cereal foods, well cooked cereals; rice and macaroni; thinly-cut dry toast; not more than one serving a day of broiled chicken, chop or steak; milk either plain or in eggnogs, in cream soups or in simple desserts (such as custards, ice cream, junket or cooked cereal puddings); butter and thin cream (to provide fats to the system). If vegetables are allowed by the doctor (they are not allowed in some cases—as in acute indigestion, for instance) the suitable ones for this diet are fresh spinach, celery, strained peas and baked potatoes.

All special diets, as diabetic diet and in pneumonia, must be dictated by the physician for each individual case.

Now that I have outlined the three kinds of diet ordinarily used in illness, I shall, from week to week, publish recipes for the various dishes contained in these three diets. Today I have only space to give two such recipes:

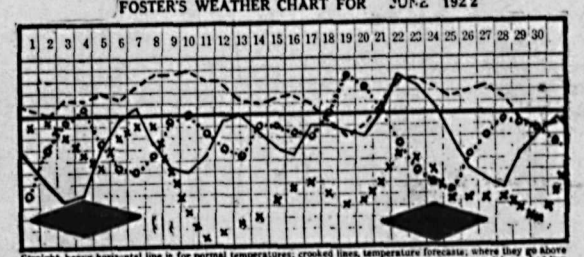
Albumin water—Put into a clean glass jar one-half cup of cold water and the uncooked white of one egg; shake the jar until the contents are well mixed (about three minutes), then add a few grains of salt and serve. Often a few drops of lemon juice are added for fever patients.

Milk albumin is made by simply using one-half cup of sweet milk instead of the water called for in the above recipe.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Foster's Weekly Weather Bulletin

FOSTER'S WEATHER CHART FOR JUNE 1922



Straight, heavy horizontal line is for normal temperatures; crooked lines, temperature forecasts; where they go above normal line means warmer, below means cooler; diamonds are for severe storms and rain increase; solid, crooked line for all north of latitude 36 between meridian 80 and Rockies crest; broken line for south of 36, between meridian 90 and Rockies crest, also Louisiana and Mississippi; X line, east of meridian 90, north of 36; O . . . line, north of 36 and west of Rockies crest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 27.—Severe storms are expected on the continent during the week centering on June 4. For their locations see divisions. These severe storms will bring an increase of rain where rain has been predicted and following will occur the northern frosts that are expected during the week centering on June 10. These storms will be unusually severe and I advise to be on the outlook for tornadoes. Some destructive hail storms are expected. But it is quite difficult to locate hail, tornadoes and thunder storms. These all come from the same causes exactly. Tornadoes are of electro-magnetic origin, hence lightning and thunder. Hail comes from tornadoes that are so high that it freezes into small round earth and they throw the moisture s high hat it freezes into small round ice balls, gathering and freezing more moisture as they fall, therefore the rough forms of hail. When the hail does not fall through a cloud, the hail stones are smooth and round. Crops should be insured for the first 10 days of June. The storms of first week in June impress me to again warn you of their danger.

NORTHWEST—North of 36, between 90 and Rockies' crest. Cool wave will cover that division on June 4 and as that is the central date of the severe storms you may expect a cold wave and killing frosts. Hail is expected June 1 and 2 and probably near 8. Warm wave will cover that division near 6 or 7, most rain near 2 and 8. Hail will cover an exceedingly small part of the division and the crop weather will average good. Least rain will occur in small sections that have high ridges south or southeast of them; too much rain where the high ridges are north or northwest.

SOUTHWEST—South of 36, between 90 and Rockies' crest. Monotonous weather. No great changes in temperatures. Some danger of hot winds; not much danger of hail. Otherwise fair crop weather. Temperature averages higher than usual. All for the week centering on June 4. Probabilities favor a tropical storm in the Gulf of Mexico during the week centering on May 11. It will not be of much force for several days but will reach its greatest intensity near June 3. These tropical storms very often cause very cool weather in division Northwest and heavy rains within 500 miles of New Orleans.

NORTHEAST—East of 90, north of 36. Temperatures below normal during week centering on June 5; only a little higher for week centering on June 8. Severe storms near 5, great fall in temperatures from 5 to 11. Good crop weather during first 10 days of month. Frosts north of lakes near June 11.

PACIFIC SLOPE—North of 36, west of Rockies' crest. Variations in temperature fluctuations much the same as for Northwest except about two days earlier. Styles BY LENORE

When, on Fifth avenue, the windows that appear to attract the most attention are those which feature original French gowns or copies of French gowns, what is the enthusiast for "American fashions for American women" to say?

Of course it is well known to all who are acquainted with fashion conditions, that now more even than before the war the manufacturers and costumers of any note in America have followed the paths laid out by the French couturiers—yet not so slavishly as before, as these same French designers know, for many of their models are altered in accordance with American wishes even before they leave Paris.

Then, too, so many of the French models are used in American establishments only as a basis for adaptation. The model illustrated today, for example, is a simplified version for popular priced shops in America. It is made of navy blue crepe de chine, and fastened with mother-of-pearl ornaments from which red silk tassels are suspended.

Adaptation is not originating, of course. Still, there is hope, for already there are various agencies at work, particularly in Chicago and New York, whose efforts for American-made fashions are well directed and are certain to meet with eventual success.

The Perfect Milk

Almost anyone can start a milk canning factory and evaporate milk. It takes, in the first place, the very finest of fresh milk, such as come from the Ladner and Abbotsford districts, and then the process by which it is reduced to the consistency of thick, sweet cream can not determine its flavor. Through an improved method Pacific Milk retains the natural richness and freshness of flavor of good sweet cream.

SALMO MAKES MERRY UPON MEMORABLE VICTORIA DAY

SALMO, May 26.—Everything proving in favor the Victoria day celebrations at Salmo proved a great success and were attended by a large number of people from outside points, motor cars bearing pennants of Trail, Spokane, California, Nelson and Ymir were noticed about the street. Besides there were numerous visitors who came by train from other points.

The day's program opened at 10:30 a. m. with children's sports, which were in charge of Harry Houston, Harry McArthur and Mesdames R. Sooman and C. A. Cawley. Two clowns, impersonated by Fred Payant and William MacLaughlin provided joyful entertainment for the youngsters.

Cadets Perform.

In the early afternoon the Salmo Cadets gave a clever and well preformed series of pyramids and this was followed by a baseball game between the Salmo Ladies' team and the Cadets in which the Cadets defeated the ladies by a score of 18 to 11. After the game a senior men's game took place between Salmo and Boulder.

Salmo Players Entertain.

In the evening the Salmo Players staged a strong and interesting bill of plays with special scenery and electrical effects. Opening the concert was a little college comedy "Converting Bruce," in which Archie A. Gray, Rene J. Bray and the Misses Myrtle McCaslin and Nora Keatley won their way into the hearts of their audience.

Then came a clever farcial take-off on the modern idea of living beyond one's means, entitled "Bills." Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Turner and M. C. Donaldson taking the parts of husband and wife and the lawyer with great credit.

Stage a Tragedy.

After the intermission, "Shadows," a one-act morality-tragedy of a French peasant life was staged with realistic scenery and costumes. The different roles of this play were ably filled by Rene J. Bray as the thief, Archie A. Gray as the priest, William McLaughlin as the policeman, Myrtle McCaslin as the housekeeper, and Nora Keatley as the little maid.

Present Pantomine.

For the last item, "Manila Way," a musical pantomine was given, reflecting a great amount of work and thought on the part of the actors. Mrs. Vachon as Milda, Mrs. Turner as Signora, Miss Nora Keatley as Lala, Miss Myrtle McCaslin as the hag, and W. J. Turner as Jack, William McLaughlin as the guard, M. C. Donaldson as the King of the Gypsies, and Rene J. Bray as the Signor.

Songs Between Acts.

During the acts Mrs. C. F. Troyer sang beautifully two delightful songs, both being heavily encored, while Mrs. Hanson accompanied throughout the entire preformance.

After the concert a dance was given by a five-piece orchestra, under the able directorship of Ruben McCandlish.

Willing Assistant.

On the Ladies' and Cadets ball teams were the following: Ladies—Mrs. R. Sooman, Mrs. B. Feeney, Mrs. S. Grutchfield, Miss G. Bailey, Mrs. R. McCandlish, Miss M. Bell, Miss P. McCaslin, Mrs. Isnor and Miss M. Bustin with D. Wilde and C. Warner as catcher and pitcher.

On the Cadet team were, H. Payant, L. Turner, J. Fair, H. Grutchfield, H. McArthur, M. Turner, W. Jones, R. Reeves, R. Sapples and A. Buster. W. McLaughlin acted as umpire.

The prize winners in the children's events were:

Girls' race, 6 and under—First, Stella Adams; second, L. Milburn.

Boys' race, 6 and under—First, Aubrey Burgess; second, Alfred Cowley.

Girls' race, 8 to 10—First, Margret Brenner; second, Margret Rankin, Ymir.

Boys' race, 8 to 10—First, Byron Burtin; second, Mason Isnor.

Boys' race, 10 to 12—First, Harry McArthur; second Arthur Bustin.

Girls' race, 12 to 14—First, Ida Payant; second, Hazel Gill, Ymir.

Boys' race, 12 to 14—First, W. Shrum; second, Tom Boswell.

Boys' race, 14 to 16—First, Jim Fair; second, Henry Payant.

Social Happenings In Nelson

MRS. M. J. VIGNEUX has been appointed Social Editor of The Daily News and will conduct this department. All news of a social nature, including receptions, private entertainments, personal items, marriages, etc., will appear in this column. Telephone Mrs. Vigneux.

Favored with warm balmy breezes luxuriantly toning the air the Nelson club's valediction dance at the old club rooms was an indoor and outdoor affair of singular charm. While the brilliant room was cleared for action as the main scene of revelries, the beautiful lawn attracted many to pursue terpischorean delights on the green sward and the whole function reflected redounding credit to the good taste and entertaining qualities of the generous hosts.

Flags were the main decorating scheme, but electric aid supplemented floral attractions cunningly contrived.

Dancing was kept up to a late hour and exquisite music and daintily tasty refreshments beguiled away a lively evening most happily. Gordon Keatley rendered two appropriate songs during the evening.

Following are the invited guests: Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Cunliffe, T. R. Wilson, Miss Ruth Armstrong, Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Smyth, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Speedy and Peppy.

Speed and pep proved to be the middle names of the players who slugged the ball at Salmo on the 24th when the Salmo and Boulder teams clashed in a snappy game for the laurels of victory. The Goddess of luck, however, turned on the shine eye against the Boulder boys and even though they played with great credit the battle was won by the Salmoites by a margin of 6-3.

The line-up was,

Houston's remarkable slugging ability was a great aid to the Salmo's success ,as well as his excellent catching perfromance.

Wilde made two beautiful catches being worthy of much comment.

Cawley made a nice out when McGill tried to slide in on second.

C. Warner stopped a bad fly by a hard run.

A nice foul was caught by third.

In all, the Salmo players were very alert.

Boulder—C. McIssac, catcher; Mcachern, pitcher; A. McIsaac, first base; C. Spencer, second base; Curwin, third base; McGill, shortstop; Sappies, left field; Sisco, right field; L. Bell, center field.

A. McIsaac is there when it comes to playing first. McGill topped the Boulder team off by proving a good shortstop and a wicked wing when putting them to first. Grodon McEachern sprung something new with that southpaw dope of his. Boulder had a strong line-up and put up a good fight.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N. S., harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked my nerves. She writes as follows: "I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells that I would be under the doctor's care.

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our

as the best remedy to tone up the entire nervous system and strengthen the weakened organs. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the original heart and nerve food, having been on the market for the past 27 years. Price, 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Trail Daughters Will Paint the War Trophy

Trail Branch.

It was stated at our late meeting that the I. O. D. E. had under consideration the painting and cleaning up of the 77-millimeter gun, the city's war trophy, which has been standing unsheltered since its dedication in November, 1920. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the chapter for its offer.

Another pleasing report was from the vets' football team, which has played three games in the city league this season, winning them all, scoring 11 goals to their opponents' nil. A large percentage of the team were chosen to represent Trail in the West Kootenay cup game against our near and dear neighbors from the Silver city.

Comrade Robert Gordon reported on the last joint meeting of the various war memorial committees. Another meeting has been arranged, when it is expected the public will then be informed of the steps suggested by the bodies interested who have been working quietly, but nevertheless effectively, for that purpose during the past two months. Regret was expressed that Dr. J. B. Thom had resigned from the war memorial committee. Steps are being taken to have him reconsider.

Williams Delegate.

Nominations for delegate to the provincial convention were held, Comrades H. J. E. Williams, H. Collins and G. F. Reimann acting as scrutineers. President W. J. Williams headed the poll by an overwhelming majority.

A committee was appointed, consisting of Comrades G. F. Reimann, H. Collins, E. Johnstone, T. M. Cairns and T. Ellison, to raffle an eight-day clock at a smoker to be held in the vets' hall on June 10. The smoker committee is headed by Comrades H. J. E. Williams and T. E. Needham, who have already commenced preparations for a good program.

Comrade A. R. Jackson, who has just returned from spending his honeymoon in the eastern provinces, was heartily welcomed back to the fold.

Word was received from one of our old comrades, W. Attwood, who is now resident in Gulf, Matagorda county, Texas, who keeps up his knowledge of local veterans' doings by the papers.

Fernie Has Impressive Empire Day Exercises

Fernie Branch.

On the afternoon of Empire day the meaning of the flag was emphasized before 1000 school children, and the general public of Fernie, in connection with the annual Empire day parade. Comrade H. A. Bryant, ex-president of our branch, in uniform as battalion sergeant-major, delivered a vibrant address upon the flag, the exercises being under the direction of the school board. Sherwood Herchmer, chairman of the board, followed, and Mrs. J. Wallace, on behalf of the I. O. D. E., delivered the last address. The function closed with a very creditable exhibition of fire drill by the children.

Medals Arrive for Members at Fernie

Fernie Branch.

Secretary D. F. Markland of the Fernie branch has received the following medals for men not now in Fernie, addressed to this branch: 77,184, Private Victor J. Tompkins, 1914 star and medals; 506,023, Sergeant Oley Hopstad, 1914 star and medals; 931,019, Private Dan Semanow, medals; 808,725, Private Lloyd Cecil Rathwell, medals; 414,543, Private Dan McDonald, medals; 412,208, Corporal E. E. Childs, medals.

The following is the text of the illuminated address recently presented to Rev. Hamilton Brown by the officers and members of this branch, on his retirement from the office of chaplain, preparatory to his departure from Fernie:

"Greetings and farewell from the Fernie branch, Great War Veterans' association, to Capt. the Rev. Hamilton Brown:

"Whereas, We, the members of the Fernie branch, Great War Veterans' association, wish to convey our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the service rendered to the community and to us, by the Rev. H. Brown, chaplain of the Fernie branch, G. W. V. A.

"R. Billsborough, commander; T. Uphill, M. P. P., first vice commander; F. Yearsby, second vice commander; D. F. Markland, secretary-treasurer; executive, Hezekiah A. Bryant, George Bowen, Enoch Baddeley, Thomas Hardy, George Townsend, Thomas Haigh, Frank Nee, Thomas Smith, John Rigg, William Orr and 169 members."

The evening of May 24 passed off in a jovial manner. The members of this branch assembled for a convivial evening at 8:30. Songs, recitations and reminiscences were freely indulged in. Comrade Tom Uphill, first vice commander, fulfilled the duties of chairman in his own inimitable way. Refreshments were dispensed by a capable staff of stewards. The hour of midnight heralded "lights out," thus closing another pleasant page in the annals of this branch.

Our fourth annual dance, held under the auspices of this branch, was held on Tuesday evening in Victoria hall, a very large attendance being recorded. The music was supplied by Comrade F. C. Bass' orchestra, dancing continuing to an early hour.

Memorial Cross Now for Every Death by Service

The memorial cross, which heretofore has been available only to the wives and mothers of soldiers whose deaths resulted from active service prior to November 11, 1920, will now be issued in respect of any man who dies as the result of active service, regardless of the date of death. A militia order has just been issued to this effect, as the result of representations from the Ontario provincial command, G. W. V. A., strongly supported by Capt. H. A. Chadwick of the records branch, department of national defense.

The issue of the memorial cross in the first instance was prompted by the desire of the nation to provide some tangible recognition of the sacrifice of mothers who gave their sons in the defense of the nation. It was also made available to the wives of married deceased soldiers, but the issue was contingent upon death having occurred within two years of the signing of the armistice. The new regulation makes provision for the issue of the cross to those eligible on account of deaths which have occurred prior to or after discharge, both the wife and the mother are eligible to receive the memorial cross. G. W. V. A. branches will in future, as in the past, provide every assistance necessary, in this and other respects, to the relatives of deceased soldiers.

Colonel Pollen Meets the Nelson Membership

Nelson Branch.

While Lieut.-Col. C. Hungerford Pollen was in Nelson over the last week-end for the purpose of depositing the colors of the 54th Kootenay battalion in St. Saviour's church, the Nelson branch had the pleasure of entertaining him at its Saturday night whist drive. The colonel made a brief speech to the assembled company, after the refreshment period, and later talked over the situation regarding the armory with members of the executive, and other members of the branch. He stated he had recommended most heartily granting the Nelson G. W. V. A. the use of the armory as a home, but that the department did not see its way clear to grant the request, in view of the probable early formation of a militia unit. He intimated that he was in thorough sympathy with the G. W. V. A. in its desires, and that if there was any way of getting around the objections of the department so as to make the building of service to the G. W. V. A., he would gladly give his services toward that end.

The colonel, during his visit at the Dugout, met many old 54th men and swapped reminiscences as to the early days of the battalion.

Fifty-fourth Men in East Kootenay to Dine

Maj. H. B. Hicks of Cranbrook and G. G. Moffatt of Fernie are the prime movers in arrangements that are being made to hold a reunion dinner of the former members of the 54th Kootenay battalion in the East Kootenay. The first of these dinners, which it is proposed shall be at least annual affairs, is to be held at Cranbrook on June 10.

BEAVERS AGAIN BEAT ESKIMOS

Masterly Pitching Holds Edmonton to Five Hits and Solitary Run

EDMONTON, May 26.—Vancouver took its second game of the series here tonight, 7 to 1, Eley for the Beavers pitching masterly ball, holding the home club to five scattered hits while his team mates bunched hits in the third and fourth off Hagermann. Edmonton's one run was the result of a four-base clout by Barnabe in the first inning. The weather was cold and the diamond mucky as the result of heavy rain the previous night.

CALGARY, May 26.—The Bronks received a setback tonight when they lost to Tacoma, 6-7, in a game that was thrilling right up until the last man was retired. Robcke went the route for the visitors, but the Bronks had two on in the ninth when Rose grounded out to end the rally. Paton's hitting, with a triple, double and two singles, the triple coming with three on in the sixth, featured for Tacoma. The deciding run was scored when Kerr threw low to the plate when Snyder and Paton were trying for a double steal.

"The variety," said Mr. Lieu, referring to the flapper, "differs very slightly from her white cousin."

ECZEMA

ON FACE AND HEAD FOR FIVE YEARS

Eczema or salt rheum, as it is so often called, manifests itself in little round pimples which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust or scale is formed and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to strong heat, it almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed.

There is only one way to get relief and no remedy like

Take it internally and it gets at the seat of the disease in the blood and drives it out of the system.

Apply it externally and it takes out the itching, stinging and burning, and promotes healthy healing.

Mr. J. Sage, 215 Princess avenue, Vancouver, B. C., writes: "Having suffered with eczema on the face and head, for the last five years, I consulted several doctors, tried various kinds of salves and lotions, but I derived no benefit from any of them. I did not know what to do until a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used two bottles I began to get better and now after taking eight bottles I have not even a blotch on me. I feel that I cannot praise B. B. B. too highly. I hope you will make full use of this recommendation for the benefit of those who are suffering from this terrible complaint, eczema."

DUNLOP CORD TIRES FABRIC

Making "Mile-ionaires"

These are great days for the motor car user—in a tire sense. Your dollar never before bought as much. Your speedometer never before registered as much. Your repair kit never was as idle. All because Dunlop Cord Tires came and ushered in a new era. Five years ago you paid half as much again for the same size tire; ten years ago you paid twice as much. Prices have been tumbling. Quality has been mounting. One time we thought 3,500 was mileage to boast of; to-day we may run into half a dozen "25,000 Milers" in a forenoon. "Dunlop did it," says one enthusiast. The "'Two Hands' are making us Mile-ionaires," says another, and so on.

The Sign "Mileage Wanted" is now changed to "Mileage Supplied"—use Dunlop Cords.

THE TORTURE OF INDIGESTION

Thousands Made Miserable By This Trouble

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Relieves It

What is Indigestion and what causes it? As you know, solid food must be changed into a liquid by the stomach before it can be taken up as nourishment by the blood.

The stomach acts as a churn. It is covered by a strong, muscular coat and lined with a soft, delicate membrane which secretes the Gastric Juice which digests or dissolves solid food.

When food enters the stomach, the muscular coat squeezes and presses the food from end to end, or churns it, with the gastric juice to dissolve or digest it.

But—if the stomach muscles are weak—or if the dissolving fluid is poor or insufficient—then food cannot be digested properly and you have Indigestion.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the most wonderful medicine in the world for strengthening the stomach muscles and providing an abundance of pure, full-strength dissolving fluid to completely digest every meal. "FRUIT-A-TIVES" does this because it keeps the kidneys active, the bowels regular and the blood pure, which insures pure Gastric Juice.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" will correct your Indigestion or Dyspepsia and enable you to enjoy every meal. Try it.

FOREIGN TRADE IS ESSENTIAL TO UNITED STATES WELFARE

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Foreign trade is essential to the United States if American people are to maintain their present high standard of living, James S. Alexander, president of the National Bank of Commerce in New York, told delegates to the ninth national foreign trade convention at its afternoon session today.

"We have established on this continent an economic society that has given to the average laboring man a higher standard of living than his fellow laborer enjoys in almost any other part of the world," he said. "The existence of that standard constitutes one of the greatest achievements of American democracy.

"This standard, however, has been conditioned upon the maintenance of the productivity of the laborer and this productivity in turn has been conditioned upon the continued enlargement of the supply of highly productive land as fast as population grew.

Yields Must Diminish.

"While there still undoubtedly exists a considerable amount of land which may be cultivated more profitably than land which is cultivated in some other parts of the world, yet we must recognize the fact that we have reached the point where upon the new land the operation of the law of diminishing returns in agriculture will cause a smaller and smaller yield of foodstuffs per unit of labor than has resulted in the immediate past. It is true that invention and improved methods of farming have tended to postpone to some extent the early working of the law of diminishing returns, but the evidence of the last few years points clearly to the fact that we are now utilizing less fertile land at a greater per unit cost of production than was the case in former years.

"If we are to maintain our standard of living under a condition of diminishing returns in raw production we must offset such increased cost by devoting a larger and larger proportion of effort to those lines of industry that yield increasing returns per unit, namely, to manufacturing. That we are doing this to some extent is evidenced by the census figures for manufacture. It should be borne in mind, however, that this process of offsetting diminishing returns in agriculture by increasing returns in manufacture involves an ever-expanding market for our manufactures and that such an expansion points unmistakably and inevitably to the extension of our foreign trade.

Must Expand Foreign Trade.

"From the most important point of view that a nation can take, therefore, namely, that of the standard of living of the masses of the people, we must have foreign trade to an ever-increasing extent."

Mr. Alexander argued against the belief that domestic trade alone can assure the prosperity of the United States. He declared that domestic trade is in fact dependent on progress in the international field, since this gives an outlet for surplus production and for industries overexpanded by the war, and thus prevents price demoralization. Although America's foreign trade is only 10 or 15 per cent of its total commerce, he pointed out that its importance can not be measured by this ratio, saying that many of the most important things in financial and business life hang upon percentages of less than 10 or 15 per cent and the average reduction from normal business during the entire period of a depression may be under 15 per cent. A change in foreign trade representing only 5 per cent of total commerce may mean a 20 to 40 per cent loss to some of our important industries. In conclusion he said:

Interwoven With Others

"The welfare of other nations is so closely interwoven with that of the United States that if the question of our foreign trade is to be interpreted with any degree of breadth whatever, it should be considered in the light of the trade of these other nations. There can be no final recovery of the domestic trade in any nation until the normal international trade relations which alone support the great international division of labor can be reestablished.

"This conception of the real nature of both domestic and international trade in modern industrial society should prevent us from reverting to the foolishly selfish mercantile doctrines of the eighteenth century. We should strive to obtain all of the trade of the world that in a fair field with free competition we may gain through our own efficiency. I have no sympathy, however, with those who would wish America to grab more than her proportionate share of the world trade.

"While the first fruits of such a policy might seem to suggest that we were the gainers in an economic sense, it is impossible for us to maintain such trade unless we are fitted to hold it in an open field. Moreover, to the extent that we should attempt to obtain a disproportionate share and to hold it, to that extent would we prevent the most efficient working of the great world machine and to that extent must our actions finally redound to our own injury as well as to that of other peoples.

"In the last analysis, therefore, I should rather view this question in its broadest aspect, and answer the question as to why we should have international trade by recognizing why the world must have international trade."

TRADE SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Orders Steadily Increase; Business Revives With Better Weather

WINNIPEG, May 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—"Trade gradually improving," "steady improvement," and "slow but sure," figure in business reports received by the Canadian Credit Men's Trust association, according to their weekly trade report issued today.

Montreal, Toronto, Quebec and the east generally show a general improvement in wholesale and manufacturing circles.

Retail trade is also reported to be much better with improved summer-like weather. Collections still poor, but expected to improve.

Winnipeg and Manitoba wholesalers report a steady increase in orders, somewhat delayed by earlier wet weather and floods in central Manitoba. Splendid weather is now being experienced and business seems to be reviving all around. Retail trade is better, merchants say. Collections still slow.

In Regina and Saskatoon, and throughout Saskatchewan, wholesalers find an improvement, while retailers find business better than at this time last year. Collections have improved and new goods are being paid for to a greater extent than in the past.

Vancouver, Victoria and other parts of British Columbia indicate a general expectation that the summer will prove satisfactory for manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, reports coming in being most optimistic.

WORLD SHORTAGE IN TEA RESULTS IN HIGHER PRICES

During 1919 and 1920 the greatly increased production and unlimited shipping facilities resulted in enormous quantities of tea reaching every market of the world. A consequent drop in price was the result. To stabilize the situation, the tea growers of Ceylon and India agreed to curtail production 20 per cent in 1921. Since that time the demand has been constantly increasing and the price rising. The recent reduction of duty on tea entering England has further increased the demand, and the price is expected to rise accordingly.

The Tire the Doctor can Depend on -

The Doctor is often a link in the chain of life. If the Doctor fails to arrive in time on a critical case, his failure is a broken link. Lives depend upon the Doctor, and the Doctor depends upon his automobile, and his automobile depends on its tires. If the tires fail, the doctor fails, the link breaks and a life is lost. See how directly then the lives of men may hang on having the best, most substantial and most reliable tires. The Tires Doctors are learning to trust for a life and death run are "Gutta Percha" Tires.

PRICE: Who would risk a delay at a critical moment to save a few dollars on the price of a Tire? Wise doctors know that standard make Tires are the only reliable ones and that "Gutta Percha" Tires have saved a life many a time.

UNITED STATES STEEL STRONG

Junior Rails Lead Transportation List Upward; Oils Higher

NEW YORK, May 26.—Recent conflicting and uncertain movements in the stock market were resumed today.

Further lack of public interest was manifested in steels, equipments, coppers and kindred issues, but strength of United States Steel was associated with the address of E. H. Gary before the members of the American Iron & Steel institute.

Secondary or low priced rails again led the transportation list to materially higher levels.

Oils made substantial headway on the higher prices quoted for the crude product, Mexican and Pan American Petroleum scoring the largest advances with California Petroleum, but these issues were among the first to give way under realizing sales.

Other individual features of strength included Studebaker, Baldwin, Untied Retail Stores, Tobacco Products and numerous unclassified shares. Foremost among these was Coco Cola which retained the better part of its extreme gain of 3⅝ points.

Sales amounted to 1,250,000 shares.

Call money opened and renewed into next week at 3½ per cent, rising to 4 per cent at mid-day and 4 per cent in the last hour.

Demand sterling reacted to $4.44½, but rallied a fraction, and all the continental remittances eased slightly.

Vancouver Business Woman Says She Tells Everybody How Tanlac Restored Her to the Most Perfect Health

"I never dreamed a medicine could do so much for anyone in so short a time," is the statement of Mrs. Florence Swires, 4088 Hastings St., East, Vancouver, B. C.

"About a year ago my stomach commenced giving me trouble and after this I had an operation, and I never could seem to regain my strength. What little I ate soured on my stomach and bloated me until my heart palpitated frightfully. Then I began having rheumatic pains in my left side and hip, and became so nervous I could not sleep.

"I'm certainly glad I took Tanlac. It helped me from the start, and I am in the best of health now. Tanlac gets the credit and I never fail to tell everybody about it."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

BABE RUTH IS HUMBLED

Display of Bad Temper Costs Swat King $200 and Loss of Captaincy

CHICAGO, May 26.—Babe Ruth was fined $200 and removed from the captaincy of the New York Americans by Jan Johnson, president of the American league this afternoon. President Johnson gave his ruling after considering the reports of the umpires officiating in yesterday's game at New York between New York and Washington, when Ruth disputed a decision of Umpire Hildebrand and later climbed into the stands after a fan who made a remark to which he took exception. President Johnson's finding automatically removes the rule that Ruth was ineligible to play, which was promulgated by the American league head pending the investigation.

CHICAGO, May 26.—Chicago defeated St. Louis, 2 to 1, today in a pitchers' duel between Schupp and Bayne. Schupp, although wild, pitched well in the pinches, striking out the hard hitting Williams twice. Schupp drove in the winning run with a single in the seventh.

RUTH SHOWS BAD TEMPER

Throws Dust in Umpire's Face; Ordered Off the Ground

NEW YORK, May 25.—Babe Ruth is in hot water again. Just what the temperature of the water is, was a question burning the thoughts tonight of 15,000 fans who saw him throw diamond dust in an umpire's face. After laying down a neat bunt in his first time at bat and advancing the two runners who subsequently scored, Ruth came up in the third and bumped a safe one into center. The babe rounded first and kept going. He made a great slide for second, but Umpire Hildebrand ruled that Rice's throw had reached second in time to tag the big fellow for an out.

Ruth protested vehemently and then gathered a handful of dust and threw it in the umpire's face. Hildebrand wiped his eyes with one hand and waved Ruth to the showers with the other.

Another annoying insect of summer is the one who brags about his daily cold bath.

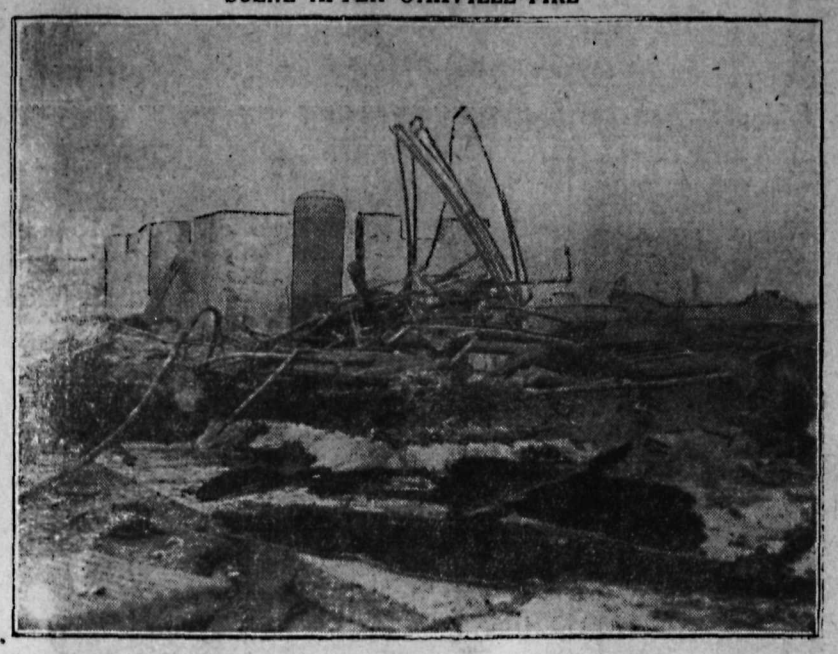
MOUNTAIN CHIEF SHIPS THREE CARS

A shipment of three cars of ore, 150 tons, has just been made from the Mountain Chief mine, at Renata, according to M. McDaniels the manager, who was in the city yesterday. This is the first shipments this season from this mine.

Everything is looking remarkably well at the mine, according to Mr. McDaniels. At a point 42 feet in on the croscut a quartz dyke was struck, but after running through this ore was encountered alongside the dyke.

"All the company needs to become presperous," said Mr. McDaniels, "is an advance in copper. As it is, we have been exceedingly fortunate in finding good ore bodies which gave splendid returns."

SCENE AFTER OAKVILLE FIRE



The picture snows the ruins left by the fire which demolished the stables, riding schools and garage on H. C. Cox's farm at Oakville, Ontario, Wednesday last. Sir Adam Beck's string of horses were lost and a number of Mr. Wilson's horses were destroyed in the fire. The metal to the left of the picture is the remains of what was formerly an up-to-date fire equipment, which was not of service, however, the fire having made too great headway by the time the firemen arrived.
