LORDS AMEND IRISH FREE STATE BILL

Not Likely to Involve Fate of Ministry; Anticipate Rejection of Amendment

DE VALERA COLLECTS IMPLACABLE ELEMENTS

Birkenhead Describes Former Leader as Beaten Man; Boundary Solution Defeats

LONDON, March 22.—The defeat of the government by two votes in the house of lords this evening by the adoption of an amendment to the Irish Free State bill to guarantee pensions to Irish civil servants, is not likely to involve the fate of the ministry at the present stage. The bill passed the committee stage in the upper house. The third reading of it has been fixed for tommorw.

The amendment will be rejected by the house of commons and when the bill is returned to the house of lords, the rejection will probably be accepted in accordance with the statement of Lord Lansdowne in the upper house on Tuesday that if it became a choice between the lords' proposed amendments and the measure itself, he would favor dropping the amendments when the bill came back from the commons. Apart from this defeat, tonight's debate in the upper chamber was uneventful. Lord Carson withdrew his amendmeat making the privy council the final appeal in the event of any disputed decision by the boundary commission, after brief debate.

A prolonged discussion of the boundary question followed in which critics of the treaty provisions disclaimed any desire to wreck the treaty.

Londonderry Does Not Insist

The Marquis of Londonderry in proposing an amendment connected with the boundary commission, admitted that if the amendment was rejected by the house of commons he would not insist on his. His amendment was later rejected by a majority of fifty.

In the course of his observations in the boundary question, Viscount Birkenhead, the lord chancellor, said he had in mind a chairman of the boundary commission who would secure the confidence of every section of the house. Two minor amendments were accepted by Viscount Birkenhead on the understanding that they should be further considered by the house of commons. The amendment of the Free State bill which would guaranteed pensions to Irish civil servants, was then moved by the Earl of Dunraven and adopted.

Border Situation Only Menace

Other amendments either were defeated or withdrawn. There were many references during the course of the debate to the disturbed conditions on the border between north and south Ireland. Viscount Birkenhead admitted that this feature of the situation was the only menace to the translation of the treaty into successful practice. He again urged Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, to meet representatives of southern Ireland in order to arrive at some agreement Viscount Birkenhead said it might be possible to form some sort of zone between the contending parties, to be occupied by British troops pending final settlement of the boundary dispute.

Viscount Birkenhead expressed the opinion that Eamonn de Valera was a beaten man. He said De Valera had collected around him all that were implacable in Ireland, but if only trouble over the boundary could be avoided, De Valera would be defeated. De valera's latest utterances, Viscount Birkenhead added, were the ravings of a man who knew himself to be defeated.

BELIEVE ROBBERY MOTIVE OF CRIME

Edmonton Man Found Dead in Gravel Pit Near Seattle; Hatchet Wounds

SEATTLE, March 22.—Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the slaying of Daniel A. MacDonald, 40, formerly of Edmonton, Alta., whose body was found in a gravel pit near Seattle today.

Thirteen wounds had been inflicted on MacDonald's head, probably with a hatchet, according to officers. a gold watch and chain and 80 cents were found in an overcoat pocket. Two transfer checks found in the pocket led to the finding of a trunk and to identification of the body.

MacDonald held membership cards issued by the Canadian subdivision of the Maintenance of Way railroad unions and United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Papers found in the trunk indicated he owned considerable property.

LONDON, March 22.—The Rome correspondent of the London Times says he has learned from the best possible source that Nikolai Lenine, the Russian Bolshevik leader, will not go to Genoa to attend the economic conference.

WINS NELSON SEAT

KENNETH CAMPBELL

Liberal victor in the Nelson byelection on the slogan "Build the Ymir Road."

NELSON OVERWH ELMINGLY VOTES FOR THE YMIR ROAD

Kenneth Campbell, First Liberal Elected by Nelson for Thirteen Years, Swamps Polls; Mayor McHardy, Defeated by Two to One, Congratulates Victor and Is Cheered by Impartial Crowd; Sloan Promises Immediate Construction; Mr. Bowser Says Victory Not Endorsement of Government

BYELECTION VOTE.

	Eagle Hall.	Fairview	Total
Campbell, Lib.	851	202	1,053
McHardy, Con.	417	77	494
Campbell's majority			559

By a sweeping vote of more than two to one, Kenneth Campbell, the standard bearer of the Oliver government, was elected to represent the riding of Nelson in the provincial legislature for the unexpired term of Dr. W. O. Rose, over Mayor C. F. McHardy, Conservative, who lost his deposit, in the by-election held yesterday. The vote was 1053 to 494, and Mr. Campbell carried every one of the 11 polls.

This action on the part of a normally Conservative riding is interpreted as a vote for the Ymir road, many Conservatives having openly supported the government candidate on the ground that the return of a Liberal would secure this long-desired highway.

Dr. Rose, who resigned his seat in the house last November, to contest the federal constituency of West Kootenay in the recent Dominion election, represented the riding from the general election of 1916. Mr. Campbell is the first Liberal to sit for Nelson since Dr. G. A. B. Hall, whose term expired with the dissolution of November, 1909.

McHardy Congratulates

As soon as the results were known, Mayor McHardy, the Conservative candidate, went to the Conservative committee rooms in the Gilker block, and made a brief speech, thanking those who had made the uphill fight with him, and then went to the Liberal committee rooms in the Maglio block, entering with Mr. Campbell, whom he met on the stairs.

The joint entry of the successful and defeated candidates was received with rousing applause from the big crowd of all political faiths that had assembled in anticipation of something doing, and as Mayor McHardy stepped forward and shook hands with Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines, further approval was voiced.

"Men, I've got trimmed, and trimmed properly," said the mayor in answer to calls for a speech, "but I am taking it smiling. A man has never lost the fight until he has lost his spirit, and my spirit is as good as ever. My purpose in coming here is to congratulate Mr. Campbell, whom you have elected, and to wish him every success in the efforts he may make on Nelson's behalf. For my own part I will keep on fighting for Nelson just the same."

Three rousing cheers were then given for Mr. Campbell, and three cheers for Mayor McHardy followed.

A speech from Mr. Campbell was then in order, and was vociferously called for.

Campbell Speaks

The successful candidate expressed his appreciation of the confidence in him that the voters had expressed at the polls. He attributed it to confidence in the government, and to the hard work of his committees, whom he thanked. As the representative of Nelson he would work for the prosperity of the district, the province, and the Dominion, and would try never to betray the trust reposed in him.

His remarks were received with renewed applause.

Sloan Promises

Hon. William Sloan, who spoke before the candidates entered, declared the answer of the electors of Nelson was emphatic. It was a vindication of the policy of the government. He believed that Kenneth Campbell, the member-elect, would sincerely do his best for his constituency. It was now up to the members of the government to set to work and prepare at this early date to carry out the wishes of the people in advanced legislation for the benefit of British Columbia.

He said the Ymir road would be started as soon as conditions were favorable, and would be pushed to completion, and he hoped to be here in the fall to attend the formal opening.

Several other speakers, including J. R. Hunter, J. A. McDonald, John Notman, Marcus Martin and M. Scally congratulated Mr. Campbell on his election, and declared that the result showed conclusively the faith the electorate had in the Oliver government.

Other speakers were to be called on, but a huge crowd of demonstrative supporters invaded the meeting, and so infected it with exuberant spirits that the gathering broke away to join the laughing and shouting crowds in the streets.

With shouts of "The Ymir road," "Now we'll get the Ymir road," a large crowd of men and boys pro-

INDIA CALM SINCE GANDHI UNDER ARREST

Publication of Indian Policy Has Marked Effect on Moslem Opinion

LONDON, March 22.—Reuter's Delhi correspondent cables that the reports from various parts of India show that the publication ofthe policy of the government of India regarding Khalifat demands concerning Turkey, has produced a material effect on Moslem public opinion and largely removed the suspicion of the orthodox Mohammedan clergy.

Even the Mohammedan clergy belonging to different sections believe that the viceroy, Earl Reading, is making a genuine attempt to settle questions in earnest. The Urdu press generally endorses the government's policy.

The government's recent manifesto might caught the deflection of important Mohammedan sections from the noncooperationist movement, which is slowly but surely showing sings of a setback since Gandhi's arrest. This is seen in the calmness of the country since that event.

RATES DROP UNLESS LEGISLATION CHANGES

OTTAWA, March 22.—Authoriation for the increases in western freight rates on grain and other commodities made effective in 1918 will expire early in July, unless the government secures legislation continuing in effect the legislation providing for the setting aside of the agreement entered into by the crown and the Canadian railway in 1898. This agreement was that the western freight would not exceed a stated schedule, but this was set aside as a result of the increased operation costs resulting from the war. It was stated today that unless the present authoriation was continued the rates would automatically revert to their former standing. This would cause a drop of about 2 cents a bushel of rates on wheat from Winnipeg to Fort William.

Liquor Laden Auto Crashes Into Curb; Driver Cannot Live

WINDSOR, March 22.—Driving through the city streets at 60 miles an hour to escape provincial police, a large liquor-laden automobile, driven by Ambrose McLean, Walkerville, crashed into the curb today, causing injuries to McLean that will cause his death. His companion, whose name the police are withholdin, fled and had not been captured at a late hour tonight.

VETERANS WILL NOT TAKE SIDES

Hold No Brief For or Against Liquor Interests; Leave Question Alone

SASKATOON, March 22.—A bitter fight on the convention floor of the Saskatchewan convention, G. W. V. A., was terminated this afternoon when a resolution was introduced tabling all proposed action by the association on the liquor question in this province. A suggestion made by one of the supporters of the motion which called for the provincial government to take a plebiscite on the question of the abolition of the present prohibitionary measure in favor of government sale of spirituous and malt liquors, that branches of the association should be used as a nuclus for a moderation party, brought forth a burst of disapproval from delegates present.

Some 12 delegates took the floor, speaking to the motion during the course of the discussion and arguments both for and against were submitted. The legality of the resolution being brought before the convention of ex-service men dealing with ex-service men's problems was also touched, but the general feeling appeared to be that in taking any decisive step the G. W. V. A. would harm themselves and that as they held no rief for either the liquor interests or the prohibitionists, the question might be well left alone. A motion to table the resolution without date, was carried by a large majority.

An insight into the administrative work of the soldier settlement board resulted from the address of Walter F. Woods, superintendent of the Saskatoon district. While Mr. Woods dealt largely with the policy of the board in their treatment of returned men, he also touched on the results of the work in this district by returned men.

WILL SECURE OFFICERS OF INDIAN ARMY

Provincial Agent Leaves to Obtain Settlers for the Okanagan

VICTORIA, March 22.—Major J. W. Clarke, in charge of soldiers' settlement work under the department of lands, will leave shortly for India. Several hundred young officers are being paid out of the Indian army and at present the British government is making arrangements to assist their assimilation into civil life in various of the dominions. All of these young officers will have from two to three thousand pounds each. A few days ago the India office in London cabled the provincial government and offered to pay half the expenses of sending a British Columbia representative to India to interview these young officers with the idea that they would come direct from India to British Columbia. It is the intention to place them, if satisfactory arrangements can be concluded, upon lands in the South Okanagan irrigation project.

TAKES UP INDIAN LANDS QUESTION

Pattullo Leaves for Ottawa; Indians Hold Strategic Points

VICTORIA, March 22.—Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, left yesterday for Ottawa, where he will take up Indian land and other questions with the Dominion government.

Mr. Pattullo said that the late government issued a report covering Indian lands in British Columbia, but it did not meet with the approval of the provincial government and now a review of it is being sought.

The province claims that a few Indians control lands of strategic value at a number of places in this province close to cities and industrial plants.

On his return Mr. Pattullo expects to announce changes in governing Indian lands.

OPPOSES ANY REDUCTION OF BRITISH ARMY

Field Marshal Wilson Points to Responsibilties in Ireland, Egypt and India

LONDON, March 22.—An interesting debate arose in the house of commons today between Field Marshall Sir Henry Wilson, former chief of the Imperial general staff, and Sir Laming Worthington Evans. Field Marshal Wilson opposed a reduction in the army on the ground of Great Britain's many responsibilities in Ireland, India, Egypt and elsewhere, while Sir Laming defended the government's policy of retrenchment.

The field marshal was supported by a number of Conservatives. He denied that the Russian menace was ended. The war secretary contended that the only way to meet Field Marshal Wilson's demand was to raise a conscript army. Thereupon the field marshal admitted that he had never dreamed of a conscript army, because it would be impossible to order conscripts to serve abroad in peace time.

Sir Laming in upholding the plea for a reduction argued that even with Great Britain's enormous responsibilities it was necessary to take some risks.

SAYS IMMIGRATION LAWS ARE DISGRACE

MONTREAL, March 22.—Canadian immigration laws as regards the Chinese are a disgrace and should be remedied without delay, declared Hon. C. Teur, Chinese consul-general to Canada, in the course of an address to members of the Canadian Manufacturers' association here today. There is no reason why such discriminating laws should be in effect," he said. "Chinese laborers do not want to come to this country, but Chinese students do." He advanced the theory that it would be a great thing if wealthy Canadian business men were to offer scholarships in Canadian universities to students of the Orient.

WINNIPEG COUNSEL ATTACKS CASE PRESENTED BY BRITISH COLUMBIA

OTTAWA, March 22.—"This is an application for the benefit of the jobber and the manuafacturers, of British Columbia," said Isaac Pitblado, K. C., of Winnipeg, in replying to the argument of G. G. McGeer, of Vancouver, before the Dominion railway commission today. The latter reports the Vancouver interests had argued for the abolition of the mountain rate in British Columbia so as to permit of competition by coast industries against Winnipeg and plants on the prairie districts.

Representing the Winnipeg board of trade, Mr. Pitblado took issue with the Vancouver counsel.

Mr. McGeer took until 4:30 this afternoon to complete his argument which left only half an hour of the sitting to Mr. Pitblado.

The later, continuing his remarks, said that Mr. McGeer's argument was really a development argument devoted to Vancouver and special industries. "But all this development outlined by Mr. McGeer is at the expense of some one else. It does not mean more business, but the same business at less cost."

Pitblado Turns Argument

Mr. Pitblado further stated that Mr. McGeer's argument as to the great development of industries in British Columbia since 1918 was an argument that the present rates from Vancouver to the prairies were not unfair. The trouble, said Mr. Pitblado, is that Vancouver industries say if you can reduce the mountain rate, "we can do 50 per cent more business." Many coast merchants giving evidence at Vancouver told of good business being done with the prairies. The consumer was not taken into account in this argument.

Later Mr. Pitblado said:

"We are only opposing British Columbia arguments insofar as they affect the differentials of class distributing rates between the prairies and British Columbia. As far as we are concerned, we are taking no stand in the matter of fixing commodity rates."

Mr. Pitblado expects to conclude his statement to the board tomorrow morning. He intimated that he would not file any exhibits until the close of his argument.

At the afternoon session Mr. McGeer reiterated his stand that operating expenses in British Columbia did not warrant higher rates in that province, that as far as train mileage was concerned matters there had considerably improved and that traffic conditions showed betterment in recent years. He touched on the rates on sugar and this drew the remark from Chairman F. B. Carvell that he thought this question was settled.

Mr. McGeer retorted that it was not settled so far as British Columbia was concerned.

TELLS PERILS OF ORIENTAL IMMIGRATION

Western Progressive Cities Vital Statistics of British Columbia

VIEWS DIVIDED ON RECIPROCITY

Ladner Says the Present Policy Is Gouin-Fielding Tariff

OTTAWA, March 22.—(By Canadian Press)—The house heard something this afternoon of the perils of oriental immigration. A British Columbia Progressive had the floor, T. G. McBride, of Cariboo.

Oriental immigration was costing the country millions of dollars, Mr. McBride said, and the effect it would have on civilization could not be ignored. Orientals would not assimilate and the white and yellow races never associate. They should not be brought together. He declared that in 1910 only 20 Japanese were born in British Columbia, but in 1920 the number had grown to 657. In 1910, 17 Japanese were born in British Columbia to every 1000 whites. In 1920 the figures were 69 Japanese to 1000 whites. Orientals were receiving their education at the expense of the British Columbia taxpayers, Mr. McBride continued. In Vancouver it cost $60,000 to educate orientals last year. The influx of Japanese and Chinese tended to lower the moral and laboring standard of the community. It was a situation which must be ended at once.

"We think about orientals now what you will think about them in 25 years," Mr. McBride added.

Stands Up for Soldiers

It was up to the government to appoint a commission to investigate returned soldiers' land settlement and to bring in recommendations under which they would be given a revaluation of their lands and equipment, Mr. McBride said. Soldiers should not be called up before pension boards every few months in order to see if their pensions could not be lowered. There should be a fixed minimum pension. Soldiers suffering from consumption should be separated from their families. A board of managers, composed of expert railway men, and wholly non-political in character should be appointed to manage the national railways. If such a board had been appointed years ago the present situation would not have existed.

Debate on the address dragged along the whole afternoon, with the end scheduled tomorrow night.

J. H. Harris, Conservative, East York, expressed the opinion that a great essential had been overlooked in Canada's immigration policy. It was not enough that an immigrant had a clean bill of health. He should also have a clear conception of British ideals and institutions and be prepared to conform to them.

J. E. D'Anjou, Liberal, Rimouski, was glad to see the statement in the speech from the throne, which indicated that the present government was giving more attention to agriculture than had its predeces-

WILL NOT MEET SWIFT CURRENT

Bondholders Regret Intervention of Government Precludes Negotiations

TORONTO, March 22.—At a meeting of the bondholders' committee held in Toronto today it was decided not to meet the Swift Current committee in Winnipeg on March 22. It is at the same time regretted by the bondholders' representatives that the local government board has intervened, this precluding the possibility of any satisfactory private negotiations between the town and its creditors.

The Toronto Star says:

"It is true that a meeting had been agreed upon by both sides for this date, but the recent action of Swift Current in applying to the local government board of the province for an investigation of its affairs and the decision of the board to commence the investigation on May 1, notice of which has appeared in the Saskatchewan Gazette, has convinced the bondholders' committee that nothing is to be gained by any further direct negotiations with Swift Current at present.

"If the local government board reaches a decision as to the future disposal of the town's interest arrears, which is adverse to the bondholders, and if the latter refuse to accept the board's proposals, the situation will be very confused. At the same time it would be an unfortunate position for the bondholders, as then the board is able to continue its investigation indefinitely if it pleases, and so long as it does the bondholders are, by a recent act in Saskatchewan, prevented from pursuing their claims by ordinary legar process."

PIMPLES ON FACE

DIDN'T LIKE TO GO OUT

Those nasty little pimples that break out on the face and other parts of the body are simply indications that the blood is out of order and requires purifying.

There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and that is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing which can best be done by that old reliable blood medicine and when the blood is purified the pimples will vanish and you will have a clear, healthy complexion.

Miss Mary E. Flanagan, R. R. No. 3, Stella, Ont., writes: "I suffered for about two years with pimples and blotches breaking out on my face. The doctor said it was caused by bad blood. My face was so bad I didn't like to go out among a crowd of people. One day I was talking to a friend, and she advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and try it. I just took three bottles and there was not a blotch or pimple of any kind left. Some of my friends asked me what I had used and I said, 'Burdock Blood Bitters chased them.'" ceeded eastward along Baker street with blazing brooms, while one or two enthusiastic autoists attached strings of tin cans to their vehicles, and held revel until their torches burned down, a few impromptu clowns adding to the hurly-burly.

Mr. Bowser Comments

W. J. Bowser, leader of the opposition, who left for the coast on the Kettle Valley train, said before his departure:

"It was a surprise to me to learn that the Ymir road was the whole issue in this election.

"The policy of the Oliver government was never on trial, because if it had been, and the Ymir road had been eliminated, the people would have given an entirely different verdict.

"Now that the good electors of Nelson have placed the Ymir road before the record of the government I hope that they will not be disappointed in the early construction of this important highway."

Campbell Thanks News

Telephoning The Daily News late last night, Mr. Campbell asked publication of the following statement:

"I would like to thank The Daily News for the fair treatment it has given me in its news columns in this campaign, and for the fair way it has dealt with me as a citizen of Nelson."

Altogether 1547 valid ballots were cast in yesterday's byelection, and 36 spoiled ones, a number of the spoiled ones being apparently intentionally spoiled, out of a total voters' list of something over 2100 names. The women's vote was very heavy. In Fairview, where the scrutineers totalled up the women's vote, it was found that 135 women voted, to 151 men.

MONKEY WRENCH IN MACHINERY

Manitoba Independent Rouses Indignation by Blocking Tactics

WINNIPEG, March 22.—Declaring that he would hold up the estimates as long as possible until he got fair play in the form of his bill being considered by the law amendments commission, Joseph Bernier, independent, this afternoon threw a monkey wrench into the machinery for chopping the legislative program down to essential items. His bill for an amendment to the St. Boniface charter was dropped yesterday with several other so-called contentious measures.

After keeping up his blocking tactics for a considerable time, during which he aroused the indignation of the house, Attorney-General T. J. Johnston came to the rescue and suggested that there should be a meeting of the law amendments committee tomorrow morning for the purpose of considering any bills which members might want to be passed.

Mr. Bernier spoke for some time in French, during which the members attempted to drown his remarks with applause and desk thumping. Other means of obstruction adopted by Mr. Bernier included the moving of reductions in the eestimate varying from one cent to other inconsequential sums.

The morning and afternoon session of the legislature arranged for the expeditions dispatch of what little legislation remains will not start till Friday.

WINNIPEG, March 22.—On the assupmtion that district locals will want to run Progressive candidates in every rural constituency at the forthcoming general elections in the province, the board of directors of the United Farmers of Manitoba met here today and made arrangements for extending any advice and assistance required to bring about the success of the candidate.

No policy urging locals to run candidates was adopted or even considered, according to W. H. Wood, secretary, tonight.

The question of putting candidates in the field was left entirely to the locals. All the board of directors did was to arrange for assistance and advice to be given when the campaign is on.

The question of a campaign leader was not discussed, according to Mr. Wood, who was a member of the fifteenth legislature and was a Norris supporter.

WILL ELECT NEW LEADER

Manitoba Conservatives Likely to Elect Haig as Chief of Party

WINNIPEG, March 22.—Manitoba Conservatives will formulate a platform and elect a new leader to succeed R. C. Willis here on April 5, it was decided late this afternoon at a conference of representatives from all over the province. The general political situation in the province was discussed, the Conservative members of the provincial legislature being present, with W. J. Tupper, K. C., in the chair.

Mr. Willis will tender his resignation as head of the party at the coming convention, he announced today, and it is expected in political circles that the leadership will be offered to J. T. Haig, M. P. P., leader of the party in the provincial legislature.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR FUR SEIZURE

General Semenoff Disclaims Knowledge of Action by Cossack Bands

VANCOUVER, March 22.—Responsibility for the seizure by Cossack bands in Siberia of a valuable consignment of furs consigned to Richard & Co. of New York was disclaimed by General Grigor Semenoff here today. The injunction sought by Richard & Co., to prevent the Cossack leader from leaving Vancouver until their action for damages is settled, was not filed in the supreme court today, MacKenzie Matheson, solicitor for the New York firm, issued a writ today, but delayed serving it until he can ascertain whether or not the local courts have any jurisdiction. General Semenoff is preparing to leave for the United States tomorrow, having in his possession a transport transient permit from the United States authorities to proceed to Washington on business.

The Cossack hetman told reporters today he knew nothinf of the seiure of urs which is to thebe the basis of the action brought by Richard & Co., who assert that the general has in his possession funds realized from the sale of their furs. But there might be hundreds of such seizures for all he knew, said Semenoff. He could not prevent bands of robmbers acting in his name and taking advantage of the unsettled state of the country.

THROUGH TRAVEL VIA SIBERIA

According to the North China Herald, it is possible for nearly all travelers except Americans to use the Siberian route to Europe. Trains are no running regularly, taking sixteen days from Peking to Moscow. Passports for Chita are vised in Harbin or Manchuli, and passports for Soviet Russian are vised in Chita. There are two express trains to Chita very week, the journey from Peking requiring about four days. A daily mail train runs from Chita to Irkutsk, requiring 24 hours for the trip. It carries a through car daily to Moscow and through tickets to this city can be bought at Chita. The schedule time from Irkutsk to Moscow is ten days. Since America has no trade agreement or treaty with Soviet Russia, the latter country will not grant United States citizens visas.

CONDITIONS OF REPARATIONS WORRY BERLIN

Predict Wirth Cabinet Will Fall Before Storm of Protest

BERLIN, March 22.—The decision of the reparations commission on Germany's request for a moratorium, with the details of the payments to be made and guarantees to be given, were printed in the afternoon papers here today. The decision fell like a bombshell in the official quarters in guarantees as humiliating. The created anger and dismay.

It was asserted in court in well-informed circles today that if the decision of the commission is persisted in the Wirth cabinet will fall before a storm of protest. In these quarters, however, there seemed to be a disposition to believe that the decision of the commission is not yet final, and that an arrangement will ultimately be reached more on the lines of the milder proposals of Sir Robert Horne, the British chancellor of the exchequer, made at the recent meeting of the allied ministers in Paris, which are reproduced in some of the afternoon newspapers of today.

The financial proposals of the reparations commission are characterized as impossible and the proposed guarantees as humiliating. The general opinion expressed by the newspapers is that the commission has shown no disposition to meet Germany in a workable scheme.

PARIS, March 22.—A partial moratorium has been given Germany for her reparations payment in 1922, according to a decision of the reparations commission made public today. The plan carries with it a specific obligation on the part of Germany to raise sixty billion paper marks, in additional taxes; to float an international loan to balance her budget; to stop the exportation of capital and make the Reichsbank independent; to radically reduce expenses; to submit to a system of supervision through obligatory consultations with a commission on guarantees and either to float an international loan or to make a levy on capital to raise a substantial sum for reparations.

The moratorium is conditional upon the fulfillment of the conditions of the commission by May 31 which may be revoked later if Germany does not continue to comply with them. The commission calls for the execution of the Cannes agreement, providing for the payment of 720,000,000 gold marks and of 1,450,000,000 marks in goods during 1922. As Germany has paid about 282,000,000 gold marks in 10 payments, there remains a balance of 438,000,000 marks due.

SHORT OF STAPLE ARTICLES IN MAYO

DAWSON, Y. T., March 22.—Early arrivals from the outside world, seeking their fortunes in the Mayo silver camps this spring, find themselves barred from traveling to Mayo until after navigation opens. There is a shortage of staple articles of food in the district and plentiful supplies cannot be laid in until the river is open. The Mayo city board of trade, therefore, passed resolutions recently calling upon Gold Commissioner George MacKenzie to prevent a too early influx of immigrants to the silver camps.

sor. Harold Putnam, Liberal, Colchester, who defeated Hon. J. D. McCurdy in the general election, contended, that the old parties had their defects, but the benefits of the party system far outweighed its defects.

Divide Views on Reciprocity

Sir Henry Drayton had said that if reciprocity had come into effect in 1911 it would by now have been killed by the Farmers' bloc in the United States. Mr. Putnam thought on the other hand, it would have proved so popular that there would be no fear of revocation for many a long day.

The former minister of customs in the Meighen government, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, had said that he was prepared to stand behind all the campaign literature which he had issued previous to the last election. Mr. Putnam asked if he was prepared to support a circular issued by Mr. McCurdy, former minister of public works, reading "vote for McCurdy and I. C. R. headquarters at Moncton."

Mr. Putnam referred to the fact that Mr. McCurdy had told the electors of Colchester that unless he was elected the constituency would be represented by a back bencher. He was glad to be occupying a seat in the back benches because by doing so he confirmed the truth of one of Mr. McCurdy's statements and the only one which came through.

L. J. Ladner, Conservative, Vancouver South, said the policy of the present government was a Goulin-Fielding tariff, while all British Columbia members, irrespective of party, were in favor of the tariff as urged by the Liberal-Conservative party.

Mr. Ladner adjourned the debate at 6 o'clock and will continue his speech when the house meets again at 3 o'clock tomorrow.

INSPECTING PLACER MINING PROPERTIES

DAWSON, Y. T., March 22.—(By Canadian Press—Interests in New York who have under lease extensive placer mining properties covering many miles in the old Forty-mile district, have instructed William J. Randall, a local engineer, to make immediate examination of these properties to decide whether they would be suitable for large operations and decide what equipment would be necessary.

A big crew will be placed on the survey work immediately.

OPPOSE DAYLIGHT SAVING

OTTAWA, March 22.—Daylight saving is apparently to be a bone of contention in the present session of parliament. Fred Kay, Liberal, from Mississiquoi, Quebec, has given notice of a resolution, that in the opinion of this house, it is desirable that legislation be introduced during the present session to prohibit the adoption of daylight saving time in any part of Canada.

SEEK LAWYER IN SEATTLE MURDER

Probably One of Last Persons to See Macdonald Alive

SEATTLE, March 22.—H. H. Guth, a lawyer with offices in this city, is being sought by the police tonight in connection with the death of Daniel Alexander MacDonald, formerly of Edmonton, whose body was found buried in a gravel pit near Ronald station here shortly before noon today, with marks and abrasions on the head indicating murder, according to the police.

Notes and letters found in the luggage of the dead man were said to have linked Guth with the case as being one of the last persons, apparently, to have seen MacDonald alive. One of the letters, written to MacDonald by Guth from Everett states that Guth is unable to pay money due MacDonald for several months. It is dated February 8.

When officials here visited Guth's offices they found a note on the door saying he was away. Sheriff Matt Starwich and his deputies have taken up the search in Everett in the hope of locating Guth, whom they believe may be able to throw additional light on the case.

Letters in MacDonald's baggage indicated that, in addition to a brother, J. J. MacDonald, living in Lynn, Mass., he has another brother A. MacDonald, in San Francisco. He is said to have a sister, Mary L. MacDonald, of Trasadie Cross, P. E. I., Canada.

COAST PASSENGERS ARE DELAYED NINE HOURS

Passengers from the coast over the C. P. R. failed to arrive in the city last night, due to the main line train missing connections with the Kettle Valley train. The reason was unknown here last night. A special train from Rossland brought in passengers from the Boundary country. The belated Kettle Valley train is expected to arrive about 8 oclock this morning.

GRANITES WILL NOT PLAY THIS SEASON

TORONTO, March 22.—The international hockey series between Granites of this city, Canadian amateur championships, and Westminsters of Boston, for the Hamilton B. Wills trophy, will not be played this season, it was decided today. Granites were loath to play any more games this season and it is understood there was a hitch in regard to the selection of a third trustee of the trophy to act with W. A. Hewitt, secretary of the Ontario Hockey association, and Sheriff Haddock, president of the United States Hockey association.

The games may be played next December before the regular season opens.

DISCUSS MATTER OF IMMIGRATION

Quality Paramount Question; Supervision Necessary Before Embarkation

OTTAWA, March 22—Addressing the third annual meeting of the Canadian Council of Immigration of Women, which convened in Ottawa today, Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of immigration, emphasized the need of closer cooperation between the provincial and federal governments in immigration matters. In view of the offer made by the federal government to return the natural resources to the prairie provinces, the problem of securing suitable settlers became one of vital importance to the provinces. A large program of immigration encouragement could not be embarked upon at present in view of the unemployment situation. What was needed were farmers with capital and farm laborers.

Quality Paramount

Mr. Stewart stated that he was satisfied there must be greater supervision and selection of immigrants overseas, before embarkation. The government was not going to be stampeded into getting numbers when quality was the paramount need. The provinces would be asked to appoint official delegates, both men and women, to confer with the federal authorities on immigration matters. Reports covering the work in the different hostels were presented, and showed that they were being operated successfully.

Miss M. V. Burnham, newly appointed supervisor of women's divisions, department of immigration and colonization, drew attention to the clauses adopted at the Geneva conference on traffic in women and children as to the duty of governments to provide conductresses on steamships and trains to protect immigrant women. The steamship companies were falling in line with the spirit of these clauses. Red Cross nurses at the three ports of Quebec, Halifax and St. John were operating successfully. It was reported that over 6000 women were received at hostels during the past two years. Members of the council in attendance and expected to attend, include:

Mrs. John MacNaughton, Harris, Sask., women's section Canadian Council of Agriculture.

Mrs. J. S. Robinson, Winnipeg, Federated Women's Institutes of Canada.

Mrs. W. D. Spence, Edmonton, I. O. D. E.

Dr. M. Ellen Douglas, Winnipeg.

Mrs. I. D. Jones, Regina.

Hon. Mrs. Ralph Smith, Vancouver.

The representative from Alberta was unable to attend.

In addition to the above all of the principal women's societies in Eastern Canada were represented. The council continues tomorrow.

OGDEN SHOPS TO CLOSE

CALGARY, March 22.—Between 800 and 900 employees of the C. P. R. at Ogden shops were notified Wednesday morning that the shops will close on Thursday night, March 23, until April 3. No reason for the suspension of work is given. The shops were closed 14 days in December and 10 days in January. Since then they have only worked four days per week.

MAKES VALUABLE FIND AT HARROP

Sample From Silver Group Runs High in Silver and Gold

Local mining men attach much importance to a recent find on the Silver group at Harrop, ore samples from which have been submitted to the Dominion government assay office at Vancouver, are reported to carry a total value of roughly $350 a ton, running to 14.85 ounces in silver and 12.28 ounces in gold. The samples carried a trace of rare metals also, and similar samples have been forwarded to Ottawa to determine the actual content of the rare minerals.

The significance of the find lies in the fact that the group is advantageously situated. Six claims comprise the group, which is owned by John Anderson of Harrop, a prospector of 30 years' experience in the Kootenay. No. 1 claim, from which the samples were taken, is situated on the government road between Harrop and Sunshine bay, the road cuting through one of the four clearly defined parallel ledges which have been traced and staked from the lake front four miles back into the hills. Some development work has been done. No. 3 claim has been cross-cut for about 40 feet, and No. 4 for about 30 feet.

ACCEPT GRAND TRUNK PROPOSAL

PRINCE RUPERT, MARCH 22.—The ratepayers voted today to accept the proposals submitted by the Grand Trunk Pacific railway to govern the civic taxation of railroad properties in Prince Rupert. Under the proposal the city will collect from the road approximately $80,000 per annum on all counts.

FLOODS DAMAGE FARM LANDS

HURON, S. D. March 22.—Considerable damage to stock and farm lands has been done in the low lands in this section by flood waters from the James river. According to reports received here the river is 7.8 feet above flood stage and still rising.

DANES VOTE FOR GENERAL STRIKE

COPENHAGEN, March 22.—Thirty Danish trade unions have voted to declare a general strike, beginning April 1, in retaliation to the general lockout, which was declared February 15, affecting nearly all industries and about 150,000 employees. The 36th day of the lockout finds the situation steadily growing worse. All public works are being closely guarded and soldiers have been ordered to protect voluntary workers.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT RELEASES PROPERTY

DAWSON, Y. T., March 22.—The old Anderson concession on Hunker creek, one of the best known big mining properties in the Yukon, has been released by the federal government to the Klondike Government Concession company, the owners. The concession has been held up since 1916 because of the failure of the leasees to pay the wages of the men who were hired to do assessment work on the tract in that year. The concession company has now paid the $7000 required to liquidate this liability. In addition, it is stated that all creditors will be paid in full.

Assessments accruing since 1916 were waived in consideration of war time conditions. The concession was originally controlled by the Tredgold interests.

MENNONITES MIGRATE

EL PASO, March 22.—With 1100 of their co-religionists already in Mexico, 14,000 more Canadian Mennonites are planning to migrate to the southern republic, according to J. E. Wiebe, agricultural agent for the Mexico Northwestern railway.

Fifty trains will be needed to carry the new group of colonists. If freight rates can be adjusted the hegira will begin about June 1, Mr. Wiebe said.

NATIVES CYNICAL IN THE TROPICS

Get Amusement Out of White Man; Women's Lot Is Dolorous

The native mind—and much of native mysteries—is revealed by G. Cyril Claridge in "Wild Bush Tribes of Tropical Africa."

The author and his wife traveled many thousands of miles into the heart of Africa, across and south of the Congo. "The native," he tells us, "Gets a good deal of amusement out of the white man. He is quick in noticing his chief characteristics, to which he attaches a name which usually fits them to a T.

"For example, one man who takes a lot of time thinking out a thing is known as 'Mr. Lot-of-Thought.' Another whose gait is pecular is 'Mr. Peacock.' One who never lets the 'grass grow under his feet' is 'Mr. Rush-About.' Another who likes a joke is 'Mr. Laughter.'

The Congo woman's lot is a miserable one. The proverbs of that country may indicate why. Here are some which indicate the estimation in which Congo women are held among their menkind:

"If you send women to pluck grass, they spend the time plucking out one another's hair."

"Should a woman tie a parcel for you, open it the first chance you get, and prove it, for no woman is to be trusted."

"The fidelity of a woman never lasts long, for she will soon cease to carry even a wooden plate to the grave of her husband." (The plate is the equivalent of our flowers placed on the grave of a relative.

Gullible Natives

As soon as the children find their legs they enjoy full liberty.

Their world is the same world of make-believe as that of children the world over. A girl makes a dolly of a root, a plant, or a tuft of grass, which she ties to her back just as she was tied to the back of her mother.

With regard to Congo men, and the natives generally, Mr. Claridge expresses wonder why the phrase "lazy as a nigger" came into vogue. His output seems to be far from discreditable.

The gullibility of the average African is almost beyond belief.

Ten cents was asked by a native for a fowl, which a white man wanted for his dinner. He said it was too much. The sharper then offered him a belt. Now the cost of the belt was six cents, leaving a small margin of profit to boot. As expected, the negro took a fancy to the belt and was at once eager to secure it. He was charged 14 cents and the fowl. Still, the heathen paid the price and went off to enjoy his purchase, happy though deceived.

WILL FOLLOW OUT CANNES DECISION

LONDON, March 22.—(By Canadian Press Cable)—A question was asked in the house of commons today as to whether the government would reconsider the question of Premier Lloyd George's attendance at the Genoa conference, seeing that the United States would not be represented there and Premier Poincare of France was not going. Rt. Hon. Austen Chamberlain, government leader, replied that the government proposed to act in conformity with the decision of the supreme council at Cannes, that the premiers of every nation should attend, if possible. It would be a misfortune for Great Britain if her premier were prevented from going, he added.

Asked as to whether a vote of confidence in the government would be moved at the Genoa conference, Mr. Chamberlain said he saw no need for one.

Mimosa and sulphur were the shades most in evidence for evening frocks in the fashion parade staged by Lucile at New York's fashion show, and for the formal evening gowns the classic type prevailed with marvelous handling of draperies, in soft fabrics which swathed the figure and ripped away into long narrow trains.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N. S., harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows: "I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells that I would be under the doctor's care.

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our

The Ymir Road Gives Nelson to the Government

The result of the byelection in Nelson yesterday caused no surprise.

The Ymir road issue was the supreme question before the people. The great majority of the voters paid no attention to any other provincial question. Platform arguments by the opposing sides were listened to attentively by the audiences, but nothing but the Ymir road had any real influence on the result.

Obviously the feeling was that the extremity of the Oliver government at Victoria was Nelson's opportunity to get the road.

Knowing that it had not a ghost of a show of carrying this riding on its record, the government promised the road, in the same way that it promised the $500,000 of public works in Revelstoke riding.

Mayor McHardy put up a good fight and accepted the result with good grace and in a spirit of good sportsmanship which made him many new friends.

He and his Conservative supporters deserve credit from those who considered the Ymir road the paramount issue for the fact that but for the fight against the government which was put up there would have been no definite pledge from Hon. John Oliver that the road would be built. Nothing but vigorous opposition would have extracted this pledge from the prime minister.

The situation in a general election would have been entirely different. Hundreds of voters, who believe that the Oliver government should be turned out of office, that its conduct of affairs is inimical to the interests of the province, voted for the government candidate because they felt that, in spite of the close votes in the house last session, the government could not be defeated by the result in Nelson and that therefore it was the best policy to get as much for Nelson as possible in the meantime.

That, beyond question, was the view which controlled the majority of the voters in this riding yesterday.

Mr. Campbell is to be congratulated, and while elected under these rather unusual circumstances, will go to Victoria with the best wishes of citizens of both parties and of no party at all. He will find that in any effort he may make for the benefit of Nelson and the province at large he will receive the co-operation of Conservatives and independents, as well as of Liberals.

Bulgaria Has Started Something This Time

Close to one year ago the Bulgarian government began its ill-advised attempt to eliminate one letter from the Bulgarian alphabet. The broil, intermittent since then, appears now to be reaching a crisis. It is reported that members of the faculty of the University of Sofia refuse to hold classes until the politicians produce the purloined letter.

There is no surer way to bring professors into politics than to tamper with the alphabet. Scholars work harder to earn their letters than any other class, not excepting athletes, and the most learned of them all has only a small string of letters after his name. Imagine the effect on the LL. D.'s, the Ph. D.'s, the M. D.'s, and, above all, the D. D.'s, if this government were to propose removing "D" from the alphabet.

But it is the spirit even more than the letter of the law that has stirred Bulgaria to the depths. The dispute is now "developing into an organized protest against alleged class distinctions by the government."

A better issue for the intelligentsia could hardly be imagined. One could wish the "young intellectuals" as easy as an initiation into the A B C's of politics. Since even the very youngest intellectual may be expected to know his alphabet, a question of this sort could be debated with perfect grasp of the principles involved.

Efficient Housekeeping

By Laura A. Kirkman

THE DECORATIVE VALUE OF UNBLEACHER MUSLIN

The following interesting letter came in this morning's mail—"My husband and I and our little girl live in a very modest home, but I do long to have things pretty. I have a magazine which shows pictures of over-drapes in the windows of a bed room of cretonne. But, when I priced cretonne in the stores, I found that a really good quality of it—the kind that would not fade after the first washing—costs anywhere from 50 cents a yard to 75 cents. I cannot afford to pay more than 25 cents a yard. Is there anything I could get for that price that would be as pretty as cretonne?"

My answer to this letter is, "Yes. Get unbleached muslin for the over-drapes and sew bands of bright cretonne at the bottom of each long side-piece and on the short ruffle or valance that runs across the top of the window."

For, luckily for most of us who cannot afford expensive things, a new and economical idea has taken root in the minds of interior decorators; the idea that unbleached muslin is an art material! They maintain that the color of unbleached muslin is restful to the eye and harmonizes with any other color perfectly; and that its more or less rough and rugged texture has a decided "tone." "The cretonne idea has been over-done," say these prominent decorators, "and too much cretonne in a room is worse than none."

This is undeniably true. I know a woman whose bedroom was over-decorated in just this way. She had peacock-blue cretonne as over-drapes, as a bed cover, as covers for bureau and dressing table, as seat and back-pads in a willow rocker and as a door curtain!

This woman felt that she had let the cretonne idea run away with her. It began to get on her nerves. Finally she asked me if I would come to her home and tell her what she should do about it.

It is not expressing my feelings too strongly to say that I recoiled on the sill of her bed room door! Then I sat down in the room and we began to make plans for remedying the trouble. I suggested that she substitute unbleached muslin for some of the cretonne. For instance, the all-cretonne bed cover was to be supplanted by an unbleached muslin bed cover with slit corners (as the bed was a four-poster); and a four-inch-wide band was to be sewed onto this muslin cover just at the top of a four-inch-wide hem that ran around the three sides that hung down. A long strip of the muslin was to cover the two pillows and be finished at either end with a three-inch strip of three-inch hem.

Then, we decided to have unbleached muslin covers for the top of her bureau and dressing table, each with a three-inch hem and three-inch band of cretonne at its stop. The door curtain was next condemned in favor of an unbleached muslin curtain with a five-inch-wide band of cretonne at the top of a five-inch-wide hem.

A few days later I again called upon my friend and the bed room was delightfully changed She had carried out all our plans and the effect was most decorative and restful!

So my reader friend who wrote the above-quoted letter, need have no hesitancy in putting up the unbleached muslin curtains I have suggested. This will be much more satisfactory than putting up a cheap grade of cretonne which, as she herself says, will run at the first washing. Unbleached muslin is about 20 cents a yard in most vicinities, and that is within the reach of us all. Let us hope that econmoy may be combined with good taste in many other ways about the home, in the future!

Tomorrow—A Good Home Dinner.

The Lighter Side

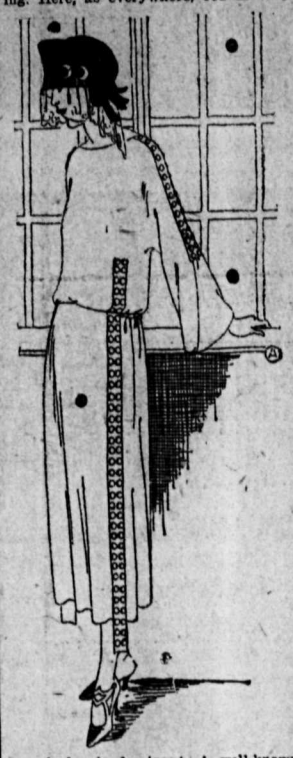
Trimmings for spring dresses show a distinct preference for brilliant coloring. Here, as everywhere, red in varying shades is dominant. A well-known designer of dress accessories in Paris shows elaborate girdles combining beads and colored stones, and other shiny effects achieved by steel cabochons and long steel tassels.



And if, when you go a-shopping for the trimming of your new spring frock, the clerk offers you circular plaque ornaments that look like hairbrush bristles, don't look surprised, but take them—or leave them—as the newest thing from Paris.

Among the most dependably smart trimmings are the new braids, embossed or stamped, and embroidered galons. The embossed braid is shiny, and comes usually in two colors, marron and red being the leading combination. It is this braid which makes the dark blue Canton crepe dress illustrated above so attractive.

Mr. Joy Muses Upon the War Memorial and Sees an Apparition

At the Sunday afternoon concert President Currie reminded us that the great anniversary of the Battle of Ypres would soon be here, and hoped that by then a movement would be on foot to build the memorial in memory of those who paid the supreme sacrifice.

Lately we have been reading of spooks and how some people in this world are mediums, through which departed spirits communicate. I wonder—Am I dreaming? 'Tis Sunday night, and most of the population are attending divine service in the several churches of the city, and my mind goes back to the time of the war, when citizens used to crowd around the bulletin boards. How we were gladdened when good news came, and how proud we were of our Kootenay boys, especially those from Nelson!

Before the war I remember well how ——, who was so fond of his home and comfort! He and I were members of the——, and it was all I could do to get him down to lodge. He often used to say: "George, when I get home I love to put on my slippers and toast my toes in front of the fire." The war came, and——was one of the first to go, and the Patriot- to society looked after his family, and many a parcel was sent to him from Nelson friends. Then one day came the sad news,——was killed by a German shell,——had paid the supreme sacrifice. And many of our Nelson boys did not come back.

One evening last fall I stood beside the Kaslo memorial, and took off my hat and bowed my head in memory of those who had fallen, and also in respect to those who had built the monument.

What is the matter with Nelson? When are we going to get busy? Lest we forget; forget never!

I am still thinking, thinking. I feel I must walk, and I go out. I find myself going past the government court house, and soon I am in front of the city hall. My attention is arrested by something white. It is the slab in memory of Major Rigby. My mind goes back to another scene. It is in the Eagle hall. Tables are loaded with good things, and many ladies are preparing good things for the journey east. Many speeches are made. There the Major is speaking, a brief speech, but full of ardent patriotism.

Do I feel something touch me? I am startled. I look, and I see—the face of ——beside me. He reads the inscription on the slab, and I notice his expression is of one looking for something. He beckons me to follow. I follow. He points to the jumble of buildings opposite the city hall. I know he is looking for the soldiers monument. It is not there. He then takes me past the hospital up to the bluff. Does he appear to shiver? And then he takes me down to the C. P. R. Nothing there. On up Baker street. Nothing there. Down past the Hume. We pause at the Houston memorial. Then we stop near the guns. A scowl comes over his face, and still he beckons. On we go till I find myself opposite the Imperial Bank. He still beckons. I am able to go through the doors with him. He enters the vault, pointing to a large ledger. He beckons me to open. I open, and read Soldiers Memorial Fund. I notice several deposits, but no disbursements. And I hear him say: "What are you going to do about it?"

Yes, Nelson, it is time we answered that question. R. G. JOY.

The Happiest Time of Her Life

Admiration, attention—groups of eager young men awaiting her appearance and more partners than she can dance with—this makes girlhood days the happiest time of a woman's life.

To miss this popularity is a tragedy. Yet many girls are socially unsuccessful because of some lack in charm.

What constitutes this charm is hard to define, but one thing is certain. The popular girl, the gay, happy, all-admired girl, is always distinguished by a fresh, radiant skin.

How to have this perfect complexion is the problem of many girls, but we can solve it for you. It's a simple secret, discovered many thousand years ago.

What spoils complexions

Every day your skin accumulates a coating of dust, dirt and general soil. Every day you apply powder, and every day most women use a little or much cold cream.

This dirt, powder and cold cream penetrates the tiny skin pores and fills them. Perspiration completes the clogging. You can judge for yourself what happens if you fail to wash these accumulations away.

Once a day your skin needs careful, thorough cleansing to remove these clogging deposits. Otherwise you will soon be afflicted with coarseness, blackheads and blotches.

How soap beautifies

Mild, pure, soothing soap, such as Palmolive, is a simple yet certain beautifier. Its profuse, creamy lather penetrates the network of skin pores and dissolves all dangerous deposits. Gentle rinsing carries them away.

When your skin is thus cleansed, it quickly responds with fresh, smooth radiance. The healthful stimulation results in natural becoming color. And the lotion-like qualities of the Palmolive lather keeps your complexion delightfully soft.

Now, when your skin is healthfully clean, is the time to apply cold cream. Now, powder and that touch of rouge are harmless. You can perfect your good complexion and beautify one not so good by the means of this simple cosmetic cleansing.

Cleopatra's way

With all classic peoples, bathing was a daily rite never neglected. The ruins of Cleopatra's sumptuous marble bath are ample proof of her faith in this ancient beauty secret.

Palm and olive oils were the cleansers used—the same bland oriental oils we blend scientifically in Palmolive. The lotion-like qualities which made them the most highly prized of all old world beautifiers are imparted to Palmolive Soap.

A low-cost luxury

The vast volume in which we produce Palmolive to supply the world-wide demand naturally lowers cost. If made in small quantities the price would be at least 25 cents. Manufacturing economy permits us to offer this finest facial soap at a low price.

Thus you can afford to share Cleopatra's favorite luxury. Use Palmolive for bathing and let it do for your body what it does for your face.

WOULD LICENSE STORY TELLERS

Considers Main Point of Story Lies in the Telling; Good Stories Mangled

LONDON, March 22.—It is my candid opinion that no man ought to be allowed to tell a funny story, or anecdote, without a license. We insist rightly enough that every taxi driver must have a license, and the same principle should apply to anybody who proposes to act as a reconteur. Telling a story is a difficult thing—quite as difficult as driving a taxi. And the risks of failure and accident and the unfortunate consequences of such to the public, if not exactly identical, are, at any rate, analogous.

This is a point of view not generally appreciated. A man is apt to think that just because he has read a good story he is able and entitled to repeat it. He might as well undertake to do a snake dance merely because he has seen Madame Pavlova do one. The point of a story is apt to lie in the telling, or at least, to depend upon it in a high degree. Certain stories, it is true, depend so much upon the final point, or nub, as the Americans call it, that they are almost fool-proof. But even these can be made so prolix and tiresome, can be so messed up with irrelevant detail, that the general effect is utter weariness relieved by a kind of shock at the end.

A Fool-Proof Story

Let me illustrate what I mean by a story with a nub or point. I will take one of the best known so as to make no claim to originality—for example, the famous anecdote of the man who wanted to be "put off at Buffalo." Here it is:

A man entered a sleeping car and said to the porter, "At what time do we get to Buffalo?"

The porter answered, "At half past three in the morning, sir."

"All right," the man said. "Now I want to get off at Buffalo, and I want you to see that I get off. I sleep heavily, and I'm hard to arouse. But you must make me wake up. Don't mind what I say. Don't pay any attention if I kick about it, just put me off, do you see?"

"All right, sir," said the porter.

The man got into his berth and fell fast asleep. He never woke or moved till it was broad daylight and the train was a hundred miles beyond Buffalo. He called angrily to the porter, "See here, didn't I tell you to put me off at Buffalo?"

The porter looked at him aghast.

"Well, I declare to goodness, boss," he exclaimed, "if you wasn't the one, who was that man I threw off this train at half past three at Buffalo?"

And How It Is Mangled.

Now this story is as nearly foolproof as can be. And yet it is amazing how badly it can be messed up by a person with a special gift for mangling a story. He does it something like this:

"There was a fellow who got on a train one night, and he had a berth reserved for Buffalo, at least, the way I heard it, it was Buffalo, although I guess, as a matter of fact, you might tell it on any other town just as well—or no, I guess he didn't have his berth reserved, he got on the train and asked the porter for a reservation for Buffalo or, anyway, that part doesn't matter—say that he had a berth for Buffalo or any to any other place, and the porter came through and said: 'Do you want an early call—or, no, he went to the porter, that was it, and said——"

But stop. The rest of the story becomes a mere painful waiting for the end.

Of course, the higher type of funny story is one that depends for its amusing quality not on the final point, or not solely on it, but on the wording and the narration all through. This is the way in which a story is told by a comedian or a person who is a reconteur in the "real" sense. When Sir Harry Lauder narrates an incident the telling of it is funny from beginning to end. When some lesser person tries to repeat it afterward there is nothing left but the final point. The rest is weariness.

As a consequence most storytellers are driven to telling stories that depend on the point or nub and not on the narration. The story teller gathers these up till he is equipped with a sort of little repertory of fun by which he hopes to surround himself with social charm.

The Curse of America.

In America especially (by which I mean here the United States and Canada, and not Mexico), we suffer from the story telling habit. As far as I am able to judge, English society is not pervaded and damaged by the story telling habit as much as is society in the United States and Canada. In transatlantic circles story telling at dinners, at every party, and on every other social occasion, has become a curse. In every phase of social and intellectual life one is haunted by the funny anecdote.

Anyone who has ever attended a Canadian or American banquet will recall the solemn way in which the chairman rises and says: "Gentlemen, it is to me a very great pleasure and a very great honor to preside at this annual dinner. There was an old darkey once——" and so forth. When he concludes he says, "I will now call upon the Rev. Dr. Stooge, head of the Provincial university, to propose the toast 'Our Dominion.'" Dr. Stooge rises amid great applause and, with great solemnity, begins: "There were once two Irishmen——" and so on to the end. Here in England, it is apparently not so.

A Pleasant Surprise.

The other night I had the pleasure of meeting at dinner a member of the government. I fully anticipated that as a member of the government he would be expected to tell a funny story about an old darkey, just as he would on our side of the water. In fact, I should have supposed that he could hardly get into the government unless he did tell a funny story of some sort. But all through dinner the cabinet minister never said a single word about a mother-in-law, or a commercial traveler, or an old darkey, or two Irishmen, or any of the stock characters of the American repertory.

Another night I dined with a bishop of the church. I expected that when the soup came he would say, "There was an old darkey——" after which I should have had to listen with rapt attention, and when he had finished, without any pause, rejoin: "There were a couple of Irishmen once——" and so on. But the bishop never said a word of the sort.

I can further, for the sake of my fellowmen in Canada and the United States who may think of coming over here, vouchsafe to the following facts: If you meet a director of the Bank of England he does not say, "I am very glad to meet you. Sit down. There was a mule in Arkansas once, etc." How they do their banking without that mule I don't know. But they manage it. I can certify also that if you meet the proprietor of a great newspaper he will not begin by saying: "There was a Scotsman once——" In fact, in England we can mingle freely in general society without being called upon either to produce a funny story or to suffer from one."

Waiting for the Point

I don't mean to deny that the American funny story, in capable hands, is amazingly funny, and that it does brighten up human intercourse. But the real trouble lies not in the fun of the story but in the painful waiting for the point to come, and in the strained and anxious silence that succeeds it. Each person around the diner table is trying to "think of another." There is a dreadful pause. The hostess puts up a prayer that someone may "think of another." Then at last, to the relief of everybody, someone says: "I heard a story the other day—I don't know whether you've heard it——" and the grateful cries of: "No, no! Go ahead!" show how great the tension has been.

Nine times out of ten the people have heard the story before, and ten times out of nine he damages it in the telling. But his hearers are grateful to him for having saved them from the appalling mantle of silence and introspection which had fallen upon the table. For the trouble is that when once two or three stories have been told it seems to be a point of honor to not to subside into mere conversation. It seems rude, when a story teller has at last reached the triumphant ending and climax of the mule from Arkansas, to follow it up by saying: "I see that the ex-Emperor Karl has escaped again." It can't be done. Either the mule or Karl—one can't have both.

The Curse of Britain

The English, I say, have not developed the American custom of the funny story as a form of social intercourse. But I do not mean to say that they are sinless in this respect. As I see it they hand round in general conversation something nearly as bad in the form of what one may call the literal anecdote or personal experience. By this I refer to the habit of narratting some silly little event that has actually happened to them or in their sight, which they designate as "screamingly funny," and which was, perhaps, very funny when it happened, but which is not the least funny in the telling.

"We Simply Roared!"

The American funny story is imaginary. It never happened. Somebody, presumably, once made it up. It is fiction. Thus there must once have been some great palpitating brain, some glowing imagination, which invented the story of the man who was put off at Buffalo. But the English "screamingly funny" story is not imaginary. It really did happen. It is an actual personal experience—in short, it is not fiction, but history.

I think—if one may say it with all respect—that in English society girls and women are especially prone to narrate these personal experiences as contributions to general merriment rather than the men. The English girl has a sort of traditional idea of being amusing, the Englishman cares less about it. He prefers facts to fancy, every time, and, as a rule, is free from the desire to pose as a humorist which haunts the American mind. So it comes about that most of the "screamingly funny" stories are told in English society by the women. Thus the counterpart of "put me off at Buffalo" done into English, would be something like this:

"We were so amused the other night in the sleeping car going to Buffalo. There was the most amusing old negro making the beds, a perfect scream, you know, and he kept insisting that if we wanted to get off at Buffalo we must all go to bed at 9 o'clock. He positively would not let us sit up; I mean to say, it was killing the way he wanted to put us to bed. We all roared."

Please note that "roar" at the end of the English personal anecdote. It is the sign that indicates that the story is over. When you are assured by the narrators that all the persons present "roared" or "simply roared," then you can be quite sure the humorous incident is closed and that laughter is in place.

Leave it to the Professional

Now, as a matter of fact, the scene with the darkey porter may have been, when it really happened, most amusing. But not a trace of it gets into the story. There is nothing but the bare assertion that it was screamingly funny or "simply killing." But the English are such an honest people that when they say this sort of thing they believe one another and they laugh.

But, after all, why should people insist on telling funny stories at all? Why not be content to buy the works of some really first-class humorist and read them aloud in proper humility of mind without trying to emulate them. Either that or talk theology.

STORY OF MAN WHO LIVED UP A TREE

Queer Folk in New Guinea; Will Cheat at Cards But Leave Gold Around

There is a delightful story of a man who lived up a tree in "Last Days in New Guinea," by Capt. C. A. W. Monckton.

When the magistrate came across this tree-dweller he was summoned to come to the ground. He declined.

"Fetch him down," I remarked to my party.

Several men hastily made a rope to surround the trunk and began to "walk up" the tree, gripping with their feet on one side of the tree and hanging on with their hands to the rope, so completinng the circle of the tree; as they got up a foot or two they wriggled the rope up on the other side, and then repeated the operation.

The gentleman at the top observed the proceedings with interest; he produced a club, and awaited events. He knew a spear could not reach him and knew nothing about rifles.

"Come down," I told my men. Then to the inhabitant of the tree, "Will you come down or not?"

"No, and you can't fetch me."

"Axes," I said to my men.

In a few minutes the chips began to fly. The gentleman at the top watched the progress of the choppers; he had never seen steel axes at work before. Then he remarked:

Is Philoshopic.

"Stop! I'll come down if you send somebody to help me; I might just as well be killed by you on the ground as crushed by the fall of the tree."

He was helped down, given some tobacco and food, and asked why he lived at the top of the tree.

He showed me a badly deformed foot in reply, and said that war parties had been so thick and events so lively in his district lately that he had decided, as he was unable either to fight or run away, to live in a tree top during the day and only come down at night, until the times improved.

We left him an old kerosene tin in which to keep water, and some matches, as he said that one of his main troubles was making a fire at night to cook his food, as he dare not leave live embers about during the day.

The ways of the natives of New Guinea are not as our ways, and many of them seem to Europeans absurd. For example, they believe they can insure their children being wise and brave by magic.

When the wife of Coporal Bia was in childbirth he came to my house in the middle of the night and asked me to come and touch his wife on the forehead. I went and touched the woman, followed by Sergeant Barigi of the constabulary and Giwi of the Kaili Kaili, and was told that my touch meant that the child to be born would have the strength of the government, Giwi's touch that it would have the wisdom of the chiefs, and Barigi's that it would have the courage of the constabulary.

The miners or "diggers," who are found in New Guinea are no more advanced in civilization than the black people. They are, according to Captain Monckton, a drunken crew, yet not without redeeming qualities.

Prohibition Bad for Mission

They were a most extraordinarily contradictory lot; in playing cards they would cheat one another with an utter lack of scruple, yet they would leave their gold about in the most careless way and no one would touch it. They would subscribe liberally to a mission fund, and yet I have never heard one say a good word for missions.

I remember one occasion the lieutenant-governor was directed to take a referendum among the white population as to what would be the effect of prohibition in New Guinea; and one question was: "What effect would such have on the missions?"

"Very bad," replied one digger on his paper, "as no one would subscribe to a mission unless he was drunk."

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—Dr. Arthur Beardslee, resident physician of the Hotel St. Francis, and the first doctor called to attend Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress, was one of the principal witnesses today in the third trial of Roscoe Arbuckle's film comedian, on a manslaughter charge growing out of Miss Rappe's death. Dr. W. F. Wakefield, proprietor of the sanitorium where Miss Rappe died, was another witness.

The evidence was largely technical.

TOCK HEAVY ON STRIKE OUTLOOK

ove to Lower Freight Rates Depresses Rails; Steels Show Gains

NEW YORK, March 22.—The eatened strike of the coal miners more pronounced hardening of ney rates, combined to bring about ther irregularity and occasional viness of stock market values to-

Coalers declined one to two points other rails were similarly de-ssed on reports that a concerted vement is under way to force a uction of freight rates by the in-state commerce commission. Eliminating several of the dormant obscure specialties in which gains es ranged from 2 to 5 points, vements in the popular industrials d miscellaneous groups were con-cted.

Pullman, Bethlehem and Marlin ckwell were among the issues to se at moderate gains. Eastman Ko-k on sales of a few odd lots, rose points to 74. Losses of large frac-ns to almost 3 points were sustained Mexican and Pan American Pet-eum, U. S. Steel, Studebaker, Amer-n Sugar and Cuba Cane.

Sale 965,000 shares.

Call money opened and renewed at per cent, but the inquiry from okerage houses sent the rate to per cent at midday and to 5½ r cent in the final hour. Reduced ers were attributed to the drawing wn of locals by interior banks.

Dealings in foreign exchanges ex-nded considerably. Sterling rose c over yesterday's low and allied mittances were 3 to 10 points high-Scandinavian, Swiss and Spanish ls also strengthened but the Ger-n mark continued to weaken.

MRS. T. B. WEDD FEELS HAPPY AS A GIRL AGAIN

All Her Former Health and Bouyancy of Spirit Has Returned Since Taking Tanlac—Gains 21 Pounds

"When I started taking Tanlac I only weighed ninety-five pounds. It simply was astonishing how quickly I began to regain my weight and also my strength. I now weigh one hundred and sixteen pounds and never felt better in my life," said Mrs. B. T. Wedd, 1290 Thirteenth Ave., East, Vancouver, B. C.

"From the time I had the flu about a year ago until I began taking Tanlac, I hadn't known a well day. I had no appetite and nothing agreed with me. I was almost a nervous wreck, too, and I fell off in weight until I was a mere shadow of my former self.

"I not only gained twenty-one pounds in weight by taking Tanlac, but it has toned up my stomach so that I eat anything and everything I want and nothing ever seems to disagree with me. My nerves are calm and steady now, too, and I get up in the morning feeling as happy as I did when a girl. My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

Tanlac is sold in Nelson by the Canada Drug & Book Co., and by leading druggists everywhere.

"Jigger" Statz

CHICAGO CUB'S $100,000. RECRUIT OUTFIELDER OBTAINED FROM THE LOS ANGELES CLUB

"Jigger" Statz is in again.

When this yearling from Holy Cross bobbed up into the big show with the Giants in 1919 he was heralded as a real find. "Jiggers" had won fame as a college hitter, brilliant outfielder and a shifty base runner.

McGraw's outfield was pretty well taken care of with Kauff, Burns and Young, so a utility berth was the best Statz ever drew from the Giants.

Time found him with the Boston Red Sox by the waiver route, but he couldn't make the grade and speedily drifted out to the Pacific Coast league.

He batted .236 his first year in the west. Last season, however, he changed his style of batting and the port side of the plate seemed like home to him, for "Jiggers" cracked out the pill for a .310 average.

The past winter found him burning up the paths in the winter league in the Sunny state.

William Wrigley, who owns both the Chicago Cubs and the Los Angeles clubs, turned over the equivalent of $100,000 to himself, thereby obtaining the services of Statz for his Chicago club.

TRAIL AMATEURS GIVE BLESSING

Athletic Association of Smelter City Sends Best Wishes for Organization Here

Trail, B. C., March 20, 1922.
To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—We were much interested in reading the report of your interview with your esteemed mayor re the establishment of an Amateur Athletic association in Nelson, and on behalf of the Trail A. A. A. we send our earnest wishes for his success.

We do not wish to boast or in any way claim superiority for Trail, but we have had an Amateur Athletic association in existence here for three years, and have been fortunate enough to make a success of it in every way.

We shall be only too glad to help a sister organization in your city, in any possible way. We may add that last year our various teams all put up a successful and absolutely amateur game in all branches of sport. Our finances flourished so much that we were able to put aside $500 for future improvements to our park and we asked no man for more than $1 subscription.

HOLT. C. CALDICOTT.
Honorary Secretary.

ALLEN CUP TO REMAIN IN TORONTO

Granites Win Championship; Blot Out Westerners in Poor Exhibition

TORONTO, March 22.—The Allan cup remains in Toronto. This was decided tonight when Granites, Ontarior Hockey association champions, romped away with the final game against the Victorias of Regina, and outscoring the westerners by 7 to 0 in a rather poor exhibition of the game, won the Canadian championship by a total of 13 goals to 2 on the two game series.

At no time were the westerners in a position that threatened the four goal lead obtained on Monday night, although they put up a determined resistance in the first period and it was not until the bell had signalled the expiration of the playing time that Fox shoved in the first counter of the game. Granites counted two more early in the second period and were leading by 3 to 0 when the last period started. In the final period the locals demonstrated their superiority, scoring four goals.

Visitors Below Par

The game, on the whole, was not productive of good hockey, although there were times when it approached the caliber that is expected in the classic of the Canadian amateur hockey. The locals were all at the top of their form, while the visitors were not as good as they were on Monday. This may be due to the fact that Cecil Browne, the star of the team, was unable to play on account of an injured hip sustained in the first game, but those who have seen the westerners perform in the earlier games when they were at full strength, were not at all backward in stating that the Curlers tonight were better than the Victorias have been at any time this season.

The Granites presented a stone wall defense and the few shots that passed Fox and Munroe were ably handled by Collett, who had a comparatively safe time between the posts.

The visitors missed Browne a lot, but they also weakened themselves by the manner in which they laid on the hickory and drew down seven penalties to two imposed on the locals.

McCusker again gave a great exhibition and with an ordinary goalkeeper there is no doubt the Curlers' total would have been twice as much.

Local Defense Strong

The local defense was strong and in addition Fox and Munroe did consderable rushing, each getting a goal, although they deserved more than one each for their offensive work. McCaffery turned in his best performance of the season and he showed more speed than usual. Watson was the chief goal getter, with three counters, and he played his usual effective and spectacular game, but the other three, Romeril, McCaffery and Abbott, were not far behind theother pair in effectiveness.

McCusker was easily the star of the visitors, and Chum Irvin looked the best of the rest of the crowd, who showed lack of experience. Davidson failed to repeat his performance of Monday. Marker was of little use and the defense was weakened by Hackney's three penalties. Lindsay was good in spots, as was also Pete Irvin, while Mollard tried hard. The westerners carried their sticks high all the time.

Penalties—Davidson 2, Irvin 2, Hackney 3, Fox 1, Romeril 1.

Lineup

Granites	Position	Regina
Collett	Goal	McCusker
Munro	Defense	Hackney
Fox	Defense	Barker
Romeril	Center	Davidson
McCaffrey	Wing	Irvin
Watson	Wing	Lindsay
Abbott	Sub	Mollard
Jeffrey	Sub	P. Irvin

Referee—J. Gardiner, Montreal. Judge of play—J. Hughes, Winnipeg.

FORT WILLIAM WINS TROPHY

WINNIPEG, March 22.—The great war veterans of Fort William are the junior hockey champions of the Dominion for 1922. They won the John Ross Robertson memorial trophy here tonight by playing a three-goal draw with the Regina Patricias, winning the two-game series by eight goals to seven, by virtue of their five to four victory on Monday night.

MONTREAL, March 22.—The Montreal Star today announced that it will print no more news about professional boxing matches held here, until a regular commission is appointed. The Star says: "Burlesque fights have been held here and the public has been fleeced by promoters of the game."

HOLD WESTERNERS TO AN EVEN BREAK

Thunder Bay Champions Have Stiff Battle With Patricias

WINNIPEG, March 22.—It was one of the most heartbreaking finishes ever seen in a cup final. The Thunder Bay champions had a difficult time holding the westerners to an even break, as for two-thirds of the way the Patricias backed the war veterans up against their, nets and it was only the stiffest kind of checking that blocked their valiant efforts to at least tie up the count.

Though the Fort Williams were returned the victors, they were not the better team tonight. They did not look nearly as good as in the first contest. Only a fey minutes in the second session when they tallied twice through the sharp shooting of Fred Whyte, the speedy wing, were the new champions really dangerous. For the rest of the way they were kept busy holding back the dashing play of the losers, who fought with a determination that took some beating. Young Acaster at center for the Reginas was in such rare form that it took the entire Fort William team to stop him at times. Twice he skated right through for goals and he put up one of the neatest exhibitions of skating and stickhandling seen here for some time. Naismith gave him good support, while the defense also held up well.

Freddy Whyte got all three goals for Fort William, taking a pass for one of them, but it was his clever shooting that was responsible for them all. But it was the defense that stood out most prominent for the winners, Enright playing brilliantly in goal and was given strong support by Adams and Bourke.

Regina was the first to score when Acaster stickhanled right into the Fort William net and tipped the puck past Enright, but Whyte tied it up shortly before the end of the period. The ice was faster for the second period and Regina again took the lead in scoring, Acaster doing it all alone again. But shortly after Whyte got in a couple of his terrific drives and Fort William was one goal in the lead. It took a lot of strong offensive play for the Patricias to get the goal which tied up the score, Naismith shooting from outside the defense. The final period was played on slushy ice, but the athletes traveled at a fast pace all the way. Regina put the entire team into the attack and the last two minutes had the extra man, but could not beat the stiff checking. Regina went down to defeat with colors flying. There was a big demonstration at the finish, the Forts being carried off the ice.

Officials—Referee, W. Breen; judge of play, Connie Neil.

Penalties—First period, Adams, 2; second period, Bates, Bourke; third period, Whyte, Pettinger, Thornse.

Shots stopped—By Enright, 8, 14, 10—32; by Bennett, 9, 10, 6—25.

Summary.

First period—1, Regina, Acaster, 5:20; 2, Fort Williams, Whyte, 6:05.

Second period—3 Regina, Acaster, 2:10; 4, Fort William, Whyte, :55; 5, Fort William, Whyte, 3:00; 6, Regina, Naismith, 8:45.

Third period—No score.

OUTSIDER WINS LINCOLNSHIRE

Granely First Home; Favorite Runs Third; Monarch Second

LONDON, March 22.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—Thirty-two horses ran in the Lincolnshire handicap, the first of the spring handicaps to be run on the flat this year at Lincoln, the big field proving disastrous to the favorites, and an outsider, Granely, a 4-year-old brown colt by Orby, out of Granite, owned by James White, won by five lengths; Sir Henry Bird's Monarch, second choice, took second place, beating out the favorite, N. Baring's Roman Bachelor, by half a length. The winner, quoted at odds of 20 to 1 against, carried 108 pounds, with Donoghue up, and was trained by H. Cotterill. Monarch, in second place, was ridden by Childs and carried the second highest impost, or 118 pounds. Ten to one was quoted against Monarch at post time. Roman Bachelor, the heavily backed favorite who finished third, carried the top weight of 126 pounds and Archibald had the mount. Odds of five to one were quoted against the favorite.

Monarch and Granely were prominent in the running, but at the end Granely had the race well in hand, winning in a canter by five lengths. Pro Consul, owned by Mrs. S. Whitburn, finished in fourth place. Time of race, one minute 43 1-3 seconds.

A large crowd was present for the closing day of the spring meet and the weather was fine, but cold. The track was in good condition and the going was good.

PROMISES FILMS FOR CONVENTION

Hon. William Sloan Announces Department Will Boost Mining Meet Here

Arrangements for holding a general meeting in the board of trade rooms on March 29 for committees and all interested in making the fourth annual International Mining convention here a success, were made at a meeting of the executive in Secretary F. A. Starkey's office on Tuesday night. Those attending were J. R. Hunter, vice-chairman; Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines; H. W. Crossley, H. A. Johnson, W. E. Widdowson, J. A. Gilker, treasurer, and F. A. Starkey, secretary.

The report of the auditor, H. E. Dill, showed that the association hed a cash balance of 300, with which to carry on initial work in connection with the convention, which will be attended by many mining men and financiers from the northwestern United States as well as British Columbia.

Hon. William Sloan announced that the provincial department of mines would do its utmost to make the convention a success. He promised that a number of motion pictures would be shown for advertising purposes. The department had several films of the Anyox mines and smelter which would be at the disposal of the convention. He suggested also that films should be taken and shown of the Trail smelter and the Rossland mines, and other properties of big interest. The suggestion was taken up, and Secretary Starkey was authorized to seek the cooperation of the smelter and mining interests in that regard.

At the general meeting on Wednesday local committees will be appointed and other preliminary organization effected. S. S. Fowler of Riondel will take the chair.

POLLING GIVES RISE TO ARREST

Patrick Long Is Charged With Voting as Patric Low; Out on Bail

On the basis of an information laid by Harry Wright Conservative campaign manager, Patrick Long, who voted at the Eagle hall poll at 11:15 o'clock yesterday morning, giving his name as Patric Low, and signing that name on the register, was arrested by the city police at noon yesterday, and placed in the city lockup. Later he was granted bail by Magistrate W. Brown, and was released, P. J. Rahal oing as his bondsman.

Mr. Long claimed that he was the person whose name was given on the list, and that he was told by the Liberals that it would be all right for him to vote on the name as printed His right to vote was not challenged until after his vote had been cast, and when the challenge was put on, neither the name of Patrick Long nor Patric Low could be discovered in the affidavits on file from the registrar of voters.

The information charges that he did vote as Patric Low, knowing he was Patrick Long.

Another case where a voter was challenged by the Conservatives, and his vote was admitted on his taking an oath that he was the person whose name appeared on the list, occurred, and in this case also the affidavit made with the registrar was missing.

GRANTS LEAVE TO ENTER JUDGMENT

Judge Forin Finds for Plaintiffs in Suit Against Lindsley Bros for Large Sum

Judge J. A. Forin has handed down his decision in the application made by the plaintiffs for a speedy judgment in the action of Baskin and the Hall Cedar company vs. the Lindsley Brothers company of Spokane, in which the sum of $17,141 was claimed.

His honor granted leave to enter judgment, on the ground that the defense offered to the action was a sham and made for the purpose of securing delay.

This is the suit in which the plaintiffs sought to recover for poles cut at Hall and at Porcupine, and in which the defendants alleged that the original written contract was substituted by a verbal contract by which the Lindsley Brothers Canadian company was to take the place of the Lindsey Brothers company of Spokane.

Hamilton & Wragge appeared for the plaintiffs, and Dugald Donaghy of Vancouver and Brown & Dawson appeared for the defendants

GOLF CLUB ASKS TO CLOSE ROADS

On behalf of the Nelson Golf club Brown & Dawson made an application before Judge J. A. Forin in chambers this week to secure an amendment of a plan, and for the closing of roads which traverse the links in Rosemont.

E. G. Matthew, acting for J. OGenski and other residents of that locality, opposed the application.

At the request of the attorney-general the hearing was adjourned by his honor to April 10.

LOWER THE AGE FOR BORROWERS

Library Board Is Increasing the Facilities for the Juvenile Borrowers

Under a ruling made by the library board at a meeting Tuesday night, the age limit for borrowers is reduced from 18 years to 16 years, thus bringing a large number of school pupils hitherto shut out from borrowing privileges, into that category.

In the near future children who have their parents' consent will be allowed to have the privileges of the library.

The lending rules provide that each borrower may have out one fiction and one non-fiction or juvenile book, or two non-fiction books.

Beginning tomorrow the library will close reguraly at 9 oclock at night.

W. J. Bowser, leader of the opposition in the legislature, and Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines, left for the coast last night, after hearing the result of the byelection.

J. E. Annable will leave this morning via the Great Northern for the coast, and before his return will attend the convention at Victoria, of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia, as delegate of the Nelson board of trade.

FIRE AUTO THRILLS ELECTION CROWDS

Excitement in addition to that attending the byelection was caused by the sudden appearance of the city auto fire truck on Baker street at 7:05 oclock last night. The crowds thronging the sidewalks awaiting the election results, followed the counter thriller, expectantly, only to find a false alarm had been turned in from box 21, Josephine and Baker streets.

QUALITY

We believe that quality is as big a boon to humanity as education. Just as education advances civilization, quality advances business. Our profit is not based on the single sale, but on the endless chain of additional sales that come through "one telling another!"

Suits, Shirts, Hosiery, Etc.
