POLICE USE BAYONETS ON BELFAST MOB

Street Firing Becomes Intense; Casualties Pass the Hundred Mark.

SAVAGELY ATTACK FALLS ROAD MILLS

Assistant Manager Killed at Desk; Clerk Wounded; Shooting Indiscriminate.

BELFAST, Feb. 15.—Firing in the Stanhope street area when the disorders broke out anew this afternoon, after a lull of several hours, became so intense that police, hurried to the scene, were forced to use their arms to subdue the snipers. But disorderly crowds continued to gather and a bayonet charge was ordered, in which a civilian was badly wounded. The district simmered with excitement throughout the afternoon.

About 5 o'clock there was a renewed outbreak of firing from the old lodge road into Townsend street, one street from Stanhope. One man was killed and two persons were seriously wounded. Many others were taken to hospitals after the rioting earlier in the afternoon. With those injured in the latest outbreak, the number of casualties for four days passes the hundred mark.

The attack this afternoon on the Northern Spinning mills in the Falls road, in which the assistant manager, Wm. Duffin, was killed and a clerk wounded, was particularly savage. Six men invaded the offces, drew their revolvers and fired indiscriminately. Duffin, busy at his desk, fell dead immediately. Some 15 shots were fired. Duffin is a nephew of Adam Duffin, member of the northern Ireland senate.

James Morrison, aged 20, who was shot by the police yesterday after an attack on workmen repairing a tramcar, died today in a hospital.

Bomb Wounds Four.

BELFAST, Feb. 15.—A bomb was thrown in the dock district, wounding Father McGrath, Constable O'Rourke, Mary Hart and James Maxwell. Four men entered the home of Charles McMullen and shot him. He is in a dying condition. It is announced that additional troops are coming to Belfast from Ballykinlar.

HOUSE FOLLOWS ROUTINE COURSE

Question of Smoking Privilege Provokes First Division Alberta Legislature.

EDMONTON, Feb. 15.—Outside of a missing incident or two, the legislature Wednesday followed a routine course, it being the first real business sitting of the assembly since the opening, with a number of bills advancing through second reading, and one measure (amendments to the municipal districts act) rushed through second reading in committee of the whole and finally passed.

One of the passing "incidents" provoked the first division of the new house, this arising in committee of the whole over which M. C. McKeen, deputy speaker, presided. This being the frst stage of committee work this session, old members raised the question as to the feeling of the house in regard to smoking, the rules of the house permitting smoking during committee work but at no time while the speaker occupies the chair.

TO STAND TRIAL FOR MURDER OF JAILER

GUELPH, Ont. Feb. 15.—John Bedard was today committed for trial on the charge of murder in connection with the death of Jailer McNab, who he is charged to have assaulted while in jail. Bedard escaped and was arrested in New Jersey and extradited.

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 15.—Both houses of parliament have adopted unanimously the government proposal for granting the sum of one million kroner for aiding the starving in Russia. The kroner nominally is worth about 27c.

SASKATCHEWAN FARMERS ENTER INTO POLITICS

Organize for Provincial Election Purposes; Approve Grain Growers.

REGINA, Feb. 15.—The Saskatchewan organized farmers are in provincial politics as an association, as the result of action taken almost unanimously at their 21st convention here this afternoon. There still has to be considered the manner in which they are to organize to secure the fullest expression of their political views. A section of the convention is convinced that their political activities should be conducted under the direct responsibility of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association, and this was the course recommended by H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, who closed the afternoon session with an hour's address. On the other hand, there are those who want to keep the political branch distinct from the organiztaion's economic objectives. The discussion is to be continued tomorrow morning.

Text of Resolution.

The resolution, which was adopted with great enthusiasm and not more than a dozen dissentors, reads as follows:

"Whereas, As we hold it to be the duty of all citizens to interest themselves in all matters of government and to express themselves by the exercise of their regular franchise in elections; and,

"Whereas, For effectual expression they must group themselves according to the principles and purposes they hold in common; and,

"Whereas, While facilities have been provided for expression of our common political principles federally, no such provision has been made provincially; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That this convention favors taking the necessary steps to provide for the organization of the supporters of these common principles and objects for provincial election purposes."

A resolution was then moved that the association go into provincial politics along the lines of the United Farmers of Alberta. J. B. Musselman, secretary of the association, then endeavored to sum up the situation.

"You have," he told the convention, "decided that the grain growers' association shall take responsibility for the organization of those electors in this province who stand for the things for which you stand."

The secretary said that in the past he had been of the opinion that the association's political activities should be separated from its general functions, but he was now inclined to think his judgment had been at fault. The people generally were of the opinion that the association as such had gone into federal politics.

The grain growers could not escape responsibility for the federal political organization, the new national policy political association.

Today's action was inevitable. "You have decided," he said, "that the grain growers' association is going into provincial political action."

"No, we have not," declared a delegate. The secretary expressed the firm belief that since the association had to take full responsibility for whatever was done as the result of passing the resolution, all its political organizations should be within the association.

Avoid Personalities.

The debate continued for about two hours, and no opinion came from the executive until the resolution had carried. Speakers avoided personalities and discussed only in a general way what they considered the necessity for the step they were taking.

There is no provincial platform in existence and some speakers minimized the importance of such a document. The attitude was taken that the matter of first importance was to build up an efficient fighting organization, after which the writing of a formal policy could be taken up.

G. D. Ward, who moved the political resolution, expressed the view that the function of the association was educational and should continue. It was not a good thing, he thought, that the association as such should be mixed up in politics.

He thought that the association as

SLOAN PREDICTS RENEWED LIFE FOR KOOTENAY GOLD AND SILVER MINES

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15.—Optimism was the keynote of Hon. William Sloan's address to the convention of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, which came to a close today. The day was devoted to a discussion of metal mining.

John Cunliffe, a Vancouver mining engineer, criticized the address delivered before the convention yesterday by Professor Uglow of the University of British Columbia. Mr. Cunliffe said that the professor had not done justice to the commercial possibilities of the eocene coal basin at Chua Chua. Professor Uglow defended his estimate of the territory.

Need Careful Management.

S. S. Fowler of Nelson spoke at the luncheon today, reviewing the output and value of minerals in British Columbia. Ore is of low grade in this province, he said, and the management of mines needs to be carefully conducted. The operator received about 12 per cent of the value of his product, said Mr. Fowler, after paying all expenses.

A paper prepared by W. A. Johnson of the Canadian geological survey said that the Williams creek district of the Caribo has produced between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 worth of placer gold.

Indications of Revival.

The minister of mines reviewed the entire provincial field in the course of his address. He quoted figures to show that decreases recorded in provincial metal production were not greater proportionately than decreases in sections of the United States where the industry is firmly established. Lead output in this province had increased 45 per cent and zinc 10 per cent. Of silver, the Premier mine alone had produced a million ounces. There were clear indications of a revival in gold and silver producing properties in British Columbia, both lode and placer. Should present auguries be borne out, 1922 would see renewed life in the Slocan silver camps, in other portions of the boundary and in the Kootenays.

Summarizing the output of British Columbia mines, Mr. Sloan said that in 1921 it is estimated that $12,856,865 worth of coal was mined in this province. The worth of the copper output was $4,872,000.

Compares With Arizona.

In a comparison of the metal resources of British Columbia with those of the state of Arizona, Mr. Sloan said that it was not an extravagant prediction that the future held as much in store as has been bestowed on Arizona. He compared mineral areas and water power facilities with neighboring states and provinces, and urged the responsibility which rested on those who pioneered in the development of British Columbia's mineral wealth to realize the infinite possibilities therein. He closed with a tribute to the genius and enterprise of the faculty of geology in the University of British Columbia.

Geologists Hold Forth.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 5.—Geological men held forth at this morning's session of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. Dr. George Hansen presented a paper on the Dolly Varden mine and Professor S. J. Schofield gave a short description of the occurrences of ore bodies in the Britannia mine.

DENOUNCES STRIKE QUEBEC PRINTERS

International Typographical Union Holds Up Parliamentary Work.

QUEBEC, Feb. 15.—(By Canadian Press.)—A strong denunciation of the International Typographical union was delivered in the legislative assembly here this afternoon by Premier Taschereau in connection with the strike which took effect here today of all the international union men employed in job printing plants. The men are asking for a 44-hour week and an increased wage scale and the strike seriously hampers the work of the Quebec legislature.

Premier Taschereau said: "We are now facing a situation where the international union is in a position to hold up our parliamentary work, possibly for one month. All our projects of legislation are in Quebec printing shops, which are affected by the strike, and the men will not permit the work to be continued. We shall begin all over again, if necessary, and we will dispense with the international unions. Our order paper today was printed by a Catholic union. These men are not on strike and they are satisfied with the salaries they receive."

The premier declared that the men were asking an increase of 40 per cent in wages and said "at a time like this when not hundreds, but thousands, of men are out of work, I say that it is a crime against the Canadian nation to make such demands."

A strike of the international union men employed in the newspapers is also threatened pending a settlement between the men and the employers.

As the job printers are out on strike, the employers are at present dealing only with the committee representing the newspaper printers, who are also demanding a 44-hour week and a higher wage scale.

The two morning newspapers, the Chronicle and L'Evenemental, will be published tomorrow, as will also the afternoon papers, L'Acton Catholique, the local clerical daily, is the only paper that is not affected. The printers employed there are members of the Natoinal Catholic union.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Dr. James Martin Peebles, physician and author, lacking 40 days of being 100 years of age, died at his residence here today.

PROPOSE NEW WAGE SCALE

Builders' Convention Excludes Press and Members of Labor Organizations.

CALGARY, Feb. 5.—The Western Building and Construction Industries convention, after two sessions today, from which the press and all members of labor organizations were excluded, issued a statement that labor will be asked to accept reduced wages on the following scale per hour:

Bricklayers, 90 cents; plasterers, 85 cents; carpenters, 70 cents; plumbers, 85 cents; steamfitters, 85 cents; sheet metal workers, 75 cents; painters, 70 cents; electricians, 75 cents; stonecutters, 75 cents, and structural steel workers, 90 cents per hour. For laborers a sliding scale of from 40 to 50 cents was adopted.

The resolution read as follows:

"Whereas, The present scale of wages is not in the best interests of the building and construction industries in general, this convention does earnestly request that labor will cooperate with us to the fullest possible extent by agreeing to work longer hours per day during the favorable working season. The delegates suggest that the following revised schedule of wages for all workmen engaged in the building and construction industries be put into active operation."

It was decided to leave the question of standard contracts and standard practices among men in the industry, to be dealt with by the individual building exchanges in the west. The convention decided to petition the governments of the western provinces to adopt one uniform workmen's compensation act on the grounds that this would be most satisfactory for all concerned.

Officers were elected as follows:

President, George E. Hughes, Calgary; vice-presidents, A. C. Cassidy, Saskatoon, and A. J. Bennett, Regina; executive committee, Alberta, C. C. Batson, Edmonton; A. Smith, Lethbridge; R. B. Stacey-Judd, Calgary, and J. W. Moffatt, Vernon, for British Columbia; Sasktachewan, S. R. Pritchard, Moose Jaw; P. W. Wilson, Regina; J. W. Shannon, Saskatoon; J. S. Robertson, Regina.

BOMBAY, Feb. 15.—C. R. Das, president-elect of the Indian National congress, was today sentenced to six months' imprisonment. He was charged with being manager of an unlawful association.

POPE DECIDES NEW CARDINALS.

ROME, Feb. 5.—Pope Pius has not yet announced his decision regarding the next consistory, but it is believed that his first consistory will occur in April or May, when the new cardinals already decided upon by the late Pope Benedict will be created. It is not expected here that any new American cardinals will be created at this consistory.

MRS. VIVASH OF EDMONTON DIES

NORRIS NEW LAND POLICY WINS EASILY

Amendments Defeated; Provides Foreclosure for Arrears; Exempt Soldiers.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15.—So far from coming to grief over its new lands policy, the Norris government in the legislature this afternoon won out with an ease that was not expected by even the most sanguine of its supporters.

The Talbot amendment to the amendment for special consideration for municipalities affected was thrown out by 37 to 6 and the Dixon amendment condemning the government for its past policy of leniency in connection with contracts was defeated, 34 to 9.

The resolution proposed by Premier Norris provides for foreclosure on lands in the event of arrears of principal and interest not being paid within six months. The premier had previously stated that cancellation in six months for arrears of principal would be drastically acted upon, and he again suggested that the resolution should be modified in such a way that it would apply to arrears of interest only and that returned soldiers should be among those exempt. Hon. T. H. Johnson, attorney-general, moved an amendment giving effect to these changes, and the debate was adjourned.

Some progress was made with consideration of the supply bill. Motions to reduce the members' indemnities from $1800 to $1500, or to cut them out altogether, were lost.

NORTH IRELAND WATCHING SOUTH

Form Joint Commissions on Border; Ulster Apprehends Violent Incursions.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—While there has been little amelioration of conditions in Belfast, firing at intervals throughout the day having been almost as serious as yesterday, adding considerably to the list of casualties, the general situation appears much more promising.

Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, was able to give the house important news that, on his suggestion, a joint commission had been agreed upon to investigate the facts of the border conflicts. Lord Birkenhead, in the house of lords, in making a similar announcement, added the opinion that he was not too sanguine in detecting in this step hope of further cooperation between Premier Craig and Michael Collins affording a prospect of a Pacific settlement.

A feature of the announcements of Mr. Churchill and Lord Birkenhead was the strong desire to afford fair play to both Mr. Craig and Mr. Collins, who were declared to be acting under the most difficult circumstances.

Another satisfactory incident was the release of 26 of the kidnaped captives through Mr. Collins' efforts, while, according to Mr. Churchill's statement in the house, the government evidently desires that the northern government should liberate the football players, whose detention probably is the only reason why some of the kidnaped captives are still held.

Mr. Collins had a long conference with Mr. Churchill today, but apparently has not seen Lloyd George. He left for Dublin tonight. He refused to talk to reporters, beyond stating he was "not dissatisfied with the result of the day's work." Before his departure he recovered a message from Dublin that 11 kidnaped men had been located and probably would be released tonight.

Release Half Only.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The London edition of the Irish Bulletin today asserts that the British government has decided to release only half of the Irish political prisoners in Great Britain. "This further discrimination in classes of Irish political prisoners," says the Bulletin, "has caused intense indignation of Irish residents throughout the country, and preparations are being made to intensify the campaign of protest against the haggling methods of the English government."

The charge in the Bulletin elicited the statement by the Irish office that there had been no change in the policy of the government with regard to the release of such prisoners since the colonial office announcement of February 11. (This announcement declared that steps were being taken pursuant to authority granted by the British cabinet, to release prisoners taken into custody for offenses committed in England from Irish political motives prior to the truce. Cases of post-truce offenders and cases in which those concerned were members of the British forces would be subject to further individual consideration.)

In some quarters it is pointed out that the protest in the Bulletin may refer to prisoners taken since the truce, but it is not believed there are any such in England.

OLIVER THREATENS RECOURSE TO IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT IF FREIGHT RATES NOT REDUCED

Provincial Premier at Ottawa Asserts Mountain Freight Rates Breach of Terms of Confederation; Doubts Authority of Railway Board to Settle M[illegible]er; Will Ask Mackenzie King to Include P. G. E. in [illegible]tional System; Delegation's Appeals Include Switchin[illegible] Facilities, Drydock and Grain Elevator.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(By Canadian Press.)—"If British Columbia does not win its fight for a reduction of the mountain freight rate scale now being carried on before the board of railway commissioners, the case will be laid before the Imperial government on the ground that the rates are a breach of the terms upon which the province entered confederation," Hon. John Oliver, British Columbia premier, declared this evening.

Mr. Oliver said that he doubted the right of the railway board to settle this mater, and expressed the belief that it was wholly a problem for the federal government. The western premier intimated that he would make this clear to the prime minister at their conference tomorrow. Mr. Oliver and members of the delegation, of which he is the head, will interview Mr. King at 2 o'clock, when they will request that the government add the Pacific Great Eastern railway to the national system.

Asked what answer he expected to this request, Oliver answered that "a man with a good suit of clothes and a little [illegible] could go far."

The railway is at present owned by the provincial government and is not yet completed. Approximately $40,000,000 has been expended so far.

The railway is at present owned by the provincial government and is not yet completed. Approximately $40,000,000 has been expended so far.

Other matters which will be presented to the prime minister by members of the delegation include appeals for the conclusion of the railway switching facilities at the port of Vancouver; the continuance of the work of constructing the Vancouver drydock; the erection of another grain elevator, and the appointment of a special deputy minister in the department of marine and fisheries, whose sole duty would be to administer the fisheries.

Mr. Oliver expects to remain here for several days.

DELIBERATE MAZE OF INEXACTITUDES

De Valera Criticizes Michael Collins, Griffith and Devoy as Misleading.

DUBLIN, Feb. 15.—Eamoon de Valera, replying to questions today with reference to Michael Collins' allegations of a pending coup d'etate in his statement of yesterday and what Mr. Collins meant thereby, and whether he would reply to Mr. Collins' article on "Document No. 2," and Mr. Griffith's criticism of his Sunday speech, said that he had no intention of following either Mr. Collins or Mr. Griffith any more than to follow John Devoy in the "elaborate maze of inexactitudes by which an attempt was being made to confuse the public mind."

If Document No. 2, in the words of Mr. Collins, did not contain much that was not contained in the treaty, nor much that Britain objected to, how was it, asked De Valera, that a terrible war would be the consequence of trying to get a settlement based on Document No. 2? "No, no," said De Valera, "they cannot have it both ways. The massed guns of the combined propaganda experts of the old castle and the new castle and Downing street are for the moment trained upon truth, but truth will prevail."

SPOOKS MYSTIFY AT ANTIGONISH

Start Fires, Drive Cattle; Uncanny Happenings Baffle Police.

ANTIGONISH, N. S., Feb. 15.—Spooks that set mysterious fires in the house of Alex McDonald at Caledonia Mills and unnfastened horses and cattle and drove them over the landscape, are still at large. Confessing themselves completely baffled by the mysterious happenings, Provincial Detective P. C. Carroll and Reporter W. Sidden have each offered a reward of $100 to the first person who can prove that the mysterious fires and other uncanny happenings at the McDonald homestead were caused by other than supernatural efforts.

SALMON ARM, Feb. 15.—A. T. Mitchell, a trapper, died recently in a lonely cabin near here. Since he came to this continent from Edinburgh 40 years ago he has owned farms in North Dakota, Alberta and British Columbia. He is believed to have a son working on the Grand Trunk Pacific. He was buried outside his cabin on account of the difficulty of transportation in the prevailing weather.

Wins Butter Championship.

EDMONTON, Feb. 15.—At the Alberta Dairymen's convention here for the second time the winner of the Burns challenge trophy is a Calgary man, according to results of the convention creamery exhibit made known.

O. Seversen was the winner, repeating his score of the previous year. His exhibit was made up of a 14-pound box of butter, churned from gathered cream as received from five or more patrons and put up during the months of May to October inclusive.

DROUGHT THREATENS NORTH DAKOTA STOCK

FARGO, N. D., Feb. 15.—Forty per cent of the cattle in the drought stricken counties of the southwestern part of North Dakota will die before spring if feed relief is not secured, according to advices received tonight by the state agricultural college here.

Efforts are under way to provide some means of relief.

DENMARK DECLARES GENERAL LOCKOUT

Greatest Labor Struggle in Country's History; Public Services Not Affected.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 15.—A general lockout was declared today throughout all Denmark. It affects nearly all industries, including the harbor workers in most of the ports, but not the seamen. It is considered the biggest labor struggle in the history of the country.

The trouble began toward the end of January when the employers attempted to make a 20 per cent cut in wages with longer hours. The unions lack funds and as there are already 100,000 unemployed in Denmark, the situatio nis most serious.

The newspapers and public services are not affected by the lockout.

GENERAL REDUCTION MAY BE MADE IN CITY'S ASSESSMENT

After Two-Hour Hearing Court of Revision Adjourns to This Morning to Make Final Decision; McCune and Mack Appeals Are Reopened; Over-Assessment of Baker Street Is Claimd.

There is a strong probability that the entire assessment of the city of Nelson will be reduced by a substantial proportion, when the civic court of revision reconvenes this morning at 11 o'clock.

After a two-hour session yesterday, at which the court reopened the appeals of D. St. Denis for A. W. McCune, and E. G. Matthew for W. Mack, respecting two Baker street corners, sentiment in the court was somewhat divided on the matter, but the preponderance of opinion appeared to be in favor of bringing the assessment closer to actual values, even though the tax rate in consequence would rise startingly.

The principal argument advanced in favor of the downward cut was that the people would know just what they were paying, with the assessments representing actual value. The principal argument on the opposite side was that such a cut would boost the tax rate, and deter intending investors.

There were present as the court, Mayor C. F. McHardy, and Aldermen Kenneth Campbell, W. M. Cunliffe and A. S. Horswill, with the assessor, City Clerk W. E. Wasson, and in the audience D. St. Denis, E. G. Matthew, C. W. Appleyard, W. R. Allen, John Bell, L. K. Larson, W. Mack, Daniel Herb, J. R. Hunter, J. A. Irving, D. Kerr, John Arglye and others.

St. Denis Says Baker Street Over-Assessed.

Mr. St. Denis, speaking of A. W. McCune's property on the northwest corner of Stanley and Baker, stated that Mr. McCune had bought the property for $8000, and that since then the building had been burned and removed. Three inquiries had been received for the property, and each inquirer regarded $8000 as excessive. He stated the property was never in its history worth the $12,000 at which it was now assessed, and he did not think that price had ever been asked for it.

He took the stand that all Baker street was excessively valued for assessment purposes, the 80 lots from Kootenay to Hendryx being valued at $626,000, against $2,060,000 for the 610 acres in the whole city. This meant that the 80 lots on Baker street were bearing three-tenths of the total taxation burden of the city.

Mr. St. Denis said the argument that the McCune property was equitably assessed as compared with other properties on the same corner had no bearing, as the assessment was supposed to be based on value. He claimed, however, that the assessment on the McCune property was, in fact, inequitable, as the corner lot was valued at one-quarter of the valuation of the first six, and yet from its nature could only have an entrance from Baker street. A difference of $4000 was too great between the McCune lot and the next one, and $7000 was too great a difference between the McCune and J. P. Morgan corners. In the next block The Daily News was only assessed at $2500.

Mack a Willing Vendor.

Speaking on behalf of Mr. Mack, Mr. Matthew said that the act said the assessment must be based on the value, and the value was what a willing vendor would sell at and a willing purchaser would pay. Mr. Mack's property, on the southeast corner of Josephine and Baker, now assessed at $19,000, was bought by Mr. Mack for $7000, and he would sell at $9000 tomorrow. It was thus assessed at $10,000 more than its sale value, and $12,000 more than had been paid for it. He offered to double the price Mr. Mack paid, and throw on another $1000, and call the value $15,000. The fact that other owners had not objected was not a factor in the case at all, Mr. Matthew claimed.

Asked by Mr. Wasson if he considered the Mack property inequitably assessed in comparison with the other properties on the corner, Mr. Matthew said he was only dealing with the legal aspects. He stated that C. R. Hamilton, K. C., had a good building and good tenants, and the Wood-Vallance Hardware company also got good value. Asked by Mr. Wasson to consider the land without the buildings, Mr. Matthew contended that if the city developed, the block containing the Wood-Vallance property would be more valuable because there were business sites from it right around to the post office, while nothing could grow up behind Mr. Mack's place.

A Board of Equilization.

Mayor McHardy pointed out that the court of revision was also a board of equalization under the act, and while the appellants might not desire to consider whether the assessment was equitable, the court had to. While it had just been shown that properties had been over-assessed as to value, it was not claimed that they were inquitably assessed. One week ago the court heard 50 appeals, and there was not one serious charge of inequality.

Mr. Matthew said he was not concerned with the question of inequality—he was going by the act.

Mr. Wasson—You are going by one part of the act.

Herb Gives Vernon Street.

The mayor asked whether it was the wish of the court to hear the views of other large property owners present, who were not making appeals. The opinion was unanimous that these views would be of great assistance to the court.

Mr. Herb said his lot on Vernon street, bought many years ago, cost $400, and the highest value it ever had was $600, but it was now assessed at $1200.

Mayor McHardy—Is it inequitably assessed?

Mr. Herb—Oh, my neighbors are assessed the same.

Mr. Appleyard said while one lot on Baker street might be equitably assessed as compared with its neighbors, it was common knowledge that Baker street was overassessed. There was a great inequality between the assessed value and the actual value of Baker street property.

Appleyard for School Economy.

To the mayor Mr. Appleyard admitted that in many cases residence property was also overassessed, and to Mr. Cunliffe that probably any property owner in Nelson might be induced to claim he was overassessed.

Alderman Cunliffe—In that case, if we grant Mr. St. Denis a reduction, others will pay for it.

Mr. Appleyard claimed the city was putting values on Baker street which were not true. It was a question of reassessment all down the line.

Alderman Cunliffe—If we reduced the assessment on all property in the city how would we secure taxes? What would you suggest?

Mr. Appleyard—Certain economies might be effected in administration.

Alderman Cunliffe—You refer to the schools?

Mr. Appleyard—I certainly do.

Alderman Campbell discussed with Mr. Appleyard the alteration in the tax rate that must ensue upon a general reduction in the assessment.

Asked by Mr. Wasson what percentage the city was overassessed in his estimation, Mr. Appleyard replied that "a 20 to 25 per cent reduction on residence property would help out."

Wasson Says It's Taxation.

Mr. Wasson—You don't get the point. A certain amount of money must be raised for the purposes of the city. If the people desire that the assessment be reduced by 50 per cent, for instance, I have no doubt but that the court of revision will meet their wishes. But it will not affect the taxes. Your question is not a question of assessment, but a question of taxation.

Mr. Wasson said he had not claimed, for some years at any rate, that the city's assessment was upon the actual value, but he had claimed, and still claimed, that it was equitable. They had hoped in the past that by 1922 the public utilities would be bearing the load, but it was not yet so. Some consideration should be given to the matter of rate. If the assessment was reduced, the rate must be raised. All the financial houses secured from the city hall the figures of each levy, and he did not believe that having a high tax rate would be in the interests of the city.

Answering Mr. Irving as to what rate would be required if the assessment were reduced 20 per cent, Mr. Wasson said he had figured out that if the whole assessment was reduced 25 per cent, there would be a difference of $22,000 in taxes to be made up. If this $22,000 was levied upon the improvements, it would add 15 mills to their rate.

If it was all put on land, the rate on land would be 55 instead of 44 mills. There was no limit to what the council might levy, for it might levy for a good many things, but the general rate could not exceed 20 mills. As a matter of fact, Mr. Wasson said, it had never yet been half of that figure.

Mr. St. Denis asked what would be the joect of reducing the whole city, and Mr. Wasson's reply that if Baker street is over-assessed, so was Stanley street, led dto a discussion of the relative values of the land on which the Annable block stood, with that of the McCune sit. In this, the mayor and Mr. St. Denis took radically opposite views on the question of inequality, though agreeing on the general allegation of over-assessment.

Case for Reduction Good.

The mayor finally stated that he had thought hard on this question, and he believed those asking for a reduction had made out a good case, but it was an equally good case for a general reduction all over the city. If the court of revision reduced the assessment all around, with the consequence that the council had to raise the rate of taxation, and it would bring home to the people the exact state of affairs. He would be in favor of it if it would not go outside of Nelson. At a meeting of business men he had attened Tuesday, the opinion was that it would be inadvisable to make the change.

Mr. St. Denis—Your tax rate hasn't assisted you much in the past.

Mayor McMardy—We're the most solid town in the province.

Mr. St. Denis—You ought to be. Each year takes a little more.

Ald. Cunliffe referred to the heavy taxation in South Vancouver, where he was unfortunate enouugh to own some property.

Mr. Matthew said if Nelson was the best off financially, and also had the highest rate, how were these two facts reconciled?

Mayor McHardy—Our rate is high because our valuation is so low—(guffaw from Mr. St. Denis)—compared with other towns.

Hunter and Kerr Satisfied.

Mr. Hunter stated he had been asked to protest against the assessment, but had refused, as he presumed it was on an equitable basis, and it would not be fair for him to receive a reduction and not others. A reduction of the assessment would mean only one thing, a higher millage. He felt that the effect of a greatly increased tax rate would be detrimental on the outside to Nelson's interests. He did not think it would be well to start any general revision.

Mr. Kerr stated that the A. Macdonald & Co. property on Front street was assessed at $64,000, and Mr. Macdonald would take $40,000 for it.

Mayor McHardy—So long as your property is equitably assessed with others, Mr. Kerr, it will satisfy you. But are you in favor of cotting the assessment down all over the city?

Mr. Kerr—I don't think it would be good business to reduce the assessment all through. The investor looks at the rate more than the assessment.

Mr. Hunter said Nelson was not a big city, and at present was practically a one-street town, so far as values were concerned. When one got off Baker street, prices declined.

The mayor added that three streets each side of Baker was the limit of business property.

When Mr. Larson was asked for his opinion, he said his solution was to cut down the overhead.

"That will save us all," he added.

General Rate Low.

Ald. Cunliffe asked where the expenditures should be cut, pointing out that outside of the public utilities, the city's debt was only about $75,000.

Mr. Wasson said the city had $340,000 in the sinking fund to meet its maturing obligations, and a large part of the annual levy was to meet charges of this nature. The past year the city levied a general rate of only eight mills. All the other rates it levied were for things beyond its control, such as sinking fund and school. He claimed that coast cities had five to 10 times Nelson's assessment.

Mr. StDenis pointed out that the New Westminster assessor had just reduced New Westminster's assessment, and on top of that the court of revision had made another reduction of $50 a front foot.

Ymir Road Will Restore Values

Ald. Horswill said the city was undoubtedly 50 per cent overassessed. Wasn't it better to let the assessment alone, than to advertise the city as having a higher tax rate? He believed there was some inequality in the McCune corner. The real values would soon climb up to the assessment when the Ymir road came through, he claimed.

Mr. Appleyard urged that the city put its cards on the table, and use actual values in its assessment. When the true condition was known it might be a salutary lesson and result in public economies.

Mr. St. Denis—I assure you, the financial houses are not entirely dependent on the city hall for their information regarding values.

If the truth were only known, Mr. Hunter said, the salaries of teachers in Nelson were three times those of Baker street merchants.

Mr. Irving expressed the belief that it would be a mistake to lower the assessment and raise the tax rate. The first question outsiders asked was, "What is you rtax rate?"

Reduction Favored.

It was now after 6 o'clock, and the court dismissed the witnesses and deliberated for a few minutes, finally adjourning to this morning.

Both the mayor and Mr. Wasson advocated a reduction all round, of the assessment, and apparently won over the three aldermen, the actual decision, however, remaining over to this morning.

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER STOMACH FOR FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millerdale, Sask., writes: "I feel that I must write to you before another day passes I am so happy and so grateful to your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better.

"I had stomach trouble so bad I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I had four doctors attend me, but they did me no good. I was in no pain, but felt so ill at times I thought I would die in fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks.

"This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken. However, he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out a little every day, but could not go alone I was so weak, but I soon got so I could walk and eat, and have got quite stout.

I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my housework.

"You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am."

such shoud not be mixed up in politics.

The president of the Alberta association was given a hearty reception. He told the convention that the only strength of their political movement was in their organization, and that political actions was based absolutely on organization. He said the democratic system which had been instituted by the United Farmers of Alberta had already gone a long way toward raising the standards of citizenship in that province.

A thorough, unbiased investigation of the grain trade was demanded. It was not the desire of the convention that the old royal grain inquiry board should do this work.

Progressive members elected to parliament from Saskatchewan last December were on the platform at tonight's session of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' convention.

Real Test Cold Legislation.

They were received with hearty applause.

Norman Lambert, secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, addressed the convention, dealing briefly with the place and function of the Progressives in politics. "The real test," he said, "of our representatives in parliament and of our organizations which were mainly responsible for placing these men in parliament will be measured in terms of cold legislation."

An address also was given by W. J. Orchard, chairman of the provincial Progressive organization.

ATHLETIC FIGURE GOES TO PRAIRIE

Griffith Morris, Red Triangle Physical Director, Gets Boost to Edmonton.

Tomorrow, Griffith Morris, physical directr of the local Y. M. C. A. for the past four years, leaves for Edmonton to take over the position of physical director of the Y. M. C. A. in that city. His resignation from the local institution has been accepted by the board of directors, who, while loath to see him go, were extremely glad to see Mr. Morris singled out for the position.

Edmonton, a city of 50,000 people is rated as a man's town, and possesses many attractiones for a man with Mr. Morris' abilities and bent. Its Y. M. C. A. while not very much larger than the Nelson "Y," has a membership of 1000, and requires its staff of five executive officers. It has recently added a new wing, a soldier's club, furnished by the Red Cross society and operated by the Y. M. C. A.

While Mr. Morris' work will be to supervise and train classes probably no more in number than he has been doing here, it will cover many more individuals. There will be no girls' classes, but there will be a big boys' work to look after, and also a summer camp at Jasper park, in the rockies. Apart from financial considerations, the position is a decidedly big step for Mr. Morris, and a step that several hundred gymnasium followers, and sport fans here are pleased to see him make.

Mr. Morris came here on being invalided from the Australian Field Artillery in 1917. He enlisted with that branch of the Australian service in Sydney, New South Wales, his former home, in 1915, and saw service in Gallipoli and France. While here he has been the inspiration, and the pal of literally hundreds of Nelson boys, and it is whispered girls also—but then, he counted about 80 girls and women in his physical training classes at the "Y." Boxing, wrestling, running, gymnastics, rowing, summer camps for boys, coaching for team games, as football, basketball and the like, and for track athletics all have had much attention from the genial physical director, both in connection with the Y. M. C. A. and with sport clubs. It is not to much to say that any kid in town that wanted to learn "to use his dukes," to handle a paddle, or to throw an opponent, at any time during the last four years had only to go to "Griff" as he is affectionately called, to be sure of the right tuition, willingly and freely given.

As the city sport and recreation supervisor last summer, Mr. Morris came into contact with a still wider circle of friends, for he makes 'em wherever he goes. If every bok and girl in Nelson, who had learned to swim, maybe learned life savng, or to give first aid, under Mr. Morris last summer, were to gather into on spot, there would be "some" crowd.

Last night, the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium leaders corps, held their regular weekly supper and confab with their "big chief," they were instructed to carry on, to keep the physical work of the younger boys in class movings until they are relieved by a new physical director. The five leaders, Tom McDonald, Ted Black, Jimmy Kinnahan, Stanley Allibone and Eric Ioanin promised willingly. They then sprung a surprise. The best fountain pen procurable in Nelson they pressed on Mr. Morris as a token of appreciation of their association with him while wishing him the best of success in his new field.

BANDIT MAY HAVE BLUFFED.

SEATTLE, Feb. 15.—Entering a millinery store in the main section of the business district late today, a bandit pressed a piece of metal in his mackinaw pocket against the side of a woman clerk, forcing her to open the cash register, from which he took $192 in cash and a check for $10. Two other women clerks were compelled to stand against the wall with their hands above their heads, and all three were made to lie on the floor while the man walked calmly out and mingled with the passing crowds. Police said he may not have been armed.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

SCHOOL BOARD ESTIMATES FOR EIGHTY-SIX THOUSAND

Increase Over Past Year Is Between Three and Four Thousand; Hume School Accounts for One Thousand of Increase; Domestic Science Is Dropped.

Estimates for the Nelson school district for 1922, aggreating $86,195.61, were adopted by the school board at a special session yesterday afternoon. The expenditures for 1921 were $82,852.55, but only covered seven months operations of the Hume school. The estimates just authorized provide for the maintenance of the school for the full year.

An item of $2265 for extinguishing the mortgage on Hume school last year, will not recur, and the Hume school this year will call for only a little more than for the seven months of last year. No estimate is shown for domestic science, which last year cost $842.32.

Those at the meeting were F. R. Jelfs, in the chair; Mrs. Hugh Ross, John Notman and Major Gilbert Anderson.

DEFINITELY SET DATE OF SERIES

Monday Will See Bluebirds and Cubs Clash; Second Game Wednesday.

All arrangements are now definitely made for staging the provincial intermediate hockey championship series in Nelson on Monday and Wednesday of next week, according to a wire received by George Horstead from George Ferguson, president of the Nelson Hockey club, yesterday. The Bluebirds have their choice of coming via the Great Northern or the C. P. R. If they come via the C. P. R. they are arranging to leave Vancouver on Saturday evening, and will arrive in Nelson on Sunday night. If they come via the Great Northern they will leave the coast on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and arrive here on Monday evening, a bare hour or so prior to the first match. It is therefore assumed they will take the C. P. R. route in order to rest up for a day before the clash on Monday night.

Last night the Cubs held another good, hard workout under the eagle eye of their manager, Joe Armstrong, and other first-class coaches. From now on they will put in their practice in the mornings, commencing this morning at 8 o'clock. They realize that they have nothing to lose and all to win in the series and are chock full of confidence they can turn the trick. But they are taking no chances and will spare no effort to get into perfect physical trim.

There is only one thing now that can interfere with the scheduled staging of the games, and that is the weather. If that holds good and hard until the end of the week the games are on for sure.

The management of the Cubs is in touch with the coast with reference to officials for the series. This matter, it is expected, will be settled by Friday at the latest.

Sport officials at the coast are taking a keen interest in developments along amateur lines throughout the interior, and it would not be surprising if a big effort were put forth to put almost every line of sport on a "simon pure" amateur basis during the next season or two. The whole trend is in that direction and many believers in amateurism in Kootenay see in the hockey series a big boost for amateur sport here properly organized and under efficient and strict control.

LOCAL BOWLING TOURNEY SCORES

Two fixtures were rolled in the Y. M. C. A. bowling tourney last night, pretty good average scoring being the feature.

Allen's quartet beat Brake's in the first with a margin of 60. Brake was, however, both high individual at 192 and high aggregate scorer at 490.

In the second Higginbotham's men were held closer, but won by 42 pins. Sholander took the honors with 554 for aggregate and 191 for individual.

The scores were:

Allen Versus Brake.

BLUEBIRDS WIN IN FINAL GAME

FERNIE, Feb. 14.—The final game of the Fernie City Hockey league was played at the local arena Monday evening, February 13, when the Bluebirds and the Coal company met to decide which of these two teams would attain the league championship and win the Orner trophy for the season 1921-22. After ten minutes' overtime play the Bluebirds emerged victorious by a score of five goals to four, after one of the fastest and best games played this season. The teams were well matched and neither side could claim much of an advantage and the score was well indicative of the run of play. The first period closed with the score: Bluebirds, 1; Coal Co. 1. The second period, Bluebirds, 2; Coal Co. 2. The third, Bluebirds, 3; Coal Co., 3. Ten minutes' overtime, Bluebirds, 5; Coal Co., 4.

The other two games played in the city league during the past week resulted: Coal Co., 6; Northern, 3. Bluebirds, 4; One Five O's 1. The final standing of the league is:

Teams	P.	W.	L.	Pts.
Bluebirds	6	4	2	8
One Five O	6	3	3	6
Coal Company	6	3	3	6
Northern	6	2	4	4

SLOW GAME AND SMALLEST CROWD

Eskimos Easily Defeat Moose Jaw; Is Sixth Straight Win.

EDMONTON, Feb. 15.—Edmonton Eskimos chalked up their sixth straight win in the Western Canada Hockey league here tonight by defeating the Moose Jaw team, 6 to 1, in what was easily the slowest game of the season and was played before the smallest crowd of the season. It was the seventh victory for the Eskimos over Moose Jaw.

Winkler played a good game in goal for Edmonton, having quite a number of difficult shots to handle. Trapp and Arbout were the outstanding players for Edmonton, while Crawford and Benson were the pick of the visitors.

First period—1, Eskimos, Gagne from Trapp, 9:55.

Second period—2, Eskimos, Keats from Gillespie, 3:30; 3, Eskimos, Trapp, 11:59; 4, Eskimos, Gagne from Gillespie, 1:41.

Third period—5, Eskimos, Keats from Simpson, 5:05; 6, Moose Jaw, Campbell from Cook, 9:30; 7, Eskimos, Matz, 1:10.

WINNIPEG 'SPIEL NEARING CLOSE

Hudson Wins Dingwall Challenge and Birks Trophies; Walker Theater Unfinished

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15.—Gordon Hudson, of the Winnipeg Strathconas, winner of the Dingwall Grand Challenge, tonight won his second trophy by defeating Howard Wood, of the Winnipeg Granites, 17 to 6 in the final of the Birks' trophy, emblematic of the Winnipeg championship.

C. C. McLean, Pilot Mound, Man., won the Purity flour trophy, the secondary open event, by defeating W. Hain, Winnipeg, Strathconas, 9 to 7.

The Walker Theater, secondary Winnipeg event, is the only competition unfinished. There is no grand aggregate this year.

PACIFIC MILK IS DIFFERENT

A gentleman whose name we are not permitted to mention, living in the West End, was telling one of our travellers how well they like Pacific Milk. They use it for everything: in their tea and coffee, for chocolate, of which they drink a great deal, for porridge, and his mother will not use anything else for cooking. He has on two occasions taken home other brands of canned milk, but he says they taste "strong" in comparison with Pacific.

Pacific Milk does retain the.. natural flavor.

BENGALS CHAW UP BEGINA CAPITALS

REGINA, Feb. 15.—Playing brilliant and unbeatable hockey all the way, Calgary's raging Bengals defeated the Regina Capitals here tonight 4 to 2 in one of the fastest and most exciting matches of the season. The score about represents the difference in the team's play.

Calgary had a great system of combination play and a defense that was so powerful that Regina could not penetrate it. The locals could not back check like their opponents and the Bengals played their positions much better. The goals were scored by Stanley and Dutton, each getting two.

Summary

First period—1, Calgary, Dutton, 18:52.

Second period—2, Calgary, Stanley from Martin, :17.

Third period—3, Regina, Hay from Irvin, 8:58; 4, Calgary, Dutton, :42; 5, Regina, Traub from Hay, :32; 6, Calgary, Stanley, 6:44.

DRURY REPUDIATES SLACKNESS CHARGE

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Feb. 15.—The News-Chronicle has a special dispatch from Toronto saying:

"Replying to remarks made at Port Arthur by A. J. McComber, Liberal candidate in the recent federal elections, Premier Drury says: 'I have been in my office on an average of at least four days a week. I have not taken any holidays since I came in two years ago and have not been outside the province for three days.'

"Mr. McComber had charged that the premier and other ministers were absent so much from their offices at Toronto that important business was very frequently held up."

He Lacked True Greatness.

Christian De Wet, whose death is announced from South Africa, was a picturesque leader whose exploits baffled British ingenuity, and challenged British admiration. But De Wet was a guerilla leader, nothing more, lacking the temper of the statesman, and as distinct from Smuts and Botha as Eamonn de Valera is from Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins. He could not realize with Smuts and Botha that ideals are not always possible of complete realization, that this is a world of compromise, and when his old colleagues started to build a new fabric of freedom from the ashes of the old, he retired in sullen rebellion to retard and defeat their work. Happily he did not succeed. South Africa, with the genius of Botha and the skill of Smuts to aid it, rose above the narrow nationalism of both De Wet and Hertzog, and although there are still clouds on the horizon, its place within the Empire seems assured.

During the war, De Wet's old hatred of the British caused him to rebel. He was captured and pardoned; but the leniency shown him did not soften his heart toward his old enemies. He remained to the end a foe of the British, a type of man found in every country, a type which though often touched by the fires of genius, and lit by a narrow patriotism, yet lacks the essentials of true greatness.

Lets in German Goods.

On October 1 there came into force throughout Canada an amendment to the Customs Tariff act, requiring all imported goods to be marked with the country of origin. A penalty of 10 per cent ad valorem was imposed for noncompliance with these regulations, the goods to be held at the expense of the importer until the proper marking had been made under the supervision of the customs authorities. Any wilful attempt at concealment was subject to a fine of $1000 or a year's imprisonment, and in bad cases both fine and imprisonment could be imposed. These were heavy penalties, and they were intentionally made so, for the protection of home industry from cheap European competition was felt by the late government to be a vital matter of self-defense. The provisions undoubtedly caused some inconvenience, especially to the less patriotic merchants, who were naturally anxious to secure these low-priced goods and realize a greater profit and a brisker sale. There were other objections of a more creditable character, and these objections were forcefully pressed upon the attention of the government.

The upshot has been that last month an order-in-council was passed postponing the enforcement of section 12a of the amendment to the Customs act, which is the particular section embracing these provisions "until after the date of the next session of parliament." This means that the gates are now opened to the flood of foreign-made commodities, produced under conditions which, owing to the peculiar position of the exchange markets and the economic chaos existinng in the countries of their manufacture, enable them to be sold at a price far below prevailing costs in this country. The effect of the removal of these marking regulations will be readily appreciated under prevailing circumstances.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

THE QUESTION OF PATTERN IN FURNISHINGS

The housekeeper, as the purchasing agent for the entire family, should look into the subject of good design before buying rugs, wall-paper, draperies and upholstery. She should not depend upon the advice of a furniture salesman along this line; for, the salesman either may not, himself, know what a good pattern is, or he may be accustomed to patrons who prefer to buy more or less striking patterns and novelty goods rather than the conservative designs pronounced in good taste by interior decorators.

The first thing one should learn about design, is that motifs employed for patterns are of two kinds, (1), abstract or geometric forms which are simply harmonious shapes so repeated as to make a pleasing pattern (the Greek key pattern, for instance); (2) concrete or nature forms "conventionalized" or adapted to their use as pattern (the French fleur-de-lis, for instance).

The greater number of "motifs" (which is the pattern figure which is repeated again and again) are taken from the second class—the nature forms. Any nature motif can be conventionalized (which means arranging it in an orderly way, changing its form slightly—not necessarily being true to nature— and also making changes in its original size and color. Since both walls and floor should be considered merely the background for the furniture, patterns for wall-paper and rugs should be unobtrusive in design (and, of course, in color also).

But perhaps the easier way to guide the home-maker in her choice of design, is to suggest what not to buy. Avoid the following: Medallions, scrolls without beginning or end, fluttering ribbons and bowknots, baskets of flowers or fruit, widely separated motifs, animals, landscape patterns, trellises and vines, imitations of leather, and simulated columns or panels.

"But what is wrong with such patterns?" I can imagine some of my readers asking, when they read the above paragraph. Just this: widely separated motifs are undesirable because they cause the eye to jump from one spot to another and are therefore decidedly unrestful to one's nerves. Large designs such as baskets of fruit, ribbons and bowknots, landscapes, et cetera, are poor because they obtrude themselves upon one's observation. Realistic-looking animals (which must be shaded, so that they appear to stand out, in order to be realistic) or any other pattern which stands out— such as suggested column or panels in a wall-paper, are bad because they break that principle of interior decoration that walls and floors, being flat surfaces, are most effective when their structual flatness is accentuated.

Therefore, if the housekeeper who has not gone to her public library and consulted books on interior decoration, wishes to buy new furnishings and make no mistake, she may know that she is safe in choosing a small all-over design, inconspicuous in color, conservative in motif, and one in which there is no attempt at naturalistic modeling or shading. For, a pattern should be a pattern—not a picture.

Tomorrow—Two Salmon Suppers.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Bronsdon Choice of the Progressives in East Kootenay, Says Admirer

Cranbrook, B. C., Feb. 14, 1922.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—We are credibly informed from a reliable source here in Cranbrook that the Progressive party, after having decided to contest East Kootenay against Dr. King, is unanimous in its selection of its candidate, who is a well known C. P. R. railroad man, Thomas H. Brondson, a returned soldier, who at last election played a prominent part on behalf of Scott McDonald. He has forceful and convincing style upon the platform, and is one who will wage a hard fight against the back hand political play of the Liberals. You are perfectly safe in giving publicity to this information, which is absolutely reliable.

The candidate is now in the field touring over the whole riding.

Resident of Kaslo Pays Tribute to Characters of Drs. Hartin and Read

Kaslo, B. C., Feb. 13, 1922.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—Within the past few days, the Nelson, Ainsworth and Kaslo districts have met with irreparable loss, owing to the deaths of Dr. Gilbert Hartin of Nelson, and Dr. George C. Read of Kaslo.

I was personally well acquainted with Dr. Hartinu for almost 25 years, and with Dr. Read for half that length of time.

Selfishness was an unknown quality to those two men, and God alone will ever know how many poor creatures they helped out, without money and without price.

Like all mankind, they no doubt had their failings; but I do humbly believe that they were two of the greatest ambassadors for Christ that ever crossed the Rockies.

To their families they left a priceless inheritance, an inheritance which cannot be bought with gold, viz: "A good name."

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren ye have done it unto me," seemed to be their faith.

They will be spoken of with great reverence and respect for many years to come, and their children need never be ashamed at the mention of their fathers' name.

KILLS WIFE AND MOTHER-IN-LAW

Failing Reconciliation, Husband Shoots Women and Commits Suicide.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Three children tonight mourned a triple tragedy here today that took the lives of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Boden, and the latter's mother, Mrs. Julia Taylor.

Boden shot and killed his wife after he had failed to effect a reconciliation following her filing a suit for divorce and her mother, and then took his own life, according to the police.

A sister of Mrs. Boden, Mrs. Bessie Walters of Bakersfield, escaped by plunging through a window. The three children, ranging in ages from 8 to 17 years, were at school.

In Boden's hand was a note, written in a childish hand. It read: "I guess I'm rather stupid. I can't say pretty things to you, but honest, if you will let me, I'd be awful good to you. Your valentine."

BY LENORE

The cleverness of a little frock conceals itself behind an immense pocket, the advantages of which cannot fail to impress even the littlest girl. It is stamped in the gayest of red, blue and yellow flowers in the kind of pattern which may be bought in the usual embroidery shop.

But to return to the dress itself. It is so simple that a ten-year-old can make it, for the pattern is cut on just one straight strip of material, in this case sunny yellow cotton voile. Crescent slashes admit the little arms and form a cap sleeve, and the frock remains open behind to facilitate laundering. The edges may be buttonhole stitched or finished with beads.

DELORME ASKS SPEEDY TRIAL

Declares Inquiry Will Establish Innocence in Murder Charge.

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—"I wish to be tried as soon as possible, because I know I will be found innocent of the charge against me as soon as the enquette is complete," declared Rev. Father Adealrd Delorme, addressing Judge Cusson, the magistrate before whom he was arraigned here today charged with the murder of his half brother, Raoul Delorme, on the night of January 6 last.

The arraignment of Father Delorme was held strictly in camera, and members of the press were excluded. Judge Cusson waited about 30 minutes for the arrival of lawyers said to have been engaged by the priest before formally reading the charge of murder.

SOLIDLY UNITED BEHIND PREMIER

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—The Farmer and Labor members of the Ontario legislature are as solidly united at the present time behind Premier Drury as they were at the close of last session, it was stated in the legislature this afternoon by C. F. Swayze, Labor whip. Another feature of this afternoon's addresses was the declaration of W. M. Warren that the election of D. M. Ross in the North Oxford byelection recently was an indorsation of the government's record. The reply to the speech from the throne was moved and seconded.

Practically every supporter of the government was in his seat when the house opened, while there were many vacancies in the opposition benches, chiefly out of town members who had not yet reached the city.

LAMBETH APPEAL FOR UNITY NOT YET CLEAR

VICTORIA, Feb. 15.—In speaking of the adoption of the Lambeth appeal for unity by the general synod of the Anglican church in Canada, Right Rev. C. D. "It's great central conception of advancing the cause of unity by a reciprocal enlargement of each other's ministries on the part of the separated sections of Christ's body, according to the demands of each corporate conscience, will yet be recognized and approved," Bishop Schofield declared.

HEALTH NURSE GIVES ADDRESS

Women's Institute Invites Members' Husbands to Banquet Febuary 28.

CRESTON, Feb. 14.—One of the best attended meetings Creston Valley Women's Institute has had in the past two years was in evidence on Friday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. Garland, occupying the chair. The feature of the session was an address from Mrs. Lucas, the valley's new Red Cross public health nurse, who spoke on various phases of public health nursing, and the inestimable benefits accruing—in which line Mrs. Lucas covers the whole valley territory as well as the seats of learning at Yahk, Glenlilly and Kingsgate. The institute will be at home to the husbands of the members at a banquet in the parish hall on February 28, and the function is expected to be quite the banner effort at banquetting ever recorded in Creston's history. Mesdames Cherrington, Downs and Hayes were named a consulting committee to assist with the preparation of the ladies' work, cooking and juvenile sections of the prize list of the 1922 agricultural association fall fair, and the institute has also decided to have a flower and cookery show of their own some time in June, possibly, at which tea and refreshments will be served for the benefit of the institute treasuary. At the close, tea was served by Mesdames Boyd, Cherrington, Bennett, G. Cartwright and F. V. Staples.

CRESTON NOTES

CRESTON, Feb. 14.—H. H. Taylor got back at the end of the week from St. Eugene hospital, Cranbrook, where he has been a patient for about three weeks. While not fully recovered he is fast regaining his former good health. Mrs. James Davis went to the same hospital for treatment for a minor trouble last week.

As to vital statistics for January the boys were considerably in the majority. Of the four new arrivals but one was a girl. Registrar Gibbs issued one marriage license, and there was one death.

Mrs. Lucas has enrolled an adult class of twenty ladies for instruction in home nursing, with classes held each Monday afternoon in the G. W. V. A. rooms in the Mallandaine block.

R. H. Roper, pastor of Fernie Baptist church, is spending a couple of weeks in Creston, conducting a series of old-time revival meetings and meeting with considerable success—seven converts being reported at one of the week-night sessions last week. Sunday night Mercantile hall was well filled for a joint meeting with the Presbyterians. Other signs that the spiritual life of the community is improving is found in the commencement of weekly prayer meetings at the Presbyterian church, which are being well patronized.

INDIANS SUFFER LOSS OF HORSES

CRESTON, Feb. 14.—Creston Indians are again suffering quite heavy losses amongst their horses, and the cause seems to be the same as some four years ago, when the death rate amongst their equines was also severe and an investigation by J. W. Rutledge, V. S., of Cranbrook revealed the fact that the animals had been overfeeding on rushes. This class of feed, while excellent for cattle acts almost the reverse on horses—the digestive organs being quite dissimilar. Owing to the snowfall, which came in December and is still with us the reds have had to corral feed their animals almost two months, whereas in other years range feeding on the flats has been available except for the possible three weeks' sleighing that hitherto has been the order of the winter.

DO YOU SMOKE TOO MUCH?

There are many men on whose heart and nervous system tobacco produces the most serious results. It causes palpitation, pain in the heart, irregularity of its beat, makes the hands tremble, sets the nerves on edge, causes shortness of breath, and loss of sleep

To counteract this demoralizing influence on the heart and nerves there is no remedy to equal

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and remove all the evil results caused by the tobacco.

Mr. Frank Lutes, 71 Terrace Hill street, Brantford, Ont., writes: "I had been troubled with palpitation of the heart for a number of years, and by spells it would bother me a lot. The doctor told me it would stop on me sometime if I did not cut out tobacco. When I would get a spell my heart would pound, and I would break out in a perspiration and get so weak I would have to sit right down and quit my work; also in the night I would wake up and my heart would be going, I should say, about 120 beats a minute. About three years ago I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, took them, and found that they did the job. I am feeling fine and have gained over 20 pounds in weight."

SCOTCH DANCE GREAT SUCCESS

Pipers Lead Grand March at Willow Point Saturday Function.

WILLOW POINT, Feb. 14.—A dance was given on Saturday by a committee of the Scotch people of the settlement headed by Mrs. Gilroy and was a great success.

The hall was well filled and the program consisted of national country dances and reels, interpersed with waltzes, one-steps and other dances.

There were also some musical selections. Mr. Adam Cruickshank sang two songs, "Sing Me the Old Scotch Songs," and "Flight of Ages," which were enthusiastically received. Mr. Maguire gave two cornet selections, which were much enjoyed, "Scots Wha Hae" and "Annie Laurie." There was a grand march headed by two pipers, Mr. Middleton and Mr. Munro. The music was most inspiring, and all the couples joined in, led by Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy. The pipers also played for the reels and some other numbers, and the remainder of the dances were played by the two orchestras, Mrs. Applewhaite and Mrs. Carl Mohr.

Oat cakes and griddle cakes gave a Scotch tone to the supper, which was served by members of the committee. The dance broke up after the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the King." The walls of the building were decorated by some very clever sketches heralding the coming event for next Friday night. This is to be a "Hard Times" dance. It is rumored that some of the men have it in view to dress as hobos and it is also said that some of the laides have announced their intention of staying at home if this is the case as they do not think hobos should be encouraged in the settlement at any price.

OLDER SCHOOL GIRLS HAVE STARTED CLUB

WILLOW POINT, Feb. 14.—The older school girls have started a club. They meet on Friday afternoons at Crystal hall. In the evening the boys' club have their turn. The new Crystal club committee have started very energetically and it is hoped their plans will meet with success. The committee has commenced its operations under very favorable circumstances as they found matters in very good running order, and the finances in good shape, the enlargement of the hall, too, having been completed and paid for, gives them a good working start.

DISCUSS PURCHASE OF CHURCH LANDS

WILLOW POINT, Feb. 15.—On Sunday afternoon the venerable archdeacon came out and held service at St. Andrew's church, Mr. Morey accompanied him. After service the church committee and Women's Church society held an informal meeting to confer on the advisibility of giving an entertainment for the raising of funds to pay for the land purchased a short time ago. It was arranged that something of the sort should be given after Easter.

WYCLIFFE NOTES

WYCLIFFE, Feb. 14.—Gordon McTeer left last Tuesday for his home in Calgary, Alta. He will be much missed in athletic circles of Wycliffe, being a valued member of both the hockey and senior basketball teams.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Stanley Young entertained at a delightful dinner party at their home on Saturday night. Those present were the Misses Muriel Baxter, Frances Chelmich, Agnes Reegie and Dorace Staples and Messrs. E. R. Young, E. R. Staples, B. W. Johnson and J. E. Jones.

Miss Editha Clark entertained a number of her school friends at her home Saturday afternoon, the occasion being her eighth birthday. About thirty little people were present, all dressed to represent some nursery rhimes and the afternoon was spent playing games. After which a dainty lunch was served, everyone reporting a fine time.

REVENUE ROLLS IN

CRESTON, Feb. 14.—Due to the cold weather and the 50 per cent increased cost of number plates only some 25 of the over 100 auto owners in the valley have so far taken out this year's license, which up to the end of January accounted for almost $700 cash intake at the office of the provincial police. Other sizable bits of revenue last month were $315 for the first half year's trading licenses, and about $125 of royalty taken on the export of furs.

NEW SCHOLARS ENROL

CRESTON, Feb. 15.—A dozen new beginners were on hand for enrollment for the spring term at the public school, every room of which now has a pupil for every inch of seating space; even in the primary room Miss Comfort has a total of 40 first-year scholars to look after. Last September there were 40 brand new scholars to provide for—necessitating the opening of a new room—and if this is to be repeated this midsummer Creston will shortly have a six-room public school, and prospect of a two-room high school as well.

HOLD WHIST DRIVE

CRESTON, Feb. 15.—Erickson local, of the United Farmers had a successful whist drive and dance at the J. M. Craigie packing shed on Friday night, the turnout being quite the largest ever seen at an affair of the kind outside of Creston. The winners at cards were Mrs. Holder and James Woods.

VALLEY DRYS PETITION AGAINST LIQUOR STORE

CRESTON, Feb. 14.—The valley "drys" were quite active last week circulating petitions in every school district in the valley for signatures protesting against the opening of a government liquor store in Creston. The lists have been generally signed by both the men and women voters and it would seem that while the business section of the town is inclined to be "wet," certainly the country residents are quite unanimously against government control in spite of the small "wet" majority the valley gave at the plebiscite vote in October, 1920, at which time five of the eight valley polling places gave majorities for government control.

LUMBERING BRISKER

CRESTON, Feb. 14.—Norman Moore of Cranbrook, district forester of East Kootenay, was here at the end of the week on an official visit, and states that lumbering operations all through his district is considerably brisker than was anticipated even last fall, and amongst the most active firms is the Canyon City Lumber Co., Ltd., of Creston, who between the sawmill and logging operations are employing almost 100 men. Forestry cruisers have also been at work here during the month on three or four stands of timber for which there is some demand. Mr. Moore states that men well acquainted with the woods state that all the signs indicate that the 1922 season will be a wet one.

OFFICIALS PAY VISITS

CRESTON, Feb. 15.—The latter part of the week Creston was favored with official visits from E. C. Hunt of Nelson, the assistant provincial horticulturist for the Kootenay and Boundary area, and from A. McL. Fletcher, also of Nelson, the Dominion fruit inspector. Mr. Hunt states that all reports reaching his office so far indicate that despite the rather dry summer and fall and the quite severe winter, valley orchards are looking quite healthy, and that given normal spring rains should start the growing seatson in fine shape. Mr. Fletcher was making a survey of the apple crop in the hands of local growers and estimates that there are still almost 4000 boxes to ship.

ERIE NOTES

ERIE, Feb. 15.—Mr. MacCartnay of Spokane was a visitor at Erie on Monday. After spending a few hours in town, he left on foot for the Northern Cedar camp of which he is manager.

Mr. Troyor left Monday morning for Spokane on business. He is taking out fence posts and telephone poles for the Northern Cedar company.

Mr. Rhomberg of Benton spent a few days here on business, returning home on Monday morning.

Mrs. Beck and Mrs. Haglund were Salmo visitors on Tuesday.

ROSSLAND OLD-TIMER DIES AT VICTORIA

ROSSLAND, Feb. 15.—News was received today of the death, at Victoria, yesterday of W. R. Braden of Rossland. He was 62 years of age and is survived by a son and daughter. The son, Leonard, resides at the coast, and also the daughter, Mrs. Glover of Victoria. Mr. Braden had resided in Rossland since 1896. He was an extremely popular resident of the golden city and was a retail merchant there. A grocer. He was M. P. P. for Rossland just prior to Lorne A. Campbell and a Conservative and had been president of the Rossland Conservative association.

Mr. Braden's brothers, John and James and a sister, Mrs. W. S. Lipsett, all live in Winnipeg. Mr. Braden was a member of the Orange order for 45 years.

An extraordinary life story of a young Greek who shot a London West End money lender and then committed suicide was related at the inquest. The Greek entered the money lender's office and demanded money, presenting, it is believed, a dummy pistol. When refused, he drew a loaded revolver and fired the fatal shots. The evidence showed that he had served in the Greek army and deserted; fought against the Turks in the Balkan wars; acted as interpreter with the English forces at Salonika; went to England and lived by fraud at a seaside hotel; became a seaside photographer at Morecambe; was befriended by a Manchester man, who took him into his house; and latterly had been living on a friend in London.

HAMILTON JOCKEY KING OF THE TRACK

NEW YORK, Feb. 14—(By Canadian Press.)—To a Hamilton, Ont., boy has fallen the honor of leading all jockeys of the tracks of this continent in the number of horses ridden to victory. It is not often that a lad of 17 leads the field in his chosen line of sport, but little Charles (Chick) Lang has just been conceded that distinction. Almost any day one may pick up a newspaper and read, "Lang rides four more winners." His remarkable series of recent successes has brought the Canadian boy into the sporting limelight and both race-track followers and sporting writers are unanimous in declaring him the leading rider of the day.

Lang was born in Hamilton. From his school days he was a lover of horses, and he learned to ride while still a youngster. It was during one of the meetings at Hamilton that James Arthur, the well-known trainer, picked him up and gave him his start as a professional jockey. The boy's close attention to business and his willingness to learn and the quick way in which he grasped ideas made their appeal to Arthur. Where boys usually spend years in the stable learning the A B Cs of the game, Lang was put into the maiden class of jockeys after eight months' work. It was last May that he scored his first win, accomplishing it a month after he had had his first mount. From then on to the last of 1921 he rode 135 winners.

The Hamilton boy's habits are the very best, Arthur says, and besides riding he enjoys only such diversions as boys of his age would. Fame and fortune have not turned his head, and his personality is so strong that everyone he meets becomes his friend. He is the first at the track in the morning to give his horses their workouts, and the last to leave it after the last racer has been tucked away for the night.

The sporting editor of the Globe, commenting on the spectacular career of the young Canadian jockey, says:

"To the followers of the turf the development of such a genius in the racehorse world is welcomed. All too long the turf has been without many boys who can make claim to premiership in the game. Time was when the jockey list was filled with names of realy great riders. Nowadays it's the performance of one horse or another which is the attraction. There are no more McLaughlins, Tod Sloans, Grover Fullers, Willie Sims, Joe Notters, or Johnny Lotuses. And that is why the daily achievements of this young boy are watched—so closely.

"Young Lang must be a genius of his game. He has been around the thoroughbreds only a little more than a year. To be exact, it is just a year and five months since Jim Arthur discovered him. And to come in that little space of time to be the leading jockey on the American turf is an achievement that is unprecedented in the annals of turf history.

"Racing experts who have seen the boy riding declare that even yet he has much to learn. He has a good seat, they say, and a fine pair of hands, a fair judge of pace for the length of time he has been riding, but that he lacks the finishing powers so necessary in many races. But the boy is ambitious, energetic, a student of his game, and unless he is spoiled by his success, he is destined to occupy the place in the fancy of the sport's followers that Walter Miller, Herman Radke, and the like, did in their day."

MARKET INCLINES TO HIGHER PRICES

Trading Chiefly Restricted to Steel, Oils, Equipments, Motors and Coppers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The stock market continued to move toward irregularly higher price levels today, although much of the davance was forfeited in the general profit taking of the later dealings.

Demand loans opened at 4½ per cent but fell 4 per cent before noon. In private transactions, plenty of call money was available at 3½ per cent. and prime mercantile paper of 30 to 90 days was sold at 4¾ per cent. Private cables from London predicted an early cut in the Bank of England rate.

The greater part of today's fairly large business was restricted to steels, oils, equipments, motors and coppers, United Steel making a new high since 1920 and retaining all but the smallest fraction of its gain at 90⅜. Rails also showed further improvement, but buying of these issues lacked the substantital character of the previous day's accumulation.

Sales amounted to 800,000 shares.

Trading in foreign exchanges fell off perceptibly, the British and allied remittances reacting moderately. The Dutch rate also eased, but bills on the Scandinavian countries continued to strengthen with the eastern European remittances.

BRITISH COAL KEPT UP WELL

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—In spite of the coal dispute which halted production for three months, British coal exports during 1921 amounted to 24,660,552 tons, and were within 271,000 tons of equalling the volume of exports during 1920. This recovery after a bad start was due to improved production in the final five months of the year. Because of dwindling output culminating in the coal stoppage from April until July, exports during the first seven months of 1921 amounted to only 6,841,768 tons. In the remaining five months they totaled 17,818,784 tons, and in December alone reached 4,369,162 tons, which was the highest monthly total of the year.

British board of trade figures, just received by the Bankers' Trust company of New York from its English information service, place the total British coal production for 1921 at 163,000,000 tons compared to 229,500,000 tons in 1920. However, the mines were operated 85 working days less in 1921 than in 1920, and with 100,000 fewer employees.

CANADIAN COSTUMES ENTHUSE NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(By Canadian Press.)—Are Canadian costumes going to capture the leadership of the American continent? This is the question which is occupying the attention of the New York clothing men who attended the recent convention of the International Association of Clothing Designers.

The cause of all the excitement is the sweep pleat" coat. It is declared to be something which has made the New York designers, accustomed to turning out the sartorial novelties demanded by the Broadwayites, sit up and take notice. They fear for their laurels, for the "sweep pleat" style was introduced to the designers at the convention by a Canadian, Ralph Grossman, of Montreal. And it seems bound to appeal to the taste of gay New York. Here is how one of the New York papers describes this innovation in masculine attire:

"The 'sweep pleat' is a sport coat basically, but it is more than that, much more, and then some, consisting of the pleats under the arms, which allow a luxuriously easy swing of the arm to the golfer, the cop, or the rider. The pleats, moreover, look like an accordion of such modest dimensions, and for so brief a flashing moment as the arm is swung, that they may, with fairish assurance, be called 'invisible.' It is these arm pit insertions which make the novel coat the 'sweep pleat.'"

GRAND BLACK CHAPTER ELECTS NEW COMMITTEE

KAMLOOPS, Feb. 15.—T. R. Gibson, Princeton, was elected right worshipful grand master of the grand Black Chapter of Orange lodges in British Columbia, at a meeting today of the chapter here. H. H. Avery, Princeton, is past grand master. Grand committee for 1922 will consist of Messrs. R. N. Hepburn, G. T. Green, E. D. Bush, F. A. Aikens, J. H. Armstrong, W. H. Breen and H. H. Avery.

COMMITS 24 FOR TRIAL.

SYDNEY, N. S., Feb. 15.—Twenty-four men and boys were committed by Judge Maclean to stand trial before the supreme court next Tuesday on charges of complicity in recent rioting at New Aberdeen, where a store was raided and goods valued at $4000 carried off.

KIMBERLEY WINS TOUGH STRUGGLE

All Square Till Close on Closing Time; Wycliffe Fights Gamely.

WYCLIFFE, Feb. 14.—The Kimberley and Wycliffe hockey teams clashed in the closest and one of the most thrilling of this season's games on the local rink on Sunday, the game ending with the score 4-3 in favor of the mine team. In the first period Caldwell made two goals for Kimberley, but in the second period Wycliffe came back strong and play had hardly begun when Crowe put a neat one right into the Kimberley nets. Unfortunately just a few minutes afterward T. Crowe accidentally pushed the puck into his own goal making the score 3-1 for Kimberley but just seven minutes afterward Jones made up for it, tore down the ice and slammed in a dazzler that Blondell never saw, and the second period ended 3-2 for the mine.

Soon after play began in the third period, Jones made another goal just to show everybody that his first one wasn't an accident, making the score 4-3. By this time both teams were on their toes, each determined to win. The Sullivan mine forward line rallied again and again, but the blue and white defense was all there and when they did manage to get through, Crowe shattered all their hopes.

Wycliffe was equally determined to get a goal, but when they got down to the mine defense line, Caldwell or Musser invariably messed things up for them or else Blondell showed a decided dislike for pucks and refused to let one get near the goal.

Play continued like this until about four minutes before closing time, when Griffiths made the goal that won a hard fought game for Kimberley. Play was conspicuously clean, no penalties being handed out to any player of either team.

Lineup and summary:

Wycliffe	Position	Kimberley
Crowe	Goal	Blondell
Hall	Defense	Musser
Jones	Defense	Caldwell
Redman	Forward	Murray
Crowe	Forward	Griffiths
Bill	Forward	Macdonald
Richardson	Spares
Fleming	Spare

First period—Kimberley, Caldwell, 4 minutes; Kimberley, Caldwell, 8 minutes.

Second period—Wycliffe, T. Crowe, 3 minutes; Kimberley, T. Crowe, 11, minutes; Wycliffe, Jones, 19 minutes.

Third period—Jones, 3 minutes; Griffiths, 16 minutes.

BIG FIELD ENTERS FOR DOG DERBY

Over 100 Animals for 11 Teams; Wager on Finishing Race in 24 Hours.

THE PAS, Man., Feb. 15.—Over 100 highly trained dogs will comprise the 11 racing teams already entered for the 200-mile dog derby to be held on February 28 for a purse of $2500, according to the report of the secretary of the derby, issued here today. The entries have all assembled at The Pas to put the finishing touches to their training and to familiarize themselves with the long course.

There is much wagering on the possibility of the race being finished within 24 hours, the course being ideally suited for speed. It is sheltered all the way, except for the first 15 miles, which is an open lake.

The Du Pas-Bancroft team made a trial trip over the course during the week-end and it is understood they made the distance in 26 hours and a few minutes. Other teams have driven over it and secrecy is maintained as to he exact time made. The Du Pas-Bancroft combination have entered two teams, to be driven by Du Pas and by Langlois. This arrangement furnished the surprise of the week, as Du Pas announced his intention to drive 13 dogs but changed his mind and selected the best ones to form the Du Pas-Bancroft team, and the other to be known as the Bancroft-Du Pas entry.

Bancroft Team Favorite.

Followers of the game believe Bancroft has the fastest team in the list and he is being favored over Morgan's 1921 winners. The latter is using nine dogs and has engaged Bill Grayson as driver instead of Winterton. Winterton has entered a young team of his own out of Jack Hayes' famous stable.

Sam Pranteau of Grand Rapids has entered five teams of Lake Winnipeg huskies, all long limbed and noted for their great endurance.

Larry McKay is among those arriving here with Pranteau, and he expects to set the pace from the start. He finished second in last year's race.

METROPOLITANS PUT SOME JINKS ON ARISTOCRATS

Cellar Champs, Hypnotized, Fail to Score; Seattle Soars to Lead.

SEATTLE, Feb. 15.—The Metropolitans unloaded everything they are capable of tonight when they knocked out the Victoria Aristocrats to the tune of 7 to 0 and once again went to the top of the Pacific Coast Hockey league.

The Aristocrats had a cellar position to give away and lost no time in getting down to business, but the Seattle crowd had every move checkmated in advance and from the time Norris opened the ball with two goals in the ninth minute of play until the final whistle the Metropolitans seemed to have the visitors hypnotized.

Bernie Morris was the hero of the evening with his four little goals on the home slate. Riley played great hockey and notched two goals for Seattle, Rowe accounting for the seventh counter.

Lineup

Seattle.	Position.	Victoria.
Holmes	Goal	Fowler
Rickey	Defense	Oatman
Rowe	Defense	W. Loughlin
Fraser	Rover	Meeking
Morris	Wing	Halderson
Foyston	Center	Frederickson
Riley	Wing	Dunderdale

Summary

First period—1, Seattle, Morris, 8:59; 2, Seattle, Morris, :10.

Second period—3, Seattle, Riley, 7:35; 4, Seattle, Rowe, 10:14.

Third period—5, Seattle, Morris, 9:19; 6, Seattle, Morris, 4:57; 7, Seattle, Riley, 3:41.

Final score—Seattle, 7; Victoria, 0.

ST. PATRICKS MAKE CERTAIN

Defeat Hamilton 6-4; Cram Second Period With Real Hockey.

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—St. Patricks made certain that the Canadiens would not gain on them in the N. H. L. tonight, when they defeated Hamilton, 6 to 4, in a game that did not overexcite the small crowd. Practically all the real hockey was presented in the second period, but there was almost enough real hockey then to do for 60 minutes.

Lineup.

Hamilton.	Position.	St. Patricks.
Lockhart	Goal	Roach
Mummery	Defense	Stuart
Reise	Defense	Cameron
Malone	Center	Andrews
Prodgers	Wing	Randall
Arbour	Wing	Noble

Substitutes—Hamilton, Roach and Wilson; St. Patricks, Denenny, Dye, Smillie and Stackhouse.

Referee—Marsh, Toronto.

Summary.

First period—1, Hamilton, Prodgers, 3:00; 2, St. Patricks, Dye, 5:00.

Second period—3, St. Patricks, Noble, :30; 4, St. Patricks, Dye, :30; 5, St. Patricks Noble, :30; 6, Hamilton Malone, :30; 7, Hamilton, Prodgers, 4:00; 8, Hamilton, Arbour, 11:00.

Third period—9, St. Patricks, Dye, 9:00; 10, St. Patricks, Randall, 2:00.

SKATERS TIE.

SARANAC LAKE, Feb. 15.—Arthur Staff of Chicago and Everett McGowan of St. Paul were tonight tied in the race for the American professional outdoor skating championship on the eve of the final events of the three-day card. Each had 100 points.

BAN AMERICAN DANCES.

WARSAW, Feb. 15.—The "shimmy" and the "scandal" and even the fox-trot are anathema to the Polish government. All American dances, with the exception of the one-step, were prohibited by official order at the annual military ball, held recently.

Athens was founded about 1550 B. C.

CANADIENS MAKE FINE COMEBACK

Draw Level to Senators in Third; Overtime Fails to Break Tie.

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—Making a wonderful comeback after they had been completely outplayed in the first two periods, the Canadiens tonight drew up to Ottawa Senators and went through overtime to the score of 6 to 6. The largest crowd that has assembled in the arena this winter turned out to witness the match. Rough play was not evident, for although penalties were frequent, the match, except in the final overtime period, when both teams were tired, was clean and snappy.

Lineup.

Ottawa.	Position.	Canadiens.
Benedict	Goal	Vesina
Gerard	Defense	Couture
G. Boucher	Defense	S. Cleghorn
Nighbor	Center	Lalonde
Broadbent	Wing	Boucher
C. Denenny	Wing	Berlinquette

Substitutes—Ottawa, Clancy, F. Boucher, Bell and Bruce; Canadiens, Pitre, O. Cleghorn, Corbeau and Bouchard.

Referee—Sproule.

Summary.

First period—1, Ottawa, G. Boucher, 3:00; 2, Ottawa, Broadbent, 12:00; 3, Canadiens, Couture, 5:30.

Second period—4, Ottawa, Broadbent, 2:00; 5, Canadiens, Berlinquette, 8:40; 6, Ottawa, Gerard, 3:20; 7, Ottawa, Denenny, 1:00; 8, Ottawa, Nighbor, 3:00; 9, Canadiens, O. Cleghorn, :30.

Third period—10, Canadiens, Berlinquette, :30; 11, Canadiens, S. Cleghorn, 4:20; 12, Canadiens, Boucher, 5:00.

Overtime period—No score.

CALGARY LADIES SECURE REVENGE

Defeat Fernie Swastikas in Thrilling Hockey Game, One to Nothing.

FERNIE, Feb. 15.—The Regents ladies' hockey team of Calgary secured revenge for the drubbing administered to them by the Fernie Swastikas at Calgary recently by defeating the local sextet here this afternoon by a score of 1 to 0. The game was keenly contested throughout and a tie would have been a more representative tally on the run of play. The goal was the result of a scrimmage for the puck near Fernie goal, three players hitting the puck at the same time, the rubber bounced into the air and landed in the Fernie net. Nearly 1000 spectators witnessed the game, the largest crowd witnessing a hockey match here this season.

The first period opened with a combined rush by the Regents, but Miss Schagel broke up the raid and carried the puck well down into Regent territory, slipped the rubber to Miss Fenwick, whose shot was disposed of by Miss Bishop. End-to-end play followed, both teams working hard to open the scoring, but the defense on both sides was very effective, the goal tenders being rarely called upon to demonstrate their ability. The period finished without a score being registered.

Miss Dragon replaced Miss Miles for the second period. Fernie got away with a nice combination rush and Miss Bishop was kept busy for a few minutes; Miss Brewster relieved the pressure and went down the ice at great speed, sending a high one from well out, but Miss Woods brought off a brilliant save. Miss Biggs secured the rebound and went off up the ice, but was crowded to the boards before getting a chance to shoot. Back came the Regents, but Miss Schagel hook-checked the puck from Miss McLatchie and, with a spectacular individual rush, went through the Regents, but her parting shot just missed the goal. Fernie continued the pressure and just as Miss Fenwick broke through and had nobody to beat but the goal tender the bell went for the end of the period. No score.

The fast pace was evidently telling on the ladies and the third period was somewhat slow during the first few minutes and confined mostly to center ice. Miss Henderson robbed Mrs. Brownlee of the puck close in on Fernie goal and went down the ice, but was brought up against the boards. The puck went out to center ice and a scrimmage followed. Miss Pue slashed at the puck and it rose spinning in the air and before anyone realized the danger the puck was in the net. Fernie played hard after this unlucky reverse and Miss Bishop had a warm time, Miss Ross giving her three hot ones to stop inside of a minute. The period ended with Fernie still struggling hard to penetrate the Regents' six-man defense. Regents 1, Swastikas 0.

The lineup:

Swastikas.	Position.	Regents.
Miss Wood	Goal	Miss Bishop
Miss Henderson	Defense.	Miss Brownlee
Miss Schagel	Defense.	Mrs. Robertson
Miss Fenwick	Forward.	Miss McLatchie
Miss Biggs	Forward	Miss Pue
Miss Miles	Forward	Miss Brewster
Miss Dragon	Forward	Miss Blight
	Spare	Miss Ross

Referee—J. R. McLeod.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC CEASES

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The influenza epidemic in France is practically over, says a Reuter dispatch from Paris. There are now only 44 sufferers from the disease in the Paris hospitals, compared with 900 cases only a few days ago.

Safety First

1. It often occurs that after the death of a person, their friends have to hunt up their valuable papers from many places.
2. Fires occur and valuable papers are destroyed.
3. Some trusted custodian goes astray or dies and papers cannot be found. Why not have your own safety deposit box? Easily accessible. Safe from fire and all in one safe place in case you go quickly.
