VOL. 21. NELSON, B. C., FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 1, 1922 No. 192

GREECE CANNOT SHOULDER ANY OTTOMAN DEBTS

All Delegations Seek to Prevent the Grecian Tragedy Endangering Conference

STRAITS NEGOTIATIONS ALONE CONCERN RUSSIA

Soviet Requests Postponement to Allow Foreign Minister to Attend

LAUSANNE, Nov. 30.—After verbally protesting today to the representatives of the entente countries against the decision to keep Russia out of the near east conference, except with respect to the Dardanelles, M. Rakovsky asked the conference not to begin the negotiations on the straits tomorrow, as arranged.

M. Tchitcherin, Russia's chief delegate, will not arrive here before tomorrow and M. Rakovsky requested postponement until Monday of the straits question mainly because he wants the Soviet foreign minister present.

Invitation Limits Russia

The official reply to the Russian petition contended that the invitation, originally extended to Russia, clearly explained that Russia was invited to Lausanne only for the straits negotiations and that, therefore, there was no possible chance for a misunderstanding. On the different aspects of this question the Russian delegates would be given every opportunity to make known their views.

Former Premier Venizelos of Greece attended the meeting of the subcommittee on the Ottoman debts this afternoon. He told the delegates that Greece was ruined and could not pay a farthing of the Turkish liabilities. The conference had been planning to apportion the debt between Turkey and her former possessions and M. Venizelos was endeavoring to make it clear that Greece could not shoulder any debt for western Thrace.

Discuss Executions

The entire question of the Grecian executions, the withdrawal of the British minister from Athens, and the resultant effect of this on the relations between Great Britain and Greece at the conference was gone over tonight between Lord Curzon and M. Venizelos.

All the delegations, including the British, are trying to prevent the Grecian tragedy from endangering the conference, which is regarded as too important to the general peace of Europe to be affected by a Grecian internal question, however much public opinion may be aroused in condemnation of the extreme measures adopted by the revolutionary committee.

F. O. Lindley, the British minister to Greece, who has withdrawn from Athens, is due here tomorrow to confer with Lord Curzon.

Murders Fellow Clerk and Then Kills Self

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Nov. 20.—A murder and suicide occurred at Duck Lake, Sask., this afternoon, according to information reaching the provincial police tonight. Albert O. Davidson, clerk in Mitchell's store, got into an altercation with David McNair, another clerk, according to the report, Davidson fatally wounding McNair with a revolver and afterward committing suicide.

Both bodies were found lying in front of the safe, which was open, and the business books of the store were also open on the floor, according to the report. An inquest will be held.

ADMIT NEW MEMBERS TO FAIRS ASSOCIATION

TORONTO, Nov. 30.—At the International Association of Fairs and Exhibitions convention today, Wichita Falls fair, Texas; Arkansas State fair; Regina fair; Saskatoon fair; the Central Canada fair, Ottawa, and the Virginia Association of Country Fairs were granted admission to the organization.

E. L. Richardson, Calgary, was elected a director.

FARMERS FORM NEW PARTY IN THE PROVINCE

Provincial Party Formed to Resist- Tax on Agriculture

VERNON, Nov. 30.—A new political organization to be known as the "Provincial party" was launched by the United Farmers of British Columbia, at a meeting here today of the political committee of the Farmers' organization. All organizations not in accord with the two old political parties are invited to join with the Farmers to form the new party. Labor men, business men and others will be invited to confer with representatives of the United Farmers at the annual convention to be held here in January to plan an active campaign throughout the province.

Increasing Taxes Responsible

John Redman, chairman of the political committee, stated today that the "enormous fixed provincial charges and increasing high taxes, already a burden to the farmer and the ordinary citizen of the province," were responsible for the action of the farmer.

Local political organizations will be set up in all agricultural ridings. The platform includes land settlement in conjunction with imperial and other authorities; rural credits, drastic cutting down of the cost of administration, adoption of the general recommendations contained in the Sullivan report on the Pacific Great Eastern railway, the ultimate exclusion of orientals, completion of the provincial university, amendment of the Liquor act, establishment of free ports by the Dominion government in Vancouver and Victoria, and absorption of involuntary unemployment by the provisions of productive work, non-competitive with established industries.

Strains Position of Greek Consul

MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—Recent developments in Greece have rendered the position of M. Macheras, the Greek consul, somewhat difficult, interviewed here today, he stated that he was as yet without official word from his government as to recent occurrences and until he hears from Athens, he will be unable to define the position of the consulate-general here. If, he added, "the withdrawal of the British minister from Athens meant that all ministers and consular officers will be withdrawn from both Greece and Great Britain, of course, there will be nothing for me but to pack up."

Bootlegging Waning in District of Port Arthur Says Officer

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Nov. 30.—Bootlegging in this district is at a minimum, said an officer of the provincial police today.

It has never been so little since the advent of the prohibition law. The last vestige of the trade, the illicit stills in the townships, is being harassed out of existence, states the officer, who also predicts that the coming winter will see the traffic practically ended in this section.

Action of Great Britain in Withdrawing Minister Startles Public Opinion

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Athens referring to impending new trials of former officials and others, says it is not likely there will be any further death sentences imposed.

The dispatch adds that it is impossible yet to state the condition of Greek public opinion regarding the recent executions, but that many persons were startled by Great Britain's action in withdrawing its minister.

Negotiations Amicable; Expect Early Settlement of C.P.R. Wage Dispute

MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—"Negotiations are proceeding amicably and we expect to reach an agreement shortly," was the only comment offered by George Hodge, assistant general manager of the Canadian Pacific railway, following the meeting held here this afternoon to consider further revision of wages paid to maintenance of way employees.

Another meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon in an endeavor to reach an agreement.

North Dakota Is in Grip of Blizzard

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Nov. 30.—The first blizzard of the year struck North Dakota today. Snow began falling early this morning and continued throughout the day, covering all of the state and continuing north into Canada, accompanied by a heavy northwest wind. Trains due here from the west were from four to six hours late.

DECLARE WAR ON KU KLUX KLAN

Mayor J. F. Hylan (left), of New York, has ordered Police Commissioner Enright (right) to drive the Ku Klux Klan out of New York city. "Treat the Klan as you would a disorderly house," is the mayor's instruction.. The center figure is that of Rev. John Roach Straton, noted evangelist, named by Hylan as being connected with the Klan. This Dr. Straton denies.

SAYS GERMANY PLANNING NEW REVENGE WAR

Rumors Indicate Plot With Russia to Crush France; Causes Alarm

LONDON, Dec. 1.—That the Germans are actively planning a war of revenge, chiefly against France, for which purpose they have concluded a secret military agreement with Russia, is the main point of "a memorandum by a person in close touch with the best informed German circles in Berlin and at Munich," according to the Daily Mail, which displays it under big head lines.

The paper claims to have made extensive inquiries into the memorandum's accuracy in Germany, London and Paris, with the result, the Mail says, that it has been very largely supported thereby.

Except for precise details, the Mail's story does not differ materially from similar statements printed from time to time in anti-German papers.

St. Boniface Fire Remains Mystery Hard to Solve

WINNIPEG, Nov. 30.—There was no signs of any flames when Edward Barker, a student who slept in the university dormitory on the fourth floor, went through the small boys' dormitory and down the stairway through the lower to the bottom of the building, according to his evidence today at the provincial fire commissioner's investigation into the mystery surrounding the destruction of St. Boniface college by fire on Saturday morning, last, with a loss of 10 lives.

Barker said he was awakened by the yelling of the boys. On the third floor there was a door leading into the chapel and a door leading into the study hall on the second floor. He tried both doors and found them open. Smoke was coming out of the chapel, he said.

Stanley Malach, who also slept in the university dormitory, testified to seeing flames for the first time coming from the roof of the building in which the seismograph was housed.

Held Smoker on Fourth Floor

Albert St. Marie, a photographer; August Dausereau, a student, and Rodolphe Belanger, all testified to attending a smoker party on the fourth floor, on the evening of the disaster. Dausereau and another student went up the corridor on the second floor during the entertainment and smoked cigarettes in the corridor, although they knew it was forbidden, Dausereau said.

Numerous other witnesses, including members of the faculty, related the steps which were taken to get the students safely out of the building through the fire escapes. Rev. Father J. A. Beaulac stood at the door leading to the corridor and told the students not to go that way, according to Rev. Father . De Varennes and Barker. Father De Varennes said he had to hit one of the boys to make him go down the escape.

ESTHER DOLLAR CARRIES CARGO OF DEAD BONES

Sails for Orient With Defunct Chinese From New England States

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Bearing with her the bodies of 400 Chinese, each in a box inscribed with a name and a date of death, the steamship Esther Dollar today sailed from this port for the orient by way of New York. For weeks past throughout New England Chinese have been engaged in exhuming the bodies of their countrymen, some of whom died here as far back as 1899, in order that their bones might be interred in ancestral soil in keeping with their religion and customs.

HEADLINES CONTROVERT INTENTIONS

Meighen Believes a Gross Wrong Been Done Faithful Railway Directorate

OTTAWA, Nov. 30.—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the opposition, who returned today to Ottawa, tonight issued the following statement on the byelection campaign in Lanark.

"Newspapers have attributed to me, chiefly by head lines, language which I have never used.

"The government has distributed literature throughout the county of Lanark claiming as one of its 'outstanding achievements' the throwing out of Mr. Hanna, and the Canadian national board and the appointment of Sir Henry Thornton and this new board. Those who think that Mr. Hanna, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Wood, Mr. Riley and their associates made a failure of the stupedous task entrusted to them and that there is ground for believing the new management and board to be an improvement, will be inclined to agree with the government's claim. Those who think differently as to either of these propositions are bound to be of the opinion that a gross wrong has been done to a faithful directorate, that a fatal precedent has been set and that serious injury has been wrought the national system and the public of Canada.

Disagrees With Both

"For myself, I disagree as to both propositions; I have based my disagreement on known and indisputable facts. When the facts which I have adduced are assailed, I will meet the assailant. Until then I must be excused for refusing to suffer meekly to the government's preposterous pretentions because I prefer to be loyal to what I believe is the public interest, and to an able, honest public citizen."

Tomorrow, Mr. Meighen will continue the Conservative campaign in Lanark with a speech at Carleton place.

QUEBEC LIBERALS DISCUSS ELECTIONS

QUEBEC, Dec. 1.—At a caucus of the Liberal party last night, the elections were discussed, the Chronicle says this morning, it being understood by the newspaper that the government would like to prorogue the session for December 23, and dissolve the legislature 18 days later, with general elections fixed for about the middle of February.

The Quebec Liquor act and roads law were also discussed, the newspaper says.

ENDS EXISTENCE AFTER SHOOTING BOSS OF STORE

Discharged Employee Turns Gun on Proprietor of Saskatoon Store

SASKATOON, Nov. 30.—After fatally wounding David McNair with a bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, Albert C. Davidson turned the weapon on himself and committed suicide shortly after 3 o'clock today in the Hillyard Mitchell general store at Duck Lake, Sask. Davidson, a man of 65, had been employed for 28 years as a clerk in the store. McNair, some 30 years his junior, was the manager.

According to an account given to the Star by Armand Guilbault, another clerk in the store, who was a witness of the suicide, Davidson had been accused of stealing goods and cash by McNair, had confessed his guilt and been discharged at lunch hour today. Returning, apparently to ask for his check, he followed the manager into the business office of the store, hidden from view by a partition and there fired the two fatal shots. According to reports, Davidson died instantly. McNair, shot between the shoulders and the neck, lingered about five minutes before succumbing.

No Confirmation of Turk Revolt in Western Thrace

LONDON, Nov. 30.—There has been no confirmation of the reports of Wednesday night that the Turks in Western Thrace had revolted and were marching toward Dedeagatch, on the Aegean sea. Press dispatches, however, continue to mention the disturbances, although without giving details of additional appearance.

A dispatch to the Times from Constantinople thinks the reports possibly were exaggerated, but adds that disturbances undoubtedly are taking place.

Another dispatch to the Times from Athens quotes official Greek reports of recent fighting between Greek troops and Turkish soldiers and Bulgarian irregulars.

Likely to Resume Pour Parlers Upon German Reparations

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—An early resumption between the Paris and Berlin governments of pour parlers on the reparations question is considered a certainty in political circles here as the outcome of informal steps taken by the Cuno government. As a prelude to its present initiative, the German government is reported to have addressed an informal note to the reparations commission, which will be presented through Dr. Schaffer of the German war debt commission in Paris. Strict secrecy is being observed with respect to the nature of its contents.

The United States government's decision to retain its forces on the Rhine, as reported today from Washington, has been viewed here with undisguised pleasure.

"It would seem," the Lokal Anzeiger says, "that the United States does not propose to leave the Rhineland to brutal and arbitrary procedure by France."

CALGARY, Nov. 30.—The management of the Calgary Tigers announces that another Ontario amateur has decided to make the plunge to professional hockey ranks, in the person of Wilfrid Hills, center ice man of the Port Hope team. Hills is en route here to try-out with the Tigers.

MEMBERS TURN FROM IRISH TO OTHER MATTERS

Unemployment Biggest Problem Facing the New Government

SUGGESTS RENEWAL OF TRADE FACILITIES ACT

Labor Minister Claims Success for Guaranteeing Capital Issue of Schemes

LONDON, Nov. 30.—(By Associated Press)—Having disposed of the Irish legislation, the house of commons today addressed itself to the routine business of the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne. Rt. Hon. J. R. Clynes, former parliamentary Labor leader, in moving an amendment to the address, raised the question of unemployment, which outside the foreign policy, is the biggest problem facing the new government.

Mr. Clynes declared that what the unemployed wanted was work, not doles, and that the greatest opportunity would be found in an adequate housing scheme. He warned the government against being tempted into the direction of unemployment insurance by the separate industries, contending that insurance of the working man was a national obligation.

No New Remedies

The debate showed that the government had no new remedies to put forward. It relies mainly on the proposals of the previous government in regard to building and improving of roads and similar public services, as well as inducing the railway companies to hasten work upon contemplated extensions.

Sir Montague Barlow, minister of labor, made a proposal to renew the existing Trade Facilities act for 12 months and to increase the maximum guarantees under that measure to $50,000,000. The Labor minister expatiated upon the success aleardy attained by guaranteeing the capital issues of about 200 schemes under the Trade Facilities act. The government had reappointed the cabinet committee on unemployment and will keep the question under close attention.

Lords Apathetic on Irish Bills

The same comparative apathy attended the discussion of the Irish constitution in the house of lords as was exhibited in the house of commons. The bill passed the second reading without revision by the slenderly attended house.

Lord Middleton and other peers opposing the Irish settlement declared they could not support the bill, but said they would not ask the lords to reject it. After a brief debate most bills passed the second reading without revision.

The lords immediately adjourned and the expectation was that the third reading of the measure would take place tomorrow.

Consider Altering Title of Secretary for the Colonies

LONDON, Nov. 30.—(By Canadian Press Cable)—At question time in the house of commons today, inquiry was made whether, having regard to the fact that the dominions have long since passed the status of colonies, the premier would consider an alteration in the title of the secretary of state for the colonies.

Premier Bonar Law replied that he had never heard it suggested by any representative of the dominions that there was any desire for a change, but if there was such a desire, he felt that it would be raised at the imperial conference.

Referring to the matter of an imperial conference, the premier expressed the hope that it would be found convenient to hold a meeting next year. He said invitations had not been issued.

Oppose Colonizing Immigration Plans Press for Railway

SWAN RIVER, Man., Nov. 30.—The United Farmers of Nelson constituency will submit resolutions urging the immediate completion of the Hudson Bay railway, opposing the Canadian Colonization association immigration scheme and appealing for a Dominion-owned bank, at the provincial convention at Brandon early in the new year, it was decided at a convention here yesterday.

No Inquest Is Necessary on College Fire Victims

WINNIPEG, Nov. 30.—No inquest on the 10 bodies recovered from the ruins of the St. Boniface college fire will be held, the coroner announced tonight. The body of William Arthur Taylor will be turned over to his parents for burial, he said, and the other victims will be buried at a public funeral.

HE IS DEAD, I AM ALIVE, SAYS WOMAN

Evidence Progresses in Lawson Murder Case at Trial in Calgary

ATTEMPT TO STOP YOUNG PICCARILLO

Officer Recounts Attempt to Arrade Leading to Shooting Incident

CALGARY, Nov. 30. — "I got Lawson," admitted Mrs. Florence Lassandra, jointly accused with Emil Piccarillo, of the murder of Constable S. O. Lawson at Coleman, September 21, when charged formally with the murder by Sergeant James Scott of Blairmore, Alberta, provincial police station. Sergeant Scott gave this in evidence Thursday afternoon and his statements were corroborated by Constable Moriarity of the same force. When first accosted by the officers, she had said:

"I'm alive and he's dead—that's all there is to it."

Mrs. Lassandra, Sergeant Scott declared, further admitted that Piccarillo had told her that the reason for their trip to Coleman police detachment on the night of the murder was "to get Lawson" for shooting Steve Piccarillo, earlier in the day. In the same interview Mrs. Lassandra handed to the witness four revolver cartridges which she took out of her pocket, and said the gun was down at Mrs. Gibeau's, where she had been arrested.

Recounts Early Threat

Piccarillo, earlier in the day, had threatened to kill Lawson, Sergeant Scott stated. "It was lucky for Lawson," said Piccarillo, "he did not shoot my boy—if he had, I would have killed him."

The story of the events preceding the murder also was told by Sergeant Scott. There had been an attempt to arrest Steve Piccarillo in the pass, because he was suspected of taking a load of liquor into British Columbia territory. The youth had escaped the first officers who tried to stop him, largely owing to Emil Piccarillo's interference on the trail, when repeatedly, the witness said, he tried to force the police car into a ditch. The youth had been intercepted by Constable Lawson miles down the trail but had refused to stop, and revolver shots were fired by the officer, one taking effect in the younger Piccarillo's hand.

French Chamber Not Appeal Court for Boxing Cases

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The fight waged in behalf of Battling Siki, the Senegalese pugilist, by his fellow-countryman, Deputy Diagne, in the chamber of deputies, has been lost by the member from Senegalese.

Diagne's attempt to have the appropriation for physical education reduced by 300,000 francs because of the action of the French boxing federation in penalizing Siki for certain misdeeds, was defeated today by a vote of 403 to 136. He made a lengthy speech and his words aroused some sympathy, but as the appropriation is intended only for amateur associations, a professional affair like Siki's was declared to have no standing. Had Carpentier defeated Dempsey, he had no doubt, the Legion of Honor would have been the reward of his prowess.

M. Maginot, minister of war and pensions, declared that M. Diagne's amendment had no connection with the budget for national defence and the chamber could not be transferred into a court of appeal in connection with a sporting federation's decision.

FARMER'S WIFE REGAINS HEALTH

Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fork River, Manitoba.—"I saw in the newspapers where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing so much good to women, and as I needed something I began to take it. I used to be very sick but I am not now. I live on a farm in the homestead district and we have to do all our own work. I tell all the women I see what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does for me. I think it saves me from going to a doctor and is the best medicine women can take."—Mrs. Wm. Coultas, Fork River, Manitoba.

Such symptoms as pains and irregularities, all-gone feelings, backache, headache, hot flashes, nervousness, with a general run-down condition, indicate some form of female trouble.

The Vegetable Compound has brought relief to thousands of women suffering from such ailments. Let it help you.

FAR NORTH FASCINATES

Former Nelson Lady Gives Vivid Description of Arctic Conditions

Mrs. Ralph Lomen of Nome, Alaska, who was well known in Nelson and vicinity as Mrs. Frank J. McCrohan some years ago, before her first husband died, has recently visited the south and while in Calgary gave a most interesting account of her experiences in the frozen north.

While the very name "Alaska" conjures up for us a far-distant country of the mystic northern circle, Mrs. Ralph Lomen of Nome, an interesting visitor to the city, does not think it far measured by the present comparatively easy and expeditious means of travel. However, when she thinks that the "frozen sea" will soon form a great barrier between her and members of her family, the distance looms large.

Bering sea will shortly be one vast mass of ice, settling down to its undisturbed winter sleep of silence. Nome and the other northern points then comfortably arrange their winter program, shut off from all communication with the outside world, except for the mail, brought in once a month by dog train—the first consignment coming from the end of the railroad at Nananna about Christmas time.

The sea freezes over about December 1, and for a month before is placid and beautiful beyond imagination as the glassy waters, growing colder and colder, sparkle in the brilliant sun. From the tender violet of early dawn to the scarlet streaks which light up the crimson and purple of the evening west, the placid waters are ever changing in beauty as they prepare for a long retreat beneath the deepening ice pack.

Mrs. Lomen is the wife of Ralph Lomen, who is one of the partners in the largest reindeer company in the world. Her father-in-law, Judge Lomen, who went to Nome in 1900, started the reindeer herd in 1914, taking his four sons in as partners.

The history of the reindeer industry dates back to the work of the government in bringing a few reindeer from Norway and Labrador for a mission at Teller, Alaska, 95 miles from Nome, where a reindeer station was established. The Eskimos then began developing small herds and have continued such operations through the north.

Only White Man's Company in Alaska.

The Lomen Reindeer company is about the only one operated by white men and now has 35,000 reindeer, kept in five herds. The work is all done by the Eskimos and herders are needed merely to keep the cattle together, as they require no care. They differ very much from cattle, who drift with a storm, in that they fight the blizzard and so the herders always know where to find them.

Reindeer meat is now used extensively in the United States and is considered a delicacy which is yearly being shipped out on a larger scale. It is a meat with a much more delicate flavor than beef. The fur is used in the north for the making of "parkas," the Eskimo coat, and "mukluks," the Eskimo high boots.

Hides Fashioned Into Popular Dress.

White people occasionally have a reindeer hide dressed and made into a coat when it has proved quite a handsome fur with something the appearance of mink. Mrs. Lomen states that her children are dressed for school in fawn-skin parkas which is the popular winter dress for children and for sporting occasions in the north. These parkas are worn much as we wear blanket coats. The Eskimo also uses the sled-deer largely as a beast of burden.

Is Something New Under the Sun.

Hardly in keeping with the old axiom that "there is nothing new under the sun," the reindeer industry is new in the world, with very large possibilities.

Nome lacks about one hour of the midnight sun, and is built directly on the shores of the restless sea. A peculiar phenomena is witnessed early in the winter season when the water freezes over. The beach is piled high with great mases of ice and snow, caused by the tides. As the water freezes hard, the tide movement gradually ceases until it is not perceptible, so even the tide seems to obey the will of great King Frost. In December the sun is a mere shadow—rising at 10 a. m. and setting at 2 p. m. There are the arctic blizzards of the early fall, with fierce winds that sweep across the northland, to be succeeded by perfect winter days.

Navigation Again Resumed in June.

The waters are frozen over until about June, when the revenue cutter Bear, the police boat, breaks its way through the ice, ploughing a path for other craft.

The steamer Victoria, which makes four trips in the months that navigation is open also arrives in June. This is a great event in the northern city, a great spring awakening. There are usually about 500 passengers for Nome and in an hour the city takes on a gala appearance and begins its happy summer season with increased population. The other boats usually bring in about a hundred extra residents each time.

One of the early summer interests is the arrival of the procession of Eskimo boats from King Island, when the Eskimo families come to Nome and district for the season. These Eskimo boats are made of walrus skin, with one sail, and glide into the water, making a real water pageant. On the edge of the open sea, without a harbor, the government built one which is of great service to small boats. Formerly they had to seek shelter 26 miles away at Sledge island.

Productive Gardens Brave Frigid Climate

The land about Nome, a sort of glacial formation, known as "tundra," is covered with reindeer moss and little gardens raise lettuce and radishes. There are abundance of low bush berries, cranberries and salmon berries, and the cranberry of the north is much superior to our domestic berry. In the summer the ground is white with "Alaska cotton," a flower something like the dandelion. There is a wonderful profusion of summer flowers for the northland has no half measures in its methods. Almost in a day, it would seem, that arctic blizzard gives place to full summer and flowers bloom when the snow has scarcely had time to melt.

In the spring the walrus are seen in great numbers, "sunning" on the ice in the open sea, and it is the winter work of the Eskimo to travel by dog and sled, over the ice, to spear them.

H. C. L. Is Problem in Far North.

Mrs. Lomen states that the high cost of living is a problem in the north as elsewhere. During the winter months the water system is not operated on account of the intense cold, and water, at 12 buckets for a dollar, is daily purchased.

She speaks with much interest of the dogs of the north, of the Siberian dog as a much prized animal. One of these was a gift from Captain Amundsen to the Lomen family. "Oolik" was a little Siberian puppy, which was carefully fed on a bottle and died recently, after being in the Lomen family for 10 years.

There is considerable social life in Nome, as is usually the case where people have to fall back on their own resources for a part of the year. Then there is the cosmopolitan life of the summer with a gaiety that almost rivals eastern cities.

The sweepstakes race which takes place in April is a great winter event. It was inaugurated in 1908 and the "marathon dog race trophy," given by John Borden of Chicago, has to be won three times in succession before it is a permanent gift. It was won this year by Fred Ayers of Nome.

Still Shows Trace of Russian Rule.

St. Michael, a few hours' ride from Nome, is a point of interest, with its old Russian fort, established in 1844. Traces of Russian rule still remain, with a predominance of Russian names in the towns and villages, where much history is written.

Mrs. Lomen states that there is gathered in these centers a strange people, bred in every part of the world and developing a hardihood in the fight with nature which is no child's game. Scandinavian, British, Icelander, are all there; and in some future age will come a new race, sturdy as Norsemen, to write a new page in the history of the world.

LOYALTY NOT IN QUESTION SAYS PREMIER

Had No Previous Warning of a Near East Crisis Declares King

CARLETON PLACE, Ont., Nov. 30.—(By Canadian Press staff correspondent)—Declaring that subsequent developments had shown the present government's attitude in the near east situation to have been the wisest which could have been followed, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, prime minister, tonight, defended that policy as the best in the interests of Canada and the whole Empire.

His declaration was made in speeches here and at Almonte, the premier having tonight entered Lanark constituency to speak in support of David Findlay, the Liberal candidate.

No Need to Boast

"Canada does not need to boast of her loyalty to the Empire," Mr. King declared. "Was I alone to decide whether Canada was to go to war against Turkey or Russia or anyone else? It is for parliament and the people to decide and to control such matters. If ever you let the control of such decisions get solely into the hands of any small group of men then you are forfeiting one of the principles for which Britain has stood.

"Loyalty to Britain was not an issue, the Premier declared. Incidentally, the prime minister shed a little new light on the appeal of September 16, when he stated that publication of all the papers would reveal the whole story. He said the telegram given to the press was entirely different from that which the government of Canada received later.

No Previous Warning

"We had no message nor warning and no previous intimation of a near east crisis," Mr. King declared. "The message we received was one dealing with a meeting of the British cabinet in which we were asked if we would support a policy of Britain standing alone regardless of either Italy or France. The cable we received did not ask for troops."

Crawls for Hours With Broken Leg; No Food or Water

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask., Nov. 30.—Lying on the prairie in freezing weather with a broken leg and without food or drink for over 80 hours, is the remarkable story of pluck and endurance that reaches the city from the country to the southwest.

W. W. Buntrock, a middle aged bachelor farmer, while driving his team several miles out of Senate, accidently dropped one of the lines. The horses turned suddenly and threw Buntrock out of the wagon, breaking his leg. Wrapping himself in a pair of horse blankets that had fallen from the wagon, he remained at the scene of the accident for two days, then started to crawl home to the shack, which he reached after some 30 hours of agonized effort.

He was found and cared for shortly after by neighbors. Buntrock is now at Shaunavon hospital doing nicely.

Northern Parliament Will Contract Out of the Irish Free State

DUBLIN, Nov. 30.—It is announced that the northern parliament will meet December 7 instead of December 12 to contract out of the Free State.

Dublin was quiet today although rumors that there would be an early outbreak of violence persisted. Richard Mulcahy, the minister of defence, asked by the newspaper correspondents whether he could give the people any reassuring message regarding the ability of the national army to deal with any trouble, said he thought it best to say nothing.

Shout "Shut Mouths" Effective

"Our most effective work always has been done with our mouths shut," the minister declared.

Official army reports say that Free State troops raided Quaker island and captured the leader of the Irregulars, Matthew Davis, and a number of his followers.

Mary and Annie MacSwiney are said to be rapidly recovering from the effects of their recent hunger strike.

GREEK PRINCE TO FACE TRIAL

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Athens quotes the Greek newspaper Eleuthros Typos as saying that the trial of Prince Andrew of Greece will begin next Monday.

ALL THE FAMILY HAD BAD COLDS

"Did you ever notice that if one of the family contracts a cold it generally runs to all the other members?"

Many people when they contract a cold do not pay any attention to it, thinking perhaps it will pass away of itself in a day or two. This is a great mistake for before they know it, it has become settled on the lungs.

Never neglect the first symptoms; get a bottle of

and see how quickly your cold will disappear.

Mrs. A. Coghlan, Magnolia, Alta., writes:—"Last Winter we all had bad colds in our family, and I didn't know what to do. Some friends told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I went and got a couple of bottles, and in a short while our colds were all gone. Now we always keep a bottle on hand in case one of us might catch a cold."

"Dr. Wood's" is 35c and 60c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RADIO PROGRAM IS NOW POPULAR

Local Broadcast Station Is Heard Clearly in Vancouver and Other Places

T. R. Nickerson of Vancouver, head of the firm of Nickerson Construction company, which company is building a car barge at the local shipyards in a communication to J. A. Stobo has stated that he listened-in on several programs broadcasted from The Daily News station here. "The programs were heard quite distinctly, said Mr. Nickerson, and the broadcasting station is certainly a proof that Nelson is a live and up-to-the-minute city."

A. P. Weaver of Chase has also written The Daily News, stating that he listens-in regularly on programs broadcasted from this station. "Your concerts come in beautifully and loud," he stated. "I shall be pleased to hear you say hello some time." Another radia fan from Juliaette, Idaho, writes: "I heard your radio concert fine last night."

Listen-in Over Phone

Some excellent receiving stations are now being installed in the city, any many outside stations are being clearly received. The latest stunt pulled off in the city has been the case when a resident of Fairview listened-in on a program being broadcasted from Vancouver, over the telephone. A receiver of the Magnovox type was set up near the telephone and many friends of the opertor of the receiving set were called up and asked to listen over the telephone to a Vancouver program.

FRUIT GROWERS HEAR STATE OF PRAIRIE MART

Members of Growers' Committee Tell of Investigations in Large Centers

L. E. Taylor and Gen. A. R. Harman members of the fruit growers' committee who have recently toured the prairie provinces looking into the market conditions of British Columbia fruit, which market has been falling off in recent years and which this year fell very low, addressed a meeting of about 35 fruit growers in the city hall yesterday afternoon.

J. J. Campbell, who occupied the chair, introduced the speakers of the afternoon. Mr. Taylor in opening his address, stated that he and General Harman were members of a growers' committee appointed at Kelowna to look into the possible remedy for the deplorable condition of the fruit market.

He stated that two months ago early in September, when the prairie markets were bad, that he and General Harman put in two weeks on the praries and visited Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon and Winnipeg. "As we financed ourselves, and undertook the trip at our own expense, we feel free to do and say as we please," said Mr. Taylor.

Market Disorganized.

Mr. Taylor described their visit to Calgary, where they found the market badly disorganized—carloads of apples were arriving daily, consigned to the various jobbers, while nobody was buying, except in small quantities many retailers buying only sufficient to last them one day, fearing that their competitors would, by buying later, be able to undersell them and force them to unload at a loss. As a consequence of selling on a consignment basis this price cutting continued indefinitely, and the loss sustained remains almost wholly with the growers.

He stated that in visiting the retailers he and General Harman had been treated with much respect and any questions asked were obligingly answered. The retailers had been losing money daily and the market, which was run on a consignment basis, dropped quite speedily. He quoted instances where jobbers who had bought fruit and paid for it had made very large losses. Flemish Beauty pears bought at $2 per box retailed at $1.75 one morning, and the same jobber four hours later had been forced to retail his pears at $1 in order to dispose of them. "What are you people in British Columbia doing?" was the question put to the committee at every turn.

What is the matter is quite clear, said Mr. Taylor. It is the growers who are spoiling their own markets for want of unity and cooperation, and for no other reason. The markets are there, and the goods are right, but many growers and shippers are so anxious to get ahead of their neighbors, and yet so blind to their own best interests, that sooner or later they begin a wild rush of consignment and price cutting and speedily bring about their own undoing and that of their neighbors.

Must Have Jobber.

"It is impossible to do without the jobber," said Mr. Taylor, "and it is necessary to study the interests of the jobbers and give them a square deal. The warehouses of the jobbers," he continued, "are full of apples shipped in on consignment, unasked for. The clogging of the market with consigned apples and the shipment at too early a date by grower-shippers of winter apples is a menace to the industry." He also showed how farmers and other people buying carloads of apples in bulk were paying more for them than they would for No. 1s wrapped in boxes. Kootenay apples, he stated, predominated on the Alberta market.

Mr. Taylor quoted one instance where a white grower-shipper had consigned his fruit to a Chinese retailer in Calgary. This Chinaman was asked by Mr. Taylor what the grower would get for the apples. The Chinese pointed to a stack of apples. "I buy 'em," he said, "they my apples, I sellem first. Then I sellem consign apples. Maybe he get something—maybe no!"

At Edmonton the committeemen ran into an apple war. One of the signs displayed there, where apples marketed by consignment were on sale, read: "War in Turkey is over; the sultan is deposed, but we are still the apple king." Crates of Cox's Orange Pippins were selling at $1 retail, which meant a loss to the grower of over 15 cents. Department stores in Edmonton were handling apples at 19 cents margin, which is far too low for the retailer who had to compete with them and so lower the market price.

From Edmonton they journey to Saskatoon, which was, and is still, the worst market of all. Things seemed in such a hopeless condition they could accomplish nothing, so continued on to Winnipeg.

Winnipeg a Dumping Ground.

"Winnipeg is the greatest place in Canada for the dumping of consigned or 'rolled' cars," said Mr. Taylor. "Cars loaded in British Columbia are sent out unsold and billed for Winnipeg, with a chance that they would be grabbed by jobbers before reaching their destination." When the committee reached Winnipeg there were 51 cars of consigned apples in the railway yards, and the jobbers did not know what to do. The first consignment cars came in on August 10 from British Columbia, while the first consignment car reported as leaving British Columbia was not till August 24. "The shippers are trying to fool each other and the grower in the bargain," he said.

On returning to Calgary the committee was met by a deputation of jobbers, who reported that a "jobbers' war" was in progress in that city and that prices were falling off. A meeting of the jobbers was called and an agreement reached whereby the jobbers were to meet every week and discuss the apple market. These meetings have been held every week since, and with good advantage to the grower and jobber, which alone means a saving of thousands of dollars.

General Harman, who followed Mr. Taylor, stated that the fruit growers should have province-wide representation on a central committee of a parent society of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' association. He stated that next Wednesday a delegate from every locality where fruit is grown will meet in Kelowna for a five days' discussion so as to work out a solution for the growers, to be presented to the shippers, who will have in future to be dictated to as the growers are now tired of being ruled by the shippers.

Consignment and rolled cars are fatal to the fruit industry, stated General Harman. They mean lack of control of distribution. He then quoted instances where shipments had left the Okanagan before a set time had so lowered the markets to shippers who were waiting for the set date. He showed where one carload of apples, shipped a week earlier, ruined the trade. He spoke of some towns in Alberta, with a very small population, being glutted with apples. The glut was general and not confined to larger centers. At the town of Lacombe, for instance, with a population of 2300, no less than 21 cars of apples were shipped in. Such a quantity could not possibly be disposed of there to advantage.

Growers to Blame.

"The growers alone are to blame," said General Harman. "Look at them; there is meanness, jealousy, unpleasantness and hatred among them. One farmer sprays because he sees another spraying; one picks when his neighbor picks, instead of studying out things for themselves." He then went on to state that over 70 per cent of the growers shipped their fruit by the consignment plan. He warned the growers to beware of the mushroom grower and mushroom shipper, who are forever going to do something big.

"Control of the district is the only remedy," he continued. "First of all, let the grower control his own orchard. Try and make the picking of the crops a continual thing as the fruit ripens, and don't try to beat your neighbor to the packing house and so crowd that institution. Ship the fruit in season and get rid of the grower mushroomer and jobber mushroomer, who are nuisances."

He recommended the formation of an organization provincial-wide, so that every apple would be a British Columbia apple, label the boxes and sell them through on central distributing house. Almost all our fruit sold in England is sold as American apples, he stated, and only two houses in London are marketing British Columbia fruit.

Extend Movement.

He also recommended that the growers start a campaign to strengthen and extend the cooperative movement among fruit growers. This cannot be done without some sacrifice, and it was proposed and accepted by the people present that in order to reimburse the growers' committee for expenses already incurred, to create a fund for the above mentioned purposes and for other aims that may be considered desirable, to ask growers to subscribe to a central campaign fund as follows: One-half cent per packed box or crate of apples, pears or crabs; one-quarter cent per package of soft fruit on which a return is received; one per cent of the net returns on all vegetables, with the exception of what are sold for canning purposes.

Contract forms were produced and several of the growers present affixed their signatures to the sheets. A committee, consisting of W. J. McKim, J. Hyslop and W. Wilson, was appointed from those present to choose a delegate from the local growers at the convention at Kelowna next week.

Following the addresses several questions were asked the committeemen by the growers present. Replying to the question of apples in the smaller prairie towns, Mr. Taylor stated that apple salesmen frequented all towns and that every prairie town had a good share of the fruit. Referring to American fruit, he stated that there was not a single box of American apples on the Canadian market. Only 10 cars were shipped to Canada from the states this year, these being early apples, which effected the market to a large extent, as when Canadian apples came on they sold for from 25 to 75 cents less.

The railway strikes and shortage of cars also caused fewer shipments of apples from across the line. He also stated that the Ontario market did not interfere with the British Columbia market, nor did the dumping clause have any effect on apples as only peaches and onions were effected by it. Questioned regarding overproduction, it was stated that there was no such term. What was the matter was that there was underconsumption. According to population only one-fifth of an apple per day is consumed per person. The erection of spacious storage houses and shipping of fruit as required would also tend to hold the prices at a better level. Asked regarding the difference between the Panama route and the Atlantic route to England Mr. Harman stated that the Atlantic route was much more quicker, and the heating more proficient, and was a better route, although the charges were a very little difference.

The committeemen have visited Burton, Nakusp and Nelson, and will this week visit Willow Point, Harrop, Boswell, Creston, Grand Forks and Kelowna. Yesterday afternoon's meeting was a representative one for the country surrounding the city.

Obituary

DOCKENDORF

The death occurred in the Moncton hospital on November 15 of Garfield F. Dockendorff of St. Boswell, Sask., at the age of 35 years.

Mr. Dockendorff was on his way to his old home in North River, Prince Edward island, when he was taken ill in Moncton, and admitted to the hospital there. His sister, Mrs. Heath McLean of Allston, Mass., was immediately notified and arrived about two days before he passed away. Everything that medical skill and loving care could do was done, but the disease, which resulted from septic poisoning, had made such progress that it could not be arrested.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Charles Dockendorff, at present at Passmore, B. C.; three sisters, Mrs. George Forbes of Carbon, Alta.; Mrs. Heath McLean of Allston, Mass., and Mrs. Edgar Jamieson of Passmore, B. C., and one brother, Harold, who was associated with him in wheat farming in southern Saskatchewan.

The funeral, which took place from C. D. Wright's undertaking parlors, Charlottetown, P. E. I., to the family plot in North River, was largely attended, and numerous floral tributes spoke of the esteem in which the late Mr. Dockendorff was held.

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys

Too much meat may form uric acid, which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Big meat eaters can flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like they relieve the bowels, removing all the acids, waste and poison, else they may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad they have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

Tea and Sale of Work at Willow Point Is Most Successful

A most successful tea and sale of work was held in Crystal hall at Willow Point yesterday afternoon by the Women's Society of St. Andrew's church. The hall, which was tastefully decorated with curtains and other drapery, was arranged by Mrs. T. H. Bailey.

Very near $90 was cleared in the afternoon's effort, a feature of which was the stall supervised by the little girls of Mrs. West's sewing circle. The "Bran Pie," a laughable attraction for the youngsters, was also a great success. The afternoon tea stall was in charge of Mrs. B. Townsend. The members of the church contributed well to the afternoon's sale, which was an entire success. The home cooking, in charge of Mrs. Metcalf and Mrs. Burgess, realized $17.30. The tea tables, in charge of Mrs. B. Townsend and Mrs. E. Edwards, netted $14. The candy stall, which was beautifully arranged by Mrs. Denny with dainty baskets and canoes, was a center of attraction, $13.50 being realized. The sewing and needlework, which was a display of wide range, was in charge of Mrs. Applewhaite and Mrs. Horsfield, and netted $39.60.

Heiress to $25,000 on condition that she get married, Miss Ruth Spanier, 21, has decided to continue selling bread and pastry in her mother's store at New York.

Plan to Increase Storage Capacity Grain Elevators

WINNIPEG, Nov. 30.—With the construction of two new elevators during the coming year, storage capacity at the head of the lakes will be brought up to 61,000,000 bushels for the 1923 season.

A Self-Respecting Foreign Policy

Rupture of diplomatic relations with France will show the world that the Bonar Law government intends to preserve British prestige in foreign affairs.

The new Greek government, evidently inspired by a desire to strike terror in the hearts of its domestic opponents, decided to execute a number of members of the former government, on charges arising out of the war with Turkey.

Britain believed that the executions were barbarious in conception and motive and that it should not countenance them. To British protests Athens turned a deaf ear. The Bonar Law government then recalled its diplomatic representative at the Greek capitol.

The action will be approved throughout an Empire which declines to associate itself with methods, such as these unwarranted executions, which the Greek government appears to rely upon to enable it to remain in power.

Population

Two groups of scientists are merrily arguing whether the world a few generations hence will be overcrowded. One side, led by Dr. Raymond Pearl of Johns Hopkins university, holds that 200 millions, for instance, is the "saturation point" for the United States—after that the standard of living will steadily go down.

But Roy L. Garis, economist, finds a flaw in this pessimistic view. He says the problem is not so much one of population as of wealth, that so long as sufficient is produced for all earth's inhabitants the overpopulation bugaboo need not be feared. He says mankind "has evolved to that point in civilization where it is motivated by other than the unconscious, instinctive impulses of the brute," and thereby some control of the rate of increase in population may be hoped for.

The important thing about this discussion is that men of brains already are turning their intellects upon a problem which 200 or 300 years from now may be the all-absorbing problem of humanity. They are laying the groundwork for its solution.

Efficient Housekeeping

By Laura A. Kirkman

THE CARE OF CHINA.

One of the marks of a really good housekeeper is a reverence for her china. Show me the way in which a woman cares for her china and I can correctly guage the amount of pride, self-respect and sentiment she possesses.

The word "china" is often misused. For porcelain is the finest quality of ware, almost transparent when held to the light, and the most fragile; while china is the medium weight ware, of which most sets are made. Pottery is the coarsest ware, perhaps most tastefully used in the shape of odd bowls and pitchers.

All china is entitled to the greatest care. For even the pieces we use on the home table for every day use are costly enough these days! But rare, old china and porcelain should receive the following care:

Never soak fine china and porcelain in the dispan. Never wash it with soap powder or a coarse soap. When it is very greasy use a mild soap, and water that is not too hot. Ordinarily lukewarm water which contains a sprinkling of borax will suffice to cleanse it thoroughly. The rinse water may be a trifle hotter.

When you remove a clean piece of ware from the rinse water, drain it a moment on a clean, thick, dry cloth which you have spread over the drainboard (indeed, if the ware is very thin, you should also use towels on the bottom of the dish pans). After a few moments of draining, take up the piece and dry with a soft, clean towel (a Turkish towel is excellent). Let cool before piling the pieces.

At no time in the process allow a sudden change from hot to cold, or vice versa. I have known fine porcelain to crack when a window was suddenly thrown open upon a piece which was just removed from hot rinse water. I have also known fine china to crack when an inexperienced housekeeper used very hot water in her dispan and then lifted the piece into the fairly cold atmosphere of the kitchen. Sudden changes of heat and cold bring about expansion and contraction in the china, thus causing the breakage.

Another task which a good housekeeper performs in caring for her fine porcelain and china is that of placing paper mats between piled pieces. This is looked upon as a nuisance by many housewives—but it pays. For, although the piled pieces do not break each other, they may chip the glaze from the surface of the pieces they touch in piling. Run your hand over the surface of a fine porcelain plate and you will see what I mean; if the glaze is smooth and unbroken, the owner of that plate has taken the trouble to portect piece from piece in piling. And nowadays, when the small white paper doilies are sold so inexpensively, there is no need for the housekeeper to go to the trouble of cutting paper mats.

Fine china should, of course, be kept behind glass doors to protect it from gritty dust. If you do not own a china closet, chintz curtains are the next best substitute.

Tomorrow—Contributed Recipes.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and province.—The Editor.

BY LENORE

To extract fullest service possible from her gown, this lady wears a coat frock that is really that, for it opens down the front entirely; and though it fits snugly enough to be worn as a frock, it may also be worn as a coat over a silk dress. It is made of taupe velour, very soft and subdued with its trimming of squirrel.

Brown silk matolasse was used by the same designer in another coat frock that looked extremely attractive, and varied from the usual by the addition of a blouse of beige georgette crepe, beaded with coral. This showed in the front where the gown opened in a deep "V" that had a wide revers on one side, and two bands of kolinsky on the other, these bands of fur being brought from the top of the revers around the back of the neck to form a collar, and ending at the waistline at the left side. The sleeves were finished with a deep gauntlet cuff trimmed with four bands of fur.

Chief Long's Mallard Ducks Are Again City Visitors for Winter

Last year's large flock of mallard ducks which frequent the waterfront all during the fall, winter and spring have again returned, according to Chief of Police Thomas H. Long, who has fed the birds for the past few winters.

The birds are quite tame, stated the chief last night, and have been city visitors since the reservation was created some three or four years ago. The ducks last year remained throughout the winter till well on in March, before taking leave for greener fields. Chief Long has taken the responsibility of protecting the visitors throughout the winter, and daily scatters food for them. He is particularly anxious that no harm should come to them, and warns the public, especially the young boys of the city, that they should in no way harm the feathered visitors.

MANCHESTER IN BLACK AND WHITE

Manchester will be absolutely devoid of Liberal representation in the next parliament, all of the members being either Conservative or Labor. The significance of this is that free trade was not considered an issue in these elections, for if it had been there is no doubt such a free trade center as Manchester would have returned some Liberals.

Political Phases of the Near East Were Not Involved

OTTAWA, Nov. 30.—(By Canadian Press).—The conference of Dominion high commissioners with British government officials "to discuss the near east situation" last week-end was not a discussion of the political phases of the political situation at all, according to a report received by the government from Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian commissioner in London, it was announced here last night. Following the receipt of cable dispatches concerning the conference, it is understood, Mr. Larkin was asked to inform the government here of what had been done at the meeting.

The information received was that the meeting was called with the object of discussing trade relations with Turkey and that the president of the board of trade had made it clear that this was purely an economic matter.

Lausanne, the government here was informed, had not been mentioned at the meeting place and it had been stated expressly that the conference had not been called for discussion of the political phases of the situation.

A Chicago boy and girl, each 14 years old, were arrested after a two-day elopement, during which the boy was trying to get money so they could marry.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills

The Great Liver Regulators

The duty of the liver is to prepare and secrete bile and serve as a filter to the blood, cleansing it of all impurities and poisons.

Therefore when the liver is inactive and failing to secrete bile in sufficient quantity constipation and other liver troubles soon follow.

Mrs. H. D. Hutchinson, Peterborough, Ont., writes:—"I have been using your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and they have done me a lot of good. My liver bothered me a great deal; I was drowsy and tired all the time and didn't feel like doing anything, let alone my housework. I tried everything, but your Pills seemed to do the work far better than anything I had ever taken."

Price 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Bank Clearings Reflect Heavy Grain Movement

WINNIPEG, Nov. 30.—The tremendous movement of Canadian wheat through Winnipeg to eastern points is reflected in the bank clearings for November. For that month Winnipeg's clearings ran behind Toronto's by only $65,000,000, and show an increase over last November of $50,000,000. Montreal and Toronto show decreases of $50,000,000 and $40,0000,000, respectively, for the same period.

It is stated that Winnipeg's increase over last year would have been much greater save for changes made by grain firms in their accounting systems for the purpose of reducing the check tax. QUEENS HAVE LAST WORKOUT

Final Practice Behind Closed Doors; All in Good Football Trim

KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 30.—Queens players had their last hard workout today behind closed doors in preparation for the game on Saturday with Edmonton Elks. They will have a light signal practice tomorrow and will then rest from their labors until Saturday afternoon.

McKelvey and McLeod, who were injured in Saturday's game in Toronto, are still receiving medical attention, but they are expected to be all right by Saturday. The players as a whole, however, are in good football trim and ready for the conflict.

The Elks arrive tomorrow afternoon and will be welcomed by a representative of Queens. If the weather is good the straw will be removed from the stadium so that the westerners may have a light workout. If the weather is bad, other facilities will be provided for practice.

Wally Elmer Signs on With St. Paul's for Hockey Season

SASKATOON, Nov. 30.—The signing of Wally Elmer, last year with the St. Paul team of the American Hockey association, was announced by the Crescent Hockey club today. Elmer is a former Kingston boy and is already on the ground.

Nine players are already here. Practice will likely begin Friday. Newsy Lalonde is also expected tomorrow.

After working all night in the mines a Shenandoah (Pa.) man returned home and drank a glass of supposed whiskey. Shortly after he dropped dead.

MIKE O'DOWD WINS ON FOUL

Winner Had Wide Margin When Rosenberg Was Dis-Disqualified

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul won over Dave Rosenberg of New York on a foul in the eighth round of a scheduled 15-round bout here today. Rosenberg was disqualified for hitting low after two minutes and 28 seconds of fighting in that round. O'Dowd was leading by a wide margin when the bout ended.

Rosenberg twice had been warned by Referee Haley in the eighth round when suddenly O'Dowd crumpled up and sank to the canvas. Haley immediately disqualified Rosenberg and the bout was awarded to the St. Paul boxer by the judges.

Deputy Boxing Commissioner Harry Bershill ordered that Rosenberg's share of the receipts be withheld pending an investigation.

POSTPONE AUTO RACE ON ACCOUNT OF RAIN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—The final championship automobile race of the 1922 season of the American Automobile association, to be held this afternoon, was postponed on account of rain. The 250-mile race will be run Sunday. The postponement probably will eliminate Ralph De Palma from the race next Sunday. He recently was arrested for speeding and may be serving his 10-day jail sentence when the race is started.

BUFFALO Nov. 30.—Rocky Kansas of Buffalo won the decision over Pete Hartley of New York in a 10-round bout here tonight. It was Kansas' first appearance in the ring since he broke an arm in a battle with Benny Leonard at Michigan City on July 4, last.

LYNCH RETAINS BANTAM'S TITLE

Daly Gives Champion Bad Shake Up in Fourth; Superior Boxing Wins

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 30.—Joe Lynch, bantam weight champion of the world, won handily from Frankie Daly, New York, in a 10-round bout here this afternoon. Lynch outboxed his opponent all the way, having him groggy in the seventh and tenth rounds.

Daly's best round was the fourth, when he caught the champion flush on the jaw and shook him up. Before the round ended, however, Lynch was back in the lead.

Ross Murphy, Chicago lightweight, knocked out Billy Hennessy of Denver in the first round of the semi-windup.

Bobby Bridges of Indianapolis, welter weight, knocked out August Kelley of Milwaukee in the fifth round of the other contest.

Gorman Considers Joining Ranks of Professional Skaters

ST. JOHN, N. B., Nov. 30.—Charles Gorman of St. John, amateur speed skater, said today he was considering an offer from the United States to become a professional. Gorman claims the world's amateur outdoor record for 440 yards.

RUNS THE LIMIT AND WINS THEREBY

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 30.—Willie Hoppe, world's 18.2 balk line billiard player, ran 300 points from the scratch in an exhibition game here today. The game, for 300 points, was automatically brought to an end. Charles Peterson of St. Louis, Hoppe's opponent, had no opportunity to shoot. Hoppe's run was unfinished.

NEW YORK Nov. 30.—Joe Lynch, holder of the bantamweight title, will meet Midget Smith of New York in a championship bout on December 22, under arrangements completed by the managers of the two principals and Frank Flourney, matchmaker, at Madison Square Garden yesterday.

INTERMEDIATE CHAMPIONS ARE AGAIN IN LINE

Annual Election of Officers to Cub Hockey Team Is Held

Last night the Nelson Cubs, last year's winners of the Intermediate hockey championship of British Columbia and holders of the Coy cup, organized for the coming season. This season will be the seventh in which the Cubs have taken the ice, as they were organized as juniors in January, 1915.

Officers elected last night by the members of the club were as follows: Honorary president, Dr. H. H. McKenzie, reelected; honorary vice-president, Roy Sharpe; president, W. A. Curran, reelected; vice-president, Carl Larson; manager, J. M. Armstrong, reelected; secretary-treasurer, J. B. Curran, reelected. An executive committee consisting of Henry Ferguson, F. Boyd and Herbert Jordan was also chosen.

A financial report of the past season was read and adopted and the Cubs are free from debt. The assets of the team, amounted to $28. A most successful season was reported upon and all members are quite confident that the Coy cup will be a guest of the city for another year.

This year the B. C. A. H. A. have given the Cubs an opportunity to place a Nelson man on the executive of the association. Last night, after a discussion of some length, George Ferguson, the well-known local sport follower, was elected to fill the position. His name will be submitted to the association by the secretary at once.

Plans for the coming season were thoroughly discussed and Trail will be communicated with at once to arrange, if possible, an intermediate hockey league for this winter. It was also decided that in order to raise funds for uniforms that a dance be staged this month. A committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements. J. M. Armstrong and J. B. Curran were named as a committee to attend the sports meeting which will be held next week.

CHAMBERLAIN UNREPENTANT COALITIONIST

Sharp Division With Premier; Thinks Labor May Win Next Election

LONDON, Nov. 30.—(By Canadian Press)—Frank avowel by Austen Chamberlain at a dinner tonight, in the house of commons that he is still an unrepentant coalitionist, has revived discussion as to the future relations of the parties. It is pointed out that there is a sharp contradiction in the views of Chamberlain and Bonar Law, for, whereas Bonar Law deemed it advisable to end the coalition because it has been driving people who were dissatisfied with it, to vote Labor, Chamberlain still thinks that unless there is a coalition, Labor will win the next election.. The effect of Chamberlain's declaration on the Conservative party and the Liberal reunion proposals is being much canvassed.

Wealth of Detail Snows Under Plans to Aid Unemployed

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The debate in the house of commons tonight regarding unemployment followed familiar lines and few fresh ideas for a solution of the problem came out.

Rt. Hon. J. R. Clynes, deputy leader of the Labor party, spoke in a moderate tone, and most of the labor speeches were in the same key.

The statement made by Sir Montagu Barlow, minister of labor, concerning the government's plan for alleviation of unemployment contained such a wealth of detail that members professed themselves unable to grasp their full effect. The proposals will be discussed tomorrow on broader lines by the premier and the Labor party leader, Ramsay MacDonald.

Vatican Protests at Execution of Greek Ministers

ROME, Nov. 30.—The Vaticon is to make a direct protest to the Greek government against the execution of the former Greek ministers. Pope Pius has ordered the papal nuncio at Berne to make representations to M. Venizelos of the Greek delegation in Lausanne.

Solemn funeral services are to be held here for the executed men. It is reported that former King Constantine will attend the ceremonies.

WITNESS NOT SURE ABOUT THE TIME

WINNIPEG. Nov. 30.—The first evening session of the St. Boniface college fire investigation was held this evening. Miss Violet Hunter, a 16-year-old girl who was previously reported to have seen the fire at an hour much earlier than the time at which the alarm was raised in the college itself, and almost an hour before the fire department was notified, took the stand. In her evidence she could not state the time definitely, stating she had been up late reading and that her father had retired about midnight, taking the clock with him.

ADJUNCT OF UNIVERSITY BURNS DOWN

Dental and Veterinary College Goes Up in Flames at Montreal

MONTREAL, Dec. 1.—Fire which raged for over two hours completely destroyed the Laval Dental and Veterinary college, affiliated with the University of Montreal, here late last night, causing a loss of approximately $500,000. Eight firemen were slightly injured by flying glass. The flames were believed to be under control at 1:45 this morning, after burning since 11:30.

The building was a separate one from the main building of the University of Montreal. This is the second fire within the last three weeks at the university and the third in two years. The first fire this year, which occurred about the middle of November, caused damage in the neighborhood of $30,000. In 1920 the entire building was destroyed by fire. There have been strong rumors of incendiarism in connection with the first fire this month.

Connects Prominent Men's Sons With the Garneau Murder Case

QUEBEC, Nov. 30.—The storm cloud which has been hanging over the royal commission inquiring into the Blanche Garneau case and which everybody expected to burst at any moment broke this afternoon when one of the witnesses, pressed to give certain names, mentioned those of two prominent local men's sons, after he had been granted the protection of the commission against any civil or criminal action which might be taken against him.

Joseph Valade, a "special agent," who had followed the very first clue in the sensational murder and who had been questioned since yesterday afternoon, stated to Aime Geofferdon, acting for the attorney-general's department, that from what he had heard through public rumors and from the description he had obtained from Henri Duval, alias Casubon, he was inclined to connect the names of two young men with the crime.

At the morning sitting there was a scene which resulted in strong comment by Justice Archibald. When the commission met again in the afternoon L. G. Belley, K. C., of Quebec, and Aime Geofferdon, K. C. Montreal, got into a rather hot argument and many of the remarks made by counsel were the signal for applause by the very large audience.

EMPLOYMENT BILLS MEET WITH DEFEAT

Bowser Joins With Government Forces to Kill Measure on Second Reading

VICTORIA, Nov. 30.—Hon. John Hart, minister of finance, introduced in the legislature tonight a bill to borrow $3,500,000 to be spent in construction of public buildings on the land settlement board, on the soldiers' land act scheme and irrigation.

A bill seeking to amend the Employment of Children act, introduced by Sam Guthrie, Labor, Newcastle, failed to pass second reading, following an attack upon it by J. D. deB. Farris.

The vote was 23 to 16. Messrs. Bowser, Hunter and Duncan joined forces to defeat the measure.

The Night Employment of Children act and also a bill relating to the night employment of women are expected to meet the same fate. Mr. Farris contended that subjects covered by the proposed bills were dealt with by existing legislation. Amendments would be more in order than new bills.

Eight Hours Fatal.

Enforcement of the eight-hour day principle in industry would sound the death knell of farming in British Columbia, declared A. D. Patterson, Liberal, Delta, opposing Major Burde's eight-hour day bill.

Mr. Patterson stated that 40 per cent of the standing timber of the province was located east of the Cascade mountains, where lumbering was operative only eight months of the year. It was necessary to give as long employment as possible to those engaged in the industry. The enforcement of the eight-hour day in logging camps and mills would place the industry in this province at a serious handicap in competing with eastern mills, which were without restrictions as to hours of operation.

"The eight-hour day question affects the farmers indirectly," said Mr. Patterson. "You cannot expect men to work 10 and 11 hours a day on the farms while other industries are forbidden to make men work more than eight hours a day. If every other industry but farming must operate on the eight-hour day plan the farmers will be forced out of business.

MELBOURNE, Nov. 30.—(By Canadian Press Cable, via Reuters).—In the Australian legislative assembly today, an amendment to the liquor licensing bill providing for a statewide poll after a stated period instead of local option was carried by 42 to 19 votes.

The bill provides for a truce of seven years before the taking of the poll, but this clause was amended today to 10 years by at vote of 34 to 25.
