CUT NELSON-KASLO SERVICE TO A BASIS OF TRI-WEEKLY

BOAT SERVICE CUT PROPOSED IN SEPTEMBER

Nelson and Kaslo Boards Asked to Choose Plan

ONE WOULD HAVE PRESENT SERVICE

Other Would Omit Nelson and Arm; Give Kaslo Day Run

Information that the Canadian Pacific Railway company, under the dictation of lessened steamer revenues, consequent in part on lessened mining activity, has decided to meet the situation by reducing its service on Kootenay lake by placing the Kaslo run on a tri-weekly basis instead of the present "daily except Sunday" plan, has been communicated to the Nelson and Kaslo boards of trade.

The method of giving the amended service has not yet been selected, but two alternatives, one consisting of operating the present schedule on half the number of days, and the other consisting of an extensive rearrangement for a service between Crawford Bay and Kaslo via Procter, Nelson and the West Arm being omitted, have been outlined to the Kaslo board and to the freight and transportation committee of the Nelson board, by C.P.R. officials, in order that they might express a preference.

KASLO VIEW CHANGES

Kaslo board, it is understood, while declining to admit the necessity for a reduction of service, went on record for favoring the plan for rearranging the servce to a main lake basis. Since then, however, it is said, Kaslo opinion has changed, and as voiced here yesterday by H. Giegerich, who was in from the lake capital, now prefers making the least disturbance possible by retaining the present schedules on a tri-weekly plan.

Action on behalf of the Nelson board will probably be taken by the council, which has its semi-monthly luncheon today. If there is a strong division of opinion, the council might decide to refer the question of the full board.

It is assumed that the new form of service, whichever it will be, will brought into effect about the beginning of September, when the time changes are usually announced.

MAIN LAKE PLAN

The plan worked out by the C.P.R. operating department for a Kaslo run confined to the main lake would have Procter and Kaslo the regular termini, with extensions to Crawford Bay and Lardo on their respective boat days. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday the boat would leave Procter at 8:30 a.m. after arrival of the Crow boat from Nelson, and would proceed via the usual intermediate stops to Kaslo, where it would arrive at 10:45 a.m. At 4:30 p.m. it would start back for Procter, where it would arrive at 6:45 p.m., connecting with the Crow boat for Nelson.

On Monday and Friday the boat would start from Crawford Bay at 6:30 a.m., reaching Procter at 7:30 a.m., for the upper lake run, and on returning at night, would leave Procter at 7 p.m. for Crawford Bay, tying up there at 8 p.m. On Wednesday, it would leave Kaslo at 11 a.m. for Lardo, arriving there at 12.30 p.m., and leaving Lardo at 1 p.m. would be back at Kaslo at 2:30 p.m., The other Lardo trip would be taken on Saturday as at present, outside the tri-weekly schedule.

LOSE THREE DAYS

If this plan should be put into force, Crawford Bay passengers for Nelson would have to remain for the day at Procter before being able to get to this city by the Crow boat at 8:50 p.m. All other passengers from main lake points for Nelson would similarly arrive at night. In order to transact business, if such business involved anything more than a mere interview, it would be necessary for the visitor to spend the following day in Nelson, and then leave for home on the morning of the third day. In the case of Crawford Bay passengers, they would spend three whole days in order to do necessary business in Nelson, if they used solely the steamer facitities.

This alternative, while affording the opportunity for main lake points to be in Kaslo during commercial hours, makes no provisions for the main lake residents who have to come to Nelson to transact legal or other business. While points on the Nelson-Kaslo highway can make use of motor facilities in summer, points on the east side of the main lake, such as Crawford Bay points, Kootenay Bay, and

RAIDERS MARCH PESHAWAR ROUTE

New Situation Arises in India; Young Men Seek Volunteers

SIMLA, India, Aug. 6.— (AP) — Fresh uneasiness today was recorded far up on Indian's turbulent northwest frontier, where for decades raids by fierce tribesmen have terrorized the inhabitants.

While various parties of raiders have been bambed from their caves by the Royal Air Force this year or driven back into the hills by British ground troops, the young men of the Afridis are once more looking toward Peshawar and the promise of loot it holds.

These fighting youths, inflamed by speeches of their Mullahs, (priests), have raised a hostile force which is slowly moving down the Bara Valley attempting to enroll recruits as it goes.

British officials have warned all villagers along the route of march and are taking precautions to stem any trouble.

Otherwise India passed a quiet day but a new angle on the National congress campaign was seen in an official communique issued at Ootacamund, summer headquarters of the Madras gavernment.

The communique stated that thus far 607 persons who have been charged or cnvicted in connection with civil disobedience movement in the Madras presidency have apologized and promised to refrain from similar future activities. Consequently they were released.

R 100 FLIGHT TO OTTAWA SET FIRST OF WEEK

Repairs to Big Bag Will Be Completed by That Time Says Officers

MOTORS WILL HUM AFTER SHORT REST

Crowd Gets Thrills as Riggers Make Repairs on Fin

ST. HUBERT AIRPORT, Montreal, Aug. 6—If all goes well, the motors of the giant British dirigible, R-100, will be heard singing their song of power this week end, for the first time since the ship arrived from Cardington last Friday.

In an official statement issued late tonight, announcement is made that the dirigible will leave the mooring tower for her flight over Ottawa and Toronto—providing weather conditions are favorable and repairs to her damaged stabilizing fin are completed.

The announcement says: "Providing the repairs to the R-100 are completed satisfactorialy and weather conditions are favorable there is reason to believe that the flight over Ottawa and Toronto will be made over this week end."

Unofficially it was reported later that the vessel would leave the mast on Sunday afternoon, flying over Ottawa that night and over Toronto on Monday, returning to Montreal at dusk. This could not be confirmed tonight, however.

Repair work on the stabilizing fin, damaged when the R-100 struck bad weather near Father Point while en route from Cardington, has made steady progress. The linen panels replacing the torn fabric are in place, and today two riggers gave the crowd below a thrill when the "sealed" the seams of the panels as the ship floated 200 feet up. In a statement issued earlier it was announced that repairs would be completed within 48 hours, which would see their completion on Friday morning.

OTTAWA PICKS OUT CABINET FOR BENNETT

Leader Makes No Announcement · Busy Scenes in Capital

PREMIER KING HAS COMPLETED WORK

Bennett Gives No Satisfaction to Anxious Enquirers Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 6—(CP)—No official intimation of the personnel of the new Conservative administration to take office tomorrow afternoon has yet been made. In political circles, however, the likely composition of the new cabinet to serve under Premier-Elect Hon. R. B. Bennett is forecast as follows:

Secretary of state for external affairs and minister of finance—R. B. Bennett.

Minister of justice—Hon. Hugh Guthrie (South-Wellington).

Minister of Interior—T. G. Murphy (Neepawa).

Minister of labor—Senator G. D. Robertson.

Minister of agriculture— Robert Weir (Melfort).

Minister of railways and canals—Hon. R. J. Manion (Fort William).

Minister of national revenue—Hon. E. B. Ryckman (Toronto East).

Minister of pensions and national health— Col. D. M. Sutherland (North Oxford).

Minister of marine—Alfred Duranleau (Chambley Vercheres).

Minister of trade and commerce —Hon. H. H. Stevens, of Vancouver.

Minister of public works—H. A. Stewart (Leeds).

Minister of national defence—Dr. Murray MacLaren (Saint John Alberta).

Postmaster general—Arthur Sauve (Laval Two Mountains).

Minister of fisheries—W. G. Ernest (Queens Lunenburg or possibly Hon. W. A. Black (Halifax).

Solicitor general—Maurice Dupre (Quebec West).

Minister without portfolio—Sir George Perley (Argonteuil) and Hon. J. A. MacDonald (Kings P.E.I.).

If C. H. Cahan (St. Lawrence-St. George) does not become speaker of the house of commons or secretary of state, it is likely that L. G. Bell (St. Antoine) will be solictor general, and Mr. Dupre would probably become secretary of state. The oppointee of the portfolio of immigration is in doubt, although W. N. Gordon, elected in south Timiskaming, is mentioned for cabinet recognition.

This has been a day of keen anxiety and not a few heart burnings. Tonight, men, the faces of some tense as they await decisions which will put them into the governments or leave them out, are here from every province. In addition to those who have hopes of being selected are many who are not expecting positions themselves but are urging the claims of others.

The throng included members elect, heads of party organizations, and stalwart Conservatives of many walks of life.

Everyone seemed to be talking about the cabinet soon to be born, the discussions kept up in low tones in groups of twos and threes and fours. In the midst of it Mr. Bennett and Hon. Hugh Guthrie strolled through and all eyes were on them.

"Will it be tomorrow?" Mr. Bennett was asked.

"I really cannot say yet," he replied. They took the elevator and disappeared. The conversations continued.

In the afternoon the last meeting of Premier King's cabinet was held and Mr. King announced that his government was ready to hand over office as soon as the new ministry was ready.

LIGHTNING IN SASKATOON AND HAIL ELSEWHERE

Some Sections Report Hail Damage; Lightning Strikes Near Same Place Twice

SASKATOON, Sask., Aug. 6.—Lightning may never strike in the same place twice, but two poplar trees on the west side of Seventh avenue here stand to testify that it can strike mighty near the same place two years running.

With a thunderous crack that first led Donald Black, of 909 Seventh avenue to believe that the house had been struck, lightning during last night's brief but heavy storm in Saskatoon ripped a large section out of the trunk of a poplar tree standing in front of the residence.

Last year lightning struck and similarly stripped a tree 18 yards north in front of No. 913.

In each case, strangely enough, the bolt struck about 18 or 20 feet from the top of the tree, and in each case tore a narrow section out of the northwest side of the trunk, carrying one or two branches with it.

The storm which swept over Saskatoon shortly before midnight brought a short but drenching rain on parched crops and gardens in the city and the immediate vicinity.

Melfort, Foxford, Kinistino, Brancepeth, Weldon and Colleston report hail damage.

In the Brancepeth and Weldon districts, along a strip three miles wide by 15 miles long, 100 per cent damage is reported in some cases the hailstones lying two inches deep.

REGATTA DAYS FOR NELSON AND KASLO ARE COMING SOON

Boatmen Will Soon Be Churning Up Kootenay Lake With Fast Craft

With all plans completed, Kootenay boat men are awaiting August 9, 11 and 13, when they will take to the water in quest of aquatic honors. August 9 and 11, dates of the Kaslo regatta are only one and two days distance and August 13, date of the Nelson regatta is not far off. At both places interest is running high. The regattas will probably be more interesting on the Kootenay waters this year than have hitherto been. With many Spokane, Sand Point and Coeur d'Alene boats promised for both regattas and the possibilities of several coast boats, competition will be exceedingly keen at both Nelson and Kaslo.

Small but fast out board crafts will be the feature races. With 10 to 15 of these fast boats and many larger boats ones, the Kootenay waters will be churned to foam on the mentioned dates. All plans for accommodating a monster crowd have been made. At Nelson the city barge will be placed in a good point of view for the onlookers and the boat house walks and other points along the water will provide ample view.

Some of the heat of the present sizzling spell has seeped into the interest of the faithful in the final days of the bally-hoo and it appears that a goodly crowd will be there. All hope has been abondoned that the foul-fake-foozle soaked fandom will rally in the numbers originally estimated to swell the gate beyond the quarter million mark. But a nice sociable gathering of about 18,000 with receipts building over the $100,000 mark is in prospect.

The fighting abilities and reputation of the sensational little negro lad and the whirlwind Jewish boy from the Whitechapel district of London have done much to encourage the faithful to gamble their dollars once more on the chance of seeing a real battle.

Vancouver Flash Steals the Show in Invitation Event

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 6.—(By Canadian Press)—Percy Williams raced only once by invitation, during the Canadian Police Athletic championships today, but he stole most of the thunder. The Vancouver flash, racing for the first time this season in eastern Canada, only 24 hours after getting off a train from Vancouver, easily defeated the best of his Canadian sprinting rivals when he sped the 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds, a yard behind at the wire was Johnny Fitzpatrick, Hamilton, and in third place ahead of three more ranking sprinters came W. Bordeau Montreal policeman.

The big crowd gave a great ovation to the slim young man who brought honor to Canada when he captured the Olympic sprinting titles two years ago.

So far as the police events were concerned, W. Bordeau was the shining light of the day, individual honors, however, were divided between Archie Stewart, Toronto, who is all-around Canadian champion when it comes to field events and Alfred Gandy, another Toronto police stalwart, who captured the half mile run, the running high jump, like Stewart annexed sundry points in the field events, Stewart and Gandy finished with 10 points each

100 IN 10 FLAT

Bordeau did the 100-yards in 10 flat and the 220 in 23 flat, O. Burkholder, Toronto was second in the 220. J. B. Semple, another Toronto man, was third in the 100 and second in the 220.

The police forces of Montreal, Hamilton, Vancouver, New Westminster, B. C., Outremont, Que., and Toronto were all represented.

J. Cameron of New Westminster scored a victory in the 16-pound shot put, at 40 feet one inch, better than Stewart's throw, he was second to Stewart in the discus throw at 119 feet, one inch, and the javelin throw at 150 feet.

Besides Williams and the other Canadian sprinters the crowd was given the opportunity of meeting two former Diamond sculls winners in Joe Wright Jr., 1928; and Lou Scholes, 1906.

Major R. S. Scott, commander of the R-100, and M. A. Gilbert, Meteorological adviser on the giant British dirigible, were also presented.

LEAFS WIN FIRST OF SCHOFIELD CUP SOCCER AT TRAIL

TRAIL, B. C., Aug. 6.—Maple Leafs got off to a flying start in the Schofield cup soccer play today by trouncing the Colombos 7 to 3 in the first game of the schedule—a game that was crammed full of enthusiasm.

The Maple Leafs were the most polished of the two aggregations but they had no more pep than their opponents. Altogether it was splendid entertainment for the fairly large crowd on hand.

ARBITRATION BILL CAUSE OF TROUBLE

CANBERRA, Australia, Aug. 6 — (Canadian Press Cable) — The senate and the house of representatives have come to loggerheads over the Labor government's arbitration bill, dealing with the federal system of settling industrial disputes.

The senate introduced amendments which today drew sharp remarks from Hon. J. A. Beasley, the minister in charge of the bill, saying the government had received a definite mandate from the court on this question and this state's amendments conflicted with the government's principles. His motion to reject the amendments was carried by 36 votes to 23.

Golf Situation Looked Grave Here

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

"There are many kinds of golf courses in the world," Walter Hagen tells me. "China and Japan offer a miscellaneous selection. There are wonderfully good, exceedingly bad and very indifferent courses and there is one, possibly in a class by itself, of which it has been said that the grass spends three weeks growing, one week dying and eleven months dead.

"On one course during our trip to the Orient Kirkwood and I heard an awful racket. The district commissioner had ordered the local king to cut the grass of the fairways so he turned up with 300 men, their wives, children, goats, etc. They sat on their haunches and tore up the grass with their hands. To encourage them six men beat drums and four others blew horns. The din was terrific and would have bothered a nervous putter.

"One of the weirdest courses is the plain just outside of Tien-Tsin, China. It is covered with Chinese graves. These are raised mounds, and constitute a strange and bothersome hazard. But there is a local rule covering this. 'Any ball,' it says, 'lying in an open grave can be lifted and dropped without penalty'."

Coffman turned in a splendid three hit pitching performance in the first game to give the Browns a shutout victory, 5 to 0.

The veteran "Red" Faber kept 11 Brown hits scattered in the nightcap and, aided by the bats of Jolley and Fothergill, emerged with a 5 to 2 triumph.

LOMSKI, LENHART IN DRAW

SPOKANE, Aug. 6.— More than 6000 Spokane and Inlnd Empire fight fans jammed the Natatorium baseball park to see Fred Lenhart, Spokane's favorite and Leo Lamski, Aberdeen Assassin, battle to a draw in the six-round main event of the American legion boxing program last evening. The attendance easily set a record for Spokane boxing, and the crowd was considerably larger than that attending the last smoker when Jack Dempsey refereed.

The Lenhart-Lomski scrap was a good climax to a card of six bouts every one going the limit. There was no hesitancy on the part of Don Fraser, referee of the last three fights in raising the arms of both Lenhart and Lomski at the end of the scrap and the verdict was apparently well received by the big crowd.

EDMONTON HAS HOTTEST WEATHER

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 6 — Climbing to 86 degrees in the shade the temperature at Edmonton reached its highest point for the present month at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday, with continued warm weather through out the afternoon, prospects were that the heat wave which has held Alberta in its grip for several days, will not be broken for some time at least.

EDDIE HELD GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT, CANADIAN GOLF

Last Year Winner of Amateur Crowned Eliminated by Montrealer

PLAY REACHES QUARTER FINALS

Sommerville, Former Champ Meets Frank Connolly Today

LONDON HUNT CLUB, LONDON, Ont., Aug. 6 — (By The Canadian Press) — A new Canadian amateur gold champion will be crowned next Saturday as the result of the second day of match play in the annual tournament here today. Eddie Held of Great Neck, N.Y., the first American ever to take the Canadian crown, went down to defeat this afternoon at the hands of Carroll M. Stuart, young Montrealer. Held, who won the event at Jasper Park, Alberta, last year, had a lead of two holes over Stuart at the end of the 18th, but wild driving and mediocre putting lost the New Yorker the afternoon match.

This was a day of colorful and brilliant golf, with spectacular upsets, of marvellous comebacks, played under an all-day long scorching sun.

As a result of the day's play there will be three international matches in the quarter finals tomorrow, which promise to provide some keen golf.

J. Wood Platt of the Aramimck club of Philadelphia, will meet Nicol Thompson, Jr., of the Cedar Brook club of Toronto. This will be the first match out, scheduled to start at 11 a.m. (E.S.T.)

Carroll Stuart of the Islemere club, Montreal will be up against that brilliant golfer of long tournament experience, Jack Cameron of Laval Sue De Lac club, making it an all-Montreal match.

J. Rymond Ferguson of the Whitemarsh Valley club, Philadelphia, will have Fred G. Koblitzel of the Toronto Lambton club as his opponent.

Probably the most interesting match of the day will be that between C. Ross Somerville of the London Hunt, twice Canadian amateur champion, who will meet Frank Connolly of the Hawthorn Valley club of Deteroit, Connolly shot a medal of 67, three under par, this afternoon, holding out every putt and playing three unnecessary holes just to see what he could do. Somerville was over par on both his rounds.

MINES CHAMBER WILL PRESS FOR A LARGE GRANT

To Finish Year Will Need $500 More Than in Sight

TO ALSO PUT CASE UP TO THE CITY

Information Given Capital Regarding Prospects Appreciated

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia Monday night, continuation of the effort to secure from the provincial government a grant of something like the customary proportions was decided on. So far an allotment of $250 has been made, compared with $1500 last year, and $2000 in previous years.

Examination of the situation revealed that operation of the chamber on the most economical basis to the end of the year would require $500 in addition to funds now in hand or in sight.

Hon. R. L. Maitland, minister without portfolio, was impressed with the valuable work of the chamber when recently in Nelson, it was stated, and Dr. L. E. Borden, M.P.P., for Nelson, who will be leaving for the coast shortly, will confer with him in respect to the matter.

President J. E. Annable, Dr. W. O. Rose and J. A. Irving were appointed a committee to wait on the city council and go into the matter of the chamber's future.

APPRECIATIVE LETTERS

The work of furnishing information on Kootenay prospects in response to inquiries elicited by advertising in mining publications continues, and various recent letters are on file to show that this service is appreciated, it was stated.

A New York mining corporation wrote:

"We thank you very kindly for yours of June the 6th enclosing descriptions of properties which are for sale. We appreciate this information, and we will communicate with the various parties mentioned in your communication."

Another New York house, this time a firm of mining brokers, wrote:

"Your favor of the third of July was received by the writer this a.m. I thank you very much for all the favors, and I am sure will do my part in case of a sale to keep up your 'good work'. If the United States government had a few of your people down here we mining men could in a few months stop the 'panic' that Wall Street has 'wished on the dear people'."

Inquiries for gold properties continue to come in. A recent one is from a Nevada mining engineer, who is manager of a company operating in California, and who will pay a visit to British Columbia later in the season.

For the most part, inquirers answering the advertisements of the chamber seem interested in development propositions generally. A recent letter from Churchill, in the Hudson Bay, asks simply for "information and maps of undeveloped properties."

Those at the special meeting were President J. E. Annable, Dr. E. C. Arthur, J. A. Irving, Dr. W. O. Rose, E. W. Widdowson, W. M. Cunliffe, Dr. H. H. Morrison, I. G. Nelson, and Dr. L. E. Borden, M.P.P.

NEWSY NOTES FROM CRESTON

Vital Statistics; Telephones; Fruit; Highway Repaired; Surprised

CRESTON, B. C., Aug. 6—Vital statistics for July show the valley to have had six births and four deaths. Of the new arrivals four were boys. No marriage licenses were issued.

EQUIPMENT MOVED

The steam roller and all the other heavy equipment of the public works department was shipped to Kitchener at the end of the week, where it will be used for the next few weeks on needed highway betterment near Goatfell.

133 TELEPHONES

According to Telephone Talk, the house organ of the British Telephone company, Creston now has 133 telephones in use, which is a gain of almost 30 since the first of the year. Creston is now using more telephones than Kaslo, which has but 125 installations.

FRUIT, VEGETABLES MOVING

Scott Fruit company of Fernie, has just put its auto vans on the route between Creston and Fernie and is taking quantities of cooking apples, cabbage and other vegetables.

HIGHWAY REPAIRED

The main highway through town, from Third street to the west boundary, has received some badly needed attention in the way of repairs. Ever-increasing auto traffic is proving too much for the hard surface road, which was put down about eight years ago.

NOT SATISFIED

Considerable surprise is expressed here that the village share of the 1930 auto licenses is only $506, or a gain of but $2 over 1929. Even in this area motor license fees collected are 20 per cent heavier than a year ago.

OUTPUT OF ROCK AT CRUSHER USED ON SIDEWALK WORK

A concrete walk on Ward street and concrete sidewalks in the vicinity of Hall Mines road, at present are taking almost whole out put of the city gravel pit. During the season a steady run has been maintained and no repairs have had to be made to the plant. Little change has been made in he output, the machinery running steadily.

BARBECUED CHICKEN

So many families these days are forbidden red meat that different ways of preparing chicken are very welcome. Prepare a young chicken as for frying, salt lightly and fry until light brown in drippings. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a saucepan, add ½ cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon mustard, 1 teaspoon sugar, a dash of cayenne and tabasco mixed, salt and pepper. Let all come to a boil, pour over chicken and bake in a moderate oven until tender and lightly browned.

NELSONITES SEEK SHADE, MERCURY TIPS 98 DEGREES

Wednesday Is Hottest Day of the Year; Humidity Is Fairly High

While the mercury tipped 98 degrees, on Wednesday, Nelsonites sought the shade under trees at the park or at their homes, from the hottest day of the year. Clear skies and motionless weather assisted in sending the temperature to the high point. At the park beach lollers were few as the scorching sand forced them to the water. Minimum temperature was also comparatively high being 51 degrees.

At no time during the 24 hours ending 5 p.m. did the humidity fall below the danger point of 30 and on other days. At 8 a.m. it was 73, at 2 p.m. 33 and at 5 p.m. 31.

PAVEMENT OPEN ON MINES ROAD

Strip Is 350 Long; Has No Crown but Is Drained by One-Way Slope

Some 350 feet of new pavement, the first to be completed in the city this year, is now open on Mines road between Stanley and Kootenay streets.

This new strip of pavement, which is being continued on out Mines road, has the unique feature of having no crown, as is general in pavement construction, but rather slopes all to one side 2½ inches in 20 feet, or the whole width of the pavement.

Each curve on this new strip of pavement is super elevated which means that the outside of the curve is much higher than the inside. This feature offsets skidding on the curves by cars travelling at high speeds.

For some purposes, a short handled coal shovel is handier than a trowel. It will cut a border neatly.

TOLD IN RIME

SAVE THE FORESTS

When you go out on a picnic
And you choose a lovely spot,
Among the great tall timbers
Where it isn't quite so hot;
And when you light your fire for tea
Be sure—without a doubt
To see to it, before you leave
That every spark is out.

Or when you go atraveling
Along the mountain side,
And view the wondrous scenery
That stretches far and wide;
Then please be very careful
By night as well as day,
That your cigarette is out before
You throw your stub away.

Then let us each and everyone
Try hard to do our best,
To save our mighty forests
From the awful fire fiend pest;
That we may proudly cherish
All through the summer time,
The perfume of the sweet wild flowers
And the great Canadian pine.

CRESTON SCHOOL MAY BE CROWDED

CRESTON, B. C., Aug. 6—With no resignations yet to hand it is expected that the high school will again be in charge of Principal McNeil, with Miss Grace Bumstead as assistant—the same staff as last term. Just at present it begins to look as if there will not be much room for outside students in Grade IX. Due to a light pass list in Grade XI most of the 1929-30 third year students wil be back, along with all who have been promoted in Grade X and with 15 local students gaining admission into high school this will about take up all the seating space.

In addition to the local crop of prospective Grade IX pupils there were at least 20 others who graduated at schools in Creston Valley, many of whom will be anxious to attend high school at Creston.

OFF ON THE WRONG FOOT

The Vancouver Province dispatch stating that legislation would be introduced at the next session of the legislation to disfranchise the Doukhobors in this province is based upon lack of knowledge of the present provincial elections act.

Under what is known as the Oliver elections act, the Doukhobors are already disfranchised in British Columbia.

What is required is an amendment to the Dominion elections act to make the provincial disfranchisement effective in federal elections, and, incidentally, too strengthen the postion of the province in the matter and to make it less likely that there would be provincial enfranchisement of the Doukhobors until they have become assimilated.

THE NELSON BRIDGE —BRITISH COLUMBIA

It is now two years since the British Columbian general election, when Premier Tolmie reiterated his promise, made in the byelection a year or less before, that if he and his party were returned to power the Nelson bridge would be constructed forthwith.

At the first session of the new legislature, in the beginning of 1929, an appropriation was made to cover the expense of borings to ascertain the best location for the bridge. This was a logical step to take and nothing much else could have been done at that first session.

These borings were made and the location of the bridge decided upon.

A new session will be held not later than next January or February—there is even talk of a special session this fall to deal with unemployment, though this matter may be left to the Dominion. In any event there is relatively little time before the next session, which an appropriation should be made for building the bridge.

It is rumored that officials of the public works department at Victoria are opposed to the construction of the bridge, but that is really none of their business. The opinion of a departmental official does not outweigh the promise of a prime minister.

It would be well for steps to be taken to ascertain what has been done toward preparing plans. Have any plans been prepared? Is there yet a real estimate of the cost, other than the rough estimates of Victoria public works department officials, rough estimates which constantly grow in exact proportion to the buteaucrats' opposition to the project.

At one time, the bridge was to cost a quarter of a million dollars; then the figure grew to half a million dollars; recently there was talk of a million dollars.

What the government needs to know is exactly what a modernly constructed bridge will cost, so that the necessary appropriation can be made for the work.

Everyone in Kootenay recognizes the good work which the Tolmie government is doing in road construction. The eight million dollar road loan was the largest in the history of the province and of the total sum the interior has received a share that has been more in proportion to its actual needs than has been the case in the past.

In West Kootenay something over a million dollars is being spent this year and, even though we may have some well justified kicks regarding inadequate maintenance, lack of oiling and so on, we have to recognize the great improvements which this million dollar expenditure will make to the roads of the district.

But all this has nothing to do with the bridge which was definitely promised as a project in itself without relation to how much might be expended upon highways.

WILL BRING TWO KOOTENAYS CLOSER TOGETHER

One of the great advantages of the construction of the highway along the east shore of Kootenay lake will be the fact that it will bring East Kootenay and West Kootenay closer together.

Just to take one industry as an example, we have in East Kootenay the Sullivan mine, the chief producer of ore for the Trail smelter in West Kootenay. Neither industry could exist without the other. Without the Sullivan ore Tadanac smelter could not operate; without the vast network of electrolytic tanks at Tadanac, the Sullivan ore would remain in the ground through lack of a method of treatment.

In agriculture, in lumbering, the two Kootenays have much in common. Both need the best available means of transportation, both for residents and to make it possible to get the maximum benefits from tourist travel.

Directly the Kootenay lake road is opened, there will be an immediate increase in intercommunication between the two Kootenays and a closer relationship which will be for the general benefit of both districts.

MAKING SACHETS

A reader friend has written for suggestions on the making of sachets from herbs and rose leaves. Evidently this inquirer is either making these dainty articles for gifts or to place on sale at some women's exhange. Today colored gauze ribbon, selling at about ten or 15 cents a yard, is sold for sachets, both because of its dainty appearance and because the rose leaves and herbs show through the sheer ribbon. Here are some ways of decorating this type of sachet-bag:

Doll Sachets: Buy small china dolls and insert the feet in the sachet bag, then dress the upper part with bits of lace or ribbon and make a ruffle around where doll rises from bag.

Flower Sachets: Have the rose-leaf or herb filling flat, like a puffy pancake, using pink gauze ribbon to form this flat bag. Decorate top with a group of small satin ribbon flowers in delicate pastel colors (pale pink, blue, green, lavender and yellow)

Basket Sachets: Buy tiny baskets with handles and into this straw foundation sink a small bag of gauze ribbon filled with either the rose petals, or with lavender flowers, or herbs. Decorate mouth of bag, under basket handle, with satin flowers and have a frill of gauze ribbon completely around basket edge.

To Dry Herbs: Spread on a sheet of clean blotting paper in a large drip pan; dry in a moderate oven with door ajar, turning off the oven heat when you put the pan in. When oven is cold, the work is done.

Rose Petals: Place in a jar or dish with layers of salt sprinkled over each fresh addition. When you have a quart, and ten days after the last addition has been made, mix together one fourth ounce each of ground mace, cloves, and allspice, and one half ounce of ground cinnamon and powdered orris root; add one fourth pound of dried lavender flowers, and stir this mixture into dry petals. Add a few drops of oil of rose-geranium and a teaspoonful of cologne. Use for sachet bags or in a rose jar.

That Body of Yours

By JAS. W. BARTON, M.D.

EMOTIONS AND WORK

You have heard of instances where an individual in recounting a story in which he tells of some tremendous effort, if made, is questioned by one of his hearers as to his ability to actually do the feat he mentions.

If he happens to be a little hot headed or the questioner has been very annoying in his manner it is likely that he will offer to perform the feat again with all his listeners in attendance.

Accordingly everything is arranged in a manner as nearly as possible approaching the conditions of the story, and he endeavors to perform the act.

He fails, and fails dismally, much to the amusement of his tormentor and the chagrin of his friends who were naturally anxious to see him "make good" on his story.

As they are about to leave the spot, and he realizes that his friends are feeling badly and his tormentor is jubilantly talking about his failure, he turns back, and with a mighty effort performs the feat and does it in almost easy fashion.

Why was he not able to do it at his first effort, when he tried to justify his story?

Because his "mad" was not up.

Now it was formerly believed that it was just because an unusual effort was being put into it, by using one's strongest "will power" that enabled one to do an unusual feat of strength.

What was the real reason?

Dr. W. B. Cannon, Boston, who has for a long time been investigating the effect of the emotions from the standpoint of their use to the individual, tells us that the emotions so stimulate the processes of the body, that extra sugar is immediately given to the blood to be used in muscular effort. This enables the muscles to perform the unusual feat.

Further, if the feat of strength takes some little time the blood is likewise supplied with more oxygen, not necessarily from the lungs, but all the tissues of the body give up some of their oxygen for the time being and then afterwards Nature sees that they get this oxygen paid back to them.

Isn't it wonderful that we have a body that can do this for us when any great need arises?

Sick or well, Nature is always fighting for us.

TO REDECORATE CRESTON SHCOOL

CRESTON, B. C., Aug. 6—At a special meeting of Creston board of school trustees on Saturday the contract for kalsomining all seven rooms of the public and high school was awarded F. Pattalla, who was the lowest bidder. Work is to be completed by the end of the third week in August.

Now that a steam heating plant has been installed in Central school it is expected this annual bill for kalsomining will be done away with, but with stoves in use in three of the other rooms there seems to be no getting away from this yearly renovation.

B. W. JOHNSON OF ERIE FINED HERE

Common Danger Judgment Will Be Appealed by E. G. Matthew

Bert W. Johnson of Erie was Tuesday fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving to the common danger. The case was heard in provincial police court by Stipendiary Magistrate John Cartmel, whose decision will be appealed by E. G. Matthew, who appeared as counsel for the defence.

The charge arose a week ago last Sunday when the car driven by A. J. Manson of Nelson collided with that of Mr. Johnson on a curve near Erie. It was the contention of the prosecution that Mr. Johnson had taken the curve too wide and had struck the Manson car, which was at a standstill. The Nelson car was damaged about the radiator and left fender and front wheel. Other witnesses called by the prosecution and substantiating the case were: Mrs. J. Frost Mrs. W. Wilson and G. Kenney, all of Nelson.

Mr. Johnson stated that the Manson car had been approaching at too high a rate of speed and that at the point where the cars crashed that the road was too narrow for both cars to meet. On rounding the curve at a slow rate of speed he had seen the other car approaching and had immediately stopped. The Nelson car had skidded into him. The defence pointed out that skid marks behind the Nelson car were approximately 30 feet in length.

Witnesses called for the defence were: O. H. Haglund, Mrs. O. H. Haglund, and D. Gibbon.

Provincial Constable W. H. Davidson prosecuted the case.

What Do You Think?

POPULAR RANCHER HAS CLOSE CALL AS BEAR ARRIVES

To The Editor the
Nelson Daily News,
Nelson, B. C.

Sir—

Here is a story which might interest you. While sitting on my back porch Sunday afternoon I was startled by squalling in the pig pen which is situated some 300 feet from the house. Thinking the pigs from another sty must be fighting I ran to the scene where to my surprise it was slightly different. Instead of two pigs fighting a lrge black bear was fighting with one of my two-year-old boars. I had no gun near at hand but called to one of the children to get me one. While waiting for the gun I attempted to scare Mr. Bruin who was reaking havoc with the pigs.

On seeing me he forgot about the pigs and made for me. The children arrived with the gun and none too soon for Mr. Bear was almost upon me. Taking the gun I shot the brute thus saving my life and my pigs.

Thanking you I am,
Yours truly,

Dancing was indulged in until about 10 p. m., when the guests left for their various destinations.

A kneeling plank is very helpful for the amateur gardener. To be comfortable, it should slant upward, by being nailed to a block at the front end, underneath. Then a pad should be provided for the knees.

STOP SIGNS ARE IN PLACE AT ALL REQUIRED POINTS

Public Fairly Conscientious So Far; Have Few Days Become Accustomed

In connection with the recent stop street bylaw that has designated certain streets as arterial highways throughout Nelson the city engineering department had just finished erecting some 64 stop signs at intersections.

These wooden standards bearing the word 'stop' in bold black and white letters will, from now on, govern the destinies of motor traffic throughout the city.

FAIRLY CONSCIENTIOUS

From the time that the first signs were erected motorists were fairly conscientious in stopping where signs demanded that this be done.

Chief of Police Thomas H. Long states that after giving motorists a few days to become accustomed to the position of the stop signs that those disregarding these traffic regulations will be prosecuted. He suggests that all motorists obey the stop signs at once, saving grief later on.

Goes After Ford For Manufacturing in Ireland, Import U. S. A.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 6.—Henry Ford, automobile magnate today was criticized by Mathew Woll, third vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, for manufacturing tractors in Ireland and then importing them to this country. Woll spoke before the state convention of the American Federation of Labor.

"American capital," he said, "is invested abroad not to elevate the standards of the workers, but to exploit the cheap labor and the assets of Europe and Asia and place our own people in competition with them."

UNPOPULAR INSECT A NELSON VISITOR

A Small Fellow With a Smell Haunts Offices Homes and Stores

That the small offensive insect commonly known as the "Stink Bug" has now taken up his quarters in Nelson is quite evident. Invading offices, stores and homes he is the most noticed if not the most unpopular member of his species. So small is he that he cannot be detected but his whereabouts is quite evident by the aroma. Every part of the city is now pestered by his presence. He is a little fellow with a big smell.

One comfortably rolls into the grass in the evening but does not get settled long before this little pest drives him from his rest. In the office men carry on an unsuccessful search for the intruder and finally sit down to work in disgust only to rise and start the search with greater vigor as "Stinky Bug' draws nearer. The despised creature is a small brown beatle with a shiny back. If you meet one be nice to him.

Is your Baby Thriving?

A Marqais, Sask., Mother's Experience

Little Joyce Taylor's mother writes: "The first three months of her life Joyce had a hard time finding a suitable food. Nothing seemed to agree with her. Then we put her on Eagle Brand and from her very first feed she came right along. I went by the directions on the can. Now at 13 months she is a sweet, happy child in perfect health all the time."

And from Saint John, N.B, Mrs. Gourley writes:

"One after another different foods were tried for our baby, but Una couldn't digest them. At birth she weighed 14 lbs. but she dropped to 10 lbs. at 3 months. Then we tried Eagle Brand and she began to thrive almost immediately. At 2½ years she weighed 40 lbs."

Most babies show normal progress. That is quite natural. If your baby is not steadily gaining consult your doctor. If it is a food problem, we suggest that you and your doctor consider Eagle Brand. For bottle-fed babies, Eagle Brand has been the standby of mothers for three generations. It is especially valuable in difficult feeding cases, being such a safe food—pure, uniform, easily digested. You will be pleased to see your baby begin to thrive immediately when placed on a carefully prepared Eagle Brand diet. It is highly endorsed by doctors and nurses.

THE WORLD'S DELIGHT

PART II

CHAPTER FOUR: Curtain Up!

There were two women in the company—Elva Gordon and Miss Price. In "Fazio" Miss Gordon was cast as the rich and voluptuous temptress, though on the rehearsal stage she seemed only a shabby, almost unattractive spinster. All her life, so Dolores was told, she had sacrificed herself for an ailing mother and an idle father—even now she sent most of her salary home—and she held what illusions she could by wearing fine clothes on the stage and playing parts of temptation, seduction and passionate allure. Miss Price was a giglet, not out of her teens; a surprisingly bad actress, who played maids and understudied the other feminine roles. As for the rest of the company, they were a job lot of troupers; some back from the Gold Coast with bitterness frozen in their eyes, others veterans of the Mississippi show-boats, or exiles from the London theaters, mixed with a few ambitious amateurs.

For the next two weeks, Dolores rehearsed with them, living in a feverish world of excitement all the while. Most of her time was spent in the dark and dusty theater, so that she saw little more of the sunshine than a prisoner in a cell for the condemned. But she was happy and interested and eager. At rehearsals Tupper was a severe taskmaster, but outside of the theater, he was a companionable friend, not without a certain hope in the wanton glances he cast upon her, but always good-natured and jovial. He dined with mother and Josephine, and raised false hopes in the impressionable bosom of the widow McCord whom he treated with gay and exaggerated gallantry. Mrs. McCord asked Tupper a thousand fluttering and adoring questions about theatrical life, and several times she hinted that if she wasn't sure she was too old, she might be induced to try the stage herself; when she was young she had been a marvel in her elocution.

As a man of the world, Tupper advised the family as to its business affairs; it was at his suggestion that Dolores wrote a kind letter to Isaacs Menken, telling him where she was, what she was doing, and why. Tupper had been divorced four times, and he knew just what Dolores should say for her future protection.

During these busy weeks, and for the first time in her life, Dolores found a real companionship with her mother. When the widow heard that her daughter must have a new outfit if she was to impress the troupe (if one didn't dress well, one would lose caste like poor Elva Gordon), Mrs. McCord volunteered to go on a shopping expedition and help Dolores pick out her new things. The spent a gay and actually chummy day together.

First they called on an old Scotch couple who kept a lace store on Royal street. Later, at the unimpressive little dry-goods store of Barriere—in those days there were no shop windows, no exposed effigies in gowns and drapes—they bought a bolt of soft Marceline silk, and some crepe-lisse. From there they went to the most fashionable milliner in New Orleans, a haughty creature who called herself Olympe and who refused to sell any domestic bonnets whatever, only exclusive models from Paris! Olympe was the first shopkeeper in New Orleans ever to deliver puchases to the customer's home, and more than one old beau tried to ogle the milliner's imported grissette as she flipped down the street carrying madame's new chapeau in a fancy box under her arm.

During this shopping expedition, Mrs. McCord repeatedly explained that she felt mortified because they had no servant to walk behind them and carry their bundles. Dolores told her only to wait—in a little while they would have all the servants they wished; as soon as she had made her debut in "Fazio." The mother sighed contentedly; she believed it devoutly.

By the time they returned to the Thirteen Buildings, loaded with many purchases, most of them by far for mother and Josephine, all of Dolores' money was spent, and her mother suggested that she ask dear Mr. Tupper for an advance against her salary. Dear Mr. Tupper grew very red in the face about it, and there was an argument; although Dolores got the money, dear Mr. Tupper made her realize that all the traditions of the tragic stage had been flouted by the transaction.

One evening, Josephine, Mrs. McCord and Dolores had a supper, en famille, in the widow's furnished room in the Thirteen Buildings. Dolores seemed abstracted; she nibbled at the brioche, served especially for her because she had liked them when she was a little girl, those entrancing dry rolls that are flavored with bay leaves and orange flowers.

Should she confide a problem that was now on her mind; would they possibly understand—perhaps, help her?

"Tupper is getting harder to manage every day," she said finally.

The widow McCord sat back in her chair, lifted her hands above her shoulders and waved them at Dolores.

"I've been expecting that, any minute now," she said, with a smile full of widowly wisdom and amusement. "He's just the kind; can't be around a pretty woman without ——"

"What happened?" asked Josephine eagerly.

"Yes, tell us what he did," urged Mrs. McCord, with warm curiosity.

Dolores was already sorry that she had spoken, and yet she was hungry for relations of confidence. It seemed to her that she could never unburden her thoughts to anyone; as if they were all shut up in her so that the sound of her own voice, disclosing her inner life, was strange to her ears.

"Nothing much happened," she rejoined. "It's only—little, unpleasant things. Today we were rehearsing the third act, and he called me over to one side and said, when he saw me up there beside Miss Gordon, he couldn't understand why old Fazio in the play ever went after that rich wench when he had a wife like me. He said I was the kind of woman that men staked their lives on, and all the time he was talking he kept on trying to caress me. I'm afraid I won't be able to keep him in his place until the play opens. After that, I'm not worried."

"You're sure you are going to be a success, aren't you?" asked Josephine shrewdly.

Mrs. McCord seemed to feel that the time had arrived for her to assert her superior experience with men.

"Well, now, Dolores," she said impressively, "you've come to the stage where you need a mother to talk to you. Thank God, you've got one who knows what to tell you. No wonder the men like you! you take after your mother in that respect, and I know just how it is, for I've been all through it. But there's only one way, my dear. Pick out the men who want to love you one who has money possition—and to whom, of course, you feel the most attracted. Then keep him at a distance until you are his wife. That has been my invariable rule. Never permit any familiarity; no woman can ever afford to make a mistake, or to be acquiescent to a man, unless she's his legal wife. The man doesn't live that appreciates it. Afterward he despises you, and he will say that you were a bad girl with him you would be bad with anyone else and he wouldn't risk a marriage with you. That's the way of the world. I ought to have spoken to you about that when you ran off with Buddy Durand, but I knew you wouldn't listen to me then—That Durand fellow——"

"Don't" exclaimed Dolores, rising hastily from the table. "Don't speak of him—will you?"

Her eyes darkened with pain, and she looked about her as if seeking escape.

"I'm sure I don't want to speak of him," declared Mrs. McCord, highly injured. "Sit down and finish your supper, Dolores. I am only telling you that you must insist on marriage before familiarity, and encourage only men of advantage."

Dolores was pale, and her eyes were troubled as she sank back into her chair.

"Would you want me to marry Lucullus Tupper?" she asked bitterly.

"Would you want to enter into any other relationship with him?" demanded the widow triumphantly. "No—he doesn't want to marry anybody, I have already ascertained that."

She exchanged a look with Josephine as if her younger daughter and she understood each other.

"Dolores," continued Mrs. McCord, "I am going to tell you something. Josephine made a silly mistake just after you went away."

"Josephine!"

Dolores turned and stared in startled dismay at her sister, whose eyes were lowered and whose fingers were twitching.

"What have I got to do with Dolores?" murmurmed Josephine with a rebellious glance at her mother.

"Your mistake has everything to do with her," said Mrs. McCord grandly. "Besides, it's all in the family. If Josephine had been more careful, her young man— and he was rich, Dolores—would have married her. Instead, what happened? Josephine had to disappear for a while, and now there is a girl child in a foundling asylum!"

"Truly?"

Dolores laid her hands flat on the table as she looked at her sister. What ghastly secret were these two disclosing? Josephine had a child? And had given it away? While she, had wished and prayed so earnestly——

"You gave your child away?" she asked hoarsely.

WHEAT, CORN SET NEW PRICE RECORDS FOR SEASON

DAY OF EXCITED TRADING; VOLUME OF SALES REACHES A MARK SELDOM EQUALLED OUTSIDE OF WAR TIMES

Corn Prices Whirled Up Almost Eight Cents a Bushel; Wheat More Than Six to Above Dollar; Crop Damage Reports Help

(By John P. Boughan, Associated Press Market Editor)

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—In excited trading seldom equalled for volume outside of war-times, corn prices today whirled upward almost eight cents a bushel and wheat prices more than six cents. Corn and wheat as well, soared above $1.00 an old-time standard that during recent weeks had virtually disappeared as a measure of grain values. Official confirmation today that nation-wide crop damage to corn is at an alarming rate was chiefly responsible for a frantic buying rush that lasted until the last minute of trading, and that had a further goad from news of black rust, severely curtailing wheat yields in Canada.—

Closing quotations on corn were strong at the topmost level reched, 6 7-8 to 7 7-8 cents above yesterday's finish and outdoing the season's previous highest record. Wheat and oats likewise surpassed the summits heretofore reached this season. Wheat closed nervous showing 10 to 37c gain.

D. KERR SEES FAIR CROPS ON PRAIRIES

Short Straw Is General Thing This Year; Business Is Fair

D. Kerr, manager of MacDonald's Consolidated, Ltd., who has just returned from Winnipeg states that through the prairie provinces grain crops appeared to be in fair shape though generally speaking straw was short.

Business conditions in Winnipeg were fair with the wheat men watching the development of the crops and planning for the handling of the first grain to be dumped on the market.

GRAIN RALLY IS NO HELP TO THE NEW YORK LIST

Share Prices Sag; Many Favorites Slip Off Two to Five Points

(By John L. Cooley, Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—The stock market was unable to find much cheer in the wild bull movement of grain today and share prices sagged almost steadily in another phlegmatic session. Many favorite stocks slipped off 2 to 5 points. Money remained firm, although this was a relatively unimportant factor in as much as the current trend is regarded as temporary. High grade bonds continued to display strength.

"Iron Age" announced that Ingot production had dropped to 54 per cent of capacity after holding at 56 per cent for four successive weeks, although it added that prevailing opinion expected at least seasonal improvement within the next month or two.

Heaviness of stocks was well distributed, although the utilities suffered the largest average loss. American Telephone, American Can, and Foreign Power, Western Union, Consolidated Gas and Electric Power and Light lost 2 to 3 ponts and American Water Works nearly 5.

International Harvester and Caterpillar tractor slumped 2 points and J. I. Case 5 American Can and Continental Can broke 3 points.

The steel met steady pressure, U. S. Steel closed at 168⅜ for a net loss of 2⅝. Vanadium, the short interest in which has been reported due for a squeeze, lost 3 and Bethlehem more than one.

There were net declines of 2 points or more in General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Mack Truck, Johns Manville, Eastman Kodak, Dupont American Tobacco and Gillette Safety Razor. General Motors and Radio eased fractionally.

Southern railway encountered fresh selling and fell to another new low at 83¾. Atchison, Rock Island, New York Central Illinois Central and Union Pacific were in supply, the last named breaking more than 7 points.

INTERESTING REPORT ON SOUTH AFRICA PRESENTED TO MINISTER OF MINES BY GRAND FORKS MAN

P. B. Freeland, Resident Ming Engineer Tells of Impressions

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug 6.—Impressions of South Africa, its geology, mineralogy and some of its industrial problems are contained in a report made last week by P. B. Freeland, resident mining engineer, Grand Forks, to Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines.

Mr. Freeland returned recently from attending the third Empire Mining and Metallurgical Congress which was held in South Africa last March. He went as a representative of British Columbia, and in his preliminary report describes in entertaining style some of the mining operations he and other delegates inspected, and briefly indicates the richness of the mineral resource of South Africa, and the advantages and disadvantages under which they are being developed.

"The most striking feature in mining in South Africa is the size and continuity of the ore bodies" Mr. Freeland say. "There has been a great deal of erosion, and in spite of this, the mineral deposits continue to great depths in the sedimentary rocks. There has also been a series of enrichments by oxidization, sometimes to a depth of 2000 feet below the ore uterops

GOLD MINING OF RAND

"The operation in the Rand at Johannesburg is a tremendous undertaking, necessitating mining of gold to a depth in some areas of 7600 feet. Huge hoisting engines and air-cooling devices are required for the work.

"The average grade of ore being mined is slightly under $7 a ton so it can be readily seen that every economy has to be practised.

"The Kimberley and Premier diamond mines are a most interesting geological feature. The pipes extend to a depth of over 3000 feet and diamonds are being mined at those elevations by ordinary methods used in other operations. The size of the Premier mine, twenty-five miles east of Pretoria, is so large than in one year 10,000,000 loads of rock only lowered the surface thirty feet.

PLATINUM DEPOSITS

"The platnium deposits at Rustenburg are narrow, but they can be traced for many miles, and when the problem of concentration of values is thoroughly solved the output will be large.

"There are large, very low grade deposits of nickel too low-grade to be mined profitably at the present time, but which may contribute to the worlds' supply of nickel in later years.

"The chromite deposits are also large and high grade. Practically all of this ore is being exported.

"The coal mines are extensive and, with the exception of the Wankie Collieries in Southern Rhodesia, and one or two others, they are not paying propositions. A large part of the coal output is shipped out of the country.

"Lead and zinc are produced chiefly from Broken Hill in Northern Rhodesia and in a smaller way from other parts of the Transvaal and Southern Rhodesia.

"Silver is almost entirely recovered from gold bullion and amounted to 1,041,376 ounces from the Transvaal in 1928.

"Asbestos is largely mined in South Africa, and in the Carolina district in the Transvaal, the very high-grade material has realized as much as $350 a ton in London.

"Copper has been mined in Namaqualand, South Africa, since about 1870. The Messina mine is the chief producer in the Transvaal.

COPPER RESERVES

"In Northern Rhodesia the copper deposits promise to be enormous and in a few year's time there will probably be five or six producers The grade of ore varies from 3 per cent to 5 per cent without precious metal content.

"There are several outstanding problems which have to be faced by the Government of South Africa the most important of which is the native. In the are of the Union of South Africa, amounting to 472,347 square miles, there is a population of about 1,700,000 white people and about 5,500,000 natives, Outside of a small percentage of so-called "Poor Whites" the native does all the labor, and his wage varies from 50 cents to $1.25 per day on which he can live quite happily.

"In some sections, due to a rudimentary education, at the hands of missionaries, the leaven of discontent and unrest is gradually permeating through the country, and in some areas there have been uprisings. Just what the outcome will be is most difficult to forecast.

BACKWARD PEOPLE

"Due to the fact that the majority of population is native, there is no demand for manufactured articles used by the white man in other countries, hence the necessity of exporting most of their mine output. So that the mines are the back-stay of taxation and when they are worked out—What?

"Northern and Southern Rhodesia are not part of the Union of South Africa but are states under a governor and six ministers; therefore the South African Union, comprising the Cape Province, Natal, Transvaal and Orange Free State, has no jurisdiction over them.

"The climatic conditions during March, April and May were ideal and not unlike the dry belt of British Columbia. These months constitute part of the late Summer and early Autumn in Southern Africa. The rainfall varies from ten to forty inches a year. Practically all buildings constructions or railroad ties have to be on concrete, brick stone or steel, because the ants eat anything that is made of wood, except very hard wood. This is an added expense.

"South Africa is very poorly timbered country as compared with other Dominions of the Empire. For every acre of forest in South Africa New Zealnd has twenty, Australia 250 and Canada 600 acres.

TREE PLANTATION TRIED

"Reforestation adopted many years ago has been a success and has eliminated the importation of wood to a great extent.

"Electrical energy is supplied to all the larger towns. The source of energy to generate the electricity is coal of which 1,500,000 tons is used annually. The great Victoria Falls remains unharnessed.

"The railways are all narrow gauge and standardized at three feet six inches in width.

"The motor dirt roads through the country are generally good, and it is possible to drive from Capetown to the Belgian Congo in some degree of comfort. The following number of cars imported during 1928—American, 13,524; British 1827, Canadian 2434; others 443, or a total of 18,228.

"There a reseveral American car assembling plants at Port Elizabeth.

FEVER-LADEN AREA

"The country north of Johannesburg and along the coast line some degrees south is more or less subject to malaria fever infection. Great care has to be taken to protect the human being from mosquito bites, and generally five grains of quinine are taken daily. Blackwater fever, the more dangerous type, is also prevalent. The southern parts of the union are generally healthy and are looked upon as a health resort for many Europeans.

"The hospitality shown to the delegates of the Third Triennial Mining and Metallurgical Congress by all those interested in mining in South Africa was unsurpassed. Detailed information was given, generally in pamphlet form to the delegates before each mine or manufactory was visited, and the officials of the different companies accompanied each party. The train officials also did everything in their power to make the trip comfortable and are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts under sometimes trying conditions," concludes Mr. Freeland.

STOCKS DEVELOP EASIER TONE ON MONTREAL LIST

Slackness Stays Till End; Nickel, Feature, Off Nearly Point

MONTREAL, Aug. 6—Stocks developed an easier tone at the opening today on the local market and retained it until the close, when net losses had a wide majority over net gains. The easier feeling was mostly in sympathy with a similar condition in New York, and the local market again ignored the encouragement offered by a further brisk advance in wheat at Winnipeg.

Activity in Nickel was the main feature, that stock providing sales in more than 6,000 shares, and closing nearly a point lower at 22¾. Other leading issues were softer, these including Bridge, Brazillian, Massey, Canadian Car, Shawinigan and British Columbia Power.

Among closing prices were the following: Textile a point lower at 74; Shawinigan off ¾ at 66¾; Power ¼ higher at 57⅛; Massey off ¾ at 26; Smelters a point higher at 199; Bridge off ¾ at 11¼; Canada Power and Paper, unchanged at 13; Canadian Car preferred, off ½ at 27, Canadian General Electric off ten points at 335; and Quebec Power off a point at 55. Breweries was firm throughout and closed fractionally higher at 30¼.

Total sales were 15,036 shares. Bond sales totalled $33,900.

WHOLESALE PRICE OF FLOWER JUMPS 20 CENTS, BARREL

The wholesale price of flour advanced 20 cents a barrel here Wednesday afternoon. The advance was attributed by the local wholesalers, who received the notice in the form of a telegram here, to the drought on the prairies.

For over a month the price has held a steady trend, no important changes being announced.

PLAN PRODUCTION CREDIT FOR U. S. FARMERS DROUGHT

Fresh Reports of Depleted Feed and Water Cause Alarm

WOULD ALLOW UP TO $50,000,000 CREDIT

Would Put Livestock as Collateral to Borrow Money, Feed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—The possibility of "production credit" for cotton and livestock through emergency interpretation of the Agricultural Marketing act drew the attention of investigators today as President Hoover and his cabinet surveyed relief measures for drought-stricken areas of the country.

Fresh reports of depleted feed and water—and even human food-supplies indicated that drought damage, continuing unabated in almost all sections, might run into the millions of dollars.

A report on avenues open to the farmer was to be made public tomorrow.

As the livestock set-up was interpreted, the board would loan money to the Marketing association which in turn would loan it to the feeder and finance corporation for distribution to regional credit organizations, operating in federal intermediate credit bank districts.

This process would permit the pyramiding of $5,000,000 of farm board funds into $50,000,000 of credit.

The effect of the whole plan, if the board finds authority for it, would be to enable the farmer to put his livestock as collateral and borrow money to buy feed. He would be obligated to market his stock through the National Livestock Marketing association.

Production credit is provided in the set-up of the American Cotton Cooperative association.

In the meantime requests for relief of an entirely different nature—approximately flood and tornado relief—continued to pour into the president and various governmental agencies. No action was anticipated before Monday, when the president was to be given a detailed report of drought damage by the department of agriculture. Secretary Hyde, en route to Washington from a tour of the west, was to confer with Mr. Hoover immediately upon his return tomorrow.

AUTO LICENSE ISSUE 49 OVER TOTAL FOR 1929

Motor Car Activity in Kootenays Increase; Total Issue Now 1377 Plates

With the year little more than half gone the issue of auto license plates from the Nelson office has already eclipsed the 1929 issue of 1828 plates by 49 plates. The issue this year to date is 1377 plates.

The observation was recently made to the effect that regardless of the stock crash last winter that sent money into more definitely economical lines, the use of motor cars in the Kootenay district had not fallen off to any extent.

Figures concerning license issues bear out this observation in a marked degree. With the increased good roads throughout the district during the past three years, auto licenses have been in greater demand each year Back in 1926 a total of 1,065 plates were issued in Nelson The following year the total jumped 283 plates and this year already the issue here is 49 plates on its way to chalk up a substantial record issue for 1930.

Figures for the district show that there have been similar increases wherever licenses are issued.

FIRE BURNS ROOF OF J. F. CROLL'S RESIDENCE HERE

Spark from a Chimney Sets Fire to Shingles; Is Third Within 48 Hours

A third fire within 48 hours, due indirectly to dry weather, gutted the roof and attic of J. F. Croll's residence 214 Vernon street, about five minutes after 12 Wednesday noon when sparks from a chimney lighted the shingles. The damage was estimated at $75 and was covered by insurance.

The blaze was first noticed by Mrs. J. Lundie, a next door neighbor who notified Mrs. Croll. Alfred Genest who happened to be near at the time, played a stream on the fire from a garden hose and prevented it from spreading until the fire truck arrived. The fire started in the shingles when a spark from the chimney ignited them. A large hole was burned in the roof and the interior of the attic was partly damaged.

At the sound of the alarm on Baker street, and with the arrival of the first truck, a large crowd gathered at the scene and gave ready assistance. The truck in charge of A. Dingwall and F. Ballentyne arrived in record time.

The first fire, of unknown origin broke out about 11:30 o'clock Monday morning and completely destroyed the large Doukhobor barn on the Great Northern right-of-way. The blaze illuminated the city and caused much excitement.

The second fire, caused by spontaneous combustion gutted the basement of C. H. Erickson's residence of Victoria street Tuesday afternoon, doing damage to the extent of about $50.

GRAIN FIELDS IN WESTERN CANADA ARE AGAIN SEARED

Heat Wave Continues Unabated; Weather Gives Promise of Showers

WINNIPEG, Aug. 6—Grain fields, already parched by the torrid sun and warm prairie winds, were seared again today as the heat wave continued unabated in the western province of Canada.

Reports from many wheat growing areas were far from favorable, as the abnormal weather brought the crop along prematurely and increased the danger of rust. Already, it was reported, rust has reached serious proportions in sections of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Grey clouds tonight gave promise of showers. At least in Manitoba, but to the west in the mid-western provinces, little relief was in sight. Today, many areas registered high marks for the year, as the mercury climbed rapidly, especially in northern Alberta, where Edmonton district reported the hottest day of the year wiht a reading of 86 degrees.

King Government Is Ready Turn Over Office to Newly Elected Government Head

Bennett Likely to Step Into Premiership Today; King Ready to Resign Within Next 24 Hours; Cabinet Concludes Session

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 6.—(By the Canadian Press)—The government is now ready to turn over the responsibilities of office to the incoming administration, declared the Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, following a meeting of the cabinet here today. The probabilities indicated Mr. Bennett would be ready to step in tomorrow and it was likely, the premier intimated, that he would see the Govenor General within the next 24 hours and tender the resignation of the government.

Mr. Mackenzie King recalled that it was 11 years ago tomorrow that he was appointed leaders of the Liberal party and declared it would be a coincidence if the date of his surrendering the reins of government synchronized with that anniversary.

Nine of that 11 years had been passed in office, and with the record which the government had established, said the Prime Minister, he was well content. In opposition, the outgoing administration would be very strong, with such veteran parliamentarians as will now adorn the front benches of the opposition.

The premier thought they would be able to carry out air functions vigorously.

UP TO BENNETT

"We had an excellent meeting, and everybody was in the best of spirits," declared the prime minister. "Everything is now ready to be turned over, and the matter of when the change takes place rests with Mr. Bennett."

Should the government's resignation be tendered to his excellency tomorrow, the procedure will be for the prime minister to proceed to Rideau hall and formally announce his resignation, advising the governor-general to summon Mr. Bennett. The new prime minister will then proceed to government house, with the members of his cabinet, and there be sworn in. Following this ceremony, the new government will return to hold a cabinet council to decide upon the date of the by-elections.

The constitution requires that a member of parliament, on being appointed to a cabinet position, must seek the approval of his constituents before assuming office. Usually when such oppointments come immediately subsequent to a general election, the minister are given acclamations.

ALL PRESENT

The entire cabinet was present today, including the new minsters, Hon. Ian MacKenzie, Hon. Cyrus MacMillan, and Hon. W. F. Kay. This was Mr. MacKenzie's first cabinet council, and will, of course, be his last for some considerable time to come, Hon. C. A. Dunning and Hon. Lucien Cannon, two defeated ministers, were also present.

Prior to the meeting a group photograph of the retiring cabinet was taken, "just as a souvenir of our long associations in government," the prime minister said.

NO GLOOM

There was nothing of gloom on the faces of the ministers as they left the privy council chamber. They laughed and chattered together, and many of them shook hands with the newspapermen who were present in the expectation of a definite announcement being made.

The prime minister was in a cheerful mood. He shook hands with the reporters and chattered with them for several minutes. "Our last meeting," he said.

He intimated the relief from the burden of administrative responsibility would give him an opportunity to rest. Nine years in office had been something of a strain, but those nine years had been fruitful of legislation that established for his administration an excellent record, said Mr. Mackenzie King.

NO APPOINTMENTS

He was asked if any appointments had been made at today's meeting and shook his head. All appointments now pending would be made by Mr. Bennett's government, he observed. The meeting had been a routine affair, occupied chiefly with clearing away minor matters in order to give the incoming cabinet a clean slate to work on. He was ready now to turn things over to the new prime minister at any time, and that time depended entirely upon what progress Mr. Bennett had made with the forming of his cabinet.

While the government was holding its last council meeting, Mr. Bennett, a stone's throw away, was greatly occupied in working out the personnel of his own administration. His was the busiest office in the capital today. With many members-elect calling upon him, from Nova Scotia were W. G. Ernest and Thomas Cantlay; from New Brunswick Dr. Murray MacLaren and Thomas Bell; from Quebec Maurice Dupre, Alfred Duranleau, Arthur Sauve and C. H. Cahan. Ontario had a number of representatives interviewing the premier-elect, while Hon. H. H. Stevens, Hon. Robert Rogers, Col. H. Mullins and several other westerners also called.

Present probabilities are that Mr. Bennett will make public his new cabinet following his return from government house tomorrow afternoon.

Take Your Cards When You Sail for Europe Via R-100 or Any Other Big Dirigible

Such Is Advice of Commanding Officer in Speech at Toronto

PASSAGE EASIER THAN THAT BY SEA

Routine on Ship Practically Same as on Liner

TORONTO, Aug. 6—(By W. D. White, Canadian Press staff correspondent)—When you step into your air liner, within the next few years, for a little jaunt to England don't forget to have a pack of cards tucked away in your pocket and a book or so under your arm. This was the advice of Major G. H. Scott, commanding officer of the R-100, who spoke here today as the guest of honor of the Empire club of Toronto.

For the airship, said Major Scott, has taken the thrill out of flying and made air travel even more comfortable than that of the ocean wave. And within a few short years one may expect to see a regular airship service between Canada and the Old Country, continued Major Scott—a service which will whisk a business man to England in three days and bring him a reply to a letter within six.

The airship commander refused to admit the flight of the R-100 was "a wonderful feat" but he was willing to accept congratulations on its success. It was but a natural journey and, comparatively speaking, without danger. It had been successful because its purpose was to "show to Canada that we in Great Britain are endeavoring to come close to you and to shorten the distance between us."

Routine of the ship was practically the same as that of an ocean liner in respect to its watches, its conveniences and fare. There was quiet, very little sensation and for a vista only the far reaches of the sky and sea. It was a ship of gentle, lady-like behavior, its commander declared. Though the dodging of depressions and thunder storm areas "did take a bit of doing."

"You may be wondering," exclaimed Major Scott, "at the uniform I wear. It is the uniform of the aerial merchant service and it is the first time it has been worn on a flight (cheers). For we hope to be the heralders of a commercial route and a commercial service. We do not care, nor are we interested in possibilities of the airship in war. We are meant to work for peace and to work in peace."

Major Scott thought the ships which would follow the R-100 and would be used commercially would need to be larger. While the R-100 had a capacity of 5,000,000 cubic feet they would probably be of about 7,500,000 cubic feet in order to carry a hundred passengers and more than ten tons of freight.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, prime minister of Ontario, addressed the luncheon, telling the visitors he thought the Canadian people were as one in hearty support of any project to further consolidate the Empire and he thought—though he spoke only for his own government—that people would gladly support any reasonable subsidy for an airship service to the Old Country. "If the Old Country will give us the lead they will find that Canada will cooperate," concluded the premier.

SANDPOINT WINS BASEBALL

CRESTON, B. C., Aug. 6—Sandpoint, Idaho, had no trouble whatever in disposing of Troy, Montana, to win the final game in the international league playoff at Creston on Sunday afternoon. The score was 24 to 8.

In the Troy lineup were First-baseman Fay McKelvey and Catcher Tom Watson of the Creston team, while the first three innings were pitched for the losers by Fortin, Creston's regular heaver.

Troy was outclassed in all departments, particularly in the field where Sandpoint showed strength in most every position, the left fielder and second baseman pulling off some spectacular one hand catches when a fnuff would have meant disaster. The two Creston players gave a good account of themselves, but Fortin was hit rather freely in the three innings he worked. Quite a large number of Sandpoint people were here for the game, but Troy had poor support from its citizens.

BOAT SERVICE CUT PROPOSED IN SEPTEMBER

Riondel, are dependent on the steamer service. In winter the dependence of upper lake points would be increased.

In the case of the West Arm, the steamer Nasookin, on the Crow run, makes stops at Willow Point, Kokanee, and Harrop, both ways, but it can only bring in West Arm residents at night and take them out in the early morning. If this were the only steamer service on the West Arm, this would force residents of West Arm points to spend an extra day in Nelson, or else have resort to other methods of transportation, if they are to be in this city in business hours.

FULL RUN PLAN

Under the other plan put before the respective boards, of retaining the present Nelson-Kaslo run but operating it only on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, main lake and West Arm residents having business in Nelson will have full opportunity to transact it, with as little loss of time as at present, except for having to accommodate themselves to the new schedule as to choice of day for coming in. The visitors will have 6½ hours in Nelson in business hours, and will be able to reach their homes the same day they leave them. In the case of the West Arm, residents will have the facility of two boats each way on the Kaslo boat days.

If the Nelson-Kaslo run is retained, the Crawford Bay and Lardo runs will be combined with it, but in neither of the latter cases will there be any reduction of service, but only one change of day in each case. On Monday and Friday the steamer on both downward and upward trips would visit Crawford Bay en route, but on Wednesday there would be straight runs between Kaslo and Nelson. The Lardo run would be handled from Kaslo by the same steamer, but the Lardo days would be Wednesday and Saturday instead of the present Tuesday and Saturday.

TIE UP ONE STEAMER

The reduction fo service projected will enable the C.P.R. to tie up one steamer, and operate its Kootenay lake services with two steamers instead of three.

Of the two alternative plans of reduced service, it is said the C.P.R. operating department inclines toward the one that would confine the service to the main lake, for under the plan the Kuskanook, with a crew of 22, could be laid off, instead of the Moyie, whose personnel is 16, while there would be an economy in fuel by reason of the 40 miles saved daily on the West Arm.

HAGEN FAILS TO QUALIFY IN PRO TITLE TOURNEY

GARDEN CITY, L. I., Aug. 6—The professional golfers' championship at the Fresh Meadow club, flushing, in early September will not be the same old golf battle it has been in the dozen years of its existence. No longer will it be Walter Hagen against the field. Hagen, five times champion of the pros will not be there.

He failed to qualify today in the Metropolitan district test at 36 holes over the course of the Cherry Valley club. The old master took 149 strokes to work his way around the sporty layout while Horton Smith, his protege, led the field with 138. Hagen missed a chance to qualify by four strokes for 46 was the highest. Today marked the first time Hagen has failed to qualify in a championship.
