SAYS BRITAIN THROUGH LAW NOW OUTCAST

Lloyd George Indicts Government for Letting Allies Make All Decisions

EMPIRE'S INTERESTS SACRIFICED, HE SAYS

National Liberal Leader Has Fresh Plea for Reunion of Liberal Wings

LONDON, March 14.—Great Britain is playing too meagre a part in European affairs today, according to former-Premier Lloyd George, who was the guest of the National Liberal members of parliament at luncheon today, in the house of commons. It was not pleasant to see issues being disposed of without Britain being consulted, he said.

The former premier alluded to the proposal for a reunion of the two Liberal wings, and said:

"I have no doubt at all that if reunion between the two wings is not secured, if dissensions and divisions are prolonged, the party will be paralyzed. At the Mitcham byelection, the forces of discontent rallied round Labor, not round Liberalism. If there is a lesson in the Mitcham result for the Conservative party, there is also a lesson for Liberals.

Need Unity and a Program

"That is what happens until you secure two things. One is, and it comes first, unity. Next you must have a program, a program the multitude of the people of this country. With those two things, you will have growing support for Liberalism all over the country. You have millions of electors, men and women, who are not attached to any political party. Liberalism, I think, has a better chance than any other party of attaching these people to the flag, but it will not be so if they continue squabbling among themselves and offering nothing to them."

Lloyd George said the Conservatives were prepared to confront troubled Europe and disturbed Britain with a policy that was doomed to disastrous failure. And Britain would pay the price. So far from that policy weakening her revolutionary allies, it was giving them new strength.

A Labor victory with such a program as the Socialist candidates put forward in Mitcham and Edge Hill would have been absolutely impossible six months ago. Unless some new force, he continued, is brought in, the Conservative policy is to stand alone between this country and revolution.

Britain Does Not Exist

He added: "There never has been a government within recent experience that so rapidly and in so short a time lost its prestige. It is not pleasant to see that Europe is now conferring and acting as if the British Empire was not in existence. So far as I can see, we are not even consulted when questions are being settled which profoundly affect our whole futures, and questions for the settlement of which the British Empire sacrificed a million lives and millions of its gold. This tragedy is developing and the longer it goes on, the greater will be its catastrophe to Europe.

"If asked would I treat Labor as an enemy, I would say 'certainly not. Not Labor.' The revolutionary elements in the Labor party, 'decidedly yes.'"

The audience cheered these sentiments.

Concluding, Lloyd George said:

"In spite of the fact that we are strong advocates of Liberal unity, I will not have it thought that we are supplicants seeking shelter and grace at the doors of any group. (Cheers.) I feel confident that by continuing negotiations, we are serving not merely the cause of the party, but the cause of the country we love the best."

At the conclusion, the National Liebrals carried a resolution expressing confidence in Lloyd George, and empowering him to carry on further negotiations looking to a reunion of the Liberal groups.

YOUNG TURIFF HAS ANOTHER WAKEFUL INTERVAL AND EATS

VANCOUVER March 114. — Jack Turiff, the 16-year-old boy who has been asleep for 10 days and who is presumed to be suffering from sleeping sickness, has a fair chance of recovery, his chiropractor doctor announced this evening. The boy woke about 10:30 o'clock this morning, ate two light meals, and called for his favorite cigarette, before he lapsed into sleep again, ten hours later.

EXECUTIONS IN IRELAND AGAIN ARE THE RULE

New Offenders Are Presumed to Have Refused the Recent Amnesty

TOTAL EXECUTED TO DATE, SIXTY-SEVEN

"Republic" Proclaims an Indefinite Period of National Mourning for Victims

DUBLIN, March 14.—The resumption of executions by the Free State government is in pursuance of the policy announced when amnesty was offered. During the amnesty period all executions were suspended, and the presumption was that all refusing amnesty were irreconcilables, and must take the consequences.

The executions which have since taken place are for the most part not concerned with old offences, but are punishments for offences subsequent to the amnesty offer. A notable feature has been their promoptitude, some of them followin within a few days of the offence.

The executions have been mostly confined to those who made direct attacks on the government, but some were inflicted for robbery of banks, which have been frequent. The total number of executions to date is 67.

Forbid Amusement.

DUBLIN, March 14. — A proclamation by "the government of the republic of Ireland" has been issued, decreeing an indefinite period of national mourning during which sports and amusements are to be suspended and theaters and moving picture houses closed, and particularly horse racing, hunting and all outdoor sports discontinued.

The action is taken, it is declared, "in view of the present national tragedy caused by Great Britain's threat of war, the daily violation of the usages of war by the torture, illtreatment and execution of Republican prisoners, and in consideration of the bereaved families and relatives."

The Siki-McTigue fight is due to take place here next Saturday, St. Patrick's day. Whether the "proclamation" will prevent the fight remains to be seen.

Haitian Oil Well Ignites by Spark; Forty Are Injured

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, March 14. —A spark from a soldering iron which was being used to close a hole in a gasoline can, today started a fire in the Texas company's plant, which destroyed that building and razed two-thirds of a business block in the wholesale and commercial district of the city. Forty persons were injured, one fatally.

PROVINCE CAN'T SPARE ANY MEN TO THE PRAIRIE

McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, Says Every Able-Bodied Man Is Needed

ALL WILL BE BUSY UPON APRIL FIRST

Owing to Lumber Development Summer May See Serious Shortage

VICTORIA, March 14. — British Columbia industry between now and the end of April, will require every ablebodied man. This is the summary of conditions today by J. D. McNiven, deputy minister of labor.

Because of these conditions, it is understood, the government will not take any steps this spring to encourage men to go to the prairies. No extra low transportation rates as were in vogue last year, will be sought or given.

In fact, prospects for industry here this year are so bright that not only will all the surplus labor be taken up, but there may develop by summer a serious shortage.

Unemployment Vanishing

At present, unemployment is getting down near the vanishing point. The prairie provinces have asked British Columbia for 1500 men for the seeding and growing seasons, but now this province has reached the conclusion that it cannot spare even that number.

Survey of conditions by government experts here shows that the logging and lumber industries are experiencing the biggest boom they ever had.

Indications also point to great activity in the mining industry this year.

THORNTON NAMES SOME MORE AIDES

Latest Appointments Take Care of Publicity and Statistical Requirements

OTTAWA, March 14.—The offices of assistant vice-president and publicity agent, Grand Trunk railway, and general statistician, Canadian National railways, are abolished as a consequence of the appointment of the following officers for the Canadian railways, announced here tonight by Sir Henry Thornton:

D. E. Galloway to be chief assistant to the president, formerly assistant vice-president Grand Trunk Railway system, Montreal.

W. S. Thompson, to be director of publicity, hitherto publicity agent, Grand Trunk, Montreal.

R. A. C. Henry to be director bureau of economics, now special engineer, department of railways and canals, Ottawa.

E. P. Mallory, to be director bureau of statistics, formerly general statistician, Canadian National railways, Toronto.

Dunning Cabinet Refuses to Take Liquor Plebiscite

REGINA, March 14.—There will be no change for the present in the Saskatchewan government's liquor policy, it was announced by Hon. J. A. Cross, attorney-general, in the Saskatchewan assembly this afternoon. The government will not comply with the Moderation league petition signed by 65,075 residents of the province, asking for government control and sale of liquor for beverage purposes, and the retail sale of beer. Neither is there any intention to submit the question to a referendum at the present time, as suggested by some of the members of the league at a recent conference with the government.

Have Had Two Recently

"We have already had two plebiscites, and still the situation is said to be unsatisfactory," said Mr. Cross, speaking for the government. "I think a third plebiscite at this stage is altogether unwise. My opinion, and the opinion of the government, is that circumstances do not call for any present change of policy.

"We believe that it is still our duty for some time at least to continue the efforts already being made to make prohibition a success. More time and more consideration will be required, in our opinion, before any change of policy can be justified. For the present, therefore, the government has no other intention than to leave the law as it is, and to continue the policy of enforcement, and of education which has been followed in the past few years."

BRITAIN'S AIR FORCE SMALL TO FRANCE'S

If One-Power Standard Was Adopted for Air It Would Bankrupt Nation

THIRTY-FIVE MILLION POUNDS A YEAR COST

Government Will Offer Prizes for Field Work and for Helicopter Experiments

LONDON, March 14.—A somewhat unusual incident bearing upon the present relations between France and Great Britain occurred in the house of commons today when Sir Samuel Hoare, in presenting the air estimates, and desiring to make a comparison of the aerial strength of the two countries, said he felt himself impelled to preface his remarks with the assurance that such comparison did not imply belief that war was even remotely possible between the two great allies.

Sir Samuel explained that he was making the comparison because France, of all the great powers, was most alive to the importance of air craft.

British Force Diffused

Sir Samuel gave figures showing that, while the British peace time air force was only one-tenth of the war strength, the French air force today was one-third of its 1918 strength. Moreover, two-thirds of the British machines were at present overseas, while three-fourths of the French machines were in France.

He estimated that France, in 1925, would have 2180 airplanes, and Great Britain only 57. He pointed out that a plan of the one-power standard in the air would mean an immediate increase in the gross estimates for the British air service of £5,000,000.

Makes No Proposals

The air minister made no specific proposals. He admitted that from every viewpoint, Great Britain should try to avoid another lap in the old armaments race. The maintenance of a one-power standard in the air would cost £35,000,000 yearly.

The government proposed to offer prizes amounting to £50,000 for competition in the field and helicopter experiments.

He warned the house that, though civil aviation was valuable, it was not a substitute for military aviation.

Deal Murder Jury Sits Ten Hours; Still in Debate

VANCOUVER, March 14.—The jury which is retrying Fred Deal, a negro convict, for the murder of Constable R. G. MacBeath, V.C., of the Vancouver police force, was still in conclave at a late hour tonight, after nearly 10 hours' deliberations.

Deal's counsel obtained a second trial in order to introduce evidence concerning the alleged relations between the local police and white women with whom Deal was friendly. The evidence tended to show that the policemen had threatened to "get" Deal.

The jury was charged to take notice of Deal's assertion that he did not fire while conscious, and that his revolver might have been discharged accidentally following a blow which the dead policeman is said to have dealt him. MacBeath was arresting Deal for driving an automobile while drunk.

VILNA IS ATTACHED TO POLISH STATE

Action Puts an End to Uncertain Situation That Caused Much Anxiety

PARIS, March 14.—The allied ambassadors' council finally settled one of the most irritating problems left over from the peace conference, by defining frontiers between Russia and Poland.

The council's action was, on the surface, a mere perfunctory sanctioning of the terms of the Riga treaty between Russia and Poland, and acceptance of the existing situation, but it was really the ending of an uncertain situation which it was feared might develop serious trouble.

The ambassadors' action also provides that the Vilna district shall be attached to Poland, thus ending the long dispute between that country and Lithuania.

DAIRY FARMERS BUY VEGETABLES

OTTAWA, March 14.—That dairy farming, as an outlet for the farmers of eastern Canada, in the face of increased costs and increased land values, had been too highly specialized by many farmers, was the contention of Professor Barton of MacDonald college, appearing here today before the special house committee on agriculture. Too many farms were no longer self-sustaining, he said. Men had gone into dairying to the exclusion of everything else, and did not even produce their own vegetables and eggs.

Professor Leitch of Guelph said that the prairie provinces made as good butter as any country, but the Ontario and Quebec product made a bad reputation for all Canadian butter. Ontario ordinarily produced nearly enough butter for home consumption, and the people at home were not very particular.

New Zealand cheese was competing seriously with Canadian cheese in Britain because Canadian cheese was not always the best quality, he said. To remedy this, the professor opposed the present system of a flat uniform price for cheese in Canada, and advocated some system whereby the poorer cheese would pay a lower price to the maker.

Canadian Body of Railwaymen Is Unaffected

OTTAWA, March 14.—A large proportion of the railway employees of Canada are not affected by the decision of Mr. Justice Galt of Winnipeg declaring the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers an illegal organization in restraint of trade. This statement was made here by A. R. Mosher, grand president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway employees, who declared that nearly 15,000 employees, members of the Canadian organization, were protected by registration under the Trades Union act of 1871.

"The statement of Howard B. Chase, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, that all labor organizations in Canada were in restraint of trade, and consequently illegal under the finding of Justice Galt, is incorrect," Mr. Mosher declared.

Won Case in Court

Mr. Mosher pointed to the fact that the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway employees had occasion two years ago to take action in the courts against the trades and labor congress of Canada, when the legal status of the Canadian brotherhood was given full recognition, the action having a successful outcome.

He said the membership of the international organizations were placed in a very unfavorable position as a result of the judgment, chiefly because they were left without protection whatsoever of the monies paid in.

BUER, March 14. — The bodies of the two Frenchmen who were assassinated here Saturday night were conveyed to the railway station for transportation to France. There was an imposing military demonstration of 5000 troops. The bodies lay heaped with flowers, and were flanked with tanks, and infantry with fixed bayonets, and cavalry with drawn swords.

Ask British Intervention.

BERLIN, March 14. — Foreign intervention to obtain the release of Lord Mayor Zimmerman, of Buer, whom the French are holding as a hostage, is sought in a telegram from the German Democratic party to the English League of Nations union.

"This unprecedented, inhuman breach of British justice demands immediate intervention," says the telegram. "We hope for action aimed at the release of this innocent, threatened German."

BERLIN, March 14. — A German freight train proceeding from Wanne to Botterop, in Westphalia, was fired upon today by French sentries. It ignored orders toh alt, and rushed through at full speed, according to the Lokal Anzeiger Gelsenkirkchen correspondent. The fireman was seriously wounded. The train was stopped, but later was allowed to proceed after the locomotive and baggage cars had been searched.

KILLARNEY MEMBER TAKES UP THE DARE

Accepts Proposal of Manitoba Conservative to Resign and Run on Budget

WINNIPEG, March 14.—Developments in connection with the challenge of L. G. Willis, Conservative member for Turtle Mountain, to D. S. McLeod, government member for Deloraine, to resign his seat and have an election on the budget, in which case Mr. Willis would also resign in Turtle Mountain, took an interesting turn in the legislature this afternoon.

The challenge, not having been accepted by Mr. McLeod, Mr. Willis dared A. E. Foster, government member for Killarney, to accept it. Mr. Foster at once rose to the occasion, saying that he was prepared to pick up the glove at any time.

Though met in this way by Mr. Foster, Mr. Willis did not announce his intention to carry the affair further.

HAS PLAN FOR SETTLING OF REPARATIONS

German Scheme, Guaranteed By Her Industrialists, Is Ready for Disclosure

IS HOPED BRITAIN WOULD TAKE LEAD

Attitude of British Statesmen Said to Have Disappointed Other Governments

LONDON, March 14.—Germany is about to make a declaration that she is willing and ready to produce a plan for the final settlement of the reparations question, provided she can rely on the plan receiving the attention and consideration of the allied governments, says the Daily Telegraph's diplomatic correspondent, upon whose information the Daily Telegraph, in an editorial, says the fullest reliance may be placed.

WANTS ASSURANCE IT WILL BE EXAMINED.

According to the correspondent, the plan, which involves a material guarantee by the German industrialists, will not be disclosed until the German government is assured that it will not be brushed aside without serious examination, as happened to Karl Bergmann's proposals, in London in December, and in Paris in January.

Unofficial or semi-official reports from Berlin, says the correspondent, recently caused inquiries to be made of the British cabinet whether it would not take the lead by suggesting that a concrete offer from Germany would be welcomed in London, but that the British statesmen were reluctant to commit themselves.

This attitude of reserve, says the writer, disappointed not only the German government, but other governments, who had been looking to Great Britain for the lead.

The correspondent gathers that Germany is fully prepared to accept far-reaching measures of international control of her finances, and to participate in some international guarantee to France respecting France's treaty frontiers.

PROPOSAL TO SPLIT UP THE POLICE FAILS

Woodsworth Would Confine Mounties to Unorganized Territories

SMALL FORCE TO GUARD PROPERTY

Only Twenty-three Members, Mostly Progressives, Vote to Remove Redcoats

OTTAWA, March 14.—The present organization of the Royal Canadian Mounted police will remain. J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Center Winnipeg, had a resolution before the house today calling for the disbanding of the present force and reorganization along these lines:

1. Dominion police for the protection of government buildings and other government property; and,

2. A northwest mounted police force whose activities would be confined to unorganized territories.

The house debated the resolution all afternoon, and finally defeated it by the following vote:

Against, 16; for, 23; majority, 133.

The 23 who supported the resolution consisted of the two Labor men, two Liberals—Messrs. D'Anjou, Rimouski, and Lanctot, La Prairie-Napierville—two Independents, and 17 Progressives.

The remainder of the Liberals and Progressive voted against the resolution, as did all Conservatives present.

Object to Espionage

Mr. Woodsworth charged that the mounted police had established a system of espionage, which was most unpleasant to Labor unions, and objected to the "arbitrary powers" given to the force under the Criminal code.

Sir Lomer Gouin defended the force. Amalgamation, he claimed, had reduced expenditure, and brought about uniformity. Employment of private agents had been discarded.

Sir Lomer Gouin said that the proposal of Mr. Woodsworth was that the government should revert to the old system of having two forces of federal police. He gave the history of the Dominion police and the Royal Northwest Mounted police up to their amalgamation as a single force in 1919 and 1920.

System Most Efficient, Says Gouin

Sir Lomer contended that the amalgamation had brought about uniformity. The habit of employing private agents had been discarded. The duties of the force were to act in accordance with instructions of the minister in charge in carrying out work for all departments of the government. It had to enforce federal statutes, including the Narcotic act, the Indian act (protection of reserves), the Chinese Immigration act, and the act regarding explosives. In 1921, said Sir Lomer, there were 2850 men employed. Estimates of expenditure amounted to $4,674,066. The report, said the minister of justice, shows 1500 men less, and expenditure decreased by more than a million dollars.

Mounted posts at Brandon and Portage la Prairie had been done away with, and many protests had been received by the department from these centers, that men be returned to their old quarters. Sir Lomer knew of no province, he said, where people complained of seeing too many men. He believed the present system was a good one.

Mr. Meighen said he understood the minister to admit the truth of certain allegations against the force by Mr. Woodsworth. Mr. Meighen said his impression was that such allegations were directed against the conduct of the Royal Northwest Mounted police during the strike in Winnipeg in 1919. Mr. Meighen held that conditions in Winnipeg at this time had been unusual, and had called for unusual measures.

Forke Turns Motion Down

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, said that in view of disturbances which had occurred in his own district showing the need of an active police force, he was unable to support the resolution. Mr. Forke said Brandon had been done an injustice when the Royal Canadian Mounted police post was removed from that city. The city had gone to considerable expense in providing quarters for the men, and this money was now wasted.

George Black, Conservative, Yukon, said that the resolution was not correct in asserting that the disbanding of the Royal Canadian Mounted police was "in the public interest."

"The interests which would be served," said Mr. Black, "are interests which are entirely inimical to the public of Canada."

Since Mr. Woodsworth had failed to give the real reason behind it, Mr. Black thought that the members must draw their own conclusions why anybody would want such an admirable body as the R. C. M. P. disbanded. It had been efficient in the west and in the east.

J. Steedsman, Progressive, Souris, supported the resolution.

Closing the debate, Mr. Woodsworth remarked that the minister of justice had stated that the Royal Canadian Mounted police mostly performed the work in the west which had been done by the Northwest Mounted police prior to the organization of the other body. The provinces of Manitoba and British Columbia had not been policed by the Northwest Mounted police, said Mr. Woodsworth. What was objected to in these provinces was the work which the Royal Canadian Mounted police was performing in labor circles.

Interfered With Rights, Says Mr. Woodsworth

"We had trouble in 1919," said Mr. Woodsworth, "when certain rights of citizens were interfered with by the former government." The city of Winnipeg had shown where its sympathies lay at the last general election, he continued.

The minster of justice had accepted statements made by him in regard to acts of the Royal Canadian Mounted police in the west, and he thought that Mr. Meighen had no right to suggest that the statements were not correct. He had a right to assume that his statements would be accepted on the floor of the house in just the same way as those of every other member. There had been no suggestion that his resolution was prompted by ulterior motives.

The house then divided on the resolution.

LEADER WANTS TO CUT INDEMNITIES

Proposes Slash of One-Eighth In Ministers' Salaries Also As Economy Move.

OTTAWA, March 14.—Rising amid laughter from both sides of the house, Harry Leader, Progressive, Portage la Prairie, moved this afternoon for a 12½ per cent reduction in the indemnities of the house of commons and senate, and of the salaries paid to the ministers, and to the leader of the opposition.

Mr. Leader said that he would be willing to cut his remarks right off at the outset, and have a vote on the resolution if the house was willing. There were cries, however, of "Explain."

"I hope I have the goodwill of the members," he pursued, amid calls of "Sure" and "Hear, hear!"

That the resolution was in the interests of economy was obvious, he went on, and so was the need for economy. However, everybody was willing to economize for the other fellow, and continued to hang on to the higher indemnity voted in 1920.

In his opinion, this resolution was a final test of the sincerity of the members in their advocacy of economy.

League of Nations Costly.

Mr. Leader spoke of a certain judge who, with his pension as judge and salary as minister, indemnity as member of parliament, and expenses in connection with trips to Europe during the war, had cost the country some $283,000. Mr. Leader also referred to W. N. Tilley, a lawyer in Toronto, who had drawn $400 a day from the government for 198 days. He objected to paying out such large sums to men already wealthy.

The debate was adjourned by Miss Agnes McPhail, Progressive.

Just a Little Thought

It requires no effort — and a little thought—to get into the habit of using British Columbia made products. This is not an appeal to silly sentiment, but to sound common sense. B. C. firms, in many cases, lead all Canada in the actual quality of their manufactures.

To Live Long!

A RECIPE given by a famous physician for long life was: "Keep the kidneys in good order! Try to eliminate through the skin and intestines the poisons that otherwise clog the kidneys. Avoid eating meat as much as possible; avoid too much salt, alcohol, tea. Try a milk and vegetable diet. Drink plenty of water, and exercise so you perspire—the skin helps to eliminate the toxins (poisons) and uric acid."

For those past middle life, for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation, such as backache, scalding "water," or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, "rusty" joints, stiffness, get An-uric (anti-uric acid) at the drug store. This is a wonderful eliminator of uric acid and was discovered by Dr. Pierce of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. If your druggist does not keep An-uric (kidney and backache) tablets, send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce for trial package and you will find that it is many times more potent than lithia and that it dissolves uric acid almost as hot water does sugar.

Montreal, Que.—"For three months I was under the doctor's care and got no better. I was always complaining of my kidneys. Finally, I took Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and don't complain any more. I have gained in weight and am still gaining, my appetite is great and sleep has come to me. That is what Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) Tablets have done for me. I do truly recommend them to those who are suffering the way I did. The tablets are mighty good, though not expensive, easy to buy, but hard to beat."—T. A. Brown, 415 Dorchester street.

Queen's Bay Growers Plan a Spray Tank; Sign Agreements

QUEEN'S BAY, March 14. — The adjourned annual meeting of the Queen's Bay Fruit Growers' association was held March 5, when H. Fairbank occupied the chair, and many matters of local interest were discussed, as well as those appertaining to the marketing of fruit.

The chairman was able to explain certain details connected with the new cooperative, which the meeting wished to be informed of. Every fruit grower of this district, it is stated, has signed or intends to sign the agreement with the cooperative.

Major Budd gave a short report of the Boyd Oliver meeting held a few weeks ago in Nelson, which he attended.

It was decided to build this year a new tank for boiling the local supply of lime-sulphur for spray.

J. H. Hoyle, G. Porteous and H. E. Mahood attended the annual meeting of the Harrop and District Cooperative association at Harrop on Saturday.

HUSBAND DIDN'T DARE LEAVE HER ALONE HEART WAS SO BAD

Those feelings of faintness, those dizzy spells, the all-gone sinking sensations which come on from time to time indicate a weakened condition of the heart and, a disordered state of the nerves.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

have no equal as a remedy to strengthen the heart, invigorate the nerves and build up the run-down system.

Mrs. C. Vanhorn, Eckville, Alta. writes:—"About a year ago I had heart trouble. My husband didn't care leave me alone, and often had to stay up at night with me. I would just feel kind of faint and my heart would seem to stop beating. I would just faint away, and it would sometimes be an hour before they could bring me back to life. Someone told me about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got three boxes; I took them and felt much better, so continued all Winter, and now I never feel any such faintness. I surely do appreciate the good they have done for me."

STOMACH SUFFERING

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, pancreatin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but the pure Bisurated Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bisurated Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

LIFE WAS MISERY!

"I was reading the other day about Neurasthenia, about the large number of people who were troubled with this disease. It is just what my wife had. She felt miserable all the time and was constantly depressed. She would waken in the morning and tell me that something dreadful was going to happen that day. Life was nothing short of misery for her. She was so depressed that I expected she would lose her mind and have to go to a sanitarium and I kept wondering how I would get the money to pay for her. She could not eat and had no appetite for food. She was irritable and cranky most of the time. If she was crossed in any way, she would immediately work herself up into a violent temper. This worried me because she had always had a kind and gentle disposition and nothing which was said or done seemed to irritate her. I spoke to our family doctor about her and he said that her trouble was imagination and that if she would try and forget about her depression and look on the bright side of life she would be all right. Of course I didn't dare tell her this because I knew she would get into one of her tempers. When she got over these fits of temper, she was always weak and ill and more depressed than ever. The doctor said a tonic might help her and gave me a prescription but this did not do her any good. She tried all kinds of other tonics with the same result. Carnol was recommended to me and I wish to state that it is the leader of all tonics. Since taking it my wife has changed completely. Now she is always ready for her meals and work is no burden. It is a pleasure for me to recommend Carnol to anyone who is in need of a tonic or a body builder. Excuse me for writing this letter but I want you to accept my thanks for that wonderful tonic known as Carnol." — Mr. J. M., Toronto.

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 7-022

FLAME SPOUTS FROM GUSHING OKOTOKS WELL

As Valve Is Opened Small Stones Are Hurled at Derrick, Which Catches Fire

STREAM EXPLODES AT EIGHTY FEET

Now Bubbles at Thirty Feet; Will Try to Quench With Steam Today

CALGARY, March 14.—The Illinois-Alberta oil well, 35 miles south of Calgary, is on fire, with damage already estimated at $25,000. The fire started when small stones in the dirt around the well were thrown against the derrick as the valve was opened to relieve the pressure, according to Grant Jennings, field manager. The well is the one which was yesterday reported by government engineers to be a producer of 40 barrels of gasoline daily.

The derrick and equipment was destroyed by the blaze. The flame first shot 150 feet in the air, later lowering to 80 feet, and is still burning at that height.

When the valve was opened this morning, children in a school house two miles away felt the explosion.

Men Have Marvelous Escape.

The escape of Mr. Jennings and Arthur Dutton, assistant, was attributed to the fact that the explosion of the stream of gasoline took place at the top of the derrick, about 80 feet in the air.

In speaking of the explosion and the fire, E. W. Kolb, managing director of the company, tonight said he hoped to extinguish the fire tomorrow by means of three lines of steam which will be played on the base of the flame at the top of the casing.

Manitoba Police Are Preparing for Border Raids

WINNIPEG, March 14.—Information has reached the provincial government indicating that bandits from south of the line will this year attempt to repeat the exploits which caused a reign of terror in southern Manitoba last fall, but everything possible has been done by the provincial police department to prevent raids on banks and to capture the raiders.

A statement to this effect was made by Attorney-General Craig in the legislature tonight, when showing the necessity for the increased expenditure in connection with the department, indicated by estimates of $205,000.

Cooperate With Prairie Provinces

Having stated that the matter of patrolling the American border had been given the closest attention, Mr. Craig said the department was in co-operation with the attorney-generals' departments in Saskatchewan and Alberta, with the object of making arrangements with the federal authorities that would achieve the greatest efficiency in the most economical way.

Mr. Craig said he had a feeling that if the Dominion authorities were to give the different provinces an allowance for doing the Dominion police work, and restored the Royal Northwest Mounted police, the situation would be more satisfactorily taken care of.

The attorney-general spoke in reply to J. T. Haig, Conservative, Winnipeg, who moved for a $100.00 cut in the estimates and asked that the department return to the police service that existed prior to 1918.

The estimates were still under consideration when the committee of supply rose.

Washington Police Get Liquor Drivers and Cars on Line

SPOKANE, Wash., March 14.—Sixty-one cases of Canadian and Scotch liquor, two touring cars, and Cameron McPhee and a companion, who refused to give his name, were all taken into custody today near the Canadian border. When occupants of the second car found their road blockaded, they abandoned car and cargo and fled. At "going" prices, it was estimated, the liquor was valued at $6000.

Says Rum Fleet Is Huge Menace to Navigation

NEW YORK, March 14.—Captain Ettore Sear of the steamship President Wilson, which arrived today from Italian ports, announced he would make formal complaint to the federal authorities against the rum-running fleet off New York harbor, which, he said, was a menace to navigation.

Most of the rum runners, the captain said, operated at night without lights, or else they flashed lights intermittently and sounded bells and whistles from all sides of the ship. The flashing lights, he said, were confused by his navigators with the land lights. It would be a simple matter, he continued, for a large vessel to run aground if vigilance were relaxed for a few minutes.

MOUNTAIN TIME PLAN FAVORED

Board of Trade Council Indorses Move to Avoid "Two Times"

Hearty endorsation of the proposal to have the railways allow moutain time to prevail throughout this province when they make up their summer schedules with a view of preventing double time in Nelson through daylight saving, was voiced by the council of the board of trade at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

As a result, a telegram requesting the change was forwarded to the Railway Association of Canada.

If the result is granted, Nelson will secure daylight saving without the steady confusion resultant from "two times." The suggestion is, of course, in the event that the railways do not adopt daylight saving throughout the Dominion.

This province is under Pacific time, which starts at the Crow's Nest and British Columbia, would consequently be on par with the time of the prairies.

MILK DEPOT IS PLANNED

Dealers Would Place City Distribution on Cooperative Basis

Following the move by the city to license all dairies and call for the sale of only certified or pasteurized milk, a proposal to have the local milk dealers establish a central milk depot in Nelson has been revived.

By this plan, all dealers would send their supplies to a receiving station in this city and distribution from there would be made on a cooperative basis.

In this way, it is held, distribution expenses would be reduced and overlapping, due to various dealers covering practically the same ground, would be eliminated.

Coal Operators and Miners Agree Upon a Year's Extension

CALGARY, March 14.—The Western Canada Coal Operators' connection and the miners of District No. 18, United Mine Workers of America late this afternoon renewed their existing wage agreement for another year from March 31 next, at a conference held here.

The agreement followed a conference of two days' duration, and does not provide for any changes whatever in terms, provisions and conditions of the contracts at present signed between the operators and the miners.

The agreement will now be submitted to the miners for approval in the form of a referendum.

TIMBER STAND IN PROVINCE IS NOT INEXHAUSTIBLE

Interesting Facts Regarding Present Conditions Cited at Foresters' Meetings

FIRE PROTECTION NOT ONLY WORK PERFORMED

Proper Care of Forests So as to Insure Future Supply Is Emphasized

A message from the chief forester that the field men should plan the season's operations thoroughly and work according to the plan, featured the second day's sessions of the forestry meetings being held in the county court rooms, and which have been attended by representatives of the southern interior.

The sessions were concluded last night.

The second day of the combined southern interior forest rangers' meeting was continued today at the court house, Nelson.

The first paper of the day was read by Assistant Chief Forester R. C. St. Clair on "Forest Managements, Its Objects and Importance." The ideal of forestry, said Mr. St. Clair, is to have a forest which provides a perpetual crop of timber; is managed so as to give the best and quickest returns; that young growth of certain species be encouraged on certain sites; that moisture, soil, drainage and climatic conditions, all in their turn, receive consideration when planning the forest crop of the future.

Mr. St. Clair touched on the fact that the public of British Columbia is gradually coming to believe that forest and fire fighting are synonymous terms, and that the time had come when the service should assert itself and make known a little more fully than is at present realized the fact that forest protection is simply one side of forest management.

Other points dealt with were the time it takes to grow a forest crop; best use of sites, forest utilization, and the creation of forest reserves for a perpetual timber supply on a rotation basis. This paper was very thoroughly discussed, in which Messrs. Moore, Allen, Thomsa, Griffith, Conway, Schupe, McParlon,, Oldham and Price took part.

Land Classificatoin

The second paper read was "Land Classification," by Robert H. Oldham of Penticton.

Among points which should be considered in land classifications were an accurate description of the land and local climatic changes due to slope, surrounding mountains, cliffs, soil, timber, locations with respect to market, etc., which might have an influence on value of the land for agricultural purposes. Some applicants believe that the area they applied for is a rich, loam soil, which actually turns out to be a deposit of peat. Watershed requirements were also to be noted, together with such features as would have a bearing on the possibility of the applicant for the land, being able to make a successful living from it. This matter was discussed by Messrs. Conway, Hope, Allen, Moore, McCluckey, Thomas, Watson, Pim, Schupe, Griffith and Price.

Sales of Timber

A paper on "Timber Sale Administration and Appraisal of Values" was read by L. S. Hope, assistant district forester, Nelson. Mr. Hope dealt with the fact that owing to the necessity of insuring a future crop a definite policy for handling our timber was essential if we are to provide for a second crop. Among other points brought out was that the generally accepted report placed the stand of merchantable timber in the province at 360,000,000,000 feet, but at the rate that operators are pushing further and further back from the main arteries of industry, it is evident that the amount of standing timber is not entirely inexhaustible; that cutting in the province is increasing annually, the total cut for 1913 being 250,000,000, compared with 2,000,000,000 feet in 1921. This timber reaches not only provincial but world markets.

Fire, Disease and the Axe

Reduction of timber stand by fire, disease and the axe was taken into consideration and also the annual increment by growth. The methods of appraising timber values were dealt with very thoroughly, as were methods of utilization of all the merchantable timber when a logging operation is carried on. Several points in this paper were very keenly debated as several contentious points were brought up, and every ranger present took a considerable part in debating what proved to be a very interesting paper.

Logging Inspection

The fourth paper of the day was "The Objects of Logging Inspection," read by Ranger J. B. Conway of the Nelson staff. Among the many interesting points brought out was that there is in existence a spirit of friendly cooperation between the operators and the department in the distribution of information concerning logging regulations, available timber and informatin regarding the demand for certain products, which is often obtainable from the forest service when it would mean considerable trouble and delay in obtaining such information from other sources. The methods of scaling and marking were dealt with and the trials and troubles of the field staff in getting marking done was pointed out.

Mr. Conway also made a strong point that the forest officer should be familiar with all the details of a logging operation and the important points which were being inspected, such as boundaries, quantities cut, numbers of men employed; area logged, information as to sale prices, forest protection and slash disposal problem, and waste in tops and stumps. The checking of this information should also receive considerable attention, and the methods to be pursued were gone into with such detail as to prove that considerable time, trouble and thought had been expended by the speaker in the preparation of the subject.

This brought the meeting to a close, and the assistant chief forester mentioned that the chief forester's message to the field men was that there should be every effort made to plan their work, and work according to a plan.

Band Stand and Its Square May Be Made More Beautiful Soon

Plans are now under way to have the band stand and the grounds surrounding it on Vernon street, made more imposing and useful before the summer season opens.

The present band stand is not at all picturesque and, in addition, the bare ground around it needs to be covered with grass.

Alderman Ross Fleming of the civic parks committee has taken up the matter, and it is understood that the matter is also being considered by the Rotary club.

A Good Suggestion

If the Canadian railways this year follow the same course as they did during one of the war years, and advance their clocks one hour during the summer months, it will solve the whole daylight saving problem.

If, however, they do not do so, the best solution, as far as British Columbia is concerned, is for the province to be placed upon mountain time. This can be accomplished very simply by adopting the suggestion made by A. D. Emory, which is that no change should be made in time by the Canadian Pacific railway at Crow's Nest, and similar points on other railways. Thus, mountain or prairie time, which is one hour ahead of standard British Columbia or Pacific time, would be automatically in effect throughout this province.

Another way in which the desired end can be accomplished is through an act which is now on the statute books of this province. It provides for advanced time during the summer in this province, but it is not in effect by order of the lieutenant-governor-in-council, which means the cabinet. It might be worth while to urge the provincial government to make this act effective.

The main thing is to save the public from having to live and work under the disadvantages of two times. These disadvantages, no matter what may be argued to the contrary by those who do not feel them, are very real and very serious.

If dalyight saving can be obtained on a Dominion-wide or even provincial basis, it would be a splendid thing.

French Plans

Writing from Dusseldorf to the Daily Telegraph of London, about a month after the occupation of the Ruhr, Colonel Reppington paid a high tribute to the skill with which the movement had been conceived and executed, from the military point of view. But as much could not be said, he thought, for the civilian and technical aspects of the affair. The reason which he gave was that the French had been "obsessed" by the belief that the German inhabitants of the Ruhr would aid them in carrying out their task. Colonel Reppington was of the opinion that the French did not foresee the extent to which passive resistance would go, and that this had thrown their plans into confusion.

"Don't think us so short-sighted or so innocent," protested the Paris Temps in a comment upon this statement. It was true that the French government had hoped that the Germans in the Ruhr would accept the situation and go on quietly with their productive work under French control. But from the first it was clearly perceived that they might not do this; and, accordingly, alternative plans were thoroughly studied long before the advance into the Ruhr took place. Engineers, railway men, telegraphers, postal clerks, customs officials, were ready to be thrown in behind the troops as soon as the need for their services might be demonstrated. Meanwhile, the military encirclement was to be drawn tighter, until the German government should be brought to see the folly of indefinite resistance, and to ask for terms. That this steady and double French pressure in the Ruhr is having its designed effect in Berlin there is multiplying evidence to show.

It is also having its effect upon certain flighty sentimentalists in this country, who began by glorying in the German refusal to submit to the French demands, but who are now plaintively calling upon the German government to recognize the fact that France is mistress of the situation. So far as concerns the tenacity of the French purpose, even Colonel Reppington, with his pessimistic view of what had occurred, did not try to blink the truth. Nobody could say, he wrote, whether the Germans would hold out for three months or for six. But he added: "The French have taken a position which they cannot abandon; and if the French press remain steadfast, France will rtiumph."

Ten Years Ago

(The Daily News, March 15, 1913)

The Nelson Improvement association is fathering a plan to make Nelson a city beautiful. It is expected that a golf links will be constructed in Houston park.

• • •

W. N. Scott of this city has imported a choice breeding pen of Indian Runner ducks from Hawkesburgh college, New South Wales. They stood the journey splendidly. These ducks have an egg record of 200 per year.

• • •

Stephen H. Hoskins, for the past three years provincial assessor and collector in the Nelson government offices, has been appointed government agent at Hazeton.

• • •

Tents, stretchers, wagons, and other scots' paraphenalia, will be secured by the executive of the scouts' association in this city, in order to help the movement to the fore.

• • •

There is every possibility of a new opera house being built in Nelson, stated M. R. McQuarrie at last night's meeting of the Improvement association, the location being on the corner of Baker and Stanley streets, where the Old Curiosity Shop formerly stood.

To Prevent the Breaking of China Umbrella Stands

Many an umbrella stand is broken by an umbrella carelessly dropped into it. You can prevent this if you place a piece of rubber in the bottom of the jar. Use part of an old rubber mat or a piece of heavy rubber sheeting.

FROGS' LEGS MAY YIELD TO SALMON

British Columbia Canners Will Assault Paris Epicures In the Palate.

MONTREAL, March 14. — Canadian fish canners have decided to storm French epicures into abandoning their pet dish of frogs' legs in favor of Canadian salmon.

Announcement to this effect was made today, when a contract was signed by a group of British Columbia canners to send an exhibit to France as a part of the Canadian exhibition train, which is to tour France early this summer. Not only will the fish be exhibited, according to the agreement, but a party of expert chefs will accompany the exhibit and prepare their fishy triumphs for distribution along the route.

Styles

BY LENORE

Large women cannot always be successful in making themselves appear thinner, but by avoiding tightly fitted clothes, and wearing instead loose, softly draped lines, they can unquestionably avoid emphasizing prominent curves and achieve a certain degree of grace. This is a point on which Lady Duff-Gordon, one of the best known authorities on dress, laid particular emphasis in recent discussion of the subject.

Fortunately, the prevailing fashions are exceptionally adapted to the requirements of the stout woman. The straight silhouette, panels, pleated apron effects—all of which are again sponsored at the openings in Paris—these are the elements of dress which make for grace, if not always an actual illusion of, thinness.

In the accompanying sketch is an admirable model specially designed for the stout woman. Yes, prints may be worn, if the pattern is small and concentrated. Note the soft lines of the bodice, the long, slenderizing lines of the pleated apron and the looped-under bands, accentuated with small bone buttons. The folded girdle is laid loosely about the waist, and the neckline is softened by a dainty collar of tucked net.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

Are You Losing Your Nerve?

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

In these days of auto-suggestion, psycho-analysis, New Thought, Dr. Coue's methods, and so forth, one wonders what the end will be. As a matter of fact, these are all useful and of personal benefit if approached in the right manner.

There is the subconscious mind, and hereditary tendencies, and one should recognize them and after acknowledging to yourself their scope within you, then assert yourself and work our own salvation. For after all, if you keep your body in good physical condition, your high degree of health will give you the necessary fighting power.

If you find within yourself certain tendencies or habits of which you are perhaps ashamed, then you should be thankful that you have moral insight enough to recognize that these tendencies are harmful to you.

Your next step is to become their master whether these things are thoughts or actions. Sometimes there is a little temporary loss of memory, a little confusion of ideas, little undecisions about everyday things.

Don't let this bother you. If you have been working hard, particularly in mental pursuits, without thought of the ordinary care of the body, then above symptoms might easily ensue.

Many people become alarmed, begin to worry, lose their sleep and appetite, fail to go out among people, forget to take exercise, in fact, live a life that is absolutely worng.

Remember the brain and nervous system control the body all right. No one denies that. But that brain of yours needs good healthy blood just like your muscles or any other part of you, and you can only keep your brain right by keeping your body right.

No one can deny that, either.

Paying for the war might seem less painful if it required wearing uniforms with gold braid yardage in proportion to the tax paid.

Dissolve in boiling water

Use enough to get a big lasting suds

Soak an hour or more Overnight if you wish—
(Colored clothes only half an hour)

Big lasting suds—one secret of Rinso's amazing power to dissolve dirt. If you don't get lasting suds, you have not used enough Rinso.

After soaking, only the most soiled clothes need a light rubbing with dry Rinso.

Your clothes don't need boiling if you use Rinso. But if you like to boil your white cottons, use enough Rinso solution to get the suds you like.

Rinso is made by the largest soap makers in the world to do the family wash as easily and safely as LUX does fine things.

You can't dodge Nature's sleep tax. She simply confiscates four months in every year. Whether you get full value for all your time in bed depends on your sleep equipment. TRAIL BOARD WILL IMPROVE SCHOOL HALL

After Next July House Adjoining High School Will Be Required

CLOSE QUESTION OF THE JANITOR

Mr. Young Will Assume Duties as Such With First of April

TRAIL, March 14. — The principal business before the school board at its special meeting held Friday was the appointing of a janitor for the new high school, for which position a number of applications had been received. The successful applicant was A. L. Young, who asked for a salary of $100 per month, which was the lowest figure submitted. His duties will commence on April 1, or sooner if required.

It was decided that the resolution passed at a meeting of the board of school trustees on February 10, 1921, relative to the renting of the assembly hall at the Central school for dances be rescinded.

The secretary was instructed to notify the occupant of the house on Cedar avenue, next to the new high school, that the school board will require the premises after July 26.

It was moved by Trustee W. Brady and seconded by Trustee F. Dodge, that the floor of the assembly hall of Central school be put in good shape, and that the work be left in charge of M. G. Hopper.

Those present were Chairman F. E. Dockerill and Trustees J. Williamson, F. Dodge and W. Brady.

At the first aid class held last Wednesday, no less than 54 attended, the lecturer being Dr. C. S. Williams.

The beginning of the St. John Ambulance association, so far as England is concerned, dates from the year 1100, when at Clerkenwell, a district on the north side of London, was established a priory, which grew to great wealth and fame as the principal institution in England of the Knights Hospitallers of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem. Its gateway, erected in 1504, is the headquarters of the St. John Ambulance association. In the year 1888 Queen Victoria granted a charter formally incorporating the order.

Nash People Close Creston Branch to Boost Cooperation

CRESTON, March 14.—The latest development in Creston's fruit marketing problem is the official announcement yesterday that the Nash interests are closing up their branch at Creston, which has been successfully operated the past three seasons under the name of the Staples Fruit Company, limited.

When interviewed, Manager R. B. Staples explained that undoubtedly the cause for the abandonment of Creston was the desire of the Nash people to make good their promise, made at the time the Cooperative Growers of British Columbia, limited, was first projected, that the Nash houses in this province would be closed in order that their continued existence might not stand in the way of successfully floating the big new cooperative selling agency.

During the past two years, at any rate, the Staples Fruit company marketed at least 40 per cent of Creston valley's fruit crop, giving the best of service.

CRESTON LADIES INVITE PREMIER

Institute Will Rally Women of Valley to Hear Talk on Legislation.

CRESTON, March 14.—At the March meeting of Creston Valley Women's institute, held Friday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. C. B. Garland in the chair, reports of committees were a prominent feature of the session. Mrs. Maxwell, for home economics, reported that the committee was in correspondence with the authorities at Victoria, and hoped at the April meeting to be able to announce a course in dressmaking and millinery to be taken by an expert in this line.

Similarly, Mrs. C. G. Bennett, who heads the committee on home industries, said by next meeting she expected to be able to announce that instruction in cut lace work had been arranged for.

Mrs. Dow, for the committee on legislation, was successful in having the ladies indorse a resolution that the institute arrange an afternoon meeting on the occasion of the coming visit of Premier Oliver, at which the premier will discuss the legislation that has been enacted by the British Columbia legislature in the interests of women. The meeting will be an open one, and an effort will be made to have every lady in the valley attend.

Defer Action on Boswell Road.

After Mrs. M. Kennedy of Boswell, who was present, had spoken on the resolution sent in from the Boswell-Sanca institute, asking Creston institute to indorse a roads resolution, the matter was allowed to stand over till April, in order to allow the legislation committee to fully look into the whole proposition. Mrs. Dow insisting that if the government was to practice economy, great care should be taken not to indorse propositions calling for any unnecessary expenditure of public money.

Mrs. C. B. Hamilton's committee on public health entertained in educative fashion by three demonstrations on first aid effort. Mrs. Frederick Smith and Miss Gobbett demonstrated how to handle a broken jaw; Miss Phyllis Hailton and Mrs. C. G. Bennett, how to set a broken collar bone; and Mrs. George Young and Mrs. Hendy the correct treatment for a cut artery in the hand.

The institute decided to accept the responsibility for having Professor Sage of the British Columbia university appear here and give a lecture on "Early History of British Columbia."

A sum of $15 was ordered diverted from the institute's current account and placed to the credit of the building fund, bringing the latter up to $100.

At the instigation of Mrs. R. B. Staples it was decided to divide the membership into four groups, and each section will during the year put on an entertainment or sale of some sort to raise funds for institute purposes, and at the end of the year the group turning in the most cash will receive a prize.

The institute also decided to revive the serving of hot cocoa at the public school.

BOILS
MADE HIM SICK AND MISERABLE

Mr. Richard Zalenzoski, McLean, Sask., writes:—"I had been suffering continuously, with boils, for three years, and during that time I tried many different remedies without any success whatever. In spite of all my efforts I was compelled to go to the hospital. This was in the Fall of the year, and right in the busiest time of the season. Upon my return home it just took about two weeks until my neck and arms were again occupied by the boils which made me feel very sick and miserable.

One day one of my friends advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used less than two bottles I was very much surprised at the result.

It is now over two years since I got in touch with B. B. B., and I have had no bother with boils since. I will recommend it to all persons suffering from any defect in the blood."

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives."—Mrs. ENGLEMANN, 2032 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N.Y.

DAMMED UP BUYING ORDERS TUMBLE IN

Flood of Purchases Helps Bull Operators in Bidding Up Stock List

NEW YORK, March 14.—Aided by a large volume of buying orders from the west and southwest which had been delayed by storms earlier in the week, bull operators continued to bid up stocks in all sections of the list in today's market.

Prices started upward from the start, despite the marking up of the call money renewal rate to 5½ per cent. It later dropped to 5½ per cent.

A month's postponement of dividend action by the New York Central directors sent that stock down to 97¼c, but it rallied later to 98¼c, where it was off only ⅝c on the day.

Motors, motor accessories, shippings and merchandising issues furnished the strong point, gains of 1⅜ to 3 points being recorded by Mack Truck, American International Corporation, Marine preferred, May Department Stores, Bosch Magneto and Stewart Warner. General Electric jumped 4⅝c. U.S. Steel got as high as $1.08⅜ but fell back to $1.07⅞, up ⅛c at the close; Baldwin dropped from $1.42⅝ to $141¼ and Studebaker closed at $1.24⅞, up ⅜c, after having sold a point above that figure. SUGAR PRICES TAKE A JUMP

Advance of 25 Cents a Hundred Pounds Reported by Wholesalers

The wholesale price of sugar has advanced 25 cents a hundred pounds, according to information reaching the local wholesalers.

The jump in prices does not come as a surprise, as quotations have been steady lately, and a rise, soon, was predicted last week.

The advance in sugar has a supplementary effect, for the prices of all canned fruits in which sugar is used have likewise advanced. Canned pineapples are now off the market as far as wholesalers are concerned, though some are still held by jobbers. The finer grades of green peas are also very scarce at present. Soups, too, are reported firm, with prospects of advances in the near future.

White teas have shown indications of still higher prices.—advances haven taken place recently—there has been no change in quotations this week.

Butter and cheese prices and produce generally, are firm, though the arrival of spring is expected to bring about lower prices for butter.

MANITOBA WILL NOT TAX RADIO

But Telephone System Will Get Revenue From Rentals; Takes Over Broadcasting

WINNIPEG, March 14.—The government does not intend to impose a tax on radio sets, declared Hon. F. M. Black, provincial treasurer, in the legislature today, when justifying the action of the Manitoba telephone system in taking over the work of broadcasting from the two Winnipeg daily newspapers.

He announced, however, that the telephone system expected some revenue from rentals. The action of the government in inaugurating such an important department without consulting the legislature was criticized by J. T. Haig, Conservative, and F. J. Dixon, Labor leader.

Ocean Rates for Vancouver Wheat Reach a New Low

VANCOUVER, March 14.—Reaching today a new low mark of 27 shillings and 6 pence a ton, ocean rates on wheat from Vancouver to the United Kingdom have dropped nearly 10 shillings within the past few weeks. It is expected they will go even lower before the present downward movement is over.

KIMBERLEY BALL CLUB ON SCRATCH

Organizes for Season With Strong Executive; Seek Site for a Diamond

KIMBERLEY, March 14. — The annual meeting of the Kimberley baseball club was held in Handley's hall Sunday night, when the following officials were elected for the ensuing year:

Honorary presidents, E. G. Montmery, F. Chapman; president, R. Grear; secretary-treasurer, A. Ward; manager, P. Murphy.

Committees were named as follows: Finance, F. Willis, P. Johnson; grounds, M. O'Brien, A. Seaton, G. Fusser; entertainment, R. Burke, C. Cook, W. S. Green.

The official umpire is Father Bastie.

The reading of the minutes by W. Shannon showed a slight deficit for 22. Fans can purchase season tickets for $3.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered F. Carlson for his donation of sweaters for the team. The secretary is instructed to ask Lloyd Crowe, secretary of the baseball league, to convene a meeting to arrange a schedule for the forthcoming season.

The ground committee will wait on Mr. Montgomery, on his return from California, to arrange a site for a diamond.

Australian Entry for the Davis Cup Doesn't Look Able

LONDON, March 14. — An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Melbourne says that it is problematical whether Australia will make a serious attempt to capture the Davis cup this year.

Gerald L. Patterson, J. O. Anderson, Pat O'Hara Wood and R. C. Wertheim, the 1922 Davis cup team, adds, are unavailable.

ESKIMOS BEAT THE CAPITALS

Get Only Score of Game and Have Lead Toward Western Canada Title

REGINA, March 14. — Holding the Regina Capitals scoreless and poking in one lone counter through in the third period, Edmonton Eskimos, in one of the fastest hockey contests ever staged in this city, advanced one rung on the ladder that leads to a world championship. The 1-0 score just about tells the story of the game. The Capitals had a slight edge in the first period, held the Keats men even in the second, and were outplayed in the last frame. Winkler made some marvelous stops. In the course of the play he turned aside 33 shots, as a gainst a total of 24 for the Regina net custodian.

Gagne flipped the puck past Laird for the only tally after a sparkling bit of combination play in which Trapp and Keats figured. Gagne took the puck on the pass from Keats, drew Laird out of his goal, and thrust it across the line into the twine.

Regina drew three penalties and Edmonton one.

For the winners, Simpson was the bright star, with the possible exception of Winkler. Simpson was dangerous at all times, bringing the crowd to its feet time and again with his famous twisting rushes. The same player was the rock on which the wave of the Capitals' attack broke on scores of occasions.

Duke Keats turned in his usual heady game, and featured 'n most of the three-man rushes that sent shivers down the spines of the Regina backers. The Eskimo leader playeda clean game from bell to bell.

Summary.

First period—No score.

Second period—No score.

TIGERS APPLY WHITEWASH TO THE OTTAWAS

In Brilliant Game Calgarians Beat Eastern Champs Four to Nothing on Last Night

CALGARY, March 14.—Playing one of the most sensational games ever witnessed on local ice, skating and back checking their opponents into submission and backing them into their own blue line territory time and again; and giving Goalkeeper Benedict probably the busiest 60 minutes that he was ever subjected to, the Calgary Tigers terminated the hockey season in this city in brilliant style tonight, by defeating the Ottawa Senators, National Hockey league champions, 4 to 0, in an exhibition contest.

Unable to Penetrate

Ottawa started their regular lineup, and during the latter stages of the contest they had all but Benedict upon the attack in an effort to evade a shutout, but the airtight defence, and back checking of the forwards bottled them up. Harry Oliver turned in the greatest game of his career. He easily outshone all other performers, while Foley Martin, the "hook check" wizard, and the veteran Rusty Crawford, were playing to perfection.

Boucher and Nighbor were the pick of the easterners.

The teams played fast hockey from the start, and ended the first period scoreless.

Shortly after starting the second session, Oliver stickhandled through and around the defence to pull Benedict out and lodge the puck in the open net. A minute later, Martin hooked the puck away from Boucher, and after carrying the disk to the blue line, passed to Gibson, who pushed it over to Dutton, and the latter's high shot hit the top corner of the net.

Desperate Third Period

In the third session, Ottawa put more effort into their attack, but seldom got beyond the blue line. On the other hand, the Tigers bombarded Benedict, and also missed easy chances after three-man rushes. Near the close of the game, Martin hooked the puck from Boucher again, and wended his way in and out until he got within 10 feet of the net, and the puck was driven beyond Benedict.

Play was clean, there being but three penalties.

Summary

First period—No score.

University Team Defeats Calgary Canadians a Second Time for Junior Cup

WINNIPEG, March 14.—The Abbott cup, emblematic of the junior hockey championship of western Canada, comes back to Winnipeg after an absence of a year. The University of Manitoba team won it here tonight, when they again defeated the Calgary Canadians 5 to 3, and won the round 10 to 7.

Bill Brennan Is in Hospital With Brain Concussion

NEW YORK, March 14.—Bill Brennan, Chicago heavyweight, who was taken to hospital today with concussion of the brain, the result of his knockout by Luis Firpo, Monday night, was declared by his physician tonight to be in no im*mediate danger. X-ray photographs* taken of the pugilist's head will not be examined until tomorrow morning.

Except for a brief period of semi-consciousness early this morning, when he was taken to the hospital, Brennan was in a cheerful mood.

The blow which resulted in Brennan's injury and knocked him out, was a right hand swing just behind the left ear, with the force of a sledge hammer. Brennan was bent double when the final punch came, and fell face down for the count of 10.

Got Sick Yesterday

Although he had complained of a headache and occasional sharp pains in the spot where Firpo's punch landed, Brennan displayed no critical symptoms until early this morning. The boxer was taken to the hospital as a precautionary measure.

Examination of X-ray photographs taken of Bill Brennan's skull revealed tonight that no serious injury was done the boxer by the blow from Luis Firpo which forced Brennan to seek hospital treatment today.

CUBS HAND A TRIMMING TO SENIOR TEAM

Third Period Rally Results in Four Goals for the Intermediate Team

SPRING SURPRISE OF SEASON IN FAST GAME

Entire Senior Team Tries Bombardment in Last Five Minutes of Play

Springing the surprise of the hockey season last night, the Cubs, intermediates, took the Nelson senior team in tow in a fast game at the rink, and emerged winners of the contest by a 4 to 1 score. A brilliant third period rally by the entire team in which three goals were scored in nearly as many minutes, took the senior aggregation unawares, and despite their efforts to score they were unable to hit the hemp behind Ringrose. In the last five minutes the seniors, who were considerably all in owing to the pace set by the Cubs, moved Leo Desireau from the de*fence to center ice, in order that he* might collect a few goals. Wolf Marquis, however, kept his eye on the big senior player, and he was forced to go scoreless. Dutch Richardson was another senior player who was a marked man last night, and his brilliant end-to-end rushes usually ended in 'wo Cubs stealing the rubber from him.

Congratulate Cubs

The large crowd at the game received some excellent hockey. At times it was almost impossible to follow the play, so fast was it carried through by both squads, who were right at home on the fast ice. At the end of the game the spectators thronged the ice and swarmed around the Cubs, congratulating them on their play. Following the game, W. E. Warburton, the boss of the senior team, declared that the game was the toughest the seniors had put up with this season, and that the youngsters put up the hardest battle of any of the challenging teams this year.

In the first period play opened with a rush, the Cubs getting in the first shot on Notman. The seniors, however, took the offensive and made several individual rushes, only to be stopped at the Cubs' defence. After three and a half minutes of play, the seniors secured their only tally of the night, when Ed Murphy secured the puck in a scramble and sent in an easy one on Ringrose, who tried to clear with his stick, but missed the rubber, which bounded in behind him.

Playing a combination game all through, the Cubs raided the senior goal time after time, Notman being equal to all occasions. The Cubs might have tied the score in this period, had their shooting been more accurate. Johnny O'Genski and Claude Miller, the wing men for the seniors, did a lot of useful work, but Stan O'Genski, who was checking his brother, led him an awful chase, and Johnnie received some awful hard bumps during the evening. Leo Desireau and Richardson tried hard to add to the seniors' score with their end-to-end rushes, but Hinton's check and the backchecking of the younger players was disastrous to the senior boys.

Ringrose Plays the Game

In the second period some real hair-raising hockey was dished up, the teams uncorking some excellent rushes on combination work. Perhaps the outstanding thing in this frame was Ringrose's save from Richardson, when the latter outguessed the entire Cub lineup and went in on the goalie, who rambled out and relieved him of the puck.

In the last period the best hockey of the night, and some of the best seen here this winter, was shown the fans.

Rally in Third Period

The Cubs opened the period with a rush on the senior goal, Notman clearing repeatedly. After three minutes Johnny Marquis took a shot at Notman, the latter saving, Wilf Marquish rushed in on the goalie, the puck dropping just in front of the goal line. Stanley O'Genski then rambled in and placed the puck to the hemp. Wilfred Marquis and Gordon Armstrong secured the Cubs' next counter, when on a nice two-man rush, Armstrong flipped it to Marquis, who beat Notman all the way. Stan O'Genski secured the Cubs' third goal a little later when he came through and, shooting from close in, beat Notman. Just one minute later Armstrong again caught Notman napping, on a well-placed shot. The play in the last five minutes was mainly around the Cubs' nets, the entire six men of the senior squad pressing the attack, Ringrose doing some real good saving. Desireau, who moved up to center, in particular, was dangerous.

Taking the game all through, it was as snappy as has been seen here this winter, and the large number of fans present received an excellent display. Last night's game, which was in aid of the Nelson Amateur Hockey association, helped the body out of debt considerably. E. G. Matthew handled the bell.

CUPS AND PICTURES NOW ON DISPLAY

A window of some interest to hockey followers is being displayed in a local tobacco store, where photos and cups of Nelson hockey teams are on display.

Prominently siuated in the display are the McBride and Daily News trophies, won this winter and defended by the Nelson senior team. The Murphy cup, the junior city league trophy held by the Nelson Wanderers, is also being displayed.

Numerous hockey pictures are also on view, the last winter senior squad holding a prominent position. Other pictures of interest are the Nelson senior team of 1908-9, when Lester and Frank Patrick managed the local team which won the British Columbia title, but lost the western year that the present rink was in use. Canada title to Edmonton, the first

Another old picture is that of the old Nelson Tigers' hockey club, former intermediate champions. All the boys have appeared on senior lineups since those days, but the photo is, nevertheless, a curiosity. Occupying the premier position with the senior chamions is a large photo of the Nelson Cubs, which last winter carried off the British Columbia title in the intermediate series. The winodw is attracting much attention.

LAKE PREMIUM DOUBLE WHAT IT SHOULD BE

New York Broker Claims Canadian Grain Men Pay Two Commissions

STEAMSHIP MANAGER SAYS LINES COMPETE

Under Normal Conditions Canadian and United States Rates Would Be Same

MONTREAL, March 14.—T. R. Enderby, operating manager of the Canada Steamship lines, limied, was again the witness today before the royal commission which is investigating an alleged lake grain rates combine. There was a brief interregnum at the commencement of the afternoon sitting to permit W. H. Burnett, of New York, who is with the British & Foreign Marine Insurance company, to give his evidence as to insurance rates on grain carried through the all-water route.

Mr. Burnett said that the present system of taking insurance through what he called "vessel agents," by which he meant the shipping companies which book tonnage for the ship owners, had been in existence in the United States for 25 years, and had then come into Canada. Doing business in the accepted way today meant that the scale of premium rates on grain was doubled, and there was paid a commission of 35 per cent to the vessel agent, and an additional 10 per cent to the insurance broker.

In answer to W. H. Truesman, K.C., Winnipeg, Mr. Burnett said that he saw no reason why business should not be booked directly with shippers, except that it would be necessary to make certain of the financial liability of each shipper whose business was accepted on a direct basis.

Accepting business on a direct basis would mean exactly one-half off the premium rate, said Mr. Burnett, and his company was ready to accept such business.

Distress Rate Would Have Been Disastrous

Mr. Enderby told H. J. Symington, K.C., counsel for the government, that giving a distress rate from one Canadian port to another last year would have meant the destruction of the whole rate fabric agreed upon by the Canadian ship owner at the Toronto meeting of May 4. There had been no distress rate between Canadian ports in 1922 for that reason, said the witness, though there had been a distress rate between an American port and a Canadian port.

There was competition between the Canadian fleets, insisted the witness, even more so than existed between American fleets. With conditions normal, the Canadian rate would be the same as the American rate except for the matter of return cargoes. The law of supply and demand operated as to rates, said Mr. Enderby, but rates were also controlled by the fact that rates were governed by operating companies.

In cross-examination, Mr. Enderby said that early in the season of 1922 the local rate to Port Colborne was three cents, while the carriage to Buffalo was two cents. When asked if this did not constitute discrimination against a Canadian port and give preference to the Buffalo miller, as against the Maple Leaf Milling company at Port Colborne, the witness said that discrimination was something which he had not considered in rate fixing.

Gave Chicago Special Rate

He agreed that a rate of 1¾ cents from Chicago to Georgian bay ports was bad business. At the same time, the rates from Fort William to the bay ports was 2½ cents, but in accepting a 1¾-cent rate from Chicago to the bay, there had been hopes that other cargoes would materialize.

Mr. Enderby was asked as to the meeting between the steamship men and Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of trade and commerce, on October 3, in which he was quoted as saying that the slightly higher rate then prevailing to Port Colborne was compensation against the losses sustained by running boats to Buffalo.

It developed that Mr. Enderby, in addition to refusing to admit the accuracy of the report of the conference with Mr. Robb, had meant that the rate to Port Colborne then prevailing (October 3) would compensate for the losses incurred in running boats to Buffalo earlier in the season. As it had turned out, the Port Colborne rate at that time had not overcome the loss in running to Buffalo earlier in the season.

Marburn Brings Young Scottish to Be Settlers

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 14.—Among the passengers who arrived in St. John this morning on the C.P.R. steamship Marburn, from Glasgow, were a number of young Scotchmen who are en route to western Canada to try their luck at farming. They are all exceptionally fine-looking prospective Canadian citizens, and appear to be quite well educated. In addition to those having a knowledge of farming there are some mechanics and engineers.

A number of the passengers said that there are hundreds of young Scotchmen eager to come to Canada, but owing to the hard times they have no sufficient funds to make the journey. They expressed an opinion that if conditions on the Clyde would pick up, it would not be long before their friends would be following them to Canada.

REVUE PROVES GOOD OFFERING

"Make It Snappy" by Colonial Concert Party Is Brimful of Music

A whole lot for the money is attempted and put across by the Colonial Concert company, which last night opened a two-nights' production of a revue called "Make It Snappy," in the Armory, and which pleased a large crowd.

The whole is a hodge-podge of some clever comedy, pretty costumes, plenty of music, a number of catchy songs and popular choruses.

Particularly well done were the songs, choruses and drill in "The Wooden Soldier," led by Billie Traynor, who possesses a melodious voice and knows how to use it, and led the whole with skilful precision.

Other musical numbers which were especially well received were "My Home In Kentucky" and "Another Little Drink," while several other similar numbers were well rendered.

In the comedy offering, "I'm a Pahson," by "Dinty," is a string of ridiculous monologisms that are smoothly put over. "Dinty" makes his jokes quite clear without the risk of overdoing it—an easy error in the sketch he handles. Humorous songs by Charles Farmer are well received, and an explosive auto in which he makes his debut adds to his offering.

Several ballads of a more serious nature are sung by John Ernest, who has a pleasing voice.

"A Thousand Years Ago," a song scene led by Jean Tailour, makes a hit. It also has a real touch of comedy.

On the whole the presentation is an ambitious effort which affords a good evening's entertainment. It will be repeated tonight.

The cast is: Males—Jack Wallace, Max Dolphin, Dinty Mikenstien, Charles Farmer, John Ernest, Howard Williamson, Johnny Jones, Arthur Walters, Claude Beresford and Robert A. Maine.

Ladies—Oriole Bell, Babe Brennan, Jean Tailour, Billie Traynor, June McLeod, Jacqueline Brant, Pearl Nagel and Dot Eaton.

Pianist—Mrs. W. Mathews.

Is Exonerated of Conspiracy to Rob Killed

HODGEVILLE, Sask. March 14.—Charles Michael, accused of complicity to rob and murder Fred Barnsley in October, 1922, was honorably exonerated by Magistrate A. J. G. Macechen at a preliminary hearing today. Only one charge, that of conspiring to rob, was heard against Michael. Charles Stahman, brother of Henry Stahman, charged similarly with Michael, was remanded for trial, and released on bail. Only the robbery charge was proceeded with, the murder plot count being withdrawn.

A crowded court room heard the evidence of Mrs. Fred Barnsley, widow of the man whose death furnished the motive for the prosecution of the two accused.

The magistrate ruled that the confession alleged to have been made to Inspector Stewart of the Saskatchewan provincial police by Charles Stahman, could not be accepted as evidence.
