eorge Edwards Says From Year of His Audit Posi-tion Misrepresented

OTTAWA, May 6.—(By Canadian ress.)—In concluding his evidence day before the McKeown royal ommission which is investigating e failure of the Home bank, Hon. . A. Crerar, formerly a director of e Home bank, vigorously denied at he had sold his personal stock the bank because of inside in-rmation that it was in a bad ndition. He had sold the stock ecause he needed the money, he id.

George Edwards, chartered ac-ountant, who was employed by the overnment to investigate the books the Home bank and give an esti-ate of its financial condition, in 916—the year that the western direc-rs complained to Sir Thomas White nd asked for an independent audit—as next examined. He estimated hat in 1916 losses on accounts in he Toronto office of the bank alone ere $3,370,000.

He stated that every year since 916 there had been large over-tatements in the annual reports of he bank as to the profits made. He stimated that the profits of $232,000 ecrted at the meeting in May, 923—the year that the bank crashed —were overstated by $816,000.

Losses on Big Loans

Mr. Edwards reviewed the condition f the large loan accounts in 1916, stimating that in that year the bank ould have suffered a loss of ap-roximately $850,000 on the A. C. rost account, $1,050,000 on the Pel-att account, and lesser amounts on he Prudential Trust loan, and the . A. Barnard advance.

He stated, however, that he thought he assets of the bank would have been sufficient to pay the depositors in 1916, but the shareholders would have lost, and might have been called on for the double liability.

He expressed the opinion that an independent audit of the bank's af-fairs would have proved "very illumi-nating" in 1916, and that an inspec-tion of the books at the Toronto of-fice could have been carried on with-out causing a disturbance.

Mr. Edwards was still on the stand when the commission adjourned until tomorrow.

CRAIG PREDICTS SOME FLUTTERING

Claims Boundary Question Is Not Politics but One of Life and Death

LONDON, May 6.—"Between now and the next step taken by the Brit-ish government there may be some little fluttering on the political hori-zon," the Press association's Belfast correspondent quotes Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, as having said in the Ulster parliament today, when discussing the Irish boundary ques-tion.

"It is obvious," Sir James contin-ued, "that a question which has en-gaged the attention of the govern-ments of Lloyd George, Bonar Law, Baldwin, and Ramsey MacDonald, is one of first class imperial im-portance. We must maintain the attitude toward all British govern-ments that this is not a political subject, but a matter of life and death to the people of Ulster."

Mexican May Day Orators Burned Four Lands' Flags

NEW ORLEANS, May 6.—Flags of the United States, Russia, Italy and Spain, were burned in Mex-ico City, May 1, amid cries of "death to these governments," while orators harangued the crowds, according to the English news section of El Universale, a Mexico City newspaper, copies of which were received here to-day.

VOLSTEAD ENDED LIGHTER OPERA

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The 18th amendment has destroyed the light opera industry, John Philip Sousa declared today before the house patents committee, because it re-quires drinking songs of the rollick-ing kind, and "we cannot write them nowadays as apparently the inspira-tion is lacking."

Three Factions in Honduras Sign Peace; Abide by Elections

All the parties to the compact agreed to abide by the results of the elections.

Lost on Confines of Behring Sea

MAJ. F. L. MARTIN

Commanding the squadron of four United States airplanes attempting to circle the globe, has not been located since leaving Chignik, Alaska, a week ago today. A snowstorm arose an hour after he took off. It is established that, after meeting the storm, he diverged from his course along the island chain, and headed toward Behring sea. Before taking off, he and his mechanician spent hours in chopping 400 lbs. of ice from their plane, and in getting their en-gine in working order.

RUSSIA STOPS ITS RELATIONS WITH GERMANY

Closes Berlin, Hamburg and Leipsic Offices; Cancels Fur Auction; Quits Fair

BERLIN, May 6.—Satisfaction not having yet been given by the Ger-man government for the police raid on the quarters of the Russian com-mercial delegation here, the Russian embassy has announced that it is temporarily putting an end to all commercial relations with Germany, in addition to closing the commer-cial office in Berlin.

Branches in Hamburg and Leipsic have also been closed.

The Russians will also abstain from participation in the Cologne fair, and have cancelled the proposed auction of Russian furs and bristols at Leipsic.

M. Krestnsky, head of the Russian delegation, has postponed his depart-ture for Moscow, to await the arrival from London of M. Stomaniakow, chief of the Russian commercial dele-gation in Germany.

Five of these arrested by police in Saturday's raid are still in jail.

Spain Orders All Planes Get Ready for Morocco Work

LONDON, May 6.—A Reuter agency dispatch from Seville, Spain, says the war minister has ordered all military airplanes, and the personnel of the Spanish fly-ing corps, to be ready for imme-diate departure for Morocco.

The information is attributed to the newspaper Voz, which inti-mates that the order is a conse-quence of urgent dispatches from Morocco reaching Seville tonight.

Houses Differ in Nova Scotia Over Church Union Bill

HALIFAX, May 6.—The church union bill, which was reported back to the legislative assembly from the legislative council, with four amendments this afternoon, was im-mediately taken under consideration by the committee on law amend-ments, which, after a few minutes of deliberation, reported back to the house with a recommendation that none of the amendments be con-curred in.

It is expected that a conference of the two houses will follow shortly.

SOBS MARK THE LAST CURTAIN OF TRAGEDIAN

Jacob Adler Was Carried on Men's Shoulders in Lon-don Forty Years Ago

LAST APPEARANCE IS IN THE GHETTO

Two Thousand Jews Weep as the Once Great Actor Mouths Last Lines

NEW YORK, May 6.—Forty years ago Jacob Adler, hailed as the great-est actor the Yiddish stage has known, so moved an audience with his King Lear that shouting men car-ried him on their shoulders through the streets of London.

Today he took his final exit to the accompaniment of wails and sobs.

Last Effort at Seventy

Old, wasted by illness, one arm held in thrall by the paralytic stroke that caused his retirement two years ago when he was 68, the once great artist hobbled on the stage of a dingy lower east side theater to-night, once more in the title role of "The Stranger," written for him many years ago.

This appearance was to have been his last heroic gesture, to show that art outlived the artist. Two thousand east side Jews filled the musty little show.

The old man, his voice broken, struggled through his lines.

Eighteen Curtain Calls

From the first words spoken as he tottered across the stage with the aid of a stick, the 2000 wept un-ashamedly. Eighteen curtain calls alone could not still the clamor at the first act's end. He struggled through the two remaining acts, mouthing his last line with a mag-nificent voice, and fell back, ex-hausted.

WOMAN WANTS TO DO NIAGARA STUNT

Bobby Leach Is Offered a Woman's Companionship in His Rubber Ball

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 6.—Bobby Leache, who some time ago announced his intention of going over the falls in a specially made rubber ball, has had an offer of a woman's companionship. Mrs. Kingsbury, an Australian lecturer, at present in Jacksonville, has written him sug-gesting that she accompany Bobby and take half the proceeds. Leach is not enthusiastic. He says that former feats around the falls have not produced much money, and points out that Mrs. Edson Taylor went over in a barrel but died penniless in a Niagara infirmary.

TRAIN HITS AUTO EIGHT ARE DEAD

Driver Fails to Hear Warn-ing of Woman; Pushes Onto the Track

AMSTERDAM, N.Y., May 6.—Eight persons were killed, six of them out-right, when the first section of the Twentieth Century Limited, west-bound on the New York Central, struck an automobile on Degraff's Crossing, near here tonight.

The dead are: John M. S. Aces, 45, Amsterdam clothing merchant; his wife, Emeline, 39; his sons, Thomas 5, and Joseph, 10 months; his daugh-ter, Julia, 14; Mrs. Schanda Harb, 26, Utica, sister of Mrs. Aces; her daughter, Mary, 3, and David Spirono, 40, Amsterdam mill worker.

The Aces, with Mrs. Harb and her daughter had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Decapio at their farm near Degraff's Crossing.

Just as they were departing in their car for home, Mrs. Decapio said she heard the train approaching. The railroad tracks over which they had to cross are only a short dis-tance from the farm, she explained, and as the car was going out of the gate, she ran in front, waving and calling to them to stop. Aces, driving, apparently did not hear or see her, and sent the car forward in the path of the rushing train.

The automobile, an encloser car, virtually had cleared the track when the locomotive caught the rear of it.

MERCURY CROSSES SUN'S FACE TODAY

Can Only Be Seen With a Glass; Will Take Eight Hours to Pass

VANCOUVER, May 6.—A transit of the planet Mercury across the sun's disc will be visible from Van-couver tomorrow, weather conditions being permissible for observation. According to T. S. H. Shearman, Dominion meteorological observer, of this city, the planet enters the sun's edge at 1:43 p.m. and will still be on the disc at sunset, as the complete transit occupies about eight hours.

The end of the transit will be visible from Alaska, the mid-Pacific and from Europe.

Mr. Shearman states that the planet is too small to be seen without op-tical aid.

FRANCE WON'T RETIRE UNTIL GERMANY PAYS

Poincare Goes Back to Old Ground; Says Germany Attacked Franc

FRANCE, May 6.—France is per-fectly ready to restore Germany's economic unity whenever the reich puts into execution the experts' pro-gram, but not before, according to an announcement made before the French chambers of commerce to-night by Premier Poincare.

Germany's recent offensive against the franc, and the outcome of Sun-day's elections in Germany, he said, showed clearly that France must more than ever be on her guard. He re-iterated that the French troops would be withdrawn from the Ruhr only in proportion to the reparations paid.

"We have said, and repeated," con-tinued the premier, "that France would accept with good grace and absolutely spontaneously, the con-clusions of the experts, as outlined by the reparation commission. We have said, and repeated, that we would re-establish the economic unity of the reich as soon as Germany put into execution the program estab-lished by the commission.

Recent Events Disturbing

"But we do not yet know when, or how, Germany will carry out this program, even if she will carry out at all, and neither the attempts she has made in the past few weeks against our exchange, her efforts to throw upon us the responsibility for delay, nor the results of the reichstag elections, are likely to in-spire confidence.

We are, then, obliged to preserve vigilance and firmness, and we re-main ready to withdraw our troops only in proportion to the payments made.

"We ask only our rights in peace, but we will not accept that any of these rights shall be taken from us."

RUHR EMPLOYERS DECLARE LOCKOUT

Workers Refuse to Extend Agreement for Length-ened Working Day

DUESSELDORF, May 6.—A lockout against the miners was today de-clared virtually throughout the Ruhr, as a result of the refusal of the workers to accept the prolongation of the agreement for a lengthened working day.

Coal production in the Ruhr valley is being seriously jeopardized by the Labor conflict.

The workers demand a seven hour day, declaring that their daily wages —varying from 5.60 marks to 6.10 marks, are insufficient to keep up their strength for longer working hours.

The employers assert they can meet the demands of the industrial agree-ment with the French only if pro-duction is cheaper.

ZLOTY BRINGS ON A POLISH CRISIS

People Horde the New Cur-rency; Merchants Can-not Do Any Business

WARSAW, May 6.—Introduction of new Polish currency, the zloty, based upon a gold and foreign specie re-serve, has resulted in an economic crisis, and many firms have been forced into liquidation. Stabilization of the currency restored the confi-dence of the population, and instead of spending it quickly before it could depreciate, as was the case hereto-fore, the people retained and saved it, with the result that there was very little business, and merchants were unable to meet their obligations.

LABOR-LIBERAL VOTES DEFEAT AMENDMENTS

Attempt of Conservatives to Keep Preference for Empire Sugar Fails

EMPIRE TEA AND COCOA LOSE, TOO

Snowden Declares the West Indies Have Gone Back-ward Under Preference

LONDON, May 6.—Labor's first budget remained unchanged tonight after the house of commons had voted four times on amendments to alter its provisions for reduced duties on tea, cocoa, coffee, chicory and sugar. The bitterest debates were on the sweetest subject—sugar.

The Conservatives, harping on their rejected schemes for Imperial pref-erence, proposed a 10-year preference on sugar from the British West In-dies and other possessions. If that were not acceptable, their speakers argued that at the very least the status quo of a little over 4s per cwt. ought to be maintained, instead of Chancellor Snowden's proposed preference of a little under 2s.

Reject Four Amendments

The house, however, supported the chancellor, rejecting an amendment offered by Sir William Mitchell-Thomson, to stabilize the preference on sugar at 4s 3½d, by 243 votes to 182.

The government, with the support of the Liberals, had a slightly larger majority in defeating the other amendments. One of them was for a reduction in the preference on tea to 2d a lb.; another to eliminate all duty on Empire cocoa.

The bugaboo of United States dumping, so frequently used by those who foresee a flood of automobiles entering England when the McKenna duties are lifted, was likewise utilized in the debate on sugar. William Ormsby-Gore asserted that a com-bination of traders in the United States was being formed in order to market surplus sugar in Europe, and that Chancellor Snowden was placing consumers in Great Britain under the heel of sugar export corporations of the United States. Furthermore, Mr. Snowden was repudiating a bargain made with the colonies at the Im-perial conference.

In reply, the chancellor presented figures to show that the West Indies under preference had been producing less sugar than before, and, so far as breaking faith was concerned, the speaker again reminded the Con-servatives that they had asked the country for a verdict on protection and the country had turned them down.

Encouraging American Producers

Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame, former president of the board of trade, con-tended that if the chancellor of the exchequer made Great Britain more dependent on American sources of supply, he was taking the surest possible course to make food cost more. The great American sugar development has been entirely built up on preference.

Defending his position, Chancellor Snowden said that Empire production of sugar had increased only 100,000 tons under five years of protection. In the West Indies production fell from 191,000 tons in 1919, to 159,000 tons last year.

"Every penny of preference," he continued, "has gone to increased profits for the West Indian planter. It was simply a subsidy given by the taxpayers of this country for the West Indian plantations, for it has not achieved the purpose for which it was intended. If figures mean anything at all, it has had the dis-astrous effect of reducing the pro-duction of Empire sugar by 25 per cent."

Mr. Snowden told the members of the house they might take it for granted in all future debates, on an amendment for the reduction of tax-ation, that if concessions were given, he might find compensation by not repealing the McKenna duties.

DID HIS MASHING ON BORDER LINE

But Montreal and West-mount Police Join Hands and Nab the Offender

MONTREAL, May 6.—James Chowles, aged 32, of no address, had had an ingenuous way of evading the law against "mashing." He would lie in wait for his gray at the con-fines of Montreal and Westmount, and would accost women just on the border, so that when the Montreal police hove in sight he could slip across where they have no jurisdic-tion.

A number of comlaints were re-ceived, and the Montreal and West-mount police acted in conjunction. They succeeded in landing James in the jail and at the recorder's court today he was sentenced to six months.

TRAIL, May 6.—Jack MacDonald, a resident of Rossland, a blacksmith in the Trail smelter, and formerly collector of customs for the port of Rossland, will contest the Trail-Rossland constituency in the forth-coming election as a Liberal candi-date.

Mr. MacDonald received the nom-ination at a nominating convention held in Trail last night, at which Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney-general, ad. Hon. W. H. Sutherland, minister of public works, were present.

Following Mr. MacDonald's nomina-tion, he spoke on matters of interest to the riding, while the ministers also spoke, dealing with the situation in the province today, and flaying the coming into the field of a third party, the Provincial party.

SIXTY PER CENT AMENDMENT NO GOOD TO ANTIS

Chrysler Refuses to Accept Church Union Bill With Membership Vote

OTTAWA, May 6.—A refusal to accept the church union bill coupled with an amendment that it should only go into force on a 60 per cent vote of the Presbyterion church mem-bers or adherents, was made by F. H. Chrysler, K.C., counsel for the op-ponents of the bill, during the pro-ceedings on the bill in the commons private bills committee this after-noon.

Mr. Chrystler said he spoke only for himself, but said that he had no authority to accept such an amend-ment. He added his personal opinion that such an amendment would be dangerous.

He expressed the view that the issue before the committee should not be settled by parliament. It should be left to the courts, as it in-volved a large amount of property, held under certain trusts.

Rev. S. Parker, Toronto, made a plea against the bill on behalf of "a large number of women, heart and soul opposed" to it. Mr. Parker, who is one of the ministers at New St. Andrews, Toronto, asserted that the unionists "were standing ruthlessly on a technicality."

He asserted, on the authority of a specialist on Presbyterian church law, that the Barrier act gave no power to change the constitution of the church.

AGED EXECUTIONER TAKES HIS LIFE

Had Beheaded Over a Hun-dred Criminals; Second Such Suicide

BRESLAU, Germany, May 6.—Execu-tioner Schwiess, who had cut off the heads of 123 criminals, killed himself here today with a revolver, making the second public executioner to commit suicide in Breslau within three months. Schwiess was 74 years old, and had retired on a small pension last year.

His pension was too small to sup-port him, and a few days ago he told friends that he would probably exhibit the axe with which he had ended 123 lives, and deliver a lec-ture on his experiences, to aug-ment his income.

Executioner Spathe, who shot him-self here three months ago, was re-morseful, and died surrounded by 48 candles he had lighted for prison-ers he had beheaded.

CLEAN BILL IS GIVEN OLIVER GOVERNMENT

Commissioner Says Provin-cial Party Charges Not Supported by Evidence

NO ETRAVAGANCE OR INCOMPETENCE

Also Dismisses Personal Charges Against Messrs. Sloan and Bowser

VICTORIA, May 6.—The Oliver government was completely vindicat-ed at the recent Pacific Great Eastern railway investigation, of every charge of dishonesty, extravagance or in-competency in handling of railway affairs.

This is the verdict reached by Mr. Justice W. A. Galliher, royal com-missioner who investigated the Pro-vincial party's numerous allega-tions against the government, and whose findings were made public here today.

No Directions

"I find nothing in the evidence in this inquiry to warrant the im-putation that there was anything dishonest, or any derelictation in duty, or disregard of the public in-terests, or extravagance or incompe-tence in the carrying out of this work by the government," the royal commissioner declared, in summariz-ing the results of his investigation.

In conducting a work of this mag-nitude, he said in referring to the construction of the Pacific Great Eastern, "It would be astonishing if some errors or mistakes were not made, and, perhaps, I might say, more thorough methods in some in-stances might have been accom-plished, but on the whole, consid-ering the handicap that those car-rying on railway construction dur-ing those years labored under, it is not surprising that the work has cost the country large sums of money."

Are Without Evidence

Each charge by the Provincial party, against the government, is dis-missed as unproved, by the royal commissioner. In every case he finds that the Provincial party's alle-gations are without evidence to sup-port them.

Mr. Justice Galliher begins his report by dismissing the Provincial party's charge that Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines in the Oliver government, and W. J. Bowser, Con-servative leader, accepted $50,000 apiece from Pacific Great Eastern railway contractors, and that, as a result, these contractors were accord-ed favorable treatment in the legis-lature.

CHICAGO BISHOP FOR MIDDLE PATH

Would Discard Militarists and Pacifists and Elevate Peacemakers

TORONTO, May 6.—Rt. Rev. Charles P. Anderson, bishop of Chicago, addressing the Empire club here today, declared that the present state of world civilization is directed clearly toward war, and that militarists and pacificists should be disregarded, and the task of preserving future peace entrusted to a third class, the "peacemakers."

Bishop Anderson urged the necessity for internationalism of religion, and said he had "a growing doubt as to the wisdom of an established church, for I can see that an established church to pull the church down, rather than pull the state up."

Referring to the position of the church regarding war, he said:

"I was in Europe recently, and I could not help but be shocked at finding so many service flags reposing in various churches commemorating the service to country, and all that. It did strike me that the house of God is no place for emblems commemorating how one set of Christians killed another set of Christians."

Joshua Legge, a former warden of the counties of Leeds and Grenville, Ont., died at Saskatoon.

TONGUE COATED BAD TASTE IN MOUTH EYES TINGED WITH YELLOW

Liver Trouble the Cause

Mrs. A. C. Brown, Oromocto, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with my liver for a few years back, and was so bad I did not feel able to do my work.

"I had severe pains in my stomach, so bad I could hardly stand them at times; coated tongue; bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning; whites of eyes tinged with yellow, and had a muddy and sallow complexion.

"I had read a great deal about Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and decided I would try a vial, and after taking two or three I found I was greatly improved, and can truthfully say that I felt more like living and can now do my own work without any trouble."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont

TARIFF DEBATE NOW MAY LAST INTO NEW WEEK

Ross, McMurray, Thurston, D'Anjou, Charters Speak; Forty to Come

OTTAWA, May 6.—Debate on the budget continued in the house today without any unusual episodes. There are still nearly 40 speakers to be heard, and the end is not now expected until well into next week, probably Thursday.

Gen. A. E. Ross, Conservative, Kingston, opened with the charge that the budget was the messenger of surrender from the once great Liberal party. The surplus claimed by the government might be considered a myth. It was not in the interests of Canada to lower the tariff.

The Laurier-Fielding tariff, with its policy of stability and no tariff reduction had brought prosperity. The government had let all that pass by.

McMurray Denies Bargain

Hon. E. J. McMurray, solicitor-general, denied that there had been any bargain between the government and Progressives. He held that protection had been bad for the working man. It protected the employer, but while the doors of immigration remained open it did not protect the worker.

The Conservative policy had failed to build up the Canadian west. It was the Liberal policy on immigration which made the west prosperous.

Edmund Bristol, Conservative, Center Toronto, asked if the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway, under Conservative regime, had not had something to do with building up the west.

Mr. McMurray replied that it had, but he advised Mr. Bristol not to go too deeply into the methods by which the Conservative party had helped to build the Canadian Pacific railway.

Donald Sutherland, Conservative, South Oxford, asked if the duties on everything the farmers used, including implements, were not higher under the reciprocity pact than they had been ever since.

"Why, then, did the Conservatives oppose the pact?" asked Mr. McMurray.

"I opposed it because it put on the free list everything the farmer had to sell and nothing that he had to buy," said Mr. Sutherland.

John Thurston, Progressive, Victoria, Ont., sounded a note of warning to Canadian manufacturers who were complaining that the tariff reductions would put them out of business. He said that when farmers purchased agricultural implements they were careful to choose machinery for which they could obtain parts. If the farmers once became convinced that an implement manufacturing firm was going out of business at an early date, they would certainly not buy the implements manufactured by that particular firm.

While favoring the tariff reductions in the budget, Mr. Thurston said he proposed to reserve decision as to whether he would vote for the budget or the amendment.

Only Industry Opposes Cut

J. E. D'Anjou, Liberal, Rimouski, expressed the opinion that only the captains of industry, monopolies and trusts, were opposed to the tariff reductions in the budget. In 1917 Sir Wilfrid Laurier had advocated tariff reductions on the implements of production, and especially agricultural implements. The policy for Canada was one which would encourage the basic industries.

Samuel Charters, Conservative, Peel, said that the population of Toronto and York county was equal to the entire population of Alberta, yet the government was inclined to sacrifice the interests of cities, such as Toronto and Montreal, for the consideration of the west. The people of the larger cities were paying a larger proportion of taxes than those in the west. He thought tariffs should be increased until they were equal to the American tariff.

BYNG ADDRESSES AMPUTATION MEN

Says if Spirit of Canadian Corps Could Live Today All Would Be Well

OTTAWA, May 6.—"I am here because I wanted above all to see once again some of the faces I saw in France. If I am here also as the governor-general of Canada, it is entirely the responsibility of the old Canadian corps. If I am not the right man for the position, it is the fault of you men for getting me here."

These words, spoken by His Excellency Governor-General Byng, were lustily cheered by the Amputation association when he addressed their annual convention here today.

"On the 9th of April, 1917, that old corps went up the slope at Vimy as a unit, and reached their objective," continued Lord Byng. "What they did then was done by a tremendous unity of purpose, and if men could substitute the name Canada for the word 'corps' today, and put the same spirit into their efforts for Canada, all would be well with this country. You are the living illustrations of what Canada did then. I am no advertisement of it, but you let the world know what Canada can do. You are not forgotten, and you will not be forgotten as long as I am here," he concluded.

At the regular business session of the convention tonight a committee was appointed to wait upon the federal cabinet, and present a resolution asking the making permanent of the present pension rate, plus the bonus, for disabled ex-service men.

COAL WAS MIXED, PROBE REVEALS

Royal Commission Hears Manager's Admission; It "Improved" It

WINNIPEG, May 6.—Without the knowledge of military authorities, the coal supplied the militia barracks in Winnipeg was mixed, though contracts called for a supply known as "Cadomin run of mine," according to the evidence of Fred De Sieyes, manager of the Canadian Coal Sales company, testifying before the royal commission investigation here today.

The commission is investigating alleged irregularities in connection with the purchase of coal for Military District No. 10.

The witness said the mixing was done at the bins of the Tuxedo barracks, where the reserve coal supply was kept, the mixture being composed of 75 per cent "Cadomin" and 25 per cent "Pocahontas." He claimed it gave better satisfaction than the straight "Cadomin," owing to the kind of boiler in use, and that there had been no serious complaints.

He said his company had lost more than $3000 on its contract with the government, having paid $10.75 for coal which it had sold to the military department for $10.45.

The Tiger Woman

TIGER WOMAN

Rita Ward, an adventuress type of woman, succeeds in ensnaring Andy Hildreth. Babbie, Andy's wife, makes the mistake of allowing her baby to absorb her, and when she discovers that she must fight to hold her husband Rita has him firmly in her clutches. Babbie tries flirting with other men, among them Howard Long, who has once been in love with Rita. He tries to help Babbie, and it is at his suggestion that Babbie takes the baby and goes to stay with her friend, Emily Tyler.

CHAPTER LII

Andy Goes Home

WHEN Andy entered the house at 11:30 that night he was struck with a sense of chill. It seemed cold and there were no lights burning anywhere. That was strange, for the light in the hall was never turned out, and in addition to the coldness and the dark, there was an ominous feeling of emptiness about the place.

He walked through the rooms downstairs, snapping on the lights as he went, and then with an inexplicable feeling of dread he turned to the stairs. The door to Babbie's room was ajar, and as he turned on the light in the hall he stared with unbelieving eyes at Babbie's bed. It was empty, she was not there, and although he told himself the next minute that she was probably spending the evening with some of the neighbors, he knew in his heart that this was not the case.

The empty nursery convinced him. Babbie had gone, and had taken the baby with her. Babbie had left him. It was incredible; it was astounding; it was a situation that Andy had no way of meeting, for it had never occurred to him that Babbie might take matters into her own hands without waiting for him to act.

Andy's first feeling was one of stunned disbelief, his next was the conviction that she must have left him a message of some kind. And then in his own room he found her note propped up against his morror.

It was a short note, and even in her misery Babbie had thought to word it cleverly. As Andy read it over suspicion shot through him for the first time, and with it anger so hot, so primitive, that he felt the blood rush up into his head, and the veins knot on his temples.

"Andy, I have gone away so as to make things easier for you. It won't be hard for you to get a divorce now that I have taken this step, and I want you to be happy. After all, we are two sensible people, and the fact that we have made a mistake in thinking we loved each other ought not to be allowed to color all our lives. Good luck to you, and goodby."

What did she mean by that statement, "It won't be hard for you to get a divorce, now that I have taken this step?" Did she mean that merely her desertion would give him the chance to divorce her, or did she imply more than that? Had she gone alone, or was Howard Long with her? That was the question, and at the thought Andy's fury mounted, until he fairly panted for breath, and his hands clenched until the knuckles showed white.

Howard Long and Babbie! Babbie, the mother of his child, and she had taken the baby with her! But it couldn't be true, such a thought was monstrous! Babbie, with that look of dreams in her starry, gray eyes; Babbie, who when he had met her had been only a little girl! And yet, why not? Of late she had changed, a part flippancy had grown up in her. It was quite possibly that she had gone away with Howard Long, not only possible, but probable. And if she had, whose fault was it, Babbie's or his? Wasn't he responsible for her? She belonged to him, and instead of taking care of her, he had been blinded by his infatuation for another woman to the extent of literally pushing his wife into Howard Long's arms. At that moment Andy did not think of Rita; he could think of but one thing, Babbie and Howard—together! He felt capable of anything, murder if necessary, but he must save Babbie from herself. If she wanted Howard Long she should have him. But not this way, not by ruining her own life, and not only her life, but the life of her son, their son, "My son!" And to his amazement Andy heard himself saying these words aloud, and for the first time.

WANETA POWER IS SUED FOR A SETTLEMENT

Action for Nearly Fifteen Thousand Is Based on Sales of Stock

FARMER PURCHASED A TEN-THOUSAND BLOCK

Previously Bought Airplane Stock From Milton, the Claimant

A suit brought by Muriel E. Milton against the Waneta Power company, limited, for $14,804.21, on certain promissory notes for commissions on stock sold, came up in the supreme court sitting being held here by Mr. Justice B. A. MacDonald, yesterday, and is to be continued this morning. The period covered by these notes is the years 1921, 1922 and 1923.

L. L. Koeper, salesman, engineer, and manager for the company, was on the stand in the morning and most of the afternoon. He was examined by J. O'Shea, K.C., of O'Shea & Irving, with reference to certain checks, one of which, for $200, which was signed by H. Paul Milton, was not admitted to have been paid by C. R. Hamilton, K.C., of Hamilton & Wragge, counsel for the plaintiff.

The witness was also questioned about bills he had paid in Spokane for storage and repairs for Milton's car, about bills for car hire, about the status of J. W. Falls in the company, and about various entries made in the books of the company, by Miss Buckley, bookkeeper and secretary.

Money Not Available

C. R. Hamilton examined Koeper about notes which had not been paid when they had become due, and the witness said they had not been taken up because the company had not had the money on hand to pay them.

Mr. Hamilton also questioned the witness about a note given to H. Paul Milton in pursuance of a settlement with Koeper and Falls. Koeper said he had not seen the entry concerning this in the books of the company before being shown it by Mr. Hamilton in court.

The witness said he believed that Fred Wright was the biggest shareholder in the company, but that Mrs. Koeper also held a large amount of stock, which he had given her.

Contract Not Admitted

About this time a spirited discussion took place between Mr. O'Shea and Mr. Hamilton, the latter refusing to admit as evidence a copy of a contract in Mr. O'Shea's hands which had the addition of a pencilled note not on Mr. Hamilton's original. The judge said it was for the lawyers to decide whether or not they would use the contract as evidence, and they decided not to use it.

The witness was questioned about bonus stock which he admitted having promised to give Milton, but the contract produced did not bear the words "bonus stock" in any part of it.

During this evidence the judge instructed Mr. Hamilton that evidence could not be built up for a case by writing letters to a company, although an answer from a company might be admitted as evidence.

Bought Stock

John A. Breading was the second witness called. He said, in answer to questions from Mr. O'Shea, that Milton had sold shares of the Waneta Power company to him. Milton had been selling airplane stock when he first met him.

"Did you make anything out of the airplane stock?" asked Mr. Justice MacDonald. The witness said no.

"You see what happened to you in the present instance," continued his lordship. "You are a farmer, you tell me. I think you had better stick to your farm after this."

The witness said he had bought stock in the Waneta Power company for $10,000, paying $500 down and giving notes for the remainder. Milton allowed him a discount of $500 on the whole amount, and returned him $25 from the $500 paid in cash, leaving $475. He was to receive later. In time he paid the $9500, and received his shares, but not until after he had been sued by a machine shop in Seattle for two of his notes, which had been turned over to that concern by the company.

His evidence concluded the day's session.

BOY SCOUTS CAMP IS PLANNED FOR

Auxiliaries to Be Asked to Submit Schemes for an Annual Camp

Suggestions and tentative plans for the boy scout summer camp, put forward by the various auxiliaries of the troops, are to be considered at a meeting of the executive of the Boy Scout association, to be held May 21. Carlson, appeared to ask what plans were being considered for the annual two weeks' camp.

Commissioner F. L. Irwin asked the auxiliaries to include suggestions for financing the camp, in their submitted plans.

The camp site, and the question of preparing meals for the boys, either by having a cook for the camp or a cook for the cubs and allowing the scouts to cook in patrols, also came up for discussion.

BUREAU HAD A SLACK MONTH

Hundred and Nine Placements; Year Ago Was a Busy Month

Owing to the absence of construction work on a large scale in the city and district, a decrease has been recorded during the past month to all departments of the government employment office, in comparison with the month of April, 1923.

Applications last month totalled 294; vacancies, 148; and placements, 109.

A year ago the Ymir road construction was in full swing, and consequently the demand for men was high, and many were placed at work. In addition to that, 13 miners were shipped to Vancouver and on extra gang was employed by the Great Northern railway.

During the past month there has been little demand for men, owing to the logging camps being run on a smaller scale, and owing to the absence of road work in the district.

Figures compiled at the local office for the month of April this year and last year are as follows:

	1924	1923	Decrease
Applications	294	379	85
Vacancies	148	177	29
Placements	109	144	35

TRAIL COUNCIL FAVORS VIOLIN LAKE PHONES

Department Will Build Line if Trail Protects It From Fires

TRAIL, B.C., May 6.—Trail's city council last night adopted a plan formulated by the department of lands in regard to the Trail and Violin lake telephone line. The department has agreed to spend $300 on this line, provided the city of Trail would go for its upkeep during the forest fire season. The matter, while receiving the fullest support from the council, was referred to the public works committee with power to act.

The council adopted a resolution from the Amputation association of Canada asking that a straight pension be given amputation cases, in place of pensions and a bonus.

As in previous years the council voted a sum of $10 to the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia.

Trail will this year have a curfew bell in compliance with the curfew bylaw. The recently installed fire bell will be rung each night at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Melvin tendered for the old city shack for the sum of $50 which was acceptable to the council on condition that the shack be taken down within 30 days.

House at Auto Park Will Be Completed by End of This Month

At an emergency meeting of the Nelson city council called by the members of the parks committee, Alderman J. E. McKenzie, chairman, the contract for the building on the auto park grounds was let to Mr. Frost of Second street, Fairview at a price of some $1300. The contract was awarded to Mr. Frost on condition that the work be completed by the end of this month.

The contract calls for the erection of a frame building consisting of a camp kitchen, wash tubs, shower baths and writing room.

All plumbing fixtures are included in the contract as awarded. The house will be constructed in the center of the present park site, and will have drive ways leading up to it.

It is the hope of the council to have the work completed as soon as possible, as it will not be long before the tourists start to arrive in the city and district.

NELSON FILM WOULD BOOST FOR DISTRICT

Lecturer in England Would Be Pleased With Nelson Views

Alfred Ward of Manchester, who has been conducting lecture tours in England, in order to boost immigration to Canada, and who has been boosting Nelson and the Kootenay district a great deal in his tours, will shortly visit this city once again, according to word received by Fred A. Starkey, commissioner for the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia.

Mr. Ward, in a communication, states that he had received a communication asking about the use of a film of Nelson in his tours and lectures. He states that such a film would greatly help in his work and would be an essential boost for the district. Mr. Ward should now be in Canada, he having sailed from England on April 28.

Big Tourist Travel

Railway passenger agents are predicting that Canada will this year enjoy the biggest tourist traffic in its history.

Streams of tourists are going to be passing by way of train and steamboat through Canada, in addition to the thousands who will travel in their automobiles.

Nelson and the Kootenay-Boundary country will get a share, but not as large a share as next year if plans which are now being prepared for a widespread publicity campaign are carried through.

Indications are that the program discussed at yesterday's publicity meeting would meet with the approval of the citizens and that the necessary sum will be readily subscribed.

Compared with other places, Nelson is not raising a large sum. But it should be sufficient to produce a very effective and result-getting campaign of publicity, not only for Nelson but for the district as a whole.

A Dispassionate View of France and the Ruhr

The average Canadian is able to take a more dispassionate view of European conditions than a person who has his home on that continent and the opinion expressed by F. C. T. O'Hara, deputy minister of trade and commerce for the Dominion, on his return from overseas, on the issue between France and Germany, deserves to have especial heed paid to it. His duties gave him unusual facilities for informing himself while in those two countries. When he left Canada, he declares, he was thoroughly convinced that France was wrong in its Ruhr policy, but his visit has completely changed his view. What he saw convinced him that the Germans were not at all deserving of pity and that this should be reserved for the creditors of that country. He found that the Germans were taxed comparatively lightly and that their trading classes were spending their money lavishly. France, he thinks, has correctly estimated the German character, and is about to reap the benefit of the policy that it has pursued, as it deserves to do.

Forest Pays Taxes of French Village; Also Bonus to All

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—Mr. Barnjum's letter in The Daily News of today stating that the inhabitants of Orson, in Sweden, pay no taxes because of revenue derived from the municipal forests is interesting to Canadians.

The village of Villers Sans Chalamont, Doules, France, not only has its taxes paid by the revenue of its forests but also is enabled to pay annually to every man, woman and child residing in the commune about 50 francs. This village had 130 children of school age—in France school age is 3 to 13 years—and sent 100 men to the war, facts which make it reasonably certain that the normal population is about 600.

I was told that the neighboring village of Arc, 2 miles distant, was richer than Villers because it had more forest.

Make the City Farm Into a Playground for 'Ymir Addition'

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—I note that some of our citizens are applying to purchase the vacant balance of the city farm.

Allow me to make a suggestion through your columns: It is to make it into a playground for the use of the people of what we old-timers dubbed it, Ymir addition, but which is now fast becoming quite in town.

Asparagus is one of the five vegetables which are better processed on three successive days, rather than canned by the usual One-Period Cold Pack method. (The other four vegetables in this category are peas, corn, and both lima and string beans. These will be taken up in this column later.)

In giving any canning directions in this column I assume that the housekeeper is using her wash-boiler as a canner and that the altitude of the housewife's location is below 1000 feet. For altitudes above 1000 feet, the time of processing given in my directions should be increased at the rate of ten per cent for each additional 500 feet.

Select your asparagus stalks, grade as to size, then wash well. Drain and tie stalks into small bunches for convenience in handling. Hold the lower end of each bunch in boiling water for two or three minutes, then submerge the whole bunch in the same water for from one to two minutes; this process is called "blanching."

Next plunge the blanched stalks into cold water for just an instant; this is called "cold-dipping." Remove, drain and cut the string which binds the bundle. Pack the stalks snugly in hot glass jars which you have sterilized as follows: Wash each jar and place it, side down, in a pan. Cover it with cold water and bring slowly to the boiling point, allowing the water to boil around the jar for 15 minutes. Drain and while still hot (or keep hot by wrapping in clothes wrung out of boiling water), pack with the vegetable. Now add to the jar a brine made by combining four ounces of salt and one gallon of water; this brine must rise above the tops of the asparagus stalks, coming to within one-half inch of jar-top. Put on washed new rubbers, adjust sterilized glass caps, and put top wire up over cap but do not press down side wire (this is called "partially sealing").

"Processing" the jar is the next step. To do this, stand the jar on a wire rack which you have placed in the bottom of your wash boiler, in boiling water which rises over the top of the jar. Wait till water begins to boil again, after putting jar in, then count. The jar should remain in one hour. Then remove it and let it stand in ordinary room-temperature for 24 hours. Again process the jar for one hour (just as before), and again let stand 24 hours out of water. Repeat the hour of processing still again on the third and last day and the canning is done. (Completely seal the jar at the end of each hour of processing, but raise the lower wire clamp just before placing jar in boiling water for each processing-hour.

This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number, and the name of your city and province.

Going to travel this summer? An effective suit for a journey by train or a trans-Atlantic voyage, illustrates the vogue for plaids, and the adroit way in which they may be combined with solid colors. In this model the plain material is of caramel brown. The plaid blends shades of lighter brown with the faintest suggestion of yellow in a scarcely perceptible stripe. The low narrow belt indicates a movement noted in a number of recently imported suits.

But perhaps you prefer a coat and dress costume? In that case you may have a slim beltless dress of the solid color. The neck is semi-oval, and is finished with a narrow border of gold embroidery—there's not enough of the gold to mar the tailored character of the costume. There's a patch pocket finished in the same manner, and there is a seven-eighth length coat of the plaid, lined with the same color as the dress. The collar and cuffs are also made of the solid color, and touched off with the gold.

That Body of Yours

Water

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright act.)

There is considerable controversy regarding the value of water to the system.

Years ago someone, working on theory only, advised that water be not taken at meals as it diluted the gastric juice and so the juice would be just that much weaker.

Others suggested that as all the cells of the body were about half water, and were like little fish in that they needed water in which to swim, therefore we should drink lots of water.

Along came some athletic trainers and showed that in training a boxer, an oarsman, a footballer, any athlete in fact, water, liquids of all kinds, should be cut down to the lowest possible point, so as to get the athlete down to his lowest possible weight consistent with strength.

To combat this we have others who suggest taking quarts, yes, gallons of water daily, as it flushes out the intestine, the kidneys and the skin.

That it was just like the street flushing machine that washed down the dirt and dust from our asphalt pavements into the sewers.

Now, what about all this?

Well, it is just like everything else; there is some basis of fact in most of the ideas quoted.

As to diluting the digestive juice by taking water at meals. A little liquid at meals actually softens the food and makes it easier for the stomach juice to handle it.

Too much water at meal times means that the stomach may drop down slightly from the weight of the water and distension, and so make it difficult for the stomach to throw the food into the small intestine. Your cells need water, but they can't take care of more than they need, and you are only burdening the waste system when you take more than is necessary.

In regard to athletic training too much water is a big mistake where you are attempting to reduce weight. The water is taken up by the cells of the body and you are just that much heavier.

The general rule here is to take a drink of water whenever you are thirsty, but take a very small drink.

Taking gallons of water to flush the system is a mistake. It doesn't run through you without change. It has to be handled.

If you are a foundry man, or work where you are perspiring all the time, gallons of water daily will not hurt you.

So use your common sense in the matter.

If you are below weight don't be afraid to drink a glass of water with your meals, and a couple of glasses three hours after meals. If you are overweight, you'll find that you'll lose pounds monthly by cutting down your liquids.

NAKUSP, B.C., May 6.—The Nakusp Dramatic club met a capacity house Friday evening at the opera house when the farce, "What Happened to Jones," was presented, the proceeds, amounting to $140, going to the fair association. All the members of the cast did their parts excellently. The audience throughout the three acts was kept in a continual state of laughter or merriment.

INVERMERE, B.C., May 6.—Robert MacDonald, superintendent of the Paradise mine, is away for a month's holiday at his home in Vancouver.

A compressor, with the necessary machinery required to work it, has just been installed on the Phoenix group. R. S. Gallop, who completed all arrangements for this while at the coast, has but recently returned.

Seaton of this place and Mrs. Charles Crook of Windermere, who have been across the water since last fall, are expected home soon.

Bear Has a Fatal Stroll at Glenbank; Just Out of Den

NAKUSP, B.C., May 6.—A large black bear ventured out of his winter's quarters at Glenbank and strolled on to the fruit farm of T. H. He had not long been out of his hole, for his fur was covered with a coating of clay.

Leary Will Seek Increased Grant Nakusp Hospital

NAKUSP, B.C., May 6.—C. S. Leary, the recently nominated candidate of the Kaslo-Slocan Liberal association, left for Victoria Saturday. This is necessitated by the unexpected increase in the cost of construction of nearly $2000, according to tenders presented recently.

Arrow Lakes Kick Over a Week's Loss to Register Name

NAKUSP, B.C., May 6.—Considerable dissatisfaction is expressed among those who are not on the voters' list that they will be required to journey to New Denver and appear personally before the deputy registrar May 19 in order to have their franchise rights. To citizens living down river this would mean an absence from home of nearly a week, without counting the expense incidental to the trip. An agitation is on foot to have a court of revision held at Nakusp, which question was brought up before the recent Liberal convention and carried.

Nakusp Liberals Ask for Local Revision Court

NAKUSP, B.C., May 5.—The Nakusp Liberal delegates were at New Denver Wednesday in full force. There being 327 votes in Nakusp, according to the present list, the town is entitled to 13 delegates, who were C. S. Leary, F. Rushton, H. J. Labrash, J. Reilly, David Smith, W. Russell, W. J. Pratt, Jarrett Evans, J. Parent, H. Thurgood, A. E. Fowler, S. J. Harlow and Nendrick Aalten.

Delegates from Arrow lakes points were pledged to support the nomination of C. S. Leary of Nakusp, who won the unanimous nomination in due course.

They also urged that a court of revision be held in Nakusp as well as Kaslo and New Denver, at which latter place it is to be held May 20. It is contended that a large number of eligible voters are not on the list and that if they are to appear in person at New Denver it will create an undue hardship and will disfranchise those who cannot spare the time and expense for the trip.

PLANT LOOKOUT FOR TERRITORY CRESTON-YAHK

Moyie Also Has Fire Look-Out; Twelve East Kootenay Tourist Camps

CRESTON, B.C., May 5.—Norman Moore of Cranbrook, East Kootenay forester, when here last week, stated one of the improvements that will still further increase the efficiency of the fire fighters will be the installation of a lookout at a point above Moyie which gives the watchman a commanding view of the territory to Thompson creek, west of Kitchener.

After the station to be put in on Mount Swansea, near Invermere, the next station to go in will be at a point between Creston and Yahk which will command the area west to Kootenay Landing.

Government Tourist Camps

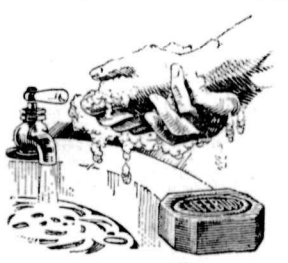
Of 12 tourist campsites to be erected in East Kootenay this year two of them will be in the Creston area—at Kuskanook and Arrow Creek, and Mr. Moore's visit here was largely for the purpose of determining the exact location of these. Of the others to be put in three will be on the Banff-Windermere highway between Windermere and Fort Steele, three between Fernie and Crow's Nest, two between Fernie and Elko and two between Cranbrook and Yahk. It will probably be early fall before these are all completed, but when available many of the most likely sites in all East Kootenay will be at the disposal of the auto tourist camper.

Bonnington Ready to Be Relaunched After Overhauling

NAKUSP, B.C., May 6.—Preparations are being made this week for the relaunching of the large steamer Bonnington, which has been on the ways during the winter months and thoroughly overhauled and repainted for the first time since her construction 13 years ago. Additional men are being engaged for this purpose, and it is expected that Capt. Douglas Brown, the superintendent of the lake and river service, will be present at the launching.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Carlson left for Revelstoke Saturday to meet their daughter, Inez, returning home from the University of Alberta, Edmonton. W. P. Calhoun, who has also been a student at the same place, is also returning to Nakusp.

Reports have been received in Port Arthur that a man in the vicinity of Pine River is raising wolves for the purpose of claiming government bounty on their heads. It is said the affidavit required in bounty claims contains no form of declaration concerning the means of procuring or killing the animals.



Dusty hands are germ-carriers

Everywhere, every day, the hands are touching things covered with dust.

Countless times those dust-laden hands touch the face and the lips in the course of a day.

Consider—dust is a source of infection and danger.

Gum Chewing Aids the Teeth

You have the authority of doctors and dentists for this statement. Your own experience will prove it, if you will use WRIGLEY'S after every meal.

The following quotations from a recent work on teeth and health are worth remembering:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth . . . ."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

The busy man—or woman either—rarely has time to clean the teeth after eating. Yet they should be cleaned, and will do it. Also it will aid digestion and furnish welcome refreshment to mouth and throat.

after every meal

Sealed in its purity package, bringing all its original goodness and flavor to you.

STOCKS REACT ON SURTAX ADOPTION

Enactment of Lesser Reduction on Big Incomes Causes a Slump

NEW YORK, May 6.—Stock prices showed a reactionary tone at the opening of today's stock market on selling undoubtedly inspired by the senate's adoption of the 40 per cent maximum surtax clause in the tax bill, but they made irregular recovery later. Trading was again relatively light in volume.

United States Steel common moved within a radius of about 1 point, closing ¼ higher at 98¾. Baldwin, American Can and Studebaker also showed small fractional recessions on the day.

Revival of interest in the coppers apparently was based on the more optimistic tenor of recent statements of the leaders of the industry. April shipments of the red metal were reported to be unusually high.

Oils were again under the depressing influence of the recently published statistics of March gasoline production, although a better tone was apparent in the late dealings. Rails held relatively firm, with good buying reported.

Call money again ruled unchanged at 3½ per cent.

Time money continued to ease, loans up to 30 days being available at 4 per cent, 60 and 90-day funds at 4¼ per cent and the distant maturities at 4½ per cent. Prime commercial paper was unchanged at 4½ per cent.

Total stock sales, 547,300 shares.

TORONTO BOARD

TORONTO, May 6. — Further improvement in Barcelona common shares on the stock market today was induced by the strong prices prevailing in London. Several small lots changed hands at 17½, and the range at the close was 17½ to 18. Aside from the traction group the local market was extremely dull and narrow. The most active issue locally was Brazilian Traction, which was traded in at 51 to 51¼.

Steady prices ruled for the pulp and paper stocks, and they were practically neglected on the Toronto market. A single transaction of Abitibi was put through at 56½. Spanish River was at 96½ bid. Brompton was altogether neglected, and the quotations at the close were from 34 to 35.

BANK DEPOSITORS

YOU OWE IT TO YOUR BANK TO

1 BE SQUARE

2 KEEP A PROFITABLE BANK BALANCE

3 ACCEPT YOUR BANKER'S DECISIONS ON LOANS

Banks owe and give their clients many services. There are three things which every bank depositor owes his bank.

When you use a bank as your financial institution you owe it to that bank to:

1. Keep your good business reputation because you expect the bank and its other customers to do likewise.

2. Maintain a balance on which the bank can make a profit because many services are now rendered by the bank which were not given formerly. If your bank makes no money on you you are getting a free ride on the backs of the other depositors, which is unfair.

3. Accept the banker's decision concerning loans and credits. When he says "No" accept the "No" because if the banker didn't have the courage to say "No" many times daily your money would not be very safe in his bank. The banker says "No" only because he thinks your proposition is unsound, not just to be mean.

OTTAWA EMPLOYEE SAYS TANLAC MET EVERY TEST

Lee Tells How It Restored Strength and Overcame Stomach Trouble

"If I should live to be 100 years old I will always praise Tanlac for the splendid health it has brought me," is the grateful statement of William Lee, 218 St. Andrew St., Ottawa, Ont., a well-known employee of the Public Works Dept. of this city.

"Nine years of stomach trouble brought me down to only 103 lbs., a mere skeleton on myself. I suffered about all the miseries that go with indigestion and got so nervous that many nights I paced the floor and longed for morning to come.

"Tanlac helped me from the very start and 7 bottles brought back my health and strength and ran my weight up 17 lbs., besides. In fact, I feel as strong and well now as if I had never been sick a day. I will gladly praise Tanlac to anyone wanting to know more about it from me."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

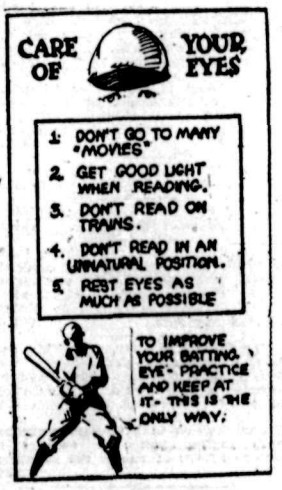
AS BIG LEAGUERS PLAY IT



What things can a player do to improve his batting eye?
Answered by
JACK BENTLEY
Pitcher, New York Giants: Known as a terrific slugger. Purchased rrom Baltimore for approximately $65,000 —and worth it.

Take care of your eyes.

I am very sure that careless reading and too many movies are very hard on good batting. Avoid reading too long or in an unnatural position, such as lying down. Use a proper light over you back. I don't ever read on a train, because it is hard on my eyes. But you have to study to improve your mind, so don't use this as an excuse to dodge school books.

Now development is another angle, I can see but one important rule to help your batting, and it is—"practice makes perfect," and if you keep trying to hit you will gradually improve your ability to hit. Ty Cobb takes a half an hour extra batting practice any time he seems to be in a slump.

Invest What You Like in Tires But Invest in Goodyears

HOW much you keep invested in your car you must decide. As far as tires are concerned, Goodyear provides you with your choice. For those who demand the world's greatest mileage, the strongest road-grip, there is the All-Weather Cord. An actual survey of tire repairmen and automobile dealers shows that a large majority of these experts acknowledge the All-Weather Cord to excel the next best tire by over 25%. For those satisfied with a lesser road-grip, for those who want to make a smaller investment in tires, there is the Wingfoot Cord—heaping Goodyear value, exceeded in mileage and road-grip only by the All-Weather.

Goodyear resources and volume production make it possible to build more into a tire of any price class. Goodyear Selected Dealer method of distribution reduces selling cost. 10,000 tire dealers in Canada is far too many—too many profits, too much handling. Goodyear has cut the number of its dealers to 2,500—selecting in each place those best fitted to render you real service and to give you heaping value.

Let the Goodyear Selected Dealer serve you as he is so well able to do. His stock is fresh, good and fairly priced. His service is really and truly worthwhile.

CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERSHIP IS PROGRESSING

Three Teams Sell Allotment of Amateur of Athletic Tickets; Others On Today

Excellent returns are reported by the teams from the Gyro club who yesterday commenced operations on a city-wide canvass for memberships in the Nelson Amateur Athletic association. Three teams yesterday completed the canvass of their portion of the city and have in each case reported the sale of all tickets handed them.

Several of the teams have not yet got under way, and will commence operations today and tomorrow. Before the week is out the whole city will have been canvassed, and the association then should boast in the neighborhood of 500 members.

Yesterday the teams at work were received with a glad hand, and in the majority of cases were handed the $1 membership with an expression of pleasure and appreciation at the way the sport in the city will be handled in the future. Several refusals were recorded, but the number was by far in the minority.

Easily over 100 members were signed on yesterday afternoon, and when other portions of the city are canvassed within the next two or three days it is hoped that the canvassers will be met with a ready response.

Every citizen is asked to contribute toward this fund, which will cater to all branches of sport in the city. Hockey was last season successfully operated on this plan, and all city sports will derive the benefit of the association.
