GERMANY SUSTAINS COALITION CABINET POLICY IS ACCEPTING DAWES REPORT

ALLEGE RESCUE OF SUSPECTS WAS ATTEMPTED

Auto Full of Men Stopped at the Bordeaux Jail and Inquired About Cells

GUARD FIRED AND WARDERS RUSHED UP

Court Crowd Will Be Limited and Under Severe Scrutiny at Trial

MONTREAL, May 5.—Le Canada, French language newspaper of this city, asks under a two-column head this morning whether an attempt to rescue eight suspects, presently held in Bordeaux jail, pending hearing of a charge of murder in connection with the holdup of the Hochelaga bank collection car, April 1, was not made last Friday night.

The paper says that it hears that an automobile carrying several men pulled up that night before the entrance of Bordeaux jail and its occupants inquired of a prison guard the whereabouts of the exact spot where the suspects's cells are located. The guard is said to have at once fired in the air and about 50 guards rushed up while the automobile made off at high speed. Le Canada says that if the above attempt is as reported, it would constitute the second effort to rescue the suspects. It states that when Serafini and Niegri were taken to Bordeaux a few days ago the police were warned of an attempt to rescue them. Careful precautions were taken and nothing happened at the time.

MONTREAL, May 4.—Rules far stricter than those enforced during the trial of Rev. Adelard Delorme will go into effect to prevent crowding of the court of king's bench, should the 11 suspects now in the cells be sent before a jury on a charge of murdering Henri Cleroux, bank messenger of the Banque d'Hochelaga, who was killed on April 1 here, when bandits held up the bank collection car and stole $142,288.

Sheriff L. F. Lemieux has already perfected details of police protection in the court, while he has under consideration a card system of admission for the public calculated to prevent trafficking in tickets.

At the last Delorme hearing pasteboards changed hands for sums ranging from $2 to $5, it is said.

SOVIET STATES A GERMAN PLOT IN ELECTIONS

Russian Delegation Declares Berlin Police Invade Embassy Without Right

LONDON, May 4.—The Russian trade delegation in London issued a statement today saying that during the course of the past week it had become known in Berlin that a German secret monarchist organization intended some outrage against the Soviet's embassy on the eve of the reichstag elections, with the object of influencing the elections.

The statement declares that last autumn a coup of this kind was avoided only by a timely communication from the Soviet embassy in Berlin to the German government. The statement says it is regarded as significant that Foreign Minister Stresemann's orders to the police to quit the premises of the mission were not carried out immediately. It is declared that with the alleged object of searching for a fugitive criminal, the police spent four hours in the building, forcing safes, and examining official correspondence.

"It may be expected," declares the statement, "that this act of violence, which is a breach of the mission's official immunity, will first of all react on Russo-German commercial relations, in which hitherto Germany has occupied first place."

QUEBEC DISTURBED OVER THE BUDGET

Secretary Gould of Manufacturers' Association Reports Pessimism

MONTREAL, May 4.—Returning from Quebec city, where he attended the annual meeting of the Quebec Canadian Manufacturers' association last week, R. W. Gould, secretary of the organization, said here today that he found the manufacturers of the city and district of Quebec very much disturbed over the budget.

"Quebec," said Mr. Gould, "has been badly hit by the low and unstable tariff policy of the government. The manufacturers do not complain so much regarding the budget itself as of the general feeling of business uncertainty it has created."

Foreign Minister Retains His Seat

Lone Bandit Holds Up Great Northern Train at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, May 4.—Reward of $500 is offered for the lone bandit who held up the Great Northern train coming into the city, and escaped with $160 taken from the passengers.

When he reached Rev. A. E. Cooke, one of the passengers, the clergyman defied him, and the bandit, disconcerted, lowered his gun and jumped off the train.

PRESS GALLERY HAS ANNUAL FUN

Governor-General and Political Leaders Attend Writers' Banquet

OTTAWA, May 4.—The press gallery's annual banquet was attended last night by about 175 guests, including his excellency the governor-general, the prime minister, Mr. Speaker Lemieux; Senator Bostock, speaker of the senate; Hon. Dr. Manion, representing the leader of the opposition; Robert Forke, Progressive leader; Grant Hall, representing the president of the Canadian Pacific railway; Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National railway; Luis Wiley of New York, representing the newspaper men of the United States, and many distinguished men from all parts of Canada.

In proposing the health of the press gallery, Speaker Lemieux dealt with the part played by newspaper men in the history of Canada.

CAPITAL AND LABOR FIGHT OVER BOARD

Railroad Unions Want Railroad Labor Board Abolished; Roads Want It Kept

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Railroad interests and organized labor in the United States have locked horns over the proposed abolition of the railroad labor board. Both have taken sides in the fight in congress over the Howell-Barkley bill, which provides settlement of disputes between railroads and railroad employees without government interference.

A drive by railroad officials and attorneys to defeat the bill and preserve the labor board is being made.

Labor is threatening to blacklist members of congress who vote to defeat the bill.

TRIUMVIRATE IN RUSSIA SAID TOTTERING NOW

Moderate Groups Said to Be Gaining Power; Exiles Are Heartened

GRAND DUKE HOPE OF ALL THE ANTIS

Former Commander-in-Chief Says Must Be Decided on Russian Soil

PARIS, May 4.—Exiled Russians living in Paris are greatly cheered by reports arriving almost daily from Moscow of an impending change.

The struggle for power between the Stalin Triumvirate, including also Kameneff and Rykoff, and the moderate groups, is growing more tense, in the opinion of Russians here, who believe that the present regime is toppling, and that even a slight push would throw it over. The hopes of both monarchists and liberals seem to unite upon Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch, second cousin of the former emperor, and once in command of the Russian armies.

The grand duke, upon being asked to review the present situation in Russian, remarked:

"The Russian problem is so wide and so intricate that it is impossible to embrace it as a whole in a single conversation. I can give you my views on its principal points.

"What is going on in Russia is well known to all who take a real interest in the subject of arbitrary dealings, a reign of terror, lawlessness, violence, total disregard for private property, exactions and famine. All things holy have been reviled; great numbers of bishops, priests and monks have been put to death, and others exiled in most appaling conditions. Those who still remain are subjected to cruel persecutions, and every moment run the risk of sharing the same fate.

"The Bolshevists are attempting to destroy the soul of the people; they want to uproot all moral and religious foundations. However, neither persecutions nor a frantic propaganda of godlessness has been able to tear out from their hearts the faith of the people. Their religious vitality is sure to be manifested sooner or later through the moral bankruptcy of the Communistic power, and prove once more the people's fidelity to the Orthodox church. Russians have lived by faith, and faith will save Russia.

"The Orthodox church is not only one which is persecuted by the Bolshevists," he continued. "So are all other creeds, and all those who have any religion. War is being waged against God."

At another moment the grand duke remarked:

"With regard to the material side of life, the usurpers of powers have succeeded in bringing our immensely rich country to a state of frightful destruction. One thing is clear. To be saved from destruction Russia and her many millions must be liberated from communistic rule.

"Living in foreign lands, we must not decide for the Russian people the fundamental questions of Russia's political constitution; they can be resolved only on Russian soil, and in agreement with the aspirations of the Russian people. The new era after the downfall of the communistic power must begin by pacification and redemption from the state of ruin and degredation to which it has been reduced."

HARDING PICTURE PRESENTED SOON

Ambassador Howard Will Present Vancouver Sun's Gift to the President

WASHINGTON, May 4.—An oil painting of the late President Harding, showing him making his address last summer in Stanley park, Vancouver, B.C., will be presented to the newspaper men of the United States through the National Press club, next Thursday evening, with Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, making the presentation, and President Coolidge receiving it.

The gift of the Vancouver Sun, the painting has been officially approved by the Canadian government. By direction of Premier King the painting was exhibited in many Canadian cities the past month, and in making the formal presentation the British ambassador will deliver the greetings of Mr. King.

Conference Deadlocks Over Recognition of the Russian Debts

LONDON, May 4.—The Anglo-Russian conference, which began about two weeks ago in London, has reached a deadlock on the question of the recognition of debts, according to a statement of J. J. O'Neil, National Liberal, at Lancaster today.

He declared that the conference was doomed to failure unless the debt problem was solved.

VANCOUVER, May 4.—In the maze of reports to the police over the week-end is the feat of Mrs. M. Kelly, who walked in her sleep, clad only in nighties, with one shoe and one carpet slipper, down Granville street early last night. She was rescued from a huge crowd by the police, believed to be insane.

William Perlstrom walked into a restaurant, ate four dozen eggs, a plate of toast and strawberries and cream. He pair $4, and is still living.

ROYAL CANADIAN INSTITUTE MEETS

Frank Arnoldi Gives Account of Its Objects and Work

TORONTO, May 4.—Yesterday the Royal Canadian institute celebrated its 75th anniversary, and at the annual meeting tonight an account of what the institute had accomplished and objects it had sought to attain was given by Frank Arnoldi, K.C., who was professor of the institute during 1913, 1914 and 1915.

The object of the institute, he said, was to promote scientific research in Canada, to bring about cooperation among scientific workers, to disseminate the records of studies, and in general to constitute a clearing house for scientific thought, investigation and exploration.

The speaker said that at present the institute had accumulated a scientific library consisting of about 14,000 volumes, and it was on of the most wonderful in the world. Prof. J. C. Fields, who is at present in England, was reelected president.

THREE ARE BURNED IN APARTMENT FIRE

St. Louis Blaze Also Injures Eight and Endangers Many Others

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 4.—As the result of a fire which broke out in a three-story, six-family apartment block here this morning, three persons, a mother and her two daughters, are dead; eight persons are suffering injuries, and the lives of the two score occupants were endangered.

The dead are Mrs. Hattie Harty, aged 50; Beryle Harty, aged 15, and Thelma Harty, aged 14. Eight persons, suffering from the effects of the smoke and from minor injuries received when they jumped to safety from the second floor of the apartment, are in hospital.

In the third floor front apartment the bodies of Mrs. Harty and her two daughters were discovered by foremen, huddled together as they had fallen, overcome by burns and smoke in an attempt to get to the windows.

WARREN MAKES CABINET FROM OLD OPPOSITION

But His Party Takes Hickman, Business Magnate, as Its Leader

NEWFOUNDLAND IN A QUEER TURMOIL

Premier Reorganizes Government but Loses His Party in Doing It

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., May 4.—Premier Warren, according to the makeup of the new cabinet, which was sworn in before Governor Allardice yesterday, has undertaken to fight the approaching election with his former political foes ranged under his banner, while his former associates are organized against him throughout the country.

Yesterday's Evening Advocate announces that the Liberal party has offered its leadership to Albert E. Hickman, who has agreed to replace Hon. W. R. Warren.

Mr. Hickman, stated to be the most prominent figure today in Newfoundland's commercial life, is reported to have won to his side practically all the rank and file of the government membership of the old house of assembly.

The New Cabinet

The new Warren executive consists of Hon. W. R. Warren, prime minister and minister of justice; Hon. W. J. Higgins, colonial secretary; Hon. M. S. Sullivan, minister of finance and customs; Hon. M. E. Hawco, minister of posts; Hon. J. R. Bennett, Hon. W. S. Munroe, Hon. Charles F. Ayr and Hon. J. Alexander Robinson, executive members without portfolios.

Hon. W. C. Windsor and Hon. W. J. Walsh are ministers without seats in the executive, the former having the portfolio of fisheries, and the latter the portfolio of agriculture and mines.

Old Opposition Enthroned

The whole government personnel, with the exception of Hon. M. E. Hawco, comes from the old opposition party, which was defeated last year.

After the dissolution of the house on April 25, Premier Warren, it is said, started a movement for accession to his party, of members from the opposition, the old administration bearing with him up to a certain point, but finally rebelling when he decided to throw overboard all his old cabinet.

PRINCE OF WALES EXTOLS EMPIRE ART

Pays Tribute to Wembley Palace When Guest of Royal Academy

LONDON, May 4.—(By Canadian Press Cable)—The Prince of Wales in a speech at the Royal Academy banquet last night described the palace of arts at Wembley as the first show of British art of a truly imperial nature. He said that never before had there been gathered under one roof the picked work of painters, not only of the United Kingdom, but of Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India and Burma. It would be interesting to see, he said, to what extent overseas painting had been influenced by the British schools.

The prince added that all who had contributed to the art display at Wembley would have their reward in the quickening of artistic appreciation, not only in the people at home, but in their friends overseas, who may see how British art has inspired the noblest ideals and is able to take its place among the art of all nations.

War Daughters and Peace League Clash; Police Interfere

WASHINGTON, May 4.—A pacifist fight nearly occurred when Mrs. D. Potts, president of the District of Columbia Society of the Daughters of 1812, interrupted a session of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom last night by asking:

"Do you want to abolish the war department; have you signed the pledge to nurse no wounded soldier?"

Loud hisses drove her from the hall, but in the corridor outside the argument grew wild between partisans of the two societies.

After much wrangling, with the excitement growing nearly to the point of blows, the disturbance was quelled by the hotel police.

YANKEE FLIERS MAKE ATKA ISLE

Smith, Nelson and Ward Proceed on World Tour Without Martin

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 4.—Three United States army aviators who continued their world flight from Dutch Harbor arrived at Atka island at 3:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to a wireless message received here.

The planes, piloted by Lieutenants Smith, Nelson and Wade, had been waiting at Dutch Harbor for Major Martin, who has not been seen since he left Chignik last Wednesday.

Yesterday they received orders from Washington to proceed on their around-the-world flight without Martin.

Atka island is 350 miles toward Japan, from Dutch Harbor. Their next hop will be from Atka to Attu island, 530 miles.

Hop Off Again Today

DUTCH HARBOR, Unalaska, Island, May 4.—Preparations are being made at Atka island for the three United States world fliers to hop off tomorrow morning, weather permitting, for the 530-mile cruise to Chicagoff, Attu islands.

Searchers at Chignik still entertain hope that Major Martin, commander of the squadron, and his mechanician, Harvey, who have been missing since last Wednesday, were forced down in some isolated place, and eventually will be found alive and well.

OLIVER REBUFFED BUT NOT BEATEN

Will Fight Against Crow's Nest Pass Agreement but Outlook Is Bad

VICTORIA, May 4.—That the Oliver government has not finished its fight for a reduction in western freight rates was made clear today, following Premier Oliver's return here from Ottawa.

The premier, it is understood, will discuss the freight rate problem with his cabinet, when it assembles here this week.

Mr. Oliver sees little chance of legislation being passed at the present session of parliament to prevent the restoration of the Crow's Nest pass agreement, against which he is fighting. The restoration of this agreement can only be blocked by legislation, as the question is outside the control of the railway board.

EARLY RETURNS INDICATE MARX GIVEN MANDATE

A Four-Party Government Coalition Seems Assured Very Safe Margin

ALL LEADERS ARE IN NEW REICHSTAG

Nationalists and Communists Gain Seats but Not in Sufficient Ratio

BERLIN, May 4.—A parliamentary coalition comprising the Socialist, Clerical, Democratic and People's party, which will command a sufficient majority to put the provisions of the Dawes report into execution, has been assured by the general elections held throughout Germany today. This is the conclusion reached late tonight at government headquarters after a competent appraisal of the returns already received.

Assuming that the People's party and the Socialists continue to maintain their position in today's balloting, as reflected in the early returns, it is even probable that the four-party bloc will have sufficient backing in the new reichstag to enable it to carry through the constitutional amendments with only limited outside aid from the independent factions, of which there will be several groups.

While the Nationalists and Communists show decisive gains, it is not considered that their increases will constitute a menace to the policies to which the four coalition parties are pledged.

The ultra-reactionaries, led by General Ludendorff, failed to develop their expected strength.

Coalitionists Lose a Little

Both the German People's party, headed by Gustave Stresemann, and the United Socialists, have had fewer defections than predicted, and while the Socialists are severely pressed by the Communists in the Ruhr, Saxony and other industrial centers, it is believed that their loss of mandates will be smaller than their leaders were inclined to expect three days ago. The People's party is also succeeding in keeping well to the front in districts where it was compelled to face Nationalistic opposition.

The heavy turncut of voters throughout Germany presages an increase of at least 15 deputies in the reichstag, advancing the membership to 475. While the newcomers will be credited to the extreme right and left parties, they will be unable to strengthen the opposition to the solid middle block, which is expected to command 280 mandates. These will be amplified by the active cooperation or neutrality of the Bavarian People's party, which is expected to return 20 deputies.

Whatever opposition will confront the four-party coalition on its right and left wings, its active working majority will not be imperiled so far as it concerns with ability to forpe ordinary legislative measures, and old reichstag leaders tonight predict that sufficient outside aid will be at its dispcsal to more than offset the intransigeant attitude of Nationalists of all categories and the Communists.

Communists Lead in Berlin

The task of counting votes of more than a score of parties will require several hours, and the federal election commissioner believes that a definite tabulation which will indicate the ultimate party lineup, will not be available before tomorrow night.

The German Nationalists, Socialists and Communists are running a close race in greater Berlin. The Communists were leading all other parties in Cologne at midnight.

Frau Ruth Fischer, the German Communists' firebrand, was elected in Berlin, which also returned Emil Eichorn, the Communist, who achieved fame as police prefect of Berlin, during the revolution.

The Socialists in Hamburg elected Peter Grassmann, who is a newcomer to the reichstag, but one of the most influential labor leaders in Germany.

Victory Indicated

BERLIN, May 4. — Computations based on scattered official returns in today's elections from all sections of Germany indicate that the Socialists, Clericals, Democrats and People's party have captured more than sufficient mandates to insure a safe majority for a big coalition, which is

BANK FAILURE IN MINNESOTA; QUICK MERGER

Capital Trust & Savings Bank of Minneapolis Dies by Its "Frozen Assets"

CAPITAL NATIONAL SUFFERS BY A RUN

Merchants' National Takes In Latter; Total Deposits Forty Million Dollars

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 5.—Consolidation of the Capital National bank with the Merchants' National bank, both of St. Paul, was voted tonight by the board of directors of the institution. The merger provides for the transfer of all deposits and other business for the Capital National to the Merchants' National.

This step followed close on the heels of the closing Saturday, because of "frozen assets," of the Capital Trust & Savings bank, which had deposits of $5,000,000. The Capital Trust had no connection whatever with the Capital National.

Housed in One Building

Closing of the Capital Trust had caused a run, however, on the Capital National, which was housed in the same building.

With the taking over of the business of the Capital National, the Merchants' National will become one of the largest financial institutions in the Twin Cities. Through the consolidation, the deposits of the Merchants' will exceed $40,000,000, including more than $12,400,000 from the Capital National patrons.

MINISTERS FIRE OPENING GUNS AT CRANBROOK

Manson Scores McRae and Provincial Party Over P.G.E. Charges

CLAIMS BOWSER IS CENTERED ON PARTY

Sutherland Asserts Oliver Government Has Pulled Province Out of Hole

CRANBROOK, B.C., May 4.—The first meeting under the auspices of the Liberal party in the campaign now presumed to be pending for the forthcoming provincial election took place last evening when Hon. A. M. Manson, the attorney-general, and Hon. W. H. Sutherland, the minister of public works, were the advertised speakers. The meeting took place at the Auditorium, which, perhaps on account of the busy evening elsewhere, was far from being crowded.

J. A. Genest acted as chairman, and the proceedings opened with the singing of "O Canada" after an orchestra had played a number of introductory selections.

Dr. Sutherland, the first of the ministers to speak, dealt first with the financial situation at the present time compared to the conditions which he said existed prior to the government going into power. He charged the former government with alienating the natural resources and with leaving a deficit of $6,000,000 the last year it was in power. Rehabilitation of the province's finances had been the big task of the government, and to raise the revenue required it had been compelled to take the unpopular expedient of raising the taxes.

Road Reorganization

Referring to his own department the minister defended the course taken in appointing a series of district engineers, which did away with a good deal of the haphazard methods which were rampant prior to 1916, when many badly located roads were allowed to go through, he stated. There was now in the province a length of road equal to five and a half times the distance between Montreal and Vancouver, and 60 miles of wooden bridges, which had formerly needed renewing at least every 12 years. Premier Oliver was the only prime minister of the war period who had been indorsed, and it was on account of his social and labor legislation that the government had found continued favor. There were now signs of an election soon, and he appealed to Cranbrook to send down to Victoria a supporter of the government.

Hon. A. M. Manson was in excellent form, and crowded a great deal into his speech of an hour or so, and the features of his address were a merciless excoriation of Gen. A. D. McRae and the Provincial party movement, the record of the previous government and the accomplishments of the Oliver administration, its financial position and legislative achievements.

Referring to the byelection last year and the Conservative victory here Mr. Manson ascribed it to an "unfortunate circumstance" which raised a "personal issue," but now, when the same issue was no longer present, the candidate must stand up with the record of Mr. Bowser fastened on him.

McRae's Record

Mr. Manson's criticism of General McRae was extremely severe. He brought in the connection of the general with several unfortunate ventures, such as the Port Mann townsite, the Pacific Whaling company, the North Pacific Fisheries and the Dunsmuir Collieries, from all of which it was broadly hinted that the general had come out from under very well provided for. This was the money, Mr. Manson said, that was financing the Provincial party and which was being spent on a scale neither of the other parties could stand.

Mr. Manson denounced the Searchlight for the scurrious language it indulged in, and in outlining the results of the recent Pacific Great Eastern railway royal commission said it had been granted on an even larger scope than asked for, but the last thing that the Provincial party had expected or wanted was that the commission should be given it. The 32 charges preferred had fallen down completely, and now the party speakers were going around the province bringing others. Mr. Manson's denunciation of Rossiter and other witnesses for the new party at the commission was particularly scathing. No documents had been destroyed or lost, in spite of assertions to the contrary, an audit having shown that all the necessary vouchers and documents were in order.

Questions Bowser's Support

Turning to the position of the Conservative opposition Mr. Manson said Mr. Bowser did not have the confidence of the party as a whole, and at the time of his government had brought the province to the verge of bankruptcy, and had the burden of the Canadian Northern Pacific guarantees not been lifted from the province the only recourse would have been a receivership. In Mr. Bowser's time there had been royal commissions galore to investigate charges, but during the Oliver regime there had been only two. Mr. Bowser, he charged, saw everything through the highly colored glasses of partizanship, which was not what the province wanted at this time.

Mr. Manson stated that while the gross debt of the province at the present time was $71,000,000 there were sinking funds and other realizable assets, liquid and otherwise, to be taken into account that brought the net debt down to $38,000,000, and in this respect British Columbia was a great deal better off than most of the other provinces. The taxes had increased, but the money had been spent on new services and undertakings that the people had demanded, such as the Sumas scheme, the Okanagan development and aid to irrigation, the department of industries, mothers' pension department, minimum wage board, and others.

Under Mr. Bowser 30 per cent of the revenue had been spent on the civil service, but now only 16 per cent was taken up. More work was being done in the different departments with comparatively less expense.

Liquor Department the Meanest

Mr. Manson did not spend much time on the administration of the liquor branch, but he described liquor in general as the "meanest thing on earth to administer" and a continual bed of thorns. Qubec spent $3,000,000 a year in the upkeep of its stores while in British Columbia the cost was only $700,000.

Mr. Manson concluded his address with reference to the industrial condition of the province, which he stated was improving rapidly, and some credit for which he ascribed to the government for its aid to industrial development in various lines and its advanced labor and social legislation. Greatly increased production had come about through the policy of the government, which he felt amply repaid what expense had gone into it with increased payrolls. He paid high tribute to Premier Oliver, emphasizing the attributes by which he had risen from humble beginnings to his present eminent position.

pledged to carry out the recommendations of the reparations experts.

Although the Nationalists and Communists are making decisive gains, their present average does not indicate a menace to the middle parties in connection with further returns.

The candidates of the Hitler-Ludendorff party are falling behind predictions.

Many Old Ministers Returned

All the parties returned their veterans. The Socialists reelected Dr. Rodolf Hilferding, former minister of finance; Wilhelm Sollman, former minister of the interior; Arthur Crispien, Edouard Bernstein; Paul Loebe, president of the reichstag; Dr. Rodolph Britscheid; Frederick Stampfer, editor of Voerwaerts; Otto Wells and Wilhelm Dittman.

Dr. B. Bernburg, Dr. Eugene Schieffer, Erich Koch and Dr. Karl von Siemens, industrialist, were elected on the Democratic ticket. The Nationalists returned Oskar Hergt, Count von Kestarp and a majority of its former delegation, as did the Clericals, among the latter being Dr. J. Bell, Dr. Peter Spahn, Joahnn Giesberts and Adam Ste. Gerwald, the former Prussian premier.

Hitlerites There

Reinhold Wulle, Albrecht von Graefe and Maj. Wilhelm Henning, who deserted the Nationalists a year ago and organized what is now the Hitler-Ludendorff party, were reelected, as were also Herr Remmele, Herr Koenin, Clara Zetkin and Herr Hcellein, Communists.

The new reichstag will in all probability contain two parties wedged in between the Socialists and the Communists, these being the Socialist league, headed by George Le Debour, and the Independent Socialists, headed by Theodore Leibknecht, brother of Karl Liebknecht, who was assassinated in the 1919 revolution.

"Black-Jack" Kunze

BERLIN, May 4. — "Black-Jack" Richard Kunze, head of the new German Social party, threatens to become one of the most militant figures in the new reichstag, not only because this sobriquet was earned through his habit of black-jacking his political opponents who interfered with his meetings, but also because he is making the campaign on an ultra-radical platform, whose chief planks consist of anti-Semitism, a demand for the redistribution of agricultural lands, and closer surveillance of banks and banking methods.

General Ludendorff continues to make positive denial of the report that he will not decline a reichstag mandate, in the event he is elected, and there is a strong belief that he will ultimately decline active public participation in party politics, as even his closest friends realize that he would not only constitute a permanent menace to his party, and the reichstag proceedings in general, but that he would also be taking a great personal risk in venturing into the open as a deputy for so pronounced an anti-republican organization as the Hitler-Ludendorff Ultra-Nationalistic party.

Tirpitz Will Be Prominent

Admiral von Tirpitz, former minister of the navy, who was responsible for the ruthless submarine warfare in the Great War, and the young Prince Otto von Bismarck, will be prominent newcomers among the German Nationalists. Von Tirpitz, in accepting the nomination, announced that he would reserve judgment on his party's extreme policies, and permit himself to be actuated only by patriotic motives.

Count Hugo von Lerchenfeld, who enters the new reichstag as a member of the Bavarian People's party, is generally considered possessed of liberal leanings, despite the fact that his party was suspected of having taken a pronounced orientation to the right, which has brought about a rupture with the Clerical party of Marx and Stresemann. Other new deputies include Dr. Albert Heinrich Schnee, former governor of German East Africa, and a well-known colonial enthusiast. Schnee was elected as a candidate of the People's party.

Seven Ex-Chancellors Elected

The following former chancellors were reelected today: Philip Scheidermann, Hermann Mueller and Gustave Bauer, Socialists; Constantine Fehrenbach, Joseph Wirth and Wilhelm Marx, Clericals; Gustave Stresemann, People's party.

Other members of the present cabinet relected are: Rudolph Oeser, transportation; Edward Hamm, economies; Dr. Otto Gesler, defence—on the Democratic ticket; Dr. Hans Luther, finance—on the People's party ticket; Heinrich Brauns, Labor, and Dr. Anton Hoefle, occupied territories and posts—on the Clerical ticket.

BAPTIST PASTOR HANDS IN HIS RESIGNATION

Rev. Mr. Tyner Has Served Three Years; Church Asks Him to Reconsider

After a pastorate of three years with the Nelson Baptist church, Rev. J. E. Tyner placed his resignation in the hands of the board of deacons at the end of the week, and the deacons in turn placed it before the membership of the church at a congregational meeting held in the church auditorium following the regular service yesterday morning. The pastor was not present at the congregational meeting.

In his letter to the board of deacons the pastor intimated that his decision had not been reached lightly and that it would not be revoked. He stated he desired to take a holiday, before deciding his future plans.

Discussion following the startling news of the pastor's resignation was entirely along the line that everything possible ought to be done to induce him to change his mind. Both deacons and members were inclined to find fault with themselves for being slackers, or at any rate not lending the pastor more faithful support, and every speaker testified to Mr. Tyner's qualities and devotion, both in the pulpit and in the other duties of the pastorate.

It was decided to unanimously ask the beloved pastor to reconsider his resignation, and the task of conveying this resolution to Mr. Tyner was delegated to Dr. N. Wolverton, the senior deacon.

Mr. Tyner moved here three years ago from Vermillion, Alta., after a lifetime in the Baptist ministry between eastern and western Canada.

WEDNESDAY IS CLEAN-UP DAY

Mayor Proclaims Half Holiday as Arbor Day; Scavenger Service Free

By the proclamation of Mayor L. H. Choquette, Wednesday has been set aside as Arbor day, a day for clean-up. The mayor and city council wish a city beautiful and clean, and every citizen will be asked to clean up his yard and street fronting his property.

The day will be a half holiday and in order to facilitate matters the scavenger will take any unburnable refuse from houses having the regular scavenger service free of charge. Removal of rubbish from other portions of the city will be at the regular rate.

All are urged to get out their rakes and shovels and help make the city a cleaner, healthier and more beautiful place in which to reside.

APRIL WAS SUNNY MONTH; DAYS WARM

During the month of April, Nelson enjoyed 167 hours and 24 minutes of bright sunshine, according to data supplied by J. S. Goulding, weather man for the city. The above total was, however, 58 hours and 36 minutes less than enjoyed for the same month last year, when a total of 225 hours and six minutes of sunshine was enjoyed.

Precipitation for the month was .96 of an inch less than average, and was made up of .27 of an inch of rain and 3.9 inches of snow for a total precipitation of .66 of an inch. Rain fell on five days of the month, snow on three, and hail on one day.

The greatest maximum temperature was 71.2 degrees on April 27, while the lowest was 22.8 degrees on April 24. The mean temperature was 23 degrees.

When it crashed to the rocks below, Leach's jaw and his two kneecaps were fractured.

He believes that the lighter rubber "ball," which he is to try this time, will be carried clear of this dangerous backsweep, and will instead be carried by the forward current to safety.

The Tiger Woman

By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR

Copyright, 1924, by Public Ledger Company.

Rita Ward, an adventuress type of woman, succeeds in ensnaring Andy Hildreth. Babbie, Andy's wife, makes the mistake of allowing her baby to absorb her, and when she discovers that she must fight to hold her husband Rita has him firmly in her clutches. Babbie tries flirting with other men, among them Howard Long, who has once been in love with Rita. When Howard learns the truth of the situation he is determined to help Babbie, and he goes to Rita. Andy arrives at Rita's apartment while Howard is there, and suspicion is aroused in his heart. However, he feels that it is too late to do anything about it.

CHAPTER L.

Howard's Plan

HOWARD went directly from Rita's apartment to a telephone booth, where he rang up Babbie. A few minutes later he emerged into the street, caught a passing taxi, and at 7:10 o'clock was on an accommodation train bound for Lakeshore. A hasty plan was forming in his mind, a rather desperate plan, but one that he felt might work if it were carried out immediately. By the time the train pulled into the Lakeshore station he had thought everything out. It remained to convince Babbie, and to do that would be no easy matter. He must be careful not to frighten her. It would never do to let her suspect the nature of the scene that had just taken place in Rita's apartment. Babbie was proud. If she knew the attitude Andy had taken, she would be convinced that he cared for Rita and she would refuse to make any move.

Howard, himself, was convinced that Andy did not love Rita. There was no gainsaying the fact that he was infatuated. Didn't Howard know, when he himself had gone through it all? And yet love, love was different. There was something more to love than passion even though there could be no love between a man and a womon without it. Babbie was the kind of woman men loved and never stopped loving. For behind the adorable loveliness of her, there was something more, something starry, remote. He could have loved Babbie, too, if things had been different. Not perhaps as he had loved Rita, but with a stronger, steadier flame, a flame that would burn always.

He was still thinking of these things when he ran up the porch steps and a moment later when he and Babbie stood alone together in the shaded light of the living room, he looked at her so long and so steadily that her wide blue eyes wavered, and a little flush crept up to the very roots of her hair.

"You have something to tell me?" she asked a little tremulously.

The question and the implication of something behind it roused Howard and he suddenly remembered his plan. He began to speak in short, crisp sentences, and Babbie listened, her eyes very wide, her cheeks burning, and her breath coming hard and fast.

"You've carried things through this far," Howard was saying, "and now you must carry on to the end. You want your husband back, don't you? You love him?"

"I want him if he wants me," Babbie returned suddenly.

"But suppose he doesn't know he wants you?" Howard persisted. "Suppose because he's temporarily infatuated he doesn't know his own mind? Are you going to let Rita Ward take him away from you? Are you going to let him wake up finally to the realization that he has made the most terrible mistake of his life?"

Babbie gasped. "No! oh, no!"

"Well, then, listen. You must let him believe you have gone away never to return. He will think, of course, that you have gone with me although you needn't say that in the note you leave for him. Have you any woman friend you can trust, any one who will take you in for a day or so? Think, dear, and trust me. I want you to be happy."

"Oh, but it's so final. It seems like taking such an awful chance. Suppose he shouldn't care. Suppose when he finds my note, he should be glad that I have gone away and made things easier for him. I'm afraid, Howard! I'm a coward, I know, but while I am near Andy things aren't so hard for me to bear. Away from him entirely, not knowing what was happening, imagining the worst, I don't think I could bear it. I'd go mad, I'm sure I should go mad!"

TRINITY CHURCH RAISES NEARLY SIX THOUSAND

Ladies' Aid Contributes a Third of the Total Amount

CONGREGATION HEARS REPORTS

Elects Seven Society Representatives to the Official Board

The sum of $5762 was raised by the Trinity Methodist church during the just ended church year, it was reported at the final meeting of the old official board Saturday night, and to the congregation yesterday morning.

The statistical report, read to the congregation, showed that this was made up of the sum raised for mission purposes and connexional funds, $1143; for trustee board purposes, $1931; by Sunday school, $246; by young people's societies, $194; by ladies' aid, $2044; by the Men's Brotherhood, $104.

The membership of the church, it was reported, was 295, with a net increase of 9. The men's society numbered 30, the ladies' aid 78, the women's missionary society 48, officers and teachers in the Sunday school 27, and the scholars 184, and the four young people's societies totalled 135.

Mr. Wright reported for the young people, and L. O. Campbell presented the report of the Sunday school, Mrs. J. Patterson that of the ladies' aid, J. S. Wilkinson that of the Men's Brotherhood, and Mrs. F. Oakley that of the women's missionary society.

The congregation elected seven society representatives to the official board, these being Mrs. Fleury, Miss E. Hanna, H. Amas, Ross Fleming, F. L. Irwin, A. G. Lambert and James Weir. The heads of the various societies of the church are also entitled to sit on the board, which holds its first meeting as newly constitute Tuesday evening.

This marks the first year's service of Mr. Wright with Trinity.

Two business sections of Winnipeg will be served with heat this year from the municipal central steam heating plant, installation of which was authorized by the city ratepayers at the last civic elections.

Canvass for Membership in Nelson Amateur Association Starts Tomorrow

Tomorrow morning the drive for memberships in the Nelson Amateur Athletic association will start in the city by the various teams of the Nelson Gyro club, which has organized a city-wide campaign to include every citizen. The memberships in the organization will cost $1, and every citizen who believes in clean amateur sport will be asked to join the organization.

The old system for sport in the city has been a donation from the merchants, and has in the past proved burdensome to the Baker street merchants in particular. In the drive which commences tomorrow a ticket for $1 will be disposed of, and no one person will be asked to contribute more. Trail has already had such an organization for some two or three years, and now boasts a membership of over 1000. Over 800 memberships were secured in Trail during the first year.

Since the amateur athletic association has started as a body in the city practically all the sports have lined up behind it.

Track and Field Made Money

The track and field devotees have lined up, and under the organization staged the first indoor meet ever held in Nelson. Trail had beaten Nelson three times, but at the last indoor meet held here Nelson won back its laurels, taking the school events and breaking even in the open events. The meet was a success financially and netted the association $85.30.

The hockey season of the past winter was carried on by the amateur athletic association, and not one person in the city was asked for a cent to finance hockey. A surplus was, however, made, even though the weather was not as usual for the winter pastime. In addition to a handsome cash surplus, the association concluded the season with equipment on hand worth more than $100, which can again be used this coming season.

Since the hockey season, the footballers of the city have joined up and have received an allotment of $400 for the expenses of the year. The club has been asked to make this much money during the season.

Has No Debts

At present the association has no debts, every bill having been paid off, and at present it has on hand $202.98. With every citizen a member, the future for sport in the city is assured, and it is expected that within a year or so the association will be on the same high level as the Trail association. To assist with this organization the ladies of the Nelson Women's institute, realizing the value of good clean sport, have supported the organization with a donation of $35.

The Gyro teams will be on the job tomorrow, and are expecting a generous response. No one will be asked for more than $1.

Put Up Your Dollar to Boost Amateur Sport

The Nelson Amateur Athletic association has adopted a sound and businesslike method of financing and conducting sports in the city.

The plan which is being operated here is the same as that which has proved so successful in Trail.

Membership tickets at $1 each are sold to citizens who believe in supporting clean amateur sport.

It is expected in the drive which is to commence tomorrow and which is to be carried out by the Gyros that 500 of these tickets will be sold. The sum realized will be sufficient to finance summer sports.

Under this plan equipment is looked after so that it can be used year after year, and other economies are insured. Supporters of sport are not being continually pestered for subscriptions to this, that or the other team, and the good name of sporting organizations is preserved because all bills are promptly paid.

Already the association has done a great deal to assist amateur sport in Nelson and to conduct it in a businesslike way. It will accomplish still more during the coming summer if it gets the support which it deserves.

When the canvassers call on you Tuesday, just give them $1 for a membership ticket. That is all the money they want from you.

How the War Affected National Wealth

The aggregate prewar wealth of the twenty-odd nations actively engaged in the Great War, according to an estimate just completed amounted to $630,000,000. The wealth of these same nations today is estimated to be about $619,000,000,000. The prewar wealth of the British Empire—that is, of Great Britain, the dominion, India and the crown colonies—was approximately $140,000,000,000, while today the wealth of this same group of nations is estimated to be around $149,000,000,000. The wealth of France before the war is placed at just under $60,000,000,000, and is estimated to be approximately the same day. The prewar wealth of the United States is placed at $200,000,000,000, and the wealth today at $230,000,000,000, while the prewar wealth of Germany is estimated to have been upwards of $80,000,000,000, and today to be about $55,000,000,000. These figures are all on the gold prewar basis of values, having been adjusted for inflation.

The per capita wealth of Great Britain today is placed at $1489, and of the different nations composing the British Empire at $418, including the wealth and population of India, or $1046 excluding the wealth and population of India. The wealth of France is estimated in 1913 dollars to be $1484 per capita, and of the United States $2090 per capita. The wealth of Germany is placed at $901 per capita. The total wealth of the former belligerents has not materially changed as a result of the war, but that there has been a marked redistribution of such wealth, this redistribution having taken place not only as between nations but also as between the peoples within the boundaries of each nation.

Baked Tomatoes Mexican Style—Butter a baking dish and put in the bottom a generous layer of uncooked tomatoes cut into pieces about an inch square and seasoned with salt and pepper. Next add a layer of peeled, sliced onions which you have cooked for about 20 minutes (or cooked enough to soften them slightly). Now add another tomato layer, another onion layer, dotting with bits of butter between each layer, and finish with tomatoes topped with buttered crumbs. Slip the dish into a moderate oven to bake for about 35 minutes—possibly a little longer. When the onions and tomatoes are tender and the crumbs brown, the dish is done.

Nut Bread—Mix together two cups of graham flour, two cups of white bread flour, one teaspoon of salt, one cup of sugar and four teaspoons of baking powder. Into this dry mixture stir two well-beaten eggs mixed with two cups of sweet milk. Also add one cup of stoned and chopped dates, and one cup of seeded raisins. Mix well together, then pack into six baking powder cans, taking care not to fill these cans more than one-half full, as the bread will rise in them. Tie on tight-fitting covers and stand the cans in boiling water in a large pot. Let the water continue to boil around the cans for three hours, not reaching quite up to can tops. It may be necessary to weight down the cans.

Potato Chips—Pare white potatoes and cut them into thin slices. Dry the slices well in a folded cloth, then place a few at a time in a small wire basket and lower the basket into hot fat to cook through. (Test by tasting.) Drain the cooked chips, then plunge them (still in the basket) into another pot which contains still hotter fat (smoking hot) the crisp them. Drain on crumpled brown paper before serving.

Mock Angel Food—Beat two egg-whites to a stiff froth, then gradually beat into them one cup of granulated sugar, one-half teaspoon of vanilla extract and fold in one rounded cup of bread flour which has been sifted four times with three rounded teaspoons of baking powder. Last, add one cup of hot milk and turn the batter into a greased pan to bake for 45 minutes in a slow oven.

Tomorrow—Answered Letters.

There are five well-known girls of the city who are entered in the race for the honor of being the queen of the Chahko Mika celebration in this city in July. They are Misses Beatrice Crother, Ida Frost, Dora Jordan, Muriel Mohr and Gladys Pascoe. Miss Edna Malone is already chosen queen of the rose festival during Chahko Mika week.

Silk alpaca continues to remain one of the outstanding novelties in spring materials. It is not so soft as the crepe silks, it is not so "dressy," but for that very reason silk alpaca has made a place for itself. It possesses some of the qualities of crepe silks, being cool and lightweight, and it also has advantages which the crepes lack—notably, it sheds dust and is non-crushable, all of which makes silk alpaca a splendid material for an all-around spring frock, a frock ideal for train or steamer travel, as well as for street wear.

One of the smart dresses of the season which adopts silk alpaca is illustrated in the sketch. It is created by Miller Soeurs, and shows the possibilities of the material. The collar, cuffs and jabot are of white organdie.

Automobile Gas Poisoning

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright act.)

You read frequently in the papers of some motorist who was picked up unconscious in his garage, simply because he allowed his motor to run for a few minutes with the doors of the garage closed.

Frequently these motorists have been found lying on the floor near the exhaust.

What's the trouble?

It is due to poisoning by the exhaust gas from the engine.

The trouble with this form of poisoning is that it comes so quickly and without symptoms

You may be working around your car, feel just a little sick at the stomach, but nothing more.

Sometimes there is a sort of dizziness and headache also.

This headache is of the "pounding" type over the entire head and particularly about the temples.

The limbs lose their power, and you are apt to fall down, and being unable to get to the door, unconsciousness ensues, and if not dscovered in time death follows.

Now, these cases of automobile gas poisoning are more frequent than is generally thought.

However, what I have in mind is that many motorists suffer from light attacks of gas poisoning and are not really aware of what is wrong. Perhaps you work about your car a great deal testing the engine, changing the adjustment on the carburetor and so forth. The garage door is closed or partly closed. You get a slight amount of poisoning in this manner.

Further, you go out on a crowded highway and get behind a truck which is occupying the center of the road. Perhaps a half dozen cars are between you and the truck.

The exhaust gas from the truck and from the other half dozen cars comes in through your windshield or windows and you are thereby poisoned. The result if you get much of it, and often, is to thin your blood, and give you a tiredout feeling.

You wonder why you get no refreshment from your automobile ride. The number of automobile mechanics who say they feel half sick all the time is increasing greatly. Many garages doing extensive repair work are introducing ventilating systems, and other devices, to prevent this condition amongst their employees.

There is only one cure—Real fresh air.

ADVERTISING IN PROGRAMS PANNED

Calgary Board of Trade Circularizes Merchants of the Wheat City

CALGARY, Alta., May 4.—Strongly urging that all business men of this city unite in an effort to eliminate advertising schemes which are little more than donations, the special advertising committee of the board of trade has sent a circular letter, headlined "Bleeding the Merchants," to all members, asking that canvassers for advertising in program, souvenir books, year books, and similar forms, be required to show a letter of approval from the advertising committee of the board.

The matter was presented to the council of the board Wednesday. According to the circular letter, what are really donations are being obtained from business and professional men under the guise of purchasing advertising space in special programs, year books, souvenir numbers, and similar forms of advertising. The committee also states that it is generally realized these have practically no advertising value.

As an example of the activity in this line, the circular says that in a recent local program only 10 per cent was used for reading matter, the balance being taken up with advertisements. "More than half of the books printed were never distributed," the statement continues. "We are informed that approximately $1000 was netted from the advertisements in this program. Doubtless others will now try the same easy method of securing funds.

"Business and professional men complain that they are 'held up' in this way because their competitors in business yield to the demands for such advertising. On the other hand, we know merchants who refuse all such demands and who do not lose anything thereby, because they make it clear that it is a policy they adhere to, and that everyone is treated alike.

"Worthy objects are entitled to public support, but we submit that it would be better to give the money as a straight donation and cut out all the pretense of getting something in return, and the expense and was involved in the printing of what n body reads."

EVANGELIST HAS FIRST SERVICES

Singing and Music Excellent; Preaches Salvation of the Soul

Two services, the initial services of a three weeks' campaign, were held yesterday in the opera house under the direction of Rev. Everett B. Parrott of the First Baptist church of St. Eugene, Ore. The services yesterday were well attended, and the pastor stated to his hearers that before the campaign was over there would not be standing room left in the opera house.

The services are conducted along the old lines of salvation of the soul. Divine healing has also been practiced by the pastor, but yesterday at the initial services only the gospel message was given by the pastor.

He was assisted by his wife, who led in the singing, and by Miss Gulliford, a most able pianist, who has worked with Dr. Price, the faith healer, in his campaigns.

One of the biggest arguments in favor of the divine healing for the body, stated the speaker, was seeing the accomplishments, brought about through the person giving his soul to Jesus. He told of cases of healing effected in places visited, and urged the listeners to draw closer to Christ, and then he would draw closer to them. Marvelous results were being obtained by ministers praying for the sick, and it was an indication that God was moving in a special way to bless his people.

POISON, ARSENIC; THEN CLUE ENDS

Deaths of Mitchener Children Will Go Down as Unsolved Mystery

ARCOLA, Sask., May 4—The deaths of Robert and Catherine Mitchner seems likely to go down in the list of unsolved mysteries. Today a coroner's jury sifted the testimony of 11 witnesses dealing with the skein of events surrounding the deaths of the children April 21 and 22, respectively, following an attack by arsenic poison after the morning meal on the Saturday preceding, without success, and an open verdict was returned. It read:

"We find that Robert and Catherine Mitchner came to their deaths from arsenic poisoning contained in food, but from what source it came, or by what means it entered the food, cannot be determined."

The uncovering of the mystery poison as arsenic was the oly development in the case, as the result of today's hearing.

Flour Decline Did Not Cheapen Bread

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The big 1922 slump in wheat prices brought less than a 2 per cent decrease in the price of bread, the federal trade commission declared today in a report on its investigation of the wheat flour milling industry.

From January, 1919, to September, 1922, the price of flour in the northwest decreased 33 per cent and in the southwest 43 per cent, the report said.

Markets and Finance

STOCK MARKET IS VERY DULL

Irregular Opening Is Followed by a Strong Tone

NEW YORK, May 4.—Extreme dullness characterized yesterday's brief session of the stock market. Prices were irregular at the opening, but strengthened later in response to bullish demonstrations in the shipping shares and a few specialties.

Standard industrials moved within extremely narrow limits. United States Steel common, Baldwin and Studebaker closed fractionally higher, while American Can was unchanged at 102¼. Colorado Fuel & Iron was the individual feature, climbing more than 3 points to a new 1924 high at 39¾. Marked strength also developed in Marine preferred, which touched a new top at 37¼, up 2¾. Other shippings improved in sympathy.

Uncertainty as to the form in which the tax bill will appear when passed has had a restraining effect on trading. Many brokers are of the belief that the passage of the tax bill is bound to result in a period of increased activity.

Kresge jumped 15 points on one transaction. Other strong points included American Car & Foundry, New York Air Brake, United States Realty, Railway Steel Spring and Atlantic Gulf & West Indies preferred, all up 1 point or more.

Failure of the leather industry to show any improvement in the first quarter was reflected in the weakness of Central Leather preferred. Poor earnings also were responsible for the weakness of Coca Cola.

Montreal List

MONTREAL, May 4.—Extreme dullness characterized trading on Saturday's stock exchange.

Other price changes: British Empire Steel first preferred, up 1; Canadian Cottons, up ½; Smelters, off ½; Spanish common, off ¾, and Steel of Canada preferred, off 3.

Closing prices: Abitibi, 56; Brazil, 51¾; Breweries, 49¾; Brompton, 35; Laurentide, 86½; British Empire Steel first preferred, 36; British Empire Steel second preferred, 9; Spanish preferred, no quote; Spanish common, 9¾; Smelters, 34; Montreal Power, 156; Quebec Power, 67; Steel of Canada, 72½; Textile, 56.

Toronto Board

TORONTO, May 4.—Scattered trading and a slight improvement in prices was noticed during Saturday's session of the stock exchange. Trading was light, and there were no issues that showed any special activity. Further improvement in Barcelona shares resulted from a continuance of the interest that London has been showing in the stock during the past few days. The first transactions were put through at 16, and the closing price was at 16½. Brazilian moved up to 51¼ in light trading.

Toronto Railway was ⅝ higher at 87 at the close. Twin City held barely steady at 54½, and the range at the close was 53¼ to 54.

SEEDING LATE ONE FORTNIGHT

But Conditions on Prairie, in Ontario and This Province Are Favorable

The Bank of Montreal crop report, of date May 1, says:

General—The season is from 10 days to two weeks late all over the Dominion except British Columbia. Alberta was well advanced last autumn, however, and seeding has been commenced under favorable conditions in the prairie provinces, Ontario and British Columbia. In the maritime provinces little work has been started to date, but this is largely offset by heavy autumn ploughing.

Prairie Provinces—Seeding generally will be later than last year. The seedbed throughout the prairie provinces is in excellent condition. Edmonton district: Operations in full swing and seeding general this week. Calgary district: Seeding about 10 days later than last year, but should be general in a few days. Lethbridge district: Seeding in south commenced under favorable conditions. Saskatoon district: Seeding commenced but not likely to be general for another week; much ploughing to be done; acreage estimated about same as last year. Regina district: Seeding was commenced in southeastern Saskatchewan but has been retarded by heavy snowfall; wheat acreage probably less than last year; in the western section seeding is fairly general with indications of an acreage approximately same as last year; soil conditions good. Winnipeg district: Operations begun early in April were stopped by snow storms followed by heavy rain; weather now favorable; seeding in south expected to begin in a few days and will be general in 10 days; acreage under crop will probably be about same as last year.

Quebec—Fall ploughing was well above average of the previous year on account of the mild and open autumn; spring ploughing not yet general; pastures wintered well, and weather this spring has been favorable.

Ontario—The season is about 10 days late owing to cold weather, but as much ploughing was done last autumn work is well advanced; seeding has commenced in most localities and is general on high land; moisture is adequate; fall wheat has wintered well and an average acreage is sown; pastures and hay meadows are late but promising; warmer weather is needed.

Maritime Provinces—The spring is late and practically no work has been started, but much ploughing was done in the autumn, which was mild and open; the snow is not yet all gone, but there is little frost; apparently there is sufficient moisture for the crops in general; apple trees have wintered well; an increased acreage of potatoes has been planted for New Brunswick.

Province of British Columbia—Spring opened early and work on the land is well advanced. No winter damage is reported; ploughing and seeding are about completed; fall grain is in satisfactory condition; growth generally has been retarded by cool weather and lack of rain but is latterly improved; potato plantings larger than usual; several districts report damage from recent frosts to fruit trees, principally early fruits; small fruits and hops wintered well; strawberry acreage reduced owing to poor returns last season; pastures are backward.

RHUBARB, LETTUCE SOLD AT MARKET

Rhubarb, lettuce, radishes and parsley were on sale at the public market Saturday, and went very quickly.

Butter sold at from 40 to 45 cents a pound, and fresh eggs were firm at 30 cents.

Of fresh meats there was beef and veal but practically no pork.

Both live Belgian hares for pets and dead ones for eating were on sale.

Only a couple of boxes of apples were on sale, and it is regarded as certain that they will not appear again until the late summer.

Money AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

A homeowner can increase the cash value of his home greatly by devoting a few spare hours to his property.

When a man owns his own home he naturally is interested in making it a better place to live. He wants it a little more homelike; so he spends part of his vacation and many odd moments each day at such "homey" tasks as repairing the doorstep, painting the house, trimming the trees or planting a bit of shrubbery.

By doing these things he not only builds a better home for his family but the resale value of the property is materially increased, which makes the property a better investment. An improvement that costs but $300 often adds $1000 to the value of a home.

Every man has a certain amount of spare time each day but few men will devote it to the improvement of the landlord's property.

HUDDERSFIELD LEADS CARDIFF; GOAL AVERAGE

Chelsea Steps Down With Middlesboro; Leeds and Bury Promoted

NELSON AND BRISTOL GO DOWN TO THIRD

Portsmouth Wins Southern Section; Rangers Head Scottish League

LONDON, May 4.—(By Canadian Press Cable)—Saturday was the playing of the last soccer league games in England this season. Though there were several opportunities for sensations there were no surprises of importance. The final positions of the clubs in the three English leagues were much as anticipated.

Huddersfield and Cardiff, in the first division, scored the same points, but by virtue of a slightly superior goal average the Yorkshire men scraped home with the championship.

Nott's Forts only escaped relegation from the major organization by the same narrow margin that sends Huddersfield to the top. It has the same points as Chelsea, who must now step down into the second division with Middlesbro.

Leeds' defeat by Nelson in the second branch does not affect its positio nas champions. Leeds is three clear points above Bury. The latter had a narrow escape from remaining with the junior division because, if Derby had scored five instead of four goals against Leicester it would have been runner-up.

Fulham Escapes Relegation

Fulham's victory yesterday over Stockport ends the anxiety which beset its supporters in the past few weeks as to whether it could remain in the second division. Nelson and Bristol must step down.

Wolverhampton only secured the blue ribbon of the northern section of the third division on goal average from Rochdale. Hartlepool and Barrow are the beggars of this branch and must ask for readmission to the league next season.

Portsmouth wins the southern section honors with four clear points over Plymouth. Bournemouth needed to win by a bigger margin today over Charlton A., and as it is, it is coupled with Queen's Park Rangers at the bottom, though it scored the same points at Watford, who, however, has the better average.

The Scottish league winners were Rangers in the first division, and St. Johnstone in the second.

AS BIG LEAGUERS PLAY IT

What is the batting cure for perpetually knocking high pop flies?

Answered by

JACK BENTLEY

Pitcher, New York Giants; known as a terrific slugger; purchased from Baltimore for approximately $65,000—and worth it.

This trouble is due to two causes: 1, The tendency to cup up at a ball; 2, the inability to judge the flight of the ball by the eye.

You should study carefully the way you hold your bat, and try to bring your arms straight forward to meet the ball. Do not swing your bat back and forth too much. Practice should help to overcome this weakness, too.

MECHANIC GETS THREE MONTHS FOR CAR THEFT

Rossland Man Lodged in the Nelson Provincial Jail Saturday

MADE WAY IN CAR TO COLVILLE

Passed Both Customs Officials at Paterson and Northport

For the theft of an automobile at Rossland, Lorne C. Frith, alias Joe Quinton, was sentenced to three months in jail by Police Magistrate R. E. Plewman of Rossland. The prisoner was brought to Nelson on Saturday morning by Chief of Police R. Timms of Trail and lodged in the Nelson provincial jail.

Frith was a mechanic employed by M. A. Henderson in his garage there, conducted in conjunction with his livery and transfer business. He had been allowed the use of cars belonging to the garage.

He was arrested early in the week at Colville, Wash., on information given by the customs authorities. Frith took a car from the garage and left Rossland after midnight. He did not report at the customs at Patterson, and R. West, the customs official at that point, who heard the car pass through without stopping, made an investigation, believing that bootleggers were at work. On communicating with Northport, it was found that the car had not reported at that point.

The tire marks were identically the same as those on the car operated by the customs men at Patterson, and happened to be the only other tread of its kind in use in Rossland. Mr. Henderson was communicated with, and it was found that his car was gone, although he was not aware of it.

Frith was apprehended at Colville, with the car in his possession, and was brought back to Rossland to answer to a charge of unlawfully taking a car without the consent of the owner.

YOUTH IS SHOT BY COMPANION ACCIDENTALLY

David Mosses Gets Gunshot Wound in Thigh; Is Patient in Hospital

GUN IN HANDS OF COMPANION FIRES

Finlay Welsh Was Loading Twenty-two When it Accidentally Discharged

David Mosses, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Mosses, 1020 Hall street, was removed to the Kootenay Lake General hospital on Saturday morning, suffering from a gun wound in his thigh. While hunting on Saturday morning with Findlay Welsh, a .22-caliber rifle accidentally discharged the bullet, which lodged in young Mosses' leg. He is progressing quite satisfactorily.

Young Mosses and Findlay Welsh had proceeded about one-quarter of a mile beyond the Mcuntain station on the Great Northern railway. They had a gun which the Welsh boy was carrying.

Spying a chipmunk making its way to a hole, young Mosses crouched down on his knees to keep his eyes on the chipmunk until young Welsh could load the gun.

Evidently the gun was loaded, as when Welsh went to insert a shell the gun discharged, and the bullet lodged in young Mosses' leg.

The two boys made their way to a house above the Mountain station, where they were met by J. Hopwood in a car. The injured lad was removed to the hospital and an X-ray taken of the injury.

AUTOISTS ARE INJURED IN SUNDAY SPILL

Mrs. John Lawson Sustains a Broken Rib; Boy's Jaw Is Fractured

STEARING GEAR BREAKS ON AUTO

Car Mounts Bank and Then Turns Over on Its Occupants

Mrs. John Lawson of Castlegar is a patient in the Kootenay Lake General hospital, as is the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Bjorgenson of Castlegar, the result of an automobile accident just above Bonnington at about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

An automobile containing Mr. and Mrs. Bjorgenson and family, as well as Mr. and Mrs. John Lawson and family, was proceeding from this city to Castlegar, and when rounding a curve near the Lee ranch, above Bonnington, the steering gear broke, the car proceeding at a good rate of speed mounting a bank on the side of the road. It went up with such force that it turned over on the occupants. Mrs. Lawson sustained a broken rib and severe bruises to her arm, while the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Bjorgenson suffered a fractured jaw. The steering wheel broke clean off the shaft.

J. O'Genski of this city, who passed shortly after the accident occurred, brought the injured parties to the city, where they were removed to the hospital, and treated by Dr. H. H. McKenzie.

LOYAL SCOTS PARADE TO ST. PAUL'S SERVICE

Clan McLeary and Daughters of Scotia Attend at Annual Worship

Clan McLeary No. 1 and Daughters of Scotia turned out in large numbers last night, and marched to St. Paul's Presbyterian church to the stirring strains of the Kootenay Kiltie band, under Bandmaster William McLeary, in their annual church parade.

Rev. F. R. G. Dredge preached an inspiring sermon on the text "The Lord reigneth. He is clothed with majesty," from the 93rd psalm.

He said the text was peculiarly applicable to the Scotch people, with their exceedingly noble traditions and history, and their emphasis on the attribute of majesty in God.

"No people, with the possible exception of the Jews, who wrote the psalm, have such a strong conception of the majesty of God," he said. "It is an attribute very largely forgotten today, but I think the Scotch people are right in emphasizing it."

Emphasize Majesty

It was because of their emphasis on this that the forefathers of the Scotch people made their church, the house of God, such a solemn place, and prohibited any joyfulness, even of the right type, in it, Mr. Dredge added.

For the same reason, he went on, admission to the church in the early days in Scotland was a very solemn matter, and not to be undertaken lightly.

He spoke of the old covenanters, who had been willing to die for their faith, of such Scottish women as Margaret McLaughlin and Margaret Wilson, who had been drowned because they refused to recant, and of a little band of children who had refused, under threat of death, to reveal their parents' hiding places.

The anthem sung by the choir was "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled," and J. Kerr sang beautifully "My Ain Country."

It was Harry Thaw's fourth trial, and a sort of sane fourth.

NELSON AMATEUR ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE STARTS TOMORROW

Annual Membership Tickets $1.00 Each

The Nelson Amateur Athletic Association was organized to finance, foster and encourage clean sport in Nelson. Canvasses of the city for funds for the purpose of carrying on sports are cut down to one each year. This replaces the old system of a canvass for funds for each individual sport.

A strict accounting is kept of every cent received, and at the end of the year a financial statement is issued showing just what has been done with the money.

All expenditures by clubs affiliated with the Nelson Amateur Athletic Association are made through the Association. THEREFORE PAYMENT OF THOSE ACCOUNTS IS GUARANTEED.

You are proud when the youngsters take part in athletics. Help to put the Association on its feet so that those athletics may be properly financed.

Put Nelson's sport on the same sound basis as other cities.

Get YOUR Membership Ticket. It Will Only Cost You $1.00
