FERNIE MAN WHIRLED BY SHAFT TO DEATH

LOST PIANIST WITH FRIENDS POLICE LEARN

Brilliant Woman Musician Had Nervous Breakdown From Overwork

DOESN'T REMEMBER HOW IT HAPPENED

Her Mind a Blank From the Time Her Secretary Left Her

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Ethel Leginska, Polish pianist, who vanished last Monday night, has been found outside New York City in the care of friends, the police announced today.

Her whereabouts were not revealed. Her disappearance is said to have been caused by a nervous breakdown due to overwork.

In announcing the finding of Miss Leginska, Capt. J. Ayes of the bureau of missing persons here, issued the following:

Located by Police

"Ethel Leginska was located Saturday at a place outside New York City, where she is staying with friends. Her disappearance appeared to have been the direct result of a nervous breakdown caused by overwork.

"Her location was brought about through the work of the bureau of missing persons.

"Miss Leginska remembers nothing from the time she left her secretary, Miss Lucille Oliver, until she was located.

"On request of Miss Leginska, the location of her friends is withheld, so that she will not be bothered by representatives of the press. Her friends also asked that no further statement be made by the police.

"So far as this bureau is concerned, the case is closed."

Miss Oliver is a close friend of the pianist, and it was she who reported first the disappearance to the police.

Disappeared as Taxi Was Called

Miss Oliver's story is that she and Miss Leginska started from their apartment to Carnegie hall, where Miss Leginska was to give a recital, and that while Miss Oliver went to get a taxi cab Miss Leginska disappeared.

At first the incident was regarded somewhat dubiously and as a possible publicity "stunt." It was recalled that Miss Leginska had disappeared in much the same manner 15 years ago in London. But when the pianist's absence lengthened into days, the police search became more energetic, and resulted in the discovery of the missing artist.

Miss Leginska is generally conceded to be in the first rank of musicians. She is one of the few women who have successfully conducted orchestras.

GREEKS ANGRY AT TURKS OVER EX-PATRIARCH

Demand Satisfaction for Prelate's Expulsion From Turkey

ATHENS ARCHBISHOP APPEALS TO WORLD

Saloniki Gives a Great Welcome to Exiled Constantinos

ATHENS, Feb. 1.—The tide of public indignation is rapidly rising throughout the country, and everywhere associations and public bodies of all kinds—religious and lay—are passing resolutions of protest, assuring the Greek government of the support of the entire nation in demanding satisfaction for the expulsion of the Greek patriarch from Turkey by the Turkish government.

Whether the Greek representative at Angora will be recalled depends upon Turkey's reply to the Greek note.

An appeal to the churches of America and Europe to protest against the expulsion of Patriarch Constantinos, and to demand his reinstatement, is made by the archbishop of Athens, in a message which he had sent to the heads of all Christian churches in Great Britain and the United States and other countries.

Appeal to Christiandom

"The Turks' hostility toward the Christians, which has manifested itself in many acts of indescribable brutality," says the appeal, "has led them to expel Patriarch Constantinos from his see.

"Just as a hundred years ago they hanged Patriarch Gregorius V, so today, before the eyes of the civilized world, and in defiance of international treaties, they have expelled Constantinos VI, with the object of abolishing the patriarchate, which for centuries has been the center of Christianity and civilization through which Europe was regenerated."

Impressive Reception

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The Most Rev. Constantinos, ecumenical patriarch of the Greek Catholic church, who was expelled from Constantinople, was given an impressive reception when he arrived in Saloniki, Greece, tonight, says a dispatch to the Exchange telegraph.

The authorities of Saloniki, the leaders of the Greek Catholics, and the Jews, and an immense crowd of the populace, were present. Numerous cries for vengeance against the Turks were raised.

The patriarch will reside on Mount Athos, the famous "holy mountain," 80 miles southwest of Saloniki.

May Mean Allied Action

LONDON, Feb. 1.—As officially viewed at London, the expulsion of the Greek patriarch by the Turkish government may eventually demand some kind of action by the allied governments. The disposition for the time being, however, is to watch developments.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 1.—One woman was killed and 22 persons injured, none believed fatally, when train No. 104, of the Frisco railroad, was derailed three miles northwest of Winfield, Ala., early today.

The wreck was caused by a broken rail. A baggage car, two day coaches, and two pullmans went down an 11 foot bank, into the shallow Luxakalila creek. The all-steel epuipment of the train, according to officials of the railroad, prevented heavy loss of life.

Mrs. Elizabeth Northcutt, Levington, Okla., was killed; Miss Sarah McFall, of Adamville, Ala., and Charles Bernard, news agent, of Memphis, were seriously inured.

The passengers and a number of the injuder arrived here late today, on a relief train.

DRINKS COFFEE WHILE BOULDER IMPRISONS HIM

Man Held Prisoner in Crevice of Sand Cave in Kentucky

FRIENDS CHISEL TO RELEASE HIS FOOT

He Has Been There Since Friday; Release Not Yet in Sight

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 1.—Imprisoned in a tiny crevice 300 feet from the entrance of Sand cave for more than 60 hours, Floyd Collins, aged 35, alternately cheerful and downcast, tonight directed the work of rescuers who pecked away with chisels at a huge boulder that fell upon his foot Friday morning, while he was exploring a new passage in the cave.

Begged to Be Pulled Out

As the hours grew longer and longer, he begged the workers to tie a rope around his body and pull him out, even if it pulled off his foot.

The last rescuing party to come out tonight said he was cheerful, and expressed the belief that he would be rescued soon—a belief not held by those outside.

Squirm Through Entry With Food

All day long workers using chisels chipped small pieces of flint from the boulders, while others squirmed through the long passage, taking food and coffee to the imprisoned man.

Later the experiment of heating the rock in an effort to break it faster was tried, but this, too, proved slow work. Nothing apparently could be done to speed up the work.

The youngster died four hours later.

Actress Pinch-Hitter Pours Caustic Acid on Her Lovely Legs

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 1.—Lotus Thompson's job in the movies starred her shapely legs which directors employed for "pinch-hitting" in scenes otherwise likely to be saddened by the unlovely limbs of the leading woman. This gained her livelihood, but it wounded her pride as an aspirant to dramatic success, and today, unable to endure the situation longer, she emptied a bottle of caustic acid on the legs she thought blocked her path to real acting.

LABOR WANTS NEW FEDERAL LEMIEUX ACT

Trades Congress Delegation Urges a Constitutional Amendment

PROVINCIAL ACTS NOT SATISFACTORY

Legislative Program Is Put Before Cabinet, Taking Many Hours

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Organized labor in Canada desires the reenactment of legislation similar to the Industrial Disputes act, the Lemieux act which was recently declared unconstitutional by the privy council in London. This was made clear to the federal government by the delegation from the trades and labor congress, which yesterday waited on the cabinet to present its legislative proposals.

Wished Broader Act

The congress intended to ask certain amendments to the act this session with a view to securing wider use of the act, more equitable application of its provisions as between emlover and employee, and eliminating from the act of declarations which might indirectly lead to the inciting of strikes or lockouts after decisions have been rendered by a board of arbitration.

But on the whole, labor finds the Lemieux act desirable, and thinks provincial legislation would be unsatisfactory for the purpose, as not leading to uniformity.

Steps should be taken, the congress urges, to secure the necessary powers to enable the federal government to reenact the legislation. If an amendment to the British North America act is contemplated, labor will cooperate with the government in preparing it.

Premier Favors Program

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—The legislative program of organized labor in Canada was presented to the federal government yesterday, in an interview between the cabinet, and a delegation representing the trades and labor congress, which occupied several hours, and involved nearly ascore of speeches.

At the close of the interview, Premier King assured the delegation that the government would carry out the proposals made wherever it could possibly do so.

President Tom Moore, of the trades and labor congress, expressed the hope that during the coming session there would be such results as would show how effective the arguments of the delegation had been.

ASK PRIORITY OF TAX LIENS BE ABOLISHED

Montreal Delegation Asks Dominion to Cancel Its Preference

OTTAWA, Feb. 1. — Premier Mackenzie King and members of his cabinet were strongly urged yesterday afternoon to repeal the provisions of the special War Revenue act, which gives to the government a prior lien for unpaid sales tax over securities in the hands of third parties, and also the lien powers of priority in favor of the crown under the Income War Tax act.

Representations were made by H. B. Mackenzie of the Montreal board of trade on behalf of a delegation representing bond dealers, banks, boards of trade, loan and mortgage associations, builders' associations, National Association of Real Estate boards, the Canadian Manufacturers' association, and the legal profession.

Injures Small Borrowers

The prior liens for unpaid government sales and income taxes, it was argued, weighed heavily against small borrowers, whose security and credit were limited, and were a hardship to the small merchant in temporary trouble, whose creditors might be willing to help him but for the existence of this prior lien.

Limited opportunity for obtaining capital in the world's markets also resulted.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe remarked that he had received protests of this nature, and had intended to take the matter up in council.

The prime minster gave the assurance that the whole question would be looked into by a committee of the cabinet, which would report to the council for full consideration of the government.

TERRORISM AT HERRIN BRINGS NEW SHOOTING

Policeman Kills Man Who Claimed to Be Agent of Government

HERRIN, Feb. 1. — A man who represented himself as a government agent was shot dead early today in the Lymar hotel by Policeman Rufus Whitson while he was seeking to get in touch with Klan leaders and newspapermen. In the shooting, another policeman, Sim Stephens, was injured, but not seriously.

The man slain by Whitson had given his name as Joseph Phillips, also Johnson, and once said that he came from Springfield, Ill. He was accompanied by two men when he was slain, but they escaped. They were not recognized by the officers who were present.

Said to Be Terrorists

Phillips, when slain, wore a cap that belonged to Sheriff Galligan of Williamson county, and it was stated that he had called on the sheriff several times lately. Phillips and his companions were said to be terrorizing the hotel staff.

Sheriff Galligan, who had gone to the capital to confer with General Black about the need of troops, had said that Phillips had called several times, but did not divulge any particular business.

The shooting today came on the heels of the slaying of S. Glenn Young and Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas who shot each other to death in the lobby of the European hotel a few days ago. As soon as their funeral had been held, and a coroner's jury had returned a verdict that they shot each other, Sheriff Galligan requested that troops be returned to Herrin to prevent a serious outbreak.

Each Killed the Other

HERRIN, Ill., Feb. 1.—The coroner's jury investigating the shooting here last Saturday, found that S. Glenn Young, K.K.K. liquor raider, "came to his death from gunshot wounds at the hands of Ora Thomas."

Deputy Sheriff Thomas, the jury found, was killed by Young.

Ed Forbes and Homer Warren, the other two men slain, were killed by parties unknown to the jury.

BATTERED BODY OF ENGINEER IS FOUND BY WIFE

Frank Murray, Coal Chute Operator, Meets Death in Terrible Form

SHAFT MUST HAVE CAUGHT CLOTHING

Death Instantaneous, Says Coroner; an Inquest Thursday

FERNIE, B.C., Feb. 1.—Frank Murray, aged 54 years, employed as engineer at the Canadian Pacific Railway company's coal chute here, was accidentally killed while at his work some time yesterday afternoon or last evening.

Alone in the Chute

Murray was alone in the chute when the accident occurred, but it appears he had loaded the bins with coal, and had shut off the engine, then went to throw in the clutch to stop the hoist. In doing so his clothing had caught in the still spinning shaft, and before he could do anything to help himself, he was whirled around the shaft.

The accident was not discovered until shortly after the departure of the evening train at 8 o'clock. His wife, wondering why he had not come home to supper, sent her son, Alex, to see what was delaying him. The lad entered the chute, but finding all in darkness returned home to get a light.

Body Stripped of Clothing

On the second trip Mrs. Murray accompanied him. Entering the chute again, the boy lit a match, and discovered his father lying on the floor behind the engine, his clothing stripped from him, and his body terribly battered.

On making the gruesome discovery, Mrs. Murray sent her son for the police, who took charge of the body. Dr. Asselstine was summoned, and after examination, he declared that death must have been almost instantaneous.

Jury Views Scene

This afternoon Coroner Robert Duthie summoned a jury, and viewed the body at the undertaking parlors, and then proceeded to the coal chute, where the accident had occurred, and examined the machinery. An inquest will be held Thursday evening.

Murray was born in Buckingham, Que., and has resided in Fernie since 1908, coming here just shortly after the big fire which wiped out this city in that year. He is survived by his wife, one son, and two daughters.

TORONTO MEN ILL-MANNERED

So Affirms New Zealand Teacher After Returning to Antipodes

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—Toronto may be a city of churches, but the men of that city are the acme of ill manners, according to impressions gained by a New Zealand teacher, who has returned to that country after 12 months teaching in Toronto schools, under the inter-Dominion teacher exchange system.

Her views are given anonymously in a latter from Wellington, N.Z., published in the Toronto Star today.

"People in Toronto were very good to us," the New Zealand teacher declares, "but the men are the last thing in manners. New Zealand men are kings alongside them."

The teacher says that Toronto people are "frightfully narrow and jealous for their country."

RANGERS LOSE TO ACADEMICS, SCOT LEAGUE

"Invincible" Team Fails on Only Second Occasion This Season

EDINBURGH, Feb. 1.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Scottish league football Saturday wos spoiled by miserable weather. Grounds were in a deplorable shape, and added to the dulness of the day, it hampered play considerably.

The biggest sensation of the league was the defeat of the "invincible Rangers" at the hands of Hamilton Academicals. This counted the second game dropped by Rangers in a season and it put Rangers in a hazardous position, particularly in view of the fact that Airdrieonians won their game and now stand within a point of the leaders. The game played at Hamilton, and Rangers' downfall came from the only goal scored in the game.

Airdrieonians were able to run up a 2 to 1 score against Queens Park at Hampden park. Interest in this game was heightened by the fact that these two teams are drawn against each other for the second round of the Scottish cup next Saturday.

The ordering off of Smith, Ayr United's international forward, was the feature of the game between Ayr United and Partick Thistle. The former never looked like winners.

Aberdeen Beats Kilmarnock

Aberdeen had a notable victory over Kilmarnock on the latter's grounds. Pierie scored the only goal of the game.

In the first stanza of the tourney between Third Lanark and St. Mirren, the "soldiers" let by a goal scored by Blair. In the second frame, however, the Paisley men rallied and played splendid football.

Rankin and Devlin obtained the two tallies that sent Dundee down to defeat at Cowdenbeath Saturday.

Puddefoot, for Falkirk, and Jennings for Raith Rovers, registered the goals that marked the scoring in the drawn game between these teams.

St. Johnstone forced Heart of Midlothian to divide the points.

The game between Celtic and Hibernians was fairly even, honors being well divided. The draw represents the value of the contest.

SELL GOODS AND WAIT WORLD END

Thirty-five "Reformed" Adventists in Oakland Expect End Friday

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 1.—Some 35 members of the reformed Adventist church are disposing of all their worldly effects and are preparing to gather at the home of one of their leaders here on next Friday night to await the end of the world, as prophesied by their "supreme prophetess," Mrs. Margaret W. Rowen of Los Angeles.

The world will end at midnight on Friday, according to Mrs. Rowen. In the meantime the members of the band here are spending their nights in prayer and contemplation, under the direction of their leader, P. W. Province of Berkeley.

Money realized from the sale of the homes and effects of the members of the band is being used to spread the prophecy and other warnings that the end is near. According to Province, airplanes and radio have been called upon to broadcast word of the "end of time."

INTERMEDIATE FINALS TRAIL IF COAST WINS

If Okanagan Team Wins Over Kootenay-Boundary Teams Travel

SENIOR FINALS MAY YET BE AT COAST

East Kootenay Plays West Senior Winners on Friday Next

VANCOUVER, Feb. 1.—President L. C. Macken of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey association announced yesterday the dates for the intermediate finals for the provincial championship. They will be adhered to unless weather conditions decree otherwise.

The president has written Frank Patrick for terms for the Arena in the senior finals, and possibly the playoff with Alberta, which is scheduled to travel this year. No dates can be set, however, until this reply is received.

Under the present plans, the Vancouver champions will travel to Victoria to play Monday, February 16, returning here for a game on February 20, but in the event the Victoria rink has been closed, as has been rumored, before that time, the Vicotria champions would play both games here, Wednesday, February 18, and Friday, February 20.

Nothing has been definitely decided as to the senior finals.

Champs Declared Friday

Next Tuesday night is the practice hour of the Towers club, and the following Friday will see the finish of the intermediate schedule and a champion declared.

As conditions look at present, the East Kootenay will travel to the west end of the riding for games on February 9 and 12.

Greenwood looks like the winner of the series with Grand Forks. In that event Greenwood will entertain the winner of the East and West Kootenay on February 14 and 16, and on the same dates the winner in Vancouver will play the Okanagan champions, probably Enderby, who hold the title, at Enderby.

If the Okanagan wins against the coast, the winner of the Kootenay-Greenwood series will be brought to the Okanagan, but if the coast is victorious they will be sent on into the Kootenay, and the finals would probably be played at Trail on February 19 and 21.

PREMIER KING REFUSES DOLE DEPUTATIONS

First Turns Down Labor Congress; Then Ontario Chief Cities

SAYS UNEMPLOYMENT A PROVINCIAL MATTER

Only Relief Dominion Can Extend Is by Pushing Public Works

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Unemployment relief is a provincial responsibility, and the federal government is not authorized to spend money on that purpose except indirectly, through the construction of public works. This was the attitude taken by Premier King yesterday in answer to two separate delegations which waited on the cabinet to urge the nesessity for federal intervention in unemployment relief.

When the delegation from the trades and labor congress of Canada was presenting its annual legislative proposals to the cabinet, J. W. Bruce, representative of the Plumbers and Steamfitters' union, urged that unemployment had become a problem so big as to constitute a national emergency.

The prime minister pointed out that under the constitution of Canada, such matters as unemployment fell naturally within the jurisdiction of the provinces, just as the burden of war debt had fallen to the federal government. The latter was faced with the necessity of providing interest on the nation's war debt, none of which was the concern of the provinces.

Asks Levy on Capital

Mr. Bruce urged that the unemployment problem called for drastic remedy, and suggested a capital levy. "You've conscripted men, why not conscript wealth?" he demanded.

The unemployment question came up again later in the day when a delegation from Toronto, Hamilton and St. Catherines waited on the cabinet to ask federal assistance in those districts.

Alderman Miller, of Toronto, who headed the delegation, urged that the government should at least proceed with necessary public works in the Toronto district to provide employment.

Premier King said the federal government felt keenly the responsibility of refusing to allow grants from the treasury for unemployment relief. Everything would be done to expediate the construction of public works, and in this respect the government had already gone a long way. But certain restrictions had been under the British North America act.

"Whatever we do for Toronto, Hamilton and St. Catherines, we must do for every town in Canada alike, said the premier.

Dominion Has Other Problems

The federal government year after year was faced with the task of providing some $200,000,000 for interest on this war debt, besides another $80,000,000 for various war pensions. Then there were indigent Indians in every province, who must look to Ottawa for relief. The federal government was also "keeping a bankrupt railroad afloat," and thus providing a good deal of employment.

The premier deplored the tendency of workers to drift to the cities, and assured the delegation that if anything could be done to compel a better distribution of Canada's population in agricultural and mining areas, it woud be done.

At the close of the interview Alderman Miller asked it there was not some ray of hope to take back to Toronto with him.

Mr. King said that if he meant doles, the government certainly could not promise anything of the sort, but he reiterated his promise to do whatever he could to expediate public works in those districts to provide employment.

NORA LEE

Elenore Meherin's Greatest Story

Revealing the Heart and Soul of the 1924 Flapper

CHAPTER XXXIII

Platonic Friendships?

A tawny moon rose on a sea of purple fire. It swept the hills, cutting through the sky with flashing waves of red and gold. The trees raised lofty branches to the crimson tide, and the tide bore downward gently in gossamer veils of argent and pearl.

"The moon was just like this two years ago tonight."

"Two years ago? How do you know?"

Nora Lee smiled. "Don't you remember? How we dashed and the moon before us all the way?"

A wistful, tremulous note crept into her voice. Two years ago tonight their son was born. She remembered now that hasty, half-frantic ride and how she had watched the moon and wept a little, wondering if it were the last hour of color and life that ever would be hers; wondering if it were a son, as she hoped, or a daughter that awaited them.

"Ah," he said. "Well, thank the Lord, that night is done."

"Why? It was a wonderful time—perhaps the best we have had."

He was achingly aware of the pathos in her tones. He knew that she wanted him to say, "What's the matter, Norry? Why should you be sad?" But he shrank from arguments and explanations, feeling their dim futility.

In some manner, inexplicable to him, Nora Lee contrived to oppress him with a sense of guilt. He felt it bitterly unjust, but as she had never said anything he was without opportunity for self-defence.

It was three months since Max's dinner. Autumn had merged into a dry, balmy winter, and now already spring was stealing away the month of January.

The plans for Natalie's hotel and athletic club were nearing completion. With the first fine days the building would begin.

He had seen much of Natalie, inevitably. And tonight they were returning from a dinner at her home.

"Let us ride for a few moments, Dane."

"Where?"

"Up to the bluff—anywhere." Both felt a strain now and then when they were alone together. And both were pitifully unequal to breaking it.

Nora Lee thought: "I can't tell him she is in love with him. I'm afraid to do that. It might only incite him. If it didn't do this, it would infuriate him. He would think me vicious."

And Dane thought: "Am I not to speak to a woman who interests me? Am I criminal because I prefer Natalie as a dinner partner to some dumbell dead from the neck up?"

Now and then he was vaguely conscious of falseness in this self-righteous attitude. Now and then a fear that had in it a dangerous throb of exultation shot into his mind. This fear was dismissed almost before it was admitted. Yet the fear told him, "Be careful. Natalie Herbert loves you."

He could pooh-hoo this with the assurance, "Natalie is past 37. I'm not yet 31. She knows that I love my wife—that I wouldn't give up Nora Lee and the boy for a thousand women." And finally there was the clinching argument: Natalie was a wealthy and brilliant patron. Agitation on her account was worse than absurd.

They drove in silence until they reached a plateau at the end of a winding boulevard. Directly westward across the dark, shimmering ocean were the low black points of the Farallones.

Nora Lee gave a soft, questing laugh. "When we used to come here, Dane—remember—my last year in high school? I used to fancy that you and I would float off on some immortal cloud. We would love like that, always."

She turned misty eyes expectantly to his. And she longed for him to sweep fierce, tender arms about her—to say, "We do! We love like that! We always shall! Don't dare to think it could be otherwise."

She wanted some extravagant and flaming assurance that his heart and spirit all were hers. If he had given this, her pervading sadness would have melted. She would have met the days gladly again—her fear banished in a singing trust.

But sentiment made him vaguely uncomfortable, and he detected the subtle, regretful accusation in her mood. He said, with a trace of resentment, "You don't feel that way any more?"

"Oh! I'm not 17 now! Love is quite different in the dream and in the actuality, don't you think?"

"I don't know why it should be. It's all in the way you think about it."

"Of course—of course! We better go. Our son may awaken."

A dozen times she had tried ineffectually like this to win from him some ardent declaration—to bring him to the point where he would discuss his attitude. Each time the effort ended, as now, in mutual evasion.

Later she stood before her mirror, fascinated by the violet gloom of her eyes. The dark wine colored satin hung from her shoulders in long slim lines of grace.

A faintly ironic smile touched her lips. Six hours ago she had stood here, bright with elation. She found her image, as many women do, eternally captivating. She knew that it was lovely—she had great faith in the charm of this white, chiseled form of hers. She rejoiced to see it garmented in beauty.

And she spent hours and days and weeks in its service, ungrudgingly.

But tonight even this solace failed. For the fifth time Natalie Herbert appeared in the same gown—the black velvet cut with sheer, nun-like simplicity—only a feather of gold at the grille. And Natalie's appearance was exquisite—her face gleaming in its vivid pallor, haunting, winsome, sad.

Her very indifference gave her a quality of supremacy. Nora Lee, watching her, felt a sinking weight of defeat. Buy all the clothes on the earth, it would not equip her for competition with Natalie Herbert. Her scorning of change and of style made Nora Lee's devotion to it almost shameful—at the very least, made it appear petty and trivial.

"Unclasp the top hook, please," she murmured.

He did this slowly. "You look great in this color, Norry."

"Do I? I've spent more than I should on clothes lately."

"Well—you had to——"

"I wonder. Have you noticed that Natalie has worn the same thing each time we've seen her?"

"Oh—it's a belief of hers."

"A belief?"

He took the bit in his teeth, determined to talk about Natalie as he might about the janitress in the building. Stop all this nonsensical bluffing and hedging. What had he to hide?

"Yes," he remembered with a flash and then turned to her with a mocking grin: "Yes, Norry, old kid, she's against the tyranny of dress. She claims the same freedom as a man. She's adopted her own type of evening dress and she sticks to it in season and out. She says women will never be truly free until they climb out from under the terrible weight of their own vanities and their own bodies. Then they can strike loose from the material and turn their attention to mental and spiritual goals. . . . That's her theory. She's generations beyond the clothes worship stage. She's like a man in that——"

Nora Lee's heart was pounding in her throat—generations beyond the clothes-worshipping stage!

He added calmly, "It's a wonder you two haven't become better friends. I wonder why? Fundamentally, you have a lot in common."

She breathed harshly: "She's older than I, and richer by far. She's never made any overtures. It's not for me to take the initiative."

She lay awake with the bitterness passing from her lips to her heart. He wondered why they weren't friends. Natalie could tell him! She had too much delicacy to make a friend of the woman whose husband she coveted. Yes, coveted!

She buried her head deep in the pillow. She wished it was two years ago—wished that she were racked with incredible torment—wished that he might agonize anew for her.

She would enter any Gethsemane if only she were certain that he would walk at her side.

She tossed uneasily. Suddenly his arm went about her, clasped her hand. He was asleep, but he spoke:

"'Sall right, Norry; Nora darling—"

It touched on her heart like a seraph benediction.

EAST KOOTENAY STORES WATER IN GRAVES LAKE

Power Company Is Granted A Further Certificate of Approval

The British Columbia Gazette carries a notice of a further certificate of approval of an undertaking of the East Kootenay Power company relating to diversion, storage and use for power purposes of water from Elk river, a tributary of Kootenay river, in the Fernie water district, and the transmission of the power generated from such water.

It is stipulated that the construction of the works for the diversion, storage and use of the water shall be begun on or before March 31, 1925, and be finished to the satisfaction of the comptroller of water rights on or before December 31, 1925.

CLAIMS YOUTH HELPED SELF TO HIS BOOZE

William Shaw Charged Giving Liquor to Minor; Case Continues Today

William Shaw, of the Occidental hotel, and late of Northport, faced Magistrate William Brown on Saturday morning charged with giving liquor to a minor under the age of 21 years, contrary to the Liquor act. Shaw, who was represented by E. G. Matthew, pleaded not guilty to the charge. Four witnesses were heard Saturday, and the case was remanded until this morning.

The youth to whom it is alleged that liquor was supplied appeared as the first crown witness. He testified that he was 18 years of age, and that he had known Shaw for some time, having met him last spring. On Wednesday last, knowing that Shaw was at the Occidental hotel, he had gone down to visit him.

Going to Shaw's room, he found Shaw with a Frenchman and a man by the name of John Gillis. They had been drinking. After some time Shaw handed him a bottle of Burke's Irish whisky, inviting him to have a drink. The youth testified that at Shaw's bidding he had taken two or three drinks of Irish and four bottles of ale. Finally he became so drunk that he did not know what he was doing. In his cross-examination, he testified that Shaw had given him the drink and had asked him to have the drink.

Youth Sixteen

Caleb Parker, father of the youth charged, produced the family Bible in which it was shown that the boy was 16 years of age last August. He himself had made the entries in the family Bible. He had never had trouble with his boy, and the youth was not a liquor drinker to his knowledge.

Police-Sergt. Alex Stewart, who was called to the Occidental hotel on the night of January 28 to quell a row there, caused by a youth under the influence of liquor, told of this call. He knew the youth in question, and had never seen him drunk before.

Chief of Police Thomas H. Long told of the arrest of Shaw and of the customary warning being given. When arrested, Shaw had stated that it was his liquor the boy had been drinking, but that the boy had taken it himself and had not been asked to do so by either Shaw or anyone else. He had not offered the boy a drink and had no knowledge of the boy having had a drink in his room.

The case is resumed up today.

BROKEN WATER PIPE CAUSE OF TROUBLE

City Employees Busy All Day Sunday; Two on Shift All Night

City employees under the supervision of City Engineer J. A. Ferguson and Alderman J. E. MacKenzie, chairman of the public works department, were kept busy the greater portion of yesterday morning and afternoon when a water pipe, which had been frozen, broke, at the entrance to S. Barton's residence on Victoria street. Two men were kept on the job all night to keep the water flowing through the constructed channels to the sewer intakes at the corner of Baker and Ward streets.

The pipe, which is thought to be a three-quarter inch one, broke at a point under the newly constructed cement sidewalk, and the water can be heard striking the under side of the walk. For a time yesterday morning, while the workmen were being summoned Alderman MacKenzie used a shovel to good advantage.

TUG YMIR IN FOR REPAIRS

Broken Propellor Blade; Reaches City Easily; Leave Today

The Canadian Pacific Railway tug Ymir came in to the city from Procter on Saturday afternoon, having little trouble in reaching the city. The Ymir which has a broken propellor blade and is in for repairs at the Canadian Pacific railway shipyard.

Yesterday a crew of men were at work and hauled the boat out on the tug ways. The repairs will be made today and it is expected that she will leave immediately to take up her run out of Procter.

Associated Wins Suit on Contract-Breaking

Judgment for the plaintiffs for $1,033.50 was handed down in the case of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, limited, vs. British Columbia Fruit Lands limited, wherein the former sought to recover money allegedly due them as the result of a breach of contract by defendant. The latter, it was claimed, agreed through their representative, John Jamieson, to sell to the plaintiffs their output of fruit and vegetables for a period of five years, but the latter rescinded the contract.

Jabot frocks are growing in favor, and the jabots are arranged in the oddest ways, for one model has the bodice knotted in front, forming a large rippling jabot over the skirt, while others have pleated jabots on the side and some have long, flowing jabots which extend from the neck to the hem of the skirt.

FIVE VARIETIES OF BIRDS ARE FED

Mrs. Rutherford Spreads Table for Them Outside Window

While people in town have been hailing the occasional robin with excitement, Mrs. William Rutherford, on the north shore, has been feeding five varities of birds for weeks past, on a broad shelf just outside her kitchen window. Blue jays, chickadees, song sparrow, juncos and one pine siskin have been coming to the table spread for them, and seem to appreciate heartily the fare of oatmeal and bread crumbs put out for them by Mrs. Rutheford.

The pine siskin Mrs. Rutherford describes as being about the size of a sparrow, but very like the junco, with its brown and grey coloring and black cap, in appearance.

During the last few days she has also seen a new variety, a small bird clinging to the trunks of trees and seemingly doing very little flying, which Mrs. Rutherford thinks must belong to the large family of creepers, and which may be the variety known as the pine creeper.

Sparrow Gives "Whispered Song"

Mrs. Rutherford, Saturday, heard a song sparrow give what she called its "whispered song," which sounds as if the bird were singing under its breath, and which is so faint that it can only be heard by anyone within a few feet of the singer. This song, Mrs. Rutherford says, is quite different from the familiar loud song of the springtime.

Although she has seen no robins on the north shore since the autumn, Mrs. Rutherford saw one up the hill in Nelson two weeks ago.

Robins have also been seen on Vernon street, and a resident there reported on Friday that four had frequented his garden for the last two weeks, and had been seen there by a number of people.

Answers Charge of Giving Liquor to Local Youth

E. Mole of the Occidental hotel, who was in the same room with William Shaw, charged with giving liquor to a minor, will this morning answer to a similar charge. A charge was placed against Mole by the local police on Saturday last.

In succession to the late Dr. John Waugh, who held the position for 15 years, V. K. Greer, M. A. of London, Ont., has been appointed by the Ontario department of education to be chief inspector of public and separate schools in the province.

FERNIE TO HAVE 'ARMISTICE' DAY

Agreement of Coal Company and Miners Makes Provision for This

After seeing an account of the Nelson Great War Veterans association having petitioned the government to keep November 11 as Armistice day without regard to the date on which Thanksgiving fell, H. A. Bryant, president of the British Columbia Miners association, has written to a Nelson friend, what the Fernie veterans have accomplished along that line.

Mr. Bryant says that in future the miners will observe November 11 as a holiday, as in drawing up the recent agreement between the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company and the British Columbia Miners' association, the attitude of the veterans was supported by W. R. Wilson, manager of the company, as well as the miners, and is was agreed to substitute November 11, Armistice day, for Thanksgiving, in Fernie and Coal Creek.

If arrangements of this kind were made all over Canada between employers and employees, Mr. Bryant thinks that it would mean the veterans would at least have the day they are entitled to as a Thanksgiving day.

"In future the motto of Fernie will be 'We lead, others will follow,'" he concluded his latter.

Rev. Richard Whiting, D.D., of Centenary Methodist church, Hamilton, has received and accepted an invitation to the pastorate of Simpson Avenue Methodist church, Toronto. Rev. W. B. Caswell of Simpson Avenue church will become pastor of Eglington Methodist church.

LING APPEARS AGAIN TODAY

Man Facing Theft Charge Receives Magistrate's Verdict This Morning

John L. Ling, charged with the theft of a silver watch valued at $15 and the sum of $5 from P. W. Dinning of the Sherbrooks hotel, was again remanded for sentence on Saturday morning by Magistrate William Brown, after further evidence had been submitted. He will again face the magistrate at 10 o'clock this morning. Witnesses heard Saturday were Adolphe Lapointe, proprietor of the Queen's hotel and Charles Hay, clerk at the hotel.

The evidence of these witnesses disclosed that Ling had had two rooms at the hotel one on January 21, and the other the following night.

The ledger cards showed that the rooms had been paid for. Both witnesses swore that Hay, the clerk, had paid for the rooms and had taken for security the silver watch tendered by Ling. The watch was later claimed by Dinning.

If You Want Your Hair Bobbed, Ask the Mayor for Permit—Not Yet

In some South American countries the mayor of a city has considerable power and authority.

In a Brazilian city the other day, the mayor issued a ukase that no woman might have her hair bobbed without the consent of her husband or the male head of the family.

If bobbed or shingled without such consent the barber is to be fined $6.

Imagine a Canadian mayor issuing a proclamation that no girl might get her hair shingled without a permit from the fire department or some other civic department!

Or what would happen to Mayor Bell if he published an order that no Nelson woman might have her hair bobbed and marceled without the consent of her husband and a permit from the chairman of the parks and city beautification committee of the city council?

The Coming Session at Ottawa

Parliament is about to open at Ottawa what may prove to be its last session.

There is talk of a general election, although the government can hold office until 1926, or the beginning of 1927.

With election in the air there is likely to be a lot of jockeying for political position.

So far, Mr. Mackenzie King has developed only one election cry which he seems to consider of much value. That is a change in the reform of the senate, under which a bill passed in three consecutive sessions by the lower house must be passed by the senate on the third occasion.

Attacking the senate is always a favorite amusement of the party which does not happen to control the majority in the red chamber.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was an ardent senate reformer as long as the Conservatives had a majority. When Sir Wilfrid had built up, in the course of years, a Liberal majority in the senate his opinion changed. Sir Robert Borden, likewise, was strong in attacks on the upper house as long as it possessed a Liberal majority, which criticized Conservative measures from the commons. And Conservative attacks ceased when the complexion of the upper house changed.

As a matter of fact, the senate has never done better work in its history than during the past four years. Not only has it saved the people millions of dollars, as in the case of the Canadian National branch lines bill, but it has safeguarded the country against foolish and ill-advised clauses in bills by giving measures a cool and detached consideration, from the viewpoint of the general public welfare, which cannot always be obtained in the lower house, which is more susceptible to spasmodic public clamor, or ephemeral political passion. By killing the branch lines bill in 1923 and refusing to accept it until in 1924 unnecessary lines had been deleted from the program it saved Canadian taxpayers between six and seven million dollars and interest.

It has been furiously attacked over its defeat of the pensions bill last session, but probably no body of men were better pleased to see the bill lost than the cabinet of Premier King. The bill was drawn in a hurry without adequate consideration and, if it had gone into effect, would have cost the country in the course of years hundreds of millions of dollars unnecessarily and without conferring proportionate benefits upon the returned men and their dependents.

But the senate is more than a brake on the wheel of a lower house which history shows would sometimes run wild if left entirely to its own resources. The senate improves some bad legislation and occasionally kills a bill completely, but its biggest service to the people of Canada is the fact that its very existence serves to keep the government of the day from wild experiments and forces it to consider well the effect of any proposed new legislation before placing it before parliament.

The senate contains partisans, but the divisions in the red chamber during the past 10 years prove that the majority of members vote sometimes on one side and sometimes on the other.

Senator Dandurand, the Liberal leader in the senate, is an example. Last session he himself voted against one of Mr. King's bills. On the much-discussed Canadian National bills, some Conservatives voted with the government, and some Liberals against it.

Instead of fussing about the senate, Premier King would be well advised to give the time of his government to devising measures for reducing taxation, stimulating commerce and industry and increasing the flow of immigrants to build up the population of the country.

Brown Veal en Casserole — Buy three to four pounds of knuckle of veal, cut in small pieces suitable for serving. Begin by putting one tablespoon of sugar into a hot frying pan, let melt till dark (caramelized), then add one medium-sized peeled onion cut in slices and stir till the onion is coated with the sugar. Now add four cups of boiling-hot water and let simmer for a few minutes (although the sugar will lump, these lumps will dissolve in the water in time). Now add the meat. Let it simmer for several moments in the dark liquid, then turn all into a casserole dish, cover closely, and cook till tender (about two hours). Add one teaspoon of salt, a pinch of pepper, a grating of lemon rind, and three tablespoons of flour rubbed to a paste with three tablespoons of butter (it also may be necessary to add a very little more boiling water to make this gravy). Serve as soon as the flour has thickened the liquor.

Montmartre Lyonnaise Potatoes—Peel and slice two large onions. Fry them till yellowed in four tablespoons of butter, then add three and one-half cups of sliced, cold, cooked potatoes and season with a little salt and pepper. Fry gently till the potatoes have absorbed the butter, and serve.

Cabbage au Gratin—Boil a small head of cabbage rapidly in salted water for 30 minutes, cut in small pieces. When cooked cut in still smaller pieces. Make the following sauce: Melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, stir in one and one-half cups of sweet milk, add the hard-boiled yolks of one egg smashed, and season with one teaspoon of salt and a pinch of pepper. Add the cabbage to this liquid, and when well mixed turn all into a baking dish or casserole. Cover with buttered bread crumbs and bake till well browned in a hot oven. Serve hot.

Eggs Benedict—This dish is supposed to be made by steaming eggs over boiling water in a special kind of pan which comes divided off into circles (to keep the eggs in a perfectly circular shape, like a poached egg cooked in a ring). But the average housewife has no money for the purchase of special pans of this sort, so I suggest that she put water in a frying pan, place a cookie cutter in the pan, and drop the raw egg into the cookie cutter letting it poach till quite hard inside this circle. Serve on toast with a hot cream sauce colored yellow by the addition of uncooked egg-yolk. (Just the ordinary thick cream sauce).

Told in Rime

CINDERELLA—YESTERDAY AND TODAY

Because she washed her dishes well—
Yet kept her spirit sweet—
Soft magic things drew near her heart
And dwelt about her feet;
Soft magic things that lived apart
From tired drudging feet.

Because she knelt to shine her floors—
Yet ran along the height
Of all the world's sweet happythought
That warms the flushing light—
Sweet shining magic graced her feet
And danced them into light.

Because she, faithful, did her tasks—
Yet, faithful, kept her song—
Sweet magic kissed her singing mouth
And swept her heart along;
Sweet magic from the dreaming South
That thrilled her years along.

Because she scrubbed her shining pans—
Yet kept her shining soul—
Sweet wondrous witchery touched her eyes
And showed the priceless goal;
Soft magic with its sweet surprise
That brings, at last, the goal.

Thirty Years Ago

(The Weekly Tribune, Feb. 2, 1895)

A curious find was made by Joe Duhamel about four miles up Seven-Mile creek. Resting on a log, just as they were left, were two bibles. Who left them? It is two years since they were first discovered. Duhamel left them where they were, and it is only lately that they were brought down. The covers and outside sheets of one examined are reduced to indistinguishable masses of pulp, obliterating any name that might have been written inside, but on the edges can be traced the words "Grace Long, Sand Point," and on the date "1870." There are some others names which are, however, undecipherable.

There are many strange legends about this Seven-Mile creek, one being that a valuable ledge was discovered many years ago, but its finder died before he could make use of it. He left a map, so the story goes, showing where the treasure lay, and that map is, if we are not mistaken, at present in the hands of a citizen of Nelson. When the bible was opened a small piece of paper fluttered from it, coming from the book if Genesis, and on it were the words "The whole land of . . . . there is gold."

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Used His Bride as Bait for Sharks; Sues for Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1. — It was on the beach at Waikiki or thereabouts. George Bulloch and his bride, Elaine, were there on their honeymoon. For no reason at all Bulloch threw her into the breakers, she says in a divorce complaint filed. She was washed ashore, but her energetic husband repeated the performance. Again she was washed ashore, half strangled, only to be thrown in a third time.

He desisted when she told him she had a lot of money in the trunk at their hotel, and that same night she found him going through the trunk, she says. The spot he chose to throw her into the water was infested by man-eating sharks, she added.

Gunman Refuses to Take Anything From Mail Carrier

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1. — A gunman with a soft spot in his heart for the hard-working and harassed mail carrier met E. J. McCormick of 225 West 47th street in an alley in the rear of McCormick's home.

"Elevate 'em," barked the bandit, and McCormick's arms became stationary pillars above his head. The bandit approached and was about to go through his victim's pockets when he noticed McCormick's uniform.

"Oh, you're a mailman. I don't want your money." And so saying, the bandit strolled to his car and drove away.

Good Provider but He Made His Wife Work

LONDON, Feb. 1. — All her husband did was to search for work for her, although she was ill, and in the last four years he had worked but fourteen days, was the picture of marital bliss painted by Mrs. Paftrick Burns of Paddington, in court. Her story sent the husband to jail for two months of hard labor.

Mrs. Burns declared her husband discussed law, economics and even psychology at home, but not work. She said he used to read the want ads to her while he lay in bed.

WINE PARTY ON SHIP BROUGHT BLACK OPTICS

Grand Duke Boris in Role of Peacemaker; Toast Caused Riot

NEW YORK, Feb. 1. — The Olympic arrived a few days ago with Grand Duke Boris of Russia and as fine a crop of black eyes as was ever brought into this port in the first cabin of a first-class ocean liner, there was much surmise. Between Boris and the shiners decorating the features of two of the passengers there is a decided connection. In the episode of the darkened orbs Boris acted as peacemaker.

It all occurred at a little party on the high seas given in honor of the grand duke and the grand duchess on the eve of the Russian new year, which fell on January 13. There were 40 guests, including George Gordon Battle, New York attorney, who retired early.

Titles were forgotten in the freely flowing champagne. One male guest slapped the grand duchess on her back (she wore a stunning decollette gown of nile green) and called her "Dutchy." The women in the party mounted the long dining table and danced what was described as a "cross between the can-can and the fandango."

A Polish prince—the ship was fairly crowded with nobility—obliged with a violin solo. At the end of the piece he was greeted with boos and hisses, and the remark that nothing better could be expected from a Pole.

The men had all been imbibing liberally and several were in an ugly mood. The women retired. Someone suggested a toast to Boris, and it was drunk standing.

Another toast was proposed to William K. Halligan, a vaudeville actor and member of the Friars' club. Everyone stood up, glass in hand, it is said, except Alexander Gross, a wealthy resident of Miami. According to other passengers Halligan remonstrated with Gross and in the melee ensuing the latter, who weighs about 200 pounds, suffered two discolored optics, and a champagne bottle was broken over Halligan's head.

The melee was saved from becoming general by the duke's intervention and by the sight of blood streaming over the actor's face. Halligan's left eye was blackened and three stitches were taken by the ship's doctor about an inch over his bruised optic.

The merry-makers then took an oath of secrecy. But passengers who had watched the party told the story to ship news reporters and Boris laughingly admitted acting the part of peacemaker. He denied a rumor that there was gun play.

BIG FIVE IS BONDED TO A COAST GROUP

Lardeau Group Priced at Quarter Million; True Fissure Strike

TROUT LAKE, Feb. 1. — The Big Five on the north fork of the Lardeau has recently been bonded for $250,000 by a group of capitalists at the coast. This is the result of a big strike made last summer by Messrs. Thompson, Kilmer and Elliott. Considerable work was done last summer and ore was found on all the claims.

News has come down that the main vein was struck on the True Fissure, and that ore was encountered there. No details have been received as yet, as sufficient progress has not been made to judge the quantity.

Lou Thompson will be leaving for Revelstoke in a few days to receive the first payment on the bond for $25,000 on the Brooklyn group of claims, one mile above Ferguson.

GRAND FORKS MAYOR HOST AT BANQUET

Love Entertains Old and New Administrations and City Officials

GRAND FORKS, Feb. 1. — Standing committees of the city council were announced by Mayor T. A. Love at the first regular meeting of the council the past week, as follows:

Finance — Aldermen W. Liddicoat, chairman; F. J. Miller and John Donaldson.

Fire, water and light — Aldermen John Donaldson, chairman; J. T. Simmons and F. J. Miller.

Parks, cemetery, health and relief—J. T. Simmons, chairman; W. Liddicoat and John Donaldson.

Gravity Water Supply

Mayor Love outlined a policy of economy with a view to reduction of taxes; further development of the city's gravity water supply for domestic purposes, and continuation of improvements to electrical plant with ultimate expectation of economy; and somewhat progressive policy of improving both the city and tourist parks.

His worship also introduced somewhat of an innovation locally when he invited the old and new administrations, members of the school board and police commissioners, and the heads of various departments, numbering 20, to quite an elaborate banquet at the Grand Forks hotel. Mayor Love had invited the various officials with the object of soliciting their cooperation, and asked for suggestions which might be of practical assistance to the 1925 city council.

The banquet-conference continued from 7:30 till midnight, was well received by those present, and was generally regarded as having been productive of much good in solidifying harmony and bringing out many valuable suggestions for the new administration, all present having contributed to the discussion.

WELLINGTON MINE TO BE DEVELOPED

Meeting of Slocan Consolidated Silver Mines Is at Kaslo

KASLO, Feb. 2. — That it was the intention of the Slocan Consolidated Silver mines to go ahead with active development work on the Wellington, adjoining the Whitewater, was stated here on Tuesday at a meeting which H. W. C. Jackson, prominent mining man of Spokane, attended.

This was the annual meeting of the company, and it was followed by a special meeting held in order to adopt a resolution to reduce the capital stock from $300,000 to $200,000 by surrender of authorization to issue preferred stock, and the retirement of the preferred stock now outstanding, for common stock of equal value.

BOSWELL GROWERS IN GOOD POSITION

Criticise Slow Returns on Early Fruits; Spence Is President Again

BOSWELL, Feb. 1. — The annual meeting of the Boswell fruit growers was held in the Memorial hall on Tuesday afternoon, the president, H. Spence, being in the chair, when the financial statement showed the association was in a sound position.

There were 19 nominations for the directorate, and the ballot returned H. Spence, R. W. Holiday Smith, A. Hepher, H. Johnstone, W. L. Hepher, A. Mackie, J. Coupland as elected. C. R Higgens and P. T. Hyatt were appointed as auditors.

R. Holiday Smith, the delegate to the local directors' meeting in Nelson, gave a full report, and was accorded a vote of thanks.

Considerable dissatisfaction was expressed over the delay in receipt of final return on cherries and early fruits, the matter to be taken up with Vernon.

Object to Raspberry Crate

The marketing of the next season's small fruits was discussed at some length, as was also the change in the size of the raspberry crate, to which strong exception was taken.

Following this the newly elected board held its first meeting to appoint officers. H. Spence was reelected as president, W. L. Hepher was re-elected as vice-president, and R. W. Holiday Smith was again appointed secretary-treasurer.

PHOENIX MAN ACROSS LINE HANDED OVER

Will Be Tried at Grand Forks on Perjury Count; Family Suffered

GRAND FORKS, Feb. 1. — Wanted at Grand Forks on a charge of perjury, Abe Trombley, who has resided with his family in the hills near Phoenix, has been taken in custody by the immigration authorities at Republic, Wash., and will be brought here for trial.

The charge against Trombley has to do with evidence which he gave in court a year or more ago in connection with some timber infractions, and on which the authorities have since obtained evidence which revealed the facts. He was summoned to court here a fortnight ago, and failing to appear, a bench warrant was issued for his arrest, when it was discovered he had escaped across the international boundary. There he took the name of his brother and claimed to be an American citizen, but later admitted the facts.

Alleged Family Was Starving

His case is especially aggravated because, it is alleged, he had been keeping his family on the verge of starvation and treating them in a most inhuman way. The facts came out when, following the bringing of his wife to the hospital here, he so abused his two daughters that one of them had to flee from the house and walk a dozen miles through deep snow at night to reach Grand Forks and give the information to the police.

When the police investigated, they found the family had been existing under most wretched conditions.

Total insurance carried was $2,103,525, and the per capita loss, figuring the city's poulation at 70,000, was only $1.45. IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the systeem, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twings of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

OILS ADVANCE; OTHERS WAVER

Saturday's Trading Is Just Under the Million Share Mark

NEW YORK, Feb. 1. — Speculative interest in yesterday's brief session of the stock market centered largely in the oil and Southern and Southwestern railroad shares which continued to advance under heavy accumulation while the rest of the list moved within rather narrow and irregular limits. Trading was again in large volume, yesterday's sales falling just short of 1,000,000 shares.

Tidewater was the outstanding feature in the oil group, jumping 6½ points to 148½. Cosden advanced more than 2 points, to 35, and the Pan-American issues, Maracaibo, Sinclair preferred and Standard Oil of New Jersey, advanced a point or so. Shell Union and several others touched their highest prices in a year or more, though the net gains were small.

Missouri, Kansas and Texas common and preferred, Southern Railway and Wabash preferred B established record tops at 35⅜, 86, 85¾ and 44¼, respectively. Southern railway canceled its gain and closed fractionally lower, but the others showed net gains of a point or more. Colorado Southern advanced nearly 2 points to 50, the highest price since 1922 and a good demand also was noted for New York Central, which closed nearly a point higher at 123½.

Commercial Solvents issues, which recently recorded a sensational gain, broke badly on profit-taking. The A stock dropped 16¼ points to 160¼, and the B stock fell off 8 points to 167. Mack Trucks was also in supply, touching off a number of stop loss orders, forcing the stock down to 131¼, but it rallied later to 132½, where it was off 1¾ on the day.

The standard industrials moved within narrow limits. United States Steel common closed unchanged at 126¼, and Baldwin, American Can and Studebaker showed fractional recessions. Bethlehem preferred issues advanced to new high levels in anticipation of an early announcement of the terms of the offering to the employees of the corporation.

Some of the individual strong spots in the industrial list included United Fruit, which advanced 6½ points to 217½, and American Linseed. Durham, International Combustion, Manhattan Electrical Supply and Worthington Pump, all of which showed net gains of from 2 to 4 points.

Foreign exchanges displayed a firmer tone as the month closed, but trading was rather quiet. Demand sterling ruled about a ½ point higher, around $4.79½, and French francs were quoted around 5.42½c.

JANUARY REVENUE UNDER YEAR AGO

Collections Are Nearly Six Millions Under Last January

OTTAWA, Feb. 1. — Customs and excise revenue in the month ended yesterday was $5,762,969 less than in January, 1924.

The total of customs import duties, excise taxes, excise duties and sundry collections this month was $17,923,359.

For the 10 months of the present fiscal year collections under these headings were $204,313,075, a decrease of $48,526,988 compared with the same period in the previous fiscal year.

Collections in January also represent a decrease from those of December, when 19,693,478 was collected on this account.

Financial and Business Facts

EVERYONE SHOULD KNOW

More than eight and three-quarters millions of women are now "gainfully employed." (1924 figures.)

* * *

The above figures mean that 21.1 per cent of all females in the continental United States over the age of 10 are now making, or partially making, their own living. About two and a quarter millions are working in manufacturing occupations.

Domestic personal service still leads in the number and percentage of women to whom it gives employment; 2,186,924 women are thus "gainfully employed." This figure is a decreasing one, however, as 2,531,221 women were employed as domestic personal servants in 1910.

More than a million women are in professional service—almost as great a numerical figure as there are men in professional service — and a much greater percentage.

More than 61,000 women hold positions as proprietors, officials, firm members or responsible officers in corporations. It can truly be said that the hand which rocked the cradle is now doing more than its bit to row the industrial boat.

WHEAT VALUES EBB AND FLOW

Closing Shows Slight Loss; Provisions Movement Very Mixed

CHICAGO, Feb. 1. — Indications of large world shipments and a sharp increase in the amount of wheat on ocean passage had an evident depressing effect on wheat values yesterday. May, $2.02½ to $2.02⅝, and July $1.70⅝ to $1.70¾, with corn at ⅛c to ½c advance, and oats varying from ½c off to ⅜c up.

In provisions the outcome ranged from 6c setback to 20c gain.

Because it was not a work of necessity or mercy in the case brought before the consideration of the court, the appellate devision with Mr. Justice Beck dissenting, has decided that the sale of candy by a Calgary storekeeper named Kent to a policeman on a Sunday, was illegal, this, because in this individual case it was not a work of necessity or mercy, and was therefore contrary to the provisions of the Lord's Day act. The conviction of Kent by Magistrate Saunders were therefore confirmed.

FIVE GAMES IN CUP TIE CALL FOR A REPLAY

Bolton and Tottenham in the Number; Leicester Ties Newcastle

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Eleven of the 16 games that marked the second round of the English Football association cup were decided yesterday with five drawn games that called for a replay and, as a result, eight first division clubs are sure of entry into the third round, which will be contested February 21.

One of the outstanding events of yesterday's play was the splendid fight offered by Leicester City against the present cup holders, Newcastle United. The Tynesiders were compelled to call it a day with the honors even. The replay, which will be called at Leicester, will find the city at a considerable advantage, and there are those here who are speculating on the probability of Newcastle having to yield the trophy without going further.

United Beats Wednesday

The heaviest scoring yesterday took place at Sheffield, where the "blades" subdued their fellow citizens, the Wednesday, after a 3 to 2 game.

Preston North End had their hopes shattered by West Bromwich, and the league leaders went into the third round. The Bromwich's career now has taken on an interesting phase, for they are fancied for dual honors, the cup and the league, a record that has been pulled off only twice before.

Bolton Wanderers forced the 'Spurs to a draw, and gave themselves the advantage of ground in the playoff necessitated by this result.

The other games on Saturday resulted much as expected.

CANADIAN GIRL BREAKS THREE WORLD MARKS

Leila Brooks Keeps Speed Title; Men's Title Is Won by Chicagoan

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—Francis Allen, Chicago, won the Canadian speed skating championship here yesterday afternoon, winning the majority of points in the senior events of the two-day Dominion meet. The victory was not decided until the final race, three three-mile, and Allen, in getting second place landed the laurels.

Charles Gorman, St. John, N.B., international and United States champion, was not placed in the big race, but was near the top in the point count for the meet and championship.

Leila Brooks, Toronto, won the Canadian ladies' championship with ease and, in doing so, shattered three world's records. Miss Brooks won all the ladies' titles in her marvelous exhibition. In the senior mile she broke the record held by Miss Gladys Robinson of Toronto, in 4:60 3-5, doing the distance in 3:38 1-5. The former mark was made in 1921 at Lake Placid. Her second world's record was made in the 220 yards, doing this in :22 4-5 seconds. Miss Johnstone made the old time at Lake Placid. Miss Brooks' other marks were :44 2-5 in the 440 yards and 1:38 1-5 for the 880 yards. Gladys Robinson held the former records.

Willie Logan, St. John, won the junior boys' championship, breaking a tie with Francis Allen, Chicago, in a special half-mile race.

TIGERS CLIMB OVER SHEIKS INTO SECOND

Calgarians Win Two to One in Thrilling Home Contest

CALGARY, Feb. 1.—Calgary Tigers skated in whirlwind fashion on to a triumph here last night over the Saskatoon Sheiks in a game that was featured by one of the most thrilling final periods ever staged in this city. The final score was 3-2, and the victory places the Tigers in second position, behind the league leading Victoria Cougars, whom they play here next Wednesday night.

The Arena was jammed, and the enthusiasts who braved the chilly atmosphere in anticipation of a real struggle were not disappointed, for it was lightning fast, and crammed full of thrills and spills from start to finish, with a few extras put in for good measure during the third period, when the Tigers displayed their superiority sufficiently to tie the score, and eventually notch the counter that sent the fans home in a happy mood.

Saskatoon went down with flying colors, but the unusual speed and clever combination of the Tigers proved too much for them. Moreover, they were weakened by the absence of Lalonde just when they needed him the most. The veteran Saskatoon manager served penalties for weilding his stick too freely, twice in the second period, and twice in the third.

OLD FOX WINS FOR COUGARS BY NECESSARY

Walker's Goal Pulls Game at Victoria Out of the Fire

VICTORIA, Feb. 1.—For the third time this season Jack Walker, the "old fox" of the Victoria team, pulled a game out of the fire, and brought victory to the Cougars. With the score tied and but seven minutes to go, Walker rallied his two other helpers, Foyston and Anderson, who were subbing for the regulars, and went through and scored the goal that sent Regina down to defeat for the second time in two nights. The score was 2 to 1.

On the run of play the Cougars were lucky to win. Their first goal was a lucky one.

Regina was desperate and played a whirlwind fame. Time and again Holmes, the local goalie, turned back the Capitals when they were through the Victoria defence.

Regina took the ice once again without the service of their star left winger, George Hay, who is still nursing a bad shoulder. Manager Champ stated last night that Hay may be out of the game for two weeks.

The Caps started off better than they did on Friday night and the Cougars were extremely lucky to finish the first period on even terms.

The second period was fought at a terrific pace but neither side could score.

Regina came on at a lively clip in the third period, and the Cougars stalled like old men on crutches. Holmes had to turn aside no less than 15 direct shots, while the Cougars could only rivet home eight. When the Victoria regular forward line failed to make the grade, Lester Patrick threw over the side his second strings, and they turned the trick, Walker taking the puck off Foyston's stick to dupe McCusker for the winning goal.

CANADIENS HIT MONTREAL HARD

Stop Losing and Hand Five to Nothing Licking to Their Townies

MONTREAL, Feb. 1.—After four weeks of bumping over the rough road of defeat the Canadiens bounced back to their best form last night, and to the delight of 5000 fans literally swamped the Montreal professionals five to nothing in a National Hockey league game. There was no indication of staleness in the play of the champions.

Odie Cleghorn took over the direction of the play in the absence of Dandurand, and ran the champions from the bench through the first period. After half of the second session had passed and neither team had been able to score, Odie jumped into the fray, relieving Morenz at center.

Canadiens missed many drives on goal, largely through the splendid play of Benedict, in the Montreal net. The veteran goalie was bombarded steadily, and had four shots to stop to every one for Vezina.

Morenz, Joliat and Boucher were all over the slower Montreal forwards, who worked hard but were outclassed.

The Canadiens' defence was solid. Noble and Munro were the only Montreal players who could make any impression against it, but they did not get far.

STORM, WRECK WEAKEN BRUINS

Boston Team Is Very Meat for Hamilton Tigers; Score Eight to Three

HAMILTON, Feb. 1.—Boston Bruins, minus the services of Dr. Charles Stewart, in the nets, and tired from a 27-hour train journey caused by running into storms and the derailment of two cars on the way, proved easy for the league-leading Tigers here last night and finished on the short end of an 8 to 3 count.

Boston started with Lockhart between the iron pipes. Dr. Charles Stewart, the regular net tender, is confined to a hospital here following an operation on his left eye which was injured in practice at Boston last Tuesday. Lockhart played a good game, despite the score.

The work of the Green brothers was a bright feature. Burch was brilliant. His individual efforts surpassed anything he has shown on local ice.

For the invaders, Jimmy Herberts was in a class by himself. Shea, on left wing, roamed too much, while Stan Jackson turned in a far better game for the Bruins than he did on his last appearance here.

HAGEN ELEVEN UP ON WALKER

First Half of Unofficial World Title Match Is Walkaway

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 1.—Walter Hagen stood 11 up at the end of the first half of his unofficial world's championship match with Cyril Walker, American open champion, here today. The second half of the 72-hole match will be played Wednesday in St. Petersburgh.

Hagen drove and putted beautifully, while Walker made poor use of both irons and putter. Many of Hagen's drives were over the 300-yard mark, being mainly responsible for his low 68 on the morning round.

Hagen stood eight up at the end of the morning round, having gained ground steadily against the bad form of Walker.

He took the lead at the outset, getting par fours on the first two holes, while Walker was getting fives. He was three up at the end of the first nine, and played brilliant golf during the second nine, winning six holes, losing one, and halving two. At the end of the first 18 it appeared that Hagen would have a walkaway of the match play, but Walker came back in the afternoon round, and halved 11 of the 18 holes, won two, and lost five.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 1.—Cleveland defeated Minneapolis 4 to 3 last night in the final game of the first half of the western group of the United States Amateur Hockey association, thereby clinching third place for the first half of the season.

Yesterday Nelson had fog, snow and rain. An inch and one-half of snow fell during the day ending at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and .16 inch of rain.

On February 1, 1924, the minimum was 36, the maximum 47, and .12 inch of rain fell, while the weather forecast was "mild and squally," Mr. Goulding said.

ANTITOXIN FOR NOME FINAL LAP

Twenty-seven Cases Diphtheria Now; No More Deaths

NOME, Alaska, Feb. 1.—Two new cases of diptheria developed here yesterday, both children. This brings the total number of cases to 27, a recheck by the board of health yesterday morning having shown 25 cases instead of 23, as previously reported. The number of contacts has not been officially determined.

In the meantime, Ed Rohn, with a fast team, is waiting at Safety the arrival of the relay team speeding toward Nome with 300,444 units of antitoxin. Rohn will take the precious cargo from Safety to Nome, a distance of 21 miles, in record-breaking time.

No word has been received from the relay team since leaving Unalakiki, 200 miles distant from Nome by land, or 100 miles across Norton sound, Saturday. Communication between Unalikiki and Solomon, 30 miles from Nome, is difficult, and the relay team will probably not be heard from until it reaches Solomon.

M'CORMICK SUES HIS FORMER WIFE

Court Fight Is Over Huge Trust Fund for Granddaughter

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Society is deeply interested in the outcome of the legal battle between Harold F. McCormick, multi-millionaire harvester magnate and his divorced wife, Mrs. Edith Rockfeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockfeller and grandmother of Anita Oser, now 8 months old.

The suit brought by Harold F. McCormick seeks to restrain Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick from obtaining control of 123,824 shares of Standard Oil Company of Indiana stock, with a present market value exceeding $8,250,000. The action is taken in the name and on behalf of Anita Oser, daughter of Mathilde McCormick and Max Oser the Swiss riding master. Mathilde is the youngest daughter of Harold and Edith McCormick.

The suit sets out that Edith Rockefeller McCormick relinquished her right to the original trust fund, created in 1917, by John D. Rockefeller, which is held by the Equitable Trust company of New York as trustee.

Mr. McCormick charges that Edith is now attempting to regain possession of the stock and avers she is not rightfully entitled to it. The stock, according to the stipulation drawn up by John D. Rockefeller, provides that the trust fund is now the property of the grandchild, to be held in trust until Anita is 30 years of age.

The social relations between Harold F. and Edith McCormick have naturally been somewhat strained ever since their divorce in 1921 and Mr. McCormick's subsequent marriage to Ganna Walska, aspirant to grand opera stardom. The suit may widen the breach between McCormick and his former wife and start some quarrels that will give society something to talk about. It is predicted that the suit will be long drawn out and bitterly fought.

WINNIPEG WON'T BE GOAT LONGER

Mayor Serves Notice "No Haven of Rest" for Unemployed

WINNIPEG, Feb. 1. — The Dominion and provincial governments must in future assume their responsibilities in the matter of unemployment relief, and Winnipeg should absolutely refuse to be made a dumping ground for all those out of work in western Canada," declared Mayor Webb, in discussing unemployment problems here tonight.

Colonel Webb stated that by the end of the winter Winnipeg will have spent $300,000 on unemployment relief. He advocated that it should be widely known that Winnipeg will no longer be a "haven of rest for the unemployed of western Canada," and suggested that every post office in the western provinces should also be an employment office.

He said: "If all western post offices were also employment offices, it would not be necessary for the unemployed to hang about Winnipeg until something turned up."

COUNTESS LIVES IN CHICKEN HOUSE

Formerly French Singing Star; Fast Life Dwindled Fortune

BUDAPEST, Feb. 1.—Countess Alexandra Forgach, daughter of the late Count Alexander Forgach, who was one of the wealthiest landowners in Hungary, affords the unique spectacle of a countess living in a chicken barn. In the little commune of Hidegkut, immediately outside of Budapest, and adjacent to the fashionable residential section known as "Cool valley," the countess lives within four plain board walls in a room about six by nine feet, amid numerous chickens and a large brood of dogs.

The countess is now an old, withered dame, clad in a man's long coat and soldier's boots. She speaks French fluently with a rich, mellow voice, and makes no bones whatever about her story.

"I am a daughter of Count Alexander Forgach," she said recently. "My sister Elise committed suicide; my brother Anton was killed at the same time with his friend and master, Emperor Maximilian of Mexico. From my father I inherited 40,000 gulden.

"I was frivolous when a young girl. As I had a good voice, I was determined to go to the opera, but my father said that a Countess Forgach could not choose such a profession. So I ran away to Paris. There I got along well on the stage. I appeared under the stage name of Carolina Mare and was in a class with Adelina Patti and Christine Nielsen. Verdi composed roles especially for me. In Paris, Rome and London I achieved great triumphs. Later, I became the friend of Princess Galliera at Paris. When I learned that my father was dying, I hurried back to Hungary.

"After his death I remained in Hungary and took charge of my inheritance. I really don't know what happened to my money. I should like to get back to my castle at Etes. All I want is a room and 100 chickens and 20 dogs."

Her relatives state that the countess has lived at such a fast pace that there is literally nothing left of her estate.

If Dad Wins Case She Gets Spanked; Lives at Neighbors'

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 1.—A neighbor stands between Florence Ellinger, 15 years of age, and a paternal spanking. The county court has been asked, by habeas corpus plea, to remove the neighbor that Stephen Ellinger may have his daughter at home again and resort to primitive punishment. That she will be spanked, and that aplenty, explains why Florence ran away and sought refuge in the home of Leo Henningsmith.

The girl has "grown up," she says, and no longer cares to find herself across the parental knee. Mrs. Henningsmith refuses to permit her father to touch her.

CANADIAN HAS NEW WAR IDEA

Manpower Not Replaced Entirely, Says Brig.-Gen. King of Ontario

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—Rapid transportation, gas and tanks should play a more important part in the next war than in the last, but the new developments in military equipment will not go to the extent of replacing all the old methods of war, in the opinion of Brig.-Gen. W. N. King, of London, Ontario, Canada., commander of the First Military district of the Dominion.

General King is on vacation leave, and will remain here for three months. He is a veteran of two wars, having served with the Canadian forces in the Boer war in South Africa and also for more than four years in the late war.

"There are two schools of military theory at the present time," said General King. "One consists of the conservatives, who are not inclined to place undue weight on the modern methods; the other is composed of the extremists, who forecast military forces in which even infantry has no place, their theory being that the war of the future will be fought exclusively by machinery and gas.

"I am inclined to a position midway between the two. I believe military operations in the future will probably be more mechanicalized than ever before, but infantry, for instance, has always been the backbone of any army and I think it will continue to be so. Of course, I don't want to make any prophecies as to future wars. The last one was enough for me, and I would be glad to think that there would be no more wars."

AIRPLANES LAND ON PLANE SHIP

San Diego Crowds Thrilled by First Demonstration on Pacific

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 1.—The first demonstration of the landing of an airplane on the deck of a ship on the Pacific coast, at San Diego, was a success from every standpoint, when for two hours 16 naval aviators thrilled thousands of spectators by their skill and daring in taking off from and returning to the flying platform of the aircraft tender Langley.

It was the first time a public exhibition of the kind had ever been conducted, and the thousands of civilians who witnessed the maneuver from vantage points around San Diego bay were given a convincing demonstration of the strides that are being made by the nation's air force in the development of the aviation service.

One Mishap

One slight mishap occurred when the plane of Lieut. Harold Brow pancaked on the deck of the Langley. The arresting gear on the deck worked to perfection, and little damage was done the machine.

Weather conditions which called for a breeze of between 12 and 15 miles an hour were ideal until late in the afternoon, when the wind shifted, and further maneuvers were called off.

The San Diego demonstration was the culmination of 14 years of experimenting and practice in perfecting the hazardous feat.

In attempting to land at North Island aviation station, in a plane the landing gear of which had been smashed when he tried to land on the deck of the Langley 20 miles at sea, Commander Warren G. Child had a narrow escape from injury or death. The plane was wrecked, but Commander Child crouched in the fuselage, and escaped with cuts and bruises. After the landing gear had been wrecked on the ship, the aviator opened the throttle and soared over the sea.

INDIAN PRINCE IS GOAT AT POKER

Haled Into Court for Sidestepping Losses; Case Is Dismissed

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—Ranca Chandra, professed Indian potentate, at present engaged in a quest for screen fame, appeared before Justice Scott in the small claims court as defendant in a $50 poker debt suit.

The suit was brought by J. W. Thomason, who, with Herbert Hurd, introduced the self-styled Indian prince to the intricacies of American poker at a party some weeks ago at the Hurd home, 5001 Melrose avenue.

The "prince," on the witness stand, explained that prior to the party he was only on speaking terms with poker, having heard of the great American indoor sport in his native Bombay. He was greatly interested, however, because he desired to learn all American customs, and this seemed a good opportunity to familiarize himself with one.

So when a deck of cards was produced, he accepted the invitation to join, and proved a rather apt pupil. But at the conclusion of the evening, he said, he was informed that he had lost $50 to Thomason.

This was one detail he had never learned about, "Prince" Chandra said, and though he wanted to learn the customs of this great land he was "not willing" to pay such an extravagant price for instructions.

Justice Scott, after hearing the testimony, announced that the court couldn't be made the medium for the collection of poker debts, and dismissed the case with the further remark that the affair seemed to him to be a case of an "Indian lamb lying down with the wolf."

TRANSFUSIONS FAIL TO SAVE LIEUTENANT

Gallant Montreal Fireman Finally Succumbs to His Injuries

MONTREAL, Feb. 1.—Lieut. Wilfrid Desjardins of the Montreal fire brigade, who was entombed in the flaming building for eight hours on Wednesday night and Thursday morning, and who was finally rescued after devoted efforts on the part of his comrades, died today in the Montreal General hospital from shock and exposure.

Lieutenant Desjardins' death closes one of the most heroic episodes of the local fire-fighting force. Trapped by an explosion while fighting a fire, he was alternatingly drenched in ice-cold water or licked by the advancing flames, while directing the efforts of his comrades who were attempting to rescue him.

In hospital he made a gallant fight for life, but, despite numerous transfusions of blood, the shock was so great that he succumbed.
