LINEMAN IN CLOSE CALL WITH DEATH

NOVA SCOTIA MINERS VOTE RETURN TO WORK

BACK FIRE TO STOP BLAZES STILLWATER

Back Fires Will Run Total of Mile and Half to Save Timber

PENDER HARBOR UNCONTROLLED

Jumps Mile Twelve Hours; 180 Fire Fighters in Retreat

VANCOUVER, Aug. 5.—Virgin timber tracts of British Columbia are being swept through by the numerous forest fires and millions of feet of timber have been converted in the charred and smoking debris in several points on the mainland and on Vancouver island during the last three days, according to late reports received at the forestry office here tonight.

The Stillwater fire has assumed alarming proportions and, threatens with destruction millions of dollars' worth of timber. In a desperate effort to check this blaze, a gang of fire fighters under Major C. S. Cowan, chief forester of Vancouver district, will undertake the hazardous task to check the wall of fire by back-firing methods.

The back-fires will run for a total of a mile and a half in length, and if control is lost it will mean that the fire fighters will have a race for their lives.

Fire Out of Control

The blaze at Pender Harbor is still out of control and jumped a distance of one mile in a 12-hour period. One mile and a half of fire lines have been lost, and a fire fighting gang of 180 men are forced to retreat before the advancing flames.

In the interior of the province, including the Kamloops, Kootenay and Okanagan districts, hundreds of new outbreaks have been reported, and hourly adding to the grave danger facing settlers.

Eight new outbreaks have been reported in the Fraser valley, but are all well under control and the fire at Sooke, Vancouver island, which has covered 1000 acres, is expected to be confined within fire lines.

Rain in North

VICTORIA, Aug. 5.—Rain in northern British Columbia yesterday and today brought the first prospect of relief from forest fires for several days.

This afternoon the forestry service here reported all the larger fires on the southern end of Vancouver island under control.

On the mainland serious fires which are burning north of Vancouver at Seohelt, Pender Harbor and Stillwater, while they are destroying much valuable timber, have not yet menaced any settlements.

The camp of the Challenger Timber company at Loughborough bay, about 200 miles north of Vancouver, was destroyed on Sunday.

WELSH MINERS STILL RIOTING

Strikers Attack Collieries; Police Charge With Clubs

AMMANFORD, Wales, Aug. 6.—There was another severe riot tonight in the anthracite region where the miners are on strike. Several hundred strikers attacked a colliery with a view to compelling the pumpers and other safety workmen to quit their posts. They were met by a strong party of police guarding the works, and during the fighting which lasted nearly three hours the police commander and 10 constables were severely wounded and many of the strikers badly hurt.

The strikers in their attack almost overwhelmed the police but they charged with their clubs in the face of a veritable rain of missiles of all kinds. Reinforcements were hurried up to the police in automobiles but the fighting continued under the light of a blazing hay stack which the strikers set on fire. A large crowd of sympathizers with the miners watched the battle.

INSTANT INTERVIEWS

C. H. Ramsden, secretary Nelson Horticultural society—This is the best flower show, with the largest number of entries, and the biggest gate receipts, that we have ever held. We are proud of the Nelson gardeners and their achievements, and of the Nelson public which has shown so much interest in the show.

Staff Sergt. G. O. Reid, R.C.M.P.—We are always after the dope peddlers, but, of course, 100 per cent success is not to be expected.

S. G. Blaylock, general manager Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada—It is the holiday season for executives of the company, and I'm the one that knows it, being on the job.

Seeks Divorce From Cincinnati Wife

Final papers granting the divorce of the Duke of Manchester from his wife, the former Helena Zimmerman, of Cincinnati, are expected to be drawn up within a few days.

RIFFS BUSY ALONG LINES OF SPANISH

French Aviators Bomb Important Posts; Pasha of Fez Works Hard

PARIS, Aug. 5. — Reports received from the French front in Morocco today said that quiet generally prevailed. The greatest activity seems to be along the Spanish line.

A French mobile group today moved without difficulty from the Azejen range, which was cleared of rebels Monday by tanks to Arbiboua, from which place they bombarded Mount Sarsar vigorously. Aviators dropped 22 bombs on Mount Amrgou. These two mountains are important strongholds in this secter.

Great hopes are being based on the action of the troops under the Pasha of Fez in keeping various tribes from joining the rebel movement. He has fought against the Riffians in rebellions, and has in his command a brother of the Sultan. The Pasha's troops are concentrated on the river Sebou, whither he has summoned the caids of all the clans which Abd-el-krim, through propaganda, is trying to win over to his cause.

Victoria Takes Over Esquimalt Water Workings

VICTORIA, Aug. 5.—The city of Victoria today took possession of the Esquimalt water works, through the medium of expropriation and an agreement with the company involving a purchase price of $1,450,000, payment of which will be spread over a long term of years and will be made from the net profits accruing to the city from operation of the plant. Acquisition of the Esquimalt system relieves the city from the necessity which would have confronted it in the next 15 or 20 years of laying a new supply main to Sooke lake, the present main city water supply point, and of altering the dam there, at a cost of $1,750,000.

Three Hundred Farm Hands From Victoria for the Harvest

VICTORIA, Aug. 5.—More than 300 men will leave Victoria for the fall harvest on the prairies in the next fews weeks, according to department of labor here.

Vancouver Company Gets Contract for Quebec Harbor Job

VANCOUVER, Aug. 5.—The contract to build a first section of the Quebec harbor extension for $2,750,000 has been secured by a local firm, the Northern Construction company.

Twelve Hundred Dollars Worth of Case Liquor Stolen at Chilliwack

CHILLIWACK, B. C., Aug. 5.—Case liquor valued at $1200 was stolen from the government liquor store here some time after 2 o'clock this morning. Police declare no clue has been found, but it is known that wheel impressions left in the rear of the store suggest a truck was used to transport the stolen goods.

MANY MINERS REFUSED VOTE ON PROPOSALS

Majority of 1133 Cast for Return Under Proposals of Government

VOTES POLLED ARE OVER SIX THOUSAND

Cape Britain Favorable; New Waterford Turns the Proposals Down

HALIFAX, Aug. 5.—The miners of Nova Scotia employed by the British Empire Steel corporation agreed by a majority of 1133, in a plebiscite today, to return to work under the proposals of the provincial government. There were 6693 votes polled, many of the miners abstaining from the balloting. The directors of the corporation, meeting in Montreal today to consider the same terms, characterized by the government, when they were presented last Friday, as "final proposals," adjourned to meet again tomorrow.

It is still undecided, therefore, whether or not there is to be an early resumption of work, which, as proposed by Premier Rhodes and his cabinet, will be under an interim six months' contract pending a thorough investigation of the industry. Wages paid will not be those of 1922, or a reduction of 6 to 8 per cent from the 1924 rates, and working conditions would be those of 1924. The government would rebate one-fifth of the coal royalties, and the controversial checkoff system of union dues being collected by the company would be submitted to a referendum held by the government.

Southern Areas Favorable

Final figures will probably show some slight changes, but the approximate results were given by the United Mine Workers headquarters in Glace Bay tonight. The large southern areas of Cape Breton, New Waterford excluded, gave a majority of about 700 for the proposals. New Waterford turned them down by about 160 votes and Pictou county did likewise by a narrow margin of 10. Cumberland, county gave a majority of 384 votes, and the northern Cape Breton areas a majority of 151. A notable vote against was that at Reserve, in the southern area, 69 for and 313 against.

Against Acceptance

STELLARTON, N. S., Aug. 5.—Polls for today's plebiscite on the government's proposals for a return to work in the coal mines did not close here until 8 o'clock, but reports from the smaller districts of Thorburn and Westville showed the former 68 to 40 against acceptance and Wrightville 20 to 21 against.

Favor Return

SPRINGHILL, N. S., Aug. 5.—United Mine Workers, employees of the British Empire Steel corporation in Cumberland county, voted today 525 to 141 to accept the government's proposals for a return to work.

Glace Bay Votes

GLACE BAY, N. S., Aug. 5.—A majority of 500 was given for the Nova Scotia government's proposals for a return to work in the provincial coal mines by the Cape Breton southern area collieries, including the Glace Bay, New Waterford, Birch Grove and No. 6 districts, which comprise more than half of the fields. The vote was 2279 for, 1779 against.

Few Divorces in Ottawa, Lady Hears, Writes for Husband

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.— A Spokane, Wash., widow, aged 42, having read that there were few divorces in Ottawa, has written to the postmaster here asking his assistance in securing an Ottawa man for a husband. Her letter reads in part:

"I was reading in the papers of you having few divorces. It speaks well of your town and country. It must be the men are good, for I have met so many men and families from Ottawa and they seem to be so nice, any of the men, to their women.

"I would like to have a husband," writes the lady, "one about the age of 45 or 50, with some means to go into the chicken business. I have a small ranch. It would make a fine home and chicken ranch, 80 acres. I would like a good business man with some means. I am a widow 42 years old. I don't want a drunkard. I like a "jolly man."

Colorado Town Is Flooded in Cloudburst; Houses Vacated

KIOWA, Colo., Aug. 5. — Practically the entire town of Kiowa was inundated tonight when the waters of Kiowa creek swelled by a cloudburst of unusual proportions, rose to the highest level in the history of the village and swept through it. Sixty of the seventy buildings in the town were damaged, most of them standing in four feet of water.

The water rose to its high level in 10 minutes, giving the populace of 250 persons little time to heed warnings. First reports were that there had been loss of life, but that the initial damage of property would amount to $10,000. Many small structures were washed into the streets and several bridges taken out by the water.

HARD COAL MEN BELIEVE CLOSE UP SEPTEMBER

Authority Voted to Call Out 158,000 Diggers if no Agreement

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 5.—Anthracite miners indicated they believed a suspension likely September 1, when their full scale committee of 40 here voted today to the subcommittee in charge of the recent fruitless scale negotiations the authority to call out 158,000 diggers if no agreement is reached with the operators by midnight, August 31.

The scale committee further anticipated an emergency by empowering the subcommittee, even at this comparatively early date, to arrange with the mineowners as the latter may desire for employment of maintenance men to keep the mines from flooding or caving in during a shutdown.

The stand J. L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, had taken as head of the subcommittee in breaking off negotiations with the owners yesterday was ratified unanimously. The indorsement was accompanied by a rising vote of "thanks and confidence."

Adjourn Meeting

After extending to the subcommittee additional authority "to meet any emergency in accord with their judgment," the main body adjourned, and frankly announced their belief that it would not meet again within the life of the working contract, which expires in 26 days.

The miners now look for no peace overtures, either state or federal, in the near future, according to a canvass of various leaders.

"We're done now," one negotiator said. "There is nothing on the boards we can see."

It was acknowledged that if the operators asked to reopen negotiations the miners would meet them, but they would assume, it was added, that "the operators must have had a change of heart."

PLAN DANDURAND AS LEAGUE HEAD

Canadian Senator Prominent as League Nations Choice

GENEVA, Aug. 5.—Senator Raoul Dandurand chief Canadian delegate is being prominently mentioned for the presidency of the assembly of the League of Nations which will begin its session here September 7.

Denmark has requested the secretariat of the league to place on the agenda for the September sessions a project for the election of a commission of conciliation at the permanent court of international justice at The Hague.

The first reaction in League of Nations circles to the Danish proposal is that it represents an attempt by neutral states to remove from the council of the League of Nations the exercise of conciliation which hitherto has formed a notable feature of the council's activities, and place it under the jurisdiction of the world court, which would appoint conciliators in any dispute.

Spanish Ship Is Reported Sunk Off the Bahama Islands

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 5.—A wireless message received this afternoon by the Palm Beach Radio corporation said that the Spanish schooner Gabriel Palmer was sunk off the Bahama Islands. The message was broadcast by an unidentified vessel giving warning to other ships to be on the look out for the crew of the sunken ship. No description of the Gabriel Palmer was given nor could the manner in which it met its fate be ascertained.

WINNIPEG IN DARKNESS AS STORM LANDS

Funnel-Shaped Cloud Procedes Terrific Electrical Outburst; Lines Down

LONDON YOUTH IS LIGHTNING VICTIM

Hail and Fire Also Hit London; Half Million Damage Is Done

WINNIPEG, Aug. 5.—A funnel-shaped cluod, such as comes with a tornado, descended over the city early this evening, and within a few minutes total darkness prevailed. It was the strangest phenomenon witnessed here in years, and was followed by a terrific electrical storm. Street lamps are out of commission, business and residential districts in darkness, except where private emergency plants were available, and thousands of frightened pedestrians made quick work in seeking shelter. The city's water supply also was cut off for a short period before the auxiliary electric pumps could be put into operation. A steam standby plant was put into operation by the Winnipeg street railway and street car service was being maintained. The storm seems to have been general throughout the province, and at 10 o'clock tonight, was continuing, with a terrific downpour of rain, vivid flashes of lightning, especially to the northwest of the city, and startling crashes of thunder.

Power Wires Down

The power wires of both the Winnipeg railway and the city's hydro system were ripped down by wind and lightning and the storm is believed to have been extremely severe at the power plants on the Winnipeg river 60 miles northeast of here. Telegraphic communication with eastern Canada was interrupted for a brief period.

So far no serious damage has been reported either to grain fields or property.

In Winnipeg the total darkness was followed by a wind of great velocity and this in turn by the biggest electrical storm of the season, chain and sheet lightning lighting up the darkened city. Within a few minutes the rain commenced and the wind carried it along the streets in miniature waves.

The storm followed three days of extreme heat.

Hail Is Reported

Reports from rural districts late tonight told of heavy rainfall and high winds but no serious crop damage resulted. Only one district, Gladstone, reported hail and it was only slight. Good rains were reported west of the city, especially in the Portage la Prairie district and a terrific electrical storm was reported along Lake Manitoba around Oak Point, but no details were available as telephonic communication was cut off.

Many stores, served by the Winnipeg hydro, in this city went back to "ye olde days" using candles to light their premises. The hydro lost several large transmission towers east of here.

In the city the rain stopped about 11 o'clock.

Winnipeg was the hottest place in the prairie provinces today, the mercury touching the 90 mark. Saskatchewan and Alberta reported temperatures ranging from 76 to 86. Regina reached the high point at 86.

Man Killed at London

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 5.—A severe electrical storm swept over southwestern Ontario late this afternoon and tonight. Reports already received tell of the loss of one life and considerable damage by fires started by lightning. In some sections where the rain was accompanied by hail, there was a great deal of damage to crops. The victim of lightning was Angus McIntosh, aged 15, who with his father J. D. McIntosh, Parkhill, Ont., had taken refuge from the rain under a tree. The father was stunned.

The heaviest loss from fire was in the city of London where the London Box company's plant and adjoining stables and lumber yards were completely destroyed, causing a loss of about $500,000. The fire was started by lightning as was also that in the Ruttle Clothing store in this city where the loss is $20,000.

Crops Damaged Chatham

CHATHAM, Ont., Aug. 5. — A severe electrical storm followed by hail swept over part of Dover township this afternoon, causing considerable damage to the crops. The corn was exceptionally hard hit.

ALIENISTS SAY SCOTT IS SANE; TO JURY TODAY

Guards Testify as to His Actions While in the Jail and Death Cell

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Russell Scott, his life at stake in a sanity hearing, sat stolcally in court today while seven guards of the death watch and four prosecution alienists told the jury they believed him sane.

After testimony of Dr. W. O. Krohn, the last prosecution expert, is put into the record tomorrow morning, closing arguments will begin.

The case probably will go to the jury late in the afternoon.

There is no appeal from the verdict. If Scott is found sane, Judge J. B. David, who issued a stay of execution on an insanity petition 10 days ago, will fix a new date for the march to the gallows. If the prisoner is found insane he will be committed at once to a state institution.

"Sane and Nothing But," He Said

"I'm sane and nothing but," a guard said he heard Scott tell a reporter. "He told me about a gambling house holdup which netted him and his brother $4500," another jailer recalled.

"He said his brother did the shooting and thought he ought to come forward and save him," said the man who took him what he thought was the prisoner's last meal.

They all believed him sane. None was cross-examined.

Four alienists all in the service of the federal or state government testified they concluded from a 15-minute observation in the jail office, in which Scott was the unwilling subject, that he was sane.

"How much do you expect for your services?"

The last three expected about $100 a day.

A guard who was questioned said Scott professed to face the future with confidence, "because he had a couple of governors working for him."

VANCOUVER, Aug. 5.—Alleged to be a confidence game man, Harry Royal of Seattle received the shock of his life today when police walked in as he was playing pool with two acquaintances. He congratulated the latter, who developed to be detectives, and charged Royal with vagrancy.

A search revealed a $200 roll of bills and another roll of paper with greenbacks on the outside. With a high-power car he brought here, he will be deported.

HOOGERWERF IS BADLY BURNED; HIGH CURRENT

Believed 2200 Volts Passed Through His Body on Vernon Street

FELL BACK ONTO WIRES FROM SHOCK

Taken to Hospital in Semi-conscious Condition; Power Was Cut Off

With severe burns on his left hand and elbow and on the right knee, the result of coming in contact with live wires, Jack Hoogerwerf, of 822 Victoria stred, a city employee, is in the Kootenay Lake General hospital. He was shocked yesterday afternoon about 4:20, while working on a pole on Vernon street, opposite the fair building.

He was alone up the pole, with Foreman E. Simpson and T. Jerome working below when A. S. Horswill, coming along the street, called to Jerome that the man up the pole was moaning. At once Simpson climbed the pole to aid Hoogerwerf, who was lying across the wires with his head hanging, and Jerome dashed off in the city work car to the substation, where he cut off all city power.

Lowered With Struggle

Quickly seizing a pair of climbing irons, he dashed back to Vernon street in the car and went up the pole to aid Simpson in bringing the injured man down. Hoogerwerf, who was in a semi-conscious condition, complicated their task of getting him down the 40-foot pole to the ground, through the leafy branches of adjecent trees, by struggling violently.

Rushed to Hospital

In the meantime Mr. Horswill had telephoned for Dr. L. E. Borden, who rushed Hoogerwerf to the hospital in R. W. Dawson's car. Dr. Borden worked on him for nearly half an hour before he revived.

Dr. Borden stated last night that Hoogerwerf had a very deep burn to the bone on the right knee, and two other severe burns on the palm of the left hand, and on the left arm, just below the elbow. However, he was sufficiently recovered to have a meal last night.

Much credit, Dr. Borden stated, was due Jerome and Simpson for their quick wittedness and prompt action in getting Hoogerwerf down the pole.

As it was impossible for J. F. Coates, city electrician, to see the injured man last evening, he is not yet certain how the accident occurred. One theory is that the climbing iron on Hoogerwerf's leg shortcircuited a wire he was handling. Mr. Coates was not able to say whether or not he had received the full charge of 2200 volts, until he should talk with Hoogerwerf.

The city power plant men were changing the wires from an old pole to a new one when the accident occurred.

In Excellent Physique

That Hoogerwerf's excellent physique no doubt saved his life, was the opinion of city electrical men yesterday. For despite the severe shock which he had taken, and although in a stage of semi-consciousness, he walked into the hospital and ward. He refused to go onto a stretcher.

Shortly after being admitted to the hospital his brother visited him, and was recognized by the injured man.

HER NERVES BETTER NOW

Received Much Benefit by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I started to get weak after my second child was born, and kept on getting worse until I could not do my own housework, and was so bad with my nerves that I was afraid to stay alone at any time. I had a girl working for me a whole year before I was able to do my washing again. Through a friend I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took four bottles of it. I gave birth to a baby boy the 4th day of September, 1922. I am still doing my own work and washing. Of course, I don't feel well every day because I don't get my rest as the baby is so cross. But when I get my rest I feel fine. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and am going to keep on with it until cured. My nerves are a lot better since taking it. I can stay alone day or night and not be the least frightened. You can use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. CHAS. PROGRESSIVES MERE LIBERAL ANNEX; MEIGHEN

Are Destined Never Again to Reach Present Power in Federal House

CONSERVATIVE HEAD SPEAKS AT NEEPAWA

Predicts Progressives Elected Will Be Able to Ride Ottawa on Bicycle

NEEPAWA, Man., Aug. 5.—Cutting short his address in a violent wind and rain storm, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen today denounced the Progressive party as a mere Liberal annex destined never to again secure as many representatives in the national parliament as they now possess. This was the third of the old fashioned picnics the opposition leader has addressed in the Manitoba province during the past week and he concludes his western tour for the present with a fourth at Shoal lake tomorow.

At Neepawa, such is a part of his old Portage constituency in which he was twice elected to parliament and once defeated, Mr. Meighen was surrounded by many old friends on his reappearance and he gave an inkling of what may be his intentions to again contest the Portage seat at the approaching election, remarking during his address that he might again have the opportunity of contesting the seat.

Hon. Robert Rogers and Donald Sutherland, M.P., also addressed the meeting from the same platform, with their leader, Mr. Rogers predicting that nothing can save the country from serious disaster except increased immigration of an agricultural element which is impossible to keep on this border under the tariff policy and vacillating attitude of the present government.

Forke Criticised

Mr. Meighen prefaced his remarks by observing that the political currents of the past few years has brought to the front a third so-called party in Canada. It was he asserted, called into being largely as a protest of the west against the failure of the Liberal party while in government to carry out certain policies pledged on its platform. The Progressives in the west were urged by their leaders not to attend political meetings where their views were being criticised, the speaker asserted and by such methods they had managed to capture most of the prairie seats. This, he claimed, showed little stability on the part of the farmer's party, since they showed they feared an open discussion. Mr. Forke, he said, only yesterday referred to him as a man devoid of constructive policies and principles, yet the same Mr. Forke he asserted, had refused to condemn the government for repudiating its platform pledges and had refused to help vote the government out of office, and asked if it were possible if one can find any distinction between the Liberal and Progressive parties today.

Never Would Be in Power

The Progressives, he said, knew if they voted the government out of office, there might be an election and some of them would lose their indemnity, and yet Mr. Forke, he said, had dared to suggest that the leader of the opposition was not constructive in his policies. He left the public to judge between them. The speaker said he would, on second thought, make a distinction between the two parties of King and Forke—that was the Liberals had been in power before and might be again, while the Progressives never had been, and never would be, any thing but a Liberal annex.

"I predict that the Progressive members elected even in Ontario at the next federal election will be able to ride down to Ottawa on a bicycle, so rapidly has the party declined."

Further, in reference to the policies and future of the Progressives, Mr. Meighen asked: "Is a party, which adheres to principles on which they are so divided and on which no candidates in two-thirds of the Dominion constitutencies will be nominated, to be regarded as having any legitimate hope of ever obtaining the administration of this country?"

He denounced what he termed the Forke-Crerar, King-Lapointe combination in politics as one of supineness and imbecility.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—Found guilty on 16 counts under the Narcotic Drug act, Dr. Ezra Herbert Adams, well-known Toronto doctor, was fined $3200 and sentenced to six months in jail by Magistrate Jones in the city police court today. The judgement as given was that he be fined $200 on each count or three months on each count, sentenced to run concurrently, plus six months on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

In sentencing the accused, Magistrate Jones said that he had used the cloak of his profession to make money improperly by trafficking in drugs.

R. M. Greer, K.C., counsel for the defence, gave notice of appeal and it is probable that Dr. Adams will be given bail pending the decision of the high court.

MISSIONARY PAPERS ONE

United Churches Decide Upon One Publication; Appears Next Month

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—The executive of the general council of the United Church of Canada, decided at a meeting today to amalgamate the missionary publications of the three Uniting churches. The Presbyterian Record, the Missionary Outlook (Methodist), and the Missionary Leaflet (Congregational), will be merged into one paper, the name of which will be decided later. The first issue of the combined paper is to appear in September. Rev. Dr. W. T. Gunn, will be acting editor in chief. It was decided that the special period from October 4 to October 18 for special services in all United churches would be followed by an appeal for assistance to carry on the enlarged work of the church.

Rev. Dr. Pidgeon reported on his trip to the Pan-Presbyterian alliance in Wales, stating that the United Church of Canada had its place in the family of Presbyterian churches in the world. Similar action by the Methodists and the Congregationalists would make a living link with those historic bodies.

NEW CONSERVATIVE LEADER PROMINENT

McGillivray Active Worker in Calgary Circles; Was Defeated at Red Deer

CALGARY, Aug. 5.—A. A. McGillivray, K.C., who was elected leader of the Conservative party for Alberta in Wednesday's meeting of delegates in Edmonton has long been prominent in Calgary Conservative circles. He has been a very active member of the Conservative association ever since he moved to this city from Stettler. In 1911 he ran on the conservative platform at Red Deer against Dr. Michael Clarke, a Liberal, and was defeated by him, although his party won the election.

Mr. McGillivray first made his name in a big cattle stealing case near Stettler; he then moved to Calgary and formed a partnership with T. M. Tweedie, K.C., now a justice of the supreme court. Recently he has figured prominently in legal actions in Calgary courts having been the crown prosecutor who sent Picarello, then Crow's Nest bootlegger and Ethel Lassandra to the scaffold for the murder of Constable Lawson of the provincial police.

At present he is the senior member of the Calgary law firm of McGillivray, Helman and Spankie.

Richard looked from one to the

"I'm most awfully sorry," he said.

Carsdale's tone.

"That's very kind of you, sir," said. "I'm awfully obliged. Of shook his visitor's hand. "I want you to feel that you can get from me what you'd have got from my late partner."

"It's very kind of you," said Richard. He hesitated a moment at the door of the elevator. "I should like to send my sympathy to Mr. Leverton's family," he said shyly. "Perhaps you'll tell me what to do?"

"Oh, to be sure, to be sure!" replied Carsdale. "This afternoon, then."

He waved his hand, and gave Richard another of his friendly and brilliant smiles as the elevator dropped, but the smile had vanished, and his face was perplexed, when he re-entered his room to rejoin Mrs. Walsingham. And Mrs. Walsingham, also reentering at the same moment, but from another door, showed him an equally perplexed countenance. Carsdale stopped, staring at her. She came straight toward him, biting her upper lip, and she inclined her head in the direction of the room which she had just come.

"Jack!" she whispered. "There's Frances Leverton in her father's private room; she came some time ago, Griffin says. And, I say, Jack—Winch, the solicitor, is with her!"

CHAPTER IV.

A Dead Man's Orders

Carsdale's first action, on receiving this intimation from Mrs. Walsingham, was to step swiftly past her, and to close the door through which she had just come, and which communicated with a general office wherein the boy Griffkin and a young lady typist were wont to discharge their tasks and to receive callers. He turned round on the secreetary with an astonished stare.

"What—here, almost within an hour of her father's death!" he exclaimed.

"I told you she is as sharp as you are," said Mrs. Walsingham. "She must have called for Winch and brought him straight here. And —why?"

Carsdale first shrugged his shoulders and then spread out his hands.

"Goodness knows—I don't!" he answered. "It seems—unseemingly. Perhaps she wants some papers—the will, it may be. Besides as you know, Leverton had his own private concerns here, just as I have mine. I can't stop her from going into her father's private room."

"No, because she's in," said Mrs. Walsingham. "And what is more, the door's locked. Griffkin heard it lock as soon as they entered."

"The door—locked?" he exclaimed. "Good God, what does that mean? That sounds mysterious."

"I should think it means that she and Winch are going through Leverton's private desk and his private safe," said Mrs. Walsingham, regarding him steadily. "What do you think?"

But Carsdale merely shrugged his shoulders again, and smiled enigmatically. He turned to the paper-littered desk behind him, and picking up Richard Shrewsbury's letter, placed it carefully in his pocket-book.

"I've already said that I can't help what she or Winch do in that room," he answered. "What's more to the point is—what do you think of the youngster?"

"That he'd better be caught young," replied Mrs. Walsingham tersely. "He's the sort that will soon grow out of the callow stage. He's no fool, Jack—only young and green. Be careful. And don't go too fast at it."

"No, no!—I think I see the way," said Carsdale. "Now, these people in Leverton's room? You'd better go back to yours, and I'll go on with my work—I want them to think that all's going on as usual. I'll leave my door open, so that I shall know when they come out—I'd give something to know why on earth came at all!"

Mrs. Walsingham made no reply to this; she picked up some documents and went away, and Carsdale having followed her out into the general office to give some orders to the girl typist, left his door open and kept an eye on that behind which his late partner's daughter and her solicitor were busied with—what? And instead of sitting down at his desk, he moved restlessly about his room, wondering why Frances Leverton should have hurried away from her father's death-bed, and come to the office in this mysterious fashion.

But Carsdale—and a few other people—knew that the business relations of Barclay Leverton and himself were peculiar. There was no legal partnership between them. It was true that their names appeared in conjunction on the list of tenants painted up in the marble-paved hall on the ground floor of the palatial building of which they occupied the top-story; that they were blazoned forth, again in conjunction, on the heavy brass plate of the swinging doors which gave admission to their offices, but the real truth was that they were only partners when it suited them both to be partners. They joined in paying the rent and the rates and the office expenses; they mutually shared the services of Mrs. Walsingham, of Miss Rousby, the typist, and of Griffkin, the office-boy. They had had business affairs in common; sometimes they had business affairs in which other men joined. But each had his own affairs, his own business; each had his own secrets. And the people who knew Leverton well, and Carsdale well, knew that each could, if he pleased, be as close and secret as the grave.

To men who had only a superficial knowledge of this establishment, the precise nature of the business carried on by Leverton & Carsdale, in conjunction or separately, was more or less of a mystery. They did not describe themselves, and were not described anywhere, as anything. In plain truth, they were agents, speculators, and dabblers of a comprehensive, all-embracing sort. They turned their brains, hands, money to anything that seemed likely to be profitable. They were adepts at promoting companies, at advising people on the investment of capital, at introducing men of ideas to men of means, at showing a poor inventor how to profit by his invention. All manner of strange and curious folk went up and down the elevator to and from Leverton & Carsdale's—some wore glad and gleeful countenances, even at the end of a year's experience of them; some began to cultivate a gnashing of teeth and a muttering of curses before many weeks had passed. There were men who hinted that strange tales could be told of the establishment, who wagged the head at the name of Leverton, and winked the eye at that of Carsdale, but in spite of that there was always a steady stream of business, and each man always seemed to be advising somebody, or engineering some important schemes for somebody else. And there were still other men who hinted—more quietly and darkly—that if anybody knew the real and inner workings of the concern, whether in its joint or its single capacities, that person was the lady known as Mrs. Walsingham, who was held to be the confidante of both men, and represented them very readily in their absence.

ST. DENIS OFF TO ATTEND THE AMATEUR MEET

Takes With Him Sid Desireau's Application for Reinstatement as Amateur

D. StDenis leaves this morning via the Great Northern railway for Vancouver where, as representative of the West Kootenay and Boundary local board of the Amateur Athletic association, he will attend the annual meeting of the British Columbia branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, which takes place in Vancouver on Saturday, August 8.

In addition to the election of officers for the ensuing year, and the reading of reports from the local boards, many matters of importance are on the agenda.

Matters of particular interest to the West Kootenay and Boundary local board will be the application of Sid Desireau of Nelson for amateur standing, as well as the reinstatement of Don McKenzie of Rossland, whose amateur card was last year withdrawn for a minor infraction of the regulations of the association.

Must Go to Higher Body

In the case of Desireau, it is necessary for the provincial board to recommend his reinstatement before any action can be taken on his application by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada at their annual meeting, which takes place in September next.

Mr. StDenis, as president of the local amateur athletic association, is familiar with all the facts regarding Desireau's application, and is hopeful of getting the recommendation of the provincial board thereon. Should such recommendation be made, it will then be necessary to await the decision of the Dominion body.

NEW FERRY ALMOST READY FOR SERVICE

The new Harrop-Longview ferry is now almost completed, and will be used for service within the next week. It has been painted, and at present the contractors are putting the machine together.

A contractor will be putting in the lighting system within the next couple of days, as they expect the goods in some time today. The craft was recently constructed at the Nelson ferry landing.

RECONSTRUCT SIDEWALK ALONG BAKER STREET

The sidewalk between Falls and Kootenay streets, along Baker street, is now being renewed. Work is being done by the city, and will cost about $200. The walk will again be of a wooden structure, eight feet wide, of two-inch planks.

Ontario Counties Accept New Road Classification

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—Final decision of all Ontario counties except Peterboro to accept the new scheme of road classification which was made available by legislation of the last session of the provincial house, was announced today at the parliament buildings.

The new classification of roads throughout the province substitute a uniform grant of 50 per cent to county roads in place of the former grants of either 40 to 60 per cent. It will mean a greater drain upon the government subsidies, Hon. Mr. Henry estimating the increase yesterday at about $250,000 annually.

'Orange Sam' and Partner Have Visit in Nelson

Two Doukhobors, with orange crowns on their heads and a sash hanging down their backs strangely puzzled many local people last night when they were seen parading Baker street at about 7:30 p.m.

The men were Eli Popoff from Thrums and Sam Konemshikoff, well known as "Orange Sam," from Grand Forks. Popoff had a crown of 21 oranges on his head and the other man had 23 oranges on his. They visited the city after visiting the Doukhobor colonies in this district.

According to the Doukhobors the men represent old-time religion, when the priests used to where golden crowns on their heads at all times.

Royal College Surgeons Will Admit Women

LONDON, Aug. 5.—British women today gained another victory in their fight for equal rights with men when the Royal College of Surgeons decided to admit women on the same terms and under the same conditions as men. Heretofore women have been admitted to the college as fellows and members but without the right to vote as members of the college for the council which is the executive body of the college.

In the future women also will be eligible for seats on the council, which right heretofore has been denied them. There are at present 13 women fellows and members who are affected by today's decision.

Chinese Operatives Now Used by Liquor Board at the Coast

VANCOUVER, Aug. 5.—The bootlegging fraternity got something of a shock today when for the first time two Chinese liquor operatives appeared as prosecutors. The accused was Ah Soo, a Chinese waitress in a local restaurant, who is alleged to have served liquor with a meal. The decision is reserved.

Liquor worth $18,000 found in the home of a business man was poured down a sewer by court order at Indianapolis.

FIRE FIGHTERS WERE LOST AT EDGEWOOD FIRE

In Shack Found Beans and Sugar; Two Days Without Food

Beans and sugar were the menu for two meals for 16 fire fighters at the Edgewood fire, who were lost two weeks ago when the fire got away, according to a report from Howard Scott, one of the fighters, who arrived in the city Monday evening.

Two weeks ago the fire was out of control near the Whatshan river, forcing the men to scatter. Included in the 16 lost men were Howard Scott, Tom Peart and James Gagnon, all of Nelson, the others, whose names were unknown by Scott, are from other parts of the district. However, they wandered farther away from the fire, and, soon were unable to find their way back to camp.

The first day they went without food, and the second day they came to a small shack where they found some canned beans and sugar, which they ate, making two meals out of the find.

It was nearly three and one-half days before they got sight of the camp, for they had wandered about 12 miles up the river. When they arrived, it did not take the half-starved men long to devour some food, as they had gone for practically two and one-half days without nourishment.

New Channel in the North No Surprise to Coast Engineers

VICTORIA, Aug. 5.—Reported discovery of a new channel from the Pacific ocean through the "panhandle" of Alaska and into the Yukon territory did not come as a surprise to experts of the provincial government geographic service here who said that the existence of this channel has been known to the officials for many years.

The tide water connection between the Yukon and the open sea is regarded as being of tremendous importance here. In view of possible development at the head of the inlet all around it was reserved by the provincial government some years ago for possible use for port purposes.

The recession of a glacier which formerly filled the channel leading into the Yukon, created about 90 miles of new tidewater it was explained. The Yukon had no outlet to the Pacific when the international boundary was fixed to cut the territory off from tide water altogether.

Woods, president of the Canadian Press and C. F. Crandall, Canadian secretary of the conference, representing Canada, and A. W. Moore, of Calcutta, representing India and various British colonies.

That "Kruschen" Feeling!

Happy youngsters — all of them!

The small ones call him Grandpa, but he might well be their young brother from the way he carries on. He's the moving spirit of the whole show. Everybody takes the cue for breathless jollity from him.

If you no longer see the fun of this sort of thing, you should take yourself in hand — you're getting old. And if you're not careful you'll be getting permanent paralysis of your powers of enjoyment.

But the trouble's not incurable. Keep your blood young, and you'll keep your heart young too. And the way to do that is through the "little daily dimeful."

Every morning you tip into your breakfast cup of coffee or tea as much of the magic Kruschen powder as will cover a 10 cent piece—a tiny, tasteless pinch. This little daily dose gently but surely expels all the clogging waste matters from your system.

Your troubles disappear — depression, headaches, nerves, indigestion, fatigue, rheumatism, and a host of other ills. Clear, vigorous blood is sent coursing through every vein. And the tonic effect of it — the tingling vitality in every fibre that we call "that Kruschen feeling" — makes a new being of you.

No other salts can do this for you, because only in Kruschen do you get the six vital salts in their correct proportion. Kruschen is gentle and pleasant both in its action and in its effects.

Go now and get a bottle of Kruschen from your druggist, and start growing younger to-morrow.

Tasteless in Coffee or Tea

Put as much in your breakfast cup as will lie on a 10 cent piece. It's the little daily dimeful that does it.

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

A 75c bottle of Kruschen Salts contains 160 doses—nearly enough for six months—which means bounding health for less than half a cent a day. The dose prescribed for daily use for adults is "as much as will lie on a 10 cent piece," taken in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea. Every druggist sells Kruschen. Get a 75c bottle to-day.

British Preference Must Not Kill Canadian Plants

The Harris Woolen Mills company, the chief industry at Rockwood, Ont., has closed its plant indefinitely. The mill was established 58 years ago. The product of the firm was recognized as of the highest quality produced in the province. High-grade suitings were the principal output.

Of late years the business had not prospered as before, the general consensus of opinion being that the British preference tariff had been too great a handicap.

So the Financial Post explains the failure of this Canadian company of long standing, operating the largest industry of its town.

When a tariff preference in favor of British goods over others of foreign make was made a part of the Canadian tariff policy, it was not the intention that British goods were to make their way in Canada by closing Canadian factories, but by displacing competing foreign goods. That in fact is largely what actually happened at first.

Though Canada obtained no quid pro quo for the preference, which Laurier sprung without notice—it is said Fielding at first refused to believe the cable giving Laurier's announcement in Britain—Canadian industries made no protest at the principle, which they loyally accepted as in the interest of closer relations with the mother country.

The preference of course lessened the protection Canadian industries had under the tariff, and when from time to time Liberal governments increased the preference, it came about that in some lines of manufacture the inadequate tariff upon British goods did not make up for the advantage the British manufacturers, who are experts upon foreign trade, had from large scale production.

One line of Canadian manufacturing that has suffered greatly in this connection is the textiles.

Another, which has been hit still worse, is that of boots and shoes. It is generally conceded that Canadian shoe plants up into the hundreds have had to close because of the removal of the protection which enabled them to hold the home market.

The majority of Canadians desire to give Empire goods the preference.

But it is equally certain the majority of Canadians, as between maintaining plants in other parts of the Empire and factories in Canada, would vote for the Canadian factories.

When the preference is so large as, taken in conjunction with other factors, to load the dice definitely against Canadian plants, forcing them in some lines to wage an unequal battle against British plants for survival, it must be considered to have passed the limit, and to be due for revision.

What the Press Is Saying

Abuse of Tolerance

Natural inclination of a democratic people is towards what they conceive as tolerance and against what they think is intolerance. Tolerance of the British people upheld the former Kaiser against Lord Roberts, their own war hero, when Roberts warned of the German menace which the pacifists scouted. Tolerance of the people of Ontario encourages "Bonne Entente" efforts between Ontario and Quebec engineered for political expediency and based on a misrepresentation of facts.—Toronto Telegram.

Candidates Balk

Miss Agnes MacPhail, our only woman M.P., has stated that the work of woman is to humanize man in order to make civilized living with him possible. It is probable that this explains her spinsterhood, in the dread of the male to go through the humanizing treatment. — Lethbridge Herald.

Coy Bathing Beauties

Bathing beauties of the movies seldom venture near the ocean at the southern California beaches. As a rule they stay high and dry, for it would be wastefulness to ruin their beautiful costumes by sumbitting them to the deteriorating influence of salt water. In real life, though, a bathing suit is used for bathing purposes.—Los Angeles Times.

To crochet a sleeveless sweater open down the front (buttoned just at hips, size 36), buy six balls of lustrafloss, and desired color, and a number four and one-half bone crochet hook about 14 inches long. Begin by chaining 84 stitches.

Row One—Insert hook in the first st., draw up a loop three-fourths of an inch long in each ch. st. till there are 84 loops on hook. Wrap, draw yarn through first loop, * wrap, draw through two loops, * repeat between * and * and till all loops are worked off. This completes one row.

Row Two—Chain one st. Insert hook under front loop of ch. between vertical sts., draw up a loop three-fourths of an inch, repeat across row. Work off loops as on first row. Row Three: Skip the first st., but draw up an extra loop at end of row. This keeps work from going bias. Repeat the second and third rows for entire sweater. When back measures 15 inches, slip st. across seven sts., work across row to within seven sts. of end, work loops off as before. Decrease two sts. each side every row, four times. On remaining 54 sts. work five more rows.

Next Row—Draw up 18 loops for left side of front. Work off as before. Increase at neck edge, one st. on every row. On the eight row of front, begin to shape armhole. Increase one st. every row four times, and a ch. of seven sts. for underarm. Continue to increase at neck edge till you have 48 sts. Work even till same as back on side seam. Starting at edge of left shoulder on back of neck, slip stitch across 18 sts., then draw up loops in the last 18 sts. for right front. Work same as left front. Sew underarm seams. Make one row of single crochet around armholes.

Border—Beginning at lower edge of right front, with wrong side toward you work one row of s. c. around entire sweater, making a st. in each st. on bottom edge, and four s. c. sts. in each loop on front edge, join with slip stitch. Chain one, turn. Continue to work in s. c. taking up back of loop of preceding row. Work till you have three rows, increasing two sts. at corner every row. Now work three button holes at lower edge of right front. Work five sts., * skip two sts., ch. two sts. Work 14 sts. * Repeat between * and * till you have three button holes. Sew three pearl buttons on left side of band, after working around sweater, two rows.

Tomorrow—Some Favorite Pickles.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

Another Discovery

The announcement of a cure for scarlet fever, which is just as effective as antitoxin for diphtheria, will come as most welcome news to everybody.

Scarlet fever has not only carried off a great many children and adults, but has also left behind it all manner of ailments that have been a source of danger and worry to patient and physician. Many cases of "organic" heart trouble can be traced to a simple attack of scarlet fever. The deafness from which so many children and adults suffer can likewise be traced back to the "running ear" which followed scarlet fever. Bronchopneumonia and acute kidney conditions often follow an attack also.

I remember a severe type of scarlet fever which was prevalent among the soldiers during the war. It attacked the heart, and although the scarlet fever ran its course in the usual manner, we were unfortunately able to tell some days ahead that certain cases would not get better. The heart simply would not respond to any treatment whatever, despite the efforts of our best physicians, who were called in consultation on these cases.

As the writer of the article pointed out, the real heroes in this discovery are men and women who permitted themselves to be experimented upon. Once the real organism was isolated as the cause of scarlet fever, they allowed themselves to become the battle ground in the war between the organism and the curative serum.

This recalls the fact that the first human being to have insulin injected into him was Dr. Banting himself. I was certainly thrilled when Dr. Best, his associate, in addressing a small gathering, told up how Dr. Banting insisted upon this as the only fair thing to do with such a new remedy.

Dr. Dochez, who has made the discovery on the scarlet fever serum, after successful experiments, handed the serum over to Prof. Francis Blake of Yale university, who likewise reports that the results have been almost invariably favorable, and that the only problem to be solved is the production in sufficient quantities.

It is said that the practical effects are startling, the symptoms disappearing within a short time, and then the recovery thereafter is very rapid. It will be a wonderful advance to have this dread ailment with its terrible complications put in the same category as diphtheria and diabetes—that is, a "controllable" ailment.

He was also charged with degeneracy, which he denied.

The fire was conquered.

MATTOON, Ill., Aug. 5.—Suicide has been found by investigators to be the most reasonable explanation of the death of Miss Cora Stallman, 48 years old, former Cincinnati teacher whose body was found Saturday in a cistern on her sister's farm.

Belief that Miss Stallman herself had written the various cryptic and threatening notes addressed to herself, and found with the body, was expressed by States Attorney Fletcher.

Six Hectic Days; Two Robberies, Is Married, Arrested

WINNIPEG, Aug. 5.—The past six days have been hectic ones for Norman Kittson, who was released from Stony Mountain penitentiary early last week. He will appear in court tomorrow on a charge of house breaking.

'Gobs' Change Food Diets of Hawaii

HONOLULU, Aug. 5. — "The battle of Oahu" may have been constructive and theoretical, and the winner may never be decided officially, but the 1925 maneuvers of the United States fleet already have had a definite effect upon the cuisine and culinary habits of the residents of the territory.

Some authority informed the professional and amateur restaurateurs of Lahaina, Island of Maui, where the ships engaged in three weeks of minor manoeuvers, that the fleet personnel subsisted entirely upon the favorite American dish of "ham and." The result was that the menu of every restaurant, old or newly built in anticipation of huge profits from shore-going sailors, consisted solely of ham and eggs, done in only one style.

Ham and eggs for breakfast; ham and eggs for lunch; ham and eggs for dinner, and in between all three — and there were no other dishes offered to appease the hunger. Most of the s[ailors] ore after one or two meals ash[ore] fled back to the ships in self-pro[tec]tion for a diet of beans.

New Cocktail

But the latest innovation is the appearance of a new cocktail, compo[sed] of milk, honey and poi, upon menus of Honolulu hotels. Ben[ny] this was a remark of Admiral Rob[ert] E. Coontz, commander-in-chief of [the] fleet, at a luaulau or native fish fe[ast] given on the beach in honor of sen[ior] fleet officers and visiting newspa[per] men.

Poi, the Hawaiian staff of life, is the Polynesian what wheat is to [the] white race. Ground from the ro[ot] of the taro into a thick paste, it [is] eaten with the fingers—or with [a] spoon in polite society.

An inquiring reporter, noticing Admiral Coontz apparently consum[ing] his poi with a relish, asked him if he liked the backbone of any Hawa[iian] meal. The answer told of the Admiral's many previous visits to the islands, his liking for poi, and added the information that the [fleet] command's daily breakfast in Hawa[iian] waters included a dish of poi with admixture of milk and honey.

"Poi, with milk and honey, a[s] Admiral Coontz," has appeared [also] on the breakfast menus of Honol[ulu] hotels.

CONSTRUCTION HEADS RECEIVE GREAT SENDOFF

Bonnington Folk Make Presentation to the Chapmans and Harris

BONNINGTON FALLS, Aug. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Harris were the guests of honor at a farewell party arranged by the employees on the construction work of the new power plant, held in the hall on Monday evening, August 3.

A. R. Defleux, chairman, said that the gathering together was to show a mark of esteem and appreciation to the superintendent of construction, G. F. Chapman, and Mrs. Chapman, and the superintendent of the rock excavation, J. G. Harris, and Mrs. Harris.

Speaking of Mr. Chapman, the chairman said that he had been an inspiration in the social life of the district, and especially in musical circles. The handsome recreation hall was built through the efforts of Mr. Chapman. Mrs. Chapman had upheld the social life of the community.

Speaking of Mr. Harris, he was always ready to help in any movement for the good of the place and, with Mrs. Harris, was the instigator of the boy scout movement being organized at Bonnington. Mrs. Harris did splendid work as lady cubmaster.

Presentations Made

The chairman expressed his regret and that of the company that the time had come for the parting of the ways, but they would always remember the goodfellowship and happy relations which had existed between them.

C. Mariatt was then called on to make the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Chapman of a handsome silver flower basket and tray.

George Hinds made the presentation to Mr. Harris of a gold watch, and to Mrs. Harris a pair of silver candlesticks.

Mr. Chapman and Mr. Harris, who were entirely taken by surprise, responded with a few well-chosen remarks.

Musical Program

Several enjoyable musical numbers were rendered. Vocal solos were given in splendid style by M. McNeil, A. Macdonald and M. Burns. W. Elsdon gave mandolin solos and Rex Devlin a reading and monologue. A dance followed, led off by Lorne A. Campbell and Mrs. Chapman. The happy event terminated with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

SIX THOUSAND AT LIBERAL PICNIC

Hon. Mr. Motherwell, Premier Oliver, Hon. Mr. MacLean, and Manson

VANCOUVER, Aug. 5.—Hon. W. R. Motherwell, federal minister of agriculture, Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia, Hon. Dr. J. D. MacLean, minister of education, and Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney-general, were the chief speakers at a Liberal picnic held at North Vancouver today, attended by between 6000 and 7000 persons.

Growing importance of the Pacific route to world markets and claims that the Liberal governments, both federal and provincial, had led the way in this development, featured all the speeches. Hon. Mr. Motherwell declared that there had been decision as to a federal election this year, and that the matter was entirely in the hands of Premier Mackenzie King.

Premier Oliver argued that Alberta and Saskatchewan were quite as much concerned in the development of the Pacific grain route as British Columbia, as this route meant a premium price on wheat and other grains that can be shipped this way when freight rates are equalized, as he predicted they certainly would be.

AVERAGE FARMER WELL EDUCATED

More Thoughtful, Wider Reader and Better Educated Than Average Man

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—Addressing a meeting of the Kiwanis club here today Hon. G. S. Henry, minister of public works and highways in Ontario, said there were a good many misconceptions regarding the situation in rural Ontario. "The average man on a farm is more thoughful, a wider reader and better educated than the average man of equal opportunity in the urban center," said Mr. Henry. "His holdings are small generally, and he can only be compared with the mechanic or small tradesmen on that basis. He has not the opportunity that the larger business man has. But the men from the farms influence the national life. The men and women from the farms come with fresh clean minds and ambition which is possibly not to be found in the boys and girls of the cities themselves. During the war when the people of the city went out to help on the farms we got closer together and there was a general rubbing down of the antagonisms. Since then, however, I regret to say there has arisen a class consciousness in the feeling in some districts that the farmer is not getting enough for his labor. Anything that you can do to break down that barrier is going to be of value to all."

Twelve Million Sequestration German Property

OTTAWA, Aug. 5. — The Canadian custodian of alien enemies' properties, Hon. A. B. Copp, secretary of state, has now in his hands more than $12,000,000, representing a balance so far realized from the sequestration of German property in Canada during, and subsequent to, the great war. What action, if any, may be taken toward the release of such sequestrated property by the Canadian government is still a question undecided, it was learned in official circles here today.

Unofficial advices just received from New Zealand indicate that that country has decided to release all German sequestrated property in New Zealand, while similar action was decided upon by the South African government some time ago.

Eighteen Millions Held

The actual total amount realized through the sequestration of German property in Canada, so far, totals approximately $18,000,000. Out of this, however, about $6,000,000 has been paid to Canadians in satisfaction of claims of war indemnities against Germany. One of the outstanding claims satisfied recently from this source was that of the Thompson Shipping company of Saint John, N.B., for $1,350,000, and the Massey Harris company in payment for two factories owned by the company in Germany and Hungary, which were seized at the outbreak of the war. For the factory seized in Berlin the company received $1,500,000, and slightly less than $700,000 for its Budapest factory.

SCORE OF ISSUES UP BEFORE CHECK

Market at Wall Street Is Weakened by Recent Brisk Advances

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. — Extensive profit-taking and bear selling apparently based on the theory that the so-called technical position of the market had been weakened by the recent brisk advance, checked the upward movement of prices in today's stock market, but not until after more than a score of issues had mounted to new high levels for the year.

Spectacular price movements took place in a few public utilities, motors and specialties. Nash Motors was run up nearly 10 points, to 433, as against a low of 381 a few days ago. Montana Power soared nearly 7 points to a record top at 93¾.

American Brake Shoe jumped nearly 9 points to a new peak at 121¼. Mack Trucks closed 3¾ higher, at 187. Stromberg Carburetor was run up more than 3 points.

American Can and Baldwin each showed net losses of about 1¼ points at 214¼ and 110¾, respectively, although the former touched a new record price at 216¾. United States Steel common closed fractionally lower at 130¼, after fluctuating within a range of a little more than 1 point.

Atlantic Coast Line was run up to a new high at 187½ after selling as low as 180, and Louisville & Nashville showed a net gain of nearly 2 points, at 117½.

Call money renewed at 4½ per cent, and then advanced to 4½.

Time money and commercial paper unchanged.

Total sales—1,691,000 shares.

PROGRESSIVES TO REGAIN IDENTITY

Such Is Feeling at Meeting of Saskatchewan Federal Party

REGINA, Aug. 5.—That the federal Progressive party should retain its identity and not be merged into any other parliamentary group was the substance of a resolution passed at the closing session of the Saskatchewan federal Progressives here today.

Adoption of the federal Progressive platform was also effected by the convention, which made one alteration. The change made has the effect of widening the application of the clause asking that the credit of the nation be utilized for the provision of intermediate and long term loans to agriculture. This plank in the platform now includes other primary industries and the development of natural resources.

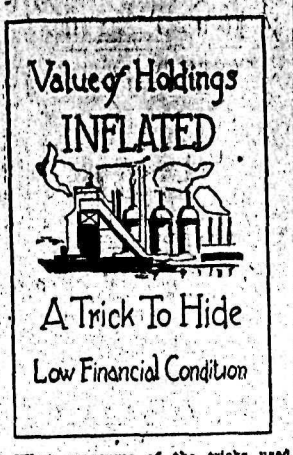
At the morning session the Progressive executive for Saskatchewan was elected. A. Baynton, Carlton, was elected president.

Railways Agree Amend Rates on Peace River Lines

EDMONTON, Aug. 5.—Both the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific railways have agreed to amend their offers in respect to operation of the Peace River lines by undertaking to give the benefit of a prairie freight rate basis for a temporary period pending the conclusion of satisfactory terms with the Royal bank.

Premier Greenfield made a statement to this effect in the legislature today. He said he had received advices from both railway companies since his statement in the house on Tuesday afternoon, but that this constituted the only new development in the situation, nothing further having been heard from the bank.

Inflation of Property Holdings Boosts Stock



What are some of the tricks used to make a balance sheet look more favorable than it actually is?

The arbitrary writing-up of increases in land value and all property holdings is one of the tricks which is sometimes used to make a corporation appear in a better financial position than it deserves.

Too low an allowance for depreciation in plant, patents, etc., is another factor which makes the report of a corporation much more attractive than it has any right to be. The old Metropolitan Street railway of New York City got into great financial difficulties merely because it did not write off its depreciation as it should have done.

If the company whose balance sheet is being inspected is a holding company, its consolidated balance sheet should be inspected; that is, a sheet which gives a summary of its finances as related to its subsidiary companies.

KING SPEAKS TO CRANBROOK ELKS

CRANBROOK, B. C., Aug. 5.—Hon. J. H. King, federal minister of public works, arrived here today from Ottawa en route to the coast. He was the chief speaker this afternoon at the Elks' flag day celebration. He will return to Ottawa next week to attend cabinet council meetings at which, he says, the question of a general election this fall or later will be decided.

Credit System Is Curse to Business State Florists

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—"We have lost more in bad debts and credits this year than in any seven or 10 years previously," said President W. T. Duggan of Brampton in opening the 28th convention of the Canadian Florists and Gardeners' association today. "The credit system is a curse to business. The florist business is in a flourishing condition, however, judging from the reports."

The convention concludes on Friday.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., Aug. 5.—His Majesty's ship Capetown, which arrived here last Wednesday from Honolulu, left today for southern British Columbia ports.

The Murphy mare also won the mile and one-eighth race in the same class in 2:22.

The feature races of the day, both in the 2:08 trotting class, were won by Ethelinda, bay mare, driven by Walter Cox. She was under the wire a length ahead of Hollywood Frisco in the first event of seven furlongs in 1:48. She took the mile and an eighth race in 2:22 2-5.

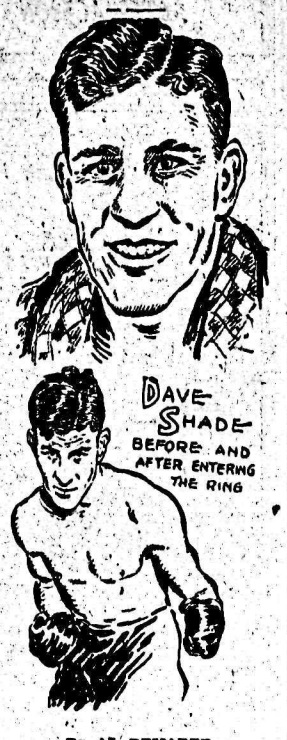
Shade Hung Sleep-Maker on Slattery



By AL DEMAREE

Dave Shade, the welterweight, while always a good, willing battler, and whose ability was always highly respected by other fighters, leaped into international fame overnight when he hung a sleep-producing wallop on the chin of the highly press-agented Jimmy Slattery a short time ago. Now he's a big card and the box fight fans are marking time and anxiously waiting the promised battle between Dave and Mickey Walker, the welterweight champ.

There ought to be enough action to suit the most blase fight follower when these two willing, aggressive glove-tossers are thrown into the same ring in the near future. Both have had to go out of their own class for matches, and both made good. Walker put up a great battle against Harry Greb, the middleweight champ, and only lost the decision after 15 gruelling rounds. What Shade did to Slattery, his heavier opponent, is now pugilistic history.

Fast Track at Windsor for Closing Day Races

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 5.—There was a fast track and big fields for the last day of the race meet at Kenilworth. R. E. Potts' Lieutenant II. won his second race in two days and established a track record. He won the Tuller Hotel handicap, today's feature, in easy style, at 1:41 4-5 for the mile and 70 yards. This is a new track record. Cockney was two lengths behind and Horologe a length and a half back in third position. The mutuels paid well. Button Bright in the second race, paid $52.50 on a straight ticket.

Albert Graff, of St. Louis, Mo., known to prize fight followers as "Kid" Alberts, recently graduated from a law course at Washington university. He followed the ring for nine years to pay his expenses at school. After working as a newsboy, he fought his first battle at the age of 14.

Paul Berlenbach, the new world's light heavyweight champion, started in athletics as a ball player, and later turned from wrestler to boxer. He is credited with scoring 10 consecutive knockouts.

DEMPSEY WILLS BATTLE CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE

Will Fight Next Year Is General Sum Up of Whole Day's Arguments

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. — The transcontinental battle of words over the proposed heavyweight championship clash between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills in 1926 waged furiously today. Verbal broadsides were turned loose in three sectors, embodying a barrage of contradictory statements, but, after being sifted, they all appeared to agree on one point — that Dempsey and Wills will climb into the ring to fight it out some time next year.

The high spots of the day follow:

Will Fight Anywhere

Jack Dempsey, Los Angeles, telegraphed Tex Rickard: "Definitely eliminating New York state as a site for the Wills match, but holding open prospect of engagement with Rickard or 'any responsible promoter' anywhere else in the country, including Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City." Asserts agreement with Rickard only verbal and tentative, and not binding in view of New York state athletic commission's attitude. Willing to fight for Floyd Fitzsimmons near Chicago, if Wills agrees.

Jack Kearns, Chicago, announces on way to New York to "iron out all difficulties with the New York boxing commission on both the Dempsey-Wills and Shade-Walker matters," that Dempsey will fight Wills only under his (Kearns') management. Difficulties with Dempsey not concerned with ring affairs, and will receive bids for Wills fight from any promoter in the world willing to post forfeit of half-million dollars up. He figures the big match will draw $2,600,000 gate.

Tex Rickard, New York, insists Dempsey will fight only under his direction and confident battle with Wills will take place in New York around July 4, 1926. Has "understanding" with Dempsey and is ready to stage battle here or in Jersey City. Brands talk of fight going elsewhere as "hot air."

BLACKBURN MAKES COURSE IN PAR

Toronto Golfer Hero at Garden City Despite Rain on Course

GARDEN CITY, N.Y., Aug. 5.—C. R. Blackburn, Toronto, turning in a perfect 73 and qualifying in fourth place for the championship rounds of the annual public links tournament, was the hero of today's performance at the Salisbury Country club. Blackburn had a total of 150 for the two qualifying rounds, taking his place in the list after Nelson Davies of Cleveland, 147; Ray McAuliffe, Buffalo, 148; and Walter Murray, St. Louis, 149.

Blackburn's feat in making par over the course was the more remarkable as a heavy downpour of rain bothered him the whole way.

Only Canadian to Qualify

The largest score in the qualifying list was 159, so that Blackburn was the only Canadian to qualify, F. Japp of London, J. Fullerton of Hamilton, and A. Bronston of Toronto scoring respectively, 173, 166 and 162.

The Toronto team, with a score of 651, placed ninth in the list for the Warren G. Harding Intercity cup, which was won by New York with 616.

The All-Women's Hockey Association of England has reduced the weight of hockey sticks from 28 to 23 ounces.

J. H. Lillico, ex-warden of Oxford county, was scalded to death by escaping steam from a threshing engine.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Tom Gibbons, who was recently defeated in a fight with Gene Tunney, at the Polo Grounds in New York city, suffered his first knockout in a ring career of 14 years.

There are 25 baseball diamonds in New York city under the supervision of the park department of recreations of the borough of Manhattan. Brooklyn has 41 park diamonds.

Walter Hagen, holder of many golf records, recently made his first hole-in-one in his long career as a competitive golfer on the links of the Worcester Country club in Massachusetts.

It is reported that Joseph E. Widener, who is now in Europe, will try to bring Manna, the Epsom derby winner, to the United States, for an international race with some American horse.

Twenty-three ball players in the major leagues come from Illinois. Pennsylvania is the home state of 22, and Texas 18. New York has 17. California 15 and Ohio and Missouri 14 each.

Howard Robins, of Springfield, Mass., won the 1925 marble championship at the third national tourney on the sands of Atlantic City, N.J. He defeated a field of 63 intercity marble champions.

Streets and avenues of Long Beach, N.Y., are to bear the names of national golf champions. Among the thoroughfares are: Sarazen avenue, Hagen boulevard, Barnes and Jones streets, Farrell fairway, Oulmet road and Forrester avenue.

During his recent visit to the United States, Paavo Nurmi, wonder runner from Finland, received offers totaling $250,000 to renounce his amateur status. Among those to make him tempting offers were a circus and several breakfast food companies.

The string of 15 ponies which Lewis L. Lacey, the Argentine polo player and captain of last year's British international team, has been playing at Meadow Brook since his arrival from South America in the spring, were sold at auction for a total of $20,250.

Three Officials of Steel Firm Resign Sake of Economy

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The New York World will say tomorrow that the Bethlehem Steel corporation with an authorized capitalization of $270,000,000, and ranking as the second largest steel corporation in the world has announced resignations of three chief officials to effect economies and avoid necessity of reducing the wages of the 10,000 day and night laborers it employs.

Archibald Johnston, a vice-president, and the right hand man of Charles M. Schwab during the war period, was the foremost to resign. H. S. Snyder, another vice-president, and William E. Tobias, general manager of purchases, were the other officers.

It was said the steel industry is in a bad way financially, and that only such economies as extreme sacrifices on the part of the officials can serious trouble be averted.

Willie MacFarlane, the new national open golf champion, was private instructor to Daniel Guggenheim for three years and to Otto Kahn two years.

ST. HELENA, Aug. 5. — The Prince of Wales, en route from South Africa to Buenos Aires, broke his long sea journey for a day or two visit here, the place of Napoleon's exile. This morning, accompanied by Governor Peel, the prince went sight seeing over the island. He paid a long visit to Napoleon's tomb where the curator presented him with a piece of the original wallpaper from Napoleon's room at Longwood. To commemorate his visit, the prince planted an olive tree near the site of the mansion.

At 6 o'clock this evening H.M.S. Repulse with the prince aboard left for the River Plate.

CHURCHILL HAS DEFENSE FOR GOLD STANDARD

Judge Government's Action by Value in Long Run, He Asks

EMPIRE WOULD HAVE ACTED

Would Have Meant Standard Dollar, Not Pound Sterling, He Says

LONDON, Aug. 5. — Britain's return to the gold standard, which, during recent weeks has drawn forth a swelling, though discordant, chorus of adverse criticism from various sources, was staunchly defended today in the house by Winston Spencer Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer.

Unquestionably, Mr. Churchill declared, the gold standard affected everything to a certain degree, and anyone could argue from that fact that everything disagreeable which had happened since the gold standard was restored was due to its restoration. But disagreeable things always were happening, he remarked. He then asked that the government's action be judged not by fluctuations occurring over short periods, but by its value in the long run.

"If England had not taken the action she did," the chancellor continued, "the British Empire would have taken it without us, and come onto a gold standard, not of the pound sterling, but of the dollar."

Entirely Unrepentant

The chancellor said he was cognizant of the growing tide of criticism and propaganda against the gold standard, but he pointed out that critics disagreed among themselves and that no political party had challenged the government to action. The government was "entirely unrepentant."

The immediate inspiration of the chancellor's statement was a speech by the Labor member, Lee Smith, who said the return to the gold standard was more responsible than anything else for the recent increase in unemployment. It meant, he declared, that in order to compete abroad, exporters must reduce their export prices 10 per cent to offset the 10 per cent rise in the value of the pound. No relief was given by a corresponding decrease in internal prices.

Criticizes Bank

Mr. Smith criticized the Bank of England and its financial allies for placing an embargo upon foreign and colonial loans, instead of taking the usual remedy—raising the bank rate. Everybody, he declared, knew that the Australian government was told to raise its money in New York, and not in England.

Mr. Churchill admitted that foreign loans had been discouraged but in consequence of lending less abroad, there was more lending at home. Capital issues for domestic purposes during the first six months of the present year, he asserted, were more than double those of last year. As for the bank rate, the chancellor said the bank officials were perfectly prepared to raise it if necessary, but it had not been necessary, nor had it been found necessary to use the large dollar credits built up in the United States as a contingent precaution.

Commends Much Gold

Many experts, the chancellor went on, had warned that Britain would be forced to make large gold exports. Preparations for that contingency had been made, but instead of having to face it, the very opposite had happened. Today the Bank of England commanded about 9,000,000 pounds more gold than it did before the standard was restored. Among other happy results were the easing of the general money rate, the establishment of equilibrium with the Australian and South African exchanges, which were on par with the pound, instead of at a premium as formerly; the action of France in basing her new gold loan on the pound instead of the dollar, and lastly, the approximate sameness in the level of wholesale prices in the United States and Britain which has come about since the restoration of the gold standard.

Coal Mine Subsidy Objectionable

"If," Mr. Churchill added, "instead of restoring the gold standard we had regulated credits with exclusive regard to the interests of England and without troubling about foreign exchanges, we should have kept our export trade continually booming at a loss until one exchange crisis after another had so undermined the national trade as to send the pound in the same direction as the old German mark."

Referring to the coal mine subsidy, the chancellor said that everybody knew it was objectionable.

"But objectionable as it is, it is greatly preferred to a veiled subsidy on exports achieved at the expense of the whole community."

GIRL GUIDES CAMP AT KOOTENAY BAY

Will Hike to Service at Crawford Bay Coming Sunday

Reports from the Girl Guides, company No. 1, Church of the Redeemer, who are camping at Kootenay Bay, are that they are all well and happy, and now settled into the routine of camp night.

The girls slept on the screened verenda of the cottage they will use as cook and storehouse on Monday night as they arrived at camp too late to get up their tents. Early Tuesday morning they put up their own tents and got the camp in order. During the afternoon they went swimming, and at night had a bonfire and singsong.

On Sunday they are invited to attend a children's service at Crawford Bay, and will hike the four miles from camp. The service will be conducted by the Rev. Chistopher Reid.

Rev. N. D. B. Larmonth, chaplain of the company, will go to Kootenay Bay today and hold an early morning service there tomorrow.

BEST NELSON FLOWER SHOW LOCAL HISTORY

Magnificent Gladioli Among Exhibits; Sweet Peas Fine

EVENING CONCERT PROVES POPULAR

Big Crowd Attends and Buys Flowers From Horstead at Finale

Beautiful flowers, including a magnificent collection of gladioli, an unusually good concert in the evening, and a bumper crowd all combined to make the annual flower show of the Nelson Horticultural society yesterday the best one ever held in Nelson.

The long table of gladioli blooms was one of the most attractive in the fair building, for the colors ranged from pale sulphur yellow through all the graduations of pink and orange to a deep crimson with the color and texture of a rose. Some beautiful white and two-color specimen were also shown.

Fletcher Wins Cup

Sweet peas, while not at their best, were very fine, and among the finest were a basket of cerise blooms, exhibited by George Fletcher, which carried off the Dick Ramsden silver trophy for the best aggregate in its class.

W. J. Sheppard exhibited some of his fine delphiniums, their blues very effective among the other colors.

Phlox were very fine, and roses early asters, and annuals, among other flowers, were shown.

Fruit and vegetable exhibits, while not as large as those of flowers, proved very interesting to the visitors to the show.

No Entries Mrs. Rutherford's Basket

There were no entries for the silver basket for the best decorative display of sweet peas grown naturally, offered by Mrs. W. Rutherford, president of the society. Mrs. Rutherford said last night that she was disappointed that this was so as her idea had been to encourage the many growers who used to exhibit their peas in the days before the habit of growing them for exhibition had been established. Her basket was not meant for the growers who cut and pruned their plants to a single stem and very few flowers, but for the grower of sweet peas grown for garden decoration.

The Woolworth basket, for roses grown from Woolworth plants, was not competed for.

Kenneth Campbell acted as chairman for the concert in the evening, and L. W. Humphrey, M.P., formally opened the show.

The city band, under Bandmaster Fred L. Irwin, played twice, and its selections were particularly well-liked.

Pleasing Program

Mrs. C. W. Tyler delighted her audience with her rendering of "Bird of Love Divine" by H. Wood, and was encored.

Miss Ruth Deschamps was one of the most popular performers of the evening, and had to respond to insistant encores to her two dances. Her balloon dance was unusually graceful and pretty.

Mrs. J. T. Andrews was recalled by the audience after singing "When Spring Comes to the Island," and gave "The Roumanian Mountain," as an encore. Both her songs were by Lohr.

She also sang with Miss Mollie Balmer, a newcomer to the concert platform in Nelson, who has a beautiful contralto voice. Miss H. Blackwood of Winnipeg accompanied them, and also played for Miss Deschamp's dancing.

Miss Margaret Allen sang the "Indian Love Song" from "Rose Marie," charmingly, and gave as an encore the "Waters of Minnetonka." She was accompanied by Miss Marian Leitch.

J. L. Bartindale was another popular member of the program, and was encored after singing "Home Along." He accompaniment was played by A. W. Idiens.

At the close of the evening George Horstead auctioneered the flowers off for the society.

Keysser Disclaims Controversy Over Cancer Discovery

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—Professor Franz Keysser, chief surgeon at St. Vincent's hospital, who on Monday expressed the belief that cancer research work done by Dr. William Gye, British cancer expert, had been based on data furnished by Professor Keysser to the British board of health, today disclaimed any desire to enter into a controversy on the priority of discovery of the cancer germ.

"What I am primarily interested in is that the science of treating cancer be advanced, and that the small number of scientists who hold theories similar to mine work together.

"It would be a fine thing if the Rockefeller institute could see its way to support us financially," he said.

SEVEN CAMPS HUNDRED MEN ON ROAD LINK

Rawlings Says Queen's Bay Road Will Be Rushed to Completion

Seven, perhaps eight, camps will be established at once on the route of the Queens Bay-Ainsworth road link, by L. H. Rawlings, of the late firm of Rawlings & LaBrash. Mr. Rawlings announced last night, an arrival from Nakusp, where he went to attend the funeral of Sam Harlow, who was killed by a falling tree.

Following the recent death of his partner, L. J. LaBrash, by lightning, near Queens Bay, while locating the first camp, Mr. Rawlings has got the work organized, and when the last camp is opened the force will be up to 110 men.

"We will work at high pressure," said Mr. Rawlings, "and will make every effort to have the road constructed before Christmas."

At Nakusp Mr. Rawlings heard Aug. 20 mentioned as the new date for the formal opening of the Edgewood-Vernon road, provided the crew on the big Fire valley fire sufficiently smothers that blaze to make the opening advisable by that date.

OVER TWELVE HUNDRED MEN FIRE-FIGHTING

Three Additional Crews Go to Beaverdell, Arrow Lakes

Forty men rushed to Nakusp to aid the fire fighters already fighting the fires caused by lightning in its vicinity; 20 men sent to supplement the crews at a fire near Edgewood, also caused by lightning; and 12 men sent to Beaverdell fire near Grand Forks, which is giving trouble; these were the most ominous signs in the fire situation in the district as reported by forestry department officials yesterday. More than 1200 fire fighters are employed by the department in the southern interior alone.

Three Forces Combine

The Mount Sophia fire, near the border on the American side near Patterson, is being fought, on that side, by 30 men of the United States federal forestry service, 16 State of Washington forestry men, and 35 provincial forestry department men. The fire is held along the international boundary, and is being cut off on the west near Colville national forest.

The situation on the Highball mountain fire in the Windermere district is given as being much improved.

The Lardeau fires, including the one at Gerrard, are being handled locally, and the department has as yet no reports on these.

Big Crew Still On

A big crew is still being kept on the Ellis creek fire at Penticton, as this at one time endangered the city's reservoir.

At Brodie, beyond the Coquihalla pass, a big fire is raging, and is being fought by a large crew.

A crew is still working on the Texas creek fire.

No reports have been received on the Ymir district, Kootenay lake, or Slocan valley fires, which is taken to mean that the crews already on these lightning fires are sufficient to keep them down.

MENLOVE FRAUD HEARING OVER

WINNIPEG, Aug. 5.—Preliminary hearing in the charge of fraud against J. F. Menlove, former director of the North Western Life Assurance company, concluded today but formal committal for trial was delayed to enable defence to arrange new bondsmen. In the opinion of Magistrate Sir Hugh John MacDonald, a prima facie case has been made out.

The hearing which lasted three court sessions, was featured by evidence that minutes in the "minute books" had been "cooked" and the alleged improper use of certain mortgages.

Francis Maber, another director will appear for preliminary hearing shortly, while the police are seeking R. F. S. McCabe, also a director who disappeared some time ago.

The charges against Menlove, "making statements with intent to defraud" followed the collapse of the company in 1924 with a heavy loss to shareholders.
