STEAMER WINS BATTLE WITH GALE

KASLO-NELSON HIGHWAY OFFICIALLY OPENED

MISS M'KENZIE CUTS TAPE AT AINSWORTH ARCH

Lieutenant-Governor Bruce Declares Highway Officially Open; Bands Play

PREMIER OLIVER PRAISES ENGINEERING WORK

Kaslo Is Host at Huge Celebration; Cherries Distributed, Memorial Unveiled

Formal opening of the Kaslo-Nelson section of the Kaslo-Nelson-Spokane highway yesterday was a huge success.

Distinguished visitors included Lieutenant-Governor R. Randolph Bruce, Premier John Oliver, and several good roads executives from the state of Washington.

Seventy cars went up from Nelson; including cars from Trail, Rossland, the Slocan and other points; 300 people reached Kaslo on a special steamer from Nelson, which also picked up passengers en route. In all more than 100 cars entered Kaslo.

Traffic arrangements along the road, at Ainsworth and in Kaslo were splendidly handled by the provincial police.

Five tons of cherries were on exhibit at Kaslo, at the greatest cherry carnival in the history of Canada.

Arches decorated the highway. One on the north shore ferry landing first attracted attention.

At Longbeach another contained the announcement that the Longbeach district had this year produced more than 27 tons of cherries.

Another arch attracted attention at Queen's Bay, while at Ainsworth, where the official opening ceremonies occurred was another beauiful arch. Visitors passed into Kaslo under other arches.

Kaslo was gaily decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting and many ranchers along the highway had displayed a similar interest in the event.

Crowds thronged the Kaslo streets all day, visited the cherry carnival, watched the water sports, attended the unveiling of the memorial to the late Colonel Kemball, and enjoyed the dance which closed the day's program.

Two bands went up from Nelson, the city band and the Canadian Legion Bugle band.

Cuts the Tape

Before approximately 500 citizens from Nelson, Trail Kaslo, and other points, Miss McKenzie, niece of Lieut.-Governor R. Randolph Bruce, cut the barrier connecting Nelson and Kaslo by the Nelson-Kaslo scenic highway, at Ainsworth yesterday forenoon. Following the cutting of the barrier, Lieut.-Governor Bruce declared the road officially opened, after which "Miss Nelson," Miss Gertrude McDonald, "Miss Ainsworth," Miss Geneva King, draped the Nelson and Kaslo banner on Miss MacKenzie. "Miss Kaslo," Miss Burgess, presented a bouquet of Kootenay flowers to Miss MacKenzie. The party, accompanied by Mayor J. A. McDonald of Nelson and Mayor Burgess of Kaslo, master of ceremonies, marched through the beautiful arch, constructed by the Ainsworth committee.

Presentation Made

Charles F. Sherwin of Riondel, assistant superintendent of the Blue Bell mine, introduced the Lieut.-Governor and Premier John Oliver to the gathering. He then presented Miss MacKenzie with a silver souvenir taken from a district mine. Mr. Sherwin gave the address of welcome, stating that the connecting link from Queen's Bay to Ainsworth, joining Kaslo and Nelson by road, would prove a great factor in the development of the country. He said this was a mining country and that he hoped the visitors would be brother miners while with them on this occasion.

Lieut.-Governor Bruce in his address declared the connecting link was a creditable piece of engineering work, and it was a great credit to the district to have such an engineering staff to construct a good road through that rocky cliffs. He said he was an old-timer of the Kootenays and it was good to see that Nelson and Kaslo were connected by such a road. If the old-timers and prospectors who scoured this country years ago came back again, he asserted, they would be surprised and interested in the building of this scenic highway between the two cities, for during their days in this country, there were only parts of wagon roads along the path which is now a highway.

Byng Sends Greetings

The lieutenant-governor announced that he had received a telegram from Governor-General Byng at Ottawa expressing the hope that the road opening would be a success. Lord Byng also stated he was sorry he was unable to attend the event.

Premier Oliver paid a high tribute to the late Hon. John Keen of Kaslo

BANDITS TAKE THE FIRE-FIGHTERS' PAY

Secure Over $1000 From 13 Men; Lock Them in Freight Car

SPOKANE, Wash., July 28.—Forest fire-fighters returning from Sand Point, Idaho, where they were paid off yesterday, reported to police that they were robbed of more than $1000 by two bandits, who held them on a freight train last night. There were 13 victims reporting their loss.

After they robbed the fire-fighters, the bandits bolted the doors of the freight cars in which they were riding and their captives were released at Rathdrum, Idaho, when trainmen heard their calls for help.

ALL CATHOLIC SERVICES NOT CLOSED, MEXICO

Marriages, Baptisms Allowed; Repentance Replaces Confession in Death Cases

MEXICO CITY, July 28.—The archbishopric issues a statement today declaring that the withdrawal of the priests from the churches as announced in the recent pastoral letter, does not mean complete suspension of religious service. Only the ceremonial rites will be abandoned. Services which can be continued without the intervention of priests are modified masses, marriages and baptisms.

It is also announced that during the cessation of the priests' activities a sincere act of repentance on the part of Mexican Catholics will be considered equivalent to the confession necessary for death and marriage sacraments. A secular may lead the worshippers in prayer, but without taking the place of the priest before the altar. Secculars may also perform marriages and baptisms.

Consider Arrests

Consideration is still being given by the government to the question of a judicial examination, leading to the formal arrest of the archbishops and bishops who signed the recent pastoral letter, if it is decided that that document constitutes sedition.

Today Mexico presented a picture, perhaps unprecedented since the middle ages of vast assemblages throughout the entire nation who crowded the churches beseeching the Divine for the release of their faith. Thousands of lighted candles in the hands of the kneeling multitudes were seen, and it was noted that women predominated among the worshippers.

Occasionally among the pilgrims was to be seen some poor cripple carried on the back of an Indian friend or relative, or propelled on a crude wheel chair, a maimed and distorted figure unable to make the journey otherwise.

MONTANA FIRES ARE SPREADING

Timber Areas Threatened With Destruction; Fighters Are Rushed to Scene

MISSOULA, Mont., July 28.—Fires scattered through the Kaniksu forest of northern Idaho and eastern Washington have spread to 6500 acres and several of the larger conflagrations are unattended, reports to headquarters of the district indicated today. The largest of these, the Sullivan lake fire, is said to be spreading rapidly. A large force of fighters today centered their attention on the Quartz creek fire in attempts to check its advance into especially valuable timber areas.

Need of reinforcements in the Kootenai forest was exhibited in messages received here today. Strong, drying winds were said to be hindering the fighters. The Ruby creek fire in this district is out of control and one new fire was reported caused by lightning.

Four lightning fires were reported today on the Helena forest near the state capital.

ONLY PERSONAL EVIDENCE HELD OUT BY DUNCAN

Evidence on Which Customs Report Based Not Tabled in House, He Says

MEMORANDUM BOOK OF CERTAIN WOMAN HELD

Referred to Private Life of Woman Secretary of Bisaillon

MONTREAL, July 28.—The Montreal Star today carries the following special:

"In view of the discussion on the political platform and in the newspapers as to the Duncan report on investigations into the customs department and the conflicting allegations that are made, Inspector Walter Duncan, special investigating officer, was asked today for a clarified statement as to whether anything was suppressed, and if so, what it was.

"'I was detailed,' he said, 'to make an investigation into the administration of the customs, and I did so. I seized papers and documents in the office of J. E. A. Bisaillon, chief preventive officer of the district and I summoned and examined on oath officials who, I thought, were in a position to throw light on the question. The evidence was taken and transcribed, I submitted, first an interim report and afterward a fuller report. Both of these reports were produced before the committee of the house that investigated the customs department and were read into the record of the inquiry. Nothing they contained was suppressed or debated, but the evidence comprising 319 pages, upon which the reports were based, was not read into the record, although it was tabled in the house. The exhibits were also tabled.

Notes in Shorthand

"'What I did not produce before the committee and what was not published was a memorandum book of a certain woman. The notes in the book were in shorthand. I had them extended.

"'They referred mainly to the private life and personal relations of this woman rather than bearing upon the customs department.

"'That was not produced. The reports I made are in the committee's record completely as I made them.

"'As I stated, the evidence I took in Montreal is not a part of the committee's record, but it was produced and tabled in the house. What all the clamor is about, I surmise, is the diary of the woman. I have it in my possession. I did not submit it to the committee because it dealt with the personal affairs of this woman rather than with what I was investigating.

Seized in Office

"What I did not produce before the committee, and what was not published was the memorandum book of a woman secretary to Bisaillon." said Mr. Duncan.

"They referred mainly to the private life and personal relations of this woman.

"I also seized in Bisaillon's office a quantity of very lewd literature. This was not produced.

"As I stated, the evidence I took in Montreal is not a part of the committee record, but was produced and tabled in the house.

"What all the clamor is about, I surmise, is the diary. I have it in my possession. I did not submit it to the committee because it dealt with personal affairs of this woman."

FIND SECRETARY'S BODY IN RIVER

CABRI, Sask., July 28. — The body of Paul Coughlin, former secretary of Lacadena rural municipality, was found in the South Saskatchewan river, 15 miles from here, yesterday. Coughlin disappeared March 25, following the closing of the municipal offices.

Two More Persons See Monster in Okanagan Lake

VERNON, July 28.—Stories about the existence of a monstrous sea serpent in the Okanagan lake gained further support today, as positive evidence was forthcoming from two sources that the reptile has been seen disporting in the waters of the lake.

The presence of the serpent was first noticed by Mrs. Jervis, a visitor here from Kelowna. She was sitting near the wharf at Cameron's point, when there was a sudden commotion in the water. The woman states she clearly saw the slimy snake-like form describing three distinct arcs. "It looked something like the portions of three automobile tires," Mrs. Jervis said.

H. C. Dalseils, a resident at Cameron's point, was attracted by the splashing in the lake. He corrobrated the woman's story, adding that both had shouted to see if the monster would not raise its head from the water. Instead of doing so, the serpent submerged and disappeared.

KEEP THE HOME MARKETS STRONG URGES MEIGHEN

Bogus Talk of Constitution Is Side Issue, Declares Premier at Charlottetown

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., July 28. —"I want to say this: That the people of Canada are more interested in the honest administration of their affairs than in any bogus talk of the constitution."

So Premier Meighen disposed of the constitutional issue here tonight.

The prime minister crossed over from Pictou this morning and his day was a day of traveling and speaking. A few moments after tht boat arrived at Charlottetown, he was on his way to Georgetown, where, in a sweltering heat, he visited a crowded hall. Tonight he visited two meetings in Charlottetown. Tomorrow he speaks in Summerside.

The prime minister submitted his views on the tariff as he submitted them in other places in the maritime provinces. Referring to the agricultural problems of the island, he announced the intention of this government, if returned:

1—To encourage cooperative marketing.

2—To put the Canadian tariff on farm products from the United States as high as the United States tariff on Canadian farm products.

King Refused to Help

Mr. Meighen, in Charlottetown, went in considerable detail into the customs inquiry and events which led to the resignation of Mackenzie King as premier, and the formation of the present government. He declared that all oaths had been taken by his acting ministers as were ever taken by acting ministers.

Mr. Meighen emphasized the point that when Mr. King announced his resignation "he refused my suggestion that, before resigning, we ought to take some steps, together, to try to finish the work of the session. We were anxious to get what legislation there was through. This he spurned scornfully. He never entertained it for a second."

Mr. Meighen charged that after the customs probe a cloud had hung over the King government as black as any which ever hung over any administration, and Mr. King was looking for any issue rather than the report of the customs committee. Mr. King had argued that the term censure would not be found in the Stevens amendment to the customs report. "The word censure is itself not used," caustically added Mr. Meighen, "but the words of the amendment are as plainly words of censure as were ever addressed to any government in the history of parliamentary institutions."

Mr. Meighen, in discussing tariffs, urged the importance of the home market. "Keep your home markets strong at all costs," he pressed. "Stand by a sound protective policy reasonably and consistently applied."

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 28. — Crushed beneath two logs which fell upon them from the deck of the freighter City of Victoria, while they were working on a boom which was being loaded onto the vessel, H. Erickson was instantly killed, and Kosma Vergin was seriously injured late today. Both Vergin's legs and one arm were broken, the latter member having to be amputated in the hospital.

GOVERNMENT TO BATTLE POISON LIQUOR RING

All Unnaturalized Foreigners Must Be Registered; Prevent Reoccurrence

DEATH TOLL IN EAST HAS REACHED FORTY-ONE

Distributor Charged Murder; Will Reveal Higher-Ups in the Affair

TORONTO, July 28.—The Dominion government today entered the "fight to a finish" which has been declared against bootleggers following the deaths of 18 persons in western Ontario, presumably as the result of the flooding of the area with poisonous alcohol. The cooperation of the federal authorities was promised in a telegram received here this afternoon from the deputy minister of customs.

It is indicated that the assistance of the Dominion government is to be sought in an effort to prevent a reoccurrence of the tragedies. As a result of the investigations of the past few days it was stated today that the Ontario government would ask that federal legislation be passed compelling the registration of unnaturalized foreigners. It was intimated that the probe has shown the liquor traffic to be almost entirely in the hands of foreigners.

Inquests into two of the 18 deaths were opened in Toronto tonight, but no information which might aid in uncovering the source from which the poisonous liquor originated was gleaned.

Will Reveal Higherups

BUFFALO, July 28.—Announcement by attorneys for James Voelker, alleged poison liquor distributor, that he would tell all he knows about the ramifications of the ring with which he did business featured developments today in the investigations of the alcohol situation here. The death toll resulting from the sale of 3500 gallons of alcohol said to have been shipped here from New York as pure grain alcohol mounted to 41.

Voelker was arraigned on a charge of first degree murder and pleaded not guilty. He was remanded to jail without bail.

Meanwhile authorities announced that they knew the identity of two "higherups" in New York City from whom Voelker purchased the alcohol he sold. They said arrests they expected to make momentarily might involve members of the ring supplying western New York and part of Ontario with illicit alcohol.

Nearly thirty arrests have been made in Buffalo, Lockport and border cities since the investigation began.

Four Dead

JAMESTOWN, N.Y., July 28.—Four deaths in Jamestown or vicinity in the past 24 hours have been attributed to bad liquor by the authorities and fear was expressed in official circles tonight that some of the poison liquor that has taken heavy toll of lives in Buffalo and vicinity may have found its way into Chautauqua county.

CLEVELAND, July 28.—Fred Reynolds, 41, died today and his wife, Mrs. Anna Reynolds, was in a serious condition, the result, the police said, of drinking poisoned liquor. Police declare the liquor was brought from Buffalo by Mrs. Reynolds.

BEAUBIER WILL BATTLE FORKE IN BRANDON

Norwegian Swimmer Starts on Attempt to Swim the Channel

CAPE GRISNEZ, France, July 29.—The Norwegian swimmer, Olaf Farstad, in his attempt to swim the English channel, entered the water at 10:43 o'clock Wednesday morning at this point.

BOY DIES WHEN HIT BY TIMBERS

Democrat Crashes Into Judges' Stand at Alberta Race meet; Man Hurt

CALGARY, July 28.—One boy is dead, a farmer lies in the hospital at Trochu in a serious condition and a third person received more or less serious injuries when a democrat crashed into the judges' stand at the stampede at Three Hills this afternoon.

John Bowhay, 18, was killed almost instantly when pinned beneath heavy flying timber. Arthur Davis, a farmer of Three Hills district, on the stand, was thrown heavily to the ground, sustaining a concussion which necessitated his removal to hospital. David Whiteworth, a judge, was taken to his home suffering from injuries and a severe shaking.

Blinded by impenetrable dust and racing wildly out of control the democrat had demolished the stand before the crowd realized what had happened. The driver of the outfit is not known.

LAPOINTE ASKS THAT LOG-BOOK BE PRODUCED

Denies Emphatically the Sail of the Ship Margaret From Quebec

QUEBEC, July 28.—Hon. Ernest Lapointe, ex-minister of justice, has sent the following message to Premier Meighen:

"Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, New Glasgow:

"Re my telegram dated July 24 concerning statements by A. J. Doucet. Canadian Press reports Mr. Doucet as stating now in the presence of the prime minister at his meetings that log-book of S.S. Margaret indicates that one Mr. Lapointe and party boarded ship at Quebec on that famous alleged trip. I went therefore to customs department and requested acting minister to secure this book so that I could see basis on which such calumny was submitted. He told me that log-book is on the ship. I state again that I never traveled on the S.S. Margaret. As an act of an elementary fairness I ask you to instruct that said log-book be sent to Quebec immediately and that I should be authorized to see it in the presence of customs agents or any other officer. I am sending this wire to prime minister, acting prime minister and acting minister of customs. (Signed) Ernest Lapointe."

RUDDERLESS, IT RIDES STORM ON FLORIDA COAST

Damage Inland in High Millions; Wave Passes Off Near Jacksonville

TWO LOSE LIVES; SHIPS REPORTED AGROUND

Georgia Now in Direct Line of the Gale; Miami Suffers Heavily

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 28. — The West Indian hurricane that has raged along the coast of Florida since Monday passed off the coast near Jacksonville late today and advanced toward the Georgia boundary. It was expected to strike the coast near the Georgia line.

The storm took only two lives as it passed up the Florida coast, but it caused property damage estimated in the millions, for Palm Beach's loss was estimated at $1,000,000; that of Stuart, Fla., at $250,000; and Miami's at $100,000, in addition to damage to shipping and crops at scores of places.

Rescue of the Italian freighter Ansaledo San Giorgio Secundo was reported through a radio message to St. Augustine, Fla. Despite a disabled rudder the Ansaledo rode out the storm.

Since early Monday its crew had fought heroically against the force of the hurricane, which caught the ship as it came up the Florida coast. There is a crew of 25 men aboard the Ansaledo.

Facilities Restored

Reports of damage where the storm had passed came in as crippled wire facilities were slowly restored. A message from Nassau, via Miami, fixed the damage there at $5,000,000.

A message received by the Munson line in New York from a steamer at Nassau said that place was wrecked by the hurricane.

Miami's damage was principally to the pear crop. Palm Beach lost more than a score of yachts and small craft, which went down when a pier gave way.

Rum Runner Ashore

A rum running vessel was reported asore several miles north of Ormond. One man was killed in Sanford, Fla., where a tree crashed into the bunk house and crushed the cot on which he was lying. Small craft anchored in the yacht basin in Lake Munro were damaged and shipping officials said the injury to celery beds was heavy, and that seed would have to be replanted.

At Lake Alfred, near Winter Haven, the engineer and fireman of an Atlantic Coast line train jumped to safety in a lake as the engine left the track. An Atlantic Coast line passenger train struck a bus and then collided with a switch engine at Orlando, resulting in the death of Engineer Liga and the injury of several passengers.

SICK ABED EIGHT MONTHS

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Could Do All Her Work and Gained in Weight

Melfort, Saskatchewan. — "I had inward troubles, headaches and severe pains in my back and sides. I was so sick generally that I could not sit up and I was in bed most of the time for eight months. An aunt came to visit and help me as I was unable to attend to my baby and could not do my work. She told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking two bottles I could get up and dress myself. I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. When I first took the medicine I only weighed seventy-eight pounds. Now I weigh twice as much. If I get out of sorts or weary and can't sleep I always take another bottle of the Vegetable Compound. I find it wonderfully good for female troubles, and have recommended it to my neighbors. I will be only too glad to answer any letters I receive asking about it."—Mrs. WILLIAM RITCHIE, Box 486, Melfort, Saskatchewan. C

RATIFICATION OF DEBTS IN OCTOBER NEXT

So States Poincare; Finance Bill Approved in Principle by Committee

FRENCH FRANC IN ANOTHER SLUMP

Finance Committee Throws Out Socialist Restoration Plan; Poincare Shows Power

PARIS, July 28.—Ratification of the Washington and London debt agreements must wait until the chamber of deputies convenes in October. This Premier Poincare made clear to the finance committee of the chamber when he appeared before that body today to urge the passage of the financial bill.

M. Poincare gave no inkling as to whether he favored or opposed the accords, but said that the financial bill was the more important, and that parliament lacked time to open a long discussion which undoubtedly would follow the introduction of the ratification bills.

The finance bill was approved in principle today by the finance committee 20 to 12 and six absentions. The separate articles met with sterner opposition, one of them, No. 4, dealing with the tax on railroad passenger and freight rates, being defeated.

This only gave the premier an opportunity to show what a strong hold he has on the deputies, when, after he had discussed the matter briefly before the committee, the members reconsidered their decision and adopted the article 18 to 2.

Franc Slumps

The franc slumped despite the fact that the French parliament had expressed its confidence in the government and the public was responding to the premier's appeal for advance payments on the 1926 taxes. Opening at 39.89 to the dollar and 194 sterling, the franc fell steadily until noon, when it was quoted at 41.78 and 203. The official closing was 42.09 to the dollar and 205 sterling.

The finance committee threw out the Socialists' restoration plan, as opposed to that of the government. The Socialist members of the committee voted against the government throughout, but were always in the minority.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

FOR THE PICNIC TABLE

One Mother says:

Nell's arrangement of our picnic table gave it a gala appearance. She drew a saucy face in the bowl of each paste board spoon. Then it was dressed up in a paper napkin and this was held upright over the paper cup of lemonade so placed as to prevent blowing away. Each diner was greeted with a smiling face atop a fancy dress which resolved itself into spoon, napkin and lemonade cup.

stating that the country owed a great part of its development to the work of the late Mr. Keen.

In speaking of the Nelson-Kaslo scenic highway connecting link Premier Oliver stated it now connected Kaslo, not only with Nelson, but direct through British Columbia highways to Vancouver, and even further north to a point in the Yukon.

Praises Road Work

He stated the engineering work on the Nelson-Kaslo connecting link was wonderful, and that Hon. J. H. King deserved the credit for having conceived the plan of establishing efficient highway engineering staffs in the province, and that they were building good roads. It was not an easy task to build a highway wherever the people wished for there were 40 electoral districts to deal with, represented by 48 members in the house. If the people wanted to realize the cost of building a road from Kootenay Bay to Kuskanook, he said, all they had to do was to ask an engineer the approximate cost of constructing it and then multiply the cost by 40, the number of electoral districts. He stated the finances of the province were in first class shape now, and that the revenue balanced the revenue expenditure.

Band Does Its Share

During the opening ceremonies, the Nelson city band rendered several selections, some of which were "O Canada," played just after the barrier was cut, and previous to that they played "God Save the King," as Lieut.-Governor Bruce, Premier Oliver, Mayor McDonald and the others of the party marched through the crowd to the barrier arch.

Following the ceremonies the multitude of passengers swarmed down to the special boat on their way to Kaslo. The cars left Ainsworth in procession and kept a continuous line of automobiles pouring into Kaslo for some time.

ENGINEER PENSION FUNDS ARE GROWING

WINNIPEG, July 28.—From a nucleus formed by 10 delegates back in 1863, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has grown into one of the strongest labor organizations in the world, it was disclosed from their convention in session here.

The pension fund which shows a surplus of several million dollars is rapidly mounting, according to reports issued today. The brotherhood provides insurance for its members at low cost.

KING CARRIES CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUE, ONTARIO

Says Laurier's Dissolution Was Different From That of Premier Meighen

ST. MARY'S, Ont., July 28.—Driven from a park by rain, the crowd which gathered today to listen to Rt. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, divided into two indoor meetings. Mr. King addressed both meetings, assisted by Hon. J. C. Elliott, former minister of labor, F. G. Sanderson, Liberal nominee for South Perth and Thomas MacMillan, former member for South Huron.

Premier Meighen had said that the parliament of 1911 had been dissolved by Sir Wilfrid Laurier just as the recent parliament had been dissolved. "I wish he would talk less about Sir Wilfrid and learn more about him," declared Mr. King, who pointed out that in 1911 the senate was not sitting at the time of dissolution but when both commons and senate are sitting, the representatives of the crown should dissolve parliament formally.

What would the people of the old country think if one member of parliament formed a temporary government and then advise the King to close the doors of parliament and then ruled as a dictator over domestic and foreign affairs for two weeks.

"Are we in Canada going to take any less in the matter that the people of Great Britain?" asked the Liberal leader.

"If we are going to be self-governing we must show the world that we prize the right of self government."

Pays Tribute

Mr. King, in opening paid a tribute to Mrs. J. C. Gardiner, mother of the premier of Saskatchewan who was present. Mrs. Gardiner had given four sons to fight in France, two of those had been killed and two wounded. Mrs. Gardiner, recently widowed, had driven 10 miles alone today to be present at the meeting. "That is the kind of stuff Liberals are made of," said Mr. King, who recalled in a few words the memory of his own mother. When Mrs. King was an invalid and dying she had told him to go into the campaign of 1917 to assist Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The Liberal leader denied having tried to avoid a vote of censure. "I was not asking the governor-general to retain office. I was taking the only honest course. Unless the business was to be carried honorably we should go to the country and let the people decide."

Mr. King discussed customs problems.

What of Alcohol

Mr. Meighen had said that Mr. King had permitted germ infested prison made garments to enter Canada. "While he was speaking, poisonous liquor was being smuggled into Canada with the result that many are dead today from drinking it," said Mr. King, pointing out that there were two forces, provincial and federal, to combat this traffic.

"I know how serious the problems are," said the Liberal chief. These were matters upon which men should get together.

"I do not believe the people were satisfied with the investigations of one judge down in Quebec," Mr. King added. "Where we need that investigation is in Toronto, in the Niagara district, right here in Ontario, where all this poisonous liquor has come in."

Mr. King repeated his promise of three judges to probe customs affairs from coast to coast if the Liberal government was returned to power.

Budget Was Good One

Speaking on the Robb budget he said, never had greater reductions in taxation been made in any budget since confederation. The government had cut down by $100,000,000 the burden of taxation upon the people under the Conservative government 1920-1921. 'Better times are here."

RECEIVER NAMED, HOWLAND, WALTZ

Carmichael Named Receiver for Company Formerly Operating at Kaslo

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 28. — Representing himself and all other bondholders, A. C. Black of Minneapolis, through his counsel, Knox Walkem, today obtained from Justice MacDonald, in supreme court, an order appointing W. K. Carmichael, chartered accountant, Vancouver, to be receiver of Howland & Waltz company.

The company operated in British Columbia and Minneapolis and conducted lumbering at Kaslo. It had been shut down for about a year there, and Black alleged there had been default in payment of interest on the bond issue of $350,000 for several years.

The company's assets include a large land grant, about 120,000 acres, which it took over from the Kaslo & Slocan railway.

The receiver is required to furnish a bond of $5000 and has been given power to borrow $20,000 on his certificates. This money is needed to meet timber licence fees and taxes.

'THE SCAR'

Ruby M. Ayres

CHAPTER LXVIII

Miriam laughed, without much mirth.

"You've soon made up your mind. I suppose I behaved like a fool last night, telling you; but I seemed to go mad when you came into the room and—looked at me like you did, as if you'd suddenly discovered I was—dirt!"

There was a profound silence, which Mark broke harshly.

"I'll give you five hundred a year, if you will undertake not to use my name and—keep away from me."

A gleam of eagerness filled her eyes, but she shrugged her shoulders and laughed.

"I've learnt never to trust any man's word," she said bluntly. "It'll all have to be fixed properly."

"I will see my solicitor and get it properly arranged."

Her handsome face grew sullen.

"You are mighty anxious to be rid of me," she said, and then under her breath she added: "it was different a night or two ago."

Mark caught his breath sharply and the dull blood rose to his face.

Miriam watched him with an odd sort of jealousy. She had no spark of love for him, indeed she had always disliked him for what she chose to call his "superiority," but she was most unwilling to let him go so easily.

"I'm your wife right enough, then all's said and done," she broke out.

Mark clenched his hands.

"I'm not denying that," he said hoarsely. "I'm willing to do what is just and right."

Miriam's red lips curled.

"There's no need to get up on the pulpit," she said scornfully. Then suddenly she put out her hand and caught his, turning his wrist so that the ugly scar was visible. "I reckon I left my mark on you right enough, 20 years ago," she said. "You can kick me out of your life, but you'll find it a job to forget me as long as you've got that!" and she laughed triumphantly.

Mark dragged his hand from her; his eyes were blazing.

"If you want me to kill you——" he began thickly.

She shrugged her shoulders.

"I don't particularly care; my life's never been such a paradise that I mind getting out of it."

Her voice quivered, and she walked away to the window overlooking the street.

Mark controlled himself with an effort, but his voice was shaken when presently he spoke again.

"Perhaps for the present you would like to stay on here till I can make definite arrangements. I want you to be as comfortable as possible. You will be free to live where you choose, of course, provided——"

She turned on him savagely.

"Oh, for God's sake shut up!" she broke out violently. "I'm sick of being preached at. You men are all the same—all right to a woman like me as long as it suits you to be, and then you start preaching. The gilt's off the gingerbread, and we're not ladies enough to suit your fine tastes; even—he was the same at the end!" Her voice broke hoarsely, and her eyes grew tragic. "He started trying to teach me manners—me!" She laughed wildly. "He told me I ought to try and be a lady like his wife was." She ground her teeth in bitterest jealousy. "His wife! He always threw her up at me when we quarrelled—he knew I hated her."

Mark frowned impatiently.

"Bishop was never married," he said curtly. "He may have told you that he was, but I knew him better than you did, and——"

She broke into shrill laughter.

"Better than I did! You never knew anything about him except what he chose to tell you. Not married! That's all you know! He was always cleverer than you—he hoodwinked you from first to last. I say he was married! Don't I know? Don't I hate the sound of her name?" She drew in her breath with a hissing sound of passion. "Like a name out of a story-book—'Mary Silver!' God! if ever I meet her——"

She broke off hoarsely as Mark gave a strangled cry. His face was livid; he caught her by the arm with merciless fingers.

"Say that name again—say that name again."

She cried out as his grip bruised her flesh; she tried desperately to free herself, for Mark's eyes were blazing with madness.

"That name!—say that name again!" he panted.

She shrank from him in terror; she thought he was going to kill her; she sobbed with fear as she answered him.

UNVEIL TABLET IN MEMORY OF COL. KEMBALL

Lieutenant-Governor Unveils Tablet; Major Anderson Tells History

WREATH DEPOSITED ON WAR MEMORIAL, TOO

Bugle Band Plays Last Post at Ceremony in Connection With Kaslo Celebration

In the presence of a huge gathering of people from Nelson, Trail, Rossland, Slocan and other points, and before about 40 parading members of the 54th battalion standing at attention, Lieutenant-Governor R. Randolph Bruce, after making a short but brief address, untied the ribbons which held a large Union Jack flag over the memorial tablet in memory of the late Col. A. H. G. Kemball, commander of the 54th oversees battalion, who was killed in action at Vimy Ridge on March 1, 1917. The unveiling was part of the program of the opening of the Nelson-Kaslo scenic highway. As the flag was unfurled three members of the Canadian Legion Bugle band, Buglers Dave Wade, Spurgeon Langill and Fred Hartwig, and Drummers Sid J. McDonald and Claude Miller, sounded the "Last Post" in wartime style. A feature of this roll was that Spurgeon Langill was among the buglers who sounded the "Last Post" at the funeral of the late Colonel Kemball near Vimy Ridge in March, 1917.

Originated in England

The idea of the memorial tablet was originated among a number of 54th battalion men at Seaforth, England, in 1918, when a subscription list was opened and funds subscribed. Major Hicks, formerly of Cranbrook and now of Vancouver, was among those who took a lead in the matter. Close friends of the deceased also subscribed to the funds.

Major Gilbert Anderson, also of the 54th battalion, of Nelson, stated the crowd had met to honor the memory of one of the most distinguished Kaslo citizens, the late Col. A. H. G. Kemball, D.C., 54th Kootenay battalion, C.E.F. He stated the occasion was of great interest to all returned men, and especially to those who served in the 54th battalion. Major Anderson asserted that the 54th Kootenay battalion was completely organized and officered, but most of those units were broken up in England and the identity temporarily lost.

Fate on several occasions threatened the 54th Kootenay battalion with extinction, said Major Anderson, and it was only for the personal influence exerted by Col. Kemball that the calamity was averted, and, he said, they proceeded to France as a unit of the 11th Brigade. He stated that this spirit shown for the welfare of the officers and men of his command naturally caused him to be held in the highest esteen. Major Anderson said that all ranks regarded the late colonel as a friend at all times, and a councillor of experience when in need of advice. He declared that the colonel knew how to fight, and he laid down his life on the battlefield in unselfish devotion to his duty, King and country.

Following the unveiling, Rev. David F. Cowie of Kaslo read the memorial prayer, after which the bugle band sounded the "Retreat."

Mrs. Kemball Wires

A telegram was received from Mrs. Kemball, wife of the loved late colonel, stating that it was impossible for her to attend the unveiling, but thanked the 54th battalion and citizens of Kaslo and all others for the kind appreciation shown by them to her late husband.

The veterans paraded with the bugle band to the Kaslo war memorial erected to the boys of Kaslo who died in the great war. The lieutenant-governor placed a wreath on the monument as the buglers and drummers sounded the "Last Post." One minute of silence was givein in honor of the fallen heroes.

NEARLY THOUSAND CROSS ON FERRY

During Day 234 Autos Cross to North Shore; Nearly All Went to Kaslo

From 7 a.m. yesterday morning until midnight last night 234 cars were transported across Kootenay lake by the Nelson ferry.

There were 968 people transported. But if the average load of a car be taken as four, it means that 936 of the total 968 people on the ferry were participants in the celebration. But these people went and returned, so that probably 468 Nelsonites went to Kaslo yesterday.

VICTORIA, July 28.—Sales of liquor in British Columbia government stores during the six months ending March 31 last totalled $6,610,943, according to official figures issued at the attorney-general's department today.

This brought the total sales for the yearly period up to the end of March to $13,428,247. Profits for last six months' period amounted to $1,780,668, and for the previous six months $1,551,265, new figures show.

In the last six months' period, beer licences purchased from the government amounted to $900,000. The figures compare favorably with the corresponding figures of last year.

NELSON BANDS MAKE GREAT HIT

Both City and Bugle Bands Make Hit at Road Opening and Cherry Carnival

Nelson city band and the Canadian Legion Bugle band of Nelson took active parts in the program of the official opening of the Nelson-Kaslo scenic highway and the big Kaslo cherry carnival yesterday. Both bands made the trip and return on the special excursion steamer and provided much amusement and fun for the pleasure seekers.

The city band played during the opening ceremony of the highway at Ainsworth, staged band concerts at Kaslo, played during the aquatic sports, and rendered many selections in front of the armory at Kaslo for the benefit of the cherry carnival.

As usual the bugle band was the "kick." It played at the Ainsworth landing both before and after the official opening ceremonies of the highway, paraded for the unveiling of the late Col. A. H. G. Kemball's tablet, and staged several parades around the streets. Their humorous song numbers and comic street marches kept the celebrationers in laughter.

SUMMER SPORTS DO WELL, TRAIL

Both Soccer and Football Should Break Even at End of Present Season

TRAIL, July 28.—Representatives of soccer and baseball tonight forecasted reasonable chances of completing the season with an even financial balance, if not with a credit, when they were acquainted with their present financial standing in T.A.A.A. executive committee meeting in the Memorial hall. C. J. Minton, president, presided.

There were present P. McIntyre, vice-president; J. R. McLennan, treasurer; W. Brown, secretary; E. Mason, Trail Football club, and J. Vanatter, baseball representative.

Football Has Deficit

Statements submitted by Mr. McLennan showed that the football club has a deficit of $71. In explanation, Mr. Mason explained that of $100 granted to the club, $75 had been spent on the junior club for equipment. It would last several years. Actual deficit chargeable to the senior club was but $21. With the gate receipts of nine games to be played in due time, he foresaw a credit balance at the end of the season.

Ball Deficit Less

On senior baseball it was shown there was roughly $50 deficit. Mr. Vanatter explained that the three games still to be played in the league would occasion Trail small expense, two of them being home games and one a Rossland feature. The gate receipts should amply cover the deficit without taking into account two exhibition games planned.

MANY ATTEND LECKIE FUNERAL

Trail Turns Out Strong to Pay Last Respects to Well-known Athlete

TRAIL, July 28. — With an extraordinarily large number of mourners attending the last rites over the body of Jack Leckie of Binns street, victim of Sunday's drowning accident of Castlegar, were performed here this afternoon.

The funeral service was conducted at 5 o'clock by Rev. Father F. X. Teck, parish priest in St. Francois Xavier church, where several hundred people were congregated.

Afterward, a procession extending for three city blocks followed him to the cemetery. At its head was a body of machine shop employees of the smelting company, with whom the late Mr. Leckie formerly worked. They included practically every man off shift. They were followed by many of Mr. Leckie's former football associates, who attended at their own request.

A large representation of Trail Caledonian society, with which Mr. Leckie had been associated since its organization, came next, led by its president and past presidents.

Ex-Servicemen Out

A similarly large body of ex-service men immediately preceded the flower-wreathed hearse. They were mainly members of the Trail branch of the British Empire Service League of Canada and former members of the Great War Veterans' association, of which Mr. Leckie was one of the first Imperial members. Twenty automobile loads of mourners followed.

Interment rites were also conducted by Father Teck. The pallbearers were Major Ray Jones, Jim Stewart, J. Woods, H. Auspad, C. Andrews and W. Casler.

Among the maze of floral tributes given by numerous Trail organizations was a touching remembrance from Kimberley. It was from the Sullivan Mill Football club, against which the late Mr. Leckie played last year in the Kootenay championship game. The club wired Alderman J. A. MacKinnon a request to secure it for them.

CITY WORKMEN WIDEN RAIL CURVE

A crew of men are widening the curve on the street car track at the intersection of Vernon and Ward streets. When this curve is finished there will be but one curve in the down-town section of the city in need of widening, and that the one at the corner of Josephine and Baker streets.

OTTAWA, July 28.—The following is from the Appraisers' bulletin by the department of customs and excise:

Under the authority of section 47 (A) of the Customs act and order-in-council, No. 1088, dated July 13, 1926, the honorable the acting minister of customs and excise values certain fruit and vegetable products when imported from the United States, as follows, per pound net:

Tomatoes, 5c; cucumbers, 3c; cabbage, 1¼c; celery, 2c; onions, 1¾c; potatoes, 2c; asparagus, 10c; carrots, 1½c; beets, 2c; lettuce, 3c; spinach, 3c; cauliflower, 2½c; peaches, 4c; raspberries, 17c.

These values shall be held to be the fair market value thereof for purposes of application of ad valorem rates of duty and special duty.

Longbeach Arch Outstanding One in Opening Ceremony

An interesting part of the official opening of the Nelson-Kaslo scenic highway was, among the many beautifully decorated arches constructed along the highway, the outstanding arch constructed at Longbeach. The welcome sign included a note that the total cherry crop there last year was 54,360 pounds or approximately 27 tons of cherries. These figures were much remarked by those motoring over the highway to Kaslo. The arch itself was decorated with evergreens, cherry branches, flowers, flags and bunting.

She's always fit and bounding gaily— Because she takes her "Kruschen" daily.

Game to the Finish

How do you feel after the game?

No doubt you're perky enough at the start; but at the end of three long and hard-fought sets — do you still feel fit enough to jump the net, or are you too limp to do more than stagger to the nearest chair?

It's all a matter of your staying power, and your staying power depends on the working of your inner-mechanism.

That's where Kruschen comes in. Kruschen is a combination of the six vital salts that Nature demands for the body's perfect health. What the "little daily dimeful" does is to keep your blood pure, your liver and kidneys working regularly and efficiently, your whole system tuned up to the highest pitch of efficiency.

No other salts can do this for you because only in Kruschen do you get the six vital salts in their correct proportion. Kruschen is gentle and pleasant both in its action and in its effects.

That tiny pinch you take each morning in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea — you can't taste it, but its effects are wonderful. All the waste matter that has been clogging your system and making you tired is gently but surely expelled. New, pure blood is sent coursing through your body, making you tingle with health in every fibre of your being.

Remember — it's the little daily dimeful that does it! It costs you but half a cent a day to acquire and maintain "that Kruschen feeling" — that glorious sense of perfect fitness, from the crown of your head to the tips of your toes. Is it not well worth it?

Tasteless in Coffee or Tea

Put as much in your breakfast cup as will lie on a 10 cent piece. It's the little daily dimeful that does it.

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

A 75c bottle of Kruschen Salts contains 160 doses—nearly enough for six months—which means bounding health for less than half a cent a day. The dose prescribed for daily use for adults is "as much as will lie on a 10 cent piece," taken in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea. Every druggist sells Kruschen. Get a 75c bottle to-day.

The Opening of the New Kaslo Highway

The Kaslo road opening yesterday marked another important development in the highway communications of this district.

The new road extends the Spokane-Nelson highway northward and opens to visitors from the south one of the most attractive tourist and residential districts in British Columbia.

Kaslo will benefit enormously from the opening of the road, but so will Nelson and every point between Kaslo and the international boundary.

It was fitting that upon the occasion of the opening Kaslo should stage a cherry carnival. Kootenay cherries are the best in the world; Kaslo cherries are the best in Kootenay. The big red cherries of Kootenay are a great advertising medium for the district, and they are also of great and growing commercial importance. Cherries are one of the most profitable fruit crops which can be grown in the district. Every year the acreage is growing and the demand for this fruit at the season that it reaches the market is so enormous and increasing that there is no danger of overproduction. The market can absorb the product of many thousands of new trees.

A Naive Appeal From the Parochial Prairies

Hon. Charles Dunning should have appealed in his Vancouver speech to British Columbia for "political cooperation" with the prairies. He can never get that political cooperation until the prairie provinces take a less narrow-minded view of national questions.

In his naive way, Mr. Dunning talks of parochialism—Mr. Dunning from the most parochial section of Canada! ! !

British Columbia is for protection, Quebec is for protection, the maritimes are for protection, Ontario is for protection. The prairies oppose it; the prairies alone of all Canada have sent to Ottawa a solid block of anti-protectionists, anti-protectionist for purely parochial interest, anti-protectionist because careless of the interests of Canada as a whole, anti-protectionist because they do not see that, in the final analysis, th prairie provinces cannot progress if the rest of Canada is in the doldrums.

Mr. Dunning asks British Columbia to line up with the prairies politically, he asks British Columbia to support politically the provinces whose whole history has been one of constant and unswerving opposition to protection of British Columbia fruit, British Columbia lumber, British Columbia fish, who have used their political influence year after year in endeavors to let in foreign products which would put the British Columbia producer out of business.

Give the British Customer the Apple He Wants

J. Forsythe Smith, Canadian fruit trade commissioner, in one of his interesting addresses in Nelson, explained that the people of Great Britain liked an apple with plenty of color. An apple with high color sells more easily than an apple of better quality with a less attractive color. Jonathans, for example, sell better than Macintosh Reds.

To offset this condition efforts are being made to prove to the people of Great Britain the superior qualities of the Macintosh.

In British Columbia we have a large output of Macintosh Reds, but if the Jonathans sell more easily and with less pushing, it would seem to be the part of wisdom for British Columbia growers who are putting in additional acreage for export shipments to run rather strongly to Jonathans.

Give the customer what he wants.

Attacked by a pet dog, a small boy in Rockford, Ill., had his face badly lacerated and may lose an eye.

Hit on head by a 50-pound block of ice, swung by an iceman in Princetown, Ind., a small boy died from injuries.

"Please publish directions for a knitted striped sweater," write two readers. The slender woman who can wear a size 36, or the young girl, will find the following garment delightful for sports use:

Style—This is a long-sleeved slip-over sweater reaching to hips, with two pockets in front, white collar and cuffs, and a slit-neck closing with four buttons in front. It may be made in any two colors desired, but red and white is much liked. Luster floss or any knitting worsted of that weight may be used. three balls of the red and six balls of the white being needed. Use one pair each of numbers four and five celluloid knitting needles. All stripes run lengthwise.

Five stitches equal one inch and seven rows equal one inch.

Back—Beginning at underarm with white, cast on 85 sts. and work in stockinette stitch (K. one row, P. one row) for eight rows, increasing one st. at end of every K. row, knitting plain the five sts. at opposite edge on all rows. Join red yarn, work in same way; place stitches on extra needle (93 sts.).

For Front—Cast on 85 sts. with red and work eight rows, knitting plain the five sts. at beginning of purl rows for lower edge of front. Join white, work eight rows, increasing one st. at beginning of every K. row. Join red, work in same way (93 sts.). Return to first piece. Start at lower side of back, join white, work across the 93 sts. of back, cast on 45 sts., work across 67 sts. of front, place remaining 26 sts. on holder for pocket; cast on 21sts. for back of pocket.

On these 226 stitches work white, red and white stripes, omitting the five plain-knit sts. on lower edge of front. Bind off the 21sts. of back of pocket. Take the 26 sts. of pocket from holder, work three stripes same as on body of sweater, knitting plain the five sts. at lower edge on all rows; place on extra needle. Beginning at lower edge of back with red, work 205 sts., work across the 26 sts. from extra needle, knitting plain the last five sts. Work six rows, and on last row of red stripe purl 112 sts.; place on holder for front, bind off seven sts. for side of neck. Purl remaining 112 sts., then work white, red and white stripe and place stitches on holder.

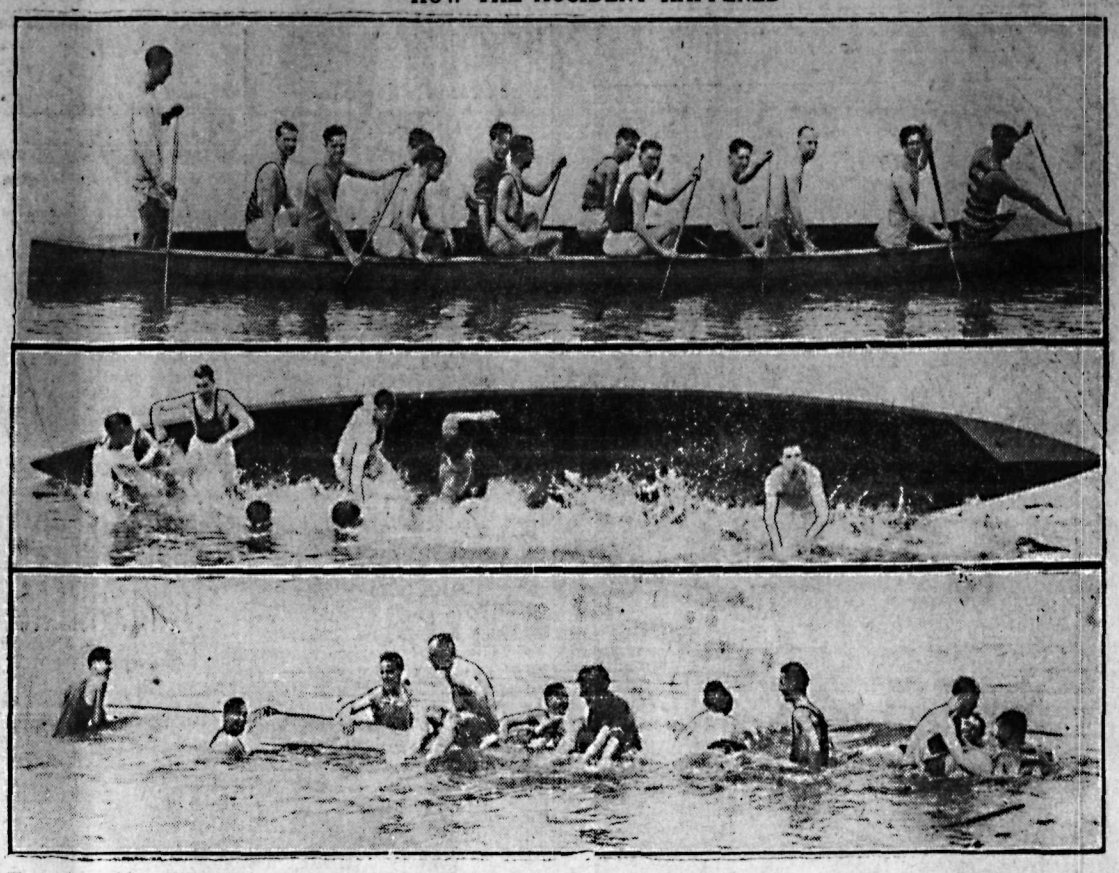
HOW THE ACCIDENT HAPPENED



Three views of how 10 boys and a man met a tragic death at Balsam l ake, Ont. In the upper picture is shown a war canoe of the same type as that which capsized. The men shown are sitting in the position occupied for paddling. The second view shows the canoe upsetting; vividly illustrating the manner in which the occupants are mixed together and projected under neath the craft as it upsets. In the third picture the paddlers are endeavoring to cling to the canoe, which constantly sinks with their weight. The bottom of this type of canoe is painted with graphite and is exceedingly slippery in order to reduce skin resistance in war canoe races. When completely turned over there is no hand-grip. There is no keel—nothing to hang to except the gunwales, which are about 12 inches under water. If much weight is thrown on the gunwales the canoe tips again and as the frantic swimmers try to retain a firm grip it turns over and over again.

That Body of Yours

The Electric Knife

The newspapers had some interesting articles some time ago about the wonderful new "knife" now being used in surgery.

Those articles were all illustrated and made the matter of an operation almost an attractive thing in the mind of the patient.

The "electric" knife, as it was called, really severed or separated the tissues by an electric spark which had the advantage of being practically bloodless, and no antiseptic solution was necessary, because the electricity actually kept the wound surface free from any infection.

Now, there is no question but that this knife is useful, because one of the important points in an operation is to secure any bleeding vessels and tie them off. The oozing of blood, another complication with which the surgeon has to contend, is likewise prevented. To feel also that there is no danger of infection by this method is naturally reassuring to patient and surgeon also. However, this method of surgery which has lately been revived in Europe, has really only a limited use, and Doderlein, the surgeon who has recently revived this type of surgery, warns his professional brethren, and the public at large, that cancer is practically the only condition in which it should be used.

The electric spark walls off and destroys the tissue, immediately surrounding a cancer. This has the advantage in that it destroys suspected tissues and makes the operation more thorough.

However, the disadvantages of the method in other conditions more than outweigh the advantages, because surrounding healthy tissue may be greatly damaged that serious consequences may follow.

Further, despite the "cleanliness" of the operation by the electric knife, the healing is very much slower, which is often a matter of much importance to the patient.

It is therefore just as well that we should know these things because someone is apt to feel that he is not getting the "latest" or the most "scientific" treatment, if he does not have the electric knife used in his particular case.

The 'Kermese'

By HELEN DICKSON

Nineteen or 20 years ago the Nelson library was in need of funds, a condition of affairs which caused Mrs. McCulloch to put on her thinking cap, with the result that the "Kermesse" was planned, organized and carried out with complete success. The fair building was apportioned into booths representing the different nations; a stage was set up at one end for the variety performances by the booth-holders, and the wing was also provided with a stage and seats, and thus converted into a "little theater." For three afternoons and evenings the fair of the nations was in full swing and even then people were clamoring for more.

The English booth was a charming cottage with pink roses climbing over latticed windows, and an Aunt Sally beside it. There six pretty girls in Dolly Varden costumes sold 10-cent tickets. These were a lottery to some extent, for they were numbered, and the numbers represented various articles, ranging from a cake of soap to a ton of coal.

Constant Fernau, as a coster, complete with pearlies and Hoxton tie, assisted a handsome Italian—Mrs. Sydney Kelly—to push an ice cream barrow about, selling "penny licks."

Near England was tall-hatted Wales, in charge of Mrs. N. Cummins; and across the hall the United States, under Mrs. Riblet, kept the hungry and thirsty supplied with characteristic American refreshments. The ladies of that committee had "craved" a real colored lady as a "mammy," and had sent a delegation to the C.P.R. station to ask a porter if his wife would act the part. "Ah sho' hate to disobligе, ladies," was the answer, "but Mis' Johnsing ain't much of a sassiety lady." So "Mammy" had to be faked.

Scotch Wanting

Mrs. Ferguson, wife of Rev. Dr. Ferguson, was appointed to the command of the Scottish booth with myself as lieutenant. I had been chosen for my name, rather than for my knowledge of the subject. It was my first encounter with a haggis, and my lack of tact was thus described by an indignant Scotswoman: "Miss Campbell lookit at the haggis, and she said, 'What's intil it?' and I said, 'Everything that's good is intil it.' And Miss Campbell tur-r-ned up her nose at it!"

The booth represented an inn, with a stag as a sign, and a piper, Mr. Quinn, in attendance. Miss Margot Whitney, as a fisher-girl, sold fresh trout from a creel, "caller herrin'" being difficult to obtain. A dish of oat-cake caught the attention of a brawny Scot, who was finding the floor uneven. He reeled up to it, and helped himself to a piece. Then—"Whaur's the wumman that made that ott-cake?" he bellowed. Uncertain whether the cook's reward would be death or a proposal, we were silent from fright. "Show me the wumman," he continued to roar, until Miss Cunningham stepped forward, and said with quiet courage, "I made the oat-cake."—"Then I wud like to shake your haund—it's the best ott-cake I hev tasted since I left Scotland." He shook hands fervently—and departed. He bought no oat-cake.

Mrs. W. A. Macdonald showed France as a drawing-room, graced by beauties and beaux in powder and patches.

Indolently reclining on piled-up cushions, Turkish ladies—Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Jamieson, and Mrs. Croasdale, sold cigarettes and Turkish delight.

The Blarney-stone

Next door to them was Ireland, where the girls were dressed as shamrocks. A placard invited everyone to "kiss the Blarney stone—5c." Gullible youths were led to believe that 5c would give them the privilege of kissing Miss Sarah Nickerson, and allowed themselves to be blindfolded, only to discover afterward that they had kissed her toy pig!

At 7 p.m. tables were set out and an excellent dinner served.

At 8 p.m. th dozens of costumed attendants fell into place for a grand march, with a wonderful kaleidoscopic effect. Then each nation appeared in turn on the stage, and performed a national song or danc. The French minuet was especially pretty.

In the Little theater there were two performances daily—"Dearest Mamma," as a matinee, with "Ici on parle Francais" in the evening, and next day vice versa.

Mrs. C. Cummins was "Mamma," Miss Skinner and Mr. Martin Eaves, the young couple, Mr. Bodmer "Uncle Podger," Miss Elena Fernan the fascinating widow, and Mr. Frank Arundel the cynical bachelor.

Realistic French

In "Ici on parle Francais," Mr. Bodmer took the Frenchman's part so realistically that two Frenchmen in the audience asked permission to go behind the scenes to embrace their compatriot. Miss Carlotta Fernan took the heroine's part, Mrs. Cummins and Mr. Eaves were the lodging-house keepers, Miss Skinner the "slavey," Mr. Arundel the major from India, and Miss Fernan the major's wife.

Every hour that the Kermesse was open a gay and generous throng kept it lively, and the profits were huge. Them was the days!

Sitting in its mother's lap, a 7-months-old babe's head was practically severed by flying glass caused by an auto crash at Pittsburgh.

Charged with non-support by his wife, a farmer at Wallkill, N.Y., it was revealed gave her only $5 six years ago, and nothing since.

"Something baby ate"—
Yes. But tainted by Flies

FLIES crawled over the food. Waded in the milk. Their stenchy feet were filthy dirty. Baby took germs of burning fever in to her little body when she ate the food. She became restless. And then sick!

Flies cause forty thousand deaths in the United States each year. And far too many of them are children.

Use Fly-Tox. Protect little folks. Make your home clean, comfortable, sanitary.

Business Facts

ONE INCREASED DIVIDEND DOES NOT WARRANT AN INCREASE IN STOCK VALUE

Do not base your judgment of a stock upon the payment of one dividend or the increase of a regular rate of dividend.

* * *

Do not judge the value of a stock by one dividend payment or by an increase in the regular dividend rate. The value of stock based upon dividend rate can be determined only by a period of time long enough to test the company's dividend paying ability through good and bad times. Just because a company has earned and pays a dividend of 6 per cent at the end of the first year of operation is not proof that it can continue to earn that amount, and that its stock is worth par, or more. Moreover, just because an old company has been earning and paying 6 per cent dividends for years and this year increases the rate to 7 per cent because its earnings increased from some cause or other, is no reason to believe the increased rate can be continued. Nor does it warrant a perceptible increase in the value of the stock.

Since one swallow does not make a summer, it is well for the investor to remember that one dividend or one increased dividend does not establish a record.

MEIGHEN WOULD WORK FOR FARMER

Policy to Assist in Marketing; Preaches Steady Tariff, Not High One

GEORGETOWN, P.E.I., July 28.—At his first meeting in Prince Edward Island this afternoon, Premier Meighen sketched the growth of the wheat pools in the west and then declared it to be the policy of his government to assist farmers in the marketing of their products. We intend, he said, to get in close touch with all marketing organizations, all cooperative marketing agencies for farmers, to give them every help within the power of the government. The agencies would be voluntary, self-controlled and stand on their own feet, but there was a lot, a government could do, and any government of which he had the head was going to give that support to the utmost of its power.

Mr. Meighen advocated a stable protective policy; that did not mean a high tariff, he said. It was infinitely better to keep it steady. It should not go up and down. The Conservative party did not preach a high tariff and never did, at all events in his memory, but what was preached was a stable tariff on a protective principle, that is a tariff on goods produced by the Canadian people, agricultural goods, everywhere on everything, there should be a moderate tariff.

Bringing Up Father

Crown Prince Lazzeri After Ruth's Crown

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

"Babe" Ruth is still the "King of Swat," but Tony Lazzeri, his teammate, the youngster who socked 60 homers through the rarified atmosphere in Salt Lake City last year, is the crown prince and heir apparent.

The heir to the "Throne of Swat" is going along, biding his time, hitting a homer now and then, and although this is his first year under the big tent, he is runner-up in circuit smashes to the Babe, himself.

He is right on the ground floor watching the Babe do his stuff day after day, and when Ruth sheds his homerun togs in a few years, Tony may be his successor on the Yankees.

CY WILLIAMS SLAMS HOMER WITH TWO ON

Pirates Win Another From Giants, Who Are Held Down Close

NEW YORK, July 28.—Pittsburgh won its second straight from the Giants today, Meadows blanking the home club 6 to 0. Four hurlers were unable to stop the Corsans while New York made only five hits and failed to get a runner past second base.

Brooklyn Nosed Out

Across the river, the Cincinnati Reds nosed out Brooklyn 4 to 3. Luque yielded but seven hits and fanned nine batsmen. The entire Cincinnati outfield went through the nine innings without a fielding chance.

Braves Win

At Boston the Braves won 3 to 2 over Chicago in a 13-inning contest. Singles by Welsh and Brown and a base on balls to Moore filled the bases and spelled victory for the Braves when Burush singled.

M'KENNA GAINS WESTERN CANADA PRO GOLF MUG

Won Open Title on Tuesday; Plays Wonderful Game All Through

ELMHURST CLUB, Winnipeg, July 28.—Playing a brilliant game, Ned McKenna, Miaki, Ont., pro, today added the western Canada pro golf title to the open championship he won on Tuesday. He shot wonderful golf, as his score of 74, 72, 72—291 indicates. Twice he got around in par figures and just to show that neither course made any difference he made a par on each.

His card—Out 444, 345, 544—37.
In 434, 435, 434—25—72.

His rounds today were pretty. He was never in very serious difficulty, keeping his drives straight, his hitches well and generally straigat to the pin, and his putts right up to the mug. When McKenna started out he was four strokes up on his nearest rivals, Willie Kidd of Minneapolis and Joe Land of Winnipeg, and he started out as if he meant real business by hitting par for the first five holes.

Down in Sixth

It was at the sixth where he first had to experience a five. Three putts accounted for it. He had another five at the seventh when his drive sliced to the left and he took three to reach the green. His putt for a four was inches short. Lovell Ness, his partner, also took a five. Par figures went on his card at the eighth and ninth and he was out in 37. Coming in McKenna picked a birdie at the eleventh. He was pin high with his drive and right on the edge of the green. Two putts gave him a three. He was on two and took three putts. The 17th he clicked in three and then finished a wonderful performance with a bird four on the long 18th.

As a result of the work McKenna annexed the western Canada open championship, the western Canada professional, three medals and a silver trophy. Professional honors were equally divided between city and couutry. Jimmy Rimmer, Jasper Park, and Hughie Fletcher and Joe Lund of Winnipeg tied for second place, each with 298, and the money was divided three ways.

CRICKET RESULTS IN OLD COUNTRY

LONDON, July 28.—The match between the Australian cricketers and Surrey began at the Kennington Oval today, the second encounter between those elevens in the course of the present visit of the Antipodeans to England. For a while this afternoon it looked as if the play would have to be abandoned, but the skies cleared and the game was resumed at 4:50 p.m. The Australians, who batted first, wound up the first day's play with 355 runs to their credit, gained at the expense of seven wickets.

William Woodfull, as in his previous encounter with Surrey, was the outstanding figure of the Australian team, hisi score being 156.

The presence of J. M. Taylor on the Australian team, following a rest, was an interesting feature and Taylor's game was watched closely. He acquitted himself with great credit, however, reaching 43 before he was dismissed by a catch accepted by D. R. Jardine off Peach.

The other Australian scores were not large, Macartney succumbing to Lockton at 23 and Bardsley and Andrews at 19 each. Ponsford had the briefest sojourn at bat, being dismissed after he had broken his duckegg.

Yorkshire Defeated

The defeat of Yorkshire by Nottingham at Trent Bridge was the outstanding feature in county cricket games which ended yesterday, and was an auspicious benefit for Whysall, the Notts professional, in whose honor the encounter was staged.

This was the second defeat for the White Rose this season, their former conquerors being Derbyshire. The victory was a first innings one only, but it was sufficient to give Notts three points, and reduce the average of the champion county by just that much. The score was Notts 420, York 298.

Individual scoring was not heavy, only four centuries being notched up in the county games.

Other results follow:

Glamorgan won from Somerset, Lancashire won from Derby, Hampshire won from Gloucester, Essex-Middlesex, drawn; Sussex won from Northants, Surrey won from Kent, Worcester-Warwick, drawn.

BABE RUTH IS STRUCK OUT IN THREE ATTEMPTS

Yanks Beat St. Louis; Indians Win Two; Senators Drop Game

NEW YORK, July 28.—The Yanks were at St. Louis today and won again from the St. Louis Browns 3 to 2. Babe Ruth struck out three times. Shocker doubled in the ninth and came home on Comb's single for the winning tally.

Boston Wins

Boston made it two in a row from Detroit at the Michigan city. Ruffing held the Tigers to four hits to permit a 5 to 4 victory. Boston backed away at Rip Collins over six innings, getting three runs on six hits.

Senators Lose

Red Faber let Washington down with six hits in Chicago while the Sox hit Ruether opportunely to even the series by a 5 to 2 win.

Cleveland Wins Two

Cleveland increased its hold on second place to three full games today when it won two contests from Philadelphia, taking the first 5 to 2 and the second 2 to 1.

The victories were acquired as the result of super pitching by Levsen and Uhle, the two Cleveland hurlers striking out 13 Athletics and frequently breaking up rallies by fanning batter.

WINS COURT BATTLE FOR HER YOUNG SON

Lt. Russel Proves Legitimacy of Son and Right to Title of Baron in London

LONDON, July 28.—After a four-year legal battle costing about £40,000 and providing testimony of a sensational nature, the mother of little Geoffrey Dennis Erskine Russell, aged 4½ years, has won her fight to establish the boy's legitimacy as the son of her husband, and the right to succeed to the title of Baron Ampthill.

The end of the case in the courts produced a surprise, as the judge announced that the father, the Hon. John Russell, who has never recognized the boy as his own, has sought to reopen the question determined by a ruling of the house of lords in 1924, when that body annulled the divorce Russell had obtained in the lower courts in 1923.

In the divorce proceedings Russell's counsel sought to establish Mrs. Russell's hypnotic influence over her husband, who is heir of Baron Ampthill.

One of Mrs. Russell's letters read in court admitted that she had been "frightfully indiscret all through life," but she staunchly denied misconduct.

When the decision was announced today friends rushed to the crowded court room to congratulate her, and outside the building police protected her from crowds of curious.

SASKATCHEWAN FARMER CUTS FIRST WHEAT

TWO WESTERNERS LEFT IN RUNNING

MacWilliams and Kidd Survive Play at Winnipeg; Twelve Winnipeggers Left

ELMHURST CLUB, Winnipeg, July 28.—Carson MacWilliams, Calgary, and William Kidd, Shaunavon, Sask., amateur champion, were the only two players west of Winnipeg to survive the first day's play of the western Canada amateur golf championship playdowns. C. Ross Somerville, London, Ont., Canadian amateur golf titleholder, and Don Carrick, Toronto, are the easterners still in the fight and the remaining 12 are Winnipegers. Two rounds were played today bringing the event down to the 16s. The rounds will be played Thursday to bring the play to the semi-finals and Friday and Saturday will see the finals completed.

Carson MacWilliams had two victories and he did not have to work overtime to collect either, though his golf difficulties were many.

Kidd Wins Twice

William Kidd, Shaunavon, also recorded two victories, putting G. Leggo and Dr. Maxwell, Calgary, out of the picture. The easterners, Don Carrick and Ross Somerville, were not so fortunate with soft victories, though each had one. Somerville first disposed of H. R. Ranger, eight up and six, but J. W. Thompson, Winnipeg, kept on his heels for the greater portion of the journey, succumbing at the 15th.

Carrick first took on J. L. Bell, Calgary, winning three and two, and in the afternoon Tommy Russell, Moose Jaw, proved soft for the star.

Jack Cuthbert, Winnipeg ace, had little trouble disposing of Jack Blair in the morning and then Jack came back and gave J. T. Smith a taste of defeat in the afternoon.

Frank Hale, Chauncey Bawlf, Dave Arnott, C. L. Hodgman, G. Hayman, Matt Thompson and Tom English also survived the day's play.

The match between Matt Thompson and Young J. Lawrence went two extra holes, Matt took the heart out of the youngster with a splendid mashie shot on the 20th. Chauncey Bawlf also had to go to the 20th to defeat Byron Kelly.

MacWilliams meets C. L. Hodgman; Jack Cuthbert lines up against Dave Arnott; Somerville will tackle Matt Thompson; Don Carrick, Toronto, takes on G. Hayman; Chauncey Bawlf will tackle Frank Hale on Friday.

STRONG WINDS GIVE FIRES A FRESH START

Storm Tuesday and Yesterday Set District Forest Fires Blazing

CREWS PROMPTLY GET THEM UNDER CONTROL

Dry Weather Makes Situation Hazardous; Save Camps on Pass Creek

A heavy smoke haze overhanging Nelson bears mute testimony to the forest fires burning in the district. C. D. Orchard, of the forest department here, stated yesterday there was no change in the fire situation, continued dry weather making it very hazardous.

There are crews on the Hall, Pend d'Oreille and Bear creek fires, but they are all guarded and under control. The crews are being steadily decreased.

Unusually high winds Tuesday and yesterday gave the fires a fresh start, but prompt action by the fighters prevented the situation becoming serious. At noon yesterday complete control was regained.

Burning Self Out

In the Kaslo district the fire on Campbell creek got away and a wind storm spread it over large areas. In the mountain tops the fire was blown into burnt over timber, and it is burning itself out. Non-merchantable timber is being burnt in other areas.

A fire at Pass creek was reported on Tuesday. It is thought it was carelessly set, and an investigation is being conducted. The fire has spread to some extent, and is being guarded by crews numbering in all about 125 men. The top of the fire is being guarded along Pass creek, and the lower side along Goose creek. The most valuable timber areas were well guarded yesterday morning, and the crews reduced somewhat.

A number of Doukhobor logging camps, about 7000 poles and a quantity of lumber in the woods were saved. The fire was within a short distance of the property.

Two fires were reported at Rossland, on Tuesday, but they were small and were put out before they gained any headway.

The Boulder creek fire is still burning, but it has been brought under control.

Reports that fires on the American side had come across the boundary line and were into valuable Canadian timber were false, stated Mr. Orchard. An American fire at Patterson was within 100 yards of the international boundary line, but was put out by Canadian fire fighters.

PATRICK LONG BREAKS LEG WHILE AT ROSEBERY

Patrick Long was brought to the Kootenay Lake General hospital yesterday from Rosebery, suffering from a fractured leg. Dr. J. H. Bennett is attending him.

CAMPERS ADMIRE TOURIST CAMP

Say It Is Kept Clean; Six Parties Register in Two Days

Six parties of tourists registered at the Nelson tourist park in the last three days, two of them being from the far east, one from New York and the other from Chicago.

Every tourist comments on the splendid condition in which the park is kept and they have nothing but admiration for the facilities it affords.

Those registering in the last two days were: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Berry and child, Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mullitt and family, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Nelson, Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. Thelmanus, New York; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Chaney, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. G. Copeland, Spokane.

HOLIDAY CROWDS SPEND DAY AT LAKESIDE PARK

Others Motor, Go Fishing or Go on Lake; Many Go to Kaslo

Throngs of Nelsonites invaded Lakeside park yesterday, a civic holiday, called so that Nelson could be fully represented at the opening of the Kaslo-Nelson highway. The beach was dotted with holiday makers. Benches and tables scattered through the park had their quota of picnickers, and the float was crowded with young and old resplendent in bathing suits.

Many, of course, attended the road-opening ceremonies. Those who neither went to the park nor to Kaslo spent the day on the lake, or with rod and creel, or motoring or in doing the hundred and one other things which can be done on a holiday.

The lake was dotted throughout the day with canoes, rowboats and launches. Beach fires blazed merrily along the lake shores, and holiday parties gave the ants and other insects a real holiday feast.

Ardent sportsmen waded mountain streams, teasing the brook trout with their false flies. Others preferred to grasp a pair of oars and with stout trolling line securely fixed to their boat, waited for Mr. Fish to take a good big bite out of a whirling spoon.

LAKESIDE PARK FLOAT POPULAR

New Improvements Meet With Approval of Swimmers; Diving Board a Peach

Always popular with the swimming youth of Nelson, Lakeside park has become even more so by reason of the improvements to the float. It was, when the season opened, badly in need of repairs. Under orders from the city council a new floor has been built over it.

Until recently there was no diving board. One has been put in, and, as its users say, "it's a dandy."

This year's addition of the boats has proved more than popular. There are very few hours of the day that at least one of the boats is not in commission and it is not unusual for them all to be in use at the same time.

With the nervy young bloods the high diving stand is still popular, but it has not met with the approval given the board.

APPLE CROP IS MUCH LARGER

Likewise Smaller Fruit Crop; Dominion Report Gives Estimates for B.C.

Excellent apple crops for the Okanagan and Kootenay districts and better crops of tender and small fruits in these districts are expected, as shown by the fruit and vegetable crop report issued by the Dominion department of agriculture. In regard to British Columbia fruit the report says:

"The British Columbia commercial apple crop is estimated to be 126 per cent of 1925, or 3,525,500 boxes. Providing nothing unforeseen happens between now and fall, it will mean that approximately 195,000 more boxes will be harvested in the record year of 1923. Splendid growing weather was experienced throughout June, with the result that the apples are sizing well, and are well advanced for this time of year. The heavy producing districts are Vernon, Windfield and Okanagan Center, Westbank, Summerland, Armstrong and Salmon Arm. Generally speaking, the crop in southern Okanagan is lighter than last year. The Kootenay district reports the crop 120 per cent, while the Creston district 150 per cent of 1925. In some sections apple scab has made its appearance.

Tender and Small Fruits

"British Columbia—In British Columbia all fruits are considerably heavier than in 1325. Pears promise a crop of over 500 per cent, plums and prunes 300 per cent, peaches over 450 per cent, cherries 180 per cent, while apricots, raspberries and loganberries are exceptionally heavy.

"The heaviest pear producing sections are Kelowna, Summerland, Penticton and Vernon."

FORMER NELSON PUPILS PASS TESTS, PRAIRIES

Word has been received from Mrs. G. E. Richmond of Gull lake, Saskatchewan and formerly of this city, that her two daughters have successfully passed school examinations written in June. Hilda Richmond, formerly of the Hume school, passed with honors. Her sister, Olive, passed into grade 5.

NELSON GIVES WELCOME TO HON RANDOLPH BRUCE

Mayor McDonald, Under North Shore Arch, Welcomes Lieutenant-Governor and Neice

HIS HONOR MAKES SUITABLE REPLY

Mayor Stresses Importance of Good Roads in District and Wonderful Scenic Values

Nelson's official welcome to Lieutenant-Governor Randolph Bruce and his niece, Miss Mackenzie, was given yesterday by Mayor MacDonald on arrival at the north shore ferry anding, where under a beautiful floral arch, his worship read an address, to which his honor replied expressing the sincere and heartfelt thanks of his niece and himself.

Mayor McDonald's address was as follows:

"Upon the occasion of your first official visit to Nelson since you were honored with being appointed the representative of the King in our province let me take this opportunity of congratulating you upon being vested with that high office and the responsibilities which it entails.

Congratulates His Honor

"Your appointment to the position of lieutenant-governor is regarded by us in this district as a particularly happy one because of your long residence in the interior of our province and your active part in the building up of the interior in general and these districts in particular.

"It is a happy coincidence that you, the representative of the King and a resident of long standing in this interior should be called upon with your neice, Miss McKenzie, to officially open this new highway connecting two long-established Kootenay cities and drawing them and the adjacent communities closer together in ties of social and commercial relationship. And, we trust, you are opening a highway which will be pushed to the hinterland beyond Kaslo so that it will not be long until the entire Slocan country will be opened up by road and brought into closer contact with the remainder of the Kootenays and the anticipation of years realized.

"You know, even better than most of us of the fertility of our valleys, of the vast hidden wealth which lies in our hills, of the wonderful resources in timber as yet untouched and we feel therefore as lieutenant-governor of this province you will always lend a sympathetic ear to the reasonable requests which may come from these districts for the building and improving of highways to give us easier access and put us more closely in touch with one another.

Marks Milestone

"The era of motor transportation is upon us. Every day sees it improve and expand. That stage has been reached when it is imperative to production and industry that good roads be built and today, sir, we trust you are marking but another milestone in the strides forward which this district is taking with great rapidity.

"Motor transportation, we all realize today, is of paramount importance to industry in bringing it closer to the raw material—in economically feeding our great transportation systems with the raw materials to be carried to the factories where they will be manufactured and distributed in their finished state.

"But, your honor, we have a heritage of almost equal value to our raw materials in the wealth of scenic beauty with which our province and this district in particular are endowed. The opening up of these realms of scenic wonder means a great deal to the prosperity of our citizens and we trust that our successive governments will see fit to carry out policies of road construction and improvement as investments of prime importance to the health, happiness and prosperity of the citizens of the present and future.

"In conclusion let me assure you, as the representative of the King in our province, of a happy welcome anytime you may be in our midst and of a wealth of good wishes for a happy time for Miss McKenzie and yourself in the several ceremonies and various functions in which you will be called upon to participate today.

"We wish you God speed."

TEMPERATURE IS DOWN SOME

Nelson Minimum Yesterday 41, Maximum 79; Smoke Hangs Low

Nelson temperature was within nine degrees of freezing yesterday, the minimum being 41, cooler than it has been for some time.

The maximum temperature for the same time, the 24 hours ending at 5 o'clock last night, was 79, considerably lower than has been general lately.

A low-hanging smoke haze kept the heat of the sun off, but it also made the day very close and uncomfortable.

Today's forecast is continued fine and warm.

REDUCE FREIGHT TARIFF ON EWES BY ONE-QUARTER

Settlers Bringing in Breeding Ewes From Alberta Get Big Reduction

Word has been received by A. L. Hay, district agriculturist at Cranbrook, from A. Knight of Victoria, live stock commissioner, that a reduction of 25 per cent on their current tariff rates would be allowed by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways on breeding ewes being brought into British Columbia from Alberta by settlers.

Certificates must be produced in duplicate from the market's representative of the live stock branch of the Dominion department of agriculture to the effect that the ewes shipped were for breeding purposes only, and subject to verification by railway agents at destinations.

This would mean that the signatures of the Mr. Morton, sheep and swine promoter for British Columbia, and of market representatives in Alberta would have to be secured before the reduction was allowed.

The reduction would apply from Calgary and Edmonton.

Francis Thibault sacrificed his life when he jumped into St. Lawrence river to save a drowning girl at Ogdensburg. Both drowned.
