PASSENGER PLANE CRASHES; 2 DIE, 9 HURT

FRENCH PLANE IN CRASH PUTS NINE HOSPITAL

Fog Bank and Failing Engine Puts Plane Down Near Folkestone

ONE KILLED IS AN AMERICAN CITIZEN

Six of Injured Are Americans; 13 Passengers Were in Plane

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Encountering a heavy fog along the English coast, a big French passenger plane on a flight from Paris to London, met disaster this afternoon near Folkestone.

Two of the passengers were killed, one of them reported to have been Robert Blainey, Boston, Mass., the other is thought to be an Italian.

The Victoria hospital at Folkestone to which nine injured, six of them United States citizens, were transferred, reported late tonight that all of the injured were in critical condition.

In all, there were 13 passengers. None of them escaped injury.

The primary cause of the disaster is presumed to have been engine trouble, for, upon seeking lower levels in the fog to find her bearings, the big machine swerved suddenly and dropped swiftly. It struck the top of a barn

All Serious

FOLKESTONE, Eng., Aug. 18.—The officials at Victoria hospital, where nine of those injured in the airplane crash are being treated, said tonight that all are in critical condition and that the staff was fully occupied with operations. It was impossible to give the names of the victims before morning.

SMUTS FORCED TO LEAVE PLATFORM

Unable to Complete Speech Owing to Hubbub and Fist Fights

JOHNNANNESBURG, S.A., Aug. 18.—Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, former premier, appeared on a political platform last night for the first time since the Rand miners' strike of 1922, which led to the revolt that the Smuts government put down after many rebels had been killed and many more wounded. It was a noisy meeting, in which free fights occurred, and finally General Smuts had to quit speaking because of the interruptions.

There was not only fighting during the meeting, but fighting at its close while the hall was being emptied. General Smuts' supporters managed to have a vote of thanks to him carried before the audience dispersed. He spoke of the delay of the government in taking action of the flag question. Of the great questions in which the country was interested nothing was heard from the government, he asserted.

General Smuts said that Premier Hertzog in a speech at Stellenbosch demanded a declaration to the world of South Africa's independence in the British Empire.

South Africa wanted to know when Premier Hertzog was going to ask for this declaration, General Smuts said. The silence of the premier was nothing but contempt for the feelings of the people, he said.

Who told the savants attending the Oxford conference of the British Association for Advancement of Science that scientific discovery would soon tear the veil from the spirit world. Sir Oliver's prediction is the more interesting in view of the fact that the last time the association met at Oxford, in 1894, he gave the first demonstration of wireless signalling by means of electro-magnetic waves. At the conclusion recently, he joined the august merrymakers at the dance and tried the Charleston.

WILL SEARCH TODAY FOR PEACE PLAN

Miners and Owners in England Will Gather Today in Old Country

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A conference between the miners and owners tomorrow will inaugurate a new search for a peace formula in Great Britain's prolonged coal dispute. The negotiations are not expected to progress far without the guiding hand of the government which will probably name the neutral chairman.

Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, speaking at Swansea tonight, severely criticized the coal industry—the miners and owners—for not selling the controversy during the nine months of the government subsidy which cost the taxpayers £23,000,000.

Soon crowds gathered in the miners returned to work tomorrow, additional taxation could be avoided only with the greatest exertion, for funds needed for cultural and economic development had been consumed in the hateful international warfare.

"Our hard pressed island community," he declared, "has added to burdens, by preying on itself."

"But, whatever happens there can be no more subsidy. On that we are determined. We will not accept the position that one industry to quarter itself upon the public exchequer at the cost of the whole mass of the people," he stated.

JASPER, Alta., Aug. 18. — "Our policy is a stern, fearless Canadian policy," said Premier Meighen tonight, in a brief meeting at Jasper. LIB ELECTION WORKER FACES TRIAL MONDAY

Case Is Up, But Remand Asked for and Granted in Vancouver

ATTEMPTED TO DISFRANCHISE VOTERS

Now Faces Charge of Perjury; Included Name of Hon. Mr. Stevens

VANCOUVER, Aug. 18. — When Amos Ferguson, Liberal election worker, appeared in court today to face a charge of perjury in connection with the filing of 3000 election protests in Vancouver Center, including among them as not eligible to vote the name of Hon. H. H. Stevens, the lawyer defending him requested a speedy hearing.

A. C. Scott, deputy crown prosecutor, asked for a remand of a week but a compromise was reached and Ferguson will appear on August 23. The charge, as laid by Roderick Gibbon, is that Ferguson committed perjury by wilfully and corruptly making an affidavit, wherein he stated he had good reason to believe that the voters' names protested at should not appear on the lists. The Conservatives charge the move was a Liberal plot to disfranchise many supporters of Mr. Stevens.

FRANCE PLANS TO CONSUME LESS

May Cut Wheat Importation This Year by 28,000,000 Bushels

PARIS, Aug. 18.—Cutting down the wheat importation to the extent of 28,000,000 bushels, this ensuing year is one of the first economies the government announces as part of the nation's retrenchment program. Dr. Andre Quequille, minister of agriculture, told the cabinet today that by increasing the percentage of whole wheat in flour, the country could dispense with 5,000,000 bushels this coming year. A further saving of 23,000,000 bushels could be effected by the obligatory use of 10 per cent of other cereals in bread.

This is the first of a series of measures intended to reduce the French outlay for living to be placed before the cabinet. Other similar economies will be considered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Fire, spreading along a 35-mile front, tonight burned uncontrolled across the confines of Sequoia National park near Fresno after destroying 45,000 acres of small timber and brush in California's worst forest fire in two seasons.

A giant grove of 1500 acres of age-old redwoods and $100,000 worth of cut timber were less than a mile away in the path of the flames. The commander of 450 men fighting the fire sent appeals to surrounding towns for men to augment his forces.

On Monday morning John Petutizi, working at the Cooperative packing house, was surprised to see the big serpent moving out into the lake about 200 yards from the new Canadian National railway boat the Pentowna. It was traveling along at a rapid rate.

Nobody was killed or injured, a hasty check was said to have shown, the chief damage being to the magazine, which was destroyed.

Fire apparatus from Portsmouth aided the garrison in fighting the flames.

CHINESE HURT SERIOUSLY IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Backs Car Over 60-Bank; Tourists Refuse to Aid Him

POLICE INVESTIGATE CASE AT CRANBROOK

Was Left Down the Bank; Tourists Proceeded, Reported

CRANBROOK, Aug. 18.—A motor accident on the Moyie road which took place on Tuesday afternoon is now being investigated by the provincial police here. It appears that a car containing a Chinese merchant with his wife and family was proceeding west, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Chow Ling of this city when they met a car coming down the hill. The Chinese driver was a little nervous, it is stated, and decided to stop, and not attempt to back down. The occupants of the other car, however, who were Manitoba people, insisted that he do so. When the occupants of his car had got out, Ko Wing Chan, the Chinese driver, attempted to back his car down. He apparently become confused, however, for the car crossed the road and went down the bank, some 60 or 70 feet.

Cut About Head

It was a closed car, and the driver was able to scramble out though somewhat cut about the head. In the meantime, it is stated, the occupants of the other car failed to stop and assist the unfortunate Chinese, but proceeded on to Cranbrook. Here they reported the accident but did not give the police information that anyone had been hurt. Half an hour or so after the mishap, another passing car came along and brought the injured man and his party into Cranbrook where the driver was taken to the hospital. Learning of the seriousness of the accident, the police immediately took steps to intercept the prairie tourists, who had proceeded on their way east. It is pointed out that had the Chinese driver's injuries been a little more serious, his condition might have become dangerous from the delay ensued in bringing him into this city for medical attention. The accident took place on one of the hills near Moyie.

FORKE SLAMS MEIGHEN STAND FREIGHT RATES

Progs Woud Have Seen Session Through If Meighen Sincere

BRANDON, Man., Aug. 18.—Speaking from the same platform as the leader of the Liberal party tonight, Robert Forke declared that if Mr. Meighen had endeavored to form a real ministry instead of a temporary one, the Progressives would have seen the legislation through to the end.

"Even Sir Henry Drayton could not find adequate terms to describe the provisional government, and a condition arose which was intolerable. The closing of parliament by Mr. Meighen was the act of a Mussolini. It was an insult to the people of Canada. It was sharp practice. If you are satisfied with that kind of thing, I am not," said Mr. Forke.

Mr. Forke criticized Premier Meighen's position on freight rates. The Crow's Nest rates had saved 25 to 30 millions a year. The prime minister had no use for statutory rates, and would turn the whole matter over to the railway commission.

Not Much Confidence

"I have not much confidence in the railway commission. If you want Crow's Nest rates, keep Mr. Meighen from being returned," Mr. Forke added.

The senate was "a hard nut to crack." Its pensioners had refused old age pensions to Canada. "I think there is a place in Canada for a second chamber, but not the kind we have in Ottawa. There ought to be more sensitive to the will of the people."

Mr. Forke made strong denial of the story that he had been consulted by Lord Byng on the subject of Progressive support for Mr. Meighen. "Mr. Meighen had been sworn in before I had any conversation with his excellency," said Mr. Forke.

BUSINESS RATES DOWN A TENTH; HOUSE QUARTER

Cuts Made Possible by the Reduction in Bond Interest

PAY FOR FIVE-MILE WITHOUT BORROWING

New Water System Built for $15,000 Under Estimate

With approximately $19,000 less to meet in the way of interest and sinking fund charges, since the retirement of big bond issues on the city power plant in the last year or so, the city council has decided to return some of this saving, to the citizens, in lower rates for electric current for lighting purposes.

A cut of approximately 10 per cent will be made in the lighting bills of business establishments.

The average cut in domestic light bills, on the graduated scale that has been worked out for household consumption, will be about 25 per cent.

The revision will only apply to consumers in the city.

Pay for Five-Mile, Too

This cut in light rates, which will be effective very shortly, or when the bylaw now in draft form is fully enacted, will not interfere in any way with the project of paying for the new Five-Mile water system without issuing a dollar of debentures. With the $63,000 or thereabout in the water renewal fund from recent surpluses, the 1925 surplus allocated to the fund since the first of the year, and an estimated surplus on current revenue, the actual cost of the system, which will be almost exactly $100,000, will be met without difficulty from the resources available.

"The Five-Mile system has been built for $15,000 less than the estimate," pointed Mayor J. A. McDonald, yesterday, in discussing the civic finances.

"Even if it had cost $115,000, as provided for when power was obtained from the property-owners to issue $55,000 debentures to supplement the water renewal fund, we would have managed to accomplish the task without issuing debentures, though it would have taken some finessing, perhaps, and some holding down on other outlays," claimed the mayor. "But with $15,000 less to find, we will complete payment easily from current revenue."

ONE CANDIDATE SO FAR AT LETHBRIDGE

Neither Conservatives Nor Liberals Able to Pick Opponent to Farmer Yet

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Aug. 18.—Liberals of the Lethbridge riding met in nomination convention today and after differences had developed over the question of nominating a candidate, adjourned until August 26.

Lethbridge Conservatives met at the same time and adjourned until August 25 without placing a candidate in the field. Dr. J. S. Stewart, who was defeated by L. H. Jelliff, United Farmers of Alberta, at the 1925 election, addressed a letter to the convention stating that he could not be a candidate.

Mr. Jelliff is the only candidate in the field now.

Easy to Gain With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast with Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight

This new combination of yeast vitamines with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamines that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamine food, but not until we perfected "ironized yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

Vegetable "iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore, they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are under weight, do not enjoy good health, lacking in energy and force, "ironized yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back.

Sold by all druggists, at $1.00 for a large 30-tablet package. Ironized Yeast Co., Fort Erie, Ontario.

SPANISH AND NATIVES ON OUTS AT TANGIER

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A serious situation is developing in Tangier, Morocco, says a dispatch to the Westminster Gazette, because of the general discontent of the Spanish and native population with the Tangier administration. Another general strike is announced for tomorrow.

It is reported, the Westminster Gazette asserts, that the Spanish premier has offered to send Spanish troops to occupy Tangier to protect lives and property. The dispatch adds that the general impression among the citizens of Tangier is that something must be done at once to give the Spaniards an influence in Tangier, commensurate with their numbers.

Washington Farmers Sow Much More Fall Crops This Season

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Farmers are intending to sow this fall an average of winter wheat 14.4 per cent greater than sown last fall, which would mean a total area of 45,064,000 acres, or about 4 per cent more than sown a year ago, the department of agriculture announced today.

If average annual abandonment should occur this winter, it would leave from the intended sowings about 39,274,000 acres for harvest next summer, an increase of 7 per cent.

KAISER'S COOK ENDS COOKING CAREER NOW

Absolutely Through, He Says, on Landing at New York; Pensioned Off

CLAIMS AMERICANS CANNOT COOK RIGHT

Cooked for Three Generations of Hohenzollerns; Many Decorations

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Rudolph Karg, a recent arrival here from Germany, is a man who talks interestingly on many topics — of foods and cooking, of emperors and men.

There were days when Karg strutted through the kitchens of imperial palaces at Berlin and Potsdam, arrayed in a cutaway coat and a high silk hat. That was during the 39 years he spent as chef for three generations of Hohenzollerns. Recently he arrived in America as a plain German citizen, but he wore an air of aristocracy that would have become one of the kaisers he has served.

Karg is done with cooking. At 73 he thinks one is entitled to quit his profession. Moreover, having served emperors, whom else can one serve and still retain one's honor? On the ship that brought him were international bankers who pleaded with him to come for a single day to their kitchens. And there were officials from Washington—Karg cannot recall their names —who made the same request.

Gives Him Pension

But Karg will have none of them. He has come to America to end in rest a life well spent. The German government has pensioned him, and he will remain with his son Eric, owner and chef of the Blue Mountain Chateau, Ridgewood, N.J.

It is only because he can be certain of his son's cooking that Karg has come to America at all. He came here first in 1923, and returned in November of 1925. He knows American cooking.

"What do I think of American cooking?" he snorted. "Americans can not cook. Steaks and chicken, steaks and chicken—that is all they know—and they do not know how to cook them right. Why, an apprentice in my kitchen could do better.

"There is one thing you Americans can make—pies—but that is all."

Then Karg proceeded to explain that Americans, however, are handicapped in the incomparable art of cooking. The trouble to a certain extent is prohibition. Karg himself does not drink, but to prohibit drinking—that is crazy. For really fine cooking, rum, red and white wines, and certain liquors are absolutely essential, and naturally, if you do not have these you cannot cook real food.

Likes Wilhelm I

Of the three Hohenzollerns—Wilhelm I, Frederick III and Wilhelm II—Karg grudgingly admitted that he liked Wilhelm I best of all.

The last kaiser, said the royal chef, would eat anything. If he were in a good humor everything tasted splendid, but if he were in a bad mood everything was terrible. The empress was the finest woman he had ever known. She never complained. And the crown prince?

"Bah, a schweinhund!" Karg branded him. "He was always complaining, but he ate whatever was given to him. I never would have worked for him. I'd have resigned first."

For the exiled kaiser, Karg had only contempt, because he had abdicated his throne. That was the reason, he explained, why he had never accompanied the monarch to Doorn—he was no longer kaiser.

The aged chef took a box from his bag and removed a dozen jewelry cases. He spread out before a reporter a dazzling array of decorations. There was a cross from the kaiser in honor of Karg's position as the employee with longest service in the Hohenzollern family. There were others from the kaiser and his two predecessors and from various German rulers. There was a medal from Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria, and a diamond pin from Czar Nicholas of Russia.

From Exiled Kaiser

One of the best of all was a pair of cuff links the exiled kaiser had sent him from Doorn on Karg's first visit to America. The links bore the letter "W." surmounted with a crown. And there was one small cross that the royal chef belittled—it was merely his first decoration.

Karg began his culinary career at the age of 14 as an apprentice in the kitchen of Elizabeth of Prussia, under French chefs. After four and a half years there he spent two years in kitchens in Austria, then three years in France to learn fine points. At 24 he entered the service of Kaiser Wilhelm I, and in five years he became chef, remaining in that position until the abdication of the last kaiser. Then the German government pensioned him, giving him his full salary and allowing him to retain his title, although he did not work. Here he will rest and later perhaps write a book setting forth the true art of cooking.

Speaks on Work of Soldiers' Commission and the Canteen Fund Plans

CRANBROOK, Aug. 18.—On Tuesday evening Lieut.-Col. F. R. Robertson addressed a meeting of Cranbrook branch of the Canadian legion on matters relating particularly to the welfare of returned men. Colonel Robertson, besides being the secretary of the British Columbia returned soldiers' commission, is one of the three trustees for the British Columbia portion of the proceeds of the canteen fund, amounting to $250,000 for this province.

Suggests Scholarships

As to the canteen funds, he stated that the trustees at present were only dealing with urgent cases needing relief, and that the trustees were receiving advice and recommendations as to just how the fund should be used.

It was suggested that scholarships be made available for children of returned men, that pensions be given and that a soldiers' home be established. These, and other suggestions, were being considered. The colonel had a good word to say for the legion, the new organization into which many former separate organizations were now merging, and urged that every support be given it, personally, morally and financially.

Rail Workers at Blue River Hear Premier Meighen

BLUE RIVER, B.C., Aug. 18.—Despite drenching rains, railway workers of Blue River were gathered on the platform when Premier Meighen arrived this afternoon. The premier strongly emphasized in a few minutes that he had no intention of amalgamating the Canadian National railway with the Canadian Pacific railway.

"I do not know," he said, "how it is, but the malicious falsehood that I have murderous intentions against the Canadian National dies hard. It is just an effort to steal votes by frightening employees of the Canadian National," he declared.

RIVERS LOW OVER PROVINCE

Interior Streams Not So Low as Those on the Coast, Though

VANCOUVER, Aug. 18. — Effects of the mild winter continues to show in the decrease in flow of streams in British Columbia, all of which were below average for July, according to the monthly survey compiled by the Dominion water power and reclamation service.

Each month four representative streams in British Columbia have been recorded at certain stations for the past 12 years. The average flow during these years is taken as 100 per cent.

Flow of the Capilano, taken at the recording station just above the intake, was only 15 per cent, as compared with 51 per cent last year. Bridge river, 10 miles above Mission mountain, showed 85 per cent flow, as compared with 99 per cent last year.

Interior streams were fairly high. The North Thompson at Barriere recorded 78 per cent, as compared with 88 per cent in 1925. The Kootenay river at Wardner ~~was~~ reported at 41 per cent, against the 1925 flow of 76 per cent.

Service officials point out that this has been an exceptional year for low water. Lack of heavy snow last winter is given as the principal cause for decreased runoff.

There's nothing like that "dimeful" daily,
To make one look on life more gaily.

Smile, Man—it's GOOD to be alive

Forget it!

Forget what? — why, those fancied woes of yours — those imaginary worries, and really unimportant troubles. In short forget yourself, and you've acquired the greatest secret of happiness.

Now the thing about yourself that's most difficult to forget is the first thing you must forget. It's your inside. You simply must be healthy before you can be happy.

And your surest way to health is the habit of the "little daily dimeful" of Kruschen Salts.

The effect of modern city life on you is this: your inside fails to get in the natural way the six vital salts that it must have to enable it to do its job properly. So you get constipated — which is as much as to say, poisoned. And there you are, made miserable for no reason at all.

Kruschen has power to change all this simply because the "little daily dimeful" is a full day's supply of just those six vital mineral salts. As much as will lie on a 10-cent piece every morning, tasteless in your first cup of coffee or tea and the trouble disappears. You're fit and feel it.

More! the direct tonic effect of Kruschen upon your blood-stream gives you the glorious sensation of overflowing vitality that's called for short "that Kruschen feeling!"

The price of a bottle of Kruschen won't break you. Buy one now. Begin the "little daily dimeful" at once, and stick to it. Soon you'll be chirping with the best of us — "It's the little daily dimeful that does it!"

Tasteless in Coffee or Tea

Put as much in your breakfast cup as will lie on a 10 cent piece. It's the little daily dimeful that does it.

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

The dose of a dimeful taken every morning is found in practice just the right amount of a most invigorating daily tonic. The medicinal dose for persons suffering from pains of rheumatism, gout, lumbago or sciatica, or habitual constipation, with inactive liver, etc., is half to one teaspoonful in a tumbler of hot water before breakfast. Every druggist sells Kruschen. A 75c bottle lasts three months. This works out at half-a-cent a day for health and happiness. Get a bottle at your druggist's to-day and start to-morrow. It's the little daily dimeful that does it!

CHAPTER LXXXVI

Dr. Broughton was driving slowly home to lunch through the spring sunshine, when a man, riding furiously toward him on a bicycle, sprang off his machine in the middle of the road, and stood there shouting and frantically waving his arms.

The doctor brought his car to a sharp standstill, and leaned forward as he recognized one of the porters from the station.

"Hullo, Grier! what's the matter? Any one had an accident?"

Grier was crimson and breathless with the speed at which he had ridden; the sweat dripped from his face as he gasped out—

"A smash up at Wranton, sir—the London express and the local—two coaches smashed to matchwood, so they say, and not a doctor to be had."

Doctor Broughton was a man of few words; he knew that Wranton was some miles from a village of any size, and consisted merely of the station and a handful of cottages; he turned his car about and opened the door.

"Leave your machine," he ordered. "And get in—don't try to talk for a moment; get your breath."

He drove off at full speed.

Presently, when Grier had recovered a little, he asked—

"How was it?—a mistake in the signals I suppose? I've always said it would happen some day. Now, perhaps, there'll be something done."

"No one seems to know how it happened, sir; the local was crossing the points when the express crashed into her, and cut her clean in half, so they say—they phoned down to the station for doctors and help, and I went for you; and they told me you'd come this way, so I thought if I met you and turned you back, it would save time." He stopped, breathless once more, and wiped his hot face.

Dr. Broughton glanced at his watch; his face was grim with anxiety.

"We can do it in 20 minutes, with luck," he said.

But it was half an hour before they reached the scene of the disaster, where the great engine of the express lay on its side, half-way down the embankment, steam still escaping with a deafening noise. For nearly a mile the line was littered wth matchwood and wreckage of all kinds, flung by the terrific impact from the piled up heap of coaches.

A crowd of people had gathered, and already several bodies, drawn from beneath twisted girders and great beams of timber, lay stiffly a little apart, and side by side, covered with rugs or tarpaulins.

Dr. Broughton glanced at them and went on with Grier at his heels.

One of the wrecked coaches had cauht fire, and a number of volunteers were vainly trying to drag it free of the rest.

The ceaseless groaning and crying of those still imprisoned beneath the wreckage added to the horror of the scene, and Dr. Broughton's face was white as he flung his coat aside and went toward a little group of men who were straining every muscle and nerve to raise a giant beam of timber from the body of a man lying face downward, half buried amongst glass and shattered matchboarding.

The doctor took calm leadership of the proceedings, giving quiet orders, and adding his own muscular strength.

"No then, when I say three! One, two——" It looked an impossibility, and yet they achieved it, and wrenched the great mass of timber partially aside.

Dr. Broughton knelt down by the silent form of the half-buried man, turning the head and shoulders so that the face was revealed; then he gave a great cry—

"My God! It's young Hellaby."

He tried to raise him, but Mark's left arm was caught to the shoulder still by some unseen object, buried far beneath a mountain of wreckage, and all efforts to release it were in vain.

He snatched a brandy flask from a man at his side, and forced a few drops between Mark's clenched teeth, and after a long moment of suspense, his eyes slowly opened.

They wandered around blankly, coming back to the doctor's face with a vague smile of recognition.

"Hullb—Doctor?"

But the voice was drowsy and far away, and Broughton's eyes were full of grief as he bent over him.

Not Censured, Only Declared Guilty of Wholly Indefensible Conduct

It was hardly necessary for Premier Meighen to take a minute off at Prince Rupert to point out that Mackenzie King's claims that the resolution passed by the house reflecting on his government was not one of censure, was answered by Hansard, which shows that before its passage Mr. King claimed it "aimed primarily at passing censure on the prime minister and members of the government."

The contortions of Mr. King haven't deceived the country as to who was spanked, and nothing more is needed on this censure question than Mr. King's own version, given in his keynote speech at Ottawa, July 23, reported in The Daily News of July 24 to the extent of 6½ columns.

Mr. King, in that speech, which was in effect his address to the country, denounced Mr. Meighen for describing the resolution adopted by the house by 10 majority, in reference to the customs scandal, as one of "censure," declared the word "censure" was not to be found in the resolution, and objected strongly to the word being employed in this campaign.

He showed, by quotations from Hansard, that the resolution merely declared that the failure of the premier and government to take prompt and effective remedial measures was "wholly indefensible."

The defeated premier also objected to Premier Meighen paraphrasing the expression, "wholly indefensible," when he told the country the house declared the late government's course in the matter was "absolutely incapable of defence."

To the degree that there is any difference in meaning between these two expressions, Mr. King is entitled to sympathy for the injustice done him by Premier Meighen.

Also, no one must say the house pronounced Mr. King's course "censurable," but only "wholly indefensible."

Voters who want to follow Mr. King carefully have to be pretty well up in the finer shades of meaning he can attach to words.

Why the Country Snickers at the Constitutional Issue

Mackenzie King's keynote speech claim that the resolution offered in the house against his government—and subsequently adopted after his retirement—did not involve censure, was part of his argument on the constitutional question.

The three primary contentions he advanced, in seeking to show that he had been entitled to a dissolution, and that Mr. Meighen was not entitled to office, were:

1. That he was not defeated at the polls last October, though losing nine ministers, returning with 44 fewer seats than the combined oppositions, and having 16 fewer seats than the leading party;

2. That he had not lost the confidence of the house, though in a minority on three successive votes the night he was striving to stave off the customs vote;

3. That, when he asked for a dissolution, his government, though facing the Stevens motion that finally passed, was not facing a vote of censure.

On these tottery supports repose the rest of his thin and fanciful argument.

Is it any wonder that the country has laughed to death that constitutional issue?

Sisk and Sask

Mrs. Rutherford, mistress of the "Mountain Garden," in her article in Monday's Daily News, narrating incidents of her motor trip to the Puget Sound country by way of the Columbia highway across the line, tells of a Canadian car driver whose licence plate bore the mystic legend, "Sask." A native of Oregon studied the visitor's car for a long time, and finally observed:

"Pardon me, sir, I thought I knew every state in the Union, but would you mind telling me what 'Sask.' stands for?"

Luckily for Saskatchewan residents, the movement, that shows a little life once every few years, to divide northern California from southern, giving to the northern portion separate statehood under the state name of "Siskiyou," has never materialized.

It would then be "Sisk." against "Sask.," and there would be endless confusion in the world of abbreviations. In fact, with San Francisco in "Sisk.," Saskatchewan would probably find it to its interests to undertake a labored campaign to induce all correspondents to adopt the laborious practice of spelling "Saskatchewan" out.

Nothing has been heard lately of the proposal to make a new state out of eastern Washington and the Idaho "Panhandle," with Spokane as the capital. Following the principle that some names are coined on, "Spokhandle" would seem to be a nifty suggestion for a state name for that territory.

According to the Native Sons of Canada, all territory north of the Columbia river belongs to the British crown. The cession of this territory, which includes most of Washington, to Canada, by Uncle Sam, only waits on the choice of an appropriate name for it, by the Native Sons.

Realizing that my mother housekeeper readers like to have me write upon infants' furnishings and outfits, now and then, I have lately taken note of some new "wrinkles" for baby. One of these is the soft covering which goes on the floor of the "pen" in which baby is left on the porch, lawn or room floor.

One shop which I visited was showing Turkish toweling carpets the exact size of the pen for $4.50.

"Why, any woman could make such a carpet!" I thought. "It could be made from two lengths of Turkish toweling sewed together, buttonholed in colored mercerized cotton around all four edges for decoration.

Or, in the case of the folding type of pen, which has no wood flyooring attached to it, one could cut rubberized cloth or a square of thin rubber the exact size as the space covered by the pen, bind this with cotton binding tape, and use it with a washable denim covering, both squares tying to bars of the pen at each of the four corners.

In wintertime, to keep draughts off baby while he is playing on the floor in his pen, a quilted floor covering could be made the exact size of the floor space covered by the pen, of two thicknesses of eiderdown, or a soft, easily-laundered little mat could be knitted or crocheted with Germantown yarn in a practical dark color.

How much better are these soft pads which exactly fit the pen, tying securely at all four corners, than the shawl or other loose piece of protecting material which mothers often place in baby's pen, to soften the little one's falls, or to keep draughts off.

We who have friends with very young children should find a Christmas gift hint in this idea of a penpad. The warm summer weather is an excellent time to sit still and sew, or knit, at least for a short time each day, and how glad we shall be in December to have one of our gift problems solved! I am going to practice what I preach and visit the home of a young married friend who has a young child; when my friend is out of the nursery I shall take from my handbag a rolling tape measure and quickly measure the baby's pen. Provided with exact dimensions, I shall next shop for materials for a penpad— and I know in advance that my busy little married friend will find my gift tremendously helpful. Even though some other friend happens to give her the same kind of present, she will still appreciate mine, to use when her other penpads are in the wash.

Tomorrow—French Ice Cream.

In proportion to population Canada, with its 464 golf courses, has more than the United States, so that summer visitors from other countries need not worry about having to miss their game. That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

Removing a Complex

Perhaps you have always been able to face the trials and troubles of life with a brave heart, and a mind at ease.

You have had your ups and downs, physically and financially, and have kept real control of yourself.

However, you have been noticing lately that certain things bother you more than they formerly did. You dread certain places, conditions, or people, and will either not face them or face them with more or less fear.

Sometimes one particular person or condition will so get on your mind that you begin to lose your appetite and ability to sleep.

Perhaps you can notice that your friends seem to regard you a little differently, or at least you think they do, which really amounts to the same thing.

In other words, you have established hat is called a "complex" by our nerve specialist. A complex is a group of ideas that gather around some one thing or some one person, in your mind.

Now, these ideas are going to affect everything you do in life; they seem to give you a "slant" in certain directions.

A simple complex usually gives no trouble, because you learn to fight or overcome it. But perhaps you have been ill, have been under an unusual amount of strain. What was a simple complex becomes really severe, and if you do not receive proper treatment, or work out your own system of cure, then the condition can become serious and call for expert attention from a nerve specialist.

And how does the nerve specialist effect the cure?

He questions you until he finds out just exactly what is troubling you, just when it started, and what has aggravated it, and so forth.

He talks very straight to you, and by getting your confidence gets straight answers from you. He knows that this confidence you repose in him is really his greatest asset in effecting a cure.

So he hauls your "complex," that is whatever is wrong with you, out from you, and then proceeds to show you how really unimportant it is, or what a mistaken notion you have regarding it.

He then puts it up to your good sense and the cure is complete.

This is what is called psychoanalysis, which means simply trying to find out the "buried complex" in your mind, lifting it out, so that the light of day or your own good common sense will drive it completely away.

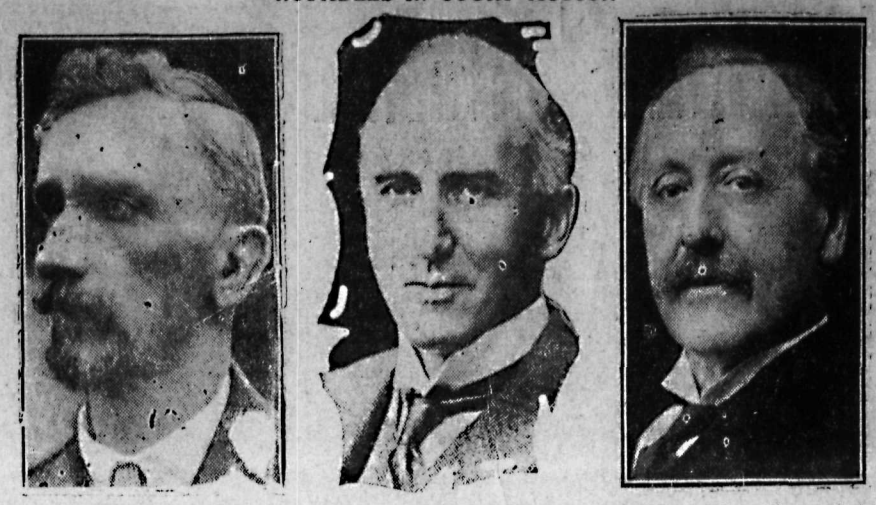
NOTABLES IN COURT ACTION



Left to right, Capt. Peter Wright, Sir John Simon and Lord Gladstone, headliners in the action against the Bath club of London. The case was one arising out of the expulsion from the club of Captain Wright through Lord Gladstone, son of the late Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone. Lord Gladstone alleged that his father had been slandered by Wright in a book he wrote. As founder of the club he used his influence to have Wright expelled. Sir John Simon appeared for the Bath club defendants, but did not defend the action. He only discussed costs. The court awarded Captain Wright £125 damages.

RUM COLLEGE GIVES DIPLOMAS

Chicago Claims University for Bootlegging; Co-Ed Tells of System

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—A university of bootlegging is the latest asset in Chicago's claim as an educational center. The college for turning out cultured booticians, synthetic thirstologists and hooch engineers is reported to be holding a lively session, with crowded lecture halls, packed laboratories and overstuffed museums of liquor cutting and vivisecting.

While "old grads" ply their unique but frowned upon profession among customers who let their tonsils, not their consciences, be their guide, the class of '26 is imbibing deeply of the refreshing wells of knowledge poured by the faculty.

There is no college campus, unless it is about the alley entrance to a night club or cabaret. There are no college halls, with green ivy burnsides and other traditional touches.

Lectures in the bootlegging college are conducted on the jump, with green liquor instead of ivy to simulate reverent age. Hazing continues throughout the course, with prohibition snoopers acting the roughneck role of the fiendish sophomore.

Forward Pass

Athletics are not neglected at the academy of liquid dynamics. The bottle forward pass is cultivated in a measure which would open the eyes of "Red" Grange. The goal kicking is superb, for most of the customers are eventually kicked for a goal. Horsemanship has its counterpart in white mule polo. New records are constantly being made at putting the buckshot.

Existence of Chicago's bootleg college was revealed in Denver. Marguerite Phillips, 19 years old, was arrested with 10 pints of whisky concealed on or about her person and she then confessed that she was a "co-ed" in the college and a member of the Denver-Chicago rum ring, according to the Denver Post.

Starting as a moonshine delivery girl, she passed the requirements which entitled her to go to Chicago to take an advanced course in the profession which since the eighteenth amendment was adopted has flourished like a green bay rum tree. Students at old "moon tech" frequent cabarets and night clubs and meet old-timers in the business, the newspaper said.

There are open forum discussions on how to circulate "rare old stuff," how to supply a customer with any kind of a label he wants on the same old tombstone perspiration, how to give botch-Scotch that smoky aroma and how to look, act and talk like anything but a bootlegger. "Professors" also speak on financial angles, for, strange to say, some of the students do not enter the college for its broadening influence but for liquor lucre.

"Our study methods were like those in regular classrooms and we were bawled out when we didn't catch on," the "co-ed" is quoted as saying.

LESS THAN HALF MAPLES ARE TAPPED

It is estimated that less than half of Canada's maple trees are tapped each year, says the natural resources intelligence service of the department of the interior. The manufacture of maple products is one of the most profitable side lines a farmer can develop when one considers the shortness of the season required and the fact that trees may be used as fuel when they pass maturity. The supply of maple products is much less than the demand and this is a situation that will become increasingly apparent when the people of other countries learn of the delicious flavor of maple syrup.

Telephone Etiquette; Who Ends Conversation Over the Telephone?

HALIFAX, Aug. 18.—At last the perplexing question of "Who should end a conversation by telephone?" has been given the attention it deserves. Complete details regarding telephone etiquette are contained in a recent issue of the Monthly Bulletin, the official publication of the Maritime Telegraph & Telephone company, limited. It says:

"As a general rule, the one who calls up is the one who should terminate the talk, as the person who calls up is in the position of a caller, and if he or she were calling in person the host or hostess obviously would not be the one to bring the call to an end. However, as regards telephone conversations, this is a rule which has its exception.

"When a woman is conversing over the telephone with a man, it matters not whether the man or woman did the calling up, it is the woman who should bring the conversation to an end. That is her privilege. On the other hand, especially if the woman is calling up the man during business hours, she should be careful not to continue the conversation too long, lest the man might find it necessary to excuse himself.

"If a woman calls up another woman, it should be the woman who calls up who brings the conversation to a close. Long telephone conversations are bad form. While the person who does the calling up may have plenty of time to engage in such a conversation, the party at the other end of the line may be engaged in some important occupation, but would be too polite to make this known."

A PROFESSION FOR WOMEN

New professions are gradually being opened to women, and while silversmithing and jewelry designing have numbered women adepts for a considerable time, the expansion of manufacturing jewelers' firms of late years in Canada would appear to indicate that this section of the fine arts may attract and offer worth while remuneration to women skilled in designing. So far, these firms employ more men than women, although many of them employ women in certain departments.

Goes to Far North

This monument is now on the steamship Bayrupert, plowing her way to Hudson's bay and other northern points, including the Royal Canadian Mounted police post at Chesterfield Inlet. Here the monument will be unloaded and set up over the grave of Mrs. S. G. Clay, wife of Staff-Sergeant Clay of the force, who died after being attacked by sleigh dogs at the post in August, 1924. Funds for this monument were subscribed by the officers, noncommissioned officers and men of the force throughout Canada and the Northwest Territories.

SEES CANADA AS A GREAT NATION

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—That even the world lecture tour of the Lord Bishop of London may find space for a romantic interlude in the interests of Dan Cupid is proven by the fact that the noted clergyman, Rt. Rev. Arthur F. Winnington Ingram, will officiate while in Toronto at the marriage of his niece, Miss Grace Ingram, to Capt. R. H. Carradus. The bishop is prevented from taking the chief part in the performance by statute. Bishop Ingram's world tour includes visits to Canada, the United States, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, the Malay States, China and Korea.

Dr. Winnington Ingram is an ardent Imperialist, and has always taken a particular interest in the Dominion of Canada. During his last visit to Toronto, Dr. Ingram prophesied that Canada in the future would have a population of at least 100,000,000 and would become one of the greatest nations of the British Empire.

LABOR SUPPLY EXCEEDS ALL DEMANDS, B. C.

About 70,000 B. C. Workers Covered by Eight-Hour Day Law.

EXEMPTIONS COVER ONLY TEN PER CENT

Lumber Mills in Interior Get Concessions Under Law to Make Up Time

VICTORIA, Aug. 18.—British Columbia's pioneer Eight-Hour-Day law is governing the working hours of approximately 70,000 industrial workers out of something like 80,000 employees in all provincial industries. This is shown by figures issued in the annual report of the provincial employment service issued here after compilation under the direction of J. D. McNiven, deputy minister of labor.

That the law is becoming more effective and more carefully enforced all the time is indicated by the figures on exemptions from its provisions. These exemptions, made to individual industries to meet individual working problems, do not affect more than 10 per cent of all the industrial workers. With fishing and farming exempted from the provisions of the law, around 70,000 workers were effected by it last year when 83,122 was the maximum number of workers employed in all industries in any one month. It is evident therefore, that the measure is applying to practically all industrial workers at all times with the exception of those engaged in farming and fishing.

Work Extra Hour

The board administering the law, the report says, found that in order to give workers in general the benefit of this legislation, it was necessary to permit a certain amount of latitude in regard to some occupations, and also to deal with any extraordinary pressure upon business at certain periods. In this respect the experience of the province has been identical with that of a large number of other countries where eight-hour legislation has been put into force. One important concession made in the lumber industry was to allow mills in the interior of the province to work an extra hour daily in the working period of the year, to make up for the winter months when employers are compelled by weather conditions to close their plants.

The report adds that there have been several prosecutions for violations of the act, but magistrates have not hitherto appeared to take a very serious view of such offences and only small penalties have been imposed in cases where convictions have been obtained.

More Workers Placed

With a total of 49,453 persons placed in employment last year, of which 33,660 were sent to "regular" positions, the employment service of the province made a highly creditable showing, the report declares. Altogether 10 per cent more workers were placed in employment than in 1924.

One of the functions formerly discharged by the soldiers' civil reestablishment board—that of endeavoring to find employment for handicapped ex-service men—is now being performed by the employment service.

For this purpose special sections have been created in the Vancouver and Victoria offices. Despite the difficulties inherent to the presence of a very large number of handicapped men in this province, a considerable amount of success has been obtained, the report shows. The Vancouver office was instrumental in securing 1086 placements under this head and the Victoria office 804.

Supply Exceeds Demand

The report states that though there were in 1925 approximately 10 per cent more persons employed in this province than during any period since 1920, the supply of labor was in excess of the demand. During the month of August the employment service sent nearly 10,000 men and women to the prairie provinces for harvest work. In the last four years 34,000 men and women from this province have been assisted by the employment service to obtain employment in the three prairie provinces and the complaints received have not averaged one per thousand persons so employed.

The year was remarkably free from labor disputes of a serious character, though were a number of minor troubles requiring adjustment from time to time, the report says. The total amount of working time lost by these disputes was 23,307 days, which compares very favorably with the 23,878 days lost in the previous year, and is, indeed, a showing that could not be equalled during several previous years.

HIS TUNE CHANGED

A Philadelphia nurse caused a cobbler to change his tune when upon her complaint that he had kept jewels accidentally left in her shoes, he was held in $1500 bail and went singing to jail. Martina Davis, the nurse, said that Louis d'Ascali, the cobbler, was singing "Jewels of the Madonna" when she first went to his shop. Now he is singing the prisoner's song.

PRISON CLOTHES

For forcing William McConnell, a Bedfordshire farmer, to wear prison clothes while he was a prisoner on remand in Bedford, Eng., jail last December, Herbert Pickering, ex-governor of the prison, was ordered to pay $25 at Bedford county court. The judge said it was repulsive that a man decently brought up should be forced to wear clothes that a number of prisoners before had worn. A prisoner's clothing should be taken away for one evening only, for search, he added.

NELSON CENTER IN FOREST FIRE PROBE SHORTLY

Pattullo Will Hear Evidence From All Persons Interested

VICTORIA, Au. 18.—When Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, starts an investigation into methods of forest fire control and prevention at the end of the present fire season he will cover a wide field. At hearings at many points throughout the interior Mr. Pattullo will hear representations from all interested persons not alone on forest fire problems but also on the operations of the interior lumber industry.

"Often the forestry service is told that it should do this or that to prevent and control fires," the minister explained in outlining his plans. "I propose to get recommendations of this sort in definite form and give settlers and others in forest districts a full opportunity to say exactly what they think about our methods and what they would suggest for their improvement. We simply want to get all the facts we can as the sole purpose of the forestry service in this matter is to cut down fire losses."

Interior lumber operators will appear before the minister to explain their problems to him, it is understood. Mr. Pattullo is willing to hear representations on the welfare of the lumber industry generally apart from the forest fire problem. While his itinerary has not been arranged, he will hold meetings in Nelson and several other points in the lumbering districts of the interior in order to hear representative views of lumbermen and any others interested.

QUEBEC LUMBERING

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

An interesting incident during the Canadian trip of the Marquis of Salisbury, lord privy seal and leader of the house of lords in the Baldwin cabinet, and the marchioness, was the visit of the distinguished statesman to the Toronto house of Toc H. His lordship lighted for the first time the lamp presented to the house by Lord Byng, and conveyed a message from "Tubby" Clayton, guiding spirit of the organization. Lady Salisbury and Mrs. Cockshutt, wife of the lieutenant-governor of Ontario, were guests of the house, and the photo shows, left to right, Lady Salisbury, Mrs. H. H. INDIAN'S VANITY BOX

The Indian travels in state now, says H. P. Murphy, a trapper and explorer from Ptarmigan lake in the Barrens. He maintains in the face of some skeptics that the frontier was given its last blow when he met an Indian on the trail wearing a vanity box where formerly a scalping knife had hung. From this the Indian pulled a powder puff, powdered his face and then, recounts the trapper, extracted a small mirror from the bag and assured himself that his makeup was good.

ENGLAND BEATS AUSTRALIANS IN FINISH MATCH

England Wins the 'Ashes'; Lead Too Big for Aussies to Overcome

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Amidst scenes of extraordinary enthusiasm displayed by a huge crowd at the Kennington oval, the cricket team representing England today crushed the Australian team in the fifth and last test match. England won by 289. It is only fair to say that the proverbial luck of the Australians deserted them. To begin with their skipper, Collins, lost the toss to the youthful Chapman, captaining England. England was sent to bat first and thereby got the best of the pitch, which wore very well for the first three days but was in bad shape for the Australians. So faced with the huge task of getting 425 to win, the antipodeans were at the mercy of the bowlers and could only get 125. England thus won the only completed game of the test series of the Australian tour this year. England's victory brings back the mythical "ashes," emblematic of the cricket championship, which were held by Australia.

Sutcliffe and Hobbs Good

The heroes of the match for England were Sutcliffe and Hobbs, who, by scoring centuries yesterday, gave England such a commanding lead; Strudwick, the wicket keeper, brought back into the team after being deposed for Brown, a younger man, but who was prevented by injury from playing; Rhodes, the veteran Yorkshire left-handed bowler, also brought out of retirement, and Larwood, the bowler.

The fall of the wickets this afternoon was as follows: 1 for 1 run, 2 for 31, 3 for 31, 4 for 35, 5 for 74, 6 for 83, 8 for 87, 9 for 114, 10 for 125.

The match attracted a crowd of about 30,000 this afternoon. Among those present were Prince Arthur of Connaught and Premier Baldwin.

COAST STARS ARE SOLD TO BOSTON TEAM

Frederickson and Eddie Shore Will Play in States; Patrick Makes Deal

MONTREAL, Aug. 18.—The Gazette on its sport page today says:

"Eddie Shore, stellar defence player of the Edmonton Eskimos, and Frank Frederickson, flashy center of the Victoria Cougars, have been sold to the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey league, according to information received here. It is also stated that Frank Patrick, who has been in the east for the past few weeks in connection with the disposal of teams and players of the now defunct western hockey league, has sold a third player, a forward, to the Boston management.

"Previously Patrick had arranged to sell the Victoria club intact to the Freidberg syndicate of Detroit, which group had hopes of obtaining a National Hockey league franchise, which, however, did not materialize. The reported sale of Frederickson to Boston would indicate that Patrick is now bent on disposing of some of the coast stars individuallly to clubs in the N.H.L. He closed a deal last spring for the sale of the Portland players intact to Tack Hardwick, who will operate a N.H.L. franchise in Chicago this winter.

"Jimmy Gardiner, former hockey star, and two years ago coach and manager of the Hamilton Tigers in the pro circuit, is stated to be in line as coach for the two pro hockey clubs in the coming season. It has already been announced that Quebec would like to have Gardiner handle their club. Yesterday it was stated Gardiner had been offered the post of coach with the New York Americans."

PLYMOUTH, Aug. 18.—The British cutter Hallowe'en, which started at scratch, was the first home in the 600-mile annual yacht race from Cowes to Fastnet Rock, off the Irish coast, thence to Plymouth. She arrived here shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. The race is a handicap affair. The outside allowance of 38 hours 20 minutes was given the English cutter Pentock while the Primrose III of New York received the next highest allowance of 28 hours 20 minutes. The Jollie Briz which was the winner last year and was one of the competitors in the recent New London to Bermuda race received 15 hours and 22 1-2 minutes.

Grim 'Em Your Own Way, and Here's Luck!

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

From my observation there seems to be no particular golf grip that is absolutely necessary to success on the links.

Bobby Jones, the present American open and amateur champion, as well as the holder of the British open cup; and Walter Hagen, the professional champion, both use the interlocking Harry Vardon grip.

Chick Evans, Jesse Sweetser, the British amateur champ, and Abe Mitchell, the great English pro, are some of the outstanding great golfers who do not. And they have had their share of success, too.

Gene Sarazen, who won the American open and professional championship in 1922 and numerous lesser titles, uses still another grip, locking his little finger under and not over his left hand.

So fellow dubbs, take your pick and write your own ticket.

DYMOND BEATS VICTORIA SHOT

Beaumont One Behind in Shoot-off; Hill Wins Individual Prize

Sergeant Hill scored 34 at 300 yards and a possible at 800 yards, lacking but one point of a possible. Competition in the match was keen, no less than five marksmen scoring but one short of possible at both ranges. Hill's score was slightly better than the others.

Lieutenant Skinner, Prince Albert, was in the prize money, with a score of 68.

Captain Dymond, Toronto, defeated Sgt. B. W. Beaumont, Victoria, by one point in the shoot-off for the City of Ottawa cup and gold medal today. The match was fired yesterday when both men scored 96. Today's score was Dymond, 22; Beaumont, 21.

The Princess Louise (Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders) of Hamilton won the Coates cup today, with a score of 379, four points over the score of the Esquimalt team, which finished in second place.

A team from the Wellington Rifles of Guelph, Ont., took major honors in the Walker cup match, with a score of 267. The Royal Hamilton Regiment B. team annexed second place with 266.

Rickard Announces Date as September 23; Ten Rounds to Decision

Plans to Seat 150,000; Champ to Train at Atlantic City

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney will meet for the heavyweight championship in the Sesqui Centennial Stadium in Philadelphia, September 23, Tex Rickard announced tonight.

Rickard said that he had made his decision after receiving assurance from the Pennsylvania Athletic commission that there would be interference with the match.

Rickard deposited $50,000 with Young, guaranteeing that he will stage the fight in the Quaker city.

Present plans call for a seating capacity of 150,000 at the stadium with prices ranging from $5 to $30.

Rickard said that he would order Dempsey and Tunney out of their training camps in New York state immediately and that the champion will prepare himself at Atlantic City.

The bout will be of 10 rounds to a judges' decision and the New York commission are said to be in accord on the matter.

Ten per cent of the gross receipts will go to the exposition while the state will receive five per cent.

FRENO SLIDES UPON STOMACH TO SAVE GOAL

Wolves at Last Fall Before Ex-Stars in Muddy Half-Game

In a soccer match at the Recreation grounds yesterday, which began in a downpour of rain, and which lasted only one half, the Wolves lost by the single goal scored. Whitfield, of the Ex-Stars, was responsible for that goal.

Had W. Freno, Ex-Star goalkeeper, lost a single one of the horseshoes which lined his goal, the score would certainly have been in favor of the Wolves. But time after time, whether the ball came to him on the ground, or high in the air, Freno got his hands or face or some other part of his ample anatomy in the way and cleared. On one occasion he slid half way across the goal mouth on his stomach to save.

Both Goalies Lucky

But the Wolves' goalie, Carlson, was lucky, too. The Ex-Stars should have scored four or five times, but they shot high and wide every time. The goal they did get was more good luck than good play. Whitfield shot the water-soaked ball along the ground from well out. It passed two Wolves, and when Carlson put out his foot to stop it, it slid off his toe and into the goal.

The Wolves played better soccer than the Ex-Stars, but a slippery ball and a treacherous ground, as well as the big advantage the Ex-Stars had in weight, handicapped them on every side. And when they did shoot Freno was unbeatable.

The teams were:

Wolves—Carlson, goal; Hanna, and McInnes, backs; C. Jeffs, Wallach and Richardson, halves; Campion, Dawes, Arcure, Wallace and Saure, forwards.

Ex-Stars—Freno, goal; A. Jeffs and W. Jeffs, backs; Benwell and MacKenzie, halves; St. Denis, Andrews, Whitfield and Nother, forwards.

Gertrude's Fat Did Her Favor in Making the Channel Swim

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 18.—At last the fat girl has come into her own! Increased fat, almost as much as her great natural speed, enabled Miss Gertrude Ederle of New York to conquer the English channel, according to George Hebden Corsan Sr., himself a swimmer of international note, and one of Canada's foremost swimming instructors. He says:

"There is no reason in the world why a woman should not swim the English channel far more easily than a man, because a woman can stand the cold water better. Miss Ederle is a very fast swimmer. She has a flutter leg drive that fairly hurls her through the water and she learned to swim in a bathtub just nine years ago. She has been constantly coached on the crawl stroke and is good on either speed or distance. Miss Ederle has flat broad feet that are almost as good as fins, has enormous broad shoulders, a flat back and large hands. Besides this she is fat. Fatter than she was last year, thus she has practically every natural advantage in her favor."

SALARY LIMIT ABOLISHED IN PRAIRIE LOOP

Five Teams Entered and Best Season for Years Is Looked Forward to

MOOSE JAW, Aug. 18.—There will be no salary limit in the prairie hockey league, and with five teams entered—Moose Jaw, Regina, Calgary, Saskatoon and Edmonton—the best pro hockey season in history is looked forward to by the league officials. The meeting to make arrangements for the season was held here today, and W. E. Seaborn of Mose Jaw, for years a promoter of pro hockey, was chosen president and secretary of the league. Each of the five cities had a delegate at today's meeting.

The schedule for the season will be drawn up at a meeting of the league representatives to be called some time in September.

President Seaborn has received an invitation from President Calder of the N.H.L. to attend a conference of professional hockey league representatives to make arrangements between the leagues. The invitation will be accepted.

WILD SCENES AS ENGLAND WINS

London Streets and the Oval Crowded With Excited Cricket Fans

LONDON, Aug. 18. — Londoners heard of England's victory in the fifth test match with Australia just after 6 o'clock tonight when the throngs of city workers coursed through the streets on their way home. Crowds who had rallied before the newspaper offices to watch the progress of the match gave exuberant vent to their feelings.

Soon crowds gathered in the the Strand, blotting out the pavements outside the buildings where the news was displayed, and police reinforcements were called to regulate the traffic.

The scene at the oval was even wilder than in London streets. Mailey's dismissal was the signal for frantic outbursts in which grave persons sacrificed their hats, men hugged each other and danced about, women became hysterical, and retired colonels leaped the barriers and scampered toward the pavilion. The players were mobbed, and Hobbs had to be rescued and carried away.

Canadians Consume More Eggs Than Any Other Nation on Earth

Canadians consume more eggs in a year than almost any other nationality, remarks the nattural resources intelligence service, the total being over 300 per capita per year. In other words, every man, woman and child in the country consumes on an average, one per day for six days in the week. This is a considerably higher consumption than either in Great Britain or the United States. One reason for this is the fact that Canadian eggs are usually fresh and properly graded. There are about five hens or other domestic fowls for each person in the country and they are, for the most part, well distributed in small flocks, from one end of the country to the other, so that it is usually possible for eggs to reach the consumer without going into cold storage.

Dominion Temperance Alliance manifesto, issued at Montreal, declares Canada's immediate need is nation-wide prohibition.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

William Gibson, manager of Gene Tunney, suggests that the boxing commissions of all states where the sport is legal, vote on the question as to who shall be named to oppose the heavyweight champion, Jack Dempsey.

For the first time in the history of the River Thames, an international boat race will take place this year for the Duke of York's international gold trophy. Four nations have thus far signified their intention to compete—Canada, France, Great Britain and the United States.

Six hundred and ninety-two golfers, professional and amateurs, have entered for the American open championship to be played at Columbus, Ohio, over the course of the Sciota Country club, on July 8, 9 and 10. This is the largest field in the history of golf. The record in previous years was 445.

The American museum and natural history in New York City, recently placed on exhibition the skeletons of two of the greatest thoroughbreds of American turf history. They are Lee Axworthy, former world's trotting of the most famous race horses of his day.

Compared to the other major league clubs that are trying to produce ball teams, William F. Baker, president of the Philadelphia Nationals, spends absolutely no money, either for salaries or for new players. He supports no scouting system worthy of the name. He secures his players through the draft and by picking up discards.

The first improvement in playing cards in more than 400 years has been made by E. W. McCarrel and his wife, of Pittsburgh, Pa. A patent has been granted for a new-style deck, which contains 52 cards, but has two sets of values for each card. According to Hoyle, there are 2,598,960 combinations of five cards possible in the 52 cards of the standard deck. With the new deck, which is really two in one, twice that number will be possible.

Canada shipped nearly 1,300,000 tons of newsprint to the United States in 1925. This was at the rate of one car load every 10 minutes throughout the year.

Business Facts

YOUR STOCKHOLDER'S "RIGHTS" MAY BE WORTH MONEY

Stockholders "rights" are sometimes valuable and have a ready market.

* * *

When a corporation has occasion to raise additional money by the sale of a new stock issue, the privilege is usually given to the stockholders of record at that time, to subscribe for the new stock in proportion to their holdings of old stock, at a price less than the existing market quotations of the old stock. This privilege is called stockholders "rights."

Such a right generally has a value depending largely upon the price at which the original stock is selling on the market. If the stockholder does not wish to avail himself of that right, he can usually sell it to some other person. These rights are dealt in much the same as other securities.

When a stockholder receives the privilege of subscribing to a new issue of stock or any other security and he does not desire to make further investment, he should investigate through some reliable broker to ascertain whether or not there is a market for his "right," so that he will not overlook an opportunity to dispose of it at a profit.

CONFERENCE ON PENSIONS SAID TO BE SCHEME

King Declares Meighen Advocated Conference in Order to Ditch Issue

LIB LEADER SPEAKS IN PORTAGE, BRANDON

Forke on Platform at Brandon; Praises Prog Support to Liberals

BRANDON, Man., Aug. 18.—In the adjoining constituencies of Portage and Brandon which returned Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and Robert Forke to parliament last year. Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, held meetings today.

In Portage la Prairie Mr. King spoke of the courtesies of public life. In thanking Mayor Burns for the welcome extended to him. The mayor, Mr. King pointed out, was president of the local Conservative association. It was to be wondered at, how one so gifted as Mr. Meighen could take such "short-sighted actions." No matter how much personal regard electors might have for Mr. Meighen, they were called upon to vote on questions of policy affecting Canada as a whole.

Mr. King, speaking in the interests of Mr. Meighen's Liberal opponent, E. A. McPherson, singled out the old age pension legislation as the basis of an attack. The Liberal government's old age pension bill had been opposed by Conservative on a pretext. "I notice that Mr. Meighen is finding that the people do not agree with his stand on the old age pensions," he said.

Method to Defeat

Mr. Meighen's scheme of calling a conference of the provinces was simply a method of defeating the whole scheme he said.

At the outset of the Brandon meeting with Mr. Forke on the platform, Mr. King made "a public acknowledgement of the constant, loyal and unfailing support of the members of the Progressive party in carrying on the work of parliament."

It would have been impossible for any one to carry on in the last parliament without cooperation. It might have been possible for the Liberals and Conservatives to cooperate" and it was not due to the fact that overtures were not made," said Mr. King. Overtures had been made to members of the Liberal party. It was, it was said, in the interests of eastern Canada that the two old parties should "join and see that these farmers from the west were not put in the position of dictators."

As to the loss of certain legislation Mr. King declared that he had no intention of closing the doors of parliament until the work of the session was concluded. Even if Mr. Forke had been called on to form a government, it might have been possible to secure Liberal cooperation to pass the remaining legislation.

Pledges Support

At the Portage meeting this afternoon, Harry Leader, who represented the riding as a Progressive, pledged his support to the Liberal candidate. He would support Mr. King because he was "a safer man than Meighen." On the platform were Hon. T. C. Norris and Senator Watson.

In the course of his speech Mr. King said he would one thousand times rather be leader of His Majesty's loyal opposition and be in the right, than the prime minister and be in the wrong. He was amazed at the terms Mr. Meighen had used in the commons in describing the Progressive party. Yet it was to the same Progressives he looked when he wanted support. He should have admitted that he could not carry on.

"When I advised his excellency, I had been prime minister four and a half years, and had the confidence of the commons and the people. When Mr. Meighen went to the governor-general he had been premier for two and a half days. He had never been elected by the people or the house of commons."

"The only additional advice Mr. Meighen gave his excellency was that his government had been defeated.

Speaking of the "campaign of the vilest kind of slander carried on against public men," Mr. King mentioned a member of the last parliament who had made a grave charge against the women of the civil service.

"And then he lied about it," declared Mr. King. He claimed he had been misquoted by the reporter, but later he was confronted by the reporter's notes, which he had himself "Ok'd."

"The Tory party is trying to fight this campaign on scandal—scandal that they can't support," said the Liberal leader.

BARMAIDS REAL PIONEERS OVER SOUTH AFRICA

London Society Drives Many to Become Barmaids in Africa

MAJORITY OF THEM ARE FROM ENGLAND

Have Sons Being Educated in Eton; Are Not to Be Trifled With

CAPE TOWN, Aug. 18.—Throughout Africa one finds the English barmaid as ubiquitous as the English chorus girl throughout Europe. The barmaids of Africa have been the real pioneers of the country. Many married and settled down with the men who came to search for diamonds and gold, and the younger generation of fine, stalwart Rhodesians owe much to their barmaid-mothers.

The barmaids are still to be found in Bulawayo, Salisbury, Beira and other tropic towns. Flanked by shelves filled with bottles of every hue and liquor and airing a wonderful insouciance, these women have the manner of dealing with naughty children when the saloon is filled with those who cultivate the "sundowner" habit.

There is always something suggesting an intriguing mystery about these barmaids, something which would explain their appearance in these lonely towns. More than one woman, hounded out of London society because of some scandal may be found presiding over a medley of bottles in an African bar.

Nearly All English

Perhaps the most interesting of these barmaids are to be found in the Portuguese port which offers a convenient neutrality to men escaping from justice. In the Rua Ajaciuo, where a notorious casino flourishes, one may find drinking saloons with such pretentious names as the Carlton, the Criterion or the Trocadero.

The barmaids of the Rua Ajaciuo are nearly all English and they compete with each other to make their saloons curiously inviting. They introduce feminine frills in the shape of pink covers and bows for the cane chairs and colored prints on the walls.

In Lourenco Marques, Sybil, a barmaid with a pretty inviting manner, during the evening served and controlled drunken seamen and listless Portuguese; during the day she was a devoted wife to a man crippled with rheumatoid arthritis. He was a victim of the war and could not move from his couch in the little bungalow they had outside the town.

He believed that his wife worked as a secretary in one of the steamship offices in Lourenco Marques each evening. He never knew the hopeless task his wife had finding work in this Portuguese port to keep them both alive. But Sybil loved her husband sufficiently to work as a barmaid in one of the worst bars in town. He died, without knowing the truth, and the plucky woman returned to civilization.

Sent Son to Eton

It is in a certain port of Portuguese Africa, too, that one may meet an auburn-haired barmaid, who has a son at Eton. She is determined to make a gentleman of him, and her earnings go to keep him at school. The mother will never go back to England.

In Beira, a port of many dissipations, one of the most popular barmaids is an American woman. They say that she killed a crook in New York and that the police, knowing the provocation under which she suffered, conveniently failed to reach the steamer before she had sailed for Africa. She has more real friends in this humid, sweltering town than any other woman.

These barmaids are not to be trifled with. One of the great mysteries of Lourenco Marques is still that of the Portuguese who was found shot in his motor car outside the town. He had set out with three barmaids the previous day, and what happened nobody knows. He never came back alive. That was two years ago and the mystery still remains.

Ireland and Japan Secure Eggs and Fry of Canadian Fish

Canadian sport fish have acquired a reputation throughout the world, and wealthy sportsmen from many countries have visited Canadian shores to test their skill against the savagery of Canadian bass, salmon, tuna, maskinonge and other gamey specimens.

Quite recently shipments of land locked salmon were sent to Ireland and trout eggs to apan to stock the lakes and streams of estates in those countries, for the benefit of those who have not the time to seek these specimens in their Canadian haunts. One thing that can never be exported or transplanted, however, is the rugged and magnificent scenery which forms a wonderful background for outdoor recreation in Canada.

TWO DROWNED

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 18. — Arthur H. Keen, merchant, and Sherdel Standbush, salesman, were drowned this afternoon in the Thames river, near Putnam. Keen was bathing and was seen to be sinking, when Standbush, from the bank, went to the rescue. Both sank.

BUSINESS FOR SIX MONTHS IS GRATIFYING

Agriculture, Mining, Lumbering and Fishing All Progress

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—"The statistics and information available at this date regarding industry and trade during the first half of the year show that the volume of business was sufficient to provide a gratifying measure of prosperity for the greater part of the country's population," says the August letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

"Encouraging features are seen in the four major basic industries—agriculture, mining, lumbering and fishing. The farmers have been able to dispose of large quantities of agricultural products at quite favorable prices, the production of minerals has been increased and extensive development has been carried out, the lumber mills, while operating at little, if any, profit, have had a good market for their output, while a strong demand has existed for Pacific coast fish and the new season opened in that section under very favorable conditions.

Industrials Fair

"Industrial operations were maintained at a satisfactory level, even during a period when a material slackening is ordinarily expected Wholesale distribution and retail sales in the country as a whole were ahead of the first six months of 1925, and further indications of an enlarged buying power are shown by the greater circulation of bank and government notes, an increase in the debts to individual bank accounts and the heavier freight traffic in merchandise. There was less unemployment then in the five previous half years and labor disputes were few and relatively unimportant, the construction program was the largest since 1913 and commercial failures were the lowest since 1920. Our foreign trade improved, even under the handicaps resulting from unfavorable events in Great Britain and Europe, while the statements presented by the railways and some of the large institutions and manufacturing concerns showed increased revenues.

July Active

"July opened with a spirit of confidence in business circles. Trade improved quickly as a result of more seasonable weather and the same factor was responsible for more favorable crop reports, especially from the eastern provinces, while manufacturing was still being conducted on a scale almost as extensive as that of the previous month.

"These favorable influences, for the most part, still exist, but the outlook for the balance of the year depends largely upon the forthcoming harvests and the state of the markets abroad for farm products."

A $468,000,000 SPORT

Perhaps the golf experts who have been trying to explain why American golfers have been beating the British could find the answer to this question in the estimate by a writer in the New York Times that the United States spends annually on golf $468,000,000. More than 2,000,000 golfers and nearly 5000 golf courses in which the total investment is placed at $1,300,000,000!

CALGARY, Aug. 18.—H. B. Adshad was unanimously choice of Labor party as candidate for East Calgary He was former alderman and also member of United Farmers of Alberta. The Liberal convention will be held next Monday night, but probably will not put a candidate in the field.

YOUNG NOMINATED

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—Lieut.-Col. Newton M. Young was selected by the northeast Toronto Conservative convention last night to contest riding in the forthcoming election.

There was some dissention evident at the convention, some delegates refusing to accept the chairman's ruling of support to the nominee.

REMANDED FOR TRIAL

MILTON, Ont., Aug. 18.—Declaring that evidence purported to be held by the crown would make the charge of manslaughter against Bert D'Angelo in connection with the series of deaths from wood alcohol poising almost one of murder, Magistrate Shields of Oakville, today remanded D'Angelo until August 27, and refused to grant bail.

INSTANTLY KILLED

GODERICH, Ont., Aug. 18.—Thomas F. Meagher of Dublin was instantly killed at the harbor when a load of logs fell on him.

Entangled among high tension wires a boy's kite caused a short circuit at the Tamaqua, Pa., power plant resulting in destruction of plant by fire and consequent closing of all industries.

Edna Kellar, Crestline, Ohio, school teacher is being sued for alleged undue punishment to a 14-year-old pupil. It is charged she laid the boy over a chair and whipped him with a fence board.

SLOCAN TOWNS GIVE ESLING A FINE RECEPTION

Sandon, Silverton and New Denver Cheer the Candidate

STACEY, HINCHLIFFE DISCUSS THE ISSUES

Moral Principle, Stable Fiscal Policy the Need of Hour

Reporting the campaign in the Slocan, of W. K. Esling, Conservative candidate, to have had an excellent start, with three meetings in the first two days, and two more scheduled for yesterday, Rev. Joshua Hinchliffe, M.P.P. for Victoria, arrived in Nelson last evening. Mr. Hinchliffe, who took part in the meetings of Monday and Tuesday, spent last night on the north shore, and leaves this morning for Creston, where he will speak at a Conservative meeting tonight, in company with Lieut.-Col. Fred Lister, M.P.P., and Maor E. Mallandine. Tomorrow he will pass through on his way home to Victoria.

According to the Victoria legislator, Mr. Esling, as candidate, and F. B. Stacey, former M.P. for Fraser Valley, who is to speak with him throughout the constituency, as he did in the campaign of last fall, were accorded splendid receptions.

Sandon Told of Customs Breakdown

The platform campaign opened at Sandon Monday night, where Ewan Cameron presided, a good house listening with keen interest to the issues discussed by the speakers.

Mr. Esling briefly dealt with the revelations made in the customs inquiry, which led to the change of government, declaring the conditions disclosed amply ustified the Stevens charges.

A statement made in Liberal circles, that he had voted against the old age pension bill, Mr. Esling emphatically denied, pointing to the record in Hansard which showed he had urged the introduction of such a measure before the government took it up.

Canon Hinchliffe spoke for a few minutes, and, as a former associate of Mr. Esling in the provincial house, referred in laudatory terms to Mr. Esling's record of hard and valuable work there.

Mr. Stacy took as his theme the absolute necessity of honesty and of stability in government, if the public was to be served, and if the country was going to progress. He also made a brief reference to the tariff, showing how the policy of protection would work out in the interests of the working man.

Silverton Hears Them

The speakers addressed a good afternoon meeting at Silverton Tuesday, with a good attendance considering the hour, J. W. M. Tinling being in the chair.

Mr. Esling again briefly went over the ground of the customs developments, and dealt with his record as the West Kootenay representative in the late parliament, while Mr. Hinchliffe again touched on the candidate's achievements in the provincial house.

Like the others, Mr. Stacey spoke but briefly, referring to the ideals that should obtain in government. He also extended an invitation to the people of Silverton to be present at the meeting at New Denver in the evening.

Big New Denver Meeting

At New Denver a large audience, representing both New Denver and Silverton, gave the speakers an enthusiastic reception, applauding Mr. Esling's exposition of the events of the late session, which centered about the tracking down of the customs debauchery, and registering its approval of his claim that his record, and his personal knowledge of the constituency through a long residence, fitted him to serve it in the coming parliament.

The speakers were introduced by J. B. Smith as chairman.

Mr. Hinchliffe at this meeting spoke at greater length, and dealt with the record of the King government since its inception, its unstable and uncertain course, its lack of leadership and of definite policy, and its failure to abide by the promises on which it was intrusted with office.

Stacey Urges Stability

The speaker of the meeting was Mr. Stacey, that veteran campaigner evoking cheers as he declared stability a necessity for the good of the country, and contrasted this ideal with the unsatisfactory conditions obtaining from the time Mackenzie King assumed office.

Particularly unsatisfactory, and tending to disaster, was the uncertainty in regard to the tariff, which began with Mr. King's tinkering with it and exposing various Canadian industries to more competition. As opposed to this condition, a stable tariff would give confidence to business men, and result in expansion of industry.

A Mortgage to Uncle Sam

Mr. Stacey pointed out how, under a low tariff, Canada was gradually mortgaging itself to the United States, which had the balance of trade. Canada from time to time sold bonds in New York to meet its balances, and now the total of these claims amounted to $5,200,000,000. The only way for Canada to get out of this was by adoption of a tariff policy that would develop Canadian industry, and end dependence on American industry.

Under present conditions, the speaker pointed out, the higher wages possible in American plants led to an exodus of young Canadians who were wage earners. With a stabilized tariff that would give the industries of the country surety of existence, conditions would be such that Canadian wages would equal those across the line, and the inducement to leave Canada would vanish.

The Qualities Needed

Mr. Stacey ended by stressing the iniquity that was brought home to the late government, in the customs investigation, and calling attention to Mr. Esling's qualities of honesty and fidelity, essential qualities needed in the Canadian legislature more at this time than ever.

FRUIT TRADING BRISK ON LOCAL PRODUCE MART

Flour and Sugar Unchanged; Local Pears Asked; Apples Good

OLIVER CANTALOUPES BEST UPON MARKET

Jam Cheaper; Canned Fish, Fruit, Meat Higher; Feed Steady

Trading in fruit was active on the Nelson wholesale market in the past week. Staple goods changed but little, but there were indications of higher prices in many imported lines. Canned goods are among the commodities which have gone up in price. Flour and sugar prices were unchanged.

Local pears are now on the market. Prices are lower than on the imported brands, but only about average for local fruit. Early apples are selling well, and are a good size. Grand Forks is among the heavy apple shippers at present.

Trail Has Douk Fruit

Trail and Rossland are still loaded with Doukhobor tomatoes and plums.

Peach plums are off the market, but Maynard plums are starting.

Elberta free-stone peaches from the Yakima valley, for preserving, are in demand, and the quality and supply is good. Okanagan peaches are not selling well, as they are smaller, and not as ripe as the Yakima fruit.

Nelson potatoes are off the market. Grand Forks and the Arrow lakes, however, are shipping steadily. Creston potatoes are being used in the Crow, as are the Creston tomatoes.

Malaga grapes will come into Nelson this week. Oranges and bananas continue to arrive in the city by carload lots. Water melon sales have slowed up this week, but it is expected they will speed up again with the warmer weather.

Cantaloupes Beat Imported

Cantaloupes from the Oliver district are said to be the best seen in Nelson for some time. They are far ahead of the imported kind, and the quality and pack are better than of the California fruit.

Sweet potatoes from California will arrive in the city this week.

Local cabbage and cucumbers are selling well. Onions from the Okanagan are said to be of excellent quality.

This year's jam is a little cheaper, and the supply is good. There is no change in the price of California canned fruit. With the exception of pears, all kinds of canned fruit are higher this year than last. Dried fruit is steady.

Canned Fish High

Canned fish is also higher. The opening prices on canned salmon are ahead of last year's. Sardines are dearer this year.

Walnuts and peanuts have advanced slightly in price.

Prices on canned meats are much higher this year than last.

This season's timothy and alfalfa hay from the coast is on the local market, but there have been no price changes. A car of Okanagan wheat, the first of the year's crop to come into Nelson, arrived over the week-end. It is good hard grain, a little drier than usual because of the dry weather in the Okanagan, which makes it a better grade of wheat.

Flour and sugar prices are unchanged.

ESTRADA REMAINS BEHIND THE BARS

Commander of Insurrecto Band Faces Serious Charge; Can't Raise Bail

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 18.—General Enrique Estrada, former Mexican secretary of war and commander of an insurrecto band intercepted by federal and county officers near here last Sunday night, together with members of his staff, was arraigned today before United States Commissioner Henry A. Bail for Estrada was fixed at $20,000, while Aureuli Sepaulveda, former Mexican army officer, was ordered held in $10,000 bail. Bail for other members of Estrada's staff ranged from $1000 to $5000. As yet none of the prisoners have furnished bond.

No Clue to Murderer of Publisher, Montreal

MONTREAL, Aug. 18.—No clue has yet been uncovered by the police which would lead to the identity of the murderer or murderers of J. Antoin Beaudry, well-known Montreal business man and publisher of Prix Couriant, who was found dead with two bullets in his back on Monday.

The police would not give out any information on the case, but it is understood they are working on the theory that revenge was the motive of the crime.

THREE FIRES ON LAKE ORIGINATE FROM LIGHTNING

Heavy Rains General Over Whole Southern Territory

Lightning started two fires on the south end of Kootenay lake and one on Hamlin creek, at the north end of the lake, Tuesday. But almost steady rain since then has prevented their becoming serious.

Rain has been general over the southern interior. Cranbrook and Nelson districts have had plenty of rain. Penticton has had some, but not as much as the eastern districts.

C. D. Orchard of the forest branch states the fire hazard is lower than it has been for two months, and promises to be extinguished.

Reduction of nearly all the crews of fire fighters has followed the quieting of the fires.

Shortly after 6 o'clock a rainstorm broke, and for hours rain fell more or less steadily.

Tuesday's 10-degree temperature range was repeated yesterday when the minimum was 54 and the maximum 64. Tuesday's minimum and maximum were, respectively, 53 and 63.

SEATTLE MIDDLE WOULD GRAPPLE TRAIL WRESTLER

Mervin Barachman Writes to News; Challenges Arthur

To the Sporting Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—I am writing you in regard to running a challenge in your paper for a championship match with Ernie Arthur of Trail.

I looked up the papers of his country when I was told here in Seattle that he held the championship of Canada. Now that I am going to locate in Canada, it is time to see who is really the middleweight champion of Canada.

If Mr. Arthur thinks that I have got to show that I am good enough to have a title match, just let him pick any middleweight he can find, and I will meet him in Trail or Nelson, just anywhere that I can get the match. I will come to Nelson and will train with any of the boys there till I can get the match with Arthur.

I am ready to show that I mean business, and if Arthur is what he claims, he will accept my challenge and give me a match.

MERVIN BARACKMAN.
