TWO ELEPHANTS RUN WILD, CRANBROOK

WIND STARTS NEW FIRES IN WEST KOOTENAY

MANY NEW FIRES SPRING UP IN WEST KOOTENAY

Trail, Blueberry, Sheep Creek, Crawford Bay New Areas

VELVET BUILDINGS NOW APPEAR SAFE

Most Fires in Burned-Over Areas; Cranbrook Has Rain

New fires were reported all through the Nelson district yesterday. Only one of the old fires, the one on Big Sheep creek west of Rossland, is causing any trouble. The other old ones are reported to be in good shape.

Velvet Seems Safe

On the Sheep creek fire, forest branch officials were planning Sunday to backfire from the top of the mountain on which the fire is burning, and to cut a guard line along the power line. On the south guard lines were being constructed. On the west the United States forest branch built about two miles of guard lines between the main road and the international boundary line.

For a time the Velvet mine buildings were threatened, but the main fire passed then on Saturday. The crew was moved back, and at 5 o'clock yesterday the buildings were intact.

A new fire was reported yesterday on China creek between Blueberry and Sullivan creeks. It started yesterday afternoon from an unknown cause and last night was burning fast. It was said yesterday to be crossing the mountain top on about a mile front. It was not then in valuable timber but was heading toward some.

Fire Near Trail

A big fire is burning near Trail. It is on the south side of the Columbia river, near the Fruitvale cutoff. It was getting into valuable timber yesterday and heading southward. It was said to be eating its way slowly toward Trail.

On the south fork of the Salmon river a fire is burning which came across the boundary line from Washington state. It is in burnt-over country. There is good timber toward the north, but it was not endangered yesterday.

The Slate creek fire is said to be under control.

A 50-acre fire was reported yesterday high up on Sheep creek in the Hudson Bay mine country. If it comes down it will get into good timber.

Fight to Save Property

The Ross Spur fire is going south, and the Boulder fire is heading north, and both fires are coming down into the valley of the north fork of the Salmon. Neither fire is under control. The forest branch has been confining its efforts to protecting property along the highway. Both fires are above good timber as yet.

Between Gray Creek and Crawford Bay a fire started yesterday, and a high wind prevented any steps being taken to get it in hand.

A report from Cranbrook yesterday stated that district had two hours of good rainfall yesterday, and the crews were being laid off.

No rain has been experienced in the Penticton district, but most of the fires in the Okanagan valley have been brought under control.

Fires near Grand Forks were reported yesterday as being well in hand.

The Porto Rico blaze was well guarded, and was being held. The fire west of Ymir was well-guarded yesterday, and was stated last night to be controlled. Control was being assumed over the Hellroarin' creek fire yesterday. At Ross Spur itself and at Meadows the fires were practically out yesterday.

Liberal May Oppose McGeer in Vancouver North; Stewart Choice

Gertrude's Dad Made Fortune on Bet With Lloyd's on the Swim

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Dispatches from Kingsdown, England, relate how the father of Gertrude Ederle, first woman conqueror of the English channel, bet Lloyds $15,000 against $175,000 that his daughter would accomplish the feat, and how as a result of her success, he is now $175,000 ahead. If he had been willing to bet that Gertrude would break the record by almost two hours, it is believed he could have had odds of something like 50 to 1.

FIGHT DUEL; ONE WOUNDED; JOLLY PARTY FOLLOWS

Italian Playwright and Author Settle Differences Over Newspaper Article

ROME, Aug. 9.—Luigi Pirandello acted as stage manager in the garden of his villa here today of as dramatic a scene as exists in any of his plays. The chief actors were Massino Bomtempelli, also a playwright, and Giuseppe Ungaretti, an author, and the "stage business" was a duel with swords.

The encounter, which arose through differences over published articles directed at Agesilao Greco, champion fencer, ended at the third assault when Ungaretti was slightly wounded in the right arm. The duellists left the field reconciled.

The meeting was watched by a select gathering of literary and artistic notables, while cameramen took motion pictures. Afterward the gathering had a jolly party, and mutual toasts were exchanged.

ALL IS QUIET OVER MOSCOW

No Murder or Revolt of Army and Navy, Report States

MOSCOW, Aug. 9. — All reports abroad that M. Stalin, general secretary of the Communist party, has been murdered, that Leon Trotzky has fled, that Gregory Zinovieff has been exiled, and that the Russian army and navy have mutinied are fictions.

Peace and order reign throughout Russia.

M. Stanil continues to direct affairs of state; Trotzky, who occupies a small apartment near that of M. Stalin, is engrossed in literary pursuits and work for the concessions committee, while Zinovieff is taking a much-needed period of rest in the Caucasus after his stormy recent innings with the central executive committee of the Communist party.

There has been no mobilization of soviet troops as reported abroad, nor has there been the slightest indication of any uprising within the army. Soviet leaders long have been in the customs of giving the army the best of everything, bestowing special attention on their welfare and recreation, thus winning their loyalty. Moscow is as quiet as any Canadian city on Sunday morning.

GALE ACCEPTS NOMINATION IN WEST KOOTENAY

Leaves Vancouver Bent on Refusal; Overcome by Welcome

DR. KING SAYS HE'S STRENGTH TO PARTY

Humphrey, Campbell Speak Upon Occasion of Announcement

"I want you to know that I felt a great honor was done me when a group of citizens of the West Kootenay, representing every walk in life, met in Nelson, and nominated me as the Liberal candidate for the West Kootenay. I was not looking for political honors—I have had about all the honors a young man could wish, and I felt there was no further need of my service in public life. My physician told me that my throat needed care. I took train in Vancouver intending to come to Nelson, and tell you the difficulties I would be under if I did not refuse the nomination. But when at the station in Nelson last night I was met by a group of earnest Liberals, and saw their spirit, and what they were prepared to do, I decided there was perhaps one more service I could perform for the country."

With the above words, signifying the acceptance of the Liberal nomination for this constituency, tendered him on July 29, R. H. Gale, ex-mayor of Vancouver, threw into a gale of cheering a mass meeting of Liberals at the Liberal rooms in the Maglio block yesterday afternoon.

Hon. J. H. King, M.D., late minister of public works, Mayor J. A. McDonald, as chairman, Kenneth Campbell, ex-M.P.P., L. W. Humphrey, ex-M.P., and others also spoke.

Mayor McDonald announced the object of the meeting as "reaffirmation of Mr. Gale's nomination," and declared the party in West Kootenay was fortunate in being able to call upon such a man. He asserted Mr. Gale, if elected, would "do as much for you as he did for Vancouver."

Ex-Minister Speaks

Speaking briefly before the candidate, Dr. King declared Mr. Gale was generally known throughout the province and Canada, and, as one of the Liberals who had enjoyed the confidence of the province, he was

Five Lose Lives When British Sub Sinks in Dockyard

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The British submarine H-29 sank at its moorings in the Devonport dockyard, near Plymouth, late today. Five men lost their lives, the admiralty having listed their names as missing.

Various reasons are given for the accident. One is that the submarine was inclined at too sharp an angle by the drawing of the hawsers as it was being moored. Another is that it went over too far in a tilting test, permitting the water to flow in at the open hatches.

Six men on deck at the time of the accident were able to jump clear of the craft and were rescued.

The H-29 sank in 25 feet of water. Salvaging operations were immediately begun.

WINDS FAN FIRES TO LIFE AGAIN

Vancouver Island and Revelstoke Districts Report New Outbreaks

VANCOUVER, Aug. 9.—Continued dry weather and brisk winds have added to the forest fire hazard in various parts of the province. Several small outbreaks on Vancouver island are reported by local forestry officials but these are said to be under control.

Advices received here tonight from Revelstoke are to the effect that several fires that were almost out last week have been fanned into life again.

A fire on the slope of Mount McKenzie, near Revelstoke, is burning briskly with huge trees ablaze along the mountainside. Behind the flames dense columns of smoke are clearly visible. The waters of Williamson's lake above which the fire is burning, are blood red from the reflection, and tonight hundreds of Revelstoke residents have gone to the shore of the lake to enjoy the spectacle.

Heavy Rains Dampen Fires in Fernie Area; Worker Loses His Voice

MAKE START TO REORGANIZE THE CUSTOMS BODY

Chartered Accountants Engaged to Make Careful Study of Departments

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL MAKES PROVISION FOR WORK

Whole Affair Being Carried On in Conjunction With Advisory Board

OTTAWA, Aug. 9. — Announcement of the taking of steps toward a complete reorganization of the department of customs and excise is made tonight.

Sir Henry Drayton, acting premier, in a statement issued tonight, states that Messrs. Clarkson, Gordon and Dilworthy, chartered accountants of Toronto, employed in the recent parliamentary customs probe, have been engaged under order-in-council to make a careful study of the customs department as a whole, including all its various branches, and to make recommendations with a view to complete reorganization of the department as contemplated by parliament last session.

The whole work, however, is to be carried on in conjunction with a special advisory and consultative committee who will act in conjunction with the accountants. This committee will be composed of Hon. W. J. Roche, chairman of the civil service; Georges Gonthier, auditor-general, or a representative in either case of the committee or auditor-general, George W. Taylor and R. W. Breadner, commissioner of taxation.

Drayton's Text

The text of the acting prime minister's statement is as follows:

"In order to give proper effect to the recommendations made by the special committee on smuggling for the reorganization of the customs department, it had been found that radical steps have to be taken and much careful study is necessary.

"An order-in-council has been released under which Messrs. Clarkson, Gordon & Dilworth, the chartered accountants employed by the committee, are now engaged to make a careful study of the administration of the department as a whole, including all its various branches, and to make recommendations with a view to a complete reorganization. The whole of the work, however, is to be carried on in conjunction with a special advisory and consultative commission, who will act in conjunction with the accountants."

Is Well Posted

"It will be noted that the commissions will cover the different phases to effect a complete result.

"The Hon. W. J. Roche, chairman of the civil service, is well posted generally as the needs of civil service; the proper subdivisions of work and its systemizing.

"Mr. Gonthier, the auditor general, has his special knowledge as auditor general, having reference to the proper checking of the revenues.

"Mr. George W. Taylor, present acting deputy minister of customs, is an old public servant of much experience, particularly having regard to the excise branch of the department.

On Appeal Board

"Mr. R. W. Breadner, the present commissioner of taxation, has long been connected with the customs work, has been for years on the customs appeal board and is extremely familiar with the administration of the customs side of the department; and Mr. Busby, the chief inspector of the department of customs and excise, who is so well spoken of by everybody in the inquiry, has a very intimate knowledge of the manners in which trickery can be exposed and fraud stopped. He is the same inspector from whose control the port of Montreal was taken when Mr. Bissailon was placed in charge.

"The one endeavor of the government is to bring about such a reorganization that will be complete, workable and satisfactory from all standpoints."

In her victory, Miss McClure defeated seven men and two other girl competitors.

Cranbrook judging team also won the district competition, with 1182 out of a possible 1200 points.

FOUR ARE DEAD IN FIREWORKS PLANT BLOW-UP

Victims Are Shattered in Mystery Explosion; Twenty Are Hurt

BRISTOL, R.I., Aug. 9.—Four persons were killed and a score injured today by an explosion which destroyed the plant of the Bristol Fireworks company, wrecked three other buildings, damaged nearby houses and shattered windows in distant parts of the town.

The four victims were Giuseppe Giorgio, owner of the plant, his wife, their son, and their son-in-law. The three men were at work and Mrs. Giorgio had just gone to the plant to bring them their dinners when the explosion occurred.

Her decapitated body was found in a potato patch 20 yards distant. Giorgio was blown through the roof of the flimsy one-story wooden shack that houses the plant. His body and that of Tamburo, the son-in-law, both mangled almost beyond recognition, were taken from the ruins. James Giorgio, the only one of the four alive when rescuers arrived, was removed to the hospital, where he died an hour and a half later without being able to tell the cause of the explosion.

The fireworks shack was blown to atoms and the fragments scattered in all directions for several hundred yards. Two dwelling houses which stood within 10 yards of the shack were demolished as was an adjoining carriage shed.

SLAIN WHILE HER HUSBAND AT HOME

Deaf Man Fails to Hear Slayer at Work in His Own Home

NEWARK, N.J., Aug. 9.—While her deaf and partially paralyzed husband slept peacefully in another bed, Mrs. Lena Tidor, aged 72, was strangled to death early today in her home.

The motive of the murder is not known, but it was not believed by police to have been robbery, as $40 in a tin box in the room was not disturbed. They awaited confirmation of their theory that the motive was criminal assault, from county Physician Martland.

The woman's hands were bound with a neck tie and a towel was wrapped about her neck, the ends forced into her mouth.

A package of cigarettes, believed to have been left by the slayer, was the only clue in the possession of the police.

PLANE WILL BE SENT TO LOOK FOR ANIMALS

Two of Herd of Six Still Roaming Bush; Reported Near Yahk

ENGINEERS GET ORDERS TO REPORT IF SEEN

Special Trainer Sent From Kansas; Circus Proceeds Without Elephants, Camels

CRANBROOK, Aug. 9.—Somewhere in the bush, not far from Cranbrook, there are two elephants roaming at large. Six of the animals escaped from the Sells-Floto circus on Friday morning last and three were recaptured, another was located, and two are still at large.

The circus was compelled to leave all its elephants and camels here. The circus has resumed its journey, after having to cancel one date on account of the wayward elephants. Z. Terrill, who remains here in charge of the hunt for the animals, received word today that on Tuesday an aeroplane was to leave Wichita, Kan., carrying elephant trainers and helpers to assist in the hunt. The aeroplane will be used in locating the animals, if not found before that time.

Plane to Aid

The plane is expected to arrive here some time late on Wednesday, and will assist in covering the rough country, where the animals are known to have taken refuge.

When they are located and captured, they are to be shipped back to their training quarters in the south. The speed with which the big lumbering animals can cover the ground has been found to be surprising, and, as they have been at large for some time, it is expected it will be necessary to go quite far in order to locate the missing animals.

In Train Orders

CRESTON, B.C., Aug. 9. — Undoubtedly the most unusual operating running order ever issued by a Canadian railway was the one handed Engineer Frank Sheridan of the C.P.R. westbound through freight, which reached Kootenay Landing at midnight on Saturday.

It read: "Keep strict watch for elephants on right-of-way, and if located report whereabouts on arrival at first telegraph station."

Five of these animals escaped from the Sells-Floto circus at Cranbrook on Friday, and were reported seen at Yahk, 40 miles further west, the following day, hence the order by the company to assist with their recapture.

Engineers on the Crow's Nest division are accustomed to seeing most every kind of big game native to Canada, but this is the first time on record that any Canadian throttle handler has been officially requested to report the whereabouts of anything of the jungle species.

glad to see the party get such a candidate. No one man could carry the constituency, but with the wholehearted support of every Liberal he could be elected.

He declared there had been much shifting of opinion in the country because of recent events, and asserted Mr. Gale would receive the support of many Conservatives.

Dr. King said he would leave to Mr. Gale the discussion at the proper time, of the King government's accomplishments, and himself would mention just one piece of legislation—that for old age pensions, which passed the house of commons with the support of the Liberal and Progressive groups. The Conservatives, he said, claimed they were for the principle, but held that the government should have first consulted the provinces, this view also being expressed by Mr. Esling, late member for West Kootenay. The measure was killed in the senate.

Promises His Aid

The Robb budget was touched on by Dr. King, who named the reduction of the duty on automobiles, reduction of the income tax, abolition of the receipt tax, and other features.

"As far as I am concerned, I am ready to assist in every way," declared the ex-minister, who contended that Mr. Gale's entry into the fight would help the party all over the country.

He dwelt on the importance of early organization, and of the good work that could be done by the ladies both in registering voters, and in seeing that voters went to the polls.

Gale Gives Reasons

Mr. Gale, after he had announced his acceptance in the terms given above, gave as one of the reasons for his acceptance his belief that the province could achieve the degree of development that was its due, through the utilization of its natural resources, which had long been one of his dreams. If, through being sent to Ottawa to represent West Kootenay, he should have a part in bringing about that development, he would be achieving his present ambition of doing one more service.

He stated he had been a Liberal all his life, believing in furthering the interests of the country, by which he meant the interests of the masses as opposed to those of the classes. In the present campaign ex-Premier King was appealing to those who felt that way, and not only to Liberals, Progressives and Independents, but to Conservatives as well.

The candidate said he accepted the nomination with one stipulation—he wanted it understood that the campaign on his behalf was to be conducted on gentlemanly lines, for when the election was over he wanted to be able to look his opponent in the face. If it was a clean fight, he predicted he would win.

Believes Seat Can Be Redeemed

Mr. Gale said this was not the time to discuss policies, he took the occasion to be a "family gathering," for mutual discussion. He said he was prepared to throw himself into the campaign without reserve, but no man and no 10 men could win the election. But if all put their shoulders to the wheel, when the votes were counted on September 14 he believed West Kootenay would be in the Liberal column.

He noticed the Conservatives were advertising that voters could register at the Conservative rooms, but saw no such advertisement from the Liberals. This was one of the matters to be taken up at once.

"I will give you all my time till election day, but I am not going to do it all," affirmed the candidate.

Mr. Gale said he was told by his physician he must not use his throat. His experience, however, was that his throat was better whenever he was in the Kootenay, as when he spoke in East Kootenay in a former election, and he believed he would come through all right.

He indorsed Dr. King's remarks about the ladies, and said he would "ask these old fellows to go out and give the girls a chance!" (Applause).

Campbell Feels Keen

Mr. Campbell said he had never heard such a fine address from a nominated candidate as that given by Mr. Gale, and after hearing it he felt twice as keen as before. He said he would do everything possible to help.

Elections were not won with prayers, he said, and an important question for the party was the wherewithall for meeting necessary outlays. The party from selfish motives had asked Mr. Gale to come here, and it could not expect him to bear the expenses.

Personally, he was ready to give everything that was in him toward the goal of electing Mr. Gale.

Humphrey Supports

Mr. Humphrey said he was present, not to take part, but to become informed. He felt, however, from his own personal point of view, that it was his duty to do everything possible to secure the election of a Liberal candidate. He felt the party had a candidate to appeal to every class. Anyone who had followed Mr. Gale's record knew he was sympathetic toward the workers. He stood for a policy good not only for West Kootenay but for the whole of Canada, and was also ready to support old age pensions. Mr. Humphrey declared it was the part of those in the ranks to work for his election, and to show by collective organization work that they were wholeheartedly behind him.

Ladies Speak

Mrs. A. L. McCulloch, called upon by the chairman, said she and other ladies were present to show Mr. Gale they were behind him. She said anything she could do would be done willingly.

Mrs. Hugh Ross said for a while, during the time it was thought Mr. Gale might not accept, she and other Liberals felt leaderless. She said she had greatly enjoyed her political work in the last campaign, and that it was a pleasure to her to get into harness again.

Mr. Campbell said he had omitted to report having had telephone calls from Trail and Kaslo, whose Liberals regreted being unable to have delegates present. He said the organization pledged Mr. Gale good majorities in those cities.

The meeting closed with the nation anthem.

Gasoline ¼c a Gal

Chicago Scientist Discovers Miracle That Gives 1,250 Gallons of Gas at ¼c a Gallon.

Try It Free

CHICAGO, ILL.—The automobile world is agog over the amazing results of the strange new gasoline discovery made by the Chicago scientist, L. Forgrave. It is an entirely new idea. Nothing ever like it. It is not a mechanical contraption, carburetor device or dope to put in gasoline. Its action is astonishing. Exhaustive tests prove and it is guaranteed to give 1,250 gallons of gasoline for only ¼c a gallon every 50,000 miles the car runs. It is named Motor-Mystery and is also guaranteed to instantly remove and permanently prevent carbon and to increase power, pep and speed of any car. One of its strangest features is the fact that it is used only once every 50,000 miles. It costs practically nothing and saves over $200 yearly.

You All Know Him

A straight salary of $100 weekly with commission and a Free Dodge car are guaranteed to agents everywhere to introduce it quickly. A Free Trial and agent's new plan will be sent without obligation to anyone who writes quickly to L. Forgrave, Director, M M Laboratories, 7000 N. Clark St., Dept. 638, Chicago, Ill.

King George Will Take Prominent Part in Grouse Shooting

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Everything points to a felicitious opening of the grouse shooting season on Thursday.

His Majesty the King is following his frequent practice of accepting the hospitality of the Duke of Devonshire at Bolton Abbey, Yorkshire, during the grouse shooting season. Incidentally the King's wishes on excursions of this kind are entirely for old-time simplicity and he is satisfied when on the moors, to have plain fare similar to that enjoyed by the surrounding hill folk, and mere shelter from wind and rain. his majesty is a dead shot with a sporting rifle.

Miners' Federation Officials Start Campaign for Funds in States

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Completing conferences with William Green, president of the American federation of labor, the mission representing the miners' federation of Great Britain, which is to raise funds, departed today on a tour of leading industrial centers to appeal to local unions and various labor conventions. The mission is headed by Ben Tillett, member of the British trade union congress. Mr. Tillett disputed a reported remark of Premier Baldwin that the children of British strikers are not in want and declared 2,000,000 children are in want.

SHOWERS SPOIL EDMONTON TENNIS

EDMONTON, Aug. 9.—Scattered showers interfered to some extent with the opening day's draws at the western Canada hard court tennis tournament being played at the Glenora club of this city, on Monday. A number of matches, however, were played and several of the favorites were given opportunities to show their form. While the representatives of Saskatchewan withdrew at the last moment, Alberta and Manitoba are both strongly represented and the tournament gives promise of much fine tennis.

W. Harrison of Winnipeg, paired with W. S. Waugh, the new Alberta champion, played their first game against the stubborn local team of Currie and Hanna, winning 6-1, 6-2.

Wright and Lewis, the other Winnipeg, lost to the Calgary team of Stuart and Anderson, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

There was only one surprise in the men's singles during the day the defeat of Ernie Anderson of Calgary, by J. Humphries, a local boy, by 6-2, 7-5.

THE LAUNDRY LIST

One Mother Says:

My little girl was so neat with a pen that I wished to encourage her in her lettering. Therefore I always have her copy my rough laundry list in her tidy letters, and fasten her list to the laundry bag. She was amply rewarded for her trouble when the laundryman commented on the fine lettering, and said that he wished all customers would give him such neat and readable lists.

YOUNG WOMEN SUFFER MOST

These Two Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ayer's Cliff, Quebec. — "I have been teaching for three years, and at the end of the year I always feel tired and have no appetite. I was awful sick each month, too, having pains in my back until sometimes I was obliged to stop working. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I heard many women telling how good it was so I thought it would help me. And it did. Now I take six bottles every year and recommend it to others." — DONALDA FANTEUX, Ayer's Cliff, Quebec.

THE GUMPS—SOME PEOPLE ARE BORN LUCKY

OVER HUNDRED PUT ON VOTERS' LIST

Many Surprised at Trail When Find Names Not on the List; Registrars Busy

TRAIL, Aug. 9.—"Say, am I on that list?"

From 9 o'clock this morning until 9 tonight, scores of Trail residents, both sexes, put this query to one or the other of the registrars now compiling the new list of voters in Trail, including Trail East and East Trail. It will be used in the pending Dominion election on September 14.

Many were answered, "Yes." Many got, "No"—among them a total of 102, being legally eligible, were added to the list.

Many were surprised. Some were under the impression that because they were on the last Dominion list they would be placed on the new one. Others, recently registered for provincial elections were not just sure where they stood.

It was pointed out to them that the old Dominion list is entirely disregarded. The last provincial list is the basis of the new Dominion register. All registered on it prior to May of this year are automatically placed on the new Dominion list. All others must register, either with J. P. Schofield at his office on Cedar avenue, or with Jesse Kemp, at his office on Bay avenue, this week.

British by Birth

The applicants must be British by birth or by naturalization, and at least 21 years old. They must have resided in Canada at least one year prior to July 20 and have resided in this electoral district at least two months prior to May 20, to be eligible.

CHAPTER LXXVIII

"Mark!"

The silence of the room was broken by the difficult utterance of his name.

For days John Hellaby had not moved or spoken, but as Mark turned slowly around, he saw that his father's eyes were opened and fixed upon him with unutterable sadness and regret.

Mark rose to his feet.

"Father!"

He took his father's stiff hand in a firm clasp, and the faintest smile of contentment flickered for an instant across the dying man's face, then the heavy lids came slowly down.

"Father!" Mark's voice was sharp with dread. "Father!"

But now there was no movement of the still handsome face, no faintest pressure of the cold hand.

John Hellaby was dead.

Mark stood looking down at him silently, and against his will he thought of that other deathbed beside which he had watched so short time ago, and again it came home to him with crushing persistence that loneliness was one of the most terrible things in life, and he shrank from the thought that perhaps it was to be his fate to have to live alone—to die alone.

With something of his old boyish diffidence he bent and touched the cold face on the pillow with his lips—the first and last time that Mark Hellaby had ever kissed his father—then he turned slowly away.

At the door he met Miss Midian, and she asked a shrill question when Mark would have barred the way.

"Your father?"

But one glance at his face told her, and she gave a shrill scream and would have fallen but for Mark's upholding arm.

"Dead—and I was not with him! Dead—and I never said goodbye."

Over and over again she wailed the words heartbrokenly, until in despair Mark handed her over to the maids and sent for Dr. Broughton, who administered a sedative which would, he told Mark, keep her quiet for 24 hours.

"She loved your father very devotedly," he said.

Mark was faintly surprised. Somehow it had never occurred to him that Miss Midian could love any one.

"Yes, I suppose she did," he said after a moment.

He began pacing up and down the room—they were in his father's study—and Mark thought how strange it seemed to know that now he was master here, and free to do exactly as he chose.

Dr. Broughton watched him curiously. Though he liked Mark, he did not understand him, and he was puzzled at the quiet way in which he took his father's death.

"You must find a wife now, Mark, and settle down," he said presently, in kindly fashion.

Mark stopped dead, and a sort of greyness seemed to settle over his face; then he laughed harshly.

"Thanks, but I was never intended for domestic bliss, I am afraid. I shall go abroad as soon as possible."

"And leave this fine old house to take care of itself?" Dr. Broughton asked deprecatingly. "Isn't that a pity, Mark, when you could do so much good by staying here?"

Mark shook his head.

"I think you flatter me, doctor. I know my own limitations too well to believe that I can do any good anywhere now."

His voice was bitter, and again the conviction went through the elder man's mind.

"It is a woman! Some woman has let the boy down badly."

He laid a kindly hand on Mark's arm.

"I'm an old man, and you're a young one," he said. "And we all go through it some time or another. But remember there are as good fish in the sea as any that are caught, Mark, and——"

Mark laughed with rough amusement.

"But what if you're the one that's caught, doctor? The poor devil with the hook hard and fast in his very soul, and no way of escape?" He paced away the length of the room and came back. "There's no reason why I should not tell you the truth," he said in a hard voice. "I'm not proud of it, so I'll ask you not to repeat it. . . . Well, I am married; and I hate—my wife, as much as—well, as much as Aunt Midian hates me; and I can think of no deeper hatred than hers." He laughed. "It's the truth; so, you see, I'm best out of the way, doctor."

There was a short silence, then the elder man held out his hand.

"I'm sorry, Mark—and I suppose it's useless to remind you that there's a silver lining to every cloud."

Mark smiled grimly.

"Quite, I'm afraid," he said.

But when he went to his room that night he pulled aside the blind for a moment and looked out into the spring night.

There was a crescent moon in the sky, hidden every now and then by black billowy clouds that swept up from the west.

A silver lining to every cloud! To every one's but his, perhaps! Mark told himself cynically, as he dropped the blind and flung himself, dressed as he was, on the bed.

TRAIL LIBRARY POPULAR; NEW BOOKS NOW IN

Over 100 Books Per Day Is Circulation; 1401 in the Month

TRAIL, Aug. 9.—Averaging 100 a day for every library day, 1401 volumes were circulated by Memorial hall library during July, according to the librarian. She points with pride to the latest novels of famous authors and to a good sprinkling of much-discussed informative books of the hour, being added to monthly, as the most obvious reason for the library's summer popularity.

Among recent fiction acquisitions are: "Hounds of Spring," Sylvia Thompson; "Afternoon," Susan Ertz; "The Black Hunter," J. O. Curwood; "The Elder Sister," by F. Swimmerton; "Behind the Beyond," by the famous Canadian humorist, Steven Leacock. There is also a translation from the French of the much-talked-of "Annette," and its sequel, "Sylvie," by S. Romain. Four volumes by Charles G. D. Roberts, the naturalist and writer, who appeared in a lecture tour here recently, now adorn the shelves. They are "Heart of the Ancient Woods," "Hoof and Claw," "Kings in Exile," "Around the Camp Fire." There is, too, a novel "Plain Folks," by a Kootenay man, F. C. Whitehouse of Nelson, a book full of delightful humor, that is just the subject of much correspondence between local friends and the author. It is much in demand at the library.

Serious Books

There are several books of serious import recently added. Divergent views on the theory of evolution are interestingly presented in two volumes, "The Phantom of Organic Evolution," by the anti-evolutionist, G. McCready Price, and "Concerning Evolution," by J. Morrison, which is an effort to recorrelate the fields of religion and of scientific thought. "The New Psychology and the Christian Faith," by F. C. Spurr, seeks to prove that acceptance of the startling facts revealed by the "new" psychology is not incompatible with Christian belief. Seeing poverty as the inevitable concomitant of material progress in the present order, Henry George attacks and restates the principles of economics in his "Progress and Poverty," donated by the Shellemack foundation.

HUGE TIMBER LIMIT LIES IN FIRE PATH

In All, 15,000 Acres Threatened by Flames Across From Trail

TRAIL, Aug. 9.—Apprehension is felt here regarding the new forest fire raging on the west bank of Columbia river, six to 10 miles south of the city, which last night was here conspicuously indicated by a bright red glow beyond an obscuring mountain slope.

At least 15,000 acres of valuable timber limits lie westward but a mile or two from the path of the fire, and are menaced, according to J. D. Anderson, one of the owners.

The blaze started on Saturday in valueless brush near the river at Fort Shepperd. Driven by a wild wind, the flames traveled six miles northward before any report was made to the forestry branch. So far little damage has been done, but unless progress is stopped, the fire will reach good green timber.

According to Mr. Anderson the green timber can most readily be reached from the Nelson district by automobile to the Annable mill and then striking in westward from the river a few miles.

Trail Music Lovers Wish Block of Seats Reserved at Nelson

TRAIL, Aug. 9.—An effort to reserve a solid section of seating accommodation for Trail people at the evening performance of the Coldstream Guards band is being made by the local guarantors of the "special," slated to take them to Nelson Saturday afternoon at 5:30.

It is now planned to dispose of both reserved and rush seat tickets here to prevent disappointment or inconvenience at the office in Nelson. Duplicate railway tickets entitling the holders to get their band concert tickets in Trail will be sold. They will be exchanged for the regular railway tickets on board the special.

Robb Makes His Promise to Further Reduce Taxation

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 9. — A reiteration of his promise to make further reductions in taxation if returned to power, with his party, was made by Hon. J. A. Robb, ex-minister of finance, at Cowansville this afternoon, where he was the chief speaker at a Liberal rally. Robb remarked that a year ago he had promised the people of Cowansville to reduce taxes if possible. Now, he made no reservations, and could definitely promise more reductions without any doubt if the people elected the Liberal party again.

Francis Joins the Hole-in-One Club at Eighth Hole

TRAIL, Aug. 9.—Playing in a foursome at the Rossland and Trail Country club yesterday, R. S. Francis joined the "hole-in-one club," when he sank his tee shot at the eighth hole. The hole is a blind one over a hill, of 135 yards, and difficult. The distinguishing feat was witnessed by Dr. Palmer, K. A. Margeson and J. Scott. Mr. Francis is being congratulated.

Sir Percy Lake of Vancouver, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, represents that body. The principal topic of discussion will be the question of amalgamation with the legion, and which was tentatively agreed upon at the Dominion convention of the G.A.U.V.

Australian Tariff Board Suggests Flexible Tariff

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 9.—A modified adoption of the flexible tariff system operating in the United States is suggested by the federal tariff board in its annual report. Under the system the commonwealth premier or minister of customs would be empowered to increase tariff rates to any desirable extent immediately after a report was received from the tariff board recommending such action.

The report intimates that claims for increased wages might follow the imposition of increased duties and issues a warning against this.

CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUE 'CLOUD, DUST': MEIGHEN

Former Liberal Candidate Supports Premier at Manitoba Meeting

AIMS TO PRESERVE PEACE IN CANADA

Denies Any Plan to Amalgamate Rail Bodies; Urges for Stable Tariff

ST. JEAN, Man., Aug. 9.—In his swift trip by automobile across sections of southern Manitoba today, Premier Meighen traversed a strip of old Quebec on the prairies. On every hand rang the accents of Quebec, in conversation in the hall, on the streets, in signs on the stores. Across the hall stretched tricolored streamers.

Canadian ensigns, the blue, white and red of France, blue and white flags of the Sacred Heart, adorned the houses and fences. Here and there colors of the Vatican.

Dr. Edward MacFadden, Conservative candidate in Provencher, spoke while Mr. Meighen was negotiating the road between Manitou and St. Jean. Dr. MacFadden thought it was the duty of the federal government, so to arrange its fiscal policy as to find work at home for Canadian citizens.

Liberal Supports Him

Edmond Comeault, who was the Liberal candidate in Provencher in the last election was on the platform in support of Dr. MacFadden. Mr. Comeault said that in the last election he had stood for justice and British fair play.

"I did not get British fair play in the Liberal party," Mr. Comeault said.

So bad were the roads that it was two and a half hours after scheduled time before Mr. Meighen arrived.

Premier Meighen opened in French. He spoke of the currency of English and French in Provencher as being a good example to the rest of the Dominion. He said that under a Conservative administration, the people would be assured of an honest and stable government and Canadians would find work at home.

"I have been painted too often," said Mr. Meighen," as one who has no sympathy for the French speaking citizens—I have repeatedly challenged our adversaries to point out to me, one word or deed which showed the slightest semblance of enmity or anything but friendship for those of the French tongue of this Dominion. Never has that challenge been accepted. Never has even an attempt been made to quote from any word of mine ever uttered in support of that villianous campaign."

Mr. Meighen pressed home the point that his policy aimed at the preservation of peace.

"Don't ever think," he said, "that by severing ourselves from the great Empire of which we are a part, we would thereby take the path of peace and safety. Thereby, we should be taking the path of danger and peril. But what we should do is to so use our counsel, so to use our influence in world affairs—so far as we have any influence—to make certain that the causes of war are removed, that the future of mankind is made certain along the paths of peace."

Mr. Meighen again warmly denied that he proposed to amalgamate the Canadian National with the Canadian Pacific railway.

"We propose to be fair between our own system and the Canadian Pacific railway," he said, "to give both of them a chance, and to see to it that both of them give the service to the country for which the country expended its credit so generously and for which the country supports them now."

Stable Tariff Needed

"What we want in the tariff," Mr. Meighen proceeded, "is a consistent stable protective tariff. The tariff should be revised on a distinctly protective basis applicable to all products."

Mr. Meighen gave warning that if any advantage were taken of the revised tariff to force prices up, "down will go the tariff and they will be left without protection at all."

"Don't be afraid of increased prices," the premier added.

"They raised the constitutional issue," Mr. Meighen pursued, referring to the Liberal campaign, "so that you won't hear anything about the customs inquiry." He described the constitutional question as a "figment of nonsense," "cloud and dust," "artificial thunder and lightning."

Rumania and France Sign Amity Treaty

PARIS, Aug. 9.—Signature of a treaty of amity between Rumania and France, equivalent to the alliances between France and Poland and France and Czecho-Slovakia, is reported from Bucharest. A similar treaty between France and Jugo-Slavia is already initiated and will probably be signed soon, completing the alliance of France with all the countries of the little entente.

Gums Like Coral

Teeth with that dazzling whiteness you see

This new way brings them quickly. Send the coupon

DENTAL science has found a new way to lighten cloudy teeth. A way that often changes a person's whole appearance. Your teeth, it's learned, are not naturally off color—simply coated with a film that absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc.

You can feel that film now with your tongue; a slippery sort of coating. It is there largely because your present dentifrice is failing in its duty. Ordinary dentifrices don't fight film successfully and brushing won't do it.

Now a new-type dentifrice has been discovered. A film-removing paste called Pepsodent. Famous $100,000 movie stars use it before going on a scene. That's why movie smiles are so gleaming white.

Leading dentists urge it because it protects the teeth and firms the gums. Film breeds bacteria that invite tooth troubles and pyorrhea. It is there now imperiling your teeth, your gums; making your smile unattractive.

Clear, it off. See the amazing difference made. Get Pepsodent at any drug store. Or send the coupon for test tube free.

Helping to Support Uncle Sam

In the matter of Canadians helping to support Uncle Sam's millions by buying American products, the ancient argument that these goods balance those Canada is sending into the United States, and that there is mutual benefit, does not hold good.

For the 12 months ending with April, 1925, Canada imported for home consumption American products of a declared value of $615,740,747. Her exports of Canadian products to the United States in the same period were of a declared value of $475,614,794.

Thus, Canadians bought from Uncle Sam $140,125,353 worth more than they sold to him, or practically 30 per cent.

When it is considered that Canada's purchases were preponderantly of manufactured goods, while Uncle Sam's purchases were largely of basic products, many of them to become manufactured goods, the balance of $140,125,794 against Canada becomes even more pronounced.

Nova Scotia's Hidden Gold

Armed with documents which he found in New York, a Nova Scotian major, hailing from Musquodoboit—"Musqua-dawbit' 'is the way to roll that historic name—is out to find French gold secreted in a lake near Ship Harbor, N.S. Here's hoping the gallant young soldier—he is young, from his picture in a recent Daily News—finds the object of his quest.

But if he does, it will be one of the first successes of the kind on record.

Captain Kidd's pirate gold allegedly is buried all up and down the coast of Nova Scotia, a province all of whose 18 counties are rich in coast line.

It is safe to say there is never a season when a few parties are not busy on the Nova Scotia south shore on romantic quests. If it is not Captain Kidd's plunder, it is hidden Spanish gold, or some other gold of romantic tincture.

Usually there is some magic spell protecting the treasure. Somewhere around Yarmouth, it is solemnly claimed from time to time, digging in the sand actually brings to view a chest, but it is never retrieved, as at the moment of seeming success a rush of water occurs, and the treasure receptacle sinks.

In King's county, not on the coast line, but in the interior, stories are woven about an alleged magic cave on the southern face of the north mountain, which no one has ever been able to find twice.

Clairvoyants are always ready to direct those interested in these things to likely spots to hunt for mysterious treasure.

Like the Chignecto ship railway, and the project of harnessing the tides in Minas Gut, mysterious treasure seems to be a permanent part of Nova Scotian romance.

A Shaky Link

Link No. 1 in Mackenzie King's chain of argument on the "constitutional issue" on the ground of which he is asking to be restored to office, as expounded by him in his keynote speech at Ottawa, was that his government was not defeated at the polls last October.

His government obtained 101 seats out of 245 in the house.

If Mackenzie King did not see that as a defeat, the Liberal press rather strangely pronounced it a defeat for several days after the election.

Mr. King insists that it was not a defeat but only a "situation," and states that he refused to move a finger to carry on government until the house pronounced the wish that he should carry on.

Though having 44 fewer seats than the combined number of his opponents, though having 16 fewer seats than the Conservatives—whom seven more seats would have given control of the house—Mr. King would have it that the people did not pronounce against him.

Words seem to lose their ordinary meanings when used by Mr. King.

Bride Reader—Can all fruit and vegetable mixtures be canned in the stove oven?

Answer—No, only those which are strong in acid—such as tomato catsups, fruit butters and orange marmalade. To can fruit butters, heat the fruit and sugar on top of the range before placing in the oven. Have your Fahrenheit oven thermometer register between 250 to 275 degrees throughout the hour of oven cooking.

Mrs. L.—Last year I canned many foods by the cold pack method. Most of them shrank in the process, leaving the jar only three-fourth full!

Answer—This year use the new hot pack method, which calls for precooking of food to be canned, and you will find that all the shrinkage has taken place before the fruits or vegetables are put in the jars. Write to Washington, D.C., to the United States department of agriculture, and ask to have the free Farmer's Bulletin No. 1471 sent to you. This bulletin is entitled "Canning Fruits and Vegetables at Home" and has been recently published — thereby containing the up-to-the-minute discoveries which United States government canning experts maintain are an improvement over all past canning methods. If space permitted I would gladly quote from it—from cover to cover! But this column is limited and each housewife should send to Washington for the bulletin herself, and hang it in her kitchen for easy reference.

Home Nurse—A member of our family has become a chronic invalid and must have medicines at intervals throughout the day, many of which are of an acid flavor. I have great trouble in keeping these medicine glasses separate from our ordinary drinking glasses. Will it do any harm if they are mixed up?

Answer—I would not let them become mixed. Why not put an elastic band around the medicine glasses? That is what I do in my own home, when one of my family has to take medicine.

Tomorrow—Ice Cream Without Cream.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

Two of Your Regulators

You are hearing more and more about the ductless glands, those little organs that manufacture products which have a tremendous effect upon the wrokings of the body. They do not pour these products into the blood, but the blood collects them as it passes through.

The two which have received the most attention, or at least much has been found out about them, are the thyroid in the neck and the adronal glands situated on top of each kidney.

Where there is an insufficient amount of thyroid juice manufactured, the different tissues seem to do their work, but do not make a real clean job of it. The result is that food is not completely digested and used by the system. This allows fat to accumulate and the body does not resist ailments very well.

Naturally, where too much juice is manufactured you get your high strung nervous individual, always on the move, and the tissues overworking themselves so much that he is usually quite thin. The juice from the adrenal glands situated on top of the kidneys seems to regulate, to steady, or to "slow down" various processes of the body, where, perhaps, the thyroid juice would be working them too hard and fast. One of the first things noted about adrenalin was the effect upon the heart. It slowed down the beat and strengthened it. As you know, cases where the heart has ceased beating for some minutes, when the individual was apparently dead, have been brought back by a few drops of this juice, adrenalin, injected right into the heart muscle. The blood vessels supplying the brain and the heart itself are dilated by this juice, which permits more blood to go to these important organs in emergencies.

Where there is severe cramps, due to the muscles of intestines working too hard and too fast, the adrenalin slows or quiets these severe movements, thus relieving the pain and spasm. It increases the amount of sugar the blood can use, and as you need sugar for all your muscular actions in work or play, lack of sufficient adrenalin would give a feeling of weakness or exhaustion on slight exertion. You can see, therefore, that adrenalin is of great importance to the proper working of that body of yours.

The other little ductless glands are being closely studied and likely as much will be known about them as we now know about the thyroid and adrenals.

No Hope to End Political Unrest in Orient as Yet

Advertising Saves Expense

It's a Short-Time Investment for Big Dividends, Speaker Says

Newspaper advertising is the labor-saving machine of sales for the merchant, was the opinion expressed at the meeting of the Cincinnati Advertisers' Club by David Gibson, merchandising specialist.

"Some will be inclined to say that newspaper advertising is an added item of expense," said Mr. Gibson, "but it is not. Advertising is a short-time investment for a big dividend from increasing turnover, transforming gross into net and quicker cash returns to gain discounts on bills of goods. It is not an expense any more than a labor-saving machine to increase production is an expense. There are those who think that advertising adds to the cost of the goods, but they are wrong. It simply speeds up operations and gets quicker and surer results."

FACES MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

CRESTON FRUIT RAISERS NEED RAIN BADLY

Conditions Worst for Years; May Mean Ruin to Trees in Winter

CRESTON, Aug. 9. — The very hot weather that has prevailed since the middle of June without a letup is giving orchardists and others considerable concern. The 1926 strawberry crop was disappointing due to the dry weather of 1925 preventing the usual plant development, and again this year the valley is experiencing the same drouth conditions. With the orchardist the alarm is caused by the non-appearance of spring and summer rains in a year when there was little or no snowfall to give the normal after-winter moisture. Too, it is felt that following such a mild winter of 1925-26, the coming winter may be a severe one, and with trees going into winter quarters under such dry conditions as now prevail, their ability to stand a severe winter is decidedly problematical.

And no relief is in sight from irrigation. Even if work could be got under way on the proposed Arrow creek irrigation system, the delivery of water on the land would be too late to be of any benefit. Never in the district's history has the need for rain—and plenty of it—been so urgent as at this date.

RAMSAY LOOKS OVER CRESTON DISTRICT ROAD

Arrow Creek Diversion Complete; West Kootenay Expenditures Close to $600,000

CRESTON, Aug. 9. — William Ramsay of Nelson, district public works department engineer, was here on an official visit at the end of the week, and in company with A. E. Davies, general road superintendent, made an inspection of the area from Goatfell to Kuskanook.

The Arrow creek diversion on the Kitchener road is now finished and has improved the traveling along that highway. Mr. Ramsay had a look over what is known as the Walker bridge across Goat river, west of Kitchener. It is wooden structure of many years' standing, and will likely be replaced with a Howe truss bridge of two spans, with concrete abutments.

Up to Idaho

As yet the Idaho officials have made no move to connect up the north and south highway from Copeland to Porthill, and until such time as the boundary terminus of the United States highway is definitely stated, no work will be done on the British Columbia side. Creston is hoping the Idaho authorities will build the road into Porthill village, in which case it seems certain the abandoned K. V. railway roadbed will be utilized to bring the road direct into Creston.

Mr. Ramsay is hoping that next year a generous appropriation will be available to put the existing highway from Goatfell to Kuskanook in first-class shape. With this done, the auto tourist rush should be so heavy as to compel construction of the Kuskanook-Boswell road.

From present appearances it looks as if the public works department expenditure this year in West Kootenay, which is the district handled by Mr. Ramsay, will run very close to $600,000.

TOMATO GROWERS NOT FAVORABLE

Dislike New Shipping Regulations; Had Supply of Crates Stocked

CRESTON, Aug. 9. — Considerable dissatisfaction is expressed here by tomato growers over the new Dominion regulations that have just become effective, and which provide for the packing and grading of all tomatoes shipped in the four-basket crate — which is now termed a "closed" package.

In the past, Creston growers have shipped this crop on a field run basis, the former regulations compelling only the "facing" of tomatoes in four-basket crates. Thinking the old order of things would prevail, growers have already purchased their crate supply and do not take kindly to the regulation that compels them to put in the extra labor necessary to pack and grade. If they wish to ship field run they are this year required to purchase a new container, styled a "lug".

Two-Day Pheasant Shoot Is Allowed in Creston Areas

CRESTON, Aug. 9. — The 1926 open shooting seasons have just been promulgated, and amongst other things provides for a two-day shoot of pheasants in the Creston district—west of Kootenay Landing. A year ago a one-day shoot, open to cock birds only and a bag limit of three birds, was conceded, but this year the regulations are less stringent. In the area along Kootenay flats ranchers complain about the depredations of these birds, which are reported unusually numerous, though on the bench lands very little is heard of the harm they are doing.

PRETTY WEDDING OCCURS, INVERMERE

INVERMERE, Aug. 9. — One of the prettiest weddings of this summer was solemnized on Wednesday morning, August 4, at 11 o'clock, in Christ church, Invermere, when Winnifred Annie Louise, daughter of Mrs. Pennington and the late Ernest W. Hiller, became the bride of Frank Richardson of Athelmere.

The bride looked lovely in her bridal robe of white silk crepe-de-chine, the flounced skirt being piped with gold lace to the straight-line bodice, and her embroidered veil draped cap-fashion over her hair, held in place with sprays of orange blossom. With this she carried a beautifully made bouquet of white and pale mauve sweet peas and gypsophila.

She was attended by her two little step-sisters, Lucy and Betty Pennington, attired alike in pale blue old-fashioned dresses of crepe-de-chine with quaint mob caps frilled with lace, and carried old-fashioned bouquets of pale pink sweet peas.

The bride was given in marriage by her step-father, G. Pennington, and Harry Peters supported the groom as best man.

The members of the girls' auxiliary of Christ church, of which Miss Hiller had been for some years an active member, had decorated the church for her wedding with sweet peas and gypsophila, carrying out the color scheme in white, pale pink and pale mauve. After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's mother, the bride's table, with its three-tier wedding cake and decorations, being greatly admired.

After congratulations and toasts, the bride and groom left on a motor trip to the coast, the bride going away dressed in a rust-colored silk frock with a long summer coat of the same color and a white felt hat. On their return from their honeymoon they will take up their residence in Athelmere, Mr. Richardson being postmaster there and an old-time resident. A number of G. W. V.s were noticed at the wedding, as Mr. Richardson served all through the war, returning home with the rank of major.

Richard Vose of Boston, and party, arrived early this week at the C.P.R. Bungalow camp, and left for a trip to the Lake of the Hanging Glaciers with Conrad Kain, the guide.

Murray Gibbon of the C.P.R., Montreal, is at the Bungalow camp for a few days, coming in from the Trail Riders' camp, where he and his younger son, John, have been taking part in the trail ride.

POTATO BUGS RAVAGE CRESTON DISTRICT

At the end of June Mr. Dennys, an entomologist of the Dominion department of agriculture, was sent in here to combat the pest, but when the parliament dissolved without passing the necessary estimates of the agriculture department, Mr. Dennys had to abandon his spraying work, and returned to Cranbrook.

FIVE INDIANS AT CRESTON GUILTY THEFT

Two Sentenced to Two Months; Balance, Under Age, Suspended

CRESTON, Aug. 9. — Their well-known liking for flavoring extracts has led to the apprehension of the parties that burglarized the Lister Trading & Supply company, limited, store, at Camp Lister, on July 20, the guilty ones—five Creston Indians—appearing before Magistrate Major Maldandaine on Saturday. Two received jail sentences of two months each and three, who were under 16 years of age getting off on suspended sentence. The local provincial police officer, H. McLaren, has handled matters since the steal in very creditable fashion, as the robbers made a getaway into Idaho the same night the theft was committed, and the job of ferreting out the guilty parties from Indian reserves in British Columbia and at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, and bringing two of the wanted men back to Canada without any delay through international regulations, was not exactly easy.

In addition to the extracts a quantity of canned fish and meats were taken, and furnished supplies for a couple of nights' celebration on the Idaho side. Indian Constable Fred Ryckman was here from Cranbrook to defend the men at the trial, but the chain of evidence was so complete that no other verdict was possible. John P. Ell and Nick Frances, the older of the five and undoubtedly the ringleaders of the party, got the two-months' sentences, and were taken to Nelson jail by Mr. McLaren on Sunday.

FIVE DIE IN RIVER ACCIDENTS IN MANITOBA

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9.—The rivers of Manitoba took a toll of four lives over the week-end.

In attempting to shoot the rapids at Pine Falls on the Winnipeg river, Taylor Cherry, aged 18, of Winnipeg, and Herbert Longtre of Pine Falls, were drowned. A third member of the canoe party escaped by clinging to the craft.

At Headingly, west of here, Robert Morris, aged 20, was drowned while swimming in the Assiniboine river, while the body of an unidentified woman was taken from the Red river late this evening.

Corns

removed — root and all

No one need suffer from corns. They are perfectly easy to remove if you go about it in the right way. To get rid of corns bodily take a Radox foot bath. When you dip your foot into a foot bath containing Radox Bath Salts, the dead skin combines with the Radox Bath Salts to form a protein salt of the actual corn itself. This protein salt dissolves in water like ordinary salt, and so loosens the corn that it may be lifted out bodily, root and all. Radox does not affect the living skin; it is only the dead skin of the actual corn which is dissolved. Your druggist can supply Radox. Half-pound pink package, 60c.

Government and Catholics Stand Pat in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 9. — The Mexican episcopate continues firm in its stand repeated again today that the government can end the religious deadlock whenever it chooses by withdrawing the religious regulations "which destroy the church's rights and constitute persecution of the church, which is contrary to the principles of freedom proclaimed by the Mexican constitution itself and recognized by all civilized countries."

On the other hand, the attitude of the government, as voiced by officials, is that the Catholic authorities can end the trouble at any time they desire by returning to the churches the priests they ordered to leave, providing these priests comply with the government's ruling.

Each side continues adamant in its refusal to give way to the other.

Premier's Constitutional Law Lecturer in College Takes Wack at Student

OSHAWA, Ont., Aug. 9.—William H. Moore, Liberal candidate in the riding of Ontario, was a lecturer in constitutional history at the University of Toronto, when Rt. Arthur Meighen attended that institution in his student days.

"I was either a poor lecturer or else he slept during my talks on responsible government" is the jocular reference of the former teacher to his illustrious pupil, whose policies he now opposes.

The density of population in the prairie provinces is only 2.5 persons per square mile, yet these provinces in 1925 produced 388,433,000 bushels of wheat, 322,245,000 bushels of oats, 94,141,000 bushels of barley and 11,545,000 bushels of rye, besides other crops. In comparison, the United Kingdom has 329 persons per square mile.

In the year 1925 Canada exported wood and paper products to the value of $273,725,823, the highest since 1920, when they amounted to $291,812,295. There has been a considerable decrease in prices in the meantime, however, with a consequent increase in quantity.

Kansas Reports Hottest Weather Twenty-eight Years

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 9. — Scorching south winds swept the southwest again today and temperatures soared well above the 100 degree mark, setting new records for the summer, and bowing only to the maximums of the hot summer of 1918. The hottest weather in 28 years was reported by Winfield, Kan., where the thermometer reached 110. Topeka, with 106 degrees, and Kansas City with 103 degrees, experienced the highest temperatures since 1918.

POINCARE RUNS INTO DEBT SNAG

Cabinet Disapproves Plan to Ask Chamber Ratification Before Recess

PARIS, Aug. 9.—That consideration by parliament of the debt agreement with the United States will be postponed until after the summer vacation at least, is the interpretation placed upon the action of the finance committee of the chamber of deputies today in appointing a subcommittee to review the Mellon-Berenger accord.

Premier Poincare's idea of bringing the settlement with the United States and the settlement with Great Britain up for ratification before adjournment of parliament for the summer recess is understood to have met with opposition inside the cabinet.

That fact, rather than the open letter of Former Premier Clemenceau to President Coolidge, is generally supposed to be the real reason for avoiding discussion of the debt settlement at today's session of the cabinet, although it was announced on good authority that the ministers were called together to consider that particular question.

PIRATES GAIN OVER CARDS IN NATIONAL RACE

Defeat Robins While Cards Lose to Braves; Giants in Fourth Place

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The Pirates increased their National league leadership over the St. Louis Cardinals by defeating Brooklyn 9 to 3 at Ebbets Field today. Five errors on the part of the Robins aided the Pittsburgh cause.

The Cardinals lost to the Braves at Boston today 5 to 0. It was the Braves' third straight shutout victory.

Cincinnati split a double-header with the Phillies at Philadelphia. Seven runs in the first inning on the initial fray won the game. The Reds outhit Philadelphia but Carlson managed to keep them scattered. Four errors by Cincinnati did not harm the Phillies. In the second game, the Reds came from behind with a terrific assault in the sixth and seventh inning, scored nine runs and mauled a couple of Philadelphia pitchers.

The Giants won another game at the polo grounds by taking a 4 to 3 verdict from the Cubs. Effective batting by Jackson and Lindstrom, especially the former who had a homer, two doubles and a single, helped the McGraw men climb into a tie for fourth place with the Cubs.

Sharp Spikes Revenge for 'Bean Ball'

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Many fans have wondered how the hitters retaliate or protect themselves against the "bean ball."

The above cartoon shows the system Ty Cobb, Fred Snodgrass, Casey Stengel, Art Fletcher, Charley Herzog and many other hitters did use and still do to get even with the hurler for throwing at their heads and trying to intimidate them at the plate by knocking them down.

Any smart pitcher was very careful how he covered first base for they means business and he was lucky if he got away with only a severe spike wound.

FAIRVIEWITES BEAT M'CLEARIES IN FAST GAME

Clean Contest Ends 2-1; Many Wolves Play in Macs' Lineup

Fairview senior soccer team added another two points to its count in the city league when it defeated the McLearies, 2-1, at the Recreation grounds here yesterday. The game was fast and clean throughout.

The McLearies were handicapped by the large quota of Wolves on the lineup. Those boys turned in a splendid game, but hesitation, due to their inexperience, lost them many chances to beat their opponents to the ball. They lacked aggressiveness.

Throughout the first half the McLearies set the pace. The ball was constantly in motion, and both goalies found themselves in tight places at times. But luck was with them, and neither team was able to register.

In the second half the hard pace set by the McLearies in the first canto began to tell on them, and the Fairview team, with its greater endurance, started to force matters. Bradley scored for Fairview and Evans got the second. Hutchison countered for the McLearies.

The teams were:

Fairview—Desireau, goal; Andrews and H. Ward, backs; Chrishop, Bradley and StDenis, halves; Leeming, Ringrose, Evans, Newell and C. Ward, forwards.

McLearies—I. Kinahan, goal; Pitts and Hanna, backs; Benwell, Wallach and McInnes, halves; Whitfield, Jeffs, Wallace, Hutchison and Campion, forwards.

YANKS HOLD ON TO TOP PLACE; RUTH HOMERS

Babe Slams Thirty-sixth of Season; Indians Beat Senators

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The Yankees retained the margin at the top of the American league today by defeating Detroit 9 to 8. A terrific four-run rally by the Tigers in the ninth fell short by one run of tying the count. Detroit used up four pitchers in an effort to check the leaders while the Yankees used three. Features of the game were homers by Ruth and Lazerri. It was the Babe's 36th circuit blow.

Two big innings which netted seven runs gave the Indians a 7 to 5 victory over Washington at Cleveland. Walter Johnson pitched for the Senators and only allowed nine hits, five less than the number made by Washington but he permitted bunching.

The Athletics nosed out Chicago 2 to 1, Al Symmond's homer with one on bringing victory to the Mackmen.

Rigney's triple brought in two runs which spelled defeat to the Browns at St. Louis at the hands of the Red Sox. The score was 7 to 5.

KING, SPEAKING SASKATCHEWAN, PROMISES LINE

Will Complete Hudson Bay Railroad, He Tells Hearers at North Battleford

CLAIMS CONSERVATIVES BUCKED THE RAILWAY

Challenges Meighen in Regard to Appointment of Hon. Mr. Black

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask., Aug. 9.—Speaking tonight of the Hudson Bay railway, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King said: "Given the same fair chance as was given to the Canadian National railway, there will be the same result, and the railway will become a national asset."

The Liberal leader again pledged his party to the completion of the road to the bay. He also challenged Mr. Meighen to state publicly whether or not the appointment of Hon. W. A. Black as minister of railways was permanent.

Mr. King and his party will spend Tuesday in Edmonton, where an evening meeting will be held. The next meeting will be in Victoria on Thursday.

John Vallance, former Liberal member for Battleford, in a few remarks preceding Mr. King tonight, said that many who had supported the Progressive movement in 1921 has found that there was only one way to secure the necessary legislation, and that was through the Liberal party. He had been amused at a recent Progressive convention in Saskatoon which had indorsed the actions of both Mr. Fansher and Mr. Evans, although one had supported the government and one had opposed it during the days of Laurier's in parliament.

Praises Saskatchewan

Mr. King reminded his audience of a feeling which had existed a little over a year ago—a feeling that the east was indifferent to the west.

"That feeling has changed. I put the change down to one thing, and that is the Liberal representation Saskatchewan sent to the commons last year," said Mr. King.

Of freight rates, Mr. King told how the government, on going into power, had found the Crow's Nest rates suspended.

"One of our first acts was to restore it," he said, "giving basic rates on grain and flour. This he believed had saved the farmers of the west millions and millions of dollars.

Mr. Meighen had already begun to indicate a policy of interference with the National railways.

"We let Sir Henry Thornton and his board of directors manage the National road just as Mr. Beatty and his board of directors manage the C.P.R."

The National railways had never been used for political purposes at election time. This attitude of Mr. Meighen's was one which would be resented by the people of Canada as a whole.

What of Black?

"I would like Mr. Meighen to say publicly whether he intends to keep Mr. Black as minister of railways for the next two or three years," continued Mr. King.

"When in the maritimes, Mr. Meighen let the people understand that the minister was permanent, while elsewhere his supporters were whispering that it was only temporary.

"All through the last session of parliament," said the Liberal leader, in speaking of railway matters, "there was a persistent rumor that the senate with its Tory majority was going to throw out the supply bill because it had a vote for the Hudson Bay railway."

As matters developed, we were given only one month's supply at a time. When the second month's supply was voted, the house of commons expressed an opinion on it. "On the Liberal side there was not a single vote in opposition to the Hudson Bay railway. On the Conservative side there was the strongest kind of opposition, and I think Hon. Mr. Black himself was one of those who voted against it."

It was true that some Manitoba Conservatives supported it. If Mr. Meighen had wanted to support the railway to the bay, he would have instructed his followers to line up strongly behind it.

Complete Line

"If the Liberal party is returned we intend to complete the Hudson Bay railway just as rapidly as that work can be properly done. I believe that after the road is completed we will find that what many he prophesied as a liability will turn out to be a great asset, just as the Canadian National railway is turning out to be," declared Mr. King.

The prime minister had talked of the King government's ignominious flight from office.

"I would like to point out that it was a direct flight—a flight to the people of the country," said Mr. King. Mr. Meighen himself was guilty of "ignominious usurpation and retenion of office. I thank him for that word," said the Liberal leader.

In reviewing the customs investigation, Mr. King again referred to the late Hon. George H. Boivin. It had been charged that Mr. Boivin had been guilty of some offence. "I wonder how Mr. Stevens feels about that now." Never was there a more unchivalrous act than his, who, after he had been on the customs committee, had made a charge based upon evidence which had been only before the committee.

"I think the Canadian people will have a judgment to pass on this matter," he added.

Forecast Continued Fine, Clear Weather

Today's weather forecast is continued fine and clear. Yesterday's forecast was continued fair and partly cloudy. But the forest fires in the surrounding district caused a pall of smoke to hang over the city, and although the mercury went no higher than 77, the day was hot and uncomfortable.

Yesterday's minimum was 55, and the maximum was 77, a range of 22 degrees.

FAIR TO HAVE PERMANENT TANK FOR THE FISH

Hundred New Fronts for Poultry Pens; Seek Vaudeville

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Nelson fall fair, held in the city hall last night, it was decided to have a tank constructed for the fish exhibits at this year's fair.

The tank is to be permanent, and is to be installed in the annex of the fair building. It will be constructed of plate glass set in cement.

George Horstead, secretary, was ordered to communicate with various show companies regarding the booking of a vaudeville act for the fair.

He was also instructed to order 100 new fronts for the poultry cages.

POINCARE PLAN CONSIDERED IN FAMOUS HALL

National Assembly Assembles at Versailles on Historic Occasion

DISCUSS AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Would Provide Sinking Fund Commission Guarantee Against Variations of Politics

VERSAILLES, Aug. 2. — The third republic, a national assembly, will meet here tomorrow to consider an amendment to the French constitution, providing for a sinking fund commission guarantee against the variations of parliamentary politics. The amendment is offered by Premier Poincare as part of his plans to rehabilitate French finances.

The national assembly will meet in the hall of congress, built in 1875, adjoining the wing of the palace of Versailles, where President Wilson and the other members of the signatory powers signed the treaty of Versailles in 1919.

In Famous Hall

The two houses of parliament which sit separately in Paris for ordinary legislation are obliged to come to this historic town, made famous by the prodigalities of Louis XIV., whenever revisions of the constitution is debated or a president is elected.

At the last national assembly held to consider a change in the constitution, an assault was made on the power of the senate, an assault that in all probability will be made again tomorrow. They compromised by suppressing the 75 immovable senators named in the constitution and provided for the election of their successors. That assembly also adopted a clause making members of the house which had reigned in France ineligible for the presidency of the republic.

The Socialists tomorrow will attack the senate's right to legislate on an equal footing with the chamber of deputies.

King and Gale at the Gyro Luncheon; They Make Speeches

Hon. J. H. King, M.D., of Cranbrook, late minister of public works, and Harry Gale, Liberal candidate for West Kootenay, were the guests of the Nelson Gyro club at its luncheon in the Recreation club last night. Both addressed the club. Mr. Gale is a director of the Vancouver Gyro club.

Alston Laurie was in demand with his violin solos and a song. He was accompanied by G. Hockstra. Paul Pitner sang two songs and led in the chorus of "Dear Old Nelson."

Sees Increase in Grain Trade, Canada With the Orient

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9.—"China buys its wheat and flour largely from Canada," said Charles M. Sun, Tientsin, China, president of the Chili Commercial company, who passed here this morning on the Canadian Pacific flyer, the Trans-Canada, for Vancouver on his way to the orient.

"Export of Canadian wheat and flour this year to China will show an increase of at least 25 per cent over last year's and will be the biggest year in grain trade history between China and Canada."

Another interesting personage on the Trans-Canada this morning was M. De Streszuki, consul general for Poland to Canada, who makes his headquarters in Montreal and is now on his way to the coast to make a comprehensive study of opportunities for trade and settlement of his countrymen.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—John Silverman, aged 25, staggered into a Brooklyn police station early today, bleeding from two pistol wounds which may cause his death and said he had been shot by robbers, after they had compelled him to drive his automobile to a gambling house where they beat up two of the 20 dice players and escaped with $5000.

Business Facts

THE EASIEST LOAN TO GET IS ONE THAT IS SECURED BY FIRST CLASS COLLATERAL

The ways a bank invests its money: Notes secured by collateral.

From the standpoint of the bank this type of note is one of the most desirable forms of investment. If proper attention is paid to the collateral, there is little risk, there is always a ready resale of the securities, and the loans are usually for short terms.

Among the many kinds of collateral security, the most desirable are those for which there is a constant market. The reliability and worth of the borrower enters into the safety of the transaction to some degree, but generally speaking, the value of the investment depends on the value of the collateral.

If you desire a loan, you will find that this kind is the easiest to get particularly if you are unknown at the bank. You need only remember that the collateral you pledge must be first-class.

SASKATCHEWAN IS CUTTING ITS GRAIN

Will Be General by End of Week; Showers Are General; Weather Cooler

REGINA, Aug. 9.—Cutting has started in the majority of districts in Saskatchewan and will be general at the end of the present week.

The hot and dry weather of July, which was rapidly forcing the grain to maturity, was broken by showers last week, which were practically general except in some districts in the southwest and central parts of the province. Cooler weather is also reported in practically all sections.

Considerable hail damage occurred last week, particularly in the south central part of the province. Many places also report damage from the sawfly, which appears to be more prevalent than in former years.

MEIGHEN'S PLAN WAS OF DECEIT, SAYS DUNNING

Claims Premier Deliberately Set Out to Deceive Governor-General

BLAMES CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUE ON PREMIER

Attacks 'Whispering Campaign' as Carried On by Conservatives; Speaks in Ontario

PEMBROKE, Aug. 9.—"I charge that all through the session just concluded the Conservatives in the house of commons deliberately set out to deceive his majesty's representative in this country," said Hon. Charles A. Dunning, former minister of railways and canals, in opening his Ontario tour on behalf of the Liberals here tonight. Mr. Dunning asserted that the Conservatives, by their speeches in the commons, had continued to stress that they would be able to carry on government if given an opportunity, a thing which later events proved they were absolutely unable to do. He, therefore, insisted that the blame for the constitutional issue must rest on Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen. He condemned the Conservative leader's actions before and after the resignation of the Liberal government as autocratic.

The former minister, however, centered his chief attack on what he claimed was a "whispering campaign" being carried on by the Conservatives.

"Whatever else the west is, it is anti-Tory, it is anti-Meighen," said Charles A. Dunning, former minister of railways, in opening here tonight on his Ontario tour. The people of wetsern Canada were coming to realize that the questions on which they were divided were insignificant, as compared with the major questions on which they were united. Accordingly, one of the most pleasant things, from a Liberal standpoint during this election, is the way the forces in the west are getting together and avoiding three-cornered fights.

With prosperity evident in all parts of Canada, the Conservatives did not talk blue ruin this election as they did last October. They were striving for other issues, including the so-called customs scandal.

Some One Speaks Aloud

"The trouble with a whispering campaign is that sometime some one gets upon a platform and states out loud what was really only intended to be whispered. We had the story of the steamship Margaret, but some one down by the sea talked out loud about the stories that had been only intended to be whispered.

"What happened?" he continued, "was that as soon as some one spoke out loud about the cruise of the Margaret, the Liberals demanded an investigation. Then the charges disappeared into thin air. That was one of the filthy rumors that proved to be false."

Mr. Dunning, continuing on to "another instance of some one talking out loud about something that was only intended to be whispered," mentioned the misquoting of Mr. Nicholson.

Tribute to Boivin

He dwelt at some length with the customs probe, insisting that the Liberal party had done everything in its power to facilitate the enquiry. He said all the evidence with which the Conservatives now sought to attack the Liberals was secured by Inspector Duncan, a Liberal appointee. Mr. Dunning paid a high tribute to Mr. Boivin, whose death occurred on Saturday. He said Mr. Boivin, in his conduct of the department and his effort to clean up conditions, had acted throughout in an efficient manner, in the best interests of the people of this country. He went into details to show that Mr. Boivin's action in dealing with the interim report had been practical and courageous.

Another whisper was that all the Duncan report had not been published, Mr. Dunning declared.

"It was an absolute lie, or course." "But again some one spoke out loud and it was at once proven to be false. The entire report has been published and any one can get a copy of it."

Destructive Campaign

The former minister urged that the entire campaign being carried on by the Conservatives, was a destructive one and when the party did that it was because it had very little of a constructive nature to offer. Mr. Dunning asserted, that the Liberals would, he believed be the party to give Canada a stable government after the election.

"No budget since confederation had been of such great benefit to the common people," Mr. Dunning continued, "as the one brought down last session." He strongly assaulted the attitude of the Conservatives in the house during the last session as one of obstruction. He referred to the changes in the Income Tax act.

"I told them out west that I never knew what a real Tory was until I came to Ottawa and heard them arguing that the tax on unearned incomes should be lower than on earned incomes, that the fellow who gets his income easy should pay less taxes than the fellow who gets it hard."

Despite the outcry against the reduction in the automobile duties, Mr. Dunning claimed the industry was prospering more than ever and a plant which had closed its doors when the reduction was announced, was now building a half million dollar addition.

True to Form

Outlining the last days in parliament, Mr. Dunning said Mr. Meighen had true to form.

"I have the highest admiration for Arthur Meighen, as a leader of the opposition," he said. "As a destructionist he is without equal in Canada," he continued, that Meighen instead of trying to form a sham government as he did, which lasted only a few hours, should have sent his representative to the house and asked for six months' adjournment to have his ministers elected.

"It would have been mighty hard for the Liberal party to have refused to grant such an adjournment. Again when he was defeated he should have sent his representative to parliament and suggested that it was clear that neither side could carry on and that they get together and finish up what legislation was under way.

"It would have been mighty hard for the Liberal party to have done that."

Not Meighen's Way

"That would have been a dignified way, but that was not Arthur Meighen's way," continued Mr. Dunning. "He ran true to the old autocratic form in trying to carry on with a sham government and demonstrated it in the vicious amendments to the Immigration act, by which British born could be deported from this country without a trial. He simply locked the doors and we heard about it from the pages."

"I have been described as a free trader," said Mr. Dunning. "I am not a free trader. If Saskatchewan was all of Canada it might be advisable to have free trade, but Saskatchewan is not all of Canada and neither, may I say, is Ontario."

He said he favored a practicable tariff which would benefit the majority of the people and the tariff appointed by the Liberals was the best method of securing such a tariff.

Denies Is Secessionist

"I have been described in a sheet issued by the Tories as a secessionist," he continued, by that was meant that the west should break awny from the east. He did not favor secession.

"I believe," he said, "that the future destiny of this country can be best worked out by all parts of Canada working and sticking together."

He dwelt at some length on the strength of the British Empire, insisting that loyalty could not be forced but that people were loyal because they loved to be.

GALE CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED WITH A PUBLIC RALLY

Dr. King Reviews Liberal Regime; Claims Was Progressive

CANDIDATE TELLS OF HIS AMBITION

Wants to See Resources Developed; Campbell Pays Eulogy

At a largely attended and enthusiastic rally in the Liberal rooms in the Maglio block last night, the campaign of ex-Mayor R. H. Gale of Vancouver as Liberal candidate for West Kootenay, got under way, with addresses by Hon. J. H. King, M.D., late minister of public works, the candidate himself, Kenneth Campbell, ex-M.P.P., and others. Roy Hunter, president of the Liberal association, was in the chair. The audience grew as the meeting progressed, and toward the end quite a number were standing.

Dr. King on Session

Dr. King devoted his ime largely to a discussion of the past session, which he said was a most difficult one, owing to the failure of the peopel in the last election to give a definite mandate to any party. Mr. King could have resigned as premier then, but decided in the interests of the country to carry on.

The policy of Mr. Meighen didn't appeal to the whole of Canada, but represented only certain interests. Anyone who doubted this would have been convinced if he had watched the Conservatives during the late session, Mr. King claimed.

He said the people must not make a second mistake, and this time must return Mr. King with a sufficient group behind him to carry out his reforms, social and legislative.

Dr. King described the abnormal war industries, and the activity that lapped over into the peace period, when half a million returned men were seeking to be reestablished. Mr. Meighen succeeded Sir Robert Borden as premier, and his budget failed to balance by $80,000,000. It was in that period that young Canadians started to seek work in the United States.

Tax Reduction

By contrast, under the King regime the budget was eventually balanced, and then came a year with a $30,000,000 surplus, which started the reduction of taxation. This took the form of reduced duties on agricultural implements, mining and milling machinery, and fishing tackle. There was also debt reduction.

Stringent economy was practiced, with the result that this year the Robb budget showed a $52,000,000 surplus.

With the needs of the government thus exceeded, it was possible to further reduce taxation, and the government took the step of taking 15 per cent off small cars, those used by the mass of the people, with 5 per cent off the excise. The Conservatives said this would result in the closing of the factories, and there was in fact a two-day closing demonstration at Oshawa, to enable the employees to march on Ottawa and try to intimidate the government. Mr. Robb, however, informed the deputation that it would pay the country to pay them their wages in full and keep the factories closed, rather than have the country paying the former prices. The factories reopened, and Oshawa, instead of being ruined, was prosperous, and had an active real estate market.

Thus, the reduction in automobile duties had the same result as was experienced when the agricultural implement duties were reduced — the products were cheapened, and the people bought more of them.

Dr. King said Mr. Robb told General Motors, 46 per cent of whose output was sold abroad, that if it wanted to continue to enjoy rebates of duty on parts going into cars for export, it must put 40 per cent of Canadian labor into those cars.

Heavy reductions were made in the income tax, and many persons who last year paid $30 to $40 on an income of $2500 were now not paying at all.

Among other features of the late Robb budget were penny postage and abolition of the receipt or "nuisance" tax, along with further reductions in the sales taxes.

Australian Treaty

The King government had to its credit various trade treaties with other countries in the Empire, including the Australian treaty, so strongly attacked by Mr. Esling on account of its admission of butter. Yet on the coast, owing to this treaty, the Powell River and Ocean Falls paper mills were doubling, with the creation of new markets for the butter of the Fraser valley. While shipping butter to Canada, Australia was consuming British Columbia fish, and was spending with Canada $14 for $1 that Canada spent for Ausrallan products. As a matter of fact, Canada was a butter exporting country, and last year exported 75,000,000 pounds of butter, and the producers enjoyed a higher price than before the Australian and New Zealand competition started.

The Conservatives, said Dr. King, wished to build a trade wall around Canada, and have the people swap jackknives.

Under the King government, he claimed, the trade balance grew to $375,000,000 last year, and would be over half a million this year.

Another feature was the recovery of the Canadian dollar, from a discount of 15 per cent, to above par.

The only way Canada could develop, he claimed, was for it to sell its surplus products abroad. Canada was going to be one of the great trading nations of the world if it did not do this foolish thing that Mr. Meighen asked, which was based on the people living off one another.

Prosperity could come to this province if it sent men like Mr. Gale to Ottawa.

Wants More Liberals Behind Him

Dr. King referred to his unfortunate position as the minister representing this province, in the last two parliaments, with only three Liberals at his back. Under the circumstances, British Columbia got more than it was entitled to.

"I will be returned in East Kootenay," he predicted, adding, "I do hope you will send Mr. Gale down to strengthen my hands, and I will strengthen his, on behalf of our two constituencies, and of the province."

Dr. King said he was no longer a minister, the house having blown up, after the King government had carried on six months, and passed the old age pensions measure, the soldiers land revaluation, rural credits and other important legislation.

He claimed that Mr. Meighen, in his desire for power, was prepared to discard his whole fiscal policy for three years in return for sufficient Progressive support to carry on the government.

The speaker said Mr. Meighen would have succeeded in this ambition if he had not been so grasping for power as to go about the matter unconstitutionally. As a result of trying to carry on government by ministers not sworn it, the same Progressives that had supported him voted him out immediately Mr. King drew their attention to the state of affairs.

Dr. King said the bargain made between Conservatives and Liberals who joined in forming the Union government, that the parties should disunite on conclusion of the war, was broken, and Mr. Meighen held power for two years without a warrant. But this time he had gone even further, Dr. King claimed, and would receive his just verdict at the hands of the people.

At a later stage of the meeting Dr. King spoke again for the purpose of paying a tribute to the support given to the King government by L. W. Humphrey, in the first of the two parliaments referred to. While not always supporting the government, he said Mr. Humphrey always supported it on matters of principle, and whenever he thought the good of the country was involved.

Campbell Pays Tribute

Mr. Campbell spoke briefly, chiefly in eulogy of Mr. Gale as candidate. He said he meant no disparagement to anyone when he said the Liberals had nobody in West Kootenay with the great knowledge, experience and ability of Harry Gale, to take the field. "You all know me well enough that none of you will take offence at this," he said to his fellow-Liberals.

He declared there was nothing parochial about Mr. Gale, and while he was from Vancouver when he was elected West Kootenay would be first in his thoughts. He related a conversation Mayor Blatchford of Edmonton had with him many months before the presentsituation was thought of, when the Edmonite told him that no man in Alberta had done so much for that province as Harry Gale at Vancouver, in connection with the grain trade.

Candidate Speaks

Mr. Gale himself spoke fairly briefly, and chiefly in a general way. This, he said, was not his first visit to Nelson, for he was here as president of the Good Roads league when Dr. King, then a provincial minister, at his solicitation announced a transprovincial highway would be built.

He took it that he was sufficiently well known for it not to be necessary for him to explain exactly who he was.

As to the nomination being a surprise to him, he admitted Dr. King did telephone to him the day before and ask him if he would accept nomination in West Kootenay, but he took it more or less as a joke. When it materialized, however, and he saw the account in the paper, he felt highly honored.

His Dream Coming True

The candidate explained the stages by which he arrived at his decision to accept the nomination, on the same lines that he followed in the afternoon. He added that it seemed to him the time might have come for the realization of what he had dreamed of and preached for 12 or 13 years, the development of this province's natural resources. Even the Liberals had been lax on that. Now the thought came to him that perhaps his dream was to come true, and that West Kootenay was to give him its confidence, and send him to Ottawa for fight for this development.

Mr. Gale mentioned the recent adjuration of Mr. Dunning at Vancouver, "Wake up, British Columbia," in which the prairie minister pleaded for this province to side politically with the prairie, and instead of sending three Liberals to Ottawa, to send 13.

If Mr. Meighen should be returned to power, Mr. Gale contended that British Columbia would not get what it was entitled to until he was put out.

"From this moment, until the last vote is counted, Harry Gale will be on the job, provided you good people are on the job with him," he stated.

He reaffirmed his stipulation of the afternoon for a clean campaign, adding that there were whisperings and pussyfootings going on on the other side of the fence. He asked those coming in contact with these tactics to bring the purported facts to him for public refutation.

"Customs Whisperings"

The candidate referred to "the customs whisperings," claiming that, after Mr. Doucette refused to retract certain statements about Mr. Lapointe, and Mr. Meighen declined to request him to retract, Mr. Calder, the government's counsel in the inquiry, fully exonerated Mr. Lapointe and every member of the late Liberal government.

Mr. Gale argued that Mr. King would be returned to power, if not by a clear maority of Liberals, then certainly by a majority of Liberals and Progressives. And the Progressives this time were being pledged in advance to support a Liberal government.

If the Liberals were going to be returned, was it not better to return him with his inexperience, rather than Mr. Esling, even though more experienced?

Mr. Gale contended the legislation of the past session did the people more good than all the rest since Confederation. If the Liberals were returned, those policies would be continued, and the people could hand down to their children's children the heritage to which they were entitled.

Canada in 1925 produced 1,522,217 tons of newsprint, 88 per cent more than in 1921. The United States produced 1,530,318 tons, 25 per cent more than in 1921. For the last four months of 1925 Canada's production exceeded that of the United States. The new mills and additional machinery being started in Canada will definitely place her in the lead in 1926.

TRAVELERS NOW HAVE EXECUTIVE FULL ONCE MORE

McEwan and Miller Elected Vice-Presidents of Local

At the monthly meeting of the Associated Canadian Travelers, Nelson local No. 3, held in the Recreation rooms Saturday, the association having lost both its vice-presidents within the last few months, the vacancies were filled by the appointment of Russell McEwan and Jack Miller, as first and second vice-presidents, respectively.

A report on the result of the recent carnival was given by L. S. Bradley, who, with J. T. Berrington, and latterly Russell McEwan, were responsible for its management. This showed that the handsome sum of $153.06 had been handed over to the treasurer of the boy scout movement in Nelson.

A vote of thanks was extended to the ladies for the splendid assistance during the carnval.

The A. C. T. orchestra was in attendance.

President James Brodie was in the chair.

LARMONTH TELLS WHY HE BELONGS TO ROTARY CLUB

Is Speaker at Club Luncheon; Reserve 250 More Seats

Provision for 250 additional reserved seats at the Coldstream Guards band concerts here was made by the Rotary club at its meeting in the Hume yesterday.

Rev. N. D. B. Larmonth, who addressed the club, named his adress "Why I am a Rotarian."

Aiding Youth

"It is debatable whether the world is getting better or not," he said. "but one sign of progress is the service club." There was a tremendous amount of selfishness and greed in the world, but there was a tremendous amount of happiness, too. Service clubs were trying to give every boy and girl a chance in life. This, he said, was characteristic of the age.

Mr. Larmonth declared the Rotary club was the senior of all service clubs, and the club with the greatest world-wide vision. Rotary was thinking internationally.

The club had its birth, he asserted, in the heart of a lonely man in Chicago. In 1905 Paul P. Harris formed a club, which met weekly for luncheon. In time the club grew, its principle being to bring into the Golden Rule into business. Soon other clubs were formed, and their numbers continued to increase until at present there were over 2000 clubs, in 32 countries.

Rotarians were doing their part to bring unity into the world.

Learning by Contact

It was a tremendous responsibility to belong to the club. "I was selected to represent my calling," stated Mr. Larmonth. "I am a Rotarian because it brings me in touch with men I ought to know. It is a great thing to have friends.

"I learn other men's work and problems, and I learn efficiently. I learn other men's troubles and successes, and so am able to help myself.

"I am a Rotarian because as a club it can immeasurably help the community and can be of great general service with its united front."

Mr. Larmonth asserted Rotary was based on the Golden Rule and on the teachings of Christ.

President J. S. Carter, who presided, thanked Mr. Larmonth for his address, and stated his departure from Nelson in the near future would be a loss to the club and to Nelson.

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND SPENT ON THE HIGHWAY

Premier Oliver Writes That the Rotary Club Misinformed

To date $315,387 has been expended upon the Nelson-Spokane highway. This sum includes construction and maintenance, the 1925-26 fiscal year expenditures having been $26,310.

These figures are given by Premier Oliver, as member for Nelson, in a letter to the Nelson Rotary club. The club indorsed a resolution from the Nelson board of trade urging the improvement of the highway.

The letter follows:

Premier's Letter

"On July 23, a copy of your letter to Hon. Dr. Sutherland, dated July 20, was received. I can only assume that the indorsation of your club to the resolution of the Nelson board of trade was given without a full knowledge of the true facts.

"The resolution of the Nelson board of trade deals with the Nelson-Spokane highway and states that 'although three years have expired since the opening of this highway, no steps have been taken to put it in proper shape for handling the international traffic.' Just why the Nelson board should resolute so far away from the facts I must leave it to them to explain. Inquiry at the public works department here has elicited the following information:

"There was expended upon the Nelson-Spokane highway during the fiscal years:

1922-23	$191,559.48
1923-24	77,395.80
1924-25	20,122.09
1925-26	26,310.09

"A total of $315,387.46, or nearly $124,000 during the three years in which it was alleged 'no steps were taken.'

"I believe that the Nelson board of trade could have obtained this information upon inquiry from the district engineer."

TWENTY REGISTER ON VOTERS' LIST

First Day of Registration Over; Five Days Yet to Get on List

Registration of voters under regulations of the Dominion Elections act started in Nelson yesterday. The office was open from 9 a.m., until 3 p.m., and 20 persons availed themselves to register.

The office on Ward street will be open every day this week from 9 a.m., till 9 p.m., and persons whose names are not already on the last provincial voters' list, providing they come under provisions of the act, must register if they intend voting in the coming election.

Lines of men stood outside the government employment office yesterday. In the morning they were lined up inside the office and out on to the street. Until late in the afternoon the office was crowded.

They were harvesters going to the prairies, and 114 left yesterday, most of them going to Alberta and a few to Saskatchewan. They got a reduced railway rate to their destinations.
