EVANGELIST IS SENT UP FOR TRIAL

INSURGENTS IN CONTROL OF SENATE IN STATES

EMOCRATS GET SEVEN OF THE G.O.P. MAJORITY

surgents Under Republican Banner Will Control Power of Senate

SMOCRATS ALSO TAKE OURTEEN SEATS, HOUSE

sides Congress Gains They Win Two Nominally Republican Governorships

1:30 O'CLOCK SUMMARY

Senate, complete: Republi-ns, 21; Democrats, 14; to be d November 29, 1. Total, 36. House: Republicans, 232; mocrats, 193; Farmer-Labor, Socialist, 1; doubtful, 8. tal, 435.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The mocratic thrust has made tain insurgent control of the nate and threatens the domation the Republicans have d over the house since the olidge landslide two years o.

With the makeup of the 70th ngress practically complete, Democrats have procured en of the nine places conuting the Republican major- in the senate, thus leaving balance of power there in a le group of insurgents elect- under the Republican ban-

By taking 14 seats so far n the Republicans in the use, the Democrats have ught about an allegiant er which the insurgents' group re might be able to take the er hand in the working control that body.

esides the gains in congress, the mocrats have won the governorps in two normally Republican tes, South Dakota and Colorado, ing control of the highest office in th Dakota for the first time in quarter of a century.

Loss in Oregon

n the other hand, the Democrats w the governorship in Oregon and Wyoming, and their candidates in ona and Arkansas are finding going anything but easy.

he senatorial list was completed ght with the report of the success Frederick Stewart in Oregon.

he Republicans also elected on late turns James E. Watson and Arthur hnson in Indiana, Tasker L. Odie Nevada and Samuel M. Shortridge California.

he Republican seat contested by mer Governor Sweet of Colorado s won by Charles W. Waterman.

elated returns trickling in during day showed that the Democrats unhorsed Senators Richard P. st in Kentucky, Ralph E. Cameron Arizona, George H. Williams in souri and O. E. Weller in Maryd.

hese were in addition to James Wadsworth, who was engulfed in Smith tidal wave in New York; liam M. Butler, personal friend of sident Coolidge, who was overlmed by David I. Walsh in Massusetts, and John W. Harreld in homa, where the Democrats reed a control lost in the Harding slide in 1920.

THE PAS, Man., Nov. 3.—ecil (Eskimo) Harris, trapper d trader of the Churchill district, recently had an unusual xperience with a polar bear, acording to a letter received by a tend here.

While he was tied up for the ght behind some islands at pe Churchill the bear invaded is boat, attempted to pull the ankets from the sleeping (Esmo) and scratched the trapper the forehead.

"I shoved him back with my fle and loaded it at the same me" says Harris in his letr. "I blew his brains out and fell on top of me in bed. It as the greatest experience of y life."

Youth Carries Home Body of Brother Accidentally Shot

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 3.—Tragedy has terminated the dreams of two Wisconsin youths, who left here a week ago for the wilds of northern Ontario where they intended to trap during the winter.

Michael Turecki, aged 20, of Armstrong Creek, Wis., and his brother, Lewis, aged 24, left here a week ago to establish trap lines in the northern woods. Today Michael returned, bringing the body of his brother. Lewis was fatally wounded while lifting a gun from the boat at Irish lake portage and died in the arms of his brother two hours after the accident.

SIX STATES IN EIGHT DECLARE DRY LAWS FAIL

Western States' Returns Incomplete as Yet; Summary Shows Result

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Six states out of eight indicated dissatisfaction with the prohibition legislation at present in force in the United States, in Tuesday's referendum. The States' voting contained about one-quarter of the population of the whole country, with returns from western states incomplete, a summary of the vote tonight shows:

New York and Illinois—Should the Volstead act be modified so as not to include "beverages which are not in fact intoxicating" as determined in accordance with the laws of the respective states.

Answer—Yes, New York, 4 to 1, Illinois, 2 to 1.

Wisconsin—Should the Volstead act be modified to allow the manufacture and sale of 2.75 per cent beer, providing it is not consumed on premises where sold?

Answer—Yes, 5 to 1.

Nevada—Two questions: Should congress call a constitutional convention to amend the eighteenth amendment?

Answer—Yes.

Is prohibition a failure?

Answer—Yes, 3 to 1.

Montana—The repeal of the state dry laws, except that forbiding sale to miners?

Answer—Yes, majority, 9000.

Colorado—To amend the state constitution to provide for manufacture of liquor where it does not conflict with federal laws?

Answer—No, majority, 30,000.

California—To repel state enforcement act?

Answer—Yes, majority, 80,000.

Missouri—To repeal state enforcement laws? (Because of the form of the question it did not receive the active support of many anti-prohibition leaders).

Answer—No, majority, 100,000.

BRITISH SHIP IS POSTED AS LOST

Steamer Loyal Citizen Called For Aid; No Trace Has Been Found of Boat or Crew

LONDON, Nov. 3. — The British steamship Loyal Citizen was posted as missing at Lloyds today.

The Loyal Citizen left Baltimore September 8 for Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, with a cargo of coal and is supposed to have foundered in latitude 31.18 north, longitude 67 west, with all hands, numbering between 30 and 35 men.

On the afternoon of September 14, when about 200 miles from Bermuda, the Loyal Citizen broadcast an SOS stating that No. 3 hold was filling up and the crew taking to the boats. Three ships which went to her assistance found no trace of the vessel on reaching the spot.

Mother Takes Own Life and That of Her Young Child

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Following the recent examples of two Los Angeles mothers, Mrs. Esther Brandenberg, aged 30, a widow, ended her own life and that of her six-year-old son, Frederick, here today. The mother and boy were discovered in a gas-filled room. Both were lying on a pallet beside an open jet.

ANOTHER HOLDUP

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—Two holdups were reported in the city tonight, making five within the city limits this week. John Bradley was held up at the point of revolvers by two men opposite his home in the residential district and relieved of $39 in cash.

OPEN WARFARE IN PRISON YARD AT NEW YORK

Three Prisoners Shot; Prison Keeper Dead, Two Wounded

BOLD ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE IS NIPPED

Prisoners Heavily Armed Shoot Way Out but Are Killed

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Four men were killed today and two were wounded when the yard of famous Old Tombs prison was turned into a battle ground as three desperate criminals attempted to shoot their way to freedom. All the prisoners were killed, but before they died they killed a prison keeper, wounded another and shot Warden Peter Mallon below the heart. The dead are Michael (Red) McKenna, robber and alleged murderer; Hyman Amberg, robber and alleged murderer; Oliver Glantz, alias Oliver Berg, Chicago and New York robber, Jeremiah Murphy, prison keeper. The wounded are Warden Mallon, shot below the heart; prison keeper Daniel O'Connor, shot in the back.

Glantz and Murphy died in the prison yard. The attempted escape resulted in the first riot call sounded in many years in New York. As soon as the call was sounded, all available reserves were rushed to the prison. The streets surrounding the prison were cleared and police snipers poured bullets down at the ambushed prisoners from the windows of adjoining buildings.

Were Feeling Ill

The affair started when Berg sent word that he was feeling ill and wanted to see the prison doctor. A keeper was sent to his cell on the eighth tier and while he was there Amberg and McKenna also complained of illness. The keeper took them out of their cells and in an elevator down to the first floor.

The doctor's office is close to the main prison gate on Center street. Keeper Louis Lorch was standing by this gate with the key in his hand as the men approached. Drawing automatics, the prisoners suddenly dashed toward him.

"Open the gate or we will croak you," one of them shouted. "Go to hell" Lorch retorted and dived into an alcove as the trio opened fire.

The first shots caused an uproar in the prison and Warden Mallon came running from his office by the gate. He started toward the prisoners and pitched forward with a bullet through his body.

Dug Selves in

The prisoners then ran to the center of the prison yard where there was a pile of soft coal and dug themselves in like soldiers in open war. Snipers armed with rifles were sent to upper windows of adjoining buildings, from these vantage points the prisoners could be seen and heavy firing began. The prisoners ran from the coal and took cover under a curved wall.

This gave them temporary protestion but they were quickly spotted and firing resumed. In a clash when the prisoners attempted to rush through a door opened by an armed keeper, Murphy was killed and O'Connor wounded. The prisoners were driven back into the yard and there they stayed, making frequent sallies against the forces of the law until they were all shot down.

ALLEGED BAD MEN CAUGHT, CALGARY

Surrender When Detectives With Drawn Revolvers Catch Them in Garage

CALGARY, Nov. 3.—Surrounded in a private garage here after residents had complained of their suspicious actions, Douglas Chambers, who claims to be a taxi driver from Vancouver, and Arthur Evanson, were captured today by detectives with drawn revolvers. Police suspect the two are possible safe crackers or hold-up men wanted elsewhere. When cornered the men were filling the gasoline tank of a large car in which was found several watches, knives, jewelry and three revolvers. In the car was also found licence plates of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Montana.

SENT HOME

HAMILTON, Nov. 3.—Word was received here today that Rev. and Mrs. Fred Reed, United church missionaries in Tientsin, China, have been ordered to leave China at once, and they are returning by first boat.

HALF-HUNDRED MINERS DIE IN HUGE CAVE-IN

Section of Mine Surface Drops 600 Feet to First Level

DEPRESSION FILLS UP WITH WATER, MUD

Belief Is That Miners Drowned; Water Gets Through Lower Levels

IRONMOUNTAIN, Mich., Nov. 3.—Local officials late today received a telephone call from the Barnes-Hecker mine near here stating 53 miners were believed to have been killed in a cave-in there late today. The local officials were asked to dispatch mine rescue crews and equipment. "A check by officials of the mine tonight revealed that 53 were on duty at the time of the disaster, all of whom are believed to have lost their lives."

A section of mine surface 300 feet long and 200 feet wide fell to the first level of the shaft a drop of 600 feet and is believed to have trapped the entire shift working on that section of the mine.

Heard For Miles

The section which caved in consisted of swamp ground and fell with a sucking thud which was heard for miles. The muck and water soon flooded the entire level, cutting off any chance of the men to escape, it is believed. Two hours after the disaster the muck and water was reported to have broken through the other levels and to be rapidly rising again to the top of the mines. At 5 o'clock it was with 125 feet of the surface, precluding any chance of the trapped men reaching the surface.

By nine o'clock tonight the muck had flooded all levels of the mine and risen again to the top of the mine.

The disaster occurred shortly after 2 p.m. As the lower levels were filled the muck rose again to the top level.

Hundreds of persons were gathered about the mouth of the shaft tonight. In the groups were wives, children and relatives of the trapped men, some of whom refused to give up hope that in some miraculous way their loved ones had escaped death.

A score of mine rescue teams responded to first calls for aid from nearby cities in the iron mining region, but were powerless to be of any assistance.

The mud-flooded shaft was impossible of penetration two hours after the cave-in occurred.

A few persons on the mine surface at the time of the disaster made their way to the edge of the pit and reported seeing the bodies of a half a dozen men swept to the lower levels.

Mine officials rigged up bailing apparatus and made a start at drawing the water from the mine, but stated there was not the slightest possibility of recovering the bodies for weeks.

ELECTION FLASHES

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Kentuckey's representative in the next senate will be Alban Barkeley, Democrat. This is a Democratic gain over the Republicans.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—The proposal to legalize horse racing and parimutuel betting in California, was lagging behind with one-fourth of the precincts not counted.

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 3.—Dan A. Sutherland of Juneau, Republican, has been reelected delegate to congress over Thomas A. Marquam, Independent.

PRUSSIAN OFFICER ACQUITTED MURDER

LANDSBERG, Prussia, Nov. 3. — Lieut. Paul Schulz, one of the 11 members of the Black reischwehr, or court of vengeance, for whom the states attorney during their trial demanded the death sentence for the brutal murder of Paul Groeschke at Kuestrin in 1923 was acquitted today. His alleged chief accomplice, a non-commissioned officer, Erics Klapproth, was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment; three others were acquitted and six were sentenced to imprisonment from four months to eight years.

MUST STAND TRIAL

Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, was bound over to the superior court yesterday for trial on charges of criminal conspiracy, perpetration of a disappearance hoax. Her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Mrs. Lorraine Wisemann Sielaff, her chief accuser, also were held for trial.

SKELETON AND MUSKET FOUND IN FAR NORTH

Trapper Preparing Line Digs Into Forgotten Grave; Old Trader Likely

EDMONTON, Nov. 3.—Clearing up the floor of a newly constructed cabin on his trap line to the north of Primrose lake, Anton Lundgren, Cold lake trapper, heard a clink as the edge of his shovel struck some metallic substance.

Hoping that here was a nugget which every trapper and prospector dreams of finding some day, Lundgren carefully dug around the obstruction and unearthed a complete male skeleton and an old flintlock musket.

Only the metal parts of the musket remained and it was of a style such as was used by the British army and employees of the Hudson's Bay company some 150 years ago. The butt and stock had completely rotted away, but on the barrel the trapper deciphered the name "John Wilson, London."

Local legend has it that a fort of the great company was built at a place called Gabelle's Point, on the narrows of Primrose lake, almost two centuries ago. There is no record, however, of when the post was abandoned, but the outlines of the foundations can still be discerned among the ranks of vegetation which now mark the spot. Even the name of the fort is now forgotten.

Judge Orders Father to Spank His Son in Presence of Constable

TORONTO, Nov. 3. — Judge Mott directed in the juvenile court today that the 14-year-old boy who, with an older companion, kept two young girls in a shack in north Toronto as an aftermath to a Hallowe'en party, should be whipped by his father in the presence of a police constable, after two days in the detention home.

American Orphanage in Armenia Damaged by More Quake Shocks

LENINAKAN, Nov. 3.—Earth shocks coming on the heels of the recent heavy quakes in Armenia, yesterday and today damaged the American orphanage at Seversky, suburb of Leninakan. The children narrowly escaped injury from walls which tumbled among them.

Recurrent earthquakes in Armenia beginning October 22 have devasted 34 villages and caused a loss of life which it was estimated might mount to 1500.

WASHINGTON TURNS DOWN AMENDMENTS

Voters Against Constitution Tinkering; Return Old Members

Both proposed amendments to the constitution of the state of Washington were rejected by the electors Tuesday. As tabulated in the office of the Spokane Spokesman-Review, with which The Daily News was in communication shortly before going to press, the returns, still incomplete, show each proposal well to the rear.

Antis Lead on Both

On the project of limiting the legislative session to 60 days and legislative remuneration to $300, the antis rolled up 95,000 ballots while those favoring fixing these limits in the constitution accumulated only 61,000.

A closer vote was recorded on the proposal to give the legislature power to exempt young forest growth from taxation, which, under the amendment, would only become applicable when the timber was logged. For this, on partial returns, 73,000 voted, but 92,000 voted against, at the same stage of the count.

More complete, but still not full returns show every old member of Washington's congressional delegation returned.

Jones Margin Huge

Senator Wesley L. Jones, Republican, with 200 precincts only missing, has 157,000 votes, to 140,000 credited to A. Scott Bullitt, Democrat. J. L. Freeman, Farmer-Labor, and David Burgess, Socialist-Labor, were not in the running.

The delegation for the lower house consists of the five late members: District 1, John F. Miller, Republican; district 2, Lindley H. Hadley, Republican; district 2, Albert Johnson, Republican; district 4, John W. Summers, Republican; district 5, Samuel B. Hill, Democrat.

Library Has Two Copies First Book Printed in B. C.

VICTORIA, Nov. 3.—The provincial library here has just secured two copies of the first book printed in British Columbia entitled "Fraser Mines Vindicated" by Alfred Waddington. It was printed in Victoria in 1852 and the copies now in the library were found in California.

THRIPS RUIN FRUIT CROP IN AUSTRALIA

MELBOURNE, Nov. 3. — Hon. M. W. J. Bourchier, minister of agriculture in Victoria, says that 90 per cent of the fruit crop in Victoria has been practically destroyed by thrips, a small insect destructive to grains and plants.

'PERJURER' SAYS KEYES, POINTING AT EVANGELIST

Aimee With Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Sielaff Must Face Court

MRS. McPHERSON GOES WHITE AT VERDICT

'Strong Suspicion' of Guilt, Says Judge; Mrs. Kennedy Simply Smiles

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3—Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, ordered held for trial on criminal charges today, approached her pulpit tonight with the judges' statement ringing in her ears that she lay under "strong suspicion" of guilt.

In binding over to the superior court the religious leader her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and her chief accuser, Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff, Judge Samuel R. Blake, youngest jurist in Los Angeles, said:

"After a full examination of the entire evidence there is sufficient cause to believe the defendants guilty.

"Sufficient cause is and has been construed as reasonable or probable cause which means such a state of facts as would lead a man of ordinary caution and prudence to believe and conscientiously entertain as suspicion that the persons accused are guilty."

Bail Is Fixed

Judge Blake fixed bail at $2500 for each defendant.

The evangelist went white as she heard the decision that sent her to the superior court for trial on the charges that she conspired to manufacture evidence supporting her story of kidnaping last May and to refute the allegation that she spent 10 days in a Carmel cottage with her former radio operator, Kenneth G. Ormiston, fugitive codefendant.

Mrs. Kennedy smiled at the court's words. Both women declined to make statements but as they left Mrs. McPherson turned to friends about her with the impassioned declaration; "As my God is my judge, I am innocent of these charges."

Ormiston Slurred

Under the law the trial by jury must start within 60 days. The five weeks' preliminary hearing ended as it had commenced, in a torrent of bitter denunciation by opposing attorneys.

W. I. Gilbert, chief of defence counsel, in his argument, accused District Attorney Asa Keyes of being actuated by motives other than duty in leading the prosecution and declared the county official was seeking only to "strip this woman of her good name."

Keyes in his argument, characterized the fugitive Ormiston as "a coward, hiding and slinking, afraid to come before the court, his co-defendant, and the world."

Turning to Mrs. McPherson, Keyes pointed his finger at her and branded her a "perjurer."

"It was a crime," he asserted, "for Mrs. McPherson to come before the grand jury and tell the story she did. She committed perjury."

COMMANDER DIES

VALERIAN SHORT OF COAL WHEN THE STORM HIT

Had Only One Boiler in Use; Second Was Put On Later

SHIP TURNED OVER AND BOILERS BURST

Crew Exonerated by Naval Inquiry; Terrible Battles for Life

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 3.—The story of how H. M. S. Valerian, returning from an errand of mercy to the stricken Bahamas with only 35 tons of coal in reserve owing to the shortage on the islands, ran into the hurricane of October 22 and, after fighting squalls that beggared description and gales of tornado force, finally succumbed almost within sight of the home port and safety, was described at the court-martial Monday of Lieut.-Com. William Usher and the survivors, all of whom were honorably acquitted.

The Valerian could only get a 35-ton reserve of fuel when setting out on the return voyage from the Bahamas and only one boiler was being used. Commander Usher was warned of the hurricane on the 18th, but did not anticipate the in ensity it would develop. Not willing to chance anything, however, he ordered the second boiler lighted and hoped to race to port ahead of the approaching gale, realizing the danger of a wind with their shortage of coal and the difficulty of handling the light vessel.

Speed Reduced

La'e Thursday night he ordered a speed of 11½ knots, but with the racing propellers and the consequent heating of shaft bearings this was reduced to 10 knots. Gibb's Hill, Bermuda, was sighted at 4:40 a.m. on the 22nd, but with only a few miles to go the weather got rapidly worse, and it became necessary to head into the wind to keep off the coast. The hurricane prevailed until noon, when the center passed and a northwest gale bore down on the tiny craft with a force that was "indescribable." At one in the afternoon a series of squalls struck the port side and the Valerian heeled over 70 degrees to starboard. The wireless aerial was carried away and the engines smothered. The Valerian failed to recover, but slowly turned completely over, and the boilers burst. It was then every man for himself. Commander Usher found himself with 28 men clinging to a raft, blinded with spray and continually engulfed by the mountainous waves. Throughout the afternoon and night the men fought to retain their hold upon the half-submerged raft, which repeatedly capsized as the waves hurled it about at will, and one by one the weakened sailors lost their hold, quickly disappearing into the darkness.

Nineteen Left

At 10 o'clock on the morning of the 23rd, only 19 remained, scarcely conscious but clinging tenaciously to the raft lines. Then H. M. S. Capetown, sent out from Hamilton to learn the fate of the Valerian, bore down upon them and took the half-dead survivors aboard. All were seriously ill from exposure and spent with the terrible exertion of maintaining their hold on the raft during the 21 hours they had been at the mercy of the tempest-racked sea.

It was shown at the inquiry that on the day the Valerian went down with 84 of her crew the hurricane traveled practically 900 miles. The court sat from 9:30 to 4:15 Monday and adjourned until evening, when the verdict of honorable discharge of all survivors was returned. It was shown, the court said, that the elements had proved too severe for the Valerian to combat. The legislature has voted £400 for the dependents of those lost on the Valerian.

Fine weather has prevailed in Bermuda since the storm and practically all damage has been repaired. The electric light and telephone services have been practically restored to normal. The potato and banana growers suffered most heavily, in the almost complete destruction of their crops.

RUN-DOWN AFTER BIRTH OF BABY

Ottawa Woman Made Strong by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottawa, Ontario.—"I was terribly run-down after the birth of my third baby. I had awful bearing-down pains and was afraid I had serious trouble. I was tired all the time and had no appetite. My sister-in-law is taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and cannot praise it too highly and asked me to try it. I have had splendid results and feel fine all the time now. Any one who needs a thorough pick-me-up soon learns from me what to take."—Mrs. RENE PAQUIN, 320 Cumberland Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

Terrible Backache

Hamilton, Ont.—"After my baby was born I had terrible backache and headaches. I could not do my work and felt tired from the first minute I got up. But worst of all were the pains in my sides when I moved about. I had to sit or lie down for a while afterwards. I could keep my house in order, but many things had to go undone at the time, because of my ailments. I was told by a neighbor to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as she said it would build me up. I was relieved before I had taken the first we bought and have not had any trouble like it since."—Mrs. T. MARKLE, 115 Ferguson Avenue South, Hamilton, Ontario.

Mussolini Amid Great Reception Returns to Rome

ROME, Nov. 3.—Premier Mussolini returned to Rome tonight. He came direct from Forli, his home town, where he had proceeded after the attempt against his life at Bologna Sunday. Mussolini was met at the Rome station by the deputies and members of the Fascist directorate and a vast assemblage of people who gave him a great ovation.

The Stefani news agency reports that the chiefs of the opposition party at Ferrara have published a manifesto absolving Mussolini, their ancient foe, and renouncing all future propaganda against him because of his escape from death in Bologna.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

PLANNING THE FUTURE

One Mother Says:

I shall never force a career on any of my children, but even now when they are still young I am watching to develop special talents. One boy likes plants and gardening, and at the same time is good at drawing. I get books on landscape gardening from the library study them myself for suggestions of what to put before him, and encourage him to look them over.

POLICEMAN BEAT PLOTTERS, SPAIN

Acted as Spy for Over Year; Stopped Revolutionists in the Nick of Time

PERIGNAN, France, Nov. 3.—The Catalan revolutionary movement, which ended here yesterday with the arrest of 93 conspirators, went on the rocks because a French policeman spent a year watching the movements of the plotters and had everything ready when the time for action arrived.

The French policeman, who had his share in guiding the revolutionary movement in the way in which he thought it ought to go, was Commissary Bringer of the first brigade of the Paris police. Bringer ferreted out the headquarters of the state of Catalan which was bold enough to post its colors on a building in the Bois Colombes, a suburb of Paris. For more than a year he followed the activities of the revolutionary leaders whose object was the separation of Catalania from Spain.

The movement was scheduled to break out at dawn today with the hope that it would have repercussions throughout Spain and perhaps even affect the security of Premier Primo de Rivera. Although the movement failed even before the conspirators succeeded in crossing the border into Spain, news of sporadic demonstrations in that country was received. The demonstrations were quickly squelched.

Well Organized

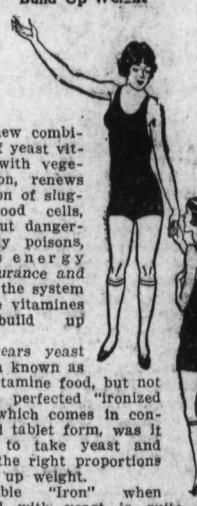
When the plotters, equipped for mountain warfare with full uniforms of khaki and plentiful supplies, set out from Paris, Bringer mixed with them without detection and accompanied them to Bordeaux. From there they went toward the Spanish frontier. Then, when the French policeman thought that they were near enough the boundary line, he and cooperating policemen arrested the whole party.

Only two of the conspirators, both assigned as bomb throwers, escaped. The plotters even brought a treasurer along, a man trained in a Parisian bank, and were ready to receive contributions from the people of Barcelonia and the neighboring country.

The prisoners, mostly between the ages of 25 and 30, were confined in the local barracks where they were visited today by the prefect of the eastern Pyrenees department and the military commander of the local area. They will be examined separately by high officials of the French police and then by the government prosecutor.

Easy to Gain With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast with Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight



This new combination of yeast vitamines with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamines that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamine food, but not until we perfected "ironized yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore, they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are under weight, do not enjoy good health, lacking in energy and force, "ironized yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back.

Sold by druggists, at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package. Ironized Yeast Co., Fort Erie, Ontario.

INDIGESTION

Gas on Stomach Caused Severe Pains

Mrs. C. F. Wheeler, R.R. No. 1, Glen Ewen, Sask., writes:—"For years my eldest son suffered from severe pains and agony from imperfect digestion. He dieted and used artificial digestants, but all to no avail. At last I got him a bottle of and he had not taken the whole bottle before he was greatly relieved. The severe stomach attacks ceased, there was no more gas on the stomach, and he could eat anything he wished."

DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE PARADE ARMISTICE DAY

Trail Body Has Plans; Give Flag and Picture to School

TRAIL, Nov. 3.—Arthur Chapman chapter, I. O. D. E., this afternoon decided to parade in a body to Liberty theater on Sunday to attend the Armistice day memorial services, arranged under the auspices of the Trail legion of the British Empire Service league. Regent Mrs. E. M. Stiles presided. There were about 30 present.

Mrs. C. W. Guillaume and Mrs. R. H. Devitt were appointed conveners of a large committee of high school girls, volunteers, who will carry on the sale of Armistice day poppies on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The chapter will donate a Union Jack and a photograph of the Prince of Wales to East Trail school and to the Tadanac school. It also made a donation to the I. O. D. E. chapter in India, and for the care of the grave of Mrs. Fessenden, originator of Empire day in Canada. Initial plans were made for a public dance to be given by the chapter on November 26.

New Members

Five new members were welcomed —Mrs. G. McKay, Mrs. H. W. Hawkins, Mrs. T. Jenkins, Mrs. M. D. Clitherow and Mrs. H. W. Busby. The application of Mrs. G. A. Rendell was approved also. A delegation consisting of F. L. T. Friend, president of the Trail legion of the British Empire Service league; J. Duffy, and R. Gordon, visited the chapter to suggest measures for closer cooperation between these two organizations which have the welfare of returned men and their dependents very much at heart. The delegation was well received, and advised that the legion would be notified of the I. O. D. E.'s views shortly.

Montana Wet Lead Cannot Be Overcome Now, It Is Thought

HELENA, Mont. Nov. 3.—Although later returns on yesterday's state referendum on repeal of the Montana liquor laws cut the surprisingly heavy affirmative vote polled in the cities it did not seem possible tonight that the 8500 wet lead could be overcome by the comparatively small number of votes outstanding.

Of 1500 precincts in the state, 1172 gave for prohibition repeal 53,821; against 45,642.

NEW UNIFORMS DANCE OBJECT

Band Is Starting School for Young Musicians; Cash Needed

The Nelson City band is holding a dance in Eagle Hall tomorrow night to raise funds to procure new uniforms for the coming season. A school for young musicians will be organized in the near future, and this will necessitate the addition of some extra uniforms.

The band has spent $100 for new music during the year. This has depleted the treasury sadly, and the musicians are endeavoring to replenish it.

For 23 years the city music makers have entertained the public of Nelson and aided many charitable causes. They are the recipients of a small grant from the city, in return for which public band concerts are given throughout the summer season.

Ten Years and Ten Lashes Imposed on Vancouver Criminal

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3. — Ten years in New Westminster penitentiary and 10 lashes was the sentence imposed in the assize court here today by Mr. Justice Gregory on Pietro De Luca, found guilty of a statutory offence.

His lordship stated that he could inflict the death penalty and he told the 28-year-old Italian that the girl, now in hospital, may die as a result of the attack.

Ching Chong, convicted of having narcotic drugs in his possession, was sentenced to five years and a fine of $200 or an additional three months.

AUTO BUREAU IS WON FOR NELSON IN RECORD TIME

Margin of Ten Over in Final Effort; 17 Kaslo Members

Nelson gets its automobile club bureau. The Nelson branch went over the top yesterday, for the final squad of new members to make up the 200 necessary to entitle Nelson to the bureau.

The last quota turned in, 25 new members, who brought the total to the handsome figure of 210, included 17 from Kaslo, two from Ainsworth, and one from Salmo.

This constitutes record time, two and a half weeks, the campaign in Trail and Rossland, for the Trail bureau, being all but three weeks in length.

Jack R. Gardom, special representative of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, who has been working in association with the local branch in the drive, last night gave the credit for the result, to the loyal work of the local branch's committee, which did valiant work.

Mr. Gardom leaves this morning for Cranbrook, to launch a similar drive for Cranbrook and Kimberley.

The 25 new members enrolled here in the final effort of the drive were: Mrs. D. S. McLillan, D. T. Cosgriff, W. L. Billings, J. R. Bailey, R. B. Milne, D. P. Kane, W. Hendricks, C. W. Webster, Ranter & Latham, H. Giegerich, A. Sutherland, J. J. Skillicorn, F. T. Abey, O. E. Desmond, E. J. Hacking, John Cadden, James Anderson, Kaslo; James Sherman, L. W. Oughtred, Ainsworth; Reuben McCandlish, Salmo; Dr. R. G. Gray, George Gatter, A. C. Kemp, O. Haggert, W. J. Gerbracht, Nelson.

BRITISH LABOR MAN AT TRAIL

Newbold Looks Over Great Smelting Plant; Goes to Coast

TRAIL, Nov. 3.—I. J. W. Newbold, famous British Labor leader and writer on economics, today was an interested visitor to the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company's plant here. He is Labor candidate for North Derbyshire, Eng.

Seeing no upheaval in the political situation in Britain for at least two years, he is continuing a five-year tour of the British Empire, to visit the larger industrial plants. He is making a survey of the fluxing factors of industrial processes, powers and labor, and their relation to similar factors in dependent industries, and to the economic life of different countries. He purposes, in conjunction with technical experts to compile a book dealing with the economics of hydro-electric, chemical and non-ferrous mining industries within the Empire. To this end he has spent nine weeks inspecting industrial plants west of Montreal, particularly those that have no duplicate in the British Isles, and those whose processes are an industrial advance amounting to a revolution such as the electrolytic process of refining lead and zinc used at the Trail smelter.

Last, he was a keen student of the economic phase of the processes used in the huge Sullivan mill at Kimberley. Today he left for Vancouver to study that city's magnificent harbor and its vast and growing trade. He will also get first-hand data on British Columbia's lumber industry with particular reference to the economic side as affecting employers and employees.

NELSON GIRL IN FRISCO SHAKES

Mrs. Livingston Writes Her Father, Mr. Starkey, of Sensations

According to a letter received Tuesday by Fred A. Starkey from his daughter, Mrs. L. M. Livingston, residing at 925 Geary street, San Francisco, the people of the bay city are experiencing some extremely hot weather there.

Mrs. Livingston also writes of her experiences in the recent earthquake tremors felt in that city. The first shock was felt at 4 a. m. Thursday morning, October 21. The apartment house in which she was living shook and rattled in a manner not very reassuring. The second tremor occurred about an hour later. A majority of the people in the district affected became anxious, and were ready to leave on a moment's notice should the necessity arise.

The third and final shock was felt on Sunday, October 25. Mrs. Livingston describes the whole affair as a most unpleasant experience, but concludes that no serious damage was done.

Winnipeg Makes Strong Bid for Conservative Meet

TORONTO, Nov. 4. — A staff dispatch to the Globe from Ottawa printed this morning says:

"Hon. Hugh Guthrie has received scores of letters urging the national Conservative convention for the selection of a permanent leader to be held in Winnipeg.

"Mr. Guthrie is not opposed to Winnipeg, but Mr. Meighen thinks the convention should be held in Ottawa.

"The matter will be dealt with by a committee of nine, representing each province. A delegation of five from each riding in the Dominion probably will compose the convention."

Ladner Definitely in Field for Leadership of Conservative Party

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—Leon J. Ladner, federal member for Vancouver south, definitely announced today that he would be a candidate for the leadership of the Conservative party in British Columbia, which will be decided at a convention to be held in Kamloops, November 23.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, prominently mentioned as a candidate for the office and R. H. Pooley, present house leader, have both declined to run, and it is now considered probable that Mr. Ladner and W. J. Bowser, former leader, will fight it out for the leadership.

TRAIL BUILDING IS ON INCREASE

In October Permits Issued Show Construction Started Valued at $38,740

TRAIL, Nov. 3. — Building permits to a total value of $38,740 issued during October bring the year's total to date to $379,982. This figure is more than twice the 1925 year's total. It represents largely the construction of homes of the $2000 to $3000 class. There were 10 residences of this class begun in October, having a total value of $26,131. The remainder, $12,609, represents three houses of lesser value and a considerable amount of improvements to buildings already existing. The largest of these was a permit for $1995 for improvements to the Arlington hotel building.

The nine larger residences begun wasa a six-roomed house, 26 by 28 feet, siding exterior and plaster interior finish, in East Trail, to cost $2735, being built for Edward Henry Swanson. A frame house 22 by 26 feet, with half basement, with siding exterior and plaster interior finish, to cost $2158, it is being built for J. Alimony in East Trail. A stucco finish house, 25 by 40 feet, with full basement, finished inside in plaster, is being built for Charles Fransen, in the sawmill block, Riverside. It will cost $3400. A four-roomed house, 24 by 32 feet, with full cement basement, is being built for R. V. Harwood, it will be finished outside in stucco and inside with plaster, and will cost $2500.

Joe Ross is building a frame house 24 by 32 feet finished with siding and shingles outside and wallboard inside, in East Trail. It will have five rooms and will cost $2000. A four-roomed house with full concrete basement is being built for W. Piper in East Trail. It will be finished in stucco outside and plaster inside, and will cost $2500. A four-roomed house with half concrete basement, finished with siding outside and plaster inside, is being built for James Gordon to cost $2365. Albert James Andrews is having a frame house, 24 by 28 feet, built with half cement basement to cost $423. It will be finished in siding and inside with plaster. J. Mark is having a four-roomed house, 26 by 30 feet, with half concrete basement, built in East Trail, to cost $2800. It will be finished in stucco outside and plaster inside. G. H. C. Norman is having a four-roomed house 30 by 33 feet built with full concrete basement. It will be finished in stucco and will be plastered inside. It will cost $3250.

Liquor Board to Investigate Cider Sale Possibilities

VICTORIA, Nov. 3.—Possibilities of British Columbia-made cider as a popular drink at government liquor stores will be investigated by liquor board officials following the declaration of Premier Oliver in Penticton yesterday that this beverage must be given a chance in competition with imported alcoholic drinks.

The use of large quantities of British Columbia cider through the selling agency of the liquor stores would absorb much of British Columbia's surplus apple crop, now wasted, the premier holds. If the fruit men will make their apples into cider he will see that it is placed on the shelves of the liquor stores.

YOUTHS HELD FOR DEATH OF WOMAN

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3. — Following the death in hospital today of Mrs. William Hood as the result of injuries received on Hallowe'en when knocked down by a hit-and-run automobile, police arrested three youths who are alleged to have hired the car that evening. They are being held in the juvenile detention home.

THOUSAND TITLES MUST BE JUDGED

Service League Has More Entries in Contest Than Anticipated

TRAIL, Nov. 3.—If shoals of suggested titles is any earnest of the eagerness with which the 1926 revue of Trail legion of the British Empire Service league is anticipated, that gorgeous production, now in the full cast rehearsal stage, is assured of astonishing popularity.

Three weeks ago the producers, too close to the scenes, were disgusted trying to hit on a title. So they decided to let the public in on it. They arranged a christening competition with a single prize of $10 for the title which, in the opinion of the judges, would be the most apt. They advertised it through The Daily News. Reasoning that "George would do it," they sat back and waited.

Families Busy

"George has done it." His sister, his aunt, his grandfather and everybody else has done it. Every mail has brought anywhere from one to a dozen titles from points scattered all over the Kootenays, to E. W. Hall, musical director and producer. He has a drawer full of letters—more than 1000. Some competitors sent one title; some sent 20. One enthusiast has sent in a postcard with a new title every day. And the committee on whom the duty of choosing the one most apt title are wondering when this thing is going to stop. They fear the mail in the last-minute rush, for the competition closes at 3 o'clock Tuesday evening, November 9; and they have made up their minds to wade right into that heap of titles one by one early on November 10. They want to mail that $10 check to the winner before a second avalanche begins.

Four members are on the selection committee—W. T. Dunbar, manager; W. C. Guillaume, secretary-treasurer; H. T. Kingwell, publicity agent, and E. W. Hall, producer. Each will go through the pile separately to select the title he considers best. He will submit it to the rest. If no genreal agreement is reached, the four best titles will be put in a box; the first one drawn will be the winner.

'GRAY TERROR'

The Astonishing Adventures of the Gray Phantom

By HERMAN LANDON

(Copyright by Street & Smith Corp. Serialized by Ledger Syndicate.)

"Two and a half minutes, Phantom!"

It was Marr's voice, still brutally cold and cynical. Only two and a half minutes. But he would not give up hope—not yet. His eyes fell on Red's repulsive face, he noted the slow clenching and unclenching of his fingers, and then he turned away with a freezing sensation of horror. Again his eyes raced wildly over the room, and suddenly, as if directed by a guiding flash of intuition, they fastened on a small white object at the desk.

The first button on the left! For a moment the Phantom's mind stood still, and then his thoughts resumed their mad, whirling course. The room heaved and rocked in wild confusion, and then the whole swirling chaos resolved itself into a small white circle. It was the only thing he could fasten on. Only a button; but Miss Winton's expression of intense relief came back to him. It had been all the more striking because of the momentary look of fear and suspense that had preceded it. Obviously she had been afraid that he might touch the first button on the left, and he recalled that Marr had seemed to share that fear. What had it all meant! And why, if they had been afraid that he might touch the button then, had they taken no precaution against his touching it later. What was to prevent him from bounding over to the desk and touching it now? The way was clear.

"One minute!"

The two slowly, quietly spoken words scattered his thoughts, but in the next moment there flashed across his mind the answer to the question he had just asked himself. Of a sudden he understood why they had given no further thought to the first button the left. He, the Gray Phantom, had shown them that he did not know for what purpose it was there, and that had satisfied them. He was still in ignorance, and they were doubtless relying on that, but again he wondered what would happen if he should cross the floor in a swift leap and jab his fingers against the little white disc.

Whatever the consequences might be, his own and Helen's plight could not be made worse than it already was, and it was just possible that——

"Half a minute!" announced Marr.

The words acted as a lash on straining nerves. He glanced about him through pistol smoke that eddied in the air like swarms of gray wraiths, and then, obeying a blind impulse, he darted across the floor, gained the desk at a few bounds, reached out his hand toward the little disc on the left. A loud, frenzied cry rang out in a woman's voice, a pistol's crack dinned spitefully in his ears, a leaden missile whistled past his cheek, burying itself in the opposite wall, and then he flung himself down on the floor and, cautiously elevating an arm, placed his index finger lightly, without the slightest pressure, on the white disc.

"Stop!" screamed a voice. It was Miss Winton's. The tones, edged with terror, filled him with a wild exultant hope. They told him that somehow, blindly, he had stumbled upon an advantage. Even at a distance he could see that Marr's face had gone white. He had found a weapon that, though incomprehensible to himself, was striking terror to at least two persons in the room.

"I thought he didn't know," Marr muttered.

Miss Winton laughed hysterically. "You forget that you are dealing with the Gray Phantom. It seems he has found another alternative. Stop him before——"

The Phantom, still dazed, hastened to press his advantage. "Marr," he said in calm tones, though there was a raging medley of hope and suspense within him, "throw your pistol over this way instantly."

Marr hesitated.

Miss Winton was covering her face with her hands. "Do as he says," she begged brokenly. "Can't you see he's desperate. He'll do anything. Oh—"

"Instantly, Marr!" The Phantom's sharp tones rang out.

With a horrified gesture Marr flung the pistol from him. A groan of mingled relief and exultation broke from the Phantom's lips. He was still mystified, but a monstrous power seemed inherent in the little white disc. Now, still lying flat on the floor, with one hand raised to the button, partly screened from sight by floating layers of smoke, he reached out his free hand and picked up the pistol Marr had dropped.

He gave a little nervous laugh. What was happening seemed wildly unreal, like a fantastic dream, but the balance had magically turned in his favor. The smoke was lifting, and now he glanced at the men lined up along the side, their faces plainly indicating that they understood nothing. Only Marr and Miss Winton seemed aware of the significance of the white disc, and they were affected in an astounding way.

The par value of 100,000 Italian lire is $19,300.00.

We recommend as an excellent money-making investment:

ITALIAN GOVERNMENT 5% BONDS

EVERY 10,000-lire Bond returns a fixed income of 500 lire. Converted into Canadian money at the present rate of exchange for the lira the interest coupons are worth a sum equivalent to approximately 5% on the present investment. As the lira rises the value of these coupons in terms of Canadian dollars increases. With the lira at par 500 lire will be worth 96.50. This annual income on the original investment is equivalent to many times the present yield.

Pocketing Coolidge

While definite results of the United States congressional elections are not yet known as this is written, there seems to have been the usual swing away from the administration, and the ability of the administration to enact its policies into legislation during the next two years is seriously in doubt. While the Republicans control the lower house, the senate is a near thing, and the insurgents, by cooperating with the Democrats, can tie things up at any time.

The Americans have a president whose policies are extremely popular. His plurality at the polls even surpassed the record made when President Harding entered the White House. Yet, after the first two years of his first elective term, the country turns around and more or less ties his hands.

There is nothing new about this. Many presidents have had this experience.

Among recent presidents "pocketed" by the electors in the nonpresidential year were Cleveland, Democrat; Taft, Republican, and Wilson, Democrat.

Like the spirit of the constitutional amendment voted on in the state of Washington Tuesday, the object of which was to make it impossible for a legislative session to last more than 60 days whatever betide, suspicion seems to be one of the products of the American system, which gives power to a public servant, only to immediately hedge him about so that little effective can come of it.

Italy Boiling

Feeling in Italy appears to be at a boiling point, where Fascists are set on violent extinction of all opposition to Mussolini policies, and many opponents of "Il Duce," as the little dictator is called, are gunning for him with deadly intent that he shall no longer cumber the earth.

While many Mussolini policies are obviously good, while he seems to have regenerated the Italian spirit, nevertheless his rule has been the traditional one of force, and things have got apparently to the stage of "no compromise."

As long as Mussolini appears in public, and apparently he has no intention of sequestering himself, though he is not above using a breastplate, he will be a target for attacks, and the breastplate that will turn a bomb has not been invented.

Repression only breeds the fiercer hates. Therefore time will make the feeling worse instead of better.

It seems as if Mussolini is the logical candidate for a bomb, if any man alive is such, and in Italy are undoubtedly scores of thousands who would deem it a privilege to pull the bomb's string.

One of these times Il Duce may not shake himself and walk away calmly after an attack.

Told in Rime

THE NE'ER-DO-WELL

I passed through Oxford and Cambridge,
And went to Eton, too
I didn't think any soul on earth
Knew as much as I knew.
But I tired of life as I lived it,
Wanted to live my own way;
Now shoveling much with a muckstick
Is where you'll find me today.
What good did I get from my M. A. degree?
What profit from all of my brains?
What use is Greek to a hobo
Who travels by beating the trains?
What use is Latin and Hebrew
To one who works with his back.
Who breaks rock and shovels soil
Or lays rails on the railroad track?
What use are maths and physics
To one who's breaking stone
With his back all humped and twisted
And his fingers worked to the bone?
And so I say education—
A necessary addition, still—
Is no blamed use to the "mucker"
When he has to pay his bill.

TRIANGLE EVENING WRAP

An evening wrap so constructed that it created the silhouette of a huge triangle between the arms and knees has attracted fashion followers. It is made in rich chestnut-hued velvet, lined with golden lame tissue and bordered with beige fox fur. It is finished with a high "storm" collar and has long ends of golden lame ribbon hanging down the back.

PRINCE UNWILLINGLY SETS NEW FASHIONS

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Prince of Wales can start a fashion in any article of men's wear and often does but he does it unwittingly and is certainly not a willing arbiter of fashion.

Rather he is most anxious to avoid publicity or advertisement of any sort and often goes out of his way to escape attention. He dresses well and tastefully, but not any more so than the average man about town.

His high rank and popularity, however, are seized on by haberdashers and tailors to do some quiet advertising on their own. When it becomes known through whisperings that the Prince of Wales favors this or that articles of attire, it becomes the fashion immediately although others may have worn them before.

EMBARGO ON GRAIN TO COAST LIFTED

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3. — The embargo against shipment of grain to Vancouver over Canadian Pacific railway line was raised yesterday. Concurrently it was announced that grain destined for the Pacific port would henceforth be accepted in accordance with the permit system instituted by E. D. Cotterell, head of the transportation of the company.

To knit a long-sleeved, double stranded, open-front sweater for a boy from 12 to 14 years old, buy 14 balls of camel hair yarn and use a pair of number four and one half and number three bone or celluloid needles.

Back—With the yarn double and the number four and one half needles, cast on 100 stitches and work in rib pattern of knit one, purl one, for 22 inches. On next row work the first 30 stitches off onto a stitch holder, bind off 40 for the neck and on the remaining 30 stitches start front. (Use yarn double throughout entire sweater)

Front—Work five rows, then increase one stitch every other row toward the front till 20 stitches have been added. Work on this length till front is as long as back. Work second front to correspond.

Sleeves—Cast on 30 stitches and work nine rows, then decrease one stitch at each end every fifth row five times then every eighth row six times. Work three rows and on the next row decrease to 60 stitches. Slip onto the number three needles and knit two, purl two, for two and one half inches, before binding off.

Band—With the number three needles cast on nine stitches and knit plain till long enough to extend up the right front around the neck, down to point where increasing ends. Work first buttonhole: Knit two, bind off four, knit three, and on next row cast on four stitches, over bound off stitches; work buttonholes two inches apart.

Pockets—Cast on 15 stitches and work in pattern for five inches, then with yarn single knit seven ribs plain for turn-over band. Sew in place three and one half inches from front edge and two and one half inches from bottom.

Tomorrow — Individual Steamed Puddings.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

Thoughts on Body Heat

The matter of the heat in different parts of the body is now being closely studied in European centers. That the temperature in some parts is much higher than in others has been a matter of knowledge for years, but real definite information is now available by means of inserting thermometers into the deep tissues of the body during operations.

The differences in temperature in the different parts varied by many degrees, depending upon the activity of the tissue and its location. The differences in the amount of heat manufactured by the different tissues is very similar to the differences in the amount of heat that is given off by means of the skin, in different parts of the body. It was found that where the large blood vessels came near the surface of the body more heat was given off, but where there was a layer of fat just beneath the skin, then that particular portion gave off very little heat, and might be actually cold to the touch.

One of the points which mystified the investigators was why the heat was so intense at certain points where the skin lies close to a bone surface, as over the spine, the breast bone, the skin bone, and the forehead.

You have noticed the perspiration on the forehead when there did not appear to be any elsewhere on the body.

This matter of heat is vital of course because heat is life. When you are sick your tissues manufacture more heat with which to fight this sickness. A high temperature shows that your tissues are reacting properly. A low temperature shows that your tissues are not manufacturing enough heat for your actual needs, and you are not only below par, but actually feel below par.

Temperature, high or low, is not feared as it formerly was, but gives the physician or the patient a real knowledge of actual conditions, and proper measures can accordingly be taken.

MARKS SITE OF METHODIST MEET

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Nov. 3. — Site of the first Methodist conferences held west of the Appalachian mountains in eastern Tennessee and Kentucky, under Francis Asbury, first Methodist bishop in America, has been marked by a large granite boulder.

The marker was taken from the bed of the Watauga river near an ancient ford which Bishop Asbury crossed as he made his trips from east to west. On the front side of the marker are chiseled these words: "William Nelson's ancient home for Methodist and Methodist preaching by Bishop Asbury." On the reverse side are the words: "Site of annual conferences, 1793, 1796 and 1797."

Class of '38

Big sister's cap and gown are somewhat oversize for little Mary to-day, but the years will quickly pass. Important years, years when the foundations for her life-long health are being laid. Whether Mary will graduate with the Class of '38 depends on the start she is getting now.

If your child is to grow up strong and sturdy and mentally alert, she must go to school fortified with food that gives ample energy for the morning's work.

Medical and school authorities agree that a child's success in school and after-life is largely dependent on the physical development during its early growth years. The big problem is to keep the energy supply equal to the demands made upon it.

Quaker Oats and milk supply the important elements for energy and growth in an easily digested form. Here is a hot, satisfying breakfast that "stands by" all day. It builds sturdy bodies for future years.

FERNIE BOARD AUTHORIZED TO BUY HOSPITAL

Institution Bought From Doctors for Figure of $15,000

PURCHASE PRICE WAS JOINTLY SUBSCRIBED

Government, City and Coal Company Contributed Toward Purchase

FERNIE, Nov. 3.—At a special general meeting of the Fernie General hospital body held here tonight, the purchase of the premises and contents from its former owners, Drs. Bonnell, Garner and Asselstine, was authorized, the consideration named being $15,000 which is generally considered a moderate figure. The achievement of this satisfactory development has been made possible through the efforts of the citizens' hospital board of directors recently securing three substantial contributions for the purpose of purchase of the hospital. These were $5000 from the provincial government, $5000 from the corporation of the city of Fernie, and $5000 jointly subscribed by the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company limited, and W. R. Wilson personally, president of that company.

Public Body

The passing of the ownership of the hospital premises and equipment assures henceforth its operation and maintenance as purely a public institution and entirely removes it from the realm of a privately conducted enterprise under which it was operated for many years, or until early 1925. Since that time the administration and management had been of a character to place it upon the basis of public welfare institution.

During the past year there has been spent $3370 in installations of modern hospital equipment and nearly $1500 further expenditures for furnishings and supplies. The board has also been able to bear all the expenses incidental to conducting of the institution including salaries, rentals, and still maintain a small surplus of funds. The general meeting tonight gave further authority to the board whereby they are enabled to give consideration to the matter of providing suitable quarters for the hospital staff.

SOCIETY

This column is being conducted by Mrs. M. J. Vigneux. All news of a social nature, including receptions, private entertainments, personal items, marriages, etc., will appear in this column. Telephone Mrs. Vigneux at her home.

Mrs. W. R. Jarvis, 300 Ward street, made a charming tea hostess yesterday when she was at home to a large number of friends. Pink chrysanthemums graced the living rooms while a silver basket filled with marigolds made a dainty center. Orange tapers to correspond were used on the tea table which was presided over by Mrs. W. After much planning and preparation the Hallowe'en party given by the second and third academic and the commercial class to initiate the "green" first year into the "ranks of the fighting," was well enjoyed by a happy group of students and ex-students of St. Joseph's academy. The recreation rooms of the convent were used for the occasion, and were gaily decorated in the usual Hallowe'en color scheme. A fireplace occupied a conspicuous part of the room. Over the fire hung a black "pot of fortunes," presided over by Mother Witch. About 10 o'clock the supper waltz was played, and all found themselves hungry. After toasts had been proposed and drunk, all returned to play more games. About 11:30 the party broke up with rousing cheers. Those attending were Miss Colomb Catnair, Miss Olive Reid, Miss Dorothy Flynn, Miss Yvonne Parent, Miss Gladys Kubla, Miss Tremelling Calinso, Miss Edna Marquis, Miss Josephine Varsevald, Miss Patricia Wall, Miss Kathleen Cole, Miss Jeanne Muluenna, Miss Anna Harkness, Miss Margaret Rahl, Miss Isabelle Rahl, Miss Alga Mucha, Miss Olga Yahimavitch, Miss Rosie Du Mont, Bobbie Burns, Dan MacDougall, Teddy Romano, Joe Hunden, Joe Ogensky, Louis Realya and Ernest Reisterer.

RIONDEL MASQUERADE IS GREAT SUCCESS

RIONDEL, Nov. 3. — The masquerade dance given Friday evening in aid of the new X-ray for the Kaslo hospital was a grand success. There were over 200 in attendance, representatives coming from all over the district. The steamer Moyie brought about 40 couples from Kaslo, while Cecil Coates brought another crowd from Procter in his launch. The hall was nicely decorated for the occasion with streamers evergreens and Hallowe'en emblems. Music was supplied by the Bluebell eight-piece orchestra, conducted by Charles F. Sherwin. Immediately after supper S. S. Fowler distributed the prizes as follows:

Ladies' first, Mrs. E. W. McKay, gypsy; gents' first, Robert Smith, Chinese mandarin; ladies' best homemade, Miss Verna Garland; ladies' comic, Mrs. A. W. Anderson, cave woman; gents' comic, J. Carlson, Fiji Islander. The judges were Mrs. D. G. Barclay and W. Burgess.

AINSWORTH NOTES

AINSWORTH, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Oughtred and Miss Perkins went over to Riondel on Friday evening to attend the fancy dress dance.

Mrs. J. B. Fletcher entertained a number of the bigger boys and girls at a Hallowe'en party at her home on Saturday evening.

Several pranks were played by a group of young folks on Saturday evening, but no real damage to property was done.

KASLO NOTES

KASLO, Nov. 3.—E. Aylwin of the Bank of Montreal is on his holiday, Gordon German of Rossland relieving him.

A. McQueen of the Bank of Montreal, Vancouver, is at home with his family in Vancouver on a visit as he leaves on promotion for the Bank of Montreal in Mexico City in a few days.

After evening service in St. Mark's church on Sunday, Mrs. Deacon of Victoria, kindly gave an organ recital. All much appreciated her rendering of selections from the "Messiah" and "Judas Maccabaeus."

Dr. Douglas Barclay and Mrs. Barclay have left for a short holiday.

RIONDEL NOTES

RIONDEL, Nov. 3. — Mrs. Simes of Silverton is here on a visit to Mrs. Thompson.

Mrs. Uri and sisters, the Misses Agnes and Emma Hagen of Wynndel, spent a couple of days visiting here.

Mrs. Russell of Crescent Bay was a visitor Friday.

A. G. Smith was a business visitor to Nelson on Wednesday.

AINSWORTH SCENE OF SCHOOL PARTY

AINSWORTH, Nov. 3. — Miss Dalia Perkins, teacher, and the scholars of Ainsworth school were hosts to a number of mothers and friends on Friday afternoon. The schoolhouse presented a gay appearance, being decorated with Hallowe'en witches, pumpkins and cats. Most of the decorations were the children's work. A table set in Hallowe'en style with napkins, favors, candles and shades, was ready to be laden with the good things which the upgrown people had prepared and to which the children did full justice when the time arrived.

A chorus, "Freckles," by the school, and a recitation by little David Kennedy, the smallest scholar in the school, was followed by various games both amusing and requiring skill.

FERNIE FLASHES

FERNIE, Nov. 3. —The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonald, McPherson avenue, was the scene of a delightful Hallowe'en dance on Saturday night when their daughter, Elizabeth, entertained 20 of her girl and boy friends. The rooms were tastefully decorated with witches, pumpkins and black cats. The guests included Vivian Hughes, Mildred Kastner, Jean Liphardt, Georgie Marshall, Marion Mangan, Audrey Mills, Ella Smith, Nan Smith, Emma Wilson, George Corrie, Edward Couglin, Jim Bushel, Alex. Fisher, Osborne Kennedy, Bob Pierpont, Clarence Mangan, Jack Irvine, Nelson Wallace and Tom Wilson.

Mrs. William Skilling returned to the city from Vancouver, where she has been visiting for the last three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Lilley are visiting the city during the supreme court assizes.

NO EVENING GOWNS

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Nov. 3.—Because it was thought that some girl students failed to attend dances given by the Owen Sound collegiate institute owing to the inability to buy expensive frocks, the board of education tonight placed a ban against the wearing of formal dress at collegiate dances.

JUSTICE RECALLS BLACKHAND GANG

Glad When Judge Gave Varied Sentences; Justice MacDonald Crown Counsel Then

FERNIE, Nov. 3. — At the opening of the afternoon session of the assizes here Tuesday, following the bringing in by the grand jury of the two true bills in the matter of John Lyle, Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald merely excused the grand jury, but did not formally discharge them. The grand jury departed on the understanding they could be reconvened at the call of the sheriff if it was found necessary for them to act again before the close of the assizes.

In reply to a question by his lordship as to the wishes of the grand jury to make any report of inspections of public institutions in the city, the foreman announced the jury had considered the desirability of improving conditions of the interior of the courthouse building and particularly in the court room but they had learned the contract for the suggested renovations in the form of interior decoration had already been let. The grand jury foreman also added that as all the members were local men they naturally took real pride in having the public institutions in first-class state of repair.

The Black Hand Gang

Mr. Justice Macdonald thereupon said any such suggestions were quite proper, but, comparing the present court room with others he had had to attend at in the city of Fernie, it was a very beautiful place. His lordship said he vividly recalled the assize at which the "black hand gang" had been tried here, an occurrence of almost two decades ago, when he had then acted as counsel for the crown, and the trial was held in a little schoolhouse. "I can remember, and I suppose I will remember all my lifetime," said his lordship, "those six accused men and their 12 jet black eyes still peering at you no matter where you went, as much as to say 'Wait till you get through and we get out.' It was a very trying case and in the end I thought the judge on that case gave an exceptionally good decision, because instead of imposing sentences whereby they would all be let out together, they were two, three, four and five years, so that when released from prison they could retire to private life separately."

The members of the grand jury for this assize are: E. K. Stewart foreman; A. W. Turner, D. O. Bricker, William M. Dicken, J. L. Gates, W. W. Golightly, A. T. Hamilton, J. H. Marshall, J. L. McIntyre, E. Paterson, John V. Rewers, N. D. Sanford, Harold J. Vanbuskirk.

SECOND CHARGE AGAINST LYLE IS CANCELLED

Attorney Acting on Advice From Attorney-General's Department Drops Charge

FERNIE, Nov. 3. — The criminal assizes terminated early this afternoon when Crown Counsel J. W. Brault informed Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, presiding judge, that, under authority of the attorney-general he applied to not proceed with the remaining charge against John Lyle of Kimberley.

His lordship granted the request and excused the petit jurors from further attendance at this assize.

Immediately upon court convening this morning counsel for the crown made application to the court that the second case on the criminal docket against John Lyle who yesterday was acquitted by the jury on charge of a similar nature, be traversed to the spring assizes.

A. R. Lilly, counsel for Lyle, opposed the motion and the court upheld the objection and refused the crown's application. Adjournment was granted to afternoon to enable crown counsel to communicate with the department of the attorney-general for instructions whether, in the circumstances it should not enter "nolle prosequi," more generally understood as a stay in proceedings, or continue with the second trial.

Mr. Brault, however, frankly stated he personally felt on the evidence he had to offer, the crown could hardly succeed in proving a criminal intent against Lyle in this matter, wherein C. A. Marshall of Kimberley complained that the accused had been given by him $90.30 to purchase certain stocks and he had neither obtained delivery of the certificates nor return of the moneys advanced.

Passenger travel to Europe from American ports last summer showed an increase of 10,518 persons over 1925.

Rebellion Leaders Come Out With Only Mild Vote of Censure

MOSCOW, Nov. 2.—Trotsky, Zinovieff, Kameneff and other rebellion leaders emerged from the 10 days' Communist party conference which closed tonight with nothing worse than a vote of censure against them for their action.

Only recently Trotsky and Kameneff were ousted from the all-powerful political bureau, and Zinovieff was expelled from the third Communist internationale. What further action would be taken in their case was a matter of speculation, but it is clear from the relatively moderate tone of the resolution against them that the party is anxious to avoid widening the existing cleavage and it agreed on all sides that the danger of a quarrel between the two groups leading to an open disruption of the party is apparent.

Skin Torture Stops after 50 Years

Mr. S. E. Davis, Havelock, Ontario, says, "I had eczema for 50 years. At times I could not sleep. Tried all kinds of things but none did much good. Ovelmo helped me from the first and in a short time I was well." Mr. Davis is just one of over 35,000 who have written such letters about Ovelmo internal and external treatment. Try it for eczema, itch, tetter, salt rheum, and kindred skin diseases. Stops itching at once, soothes, heals and banishes eruptions quickly. Ask your druggist. Results or money back.

Gas Spoiled Sleep, Made Her Dizzy

"For years I suffered from gas on the stomach, bloating and constipation. Used to get headaches and dizzy spells. The first dose of Adlerika gave me relief. Now, I rest well and the gas is gone."—Mrs. Blanche Brinkley.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Adlerika is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Doctors Praise Adlerika

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose."

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists.

Women Find

Great comfort in this new hygienic pad that discards easily as tissue—no laundry

ON many important counts, women are deserting the old-time "sanitary pad."

There is a new way. A way that multiplies protection. A way, too, that solves the old problem and embarrassment of disposal.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! And deodorizes—ends ALL fear of offending.

✓ As easily disposed of as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Costs only a few cents. Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk.

This Will Make a Better Man of You

What's the secret of good health? It's the regular, smooth working of your eliminating system. You simply can't begin to be healthy until you've ensured that.

But can you keep your internal organs in perfect tune when you're forced to lead a radically unhealthy life, deprived of fresh air and regular, strenuous exercise? Yes—by forming what's well-named the Kruschen habit of health—the habit of the "little daily dose."

The effect of modern city life on you is that your system cannot obtain in a natural way the six vital mineral salts that it must have to enable it to do its job properly. So you get constipated — which is as much as to say, poisoned. And there you are, made miserable for no reason at all.

Kruschen has power to change all this, simply because the "little daily dose" is a full day's supply of just those six vital mineral salts. As much as will lie on a 10-cent piece every morning, tasteless in your first cup of tea, restores your liver and kidneys to perfect tune. The source of the trouble is removed — the trouble disappears. You're fit and feel it.

More! The direct tonic effect of Kruschen upon your blood-stream gives you the glorious sensation of overflowing vitality that's called for short "that Kruschen feeling!"

You can't help being happy when you've got "that Kruschen feeling." Your spirits are as blithesome as your dancing blood. Prove it to your profit. The price of a bottle won't break you. Buy one now. Begin the "little daily dimeful" at once. Stick to it. Soon you'll be chirping with the best of us — "It's the little daily dimeful that does it!"

Tasteless in Coffee or Tea

Put as much in your breakfast cup as will lie on a 10-cent piece. It's the little daily dimeful that does it!

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

The dose to cover a 10-cent piece taken every morning is found in practice just the right amount for a most invigorating daily tonic. The medicinal dose for persons suffering from pains of rheumatism, gout, lumbago, or sciatica, or habitual constipation, with inactive liver, etc., is half to one-teaspoonful in a tumbler of hot water before breakfast. Every druggist sells Kruschen. A 75c bottle lasts three months. This works out at half a cent a day for health and happiness. Get a bottle at your druggist's to-day and start to-morrow. It's the little daily dimeful that does it!

"I was greatly Distressed With Pains in the Back"

Mr. Alfred McNeill, Chapel Rock, Alta., writes:

"During the winter of 1920-21, I was greatly distressed with pains in my back and felt tired and depressed most of the time. Particularly during the night I was troubled with frequent urination, some nights having to rise almost every hour. I tried several different treatments without success, until finally I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they relieved my condition before I had finished the first box. I am feeling better this summer than I have for years, and although in my 67th year, can work all day without any undue fatigue."

DR. KING AND OLIVER GUESTS AT A BANQUET

Federal Minister Urges That All Pull Together for Canada

PREMIER TELLS OF PROVINCE PROGRESS

Harry Gale, Also Present, Talks of Getting Pulp Mill

Assembled at short notice, citizens of Nelson paid a warm testimonial to Hon. J. H. King, M.D., M.P., for East Kootenay, the new minister of health and of soldiers civil reestablishment, by packing the dining room of the Hume yesterday, at a public banquet in his honor. The objective of the banquet also included Premier Oliver, Nelson's local member, and R. H. Gale of Vancouver, late Liberal candidate in West Kootenay, was also a guest. Mayor J. A. McDonald, who is also head of the Nelson Liberal association, presided.

Dr. King gave his auditors a glimpse of some of the problems that he regarded as the outstanding ones before the Canadian people, and suggested it was the duty of the people to now lay aside partisanship, and assist the men entrusted with the country's administration. Premier Oliver spoke of British Columbia's position and progress, and Mr. Gale referred to efforts he was making to interest capital in West Kootenay pulp wood.

"We realize our interests and the interests of British Columbia will be well looked after by you at Ottawa," stated Mayor McDonald in his brief introductory address to Dr. King.

Oliver Pays Tribute to King

Premier Oliver, the first speaker, taking the same line, paid "a tribute of honor and esteem," to Dr. King, whom he had valued first as a fellow member of the legislature, then as a cabinet colleague, and later as the province's cabinet representative at Ottawa, over an acquaintance of 20 years, a man of exceptional ability and integrity. His original success as a physician and surgeon had been duplicated by his success as a private legislator, then as a provincial minister, and then in the field of federal administration. "The road system of the province would not be in the condition in which it is today if it had not been for Dr. King, as minister of public works," commented the premier, who said he had every confidence that Dr. King would worthily represent the province in his new post of responsibility.

Province Should Back Him

He only regretted that British Columbia did not see fit to return a larger representation to support Dr. King. However, there was the future to the good, and while "the lamp held out to burn," the province could, and no doubt would, improve that showing in due time. Meantime, British Columbians could render their province and their country no better service than by giving Dr. King every support in his work. It was somewhat disheartening to a man, sometimes pitchforked into a position he did not seek, to find he was getting more grousing and fault-finding than support. "I am asking you," he said, "to give Dr. King the sympathetic support that should go with the service you want him to render you at Ottawa."

While saying two words for Dr. King, he was saying one for himself, too, for he knew of no one in more need of sympathetic support than himself, the premier plaintively admitted. (Laughter). He deprecated the too frequent attitude toward public men, and it should be realized that no man was altogether bad. It was impossible for any human being to sink to the depths of degradation that some would impute to him if he were a public man. Premier Oliver said he had suffered this year with neuritis, and this prevented him from getting around as he had wished—for nothing was more important than talking to the people, explaining the difficulties to be overcome, and the policies that would have to be pursued. But British Columbia's immense distances made it impossible to keep up the personal touch possible in smaller areas. Too many constituents were like the Scotch aspirant to an eldership, who, questioned on his qualifications, set forth that he "could attend meetings and object." (Laughter).

Nelson's Fine Position

Nelson was in a fairly prosperous position, declared its legislative member, who referred to its central location, and the territory back of it. No city could be more prosperous, the prosperity even extending to The News. "When I reflect that this area is so well served by The Nelson Daily News, I sometimes think it is too well situated as a distributing center," declared the premier whimsically. He added that the only thing he had against The Daily News was the party policy espoused by those in control of it. To be just right, in his estimation, it should have a Liberal editor. He referred to the city's proximity to vast water power resources, which were such as to make it the equal in that respect of almost any city in Ontario.

Provincial Progress

Turning to the province, Premier Oliver dealt with its immense resources, and gave statistics of its recent progress in production from those resources. The timber production, from which the province received the largest individual contribution toward its revenue, was between $80,000,000 and $90,000,000 last year. It might surprise many to know agriculture came second in production, rising from $37,000,000 in 1917 to $65,000,000 in 1925. There were the mines, which produced $62,000,000. Fisheries in 1921 produced $18,953,000, and in 1925, $22,414,000, making over a third of the total fisheries yield of Canada. With the addition of the new pilchard fishery for oil, the province should soon account for half of the Dominion's fish production.

Industrial development had kept equal pace, he said. In 1917 there were 1772 manufacturing plants, which in 1924 had become 3556. Their employees were 40,098 in 1917, and 72,979 in 1924, a 92 per cent increase. The 1917 payroll of $32,296,000 became one of $107,798 in 1924, a gain of 234 per cent. Another index of development was the school population, which expanded from 64,570 in 1915-16 to 97,954 in 1924-25, a 51.5 per cent gain. The great progress shown in these large matters extended, he was sure, to the minor ones, if there was time to examine them.

Roads and Profligate Spending

When he visited Nelson a short time ago there were many complaints about roads, and there was talk of the city issuing bonds itself to build a road to Ymir. The government developed a large road program, and now he found there still complaints, on the score of the road not being smooth enough. He said the government could give all the roads asked for provided the people could be persuaded to give the money, but he met 50 requests to reduce expenditure to one for increased expenditure. It was not wise, he contended, for British Columbia to enter on a profligate policy of spending, and the very first consideration should be "to keep the credit of the province good in the money markets of the world." (Applause).

Dr. King Desires to Serve

Dr. King, returning thanks in happy terms for the luncheon so kindly tendered him, said there was no need for him to express his fondness for British Columbia. Because he had lived in the Kootenay, this great district perhaps rested a little closer in his heart. West Kootenay was a great territory, and its people were wonderful, and they were only comparable to the territory and people of the East Kootenay. Thanking Premier Oliver for his kindly address in its references to him, Dr. King declared Premier Oliver to be a man who worked harder than anyone else he knew, for "your interests." "It is true that public men do not always meet the public view-point of the moment," admitted Dr. King, but that was inherent in the situation.

"I wish to say to you as citizens of Nelson and West Kootenay," said Dr. King, "that my desire is to serve the people of this province and of Canada. We felt somewhat disappointed, it is true, at the returns from British Columbia, but we have no reason to complain if we did not put over our viewpoint. A sigh of relief went up that the party that won gained a substantial majority at the polls. Our form of government does not lend itself to group government, though there is room for a difference of opnion to exist in our country. A satisfactory majority has been given to one party. Let us therefore forget the past, and just be citizens of Canada again, and back the government in administering the affairs of the country."

Financial Problem Solved

Dr. King declared that Canada's period of business tension was largely past, and said he believed Canada today was on the way to the greatest prosperity in its history.

What could prevent that coming about? Only strife, and one section set against another, he said. "If all pull together, I have no doubt this great Dominion will progress."

Of the many questions before the people and the government, two or three were of more importance than the others, said Dr. King. Financial conditions were good, and Canada was paying its way, and could borrow money on a reasonable rate of interest. It had fairly passed over its financial difficulties. Thus,

Ty Cobb Is Through as Manager Detroit Tigers

CROW DISTRICT BONSPIEL DATE IS NOW FIXED

Curlers Choose Week Ending January 17 as Date for Start in Cranbrook

ALBERTA, CROW AND B. C. CURLERS WILL ATTEND

Kimberly's New Covered Rink Will Be an Up-to-Date One This Year

CRANBROOK, Nov. 3. — The Cranbrook Curling club has already begun preparations to entertain the Crow's Nest Pass Curling association here on the occasion of the annual district bonspiel, which commences in Cranbrook the week ending January 17 next. Notice of the date fixed upon will be sent to the secretary of the district association and through him all the clubs along the Crow, in Alberta and British Columbia will be notified. It is hoped that there will be a good representation.

This was decided at a general meeting of the Cranbrook club held here this evening. On the attendance at the big bonspiel will hinge the question whether it is more advantageous for this city to remain in with the Crow's Nest association or join up with the West Kootenay and British Columbia bodies.

No Confliction

The Selkirk bonspiel, embracing the Cranbrook, Kimberley and other local clubs, is now an established event, and efforts will be made to see that the two big events do not conflict. The dues for the coming season were fixed as formerly at $12 for the old curlers and $6 for first-year members, and an effort will be made to enroll a few ladies' rinks. W. F. Cameron is head of a committee for this purpose. The men's membership roll is now going the rounds, and is already quite largely signed and a membership of 100 is altogether likely this year.

The athletic association will be approached to see if arrangements can be made for the use of Arena rink as well for about four days for the opening of the big bonspiel in January.

New Rink, Kimberley

At Kimberley work on the new covered curling rink is well under way and formal opening is expected as soon as curling weather arrives. The new building there has five sheets of ice and is 176 feet by 86 feet, providing as well as the usual dressing room accommodation, waiting rooms, etc. It was built from modifications made to the plans of rinks at Cranbrook and Rossland. All the rinks have concrete floors laid three inches thick. Some assistance was given by the company but a great deal of voluntary labor has been put into the building by members of the Kimberley club, and it is felt that the rink will compare favorably with any in this part of the province.

HAGEN PLAYS IN VANCOUVER FRIDAY

Will Attempt to Lower Course Record; Manager Pleased With Course

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—Walter Hagen, the champion golfer of the world, will play over the new course of the Canadian Pacific railway at South Vancouver "Langara" on Friday, November 12.

Partnered by Charlie McCadden, the 15-year-old golf wizard of British Columbia, against the veterans, Dave Black and Ralf Cornfoot, Hagen has expressed his intention to do his utmost to lower the record for the course which now stands to the credit of Dave Ayton, with 70.

Bob Harlow, Hagen's manager, visited the Langara course yesterday, and expressed the greatest admiration for the "Westward-Ho" of the Pacific coast. He was especially struck by the size of the bent grass greens, which cover an area of approximately 18,000 square feet per green.

Warner Used His Head' in Ruling Thorpe

BY AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Glen Warner, famous football coach of Leland Stanford University, is one of the most picturesque figures in the sport world. Warner for years coached at Carlisle University where he made the name of the Indian school famous wherever football was played.

Jim Thorpe, the most famous player developed by Warner and probably the greatest football player of all time, and a former roommate of mine on the New York Giants, once told me an interesting story about Glen.

"We were playing an important game on Saturday," said Jim, "and Warner had given strict orders that all players were to be in bed by 10 o'clock Friday evening.

"I decided that 10 o'clock was too early to hit the hay and went out on a little party. Warner found me and told me to get back to the hotel. We argued for quite a while and I finally turned my back on him and told him I'd go when I got 'good and ready.'

"The next thing I remember, I woke up in bed at the hotel with a lump on my head you could hang your hat on. Warner had politely tapped me on the head with a fungo stick and dragged me back to my room."

Suzanne Plans to Retire in Three Years, She States

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—Suzanne Lenglen, arriving with six trunks of clothes, told an interviewer that she thought "only women with shapely legs would wear short skirts." Many of her coats were trimmed with beaver. "You see I am very fond of your national emblem," she said.

The tennis star is very fond of dancing, and is as graceful in the ballroom as on the tennis court. She abominates the Charleston, she declares, though her attitude has been moderated since she crossed the Atlantic. "I have seen young people dance it quite attractively since I came to America, but the way they dance it in France is atrocious, so ungainly and ugly! But I love the tango!"

She announced that she intended to give up tennis, in about three years' time: "What will you do, then?" she was asked. "Oh, I shall marry and have a family," she said, laughing.

To "what is your ideal of a man?" she replied, "I don't think it is wise to have one. You know what happens—perhaps you decide that your ideal is tall and dark—and then you get a little fat blond one"—she indicated a barrel-like figure with her expressive hands.

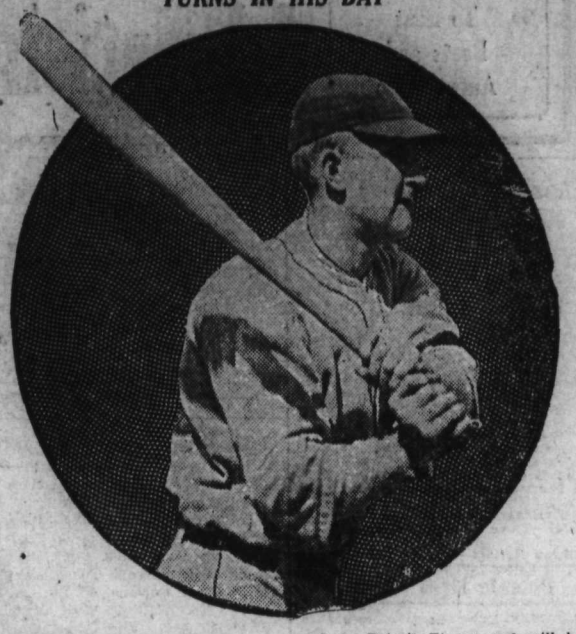
"Applications have already run into seven figures," commented her manager. Suzanne laughed, but did not say whether she was contemplating accepting any matrimonial offer.

Old Mounted Police Officer Buried, Coast

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—Sergeant Major William Emery, who joined the Royal Northwest Mounted police force 32 years ago, was buried here Tuesday, the remains being brought from Penticton where deceased had resided since resigning from the R.C.M.P., four years ago.

Sergeant Major Emery planned and laid out the police barracks in Regina, Fort Saskatchewan, Edmonton and Vancouver.

TURNS IN HIS BAT



Ty Cobb today resigned as manager of the Detroit Tigers, and will be succeeded by George Moriarty, American league umpire and former Tiger third baseman.

New Manager of the Detroit Tigers Has Had the Experience

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 3. — George Moriarity broke into professional baseball in 1904, when he was picked up from the sand lots at Woodstock, Ill., by Frank Selle, manager of the Chicago clubs. After adventures in the minors, Moriarity went to the New York Yankees with whom he played during 1906, 1907 and 1908. He was traded to the Tigers during the winter of 1908-09, and played under Hughie Jennings for the next seven years.

He was traded to the Chicago White Sox in 1916. Later he contracted typhoid fever and when he recovered he was appointed to the American league umpire staff.

COBB'S RETIRING IS FIFTH SO FAR IN TWO LEAGUES

Lee Fohl, George Sisler, Bill McKechnie and Arthur Fletcher All Through

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Announcement of the resignation of Ty Cobb as manager of the Detroit Tigers, made at Detroit today, brings that total of managerial changes in the two major baseball leagues to five.

Four nominations of new managers have been made, two in each league. Lee Fohl's successor as director of the playing end of the Boston Red Sox has not been announced.

With the news that Ty Cobb would retire, came the appointment of George Moriarity, American league umpire and former Tiger infielder, as manager.

Another managerial announcement today was that of Dan Howley, successful pilot of the Toronto Leafs, of the International league, to succeed Sisler with the St. Louis Browns.

Two new pilots will start next season with National league clubs. Owen Bush, after managing Indianapolis in the American association, will succeed Bill McKechnie at Pittsburgh.

John E. McInnes, after 16 years as a major league player has been graduated into managerial ranks with the Philadelphia Nationals. Arthur Fletcher, former Philly manager, will join the New York Yanks.

WESTERN MEN TO GET CHANCE OLYMPIC TEAM

Two Meets Will Be Held in West Before Canadian Track Team Picked

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3.—A complete survey of Western Canada's possibilities for representation of the Olympic team to be sent from the Dominion to compete against the world at Amsterdam in 1928 will be undertaken by Jack McVicar, president of the amateur union of Canada and P. J. Mulqueen, chairman of the Canadian Olympic committee.

It is the plan of the officials to organize two big meets throughout the west during the summer of 1927. One would likely be held in Winnipeg while the other would be staged in Calgary or Edmonton. At these meets it is proposed to give a chance to every aspirant to catch a place on the Olympic team.

Concurrent with the western meet trials will be held in eastern Canada. The eastern meet will be held in Montreal and either Toronto or Hamilton.

A general meeting of the western branches of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada will be held in Winnipeg on November 15.

"We are starting earlier this year," Mr. McVicar said. "Our aim is to get a complete line on progress of the provincial organization so that Mr. Mulqueen can proceed with his work."

Bookmarkers Start Boycott Refuse Starting Prices

WINDSOR, Eng., Nov. 3.—For the first time in history of English horse racing no official starting prices were recorded at the races today because of a "boycott" by the bookmakers who refused to accept bets as a protest against the betting tax which went into effect November 1.

TY COBB QUITS IN FAVOR OF GEO. MORIARITY

After 21 Years' Brilliant Baseball, Famous Georgian Takes Back Seat

SUCCESSOR PLAYER AND UMPIRE OF BIG REPUTE

Cobb Was as Great a Drawing Card as Ruth; Going Out of Game for Year

DETROIT, Nov. 3.—The tocsin has sounded for Ty Cobb. After 21 years of brilliant baseball, the Georgian, wearying of constant criticism for his failure to develop a pennant winning club, resigned today as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

George Moriarity, the American league umpire who made his baseball reputation as third baseman for the Detroit team, will be the new manager. His selection was announced today by President Frank J. Navin.

Cobb left for his Augusta home immediately after tending his resignation. Friends said that Cobb will devote his entire time to varied business interests (he is reputed to be the wealthiest of the baseball players) and will not don a uniform for at least a year.

There was no question in Cobb's sincerity of purpose nor his enthusiasm; there were doubts often expressed of his managerial ability. For many years he was such a box office magnet as Babe Ruth is today. It was his versatility as much as his batting that won him the designation of the "greatest ball player that ever lived."

Is Qualified

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 3.—George Moriarity, American league umpire, appointed to succeed the fiery Ty Cobb as manager of the Detroit American League club, has had managerial aspirations for several years. Having served as an American league umpire for 10 years, Moriarity is rated by critics as being well qualified for a manager's job. He is a recognized authority of the national pastime and has written baseball for news syndicates and magazines.

DAN HOWLEY TO TAKE SISLER'S POST ST. LOUIS

Manager of Toronto Leafs Announced as New Pilot in Majors

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3.—Dan Howley will take charge of the St. Louis Browns as manager at once. Making the announcement that the manager of the Leafs would come to the Browns in succession to George Sister, P. D. Hall, owner of the St. Louis club, said that Howley had signed a three-year contract, but did not announce the salary. It is understood the new pilot will receive an amount in excess of the $13,000 he has been getting.

Piloted Toronto Leafs

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—Dan Howley, who has been appointed manager of the St. Louis Browns, at one time managed a Montreal team in the International league. In 1918 he came to Toronto as manager of the Leafs, who won the pennant that year.

In 1922 Howley came back to Toronto and taking over a makeshift club, landed in fourth position in the league standing. Then for two years he guided the Leafs into second place.

This year he piloted the Leafs not only into the pennant position, but through the little world series; the Toronto winning by five straight games.

On October 16, in the western intercollegiate athletic meet held this year at Saskatoon, Len Cockle of Kaslo, who is studying medicine at the Alberta university, broke the western record for the javlin throw, making 145 feet 2 inches. On Saturday last, in the eastern intercollegiate meet between Toronto and McGill, a new intercollegiate javlin record was made by W. Ramanoff, of McGill with a throw of 153 feet 4 1-2 inches.

As these are both official records Kootenay can now boast of producing the champion javlin thrower of the Canadian universities.

Len Cockle is well known in athletic circles of the Kootenay as the big hurler for the Kaslo baseball aggregation. He also twirled several games for Nelson two or three seasons ago. Len is also a basketball star and has done some rowing.

Efforts are being made among United States golfers to have the national amateur golf title matches cut down to 18 holes. This of course would only be in regard to final plays.

Another change suggested is the discarding of medal play for qualifying and substituting 18-hole matches. This could be accomplished by cutting down the field beforehand. At present the 36-hole matches are unpopular because the length makes the tournament monotonous. Eighteen hole matches would add variety and make play more interesting for spectators.

On the other hand other golfers are disatisfied with the proposed changes because a few bad holes in the start of an 18-hole match would disqualify a player, while with the 36-hole match he has a chance to recover. It is not at all probable that the present system will be changed.

Jugo Slavia not only has entered Davis cup competition for the first time next year but is the first to send in her entry. The entry, dated September 22, is the earliest ever received in the history of the play. Jugo Slavia will play in the European zone.

PARADE WILL GREET SOCCER TEAM, SPOKANE

Inland Empire Capital Plans Reception for West Kootenay Champions

SPOKANE, Nov. 3.—A downtown parade next Saturday evening, in which the Canadian Kilties band, the Moose drum and bugle corps and the lorries from Fort Wright will be included, will follow the arrival of the Kimberley Tunnel soccer football club, champions of the East and West Kootenays, Canada, when they arrive to meet Spokane in the international game next Sunday.

This was decided last night at a meeting of the Spokane Soccer Football association at the Dessert hotel.

About 75 Canadians, followers of their champions, are expected with the team, it was made known, and these guests will probably remain over until Monday to attend the second game which the Tunnels will play against the Fort Wright team on Monday afternoon.

It was also announced that about 30 of the soldiers of Fort Wright will go to Natatorium park, where the game will be played Sunday afternoon begining at 2:30 and, under the direction of Captain Startup of the fort soccer team, will place the field in perfect playing condition. T. Williams of Mahr's Service team of the Spokane league will have charge of the flags at the game, and it was stated that both the Canadian and American colors will be prominently displayed.

The Spokane team will play in green and white striped jerseys, while the visitors' jerseys will be striped gold and black. The kickoff will be promptly at 2:30 p. m., with 10 minutes' previous practice for the players of both clubs.

Is Baseball Losing Its Popularity in the United States?

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 3.—The popularity of baseball, the national game, was questioned again when only 34 freshmen of the 612 at Princeton university chose it as the form of athletics in which they wished to participate. Two groups of 111 each preferred tennis and football.

BOSTON COAST GUARDS ESCORT RUM RUNNERS

Captains Paid Handsomely for Job, States Member of Dissatisfied Crew

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Six Boston coast guard boats ferrying liquor from rum row of $1 a case have led to a federal investigation that has revealed coast guard boats as regular rum carriers, with some of their officers as part owners in rum row vessels, according to a copyrighted story in the Boston American tonight.

The facts have been revealed by a confessed coast guard participant, William J. Wheeler, in a series of secret examinations of coast guardsmen here, the story says.

Details of the manner in which the coast guardsmen landed their liquor were printed by the paper in an interview with a member of one of the patrol boats.

Four Days on Row

"My boat and three others in our patrol running out of base number five," (South Boston), "would spend four days on rum row," he said, "after we left port the skipper would tell us the name of the boat we are to unload or assist in getting the booze off into speed boats.

"When we got out to rum row, the George and Earle, one of the best known rum runners that comes into rum row, would greet our skipper. On one occasion, seven speed boats from Plymouth came alongside the George and Earle and we helped unload 1300 cases of liquor off this ship to the speed boats. On this particular load our skipper got $1500. Our crew numbered eight, counting the skipper. The crew got $300 to split among seven, while the skipper had a grand sum all for himself.

Things Were Rosy

"Believe me things were rosy, after we got through work we would celebrate. Night after night our crews have been drunk and we did not know whether we were in rum row or some place else.

"I have known occasions when a coast guard boat would accompany as many as seven speed boats from rum row into Plymouth harbor to see that they were escorted safely in.

"We unloaded an average of 1500 cases a night, so you see all the boys were fixed pretty good financially."

The coast guardsmen blamed the "leak" on friction among the men who "didn't see why they should unload liquor for nothing for one of the officers of the base, when they could split up for $300 to $500 among seven men for a night's work.

an opportunity would be given for the government to reach out into other channels of development, and these should be carefully selected.

Thus, there was the immigration question. Immigrants should be carefully selected, and there should be indiscriminate immigration. If an immigrant was sound mentally and physically right, he should have a chance to come to this country. With a little slower process, Canada would advance better than by the faster method.

Transportation Situation Better

On the transportation problem, comparison would show Canada to now be in an advantageous position. Owing to the period of stress it was necessary to amalgamate the government railways. There were now two great systems, both of which Dr. King said he looked upon as the railway systems of the Canadian people, whose money was in both. The C.P.R. all knew to have been a great Canadian institution, and nothing must be done to destroy it. At the same time the government must see that the Canadian National was put in a position where it could equally well serve the people. He believed in a short time the country would have these two great systems in that position.

There was also the question of transportation on the great lakes, and the great canal system, in association, which was soon to be finished.

Foreign shipping was also of importance, in view of the nearly 100 per cent increase in Canada's foreign trade in the last few years. Thus, facilities for this trade must be provided. He referred to the transformation in Vancouver, and to the huge grain and flour tonnage handled from both Vancouver and Montreal last year. Probably never in history had there been such a development in so short a time as the recent development in the Canadian grain trade.

Prairie Needs Consideration

"As to the prairie, it is of great importance to us here," he declared. "If there is to be a maximum development we must have sympathy with the provinces east of us." If the prairie did not produce that great crop of wheat, there would not be many wheels turning in the east.

"We cannot have a party in one province saying, 'I want that,' and another saying, 'That will be ruinous to us.'"

Referring to Premier Oliver's figure of $62,000,000 mine production in British Columbia last year, Dr. King expressed the conviction that this was "only a good start." With the development in Ontario also and elsewhere, Canada would be known as one of the greatest mining countries of the world.

There was no need to be discouraged about Canada, said Dr. King. By taking an optimistic view good citizens would be setting things in motion to develop the country.

Dr. King said it was a joke for a British Columbia man to be minister of health, for all here were healthy. Yet he was in charge of that portfolio, and there were some directions in which he was trying to get results.

May Need Money for Soldiers

Regarding the department of soldiers' civil reestablishment, of which he was also in charge, there were problems to be solved. He knew, however, in arriving at the solution of those problems he would have the sympathy of all the people, and if the time came that a little more money was needed he felt sure there would be no criticism.

"I hope I shall have many opportunities to come among you and present my problems," concluded the minister, applause following.

Gale Sees Paper Industry

Mr. Gale spoke but a few moments, saying he had come to have a part in honoring Dr. King and Premier Oliver. He considered it a great opportunity to come and visit the upper country, and was pleased at the optimistic tone of the speeches. He had always believed British Columbia was to become one of the greatest provinces of the Dominion.

He said he had been trying to get capital for a pulp and paper industry for this district, and had already had four groups in the east replying favorably to his representations. The only question appeared to be the marketing of the product.

Mr. Gale said he was to meet a committee of citizens during the afternoon, and if a way could be found on that matter one of these groups, one of which had $30,000,000 capital, might be interested, and that prosperity brought about that all desired.

The national anthem concluded the function.

KASLO LIBERAL CAR TIPS OVER

Frank Abey's Party Has Mishap at Balfour on Way to Gathering

A car driven by Frank T. Abey, Kaslo, skidded on a turn and went over the side of the road near Balfour, early yesterday afternoon. No one was hurt.

Mr. Abey was coming into Nelson to attend the Liberal gathering here yesterday. When the car skidded it landed on its side at the side of the road. The occupants of the car could not get out until two men working nearby propped the car up. It was stopped from rolling down a steep bank by thick brush at the side of the road.

Those in the car came into Nelson in a car which came along shortly afterward.

One wheel of the Abey car was broken.

'WILLIE' STEVENS IN TIGHT POSITION

Prosecutor Says Was in Neighborhood Night of Hall-Mills Murder

SOMERVILLE, N.J., Nov. 3. — Mrs. Frances Noel Hall sat in the county court house today and heard Special Prosecutor Simpson tell 12 "good men and true" that "this strong proud woman" became involved in the murder four years ago of her husband, Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills.

Prosecutor Simpson sprang the first surprise as the trial of Mrs. Hall and her relatives opened by producing John L. Dixon, who swore that on the night of the double murder "Willie Stevens," brother of Mrs. Hall, was at North Plainfield, N.J., nine miles from the scene of the tragedy. In statements made during previous investigations, "Willie" Stevens said that he spent the evening at Mrs. Hall's home, where he lived.

Dixon deposed that Stevens appeared excited and that he explained that he had just been set from his sister's automobile and asked directions.

Soft, Cold, Clammy

Stevens thought, Dixon said, that he was near the Parker house, which is about 500 yards from the scene of the murders.

Dixon's testimony was corroborated by his wife, who remembered shaking hands with "Willie," finding his hand soft and cold and clammy.

Charlotte Mills, daughter of the murdered choirist, stated that she was taken to the home of Ellis Parker, detective, where Parker tried to get her to say her father, James Mills, had been out on the night of the murder. When defence counsel objected, Prosecutor Simpson shouted that he would prove that Henry Stevens, a brother of Mrs. Hall, and one of the accused, had worked with Parker in an attempt to fasten the crime on Mills. Charlotte, dressed in short skirts, buried her bobbed head in her hands and sobbed during her testimony. She is under contract to write newspaper articles on the trial.

Edward Carrigan, New Brunswick policeman, who was one of the first persons to see the bodies as they lay in an embrace of death under a crab apple tree, testified that a visiting card of Dr. Hall's, which was offered in evidence, seen by him dropped against the slain rector's left foot. Senator Simpson said he would offer proof by two experts to show the card bore the finger prints of "Willie" Stevens' left index finger.

With every hole and corner in Somerville occupied by the posts of the press or by visitors who have no other business than curiosity, hotel rooms were reported to be selling for $6 a night. A mob surrounded the courthouse today from before breakfast till court adjourned. Numbers of those who were fortunate enough to obtain seats in the courtroom preferred to forego lunch rather than certainly lose their places.

BOWLING TEAMS ARE TEN NOW

Registration, Again Extended, Definitely Closes Tomorrow

Registration in the Nelson city bowling league, several times extended, will definitely close tomorrow, and any teams desiring to enter the league are advised to have their entries in at the Semaphore alleys before 6 p.m.

Immediately following the close of the registration the executive of the league will meet and draw up the schedule for the season. The first game has been set for next Monday night, the two teams taking part to be named tomorrow.

Teams already entered number 10, and are: Great War Veterans' association, West Kootenay Power & Light company, Gyros, Elks, Merchants, Druggists, Semaphores, Provincial Government, C. P. R. and Travelers.

DEMOCRATS GET SEVEN OF THE G.O.P. MAJORITY

48 seats in the senate, after they have filled the vacancy in Maine caused by the death of Senator Bert Field.

Included among the Republican 48 are three insurgents who won handily—Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota and John J. Blaine of Wisconsin—as well as Senators La Follette of Wisconsin, Frazier of North Dakota and Norris and Howell of Nebraska.

With only eight districts missing late tonight, the Democrats had succeeded in electing 193 members of the house, the Republicans 232 members, the Farmer-Labor one and the Socialists one.

Of the eight districts missing, four are now held by Republicans, three by the Democrats and one by the Farmer-Laborites.

The Democrats made a gross gain of 16, all from the Republicans, but lost two to the major party, leaving a net gain of 14.

In addition to the two seats they took from the Democrats, the Republicans nominally gained one from the Socialists, but in that case Representative La Guardia of New York, now sitting as a Socialist, elected to run this time as a Republican.

CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTION UP AT CONFERENCE NOW

Still Working Hard on Hertzog's Claim for International Recognition

ATMOSPHERE OF MEETING CONTINUES MOST CORDIAL

Hertzog at Luncheon Praises Good Feeling Prevailing in London

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Behind the scenes at the Imperial conference a constitutional question is now the dominating issue. The premiers' committee on international relations met again today but the official communique of its proceedings does not give the slightest indication as to what they were. It is understood that the committee is still hard at work endeavoring to find a solution of the difficulties which have arisen as the outcome of Premier Hertzog's claim for international recognition of South Africa.

Consideration apparently has led to complexities with regard to treaty-making powers, etc., which evidently had not been suspected. Furthermore, it is doubted, even by those dominion representatives who have always pressed for dominion automy, whether any good could be gained by attempts to define equality status.

While the difficulties before the premiers' committee are complex, there is no indication of any ill feeling among the delegates. The atmosphere indeed is said to be of the most cordial nature.

Premier Hertzog himself, speaking at lunch today, indicated the good feeling prevailing at the conference. He emphasized the value of personal contact in removing misunderstandings, quarrels and bickerings, and said that was why he appreciated the Imperial conference where the delegates had contact with each other. Referring to past differences between South Africa and India, he declared, "We need have no fear of those difficulties not eventually being settled."

This was Premier Hertzog's first public speech since the conference opened.

The economic commitee today considered the question of the liability of state enterprises to taxation. A problem before the committee is whether it is possible to reach a joint agreement as to the area of the suggested taxation. With regard to the liability of state enterprises to taxation, the committee is considering if it is possible to give some definite ruling.

CHICAGO LASSES IN CHARGE SHOW

Miss Mann Supervises Rehearsals; Miss Pettyjohn Back-Stage

"Step Lively," the 1926 Gyro revue playing for the last time at the opera house tonight, was brought through the rehearsal stage by Miss Dorothy Mann of Chicago.

Miss Frances Pettyjohn, also of Chicago, was to have had charge of the training of the cast, but she did not arrive in Nelson until Monday night. She was, however, of great assistance in putting the finishing touches to the production, and in supervising the back-stage work during the playing of the show. She looked after the assembling of the scenes and had charge of the lighting effects.

The Gyros in charge of the production were: General chairman G. A. C. Walley; talent committee—J. A. C. Laughton, chairman Jack Morris, Tom Crannage, Eugene Poulin, Paul Pitner; finance—R. D. Barnes; publicity—W. A. Curran; program—A. D. McLeod; properties—Harry Ferguson; music—R. W. Blanchard; electrician—Gordon Bennett.

Maximum Warmth Only Thirty-six; Fog Intercepts

A fog overhanging Nelson yesterday shut off the sun's rays, causing the maximum to be considerably lower than it has been in the last two weeks. Maximum was 36 the first time it has been below 40 since the recent bright spell began. The minimum was 27, the same as on Monday. "Continued fair and mostly clear" is the forecast for today.

STOCK MANIPULATORS CAUSE PREFERRED STOCK PRICES TO FLUCTUATE

The yield on preferred stocks, unlike good bonds, is not always a true guide to safety and time to purchase.

Speculative buying has more influence on preferred stocks than on bonds. Especially is this true when the common stock underlying the preferred, comes into prominence and the preferred carries a privilege of conversion into common. Preferred prices fluctuate—up and down—influenced by market and other conditions.

Practically the only consideration that should influence the purchase of a high grade preferred stock is seasoning and reliability over a long period of good and bad years and the ability of the corporation to earn and pay its preferred dividends.

If the yield is attractive say around 6 per cent, and the corporation has no funded debt or at least only a moderate one, with the preferred issue followed by adequate common stock issues upon which dividends have been paid regularly the preferred is high grade and there can be no question about the price and time to buy for investment.

CANADA'S TRADE WITH UNITED STATES GAINS

OTTAWA, Nov. 3. — Canada's trade with the United States increased in value by $120,324,615 during the 12 months ended September 30 last, as compared with the preceding 12-months' period. Trade with Great Britain shows an increase of $54,267,696 for the period ended September 30 last, as compared with the 12 months ended September 30, 1925.

Empress of Asia Will Sail Day Late This Time

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3. — Announcement was made this evening at the local offices of the Canadian Pacific railway that the Empress of Asia would sail for the orient on Friday, November 12, at noon instead of Thursday, November 11.

This has become necessary, the announcement states, in order to connect with the passengers from the Metagama, which ship will not reach Quebec until late on Saturday evening, November 6.

MARKET DRIFTS TO LOWER LEVEL

Little Change Noted Through Election; Motors Regain Position

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. — The stock market today failed to register any positive response to the results of the national election. Prices drifted downward in extremely dull trading until just before the close when operators for the rise staged a brisk rally which wiped out many of the earlier losses and sent a number of issues 1 to 5 points above Monday's final quotations.

Judging by the action of the market the loss of several seats by the Republicans in both branches of congress had been anticipated, and except for the defeat of Senator Wadsworth, caused no surprise.

Further improvement in the credit situation was reflected by another lowering of time money rates, placing 60 to 90-day loans on a flat 4¾ per cent basis, and the longer maturities at 4⅞.

Call money held steady at 4½ per cent as banks called about $12,000,000 in loans. Money was in plentiful supply following the drop of over $50,000,000 in brokers' loans last week.

Motors Up Again

General Motors regained its position as the market leader, rallying from a low of 148 to 153 and closing just below the top for a net gain of over 4 points on the day. The buying apparently was in anticipation of the statement of the corporation which is understood to be optimistic. U. S. Steel common sold down to 137¾ and then rallied to 141¼, up 1¼ net with late buying influenced by a report that October unfilled orders to be made public next week might possibly show an increase instead of the anticipated decrease.

Oil shares again received fairly good support. Rails fluctuated within rather narrow and irregular limits.

Total sales—1,025,100 shares.

WHEAT VALUES IN LOWER AVERAGE

CHICAGO, Nov. 3. — Rapid piling up of stocks of wheat in Canada, with vessel rates to Europe the steepest since 1920, made wheat values average lower today. Word that 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been purchased for Europe helped to bring about a late rally. Closing quotations were unsettled, ⅛c off; corn, ⅛c to ⅝c down; oats varying from ¼c decline to a rise of 1c; and provisions unchanged to a rise of 35c.

ROUND PARTIES FOR BETROTHED ROYAL COUPLE

Stockholm Blanketed in Snow but Enthusiasm Continues

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 3.—Princess Astrid of Sweden and Crown Prince Leopold of Belgium today whirled from one official function to another, the central figures in the gay program carried out in honor of their wedding tomorrow.

The princess spent one of the busiest days of her life, but tonight showed few signs of weariness. At all the official receptions, dinners and ceremonies the young princess appeared radiantly happy, as did Prince Leopold, who, however, seemed embarrassed at times and showed more or less boredom as one function followed upon another.

King Albert's words at last night's state dinner, "This marriage is the culmination of our dearest wish," have been met with deep pleasure throughout the country.

Stockholm is charmed by the devotion displayed by the young couple who in their naivete make no efforts to conceal their affection. They are always seen arm-in-arm and always the waiting crowds burst into cheers at the sight of the royal lovers.

Stockholm put on its winter garb today, for a real blizzard swept across the city and covered everything with a blanket of snow, which could not dampen the enthusiasm attached to the festivities.

The young couple have received many presents of great value, but in accordance with custom, Leopold will give no present to his bride except a plain gold ring, until he arrives in his own capital.

Consumption of Copper Increases Over United States

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. — Industries which in 1925 consumed 50.56 per cent of the total copper consumed in the United States in 1925 report in the third quarter of 1926 a consumption of 119,200 short tons of copper compared with 109,500 in the second quarter and 107,000 in first quarter, according to the American bureau of metal statistics. The third quarter's consumption in 1925 by these same industries came to 103,050 tons.

Gross Earnings of C. N. R. Show Increase

MONTREAL, Nov. 3. — The gross earnings of the Canadian National railways for the period ending October 31 were $9,296,935 as compared with $9,118,336 for the same period of 1925, an increase of $178,599.

LUMBER WORK IS ON AN INCREASE

Figures From Forest Branch for October Show Difference Over Year Ago

VICTORIA, Nov. 3.—Figures compiled by officials of the forest branch of the lands department and made public by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, today reflected a sharp increase in the operations of the lumber industry of this province during the month of October as compared with a similar period a year ago.

All together last month the government collected a revenue of $169,000 on the actual operations of the lumber industry as compared with $152,000 in October, 1925. These revenues are regarded as a fairly accurate thermometer of the industry in all its branches.

The total revenues of the forest branch for the month amounted to $328,759 as against $341,568 in October, 1925, but this drop is accounted for by a decrease in licences issued, not by any decrease in actual operations.

GRAIN LOADINGS HEAVIEST SO FAR

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3.—According to latest reports covering territory along Canadian Pacific lines, the figures indicate that in Manitoba 31 per cent of all grains have been threshed; in Saskatchewan the highest percentage of 90 per cent of all grains have been threshed. Figures from Alberta, which has enjoyed the finest weather for the past two weeks, for threshing 89 per cent of the work has been completed. Yesterday was a record day for loadings, with a total of 1862 cars in the three provinces. Marketings reached 2,853,464 bushels and out of the total of 2132 cars inspected, 1054 were on Canadian Pacific lines. The grain is flowing steadily east and west, yesterday seeing 8500 cars in transit to the head of the lakes, and 1476 moving west from Calgary. Deliveries of 953 cars were made at Fort William with 1014 cars unloaded with 3,540,000 bushels moving out by boat. This morning's figures of storage there are 36,197,000 bushels.

Vancouver storage is close to capacity with 5,064,912 bushels, with 297,650 bushels shipped by boat and unloadings at that port reaching 144 cars yesterday.

Queen Dedicates Mary Hill Museum of Arts

MARY HILL, Wash., Nov. 3.—Queen Marie dedicated Mary Hill Museum of fine arts today in a dramatic address in which she explained as a mission of love and understanding her long journey from Rumania, which reached its climax in the bare cement halls of the museum. Referring to criticism of her visit, Marie declared she would give no other explanation of it.

MESSAGE WIND TOSSED FORTY YEARS ON SEA

Message of 1887 From John Lee of Nova Scotia Found in Baltic

HALIFAX, Nov. 3.—Nearly 40 years ago John Lee, master mariner of Halifax, bid farewell to his widowed mother with whom he lived here, and sailed away for foreign ports, a member of that great army of bluenose skippers who peopled the seas of the world in those days. He never returned and his fate and that of his ship was never learned. Today, from the island of Borkum in the Baltic sea, came a message written by blue pencil on a faded sheet of paper, bearing John Lee's last message to his mother, which if authentic, had floated around the world nearly 40 years tightly sealed in a bottle; the bottle was picked up September 6 by a young German cable engineer and the message forwarded to the Premier of Nova Scotia. It read: "To whom it may concern: Tell mother I died fighting. John Lee, master mariner, Halifax." It was dated "May 17, '87."

The paper had evidently been white but was a faded grey and the writing was very faint, but quite legible.

An old resident of the waterfront said tonight that he well remembered John Lee, but could not remember the name of his ship.

THORNTON SHOWS GROWTH OF LINES

In Four Years Canadian National Earning's Increase Fifteen Times, He Announces

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 3.—A net operating income of $45,000,000 for the Canadian National railways this year was predicted by Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the company, during an address to the board of trade here tonight. This sum, Sir Henry pointed out, will be sufficient to pay all the interest charges on securities held by the public and to leave something over for application against loans made by the government.

"One way to measure the value of an investment is by its earning capacity," Sir Henry said. "Applying that standard to the Canadian National railways, we find that in 1922 the net earnings were $3,000,000, while this year we hope to have net earnings of $45,000,000. If you capitalize the sums at 5 per cent you will find that the Canadian National railways this year have an investment value of $900,000,000, as compared with $60,000,000. That is to say, the value of the national system, from the point of view of earning power, has increased 15 times in four years."

'STEP LIVELY' PACKS HOUSE SECOND NIGHT

Riot of Color in Costumes; House Convulsed by Laughter

BALLET OF FLOWERS BRINGS DOWN HOUSE

Miss Mann Gets Bouquet; Nipper Benson a Hit With 'Ogopogo'

Nelson was gone over with a fine tooth comb and the result of the combing was the gathering together of Nelson's fairest for the 1926 Gyro revue, "Step Lively," which played its second night at the opera house last night.

The costumes in the dances formed a riot of color, and the skits sent a packed house into convulsions of laughter.

There was tense drama in the final scene, "A Woman Intervenes," and a riot of mirth in the "Ballet of the Flowers," in which eight Gyros portrayed looseness, meaning loose-jointedness.

Miss Mann Gets Bouquet

One of the surprises of the evening was contained in the "Aesthetic Dance," when Miss Jean Hunter, a solo dancer in the Cameo group, ran out of the Cameo picture frame to present Miss Dorothy Mann, the directress of the show, with a huge bouquet, acting on behalf of the Cameo group girls.

Nipper Benson, who sang the solo "I'm Looking for the Ogopogo," in the "Minstrel Days," ensemble, was the sensation of the revue. She responded to an encore, and turning to the chorus with a big baton in her hand, extorted them to sing, "altogether now." Frantically waving her baton she launched into the opening bars of her song. But there was no response. She threw off her cap and sang louder, but still there was no response. In desperation she tore off her sweater, but again the chorus did not respond, so she finished the song herself.

THROWS STONES AT TRAIN WHILE GETTING AWAY

Man Released on Suspended Sentence Here Has New Offence

Herbert Wood was charged before Stipendiary Magistrate John Cartmel yesterday afternoon with throwing stones at a moving Canadian Pacific railway train, an offence against the criminal code. The case was remanded to November 11.

The alleged offence was committed at Brilliant, Monday afternoon. Wood was arrested Monday night at Castlegar, by C.P.R. Constable E. J. House and brought into Nelson that night.

He was charged in police court, Monday morning with trespassing in the C.P.R. yards here. Magistrate William Brown dismissed him on suspended sentence, and ordered him to leave the city at once. Harry Milton was charged with him. Both are transients from the east.

PIONEER DIES AFTER SICKNESS WEEK'S DURATION

Stephen Enfield Lived Here for 26 Years; 40 in West

Heart failure took away another Kootenay pioneer when Stephen A. Enfield, for 26 years a citizen of Nelson, died at his home yesterday morning. He had been ill for about a week.

Mr. Enfield was 62 years of age. He spent 40 years of his life in the western United States and Canada. For the last 27 years he had lived in British Columbia.

He was a merchant. Mr. Enfield leaves only his wife.

The funeral will be held Saturday from the Church of Mary Immaculate.

WEST KOOTENAY LIBERALS MEET FOR A CONFAB

Are Addressed by Dr. King, Oliver, Gale; Talk Organization

Liberal organization in West Kootenay was the theme of a delegate convention of Liberals from the provincial ridings of Creston, Trail-Rossland, Kaslo-Slocan, and Nelson, which met and was addressed by Hon. J. H. King, M.D., federal minister of health, Premier Oliver, and R. H. Gale of Vancouver, late Liberal candidate in this constituency.

The Revelstoke provincial riding was the only one unable to send a delegation. Its attendance would have meant absence from Revelstoke for from four to six days.

Kenneth Campbell, South Slocan, president of the West Kootenay Liberal association, presided over the gathering of about 100 Liberals, which had two long sessions, the first in the afternoon, and the second adjourning late last night. The night session was followed by an executive meeting.

While having the victory in the Dominion to enthuse over, the convention found no cause for rejoicing over the British Columbia or the local showing, and devoted its time largely to discussion of thorough organization work, which it was agreed was the remedy to apply.

Dr. King Off for East Kootenay

At the conclusion of the sessions, Dr. King went on board the Nasookin, bound for East Kootenay and his home at Cranbrook. Mrs. King, who has been slightly ill, is still in Vancouver, but is expected to come through in a few days.

Premier Oliver has another day to spend in Nelson, and will leave again for the coast tonight.
