LIBERALS FACE NON-CONFIDENCE VOTE

OL. PECK ASKS VOTE; HINGES ON CAMPAIGN FUNDS

eglect of Government to Institute Inquiry Is Reason for Peck's Move

ONOR OF MEMBERS AT STAKE, HE DECLARES

rovincial Member Asks for Searching Inquiry; Speaker Reserves Decision on Order

VICTORIA, Jan. 21. — (Special to The Daily News.) — Campaign funds would not die down in the legislature, Friday, and when the house adjourned for the week-end it had before it a want of confidence motion on the neglect of the government to institute an inquiry into party contributions, and the Labor members' resolution for a royal commission. These matters will come up for debate, Monday.

Col. C. Y. Peck, Conservative, moved that want of confidence motion in the way of an amendment to the reply to the address from the throne. He deplored the situation, and declared that the honor of the members was at stake. He acted, he said, with the full concurrence of the Conservative caucus.

In introducing the matter, Colonel ck said there were campaign funds, d everyone knew that there were ch. Money was given, very often, ite generously by people who were pporters of a party.

"When they expect to get something ck, it becomes corruption, no matr what the sum might be that was ven," he declared.

Conservatives Clear

Colonel Peck said that he knew of no dertaking by the Conservatives to pport the liquor interests. He said could not blame any party because me busybody in that party tried to t some campaign funds from the uor interests. The public wanted to ow whether the Conservative party as entangled with them in any way. declared that the party was not enngled with them. The party was arless is the matter, and wanted it ade clear.

Hon. W. H. Sutherland followed, and hen he started to debate the motion, point of order was raised by Colonel eck, who demanded that he speak to e amendment. The speaker reserved s decision, and permitted the minister public works to continue.

Favors Inquiry

Later, David Stoddart, provincial ember for Cariboo, rose to speak, and F. Davie, Conservative, protested hat he must address himself to the mendment, and quoted authorities in upport of his contention. Again the peaker reserved his decision, and perlitted the debate to continue on the ain motion.

Mr. Stoddart, however, promptly aded for the campaign issue, putting mself on record as favoring the most omplete kind of a public investigaon.

Later in the sitting, in committee age on the attorney-general's bill to ve authority to hold investigations der oath in the government service, mpaign funds again came to the fore. on. Mr. Manson stated that he wished e power given in order to proceed ith such investigation as that which s department was making into the algation of improper payment to offiials by beer interests. Mr. Browne obcted to the haste which, he charged, as being evidenced in the matter, dearing that he saw in it an effort to ade a public investigation of the ibery and corruption allegations by public tribunal.

WAY TO SAFETY FOR CHILDREN BARRED BY MAN

Theater Manager Refused to Let Children Escape to Street From Stairway

SMOKING WENT ON AT ALL TIMES IN MONTREAL SHOW

Young Boy Was Pushed Back at Foot Stairs; Saved Little Girl

MONTREAL, Jan. 21.—Claiming that smoking went on at all times in the Laurier Palace theater, in which 78 persons lost their lives during a panic following the outbreak of fire on January 9, Francois Michaud, 26 years of age, of Joliette street, testified this afternoon before Fire Commissioner Quinn.

Michaud, who was located by Sergeant Detective Albert Beauchamp of the fire commissioner's court, said he had been employed at the theater as fireman, watchman, stage manager, usher, and in other capacities for the last three years. He had worked in the theater on the day before the fire. He said that he had smoked in the place, and that all employees and very often other persons smoked in the balcony during the performance.

Questioned as to whether it was to his knowledge that there had been an announcement that the first 50 children to present themselves on some Sundays at the theater would be allowed to enter free of charge, Michaud said that he knew this had often been the case.

The witness had not been located earlier, it was stated, by court officials because no one had known his address, the theater employees not knowing it.

Preliminary Trial

Stories of the fire were told in halting child language by small boys who escaped being trampled to death, when the preliminary trial of Ameen Lawand, proprietor, and Michael Arie and Camil Bazzy, employees, sent before the courts by the coroner's jury, was started before Chief Judge Decarie today.

One youngster told of being stopped at the foot of the narrow stairs by a theater attendant, and of slipping under his outstretched arms to safety. Another, Romeo Colin, 13, was publicly complimented by Chief Judge Decarie, who expressed admiration when the lad modestly told of having rushed back to the smoke-filled balcony to save a young girl.

Colin also told of having been stopped at the foot of the stairs, and identified the attendant as Michael Arie, manager of the Laurier Palace.

"I had almost got downstairs," said the witness, "when this man held out

SCREENINGS AND SHINGLES HIDE LIQUOR CARGOES

So Commission Hears at Vancouver; Seizures Made in Both Cases

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21.—Camouflaged liquor hidden in carloads of shingles finds its way across the line into the United States from Vancouver. This morning R. E. Herrick, an officer of the Internal revenue department of the United States, described to the royal commission on customs a liquor seizure made by him on December 13, 1926, at Black River Junction, Wash.

The commission was sitting in Vancouver when this shipment was made. The car in which the liquor was hidden contained shingles consigned, according to the bill of lading, by the Westminster Mills company of Vancouver to the Eclipse Lumber company, Monticello.

Leonard Regan, prohibition officer of the United States, told of having seized a freight car at Auburn, Wash., on December 18, last, supposed to contain screenings. He delved into the screenings and found bottles and cases of Canadian liquors and wines. The liquor on the car totalled more than 200 cases. It was consigned to Ray Munsey, whose real name was Fred Brown.

"Is he a well-known liquor operator?" asked Mr. Rowell.

"He is at Portland," was the reply.

DEVELOPMENT BODY ORGANIZED CALGARY

CALGARY, Jan. 21.—Calgary business men tonight organized the Alberta Development association, southern branch, and appointed committees to begin an active publicity campaign to attract settlers, tourists and generally promote commercial expansion of the city. It is proposed to raise a public fund of $15,000 a year and to carry the campaign on for three years. Premier Brownlee has given assurances of assistance. The northern part of Alberta will probably be similarly organized.

Ashcroft Business House Burns to the Ground, Zero Weather

ASHCROFT, B.C., Jan. 21.—With fire-fighting operations rendered almost impossible by a 40 below zero temperature, the Cariboo Trading company building, known as 150-Mile House, and housing a store, post office, and residence, was burned to the ground last night, it was learned here. The structure was one of the oldest landmarks of Cariboo gold rush days. No estimate of the damage was received.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Following a conference today between government counsel and counsel for Charles Chaplin, it was announced that the government's claims for income tax are on the point of being settled. Yesterday the bureau of internal revenue filed liens against Chaplin for $1,550,000.

At Ten Below Robbers Lock Spokane Merchant in His Refrigerator

SPOKANE, Jan. 21.—It was a cold day for James Raftery today, in more ways than one. With the thermometer hovering around 10 below zero, two men forced Raftery to open the safe in his neighborhood grocery store, and after taking some $500 in currency and checks, locked him in the refrigerator.

Fortunately for Raftery, a rear door of the box was unlocked and he escaped and notified the police, but the robbers had fled.

MISS M'PHAIL WARS UPON WARS

Says 'Hands Off the Youth' to the Military Machine; Speaks Edmonton

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 21.—"We went to Germany to kill Prussianism and I fear we caught it instead of killing it," said Miss Agness MacPhail, M.P., for Grey South East, addressing the United Farm Women of Alberta at the closing session of the convention. Canada, she said, is one of the most backward countries in the world to actively promote peace. Miss MacPhail appealed to the women to think as they had never thought before, how they could change the mental attitude and create a peace psychology to replace that of war.

"I say to the military machine 'Hands off youth.' The greatest harm we do youth is lead it to think the best way to settle international disputes is by war.

"We are like powder, awaiting the touch of a match to bring about a conflagration. We are ready to fly into dispute and to fight. Yet the cause of all wars is an economic cause, and since men would not go to spill blood for dollars and cents, the cause must be dressed up," Miss MacPhail said.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 21.—Distribution of Washington's $415,000 apportionment of the $7,500,000 federal appropriation for highways tributary to national forests will include $90,000 to grade a new road over the present 8½-mile trail between Metaline Falls and the Canadian border, the state highway commission decided today. This work will complete a through highway from Spokane, Wash., to Nelson, B.C., George F. McCoy, deputy state highway engineer, said.

MINISTER SAYS ROAD BUILDING COST NOT HIGH

Hon. Mr. Sutherland Defends Government Policy; Investigate Charges

VICTORIA, Jan. 21.—(Special to The Daily News).—Defence was made by Hon. W. H. Sutherland to allegations of opposition members that the cost of government road construction was excessive and that proper consideration was not given the public interests in the letting of contracts.

He denied that the spread complained of in the Yoho park contract was undue, saying that the contractor had extremely high expenditures, which he enumerated. It was grossly unfair, he asserted, to charge that contractors sat in their clubs and did nothing but collect profits. He instanced a number of cases where contractors had lost heavily in the undertakings.

Investigate Salmo

Where contractors bid below the department's estimate for the work by day labor, they obtained the job, otherwise it was done by the government. There had been complaints of the cost-plus system, but where this form of contracting had been done the government had obtained the best results for the country. He instanced work done of such basis by the former government. In respect to the complaint made by the member for Creston against a road foreman in his district, the minister said an investigation was being made.

He submitted to the house the recommendations of the district engineers for necessary roads throughout the province. These, it had been suggested by the engineers, should be constructed within three years. This was impossible for the total involved was $18,000,000.

In Full Control

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Resignation from the organizing committee of leaders of the Asquithian wing of the Liberal party today left former Premier David Lloyd George in complete control of the whole party organization. His followers expect him to take steps to infuse new life into the party, which of late years has lost much of its former power.

Viscount Grey, Vivian Phillips, Sir William Plander, Sir Robert Hudson and Lady Violet Bonham Carter, all strong supporters of the Earl of Oxford and Asquith, resigned from the committee, it was announced, a vote requesting such action on Wednesday.

FROZEN HYDRANTS GIVE OUTBREAK GOOD START; SIX STRUCTURES ARE ASHES, THREE OTHERS GUTTED

Flames Break Out in Morris' Store at 6:30; Trail Fire-Fighting Equipment Called to Assist; Allen Hotel Threatened at One Stage; Damage $111,000

McCLEMENT FAMILY, RESIDING IN ONE BLOCK, RESCUED WITH GREAT DIFFICULTY

Three Buildings, Two Houses at Rear, All That Remains of Solid Block of Business Houses; Flames of Worst Fire in 25 Years Are Seen From Trail; Zero Weather

ROSSLAND, Jan. 21.—Fire sweeping through a whole block of the business section here this evening totally destroyed six large frame buildings and ruined the furnishings of three others on Columbia avenue, doing property damage unofficially estimated at $111,000.

The buildings destroyed were:

The Frank Morris store, and a two-story structure, owned by W. F. McNeill, merchant, of this city.

The American hotel, owned by Mrs. Mary Catherine Ledoux, a three-story building, recently purchased from Mrs. Hugh Henderson of Vancouver.

Two business offices of William K. Esling, M.P., both one-story buildings, and used by Mr. Esling and R. E. Plewman, police magistrate, as offices.

The dry goods store of T. H. Brown, a one-story building.

The two-story structure adjoining the Knights of Columbus hall, recently purchased by M. A. Henderson, coal dealer, from Mrs. Hugh Henderson of Vancouver.

BADLY DAMAGED

The buildings suffering considerable interior damage from fire and water were the Bell Plumbing company store, an unoccupied store, and the electric bakery building rented by A. M. Kelderman of Trail, and owned by Mrs. Laura Donovan of Rossland.

Hasty removal of furniture and equipment also caused damage as it was rushed out from the Guelph block and the Traders' block, owned by Mrs. George Novak.

It is known that T. H. Brown will lose considerably heavily, he having no insurance on his building or stock. It is believed also that several other property owners will lose heavily.

It is understood that some insurance was carried by Mr. Stephens on his block, and by M. A. Henderson and W. K. Esling and W. F. McNeill, who carried some insurance. The amounts are not determinable tonight.

WORST IN 25 YEARS

The fire, which was the worst for 25 years in Rossland, started in the Morris store basement, at the rear of the line of buildings which face Columbia avenue between Washington street and Queen street. Because of this fact and that there the ground slopes downward in the rear sharply, burning collapsing buildings fell away from the street and thus probably lessened the spread of fire.

Though the origin is not known, it is believed the fire had been smoldering for some time. T. H. Brown first observed flames coming from the basement of his store and notified R. E. Plewman, who turned in the alarm. Instant response by the fire department found water hydrants frozen with zero temperatures, and some time was lost in getting water on. The fire spread to adjacent buildings.

Seen at Trail

Within 15 minutes the whole city was illuminated by the blaze of shooting flames, the reflection of which could be seen in Trail, seven miles away. It attracted hundreds of citizens, and many sightseers from Trail. At 6:30 calls were sent to Trail for help, and the Trail fire department rushed to the scene with its motor apparatus.

But it was fully two hours before the two fire departments, assisted by scores of citizens, could bring the conflagration under control. Civic officials, officials of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, of the West Kootenay Power & Light company and their linemen, Rossland boy scouts and others all gave splendid assistance. At a late hour tonight the Rossland fire department is still playing streams on the smoldering ruins that have crumpled below the sidewalk to their foundations in the hollow.

Poles Fall on Street

Additional difficulties were encountered when it was found that telephone communication was cut off from outside and in certain sections of the city, while electric lights on the north side of the fire-swept street

WORLD POULTRY CONGRESS TRAIN MAY COME HERE

Board of Trade Will Make Effort to Bring It Through South Route

BOARD TO ASSIST POLICE CONGRESS

Annual Meeting and Banquet to Be February 3; Cotterell to Attend

Suggesting that an effort should be made to have the special train which will carry delegates of 25 countries across Canada at the conclusion of the world's poultry congress in Ottawa in July come through the Kootenays, G. L. Landon received the assurance of the board of trade at its meeting last night that every effort would be made to have the train routed through Nelson.

Mr. Landon stated the congress will be quite the biggest thing in live stock exhibitions that the world has ever seen. It was expected there would be 5000 delegates from the United States in addition to the representatives of 25 other countries.

He thought that as the train would have to cross the province twice, it should come through this district at least once, particularly as there was greater activity in mining, agriculture and poultry lines in the Kootenays than over the main line.

Inspector W. R. Dunwoody of the provincial police was assured that the board would do all in its power to assist at the convention of the Northwest Association of Sheriffs and Police, which will probably be held here in June.

Annual Meeting in Fortnight

The date of the board's annual meeting and banquet was set for February 3. C. A. Cotterell, superintendent of the western division of the Canadian Pacific railway, has been invited to attend, and he has accepted the invitation. Mr. Cotterell has also offered to bring a number of old Nelsonites now resident in Vancouver to the meeting, and the board last night formally accepted his offer.

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"

Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips" Any drug store.

Mrs. Pitts Demonstrates How to Make Flowers; Hear Report

Appointment of some committees, a report of the district conference here last fall by Mrs. Arthur Terrill, and a demonstration of making small bunches of artificial flowers with wool yarn by Mrs. H. H. Pitts, president, featured a meeting of the Nelson and District Women's institute yesterday afternoon, in the Canadian Legion building.

Mrs. William Rutherford suggested that as the institutes at Kootenay lake points were having difficulty in financing their public health nurse project, the Nelson institute should assist. The meeting decided to give a public entertainment in February, the proceeds to be devoted to this cause.

Committees Named

Committees were appointed to act for three months as follows:

WILSON LOSES BILLIARD LEAD

Defeat by Lou Kerr Puts Him Back to Tie With Wheeler for First

T. R. Wilson, who has been heading the lists in the English Billiard tournament, was defeated yesterday afternoon by D. L. Kerr, 200 to 190, in one of the most interesting games of the tournament. This is the first defeat suffered by Mr. Wilson since the beginning of play in the tournament, and results in his dropping into a tie for first place with F. E. Wheeler, whom he defeated Wednesday night.

Play started at 4:10, with Mr. Wilson having a 25 point handicap to overcome. The game lasted until 5:20, when Mr. Kerr ran out his string of 200 points with Mr. Wilson having 10 points yet to make on his string. The game was even all the way, with both players playing closely and waiting for breaks.

THE GUMPS—THE NEW NURSE

'JUDY'S MAN'

Washington's Social Whirl and Official Life Are the Background of This Fascinating Love Story

By HELEN BERGER

Copyright, 1926, by the Penn Publishing Co.

While she dressed, the weary round of dazed thought persisted. How could she escape from this dreadful situation? Surely there must be something somewhere in some of Jack's papers to prove she was not the girl. His engagement to the other girl must have been known to someone beside himself and the girl!

By the time she and Honey stood at the door of the Darien house Judy was in a sick panic.

"I'll just tell them the truth right out! Then they can turn us out for imposters, if they want to! The sooner I get it over the better!" Over and over in her brain those thoughts drummed.

For an instant after the door opened on the quiet beauty and luxury of the house she was carried out of herself. Her being seemed to expand in the loveliness. "Why, this is like coming home!" she thought. If this place had really been her home! If only Jack Darien really had loved her! If only she had not been a little impostor!

The maid who took their wraps said softly to Judy, "Mrs. Darien is in her upstairs living room. She would like you to come up there, please."

Very, very slowly, every step a martyrdom, Judy moved up the stairs with Honey behind her. At the head of the stairs another maid waited beside an open door.

"In here!" she said with a friendly smile.

Judy moved forward, trembling, shaken. She had forgotten Honey. Now, alone in her desperate hour, she relied on something within herself to carry her through. "I will begin before they have time to speak to me!" she thought.

She opened her lips. "I was not ——"

Two arms enfolded her and she found herself looking up into what seemed to her the gentlest and sweetest and saddest face in the world!

"And this is the girl my Jack loved!" The voice was as sweet as the face, but suddenly it broke, and as it fell into a sobbing end, the sweet face melted into tears. All its loveliness was marred and broken.

Tears came to Judy, too. All this and more she deserved, but it was dreadful to think how she must wound this women! Oh she couldn't do it! She simply couldn't!

Very still she stood in the circle of the clinging arms. And there came up to her from the other side a tall, white-haired man. And he patted her gently on the shoulder, smiled down at her. And she saw tears in his eyes, too!

"So this is Jack's girl?" he said to her, gently.

Judy opened her mouth. "I—I——" she began, and then she stopped. She couldn't do it! That was all there was to it! Whatever came she couldn't do it! After all, what did it matter to her? And if it gave these two old people any pleasure she would endure whatever punishment followed her deception.

One truth she could speak! "I loved Jack!" she said simply.

From the night of her visit to the Darien house there began for Judy the sweetest and yet the bitterest experience of her life. Kindness and care and luxury surrounded her. Each day one of the Darien cars called for Honey and herself to take them riding.

Perhaps it would be a bit of lace that Mr. Darien had seen.

"It looked like you, Judy. I thought perhaps you could use it on some of your frocks." At the sight of her troubled eyes he would say, "There, child! You deserve all the pretty things in the world! And being Jack's father gives me some privileges."

Sometimes it would be a book, or some souvenir of Jack's childhood from Mrs. Darien.

"Jack liked this book. I thought perhaps you'd like to have it, dear."

Sometimes she cried at their gentleness, knowing herself a thief of their love and confidence. When she did this they petted her, were troubled, nodded to each other understandingly over her bowed head.

Confession trembled on her lips a hundred times, but she could not force herself to speak the damaging words, for she realized that cheap and dreadful as the imposition might be, it had made three persons happy. For Honey, as well as the Dariens, had found a certain sort of contentment in the situation.

"I've got to go on with it! I've got to!" she told herself sternly. "It's a punishment for lying! I'll have to go on this way as long as I live!"

In her turn she made them such gifts as she could. She brought Mrs. Darien the little figure of Jack.

"I made this after I heard of his death," she said. "Would you like to have it?"

Mrs. Darien took it, held it in her two hands silently. Suddenly she looked up at Judy. "You knew him better than I did!" she said bravely. "When I look at this I understand my boy better than I ever did. But it took you to make me do it."

DUTY ON GOODS FOR CANADIANS AIRED AT PROBE

Shipments From Canadian Ports to Canadian Ports Via Panama Are Charged Duty

WITNESS CLAIMS IS IN DEFIANCE B.N.A. ACT

Chief Commissioner Suggests Matter Be Taken to Exchequer Court; Surprised

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21.—New ground was broken before the customs commission here today when George H. Cowan of Vancouver appeared and protested against the imposition of duties on Canadian goods moving from one part of Canada to another via the Panama canal. Mr. Cowan, who represented B. W. Greer & Co., shipping agents, and others, declared to the commission that Canadian goods shipped from eastern Canada to British Columbia via New York and the Panama canal must pay duty, unless they are carried in British vessels. Conversely, goods from British Columbia shipped through the Panama canal to New York are required to pay the Dominion customs duties before entering Canada, he said.

"We're compelling each end of Canada to trade with the outer world," he declared emphatically to the commissioners. And he added, this was being done in defiance of the provisions of the British North America act which provided for the interchange of Canadian commodities between the various provinces of the Dominion without the payment of any duties.

Mr. Cowan's representatives received a sympathic hearing though Justice Brown, chairman of the commission, expressed some doubt as to whether the matter came within the scope of the commission.

"As a matter of policy it seems absurd," he commented at one point during Mr. Cowan's argument.

Act Should Rule

"The only possible answer to your argument is the interests of the transportation companies," remarked Commissioner Wright. "The provisions of the British North America act should be overruling provisions throughout.

Mr. Cowan said that the customs regulation under which these Canadian products were required to pay duty affected a great many shipments. He instanced two shipments of shoes, one from Montreal to British Columbia via New York, and the other from Great Britain to British Columbia via the same port. Unless the Canadian shoes were carried from New York in a British vessel they would be required to pay a duty of 35 per cent upon entering Canada. The shoes from Great Britain could be transshipped to a foreign vessel at New York and enter British Columbia on payment of duty of only 17½ per cent under the British preference.

Go To Exchequer Court

"I'm surprised that you have not gone to the exchequer court with a test case long before this," stated Chief Commissioner Brown. "As an assertion of your rights I would not hesitate to go there, and go quickly."

Mr. Cowan took the ground that Canadian goods shipped by New York and through the Panama canal should be treated as if they had never been out of Canada. He contested the right of the government to declare by order-in-council that Canadian goods shipped via New York must pay duty. British Columbia wanted to take advantage of the Panama canal route. Eastern Canada also wanted to take advantage of this cheap water transportation. But, said Mr. Cowan, there were no British ships plying between New York and Vancouver, and consequently it was extremely difficult to develop business via the canal. The regulation calling for payment of duty was defeating the commercial object of confederation, he declared.

Chairman Brown told Mr. Cowan that his representations would certainly reach the minister of customs at Ottawa. He was not sure that this was a matter upon which the commission could report, although it might be justifiable to go outside the scope of the inquiry in order to make reference to it.

Steamer John Tracy Foundered Off Cape Cod; Empty Lifeboat Found Too

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 21.—Fears that the steamer John Tracey had foundered off Cape Cod in a blizzard of January 11, changed to grim certainty today when the nameplate of the vessel, parts of her hatch covers, and an empty lifeboat were picked up near Georges Shoal, off the Cape Cod coast. The steamer carried a crew of 27 men.

The lifeboat was picked up by the Boston fishing schooner Breaker which sent the news to this port by radio. Tonight a radio message from the coast guard destroyer Burroughs told of the finding of the other wreckage.

The John Tracey was last seen off Pollock Rip lightship on January 11, fighting through the worst blizzard of the present winter.

FANCY SKATER THRILLS IN TRAIL

Gordon Thompson Does Daring Stunts and Some Comedy Too

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 21.—Performing in the skating rink here last night, Gordon Thompson, Canada's premier skater, delighted skating enthusiasts with a marvelous exhibition of his ability on the steel blades. Whirling, spinning, pivoting this way and that, and leaping over nine barrels placed side by side on the ice, with several comic stunts thrown in, Mr. Thompson brought down round after round of applause for his daring feats.

The leap over the barrels was probably the most thrilling scene ever enacted in the Trail rink. Mr. Thompson started by skating backwards and turning just before making his jump over five barrels. This number was increased until nine barrels dared his ability to clear them. This he did with apparent ease.

As a comedian Mr. Thompson was there with the goods.

FORGED STAMPS ON LIQUOR NOT NEAR THE SAME

Awkward Imitations Used on Canadian Liquor Sold in United States, Says Witness

PROBE HEARS OF FIREARMS SEIZURE

Suggests That Preventive Officers Be Given Wider Powers of Inspection

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21. — Forged United States internal revenue strips placed upon Canadian whiskey which is smuggled across the line and sold as an American product are not even good forgeries. This was the opinion expressed to the royal customs commission today by Leonard Regan, a deputy collector of internal revenue for the United States who appeared here today. Mr. Regan was asked to examine some of the formidable array of whiskey flasks and bottles which have been gathered by counsel so that the commission may investigate labels on the liquor which was sold in the United States. He said that the color of the strips was not the same as used in the genuine United States stamps, the wording was not the same and the paper was also different. An inexperienced person would be deceived by them he thought, but not one who knew anything about the genuine strips.

Fire Arms Smuggled

Mr. Regan was followed on the stand by George E. Norris, assistant inspector of customs and excise in the preventive service, with headquarters at Victoria. Mr. Norris dealt briefly with two seizures of fire arms which were being smuggled into Canada by Chinese who intended to send them to China. The first seizure consisted of 30 Mauser pistols and 2500 rounds of ammunition, and the second, five pistols and 500 rounds. He suggested that it would be advisable to have passengers' luggage examined in Seattle instead of at Victoria. If the examination was left until the passengers arrived in Canada, there was some danger that luggage might be concealed.

Mr. Norris also referred to two seizures of narcotic drugs. In the first case the seizure was of 40 tins of opium and in the second case a quantity of cocaine was seized, he suggested in connection with these seizures that amounts paid the informer were not large enough.

Urges Wider Powers

In answer to R. L. Calder K.C. commission counsel, who examined him, Mr. Norris said that he thought preventive officers should be given the power to search for documents as well as for smuggled goods. They should be empowered to take sworn declarations and examine the crew of vessels as well as the master. Also he thought that preventive officers should be permitted to board outbound vessels when necessary. He described how he had located $20,000 worth of jewelry which was being smuggled into Canada from the orient by a man called John Blair Adams, in October, 1924. The jewelry was seized. On another occasion an effort to enter an American motor car and a truck chassis at a greatly reduced valuation was made.

Mr. Norris referred to the liquor vessel Di Agua, which he had seized off the British Columbia coast in the year 1925. This vessel which was of Nicaraguan registry, had cleared from Victoria with a cargo for San Jose, Guatemala. The log of the vessel showed that she had entered an inlet of the British Columbia coast and discharged some of her cargo to a vessel of Canadian registry. Consequently she had been seized.

Three Quebec children were burned to death in a fire in a farmhouse in Gaspe.

Police Convention Obtained

Congratulations are due to inspector Dunwoody, and to the city of Nelson, on the successful outcome of the effort to obtain for Nelson next summer the annual convention of the great organization of police chiefs and sheriffs of the northwest, which is international in character, and wide in its territorial scope.

The citizens can be relied on to adequately back up those who have been officially acting in the matter, and to lend every effort required to make the convention an overwhelming success, from the point of view of impression on the visitors.

This success suggests that others are possible, and it behooves Nelson to recognize its possibilities as a convention city, and to seek realization of those possibilities.

To provide facilities for conventions would be one of the many uses of the arena that Nelson should equip itself with.

Druggists in Line for Preferment

Liquid calls to liquid, apparently, under any and all circumstances.

That seemingly is the explanation of the curious situation that two successive Kootenay druggists have been deemed to be in line for the post of Vancouver harbor commissioners.

The late R. E. Beattie, who gave up his seat in East Kootenay to make way for Hon. J. H. King to enter the Dominion cabinet a few years ago, actually became a Vancouver harbor commissioner, and the call of the liquid was so powerful in his case that he did double duty, holding down as well, the job of harbor superintendent.

Ottawa advices repudiated the dispatches naming the three new Vancouver harbor commissioners, and it seems that Hon. J. A. Buckham, speaker of the legislature, and a worthy druggist of Golden, is still in the running for the post, in spite of protests of Liberal organizations.

In asking the Vancouver board of trade to make recommendations of suitable men for the commission, the government is allaying to some extent the turmoil over the proposal to have the speaker of the legislature also placed on the federal payroll.

But when one comes to think of it, there is some slight precedent for Mr. Buckham receiving two salaries as proposed. Mr. Beattie held two jobs, one under the Dominion, and the other under the board of which he was a member. Some might construe this as a distant precedent for the other Kootenay druggist directing the port accommodation of Vancouver under the federal government, while enjoying the emoluments attaching to the first commoner of British Columbia.

Lloyd George Is Now Praising Chamberlain for Chinese Policy

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Former Premier Lloyd George, who got himself into hot water recently because of his speech denouncing military coercion in China, gave his blessing tonight to Sir Austen Chamberlain's present policy. Addressing members of the Liberal party in a political speech, he said:

"The government now has adopted the identical policy which Bright and Cobden were hounded out of the house of commons for advocating 70 years ago, namely, while doing all in our power to protect British lives and property, at the same time extending to the Chinese full recognition of their national rights in their own country; making justice and right, instead of force, the basis of our trading arrangements with China.

"The Liberal party ought to give Austen Chamberlain all the help in their power against the attack of evil counsellors behind him, and perhaps around him."

I recently had the pleasure of helping to plan games and refreshments for a group of 80 young people. Our menu consisted of two kinds of sandwiches, cocoa and little tarts. The following three games proved most successful.

Boys' Observation Contest—Each boy chose a girl partner and was asked to stand talking to her for several minutes. The row of boys then turned their backs on the girl, and each boy was given a pencil and a small pad, and was requested to "describe the costume worn by your girl partner!" Turning to look again at the girls was not permitted. At the end of three or four minutes, the boys' papers were collected and read aloud. Almost every paper showed original humor besides mistakes in describing the girls' clothes. "Nize Baby" and "Preferred Stock" were two remarks which followed two descriptions.

Registering Screen Emotions: The players in this game were stood in one great circle. A spokesman, in the center of the ring, announced that each one was to draw a slip of paper (from a box which he would pass) and, in turn, would have to act out whatever emotion they found typewriten on the slip. Here are only 16 of the many "emotions" which were acted: Grouchiness, Greed, Peevishness, Primness, Vanity, Politeness, Stupidity, Awkwardness, Perplexity, Boldness, Delight, Slyness, Fury, Happiness, Dreaminess, Pride. As each player stepped forward toward the center of the ring to do his or her bit of acting, the rest of the circle tried to guess what "emotion" was being portrayed. Almost invariably one of the shouted guesses was right.

Advertising Guessing Contest—Twenty-four pages of typewriter paper were spread out on a platform, each page having pasted upon it a picture from a well-known advertisement—(for instance, the pair of darky twins from a well-known scouring powder, the Quaker from a well-known breakfast food, the Dutch maid holding a steaming cup on a tray from a well-known brand of cocoa). Each player was given a tiny pad with pencil and was asked to write down his guesses as to the trade name of each advertisement, numbering these guesses to correspond with the number on each of the 24 pasted pictures. As the hosts of this party did not wish to provide a prize for the best list of guesses, they decided to have the player with the poorest paper pay a forfeit (making a circle with his nose on a slate covered with chalk!)

Foster's Weekly Weather Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. — At this writing, January 13, the month's weather has been very close to my forecast schedule and this circumstance causes me to give an extra warning that severe weather is expected before the close of month. Storm period centering on January 23 is expected to be the most severe of the month; this storm center will be both preceded and followed by severe cold waves that will reach great extremes over practically the entire continent, but be most severe in sections 2 and 4, as greater extremes are reached after storm centers have passed 90th meridian and as they reach vicinity of St. Lawrence valley. These cold waves will be expected to center on 19 and 26. Severe but not dangerous would be my expectations for this period. A storm wave of mild intensity is expected to crossr continent during week centering on January 29; cold wave will not be so severe following this storm center as have been the cold waves of the two storm periods centering on 17 and 23 and will be followed by a short period that will average above normal temperatures and below normal precipitation. During the last 10 days of January, precipitation will be expected to average considerably above normal generally; most precipitation will be expected in sections 2, 4 and 7, the northeast and extreme northwest sections; most precipitation in sections 2 and 4 will occur in eastern parts of those sections. Map of these sections and explanations of terms used in these weekly bulletins will be forwarded to those who address Foster's Weather Bureau, 32 T street, N. W., Washington, D.C., enclosing return postage with their request. Detailed forecasts of February weather will appear in next weekly issue.

The Foster Thesis

We must learn the effects that each planet and the moon have on our weather by taking the weather that occurred in the past when the planet or moon was in the same relative position. The planets and resultant weather cycles have periodicities differing with each other, and these periods overlap till all are obscured. The great difficulty lies in finding a method by which these cycles can be uncovered, the effects of each of these bodies seperated from the others. Taking the weather records as a base, it is utterly impossible to find cycles regularly recurring, and it is only by analyzing, by separating them nto their constituent parts, that the cycles can be found. That is the problem we have solved and on which the scientific world has continuously failed n an effort covering 150 years.

I do not claim that my work is completed, nor that my forecasts are perfect, but that they are sufficiently so to be of value, possibly as complete as one man's efforts will be able to make them, yet my efforts to improve my forecasts will only stop when I do.

That Body of Yours

Value of Research Men

You have perhaps read of how Dr. Lazear whilst attending patients in a yellow fever hospital, and believing that mosquitoes transmitted yellow fever, calmly watched one bite his hand, and died a short time later from yellow fever.

The inscription on his tablet was "With more courage than the devotion of a soldier he risked and lost his life to show how a fearful pestilence is communicated, and how its ravages may be prevented."

The transmission of malaria was likewise discovered by an observant man noting that it occurred in damp places, and the mosquito was finally discovered as the active cause.

Dr. Banting, the discoverer of insulin, which is saving the lives of hundred of thousands of diabetes sufferers, has been telling his medical brethren, that all research work is simply training oneself to be a close observer.

MacKenzie, perhaps the greatest heart specialist of all time, was a general practitioner who listened to every heart possible in his practice among the poorer people. From these everyday observations he was able to show that the sounds or murmurs of the heart were not the important things, but it was the ability of the heart, its muscular and nervous ability, that really counted from the standpoint of health, and of life itself.

About one hundred and thirty years ago, a young country woman told a physician that she was not afraid of smallpox because she had had cowpox. Edward Jenner overheard the remark, and worked out the vaccination system that has conquered smallpox.

Typhoid in the Boer war carried off more soldiers than were killed in action, there being 123 cases of typhoid for every thousand soldiers. In the great war the deaths were about one in every 35,000 men.

Diphtheria and scarlet fever are not the scourge of former years, as the physician, recognizing them early, has the antitoxin with which to fight them, and where an outbreak occurs can also prevent the spread if called early.

Dr. Banting was pointing out how wealthy men and others could do so much for their fellow men if they would encourage the workers in laboratories by assisting them financially.

A research man practicing medicine to support himself all day, and trying to do his research work at night, might be years in discoving something of help to mankind; in fact might never accomplish anything.

But by being free from financial worry, he could do practical work about the hospitals or in the homes of the poor, and thus be enabled to apply his findings.

The nations of the world are waking up to this need. Aside from saving lives it pays any country from the financial standpoint.

Two armed men held up the Highland Liberty bank, Louisville, Ky., and escaped with $8000.

Rifle shot fired accidentally by his chum, caused the death of 14-year-old Walter Wolfe, Tiffin, Ohio.

In accepting it, Mr. Blanchard stated most of the credit for his garden should go to Miss L. Wightman, whose name was engraved on the cup.

Mrs. Rutherford presented a silver cup to Mrs. Ross and a pair of silver vases to Mrs. Maber.

At the next flower show competitors will be obliged to have their exhibits in the building by midnight of the night before the show.

Safety Deposit Box Rented by Scollard Is Found to Be Empty

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21.—Forced open under authority of a supreme court order, two safety deposit boxes rented in local banks by George Francis Scollard, accused by his wife of converting $800,000 of her money and securities to his own use, were found to be empty today. Records are said to show that the boxes were rented last summer and last visited by Scollard in the days just preceding his arrest at a local hotel last Tuesday.

Forget the Past and Turn to Building Up of Movement Is Urge

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The chairman at the conclusion of the conference of trades unions representatives today which had emphatically indorsed the action of the trades union congress in calling off the general strike at the end of nine days, urged the delegates in returning to their unions to put the past away and address themselves to the great task of building up the strength of the movement that it might effectively resist attacks.

The Cares of Motherhood!

Are you so absorbed in the care of your children that you forget yourself? Do you fail to observe Nature's danger signals warning you of an approaching nervous break-down? Do your jaded nerves never seem to relax? Is your weary body never given a chance to restore its depleted vital power?

Like Madame P. Landry of 33a Marquette St., Montreal, you surely realize that to be of the greatest service to your family, you must retain your health. Read what she says—

Mother of Six Tells Her Experience

"Although still young, the care required for my six little children exhausted me so that I was constantly in a state of nerves and could not sleep. A friend—in whom I have great confidence—advised me to take WINCARNIS. She knew from experience the beneficial effects of this treatment. I did so and feel stronger and am more inclined to do my housework. My digestion is better; I sleep better; and my circulation is better. I really must recommend WINCARNIS to every woman who feels the need of getting a new grip on herself for the daily grind of life."

Mrs. Landry's condition—your doctor will tell you—is, more often than not, due to a shortage in the body of certain mineral substances which are vitally necessary to maintain us in normal health. When these substances are lacking, it is necessary to supply them to the blood.

WINCARNIS
A Power for Health

enables us to do this. For WINCARNIS is a preparation of these very mineral substances combined with other health-giving ingredients in a pleasant form in which they are quickly absorbed by your blood and utilized in flooding every organ of our bodies with new vitality, stamina and strength.

For more than 50 years, WINCARNIS has been prescribed for mothers by the physicians of Great Britain.

MILNE WINNER INTERNATIONAL IN CROW SPIEL

Cranbrook Skip Bests Kelley's Rink of Pincher Creek

TROPHIES WILL BE WELL DIVIDED

Some Alberta Rinks Leave for Home; Finals All Played Today

CRANBROOK, B.C., Jan. 21.—Milne of Cranbrook won the International event in the bonspiel here this evening in a close game with Kelley of Pincher Creek, this being the first competition to get through. No other finals will be played this evening, but all events will close tomorrow.

The chances are the trophies will be pretty well divided, British Columbia and Alberta rinks playing in the finals for the Magrath, while in the Lethbridge two rinks from each province are packed in the fours, so that the finals will also be an interprovincial event. Peculiarly enough, the same is true in the Trites-Wood and the Grand Challenge.

Full draws had not been made this evening for the consolation event, though a few preliminary games had been played. A number of Alberta rinks, after five days' curling, left this evening, leaving it uncertain what rinks would be left for the consolation draws.

Friday Morning Results

Grand Challenge — Herchmer beat Beale, Ward beat Jackson.

Magrath—McPhee beat Milne.

Interprovincial — Allison beat Boulton.

Afternoon Results

International — Kelley beat Herchmer, Milne beat Corrie. Final—Milne beat Kelley.

Magrath — Wallace beat Carberry, McPhee beat Wallace.

Lethbridge — McNab beat Ward, Wright beat Kirkham, McPhee beat Carberry.

Trites-Wood — Kerr beat Jackson, Kastner beat Wright, Allison beat Ward.

Grand Challenge—Carberry beat Wallace.

Interprovincial — Wright beat Gare, Kelley beat Wright, Carberry beat Kirkham, Allison beat Boulton.

The midnight draw last night considerably accelerated the play in the bonspiel here, and Saturday will see the windup of the most successful Crows' Nest 'spiel that had been held for many years.

Thursday Night Draws

International — Herchmer beat Lindberg, Milne beat Kastner.

Magrath — Wright beat Boulton, McNab beat Bossenberry. Wright and McNab play tomorrow.

Lethbridge — Douglas beat Wallace, Kirkham beat Martin, McPhee beat Douglas, Douglas beat Wallace.

Trites-Wood — Kastner beat Cameron, Gates beat Bossenberry.

Grand Challenge — Wallace beat Corrie.

WAY TO SAFETY FOR CHILDREN BARRED BY MAN

his arms and told us to go back again. Rene Champagne was with me, and we went up again."

"What happened to young Champagne?" asked Antoine Chauvin, crown prosecutor.

"He was killed—at least, he was not found again," answered the witness, simply.

Went Up Again

"When the man stopped us," Colin went on, "we obeyed, for we thought it might have been a little joke. So we went up again. There was a mass of people rushing out. A girl had fainted, and I picked her up and carried her downstairs on my back. I don't know what happened then, for I was pulled out myself."

In reply to a question by Judge Decarie, the witness said that the motion picture, a comedy, was still being shown, and could be dimly seen behind a screen of smoke as he rushed out the second time. Another small survivor, Roger Arpin, 11, said that he had gone to the theater with a boy named Jean Louis Falardeau. Each had paid 10 cents for his ticket. He was not sure as to who had taken the ticket at the door, but thought it was Alex Bazzy, a brother of one of the accused. When the cry of fire was raised, he had made for the stairs.

Arms Stretched Out

"Near the bottom," he told the court, "a man was standing with his arms stretched out. He would not let us go past him, and said 'Go back ;there is no danger.'" He had been frightened, however, and had run out of the stairway into the street.

Young Arpin said that there were between 300 and 350 persons in the balcony that afternoon. Of these not more than 30 or 35 were adults. Quite a number of the children had not found seats, and were standing up at the back.

Other evidence presented was along lines similar to the foregoing.

FROZEN PIPES GIVE ROSSLAND FIRE A START

failed. Falling telephone poles added to the hazards.

Much hardship will result to a number of families as the result of the disaster. Several of the business blocks were occupied in the upper stories by families in rooms, many of which barely escaped with the clothing and personal treasures.

Rescued in Nick of Time

The family of Frank McClement, a smelter worker, living in apartments, were rescued just in time by P. Ponton of W. F. McNeill's store, who, notified of the fire, rushed into the burning building and assisted Mrs. McClement and her two children to safety. Mr. McClement was at his work, but on being notified he rushed to his home almost crazy with apprehension. The eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens, residing in the Knights of Columbus block with her parents, was safely removed to a nearby dwelling. She has been confined to her bed with illness for several weeks.

Threaten Hotel

Mrs. Katherine Ledoux, who conducted a Unity club in the old American hotel, after smelling the smoke and notifying her husband, had hardly time to get her family out of the building before it was enveloped in flames. The hotel, centrally located, almost adjoined the Morris store, where the fire started. From the American the flames were wafted eastward and swept the remaining buildings to Washing street intersection. They threatened to jump the street and envelop the Allen hotel for a time.

Business premises on the north side of Columbia avenue suffered from the heat. Large plate windows were cracked and painting scorched. Merchants, assisted by citizens, were forced to keep putting snow on the roofs to prevent them catching fire.

Serve Hot Coffee

These same merchants, however, extended a warm hand to their distressed fellows across the street, opening their stores to receive what articles were saved. Cafe and restaurant proprietors served hot coffee to the fire fighters battling under terrible conditions of snow and ice, fire, smoke and falling buildings.

In the Knights of Columbus block, the L. D. cafe, operated by ex-Mayor A. Smith, and the Tiding of Youth beauty parlor, operated by Mrs. E. Smith, both on the ground floor, were destroyed, as was the living quarters of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Henderson, on the second floor, the owners of the block.

Three But Shells

The living rooms of Mr. and Mrs. Novak, owners, on the first floor of the Traders block, a ground floor room occupied by Mrs. Kate Loyd, and a beauty parlor operated by Mrs. T. Taylor suffered from the hasty removal of furnishings.

The fire took in its course a row of buildings measuring 270 frontage on Columbia avenue. Six structures were completely destroyed; three others are now but shells. There remains only the Traders block, the Guelph block and the Crescent, and two small residences situated behind, intact.

Loss estimated at $250,000 was caused by fire in the Advance Milling company, Chicago.

Trinity Episcopal church, Seattle, has been given $110,000 by Richard S. Cox, who died recently.

KASLO, B.C., Jan. 21. — The annual meeting of St. Mark's congregation was held on Sunday last after the evening service, the vicar, Rev. C. Reed, in the chair.

It is called "KOTEX." Eight in every 10 better-class women have adopted it.

You wear sheer frocks and gowns without a second thought, any time, anywhere. You meet every day, every business or social demand unhandicapped.

✓ Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads, it banishes danger of mishaps.

Deodorizes, too. And thus ends all fear of offending.

You obtain it at drug or department stores simply by saying "KOTEX," without hesitancy. Be sure to get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21.—With gas pouring from the jets of a nearby stove, the body of J. E. W. Watson was found in his room here today. The authorities said he had been engaged as a produce peddler for some time and that he was believed to have a family in England, but suggested no motive for the man ending his life.

Heart Palpitation Dizzy, Sinking Spells

Mrs. M. A. Gagnon, Donatville, Alta., writes:—"Some time ago I was very nervous, could not sleep at night, often had dizzy, sinking spells and palpitation of the heart, and was so run down I could not do my housework, but just leave everything and sit down.

I spent a lot of money using medicine from the doctor, but it did not do me any good.

At last a friend told me to use MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS and after using a couple of boxes I was not the same woman. I began to feel so much better, and after a few more boxes I was in perfect health. I always recommend them to all those I know who are suffering from heart trouble."

MOTOR CAR FOR POLICE ASKED; ALSO REST DAY

Liquor Cases for Year 35 Ou' of 140, Says Chief in Report

NINE INQUESTS HELD; ACCIDENTS ARE MANY

Curfew Law Disregarded by Many Parents; Thanks Board for Cooperation

A motor vehicle for the police, and one day's rest in seven for members of the force, were recommendations made by Chief of Police Thomas H. Long in his 12th annual report, submi ted to the police commission yesterday. The report was received and filed by the commission.

In his review of the department's work for 1926, Chief Long stated:

Police Court Cases

"During the year there were 140 cases disposed of before the police magistrate, a summary of which is as follows:

Intoxication	35
Liquor act, infraction of, other than intoxication	17
Assault, common	7
Causing disturbance	5
Railway act, infraction of	15
Theft	10
Shopbreaking	1
False pretences	1
Property, damage to	1
Fraudulently obtaining food	2
Common gaming house, keeping	1
Common gaming house, found in	7
Forest act, infracton of	2
Motor Vehicle act, infraction of	23
Streets and traffic bylaw	1
Vicious dog, owner of	1
Incorrigible boy	1
Neglected children	6
Insanity	5
Total	140

"Seventeen persons were given suspended sentences, 11 charges were withdrawn, eight charges were dismissed and 18 persons were committed to the provincial jail for terms of imprisonment ranging from two days to six months.

"Fines and costs for the year 1926 mounted to $3834.29.

"Expenditure for the year 1926 was as follows:

Salaries	$5,757.00
Maintenance	2,145.87
Total	$7,902.87
Refund	61.85
Total expenditure	$7,841.02

"Two hundred and five meals were furnished prisoners in the city lockup during the year.

"During the year there were a large number of minor complaints made to the department. Each complaint was investigated by the department when received, and was settled to the satisfaction of the complainant without having to resort to police court proceedings.

Handling of Transients

"Particular attention was given by the department to keep the city free of undesirable characters, who when found were ordered to leave the city forthwith.

"Eighty destitute transients were given temporary shelter in the lockup during the year, and 65 meals were given to destitute men.

"Seventy-four doors and windows of business premises were found unlocked or insecurely fastened during the year. In all cases the premises were made secure and the owners notified.

"Approximate value of property stolen and lost, not including automobiles, during the year, was $2540. Approximate value of property stolen and lost, not including automobiles, and recovered by the department during the year, was $1921.

Many Traffic Accidents

"There were 56 motor vehicle accidents reported during the year, in which 13 persons were slightly injured, one of whom was run down by an automobile on Baker street, November 14, and was taken to the hospital, and although she was not very seriously injured, she is still suffering from the effects. The driver of the automobile who was responsible for the accident was prosecuted on a charge of driving to the common danger and was fined $100.

"Two light standards on Baker street were knocked down and destroyed by automobiles, and in each case the owners of the automobiles paid for the damage done.

"Six motor vehicles were reported as having been taken without the consent of the owners by joy riders, and all were recovered by the departments. Two youths were prosecuted for taking two of these cars and were dealt with by the police magistrate.

Unfortunate Cases

"Five persons were committed to the mental hospital at Essondale, only one of whom was taken there at the expense of the city. The relatives of the others paid for the transportation of the patients.

"Five children whose ages ranged from 4 months to 11 years were committed to the Children's Aid society home of the Ca holic archdiocese at Vancouver, the father of the children having deserted them and the mother having suddenly died.

"Twelve children wandered away from their homes during the year, and all were found by the police and returned to their parents.

Curfew Law Disregarded

"I find that quite a number of parents appear to totally disregard the curfew law, by allowing children under the age of 15 years to roam the streets after the curfew bell rings. The police are continually finding children under 15 years on the streets long after the curfew bell rings. This condition not only augurs a disregard for the law, but a serious disregard for the welfare of the children, both of which are to be deplored.

"Two persons dropped dead on the streets, one person was found dead in her home, and a boy was smothered by a cave-in of a tunnel he was digging in a sand bank. No inquests were held on these persons, the coroner not deeming it necessary.

Halloween Orderly

"Halloween night passed off with practically no damage to property or smudging of windows with grease or soap. This was largely due to principals and teachers of all the schools in the city lecturing the pupils against the practice of destroying or injuring property. The thanks of the department are tendered to principals and teachers for the interest they took in the matter. A number of special constables were engaged for that night to see that no damage was done.

Nine Inquests

"Inquests were held on nine persons during the year, one of which was on the body of a woman who was murdered, and one on the body of the man who committed the murder; on two men who were found dead in local hotels, on three men who died from the effects of drinking columbia spirits (wood alcohol), and on a girl injured by an automobile on the Granite road, and on a man who was injured by a Canadian Pacific railway engine at Bonnington, both of whom subsequently died in Kootenay Lake General hospital. Although these two persons were injured outside of the city, they having died inside of the city, the inquests had to be undertaken by the city police. Six post mortems were performed on bodies of deceased persons.

Recommendations

"I would again respectfully recommend that the members of the department be granted one day off duty in seven, this privilege being enjoyed in all departments of the city, the police department being the only exception.

"I also recommend that a motor vehicle of some description be provided for the use of the department in responding to calls from distant sections of the city, checking up automobile speeders and patrolling outlying sections within the city limits.

Police Convention

"The city council having invited the Northwest Association of Sheriffs and Police to hold its annual convention in this city this year, I would ask the incoming board for its assistance and cooperation in making the convention a success.

"In conclusion, I wish to thank His Worship Mayor McDonald and Commissioners French and Sheran for their support during the year.

"The thanks of the department are also tendered to Warden Jarvis of the provincial jail, to the members of the British Columbia police, and to Constable House of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, for their cooperation and assistance during the year, and to The Daily News for publicity given, which materially assisted the department in many ways."

HOW "FRUIT-A-TIVES" GAVE HER NEW LIFE

MRS. J. F. RUTKOWSKA.

"For several years I suffered with severe constipation and was a nervous wreck. I had great pain in my limbs, and such terrible headaches I thought I would go crazy. I sincerely think 'Fruit-a-tives' saved my life."—Mrs. J. F. Rutkowska, Tolstoi, Manitoba.

A Body Sweetness that Even Perspiration Can't Spoil

All the trick laxatives in the world can't tempt people who understand the properties of cascara.

A hundred different drugs will purge the bowels, but a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew!

Your grandparents took "salts, and slowly washed away the mucous membrane with the water. Mineral oils are better, but they leave the coating that your blood must then carry off through the pores. But when you cascarize the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

Don't get in the habit of taking medicine for constipation—or even for autointoxication. If you have the habit, stop it. A candy cascaret is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them and the taste tempts most grown-ups to take "more." And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try a cascaret tonight! All druggists, 10c and 25c.

"WHAT A JOY it was to find such an aid to utter cleanliness! My system is so purified, perspiration doesn't stain my garments and I just forget self now, after I've taken one or two—

TIGERS BLANK REGINA TEAM

Score Five-Nothing Score; Huffman Scores Two Goals

REGINA, Jan. 21. — Before one of the best crowds of the season the Regina Capitals put up one of their worst games, and went down to defeat before the Calgary Tigers 5 to 0 here tonight in a Prairie Hockey league game. It was the fourth straight shutout for the locals.

A sieve-like defence was the cause of the rout. Calgary ran riot in the first period and scored three goals. The goal guardians in Regina's rear division seemed unable to stop the repeated rushes of the Tigers, and at the other end the Calgary back division made the Caps shoot from long range. This story of the first period was repeated in the other two frames. Tigers were better all the way through.

After the commanding lead secured in the first session the Tigers eased up. While the Capitals appeared to put more pep in their attack, they found a steady and persistent defence awaiting them.

The second period ended without a tally, but the visitors took command in the third and rammed in two more goals for good measure.

Spunk Sparrow got a knee in the first period and did not come on the ice again.

SPORTITIS

By JINKS

Nelson hockey club has two good "hoisters" in Leo Desireau and Dutch Richardson. Trail and Rossland club also boast good "hoisters," if the term applied to defence men by sport writers in Madison Square Garden, New York, were applied to hockey in the Kootenays. Since the start of pro hockey in the United States, some real interesting bits of news have been dashed off by sports writers, to whom the game is new.

Following is an interesting paragraph, carried under copyright in a column called, "Sports of the Times," by John Kirean, of the Times staff. It says:

The Hoisting Brigade

"The defence men in hockey are known as "hoisters." It is their duty to receive visiting delegates from the opposing team, to hoist them in the air and to let them fall where they may. As far as Garden fans have observed, the "hoisters" perform their duties with great pleasure.

"Now and again some "hoister" is whacked over the head with a shinny stick or kicked in the knee with a skate. Broken noses, collarbones and ankles are taken as they come. The lack of ice in the ordinary parlor is not the only reason why hockey is not ranked as a parlor pastime.

"Lionel Conacher of the Americans, Ching Johnson of the Rangers, King Clancy of the Senators and Sprague Cleghorn of the Bruins are the premier hoisters of the league.

"But the others can lift more than their own weight off the ice."

Jinks has a suggestion that the forward men be termed "foisters." The word foist is used when one refers to a trickster and the forward men or for that matter, any hockey player is a trickster. Foist is also a name applied to a pickpocket—this lets the hockey players off, though. They have little time, while puck juggling, to pick an opponent's pockets. Sometimes they pick a scrap, though.

Well, the hockey name contest is all over. It is now up to the team. The players themselves will pick the name suitable. The contest is above board, too. All that the hockey players will see is a list of names suggested. The sporting editor retains the names of those contributing suggestions. The winner will be announced, probably, at Saturday night's game. If a local man is a winner he will get a season ticket for the balance of the season. He will also get a refund on tonight's game. If a citizen outside of Nelson wins he will receive a crisp new "five-spot." Good luck to all those who contributed names. There were lots of suggestions and they were all good. It is going to be a tough job for the hockey team to pick a winner.

Rossland tangles horns with Nelson at the rink tonight. Fans, bring out your fur coats and you'll see a breezy game, despite the temperature. The thrills will keep you warm. There is an added attraction tonight, too. Gordon Thompson, who earlier in the week thrilled a crowd with fancy skating and barrel jumping, will appear between periods in those dare devil feats on skates. He also has a "dark horse" comedian with him. It will be worth the money alone to see this comedian in action.

Nationals Now Out of Hockey Running in Vancouver Race

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21.—Nationals cease to hold further interest in the senior division hockey race. After having absorbed a 4 to 1 defeat with Towers on the winning end at the local arena tonight, the team retired from the running. They were beaten in all departments of play while the champions displayed brilliant form both on defence and attack.

VERNON ASSUMES LEAGUE LEADERSHIP

VERNON, B.C., Jan. 21.—Enderby and Vernon clashed here tonight in the Okanagan Valley Hockey league and Enderby went down 7 to 2, giving to Vernon the league leadership with five wins and no losses, Enderby four wins and one defeat.

SHELLS WIN VICTORY, HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP

VICTORIA, Jan. 21.—The Shells won the Victoria Amateur Hockey championship here tonight when they defeated the Colonist 4 to 2, having won every game played to date. The Colonist and Tillicums share second place with three victories and three losses each, the Services bringing up the rear without a single victory to their credit.

LONDON PANTHERS DEFEAT TIGERS

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The London Panthers edged closer to the league-leaders in the Canadian Hockey league by swamping the Hamilton Tigers here tonight by a score of 9 to 2. Experimenting with a subgoaler proved costly to the Tigers as six shots slipped past the second string net minder, for counters.

CROCKER IN FINALS IN INDOOR TENNIS

MONTREAL, Jan. 21.—George Lott of Detroit and Willard F. Crocker of Montreal, will meet tomorrow in the final match to decide the Canadian indoor singles tennis championship for the coming year. Lott advanced to the final by defeating Herbert L. Bowman of New York, 6-4, 6-0, 6-2. Crocker won from Henri Laframboise, Montreal, 6-2, 9-7, 6-1.

Fred Anderson and D. Cutler, New York, will meet W. F. Crocker and Jack Wright, Montreal, in the doubles final.

PLAY TO TIE

CHALLENGER IS FLOORED FIVE TIMES IN BOUT

Most One-Sided Bout in History of Ring, Critics Declare

CHALLENGER GAMELY STICKS WITH CHAMP

Wishes Longer Bout Next Time; Genaro Loses Decision to Brown

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Fidel La Barba, young American flyweight champion, retained his title here tonight by winning the judges' decision over Elky Clark, Glasgow, European titleholder. A crowd of 12,000 witnessed the fight which was a gruelling 12-round affair. Both men weighed 111½.

The challenging Scotsman, completely outclassed during the whole course of the fight, gamely climbed up from the canvas on numerous occasions to continue the exchange of punches.

The Californian outclassed the Scot from start to finish, scoring five knockdowns and constantly having Clark on the verge of a sudden finish. The judges' decision in La Barba's favor was merely a formality after a 12-round match that was one of the most one-sided title bouts in recent ring history.

Clark had no excuses to offer for his decisive beating.

"The better lad won," was Clark's laconic comment after the bout. The Scotchman said he would like a return bout over a longer route, preferably 20 rounds.

Brown Wins

Newsboy Brown, flyweight, Sioux City, Iowa, received the judges' decision over Frankie Genaro of New York, former American champion, in a fast, hard-fought, semi-final bout of 10 rounds here tonight.

Billy Kelly, Scranton, Pa., flyweight, staged a slashing rally to gain the judges' decision over Trip Limbaco, Filipino boxer, in a 10-round preliminary to the La Barba-Clark championship match.

HORNETS WIN

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 21.—The Windsor Hornets dampened the enthusiasm of some 4000 local supporters here tonight by defeating the Cataracts in a Canadian league fixture after two and a half minutes overtime, 4 to 3. The game was a fast and thrilling affair throughout. The Hornets were forced to make a rousing finish to tie the score in the final period when they were two goals down.

NORRIS TELLS OF KILLING IN OWN DEFENCE

Shot Only After Chipps With Hand on Hip Came at Him, He Swears

HAD CONSIDERABLE ARGUMENT FIRST

Moved to Tears as He Tells Court of Firing Fatal Shot or Shots

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 21.—After Dr. J. Frank Norris, Baptist pastor, had told his story of the killing of D. E. Chipps, in Fort Worth last July 17, the defence rested in the Norris murder trial here today.

Defence witnesses occupied five and a half days in presenting to the jury, Norris' evidence on his plea of self defence.

The state promptly began its rebuttal, its first witness being Dr. Clarence E. Wisecup, dentist of Thorndale, Texas, who corroborated a part of the testimony of Mrs. Roxie Parker, the state's star witness, who had declared Norris shot Chipps as the latter turned to leave the pastor's office.

A preacher's tears mingled with the recital of the Chipps' killing as Norris ended the defence case.

He testified he shot Chipps because he believed the lumberman was about to kill him. He shot only after Chipps had wheeled about and was coming at him with his hand on his hip pocket.

The pastor held a handkerchief to his face at times. He had a cough and his voice was husky.

Was Warned

Norris told some of his early history and schooling and then launched into the events leading up to the killing. He told of the telephone conversation about 30 minutes before Chipps was killed.

"I heard a man's voice over the telephone," he said. "I said, 'Who's this?' I could not understand what he said. I heard him say in a louder voice, 'I am coming over and settle with you on that sermon.'

"I said 'Who is this?' I asked him his name and he said: 'This is D. E. Chipps.'

"I said 'I don't want you to come here. I don't want any trouble with you.'

"He said, 'Well, I'm coming over.'

"Soon afterward, J. L. Nutt came into my office. I asked him if he knew Chipps and he said he thought he knew him at the bank. Chipps appeared. He opened the door without knocking.

"He said he was Chipps. He closed the door and stood a moment. He sat down and clenched his fist.

"He looked at me and said, 'I've got something to say to you,' and turning to Nutt, said 'And you can hear it too.'

Threatens Norris

"He then continued, 'If you say another word about my friend Meacham, I'm going to kill you. I mean every word of it. If you say a word about my friends I'm going to kill you.'

"Then I spoke to him for the first time. 'You don't mean that,' I said, 'what difference does it make to you?'

"'It makes a lot,' he said, getting to his feet.

"I arose and looked at him," said Norris.

"I saw he was very mad. I told him I did not want any trouble with him.

"'You have got to retract your sermon on Meacham or I'll kill you.'

"I said that the sermon was already published and told him he was making an impossible demand.

"He looked at me and I opened the door. I said 'I don't want another word out of you.'

Returns; Is Shot

"He went in the anteroom and just outside the door he said, 'Remember what I told you, I mean every word I said.'

"I told him and I repeated all I said that I did not want any trouble out of him. I turned and went back to my desk and sat down. Then I heard him say 'I'll kill you.'

"I saw him coming rapidly."

"What did he do then?" Attorney Moses asked.

Norris paused and bit his lip and tears came to his eyes.

"I opened the drawer of my desk," Norris paused, "and grabbed my pistol—and shot."

Norris said that he could not remember how many shots he fired. He said that Chipps held his right hand toward his hip pocket, Norris illustrating the movement with his own hand.

BRITISH MOVE ONLY TO SAVE LIVES PEOPLE

Have Not Modified Attitude of Conciliation in Regard to Chinese

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Great Britain has not modified its attitude of conciliation toward the "legitimate aspirations" of Chinese nationalism, says a statement issued by the foreign office tonight. The statement deprecates "sensational announcements" regarding the precautionary naval and military action taken by the British with regard to the Chinese situation and expresses hope that the negotiations now going on in China will succeed.

The statement follows:

"The naval and military dispositions made in connection with China are precautionary. Sensational announcements regarding them are to be deprecated and disregarded. Their sole object is to enable His Majesty's government to fulfill the elementary duty of protecting the lives of British subjects whose safety is in their charge, if such protection is proved necessary. Undertakings to that effect were given during the last session of parliament by the prime minister and by the foreign secretary. Conversations are in progress at Hankow and Peking which, if successful, will go far toward complementing the concessions which His Majesty's government is willing to make with the object of placing our relations with China upon an equitable and, it is hoped, a mutually profitable basis."

The British foreign office on December 25 issued documents fully revealing the new policy of conciliation in China. It expressed opposition to further attempts to force upon the Chinese increased foreign control, suggested that the powers declare their readiness to revise treaties affecting China and advocated the immediate levy of the surtaxes drawn up at Washington for the benefit of the Chinese authorities.

Referring to the growth of the nationalist movement in China, sponsored by the Cantonese government, the foreign office affirmed that "any failure to meet this movement with sympathy and understanding would not respond to the real intentions of the powers toward China."

With regard to the negotiations at Hankow and Peking mentioned in tonight's statement, it is recalled that Miles W. Lampson, British minister at Peking, stopped at Hankow and had conferences with Foreign Minister Chen of the Cantonese government before continuing to Peking. Later Charge d'Affaires O'Malley went to Hankow and resumed the conversations with Chen.

Police Invasion in Search of Liquor Ends in Payment of Damages

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21.—Invasion of the residence by Alfonzo Nickerson by a local police dry squad detective in search of liquor today, resulted in a $850 damage verdict being rendered against him. George Herbert Manning and his wife testified that Nickerson forced his way into the house. No liquor was found. Evidence showed that Nickerson acted on receiving a telephone tip from a woman who refused to give her name that the Mannings were bootlegging. It was a most important case from the standpoint of the public, stated Justice D. A. McDonald. If it had happened in some other country he might not have been surprised. The justice told the jury police acted knowing the informant to be too big a coward to give her name.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH, TWO OTHERS DYING

Bodies Burned to Charred Ashes When Gasoline Flames Burn Home

BADLY BURNED VICTIMS TAKEN OUT IN COLD

Were Lighting Lamp; Used Gasoline Instead of Coal Oil

EDMONTON, Jan. 21.—Three lives were lost when fire destroyed the home of Howard Muncey, on the Battle river 15 miles north of Halkirk, Alta., Thursday night. Two others are lying in the Forestburg hospital probably fatally burned.

The dead are Lou Muncey, 21; Fay Bean, 23; and Mrs. H. Raddis.

The injured are H. Raddis and Joseph Arey.

Apparently the group of people were all sitting together in the kitchen. The night was very cold and it was decided to lower a lamp into the vegetable cellar below the kitchen floor to prevent its contents from freezing. One of the party brought, it is thought, a can of coal oil with which to fill the lamp. It was in reality a can of high test gasoline.

Explosion Scatters Fire

Immediately the lamp was alight, there was an explosion and a sheet of flame. The blast licked up the gasoline in the can also and in a moment the entire kitchen was a blazing furnace in which men and women were burned to charred ashes as they sought in vain for the exit.

The two men, Lou Muncey and Fay Bean, were probably killed almost instantly by the force of the explosion and the rush of the seering white-hot flames as the bursting lamp communicated its flame to the can of gasoline.

Moving the injured to shelter in 30 below zero weather added to the sufferings of the victims. Mrs. Raddis died while being removed to the hospital at Forestburg. Very slight hopes are held out for the recovery of the other two victims.

H. C. Muncey, owner of the Muncey mines, at whose home the fire occured, was in Stettler at the time with his wife.

Returning home about 10:30 p.m. he saw flames bursting from the house but before he could reach the scene the tragedy had been played out.

FOREIGNERS STILL LIVING IN DREAD

Many Making Way From Interior Points in China

PEKING, Jan. 21.—Harassed by the steadily growing antipathy of the Chinese, foreigners continued their exodus from the interior of China today. One thousand British and American men were leaving Hankow, said a private telegram from foreign sources. Since coolie mobs stormed the British concession January 3 and 4, and its administration was taken over by the Nationalist government. British and American men have remained in barricaded buildings awaiting the subsidence of Chinese hostilities. They abandoned their business houses and homes largely in the concessions, after sending their women and children to Shanghai, 585 miles down the Yangtse river.

Minister Stopped

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Increasing gravity of the spreading anti-foreign movement in China was reflected today in the disclosure that United States Minister McMurray had been stopped by a cablegram in Korea on his way to Washington and ordered back to Peking, and by the announcement that the detachment of United States marines at Guam had been ordered to the Philippines to be nearer the scene of disorder.

Missionaries Leave

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Evacuation of foreigners from Chinese interior cities is proceeding rapidly.

Mother in Toronto Sees Movies of Son Negotiating Dangerous Catalina Swim

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—While moving pictures of her son's courageous struggle to conquer the San Pedro channel were being shown in a local theater tonight, Mrs. Jennie Young, mother of George Young, swimming marvel, sat in the theater and heard thousands of their townspeople cheer themselves hoarse. Before the pictures of the swim were flashed on the screen, the manager had announced that Mrs. Young was in the theater and a wild burst of enthusiasm broke out, while the swimmer's mother stood in the box and bowed in gracious recognition.

Admiral C. W. Williams, commander to the Asiatic fleet reported to the navy department today. The missionaries who are evacuating the interior, it was said, are sending word to those left behind to follow immediately.

The detachment of United States marines at Guam has been ordered from the Philippines to nearer China in case there is need for it in the civil war zone.

RAILWAY SHARES SHOW ACTIVITY

Wheeling and Lake Erie Issues Outstanding; Baldwin Rallies; Industrials Lose

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Strength and activity of the low-priced railroad shares, particularly those with merger prospects, featured today's irregular stock market. Opposing speculative forces continued to struggle for control of the price movement in the industrials, with neither side being able to gain any decided advantage.

While tere probably was some speculative disappointment over the failure of the New York Federal Reserve bank to decrease its rediscount rate, a lowering of call money rates tended to create bullish enthusiasm.

Wheeling and Lake Erie issues were the outstanding features in the railroad division, the common jumping over 6 points, to 41⅞, and the preferred over 4 points, to 63, the highest prices since they were listed in 1917. The fact that brokers who previously acted for the Van Sweringens were heavy buyers of both stocks led to rumors that the road was to be included in the revised Nickel Plate consolidation plan, but these lacked confirmation from responsible sources.

Baldwin rallied 2½ points, but United States Steel common, American Can, Allied Chemical, Mack Truck, Radio Corporation and several other recognized industrial leaders lost ground, the losses as a rule being small.

Call money renewed at 4 per cent and held steady at that figure all day.

Time money and commercial paper rates held steady.

Total sales—1,463,200 shares.

FARMERS OPPOSE IMMIGRANT LOANS

Favor National Bank; Back Soldier Settler Revaluation Plans

EDMONTON, Jan. 21. — Resolutions touching upon the vitals of agricultural life in Canada streamed before the closing session of the United Farmers of Alberta annual convention here today, and, despite curtailed discussion, withdrawals and rejections, a great number were consigned to oblivion. In all, more than 100 resolutions were disposed of during the four-day assembly. Efforts to continue the conference for another day met with general disfavor.

Among its closing deeds the convention declared itself in complete opposition to the policy of aiding immigration through provincial or federal loans which were not available to those who had already settled in the Dominion; pledged itself to support soldier settlers in their demands for revaluation of lands now under contract, and voted in favor of establishing a national bank of issue and rediscount.

Earlier in the day the present system of peremptorily ending parliamentary sessions was assailed, and a resolution carried which would compel the prime minister to secure the sanction of a majority in the commons before advising the governor-general to dissolve parliament. Several resolutions of purely provincial interest were indorsed, including one asking for the application of the Alberta Debt Adjustment act to the province at large. The act at present operates only in the southern drought areas.

BOOTLEGGING IS NOT PROTECTED ASSERTS MAYOR

Chief Long Tells Commission Difficulties in Way of Convictions

SHERAN AND MABER LEARN OF POWERS

Former Wants Fairview Patrolled; Meeting on Whole Amicable

Administration of law and order in Nelson was discussed from many angles at the first meeting of the police commission since the civic elections, yesterday afternoon, and when adjournment was finally reached, there was a clear understanding on practically all points between Mayor J. A. McDonald and P. J. Sheran and R. H. Maber, the latter newly elected, and between the full board and Chief of Police Thomas H. Long. Some fireworks was touched off once or twice, but in each case a clearer understanding of varying viewpoints allayed any feeling aroused.

On adjournment, it looked as if Nelson had a police commission that was united in determination to enforce law, maintain order, and serve the citizens as fully as the funds allotted by the city council would allow.

Powers of Individual Commissioners

The principal question discussed was as to the exact powers of individual police commissioners. Commissioner Sheran entered the meeting with the belief that in an emergency an individual commissioner had the right to give instructions to the police.

It was shown to the satisfaction of both commissioners, Sheran and Maber, presently, that the powers of individual commissioners were confined to the board room, and that while the board decided the noture of the instructions to be given to the chief, the actual communicating of the instructions must be through the mayor, as the city's executive officer.

On the other hand, it was made clear that any citizen whatever had the right to draw any situation requiring action to the attention of the police force at any time of the day or night, the commissioners enjoying this right along with their fellow-citizens.

Chief Long declared the public's assistance in this way was always welcomed by the police.

No Ban on Meetings

The power to call meetings of the police commission was likewise vested in the mayor, as chairman of the board, it was shown, but, on the other hand, a majority of the commission could request a meeting, and if the mayor failed to call it within 48 hours, the others could then take action.

Mayor McDonald declared his willingness to call meetings of the commission at any time.

When Commissioner Sheran questioned this, instancing a case last February, when the mayor did not honor such request, the mayor replied that Commissioner Sheran did not come to him, but went to Commissioner J. J. French.

"You may have a meeting once a week, if you like," commented Mayor McDonald, "but you must come to me, as the law prescribes. As long as I am mayor, we are going to do things exactly according to the law, and no other way."

The Decamping Taxi Driver

The two elected commissioners mentioned various matters of the last year in which they thought the police possibly delinquent, or in which they thought an explanation was due.

One of these was the decamping of Merrien Brown, negro taxi driver, while awaiting sentence by Police Magistrate William Brown for the reckless driving that resulted in injuries to Mrs. W. A. Ward of Procter, Mr. Maber raising this.

It was explained that the taxi driver was at liberty by action of the court, and not of the police, and that neither the magistrate nor the police could have anticipated he would have thrown up his occupation and left town to avoid a fine that was not yet imposed. Further, he had only been summonsed, as the offence was not an indictable one.

Commissioner Maber would not concede to this view, but insisted it was the business of the police to have suggested to the magistrate the desirability of detaining the offender.

Various matters raised seemed to be explained to general satisfaction, and the year's police work was more or less reviewed.

Two Hundred Bootleggers?

A traveler who told Commissioner Maber that there were 200 bootleggers in Nelson, and who looked as if he had visited them all, according to the commissioner, was mentioned.

"I know them all," volunteered Chief Long, with a smile.

"If you know them all," commented Commissioner Maber, "it is a wonder that we don't get a little action."

The question of suppressing bootlegging, thus introduced, had quite a run, the chief mentioning several places, and the number of times he had unsuccessfully raided them. He said, while it might be common knowledge that an establishment was bootlegging, the getting of legal evidence to that effect was enormously difficult.

To Commissioner Maber he explained that he did not have to give the bootleggers any notice, or move through the medium of a magistrate's warrant, as the attorney-general had supplied him with a blanket warrant covering this class of offences. He had been unable, however, to induce the attorney-general to similarly equip the other members of the force, but through possession of the warrant he was able to make a raid on any suspected bootlegger at any time of the day or night.

Getting No Protection

Mayor McDonald — The bootleggers are not getting any protection from the police, that I know of.

Commissioner Maber — You know, through what we hear around town, that these people are operating.

Mayor McDonald — In most towns around here you can go into any hotel, and liquor will be put out openly on the bar at your order. We have nothing of that kind here. Anyone who says J. A. McDonald protects bootleggers is mistaken.

Commissioner Sheran — Then I understand you are against bootlegging?

Mayor McDonald—Yes. I am against liquor in every form, and would not allow it at all if I had my way.

The commission unanimously took the view that the motor car asked for by the chief was not needed, as, for any special need he could hire a car and get to the scene expeditiously.

Policing of Fairview was advocated by Commissioner Sheran, who offered a motion for the providing of an officer to patrol that section.

It was pointed out that the hill section was in the same situation as Fairview in regard to police service, and that with one officer on duty at a time, he must give his attention to the business section.

The motion for taking on another officer was not seconded.

Constable's Pay

Commissioner Maber, on learning that Chief Long was paid $175 a month, Sergeant Alex Stewart $145, and Constable Hale $135, expressed the view that the constable had a very disagreeable shift, and might well be paid a little more.

This view found no support for the moment, Commissioner Sheran pointing out that it would be practically impossible to raise the constable without raising the officers above him, too.

On motion of Commissioner Sheran, the commission recommended to the city council that the police be outfitted with new uniforms and footwear.

Also on his motion, the commission adjourned at the call of the mayor, it being decided that this was preferable to fixing precise dates.

MONTREAL COUPLE SUE FOR DAMAGES

Say City Responsible for Child's Death in Montreal Theater Fire

MONTREAL, Jan. 21.—The first legal action by parents whose children died in the fire and panic in the Laurier Palace picture theater started today when Arthur Paul, father of a 12-year-old victim of the same name, notified the city that unless his claim for $1000 for the loss of his child is paid by the city within 30 days, he will sue in the superior court for that amount.

While the city is named as principal defendent in the prospective action the names of Alderman A. A. Desroches and Jules Crepeau, secretary of public works, are listed as codefendants and in a notice containing 17 allegations, the city is held responsible for the boy's death.

GUILTY MANSLAUGHTER

OTTAWA, Jan. 21. — Ronald Cochrane, Montreal, was found guilty today of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Margaret O'Connor, July 11 last. He will be sentenced later.

KOOTENAY LAKE WINTER SERVICE TO START TODAY

Nelson Sees Last of Nasookin Until West Arm Free Again

WILLOW POINT ICE IS CAUSE OF CHANGE

Nasookin Runs Between Kaslo, Procter, Kootenay Landing

When the Nasookin pulls out of Nelson this morning, it will not return to the city until the regular service is resumed.

Announcement was made last night that the Canadian Pacific railway company's winter boat service on Kootenay lake will start today, due to bad ice conditions near Willow Point.

Passengers from Kaslo and points on the upper part of Kootenay lake for Nelson will not arrive until tonight, for the Kuskanook, regular boat between Kaslo and Nelson, will tie up at Procter for the winter, and the passengers will be obliged to wait at Procter until the Crow connection is made.

Tentative Schedule

This is the tentative schedule:

A train will leave Nelson for Procter every morning about 7 o'clock At Procter connection will be made with the Nasookin, which will transport passengers for the east to Kootenay landing to connect with the eastbound train and there it will wait as usual until the Crow connection is made in the afternoon. It will then bring the passengers from the east to Procter, where they will transfer to a train bound for Nelson, arriving here about 7:30 or 8 o'clock at night.

Those going to Kaslo will leave Nelson by train about 5 p.m. This train will connect with the Nasookin at Procter, the boat making the run to Kaslo while westbound passengers are being brought into Nelson.

Nasookin Best in Boats

Leaving Kaslo in the morning, the Nasookin will take passengers from Kaslo and lake points to Procter. Here connection will be made with the train which took eastbound passengers out of Nelson while the Nasookin was running between Kaslo and Procter, and the passengers from Kaslo will come into Nelson, arriving at about 9:30 or 10 o'clock in the morning.

Inability of the wooden Kuskanook to contend with the ice in the West Arm is the reason for the West Arm run being abandoned.

PASHGIAN GOES AFTER CAPITAL FOR GOLDEN AGE

Will Be Away Six Weeks, After Which Development to Be Pushed

Aram Pashgian, secretary of the Golden Age Mining company, leaves this morning to visit his parents in Pasadena, Cal. Before returning, he expects to visit New York and other eastern points throughout the United States, making a special effort to obtain capital for the Golden Age, and other newly acquired properties in British Columbia.

A stop will be made at Portland to consult with E. Terzian, president of the Golden Age, who is also staying over at San Francisco to see his brother who is attending Stamford University.

Mr. Pashgian will be absent some six weeks, when he will again return to take up his duties, at which time it is expected a more vigorous policy of development will be under way at the Golden Age and other holdings of the company.

Short on Cooperation

The Californian goes away with a very high opinion of the possibilities open to capital in British Columbia. At the same time, he thinks it would be much stronger inducement to investors if they were not confronted so frequently with the spirit of noncooperation on the part of those who are apparently interested in mineral holdings. "What is lacking to my mind," said Mr. Pashgian on this point, "is a spirit of cooperation among those claiming to be interested in the advancement of the mining industry."

Bank of Montreal Is Purchaser of Provincial Bonds

VICTORIA, Jan. 21. — Sale of a new $6,000,000 short term bond issue to the Bank of Montreal to yield 4.73 per cent was announced by Hon. J. D. MacLean, minister of finance. The new two-year issue takes the place of a proposed loan of $4,000,000 for 30 years and $2,000,000 for 40 years. The government found the long term security market unsatisfactory and decided, instead, to carry out its refunding operations with a short term issue.

HARDWARE MEN LOSE CONTEST BY FOUR GOALS

Painters and Electricians Win Commercial League Game

Combination, combined with nifty stick handling and solo rushes, aided the Painters and Electricians to defeat the Hardwaremen 6 to 2 in a Commercial league hockey game last night. J. Annable, J. Reardon, E. Murphy and J. Davidson were the outstanding players for the winners, while Joe Ogenski, H. Gillett and E. Stromstead turned in a good game for the boys in the indigestible goods business.
