Sewer Debenture Bylaw Passes; Vote 194 - 41

MAJORITY FIFTY GIVEN TO SEWER MEASURE NELSON

Debenture Bylaw Indorsed by 194 Property Holders 41 Votes Against

EEN DISAPPOINTMENT SMALL NUMBER VOTES

nly 235 of Possible 800; Work to Commence Immediately Says Mayor

Total of 194 property holders who cast their votes in favor of the city of Nelson sewer debenture bylaw yesterday gave the city council power to spend $20,000 on three sewer construction projects.

Only 41 ballots were cast against the bylaw, making a total of 235 votes cast out of a possible 800. There were no spoiled or rejected ballots.

To pass, the bylaw required three-fifths of the total poll, so that 141 favorable votes would have been enough to pass the measure. The result was decisive, in that the bylaw received 53 more favorable votes than were necessary.

LL DISAPPOINTS

"We are more than glad the bylaw assed," commented Mayor R. D. Barnes r the city council, when Returning fficer W. E. Wasson announced the suit of the poll. City Engineer Boyd Affleck would go ahead with the rk at the earliest possible moment, order to get it done before winter, e mayor continued.

"I am very much disappointed in e size of the poll," asserted Mayor arnes. "There should certainly have en a greater number of Nelson propty holders interested in the expendire of $20,000 by the city."

Three projects will be undertaken sting approximately as follows: new wer outlet, $6000; storm sewer, $11,- 0; Innis street storm sewer, $3000.

ORK PROJECTED

A new sewer outlet was made necesry by the plugging with sand and avel of the outlet at the foot of anley street. Due to construction and es of sawdust over the sewer, it was t possible to get at it to clean it . The new outlet will be so conucted that it will be possible to an it out at any time. The Stanley eet outlet has been plugged since y, and a temporary outlet has been use. This, however, was not sufently large to handle spring freshet er as well as sewerage.

The second project, construction of a rm sewer from the city reservoir to tonwood creek, via Observatory eet, is designed to carry off overw water from the reservoir, and to ndle freshet waters of creeks running ough the city. Sand and gravel ried by these creeks was not only ponsible for the plugging of the nley street outlet, but was also aring out the main sewers in the rt of the city, threatening, according to reports of City Engineer Boyd Affleck, disastrous collapse of the ole system.

On Innis street the sewer to be built d replace the open ditch now in use, rying off storm water which is ating a swamp on the north side of is street.

Powder-Magazine in Fort Explodes Taking 54 Lives and Injuring 100; Huge Hole All Is Left of Fort Site

MELILLA, Spanish Morocco, Sept. 26.—The bodies of 54 persons had been recovered tonight from the vicinity of the huge hole in the ground, which was all that marked the site where Fort Cabreriza had stood until the explosion of its powder magazine last night. Most of the dead have been identified. The majority of the injured, who numbered more than 100, were soldiers, as were all the dead. People were just leaving the theaters here when the sky.... became crimson, followed by a tremendous repercussion and a rain of sand. Most of the windows in the city proper, a mile from the fort, were broken. All huts and cottages in the vicinity of the fort were laid in ruins and in the nearby barracks quarter only the walls of the buildings were left standing.

More than a ton of black powder was stored in the magazine when it exploded from an undetermined cause. Taxicabs were pressed into service to carry the injured to hospitals. It was unofficially reported that "heaps" of casualties could be seen being removed from the ruins.

FEDERAL AID IN ROAD WORK IS DISCUSSED

Good Roads Association Has Heavy Final Session at Regina Meet

REGINA, Sept. 26.—Federal aid for highways, building cement bridges and roads, elimination of level crossings, the social side of road building, the financial responsibility urban municipalities in road development, gasoline taxation, winter roads and even moving pictures all had their place on the agenda of the sessions today of the 15th convention of the Canadian Good Roads association. The two sessions held during the day were packed with matters of interest not only to those who are professionally engaged in road development but to the general public and many urban and rural council representatives were seen at each session.

During the afternoon the annual meeting of the association was held at which new officers were elected. Seven invitations were presented for next year's convention meeting place, and while no decision was arrived at, Prince Edward Island would seem to be in favor with the delegates.

In addition to the chief officers elected the following were appointed as the board of directors: J. L. Boulanger, deputy minister of highways, Quebec; J. G. Calder, Saskatoon; J. A. Cunningham, efficiency engineer C.P.R., Montreal; W. Finlay, Toronto; R. A. C. Henry, bureau of economics, Canadian National railways, Montreal; T. J. Mahoney, Hamilton, Ont.; Col. P. R. McIntyre, P.E.I.; R. M. Small, Ontario; and S. W. Hobart, Toronto.

Thomas said his campaign has been successful from the Socialists' standpoint.

Fire Burns 2000 Homes in Hankow; 7000 Are Homeless

SHANGHAI, Sept. 26.—Historic Hankow, scene of frequent fighting and disorder in China's long history¼ has been visited by another tragedy, this time by fire in the native city with the destruction of 2000 houses and shops on one of the principal streets.

Seven bodies had been recovered today and it was feared that many people were drowned when they jumped into ponds to escape the flames. At least 7000 persons were homeless.

The fire started in a gambling den yesterday morning and spread rapidly. The headquarters of nine rickshaw companies were destroyed and it was reported that 700 rickshaws were burned, thus virtually wiping out the city's rickshaw transportation system.

BRITISH TORIES IN CONVENTION

Total of 6400 Delegates Will Meet at Yarmouth; Get Ready For Election

YARMOUTH, England, Sept. 26.—The first move in a nationwide campaign for the forthcoming British general election, when Premier Stanley Baldwin and his government appeal to the British voters for another five years' mandate, will be made here tomorrow when 6400 delegates, a record gathering of its kind, go into conference to hammer out a platform.

Within a month from now Conservatives and Labor,, by means of their annual conference, will determine the issues upon which they will wage the biggest party struggle since the great war.

The most intense fights are expected on tariff questions, the extension of protective measures by means of safeguarding of industries by special import duties.

British political strategists are getting ready to adopt new means and methods of appealing to the public.

Close watch is kept on the rapid development of wireless and talking movies. "Talkies" are being made of Baldwin and other political leaders; motor cars and trucks with the latest broadcasting apparatus made ready for swift campaign through the country districts. The hunt for party songs is on and again the Conservatives are in the lead with song sheets already issued.

The vote was: Sir Walter Preston, Conservative, 10,438; Sir John Brunner, Liberal, 6678; Florence Waddowson, Labor, 3963.

By the result the Conservative party more than held its own against the assault of the Liberal and Labor candidates.

Today's election was the first three-cornered election in Cheltenham.

MINISTER SAYS QUESTION WILL BE UP IN HOUSE

Proposal For Increase Should Be Given Careful Attention, Says Lougheed

INCOME FROM TAX THIS YEAR IS ON INCREASE

Minister Would Like to Find Way to Make Trucks Pay Higher Taxation

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 26.—"The public works department has been making some inquries into the revenue obtained from the existing three-cent gas tax. I consider that proposals to increase the gasoline tax should be given careful attention," declared Hon. N. S. Lougheed, minister of public works, today.

Hon. Mr. Lougheed denied having given support to proposals to increase the tax by an additional three cents per gallon. "The suggestion has been made to me, but I have expressed no opinion other than agreement that an enlarged income from the gasoline tax would enable motorists to earlier enjoy a greater mileage of better highways," he said.

Hon. Mr. Lougheed stated that he expected the question of an increase in the gas tax would be brought before the next session of the legislature when the estimates were under discussion.

The income from the gasoline tax is this year expected to amount to more than $900,000, the receipts to the end of August having been $631,216.33. For the whole of the year 1927 the revenue was $7,568.53. The first year of the gasoline tax was 1924 when the province received $452,137 from the motorists.

"Operators of trucks obtain the greatest benefits from the highway system of the province, and there is apparently no alternative to the gas tax as a means to get from this class of traffic a greater contribution to the cost. This fact has frequently been pointed out to me, especially at the Good Roads league convention," said Mr. Lougheed.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Sept. 26.—The mother of a 17-year-old Regina boy, who has been following the youth from place to place from the western city for the past 10 days, was rewarded by meeting her son here last night and is today returning home with him.

The local police received word from Toronto yesterday that he might be here. They found him canvassing from house to house for a hosiery concern. Lacking a charge on which to hold the youth, the police were able to entertain him sufficiently until the mother reached the police station. After her arrival a reunion was speedily affected. Police refused to divulge the names of mother and son.

REGINA, Sept. 26.—Elimination of the double crossings over railroads on the main highways of Canada is forecast by an announcement to the Canadian Good Roads association, now in convention in Regina, by Hon. T. C. Norris, recently appointed to the board of railway commissioners.

Mr. Norris' statement was to the following effect:

1. That the board of railway commissioners will give a broader interpretation to the act respecting the railway grade crossing fund.

2. That by legislative enactment at the last session of the Dominion parliament the board may utilize 40 per cent of the total amount of the fund up to $100,000.

3. That the board will work in conjunction with all organized bodies interested in the development of good roads and the removal of the level crossing.

SEEK WITNESS IN MURDER CHARGE

Salvation Army Official Will Be Called in Booher Case, Edmonton

EDMONTON, Sept. 26.—With another confession apparently in the offing, the trial of Vernon Booher, for the Manville murders of July 9, was adjourned until Thursday morning, on Wednesday afternoon in order to allow the crown time to find Adjutant Stewart of the Edmonton Salvation Army, for whom a subpoena was issued at noon on Wednesday, but who could not be found during the afternoon.

Anticipating that the missing witness could give evidence as to a confession by Booher, Neil MacLean, K.C., defence counsel, entered a plea to have him barred on the grounds that a spiritual adviser could not make public confessions made to him. Chief Justice Simmons overruled this, however, and stated that he would adjourn until the witness was found.

Algertha and Dorothy Booher, sisters of the accused, were the only witnesses examined this afternoon. Their evidence was that they knew of no trouble between Vernon and his mother or Fred. Both agreed that the family harbored no ill-will toward the Miss McMillan with whom Booher was keeping company. In chief, their evidence was the same as they gave at the preliminary hearing.

Unfavorable News From Northwest Is Sent to Mr. Hoover

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—A decidedly unfavorable report of the political situation in the northwestern wheat belt was brought to Herbert Hoover today by Senator Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota, after the Republican presidential candidate had received encouraging news from such widely separated states as Wyoming and Florida.

Frazier, a Republican member of the progressive group in the senate, who has indorsed Hoover's candidacy, said that the situation in North Dakota was far from satisfactory and that there was much discontent among the farmers. He added that his information was that a similar situation exists in South Dakota, Montana and Minnesota.

"There is likely to be a big protest vote in my state," he said, after the conference with the nominee. "The Republicans have been promising farm relief for years and with my people farm relief is hand and mouth the McNary bill.

"I do not say the Democrats will carry the state, but with wheat prices very low I do not know."

ONE MAN KILLED IN HOLLINGER EXPLOSION

TIMMINS, Ont., Sept. 26.—One man, Duncan McLeod, was killed, and three others injured, in an explosion in the Hollinger mine today. The men were included in a party of 10 operating drills in the deepening of what is known as the Schumacher drift.

EXPENDITURES OF LEAGUE ARE DECLARED HIGH

Delegates State Views at Wind-Up Session; Budget Approved

GENEVA, Sept. 26.—A warning that while the League of Nations is firmly established in Europe its position in Asia is not assured was given the delegates of the League of Nations assembly during its closing moments today by Earl of Lytton, British statesman, who spoke for India. The delegates of 50 nations, who started for their homelands tonight with the ninth assembly a matter of history, were plainly thoughful as the result of his speech.

The earl scored the tendency of the league to place no limits on its expenditures and demanded that more attention be paid to questions outside of Europe and that there be greater collaboration between Europe and Asia.

While digesting this warning, the delegates were cognizant of press messages from Buenos Ayres, reporting that the Argentine parliament had voted to suppress the league dues and thereby implied complete separation from the league.

BUDGET APPROVED

The budget was approved by the assembly, an analysis of the voting showing that 16 members favored it, including Great Britain and Canada. Six countries opposed the increased budget, including India and New Zealand. The assembly adjourned with evidence that disarmament continues the biggest problem of the league and with fears privately voiced that little progress can be expected in the reduction of armaments for the near future.

In his valedictory address to the assembly, President Zahale, Danish minister to Germany, expressed the conviction that during the coming year arbitration and conciliation will make further triumphant progress.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Rev. W. E. Pietsch of Los Angeles, who came to England to combat Aimee Semple McPherson, opened his campaign with the heaviest guns to a large congregation. He announced her as a "fraud."

He also referred to her disappearance and her appearance with a story that she had been kidnaped.

He called Mrs. McPherson a wrecker of homes and declared that the British should refuse her permission to enter the country.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Two small sons of a Chicago banker were missing today from the Todd school at Woodstock, Ill., a private academy.

The boys, who disappeared following the noon recess, yesterday, were Robert Spring, 11, and Joseph, 8.

Death at Hands of Persons Unknown Is Jury Verdict at Coast

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26.—That Peter Azoff, 35, whose body was found last Saturday night in the bush near Maillardville, met "death from violence at the hands of a person or persons unknown," was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury that investigated his death today. Azoff, a Powell River logger, had been visiting in Vancouver. No arrests have been made.

RUSH OF WATER INTO SEAPLANE WAS TERRIFIC

Godfrey and Companions Were Swept to Back of Plane in Wreck

FIRST OF AVIATORS REACH CIVILIZATION

Say Lucky Escape With Lives; Smoke Was Dense; Saved Equipment

EDMONTON, Sept. 26.—Swept into the back of the machine by the rush of water when their big Fairchild seaplane crashed in a dence smoke bank on the Peace River a week ago, Comander E. A. Godfrey and his three companions on the Vancouver-to-Ottawa flight narrowly escaped losing their lives. This is revealed by the descriptions of what occurred as related by Wing Commander L. S. Breadner, who with Wing Commander Lindsay Gordon, arrived here from the north on Wednesday evening. Both were on the ill-fated machine at the time while the fourth member was Sergeant Major Graham.

The big seaplane now lies a total wreck in 25 feet of water, but efforts are now being made to salvage the engine. It is expected that Commander Godfrey and Sergeant Major Graham will be successful in this operation and will return with the engine which will be brought to Edmonton and then shipped to whatever point is ordered. In all likelihood these two officers will arrive at Edmonton in about 10 days.

WILL CARRY ON

The officers were taken to a local hospital where they proceeded to make arrangements at once to leave for Prince Albert, where they expect to obtain another airplane in order to continue inspections of forestry and civil aviation facilities.

Practically the whole story of what happened has been told already, said Wing Comander J. Breadner, referring to despatches from the north after word of the accident had been received.

Dense smoke fom bush fires, raging along the Peace River about 200 miles below the town and in the vicinity of Keg river, was responsible for the accident, according to the flyers. Conditions were so bad that it was decided to land on the river, a rise being difficult and dangerous owing to the high banks of 500 feet or more, while the numerous bends in the river also made it hazardous to operate the machine under such conditions of poor visibility.

"Owing to the heavy smoke, we could not see in order to flatten out," said Comander Breadner. "The first thing we knew was that we had crashed on the water."

PLANE BROKEN

The force of the impact stove in the bottom of the plane and there was aninstantaneous rush of water that carried the flyers all back to the end of the plane. Prompt action was taken by Wing Commander Gordon who opened a door and the men were enabled to climb to the floats. One of these however, got stuck in the mud while the other came to the surface. This was at least 100 feet from shore before it stopped drifting.

First to make the attempt to reach shore was Sergeant Major Graham, but he found this impossible owing to the soft river bed. Later, however, Commander Godfrey and Sergeant Graham managed to make shore by utilizing a line. By diving into the wreckage Commander Godfrey and Breadner managed to salvage kit rolls and other equipment.

Seeing a man on the opposite bank the flyers endeavored to attract his attention but without success. It was some time afterwards that he did come over to them and gave the required help.

"It took us four and a half days to cover the distance on the return trip by boat that we had previously done by seaplane in two hours, observed Commander Breadner.

"The trip to the north is off for this season," he declared. He explained that the purpose had been to do certain photographic work and obtain other information for the government.

FERNIE TRUSTEES URGE GOVERNMENT BE SUPPLY AGENT

Cost High School Books High; Suggest Government Buy, Sell at Cost

FERNIE, B.C., Sept. 26.—The monthly meeting of the Fernie school board was held in the council chamber Tuesday evening. Trustees Herchmer, Assiestaine, Phillips, Perry and Cummings were present.

Mr. Auld's resignation and Miss R. Caufield's appointment on the teaching staff were confirmed.

The boiler inspector's report, which was read, stated that the school boilers were in good condition.

The fire chief recommended the purchase of 200 feet of hose to add to the present equipment in the Central school. The secretary was instructed to purchase this amount of hose.

Trustee Philips reported the need of repairs to the annex school foundation and the board authorized the necessary work.

The secretary reported that 10 pupils in the fourth year high had paid in fees for the fall term a total of $622.50, and seven out-of-town pupils in other grades had paid $200 in fees.

HIGH COST BOOKS

Discussion arose over the high cost to parents of school books. It was suggested that the school department at Victoria might act as purchasing and distributing agent for school books, and thereby lower the cost. The item of school books and school supplies meant a heavy charge on parents where families are large and incomes limited, it was pointed out.

The Fernie school board at present is buying many of the pupils' school supplies wholesale and selling them to the pupils at cost.

The possibility of night school classes in domestic science was discussed. A number have signified a desire to take this course if a teacher could be procured. Mrs. Pearce, who is in charge of the department in the day school, is to be consulted on this matter.

The monthly salary list, amounting to $4904, was passed.

"Canada Dry,"
of connoisseurs

"CANADA DRY" is served at the embassies in Washington. It is served at the Savoy in London . . . at St. Moritz . . . in tens of thousands of homes in the Dominion. There must be some reason for this universal appeal.

"Canada Dry" is made from pure Jamaica ginger and other absolutely pure ingredients! It is blended with a care and skill which come from generations of makers.

This is really the reason for the distinction of "Canada Dry." The result? A really fine ginger ale which you can distinguish from all others as you distinguish a rare old wine. No wonder it is drunk wherever distinguished people gather! No wonder you will want to serve it to lend that final note of elegance to your dinners! No wonder it mixes well with other beverages.

HONOR KIMBERLEY FOOTBALL PLAYERS BANQUET AT TRAIL

Present Blaylock Cup to Tunnel Eleven For Kootenay Championship

WEST KOOTENAY MEDALS PRESENTED TO TRAIL

Speakers Declare Game Was Good; Musical Program Is Provided

TRAIL, B. C., Sept. 26.—Officially opening the monster banquet in honor of the Kimberley soccer team and other guests in I. O. O. F. hall this evening, W. Wagstaff congratulated both teams on their wonderful showing this afternoon, following "O Canada" and a well prepared four-course supper, and concluded by calling on J. Buchanan to take the chair for the remainder of the program.

A friendly spirit prevailed between guests and hosts which increased as the evening progressed and light banter flowed freely both from the "stage" and across the tables. A variety of musical selections, comic songs and speeches formed the program which was of the highest order.

PRESENT CUP.

Calling on T. Hotchkiss, captain of the Kimberley eleven, S. G. Blaylock presented the Blaylock sup, which represents soccer supremecy in the Kootenays, stating the game this afternoon was a game to be proud of. Things looked even for a time, he concluded, but the victor's reserve was noticeably shown. Carefully receiving the cup Mr. Hotchkiss stated it was becoming a regular event and hoped there would be more to come, after which the cup was inspected.

Mr. Reeves rendered a number of songs which were heartily encored.

VOTE OF THANKS

Johnny Taylor in a short address extended a hearty vote of thanks to the Trail club for the wonderful treatment the Kimberley boys had received and assured their hosts that Kimberley was looking forward to repaying the compliment next year. He had made the trip, he stated, when he was told by Mr. Lindsay to come over and bring the cup back. Mr. Taylor then entertained the listeners with a comic song and ended with a few amusing incidents which kept his audience in a continuous roar of laughter.

In proposing the toast to the visitors, W. Burnip declared the game was one of the best he had ever had the pleasure of refereeing and stated that although the Tunnel team was better, the Trail lads should have had two goals. In reply Mr. Cleve of Kimberley stated that he was happy is being able to assist in bringing the cup back and proposed a toast to the host.

MAKE HIT.

Songs given by F. Deluce of Kimberley made a successful hit and demanded an encore. A. Taylor, appearing in a top hat and swallow tail, rendered a song and dance which drew rounds of applause.

Assuring his listeners that the Trail Amateur Athletic association had supported football in Trail and had benefitted by it, E. Mason offered a toast to the association which was instantly responded to. P. McIntyre declared today's game was as good as the finals of British Columbia two years ago and added that the T. A. A. A. was making it its purpose to further soccer and other sports in Trail with the object of bringing on junior players.

CONGRATULATE TEAMS.

Speaking on behalf of the East Kootenay Amateur Athletic association and replying to Mr. Mason's toast, E. E. Montgomery congratulated both teams. Football in Kimberley, he asserted, was now strictly amateur. It was his impression the cup would stay in Kimberley for another year, he added, and asked G. Murray to reply.

P. Corrigan of the Tunnel eleven assisted with a song which was wonderfully executed.

GOOD SOCCER.

Declaring that the brand of soccer that he had witnessed today was up to the British Columbia finals since 1918, Mr. Hawkington, a former executive of a Vancouver club, who was asked to present medals to members of the West Kootenay winners, donated by W. R. Thomson of Nelson, who was unable to attend, assured the two teams they would do well to end up in the British Columbia finals next year. Medals were presented to C. Cooper, Trails' captain; M. Marshall, J. Kitchins, J. Thompson, H. Barr, T. Smith, W. Ross, J. Ferguson, J. McVie, T. Laurie, T. Minto and J. Lipp.

The program was completed with comic songs rendered by Mr. Allan and G. Scott, which were well received. Mr. Allan, who appeared as an elderly lady, delighted his audience with a variety of expressions.

THANK BAND.

In concluding Mr. Buchanan extended a vote of thanks to members of the Elks band, who ably assisted in making the day a success which will long be remembered both in Trail and Kimberley.

The committee accountable for the success of the banquet were J. Thompson, J. Harwood, A. Creighton, W. Robertson and S. J. Minton. The supper was arranged for through the courtesy of members of Lady Adinah Rebekah lodge No. 8.

TRAIL FOOTBALL REPS DOWNED BY KIMBERLEY TEAM

Tunnel Championship Team Forces Trail Eleven Accept 3-0 Defeat

THREE TO FOUR HUNDRED FANS SEE TITLE BATTLE

Smith, Jackson and Nee Score; Blaylock Starts the Ball Rolling

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 26.—The Kimberley Tunnel soccer team, champions of eastern British Columbia and Alberta, added another laurel to their list here this afternoon when they defeated a representative team from the city league to the tune of 3-0 at Butler park, before some 300 to 400 fans. Kimberley retains the Blaylock cup, title emblem.

The fun started shortly before 4 o'clock when the Elks band struck up a snappy march at the corner of Spokane street and Bay avenue. They paraded to the grounds where they gave selections before the game and during half time.

Kicking the ball to the Trail players, a few minutes after 4 o'clock, S. G. Blaylock "started the ball rolling". Both forward lines dug in right from the start, but within a few minutes the Kimberley line broke through and intimated to Marshall that the game was on. Trail lads retaliated quickly and broke through, but were checked when then encountered the Tunnel defence. During the next few minutes Kimberley had a slight edge and continued to break through, but could not score.

FIRST GOAL

The visitors' first real chance came after 20 minutes of play when, following a scrimmage in front of the Trail goal, Smith, Tunnel's speedy center, shot the pigskin behind Marshall from close in on the left.

The Trail boys stepped out for the remainder of the half and made several real attempts, but failed to disturb Hotchkiss in the visitors' goal.

Delves, Kimberley outside right, surprised the onlookers several times with his snappy footwork in receiving passes.

At the start of the second stanza both teams came on the field determined to start something—the local lads to break down the lead, and the Kimberley boys to increase it. The Kimberley boys were a little more sure of themselves in this half and with superior individual and combination attacks held the ball well down the field.

SCORE FROM CORNER

At 25 minutes the visitors received a corner kick. It was taken by Jackson, who, with a little head work, slid the ball past Marshall.

The last tally, made in the last few minutes of play, was chalked up when Nee received the ball a few yards in front of the goal and shot a low twister which went home.

The teams were:

Kmberley—Hotchkiss, goal; Corrigan and R. Lilley, backs; G. Scott, D. Nee and W. Faulds, halves; F. Deluce, J. McFarlane, A. Creen, D. Smith and S. Jackson, forwards.

Trail—M. Marshall, goal; W. Cooper and J. Kitchen, backs; J. Thompson, H. Barr and J. Laurie, halves; W. Ross, J. Ferguson, E. Bowkett, T. Laurie and D. Minto, forwards. D. Stiles, reserve.

Referee—W. Burnip.

Advancing Metal Prices Are Good News

Metal prices are much better, which is pretty pleasant news for British Columbia.

Copper is higher than for many years, silver is on the upgrade and lead is in advance of the price of some months ago.

Every fraction of an increase in metal prices means a great deal to the mining industry of this province and to that of this district particularly.

Making Sure of the Facts Before Settling P. G. E. Policy

Premier Tolmie has the right idea with regard to the P. G. E. He first of all insists on an inspection by members of the cabinet, members of the legislature and business men whose advice might be of value.

Then he intends to make a complete survey of the situation. He wants to make sure that the policy to be carried out will prove to be sound and is not neglectful of the fact that decisions reached concerning the railway during his regime will affect British Columbia for many years to come.

The public wants a solution but it will agree with Dr. Tolmie that the government's first job is to make sure it is right before going ahead.

Cement Streets Create Good Impression

Nelson's cement streets are an asset in more senses than one.

They will cut street maintenance costs, insofar as the blocks affected are concerned, to practically nothing. They immeasurably add to the appearance of the city and they create the best of impressions on the minds of visitors.

The success of the cement street laying program of last year should encourage us to proceed with the object ultimately of cementing the surface of every street over which much traffic passes.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

Gall Bladder Indigestion

Perhaps you are a sufferer with pains in the abdomen, and after deciding that these are not simple gas pains, your doctor has in mind a chronic appendix, or a chronic inflammation of the gall bladder. That fullness after meals, gas distension, more or less stomach discomfort, amounting sometimes to actual pain, is known as gall bladder dyspepsia.

Dr. Jno. B. Deaver says that "it is a well established fact that, next to chronic appendicitis, chronic disease of the gall bladder is the most common cause of pain in the region of the stomach. I have spoken before of the Graham-Cole method of diagnosing gall bladder trouble by means of a dye. The dye shows up the gall bladder by the use of the X-ray, and if it is in proper position, has no irregularities in outline, it is considered normal.

Dr. Moynihan, the British surgeon, says that if the dye does not show in the shadow of the gall bladder, if the shadow shows irregularities, or if the shadow is late in appearing after the dye is taken, that the gall bladder should be removed.

Now while there are a great many people living who have had the gall bladder removed, you can avoid any need for such an operation by watching what to eat so as to prevent discomfort.

Greasy, heavy, or very acid foods will cause an uneasiness in the stomach, and is a direct command to you to avoid pork, liver, goose, duck, oysters, and shell fish, rich soups, cabbage, cauliflower, sauerkraut, raw vegetables, onions, berries, figs, nuts, sweets, pie, fats and oils, and alcohol.

You may eat green vegetables, asparagus, spinach, peas, some potatoes, cooked breakfast foods, fresh meat, white fish, eggs in moderation, small amount of butter, toast, bread, lettuce, plain cake, puddings, grapefruit, oranges.

Further, as mentioned so often before, if you will keep your liver stirred up by a little daily exercise you will not only keep free from gall bladder indigestion, but can eat just about anything you like.

It is often convenient to know how to waterproof various articles.

To Waterproof Boots—Mix three parts of melted tallow with seven parts neatsfoot oil and apply this mixture to the seam with a paint brush and to the soles and uppers with a woolen cloth. Another way to waterproof boots is to stand them in a shallow pan containing a little boiled linseed oil (do not try to boil linseed oil at home, as it may catch fire). Of course this oil should not be deep enough to rise above the soles. Rub castor oil into the uppers with a piece of woolen cloth, and go over all the seams with a small paint brush dipped in the best copal or spar varnish. Repeat the oil application from time to time and give the edges and bottoms of the soles a coat of varnish every three months. Such boots will not only last longer but will be proof against rain and dampness.

To Waterproof Pottery—How often we housewives find that the inside glaze of a pottery flower bowl or vase is imperfect, so that it leaves a ring of moisture on the table on which it stands! When this is the case, warm the pottery with hot water and wipe dry. Then at once pour into it a few spoonfuls of melted paraffin and turn and tip the vessel till the whole interior is coated. You can now fill it with water without fear of moisture coming through the pottery.

To Waterproof Wall Paper—If the kitchen or bathroom have been hung with ordinary wall paper, this paper can be made waterproof by giving it a thin coat of spar varnish.

To Waterproof Woolens—In three gallons of water dissolve four ounces of powdered alum and four and one-half ounces of sugar of lead (poison). Stir twice a day for two days. Then carefully pour off the clear liquid and stir in one-fourth ounce of isinglass dissolved in a little warm water. Steep the cloth or garment in this solution for about six hours, then hang on the line to drip till dry.

Tomorrow—Honey Brown Bread.

SOCIETY

This column is conducted by Mrs. M. J. Vigneux. All news of a social nature, including receptions, private entertainments, personal items, marriages, etc., will appear in this column. Telephone Mrs. Vigneux at her home on Silica street.

Last evening at 7 o'clock a very charming wedding took place when Catherine Farquhar, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Stark, was given in marriage by her father to Louis M. J. Choquette, youngest son of L. H. Choquette, with Rev. R. K. McIntyre officiating. The bride made a dainty figure in a blue two-toned crepe romaine frock, finished with an elaborate brilliant buckle, a charming small hat of bright marine blue velvet with combination of tapestry, ribbon and rhinestone trimming and carried an exquisite shower of Ophelia roses. Miss Beatrice Ebbs as bridesmaid looked a picture in a mauve creation of georgette made in uneven hem style trimmed with deeper shaded velvet and gold lace yoke. Her hat was a becoming tam-poque in tones of light tobacco brown and beige. The groom was supported by his brother, Ludger (Jay) Choquette. At the Stark home on Silica street a well arranged reception was held, Mrs. Stark receiving the guests in a gown of navy crepe romaine with a collar and jabot of ecru lace and wore a corsage of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Choquette left on the coast train for Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and Spokane, where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will make their home at 707 Silica street. To travel, Mrs. Choquette, who previous to her marriage was the guest of honor at several showers and social gatherings, selected a two-toned sport dress of brown and beige kasha cloth. Her top coat also matched her imported hat of felt in sand color with combination of black hatters' plush. The dining table, which was artistically arranged in a color scheme of pink and white streamers, was centered with a huge wedding cake on a Ceylon linen centerpiece surrounded with white tulle and asparagus fern. Pale pink tall tapers in silver holders were at the four corners. Here Mrs. R. D. Barnes and Mrs. J. Will presided over the tea and coffee urns, while Mrs. George Clerihew cut the ices. Acting as serviteurs were Miss Maud Simons, the Misses Evelyn and Helen Jeffs, Miss Dorothy Wright, Miss Jessie Croll, Mrs. Charles Bland of Bonnington. Among those invited were Mr. and Mrs. B. Big Game

By VIDA HURST

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

MONA DARIEN is thrilled when suddenly kissed by a stranger at a masked ball. She becomes angry when, as she removes her mask, the stranger apologizes, adding that he thought her to be someone else. She recognizes him as—

BRUCE BERLON, fiance of her best friend—

MABEL WALER, a spoiled girl of today, who said Bruce would be unable to attend the ball on account of business. Mabel had threatened to cancel the engagement because of Bruce's inability to attend. On Bruce's arrival, however, she forgets and enthusiastically praises him to Mona and—

RUTH MOREHOUSE, their mutual friend. Meanwhile—

JOHNNIE MERRIL, who escorted Mona to the dance, protests against her being seen so much with Dan McIntyre, who has figured in two divorce suits. Mona laughs at him and dreams of Bruce. Mabel and Bruce wed, and Mabel insists on a fine apartment near the lake. Mona suggests a party at Neacock Inn. There she sees her father, Joshua Darien, with a young girl and is told to "forget" it. Mabel succeers in getting Bruce to rent a high-priced apartment. Mona's father's girl companion appears at the house and demands an interview with him. Mona sends her away. Mabel goes to Chicago and Bruce professes his love for Mona as the pair attend a picnic. They meet at lunch later, and Mabel, returning, hears about it. Mona is lectured for flirting by Dr. Jim Sampson. Her father's girl companion of the roadhouse returns and demands money. Mona gives her a coat.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

Mona returned to the living room thoughtfully. Wondering with the little stabs of pain what she would do if she was penniless in Minneapolis. Rosalie's colorless face haunted her, but there had been something repellent about her, too. Something whiningly contemptible.

"She's too sorry for herself," decided Mona.

If Rosalie were a competent stenographer, why couldn't she obtain a position? The question was worthy of consideration. Mona had given her a coat, had even in that last moment slipped another bill into her hand.

Receiving in contrast with the former occasion, no thanks. Rosalie's snarl had reminded her of a little wild animal.

Mona realized now that the fact that she had helped Rosalie once would lead to endless future petitions.

Also she had deliberately disobeyed her father. She wished she had never encouraged the girl to talk with her.

But oh, how dreadful to know there was nobody back of you. No one in all the world who cared whether you lived or died.

Shuddering, she resumed her chair by the fire. The room was orderly and warm, scented with the crisp freshness of early chrysanthemums.

Crowded with the trifles which make life interesting and comfortable.

How dreary it would be to exist without any of these things.

Yet somewhere on the street was a girl who had never known the pleasure of any of them!

Who hadn't even enough to wear. No doubt there were many like her. But what could Mona do about it?

She subscribed out of her allowance to the Associated Charities.

Even helped on their annual drive. She had always understood that poverty and vice existed among certain classes, and that one person couldn't do a great deal to change conditions.

Rosalie, however, was too definite a problem to be pitied and shrugged aside. Besides in some obscure, half-ashamed fashion, Mona felt responsible for her.

"I must help her, some way," she determined.

While she was pondering, the telephone rang, and on answering she was surprised to hear Bruce's voice.

"H'lo! What are you doing?"

"Reforming the world," she sighed.

"What?"

"Oh, just wondering how I can find a position for a poor girl who needs work."

An idea came to her.

"I don't suppose you have a vacancy for a stenographer?"

"They might be able to use her in the office. I suppose she has references?"

Mona hesitated.

"I really don't know. She's worked for my father." "Well, if he recommends her."

"But, Bruce," protested Mona. "You mustn't ask him anything. He doesn't approve of my helping her."

"I don't understand."

"Oh, darling, does it matter? She needs work so terribly."

"But, Mona, I wouldn't want to get her into the office if there is anything wrong."

"I don't see why. If she can do the work I should think that would be all that matters."

Bruce laughed.

"You're in dead earnest about it aren't you? See here, I'll be thinking about it. And will let you know if there is anything I can do."

"Thanks, old thing. If you could see her."

Suddenly it occurred to her that he had seen Rosalie dancing with her father. Would he remember?

"I've been working at the office all evening," Bruce continued. "We parted so violently last night I thought I'd better call and say goodnight."

Oh, Bruce, as if an explanation of your call were necessary!

"I took Mabel for a ride this afternoon," Mona said. "I think she's feeling better."

"I'm awfully sorry about it. Honestly, I forgot I had that dance."

In some way the image of Mabel had pushed between them. Mona wished she hadn't mentioned her. Yet there she was, swathed in chiffon as as she had been that afternoon crying.

"I don't see how anyone can be so mean."

"She'll come out of it," comforted Mona. "Don't feel too badly."

"I feel like a brute," Bruce said.

Silence, with Mona gripping the telephone to keep from crying.

"Well, good night, Mona!"

"Good night," she said.

Sweet, old Bruce! Bewildered and lost in his attempt to be a husband. Wondering why he was everlastingly at fault. Sickened and discouraged by his repeated failures to please a wife no man living could have pleased.

Mona picured the contrast if he were married to her.

What happiness she could give him! What peace! When he came home tired or worried, she would let him sit by the fire and read.

Not be "picking" at him over trifles! Mabel talked every moment Bruce was in the apartment.

If she wasn't nagging she was vivaciously relating the details of her day. Mona would offer him the gift of silence.

It was silence Bruce craved. She knew, because she loved him.

At the same moment Bruce was sitting before a paper-strewn desk, dreading to go home.

The possibility of another scene sapped his courage. Unconsciously longing for sympathy he had called Mona.

But the sound of her voice instead of soothing him had made him rebellious.

Why had he hazarded his whole future by marrying the wrong girl?

How could he have been so mistaken? Bruce did not enjoy his work in Minneapolis as he had in Chicago.

He missed the contacts to which he had been accustomed in the larger city. His mental perturbation and the increasing irritation of life with Mabel kept his nerves on edge.

He was rather sickeningly conscious that in time this would affect his ability.

Yet because he felt he must in some way be lacking or at fault, perhaps, because of his secret, reluctant love for Mona, he considered himself more than ordinarily bound.

A failure as a husband he might be, but he would never desert a responsibility he had of his own accord undertaken.

Feeling physically and spiritually drained he locked the papers in his desk and started for home.

He found Mabel asleep. Her lashes lay heavily against her faintly colored skin. Her lips were parted. One hand snuggled beneath her cheek.

"Poor little thing," thought Bruce.

After all, marriage had been even more disillusioning to her.

He had often heard it jokingly said that the "first year was the hardest." Was it perhaps true that every couple had to pass through a period of adjustment and discontent? Perhaps if he would try very hard. Forget Mona and devote every effort to pleasing his little wife.

Softened and stirred as he had not been in weeks, Bruce leaned down to press his lips to the flushed cheek.

Mabel's eyes flew open.

"Well. What's the idea? Waking me after I had finally succeeded in going to sleep? When you know what a hectic time I had last night, I should think you'd be more considerate. Honestly you're so selfish. I suppose it would simply never enter your head that I am exhausted."

"I didn't intend to waken you," Bruce said, all stiff and self-conscious again. "I'm sorry!"

"You would be sorry after it's too late. You do the weirdest things, then think if you say you're sorry that's all that's necessary."

Bruce retired to the dressing room but as it was impossible to close the door Mabel was still able to "carry on."

"I was talking to Mona today. She thinks I ought to change doctors. Dr. Morehouse is so old fashioned."

"That's for you to decide."

"Well, I've got to do something. You know, Bruce, I'm not at all well, I feel so weak and funny."

And on and on into another restless vitality-sapping night.

Mona is warned not to see "that girl" again, in tomorrow's installment.

ROTARIANS EAST KOOTENAY PAY A VISIT MONTANA

Guests Kalispell Club at International Meet; Governor Church Welcomed

FERNIE, B.C., Sept. 26.—Twenty-one Rotarians and Rotary Annes of Fernie spent Monday in Kalispell, Mont., attending the international Rotary meet arranged to welcome District Governor J. Church of Great Falls. The party took the form of a dinner which over 100 attended, including four representatives from Cranbrook and one Rotarian and his wife from Missoula, Mont.

Rev. Mr. Caton opened the function by saying grace, after which the international anthem was sung.

Everyone stood at attention and cheered while the American flag and the Union Jack were brought forward and crossed over the huge stone fireplace, where blazed a fire of birch wood, in the pioneer room of the Presbyterian church where the gathering was held. The Union Jack was one the Kalispell Rotarians had presented to them last fall.

W. Swetland, president of the Kalispell Rotary club, presided, and introduced the guests. Solos were given by Arthur Driscoll and John Sheppard.

PAGEANT SUCCESS

A delightful pageant was put on by grade school pupils of Miss Norris. They pictured frogs, bunnies and bears under luminous toadstools. The "Dance of the Apple Blossoms" by the tiny tots was a distinct success.

A most cordial address of welcome was given by Payne Templeton, past president of Kalispell club. It was responded to by J. R. Wallace, president of the Fernie club. Walter Brodie, representing Cranbrook, and J. E. Gee, Fernie.

William Willis of Cranbrook, when called upon, entertained through Miss Helen Worden, who played piano selections which were thoroughly enjoyed.

District Governor Church then gave a talk in which, with the aid of a world map, he traced the growth of Rotary from its inception by four friends, who formed the habit of meeting with each other in Chicago in 1905, to its present proud position of having branches in most prominent cities and in nearly every country of importance in the world. In his smooth and finished manner the speaker made all his hearers thrill with a sense of the privilege that was theirs in being connected with Rotary.

SPLENDID PROGRAM

Community songs livened the program at frequent intervals. Possibly the most enjoyable of all the varied and well chosen items of the program were the two songs, "Pale Moon" and "Annie Laurie," given by Mrs. Gudgell of Kalispell, a lyric soprano possessing a voice of extraordinary richness and beauty. The accompaniment also lent much charm to this number.

Frank Linderman, well-known author kept the audience in gales of laughter with stories and readings impersonating French Canadians. He also favored with two of his own poems, "My Friend Pete Lebeau," and a dramatic account in the vernacular, of Sampson's little "Set-to" with Delilah.

The last part of the program consisted in a humorous pianologue in Swedish style by C. A. Robertson, after which "Auld Lang Syne" was sung and Canada cheered to the echo. Great credit for the success of the evening was given to Ray Duffy, chairman of the program committee. The delicious full course dinner was served by the ladies of the church.

Rotarians attending from Fernie with their wives and other friends were J. R. Wallace, Beck Sandborn, Norman Suddaby, A. Klauer, E. Stewart, Milton Kastner, Mr. Hurlson, A. Cummings, J. E. Gee and Dr. Assiest.ne.

INDIANAPOLIS WINS FIRST OF LITTLE SERIES

Beat Rochester 3-2 in 11 Innings in Little World's Series

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Sept. 26.—In an 11 inning pitchers' battle, the Indianapolis Indians took the first game in the Little World series from Rochester today, 3-2. Steve Swetony and Vic Kenn, leading right-handers of the two clubs, went the full route and held their opponents scoreless for six innings.

Two walks, one of them intentional and a trick double in the eleventh gave the Indians two runs and the game, although the Wings pushed over one in their half and had two men on the bags when Kaufman flied to Warstler for the final out.

Both teams threatened in the early innings but were unable to bring in a run.

Keen's wild throw of Spencer's sacrifice in the seventh allowed Klenkiron, who had singled to score, the first of the game. It looked like the American Association champions would get another when Spencer went to third on Warstler's out, but Felix cut him down at the plate after taking in Burrus' fly. It was the Red's third double play.

The Wings got the first run in the eighth on singles by Gilbert and Monahan.

WOMEN START IN AT GOLF PLAY, TORONTO

TORONTO, Sept. 26.—The sixth annual tournament of the Canadian Women's Senior Golf association began at the Toronto Golf club today and Mrs. E. P. Clarkson of the local Rosedale club came through with victories in two of the three events that were conducted, the driving and mixed foursomes. The mixed foursomes was a nine hole handicap event and the winning pair, Mrs. Clarkson and Lady Baillie, Oakville, turned in a gross score of 104.

The struggle for the championship starts tomorrow when the first 18 holes of the 36-hole medal competition will be played.

BAKER WINS

EBBET'S FIELD, BROOKLYN, Sept. 26.—Sergt. Sammy Baker, Mitchell Field welterweight, won the decision from Young Corbett, III., of California, in a 12-round bout here tonight.

BROOKLYN CUTS CARDINAL LEAD TO HALF GAME

Gink Hendrick Wallops Homer With Bags Loaded; Vance Pitches Well

BROOKLYN, Sept. 26.—The long right arm of Dazzy Vance sprinkled loads and loads of salt upon the proud tailfeathers of the strutting Redbirds here this afternoon and just as the obliging fowl were performing all their smartest tricks for the delighted pitcher, Gink Hendrick stepped to the plate and unfeelingly slaughtered a flock of them.

The Gink did it with his little home run bat while three Robins were roosting contentedly upon every available perch in the seventh inning with hardly a thought of moving from where they were.

The Gink caught one of Redbird Mitchell's choice spitters and sent it on a ride to far and distant parts for a complete around the bases and safe transportation home for all the Robins on the bases. This blow enabled the home flock from Brooklyn to humble the St. Louis foe to a score of 6 to 1, so to reduce the Mound City margin in the pennant race to a bare half game over the Giants, who sat idle in the chill of the stands.

The Cardinals never seriously threatened at any other time after the first. Vance entered the game aiming at a mark of 200 strikeouts for the season and rolled up seven to reach the exact figure.

Cubs End Season by Victory Over Philadelphians

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—The Chicago Cubs closed their 1928 books with the Phillies here this afternoon by pounding the home club for an 8 to 3 victory behind the fine pitching of Percy Malone. This not only gave the Cubs 13 out of 22 against the Phillies for the season, but als kept the McCarthy band in the pennant race—from a point of mathematics, at any rate.

The Cubs crawled up one full game on the leading Cards, and now trail by four and a half games. The Bruins have five to play and the Cards have four, so any St. Louis victory or any Chicago defeat would automatically knock the Cubs.

MISS VIRTUE ONLY CANADIAN LEFT

All Other Golfers From This Side Fail; Mrs. Stetson Beats Helen Paget

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Sept. 26.—Golf stalwarts among the women held their own today in contrast to the first round of the national women's championship when the titleholder and a former champion, were summarily removed.

Of the Canadian entrants, Miss Dora Virtue of Montreal who holds the provincial championship of Quebec was the only survivor. Miss Virtue won from 17-year-old Helen Hicks of New York at the nineteenth after a thrilling match.

Miss Helen Paget, of Ottawa, was defeated by Mrs. G. Henry Stetson, the 1926 winner, 3 and 2. Mrs. Stetson took the lead at the eleventh and was never headed.

All four of the former champions playing in the second round won their matches and proceeded to the quarter finals today while Miss Virginia Wilson, resident of Chicago, but champion of Canada, also remained the winners. The former champions include Miss Dorothy Hurd. Miss Marion Hollins, Miss Glenna Collett and Mrs. Stetson.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, for the third day in succession, was under women's par, and eliminated Mrs. Harley Higby of Detroit.

Pat's Gridiron "Gold Rush" Story Good One

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

There are just as many laughs in football as there are in baseball or golf. Pat Page, the genial University of Indiana coach, was telling me about an amusing incident that happened when he was associated with A. A. Stagg at the University of Chicago. Pat, who was a very versatile sort of a fellow, was at this particular time coaching the baseball squad. While digging a "toe hold" for his spikes one day on the pitching box he uncovered something that shone brilliantly in the sun.

"It looks like gold," said one of the rookies. Pat picked it up and examined it carefully.

"Sure, it's gold," he said finally. "It's some gold bridgework I knocked out of an Indian's mouth during a game with the Carlisle Indians 10 years before." And sure enough it was.

It had laid in the ground for years before Pat dug it up accidentally with his spikes.

H. L. "Tom" Sebring, head football coach at the University of Florida, told me one on Joe Bedenk, twice-all-American guard from Penn State, who was assistant mentor down at Florida last year.

Following Florida's victory over Kentucky last year, a drunk enthusiast of football came rushing up to the bus transporting the Gators from the stadium to their hotel and commenced showering the various players with compliments and grabbing their hands in warm embrace.

The visitor edged on through the bus and came to Bedenk. "Say, you played a great game today," he said.

"Not me," replied the ex-Penn State star, "I was on the bench."

"That's all right, old fellow," the intoxicated one replied, bubbling over in his enthusiasm. "You were ready to go in any minute and give 'em everything you had."

FINDS LIMESTONE IDOL OF SERPENT GOD IN PALESTINE

Buried For More Than 2400 Years; Unearthed by Dr. Melvin G. Kyle

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 26.—A limestone idol of the serpent God of the Canaanites, buried for more than 2400 years under an almost forgotten city in Palestine, is the prize of his recent archaeological expedition, Dr Melvin G. Kyle, president of Xenia Seminary here and noted Orientalist, said upon his return.

Traces of the serpent cult had appeared before in Asia Minor, Dr. Kyle said, but it had not been established that the Canaanites, whom the Israelites under Joshua smote and destroyed, were serpent worshippers.

Dr. Kyle's Arabian diggers came on the fragment of limestone, which is about a foot wide and two feet high after they had painstakingly removed six strata of markedly differing cultures from the site of Kirpath Depher, the walled city captured by Othniel, as recorded in the book of Joshua.

"Underneath all those layers of Israelite culture, we found a blanket of cinders and charcoal," Dr. Kyle said. "It covered everything. Its meaning was of course obvious, the Israelites not only sacked the town, they set it on fire, destroyed it, in order to build it anew for themselves.

"Everything above the blanket was of the iron age, everything below of the bronze age. With precious pieces of Canaanite pottery, we found the serpent idol. The upper part of it is gone. Doubtless it was destroyed by angry Israelites. But the lower part shows the feet of a human figure, about which is entwined the serpent god.

"We can be reasonably sure now this serpent cult was widespread among the Canaanites. It was a primitive religion with orgiastic rites. We find the serpent god in another form in Genesis in the Garden of Eden. There he is satan, the tempter.

"The great achievements this summer, next to the idol, was the absolute fixation of the date of the capture of the land of Canaan as told in the Bible. The blanket of cinders marked an epoch. We know roughly when iron began to be used in Asia Minor. Our calculations assign 1275 B.C. as the year the Israelites took that Canaan town. This differs from other estimates by as much as 200 years."

Automobile Horns In Paris Must Be Pleasing to Ear

PARIS, Sept. 26.—Silence now rules supreme in "Gay Paree", often called the noisiest city in the world, between midnight and dawn. In accordance with new traffic regulations the Parisians also are in a fair way to have musical streets in the daytime, and the heavy traffic centers it is hoped will soon be most pleasing to the ear.

The harsh, strident call that means "get out of the way", will be modified into a gentle and musical "please", under the police rules shortly to go into effect, which limit all horns to such as are reasonably quiet and pleasing to pedestrians.

Prefect of Police Jean Chiappe has instituted the silent nights regime, banning noise from one to four a.m. Chauffeurs, however, are observing midnight as the starting hour and for the moment they are scrupulously obeying the decree, which also compels slowing down at all crossings.

For months Prefect Chiappe had the laboratory of the governmental arts crafts institute working on the horn problem. Tests were conducted to determine the lowest and highest peaks in the musical scale that should be permitted and also what manner of sound. It was discovered that certain sounds are irritating and serve to awaken sleepers, while others, much louder in volume, seem to soothe ear and nerves.

The limits and definitions are based on the findings and eventually the chauffeur's street music will have to be refined in such a manner as to satisfy tests of the scientist's delicate instruments.

U. S. Throws Open Public Land in Western States for Use Flying Fields

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 26.—To encourage transcontinental flying and the use of airplanes as a mode of transportation the government has thrown open all of its unreserved and unappropriated public lands in western states used as public aviation fields.

Regulations for the leasing provide that the fields must be maintained in accordance with the commerce department's ratings, particularly with regard to fuel, lights and other facilities.

In case of military necessity the government reserves the right to assume full control of their air ports.

Smoking Cigarettes Is Becoming Popular With Frenchmen and Women

PARIS, Sept. 26.—The habit of "grilling one"—in popular diction smoking a cigarette—appears to be growing rapidly even on the most frugal French. This year, official statisticians say, Frenchmen with the far from negligible help of Frenchwomen, will have smoked 11,000,000,000, an average of 270 per head of population. The statisticians say that in Germany the average is 600.

Charges Attempt Keep Britishers Out of Dominion

WINNIPEG, Sept. 26.—"There has been and is today a deliberate attempt to keep the British out of Canada," declared Bishop Exton Lloyd of Saskatchewan, during an address before the Empire club here today.

"In England," said Bishop Lloyd, "I have been repeatedly told that repressive measures have been used, and the 'funnel' choked on this side." This, he explained, was the reason there were not more immigrants from Great Britain. He had asked: "Who blocked the funnel?" and the reply was:

"The Canadian high commissioner in London is against all immigration and opposed to emigration from Britain to Canada. He also was told that "if the deputy minister ruled at Ottawa instead of the minister they could see how the funnel was choked."

The bishop presented a quota policy of his own and claimed that such a policy would make Canada as homogeneous in 25 years as it was 25 years ago. He would reduce the number of immigrants to 100,000 a year, of which 75,000 would be of British origin.

Cement Producers Close Case Before the Tariff Board

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Removal of the tariff at present enjoyed by the cement industry in Canada would constitute a distinct discrimination against the producers and expose them to organized foreign competition, representatives of the cement producers of Canada declared in closing their case for retention of the existing import duty before the tariff advisory board today. The Canadian council of agriculture had applied for removal of the duty on the grounds that the industry was sufficiently prosperous without the protection.

Following completion of the producers' case, the hearing adjourned to meet at the discretion of the board. As considerable new data relating to the application has been requested by the spokesman of the Canadian council of agriculture, it was intimated that the next sitting would not be held before the first week in November.

Lord Melchett Sees Great Improvement British Industries

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Lord Melchett, better known under his former title, Sir Alfred Mond, arrived here today on the liner, Homeric, en route to northern Ontario to inspect nickel properties.

Discussing with newspaper men British economic matters Lord Melchett defended hs program of mergers, said that his ambition had been to develop the British Empire as a single vast economic unit and the fostering of industrial cooperation. If British industry is to progress and prosper, he said, large scale amalgamations are essential.

Lord Melchett declared that there is a distinct improvement in the industrial position in England.

ESSEX COUNTY TOBACCO CROP IS TOTAL LOSS

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 26.—Virtually every stalk of tobacco which Tuesday was standing in Essex county fields is today lying flat on the ground, withered by a heavy white frost which hit the county during the night. A hurried survey by agricultural officials today indicated that the crop is a complete loss, although they could not estimate the actual amount of damage done in dollars.

Admits Firing Shots at Man but Denies He Took Part in Robbery

PARRY SOUND, Ont., Sept. 26.—Despite his being identified in court as the man who boarded a C.P.R. mail car when it was robbed near Romford Junction, August 18, John Burowski, alleged mail car bandit, charged with the murder of Thomas Jackson, McKellar township farmer, denied vigorously that he had participated in the robbery.

He did, however, admit firing four shots at Jackson and three men who had accosted him on the road in a stolen automobile, but declared he had shot only after he had been wounded in the finger by one of the men. "I got excited. I fired because I thought he (Jackson) was going to kill me," said Burowski.

Coal and Coke Problem Before Tariff Board in Session Ottawa Today

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Having temporarily disposed of the application of the Canadian Council of Agriculture for removal of the import duty on cement, the federal tariff advisory board will direct its attention tomorrow to submission relative to coal and coke.

An application which is supported by the Crows Nest Pass Coal company and the British Columbia Miners' association, both of Fernie, B. C., asks for the removal of customs duty on bituminous coal, the retention of coke on the free list and the abolition of certain industrial drawbacks.

MONTREALER GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

MONTREAL, Sept. 26.—After deliberating for two hours, a jury in the King's Bench tonight found Frederich Trewing, guilty of manslaughter in connection with the death of William Cowie, who was shot in a local office building where both men were employed, on April 16, 1927. Trewing was tried twice on the murder charge. He was convicted at his first trial and condemned to death, but a new trial was ordered by the court of appeals on the ground of misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury.

Evidence at both trials tended to show that Trewing and the victim had words about a debt which ended in the accused shooting Cowie.

Judgment Reserved in Appeal Involving Produce Marketing Act

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26.—Judgment was reserved by Justice W. A. McDonald on an appeal involving the constitutionality of the Produce Marketing act.

The crown appealed from Magistrate Darling's dismissal in Brighouse police court of two charges against Wing Kit, Chinese potato farmer, for alleged infraction of the statute.

The act was attacked by H. S. Wood, K.C., and J. P. Hogg, counsel for Chinese potato growers, on the ground that it was ultra vires the legislature because it purported to restrict interprovincial trade.

Every State Is Represented by Flying Licences

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 26.—A directory issued by the department of commerce shows 2678 airplane pilots to have been licenced by the department up to July 31, in 47 states, the district of Columbia and possessions. California, with 417, led the list, and New Mexico was the only state not represented.

The directory does not include army and navy pilots as such, but only those army and navy men who have been granted licences under the department classification as transport pilot, limited commercial pilot, industrial pilot or private pilot. Neither does the list include the 2000 or more pilots operating at present under letters of authority by the departments pending an opportunity to take the department's test for a pilot's licence.

ABANDON PROJECT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A plan to consolidate nearly 100 semi-bituminous coal companies in southwest Virginia into a huge $150,000,000 organization suffered a serious set back today when the committee formed to carry out the project announced that it has been abandoned.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORY of our dear son, who passed from this life Sept. 27, 1927.

Somewhere at every hour
The watchman on the tower
Sees messengers that bear
The tidings of despair.
O, My Son.
The boy goes forth from the door,
Who shall return no more.

With him their joy departs.
The light goes out of their hearts.
In the chamber over the gate
They sit disconsolate.
And for ever the cry will be:
"Would God I had died for thee,
O, My Son.

TOMOTIVE SHARES TTRACT AT NEW YORK

W YORK, Sept. 26.—Organized ts to extend the recent rallies in k prices were only partially suc- ul in today's market. Despite the ction in call money from 7 to 6½ cent, the lowest in a month, the ket encountered strong selling re- nce probably because of the heavy idation inspired by the cautionary ces of some of the leading com- ion houses. Although pools suc- ed in lifting nearly three dozen es to new high records, final quo- ons also diclosed a long list of net ines ranging from one to five nts.

utomotive shares again attracted rge speculative following in today's ket. Graham Paige common stock ificates were a strong feature climb- 36 points to a new high record 56, and the common attained a top at 61¼.

hrysler, Hupp and Chandler-Cleve- d preferred also moved into a new h ground and General Motors closed points higher at 214⅝, after hav- touched 217. Radio, which is re- ted to harbor a large sport interest, t up nearly 11 points to 211 but half its gain.

ails started forward on the publi- ion of some favorable August earn- s statements but the rally quickly ed.

otal sales 4,187,800 shares.

PRICES OF CANNED TOMATOES MAY BE EASIER WHOLESALE

Pack Is 100 Per Cent; Beans Short; Tea Declines; Staple Lines Steady

STRONG HOCKEY AGGREGATION IS NELSON'S HOPE

Club Organized Last Night; New Officers; New Faces On the Ice

With most of last year's team ready to again don harness and a number of prospective players demanding tryouts, executive of the Nelson "Hockey club last night laid plans for building up a championship team to represent the Queen City of the Kootenays in the West Kootenay hockey league.

The opinion expressed was that with Trail and Rossland league teams already lined up, and Nelson's squad coming into shape West Kootenay hockey this year would be quite as fast and probably a good deal faster than last year. Every effort will be made by Rossland and Nelson to put a halt to the winning streak of the Trail team, which for the past two years has marched victoriously into championship battles, to be stopped only at the semi-finals of the Dominion championship.

On the other hand the Trail boys, having seen the Allen cup snatched away just as it was within reach of their outstretched hands, have set their hearts upon carrying off the world's most prized amateur hockey trophy.

Dr. L. E. Borden, M.P.P., donor of the championship shield, was named honorary president.

The executive committee, composed of one representative for each entrant, will be: J. Bailless, Sons of England; A. G. Ritchie, Clan McLeary; Fred Plowman, Foresters; Clifford Hayden, Knights of Pythias; Ross Renwick, Odd Fellows and George Williams, Eagles.

The executive will meet soon to draw up schedules.

Says Married Men Should Have Work Preference in Winter

Editor of The Daily News,

Dear Sir,—I should like to say a word in your valuable paper about this coming winter.

Last winter it was very disgusting to see so many married men out of work and mostly good workers had to ask for relief.

We must all remember they have wives and children to support and we should give them work if there is any to be had.

Single men seem to be getting all the jobs. Even right now mines and power plants are laying off married men and keeping on the single ones.

I do not see any sense in doing it. I fail to understand why it is done. In other provinces they always employ married men before the single men. Why not B.C.?

I hope something will be done in this matter this winter.

AN OLD TIMER

Schultz hooked an 18-pounder, J. G. Jarnigan landed a 17-pounder and Frank Seal brought in one weighing 16¾ pounds. Roy Bradley pulled in one weighing nine pounds.

FIVE CLAIMS ARE LOCATED NELSON VICINITY IN WEEK

Willemar and Frampton Owners; Four Other Claims Are Recorded

Of nine mineral claims recorded at the government office here in the past week, five were in the immediate vicinity of Nelson, one was on Garrity creek, two were on Canyon creek, and one was on West Rover creek.

D. R. Willemar staked the five claims near Nelson, three of them being recorded in his own name, and two in W. Frampton's name. The Bunda and Blind, in Mr. Willemar's name, were located on the west side of Anderson creek, about 1000 feet from the creek and 1000 feet from the Great Northern railway. Three others, Mr. Frampton's Kanga and Regent, and Mr. Willemar's Savoy, were staked on south side of the West Arm of Kootenay lake, about a mile east of Nelson, and on the east side of Anderson creek, three miles south of the point where the creek crosses the Great Northern railway.

A. MacDONALD TO NEARLY DOUBLE STORAGE SPACE

Tear Down Wooden Building to Replace With Three-Story Warehouse

Dismantling of a wooden building by A. MacDonald & Co. to make room for a new brick and concrete structure is now engaging a large staff of men. Construction of the new building will be started as soon as the dismantling is completed. John Burns is the contractor.

The new warehouse, adjoining the present building of the company on Front street, will nearly double the firm's storing capacity, and will make the combined building the largest warehouse in Nelson.

With a frontage of 36 feet, the structure will extend back to the warehouse siding on the water front.

CONCRETE BASEMENT

With three stories and a basement, the addition will be aligned with the present building. The basement, to be built of concrete, will be extended under the present building to replace the wooden basement now in use. Water seeping into the wooden basement during high water has made its continued use undesirable.

The addition will be finished in front with brick to match the present warehouse.

The wooden building being torn down was part of A. MacDonald's original warehouse in Nelson. It was built in 1908. When the warehouse, now in use, was built this section was moved over and has since been used to store heavy goods. These goods are temporarily stored in the building formerly occupied by Western Grocers, Nelson branch, recently bought out by the MacDonald company.
